

THE CRANE SEZ
The seniors are now thinking about giving the students of C. S. something worthwhile to take their mind in. THE senior day is just about to go into its last stages of development!

Davis, Collins Chosen Best All-Around Boy And Girl of Crane High

As a result of the election of 'best all around boy and girl' of Crane High School, last Monday, March 17, Baker Davis and Doris Collins came out on top as leading candidates. Each class chose two candidates, a boy and a girl, to be voted on for the best all around boy and girl whose pictures will be in the annual. The senior representatives were Baker Davis and Helen White; junior, Merwyn McCully and Doris Collins; sophomore, Paul Simon and Coylene Pope; freshman, Bobby Don Smith and Louise Newman; and the eighth grade class selected Merwyn McCully and Louise Pettit, a freshman to be their candidates. The election of representatives took place the second Wednesday in class meetings.

Honor Roll for Fourth Six Weeks Headed by Jean Garrett, Senior

Jean Garrett, Senior, again leads the honor roll for the fourth six weeks with an average of 94.6. Helen Hickey was second with 93.8.

As compared to the honor roll of the first six weeks, the grade points for this time were somewhat lower.

The average for all students with 90 or above on all subjects are as follows:

Table listing Honor Roll students by grade level: SENIORS (Jean Garrett 94.6, Helen Hickey 93.8, Helen White 92.8), JUNIORS (Tipton Murrell 93.6), FRESHMEN (Mary Grimes 93.6, Lanelle Murrell 93.2), and SOPHOMORES (Mary Evans 30, Barbara Barber 28). Includes a note about the four highest ranking students in grade points for each class.

Let's hope these juniors have more money than it appears, if that is all they have the Prom may be barn dance style. (IF they can find someone's barn to borrow). HA!

Some of the dashing college boys arrived over this week end. They, they are sophisticated!

Flu Epidemic Causes Many Absences In CHS
The flu epidemic struck Crane and did many other towns in Texas. Many schools were forced to close for a certain period at Crane schools managed to keep going.

English Classes' Fancy Turns To Recordings
The English classes of Miss Nelson are going around spouting poetry like great actors and actresses. Nearly all of the students are buying, 'In the words of the immortal bard, In the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love,' etc., etc. Every one of the students of the higher grades has noticed that the English students are a lot more, shall we say, educated in the way of words. Even some of the teachers talk about the way the scholarly pupils go about spouting poetry, and they are very puzzled, that is the first time that any teacher has said or implied that they couldn't understand a situation.

Girl Scouts Have Party
The Girl Scouts of Crane, including the Brownies, Intermediates and Seniors, had a Mother's Daughter Banquet on Thursday, March 13. The Community Hall was decorated in green and white. Each troop contributed to the program. The menu was baked beans, potato salad, barbecue, iced tea, and for dessert, cherry cobbler with whipped cream. There were 122 present. There were yellow cup favors.

Music Of All Kinds And Music To Spare

Music today. Music yesterday, and music tomorrow. The world gets tired of love stories, fights, politics and wars, but there is one thing that people have never ceased loving and that is music. It is a stimulation for different moods, and can help you through difficulties unknown.

Probably music is getting more recognition this century than ever before. There are musical shows, musical comedies, and an abundance of musical entertainment.

Many of us unconsciously go around singing, whistling, or humming a tune most of the time. Usually it is our favorite song. Just mentioning a few favorites of different people is interesting to know.

Helen White: Smoke Gets In Your Eyes.

Helen Hickey: The Man I Love.

Donna Miller: The Very Thought of You.

Wilma Earp: I Don't Know Why.

Janelle Glenn: Night and Day.

Billie Hardesty: And Let The Rest Of The World Go By.

Mr. Patterson: Sunny Side of The Street.

Wallace Coker: Star Dust.

Bobby Don Smith: Sentimental Journey.

J. L. Pettit: Night and Day.

Pat McLaurin: For Sentimental Reasons.

Faye Ellen Jourden: Oh, But I Do.

Lanelle Murrell: Oh, What It Seemed To Be.

Artie Fern Henderson: Star Dust.

Speck Pearce Suffers Broken Collar Bone

The sixth period P. E. class had an accident last Thursday when Elmo Rust fell on Speck Pearce, causing Speck to break his collar bone. They were playing football at the football field.

The fourth period class has been playing football the past week. They have just had one accident this year when Billy John Shaffer got his lip cut and had to have four stitches taken.

No accidents have been reported in any of the other P. E. classes.

Board of Education Strikes Again! Ouch!

Everyone knows what the Board of Education is; in fact, everyone knows what both Boards of Education are; and Mrs. Miller is no exception. But when Mr. Patterson sent Ray Knox into the office on Wednesday, Feb. 12, to request the presence of the Board of Education at the eighth grade class meeting, Mrs. Miller was at a loss as to which Board to send, as both Boards were present in the office at the time.

Mrs. Miller pondered: suppose some crucial or striking problem had arisen which Mr. Patterson felt could only be solved by the Board. She finally decided that the problem was more striking than crucial, so she sent the old wooden board.

Visitor Has Wreck

Mr. J. Dean, representing the American Desk Mfg. Co. of Temple, Texas, drove up to the Crane School's main office Wednesday, March 19, with the right side of his car a total wreck.

Mr. Dean was run into by an Oil Transport truck on the other side of Odessa.

Mr. Dean resides in Troy, Texas.

The Transport Co. will pay for the damage done to Mr. Dean's Pontiac.

Brice Follows Broom 955 Miles in 5 Years

Do you ever think about who cleans up the school floors when you throw paper on them or do you just think 'Well, someone is paid to clean it up'?

Mr. Brice, the high school janitor, follows a broom a mile and a half a day, eight miles a week, or 180 miles a semester. He has covered approximately 955 miles since he has been here for the past five years. That is equivalent to sweeping a path three feet wide all the way to Los Angeles.

So, come on, kids, let's think about who pushes that broom when we carelessly throw paper on the floor because some of these days we might find ourselves right there behind that broom.

Too Much Gum, Chum; Chawin' Too Annoyin'

Well, well, it seems everyone is being slapped in the detention hall lately. Wonder what the reason is? Could it be because there is too much gum-chewing going on? Yes, it could and it is. It seems that the kids have been warned about it before but never took heed to it, so the faculty decided to really put a stop to it. After looking into the matter further, we found that a person is to write a thousand word theme if he is called down so many times.

Many of these students are going to be ripped because as crazy as they are about gum, they don't let anyone or anything stand in their way. Ah, well, so goes life. Everyone has his ups and downs, but you had better watch that gum chewing, it would be pretty bad if you got kicked out of school just because you insisted on chewing gum!

'The Crane' Has Existed Twenty Years, 1927-1947—Enters Fourth Contest

In the above picture is the 1946-1947 Journalism Staff composed of fourteen seniors. Two of the seniors that had experience in journalism the previous year were elected the editors of this paper of 1946-1947.

All the Crane copy has already been sent in for this year's contest in the high school newspapers. Crane entered class 'C' with Grandfalls, Kermit, Happy, Iraan, and other high school 'C' newspapers. In a contest sponsored by the Interscholastic League in 1941, The Crane won the title of one of the ten best high school papers in the state.

The first issue of the Crane paper appeared in 1927. The first contest that it entered was in October of 1933. In 1935-36, it won state as the highest ranking newspaper in its class.

The results of this year's contest will be announced on April 1. The high school papers that win a place are entitled to send two delegates to Austin, Texas, with all their expenses paid in order to attend a meeting held by press clubs.

Myra Sue Harrold, Joan Ware and Martha Cook, students of Mrs. Cloud's fifth grade, appeared on a 15-minute radio program over Station KOSA in Odessa, Texas, March 9.

Mura Sue Harrold told the story of 'The Tiny Woman.' Joan Ware gave 'Three Billy Goats Gruff,' and Martha told 'Lost In The Woods.'

Be sure to listen every Wednesday over KOSA from 6 until 6:15, for this will be a regular feature of the station.

Students Join 40-50 Clubs As They Advance

Upon looking over the latest developments in the 40-50 Club, we find that several new members have been added to each club. As we have said, the only requirement to become a member of the 40 Club and the 50 Club is to type 40 or 50 words respectively on a one-minute test.

The roll of the 40 club consists of Melba Howell, Lorene Davenport, Homer Clements, Billy Kelton, Doris Collins, Don Kilgore, Lou Smith, Myron Holcomb, Bobby Allen, Bill Marlowe, Helen White, Joanne Randel, Joan Earl, Corky Harris, Helen Hickey and Kathrin Cantrell.

A Total of 2,000 Slam Door In Richard's Face

As you all know, Richard (the song, that is) was voted to be put off the air Monday, March 17. A total of 2,000 slammed the door on Richard, while 1884 were trying to help Richard open the door. The door slammed shut, so off the air went Richard, except on Saturday.

The reason Richard was being voted on was because many radio stations put Richard off the air and people began to write to 'Make-Believe Ball Room' at KECK and ask that Richard be put off the air there also.

THE CRANE'S CREED

THE CRANE PROMISES:

To be strong that nothing can disturb his peace of mind.
 To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person he meets; to make all his friends feel that there is something in them; to look at the sunny side of everything and make his optimism come true.

To think only of the best; to work only for the best, and to expect only the best.

To be as enthusiastic about the success of others as his own; to forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

To give so much more time to the improvement of himself that he has no time to criticize others; and to be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit troubles.

YOU ARE A CRANE!

CAN CHEATERS WIN?

Texas University reveals that two-thirds of its students cheat and use various methods of getting work from someone else on their examinations. We have no definite proof that this is true of high school, but more than likely it is.

Often the knowledge of a statement like this one causes a question to enter our minds. "Who is the winner when a student cheats?" It might not be important who wins at the time the cheating takes place, but sooner or later we all have to admit that it will be.

To barely get by is the only aim that a lot of us have and we figure that the easiest way to get by is the best. Anyone who plans for a comfortable and promising future should discard this plan as a bad try.

Suppose you were to be asked by your employer (and most of us will face employers some day) if you were among that group who didn't do his own work. If your job depended on it and you knew it now, there might be less cheaters.

In reality, we cheat ourselves of knowledge that might be useful to us later on, when we copy from someone else. Therefore the student who cheats on his school work is a loser. And remember, losers are already dead.

As the "Crane" features Barbara Mason, Homer Cleve, Artie Henderson, and Jo Ann Earle are ardent followers of Aunt Sophie's wise and experienced remarks.

23 Spellers Compete In Herald Post Contest

The El Paso Herald Post of El Paso, Texas, is sponsoring a spelling contest for all the sixth and seventh grades of the schools of the southwest.

The contest will be broadcast over the radio May 2 of this year from the auditorium of the El Paso High School.

The eliminations will take place some time in March, and if a girl wins, Mrs. Browning will take her to El Paso, but if a boy wins, Mr. Alderidge will accompany him to the contest.

There will be only one contest. Some of the advantages of an education.

Some people have stated that they don't think a person should extend his education at all, but have they stopped to think that the people with the education are going to get the best jobs in the future; that even to get a job digging ditches, the man with the college education is going to have the jump on the fellow with just a high school education. The owners of the different companies used to resent the man with the college education because the owner thought that the education was a lot of baloney. But in later years the companies have found that the man with the education could do his work with far more skill and ability than the man who made fun of the college education, and the man that scoffed at the thought of finishing his education.

In the last few war years men hastened the end of the war by studying science, and harnessing the atom. They couldn't have done that without an education. You will have to admit that in this instance an education not only helped science, but saved lives as well. Maybe when you go to college and are working in a science lab, you will benefit yourself and humanity as well.

An education is going to be the best and about the only way to live. The man that knows will be the man that gets ahead.

A Square Deal From Sound Advice
 People all over the world have learned, from day to day, about life by experience. We all learn sooner or later that the only way to get a square deal from everyone is to always give with a square deal.

Things can be done the easy way or the hard way. Some things we don't think about and just do them on the urge, and we learn better by the hard way. We can tell people what to do and how to do it for a little while, but it will get old and soon they won't listen, maybe listen but won't pay attention to what we say.

Some times try listening to advice—good sound advice—and see what happens, you might be surprised at the results.

Mexican Dinner Given Gamma Gamma Society
 Members of the Gamma Gamma Teachers' Sorority were entertained with a Mexican dinner at the home of Mrs. L. L. Martin Tuesday, March 4, at 7 p. m.

The house was attractively decorated with ivy and pansies, and the table was centered with a Mexican designed centerpiece.

A delicious Mexican dinner was served to Meses. Laura Barber, J. L. Browning and Misses Clo Dossey, Mary Nelson and Jeannie Stewart.

Hostesses were Mrs. L. L. Martin and Mrs. Pearl Pittman.

'Bugology' Students Study Plant Life
 Well, well, wonder what our little "Bugology" students are up to now? Could it be that they are taking up botany? Yes, that is right, a thorough study of plant life.

It seems that most of the students found the human body a more interesting specimen, but much more complicated than that of plants.

If one could get as interested in things as Mrs. Hughes' biology students, then teachers would never have any trouble with students. That is, not too much, anyway.

The Seniors Present

Chester Pettit

"Everybody's friend" is the way to describe Chester Pettit. His laughing and joking make him the life of a party and his wit is widely known to all.

Chester is a famous athlete around Crane, having lettered in both football and basketball for three years. He was captain of the football team and high point man for the past basketball season.

"Chaney" has brown eyes and hair that is black what time it isn't red, and 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 140 lbs. He was born in Crockett County Jan. 3, 1929, and moved to Crane when he was five years old. Chester is one of those fortunate (?) individuals who has gone to school all the time in Crane.

This happy senior is an ardent lover of music and can usually be heard singing. His all-time favorite song is "I'll See You In My Dreams" and he likes that snappy new tune, "Managua." He said his favorite movie stars are Peter Lorre and the Three Stooges, and I guess they are. Among his pet peevs is someone who can't take a joke.

When asked what he planned to do after graduation, Chester replied, "Retire and draw old age pension."

AUNT SOPHIE
 Dear Sophie:
 Every time I go to town several boys follow me down the street. Wonder why?
 Dum, R. Jusconceited.
 Dear Miss D.:
 Try using less Foo-ll-ooowww Me, and more Go Away.
 Auntie.

Dear Aunt Sophie:
 Is it nice to let boys kiss you goodnight?
 Innocent.

Dear Sucker:
 No. But it sure is fun!
 Aunt Sophie.

Seniors Present
 One of the most attractive seniors in the form of Artie Henderson is to be presented in this issue.

Fern, as she prefers to be called, was born in Aspermont, Texas, 18 years ago when September rolls around. She has lived in Crane, off and on, since she was five years old.

Chocolate pie might or might not have added any inches to her five feet eight inch height, but she claims it as one of her favorites. Speaking of favorites, Fern is quite fond of boys of medium height with dark complexion and brown eyes who live right across the alley from her. Yep, you guessed him—Earnest Mansell. "Stardust" is her song. One of her main interests is flying, and she has her student's license which indicates that she has soloed.

At first Fern wouldn't say what she dislikes, but finally admitted that she doesn't like people who talk about people when they don't know what they are talking about.

She was on the student council in the eighth grade, was president of her junior and sophomore classes, and played volleyball in '45 and '46 on the A team.

It must be a secret because she wouldn't divulge her plans for the future.

Pat McLaurin
 Pat McLaurin, our TALL basketball star with the coal black hair and the snapping black eyes, is a favorite with everyone. He has a friendly smile and a snappy line which make him so much fun to be around.

Pat was born in Ranger, Texas, on April 9, 1929, but he has spent all of his school years here in Crane.

"Shanks," as he is commonly known, is an outstanding figure on the basketball court and will soon begin action on the tennis court. He is senior representative for the Student Council.

Like most humans, Pat likes basketball, good football games, blondes and food. His favorite movie stars are Lana Turner and Gary Cooper, and he likes all kinds of music, but he thinks "Dark-Town Poker Club" is a really classy song.

The main thing he dislikes is stuck-up girls. (He really said that English IV was his pet peeve, but we promised not to print that.)

Pat plans to enter Texas Tech after graduation.

A Parade In Songs
 'You'll Always Be the One I Love,' 'Mary' said to 'Bill,' but 'Bill' said 'Linda' is the 'Girl of My Dreams.' So 'Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair' went on a 'Sentimental Journey' 'For Sentimental Reasons' to 'San Fernando Valley' with a 'Worried Mind.'

When she left she said, 'Be Honest With Me,' and give me 'One More Tomorrow' with you, but he said 'You Always Hurt The One You Love,' and that 'It Makes No Difference Now,' because 'Smoke Gets In Your Eyes' when you don't think of me 'Once In A While.'

'Mary' said 'I'd Do It All Over Again,' and 'I'll See You In My Dreams' when 'There's a New Moon Over My Shoulder.' Don't you know 'You Can't Break the Chains of Love?' 'Honey' if you still like 'Linda' 'Don't Think of Me.'

'Open the Door, Richard' cause 'I'll Be Coming Around The Mountain' 'When The Moon Is High.'

THE CRANE

BOOK NOOK

DEBORAH

By Marian Castle

(Reviewed by Helen Hickey)
 A touching story is presented in the form of a novel that tells about a little ordinary farm girl who, unlike her parents, had high hopes and ambitions for the future.

Deborah Seerlie was pretty and attractive to the boys. Her ideas on love were serious, and she turned down quite a few good catches because she knew she did not love them.

A love affair with a temperamental and book-loving professor who laughed at her ignorance created her desire for an education. After attending one year of college, and liking it, her mother's accident prevented further schooling.

She taught school awhile and married a construction foreman with little education but high principles. Her husband died just before the third child was born and left Deborah with a family to rear alone.

The experiences of her children add a lot to the story and her granddaughter's life gives the book a happy ending.

20 Percent Of High School Students State Opinion On Gum, Smoke

In a faculty meeting held on Monday, March 17, after school, the subject of gum chewing in school was discussed.

The faculty looks upon this subject as one that is not proper and should not be carried on during school hours.

When school hours are over, it is indeed a pupil's business, what he does outside of school. It is not necessarily a crime to chew gum (or smoke) at any time, but the time not to be a jaw-throbbler is when you are attending school. Not to chew gum at this time is merely an act of refinement.

Students have been asked not to chew gum in classes all year, and they are still being asked. But for those who still insist on not doing this, there is a penalty provided for them as of now.

When a visitor attends a class, each of whom is smacking his choppers heartily, even though he likes to indulge in chewing gum occasionally, when he leaves that class room his moral impression would not be acceptable to either you or me.

You will never see anyone in a gathering of refinement that will chew gum. One who chews gum in a movie is playing the part of a dumb character and of one who lacks poise and refinement and not the part of a poised and refined character.

Smoking on or around the school ground between classes is not the policy of the school. To do so at noon, at home, or elsewhere is also an individual's own private business. A school is not the proper place for this to be.

Wallace Coker: I like "Red" Skelton, after all, isn't he crazy?

Faye Ellen Jordan: "Make Believe Ball Room" has the music anyone would want to listen to.

Fashionette For
 By Donna Miller
 The March 3, 1947, Life magazine states that, during the four weeks, women all over U. S. will take an afternoon and parade downtown for at the new spring suits. Dancers, out from under war fabric restrictions, have materials lavishly. Jackets longer, ranging from 27 to 31 in length instead of the 25. The newest-looking nipped in at the waist, have darts.

Others hang loosely and straight around the waist. They are at two extremes—light stride-restricting, or pleated free-swinging. All of them longer, reaching at least inches below the knee, a skirt affairs deployed by many skirts also have a deeper significance—they usually give depression.

The things that go with also use material freely. Length blouses are worn fashion over skirts. Gloves, free-swinging. Shoes are close toed and heels. Bright, unavailable for years, are around the neck as decorations. Even hats, though small, use of satin and taffeta for big and gay streamers.

When asked the question, "What is your opinion of wearing skirts four inches below the knees?" the following replied:

POET'S CORNER
 "GONE"
 You can leave me and never back,
 But I have my memory, I don't lack.
 You took my heart, when I was young and gay,
 How many years ago I quite say.

You never kissed me, nor held my hand,
 But your eyes seemed to say—"I understand."
 I guess I went too far, but castles too high,
 Air castles that fell, when your eyes said "Goodbye."

Do you remember our laughs, so loud and long,
 The way you caught me when you sang a song,
 And don't forget the way I fought... how you made do your every will,
 Just your very touch gave me a thrill.

Darling, you can't forget things,
 They don't fade away like rings,
 They'll stick to you, darling, and fast,
 There's just a never-for-gotten past.

Two Songs of the Week

By Donna Miller

There has been quite a lot of debate on the first of the next two songs. Some like it and some do not, but for the ones who do, here it is.

The second of the two songs is quite popularly known and liked by the ones who sing or listen to hill-billy songs.

OPEN THE DOOR, RICHARD!

VERSE: Raindrops down my collar standing in the street, Raindrops down my collar, misery in my feet.

REFRAIN: Open the door, Richard, open the door and let me in, Open the door, Richard, Richard, why don't you open that door?

THAT'S HOW MUCH I LOVE YOU I had a nickel know what I would do,

I'd spend it all for candy, And give it all to you; I'd spend it all for candy, And give it all to you, 'Cause that's how much I love you, baby, That's how much I love you.

If you were a picture, I'd hang you on the wall, Sit back where I could see you, and never move at all, Sit back where I could see you, and never move at all, 'Cause that's how much I love you, baby, That's how much I love you.

If you were a kitten with pretty glossy fur, I'd take you up and stroke you, And listen to you purr, I'd take you up and stroke you, and listen to you purr, 'Cause that's how much I love you, baby, That's how much I love you.

For the first time in several years Crane is going to have a track team. Geo. Chrane and Bill Haralson are coaching track.

Every boy who is coming out will attend the district meet that will be held at Iraan Saturday, March 29. Winners of first and second award will attend the area meet. The regional meet will be held in El Paso. The boys winning first place awards in the area meet will attend the regional meet.

The boys have not been timed yet, but the coaches are going to clock them in the near future.

Here is a list of entrants and the events:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Event. Includes Dwain Stacy (100-yd. dash), Ronald Tallman (220-yd. dash), Freddie Barrett (440-yd. dash), Johnny Best (880-yd. dash), Frank Waller (mile run), Amel Omo (high jump), Jimmy Glenn (discus), Paul Simon (440-yd. dash), Joe Weatherby (100 dash shot), William Brightman (100 dash shot).

and wait for you to eat it, and if you didn't eat it you might hurt their feelings. You wouldn't want to do that, would you? Next time you start down the hall just think how a hyena would look running wild.

Cranes Bring Home The Bacon From Iraan

The Cranes were well represented in a practice tournament March 8, in Iraan where Pope and McCully came home with the senior doubles 6-0, 6-2, and the girls, Craig and Collins, won the senior doubles 6-0, 6-1, both the boys won over Iraan.

Craig beat McCamey 6-1, 6-0 in the girls singles; Dewain Stacy (new recruit), lost to McCamey in the senior boy singles 10-8, 6-3.

In the juniors field, Jimmy Stacy won over Iraan 6-1, 6-2, and over McCamey 6-4, 6-2; in the junior doubles, (boys) John Hickey and Bill Teague won over Iraan 6-2, 6-1; they also won over McCamey 6-4, 6-3; in the girls' department of the juniors, Jency Porter and Cynthia Zafonitis won over Iraan 6-3, 6-2.

John Clark, an elementary boy, played a McCamey Senior boy and after a hard fought game the McCamey senior boy won out, 6-4, 7-5.

In the elementary boys doubles, Higdon and Lightfoot beat Iraan 6-4, 6-3.

Why do people get in such a hurry? Of course they must be hungry, but who isn't at noon time? Besides, who wants to look like an escapee from a zoo in search of food? If you do look like that, sometimes someone's going to throw a piece of raw meat and then stand around

Crane Volleyballers Taken Out By Iraan In Rankin Tournament

Crane volleyball girls attended the Rankin tournament Friday afternoon, Feb. 23, which lasted all day Friday and Saturday.

Games were played by time with 20 minute halves and a ten minute intermission between the halves.

The Crane A team played their first game at 3 o'clock with Garden City and defeated them 33 to 30. Garden City then went into consolation but was eliminated when Rankin beat them. Crane then was playing toward the finals.

The Crane B team played Marathon A team at 7 o'clock in place of San Angelo who dropped out of the tournament. It was a practice game and Marathon defeated Crane.

The Crane A team then played Iraan in the last game of the tournament Friday night at 9 o'clock. Crane led at the half 16-9. Scores were mixed up at the end of the game but it was finally decided that the score was 28-28, so three more minutes were allowed to play off the tie.

Iraan then defeated Crane by one point leaving the score 30-31. This eliminated Crane from the tournament as they could not go into consolation, therefore the Crane team did not attend the tournament Saturday. The B team was scheduled to play one more game in place of San Angelo but it was forfeited.

Stockton defeated Rankin for consolation prize. Water Valley and Midland played in the finals. Water Valley won, thus giving them first place in the tournament and Midland second place.

An all-tournament team of six girls was picked from the teams by the coaches of the different teams. It was made up of two from Water Valley, two girls from Stockton, one from Rankin and one from Midland. Joyce Beasley from Midland was selected as the best all-around player at the tournament.

Six Members of Basketball Team And Coaches See State Tournament

The boys making the trip were Don Kilgore, Frank Waller, Tipton Murrell, Chester Pettit. The teachers making the trip were Mr. Nix, Mr. Geo. Chrane and Mr. Haralson.

David Bonner and Pat McLaurin had already gone down to Austin on Thursday.

The boys and teachers saw some good basketball games and had a very good time.

All of the boys are looking forward with much enthusiasm to the coming of spring football practice. The practice should begin in the early part of April.

Crane has a fine track team this year, for the first time in years. Due to the lack of interest there hasn't been a team since back in the thirties.

The tennis team has improved since last year. The ones who were defeated either in the District meet or the Regional meet have all made a resolution to win in spite of the competition this year.

The basketball boys seem to find it hard to get their uniforms cleaned and turned in.

The P. E. girls are taking instructions in rhythm work and exercises in their classes. They are trying to hold what little figure they have, if any. (Pun. Son, that is).

All Hallways and Zoos Do Have Something In Relationship

Have you ever walked into a place and thought it was a zoo, and the caretaker had let all the animals loose? You have if you are a member of the Crane High School and have been in the hallway leading from the library after the dinner bell had rung. It sounds just like a group of wild animals and just about as dangerous.

Why do people get in such a hurry? Of course they must be hungry, but who isn't at noon time? Besides, who wants to look like an escapee from a zoo in search of food? If you do look like that, sometimes someone's going to throw a piece of raw meat and then stand around

GRADE SCHOOL

FOURTH GRADE

We are reading stories about famous heroes of long ago. Three of these heroes are Beowulf, Sigurd and Roland. We enjoyed these stories very much.

The flu epidemic sure did hit our room last Tuesday and Wednesday. Over half of the class was on the sick list. We are certainly happy to see them back in school.

In geography we are studying about the different kinds of materials for clothing and where we get them. Here is a story written by one of the pupils.

THE STORY OF COTTON

A plantation is a large farm. The leading crop on the plantation is cotton. Bolls grow on a plant. The boll has little brown points around the stem. When the cotton is growing, the points are green and fastened together like a shell. The fluffy part grows inside. When the cotton is ripe, the points begin to shrink and the fluffy part bursts into sight.

Cotton is sometimes attacked by a small insect called a boll weevil. The weevil lays eggs in the bolls and cause them to drop off before they are ripe. Therefore, it causes a great deal of trouble. Farmers often spray growing cotton plants to keep it away.

A cotton farmer usually does his plowing early in the spring. Sometimes, if he has time, he plows in the winter to get the land in good farming condition.

Farmers in this part of the country cannot plow in the winter because the ground freezes. The summers are long and mild in the South.

Cotton is planted by machines called cotton planters. The machine drops the seed and covers them with dirt. Within a few days the cotton begins to peek through the soil. They grow rapidly and need a great deal of care. Then the farmers have a very hard time.

A farmer usually cultivates his cotton by plowing. Sometimes he uses a hoe. A farmer cannot cut close with a machine. A hoe can cut down the weeds and the cotton that is too thick. They never grow well close together.

As the plants grow they form dark green bushes. When they are pretty old, blossoms begin to grow on the stems. They are very pretty. They open in the morning and change colors every day. The first day they turn pink; the next day they turn red and fade and fall off. The bolls take their places. The bolls get bigger. Finally they burst open. The cotton is ready to be picked. The cotton is picked by hand. Every picker drags a long sack behind him called a cotton sack. The man walks in rows. His family often picks most of the cotton. Sometimes negroes are hired to gather the cotton. They are good pickers. They often sing as they work.

When he has a sack full of cotton, he goes to the wagon and empties the cotton. The cotton cannot be picked all at once. Some bolls ripen earlier than others.

—By Joel Adams.

Here are some poems that we have written about Spring which begins March 21.

SPRING TIME

When the grass shows
And March wind blows
All the boys and girls will play,
On the high and slicky hay.

The dog helps to drive the sheep,
Then after that he will go to sleep.

The March wind will blow the girls' hair,
And the boys will play where the ground is bare.

The boys and girls will play in the fields,
And over the hills.
Neath the robin's breast
Is a cute little nest.

The sun is going down,
And the boys are leaving the play ground.
They all get ready for bed,
Then a dream flashes through their head,

As they dream of Spring,
Their little clocks will ring.
By Byron Clayton Dennis.

SPRING

Spring is a lovely time,
With everything in bloom,
But nothing is in bloom.
The happy children play
Everyone will say
We are all happy today.

By Johnny Patterson.
SPRING TIME
Spring begins March 21, and we are happy to respect it. Spring is a time to be gay. We should not pick flowers; we should help them grow to make things pretty. Water your lawns, take care of them, and help in every way.

By Johnny Patterson.

SPRING

Spring is a lovely time of the year.
It is time to laugh and cheer.
I do like the time of Spring
Because it brings us everything.

Spring brings us beautiful flowers.
And it gives us many, many showers.
Which is a beautiful scene,
And we all love to dream.

MISS STEWART'S ROOM

Reporter:
Glenna June Mills
Several in our room have had the flu.

Mary Alice Bradley spent a week in Dallas with her mother who is ill.

Marilyn Moore was cop last week and Mary Lou Fisher is cop this week.

Some of the boys and girls are still making F's on arithmetic tests.

All of our reading classes are having to memorize poems.

We have started decorating our room for Easter.

What little boy had to go to Mr. Keyes' office last week?

CLASS SEVEN-ONE
Reporter:
Truman Flowers
Class 7-1 and 7-2 had a play March 20. The boys did acrobatics and the girls did some singing.

Last week we had 16 absent out of our room with the flu. All except one came back on Monday.

Class 7-1 is trying to win the fire prevention contest. If we win, we get to have a half-day holiday for a picnic.

Dorothy Erwin won the map coloring contest between the 7th and 6th grade.

We surely do miss Miss Donnelly in English class. Mrs. Chrane is teaching in her place. We surely do like her teaching.

Bobby Ray Hollander and Truman Flowers are coming out for tennis.

MRS. CLOUD'S ROOM
We have finished our geography book and after we have a test over it we are going to learn lots of interesting things about Texas.

In reading we are learning ten words every day and we have a new reader.

Last week we had a visitor, one of our old classmates, Luanne Presley. She surprised us very much, but we were very glad to see her.

It is always nice to have a laugh, so I will tell you a joke. "Remember what I told you last Monday, children, that you should make someone happy during the week?" asked the teacher. "How many of you did so?" "I did, teacher," volunteered one child.

"That's fine," said the teacher. "What did you do?" "I went to see Aunt May," replied the boy, "and she's always happy when I go home."

MRS. BROWN'S ROOM
Reporter:
Nancy Evans
Well, we really worked hard toward our play which was on March 20. The other room gave it with us. Mrs. Keyes and Mrs. Browning also worked with us.

Nearly all of the people in our room were sick with the flu and colds. We hope they are feeling better.

We are all working toward the Fire Prevention prizes. We surely do hope we win them. A whole day from school and a picnic would be grand.

How do you like snow in March? Well, we don't like it. That was why our play was delayed. We all had flu.

We will be glad when all of our teachers are well again.

There are ten four-letter members of the band with jackets: Dorothy Hickey, Lanelle Murrell, June Crowover, Billy Dan Livey, Corky Harris, Sammie White, Ronald Tallman, Myron Holcomb, Leonard Rose, and Billy Marlowe.

Conference Called for Plan of New Buildings

The noted architect, Mr. L. H. Kirby, from Lubbock, was in conference most of the day on Tuesday, March 18, with Mr. Martin and the heads of the various departments, working out the final details and specifications for the Junior High, Senior High, band and shop buildings. The different heads of the various departments were called in for their specific fields and phases of learning.

The meeting was held for the better part of the day Tuesday, and after a most strenuous afternoon, Mr. Martin, Mr. Kirby, and the various heads of the different departments finally came to a most pleasant decision upon the plans for the entirely new school system.

As yet, no one knows when these buildings will begin to take shape.

Seventh Graders Put On Assembly Program

Grades 7-1 and 7-2 gave a program Thursday, March 20, to an audience of grade school students.

The program, with Billy Don Ingram as M. C., began with the singing of "The Eyes of Texas" by both sections. Next was a reading, "The Forerunners of Texas," given by Cynthia Harrell. Dwain Warren told some "Odd Facts About Texas."

A band, composed of the seventh grade band members, played "Down Beat" and "Amaryllis."

Mary Lou Wilson played a piano solo, "Beautiful Texas."

"Tall Tales" were told and Western songs, "Don't Fence Me In" and "Deep In The Heart Of Texas," were sung by a group.

The seventh grade P. E. boys, as the "Tumbling Tumbleweeds," gave a very good tumbling demonstration. They were trained by Mrs. Keyes.

Conclusion of the program was "Texas, Our Texas," sung by the audience.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Browning and Mrs. Keyes, home room teachers of Grades 7-2 and 7-1, respectively.

Library Fines Owed By Students Of Crane High

In case you don't know how little "Johnny" or little "Henry" is doing in his library science, here is a list of the names of kids who owe library fines. Let's see if we can't rack up some money and get them paid.

An attractive display of colorful Mexican straw figures on a black background decorated the bulletin board this week. Three books about Mexico were featured: "Our Son Pablo" by Guido Rosa, and "Paradise Valley" by Valetti Angelo.

Booth Tarkingtons latest book, in fact his last one, is the library's newest arrival.

"THE SHOW PIECE"
This author won his fame as a writer of stories about young people in his books "Seventeen" and "Alice Adams." It is fitting that the book he was writing at the time of his death should be about young people.

This story concerns a group of young people that the author was well acquainted with and the "Shining Star" of the group, Irving Pease. Irving, slightly spoiled at 15, turns into an egotistical heel at manhood. It is his less favored friend who becomes the true hero of the book.

Although the book was unfinished, Tarkington made some notes that tell what he had in store for his characters.

Introducing the Faculty

GEORGE CHRANE

"The Crane" would like to introduce one of the best-liked and most cheerful teachers of the Crane High faculty. It is none other than Crane's outstanding football coach, Mr. George Chrane.

Mr. Chrane was born in Brownwood, Texas, on March 3, 1912. After finishing high school, he attended Daniel Baker College in Brownwood where he received his B. S. degree. He came to Crane in 1943 from Brooksmith, Texas, and is teaching two sections of eighth grade math and general math. During his first two years in Crane Mr. Chrane was assistant football coach and has been head coach for the past two years.

Among his likes are foods that are barbecued and also fried chicken. He has very few dislikes, but included in that few are two-faced people.

Mr. Chrane has made an excellent record here as a fine coach and teacher, and he has made many friends among the students of Crane High.

C. A. Carroll Elected Program Chairman At Teachers' Meeting

Mr. C. A. Carroll, instructor of Industrial Work in Crane High School, was elected as Program Chairman of Industrial Arts at the annual Trans-Pecos Teachers' meeting at El Paso March 13 and 14.

Mr. Carroll has charge of getting up a program for next year. He has to get the guest speakers and different other speakers for the meeting.

Wilma Earp: Golly, I don't think it looks good. It makes some girls look a lot taller; it's tacky.

Jeanelle Glenn: I just don't think it looks very nice.

Mr. Patterson: The lengthening of skirts has always been the sign of depression and later leads to one.

Jimmy Glenn: Suits me just fine!

Dorothy Craig: It's o. k. with me if they put them down to the ankles, but it will be awfully uncomfortable.

Mrs. Waller: Really, I don't think a woman is very attractive with her skirt at the largest part of her leg.

Mrs. Miller: Just below the knees is a nice length.

Mrs. Nevins: I just don't like them.

Mr. Nix: If it adds anything to the price, I am against them.

Earl Husted: I just don't like it.

Mrs. Elmore: I think some of the knees need covering up. If it's the style, we'll all wear them or die.

Donna Miller: If they look as nice as the ones in the new Vogue Magazine (but not so expensive) they will be fine.

Helen Hickey: I like longer skirts, but I hope what Mr. Patterson said is not true.

Helen White: I guess if it comes to that, I can wear 'em if the rest of 'em can.

Mr. Barnett: I like the idea.

Leonard Rose: If they can stand it I can.

C. H. Stephens: I don't know. I like 'em the way they are.

Mrs. Barber: I would be rather modest.

Mr. Keyes: It will look rather odd; at least until we all get used to looking at them.

Mr. Geo. Chrane: After going like they have so long, it would look a little odd until they get used to it.

Mrs. Hughes: I guess they look all right, but I sure hate to wear them.

Mr. Doug Chrane: It would be a great calamity. Think of a girl that buys clothes just to be in fashion. Every father of a girl or two would go broke in less than two weeks.

Zoe Reynolds: Plumb lookin' is all I have to say.

Baker Davis: No, shoot. Leave 'em like they are now.

Mr. Harralson: It don't it at all. Looks like the nineties.

Commercial Students Enter District Meet

For the first time in several years, students from Crane High School are entering district meet in typing and shorthand. The meet will be held on April 1 in Iraan. Each school in the district will enter two contestants and an alternate in each activity.

Those entering typing are Iris Collins and Melba Howell with Homer Clements as alternate. The winners of the contest will be selected on the basis of accuracy as well as speed.

Those entering shorthand are Helen Hickey and Helen White with Jean Garrett as alternate. The girls will take dictation 80 words a minute for five minutes and transcribe their work on the typewriter. Winners will be selected on the basis of accuracy and speed in transcribing.

The first five winners in each activity will enter the regional meet in El Paso a little later.

Tests Blitz C.H.S. Students Once Again

It seems that Three W Tests leave the kids in a sweat. Either they are turning up late notebooks or handing in to teacher or they are correcting notebooks.

Usually English requires more work than any other subject because there are always an abundance of papers to correct notebooks to hand in. If you are taking grammar there is more than enough to do with spare time.

Sometimes if you think you don't have anything to do start looking through your books and more papers you could do some work on. Of course, you have no work, just come out to one of the little sessions they could give you some extra work to occupy your extra
