Steel Magnate To Speak At Festival Day Luncheon

Acceptances Roll in for Special Event

E. B. Germany, president of Lone Star Steel Co. of Dallas, will be the guest speaker at the noon dignitaries luncheon of the second annual Tumbleweed Festival.

Germany will speak at the luncheon in Civic House on Saturday, May 6, the second day of the big festival feteing West Texas' abundant tumbleweeds.

More than 70 nationally and state known dignitaries have been invited to be guests at the luncheon.

Speaker Germany is also chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission and president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Earlier invitations to speak at the luncheon were extended to both United States President John F. Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, a native Texan.

Both sent their regrets that they were unable to attend due to previous engagements.

In a letter to C. C. (Charlie) Thompson, president of the Colorado City Industrial Team, Inc., Vice President Johnson said:

"I am very grateful to you for this kind invitation to the Tumbleweed Festival and to speak at the Dignitaries Luncheon on May 6.

"I wish there were some way I could accept, but as you can imagine, my schedule for the next few months is quite full and I am not able to take on any more engagements, no matter how attractive they are.

"Perhaps you will give me a raincheck for some other time. I hope so . . ."

Other dignitaries who have officially accepted invitations to attend the luncheon and other festival events include:

BY JUDGES, MAYORS

Monday Proclaimed "Law Day" in County

Monday, May 1, will be Law Day in Colorado City.

Austin McCloud, president of the Mitchell County Bar Association has announced that county lawyers will be conducting programs over the county, particularly in the schools, in celebration of the local observance. Attorney Joe Earnest is chairman of the observance.

The local observance is being held in conjunction with Law Day USA over the entire nation.

The annual observance of Law Day USA was established in 1958 by official proclamation of the President of the United States.

District Judge Eldon Mahon, Mitchell County Judge Elmer Martin, Colorado City mayor Glenn R. (Bob) Robinson, Loraine mayor Dr. Bruce Johnson and Westbrook mayor Altis Clemmer have issued a joint proclamation proclaiming Monday as Law Day in Mitchell County.

Thoughout the week students in county schools and most civic clubs will be shown a film, "Trial by Jury," and hear short talks by local attorneys. The film is issued by the State Bar of Texas.

The county group is urging all merchants who have U. S. flags to fly them in front of their stores Monday.

Law Day USA has 3 objectives, says Earnest. They are (1) to foster a deeper respect for law, (2) to encourage responsible citizenship, and (3) to promote national strength and unity by strengthening the rule of law.

"On May 1, when countries behind the Iron Curtain are showing their military might, symbols of the subordination of the individual to the state, Americans are recognizing respect for law and legal authority by giving meaning to our ideals of equality and justice under law," states Earnest.

The joint proclamation signed by the 2 judges and 3 mayors states:

"Individual freedom under law is the birthright of all Americans. Laws and courts exist to protect every citizen in his person, property and individual rights and privileges, guaranteed by our State and

AT FRIDAY TUMBLEWEED FETE

Homer and Jethro Stars Of Festival Stage Show

The Clown Princes of recorded musical comedy — Homer and Jethro — will headline Friday night's (May 5) entertainment at the second annual Tumbleweed Festival.

The 2 "hillbillies," who are no "backwoodsmen" in the record sales department, will be the first of 2 top stage attractions at Colorado City High School gym during the gala festival.

The Four Aces, top-rated pop-singing quartet, will be on the same stage the next night, Saturnay, May 6, to present their acclaimed show.

Intermission at the Homer and Jethro show Friday night will feature the preliminaries of the Miss Tumbleweed of 1961 contest. Nineteen Mitchell County beauties are in the contest.

Guitarist Homer (Henry Doyle Haynes) and mandolin player Jethro (Kenneth Charles Burns) were just a couple of traveling Knoxville, Tenn. mosicians in 1938 when they "got to kiddin' around" and did a parody of "Over the Rainbow" to the tone of "John Henry."

It became a hit later, after being recorded, and sold more than 100,000 copies. From that point on, the boys became a top draw on the hillbilly circuit.

They joined the National Barn Dance on Chicago's WLS in 1948 and have been radio headliners ever since then.

Homer and Jethro take shch pop hits as "Doggie in the Window" and turn them into guitar-plucking parodies.

That parodie goes, in part:

"How much is that houn dawg in the winder?

"I do hope that flea bag's for sale.

"How much is that houn' dawg in the winder?

"The [illegible] with the long mangy tail . . ."

Their other 2 best known recordings are "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyeballs" ("I cocked an eye at her, she cocked an eye at me, And we just sit there cockeyed as could be.") and "You Belong to Me" ("Bring me pawpaws in a paper poke, Send me money, darlin,' when I'm broke. Make your will out to me when you croak, You belong to me.").

Homer and Jethro teamed up as boys around Knoxville, but only after each had served 4 years in the Army in World War II did they actually began their professional career.

Success after success has followed them in their chosen field ever since and they have been rated as the top Country and Western comedy singing team in the country by trade papers for the past 6 years.

Personal appearances by Homer and Jethro have thrilled thousands of fans in the Thunderbird Hotel and the Show Boat in Las Vegas, the Roosevelt Hotel in New York

Loans for Small Businesses Aired

"The operations of the Small Business Administration need not be sold — they just need to be explained," stated Jack Teddlie Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Colorado City Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Teddlie, acting branch manager of the SBA's Lubbock office, explained the organization's work, procedures and purposes to approximately 10 guests and Jaycees present.

C. C. (Charlie) Thompson, president of the Colorado City Industrial Team, Inc., introduced the speaker. Teddlie made the local appearance at the invitation of Thompson.

The SBA was set up as a government agency in 1954 and was signed into low in 1958, he said. It covers small business — those of "independent ownership that are not dominant in their field."

There are 4,600,000 businesses in the country, and 95 per cent can be classified as "small" businesses, Teddlie said. But the SBA is for both small and big business, because they are dependent upon each other.

The SBA is headed in Washington by board chairman John C. Horn, Cabinet members Douglas Dillion, secretary of the treasury, and Luther Hodges, secretary of Commerce, fill the other 2 seats on the governing board.

The organization does not compete with banks, but does make loans to small businesses for construction, conversion, expansion, capital, etc.,

Drew Ballard Assumes Jaycee President Office

Twenty-six-year-old Drew Ballard was installed as 1961 president of the Colorado City Junior Chamber of Commerce in an installation banquet in Civic House last week.

The 1961 officers of the Colorado City Jaycee-ettes, an organization of local Jaycee wives, were also installed at the banquet.

Brad Roland, Region 5 state vice president of the Texas Jaycee organization, of Abilene installed Ballard and other incoming Jaycee officers.

Jaycee-ette officers were installed by Mrs. Bill Ransberger, immediate past president of the Sweetwater Jaycee-ettes.

Bob Ratliff, 1960 scrapbook chairman, was awarded the coveted "Key Man Award" by outgoing president, Don Benson. Benson assumed the post of director for the local club upon stepping down from the president's post.

The award for "Overall Participation" went to radio station program director Ballard and Wayne Worley, immediate past state director, was given the annual "Award of Honor."

Other awards of recognition went to immediate past secretary James Hull, agriculture chairman Cummins Wood and Youth Activities Committee chairman Winn Talley. Two special awards for publicity were given to KVMC and the Colorado City Record.

Benson made the awards presentation.

The awards were a certificate of merit for work as secretary and the "Spoke" award given to first-year Jaycees for participation in local club affairs.

Upon accepting the office of president, Ballard said, "It is a great challenge and an honor. We (the new officers) earn the right to lead by example and I hope we can meet the challenge and make Colorado City proud of the Jaycees."

Ballard presented Benson with a plaque in recognition of his service as 1960 presi-

Defeat Comes from Within, Says Royal

"There is no such thing as defeat — except from within yourself," Darrell Royal said at the All-Sports Banquet Monday night.

The Texas University athletic director and head football coach spoke to approximately 200 Colorado City High School sports participants, parents, guests and Colorado City Quarterback Club members.

The former All-American quarterback from Oklahoma University spoke on "What It Takes to Be A Winner."

There are many people who are not winners, said Royal, just because they fear failure.

In speaking of life as a game, Royal said, "It is better to be one who will try and fail and get up and try again, than to be one who never attempts anything."

The margin between any victory and any defeat is usually a mighty thin line, he [illegible]. Just one small effort [illegible] victory, and one [illegible] of quitting or defeat [illegible] defeat.

"There is no such thing [illegible] defeat — except from within yourself," Royal concluded.

"If you won't admit defeat, then it won't happen."

Royal was introduced by Bob Reily, Quarterback Club officer, former Colorado City High School head coach and former football star at McMurry College in Abilene.

Quarterback Club president Dr. H. Jene Steakley acted as master of ceremonies for the banquet.

Mrs. John Shimer and her 20-girl volley ball team, Miss Jane Merrell's cheerleaders and Wolverines, Dwight Tomb and the high school band, Coach Ken Kearns' baseball squad, Coach Caddo Matthews' basketball team and Coach Sam Christy's football and track squads were all honored with recognition.

Each of the groups' leaders made short talks and introduced the members present from each.

Mike Campbell, assistant coach to Royal and a football coach for Texas University, was special guest.

CARNIVAL SITE CHANGED

Festival Shopping Days Fete Grows

The Festival Shopping Days carnival continues to grow.

The carnival reached such a size this week that forced a switch in sites for the big event.

Originally scheduled to be staged at and around Mitchell County Court House, the carnival site has now been changed to the Texas and Pacific parking lot on East First St. between Walnut and Elm Sts.

Announcement of the change in sites was made by Jeff Taylor, chairman of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce's Retail Merchants Committee which is sponsoring the big retail promotion and carnival.

Festival Shopping Days are being held in conjunction with the second annual Tumbleweed Festival here May 5 and 6. They offer special values to shoppers for 4 days — May 3 through 6.

The more than 20 local merchants participating in the gala event will also offer discount tickets for midway rides at the carnival which will be open all 4 days of the promotion.

The discount tickets will allow persons to be admitted to 30-cent and 25-cent midway rides for only 15 cents during the entire event.

One discount ticket will be given with each purchase of $1 or more.

Other features of the carnival will be booths hawking every thing from cotton candy to balloons. The Colorado City Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a [illegible] on the carnival [illegible] town tumbleweed parade.

All merchants taking part in the shopping event will have special values tagged with official "Festival Shopping Days" price tags.

Ten thousand of the sales tags are presently being delivered to all merchants taking part, Taylor reports.

A partial list of the business firms participating in Festival Shopping Days included:

Colorado Tire & Supply, Corner Drug, Frank Motor Co., Hardcastle Refrigeration, Leonard Henderson Service Station, Kelley Shoe Store, Marshall Variety Store, Pace '66' Service Station, and J. C. Penney Co.

Colorado City donned her gay decorations this week for the second annual Tumbleweed Festival.

This event was observed for the first time last year, with over 10,000 persons lining the city's main thoroughfare for the Tumbleweed parade.

There is no other plant in history which has literally "rolled" to such recognition as the once lowly tumbleweed. It is said that the tumbleweed came into this country 75 years ago from Russia.

It's scientific name is Amaranthus Graecizans, but to most, it was simply the Russian thistle. But to West Texans, it was even more simply, the tumbleweed.

This plant was originally found only in one state in America, South Dakota. It is strongly suspected that the inhabitants of South Dakota set the ball rolling, so to speak, and rolled the first tumbleweed across the state line.

The Russian invader is ingeniously and efficiently equipped to multiply, and now the so-called Russian thistle (tumbleweed) is found in an area stretching from Canada into Mexico.

But never, in all its wanderings, has the tumbleweed been so celebrated as when it rolled into Colorado City.

Floats decorated completely with its bristles have been cheered by 10,000 spectators.

A beautiful girl has been crowned in its honor and its small sharp spines have been fashioned into gorgeous holiday decorations, floral arrangements, stock for floral arrangements, a variety of wreaths and even special tumbleweed Christmas trees.

This office has only recently received word that HARRY SNYDER, Mr. Tumbleweed himself, has been discussing the possibility of the use of tumbleweeds in the oil well packing business.

Oh, is there no end to the resourcefullness of the tumbleweed?

Have you noticed lately how many of our high school students have received honors and awards in either FHA and FFA or the numerous UIL meets being scheduled?

Our students are proving more and more to be a credit to the community and according to a completely unprejudiced observer, have shown a tendency to lean toward the intelligent side.

Museum Lasting Tribute To County, City's History

By PEGGY BELVIN
Record Staff Writer

The Mitchell County Museum is the consummation of many persons' hard work to build something which will be of interest to visitors and tourists and a lasting tribute to the history of Colorado City.

The museum, located on the main floor of the American Legion Hut, is steadily gaining recognition, and today contains one of the finest collections of relics, and artifacts to be credited to a city of its size.

Harry Ratliff, chairman of the Colorado City Museum Association, pointed out in an interview some of the most impressive articles the Museum has collected.

Listed among these artifacts are a horse-drawn hearse that dates back to the year 1877. This hearse boasts german silver trimmings and hubcaps and is in excellent condition.

Dr. Harry Logsdon donated to the museum a collection of relics picked up by him on a battlefield in France when he was a captain of an ambulance company in World War I.

Also listed among the Museum's most valuable items is the entire telephone exchange of Westbrook, Texas. The exchange was in use in Westbrook for over 50 years, and was replaced only this past July. It was presented to the Museum by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

There is also a piano in the collection which was used in an early-day saloon and an old-fashioned stiff-collar starcher and ironer.

Wheels from the mule-car line which plied between the stock-yards east of town to the down-town area, and a Mexican saddle that was used in the attack on Columbus in 1916 by Pancho Villa are also included.

A surgical kit of blood-letting knives that has been in the family of Mrs. J. H. Green for over 6 generations, has been loaned to the museum. Ratliff stated that the surgical kit dates back to around 1600.

An item that has aroused much interest is the tusk of a pre-historic animal which was loaned to the museum by W. C. Berry.

The tusk was found in a gravel pit near Colorado City and is determined to be approximately 15,000 to 20,000 years old.

The museum proudly displays its collection of photographs, among which is one of the Colorado guards which were a military organization in the early days of Colorado City.

The Colorado guards, Ratliff states, were among the honor guards at the laying of the corner stone of the capitol of the State of Texas in the year of 1895.

Also listed in the Museum's collections are an oxen-yoke which was used to transport the family of J.D. Wulfjen to Colorado City from Williams County, and numerous pictures of the blizzard of 1888. One of these pictures clearly shows two locomotives stalled in the west cut of Colorado City.

The museum has a large collection of guns loaned by W. C. Berry and others. Some of the guns date back to 1861, and were used in the battle of Harper's Ferry.

At the present time the Museum is open on Wednesday afternoons and Sundays. But, Ratliff stated, during the Tumbleweed Festival the Museum will be open daily.

H. W. REYNOLDS

Seeks Treasures For New Museum

The Colorado City Historical Museum has in its collections some 400 articles collected by H. W. Reynolds, of 2134 Chestnut, Colorado City, Texas.

These articles include manos and matates, which are stones which were used to grind grain by early North American Indians. Native hand-beaten copper spear-points and numerous arrow heads found in Mitchell County are also in the collections.

Reynolds is 63 years old, has traveled over most of the United States and moved to Colorado City from Roswell, N. M. in 1959.

Collecting articles with historical value has been Reynold's hobby for the past 11 years. He has done work with the Colorado City Museum since it opened Sept. 29, 1960.

In his search for relics and artifacts, Reynolds has found some chipped-stone arrowheads and spear-points at various points in Mitchell County, and one of his most important finds was directly across the river from city dump.

Reynolds stated that some very large permanent grinding stones have been found, but he also stated that he had yet found no way of transporting them to the Museum.

After seeing most of the surrounding area around Colorado City, Reynolds states that it is his opinion that some of the old camping sites in Mitchell County show evidence of being too old to have been populated by any Indian tribes the white men may have seen. He surmised that some of them may possibly date back to the year 10,000 B. C.

The Colorado City Historical Museum, says Reynolds, is very well organized. He stated that for a city of this size, it is the "finest" he has ever visited.

Federal Constitution. Without laws and courts, the freedoms we take for granted would be meaningless.

"Nationwide observance of these important truths will be recognized as Law Day USA on May 1. This observance will consist of special programs sponsored by Mitchell County Bar Association. Public attention will be focused on the important role law has played in our nation's growth, both spiritual and material, as well as in world leadership.

"The present condition of world affairs makes it especially fitting that our people must reaffirm their faith in the moral values formalized in rules of law, and their determination to preserve the virtue thereof. This occasion is a timely one to emphasize the need for respect for law, courts and good citizenship at all levels of our nation.

"Now, therefore, we, Judge Eldon Mahon, Judge of the District Court, 32nd Judicial District of Texas; Judge Elmer Martin, County Judge of Mitchell County; Glenn R. Harold Oliver served as master of ceremonies and the invocation was given by Dr. Seth Cowan. Benson reviewed the local 1960 Jaycee year before the installation services.

LOANS—

the speaker said. A maximum of $350,000 can be loaned to any one business.

The requirements for a loan from SBA include good character, evidence of business ability, personal capital invested in the business, soundness and security enough to reasonably assure repayment and evidence that the business can itself repay the loan.

Loans will not be made by the SBA, Teddlie said, if the funds are otherwise available, to pay off credit, to affect changes in ownership, for speculation efforts, to charitable organizations, radio, television and press businesses, any sale of alcohol, gambling interests, investment companies or to encourage monopoly.

"One of the chief problems of small business today is the lack of long-term credit," Teddlie stated. The SBA attempts to solve or aid in solving that problem. It has loaned more than $1 billion since its start.

"Keeping up is a must" for small businesses today, Teddlie stated. Great advances in all fields in the last few years have made it impossible for any business man who will not change with the times and keep up to stay in business.

"Let us begin to solve this problem [illegible] through the SBA if necessary," Teddlie concluded.

ERRORS HURT LOCALS' EFFORTS

Sweetwater, Lamesa Hand Wolves 2 Defeats

All chances for a District 3-AAA baseball championship for the Colorado City Wolves vanished as both Lamesa and Sweetwater handed the locals losses in latest loop play.

Saturday in Sweetwater the Wolves committed 6 errors in the bottom of the seventh inning to give away a lead and fall to the lowly Mustangs, 7-6.

Tuesday the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes scored 5 runs in the first inning and coasted to a 7-4 victory over the Wolves in a game in Lamesa.

The losses give the Wolves a loop record of no wins and 3 defeats—1 each to the other 3 teams in the league. Snyder defeated the Wolves in the opening district encounter here in a real slugfest, 17-13, Tuesday of last week.

Fireballer Steve Hillhouse was the victim of the error barrage in the Sweetwater affair. He had gone 6 innings and allowed only 1 run (it too was unearned) and 2 hits before the seventh inning collapse.

Hillhouse had allowed the 2 hits, a single and a double, and had 3 errors committed behind him to that time. Then in the seventh, a double and a hit batter put 2 on for the Ponies with none away. Two more hits, both singles; and the 6 errors was all the Mustangs needed to overcome the 5-1 Wolf lead and win 6-5.

Roger Richards drove in the first Wolf score against Sweetwater in the second inning with a single. C-City got 3 in the third as Jimmy "Chicken" Womack and Mike Andrews singled back-to-back, Don Vest walked, Steve Houston sacrificed, Hillhouse singled, Richards walked and Jimmy Palmer hit into a fielder's choice that backfired for the Mustangs.

The other Wolf run came in the fourth as Andrews singled and was driven home by Hillhouse's single.

Womack, Andrews and Hillhouse paced the Wolf offensive efforts with 2 singles each against Sweetwater winner, Larry Hardin.

Charles Houston went to the hill for Coach Ken Kearns' charges in Lamesa and survived the first inning uprising by the Tornadoes to go 4 innings — although he took the loss. Hillhouse relieved him in the fifth.

Two doubles, 3 singles, an error and a walk brought the roof down on Houston in the first. When the smoke cleared, the Tors had sent 9 men to the plate and scored 5 runs.

Houston allowed the other 2 runs in the fourth. An error opened the inning and then a single drove in that unearned marker. Hillhouse allowed only 1 hit in his 2-frame stint of relief pitching — a single.

Colorado City got all four of their runs in the third inning as they took advantage of an error, back-to-back walks to walks to Andersw and Vest and back-to-back sngles by Houston and Hillhouse. Only 2 other Wolves ever got as far as second base the rest of the way as Tor hurler, and winner, Keithey, bore down.

Hillhouse paced the Wolf batter with 3 of their 5 hits—all were singles.

The Wolves journey to Snyder Saturday afternoon for a return engagement with the Tigers. They end heir season here at home the next week with a Tuesday date against Sweetwater's Mustangs and a Saturday afternoon re-match with the Tornadoes of Lamesa.

Five Bowling Trophies to Lovine Colson

Other winners included sportsmanship award, Velma Pond; perfect attendance, Kay Redman, Sheridan Myers and Billie Ruffin; first place team awards went to the Drummond-Borden team of Lymoin Gipson, captain, Pond, Bodie Womack and Betty Edwards.

Mrs. John Drummond accepted the sponsor's trophy for the top finishing team. All trophies and awards were presented by Marie McDonald and Dollie Ruth Montgomery, league president.

Honorable mention went to Walker Grocery team, second place; Morgan Grocery team, third place; Lillian Thomas, second high average; Gipson, third high average; Womack, second high game; Betty Edwards, third high game; Thomas, second high series; and Ruffin, third high series.

Good Catches Reported at Lake C-City

Fishermen at Lake View Camp on Lake Colorado City pulled in quite a few big yellow and chanel cat fish last week.

The largest catch reported was a 13-pound yellow cat hooked on a trot line by John P. Dooley of Odessa. The line was baited with water dogs.

Other catches reported at the camp during the week included:

The 4-pound chanel cat by O. D. Hill of Colorado City.

An 8-pound yellow cat and 4 3-pound chanel cat by 2 more local residents, Red Davenport and Bill Winnett. Bait was water dogs on trot line.

Fifteen chanel cat, weighing from 1 to 4 pounds, were caught by Cotter C. Hiett of Midland on a trotline using large minnows and water dogs.

Two 4-pound large mouth bass, 2 3-pound large mouth bass and 1 3-pound chanel cat were reeled in by O. J. Green of Colorado City using minnows on a rod and reel.

Lake View Camp owner Earl R. Richardson hooked a 10-pound yellow cat, 5- 4-pound yellow cat and a 3-pound bass during the same time. He used large minnows and water dogs on a trot line.

Jerry McKay Qualifies for State Meet

Jerry McKay broke the regional broad jump record in the regional meet in Odessa Saturday.

McKay and Ken Northcutt were the only Colorado City Wolf track team members to qualify for the meet.

McKay spanned 22-3⅛ in the broad jump for a new record, first place in the event in the meet and a spot in the state AAA track meet in Austin.

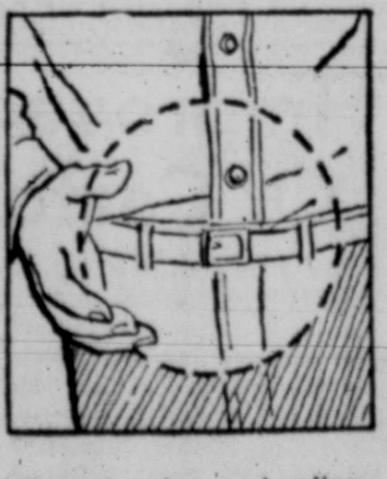
McKay also qualified for the state meet in the high jump with a 6-2 3/4 leap. Although this was better than the old record of 6-1, McKay finished second in the event.

He placed fourth in the high hurdles with a 15.3.

Northcutt, who holds the school record in the 440-yard run, finished third in the regional in that event in a time of 49.3 — and behind Ted Nelson's of Andrews, new national record in the event of 46.5.

Northcutt was sixth in the 220-yard run with a 22.3.

Bowling Tips —FROM— MARK LANES



Correct grip on bowling ball is similar to handshake

Use Proper Grip To Control Ball

Initial bowling action is grasping the ball and much of the success or mediocrity of your game depends on a proper grip.

Essentially, a proper grip resembles a handshake (see sketch). The hand is extended forward, fingers vertical on the side, thumb on top. This is the proper position of thumb and fingers in gripping the ball.

In actually taking hold of the ball, fingers are on the side of the ball, and the thumb, hidden somewhat by insertion in the hole, still is in the same relative position as in the handshake.

If you start bowling with a poor grip, your skill stands little chance of improvement even though you master other fundamentals of the game.

Editorially Speaking

Maybe, We'll Learn To Say, "Thanks"

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman's testimony before the House Agriculture Committee recently on the farm cost-price squeeze deserves to be more widely reported than it was by most of the city press.

Mr. Freeman has repeatedly emphasized that a correct understanding of farm problems must precede any sound solution of those problems. He believes that when all the facts are understood farmers will receive praise rather than abuse from consumers.

His testimony is timely for the whole nation and Colorado City, in particular, because half of our economy here is tied directly to agriculture. And it is about time, although woefully late, that those of us who are close to the agriculture problem make a move for understanding and coordinated effort toward solving basic farm problems . . . and counter the adverse publicity which comes from the big city press and misinformed segments.

The average citizen has a distorted image of agriculture and the farmer," Mr. Freeman said. "He does not understand agriculture's contribution to his own welfare and standard of living.

"He recognizes, in short, neither agriculture's success nor its distress. Until this understanding gap is closed, farmers will be unable to make their full contribution to national prosperity, national security and world peace."

Since 1947-49 farmers' share of each dollar spent by consumers for food has declined by 13 per cent, but the spread between what the farmer receives and the consumer pays has increased by 45 per cent.

Department of Agriculture figures show the average consumer spent 27 cents out of each dollar earned in 1947 for food. Last year he spent only 20 cents. Food still is the biggest bargain in America.

"In the past two decades," Mr. Freeman said, "the average farmer has tripled his output per hour of work. Nothing like this has ever been known in the world before. It is one of the significant and important breakthroughs of human history.

"The truth is, "Mr. Freeman said, "farmers have been subsidizing consumers rather than the other way round. Because farmers have been subsidizing the rest of the economy . . . farm income has steadily declined.

"The incomes of our farm families are lower relative to the rest of our economy than at anytime since the 1930s. Farm net income has dropped about one-fifth while for the rest of the nation it has increased by about two-fifths in the past 10 years."

The food that can be purchased with wages for one hour's work in America would take four hours of work in Russia. The average American farmer feeds himself and 25 others. In Russia four people on farms feed themselves and only six others in cities.

"We need to tell—and retell—that story," Mr. Freeman said.

The Secretary of Agriculture is right. We need to get the facts ourselves, then tell and retell the story.

And while we are in this effort, we might begin to understand, also, that a Mitchell County farmer's income portion from a $3 cotton shirt (the cotton he produced to go into the clothing) is less than 30 cents. So he's not getting rich on subsidy . . . and his former job certainly isn't promoting high retail prices.

Ugh, But Who's To Blame But The Men

To the Chinese who, by their own figuring, are about 27,000 years ahead of us, this is the Year of the Bull, and we have their word for it that 4659 (1961 to you) will be a great improvement over the Year of the Rat just ended.

But we're not so sure. For those of us past thirties it's more likely to be the Year of the Tight Belt. Having stopped playing football (even touchball) long ago in order to sit on his duff and make a living, the Year of the Bull will find the thickening American on that crash diet — or banished from the masculine world of slender-waisted jackets and tapered slacks.

The psychologists explain that we are living in a youth-conscious world now-a-days, and since slimness is the most obvious and universal outward characteristic of youth, these are the lines the tailors are following. To be blunt, we grown-up boys are being told that to belong, we have to be slim, in other words, get with it — or find our own barrel.

A man of forty may improve his outlook, when he puts on clothing styled for a fellow half his age. Psychologically he might escape from the realization that much of his life span is behind him.

What most of us can't escape from, however, is the ever-present fact of how much of us is in front.

So what will it be, men? Indian clubs? The garden spade? Nine hundred calories a day? Or a surplus Army tent?

Ads of Retailers Must Be Different

By MADGE BELL
Record Staff Writer

Advertising has been defined as the art of "getting a unique selling proposition into the heads of the most people at the lowest possible cost."

For the retailer, this means that in some way he must be different from his competition.

The neighborhood grocer can not effectively copy the super-market in advertising approach. The two-man garage can not compete for auto repair business by making the same claims used by the large dealer-garage.

Smaller firms always have some advantages on which to concentrate advertising. For the small retailer the outstanding advantage may be convenience; it may be credit; it may be a quality-price advantage on certain specialities.

Unique advantages may be effectively advertised at comparatively small cost. For if consumers can benefit from the unique condition, they will see and read an advertisement of any size.

Of course, advertising must be repeated consistently to attain full effectiveness. But the size of each insertion may be governed by the volume of business expected.

In relation to investment and overhead, the small retailer may get more from his advertising dollar than the large company.

But the small retailer can not afford waste or experimentation. His proven method of getting the most sales at minimum cost is regular insertions in his local newspaper. Only the newspaper gives the small firm a chance to tell the whole community about unique advantages regardless of the amount spent on each advertisement.

76 TO 72 FINAL VOTE

House Surprises Many by Passing General Sales Tax

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

House members astonished many observers by giving, for the first time in recent memory, a favorable vote to a general sales tax.

A 2 per cent retail sales tax by Rep. Charles N. Wilson of Trinity was approved 75-to-65, on second reading and 76-to-62 on final passage. It is now in the hands of the Senate.

Food, feed, farm machinery, seed, fertilizer, medicine and medical needs are exempt from the bill. Its tax yield is variously estimated at from $127,000,000 to $140,000,000 a year.

Before the bill was given preliminary passage, Wilson staved off efforts of sales tax opponents to put on amendments to make the bill also include a corporation income tax, graduated income tax and graduated oil revenue tax.

Governor Daniel announced his opposition to the Wilson bill before it came up on the House floor. After the House vote, the governor refused to say whether he would veto the measure if it should be finally passed by both Houses.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights AND Sidelights

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

TEACHER PAY—A teacher pay raise plan designed to offer more incentive for heads of families and career teachers has been proposed by Rep. Jack Woods of Waco.

Woods' bill would provide a lower raise in the basic minimum than is recommended by the Texas State Teachers Association, but it would offer higher increments (increases for experience) than TSTA asks.

Woods' bill would provide an across-the-board raise of only $234 a year compared to TSTA's $810. But under the Woods bill, a teacher with 10 years' experience would make $4,950 a year compared to $4,554 under the TSTA schedule. Woods bill would also make special provision for teachers, either men or women, responsible for the support of a household.

STIRS FUSS — A bill to make the University of Houston part of the state-supported college system easily won its first vote on the floor of the House.

But in the Senate determined opponents filibustered to prevent the bill's coming to a vote.

House vote was 84-to-34 for the bill.

In the Senate, Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center spearheaded the opposition with extended remarks. He protested the state could not take on another $10,000,000 a year for the University of Houston when the state treasury already had a deficit.

Lane was assisted by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville who declared the state should improve the quality of existing state colleges before taking on any more. To help fill up time, Hudson read recipes from a French cookbook.

BILL VOTED — Senate finally passed a bill that would make it easier for the Carling Brewery to build a new $20,000,000 plant in Tarrant County.

Highly controversial, the bill has brought a pitched battle between "wet" and "dry" forces. All Tarrant County House members voted for the bill, but Fort Worth's senator, Doyle Willis did the opposition.

TEXAS AGRICULTURE

Improved Variety Of Castorbean Out

By JOHN C. WHITE
Agriculture Commissioner

A new improved castorbean adapted for production in irrigated areas such as the High Plains of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico has been released cooperatively by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new variety is named Hale and is a dwarf-internode which yields well and has potential as a male parent in hybrid combinations because its hybrid offspring also yield well. Hale is resistant to bacterial leaf spot and Alternaria leaf spot.

A limited amount of Hale seed is available to seed producers for planting this year but seed for farmers will not be available until 1962.

Hale has a better root system than many other castorbean varieties. However, if it is grown under conditions of too much nitrogen and excessive soil moisture, its stems tend to be weak. Weak stems, coupled with heavy fruit set and high winds before harvest can cause lodging.

Hale matures about one week later than Baker 296, the leading commercial variety on the High Plains, and about one week earlier than [illegible] Hale produced as much as [illegible] pounds of beans per acre in 1960 on-the-farm trials on the High Plains of Texas. In experimental plots in the same area, Hale averaged 2,479 pounds per acre, compared with 2,057 pounds per acre for Baker 296 and 2,189 for Dawn.

Plants are well adapted to mechanical harvesting because the first fruiting spike is well above ground level and fruiting branches are erect. Seed capsules of Hale are non-shattering and are easily removed from the dry plants after frost by mechanical harvesters.

Seed weight, size, and quality are acceptable for planting and for crushing. Seed hulling and cleaning are easy, and nearly all foreign material separates from the seed. Oil content averages 51 percent, one or two percent more than in available dwarf internode varieties.

Hale has performed well in irrigation tests in the Southern Great Plains region of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico. It has some drought tolerance but is not generally recommended for dryland planting because satisfactory yields cannot be obtained consistently. And because of possible [illegible] damage to the seed capsules, it is not recommended for areas of high rainfall.

TAYLOR - MADE

By RICK TAYLOR

The scene is again changing and the younger lads of the community are again turning their eyes, hopes, energy and talents toward Little League baseball.

So let's take a look at Little League baseball.

Now this isn't a look that can be found in the pamplets put out by the parent national organization and it isn't a look that can be found from any local official here in Colorado City that devotes his time, money and efforts to the project.

Little League is for the BOYS and no one or nothing else.

IT IS A decidated effort by far too few civic-minded gentlemen to better prepare boys for the game of life. And that is all it is.

It's not for the fans, if it were, each would have to pay to see the games to financially support the project.

It's not for the enjoyment of any umpire — that's for darn sure. It takes a real MAN to stand out there and listen to the catcalls from the stands, to take the personal abuse from some individuals and spent the time — all for nothing more than the satisfaction there he is helping the younger boys of his community.

It's not for parents who only use it as a "baby sitter" to give them freedom.

This list is endless, but now let's see what Little League IS now that we have discussed the negative first.

LITTLE LEAGUE gives ANY (and I stress the word any) boy up to 12 years of age the chance to belong and compete with an outstanding organization.

He has his uniform and especially his cap (which most only take off when they sleep) to identify him with a group. Thus few ever feel a need of that cigarette, black leather jacket or fancy haircut to belong to a group.

It gives leaders a proving ground. Every team must have a leader and it's not hard to find the ones with the ability for leadership in the heat of battle on the baseball diamond.

It teaches a boy that sometimes he must lose and still live and associate with the group which defeated him. That is what is real sportsmanship.

It teaches him that he too is important — for at 1 time or another, in a baseball game each individual will be faced with a crisis where his performance determines the fate of his entire team.

The Little Leaguers have learned all the lessons that the project teaches — just take a close look for yourself and see.

BUT, HAVE we, the everage citizen, learned the lesson that the Little Leaguers teach 5 nights a week?.

The next time we go to a Little League game and start finding fault — let's take a look at ourselves and see if we can measure up to the sportsmanship, honesty, cooperation, tolerance and true Christian spirit displayed by the boys on the field.

Because no program, no matter how successful, can ever take the place of the influence we, the fans in the stands, will have on the boys in their future years.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Department Won't Solve Cities' Woes

Editor's note: The Shinnery Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek lets international problems slide this week and discusses city affairs.

Dear editor:

According to a news article I found squeezed in between news about all the whooping and hollering and threatening to shoot now going on in the world, President Kennedy, in between international crises, has asked Congress to create a new department of the government to be known as the Department of Urban Affairs, with cabinet rank.

Its purpose is to help cities deal with their growing problems, it was announced, sort of like the Department of Agriculture has been helping us farmers for years.

As I understand it, big cities are all in favor of this new Department, but I would like to give them just one word of advice, with the understanding of course that when somebody offers one word of advice it's usually a lot of words.

Now it's true that cities have a lot of problems and they're growing more numerous and probably worse all the time and certainly something ought to be done about it and if Abilene and New York can't handle their problems, it seems natural, if unplanned by the founding fathers, for them to turn to Washington.

But here's what I was thinking: these big cities shouldn't get their hopes up too high. I mean, after they get a Department of Urban Affairs set up and going strong, they shouldn't give a sign of relief and figure they've got smooth sailing.

The Department of Agriculture has been working on us farmers' problems for years and so far we've managed to stay at least fifteen problems ahead. I don't know where we'd be without the Department of Agriculture, no doubt in much worse shape except for one or two periods in there, but as a man from a group with some experience with a special Department in Washington, I'd like to suggest to the big cities that the problems won't go away as soon as their Urban Department is created. It may be years before their Department can solve their problems. Say two million.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The West rockets ahead with more and more energy from natural gas

Ten-Year Population Growth Figures from U.S. Census, 1950 and 1960.

Growth and expansion continue to be the two big activities in the West—both for the people who live and work and play in this booming region, and for El Paso Natural Gas Company which supplies natural gas to so many of them for so many purposes.

Much of the story in detail is in the Company's Annual Report for 1960, just out.

The growth part of the story for El Paso, in a sentence:

In 1960, El Paso furnished customers in 11 Western states more than 1¼ trillion cubic feet of gas—an all-time record and over four times as much as was delivered just a decade ago.

The growth story in the 11 states is a climb in population to a total of 35,718,636 (1960 census), up 33.9 per cent in the past 10 years and still rocketing.

As for expansion—

Demand for El Paso's services and products by long-time customers keeps increasing as families and communities and businesses grow. Then add the millions of new people, more new businesses and all their needs. Add, too, the ever-increasing realization by everyone of the economy and conveniences of gas as a source of dependable energy for a multitude of uses.

And El Paso is expanding to meet this need. To supply its customers—including such growth areas as California—it has developed the most diversified gas supply of any company in the nation. Today, El Paso's pipelines are connected with the principal producing areas of the West and Southwest, in addition to vast reserves in Canada.

The Company's Annual Report reviews a number of important projects recently completed, and reports progress on others from Canada to the Mexican border.

For copies of El Paso's 1960 Annual Report write to: El Paso Natural Gas Company, El Paso, Texas

TRUCK ROUNDUP

Western star Roy Rogers spreads the good word for your local dealer! "Right now he's making it easier than ever to own America's easiest riding truck. That's Chevy — the truck that saves you plenty with its special brand of Independent Front Suspension."

Just pick the model that fits your job and you can be sure you're putting your truck dollars where they'll do the most good. You'll get a super-efficient power to capacity ratio, a truck that's Sturdi-Bilt clear through, a king-size cab to keep your driver happy. And savings that just naturally go along with Chevrolet's I.F.S. ride.

You save on maintenance costs. I.F.S. lengthens truck life and protects cargoes by soaking up as much as 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration. Your truck keeps working for extra thousands of miles! How in the world can you go wrong! Especially now—during truck roundup time!

Chevy's hefty Jobmaster 6, standard in Series 60 middleweights, is known far and wide for its fuel-saving performance.

CHEVROLET IFS TRUCKS

Chevy's famous Thriftmaster 6 does the saving in this Fleetside model. It's the most highly respected truck 6 ever put under a hood. It's best known for economy and dependability—for pulling more loads over the years than any other truck engine. The 135-horsepower 235-cu.-in. Thriftmaster's standard in all Chevy pickups.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE THIRD HOUSE

Hello, John. How in the world are you?

I haven't seen you since the last session of the legislature. You are looking fine. John— and how are the folks back home? Come with me, and I will buy you a cup of coffee.

Listen, John. I am in a jam and as you are 1 of the best friends I have, I am depending on you to help me out.

As you no doubt know, there is a movement on foot to slap more taxes on the big corporations and if there is any one thing the corporations don't want, it's more taxes.

Now, John, a penny won't buy anything any way, so a penny or 2 tax on a retail sale will not amount to much and they will not miss it. So I want you to vote in favor of a sales tax.

When he decides John will vote right, he says, "Hey, waiter, bring John another cup of coffee."

And the little chicks go "cheep, cheep, cheep."

"Sales of E and H savings bonds in Texas in March totaled $12,574,391, which represents approximately 7-½% increase over March of 1960," according to J. C. Pritchett chairman of Mitchell County Savings Bonds Committee. "Sales in Mitchell County totaled $54,027 through the month of March, which represents 20 per cent of the 1961 goal of $165,100,000.00," continued Pritchett.

"Every American citizen can have a real share-in-America by participating in the savings bonds program and investing a part of income in the safest investment in the world. More and more, Americans are realizing that U. S. Savings Bonds contribute to national economic stability, personal security, and world peace," he concluded.

2 TO STATE CONTEST

3 Loraine Students UIL Meet Winners

LORAINE — Three Loraine High School students placed in the Region VIII Interscholastic League Meet in Odessa Saturday.

Sandra Cushing won first in typewriting, Beth Shepherd placed second in shorthand and Ben Clopton placed third in slide rule competition.

Miss Cushing, a junior student, typed a perfect paper in the typewriting event to pace all contestants in that division. She was 1 of the representatives from 22 schools entered in the event.

She will compete in the state finals in Austin Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6.

Miss Shepherd's second place in shorthand also won her a spot in the state contest in Austin. She is also a junior student.

Clopton's third place finish in slide rule gained him an alternate spot in the state meet. He will compete if either of the first 2 finishers in the regional meet cannot.

Mrs. Iris Preston is the teacher of the girls and Pat Newbrough was Clopton's coach for the contest.

Loraine superintendent J.B. Cushing praised the excellent showing made by the 3 students in the contest and complimented their 2 teachers for their work in training them. Both of the girls are first-year students in the course in which they won.

ELECTRIC CO-OP MEMBERS...

A BILLION DOLLAR APPLIANCE MARKET

The member-owners of the electric cooperatives of the nation represent a fabulous market for electric appliances. Allowing two feet in depth for each refrigerator that will be purchased by electric cooperative members this year the above parade would be 114 miles long.

Measured in the same way, the electric ranges purchased this year by the electric cooperative members would make a parade more than 200 miles long.

Electric cooperative members will spend one billion dollars this year with main street merchants for electric appliances and equipment.

This good business was created by the electric cooperatives. Yes, the electric cooperatives have been good for everybody.
