Murder Charges Filed In Ft. Worth Bank Robbery Ferguson Files Plea For Candidacy In Supreme Court

Seeks To Put Name On 1930 Party Ballot

Mandamus To Compel Wilcox And Members Of Executive Committee To List Name As Candidate Asked

"Ma" Likely To Run

Movement To Bar Jim From Race Due To Impeachment Opposed In Petition To Court Filed Wednesday

(By Associated Press.)
AUSTIN, April 16.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson today filed a petition in the supreme court asking leave to file an application for mandamus to compel D. W. Wilcox, of Georgetown, chairman and members of the state decentralization executive committee, to place his name on the 1930 party primary ballots as a candidate for governor.

He alleged he had been advised there was a movement among some committees to bar his name from the ballots on account of his impeachment and removal from office in 1917.

Ferguson said in the event the court should hold him ineligible as a candidate, his wife, former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson would run.

Mrs. Ferguson's name was substituted for his in 1924 when she was elected over General Felix Robertson at the height of the Ku Klux Klan controversy.

Name Barred
Ferguson's name had been barred from the ballots because of the constitutional provision one impeached and removed from office shall be "disqualified from holding any office of honor, trust or profit."

The legislature in 1925 passed a bill removing the constitutional inhibition that one impeached from office but it was repealed in 1927, after Governor Moody was inaugurated.

Senator Love Not To Bind Conscience For Support Of Nominees

By The Associated Press.
AUSTIN, April 16.—Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas told the supreme court today in arguing his application for a mandamus to compel the state democratic executive committee to place his name as a candidate for governor on the 1930 primary ballots, that he would not bind his conscience to support the nominees of a primary as the price of any office.

The name of Senator Love and other candidates for state office who failed to support the democratic presidential elections in 1928 was to be denied a place on the ballots when the committee meets June 9 to certify a list of candidates to county chairmen, the committee at a meeting here February 1 having adopted resolutions barring 1928 bolters as candidates. Democrats who strayed from the fold in opposition to Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, democratic national standard bearer, were invited to participate as voters, however.

Henry Curran Declares 18th Amendment Has Made Government Into Murderer, Invader Of Rights

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Charging that the eighteenth amendment had made the government a "murderer and an invader of people's rights," Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, told the state lobby committee today that his organization spent $427,213 last year in advocating repeal of the dry law.

Curran predicted the prohibition amendment would be repealed and asserted that three out of four persons in the United States, as well as five states, already were in revolt. Questioned about this phase, he added that he hoped there would be no armed revolution against the government as a result of the law.

The witness testified that the purpose of the organization was repeal of the 18th amendment in order to restore to the states "their former right to handle for themselves, according to their own desires, the control of the liquor traffic."

Goodyear offers a new heavy duty Ballloon

A BEAU BRUMMELL for Looks

A HUSKY for Wear?

Here's a new tire by Goodyear for the heavy car, the fast driver, the tough and rocky road—for any service that's arduous in the extreme!

It steps apart from other Heavy Duty balloons not only by its greater strength and improved construction, but also by its strikingly handsome appearance.

It's a big, stout, massively proportioned tire, armored with an extra-thick and extra-safe All-Weather Tread, and around its sleek black side-wall runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

New and original is the way in which the outer rows of All-Weather blocks are faceted down into the side-wall, a touch as smart as anything in modern sculpture.

You may be willing to pay a little more for a tire which gives you extra immunity against puncture, extra protection against blowout, extra mileage even in hard continuous service.

If you feel that way about it, go see the nearest Goodyear Dealer, and have him change over your car's tire equipment to these new Goodyear Heavy Duty balloons today!

The negro was captured by Deputy Sheriff O. B. Conley after a chase and in which he was felled with a blow from a pistol when he resisted.

New High School Coach Elected

W. H. KEELING

Another former Austin college kangaroo star was elected to the Lubbock High school coaching staff this week when Superintendent M. H. Duncan announced the selection of W. H. (Jew) Keeling as assistant football mentor and basketball coach for the Westerner forces. Keeling will take up his duties with the local football squad next August when the annual pre-season grid training camp opens in Garza county. The new coach comes to Lubbock from Harlandale High school, San Antonio, and will succeed Del Morgan, who recently accepted the position of assistant varsity mentor under Pete Cawthon at Texas Tech.

Cardinals Hit Savagely To Down Chicago Cubs, 13 To 3; Senators Nose Out Red Sox

Smith Arrives To Start Work With Matador Gridders

Another new member of the Texas Tech coaching staff for 1930 launched his career as a college coach Wednesday afternoon when Russell (Dutch) Smith arrived to start work with the Texas Tech football squad in spring training. The retiring coach of the Amarillo high school Sandies came in from the Panhandle city shortly after noon and donned his coaching regalia to start immediate practice with the candidates for the end positions on the varsity eleven for next fall.

Four o'clock found the newly elected Tech freshman mentor hard at work with the Matador wingmen and before the afternoon workout was over, his subjects were fully impressed with the fact that they were in for a strenuous grind.

A Lubbockite Now

Although Smith has for the past several years coached the arch rivals of the Lubbock high school football team, he has come here to work even harder for a Lubbock cause, according to his statement last night.

"All that is history," Dutch said in speaking of his Amarillo team's battles with the Westerners. "I'm tickled to death at the opportunity to come to Lubbock and help put over Matador athletics. All I can promise is that I'll be in there hustling all the time and giving every thing that I have. The college here is fortunate in securing the services of Coach Cawthon and if the people of Lubbock will give him time, watch out opposition!"

To Attract Athletes

A number of sterling athletes from Amarillo will follow Smith here next fall for the opening of football training. Among the prospective gridsters from the Sandstone stronghold are Bufkin, Nicklaus, Nolan and Blair—all outstanding members of the 1929 Amarillo eleven.

Smith plans to stay here for several days before returning to Amarillo to finish his year's work in the high school there. He is likely to return for another session with the spring grid candidates before the month is over.

(Special To The Avalanche)

ABILENE, April 16.—Simmons University's rapid finish of point scoring this afternoon overhauled a Texas Tech lead and won a dual meet by 72 to 59. Taking all but one of the nine places available in the 280-yard dash, the high jump and the javelin throw, the Cowhorns forged ahead and had the meet in the sack before the broad jump and mile relay race were staged. Tech, incidentally, cleaned up all points in the broad jump.

Matadors Take Seven Firsts

Eight first places went to Simmons and seven to Tech. Floyd Woodridge became the sprinting ace of the Matador squad when Captain Dallas hurt an ankle on the getway in the century run, ineffectual act of the matinee.

With victories in both the shorter dashes, in the broad jump and a second place in the low hurdles, Woodridge scored high with 18 points. He was closely contested in the furlong, and spectators had to wait the announcer's word to learn whether he or Willie Cooper of Simmons had won.

Weatherly Steps 880

Captain Lester Weatherly of Simmons ran the best race of his life in the 880. With a driving finish he led Hopper of Tech home in 2 minutes, 3 seconds. Hill of Tech ran a smooth mile race to win in 4 minutes, 56 seconds. His margin was comfortably wide, although little Aaron Milan, of the home club, looked considerably on the last lap.

Request of Vic Payne, Matador instructor, that only two places in each event be counted was overwhelmed, but a checkup revealed that the counting of three made little difference. Of the last lap in which third place was counted five of the extra points went to the victors and six to the home team.

Summary of the meet:

100-yard dash—F. Woodridge, Tech, first; Smith, Simmons, second; Dallas, Tech, third. Time 19.9 seconds.

1-mile run—Hill, Tech, first; Milan, Simmons, second. Hoardridge, Simmons, third. Time 4:56.

2-mile run—Dawson, Simmons, first; Wingo, Tech, second; Corder, Simmons, third. Time 11:25.2.

440-yard dash—Cooper, Simmons, first; Vint, Tech, second; Dallas, Tech, third. Time 53.3 seconds.

Pole vault—Pace, Tech, and Scott and Jones, Simmons, tied for first, height 11 feet, 3 inches.

220-yard low hurdles—Waller, Tech, first; F. Woodridge, Tech, second; Smith, Simmons, third. Time 26.3 seconds.

880-yard dash—Weatherly, Simmons, first; Hopper, Tech, second; Greer, Simmons, third. Time 2:53.

High jump—Scott, McCollum and Arnett of Simmons tied for first place, height 5 feet, 9 inches.

Javelin throw—Bartlett, Simmons, first; Clark, Simmons, second; Marshall, Simmons, third. Distance 170 feet, 9 inches.

Broad jump—F. Woodridge, Tech, first; Payne, Tech, second; Pace, Tech, third. Distance 20 feet 11 in.

1-mile relay—Won by Simmons, (Houghton, Cox, Weatherly and Cooper). Time 3:45.5.

Germany Considers Building of Navy

BERLIN, April 16. (AP)—The question of further naval construction by Germany, which seemed to have been disposed of negatively during the Mueller ministry, has been suddenly thrown into the foreground of political discussion by a Reichstag amendment carrying an appropriation for such a purpose.

The budget estimates prepared by the Mueller cabinet made no provision for another cruiser of the Ersatz Preussen type. The Reichstag today, however, amended the government's proposed budget by the introduction of an item for 2,900,000 marks (about $725,000) as the first installment for an armored cruiser "B".

The state of Washington cut and shipped out 1,484,000 Christmas trees for Christmas celebrations in 1929.

Baseball Wanderer

Grimes, an inveterate wanderer on the face of the baseball earth, has no regrets at the surprise trade that wadded him suddenly from the topmost hurling berth on the pennant-contending Pirates to the tail end Braves. Already he has pitched for Brooklyn, New York and the Pirates for two different periods during a major league campaign. Now if he can find a nice place to exercise his fine saddle horses in Boston he'll be perfectly content.

"I'm getting in shape slowly," he said.

All About Golf Ethics

By JOE O'GOFFTY
National Open and Closed Champion

Keep your head down! In this series on golf, that is the warning I wish to impress upon my readers. In this connection, it is well to carry a small weight around in your pocket, as shown in the illustration.

There are several points of ethics to be followed on the tee here they are. Try and follow them:

- 1—Do not shout in the effort to rattle your opponent as he is about to drive. The same effect can be obtained by singing "Sonny Boy," muting time on a rail fence or the tee box and kicking up small clouds of dust behind the fellow.
- 2—If you miss the ball entirely when driving, don't kick it. Goals don't count.
- 3—The thing to do, if missing the ball or topping it on the tee so that it rolls only a few inches, simply turn to your gallery and remark with a wag of your head, "tough course!"
- 4—Always carefully measure the place where your partner tees up.
- 5—If you should drop a quart bottle as you drive, pick it up if it isn't broken and rub a little on your wrists. People will think it is lilm-ment.
- 6—Before you drive, make several practice swings among the spectators. This will help to relieve congestion.
- 7—When teeing up to shoot the No. 1 hole, never aim at the 18th green.

Athletes From 18 Counties To Enter Here

Close Competition In All Events Predicted For Big Two-Day Event Friday And Saturday At Tech Field

Prevailing indications point to a hectic scramble for points here Friday and Saturday when approximately 350 athletes from 18 Plains counties gather for the annual District Two track and field meet. With a majority of the contending schools showing more strength and the under dogs frothing to rise to the top, the meet which opens here at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon promises to be the most keenly contested event in the history of the Inter-scholastic League organization. Close observers of the division of strength predict the winner will need no more than 25 points to clinch first honors.

Officials Named

E. Y. Freeland, district director of athletics, announced last night the complete set of officials for the track and field division of the annual meet. Pete W. Cawthon will serve as official starter and referee of the meet. Judges of the finish will be Stangel, Mowery, Harbaugh, Russell and Murdoch. Timers will be Mahoney, Franks and Hargrave. Inspectors will be Dallas, C. Woodridge, Waller and D. Vinzant.

Other officials are:

Pole vault and high jump—Craig, Tadlock and Pace.
Shot and discus—Payne, Reed, Shelton.
Javelin—Fisher, Perry and Young.
Broad jump—F. Woodridge and Hill.

Announcers—Moore and Hilkey.
Clerk of course—Orval Burroughs.
In charge of medals—Prof. Hill.
Lubbock Won Last Year

Lubbock High school noed out a strong field of contestants last year, winning first place with a total of 21 1-2 points. Plainview came second with 25 points. This year's scramble for points is certain to be even closer as the contenders for the Lubbock High school track supremacy assemble their forces to make a grand rush on the Westerner crew.

The Westerners lack the outstanding performers that are carried by Slaton, Otton, Plainview, Dishon and Floyd, but instead rounded aggregation to take enough seconds, thirds and fourth places to outscore the field.

Teams Bring Stars

In Simmons and Nowell, the Slaton team will have sure point-winners; Otton brings Hooper, the holder of the state record in the hurdles and Plainview will pin its hopes on the performance of the 11-3 pointers, Carroll and Harrod. If the latter twins are right, each should be good for ten points apiece.

Anticipates Keen Competition in Kansas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 16.—General excellence of performance in recent indoor meet throughout the middle west indicates that the standard of competition in the 14 relay races and 10 special events for individual athletes in the annual Kansas relays here April 19 will be on a much higher plane. The Kansas meet opens the outdoor season in the middle west.

Entry blanks have been sent to more than 200 picked institutions in widely scattered sections of the country and the response seems to insure a greater field of athletes than ever before. Results of the event closed April 19.

BUSINESS IN THIS SECTION

It is unfortunate that every thinking man and woman of Lubbock and the South Plains was not able yesterday to hear an address, delivered before the Lubbock Rotary club by Spencer A. Wells, upon the subject "The Business Outlook from the South Plains Angle."

While reeking with optimism, Mr. Wells' speech was supported not only by facts and figures as applying to our own section, but also by observations which he has made while traveling over a very considerable portion of this country.

The business depression, nation-wide and attributed largely to the stock market collapse of the autumn just past, has failed, Mr. Wells believes, to make any practicable impression upon this territory.

Bank deposits in Lubbock, the speaker brought out, stood at $4,952,000 at the close of the year 1929 and at $4,835,000 at the conclusion of 1928.

Postal receipts for the month of January, February and March, 1929, totaled $27,240, he said. For the same period this year, a marked gain is seen in the total receipts of $30,381.

Construction activity in Lubbock, the speaker stated, is in a low ebb in most parts of the United States.

As a further proof of the pudding, Mr. Wells pointed out that farmers this year are not relying upon their bankers' friends for pre-crop financing.

Interested in a large department store here and in several others over Western Texas, Mr. Wells turned to his own business for support of his theory that the South Plains is unharmed as a result of the stock market crash.

January of 1930 saw our sales lower than that of 1929 but when we consider that the cold weather this year was almost unprecedented, the fact is not surprising.

On the other hand, February of 1930 was well ahead of the same month the year before, more than equaling the January decrease, he told his listeners.

The year 1929—at least that part of it between January and mid-October, was regarded by the Lubbock and South Plains public as a highly satisfactory one.

One thing is certain. That is, 1930, regardless of what it brings, will be handicapped if pessimism, unfounded, is permitted to run rampant.

There is little likelihood that congress either in time of peace or under the excitement of war will draft labor and capital, and there is some doubt whether more legislation is necessary before there can be conscription of labor and capital.

TALKING OF WAR Congress was a little out of step with the general order of things when it voted to authorize a commission to study the practicality of so-called conscription of capital in time of war.

There is little likelihood that congress either in time of peace or under the excitement of war will draft labor and capital, and there is some doubt whether more legislation is necessary before there can be conscription of labor and capital.

GOULD OF MAINE SAYS IF HE WERE TO REMAIN IN CONGRESS HE WOULD PREFER TO BE IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Senator Arthur H. Gould, of Maine, was under the impression that he would enjoy being a senator when he was elected to serve next March, just after Senator Bert M. Fernald's death in office about three and a half years ago.

Nevertheless, Senator Gould is not a candidate for another term. He could have it for the asking, according to accounts from up Bangor way—and from Augusta and Skowhegan and the Mount Katahdin neighborhood and the Aroostook valley, where he owns a railroad or two, nearly all the power sources out of doors and some millions of dollars' worth of miscellaneous properties.

Senator Gould is not a candidate to succeed himself, because he does not want to be. He is not homesick. He does not pretend that his business interests compel him to quit politics. Inured to hard work all his life, it is not leisure that he craves. He is in corking good health for a man of 73.

Evidently, somehow, the senate has disappointed him. "It has, for a fact," candidly admits the statesman from Presque Isle.

"If I were going to stay in congress at all—which, mind you," he qualified, "I am not, a minute after noon, March 4, 1931—I'd prefer the house of representatives."

What an unusual choice! Representatives are trying constantly to get into the senate. A senator might seldom wish to be a representative. Except a very few of the most important bosses, representatives enjoy nothing like the prestige of the senators—despite Speaker Longworth's hot contention that the two houses are on an absolute equality.

Prestige! "I guess I can take care of my own," says the Maine lawmaker, scornfully, "in any company where there's a premium on the transaction of business."

"The house of representatives' rules enable it to transact some."

"But the senate! I'm no good—talking—against those politicians. It was the worst kind of a mistake ever sending me to such a body."

Still, the senate is supposed to be the deliberative congressional chamber. Would it be right to choke it off altogether?

"Altogether? no, of course not," rejoined the Presque Islander, "and neither is the house of representatives choked off altogether. If a reasonable amount of discussion is necessary, to decide business questions, I'm in favor of it. But not pure talk, simply for talk's sake."

"I don't like to criticize my fellow senators, but something certainly ought to be done to restrain a few of the wild ones."

Yet there seems to be little prospect of an improvement—for the senate makes its own rules, and a majority of the senators must believe in their present method, or they could and would alter it.

"The Pine Tree legislator nodded gloomily. "I can easily tell you what's the matter," he said.

"It's that damn primary system. In the old days the conventions were held—at least in states like mine—at seasons when the farmers were too busy to get into town to attend them, so only the competent business men attended, and they nominated first-class candidates. Now everybody votes and politicians worm themselves in by popular appeal that don't mean anything."

However, when a state does make a real business selection, such as Senator Gould—what happens? Why, he gets at the first opportunity.

"The truth is," he answered finally, "I was too old to learn when I got here."

What the country needs is a sprinkling of able young fellows in congress—young enough to grow into as capable politicians as the professionals, and beat them at their own game.

But by that time, would not they, too, be politicians? "I suppose they would," said the senator, sadly, "and good for nothing."

ST. VITUS DANCE IS BELIEVED DUE TO STREPTOCOCCIC INFECTION

BY DR. MORRIS FISHERIN Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

The ancient history of this disease is evident from its name. Thus it was associated early with what was supposed to be an affliction brought about by some higher power. This was considered by the ancients the cause of most unusual disturbances.

In St. Vitus' dance the person, usually a child, has irregular involuntary contractions of the muscles and sometimes disturbances of the mind as well. It is now the conviction of most physicians that St. Vitus' dance or chorea, as it is called scientifically, is associated with an infection of the body by a form of streptococcus.

Most of the cases occur in children between five and 15 years of age and not infrequently these children suffer also with infection of the heart and with rheumatic infections, which are also related to the streptococcal infection. High-strung, excitable, nervous children seem to be more likely to become affected than those of calmer characteristics.

The attack sometimes comes on insidiously. At first, the child may be considered as unusually nervous, but later will have difficulty in feeding itself or in buttoning its clothes and then the twitching movements commence. In very severe forms, the child may be unable to walk, to speak intelligibly, or even to sit up in bed.

Murder Backstairs by ANNE AUSTIN

CHAPTER XLII Dundee almost ran to the library, closed the door and snatched up the telephone receiver without taking time to seat himself at the big desk on which the instrument stood. "Dundee speaking, Dr. Jennings. You've completed the analysis?" "I have," came the voice of the city chemist over the wire. "And my report is negative."

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"How long has this unemployment problem been going on, etc?" "None whatever." "Thank you very much, Dr. Jennings," Dundee said, and was a little surprised to hear the faint click of a receiver upon a hook. Odd that the general chemist had not said good-by. He was about to hang up himself when he became aware that Dr. Jennings had not been rudely abrupt after all.

taken off the receiver to call out, found that the line was busy, and hung up? Or that Wickett may have neglected to hang up the receiver in the pantry until you'd nearly finished your conversation? I suppose Wickett did answer the phone in his pantry and send you here to take the call, didn't he?" "Yes," Dundee answered shortly. He was not satisfied, but there was clearly nothing to be gained now by trying to trace the eavesdropper.

"Poor old Sherlock!" Gigi sympathized. "Was he all hot and bothered because his grand little hunch about poisoned perfume didn't pan out? Did he just yearn to clap nice Mr. Crosby on the shoulder and say, 'Cr-rooby!' The jig is up! I arrest you for the murders of Phyllis Crosby and Doris Matthews?"

"Shut up, Hellion!" Dundee growled at her. What a capacity the little devil had for hitting the nail upon the head! "I confess I'm disappointed," he told her abruptly. "Not that I wish Crosby any harm! But my only ray of light on this confounded case proves to be merely a reflection cast by my own dazzling stupidity!"

"Very neat!" she applauded his simile. "But why not be content with dear old Johnson, the expert safecracker?"

"The ringing of the telephone saved him the necessity of a last reply."

"Western Union calling Mr. James F. Dundee," a voice droned in his ear.

"Dundee speaking. Have you cablegram for me?"

"A prepaid radiogram from London, England, signed Sir Edward Moreby," the voice intoned with mechanical clearness. "I shall recite the message: 'Kathryn Matthew unconscious following motor accident. Will question when possible. Shall I repeat the message?'"

"No, thanks," Dundee said dully and hung up the receiver.

"Bad news?" Gigi asked quickly with real concern.

Dundee grinned at her and then turned to her friends again. "If I don't see MURDER BACKSTAIRS, P."

And District Judge Threatened With Murder

FORT WORTH, April 16 (AP)—Details of an alleged murder conspiracy under which district Judge James E. Mercer and Dexter Scurlock, lawyer, were to have been slain were developed today in a court of inquiry.

Assistant District Attorney Hooper listened to the following as witnesses at the morning session: City Manager Carr; High B. Smith, president of the bar association; Geo. Connor, former president of the bar association; and Tom Wren, claim agent of the Northern Texas Traction company.

Three Charged

The conspiracy charge has been filed against S. P. Houtchens, disbarred attorney, Miss Zula B. Stevenson, his law associate, and Sam H. Prather, Vinita, Okla.

Smith said it was at his suggestion that Scurlock was furnished a bodyguard. He said he first heard of threats against Scurlock when the latter told him he had just received a threat by telephone. Smith testified he was told of a threat received at the city hall, and that he also had been informed of a threatening letter against Judge Mercer, although he had never seen the letter.

Smith was at the conference at Carr's home the night of March 28, after Prather's visit to Scurlock, he said. Others there, said Smith, were City Attorney Rouser and Detective Reagan.

Transfer Bridge Suit at Durant

DURANT, Okla., April 16. (AP)—Porter Newman, state district judge, today granted an order removing the suit of J. Berry King, Oklahoma attorney general, against receivers of the Red River Bridge company, from his court to United States court for the eastern district of Oklahoma.

The order was asked by the receivers, J. R. Hardy of Denison, Texas, and S. C. Boswell of Durant.

members of the state highway commission.

The district court previously condemned 296 acres of land, sold by the state as an approach for free bridge across the river which had been purchased by the bridge company.

The petition was granted on grounds that federal questions were involved in that an agreement entered into in 1876 by Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians for building a toll bridge.

The railroad tax bill for 1929 was $420,000,000 or considerably more than $1,000,000 a day.

A Medieval Lance

The knights of medieval times were very particular about the weapons they used for jousting in the tournaments. And armorers did a thriving business in fabricating elaborately designed lances.
