GRIP OF WINTER HOLDS COUNTRY

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.—Ecclesiastes 12:13.

ROOSEVELT OUT OF BED AND IS HARD AT WORK

Hoover Returns and Begins Work on War Debts

ALBANY, Nov. 16. (UP).—Governor Roosevelt, recovered from a mild attack of influenza, left his bedroom for the first time in nearly a week, resuming his work today on the state budget. He plans next week for the war debt conference with President Hoover.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. (UP).—President Hoover came back to Washington today, pausing only for an exchange of greetings with a crowd of welcoming friends, and then plunged immediately into momentous problems of war debts and domestic difficulties.

A crowd of 1,000, including Vice President Curtis, met the president's train. President Hoover was in his office by 9 o'clock.

Midlanders View Shower of Meteors

Midland astronomical enthusiasts who have braved the wintry nights this week report that the display of leonid meteors is a success.

The stars may be seen again tonight, the best time reported thus far being between midnight and dawn. The leonid showers are visible from Nov. 14 to 17 inclusive, according to astronomers, and are at their best every 33 years.

In the past 1,000 years more than once, millions of startled humans have seen what they thought at the moment was "the end of the world," when the leonid meteors filled the sky with shooting stars thick as snowflakes.

The leonids, falling again, formed a background of astronomical study, as explained Sunday by Dr. Charles P. Olivier of the University of Pennsylvania while forecasting and giving reasons for their appearance and giving the value in study of the phenomenon.

In 1928 a fair number of leonids was observed—more than the average for the immediately preceding years. In 1929 there were very few. In 1930 there were many more than in 1929. In 1931 there was an excellent shower in some places, rates of over 100 an hour being reported for the morning hours.

This gradual increase is what would have been expected if the major shower were coming this year or in 1933.

The history of the leonids and the astronomical computations are interesting. At 33-year intervals, meteor showers are reported to recur about the proper dates 20 times since 902 A. D. The 1833 shower was described as a "rain" of stars, and made a deep impression on the most casual and uninterested observers. The predicted 1866 shower came on time and was certainly an impressive sight, though far from equalling that of 1833.

The 1899 leonids failed to appear and in their disappointment people failed to notice that careful computations, published shortly before the leonid date, had indicated that the meteor stream had been moved out of its path by the powerful gravitation pull of Jupiter.

The calculations of the year indicate that the meteor stream has been shifted back toward its orbit before 1899. However it has not been moved back to its 1833 position.

The moon is so full this year as to make the dimmer meteors invisible.

Teachers Invited To B'Spring Meet

Invitation to city and rural school teachers of Midland county to attend an institute Friday at Big Spring has been issued through Mrs. Pauline Cantrell Brigham, Howard county superintendent.

She writes: "I should like to extend through your paper an invitation to all the rural and city teachers of Midland county to join in a meeting with the rural and city teachers of Howard county on Friday, Nov. 18, beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon."

"We are to have as our guest and speaker, Dr. Hob Gray, head of the education department of the College of Industrial Arts, Denison. He will give two addresses in the afternoon, one to rural teachers and county superintendents, and one to city teachers and superintendents. The afternoon session will be held in the municipal auditorium, two blocks east of the court house."

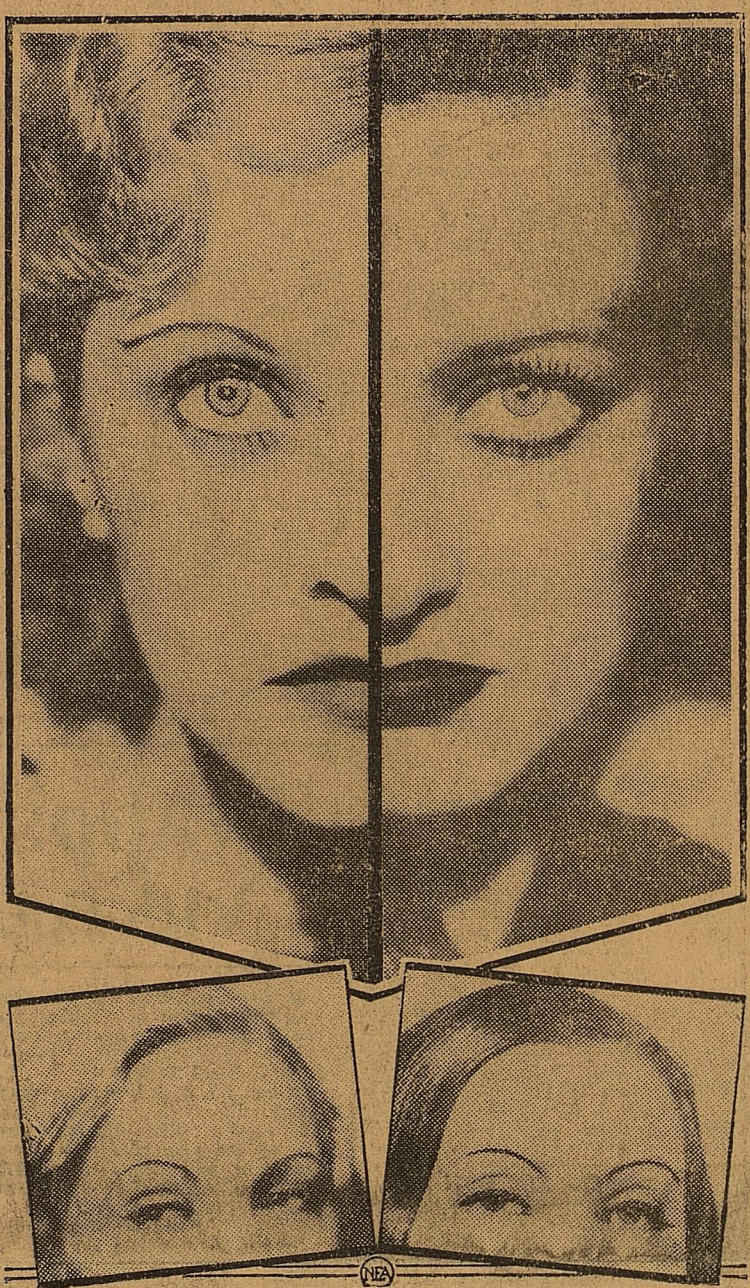

"There will also be an evening session beginning at 7:30 which will be a joint meeting of city and rural teachers and superintendents, also boards of trustees."

"There will be no expense for the teachers at this meeting. All expenses of Dr. Gray are being defrayed by the College of Industrial Arts. Dr. Gray is an outstanding educator of the state, therefore I am giving him the three addresses he is to give. We are very fortunate to be able to secure him on this occasion."

"We are going to count on Midland county in giving us a good crowd."

"All of Big Spring joins me in extending this invitation to you."

Who Am Eye?

Hollywood is seeing double these days. Along comes a recognized star, with some peculiar facial feature, and no sooner does that star win recognition than other stars bob up with that same distinguishing feature. For instance: Joan Crawford's eyes. Three guesses which is hers above. Give up? The eye at the right is Joan's. That at the left is Sheila Terry's. Sheila is a blond, Joan a brunette. And below, which is the hair eyes, high forehead and nose of Greta Garbo? Give up again. Greta is at the right. Tala Birell, recently arrived from Germany, is at the left.

FARMERS MUST OBSERVE SEED REQUIREMENTS

Farmers will be required to save their planting cotton seed from cotton ginned prior to Dec. 1 if the pink boll worm has been lifted, or must buy them from a non-infested area, according to R. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture.

The pink boll worm regulations will be removed Dec. 1 if no worms are found. McDonald said in a letter Wednesday to the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce. This group composed of J. E. Hill and J. C. Miles, has been vigorously at work, on authority of the chamber of commerce, to get the restrictions removed, and the date was set at Dec. 1 provided no other worms are found.

Farmers are urged to get their planting seed at once. Those who do not get seed before the fumigation requirements are lifted will have to buy their seed from outside the restricted area.

McDonald's letter to the agricultural committee follows: "I have your letter of November 12 stating that you are anxious to do everything possible to prevent any delay in lifting the cotton seed sterilization requirements, which has been promised you to become effective December 1, 1932."

"If no worms are found in Midland county up to above date, then sterilization requirements will be removed, but all seed ginned after that date must go to the oil mills. Please advise your farmers to obtain their necessary planting and feeding seed before that date which will be inconvenient by the requirement that all seed ginned after December 1 must go to the oil mill and be crushed."

"Last week, R. E. McDonald, in charge plant quarantine, San Antonio, and I discussed the removal of the cotton sterilization requirements in your section, and we both think that the removal is practical, and I want to assure you that we both greatly appreciate the cooperation that you and the good people of your section have given."

"I believe you people understand that we have your interests at heart, and we have done that which we thought best, realizing that we are not infallible."

Hog Feeding Heavy In Midland County

More hogs will be fed out in Midland county this year than ever before since farming started here. Hogs have recently been brought in by the truck load from Mason county and the North Plains area. Farmers are trying to market their feed through hogs, and practically all farmers will be independent from getting their meat supply through stores. Some ranchers are buying hogs to follow cattle on feed.

Two Deer Hunters Die, but Neither From Gun Wounds

CROCKETT, Nov. 16. (UP).—P. O. English of Kennard, 29 years old, died in a hospital of burns received at a camp in the Neches river bottoms where he went yesterday with two companions to await opening of the deer hunting season.

His companions returned to the camp after a brief absence and found him horribly burned. They rushed him here to a hospital.

FREDERICKSBURG, Nov. 16. (UP).—Clyde Miller, 19, of Waelter, died last night of injuries received when an automobile overturned while he was en route to his father's deer hunting camp 20 miles northwest. He lived but a short time.

CAPONE PLEADS UNAVAILINGLY FOR A RELEASE

ATLANTA, Nov. 16. (UP).—Al Capone pleaded in federal court today for a writ of habeas corpus to free him from the federal penitentiary. He was still fat but not as carefully dressed as in his heyday. He seemed bored by arguments of attorneys. He was brought to court under the heaviest guard used here in years. The government moved for dismissal of the plea for lack of legal sufficiency.

Slightly Burned As Clothes Catch

The coldest day of the year brought the warmest morning for Mrs. Claude Ferrell, who lives on West Wall street.

She was not able to work this morning because of minor burns sustained when her clothes caught fire from a gas heater.

Mrs. Ferrell was working nearer the stove than she thought. She immediately grabbed at dress and, wrapping it tightly about her, smothered the fire with little injury to herself.

She will return to work Thursday.

Deer Hunters Off to Hills

Deer hunters have ceased to mark time, finding the cold weather an excellent occasion for tramping the hills and mountains in southwestern Texas counties and in New Mexico.

The season opened Tuesday morning and will close Dec. 31, with restrictions in several counties. Licenses have been issued recently to numerous Midlanders, including:

9-Pound Turnip Grown by Jones

A turnip tipping the beam at 9 pounds 1 ounce is displayed in the window of the chamber of commerce. A recipe for preparing it for the table is posted nearby on a bulletin board, reading: "Cook one good size hog and this turnip together in a big washpot, take a sack of cornmeal and make into corn pone, get a few stalks of corn, chop up butter-milk, stir down and eat."

The turnip, grown by V. Jones on the Frank Elkin place two miles east of Midland, is hard and has no ribs. Jones recently exhibited a 7-pound turnip here. He gave A. Wadley, Midland merchant, a perfectly formed turnip weighing four pounds.

PLENTY OF GREENS

Midland people who need turnip greens are urged to help themselves free of charge from the municipal patch across the street from the city hall. Those who send children to get the greens are asked to caution the children not to pull the turnips as they are not yet big enough to eat.

Late News

ABILENE, Nov. 16. (UP).—Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor college at Belton, was unanimously named president of the Baptist general convention, succeeding Dr. Lee R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, at the first session today.

AUSTIN, Nov. 16. (UP).—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the three year sentence given N. L. Speer, former Huntsville penitentiary warden, in connection with cashing a state fee warrant which had been erroneously drawn for $1,000 in excess of the amount to which he was entitled.

He was sheriff of Walker county at the time. Only a rehearing or executive clemency can save him from the walls now.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. (UP).—Governor Emerson of Illinois advised the state department today that he has mailed in the legal documents necessary for issuance of extradition papers for Samuel Insull, Sr., to be returned from Greece.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. (UP).—The old Texas oil curtailment act which Governor Sterling enforced with state troops was under consideration by the supreme court today.

Dan Moody appeared with E. P. Smith for the state. Luther Nickels and Joe Bailey, Jr., appeared for R. Constantine and other plaintiffs. Arguments were proceeding.

Here Are Six New Democratic Senators

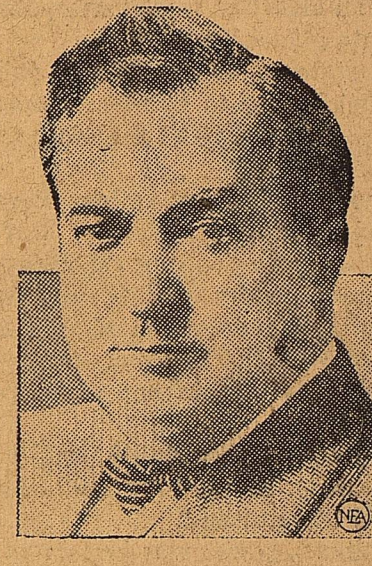

ALVA B. ADAMS

Former Senator Adams, democrat, of Colorado, was successful in his campaign for election to the long term senatorial seat. He defeated Karl C. Schuyler, republican, who won the short term contest.

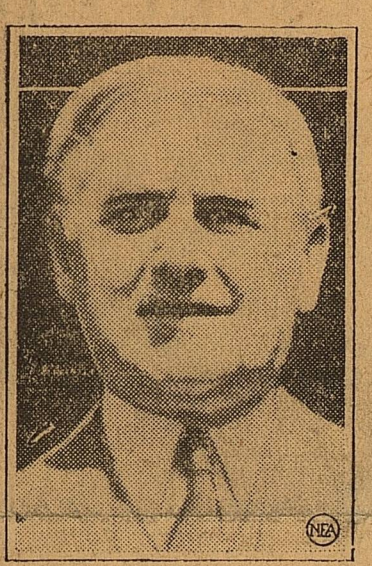

RICHARD B. RUSSELL, JR.

PATRICK A. MCCARRAN

AUGUSTINE LONERGAN

The defeat in Connecticut of Senator Hiram Bingham, republican leader and anti-prohibition proponent, by Augustine Lonergan, was one of the election upsets.

HOMER T. BONE

Another upset was the election of Homer T. Bone, democratic attorney of Tacoma, Wash., over Senator Wesley Jones, father of the "Five and Ten Law" and a republican leader.

F. RYAN DUFFY

Aided by LaFollette backing, F. Ryan Duffy, young Wisconsin lawyer, defeated John B. Chapple, republican, for the Senate. Chapple had beaten Senator John J. Blaine in the primaries.

BUSINESS IS OUT OF THE SLOUGH SAYS J. FARRELL

HOUSTON, Nov. 16. (UP).—James A. Farrell, of New York, retired president of the United States Steel corporation, told interviewers today that business unquestionably is gradually moving out of the slough. Farrell arrived last night with his wife. They are staying at the Jesse Jones pent house. He will speak tonight at the annual dinner of the Houston chamber of commerce. "We are making satisfactory headway out of the depression," he said.

Hix Recovering From Injuries

Severely shocked when his car careened, struck construction forms and overturned about 5:30 Sunday morning on the Andrews-Seminole road, John Hix of Midland is recovering slowly. He is able to be on the street today, however.

Hix said he was driving to Hobbs along the new road between the oil field towns, when all at once he came upon piles of coliche in the road. Not being able to pass between the crushed rock and the construction forms, Hix jammed on his brakes. The car slid into a form and turned over twice, badly damaging the car.

There was no light on the caliche, Hix said.

WHAT WILL HOOVER DO WHEN TERM ENDS MARCH 4? MAY JOIN FACULTY

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—On March 4, the United States will have two living ex-presidents, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover, for whom no national reward other than glory has been provided.

Coolidge, upon retirement, went into the writing game, and did very well. He also is a member of the board of the New York Life Insurance company.

Hoover plans to return to private life, he has announced. That seems to be a welcome haven to most of our ex-presidents, and even Theodore Roosevelt once said, "There is something attractive about retiring from office and becoming a private citizen." Apparently Hoover concurs. He has indicated he does not know what he will do when he returns to Palo Alto as a private citizen.

But rumors are heard that he will also do some writing, and possibly that he will become identified with Leland Stanford, his alma mater, in which he has had a continued interest since college days. It is suggested that he might become a chancellor of the university, or perhaps lecture there. There would be ex-

"BURIAL" FATALITY

DALLAS, Nov. 16. (UP).—Ricardo Garnica, three years old, his sister, Aurora, two, were perhaps fatally burned when a lighted match was tossed into a box of leaves in which they were playing at "burying" each other. Other children were playing in the yard at the time.

LIONS GOVERNOR MAKES ADDRESS TO LOCAL BODY

Forty-one Lions heard an address on "Progress Made by District 2-T Lions Clubs" by District Governor C. H. Walker of Pampa at noon today. The speaker complimented the Midland club highly.

Walker, well remembered for his pioneer work in connection with good road building, as the first president of the District, is the owner of the Gulf highway and as a newsman owner was elected district governor July 1, succeeding Sam Braswell of Clarendon.

He organized one of the first motorcades in the interest of good roads. Of this motorcade he says: "We left Pueblo, Colorado, with 23 cars, intending to drive through to the Gulf. Rains in East Texas caused every car but one to return, but the owner of the remaining machine swore he'd get to the Gulf. He loaded his auto on a freight car and went on through."

At the time he became head of the highway association, there was only one paved gap in the long road, between Wichita Falls and Iowa Park. Now there are only a few stretches unpaved.

He owned three newspapers simultaneously, the Dallas Texan, the Texline Enterprise and the Parker County News. He returns home tonight.

Amey's Landing Quiets Fears

LONDON, Nov. 16. (UP).—Amy Johnson Mollison, British woman attempting a record flight to Cape Town, landed at Gao, French West Africa, yesterday and continued to Duala, advised said today, setting at rest the uneasiness concerning her fate. Her husband, Captain James Mollison, was preparing to start a rescue flight.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mrs. L. E. Cook underwent an abdominal operation Tuesday morning in a Midland hospital. She was reported to be improved today at noon.

Burvin Hines, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hines, had his tonsils removed this morning. He is resting nicely.

CHAMBERS AND EPLEY ON XMAS C C COMMITTEE

Joe D. Chambers, district manager of the Texas Electric Service company, and J. Homer Epley, manager of the Cowden-Epley Motor company, were named as the chairman of the Christmas committee of the chamber of commerce.

The chamber secretary and the president will work with Chambers and Epley as ex-officio members. Preliminary plans for the observance of Christmas here call for a large decorated tree and an official visit of Santa Claus.

The chamber of commerce owns a quantity of colored light bulbs and trees or store fronts and these will be loaned by the chamber to any of its members. These corals, caskets and bulbs will be loaned out from the office of the Texas Electric Service company, where they are stored, on presentation of an order from the chamber of commerce.

Business men or others who wish to borrow any of the lighting equipment owned by the chamber of commerce may get an order from that organization.

Stinnett Bank Robbed of $5,000

BORGER, Nov. 16.—Three men robbed the First State bank at Stinnett of an estimated $5,000 and kidnapped G. W. Newsom, cashier. Newsom later was released near Panhandle, 40 miles south of Stinnett.

The robbers first locked Mrs. Newsom and Malcolm McCormick, clerks, in the bank vault and threatened to kill the cashier if he "overlooked one penny of the money."

No one saw the robbers leave the bank and officers had no clues as to the whereabouts of either the robbers or Newsom until the cashier reported from Panhandle some time later.

The robbers told Newsom that other robbers of the Stinnett bank had been sent to prison and he would be taken for a ride he would not forget. They said if they were caught he would be "a dead man."

It was believed he was taken along for a shield in event of a battle with pursuers.

Two men entered the bank first and a third followed. One of the two ordered Newsom to get some money.

"You are not going to do us like you did before," the man continued. "We want it all."

Mrs. Newsom and McCormick were forced to go on the floor while Newsom placed the money in a sack. There was no one else in the bank.

After Newsom gave the money to the men, Mrs. Newsom and McCormick were ordered into the vault and Newsom was taken away by the robbers.

WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF?

The big need of the world today seems to be the introduction into industry and commerce of some force as far-reaching and profound in its effect as was steam power when it was first brought into general use.

No one who surveys the state of the world can fail to see the striking parallel which exists between these times and the distressed period that followed the close of the Napoleonic wars.

Then, as now, all of the world's leading nations were trying to recover from a prolonged and expensive war. Man-power had been cut down at an appalling rate; government debts had soared almost to astronomical figures; trade was stagnant and every land had hordes of jobless men; British mobs surged through London streets, exactly as they have been doing this fall, breaking windows and fighting with police.

There seemed to be no way out. A thoughtful Englishman of those days could have been excused for believing that the collapse of civilization was at hand.

But it wasn't. The age of steam power was just dawning. An entirely new force was projected into industry and trade. Factory production was enormously increased, new markets were found, new trade routes were opened—and presently a sick and discouraged world found that business was better than ever before, that the debts which had seemed so alarming could be paid easily, that the hordes of unemployed could be put to work at higher wages than ever before.

The world situation today is strikingly like that of the post-war era following Napoleon's exile to St. Helena; so much like it that if you read a description of those days by a contemporary writer you will find it hard to believe that you are not reading something written in 1932.

But what new force can we look for salvation? Are we on the verge of introducing into our economy something as upsetting and revitalizing as steam power proved to be a century ago? Any genius who can inject such a factor into the tangled world equation today can expect to receive the ardent thanks of every nation on earth.

A commercial survey picks automobiles and automobile accessories as probably the lines that will lead the movement back to better business. Free wheeling, floating power and auto lamps to light the way certainly do seem to promise something.

The 100,000 board feet of lumber that a Pennsylvania furniture factory has ordered, contingent upon Mr. Hoover's election, would seem to constitute an entirely new variety of "presidential timber."

Beer-Conscious!

Beer Foams up to Engulf Congress in Bitter Battle

Andrew J. Volstead, who wrote the most cussed and discussed law of this century, and whose work of 13 years ago now faces a tempest in Congress that may overwhelm it.

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Writer

The speaker's gavel which falls on Dec. 5 to open Congress will be a bung-starter. But how great a flow of what kind of beer can issue from that bung in dry United States is a big question. This last "Lame Duck" Congress will assemble with an unmistakable cry from the entire country ringing in its ears and demanding that something be done about prohibition.

Something will be done. Just what, less certain than some enthusiasts believe. They think it is all over but the shouting. The first move will be for legal beer, immediately, before the 18th amendment is touched. Assuming that by adding together the wets and such former dries as accept the "mandate of the people," such a bill can be passed. What will it be? If the beer provided is really intoxicating in fact, it clearly violates the Constitution, and the courts will have no choice but to throw it out. If it is really non-intoxicating, will it satisfy the thirsty?

Somewhere between sub-zero near-beer now permitted, and a beer with an unqualified kick, lies a compromise. A compromise that will make the brew palatable, that will make the thirsty man glad to get it, and yet which leaves enough doubt as to its intoxicating properties to get the benefit of court approval and avoid a possible veto by President Hoover, who is at heart a dry.

What will it be? Above, framed in a happy-looking beer, nine states climbed on the beer bandwagon.

Volstead act, prohibiting drinks of more than 1-2 of 1 per cent alcohol? The chances are two to one it has, for only 15 states are at this moment legally prepared to receive beer even if Congress legalizes it. Before the past election there were six: Maryland, New York, Massachusetts, Nevada, Montana, Wisconsin. Nine states repealed their enforcement laws in the last election: Michigan, Louisiana, Washington, New Jersey, California, Oregon, Arizona, North Dakota, Colorado.

That makes 14 states which have repealed enforcement acts since national prohibition (Maryland never had any), and makes more than 40,000,000 people eligible to receive whatever Congress offers them. But in 29 other states, even if the national law is repealed, the state law remains.

Furious fights are certain in the legislatures of many of these states to repeal state laws and get them in shape to profit by any national modification. The A. F. of L. and the Crusade for the Wets, and the W. C. T. U. and Anti-Saloon League for the dries are already active here. What of the States? Bear in mind that so far as Congress has power to legalize beer at all, it must do it on the theory that it is non-intoxicating. That brings up the next problem. If Congress declares 4 per cent beer non-intoxicating, it is possible that practically all the state laws (which set a 1-2 or 1 per cent limit) will become unconstitutional, being in conflict with a law of Congress. And then all restrictions on this revived beer are off.

Beer will get a big stimulus, in addition to the definite proof of the liquor in commerce and on the floor, from the fact that the government needs money, and needs it badly. Any aid beer would bring to unemployment or the grain surplus would be a help too. Those factors are going to be important to fence-sitters in Congress.

There will be literally scores of beer bills thrown into the hopper as soon as the gavel falls. In fact there are scores left over from last session. The Judiciary Committee will have to hold hearings, weed out those with very high or unlimited alcoholic content, and pick one which seems likely to get court approval. This will be fought bitterly both in committee and on the floor, for the dries are going to battle every inch of the way.

Foreign Students Numerous in Texas

DALLAS, (UP)—Students from a score of foreign countries are enrolled in Texas colleges this fall, with a majority pursuing engineering and agricultural courses. A number, however, are in liberal arts and theological classes and several are scholarship holders.

The most cosmopolitan student body found in a United Press survey was that at Texas A. & M. college, where there are 26 men enrolled from eight foreign countries. Southern Methodist university has nine students from six foreign countries and there is a good foreign contingent at the University of Texas.

Mexico furnished the greatest number of students from a single nation, including a son of a former president, but the southern republic's nationals do not constitute a majority of the total. Adventurous boys and girls too, have come to Texas from such out-of-the-way places as Iraq, Ecuador, Korea, Denmark, Bulgaria, Kurdistan and Japan.

Texas A. & M. college's foreign enrollment total is not unusual. Its engineering and agricultural courses long have been widely known for excellence.

Foreign students this year come from Mexico, five states represented, total enrollment 15; Porto Rico, Iraq, Cuba, Korea, two each; India, Turkey and Denmark the larger numbers. Courses pursued are indicated by those of the Mexicans: agriculture four, architecture two, electrical engineering three, civil engineering two, mechanical and chemical engineering one each, and liberal arts two.

Engineering also is the most popular course among foreigners at the Southern Methodist university where there are three Japanese and two Mexican students, and one each from Cuba, China, Palestine, and France. Four are studying engineering, two liberal arts two theology and one law.

Texas Christian university has students from Germany, Japan and Mexico; Texas College for Women (C. T. W.) from Germany, Porto Rico and Mexico; Baylor at Waco, from Germany, Russia and Brazil.

But the foreign students do not all graduate to the larger colleges. There is a Dane at John Tarleton, a Korean at Southwestern, an Englishman at San Angelo junior college, a Korean and a Guatemalan at Texas Tech, a Cuban and a Mexican at Austin college, and a Brazilian and a Bulgarian at Baylor Belton.

The foreign students include several highly interesting persons. Gustavo Calles, young son of Former President P. Elias Calles of Mexico, studies agriculture at San Marcos Baptist academy. M. G. Daniel, Jr., 24, whose three brothers and grandparents were slain by the Kurds in Assyria and who narrowly escaped the same fate, is a senior at S. M. U. Elizabeth, Cohnman, and Ada Assmann traveled together from Berlin to C. I. A. and T. C. U. respectively to use scholarships given them.

JOB BEFORE MAN

CLEVELAND—A job is a lot more important than the man, in the opinion of Mrs. Katarzyna Bjak. Recently her employer told her she would either have to give up her job or her husband. She elected to let the husband go. She is now a divorcee in Common Pleas court. It was granted on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. There are three children in the family.

AN OLD SKULL

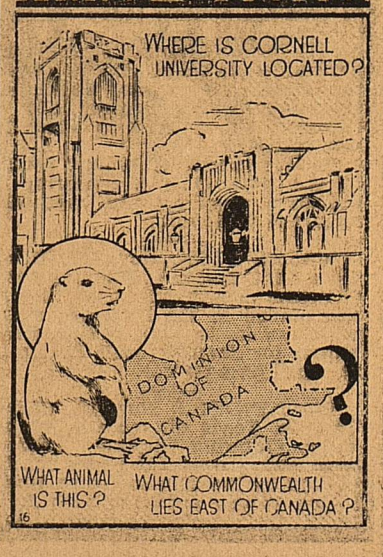

LONDON—What is said to be the oldest skull of a human being has been unearthed at a site found while digging the foundations of a building here seven years ago. Since that time, Prof. Elliot Smith, of the University of London, has been studying the skull of a woman, and reports that it predates the Java, Peking and Pittdown finds.

repeal will be made in the "Lame Duck" Congress, it has less chance almost certain to be a repealer, either with or without a substitute, submitted to the states.

However, the "bone dry" do not concede even this. Mrs. Ella Boole, president of the W. C. T. U., says she does not believe even the new Congress will achieve the two-thirds majority needed to submit repeal to the states. Varying degrees of wets seem assured of 323 in the next House, the dries 26, with 86 undecided. That is plenty more than two-thirds. The Senate will be closer. The best estimate is 61 wet, 30 dry, 5 undecided. Thus the wets need at least three of those undecided senators to have their two-thirds.

The platform on which it was so organized, the repeal of the 18th amendment, is the basis of the party's program. The repeal of the 18th amendment is the basis of the party's program. The repeal of the 18th amendment is the basis of the party's program.

THREE GUESSES

The Town Quack

Popeye might have had this conversation:
"You're a liar."
"I'm a what?"
"I reiterate."
"Well, as long as you reiterate, let's shake and be friends."

There's one thing consoling about the unemployment situation, we haven't been hit up for near East relief.

Definition of an administrator: the man who's afraid the relatives will get some of the money.

A Midland woman used to say she had the best husband in seven states, but last summer she took a trip to one of the other 41 states.

Last summer, a tourist reported having seen Harry Haight standing on a street corner in a New Mexico town saying, "No, no, no, no, no."

Passeby asked what was wrong with him and one replied that he was just a yes-man taking a vacation.

Let's hope the second string gets a game for Saturday of this week. Those boys will have a lot of avenging to do next year and they might as well be getting all the experience they can find.

When a poollegger makes you pay before you drink, it's a sign that his stuff may kick you off.

Successful wife: one whose husband finds it easier to stay in than to explain why he stayed out so long.

Swapping Yarns with Col. True

Col. True maintains a standing invitation to others to write to him and tell of their own extraordinary experiences. No holds barred. Address Col. True, in care of The Reporter-Telegram.

Dear Colonel True:

When I was American ambassador to Putridia, back in the fore part of this century, I saw one of the largest clocks in the world. It was mounted on the king's palace, and all clocks and watches in the nation had to be set to keep the same time it kept.

The dial on this clock was so large it took the minute hand nearly two weeks to get all the way around.

Sir: You have seen a big clock, all right, but let me tell you about a time-piece it was my good fortune to see, a few years ago. It was a wrist watch worn by a football player on a little college in South America. One of his grandchildren gave it to him and he wore it in every game he played. He was a large man, as hefty as a man who played tackle on one team for 43 years, but for all his enormity, the watch was plenty big for him.

The dial on this watch was so large that, by figuring its circumference, I found that the outer end of the hour hand traveled at a speed of 260 miles an hour. The minute hand, naturally, traveled 12 times as fast.

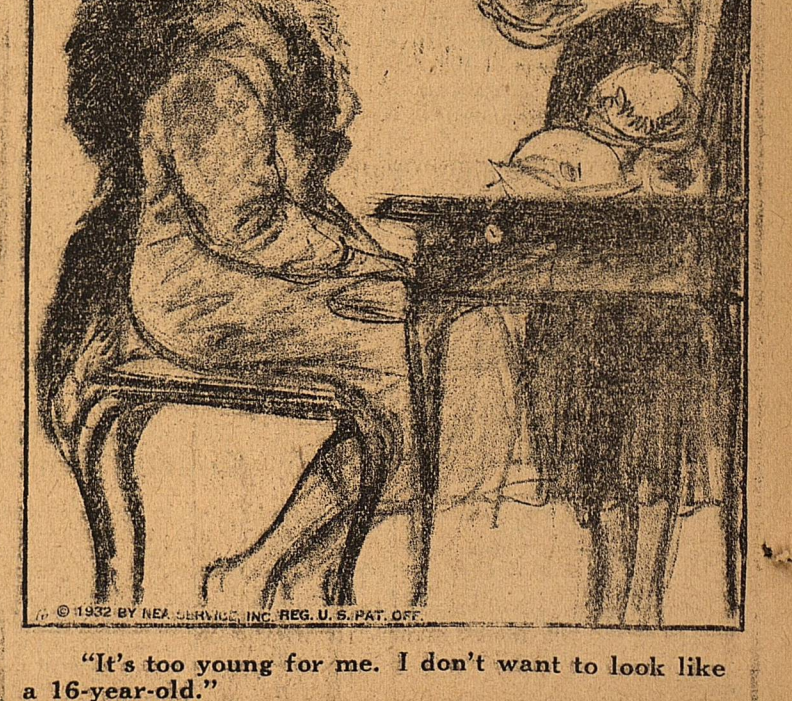

DREAM COMES TRUE

IPSWICH, Mass.—The dream of a passenger in the car Philip Feldman was driving came true—too true. He was dreaming that he and Feldman were in a bad auto crash. The dream was so realistic that, on awakening he grabbed the wheel from the driver, wrenched it to one side, and rolled the car off the road. Both occupants were cut and bruised.

BUSES ON RAILS

BUCHAREST, Roumania.—This country has decided to replace, when possible, steam locomotives with gasoline-driven rail buses on second-class lines. It is believed that this new type of transportation will be cheaper and that regular trains will be able to keep up more accurate and faster schedules through the rail buses taking the traffic on the lesser lines.

Approaching Marriage of Miss Berniece Hill Announced

Buffet Supper at J. E. Hill Home Tuesday Announces Popular Midland Girl to Marry Mr. J. F. Blount in Midland November 23

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hill, 1208 West Illinois, entertained Tuesday evening with a buffet supper, announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Berniece, to Mr. John Franklin Blount.

In the dining room, the table was laid with Chinese linen and was centered with a miniature bride and groom who stood beneath a white wedding bell that hung in the midst of tiny white streamers tied with silver hearts. The room was lighted by green and gold tapers. Small scrolls tucked in the toes of tiny wedding slippers adorned each dessert plate. The scrolls contained the names of Miss Hill and Mr. Blount and the wedding date, November 23.

Cornerstone BYPU Host to Former Members Tuesday

The Cornerstone B. Y. P. U. was host Tuesday evening with a banquet honoring former members of the organization who now belong to the division of which Mrs. Fielding Lee is sponsor.

Honorees were Bill Hiett, Betsy Lee, Lorena Dunagan, Doris Dunagan, Kenneth Webb and Nelda Jean Hicks.

The Sunday school annex of the First Baptist church was arranged as a banquet hall. Masses of marigolds decorated the tables. Mrs. H. N. Phillips gave the invocation. The honorees were toasted.

Mrs. F. H. Latham, sponsor of the B. Y. P. U. had charge of the arrangements. She was assisted by Mrs. George Hattom, leader. Mrs. Alvin Hicks directed the entertainment.

Honors were Felix Hattom, Janice Lee, Ina Bess Hicks, Mrs. Lindy Hiett and Mrs. Phillips.

Presbyterian Circle Makes Plans for Bazaar and Food Sale

Plans for the bazaar and food sale to be held Saturday, Dec. 2, at the former location of the Elite confectionery in the Llano building were made Monday afternoon, when Circle A of the Presbyterian auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Bucy. Mrs. Don Davis was co-hostess.

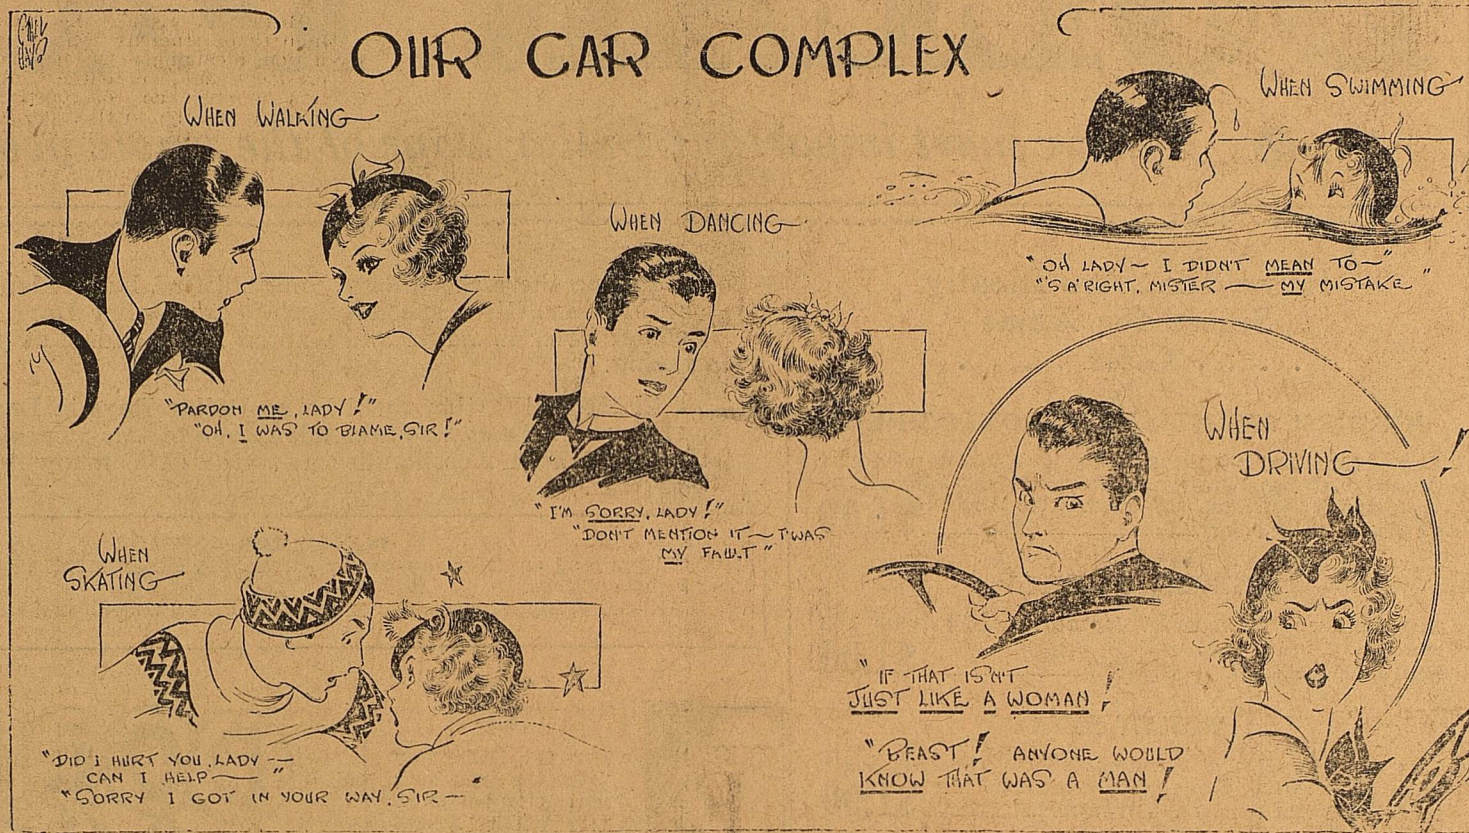

Mrs. Paul Young will have charge of the re-sale department. Midlanders who have articles that they wish to sell are asked to call Mrs. Young. The auxiliary will ask 15 per cent of the price received for the articles sold.

Mrs. W. J. Coleman will have charge of the fancy work booth and Mrs. J. M. Caldwell the flower booth.

The home mission study book, "Red Man's Trail," was reviewed by Mrs. Bucy, Coleman, Caldwell and Andrew Fasken.

Refreshments were served to eleven members and three visitors. Mrs. W. Woodland of Shreveport, La., Mrs. A. W. Marshall of Deming, N. M., and Mrs. S. Watson of Mineral Wells visited.

Store of Costume Accessories for Well-Dressed Girl

The well-dressed girl or woman although she may have only a couple of dresses, has a veritable supply of accessories none of which are run down at the heels or frayed at the edges. Every normal person who is conscious of making a neat appearance in public realizes the importance of having an ample supply of shoes, hats, gloves, and purses, a dogmatic statement which may be borne out with a few interviews.

The average college girl will say that she has never owned enough pairs of shoes; that she has the feeling that if her shoes look well her appearance is good. The working girl and the housewife both say the same thing.

Stylists are always indicating that accessories are the most important factor in the feminine makeup, and that good looking shoes are no more essential than hosiery, gloves and other articles which, in their blending of style and color, add the necessary finishing touch to the well-clad woman.

This subject is especially appropriate at present because with the between-the-season sales on in the shops, accessories can be purchased at an extremely low price. This is good news to those of us who do not have enough pairs of gloves or as many hats as we desire.

Enigma Club Honored by Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer

A football motif was prevalent, a collegiate theme being carried out in score pads and tallies. Autumn leaves decorated the home.

Mrs. C. A. Goldsmith won high club and Mrs. Arthur Yeager high guest.

Guests playing with the members were Meses. Jack Hazeltine, Yeager, Bob Patterson, Harvey Sloan, and Mamie Stokes.

Members attending were Meses. Frank Cowden, Elliott Cowden, Leon Goodman, C. A. Goldsmith, Clifford Hill, Harry Neblett, Homer Rowe, Harry Tolbert, Allen Tolbert, and Henry Wolcott and Miss Lois Patterson.

Other stores in fact most of them, are selling accessories as cheaply as can be found during any other time of the year. The prettiest purse in the city probably will not cost over $2.50.

Of all the bargains that woman revels in, shoes are her favorite. To have good-looking feet is an innate desire of normal femininity. Favorite brands and styles may be secured from one to three dollars cheaper than standard prices right now.

This is the scarf season and the shops are full of them. One seems to be specializing in them. One of the more attractive scarfs was made with a double thickness of heavy crinkley crepe in colors of black, yellow, green and white.

Costume jewelry comes under the heading of accessories, although it is often considered more of a luxury than the necessary shoes and hat. Unique and novelty pieces, never before very practical because of the expense as well as fluctuation in the mode, may be purchased at the more exclusive shops without any bother to the conscience because they are reasonable. If selected carefully, this type of jewelry, often provides just what one needs to complete a costume.

Chesterfields are Milder

Chesterfields Taste Better

You know how it is. If a cigarette is mild—that is, not harsh or bitter, but smokes cool and smooth—then you like it and don't worry about how many or how often you smoke. And if it tastes right—that is, not oversweet, not flat—then you enjoy it all the more.

The right kind of ripe, sweet Domestic and Turkish tobacco...the right ageing and blending...make Chesterfields milder, better-tasting...They Satisfy!

TIT FOR TAT
GLASGOW.—That fair exchange is no robbery must have been the creed of Sir Daniel Stevenson, former Lord Provost of Glasgow. Under a fund which he provided, four Scottish students are having a 12-month course at a German university, while their places in a Scottish college will be taken by four German students. Appreciation in the form of an autographed photo of President von Hindenburg, with a letter of praise was rendered Sir Daniel by German representatives.

CHERCHEZ LA FEMME
ISTANBUL, Turkey.—A group of Turkish women may soon be called a "sharem" instead of a "harem," because Turkey has just introduced women police. Only women under 30 years of age and possessed of public school education diplomas, are eligible for the job. The policemen's wages start at approximately $12 a month, and are never likely to exceed $50 a month.

TO MAP PACIFIC
CHICAGO.—Although ships ply the broad back of the Pacific ocean regularly, very little of it has been charted. For that reason Robert Johnson, Chicago geologist, is organizing an expedition to chart the body of water. The latest super-sound equipment will be used in determining the variations in the bed of the ocean.

ALL ON A SEAL
CHICAGO, Ill.—With an ordinary Frigidoff seal, you can run your car, start building a road, operate a Diesel engine, light your home or quench your thirst. Dr. Gustav Eslof has just discovered that 60 per cent of the oil of one of these seals is anti-knock gasoline, 7 per cent oil, 16 per cent illuminating gas, 12 per cent asphalt, and 5 per cent pure water. Dr. Eslof warns against worrying about the future gasoline supply, since besides seals, gasoline may be obtained from ordinary trees and cottonseed oil.

WHAT'S A BLACK EYE?
LONDON, Eng.—Sandy Daw gave his wife a black eye—but she loves him for it. The reason is that she obtained the mourning orb while Sandy was rescuing her from what promised to be a watery grave. When his wife lost her balance and fell from a boat, Sandy dove and brought her up. Nearing the surface her face bumped against a boat bottom. But she was saved.

A MAN'S WOMAN
KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Most middle aged women, spying thieves in their garden, would phone the police. But not Mrs. John C. Karnes. Seeing the marauders filling sacks in her bean patch, Mrs. Karnes got out her husband's pistol. She stood at attention, took aim and fired. Beans flew in every direction, and a pair of badly frightened men were seen running off in different directions.

FOOTBALL SKETCHES

By R. C. HANKINS

Understand "Adam" Eaves is the only barber who has ever contracted a moving job aboard train. Understand, in explanation, he assisted a fellow townsman to the coach ahead and that, furthermore, his services became necessary because some of the crowd aboard last week's grid special became a little too democratic.

Because of betting reverses, we have heard local members of the Texas Electric Service company say they propose drafting a request of central headquarters for a substitution of "TCU" Electric company rather than "Texas."

Won't someone in the audience ask one of the operators why this column was not signed yesterday?

D. D. Shifflet, about the most popular schoolman in anybody's institution, was easily the hit of the ladies in Fort Worth. Why? We can't say for he has the meanest straightjacket we've seen. Women don't seem to bother him. Doesn't it give one the jitters to see defenseless members of the pretty sex pine away like Elaine and a big, handsome devil shrug his shoulders when there's not even a chilly wind for an excuse? A Texas man in the summer, we understand, though Shifflet and the University of Chicago during long terms, he picked TCU to win. As wise as he's popular.

Ironhead is not only a sports-twitterer of musical sentence but a giant of a dwarf at stopping trains. If he had passed out cigars, one would have thought he was running for office. He introduced himself to everyone on the special, orated from the back of his head, and assisted the women with their baggage.

Someone said he rode blind baggage part of the way and he with a ticket in his pocket!

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Coleman had the worst luck. They lost their money while sleeping in one of Dallas' greatest hotels. An "inside job," Coleman said. The detectives were still at work on the case when the train left.
