Filibuster Truce Called; Dixie Wins First Round

FILIBUSTER AMMUNITION—Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark) center, holds material he used during his turn on the floor of the Senate as southerners resumed the filibuster against civil rights legislation. With him are Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga), left, leader of the southern group, and Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla), who followed McClellan on the floor. (AP Wirephoto)

WASHINGTON (AP)— The death of Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) brought a one-day truce today in the bitter Senate battle over civil rights.

Colleagues turned to eulogies of the Oregon senator, and planned to recess afterwards until 9:30 a.m. (Est) Thursday in respect to Neuberger's memory.

On developments in the civil rights battle to date, Southerners could claim a first-round victory while looking forward to another Thursday in the first major vote.

Yet the outlook still was for eventual passage of a voting rights bill stronger than the Southerners want although not going as far as ardent civil rights backers would like to go.

The Dixie bloc won the initial round with a decision of the leadership Tuesday to call off around-the-clock sessions which had tied the Senate in knots through six all-night meetings.

Thursday's test will come with a vote on a petition, filed by 23 Democrats and 8 Republicans who call themselves liberals, to put a limit on debate. There appears to be no chance that this will get the two-thirds support required to invoke cloture—the Senate's name for a restriction on debate.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas proposed that this vote come at 2 p.m. EST Thursday.

Johnson reiterated, in a talk with reporters, his view that the filing of the cloture petition "is very premature—and it will not get the job done—it will only prolong debate."

Similarly, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill) has taken a stand that cloture effort now is premature. He and Johnson both said they would vote against it.

The leaders take the view that a clearer understanding must be developed as to what type of bill is to be passed before a successful effort can be made to shut off the 18 Southern filibusterers.

Using a three-team system, the Southerners have demonstrated that they can not be halted by round-the-clock sessions.

Johnson made it clear he believes an adverse vote on cloture would merely encourage the Southerners, declaring the result "will prolong debate instead of curtailing it."

The Texan raised the possibility that the liberals would not even get 50 per cent of the votes for their move.

Dirksen and other Republicans who talked with Vice President Richard M. Nixon on the Senate floor Tuesday night, said afterwards he had counted himself out of any effort now to round up the needed votes for cloture.

However, it seemed certain that Johnson and Dirksen did expect to get the necessary two-thirds for cloture at some future time.

Neither was willing to discuss publicly the strategy to be followed in stripping down the legislation to the point where this vote could be mustered.

Some senators believe the vehicle for a successful cloture vote eventually will be the House civil rights bill when it arrives in the Senate, probably next week. That branch opens its debate on the subject Thursday.

The House bill is expected to be less far-reaching than the proposals now before the Senate.

The Senate plans to continue its civil rights debate today.

There was a possibility of a vote on one of the strongest of the civil rights measures, a proposal to empower the attorney general to bring injunctions to enforce all types of rights.

This is the old "Part III" provision which the Senate stripped out of the 1957 civil rights bill.

Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) called up this proposal Tuesday to assure that it would get one of the first Senate voting tests even though he said he was opposed to it. His action brought protests from the more ardent civil rights proponents, not because they oppose the proposal but because Case offered it in such a way that any senator could cut off debate by making a motion to table it.

The around-the-clock sessions began at noon Feb. 29 and continued for 157 hours with the only significant interruption occurring over Sunday. This was by far the longest such talkfest in the Senate's history.

High Flights Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has decided against having U. S. planes make high-level flights to Berlin in defiance of the Soviet Union's objections, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter disclosed today.

Herter said the United States, Britain and France are fully agreed they have a right to make flights above 10,000 feet, which Russia insists is an agreed ceiling.

But, he said, the U. S. government has now decided there is no technical necessity for such flights and therefore the President has ruled against them.

Herter made this disclosure when asked at a news conference what he thought about a statement by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev recently that the great powers should do nothing now that might hurt prospects for the May summit conference in Paris.

Later, Herter said the high level flight decision had nothing to do with the summit.

He also denied that a firm decision ever had been made to resume flights above 10,000 feet, although 10 days ago high officials here said the United States, Britain and France had agreed on such a move.

Says Ill-Fated Plane Lacked Overfill Valve

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

DALLAS (AP)—A Lockheed engineer testified today that the Braniff Electra plane which crashed near Buffalo, Tex., Sept. 29 had no overfill valve on its fuel tank.

E. A. Boniface, power plant staff engineer for Lockheed, said that the valve, an optional item, was designed to prevent overfilling of tanks so that excess pressures would not be built up.

He was one of the first witnesses to testify in a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing probing the airline crash which claimed 34 lives.

Most of the morning session was devoted to the introduction of reports from an earlier hearing held by the CAB at Buffalo, and reports from engineers who attempted to determine the cause of the crash by partially reassembling the debris from the wreckage.

T. J. Collins, senior specialist, Aircraft Systems, engineering division of the Bureau of Safety in Washington, said that the destruction of the plane was so near complete that little useful information could be obtained.

K. C. Sonner, also of the safety bureau in Washington, presented reports on the aircraft records and inspections. He said that the only inspection had been the one before the plane was put into service by Braniff and the turbojet aircraft which had flown about 122 hours in scheduled and training flights was not due for a regular inspection until it had reached 205 hours.

Robert W. Chrisp, chief of the hearing and report section for the CAB, presided at today's investigation held at a downtown Dallas hotel.

The more than 100 persons attending the hearing included CAB officials, airline aircraft manufacturers, and airline pilots' representatives. Also in the audience were attorneys representing the families of the victims of the air crash.

A team of eight CAB experts, using remnants of the big turboprop Electra, have partially reassembled the giant airliner behind the locked doors of a Dallas warehouse. Their findings are expected to be disclosed this week.

The $2,300,000 airliner, which had been plagued with mechanical difficulties during the slightly more than one week Braniff had it in service, exploded at a high altitude.

Two theories seemed to be favored. One is that an inboard engine "froze," exploded and ripped off a wing. The other is that the engine hurled a propeller blade into the pressurized cabin, causing it to explode.

At the earlier hearing, a theory that a bomb could have been placed aboard the plane was discounted.

A veteran Braniff engineer, Jackson Parker, testified at the Buffalo probe that the plane was troubled with an oil leak, a defective fuel pump, an inoperative propeller valve and a faulty generator on the day of the crash.

A few minutes before the crash, a radio message was received from the pilot, saying the generator was performing satisfactorily but that solonids controlling the pitch of the right inboard propeller was out.

Decline Forecast For Beef Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today that imports of beef—a subject of sharp complaint from livestock producers—may decline somewhat this year from last year's high levels.

Much beef being imported is of the lower grades used in making processed meats, such as sausages, frankfurters and the like. Supplies of this type of beef have been relatively short in this country because farmers have been holding back lower grade animals—mostly cows—for herd expansion purposes.

The forecast of a decline in imports was made at a time when the U.S. Tariff Commission is preparing for hearings on a livestock producer complaint against imports. Domestic producers want the commission to raise import duties or set up quotas to restrict imports.

The department said lower average domestic prices for processing beef will tend to reduce imports.

"As prices decline, the relatively fixed costs of tariffs, freight and marketing costs reduce the competitive advantage of foreign producers," the department said.

The department estimated meat production this year will be about 27,800,000,000 pounds or slightly more than last year.

But with a growing population, per capita consumption may be about a pound below last year's rate of 159.6 pounds, the department said.

The agency said retail beef prices will probably average close to 1959 levels. Pork prices, now below a year earlier, will probably rise above 1959 levels this spring and for the year will average somewhat higher than last year.

School Board Gets Reports

Snyder School Trustees last night heard a brief report on the Lamar Junior High building project and a preliminary study of school zone boundaries.

Supt. T. E. McCollum and Doug Flynn, school business manager, said plans were nearing completion for requesting bids to finish the Lamar project. A contract may be let in a week or 10 days, the architects have indicated.

C. D. Henry, director of curriculum presented a preliminary report on school zone boundaries and bus routes. The board and administration plan to devote considerable time to study of some problems in the next few weeks, and some boundaries may be revised, it was indicated.

Cites Needs Of Israel

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Israel, still struggling for existence, faces the great needs of political and economic security, Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said today.

"Our independence is still in danger," he said. "We are still beleaguered; we still face vital problems in regard to immigrant absorption; our deserts still await redemption."

Only "a great spiritual dedication" can overcome the obstacles to developing a free and independent nation, he said in a speech at Brandeis University.

Ben-Gurion came to Brandeis to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree.

His visit to this country was protested in Washington by top diplomats from the Arab countries. Arab students in Boston colleges picketed his hotel Tuesday night.

Ben-Gurion, however, didn't mention the Arab situation as such in his speech. And he made no reference to any plans to visit President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Christian A. Herter while in this country.

Sen. Kennedy Sets Record

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential stock skyrocketed to new highs today as a result of his record-toppling performance in the New Hampshire primary.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, unopposed on the Republican ballot, also smashed the GOP record.

With all but one of the state's 300 precincts reported from Tuesday's primary, the Massachusetts senator had 42,909 votes in the Democratic preferential poll. This more than doubled the highest figure heretofore rolled up by any other Democratic presidential aspirant in the New Hampshire election.

Nixon's complete total reached 65,077. The previous high, 56,464, was established in 1956 by President Eisenhower.

The New Hampshire election was the first of 16 state presidential primaries.

Despite Nixon's record vote, Kennedy broke down the traditional 2-1 Republican margin of superiority in the state. The ratio in Tuesday's election was about 3-2.

Two significant results of the election were immediately apparent:

1. Nixon's spectacular showing should go a long way toward dispelling the last remnants of any Nixon-can't-win talk. The vice president did not come to New Hampshire to campaign personally. Top GOP leaders in the state carried the burden of his campaign.

2. Kennedy, already considered one of the leading Democratic presidential candidates, if not the front runner, moved closer to the center of the spotlight. His most enthusiastic supporters had not dared go above 38,000 in their forecasts of his poll in the "beauty contest."

Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, chairman of the Nixon-for-President Committee, had predicted that Nixon would exceed Eisenhower's previous all-time high. Many New Hampshire political observers doubted it.

Two Palaces Of Sukarno Are Strafed

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A jet fighter strafed two of President Sukarno's palaces and a fishing village today, wounding 19 persons.

Officials blamed a disgruntled Indonesian air force pilot, a second lieutenant whose father was arrested a few weeks ago for illegal possession of arms.

President Sukarno's Merdeka (Freedom) Palace in downtown Jakarta was the first target. The jet, identified by Radio Jakarta as a MIG17, dived low and sprayed the palace with machine-gun bullets. Three persons within the palace and a painter working outside were wounded, Radio Jakarta announced.

Sukarno and his five children, however, escaped injury. The children were in the palace as the bullets cut several holes in the roof and walls. Sukarno was presiding over a meeting of the Supreme Advisory Council in an adjacent building.

The lieutenant took off from Kemajoran airfield here. After firing on Merdeka Palace he headed his jet 35 miles south of Jakarta to Bogor, where he strafed the Bogor Palace.

Finally, he flew to the fishing village of Tjilintjint, 10 miles northeast of Jakarta, and sprayed bullets there. Fifteen persons were wounded.

Soviet-made MIGs make up part of Indonesia's fighter squadrons.

Daily News Launches Plans For Huge 'Futurama' Issue

Preparations were launched this week for a massive "Futurama" issue of the Snyder Daily News scheduled for release early in May.

The issue will be a salute to Snyder and Scurry county for tremendous advancements in the oil industry, business, housing and enthusing trend in agricultural development which has been taking hold.

It will note the 10th anniversary of Snyder's exciting new surge in economy through the major oil development of the late 40's.

The theme of the issue will point up Snyder's "Big Ten" years of progress—1950 to 1960— while attempting to interpret and project the bright future that lies ahead of us immediately.

"While it is not possible for us to estimate accurately how many pages will be in the issue," asserted Herb Feather, publisher, "early indications point to the possibility of 100 or more!"

Wacil McNair, editor, added: "We have promised editorial content to support more than 125 pages, and enthusiasm of everyone who has been advised of our plans seems to indicate that we have a gigantic task ahead of us."

To set up proper coordination and timing of the Futurama issue, the Daily News has arranged with Brice Worthington, former newspaper publisher from Sheldon, Iowa, to assist with the undertak-

Government Payroll Is Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A study of the budget for the 1961 fiscal year shows employment and payroll costs rising in civilian agencies of the government, while civilian employment in the Defense Department is decreasing.

The Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures said the overall trend is up. The committee, headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va), released the report today.

Budgeted personnel requests for executive branch agencies for the fiscal year which starts July 1, include average civilian employment of 2,365,359 and payroll costs of $12,800,000,000, the report said.

In 1959, the last year for which actual head-count figures are available, the total employment figure was 2,311,243 and the payroll was $12,600,000,000.

Fine Is Upheld For False Advertisements

AUSTIN (AP)—A $200 fine for two Amarillo men convicted of placing false advertisements in Amarillo papers was upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals today.

John R. Dowd and Joe Jones, owners of the Dowd-Jones Furniture Store, were convicted in the Potter County Court-at-Law following advertisements which they placed in the Amarillo Daily News and Amarillo Globe Times May 21, 1959.

A jury found that ads listing dryers and air conditioners at prices at cost or below were false. The court dismissed the appeal when the state showed that notice of appeal was not given.

Rescue Crew Moves Behind Fire In Mine

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—A rescue crew has worked its way behind the fire that has trapped 18 men four miles in a coal mine for more than 24 hours.

How they did it wasn't known, but an Island Creek Coal Co. spokesman said the fire was definitely under control and had been bypassed, perhaps by means of a tunnel parallel to the gas and fume-filled section of the mine.

"They (the crew) should be within 500 feet of where the trapped men are believed to have barricaded themselves," the spokesman said.

The word raised hopes again that the miners would be rescued alive.

"We're very hopeful," said N.T. Camicia, vice president of operations.

Outside the mine, eight miles southwest of here, near the Kentucky border, men manning the crews and marshaling materials outnumbered the crowd of relatives and others, thinned by the bitter weather.

New snow, up to four inches, was forecast for the area, and temperatures were in the teens. The snow started soon after daybreak, and mountain roads in the area were turned into slick slides, impeding travel.

State police sent a rush call to the Road Commission for cindering crews and plows.

"We assume that the trapped men have barricaded themselves off," said Robert M. Johnson, manager of Island Creek. The company's Holden 22 mine is eight miles from this southern West Virginia city.

Johnson said one of those trapped is William K. Donaldson, mine safety director, who could guide the men in survival tactics. "He's had experience with this sort of emergency," said Johnson.

The manager said flames had broken out on both sides of the slate fall. A team of 40 men battled in smoke and fumes to put out the blaze that ate into coal and slate and timber props. Streams of hot water and a mucky floor hampered their efforts.

Rescuers couldn't move on 2,000 feet further, where the imprisoned were believed to be, until the fires were practically out.

Officials theorized that the slate fall that triggered the 200-foot long blockade broke a trolley wire which ignited coal and timbers.

Black from burrowing through coal and dirt in a 14-inch ventilation passage, Willis Carter, 46, and Kyle Blair, 29, told how they crawled on their bellies for nearly three hours in a dramatic escape.

Carter, whose brother James is one of those trapped, said eight or 10 other workers also could have escaped.

"I tried to get them to follow me, but they wouldn't listen," said Carter, who is responsible for ventilation at the mine.

"He did it all," said Blair, praising his begrimed companion. "I knew he could get me out and he did."

Hales Re-Elected Boys Club Prexy

Announcement of the election of officers and board of directors for the Boys Club was made at a banquet here last night as Walter Hales was re-elected president of the Club for the coming year.

Other officers who have been elected are J. C. Massingill, vice president; Freddie Bullard, second vice president; Mrs. Bill Lee, secretary; and Joe Cargile, treasurer.

New directors include John Boren C. T. McLaughlin, Frank Weaver, Shelby Coker, Gene Dulaney, Tommy Jackson, Jerry Jackson, Charles Musslewhite, Dan Gibson, L. D. Logan, Nathan Benitez, Mrs. Bill Lee, Jr., and Norman Fulks. Boren McLaughlin, Weaver, and Coker were those re-elected to the directorship posts, while the remainder of those elected are serving for the first time.

In addition, new committee chairmen were announced, and are as follows: Finance, Dulaney; Personnel, Boren; Program, Bill Zimmerman; Property and Building, Massengill; Public Relations, Joe Williamson; Camp, E. G. Garrett; Nominating, Coker; and Evaluation, Herman Trigg.

The Annual Report as released specified several items of note. Concerning club attendance, the Boys Club had a record high of 639 members at the conclusion of registration for 1959. Attendance based on the door count totaled 29,289 boys who visited the club during the year. The daily average was 98.5 per day for 298 days.

In the field of donations, the Acacia Study Club donated to the Shop Fund $150.00 from a benefit bridge that they sponsored in the spring and $350.00 from a Style Show which was conducted in the fall. The Optimist Club, P-TA and the Kiwanis Club sponsored boys on the Yellowstone Trip. Also, many individuals donated funds or equipment which are included in the Financial Report and the Property Inventory.

One of the highlights of the year was the setting-up and placing in operation of the Woodworking Shop under the direction of Bill McLaughlin. Lumber for projects has been donated by several business firms in Snyder. Operating hours of the Shop are 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and 9 to 12 a.m. on Saturdays. The Shop was made available to the boys through donations from the Acacia Study Club.

The Club is in operation from 2:30 to 9:00 p.m. weekdays and from 9 to 12 a.m. Saturdays during school year. In the summer the hours are 9:00 to 5:00 p.m. daily. The Club is closed Sundays the year round.

Roundtable Sessions For Scouters Set

Monthly roundtable meetings for Boy Scout leaders will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the high school.

Cub leaders will discuss in full the Boy Scout Circus to be held April 30, and reservations for events will be made. Distribution of program quarterlies will be made to those who have not already received their copies.

The Commemorative Tribute to the national monument depicting the 50 years of Scouting in America will be discussed, and some of the basic training will be offered, according to Othal Ellis, Cub roundtable commissioners.

The Boy Scout roundtable will be spent mostly on the Scout Circus plans. The junior leaders conference to be held March 25-26 at Camp Ed Murphy will be fully planned, as well as the basic training course for scoutmasters to be held in connection while the junior leaders conference is in progress.

Also, film slides telling the story of the two summer camps probably will be shown.

A discussion of the circus by all scoutmasters will be led by George Stewart, circus director, of the First Christian Church Troop No. 109, will discuss the eight defense steps toward safe swimming which is part of the health and safety program for Boy Scout units. As the spring and summer seasons approach, the boys will swim, and it is the aim of the health and safety committee that all scouting units have a safe swimming season, scout leaders said.

Negro Sitdowns In Houston Expanded

HOUSTON (AP) — Negro sitdowns at segregated lunch counters spread to two more stores here Tuesday less than 12 hours after a Negro man told police four white youths attacked him.

Felton Turner, 27, told police he was tied to a tree by his feet after the youths beat him and scratched a series of K's on his chest and stomach. He was not seriously hurt.

A white man, Arthur Lynn Gardner, 21, of Beaumont, Tuesday was arrested at a drug store, the scene of one sitdown. Police said he carried a straight-edge razor. He was charged with carrying a prohibited weapon.

Shortly after Gardner's arrest a Negro minister appeared at the store (Walgreen's) with two unidentified white pastors.

The Rev. John D. Moore, Negro minister of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, said "We just came down so that the colored demonstrators and the white spectators could see us."

He said they had received a report there might be trouble at the store.

The drug store is 10 blocks west of three stores affected earlier by the sitdowns which started here Friday. All were peaceful.

Turner told police one of the white youths said they were hired to do a job because of the recent sitdowns staged by students from the all-Negro Texas Southern University. Turner was released from the hospital after treatment.

The FBI has entered the case but no arrests have been made.

Gardner told police he came to Houston from Beaumont to attend barber college. He said he heard about the sitdowns and went to the drug store to see one.

Asst. Police Chief George Seber said that Gardner told him the razor "came open a little in his pocket and pinched his hand. So he took it out and absently stropped it on his hand before putting it back in his pocket."

The manager of the drug store closed the lunch counter as 48 Negroes entered the store and took 18 seats at the counter. At 5 p.m. the Negroes left and one told a newsman, "We'll see you tomorrow."

About a dozen Negroes walked into a Woolworth store next to the drug store and took seats at the lunch counter.

There were no demonstrations at Waco, where Monday two sitdowns occurred at a drug store.

Lunch counters at the two supermarkets and a drug store affected earlier by the sitdowns were closed Tuesday.

Finch Jury Busy With Measurements

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "How long is an inch?"

The jury weighing the guilt or innocence of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, interrupted their deliberations Tuesday to ask that question.

A bailiff — summoned by the jury foreman — began to search for a ruler. But he was called back.

"Never mind," he was told. "We have one."

They didn't explain but one guess was that they wanted to measure something on a scale map of the area in which the Finch home is located.

Dr. Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, are charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder. Both crimes carry a possible death penalty.

The five men and seven women of the jury were given the case late Friday.

So far, they have spent only little more than 17 hours in the cheerless little jury room.

Soon after starting deliberations they asked to be read more than 400 pages of testimony—much of it dealing with the doctor's own story of what happened the night his wife, Barbara Jean, 36, was shot to death last July 18.

The state says she was murdered. Dr. Finch says a pistol discharged accidentally, fatally wounding her, as he tried to throw it away.

The reading was completed Tuesday and the jury spent more than three hours in the bare-walled room, seated in hard wooden chairs at a bare, end-to-end pair of tables.

TV Thrives As Actors On Strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Although the actors' strike has idled a vast portion of what Hollywood reverently calls The Industry the movies' stepchild, TV, is thriving.

Ironically, television caused the dispute which led the 14,000-member Screen Actors Guild to go on strike against the major movie studios.

An estimated 10,000 studio employes now are working on TV film series and on films by independent producers who already have come to terms with SAG. The guild has a separate contract with the studios covering production of films for television. Due to expire March 31, it has been extended for 60 days.

Before the actors' walkout Monday, TV films already were supplying more employment than were the eight so-called theatrical pictures on which production had to be halted, the SAG said. However, TV pay rates are lower than theatrical rates.

The key issue in the strike is the actors' demand for a share in the profits of post-1948 movies sold to TV. The major studios say this would be paying an actor twice for the same job. The actors' reply, in effect, is that studios also are getting paid twice when they sell films to TV.

Two efforts to end the strike were launched Tuesday.

Federal mediator Jules Medoff sought to bring both sides together at the bargaining table.

The guild huddled with a half dozen craft unions to determine if their demands for a share in TV residuals could be combined into a smaller package more acceptable to the producers.

4 Americans Are Victims Of Quake

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The number of known American dead in the Agadir earthquake rose to four today with the death of Norene Bauer, 16, of Placentia, Calif. The total death toll has been estimated as high as 12,000.

She was with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Bauer, on the top floor of the Bella Vista Apartments when the quake struck, demolishing the building.

Bauer and the girl were pulled alive from the wreckage, and the body of Mrs. Bauer was found March 2.

The father and daughter were flown to the U. S. Naval Hospital at Port Lyautey where the girl died, hospital authorities said. Death was caused by a cerebral blood clot. Bauer is an executive of Login International Corp., of San Francisco, which operated fruit-juice concentrate and fish meal plants in Agadir.

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—A Moroccan carpenter and his 10-year-old son owe their lives to a sturdy workbench that sheltered them when the earthquakes shattered Agadir.

The two were pulled from the wreckage of their home Tuesday after having been trapped eight days. They were wedged beneath the workbench that held the carpenter's lathe.

The boy directed the rescuers, yelling instructions from beneath the wreckage.

Moores Have A Busy Day

LUTON, England (AP) — The expecting Moores had a busy day today.

Yvonne Moore was packing for departure tonight for the United States, where she plans to give her unborn child to a South Carolina couple for adoption.

Leo Moore, the husband, was out in the back yard burning a second day's heap of what he called "abusive, anonymous letters."

The letters were severely critical of the Moores' decision to give their first baby to Wilbur and Billie Prescott of North Charleston, S. C.

Mrs. Moore, 39, is expecting the baby April 17. She flies tonight to New York by Iceland Airlines and through the courtesy of the Prescotts.

Worthington has had extensive newspaper experience in many sections of the country, starting out as a cub reporter in Stuttgart and Little Rock, Ark., where he worked with the Arkansas Democrat while attending Little Rock Junior College.

Later Worthington went to the staff of the Arkansas state bureau of the United Press (1937-38) and then to Moorhead, Minn., where he served successively as sports, telegraph and managing editor of the Daily News, interrupted by a four-year stint in the Navy during World War II.

In 1949 he became partner-publisher of the twice-a-week Sheldon Sun, where he served in the dual capacity of editor-advertising manager until it was sold in 1958.

Since then he has assisted publishers in Texas, New Mexico, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota in preparation of large special editions.

The Daily News, besides presenting rich historic feature material on the growth and development of Snyder and area and its business and industry, will attempt to tell with particulars the amazing and interesting story of the solid and stable development of the county.

The staff will be working day and night to develop highlights, as well as to produce an insight into what the future seems to hold.

The Daily News staff respectfully urges that any and all readers forward to this paper background and history which would be in interest to residents of the area. Old pictures will be accepted gratefully and returned undamaged.

Persons desiring to send such a significant and historic publication to friends and relatives are urged to contact the Daily News and place their orders early. The issue will contain hundreds of pictures and it will relate the area's history as well as point up its progressiveness.

Newsstand copies and special-ordered copies will be available for 25 cents. Place your order early so adequate numbers can be printed, because earliest press runs will get under way as rapidly as they can be prepared. Production is scheduled to begin as early as the week of March 26.

Liz Is Nursing A Bruised Leg

NEW YORK (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor nursed a bruise on a shapely leg today, but it could have been worse.

When the actress slipped on the ice outside a Philadelphia restaurant Tuesday it was feared she had broken her left leg.

But an X-ray at the Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center here showed the injury to be a bone bruise above the ankle—note a fracture.

It was taped and she returned with her husband, Eddie Fisher, to their New York apartment.

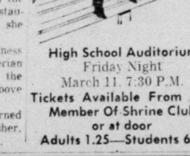

Mrs. Mynhier Dies Tuesday

Mrs. Georgia Aline Mynhier of Oilton, Okla. died Tuesday evening in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. She had lived in Snyder about five weeks.

Born Sept 24, 1897, in Missouri, she is survived by her husband, H. M. Mynhier of Oilton; one daughter, Mrs. M. L. Rogers of Snyder; two sons, Oliver Merritt of Elmore City, Okla., and Raymond Merritt of Cortez, Colo.; two sisters, Mrs. Edna Vaughn and Mrs. Thelma Jameson, of Caldwell, Idaho; and one brother, Allen Robison of Seminole, Okla.

Funeral services are pending at Bell Funeral Home. Burial will be in Oilton under the direction of Bell.

These few cents a day bring you up-to-the minute news, interesting and informative features, plus top-notch entertainment for the whole family to enjoy.

Sundays, you get an even bigger bargain package crammed with good reading and information on all the local and national news.

How is it possible for a complete, well-rounded newspaper to be published and sold at so little cost? As most of us know, advertising pays the freight! Without it, the price of a newspaper would be a luxury few could afford. You would be forced to pay dearly for the same value you now get for pennies.

Without your response to the ads in your daily paper — there would be few bargains of any kind to be found! Merchants and manufacturers are able to sell quality merchandise at low prices because the newspaper ads bring them such a high volume of sales! Take a look at all the bargains advertised in today's paper!

Everybody gains when you read and heed the Advertisements you'll find in every issue of your Daily News!

PINNING CEREMONY — Brownie Troop 85 of East Elementary held an investure ceremony Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. The impressive candlelight affair was in conjunction with Dana Weaver being pinned by her leader Helene Marr. Following the ceremony the group held a social in keeping with Girl Scout Week with a beautiful yellow and white cake bearing the Girl Scout emblem. Pat Jones is co-leader of the troop and works diligently with Mrs. Marr in instructing the 20 girls of the troop.

Southern Girls Know How To Get Their Man

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

SOUTHERN GIRLS, pretty or not, have no trouble snaring husbands. It's easy to see why.

A Southern girl may try to impress a boy with her clothes (and she's just as proud of what her mother whips up on the sewing machine, as the store-bought kind.

She plots to trap him with her cooking (and she'll never bore him talking about her corn-bread recipe.)

She makes no secret of the fact that she is looking for a husband (and takes a "that's perfectly natural" attitude).

But she has no desire to compete with a man, working or playing, as a rule. And she majors in making a man feel important.

Three typical Southern girls on a visit North honey-toned men and women with delightful but unimportant conversation, the kind of girl-talk that is so strictly feminine, it is a joy to hear.

There were Miss Azalea Trail, dark - eyed dark - haired Suzanne Gisclard, 18, and her ladies-in-waiting, Jacque Warren, 18, and Ann Blackwell, 17, of Mobile, Ala — delightful, merry girls who revel in the sheer joy of being young girls.

They walked around blustery New York looking like bridesmaids in azalea-pink hooped costumes and enormous picture hats. They were on a bonus tour, and were ecstatic about everything. Suzanne won in addition to the tour a $2,000 college scholarship and luggage. And they will all be in the Junior Miss Pageant this spring.

"It is truly, simply, heavenly, divine and wonderful!" the girls chorused to any slight gesture of kindness.

"Suzie has such poise. You should have seen her on television this morning," volunteered Jacque. "We were going to make one li'l ol' personal appearance and the announcer found out she could sing. He asked her, and she did."

"She has a beautiful voice," says Anne proudly.

"Everyone was so startled that Suzie acted like a professional and without any rehearsal," their chaperone, Mrs. Naomi Webb said.

"Oh, that's because I sing at home parties and at church," says the Valentine-lipped Suzanne.

Would she do it as a career?

"Heavens, no! I want to get married," she says.

The girls were surprised at all the makeup Northern girls wear, but they were glad to get a few makeup tips they might use for some important parties.

"My hair is straight as a picket fence usually," Suzie says, "so I'm having fun with my curly salon permanent."

Suzanne is from a queenly family. Her older sister was Miss Maid of Cotton in 1944 and Mrs. America in 1958.

"Isn't this dress beautiful, though?" she asks. "It has 5,000 yards of thread in it and 67 yards of fabric. Imagine!"

The men around agreed it was the most beautiful dress they'd ever seen, and how often does a girl wear a dress with 5,000 yards of thread in it, they asked.

"In Operetta Time" Captivates Scurry Concert Audience

From the minute they opened their mouths to sing, they had the audience in the palms of their hands. If you missed the Scurry Concert Associations' presentation of Janet Carlson and Bernard Izzo "In Operetta Time", you missed a delightful evening of beautiful classics, popular hits and beloved old-timers. Both these performers had lovely, easy-to-listen-to voices and delivered each selection with distinction, skill and obvious pleasure.

Miss Carlson and Mr. Izzo showed professional ability and stage poise, yet charmed their audience with a warmth and friendliness sometimes lacking in concert appearances.

Mr. Izzo gave an excellent performance in all phases of the program, but he completely captivated his audience with his personality songs, "I Got A Song" and "Every Day Is Ladies' Day With Me."

The lovely Miss Carlson especially pleased the audience with her renditions of "GoodNight My Someone" from The Music Man and "I Could Have Danced All Night" from "My Fair Lady".

Not only did this talented couple charm their audience with duets of well-known favorites, they also held them in rapt attention during Mozart's "La ci Darem La Mano" and Leoncavallo's "Si, t'amo' Si, t'amo'! E Parti Domattina". Then they topped it all off with a comic rendition of "The Deaf Old Woman", and encore number which added many laughs to an evening already filled with much happy music.

A bonus attraction was a piano solo by the accompanist Mr. David Burk. He performed Brahms "Rhapsody Opus 79, No. 2", then followed this with the delightful "Polka" by Shostakovick.

All in all, it was a wonderful evening of talented artists, and music all the way from inspiring to humorous.

If you held tickets and missed this program, we're sorry. Be sure and see the season's closing performance, the Navy Band Concert, April 2— ROGER GEE.

Only Child Finds Teen Road Rough

AP Newsfeatures

"PARENTS SEEM to expect more of an only child than they should," writes a 16-year-old Midwestern girl who says that up until now she has been "performing like a trained seal for them."

She doesn't object to their affection and interest, but she thinks that when there is just one child at home, the parents has nothing else to do but worry about her.

"Why can't my mother let me enjoy friendships, without trying to control my every move?" she asks. "She hovers over me when boys are around and acts like I'm not appreciated if the boy doesn't fall all over me.

"My father sometimes sits in his car, watching from a distance to make sure that the boy leaves a dance with me. Then he hurries home and tries to get the car in the garage before we drive up to the house. This really puts a crimp in an evening because the boys always know what he is up to.

"My parents take offense if I am not invited to every party that goes on in town. They can't imagine anyone not loving me as they do, I guess.

Gilded Cage

"What bothers me is the prospect of this sort of thing continuing. They don't want me to date steady, so I don't just to please them. I must go on every vacation with them. I must go to visit friends, on Sunday when they go visiting. I must go to my grandmother's, if they decide it is a good idea. My mother will not let me buy a hat, dress or shoes unless she is along to help me select them. Lately I have gotten the feeling that my family keeps me in a cage, and that even when they let me out briefly, they are hovering over it awaiting my return.

"I don't want to hurt their feelings, but they are making me very nervous by their attitude. Should I tell them?"

Your problem is a double one at the moment, of course, and it may very well ease up later. Parents are likely to be overly protective toward a girl in her early teens, especially when she begins to date. They worry about her, and they should, until she displays signs of maturity, and being able to cope with situations that are new to her because of her age.

Parental Love

They love you, and want other people to love you, and in that feeling they are not different from parents who have more children. The difference is that the mother of a large family cannot worry about small details such as whether her offspring are popular enough to go to every party in town.

Boys will never resent your father's indulgence toward you, and a good type will respect your father for his protective instinct. It is the way a boy who likes you should feel about you. The fact that it crimps his style as far as necking goes, does not enter into it. If you want to be cozy with him, invite him to your own living room. Chances are your parents will let you sit up with him there, so that he may get all the sweet nothings off his chest.

Make Your Own Leprechauns

AP Newsfeatures

LEPRECHAUNS are sure to abound on St. Patrick's Day. It's not only a good day for a party, but the tiny inhabitants of the Emerald Isle help decorate the St. Patrick's Day party table for a festive treat.

Little leprechauns that would be real fun for adults and a thrill for children are easy to make and a perfect conversation piece for any party. Designer Conny von Hagen has evolved some charming elf-like characters by crushing aluminum foil into some enchanting figures.

Start with a sheet of foil four feet long she suggests. Crush one end into a ball for the head, then crush the rest into a long rope. Turn up the end opposite the head and place in this "hook" another crushed piece of foil about one foot long for legs. Press the "hook" securely around the added piece. Turn up the shorter length for feet.

Add another crushed sheet of foil about a foot long just below the head for arms. Press the foil into hand shapes. Now, add more sheets of foil to this basic shape until a thick body is obtained. Add foil to the head until it becomes thick enough to mold like clay. Press in facial features, making sure the nose is long and pointy. Pin or glue on pointed ears cut from foil.

Dress the figure in a circle of green felt, a cone-shaped green hat and pointy shoes of brown felt.

Facial features are cut from colored felt and glued into place. A scrap of fur on hair from a child's doll makes the beard, if you want a beard.

Smaller leprechauns can be made, if you desire. Green foil gift wrap can be used to make cones about six inches high. A foam ball is added for a head, the face is decorated with felt to form features, and a green foil hat cone, and pinned to the body.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARTY—Leprechauns are easy to make with aluminum foil and green felt, for gay decorations.

Hasty Cooks

Have you ever tried to chill a gelatin dessert in a hurry? What homemaker hasn't? One manufacturer of refrigerators has given some thought to this homemaking problem. A special tubular glass shelf is incorporated in the new refrigerator. A current of cold air passes through the shelf, making its surface several degrees cooler than the rest of the refrigerator. Desserts and beverages placed on this shelf will be chilled in a minimum of time.

ANNOUNCING...TWO NEW-SIZE WAGON WONDERS!

The new Tudor and Fordor Falcon Wagons—sixth and seventh wonders of the Ford wagon world

See "FORD STARTIME" TV's finest hour, in living color Tuesdays on NBC TV

THE NEW FORD FALCON WAGONS

America's station wagon specialists complete the world's largest wagon family with TWO NEW-SIZE wagons. They're Falcons in size and savings—and full-fledged Ford wagon wonders when it comes to work! With 2 feet less car to manage, you're a genius at solving traffic problems—a past master at parking.

Falcon Wagons are priced up to $154 less than other 6-passenger compact wagons. The 2-door model is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger wagon.*

Falcon gives the best gas mileage of any American-built wagon, on regular fuel. You can go up to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline!

You get other Falcon savings, too. Repairs cost less. Change oil only once in 4,000 miles. And the Falcon's aluminized muffler normally lasts twice as long as the ordinary kind.

Longest load floor in the compact field is yours in a Falcon. It's over 7 ft. long, with cargo space totaling more than 76 cubic feet!

Full-six-passenger room, too, because Falcon Wagons are built for people. There's room for hats, hips and legs. Come see these newest wonders from the Ford wagon world! FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company

Current Visitors To Capitol Likely To Encounter A Shock

BY INEZ ROBB

This is a nervous time for suspicious citizens to visit Washington. Worrywarts who enter the city via Union Station are due for a traumatic shock when from that vantage point they look up for a first glimpse of the Capitol.

The splendid dome of the noble old building is a bright, undeniable red, floating over the structure and Washington like a big, gaudy cherry atop a very large dish of vanilla ice cream.

Employes in the office of the Capitol architect are accustomed to indignant phone calls from visiting firemen demanding to know when Khrushchev is returning and why it is necessary to paint part of the Capitol and town red, even so.

Well, Khrushchev isn't returning. And the red dome is only temporary, a part of the extensive work now being done on the building, including the controversial addition to the venerable main facade.

At the moment the Capitol is a mess. High wooden walls, with no provisos for sidewalk superintendents, keep Congressmen and their constituents from tumbling into huge construction pits.

The construction is at the stage where the uninitiated eye—meaning mine—despairs that order will ever be restored. I had visions of the next President riding a crane down to the bottom of the excavations, there to take the oath of office next Jan. 20.

But the office of the Capitol architect assures me that the next President will take the oath on the new portico, complete and pristine to the outward eye.

In fact, the whole exterior of the new addition will be completed by Oct. 1. On that target date the Capitol architect must begin construction of the stands to seat some 15,000 privileged persons who, from a sitting stance, will witness the formal inauguration of the next President in time-honored fashion on the Capitol portico.

Some of the rooms in thenew addition won't be completed, except for heating facilities. However the entry on the ground floor which the new President will use to gain the portico will be finished. So will the corridors the President will use and the lobby off the new portico where the President will pause to adjust his cravat before Washington's bracing January air to take the oath.

As for the currently red dome, it will be white as snow by May 1. Not since 1864 has there been a complete repair job on the great dome. Long ago when the Capitol was judged not sufficiently strong to support a marble dome, as planned, the dome was built of cast iron made to resemble stone.

Any corroded iron in the dome has been removed and replaced by stainless steel, although the ribs of the dome were found in good shape after the rib covers were removed for inspection.

The dome has been painted every four years since the Civil War, with the result that many of its details have been smothered in accumulated pigment. (Right now the dome is in a red lead and oil state.) By next May visitors at the Capitol will see something that scarcely a handful of persons knew was there.

Beneath the Statue of Freedom that crowns the dome, spectators will be able to read, highlighted in chrome yellow, the motto of the United States of America, E PLURIBUS UNUM.

Pavement Plato Gets Some Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Dear Pavement Plato:

"My girl is pretty, red-haired, has a fine job, stands to inherit money, and can cook better than a French chef.

"We get along fine, but she says that when I kiss her she gets goose pimples. What should I do? —Perplexed.

Dear Perplexed: Marry her, son. What else could you be looking for in life?

Dear Plato:

"My friends all joke at me because they say I am getting too fat. But actually I am not fat at all. I just look fat because I wear double-breasted winter underwear to keep me warm. What would you do if you were me?"—Pudge.

Dear Pudge:

Move to Florida, or give yourself up to the Smithsonian Institution.

Dear Plato:

"I have an etiquette problem. Is it okay to write love letters with a typewriter on business stationery, or should they be written in pen and ink on personal stationery?"—Proper Soul.

Dear Proper Soul:

Neither. The only safe way to write love letters is by hand, in sand, and while the tide is coming in.

Dear Plato:

"I am concerned about my son. He is 17 years old, hates rock 'n' roll music, never has smoked marijuana or carried a switchblade knife. He doesn't date steady, never wants to borrow the family car, and spends all his spare time working to earn enough money to pay his own way through college.

"What should do with this paragon of a boy?"—Uneasy.

Dear Uneasy:

This kid sounds dangerous. Obviously, must be hiding something. Beat him until he confesses.

Evaluation Of Ike Trip Due Later

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower got a thunderous reception in South America—sprinkled with some unpleasant episodes—but the people he visited may judge the worth of his journey on the follow-up.

In the talk he made to the nation Tuesday night there wasn't much indication of follow-up in the sense of new programs or projects to help the South Americans. He talked mostly in generalities.

He took an extremely optimistic view of what he found on his journey. He said our relations with our sister republics, with very few exceptions, reached an all-time high.

Some students of Latin America may question this and wonder whether even a trip by such a popular figure as the President can wipe out the ill will toward America demonstrated when Vice President Richard M. Nixon went there.

It's too soon to know whether the President has, or will have, any new projects or programs in mind for the nations he visited or their neighbors. He still has time before leaving office to come up with some.

Still, that time is limited, extremely limited when considered against the busy year ahead of him: a summit meeting, a proposed visit to the Soviet Union, the Republican covention, the presidential campaign.

Eisenhower did indicate that this country will try to be helpful but he still stressed the virtue of self-reliance among the Latin Americans in solving their dilemmas.

He said: "In our discussions, I stressed that all nations—large or small, powerful or weak—should assume some responsibility for the advancement of humankind, in freedom.

"Though we of the United States will, within the framework of our world situation and economic capacity, assist all we can, we look for the time when all the free nations will feel a common responsibility for our common destiny."

The President touched on a sore point among Latin Americans when he said: "Another persistent misunderstanding which I sought to correct wherever I traveled is that we sometimes support dictators. Of course, we abhor all tyrannical forms of government, whether of the left or right."

GUTHERIE LENDS BIG BLOW

Snyder Nine Whips Abilene In Opener

ABILENE—A timely triple by pinch-hitter Jerry Gutherie which drove in 2 runs in a big sixth inning and a stellar pitching job turned in by right-hander Norman Gladson combined to push Snyder's Tigers into a 3-2 opening victory over the Abilene Eagles here yesterday. The game spoiled the Eagle's season debut, as both teams were making their initial appearances in the game played here at Teenage Field.

The contest was a pitcher's duel from the outset, as neither team was able to break the scoring ice until the sixth inning, although the Tigers had garnered four of their six hits for the day prior to that time. All of the runs scored by both team were rung up in the sixth with Gutherie's triple making the difference.

In the Tiger half of that inning, leadoff man Mike Moffett walked, and went to second as a result of a free pass issued to Franklin Moore, who followed him in the batting order. A single by first baseman Bennie Greenfield enabled Moffett to score the initial run of the game, and set the stage for Gutherie's crowning, game-winning blow. He sent a booming fly into right field which was good for three bases and two runs, as Moore and Greenfield scampered in front of him.

Ray, who had just been inserted in the stead of Marshall, who had given up the ice-breaking run which resulted from Greenfield's single.

Marshall was charged with the loss.

In the home half of the sixth, Abilene came to life, as second baseman Billy Monk opened with a single, after which he was safe at second when Tiger third baseman Bubba Fleming overthrew second in an attempt to nail him on a fielder's choice, with the result that shortstop T. A. Buchanan found himself resting on first when the smoke had cleared.

They both advanced into scoring position on Gladson's sole wild pitch of the game, and center fielder Teddy Hamilton brought Monk home with a sacrifice fly to right. Buchanan bounded home on a single by Jimmy Mallon to complete the scoring for the day, as Dee Hopkins nipped the rally in the bud by grounding into a double play to end the inning.

Fleming was the only performer on either team to get more than one hit, as he picked up two for two, both singles.

Gladson was in complete control of the situation all the way, as he masterfully spun the four-hitter while striking out 6 Eagles and allowing only one base on balls.

Gloves Finals To Go Out On Video

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Amateur boxing's best-in-the-West will be displayed on national television tonight as the finals of the 33rd Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions are held in Chicago Stadium.

Four, and possibly five, of the eight title bouts will be shown on TV, (ABC, 10 p.m., EST).

This being an Olympic year, some of the winners may wind up in Rome late this summer, depending on how they are in the Interstate bouts with New York's Golden Glovers on March 21 and the Olympic trials.

Golden Gloves competition has produced such Olympic champions as heavyweights Pete Rademacher in 1956 and Ed Sanders in 1952; light heavies Jimmy Boyd in 1956 and Norvel Lee in 1952; middleweights Floyd Patterson in 1952 and Carmen Barth in 1932; and flyweight Nate Brooks in 1952.

The current world heavyweight champion, Ingemar Johansson, was heavyweight winner in the 1951 International Golden Gloves in the Chicago Stadium and a loser to Sanders in the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki.

Tonight's feature is the heavyweight title bout between defending champion Jimmy Jones of Chicago and last year's 175-pound Golden Gloves titlist, Cassius Clay of Louisville, Ky.

This will be on the televised portion of the porgram, along with the 147, 175, 135 and possibly the 160-pound title matches.

The welterweight scrap is between Ferd Hernandez, 1959 finalist from Omaha, Neb., and Mark Burds of Denver.

The light heavy championship bout pits Jefferson Davis, a boxer-puncher from Nashville, Tenn., who was runnerup to Clay last year, against Billy Joiner, who recently wrapped up four years of Air Force service.

At 135 pounds, Chicago's Brian O'Shea meets Reggie Davis of Fort Worth, Tex., and the 160-pound showdown is between KO artist Jim Ellis of Louisville and Leotis Martin of Toledo, Ohio.

Ticker Tape Reception To Greet Skater

NEW YORK (AP)—Carol Heiss, the 20-year-old world and Olympic figure skating champion, gets the city's traditional ticker tape parade up Broadway today amid rumors that she may announce her engagement to another figure skater.

There has been talk that Carol, a blonde New York University junior, would marry Hayes Alan Jenkins, the 1956 Olympic figure skating champion and now a lawyer in Akron, Ohio.

But Carol denied — or almost denied — it all.

"I'm not even going steady," she said. "Maybe within the next five years I might become engaged, but not now. I can't be linked romantically with anyone."

She added that she hasn't seen Jenkins since Thanksgiving Day.

But if she does become engaged, would it be to Jenkins?

"Not necessarily."

Carol said she has only one definite plan and that's to rest.

"I don't even know what I'm going to be doing the day after tomorrow let alone plan for the future," she said. "Usually, I rest a couple of weeks, then start training again for the next competition. This time, though, I'm going to rest a lot longer."

She also has not been swayed toward a professional career, although her coach Pierre Brunet, said she has received "dozens" of offers from ice shows and movie studios.

"I am tired of having lived out of a suitcase for the last seven weeks," she commented. "I don't think I could stand living out of one for 42 weeks a year. I like to live a normal life and I don't think that's normal."

Southwestern Meet Attracts 108 Schools

FORT WORTH (AP)—Entries in the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field and Golf meets climbed to 1,575 from 108 schools today. More are coming but the all-time high of 1,972 set in 1958 isn't expected to be approached.

The big meet comes off Friday and Saturday with track and field drawing seven universities, 13 colleges, 16 junior college and college freshmen teams and the high school division 839 athletes from 72 schools.

BOWLING SCORES

Couples League Standings following play of this past week reveal that Rainbow Market sports a commanding six-point spread over second place Holt Music Co.

In the high team series, Eastman Oil edged Rainbow Market by garnering a 1964 pin-total to Rainbow's 1960. Holt had 1832 for third place honors.

Eastman also captured the high team game of 697, followed by Rainbow (673) and Eastman again, with a 670.

Individually, the high series was rolled by Eastman's Eldon Tipping, a 569, while teammate Hugh Nance placed with 545. Jim Tatum of Rainbow was next in line with 536.

High line was turned in by Nance —a 212— while Tipping was close behind with lines of 201 and 198.

In the women's bracket, Betty Tatum of Rainbow was tops with 495, followed by Johnnie Tipping (Eastman), who had 455, and Margaret King (Stewart's Service Station) and Holt's Dorris Minton, each of whom had identical lines of 440.

Margaret King rolled the high line of 185, with Dorris Minton and Betty Tatum trailing her with 173 and 171, respectively.

Split pickups were racked up by Rainbow's Betty Tatum (3-4-7), Tatum (3-10) and Gene Greed (2-7); Holt's Dorris Jackson (3-10); Tenpens Cholly Howard (4-5); Stewart's Junior King (4-5-7 and 5-8-10); and Eastman's Johnnie Tipping (5-10).

Current standings read as follows:

	Won	Lost
Rainbow Market	34	14
Holt Music Co.	28	20
Tenpens	24	24
Okies	21	27
Eastman Oil	21	27
Stewart's Service	16	32

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

The Pittsburgh Pirate front office boys are playing with matches. Scorched fingertips have been known to result from such.

The "matches" in this case are the wives of th Pirate players, who were recently handed down the ruling they will not be allowed to accompany their husbands on road trips this coming season.

Some of the little women expressed disbelief, others were vehement. Still others were unshaken by the whole business.

In the area of Unshakenness Mrs. Bob Friend was heard to comment in a resigned, golf-widowy tone of voice: "It makes no difference to me. What they say goes. When I travel with Bob he'd come in after the game, look at television and that was that."

Disbelief was offered by pitcher Don Gross' spouse, who sputtered, "I just can't understand such a ruling."

Terribly Tough On Togetherness

AND LAST. Vehemency keynoted the statement as passed on by the somewhat "bitter" half of Elroy Face, who wailed, "That puts the blame on us. I guess they'll keep us away from spring training next."

The "blame" in this particular instance wasn't pinpointed, but evidently had to do with Pittsburgh's fourth rather than first place finish in the National League this past season, as that team slid into the spot behind front-running Los Angeles, Milwaukee, and San Francisco, being a contender up until the final stages of the season.

Even in my own young, sheltered life, though, recollections haunt my reverie with Pittsburgh in the big middle of the fantasies, traditionally attired in its mantle of second-division-ism. In fact, fourth place in the National League would normally have represented a muchly sought-after goal rather than a blameworthy booby prize. At least in the case of the Pittsburgers.

However, the stern Pirate papas are treading on thin ice and dangerous ground in rebuking the wives of their contracted performers. It's no secret that women were granted suffrage a while back, and they've been getting more independent as time flits by. They might decide to start a league of their own and go into competition with said Pirates, which would be a bitter pill to swallow.

Cotton Pickers Now Wooed By Pros

A LITTLE CLOSER TO HOME, though, is a bit of controversy which has erupted over the proposed use of the Cotton Bowl, the cavernous amphitheater on the State Fair Grounds of Dallas. It wasn't exactly planned the way it has turned out, but Dallas can now boast (or moan, whichever the case may eventually be) of two professional football teams—the Rangers of the staid, established National Football League and the Texans of the bouncy, not-dry-behind-the-ears American Football League.

The trouble lies in the fact that the Rangers are thinking of invading the inner sanctum of collegiate football by making use of the Bowl on Saturday nights rather than the accepted Sunday afternoons, and the college heads are taking a disdainful view of the whole thing. They argue that these proposed games would hinder the college grid turnouts both directly and indirectly. Also, that the big, yawning Bowl is first and foremost the House that College Football Built, and that approval of the pro games on Saturdays would be comparable to betraying one's best friend. Could be.

Baylor coach John Bridgers summed up the situation by remarking, "We all feel in the colleges that Saturday afternoons and nights are the traditional times for college football. This would apply not only to the Southwest Conference but also to smaller college schedules."

Whether the Cotton Bowl heads be swept away by sentimentality or succumb to materialism is not known as yet. Sentiment sometimes loses its punch when liberally sprinkled with dollar bills.

Tigerettes In Easy Victory Over C-City

Snyder's Tigerettes opened their district volleyball season on a rousing note here last night in Tiger Gym, as they swept to a convincing 28-19 win over Colorado City.

The varsity contest was the sole game of the night, as the Colorado City girls brought over only one team.

Snyder was never in trouble throughout the game, as they jumped out to an early lead which was never threatened. The Tigerettes held a 14-7 advantage at half-time.

High point server for the locals was Donna Taylor, and she also tied for high scorer along with teammate Helen Ivison.

The Tigerettes next see action this Thursday, when they travel to Sweetwater for another district outing.

Tiger Golf Team Tests Big Spring

Snyder High's golfers get their taste of competition here today as they go up against Big Spring in a belated match previously postponed by bad weather.

The matches will be played at the Snyder Country Club, with tee-off time 2:30 this afternoon.

Composing the "big four" for the Tiger Teemen are Ted Lamb, John Pickering, Mike Reed, and Jerry Nail. Other boys making up the golfing squad include Larry Devers Kenneth Haught, Charles Hock, Bill Patterson, Roger Fields, and Richard Adams.

The top six designated players from each team will compete, with the low four medal scores on each determining the winner.

Coaching the local team is J. P. Ward.

Chicago To Field Young Chunkers

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs' starting five pitchers could be the youngest front-line staff in the majors when opening day arrives Manager Charlie Grimm feels that youngsters, who range from 20 to 24 years, can carry the load. They are Glen Hobbie, Bob Anderson, Moe Drabowsky, Dick Drott and rookie Dick Ellsworth.

HARDY HURDLERS—Two of the reasons why Snyder's Tigers will be considered as strong contenders in Saturday's Canyon Reef Relays here are pictured above. At left is Wayne Berry, while at right is Stanley Woolever, both of whom are lettermen performers. In meets entered thus far this year, Woolever has won the high hurdles and finished second in the low hurdles event in Fort Stockton's Comanche Relays, and won the lows and placed third in the highs in the recent Border Olympics at Laredo. Berry was a third-place finisher in the high hurdles event at Fort Stockton.

Bears, Mountaineers Survive First Round

California's defending champion Bears and the hustling Mountaineers of West Virginia, one-two in last year's NCAA basketball tournament, are over their first hurdle in their drive for another title showdown.

Defense-minded Cal, a 71-70 winner over West Virginia in the NCAA championship tussle in 1959, routed Idaho State 71-44 Tuesday night while West Virginia, with All-America Jerry West better than ever, whipped Navy 94-86.

Both were among six first-round games played in the sprawling NCAA eliminations in San Francisco, New York and Lexington, Ky. West Virginia's triumph over Navy came in an Eastern regional tripleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden in which powerful New York U. downed Connecticut 78-59 and Duke's Atlantic Coast Conference champs overwhelmed Ivy League king Princeton, 84-60.

In Lexington, Western Kentucky routed 10th-ranked Miami (Fla) 107-84 missing the single game NCAA scoring high by one point, and Ohio U., champion of the Mid-American Conference, upset Notre Dame 74-66 in first-round games in the Mideast regional.

California's victory, the Bears' 25th in 26 games this season and 41st in their last 42 starts, came at San Francisco in a first-round game of the Western regional.

All six winners advance to regional semifinals this weekend, when the bulky NCAA field will be chopped to the four survivors for the national semifinals and finals at San Francisco March 18 and 19.

Two games tonight will complete the line-up for the four four-team regionals this Friday and Saturday at Charlotte, N.C., Louisville, Manhattan, Kan., and Seattle. New Mexico State, the Border Conference champ, plays Oregon at Corvallis, Ore., with the winner advancing to the Seattle regional. In Manhattan, Kan., Kansas and Kansas State, co-champs of the Big Eight Conference, meet in a one-game playoff to determine the league's NCAA representative at the Manhattan regional.

Here's the way it looks now for Friday and Saturday:

Eastern at Charlotte, N.C.—West Virginia (25-4) vs NYU (20-3); St. Joseph's (Pa) (19-5) vs Duke (16-10). (St. Joseph's first-round bye).

Mideast at Louisville—Ohio U. (17-7) vs Georgia Tech (21-5); Western Kentucky (20-6) vs Ohio State (21-3). (Georgia Tech, Ohio State first-round byes).

Midwest at Manhattan, Kan.—Cincinnati (25-1) vs DePaul (16-6); Texas (18-6) vs Kansas-Kansas State winner (Cincinnati, Texas, and Big Eight champ first-round byes).

CUBAN VIEW OF UNCLE SAM—Surco, official government newspaper published in Santiago de Cuba for the Cuban farmer, carried this caricature of Uncle Sam on the front page of its March 3 edition. The banner line said "THE UNITED STATES IS USING ECONOMIC BLACKMAIL AGAINST THE CUBAN REVOLUTION." Miami News Correspondent Jay Mallin reported this as an example of the propaganda Fidel Castro feeds the country people in his anti-American campaign. (AP Wirephoto)

Battle Is Raging On Severance Tax

AUSTIN (AP) — Pipeline company attorneys, fighting the state's new natural gas tax, claim it is impossible for Texas to devise a constitutional tax imposing its main burden on out-of-state persons.

The tax will "uncover, and adopted as law, on the pipeline companies which will collect over half of it from other states," stated the brief filed Tuesday by six pipeline firms against the "severance beneficiary" tax.

The brief, submitted by Austin attorney Dean Moorhead contends the tax violates interstate commerce, is discriminatory, and so ambiguous as to be unconstitutional.

"The tax is actually nothing more or less than an additional production tax," the state argued in a brief filed by the attorney general's office. It "is paid once on all gas produced in Texas and is levied upon the person who has the primary interest in the severance . . . there can be no discrimination where equality is the theme."

Dist. Judge Jack Roberts of the 126th District Court added the briefs to the voluminous record before him. Reply briefs may be filed before April 4 and oral arguments will wind up the District Court proceedings. Roberts' decision, perhaps in May, will begin a spiral of appeals which seem certain to reach the U.S. Supreme Court.

More than 80 separate suits are combined into the test case against the tax which is estimated to raise about 15 million dollars a year. The money, now being paid under protest, cannot be spent by the state until the final court decision.

The "severance beneficiary" tax, at a rate of 1½ per cent of market value per 1,000 cubic feet of gas, is collected from the person who uses or benefits from the production of natural gas "dedicated" by a long term contract. Transportation agencies, such as pipelines, hold these type contracts.

Says Totalitarian Tactics Being Used

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said Tuesday night that Americans have developed totalitarian attitudes in fighting communism.

"We tend to mimic the tactics and attitudes of our adversaries," he told a Princeton University audience.

Douglas said the United States would become a second-rate power unless it overcomes complacency, mediocrity and intolerance.

Steals From Blind Woman

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An unemployed clerical worker who said he kept from going hungry by stealing from a blind woman's concession stand in the courthouse agrees "it's pretty rotten."

Carl Edward Hammond, 37, was charged with theft Tuesday after Sheriff T. O. Lang arrested him near the stand.

The stand, operated by Miss Nell Scales, is run on an "honor system" in which patrons make their own change from bowls on the counter.

Lang said Hammond admitted stealing "maybe half a dozen sandwiches" and short-changing the blind owner on several occasions.

Asks Probe Of Powell Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) wants a Senate investigation of published charges that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) got $50,000 to $100,000 for switching his political support.

He says the study should extend also to charges that efforts were made to fix an income tax case against Powell.

Williams told the Senate Tuesday he was not expressing any opinion on whether the charges in Drew Pearson's columns are true. "I am merely pointing out that these charges have been made and that in view of their serious nature they cannot be ignored," he said.

Williams did not directly name the congressman, but put into the congressional record copies of Pearson's columns pertaining to Powell.

Pearson wrote in recent columns that Powell took money from Republicans in '56, when he came out for President Eisenhower, and from Tammany Democrats in 1958 when he supported Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman in his unsuccessful bid for re-election.

The Negro congressman was indicted in 1958 for alleged evasion of income taxes in 1952. His trial in New York started Tuesday. Powell has said "no man can buy Adam Powell." He declined immediate comment on Pearson's charges, but in 1956 he said it was a "complete lie" that his support of Eisenhower had anything to do with his tax case.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate Republican leader, said the Senate usually does not investigate House members, but added that such charges "become something of a reflection on the entire body of Congress when they are not rebutted."

Williams said the Pearson charges if proven would "present a new low in politics."

Cal Hubbard, 59, has been American League umpire supervisor since 1954.

Fraternity Faces Suit

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A 20-year-old La Crescenta, Calif., junior is suing Theta Xi Fraternity for $350,000 for a kidney injury suffered during a hazing last October 1.

Donald S. Woods, who spent five weeks in hospital with acute nephritis after the incident, charges in a suit filed in Alameda County Superior Court Tuesday he was beaten with a heavy paddle and made to consume "revolting substances" after a gruelling workout of pushups and running and jumping.

He asks $250,000 for personal injury and $100,000 exemplary damages.

Named as defendants are the national fraternity of Theta Xi, its NU chapter on the University of California campus at Berkeley, the chapter's officers, 25 members and their parents.

RAILROAD CROSSING DEATH SCENE—This is the scene of a collision between a station wagon, carrying seven children and the driver, and a passenger train at an unguarded railroad crossing at Berlin, Conn. All eight persons in the station wagon were killed. The main section of the station wagon lies at the foot of the telephone pole in upper center. At the upper right is a large piece of the wreckage. In the center, to the right of the car's gas tank, is the body of one of the victims. In the foreground is the body of the driver, Mrs. Emily Whitaker. At the upper left, where the truck stands, is the grade crossing where the accident happened. The train, not shown, carried the station wagon along the tracks a short way before spilling it off the tracks onto a frozen pond. (AP Wirephoto)

Sen. Neuberger Of Oregon Dies Today

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Death by cerebral hemorrhage claimed Sen. Richard L. Neuberger early today. It was an ironic fate for the 47-year-old Oregon Democrat who had just won a fight with cancer.

The senator was stricken at his home Tuesday afternoon. He lapsed into a coma and gradually became weaker. Doctors at his bedside [illegible] Neuberger had been home since January, trying to shake off a series of virus infections and an attack of shingles. Last week he filed for re-election to the Senate.

His death cuts the Democratic total to 64 against 35 Republicans but a Democrat must be appointed by Republican Gov. Mark Hatfield to fill out his term.

Haste will be needed by both Republican and Democratic leaders in lining up someone to compete in the May 20 primary. Filings close at 5 p.m. Friday.

Neuberger's health had not been robust for many months.

He became ill in the summer of 1958. That August he underwent an operation for cancer. Five months later he was smiling broadly as he told a news conference he regarded himself as a cured cancer patient.

He added national health to his favorite legislative topics which until then had centered around [illegible] conservation of wild life, timber and other resources.

His own health failed to hold up. He said there was no recurrence of cancer but he failed to shake off colds and other virus infections and then suffered an attack of shingles.

In January he came home to recuperate. He said he was getting better and last week he filed for re-election.

So strong was his support in Oregon that the Republicans had groomed no one of stature to oppose him.

This was in sharp contrast to his election in 1954 when he ran against Republican Sen. Guy Cordon. It was more than 24 hours after the polls closed that the result was known. It was the first time in 40 years Oregon had sent a Democrat to the senate.

Italy Crisis Still Endures

ROME (AP) — Italy's government crisis went into its third week today with no solution in sight.

Italian newspapers wrote openly of the possibility of President Giovanni Gronchi dissolving Parliament and calling new elections. They agreed Gronchi first might ask outgoing Premier Antonio Segni to try to form a new cabinet.

Segni's chances of success did not look too good.

Segni and his Christian Democrat Cabinet resigned Feb. 24 after losing the Liberals' support in the Chamber of Deputies. The Christian Democrats are Italy's biggest party, but they are 26 votes short of a majority in the chamber and must have the support of other parties to govern.

This is Italy's 13th government crisis since World War II and one of the toughest.

Anonymous Donor Sends Many Dimes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —When Molly Flynn spots the envelope postmarked New Orleans, she knows without opening it what's inside — a carefully wrapped dime.

It is a contribution for the U.N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees (UNRWA). Dimes in similar envelopes have been coming into the office since [illegible]

But Miss Flynn, liaison officer for the agency, hasn't been able to find out who sends them.

The total is not great—121 envelopes representing $12.10 in cash and 50 cents in stamps.

It's the mystery of the anonymous donor or donor that intrigues Miss Flynn.

Some of the envelopes have return addresses on them — some have names and addresses. But when Miss Flynn writes in acknowledgment she either receives no reply, or her letter is returned with the notation "no such address." Some of the names are obviously made up.

Miss Flynn has had friends in New Orleans check on envelopes containing only addresses. Some have turned out to be empty lots or big apartment buildings.

Most of the envelopes appear to have been addressed on the same typewriter. They come in spurts. The last one came a week ago after a lag of several months.

"We appreciate the contributions," Miss Flynn said, "and we would like to express our thanks. But it's quite a mystery."

The agency cares for the more than a million Arab refugees of the Israeli-Arab war of 1947-48.

Can't Outlaw Segregation

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —The Oklahoma City Council was advised by city attorney Ed Moler that it does not have the authority to outlaw segregation in public places.

The Council immediately adopted the opinion Tuesday.

Moler said, "It is my opinion the city does not have the power to enact a 'civil rights' ordinance prohibiting discrimination in restaurants and other places of public accommodation by reason of race, color or creed."

He said the power of regulating such matters can be exercised by a municipality only if properly delegated by the State Legislature.

Walks 11 Miles To Keep Promise

PIEDMONT, W. Va., (AP)—Harold Hamilton is the kind of fellow who keeps a promise.

Hamilton lives at Chestnut Grove, Md., and a Red Cross bloodmobile was visiting this area. He explained his car broke down, so he walked.

Real Estate Assn. Chief Is Due Here

W. VERNON WALSH

W. Vernon Walsh of Brownsville, president of the Texas Real Estate Assn., will be principal speaker at a meeting of the Snyder Real Estate Board on March 16.

The meeting will be held at noon in the Village Restaurant.

Ervin W. Lindike of Austin, executive secretary of the 6,500-member state realtor organization, will visit the meeting with Walsh and discuss TREA services and projects.

The Texas realtors' leader, owner of W. Vernon Walsh Realty Co. in Brownsville, has served two terms as TREA vice president and nine years on the association's board of directors. Walsh is a past president of the Brownsville Real Estate Board and the Harlingen Real Estate Board, having served both groups as leader for two different terms each.

A Certified Property Manager, Walsh is a member of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards' Institute of Real Estate Management, the Institute of Real Estate Brokers, and Farm Brokers Institute. He is a past vice president of the Farm Brokers Texas Chapter No. 22.

Walsh was appointed to the Texas Aeronautics Commission by Gov. Allan Shivers and served for six years, during three of which he was chairman. Also, by appointment of John Ben Shepperd, he served as an honorary member of the Attorney General's staff.

Margaret Will Be Married On May 6

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret will be married at Westminster Abbey on May 6 with the archbishop of Canterbury officiating, Buckingham Palace announced today.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II and Margaret's brother-in-law, will give the bride away.

The palace announcement did not mention a title for Margaret's fiance, former society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones. It is generally expected that he will be elevated to the peerage, and probably will be made a marquess, before the wedding.

The announcement from Clarence House, London home of Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth, said it would be a morning wedding, at 11:30.

The bridesmaids and best man were not named.

Margaret's sister, the Queen, and Prince Philip also were married at the Abbey, on Nov. 20, 1947, with the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, officiating. He is the highest prelate of the Church of England.

The marriage of Elizabeth, then a princess, was broadcast. The British Broadcasting Corp. wants to televise Margaret's wedding, and Britain's commercial television network probably will ask to do likewise.

The marriage will take place two and a half months before Margaret's 30th birthday, which falls on Aug. 21. Armstrong-Jones was 30 on Monday.

The Daily Mail, which correctly predicted the date this morning, said Princess Alexandra and Princess Anne were certain to be bridesmaids, and that Prince Charles, the heir to the throne, might be a page.

The wedding is likely to jam London with the biggest crowds since Elizabeth's coronation in 1952.

The Daily Mirror said that some slight experience as a designer of women's sports togs, is designing Margaret's wedding dress.

"He has already completed the rough sketches which will form the basic plan for the royal dressmaker," the newspaper said, "and he is now discussing his ideas with the princess."

The engagement of Margaret and Armstrong-Jones was announced on Feb. 26.

Urges Plants In Antarctica

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) today urged that nuclear power plants be installed at three U.S. bases in Antarctica.

Jackson, who visited Antarctica last fall, said that over their 20-year life expectancy such atomic plants could cut the cost of power, light and heat at the bases to one-fourth that of conventional power plants.

He wrote Rep. Chest Holifield (D-Calif.), urging that authorization for the reactors be included in this year's Atomic Energy Commission construction bill.

Holifield is chairman of a subcommittee now conducting hearings on the bill. Jackson serves on the Atomic Energy Committee and also on the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Jackson estimated it would cost nine million dollars to install a nuclear plant at McMurdo Sound station, largest of the bases, and considerably less at the other two, the Byrd and South Pole stations.

Carr Says Wilson Is Marking Time

LUBBOCK (AP) — Waggoner Carr, who seeks Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's job, said Tuesday night that Wilson wants to "mark time on the public payroll" until he can run for governor.

Carr spoke to a crowd estimated at 3,500 at the formal launching of his drive for victory in the May 7 Democratic primary.

Carr is speaker of the Texas House and a lawyer from Lubbock. His talk was carried over a statewide radio network.

It was a hard-hitting political speech in which Carr lashed at Wilson on several fronts.

Carr said Wilson had an "inept record and political social climbing" motives.

Wilson has been running for the governor's office until Gov. Price Daniel announced he would seek a third term, the House speaker charged.

"Never in the history of Texas public life has any man turned tail and run so fast publicly. Now every school child in Texas knows this man really wants to be governor," Carr said.

"But here he is, asking Texans to let him mark time on the public payroll in a job he does not want while he tries to work up courage to try again two years from now," Carr said.

Carr told the crowd that "we have had enough pussyfooting, we have had enough of back scratching and office trading."

Carr is not a candidate for re-election to the Legislature. He served as House Speaker two terms.

He called his talk the opening "of the people's campaign to clear out the deadwood in Austin."

Carr said Wilson "has been strangely silent and strangely inactive in doing anything that might offend groups with great political power."

"It is passing strange that during the years of this administration Texans have been able to read from Washington far more about unsavory practices of a few in a handful of unions in Texas than Texans have been able to learn from this attorney general himself," Carr said.

Nieces Are Sexton Heirs, Court Holds

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—The 6th Civil Court of Appeals held Tuesday that the four nieces of rancher J. E. Sexton are the rightful heirs to his estate.

Mrs. Agnes Kirk, attractive former operator of a Cleburne rest home where Sexton lived for a time, and others had challenged a trial court ruling. They claimed Sexton made a will bequeathing them the estate in 1954.

The decision here upheld the finding of the District Court at Hendersorf that the nieces were the beneficiaries under identical wills executed by Sexton and his brother Henry in 1948.

Sexton died Feb. 28, 1958, at a rest home in Jacksonville. He was a bachelor. His brother Henry, a Rusk County resident, died Oct. 30, 1952.

The four nieces are Mrs. Mozelle Pitner and Mrs. O. L. Jacobs, both of Henderson; Mrs. Q. C. Murphy of Longview and Mrs. W. C. Beard of Raymondville.

Evidence was offered by the nieces that when J. E. and Henry Sexton executed wills in 1948, each leaving his property to the other, there was an oral agreement that the holdings would pass to the nieces at the death of the surviving brother.

The appeal court here affirmed a district court judgment that the will was valid.

The Sexton brothers' holdings included ranches and oil properties in Somervell, Johnson and Rusk counties.

Demos Invite GOP Leader

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Republican Gov. George D. Clyde of Utah was invited to be the principal speaker at the annual Truman Day dinner in Seattle on May 9.

He accepted with delight, saying this must mean the Washington State Democrats and former President Harry S. Truman "have seen the political light."

In a letter of acceptance Tuesday Clyde said he would speak on the principals of Abraham Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover and Dwight D. Eisenhower, which, he said, "must guide us through the critical days ahead."

But in Seattle, Democratic State Rep. Jon Marvin Jonsson, who extended the invitation to Clyde in a letter, said apparently his secretary sent the invitation through "an unaccountable error."

Jonsson said Clyde could "attend the dinner and be enlightened," but no speech.

Filibuster Truce Called; Dixie Wins First Round

WASHINGTON (AP)— The death of Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) brought a one-day truce today in the bitter Senate battle over civil rights.

Colleagues turned to eulogies of the Oregon senator, and planned to recess afterwards until 9:30 a.m. (Est) Thursday in respect to Neuberger's memory.

On developments in the civil rights battle to date, Southerners could claim a first-round victory while looking forward to another Thursday in the first major vote.

Yet the outlook still was for eventual passage of a voting rights bill stronger than the Southerners want although not going as far as ardent civil rights backers would like to go.

The Dixie bloc won the initial round with a decision of the leadership Tuesday to call off around-the-clock sessions which had tied the Senate in knots through six all-night meetings.

Thursday's test will come with a vote on a petition filed by 23 Democrats and 8 Republicans who call themselves liberals to put a limit on debate. There appears to be no chance that this will get the two-thirds support required to invoke cloture—the Senate's name for a restriction on debate.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas proposed that this vote come at 2 p.m. EST Thursday.

Johnson reiterated, in a talk with reporters, his view that the filing of the cloture petition "is very premature—and it will not get the job done—it will only prolong debate."

Similarly, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill) has taken a stand that cloture effort now is premature. He and Johnson both said they would vote against it.

The leaders take the view that a clearer understanding must be developed as to what type of bill is to be passed before a successful effort can be made to shut off the 18 Southern filibusterers.

Using a three-team system, the Southerners have demonstrated that they can not be halted by round-the-clock sessions.

Johnson made it clear he believes an adverse vote on cloture would merely encourage the Southerners, declaring the result "will prolong debate instead of curtailing it."

The Texan raised the possibility that the liberals would not even get 50 per cent of the votes for their move.

Dirksen and other Republicans who talked with Vice President Richard M. Nixon on the Senate floor Tuesday night said afterwards he had counted himself out of any effort now to round up the needed votes for cloture.

However, it seemed certain that Johnson and Dirksen did expect to get the necessary two-thirds for cloture at some future time.

Neither was willing to discuss publicly the strategy to be followed in stripping down the legislation to the point where this vote could be mustered.

Some senators believe the vehicle for a successful cloture vote eventually will be the House civil rights bill when it arrives in the Senate, probably next week. That branch opens its debate on the subject Thursday.

The House bill is expected to be less far-reaching than the proposals now before the Senate.

The Senate plans to continue its civil rights debate today.

There was a possibility of a vote on one of the strongest of the civil rights measures, a proposal to empower the attorney general to bring injunctions to enforce all types of rights.

This is the old "Part III" provision which the Senate stripped out of the 1957 civil rights bill.

Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) called up this proposal Tuesday to assure that it would get one of the first Senate voting tests even though he said he was opposed to it. His action brought protests from the most ardent civil rights proponents, not because they oppose the proposal but because Case offered it in such a way that any senator could cut off debate by making a motion to table it.

The around-the-clock sessions began at noon Feb. 29 and continued for 157 hours with the only significant interruption occurring over Sunday. This was by far the longest such talkfest in the Senate's history.

Says Ill-Fated Plane Lacked Overfill Valve

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

DALLAS (AP)—A Lockheed engineer testified today that the Braniff Electra plane which crashed near Buffalo, Tex., Sept. 29 had no overfill valve on its fuel tank.

E. A. Boniface, power plant staff engineer for Lockheed, said that the valve, an optional item, was designed to prevent overfilling of tanks so that excess pressures would not be built up.

He was one of the first witnesses to testify in a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing probing the airline crash which claimed 34 lives.

Most of the morning session was devoted to the introduction of reports from an earlier hearing held by the CAB at Buffalo, and reports from engineers who attempted to determine the cause of the crash by partially reassembling the debris from the wreckage.

T. J. Collins, senior specialist, Aircraft Systems, engineering division of the Bureau of Safety in Washington, said that the destruction of the plane was so near complete that little useful information could be obtained.

K. C. Sonner, also of the safety bureau in Washington, presented reports on the aircraft records and inspections. He said that the only inspection had been the one before the plane was put into service by Braniff and the turbojet aircraft which had flown about 122 hours in scheduled and training flights was not due for a regular inspection until it had reached 200 hours.

Robert W. Chrisp, chief of the hearing and report section for the CAB, presided at today's investigation held at a downtown Dallas hotel.

The more than 100 persons attending the hearing included CAB officials, airline aircraft manufacturers, and airline pilots' representatives. Also in the audience were attorneys representing the families of the victims of the air crash.

A team of eight CAB experts, using remnants of the big turboprop Electra, have partially reassembled the giant airliner behind the locked doors of a Dallas warehouse. Their findings are expected to be disclosed this week.

The $2,300,000 airliner, which had been plagued with mechanical difficulties during the slightly more than one week Braniff had it in service, exploded at a high altitude.

Two theories seemed to be favored. One is that an inboard engine "froze," exploded and ripped off a wing. The other is that the engine hurled a propeller blade into the pressurized cabin, causing it to explode.

At the earlier hearing, a theory that a bomb could have been placed aboard the plane was discounted.

A veteran Braniff engineer, Jackson Parker, testified at the Buffalo probe that the plane was troubled with an oil leak, a defective fuel pump, an inoperative propeller valve and a faulty generator on the day of the crash.

A few minutes before the crash, a radio message was received from the pilot, saying the generator was performing satisfactorily but that solonids controlling the pitch of the right inboard propeller was out.

Decline Forecast For Beef Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today that imports of beef—a subject of sharp complaint from livestock producers—may decline somewhat this year from last year's high levels.

Much beef being imported is of the lower grades used in making processed meats, such as sausages, frankfurters and the like. Supplies of this type of beef have been relatively short in this country because farmers have been holding back lower grade animals —mostly cows—for herd expansion purposes.

The forecast of a decline in imports was made at a time when the U.S. Tariff Commission is preparing for hearings on a livestock producer complaint against imports. Domestic producers want the commission to raise import duties or set up quotas to restrict imports.

The department said lower average domestic prices for processing beef will tend to reduce imports.

"As prices decline, the relatively fixed costs of tariffs, freight and marketing costs reduce the competitive advantage of foreign producers," the department said.

The department estimated meat production this year will be about 27,800,000,000 pounds, or slightly more than last year.

But with a growing population, per capita consumption may be about a pound below last year's rate of 119.6 pounds, the department said.

The agency said retail beef prices will probably average close to 1959 levels. Pork prices, now below a year earlier, will probably rise above 1959 levels this spring and for the year will average somewhat higher than last year.

School Board Gets Reports

Snyder School Trustees last night heard a brief report on the Lamar Junior High building project and a preliminary study of school zone boundaries.

Sup. T. E. McCollum and Doug Flynn, school business manager, said plans were nearing completion for requesting bids to finish the Lamar project. A contract may be let in a week or 10 days, the architects have indicated.

C. D. Henry, director of curriculum, presented a preliminary report on school zone boundaries and bus routes. The board and administration plan to devote considerable time to study of some problems in the next few weeks, and some boundaries may be revised, it was indicated.

Fine Is Upheld For False Advertisements

AUSTIN (AP)—A $200 fine for two Amarillo men convicted of placing false advertisements in Amarillo papers was upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals today.

John R. Dowd and Joe Jones, owners of the Dowd-Jones Furniture Store, were convicted in the Potter County Court-at-Law following advertisements which were placed in the Amarillo Daily News and Amarillo Globe Times May 21, 1959.

A jury found that ads listing dryers and air conditioners at prices at cost or below were false. The court dismissed the appeal when the state showed that notice of appeal was not given.

High Flights Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has decided against having U. S. planes make high-level flights to Berlin in defiance of the Soviet Union's objections, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter disclosed today.

Herter said the United States, Britain and France are fully agreed they have a right to make flights above 10,000 feet, which Russia insists is an agreed ceiling.

But, he said, the U. S. government has now decided there is no technical necessity for such flights and therefore the President has ruled against them.

Herter made this disclosure when asked at a news conference what he thought about a statement by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev recently that the great powers should do nothing now that might hurt prospects for the May summit conference in Paris.

Later, Herter said the high level flight decision had nothing to do with the summit.

He also denied that a firm decision ever had been made to resume flights above 10,000 feet, although 10 days ago high officials here said the United States, Britain and France had agreed on such a move.

Cites Needs Of Israel

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Israel, still struggling for existence, faces the great needs of political and economic security, Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said today.

"Our independence is still in danger," he said. "We are still beleaguered; we still face vital problems in regard to immigrant absorption; our deserts still await redemption."

Only "a great spiritual dedication" can overcome the obstacles to developing a free and independent nation, he said in a speech at Brandeis University.

Ben-Gurion came to Brandeis to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree.

His visit to this country was protested in Washington by top diplomats from the Arab countries. Arab students in Boston colleges picketed his hotel Tuesday night.

Ben-Gurion, however, didn't mention the Arab situation as such in his speech. And he made no reference to any plans to visit President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Christian A. Herter while in this country.

Sen. Kennedy Sets Record

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)— Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential stock skyrocketed to new highs today as a result of his record-toppling performance in the New Hampshire primary.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, unopposed on the Republican ballot, also smashed the GOP record.

With all but one of the state's 300 precincts reported from Tuesday's primary, the Massachusetts senator had 42,909 votes in the Democratic preferential poll. This more than doubled the highest figure heretofore rolled up by any other Democratic presidential aspirant in the New Hampshire election.

Nixon's complete total reached 65,077. The previous high: 56,464, was established in 1956 by President Eisenhower.

The New Hampshire election was the first of 16 state presidential primaries.

Despite Nixon's record vote, Kennedy broke down the traditional 2-1 Republican margin of superiority in the state. The ratio in Tuesday's election was about 3-2.

Two significant results of the election were immediately apparent:

1. Nixon's spectacular showing should go a long way toward dispelling the last remnants of any Nixon-can't-win talk. The vice president did not come to New Hampshire to campaign personally. Top GOP leaders in the state carried the burden of his campaign.

2. Kennedy, already considered one of the leading Democratic presidential candidates, if not the front runner, moved closer to the center of the spotlight. His most enthusiastic supporters had not dared go above 38,000 in their forecasts of his poll in the "beauty contest."

Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, chairman of the Nixon-for-President Committee, had predicted that Nixon would exceed Eisenhower's previous all-time high. Many New Hampshire political observers doubted it.

Two Palaces Of Sukarno Are Strafed

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A jet fighter strafed two of President Sukarno's palaces and a fishing village today, wounding 19 persons.

Officials blamed a disgruntled Indonesian air force pilot, a second lieutenant whose father was arrested a few weeks ago for illegal possession of arms.

President Sukarno's Merdeka (Freedom) Palace in downtown Jakarta was the first target. The jet, identified by Radio Jakarta as a MIG17, dived low and sprayed the palace with machine-gun bullets. Three persons within the palace and a painter working outside were wounded, Radio Jakarta announced.

Sukarno and his five children, however, escaped injury. The children were in the palace as the bullets cut several holes in the roof and walls. Sukarno was presiding over a meeting of the Supreme Advisory Council in an adjacent building.

The lieutenant took off from Kemajoran airfield here. After firing on Merdeka Palace he headed his jet 35 miles south of Jakarta to Bogor, where he strafed the Bogor Palace.

Finally, he flew to the fishing village of Djilintjik, 10 miles northeast of Jakarta, and sprayed bullets there. Fifteen persons were wounded.

Soviet-made MIGs make up part of Indonesia's fighter squadrons.

Rescue Crew Moves Behind Fire In Mine

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—A rescue crew has worked its way behind the fire that has trapped 18 men four miles in a coal mine for more than 24 hours.

How they did it wasn't known, but an Island Creek Coal Co. spokesman said the fire was definitely under control and had been bypassed, perhaps by means of a tunnel parallel to the gas and fume-filled section of the mine.

"They (the crew) should be within 500 feet of where the trapped men are believed to have barricaded themselves," the spokesman said.

The word raised hopes again that the miners would be rescued alive.

"We're very hopeful," said N.T. Camicia, vice president of operations.

Outside the mine, eight miles southwest of here, near the Kentucky border, men manning the crews and marshaling materials outnumbered the crowd of relatives and others shinned by the bitter weather.

New snow, up to four inches, was forecast for the area, and temperatures were in the teens. The snow started soon after daybreak, and mountain roads in the area were turned into slick slides, impeding travel.

State police sent a rush call to the Road Commission for cinder-ing crews and plows.

"We assume that the trapped men have barricaded themselves off," said Robert M. Johnson, manager of Island Creek. The company's Holden 22 mine is eight miles from this southern West Virginia city.

Johnson said one of those trapped is William K. Donaldson, mine safety director, who could guide the men in survival tactics. "He's had experience with this sort of emergency," said Johnson.

The manager said flames had broken out on both sides of the slate fall. A team of 40 men battled in smoke and fumes to put out the blaze that ate into coal and slate and timber props. Streams of hot water and a mucky floor hampered their efforts.

Rescuers couldn't move on 2,000 feet further, where the imprisoned were believed to be, until the fires were practically out.

Officials theorized that the slate fall that triggered the 200-foot long blockade broke a trolley wire which ignited coal and timbers.

Black from burrowing through coal and dirt in a 14-inch ventilation passage, Willis Carter, 46, and Kyle Blair, 29, told how they crawled on their bellies for nearly three hours in a dramatic escape.

Carter, whose brother James is one of those trapped, said eight or 10 other workers also could have escaped.

"I tried to get them to follow me but they wouldn't listen," said Carter, who is responsible for ventilation at the mine.

"He did it all," said Blair, praising his begrimed companion. "I knew he could get me out, and he did."

Daily News Launches Plans For Huge 'Futurama' Issue

Preparations were launched this week for a massive "Futurama" issue of the Snyder Daily News scheduled for release early in May.

The issue will be a salute to Snyder and Scurry county for tremendous advancements in the oil industry, business, housing and enthusing trend in agricultural development which has been taking hold.

It will note the 10th anniversary of Snyder's exciting new surge in economy through the major oil development of the late 40's.

The theme of the issue will point up Snyder's "Big Ten" years of progress—1950 to 1960— while attempting to interpret and project the bright future that lies ahead of us immediately.

"While it is not possible for us to estimate accurately how many pages will be in the issue," asserted Herb Feather, publisher, "early indications point to the possibility of 100 or more!"

Wacil McNair, editor, added: "We have promised editorial content to support more than 125 pages, and enthusiasm of everyone who has been advised of our plans seems to indicate that we have a gigantic task ahead of us."

To set up proper coordination and timing of the Futurama issue, the Daily News has arranged with Brice Worthington, former newspaper publisher from Sheldon, Iowa, to assist with the undertak-

PLANNING "FUTURAMA" ISSUE—Mapping plans for the big "Futurama" issue of the Snyder Daily News which will be published in May are Wacil McNair, editor of the Daily News, left, and Brice Worthington, who will direct operations for the huge special issue.

Government Payroll Is Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A study of the budget for the 1961 fiscal year shows employment and payroll costs rising in civilian agencies of the government, while civilian employment in the Defense Department is decreasing.

The Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures said the overall trend is up. The committee, headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va), released the report today.

Budgeted personnel requests for executive branch agencies for the fiscal year which starts July 1, include average civilian employment of 2,365,339 and payroll costs of $12,800,000,000, the report said.

In 1959, the last year for which actual head count figures are available, the total employment figure was 2,315,243 and the payroll was $12,600,000,000.

Hales Re-Elected Boys Club Prexy

Announcement of the election of officers and board of directors for the Boys Club was made at a banquet here last night as Walter Hales was re-elected president of the Club for the coming year.

Other officers who have been elected are J. C. Massengill, vice president; Freddie Bullard, second vice president; Mrs. Bill Lee, secretary; and Joe Cargile, treasurer.

New directors include John Boren, C. T. McLaughlin, Frank Weaver, Shelby Coker, Gene Dulaney, Tommy Ivison, Jerry Jackson, Charles Musslewhite, Dan Gibson, L. D. Logan, Nathan Benitez, Mrs. Bill Lee, Jr., and Norman Fulks. Boren, McLaughlin, Weaver, and Coker were those re-elected to the directorship posts, while the remainder of those elected are serving for the first time.

In addition, new committee chairmen were announced, and are as follows: Finance, Dulaney; Personnel, Boren; Program, Bill Zimmerman; Property and Building, Massengill; Public Relations, Joe Williamson; Camp, E. G. Garrett; Nominating, Coker; and Evaluation, Herman Trigg.

The Annual Report as released specified several items of note. Concerning club attendance, the Boys Club had a record high of 639 members at the conclusion of registration for 1959. Attendance based on the door count totaled 29,289 boys who visited the club during the year. The daily average was 98.3 per day for 308 days.

In the field of donations, the Acacia Study Club donated to the Shop Fund [illegible] from a benefit bridge that they sponsored in the spring and $350.00 from a Style Show which was conducted in the fall. The Optimist Club, P-TA and the Kiwanis Club sponsored boys on the Yellowstone Trip. Also, many individuals donated funds or equipment which are included in the Financial Report and the Property Inventory.

One of the highlights of the year was the setting up and placing in operation of the Woodworking Shop under the direction of Bill McLaughlin. Lumber for projects has been donated by several business firms in Snyder. Operating hours of the Shop are 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and 9 to 12 a.m. on Saturdays. The Shop was made available to the boys through donations from the Acacia Study Club.

The Club is in operation from 2:30 to 9:00 p.m. weekdays and from 9 to 12 a.m. Saturdays during school year. In the summer the hours are 9:00 to 5:00 p.m. daily. The Club is closed Sundays the year round.

Roundtable Sessions For Scouters Set

Monthly roundtable meetings for Boy Scout leaders will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the high school.

Cub leaders will discuss in full the Boy Scout Circus to be held April 30, and reservations for events will be made. Distribution of program quarterlies will be made to those who have not already received their copies.

The Commemorative Tribute to the national monument depicting the 50 years of Scouting in America will be discussed, and some of the basic training will be offered, according to Othal Ellis, Cub roundtable commissioners.

The Boy Scout roundtable will be spent mostly on the Scout Circus plans. The junior leaders conference to be held March 25-26 at Camp Ed Murphy will be fully planned, as well as the basic training course for scoutmasters to be held in connection while the junior leaders conference is in progress.

Also, film slides telling the story of the two summer camps probably will be shown.

A discussion of the circus by all scoutmasters will be led by George Stewart, circus director of the First Christian Church Troop No. 109, will discuss the eight defense steps toward safe swimming which is part of the health and safety program for Boy Scout units. As the spring and summer seasons approach, the boys will swim, and it is the aim of the health and safety committee that all scouting units have a safe swimming season, scout leaders said.

Negro Sitdowns In Houston Expanded

HOUSTON (AP) — Negro sitdowns at segregated lunch counters spread to two more stores here Tuesday less than 12 hours after a Negro man told police four white youths attacked him.

Felton Turner, 27, told police he was tied to a tree by his feet after the youths beat him and scratched a series of K's on his chest and stomach. He was not seriously hurt.

A white man, Arthur Lynn Gardner, 21, of Beaumont, Tuesday was arrested at a drug store, the scene of one sitdown. Police said he carried a straight-edge razor. He was charged with carrying a prohibited weapon.

Shortly after Gardner's arrest a Negro minister appeared at the store (Walgreen's) with two unidentified white pastors.

The Rev. John D. Moore, Negro minister of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, said "We just came down so that the colored demonstrators and the white spectators could see us."

He said they had received a report there might be trouble at the store.

The drug store is 10 blocks west of three stores affected earlier by the sitdowns which started here Friday. All were peaceful.

Turner told police one of the white youths said they were hired to do a job because of the recent sitdowns staged by students from the all-Negro Texas Southern University. Turner was released from the hospital after treatment.

The FBI has entered the case but no arrests have been made.

Gardner told police he came to Houston from Beaumont to attend barber college. He said he heard about the sitdowns and went to the drug store to see one.

Asst. Police Chief George Seber said that Gardner told him the razor "came open a little in his pocket and pinched his hand. So he took it out and absently stropped it on his hand before putting it back in his pocket."

The manager of the drug store closed the lunch counter as 48 Negroes entered the store and took 18 seats at the counter. At 5 p.m. the Negroes left and one told a newsman, "We'll see you tomorrow."

About a dozen Negroes walked into a Woolworth store next to the drug store and took seats at the lunch counter.

There were no demonstrations at Waco, where Monday two sitdowns occurred at a drug store.

Lunch counters at the two supermarkets and a drug store affected earlier by the sitdowns were closed Tuesday.

Finch Jury Busy With Measurements

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "How long is an inch?"

The jury weighing the guilt or innocence of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, interrupted their deliberations Tuesday to ask that question.

A bailiff — summoned by the jury foreman — began to search for a ruler. But he was called back.

"Never mind," he was told. "We have one."

They didn't explain but one guess was that they wanted to measure something on a scale map of the area in which the Finch home is located.

Dr. Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, are charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder. Both crimes carry a possible death penalty.

The five men and seven women of the jury were given the case late Friday.

So far they have spent only little more than 1[illegible] hours in the cheerless little jury room.

Soon after starting deliberations they asked to be read more than 400 pages of testimony—much of it dealing with the doctor's own story of what happened the night his wife, Barbara Jean, 36, was shot to death last July 18.

The state says she was murdered. Dr. Finch says a pistol discharged accidentally, fatally wounding her, as he tried to throw it away.

The reading was completed Tuesday and the jury spent more than three hours in the bare-walled room, seated in hard wooden chairs at a bare, end-to-end pair of tables.

TV Thrives As Actors On Strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Although the actors' strike has idled a vast portion of what Hollywood reverently calls The Industry the movies' stepchild, TV, is thriving.

Ironically, television caused the dispute which led the 14,000-member Screen Actors Guild to go on strike against the major movie studios.

An estimated 10,000 studio employes now are working on TV film series and on films by independent producers who already have come to terms with SAG. The guild has a separate contract with the studios covering production of films for television. Due to expire March 31, it has been extended for 60 days.

Before the actors' walkout Monday, TV films already were supplying more employment than were the eight so-called theatrical pictures on which production had to be halted, the SAG said. However, TV pay rates are lower than theatrical rates.

The key issue in the strike is the actors' demand for a share in the profits of post-1948 movies sold to TV. The major studios say this would be paying an actor twice for the same job. The actors' reply, in effect, is that studios also are getting paid twice when they sell films to TV.

Two efforts to end the strike were launched Tuesday.

Federal mediator Jules Medoff sought to bring both sides together at the bargaining table.

The guild huddled with a half-dozen craft unions to determine if their demands for a share in TV residuals could be combined into a smaller package more acceptable to the producers.

4 Americans Are Victims Of Quake

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The number of known American dead in the Agadir earthquake rose to four today with the death of Norene Bauer, 16, of Placentia, Calif. The total death toll has been estimated as high as 12,000.

She was with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Bauer, on the top floor of the Bella Vista Apartments when the quake struck, demolishing the building.

Bauer and the girl were pulled alive from the wreckage, and the body of Mrs. Bauer was found March 2.

The father and daughter were flown to the U. S. Naval Hospital at Port Lyautey where the girl died, hospital authorities said. Death was caused by a cerebral blood clot. Bauer is an executive of Login International Corp., of San Francisco, which operated fruit-juice concentrate and fishmeal plants in Agadir.

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—A Moroccan carpenter and his 10-year-old son owe their lives to a sturdy workbench that sheltered them when the earthquakes shattered Agadir.

The two were pulled from the wreckage of their home Tuesday after having been trapped eight days. They were wedged beneath the workbench that held the carpenter's lathe.

The boy directed the rescuers, yelling instructions from beneath the wreckage.

ing. Such an edition would be beyond the capacity of the regular staff members.

Worthington has had extensive newspaper experience in many sections of the country, starting out as a cub reporter in Stuttgart and Little Rock, Ark., where he worked with the Arkansas Democrat while attending Little Rock Junior College.

Later Worthington went to the staff of the Arkansas state bureau of the United Press (1937-38) and then to Moorhead, Minn., where he served successively as sports, telegraph and managing editor of the Daily News, interrupted by a four-year stint in the Navy during World War II.

In 1949 he became partner-publisher of the twice-a-week Sheldon Sun, where he served in the dual capacity of editor-advertising manager until it was sold in 1958.

Since then he has assisted publishers in Texas, New Mexico, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota in preparation of large special editions.

The Daily News, besides presenting rich historic feature material on the growth and development of Snyder and area and its business and industry, will attempt to tell with particulars the amazing and interesting story of the solid and stable development of the county.

The staff will be working day and night to develop highlights, as well as to produce an insight into what the future seems to hold.

The Daily News staff respectfully urges that any and all readers forward to this paper background and history which would be in interest to residents of the area. Old pictures will be accepted gratefully and returned undamaged.

Persons desiring to send such a significant and historic publication to friends and relatives are urged to contact the Daily News and place their orders early. The issue will contain hundreds of pictures and it will relate the area's history as well as point up its progressiveness.

Newsstand copies and special-ordered copies will be available for 25 cents. Place your order early so adequate numbers can be printed, because earliest press runs will get under way as rapidly as they can be prepared. Production is scheduled to begin as early as the week of March 26.

Moores Have A Busy Day

LUTON, England (AP) — The expecting Moores had a busy day today.

Yvonne Moore was packing for departure tonight for the United States, where she plans to give her unborn child to a South Carolina couple for adoption.

Leo Moore, the husband, was out in the back yard burning a second day's heap of what he called "abusive, anonymous letters."

The letters were severely critical of the Moores' decision to give their first baby to Wilbur and Billie Prescott of North Charleston, S. C.

Mrs. Moore, 39, is expecting the baby April 17. She flies tonight to New York by Iceland Airlines and and through the courtesy of the Prescotts.

Liz Is Nursing A Bruised Leg

NEW YORK (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor nursed a bruise on a shapely leg today, but it could have been worse.

When the actress slipped on the ice outside a Philadelphia restaurant Tuesday it was feared she had broken her left leg.

But an X-ray at the Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center here showed the injury to be a bone bruise above the ankle—note a fracture.

It was taped and she returned with her husband, Eddie Fisher, to their New York apartment.

WOMEN

Southern Girls Know How To Get Their Man

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

SOUTHERN GIRLS, pretty or not, have no trouble snaring husbands. It's easy to see why.

A Southern girl may try to impress a boy with her clothes (and she's just as proud of what her mother whips up on the sewing machine, as the store-bought kind. She plots to trap him with her cooking (and she'll never bore him talking about her corn-bread recipe.)

She makes no secret of the fact that she is looking for a husband (and takes a "that's perfectly natural" attitude.)

But she has no desire to compete with a man, working or playing, as a rule. And she majors in making a man feel important.

Three typical Southern girls on a visit North honey-toned men and women with delightful but unimportant conversation, the kind of girl-talk that is so strictly feminine, it is a joy to hear.

There were Miss Azalea Trail, dark - eyed dark - haired Suzanne Gisclard, 18, and her ladies-in-waiting, Jacque Warren, 18, and Ann Blackwell, 17, of Mobile, Ala. — delightful, merry girls who revel in the sheer joy of being young girls.

They walked around blustery New York looking like bridesmaids in azalea-pink hooped costumes and enormous picture hats. They were on a bonus tour, and were ecstatic about everything. Suzanne won in addition to the tour a $2,000 college scholarship and luggage. And they will all be in the Junior Miss Pageant this spring.

"It is truly, simply, heavenly, divine and wonderful!" the girls chorused to any slight gesture of kindness.

"Suzie has such poise. You should have seen her on television this morning," volunteered Jacque. "We were going to make one li'l ol' personal appearance and the announcer found out she could sing. He asked her, and she did."

"She has a beautiful voice," says Anne proudly.

"Everyone was so startled that Suzie acted like a professional and without any rehearsal," their chaperone, Mrs. Naomi Webb said.

"Oh, that's because I sing at home parties and at church," says the Valentine-lipped Suzanne.

Would she do it as a career?

"Heavens, no! I want to get married," she says.

The girls were surprised at all the makeup Northern girls wear, but they were glad to get a few makeup tips they might use for some important parties.

"My hair is straight as a picket fence usually," Suzie says, "so I'm having fun with my curly salon permanent."

Suzanne is from a queenly family. Her older sister was Miss Maid of Cotton in 1944 and Mrs. America in 1958.

"Isn't this dress beautiful, though?" she asks. "It has 5,000 yards of thread in it and 67 yards of fabric. Imagine!"

The men around agreed it was the most beautiful dress they'd ever seen, and how often does a girl wear a dress with 5,000 yards of thread in it, they asked.

"In Operetta Time" Captivates Scurry Concert Audience

From the minute they opened their mouths to sing, they had the audience in the palms of their hands. If you missed the Scurry Concert Associations' presentation of Janet Carlson and Bernard Izzo "In Operetta Time", you missed a delightful evening of beautiful classics, popular hits and beloved old-timers. Both these performers had lovely, easy-to-listen-to voices and delivered each selection with distinction, skill and obvious pleasure.

Miss Carlson and Mr. Izzo showed professional ability and stage poise, yet charmed their audience with a warmth and friendliness sometimes lacking in concert appearances.

Mr. Izzo gave an excellent performance in all phases of the program, but he completely captivated his audience with his personality songs. "I Got A Song" and "Every Day Is Ladies' Day With Me."

The lovely Miss Carlson especially pleased the audience with her renditions of "GoodNight My Someone" from The Music Man and "I Could Have Danced All Night" from "My Fair Lady".

Not only did this talented couple charm their audience with duets of well-known favorites, they also held them in rapt attention during Mozart's "La ci Darem La Mano" and Leoncavallo's "Si, t'amo! Si, t'amo! E Parti Domattina". Then they topped it all off with a comic rendition of "The Deaf Old Woman", and encore number which added many laughs to an evening already filled with much happy music.

A bonus attraction was a piano solo by the accompanist Mr. David Burk. He performed Brahms "Rhapsody Opus 79, No. 2", then followed this with the delightful "Polka" by Shostakovick.

All in all, it was a wonderful evening of talented artists, and music all the way from inspiring to humorous.

If you held tickets and missed this program, we're sorry. Be sure and see the season's closing performance, the Navy Band Concert, April 2— ROGER GEE.

Only Child Finds Teen Road Rough

AP Newsfeatures

"PARENTS SEEM to expect more of an only child than they should," writes a 16-year-old Midwestern girl who says that up until now she has been "performing like a trained seal for them."

She doesn't object to their affection and interest, but she thinks that when there is just one child at home, the parents has nothing else to do but worry about her.

"Why can't my mother let me enjoy friendships, without trying to control my every move?" she asks. "She hovers over me when boys are around and acts like I'm not appreciated if the boy doesn't fall all over me.

"My father sometimes sits in his car, watching from a distance to make sure that the boy leaves a dance with me. Then he hurries home and tries to get the car in the garage before we drive up to the house. This really puts a crimp in an evening because the boys always know what he is up to.

"My parents take offense if I am not invited to every party that goes on in town. They can't imagine anyone not loving me as they do, I guess.

Gilded Cage

"What bothers me is the prospect of this sort of thing continuing. They don't want me to date steady, so I don't, just to please them. I must go on every vacation with them. I must go to visit friends, on Sunday when they go visiting. I must go to my grandmother's, if they decide it is a good idea. My mother will not let me buy a hat, dress or shoes unless she is along to help me select them. Lately I have gotten the feeling that my family keeps me in a cage, and that even when they let me out briefly, they are hovering over it awaiting my return.

"I don't want to hurt their feelings but they are making me very nervous by their attitude. Should I tell them?"

Your problem is a double one at the moment, of course, and it may very well ease up later. Parents are likely to be overly protective toward a girl in her early teens, especially when she begins to date. They worry about her, and they should, until she displays signs of maturity, and being able to cope with situations that are new to her because of her age.

Parental Love

They love you, and want other people to love you, and in that feeling they are not different from parents who have more children. The difference is that the mother of a large family cannot worry about small details such as whether her offspring are popular enough to go to every party in town.

Boys will never resent your father's indulgence toward you, and a good type will respect your father for his protective instinct. It is the way a boy who likes you should feel about you. The fact that it crimps his style as far as necking goes, does not enter into it. If you want to be cozy with him, invite him to your own living room. Chances are your parents will let you sit up with him there, so that he may get all the sweet nothings off his chest.

Make Your Own Leprechauns

AP Newsfeatures

LEPRECHAUNS are sure to abound on St. Patrick's Day. It's not only a good day for a party, but the tiny inhabitants of the Emerald Isle help decorate the St. Patrick's Day party table for a festive treat.

Little leprechauns that would be real fun for adults and a thrill for children are easy to make and a perfect conversation piece for any party. Designer Conny von Hagen has evolved some charming elf-like characters by crushing aluminum foil into some enchanting figures.

Staft with a sheet of foil four feet long she suggests. Crush one end into a ball for the head, then crush the rest into a long rope. Turn up the end opposite the head and place in this "hook" another crushed piece of foil about one foot long for legs. Press the "hook" securely around the added piece. Turn up the shorter length for feet.

Add another crushed sheet of foil about a foot long just below the head for arms. Press the foil into hand shapes. Now, add more sheets of foil to this basic shape until a thick body is obtained. Add foil to the head until it becomes thick enough to mold like clay. Press in facial features, making sure the nose is long and pointy. Pin or glue on pointed ears cut from foil.

Dress the figure in a circle of green felt, a cone-shaped green hat and pointy shoes of brown felt.

Facial features are cut from colored felt and glued into place. A scrap of fur on hair from a child's doll makes the beard, if you want a beard.

Smaller leprechauns can be made, if you desire. Green foil gift wrap can be used to make cones about six inches high. A foam ball is added for a head, the face is decorated with felt to form features, and a green foil hat completes the picture. You can decorate it with shamrock stickers if you like. The arms are of the same foil gift wrap, formed into cones and pinned to the body.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARTY—Leprechauns are easy to make with aluminum foil and green felt, for gay decorations.

Hasty Cooks

Have you ever tried to chill a gelatin dessert in a hurry? What homemaker hasn't? One manufacturer of refrigerators has given some thought to this homemaking problem. A special tubular glass shelf is incorporated in the new refrigerator. A current of cold air passes through the shelf, making its surface several degrees cooler than the rest of the refrigerator. Desserts and beverages placed on this shelf will be chilled in a minimum of time.

The new Tudor and Fordor Falcon Wagons—ninth and seventh wonders of the Ford wagon world

THE NEW FORD FALCON WAGONS

America's station wagon specialists complete the world's largest wagon family with TWO NEW-SIZE wagons. They're Falcons in size and savings—and full-fledged Ford wagon wonders when it comes to work! With 2 feet less car to manage, you're a genius at solving traffic problems—a past master at parking.

Falcon Wagons are priced up to $154 less than other 6-passenger compact wagons. The 2-door model is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger wagon.*

Falcon gives the best gas mileage of any American-built wagon, on regular fuel. You can go up to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline!

You get other Falcon savings, too. Repairs cost less. Change oil only once in 4,000 miles. And the Falcon's aluminized muffler normally lasts twice as long as the ordinary kind.

Longest load floor in the compact field is yours in a Falcon. It's over 7 ft. long, with cargo space totaling more than 76 cubic feet!

Full-six-passenger room, too, because Falcon Wagons are built for people. There's room for hats, hips and legs. Come see these newest wonders from the Ford wagon world! FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company

Current Visitors To Capitol Likely To Encounter A Shock

BY INEZ ROBB

This is a nervous time for suspicious citizens to visit Washington. Worrywarts who enter the city via Union Station are due for a traumatic shock when from that vantage point they look up for a first glimpse of the Capitol.

The splendid dome of the noble old building is a bright, undeniable red, floating over the structure and Washington like a big, gaudy cherry atop a very large dish of vanilla ice cream.

Employes in the office of the Capitol architect are accustomed to indignant phone calls from visiting firemen demanding to know when Khrushchev is returning and why it is necessary to paint part of the Capitol and town red, even so.

Well, Khrushchev isn't returning. And the red dome is only temporary, a part of the extensive work now being done on the building including the controversial addition to the venerable main facade.

At the moment the Capitol is a mess. High wooden walls, with no provisos for sidewalk superintendents, keep Congressmen and their constituents from tumbling into huge construction pits.

The construction is at the stage where the uninitiated eye—meaning mine—despairs that order will ever be restored. I had visions of the next President riding a crane down to the bottom of the excavations, there to take the oath of office next Jan. 20.

But the office of the Capitol architect assures me that the next President will take the oath on the new portico, complete and pristine to the outward eye.

In fact, the whole exterior of the new addition will be completed by Oct. 1. On that target date the Capitol architect must begin construction of the stands to seat some 15,000 privileged persons who, from a sitting stance, will witness the formal inauguration of the next President in time-honored fashion on the Capitol portico.

Some of the rooms in thenew addition won't be completed, except for heating facilities. However the entry on the ground floor which the new President will use to gain the portico will be finished. So will the corridors the President will use and the lobby off the new portico where the President will pause to adjust his cravat before Washington's bracing January air to take the oath.

As for the currently red dome, it will be white as snow by May 1. Not since 1864 has there been a complete repair job on the great dome. Long ago when the Capitol was judged not sufficiently strong to support a marble dome, as planned, the dome was built of cast iron made to resemble stone.

Any corroded iron in the dome has been removed and replaced by stainless steel, although the ribs of the dome were found in good shape after the rib covers were removed for inspection.

The dome has been painted every four years since the Civil War, with the result that many of its details have been smothered in accumulated pigment. (Right now, the dome is in a red lead and oil state.) By next May visitors at the Capitol will see something that scarcely a handful of persons knew was there.

Beneath the Statue of Freedom that crowns the dome, spectators will be able to read, highlighted in chrome yellow, the motto of the United States of America, E PLURIBUS UNUM.

Pavement Plato Gets Some Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Dear Pavement Plato:

"My girl is pretty, red-haired, has a fine job, stands to inherit money, and can cook better than a French chef.

"We get along fine, but she says that when I kiss her she gets goose pimples. What should I do?—Perplexed.

Dear Perplexed: Marry her, son. What else could you be looking for in life?

Dear Plato:

"My friends all joke at me because they say I am getting too fat. But actually I am not fat at all. I just look fat because I wear double-breasted winter underwear to keep me warm. What would you do if you were me?"—Pudge.

Dear Pudge:

Move to Florida, or give yourself up to the Smithsonian Institution.

Dear Plato:

"I have an etiquette problem. Is it okay to write love letters with a typewriter on business stationery, or should they be written in pen and ink on personal stationery?"—Proper Soul.

Dear Proper Soul:

Neither. The only safe way to write love letters is by hand, in sand, and while the tide is coming in.

Dear Plato:

"I am concerned about my son. He is 17 years old, hates rock 'n' roll music, never has smoked marijuana or carried a switchblade knife. He doesn't date steady, never wants to borrow the family car, and spends all his spare time working to earn enough money to pay his own way through college.

"What should I do with this paragon of a boy?"—Uneasy.

Dear Uneasy:

This kid sounds dangerous. Obviously, must be hiding something. Beat him until he confesses.

Evaluation Of Ike Trip Due Later

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower got a thunderous reception in South America—sprinkled with some unpleasant episodes—but the people he visited may judge the worth of his journey on the follow-up.

In the talk he made to the nation Tuesday night there wasn't much indication of follow-up in the sense of new programs or projects to help the South Americans. He talked mostly in generalities.

He took an extremely optimistic view of what he found on his journey. He said our relations with our sister republics, with very few exceptions, reached an all-time high.

Some students of Latin America may question this and wonder whether even a trip by such a popular figure as the President can wipe out the ill will toward America demonstrated when Vice President Richard M. Nixon went there.

It's too soon to know whether the President has, or will have, any new projects or programs in mind for the nations he visited or their neighbors. He still has time before leaving office to come up with some.

Still, that time is limited, extremely limited when considered against the busy year ahead of him: a summit meeting, a proposed visit to the Soviet Union, the Republican covention, the presidential campaign.

Eisenhower did indicate that this country will try to be helpful but he still stressed the virtue of self-reliance among the Latin Americans in solving their dilemmas.

He said: "In our discussions, I stressed that all nations—large or small, powerful or weak—should assume some responsibility for the advancement of humankind, in freedom.

"Though we of the United States will, within the framework of our world situation and economic capacity, assist all we can, we look for the time when all the free nations will feel a common responsibility for our common destiny."

The President touched on a sore point among Latin Americans when he said: "Another persistent misunderstanding which I sought to correct wherever I traveled is that we sometimes support dictators. Of course, we abhor all tyrannical forms of government, whether of the left or right."

GUTHERIE LENDS BIG BLOW

Snyder Nine Whips Abilene In Opener

ABILENE — A timely triple by pinch-hitter Jerry Gutherie which drove in 2 runs in a big sixth inning and a stellar pitching job turned in by right-hander Norman Gladson combined to push Snyder's Tigers into a 3-2 opening victory over the Abilene Eagles here yesterday. The game spoiled the Eagle's season debut, as both teams were making their initial appearances in the game played here at Yeager Field.

The contest was a pitcher's duel from the outset, as neither team was able to break the scoring ice until the sixth inning, although the Tigers had garnered four of their six hits for the day prior to that time. All of the runs scored by both team were rung up in the sixth with Gutherie's triple making the difference.

In the Tiger half of that inning, leadoff man Mike Moffett walked, and went to second as a result of a free pass issued to Franklin Moore, who followed him in the batting order. A single by first baseman Bennie Greenfield enabled Moffett to score the initial run of the game, and set the stage for Gutherie's crowning, game-winning blow. He sent a booming fly into right field which was good for three bases and two runs, as Moore and Greenfield scampered in front of him.

Gutherie's triple represented a rude greeting to reliefer Frank Ray, who had just been inserted in the stead of Marshall, who had given up the ice-breaking run which resulted from Greenfield's single.

NORMAN GLADSON
Spins Four-Hitter

Marshall was charged with the loss.

In the home half of the sixth, Abilene came to life, as second baseman Billy Monk opened with a single, after which he was safe at second when Tiger third baseman Bubba Fleming overthrew second in an attempt to nail him on a fielder's choice, with the result that shortstop T. A. Buchanan found himself resting on first when the smoke had cleared.

They both advanced into scoring position on Gladson's sole wild pitch of the game, and center fielder Teddy Hamilton brought Monk home with a sacrifice fly to right. Buchanan bounded home on a single by Jimmy Mallon to complete the scoring for the day, as Dee Hopkins nipped the rally in the bud by grounding into a double play to end the inning.

Fleming was the only performer on either team to get more than one hit, as he picked up two for two, both singles.

Gladson was in complete control of the situation all the way, as he masterfully spun the four-hitter while striking out 6 Eagles and allowing only one base on balls.

Gloves Finals To Go Out On Video

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Amateur boxing's best-in-the-West will be displayed on national television tonight as the finals of the 33rd Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions are held in Chicago Stadium.

Four, and possibly five, of the eight title bouts will be shown on TV (ABC, 10 p.m., EST).

This being an Olympic year, some of the winners may wind up in Rome late this summer, depending on how they are in the intercity bouts with New York's Golden Glovers on March 21 and the Olympic trials.

Golden Gloves competition has produced such Olympic champions as heavyweights Pete Rademacher in 1956 and Ed Sanders in 1952; light heavies Jimmy Boyd in 1956 and Norvel Lee in 1952; middleweights Floyd Patterson in 1952 and Carmen Barth in 1932; and flyweight Nate Brooks in 1952.

The current world heavyweight champion, Ingemar Johansson, was heavyweight winner in the 1951 International Golden Gloves in the Chicago Stadium and a loser to Sanders in the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki.

Tonight's feature is the heavyweight title bout between defending champion Jimmy Jones of Chicago and last year's 175-pound Golden Gloves titlist, Cassius Clay of Louisville, Ky.

This will be on the televised portion of the program, along with the 147, 175, 135 and possibly the 160-pound title matches.

The welterweight scrap is between Ferd Hernandez, 1959 finalist from Omaha, Neb., and Mark Burds of Denver.

The light heavy championship bout pits Jefferson Davis, a boxer-puncher from Nashville, Tenn., who was runnerup to Clay last year, against Billy Joiner, who recently wrapped up four years of Air Force service.

At 135 pounds, Chicago's Brian O'Shea meets Reggie Davis of Fort Worth, Tex., and the 160-pound showdown is between KO artist Jim Ellis of Louisville and Leotis Martin of Toledo, Ohio.

Ticker Tape Reception To Greet Skater

NEW YORK (AP)—Carol Heiss, the 20-year-old world and Olympic figure skating champion, gets the city's traditional ticker tape parade up Broadway today amid rumors that she may announce her engagement to another figure skater.

There has been talk that Carol, a blonde New York University junior, would marry Hayes Alan Jenkins, the 1956 Olympic figure skating champion and now a lawyer in Akron, Ohio.

But Carol denied — or almost denied — it all.

"I'm not even going steady," she said. "Maybe within the next five years I might become engaged, but not now. I can't be linked romantically with anyone."

She added that she hasn't seen Jenkins since Thanksgiving Day.

But if she does become engaged, would it be to Jenkins?

"Not necessarily."

Carol said she has only one definite plan and that's to rest.

"I don't even know what I'm going to be doing the day after tomorrow let alone plan for the future," she said. "Usually, I rest a couple of weeks, then start training again for the next competition. This time, though, I'm going to rest a lot longer."

She also has not been swayed toward a professional career, although her coach, Pierre Brunet, said she has received "dozens" of offers from ice shows and movie studios.

"I am tired of having lived out of a suitcase for the last seven weeks," she commented. "I don't think I could stand living out of one for 42 weeks a year. I like to live a normal life and I don't think that's normal."

Southwestern Meet Attracts 108 Schools

FORT WORTH (AP)—Entries in the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field and Golf meets climbed to, 1,375 from 108 schools today. More are coming but the all-time high of 1,972 set in 1958 isn't expected to be approached. . .

The big meet comes off Friday and Saturday with track and field drawing seven universities, 13 colleges, 16 junior college and college freshman teams and the big high school division 839 athletes from 72 schools.

BOWLING SCORES

Couples League Standings following play of this past week reveal that Rainbow Market sports a commanding six-point spread over second place Holt Music Co.

In the high team series, Eastman Oil edged Rainbow Market by garnering a 1964 pin-total to Rainbow's 1960. Holt had 1832 for third place honors.

Eastman also captured the high team game of 697, followed by Rainbow (673) and Eastman again, with a 670.

Individually, the high series was rolled by Eastman's Eldon Tipping, a 569, while teammate Hugh Nance placed with 545. Jim Tatum of Rainbow was next in line with 536.

High line was turned in by Nance —a 212— while Tipping was close behind with lines of 201 and 198.

In the women's bracket, Betty Tatum of Rainbow was tops with 495, followed by Johnnie Tipping (Eastman), who had 455, and Margaret King (Stewart's Service Station) and Holt's Dorris Minton, each of whom had identical lines of 440.

Margaret King rolled the high line of 185, with Dorris Minton and Betty Tatum trailing her with 173 and 171, respectively.

Split pickups were racked up by Rainbow's Betty Tatum (3-4-7), Tatum (3-10) and Gene Green (2-7); Holt's Dorris Jackson (3-10); Tenpens Cholly Howard (4-5); Stewart's Junior King (4-5-7 and 5-8-10); and Eastman's Johnnie Tipping (5-10).

Current standings read as follows:

	Won	Lost
Rainbow Market	34	14
Holt Music Co.	28	20
Tenpens	24	22
Okies	21	27
Eastman Oil	21	27
Stewart's Service	16	32

Tigerettes In Easy Victory Over C-City

Snyder's Tigerettes opened their district volleyball season on a rousing note here last night in Tiger Gym, as they swept to a convincing 28-19 win over Colorado City.

The varsity contest was the sole game of the night, as the Colorado City girls brought over only one team.

Snyder was never in trouble throughout the game, as they jumped out to an early lead which was never threatened. The Tigerettes held a 14-7 advantage at halftime.

High point server for the locals was Donna Taylor, and she also tied for high scorer along with teammate Helen Ivison.

The Tigerettes next see action this Thursday, when they travel to Sweetwater for another district outing.

Tiger Golf Team Tests Big Spring

Snyder High's golfers get their taste of competition here today as they go up against Big Spring in a belated match previously postponed by bad weather.

The matches will be played at the Snyder Country Club, with tee-off time 2:30 this afternoon.

Composing the "big four" for the Tiger Teemen are Ted Lamb, John Pickering, Mike Reed, and Jerry Nail. Other boys making up the golfing squad include Larry Devers, Kenneth Haught, Charles Hock, Bill Patterson, Roger Fields, and Richard Adams.

The top six designated players from each team will compete, with the low four medal scores on each determining the winner.

Coaching the local team is J. P. Ward.

Chicago To Field Young Chunkers

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs' starting five pitchers could be the youngest front-line staff in the majors when opening day arrives Manager Charlie Grimm feels that youngsters, who range from 20 to 24 years, can carry the load. They are Glen Hobbie, Bob Anderson, Moe Drabowsky, Dick Drott and rookie Dick Ellsworth.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

The Pittsburgh Pirate front office boys are playing with matches. Scorched fingertips have been known to result from such.

The "matches" in this case are the wives of th. Pirate players, who were recently handed down the ruling they will not be allowed to accompany their husbands on road trips this coming season.

Some of the little women expressed disbelief, others were vehement. Still others were unshaken by the whole business.

In the area of Unshakenness Mrs. Bob Friend was heard to comment in a resigned, golf-widowy tone of voice: "It makes no difference to me. What they say goes. When I travel with Bob he'd come in after the game, look at television and that was that."

Disbelief was offered by pitcher Don Gross' spouse, who sputtered, "I just can't understand such a ruling."

Terribly Tough On Togetherness

AND LAST, Vehemency keynoted the statement as passed on by the somewhat "bitter" half of Elroy Face, who wailed, "That puts the blame on us. I guess they'll keep us away from spring training next."

The "blame" in this particular instance wasn't pinpointed, but evidently had to do with Pittsburgh's fourth rather than first place finish in the National League this past season, as that team slid into the spot behind front-running Los Angeles, Milwaukee, and San Francisco, being a contender up until the final stages of the season.

Even in my own young, sheltered life, though, recollections haunt my reverie with Pittsburgh in the big middle of the fantasies, traditionally attired in its mantle of second-division-ism. In fact, fourth place in the National League would normally have represented a much-sought-after goal rather than a blameworthy booby prize. At least in the case of the Pittsburghers.

However, the stern Pirate papas are treading on thin ice and dangerous ground in rebuking the wives of their contracted performers. It's no secret that women were granted suffrage a while back, and they've been getting more independent as time flits by. They might decide to start a league of their own and go into competition with said Pirates, which would be a bitter pill to swallow.

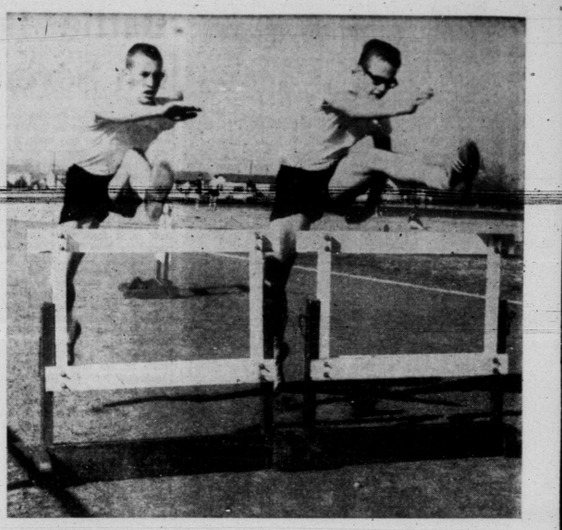

Cotton Pickers Now Wooed By Pros

A LITTLE CLOSER TO HOME, though, is a bit of controversy which has erupted over the proposed use of the Cotton Bowl, the cavernous amphitheater on the State Fair Grounds of Dallas. It wasn't exactly planned the way it has turned out, but Dallas can now boast (or moan, whichever the case may eventually be) of two professional football teams—the Rangers of the staid, established National Football League and the Texans of the bouncy, not-dry-behind-the-ears American Football League.

The trouble lies in the fact that the Rangers are thinking of invading the inner sanctum of collegiate football by making use of the Bowl on Saturday nights rather than the accepted Sunday afternoons, and the college heads are taking a disdainful view of the whole thing. They argue that these proposed games would hinder the college grid turnouts both directly and indirectly. Also, that the big, yawning Bowl is first and foremost the House that College Football Built, and that approval of the pro games on Saturdays would be comparable to betraying one's best friend. Could be.

Baylor coach John Bridgers summed up the situation by remarking, "We all feel in the colleges that Saturday afternoons and nights are the traditional times for college football. This would apply not only to the Southwest Conference but also to smaller college schedules."

Whether the Cotton Bowl heads be swept away by sentimentality or succumb to materialism is not known as yet. Sentiment sometimes loses its punch when liberally sprinkled with dollar bills.

HARDY HURDLERS—Two of the reasons why Snyder's Tigers will be considered as strong contenders on Saturday's Canyon Reef Relays here are pictured above. At left is Wayne Berry, while at right is Stanley Woolever, both of whom are lettermen performers. In meets entered thus far this year, Woolever has won the high hurdles and finished second in the low hurdles event in Fort Stockton's Comanche Relays, and won the lows and placed third in the highs in the recent Border Olympics at Laredo. Berry was a third-place finisher in the high hurdles event at Fort Stockton.

Bears, Mountaineers Survive First Round

California's defending champion Bears and the "hustling" Mountaineers of West Virginia, one-two in last year's NCAA basketball tournament, are over their first hurdle in their drive for another title showdown.

Defense-minded Cal, a 71-70 winner over West Virginia in the NCAA championship tussle in 1959, routed Idaho State 71-44 Tuesday night while West Virginia, with All-America Jerry West better than ever, whipped Navy 94-86.

Both were among six first-round games played in the sprawling NCAA eliminations in San Francisco, New York and Lexington, Ky. West Virginia's triumph over Navy came in an Eastern regional tripleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden in which powerful New York U. downed Connecticut 78-59 and Duke's Atlantic Coast Conference champs overwhelmed Ivy League king Princeton, 84-60.

In Lexington, Western Kentucky routed 10th-ranked Miami (Fla) 107-84 missing the single game NCAA scoring high by one point, and Ohio U., champion of the Mid-American Conference, upset Notre Dame 74-66 in first-round games in the Mideast regional.

California's victory, the Bears' 25th in 26 games this season and 41st in their last 42 starts, came at San Francisco in a first-round game of the Western regional.

All six winners advance to regional semifinals this weekend, when the bulky NCAA field will be chopped to the four survivors for the national semifinals and finals at San Francisco March 18 and 19.

Two games tonight will complete the line-up for the four-team regionals this Friday and Saturday at Charlotte, N.C., Louisville, Manhattan, Kan., and Seattle. New Mexico State, the Border Conference champ, plays Oregon at Corvallis, Ore., with the winner advancing to the Seattle regional. In Manhattan, Kan., Kansas and Kansas State, co-champs of the Big Eight Conference, meet in a one-game playoff to determine the league's NCAA representative at the Manhattan regional.

Here's the way it looks now for Friday and Saturday:

Eastern at Charlotte, N.C.—West Virginia (23-4) vs NYU (20-3); St. Joseph's (Pa.) (19-5) vs Duke (16-10). (St. Joseph's first-round bye).

Mideast at Louisville—Ohio U. (17-7) vs Georgia Tech (21-5); Western Kentucky (20-6) vs Ohio State (21-3). (Georgia Tech, Ohio State first-round byes).

Midwest at Manhattan, Kan.—Cincinnati (25-1) vs DePaul (16-6); Texas (18-6) vs Kansas-Kansas State winner. (Cincinnati, Texas, and Big Eight champ first-round byes).

CUBAN VIEW OF UNCLE SAM—Surco, official government newspaper published in Santiago de Cuba for the Cuban farmer, carried this caricature of Uncle Sam on the front page of its March 3 edition. The banner line said "THE UNITED STATES IS USING ECONOMIC BLACKMAIL AGAINST THE CUBAN REVOLUTION." Miami News Correspondent Jay Mallin reported this as an example of the propaganda Fidel Castro feeds the country people in his anti-American campaign. (AP Wirephoto)

Says Totalitarian Tactics Being Used

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said Tuesday night that Americans have developed totalitarian attitudes in fighting communism.

"We tend to mimic the tactics and attitudes of our adversaries," he told a Princeton University audience.

Douglas said the United States would become a second-rate power unless it overcomes complacency, mediocrity and intolerance.

Battle Is Raging On Severance Tax

AUSTIN (AP) — Pipeline company attorneys, fighting the state's new natural gas tax, claim it is impossible for Texas to devise a constitutional tax imposing its main burden on out-of-state persons.

"The tax was conceived and adopted as a levy on the pipeline companies which will collect over half of it from other states," stated the brief filed Tuesday by six pipeline firms against the "severance beneficiary" tax.

The brief, submitted by Austin attorney Dean Moorhead contends the tax violates interstate commerce, is discriminatory, and so ambiguous as to be unconstitutional.

"The tax is actually nothing more or less than an additional production tax," the state argued in a brief filed by the attorney general's office. It "is paid once on all gas produced in Texas and is levied upon the person who has the primary interest in the severance . . . there can be no discrimination where equality is the theme."

Dist. Judge Jack Roberts of the 126th District Court added the briefs to the voluminous record before him. Reply briefs may be filed before April 4 and oral arguments will wind up the District Court proceedings. Roberts' decision, perhaps in May, will begin a spiral of appeals which seem certain to reach the U.S. Supreme Court.

More than 80 separate suits are combined into the test case against the tax which is estimated to raise about 15 million dollars a year. The money, now being paid under protest, cannot be spent by the state until the final court decision.

The "severance beneficiary" tax, at a rate of 1½ per cent of market value per 1,000 cubic ft. of gas, is collected from the person who uses or benefits from the production of natural gas "dedicated" by a long term contract. Transportation agencies, such as pipelines, hold these type contracts.

Steals From Blind Woman

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An unemployed clerical worker who said he kept from going hungry by stealing from a blind woman's concession stand in the courthouse agrees "it's pretty rotten."

Carl Edward Hammond, 37, was charged with theft Tuesday after Sheriff T. O. Lang arrested him near the stand.

The stand, operated by Miss Nell Scales, is run on an "honor system" in which patrons make their own change from bowls on the counter.

Lang said Hammond admitted stealing "maybe half a dozen sandwiches" and short-changing the blind owner on several occasions.

Asks Probe Of Powell Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.) wants a Senate investigation of published charges that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) got $50,000 to $100,000 for switching his political support.

He says the study should extend also to charges that efforts were made to fix an income tax case against Powell.

Williams told the Senate Tuesday he was not expressing any opinion on whether the charges in Drew Pearson's columns are true. "I am merely pointing out that these charges have been made and that in view of their serious nature they cannot be ignored," he said.

Williams did not directly name the congressman, but put into the congressional record copies of Pearson's columns pertaining to Powell.

Pearson wrote in recent columns that Powell took money from Republicans in '56, when he came out for President Eisenhower, and from Tammany Democrats in 1958 when he supported Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman in his unsuccessful bid for re-election.

The Negro congressman was indicted in 1958 for alleged evasion of income taxes in 1952. His trial in New York started Tuesday. Powell has said "no man can buy Adam Powell." He declined immediate comment on Pearson's charges, but in 1956 he said it was a "complete lie" that his support of Eisenhower had anything to do with his tax case.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate Republican leader, said the Senate usually does not investigate House members, but added that such charges "become something of a reflection on the entire body of Congress when they are not refuted."

Williams said the Pearson charges if proven would "present a new low in politics."

Cal Hubbard, 59, has been American League umpire supervisor since 1954.

Fraternity Faces Suit

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A 20-year-old La Crescenta, Calif., junior is susing Theta Xi Fraternity for $350,000 for a kidney injury suffered during a hazing last October 1.

Donald S. Woods, who spent five weeks in hospital with acute nephritis after the incident, charges in a suit filed in Alameda County Superior Court Tuesday he was beaten with a heavy paddle and made to consume "revolting substances" after a gruelling workout of pushups and running and jumping.

He asks $250,000 for personal injury and $100,000 exemplary damages.

Named as defendants are the national fraternity of Theta Xi, its NU chapter on the University of California campus at Berkeley, the chapter's officers, 25 members and their parents.

RAILROAD CROSSING DEATH SCENE—This is the scene of a collision between a station wagon, carrying seven children and the driver, and a passenger train at an unguarded railroad crossing at Berlin, Conn. All eight persons in the station wagon were killed. The main section of the station wagon lies at the foot of the telephone pole in upper center. At the upper right is a large piece of the wreckage. In the center, to the right of the car's gas tank, is the body of one of the victims. In the foreground is the body of the driver, Mrs. Emily Whitaker. At the upper left, where the truck stands, is the grade crossing where the accident happened. The train, not shown, carried the station wagon along the tracks a short way before spilling it off the tracks onto a frozen pond. (AP Wirephoto)

Sen. Neuberger Of Oregon Dies Today

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Death by cerebral hemorrhage claimed Sen. Richard L. Neuberger early today. It was an ironic fate for the 47-year-old Oregon Democrat who had just won a fight with cancer.

The senator was stricken at his home Tuesday afternoon. He lapsed into a coma and gradually became weaker. Death came at 1:30 a.m.

Neuberger had been home since January, trying to shake off a series of virus infections and an attack of shingles. Last week he filed for re-election to the Senate.

His death cuts the Democratic total to 64 against 35 Republicans but a Democrat must be appointed by Republican Gov. Mark Hatfield to fill out his term.

Haste will be needed by both Republican and Democratic leaders in lining up someone to compete in the May 20 primary. Filings close at 5 p.m. Friday.

Neuberger's health had not been robust for many months.

He became ill in the summer of 1958. That August he underwent an operation for cancer. Five months later he was smiling broadly as he told a news conference he regarded himself as a cured cancer patient.

He added national health to his favorite legislative topics which until then had centered around development of hydro-electric power and conservation of wildlife, timber and other resources.

His own health failed to hold up. He said there was no recurrence of cancer but he failed to shake off colds and other virus infections and then suffered an attack of shingles.

In January he came home to recuperate. He said he was getting better and last week he filed for re-election.

So strong was his support in Oregon that the Republicans had groomed no one of stature to oppose him.

This was in sharp contrast to his election in 1954 when he ran against Republican Sen. Guy Cordon. It was more than 24 hours after the polls closed that the result was known. It was the first time in 40 years Oregon had sent a Democrat to the senate.

Italy Crisis Still Endures

ROME (AP) — Italy's government crisis went into its third week today with no solution in sight.

Italian newspapers wrote openly of the possibility of President Giovanni Gronchi dissolving Parliament and calling new elections. They agreed Gronchi first might ask outgoing Premier Antonio Segni to try to form a new cabinet.

Segni's chances of success did not look too good.

Segni and his Christian Democrat Cabinet resigned Feb. 24 after losing the Liberals' support in the Chamber of Deputies. The Christian Democrats are Italy's biggest party, but they are 26 votes short of a majority in the chamber and must have the support of other parties to govern.

This is Italy's 13th government crisis since World War II and one of the toughest.

Anonymous Donor Sends Many Dimes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —When Molly Flynn spots the envelope postmarked New Orleans, she knows without opening it what's inside — a carefully wrapped dime.

It is a contribution for the U.N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees (UNRWA). Dimes in similar envelopes have been coming into the office since 1957.

But Miss Flynn, liaison officer for the agency, hasn't been able to find out who sends them.

The total is not great—121 envelopes representing $12.10 in cash and 50 cents in stamps.

It's the mystery of the anonymous donor or donor that intrigues Miss Flynn.

Some of the envelopes have return addresses on them — some have names and addresses. But when Miss Flynn writes in acknowledgment she either receives no reply, or her letter is returned with the notation "no such address." Some of the names are obviously made up.

Miss Flynn has had friends in New Orleans check on envelopes containing only addresses. Some have turned out to be empty lots or big apartment buildings.

Most of the envelopes appear to have been addressed on the same typewriter. They come in spurts. The last one came a week ago after a lag of several months.

"We appreciate the contributions," Miss Flynn said, "and we would like to express our thanks. But it's quite a mystery."

The agency cares for more than a million Arab refugees of the Israeli-Arab war of 1947-48.

Can't Outlaw Segregation

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —The Oklahoma City Council was advised by city attorney Ed Moler that it does not have the authority to outlaw segregation in public places.

The Council immediately adopted the opinion Tuesday.

Moler said, "It is my opinion the city does not have the power to enact a 'civil rights' ordinance prohibiting discrimination in restaurants and other places of public accommodation by reason of race, color or creed."

He said the power of regulating such matters can be exercised by a municipality only if properly delegated by the State Legislature.

Walks 11 Miles To Keep Promise

PIEDMONT, W. Va., (AP)—Harold Hamilton is the kind of fellow who keeps a promise.

So he walked 11 miles Tuesday to make good on his vow to contribute a pint of blood.

Hamilton lives at Chestnut Grove, Md., and a Red Cross bloodmobile was visiting this area. He explained his car broke down, so he walked.

Real Estate Assn. Chief Is Due Here

W. VERNON WALSH

W. Vernon Walsh of Brownsville, president of the Texas Real Estate Assn., will be principal speaker at a meeting of the Snyder Real Estate Board on March 16.

The meeting will be held at noon in the Village Restaurant.

Ervin W. Luedtke of Austin, executive secretary of the 6,500-members state realtor organization, will visit the meeting with Walsh and discuss TREA services and projects.

The Texas realtors' leader, owner of W. Vernon Walsh Realty Co. in Brownsville, has served two terms as TREA vice president and nine years on the association's board of directors. Walsh is a past president of The Brownsville Real Estate Board and the Harlingen Real Estate Board, having served both groups as leader for two different terms each.

A Certified Property Manager, Walsh is a member of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards' Institute of Real Estate Management, the Institute of Real Estate Brokers, and Farm Brokers Institute. He is a past vice president of the Farm Brokers Texas Chapter No. 22.

Walsh was appointed to the Texas Aeronautics Commission by Gov. Allan Shivers and served for six years, during three of which he was chairman. Also, by appointment of John Ben Shepperd, he served as an honorary member of the Attorney General's staff.

Holiday Asked On Hoffa's Birthday

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A Teamsters Union local president wants a paid holiday for the birthday of Teamsters International President James R. Hoffa.

The request was made by Anthony Cusano, president of Teamsters Local 108, in contract proposals Tuesday to building materials employers. Hoffa's birthday is Feb. 14.

Margaret Will Be Married On May 6

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret will be married at Westminster Abbey on May 6 with the archbishop of Canterbury officiating, Buckingham Palace announced today.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II and Margaret's brother-in-law, will give the bride away.

The palace announcement did not mention a title for Margaret's fiance, former society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones. It is generally expected that he will be elevated to the peerage, and probably will be made a marquess, before the wedding.

The announcement from Clarence House, London home of Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth, said it would be a morning wedding, at 11:30.

The bridesmaids and best man were not named.

Margaret's sister, the Queen, and Prince Philip also were married at the Abbey, on Nov. 20, 1947, with the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, officiating. He is the highest prelate of the Church of England.

The marriage of Elizabeth, then a princess, was broadcast. The British Broadcasting Corp. wants to televise Margaret's wedding, and Britain's commercial television network probably will ask to do likewise.

The marriage will take place two and a half months before Margaret's 30th birthday, which falls on Aug. 21. Armstrong-Jones was 30 on Monday.

The Daily Mail, which correctly predicted the date this morning, said Princess Alexandra and Princess Anne were certain to be bridesmaids, and that Prince Charles, the heir to the throne, might be a page.

The wedding is likely to jam London with the biggest crowds since Elizabeth's coronation in 1952.

The Daily Mirror said that some slight experience as a designer of women's sports togs, is designing Margaret's wedding dress.

"He has already completed the rough sketches which will form the basic plan for the royal dressmaker," the newspaper said, "and he is now discussing his ideas with the princess."

The engagement of Margaret and Armstrong-Jones was announced on Feb. 26.

Urges Plants In Antarctica

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) today urged that nuclear power plants be installed at three U.S. bases in Antarctica.

Jackson, who visited Antarctica last fall, said that over their 20-year life expectancy such atomic plants could cut the cost of power, light and heat at the bases to one-fourth that of conventional power plants.

He wrote Rep. Chest Holifield (D-Calif), urging that authorization for the reactors be included in this year's Atomic Energy Commission construction bill.

Holifield is chairman of a subcommittee now conducting hearings on the bill. Jackson serves on the Atomic Energy Committee and also on the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Jackson estimated it would cost nine million dollars to install a nuclear plant at McMurdo Sound station, largest of the bases, and considerably less at the other two, the Byrd and South Pole stations.

Carr Says Wilson Is Marking Time

LUBBOCK (AP) — Waggoner Carr, who seeks Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's job, said Tuesday night that Wilson wants to "mark time on the public payroll" until he can run for governor.

Carr spoke to a crowd estimated at 3,500 at the formal launching of his drive for victory in the May 7 Democratic primary.

Carr is speaker of the Texas House and a lawyer from Lubbock. His talk was carried over a statewide radio network.

It was a hard-hitting political speech in which Carr lashed at Wilson on several fronts.

Carr said Wilson had an "inept record and political social climbing" motives.

Wilson has been running for the governor's office until Gov. Price Daniel announced he would seek a third term, the House speaker charged.

"Never in the history of Texas public life has any man turned tail and run so fast publicly. Now every school child in Texas knows this man really wants to be governor," Carr said.

"But here he is, asking Texans to let him mark time on the public payroll in a job he does not want while he tries to work up courage to try again two years from now," Carr said.

Carr told the crowd that "we have had enough pussyfooting, we have had enough of back scratching and office trading."

Carr is not a candidate for re-election to the Legislature. He served as House Speaker two terms.

He called his talk the opening "of the people's campaign to clear out the deadwood in Austin."

Carr said Wilson "has been strangely silent and strangely inactive in doing anything that might offend groups with great political power."

"It is passing strange that during the years of this administration Texans have been able to read from Washington far more about unsavory practices of a few in a handful of unions in Texas than Texans have been able to learn from this attorney general himself," Carr said.

Nieces Are Sexton Heirs, Court Holds

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—The 6th Civil Court of Appeals held Tuesday that the four nieces of rancher J. E. Sexton are the rightful heirs to his estate.

Mrs. Agnes Kirk, attractive former operator of a Cleburne rest home where Sexton lived for a time, and others had challenged a trial court ruling. They claimed Sexton made a will bequeathing them the estate in 1954.

The decision here upheld the finding of the District Court at Henderson that the nieces were the beneficiaries under identical wills executed by Sexton and his brother Henry in 1948.

Sexton died Feb. 28, 1958, at a rest home in Jacksonville. He was a bachelor. His brother Henry, a Rusk County resident, died Oct. 30, 1952.

The four nieces are Mrs. Mozelle Pitner and Mrs. O. L. Jacobs, both of Henderson; Mrs. Q. C. Murphy of Longview and Mrs. W. C. Beard of Raymondville.

Evidence was offered by the nieces that when J. E. and Henry Sexton executed wills in 1948, each leaving his property to the other, there was an oral agreement that the holdings would pass to the nieces at the death of the surviving brother.

The appeal court here affirmed a district court judgment that the will was valid.

The Sexton brothers' holdings included ranches and oil properties in Somervell, Johnson and Rusk counties.

Demos Invite GOP Leader

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Republican Gov. George D. Clyde of Utah was invited to be the principal speaker at the annual Truman Day dinner in Seattle on May 9.

He accepted with delight, saying this must mean the Washington State Democrats and former President Harry S. Truman "have seen the political light."

In a letter of acceptance Tuesday Clyde said he would speak on the principals of Abraham Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover and Dwight D. Eisenhower, which, he said, "must guide us through the critical days ahead."

But in Seattle, Democratic State Rep. Jon Marvin Jonsson, who extended the invitation to Clyde in a letter, said apparently his secretary sent the invitation through "an unaccountable error."

Jonsson said Clyde would "attend the dinner and be enlightened," but no speech.
