DEFINES 'GUEST'

Private Clubs Rules Adopted

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Liquor Control Board adopted rules today for private clubs, making only a few changes in the proposed rules the board held a hearing on 10 days ago.

The rules are effective Sept. 1.

Biggest change is the granting of a hearing before refusing to issue a private club registration permit. The original proposal permitted the board to refuse a permit if it found, without a hearing, that the applicant had failed to comply with board rules.

Clubs operating under pool or locker systems are given 30 days instead of 15 to get in their quarterly reports.

On their $2,000 bonds, clubs will need only one instead of two sureties.

Clubs must make their books available "upon reasonable notice" to LCB agents. Some clubs complained that they kept their books at a central office and did not maintain them at branch clubs.

Most of the witnesses at the May 9 hearing supported the proposed rules.

Perhaps the most important section defines "guest" as someone who is "personally known by the member or one of the member's family and who is admitted to the club premises by personal introduction of, or in the physical company of the member or one of the member's family. If a guest who is not in the physical company of a member or one of the member's family incurs an indebtedness, such indebtedness shall be billed to and paid by the member."

Fogging Machine

The city's mosquito fogging machine will go to work today, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said this morning. The summer pests are being reported in most parts of the city, he said, and have probably been given an added foothold by the recent rains.

Paving Petitions

Big Spring City Commissioners will have at least seven more paving petitions to consider, and perhaps more when they begin consideration of a plan to extend the current assessment paving program.

Ernest Lillard, public works director, said the city has seven petitions in hand, involving about 12 blocks of paving, ready for consideration. This morning, he had received two calls from other persons asking information on filing a petition.

Lillard urged all interested residents to contact his office concerning the program.

White-In Headaches

WHITE, S.D. (AP) — Standing in a curb-to-curb carpet of discarded beer cans and glass on White's main street, the youths made a college try to "drink White dry."

The project turned out to be too big for the town's 600 visitors although they worked hard at it. About 75 youths wanted to keep going after others went home but were told by highway patrolmen: "the party's over."

Most of the students left White Saturday night expressing satisfaction with themselves that they had kept their promise to do their own policing. Outside of "littering," the only observable damage was three broken windows. Some of the collegians "chipped in" to pay for one of the broken panes.

"We're not rioting, we're not burning, we love our school, and this is probably as extreme as we ever get — what's wrong with what we're doing?" asked one South Dakota State University student.

Private Schools

AUSTIN (AP) — Private schools are saving the state money and should be getting a little cash from the state to help keep them afloat, the House Appropriations Committee was told today.

The committee heard, then sent to subcommittee, a bill by Reps. David Evans of San Antonio and Joe Salem of Corpus Christi, that would provide tuition assistance to private school pupils.

A large group of persons, mostly from South Texas, filled the House gallery during the testimony.

Evans said 130,000 children now attend Texas private schools, saving the state and local school districts some $600 per pupil in educational costs.

John Cooper, headmaster of Kinkaid School of Houston, said the private schools also provide "a healthy competition" in educating youngsters.

Thrown Out

The conviction of Timothy Leary, above, noted drug experimenter, was unanimously thrown out by the Supreme Court Monday, on a finding that compliance with federal marijuana laws would violate his protection against self-incrimination.

Experimenter Wins Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Supreme Court unanimously threw out today conviction of Timothy F. Leary, noted drug experimenter, on a finding that compliance with federal marijuana laws would violate his protection against self-incrimination.

The ruling, given by Justice John Marshall Harlan, seriously damaged—perhaps fatally—the marijuana laws.

The court reasoned that compliance with their provisions would expose Leary and others in the same situation to prosecution under state marijuana laws.

The decision follows the same reasoning the court used last year to riddle federal laws requiring gamblers to buy tax stamps and certain firearm possessors to register with the government.

The resignation of Abe Fortas last week from the high court had no effect on this important 8-0 ruling.

Leary was convicted in 1966 of bringing about half an ounce of marijuana into the United States from Mexico. He was sentenced to from 5 to 30 years in prison.

Apollo 10 Astronauts Coasting Toward Moon

Dull Thuds Ire Sleepers

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 10 moved flawlessly toward its moon destination today with only two minor complaints from the crew—dull thuds that interrupted their night's sleep and water chlorine that burned their mouths.

Despite the interruptions caused by periodic bursts from their small rockets the astronauts reported "We had a real great night's sleep."

FEEL GREAT

About two hours after they began their sleep cycle following Sunday's precise and hitchless launching, the astronauts complained mildly about the noise made by the rockets that slowly rotate the spacecraft. They worried about fuel consumption.

But on awakening after about 10 hours Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford reported "All three of us feel great."

Navy Cmdr. Eugene Cernan said the thruster noise sounded "just like a minor pulse, just vibration."

Stafford and Cernan were awake a half hour ahead of schedule, but Navy Cmdr. John A. Young slept out the distance.

The astronauts began their day by giving a global weather report from their vantage point 107,000 miles above the earth.

They complained about the chlorine in their water supply and Stafford said: "The water is absolutely horrible. I got a horrible slug of chlorine. My mouth is still burning. John did too. I just want to put that on the record."

Before they retired, the Apollo 10 crew argued mildly with the ground about the necessity for rechlorinating the supply, but lost the argument. Ground controllers, after studying the problem, admitted today they had given the astronauts the wrong procedure for the rechlorination and that apparently a large concentration of the purifier had collected in the bottom of the tank.

MAKE SURE

The controllers told the astronauts to "open the potable tank inlet and take a bag and draw off a bag full of water—get rid of the chlorine concentration."

"We have your horoscopes for you," said capsule communicator Bruce McCandless. Then he and fellow astronaut Charles Duke began reading them.

"Tom, you have to concentrate mainly on finishing things that are already started," Duke told Stafford, a Virgo, "line up your plans; take inventory. The pace of the day should be moderate."

Cernan, a Pisces, was told to "make sure your home and workplace are free of hazards. Give thought to your driving and work habits. Do something nice for somebody you care about."

LOOK AROUND

And for Young, a Libra, the message was "Take advantage of a relatively slow day to get a better perspective on your job. Look around, ask some questions and think about the answers from various angles."

Sunday's launch was accomplished with a precision and nonchalance unimagined when America first ventured into space eight years ago.

The spacecraft's television cameras took earthlings along as sightseers as they moved smoothly on their pathfinding mission for the landing of the first humans on the moon, scheduled for July.

It went like the script said: the launch of the Saturn 5 rocket, the insertion in orbit, the separation of spacecraft from booster rocket, the spacecraft's somersault—then its return to the booster to pluck out the lunar lander.

A ground controller said it was like a taped replay of earthbound practice sessions.

"That's all it is, babe," said Cernan.

During the night, however, Cernan complained they were being awakened by periodic firing of thruster rockets to maintain the spacecraft's flight attitude and wanted to know if this was causing undue consumption of fuel.

VIBRATION

"Things vibrate for about three seconds (at a time)," Cernan said.

After a quick check, ground controllers assured the astronauts that Apollo 10's use of propellant was almost exactly what had been figured in advance.

Playing Catch Up

With all the activities over the weekend, Dionne Stafford, 14, eldest daughter of Astronaut and Mrs. Thomas P. Stafford, had to catch up on some of her school work as she waited for the bus near the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., today. While Dionne was waiting for the bus her dad and other crewmembers of Apollo 10 were almost 96,000 miles from earth in their race towards the moon.

'It's Like Having A Baby,' Says Wife Of Astro Young

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — "It's like having a baby," says Barbara Young. "You know what to expect, but you never get used to it."

"They get harder every time," says Faye Stafford.

"Most of all I'm a proud American," says Barbara Cernan.

That's what the astronaut wives had to say after watching their husbands rocketed toward the moon Sunday in Apollo 10.

The wives and families have eight anxious days of waiting before the men of the house return to this planet.

Blonde Mrs. Stafford's husband Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford, is on his third space ride.

When he radioed back that hurtling through space again was "just like old times," she smiled and said "I'm glad he's enjoying it."

Barbara Cernan, another veteran of the long wait, said it was all worth it—"I wouldn't trade places with anyone." Her husband, Navy Cmdr. Eugene Cernan, piloted Gemini 9 in 1966.

With their husbands in space, the wives kept their ears cocked to loudspeakers for space conversations piped into their homes from mission control.

Their children at their sides, the wives watched separately the launch that will carry Stafford, Navy Cmdr. John W. Young and Cernan into orbit around the moon.

Mrs. Cernan flew to Cape Kennedy, Fla., to witness the launch. Later 6-year-old Tracey Cernan, who was not quite clear about it all, asked: "Mommy, is daddy on the moon yet?"

Mrs. Stafford remarked that "the moon is an exciting place" but said it would be nice if her husband had a "9 to 5 job."

"The whole thing seemed to go beautifully," said Mrs. Young, whose husband went aloft in Gemini 3 in 1965. She said the color transmissions from space were "magnificent—I couldn't believe it."

The moon-orbital flight is "far more exciting" than her husband's Gemini 3 adventure, she said, "because we're going to the moon, and that's what we all came here for."

Mrs. Cernan, who flew home Sunday night, said she shared her husband's enthusiasm for the space program and hopes he will get another flight. It would be his third.

"I hope they'll have so much enthusiasm over this one and the others that there'll be many, many more," she added. "I hope he'll be commander on one."

Two Young Okies With High Hopes

WEATHERFORD, Okla. (AP) —Two young Oklahomans had high hopes Sunday when they tried to send greetings to Apollo 10 commander Thomas P. Stafford, an Oklahoma native.

The two youngsters, about 10 years old, were seen from a busy Interstate highway by a passing motorist. They were standing on a hillside about four miles east of Stafford's hometown of Weatherford, holding aloft a printed sign with two small U.S. flags attached to it. The sign said: "Hello Tom."

Calls For Release Of U.S. Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird called upon Hanoi today for prompt release of all American servicemen now held in North Vietnamese prison camps.

Failing this, Laird said the North Vietnamese government should at least provide for humane treatment for the several hundred Americans currently locked up in North Vietnamese camps.

"The North Vietnamese have claimed that they are treating our men humanely," the defense chief said. "I am distressed by the fact that there is clear evidence that this is not the case."

Laird said that by next month more than 200 American servicemen will have been listed either as prisoners of war or as missing in action for more than 3½ years.

"This period of time is longer than any U.S. serviceman was held prisoner during World War II," he stated.

Laird told a news conference the Pentagon "continues to hope for meaningful progress" toward the release of prisoners as part of the Paris peace talks, but he offered no encouragement that this would come about soon.

Laird demanded that North Vietnam at least adhere to provisions of the Geneva convention, which it has signed, which would allow:

—Release of names of prisoners held.

—Immediate release of sick and wounded prisoners.

—Impartial inspections of facilities for prisoners of war.

—Proper treatment of all prisoners, and

—Regular flow of mail.

Laird's statement to newsmen was followed by a lengthy briefing by other officials on the prisoner situation. They said the same information had been provided to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, the chief U.S. negotiator in Paris.

Officials said Lodge, as well as the men who preceded him under the Johnson administration, has raised the matter of prisoner release, but the North Vietnamese response "has been very limited thus far."

The Pentagon said the news conference on the prisoner question was called because of considerable interest on the part of the press, but officials acknowledged that it was also a way to get a message across to North Vietnam.

Dr. Frankie E. Williams, clinical director of the Big Spring State Hospital, has been named superintendent of the new Vernon State Center.

Dr. Williams, who has been with the BSSH since 1957, was selected Saturday by the Texas Board for Mental Health-Mental Retardation from a field of nine.

Her associates at the hospital here were both proud and downcast to learn of the promotion for the popular psychiatrist who served the hospital as acting superintendent in the absence of Dr. Preston Rarrison.

Dr. Williams is a native of Stamford and is a 1946 graduate of Haskell High School. She took her BA degree from North Texas State University in 1952 and her MD from Southwestern Medical School in 1956. She did her intern work in John Peter Smith Hospital in Fort Worth in 1956-57, then joined the staff here.

In addition to her work at the hospital, she has been active in community affairs. She also has served as a director of Girls Town at White Face.

At the Vernon State Center, she will be in charge of a facility of 500 beds, of which 200 are for geriatrics and 300 for mental patients. The center was created out of the Wichita Falls district and comprises 14 Northwest Texas counties.

Dr. Williams has lived here with her mother, Mrs. C. A. Williams. Her brother, John Williams of Amarillo, is director of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

SAYS ALLIES WORKING FOR EARLY PEACE

Rogers Arrives In Thailand

BANGKOK, (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers, arriving in Bangkok from Saigon, said today that the United States and its allies are working diligently for early peace in Vietnam.

"We all hope that the need for military action will soon be ended," he said in an airport statement.

Rogers is here to attend a meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) Tuesday and Wednesday.

He was met by Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman and was given the traditional garland of sweet smelling jasmine flowers as a sign of welcome.

Rogers told Thanat that the United States is a member of both the Atlantic and Pacific communities.

"We do not place priorities on our relationships with Europe or Asia," he said.

He apparently intended this to reassure the Asian allies that in seeking peace in Vietnam, the United States does not intend to turn its back on Asia.

During his four-day visit to Vietnam, Rogers sought to assure the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu that the Nixon administration does not plan to abandon the war or bargain away South Vietnam's right of self determination.

But after a five-hour meeting with Rogers, Thieu said the next day that he wanted to meet with President Nixon because he felt much more coordination was needed between his government and the United States.

Some South Vietnamese are worried that Nixon in his intensive efforts to secure peace may come under pressure in the United States to make concessions to the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front. Premier Tran Van Huong told the Associated Press in an interview that "the Americans are too anxious to get peace."

South Vietnam's Foreign Minister Tran Chanh Thanh said in Bangkok today that Thieu wants to meet with Nixon to discuss postwar problems and not because there are any basic policy differences between Washington and Saigon.

While South Vietnam is in basic agreement with the Nixon proposals, some questions have been raised about his call for elections apd also his suggestion that South Vietnam may decide to become neutral after the war. Thieu tends to equate neutralism with Communism.

Schools Will Be Closed Unless Tax Increase Voted

CINCINNATI (AP) — Voters faced by a partial school shutdown decide today whether to hike their taxes to support the educational system.

The Hamilton County Board of Elections estimated 110,000-or 63 per cent of the city's registered voters—would cast ballots on a proposed school levy increase of 5.2 mills.

If the levy fails, school officials say they will close classrooms to the system's 85,000 students and 3,200 teachers for five days in June and 14 days in November.

The system already has an $8 million deficit and school officials say it will reach $12 million by 1970 if the levy fails. The shutdown would trim the $53,813,000 budget by $3.8 million.

The Cincinnati system now operates on a 23.5-mill levy, lowest of Ohio's eight major cities. It has not had a levy increase since 1964. Four proposed increases have been defeated since 1964.

If the levy passes it will provide $9.54 million in new tax revenues next year. It would raise the city's millage to 28.7 mills, .87 mills above the state average but below school levies of Cleveland, Columbus and other large Ohio cities.

A volunteer brigade of 1,900 citizens supporting the levy telephoned about 75,000 voters Sunday in an effort to insure good voter turnout.

The polls are open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Visual Relief Map Of Texas

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Announcement has been made of the publication of a new visual relief map of Texas, edited by Texas Tech Dean of Arts and Sciences Lorrin G. Kennamer and offering the significant feature of water resources information.

In addition to locating population centers, governmental sites, travel information, the nature of the terrain and other standard information, the map shows the widespread distribution of reservoirs throughout Texas and neighboring states.

Ties Guard, Reserve Units To Emergency War Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army staff is studying a plan that would tie some 650,000 National Guardsmen and Reservists more closely to emergency war plans.

This is the fourth effort since 1962 to improve the readiness of guard-reserve backup forces. Planners are shooting for deployment of some units overseas four weeks after they are mobilized.

The new proposal would probably mean the end of former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's "Selected Reserve Force"—137,000 men in units in theory prepared to deploy eight weeks after callup.

However, in the limited guard-reserve mobilization last year, the first of 43 units activated did not reach Vietnam until 15 weeks after callup. That unit was a dental detachment.

The new proposal takes on added importance because the Nixon administration is looking ahead to a possible million-man reduction in regular forces over a three-year period after Vietnam.

"Unlike past moves, the new proposal does not involve eliminating any more guard or reserve units. About 3,500 surplus or obsolete outfits were culled out of the guard-reserve structure in a series of reorganizations.

Details are secret, but Pentagon sources said the new plan ties specific Guard and Reserve units to specific war plans, and changes the composition of the backup forces as national contingency plans change.

All guard and reserve units would be assigned missions which would involve their possible deployment with four, eight, 12, 16, or more weeks post-mobilization active duty training.

Pentagon planning calls for 395,000 National Guard and 256,000 reserve troops next year.

Under the McNamara plan, units were designated for special priority in equipment and extra training.

Texas Legislators Close To Writing Spending Bill

AUSTIN (AP)— Writers of a one-year, tax-postponing state budget were within "a couple of hours" of completing their work today after settling one of the legislature's great controversies.

"If I could get them together for a couple of hours Monday night we could finish," Sen. A. M. Aikin, head of the Senate side of the House-Senate appropriations conference committee said.

The conferees worked Sunday until after 10 p.m., finishing most of their task of writing a compromise bill by referring often to a "plan" drawn up by Speaker Gus Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

They quickly agreed to strike out highly controversial House "riders" that would have:

—Phased out the predominantly Negro Texas Southern University Law School.

—Expressed the legislature's intent that all state college and university faculty members each at least 12 hours a week.

The TSU rider, for which both Mutscher and Heatly shared responsibility, was shelved at Mutscher's request.

The rider provoked criticism from Barnes and angry words on the House floor.

"It is in the best interest of the state not only to continue the school but to give it our best support," Mutscher said Sunday.

He said he reached this conclusion after talking with representatives of TSU and the state College Coordinating Board, which recently reversed an earlier decision and recommended that the school be continued as a source of Negro lawyers.

The Barnes-Mutscher plan, which touched in minute detail the differences the 10 conferees were appointed to resolve between the two houses, is "right on the money," Heatly said during the talks.

'Safeguard' Lags In Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Chief Melvin R. Laird, the ramrod in President Nixon's drive for the Safeguard missile defense system, has cautioned hold off for the time being efforts to line up congressional support for the program.

A confidential administration poll shows 44 senators now favoring deployment of the Safeguard, while 46 are opposed and 10 uncommitted.

Although lagging in the polls —a separate survey by the Associated Press showed the anti-Safeguard strength at 48, with 46 favoring the administration and six uncommitted—Laird is confident of ultimate success.

He is counting on Nixon to apply pressure on the undecided and some GOP senators now listed as Safeguard opponents to bring the count around.

But with the crucial Senate vote, not expected until next month, Laird obviously doesn't want to take the edge of presidential persuasive efforts with premature pressure applied by other officials.

A leading Safeguard opponent, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, declined to estimate how many votes are now lined up against the system. But he said his forces would be ready for a showdown next month.

Texas International Has New Love Field Facility

DALLAS — Texas International Airlines began operating 120 daily arrivals and departures at Dallas Love Field through its new six-gate concourse Sunday morning.

The new concourse—largest and most elaborate in the airline's 67-city system—is attached to Braniff International's new multi-million dollar terminal complex, and includes four carpeted and draped ground-level passenger lounges and two second-level lounges.

The upper-level lounges include enclosed jetway boarding bridges which will be used exclusively on TXI's DC-9 flights. Ground-level lounges will also be used for DC-9 flights, as well as for Convair 600 aircraft.

The new concourse is about eight times larger than the airline's old Love Field facilities at gates 41 and 42. Each ground-level lounge in the new complex (gates 51, 54, 55 and 56) encompasses 1,200 square feet while the upper-level lounges (gates 50 and 57) feature 1,300 square feet each.

In addition to the boldly decorated purple-and-gray lounge areas, the concourse includes new operations offices, crew rooms, and employe lounge areas.

Entrance to the concourse is at the northwest end of the new Braniff terminal.

Texas International holds a nine-year sub-lease from Braniff on the concourse.

The Friday ceremonies also dedicated the airline's new 70-foot ticket counter in the Love Field terminal lobby.

Located east of the old Texas International counter, the new area features 10 ticketing positions — twice the former number.

TXI Customer Services Vice President W. W. Franklin said the airline has increased its Love Field personnel by almost 30 per cent to speed the handling of passengers, baggage and aircraft.

Weekend Wrecks Are All Minor

Four weekend traffic accidents involved no major damage or injuries.

Kay Lavonne Newsom, 703 W. 16th, and Jowaughn Parker Crump, 1800 Duquoin, ran together at Third and Benton. On the College Park Shopping Center lot, Ella McCain Oliver, 2006 Johnson, and John A. Long, Lamesa, crashed.

Manuel B. Gutierrez, 408 S. Benton, and Jack Meador Nall, 509 Goliad, collided at Sixth and Goliad. In collision in the 2500 block of Wasson Road, were Claude H. Arrick, 1210 E. 18th, and Sharon Sfrisi, 1302 Stanford.

Last Stop For Rocky

PANAMA (AP) — Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, making the seventh and last stop of his fact-finding mission to Central America, has heard Panama ask for a greater role in the operation of the Panama Canal.

The New York governor, who is touring the hemisphere on a special assignment from President Nixon, arrived here Sunday and met with a Panamanian government team headed by Foreign Minister Nander Pitty.

Informants said Pitty made no reference to currently stalemated negotiations between the United States and Panama on a new treaty to regulate the canal. But he asked for a more effective role in its operation.

Jogging Might Prove Fatal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jogging to prolong life and health may do just the opposite, says Dr. Paul Dudley White.

"Walking is much better," said the heart specialist who was a medical adviser to President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The 83-year-old physician told the California Heart Association that usually sedentary people who feel the urge to jog should consult a doctor to see if the heart can stand the strain. He thrives on walking a few miles a day and having only a corn muffin for lunch, he noted.

Water Still Flows Into Lake Spence

The flow into Lake J. B. Thomas had just about ceased Monday, but the inflow into Lake E. V. Spence near Robert Lee was continuing.

Elevation of Lake Thomas was 2234.00 feet at 8 a.m. Monday, said O. H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. This left the reservoir with 68,150 acre-feet, or over 13,000 acre-feet during the past week. The amount of catch during May is better than 18,000 acre-feet. Increase in the lake level for the past week was 4.36 feet.

The level of Lake Spence, the new CRMWD reservoir, was 1831.3 feet at 8 a.m. today, representing an increase of 9.1 feet for the week. The big lake, which will hold 488,000 acre-feet when full, was estimated to contain nearly 20,000 acre-feet, counting water in borrow pit areas.

A substantial amount of water is still expected to pour into the lake, for at the district's diversion works just above Colorado City, water was still flowing over the channel dam half a foot deep. This structure is about 40 miles upstream from the Lake Spence dam, and the river is full all the way down.

Lake Colorado City, a Texas Electric Service reservoir, was at 2062.45 feet Monday, up .15 of a foot for the weekend. There were no further reports from Champion Creek Lake, which last was at elevation 2054.70 feet.

Life At Stake

A trooper of the 101st Airborne Division attempts to save the life of a buddy at Dong Ap Bia Mountain, near South Vietnam's A Shau Valley, today. The man was seriously wounded in the last of repeated attempts by U.S. forces to capture enemy positions there.

Commissioners Talk More About Hiring A Trapper

Howard County Commissioners today were confronted again with the proposition of hiring a county trapper, and again delayed action.

Dr. Joe Neff, local veterinarian and rancher, asked why the commissioners could not enter into a program with the state and federal government to hire a trapper from the Bureau of Sports, Fish and Wildlife, Department of Interior.

H. D. Ellard, Lubbock, district supervisor for the bureau, offered the commissioners a contract last week in which the county would pay $250 per month for a program which costs about $600 per month to operate.

Opposition was voiced today from Ray Nichols, commissioner of Precinct 2, who said several people told him they were against hiring a trapper. He also asked to what extent taxpayers should go to help farmers and ranchers in their business.

Neff said that ranchers also pay taxes and that several had gone out of the sheep business because of varmints killing their sheep. Coyotes have all but killed off all the lambs in the county and are moving onto cattle, he said.

Simon Terrazas, commissioner of Precinct 1, said that the county dismissed a trapper two years ago on the grounds there was no livestock on the tax roles, but said the court went on record recently as saying a trapper could be hired since livestock is beginning to be taxed.

The commissioners also discussed the possibility of hiring Earl Brownrigg, former county trapper, on a part time basis for $319 per month and $85 gas allowance.

Neff said a trapper could not do a good job working part time, and it would be cheaper for the county to pay $250 a month in the government program. He added that the varmint population has continued to build up and could be a threat to urban areas with rabies.

Nichols said, however, that he personally would rather hire a trapper for $400 a month out of county funds, than pay $250 a month for a $600 program from the federal government.

"There is still a savings of $150 a month, and that $600 is not coming out of the county treasury," Neff said. "The money for a federal trapper is going to be spent by somebody in some other place, and we could use it to benefit Howard County."

"That's the attitude of the whole country," Nichols said. "That's what's wrong with the country, and I don't think it's time for everyone to feel that way."

Neff said that most of the funds in the trapper program came from the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, and added that the county was trying to get airport improvements with federal funds.

Terrazas made a motion for the commissioners to enter the contract with the Department of Interior for a trapper, but the motion died for a lack of a second. County Judge Lee Porter told Neff the court would consider the matter further and try to find a solution.

Louis B. Conrad, life-long West Texas ranchman and formerly a resident of Big Spring, died at 7:10 p.m. Sunday in his room in the Hotel Cactus, San Angelo, where he had resided for the past 20 years. He was 81.

Funeral services tentatively have been set for 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Matthews Memorial Presbyterian Church in Albany, with burial in the Albany Cemetery.

Among other ranch holdings, Mr. Conrad owned acreage in Scurry and Borden Counties, and a considerable portion of this ranch was sold to the Colorado River Municipal Water District as the site of Lake J. B. Thomas.

Bitter Battle For Mountain

SAIGON (AP) — Six U.S. B52 bombers blasted North Vietnamese troops, bunkers and gun positions today near a mountain that American paratroopers have been trying to take for more than a week.

The powerful Strategic Air Command bombers entered the battle for Dong Ap Bia mountain, near the Laotian frontier, after American paratroopers were beaten back Sunday for the 10th time in nine days. Twelve Americans were killed and 79 wounded in the assault Sunday.

TONS OF BOMBS

U.S. military spokesmen claim the paratroopers have killed 325 North Vietnamese soldiers on the 3,000-foot mountain overlooking the A Shau Valley and 209 wounded.

America's biggest bombers dropped 180 tons of bombs about 3½ miles northwest of Dong Ap Bia, an attempt apparently to cut off reinforcements for the North Vietnamese still holding the mountain top.

Meanwhile, heavy artillery barrages pounded the mountain and the paratroopers' battalion commander vowed: "There are no two ways about it, we are going to drive them out."

The U.S. Command said 125 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed in the 14-hour fight Sunday. But Associated Press correspondent Jay Sharbutt reported from the mountain that most of the enemy losses were estimated by air observers after massive American napalm, bomb and artillery strikes.

CAN'T PULL BACK

The heavy jungle on the mountain top has been blasted almost bare, but an estimated 800 North Vietnamese were still holding out in deep bunkers.

One battalion of the 101st Airborne Division has made it to the top of the mountain three times but has been driven off each time by a stream of rocket grenades and machinegun fire.

"All of us are wondering why they just can't pull back and B52 that hill," said one paratrooper. But an intelligence officer explained: "Look, those gooks aren't stupid. They know exactly how much damage a B52 does, how deep the bombs blow. They build their bunkers to withstand that. That's what they've done out there."

Lt. Col. Weldon Honeycutt of Columbus, Ga., commander of the battalion said the hill had to be taken because it overlooks a good deal of the A Shau Valley, a major supply and staging area for the North Vietnamese.

"For another thing," he added, "you pull back and Charlie sure as hell will follow you right down and hit you."

14 YANKS DIE

The mountaintop fortress is believed to house a North Vietnamese regimental headquarters and supply depot.

Elsewhere in Vietnam:

About 1,000 North Vietnamese attacked a U.S. artillery base 40 miles northeast of Saigon Sunday, hurling dynamite charges at gun batteries. Fourteen American soldiers were killed and 39 wounded. U.S. spokesmen reported 75 enemy killed. The North Vietnamese also attacked several South Vietnamese positions nearby, killing at least four South Vietnamese soldiers and wounding 14.

Mom To Hunt 5 Witnesses

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mrs. Arthur Sutton today sought five witnesses she believes could save her 22-year-old son from the electric chair.

Mrs. Sutton, 37, started back to her home in Greenfield, Ind., Sunday after seeing Larry Joe "Rat" Purkey in a prison interview. It was their first meeting since she surrendered him for adoption when he was 11 months old after bearing him out of wedlock.

Purkey was convicted last fall of the murder of Taylor West McLaurin Jr., of Charleston, W. Va.

His mother said he told her that five witnesses could prove his innocence. She identified them as Robert Debrox, Robert Andrews, Clarence Gouel, William Houseman and Charles Harris.

"I'll find them somewhere," she said crying. "I'm going to do everything I can to get him out."

Mrs. Sutton came here to see her son after he wrote The Indianapolis Star asking for help in finding his mother.

More Dead Sea Battles

By The Associated Press

Israeli and Jordanian forces fought two artillery battles north of the Dead Sea today, a Jordanian spokesman said. He said the Jordanians suffered no losses but destroyed three Israeli military vehicles and injured a number of Israeli soldiers in the second exchange.

The first clash began shortly before dawn about six miles from the Dead Sea and lasted an hour, the spokesman said. About two hours after it ended, he said, Israeli troops opened up with heavy artillery on Jordanian forces in the village of Swemeh, seven miles north of the Dead Sea.

The second duel lasted half an hour, the spokesman said.

In Jerusalem, the Israeli Cabinet Sunday rejected a proposal by Defense Minister Moshe Dayan that Arab territories occupied in the 1967 war be put under Israeli law.

FOR $80 MILLION IN REPARATIONS

Presbyterians Still Undecided On Demands

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A decision by the United Presbyterians whether to spend millions of dollars on self-help projects that black militants demand faced delay today at the Church's General Assembly.

Amid reports that James Forman would return Tuesday to San Antonio to see how the assembly answers the demands he delivered here last Thursday, church specialists drafting that reply were said to need still more time.

The assembly's executive council set up a meeting for today to go over the details that a special committee of 15 has been preparing with the help of the regular church-agency committees.

MORE MONEY

Whatever the 3.2 million member Presbyterian Church does about the demands by Forman and Spanish speaking militants will have to be decided in the full assembly of 840 voting commissioners here from presbyteries in all 50 states.

Three days remain until the week-long annual assembly ends Wednesday.

One prepared recommendation, part of a memorandum that had been expected to go into the assembly today for action would have the United Presbyterian Church gather more than $50 million in new capital funds to be sent "in to deprived areas and among deprived people."

The wording made it apparent that, if such fund-raising were authorized, the money would be spent by the Church itself and not handed over to Forman and other militants for them to spend.

"It looks unlikely now that anything can be put before the assembly today," said Frank H. Heinze of Philadelphia, the assembly's chief press spokesman.

Forman has demanded, as part of his "black manifesto" claims on all organized religions in the United States for reparations of $500 million to Negroes, that the United Presbyterians give him $80 million in cash and 60 per cent of annual investment income along with idle Southern Church lands.

Members of his organization, the National Black Economic Development Conference, began a sit-in at United Presbyterian offices in New York City last Wednesday. The next day a Chicago seminar building was occupied by members of a Latin American "defense organization."

Violent Death Toll For Texas

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents on Texas roads and highways took 23 lives over the weekend as the violent death toll mounted to 32 by midnight Sunday.

Three persons were shot to death, two fatally stabbed and two drowned. One man lost his life in a plane crash and a Dallas youth was struck by a locomotive.

The Associated Press tabulation of violent deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued through midnight Sunday.

Six persons were killed in a three-car crash early Saturday near the West Texas town of Crane. Five of the victims were in a party returning from a high school dance.

Dead were Jose Casillas, 20, stationed at Ft. Sill Okla.; two of his sisters, Olga, 28, and Rosalinda, 16, Soccoro Zenegas, 24, and Elva Zuniga, 16. All were from nearby McCamey. Also killed was Rodolfo Diaz Gonzalez of Fort Stockton.

Two others suffered injuries in the accident. One of them, Emancio Aguilar Jr., 21, of McCamey, was listed in serious condition.

Curtis Longmire, 37, was shot Saturday as he opened the door of his Houston apartment. Officers were holding a woman in connection with the slaying.

Fred Burk, 66, was found stabbed to death Saturday in an apartment on the east side of Dallas. An investigation was under way.

A car-truck collision south of San Marcos in South Central Texas killed Cibero Miranda and injured two other persons Friday. Miranda, in his late 50s, was from San Marcos.

A soldier and his wife from California were killed Saturday in the collision of their car and a truck on Interstate 20 east of Dallas. The victims were identified as Pfc. David Abbott, 20, and his wife, Vina Lynn Abbott, 17, of Salinas, Calif.

Burnet Dixon, 34, of Nacogdoches was fatally stabbed Saturday outside a Nacogdoches tavern. Another man was held in the slaying.

Juan Morales Mendez, 50, a Houston construction worker, was killed Saturday by a blast from a 20-gauge shotgun during an argument at a Houston residence. Police held a man in the slaying.

A Jacksonville couple's car apparently went out of control on rain-slick US 69 Saturday, killing them and their son, and injuring three daughters. The dead were identified as Hugh T. Short Sr. 43; his wife, Frankie Herring Short, 32, and their son, Hugh T. Short Jr., 4. Deborah Short, 12 and her sisters, Sandra 10, and Wanda, 9, were taken to a nearby hospital.

Wesley Winters, 26, of Tucson, Ariz., was killed in a one-car accident Saturday at San Antonio. In poor condition was a passenger in the same car, Karen Friends, 20, of San Antonio.

Strikers Stop For Water

Striking grape pickers take time out from the 125-degree temperature for a drink of water in the border town of Calexico, Calif., yesterday, ending an eight - day 100-mile march across the scorching Imperial Valley in support of the California table grape boycott. Labor leader Cesar Chavez, said the purpose of the march was to gain support of Mexican workers who commute from Mexico to work in the U. S.

Welfare Mothers, Children 'Celebrate' Apollo Liftoff

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Welfare mothers and children "celebrated" the Apollo 10 liftoff Sunday by picketing in front of the Space Center in protest of the Texas Welfare System.

About 30 mothers and an equal number of children, most of them Negro, paced back and forth for nearly two hours with signs bearing such slogans as "Feed the Future Astronauts" and "Countdown Time is Swiftly Approaching for Our Children."

Mrs. Ocie Johnson of Houston, a mother of seven, said the picketers were members of the National Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO).

"We're here to help celebrate the launching today," she said. "We're very proud of our astronauts too."

The NWRO's main goal, she said, is to get President Nixon to declare Texas a disaster area and send federal welfare aid to Texas until the state improves its welfare system.

'Lit His Body, Then Jumped'

MESTRE, Italy (AP) — Amedeo Zotti, 44, rushed from his house carrying two cans of kerosene and a rope.

He climbed a tree, "tied the rope to a branch and to his neck, doused himself with kerosene, lit his body, then jumped.

Police did not say whether hanging or burning caused Zotti's death.

Zotti was to have been married in two weeks. The police said he was suffering from nervous exhaustion.

Cartoonist Dies

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Daniel R. Fitzpatrick, an editorial cartoonist for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch who won Pulitzer prizes in 1926 and 1954, died Sunday night at age 78. He retired in 1958 after 45 years with the paper.

Phantom Fisher Couldn't Resist

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — As the Rev. Raymond I. Lindquist delivered his sermon Sunday at Hollywood Presbyterian Church, he suddenly stopped talking and picked a piece of notepaper off a fishing line dangling from the balcony.

On the note was a poem about Dr. Linquist, saying he preaches "with a charm that you couldn't resist."

It was signed "the phantom fisherman."

"It's the first time in 15½ years of preaching here that I've received a message on a fishing line," the minister commented.

Lone Star State Due Clear Skies

By The Associated Press

Skies were clear over nearly all of Texas as a day of what promised to be fine spring weather dawned.

Winds were moderate southerly in West Texas as a result of a trough through New Mexico, and temperatures in that portion of the state ranged from 58 at Dalhart to 66 at Cotulla. In South Texas Alice recorded 66 and McAllen 70 under fog. Fog was also apparent in Dallas and Fort Worth during early morning hours, with the mercury there being in the upper 50s.

The Weather Bureau said the state was expected to enjoy a day of mostly clear skies and mild to warm temperatures, with Presidio again approaching the 100 degree mark.

Rain crept out of the state Sunday night behind a cloak of cool air. Rivers and streams which had swollen to flood stages during recent rains were falling. Still slightly over flood stage Sunday were the Trinity below Dallas, the East Fork of the Trinity at Crandall and Chambers Creek near Corsicana.

Band Boosters Meet Postponed

Due to the death of J. M. Bradley, father of Band Director Bill Bradley, the scheduled meeting of the Big Spring High School Band Boosters Club has been postponed to May 27. The members are asked to make a special effort to be on hand that date as new officers are to be elected.

Grad Draft Slow-Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of college graduate students being drafted this year is running far below estimates, even though deferments for diploma holders were abolished more than a year ago.

At the same time, graduate schools report a big slow-down in enrollment. Nobody knows whether the missing students were drafted, went to industry for occupational deferments, or stayed home to wait for "Greetings."

The National Security Council recommended lifting deferments in February, 1968, for all graduate study except medicine and the ministry.

Critics of the move predicted a draft of 276,000 college graduates including 175,000 grad students. The more conservative Pentagon estimates were for a draft of 100,000 college graduates, including 58,000 would-be grad students in fiscal 1969.

When the fiscal year ends in June the total will probably reach no more than 35,000.

How many of these soldier-scholars were or would have been in graduate school is unknown. Asked the number of draftees with graduate credits a Pentagon spokesman replied "That would be a major research project. We just can't do it."

The elimination of graduate deferments was meant to stop students from "pyramiding" one deferment on top of another and thus staying out of the draft pool indefinitely.

Something apparently has not gone according to plan. Manpower experts both inside and outside government suggest various explanations.

All agree that an important factor was draft director Lewis B. Hershey's instruction to allow postponements of induction until the end of a school term.

Draft boards could have been inordinately slow to reclassify students, and many students may have appealed the reclassifications, creating additional delay.

Experts also believe many students have obtained occupational deferments—either as teaching assistants in the schools where they study, or by quitting school for private industry.

The U.S. Office of Education reports that enrollments in graduate schools it surveyed rose only one per cent last fall, compared with an average 12 per cent in previous years.

That would mean an apparent loss of up to 20,000 graduate students. But the Office of Education can only guess, like everyone else, where they are.

Rev. Graham Went Incognito

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP) — The Rev. Billy Graham said in an interview Sunday that he recently went incognito at New York City College during the height of a disturbance to get an idea of what is wrong on the campuses today.

Graham said he doffed his coat, opened his shirt collar, put on a pair of false sideburns and cap and strolled among the militants.

"They were shouting Ho Chi Minh and waving the Viet Cong flag," said Graham. "It was a very serious incident."

Also, he said, he had two long conferences with the leaders of the Students for a Democratic Society because, "I'm trying to understand them."

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠5 3 ♡A J 9 6 3 ◇J 9 7 ♣K 6 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡	1 ♠
2 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—In view of the fact that partner has shown a strong hand by his free rebid, we feel disposed to give him another chance. We do so in a mild way by returning to his first suit with a call of two diamonds. If partner is unable to act again, over the two diamond bid, the chance for game will not be bright.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠5 2 ♡A Q 6 4 2 ◇8 ♣K J 8 7 4

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
1 ♠	2 ◇	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Partner should be given the courtesy of the road. When an opponent makes so bold as to bid your partner's suit, you should afford him an opportunity for a penalty double. You have a potential misfit in your hand. With partner bidding diamonds and spades, it is likely that he can support neither of your suits. Pass and await developments.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A Q J 4 ♡J 10 7 6 ◇7 ♣A K Q 9

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♡	4 ◇	?

What do you bid?

A.—The interference has made scientific bidding impossible. The recommended procedure is to barge into a slam; which at worst, should depend on a finesse. Bid six hearts or you may employ Blackwood first as a check.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K 10 7 4 2 ♡7 3 2 ◇6 3 ♣Q 4 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ◇	2 ◇	3 ◇

What do you bid now?

A.—While under normal conditions this would not justify a free bid, when partner has made a cue bid forcing to game, greater liberties may be taken in entering the auction. The enemy is obviously trying to shut you out; and confusion could well result from failure to take action at this time. Bid three spades.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q 8 6 2 ♡K Q 9 4 ◇K 10 7 ♣8 5

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♣	3 ◇	?

What action do you take?

A.—Double. This is the best available choice. A free bid at the level of three is not to be considered with a four-card suit, and contracting for game at no trump would be an extreme case of over optimism. In doubtful cases it is best to play for a reasonably sure profit.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q J 4 ♡A 8 6 3 ◇A 7 ♣A 10 8 4

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
Pass	1 ♠	Dble.	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Your chances for game are not bright. If partner's hand were worth 10 or more points he would have made a jump response to your double.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A J 10 ♡A Q 9 2 ◇A Q 8 6 4 ♣2

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	4 ◇	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. Obviously it is your intention to bid no less than six diamonds. But an effort must be made to determine whether there is a grand slam in the hand and partner will be in a better position to determine that fact. Blackwood is not altogether suitable.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠3 ♡A Q 6 5 ◇A Q 10 9 4 ♣A J 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	4 ◇	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Tho you have presumably shown the full value of your hand by your reverse bid of two hearts, you should nevertheless bid five clubs to show the ace. The fact that you have such splendid controls should induce you to take this aggressive act. Remember, partner has jumped with only one ace and at best the king and jack of diamonds.

Someday, somebody may build a car to rival Pontiac's Grand Prix.

The Wide-Track Family for '69: Grand Prix, Bonneville, Brougham, Executive, Catalina, GTO, LeMans, Custom S, Tempest and Firebird. Pontiac Motor Division.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price includes Federal excise tax and suggested dealer new car preparation charge. Destination charges, state, local taxes and optional equipment additional. Add for options shown: outside remote-control mirror—$10.53; Soft-Ray windshield—$29.49.

But it'll cost more than $3,866.*

And it still won't be a Pontiac.

Which means no Wide-Track ride.

And precious little of the engineering ingenuity which made Pontiac first with the Grand Prix to begin with.

Noodle it out for yourself. Name another car maker clever enough to come up with hidden windshield wipers, ventless side windows, a hidden radio antenna and an honest-to-gosh cockpit for a car, long before anybody else was even dreaming of same.

Name another car maker clever enough to come up with a car that's as much at home with performance lingo as it is with luxury.

Name another car maker who puts it all together, calls it Grand Prix and prices it at $3,866.

As we said: someday, somebody may catch on. But they'll never catch up. So why wait? Break Away in a 1969 Pontiac Grand Prix. Now.

A Devotional For The Day

"For their sake I consecrecate myself." (John 17:19, RSV)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, grant that I may always be in touch with the interests of others and ever be consecrating myself to their needs. May I also recognize others' needs and give myself to the business of helping them realize that as they live in harmony with Christ they will discover the best in themselves. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Commendable Action

Congress' House Ways and Means Committee is now considering the Treasury Department's proposals for reforming the federal income-tax law, a task long overdue. The effort has the Washington lobbies out in full force, as usual trying to protect or gain selfish advantages.

It is always easy to support tax reform that eases the drain on one's own pocketbook or hits the other fellow harder. Rare indeed is support for tax reform from those who would thereby lose financially. It takes an admirable conscience to favor unselfishly a tax reform strictly on its merits in equity and the general welfare.

That is why praiseworthy attention is due the National Council of Churches and United States Catholic Conference for endorsing the Treasury's proposal that the income-tax exemption for churches, as well as education and charitable institutions, be removed from their "unrelated business income." That would leave exempted from federal taxation only their "passive investment income and the income related to their primary activity."

Many churches have funds with which they can acquire business properties, unrelated to any religious activity, which can with tax exemption unfairly compete with similar private enterprises. The same is true of other types of tax-exempt organizations. This is obviously inequitable, both as unfair competition and as an added burden to all other taxpayers.

It is commendable that the churches recognize this, and so should nonreligious tax-exempt organizations. Furthermore, this principle of no tax exemption for unrelated business income (or property or otherwise taxable items or activities) is one that should be recognized in the nation's state and local tax structures.

Ridiculous Demand

Among the disturbing absurdities of these troubled times is the black militant demand that American churches pay $500 million in "reparations" for whatever their past share of responsibility may have been for racial injustices in the United States.

James Forman of something called the National Black Economic Development Conference is leading the demand with a "Black Manifesto" which his followers have used to disrupt church services in various cities over the country. The whole thing smacks of blackmail, pay off on threat of violence, if serious. It is intolerable, where freedom of religious practice is illegally obstructed.

There is, of course, no imaginable way of putting a dollar value on the ill effects of racial prejudice and injustice over the past century and a half. Nor is there any way of establishing or measuring the responsibility of churches individually or in the aggregate for the societal acts of omission or commission that have been detrimental to the Negro community. And even if there were, to whom should such a sum be paid?

The churches generally over the past decade and a half have become increasingly aware of their responsibility for helping to achieve racial justice and equitable race relations in this country, as well as for allocating more of their resources to helping the poor. But to try to brand them with collective guilt and to charge them with liability for a fixed sum in "reparations" is ridiculous. It is certain to do more harm than good.

Whether a self-serving hoax or a serious black-militant maneuver, Forman's movement can only be detrimental to the Negro community and to hope for better race relations generally. The time has come to stop giving any respectful attention to such crackpot schemes.

European Travel Is Not All Roses

One thing and another:

I remain unconvinced that Americans like to travel anywhere abroad.

Why should they? Language barriers all too often make it impossible to communicate. The food is never to their liking and they distrust the people — who have mastered the art of hustling a buck but never know how to make a visitor feel welcome or appreciated.

I'VE TALKED to any number of people who have been to France and they wouldn't go back if they were offered the post card concession at the Eiffel Tower.

When you've seen one museum or cathedral, you've seen them all. For a real treat, how about getting in line to go through Lenin's Tomb?

You eat some strange delicacy that a waiter recommends and end up with a queasy stomach. And if you get sick enough to worry about it, what do you do about seeing a doctor?

YOU'RE AFRAID to drink the water because the guide book won't say it's the thing to do. Bottled water is a cumbersome thing to carry throughout a trip. If you don't care for wine, you order coffee and invariably it tastes like weak tea.

You go in a group to a place like Brussels or London and you wait in your room until your tour guide calls and then your feet start killing you if you walk three blocks.

IF YOU GET tired of looking at the four walls in your overpriced hotel room, or decide TV reruns, with dubbed-in voices, are not for you, chances are you venture down to the lobby, hoping you'll see someone from home.

If it weren't for the snob appeal of a trip to Europe, who would want to go? After all, it impresses your neighbors — or does it?

THOSE WHO champion higher taxes because they reason such austerity bridles inflation must have been in the cooking sherry again.

Money taken from working people for taxes not only robs them of a portion of the income they might entrust to a savings account — it is channeled into the hands of governing bodies that not only believe in spending everything they get their hands on, but often spend what they don't have. Then they want you to make good on their debts.

AND NOW, I ask you, can members of the State Legislature create a pension fund where some members can draw more in tax-free payments than they are now earning as employes of the state?

An All-American Stew

WASHINGTON — In investigating the city-and-campus disorders the other day, Sen. McClellan's committee went into the Melting Pot and came out with a stew — not really to anybody's liking.

There was Dr. Nathan Wright, in a blue academic gown, wearing the bangles and medallions of Black Power. He is a Negro intellectual, but this proved to be a contradiction in terms. Dr. Wright is a professor of Afro-American Studies at New York University in Albany, also a theologian, also the author of "Ready to Riot" and advisor on Negro problems at several colleges. He talked like a man who had bitten off more learning than he could chew.

DR. WRIGHT soon had the committee, or at least the press table, in total confusion. He called himself a conservative, but admitted to "advocating a Negro Republic within the United States." He said he was for racial peace, but he went along with the militants and had been chairman of two Black Power conferences. Dr. Wright wanted "mandated ownership" of homes so that Negroes would not burn them down. He wanted policemen to stay away from riots (which he regarded as "alarm clocks" to wake up society). Policemen, he said, could no more stop the rioting than a red flag could halt a charging bull.

DR. S. I. HAWAKAWA, acting president of San Francisco State College, a Japanese-extracted American, is already a household name for call-the-cops. Hawakawa makes it fairly simple. When campus peace is disturbed, that's the time to send for the peace-officers. Most students go to college for an education and this majority ought to be protected from the hell-raising minority. Seldom in the history of civilization has so little patience been owed by the law-abiding many to the law-defying few. Hawakawa has a short way with dissenters.

THIS STREAMLINED simplicity of philosophy, however, is not easily put into practice. A college president, Hawakawa said, has a hard time expelling the anarchists because the faculty won't back him up. The faculty fears that expelled students will be drafted, sent to Vietnam and maybe killed. The faculty doesn't support the war, and doesn't want the blood of young men on its head.

NEXT WITNESS was Professor Bruno Bettlheim, as Germanic as Wright had been Congoloid and as Hawakawa had been Orientoid. Bettlheim, a psychiatrist, dismissed the race problem and the war problem as explanations for the youth problem. Japan had no war, but students were in revolt. Germany had no Negro population, but that didn't ensure campus tranquility. Youth was in worldwide rebellion because it felt left out. Youth felt it has no future unless it could tear everything down and build the world anew.

WE'RE NOT supposed to talk about "national origins" now that that phrase has been expunged from our immigration laws. But none of these men could have made the other men's speeches. Only a Negro could have been quite as confused in a white man's world as Dr. Wright. Only a man with a background of emperors and nobles could be quite so authoritarian as Dr. Hawakawa. Only a man with strong consciousness of Hitler could have been as apprehensive as Professor Bettlheim.

But the one message that the senators could take from the Melting Pot is that we're in an All-American stew.

Vietnam And The Soviet Threat

WASHINGTON — There are two ways to look at the Vietnam problem. One is to be concerned about the political aspects inside this country — the unpopularity of the war, campus revolts against the draft, and the feeling that the United States has no business sending troops to settle the "internal" affairs of a country 8,000 miles away.

THE OTHER is to take into account the possible consequences of a weakening of American policy, with the probability that the United States will be entangled in a war of much greater proportions in the next few years. This could develop because of a belief around the world that America will not use its military power again to save any people from an aggression aided and abetted by the Soviet Union and Red China.

THIS FUNDAMENTAL principle in such a policy cannot be brushed aside just by making a "cease-fire" agreement, as was done in Korea. For the situation in the Far East has never been stabilized since the Korean war. The complete collapse of the United Nations is the cause of the trend toward more and more acts of aggression on the part of imperialistic governments. Instead of the collective action provided for under the U.N. charter, the United States has had to stand up alone, without the aid of major powers, in the effort to thwart attempts to conquer South Vietnam.

PRESIDENTS JOHNSON and Nixon have endeavored, through peace negotiations at Paris, to achieve a settlement with North Vietnam. But the recent 10-point proposal made by the "National Liberation Front," which is the political arm of the Viet Cong — the Communists in South Vietnam — shows clearly that there is not the slightest intention of making a peace treaty, and that the most that would be accomplished would be an armistice such as prevails in Korea.

The 10-point proposal, for instance, demands that the United States and its allies withdraw "all troops, military personnel, arms and war materiel without posing any condition whatsoever."

IN THE FINAL analysis, the President of the United States is confronted with a decision as to whether the present peace negotiations are merely to be used as a device whereby America can somehow wriggle out of the Vietnam dilemma, or whether the United States shall stand firmly on its original position. Shall it continue the protection of South Vietnam by members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, or give up the war and let the Communists overrun the various countries in Asia which they do not as yet occupy or control?

The United States has failed to pinpoint the role played by Red China and the Soviet Union throughout the world. The governments of both these countries have furnished billions of dollars to sustain the North Vietnamese military operation.

A RETREAT BY the United States from Vietnam could mean that the Russians would be encouraged, for instance, to assist East Germany in a possible invasion of West Germany. It might also stimulate the Communists to intensify the Arab-Israeli friction.

For, once the United States gives the slightest sign that it is returning to isolationism, the Communists will be quick to take advantage of this. Such an attitude has been misconstrued abroad in the past and has led the United States into two world wars. The big question is whether history will repeat itself if the United States backs down in Vietnam.

Billy Graham

I don't understand the meaning of loving God with all our strength in the verse: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." P.R.

This text as well as many others in the Bible teaches that there is a kind of trinity in each of us; that each of us, as a person, is a gift of God. There are no sharp lines between heart, mind and soul. The text teaches us that our souls are living, immortal beings, destined to live throughout eternity. We are taught that the heart is the fountain of feeling; it is the spirited part of our beings and source of action. The heart can be good or bad as it directs our activity. Mind is the intelligence factor in our immortal beings. The heart, or the emotions as one might say today, impells the motives of both mind and body. It is also the figure used to show where conscience resides. Strength is used to show the unity of mind, soul, heart and body in the Loving of God. He demands everything in our love for Him. There are some who love God with their minds, only. Others love Him with their heart, alone, meaning that they are sort of sentimental; their seed was scattered on thin ground, and when the heat of life comes, they fade away. Loving God with bodily strength alone means that we would love Him for what we can get for ourselves.

Drinking Held A Cause Of Home Accidents

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Drinking, long recognized as a factor in highway accidents, is dangerous in the home, too. An insurance study found that 15 per cent of men and 10 per cent of women fatally injured in home accidents had been drinking.

Young Execs Take Risks

NEW YORK (AP) — Results of a survey released recently suggest that young executives may be willing to take more job or career risks today than just a decade or so ago.

As a result, some of the nation's largest corporations may be losing some of their best men to smaller firms.

THE CONCLUSION is one that can be drawn from a study made by an executive recruiter with offices here and in London. The recruiter found a surprising number of executives with big companies preferred smaller operations.

Although precise comparisons cannot be made easily, the results suggest that two major changes of attitude have developed during the past decade: more willingness to change jobs and more willingness to go with smaller companies.

Kiernan & Company mailed its questionnaire late in 1968 to 492 job seekers between the ages of 30 and 45 who were then working for companies with annual sales of $100 million or more and who were earning $20,000 to $35,000.

THE MEN WERE asked if they preferred a job with a similar size company or a larger one, or with a relatively small to medium company with sales of $10 million to $50 million a year.

Of more than 360 replies, 228 or 63 per cent said they preferred a smaller company, while only 132 or 36 per cent said they desired to work in a similar size or larger operation.

Based on comments accompanying the reply, the management consultant concluded that one of the chief reasons for seeking work with the smaller firm was the possibility of obtaining equity participation in addition to salary.

IN RECENT years tremendous publicity has been given to young entrepreneurs and executives with middle size companies who expanded operations dramatically—with equally spectacular financial returns to themselves.

Another possible explanation, said the recruiter, is that individuals during the past decade or more seem to have become more assertive in all areas of endeavor, and that in business this tendency is shown by a desire to participate in decisions and ownership.

Information On The New Mumps Vaccine

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

It seems that there is some confusion about the new mumps vaccine. Perhaps we can clear it up.

First, the vaccine now is fully approved by the government, having been tested at considerable length.

Who should get it? The intention is to give it to all children, along with other immunizations.

At what age? After the age of one year.

What about adults? If they are sure they have not had mumps, they would be wise to have the vaccine — particularly males if they are still young enough to have children. Women can be affected, too.

Why? Because there is a fairly high risk of causing sterility, or at least doing some damage to the reproductive organs, if the disease occurs when a person is a teenager or older. Such damage occurs in about one case in five at such ages.

Suppose you aren't sure whether you've had mumps? There is a simple skin test which will answer that. Some people have had very mild cases and didn't realize it, yet acquired immunity. So for them the vaccine is not necessary.

Why not wait until such an age instead of giving the vaccine to all children? Because mumps at any age can be pretty uncomfortable, and like other "childhood diseases," it can in some cases cause encephalitis (brain infection) and other complications.

Are there any side effects or unpleasant reactions from the vaccine? There can be side effects with virtually any vaccine, but these are exceptions. In the first one million mumps vaccinations, no significant side effects were observed, which is a pretty sound indication of safety.

How long does immunity last? This is not yet known, but blood tests show that immunity has not waned in some who were vaccinated three years ago, and it is suspected that immunity may equal that afforded by the actual disease.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I drink on the average at least nine or ten cups of black coffee — no cream or sugar — a day. The coffee has no ill effects. But I am nervous, and the more nervous I get, the more coffee I want.

Will you tell me if the coffee is contributing to my nervousness, or is the nervousness making me drink more coffee? I am 42. Will the coffee harm me as I become older? If this coffee is harmful, is there a substitute? — W.G.C.

Sir, that's quite a lot of coffee, and coffee contains caffeine. Caffeine is a stimulant, and can very well cause jitters, "nerves," sometimes rapid heart, and sometimes other minor complaints. In some people, there can be digestive upsets.

I'm not inclined to prohibit coffee without good reason, but in your case I'd try going without coffee entirely to see what happens to your nerves. There are caffeine-free types of coffee, too.

County School Supes

Could Save Texans $1 Million A Year

By JOHN LINCOLN
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — House Bill 689, its sponsors say, could save Texas taxpayers over $1 million next year.

But it is presently in a subcommittee of the Texas House and some advocates say it probably never will get to the floor for a vote.

"ONLY THE people can save it," said Rep. James Stroud, a Dallas Democrat who co-authored the bill. "It's in an unfriendly subcommittee. I don't expect it ever to come out."

The controversial bill would remove some 125 county school superintendents from the state's payroll. Of the state's 254 counties, the bill would affect only those which have only independent school districts. Counties with common school districts have a greater need for an over-all administrator, the bill's authors say.

Rep. Tom Bass of Houston, a sponsor of the bill, said: "There is about $1.2 million of state money going into the job of county school superintendent where there are no common school districts. Under the bill, where the community feels the job is worthwhile, then they pick up the tab at the local level."

Scores of the superintendents are "ex-officio" — that is, part-time administrators — and they earn only a fraction of the $9,000 to $14,000 paid to full-time superintendents.

BUT IN OVER 50 counties, Bass said, there are full-time county school superintendents who draw about $1 million from state funds every year in salaries and secretarial fees.

Their duties-keeping fiscal records, taking the school census, arranging busing, coordinating the districts, etc — might be handled more economically by other officials, many people feel.

"What we're saying," Stroud explained, "is that these are local duties, and the expense should be borne by the local people."

But who would handle the duties, if the office were abolished?

In Smith County, where the office was abolished a year ago, the County School Board was given charge of the former office.

MRS. VIRGINIA Lyon became the first executive school secretary and took over the duties at a savings to the state of about $12,000 a year, she said. "The new system, she added, "is working out just fine."

And in Wichita County, where the office was abolished in 1962, County Judge Calvin Ashley works as a "ex-officio" superintendent.

"We think that the situation has worked out adequately," Ashley said. "The benefits would be principally the fact that it costs less for the job to be done now than it did under the old system."

County Judge Derwood Wimpee of Rockwall, also an "ex-officio" superintendent, admitted his duties were "minimum." But if the office were abolished, he said, it would be "wrong and unfair" to ask someone — probably the county judge — to perform the duties of the office without pay.

THE BILL'S authors have agreed, and they have offered to accept an amendment to the bill excluding all "ex-officio" superintendents from its provisions.

The advisability of abolishing the office appears to hinge on the matter of independent school districts. Where a county's school districts do not depend on each other, there is not such a critical need for a county school superintendent.

This is the conclusion reached by the State Board of Education. Leon Graham, an assistant commissioner of education, said the board "has recommended to the legislature to abolish the offices where they are not needed, but they did not specifically define where those areas were."

"It's a local job, not a state one," insists Rep. Stroud. "As it is now, my tax dollars are going to pay the county school superintendents in other counties."

"It's a tax-saving bill, worth about $1,000,000," Rep. Stroud said. "And those people who would benefit from it should do something about it."

Dickinson Thought About Quitting, He Won Instead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Because a friend—he wasn't identified— reneged on a business deal, Gardner Dickinson finally achieved his lifelong goal in golf, a victory in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament.

"I was playing real bad early this year," the gaunt, 41-year-old veteran recalled Sunday after charging in with a 66 for his first victory in 15 tries in this prestigious event.

"And I have this friend who had offered me a job in a business where I could make a lot of money. He told me that when I was ready to quit the tour to let him know.

"So I told him I was ready," Dickinson said, then paused.

"Well, he wasn't ready. If he had been, I wouldn't be here today. I guess I've got him to thank for this $25,000."

The little guy, he weighs only 131, used a refound putting touch, some advice from Ben Hogan and steel-wire nerves to capture the event.

WANTED TO WIN

"There are other tournaments where you can make more money," he said. "Bigger prizes than $25,000. And winning the Masters, the Open, the PGA those all can make you money.

"But I always wanted to win this tournament. Maybe it's because this course has eaten me up." But it was Dickinson who dominated the course in the final round, gunning his irons to the small greens on the 7,175 yard, par 70 Colonial Country Club course with rifle accuracy and finishing at 278, two under par.

He had five birdies, with only one putt longer than 15 feet. That was a 25-footer on No. 5, when he got back even with par after a bogey on No. 2, where he buried a ball in a trap.

He put a five iron on the 10th, getting within six feet and breaking out of a four-way tie for the lead with another bird.

"THREE MILES"

An eight iron put him eight feet from the cup on 12 and he holed it, but the tournament was decided on No. 16.

South African Gary Player had rammed in birdie putts of 20 and 30 feet on Nos. 13 and 14 and moved into a share of the top spot. Dickinson was first through 16, and coaxed in a 12-foot putt he said "looked like three miles."

Moments later Player bogeyed the hole from a trap. Dickinson had a two-stroke lead and it was all over. Player birdied the last hole for a 69 and second place at 279. Don January had a final round 70 for third at 280, while Jack Nicklaus, with a last round 71, and New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles, with a 68, tied for fourth at 282.

Arnold Palmer rallied from a third round 80 with a 69 for 290, while defending champion Billy Casper took a 76 for 297. The third round leaders, Billy Maxwell and Australian Bruce Crampton, also had their trouble. Crampton had a 75 for 283 and Maxwell a 78 for 286.

Steers Favored For Nat'l Title

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The University of Texas baseball team, ranked No. 1 in the nation, went about preparing for final exams today with the NCAA District 6 championship safely tucked away.

The Longhorns rolled over Southland Conference champion Trinity 10-0 and 5-0 in a doubleheader at Austin Saturday to earn a berth in the College World Series at Omaha, Neb., June 13-19.

It will be the 12th trip to the national tournament for the Longhorns, who won back-to-back national titles in 1949-50.

The Longhorns' one-two pitching punch of Bert Hooton and James Street proved too much for the outmanned Tigers, held to six hits in the two games.

Hooton, a freshman terror in Texas' spring to the Southwest Conference baseball title, allowed Trinity only three hits and fanned 10 and walked two in winning the opener 10-0. It increased Hooton's record to 10-0.

Street, also the Longhorns' first string quarterback in football, was just as devastating in the second game. He struck out 10, walked one and issued only three hits for his 12th victory of the season.

After completing final exams, the Longhorns, ranked No. 1 in the nation by the newspaper Collegiate Baseball, likely will play several practice games before going to the national tournament.

Majestic Prince Likely Not To Get Triple Crown Crack

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Belmont Stakes still is to be run, but when the final jewel is added to racing's Triple Crown on June 7 it will not sparkle as brightly as was expected—Majestic Prince will not be there.

Trainer Johnny Longden says the Prince, with the shot at becoming a Triple Crown king, will not run in the Belmont. The $129,000 first money boosted his earnings to $389,200.

Owner Frank McMahon also says so—but with less conviction about the colt which he bought for $250,000.

For a time Saturday it appeared that once again no one would get a shot at the Triple Crown. A foul was claimed against McMahon's unbeaten colt after he finished first in the $182,000 Preakness, but the stewards disallowed it after deliberating for 26 tension-building minutes.

"TAKING HIM HOME"

"Boys, I'm taking him home," was the bombshell Longden dropped on newsmen when they appeared at his barn on the Pimlico backstretch Sunday morning to rehash Majestic Prince's head victory over Arts and Letters, who he beat by a neck in the Kentucky Derby.

McMahon, contacted before he left Baltimore, at first said he had reached no decision but later he told The Associated Press by telephone from his home in Florida:

"I am pretty well convinced we are not going to run him. We are awfully close to not going. He is not sick; his condition is fine. He's just lost weight because of the campaign (seven wins this year added to two in 1968)."

Longden also said the power-running chestnut's condition had nothing to do with his wanting to ship to his farm at Riverside, Calif., and return Majestic Prince to the races in late summer or fall. Then he said:

"I've checked back and I can't find any horse that had a tough race in the Derby or Belmont, in which just eight Preakness that came out of the colts have clinched the Triple Belmont and amounted to a Crown—the last one Citation in damn. I mean they never run 1948.

"Count Fleet was one of them. He was sound when he went into the Belmont. He never raced again after the Belmont."

A record Preakness crowd of 43,259 thrilled to the stretch duel between Majestic Prince and Arts and Letters.

Braulio Baeza, who rode the runner-up from Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable, contended they lost ground on the first turn when they were bothered by Bill Hartack and Majestic Prince. But it was disallowed.

Home Bound

Majestic Prince, heading to the wire in Saturday's Preakness Stakes, may be heading home to California and not racing in the Belmont Stakes. Trainer Johnny Longden said yesterday the unbeaten colt will not try for the Triple Crown.

BAD DAY FOR RESCUERS

Ace Cub Reliefer Blows Control, Walks In Winner

By The Associated Press

Relief was just a swallow before forcing home the winning run away for the Chicago Cubs—but run with his third walk in the inning. Phil Regan's aspirin tablets went down the wrong pipe.

Regan walked pinch hitter Julio Gotay with the bases loaded during a frustrating afternoon for National League relief pitchers, who blew two out in the eighth inning and two in the eighth inning before Regan finished in three other rescue operations.

The Chicago bullpen ace, beaten for the first time in six decisions, was pitched out of Len Gabrielson's pinch homer and Wes Parker's two-out bases loaded single gave the Dodgers a 6-5 nod.

San Francisco's Bob Bolin retired two Philadelphia batters in the ninth, then yielded a single by Dave Watkins and a run-scoring double by Larry Hisle that beat the Giants 9-5.

Atlanta bombed Montreal 8-3 in a rain-shortened game, scoring four wrapup runs in the seventh when Felix Millan, Hank Aaron and Clete Boyer rocked veteran reliever Elroy Face with homers.

St. Louis' Ron Willis and Gary Waslewski proved the exceptions, working out of late inning trouble to protect Dave Giusti's 6-5 victory over San Diego.

Rain washed out the New York Mets-Cincinnati game—and four perfect innings pitched by Reds' left-hander Jim Merritt.

Ted Abernathy, Regan's chief cronie in the Cubs' bullpen, took a 5-3 lead into the seventh inning at Houston, but errors by third baseman Ron Santo and right fielder Al Spangler helped the Astros push over one run.

Regan came to the rescue with none out and runners on second and third, got two quick outs and then was victimized by Santo's second error, which allowed the tying run to score.

In the eighth, he walked Curt Blefary, was tagged for a single by Denis Menke and walked Doug Rader, jamming the bases with nobody out. He retired Jesus Alou on a pop up and got Johnny Edwards to tap into a force at the plate, but then lost Gotay, who was batting for pitcher Jim Ray.

McBee Figures He's Too Late

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Rives McBee figures he is about 10 years too late for the professional golf tour.

"Boy, is it rough out here," he says. "I should have joined the tour when I was 21 not when I was 30."

McBee, a North Texas graduate, says, "These 20-year-olds know from amateur competition what I just found out. Just go down the list ... look at those guys out there."

McBee is financed on the tour by a group of Midland, Tex., businessmen. It may be remembered he led the 1966 U.S. Open in San Francisco with a first round 64. He used the money won in that tourney to get his start.

"Well, I've been thinking about things and if I can find a good club job I just may take it," says the good-natured McBee. "I'm married you know and it costs me about $500 a week to live on the tour. For single guys it's about $300."

McBee says his contract runs out at the end of this year but has been told he can stay on the tour if he wishes.

"What really needs to happen to me is to win a tournament," he says. "That would solve all my problems. That's the dream of everyone who tees it up out here."

McBee says a second tour is needed. Boy there are so many good players. You don't worry about Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer out here anymore. It's Joe Blow and Joe Dink ... or just pull a name out of a hat."

McBee, who is married with two children, says he made $15,000 officially and $27,000 unofficially last year.

Joe Pepitone Breaks His Slump With Red Hot Bat

By The Associated Press

This is the kind of slump Joe Pepitone has been in.

The New York first baseman blasted game-winning home runs in both ends of the Yankees' 3-1, 1-0 doubleheader sweep over California Sunday. He had four hits in the twinbill and six in his last eight swings over the weekend.

The spree raised his batting average to all of .254.

The shrunken average is the result of a 2 for 39 slump which had saddled Pepitone until the Angels pulled him out of it.

"During my slump I wasn't even hitting the fast ball down the middle," said Pepitone, "and that's my pitch. I had two cheapie singles and I didn't even hit the ball hard once."

Against the Angels, he hit it hard twice.

His three-run shot in the seventh inning of the opener gave Mel Stottlemyre his sixth victory of the year. In the nightcap, Pepi broke up a scoreless game with his 11th homer on reliever Hoyt Wilhelm's first pitch in the bottom of the ninth.

In other American League games Sunday, Baltimore shut out Kansas City 5-0, Detroit rapped Minnesota 8-2, Seattle pounded Boston 9-6 and Washington won a pair from Chicago both 3-2. Oakland at Cleveland was rained out.

Mike Cuellar pitched a two-hitter and drove in a run with a seventh inning triple as Baltimore blanked Kansas City. Boog Powell hammered a two-run homer for the Orioles.

Baltimore had managed just one hit in six innings against rookie Dick Drago but broke out of the scoreless tie with three in the seventh—two on Dave Johnson's single and outfielder Lou Piniella's error and the third on Cuellar's triple.

Rod Carew and Tony Oliva ran together under Mickey Stanley's pop fly and the ball fell for a double, driving in a pair of runs in a four-run Detroit rally which carried the Tigers past Minnesota. Oliva had a dislocated finger.

Carew and Cesar Tovar had stolen home earlier for the Twins. It was Carew's fourth steal of home this season.

Larry Haney, Ray Oyler and pitcher Mike Marshall all slammed home runs and Seattle needed them when a late Boston rally keyed by Carl Yastrzemski's grand slam almost caught the Pilots in the ninth.

Mike Epstein singled home Washington's winning run in the 10th inning of the 3-2 first game. Washington had dropped nine of 10 games on its Western swing before Sunday's sweep.

Brownfield To Open Playoff

BROWNFIELD — The Brownfield Cubs, District 3-AAA baseball champions, go to Weatherford Tuesday to open their bi-district series with Weatherford.

Second game of the set will be played in Brownfield at 4 p.m., Thursday. If a third game is necessary, it will be in Abilene at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Brownfield has won 12 of 17 starts this season. Weatherford is 10-4.

Happy Astros Show Spirit

HOUSTON (AP) — Jim Wynn, centerfielder for the Houston Astros, believes his team now has the right kind of spirit.

The Astros battled from behind twice Sunday to defeat the Chicago Cubs 6-5. It was Houston's fourth victory in the last five games and its fifth in the last seven.

Wynn said the Astros still may lose by embarrassing scores at times but they haven't lost the spirit.

"Look around," he said after the game. "Can't you tell from the way everybody is laughing and cutting up? It's the same way on the bench. We're a team now. We win together and we lose together. Everybody is doing his bit."

Taylor Leaving Tahoka School

TAHOKA — Jerry Taylor has resigned as head coach and athletic director of the local schools to accept employment as an assistant on the Abilene High School staff.

Under Taylor during his two years here, Tahoka's football teams had identical 6-4 seasons. He came here from Amarillo Caprock.

No successor was immediately named.

What Will Owls Do For An Encore?

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — The Rice University mile relay unit is creating a dilemma as it continues post-season competition leading up to the NCAA National Collegiate championship next month.

The Owl quartet, with Dale Bernauer at the anchor, sailed to a national best time of 3:06.1 to highlight the Ty Terrell Relays Saturday night breaking previous best time of 3:07.0 set by the Owls at the Texas Relays.

The problem is, what do they do for an encore this weekend at the California Relays in Modesto, Calif.?

It will be a tough act to follow. The Owls won the race with ease after breaking away from a tight field on the third leg when Steve Straub picked up a 15-yard lead and handed off to Bernauer, who finished his leg about 55 yards ahead of second place Prairie View.

Chip Grandjean and Bill Askey are the other two members of the Owl foursome.

Oliver Ford of Southern University was named the outstanding athlete in the meet after setting a meet record of 20.9 in the 220-yard dash and running a leg of the record-tying spring relay team.

Prairie View's Felix Johnson, who holds the world's best time in the 880 this year at 1:46.5, won his specialty in 1:50-flat.

Team standings were not kept for the meet.

Speedway Finally Is Washed Out

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The weather finally has caught up with the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

For years, the venerable Speedway activities has taken place without wet weather.

But things were changed Saturday and Sunday. Scheduled 10-mile qualifying runs for the 53rd 500-mile race May 30 were rained out entirely.

That had never happened before. A rainout of even the first qualifying day hadn't occurred since 1953.

Elks Victors On Huge Inning

The Elks slammed across 14 runs in the fourth inning to smash the Buccaneers 20-10 Saturday in American Little League play.

The Bucs came back in the final frame with seven runs, but could not overtake the winners. Smith led the Elks attack with four hits on six trips, and Baumgardner collected four safeties in five times at bat. The Elks are now 3-1, the Bucs 0-4.

Dykes was the winning pitcher and Sinder was the loser.

Hill Figured It Right, Steward Did Burn Out

MONTE CARLO (AP) — It looked for a while like favored Jackie Stewart of Scotland might deprive Britain's Graham Hill of his fifth Monte Carlo Grand Prix, but Hill was never worried.

"We figured Stewart would burn himself out and that's just what he did," said Hill, who finished the 80-lap test Sunday in one hour, 56 minutes, 59.4 seconds—an average of 77.42 miles per hour.

Stewart, driving a blue Matra Ford, led the first 22 laps, breaking the track record five times, but was forced out on the 23rd lap with broken rear shaft. He was one of eight in the field of 15 who didn't complete the tortuous 105.96-mile circuit.

Piers Courage of Britain finished second. Courage was timed in 1:57:16.7. Third place finisher Joseph Siffert of Switzerland was clocked in 1:57.34.

No United States drivers were among the starters.

CHICAGO (AP)—The Continental Football League has declared its Orange County, Calif., franchise inactive. The CFL took the action in a weekend meeting after the franchise at Anaheim, Calif., failed to confirm prior conditional approval for transfer to San Bernardino, Calif.

Cards Split Pair With Two Teams

Joh Havlick hung on despite a shaky finish to give the Maurice Shop of San Angelo a 6-5 victory over the Big Spring Cardinals here Sunday.

Havlick had blanked the Cards until the seventh, and went into the ninth with a four-run lead. The Cards punched over three runs, but Havlick steadied to strike out the last two men.

In the nightcap, the Cards bunched all their runs in a blistering, second inning to defeat the Colorado City Indians, 6-3. Ronnie Steen held the visitors to three hits in the abbreviated contest, and it was a case of errors which led to the Indian runs.

The Cards outhit the San Angelo ans in the opener, 10-7, but they committed two bobbles which led to as many runs. Jordan slammed a homer as first man up in the third, then tripled in the fifth for San Angelo. Ballintine got a double. Except for Ramirez' double in the second, all the hits in the nightcap were singles.

Enduro Kart Races Watched By 3,000

By FRANK GRIFFIS

Dan Montgomery, Corsicana, won first place in A Open Light competition and David Waldrop, Odessa, took first in the B Stock class of the first annual Enduro Kart Race held in City Park here Sunday.

A crowd estimated at 3,000 watched the fast moving event. Two minor mishaps delayed the first race when Mike Hughes, 18, Midland, failed to make a turn and went careening off the side of a hill with his cart. He was treated at Cowper Clinic & Hospital for a fracture of his upper right arm. Phil Drake, 19, Lubbock, also missed a turn in the final quarter of the race but was not injured.

"I came in too fast and didn't let up on the gas in time to make the turn," Drake shrugged. The front axle on his vehicle snapped, and he was out of the race.

Waldrop completed the highest number of laps in an hour.

"I really enjoyed the race because it is the shortest, most competitive track I've ever raced on," said Waldrop. "It's an endurance race in the finest sense of the word," added Waldrop.

In the American Reed Sr. contest Jimmy Wester, Garland, took home the first place trophy.

"The track was pretty rough. I wish I'd brought a short track cart with me," said Wester.

In the same race, Marvin C. Shairrick, Lubbock, won first place honors in the A Stock Heavyweight division. "It's a rough track, but it's a good driving track," commented Shairrick.

In the third race of the day, R. J. Staples, Houston, placed first in the B Limited division; Robert Young, San Angelo, first in the B Open division; Bill Pritchett, Amarillo, first in class C Open competition.

In the last race of the day, Ned C. Owens, Webb AFB, captured first place honors in A Open Heavy division and Arno D. Brittain, Lubbock, won first place in A Stock Light competition. The only female racer in Sunday's contests, Mrs. Darlene L. Barry, Midland, won second place in A Stock Light competition. "It was a lot of fun and I hope to race more in the future," said Mrs. Barry.

Tom Eastland, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, estimated the crowd at approximately 3,000.

Officer Ed Kissenger, of the Big Spring Police Department, clocked some of the carts at speeds up to 78 miles per hour on his radar unit.

Officers were to question a man arrested on the premises at the time who was picked up for drunkenness.

Judge Wanted To Talk Cars

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — When an 18-year-old game into Criminal Court Judge Everett Dudley's court, the judge wanted to talk about cars.

Dudley asked the defendant if he was the youth arrested by a state trooper for car theft. Then the judge questioned him about the car's description.

"That was my car, and therefore I am going to have to transfer your case to another judge," Dudley said.

FIVE STAR READING

Writing to a friend, Dwight D. Eisenhower once mentioned Winston Churchill, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee as great men, and then went on to establish his own scale for weighing greatness.

"It embraced," as Relman Morin writes in his new biography, EISENHOWER: A GAUGE OF GREATNESS, "the qualities of vision, integrity, courage, understanding, and the ability to communicate."

You will be interested in Morin's judgment on how Eisenhower measured up to the high standards that he himself set.

This is just one of the insights that Morin, a two-time Pulitzer prize winner, supplies into unknown and little known aspects of the life of the war time commander and peace time president.

"He is alert after a good night and he is eating well," a hospital bulletin said.

'Bugs' Baer Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur "Bugs" Baer, 83, columnist and cartoonist, died Saturday in New York Hospital. The seventh of 14 children in an immigrant family, Baer left school at 14 to be a lace designer and rose to write a newspaper column read by 15 million people daily. His nickname came from little insects he inserted in the corners of his cartoons.

Tensions Between Malays, Chinese Apparently Easing

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Tension eased here today after five days of arson, murder and looting. People crowded streets to purchase food.

There were reports looting was increasing in downtown homes evacuated by 5,000 people at the height of the trouble. Some reports said Malay troops were taking part in looting.

Authorities said 132 persons had been killed in the capital and four persons in other parts of the country, but unofficial medical sources said at least 300 bodies had been counted in morgues and hospitals.

DANGER OF TYPHUS

At least 342 persons have been injured and 2,768 arrested, including many for violating the curfew.

Some 140 buildings were burned and 109 vehicles damaged. Two fires were visible from downtown today.

Throughout the capital vigilante groups were organizing to guard shops and homes.

Some 3,000 Chinese refugees housed at the Merdeka Stadium organized themselves into teams to distribute food and keep guard. Children were being washed assembly line style.

The picture was vastly different at the Chinwood Auditorium where about 1,000 Malays refugees were housed. The smell of rotting food was in the air, and the people lay about lethargically.

A Red Cross worker warned that unless action was taken soon to clear up the mess there was a real danger of typhus.

The new emergency government consisting of the National Operations Council headed by Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Razak met at the downtown Parliament House.

Razak announced the arrest of 60 "hard core Communists" Saturday night and the arrest Friday of "90 hard core Communists and their supporters in hiding."

"The Communists have always wanted to see racial clashes in this country," Razak said, "because they hope to ride on communal disorder and capture power."

NOT STUPID

But to counter charges that he was attempting to blame Communists for all the trouble, Razak added: "In addition there are also bad elements who also entertain the same motive and objective."

Discussing the suspension of Parliament at a news conference, opposition leader Tan Chee Khoon said he hoped the emergency government would "not be so stupid" as to dissolve the body.

Tan's party, which draws its support from the Chinese community, made big gains in the election May 10 at the expenses of the Malaysian Chinese Association, the Chinese member of Rahman's ruling Alliance coalition. The MCA then announced that it was withdrawing from the government, although it would continue to support it in parliament, and this coupled with the opposition gains inflamed the Malays. An orgy of murder and arson followed.

Waste Glass Roads Research

ROLLA, Mo. (AP) — Research on the use of waste glass, mainly thrown-away bottles and jars, as a substitute for sand and stone in bituminous roads can continue.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has notified the University of Missouri at Rolla of approval of a grant of $32,653 to support the study.

The research has been under direction of Dr. Ward R. Malisch, assistant professor of civil engineering. He says the theory being studied here is that glass is not necessarily superior to sand, gravel and stone but that it can be used as a replacement for these conventional aggregates and thus help eliminate the problem of what to do with old bottles and jars.

Krist Kidnap Trial Starts

DECATUR, Ga. (AP)—Bearded, taciturn Gary Steven Krist went on trial today on a charge of kidnaping coed Barbara Jane Mackle, who was buried alive while her abductors collected $500,000 ransom last December.

Krist, 24, a convicted car thief and prison escapee, was brought to the DeKalb County Courthouse in handcuffs. His black beard and black suit starkly contrasted with his prison pallor.

Conviction would mean the death penalty or life imprisonment.

Krist, who once escaped a California prison, is charged with Ruth Eisenmann-Schier, 26, Honduras-born biologist, in the Dec. 17 abduction of the Emory University coed.

Miss Eisenmann-Schier is to go on trial June 16.

The courthouse is not far from the motel where the 20-year-old student was taken from a sickbed, then buried alive in a plywood crypt under 18 inches of clay while a $500,000 ransom was negotiated with her father.

Krist has spent the last three weeks in a hospital undergoing psychiatric examination. He was removed from the DeKalb County jail April 22 after collapsing from a 27-day hunger strike.

Miss Mackle spent 83 hours buried below the ground in a coffin-like box equipped with air pipes, a fan, a battery-powered light and a small quantity of food and water.

Her father, Robert F. Mackle, a Coral Gables, Fla., land developer paid the ransom for information that led FBI agents to her prison.

Krist was captured on alligator-infested Hog Island on Florida's Gulf coast soon after the ransom payoff, and $497,700 of the money was with him, the FBI said.

Newspapers Citing Texas Car Dealers

DALLAS — May 19 through May 30 has been designated as the period when local newspapers will recognize the local automobile dealer for his contributions to the local as well as the national economy.

Joe M. Dealey, president of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Dallas Morning News, said the project is called "Operation Thank You."

Many newspapermen throughout Texas and Louisiana will be making personal contacts with their local automobile dealers. In a number of cities, newspapers are planning special "Thank You" luncheons or dinner meetings.

"Operation Thank You" is a repeat performance of a project that was first undertaken in 1966.

Dealey said the primary purpose of "Operation Thank You" will be to express the gratitude of the newspaper industry to all new car dealers who have placed their confidence and advertising in the daily newspaper medium.

Dealey pointed out that the automobile dealer's original sale of a new car is only the beginning of an economic chain reaction that affects almost all phases of the local economy.

Motor vehicle registrations in Texas totaled 6,542,883 last year. This statistic alone, said Dealey, indicates the magnitude of the automobile dealer's influence on the local economy. This influence extends to sales, service and related businesses such as gasoline sales, auto repair and motel - restaurant - travel oriented businesses who depend on automobile traffic as a source of livelihood.

New car sales per household in most cities in Texas are well above the national average, Dealey, adding "we believe newspaper readership is a contributing factor in helping local automobile dealers establish these sales figures."

Newspapers have long been considered the "automobile market place" by automobile men. This is due primarily to the broad coverage of newspapers, Dealey said. He cited the following specific reasons, saying research shows that each weekday, newspapers reach: (1) nine out of 10 car-owning households (2) 95 per cent of households who own two cars, and (3) nine out of 10 households planning to buy a car.

Dear Abby

They Both Have Lovers

DEAR ABBY: I am sure that my husband is running around with another woman. Is there any way I can find out who she is? I can't afford to hire a private detective right now, but as soon as my boy friend comes back from Vietnam I will be in better financial shape, as he says in his letters he is doing very well over there.

So please let me know if there is some kind of detective outfit that will let me pay for their services on time with a small down payment. Thank you.
SUSPICIOUS IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: I know of no detective agency that "looks now and collects later." Wouldn't it be a whole lot neater if you just told your husband about yor boyfriend and asked him about his girl friend?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for over a dozen years and have four fine children. Out of the blue, he told me that he had a 16-year-old son. The girl got pregnant while they were both in college. She left school, making no effort to contact him, and he never even thought of her again. Then they accidentally met three weeks ago at an airport terminal.

She told him about their son (I'll call him "Buddy"), and that she was married. Buddy has been legally adopted by his husband. She said she was glad she ran into him as she had been having her problems with Buddy and maybe he could help.

Buddy wrote my husband a letter telling him all about himself, and he ends up with "I would like to come and visit you." My husband says he has no feelings about the boy one way or the other, but he'd have no objections to having him visit us, and he hopes I wouldn't have.

No one in our community knows about this, and I prefer to keep it that way. I certainly don't want our children to find out. I can't have Buddy visiting us without answering a lot of questions.

Abby, this woman and her son went about their own business for 16 years. My husband had forgotten her, and now she reappears to upset everything. Thank God we live 1,000 miles apart. What is the right thing to do in this matter? Your advice is badly needed.

PLEASE, NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: Urge your husband to realize that his first consideration should be you and your children. If he really wants to see Buddy, he should meet him somewhere, but for the boy to visit your home would be unfair and unwise.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The lady from Kansas who didn't know if she should call the police because the neighbor's kids were shooting birds in her backyard should have called a federal marshal.

Song birds are protected by law, and it is a federal offense to shoot one. Usually you need only to mention this to a kid with a gun to scare him out of this evil practice forever. Sincerely yours,
R.C.A. COOPERSBURG, PA.

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
