Murder Charge Filed Against Snyder Man

SHOT AND KILLED at her home in Snyder last night was Mrs. Ruth Nichols, 53. Her former son-in-law, 42-year-old Charles Taylor, was charged with murder in connection with the killing. (W. D. Everett, Jr., photograph)

Bond Denied For Suspect

Charles Everett Taylor, 42-year-old man who has lived in Snyder only a short time, was still in the county jail today after being charged last night with the murder of Mrs. Frances Ruth Nichols, 53, of Snyder. Taylor's former mother-in-law.

Taylor was arraigned shortly before midnight last night, and peace justice W. C. Davidson denied bond.

Funeral services for Mrs. Nichols will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church of Kilgore, with the Rev. Howard Bennett, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Kilgore Cemetery. The body was to be carried overland this afternoon in a Bolger Funeral Home coach.

The charge alleges that Taylor "voluntarily and with malice aforethought", killed Mrs. Nichols by shooting her with a pistol. The pistol was a .32-caliber automatic. The complaint was signed by Police Chief Travis Steele and filed by Rehal B. Rosson, district attorney.

There is a possibility that the December-January grand jury will be called back in on this case, or it is possible that the charge will not be considered until the February-March grand jury is called, probably early in February.

Mrs. Nichols was wounded at about 7:15 p.m. yesterday in the front yard of her home at 104 Browning Street. The pistol was fired only once, and the bullet entered her heart. After being shot, Mrs. Nichols went inside the house of a neighbor, and an ambulance and police were called. Taken to Battenfield-Jones Hospital-Clinic by Bolger ambulance, Mrs. Nichols was pronounced dead on arrival. She died soon after she had entered the neighbor's house.

Mrs. Pauline Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Nichols and former wife of the man charged, was standing in the front yard at the time the shooting occurred. Mrs. Taylor lived at the home of Mrs. Nichols. Also at the scene was Mrs. Taylor's daughter, an elemetary school student.

After the shooting, Taylor drove away in his car, witnesses said. He was arrested a few minutes later not far from Mrs. Nichols' home by Alfred Kohl and Zane Williams, city policemen.

Sheriff Homer Whisnand, Deputy Leonard White, Chief Steele, and other members of the police and sheriff offices then began working on the case, as did Rosson.

Reports are that Taylor lived in San Antonio until recently. He and Mrs. Taylor were reportedly divorced several years ago.

Mrs. Nichols, born May 11, 1902, moved to Snyder from Kilgore about five years ago.

She is survived by the one daughter, one son, Paul Barr of Rocksprings; her mother, Mrs. S. J. Keel of Kilgore. Three sisters, Mrs. Thelma Divers and Mrs. Jewell Collum, both of Kilgore, and Mrs. Estell Ratcliff of Houston; two brothers, W. J. Keel and Bob Keel, both of Kilgore; and three grandchildren.

School Debate Slated

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee's deadlock over the school construction bill was reported broken today, and the big debate on federal aid to schools is expected to hit the House floor next week.

"And it will be a hot one," said Rep. McConnell of Pennsylvania, senior Republican on the House Education Committee.

McConnell said "there's no question" about the bill coming out of the Rules Committee next Tuesday or Wednesday, though he said floor debate may not begin until the following week.

Other sources said the bill was coming out and debate would start Wednesday.

Pending formal action by the Rules Committee next week, there was no indication how much time would be allowed for debate or what attempts, if any, might be made to restrict amendments.

Debate is expected to center largely on an expected proposal to bar federal funds to areas which segregate white and Negro pupils. There had been some speculation that the Rules Committee, which includes several veteran Southern House members, might block House action.

But Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) has been pushing for action.

The House Education Committee has approved the Democrats' plan to grant $1,600,000,000 over a four-year period to states to help them build needed classrooms. Allocations would be based on school age population.

President Eisenhower, in a special message to Congress last week, recommended granting the states 1¼ billions over five years and basing allocations on need and ability.

Rep. Kelley (D-Pa), author of the Democrats' bill, said he's "ready to go any time" with it.

McConnell said the Republicans would try to change the measure to fit the Eisenhower program, and "we're ready to go."

Rep. Powell (D-NY), said he's ready to offer the segregation amendment he has been promising for the last year.

If Republicans and Northern Democrats combine to vote Powell's amendment into the bill, its chances of passage in the Senate are regarded as highly uncertain.

Sen. Hill (D-Ala), head of the Senate committee which would handle the legislation, has said the amendment wiuld kill the bill in the Senate.

In a Rochester, N.Y., speech last night, Sen. Byrd (D-Va) announced renewed opposition to any form of federal school aid. States, cities and counties are fully able to educate their children, he said, and federal aid would bring federal controls.

Saunders Defends Trust Regulation

AUSTIN (AP)—Insurance Chairman Byron Saunders told House investigators today he felt the commission had taken every "reasonable prudent" step it could to regulate the affairs of US Trust and Guaranty Co. of Waco.

The chairman repeated a statement he read earlier this week before a Senate Investigating Committe, adding that he had never heard any suggestion from the attorney general or auditor that "we had done anything wrong in our surveillance of US Trust."

The Insurance Commission has been sharply criticized for having permitted US Trust to continue operations after an original finding of insolvency last June (now called an "allegation" of insolvency by Saunders) up to late December. This included sales of five per cent drafts until a stop order was issued by the commission under a new law in mid-December.

Saunders, telling House investigators he felt much of the criticism was not justified, said the commision had nothing to hide in any of its actions and that they are all a matter of public record.

He said the root of the difficulty was that the five A. B. Shoemake concerns were a combination of business enterprises, all of which the commission could not legally supervise until new laws went into effect Sept. 6.

This was especially true, Saunders said, of the banking phase of the complicated structure in which the drafts or certificates were sold to the public.

The money kept pouring in from these operations, Saunders said, and Shoemake invested it in U.S. Automotive Service which financed owned dealer franchises and garages. The commission had no control whatsoever over the affairs of U.S Automotive, Saunders said, noting that Shoemake periodically transferred to it sums as large as five million dollars received from other operations.

Shoemake shot himself through the head 20 days ago but survived.

Among seven witnesses the House committee wants to question in the mystery of who got the cash from drafts and checks partially unexplained in US Trust accounts are former officers and employes of the defunct Shoemake firm.

Saunders was the second witness to be called yesterday. The committee heard from the state auditor's office, seeking leads into the unexplained expenditures.

Saunders traced steps the commission took in the US Trust case, explaining what he called its complicated set-up. He repeated what he had told the senators earlier this week: That the assets of US Automotive will benefit the creditors involved in the receivership action. He said then that they may get back from 70 to 85 cents on the dollar.

Saunders said that under the laws governing the commission it had "no yardstick to measure" the Shoemake banking operations and that the commission had no right to advise Shoemake on how he might invest the funds that poured in.

"We had to look at his operations in view of the insurance laws and not the banking laws," Saunders said.

South Builds Strength For Racial Battle

By The Associated Press

On a long - embattled front, Southern legislators strengthened their picket lines today in their fight to maintain segregation.

The loudest Rebel cry from Virginia to Mississippi came in a defiant resolution from Alabama. The Legislature there declared yesterday that Alabama is not bound by the racial rulings of the U. S. Supreme Court, and it pressed hard upon other Southern states to subscribe to the doctrine of interposition.

The Alabama Senate approved the resolution in a resounding vote by voice. In the House, only four members dissented when the measure passed Tuesday.

In Mississippi, the House Judiciary Committee approved a bill which would create a new anti-integration weapon for use against federal officials. The purpose of the bill is to keep federal officials from interfering with the rights of Mississippians—particularly by investigating their voting habits.

The maximum penalty for violation would be a $3,000 fine and five years in prison and it would allow a damage suit by the injured party.

Two other segregation measures were also approved by the Mississippi House yesterday. One would extend the laws of criminal libel to cover libel or slander of state governmental institutions; the other seeks to prevent the agitation of lawsuits dealing with integration.

The Virginia Senate continued its combative disapproval of the Supreme Court's authority on school segregatiin.

A carefully reworded resolution which offered a compromise plan of interposition was introduced to the Virginia lawmakers yesterday. Like the earlier resolution it replaced, it still challenged the high court's authority but departed from the earlier draft by not calling for noncompliance with the court's irder banning school segregation.

Congressional Review Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) called today for a full-scale congressional review of what he described as Secretary of State Dulles' "diplomacy of the brink."

In a speech prepared for the Senate, he said this country must revise its foreign policy to meet a Soviet diplomatic offensive already in "high gear" or face the loss of "countless millions of our citizens and hundreds of billions of dollars."

Mansfield, a member if the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the need for review is pointed up by the Life magazine article quoting Dulles as saying that administration policy prevented war in Asia three times.

Plans Set For FOYT Banquet

(For more about the FOYT banquet, see Section B)

Five young Texas men will be honored tomorrow night at a dinner program to be held at the high school cafeteria and auditorium.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria, and the program will start at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

They will be the Five Outstanding Young Texans of 1955, chosen in a program sponsored annually by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce. All state Jaycee officers will be here to help in honoring the five.

Also here to present the main address of the evening will be Frank Pace, former secretary of the Army, and guest entertainer will be Phil Regan, nationally-known radio-TV tenor who is known to Snyder audiences for his three previous appearances at Chamber of Commerce banquets.

The five to be honored are Dr. William S. McBirnie, 35, San Antonio minister; Jim Lindsey, 29, Texarkana attorney and speaker of the Texas House of Representatives; Dan Eddy, 34, Dallas Salvation Army public relations man; Bill Bellamy, 35, San Antinio newspaper executive; and Bill Allcorn, 32, Brownwood attorney.

Ben H. Wooten, president of the First National Bank of Dallas and chairman of the committee which made final selections for the outstanding five, will introduce the judges and make their report. Plaques signifying the awards will be presented the men, by Ed Stumpf of Houston, state Jaycee president.

Master of ceremonies will be Sam B. Hill, Marshall attorney who was formerly a national Jaycee director. Invocation will be by the Rev. William Boyd of Big Spring, vicar of the St. John's Episcopal Mission here, and the benediction will be by Dale Brooks, minister of the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ. C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder oilman and member of the committee which chose the five, will introduce the speaker. Stumpf will introduce other special guests.

The Snyder High School stage band, directed by Melvin Montgomery, will present entertainment while the crowd moves from the cafeteria to the auditorium. The band was instrumental in securing the banquet for Snyder. The group went with local Jaycees to a state Jaycee board meeting in Tyler last year during the Miss Texas pageant, and there the band played both for the pageant and for the directors when the Snyder organization made its bid for the banquet.

Tickets for the banquet are still on sale at both banks and by individual Jaycees. Reservations can still be made today and tomorrow by calling 3-6592.

Israel Given Warning On Its Attacks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Israel was under stern notice today that the U. N. Security Council may use its powers of punishment against her if the Israelis continue attacks across their Arab neighbors' frontiers.

The warning came in a Western-sponsored resolution the 11-nation council adopted unanimously yesterday.

The resolution condemned the Israeli attack Dec. 11 on Syrian outposts northeast of the Sea of Galilee as a "flagrant violation" of the Palestine armistice and Israel's U. N. Charter obligations. It said if Israel ignored its obligations in the future, the council will have to consider "further measures under the charter."

The charter empowers the council to punish an aggressor with a diplomatic boycott, economic blockade or even military action, and to call for explusion from the U. N. of any country that consistently violates the charter.

Israeli Delegate Abba Eban told the council he feared the resolution would be interpreted as endorsement of Arab belligerency toward Israel. Israel contends the attack was in retaliation for Syrian shelling of Israeli boats on the inland lake, which lies just inside Israel's territory.

The resolution noted Syrian "interference" with the Israeli activity on the lake but said "this interference in no way justifies the Israeli action." Fifty - six Syrians and six Israelis were killed in the raid; Israel has reported only several persons wounded as a resolt of the Syrian shelling.

County Farm Group Formed

The Scurry County Farmers Union was organized last night in a meeting attended here by about 50 farmers.

Ray Hanson was elected temporary chairman, and committees were appointed to solicit membership in the new farm organization.

Main speaker at the meeting was Max Carriker, president of the year-old Fisher County Farmers Union, which already has about 300 members. Carriker explained to the group that the National Farmers Union and affiliated smaller Farmers Union groups have among their purposes keeping parity on farm products as near 100 per cent as possible and maintaining the family-size farm.

A total of 22 members joined the organization last night. A vigorous campaign for membership is planned from now through next Wednesday. The organization will attempt to gain at least 100 members to make it eligible for a charter for affiliation with the National Farmers Union.

The next meeting was called for 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in the district courtroom, where Alec Dickie, state Farmers Union president, and Richard Alexander, state secretary, will be speakers.

Farmers Union representatives said the meeting will be informative and urged all farmers to attend.

Looting And Shooting Continues In Bombay

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Looting and shooting continued unabated in riot-torn Bombay today for the fifth suecessive day. Left-wing leaders of the demonstrators appealed in vain for an end to the violence.

The rioters, mostly of the Maratha race, increasingly vented their ire on Gujarati families. Many of the Gujaratis were trying to flee the city.

Bombay State Gov. Harekrushna Mahtab told a meeting of leading citizens the wave of violence is "unparalleled in the history" of Bombay, India's second largest city.

Ike Starts His Fourth Year As President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower starts his fourth year in office today still facing the big decision on whether to seek re-election.

He addresses "Salute to Eisenhower" dinners tonight in his first appearance before a Republican party group since September. His remarks, to be piped by closed circuit television to an estimated 60,000 persons at fund-raising dinners in 53 cities, are not expected to shed any definite light on whether he will run again.

At least one national radio network, ABC, will broadcast the event "live" to the public.

The broadcast is scheduled about 10:20 p.m. EST.

The Republican National Committee forecast a turnout of 2,000 here to hear talks by Eisenhower, Cabinet members and others.

Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, who heads the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee, said he thinks national Republican organizations will net about 2½ million dollars from the $100-a-plate dinners. State and local organizations would get the same amount.

Sen. Knowland of California is listed as the speaker for a dinner at Palm Beach, Fla. Vice President Nixon will speak in Chicago, Secretary of Defense Wilson in Los Angeles, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey in New York, Secretary of Agriculture Benson in Houston, Tex., and Postmaster General Summerfield in Portland, Ore.

Eisenhower's second-term decision, he promised yesterday, will be announced "as soon as it is firmly fixed in my mind." He indicated at his news conference that the chief factor is the degree of recovery he makes from a Sept. 24 heart attack.

"It would be idle," the 65-year-old President said, "to pretend that my health can be wholly restored to the excellent state in which the doctors believed it to be in mid-September."

Adding that his doctors report his progress is normal and satisfactory, Eisenhower said, "My future life must be carefully regulated to avoid excessive fatigue."

Ship Strikes Texas Tower

BOSTON (AP)—A ship crashed into the Texas Tower, first off-shore radar "island", 100 miles off Cape Cod today and was extensively damaged.

The vessel was identified by the Coast Guard as the transport Sagitta of the Military Sea Transport Service, a 269-foot, 5,202-ton vessel.

Her starboard side crashed into the tower, tearing a hole in tanks in her No. 2 hold. She was reported making water rapidly and listing to starboard.

Whether the Texas Tower was damaged was not immediately reported.

The Coast Guard dispatched a seaplane from its Salem base to investigate and also ordered two cutters, the Evergreen and Spar to the scene. The Spar was about sixty miles away and expected to reach the scene in 3 to 3½ hours.

The Texas Tower is located on a Georges Banks shoal—dangerous waters to shipping. The Sagitta was reported trying to claw off into deeper water.

Oil Tanker Probe Starts

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Coast Guard examiners began looking today for a "bald headed guy from Boston" who knew about a leak in the cargo oil tank of the Salem Maritime the night it exploded and killed 18 persons.

He is believed among the 17 survivors still to be questioned by the Coast Guard board looking into the Tuesday night blast.

Officers questioned seven other survivors and the marine superintendent of Cities Service Oil Co., which owned the tanker.

The witnesses testified, in general, there was very little unusual about the Salem Maritime in Calcasieu River before the explosion. None would guess at the cause of the blast.

School Audit Is Demanded

AUSTIN (AP)—The House General Investigating Committee has heard a plea that a uniform auditing system is needed in school districts to keep down irregularities.

Two Seagoville men told the committee yesterday that inadequate auditing may allow widespread misuse of public money without detection.

The suggestion was taken under advisement.

Rex Putnam, newspaper editor, and Mark Williams, a retired postal inspector, said the situation was more than a local one.

Instances were cited in which the men said such items as purchase of lumber had been charged to "transportation expense" and could thus be paid for out of state rather than local funds.

Williams said irregularities may occur "without fear of detection" because of improper auditing methods under the Gilmer Aikin School Laws.

If there is "padding" of reports, the matter should be looked into, said Rep. Wade Spilman, chairman of the committee.

Senterfitt Requests Constitution Meeting

AUSTIN (AP)—Reuben Senterfitt, candidate for governor, urged today a constitutional convention, declaring it "imperative that we take action to bring about exacting reforms at the administrative and executive level."

Senterfitt said that only through such a convention, to modernize the state constitution adopted in 1876, can the imperatively needed reforms be found and effected."

He said his remarks had particular reference to the "veterans land and insurance evils and other inefficiencies" in the state government.

Farm Program Is Criticized

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The proposed soil bank plan was described as "another nail in the cotton ginners' coffin" by the Texas Cotton acreage would inevitably be reflected in reduced volume for ginners as well as all other segments of the cotton industry.

Jalufka added that a domestic parity plan, sponsored by the ginners, has been presented to Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Henry LeBlanc of Dallas, director of the Texas Employment Commission's farm labor division, said the Mexican labor program is "getting tougher each year and called upon ginners to make full use of the employment commission's services in procuring farm labor from local sources. He said the commission is working on a plan whereby farm laborers may be requested in "April for October delivery."

Gold Bars Are Stolen Off Switzerland Truck

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Swiss police admitted today they have lost all trace of $280,000 worth of gold bars stolen from a truck here yesterday in a well-planned daylight coup.

Police said it appeared possible the gang which organized the coup — one of the biggest robberies in Swiss criminal history — had succeeded in getting the bars into France.

Girl Is Born On Airliner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— A Pan American World Airways Clipper turned back from a flight to Honolulu today after a passenger gave birth to a daughter, two months premature.

The Clipper, with 55 passengers, was about 200 miles out when purser Sue M. Sargent rapped on Capt. Henry C. Kristofferson's cabin door and announced:

"One of the passengers is going to have a baby."

With the aid of another passenger, Mrs. Frances Norton of Honolulu. Mrs. Robert Henderson of 216 Patton Ave., Nashville, N.C. gave birth.

Kristofferson returned to San Francisco, where the plane was met by a Pan American physician, Dr. Frederick Leeds. He said both mother and baby appeared to be in fine condition. He estimated the baby's weight at four pounds.

Texas Population Jumps 11 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas' population increased 11 per cent between the 1950 census and last July 1 but several other states out-distanced Texas both in numerical and percentage growth.

The Census Bureau estimated today Texas' population last July 1 at 8,563,000, compared with the 1950 census of 7,711,194.

California topped all states in numerical increases.

California was credited with a gain of nearly 2½ million persons for an estimated population of 13,032,000. New York's estimated 16,124,000 was the only one to top it. The 1950 census officially made California the second most populous state, displacing Pennsylvania.

New York and Ohio were the only other states to show increases of over a million persons in the 5¼ years after the 1950 census.

Nevada's 40 per cent gain in this period made it the fastest growing state percentagewise. Arizona was second with a 31 per cent increase, Florida third with almost 25 per cent, California fourth with 23 per cent, and Delaware fifth with 22 per cent.

The bureau estimated six states lost population between 1950 and 1955. These were Arkansas, down 121,000; Mississippi, 68,000; Oklahoma, 66,000; Alabama, 29,000; Maine, 9,000; and West Virginia, 4,000.

At mid-1955, the bureau put the nation's population at about 164,300,000. That excludes service men abroad.

Pennsylvania ranked third in total population with 11,159,000 in mid-1955, Illinois was fourth with 9,361,000 and Ohio fifth with 8,966,000.

Despite its fast growth, Nevada remained smallest with 225,000. The next smallest were Wyoming with 306,000 and Vermont with 378,000.

Oklahoma's population was estimated at 2,168,000, off 2.9 per cent; New Mexico 795,000, up 16.7 per cent; and Colorado 1,549,000, up 16.9 per cent.

Douglas Starts Four-Day Talk Against Natural Gas Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) started today a Senate speech he said will take him three or four days to finish.

He spoke against the Natural Gas bill, exempting producers of natural gas from direct regulation by the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

"I am not trying to talk the bill to death but I do believe in a thorough presentation," he said. "It's a very complicated, yet simple, issue so I decided to treat it adequately."

Douglas said his staff has been working six months assembling what he called "the best collection of figures and most thorough analysis" he has seen on the bill. His staff studied 1,500 producer contracts as part of its research efforts, he said.

Senate debate on the measure, a companion to a bill which the House passed 209-203 last year, entered its fifth day.

In a 40-page first installment of his speech, Douglas called the measure a "bad bill" which he said "would gouge the consumers of 600 to 900 million dollars and raise the valuation of the known gas reserves by from 12½ to 30 billion dollars."

Referring to senators from Southwestern oil and gas states who are pushing the bill, he said "They should not forget that they have many consumers in the cities of the Southwest who will be hurt by this bill. . ."

Douglas said 21 million families, numbering almost half the population, have 11 billion dollars invested in furnaces, hot water heaters, stoves and refrigerators that burn natural gas they pay at least $1,400,000,000 in gas bills, he said and continued:

"Once they are hooked up to gas, they must keep on with it. The marriage is indissoluble. When the rates go up steeply, as they will under this bill, all the householders can do is to bear it. But they will do so without a grin.

"It is because the gas industry is noncompetitive that regulation is necessary to protect the public interest."

As a substitute for the pending legislation, Douglas suggested that Congress consider exempting from regulation "about 5,300 producers who sell less than two billion cubic feet (annually) and confining regulation to some 190 producers who sell 90 per cent of the gas to the pipelines for resale."

Thus, he said, the small producer would be "freed from the red tape of government regulation. At the same time the consumers are protected."

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Fisher Well Set For Completion

General Crude Oil Co. was running electrical logs prior to completing from Strawn lime No. 1 Bettie Waddell, ½-mile east of its Roby (Canyon sand) field of Central Fisher County.

Final 2¾-hour drillstem tests at 5,354 to 5,364 feet surfaced gas in three minutes and oil in two hours and 40 minutes, with no estimate of flow. Recovery was 1,790 feet of oil, 100 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 30 feet of salt water.

Previous test at 5,337 to 5,394 feet surfaced gas and recovered oil along with heavily oil and gas-cut mud and a little brackish water. The Strawn lime was topped at 5,308 feet, minus datum point of 3,400 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 16, block 313, Bastrop County School Land survey, four miles northeast of Roby.

Ray Smith Drilling Co. Dallas, No. 1 Lena M. Green, & Frances Weatherman 6,100-foot Ellenburger wildcat in North Fisher County, was coring below 5,720 feet after finding shows of oil and gas on drillstem test of Strawn sand.

Two-hour test from 5,697 to 5,720 feet surfaced gas in 24 minutes and recovered 430 feet of slightly mud-cut oil.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 123, block 1, H&TC survey, seven miles northeast of Rotan.

Busky Oil Co. will drill No. 1-A Ben Crane as a 13,500-foot project ⅝-mile northeast of the discovery well of he South Seagraves (Devonian) field of North Gaines County.

Drillsite is 1,960 feet from north and 875 feet from east lines of section 16, block C-35, psl survey, five miles west of Seagraves.

Associated Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 W. G. Williams, Southwest Kent County wildcat, three miles northwest of Polar drilled to 7,652 feet without developing commercial production. It has been plugged and abandoned.

The project was 660 feet from north and west lines of section 58, block 5, H&GN survey. It logged shows in the Strawn and in the Mississippian, but they were not commercial.

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Co. will drill No. 1-B M. D. Johnson as an 8,300-foot project in the Pot Luck field of Southwest Borden County.

Drillsite is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 7, block 32, T-4-N, T&P survey and 10 miles southwest of Gail.

Operations will begin at once.

Selling Aide For Lone Star Is Announced

J. M. Lynn Jr. has been named assistant sales and promotion manager for Lone Star Gas Company's General Division of Distribution, according to an announcement by M. L. Bird of Dallas, gas company vice-president. Bird said Lynn will succeed Carl L. Trevitt as general division sales and promotion manager following the latter's retirement July 31 under the company's insurance program.

Lynn's territory will consist of Snyder and some 350 other cities and towns in Texas and Oklahoma and he will have headquarters in Dallas. Lynn replaces Kenneth Watkins who takes over managership of the dealer asistance section of the General Division Sales and Promotion Department.

Lynn began his Lone Star career September 15, 1930, in Dallas. After working in the meter shop and home service department for two years, he became one of the company's first four retail salesmen in Dallas. He was appointed to the post of sales supervisor in Dallas in 1939 and became assistant new business manager in 1941. He was named new business manager in 1945, holding this post until his appointment as sales and promotion manager for Lone Star's Dallas Division of Distribution in 1954. His new assignment in the General Division becomes effective February 1.

A graduate of Soldan High School of St. Louis, Missouri, Lynn was graduated from Southern Methodist University is June, 1928, with the Bachelor of Science Degree. He is a member of the Southern Gas Association, the Dallas Sales Executives Club, associate member of the Dallas Real Estate Board and past president of the Blue Flame Merchandising Club of Dallas. He is a Methodist.

Mrs. Lynn is the former Josephine Abraham of Plainview. The Lynn children are Jo, 17, and Jane, age 15 years.

Guilty Pleas Are Entered

Pleas of guilty were entered in district court yesterday by two men charged with felony counts here.

Oscar Ray Menson, charged with burglary of the Vaughn Grocery at Hermleigh last summer, pleaded guilty and was given a two-year prison sentence. He was returned here this week by Sheriff Homer Whisnand from Pecos, where he had been sentenced to two years on a similar charge. He is to be turned over to authorities at Beeville, Whisnand said, where he is wanted on a car theft charge.

The other guilty plea was by Charles Turner, charged with theft from the Rainbow Market. Turner was given a three-year suspended sentence.

Sterling Williams, district judge, presided, and Renal B. Rosson, district attorney, was prosecutor.

Hard-Luck Truck Driver Just Prays

DENVER (AP)—You're a truck driver by profession, married and the father of five children—three girls and two boys.

Fires have burned you out of your home three times in a 17-month period, and not one was covered by insurance.

You've spent 31 months of the past five years in hospitals. You've had 13 operations—the most recent, [illegible] 13. Your left foot is paralyzed: a nerve was pinched in one of those auto accidents in which you've been battered.

You have no job. You walk painfully, and with crutches. Money is running low. What do you do?

"You pray,' 'says George C. Thomas. He knows. All this happened to him. And the ordeal still is not over.

Thomas' first hint of what was to come was in 1950, when he awakened in the night, ill, and called his wife. He was bleeding from stomach ulcers. After recovering from emergency surgery, in the following years he has:

Again had a ruptured ulcer, slipped six discs in his spine when a stairway collapsed, had a bone graft operation to repair the spine damage, suffered severe burns on his left arm when he ignited fuel-soaked papers in an incinerator, dislocated his neck twice in auto accidents, broken a bone in his knee in a fall and, in still a third auto mishap, suffered a fractured hip, two fractures of the knee, broken ribs and a splintered shin bone.

Thomas, a Navy veteran, complains only of the pinched nerve in his left foot.

The doctors say it will be three or four months at the earliest be[illegible]

Police Get Report Of Flying Pearls

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Youngsters told officers the little pellets made great ammunition for bean shooters.

Then the officers told the youngsters they had been shooting real pearls.

Jeweler Charles Uel White, 58, had reported $1,000 worth of the gems taken from his home, a converted bus parked in front of his son's house.

Reports of flying pearls yesterday led sheriff's deputies to a pa of 13-year-old boys firing th through their bean shooters. Th were down to their last $300 worth. Pearls worth $150 were recovered from a juvenile battlefield.

Methodist Men Meet

The Methodist Men of the First Methodist Church will have a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. Monday at the fellowship hall of the church.

President Bob Crowell will head the meeting, and the program will be presented by the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the church.

Workers Conference

A workers conference has been scheduled for 10 a.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church at Colorado City by the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association.

"Evangelism" is the theme of the conference. The host church will serve the noon meal. A WMU association meeting will be held during the afternoon.

Snyder Guard Unit Wins In Rifle Match

The Snyder National Guard unit's rifle team this week won in the first elimination of rifle matches for the Weston Trophy to be presented by the 112th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

The unit's team will next fire in a match for championship of the regiment's Second Battalion, probably sometime in February and probably against Pecos. The Pecos team recently beat the Snyder team out in regional elimination of National Rifle Assocation matches and is to enter state finals in that competition.

The unit which wins the battalion championship will then meet winners of the First and Third Battalions for championship of the regiment.

This week's match was against the Howitzer Company at Brownfield, and the match was held at Lamesa. The Snyder team fired 1,204 points out of a possible 1,500, while Browfield whas 1,124.

Teammembers included Cpl. Garland Newman, who fired 250 out of a possible 300; Lt. Johnny Greenfield, 245; Lt. David Rayburn, 239; Sfc Swayne Camp, 233; and Sgt. Billy J. Crabtree, 227. Others firing whose scores were not counted with the team were Pfc Doyle Sapp, 223; Sgt. Robert Greene, 217; and Sfc Billy Don Martin, 175.

New Officers Elected By Brownie Troop Here

New officers were elected at the meeting of Brownie Troop No. 20 Monday. Those officers are Janeen Clements, president; Patricia Ann Kruse, vice-president; Patsy Orms, secretary and Carol Ann Gregg, reporter.

Leader of this group is Mrs. N. R. Clements.

Hunt For Uranium Breaks Up Marriage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A woman won a divorce yesterday after testifying her husband's hunt for uranium caused a chain reaction that split them apart.

Mrs. Catherine Kerasiotis, 27, said her husband, Peter, 35, went uranium hunting last spring and she didn't see him until August when he returned—empty handed.

When she gave him a choice between further searching or saving their marriage, Mrs. Kerasiotis testified he replied, "I know it's out there somewhere and I'm going to keep looking and you or nobody else is going to stop me."

Under a property agreement, he will pay $150 monthly support for their 4-year-old daughter plus 25 per cent of any riches he may find — uranium or otherwise — in the next 10 years.

Frilly Bedroom Scuffs Are Easy To Make, Fun To Wear

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Maybe you haven't thought how easy it is to make pretty, frilly, feminine bedroom scuffs—perfect for presents, for bazaars or to wear yourself.

You will need a pair of light weight sponge rubber soles, widely available at very low cost; ¼ yard of white or pastel nylon tricot; two 2-inch circles of interfacing material; ¼ yard of 45-inch sheer, crisp nylon in white or a pastel color; and thread to match.

Trace the outline of the sponge rubber soles on paper. Cut a pattern for each sole, allowing ⅝-inch seam allowance around the outside. Use this pattern to cut a for covering each sole.

Now, cut 2 circles of interfacing material, 2 inches in diameter; and cut 7 strips, crosswise the fabric, of the crisp nylon 2 inches wide, to make 3½ strips for the ruffled rosette on each scuffie. Cut 2 bands of crisp nylon 4 inches wide, long enough to cover the widest part of foot, plus 1 inch for seam allowance.

Seam the sole sections with a ½-inch seam, joining in the bands at the widest part of sole, with the outside edges even. Extra seam allowance is taken up by the thickness of the sole. Leave a small opening, and turn fabric right side out with band across top. Slip sole into covering and slip-stitch edges of opening together.

Next, seam 3½ strips of crisp nylon together for each rosette. Pink the seams and pess open.

ROSETTE SCUFFS—Easy to make at home and fun to wear.

Picot 1 long edge, using the hemstiching atachment on the sewing machine. Gather theother long edge, using the ruffler set for a very full gather. Trim seam very close to stitching.

Make rosettes by hand-sewing the gathered strip to the circle of interfacing, starting at the outside and continuing in spiral fashion. Place each circle about ⅛ inch inside the previous one. As a finishing touch, attack a tiny fake rosebud to center of each circle. (Baste or fasten with snap fastener for easy removal when washing) Sew finished rosette to top center of the band on each scuffie.

BAPTIZED AT WHAT AGE?

AT WHAT AGE SHOULD A PERSON BE BAPTIZED? This question cannot be answered in terms of years. The Bible does not answer it that way. The Bible does not even say at what approximate age a person becomes accountable to God. Regardless of the age there are certain conditions that must obtain before one can be scripturally baptized.

ONE MUST HEAR THE GOSPEL BEFORE HE CAN BE BAPTIZED (Mk.16:15.16). "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them . . ." (Matt.28:19). "But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women." (Acts 8:12).

ONE MUST BELIEVE IN JESUS CHRIST BEFORE HE CAN BE BAPTIZED. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved . . ." (Mk.16:16). "See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized? And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God." (Acts 8:36.37).

ONE MUST REPENT BEFORE HE CAN BE BAPTIZED. "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." (Acts 2:38 cf. Lk.24:47).

ONE MUST CONFESS HIS FAITH IN CHRIST BEFORE HE CAN BE BAPTIZED. "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven." (Matt.10:32). ". . . For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness: and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." (Rom.10:9.10: see Acts 8:36.37).

INFANTS ARE NOT SUBJECTS OF BAPTISM; neither is any other person who has not been taught the gospel, nor has believed, neither repented. But any person who has heard and believed the gospel, repented of his sin, and who has made the good confession, is capable of being baptized regardless of his age.

"THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST SALUTE YOU." (Rom.16:16). Nineteen hundred years ago the church you read about in the New Testament was established. Today, she has the same name, worship, organization, doctrine, and life.

Tune in KSNY on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:15 p. m. and hear C. Dale Brooks.

Berryman Is Honored At Birthday Party

A birthday party honoring Robert Berryman was given Wednesday night by his wife in their home at 3206 Avenue A.

Turkey, dressing, cantaloupe, potatoes, peas, banana nut cake, pumpkin pie and coffee were served to Mr. and Mrs. Willie Rogers, Don and Dixie; Mrs. C. W. Berryman; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Jackson, Alton Lynn and Susie; Buddy Jackson of Sweetwafer; and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thomas and Polly.

After the dinner gifts were displayed and the group who are all musicians, played music.

History Of Jewelry Is Discussed Here

Talks on the history of jewelry by Mrs. Pat Carnes, and the history of dress by Mrs. Joe Griffin were given before 13 members of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday in the home of Carolyn D. Reon, 2907 Avenue J.

Mrs. Carnes said, "Personal ornaments have always been used, as they are today, for the purpose of prestige. Mrs. Griffin brought out the fact that costumes became more "involved" as society became more complicated.

Plans were made by the group for a Valentine dinner to be given on February 14th to which husbands and guests will be invited.

New Officers Elected By Snyder Brownies

New officers were elected at the meeting of Brownie Troop No. 23 at their meeting recently. They also decided on arts and crafts as their new project.

The new officers are Brenda Sellars, president; Iona Jean Lewis, vice-president and Neva Fowler, secretary.

Nine Brownies and their leader, Mrs. Bert Sellars, and co-leader, Mrs. Cecil Odell, attended the meeting.

Madame Curie Is Discussed

Mrs. Jack Bowden, 2313 Thirty-first Street, was hostess to the Cosmorama Study Club Wednesday afternoon as it met to continue its study course of the year, "Femnine Focus."

Mrs. Ross Hempill, president of the club, was the study leader for the afternoon on the personality of Madame Curie, the scientist who discovered the magic element radium. Mrs. Hempill said, "This discovery not only gave birth to a new science and a new philosophy, it provided mankind with means of treating a dreadful disease."

Madame Curie's life story sounds like a legend, a woman born in impoverished obscurity, who threw her own deligent study and self denial, became recognized as the world's greatest woman scientist, receiving the Nobel prize twice, In 1934, at the age of 67, she died a victim of anemia, from long exposure to the radium element she and her husband had discovered.

Charm Not Enough For U.S. Women

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Today's young women need something more than a knowledge of how to be charming. Dean Eleanor Tupper of Endicott Junior College, Beverly, Mass., think's it's a big help if they also know how to earn a living.

Dean Tupper is the wife of a Lutheran minister, the Rev. George O. Bierkoe, who also happens to be president of the college, and who is heartily in accord with her determination that their two small daughters, Priscilla and Barbara, are going to learn how to earn a living by the time they are through college.

This husband-and-wife team runs the small New England college strictly on the basis of helping students get practical training for careers. A requirement for graduation is one month each year spent in actual work on a job.

"Every December we send the girls out in the business world in the various fields of their choice," says Dean Tupper.

The college includes the usual arts and science courses in its curriculum, so that girls can go on to accredited universities if they desire. But many students start on their working careers immediately after the two-year course at Endicott.

"The girl who spends her college years merely in studying the liberal arts and in acquiring poise and manners is ill equipped for today's world," says Dean Tupper. "It is tragic, I think, to see the thousands of young women who are graduated each year from our colleges with no practical training in any field, and not the vaguest idea of how to earn a living."

Sale Of Poll Taxes Beginning To Pick Up

Sale of poll taxes is beginning to pick up, and to meet the increased demand, the office of Jim Ikard, county tax assessor-collector, will be open during noon hours beginning Monday.

Ordinarily the tax office is closed at noon, but to held keep the long lines down to a minimum Ikard has scheduled the office to remain open during noon each weekday until the poll tax deadline of Jan. 31.

About 2,600 poll taxes have been paid, and there have been about 700 exemption slips issued, making the total number of qualified voters here about 3,500 so far.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which annual deputies in a poll tax drive, has turned in a number of poll taxes..

Welcome To Snyder

Honors earned by performance will be conferred upon five young Texans here Saturday night, and the mere fact that they are being presented in Snyder is an honor to our city.

Moreover, there will be other distinguished visitors here for the occasion. Men of the stature of Frank Pace, Jr., Ben H. Wooten, and many others who will be in Snyder tomorrow are not in a position to visit cities of 17,000 population often.

In short, the Five Outstanding Young Texans, and those associated with the program this year are busy and successful men. They could well be an inspiration to our community, as they doubtless are to the entire state.

The event will not be merely an assembly of "brain power." Instead it will be a gathering of people who put their mental, physical and spiritual resources to work to produce outstanding results.

Our own Junior Chamber of Commerce as well as the state organization, together with other community leaders, have planned well for this event. As the day approaches, it becomes a city-wide project, one that merits the support of everyone in the community.

The Snyder Jaycees, with full confidence, talked "big" about Snyder last summer when they asked for the FOYT banquet. Their petition was well received.

Consequently, we are happy to be in a position to say "Welcome to Snyder" to the Five Outstanding Young Texans and other distinguished guests.

The Other Side

The momentary and probably transitory fuss being kicked up over Secretary Dulles' ill-considered remarks about the necessity to toe-dancing around on the brink of war to achieve peace has over-shadowed a really momentous issue raised in another but related quarter.

We refer of course to General Matthew B. Ridgeway's series of articles which broke in this week's Saturday Evening Post in which he bluntly charges that Secretary of Defense Wilson tried to pressure him into silence regarding Ridgeway's opposition to the cutback in Army strength. Ridgeway, the staff chief and ex-officio member of the Joint Chiefs, and in theory at least and actually in practice the responsible spokesman for the Army, asserts that this pressure was "incessant" and was used to persuade him to "make my views conform to a preconceived politico-military 'party line'."

Furthermore he says he "most emphatically had not concurred in the 1955 military program as it was submitted to the people," even though President Eisenhower had declared that program was "unanimously recommended by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

He declares that the 1955 budget was a "directed verdict," as were the Army budget for '56 and '57. "They were," he adds, "squeezed within the framework of pre-set, arbitrary manpower and fiscal limits, a complete inversion of the normal process."

Ridgeway had gone as far, publicly, with his protests at the time as he could, but in the end he lost. The reason he gives for his objections to the cut backs were not effective at the time, and may not be particularly persuasive now, but if anything goes wrong with our defenses in the next few months the Ridgeway documents will have a terrific impact on American public opinion, and might prove devastating.

Every thoughtful American should read this, the other side of the national defense story.

Political Dynasty Of Huey P. Long Still Flourishes 21 Years After His Death

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political dynasty set in motion 28 years ago by Louisiana's Sen. Huey P. Long is still formidable instead of fading when he was shot to death in 1935.

This week Huey's brother Earl, 60, was re-elected governor of the State. Huey's son Russell, 37, is a U.S. senator from Louisiana. Huey's other brother George, 72, is a congressman from Louisiana.

After Huey was assassinated 21 years ago at Bajon Rouge, his political heirs ran Earl for lieutenant governor on their ticket. They needed the magic of the Long name.

He became governor in 1939 when Gov. Richard Leche, caught up in the Louisiana scandals, resigned. Leche later went to the penitentiary. None of the scandals touched Earl. But when he ran for a full term in 1940 he lost.

He won in 1948, served until his term was up in 1952, and, because a Louisiana governor can't succeed himself, had to wait until now to try again. Russell won a Senate seat in a special election in 1948 for an unexpired two-year term, won a full six-year term in 1950, and this year must face the voters again.

George was elected to Congress in 1952 at the age of 68. He won re-election in 1954 for a term expiring this year.

Huey's political control of the state hasn't been matched by any of his family, nor has any of them come close to matching his national prominence. But none of them has tried to be another Huey.

Huey was daring, ruthless, a rabble-rouser, and brilliant in his particular kind of way. His energy was endless, like his ambition. He had fantastic power in the state. He hungered for more. His minimum goal was the White House.

It is no mystery how he made his name political magic. He did many things for the people in a state which was so shabby and backward when he was elected governor in 1928.

Russell Long looks like his father but isn't in most ways. Huey was feared in the Senate and was himself afraid. He walked surrounded by bodyguards. Russell is liked in the Senate and acts as if he wants to be liked. He doesn't make much noise.

Huey was an enemy of President Roosevelt. His son is pretty much a political conformist. Rep. George Long doesn't try to be a heavyweight.

Earl has most of Huey's old fire but apparently only a small part of his ambition. He has seemed content with being governor.

Like Huey, Earl talks in terms of poor people. A record number of Negroes, 154,000, registered to vote in this election. Mrs. Margaret Dixon, managing editor of the Baton Rouge Advocate, told this writer Long got the Negro vote.

Why? Long and his four opponents all came out for segregation. But Long, in his 1948-52 term as governor, got old age assistance raised and equalized the pay of white and Negro schoolteachers. Eal may not try as hard as some other Southern governors to frustrate the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in public schools.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

LINCOLN'S SONS. By Ruth Painter Randall. Little Brown.

Abraham Lincoln had four sons — Eddie, Willie, Tad and Robert. Now for the first time the lives of these boys, so different in their distinies, have been brought together with sympathy and understanding by the author of 'Mary Lincoln'."

For once, there is a book jacket brag with which we throughly can agree. Ruth Painter Randall, widow of an eminent Lincoln scholar and biographer, has developed her new work with the same fine delicacy of treatment which illuminated her study of Mary Lincoln, widow of the Emancipator.

As that was subtitled the "Biography of a Marriage," so is this the biography of a family. A family which found great joy in each other, yet was called upon to bear far beyond the usual amount of suffering, grief and inner stress.

Abraham and Mary Lincoln idolized their sons to the point of spoiling them.

The four sons were much alike in the beginning: sunny in spirit, generous, sympathetic, mischievous. Eddie's life was brief. He died in Springfield in 1850, just before his fourth birthday. Willie and Tad went with their parents to the White House to become a pair of beloved rapscallions in myriad escapades that turned the mansion upsidedown and scandalized VIPs. Willie's death in 1862 cut short their mad mutual careers and brought a concentration of of parental affection on Tad that saw his every whim catered to.

Robert was the strange one. He leaned in character to the Todd side of the family. He spent much of the war years away from the White House, at Harvard. He was reserved, perhaps inhibited, possessed of great dignity and pride. Mrs. Randall's best work centers upon Robert.

It is strange that no one before has attempted the story of Lincoln's sons. Yet we can be grateful that the essaying of the task fell finally to the hands of so skilled and able a craftsman.

'South Of The Border' Show Held In Capital

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The Pan American Union here which has been holding exhibits of th work of artists from south of the border, is varying its program with a showing of works by North American sculptors and painters who find their inspiration in Central and South American countries.

"All," says the Pan American Union, "are evidence of the desire for understanding among peoples, an achievement that can be realized first of all through art."

One of exclusive Georgetown's newest enterprises, the Door Store, is operated by Norman Tolkan and his wife, Connie, who adhere to the "do-some-of-it-yourself" school.

Tolkan says that "more and more people are learning by painful experience that the will to do it yourself is not enough. You still have to find the way."

In addition to flush doors of domestic and imported wood, they offer foam rubber cushions, legs of brass, iron or wood, paint and varnish—a "starter" for folks who want to build snazzy furniture for themselves.

The Tolkans, former book editors, met while studying at Columbia University, after she had graduated from Chicago University, and he from Georgetown School of Foreign Service. They opened the "Door" after several years in Europe where he worked for the Marshall Plan and she was an Army Special Services hostess.

Peron Made Vain Attempt To Cast Self In Light Of Religion During His Regime

By BRUCE HENDERSON

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 5 (AP)—"I see Eva.

"She is pretty.

"She loves children.

"She gives them candy."

That was what the first-grade pupil memorized on Page 39 of his reader.

". . . The President of this great country . . . is called 'the foremost Argentine worker.' His name: Juan Domingo Peron. His slogan: Happiness for the people."

The second-grader memorized that on Page 11 of his textbook.

By the third grade, the Argentine child was poring over more complex passages: "Peron . . . raised our standard of living, wiping out hunger from all Argentine homes."

This was "education" under Juan Peron's dictatorship. To drill his concepts into youth he crammed schoolbooks with propaganda which, for its egotism, probably rivaled Hitler's. Peronista-dominated teachers staffed class rooms

This was more than a fight to win young minds. It amounted to a bid for souls, because the strongman cast himself, his late wife Eva and the Peronista movement virtually in the light of religion.

In this, he failed. His insurmountable obstacle was the Roman Catholic Church—which had a head start of almost 2,000 years.

About 90 per cent of Argentina's citizens are Roman Catholics.

Education and religion are vital factors in Argentina's future. Argentina, cut suddenly free after being tied to a dictatorship, could drift anywhere unless its youth lead it to stability.

There are optimistic developments in both classrooms and chapels.

Argentine education is being de-Peronized. Argentine Catholicism exhibits more and more a liberal tendency

Under Peron, children were indoctrinated from the first grade on. Indoctrinating upper grades presented a problem. It is harder to insert propaganda in a high school algebra text. Peron's educators solved this by substituting for civics classes something called "citizen culture" — a course in Peronism.

Outside the classroom teen-agers were urged to join such Peronista-front groups as the union of secondary students. Peron would often appear before such clubs and distribute gifts.

How effective was this indoctrination? One anti-Peronista father thinks it depended largely on the family whether the child became instilled with Peronista fervor. An anti-Peronista family could blunt the propaganda. Peronista parents could enhance it.

Provisional government authorities are acting forcefully to de-Peronize the three R's. Busts of Eva and Juan Peron have come crashing down from pedestals in hallways and classrooms. Pictures of the two have vanished from school walls. Books containing propaganda have been replaced by dusted-off volumes used before Peron rose to power.

Peronista teachers are being fired and replaced by educators forced from classrooms by the Peron government. A decree has wiped out the "citizen culture" course. Another dissolved the union of secondary students and similar organizations.

Private academies, brought under governmental control, got back their autonomy.

Similar changes are taking place with regard to the church.

Late in 1954 Peron accused church leaders of trying to undermine his regime. Many observers believe he made his fatal mistake when he opened his anticlurch campaign.

Today, the church again is unmolested. Gone are the days of Peron diatribes against priests, police-banned processions and burned churches.

Changes also are occurring within Argentine Catholicism which could affect greatly the nation's future.

Catholics were shocked into militant unity during Peron's anti-church campaign. Since then a subtle split has widened between those who think the church should reign supreme, and more moderate Catholics. Critics charge the former would like a Franco-type dictatorship in Argentina.

At present, the moderates appear ahead in this quiet struggle. They came out on top when Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi was ousted in a nonviolent coup Nov. 13. Lonardi was popular with "Catholic nationalists."

The new caretaker regime of Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu has proclaimed itself in favor of democracy and against extremists from either left or right. It indicates it prefers the moderate brand of Catholicism.

Irish Actress Refuses To Americanize Her Personality

By INEZ ROBB

Whatever effect Siobhan McKenna, the Irish actress, may eventually have on the American stage, the American stage so far has had absolutely no outward effect on Miss McKenna. She is still the Celtic blue-stocking of purest indigo, scornful of lipstick and powder off stage, whom I first met in London when she was the undisputed toast of that capital as the Saint Joan of G. B. Shaw's play.

Six months in the U. S. A, first rehersing and now starring in the Broadway hit, "The Chalk Garden," have not induced her to take the shine off her nose or the high off her brow. I discovered this the other day when I went by the theatre to pass the time of day with her.

In her bare face and serviceable tweeds, she would still pass for an absent-minded schoolmarm. Yet, she is delighted that a few persons are beginning to recognize her on the street and ask for an autograph despite her aversion to theatrical galmor.

"And quite a few Americans have written to me in Gaelic," said the woman whose voice is so lilting and musical it must be the despair of the American actresses who come to see her perform. Miss McKenna is a master of that difficult language and since last I saw her she has finished translating "Peter Pan" into Gaelic, as she has several other plays in the past.

Except for central heating - "I am either broiling or freezing all the time" — Miss McKenna has enjoyed the United States on her first visit here.

"I love the taxi drivers everywhere. Such intellectuals!" She marvelled. "They all write plays. When ever I get into a taxi and tell them to take me to the theatre, they immediately tell me about the dramas they've written. One has even written thirty plays. Imagine'

"I love American audiences. They are very warm. I had been warned before I came that they would have a 'show me' attitude, but that's not true at all.

"And the efficiency of the telephone system! In Eire, it takes an hour to get a call through, once you get the girls to quit gossiping long enough to take the number. Indeed, one of the lovely things about America is the genuine wish to please on the part of people everywhere, in store and trains and hotels.

"I find New York overpowering, especially Broadway. It is a great experience for me to go to a party and find so many really great persons assembled in one city in one room at one time."

"As for the American theatre, the rehearsal hours are much longer here. We never, chop, change and rewrite a play in England or Europe during rehearsal as you do here. It require terrific concentration and hard work.

Both Miss McKenna's husband, Dennis O'Dea, a star of Dublins's famed Abbey Theatre, and her small son, Donnacha, are in New York, too.

There has been only one major American crisis since the family's arrival. Miss McKenna was alarmed when she found her small son, just like American kids, "screaming with joy at cowboys killing each other on the television."

There is now no teevee in the McKenna apartment.

Dallas Man Is Champion Attender Of Sunday School

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff

You can bet your bottom dollar George W. McDaniel Jr. will be in Sunday School next Sunday.

He believes he's the nation's champion Sunday School attender. He's attended almost without fail for 44 years.

In the last 1,924 Sundays he hasn't missed once. In the past 2,288 Sundays he missed only during Navy service in World War I and one Sunday when an aunt died just before Sunday School.

"I went when I could while I iel. "Even went to a Sunday School in France where I couldn't understand was in the Navy," recalls McDanstand a word."

That he tried hard you can judge from this: A few years ago a Sunday found him in a Dallas hospital after a hernia operation. His Sunday School class from Highland Park Presbyterian Church came to his hospital room and met there so that his record would be intact.

McDaniel, 61 years old and a six-footer, was with the Abilene Reporter-News circulation department for 26 years ending in 1939. Then came 12 years with the Dallas Morning News during which he distributed nearly half a million copies of the Texas Almanac, which the News publishes.

While traveling for the Dallas Morning News, McDaniel dropped in on Sunday Schools throughout the state. He remembers them from Brownsville to El Paso, from Kermit to Wichita Falls, and from Houston to Corpus Christi.

His first Sunday School teacher was Mrs. M. W. Morrow, a dignified lady who held forth in the First Presbyterian Church at Abilene. She was the daughter of General Sam Houston, first President of the Republic of Texas.

Mrs. Morrow died and her daughters, Misses Maude and Jessie Morrow, took over as Sunday School teachers. They are now Mrs. J. B. Heitchew and Mrs. Robert McDonald.

Since becoming a real estate man six years ago, McDaniel has quit traveling and his Sunday School going is pretty much confined to his own church in Dallas.

McDaniel credits his mother, Mrs. George W. McDaniel Sr., of Abilene, for his perseverance in Sunday School attendance. She was Texas' "Mother of the year" in 1948 and has always been a faithful attender.

Last year was McDaniel's 44th in which he attended at least 50 of 52 Sundays, which meant he was entitled to a little gold and enamel pin with 44 bars. He already has 43 such pins. But he has to wait for his 44th because the company that makes them is having to do a special job on it. The firm doesn't get calls usually for 44-bar pins and didn't have one in stock.

Famous Maitre De' Hotel Suggests A 'Dream Meal'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of my favorite rebel dreams is to see a waiter at the Ritz spill a plate of soup on a celebrity.

"How often does this happen?" I asked Steve Terzano, the maitre d'hotel there.

Steve, a high priest to two generations of international gourmets, lifted his eyebrows in horror.

"Never!" he exclaimed indignantly. "It could not happen. At the very worst a waiter might drop a hot plate to the floor. But spill something on a guest—? Never! never! never!"

Steve deplores the hurried habits of today's harried diners, remembers fondly the days when people took their vitamins more leisurely.

"No meal should be eaten in less than an hour," he said firmly, "and it should be accompanied by a good French wine. Then you will live longer."

Many of Steve's longtime guests refuse even to look at the menu. They insist that he select for them, a task he enjoys, for to him a good meal is like a table symphony.

What do celebrities like to eat? Here are some favorite dishes of some of the well-known people he has served:

Roald Amundsen, the explorer—Corn beef hash topped with an egg.

Robert Montgomery and Queen Marie of Romania—Cold chicken with a liver pate.

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and George Jessel—Boiled beef.

Gladys Swarthout—Lobster thermidor.

Kate Smith and Tommy Manville—French lamb chops.

Grace Kelly and Wendell Willkie—Chicken hash.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover—Bouillabaisse.

I asked Steve, who has selected hundreds of thousands of meals for notables, his idea of a dream meal—"the perfect dinner.' His eyes sparkled at the thought.

"First, assorted hot canapes a la Ritz with a dry martini," he began dreamily, "followed by some black caviar and a nip of aquavit.

"Next, a cup of petite marmite, a soup made of chicken, beef, beef marrow and fresh vegetables, served with grated cheese and floating pieces of toast.

"Next, the fish, english sole veronique, cooked with white wine and white grapes and accompanied by a rhine or moselle wine.

"Next, tender string beans and tournedos gaston, a filet mignon with pate, invented by our general manager, Gaston Lauryssen, and named in his honor, a good French bordeaux wine with this, of course.

"Next, a vanilla souffle with grand marnier liquer, followed by a glass of champagne.

"Finally, coffee demi-tasse, with green creme de menthe for the ladies and a good French brandy for the gentlemen.'

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The directing genius of Arthur Penn received full expression this week with the production of "Lost" on Playwrights 56 (NBC-TV). The Tuesday evening drama was one of the best studies of emotional disturbance ever seen on television.

"Lost" concerned a man who suffered from amnesia. The script by Arnold Schulman was based on a factual study of such an actual man in the New Yorker by Berton Roueche. It was not tragedy in the classical meaning of the word since the victim had no choices in confronting his fate. But its impact on the TV screen was that of tragedy.

Walter Uhlan, superbly played by Steven Hill, was a man who forgot his identity and lost himself in New York. Without indulging in any of the clinical hocus-pocus that so often mars dramas of emotional disturbance on television, Penn and Schulman made it abundantly clear that Uhlan suffered from dementia praecox, a mental disease whose victims are unable to face reality.

The cause of this mental illness is unknown. Its definite cure is unknown. We can only suffer with its victims. Since much of life is suffering, "Lost" gave us much of life. Through the deft use of a Greek chorus technique, Penn touched Uhlan's life with sympathy or misunderstanding. To give proper credit to the actors one would have to recite the entire large cast.

The utter truth of the drama shone through the closing moments when no bromide was offered. It was television at its best.

LEWIS BROTHERS OPEN STATION—Formal opening of the Lewis Brothers Premier Super Service station at 2309 Twenty-fifth Street, will be held Saturday. Lewis Brothers Super Service Station Slates Formal Opening

Formal opening of the new Lewis Brothers Premier Super Service Station at 2309 Twenty-fifth Street will be held Saturday.

Operators of the new station are three brothers who have all been in the service station business here in the past.

They are I. V. Lewis, Pete Lewis, and Hatley Lewis.

The new station features a large service area, serviced by eight delivery pumps, and as many as 16 cars can be accomodated at one time in the service area.

One of the most modern features of the station is the fact that although there are eight delivery "pumps" on the service ramp, there are actually only two pumps at the station, and those two pumps are not located in the gasoline delivery area where cars are filled.

The two pumps are located at the east side of the service station building, and the eight "pumps" on the driveways are actually only meters which count the amounts of gasoline delivered to each car.

"This new system reduced the number of pumps necessary, and enables the station to have more service and delivery facilities," the Lewis brothers said.

All the brothers are native Snyderites.

The new station is owned by the Russell Savage Construction Co., is leased by him to the Premier Oil Co., and in turn leased by Premier to the operators.

At present the station is not kept open after midnight, but will soon go on a 24-hour schedule.

A pair of hose will be given to each woman visiting the station on opening day Saturday, and a pair of new automobile tires will be given as a door prize to a visitor of the station signing the guest register. Prizes will also be given to children of guests at the station.

Snoozing Off Booze

Chicago Youths Beat Teacher Unconscious

CHICAGO (AP)—Two 17-year-old youths have admitted, police said, slugging a teacher unconscious when he sought to eject them from a near North Side grade school.

Winford G. Mines, a former pupil at the school, and Obie Randall were held without charge for further questioning.

Detective John Coughlin said the boys admitted beating Anthony Grott, 32, when he tried to eject the boys because they were bothering girl pupils.

Grott suffered a head wound that required 14 stitches.

Three-State Search Started For Escaped 'Mad Dog' Killer

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Police in three states searched grimly today for Leslie Irvin, described as a "mad dog" killer who escaped from jail while under sentence of death for one murder and indictment for five others.

The hunt was concentrated in the Evansville area and in nearby sections of Kentucky and Illinois.

Illinois state police put out a state wide alert for Irvin last night after authorities at Watseka, Ill., said they had reports he had been seen in Watseka area.

Meanwhile, law officers and witnesses in Irvin's murder trial were given police guards as they hunted the 31-year-old former Evansville pipefitter.

Irvin, convicted of killing an Evansville man and also charged with killing two Indiana women and three members of a Kentucky family, had been scheduled for transfer Monday to the Indiana State Prison at Michigan City to await execution in the electric chair June 12.

Irvin, held in jail at nearby Princeton during the appeal period which followed his conviction and sentencing in Gibson Circuit Court, was missing at breakfast time yesterday.

Four jail doors had been either unlocked or locks picked. Sheriff Earl Hollen said. "There had to be some outside help," adding one man could not have opened the doors himself from the inside. The heaviest snowfall of the winter quickly covered his tracks.

Only Irvin's cellmate Lawrence Bryant, 57, Palestine, Ill., awaiting trial for a triple killing, saw him escape.

Bryant insisted he knew nothing about the escape, but he later told Sheriff Hollen he saw Irvin dress and leave the cell between 10 and 11 p.m. Wednesday. Bryant said he saw no accomplices and did not know how Irvin managed to unlock the doors.

Prosecutor Paul B. Wever, who directed the prosecution that brought the death penalty for Irvin, wore a .38-caliber pistol and said, "I'm taking no chances. Irvin's mind doesn't work like other people's."

Special guards were given two Evansville schoolboys who supplied an important clue in the investigation that led to Irvin's arrest last April 8.

Irvin was described as a stocky 200-pounder, 5 feet 11 inches tall, with dark brown wavy hair, brown eyes and ruddy complexion. When he left the jail he was wearing a dark blue suit and gray overcoat and was bareheaded.

He was convicted and sentenced to death in December for the killing of W. Wesley Kerr, 29-year old Evansville filling station attendant who was shot to death in a holdup Dec. 23, 1954.

He was under indictment for murder in the robbery-killings of Mrs. Mary Holland in her Evansville liquor store Dec. 2, 1954; Mrs. Wilhelmina Sailer in her home west of Evansville March 21, 1955; Goebel Duncan, 53, and his son Raymond, 20, and another son's wife, Mrs. Dorris Ray Duncan, 19, near Henderson, Ky., March 28, 1955.

In the robberies, Irvin's biggest loot was $150, taken from Mrs. Holland's store.

Crumley's Trick With Dynamite Backfires

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Boyd Crumley, 27, gets pretty much of a bang out of life. He makes a business of blowing himself up in a box with two sticks of dynamite.

A carnival performer who makes his home here, Crumley draws about $600 a week for a twice-daily show. He cuddles up with the dynamite in a thin wood box while wearing a crash helmet, ear plugs and goggles.

The act backfired on him 18 months ago and he went to the hospital with a concussion. He tried it again here for the first time since the accident at a special demonstration for some friends, preparatory to 10 months of bookings in Canada.

Crumley bought the secret from another performer, who, he said lost an arm, a leg and both ear drums.

Blonde Gunmoll Gets Money And Long Ride

DETROIT (AP)—A blonde gunmoll calmly robbed a liquor store and then forced two men to take her for an hour's automobile ride about town last night.

Dressed in a Navy peacoat and blue skirt, the blonde stuck up Andy's Liquor Store, looting the cash register of $100 and pinching a pint of booze.

Customers Paul Crowe, 22, and Thomas White, 18, ran after her. When they caught up, they were looking into the barrel of her pistol. She forced them into White's car and then directed their hourlong cruise.

Finally she peeled off 13 one-dollar bills and handed them and the pint over, directing the men to "take them back to the liquor store." Then she fled.

MOSCOW (AP)—You can have a bath once a month if you live in Barnaul in the Altai territory near the Outer Mongolian border. There aren't enough public bath houses to go round.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THERE WAS A TIME (and not too long ago, either) when 40 points by one team in a high school basketball game was considered "out of this world."

But, as you know, times have changed things. Nowadays, a schoolboy team that doesn't average at least between 55-60 points per game isn't going to win many titles.

And even the 55-60 bracket is far too little to cut much ice in District 1-AAA of which the Tigers are a member.

Take Levelland, for instance. The Lobos currently are averaging 72.8 points per game in conference play yet they rank fourth in the standings.

Palo Duro, the 1-AAA leader with a 7-0 record, also has the top scoring mark, averaging 75.5 points per game. And Monterey, in second place with a 5-1 record, is also averaging above 70. The Plainsmen have averaged 71.8 in six games.

What Has Caused The Mounting Cage Scores?

Just what is the reason behind this tremendous scoring change in the cage sport?

It's true the rules are a little different than they were several years ago but the changes are such that it shouldn't make too much difference in the scoring antics.

The game has been pretty much the same since the jump ball at mid-court after each point was eliminated back in the mid-30s.

The major difference since that time is the 1-1 ruling on free shots. Not until just a few years ago, a fouled player only got one shot, unless he was shooting when fouled, regardless of whether he made the shot or not.

Now, if a fouled player makes his first free shot, he gets an extra shot which is termed a "bonus" shot. Basketball critics say this ruling adds between 5-10 points per game over a full season. That still doesn't answer the outrageous scoring done these days.

Some say the game has speeded up over the past years. Where a team used to spend two and three minutes trying to work the ball in for a "cinch" shot, teams nowadays shoot almost at will.

Others say the "one hand" shots have added a lot of points to the game. In yesteryear, long one-hand shots were a rarity. Two-hand set shots was the chief method in shooting long shots several years ago.

This may be one of the reasons for the big scores since it doesn't take as long for a player to get set for a one-hand shot than it does if he uses the two-hand push shot.

Since the game has speeded up, more personal fouls are committed which possibly could have something to do with the big scores.

Not too long ago a player was allowed only four personal fouls before being ejected from a game. Now he is allowed five. This rule, perhaps, was made after the game became such a swife-moving affair that it caused excessive fouling making it much more difficult for a player to stay in the game long under the 4-foul ruling.

Well, there may be other possible reasons for the mounting scores in basketball these days. It's virtually certain, though, you can't pin it down to one thing. Several items are involved.

Only One 1-AAA Team Averaging Less Than 50

Getting back to 1-AAA, only one of nine teams in the district is averaging under 50 points per game in conference play. That would be Vernon which has averaged 43.1 points in six 1-AAA games.

Here is the way the 1-AAA quints stack up in conference scoring (on an average-per-game basis):

Palo Duro, 75.5; Levelland, 72.8; Monterey, 71.8; Sweetwater, 66.3; Plainview, 59.1; Snyder, 59.0; Big Spring, 57.3; Lamesa, 54.0; and Vernon, 43.1.

Palo Duro also has the best defensive mark in conference action. The Dons have allowed their opposition 56.5 points per game.

Defensively, here's the way the 1-AAA fives rank (on an average-per-game basis):

Palo Duro, 56.5; Plainview, 58.1; Monterey, 59.6; Vernon, 61.3; Lamesa, 61.8; Sweetwater, 61.5; Big Spring, 64.5; Snyder, 65.8; and Levelland, 66.2.

Norman (Shorty) Grimmett, outstanding guard for the Snyder Tigers, District 1-AAA champions for 1955, last night was named the "Most Valuable Player" for the Bengals at the annual football banquet held at the high school cafeteria.

Grimmett, who was chosen on the All-District 1-AAA team last fall and later was named on several all-state teams including the one chosen by the Texas Sports Writers Assoication which is considered the "official" all-state eleven, was selected as the most valuable Tiger by a secret vote of the entire Tiger squad.

Carl Herod, a rabid football fan, made the announcement of the MVP. Grimmett will be awarded a trophy for this honor at the Optimist Club luncheon next Tuesday. It was originally planned to award the trophy at the banquet last night but a ruling handed down by the Texas Interscholastic League forbids such an award at a school function.

Last night's banquet was attended by an estimated 450 fans who head Baylor's head football coach, Sam Boyd, give the principal address.

Boyd kept the banqueteers rolling the aisles with laughter with several tales after taking the rostrum.

Then, on the serious side, Boyd urged the players and fans as well not to lose sight of the spirit of football.

"Don't take unfair advantage of your opposition and don't put too much emphasis on winning," Boyd added.

Boyd pointed out that gambling hurts football and urged all to try to curb it.

In conclusion, Boyd said 'as long as football is carried on as it should be the youth of our nation will be benefitted by participating in the sport.

All members of the All-District 1-AAA first and second teams were invited to last night's banquet and all were present.

Seven of the nine 1-AAA football coaches were present. On hand were Elwood Turner of Sweetwater; O. W. Follis of Lamesa; Don Mouser of Plainview; Carl Coleman of Big Spring; Bill DuBose of Monterey; Johnny Hickman of Levelland; and John Conley of the Tigers.

Four 1-AAA school superintendents were present, Olaf South of Sweetwater; Cleo Tarter of Lamesa; Weldon Markham of Levelland; and Snyder's Dr. Cecil Yarborough.

In a special ceremony, coaches of the Tiger varsity, B team and Freshmen teams were awarded cash gifts made possible by football fans of the city.

Conley, the head coach, received a $350 check. His two assistants, Hal Battle and Horace Bostick, each received a check for $175. Jack Dillon, B team coach; J. P. Ward and Vernal Shearburn, Frehman coaches, each received a $100 check.

J. B. Davidson, president of the Snyder Quarterback Club, made the gift presentations.

Wayland Holt, local attorney, served as the toastmaster.

The food for the evening featured barbecued beef, furnished by G. W. Parks of Snyder Meat Co.

At the conclusion of Boyd's speech last night, he showed a movie, in technicolor, of the Baylor-Rice game last fall which was won by Baylor, 15-7.

Scout Names All-American 5 During Lull In Cage Slate

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidney (Sonny) Hertzberg would make an excellent contestant on the What's My Line? television program.

Sonny is a scout for a professional basketball team—the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Assn. As far as can be determined he is the only one in the country with that occupation.

He has seen nearly all of the outstanding college players in the nation. Today he named the top five in this order—Bill Russell of San Francisco, Sihugo Green of Duquesne, Tom Heinsohn of Holy Cross, Ron Shavlik of North Carolina State and Lennie Rosenbluth of North Carolina. All but Rosenbluth are seniors.

"I'd rate Russell just a shade ahead of Green," he said. "Russell is the best big man I've seen and he has unusual stamina for someone with his thin appearance.

"But Green is the top back court man in the country in my opinion. He's capable of stepping into pro ball right now with any team in our league.

"Heinsohn, who'll probably be the Boston Celtics' first territorial draft choice, has great potential. Shavlik is very fast for a big man and is fine defensively. Rosenbluth is just terrific and has definite pro possibilities."

An NBA team is given first crack at a college player whose school is within a 50-mile radius of the pro team's home grounds. Players outside of NBA territory go into a national draft at the end of the season with the last-place team having first choice.

Hertzberg claims that Bill Uhl Dayton's seven - foot center, and Hot Rod Hundley, West Virginia's prolific scorer, are not quite ready for pro basketball's major league. Both are seniors.

"Uhl is exceptionally fast for a man of his size," said Hertzberg. "But I don't think his reflexes are fast enough right now. He might have trouble defensively.

"Hundley is as fine a ball handler as I've ever seen. Maybe another Bob Cousy. But Hundley is a clown and you have to be serious to make good in the NBA. He'd be better off just concentrating on basketball."

None of the top-ranked college teams saw action last night. In fact, the card was the slimmest of the season, partially because of midyear examinations.

In major competition, Manhattan came up with a secondhalf rally to crush Adelphi 90 - 76. Virginia Tech limited Washington and Lee to two points in the last six minutes to post a 60-49 Southern Conference victory. Hack Nichols' 26 points led Colgate to a 76-62 triumph over Cornell. Texas A&M took the lead in the first minute and remained in front to down Sam Houston State 75-46. And Morehead trampled Union 122-70 in a game between Kentucky schools.

Willie Mays of the New York Giants has hit 92 home runs in the National League the last two seasons.

4 SWC 5s In Make-Or-Break Weekend Tilts

By The Associated Press

Four Southwest Conference teams will be battling it out Saturday night in a desperate effort to avoid sinking into oblivion in the loop's basketball race.

If they are to remain contenders for the crown, the Rice Owls, who now have a 3-2 conference record, need a victory at Waco over the Baylor Bears, who with a 1-2 mark seek a win to pull themselves up to the .500 level.

At College Station, Texas Christian (1-2) and the Texas Aggies (2-1), who trimmed Sam Houston State, 75-48, in a non-conference game Thursday, will also be trying to chin the .500 bar.

Defeats will virtually eliminate any of the four teams for the conference crown but none will be forced into the cellar. The idle Texas Longhorns, who have not won a conference game this year and whose coach, Thurman "Slue" Hull, resigned Thursday, have a firm grip on the subterranean spot.

Even a victory will leave Rice trailing badly in the conference race. The Owls are far behind Arkansas (4-0) and Southern Methodist (3-0), both of whom are idle this weekend.

The Cadets had little trouble in polishing off Sam Houston State. They took the lead in the first minute of play and were never in danger of losing it. Ken Hutto with 15 points led the Aggies while Al Adams scored the same number for the Bearkats.

Lightweight boxing champion Wallace (Bud) Smith won the National AAU flyweight crown in 1947.

Tiger Five In Two Weekend Games; Here Tomorrow

The Tiger basketballers journey to Big Spring tonight for the first of two weekend games.

The Bengal quint will meet the Big Spring Steers tonight and then return home tomorrow to host the Levelland Lobos at Tiger Gym.

Tomorrow's game has been reset to start at 5:30 p.m. The game was originally slated to start at 8 but was moved up to avoid conflict with the Jaycee bankuet that will be held Saturday night at the high school cafeteria.

The B game tomorrow will start at 4. The Tiger B will also meet Big Spring B tonight, starting at 6:30. The varsity game at Big Spring tonight will start at 8.

The Tigers will seek to level off their season record at 8-8 tonight at Big Spring, the Black and Golders having won 7 of 15 games to date.

Jack Spikes, who missed the Tigers 55-53 overtime win over Abilene Tuesday night because of illness, is back in school and is expected to be ready for action tonight.

In other 1-AAA games tonight, Palo Duro is at Vernon, Lamesa at Plainview and Sweetwater at Monterey. Tomorrow night, in addition to the Tiger-Levelland game here, Vernon goes to Lamesa and Plainview to Monterey.

NOW...enjoy FORDomatic in your PICKUP... and save money, too!

The new 1956 Fordomatic Pickup takes 90% of the work out of your driving! More important, Fordomatic saves you money.

You avoid clutch repairs because there's no clutch. Fordomatic ends the costly trouble that can come from shock loads with a conventional transmission. No more shock damage to clutch, transmission, differential or rear axle!

Your tires will last longer too. Fordomatic power is supplied to the drive line so smoothly that you greatly reduce the chances of spinning your wheels.

Fordomatic can pay for itself, and then some! And you're almost sure to find at trade-in time that your Pickup is worth more because it has Fordomatic. Treat yourself to Fordomatic!

Truck Owners Say:

"We've spent practically nothing for maintenance in over two and a half years," says florist Max Rapesyk.

"Fordomatic saves time, assures faster deliveries," says pastry distributor A. Selinger. "Cuts route time."

"My whole family prefers Fordomatic," says nurseryman Fred Nurge. "My truck is for family driving, too."

New Ford F-100 Pickup, GVW 5,000 lbs. Choice of 133-h.p. Six or 167-h.p. Y-8, both Short Stroke.

FORD TRUCKS for '56— more horsepower per dollar than any other line of trucks

New Ford Trucks for '56 give you up to 44% more power than any other pickup trucks . . . that's usable power at the rear wheels. Ford gives you most horsepower per dollar—proved by comparisons of net horsepower and suggested list prices of all trucks!

F.D.A.F. NOW AT YOUR FORD DEALER'S

Since 1913 1,553,444 FORD CARS and TRUCKS have been BUILT IN TEXAS BY TEXANS!

Only Ford gives you all these features!

Ford gives you new Lifeguard safety features found in no other truck. The Ford F-100 8-ft. Pickup (priced only slightly higher than standard 6½-ft. model) gives you more loadspace than any other ½-tonner—up to 19 cu. ft. more!

NEW higher power in every engine! Modern Short Stroke power in every model—and at no extra cost!

NEW deep-center steering wheel and new double-grip door latches offer greater protection.

NEW thicker brake linings—biggest brakes in the half-ton field. Up to 33% longer life!

NEW tubeless tires run cooler, have greater blowout protection. Standard on every model—no extra cost!

Wilson Steps Into Ridgway Controversy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Defense Secretary Wilson said today that he and Adm. Arthur W. Radford thought Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway agreed to cuts in Army manpower as shown in the 1954 State of the Union message, but evidently Ridgway's opinions changed later.

President Eisenhower had stated in that message that the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously approved proposed reductions in Army strength in 1954-55. Ridgway then was Army chief of staff. He retired last June.

Writing in the Saturday Evening Post, Ridgway said he had "most emphatically not concurred" in the program to cut Army manpower. He also said he had been pressured to fit his views into what he called "a preconceived politico-military 'party line.'"

Wilson got into the controversy Tuesday when he told a Washington news conference he thought Ridgway's statement about opposing Army cuts was "correct," and that the former Army chief had "continually advocated a higher strength for the Army than the other chiefs."

But when the defense secretary arrived here last night he told newsmen that he and Radford thought Ridgway had concurred in the reduction.

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, backed up Wilson on this point yesterday when he said in Washington that "as far as I can recall" there was unanimity among the members of the top military group.

The Ridgway criticism was brought up yesterday at President Eisenhower's news conference in Washington, and he referred the matter to Radford and Wilson. Eisenhower said they would have to say whether his statement was "incorrect" because his message was checked for accuracy at the Defense Department.

"The President did exactly the right thing in referring the controversy to Radford and me," Wilson said upon his arrival last night.

Primitive Baptist Dates Back To 1895

(Twenty-fifth of a series on Snyder and area churches.)

Among the oldest of churches in Snyder is a congregation which had its beginning in a country schoolhouse and later moved to town.

It is the Primitive Baptist Church, located at Avenue M and Twenty-first Street. The church was constituted at the Bethel schoolhouse, which was about two miles north of Union, on Aug. 17, 1895. Charter members were G. H. Barnheart and his wife, A. B. Woody, whose wife joined at the first meeting, T. A. Bean, and J. A. Bean. Elder William Lago was the first pastor while Woody was clerk.

In May, 1915, the church moved to Snyder at 1501½ Avenue K. It was 1927 when the church moved to its present location. The building will seat about 125 in its auditorium. To the rear of the auditorium is the baptistry and a dining room.

Pastor of the church is Elder S. J. Ellis of Plainview. The congregation's conference meeting is on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and on the third Sunday of each month at 11 a.m. Also regularly scheduled is singing at 7 p.m. each Friday and communion services and foot washing on the third Sunday of May and September. On the first Sunday of each Month, Elder O. C. Floyd preaches, while on second Sundays Archie Robertson speaks to the congregation.

Total membership of the church now stands at 89. Deacons are Gid Chambers, W. M. Hester, W. F. Hester, T. M. Hughes, William Evans, and Zed Wazeck.

Those who have served as pastors of the church include Elders William Legow, J. A. Bean, J. F. Richardson, J. R. Holland, H. C. Marcum, W. H. Bodine, R. B. Hester, W. D. Alldredge, J. B. Owens, and O. C. Floyd.

Clerks of the church have been J. M. V. Bullock, A. B. Woody, D. J. Hull, W. J. Hull, W. A. Temple, J. A. Hester, D. E. Shafer, O. C. Floyd, Amma Harrell, R. W. Alldredge, and Nannie B. Evans.

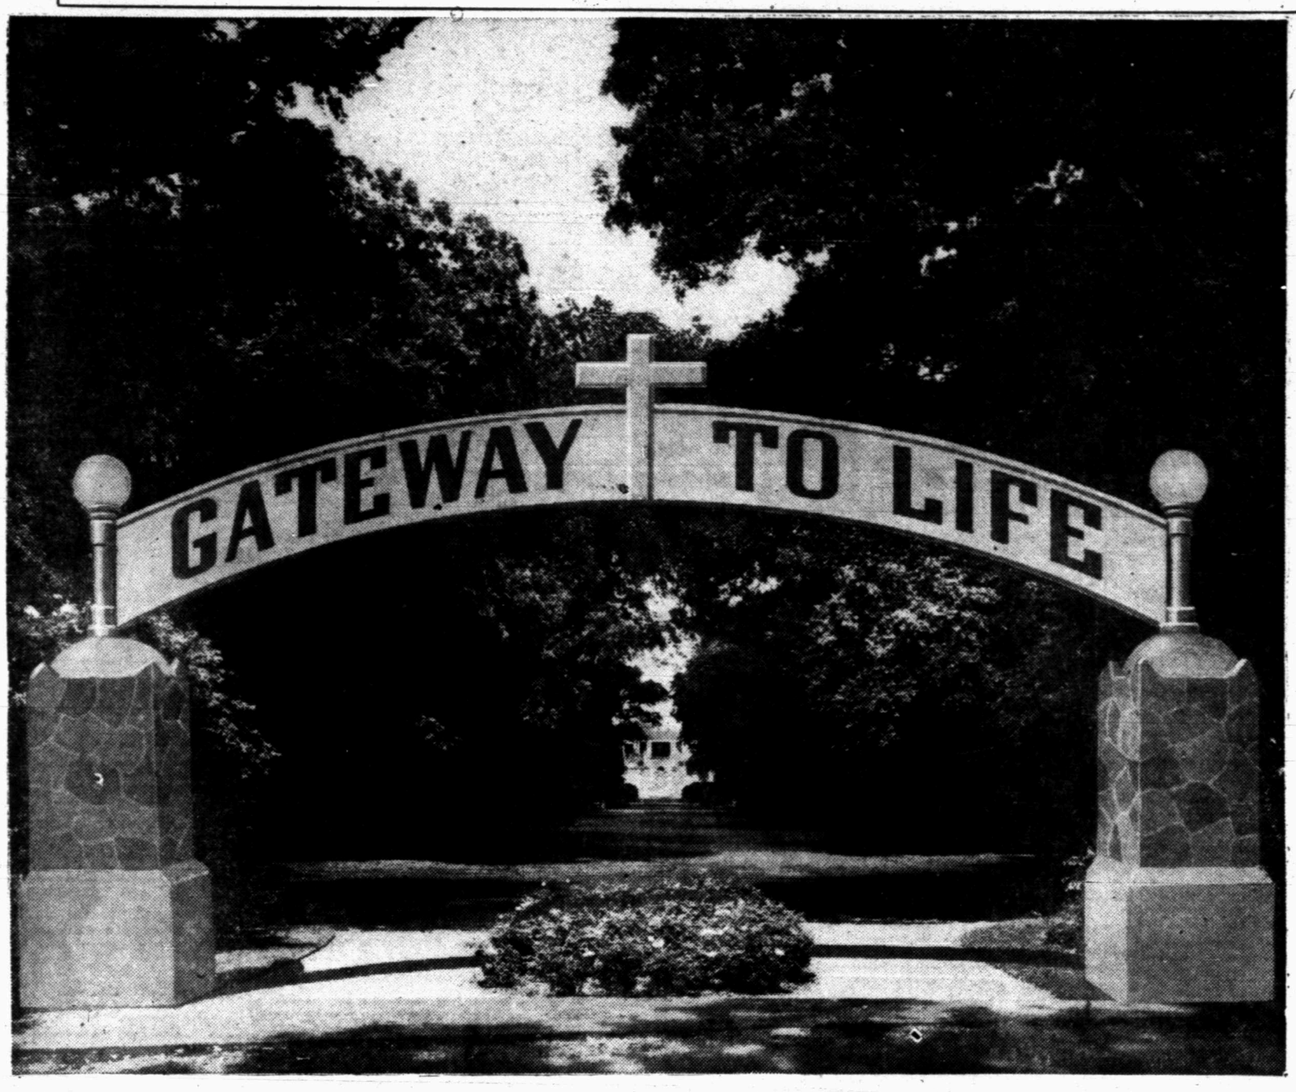
The Public Spirited Firms and Individuals On This Page Bring You This Weekly Message In The Hope That It Will Point To A Better Way Of Life And Be An Inspiration To Everyone.



What a wonderful word is life! More abundant do we want it ever to prove. As we begin to walk a little more slowly up the street the buoyancy of young life impresses us more. The years of maturity, when mental tides are running strong, delivers us at the crossroads where we find ourselves peering anxiously through the Gateway to Life. We are more serious then. The Gateway to Life is the Gateway to God. It becomes more important then to give more attention to our reading and thinking habits. Our interests in life are more glorious ...we are less selfish. We are more interested in the Life Beyond... more interested in our fellow man.

We view through the Gateway to Life something even more fine than either the physical or mental. It is life of the spirit, the part that goes on forever. The Gateway to Life will be found by some as they prepare to leave this body for a home in Heaven. Saint John sets before us the Eternal Life which a man begins to experience today. We know that we have passed from death to life because we love the brethren... we love people. Today will be for each of us The Gateway to Life if we will throw away hatred, malice and greed and join God in practicing love. The church points the way to a fuller and more abundant life... the Eternal Life.

JIM LINDSEY

BILL ALLCORN

BILL BELLAMY

DR. W. S. McBIRNIE

DAN EDDY

Top Five Of Fifty-Five

Pictured on the cover page of this section are the Five Outstanding Young Texans. They were selected from a field of approximately 50 nominees during a meeting of a distinguished panel of judges last Dec. 10 in Grand Prairie.

• • •

BILL ALLCORN: Age 32; Brownwood; attorney-at-law and District Attorney for the 35th Judicial District.

Wife: Marita Shaw Allcorn. Children: two.

The son of a Brown County rural mail carrier, Bill has lived in Brownwood all of his life. He is a graduate cum laude of Baylor University, class of 1949. The youngest man to hold the office of district attorney at the time of his appointment in 1950, he has successfully held that office to date.

Allcorn was appointed to a special assignment in the attorneys general's office to be in charge of the investigation and the prosecution of criminal cases growing out of the veteran's land fraud.

In addition to his active professional duties, Allcorn finds time to participate in most every forward movement in Brownwood. A member of the First Baptist Church, he serves as a deacon and teaches an adult Sunday school class. He serves as a lay preacher and has conducted Laymen's Conferences in Wichita, Kansas and Phoenix, Arizona.

He is a trustee of Howard Payne College in Brownwood and teaches an evening class in Business Law at the college.

A past president of the Brownwood Jaycees, he has served as general chairman of the Brownwood All-Civic Club Christmas Luncheon; as a member of the board of directors of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce and chairman of that organization's education division.

• • •

WILLIAM (BILL) BELLAMY: Age 35; San Antonio; newspaper executive.

Wife: Carolyn Wright Bellamy. Children: three.

During the nine years Bellamy has been associated with the Express Publishing Company of San Antonio, he has worked his way up from sports reporter to Executive Administrator—in charge of the Research and Marketing Department, Promotion, Public Relations and Employee Relations departments for both newspapers, a radio station and a television station.

Bellamy serves as president and squadron commander of the San Antonio Air Force Association; as president of the San Antonio Breakfast Club; as a director of the San Antonio Kiwanis Club and the San Antonio Livestock Show; a member of the executive committee of the Boy Scouts and of the Heart Fund; a member of three Chamber of Commerce Committees and three United Fund Committees.

He is general chairman of the Soap Box Derby and the San Antonio Regional Golden Gloves Tournament.

As president of the Express-News Athletic Association, he has been responsible for many programs designed for the encouragement of athletics among youngsters. He has received numerous awards for his work in staging caddie golf events, Little League and Pony League baseball scholarships and trophies.

Bellamy and his family attend the Methodist Church.

• • •

DAN EDDY: Age 34; Dallas; public relations and fund raising campaigns.

Wife: Katherine Eddy. Children: two.

He is State Service Unit Director, State Campaign Director, State Public Relations Director and Associate Disaster Relief Director for the Salvation Army in Texas.

During the past eight years, under the direction of Eddy, the number of contributors to the Salvation Army has increased 150 per cent while the state budget has increased 400 per cent and the number of service centers has grown from 31 to 161. This phenomenal expansion has made it possible for thousands of blind, crippled, hungry and homeless people to be cared for in the American and the Christian way.

During 1955, Eddy organized 15 Community Chests and United Funds in Texas. He is nationally recognized as having organized more Chests and Funds than anyone else.

Eddy has received many honors throughout the state for his work with Community Chests and United Funds. Recently he was honored by the Oak Cliff Chamber of Commerce as the "Man of the Month."

Eddy is a member of the Bethel Temple Church in Oak Cliff.

• • •

JIM LINDSEY: Age 29; Texarkana; attorney-at-law and member and Speaker of House of Representatives of Texas.

Wife: Moja Yvonne Lindsey. Children: two.

Lindsey is a graduate cum laude of Baylor University. He was elected to the Texas House of Representatives at the age of 22.

A proven leader among men with years of experience, he has been called upon by the leadership of the House to serve as one of the floor leaders for the major education legislation of the past 30 years in Texas, thus paving the way for his election as Speaker. While this key post is usually filled by senior members, he was chosen unanimously by his fellow members and was the youngest man ever to be elected to this high position.

In his term as Speaker, the Legislature made many major reforms in state law, including the most extensive reform of insurance laws in 48 years.

• • •

DR. WILLIAM STEUART McBIRNIE, JR.: Age 35; San Antonio; minister.

Wife: Phoebe Jane McBirnie. Children: one.

Climaxing six years work in San Antonio, during 1955 Dr. McBirnie saw the membership of the Trinity Baptist Church reach 2,000; the property expand to 5½ acres with seven buildings and the budget attain a new high of $226,000.00.

Under his leadership and guidance, one of the most complete church recreational buildings has been completed during 1955. Also during the year, he made the first photographic expedition ever to record the entire life history of the Apostle Paul.

In addition to his regular pastoral duties he takes an active part in the activities of the Community Chest of San Antonio; has established a chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous; and works with the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Girl Scouts. He has established a Museum of Archeology in the church which contains hundreds of ancient items from Mexico and the Near East.

Dr. McBirnie has lectured to many groups during 1955, including service clubs, learned societies and conventions as well as many religious groups other than the congregation of the Trinity Baptist Church.

He is a member of the Catholic Church the American Welding Society and the Knights of Columbus in addition to his Jaycee activities.

Red Attack Is Expected

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's air force commander says the Communists may attack the offshore islands at any time and if they do he will go after their bases.

Gen. "Tiger" Wang Shu-Ming in an interview likewise expressed doubt that the numerically superior Red air force could maintain air control over the offshore island front.

"Sure the Communists have a lot more planes — good planes—MIG15s, MIG17s and twin-jet IL-28s," said the Tiger.

"But if they attack the islands and we destroy their bases, how will they be able to win air superiority? The most important target will be their bases.

"Some people don't think there is much possibility of an early invasion of the Quemoy and Matsu island groups. We can't be so optimistic. It is possible for the attack to come at any time."

Matsu Island is 100 miles northwest of Formosa and Quemoy is 120 miles across the strait.

E. A. (BRUSE) FIELDS

Fields Heads Many Projects

E. A. (Bruse) Fields, State Vice President of Region 6, makes his home in San Angelo. He and his wife, Sibyl, and infant daughter, live at 2827 Colorado Street.

Bruse has been a member of the Jaycees for four years into which he was crowded numerous activities. He has acted as Chairman for a number of local projects, served on the Board of Directors, elected local President for the 1953-54 year and State Director in 1954-55. He was chosen to represent Region 6 as State Vice President at the Sweetwater Tri-Regional meeting last January 23rd and took office May 1st.

Bruse is co-owner of International Securities Co. of San Angelo and among other outside activities is a member if the Masonic Lodge.

Stability In Aluminum Industry Is Predicted

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The aluminum industry, which has spent more than a billion dollars in the past decade in plant expansion, will match that figure in the next, says Robert B. McKee, vice president of the Aluminum Co. of America.

McKee told the National Metal Awning Assn. convention that business will continue good for the next 10 years.

President Of State Jaycees

Ed Stumpf, current president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, came to Texas from Virginia. After graduating from Virginia Military Institute he spent 4½ years in the Air Force, being discharged with the rank of major. He is a partner in the firm of John L. Wortham & Son of Houston, Texas; is Executive Agency Supervisor of the American General Insurance Co. Houston; and a vice president of the Southside Brick Works, Inc., Richmond, Virginia.

Ed has been active in Jaycee circles since 1950 serving as vice president and state director of his local club. In 1954 he was elected a national director and also served in the important position of National Convention Chairman. At the San Antonio State Convention in April, 1955, he was the successful candidate for the state presidency.

Stumpf's other activities are many and varied. He is president of the VMI Alumnae Association of South Texas; secretary of the Citizen's Traffic Commission of Houston; and a director of World's Fair of Houston, Inc. He is a member of St. Theresa Catholic Church, Knights of Columbus, Rams Club, Ford Club, Dad's Club and the Town Club.

Ed and his charming Emily, who is a third generation Houstonian, have been married 13 years. They are the proud parents of two children, Kathey, age 12, and Toby, 7. The Stumpf residence is at No. 2 Rip Van Winkle, Houston.

ED STUMPF

Over pumping of wells in Florida has led to seepage of sea water as far as eight miles inland in some places.

Pepper Pickle Claim Made

SAN MARCOS (AP)—The operator of a Greek restaurant calls himself the champion pepper pickler.

It began because a traveling salesman gave Bill Pappas a taste of jalapeno peppers brought from Mexico. Pappas, who still operates Pappas' cafe here, vowed he could make better pickled peppers.

When the traveling salesman returned several months later Pappas had several jars of Pappas-made jalopenos to prove his boast. The salesman agreed with Pappas, and the cafe has operated a sideline pickle business since that day in 1932.

Pappas—born in Greece, in 1907—now pickles 12 varieties of pickled delicacies. During the summer tourist season he sometimes pickles 50 and 60 bushels of peppers at one time.

Netherlands Prince

DALLAS (AP)—Netherlands Prince Bernhard, on his first visit to Texas, will be the Dallas weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. George McGhee. The prince will be in Houston Monday and Tuesday. McGhee is a former ambassador to Turkey.

Honoring The Five Outstanding Young Texans

We Are Proud To Have This Affair In Snyder

Jones Locker Plant

2003 - 25th. Phone 3-3111

Outstanding Young Texans Are Named By Distinguished Group

The judgment of distinguished men is required to select the Five Outstanding Young Texans.

That is the theory subscribed to by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce each year, and it has proved to be sound, according to Ed Stumpf, state Jaycee president.

This year, the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce called upon eight of the state's "busiest" men, all of them well known and particularly successful in their respective fields.

Without hesitation, they devoted valuable time to the task, despite demands from their own businesses and professions, Stumpf emphasized.

The panel of distinguished judges was composed of Dr. E. H. Hereford, president of Arlington State College; Charles P. McGaha, president of the City National Bank in Wichita Falls; Col. Homer P Garrison Jr., director of the Texas department of Public Safety; C. T. McLaughlin, oil operator and rancher of Snyder; Maj. Gen. Kearie L. Berry, adjutant general of the State of Texas; Dr. Henry Holle, state health commissioner; Ben H. Wooten, president of the First National Bank in Dallas; and Forrest E. Roberts, district governor of Rotary International of Carthage.

The judges met at the state Jaycee headquarters in Grand Prairie last Dec. 10. At that time they considered some 50 nominations which had been submitted. Prior to that various industries, professions and businesses throughout the state had been asked to submit nominations.

The panel of judges, after considering the "evidence," or supporting data with the applications selected the Five Outstanding Young Texans.

Wooten will present the panel's formal report at the banquet here Saturday night.

The Five Outstanding Young Texans must be men between the ages of 21 to 36. It is not necessary for the recipients to be a member of a Junior Chamber of Commerce.

JAMES FLYNN CHAMBLEE

Engineer Is Jaycee Veep

James Flynn Chamblee is 30 years old and one of the few bachelors on the TJCC Executive Committee. He is a graduate of Southern Methodist University of Dallas, holding a BS in Electrical Engineering and a BBA in Industrial Administration. He is a registered professional engineer. Flynn lives at 1511 South Barry, Dallas.

Flynn has been very active with the Dallas Jaycees during his 3½ years membership with that organization. He served as their General Chairman of: Recognition and Awards; Americanism, for which he received a Jake, (honorary Texas Jaycee Award); Profit Making Acitivites; Personnel Participation. He was Director of Americanism, for which he received his second Jake; Agriculture; International Relations; Aviation and Religious Activities, in which latter category he received his third Jake. He served on committees and directed many other Dallas Jaycee activities. On the National level he served on the National Awards Committee for the year 1954-55 and at the Greenville Winter Tri-Regional was elected State Vice President to represent Region 15.

From 1948 until several weeks ago, Flynn was Assistant to the Director of Industrial Development of the Texas Power & Light Company of Dallas, from which position he resigned to become affiliated with the Line Material Company of Milwaukee. His other activities are many — both social and civic. He is a member of the Christian Church, Texas Society of Professional Engineers, National Society of Professional Engineers, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Dallas Electric Club, S. M. U. Lettermen's Assoication, Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, Toastmasters International, Red Cross and Community Chest.

Drought Is Broken

ST.LOUIS (AP)—A two-inch snow broke the longest drought in St. Louis history and the Weather Bureau forecast another inch would fall Thursday. The snow came during the 47th day without measurable precipitation.

Durocher Called Out As Television Emcee

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Former baseball manager Leo Durocher is out, at least temporarily, as master of ceremonies for the televised NBC Comedy Hour.

A network spokesman said Durocher is busy with other commitments and that he had agreed to do three shows and already has done two.

Those two were part of a series in which NBC hopes to capture some of the viewing audience from the Ed Sullivan Show on rival CBS. However, ratings of the program's drawing power were disappointing.

The spokesman said this Sunday's program is planned with no master of ceremonies, but Durocher, who has a 150,000-a-year contract with NBC, is expected to return at a later date.

Carnegie Hall Program Set

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A fellow who claims to be 39 and has been a violinist 47 years reports now that he will play with the New York Symphony Orchestra in Carnegie Hall on Oct. 2.

The man, of course, is comedian Jack Benny who stopped counting his age when he approached 40. He said yesterday that his New York appearance will be under the baton of Alfred Wallenstein and added:

"I shall try to sound like I'm good enough to play with the symphony even though everyone in the audience knows I'm not."

Despite the way he murders "Love in Bloom" in public, Benny has been a violinist since 1909 when his father gave him the instrument he still uses.

Benny said his appearance was part of the "Save Carnegie Hall" program.

Boost In 'Salary' For Prisoners Sought

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—With salaries on the increase in other fields, two San Antonio police officials recommended today that city jail prisoners also get a boost in "salary" for "laying out fines."

Inspector E. P. Bogasch recommended that the city's 50-year-old policy of allowing prisoners $3 per day for serving out fines they can't pay be increased to $5.

Police Chief George Bichsel endorsed the idea.

"Everything else has gone up, why shouldn't this?" asked Bogasch.

BEN H. WOOTEN
. . . a busy Texan

Dallas Banker To Give Report Here

Ben H. Wooten, who will formally present findings of a special committee to select the Five Outstanding Young Texans of 1955, is one of the Southwest's most successful and well-known bankers. Yet, he is identified with enough other activities of a civic, or service, nature to keep even a Texan busy.

He served on the panel of distinguished judges at the request of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the men this panel recommended will be honored here Saturday night at the annual Jaycee FOYT banquet.

Serving on the panel with Wooten were Dr. E. H. Hereford, president or Arlington State College; Charles P. McGaha, president of the city National Bank in Wichita Falls; Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety; C. T. McLaughlin, well-known Snyder oilman and rancher; Maj. Gen. Kearie L. Berry, adjutant general of the State of Texas Forrest Roberts, District Governor of Rotary International; and Dr. Henry L. Holle, state health commissioner.

A native of Timpson, in East Texas, and a graduate of North Texas State College, Wooten has been in the banking business since 1919 when he became assistant cashier of the Alba National Bank. In 1923 he was made cashier and operating executive officer of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank in Farmersville; became a state bank examiner in 1926 and departmental state bank examiner in 1927.

He was appointed chief examiner for the system and helped set it up on a national basis when the Federal Home Loan Banking System was created by an act of Congress in July of 1932. Then on Oct. 15 of the same year, Wooten was elected president of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock, Ark. which serves the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Texas.

He held that position until April 1, 1944, when he became chairman of the board of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock, and vice president and a member of the executive committee of the Republic National Bank of Dallas. He resigned his position with the Republic National Bank on Feb. 6, 1950 to become president of the First National Bank in Dallas. He continued as chairman of the board of the Federal Home Loan Bank at Little Rock until Dec. 31, 1953.

In 1950, Wooten was named Dallas' top salesman of the year by the Dallas Sales Executives Club, and then was named Dallas' Headliner of the Year on May 3, 1952 by the Dallas Press Club. He was presented the Linz Award, Dallas' top honor for community service, on Feb. 19, 1953 in recognition of work for his community during 1952.

Wooten served as president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce in 1952-53, and in June, 1952, he helped organize the Texas Research league, a citizen-supported agency devoted to research programs and problems of Texas government. He served as chairman of the research league's board until October, 1954.

At present, in addition to serving as president of the First National Bank in Dallas, Wooten is chairman of the board of regents of North Texas State College, trustee of Baylor University, director of Dallas Federal Savings and Loan Association, the Association of Reserve City Bankers, Dallas Citizens Council, State Fair of Texas, Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, Baptist Foundation of Texas, Relief and Annuity Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, Texas Research League, Dallas Country Club, Young Men's Christian Association, Dallas Heart Association, and numerous other organizations.

Lady's Memory Lapse Causes Big Headache

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A kindly old lady apologized to the Police Department yesterday for all the fuss she caused over $38,584 in stocks and bonds that she thought had been stolen.

It was all due to a lapse of memory, 71-year-old Mary Wright explained. The securities were tucked away in a safety deposit box neatly wrapped as she had left them.

Miss Wright called at her bank yesterday, looked in her safe deposit box—and there were the securities. She said she could not remember putting them there.

PHIL REGAN

Phil Regan Back To Appear Saturday

A man well-known in entertainment circles as one of the top Irish tenors in the business will make his fourth appearance in Snyder as an entertainer Saturday night.

He is Phil Regan, who has appeared on numerous national network radio and television programs, as well as making a number of motion pictures.

Regan will present music on the evening's main program at the Texas Jaycee Five Outstanding Young Texans banquet here.

First appearing here in 1953 at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, Regan was so well-received that he asked to be invited back the next year. So he appeared here again at the chamber banquet in 1954, and again he requested that he be asked back to Snyder. His third appearance here was last year at the chamber banquet.

Throughout all his appearances here, Regan has referred to Snyder as something of a "second home," since he is also financially interested here by way of owning Scurry County oil property.

Born in 1908 in Brooklyn, N. Y., Regan is married and has four children and a number of grandchildren. His permanent home is in New York City.

Regan has been a star in motion pictures, radio, and later television for a total of 24 years. He has also made many recordings.

Early in his life Regan was a clerk for an oil firm, and he later served as a court clerk in New York City. He then became a detective on the New York City police force. Throughout those times he was studying voice.

Later signed by Columbia Broadcasting System, Regan became a professional singer. He contracted with Warner Bros. in Hollywood to make a number of motion pictures, including "Stars Over Broadway," "Sunbonnet Sue," "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," and "Sweet Adeline."

FRANK PACE, JR.

Pace Is Selected As Speaker Here

Frank Pace, Jr., who will be principal speaker at the banquet honoring the Five Outstanding Young Texans here Saturday night not only is a noted business executive, but also has had a distinguished career in the service of his government.

To the average layman, he probably is best known for his service as Director of the Budget of the United States and as Secretary of the Army. He is now executive vice president of General Dynamics Corp., New York, and a vice chairman of the board of that firm's subsidiary, Canadair Limited of Montreal, Canada.

Following his service as budget director, Pace was nominated by President Harry S. Truman as Secretary of the Army. Subsequently, he was responsible for the Army's rapid expansion to meet the emergency of the Korean War.

He had served as assistant director of the Bureau of the Budget prior to his appointment as director in 1949, and for two years prior to that he was executive assistant to the Postmaster General.

In December, 1950, Pace acted as chairman of the Defense Ministers Conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Brussells, and then served as a delegate to NATO conferences in Ottawa and Rome in 1951. Following his appointment in 1950, Pace held office as Secretary of the Army for the remainder of the Truman Administration, until Jan. 20, 1953. He joined General Dynamics Corp. in May of that year.

A native of Little Rock, Ark., Pace received his bachelors degree from Princeton University in 1933 and his LLD degree from Harvard Law School in 1936. He began his public service career as assistant district attorney for the 12th District in his native sate and held that postion from 1936 to 1938. During the next three years, Pace was general counsel for the Arkansas State Department of Revenue.

He entered the Army in 1942 as a second lieutenant, and served with the Air Transport Command of the Army Air Force for four years, during which he rose to the rank of major. At present, he holds a reserve commission as lieutenant colonel in the Air Force.

Pace married Margaret Janney of Philadelphia in 1940. They have three daughters, Paula, 13; Priscilla, 10 and Margaret, 3.

He is associated with many organizations, including the Atomic Industrial Forum, as a director; the Reserve Officers Association of the United States; member of the national defense committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; member of the national board of Boys' Clubs of America; member of advisory council of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University, and is an honorary life member of the National Security Industrial Association.

Skipper is an active member of the Methodist Church and is also President of the Lamb County Fair Association.

OTHA (SKIPPER) SMITH

Man Nabbed For Attack

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—A 33-year-old itinerant was arrested yesterday shorty after 7-year-old Carla Hixon, kidnaped on her way home from school, was found battered and bleeding in the desert.

County Atty. William P. Mahoney Jr. said in Phoenix he planned to charge the man, Wayne Vance Taylor, with the abduction. The child, who was found unconscious under a bush about eight miles northeast of here, was reported in serious condition.

Mahoney said Taylor admitted he picked the girl up in his car Tuesday afternoon but claimed he could not remember what happened later. The county attorney said Taylor probably would be charged with kidnaping, aggravated assault and grand theft.

A doctor at the hospital where the girl was taken said an examination showed she had been sexually molested.

Taylor told officers he had been living in a car.

Sheriff Cal Boies said Carla regained consciousness shortly before Taylor was arrested and described her assailant.

"He wanted to pick me up and take me home," she said. "I didn't want to get in the car. Then he hit me . . . and dragged me into the car.

"Then he took me to the desert."

John Aikin is from Herford, where he resides with his wife, Mel Ruth, and two children. They make their home at 407 Avenue J.

John has been a member of Jaycees since 1948 and has served in numerous capacities for his local club. He was a member of the Board of Directors for three years and then served a term as vice president and ultimately president of the Herford Jaycees. At the beginning of the 1955-56 Jaycee year he was elected to represent Region 1 as state vice president.

Beside maintaining his own law practice, John finds time to be a member of the Masons, the Lions Club and an active participator in the affairs of the Christian Church, at the same time carrying out his many duties as a member of the Executive Committee of the Texas Jaycees.

Timely Address

DALLAS (AP)—Hotelman Conrad N. Hilton yesterday got a timely new address for the plush 16-million-dollar 1,001-room Statler Hilton which is being opened here this week. The entrance of the 20-story structure, which covers almost an entire block, is at 1914 Commerce but Mayor R. L. Thornton officially designated the hotel's address at 1956 Commerce to coincide with the year of the opening.

SKY WATCHERS—Air Force technicians watch scopes connected to electronic computor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge, Mass. This was the first machine computor used in SAGE (Semi-Automatic Ground Environment) system being tested currently in the development of an automatic air defense system at Lincoln Laboratory at Lexington, Mass. When fully operational, SAGE system will receive information and "recomend" procedure to commanders, will steer interceptor planes to approaching enemy bombers and will fire missiles of the interceptors.

East Is Blanketed By Heavy Snowfall

By The Associated Press

The season's heaviest snowstorm in the eastern half of the nation draped a welcome blanket of white across the parched farm lands of the Southern Plains and Midwest, then moved into the Atlantic Coast today.

Snow fell during the night and morning from the lower Great Lakes region eastward to the Mid-Atlantic states southward as far as West Virginia and Maryland.

Early reports indicated fairly heavy falls, with 4 inches reported at Baltimore and 3 inches at Philadelphia. The storm headed into New York and the New England region.

Snow measured up to 10 inches in some areas hit by the mid-January storm yesterday. The storm center, weakening as it moved from the Gulf northeastward along the western slopes of the Appalachians, dumped snow over most of the Ohio Valley and the Mid-Atlantic states. There was rain, sleet or freezing rain in the Carolinas and Virginia.

Traffic was disrupted in many cities and driving conditions were hazardous on the snow-slickened highways.

But to farmers in areas where there has been little precipitation this winter the snow was hailed as welcome relief to dry farm lands. In Texas a state official described the snow as worth "millions and millions" to farmers suffering from winter drought.

In St. Louis, where there had not been measurable precipitation in 47 days, the longest drought in the area's history, snow measured more than 2 inches. Four deaths were attributed to the storm in Missouri.

In nearby southern Illinois, where lands also were in need of moisture, the fall was to a depth of 8 inches in some places.

The heaviest snowfall in several years—around 10 inches—hit Cincinnati yesterday. Some schools closed, the city airport was shut down and traffic was snarled.

Seven inches of snow fell in sections of Pennsylvania. Falls in most other areas ranged up to 5 or 6 inches.

Snow diminished over most of the mid-continent during the night with only flurries reported this morning across the upper Great Lakes, parts of the Ohio Valley and the Northern Plains.

A belt of rain and snow extended from the Central Plateau region to the west slopes of the Rockies. Light rain fell in the Pacific Northwest.

Colder air spread south and eastward yesterday in the wake of the storm and temperatures dropped 10 to 20 degrees, into the 30s and 40s, in the Southeast. At Charlotte, N. C., the drop was from 61 to 38. Meanwhile, readings moderated in Texas and the Western Plains.

It was generally cold east of the Rockies today except in Florida and Southeastern states and southern parts of the Gulf states.

Coldest region again today was the Northern Plains with more below zero readings. It was -19 at Minot, N. D.

Auto Industry Selling Race Sparks Furor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said today the "white-hot race" for auto sales supremacy between Chevrolet and Ford caused "many of the troubles now plaguing the auto industry and its dealers."

The senator made this comment in an interview as the Commerce subcommittee on automibile marketing he heads scheduled its second hearing on charges of abuses in car selling practices.

Monroney said that in talking to car dealers privately in preparation for his hearings, he had found many who blamed the Chevrolet-Ford contest for abuses.

After Chevrolet had held the lead in industry sales for about two decades, it was challenged heavily by Ford in 1954. The outcome was so close both sides claimed victory, using different sets of figures.

Chevrolet was victorious last year on the basis of unofficial sales figures, although Ford was a close second.

The Oklahoma senator said it appeared to him that the race contributed to car "bootlegging," or discount sales by regular dealers to nonfranchised dealers.

Monroney cited the case of an Oklahoma dealer who, he said, received a letter from his zone manager berating him because a competitor finished ahead of him in sales for one month.

"I have seen that letter, and it's the kind that shouldn't have been written to a dog, much less to a responsible, successful business man," the senator said.

"The dealer told me his competitor had built up his sales by bootlegging. But he went on to say, 'Next month, I'm going to be the biggest bootlegger in the state of Oklahoma, because I'm never going to get another letter like that.'"

Three American jockeys who have ridden 3,000 or more winners plan to ride at Hialeah this winter. They are Ted Atkinson, Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Adams.

Report Given On Livestock

AUSTIN (AP)—The number of cattle and calves on feed for the market in Texas Jan. 1 was estimated at 143,000 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture today.

This was 8 per cent more than a year ago. The USDA said large commercial feed lots with a total of 82,000 head on feed Jan. 1 were operating at a level 24 per cent above a year earlier.

In the High Plains irrigated areas where large grain, hay and silage crops are produced, cattle feeding on farms is at a considerably higher level than a year ago.

In most other areas, a lower level of farm feeding more than offset that High Plains increase, the department reported.

The USDA said if cattle are moved out of feed lots about as expected, January marketing, at 32,000 head, will be a little above a year earlier.

Pennies Prove Costly

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Raymond Paulus, 51, was sentenced to serve one day in the House of Correction for each of the nine dimes he admitted stealing from a March of Dimes display at a depot here. Paulus, charged with disorderly conduct, said in District Court he took the 90 cents because "I needed a pair of socks."

GENE PEARSON

Active Jaycee For 5 Years

Gene Pearson is from Lamesa, where he lives with his wife, Phyllis and their three children, a boy 13 months, and two daughters, 3 and 6 years of age. They reside at 1004 North Eighteenth Street in Lamesa.

Gene has been a member of the Jaycees for five years and has been very active on all local projects. He has also served as local president of the Lamesa Jaycees. He was elected to serve as state vice president of his region at the Pampa Bi-Regional Meeting in February to take office in April of the same year.

Although his many duties as a state vice prisident are time consuming, Gene still finds time to be an active member of the Second Baptist Church of Lamesa and is on the Citizens Traffic Commission. His business affiliation is as service manager of the Lamesa Hardware Co.

H. R. MATRISCIANI

Active Jaycee Since 1952

H. R. Matrisciani, State Vice President of the Texas Jaycees representing Region 10, makes his home in Victoria. With his wife, Helen, and two young daughters, he resides at 610 Buena Vista Avenue in that city.

One of Victoria's most enthusiastic and active Jaycees since 1952, Matt has served as Local Secretary and Local President and has chairmanned projects and committees too numerous to mention. Among the awards he has received is "Outstanding Local Jaycee Secretary of Texas" in 1953-54 and the "Distinguished Service Award" for 1954 presented by the City of Victoria.

A familiar figure at all regional and state Jaycee conventions, Matt still finds time to act as a member of the board of the Victoria Coutny Young Republican Club, has served as past president of the Southeren Pacific Service Club, past president of the local lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and is a past chairman of the Disaster Committee of the Victoria County Red Cross.

Matrisciani is employed by the Victoria Division of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Baker Holds State Office

Don. C. Baker, executive vice president of the Texas Jaycees, has held this position since his appointment in November of 1954. Prior to his appointment he had served at the State Headquarters in Grand Prairie as Administrative Assistant for over a year. Before accepting the state level position with the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce Don, his wife, Evelyn and 4½ year old daughter lived in Kerrville, Texas, where he was an active member of the Kerrville Jaycees. He served his local club as Local Committee Chairman for numerous projects, was a member of the Board of Directors one year and Local Vice President for three years.

Don is a member of the American Legion, having served 29 months in the European Theatre, and attends the Christian Church.

The Bakers reside at 1707 Reever in Arlington.

DON C. BAKER

In Jaycees Since 1947

Bill Moody was born in Fort Stockton, where he still makes his home, 34 years ago. He attended Fort Stockton High School and completed his education at Texas Tech at Lubbock. Bill and his wife, Nita, and their two children, make their home at 7007 West Fourth Street in Fort Stockton.

Bill has been a member of the Jaycees since 1947 and has been an active member since joining. He has served as chairman of numerous committees, as state director and as president of the local club. He was elected to represent Region 4 as state vice president at the Sweetwater meeting last January.

His many other activities include serving as county commissioner of Pecos County, chairman of the Girl Scout Council, Finance Chairman of the Sheriff's Posse, member of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and a past commander of the American Legion.

Better Times For Chinese Is Reported

HONG KONG (AP)—A British professor says the mainland Chinese lead drab lives but seem to have a higher standard of living than in pre-Communist days.

After a three-week tour of the mainland, Prof. E. Stuart Kirby of Hong Kong University says his observations make him agree with Sir Winston Churchill that communism is "an equal sharing of squalor."

He said that although the Chinese Communists tried to impress upon foreign visitors their desire for peace, he had never seen so many soldiers as in Red China.

Kirby, a specialist on Asian affairs, made his expenses-paid visit with a group of Hong Kong University professors as guests of the Communist - controlled People's Assn. for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries.

Apparently a major reason for arranging the tour, Kirby said in a lecture, was to open up tourist trade and show that Communist China is safe, interesting and reasonably comfortable.

He said considerable new building has been completed—in a nondescript, characterless "barracks-like" architecture. Earlier attempts at making buildings more comfortable were abandoned in the name of economy, he reported.

Other Kirby findings:

Despite rationing, there appeared to be no food shortages and no signs of malnutrition. Clothing, though rationed and drab, seems sufficient.

There is solid progress in industrialization. New big projects, such as the giant Anshan steel works and the No. 1 machine tool plant at Mukden, were donated by the Russians.

Russian technicians in industry have been withdrawn generally and replaced by Russian-trained Chinese personnel.
