Axis Arsenal City In North Italy Pounded; Raids Continue Today

Raid Is Third On Northern Italy In As Many Nights; Middle Eastern Air Force Scores Great Victory In Foggia Area

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Aug. 17—Royal Air force bombers blasted the northern Italian arsenal city of Turin in a concentrated assault last night.

Continuing the offensive in daylight, Allied bomber formations crossed the straits of Dover in bright sunshine this morning heading toward Boulogne with a fighter escort.

It was the third raid on northern Italy in as many nights to give more reason to the cries of the Italian people for peace and the 31st of the war against Turin's important industries and railways. Milan, the target Saturday and Sunday nights, apparently is considered knocked out.

Axis Airfields Battered

At the same time fighter command planes were battering the German airfields in France and the low countries which would be centers of defense against an Allied continental invasion, following up American Flying Fortress and Marauder raids on similar targets yesterday.

Turin, site of the royal arsenal and the Fiat airplane engine works, was hit last on Thursday night. Milan, 80 miles to the east, was attacked Saturday and Sunday nights and reports from Switzerland and the Italian frontier said it was a dead city filled with utter devastation.

An Air ministry communique said preliminary reports showed the bombing of Turin was "well concentrated." Five bombers were first reported missing but one later landed, reducing the loss to four.

Alarm In Milan, Como

Swiss reports said an air alarm had sounded in the Milan and Como areas last night and early today but no planes appeared. Frontier reports to Swiss newspapers said all public services ceased in Milan after Sunday's raid, with tens of thousands more homeless and new fires raging.

Calculated to promote popular Italian demands for peace, the RAF attack on Turin came a few hours after Liberators from the Middle East had struck at enemy airfields at Foggia in central Italy in daylight.

(The Office of War information quoted Swiss newspapers that Milan's population had broken, thousands were fleeing the city and crying for peace while cursing the government. "The center of the city is a huge ruin," the Journal de Geneve said).

Rail Targets Hit

Intruder aircraft operating against the continent directed their blows at railway targets as well as the airfields of northern France, Holland and Belgium where the Luftwaffe keeps its fighter nests to resist any landing. One enemy bomber was destroyed

Allied Airmen Rake Airfields

Heavy Weight Of Bombs Dropped

(By The United Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Aug. 17.—Liberator bombers of the Middle East command, joining in a three-day aerial assault on Italy, dropped more than 300,000 pounds of explosives on air fields in the Foggia area yesterday and shot down 43 Axies fighters of a strong force attempting to intercept them.

At least 12 more Axis fighters were probably destroyed or damaged in the battle with the American heavy bombers which struck a paralyzing blow at the key communications center in southeastern Italy.

Great Fires Started

Great fires kindled by the large formation of Liberators sent smoke thousands of feet in the air. The airdromes were blanketed with high explosive and fragmentation bombs.

Other Allied planes smashing at Italy from northwest Africa and Britain pounded vital industries in the north and Axis evacuation vessels in the straits of Messina, together with routes of flight on the mainland.

Wellingtons of the North African airforce ranged north of Rome for the second straight night last night to attack the Viterbo airfield, 45 miles above the capital.

Spreading destruction through the San Nicola and Tortorella airdromes near Foggia in southeastern Italy, the bombers met and defeated more than 100 enemy fighters. Only eight planes from the Middle East command were lost in the Foggia raid and other operations.

Heat Wave Is Broken Here

Lubbock's stretch of 100-degree temperatures was apparently at an end today as scattered showers on the wings of a cooling northeast wind lowered the mercury to 63 degrees at 9 a. m., a departure of more than 40 degrees from Monday's high mark.

Lubbock experiment sub-station, east of town, had a high of 104 degrees Monday while the West Texas Gas company's mainline station southeast of the city registered 109 degrees at 5 p. m.

Precipitation here registered only a trace but there were reports of scattered thundershowers throughout the area and a bus driver reported a drizzle all the way from Amarillo.

87 At Midnight

With the thermometer registering 87 degrees at midnight, the temperature began to drop from two to five degrees an hour throughout the early morning as the miniature 'norther' blew in and made sleepers-out grab for cover.

Today's cool weather was the first relief from a heat wave which has enveloped this area for

Card Received From Floyd Ricketts Today

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ricketts, 2110 Third street, have received a prisoner form post card from their son, Cpl. Floyd Ricketts, who is being held as a prisoner of the Japs in the Philippines.

The card, stating that he was in good health, bore no date and is of the type similar to those received by other parents and next of kin in the past few days. The last word the parents had received from their son was Christmas, 1941. He was taken prisoner when Corregidor fell to the Japs.

Weather Report

WEST TEXAS: Little temperature change this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday forenoon; scattered thundershowers in Panhandle and South Plains and east of the Pecos river today and tonight.

EAST TEXAS: Little temperature change in south, not quite so warm in north portion this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday forenoon; scattered thundershowers in extreme north portion today and early tonight.

Food Report Is Criticized By Sec. Wickard

Nation Cannot Feed The World, Secretary Says

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard was expected today to send to War Food Administrator Marvin Jones a critical report of the food program—a report of which Wickard himself also was sharply critical.

The report declared that the United States "has never been and cannot become the breadbasket of the world," and insisted that "American civilian food needs should not be considered as leftovers to be satisfied after all other claims are met."

Prepared By Subcommittee

The report was prepared by a subcommittee of the food advisory committee named last March by Wickard to set up standards to be used in the allocation of American food supplies for all purposes.

Wickard, in a statement accompaying release of the report, charged that the subcommittee had wandered far afield in presuming to judge the entire food program and in suggesting changes. He said all parts of the report except those dealing with the subject of allocation of food supplies should be taken "only as the opinions of those who signed the report."

He also declared that although the report was confidential, "it has been shown to some news-

One Killed In Train Wreck

One man was killed and another was injured when a Santa Fe wrecker overturned about 8 o'clock this morning between Roundup and Shallowater.

Killed was Earl Mangum, 44, engineer, who has been with the Santa Fe since 1922. He and his wife lived at 110 North Third street in Slaton.

Injured was L. R. Tibbs, car foreman, of 845 South Tenth street in Slaton, who was admitted to West Texas hospital for treatment.

Lifting Concrete Slab

The wrecker overturned while lifting a concrete slab on a bridge. It was necessary to call a wrecker from Slaton to extricate the body of the engineer.

Mangum was born in Gorman, Dec. 18, 1898. His parents live north of Post.

Tibbs suffered multiple abrasions and bruises. He had regained consciousness and was considered satisfactory in condition early this afternoon. Examination revealed no fractures or internal injuries.

The body of Mr. Mangum was at Williams Funeral home in Slaton. Funeral services are to be conducted at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the Mangum residence. Burial will be in Post cemetery.

M. M. Brown Dies Unexpectedly Today

Marshall M. Brown, 62, assistant postmaster of the Lubbock postoffice, died unexpectedly about 7 o'clock this morning in Buie clinic at Marlin, friends here were notified.

Mr. Brown had been in ill health about 18 months, but had not been considered critically ill, friends said. He had gone to Marlin a few days ago with his wife while on vacation. He had driven the automobile himself.

In the postal service more than 30 years, Mr. Brown had been in Lubbock since June 1, 1925, when he came to the postoffice here as assistant postmaster. Before that, he had been employed in the postoffice at Mart.

Survivors, besides his wife, include a son, Ensign Sidney W. Brown, who is in the Navy and is stationed in Washington, D. C.

Funeral arrangements had not been made late this morning.

Mr. Brown was a member of the First Methodist church. His home was at 2224 Sixteenth street.

Sec. Knox Announces Total Navy Personnel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (U.P.) — Secretary of Navy Frank Knox reported today that the naval services—Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard—now have a total of 2,666,500 officers and enlisted personnel and that by the end of the year the number will increase to 2,861,000.

The figures include women reservist members of the WAVES, women Marines and Spars but do not include Navy nurses. The figures also exclude youths now in the Navy's college training program, and members of the Coast Guard's temporary reserves.

GETS THREE JAP PLANES

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Aug. 16. (Delayed) (U.P.)—Capt. Harry Brown of Amarillo, Tex., got three enemy planes today southwest of Lae and was high scorer in a formation of U. S. fighters that shot down 12 and possibly two more of an enemy flight of 25.

Agreement Reached On Pension Funds

Threat Of Losing Fund Subsiding

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 17—Federal and state officials were in substantial agreement today that the state's old age assistance program could be administered without loss of federal matching funds.

Following a conference with state public welfare officials and James Marley of the Federal Social Security board's regional office in San Antonio Governor Coke R. Stevenson said three proposals had been advanced which would bring the state plan into harmony with federal regulations.

Although Marley was of the opinion any one of the three might receive approval a final determination will be made Aug. 24 at a hearing in Washington by the Federal Social Security board, the governor added.

Requirements Differ

Loss of federal funds appeared possible as a result of a state law permitting pension applicants to earn $250 a year from occasional and seasonal employment. The federal regulations require that all income of a pensioner be determined in making aid grants. The state law exempted $250.

The governor said these proposals were given preliminary approval:

Construe the state law as being in harmony with or having the exact intent of the federal law.

Operate a dual system of assistance; straight state aid for those wishing to take advantage of the state law and combined aid, federal and state matching funds, for those whose basis of need would be judged by standards of the federal law.

Interpret strictly the state law so some recipients could earn outside income, in addition to pen-

Lockney Man Killed In Highway Accident

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 17. (AP) — James V. Visagea, 32, of Lockney, was killed last night when his pick-up truck struck a telephone pole beside the highway six miles north of here.

Laurence Quisenberry of Lockney, seriously injured in the accident, was taken to a Plainview hospital.

Sec. Hull May Attend Quebec War Meeting

Presence Would Mean Political Turn In Parley

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—Secretary of State Hull said today that he may go to Quebec to join conferences between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, explaining that his participation would mean that political aspects of the war situation were being discussed.

After Hull replied to the question about the possibility he would go to Quebec, another reporter at his press conference asked whether relations between the United States and Russia were involved in the Canadian discussions. The secretary replied he was not advised as to the particulars. Hull added that relations with Russia had been cordial and friendly, with a splendid spirit of cooperation in the prosecution of the war.

No word has yet been received from the Italian government on the declaration of Rome as an open city, so far as he knew, Hull said.

Reds Continue Bryansk Drive

MOSCOW, Aug. 17 (AP) — The drive on Bryansk, the hinge of the German front southwest of Moscow, is moving at the fastest pace of any of the three current Red Army thrusts, the Russian Army newspaper Red Star indicated today.

With Soviet troops meeting stiff resistance in the battle for Kharkov, other Russian divisions were moving steadily ahead toward Bryansk supported by the push further north from Spas Demensk.

Nazis Using Reserves

Around Kharkov, Red Star said, the Germans were hurling large concentrations of reserves backed up by units of from 40 to 50 tanks and air squadrons in an effort to improve their precarious position.

The Germans were meeting with little success in the counter thrusts despite use of picked troops, Red Star said, and the Soviet Army was throwing the Nazis back and inflicting heavy losses.

Red Army Advancing

The Russian troops driving through the shattered German defenses west of Karachev have approached to within 15 miles of the important Nazi base at Bryansk, Moscow announced in a communique last night.

The war bulletin reported Red Army successes all along the 500-mile front from Spas Demensk, 200 miles southwest of Moscow, to besieged Kharkov, described by the Russians as "the largest German base of operations on the Soviet-German front." The fall of Kharkov was expected almost any time.

LEAVES FOR ENGLAND

Rickenbacker Declares Germany Must Be Broken From Inside; World Due For Shock

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (AP) — Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, home from a 55,000-mile inspection tour of the war zones, said today Italy "is being bombed out of the war" but that "Germany will not even crack before the fall of 1944 at the best" at the present rate of the war's progress.

Germany Has Supplies

"Germany still has a vast army, tons of materials, millions engaged in slave labor and she is relieving men from her own forces for additional labor and in addition the Germans are courageous and intelligent," he said at a press conference. "I am not a fanatic on air power, but I firmly believe that Germany must be broken from the inside out, not from outside in."

He said "anything can happen in Italy—any day. I think it will be a complete blowup."

Italy Will Crumble

Rickenbacker expressed belief that except for air power the Allies would be unable to capture Italy, and predicted an immediate crumbling within Italy as a result of bombings.

He said the Germans might make a stand at the Po river, but that if Allied air bases could be operated from northern Italy, "we can get in the back door of Germany."

"It's a question of morale," he said, "the same as in Hamburg. . . . The bombing of Hamburg is something no people on earth can stand—no people on earth, including ourselves."

The famous flier, who represented Secretary of War Stimson on his battlefront tour but who said he spoke as a private citizen, predicted "something is coming this winter that will shock the world—maybe sooner."

Messina's Fall To U. S. Forces Ends Campaign

Lingering Enemy Resistance In Streets Of City Being Crushed In Hand-To-Hand Fighting; Italian Mainland Under Fire

(By The Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in North Africa, Aug. 17—The American Seventh army surged into Messina today, writing a spectacular finish to the 38-day campaign in Sicily.

(Ross Munro, Canadian press war correspondent with the British Eighth army, in a dispatch from the front today said "the bomb-battered city of Messina has fallen.")

The German radio declared the last German and Italian soldiers had been evacuated to the mainland.

In the scarred streets of the sprawling hillside port of Messina invincible doughboys of the American Third division smashed at lingering enemy resistance in hand-to-hand fighting after reaching the outskirts at 8 o'clock last night.

They were the first to reach the city, but eight miles to south British commandos, after a devil-may-care landing from the sea in defiance of the enemy's guns on both sides of the strait, had cleared the way for the approach of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth army.

Mainland Under Fire

American "long tom" artillery had already opened fire on the enemy in Italy across the two-mile wide strait.

Fearful of immediate Allied amphibious attacks against the exposed Italian toe, Axis forces were observed carrying out demolitions in the Calabria region across the narrow waters.

This first indication of possible enemy withdrawal up the Italian peninsula came as British naval batteries built a wall of gunfire around the foot of Italy to within 100 miles of Naples.

A Berlin broadcast said all German and Italian troops had been withdrawn from Sicily, but field reports declared Axis forces bottled up in a tight pocket along the east coast still were fighting against British 8th army troops driving toward Messina from the south.

American doughboys fought hand-to-hand with the enemy through the bomb-scarred streets of the sprawling hillside port less than three miles from Italy.

Already their 155-millimeter

Britain Clears Coastal Areas

New European Invasion Seen

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 17—Great Britain began clearing all non-residents from her barricaded coastal areas today as conviction gripped the nation that the hour is near for a powerful new blow at Adolf Hitler's European fortress.

Invasion talk was heard everywhere amid cries in both Britain and Russia for speedy opening of a second front.

From every angle new moves appeared directed at invasion, but whether in the Mediterranean, the Balkans or across the English channel was the Allied war chiefs' secret.

Air Tactics Significant

Significant, however, were these developments:

1. Heavy and repeated American air raids on Axis airfields in France—natural targets as a prelude to any new offensive.

2. Declaration of a state of siege in Norway by apparently jittery German occupation authorities.

3. Virtual isolation of Italy by severance of that country's telephone and telegraphic communications with Switzerland, giving rise to belief that important developments might be in the offing.

(Dispatches from the Swiss border town of Chiasso quoted the Swiss telegraphic agency as saying the situation throughout Italy "remained grave, with possibility of radical changes from one moment to the next.")

Cabinet In Constant Session

4. The British War cabinet was reported in constant session all day yesterday, keeping in direct touch with Prime Minister Churchill in Quebec.

5. The diversion of RAF heavy bomber attacks from German war industries to an all-out attempt to knock Italy out of the war by destroying her industrial facilities.

As the Allies great aerial offensive roared on, every available plane based in Britain was reported being thrown into the fight—a further indication that an all-out drive might be imminent.

County Tax Rate To Remain At 50 Cents

County tax rate for the tax roll of 1943—which provides revenues for expenditure in 1944—was re-set this morning by county commissioners at 50 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation.

The rate has remained constant since 1935.

The estimated revenue was set at $394,813.43, which would be the estimated budget.

The budget is $4,797.71 more than the estimated budget for 1943, due largely to necessity for increasing the officers salary fund $3,087.25 and because of the increase in prices of food fed to county prisoners. Two new officials, a night jailer who is paid $1,800 a year, and a venereal disease official who is paid $1,500 a year, have been added in recent months.

Decreases have been made in several funds, however, to keep the tax rate at its old level.

The court approved the budget as drawn by Joe Y. Boyd, county auditor, without dissenting vote. There was no member of the public at the public meeting.

Judge G. V. Pardue presided at the hearing. Commissioners are Barrett Penney, Ben Mansker, T. L. Holt and Newton Stokes. Louie F. Moore acted as clerk. Boyd was the only other person at the hearing.

WAR VETERAN DIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—Lt. Gen. William Mason Wright, 79, veteran of the Spanish-American and first World wars, died last night after a prolonged illness. A native of Newark, N. J., he would have been 80 years old next month.

Sicily Is Door Into Europe

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 17. (AP) — The wedge-shaped island of Sicily is the entering wedge driven into the fortress of Europe.

Tactically, the Mediterranean doors are wide open now.

With the complete occupation of Sicily, which won't take many more hours, the Allies possess a big advance base from which they can hop over into the Italian mainland, nip off Sardinia and Corsica or immobilize southern Italy while Greece is retaken.

The possibilities for the next move are virtually unlimited.

The Sicilian harbors of Palermo, Cantania, Augusta and Syracuse are fully capable of accommodating the huge fleet necessary for another operation.

But that's one advantage in having Sicily — an accumulation of Allied shipping there wouldn't necessarily mean the main thrust was coming from there.

It might disguise an expedition moving out from Tunisia toward Corsica, Sardinia or even southern France. Or it might mask one assembling in the Middle East and aimed at the Balkans. Our possession of Sicily automatically redoubles the Axis problem of knowing where to commit their main forces on the shores of the Mediterranean.

"Autonomy" For Java Promised By Japan

MELBOURNE, Aug. 16. (Delayed) (AP) — Japan's long promised "autonomy" for Java was announced tonight over the Tokyo radio and amounted only to the "right to advise" military occupation authorities, Netherlands radio monitors declared.

The report was released by Aneta, the Dutch news agency.

The Tokyo Malay-language broadcast said the "autonomy program" was instituted August 1 and provided for "establishment of a central council which will have the right to advise and submit proposals connected with administrative affairs to Japanese military authorities."

Local WAACS Sworn Into Army Monday

Lt. Raymond J. Dees, assistant adjutant in the Lubbock Army recruiting office, administered the oath to a number of WAACS here Monday afternoon. The women now have become WACS. They came here from all points in the West Texas district of 74 counties, and included the entire personnel of women, except the commissioned officers. Commissioned officers will become an actual part of the Army at a later to be designated date.

Among those here for the brief ceremony, which followed a conference of WAAC personnel with commanding officers, are Sgt. Virginia Miller, recruiter in charge of the Lubbock recruiting district; Sgt. Esther Sisson, Amarillo substation; Sgt. Pauline Edwards, Sweetwater sub-station; Staff Sgt. Ruth J. McLeod, chief clerk in the Lubbock recruiting office; and Staff Sgt. Luciller Neyer, Odessa sub-station.

All those given the oath now will carry the regular Army titles, and no longer will be referred to as WAACS or by WAAC titles. This will be true also of the commissioned officers, it was said, after the latter are sworn in.

All officers in the Lubbock office and those from sub-stations in the district, witnessed the swearing in ceremony Monday. Among these are Lt. Jessie Gardner, commanding officer for the WAC recruiting office, Lubbock; Lt. Carla McGee, enrolling and executive officer, Lubbock; Lt. Emma Yukna, Pampa; Lt. Margaret Brace, Sweetwater; Lt. Mary F. Goldmann, Big Spring; Lt. Thelma Moore, Odessa; and Lt. Helen Finn, Amarillo.

The WACS now are expected to rapidly replace men in the recruiting office here and also throughout the West Texas district, including all sub-stations, thus releasing men who have been in clerical and other positions.

Friends of Capt. Gordon Allen, USMC, will be interested to learn that the dive bomber pilot has arrived in San Francisco and is expected to be in Lubbock within a short time. Capt. Allen recently was awarded the DFC for brilliant action in the Pacific. He had been overseas since last October. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Allen who live eight miles southwest of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bates have moved to Lubbock from Abilene to make their home and are living at 2801 Thirtieth street. Mr. Bates has been traveling western Texas territory for the past 21 years.

More Home Owners Indicated For City

An increase in the ratio of home ownership in Lubbock during 1942 is indicated in the report based on a survey made last spring under sponsorship of the bureau of business research of the University of Texas in cooperation with city schools and the chamber of commerce.

The report shows that, of 729 families reporting, 51.5 per cent either were home owners, or were buying their homes, at the end of 1942. This compares with 49.7 per cent at the end of 1941, when 1,114 families reported.

Similar surveys were made in 19 other Texas cities described as representing a reasonable cross section for the state as a whole. In these cities, 43.1 per cent of the families were home owners at the end of 1942 as compared with 44.3 per cent at the end of 1941.

Questionnaires on which the report is based were distributed into homes through school systems, an effort being made to reach a fair cross-section of each community, officials of the bureau said.

Alarm Clocks Shipped To Britain From U. S.

LONDON, Aug. 17. (AP) — Sixty thousand alarm clocks—an article long unpurchasable in Britain—have arrived here from the United States, it was disclosed today.

The board of trade, however, still is undecided how to distribute them among stores so they can get into the hands of war workers.

Church Groups Have Programs

Bible studies and mission programs were presented at meetings of church circles and groups Monday afternoon.

First Baptist WMS circles met Monday afternoon with the exception of the Blanche Rose Walker circle which will meet Wednesday instead in the home of Mrs. A. S. Canon, 2605 Twenty-second street.

The Lucille Rankin circle met in the home of Mrs. J. A. Goodwin, 2204 Tenth street with six members present. Mrs. W. H. Porter presented the lesson and the circle will meet next time in the home of Mrs. Frank Moss, 2116 Eighth street.

Mrs. W. L. Pattillo was hostess and also presented the lesson to 12 members of the Lena Lair circle at her home, 1601 Main.

Lottie Moon circle met with Mrs. W. E. Watson 2104 Main where Mrs. H. P. Baker gave the lesson.

First Christian Woman's Council met at 3 p. m. Monday in the church parlor to hear Mrs. O. L. Byrd review the book, "The Story of Dr. Wassell" (James Hilton). Mrs. Dan Couch, educational adviser, presided at the meeting in the absence of the president. Circle 2 was hostess for the tea hour and approximately 25 were present.

Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, spoke to members of the Arnett-Benson Bible class Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Locust Street chapel. Mrs. J. P. McKay of Shallowater was guest with the following members attending Mesdames A. R. Pendley, I. T. Weed, B. O. Coffee, Charles Noble and Miss Mary Joyce Pendley.

Mrs. R. J. Ledbetter, 1913 Seventh street, was hostess to members of College Avenue Baptist WMS Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The lesson, taught by Mrs. Crafton Hay, was for the mission study book, "Signs of the Time." (Lawrence).

Mrs. J. B. Carpenter led the study group at the meeting of the Nazarene WFMS at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. Bell Stovall gave the devotional which was followed by a short business meeting.

Calvary Baptist WMS circles met at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon for bible and mission study. Lottie Moon circle met in the home of Mrs. H. R. Sprawls 1910 Avenue P. Four members were present to hear Mrs. J. A. Alred give the mission study.

Ann Judson circle met in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Parks, 2206 Eighth street, where Mrs. W. A. Reed read the lesson to six members who attended.

Second book of Kings was the Bible study lesson discussed by Mrs. J. H. Comer at the meeting of the Livingston circle at her home, 1614 Nineteenth street.

Six members were present at a meeting of the Mewshaw circle at the home of Mrs. Gene Greer, 1903 Twenty-sixth street. Miss May Horn presented the mission study book.

Three Officers Elected By Cadets' Wives Club

Cadets' Wives club elected officers Monday afternoon at a meeting conducted in the cadet lounge at the Hilton hotel. Mrs. Phyllis Holden was named president; Mrs. Dorothy Jennings, secretary and Mrs. Van Iderstine, treasurer.

Members of the club will meet again in the cadet lounge at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning to hear a lecture given by Miss Johne Bowles, assistant professor of economics at Texas Technological college.

Those present were Mesdames Eleanor Peters, Barbara Allatt, Martha Stewart, Jean Rose, Eileen Dennell, Muriel Kraeft, Florence Lede, Joyce Milliken, Mildred Wadlund, Marjorie McKay, Regina Lyon, Becie Brazzel, Ruth Currie, Eleanor Reed and Thomas Potter, sponsor.

A. B. Chambers Takes Post In Plane Plant

A. B. Chambers, of 1212 Avenue O, is past military age but with two sons and a son-in-law in uniform he wants to do whatever he can to aid in the war effort.

So he will leave either Wednesday or Thursday for Fort Worth where he has a place in a large aircraft factory—a place on the assembly line.

Chambers has been working at post headquarters at Lubbock Army Air Field since December 12, 1941. But, as he said here today, "almost anyone can do the work I've been doing there and since I'm fitted for aircraft factory work, that's what I'm going to do." He has been living in Lubbock for the past 15 years; will leave his family here and "will be back after the war is won."

Chambers' sons, both corporals, are Othell and Weldon Chambers, the former in the Coast Artillery in California, the latter in the Army Air Forces in Kansas. The son-in-law, Pvt. Nolan Alexander, is stationed in Brownsville, also in the Air Forces.

A building permit for a frame addition costing $620 to the building at 323 Aveue H was issued Monday afternoon to E. L. Butler, owner.

Decision To Hold Fall Market Is Uncertain

Uncertainties have arisen as to whether the semi-annual market of Western Wholesale Market association of the chamber of commerce will be practical next fall, officials of the association said today.

They emphasized, however, that no decision can be reached until a survey now being made is completed. When the information now being collected is complete and tabulated, it will be referred to association directors for study and decision.

Officials said, however, that a trend is indicated by the answers already received to inquiries of exhibitors in previous shows as to whether they consider a market practical next fall. The smaller exhibitors, taken as a whole, favor it. Most of the larger exhibitors do not because of limited stocks. One of them wrote that his firm will be represented if the show is held, then added: "About all we would be able to do is to shake hands."

If the show is held, the expectation is that the dates will be about mid-October.

War Currency Status Cleared

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—Allied military currency now in use in Sicily and held in readiness for future offensive operations was issued under international rather than American law, the Treasury and War departments announced jointly tonight.

An explanatory statement said that the Army's use of the distinctive money for normal military operations will be charged to War department appropriations, thus making "no change in the customary control by the Congress over the size and nature of Army appropriations."

Some Exceptions

On the other hand, it added, War department appropriations will not be charged for Allied military government expenditures for purely local operations such as maintenance of public schools or water systems and salaries of local officials. There was no amplification of this point.

Asserting that the Allied military lira in Sicily has been made legal tender there and is interchangeable at par with local currency—which, it was said, it is intended only to supplement—the joint announcement added:

"It should be noted that in contrast with Axis procedure, which is governed by a policy of exploitation or of outright destruction of the existing economy of a conquered area, Allied military policy and procedure is governed by a spirit of liberation and a policy of rehabilitation and fair dealing with the liberated peoples."

The announcement had been promised by Secretary M[illegible]enthaus as a reply to Walter E. Spahr, New York university economics professor and secretary of the economists' national committee on monetary policy. Spahr had demanded to know the nature of the military currency, who is liable for its redemption, what the reserve is against it and under what authority it was issued.

Plane, Radio Plants Suffering Greatly From Manpower Losses

BY JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—How can workers be induced to stay on their jobs in such essential war plants as aircraft and radio, both suffering from manpower losses?

War Production Board (WPB) men say radio factory jobs generally pay less than aircraft and aircraft less than shipyards. Yet all three are vital parts of the war program.

Looking for better pay is only one of the reasons for workers quitting in numbers that have government production men worried.

Some Tired Of Grind

Some older workers, but particularly women workers, are getting tired of the grind and quit to stay home. The draft has been sapping industrial manpower, too.

Appeals to their patriotism may have some effect in getting older workers and women to stay in their jobs till war's end and new War Manpower commission (WMC) regulations released Sunday may keep industrial key men out of the Army longer through higher classifications of their essentiality.

But several WPB officials offer explanations:

A worker walks out of a plane plant without a statement of availability and, presenting himself at a shipyard, says he hasn't worked in 30 days or has been working in some unessential job.

"Punched-Nose" Method

"Another way that I know has been used," said one official, "is for a worker to punch a boss in the nose if the latter refuses a statement of availability because the punched boss fires the man and that leaves him free to go off looking for another job.

"It is not hard to understand that at a plane plant you might see a whole line of workers quitting and getting statements of availability to go to another job. Trying to keep them against their will is an ugly problem.

"Foremen's noses are not made of rubber; a plant doesn't want a disgruntled worker around to slow production because then he'll have to be fired anyway but only after production has suffered."

This official did not cite that "long line of workers quitting and getting statements of availability" as something he had witnessed himself but as a report passed on to him from other sources.

Deliveries May Be Pooled Without Tax

The federal transportation tax will not be collected on moneys exchanged among private motor carriers for adjustment of charges for local cartage performed under government approved joint action plans, Richard E. Wood, Lubbock district manager of the Office of Defense transportation, said.

Wood said the information came to him from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Under the revenue act of 1942, a 3 per cent levy is effective on all amounts paid for transportation of property, whether by rail, motor truck, air, or water carriers.

When groups of merchants pool their delivery service to conserve mileage and equalize expenses, the money paid among the merchants is not subject to the tax, provided each merchant operates his own equipment and with his own personnel, and pools his own merchandise with that of other merchants for transportation within a certain area. In such cases, the merchants are not considered to be in business as transporters of property for hire.

If the merchants should, however, set up a corporation, or separate entity to make deliveries for all members, then the amounts paid by all merchants for transportation services would be subject to the tax. This would be the effect, even if the charges were such as to result in operation on a non-profit basis, it was pointed out, for the result would be a business of transporting property for hire, regardless of whether a profit was made.

Revenue Deputies To Attend School Here

A three-day school for deputies in West Texas of the U. S. Department of Internal Revenue opens here today in a "borrowed" classroom of Texas Technological college, according to L. B. Barkley, in charge of the Lubbock office of the department.

Following the school, which will have representatives here from Washington and Dallas, the deputies will make a tour of the Lubbock district giving information to hundreds of taxpayers who come under brand new regulations which require salaried persons in the higher brackets to make declarations of their estimated incomes for 1943, and also to explain to farmers the regulations which require them to do the same and make payments on or before Dec. 15 of their 1943 income taxes.

Barkley said the offices in Lubbock National building will remain open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, with a woman clerk in charge, but all deputies will be attending the school.

Harris County To Get Essential Mileage

HOUSTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Essential mileage will be cared for in Harris county just as in the past, with gasoline rationing coupons issued by the rationing boards sufficient to cover all necessary occupational driving, Raymond P. Elledge, chairman of the Harris County War Price and Rationing board, said today.

TRAFFIC RECORD SET

HIDALGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—Traffic at the Hidalgo-Reynosa international bridge during the month of July, the first month of the new fiscal year, set a new record when approximately 118,000 persons crossed at this point, Deputy Customs Collector Walter L. Clark reported. In July of last year the traffic totalled 73,000.

Some Fathers Are In Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—Yes, there are pre-Pearl Harbor fathers in the armed forces at this time, selective service headquarters said today in answering a question frequently raised since the announcement that such fathers would no longer be exempt as a class after October 1.

But, the answer emphasized, those now serving either:

1. Volunteered.
2. Were drafted from non-deferrable jobs.
3. Did not maintain a bona fide family relationship in the home.
4. Were taken by a local board through misunderstanding.
5. Were members of the National Guard before Pearl Harbor.
6. Or had wives and children with independent means and were inducted prior to June 23, 1942, when the dependents' allowances bill went into effect.

Headquarters said it knew of no specific cases since Director Lewis B. Hershey banned the induction of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers last summer, where men qualified for this classification had been inducted — except as volunteers, or draftees from non-deferrable jobs.

To qualify for deferment, it was pointed out, a man must have a child born before September 15, 1942, and must live with and maintain the child "in a bona fide relationship in their home." He also must be engaged in work which has not been designated as non-deferrable.

Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower commission (WMC) and chief over selective service, once acknowledged that some boards had "gotten out of line" and had ordered induction of fathers erroneously, but said they had been "put back in line" when he learned about it.

In all cases, McNutt and Hershey said, a man who believes he has the qualifications for deferment has had and still has the right to appeal from a decision by in violation of selective service his board which he believes to be orders.

Gasoline Cut Laid To Impending Shortages

DALLAS, Aug. 17 (AP)—Max McCullough, regional OPA administrator, declared today curtailment of civilian consumption of gasoline in the southwest has been brought about because of impending shortages and increased military requirements.

"Let no one believe that we are giving up part of our gasoline merely to make pleasure driving possible in the east," McCollough said. "The pleasure driving issue is a bogey man that has been thrown up by critics of the program."

ALL TEXAS GROCERS SELL LINIT

The first Taste OF VICTORY!

EVERYWHERE men and women know again the enjoyment of the second cup of coffee . . . and have been cheered and encouraged.

And it restores a simple enjoyment in daily living that cannot begin to be measured in money value. The downright satisfaction of that second cup of coffee is actually many times what it was before restrictions.

The restrictions of Rationing did something else. They forced people to learn a lot about coffee. The need to make every pound of coffee deliver the greatest possible number of cups of good coffee brought about an unprecedented demand for Folger's. Surveys have indicated that in many localities the demand has about doubled. People discovered the importance of the extra, richer Folger flavor. They discovered what thrifty housewives had previously reported—that they could use ¼th less of mountain grown Folger's Coffee and still get a better cup of coffee than was possible with ordinary weaker flavored brands.

In spite of the greatly increased supply of coffee now available . . . shortages of packaging materials and labor present many production problems to the whole coffee industry. But we're working harder than ever to supply the tremendous increased demand and provide plenty of fresh, vigorous Folger's Coffee for everyone.

May we suggest that you drink Folger's vigorous flavored mountain grown coffee and enjoy it to the limit. Drink as much as you want . . . but please don't waste a drop. It is too precious to waste and others want it . . . Also . . . if you should discover Folger's out of stock at your grocer's, be assured such a situation is temporary. Probably only a matter of hours. You can now insist upon and receive your favorite coffee!

Rowe's Comeback League Sensation

Schoolboy Hurls His 11th Victory

BY GLEN PERKINS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 — Baseball experts today were hailing the pitching of Schoolboy Rowe as one of the greatest comebacks ever seen in the National league.

The long righthander, who was leading the league in a number of hurling departments 10 years ago, was given up for lost by the Brooklyn Dodgers last season and was released to the Montreal farm club in the International league. Winning only two games and losing one, Rowe was sold by Montreal to the Philadelphia Phillies in March of this year.

Hurls 11th Victory

But last night, Rowe hurled his 11th victory, one of the top records in the league, to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, with a five hit performance. The victory put money in Rowe's pocket as his contract called for a bonus of $1,000 if he won more than 10 games and an additional $100 for every victory thereafter.

With a run in the first inning, and three more in the third, Rowe staved off the Bruins to notch the decision.

Newcomer Howard Schultz, obtained Sunday by Dodger President Branch Rickey from the St. Paul Saints of the American association, brought new joy to Brooklyn hearts as the Dodgers nipped the league leading St. Louis Cardinals.

Debut Spectacular

Schultz, six foot six and one-half inch first baseman, made a spectacular debut with an excellent fielding job and two hits, one a double, in four appearances at the plate. Whit Wyatt held the league leaders to eight hits as his mates pounded out a 15-hit barrage against Mort Cooper, Murry Dickson and Ernie White.

The Cincinnati Reds made it three straight with a 5-2 victory over the hapless New York Giants. Johnny Wittig started for the Giants and received scoring support from Joe Medwick alone. The outfielder hit his third homer of the season in an unavailing cause and also scored the loser's other run after doubling. Johnny Vander Meer was the winning hurler, his 11th triumph this season.

Yanks Defeat Whitesox

Johnny Gee pitched the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-1 victory over the Boston Braves. Vince DiMaggio broke a 1-1 tie to start the Bucs on the victory path when he tallied on Catcher Clyde Kluttz' error.

Hustlin' Hank Borowy dealt out four hits in miserly fashion, enabling the New York Yankees to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 7-0, under Chicago lights. Bill Dietrich was charged with the loss as Catcher Bill Dickey and Third Baseman Bill Johnson touched him for three hits apiece.

Bill Lefevre, acquired last week from Minneapolis in the American association, pitched the Washington Senators right into second place in the junior circuit with a 6-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Mickey Vernon's sixth home run of the season came in the seventh inning and started Jim Bagby on the way to the showers.

In the only other American league game scheduled, the Boston Red Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns, 9-0. Buck Newsom, who went to St. Louis "to pitch the Browns into the pennant" was charged with his sixth straight defeat. Mike Ryba turned in a four hitter for the victory.

Yesterday's star: Schoolboy Rowe, who continued his comeback by hurling a five-hit victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Stanford Drops Gridiron Game

Action Is Due To Manpower Shortage

PALO ALTO, Calif., Aug. 17 (AP) —Stanford University has cancelled its 1943 football schedule because of "lack of manpower."

Graduate Manager Al Masters said Coach Marchmont Schwartz and his staff would remain and handle the Army's physical fitness program or the approximately 2,500 cadets now enrolled at the university.

One Lone Civilian

One lone civilian, a young third-string quarterback, showed up for spring practice, but Schwartz figured he could build up a team from the many Army boys in training on the campus. The Army killed that idea, however, with its rule prohibiting trainees from participating in intercollegiate athletics.

Stanford's decision threw the southern half of the Pacific coast conference into a jumble and meant the suspension of the bitter, 50-year-old pigskin feud with the University of California—the "big game" in these parts.

PGA Golfers To Play In Austin

AUSTIN, Aug. 17. (AP) — The Austin Country club's invitation golf tournament here Labor Day will include members of the Professional Golfers association now in the armed services and stationed in Texas. Among professionals likely to enter are Howard M. Jones and Joe Hogan of Camp Swift, Ray Hill of Randolph field, Howard Estep and Jack White of Temple and Rod Munday of Camp Howze.

Count Fleet's Track Return Is Delayed

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (AP)—For the fourth time since he sprained his ankle in June Count Fleet's return to racing was delayed today—and this time he was put on the shelf probably for the rest of the year.

Owner John D. Hertz, the Chicago taxicab and U-drive-it man, announced that his triple crown champ is galloping again after recovering from a second injury, but that the chances are he won't be ready to strut his stuff in what is left of the 1943 campaign.

Howie Schultz, "The St. Paul Steeple," Rings The Bell In His Debut With The Dodgers

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Howie Schultz, the $40,000 "St. Paul steeple," certainly rang the bell in his unveiling at Ebbets field.

Young Schultz, who towers six feet 6½ inches, made a quick stretch from the American association to the National league in such impressive fashion that Lippy Leo Durocher was left speechless (at last!) — without words to describe properly the promise of his new Dodger first baseman.

High Howie, who never saw a major league game before, arrived from the St. Paul club yesterday. Immediately he was given the double-barrelled test of fielding against the sharp-hitting, fast-running Cardinals and of batting against the champions' ace righthander, Mort Cooper.

Receptively Perfect

The 21-year-old rookie, who was imported to succeed popular Dolph Camilli (now waivered and retired), proved surprisingly proficient at bat and on the bag, despite his bean-pole appearance. He collected a double and a single in four tries against Cooper, Murry Dickson and Ernie White. Meanwhile, afield, the giraffe displayed gazellian traits, particularly in the seventh inning when he made a running scoop and throw of Stan Musial's steaming grounder while Pitcher Whit Wyatt protected the bag. And as a target at the busy corner, Howie was rangy and receptively perfect.

While the crowd of 8,307 cheered the newcomer with Brooklyn fervor, baseball experts began comparing him with long George Kelly, another right-handed first baseman of similar build and altitude who was a spire of strength with the Giants from 1921 to '24 and who now coaches the Braves. The experts pointed out that Hank Greenberg, former first baseman of the Detroit Tigers, was much heavier than Schultz, though tall and right-handed. Howie packs only 195 pounds on his sky-scraping frame.

After Schultz and his Dodger mates had beaten the Cards, 7-3, the taffy-thatched Rookie told reporters in the dressing room, "Sure I was nervous when I first went out on the field. And I was lucky to come through all right. No, I didn't notice much difference between today's pitching and that in the American association. But I did notice the difference in running. Say — those Cards sure can travel."

The elongated infielder, who has more than his share of neck and basket-like hands, posseses comparatively small feet — only No. 10's. He has trouble sleeping in Pullman berths, where "I become a pretzel for the night." However, his altitude proved mighty helpful in basketball at high school in St. Paul and during three years at Hamline university. It also made him 4F in the draft.

Schultz, who is expected to prove a major girder in Branch Rickey's re-building of the fourth-place Dodgers, played first base at college and later with Grand Forks, N. D., in '41 and most of '42. Late last season he was brought up to the St. Paul club where he played 12 games and continued this season. He was hitting "about .290" when he headed for Brooklyn.

The St. Paul steeple cost Branch Rickey $40,000 and two players, but he rang the bell in his debut and caused great rejoicing along the Gowanus.

Beechcraft Flyers Down Carolina Nine

WICHITA, Kans., Aug. 17 (U.P.) —The Beechcraft Flyers of Wichita defeated a team from Greenville, S. C., 10 to 2, last night in the National Semi-Professional baseball tournament.

Wichita pounded three Greenville pitchers for a dozen hits. Dee Sanders, Wichita hurler, scored on a delayed steal in the sixth inning to break a tie, and his teammates went on to score three in the seventh and four in the eighth.

The 326th Glider squadron team from Alliance, Neb., defeated the Las Vegas, Nev., Horned Toads, 59 to 1.

TITLE BOUT SIGNED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17 (U.P.)— Promoter Charley McDonald said today that he had signed Bantamweight Champion Manuel Ortiz to defend his title against Leonard Lopez of Mexico City at Hollywood stadium, Oct. 1. Ortiz, the first Mexican to become an undisputed title holder, took a close decision from Lopez last Friday.

Little Ohio College Hasn't Won A Game In Seven Years But Football Isn't Dropped

RIO GRANDE, Ohio., Aug. 17 (AP)—War or no war, little Rio Grande college, which hasn't won a football game since 1937, is going to play a full, seven-game schedule on the gridiron this fall.

Announcing that the tiny school would field a team, Coach Mendell E. Beattie expressed impatience with hundreds of larger colleges which are giving up the sport because of the war and asserted:

"Shall Not Surrender"

"We shall not surrender until our football reaches a bedrock Corregidor."

"I think it is a bad example . . . to give up in the face of gasoline rationing or reduced manpower," added the coach of the smallest of the Buckeye state's 36 football-playing colleges—18 of which, including all the larger ones except Ohio State—have abandoned the pigskin sport for the duration.

Hasn't A Service Unit

Boasting a total enrollment last semester of 108 students, 45 of them boys, Rio Grande is one of the few Mid-Western schools not having a service unit of some sort on the campus.

"I don't know how many of the boys will be in school this fall," Coach Beattie said, "but I expect e squad of from 11 to 22 men."

Rio Grande's last football win was a 6 to 0 verdict over Alfred Holbrook college back in 1937. Since then they've lost 28 in a row. In the last five years the team hasn't even gained a tie.

Legion Teams Play Without Decision

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Aug. 17. (AP) — For Smith (Ark.) and New Orleans played a 10-inning game Monday which might have settled the championship of the regional American Legion junior baseball tournament, but neither team scored.

Another game will be started this morning.

New Orleans is undefeated and a victory today will mean the championship.

TEXANS ARE SIGNED

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—Both of New York City's professional football teams, the Dodgers and the Giants, reached deep into the heart of Texas today for gridiron athletes. The Giants announced the signing of Emery Nix, outstanding passer with Texas Christian last year, while the Dodgers came up with Ken Heineman, a former Texas School of Mines tosser.

More than 30 million letters to U. S. servicemen overseas were delivered by the Army Transport planes for Christmas last year.

Kingman Wins First In Gunnery Meet

KINGMAN, Ariz., Aug. 17 (AP) — Soldiers from the Kingman Army Air base won first place in an inter-training competitive meet here for top gunners from six flexible gunnery schools, Col. Harvey P. Huglin, commanding officer, announced today.

Harlingen, Tex., placed second, followed by Laredo, Tex., Tyndall, Fla., Las Vegas, Nev., and Fort Myers, Fla.

Kingman ranked first in firing from a moving base, 50 caliber machine gun fire, and blindfold reassembly of 50 caliber machine-gun. Harlingen won skeet, 30 caliber machine gun, and air-to-air firing.

The next meet will be September 14 at Harlingen, Huglin said.

LOUIS TO PREPARE

FORT GEORGE G. MEADE, Md., Aug. 17 (AP) —Sgt. Joe Louis, who was to have started a global boxing tour under the management of Uncle Sam's War department tomorrow, has been given a two-week period to get ready for the grind which now will get under way Aug. 30.

SCHOOL DAYS are Eye Days

More than 80% of the knowledge that reaches a child's brain must travel through the eyes. That's why good eyesight is as vital in the formative years as in later life.

Many an apparently dull pupil is merely suffering from faulty vision. Yet what a tragic form of suffering, with headaches, confusion of mind, failure to "pass"! And how unnecessary! For most defects of vision can be corrected. Don't take it for granted that your children's eyes are "all right." Be sure. Have them helped and protected for comfort and efficiency now—and in later life.

SPAAF Commended For Part In Record Flight Of Gliders

Official commendation for the part of South Plains Army Air field in recent record-breaking glider flights from Wichita Falls to Laurinburg-Maxton Army Air field in North Carolina was announced Monday as having been received at SPAAF from Maj. Gen. Barton K. Yount, commanding general of the Army Air Forces Training command.

In a letter to Major Gen. Gerald C. Brant, commanding general of the Gulf Coast Army Air Forces Training Center, Major Gen. Yount said that "the record breaking glider-tow flight . . . by four graduates of the Advanced Glider School (SPAAF) reflects much credit on this command, the advanced glider school and the pilots themselves."

The general also requested that the letter be brought to the attention of Col. Norman B. Olsen, commanding officer at SPAAF, and his command and the pilots who participated in the flight.

This is the second such official recognition of the glider training at SPAAF in the past week. Gov. Coke Stevenson proclaiming September 2 as South Plains Army Air Field Day in Texas. Gov. Stevenson in his proclamation paid tribute to the field as having graduated "more young, expert glider pilots than any other place in the world, including those youthful fighters who have flown, are flying and will fly American gliders in the invasion of Europe."

He said that "the field has brought to Texas additional recognition as the progressive center of aviation training in this nation.

The long distance flight from Wichita Falls to North Carolina covered a distance of 1,234 miles under adverse weather conditions. It surpassed the previous record flight of 1,177 miles which was made on one leg of the trans-Atlantic glider flight from Montreal, Canada, to London the early part of July. The trip in which SPAAF fliers participated was made Sunday, July 18, and took 9 hours and 45 minutes.

Mexican Workers On Way To New York

LAREDO, Aug. 17 (AP) — The Laredo Times said a special train of the National lines of Mexico passed through here Monday with eleven coaches carrying 750 Mexican contract laborers to New York City where they will go to work as trackmen on the New York Central railway.

The Times said other groups of Mexican laborers also were expected to pass through here soon en route to similar jobs in the United States.

NEXT time you get to feeling either too foxy, or too melancholy, take time out to remember that life is nothing more or less than a succession of checks and balances.

On one end of the teeter-totter, man is born. On the other end, he dies.

First he is young, then he is old. His body is strongest when his mind is immature; his mind is strongest after his physical being begins to fade.

Love and hate, joy and sorrow, regret and satisfaction, exhaustion and strength balance each other just as success balances failure, and triumph balances disappointment. Sickness offsets health and pride offsets shame.

Like business graphs, life's graphs rarely, if ever, follow a straight line. There are hills and there are valleys in the existence of us all.

Thus, it is never safe to be too triumphant, because disappointment is sure to come later. And it's foolish to get down in the dumps when the law of averages is certain, sometime in the future, to cancel melancholy with joy.

The worst man in the world can, if he chooses, become the best. And the best men may, if he is not careful, wind up in the gutter.

Everything in life is counterbalanced at one time or another. That is Nature's way of assuring every man a full experience on earth.

We humans like entertainers who make us laugh; we love those who make us cry.

AFTER this war is won, the great public education system of the U. S. will do well to revamp itself at least to the extent of adding to its curriculum courses which will teach both boys and girls how to do many essential manual jobs for themselves.

It is no secret that the average salaried man can make money by laying off his regular job and doing plumbing and carpentry work around the house—IF he knows how. If the situation continues in the future, high school students—especially boys—should be taught the rudiments of plumbing, carpentering and electrical work, etc., so, when they have homes of their own, they can do the little jobs themselves without having to call in an expert in those or kindred lines.

Instead of making manual training an elective subject, as it is now, it should be made a required subject; its field should be expanded and it should be taught from about the sixth grade on through high school. Such a system would make Americans more self-reliant and would not work a hardship on artisans who make a career of the manual arts, because they would be left free to do the bigger, more technical jobs which pay more money and offer steadier work.

There is a lot to be said for "book larnin," which is essential to modern living. But there's also a lot to be said for fitting our men to work with their hands. The country swung away too far from the manual arts. The theory that a white collar job is the only one worth having is cockeyed.

When the war is won will be a good time to do a right-about face.

We notice that when ordering lunch, the big shots of the community are just as indecisive as the rest of us!

HOW times do change! Within the lifetime of 90 per cent of the readers of this column, the production of farms was entirely given over to foods for man or beast. In fact, no one ever thought of a crop for any other purpose save as a food. But now many a farm product is worth more after conversion to industrial use than it is for eating purposes.

In the last full pre-war year, 50,000 five-ton trucks would have been required to transport the farm products consumed by only one big chemical manufacturing concern. But now, since the war, nearly three times as many trucks of five-ton size would be required to do the same job. There has been a tremendous increase in demand for agricultural crops for chemicals and other necessities for the armed forces.

Products from farms and forests include vegetable oils, turpentine, cotton, cotton linters and wood pulp. Cotton linters and wood pulp are the source of cellulose, which is essential to much war production, including smokeless powder. Corn contributes to explosives. Vegetable oils from flaxseed, soybeans, cottonseed, tung nuts and peanuts are used in many war products as well as in household necessities. Industrial alcohol is made from molasses and grain, and this alcohol, in turn can be used in manufacturing synthetic rubber.

The outstanding recent example of the farm's contribution to war is supplied by the soybean. Twenty years ago, the U. S. grew less than five million bushels of that crop. The 1943 production was 200 million bushels, which will make oil for cooking, paint, varnish and medicine. The lowly soybean also provides a meal high in vitamins essential to combatting certain diseases of humans, animals and plants and is a fine supplement for some types of livestock feeds.

THE American farmer who once gave all his time and effort to growing foodstuffs will have a son who, in a few years, will be producing from the soil essentials to various plastics which, in turn, will be used in constructing everything from combs to locomotives.

Peace is certain to increase the farm-industry tie-up, which should lead to an unprecedented era of prosperity for the man who raises growing things.

IN times of great stress, such as the one through which our nation is now passing, indiciduals react emotionally—although many do not realize it. Tempers grow short; selfishness lifts its ugly head; people are prone to be disagreeable over the smallest details.

Hitler wants us to be a nation of ill-tempered, selfish, disagreeable people, because that will keep us from winning as quickly as we might otherwise do. So let's fool him! Let's resolve NOT to give way to base reactions but, instead, to keep our finer sensibilities, come what may!

YESTERAY: Sue tells Bob that she wouldn't dream of marrying him, that she doesn't love him, and that he's a badly spoiled and self-willed person. Bob still pursues her, wrangling a dinner invitation from Allen.

Chapter Seven

'The Next Blue Moon'

"Here's Trenton, Sue! said Allen, as she entered the room.

"Yes. He was here when I came in a while ago. I hope Maggie has something nice for dinner. Allen should have called me so I could—"

"Oh, he'll be content with pot-luck," Allen said calmly. "I'll brus' up a bit, you two, and be right out!"

"Sue, I'm sorry—"

She had had time to gain control of herself. "You're not, of course," she informed him serenely "but it doesn't matter at all. I shall know what to expect from now on, and take pains to guard myself against a repetition of such a scene." She realized with youthful satisfaction that he was puzzled by her new composure. That was the right note, she thought exultantly: poise, calmness, an air of quiet superiority. He would not know how to combat that.

All through dinner she felt she had the upper hand. A glance from beneath the long fringe of her lashes would halt his ready speech, make him stumble and turn red. Or, if he boldly essayed the part of aggressor and plied her with questions a trifle too personal for her taste, she turned them aside with gentle dignity. Allen grew amused and was content to watch the little comedy played with himself as sole spectator.

"Date tonight, Sis?" he asked when the table had been cleared and the two men had lighted their cigarettes.

Trenton said quckly: "Yes. She promised me several days ago to see the new picture at The Missouri. Any time you're ready, Sue!"

She leaned back, crossing her silken ankles with an air of infinite leisure.

"I'm so terribly sorry, Bob! D'you know I completely forgot I'd promised to see that with you. Barbara and I went this afternoon. And—" she was quick to forestall the words she knew hovered on his lips. "It tired my eyes a bit, too. In fact—" her guileless smile included both men—"I'm so sleepy I can hardly keep my eyes open! I was just thinking how lucky it is that you're Allen's guest tonight." One small hand came up to pat back a most convincing yawn. "Up late four nights in succession! I'm going to have to reform, or else stop getting up to have breakfast with you, Buddy!"

Allen half closed one eye against the thin spiral of blue smoke.

"You don't look sleepy, Sue. You look — scintillating; doesn't she, Bob? Your eyes sparkle like the decorations on a Christmas tree."

"Appearances are deceitful then." She rose sedately, and nodded toward them both. "Don't bother to keep your voices down, if you want to talk business. I could sleep on a railroad track, I think. Goodnight!"

Spice

The weeks, the months, fled gaily for Sue Davenport. Never had she packed into them so many activities. She would not admit that Bob Trenton's unflagging pursuit of her gave spice to her days

He was no more to be snubbed than the sunshine, to be discouraged than the approaching winter. He arrived cheerfully with Allen several times a month for dinner. He called Sue daily, varying the time so that she never knew when to expect his gay "Hello, Sue!" He cut in regularly wherever she danced, he "happened" to be parked before her door when she set forth for a solitary walk, his flowers came on every possible occasion.

Since he insisted on more or less pub'ic reference to his intentions, she adopted the protective measure of making a joke of the whole affair.

"Here's your intended, Sue!" a girl's voice would hail her gaily from the group about the fire at the Country Club.

"Yes, here I am, Sue darling!" Bob would unfold his long length and advance with outstretched hands to meet her.

"'Lo, Bob!" She always gave one hand—the right hand—a significant shake: friendly but definitely casual. She had merely a fleeting smile for the crowd's gibing comments. And as time went on, and Christmas plans were in the air, and the expected announcement of the engagement was not forthcoming people ceased to take the matter seriously. It became one of the stock jokes, one of the poses which went to the making of a more or less stable foundation for the town's social structure.

"When's the wedding to be, Sue?" some one might demand when a lull fell in a hectic evening.

"At the full of the next blue moon!"

"Bought a house yet, Bob?"

"Oh, sure! The Wilmington place. I told you that ages ago."

"By golly, I did see somebody working out there the other day!" Forest Webb exclaimed, struck. "Tying up shrubs, raking the leaves—that sort of thing."

"Of course you did!" It was Bob again, easy and assured. "Getting everything ready for a spring wedding, aren't we, sweet?"

And Sue's scornful: "Forest, you idiot! Ted Wilmington's father has a caretaker out there."

Once Barbara attempted to probe her friend's state of mind.

"I do really think Bob's serious, Sue, under all that razzing of his about being engaged to you. Hasn't it ever occurred to you that he might be?"

The corners of the other girl's mouth curled in a secret smile.

"Now that you mention it—"

"Sue Davenport! He really is, then! I speak to be your maid of honor!"

"You're not very complimentary, Babs! Does it follow that I'm serious, too?"

"N-no; I suppose not. But he's marvelous, Sue you must admit that! Rich, good-looking, sweetter pered . . . For Pete's sake, what more do you want in a man?"

"The bility to make me love him, perhaps," Sue replied soberly.

Barbara stared at her thoughtfully. "You're an odd little thing, aren't you, my lamb? Never been in love in your life, so far as I know. I've always heard that if a man was crazy about a girl he could make her love him; but there's Forest, and poor old Jim Kettle, and now Bob. . . Don't you want to be married, Sue? Don't you want a home of your own? Babies?"

'I Want To Be In Love'

"I have a home, right here. As for babies—" bright color stained her cheeks—"I'm romantic enough to want to be deliriously in love with their father, Barbara Webb, whoever he turns out to be."

"M'm, I suppose so. Still and all, I could yield my maidenly heart to Bob Trenton without undue difficulty."

"I'll tell him."

Barbara shook her head. "You won't get a rise out of me ..i that! Bob wouldn't even hear you. I have reason to know," she said more seriously. "I—deliberately—set my cap for him, as our grandmothers so quaintly phrased it. He can be," she mused, "the most pleasantly irresponsive person I ever met. I suppose he's had girls after him since he donned long trousers. When he grins t you—shows those big white teeth in his brown face—"

"Barbara Webb! You sound like a High School girl!"

"I suppose I do," she admitted. "But don't you ever get a thrill yourself, Sue? Having h' always leap to his feet when you come in sight, always knowing where you are and what you want, no eyes for anyone but you—that sort of thing? You wouldn't be human if you didn't," she finished reproachfully.

Sue replied with characteristic honestly. "I suppose I do, Babs—get a thrill out of it. He's the new man in town, he's traveled, his clothes and his accent and even his manners are just a little bit different from those of the men we know . . . yes, really thrilling. But that's not being in love with him by a long way. I can't imagine myself leaving Allen—leaving the apartment—for Bob Trenton or any other man."

"And that, my dear chield," Barbara told herself, "is the whole answer to Sue's indifference. She's got a brother complex. Allen has

MISS FROMAN'S APPROACHING COMEBACK

Millions of Americans who never have been interested in her before will be cheering from the sidelines when Miss Jane Froman, radio, stage and screen singer, makes her attempted comeback in the Broadway production, "Artists and Models," next Oct. 26.

Miss Froman was one among several entertainers who were aboard an American plane which crashed in Lisbon bay last Feb. 22. They were en route to entertain our fighting men in North Africa and elsewhere. Several in the party were killed. All the others were injured. Miss Froman was hurt critically. It remains to be seen whether she ever will regain the use of her legs, though prospects now are reported favorable.

Before her accident, Miss Froman had not been more than a mild success among topflight stars of her profession. Her screen appearances had been on the floppish side. Her audiences had no reason for awaiting her with warm places in their hearts already prepared.

The warm place is there now—the warm place that is reserved for an American girl who has suffered, and will continue to suffer, for her country. It is a place that she never could have attained in any other way.

This, perhaps, may be poor consolation for Miss Froman. But it should be, and doubtless is, a source of pride that so many of her fellow countrymen will be rooting for her so sincerely when she attempts her comeback.

ON BROADWAY

(Copyright, 1943, For The Journal)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Walter Winchell is on vacation for several weeks. During his absence, his column will be conducted by "guest writers," most of whom are luminaries of the stage, screen, press and radio).

By GLADYS SWARTHOUT
Metropolitan Opera Star

FROM the time I was a youngster in pigtails in the small town of Deepwater, Mo., to the year of my Metropolitan debut, the opera was a world of fantasy — distant, hazy, magnetic. It was my Hans Christian Anderson and my Alice in Wonderland. Its fabulous fables were my favorite fairy tales. I began collecting other people's reminiscences, the backstage grapevine of seamstresses, prompters, call boys, electricians . . . the footlight circuit of coloraturas, tenors, bassos, the casual chatting of old-timers . . . they were my Walter Winchell.

The opera . . . a turbulent world of its own . . . a glittering dream world of the elite and privileged . . . home of ample-bosomed prima donnas, suave tenors, faithful stagehands, faded scenery, lush costumes . . . a scrapbood of grandiose memories — violent Carmens, heroic Isoldes, wistful Mimis.

Opera today has discarded its halo, tossed away its top hat, stepped down from its pedestal, but

Remember when: Opera stars knew half a dozen kings, several queens, a handful of princes and a generous sprinkling of potentates and great ladies. Retinues trailed each diva from La Scala to Covent Garden to the Metropolitan in a whirlwind triple play. When stage door johnnies were bank presidents, ambassadors and admirals, and the Met meant the Diamond Horseshoe. . .

Here society's high corseted dowagers sat, jewelled from stem to stern. Here were the fragile ready-to-bloom debutantes, the legendary figures of Wall Street — the Astors, Goulds and, Vanderbilts . . . and far away the tiny figures who were magnified under the stare of expensive opera glasses . . .

Bank night at the opera . . the banks all over town called on to disgorge their tonnage of family jewels for opera openings — tiaras, stomachers, necklaces, bracelets.

AND remember when: Queen Marie of Rumania modelled her wardrobe after the costumes of latterday opera queens?

Melba went on tour in a welter of trunks, hatboxes, press agents, limousines . . . taking her own silk sheets and satin bedding?

Patti was paid $5,000 for every performance, and refused to start a single aria till the cash was in her hand?

A titian-haired diva dictated to the stage director, made him change the settings completely when they didn't harmonize with the costume she wore to dress rehearsals?

New York heard all of them in one season; Caruso, Garden, Farrar, Segtti, Amato, Eames, Homer, Tetrazzini, Jeritza?

Let 'Em Eat Cake: Enter glamor, exit the unromantic bulge . . . No more pudgy Carmens, beefy Marguerites, bovine Violettas. . . . Nowadays a pound of flesh is the price of stardom. . . slim, chic, photogenic, the new glamor girls of the Met rival Hollywood's harvest of beauties. . . .

But remember when opera divas were measured in terms of poundage and square footage, when Schumann-Heink couldn't wedge herself into a taxi door . . . (RCA-Victor used to send a limousine to take her to Camden to make recordings . . . but once the limousine broke down and a taxi was sent in its place. The grand old madam struggled valiantly to get through the door. Finally the driver suggested timorously: "Maybe you could try to come in sideways." Schumann-Heink came back with: "Young man, I'm afraid there isn't any sideways!")

REMEMBER when parts calling for women to wear tights were a director's nightmare . . . and the time that Frances Alda was chosen for the role of the Princess in Marong, who must be disguised as a boy) for two excellent reasons—her right and left legs!

It was only five years ago that Lady Ludlow requisitioned Fritz Kreisler and myself to come to London for a one night's private performance and paid all expenses plus staggering salaries.

Opera Antics: Caruso, prize prankster, caused an uproar in a performance of La Boheme with his devilish tomfollery. He filled a water glass with ink, and a top hat with rice. . . squirted soda water from a siphon in the face of everyone who appeared at a certain exit . . . removed two casters from Mimi's deathbed so that her final death spasms heaved the entire bed around the stage. Result: Caruso was fined $100.

Maria Jeritza was the only woman to sing a complete aria lying on the stage (Tosca). A haughty prima donna lost her pantalettes on stage. . . Before she could hide them, Caruso picked them up to exhibit to the audience.

ON WITH the News: Today the ghost of Otto Kahn might writhe . . . subways, hurtling New Yorkers to work, carry ads for the Met . . . White collar workers read the little subway card strategically placed between toothpaste ads and "Believe It or Not" cartoons . . . Seats at the Met for only $1.

Whisk away the magic carpet. . . . Opera's feet are on the ground.

Oklahomans Are A Fine And Gritty Lot, Ernie Pyle Finds

Yank Wounded Demand Quick Return To Front

BY ERNIE PYLE
Journal Roving Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN SICILY —(By Wireless) — It was flabbergasting to lie among a tentful of wounded soldiers recently and hear them cuss and beg to be sent right back into the fight.

Of course not all of them do. It depends on the severity of their wounds, and on their individual personalties, just as it would in peacetime. But I will say that at least a third of the moderately wounded men ask if they can't be returned to duty immediately.

When I took sick I was with the 45th Division, made up largely of men from Oklahoma and West Texas. You don't realize how different certain parts of our country are from others until you see their men set off in a frame, as it were, in some strange faraway place like this.

ERNIE PYLE

The men of Oklahoma are drawling and soft-spoken. They are not smart-alecks. Something of the purity of the soil seems to be in them. Even their cussing is simler and more profound than the torrential obscenities of Eastern city men. An Oklahoman of the Plains is straight and direct. He is slow to criticize and hard to anger, but once he is convinced of the wrong of something, brother, watch out!

They Really Get Mad!

These wounded men of Oklahoma have got madder about the war than anybody I have seen on this side of the ocean. They weren't so mad before they got into action, but now to them the Germans across the hill are all "sonsabitches."

And these quiet men of the 45th, the newest division over here, have already fought so well they have drawn the high praise of the commanding general of the corps of which the division is a part.

IT was these men from the farms, ranches and small towns of Oklahoma who poured through my tent with their wounds. I lay there and listened for what each one would say first.

One fellow, seeing a friend, called out, "I think I'm gonna make her." Meaning he was going to pull through.

Another said, "Have they got beds in the hospital? Lord how I want to go to bed."

Another said, "I'm hungry, but I can't eat anything. I keep getting sick at my stomach."

Another said, as he winced from their probing for a deeply buried piece of shrapnel in his leg, "Go head, you're the doc. I can stand it."

Another said, "I'll have to write the old lady tonight and tell her she missed out on that $10,000 again."

Another, who was put down beside me, said, "Hi, Pop, how you getting along? I call you Pop because you're gray-headed. You don't mind, do you?"

I told him I didn't care what he called me. He was friendly, but you could tell from his forward attitude that he was not from Oklahoma. When I asked him, it turned out he was from New Jersey.

Wanted More Fighting

One big blond Oklahoman had slight flesh wounds in the face and the back of his neck. He had a patch on his upper lip which prevented his moving it, and made him talk in a grave, straight-faced manner that was comical. I've never seen anybody so mad in my life. He went from one doctor to another trying to get somebody to sign his card returning him to duty.

The doctors explained patiently that if he returned to the front his wounds would get infected and he would be a burden on his company instead of a help. They tried to entice him by telling him there would be nurses back in the hospital. But he said, "To hell with the nurses, I want to get back to fightin'."

DYING men were brought into our tent, men whose death rattle silenced the conversation and made all the rest of us grave.

When a man was almost gone the surgeons would put a piece of gauze over his face. He could breathe through it but we couldn't see his face well.

Twice within five minutes chaplains came running. One of these occasions haunted me for hours.

The man was still semi-conscious. The chaplain knelt down beside him and two ward boys squatted alongside. The chaplain said:

"John, I'm going to say a prayer for you."

Somehow this stark announcement hit me like a hammer. He didn't say, "I'm going to pray for you to get well," he just said he was going to say a prayer, and it was obvious he meant the final prayer. It was as though he had said, "Brother, you may not know it, but your goose is cooked."

He said a short prayer, and the weak, gasping man tried in vain to repeat the words after him. When he had finished the chaplain said, "John, you're doing fine, you're doing fine." Then he rose and dashed off on other business," and the ward boys went about their duties.

The dying man was left utterly alone, just lying there on his litter on the ground, lying in an aisle, because the tent was full. Of course it couldn't be otherwise, but the awful aloneness of that man as he went through the last few minutes of his life was what tormented me. I felt like going over and at least holding his hand while he died, but it would have been out of order and I didn't do it. I wish now I had.

Lubbock County Test Is Staked

Search for oil on the South Plains extended to northeast Lubbock county today with the staking of a location for a new wildcat about three miles southwest of Estacado. The test is about seven miles west of the east line of the county.

J. R. Sharp Drilling company will put down the 5,500-foot test on the Mary C. Brown fee. Location is in the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 113, block C, BS & F. survey, Stanolind Oil and Gas company's sub-lease.

The nearest production to this wildcat is the Stinnett area in the eastern part of the county.

Gaines Test Gets Show

Another oil development highlight of the area was the recovery of 150 feet of oil and gas cut mud from 7,430 to 7,537 feet through five-eights choke in a 50-minute drill stem test on the No. 1-459 Havenmyer and Jenny wildcat of the Magnolia Petroleum company and Atlantic Refining company in northwest Gaines county.

The test is now drilling ahead below 7,569 feet. It will drill to about 7,630 feet and take another drill stem test. Formations in the No. 1-459 H & J are reported to be running a little higher than the same strata logged in the Shell Oil company No. 1 D. N. Leaverton, one half mile north which discovered production in the Clear Fork zone of the lower Permian in February to open the Russell field.

The Havemyer and Jenny test is the first operation to be drilled in the northwest Gaines district since the Leaverton well was completed for an initial potential of 213 barrels per day from a total depth of 7,772 feet. First shows for production in the discovery was around 7,480 feet.

War Conference

tered its second week today amid strong indications that the unique manner in which it has been handled has been designed deliberately to intensify Axis nervousness over major military developments predicted by President Roosevelt.

Meantime Dana Doten, representing the Office of War information at the war councils here, described the Quebec conference as "one of the greatest gatherings of military experts ever held."

Officers Brought Together

In addition to the highest ranking military officials of the United States and Great Britain, he said "the officers directly responsible for the practical planning of major Allied operations have been brought together."

Arrangements have been completed to receive the American chief executive here shortly for his sixth formal war council with Prime Minister Churchill.

Eisenhower May Attend

(Don Iddon, London Daily Mail correspondent, suggested in a dispatch from Quebec that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may attend the meeting and added that he might already be in Canada, though he said this could not be confirmed.

("There is a growing impression in Quebec that Allied leaders and the military staff are waiting for something and someone—not just President Roosevelt," Iddon wrote.)

In previous meetings of the two United Nations leaders, starting with the one two years ago at which they formulated the Atlantic charter, secrecy has been the rule. There were no advance announcements and strict censorship control prevailed.

Secrecy Is Lifted

But this time the entire pattern was changed. It was pretty much of a certainty that Churchill again was coming across the Atlantic. His arrival in Quebec was announced. The press was allowed to state that he and Mr. Roosevelt had held a preliminary conference at the President's home at Hyde Park, N. Y., and that American chiefs of staff were here to confer with British staff chiefs.

Censorship restrictions on movements of the chief executive were lifted to permit advance disclosure that he was coming here for the war parleys.

The policy apparently has been one of encouraging all sorts of speculation on what was going on in this ancient provincial capital and on what was likely to occur.

Points Of Attack Suggested

For the United States, Britain and Canada, there are few spots remaining for attacks except against the European continent itself.

They could go into Sardinia or Corsica, but it is considered more likely here that assaults would be directed across the English channel, at Norway or the Lowlands, or at Italy.

Through blows at any or all of those areas, the United Nations could take full advantage of Russia's mighty drives on her central front. And if that full advantage is to be attained, strategy considerations would seek to dictate that the operations be undertaken in the relatively near future.

Rubio Sentenced For Slaying Of Albarran

TOLUCA, Mexico, Aug. 17. (AP) —Fernando Artiz Rubio, son of former President Pascual Ortiz Rubio, yesterday was sentenced to 14 years imprisonment for the slaying of Gov. Alfredo Zarate Albarran, of Mexico state.

Ortiz Rubio also was ordered to pay 77,160 pesos (about $15,000) as indemnity to the widow.

The defendant was convicted of fatally shooting Governor Zarate Albarran during a quarrel at a fiesta in the casino Charro here in March, 1942, and of wounding three other persons.

Ortiz Rubio pleaded self-defense.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Main Blows At Nazis May Continue By Air

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) —The nation and the world had from one of President Roosevelt's closest confidants today this inkling of immediate Allied strategy:

The war against Nazi-held Europe will continue to be aerial bombardment, for the time being at least, rather than by sea and land forces against numerically superior odds.

That was the inference drawn by capital observers from the stress James F. Byrnes laid on Germany's remaining land strength in a broadcast last night.

Calls For Greater Effort

Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization and sometimes referred to as assistant president, called for greater effort and sacrifice on the home front in order to press the initiative already gained. In return, he promised a "substantial reduction" in the cost of living necessities and gave assurance of ultimate victory.

Byrnes' implied thesis that the war against the Nazis might well be carried on from the air for the present was underscored indirectly in a message to King George of Great Britain from President Roosevelt, who is about to resume his strategy talks with Prime Minister Churchill.

Mr. Roosevelt said later information on the long range bombing of the Ploesti oil refineries in Rumania "leads us to believe that the damage to the refineries was greater than we had anticipated and that a large number of them have been put out of commission."

"This attack," he said in reply to a congratulatory message from the king, "seems to have been well worthwhile."

King Lauds Achievement

King George described the bombing of the important Nazi fuel source, carried out by the United States Ninth Air force, as a "memorable and inspiring achievement."

Byrnes, warning that there is "nothing to justify the hope of unconditional surrender by the Axis powers in the near future," said he had been authorized by the President to say "that in his judgment as of today the major battles lie ahead of us, not behind us."

Salting his talk with references to the "devastating" and "magnificent" bombing operations of the American and British air forces, Byrnes declared that in the land fighting in Africa and Sicily "we have met and defeated less than 7 per cent of the combat divisions which the enemy has in the European area."

Revenue Collector Is Lions Club Speaker

Federal machinery for collecting about 100 different kinds of tax levies is set up and well oiled in Lubbock, L. B. Barkley, deputy collector of internal revenue, said in a talk today before Lubbock Lions at the Hilton hotel.

The tax office has been moved to a suite of five offices, second floor of Lubbock National building. Barkley has been with the department here 10 years. There now are 10 persons in the office, and the service has been expanded to include the same measure for the public that is given in the Ft. Worth district office, he said. A school of instruction to begin tomorrow, at Texas Technological college, will be attended by Dallas field men and by instructors from Washington, and collectors from 19 West Texas counties.

Barkley answered a number of questions today, explaining the income tax is the same revenue law as the 1942 law, with same rates, but collecting machinery has been changed as a means of getting income taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis, as Congress directed.

The local office, Barkley said, is anxious to be of assistance, information, and cooperation with everyone, without cost or obligation.

Rites Arranged For Aged Native Texan

DALLAS, Aug. 17. (U.P.)—Funeral arrangements were made today for John Rawson, 92, who had been believed to be the oldest native Texan living in the state.

He died yesterday at Dallas, where he had lived for the last 31 years.

Rawson was born in Harrison county in 1851. When the Texas Centennial opened in 1936, he began the old folks program and was the oldest native Texans to visit the fair.

Stock Market

GAINS ARE DISTRIBUTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP) — Doubters were plentiful in today's stock market but sufficient bids appeared to keep selected rails and industrials in the plus column.

Peace psychology was accentuated by the conquest of Sicily which, however, hardly was a surprise to Wall street, and buying generally still centered on securities of companies with hopeful post-war prospects. Official warnings, though, that all-out continental victory was far from being achieved, served to restrain broadening of commitments in most cases.

The list was irregularly upward at the opening and near-closing gains of fractions to a point — there were a few wider jumps — were distributed. One 50,000-share special offerings of General Foods and sizable blocks of low-quoted utilities helped keep volume at around 500,000 shares.

Well in front most of the time were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Union Pacific, Standard Oil (N.J.), Pepsi-Cola, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse, Dow Chemical, Dupont and U. S. Gypsum. Rising steam was lacking for Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, North American, Kennecott and Union Carbide.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP) — Grains advanced today under the leadership of rye, which was up more than a cent on covering by previous short sellers who found the market lacking in offerings. It appeared that liquidation of this grain had at least temporarily come to a halt.

With traders watching the war news intently, activity was on a reduced scale. Oats displayed strength in a quiet trade, moving up about a cent at times, while wheat scored fractional gains. Trade reports said the Commodity Credit corporation obtained about 1,600,000 bushels of wheat last week at markets outside Chicago.

At the close wheat was ¼-⅛ higher, September $1.43⅜, oats were up ⅝-1¼, September 68½, and rye was ahead 1⅜-1¾, September 96¾-⅞.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP) — Restricted dealings and narrow fluctuations dominated the cotton market today. Routine trade price fixing balanced hedge offerings and local selling.

Outside buying was curtailed by the anti-inflationary sentiment generated by the announcement of Director Byrnes that a substantial reduction would be made in the cost of living.

Sellers were equally cautious pending the extent of hedge selling when the new crop moves in greater volume.

Futures closed (old contracts) 10 to 20 cents a bale higher.

sions, by showing additional need.

He said further the public welfare department had assured Marley it would catch up with its reinvestigation of pensioners needs by Sept. 1, thereby obviating another possibility for withdrawal of federal assistance. The Federal Social Security board has estimated, based on the law of averages, that 9,000 enrollees would be removed when reinvestigations are completed.

Conferring with the governor and Marley were John Winters, executive director of the Public Welfare department, Garth Daniel, executive assistant, and Hubert Johnson of Waco, a member of the board of public welfare.

The governor declared there was no cause for alarm and it appeared that the difficulty could be solved promptly.

Church Session Reviews Work

Work and progress of the Seventh-Day Adventist church throughout the world was being reviewed in a biennial Texico conference of the church being conducted at the Central Baptist church, 1311 Eighteenth street, this week. Approximately 100 delegates from eastern New Mexico and West Texas are attending.

In the opening session of the conference last night, Elder A. W. Peterson, of Washington, D. C., young people's secretary of the general conference, declared the church of the living God had been brought face to face with the most supreme test and challenge of its history in the great conflict of today.

"Means and facilities are crying needs for the prosecution of the gospel," the speaker said, "but the life of God, which is in his word, must master the lives of men and women in this tremendous hour before the gospel can be finished in all the world.

Contributions Reported

During the first seven months of 1943, the 1,600 members of the conference paid in more than $47,000 in tithe, more than $10,000 in Sabbath school offerings, and a total mission offering of more than $21,000, the secretary, O. J. Bell, revealed in his report. Duringing the last six months of 1942 and the first six months of 1943, these same members gave out over 420,000 pieces of literature; gave 3,287 treatments to the sick; helped 9,563 persons; gave 7,862 articles of clothing; put in 20,204 hours in Christian help work and gave away 5,160 bouquets.

Elder L. H. Christian, also of Washington, D. C., vice president of the general conference and former vice president of the European division ,is to report on conditions observed in recent tours of Europe as one of the highlights of the conference.

Business sessions of the conference are scheduled each morning and afternoon with public services at 8:30 p. m.

R. M. Farrar Dies In Houston Hospital

HOUSTON, Aug. 17 (U.P.) — R. M. Farrar, banker and lumberman, died today in a Houston hospital.

Farrar, 72, was the victim of a heart ailment.

At the time of his death he was president of the Union National bank of Houston and owner of the Farrar Lumber Co. His business career covered more than half a century as a banker and lumberman, and included service as president of the chamber of commerce, service on port boards and as a director of the Houston branch of the Federal Reserve bank.

Services will be conducted tomorrow morning at the family residence.

men," and therefore he was making it public to avoid further speculation regarding the contents.

Departments Represented

The subcommittee, headed by E. W. Gaumnitz, formerly with the Board of Economic warfare, included one representative each of the Interior department, State department, Lend-Lease administration and War and Agricultural departments.

The report said that United Nations food supplies are inadequate to meet present essential war needs and will continue inadequate for the duration and for several years thereafter unless both domestic and foreign food development programs are pushed with all possible speed and vigor.

The report outlined a food program which the subcommittee said would provide an additional 40,000,000 persons with adequate diets in 1944 and 1945. The suggested program included: More long-staple and less short-staple cotton, less tobacco, more potatoes, dry beans, peas and oil seed crops; maintenance of sugar cane production at 1942 levels but sharp curtailment of sugar beet production; more vegetables and milk, but fewer meat animals and poultry.

No new attack on Berlin was reported, a lay-off from harassing raiders sent against the German capital three of the previous four nights. A Stockholm dispatch said advices from Switzerland reported most Nazi government departments had moved from Berlin, leaving behind only small staffs to brave future bombings.

London had an eventless air alert at midnight. A raider made a direct hit on a bungalow in a town along the Thames estuary, killing one man. Other planes crossed the southeast coast to drop a few bombs in three towns but caused little damage and no casualties.

Two Thousand Pairs Of Shoes Destroyed

HOUSTON, Aug. 17 (U.P.)—An estimated 2,000 pairs of shoes, most of which officials said could not be replaced, burned or were damaged today in a fire which destroyed the stock room of Clark's juvenile store.

The cause of the fire had not been determined.

Amphibian jeep trailers, designed to carry a quarter-ton load on both land and sea, are now in mass output.

News Brief

Solon Lea, police recorder, and Mrs. Lea, of 2910 Twentieth street, have returned from a two-weeks vacation spent in Abilene with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lea, and at Haskell, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Leggett. Walter Whorton, patrolman of 2010 Twenty-eighth street, also was back at his duties after vacation, police said this morning.

Firemen said they ran at 10:40 o'clock this morning to Nineteenth street and Avenue A, to the F. K. Mitchell residence where Josephine Richardson, who lives there, reported a trash basket had set fire to a window curtain. Damage was slight.

The Master's degree will be conferred at 5 o'clock Wednesday night upon three candidates, it was announced this morning by Burl Ham, worshipful master, and Hugh J. McClellan, secretary, of Yellowhouse Lodge 841, AF&AM. An annual school of instruction and examination for certificates of proficiency in work as adopted by the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas will be conducted Friday and Saturday, with H. Earl Jones, member of Yellowhouse lodge but a resident of Amarillo, as examiner.

Pfc. Coolidge M. Graves, 19, of the USMCR at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., is visiting a few days with his mother, Mrs. Mary H. Graves of 1620 Sixth street. He is a graduate of the motor transport school of the Marine corps and now is in the infantry. He was one of the landing parties personnel that will be seen in the newly shot motion picture, "Guadalcanal Diary," scenes of which were taken at Oceanside. He weighs about 12 pounds less than when he left for service nine months ago. He was graduated in 1942 from Lubbock Senior High school. A brother, Martin Graves, lives at 2316 Sixth street.

Cafe Is Burglarized Here Monday Night

"Skylight" burglars Monday night struck for the second consecutive night in Lubbock.

Aubrey Fawver, assistant chief of police, and Lewis Kittrell, sergeant of the police traffic department, said Silver Grill cafe, at 1111 Avenue J, was broken and entered and that meats, cigarets, money, cereals and "all the butcher knives" in the place were taken.

One piece of meat valued at $6 was included in the loot.

Fawver and Kittrell said the burglars climbed to the roof of the cafe by stepping on a gas meter and catching the rungs of a ladder built against the alley wall of the cafe. They lifted out a section of the skylight and let themselves down onto the mezzanine dining space, tearing a section of an air conditionner loose as they did so.

They ransasked the cafe, not disturbing money in a juke box and a cigaret vendor, though blinds were down, shielding activities from view from the street.

Money taken from the place amounted to $5.65, police were informed.

A candy company was entered through a skylight Sunday night, but nothing was reported taken.

U. S. Planes Forced Down In Switzerland

ZURICH, Aug. 17 (U.P.) — Two American heavy bombers made forced landings in Switzerland today and their crews, totaling 20 men, were interned.

One bomber came down at a Zurich airport at 12:40 p. m. local time. It was damaged slightly. The other landed in the Bern area.

Early reports said the first bomber was British, but later advices identified them both as American.

Yanks Sweep Into Messina

"long tom" artillery had shelled the enemy on the Italian mainland, said dispatches from the front.

The American Third division in which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower once commanded a regiment, reached the outskirts of the city about 8 p. m., yesterday, then stormed into the city this morning. This was the division which was first into Palermo.

British In Commando Landing

Meanwhile a vanguard of the British Eighth army, forced to deal with greater demolitions and to set back a strong enemy counter-attack, had leap-frogged to a point eight miles south of Messina by staging a commando landing.

The main force, an Allied headquarters communique said, was at Santa Teresa di Riva, approximately 20 miles south of Messina.

(The German radio, in a broadcast recorded in London, already had conceded the fall of Sicily.

Nazis, Italians Evacuated

(It said German and Italian troops had been evacuated from Sicily with all their equipment "to the last machinegun" after destruction of all military installations and harbor works at Messina.

("Not only all wounded but also several thousands of British, American and Canadian prisoners of war were brought to the mainland," it said. Maj. Gen. Hube was said to have been the German general in Sicily).

The lightning advance of the Americans, 14 miles from Messina yesterday, too was facilitated by a sea-borne landing. This latest landing of amphibious troops by the U. S. Navy, the fourth such attack in the last 10 days, was near Milazzo and was carried out yesterday morning without great difficulty.

Italian Area Blockaded

Meanwhile, a naval communique announced that strong Allied naval forces were blockading the foot of the Italian peninsula from the Gulf of Policastro, 150 miles up the east coast and half way to Naples, to Cape Rizzuto on the heel of the boot.

Scalea on the south side of the Gulf of Policastro was heavily shelled Saturday night, with 1,000 shells thrown into the port in the space of 20 minutes.

Yesterday morning warships sank an armored lighter and two escort craft off Cape Bonifati, slightly to the south, and Vibo Valentia Marina, still further south, again was bombarded.

Sheriff Is Speaker At Ship's Launching

HOUSTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—"The jobs of sheriffs and of the ships you workers are building have a lot in common," Sheriff Neal Polk of Harris county told workers and members of the Sheriff's association of Texas at the launching of the U.S.S. Russell Franklin Chambers today.

"We sheriffs wipe out hijackers and these destroyer escorts wipe out the hijackers of the sea—Axis subs," he said in the principal address at the Brown Shipbuilding company yards.

The Chambers is named for a young ensign who died in an airplane crash during an engagement with the enemy over Jolo harbor, P. I., in December, 1941. His widow came from LaHabra, Calif., to sponsor the vessel.

"We Texans have always had a way of dealing justice to Hitler's kind when bandits and murderers are on the loose—and these D-E's can track 'em down and bring 'em back in the way and for the same reason—to keep peace for the world," said sheriff Polk.

Surprise Landing Threatens Rabaul—

Jap Holdings Doomed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Aug. 17. (AP) — Japan's holdings throughout the central Solomons are doomed and the enemy bases still barring the way to his fortress of Rabaul are gravely menaced as the consequence of a surprise invasion of Vella Lavella island.

United States forces in considerable strength siezed it Sunday in a move so unforeseen by the enemy that the invaders accomplished the hitherto unheard of feat of capturing 350 Japanese alive, and unarmed. Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed the new move in today's communique.

(In a delayed dispatch from Leif Erickson, Associated Press war correspondent, who went ashore from a landing barge with the troops, first disclosure was made that waves of Japanese planes tried to break up the invaders after the first boats had been unloaded. He said the dive-bombers, escorted by Zeros, failed to hit a single boat, but did succeed in strafing some of the boats winding up the landing operations.

34 Jap Planes Downed

(Taken on in furious dogfights, 34 of the enemy planes were shot down at a cost of only two of ours.)

The Japanese obviously believed that the Americans, now wiping out bitter-end enemy resistance on New Georgia above the captured Munda airfield, would hold to island - by - island strategy and strike next across the Kula gulf at the Vila air base.

Instead, the Americans bypassed Kilombangara island, on which Vila is situated, and overwhelmed Vella Lavella, 45 miles northwest of New Georgia. Seizure of this northernmost island of the New Georgia group seemed to seal the fate of all other intervening islands—Gonongga, Gizo, Wanawana and Arundel as well as Kolombangara.

"This places our forces north of enemy positions at Vila on Kolombangara island and renders its continuous supply problematical," today's communique pointedly stated.

Plumbing Discussed At Optimist Club

Belief that some infantile paralysis cases will be traced back to unsanitary plumbing systems or lack of plumbing systems was expressed by R. K. Landreth of Lubbock, president of the National Association of Master Plumbers, in an address at the Lubbock Optimist club luncheon in Lubbock hotel today.

"We in the plumbing business feel that the new polio or infantile paralysis epidemic can and will be traced back and found that some of the cases were caused by unsanitary conditions of plumbing systems, or lack of plumbing facilities and the lack of hot water to keep things clean and in a sanitary condition," he said.

Before making that statement, Before making that statement, he ing plumbing materials, stating that, "the situation is really serious, insofar as the consuming public is concerned, as far as plumbing materials are concerned." He stated it was his understanding "that there are more than 300 homes in Lubbock, alone, that are without hot water heaters, most of them having played out during the past two years."

Landreths discussed his recent trip to Toronto, Can., where he represented the National Association of Master Plumbers at the annual convention of the Canadian Association of Master Plumbing and Heating Contractors and also a visit to Washington. He discussed present conditions in Washington.

The speaker was presented by J. W. Chapman, program chairman for the day. O. W. McGuire, president, presided.

Dallas Reports Eight New Cases Of Polio

DALLAS, Aug. 17 (U.P.) — Dallas' temporary lull in the infantile paralysis epidemic was broken today with the addition of eight new polio cases.

Two of the new cases originated in Dallas.

City Health Officer Dr. J. M. Dowis explained that history of epidemics often showed temporary letups followed by continuance of cases and warned that the epidemic may continue into September.

the past 20 days. Most of this time, the mercury has been hovering near the 100-degree mark and above.

South Plains farmers saw some relief for their heat-withered crops and scanned murky skies this morning for the much-needed moisture which will assure another bumper crop should it fall within the next few days.

AREA'S COOL WEATHER SPREADS HOPE FOR RELIEF

(By The Associated Press)

Heat-stricken Texas, sweltered by 21 days of 100-plus temperatures, today hoped for general relief as cooling breezes moved across the Panhandle and South Plains, sending the thermometer down to an early-morning minimum of 59 at Pampa and 64 at Lubbock.

The Pampa cool spell was accompanied by .14 inches of rain.

While the Panhandle yesterday experienced its first "cool" spell of the season—a high of only 89 degrees was recorded at Amarillo—most of the state scorched in a heat wave that gave Fort Worth and Dallas their hotest weather in 7 years.

Today's forecast of "not quite so warm in north portion of East Texas" brought little comfort to Fort Worth, which reported a maximum of 110 degrees yesterday, nor to Dallas, with its maximum of 107.2.

Little temperature change was today's forecast for West Texas and for the south portion of East Texas.

Two deaths were attributed to the heat, one at Dallas and one at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls.

Yesterday was the twentieth day this year the temperature has reached 100 degrees or above at Dallas.

Parents Of Russell Gill Receive Card

Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Gill, sr., of 2425 Twenty-second street, today received official word from their 21-year old son, Russell, jr., who is a prisoner of the Japanese. Young Gill, a private in the U. S. Army Air Forces, was reported missing in action on May 21, 1942; a prisoner of war in mid-March, 1943.

According to the routine card provided for the purpose of permitting prisoners to contact their families, the young man's health is fair; he is uninjured, but is undergoing some sort of medical treatment. His father reasons the treatment is probably for malaria.

At the bottom of the card, the young man, who entered the service on May 14, 1941, had included a poignant message. It read: "Hope you all enjoyed a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Hope to see you soon. Best regards to all my friends."

Young Gill, whose father was overseas in World War I with the U. S. Marines and is now a city salesman for Hestand - Kimball Grocery company, apparently fell into Jap hands at the fall of Bataan.

Shipping Of Oil From West Texas Discussed

AUSTIN, Aug. 17. (U.P.)—Representatives of pipe line companies were expected to tell the Texas Railroad commission today at its regular monthly proration hearing here how they expect to move additional oil from West Texas to the Gulf coast during September.

The Petroleum Administration for War which directed production of 92,000 barrels a day more oil in Texas, specified that 72,000 a day of the increase be from sour crude fields which are in West Texas.

Most of the increase — about 56,000 a day — can be transported by Humble's pipe line from Reagan county connections to Ingleside near Corpus Christi. Other companies operating pipe lines into the area are Atlantic, Shell, Texas-New Mexico, Gulf and Magnolia, but Beautford Jester said tank cars may be required to move the oil.

The hearing was to receive formal notification that the entire state is expected to furnish 1,000,000 barrels of petroleum liquids daily during September as compared with 1,817,000 in August.

State Of Siege Said Ordered In Norway

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 17 (AP) — Thousands of members of the Norwegian police were being inducted into the armed forces today under a decree signed by Premier Vidkun Quisling, apparently acting under direct orders from German occupational authorities haunted by fears of an Allied invasion.

Members of Quisling's personal bodyguard, and his storm troopers were also ordered militarized under the decree.

(A London broadcast recorded by CBS and a Swedish radio announcement heard by Reuters said a state of seige had been proclaimed throughout Norway. CBS also quoted the Berlin radio as saying that the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter had reported that German troops in Norway were being heavily reinforced).

Quisling's decree forcibly mobilizing the Norwegian police into the army also placed Norway under virtual martial law. His action followed the execution of the Norwegian civil police chief, Gunnar Eiligsen, on charges of disobedience to German authorities.

The word "dollar" is a molified form of "thaler."

Reaction In Italy Is Being Watched

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

After Messina—what?

The terrible devastation wrought by British Royal Air Force bombers during the past few nights in ancient Milan, richest industrial city of Italy and next to Rome the largest metropolis of the country, may well presage its destruction.

That statement may come as a personal shock to a lot of Americans who, like the writer, know Milan well and have loved the old place, especially the fine cathedral. Still, was is a shocking business at best.

War Industries Center

Milan not only is the center of great war industries, but it lies north of the River Po, which runs across northern Italy from west to east and provides the strategic line of fortifications which the Germans have manned as a defense against Allied advance from the south. Thus this city, and other unhappy places like neighboring Turin, will remain in German-held territory and be subject to continual bombardment even if the rest of Italy surenders.

Dispatches from Switzerland say that thousands of Milan's inhabitants have been parading the ruined streets and demanding peace. If they were well south of the Po, such demonstrations might get them what they ask, provided other peace-minded cities joined in.

Whether the rest of Italy must suffer a similar fate depends on old Marshal Badoglio's government, which thus far has chosen to play the boche game.

Must Produce Proof

Thus far the only thing Badgolio has done to try to save his country has been his unsupported declaration that Rome is an "open city," a statment which his government has the grace to admit can't be expected to save the eternal city unless it's substantiated by proof. Pending production of such proof, the capital not only is the strategic railway center of all Italy, but it is filled with war industries, not to mention the government and military headquarters.

There are two chances, so it seems to me, that the portion of Italy south of the Po may shortly find surcease from the punishment of war.

One is that the peace demonstrations of the people may swell into such proportions that the government will be compelled to tell the Germans to go hang.

The other is the possibility that, now the Germans have withdrawn as many of their troops and as much of their equipment as they can from Sicily, Hitler may release Badoglio from further Nazi bondage and let him save what he can by surrender.

County's Schools Needing Teachers

Rural schools of the county are at the beginning of new 1943-44 terms facing an acute shortage of experienced, degree-holding teachers, according to report Monday by Roy Boyd, county school superintendent. The shortage is most acute, he added, among science, mathematics and physical education-coach teachers.

The Idalou schools opened a week ago, with enrollment at an all-time high and with a complete corps of teachers.

Most of the other institutions have not completed their teaching assignments, however, Boyd said.

Opening Dates Of Others

Other schools and their opening dates:

New Deal, Aug. 23; Roosevelt, Aug. 26; Frenship, Cooper and Estacado, Aug. 30; Shallowater, Posey, Slaton and Lubbock, Sept. 6.

Two school districts have new superintendents: Marvin Williams assuming that post at Roosevelt, replacing E. W. Harper, who has resigned to farm near Muleshoe; and S. G. Anthony at Cooper, replacing B. M. Hays, who is teaching physics to pre-flight students at Texas Technological college.

Another matter of departure from the old days: Each school in the county has teachers living in Lubbock, with exception of New Deal. They, because of overcrowded living facilities, will be required to live here and commute to and from their jobs.

Happy Rendezvous In Streets Of Randazzo

RANDAZZO, Sicily, Aug. 13. (Delayed) (AP) — American and British troops held a tired, happy rendezvous today in the ruined, booby-trapped streets of Randozzo and their occupation of this mountain anchor of the main Nazi defense line after a four-day siege foretold the imminent capture and collapse of enemy resistance in Sicily.

With the enemy on the run, American patrols took the town without firing a shot, less than an hour after the last German demolition engineer fled.

Three American medical soldiers made quick friends. A crowd of women and children gathered around Pvt. Daniel Wall, Los Angeles, Sgt. Roy Colwell, Zavalla, Tex., and Corp Arcadio G. Amaro, New Braunfels, Tex., as soon as they saw the Red Cross bands.

"We've been patching up their scratches," said Wall.

Rites Set Saturday For G. C. Williams

Funeral services for Sgt. George Cleveland Williams, 40, son of Mrs. Luther G. H. Williams of 2210-B Seventeenth street, are to be conducted at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Paul's Episcopal church, with Rev. John A. Winslow, pastor, officiating.

Sgt. Williams died Monday morning at Arcadia, Calif., where he was stationed as an instructor in the ordnance training division. He had been injured last Tuesday in an accident, details of which have not been received here.

His late father was rector several years of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Lubbock.

Before volunteering for duty with the armed services, Williams was a free-lance writer and lived with his mother here. Prior to that he was nine years a prominent feature writer for the Associated Press and was stationed in the northwest.

He recently was married to Mrs. Alice Ann Aoust of Berkeley, Calif. He has a 14-year-old son, Cleveland Deane Williams of San Francisco, born of prior marriage.

He also is survived by a brother, First Sgt. Luther Williams who is in the air corps overseas, and three sisters, Mrs. Jack M. Randal, of 2207 Seventeenth street, Miss Margaret Williams of Tucson, Ariz., who is visiting here, and Mrs. Eugene Wilson of Corpus Christi, who had left Lubbock and was en route aboard train to the west coast to visit her husband, a lieutenant in the Navy, when her brother died.

The body will leave California by train Wednesday. Burial will be in the family lot in Lubbock cemetery, under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

One Is Beloved

always been her hero. He was the big brother who took her skating and coasting and picnicking when she was a child. He was the wise and strong person who stood between her and everything strange when their father died. He fills her whole world. But when he marries—" She knitted her brow thoughtfully. She felt for the younger girl the same devotion that Forest did. And Forest had hinted lately. . . .

Allen had hinted lately, too, old Maggie thought. If only Miss Sue would listen, could see what he was driving at!

"Getting on, Sis! Your old brother's approaching senility. Thirty-one next time. Better be feathering your nest against the day he brings a wife home."

"I'll worry about that unlikely event when it comes," she retorted gaily. "No, honestly, Allen, I used to cry myself sick a few years ago at the thought of your being married. I'm a jealous little pig, I suppose. It was when we first took this apartment and I was too young to go to parties, or to know much about your friends. Every time you'd be out for dinner, or for the evening, I'd picture you with some girl. . . ." She shuddered reminiscently. "I'd torment myself with a scene we'd go through at breakfast the next morning: you telling me you planned to bring a strange girl here as your wife, I trying to keep my chin up and take the news with a smile."

Donor Of Books Had Variety Of Tastes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — Soldiers and sailors who patronize the library at service men's club No. 1 were willing to admit today that the person who donated the latest box of books had a wide range of interests.

The first volume they pulled out of the box was "The Campfire Girls Go Motoring." This was followed by:

"Baldness, Its Causes, Its Treatment and Its Prevention."

"Up to Date Waitress of 1922."

"Rhymes for Kindly Children."

"The Shakespeare Birthday Book."

"An Analysis of the Factors in the Development of Fascinating Womanhood."

Jack Teagarden To Play Here Tonight

A one-night appearance is to be made in Cotton club on Slaton highway tonight by Jack Teagarden and orchestra. Popularly known as "king of the blues trombone," and former soloist with the Paul Whiteman and Ben Pollack orchestras, Teagarden claims he has played more college and university engagements than any other bandleader.

That's a distinction that's eagerly sought by up and coming bands, for the orchestra which is tops with the collegiate crowd is usually tops everywhere before long, and it looks like it's working out that way with Teagarden. Although he records exclusively for Decca, Columbia is re-issuing his record on the Okeh label, which means that two out of the three major record companies are actively pushing his band; his transcriptions are on over three hundred radio stations; he's in Bing Crosby's "Birth of the Blues" picture for Paramount, and also has a Universal short making the rounds. And his band is cracking records everywhere it plays.

Water, cooled from 39.5 to 32 degrees Fahrenheit, expands one-eleventh of its volume.
