Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

A gubernatorial candidate speaks to an audience estimated at fifty persons in Wichita Falls but is heard by a larger audience over the radio.

An audience of 50 persons is hardly large enough to furnish a foreground for a speaker. Perhaps the knowledge that the speech would be broadcasted over the radio kept many at home, but even considering this fact the small audience indicates a lack of enthusiasm and interest that is hard to understand.

The speaker Monday night was not James E. Ferguson. According to Ferguson's Forum, which has reappeared after a suspension of some months, "Farmer" Jim is being heard by crowds running into thousands and reporters following the candidates admit that Ferguson is getting bigger crowds than any of the candidates. Ferguson is a campaigner of parts but even his large crowds are not showing any great amount of enthusiasm.

John Lee Smith of Throckmorton county was a visitor in Talker's sanctum Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Smith is a candidate for nomination for congress. He says that he is for a tariff on oil and if nominated and elected will support an oil schedule in the tariff bill.

Mr. Smith will speak at Gainesville on July 4 and at Bowie and Bridgeport on July 6. He says that he is pledged to the old Democratic doctrine of "equal rights for all and special privileges to none."

C. H. Clark says that he did not mean to propose a bond issue for the construction of a ditch to divert the salt water from oil wells on Lake Wichita watershed to prevent the hardening of the water in the lake. He believes the ditch can be dug without a bond issue.

Wichita Falls has bigger supply of softer water in Lake Wichita than in several years. We will likely have soft water all this summer. But while we have a supply of soft water would be a good time to take steps to keep it that way, especially if it can be done without a bond issue.

Wichita Falls is not the only city that has a water problem. In fact nearly every city has a water problem. Texas' largest city, Houston, now has an acute water problem. Houston obtains its water supply from many shallow wells. There has been comparatively little rainfall in that vicinity this season. Houston, as everybody knows has grown tremendously. The city's population and water needs have outgrown the supply. Of course, Houston will make whatever expenditures are necessary to provide an adequate water supply.

Back to the candidates, some of them are still trying to work the Tammany bogey. If there is a Tammany in Texas of which we ought to be afraid, it is a Tammany of prejudice, ignorance and intolerance. It is the very kind of a Tammany to which these Tammany baiters are appealing.

Gasoline tax collections in Texas in May were $2,775,000. June collections will be larger. Those who use our highways are paying for their construction and maintenance as they ought.

Today is July 2, tomorrow is the third and then comes the Fourth. The Fourth of July, next to Christmas, is our most widely observed holiday. Most of the stores in Wichita Falls will be closed on Friday. If you have shopping to do, do it today or tomorrow. Read the advertisements in this newspaper as a guide to your shopping.

The application of J. R. Ogle and 45 others for a mandamus to the Wichita county Democratic executive committee to compel it to print the names of applicants on the ballot as candidates for county chairmen and precinct committeemen will be heard by the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth next Saturday. It is hoped that the application will be presented in such a way that the court may rule on it without delay. As long as the question is open it will be a cause of ill feeling. When the court has ruled, the ruling ought to be accepted in good faith by all.

Talker is not a farmer and he knows very little about irrigation but he finds two paragraphs in a statement by G. A. Remington, manager for the irrigation districts, which have the sound of hard common sense and which he would like to give whatever emphasis their reproduction in this column can given them. The paragraphs follow:

"Last, but not in any way of less importance, is the fact that we need more good farmers who are interested in irrigated agriculture who will make the greatest use of their irrigation water supply with the least waste. We have some good farms who actually make tests of the soil moisture in their fields from time to time and determine in this way whether they should apply irrigation water. Our best farmers commence to irrigate before their crops are actually in need. Our poorest farmers wait until crops have been injured by drouth before ordering a head of water."

"Our best farmers order a supply of irrigation water sufficient for their needs and stay in the field and take care of it until they have finished irrigating. Our poorest farmers order more water than they could possibly take care of during the daytime and five times more than they can take care of at night and then spend all their time at other work, visiting their neighbors, or in town. Our best farmers grade, level, and otherwise prepare their fields so that a small head of irrigation water can be used at all times by the corrugation or border method. Our worriest farmers turn a big head of irrigation water loose into their crops with no previous preparation of the field, and the result is that the low portions get too much water and the high places get none."

ATTACK UPON SAN ANGELOAN BRINGS CHARGE

Victim, Slightly Wounded, Says Assailant Sought Name on Notes

DEATH PLAN BARED

Hearing Reveals Series Of Incidents Preceding Shooting

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 1. (AP)—X. B. (Major) Cox, veteran ranchman living near here, today was placed under $1,000 peace bond by J. T. Mathison, Tom Green county judge, and under $1,500 bond on charges of assault with intent to murder, in connection with an attack upon Mark Nasworthy, San Angelo ranchman.

Nasworthy suffered a slight wound in the left hand and another in the forehead when a pistol bullet passed through his hat.

At a hearing today, he testified that Cox, with a revolver in his overalls, jumped into his automobile at the Santa Fe railway station today and demanded that Nasworthy sign a $6,000 note made payable to Cox.

Sought Indictments

Nasworthy said he refused, and the shooting followed. Nasworthy further testified that at three separate grand jury sessions here, Cox had unsuccessfully tried to have him indicted upon a charge of burning Cox's barn.

Nasworthy also asserted that D. I. Durham, district attorney, had a document purportedly written by Mrs. Nasworthy relating a story told her by another to the effect that Nasworthy's brother, Jack Nasworthy, and a sister, Mrs. R. S. Johnson, had offered to pay Cox $7,500 if Cox "put Nasworthy out of the way." Nasworthy said he did not believe this.

Officers found only Nasworthy's abandoned car containing his bullet-torn hat, and two unsigned notes made payable to Cox, when they reached the scene of the alleged shooting. One note, they said, was made out for $6,000 and the other for $7,500.

Boy Testifies

A boy named Stroud testified that he saw a man in overalls running south with a gun in his hand, from the scene of the alleged shooting. Nasworthy had testified that Cox was wearing overalls at the time.

Cox offered no defense at the hearing and his counsel indicated that a preliminary hearing before a justice of the peace, set for next week, would be waived.

Alaska Mineral Output Valued at $615,510,000

WASHINGTON, July 1. (US)—Alaska, bought from Russia for $7,200,000, produced $16,066,000 worth of minerals in 1929, as against $14,061,000 in 1928, the U. S. Geological survey announced today.

The total value of the mineral output since 1880 is now $615,501,000, or nearly 100 times the purchase price of the entire territory.

Last year's output included $7,761,000 in gold and $7,130,000 in copper.

New Indictment Against Port Arthur Negro Adds To Tension As Trial Opens

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 1. (AP)—On the eve of his trial on one of six indictments for criminal assault, Rainey Williams, Port Arthur negro, who three times was sought by a mob, today was indicted again by the grand jury on a charge of attacking a 17-year-old white girl of Port Arthur.

The attack on which the latest indictment was based took place about two weeks ago, the same time as those related in the other indictments.

Williams will go to trial tomorrow for assault upon a negro woman.

Williams was to be heavily guarded at the trial, and it was announced only those submitting to a search by deputy sheriffs would be allowed to enter the court room.

Windows of the criminal district courtroom in the temporary courthouse in the old high school building had been fastened and heavily curtained to guard against any demonstration from outside the building.

Williams will be defended by R. J. Jernigan, Port Arthur attorney, who Monday was held in contempt of court when he first refused to accept an assignment to represent the negro, who was unable to retain a lawyer for himself. Jernigan later reconsidered and consented to defend the negro.

Car Mishap Brings Joy, Then Death

Injured Hip Proves Fatal On Eve of Reunion In Hospital

HOUSTON, July 1. (AP)—A hip fracture suffered in a motor accident led D. A. Shipp, 69, of Houston straight to the happiness he had sought for 30 years, but that same accident took his life just as the happiness at last was within his grasp.

Shipp, walking across a downtown street, was struck by an automobile. One of three sisters whom he had sought for three decades, Mrs. Emma McVickers, 78, who had been living here in the same city with him for 10 years without knowing where he was, read in the newspapers of the accident and obtained his address.

She communicated with two other sisters, Mrs. Nanny Rives, 85, of Abilene and Mrs. Betty Johnson, 80, of Sweetwater. The four were planning a reunion here at the hospital where Shipp smiled joyfully, and was glad of the injured hip.

He died this afternoon, cheated, after all. The two out-of-town sisters had not come.

Houston Woman Held After Girl Is Wounded

HOUSTON, July 1. (AP)—Ruth Higgins, 23, was shot late today as she sat in her parked automobile, and Mrs. E. P. Chandler, 34, was questioned by the police, who were told by witnesses that a shout—"you broke up my home!"—had preceded the shooting.

Hospital officials said the wounded woman, though seriously injured, probably would recover.

The affair, officers were told, occurred outside a filling station, to which both women had driven up in automobiles, Mrs. Van Northwick and her two children were in the machine with Mrs. Chandler.

"I hit her with the gun and it went off," Mrs. Chandler told police and newspapermen. She has not made a signed statement.

Lingle Murder Probe Moves to Los Angeles

CHICAGO, July 1. (AP)—The trail of the assassins of Jake Lingle, whose death started a war on gangland, today had reached Los Angeles where Frankie Foster, reputed owner of the assassin's pistol, and four other Chicago gangsters were under arrest as suspects in the slaying June 9 of the Chicago Tribune crime reporter.

The five fugitive gunmen were captured by Los Angeles police and two Chicago detectives in raids on two apartments last night, almost at the same time that 16 other suspects were caught by Chicago police in raids on gang headquarters here.

Old Style Dollars Still Plentiful But More Elusive Than New Model

WASHINGTON, July 1. (AP)—More than one billion dollars in the old, large size currency was yet in circulation today, almost a year after the large notes were replaced.

Starting the new fiscal year, the treasury found that $1,060,759,609 of the old currency was still outstanding and that $3,759,648,324 of the small notes were in circulation.

During June approximately $166,000,00 of the old currency was retired for at the end of May there was outstanding a total of $1,226,000,000 of that variety of money. At that time there also was outstanding $3,659,000,000 of new currency, issued last July 10, which showed an increase during the month of approximately $100,000,000.

Estimates have placed the amount of the old currency that would disappear at from $23,000,000 to $125,000,000 and treasury officials have said any one's guess on the question was as good as theirs.

They pointed out that some currency issued in 1890 still was outstanding, with $1,261,000 unredeemed though its issue was stopped 30 years ago.

Some federal reserve bank notes issued during the war are still in circulation. This issue was discontinued about six years ago and the last statement showed that on May 31 there was $3,260,000 outstanding.

FLIGHT ENTERS FOURTH WEEK

Hunter Boys Broadcast Over Radio

CHICAGO, July 1. (AP)—Mom and the kid sister had a family reunion with the enduring Hunters today.

John and Kenneth came back to earth for the first time in three weeks—came back by radio, but kept their feet off the ground and sailed cheerily on through the pages of aviation history.

Above the tune of their faithful motor the pilots shouted a comforting "hello" to the folks on the ground and heard Mom and Irene send aloft words of concern and cheer.

By means of a short wave hookup with another plane, Kenneth and John broke up the monotony of ceaseless circling by a short visit with the rest of the Hunter clan below.

Robin Pays Visit

As their 20th day of flying died, a third plane, the famous St. Louis Robin whose record of 420 hours has been beaten by the City of Chicago made contact and Dale Jackson, former record-holder with Forest O'Brine, sent down their good wishes to the champions.

At 3:40 p. m. Central Standard Time, the orange and black monoplane had turned into the last day of its third week in the air, close to 60 hours beyond the St. Louis Robin's mark.

STORM CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE AT DEVOL, OKLA.

One Man Slightly Hurt As Tornado Rips Through Border Town

LIGHT RAINS FALL

Heavy Sand Cloud Precedes Small Precipitation In Wichita Falls

July presented Wichita Falls and its environs with showers and breezes to break the June heat wave Tuesday morning, but marred the gracious inauguration with a twister that injured one man and spread wide destruction as it ripped through Devol, Okla.

G. W. Pritchett, a garage mechanic, was slightly hurt when the tornado crushed in the roof of the Lightning Service garage at Devol. The force of the gale moved the First Methodist church half a foot off its foundation, tore up 17 telephone poles and seven light poles on Main street, wrecked the Rice garage, scattered shingles and shattered glass throughout the northern section of the town. A heavy rain followed the storm, which struck the town out of the northwest early Tuesday morning.

In Wichita Falls a heavy sand storm was followed by a .09 inch fall of rain and a 23 degree drop in temperature, ending a hot weather seige which started eight days ago. The temperature here ranged from 99 degrees to 69 degrees during the day and the wind at one time reached a velocity of 25 miles an hour.

Despatchers for the Fort Worth and Denver reported high winds and showers all along the road from Childress to Wichita Falls during the day. Showers which measured half an inch in some areas fell in and around Clarendon. Dalhart got a quarter-inch fall and Wellington reported a half-inch shower.

Along the M.-K.-T. road, rain fell at Devol, Elk City, Rosston and Altus, Okla., during the morning.

MAN AT DEVOL TRAPPED IN GARAGE

Special to The Record News

DEVOL, Okla. July 1.—A tornado that swooped down without warning out of the northwest Tuesday morning injured one man and took its toll in damages to practically every home and business house in Devol. G. W. Pritchett was trapped in the Lightning Sevrice garage when the roof crashed in. W. C. and T. C. Dillow, in the building at the same time escaped injury.

The wind ripped through the main street of the town, swept the First Methodist church awry on its foundations, demolished the Rice garage and the Sam Bishop home, and left telephone and light poles uprooted across the main thoroughfare. The damage was estimated at close to $50,000.

Shingles ripped from the roofs of homes flew through the air along with shattered window glass. The storm spread destruction along a pathway that measures a mile and a half across the main section of the town.

Light, telephone, and power connections were restored late Tuesday and re-building was already underway. Cotton growers whose crops were mowed down by the gale were among the principal losers.

Lee's Autograph Tops Washington and Lincoln

LONDON, July 1. (US)—General Robert E. Lee's autograph is more valuable—in British eyes, at least—than Washington's, Lincoln's or Stonewall Jackson's.

This was demonstrated at Sotheby's remarkable sale of manuscripts and autographs.

General Lee's famous "General Order Number 9," dated at Appomattox, April 10, 1865, in which he bade farewell to the shattered remnants of the army of Virginia, brought $975.

An order from General George Washington to General Heath, written on Mar. 19, 1776; sold for $375; a Gen. Stonewall Jackson autograph for $97, and one by Abraham Lincoln for $75.

June Freight Movement Drops to 920,859 Cars

WASHINGTON, July 1. (US)—Loading of revenue freight for the week ended June 21 totaled 920,859 cars, the American Railway association announced today.

This was 5,234 cars below the preceding week when, according to revised figures, 926,093 cars were loaded. It was 149,015 cars below the same week in 1929 and 66,501 cars below 1928.

Dope Peddler and Wife Die in Suicide Pact

'That Jury Can't Sleep,' Says E. S. Hembree As Judge Sets Execution

Special to The Record News

DUNCAN, Okla., July 1.—E. S. Hembree, 39, Grady county farmer and pardoned murderer, Tuesday was sentenced to die in the electric chair at the state penitentiary at McAlester Sept. 12 for assaulting and shooting Leota Bosley of Gainesville, Texas.

The sentence followed a verdict of a district court jury here Saturday, which assessed the first death sentence ever recommended by a jury in the county.

In a statement to Judge M. W. Pugh before sentence was passed, Hembree again denied the crime and blamed his conviction to "persecution."

"I saw signs and winks made to these jurymen over there in the box. I didn't get a fair trial. Those men on that jury can't sleep for what they did to me," Hembree said.

"I've got a wife and two kids sitting right here behind me. I'm too old a man and had too much experience to commit a crime like this without any cause. I've been framed, judge, if a man was ever framed."

A defense motion for a new trial, claiming 63 points of error in the case, was overruled before sentence was passed. Hembree was sentenced today instead of Wednesday by agreement of state and defense attorneys.

Veterans Bill With Pension Rates Sharply Increased Passes Senate

Connally and Walsh Lead Successful Fight for Heavier Compensation for Disabled Men

WASHINGTON, July 1. (AP)—The new world war veterans relief measure was passed today by the senate after the Democrats had succeeded in raising the disability pension rates above the level provided by the house bill bearing the administration's approval.

This change in the house measure, voted 37 to 28, forces the bill into conference for adjustment of differences. There were hints of another presidential veto if the increased rates were allowed, and administration supporters were seeking a way tonight to reach a compromise.

Hoover Forces Routed

Overriding the Hoover forces on the increase, the senate showed its irritable mood in the closing hours of debate. It refused to enter an agreement to vote tomorrow on the bill, and then proceeded to vote tonight. Vice President Curtis was taken to task for ordering the bill passed after a shout of ayes, and the senate proceeded to have a record vote.

The record vote on passage of the legislation was 56 to 11.

Senators Walsh of Massachusetts and Connally of Texas, Democratic members of the finance committee, sponsored the higher pension rates. Their schedule would give world war veterans the same rates allowed Spanish war veterans with a maximum of $60 a month for permanent total disability.

Table of Rates

The new bill, passed by the house after President Hoover had vetoed the general disability compensation measure, allows world war veterans who cannot prove their disability is service-connected to collect government compensation nevertheless.

The rates voted by the senate and those approved by the house follow:

Senate Disability Rate		House Disability Rate
10 per cent	$10	.....
25 per cent	20	25 per cent	$12
50 per cent	35	50 per cent	18
75 per cent	50	75 per cent	24
100 per cent	60	100 per cent	40

There was every indication tonight that the house would disagree to the higher rate level and would accept the offer of the senate for a conference on the measure. However, congressional leaders were confident of quick agreement on a compromise.

Simpson Makes Naval Pact Campaign Issue

TRENTON, N. J., July 1. (INS)—Alexander Simpson, Democratic senatorial nominee, today declared he would make the London naval treaty the issue in his campaign against Dwight W. Both candidates have come out for repeal of the prohibition amendment.

SONORA HOLDS RAILROAD FETE

Golden Spike Symbolizes Completion of Line

SONORA, Texas, July 1. (AP)—The golden spike that Tuesday affixed the last rail to a tie on the last mile of the Santa Fe railway's branch line south from San Angelo through Christoval and Eldorado to Sonora, was the fulfillment of a dream that had held the attention of people in Schleicher, Sutton and Tom Green counties for a quarter of a century.

W. K. Rochester, chief construction engineer of the Santa Fe, representing the railroad, held the spike as it was driven into the tie by Fell Vanderstucken, pioneer Sonora merchant, banker and rancher, representing people along the line. Former governor Pat M. Neff, chairman of the state railroad commission, finished driving the spike.

Bands played, cowboys yelled and the crowd of more than 8,000 people cheered as the former governor dealt a blow that clinched the spike head.

At Christoval, Frank Van Horn, publisher of the Christoval Observer, headed the welcoming committee that greeted the excursion train. He said that more than 20 years ago, Arthur Stillwell sent him to

Campbell's Broadside Goes Unheeded As Dry Law Transfer Is Effected

WASHINGTON, July 1. (AP)—The nation's most discussed law enforcement problem went into the keeping of the department of justice today amid a calm that was not jarred by the denunciation of the dry law by Maurice Campbell, retiring prohibition administrator for New York City.

While the charges by Campbell went unanswered except for a crisp statement from Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, they gave rise to a demand in the house for an investigation. Representative Celler, Democrat, New York, introduced a resolution to empower the house judiciary committee to investigate prohibition enforcement in the office of the New York administrator for the past three years.

Lowman, who has been executive officer in charge of enforcement, said if Campbell had let politicians prevent him from enforcing the law Campbell alone was at fault.

The treasury declined to go further in answering the statement issued in New York last night, and the general attitude of officials was that the treasury no longer had anything to do with prohibition enforcement and did not wish to become involved in a controversy with a former official.

Meanwhile, Amos W. W. Woodcock and Howard T. Jones took

DEPUTY IS WOUNDED

Feeling Among Citizens Runs High as Hunt Is Organized

DALLAS, July 1. (AP)—Tom Davis, constable at Mesquite, Dallas county, was shot and instantly killed this afternoon near Mesquite when he approached a group of Mexicans to question them concerning an automobile in which they had been riding. His assailants escaped.

A bullet from a rifle pierced his heart. Gardner Jones, deputy constable, was wounded in the face.

Constable Davis was in search of a stolen automobile when killed. After the shooting, the Mexicans escaped in the automobile which deputy sheriffs said resembled one that was stolen earlier in the day in Dallas.

A squad of sheriff's deputies quickly began a search of rural roads, and city policemen scanned Dallas streets.

Feeling among citizens of Mesquite and vicinity was reported as considerably aroused.

Early reports to J. E. Jameson, chief deputy sheriff, were that three men were stripping accessories from an automobile when Constable Davis reached the scene and that he was shot after telling them they were under arrest.

Bullet Wound Kills Clarendon Pioneer

Special to The Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, July 1.—John Fleming, 78, pioneer resident of Clarendon, was found shot to death in the office of the Kerbow hardware store about 11:30 Tuesday morning. A bullet from a .45 calibre Colt automatic, said to be his own property, had pierced his right temple. Notes addressed to relatives and friends were found in his hatband.

S. C. Kerbow explained that the aged man had been in the habit of using the typewriter in the office of the store and that he passed through the building apparently as usual Tuesday morning. A few minutes later a single shot rang through the store. H. B. Kerbow rushed to the office to find Fleming dead.

Mr. Fleming had lived in Clarendon many years. He was at one time the proprietor of a drug business here. He is survived by his wife and one son, Jeptha Fleming, of Clarendon.

AURORA, Ill., July 1. (AP)—Despite unfavorable business conditions and unemployment, membership in the Loyal Order of Moose during the last year showed a net increase of 4,000, Albert Ladner of Philadelphia, supreme dictator, told the annual convention today.

Ladner said the Moose record stood in the face of decrease in the memberships of most other lodges. He recommended an increase in the initiation fees and annual dues from $6 to $10 annually and also recommended the appointment of lodge secretaries rather than electing them.

Lindy and Kingsford-Smith Exchange Greetings

NEW YORK, July 1. (AP)—On the eve of flying westward with his companions of the ocean crossing Southern Cross, Squadron Leader Charles Kingsford-Smith had his first meeting with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Kingsford-Smith was writing at a desk in his hotel suite today when he looked up and saw the tall young American standing in the doorway.

"Hello, hello, old fellow," the Australian exclaimed, jumping up and extending his hand.

"How do you do," Lindbergh replied. "I just dropped in to congratulate you on your latest achievement. I consider that your flight across the Pacific two years ago is the outstanding flight of aviation history."

"Oh, we rather look on your flight as being that, you know," Kingsford-Smith protested. "You must remember that we had three motors, and there were four of us, whereas you had but one engine, and you flew alone."

After more talk of planes and engines, chiefly of a technical nature, Kingsford-Smith congratulated Lindbergh on the recent birth of a son, and Lindbergh felicitated Kingsford-Smith on his engagement. They posed for cameramen and talked for a few minutes with reporters.

Kingsford-Smith said that unless a strong west wind prevented he would take off from Roosevelt field at 6 a. m. (E. S. T.) tomorrow for Chicago.

Staley Building 'Fire' Gives Wichitans Thrill

Tuesday went fireless in Wichita Falls but not without excitement. No less than five fire trucks roared up to the entrance of the Staley building about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening and word circulated for several blocks through the business section that the office building was on fire.

A large crowd gathered as the firemen dashed inside the building. What they found was an almost insignificant blaze in a small heap of trash below one of the elevator shafts. The fire was almost burned out by the time the fire trucks arrived and little effort was required to stamp out the last ember.

BANK TAXATION VIEWS AIRED

Governors Hear Opposing Ideas Explained

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 1. (AP)—Sharply opposing views on bank taxation were presented to the National Governors' conference today by spokesmen for the banks and the state taxing bodies.

Appearing for the banks was Thornton Cooke of Kansas City, chairman of the taxation committee of the American Bankers' association, and arguing the other side of the question was George H. Sullivan, state senator from Minnesota and chairman of the association of states on bank taxation. Gov. Theodore E. Christianson, of Minnesota, also spoke at this morning's session, voicing a warning against what he called an "insidious trend toward centralization" in government and "the practice of offering federal subsidies as a spur to state action."

Declaring "the banks do not seek a preferred position with respect to taxation," Mr. Cooke urged broadening of the basis of taxation and distributing the burden as a means of meeting the increased revenue demanded by enlarged governmental responsibilities.

Mr. Sullivan declared the general property tax must be depended upon as a raiser of revenue for financing government.

SONORA HOLDS RAILROAD FETE

Golden Spike Symbolizes Completion of Line

Christoval to await the coming of the Orient railroad and predicted that trains would be running into that city within six months.

At El Dorado, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Doty, the first settlers in Schleicher county, were at the station waiting for the train. They came to Schleicher county more than half a century ago. In charge of the reception at El Dorado was J. A. Whitten, chairman of the Livestock Sanitary commission, rancher and banker. He had worked more than a quarter century to obtain the railroad.

Former Governor Neff was at the throttle when the train pulled into Sonora. Mayor Roy Aldwell delivered the address of welcome at the new railway station. Neff responded.

Afterward the visitors were led through the streets of the town by the De Molay band from San Angelo and 100 cowboys.

In the dedicatory address, James Cornell, San Angelo attorney, said he had worked 20 years to help obtain a railway from San Angelo to Sonora.

A barbecue dinner was served on the main street of the town to all the visitors, on tables two blocks long. For the occasion, 125 lambs had been barbecued.

In the afternoon, a rodeo celebration at the fair grounds featured roping, riding, bronco "busting," horse racing and other events in real western festivity style. Fireworks and a dance Tuesday night closed the day's celebration and a similar program was planned for Wednesday.

The new railway will serve Sutton, Edwards, Val Verde, Tom Green, Schleicher, Kimball and Crockett counties, from which stockmen heretofore have driven their herds and flocks, in some instances as far as 65 to 100 miles to reach the nearest railway.

Texas Scientist Grasps Secrets Of Evolution in Startling Experiment

X-Ray Speeds Slow Processes of Change to Reveal Mechanism of Mutation in Living Organisms

By GORDON SHEARER
(Copyright, 1930, by United Press)

AUSTIN, July 1.—An unobtrusive professor announced tonight his research had rewarded him with a scientific clue that may eventually result in the wresting from nature of all the hidden, complicated lore of evolution.

He is Dr. William J. Muller of the zoology department of the University of Texas, whose experiments with fruit flies already have earned for him the $1,000 award that the American Society for the Advancement of Science gives annually for the outstanding scientific contribution.

Changes Condensed

Briefly stated, the result of Muller's experiment is that he has learned how to speed up by 15,000 per cent the changes that occur in fruit flies over enormous periods of time. In other words he can condense into one year all the changes that in the past have required 150 years to develop.

He might have used dogs, rats, guinea pigs or even human beings except that he had no space to accommodate them. The fruit fly was abundant, easily procured and easily fed. It is large enough for easy observation and small enough to handle in great quantities.

Muller does not claim his discovery has opened up the vista that will show all the changes that have taken place from the lowest form of life to the highest. His method of speeding up mutations was to apply X-rays to the fruit flies but the changes brought about by that process convinced him that his method is only one of a number of causes for mutations. It is Muller's opinion he has speeded up evolution in this particular case because the X-ray releases electrons which bring about the changes by damaging or altering the genes. He explained that genes are a component part of all reproductive life.

Many Types

"To the toiling pilgrim," said Muller, "after plodding through the lone and weary deserts of changelessness, here, indeed, was the promised land of mutations. All types of mutations, large and small, ugly and beautiful, burst upon the gaze. Flies with bulging eyes, or with flat or dented eyes; flies with white, purple, yellow or brown eyes; flies with curly hair, with ruffled hair, with fine and with coarse hair and bald flies; big flies and little ones, dark flies and light ones; fertile and sterile ones; flies of different habits; flies with a mixture of sex characteristics."

It was as if Muller had come suddenly endowed with longevity and had been privileged to watch nature working her mysterious changes over a tremendous span of time. Here he had struck the answer that science has been seeking for ages. Animals have been tortured in an attempt to achieve synthetic evolution; they have been subjected to heat and cold, have been drugged and have had hot pins thrust into their eyes. And yet, through all this inquisition, the clue has eluded research workers.

Selection Seen

Even now, the ultimate answer is far away, as Muller himself admits. For the X-ray does not invariably cause changes and in no sense can he control the mutations. He declares that the one fact he has established is that the processes of evolution are accidental and do not produce any pre-conceived form of change. Some flies were affected one way and some another. An improved form of life, he said, has developed only because the unsuitable members of species could not withstand their environment. The suitable ones survived.

The possibilities extend out beyond insect and animal life to plants where it may be possible by synthetic evolution to improve the quality of seeds and discard the inferior ones.

Muller is continuing his experiments with new instruments and under different conditions.

"If we have a billion years of evolution behind us," he said, "and have advanced from something like an amoeba to something like a man, then in the many billions of years which are still in store for us, why may we not be able to make a further great advance, perhaps far greater even than this?"

GIRL DESCRIBES RAID ON BANK

State Presses Testimony In Scrivnor Trial

GALVESTON, July 1. (AP)—Six more state witnesses were heard this afternoon in the trial of W. S. "Shiloh" Scrivnor for the robbery of the First National bank of Texas City in Nov. 1, 1927.

Miss Elizabeth Lege, bank bookkeeper, told how two armed men entered the bank and locked her and Chester Griffin, cashier, in the vault after taking nearly $6,000. She identified Scrivnor as being one of the two men and said that Johnny Martin, now in prison, was the other.

W. G. Peterson, Texas City car inspector, said that he saw Scrivnor at the post office at about 1 o'clock in the morning, said "good morning" to him but did not get any reply, and later saw a man he identified as Scrivnor come out of the bank with another man and get into a car and drive away. On cross-examination by defense counsel, Maury Hughes, he said he could not identify Scrivnor.

Clarence Wood, ice man, told of joining the bandit chase, after the car and of finding roofing nails on the road.

T. J. Eubanks, Houston city detective, said he found the automobile abandoned and also found roofing nails in it.

Mrs. Bill Gray Hurt In Highway Accident

Mrs. Bill Gray sustained a severe scalp wound and possible concussion of the brain and her husband suffered a sprained wrist late Tuesday evening in a highway accident about two miles from the city on the Henletta highway. The couple was riding in a truck belonging to the Curren Candy company at the time of the accident. Mrs. Gray was taken to the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital where she was reported resting well late Tuesday night.

GUNMEN SHOOT 2 BYSTANDERS

Two Carloads of Gangsters Battle on Street

CHICAGO, July 1. (AP)—Two apparently inocent bystanders were shot tonight at State street and Jackson boulevard—in the heart of the old loop district—in what police believe was an attempt to assassinate Jack Zuta, known as paymaster of the Moran gang.

One of the victims, Albert Lusader, street car motorman, was wounded probably fatally as his car crossed the path of the two automobiles that sped down the street, exchanging fusillades of shots. Olaf Sventa, 69, was shot in the arm as he walked toward his work as watchman at the Standard club at the intersection where the shooting occurred.

Zuta had just been released from jail, where he had been taken during yesterday's raids in George Moran hangouts. He had been questioned in connection with the slaying of Jake Lingle, Tribune reporter. Several of the other released Moran henchmen rode with him.

Joe Mayfield Again Removed to Hospital

Joe Mayfield, well-known Wichita Falls oil operator, who has been in a serious condition here for some time, was again removed to the Wichita General hospital Tuesday morning to undergo a second operation after having been at his home slightly improved following an operation performed several weeks ago.

Attendants at the hospital Tuesday night described Mr. Mayfield's condition as "serious but not critical." He has undergone two operations and two blood transfusions since his illness began.

The Mayfield home is at 1200 Filmore street. Mr. Mayfield has been connected with the petroleum industry here for some time. He is at present associated with J. S. Bridwell as an oil operator.

Traffic Violations Lead in City Court

There were exactly as many minor law breakers in Wichita Falls as there were offenders of a more serious nature during the month of June, according to the monthly report of the police department issued Tuesday by R. M. Hurst, clerk of the corporation court, in which a total of 626 arrests were reported, of which 313, exactly half of the total, were for minor traffic violations.

The court levied a total of $2,477 in fines, collecting $1,980 of this amount. The department recovered 11 stolen automobiles unassisted and aided in the recovery of 11 others during the month. The report indicated one prisoner had escaped in June. The department transferred 24 prisoners to federal officers, 14 to state officers and six to county officers.

Endurance Ship In 4th Week Up

the Robin and the radio ship and a loose bolt all gave the fliers their anxious moments during the day. Walter and Albert took up a special wrench and detailed instructions for the repair of the bolt jarred loose in the motor by the long grind. Throughout the morning a steady drizzle and thick fog obscured the outlines of the plane and forced the fliers to swing down near earth to take on fuel.

Shortly after noon a Curtiss Pigeon plane nestled close above the City of Chicago and let down a microphone.

"Hello, Walter, Al, Irene, mama and everybody," said John.

And the world listened in.

The short wave was picked up in the hangar and re-broadcast through the Columbia chain.

"Mom" Hunter took to the air herself tonight.

The mother of the Hunter boys, John and Kenneth, world breaking endurance fliers, not knowing when they would come down to earth to pay her a visit, took matters in her own hands and went up to see them.

With her daughter, Irene beside her, Mrs. Hunter went up in a 21-passenger Curtiss Condor, as a guest of Casey Jones, official observer for the National Aeronautical association, and exchanged signals with the two boys.

After flying alongside for a time, the mother and daughter came down enthusiastic about the trip.

"I couldn't see the boys distinctly," Mrs. Hunter said as she stepped from the huge plane, "but they waved at us. It was a wonderful trip."

Senator W. D. McFarlane for Congress

In 1922 I was a candidate for the legislature in the 109th Legislative District. I presented to the people of the district endorsements from the merchants, pastors, Chamber of Commerce and the Miners' Union; upon that I was elected, carried every voting box in Jack County.

In 1924 I was re-elected to that position without opposition. On my record made in my four years' service in the House I became a candidate for the State Senate and carried Seven of the Nine Counties in the district by nearly 4,000 majority, carried Every Voting Box in Young County, my home county.

I now offer you my record of service in your behalf of Four years in the Senate and ask your endorsement thereof in my race for Congress. I believe that you will say that I have made good, that I have been faithful, active and successful in my efforts in your behalf and that the record of service in your behalf is the correct test of fitness for promotion.

Your endorsement of that record of service rendered would enable me to continue to render for you in a wider field the same active, faithful and efficient service in your behalf.

Sincerely yours,

W. D. McFARLANE

HUDSON is World's Largest Selling "EIGHT"

Registrations officially recorded by every State in the Union show that for this year more Hudson Eights have been delivered to consumers than any other eight in the world.

Here is the Why of Hudson Eight Leadership

The public's award of eight-cylinder leadership to Hudson comes in a year when eight-cylinder cars are in the spotlight of motor attention and scrutiny. All eights have been widely and carefully studied; eight-cylinder rivalry has been keen. And out of this situation has come the public's verdict for Hudson.

Proving how Hudson's performance deserves this leadership 25 stock cars were subjected, in a nation-wide test, to a solid week's nonstop run. All conditions of weather and roads were encountered. Some of these runs were made over country highways — some were altogether city driving. In each instance the motors ran without stop for 168 hours—7 days.

Average gas consumption in 124,750 miles was 14.585 miles per gallon. Top speed exceeded 80 miles an hour. Braking efficiency was approximately twice police standard. Acceleration and hill-climbing tests exceeded all previous Hudson records. Not a car or motor failed.

This great test proved reliability and performance in every driving condition. It proved economy such as no one ever expected in an eight. It proved smoothness and riding ease, for such runs would be impossible without these qualities. We stand ready to prove to you personally similar abilities and similar leadership.

Victor in California Tests

With nearly all makes submitting bids, Hudson's Great Eight, with 100% score, overwhelmed all competition in tests conducted in the purchase of cars for the department of Highway Control of the State of California.

Wins Famous Tour de France

Against eighty-seven cars from every country Hudson scored 100% in winning the highest honor including the Ansaldo Cup in the nine-day Tour de France, most celebrated of the annual tests staged on the European Continent.

Summer Seniors Planning Extended Series Of Parties

With a class larger than any summer graduating class in high school and Junior college save that of 1929, officers have been elected, colors chosen and the round of festivities preliminary to getting diplomas for the summer 1930 class is well under way. Ardor is in no way diminished by heat.

Miss Betsy Lee has been elected president of the senior class, which numbers 28 from high school and five from Junior college; Bryant Creighton is vice president; Fritz McDonald, secretary and Millicent Smith, press representative. Prof. A. F. Edwards is chosen sponsor.

Yellow and white have been selected for the mid-summer graduating colors and the flower will be the large sunflower.

From this date until the graduation day, July 23, the class will make up for the elaborate affairs of the spring class by celebrating in some way each week. There has been one swimming party recently at Westmoreland and the members of the senior class had a great time there Tuesday night.

The program of events from now until graduation day will be formally issued in the next few days.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Everyone else might as well stop so long as beginning today Calvin Coolidge becomes a columnist. And we understand that with two exceptions, his field is unlimited; he will not rag Herbert Hoover and he will not write on Sunday.

◇ ◇ ◇

We wonder what he will do when people write or phone and ask him to write on certain subjects.

◇ ◇ ◇

With our little group of readers, we have just had a letter and also a telephone call asking why we are not writing any of the philosophical columns we were wont to write.

◇ ◇ ◇

We have our reason. Our philosophy is not that of the person who talks best when he suffers and when hot weather comes, we sometimes feel that we might as well resort to the old—the first anesthetic practiced by the Egyptians when an iron kettle was placed over the head and the patient was tapped with a hammer.

◇ ◇ ◇

Of course, if the tap was too heavy, the patient did not recover. Otherwise, he was unconscious for a nice length of time. We'd like the length of time to last until cool weather comes.

◇ ◇ ◇

Sometimes we see the crescent moon in the Texas sky and get a thrill; sometimes a star studded sky or a gentle breeze almost tempts us to try to write something pretty, but none of it lasts long enough.

◇ ◇ ◇

That there are things to laugh at in the world is the world's salvation; and, we suppose that each sort of person finds something different at which to laugh.

◇ ◇ ◇

The editorial writer in the last New Yorker to whom a summer of culture seems unbearable after a winter of culture and refinement, is after our own heart. With him, we "doubt if we can stand refinement another moment."

◇ ◇ ◇

We even rebel against the tin pants on some of the ancient statues in the Louvre, placed there when kings grew refined.

◇ ◇ ◇

We like to think of the well dressed gentleman who recently jumped into the lake in New York where all his party but himself had gone bathing. When he climbed out, fully dressed, he patiently explained to a policeman that he had always wanted to do just that thing. Only the policeman would arrest us.

◇ ◇ ◇

We can't understand the nice reticence of Mrs. Comey, the lady from whom Mr. Coolidge bought "The Beeches." To give away her furniture or so she thought; to have to get up at 3 o'clock to get the mail so she would not be overcome by a curious public; to get 18 proposals. It all sounds exciting to us, but she lived a life of horror for awhile.

◇ ◇ ◇

We knew we did not want "culture" this summer.

'Love Thief' Draws Scornful Reply From Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix—Why do people censure and condemn those of us who are lucky enough to get what we want and whom we want? I am nearly 40 years old and I am going to marry a man of the same age. I have been married twice, and he has just left his wife and we will be married just as soon as his divorce decree is made final. His wife pretends to love him still and made it very unpleasant for him by refusing to divorce him until he finally forced her to do it. He pays her house rent and the court made him set aside a certain amount every month for the children, but they will soon be old enough to get out and work and support themselves, as they are 7, 10, 13 and 15 years old. He does not love his wife. He said he only thought he did until I met him about three years ago and I fell in love with him, as he seemed so kind and good and generous to me and my child, who is 19 years of age.

His wife is trying to gain the sympathy of their friends, and she must have done it, as they are all on her side and most of my friends shun me and act like I have done something terrible. Aren't we entitled to all the happiness we can get out of life? It is bad enough at the best and I was not happy with my other husbands.

My fiance's wife goes around with an injured air and a broken-hearted attitude, just playing on the sympathies of her friends and making me out an awful creature for robbing her of her husband and her children of their father. He gives them money, what more do they want? He didn't try to take the children away from her. He never wanted any children in the first place, but she did, and she has got them now, so why can't she stop this nonsense and be satisfied.

My motto is: "If you are lucky enough and have sense enough to get what you want, go to it and luck be with you," and let the other fellow whine if she hasn't "it" enough to get somebody else. I owe it to my daughter to provide the best I can for her, and this man has a nice car for us to drive around in. His wife is whining because she and those children had to give up their automobile. My child and I had to ride the street car for years—now let them try it for a while. It is not my fault if she cannot get her another man to provide those things for her and her children.

Don't you think my idea a good one? —A GO-GETTER.

Answer—I think your idea is a fine one. Perfectly splendid, provided you have no soul nor heart nor conscience to trouble you. And provided it is all a myth about there being a just God and there being no law of retribution that makes us reap what we have sowed.

Myself, I am old-fashioned enough to believe in the outmoded doctrine that evil birds come home to roost and that the wrongs we do we are punished for even in this world. We don't have to wait for a problematic judgment day. We get what is coming to us here. I have looked on at life for a long time now and I have never yet seen a greedy person who took what he or she wanted regardless of the rights of others, who was satisfied. Nor a selfish person who was loved. Nor have I ever seen a woman build a house of happiness on the wreck of another woman's home. When we reach out for the blessings that come from above we must have clean hands or else they are not bestowed upon us.

There are many thieves in the world, but the porch-climber, the stick-up man, the man who jimmies a bank vault are exemplary members of society beside the woman who sets out deliberately to rob a wife of her husband and children of their father. For the thief who takes money only deprives them of something that can be replaced, but the woman who takes away from a woman her husband's love and from children the guidance and protection of their father takes from them the most precious thing in life and something that they can never get back again. She leaves them poor, indeed.

According to your own story, you found a man living peaceably and happily with a wife whom he loved, because it appears that he had not suspected that she was not all he desired until you suggested it to him. He had four small children to whom he was giving the comforts and luxuries of life. A typical, happy, contented home.

But you coveted the man and his money and you have taken them. The home is broken up. The wife has lost her husband. The children have no father. You and your daughter ride in their automobile and have the money spent on you that once was theirs and you congratulate yourself upon being a go-getter.

The punishment that this poor, weak, disloyal husband will get in being married to a woman as ruthlessly selfish as you are will fit his crime, but do not imagine for a minute that you will escape without paying the price of your cruelty to a sister woman. You will not always be able to drug your conscience with the sophistry that we have a right to take all we can get out of life and there will be times when remorse will wake up in the night and gnaw on your heart like a worm on a leaf and you will not be able to kill it and then the figures of the woman and the children you have robbed will stalk you like a ghost that will not down and of which you will stand in perpetual terror. —DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—We have four children almost grown, and some of the boys think they should be allowed to go out at night without telling where they are going or whom they are going with, and I do not think that is the thing to permit. We feel that our children should respect us enough to tell us about everything they do. Don't you think children owe something to their mother and father?

—MRS. A. S.

Answer—Of course, children owe a great deal to their parents, but if you want to collect the debt you must go about it in the right way and that is something that fathers and mothers rarely consider. Instead of diplomatically suggesting to their girls and boys that they might pay a little something on the long account of love and tenderness and food and clothes and education that they have been running up with their parents ever since they were born, the parents hold them up with the blunderbuss of duty leveled at their heads, and this makes the children either run away or fight and feel like evading the obligation altogether.

Use a little intelligence in dealing with your children and you will perceive the folly of asking a nearly grown boy where he is going every time he puts on his hat to leave the house. If he is going to a perfectly proper place, as he probably is, and to meet the kind of people you wish him to associate with, what difference does it make whether you know whether he has gone to the Smiths or the Browns or to the Epworth league or the church sociable?

And if he is going somewhere he shouldn't go and to meet the people you don't want him to meet you will merely make him lie to you by questioning him. Try to understand that the boy's resentment at being put through a questionnaire about his movements is nothing but a gesture of protest against being treated as a child. It is his banner of freedom. His emancipation proclamation. His assertion of having arrived at man's estate and that's all. It is no sign he is up to dark, wicked deeds.

I know a mother who has raised two wonderful sons, who says that when her boys were growing up she chewed off half an inch of her tongue keeping herself from asking them where they were going and when they expected to get back. Imitate her example.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—What makes a girl 17 years of age cheap and common? —LOUISE.

Answering—Kissing, necking, petting and running after boys and writing two letters to their one.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Woman Sues for $10,000 on Claim She Was Forced to Crawl Up Bus Step

Because she claims to have slipped on the step and had to climb into a bus here on her knees, Mrs. L. C. Littlepage of Dallas brought suit against the Wichita Falls Street Railway company on a claim to $10,430 damages, according to the terms of a petition filed in the 78th district court Tuesday.

Although the style of the suit names the "street railway company" as defendant, court officials said they took this to mean the Wichita Falls Traction company, the only corporation operating a system of transportation on the streets here. The accident occurred last Oct. 19, according to the petition. It is alleged the bus driver offered no assistance when he saw her fall. The petition states the step was too high "for a lady to step" and claims a rubber covering of a rough surface should have been provided to prevent slipping. It is further claimed that a foot stool should be placed on the street as passengers enter the buses so they might step up safely. The petition states Mrs. Littlepage bruised her leg, causing permanent injuries and adhesions which caused ulcers "extending down to the periosteum of the tibia, over a space of five by six centimeters."

MAYFIELD RAPS BOND PROPOSAL

Henrietta Crowd Hears Former Senator

Special to The Record News

HENRIETTA, Texas, July 1.—In his address here Tuesday Former Senator Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for governor, said that no relief whatever could be given the tax payers under the $300,000,000 bond issue proposed by R. S. Sterling for the construction of highways, but that taxes would be greatly increased.

In most of the counties that have issued bonds to build their part of a highway system there is no option to pay the bonds before maturity, he said, and the bond holders would never consent to the payment of the bonds without demanding a premium because the bonds drew around 4½ per cent interest and call money in New York today is 2 per cent.

"The result would be that the people would have $350,000,000 of bonds saddled upon them and counties would continue to pay interest on the bonds they voted to build their part of the highway system, Mr. Mayfield said.

The speaker was introduced by Donley Suddath.

DUNCAN, Okla., July 1.—While other candidates are beating the brush and driving the dusty highways in search of votes, two Stephens county officeholders have nothing to worry about in the primary July 29.

Opal Turner, county clerk, and Ray O. Sutherland, county superintendent, both Democrats, have no opposition for re-election on either ticket.

Although Stephens county now has a woman sheriff, Mrs. Minnie Williams, who succeeded her husband, W. A. Williams when he was murdered by the Cunningham brothers bank bandit gang, politics have little attraction for the women this year. Mrs. Turner is the only candidate for office in the county this year.

The list of filings gives no indication of a "Republican year" in the county this year. R. G. Logan of Comanche, candidate for sheriff, is the only Republican candidate filed.

Stephens county voters will find two pairs of identical or similar names on their primary ballots this year. William C. Murray of Marlow is a candidate for county clerk, while his half-brother, William H. Murray of Tishomingo is a candidate for governor.

John M. Jackson of Duncan is a candidate for sheriff, while John W. Jackson, also of Duncan, is a candidate to succeed himself as county commissioner. They are not felated.

Although the close of the filing period found five candidates each in the races for sheriff, tax assessor and commissioner from the central district, little interest is being shown by voters in the approaching primary and a light vote is forecast.

DENTON HEARS ROSS STERLING

Candidate Urges State Road Bonds

Special to The Record News

DENTON, Texas, July 1.—Renewing his plea that the people be given a chance to vote on a state road bond issue, Ross Sterling, chairman of the state highway commission, Tuesday brought his candidacy for governor to this so-called "no man's land" of North Texas.

Speaking at the State Teachers college here in the morning and on the courthouse lawn in the afternoon, Mr. Sterling declared that three years' intimate study of highway conditions had convinced him that the counties should not be required to contribute toward construction of state roads. They should conserve their credit and bonding power for building county roads, he asserted.

Seeks Refund

"State highways should be financed by the people who travel them, through the gasoline tax and not through taxes on farms, ranches and business properties. The $75,000,000 which the counties already have paid on state roads should be returned to them for retiring their outstanding bonds or improving their laterals, Mr. Sterling declared.

"The only way I know to achieve these ends is through a statewide bond issue, secured by the gasoline tax, the speakere explained. "The people should have the right to vote on the question."

Cites Other States

Pointing out that 31 other states had adopted this system, he cited North Carolinia with its completed highway system and its industrial leadership as an example of its success, as compared to backward South Carolina with its meager good roads built on the so-called pay as you go plan.

President R. L. Marquis presented Mr. Sterling to the teachers college audience, declaring that "as highway chairman he has done more than many Texas people dream of." He was introduced in the afternoon by Mayor B. W. McKinzie. At noon he was guest at a Kiwanis club luncheon at C. I. A. cafgeteria.

Mississippi Valley Earthquake Feared

WASHINGTON, July 1. (UP)—The likelihood of a great earthquake in the Mississippi valley is the latest reason advanced for the "reservoir system" of flood control on the "father of waters."

In a radio speech last night Representative Stone, Republican, Oklahoma, recalled the disastrous Mississippi valley quakes of 1811 and 1812 and predicted another one soon if the reservoir system is not installed.

According to scientists, he said, the vast deposits of silt brought each year to the mouth of the stream result in earth disturbances. This cause could be removed, he explained, by storing water at the river's source.

Stone said there was general dissatisfaction in the Mississippi valley with the present "Jadwin plan" of flood control.

WHEAT POURS INTO CLAUDE

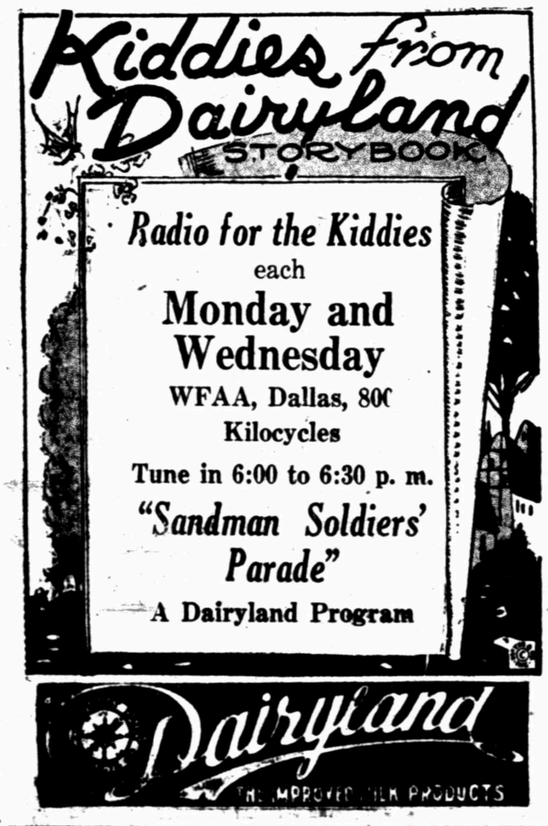

Three Elevators Handle Heavy Harvest

Special to The Record News.

CLAUDE, Texas, July 1.—Thousands of bushels of wheat are being hauled into Claude every day and late into the night. Claude possesses three grain elevators, the J. N. Beasley Grain company, the Nelson-Davis Grain company, and the Weeks & Bagwell elevator. These elevators have from eight to 12 men assistants and all hands at each of the three elevators are as busy as it is possible for them to be.

The very latest and most modern machinery is installed in these elevators, making it possible for much grain to be handled in a very short time. Wheat started off at about 72 cents per bushel and the price has not changed materially since that time. There has been about 500,000 bushels of wheat hauled in to the Claude elevators besides hundreds of bushels that are being hauled to other grain shipping points over the county.

Wheat is averaging about 15 to 20 bushels to the acre. It is turning out much better than it was predicted a few weeks before harvest set in. This early prediction was due to the long continued drouth that was experienced throughout the county.

In a secretary it's Capability

in a cigarette it's Taste

THROUGH COMPETENCE, the individual rises to positions of responsibility and respect. Through dependability of taste, a cigarette attains ever greater popularity.

INCREASING MILLIONS of Chesterfields are lighted each day because smokers find that in this cigarette good taste is unfailing.

CHESTERFIELDS ARE RICH IN AROMA, flavor and fragrance, which come from the right selection of choice tobaccos, blended and cross-blended to a rare cigarette goodness. They offer the utmost in smoking enjoyment . . . "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price.

Miss Betsy Lee has been elected president of the senior class, which numbers 28 from high school and five from Junior college; Bryant Creighton is vice president; Fritz McDonald, secretary and Millicent Smith, press representative. Prof. A. F. Edwards is chosen sponsor.

Yellow and white have been selected for the mid-summer graduating colors and the flower will be the large sunflower.

From this date until the graduation day, July 23, the class will make up for the elaborate affairs of the spring class by celebrating in some way each week. There has been one swimming party recently at Westmoreland and the members of the senior class had a great time there Tuesday night.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Everyone else might as well stop so long as beginning today Calvin Coolidge becomes a columnist. And we understand that with two exceptions, his field is unlimited; he will not rag Herbert Hoover and he will not write on Sunday.

◇ ◇ ◇

We wonder what he will do when people write or phone and ask him to write on certain subjects.

◇ ◇ ◇

With our little group of readers, we have just had a letter and also a telephone call asking why we are not writing any of the philosophical columns we were wont to write.

◇ ◇ ◇

We have our reason. Our philosophy is not that of the person who talks best when he suffers and when hot weather comes, we sometimes feel that we might as well resort to the old—the first anesthetic practiced by the Egyptians when an iron kettle was placed over the head and the patient was tapped with a hammer.

◇ ◇ ◇

Of course, if the tap was too heavy, the patient did not recover. Otherwise, he was unconscious for a nice length of time. We'd like the length of time to last until cool weather comes.

◇ ◇ ◇

Sometimes we see the crescent moon in the Texas sky and get a thrill; sometimes a star studded sky or a gentle breeze almost tempts us to try to write something pretty, but none of it lasts long enough.

◇ ◇ ◇

That there are things to laugh at in the world is the world's salvation; and, we suppose that each sort of person finds something different at which to laugh.

◇ ◇ ◇

The editorial writer in the last New Yorker to whom a summer of culture seems unbearable after a winter of culture and refinement, is after our own heart. With him, we "doubt if we can stand refinement another moment."

◇ ◇ ◇

We even rebel against the tin pants on some of the ancient statues in the Louvre, placed there when kings grew refined.

◇ ◇ ◇

We like to think of the well dressed gentleman who recently jumped into the lake in New York where all his party but himself had gone bathing. When he climbed out, fully dressed, he patiently explained to a policeman that he had always wanted to do just that thing. Only the policeman would arrest us.

◇ ◇ ◇

We can't understand the nice reticence of Mrs. Comey, the lady from whom Mr. Coolidge bought "The Beeches." To give away her furniture or so she thought; to have to get up at 3 o'clock to get the mail so she would not be overcome by a curious public; to get 18 proposals. It all sounds exciting to us, but she lived a life of horror for awhile.

◇ ◇ ◇

We knew we did not want "culture" this summer.

◇ ◇ ◇

Wichita Falls Singer Attracting Attention

Ed Reeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Reeder, 1720 Pearl street, a pupil of the Greathouse Conservatory who is spending the summer in Hollywood under the direction of Miss Dorothy Greathouse, sang at one of the Fox West Coast Theaters in Lincoln Heights, Los Angeles, Saturday night, June 28, according to news received from the party.

The young man is securing preliminary training in movie dramatics under Mrs. Elise Schuyler Garrett, an actress on the legitimate stage for years.

He is scheduled to sing "O Promise Me," at a theater wedding with organ accompaniment soon. He is scheduled on the bill as the "Famous Texas Boy Soprano;" he will also be the best man in the wedding.

'Love Thief' Draws Scornful Reply From Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix—Why do people censure and condemn those of us who are lucky enough to get what we want and whom we want? I am nearly 40 years old and I am going to marry a man of the same age. I have been married twice, and he has just left his wife and we will be married just as soon as his divorce decree is made final. His wife pretends to love him still and made it very unpleasant for him by refusing to divorce him until he finally forced her to do it. He pays her house rent and the court made him set aside a certain amount every month for the children, but they will soon be old enough to get out and work and support themselves, as they are 7, 10, 13 and 15 years old. He does not love his wife. He said he only thought he did until I met him about three years ago and I fell in love with him, as he seemed so kind and good and generous to me and my child, who is 19 years of age.

His wife is trying to gain the sympathy of their friends, and she must have done it, as they are all on her side and most of my friends shun me and act like I have done something terrible. Aren't we entitled to all the happiness we can get out of life? It is bad enough at the best and I was not happy with my other husbands.

My fiance's wife goes around with an injured air and a broken-hearted attitude, just playing on the sympathies of her friends and making me out an awful creature for robbing her of her husband and her children of their father. He gives them money, what more do they want? He didn't try to take the children away from her. He never wanted any children in the first place, but she did, and she has got them now, so why can't she stop this nonsense and be satisfied.

My motto is: "If you are lucky enough and have sense enough to get what you want, go to it and luck be with you," and let the other fellow whine if she hasn't "it" enough to get somebody else. I owe it to my daughter to provide the best I can for her, and this man has a nice car for us to drive around in. His wife is whining because she and those children had to give up their automobile. My child and I had to ride the street car for years—now let them try it for a while. It is not my fault if she cannot get her another man to provide those things for her and her children.

Don't you think my idea a good one? —A GO-GETTER.

Answer—I think your idea is a fine one. Perfectly splendid, provided you have no soul nor heart nor conscience to trouble you. And provided it is all a myth about there being a just God and there being no law of retribution that makes us reap what we have sowed.

Myself, I am old-fashioned enough to believe in the outmoded doctrine that evil birds come home to roost and that the wrongs we do we are punished for even in this world. We don't have to wait for a problematic judgment day. We get what is coming to us here. I have looked on at life for a long time now and I have never yet seen a greedy person who took what he or she wanted regardless of the rights of others, who was satisfied. Nor a selfish person who was loved. Nor have I ever seen a woman build a house of happiness on the wreck of another woman's home. When we reach out for the blessings that come from above we must have clean hands or else they are not bestowed upon us.

There are many thieves in the world, but the porch-climber, the stick-up man, the man who jimmies a bank vault are exemplary members of society beside the woman who sets out deliberately to rob a wife of her husband and children of their father. For the thief who takes money only deprives them of something that can be replaced, but the woman who takes away from a woman her husband's love and from children the guidance and protection of their father takes from them the most precious thing in life and something that they can never get back again. She leaves them poor, indeed.

According to your own story, you found a man living peaceably and happily with a wife whom he loved, because it appears that he had not suspected that she was not all he desired until you suggested it to him. He had four small children to whom he was giving the comforts and luxuries of life. A typical, happy, contented home.

But you coveted the man and his money and you have taken them. The home is broken up. The wife has lost her husband. The children have no father. You and your daughter ride in their automobile and have the money spent on you that once was theirs and you congratulate yourself upon being a go-getter.

The punishment that this poor, weak, disloyal husband will get in being married to a woman as ruthlessly selfish as you are will fit his crime, but do not imagine for a minute that you will escape without paying the price of your cruelty to a sister woman. You will not always be able to drug your conscience with the sophistry that we have a right to take all we can get out of life and there will be times when remorse will wake up in the night and gnaw on your heart like a worm on a leaf and you will not be able to kill it and then the figures of the woman and the children you have robbed will stalk you like a ghost that will not down and of which you will stand in perpetual terror. —DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—We have four children almost grown, and some of the boys think they should be allowed to go out at night without telling where they are going or whom they are going with, and I do not think that is the thing to permit. We feel that our children should respect us enough to tell us about everything they do. Don't you think children owe something to their mother and father?

—MRS. A. S.

Answer—Of course, children owe a great deal to their parents, but if you want to collect the debt you must go about it in the right way and that is something that fathers and mothers rarely consider. Instead of diplomatically suggesting to their girls and boys that they might pay a little something on the long account of love and tenderness and food and clothes and education that they have been running up with their parents ever since they were born, the parents hold them up with the blunderbuss of duty leveled at their heads, and this makes the children either run away or fight and feel like evading the obligation altogether.

Use a little intelligence in dealing with your children and you will perceive the folly of asking a nearly grown boy where he is going every time he puts on his hat to leave the house. If he is going to a perfectly proper place, as he probably is, and to meet the kind of people you wish him to associate with, what difference does it make whether you know whether he has gone to the Smiths or the Browns or to the Epworth league or the church sociable?

And if he is going somewhere he shouldn't go and to meet the people you don't want him to meet you will merely make him lie to you by questioning him. Try to understand that the boy's resentment at being put through a questionnaire about his movements is nothing but a gesture of protest against being treated as a child. It is his banner of freedom. His emancipation proclamation. His assertion of having arrived at man's estate and that's all. It is no sign he is up to dark, wicked deeds.

I know a mother who has raised two wonderful sons, who says that when her boys were growing up she chewed off half an inch of her tongue keeping herself from asking them where they were going and when they expected to get back. Imitate her example.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—What makes a girl 17 years of age cheap and common?

—LOUISE.

Answering—Kissing, necking, petting and running after boys and writing two letters to their one.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Woman Sues for $10,000 on Claim She Was Forced to Crawl Up Bus Step

Because she claims to have slipped on the step and had to climb into a bus here on her knees, Mrs. L. C. Littlepage of Dallas brought suit against the Wichita Falls Street Railway company on a claim to $10,430 damages, according to the terms of a petition filed in the 78th district court Tuesday.

Although the style of the suit names the "street railway company" as defendant, court officials said they took this to mean the Wichita Falls Traction company, the only corporation operating a system of transportation on the streets here. The accident occurred last Oct. 19, according to the petition. It is alleged the bus driver offered no assistance when he saw her fall. The petition states the step was too high "for a lady to step" and claims a rubber covering of a rough surface should have been provided to prevent slipping. It is further claimed that a foot stool should be placed on the street as passengers enter the buses so they might step up safely. The petition states Mrs. Littlepage bruised her leg, causing permanent injuries and adhesions which caused ulcers "extending down to the pelosteum of the tibia, over a space of five by six centimeters."

How the 1930 Woman Keeps Free From Pain

The 1930 woman is too busy to bother with pain, periodic or otherwise. She uses something that helps her to "snap out of it" immediately. It is a remedy called Capudine.

Capudine, being liquid, is absorbed instantly by your system. Therefore it relieves pain quickly. Solid remedies require several minutes before being dissolved and absorbed.

No matter where you happen to be just take two teaspoonfuls in water. Wonderful relief. Thousands keep Capudine handy at home, at the place of business, on a trip. Sold at drug stores by the single dose, and in 10c, 30c and 60 bottles.—Adv.

MAYFIELD RAPS BOND PROPOSAL

Henrietta Crowd Hears Former Senator

Special to The Record News

HENRIETTA, Texas, July 1.—In his address here Tuesday Former Senator Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for governor, said that no relief whatever could be given the tax payers under the $300,000,000 bond issue proposed by R. S. Sterling for the construction of highways, but that taxes would be greatly increased.

In most of the counties that have issued bonds to build their part of a highway system there is no option to pay the bonds before maturity, he said, and the bond holders would never consent to the payment of the bonds without demanding a premium because the bonds drew around 4½ per cent interest and call money in New York today is 2 per cent.

"The result would be that the people would have $350,000,000 of bonds saddled upon them and counties would continue to pay interest on the bonds they voted to build their part of the highway system, Mr. Mayfield said.

The speaker was introduced by Donley Suddath.

POLITICS DULL IN STEPHENS

Woman Sheriff opposed For Re-Election

Special to The Record News

DUNCAN, Okla., July 1.—While other candidates are beating the brush and driving the dusty highways in search of votes, two Stephens county officeholders have nothing to worry about in the primary July 29.

Opal Turner, county clerk, and Ray O. Sutherland, county superintendent, both Democrats, have no opposition for re-election on either ticket.

Although Stephens county now has a woman sheriff, Mrs. Minnie Williams, who succeeded her husband, W. A. Williams when he was murdered by the Cunningham brothers bank bandit gang, politics have little attraction for the women this year. Mrs. Turner is the only candidate for office in the county this year.

The list of filings gives no indication of a "Republican year" in the county this year. R. G. Logan of Comanche, candidate for sheriff, is the only Republican candidate filed.

Stephens county voters will find two pairs of identical or similar names on their primary ballots this year. William C. Murray of Marlow is a candidate for county clerk, while his half-brother, William H. Murray of Tishomingo is a candidate for governor.

John M. Jackson of Duncan is a candidate for sheriff, while John W. Jackson, also of Duncan, is a candidate to succeed himself as county commissioner. They are not related.

Although the close of the filing period found five candidates each in the races for sheriff, tax assessor and commissioner from the central district, little interest is being shown by voters in the approaching primary and a light vote is forecast.

WHEAT POURS INTO CLAUDE

Three Elevators Handle Heavy Harvest

Special to The Record News.

CLAUDE, Texas, July 1.—Thousands of bushels of wheat are being hauled into Claude every day and late into the night. Claude possesses three grain elevators, the J. N. Beasley Grain company, the Nelson-Davis Grain company, and the Weeks & Bagwell elevator. These elevators have from eight to 12 men assistants and all hands at each of the three elevators are as busy as it is possible for them to be.

The very latest and most modern machinery is installed in these elevators, making it possible for much grain to be handled in a very short time. Wheat started off at about 72 cents per bushel and the price has not changed materially since that time. There has been about 500,000 bushels of wheat hauled in to the Claude elevators besides hundreds of bushels that are being hauled to other grain shipping points over the county.

Wheat is averaging about 15 to 20 bushels to the acre. It is turning out much better than it was predicted a few weeks before harvest set in. This early prediction was due to the long continued drouth that was experienced throughout the county.

DENTON HEARS ROSS STERLING

Candidate Urges State Road Bonds

Special to The Record News

DENTON, Texas, July 1.—Renewing his plea that the people be given a chance to vote on a state road bond issue, Ross Sterling, chairman of the state highway commission, Tuesday brought his candidacy for governor to this so-called "no man's land" of North Texas.

Speaking at the State Teachers college here in the morning and on the courthouse lawn in the afternoon, Mr. Sterling declared that three years' intimate study of highway conditions had convinced him that the counties should not be required to contribute toward construction of state roads. They should conserve their credit and bonding power for building county roads, he asserted.

Seeks Refund

"State highways should be financed by the people who travel them, through the gasoline tax and not through taxes on farms, ranches and business properties. The $75,000,000 which the counties already have paid on state roads should be returned to them for retiring their outstanding bonds or improving their laterals, Mr. Sterling declared.

"The only way I know to achieve these ends is through a statewide bond issue, secured by the gasoline tax, the speakere explained. "The people should have the right to vote on the question."

Cites Other States

Pointing out that 31 other states had adopted this system, he cited North Carolinia with its completed highway system and its industrial leadership as an example of its success, as compared to backward South Carolina with its meager good roads built on the so-called pay as you go plan.

President R. L. Marquis presented Mr. Sterling to the teachers college audience, declaring that "as highway chairman he has done more than many Texas people dream of." He was introduced in the afternoon by Mayor B. W. McKinzie. At noon he was guest at a Kiwanis club luncheon at C. I. A. cafeteria.

Mississippi Valley Earthquake Feared

WASHINGTON, July 1. (UP)—The likelihood of a great earthquake in the Mississippi valley is the latest reason advanced for the "reservoir system" of flood control on the "father of waters."

In a radio speech last night Representative Stone, Republican, Oklahoma, recalled the disastrous Mississippi valley quakes of 1811 and 1812 and predicted another one soon if the reservoir system is not installed.

According to scientists, he said, the vast deposits of silt brought each year to the mouth of the stream result in earth disturbances. This cause could be removed, he explained, by storing water at the river's source.

Stone said there was general dissatisfaction in the Mississippi valley with the present "Jadwin plan" of flood control.

in a cigarette it's Taste

THROUGH COMPETENCE, the individual rises to positions of responsibility and respect. Through dependability of taste, a cigarette attains ever greater popularity.

INCREASING MILLIONS of Chesterfields are lighted each day because smokers find that in this cigarette good taste is unfailing.

CHESTERFIELDS ARE RICH IN AROMA, flavor and fragrance, which come from the right selection of choice tobaccos, blended and cross-blended to a rare cigarette goodness. They offer the utmost in smoking enjoyment . . . "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price.

Well Earned Glory
The Red Bugaboo
Shocking Books
A King Loses a Suit

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Unimaginative people will ask: Why another transatlantic airplane flight? Every such attempt, proven successful, makes the next risk less hazardous and more feasible. Perfection is gained by repeated trials. Kingsford-Smith and his aids are benefactors to mankind, whatever incidental glory may accrue to them. There can never be enough men who do and dare.

The cry of "communism" during war time was a safe enough refuge for all political and intellectual cowards. But the war is long over and the asylum will not serve. Still the foolish cry is heard whenever an attempt is made to modernize and humanize faulty institution or profession.

No humanitarian effort in recent years is more laudable than the proposed federal free medical service for veterans. At once there are vigorous denunciations charging the government with "competing with private practitioners and private hospitals, and tending toward Communism." But sensible people are used to this cry and no longer heed it.

Librarians say the fad for "shocking books" is on the wane. L. L. Dickerman, head of the Indianapolis public library, believes the "saturation point" has been reached, although he admits that whenever a book is reported censored there is a run on the library for copies of it. Which shows the futility of censorship. A really bad book is given, thereby, an importance it does not deserve. If there is no legitimate way of getting people to read worthwhile books, let us invoke periodic censors on them. Then at least there will be an excuse for censorship.

When a king loses a suit with a peddler it is something worth inquiring into. Victor Emmanuel, king of Italy, presses a claim against the estate of Antonio Comincio, New York peddler of Italian birth, on the ground that the crown is heir to all property of an Italian subject not distributed by will, and to which there are no claimants. The supreme court turns the king down with the conclusion that the peddler's intent to abandon his fatherland was clearly established in his residence of 39 years in the United States.

The decision will interest consular agents all over the world. A victory for the Italian crown would have enabled other countries to enter similar claims and millions of dollars would thus have been taken out of the country.

Colds, coughs, sneezings and catarrhs are to be banished by science. Violet light tests at Cornell university, to which 300 students submit, prove efficacious enough to warrant the assertion that pneumonia, bronchitis, influenza and other respiratory ailments can be controlled and, in time, eliminated.

The test was made by Dean F. Smiley and Dr. George H. Maughan, both of Cornell. Students who took one light-bath a week showed, for the first two months, a reduced susceptibility to colds of 42½ per cent. For the next three months the average was even higher, 50 per cent. The women who took the light tests did not show up half so well. That is because women are not so cold-blooded.

Town Evacuated As Big Gas Well Roars

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, July 1. (AP)—The section of Refugio, thriving oil town near here, north of the railroad was depopulated today after a warning had been issued yesterday to residents because of danger of fire in the Houston Oil company's wild gasser on block 14 in the Refugio townsite. The well had not been under control in a week and was flowing raw gas and pure gasoline. Officials of the company said the fire danger was great.

Touring Without Maps

PROBABLY there is no way of finding out just how many Americans are going to spend their vacations taking motor trips this summer. Certainly the number will run into the millions. A glance at any main trunk highway on a summer day would prepare one to accept any estimate, no matter how high.

This being the case, it is a melancholy reflection that a great many of these tourists—perhaps a majority—will not really have vacations at all. They will return to their homes more tired than when they started out. Instead of fitting themselves for another year of work they will have made a new drain on their nervous and physical energy.

The automobile has given us a marvelous new field in the realm of vacations. The pity is that we do not yet seem to have found out the best way to take advantage of it.

There seems to be something about an automobile that compels a man to be energetic and restless. The average family sets forth on a vacation tour dedicated to the proposition that they must cover at least 300 miles a day, if for no other reason than to prove that they and their car can do it; and there is no surer way to waste a vacation than this.

The wise ones, on the other hand, refuse to look at mileage marks. Often they will not even carry maps. Their aim is not to cover as much ground as possible but to loaf along as restfully as possible. They are the ones whose vacations really do them some good.

For the automobile, while it will oblige the energetic with great bursts of speed, is also a fine thing for the loafer. Once you catch on to the trick of it you can make vacation touring the most restful recreation imaginable. If you are content to idle along, caring not in the least whether you make Jonesboro that night or whether you have to stop at Smithville, halfway to Jonesboro, willing to dawdle down the pike letting any other driver speed past you if he wants to—then the joys of motoring are really yours.

For then you can be, not a restless wanderer, but a contented wanderer. There is a difference. The restless one consumes his own energy. The contented one stores it up. The restless one passes up charming towns and beautiful lakes and valleys in order to get to wherever it is that he is bound; the contented one stops when he comes to a place he likes, turns down any road that appeals to him, never frets himself about the distance he has gone or the distance that still lies before him.

If you have never tried that kind of motoring, this summer would be a fine time to give it a whirl. Leave your map at home, and set out without any destination at all. Make only one resolution—that you will not, under any circumstances, hurry. Drive just for the fun of it and not to get somewhere. You will find motoring to be a lot more enjoyable than you ever dreamed it could be.

Manager of the Texas G.O.P. Is Named

MAJ. LEONARD WITHINGTON, after having managed the Republican party of Texas for a number of years, was called by the messenger of death. Now it is announced A. T. Toothman would become secretary of the Creager state committee and managing director of the Texas Republican organization on July 1. Managing Director Toothman has been associated with the civil service commission, the federal department of agriculture and the department of commerce, and he was in business in Washington and Mississippi before coming to Texas.

The late Major Withington built up a Republican organization in more than 200 of the 254 counties in Texas. He was a trained newspaper man; he knew the political game; he was the right-hand man of National Committeeman Creager, he was a world war veteran and he received his early political training in the old Bay state.

It is said in the political circles of the capitol that Dr. George C. Butte will win the Republican primary nomination for the office of governor, and Texas Republican leaders are confident that they will make a marvelous showing this year at the polls in November. In all the southern states where Democrats bolted to the Republicans in 1928, they have returned to the fold of Jefferson. Now what will happen in Texas? Will they be participants in the Democratic primary, or will they boycott the primary and vote the Republican ticket at the general election?

Ocean Flights Still Thrill

IT MAY be quite true, as the critics have been insisting, that ocean airplane flights are no longer useful to aviation because they neither prove nor reveal anything that is not known already; but there is still a big thrill in them.

The flight of the Southern Cross has been quite as spectacular as any of them. No one, picking up an afternoon paper and tracing the plane's progress over the perilous wastes by the brief press association bulletins, could fail to be moved. Nor could anyone read Kingsford-Smith's account of the flight without intense interest.

Transoceanic airplane flights may, as they say, be mere stunts, too risky to be worth while; but they are, after all, high adventure. The Southern Cross and her crew have given us a moment of release from the monotony of everyday. We owe them a debt of gratitude.

A Yale Professor Makes a Demand

IT appears that pro enforcement is an acute political issue in the ancient state of Connecticut. Dr. Wilbur L. Cross, retired dean of the Yale graduate school, is a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He has announced his platform. He demands repeal of the 18th amendment "in the interest of good government." These retired deans of ancient American colleges are showing great activity in the political arena since Ambassador Morrow made his famous political coup in the ancient state of New Jersey.

I'm rather glad I went to school to you,
Although the term I spent was all too short;
I'll say you knew your subjects through and through,
And learning it from you was joyful sport.

You must admit that I was never late,
I brought you presents as a pupil should,
And tried my very best to concentrate,
Although at times I wasn't always good.

You taught me love, and when the term was done,
Another pupil sauntered into view;
You claimed it had been loads and loads of fun,
But that your classroom had no space for two;

Yet I asborbed a lot—so maidens state—
You can be proud of your young graduate!

Another Woman Pays

In one of New York's better known hospitals recently a young doctor and a much younger nurse were necking in a secluded spot in the hospital and a snitcher informed an executive.

The lovely looking and charming young nurse was asked to resign, which she did.

But the doctor wasn't asked to resign, which he didn't.

I marked the doctor's second "woman violation." One presumes that he must be caught a third time before he is scolded, or before this department turns over the details as well as his name to the city editor.

Add Similes

Suggested for Frank Wilstach's annual collection of Best Similes: Jack (Judge) Shutterworth's: "As easy as falling off the water-wagon."

As if We Didn't Know

Incidentally, it is Shutterworth, the author of the forthcoming "Noble Experiments" (a grand collection of cocktail recipes), who says: "A man is drunk when he feels sophisticated and can't pronounce it!"

The Retort Swelegant

It happened ever so many seasons ago at the Palace theater. Ben Bernie, an amusing and flip quipper, was doing his routine of swifties and others not so swift when he noticed a well-known cartoonist sitting in a stage loge.

"Hmmm," hmmm'd. Bernie sassily, turning to the cartoonist, "I had better not tell my best jokes here or they'll be in your cartoons."

"Your jokes, yelled the well-known crayon-juggler, "have been in cartoons!"

Add Merciless Truths

Perhaps if it had been uttered by an Irishman, Scot, Turk or any other Gentile it would have started a riot, but a prominent heeb said it and the listeners roared. He opened his remarks with "that reminds me of a story. There were five or six Jews—there always are!"

Those Good Old Unhappy Days

May S. Barmack forwards a clipping from the New York Times which recently announced that the monitor of this pillar would appear at the Palace Music Hall. Other clippings from the Evepost and Sunday Telegraph also came, the latter announcing that the weekly wage would be $2,500. Miss Barmack inquires: "Does this mean there won't be any more column?"

Let it be recorded now that the announcements were premature, and that the Palace representatives suggested such a booking, but it was not accepted for several reasons. The most important being that we recently saw Confrere Hellinger's turn in a Bronx theatre and upon leaving his dressing room we talked across the dimly lit, barren stage. The organ was accompanying the feature movie with mournful melody, and suddenly a terrible shudder swept our frame. The shudder following a mind-flash photo of the career of 10 years ago, when the struggle to make a living was much more difficult than it is now.

Not until we walked across that lonesome stage did we realize how fortunate we have been—since deserting the stage for the typewriter. And we never again will walk back stage of a theater so long as we live, which will be one way of helping to forget the smelly cellar dressing rooms, the officious $50 per week managers, the army of thick-skulled orchestra directors, the cue-missers, the greasy restaurants in the smaller towns, the so-so hotels and the other heart-aches that go with show business.

And, besides, the Palace people who had two weeks notice to find one, couldn't dig up a big enough net from behind which we intended to (Ahem!) show 'em how it should be done.

Fun My Soul!

Harold Seton suggests that Wm. H. Thompson, of Chicago, and Police Commissioner Wm. Russell be made to walk the "gang" plank.

The Grandest Canyon

"Broadway! Broadway! Bright thoroughfare of sorrow! Avenue of anguish! Street of tragedy shallowly hid in a thousand spurious smiles. Where fame teases. Where temptation lurks. O Street whose deathless fire burns for the outspread wings of the guileless moth! O Street whose bliss is bought with the shameless tears of countless betrayed maidens! Highway of tinseled wretchedness, path of mean glories. Where beauty is broken on sin's cruel wheel. Where honor is reckoned in soiled dimes. Broadway! Broadway!" cried the trolley conductor, who believed what he read in the papers, "Sixth Avenue next!"

The Squelch Terrible

It is Willard (N. Y. Press) Keefe's quip about the terpsichorine who just returned from London where she chorus'd in a show.

"Hell-oh, Hilda!" she ejaculated upon encountering a former undressing-roommate, "I've been away for six months. Tell me, what has been the scandal?"

"Maude," indifferently replied the other (who never liked her, anyhow), "there hasn't been any scandal since you went away."

The services are Friday at her late home.

Swifty

Take it from Julius Tannen, Jack Sharkey probably is the chief reason for the Wall street crashes, "for everytime he steps in he is responsible for a new low."

"SHEILA"

Love and Mystery
Humor and Tragedy

A Story of Wichita Falls
By GORDON TURNER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Maizie Brown writes this story for practice in a story-telling correspondence school course, never intending it to be published. She is the confidential secretary of Frank Sheridan, wealthy young lawyer whose hobby is the solving of crime mysteries. Sheridan is making a double investigation into a safe robbery at the home of William Oliver Wilber, inventor and manufacturer, and into the strange death by electrocution of Lena Swartz, a maid in the Wilber home. From the safe was stolen a diary of Wilber's wife, now dead, which contains a secret of the birth of Sheila, Wilber's daughter, who was engaged to marry Joseph Hedley, assistant of Homer Menton, unprincipled criminal lawyer, who gets possession of the diary and persuades Andy Masters, Sheila's wayward cousin, to join him in a blackmail plot against Wilber. Andy, while intoxicated, tells Sheila she is a foundling and has no legal right to Wilber's name. Sheila surprises Wilber into partial confirmation of Andy's accusations and, feeling herself disgraced, breaks her engagement to Hedley. Andy has been paying court to Edna Rogers, Sheila's chum, but has an affair with Menton's stenographer, Mercedes Riverton. Menton is killed and Andy injured in an automobile accident before the plot against Wilber can be put into execution. Mercedes, in the same accident, escapes injury and plays the role of Andy's nurse at his apartment, which is presided over by Ike Sellers, Andy's valet. Chastened by their narrow escape from death, Andy gets Mercey to recover the diary from Menton's office. Sheila calls on Andy and takes back to Wilber the diary in a wrapped parcel, not knowing its contents.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XXXI

Note by Maizie Brown to Her Correspondence School Instructor: There are several things in the foregoing, Mr. Instructor, of which I would like you to take especial cognizance in your criticism of this narrative as a fiction story. As it is all fact with only the form of fiction, the development of the story has been hampered by the necessity of sticking to the facts. In pure fiction the author can make his characters act logically and he is hampered only by the limitations of his imagination.

But I have found to my sorrow that folk in real life do not act logically—did that ever occur to you? For instance, take this girl, Sheila: could anyone in these modern times conceive a girl feeling herself eternally disgraced because her birth had not been according to matrimonial Marquis of Queensbury rules? Not on your life! Your real modern girl would look upon it as a distinction—so different, so bohemian, don't you know.

Now, with Wilber it is different—he never emerged from the Gay Nineties when men and women evaded the conventions as much as they do today, but didn't boast about it because the badge of respectability was worn only by those who weren't found out. Now they hire a press agent to broadcast the glad tidings and cash in with a lucrative vaudeville engagement or beat all boxoffice records with lectures on "Sex Shall Not Be Denied." No, Mr. Instructor, Wilber is just about a quarter of a century behind the times and Sheila is a throwback—and that's some of the material I have to work with. It's discouraging, but I've got to make the best of it.

Another thing—and this may sound funny—but, do you know, I haven't at this minute the slightest idea how this story is going to end. You see, it's being written as it develops in real life, and I am only about two jumps behind the action. Are Andy and Mercy going to make a go of it? Search me? Is Sheila going to get over her obsession and take Joe Hedley back? I don't know, but have hopes. Who killed Lena Swartz? Ask me another. I have a dark suspicion that Mr. Sheridan knows but so far he hasn't let me in on it. Wouldn't it be a joke if he left me flat and I'd have to end this story with a mystery unsolved? Oh, well, that would be something new in fiction, anyway. Does anything develop out of the advertisement Sheila's real mother put in The Record News seeking the whereabouts of the baby she gave away 22 years ago? Well, there is something doing about that as you shall see in this chapter, which will be in the first person, feminine gender, in further defiance of your story-telling rules.

It was almost noon of the day following his encounter with Riley Morgan that Frank Sheridan arrived at his office in the Waggoner building. He immediately called in his efficient secretary (that's me, Mazie Brown), and I saw at once that he was fairly bursting to talk things out with somebody.

"A whole lot has happened since I left this office yesterday afternoon," he began with a quizzical frown. "Do you know, Mazie, I no more than get one end of this confounded Wilber tangle straightened out than something turns up that ties it all in a knot again."

The he told about finding Morgan and forcing him to confess, not only to the Wilber safe robbery, but to his plot with Menton to steal Wilber's invention. He described how he had persuaded Riley to agree to burglarize Menton's office and recover the stolen diary.

"And then, Maizie," he exclaimed, "when I get back to my rooms I receive a telephone call from Wilber announcing he has the diary! What an anticlimax! Here I am gleefully congratulating myself on my clever work toward recovery of the diary and I wake up to find somebody has beaten me to it."

I laughed—I just had to, he was so comically crestfallen. I really believe he was sorry the diary had been found; he would rather have had the fun of carrying out his deal with the burglar.

"Well, that let's Riley Morgan out," he said with a sigh. "I'll have to pay him the reward I promised and call him off. Take this letter."

He dictated a carefully worded note to Morgan, ordering him not to carry out the plan and telling him to call at the office for his pay. He had agreed to communicate with Riley by letter. Morgan called the next day, and got the money and was advised to get out of town. And so he passed out of the picture, for the time, at least.

"I went out to see Wilber this morning," Mr. Sheridan said as I closed my notebook. "I was flabbergasted when I heard he had the diary. It seems Sheila had gone to see Andy Masters who is laid up by the injuries he received in the auto smashup that did for Menton. She brought the diary back with her from Master's flat. She didn't know what it was as it was wrapped up ready for mailing and Andy told her it was some papers belonging to Wilber. Quite right, that explanation, eh?

"Wilber fortunately did not open the package in Sheila's presence, but the old boy was struck all in a heap. He had been out to see Andy the day before, and there had been fond words and forgiveness and all that sort of thing, with Wilber thinking his precious nephew had turned over a new leaf and was going to go straight, now and forever, etc. Then he is confronted with the fact that the diary had been in Andy's possession, and he's all up in the air again. He called up Andy's flat, but got no satisfaction. It now behooves me to get in touch with foxy Andy and find out what's what."

(It may be stated here parenthetically that he saw Andy Masters a few days later and learned what the reader no doubt already suspects. Mercy had gone to Menton's office in furtherance of her agreement with Andy and carried off the diary. Mercy and Andy had intended to mail it anonymously to Wilber, but Sheila had innocently spoiled that little plot. Incidentally, neither Andy nor Mercy had attempted to read the diary—they were only too glad to get rid of it as soon as possible and wash their hands of the whole affair.)

"However, that's a minor matter," Mr. Sheridan continued. "The big thing is that the diary has been recovered and the fear of sensational publicity and the menace of blackmail has been lifted from Wilber. Menton is dead, and thus his mouth is closed. Andy still is to be reckoned with, but his voluntary return of the diary indicates he has had some sort of change of heart. He certainly did enough damage when he spilled the beans to Sheila." Mr. Sheridan thrummed his fingers on the desk and gazed dreamily out of the window.

"Maizie," he said after a moment, "Wilber let me glance through that diary. It is a most amazing document. It relates a story that is almost incredible, it reads like the wildest fiction. Yet Wilber vouches for every word of it. Whoever made that hoary wisecrack about truth being stranger than fiction certainly knew his onions."

With my curiosity aroused to the boiling point, he played his usual trick of leaving it unsatisfied. He smiled teasingly at the disappointment that was mirrored in my face as he continued:

"This makes me eager to meet the woman who was one of the central figures in that long-ago drama—Sheila's real mother, the woman who now is advertising for her lost daughter. As Wilber's agent I'm now going to answer the advertisement. Though Wilber's mind is at rest about the diary, he still is worried about his financial prospects; he told me today he has heard nothing from the Demorel company about his invention, and he fears they will prove it a dud. And Sheila has broken her engagement with poor old Joe Hedley, declaring she will never marry him or any other man. So Wilber is willing, if it can be arranged, to get this woman's money settled upon Sheila as an insurance of her future. I think Sheila's all wet in her break with Joe and I'll bet money she gets back on the reservation, but that's neither here nor there. Let's see, where's that ad?"

He delved in his pocketbook, and producing the clipping from The Record News want-ad section, read it aloud:

HEIRESS SOUGHT

Information wanted as to the whereabouts of a girl, now 22 years old, who was born at Dallas City hospital in March, 1907, of Houston. Mother of girl, now wealthy, desires to make her heir to estate. Must be no publicity. Any communication must be held confidential. Address M-160, care Record News.

"Now, Miss Mazie Brown, take another letter, if you please." He dictated:

"Dear Madam:

"If you will call at my office in the Waggoner building I think I shall be able to put you in possession of the information you seek regarding the whereabouts of the young woman referred to in your advertisement in The Record News.

"I assure you that any communication will be held in the strictest confidence.

"Yours respectfully."

The letter was typed, signed and mailed to The Record News address.

The next day, Mr. Sheridan received the shock of his life.

Q.—Upon what day in June, 1911, was King George V crowned?—N. K.

A.—He was crowned on June 22.

Q.—When will all the main highways bear federal markers?—H. S.

A.—It is hoped that the work will be practically finished by late autumn. There are 97,000 miles of highway included in the system.

Q.—Is the Indianapolis speedway made of brick or wooden blocks? What is the speed requirement for entrance in the race?—J. A. M.

A.—The Indianapolis speedway is built of brick. The required speed to qualify for entrance in the race changes each year. For 1930 the requirement was 85 miles per hour for four complete laps of track.

Q.—How many patients are there in the leprosarium at Carville, La? —S. G. E.

Q.—How far south is the aurora borealis seen?—W. P. G.

A.—The frequency of the aurora borealis varies with the latitude of the place. It is comparatively rare within 45 degrees of the equator, but more frequent towards the North, up to the latitude of about 60 degrees where it sometimes becomes almost a nightly occurrence. The aurora is less frequent near the poles.

This is 83 per cent of the total deaths in the first year.

Q.—Upon what occasion did Sherman say "War is hell"?—A. G. McC.

A.—The expression "war is hell" is attributed to General Sherman, although it was not remembered by him. John Koolbeck of Harlem, Iowa, who was aide de camp to General Winslow, testified that after the battle of Vicksburg in 1861 General Sherman was watching the crossing of the army over a pontoon bridge at the River Pearl and he (John Koolbeck) distinctly heard General Sherman say "war is hell."

Q.—What is Sheland wool? —L. C. R.

A.—Shetland wool sometimes refers to English two-strand fine knitting yarn, but its real meaning is very fine and lustrous wool yielded by the Shetland sheep. The real Shetland wool has an undergrowth found under the long hairy wool, and is not shorn but "roo'd" or pulled by hand in the spring. It comes in white, gray or brown, and is one of the costliest wools known. The wool is scoured and spun by hand, then treated with the fumes of sulphur and made up into hosiery, underwear, crochet work and very fine shawls.

Q.—Please give the early history of horse racing.—N. W.

A.—The earliest recorded organized trials of speed with horses were the chariot races at the Greek national festivals, of which the most notable were the Olympic games held every fourth year. Greek sculpture frequently represents the horse as used for riding, apparently without a saddle in most cases; but not as so employed for sport, except as an incident to the chariot racing. On the other hand, the horses in the Roman contests were to a very great extent ridden. All the formalities of entering and of differentiation of classes and of starting were minutely laid down and followed, even to the color of the riders' uniforms. In the earlier times these Roman races were held on the open plain. There has always been a tradition in England that on Salisbury plain, just outside Stonehenge, the remains of a Roman race course exist; and the oldest race which still takes place in England is run over a flat meadow just outside the walls of the Roman city of Chester.

Health and Diet Advice

Cherries Are Ripe

Cherries belong to the stone fruits or the drupes, being of the same family as plums, peaches and apricots. There are over 250 kinds of cherries, some of them large, small, sweet, sour, dark, bright, red, firm, soft and some heart-shaped. The cherry is grown in more climates than any other single fruit, since it is found from Vancouver to Newfoundland, and from Florida to Texas. It also grows in Europe, China and Japan.

In Japan the festival of the cherry blossoms in which the flowering trees break into bloom attracts many travelers. In 1912 the city of Tokyo sent to Washington, D. C., over 2,000 flowering cheery trees which were set out in Potomac park, and which provide a full month of bloom for the capitol, a yearly reminder of the good will between the two countries.

In the forest region of France dried cherries are used in making soup. In many country districts schools let out in time for the children to be free to gather cherries.

In North America the cherry is one of the first fruits which appears in the late spring to tempt one's appetite after the winter, when fresh fruit is not so plentiful. Its attractive red color, tart flavor and general deliciousness, makes it a very tempting fruit at the beginning of the summer fruit season.

The name of the cherry is taken from the Greek word meaning horn referring to the wood, which is as hard as horn.

Besides the cherry being used fresh at this time of the year, it is also employed in making beverages. Some of these are cherry bounce, cherry cordial and cherry brandy. In the Upper Rhine the pulp is fermented and distilled into Kirshwasser, while Zara, in Dalamatia, is famed for its maraschino liquor of cherries and honey.

While cherries are now so plentiful I would like to especially recommend that my readers learn how to use them to get the best results in promoting better health. Those who have been thinking about taking a fast should take advantage of the cherry season and take a few days' fruit fast on the delicious fruit.

Tomorrow I will tell you more about the cherry fast and the most healthful way to use cherries in your diet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Thrombus

Question: Mrs. B. P. writes—"I have what the doctor calls a thrombus, and he tells me I must wear elastic stockings all the rest of my life. He also says there is no cure for it, that the clot will always be there, and that if it did dislodge I would die instantly. Nothing has helped me but the orange juice, and I have had five doctors. Is there danger, when using the orange juice fast, that the clot might dislodge, and is it true that if it did so there is danger of death? Also, do I dare take the exercises when in this condition?"

Answer—I advise the orange juice fast when a clot has formed. Contrary to your doctor's opinion, I have seen many cases where the clot was dissolved or dislodged, but I have never seen a case die. There is, of course, the possibility that the clot may enter the brain or some other vital organ, but out of the several hundred cases I have seen treated, I have never yet seen a case where this has occurred, so evidently it is not a frequent occurrence. I would advise another orange juice fast and also use the hot and cold applications on the affected regions. I would not advise much exercise until you show an improvement.

Foods for Nerves

Question: Mrs. V. M. B. asks—"Is it true that there are certain foods reputedly beneficial in the treatment of nervous diseases? What are they?"

Answer—There is no special food which has any specific effect upon the nerves outside of all those foods which contain organic minerals, such as the non-starchy vegetables. Nervous people are in such a condition because of a toxic irritation of their nerves, or from destructive thinking.

Famine Prevails In Soviet Russia

RIGA, July 1. (INS)—Famine conditions in Soviet Russia have caused serious strikes and riots and indirectly resulted in the loss of at least a score of lives within the last 24 hours, it was reported in dispatches reaching here today.

The fatalities occurred in a city of the Ukraine when a plank bridge over a ravine collapsed beneath the weight of hundreds of Soviet women fighting to storm a public market after announcement of a sale of herrings. The market was approached by means of the flimsy bridge, whcih gave way after the housewives had battled among themselves for precedence.

Twenty were killed and 200 injured when the bridge collapsed, the report said. The victims were hurled to the bottom of the ravine.

In Odessa, several thousand women and children factory workers paraded in protest against famine conditions, demanding the return of the policies of Nikolai Lenin, founder the the Bolshevist movement, under whose leadership the peasants bitterly state they always had sufficient food.

Man and Daughters Wounded by Negro

WARRENTON, Va., July 1. (AP)—Allie Corbin, 65, is near death and his two daughters, Estelle and Isabelle, are in a hospital, all three suffering from bullet wounds and burns reported to have resulted from an attack on them by Elwood Payne, negro.

Payne was arrested and denied the charges. He is held in jail.

Sheriff W. S. Wolf said he was told Payne shot Corbin during an argument and then drove the car they were in to the Corbin farmhouse, telling the girls their father had been injured in an accident.

The girls said they left the house on the way to a hospital and Payne shot them, poured gasoline on the car, set fire to it and ran away.

ZIONISTS HOPE TO HEAL RIFT

Justice Brandeis Offers To Cooperate

CLEVELAND, July 1. (AP)—Hope for unification of forces within the Zionist organization of America was increased today with the assurance of Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis that he stands ready to cooperate with leaders of the movement after nine years of differences with the administration.

The Brandeis administration was overthrown in 1921 and since then he and Federal Judge Julian W. Mack of New York had headed forces dissenting with the present administration.

Brandeis' offer to return to the organization in an advisory capacity was enthusiastically accepted as the "means of bringing about in our ranks that goodwill and faith needed to unite all forces in American Israel for the upbuilding of Eretz Israel" in a resolution unanimously adopted at the 33rd annual convention here last night.

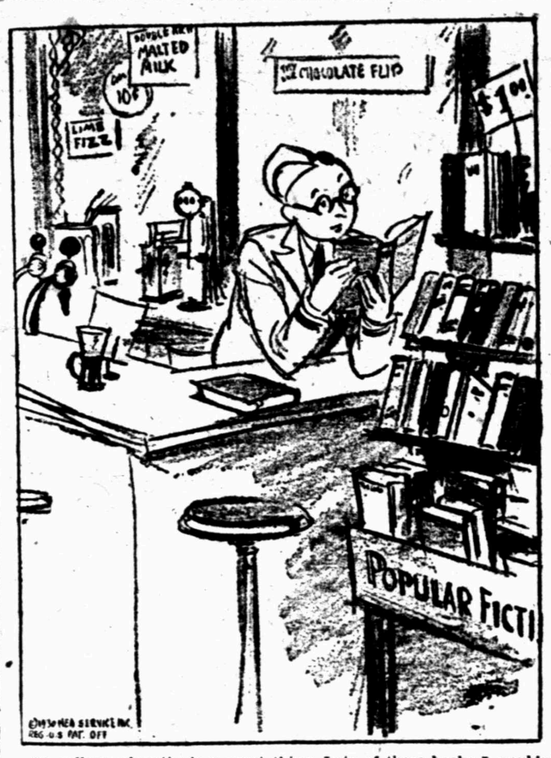

Meanwhile, negotiations were continued in an effort to reconcile opposing leaders.

International C.-C. Meeting Set May 4-9

PARIS, July 1. (AP)—The next congress of the international chamber of commerce was definitely fixed today for May 4 to 9 at Washington, D. C., by the council of the chamber. It was announced that this action was taken after adoption of resolutions at a Friday meeting regarding solution of the present world crisis.

The council urged that all governments take all possible measures to encourage international exchange of products, and urged the Bank of International Settlements and Bank of Issue to do everything possible to avoid excesive accumulations of gold and to facilitate cheap money and free movemept of capital. The world crisis was attributed to overproduction and reduced consumption.

DALLAS STEERS RALLY IN EIGHTH TO DEFEAT SPUDDERS, 4 TO 2

Waco Hands Buffs Their First Defeat Of Second Half

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Fort Worth is going to steal the show July 4 and many Wichitans, determined to make the most of it and see the Spudders regardless of where they are, are making plans to visit the Panther city and attend the Independence day doubleheader scheduled between the Williamsmen and the Cats.

For the information of those who have not yet secured tickets for the battle, Guy Airey, secretary, announced Tuesday reservations could be made with him now. He may be reached at the office of the Wichita Falls Baseball club. The tickets may be secured from him at the Texas hotel in Fort Worth Friday, the day of the game, the secretary announced.

The Spudders led the field in club batting and finished up second in club fielding in the first half of the Texas league race, according to statistics for the first half of the season released yesterday by William B. Ruggles, statistician. Boasting five hard sluggers whose averages are above the .300 mark, the Spudders gave an exhibition of willow-wielding by chalking up a .296 club batting average to lead Waco and Beaumont by six points. The latter two tied for second place in club batting with averages of .290.

Howard Fitzgerald, with an average of .349, towered above his mates in batting prowess. Next came Bettencourt with an average of .333; Kloza with an average of .326; Burns with an average of .320; Euller with an average of .310.

Fort Worth set the pace in club fielding with an average of .971, the Spudders with an average of .970, needing only on point to tie for first place honors.

The Electra Country clubs' first annual invitation golf tournament started Monday with something over 40 players from this section of the state competing. Though the number of entries is not large, officials of the club are not downhearted, especially since this is the first year of the tournament. The Green Belt tournament didn't start off as a classic by any means and now it has reached a stage where the Northwest Texas sporting public takes a great interest in it. There is no reason to doubt that the Electra tournament in years to come will attract the same interest, for some of Northwest Texas' finest golfers come from that neighborhood.

The tournament is at least providing sufficient entertainment for those entered. The day's routine has been carefully worked out by U. E. White, general chairman of the committee on arrangements; H. W. Myers, chairman of the grounds committee; and S. B. Marchant, chairman of the entertainment committee. Bill Strachan, Wichita Falls professional, is official starter.

HOMER SPOILS CHAMPS' LEAD

'Old Pete' Wins His First Tilt in Texas League

Special to The Record News

DALLAS, July 1.—Grover Cleveland Alexander won his first game in the Texas league today when Willingham, pinch-hitting in the eighth inning, hit a home run with two-aboard to enable the Steers to overcome the Spudders' one-run lead and win the first of the series, 4 to 2.

Willingham was hitting for Alexander when he cracked the homer. Grimm finished the battle for the Steers, successfully retiring the Spudders in the ninth. Caldwell went the route for the Spudders, pitching excellently in the pinches to offset errors by his mates. Caldwell gave the Steers 13 hits, while the Spudders touched Alexander for only six.

Steers Score First

The Steers scored in the first and it was not until the third that the Spudders tied it up. Bettencourt's home run over the center field fence in the sixth put the Spudders in the lead they retained until the Steers rallied in the eighth.

The victory climaxed a great day for the Steers, who celebrated flag day today, the Texas league bunting won by the Steers last year being raised with appropriate ceremonies. Also, it was Jakie Atz' birthday. And finally, "Old Pete," having lost his first start in the league, retaliated by winning.

The Steers opened up their half of the first inning with L. Morse's single to right. Urban was thrown out, Storti to Burns, Morse taking second. Storti threw Cotter out at first. G. Moore beat out a hit to third and Morse scored. J. Moore singled to center, sending G. Moore to third. Taitt was thrown out, Levey to Burns, to close the inning.

The second was uneventful, but in the third the Spudders tied it up. Caldwell flied out to left. Levey beat out a bunt in front of the plate. Storti singled to right, sending Levey to third, and took second on the throw to third. Fitzgerald sacrificed to right, Levey scoring and Storti taking third. Kloza was thrown out, second to first.

He Stops 'Em

Caldwell gave an exhibition of his cool-headedness in the pinches in the fourth inning when he retired the side at a dangerous moment. Alexander singled to center after Tobin went out, Geygan to Burns. L. Morse was safe at first on Levey's fumble, Alexander going to second. Then on a passed ball, Alexander went to third and L. Morse to second. Then Urban grounded out, Geygan to Burns and Cotter, Levey to Burns.

Things rocked along until the eighth. The Spudders were held scoreless. Michaels, first up for Dallas, doubled to left. Tobin singled to center and Michaels stopped at third. Willingham then came up for Alexander and swatted his home run over the center field fence, scoring Michaels and Tobin ahead of himself. L. Morse was thrown out, Caldwell to Burns and so was Urban. Cotter flied to left to retire the side.

Grimm held the Spuds hitless in the ninth.

The teams play the second game of the series Wednesday.

P. B. M. Meets Foe In Second Game Of Play-Off Today

Again this afternoon John Bernard will hurl his P. B. M. warriors at the throats of Paul Whatley's Texas Electric Service company baseball team in an effort to even up the play-off series for the championship of the first half in the Merchants league. The game will be played on Harrison field starting at 6 o'clock.

Big Everett Blue, batting and pitching leader of the league, will be the favorite to ascend the hill for the Kilowatts while Ray Keith or Wilbur Lea will do the hurling for the Clothiers. Both teams announce that their lineups will be intact for the second clash of this important series.

One more victory for the Kilowatts will close the issue while P. B. M. must take two in a row to become the first half champs. In case the P. B. M. nine wins the game this afternoon, the third and final game of the play-off will be played next Sunday afternoon on Harrison field starting at 3 o'clock.

The P. B. M. team won the first game of the play-off series Sunday.

HELEN JACOBS LOSES MATCH

German Netter Eliminates American

WIMBLEDON, England, July 1. (AP)—The unexpected downfall of Helen Jacobs, America's second ranking tennis player, at the hands of Cecilie Aussem of Germany featured play in the British championships today but failed to prevent the United States from landing two of its representatives in the semi-final round of the women's singles.

Miss Jacobs, sadly off her game, was eliminated in the quarter-finals, 6-2, 6-1.

Ryan, Moody Place

Elizabeth Ryan, California player who makes her home in England, came through to the semi-finals along with the defending champion, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, Fraulein Aussem and Madame Rene Mathieu, who holds Suzanne Lenglen's old place as the first ranking feminine player of France.

Miss Ryan had been conceded little chance against the youthful Betty Nuthall of England, but her greater experience prevailed, 6-2, 2-6, 6-0. Mrs. Moody overwhelmed England's latest schoolmate sensation, Phyllis Mudford, 6-1, 6-2, and Madame Mathieu disposed of Joan Ridley of England, 6-2, 6-1.

In the semi-finals tomorrow Miss Ryan meets Fraulein Aussem while Queen Helen opposes Madame Mathieu.

In doubles also Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan forged into the semi-final round. This strong combination eliminated an English team consisting of Mrs. Randolph Lycett and Mrs. J. E. Hill, 6-2, 6-0.

Edith Cross, San Francisco and Sarah Palfrey, Boston, also advanced, defeating Mrs. M. A. O. Mayne and Mrs. S. V. Montgomery, England, 7-5, 6-4.

In doubles two powerful teams of youthful United States Davis Cup players as well as the American-Dutch alliance of Bill Tilden and Hans Timmer advanced.

Texan Victorious

Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, and John Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J., defending champions, won from Henry Austin and J. S. Olliff of England, 6-2, 5-7, 7-5, 7-5, while George Lott, Chicago, and John Doeg, Santa Monica, Calif., American titleholders, won two matches to join them in the semi-finals.

Lott and Doeg defeated C. E. Mallory and R. D. Poland, English players, 7-5, 2-6, 14-12, 6-3, and then put out the Australian Davis cup pair consisting of Jim Willard and Harry Hopman, 6-4, 6-2, 4-6, 6-8, 8-6.

The victory of Tilden and Timmer was scored at the expense of the American Davis cup youngsters, Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, and Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J., at 7-5, 8-6, 6-2.

ELECTRA, Texas, July 1. — A field of 10 golfers will meet in the semi-final round of the Electra Country club's invitation golf tournament here Wednesday as the result of quarter final eliminations today in which one of the two favorites was defeated.

Jack Parr, conceded the probable winner, won his match with Roy Lebus, two up; but J. H. Marriott Jr., one of his closest opponents was eliminated in a fast round with A. T. Burns of Wichita Falls, five up and four to go.

Parr Provides Thrill

Parr's victory was the sensation of the day. Parr came from behind to win the last four holes after Lebus had beaten him in the earlier holes. Lebus was two up on Parr at the beginning of the last four, but by winning these the favorite successfully eliminated his rival.

George Meredith of Eastland defeated Jack Lebus, six and five; and J. H. Bonner of Wichita Falls defeated H. G. Myers, six and five, in the other first flight matches.

In the second flight, Frank Lebus of Electra defeated A. J. Brown, Electra, two and one; Ray Morris, Eastland, defeated C. S. Watson, Iowa Park, three and two; A. C. Bledsoe, Electra, defeated Ray Cope, Quanah, eight and six; and G. R. Davidson, Electra, defeated J. G. O'Donohue, Iowa Park, four and three.

In the third flight, Jack Wilson, of Knox City, defeated O. J. Kidwell, Iowa Park, six and four; and J. C. Sheurer, Electra, defeated Paul Brush, Electra, six and five.

Winners in the three flights will meet in the semi-final round tomorrow morning and the finals are expected to be completed in the afternoon.

Women Start Flight

A fourth flight made up of women players was started today but was not completed. It will continue Wednesday morning.

Tonight the golfers were guests at a dance given at the clubhouse.

Larry Robertson limited the Southwestern Glass and Paint company baseball team to five scattered bingles Tuesday afternoon on Hamilson field while the Furniture Dealers were pounding out a 8 to 3 victory to start off the second half of the Merchants league race. Big Boy Ridling and Price led the attack for the Furnituremen with two bingles each. No Southwestern player could break into the hit column for the second time.

Southwestern broke away to a two run lead, but this was overcome in the first inning and after that the Furniture Dealers were never in any danger of losing the lead. The fielding sensation of the day was turned in by Worley, Southwestern shortstop, who leaped high into the air to make a one-handed stab of Ridling's line drive over short in the fourth inning. Shorty Witherspoon also turned in a pair of nice catches in centerfield for the Furniture Dealers. Score:

FOUL-ENDING FIGHTS BANNED

Commission Approves New Ruling

NEW YORK, July 1. (UP)—An article in boxers' agreements which the New York State Athletic commission believes will put an end to foul-ending fights, was approved and adopted by the commission today.

The new clause follows:

"Parties of the first and second part agree to equip themselves with an abdominal guard of their own selection, type to be approved by the state athletic commission, which will obviate the claims of any foul made during the contest.

"It is expressly understood that this contest is not to be terminated by a foul, as the protector selected by the boxers is in their own opinion to be sufficient protection to withstand any so-called or illegal blow which might temporarily incapacitate either or both of the parties."

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, explained that the only penalty for a low blow will be loss of the round by the offending boxer.

CROWD AWAITS BOBBY JONES

Georgians Arrive in Gotham for Welcoming

NEW YORK, July 1. (AP) — By train and by airplane, up from the land where golfers grow, came 250 beaming Georgians today to see Atlanta's most prominent citizen get a Broadway welcome.

On the excursion steamer Mandalay, they'll go down the bay tomorrow and watch Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., British amateur and open golf champion, escorted from the liner Europa aboard New York's welcoming yacht, the Macom.

Up the trail of glory, where the ticker-tape flies from the Battery to the city Hall, they will follow him to stand cheering in the background while Mayor James J. Walker tells him that New York is proud of him, too.

Major-City Loop Divides Season

The four managers of the Major-City league held a meeting Monday afternoon at the office of League President Bill Ward and voted to split the season. The vote was carried by 3 to 1 margin with the Dixon Motor company the only team to oppose the issue.

The second half of the league race starts Sunday afternoon with Johnny O'Neal's undefeated Dixon Motor company team the winners of the first half of the race.

With the three remaining teams of the league growing stronger with each passing week, a close and bitterly fought second half is expected to be forthcoming in the closing weeks of the race.

Brewers Pledge Their Allegiance to Landis

CHICAGO, July 1. (AP) — The threatened uprising against the "iron hand" rule of Kenesaw Mountain Landis over organized baseball faded unexpectedly today as American association club owners repledged their allegiance to him and rejected the split season proposal.

Called together for a special conference to consider a split season, the club owners adopted a resolution directing President Thomas J. Hickey to "convey to K. M. Landis an expression of confidence and allegiance of the American association to all final decisions of all disputed baseball matters made by the high commissioner."

That action indicated strongly the federal court suit filed by the Milwaukee club to restrain enforcement of the commissioner's transfer order on Outfielder Bennett of the Brewers would be withdrawn.

The Oklahoma state court of tax reviews saved taxpayers more than $2,780,000 in the last fiscal year.

You've seen "flowers in the rain, lift up their heads again". Well! that's how it is with hungry little cells when you answer their cry for food. At first the call is a whisper; you're just a little restless, or languid and tired. This happens at mid-meal hours; around 10-2 & 4 o'clock. Go then. Don't wait. Drink a bite to eat and see how much better you'll feel.

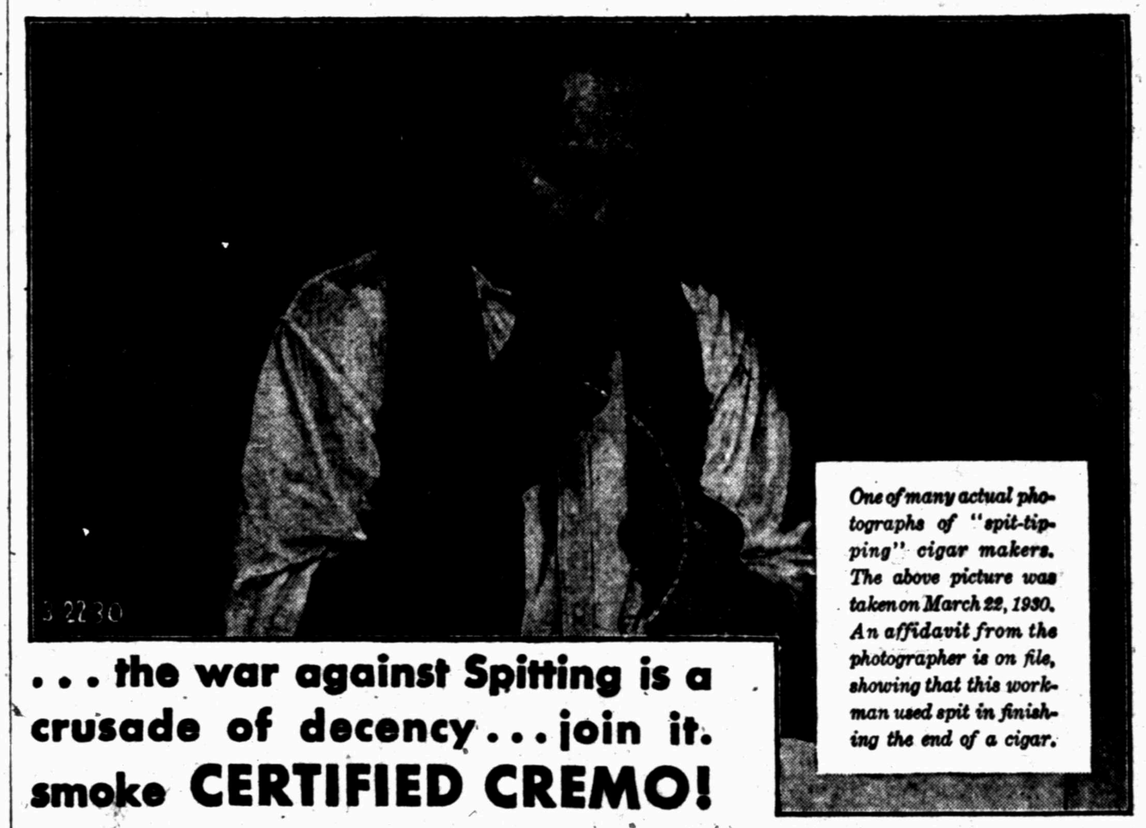

A little nourishment at such a time tides you over 'til another meal; puts an edge on your brain and body; picks you up and puts you "on your toes." Try it . . . at regular hours . . . for just one week. No kidding! It works. Not a thing in it can harm you. It's one good habit to get. It won't get you.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 1. (AP)—An opening decline in cotton today, promoted by easier cables and a more favorable view of the weather, was followed by rallies on covering which appeared to be encouraged by the firmer tone of the wheat market. July sold up from 13.25 to 13.53 and new October from 12.87 to 13.10, with the general market closing firm at net advances of 7 to 11 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 5 to 11 points under selling influenced by relatively easy showing of Liverpool and the reports of slightly lower temperatures and showers in some parts of the south.

Liverpool cables reported continental and local selling there on Central belt rain conditions but said the demand for cloths was small with the India situation unaltered and yarns dull. Exports today 11,711, making 6,660,875 so far this season. Port receipts 3,551.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 1. (AP)—Cotton was comparatively quiet today. Prices declined 10 to 17 points in early trading owing to much lower cables than due and to rains. This decline attracted trade buying and price fixing as well as covering by shorts owing to the long holiday for the Fourth. This demand caused a rally of 13 to 18 points from the lows, and the market continued to improve in late trading on urgent short covering and a scarcity of contracts, making highs 23 to 27 points above the lows and closing at the top. The general market showed net gains of 12 to 14 points.

Liverpool came in 7 to 8 points worse than due and the opening trades here showed losses of 10 to 14 points with October at 12.85 and December at 13.04. July later made a new low at 12.92, down 17 points but the later months did not drop below the opening figures.

Port receipts 3,551, for week 11,306, for season 8,063,604, last season 9,439,150. Exports 11,711, for week 26,638; for season 6,487,803, last season 7,703,768. Port stock 1,617,187, last year 773,084. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 39,871, last year 55,671. Spot sales at Southern markets 813; last year, not available.

Stocks Lose Gains Under Bearish Developments in Steel Trade News

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, July 1. (US)—Mid-year investment demand having been satisfied, the stock market today suffered a setback which cancelled a good part of Monday's sharp gain. The morning trading had witnessed further appreciation of quotations but around mid-day it became evident that selling pressure had increased and with appearance of further unfavorable steel trade news the entire market slipped. Closing quotations for most leading shares were at the lows for the day. Volume had increased materially in the early hours, resulting in a total for the day of 2,274,700 shares, compared with 1,843,000 shares Monday. The final hour, however, when prices were on the downswing, disclosed a tendency for volume to decrease. Railroad stocks, contrary to recent experience, held their gains better than did the industrials and utilities and as a matter of fact that average of highest-grade rails closed with a net gain while the other two groups showed losses. In some of the more volatile issues such as Case and Allied Chemical the fluctuations from high to low exceeded 10 points.

Steel common, under impetus of the improved sentiment generated by Monday's surprisingly strong market, had achieved a high of 161¾, when the selling increased. Some of the offerings of Steel and American Can, which had shared leadership in the morning strength, were attributed to a leading house acting for influential bankers. This selling was interpreted as reflecting the bankers' desire to prevent the market from developing into too frisky an affair and probably also represented profit-taking on stock acquired during recent weakness. Steel finally closed at 156⅞, down 2¾ points. The market turned weak following announcement that steel operations are averaging about 64 per cent of capacity, a two per cent decline in a week.

Expectation was also voiced that Steel activities, due to the holiday, may descend as low as 48 per cent, which would compare with above 90 per cent a year ago when production was at full blast. The industry is taking advantage of current dullness in demand to curtail operations as much as possible.

Railroad stocks appeared to reflect maintenance of investment demand attracted by their yields, although in some issues short covering and speculative demand was responsible for strength rather than investors' buying. New York Central closed with a net gain of 2¾ points. Baltimore and Ohio was up a point, Pennsylvania 1⅛. Atchison, which had achieved a further recovery of over 8 points early in the day, finished with a 3¼ point advance. New Haven was again bought by interests close to the Pennsylvania and by investors attracted by its yield of nearly 6 per cent. Allied Chemical lost nine points on the day as profit-taking and completion of the short squeeze was reflected in less active support. The stock had recovered over 40 points from its recent low. Early buying of Case Threshing which carried the stock up to a new high on the recovery was attributed to interests who had been associated with spectacular rise early this year. American Radiator was again absorbed by a group which emphasizes the 6 per cent yield and the company's progressiveness in developing new business by its "modernization" program which will also be extended, it is understood, to the standard sanitary division. A price of 25 it is pointed out, is equivalent to a price of 100 for the old stock, the low prices for which were 130¼ in 1928, 110⅛ in 1927, and 101¼ in 1926.

Monday's sharp gains in many stocks, particularly the lowest-grade stocks which showed rather spectacular gains, can be explained by the desire of various so-called investment trusts to make their half-year showing as good as possible. Some of the trades in low-grade stocks did not appear on the tape until the last few minutes and in a few not until the market actually had closed, so that no one was able to take advantage of the manipulated strength. The maneuver was obvious from the opening transactions in such issues as were suddenly boosted at Monday's close. Most of them were down a few points on the initial transaction today. Everybody in the investment trust business and even some houses carrying pool accounts were anxious to close the market for the half-year as high as possible. Pool equities were thus strengthened and made more favorable reading on questionnaires and "investment trust" holdings were shown at the higher valuation.

Speculative sentiment continued inclined toward regarding the current week as hardly a fair barometer of the market, in view of the half-year termination and the pending holiday. Some renewal of professional bear activity was induced by the sharp gains. Wheat closed almost two cents higher on the average and cotton was also firm, but the market ignored this strength as it did weakness of commodities on Monday. Foreign exchanges were firmer. Call money again was firm, renewing at 2½ and advancing to 3 per cent.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, July 1. (AP)—Demand for wheat continued good on the Fort Worth cash grain market Tuesday. Both exporters and mills seemed to want all the wheat they could buy. Export bids were around 95@95½c for ordinary export grain, basis delivered Texas gulf ports. Mills were bidding 95½@96c for ordinary No. 1 hard wheat delivered Texas common points with 13 per cent protein drawing a premium of 1c and each quarter of one per cent additional protein worth ¼c more money.

Dealers reported that protein content is playing out as the harvest moves north and expressed the belief that high protein will command an increasing premium as the season advances.

Slow demand was reported for the sorghums, but red oats were in good demand and corn and barley were barely easy to sell.

Estimated receipts: Wheat, 405 cars; corn, 5; oats, 16; and sorghums, 1.

Bids and offers on coarse grains follow, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 91@92c; No. 2 white 97@98c; No. 2 yellow 95@96c.

Oats—No. 2 red 43½@44½c.

Barley—No. 2 58@60c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo, nominally, per 100 pounds $1.85@1.87; No. 2 kaffir 55c@1.57.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivered Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 89@90c; No. 2 white corn 95@96c; No. 2 yellow corn 93@94c; No. 3 white oats 45½@46c, to which add 1c for delivery Texas group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 1. (AP)—Surprising scantiness of the amount of wheat delivered on July contracts both in Chicago and Liverpool gave a big jolt to wheat traders today. Sharply higher prices ensued.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were unsettled 1¾@2c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅝@1⅝c advanced, oats ¾c off to ⅝c up, and provisions varying from 7c setback to 12c gain.

Corn and oats mainly followed the upward turn of the wheat market. Oats however, was subjected to considerable selling in pressure, and at one stage touched a new low price record for the season.

Provisions ruled irregular, disturbed by eastern selling of the July delivery of lard.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July 89⅛@89⅝c, 92⅝c; Sept. 93⅛, 96½@96⅝; Dec. 99⅝c, $1.02⅛. Corn—July 73⅝c, 75⅛c; Sept. 73⅛c, 74⅛c; Dec. 67⅛@67⅝c, 68½@68⅝c.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, July 1. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Moderate supplies of cattle at all larger markets developed further strength in most killing classes, and values ruled steady to 25c higher than Monday's levels. Choice weighty bullocks scored $12.50 at Chicago for the day's extreme top while most of the fed offerings sold from $11.00 down. Some Texas grass and cake fed steers brought $7.10 at Kansas City. Trade in lambs was dull and uneven with values anywhere from 25@75c lower than yesterday. A few costly sorted natives reached $11.25 at Chicago, while best range lambs stopped at $11.00.

DEMOS REPORT CAMPAIGN COST

But GOP Candidates Keep Money in Pockets

Practically the entire list of Wichita county's 60-odd candidates for Democratic nominations at the July 26 primary had filed their first expense accounts Tuesday, while several living in other counties filed in their home counties and others filed directly with the state secretary, according to Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk. Monday was the deadline for turning in the accounts and Judge Edgar Scurry, chairman of the county executive committee, pointed out that "wilful refusal" to file the accounts would cause removal from the ballot.

Miss Hall said Tuesday that many of the candidates listed their assessments toward the cost of holding the election in with their campaign expenses, although this is not required by law. For that reason, she said, various of the accounts appear higher than the actual expenses of the campaigns.

The final list of accounts, with the amounts shown on each, follows:

State representative, 111th district, place No. 1, Bob Long, $11; place No. 2, J. D. Avis, none, and Joe B. Hatchitt, $66.50.

State senate, 23rd district, Roy J. Daniel, $151.74.

County judge, John P. Marrs, $239.50.

County judge at law, E. E. Fischer, $170.55.

District clerk, Mrs. A. B. Eichelberger, $267.

County attorney, L. V. Abernathy, $331.95, and E. F. Fruechte, $309.

Sheriff, W. G. Bralley, $163.75, and George H. Hodgins, $198.45.

Tax collector, Jim Robinson, $417.82, and Arthur C. Howard, $234.80.

County superintendent, Burl Bryant, $197.25; J. A. Hood, $88; and Mrs. A. J. Newby, $167.75.

Commissioner, precinct No. 1, M. A. Bundy, $45; precinct No. 3, G. G. Burgess, $30.50; precinct No. 4, H. H. Haynes, $25.50, and A. C. Rippy, $86.50.

Constable, precinct No. 1, Fred K. Smith, $47.50; precinct No. 2, N. P. Sanders, none; precinct No. 4, O. E. Whisnand, $43.50.

Justice of the peace, place No. 1, precinct No. 1, R. V. Gwinn, $40; precinct No. 2, Dave Thorne, $34.05, and W. T. Vance, $16; precinct No. 4, Ed C. Wilson, $3, and W. H. Coffman, $33.50.

Public weigher, precinct No. 3, C. Frank Beasley, $19.90; precinct No. 4, Sterling Gwinn, $32, and P. L. McDonald, $15.50.

O. R. Hartt, candidate for chairman of the Republican county executive committee, and 15 Republican candidates for Wichita county offices also filed their expense accounts with Miss Hall Monday, indicating no expenditures on the part of any of the candidates.

Mr. Hartt certified that the following Republican candidates had not spent money nor received contributions toward their campaign expenses: A. A. Spencer and H. F. Gilbert for county judge; Hyatt Donald for county judge at law; Mrs. R. J. Goodale and Mrs. Mae Schleigh for district clerk; Mrs. Fred Baden and Mrs. Joella Butler for county clerk; Robert H. Collier and J. C. Terrill for tax collector; J. A. Patton and J. W. McGuire for tax assessor; C. V. Lemen for county treasurer; Thomas L. Ball for sheriff; J. P. Ruff for place No. 1 and S. L. Bingham for place No. 2, justice of the peace, precinct No. 1.

Primary Date Change Urged

Committeeman Suggests Moving Up Elections

FORT WORTH, July 1. (AP)—Warm days of early summer have brought on a proposal by Hugh L. Small, chairman of the county Democratic executive commitee, that dates for the primary elections be changed from July and August to March and April.

The plan has won the approval of several members of the executive committee.

"The present election dates," said Small, "were set by law many years ago when the largest per cent of the voting population lived on the farms. At that period of the year most of the farm work had been completed and farmers had more time to devote to politics.

"Now the biggest voting population is in the cities. It is too hot for campaigning and other election duties. Candidates as well as election officials should be away on vacations."

Small urged candidates to make this an issue.

Valises Contain Body Of Man Hacked to Pieces

LIMA, Peru, July 1. (AP)—Police today were puzzled by what they called a valise murder. Breaking open the door of a room in a boarding house here they found two small valises containing the body of a man hacked to small bits.

Tenants complained of something wrong about the room, leading the landlady to call the police. An immediate investigation was begun, but until now the officers have found no clues.

Wolffe was given one for $400 for the purpose of repairing his residence at 1304 Harrison. M. H. Stratton took out a $187 permit for repairs on his home at 1007 Thirteenth and Van DeGraff will repair his home at 2100 Jones street to the extent of $125.

There are 272 vegetable drying, canning, evaporating and fruit preserving plants in Canada.

CAPITAL BROKE

WASHINGTON, July 1. (UP)—Washingtonians awoke this morning to find their city government penniless.

When the first day of the new fiscal year began at midnight last night the city became technically "broke" due to the failure of congress to pass an appropriation bill for its support. Luckily fire and police pay rolls are not due for 15 days and within that time it is hoped congress will provide its share of the district budget.

The district's current poverty was due to a deadlock between the house and senate over the amount the federal government should provide of the total $44,000,000 appropriation.

KATY OPENS NEW SERVICE

Freight Deliveries to Door Starts Here

Pick-up and delivery service on freight shipments by the M. K. & T. railway without extra charge, which became effective on July 1, is expected to make its actual beginning in Wichita Falls Wednesday, according to those in charge of the new transportation service.

Shipments placed in transit to Wichita Falls Tuesday by rail freight lines from nearby cities will be delivered straight to the door of their respective consignees Wednesday morning, under the new provision. Heretofore goods so shipped have been held at the freight depot for the consignee to call for them. With the first deliveries under the new system completed, it was pointed out, merchants, jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers are expected to realize more definitely its full convenience, and to utilize the railroad's facilities for picking up outgoing shipments.

Delivery service has already been established at Burkburnett, Gainesville, Henrietta, Muenster, Nocona, Ringgold, St. Jo, Whitesboro and Denison, it was announced, while plans are being formulated rapidly for extending the same service to other points in this section.

Illustrating the advantages to be found in the new combined train and truck delivery system, E. O. McCord, division freight and passenger agent of the M-K-T lines said:

"Overnight deliveries from Fort Worth and Dallas to Wichita Falls will be especially interesting to Wichita Falls business houses. Goods taken to the warehouses in those shipping points by 6 p. m. will go out on night trains, arriving here at 6:30 a. m. and will be delivered by about 8:30 a. m. at the store of the local consignee."

Watch Dogs Stolen From Prized Auto

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 1. (INS)—Mrs. Etta Cotten has ceased to worry about her automobile.

Fearing it would be stolen she purchased two valuable watch dogs who divided the watch over the car.

Three weeks ago, Dugan, one of the dogs, was stolen from the automobile. Today Beau, the remaining guardian, was gone, also stolen from the car.

Mrs. Cotten still has the automobile but has decided to dispose with canine assistance in keeping it.

France Builds Huge Passenger Airplane

PARIS, July 1. (AP)—Whipped into action by Germany's construction of giant, many-motored airplanes, France has just completed her first tri-motored plane, capable of carrying 30 passengers and the United Press understands she is secretly constructing another and larger machine which will nearly equal the German D-O-X.

The new airplane, known as the DB-70, has just come out of the shops at Bordeaux, but has not yet done any heavy work.

The federal farm board will loan $450,000 to a Los Angeles butter association affiliated with cooperative dairy associations of the San Joaquin valley.

IRON WORKERS GO ON STRIKE

Builders Association Files Injunction Suit

KANSAS CITY, July 1. (INS)—Following a walkout today by 300 iron workers in a demand for higher wages, an injunction suit to prevent a general strike was filed in the circuit court by the Builders association against the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers.

The suit asks that the defendants be enjoined from violating the terms of a contract entered into between the Builders association and the Building Trades council, of which the Iron Workers union is a part.

The contract, which is objected to by the Iron workers, provides for a wage of $10.50 a day with an increase January 1 to $11.00.

The striking iron workers ask $12.00 a day.

Although there are several major building operations in progress in Kansas City, but one was seriously hampered by the strike.

This was the first million dollar unit of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company's long distance building which is in the steel erection stage.

U. S. Has Surplus Of $184,000,000

WASHINGTON, July 1. (AP)—Secretary Mellon announced today that the government had concluded the 1930 fiscal year with a surplus of $184,000,000.

The treasury head noted, however, that included in the amount was $76,000,000 paid by foreign governments as their June installments on war debts, which he said was abnormal.

The total ordinary receipts of the government, the secretary said, amounted to $4,178,000,000 as compared with $4,033,000,000 in 1929.

The aggregate of customs and internal revenue receipts was $3,626,000,000, which was $86,000,000 greater than the receipts from these sources in 1929 and $11,000,000 below the treasury aggregate after allowance for the one per cent tax reduction.

MAJESTIC: Richard E. Byrd in "With Byrd at the South Pole." Independence day novelty, George LeMaire comedy, screen song and sound news.

STRAND: "The Devil's Holiday" with Nancy Carroll. Comedy, "The New Halfback." Screen song and sound news.

STATE: Dolores Del Rio in "Evangeline." Short subjects and sound news.

GEM: Edward Everett Horton in "The Hottentot."

One of the most beautiful bits of photography yet shown in any picture here is the ballet scene in "The Rogue Song," when the Albertina Rasch dancers outdo their own excellence to present one of their loveliest numbers. Their toes and Tibbett's voice insured the success of the picture, even against such casualties as a supporting cast that should be fined for non-support.

◇ ◇ ◇

Just to start off July the Fourth with the proper bang, Gary Cooper will do a little fireworks in two Wichita Falls theaters on Independence Day—but not at the same time on the same day. At midnight, when the country's 154th birthday is just being ushered in, the rangy cowboy will be seen in a special holiday midnight matinee.

◇ ◇ ◇

Several hours later, when the fireworks are almost gone and the picnic dinner is eaten, the same hero will be presented at the Strand theater in "The Texan." Both pictures are said to be lively enough to insure the proper holiday spirit.

◇ ◇ ◇

Before and after the special Gary Cooper matinee, the Majestic will be presenting "With Byrd at the South Pole," the epic of one of America's triumphs, and Victor McLaglen and Fifi D'Orsay will provide the pyrotechnics at the State. Whether all this was planned or is just a coincidence, it's not such a bad idea.

Fort Worth Visitors To Attend Kiwanis Lunch

Between 50 and 100 Fort Worth business executives, educational leaders and civic organization heads will comprise the goodwill party to visit Wichita Falls next Monday noon, according to information received at the chamber of commerce here Tuesday.

Upon arrival in this city, the visitors will go at once to the Kemp hotel, where they will hold a joint meeting with the Kiwanis club, and will present the entire program for that hour, it was announced. Besides brief addresses by selected members of the party, the luncheon program will include numbers by musical talent being carried by the goodwill travelers, it was said. A male quartet and an instrumental trio are included in the entertainment facilities to be used on the trip.

A delegation of Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce members, headed by Walter D. Cline, chairman of the reception committee, will meet the Fort Worth bus-train at Henrietta, and escort the visitors to this city, it was said.

Monday's luncheon will be open to the public as well as to Kiwanians and the Fort Worth goodwill trippers, officials of the chamber of commerce announced.

FOY IN FORT WORTH

Dudley B. Foy, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce, is in Fort Worth and Dallas on business for that organization, it was announced Tuesday. Consultations with officials of the Fort Worth and Denver railway, and others, are included in his activities on this trip, it was said.

Texas Kiwanis clubs are trying to improve relations between town and country in that state.

Iron ore deposits of high value have been found in Peru on a plateau bordering the Pacific.
