Are Olton Citizens Interested In The Progress Of Our Schools?

Last week we pointed up some of the reasons immediate action should be taken in meeting the building needs of our school system.

The facts we presented stand unchallenged by anyone. Yet, there has been no noticeable action taken. We have received not one single letter in connection with this issue.

We have no reason to believe that the school board has received any communication from the citizenry in connection with it. We do not take this to mean that the folks of this community believe either that we need or do not need to vote bonds immediately.

WORSE—MUCH, MUCH WORSE! IT CAN MEAN ONLY ONE THING. IT MEANS THAT THE CITIZENRY AS A WHOLE IS NOT VITALLY INTERESTED AS IT SHOULD BE.

This community—nay, America—needs to wake up and attend to its biggest business—the business of people governing themselves. This awakening cannot be on a national level until it is accomplished on a local level.

TALK TO YOUR SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS NOW. TELL THEM WHETHER YOU WANT TO VOTE IMMEDIATELY TO BUILD ADEQUATE FACILITIES FOR EDUCATING YOUR CHILDREN. THE SCHOOL BOARD MEETS NEXT WEEK. TIME TO LET THEM KNOW YOUR WISHES IS RUNNING OUT!

We know members of our school board are men of good faith. We know they want to hear from you. Talk to them today!

Band Concert Set Sunday Afternoon

Olton School bands will present their annual spring concert Sunday afternoon at 3:00.

Three bands—Beginners, Cadet and Mustang—will be featured. The program will be in the school auditorium.

The medals and certificates, which were won by band members recently at Interscholastic League contests, will be awarded by Supt. Noel Johnson, Fred Stockdale, director of bands, said in making the announcement of the concert.

Also, the Arion award will be presented to the outstanding senior band member by The Olton Enterprise.

Admission to the program will be free, Stockdale emphasized. Beginners' and Cadet bands will play as a group during the program, which will last about an hour. The Mustang band will play the numbers which it will enter in more UIL contests which are scheduled for a later date. "Outside of those selections, the program, which will last about music," Director Stockdale said.

Cheryl Poteet and Tommie Witten will present a specialty act to round out the afternoon's entertainment.

Lindsey Dennis Injured Saturday In Posthole Digger Accident Here

Lindsey Dennis was pummeled by a power posthole digger Saturday afternoon.

The well-known Olton contractor was critically hurt when his footing slipped and he fell into the machine. The accident occurred about 3:30 o'clock Saturday on the E. C. Jones farm just east of Olton.

Mr. Dennis suffered a fracture of the breast bone, lung bruises, cut eyelid and broken and gashed nose. He was given emergency treatment here and then rushed to Lubbock Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Dennis said her husband's condition was improving Wednesday afternoon. It still is necessary for Mr. Dennis to spend his time in a sitting position. He is unable to lie down even to sleep.

Mrs. Dennis said her husband visited the Jones farm on business. He went to the assistance of some workmen there who were operating the posthole digger.

Mrs. Dennis said his clothing became entangled in the machine. It pulled his jacket up around his neck and was choking him. It was necessary to cut the jacket from his body.

Chamber Of Commerce Meeting Set Tonight

Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture will have its first general membership meeting tonight (Thursday). It will be in the school auditorium. Starting time is 7:30.

Ralph Duncan, representative of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Abilene, who was instrumental in organizing the chamber here, will be the featured speaker.

One of the primary reasons for the meeting is to acquaint members with what the chamber is doing and what it has done, Joe Wood, manager, said.

Projects which are being planned will also be discussed. "We feel we can get the feelings of members by discussing some of our ideas at a meeting such as this," Wood said. An industrial fund, which would aid in getting new industry, professional people, and possibly other types of business, will be considered.

Also on the agenda is the appointing of permanent committee members.

Don Williams, chamber president, will preside.

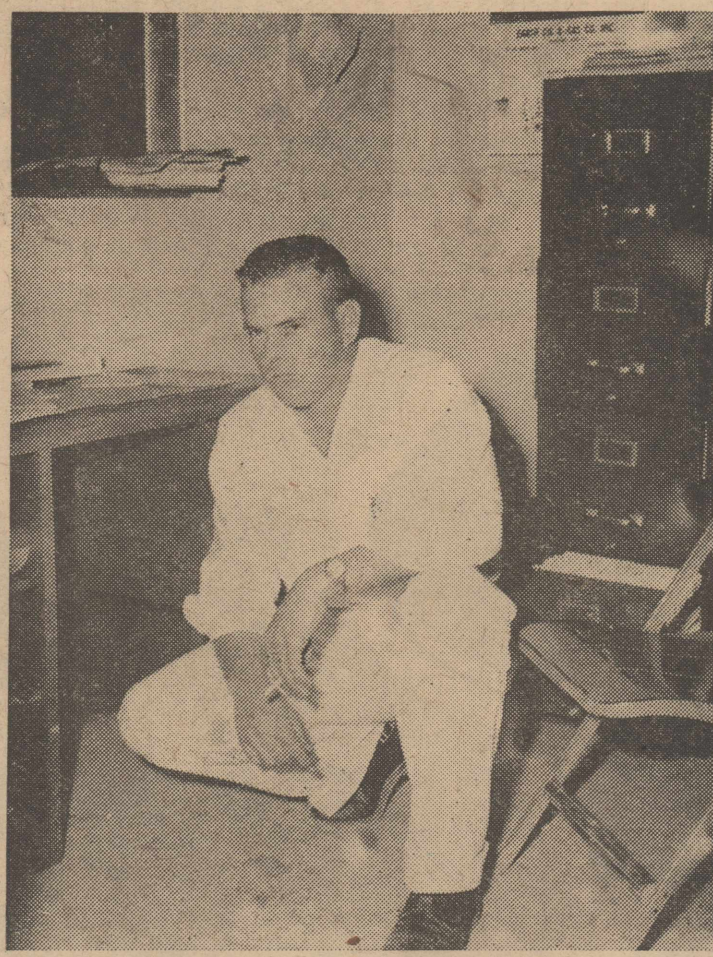

"Needless to say," Wood explained, "we're hoping to have a good crowd. Members are urged to attend and others, who are interested in the chamber and its work, are invited. It would be a good idea for members to bring non-member guests with them."

Burglars Bump Two Springlake Businesses

WHERE, OH WHERE, DID MY MONEY GO!

YEGGS HAULED OFF considerable loot at Springlake last Friday night. In the first panel, Elroy Wisian, owner of Springlake Motor Supply, tells Deputy Sheriff V. L. Smith how the crooks pried their way into his firm and made off with the company safe. In the second panel, Lloyd Hood, manager of Springlake's Busby Motor Company, surveys the ransacked office of his business.

Motor Company, Service Station Broken Into, Robbed Friday Nite

The series of burglaries in the Springlake-Earth area continued last week.

Two Springlake businesses—Busby Motor Company and Springlake Motor Supply and service station—were broken into Friday night. This was the sixth break-in in that area in the past 60 days, according to Deputy Sheriff V. L. "Smitty" Smith, who investigated.

From a loss standpoint, the service station was hit harder than the motor company. A safe was stolen from the station. Smith said it contained 24 50-cent pieces, $65 in bills and checks, $5 in change, $40 in pennies and nickels, $30 in tickets, four car titles and two pickup titles.

The Busby business lost $4 in change.

Entrance to both businesses was made by prying the front doors of the buildings open. "It looked like a bar about one-half inch in diameter was used to do the prying," the deputy said.

Law enforcement officials have reason to believe that the series of thefts have been done by the same people. Smith said this was the most profitable haul that had been made except for a jewelry store "job" in Earth. About $600 worth of jewels were taken in that robbery.

Two suspects were picked up over the weekend. One was picked up here and the other at Earth. Both, however, were released after questioning, the deputy said.

There was no chance to get fingerprints at either of the burglarized businesses. The thieves wore gloves, Smith believed.

The stolen safe, which hasn't been found, was small and brown-colored.

The foul play was discovered when the businesses were opened Saturday morning. There was no way of determining what time the break-ins were made.

FOUR CANDIDATES: THREE POSTS—

Ballots For Aldermen To Be Marked Tuesday

Olton voters will decide on three of the six men who will represent them in city government Tuesday.

The annual aldermen election will be in the city hall. Polls will open at 8 AM and will close at 7 PM, Mrs. Bernice Smith, city secretary said.

Four candidates are running for three positions. The top three vote-getters will serve the city in aldermen capacities for the coming two years.

Candidates are T. M. Campbell, A. D. Adams, Major T. James, Jr., and Joe D. Chester. Campbell and Adams are seeking re-election.

Campbell has served a full term, Adams filled the unexpired term of E. L. Thompson, who moved outside the city limits after being elected.

J. C. Hamby is the alderman whose term is expiring and who is not seeking re-election.

To be eligible to vote in the election, Mrs. Smith explained, a citizen must have lived in the state one year, in the city six months, and have paid a poll tax. "It is not necessary that a voter own taxable property," she said.

Howard Hall will be the election judge. He will be assisted by Pruitt Sides. Fayes Stone will serve as clerk.

The terms of D. Y. Ray, mayor,

Aldermen Lynn Fite and Carroll Cox expire in April, 1959. They were elected last year.

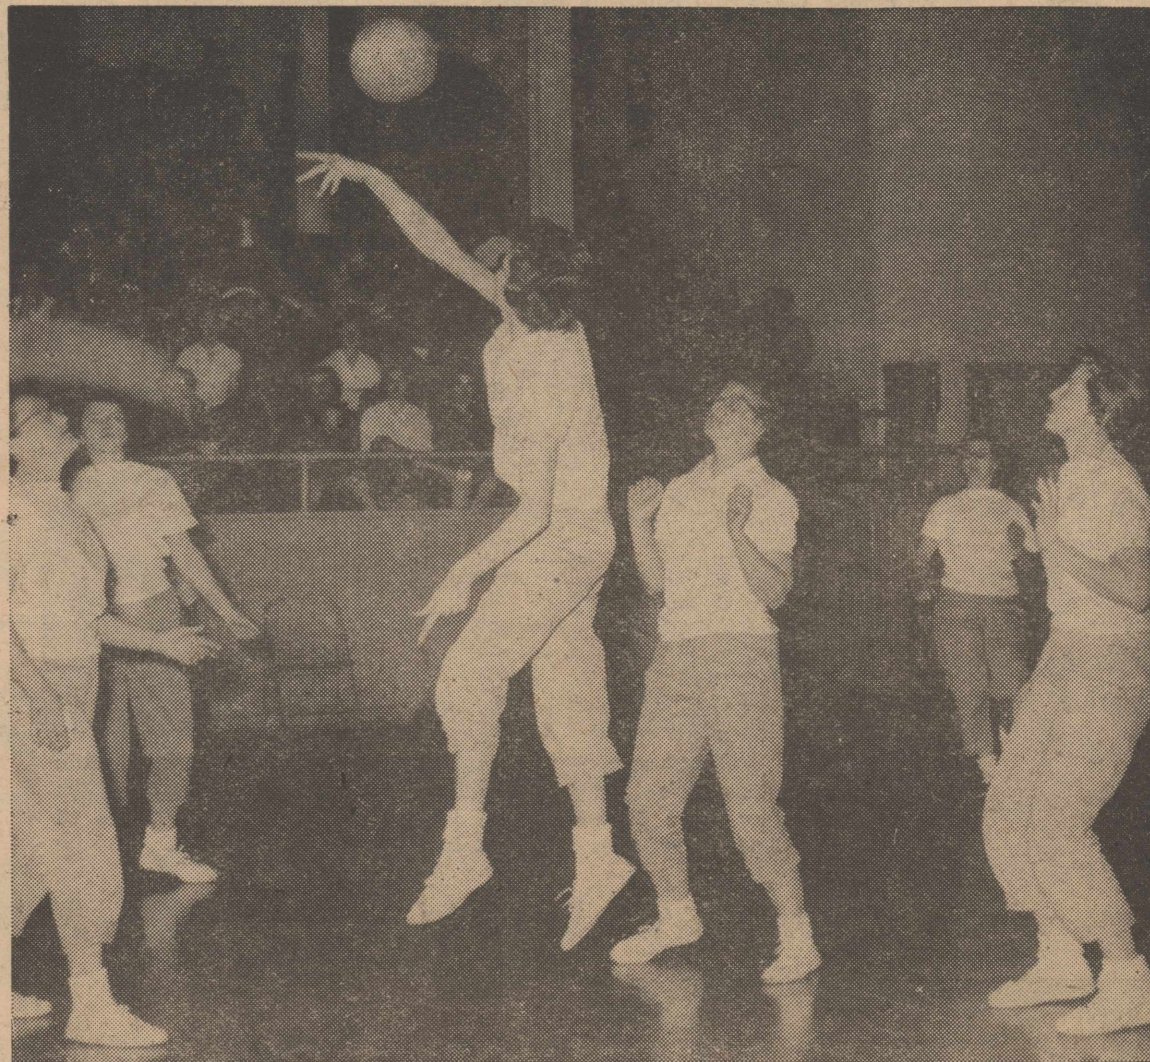

In last year's election, 239 votes were cast, Mrs. Smith said. She doesn't expect that many ballots to be marked in the approaching election. "Last year, we were voting for mayor," she said, "and usually there is a larger turnout in the mayor's race."

Homemakers Like The Dryer Best

The clothes dryer is the "most wanted" appliance on the planned purchase lists of American homemakers.

Repeated surveys by national magazines and appliance manufacturers alike have indicated this with the result that the dryer is expected to experience the most phenomenal growth in appliance history. Already it has set an enviable record with more than one million dryers in use although it has been on the market in force for only about five years.

Saves More Labor

They point out to surveyors that the dryer not only saves more labor than any other appliance but it saves clothes and reduces the number of garments needed.

Leading dryer manufacturers predict a startling growth for the dryer business in the next five years. Executives foresee six million new dryers in addition to the one million now in use.

The extent of this record, if achieved, can be appreciated when anyone considers that although the automatic washer industry is 15 years old it has just reached the six million figure which the dryer industry expects to hit in 10 years.

Books on Parade

by mardema ogletree

The Diary of Anne Frank, a play by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, published by Random House, $2.95.

Currently there is a revival of interest in "The Diary of Anne Frank" because of the forthcoming movie version. Recently, there was an article about Anne Frank and the far-reaching influence of her diary in Readers Digest.

This particular Pulitzer prize-winning play version is based on the book of a few years ago, "Anne Frank, Diary of a Young Girl."

It dramatizes the story revealed on the pages of the intimate diary kept by Anne Frank, a young Jewish girl living in Amsterdam, Holland during World War II. It is a portrait of adolescence against a background of war and persecution.

Anne Frank, her father, her mother, her sister, Margot, another Jewish family, and a middle-aged Jewish dentist hid from the Gestapo in a garret over an old warehouse in Amsterdam. For two years and one month they lived in fear and isolation. But Anne Frank, though physically confined, was free to explore the whole world through her extensive reading. She recorded in her diary during those two years her experiences, her thoughts, and her dreams.

Even though the playwrights change Anne's ambition to become a writer to an ambition to become a famous singer or dancer, much of the spirit of the book is transferred to the play version.

And this little 15-year-old girl developed an emotional maturity far beyond her years. She believed in the basic goodness of people as reflected in her statement, "In spite of everything I still believe that people are really good at heart." She hoped that time would come when she could carry out her ideals.

But Anne Frank died in a concentration camp two months before the liberation of Holland.

However, her story lives on in the book, the play, the movie, and is doing—and will continue to do—a great deal to promote peace and understanding between people of different nationalities.

The stepping-stones in one person's life can be told in a silent and variously sad style by the shoes he wore.

Even a part of the person's character may be revealed through the type shoes he selected, or the wear and tear they received.

His first shoes, of course, were booties—dainty knit booties doll-like in size. Nowadays, these are supplemented by precious, soft nylon shoe-lets.

When the infant begins to crawl, or perhaps before, he graduates to soft-soled leather shoes. The toes of these are first to wear out.

He's ready for his first hard-soled shoes when he begins to pull up to chairs and tables. For the baby boy, white high-top shoes; for the girl baby, perhaps white Roman sandals.

The child wears through several pairs of these, and then is ready for something besides white. The lad gets his first pair of brown or black oxfords. The lass talks her Mother into buying the low-cut buckle slippers, perhaps black patent. And she isn't a baby anymore.

The first pair of cowboy boots for the boy child emphasizes that he is no longer an infant, either, but a rough and rowdy little boy.

Most difficult to decide upon, possibly, are the first school shoes. The child wants what "all the other kids are wearing." Mother insists upon sturdy, well-built, well-fitted oxfords. The experience is clouded over further by her mixed emotions concerning losing her child to the first grade.

It is not long until the junior miss wants casual flats in her closet, rather than plain foundations. And she must have, not one pair, but a color for every sweater.

The boy decides upon purple or red or yellow custom-made boots.

Teen-age activities and dating open the door to an entirely new foot world. The first pair of heels changes the sweet young thing with pigtails into a saucy lass with a not-too delicate air. The squiring boy makes his debut in the pointed two-toned shoes, half wishing his pants completely covered his feet for fear of being joshed.

And then for years, the man and the woman cramp their feet into shoes that are fashionable, but ill-fitting, forcing corns, bunions, fallen arches and malformities.

For work, they wear high-topped boots or sandals; for sports, they don soft, flat-heeled canvas or straw; for home, they wear warm, comfortable sluffs or shoe sox; for going out, they wear tight-fitting spikes or pointed toe spectators.

Finally, aging and tired, they get into orthopedic shoes, homely and plain to look at, but oh, how good they feel!

And in this life span, our man or woman has run quite a bit of leather into the ground.

i-t-o

Once Troy said, after the children and I had been away overnight, that the worst part of his entire loneliness in the quiet and empty house was seeing two pairs of scuffed-up shoes where they had been tossed aside in the nursery. They, too, were quiet, and empty.

i-t-o

Incidentally, if you are wondering whether the pointed toe is here to stay for a while, take it from a shoe salesman I asked the other day.

He said he imagined they were, since it takes 40 years to grow a tree from which shoe forms are made in the factories. And an evolution such has just taken place—from the round to the ever-so-pointed toe—is very costly.

Furthermore, Wall Street Journal, in a page one item on the new shoe fashions, stated they were here for at least five or six years.

i-t-o

Say! Why don't you young fellows who work with model airplanes, boats, et cetera, organize and put on a show or contest? I know there are a number of you. Gerry George, Paul Montgomery, Kenneth Prestridge, J. Curtis Hall, maybe?

i-t-o

Two people, within about an hour's time, called the other day that they had found a dog. Not the same dog, of course.

Mrs. Fred Thompson has a dog, white with black spots, found near the Ed Thompson home. Call 2081 if you think you can identify the animal or know anything about it.

And then W. D. Granger of Cotton Center has a lovely experience I want to share with you.

For a number of days, as he came to Olton, he noticed a bulldog running about on and off the highway about 2 or 2½ miles east of Olton. Finally he stopped and asked at a house nearby if the owners were about, feeling the dog was bound to get run over if he continued to chase cars on the highway.

Nobody knew anything about the dog.

So Mr. Granger opened his pick-up door on the way home that day, and the dog bounded in. Once at home, he was starved for water.

The Grangers kept him and nursed him, then decided they'd better search for his owner before becoming too attached to him.

JACK HYSINGER, right, Mustang football star, recently signed a letter of intent to attend and play football at Texas A & M College. A four-year letterman at Olton High, Hysinger is 6' 3" tall and weighs 205 pounds. Here he is being congratulated by his high school mentor, Coach Joe Turner.

But here's the pay-off; the bulldog has only three legs.

Mr. Granger says at first he thought it was a deformity, but he inspected closely and discovered the leg had been amputated, and is healed perfectly.

The dog gets around very well, too, he adds, except every once in a while when it seems he forgets and tries to use a fourth leg, and then down he goes.

I call this true and genuine love for dogs. And I'm almost hoping nobody ever claims the animal. Seems to me he's in very good hands.

(However, Mr. Granger may be contacted at phone 2483, Cotton Center.)

MAKES HONOR ROLL

Billy Gene Dawson of Olton, who is enrolled in Oklahoma University, has recently been named to the school's honor roll.

He was one of 2,358 students to be so honored. To be eligible for the honor roll, a student must have an over-all grade average of "B" in a minimum of 12 semester hours during the semester and must not have a "failing" or "incomplete" mark in any course.

CONGRATULATIONS, JACK!

Aldermen Endorse Improvement Of Highway 70 In Special Session

Olton city aldermen officially endorsed the proposed improvement on Highway 70 through Olton at a special session last week.

Improvement for the highway consists of widening the pavement and constructing curbs and gutters. The increased pavement would be paid for by the State. Property owners would pay the cost for the curbs and gutters.

Also, the town's leaders voted to purchase a 1952 model GMC pickup from Olton Paint and Body Shop. It will replace an International model which has been used for city work.

Individuals meeting with the council were Ralph Glover, who has worked on the highway improvement for the chamber of commerce; Joe Wood, chamber of commerce manager; and Vernie Head, police chief.

Aldermen in attendance were Mayor D. Y. Ray, Carroll Cox, Lynn Fite and J. C. Hamby.

Butch Plus Missie Equals 45 Pounds; Are These Bulldogs Or Giant Hounds?

"Doggie in the window" has become a reality at the home of Howard, Nettie and J. Curtis Hall.

For when all of the family leaves the house, their two Boston Terriers, Butch and Missie, perch on the back of the divan or chair before a window and stand watch until someone returns.

Butch is the Halls' five-year-old Screwtail Bulldog. He weighs 30 pounds—or about twice normal weight, and is indeed an impressive-looking fellow. His daughter, Missie, is about to become a mother for the first time. She's one and a half, and normally weighs about 15 pounds.

The dogs belong to "all of us," Nettie claims, though she guesses they're more spoiled to her because "I feed 'em more than anyone else. They want to eat all the time. You can see why Butch is so big."

Mealtime at the Hall home will find Howard, Nettie and ten-year-old J. Curtis watching TV over snack trays, and Butch and Missie are right there, too, with improvised "snack trays" of their own. Given a bone or other food, they'll be very careful to keep it on one of the throw rugs, and not on the carpet.

Butch perhaps has reason to be proud, for he is the father of a number of dogs in this community, including some belonging to the Harley Millers and the Mack McGills. Though the Halls have never purchased papers on him, he is qualified to be registered if they so desired.

"Some people think it's terrible to keep dogs in the house all the time," Nettie says, "and let them sleep on the beds and get on the furniture, but they just don't know how it is to love dogs."

"I've always loved dogs and always had them in the house, and I've always let them do anything they wanted to. We all love 'em."

Butch and Missie DO sleep on the beds, too, and sometimes even under the covers with J. Curtis.

"I get cold sometimes," he pipes up, "and they get beside me and get me warm."

True to their species, both Butch and Missie have an intense aversion toward cats, and Missie has succeeded in almost catching a bird as it flitted about in the back yard. The dogs are kept fenced in when outdoors, partly to avoid dog fights.

"Butch doesn't like it much," Nettie explains, "and sometimes he wants to run around so badly he'll go to the front door and jump up at the knob, trying to turn it open. And then Missie almost jumped over the fence once, but so far, so good!"

J. Curtis says he really named Butch "Butchie," because it just seemed to fit the baby bulldog he was when he came to live at the Halls' house. And he can't remember just how he happened to give Missie her name; he only knows he gave them names he likes.

Butch answers to his name obediently, especially if a reward of food is being offered. He particularly likes cookies and other sweets, in spite of some experts' opinions that dogs have no taste for sweets.

The screwtails are the first to be ready for the cellar, Nettie recalls, when a storm comes up. They are terrified when it begins thundering and lightning.

The Halls took them to the mountains with them once, and the animals had the time of their lives chasing chipmunks. They also like to go boating, and have Missie is expected to have a litter of five or six pups, and J. Curtis begged to be allowed to keep at least one of them.

Three Mustangs Win Placings At Crosbyton Relays Saturday

Royce Bodkin ran the 440-yard dash in the fastest time of the day Saturday at Crosbyton relays—but it didn't count. That was the best story to be told about the undermanned Olton High track team's participation in its first formal meet of the season.

Bodkin's time—53.1 seconds—was run in the preliminaries. He finished failed to place in the finals. He finished fourth in the 100-yard dash.

James Robbins and James Ray Hyatt, the only other representatives of the blue and white in the meet, also earned placings. Robbins was second in the 220-yard dash and Hyatt was fourth in the pole vault event.

The team was handicapped last weekend because some of its members were participating in district literary events at Canyon.

This weekend, Coach Jeff Smart's boys are entered in the Amarillo Relays. However, there's a possibility they will participate in a meet with "four or five" other teams in a meet at Lubbock. "It depends on how much we get to practice," Coach Smart said.

District meet 2-AA will be staged the following weekend—April 4—and will be in Canyon.

Lions Queen Contest Friday; 25 Candidates

THE OLTON ENTERPRISE

Out Of Town Judges Will Name Three Winners; Pancake Supper To Start Things Off At Six

From a field of 25 candidates, the 1958 queen of Olton Lions Club will be named Friday night. Judging will begin at 8 PM and will be in the school auditorium.

Girls of junior and senior classification in Olton High School were eligible to enter the competition, Cleo Smith, queen contest committee chairman, said.

Prior to the contests, the Lions will have a pancake supper at the school cafeteria. It will be from 6 to 8 PM. A ticket to the supper, which will sell for 50 cents, will entitle its owner to see the beauty show free. A ticket to the contest alone will cost 25 cents, Smith said.

Three out-of-town judges will name the top three girls in the contest. Girls will be judged on beauty, personality and poise. Each girl will make three appearances on the stage. During the first appearance, she will be judged on beauty. The second time she appears, she will be asked a "few" questions and will be judged on personality and poise.

The final trip before the audience will be made while the judges are deciding the winners. For the first time, the girl's name and sponsor will be announced. Until the final appearance, the girls will be referred to by numbers.

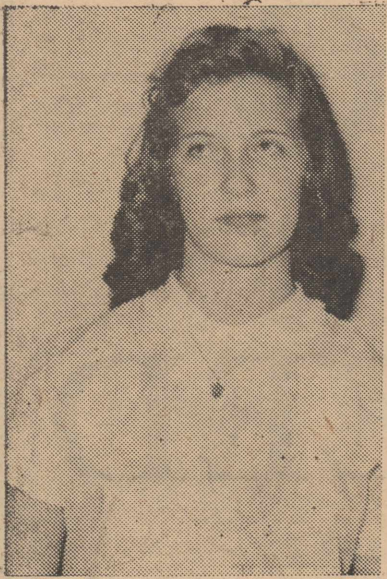

Mrs. Troy Martin will serve as narrator during the program.

A rehearsal was conducted in the auditorium Tuesday afternoon after school.

Winner of the contest here will compete in a district contest in Dalhart next month, Smith said. Serving with Smith on the contest committee are Melvin Hines and Elmer McGill.

Contestants may wear evening gowns in the show here, Smith said, but other types of dresses may be worn.

The three winners will be announced by Louis Hair, Lions Club president.

BUY A HOT DOG MISTER?

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs.

He put up a sign on the highway telling how good they were. He stood by the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, Mister?" And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened . . . His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? There's a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son has been to college. He reads the papers and listens to the radio, and he ought to know." So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders.

Took down the advertising signs. And no longer bothered to stand on the highway and sell hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right son," the father said to the boy. "We are certainly in the middle of a great depression."

7,000-lb. Grain Sorghum Using Phillips 66 Ammonia

Morgan Sturgess, who farms 1,100 acres near Tulia, Tex., says: "By side dressing 150 pounds of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, I harvested 7,000-pound maize. I also side dressed 60 to 150 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia on cotton and averaged 2 bales per acre."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that 82% nitrogen from top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them get more profit per acre through higher yields. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased... more marketable vegetables are harvested... and profits on wheat are increased through higher yields of grain and extended grazing periods.

Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia contains 82% nitrogen and gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of commercial fertilizer available.

CHEVY'S NEW V8 LEVELS
THE HIGHEST, HARDEST HIGHWAY OVER THE ANDES!

To prove the durability of Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8,* the tremendous flexibility of the new Turboglide transmission,* the incredible smoothness of Full Coil suspension, we tackled the most challenging transcontinental road in the world — the 1,000-mile General San Martin Highway. To make it harder, the Automobile Club of Argentina sealed the hood shut at Buenos Aires — no chance to add oil or water or adjust carburetors for high altitude.

So the run began — across the blazing Argentine pampas, into the ramparts of the forbidding Andes. Up and up the road climbed, almost 2½ miles in the sky! Drivers gasped for oxygen at 12,572 feet — but the Turbo-Thrust V8 never slackened its torrent of power, the Full Coil springs smothered every bump, the Turboglide transmission made play of grades up to 30 percent. Then a plunge to the Pacific at Valparaiso, Chile, a quick turn-around and back again. Time for the round trip: 41 hours 14 minutes — and the engine was never turned off!

OHS PRINCIPAL

PRINCIPAL J. A. WILLIAMS

From Naples, Italy To Principal In Six Weeks

BY GAYLE McANALLY

"Be it known that James Albert Williams having successfully completed"—proclaim two pieces of seemingly insignificant paper from their framed hanging places on a wall of the OHS principal's office.

These two pieces of paper regular teacher. His first position was with a two-teacher rural school in south Texas. Williams was graduated from high school in San Marcos. While a student in high school, he was a member of various literary societies. His favorite subject was history and he made his best grades in this subject. He now professes that he also has a fondness for literature, especially Shakespeare's plays.

J. A. graduated from Southwest Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos, with a major in history and government. He took his master's degree from West Texas State College, Canyon, with a major in education and a minor in history. While in college he was a member of the Jeffersonian Literary Society, the Glee Club and the debate team.

Mr. Williams says that he would still like to return to school again some summer. Any work that he would do could be counted toward a doctorate. He taught school during the winter and attended school during the summer to obtain his education.

SOYBEANS HAVE FOUND A PLACE IN WEST TEXAS AGRICULTURE

AN ESTABLISHED LOCAL MARKET FOR YOUR SOYBEANS

A point that generally plagues a new crop in a new area is one of markets. This problem has been removed for West Texas growers, since there is an established daily market for soybeans through Western Cottonoil Co.

Western Cottonoil Co.'s Lubbock Mill has new, modern facilities to process both cottonseed and soybeans, thus providing a ready local market for the soybean growers of the Plains of Texas. This program was instituted in 1957 and is designed to serve West Texas agriculture, both present and future.

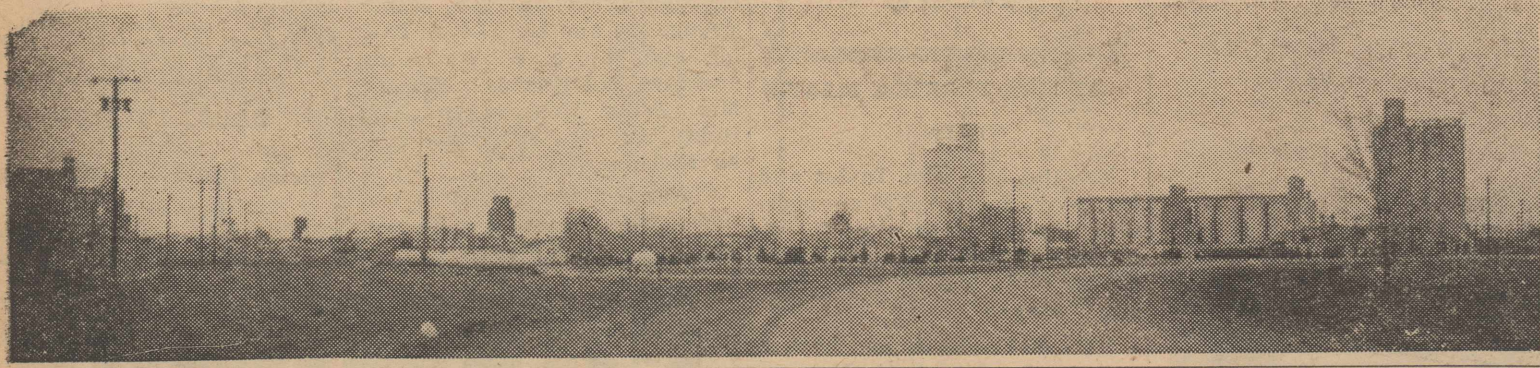

The rotation of "sorghum-soybeans-cotton" appears to have established a firm foothold in West Texas irrigated agriculture. The major contributing factors have been that soybeans reduce the cotton production costs in hand labor required to hoe the crop when compared to following cotton after sorghums, and increased cotton yields following soybeans. These factors, plus the general improvement of soil tilth, make the rotation of "sorghum-soybeans-cotton" appear to be a permanent part of the farming economy of the High Plains of Texas.

GUEST EDITORIAL

There has been nation-wide concern over the rising tide of juvenile delinquency that has swept our country during the past few years. Many theories have been advanced as to the cause.

Some say that it was caused by the general world conditions of unrest and tension; others say the schools are at fault; still others say our homes are to blame. Perhaps all these are in some measure true, but let us think for a few moments of the one thing that all juvenile offenders have in common. That is lack of respect. They lack respect for themselves, for other people, for authority, and for any of the institutions of society which are necessary for life today.

According to the dictionary, respect is synonymous with honor, reverence, esteem, and consideration. Children should be taught from babyhood to respect their parents and their brothers and sisters in the home. When they start to school they should be taught to respect their teachers and the children with whom they come in contact. They should be taught respect for our government and for the officials who administer our laws. They should be taught respect for religion, not only their own particular faith but for the religion of others.

Substitute any of the synonymous words for respect and you will easily see that a child who has consideration for others would not join in gang fights; one who values his school would not willfully destroy school property; one who honors his government will not break its laws; one who has reverence for religion will uphold its principals.

We must not only teach respect, but we as parents, teachers, public officials, and adults in general, must so live as to be worthy of the respect of our children.

How do we read prescriptions?

According to some of our customers, prescriptions aren't written—they're doodles. Yet your pharmacist looks at the cryptic scribbles and calmly reaches for a bottle. The right bottle. Prescriptions are written in a special international language known to physicians and pharmacists . . . a kind of universal, standardized shorthand that's grammar- and penmanship-proof. It exists so any registered pharmacist anywhere can fill your prescription accurately. That's how we're always able to give you just the drug your physician prescribes, and why the directions are always correct. We are pleased to serve you whenever prescription medication is required.

Jack Hysinger, Olton Mustang football star, has signed a letter of intent to attend Texas A & M College on a four-year scholarship. Announcement of the signing was made this week by Joe Turner, head football coach here.

School Will Be Out Two Days For Easter

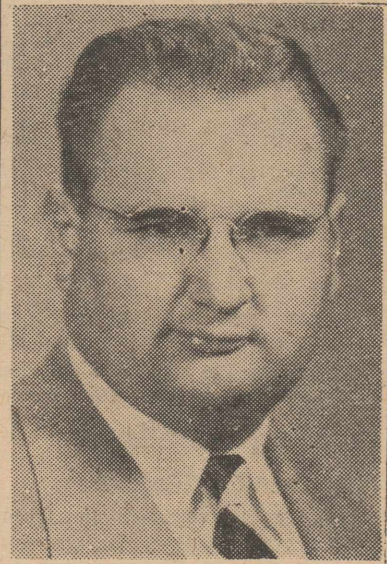

In observance of Easter—which is April 6—Olton Schools will be dismissed two days.

Supt. Noel Johnson said this week Friday, April 4, and Monday, April 7, would be Easter vacation days.

These will be the last holidays of the 1957-58 school year. Nine more weeks of school remain. The closing date is set for May 23, which is on Friday, the superintendent said.

"As far as we can tell now, school will be dismissed then," he said. "The only thing that would keep up from meeting that date would be bad weather or sickness which would cause classes to be dismissed between now and then."

LUBBOCK DEAN SPEAKER HERE

DEAN C. L. KAY

C. L. Kay, dean of students of Lubbock Christian College, was guest speaker at Olton High School last Wednesday. His subject was "What Makes America Great?"

Despite the fact that our first satellite was a failure, said Dean Kay, "I still believe that America is the greatest nation in the world." He stressed the fact that America is a big country: big in ideas, legend, and out-look.

Four facts of interest were brought out which make America great. They were: (1) We are free, (2) America is a land of vocational opportunities, (3) America is a land of educational opportunity, and (4) Because of our civic organization.

In closing remarks, the speaker stressed the fact that America has a great future if "we do a good job in building citizenship, educating our youth, and train them to accept the challenge of tomorrow."

Prior to accepting his present position, Dean Kay taught on the campus of West Texas State College for three years.

IN DALLAS

A. D. Adams and J. I. Brothers were in Dallas Tuesday and Wednesday of last week attending a diesel school.

Families Get Free Food Supply Friday

First day of spring—March 21—was not unlike Christmas for 16 Olton families.

A supply of food, consisting of about a bushel of spuds and a few pounds of brown beans to each family, was distributed to "some of the people who needed it," according to V. L. "Smitty" Smith, deputy sheriff, who made the distribution.

The spuds were donated to the cause by Morris Gene Brown and the beans were given by G. H. Bley, Smith reported.

"Some of the people haven't been able to work for several days because of bad weather and for other reasons," the deputy explained, "and they needed some help."

Joyce Curtis had a slumber (?) party in her home Friday night.

The girls went to the Hart High School senior play and then lived it up at the Curtis home. Getting themselves almost sick on sandwiches, pickles, soft drinks, cake, and potato chips were Kay Howard, Terry Gail Hooper, Gayle McAnally, Johnny Crawford, Barbara White, and Joyce.

(Might mention that the menu at 1 o'clock was popcorn; pop and cokes at 3; and miscellaneous until 6.)

Not going steady are Butch Hulsey, Donna Whittington; and Glenda Hall and Coy Carlisle. (Sorry, my mistake.)

Those two couples above may not be going steady but Jack Hysinger, Latrell Stewart; Jerry Fancher and Sharon Dennis are.

Congrats to Jack Hysinger on making the All-Star AA football team. Also on signing a letter of intent with A & M. Jack is the second Olton boy in the past two years to sign to play football for A & M. You'll remember Teddy Estes is now at Aggie.

Although Olton has several new students, we have lost several lately. Lois McAteer left last weekend to live in Memphis.

Couples Saturday night were Joyce Curtis, Harvey Garrison; Koenia Schenck, Elza Miller; Winfred Hair, Rhonda Robertson; Jerry Fancher, Sharon Dennis; Maenette Dennis, Elmer Houston; Janet Oak, Ronnie Dennis; Tommie Wilson, Kay Gregory; Harold Feathergill, Shirley Matney; Jackie Pinson, Mary Scribner; Arno Hall, Karen Smith; Doyle Eubanks and Barbara Gray.

The condition of Mrs. W. P. Holley was better, according to her daughter, Mrs. Clurly Phillips, Monday afternoon.

LUBBOCK VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Carol J. May and Mrs. Carl Macon were Lubbock visitors Sunday afternoon. While in Lubbock, they visited in the John Alford home.

They were together after church Sunday night; as were Jerry Meyer and Sydney Hair.

Thanks to Judy Price for this one: (I don't know now where she got it so you'll have to ask her) Talking about a not-so-good football player: left-end in practice, and left-out in games.

Koenia Schenck was with Lonnie Thomas Friday night.

AMERICA'S FAVORITE FAMILY WAGON...PLYMOUTH

Plymouth carries more . . . does more . . . provides more family fun than any other wagon in the low-price 3 because it's BIGGEST IN THE LOW-PRICE 3. You can't buy bigger at any price!

Maybe you're a station wagon family right now. More Americans are each day! But do you know all the really astonishing facts about the Plymouth wagon . . . how much more it gives you than other wagons, at a low budget price?

Size alone is only part of it! The Plymouth wagon is big as wagons in the high-price field that cost $5500 and more . . . but, in addition to extra size, this glamorous beauty offers a wagonload of other features that are exclusively Plymouth in the low-price 3!

You simply can't get 'em anywhere else in the field. And once you try them . . . learn how little the years-ahead Plymouth wagon costs . . . you'll never settle for less! Why should you? Your Plymouth dealer has the money-saving story, and he's waiting for your visit.

5 big reasons why your wagon should be a Plymouth:

- 1 BIGGEST OF THE LOW-PRICE THREE: Big as wagons costing thousands of dollars more. You can't buy bigger at any price! 122" wheelbase.
- 2 HOLDS SO MUCH MORE THAN THE "OTHER TWO": Over 7 cu. ft. more passenger and cargo space. Extra "secret luggage" compartment in 6-passenger models.
- 3 REAR-FACING 3rd SEAT: Folds flush into the floor; you don't have to store it outside when it's not in use. Easy to enter.
- 4 DISAPPEARING REAR WINDOW: Rolls down into tailgate. Doesn't get in the way. Only Plymouth has it in the low-price field.
- 5 TORSION-AIRE RIDE—AT NO EXTRA COST: Only on Plymouth in the low-price 3. Big-car luxury. No sideway on turns or nose-dive on stops.
