

Bad News In Area Big Springers Still Awaiting Census Guess

Preliminary population figures for this area continue to show decreases, while Big Springers are still awaiting for an announcement.

Richard Newton, district manager at Wichita Falls, could not predict this morning when the figures for Big Spring and Howard County would be announced. He said all the work has been completed and the totals sent to Washington, D.C. When the figures are returned to him, he will make the announcement.

Newton complimented local census crews. He said only 42 "Were You Missed?" forms were sent in from this area, indicating the enumerators did a good job here.

Meanwhile, three area counties have received the news that their population is down. The Martin County total was pegged at 4,592, down 476 from the 5,068 in 1960. Borden County is now listed at 850, down 226 from the 1,076 a decade ago.

Dawson County has 16,321, a drop of 2,864 from the 19,185 reported in 1960. Lamar County has 11,401, slipped 947 from the 12,348 in 1960. Garza County lost 1,357, now at 5,254 as compared to the 1960 count of 6,611.

Watson Will Miss Opening

AUSTIN (AP) — Charles Watson apparently will miss the opening of the bizarre Sharon Tate murder case in California June 15.

Watson filed a motion for rehearing in his extradition, and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals said today it would consider the motion June 17.

The court upheld on May 6, Gov. Preston Smith's Jan. 6 order extraditing Watson. Watson's attorneys had 15 days in which to file a motion for rehearing, and they waited until the next to last day.

SCLC March On Second Leg

FORT VALLEY, Ga. (AP) A march by predominantly black demonstrators sets out today on the second leg of a 120-mile trek to Atlanta for Saturday's planned "demonstration against repression."

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference marchers completed Tuesday the first leg of their journey, an 11-mile walk from Perry to Fort Valley which took almost eight hours. In the march caravan was an old farm wagon pulled by a team of mules, one white and one brown.

There were also three flatbed trucks, each bearing a coffin. One bore the inscription "Six murdered in Augusta," the second, "Four murdered in Kent," and the third, "Two murdered in Jackson."

The references were the deaths of six black youths during rioting at Augusta, Ga.; the shooting deaths of four white students during a May 4 confrontation with National Guardsmen at Ohio's Kent State University; and the two black youths who were killed last week when police opened fire on the campus of Mississippi's Jackson State College.

Hosea Williams, SCLC organizer and march leader, has been urging his followers to remain nonviolent. Most of the marchers are college and high school students.

Guest Card Rule Defended

AUSTIN (AP) — An attorney for the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission told the Texas Supreme Court today the commission's controversial guest card rule for private clubs is necessary to uphold the constitutional ban on open saloons.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jay Floyd defended the rule, which was found invalid by a lower court, then appealed by the state.

"The admission of guests has become an ever increasing problem to the board, and it is one of the reasons why Rule 56 promulgated — to keep people from the street from coming into a private club and getting a drink," Floyd said.

Funds To Fight Oil Pollution Plea By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon proposed to Congress today legislation to strengthen the authority of the Coast Guard in protecting against oil spills.

He also requested ratification of three international agreements to combat oil pollution in international waters and said he would seek a $35 million appropriation to establish an already authorized revolving fund to clean up of oil spills.

The proposals were outlined in a 10-point message to Congress in which the President noted that increased shipping has greatly increased the danger of oil spills and their threat to the marine environment.

Nixon proposed a Ports and Waterways Safety Act of 1970, allowing the Coast Guard to "control vessel traffic in the inland waters and the territorial seas of the United States."

It would also empower the Coast Guard to regulate the handling and storage of dangerous cargoes on the waterfront, to set safety requirements for waterfront equipment and facilities, and to establish safety zones or other "controlled access areas" in and near U.S. ports.

Nixon also urged the ratification of two new international conventions developed in Brussels last year under the auspices of the Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization, an agency of the United Nations.

One convention would empower nations to take preventive action against vessels on the high seas which pose an imminent pollution threat to national coastlines.

The other would impose a strict civil liability upon the owners of vessels causing coastal pollution regardless where the vessel is at the time.

Nixon asked Congress to bring U.S. legislation into conformity with the convention if necessary.

He urged ratification, as well, of amendments to the 1954 Convention for the Prevention of Pollution of the Sea by Oil, which would set international controls on discharge of oil on the high seas and prohibit its discharge within 50 miles of the coast.

He said the amendments still require ratification by other nations but that he is directing U.S. authorities to apply them to U.S. vessels as soon as Congress enacts the implementing legislation.

Nixon said he is also instructing the secretary of state to seek international standards for construction and operation of tankers.

Antiwar Lawyers Head For Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — A well established part of The Establishment headed for the nation's capital today to join the students already thronging the Capitol to lobby for an end to the war in Indochina.

Sponsors said more than 1,000 East Coast lawyers, mostly from New York and including a former U.S. attorney general and ambassador to the United Nations, were spending today on what they frankly called a lobbying trip.

Led by such prestigious legal names as former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and former U.N. Ambassador Francis Plimpton, the attorneys broke up into teams for visits to each House and Senate member.

Some administration officials also were included on the schedule.

At the same time, some 1,500 local lawyers set up a noon session in a church auditorium to plan a separate program.

"We plan to continue on the lobbying effort after the New Yorkers leave," said one of the Washington attorneys, explaining why they weren't joining the out-of-towners.

Congressional offices have been filled in the two weeks with students lobbying for an end to the war.

The majority of the lawyers are young, according to a spokesman, but many are senior partners and associates.

Other well-known names include Robert McKay, dean of the New York University Law School, and Bernard Botwin, former chief judge of the Appellate Division.

State Oil Allowable Cut Again

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission cut the statewide oil allowable today to 59 per cent of potential for June, the second monthly reduction in a row.

The new allowable will permit maximum production of 3,309,344 barrels of crude oil a day next month, compared to 3,545,562 barrels under this month's 64.5 per cent allowable.

Only three of the 13 major oil purchasers sought more crude in June than May, four asked for less and six requested the same amount of crude oil next month as this month.

Total written nominations by the buyers totaled 3,157,227 barrels of oil a day in June, a decrease of 94,624 from May. The U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast of the June demand for Texas crude is 3,270,000 barrels daily, an increase of 70,000 from May.

A 20,000 barrel reduction by Pan American at the last minute dropped total nominations to 3,137,027, or 114,824 fewer than this month.

John Yaeger of Humble said his company's request for less oil next month "results from a reduction in runs at three refineries in the East and on the Gulf Coast" and were "dictated by high gas inventories."

D. R. Wall of Mobil said his company had a surplus of crude, which could get even larger when a large unit at Beaumont is overhauled.

D. A. East of Pan American attributed its lower nomination to the "unexpected shutdown" of a large unit and "substantial reductions in crude requirements throughout the system."

Gulf's Jack Coates said he was a "little alarmed" by the sudden cut in total nominations to handle a "temporary situation of over supply."

Nominations by major purchasers, in barrels per day, for June, with increases or decreases from this month in parentheses:

Atlantic Richfield 200,000 (minus 25,000), Chevron 56,800, Cities Service 91,000 (plus 100), Continental 37,000, Diamond Shamrock 34,000 (plus 1,000), Gulf 235,000, Humble 516,000 (minus 68,000), Mobil 240,000 (minus 10,000), Pan American 350,000 (minus 20,000), Phillips 116,000, Shell 151,500, Sun 153,500 (plus 10,500), Texaco 185,000, Union of California 73,700.

OBJECTS TO POSING AS SEX DECOY — Gale Aldridge, 26-year-old Detroit policewoman and bride of two months, leaves Detroit Police Officers Association headquarters in Detroit today after appearing at a press conference called by DPOA president Carl Farsell. Mrs. Aldridge was suspended Saturday night after she refused to stand on a street corner and pose as a prostitute.

Lead Gasoline Tax Proposed By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, conceding his predicted budget surpluses for this fiscal year and next have turned into red-ink deficits, has called for a tax on leaded gasoline to raise $1.6 billion a year more in government funds and fight pollution.

Other revenue increases to balance the budget will not be sought, said Budget Director Robert P. Mayo, because higher taxes "would be inappropriate when we have an increase in unemployment."

Another administration spokesman told Southern businessmen to forget about wage and price controls as a means of halting continuing inflation.

Nixon, who said in February a balanced budget was crucial to control inflation, said declining revenues and rising federal costs would result in a $1.8-billion deficit in the 1970 fiscal year ending June 30 and a $1.3 billion deficit for fiscal 1971.

Nixon had predicted a $1.5 billion surplus for the current fiscal year and a $1.3 billion surplus for the following fiscal year.

Sagging corporate profits were cited as the reason for the 1970 deficit.

Drive Preceded By Bomber Raids

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese infantrymen opened a new front in Cambodia today, assaulting the last of the known North Vietnamese and Viet Cong sanctuaries near the border.

The South Vietnamese Defense Ministry said the operation was under way at least 10 miles inside Cambodia, west of the Bu Prang and Duc Lap Special Forces camps which North Vietnamese troops laid siege to last year. The area is opposite Vietnam's southern Central Highlands and about 125 miles northeast of Saigon.

IT'S THE 13th

It was the 13th allied front opened in Cambodia. The South Vietnamese infantrymen went in after massive raids by the U.S. Air Force's big B52 bombers.

U.S. helicopters began landing several thousand South Vietnamese infantrymen from the 23rd Division and their American advisers in the thickly jungled region at dawn. A U.S. spokesman said probably less than 100 advisers were taking part.

There are no U.S. ground forces involved in the operation, the U.S. Command said, adding that U.S. support of the operation included "helicopter and logistics support, tactical air, artillery and advisers."

The drive was preceded by nearly 100 B52 raids along the border in the past four days to soften up the suspected North Vietnamese bunkers and gun positions.

Field reports said the South Vietnamese had made no contact by afternoon and were consolidating their positions and preparing for a night bivouac.

NO CONTACT

Field reports said the South Vietnamese had made no contact by afternoon and were consolidating their positions and preparing for a night bivouac.

The major part of the task force was reported about 35 miles south of Phnom Penh, midway between the Cambodian capital and the border. It was not known how far north the South Vietnamese planned to go. The Cambodian army on Tuesday was reported battling Viet Cong and North Vietnamese platoons about 12 miles farther north on Highway 3.

FOOD FLOOD

Many of the 200 American advisers who entered Cambodia with the force left their South Vietnamese units two days ago, presumably because the Vietnamese were moving past the 21.7-mile limit President Nixon set on American penetration into Cambodia.

Elsewhere, North Vietnamese forces in the Fishhook region near the rubber plantation town of Mimot briefly attacked troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division searching for war stockpiles half a mile inside Cambodia. Two Americans were killed and eight wounded, the U.S. Command said; enemy losses were not known.

Troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division uncovered two big food caches that the U.S. Command said yielded nearly 400 tons of rice.

The new operation is an extension of the sweep which the South Vietnamese 22nd Infantry Division is making in the Se San area to the north of today's landing.

Between 25,000 and 30,000 South Vietnamese troops and more than 10,000 Americans now are operating inside Cambodia along a 600-mile stretch of border.

At the southern end of the frontier, a task force of more than 10,000 South Vietnamese troops with armored cars, gunboats and U.S. warplanes in support, pushed deeper into southern Cambodia today after smashing a North Vietnamese base camp and sampan fleet, South Vietnamese military headquarters announced.

In a drive launched Sunday, the big land and river force is trying to destroy base camps from which the North Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division attacks South Vietnam's southernmost provinces and the sampans in which it moves about the delta area it moves about the river and canals.

The three-prong force is moving northward, along Highways 2 and 3 and the Bassac River, from the southernmost stretch of the Vietnamese-Cambodian border between Ha Tien and Tinh Bien.

A South Vietnamese commune said 96 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed Tuesday and 100 sampans and 30 storage huts were destroyed.

Eight South Vietnamese troops were reported killed and 25 wounded.

The major part of the task force was reported about 35 miles south of Phnom Penh, midway between the Cambodian capital and the border. It was not known how far north the South Vietnamese planned to go. The Cambodian army on Tuesday was reported battling Viet Cong and North Vietnamese platoons about 12 miles farther north on Highway 3.

Sky Cops Keep Falling, Falling On Their Heads

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two Houston men found themselves up against Houston's fledgling sky cops Tuesday, and must have felt they had policemen falling on their heads.

The two, David Fountain, 22, and Vincent O. Robinson, 21, wound up charged with burglar felony theft and passing forged checks after they were nabbed with the help of Houston's newest crime-stopper, the heli-cop.

C.M. Anderson, one of eight patrolmen undergoing helicopter training, was on a practice flight Tuesday when he heard over the radio that patrolmen on the ground were chasing an old blue car believed to contain two men suspected of passing stolen forged checks at a liquor store.

He whirled over the area and spotted the car just as the suspects bailed out and took off in different directions. J.S. Coley, a Houston officer in a patrol car, gave chase to one of the two. Anderson hovered his chopper over the scene and called for more help. Patrolman M. C. Fisher drove up, Anderson instructed him how to head off one of the wanted men.

"Drive east in the alley," Anderson said by radio. "Stop your car. There he is, coming up on your left, wearing a green shirt."

When a winded Fountain puffed around the corner, he found patrolman Fisher waiting with open handcuffs.

Anderson didn't forget the second man. When another officers arrived, he directed him to where Robinson was standing in an apartment stairway.

Anderson said he thinks the helicopter is here to stay in police work.

"It was all too beautiful. . . like a military man directing things on a sand table," he said. "It's amazing how easy it is."

MUSICIAN GETS CAUGHT IN VICIOUS CYCLE

Look At Nashville Hopefuls

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — If you have to, you can walk across the Shelby Street Bridge spanning the Cumberland River from Mom Upchurch's rooming house to the Grand Ole Opry House three miles away.

And, if you're just breaking into the country music business, you may have to. When you hit Music City, U.S.A., with a guitar, $10 in your jeans and hope, you don't hire many taxis.

You also find out that it can be a long three miles to the Opry House—and you may never get there at all.

PICKING, SINGING

Edgel Groves, 28, made his first money picking and singing 12 years ago in an Akron, Ohio, night club. Since then, he's been to every state in the nation, made a few records for labels few people would recognize, sold products for an Akron rubber company—and kept on picking, singing and writing songs.

Now, feeling himself on the verge of the bigtime, he's taken an apartment near 16th Avenue South—where the action is and where most of the major recording companies and talent agencies have their headquarters.

Girls also try—and some of them, like Bobbie Gentry and Loretta Lynn, find life quite pleasant. Right now, 17-year-old Dianne Davidson, the blonde, blue-eyed daughter of a Camden, Tenn., druggist, recently moved here with her family in hopes that being at the heart of things will further her career. She's recently signed a contract to get some of her songs published—and a talent agency signed her to a five-year contract in an effort to place her as a performer.

ON THE ROAD

But most who come here are boys, in their late teens, and single. They come each year by the thousands, by bus, by car and by thumb. And for 25 years, Mom Upchurch's has been a haven for the young musician, dreaming of the bigtime—and not realizing that in this business, you've never really got it made.

Waterfront War

HOUSTON (AP) — Royce Southern Barber, 33, was shot to death early Tuesday after police said he tried to break up a fight in a waterfront lounge he operated.

Police sought a man, about 40,

"I guess I've had about 2,000 boys here," smiled Mrs. Upchurch, gray, bespectacled—and motherly. "I tell them it's their home. Sometimes, we have jam sessions, when they can all get together. But they're on the road so much."

"I started taking in young musicians about 25 years ago, right after my husband died," she recalled. "I had all of Pee Wee King's boys, except Pee Wee—he was married and lived right across the street—and, of course, Eddy Arnold. He was

Gets Subpoena For Agnew

CHICAGO (AP) — A defense lawyer for 11 persons charged with destroying Selective Service records says he has obtained a subpoena for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Frank W. Oliver said he wants Agnew to give the U.S. District Court the evidence on which he based his statement that some dissidents are "criminally insane." The vice president made the statement Sunday in a radio interview.

Agnew was in New York Monday for a private dinner and could not be reached for comment. An aide in Washington said he seriously doubted that any would be forthcoming.

The aide also said it was highly unlikely that Agnew would testify at the trial.

Oliver contends that his four clients are "insane because they have the delusion our cherished institutions are being perverted."

Earlier Monday, Judge Edwin A. Robson revoked the bond of Edward Hoffmans, 32, of Iowa City, Iowa, for not rising when the judge entered the courtroom.

Before revoking his $2,500 bond, Judge Robson ordered Hoffmans brought to the bench by marshals. The judge told Hoffmans he would not give the revoke order if the defendant apologized.

"I think the court's repressive manner is a far more important matter," replied Hoffmans.

The 11 defendants are among 15 arrested for a raid on a Selective Service office May 25, 1969, during which many draft board records were burned in a bon fire outside the office.

The bidding:
East 1♣ West 1♠ North 1NT
1NT 2♥ 3♣ Pass
Pass 3♥ Pass 4♥
Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Five of ♣
An astute bit of card ruffling enabled East to uncover the killing defense and thereby promote a substantial swing for his side in a team-of-four.

The bidding was essentially the same at both tables. East opened with one club, South overcalled with one diamond and West made a free bid of one spade. In the subsequent competition, South bid and rebid hearts, North, who had remained silent thruout, finally came to life and raised South to four hearts.

West opened the five of clubs and for East, the moment of decision was at hand. At one table, he put up the king and continued with the ace, declarer ruffing with the seven of hearts.

The dummy was entered with the ace of spades to lead a trump. East played the five, South the ten and West was in with the king. The club return was ruffed with the eight of hearts and declarer led the queen of trumps. East played the ace and returned a diamond, South was in to draw the last trump with the jack of hearts and claimed the balance with good diamonds. He lost two hearts and one club.

At the other table, East took a different course after winning the original club lead. He reasoned on the basis of South's original overcall in diamonds, that the latter probably held six diamonds and five hearts. Repeated diamond leads might therefore put West in position to overruff the dummy, if he had a spot in hearts to top North's six.

At trick two, East shifted to a diamond, and North was in with the ten to lead a trump. South's ten was taken by West's king and the latter returned a second diamond. East won the next heart lead with the king and led a third diamond. West scored the setting trick by ruffing in with the nine of hearts.

Still Working On Big Demands

SEATTLE (AP) — Monday was a tough day for some administrators at the university of Washington here.

Classes had been dismissed in memory of two black students slain at Jackson State College in Mississippi when a group of students calling themselves the Conservative Coalition arrived at the administration building to present nine demands, including the resumption of classes and that students be repaid for lost time caused by unnecessary closure.

As the assistant to the UW President accepted the list of demands from the students, another school official commented: "We're still working on demands from last week."

DEAR ABBY: My problem isn't an uncommon one from talking to some of my friends, but I've never seen anything in your column about it.

My husband and I have been married for 5 years. We have two small children, and another on the way. Abby, we WANTED these children!

We haven't told my parents about the one on the way yet because we know they are going to take fits! (Especially my mother.)

Every time I get pregnant there is a noisy scene. We're well able to support these children, and we've never asked our parents to baby-sit or help us financially, but they make us feel so guilty. They say we are "crazy" to tie ourselves down to so much responsibility while we're young — that we should enjoy ourselves and be "free" for the first 10 years. But, Abby, we want to be young with our children.

I am a nervous wreck! How should I break the news that No. 3 will be here for Christmas?

DEAR ABBY: Save the news appropriately enough, for Father's Day — since you just missed Mother's Day. In any case, it sounds as though you're straining on a cord between you and your mother which should have been cut years ago. Live your own adult life and don't feel guilty.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman who has had a very unsatisfactory marriage for nearly 20 years, but I won't go into that because that's not my problem.

My problem is my gentleman friend. Walter is not married. (He's divorced.) We've been seeing each other (discreetly) for nearly 3 years, and it's no cheap love affair, Abby, it's the best thing that has ever happened to me.

Walter and I can't be seen together in public because my husband is a fairly prominent professional man, and I still put up a good front as a happily married wife and mother.

Every once in a while Walter takes a lady out. He says he HAS to, because if he isn't seen in public once in a while with a woman, people will think there is something wrong with him.

Well, every time Walter has a date with another woman, I go to pieces. I suppose it's wrong of me, but I can't help it. Do you think if he really loved me he'd date another woman? Even for appearances sake?

TEARS IN MY WINE

DEAR ABBY: I can't tell you if Walter "really" loves you or not. But the "suffering" you endure every time he dates another woman is part of the price you're paying for this affair. (The "best" things in life are very expensive.)

DEAR ABBY: I work in a bookstore and have on several occasions had young women ask me for books on "sex techniques," with their husbands standing right there. They say their husbands NEED them. I've even heard them quarreling with their husbands, insisting that they buy such a book, and of course, in so doing, they are putting down their husbands as lovers.

Abby, please tell these women that all the "book learned" techniques in the world won't help if their relationship lacks unselfishness, mutual respect and the deep down tenderness which is the foundation for all satisfying married love. Without these, sex is just a mechanical operation, leaving both parties unfulfilled. Tell them, Abby, that if each thinks primarily of pleasing the other, they'll need no marriage manuals to thrill each other.

JUST A CLERK

DEAR JUST: No one could have said it better. Thank you for writing.

DEAR ABBY: This jazz about women being upgraded to the same status as men is, to me, a most attractive idea. If we go all the way with it.

Let the girls work in the logging industry, topping out spar trees. Let them fish the Grand Banks in midwinter. Let them work the high steel in bridge-building. Let them grow the ulcers and have the heart attacks, and forego all the courtesies one man would not give to another.

Above all, make them subject to the draft; put them into infantry combat training. Send them to the swamps and the steaming jungles of Vietnam, and let them play tag with Charley.

CARL

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Foam Whips Fiery Barges

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Two barges collided and burst into flames early Tuesday in the Intercoastal Canal about a mile west of the causeway.

One of the barges was loaded with 800,000 gallons of kerosene, the other with caustic soda.

A Coast Guard cutter and two smaller vessels pumped foam on the flaming vessels and brought the fires under control. No injuries were reported.

The burning barges, parts of strings of three, were cut loose from their tugs when they caught fire.

A Coast Guard spokesman said traffic on the canal may be restricted until the barges were removed.

Abortion Cemetery For Unknown Souls

HONOLULU (AP) — Robert Pearson, who led the fight against Hawaii's new liberal abortion law, says he is setting up a national cemetery for aborted children.

"It will be similar to the cemetery for unknown soldiers, only it will be for unknown souls," Pearson said.

"I think it is about time we regard them the same as any other human being who dies. They shouldn't end up in incinerators or disposals."

Pearson, a Maui contractor, said he is working with an attorney and others to set up the cemetery but hasn't decided yet whether it will be in Hawaii.

There have been 587 abortions performed in Honolulu hospitals since Hawaii's new abortion law passed March 10. It requires only that a patient be a state resident for at least 90 days and that the abortion be performed by a licensed physician in an accredited hospital.

Pearson said he spent $7,000 fighting the bill's passage and another $3,000 since trying to convince pregnant women not to have the operation.

Pearson has offered to pay all expenses for pregnant women contemplating abortion to come to Maui and "think things over." He said if they decide against an abortion, he would pay all medical bills for the baby's delivery.

Only seven women have taken him up on the offer, he said. "Many probably thought it was a hoax because no strings were attached," he said.

Three of the women were California residents and the others came from Colorado, North Carolina, Indiana and Georgia. Six were unmarried. All decided against abortion, Pearson said.

"They are normal, everyday people and some of them were very upset," he said. "They needed counseling but psychiatrists were not necessary. They just needed someone showing love and concern for them."

Wicked Witch's Hat Nets $450 During Auction

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An unknown millionaire paid $15,000 for the ruby slippers Judy Garland wore in "The Wizard of Oz" as Metro Goldwyn Mayer studios auctioned off costumes of yesteryear.

After making the top offer in bidding that lasted less than a minute and kept 2,000 persons standing, the bidder, Dick Wonder, would say only that he represented a Southern California millionaire.

Some other costumes from "The Wizard of Oz" also changed hands at the auction block—the Wicked Witch's peaked black hat for $450 and the Cowardly Lion suit for $2,400.

The wedding gown Elizabeth Taylor wore in "Father of the Bride" was sold for $625. The late Spencer Tracy's morning coat from the same movie brought $125.

Debbie Reynolds—who has attended most bidding sessions to equip her proposed Hollywood Hall of Fame—picked up the taffeta gown she wore in "How the West Was Won" for $200.

Obscenity Law Due Test

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Appeal of a suit here in which a Wichita Falls trial court held the amended Texas Obscenity Law unconstitutional has been set for submission to the Texas Supreme Court at 9 a.m. June 10.

County Atty. Tim Eysen was notified of the setting Monday. The Texas Attorney General's office is assisting in the appeal. The law was declared unconstitutional Feb. 9 by 89th Dist. Court Judge Temple Driver by the state's high tribunal.

based on prior decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court and on decisions in other cases.

The ruling was made when Judge Driver denied an application for an injunction against a suburban Wichita Falls theater to keep the management from showing any "obscene matter."

Eysen asked for the injunction.

Defendants were Steve Scott and Cline Arts Theater, Inc. A three-judge federal court in Dallas considering other cases originating in Dallas, Lubbock and Amarillo which also challenged the obscenity law as amended by the last session of the legislature, postponed a ruling until a decision could be made on the Wichita Falls case by the state's high tribunal.

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

MR. and MRS. L. D. LANDERS spent the weekend in Lubbock helping their son and his family get things back together after the tornado. The William Landers family home is in the Country Club area but fortunately was not in the direct path of the storm.

Another couple, the VERNON SMITHS, went to Lubbock to see his mother, a brother and a sister. None of them had any loss.

The Gilberts have a two-year-old daughter, Angela Marie. Mrs. Gilbert is the former JACQUELYNN BUCHANAN, the daughter of the J. D. BUCHANANS.

MRS. HELEN DAWSON and her mother, MRS. C. F. HULING, returned Sunday night from a three-week automobile trip that took them to Iowa, South Dakota, Illinois, Kentucky and several cities in Texas.

It was the first trip back to her old home in Iowa in 12 years for Mrs. Huling, who has recently celebrated her 87th birthday. The women were entertained by their many friends there with dinners, parties and luncheons.

Mrs. Dawson was privileged to attend the 50th anniversary of Alpha Theta Sorority at the University of South Dakota at Vermillion where she earned her degree. Liz Carpenter was the speaker for one of the affairs and the sorority sisters were entertained at the home of Ex-governor and Mrs. Lee with a reception for 300.

Back in Texas the two visited a relative in Dallas and in Sweetwater spent some time with MR. and MRS. RENDAL HAMBY. Mrs. Dawson's daughter and son-in-law.

TASTES GOOD — Milton Shapp, leading in the race for Pennsylvania Democratic nomination for governor, and his wife cut their 23rd wedding anniversary cake in Philadelphia early today as they checked election returns in their Philadelphia headquarters. On the basis of incomplete and unofficial returns, Shapp, wealthy Main Line industrialist, was apparent winner for the nomination over Robert Casey, State auditor general.

Hickel Urged To Run Again For Alaska Governorship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Int-former Alaska governor into re-rior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, signing his federal post to take the first Cabinet office to voice public doubt over the Nixon ad-ministration's policy toward young dissenters, is reported being urged to run again for the Alaska governorship.

The secretary, in denying reports, said in a statement Tuesday, "I have no plans to leave the Nixon Cabinet. I intend to serve the President for as long as my services can be productive and of value on be-half of all Americans."

Washington sources had said some 49th state Republicans had attempted to pressure the victory.

Hickel's concern with Nixon administration policy surfaced after U.S. troops entered Cam-bodia and the shooting deaths of four students at Kent State Uni-versity.

In a letter, Hickel urged Pres-ident Nixon to listen more at-tentively to youths who feel they are excluded from American po-litical processes.

Hickel met face-to-face with the President for the first time since mailing the letter during a Cabinet meeting Tuesday. Nei-ther White House nor Interior Department spokesmen would acknowledge whether the letter was specifically discussed.

Violence Hurts Voting Age Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The recent outbreaks of campus violence may have endangered one of the students' prized goals—lowering the voting age to 18.

With a House vote on the 18-year-old vote due next month, sponsors are worried a backlash effect may be building as anti-war sentiment continues to dis-rupt the colleges.

There is also concern the strongly anti-Nixon stance of the protesting students will make it harder to pick up the 40 or so Republican votes needed to pass the measure.

"I'd have to say its going to be tougher now," said Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., who is leading the effort to build House Repub-lican support for the bill.

Rep. Abner J. Mikva, D-Ill., a Democrat working actively for the measure, shares Railsback's concern. "Before all this," Mikva said, "studies showed that the students weren't in any-body's bag. In states where there is a lower voting age, they haven't changed the voting pat-terns much. But now Mr. Nixon has good reason to believe they are against him."

President Nixon already has come out against the Senate-passed bill, which calls for low-ering the voting age by federal statute. Nixon has said it should be done by constitutional amendment.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford is supporting the Presi-dent's position, which makes Railsback's job even tougher.

Mikva said the 40 necessary Republican votes were in hand a few days ago, but there is some doubt about the GOP sup-port now.

The backlash effect of student demonstrations and riots can be seen in letters coming into the House Judiciary Committee.

A man in Hackensack, N.J., said no country where students have political power is in very good shape, and a man in St. Louis wrote, "The past week has shown to the nation the ir-responsible and the lack of making qualified judgments by the students of this country."

On the other side, the mass of students crowding the Capitol corridors the past several days, lobbying for various antiwar amendments, have made a good impression on Congress.

Many have had their hair cut. They are neatly dressed, cour-teous and orderly, and show a keen awareness of what is going on.

"They have behaved in an ex-emplary fashion," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., who, as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, will handle the age-vote bill on the floor.

"They have shown their inter-est in politics and their belief in the democratic process by com-ing here," Celler said. "It would be a devastating blow if they were to be rejected now."

The students' interest in po-litical activity should cause con-cern among members who are thinking about denying them the vote, said Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., D-Ind., who strongly sup-ports the lowered voting age.

"There are a lot of them," said Jacobs, "and they'll work for your opponent for nothing. Why agitate the tiger?"

GRADUATE — Larry (Buddy) Currie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mearl Currie, Colorado City, and brother of Mrs. Floyd Rice, Westbrook, will receive his degree in physical education from the University of Texas in El Paso, May 30. Currie is a graduate of Colorado City High School and Ranger Junior College. He is married to the former Sharon Nuckolls, Colorado City.

'Soapy' Williams Back In Politics

DETROIT (AP) — G. Mennen Williams, who was six times governor of Michigan, has an-nounced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Supreme Court justice.

Williams, 59, told a news conference he was entering the race because of personal con-cern about the nation's courts "and their role in society."

The former governor was an assistant secretary of state for African affairs in the John F. Kennedy administration and was appointed ambassador to the Philippines by Lyndon B. Johnson after his defeat in a bid for a U.S. Senate seat in 1966.

Watch out for that kid!

What kid? That's just the point. The reason you don't see a child in this picture is the same reason you may not see one when you're driving down a nice quiet neighborhood street. Until, perhaps, it's too late and there's no time to stop...no room to maneuver.

Let's all remember. Drive slowly through residential streets. Expect the unexpected. If a ball rolls out into the street, stop immediately. There's nearly always a youngster right behind it.

Your new car dealer invites you to join in keeping our neighborhood streets as peaceful and safe as they look. When you're in a hurry, always ask yourself a question. Would you rather save a minute—or a child?

Cross Draws 20 In Prison

BEAUMONT (AP) — Jimmy H. Cross was assessed a 20-year prison term Tuesday on charges of murder with malice in connection with last May's shooting of Mrs. Mary Montgomery.

Cross, who has been convicted six times of felonies, could have received a life sentence.

Mrs. Montgomery was shot to death in a cafe by a gunman in a passing car in the city's predominantly Negro section of town. The incident sparked a rash of fire-bombings.

Four other men charged in the case are awaiting trial. Free on $35,000 bond, Cross, 28, showed little emotion as the verdict was read. He was immediately taken to jail.

Arlington Man Killed By Train

MAUD, Tex. (AP) — An Arlington man was killed near here Tuesday by a train as he slept on the railroad tracks.

Investigators identified the victim as Lawrence Brennan, 19.

They said Brennan and a young companion were sleeping on the tracks when they were awakened by the train. Brennan apparently ran into the path of the train in sleepy confusion.

Some Antiwar Students Focusing On Exercises

By The Associated Press

Some antiwar students are focusing on commencement exercises as a vehicle for protest as the academic year draws to a close on the nation's campuses.

The commencement activities were part of a trend toward subdued campus protests after two weeks of sometimes violent demonstrations.

A student strike information center at Brandeis University, Walham, Mass., reported student strikes at about 265 colleges and universities.

A Bible reading from the Book of Lamentations served Tuesday night at the 134th commencement at the Union Theological Seminary in New York as a commemoration for six recent campus deaths.

Graduates had requested the ceremonies be used to commemorate the deaths of six students killed in recent weeks when police and National Guardsmen used gunfire to quell demonstrations at Kent State University in Ohio and Jackson State College in Jackson, Miss.

Dr. John C. Bennett, seminary president, told graduates and their parents, "Fringe, desperate acts should not be allowed to obscure the legitimate dissent of the vast majority of students... (who) find the war both senseless and a moral horror. When one's government sets such an example of violence abroad, is it strange that we have so much violence at home?"

Several colleges and universities have cancelled social events connected with commencement.

The Peace Commencement Fund, a movement to have graduates contribute the money ordinarily spent on renting graduation caps and gowns, to congressional peace candidates, said the plan had spread to more than 150 campuses.

At Yale University, where the movement began, sponsors said it has the support of between 50 and 70 per cent of Yale's graduating class. Sponsors said they hoped to raise $1 million.

The senior class at Worcester Academy, a prep school in Worcester, Mass., voted to forego a class prom and use the $500 to set up a "Scholarship for Peace."

The nationwide student protests began 19 days ago in the wake of President Nixon's decision to send American combat troops into Cambodia.

The protests were fueled by the shooting deaths at Kent

State and Jackson State and the killing of six blacks in Augusta, Ga.

The president of Jackson State, Dr. John A. Peoples, was one of 15 heads of black universities and colleges invited to meet with Nixon today to discuss problems at their schools.

The White House said the request for the meeting was filed before the trouble at Jackson, but after six black youths were killed in Augusta, Ga., when police used gunfire to quell rioting. The disorder developed when it was learned that a 16-year-old black youth had been beaten to death in a local jail.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, has announced that he has chartered a plane to take congressional, student, labor and business leaders to Jackson Friday for the funeral of the two campus victims. A spokesman for Muskie said he hoped riders would be able to pay their own fares.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said Tuesday during a speech in Cleveland, Miss., "the nation has witnessed the saddest semester in the history of American education."

"RA-2" MEETS HIGH SEAS: Norwegian explorer Thor Heyerdahl's papyrus boat "RA-2" encounters high seas during her voyage which is intended to prove that the ancient Egyptians could have discovered the continent of America more than 3,000 years before the Italian navigator Christopher Columbus. This picture was made soon after Heyerdahl set sail from Safi, Morocco, on May 17. "RA-2" was built by four Indians from the Bolivian Andes.

400 Still On Strike, Failing Grades Slated

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — More than 400 Mexican-American pupils remained on strike on the last day of formal classes here Tuesday, virtually assuring failing grades for many.

School officials said those participating in the boycott since its early stages would receive failing marks because they have missed too many days of class.

The strike began April 14 over the school board's refusal to renew a Mexican-American teacher's contract. A list of demands was issued two days later for bilingual education, more Mexican-American teachers and other items.

A total of 3,560 pupils, slightly more than half of them Mexican-American, are enrolled in this southwest Texas city's schools.

Two days of final examinations began today. Graduation ceremonies are scheduled next Monday. About 30 of the strikers

Leaders of the strike have said they will continue to boycott school, resuming their activities next fall if necessary, until the school board agrees to negotiate their demands.

The all Anglo board said it would discuss the demands only after the strikers returned to school.

About 100 parents and boycotters marched at an elementary school without incident Tuesday, police said. Marches were held frequently early in the strike but the demonstrations have been sporadic in recent days.

School Supt. R. E. Byrom said some of the boycotters have returned to class.

At least three Uvalde strikers have enrolled to finish out the semester of nearby Crystal City, scene of a boycott by more than 1,000 Mexican-American pupils last December.

NEWS BRIEFS

Hospital Unit To Be Honored

One of the finalists to be honored at a special awards luncheon of the Texas and American Nursing Home Association in Austin Monday is a nominee of Mrs. Betty Duncan, program specialist of the volunteer grant program at Big Spring State Hospital.

The nominee is the Circuit Riderettes, a group of volunteer teenagers from Seminole. Members visit senior citizens and shut-ins, read, write letters for handicapped senior citizens, make telephone calls when personal visits are impractical, make supplies for use by clinics.

In addition, they are engaged in helping the community to understand and become interested in the mental health program. They have been engaged actively in projects at the Big Spring State Hospital and at Seminole have worked with patients of the community mental health clinic. They also have donated a record player to the state hospital teenage ward.

The Riderettes have raised funds through bake sales and other projects. They also have urged handicapped teenagers in the community to become Riderettes.

Cleanup Starts Chain Reaction

Effects of the recent cleanup campaign conducted by the Pride People Task Force included interest stirred among individuals to clean up other premises around the cleaned areas, it was reported by the group in a Tuesday meeting at the chamber.

Approximately 150 people participated and carried 2-12 pickup loads of litter from each of 12 locations around the city, along US 87 and US 80.

"It created an awareness of what litter bugs contribute to the appearance of our cities — from gum wrappers to large items," one member of the group said. Ten attended the meeting.

Mrs. Ann Boullion told the group that City Manager Larry Crow had reported a total of 300 junk cars have been removed from areas throughout the city this year.

Sands Yearbook Is Now Ready

Copies of the 1970 Mustang, the Sands High School yearbook, can be picked up at the school, Ronnie Gandy, principal, said this morning.

The school dismissed Monday for the summer, and the yearbooks did not arrive until this morning. The school will be open from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for persons wishing to pick up the annuals.

County Court Jurors Dismissed

Possible jurors reporting to Howard County Court this morning were dismissed until 9 a.m. Friday, when six cases are set for trial, Judge Lee Porter said.

Persons scheduled for trial Friday include: Alfredo Ramirez, driving while intoxicated; Joe Lopez Jr., carrying a prohibited weapon; Domingo Galaviz, non-support; Marvin Dawson Baucum, theft; and Dewitt Tidwell, speeding.

Cases set for today and Thursday have been rescheduled or defendants have indicated they will plead guilty.

Vows To Battle 'Phantom' Car Insurance Rates Hike

DALLAS (AP) — A fight against a second increase in Texas automobile liability insurance rates within six months was promised Tuesday by State Sen. Mike McKool.

Insurance companies have proposed that their premium charges be raised 15 to 20 percent on top of an 18 percent boost last November.

McKool told a reporter he could not understand why any company would find it necessary to charge consumers that much more for its product.

The Dallas legislator said, "It's ironic for the insurance companies to turn around and ask for this new raise after being granted an 18 percent jump only six months ago."

"They are reporting record profits to their stockholders each year and yet continue to ask for higher and higher premiums."

A spokesman for the Insurance Information Institute said "statements made yesterday and today by state Sen. Mike McKool exhibited considerable confusion as to the facts and a lack of knowledge about the regulation of the auto insurance industry in this state."

Robert Bezucha, chairman of the Southwestern Regional Advisory Committee of the Institute, said no request for rate increases had been made by any member companies.

Bezucha pointed out that the state insurance board "promulgates rates annually."

He said the staff of the board gathers statistics on income and claims payments of companies, and using a board approved formula establishes rates that will

Teenager Falls From Pickup

Kathy Love, 16, 409 16th, was reported in satisfactory condition at Cowper Hospital this morning following an accident Tuesday night when she fell from a moving pickup in the College Park Shopping Center.

Officers said the truck, driven by Melissa Cunningham, 1308 Sheppard Lane, was moving at a speed of about five miles per hour when Miss Love fell.

Dr. Leary Loses Request For Bail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has turned down a request by Dr. Timothy Leary to be freed on bail while appealing a California state prison sentence of one to 10 years for possessing marijuana cigarettes.

In rejecting the petition Tuesday, Douglas said he had no power to act until the California Supreme Court had a chance to review the conviction.

Arraignments Set

Approximately 30 persons were to be arraigned this morning in 118th District Court with Judge R. W. Caton presiding. The defendants indicted by the January Grand Jury in its two sessions, were to be read their indictments and indicate how they will plead.

SLIDE RULE WINNER — Joe A. Moss receives from Bob Dyer, representing the Texas Chemical Council, a slide rule as the outstanding science student at Big Spring High School. Dyer is technical service representative of Corden Oil & Chemical Company. Moss is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Moss and plans to major at the University of Texas in chemical engineering. He has been active in the student council, Key Club and honor society. Johnny Ted Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Fowler, Monahans, won a rule at Coahoma High, but he has moved to Monahans.

Garden Of The Month Announced For May

M. Sgt. and Mrs. Edward Cruz, 1907 Johnson, became Big Spring's first "green thumb" honorees Tuesday as they were announced recipients of the Garden of the Month award for May.

The Cruz's backyard was judged to exemplify qualities of design, execution and maintenance in line with criteria set up by the Pride People Task Force, the sponsoring organization.

First yard competition of its kind for Big Spring, the Garden of the Month is being sponsored for the first time this year by the chamber committee in order to recognize efforts by citizens to provide scenic beauty in the city through care of yards, gardens and individual plants.

Second place went to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rogers, 2307 Brent Drive, for the entire yard as entry. Third place winners were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lloyd, 1601 Wood, for their backyard entry. Honorable mention went to Dr. James Roberts, 2508 Allendale, for his entire yard.

Presentation of awards was to be made by Mrs. Tom Ivey on behalf of the Pride committee.

Entireties for the Garden of the Month for June are now being accepted and may be made by calling the chamber office and designating the size of the lot and whether the front side, back or a portion of the yard is being entered.

A single outstanding feature such as a tree or plant may be entered, according to Mrs. Ann Boullion, co-chairman of the Pride Committee. She said due to the fact judges will not enter the premises without permission, the owner must designate which area the judges are to view.

Deadline for next month's competition is set for June 1. Judging will be done between June 2-7.

Big Spring residents may view May's winners by driving by the residence, Mrs. Boullion said, but are asked not to enter the premises except by invitation of the homeowner.

Anyone wishing to enter their yard or a portion should call the chamber office. Judging is done in cooperation with city garden clubs and is based on points awarded in the proportion of design, 60 per cent; execution, 30 per cent; and maintenance 10 per cent.

Bezuha said companies in the state "simply do not apply for increases."

Mrs. B. J. Montgomery, Vincent Route, Coahoma, was in Hall - Bennett Memorial Hospital still undergoing examination shortly before noon to determine injuries resulting from an accident about 10 a.m. today near Luther.

Another Death Boosts Toll To 24 In Lubbock Tornado

LUBBOCK (AP) — A 24th victim of the May 11 Lubbock tornado died Tuesday night at Methodist Hospital.

She was Marie A. Mora, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Florencio Mora.

The girl was injured with two other Mora children while under a house during the furious tornado. The other children remain in the hospital.

The storm left thousands of persons homeless and property damage in millions of dollars.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., urged approval Tuesday of emergency relief aid for thousands of victims of tornadoes which have struck West Texas.

Tower joined Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., in requesting the relief.

Yarborough had introduced a bill to provide special temporary housing for up to one year while permanent homes are rebuilt, to enlarge the federal "forgiveness" clause in disaster loans, provide unemployment help and give assistance in clearing debris where it is a health hazard.

Tower said he had not seen damage such as in Lubbock since "I was among the occupation forces in Japan at the end of World War II."

A key provision in the bill which Tower cosigned calls for the government to waive repayment of up to $5,000 in federal disaster loans.

Under the Yarborough-Tower bill, the waiver would particularly help low-income families whose homes suffered major structural damage.

Federal Officials Reject Tyler's Integration Plan

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Federal officials have rejected the Tyler public schools' freedom of choice integration plan, the superintendent said Tuesday.

Following a four-hour meeting in Dallas among school and federal officials, Supt. Jim Plyler said the classroom desegregation plan was "not acceptable in its present form" by the government.

"All vestiges of a dual education system in Tyler must be eliminated by September, 1970," Plyler quoted officials of the Justice Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

HEW lawyer Don Vernon said the Tyler plan failed to properly integrate one junior high and three elementary schools.

"It's quite evident that our proposed plan is out," Plyler said.

Government spokesmen said "a couple of weeks is sufficient" for Tyler to produce an alternate plan.

Plyler said a public meeting would be called soon to discuss a new integration plan.

NAACP Exec Gun Victim

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — James M. Floyd, a member of the executive committee of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was found shot to death outside the chapter office Tuesday night.

Police investigating his death said they had some "very good leads" and had ruled out robbery as a motive because there was an undetermined amount of money on Floyd's body.

W. W. Law, chapter president, said he did not have enough facts to tell whether the shooting was racially motivated.

Floyd, 57, was employed as a member of a maintenance crew for an apartment complex. He was shot in the chest.

Fishesman Snags 'Horse'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A fishesman made the biggest catch of his career Tuesday — $200,000 worth of pure heroin.

Tony Vasquez, 26, who lives in the Houston suburb of Sugarland, was fishing along the banks of an irrigation ditch near his home when he discovered a package hidden in the weeds along the bank.

Inside a wrapped handkerchief were two plastic bags containing 26 ounces of heroin.

Vasquez notified police. City and federal narcotics agents rushed to pick up the catch, the only one Vasquez made that day.

Narcotics officers said the heroin probably was hidden there overnight while the man who smuggled it in from Mexico was making contact with a buyer in Houston.

Siboney Has Sales Increase

Siboney Corporation reported an increase in sales for the first quarter of 1970 but showed an operating loss for the period. The company stated that the first quarter usually results in a loss due to the normal low seasonal demand for its asphalt and educational products.

Revenues were $1,926,000 in the first quarter of 1970 as compared with $1,412,000 in the same period of 1969. The deficit for the first quarter in 1970 was $492,000 as compared with $339,000 in 1969. James H. Shells, president of Siboney Corporation, said that operations for the full year are expected to be profitable.

The net loss per share was 33 cents for the first quarter as against 24 cents for the same quarter a year ago.

Operating costs and expenses were up half a million dollars, and selling, general and administrative expenses were up $200,000.

If the Compression, Inc. and Southgate Shopping Center acquisition of last year (which were not shown except for Feb. 1 and June 1 because of previous fiscal years) had been shown as of Jan. 1, the net loss would have been $331,448 and the net loss per share at 23 cents.

Awards Go To Base Personnel

Webb's suggestion program has resulted in several awards to base personnel.

Glen E. Gale received the largest award, $215, based on his suggestion to use worn fabrics in lieu of procuring rags. The suggestion results in the savings of $3,240.

Marianne Hargrove received $165 for her suggestion to use the post office for mailing supply items to Goodfellow AFB, rather than using regular truck runs, saving Webb approximately $2,211.

S. Sgt. Raymond P. Besaw made the suggestion program's list of winners and received $75 for his effort. His suggestion concerned a pin assembly on tool counters in the maintenance complex. His $75 winnings were based on the tangible savings of $750 for the base.

M. Sgt. Coy F. Sims, Sgt. Lesley W. Rhodes, and Airman I.C. Gary D. Quirk were the $25 winners.

The following certificate winners are from the present and the last quarter: Lt. Col. Frederick J. Kevelter and Capt. Donald C. Paladino each have two certificates. First Lt. Carroll C. Williams and Thomas F. Evans have one certificate for their suggestions. Nine other certificate of recognition winners are M. Sgt. John Krocza, Staff Sergeants John C. Buckley, Richard F. Stroup and Roy L. Braga, T. Sgt. Evaristo Contreras, Sgt. John B. Napier, Airman I.C. William F. Robinson and Miss Marianne Hargrove.

WILL CONTINUE TO RETALIATE AGAINST ARABS

Israel Rejects U. N. Slap For Raid

By The Associated Press

Israel has rejected a U.N. Security Council condemnation of its biggest raid yet into Lebanon, saying it will continue to retaliate against Arab attacks.

The council approved a resolution Tuesday night sharply rebuking Israel for the attack May 12 on Arab guerrilla bases in the foothills of Mt. Hermon. The Israelis said they killed 30 guerrillas and captured 15 in the 32-hour operation.

The resolution, declaring that such attacks could "no longer be tolerated," was approved 11-0. The United States, Colombia, Nicaragua and Sierra Leone abstained.

EIGHTH WARNING

It was the council's eighth warning to Israel since March 1968. The resolution said Israel had carried out "a premeditated military action in violation of its obligations" under the U.N. Charter and that the council would "consider taking adequate and effective steps or the relevant articles of the measures in accordance with Charter to implement its resolutions." Such steps could include economic sanctions or political or military action.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Te-koah called the resolution one-sided and declared that Israel reserves its right to hit back at all Arab guerrilla strikes. "We shall always defend ourselves against attack and protect our people from aggression until our neighbors realize that peace is better than war," Tekoah said.

"BAD FAIRIES"

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost also labeled the resolution one-sided and complained that it did not "take sufficient account of the repeated violations of the cease-fire originating from within Lebanon."

Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik called the United States and its followers "bad fairies" who had done "everything in their power" to keep the resolution from being passed. He also repeated the Soviet demand that Israel withdraw from all occupied Arab territory.

Yost replied that Malik had "seized every opportunity to envenom the atmosphere" and had given not "the slightest sign of a desire to contribute to a peaceful settlement" of the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

In Tel Aviv, meanwhile, the Israeli military command deraeli jets bombed civilian targets along the Suez Canal Tuesday and killed or wounded several civilians. Tel Aviv said the planes hit only military targets.

Spokesmen reported that Israeli warplanes staged a 90-minute raid today on Egyptian military targets across the canal, and all planes returned following the attacks along the central part of the waterway.

WATER FLOWING

Israeli sources said Arab guerrillas in Jordan fired on an Israeli border patrol south of the Sea of Galilee this morning and that Israeli gunners returned the fire, killing three guerrillas.

The Israeli military command also reported that a number of mortar shells were fired at a settlement in the same sector during the night. No Israeli casualties were reported in either incident.

Meanwhile, water has begun flowing through the Ghor irrigation canal in Jordan after a month of repairs.

Israeli warplanes ruptured the waterway in a raid Jan. 1 in retaliation for repeated attacks on Israeli border settlements opposite the canal. Informed sources said repairs on the U.S.-financed canal were allowed under a de facto agreement reached between Israel and Jordan with the help of the United States.

Icebreaking Tanker Suffers Minor Damage To Its Hull

HOUSTON (AP) — The ice-

breaking tanker SS Manhattan, in the Arctic for testing, reported Tuesday that it has suffered minor damage to its hull.

But Humble Oil & Refining Co., which is operating the Manhattan, said here that the damage does not constitute a danger to the ship and its mission will continue.

This is the vessel's second voyage to the Arctic. Last year it made an historic trip through the Northwest Passage to test whether a year round oil tanker route from Alaska's north slope to the east coast was possible.

This second trip will not include another passage of the Manhattan through the Northwest Passage. The Manhattan is testing various conditions of ice in the eastern areas of the Passage. It is due to start home next week. The voyage started in early April.

The tanker was reported Tuesday to be in Eclipse Sound at the northern tip of Baffin Island with an accompanying Canadian Coast Guard icebreaker, the Louis S. St. Laurent.

The ship was reported damaged at the stern during a backing test. The area is protected internally by a watertight bulkhead, company officials said.

There also was some indication of damage reported in a small tank used for storage of fresh water, but it was not thought to be serious.

"An inspection of the damage will be made by divers from the St. Laurent when the ship reaches open water in a few days," the company said. "If needed, temporary repairs will be made by the ship's crew. Both damaged areas are in a part of the ship's hull that had not been replaced with high tensile steel," the announcement said.

The ice conditions were said to be substantially different from those found last summer.

"Ice of more uniform thickness, heavier snow cover and less open water have proved ideal conditions for testing," a spokesman said.

Castro Admits He May Not Reach Record Sugar Crop

MIAMI (AP) — Fidel Castro has admitted for the first time that he may not reach this year the record 10 million-ton sugar crop on which he repeatedly has staked the honor of his revolution.

Castro made the admission in a speech at a Havana welcome rally Tuesday night for the return of 11 Cuban fishermen who were kidnapped by U.S.-based exiles and later released. The broadcast speech was monitored in Miami.

The Cuban prime minister said his enemies had speculated William Island after their capture that he was seeking an incident in Cuban waters more than such as the fishermen kidnapping a week ago.

ings or recent exile guerrilla landings on which to blame sugar difficulties.

But he told cheering thousands in front of the former U.S. Embassy: "If the goal is not reached, we will have two things, a moral defeat without a doubt, and we will have to find among ourselves the blame and study with courage the causes."

Seated with Castro on a platform set up atop two trucks were the fishermen, just flown to Cuba from the Bahamas.

They had been stranded on tiny William Island after their capture in Cuban waters more than a week ago.

Alpha 66, an anti-Castro organization, held them hostage for some Alpha 66 men held captive inside Cuba, but released them after Castro spurned any exchange and the U.S. government expressed displeasure over the incident.

Castro blamed rains, equipment trouble at mills, low yield and other factors for falling behind schedule in the harvesting of his dollar-producing crop.

Castro's timetable called for 8 million tons by May 7. Havana Radio reported recently that the harvest still was short of 7.5 million.

Hospitals Century Behind In Services, Expert Claims

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Hospitals in America are a century behind in providing services to their patients, Gordon A. Friesen, founder of an international hospital consulting firm said Tuesday.

"The tragic part is we are practicing 20th century medicine in 19th century facilities," he said.

Friesen was in Houston to address the 41st annual convention of the Texas Hospital Association which ends tonight.

The worst wrongs, he said, include repeated wasting of professional personnel, refusal by many nurses to provide bedside care, duplications of supportive services and inconsistent use of patient beds.

One of the things all hospitals need to do, he said, is to do away with wards and build nothing but private rooms.

"Poor people have traditionally been put in huge open wards—and only the rich or middle-upper-class could afford private rooms. The idea is hogwash."

"We must never assume that the poor are any less sensitive than the rich and frequently they need more extensive nursing care than anyone else," Friesen said.

All private rooms doesn't need to raise the costs of hospitals, he said.

With no wards there are no problems of having men's wards and women's wards and no need to reserve maternity cases to a special section, he said.

Hospitals with all private rooms could operate at a higher per cent of occupancy and therefore operate more economically, Friesen said.

"It behooves us to build new hospital plants and a hospital our firm has worked with in Toronto, Canada, shows a different concept is possible," he said.

Nurses stations have been eliminated. Trained clerical workers take care of the paper work, supplies are delivered to each room by other personnel and the nurses are left free to take care of their patients.

"We've put lots of things on a production line," he said. "Supplies come from one central place via monorail. We utilize all phases of automation so we can free the nurses to spend time with their patients."

Ad Valorem Taxes

There is much talk about ad valorem taxes, but little about what it other than another study. The nearest thing to overcoming one major problem is the legislative act which shaves the state property tax by five cents per $100 assessed valuation until the 35 cents for school tax disappears in 1975. The following year the two-cent tax for state office buildings expires unless renewed.

This would be presumed to solve the problem of competitive under-assessment by the counties to avoid state ad valorem taxes, but there will still remain a 10-cent per $100 tax for college buildings. Unless and until this is changed, the incentive for holding down local valuations (which also become the state valuations) will remain as ever. The counties which are forced of necessity to raise values in order to yield sufficient tax revenues will still go on paying a disproportionately high share of the state ad valorem tax.

Abolishment of the state ad valorem tax in toto is not in prospect, although it has many advocates. The alternative might be some system of standard assessment to meet state standards, but this would be tremendously difficult.

There now is a legislative study underway concerning ad valorem taxes and means of more equitably levying them, but based on the pressures of interest wishing to be excepted or given preferential treatment, it is not too likely that substantial reform will result.

Vote Absentee

Although many people seem to be unaware of it, there still remains the matter of a Democratic second primary to settle nominees for county judge, two commissioners and a state representative.

In the event of the representative, judgeship and one of the commissioner spots, the outcome of this runoff will determine the actual election for practical purposes.

This important election, however, comes at a time when many people will be away on vacations or off to summer school.

Absentee voting now can assure these of a voice in the outcome of the runoff. So, if there is a possibility you may be out of hand the first weekend in June, please go to the county clerk's office right away and cast your ballot.

Russia, China Put Pressure On U.S.

WASHINGTON — Significant news is emerging that has a bearing on some of the important subjects which have been the cause of controversy on the campuses in the United States.

The Soviet Union, for instance, hoping to take advantage of the disunity in this country, now is proposing to Red China that both countries forget their differences and join together to pressure American withdrawal from Southeast Asia. Russia also asked Communist China to go unimpeded to North Vietnam. Up to this time, relations between the Soviets and the Red Chinese have, outwardly at least, been unsatisfactory.

COINCIDENTALLY, moreover, the Soviets are exerting pressure in the Middle East, and say they will be ready to discuss an embargo on arms there if the United States will agree to help bring about Israel's immediate withdrawal from territory which it occupied in the 1967 war.

The Communists remain active not only in Southeast Asia and the Middle East but also in the Mediterranean, where the Soviets have increased their naval strength. Tass, the Soviet News Agency, claims the Russian warships are staying in the Mediterranean "in order to strengthen peace and security of the peoples in the area," and predicts that the United States will resume arms shipments to Greece because of the increased Communist naval strength in the Mediterranean.

ALL THESE maneuvers indicate that peace is hardly the objective of either Peking or Moscow. The forces of the United States on land and sea are being alerted for possible troubles that may develop if violations of the Southeast Asia Treaty or the North Atlantic Treaty should occur.

MOST INTERESTING to the young people in America will be the statement by Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird — in an interview in Washington — that he hopes to begin the establishment of an "all volunteer" U.S. force in Southeast Asia next year. Declaring that "it cannot be done overnight," he explains that after the United States does begin sending only volunteers to Vietnam, a few draftees will have to remain there for about a year even after the new plan has been adopted.

It is apparent, however, that a volunteer Army is definitely being planned, and that the draft system will undergo changes of a vital nature in the next few years. Draft calls will likely be diminished to a relatively small number within the next year or two.

THE ADMINISTRATION, of course, is determined to reduce our forces stationed in Vietnam, but continues to be much concerned about the safety of the men left there. Military experts at the Pentagon are watching every move being made in Southeast Asia to determine whether the Soviet Union or Red China, or both, will encourage a massive offensive against American forces when our combat troops in Vietnam have been substantially reduced. Under the present plan, most of the American servicemen who remain will be in the support category, along with air and naval units.

THERE IS NO question about the administration's determination to withdraw our men from Cambodia by the end of June. But this doesn't mean that the South Vietnamese will refrain from attacking the "sanctuaries" several months hence if the North Vietnamese attempt to use them again as supply bases for further military operations.

The big question now is whether Red China and the Soviets will get together to increase their military aid to North Vietnam and provide the necessary funds for Hanoi to carry on extensive operations against South Vietnam once the major part of the American forces have been withdrawn. The South Vietnamese, however, will probably have a substantial number of the American regular Army to train them in military matters for many years to come, just as South Korea has benefited by the continuous presence of American troops ever since the war began in 1950.

Wouldn't Sign

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Of 199 persons approached in Corpus Christi, Tex., recently, only 18 could correctly identify a document as a replica of the Bill of Rights.

More than half of the people approached on the street in an experiment by the Corpus Christi Caller-Times refused to sign a replica of the Bill of Rights.

Norman Isaacs, Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal executive editor told of the experiment to a recent convention of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association.

Isaacs said 56 more persons signed the petition although more than a third of these didn't bother to read it. Of the 143 who declined, Isaacs said 54 per cent read and refused to sign the petition. The others wouldn't read or wouldn't sign, he said.

Greater Love Hath No Man

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Few people ever really give up on life as long as they feel they have even a bare chance of inheriting money. It's the last hope to die in the human heart. It is easier to become a millionaire in 10 years than it is to keep up alone a daily program of calisthenics for that long. But the average person wouldn't have much fun in doing either.

Greater love hath no man than he who publicly wears the first sweater his girl friend ever knitted.

A woman never really feels secure in marriage until she no longer thinks it necessary to wear her husband away from the friends who have a bad influence on him.

You may hate to quit any game while you're a winner—but at least you ought to be smart enough to get out of it before you lose all your marbles.

An optimist is an executive who thinks he can buy an electric typewriter for his own personal secretary without having to buy one for every other secretary in the office.

Before marrying the boy next door, a wise girl first talks her parents into moving to a better neighborhood.

We live in a time when a fellow can make more profit out of being a character than in having it.

Women will never have equal rights in this country until they can scratch in public, as men often do, and still keep their social standing.

An old-timer is a guy who can remember away back when the reason most men carried knives in their pockets was to cut off a chunk of chewing tobacco—or to pare an apple.

One of the hardest things for an office peasant to figure out is why the telephone always rings just as he reached the climax of a funny story, but never does when the boss is telling one. It wouldn't bore.

Whenever I see anyone in a restaurant peeling off artichoke leaves and dipping them in butter, I always wonder why he can't find a more constructive way to kill time.

There's nothing that gives a man a headier feeling of philanthropy than ordering a box of cookies from the Girl Scouts. But you kind of lose respect for him if he tries to deduct the amount from his income tax.

The millenium is supposed to be on its way, but now and then we get the distinct feeling it must have had to take a detour.

Cure Taking Too Long

NEW YORK (AP) — "The whole darn game plan" may not have gone awry, as Paul McCracken assures us, but to date the Nixon anti-inflation program doesn't look like a winner and the fans are urging some substitutions.

McCracken, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, has stubbornly, perhaps courageously, defended his textbook approach over the past year or so, and despite little evidence of success, has declined to substitute.

Now some of his associates in the Nixon administration are obviously getting as anxious as millions of ordinary Americans, who watch jobs being lost, prices continuing to rise, mortgages unavailable, housing in adequate.

George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, suggests that the administration offer more guidance to business and labor as to what increases would be inflationary. This would bring the persuasive powers of government, and the voice of public opinion, to bear on any increases.

Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, has suggested roughly the same thing, a standard set by government of a so-called incomes policy, obviously still holds to a rather stoic and purely economic philosophy that calls for strong fiscal and monetary measures to do the trick. But at what cost?

These prospects still confront the economy:

—A further deterioration of housing. The competition for money among the giant corporations and the federal government leaves relatively small scraps for housing.

—Rising unemployment. Some rise in joblessness is inevitable in a slowdown. But the administration has already confessed that the 4.8 per cent rate in April was higher than forecast.

—Rising interest rates. Or more certainly, no substantial decreases.

A federal budget deficit. The budget had been in surplus and so was depressing inflationary tendencies, but now it may begin contributing again to inflation and high interest rates.

Wonders If He Has Gonorrhea

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
 (First of two articles)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read that many people have gonorrhea and don't know it. Please give the symptoms and signs of this disease in males.—P.E.

Dear Doctor: I had pain during urination and a discharge about 10 days after a sexual contact. I had no sores of any sort in the area. Is a urine specimen which checks out negative conclusive evidence that I have not contracted V.D.?—T.H.

Every youngster of high school age, these days, has heard about V.D.—venereal disease. How many of them really know how to recognize it is another matter. Letters from teenagers, and older, prove it. So many have "heard about it." So many still do not know.

In the male, a pus discharge, with a burning sensation and a discharge, is the usual sign that gonorrhea has developed.

These signs appear in 95 per cent of boys and men who get the disease. They should have treatment at once. If not, they may struggle with the symptoms for several months, then have the infection subside into a chronic case. They can still spread the disease, and from their own standpoint, the chronic infection can lead to sterility, prostate trouble, kidney trouble, bone infection, disease of the joints, and several other stubborn and unpleasant consequences.

Symptoms first develop anywhere from three to ten or more days after exposure. When a boy or young man knows he has been exposed, and these signs appear at any time within the space of two or three weeks, there isn't much room for doubt as to what he has. A visible sore, which is a sign of syphilis and some less common venereal diseases, is not a sign of gonorrhea.

When there is a doubt, a simple urine test may disclose telltale pus cells—but that is not conclusive. To be certain, cells should be treated with a laboratory stain to make positive identification of the germs.

Not getting immediate treatment is dangerous for the young man himself, unfair to others with whom he comes in contact.

The same for older men, too—but gonorrhea is more prevalent among the young. And if the following figures don't show how serious this is, I don't know what will:

Gonorrhea is the most common of all venereal diseases. There are an estimated 1,500,000 cases a year in the U.S., and it is rising.

Reported cases indicate that one teenager in 50 contracts the disease each year. And one in 25 in the age group 20 to 24. But some cases go unreported! The risk has to be higher!

Serious disease can develop as much as 20 years later from untreated gonorrhea.

What else can we say to impress the importance? The problem is somewhat more difficult to detect in females; I will discuss that tomorrow.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do foam contraceptives prevent venereal disease? Are they 100 per cent effective in preventing disease?—T.W.M.

They are intended to prevent conception and will not prevent disease.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My teacher says that in cold weather if your legs aren't covered and the rest of your body is, your legs will get fat, because the extra fat keeps them warm. Is this true? I don't want fat, chubby knees.—M.C.A.

It is true that fat layers act as insulation and help keep you warm. But that doesn't mean that you are going to grow layers of fat in any exposed area. How about your face? It doesn't get fat from being out in the cold, does it? So don't worry about your knees.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, for the booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim

Unremembered, But 'Congratulations'

Until the word got around that I am a middling poor speaker, I got an occasional invitation to be a commencement speaker—usually on the smaller school circuit, of course.

IT WORRIED me as to what to say to the young people who were either being promoted into high school or were taking that important step from high school into the world. Maybe that's as it should be, for inspiration and challenge are the stuff on which we take a step upward.

But, looking back on my own experiences in these circumstances, I wonder if I might not have saved myself the trouble of trying to be profound. I can remember some of the principal figures at my graduations, but I can't remember what they said. No disrespect to them, but whatever their messages were, they certainly didn't make the imprint of the Ten Commandments, Declaration of Independence or preamble to the Constitution.

ABOUT ALL I can remember about our high school baccalaureate speaker was that he was fiery Methodist evangelist, the Rev. Burke Culpepper. I think I remember that it was a pretty hot and uncomfortable night in those caps and gowns in the days before air conditioning. Similarly, I can remember that Dr. J. M. Gordon, dean of Texas Tech, made our commencement address. I was impressed that a real, live college dean had honored our town and our school, (and forever after Dean Gordon was my mental picture of what a dean should look like), but I can't remember what he said.

BY THE GRACE of God and two parents who sacrificed about ever material thing they had to see my brother and sisters through college, I arrived at that pinnacle of achievement—candidate for a sheepskin.

The pageantry of the thing, with the good doctors and masters of the school donning their multi-colored capes and leading the parade majestically across the campus sticks with me. But here memory begins to fail. I have vague recollections about the baccalaureate, but I can't even positively say who was the speaker.

AS TO COMMENCEMENT, I recall that our speaker was Kirby Page, but for some generalities about using our creative talents, I can't remember his address. What impressed this on me was that each of us got a copy of his then-latest book, "Living Creatively." He was either a Quaker by persuasion or nature, and after World War II, some regarded him as having a taint of pacifism. By now, however, he probably would be much in vogue, so I suppose I should dig around and find that book and read it again.

THE POINT is, however, that as with the facetious dictum that not many souls are saved after the first 30 minutes, so it is that not many are really listening at commencement. But it's still important to say to your young folk: "Congratulations! Well done! You are our best and only hope for tomorrow."

Some 'Righteous' Bloodletting

WASHINGTON — Hanging, as it were, by my thumbs, I have waited as patiently as possible for a word of protest from the professional liberals over the directive delivered by a black Unitarian minister that members of his flock shoot any policeman who breaks into their homes without a warrant.

But it must be presumed that the Ted Kennedy, the Sargent Shriver, and Birch Bayh, the John Lindsay and the Arthur Goldbergs have been too busy cashing in on the anti-war demonstrations. Or maybe they're all too "non-violent" to take issue with this curious clergyman.

AT ANY RATE, the inflammatory speech (I save the word sermon for more respectable pronouncements) of the Rev. David Eaton, senior minister of All Souls Unitarian Church here, remains on the record. It is Eaton's answer to the D.C. bill which would permit police immediate entry into private homes where there is "reasonable belief" evidence is likely to be destroyed.

Eaton was named senior minister of onetime respectable All Souls last September in one of those exhibitionistic actions so chic among certain crazed congregations across this benighted land. There were gasps from his listeners when he challenged "liberals to become radicals" in order to defeat the bill.

"SHOOT HIM," Eaton ordered his congregation in discussing the possibility that a policeman might try to "break into your home." Of course he covered himself. Such violent action, he added, is necessary

"because of the oppression that is growing in this country." The crime bill, he said, is "symptomatic of the same kind of repression that existed in Hitler's Germany."

Eaton also had a reply for those he said would ask, "How can you as a clergyman suggest that we shoot anyone?" Said Eaton, "I call it righteous indignation . . . if you are not willing to die for something, then life is not worth living. I am willing to die."

UNFORTUNATELY, this minister of God, as he calls himself, did not go into the question of whether the cops he has ordered shoot also are willing to die in pursuit of their ordered duties. Perhaps he is planning a fund drive for the children left fatherless by his policy.

But the tragedy of Eaton's demand for a little "righteous" bloodletting lies in his apparent unconcern about where it could lead.

PONDERING EATON'S inflammatory utterances, the thought occurs that it is not the majority of our students and black militants but some of our alleged adults who are causing polarization among all segments of the population. In their untidy scramble for headlines, confused preachers, cowardly college presidents and opportunistic politicians seem to have convinced the more militant young that even "righteous" violence is legitimate in a worthy cause. Yet these "leaders" are always appalled when their incitements to riot in due course produce riots.

First Fly Girls Packed Lunch

By LINDA DEUTSCH
 Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the chill dawn of May 15, 1930, eight pretty girls in identical green capes swept onto an airstrip ready to make aviation history.

"And then the motors went haywire," recalls Harriet Iden, one of the eight. "It took them three hours to fix the plane while we sat in the greasy spoon across the street drinking coffee."

"IT'S FUNNY," she adds, "but we didn't get cold feet. We weren't scared."

When they took off, the ladies launched a new career for women. They called themselves stewardesses.

Now, on the 40th anniversary of that flight, some 50,000 young women work at the occupation, which has changed drastically since Harriet's flight in the Boeing 80A trimotor.

"Being a stewardess now couldn't be as exciting," says the Glendale housewife, now in her 60s. "Don't forget we were landing in cow pastures when the weather was bad."

They were also doing chores foreign to today's miniskirted stewardesses—such as cleaning the plane's chemical toilets, hauling baggage and, when the plane broke down, baby-sitting with it until mechanics arrived.

THE FIRST stewardesses flew six days a week—sometimes seven—and were paid $125 a month. When stranded out of town, they got $6 a day for expenses.

But there was glamor. "We had such pretty outfits," sighs Mrs. Iden. "The suits had green capes lined in gray silk. They called us the little green swallows."

Mrs. Iden and the seven other girls were hired by Boeing Air Transport, which later became United Air Lines. A Boeing executive, Steve Stimpson, hatched the stewardess idea after taking a bumpy flight on which he wound up serving sandwiches and coffee—normally the copilot's job.

"It was obvious to me that some type of help was necessary," says Stimpson, 75, now retired in suburban Burbank.

HE STILL has a copy of the memo he wrote to a Boeing vice president outlining his idea.

"Imagine the psychology of having young women as regular members of the crew," Stimpson wrote. "Imagine the national publicity we would get from it, and the tremendous effect it would have on the traveling public."

He suggested graduate nurses for the job.

Stimpson's idea wasn't an immediate hit. The vice president sent back a one-word reply to the memo: "No."

"Many many people objected to women in air transportation," says Stimpson. "The pilots in those days, in big leather coats and goggles, flying around over the sierras, took their jobs seriously. They didn't want to worry about women running around in their plane."

But Stimpson, a traffic manager with a flair for public relations, won out.

"It took about six months to put over the idea. I got kicked out of the best hospitals in San Francisco trying to recruit girls."

HE FOUND ONE nurse who liked the idea. She was Ellen Church, who became chief stewardess and traveled to Chicago to recruit more. The first stewardess crew included four San Franciscans and four girls from Chicago—among them Harriet Fry, now Mrs. Iden.

Of the other seven, five survive. Inez Keller and her husband are retired in San Diego; Cornelia Peterman, a widow, lives south of Los Angeles at Corona Del Mar. Two live in Northern California—Jessie Carter and her husband at Mineral and Ellis Crawford and her husband at San Francisco. Margaret Arnott Henry, a widow, lives at Del Norte, Colo.

Ellen Church Marshall, the chief stewardess, died in 1965 after a horseback riding accident. And Alva Johnson died in an automobile accident nearly 30 years ago.

TOP SLUGGERS IN GAME — Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves (left) and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants get together prior to Tuesday's game in San Francisco. Mays has hit 600 home runs, more than any active player. Aaron, three years younger than Mays, has cleared 570, including 16 this year.

Chris Short Shines In Phillies' Win

By The Associated Press

Two hours of surgery was the painful back injury necessary last June to put Chris Short back together again, but he is now working order again.

A two-time All-Star, Short has won 119 contests in his major league career and is now 3-4 for the season.

"I had a better fastball to throw than I can remember," Short said. "Everything I was doing went right where I wanted it to go."

Short got all the support he needed in the opening inning when Doron Johnson drove in a run with a single. The Phillies added a run in the second while walking none and striking out Larry Bowa. Reached on a wild pitch by loser socked Montreal 7-4, Cincinnati Dock Ellis, 2-4, stole home.

The Mets cracked five home runs, a pair by Tommie Agee and one apiece from Ron Swoboda, Cleon Jones and Don Clendenen in slugging the Expos and gaining a virtual first-place tie with the Cubs in game winner in 1966, captured the NL East, Chicago is ahead

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Howard County JC's first home basketball opponent next season, coach Harold Wilder reveals, will be Christian College of the Southwest.

CCSW, a Mesquite-based team, will have a new coach and a new team. School officials have told their faithful there won't be any high-powered recruiting like the school has done in the past. That means the coaches won't be going east of the Mississippi River for his talent.

However, the school will bid for the best boys in the Southwest and obviously will go in for Negro talent in a big way again, so local buffs can expect the Trojans to be tough again.

Incidentally, two of CCSW's finest players the past season, Steve Davidson and Ray Golsen, have listened to Dennis Walling's sales pitch at West Texas State University and thought the sounds were dulcet.

Walling, on the other hand, fancied he'd scored a 10-strike.

"It's our greatest recruiting accomplishment since Simmie Hill," Walling — who once coached at Christian College himself — was quoted as saying. "I feel these two fellows can lead us back to the NIT."

Davidson was a junior college All-American. Some who saw both boys here in the Region V meet as freshmen thought Golsen, though four inches shorter, was perhaps more consistent than Davidson, who tended to be moody.

No wonder the big league ball clubs have to draw well. On a recent trip to Houston, the Chicago Cubs spent $11,696 for plane fare, $2,500 for hotel accommodations, $4,860 for meals and $1,900 for ground transportation. That adds up to $20,956.

The Cubs and all other big league teams, are paid only 28 cents for each paying customer who shows up for the games. Add the expense to the salaries the club is paying out and it comes to a pretty penny.

Minnesota Fats, who stopped here several years ago to work his way around a pool table, says that pool tournaments are a complete waste of time.

"They're for sissies. I only play for cash. I don't want none of them trophies. I don't want my house cluttered up with a lot of junk. You can't put no silver loving cup in a bank account."

It was also Fats' belief that nothing beats pool for relaxation. Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, he says, were always challenging each other to a game of eight-ball when things got rough in setting up our Republic.

The race itself is allright, if you can hang around for a couple of minutes, but the hoopla that goes with the Kentucky Derby hardly makes the whole thing worth while.

The Run for the Roses became insufferable once television took charge. One of the networks built a program around the last Derby that might have run more than an hour but seemed to last more than a week.

Why make the camera linger with Hollywood-type people reading from idiot cards when the race is the thing?

Of the 37 boys recruited by Oklahoma State University this summer to play football, 14 are Texans.

One of those was Tony Boxell, a fine halfback for Odessa Permian last fall. Another was Morgan Howell, who was destined to play quarterback for Midland Lee in 1969 but who moved away before the campaign got under way.

Another was a junior college transfer from Blinn, Tex., named Archie Bennett. He's a Seguin flanker who has stepped the 100 in 9.4.

Rabbits Have No Easy Time On Pro Tour

ATLANTA (AP) — "No more Mondays."

That was the joyous shout sent up when young Larry Hinson scored his first pro golf tour victory in the New Orleans Open last year.

"I'd gladly pay $40,000 to skip those Mondays," Bob Menne ruefully admitted after he'd lost in a playoff to Lee Trevino for the title and the $40,000 first prize for this year's National Airlines Open. "But," he continued, "you can't buy your way out here."

To understand the problems of the pro golf tour—and it has problems despite this era of vastly increasing purses and prize money—it is necessary to investigate some of the inner workings, some of the mechanics and systems whereby players become eligible to compete in the lucrative events.

Mondays play a key part.

It's on Monday that the so-called "rabbits" have to tee it up in an attempt to qualify for a spot in the field for the tournament proper. They call it "The Suicide Open."

CAN END SOON

One bad shot and it's all over. They've lost their chance to play for another week. Ask them what they shot and they'll reply: "Down the Road."

And that's what it is. It's down the road to the next tournament and another Monday and another attempt to join the ranks of the money makers.

Most of the players generally known to the public are exempt from qualifying one way or another.

Invitational tournaments and certain other events, such as the Masters and the U.S. Open, have their own formats for qualifications and exemptions and do not necessarily follow the same system.

The normal open tournament has a field of 144. After two rounds the field is cut to the low 70 scorers and ties for the 70th position. All who finish that tournament—all who make the cut—are eligible for the next regular tour event.

All former U.S. Open and PGA champions have lifetime exemptions.

All tournament winners of the last 12 months are exempt. Members of the current Ryder Cup team are exempt.

The top 60 money winners for the last calendar year are exempt. (A point system has been instituted this year to replace the money list as a method of determining exemptions.)

Stars Decision Jets, 6 To 3

The Stars experienced two big innings on their way to a 6-3 American Little League victory over the Jets Tuesday night.

The Stars, now 6-1 on the year, counted three runs in the third inning and three more in the fourth.

Mounce had two of the winners' seven hits. Farris connected safely twice for the Jets, who dropped to 1-7 with the loss.

Steers Deadlock Firebirds, 6-6

Curfew caught the Steers and the Firebirds in a 6-6 deadlock in American Minor League play here Tuesday.

The Steers tallied five runs in the second but the Firebirds kept fighting back and finished deadlocked the score with a run in the fourth.

The Firebirds, 3-2-1 for the season, outlived the Steers, 6-6. Kennedy had two hits for the Firebirds.

Stockton of the Steers fanned nine in four innings. The Steers are now 4-3-1.

Some Drivers Are Trice Away From Qualifying

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Ron Bucknum is looking for something that is awfully scarce around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway these days: an extra tenth of a second in lap speed.

Bucknum, 34, of Capistrano Beach, Calif., is one of about a dozen drivers considered prime contenders for one of the six open spots in the Memorial Day 500-mile 33-car field.

There are only three days of practice left before the final two days of qualifying Saturday and Sunday.

"I have been running consistently about 163.5," Bucknum said Tuesday after putting his No. 19 turbo-charged Ford through its 16th practice session in two weeks. "If I could run that speed in qualifying, I just might ease into the line-up. But an extra tenth of a second in lap time would be like money in the bank."

Bucknum, father of four, drove sports cars for years before making the Speedway for the first time in 1967. He was bumped from the line-up on the final day of qualifying by a faster car. In 1968 he started in 19th position and drove 76 laps before his transmission broke. He made only 16 laps last year before quitting with a burned piston.

Bucknum must out-perform a couple of racing veterans if he is to make this year's field.

Prime candidates for one of the starting berths are Lloyd Ruby, the lanky Texan who ran into unbelievable luck last weekend, and three-time world driving champion Jack Brabham.

Odessa Ousted In Playoffs

ARLINGTON — Odessa College was ousted from the junior college baseball playoffs by Panola College here Tuesday.

Panola won both ends of a doubleheader, 7-0 and 3-2, to qualify for the trip to the National tournament scheduled in Grand Junction, Colo., next month.

Panola, which is based in Carthage, is the defending national champion.

Canadians To Test Norwegian Kicker

By The Associated Press

The news from the world of pro football these days generally concerns trades, signings of draft choices, blarney about players making movies, talking about retiring, and so forth.

But one of the most intriguing bits to pop up about pigskin professionals comes from Canada. And what it's about is Odd.

The Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League have signed a player who never played the sport before. And if the fellow turns out to be another Jan Stenerud, it would be Just Odd.

Stenerud, you'll recall, is the ex-Norwegian skier who went to the University of Wyoming, somehow attracted the attention of football Coach Lloyd Eaton and became a soccer-style placekicking expert.

Jan gained football fame, however, by kicking three field goals for Kansas City at New Orleans in January when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings 23-7 in the Super Bowl.

HE'S JUST ODD

It was thought this would produce a rush to Norway's ski slopes by pro football talent scouts. It's Just Odd, however, that the first skier would be placekicker since Stenerud comes from the University of Wyoming.

His name, would you believe is Just Odd-Michaelson. He's also from Norway. Just Odd at the University of Wyoming, he ended Wyoming on a ski scholarship. While watching the football team work out, he told Eaton he could kick. Just Odd was 26, however, and under Western Athletic Conference rules couldn't play football.

Anyway, Ray Jauch, coach of the Eskimos, traveled to Wyoming, took a look at Just Odd's kicking, and Edmonton announced the signing of Michaelson Tuesday.

Back on the American football scene, there were these other developments:

— Herb Adderley said in Philadelphia he'll retire rather than play another season with the Green Bay Packers. To do so, said Adderley, one of the top defensive backs of the National Football League the past nine years, would be "a mental impossibility."

NO AGREEMENT

Adderley said there was no truth to reports he and Green Bay Coach Phil Bengtson had reached an understanding.

Adderley disclosed he has a chance for a movie role "not a big part, but a start. The movie starts June 5."

— Joe Namath, who's making a movie now, will become a free agent after the 1971 season, the New York Daily News quoted Philip Ilesin, president of the New York Jets, as saying.

Twins, Brewers Both Register Victories

By The Associated Press

With Rod Carew in perpetual motion and Tommy Harper back on the run, the Minnesota Twins and Milwaukee Brewers are making rapid progress at opposite ends of the American League West.

Carew, the league's hottest hitter, beat out a punt in the 10th inning Tuesday night and, moments later, sprinted home on a wild pitch to give the division-leading Twins a 5-4 nod over Kansas City.

The Twins' sixth straight victory kept them one-half game ahead of the second place California Angels, who trimmed the Chicago White Sox 3-0 on Rudy May's two-hitter.

Harper, Milwaukee's 1969 base-stealing king, returned from a two-game injury layoff to rip four hits, including a home run, and pick up his 17th theft as the Brewers beat Oakland 6-3.

Their seventh triumph in 10 games, coupled with Kansas City's first loss in eight extra-inning contests, brought the last-place Brewers within half a length of the Royals.

Elsewhere, Baltimore's East Division leaders downed the New York Yankees 5-1; Boston shaded Detroit 5-4 and Washington topped Cleveland 3-1.

Carew, the defending AL batting champ, went into Tuesday night's game on a 15-for-23 tear which had hiked his average to .419—tops in the majors.

"If I can punt for a hit now and then, I don't see why I shouldn't," he had said the previous night after collecting three hits, including a punt single, against the Royals. "As long as I can lay the ball down I'll keep doing it."

OUT AT IOWA — University of Iowa Athletic Director Forest Evashevski, right, resigned Tuesday and Ray Nagel, left, head football coach, was relieved of his duties by the board in control of athletics at the university. The action followed disclosure last week that an investigation was being conducted on irregularities in expense accounts of some of the coaching staff.

Hawkeyes Face Wobbly Future

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — The University of Iowa was ostensibly without an athletic director and a head football coach today, leaving the Big Ten Conference school in a wobbly situation for next fall's gridiron campaign.

A four-month feud in the department came to a head Tuesday when the Board in Control of Athletics accepted Athletic Director Forest Evashevski's resignation and relieved football Coach Ray Nagel of his duties, both effective June 30.

Prof. Sam Fahr, board chairman, said a search already has been started for a successor to Evashevski. He made no mention of finding a successor to Nagel. Presumably that would be left up to the new athletic director.

Nagel, however, said he could not accept the decision of the board.

"It is my basic position," he said, "that I have a valid and binding contract as head football coach at Iowa until Dec. 31, 1970, and I expect to carry out that contract."

TO SEE NEWSMEN Nagel has scheduled a press conference for 2 p.m. today at the Iowa fieldhouse.

The board said it took its decision with reluctance and praised both men.

Evashevski, 52, came to Iowa in 1952 and boosted the Hawkeyes to a national football powerhouse.

Marvin Graham, Dean Enoch, Mike Campbell and Scott Watkins accompanied the Comets' hits, Watkins getting two.

Sabres Slam Comets, 15-2

The Sabres won their sixth decision in eight International Little League starts by romping on the Comets, 15-2, Tuesday night.

Larry Clarke and Henry Holguin divided time on the mound for the Sabres, yielding only five hits between them. Clarke got credit for the win.

Scott Goodblat paced the Sabres' ten-hit offensive with three hits. Keith Blizard had a double and a single while Timmy Cain rapped a double for the winners.

Chippers Smash Colts, 13 To 3

In a National Minor Little League game unruffled Monday, the Chippers made it five wins in seven outings with a 1-3 success at the expense of the Colts.

Kevin McLaughlin notched the win, with relief offered by Ronald Sundry, Ricky Moore, Abel Cruz and Tim Duncan divided time on the rubber for the Colts.

Dennis Berry, Allen Cramer, Larry Bell and Carl Gresham each had two safeties for the winners.

Tigers Trounce Wildcats, 15-5

Robert Smith fashioned a four-hitter in hurling the Tigers to a 15-5 victory over the Wildcats in International Minor Little League competition here Tuesday. He walked only three in going the route.

The Tigers broke things wide open with a 10-run outburst, making the most of seven hits.

Charlie Justice also was effective on the hill for the Wildcats. He yielded six walks.

Steven Catoe collected three hits in as many trips for the winners. Chris Smith and Jerry Wilson each had two safeties for the Tigers.

The win was the fourth for the Tigers in six assignments. The Wildcats are 2-4.

Ruidoso Downs Awaits 1970 Racing Debut

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. —

With opening day "just around the corner," final touches are being placed on the Ruidoso Downs racing plant in order to insure the more accommodating and successful season in the New Mexico track's history.

Maintenance crews have completely overhauled all facilities to enable comfort and relaxation while enjoying the races.

Track maintenance on the actual racing surface has reached a new peak, which has been evidenced by the trainer's and owner's approval. By the time the gates open to the public on Saturday, May 23, all systems will be "GO."

Horses are flooding the area, filling the barns to an overflow stage. Racing Secretary, Dean McKinney, reports that over 900 horses are already in the stable area. Most of the major stables and trainers in the Southwest since the gates opened and are preparing their prize steeds for the "pots of gold" which await them during the summer season.

Among the outstanding stables and trainers on the grounds are the Lincoln Land Farms of Sherman, Ill., with trainer, D. Wayne Lukas; J. B. Chambers of Littleton, Colo.; Newt Keck as trainer; horses owned and trained by George Hazelton, Phoenix, Ariz.; and the J. R. Adams' stable trained by C. W. "Bubba" Cascio.

Some of the leading horses here are Carlotta II, recent winner in the Sunland Spring Quarter Horse Futurity and Howdy Jones, champion running two-year-peld of 1969 and winner this year of South Texas Derby at Goliad, Tex.

Big Three Entered In Atlanta Meet

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Tony Jacklin, the breezy British Open champion, returned to the American tour this week and immediately moved into a slot as one of the favorites for the top prize in the $125,000 Atlanta Golf Classic.

Jacklin, who hasn't played in the United States since the Tournament of Champions four weeks ago, faces his major challenge for the $25,000 first place check from the awesome PGA Three — Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player.

That trio will be playing together for the first time in three weeks and, as always, is almost certain to draw the major portion of the gallery.

Nicklaus and Player have won this year and Player is second on the money winning list. Palmer hasn't won but has been second twice and appears to be playing very well. He has been off the tour for four weeks.

All three were expected to arrive today.

The 72-hole test begins Thursday on the extremely tough Atlanta Country Club course, a 7,053-yard layout that is giving PGA officials some problems.

The fairways have suffered from a severe winter and are bare in spots. Officials are considering lining landing areas on the fairways and allowing free drops.

Pete Brown, the winner at the San Diego Open, and Mac McLendon were late withdrawals. Brown with a back injury and McLendon with an ailing shoulder.

Also among the missing from the 144-man field are Masters champion Billy Casper, leading money winner Lee Trevino and Gene Littler who tied Trevino for second in last week's Colonial Invitational.

Trevino and Casper are the only multiple winners on the tour this year.

Even with their absence however, the field is very strong. Some of the leading contenders include defending champion Bert Yancey, Homero Blancas, winner of the Colonial, U.S. Open titleholder Orville Moody and PGA champion Ray Floyd.

Cards Remain Undeclared

The Cardinals remained undeclared in National Little League play by slaughtering the Yankees, 18-2, Tuesday night.

The Red Birds, benefitting from seven-hit pitching on the part of two of their hurlers, scored in every inning.

Jody Matthews hit a towering home run for the winners in the third inning, highlighting a five-run outburst.

Dick Battle, the winning pitcher, fanned 12 in his stint on the hill.

All but one of the Cards' starters hit safely at least once. David Guinn and M. Pos each had two safeties for the losers.

Hall Of Fame Backstop Dies Of Cancer At 77

CHICAGO (AP) — Ray "Cracker" Schalk, the brilliant defensive catcher who made baseball's Hall of Fame despite a lifetime batting average of .253, died of cancer Tuesday. He was 77.

Schalk, named to the Hall of Fame in 1955, led American League catchers defensively eight times between 1913 and 1922 and caught 100 or more games for 12 years. He caught a total 1,760 major league games.

He played for the Chicago White Sox from 1912 until 1926 and managed the club in 1927 and 1928. He finished his career as a player-coach with the New York Yankees. He played in the 1917 World Series and also with the ill-fated Black Sox in the 1919 World Series.

Schalk once said his thrill to being named in the Hall of Fame was matched only by his sudden introduction to the major leagues.

The Sox bought him from Milwaukee Aug. 10, 1912. The very next day "I took the street car to the ball park and a few minutes before the first game of a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics, Manager Jimmie Callaghan put a ball in my hand and said: 'Son, you're catching Doc White today.'"

"I didn't even have a chance to get scared. We got beat 3-1 by Chief Bender."

Schalk made three assists in one inning, a record later equaled by Bill Dickey of the New York Yankees. He played in the 1917 World Series and also with the ill-fated Black Sox in the 1919 World Series.

Schalk was one of the players not involved in the scandal.

A HAT FULL OF FAWN — Barely filling a man's hat, a new-born Reeves Muntjac deer, or "barking deer", weighs in at slightly more than two pounds. The fawn, born Monday in the Dallas Zoo, stands six inches high and will grow to about 22 inches. A native of Southeast Asia, the small deer gained its nickname because of the bark-like noises it makes when alarmed.

They changed the format of their weekly devotional to a "Share-A-Song," featuring students who have presented special music during the year. There was no guest speaker.

Tech To Host 60 Lawyers

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A civil rights litigation seminar for lawyers will be held at Lubbock Friday and Saturday by the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, it was announced here.

More than 60 Texas lawyers are expected to attend the conference at Texas Tech University School of Law.

Part of the seminar will be devoted to legal questions from Mexican-American victims of the Lubbock tornado regarding claims adjustments procedures.

Mario Obledo of San Antonio, general counsel of the legal aid organization, said his office has received several queries on this matter from Spanish-speaking residents of Lubbock.

Lubbock was selected for the conference "to focus on the multitudinous civil rights problems of the more than 250,000 Mexican-Americans who reside in that area of the state," Obledo said.

He said there are no Mexican-American lawyers now practicing in the Texas South Plains area.

Lubbock was chosen long before the tornado struck, Obledo said. Since the Tech campus escaped serious damage, no problems are expected in holding the seminar there, he said.

Service pins honoring 44 persons who have worked a total of 580 years for the Big Spring Independent School District will be presented Thursday night at a Spring Fiesta Cookout at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria and patio.

The cookout is sponsored by the local chapter of the Texas State Teachers Association, with various school principals in charge of the cooking. Don Turner will provide the entertainment.

Only one teacher, Mrs. Celia Lilley, Bauer Elementary, will be presented with the diamond service pin, signifying 25 years work in the school system.

Six persons will be recognized for 20 years service and will receive emerald pins. They are Mrs. Mary Hefley, reading coordinator; Mrs. Blanche James, Goliad; Mrs. Opal Newton, College Heights; Mrs. Martha Fielder and Miss Eulalia Mitchell, Washington; and Mrs. Gene Harrington, auxiliary.

The 13 persons receiving sapphire pins for 15 years employment include Mrs. Ruby Wood, tax office; William Gray, business office; Mrs. Doris Gambill and Carlos Humphrey, Rannels; Mrs. Marjorie Morris, Airport; Gilbert Frieze, Elizabeth Schattel and Mrs. Thelma

Webb Plans Vendor's Day

The annual Webb AFB Vendor's Day will again be held in the First National Bank Board Room, Thursday from 9 till 11 a.m.

1st Lt. John C. Townsend, project officer, said the program is to be presented by the procurement personnel and is designed to explain and discuss new changes in the Air Force. Procedures involved in doing business with the government will be discussed between Webb procurement personnel and prospective contractors. The conference is expected to draw a large number of vendors from the Big Spring - Midland-Odessa area.

Welcome addresses from Col. John W. Grow, base commander, and Mayor Arnold Marshall. Bill Tipton, management assistance officer from the Small Business Association in Lubbock, will speak, and procurement personnel will discuss procurement including such topics as current figures on spending, explanation of the new procedure in selecting bidders, the flow of purchase requests within the government system, the upcoming use of requirement contracts and the contractors' administration required in government contracts.

After the formal session, the program will be opened for discussion between procurement personnel and the local companies in attendance.

Vendor's Day provides for good relations through open discussion of problems. It helps the base procurement activity to earn the confidence of vendors.

Ruby pins will be given 24 persons for 10 years of work with the school system. They are John F. Smith, high school principal; Mrs. Jo Hazel Dawson, elementary music; Pat Lawrence and Mrs. Wanda Wickline, senior high; Mrs. Lynn Calvert, M. FOUL WEATHER FRIEND

You may not know him, but he's important to you. Sometimes he may be the difference between life and death.

Your weatherman.

When he speaks about tornadoes, listen.

Listen especially for two words: watch and warning. When he issues a tornado watch, tornadoes are expected. Watch for the funnel cloud, listen for the roar. If you see it, and if there is time, telephone as quickly as possible to the Weather Bureau.

When he issues a warning, one has been sighted. Danger is imminent. Take cover below ground level, or in a strong building. Open windows, but stay away from them. Curl up and shield your head. If you are outdoors and cannot reach shelter, flatten yourself in the nearest depression. And remember, seconds save lives.

Two Brothers Questioned About Deaths

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two brothers were questioned Tuesday by Oklahoma City police in connection with the May 16 deaths of a University of Oklahoma student from Texas and his date.

Police said they had been searching for a blood-smeared hitchhiker who was picked up by a motorist the day after the deaths were discovered.

Officers said one of the brothers, 25, told them he was the hitchhiker they sought.

Killed were David Sloan, 21, of Amarillo, Tex., and Sheryl Benham, 19, of Oklahoma City.

A search of the brothers' apartment turned up the bloody clothing. Police said they booked the pair into jail as material witnesses.

The pair said bloody shirts found in the apartment belonged to them. One said he became bloody when he killed a snake and the other claimed he was in a tavern brawl.

Sloan and Miss Benham disappeared May 16 after attending a party. Their bullet-riddled bodies were found stuffed into the trunk of Sloan's car two days later.

Texas Water Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Public Works Committee approved an $835 million water projects authorization increase bill Tuesday that includes two Texas projects.

They are for construction of a barrier dam for the city of Sherman, Tex., on Lake Texoma, and for water supply for Benbrook, Tex., to be taken from the Benbrook dam and reservoir.

NOT A TOTAL LOSS — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has something to be happy about in a charity tennis match which put the Nixon administration vs. the Congress yesterday. The final score saw the administration ahead, 3-2. But Agnew, playing with Joseph H. Blatchford as his doubles partner, hit the Peace Corps director on the back of the head with a serve.

Partners Of Agnew Must Be Ducking

WASHINGTON (APP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew isn't too particular about what sport he uses to be a partner. But tennis holds the edge over golf.

Agnew's latest victim was Peace Corps Director Joseph Blatchford, his doubles partner in a Tuesday charity match against Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York and Rep. Lowell Weicker Jr., R-Conn.

Agnew's team lost 6-1, 6-1, after he double faulted 10 times, causing some court-side wags to remark the serve off Blatchford's head was the vice president's best shot.

During the Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic, Feb. 7, Agnew's ball went astray and smacked pro Doug Sanders on the back of the head.

Agnew's first victim, however, was reliably reported to be his tennis partner during the Governor's Conference at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs, Colo., last year.

Blatchford had fair warning to be on his guard before Tuesday's match.

C. Alphonse Smith, the match's sponsor and referee, read a mock telegram that was supposed to have come from Sanders in which he warned the Peace Corps director:

"Wishing you better luck than I had. Keep ducking."

Blatchford, himself, also came prepared for any eventuality.

As soon as he was hit, he ran to the fence around the court, got a motorcycle helmet, and put it on, to the laughter of the gallery and Agnew. He discarded it moments later.

Officers Still Rounding Up Suspected 'Killers'

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Grayson County Atty. Clifford Powell said Tuesday that five persons have been charged in the killings of a policeman and a gas station operator here five months ago.

Powell declined to name the five because officers were still rounding them up.

Sheriff's deputies in Dallas reported taking one of the accused men into custody.

Investigators said a Dallas 15-year-old, held in the county juvenile home for arson and burglary, gave them an account of the slayings.

The victims were police Sgt. D. C. Arnold, 42, and Rock Chambers, 54. Their bodies were found before dawn Dec. 23 by another Sherman policeman, who spotted Arnold's squad car parked at the gas station with no one in sight.

Both men were shot. Chambers was tied with a belt.

Authorities said Arnold apparently surprised bandits emptying the station's cash register after they had shoved Chambers into a restroom.

Powell said the youth providing an account of the slayings was not among those charged in the case.
