BROADWAY CHURCH OF CHRIST BUILDING—Construction of the new Broadway Church of Christ building between Broadway and Main at Ave. T officially begins with a groundbreaking ceremony at the building site at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The modified Romanesque building, estimated to cost $800,000 to complete, will be started by Mrs. W. N. Green, only living charter member of the church, who will turn the first spade of earth at the ceremony. Dr. M. Norvel Young is minister. (Staff Photo).

Church Will Hold Program

By WILLIAM C. CLARK

A GROUNDBREAKING ceremony at 3 o'clock this afternoon will mark the official beginning of the new Broadway Church of Christ building at Broadway to Main street at Ave. T, church officials announced.

The first spade of earth for the $800,000 project will be turned by Mrs. W. N. Green, affectionately known as "Aunt Mary," who is the only living charter member of the church. A brief look at the past will be presented by Liff Sanders, pioneer preacher for the church.

Various Talks Planned

B. Sherrod, chairman of the building and finance committees, will present the challenge of the new building to the congregation. A greeting from the city commission will be brought by E. K. Hufstedler, jr., and greetings from Texas Technological college will be conveyed by the reading of a message from Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president.

A message of encouragement from the sister congregations of the Broadway church will be brought by Alvis Bryan, minister of the Eastside Church of Christ, and Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the church, will introduce the speakers and bring a brief message on the future use of the building.

Jimmy Woods, minister of Crescent Hill Church of Christ at Brownfield, will express greetings from South Plains Churches of Christ.

Greetings from Abilene Christian college at Abilene will be brought personally by Don H. Morris, president of the college. Carl Spain, Tech Bible chair instructor, will lead a prayer. Raleigh Martin, 1948 chairman of the board of elders and deacons, will also speak.

The new building will face Broadway with additional entrances on Ave. T and Main for the educational department and offices, and will also have an entrance from the street which will be opened east of the building, connecting Broadway and Main.

The auditorium has been de-

UN Names Palestine Peace Commission

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Sunday, Dec. 12 — The United Nations created a three-nation Palestine Conciliation commission last night in another attempt to bring permanent peace to the Holy Land. It named the United States, France and Turkey as the commission's members.

The 58-nation assembly then took up the Korean question and ran into a Soviet filibuster which delayed plans for final adjournment of the Paris meeting this morning. The Slav bloc is fighting a majority plan which would continue the UN's Korean commission and recommended approval of the government of the Republic of Korea.

At 2 a.m., Dr. Herbert V. Evatt of Australia, president of the assembly, called off the lengthy meeting until 3 p.m. (8 a.m. CST) this afternoon.

After the Palestine commission was established, the Israeli delegation reiterated its willingness to negotiate directly with the Arabs but attacked the commission membership as "one-sided." An Arab delegate told newsmen the Arab states generally were satisfied with the commission membership.

The final vote on the conciliation plan jointly sponsored by the

ENTRY DEADLINE IS EXTENDED

Increasing Interest Is Reported In Christmas Lighting Contest

INCREASING interest was evident Saturday in the second annual Home Christmas Lighting and Decorating contest sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal.

However, the opportunity still exists to share in the $85 in cash prizes which will be distributed to those with the most beautifully decorated homes and yards, windows, doorways and outdoor trees.

And here is important news. The date for entering the contest has been extended until next Saturday, Dec. 18. That allows more time to get decorations in place —but the time still is short.

Dusters Bring Extension

Dec. 15, next Thursday, was set originally as the deadline for entries. But the extension of time was approved by the judges, whose identities will remain secret until the awards are announced, because of the two recent dusters. Many home owners have delayed their decorating so as to reduce the risk of wind damage.

An entry in the contest requires nothing more than a telephone call to Mrs. Naomi Caddel, 4343, in The Avalanche-Journal Editorial department. The calls are necessary to insure inspections by the judges. The inspections will be made on any nights of the judges choosing between Dec. 18 and 25. Decorations must remain in place until after Christmas.

Four groups of prizes are offered.

The grand prizes of $25, $10 and $5 have been posted for the home and front yard which presents the most striking Christmas picture.

First and second prizes of $10 and $5 each also will be given for the most beautifully decorated

New Drop Seen In Mercury For Area

For the third straight weekend, colder weather is the forecast for Lubbock and the South Plains, however, this time without the raging dust storms of the past two weekends.

The Weather station said clearing and somewhat lower temperatures than those of Saturday were due today, with a low of 32 seen this morning, a high of 58 for the day. Saturday's minimum was 28, the high 72.

Warmer weather prevailed over most of the state Saturday, the Associated Press reported. A gradual warmup was foreseen for the South Plains Monday.

California Winter Resort Is Shaken By Earthquake

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Dec. 11 (AP)—Another earthquake shook this winter resort community today but residents shrugged it off as "something we're getting used to now."

Dr. Charles Richter, seismologist at California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, timed the jar at 9:12:46 a. m. (Pacific daylight time) and described it as "good sized."

He said this tremor and one experienced here yesterday at 1:43:28 p. m. were the strongest of the aftershocks which customarily follow a big quake like the one which rocked all of Southern California a week ago today. During the week there have been other, lesser tremors.

Reds Cut Into Central China

By PETER LIU
INS Staff Correspondent

NANKING, Dec. 11.—A military "end run" by Chinese Communist armies around the Nationalist east flank threatened today to chop off all of central China and leave it to piecemeal conquest by the Reds.

A spearhead of crack Communist troops was driving on Chiangyen, only 20 miles above the Yangtze river and 100 miles from the capital of Nanking. Furious fighting was reported in progress there.

A Communist push to the Yangtze and to the important Nanking-Shanghai railroad a few miles south of the river would virtually decapitate the rich Yangtze valley. It would cut off supplies to troops in the Nanking - Pengu - Suhsien area and make it extremely difficult to mount an offensive to protect Nanking, Hankow and the rest of the fertile valley.

Red Units Poised

It would leave Nanking to the sort of fate that appears to be facing Peiping in the north China corridor. There Communist units were reported poised from three directions to strike at the ancient and beautiful city. The Nationalists are holding a narrow corridor from the port of Tientsin on the east into the barren wastes of Mongolia.

Some 250,000 Communist troops under Gen. Lin Piao were massed at Tangshan for the imminent drive on Peiping.

Neutral military observers gave the government forces under Gen. Fu Tso-Yi little chance in blunting the three-war Communist push on Peiping.

Pressure Maintained

The pressure on Peiping came principally from Communist troops newly transferred there from action in Manchuria, successfully mopped up by the Reds a month ago.

Although many battle-seasoned Red columns were being transferred from the Pengpu area 100 miles north of Nanking to the "end run" drive east of Nanking, the Communists were able to maintain effective pressure on two trapped government forces between Pengu and Suchow 100 miles to the northwest.

One of these forces consisted of the government's 2nd, 13th and 16th army groups, which had originally been charged with the defense of Suchow and Suhsien on

Reds Threaten To 'Force Down' Planes Straying From Corridors

By RICHARD S. WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 11. — Russia warned the United States tonight that Soviet airmen will "force down" any plane straying outside the 20-mile-wide aerial corridors leading to Soviet-blockaded Berlin.

The Russians simultaneously resumed firing practice in the Bremen-Berlin aerial supply corridor despite a British protest.

The potentially dangerous Russian threat of action against western Allied planes was the second issued in a month.

Lt. Gen. G. S. Lukyanchenko, Soviet military government chief of staff, sent a letter to Brig. Gen. Charles K. Gailey, U. S. chief of staff, in which he said:

"There is no indication that U.S. authorities have issued the necessary instructions to bring an end to flights over the Soviet zone by unidentified aircraft nor a recurrence of disorderly flights of U. S. planes outside the corridor.

"I am compelled to reiterate the warning in my letter of Nov. 9."

Investigators Close In On Missing Clue

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 — The bewildering and acrimonious Hiss-Chambers spy probe, roaring on two fronts, neared its climax tonight as both investigating bodies closed in on what they believed was the missing link.

The tempo in one of the nation's most shocking spy cases was stepped up sharply as:

1. The House Un-American Activities committee released 12 stolen State department documents, indicating that vital prewar military secrets of Britain, France, Germany and Japan were stolen from the State department and delivered to Soviet agents;

Jury To Get Evidence

2. The House committee investigators stated confidently that they will break the case, and establish the guilt of Alger Hiss, former State department official, "at any moment;"

3. The New York grand jury demanded, and will get, what it believes will be a case-cracking scrutiny of the unreleased microfilms of stolen documents, now held by Congress;

4. Acting committee Chairman Nixon (R Cal.) agreed to deliver the microfilms to the New York grand jury Monday morning, but is prepared to resist any effort of that independently-functioning spy panel to seize the evidence;

Chemist Questioned

5. William Ward Pigman, former U. S. Bureau of Standards chemist accused by Chambers of stealing vital technical data which found its way to Soviet hands, was questioned at length by the New York grand jury;

6. Henry Julian Wadleigh, former trade agreements expert in the State department, also named by Chambers as a "leak," was called back by the grand jury for further interrogation;

7. The House committee, resisting all efforts by the administration and the Justice department to curtail its activities, continued its efforts to bring Alger and Donald Hiss, another former State department employe, to Washington for questioning this coming week.

Indictments Seen

8. The committee claimed to have established the identity of one of the photographers who reduced the Chambers papers to microfilm, and that he is a con-

Street Lighting Program Okayed

Approval of purchases of fixtures to start a long delayed residence street lighting program in Lubbock were announced Saturday at the city hall.

The first order includes equipment for 300 lights costing approximately $14,000. Deliveries were promised within about 50 days and installations will be started as soon thereafter as possible, City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., said.

Officials acknowledged that 300 lights are far short of needs to take large parts of the residential areas out of darkness. Minimum needs as shown by a survey nearly two years ago was 800 lights, and the number probably has been increased by several hundred since then, officials said.

Improvements Expected

But the expectation is, according to members of the city commission who will approve the placing of the first 300 lights, that a pattern will be followed which will mean some improvement of street illumination in all parts of the city.

The work of filling in the gaps between these lights then will be carried forward as rapidly as materials, labor and finances will permit. Mayor W. H. Rodgers predicted substantial improvements before the 1949-50 winter.

Fixtures when bought in quantity, as shown by the newly announced purchases, cost about $50 per light. Installation expenses, including cables, average about as much more. A 1,000-light program thus would cost, officials estimate, close to $100,000. About half the money for such a program is available from bonds voted in 1945. The remainder would have to come from current revenues.

Material Bought on Bids

The fixtures bought with city commission authorization on a competitive bidding basis included hood reflectors and lamp holders at $15.95 each from the Line Material co., brackets at $10.90 each from Westinghouse Electric Supply co. and 30-foot poles at $19.68 each from Western Light & Supply co.

The Westinghouse bid was the lowest of four submitted, the Line Material co. the highest of four and the Western the higher of two. The higher bids were accepted because the materials offered were recommended by the city manager as being more satisfactory for the intended purposes than those of competitors.

Expansion Banned For Next Three Years

SWC Again Rejects Texas Tech's Bid

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

DALLAS, Dec. 11.—Texas Technological college's bruised and battered nose had the door to the Southwest Conference slammed against it for the sixth time in 21 years here today when the SWC faculty committee officials could not muster a majority vote for expansion of the powerful group.

So important was the vote considered that a secret ballot was taken. And after the members had been polled, all ballots were destroyed by flame. The meeting adjourned and James H. Stewart, executive secretary, was left to deliver the announcement.

Dell Morgan, head football coach of Tech; Morley Jennings, athletic director; and Bill McMillan, Texas A. & M. graduate, who worked so hard with his three-man committee to further Tech's interest, learned of the news through the press.

Morgan was unusually quiet and had no comment other than "I'm disappointed." Jennings said that he was "disappointed, but not surprised." McMillan thought that definite strides had been made but also expressed extreme disappointment over the vote.

Not only did the SWC members hold a secret vote on expansion, they also immediately held a sec-

Commission Approves Plan For Four Deep Water Tests

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

PLANS for four deep water tests, instead of the one originally contemplated, have been approved by the City commission, Mayor W. H. Rodgers announced Saturday.

One will be a test to be drilled for the city, and upon which drilling contract bids are to be opened next Thursday afternoon. The other three will be made possible through the co-operation of oil operators at a total cost to the city of only $600, the mayor said.

The aggregate of the information supplied by these explorations, the first and most extensive of their kind ever undertaken on the High Plains, is expected to be reasonably conclusive as proof of whether good water in large quantity does exist at levels below the sands from which supplies now are obtained.

To Have Definite Information

"If reports on all four tests should be unfavorable," Mayor Rodgers commented, "we will know pretty definitely that we'll have to look somewhere else for the permanent solution of the Lubbock and South Plains water supply."

The three oil tests which will be used in the quest for deep water form the points of a triangle which embraces an area of about 200 square miles northeast, north and northwest of Lubbock.

The test to be drilled by the city probably will be located on city-owned land fairly close to the middle of the triangle. One point of the triangle will be about four miles northeast of Lubbock. The other will be in the Anton area, about 25 miles northwest of Lubbock, and the third in the Smyer oil field about 20 miles west of this city.

Co-operation Is Pledged

One of the tests has been made available to the city without cost by Tobe Foster, cattleman and oil operator. It is located northeast of the city in the northeast quarter of section 4, block A, Lubbock county. The test is the No. 1 Carl Foster, located 1320 feet west of Tobe Foster's No. 1 Travis, which was completed as an oil producer

Fund Still Short By Over $1,800

With just one week of their 14th annual campaign remaining, the Goodfellows still need approximately $1,800 in order to play Santa Claus to the needy children of Lubbock on Christmas day.

One heartening feature of the contributions announced this morning is that they are the most numerous of any day since the start of the campaign was announced last Sunday.

| Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Trinkle | 10.00 |

| Arch G. Lamb | 10.00 |
| S. L. Woods | 2.00 |
| Previously reported | 1,093.79 |
| Total | $1,195.79 |

But, with the drive at the halfway mark, only $1,195.79 has been contributed. That isn't much, considering the 4,000 names expected to be on the Goodfellow list. Even with $3,000, the Goodfellows will be able to spend only about 75 cents per child to provide each with a package containing new toys, candy, fruit and nuts.

Clubs to Boost Total

Hopes for the success of the campaign during the coming week are based largely upon the plans of most, if not all, of the civic luncheon clubs to dedicate their weekly meeting to the Goodfellows, as they have done for years. Contributions from this source last year exceeded $500.

If the goal is not reached, it will be the first time in the 14

SATIRE CENTERS ON ELECTION

Truman, Dewey Join In Horse Play At Gridiron Club Dinner

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—Winner and loser in the November presidential election enjoyed laughs at their own expense tonight at the December dinner-show of the Gridiron club.

Members of the newspaper club in song and skit "poured it on" President Truman and Governor Dewey of New York. Both men joined in the evening's entertainment at the Statler hotel by delivering humor-flavored speeches.

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, presidential candidate of 'States' Rights Democrats, was another guest. He too was a target of the club's satire.

Members of the club did not spare their own profession. They poked fun at newspaper men's errors in election predictions by appearing in the opening chorus in white tie, top hats, tails and —shorts.

Governor Dewey was presented with a scroll, which extended him a life-time invitation to future dinners, an invitation in the past extended to every ex-president.

Setting the keynote of the show, club President Phelps H. Adams said:

"We welcome you tonight in the immortal spirit of Christmas —the spirit of sleighbells . . . and

Documents In Case Seen As 'Dynamite'

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Secret U. S. government papers obtained 10 years ago by an admitted Communist agent contained international dynamite, it was disclosed today.

In releasing the secret material, the House Un-American Activities committee pointed out that all of the documents would have been of vital interest to Russia on the eve of World War II.

Twelve of some hundreds of papers uncovered by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in its investigation of a Communist spy network were made public by the committee with State department approval. The papers were from confidential State department files.

One of the dozen was among the secret information which had been recorded on microfilm.

Papers Said "Valuable"

This film was found on the farm of Whittaker Chambers, a self-admitted former Communist, last week in a hollowed-out pumpkin.

Chambers has accused Alger Hiss, former State department official, and others of passing some of the secret documents to him. This has been denied by Hiss.

The 12 documents made public by the committee would have been "extremely valuable" to any foreign governments which got them back in 1938, diplomatic authorities said today.

It was then that Hitler was fashioning the military machine by which he hoped to subjugate Europe and when Japan's hope of an Asiatic empire was beginning to burn bright.

Naval Plans Revealed

The documents show that Hitler might have known some of Britain's secret naval plans 18 months before he actually plunged the continent into war by invading Poland.

One secret message from a U. S. diplomat to his government, portrayed Austria's vain efforts to avoid being engulfed by Hitler and described him as "a madman with a mission."

Another told of Japan's increasing belligerence; of the one-time belief by a British official that support of Chiang Kai-Shek would be detrimental to British

Man Charged In Forgery Cases

A 22-year-old Lubbock negro who was allowed suspension of a five-year sentence Jan. 3 for swindling was charged Saturday in four forgery complaints.

He, Fred M. Russell, was held in lieu of bonds totaling $6,000 for investigation of a grand jury that will report to 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue Jan 3.

Saturday's charges were prepared by the office of District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and sworn to by police and the sheriff's department.

Bonds Are Set

They accused Russell of having forged two checks of $27 denomination and passing them Nov. 25 and 27 to John Halsey Drug store and S&Q clothiers, as well as a $37 check Dec. 10 to Godwin's booterie and a $25 check Friday to Jones-Roberts Shoe store.

C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, set bond of $2,000 in each of two cases, Justice of Peace D. W. Robertson, $1,000 bond in each of two cases.

Russell employed an attorney after, officials said, he had been identified in each of the charges.

U. S., Romania Order Ouster Of Diplomats

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Romania is throwing two American and two British diplomats out of the country, and the United States is retaliating by similar orders for two Romanian envoys assigned to Washington.

The Romanian Communist government said the four it is tossing out conspired with "spies and saboteurs." The U. S. called this ridiculous. Britain delayed a decision on whether to demand the recall of Romanian diplomats from London.

This latest flareup in the cold war was revealed both here and in Bucharest, where the major action centered. It involved an exchange of diplomatic insults in polite terms which, however, scarcely served to conceal the bitterness underlying such incidents as this.

PILOT IS KILLED

EAGLE PASS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Herb Page, a stunt flyer from San Diego, Calif., was killed today when his plane crashed near the airfield here. He was about 42 years old. Page had just finished an air show in Midland, and had come to Eagle Pass to arrange for an air show here.

TECH BAND PRESENTS PROGRAM

Two-Day Band Clinic Ends At Tech; 1,000 Attend Meeting

A two-day band clinic, which brought an estimated 1,000 or more high and junior high school students here from all parts of West Texas, closed yesterday afternoon with a "demonstration concert" at O. L. Slaton Junior High school by the 130-piece Texas Tech college Red Raider band.

The clinic, part of the general procedure in the statewide band contest, was operated in three sections, all under the general sponsorship of Texas Tech college.

Depending on schools they represented, the bands were divided into three classes, along the same lines as those used in athletic competition in high schools.

Wide Area Represented

A representative group is chosen from members of bands in each class, and this group plays from a list of stated pieces, with other band members in the same class as audience and critics. These demonstrations were held during the morning of each day.

In the afternoon of each day, the entire attendance, all band classes, met in the auditorium of the junior high school to hear the Red Raider band, under direction of D. O. Wiley, play several of the required numbers in the contest, for comparative and criticism purposes.

Class B bands met for their demonstration sessions each morning at the Tech band room, with R. C. Davidson, director of the Plainview High school band, in charge of the group of about 120 musicians.

Class A bands met at O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium, with Joe L. Haddon, assistant director of the Texas Tech band, as director. About 140 composed the demonstration band.

Class AA bands met at Senior High school auditorium, with Paul Brandm, band director at Lubbock High school, as chairman and director, with about 120 in the band.

In addition, a group called class C bands only as a matter of designation, represented junior high schools throughout the area. They met at O. L. Slaton Junior high.

Bands were here from as far as Eastland and Abilene, and north to the top of the panhandle.

Rani Nimbalkar Believes Intermarriage Of Castes Best Way To Give India Democracy

By RUTH ANNE GENDELL
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Lady Laxmidevi M. Naik Nimbalkar, rani of Phalton urges intermarriage of the castes as the way to national unity and democracy in her native India.

The Rani, often described as "India's Eleanor Roosvelt," said:

"We must intermarry. That is our first step toward becoming a coordinated country — like the United States. Then I should like to see more and more international marriages. That way the world's people will begin to feel like one family."

The Rani, a bride at 14, completed a four-months' tour of the United States this week and left for home to take up there her work in behalf of democratic ideals.

Farewells Given

A small cluster of Indian and American friends saw her off at the steamship pier on Wednesday night. They draped a festoon of red and white roses around her neck. A young girl dressed in a sari entwined a band of white flowers in her shining, jet-black hair. Someone else pinned a white orchid on her bosom. Gifts were thrust into her hands.

Her son, Vijay, stood by patiently—now and then murmuring, "come mother, we must go."

But the short, stout woman, with the delicate hands and the brilliant dark eyes, kept repeating her goodbyes—lingering, with Indian blessings, over each one.

Then a ship's officer gave a courteous warning, a gong sounded frantically. The Rani, in her silk, gold-bordered sari, walked slowly onto the ship with a disdain for haste.

Discarded Veil

The Rani and her husband, the Raja, for the 32 years of their rule over 86,000 people have been in the forefront of India's progressive movement.

She became the first of Indian royalty to discard the veil, ancient symbol of women's inferior social position. It was she who broke down the social ostracism of widows. Formerly they were not allowed to wear colors, to go about socially or to remarry.

The Rani and her husband are working particularly hard to end the caste system. Their own son and daughter married out of their caste.

The Rani explained that segregation of castes no longer exists legally but the age old habits persist.

In India the husband is the recognized head of the household. And the woman who is credited with having helped raise the status of her sex throughout India believes that this is important for marital harmony.

U. S. Problem Cited

"If American wives respected their marriage vows to 'obey' their husbands," Lady Nimbalkar remarked, "the U. S. divorce rate would be cut by 50 percent."

It's hard for her to approve of a married woman working unless she needs money for the support of the family. In India, she said, there are the working class and peasants, whose womenfolk must help out with the family finances. But the middle class husband will not allow his wife to work—nor does she wish to. A woman of the wealthy class may work or not, as she pleases—but certainly not for money that she doesn't need.

"I work very hard, you see," the Rani explains, "but I give my work to my country."

Lady Nimbalkar has worked hard to establish nursery schools and clinics, homes for working mothers, and for adult education in India. One of her main projects is to further the exchange of scholarships for students and professors between this country and hers. Toward this end, she has been visiting colleges such as Radcliffe, Simmons, Wellesley, Mt. Holyoke, Smith, Vassar, Barnard and Bryn Mawr.

Business Booms As Market Owner Cuts Butter Price

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. (AP)—The number of customers in Walter Meder's meat and dairy products store was not very large. But he solved that problem in a hurry.

Yesterday, Meder sold butter at 39 cents a pound.

Today, Meder said his profit from sales of other items almost offset his butter deficit. "And I think I built up some good will," he said.

Drop Shown In Texas Construction Awards

AUSTIN, Dec. 11. (AP)—Texas construction awards totaled only $14,100,247 this week, almost ten million off the pace set a week ago.

Residential building continued to account for most of the contracts.

Lettings on all types of dwellings amounted to $6,087,750. Of this total, $4,902,500 was for 636 residences costing less than $7,000 each.

The 1948 accumulative total for all construction now stands at $887,171,250. With three weeks remaining in December," the total for the entire year will run well over 900 million dollars but will not quite reach one billion dollars," said the Texas Contractor, weekly building trade journal.

Non-residential building awards for this week totaled $6,818,972, and engineering contracts, $2,193,525.

Bevin Predicts Common Budget, And Defense For Democracies

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's prediction in parliament that the western nations one day will have a common budget and defense is a striking commentary on the trend of our time, which most certainly is towards a division of the globe into two worlds —one Democratic and the other Bolshevist.

Perhaps Mr. Bevin wouldn't speak so bluntly as to state the case in terms of "two worlds," when the hopes of peace-minded people center on "one world." However, the implication is there and you can't evade it any more than you could dodge an earthquake.

Arms Race Indicated

The foreign secretary said the north Atlantic pact (involving a military alliance) now being considered in Washington should let the United States and western Europe divide some of the burdens of defense. He added:

"I am quite sure that before many years—I make this prophesy —you will find the defense ministers and finance ministers of the western world sitting down discussing a common budget, common cost, and a common method of defense."

Bevin might have gone on to point out that this epochal development has been forced by Moscow's creation of a great Bolshevist bloc which constitutes another world that is engaged in a cold war against the Democratic bloc. These blocs are the nuclei of the two worlds which are developing rapidly.

UN Divided Also

This wretched situation naturally raises the question of how our new peace organization fits into the picture. Of this Bevin remarked succinctly:

"The United Nations is giving us very grave concern as to whether it is going to face up to grave problems at all."

Well, what can we expect? Just as the world is divided into two blocs, so the U. N. is a house divided against itself. While the world remains divided, the U. N. will be divided and incapable of facing up "to grave problems at all" as a unit.

The position of the U. N. is well illustrated by the current fight over the declaration of Human Rights which finally has been completed after two and a half years of labor. Naturally the Communist bloc is against the declaration, which is supported by all the Democracies. The Reds are against it because the only human right they believe in is that of becoming a cog in the totalitarian machine.

Alliance Talks Underway

If the peace body can't agree on a declaration of human rights, what in the name of common sense can they agree on? The answer is "nothing."

Negotiations regarding the proposed military alliance between the U .S. A. and western Europe were resumed in Washington yesterday. American Undersecretary of State Lovett met with representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Canada. The alliance and the Marshall plan would complement each other, making a powerful military-economic team for defense and rehabilitation.

Annual Holiday Party Planned At Boys Club

The fifth annual Christmas party, including a tree and appearance of Santa Claus, at the Lubbock Boys club, will be held Tuesday night, Dec. 21, it was announced yesterday by John Wilson, director of the club.

The project is sponsored, and underwritten, as usual, by the American Business club, which has "fathered" the boys club, and the organization is planning a well-rounded program for a full evening of entertainment, Wilson said.

The Lubbock Used Car Dealers association, of which Otis Maner is president, has submitted a check to the club to cover expenses of fruit, nuts and candy to be used by Santa Claus in connection with his gift distribution.

The program is to start at 7:30 o'clock, and is open to all club members, their younger brothers and sisters, and parents, Wilson said.

A 16-foot tree is being erected, and will be appropriately decorated. The definite time of Santa's arrival was not announced, but those planning to attend were urged to be on time.

168 New Oil Well Completions Boost Year's Total To 7,420

AUSTIN, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—The Texas Railroad commission reported today that 168 new oil wells were completed in the past week, boosting the year's total to 7,420.

The week's completions continued the year-long pace which was far ahead of the 1947 total. At this time last year, 5,475 oil wells had been completed.

Nine gas wells were brought in during the week, bringing the year's total to 672, compared to 608 at this time a year ago.

The number of dry holes also was above last year's figure, as 81 during the week boosted the total to 3,350, while 2,629 were reported at this stage last year.

The commission also reported that the average daily oil allowable as of today is 2,716,333 barrels.

Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson said that the bottom hole pressure in the East Texas field as of Dec. 1 was 1,006.59 pounds per square inch, reflecting an increase of 3.83 pounds since Nov. 1.

Bodies Of Two Area Veterans Returned

Two South Plains servicemen and two from the Panhandle area are among the remains of 2,047 Americans who lost their lives during World War II which have been returned from Europe aboard the U. S. Army transport Lt. James E. Robinson, the Army department has announced.

A total of 108 Texas servicemen were returned, the announcement said. Those returned were originally interred in temporary military cemeteries in England and France.

The Army stated that next of kin had been notified in advance of the arrival of the vessel, and would be notified again after arrival of the remains at the regional distribution centers of the American Graves Registration service.

From the South Plains, with next of kin as listed by the Army, are:

Pvt. Vicente M. Guerrero, Army, next of kin, Enrique P. Guerrero, Slaton; First Lt. Luther P. Hines, jr., Air Force, Luther P. Hines, sr., Sundown.

Representative-Elect And Two Others Fired On From Ambush

RAYMONDVILLE, Dec. 11 (U.P.) — The big mystery around Raymondville today is—who took a pot shot at Rep.-Elect Lloyd Bentsen, his father and their pilot while they were duck hunting last Saturday?

The trio was fired on from ambush northeast of Rio Hondo. That would be in the vicinity of King Ranch, where you don't put in an appearance with a shooting iron unless you have permission.

Did King Ranch game wardens do the trigger-squeezing?

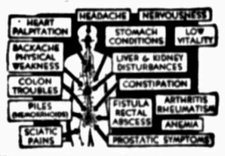

No one on the ranch will talk. Neither will Bentsen the younger, a prominent young man, himself.

All Bentsen the elder will say is, "You'll have to see Lloyd for the story."

Christening Of Elizabeth's Son Is Slated For December 15

By TALBOT HOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 11 — Princess Elizabeth's 25-day-old son and heir to the British throne will be christened December 15 at Buckingham palace amid an air of sadness cast by the illness of grandfather King George VI.

The palace announced the long-awaited event tonight after one London columnist complained about the meager details given about the child and asked "why this secrecy?"

The names to be given the infant Prince, who is expected to be blue-eyed, fair-haired and sturdy, will be announced in next Wednesday's ceremony, as well as the names of the godparents chosen by 22-year-old Princess Elizabeth.

Continues State Duties

The son weighed seven pounds and six ounces on the November 14 birth which caused rejoicing throughout Britain and the Commonwealth.

The later news that King George is bed-ridden and suffering from an arterial obstruction caused widespread concern. All the official details of his illness never have been given, but he continues to transact his state duties.

Queen Mary, great grandmother of the child who is second to Elizabeth in line of succession to the throne, will attend the christening as will other members of the royal family. It will be a private affair.

It is understood that the christening would have been held at St. Mary Magdelene church at Sandringham, the royal country home, but for the King's illness.

Royal Chapel Still Damaged

The private chapel at Buckingham Palace, scene of many former royal christenings, including that of Elizabeth, still is not usable since it was wrecked by a German bomb during the war.

Hence one of the state rooms on the first floor of the palace probably will be the site. The room will have to be especially prepared.

If recent precedent is followed the archbishop of Canterbury, Goeffrey Fisher, will officiate.

The christening robe will be an historic one of Honiton lace over a satin petticoat worn at the baptisms of all Queen Victoria's children.

Baptismal water will be contained in a silver gilt font—a beautifully shaped bowl with sides embossed with lilies.

The London Evening Standard's columnist demanded news of the child today, saying "the whole world is waiting to know . . . but Buckingham palace officials refuse all details . . . as ill-advised."

The assistant palace press secretary commented:

"I cannot answer any questions. When photographs are taken everyone will be able to see what the baby looks like. I don't know when that will be."

PLAYS SHUT DOWN

HELSINKI, Finland, Dec. 11 (AP) —Finland has shut down two plays in Helsinki theaters at the suggestion of Russia, which described the plays as "hostile to the Soviet union."

Crew Member Killed And Four Hurt In Air Lift Plane Crash

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 11. (AP)—A U. S. C-54 Navy airlift plane, returning from Berlin, crashed in the night near Bad Homburg and killed a crew member, one of six persons aboard. Four others, including a Texan, were injured.

The accident occurred in the fog-shrouded Taunus mountains.

The hostess, Diana Day of San Francisco, escaped with slight injuries. The crash threw her clear of the plane.

"I can't understand it," said Navy Lt. Joseph Norris of Lexington, N. C., the pilot. "We were cruising at 1,000 feet, according to instruments. The radio seemed to be blacked out. The weather was foggy, but not too bad."

Norris, who was slightly hurt, searched the plane after the crash and found his engineer dead.

Ensign George H. Blackwood, San Angelo, Texas, co-pilot, suffered a fractured leg.

The Air Force withheld the name of the crew member who was killed and a passenger, one of the Air Force officers, who was seriously injured.

Lt. Frank T. Heffernan, the Bronx, N. Y., escaped injury. He said the crash came without a warning.

"We were just flying along and we hit the mountain," he said.

Eire is to have mobile creameries.

'WISHFUL THINKING' SCORED

AEC Plans To Debunk Idea Atom Will Solve Peacetime Problems

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—Commissioners who boss the nation's four billion dollar atomic energy industry say they must debunk inflated ideas that the atom will solve man's peacetime problems.

They don't want anyone to think that the atom is "just another explosive," or to deny that it has greatly boosted big government and international thinking because of its military uses.

On the other hand, there remains wishful thinking that the unstable atom is about to start doing all the world's work. This, they say, is not so unless new scientific miracles occur.

Possibilities Outlined

Apart from the bomb, the real possibilities are these:

1. The atom can be used to produce electricity in large plants. But AEC chairman David Lilienthal says it may be 20 years before any large portion of the country's electricity is provided in this way.

2. It is theoretically possible, if the right materials can be found, to build a reactor or "motor" small enough to drive a ship, plane or submarine. It is likely this will be highly expensive and used only for military purposes.

3. The idea that radioactivity in soil or fertilizer will increase the world's food has gone by the board. Experiments this year showed it had no effect. Tracer atoms in farm research are significant, but that is a long-time proposition. The same goes for atomic medical progress — it's gradual.

"Fuel Maker" Planned

4. The AEC hopes to build a reactor that will create more atomic fuel than it consumes, but the additional fuel will not come from the air. The process would use excess neutrons in the fission process to "breed" new fuel from non-fissionable uranium.

One popular expectation which the experts can't work out even on paper yet is that controlled atomic explosions will be used directly for power, like the explosions in a gasoline engine or in jet propulsion.

AEC member W W. Waymack told International News Service today that no method is in sight for pumping pistons directly with the atom's might. If this is a possibility, he indicated, it lies outside the present area of practical experiment.

Atomic power plants started at Schenectady, N. Y., and outside Chicago envision use of the tremendous heat generated by atomic piles. The heat can be converted into steam and the steam into electricity.

Steam Operation Forseen

The same thing could be done on a small scale, in a motor, if the materials needed to shield the atomic process weren't so large and heavy. A pint-sized atomic pile would give enough heat to drive a ship, but search for the right shielding materials may take years.

"Breeding" of new fuel is an even more complicated problem. The excess neutrons from the atomic piles must be captured and combined in some way with non-fissionable uranium (U-238).

The result would be plutonium, by a fairly incidental process instead of a major industrial operation. The 99 per cent of uranium which is non-fissionable as mined could be fed into the regular atomic process and eventually would be fuel.

This, and the functioning motor, are as near to miracles as anything the commissioners are expecting at present. And they are not making any predictions as to when either will occur.

However, Commissioner Waymack concedes that the public in expecting much more from the atom in a practical way may turn out to be right. He isn't quite willing to say that anything is impossible, or to bet that new scientific miracles won't occur.

Panels For District Court Juries Called

Jury panels will report at 10 a. m. Monday to the presiding judges of both state district courts here.

Criminal actions are scheduled in the 99th court of Judge G. V. Pardue, civil actions before 72nd District Judge Dan Blair.

Because several attorneys representing defendants are engaged in federal court cases here; because several attorneys only recently appointed by the court to represent other defendants have requested further time to prepare cases, and due to the critical injuries of one prosecuting witness, it was believed possible that not more than four felony actions may be disposed of this week in the 99th court, officials said.

Alfonso Urtado, about 20, a Lubbock Mexican dangerously shot the night of Nov. 25 at a theater here, was described by his physician as unable to appear in court to testify against Reyes Cisneros, 18, of Post route 1, who is charged with assault with intent to murder. That announcement was made to the district attorney's department Saturday morning from a hospital where Urtado remains under treatment.

Grand Jurors Are Chosen For January Term Of 99th Court

A jury commission presented itself Saturday morning to Judge G. V. Pardue of the 99th district court and selected the names of 16 men from different parts of Lubbock county to be summoned as grand jurors for the January, 1949, term of court.

The list was certified, sealed and turned over to the court so that, within 30 days of the next term, the district clerk may open the envelope, make a list of the names of those selected, certify it and turn it over to the sheriff for summoning. Until that time, the list remains secret.

Commissioners were Ross Edwards and A. S. Meinecke, both of Lubbock; L. L. Lively of Slaton; L. B. Teal of Lubbock route 3; and Milton Kirksey of Wolfforth.

Schools Will Observe Lunch Visitors Week

Six Lubbock county schools taking part in a community school lunch program will observe School Lunch Visitors week Monday through Friday, Roy Boyd, county school superintendent, said.

More than 2,000 schools throughout Texas will celebrate the program, primary purpose of which is to acquaint parents and civic and community leaders with operation and importance of the program, Boyd said.

Parents and others will be invited to join school children at lunch sometime this week. Boyd asked that attendance be as "great as possible."

The program has two major purposes: Providing wholesome foods to growing children daily, and enlarging markets for farm produce, the superintendent explained.

It is sponsored here by the Lubbock County School board, the State Department of Education and the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing administration.

Boyd also is distributing agent for 16 outlying counties, which have 83 schools and two institutions: Lubbock Air Force base and Milam's home, an orphanage.

Truman Names Garner's Son As Collector Of Customs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—President Truman today named Tully Garner, 52, son of former vice president John Nance Garner, to be collector of customs for district No. 23 with headquarters at Laredo.

This is a recess appointment. Garner must be confirmed by the new Congress meeting in January.

He succeeds Harry P. Hornby, who died.

Garner is an Amarillo and Uvalde banker.

Cranberry production in the U. S. this year is expected to be 25 per cent higher than the 1937-46 average.

Press Club To Hear Woman Free Lance Writer And Photographer

One of the Southwest's noted free lance writers and photographers, Miss Kathryn Henry, of Clovis, N. M., will speak to the Press club at 5 p. m. Tuesday in the Journalism building at Texas Technological college, C. E. Wendt, president, announced Friday.

The principle part of Miss Henry's address will likely be taken up by an account of how she spent 10 days in the Oklahoma State prison, serving as a prisoner, to gather material for a feature story to be published in the Okmulgee Times, Ponca City Herald, and Bartlesville Examiner. The story, which revealed elaborate details of the actual conditions in the prison, ran in 14 installments, averaging approximately two columns each.

A graduate of Northeastern State college, Tahlequah, Okla., Miss Henry began her career as a reporter on The Okmulgee Times, and later became a correspondent for The Muskogee Times-Democrat. During the war she was in civil service and American Red Cross work.

ARRIVES IN SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Dec. 11 (AP)—ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman arrived in Shanghai by plane tonight on his world-wide inspection of American aid distribution. He plans to remain in China several days.

SECURITY MEASURES TIGHTENED

Spy-Proof System To Guard U.S. Secrets Is Believed Perfected

(By The International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 — Officials charged with protecting America's secrets expressed confidence today that they now have perfected as effective a spy-proof system as is humanly possible.

They declared that such thefts of secret documents as those revealed by ex-Communist agent Whittaker Chambers now would be impossible.

These experts asserted that a rigid tightening of U. S. security which started before the second world war constantly is being modernized, reviewed, overhauled and repaired.

Russia Heads List

Free admission that some of the methods used are of such a "cloak and dagger" nature that they border on the fantastic was made by intelligence chiefs.

A world-wide corps of counter-intelligence agents, working in the best mystery-novel tradition, is known to keep the U. S. government closely posted on the espionage activities of other countries.

Russia, naturally enough, is No. 1 on today's counter-espionage list.

These operations are handled by the central intelligence agency, directed by Rear Admiral Roscoe H. Hillenkoetter.

The agency is equally responsible, under law, "for protecting intelligence sources and methods of an undisclosed nature."

Loyalty Program Pushed

At home, the federal employe loyalty program inaugurated Oct. 1, 1947, by presidential executive order, is one of the main security safeguards.

Target of this program is the prevention of such spy rings as those described to the house Un-American Activities committee by Chambers and self-confessed former Red spy "queen" Elizabeth Bentley.

Machinery for implementing the loyalty program is provided by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The FBI processed 2,201,239 loyalty forms filled out by government workers or applicants for federal jobs during the first year the program was in effect. The FBI discovered that "full field investigations" were justified in 7,275 cases.

Code Protection Tightened

As a result of these investigations, 334 persons quit the government service rather than contest possible disloyalty charges and 51 persons were fired for questionable loyalty.

In the State department there has been a viselike tightening of security measures. It was from this key department that the microfilmed secrets found on Chambers' farm in a hollowed-out pumpkin were purloined.

Top State department security measures include barring all but thoroughly "screened" aides from the code room. The same system is used in the passport and visa sections and other areas where a potential spy might be tempted to gain entry.

Codes have been vastly altered in the past 10 years, an elaborate burglar alarm system has been installed around confidential data and the public mail chute used by top policy-handling personnel has been sealed.

Filing cabinets containing state secrets are padlocked and all secret and other classified material, when no longer required for use, is burned.

There are many other lesser safety guards.

Ministers' Week At SMU Is Scheduled For Feb. 7 To 10

DALLAS, Dec. 11. (AP)—Ministers' week at Southern Methodist university will be held here Feb. 7-10, with churchmen from all over the southwest expected to attend.

Among speakers will be Dr. William W. Sweet, church historian and chairman of the faculty of Perkins School of Theology at SMU, Dr. John A. Mackay, president of the Princeton, N. J., Theological seminary, and Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy of Portland, Ore.

Three Persons Are Burned To Death In Dallas Fires

DALLAS, Dec. 11 (AP) — Three persons were burned to death here in the space of 24 hours.

J. T. Nichols, 64, a cripple, died in an apartment blaze last night.

A man believed to be Thomas Bradley, 76, was found in the embers of a fire that destroyed a river bottom shack early Friday morning.

William Kirk died of burns received early Friday morning as he was burning leaves.

Valente Valanos, living near Canyon gin, also identified money and a check that had been found by William B. Miller, about 30, of Lubbock route 1. Money and a check totaled $294.59. Both finders promptly turned property over to the police for location of owners.

Texas Claimed To Be Developing Cultural, Artistic Life Along With Material Aims

HOUSTON, Dec. 11 (AP) — Texas, no longer a pioneer outpost, is developing cultural and artistic life in pace with material riches, Dr. Radoslav A. Tsanoff, head of the philosophy department of Rice Institute, told the Philosophical Society of Texas tonight.

The annual dinner of the society, which was founded in 1837 during the day of the Texas republic, was attended by nearly 100 members and guests from over the state.

Dr. Tsanoff spoke on "the creative arts in Texas."

"The astonishing economic and industrial advance of Texas has engaged the interest of eastern journalists," said Dr. Tsanoff. "But their offhand dismissal of culture prompts us to analyze our situation in strict and severe justice."

Need Changes In Nation

The speaker's survey found no ground for pessimism, but no basis for complacency.

"America needs artistic and cultural decentralization, emancipation from the set pattern of Broadway and the movie studios," he said.

"Compared to a generation ago, in almost every field of the fine arts, great and genuine interest, ability and some real genius are evident."

Dr. Tsanoff discussed and distinguished between the original productions of creative onius and the skillful performances of talented artists. Human treasurers of creative intelligence must be cherished, he said.

In Texas the progress of the creative arts were traced in many fields.

Among them the speaker cited numerous schools now devoting attention to the creative impulses of students in music, the drama painting and sculpture, aesthetics and criticism.

An example in choral music is the North Texas State Teachers' college at Denton, where Texas boys and girls sing masterpieces This group has appeared with the Houston and Dallas orchestras.

Three Texas symphony orchestras, Tsanoff said, have risen above mere regional interest and are reaching high artistic rank.

In drama the record of achievement is not so striking, but decentralization from the east has started. Texas playwrights can have their work performed at home.

Museums and libraries have been developed. One of the notable American collections of English literature is at Austin. The school of fine arts at the University of Texas has made great progress. San Antonio, Houston and Dallas co-operate to show the works of Texas artists.

The distinguished work of the Texas folklore society under the long leadership of J. Frank Dobie was mentioned. A Texas literary and art magazine, substantially supported from the outset is needed, said Tsanoff. The Southwest Review has shown the way, he said.

The annual creative arts festival recently inaugurated in Houston is another example of what a community can do to stimulate artistic expression.

Third Producer Is Brought In For Utah

VERNAL, Utah, Dec. 11 (AP)—Utah's third commercially-producing oil well was brought in today on the petroleum-rich Ashley Dome structure near Vernal by the Crain-Griffith company of Longview, Tex.

Partner Bill Griffith said that the initial flow from the firm's first Utah well began shortly after 11 a.m. at a rate of 15 to 20 barrels an hour.

First oil out of the 4123-feet deep hole was of 32 gravity but Griffith said he expected it to "clear up" later and be of even higher grade.

The well is about one-half mile south and east of the Equity Oil company's Ashley Valley No. 1 well that came in last October, the first well in Utah to produce petroleum in commercial quantities. The second was the small Bird-Frost well in San Juan county.

In a raid shelter in Osaka, Japan, $740,000 in English money has been found.

ELEVATORS TO SKIP-STOP

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A 12-story apartment house incorporating modern design and low-cost maintenance is being built near the banks of the Charles River. One feature of the $3,000,000, 216-apartment building will be skip-stop elevator service. Elevators will stop only at every third floor. Private stairways will lead directly to apartments on floors above and below the elevator stop floor.

THE GIFT THAT Keeps on Giving FOR A LIFETIME

Curtis Fielder of Fredericksburg was born with a deformed foot that left him crippled. He has had one surgical operation and will have more. After a while he will be able to walk and play as normal boys do. Yes, there are miracles in life. And your gift to the Hospital will help bring them to pass.

Robert Ikenhans of Gainesville, came to the Hospital crippled from a bone infection. After two surgical operations, he comes back at intervals for more surgery. Yes, gifts to the Hospital do keep on giving.

When you make a gift to the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, it will keep on giving throughout your lifetime and the lifetime of a crippled child . . . giving hope where there was only despair . . . self-reliance where there was only dependence . . . giving opportunity for a normal, happy life.

The benefits of such a gift are inestimable. For they not only reshape human form but reshape human destiny. And so keep alive for ever the memory of the giver.

25 Years Service to the Unfortunate

This is the silver anniversary of the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. Twenty-five years ago this great institution of mercy began its service to Texas crippled children.

During these 25 years, 16,987 crippled children from 1,106 Texas communities have been admitted to the Hospital for more than twenty-five million dollars worth of highly specialized surgery and medicine. In the same period, 62,108 out-patient treatments have been given at the Hospital. Of all these children, fewer than one per cent have come from the homes of Masons.

. . . and their Number Ever Increases

A quarter of a century of incalculable service to crippled children whose parents or guardians were financially unable to send them to pay institutions, yet the waiting list of children seeking admission grows steadily. And will continue to grow. For vital statistics show that each year in Texas more than 2,500 children are born deformed or fall prey to crippling polio.

"What I gave I have
What I had I spent
What I kept I lost."

Men are remembered by their acts of generosity;
Measured by their service to humankind.

Types of Gifts

Gifts to the Hospital come under five classifications:

Living Trusts: You can, while you live, set up a living trust for the benefit of the Hospital, by conveying to the Hospital board, or to your bank or trust company, as trustee, such properties, monies, notes, stocks, bonds and other assets as you may wish to set aside for that purpose. The trustee will administer the fund in strict compliance with the conditions set forth in your trust agreement.

Bequests: You may set aside in your last will and testament any monies, properties, stocks, bonds, or other assets as a bequest to the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children.

Life Insurance: You may make your gift in the form of a life insurance policy, naming the Hospital as beneficiary. You may take out a new policy for this purpose, or you may transfer an old policy to the Hospital as the new beneficiary.

Memorials: You may wish to memoralize some loved one by a gift to the Hospital. The occasion for such gifts is usually a death, a birthday, an anniversary. Both the names of the donor and that of the memoralized one are entered upon the Hospital records.

Cash: You may, at any time, and in any amount, make a gift in cash to the Hospital for its day to day financial needs. This is the type of gift that the Hospital needs many of and all through the year.

Barbara was born without fingers on either hand. Through the miracle of modern surgery, she will have fingers on both hands and be able to write like other children. See what we mean by "gifts that keep on giving?"

Barbara Price, a victim of polio from Amarillo, was admitted for treatment when she was two years old. Surgical operations and the usual polio treatment are making her a normal, healthy, happy child. Some one's gift keeps on giving for Barbara.

Will You Help?

Each year the Hospital handles more cases, relieves more suffering. Each year also the financial needs of the Hospital increase. And, today, as in all years past, the Hospital depends on gifts from Texans . . . men and women . . . institutions and associations . . . to carry on the work that goes ahead 24 hours a day, every day in the week, every week in the year.

So won't you help with a gift for the privilege of giving some crippled child an opportunity to grow to useful manhood or womanhood?

Send in your gift now. Be as generous as your means will allow. ONLY . . . do it TODAY!

MANY KEEP SHOPPING VOWS

Early Shopping Bird Is Busy On Lubbock Streets This Year

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Remember the old saying that the early bird catches the worm?

The season being what it is, that old saw might well be revamped to say that the early shopping bird catches the best Christmas gifts.

Judging from the numbers of people now going their selective ways through Lubbock stores, last year's off-spoken post-Christmas resolution, "Next year, I swear I'm going to get all my shopping done EARLY!" is being remembered—and carried out.

Which means, of course, that Mr. or Mrs. Early Shopper can go blissfully home and relax before a healthy stack of gifts, leaving the rest of us to the mercy of the last-minute mobs, who, like us, probably are making the same early shopping resolutions for next Christmas that we made last year and didn't keep this season.

Shopper Walks Miles

The experts say the average shopper in Lubbock walks about 5 miles per day in his or her search through local stores for gifts. And local merchants report that in their five-mile trek from counter to counter and store to store, Lubbockites stop most frequently at lingerie counters, men's tie display racks, cosmetic and perfume booths, and costume jewelry, hose, appliance, handkerchief, handbag, and china and linen departments.

Home furnishings and fur departments, men's shirt and socks counters, and leather goods departments, all full to overflowing with the makings for "that special gift" are beginning to catch the Christmas spirit. Shoppers who stopped in to buy and mail a lunch cloth to far-off Cousin Minnie may be lured by the tinsel and glitter into thumbing through a rackful of ties or selecting a small but precious bottle of scent.

So it goes. Maybe that's the way early shoppers are made.

Toy Departments Jammed

And in the toy departments, Santas surrounded by hordes of hopeful youngsters compete with anxious parents who buy with tongue in cheek, hoping that small Susie hasn't changed her mind again and now wants a miniature kitchen "more than anything else" instead of the doll with pearl hair that she favored yesterday.

Perplexed mammas are apt to whoop with delight when they run across something they think will suit their hard-to-please offspring: "A gadget, that's it! Junior always loves them!"

Early shopping, of course, has its definite advantages, but its disadvantages, too, one of which is "shopper's foot" which reaches epidemic stages during the earlier weeks of the Christmas shopping season. The malady quite frequently is accompanied by a sister ailment known as "examinitis" and the symptoms are something like this:

Vicious Cycle Begins

Shopper X decides that this year she'll do all her shopping early, thus being assured of getting gifts that are "just right" for everyone, and advoiding having to take last-minute, picked-over merchandise which doesn't suit her. So, armed with a list of names with gift suggestions jotted beside each, she takes to the ring. Store A's gifts, upon close examination, don't suit her, so off she goes to Store B, where more examination compels her to reject their offerings too. She walks to another, examines, rejects, walks, rejects, walkesrejectswalksexaminesrejectswalks.

Oddly enough, some such shoppers recover sufficiently to hobble in to the Christmas tree when the Big Day arrives.

Modern science has long been baffled by the fact that these two afflictions strike much harder and with greater frequency among early shoppers than among the last-minute tribe. Experts have two answers to this problem: One, that late shoppers are wedged in so tightly among their many late-shopping brethren that they can't move far, and hence don't contract shopper's foot. Two, that said shoppers are so desperate for gifts of any kind they're immune to examinitis.

So there you have it. You pays your money, as the saying goes, and you takes your choice.

As for us, we'll meet you in our armor for shopping Christmas Eve. And don't forget some aspirin for the gift wrappers.

Texas Confederate Veteran Celebrates 100th Birthday

GRAND SALINE, Dec. 11 (AP) — William Henry James, one of the nation's few surviving Confederate veterans, celebrated his 100th birthday Friday.

As usual, he spent the day smoking his pipe. He has smoked since he was five years old and says his day isn't complete without it. He wishes it were warmer so that he could go fishing.

James lives here with a grandson, Luther Barker. He has two sons, Oscar, 7, and Wes, 65, both of Grand Saline, and a daughter, Ann Bell Thompson, at Wellington, Texas. He is one of 12 children and his brother Joe James of Waco, 88, is the only other survivor.

Born in Mississippi, James moved here with his father after the civil war.

THE GOODFELLOWS CAN HELP THEM—But they need your help to do it. There are many families in Lubbock who work hard but still can't make ends meet. The woman pictured above was doing a large washing in a shack town in the outskirts of Lubbock while three small, dirty-faced children gave her moral support. Her name? It doesn't matter. She's just one of hundreds in and about Lubbock whose Christmas won't be very bright unless she and her family are remembered by the Goodfellows. This is an actual photograph made in Lubbock but the faces were painted out to avoid embarrassment. (Staff Photo).

Keller Man 'Nurses' Horse After Leg Is Broken In Accident

KELLER, Texas, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—A three-year-old palomina stallion and his master conspired here today to violate an old range law—the one which says if your cow pony breaks his leg, he must be shot and killed.

The violation has been going on for a couple of weeks now, or ever since Buck, the horse, and his master, Bud Feaster, first met and became acquainted.

Horse's Leg Broken

Buck was being brought to Fort Worth in a horse trailer by his original master, a Denton man who had just rejected a $700 offer for him. Somehow, the trailer came unhitched when passing through Keller and overturned. Buck had a broken leg.

The animal's owner walked a block to the home of Feaster, a grain mill worker, and asked if he could put his injured horse in the barn until a veterinarian could be called. Feaster was agreeable, and Buck limped the block to the shelter.

When Buck's owner decided the humane thing to do would be to put the horse out of his misery, Feaster asked for the animal to see if he could cure him.

Feaster then made a crutch out of an iron pipe, a crutch with a circular top that slipped up on Buck's leg. That took weight off the fracture. But after standing two days and nights, Buck's bad leg began to swell. So the crutch was removed and Buck bedded down in straw.

"The cut is healing and the swelling is going down," Feaster reported today. A hot application is applied to the injured leg every three hours, and Buck doesn't mind.

He is now able to stand on his four legs several hours a day, and usually sits up on his haunches to eat his oats.

SEAMEN ON STRIKE

TOKYO, Dec. 11. (AP)—Japanese seamen went on strike, as scheduled, today and idled 308 ships in 24 harbors. It is the third in a series of short-lived strikes to enforce demands for more wages.

Clarendon Rites Set For Pioneer Rancher

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 11. (AP)—Fred G. Patching, 83, pioneer Texas rancher, died here early this morning.

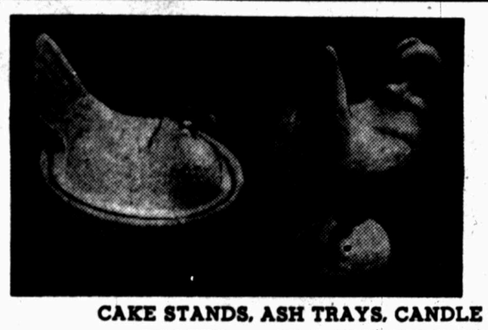

Patching settled on a ranch at Tulia in 1897 after working on several ranches. In 1906 he moved to Clarendon.

He was a native of England and came to the United States in 1870. He had believed himself to be a citizen of the United States and exercised the privileges of citizenship until 1940, when he discovered his naturalization had not been completed. In 1940, he and John Molesworth of Clarendon completed their naturalization. Molesworth had thought his final papers were effective 60 years before.

Britain's Colonial Resources To Help U. S. Stock-Piling Program

BY RICHARD D. McMILLAN
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Plans to dig into the resources of British colonial territories for the American stockpiling program are going ahead in East Africa.

The plans include building railroads and developing ports to tap the mineral wealth of Rhodesia, with its vital reserves of copper and chrome. They fit into the overall scheme to create a defense bastion on the African continent south of the Sahara.

The conference of commonwealth prime ministers in London endorsed the proposal to organize African resources to fit into the Western Union scheme of defense.

Since then, colonial experts have been studying the possibility of linking Rhodesia by rail to "Port Peanut." That is the name given to Mikindani, the newly-created Tanganyikan harbor for the ground nuts development scheme.

To Relieve Port

By that means, the precious cargoes from Rhodesia would pass entirely through British territories without being diverted to the port of Beira, in Portugese East Africa. At present, Beira carries a large amount of traffic from the British mines in the land-locked interior.

Because of the inability of the Portuguese port to handle any more traffic, many Rhodesian mines, have slowed down output, awaiting development of new outlets.

Discussions for the improvement of Beira's facilities have been going on between Rhodesia and the Portuguese government.

Portugal Co-operating

Already, a decision has been made to install four more deep-water berths in the harbor. It is felt, however, that still greater efforts must be made in view of the world importance Beira now assumes.

Portugal has expressed the keenest desire to co-operate and further development schemes are expected.

An alternative to use of Beira is to send traffic by rail over the thousand-mile stretch to the South African ports.

The ideal solution, however, would be to have a direct railroad link between Rhodesia and one of the harbours in Tanganyika.

That would have the immediate result of relieving congestion on Beira, enabling increased production from the Rhodesian mines of urgently needed vital minerals. It would contribute to the network of communications necessary for the military, air and naval bases being established in East Africa.

Another Advantage

Still another advantage would be to open up railroad traffic from the even richer Belgian Congo directly to the East African coast ports.

At present there is a rail line from the Congo to Broken Hill. From that point in northern Rhodesia it is proposed to build the new railroad to Tanganyika and the coast.

In that manner all, three territories — Rhodesia, the Belgian Congo and Tanganyika—would be able to increase output of their much-needed resources, which they would be able to send rolling down to the expanding harbors on the Indian Ocean.

While the transport problems are being smoothered out, the question of increasing production in the African mines is also being tackled.

It was announced recently in London that for the purpose, a group of 50 American geologists and geodetic surveyors were to be loaned to the British colonial office.

Many of them certainly will be sent out to Rhodesia and Tanganyika to play their part in the task, inspiring to the imagination. They will be opening up darkest Africa's untold mineral wealth to be harnessed for the benefit of the western world.

Of Cleaner's "Lip," Target Is Cripps

LONDON, Dec. 11. (AP)—Christmas card from a government charwoman to Sir Stafford Cripps, British chancellor of the exchequer:

"A happy Christmas and New Year

I wish for you, Sir Stafford dear,

"From one whose Christmas couldn't be leaner,

"An insulted government cleaner."

She read it to a meeting of a thousand of her sister mopper-uppers — angry because Sir Stafford offered them a pay boost of one farthing (four-tenths of a cent) an hour instead of the three-pence, three farthings 7½ cents) they sought.

LUBBOCK RESIDENT RECEIVES COMMISSION—Miss Margaret M. Henderson, above right, captain in the Marines, is the only woman officer from Texas to be appointed to the regular Marine corps. She is shown as she was sworn in, as she accepted the permanent commission Nov. 28, by Lt. Col. R. W. Coln, commanding officer, Marine Air detachment, Marine Air Reserve Training command, U. S. Naval Air station, Dallas. She now is in Washington, D. C., for assignment by headquarters of the Marine corps. Miss Henderson, who served as instructor in secretarial administration at Texas Technological college about three years, was given leave of absence, effective Sept. 1. She resigned this month from the Tech faculty. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Henderson, 2420 Twentieth. She was on duty with the Marine corps women's reserve three years during World war II. (Official U. S. Navy Photograph).

Agreement Broken By Husband's Action

Kissless Marriage Back In Divorce Court Over A Kiss

CHICAGO, Dec. 11, (AP) — The so-called kissless marriage of a Chicago couple, after three weeks trial, is back in the divorce courts. All because of a kiss.

The husband, Charles Borla, 38, a bartender, wanted to kiss his wife, Beatrice, 35. She objected and wanted to live up to their agreement made in circuit court Nov. 18. At that time she dropped her divorce suit and agreed to return to her husband as his housekeeper—but not as his wife. The couple who have two children, agreed there was to be no romance.

In circuit court yesterday, Mrs. Borla's attorney, Charles C. Cooley told Judge Julius H. Miner that Borla violated the agreement when he kissed his wife.

Argued Over Money

The couple had argued over Borla's $17,000 bank account, said Borla's attorney, Sol R. Friedman. Under the Nov. 18 agreement they were to share the funds.

Friedman said Mrs. Borla wanted to withdraw $8,000. Borla agreed—but he wanted a kiss. She objected and as he sneaked a kiss she ran and locked herself in the bathroom. Borla knocked down the door and Mrs. Borla had him arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

Yesterday she filed a new suit for divorce, charging cruelty. Judge Miner issued a temporary injunction restraining Borla from molesting his wife. He also ordered him not to touch the bank account.

PIONEERS CARRY ON

BAKERSFIELD, Cal. (U.P.)—The first baby girl in three generations was welcomed by the Woody family, descendants of pioneers who founded a community of the same name near here. It was the first time a daughter had been born in the family in more than 80 years.

THEY GOT OFF EASY

MIDDLEBORO, Mass. (U.P.) — Charles Hill's automobile tore through the guard-rail of a bridge, plunged down a 30-foot embankment and crashed into a freight car. Neither Hill nor a companion was hurt.

Secret Papers Seen As Possible Aid To Nazis, Japs Before War

interests in the Orient.

These were all things that if brought into the limelight at the time might have had marked repercussions on the international picture at a time when the United States was far from ready for war.

But the passage of time and the course of events, which saw both Hitler's star and Japan's dream of empire fade below the horizon, have all but ended their impact on international events.

Yet only 12 of the "leaked" papers have been published, whether the others will be revealed is still problematical. Some are still labeled top secret.

Publication Not Dangerous

The 12 papers made public by the Un-American Activities committee ranged over a wide sequence of events.

Among the documents are typewritten copies of 21 diplomatic messages signed by such pre-war figures in American diplomacy as former ambassador to France William C. Bullitt, for Ambassador to Japan Joseph C. Grew, and former Ambassador to Poland Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, jr.

Several of the documents are marked "strictly confidential" but the House committee said the State department indicated that with the long passage of time their publication would no longer be considered "dangerous" to American security.

Vital Concern To Hitler

Their potential value to other governments at the time they purportedly "leaked" from the State department is evident from examination.

Britain's Naval plans in 1938, for example, were of vital concern to Adolf Hitler in his then-undisclosed plans for conquest of Europe.

Yet one of the documents, a memorandum which committee records say is in the handwriting of Alger Hiss, former State department official, spoke of Britain's battleship building plans in that critical year 18 months before World War II broke out with Hitler's invasion of Poland.

The memo said:

"March 3. (Herschel V.) Johnson, U. S. charge at London, cabled that Lord Chatfield has told the naval attache that . . . he would not change his plans for cruisers this year, and in any case, new battleships would not be laid down before the end of the current year."

Top Leader Angry

Lord Chatfield was Britain's first sea lord and naval staff chief from 1933 to 1938.

A long message signed, "Grew," dispatched from Tokyo at noon, Feb. 12, 1938, and marked "strictly confidential," told then Secretary of State Cordell Hull of Japan's rising temper against the British in China.

Grew told Hull of a stormy conversation between British ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craige and then Japanese Foreign Minister Koki Hirota in which he said that "for the first time in our respective dealings with him, Hirota twice lost his temper with Craigie."

"The minister's demeanor tends to confirm reports which have come to both Craigie and myself that Hirota is steadily becoming harder and more intransigent as regards foreign interests in the Far East. . . .

Hirota Rapped British

"According to Craigie, the minister (Hirota) in some instances in their intercourse became very angry, inveighed against the continual British demands for renewed assurances, said that under present war conditions Japan had given all the assurances that can reasonably be expected, and asserted that if warfare (with China) is prolonged Japan may be forced to occupy more territory whether insular or on the mainland."

Grew said the general tone of the Cragie-Hirota talks "appears to have been acrimonious" and that Hirota's outbursts showed "a marked change in the minister's usually placid, courteous and friendly bearing."

Then he added:

"Hhe (Craigie) believes that Japanese assurances of 'no territorial designs' are likely to be withdrawn at short notice.

Austrian Crisis Reported

"These prospects so seriously concern British interests that he contemplates recommending or has already recommended to his government . . . that continued support of Chiang Kai-Shek whether by furnishing war supplies and funds or otherwise, is detrimental to British interests."

Such information—that a British official contemplated the idea of ending British support to China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek—obviously would have been of great value to the Japanese at that time.

A cable from U. S. Consul General John C. Wiley in Vienna, marked "rush" and sent to Secretary Hull on Feb. 15, 1938, told of a dinner he attended with Austrian Chanceller Kurt Von Schuschnigg and other top diplomats shortly before Hitler imposed his "anschluss" on Austria.

Wiley noted that the dinner atmosphere was "most oppressive," and continued:

Hitler Called Madman

"To French minister, Schuschnigg described visit to Berchtesgaden as the most horrible day of his life. He says Hitler undoubtedly a madman with a mission and in complete control of Germany.

"Hitler openly told him of his desire to annex Austria and declared that he could march into Austria with much greater ease and infinitely less danger than he incurred in remilitarization of the Rhineland . . .

"The French minister . . . states that this the most critical moment since July 1934. 'It is not the end. It is the moment before the end.' In his opinion Austria can only be saved by immediate reconciliation of France and England with Italy and energetic joint act."

Another message from Wiley, dated two days earlier, said he had received information that "Hitler made unacceptable demands and that Austrian government is now formulating counter proposals."

Appraises Hitler

On Feb. 16, Ambassador Bullitt in Paris cabled Hull in a "strictly confidential" message an account of Chancellor Schuschnigg's accurate appraisal of Hitler.

Bullitt said a telegram had just been received from the Austrian chancellor and "Schuschnigg felt that the actions which he was about to take would produce a temporary breathing period but in the end would prove just as unsatisfactory to Hitler as his actions which followed the accord of July 1936."

(In this accord, Hitler recognized Austrian sovereignty, and Austria acknowledged herself to be "a German state." On Feb. 12, 1938, Hitler in a conference at Berchtesgaden put strong pressure on Schuschnigg. Defenseless, Schuschnigg agreed to a number of concessions. Among other things he admitted several Nazi sympathizers into his cabinet, including Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, who got control of the Austrian police.)

Mussolini's Plans Told

Bullitt in his cable of Feb. 16 said Schuschnigg "expected that at some future date Germany would attempt again to repeat the Berchtesgaden coup and would mobilize if necessary on the Austrian frontier."

As events proved, Hitler did just that—and marched in.

On March 29, Ambassador Biddle in Warsaw, Poland, disclosed to the State department that he had received from Polish officials "in the strictest confidence" a story of Mussolini's plans to avert German encroachment in the Danubian valley.

The message spoke of "Mussolini's interest in embarking on a potential counter policy vis a vis Germany's suspected aspirations in Danubian valley; the counter policy envisaging economic assistance to rescue the Danubian and Balkan states from being swept into the German camp."

Gridiron Club Meets

. . . and good old Saint Harry.

"Throughout our land tonight little children are writing their annual Christmas letters to Santa Claus at the North Pole. Democrats, of course, just write direct to Washington."

Demonstration Of Sportsmanship

In more serious vein, he described the dinner as a demonstration of "America's most prized possession — good sportsmanship." He noted that the three principal figures in the recent bitter political campaign —Mr. Truman, Governor Dewey and Governor Thurmond—were joining in an evening of "good fellowship and good humor."

In the opening scene, the entire Gridiron club sang the concluding song of the club's spring dinner which carried an implied prediction of President Truman's defeat in the election.

The song, to the tune "now is the hour" was sung on a dark stage as follows:

Now is the hour
When we must say goodbye
Off the campaigning
Travel far and nigh.
While we're away
November will draw near
When we return we wonder
Who'll be here.

Faulty Forecasts Recognized

The lights were flashed on to show the club members clad in toppers, tails, white ties — but without their trousers in recognition of their faulty election prediction.

Then to the same tune, the chorus sang:

Now is the hour
When we must break the news
We who predicted
Dewey could not lose.
We saw the crowds,
Heard Harry's every word;
Then voters everywhere gave us
The bird.

Dewey was reminded of an unfortunate campaign incident in a "Victory Train" song which included the verse:

I'm a Rambling Wreck, but what the heck
I'm a lunatic engineer!

A policeman announced that several characters were outside including a woman, carrying a baby, who described herself as "Miss Dixiecrat." Governor Thurmond entered introducing Senator Hill of Alabama, Democratic leader Ed Crump of Memphis and Gov. Fielding Wright. Thurmond's running mate. Wright sang of "Miss Dixiecrat" to the tune 'More To Be Pitied Than Censured."

tributor of material to "The Daily Worker;"

9. The Photographer, as has been the case with several other key witnesses located by committee investigators, was expected to appear first before the grand jury.

10. The grand jury indicated that it will return "one or two" indictments at an early date.

Typing Is Studied

The congressional committee, convinced that it is on the verge of confounding its critics, concentrated tonight on a typewriter Hiss reportedly used at the time he is accused of being a member of the conspiracy.

Its investigators have noted that many of the documents taken from Chambers were retyped by the same machine, and that certain typographical mistakes are consistent throughout the cache of stolen material. Chambers has accused Hiss of stealing the papers from the State department overnight, during which time Mrs. Hiss retyped them for Chambers, who passed some or all of them on to the then head of the Rusisan spy ring in the U. S.

Those who call in should specify the division in which they wish to compete.

Entries have been received in all divisions, but the fewest have been in the outdoor tree competition.

One Prize To Person

In several instances, home owners have advised they will compete for the prizes in both for the most beautiful doorway and window divisions.

Not more than one prize will be awarded to the same person. However, each contestant may compete in as many divisions as he or she chooses.

Grand prize winners will not be eligible for awards in other divisions. However, the judges may award one of the tree, window or doorway prizes to those who compete for the grand awards. In other words, those who enter the grand prize division also compete for one of the window, doorway or outdoor tree awards. If they don't win one they might win another.

The decorations need not involve heavy expense. Originality will carry great weight with the judges. It is a safe bet that some of the prize winners won't spend as much as a dollar on their decorations. One of the winners last year involved an outlay of only 15 cents.

Lubbock Woman And Son Are Hurt In Traffic Accident

Mrs. Annie L. Reeves and her son, Sammy, 3, of Levelland highway, Friday were treated at West Texas hospital for minor injuries suffered in an automobile collision at Twentieth and Monroe avenue at about 12:35 p. m.

Both were released from the hospital after receiving emergency treatment. Mrs. Reeves suffered a cut above the left eye, and her son sustained several bruises.

Mrs. Reeves was driving north on Monroe when the right rear section of the automobile she was driving was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Berniece W. Rabun, of 3010 Twentieth, investigating police reported. The Reeves car was overturned in the collision.

Mrs. Rabun escaped injury.

Dutch Announce Decision To Break Off Indonesian Talks

THE HAGUE, Dec. 11. (AP)—A decision to break off deadlocked Dutch-Indonesian peace talks was announced today by the Netherlands government.

The announcement said further negotiations with the Indonesian republic only would delay a final solution of the Indonesian problem.

Instead, the government said, Dutch authorities were going ahead with the establishment of an interim government to rule temporarily over all areas of Indonesia except those controlled by the republic.

The interim government is intended to rule until the projected United States of Indonesia becomes a full-fledged partner in the Dutch empire.

Costa Rica Calls Men To Arms After Invasion From Nicaragua

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Dec. 11. (AP)—Costa Rica which abolished its army nine days ago was invaded today from Nicaraguan territory.

The government said the invaders were headed by former President Calderon Guardia, and that Costa Rican territory and towns already had been occupied.

Jose Figueres, military leader and head of the junta governing Costa Rica, disbanded his army of 5,000 because, he said, his country loves peace and there was no trouble in sight. Tonight men were called to arms.

(Costa Rican broadcasts picked up in Guatemala quoted Figueres as saying "this is not a counter-revolution. This is war between Costa Rica and Nicaragua."

White Sox Cancel Sale Of First-Baseman Tony Lupien

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. (INS)—What they called a "misunderstanding in the waiver rule" today caused the Chicago White Sox to cancel their recent sale of first-baseman Tony Lupien to Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league.

The Sox said they had been informed all major league clubs had waived on Lupien, but subsequently found that Detroit had put in a claim for the Harvard university graduate. Lupien remains a member of the Sox.

Four Persons Are Injured In Three Traffic Accidents

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in three traffic accidents in the city early Saturday night.

Samuel Henry Cook, 16, of 216 Ave. Q, suffered a dislocated right shoulder when his bicycle was struck by a car driven by Bill Max Cromer, 17, of 1932 Ave. N, at the intersection of Fourth street and Ave. Q. Cook was treated at West Texas hospital where he was taken by McDonald Funeral home ambulance. Cromer, police said, had "jumped" an amber caution light just prior to the collision.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Woods of Phillips were treated at West Texas hospital for cuts and bruises suffered in a three-car collision at Washington and Thirtieth street. Woods, 52, the driver of the car, suffered the most serious injury, a cut on the back of the head which required sutures to close.

Third Car Struck

The Woods car was struck on the right back by a 1938 Ford convertible driven by Mrs. Trecia Clark Jarmon, 34, of 2504 Thirtieth. The 1938 Chevrolet driven by Woods was swung around by the impact and struck the front of a 1947 Oldsmobile belonging to L. V. Witkowski, 35, of Happy. Woods was driving south on Washington and Witkowski, who had been proceeding north on Washington, had stopped preparatory to making a left turn onto Thirtieth. Mrs. Jarmon was going east on Thirtieth.

Mrs. Jarmon was given tickets charging illegal use of dealer's license and negligent collision through excessive speed.

Mrs. H. V. May, of Monahans, was examined at West Texas hospital for a possible injury to the right arm after her husband's parked 1948 Dodge was struck on the left rear by a 1941 Ford coupe driven by Mrs. Henry Wright, 30, of 308 Paris avenue.

Mrs. May was standing in the door on the right side of the car parked at the curb, and the collision caused the door to slam shut on her arm. She suffered minor cuts on the arm but no serious injury.

Mrs. Wright, who said she swung to the right when she found she was unable to stop when a line of traffic ahead of her halted, was charged with negligent collision and no operators license, police said.

Reds Make Threat

the United States military government.

Both the United States and Britain told General Lukyanchenko last month that the Russians will be held responsible for any action resulting in casualties to western airmen or damage to their planes.

The British added that they would view any Soviet action with "utmost gravity."

One of the main dangers in the Russian intention is the fact that there are few airfields along the corridors through the Soviet occupation zone on which U. S. C-54 supply planes or British York transports can land without damage and accident.

The western planes have been flying with little interruption in all kinds of dirty weather and fog.

Soviet Prestige Hit

Several days ago the Russians accused the United States of 18 violations of safety regulations. They said the American pilots were flying below the regulation 3,000-ft. level.

The Americans curtly told the Russians their pilots had been briefed in the necessary regulations and would continue to abide by them.

The amazing performance of the air lift generally is regarded as having cut deeply into Soviet prestige not only in Germany but throughout Europe where news of its success has filtered.

The Soviet threats to "force down" American planes has not disturbed American officials outwardly, but they admit that such incidents would bring a serious crisis in the crisis-weary city.

The government's 12th army group, also encircled, was reported to have counterattacked in an effort to slip through the Communist ring and effect a junction with the other trapped Nationalists.

RUSH AID FOR CHINA URGED BY CONGRESSMAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. (INS)—The House foreign policy leader-to-be today urged early congressional action to rush to China "planes, tanks and guns along with a military mission to direct their use."

Chairman-designate Bloom (D-NY), of the House Foreign Affairs committee pledged immediate consideration of all China aid short of a shooting war as soon as the 81st Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Bloom declared that the United States "must not be too little and too late" in helping China defeat the Communist armies threatening to topple the Nationalist government.

The New Yorker, until today, has opposed U. S. aid to China until alleged corrpution and inefficiency were eliminated from the Chiang Kai-Shek regime.

He explained the urgency of the crisis makes fast action imperative, but emphasized that a "top American general" should administer employment of U. S. aid equipment.

FLOODS HIT OREGON

COOS BAY, Ore., Dec. 11 (AP)—Floods swept along Oregon's coastal rivers today. High waters and slides blocked highways. Two lives were lost.

CHARTER MEMBER — Shown above is Mrs. W. N. Green, only living charter member of the Broadway Church of Christ, who will participate in groundbreaking ceremonies for the new building this afternoon.

signed to accommodate 2,100 persons without crowding and to take care of 2,500 with additional chairs.

Built in a modified Romanesque architectural design, the new building will be centrally located between downtown Lubbock and Texas Tech campus. It will be built of light brick. The pulpit will be in the center of the front platform with the Communion table immediately behind on a raised platform.

The baptistery will be elevated above the Communion table, with entrance from the second floor. The design will give emphasis to the preaching of the Bible and to the observance every Sunday of the Communion. A large number of entrances and exits have been planned for the auditorium to expedite the assembly of worshipers.

Educational Setup Included

The educational department will accommodate 1,200 students without crowding in ages according to age levels. A library is planned adjacent to the west entrance on Ave. T. The minister's study and church offices will be across the hall from the library. The fellowship hall will accommodate 300 at one time and will serve as an activity center for the members of the church in Texas Tech as well as locally. The chapel will seat 250 and will also face Broadway. It will be used for small weddings and funerals and as classroom space.

The members of the building committee visited churches throughout the South and Southwest to select the best features for this new building. The firm of Haynes and Kirby designed it, and BMFP construction company will build it.

Church Started In 1890

The history of the church, officials said, goes back beyond the history of the city as an incorporated unit. On the fourth Sunday in May, 1890, H. M. Bandy preached in the old Singer store. The same year, S. W. Smith, J. B. Green and W. M. Green moved from Thorpe Springs to Lubbock. A congregation of 12 members began to meet. W. S. Clark, A. J. Clark and D. M. Ayley joined this original group. After the town was organized S. W. Smith preached in the dining room of the Nicolette hotel.

For a time the members met in a building which had been erected for a blacksmith shop in north Lubbock. Later they met in a new box house which was built for a jail. In 1900 they began meeting in the county courthouse. The first church building was erected at 603 Main in 1906. The lumber was hauled on freight wagons from Canyon and cost approximately $1,000. This was the first church building belonging to members of the Church of Christ on the plains of Texas.

In 1907 oak seats were purchased for $500. These seats are still in use. Later the building was moved when the railroad came into the city, to the corner of Ave. L and Tenth street. In 1922 the basement of the present structure at Broadway and Ave. N. was begun. The church met in the basement for two years and then the present building was completed.

Liff Sanders, now an elder of the church, served as its minister from 1898 to 1919. The church grew to about 200 members. John T. Smith became the next minister of the church and served from 1919 to 1923 and later returned to serve until 1938. G. C. Brewer came from the Central church in Los Angeles, Calif., to serve this congregation in 1938 and remained until 1944.

In the past 15 years eight other congregations of the Church of Christ have been established in Lubbock, including a Mexican mission and a colored church.

The elders of the Broadway Church of Christ are: Raleigh Martin, B. Sherrod, Liff Sanders, S. E. Holt, C. P. Collier, Lawrence Green, James C. Kerr, J. B. McCorkle, Fred Pinkston, Paul Sherrod and Hollis Allen.

Goodfellow's

Air Lift Demands Hit Alaskan Supply Line

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (INS)—The Air Force disclosed tonight that America's aerial line to strategic Alaska and the Aleutians has been crippled seriously by demands of the Berlin air lift.

Air transport of supplies and troops to U. S. defense bases in the far north has been cut by almost 85 per cent due to transfer of C-54 transport planes to "operation vittles."

The planes were taken from the Military Air Transport Command's only northern embarkation point at Great Falls, Mont. The cut was made when defense demands in Alaska and the Aleutians were at a postwar peak, a spokesman said.

The Air Force plans to improve the situation shortly by adding four troop carrier planes to the so-called "Arctic air lift." But officials revealed that this will still leave the aerial line only about one-half its size last summer.

Deep Water Tests

about two weeks ago.

Walter Chalk, office manager for Tobe Foster, said the new well is being drilled under the supervision of L. E. Snell and now is waiting for casing to set at about 400 feet.

The other oil tests to be used include one of the Anton Oil corp., near Anton, which was made available by George Etts, vice president, and one of the De Kalb Agricultural association, Inc., near Smyer, made available through Paul D. Pugh, local manager.

Detailed Study Planned

The city commission has contracted with J. Roy McCoy, Lubbock consulting geologist, to make a detailed log of showings in each of the tests down to a depth of approximately 2,000 feet. It is the conviction of expert opinion that, unless good water is found above 2,000 feet, it won't be found at all.

The commission has agreed to pay McCoy $200 for each log. It calls for a detailed report on each strata encountered. If water formations are found, he is to report on the thickness of the sand, the apparent volume of liquid it contains and the quality of the fluid.

Made Many Tests

McCoy is a 1941 graduate of the University of Oklahoma. He was employed as geologist for various oil companies and operators in Wichita Falls and Dallas until he established his own consulting office in Lubbock about a year ago. His observations have included hundreds of oil tests, mostly in Texas. His office is in his home at 3102 Thirtieth street.

Uncertainty existed Saturday as to what, if any, effect the availability of the oil tests might have on the city plans to drill a 2,000 foot of its own.

The indications were that the city test will be drilled unless costs are prohibitive. A possibility was seen that definite action might be delayed until McCoy's reports on the oil tests can be made. But the consensus seemed to be that the city test will be desirable, regardless of the others, because the search there will be wholly for water, without any consideration of oil possibilities.

Must Choose Location

If the project is given expected approval, the city commission also must make decisions as to many details.

It will decide exactly where the test is to be located. Large city-owned tracts are available northeast and northwest of the city. Since the Foster test will provide a sampling northeast of town, the prospects are that the city well, if drilled, will be northwest.

The commission also must arrange for expert observation and analysis of everything encountered, if the test is drilled. The prospects are that a geologist other than McCoy will be retained for this purpose.

In this way, Mayor Rodgers pointed out, the city would have a four-fold check of expert opinions and observations—including those of McCoy, the geologist retained for the city well, the trained observers in the city engineering department and the driller of the city test.

The net result of all the opinions, officials believe, may provide something definite as to whether deep water does or does not exist or whether there is enough uncertainty to justify the expense of further exploration.

MASONIC CALENDAR GIVEN

The Masonic calendar for the week: 7:30 p.m. Monday, stated conclave of Lubbock Commandry 60, and election of officers; 6 p.m. Tuesday, Yellowhouse lodge 841 will confer the Master's degree on three candidates; 7:30 p.m. Thursday, work in the Mark Master and Most Excellent Master degrees; 6:30 p.m. Friday, work in the Royal Arch degree.

FLIERS AT HALF MARK

INDIO, Calif., Dec. 11 (AP) — Endurance fliers Dick Riedel and Bill Barris reached the halfway mark today in their proposed 1,000-hour non-stop flight.

Forgery Charges

He declined to make a formal statement to investigators.

Previously Convicted

The negro's conviction resulted from his acceptance Nov. 3 of $65 from H. G. Lawson, a Lubbock county farmer, under false promises to place approximately 40 field hands in Lawson's cotton field at a specified time and harvest the farmer's crops. He represented at the time that he was agent for that number of men. Russell never appeared with any men in the field, but after his arrest made restitution of the money.

If he were convicted of any of the latest charges Judge Pardue would set aside suspension of the five years and add it to whatever new penalty should be assessed.

Different names were signed to the four checks Russell is accused of writing, Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank and Capt. of Detectives Pat Davidson said.

Various Thefts Reported

Police said that Powers Sporting Goods company, 1212 Ave. K, had reported loss of approximately $250 worth of sports jackets and other athletic clothing that were left briefly in a car downtown Friday night.

A 12-gauge shotgun in a case was reported stolen from R. L. Bolte of Monahans, the gun being taken from his car parked near Jones stadium during the football game Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. W. T. West of 2109 Thirty-first said that clothing valued at $150 to $200 had been stolen from a garage at her residence.

Pleas Are Entered

Lumber was stolen from O. L. Jones who lives in an apartment at the rear of 2512 Ave. D.

C. C. Clark of 620 Ave. N said his bike had been stolen, and a Cushman motor scooter was reported missing by Lynn Turner of 2319 Main.

Several judgments were signed by County Judge Walter Davies.

M. Lee entered a plea of guilty of check law violation and was fined $1 and court costs. Fines of $50 and court costs, as well as mandatory suspension of drivers licenses for six months, were assessed against R. B. Henry, 40, and Johnnie Mae Bales, 24, both of Lubbock. Miss Bales, County Attorney John Steele said, earlier pleaded innocent of the charge, and trial appearance bond of $500 had been set.

A 60-year-old Post man, arrested Saturday evening after his car was in collision with another at Fourteenth and College Ave., will face a charge of drunk driving, police said.

Maurine Fewell of 2114 Seventeenth street informed police late last night that a $7.50 coat and a silver vanity had been stolen from her residence. Four hub caps and silver rims, valued totally at $30, were reported taken off the car of Bill Wuensche of Slaton route 1 while the car was parked in 1000-block of College avenue.

Palestine Peace

United States and Britain was 35 to 15 with eight abstentions. It was taken as a tense crowd overflowed the theater of the Palais De Chaillot and as the 58-nation assembly strove to wind up its Paris meeting tonight.

Elsewhere in the UN:

Sixteen nations signed the newly-adopted convention outlawing genocide. These included the United States. All signatures are subject to ratification by the governments concerned.

Some delegates said this assembly would be known in history as the "human rights assembly." The assembly voted Friday night 48 to 0 for the first world declaration of human rights. Now the UN will attempt to write a covenant of human rights which will be legally binding on nations signing it.

Budget Approved

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, chairman of the UN commission on human rights, rested today after her arduous work in, getting the human rights declaration written and approved. She told a reporter she plans to devote the rest of her active life to the UN.

After the Palestine decision the assembly completed action on the UN's 1949 budget. Delegates voted 48 to 0 with the Russian bloc abstaining to approve a gross budget estimate of $43,487,128. The gross budget for 1948 was $39,285,730 and the 1947 total was $27,901,969. The Slav bloc abstained in protest against including sums for such items as the Balkans commission, the Korean commission and the Little Assembly. It also objected to the general growth of UN expenditures.

FIVE MISSING ON PLANE

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Dec. 11 (AP)—Search parties refused today to give up hope of locating a U. S. Army transport plane, missing 22 days with five aboard. The search of thick jungle where the C-47 is believed to have crashed Nov. 19 will continue another week, it was announced.

Briton Talks At Builders Session

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

English people as a whole today have not the ambition and incentive to work that they once had as a result of the present Labor government in Great Britain, Ronald Kahn, an Englishman, declared at a dinner meeting of the Lubbock Home Builders association and directors of the state association in Hilton hotel last night.

Kahn, who lives in Dallas, and who has been in this country for the past year, charged the Labor government of Great Britain with destroying the incentive of the English people, and with instituting a way of life that is against the ideologies of the people.

The dinner was the highlight of an all-day meeting here of the directors of the state Home Builders association, with the Lubbock Home Builders association as host.

See Socialism Trend

The English speaker declared that there "is a trend toward socialism in the world today." He pointed out that a great deal of isolationism still exists in the United States, especially in the Southwest, but that people more and more are beginning to realize that happenings in Berlin or in London or elsewhere, may have a direct and immediate effect on them wherever they are.

In listing the failures of the present Labor government in Great Britain, Kahn said that government housing, originally designed to cost the equivalent of $4,000 per unit in American money, had jumped to $8,000 after four builders in the whole country were given the building monopoly. These same houses are so ill-built that they cannot possibly stand for more than 10 years, he said.

Federal Program Seen

Miles Strickland of Houston, who was until Saturday's meeting president of the state association, introduced W. T. (Bill) Atkinson of Oklahoma City, regional vice president of the National Home Builders association, who gave a brief report on his recent trip to Washington, D. C., where he conferred with housing administrators and other housing executives.

Atkinson predicted that some federal housing program will be put into effect in the near future, that rental units will be included in the program, and that loan interest rates will be increased.

At the dinner, Vernon Thompson, president of the local builders association, presided. Approximately 25 attended.

A series of conferences were held at the hotel Saturday morning. Included was a talk on proposed 1949 national housing legislation by E. T. Lamberth of Dallas and talks on state economy housing programs by Fred Bucheck and E. J. Burke, jr., both of San Antonio.

State officers also were elected at the morning session. They are: E. T. Lamberth of Dallas, president; Sam Lemons of Lubbock, vice president; G. S. McCreless of San Antonio, secretary; and C. L. Munday of Amarillo, treasurer.

Approximately 45 persons attended the morning sessions.

Fred G. Patching, Native Of England, Dies At Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 11. (AP)—Fred G. Patching, 83, who came to the United States in 1870 and settled in the Texas Panhandle, died here today.

A native of England, he exercised the privileges of U. S. citizenship for many years until 1940, when he found his naturalization had not been completed. He became a citizen that year.

After working on several ranches, he settled in Tulia in 1897, and moved to Clarendon in 1906.

Funeral services will be held at Clarendon tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

Survivors include two sons, E. T. Patching, Happy, and F. G. Patching, Jr., Goodnight, and three daughters, Eva Patching, Amarillo; Mrs. John Harris, Claude, and Mrs. C. L. Craig, Plainview.

Plans Completed For Visit Of Santa Claus To City Friday

The official Santa Claus for Lubbock will arrive at Municipal airport by Pioneer Air lines at 3:26 p. m. Friday and will be escorted from the airport by police patrol after spending 20 minutes greeting small children at the airport, the City Recreation department announced.

He is to arrive at Broadway and Ave. J at 4 p. m. and will be placed on a stage and given an official welcome by Mayor W. H. Rodgers. He will be on the stage from 4 until 6 p. m. to greet small children, pass out candy and receive children's letters.

Schedule Is Given

He will remain in Lubbock through Dec. 24. His schedule includes:

Saturday, Dec. 18, Monday, Dec. 20, and Tuesday, Dec. 21—He will be on the streets of Lubbock from 2 to 6 p. m.

Wednesday, Dec. 22—He will be on streets from 2 to 6 p. m., then will go to Carver Heights Community center and stay until 9 p. m., during which time a community Christmas tree for Carver Heights children will be conducted.

Thursday, Dec. 23—Santa Claus will be at the First Presbyterian church from 2 to 6 p. m., at a community Christmas tree. His helper will be at the Community Center at Sixth and Ave. B from 3 to 5 p. m. People living in the northeast part of Lubbock may attend the tree at the center instead of that at the First Presbyerian church.

Friday, Dec. 24—Santa Claus will be in the Mexican section at St. Joseph's Catholic church from 10 a. m. until 12 noon during which time a Christmas tree is planned.

To Present Candy

At all four Christmas trees, balloons and candy will be distributed to children. All four events will be "come and go" type, with parents, older brothers and sisters taking the children any time during scheduled time of the tree. The children can stay as long as they want to. Santa Claus will have toys for them to play with. Each child will have opportunity to talk to Santa Claus. Those going to the community tree at First Presbyterian church may have pictures made with Santa Claus for $1 for an 8x10 glossy picture made by Reeves studio.

Santa Claus will make visits to homes where there are sick children. Arrangements for such visits may be made by telephoning 9346, the recreation department. Arrangements also may be made for Christmas Eve home visits by Santa Claus, up to midnight, for a charge.

The recreation department has four complete Santa Claus suits to lend to different organizations and individuals, without charge. Reservations should be made early, it was announced.

The Party House in Mackenzie State park, Carver Heights Community Center, Community Center at Sixth and Ave. B and the First Presbyterian church have been decorated for Christmas.

Three Slain, Two Cabins Are Burned When Man Goes Berserk

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Dec. 11. (AP)—Three men were slain, sheriff's deputies said today, apparently when one of them went berserk with a gun and set fire to two cabins in a remote canyon settlement 15 miles north of Palm Springs.

Two of the victims were identified at Max C. Salter and John A. Regal. Their bodies, both shot through the chest, were found near the ruined cabins. Body of the third victim, with a .38 caliber revolver beneath it, was discovered in the charred cabin of Henry Tolton. Burned beyond recognition, it was tentatively identified as that of Tolton.

Sheriff's Capt. C. F. McCracken said Mrs. Regal told him that Tolton struck her yesterday with a hammer, grazing her head, after inquiring the whereabouts of her husband. She ran to the cabin of a neighbor, Albert Wells, emerging a few moments later to find Tolton's cabin and another on fire.

The bodies of her husband and Salter lay on the ground nearby.

Sheriff's posses continued to search the rugged canyon on the chance the slayer wasn't one of the three victims.

BROILERS PROFITABLE

HUDSON, Mass. (U.P.)—Earl E. Crouse, Jr., 20, has developed a poultry business here which nets him about $4,000 a year. Specializing in broiler production, he raised more than 3,000 birds last year.

HOLSTEIN TRIPLETS ARE BORN—Meet Winken, Brinken and little Noodnik, the Holstein triplets born early Friday morning on the Ran Smith Dairy farm on North Ave. U. Affectionately welcoming the unusual new arrivals is Buttercup, the dairy's collie dog who felt she too had to be in the limelight, officiating as hostess while the triplets' camera-shy mother retreated to the hinterlands. Looking on to see that all goes well is J. Harvey Smith, owner of the dairy herd. (Staff Photo).

Unusual Birth Occurs At Dairy

Holstein Cow Gives Birth To Triplet Calves Near Lubbock

A certain Holstein cow on the Ran Smith dairy farm nearly jumped over the moon when she saw what the stork had brought her.

For there, big as life and making twice as much noise, were not one, not two, but three little black-and-white spotted Holstein calves.

Mama was visibly perturbed by the phenomenon, which Lubbock veterinarians say happens only once in 125,000 calf births.

She declined to make a statement to the press.

But barnyard gossip has it that her thoughts ran in this vein:

"Triplets, mind you!" Mama was said to have mooed mournfully. "And to me it has to happen. I'm a nervous wreck!"

In fact, says J. Harvey Smith, who owns and operates the dairy farm founded by his father, "She's just a little goofy at present."

And without further ceremony she sashayed off to a canyon slope well beyond range of the cameraman, swishing her tail indignantly.

No number of soft "Sooky-Sooky-Sookys" and no tantalizing bale of alfalfa could convince Mama that she should come back and look at the birdy.

Less camera-shy were Mama's proud progeny.

They "maa-aa-ed" continuously as if to remind they were still available for glamor shots. And they forthwith posed obligingly for a series of camera studies.

When Buttercup, the dairy's collie dog, nuzzled into the picture, they showed no concern, realizing they were center of attraction.

Naming them was a problem, but Dirk West, Mrs. Smith's brother came up with the answer and they are now to answer to their official names: Winken, Blinken and Noodnik. (The latter from a Lil Abner comic strip character.)

Mama was one of 16 Holstein cows bought by Smith last April from the Southland farm of one of County Judge Walter Davies' nephews. She was bred by a registered Holstein bull last March.

Trade Name Suit Decision Delayed

Final decision on the trade name infringement suit brought by Safeway Stores versus B. M. Taylor et al, operator of the Saveway Food Stores in Lubbock was held in abeyance by Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley at conclusion of the trial Saturday in U. S. District court.

Following arguments of counsel Saturday morning, Judge Dooley summarized a tentative opinion in which he indicated some injunc-signs used by the plaintiff and ruled that no damages had been shown.

In his preliminary opinion, he pointed out the similarity of the signs used by the palintiff and defendant stores and indicated he might make a ruling barring use of the name SAVEWAY as one word, but allowing it to be used as two words.

In continuing remarks, he said he favored discontinuance of the use of identical colors and the block lettering in the SAVEWAY sign.

Judge Dooley did not indicate when he would hand down a final ruling on the case.

He made his remarks in open court after more than an hour of summations by counsel. James H. Milam of the firm of Crenshaw, Dupree, Milam and Crenshaw of Lubbock and Pat Coon, Dallas attorney, spoke for the plaintiff and A. B. Culbertson, Fort Worth attorney, presented arguments for the defense.

The case had been heard by Judge Dooley since Tuesday. He denied a defense request for a jury.

A parade of witnesses and a mass of exhibits of photographs, documents, reports contracts newspaper ads and photostatic copies of various papers were presented in testimony and as evidence in the case.

Taylor, who moved to Lubbock from Stephenville where he was manager of a Safeway store, purchased the Bailey Food Mart, 1512 Texas avenue, in 1944 and changed its name to Saveway Food Store. Mrs. Eula P. Hardesty of Wichita Falls, a partner in the stores, was here for the trial and sat with Taylor throughout the proceedings.

Safeway filed the injunction suit last year. In presentation of testimony, Safeway officials testified that the company had planned locating stores in Lubbock as far back as 1940 and that the war and building restrictions had prevented carrying out of these plans.

Safeway sought an injunction from use of the name Saveway and accounting of profits in its action.

Landon Says Prices Caused GOP Defeat

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (U.P.)—Former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas said today the Democrats won the November elections because "the people didn't trust" the Republicans to deal with high prices.

In an unusually frank statement to newsmen after caling on President Truman at the White House, Landon conceded that Mr. Truman's election resulted in large part from his stand on prices.

In this the 1936 Republican presidential nominee found himself in agreement with another White House caller of different political complexion — former Democratic National Committee Chairman James A. Farley.

Farley attributed Mr. Truman's election to a "considerable extent" to housewives who were disgruntled with high living costs.

"There isn't any doubt that the farmers also made a great contribution," Farley said. "One other determining factor was the decisive contribution of labor."

Landon also said he believes that tideland oil reserves should be owned by the federal government. He said he knew his idea was contrary to the 1948 Republican platform. But he said the reserves belonged to all of the people and that revenues from them should be taken by the federal government for national debt reduction.

He said he disagreed with President Truman on a lot of things, but on the tidelands question he was in agreement. He said there was no reason why the individual states should control the reserve.

Ennis Man Injured In Auto Collision Claimed At Dallas

DALLAS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Edward Conder, 62, of route 3, Ennis, died early today in a Dallas hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car head-on collision Tuesday on U.S. highway 77, four miles south of Dallas.

Conder, a retired farmer, was a passenger in a car driven by D. M. Smith, 27, of Dallas. Relatives said Conder had been visiting Smith in Dallas, and was returning to Ennis when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Leona O'Neal, 19, of Mesquite, was listed as the driver of the other car, driven toward Dallas. Mrs. O'Neal and her 5-months-old baby were seriously injured and still under treatment at Methodist hospital today. Smith, who suffered a broken arm and fractured rib in the collision, was transferred to Veteran's hospital, Lisbon, for treatment.

Amarillo's Golden Sandies Edge By Odessa Bronchos, 12 To 6

Monahans Trims Phillips, 13 To 7, In Playoff

Sandstorm Gains AA Semi-Finals

18,000 Fans See Sandies Storm For Two Third Quarter Tallies

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer

ODESSA, Dec. 11.—Amarillo's Golden Sandies stormed for two quick touchdowns in the third quarter, then held the raging Odessa Bronchos to a single six-pointer in the fourth period, to take a 12-6 quarter-final victory over the Red Hosses here today before more than 18,000 fans. The triumph moved the Sandstorm into the state Class AA semi-final bracket against Denison, which ousted Breckenridge in a tussle Friday, and protected Amarillo's perfect record in 11 games this season.

The Sandie win today was a personal triumph for James Garner, Amarillo's top candidate for an all-state rating at an end position. The stocky senior broke a scoreless deadlock in the third stanza with a brilliant 66-yard punt return for the Sandies' first touchdown, then a few minutes later raced 45 yards on an intercepted pass for the second tally. Garner also paced a stout forward wall that proved the margin of victory for Amarillo and did an excellent job of signal-calling.

Patterson Paces Broncs

The Bronchos were not without their stars, even in defeat. Big Jimmy Patterson, who closed his schoolboy grid career with a magnificent performance today, battered and blasted through the tough Amarillo line for consistent yardage and sparked the stubborn Broncho defense. The battling backfield ace had little assistance after teammate James (Sonny) Mobley was injured early in the game, but the three-year veteran never quit trying.

ODESSA, Dec. 11. (AP)—Denison won the coin flip with Amarillo and the teams will play at Denison next Saturday afternoon in semi-finals of the Texas schoolboy football class AA race. The flip came here after Amarillo had beaten Odessa 12-6. Denison advanced to the semi-finals yesterday by edging Breckenridge 7-6.

Both teams were hampered by a 40-mile-an-hour wind and blowing sand during the first half, but late in the period the Bronchos recovered a Sandie fumble on the Odessa 30-yard line and started a march toward paydirt. Patterson and Halfback T. W. Harvey carried to the Amarillo 47 in three tries, then Quarterback Charles Clover passed to Harvey on the Amarillo 15. Patterson smashed through the line to the Amarillo nine in three carries, but Halfback Joe Howell's fourth-down pass went incomplete.

The Sandies moved into Odessa territory twice just before the half, with Tailback Marvin McNeil and Wingback Charlie Priolo sharing ball-carrying duties, but pass interceptions by Patterson and Center Scarbrough Hartley broke up both drives.

Open In Third Period

Amarillo's smooth-working gridders moved out in front early in the third period, when Broncho Halfback Bill Herring punted from deep in his own territory on fourth down. The ball sailed far downfield, to the Amarillo 34-yard line, where it was taken by McNeil. Garner, who was playing a double safety with McNeil, raced behind McNeil and took the ball on a perfectly-executed handoff play and headed for the opposite sideline. The speedy end was far across the field before the Bronchos solved the play, but by that time a wave of Sandie blockers had cleared a path along the sideline to the double stripe. Garner went over standing up and Amarillo led, 6-0.

Garner Intercepts Aerial

Guard Bobby Hudgins, who has been extremely accurate in his kicks from placement all season, missed the extra point boot.

The determined Bronchos roared back upfield, following the Amarillo kickoff, with the injured Mobley returning to the game for a single play that resulted in a 15-yard gallop for the little speedster. Patterson bulled over guard for three yards, then Clover hit End Kenneth Griffin with a pass to the Amarillo 40-yard marker. After one pass had failed, another Clover aerial was intercepted by Garner on the Sandie 45 and the Sandie sparkplug sprinted 55 yards to the goal line. The pass was a flat zone toss, and when Garner grabbed the ball there was nothing but daylight between him and the goal line. Hudgins again missed the placement try, but Amarillo held a 12-0 margin.

Early in the fourth period the Bronchos, with the stiff wind at their backs, finally caught fire. Coach Joe Coleman shuffled his backfield, sending Patterson to his old right halfback position and a speedy 150-pound sophomore—Howard "Jake" Dye—to the fullback slot. Patterson and Dye blasted all the way to the Amarillo 20 on 10 consecutive running plays, then Clover hit End Paul Erwin with a toss to the Sandie 10. Halfback Howell cracked over the double stripe in two tries and, although Patterson missed the extra point try, the Broncs had cut the score to 12-6.

Following the Broncho kickoff, the Sandies were unable to gain and McNeil got off a tremendous punt that went into the end zone. The Bronchos, fired up and well aware of the swelling "Let's go, Bronchos" cry from the huge crowd, picked up a first down on their own 34 on line smashes by Patterson and Dye. But three passes fell incomplete and the final gun sounded before the fourth down play could get underway.

8,500 Watch Lobos Trounce Blackhawks

Waldo Young Rolls Up 159 Yards Rushing; Scores Both Touchdowns

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer

Waldo Young, 145 pounds of twist and squirm packaged in a football suit, Saturday put on a dazzling running exhibition that thrilled 8,500 fans in Jones stadium and at the same time carried the Monahans Lobos to a well-earned 13 to 7 victory over Phillips' fighting Blackhawks.

The triumph moved the unbeaten, untied Lobos into the semi-finals of the state Class A grid playoff, where next week they face the perfect-record New London Wildcats from deep East Texas.

SCORING

MONAHANS—Touchdowns: Young plunged over center for 6 in second quarter; Young went over right tackle for 5 in fourth quarter. Point after touchdown, Young plunged over center in second quarter.

PHILLIPS—Touchdown: Moore took 42-yard pass from Braden in end zone. Point after touchdown: Williams (placekick).

OFFICIALS—Referee, Burns, McKinney; umpire, Prentis Walker; head linesman, Sims Cain; field judge, Corky Cornelius.

Young Was Big Gun

Without Young, Saturday's tussle might have been as even as the edge of a yardstick. But Monahans had Wild Waldo, and therein lies the story. Phillips simply couldn't cope with the elusive little Lobo leather-lugger. He hammered through the middle, he slashed at the tackles, he swept the ends; and when the final whistle blew, he had scored all his team's 13 points while picking up 159 of the 215 net yards gained rushing by the Lobos.

Of course, Young had plenty of help. He operated behind a rugged, hard-charging line that frequently gave him ample running room, and when the space wasn't there—well, Waldo went through anyway, at least for a yard or two.

The Lobos, playing what their coach F. O. Scroggins later described as "one of our two best defensive games of the season," stopped Phillips almost cold. The Blackhawks picked up only 43 yards net on the ground, and 45 through the air, with their touchdown coming on a freakish pass play.

Phillips also put up a spirited defensive battle, but it failed to check Waldo the Workhorse. Even so, Coach Chesty Walker's outmanned Blackhawks never quit trying. The team that had won seven regional titles in the last 10 years, and 12 consecutive games this season, battled to the end.

Young Marches 47 Yards

Monahans scored first, marching 52 yards in 11 plays midway through the second period, with Mr. You-Guess-Who going the final eight yards on an explosive burst through center. Young then twisted through the middle again for the extra point to make it 7-0. In the touchdown drive, Young accounted for all but five of the 52 yards.

Phillips rebounded in the third quarter, going 48 yards to pay dirt. A Bill Braden-to-Elbert Daniel pass to the Lobo 39 started the march. Melvin Eldridge picked up a yard, then Braden slipped through center for five. Braden passed to John Sellers to the Monahans 22, then Johnny Ussery made three on a reverse around left end before Lobo Quarterback Eddie Sampson herded him out of bounds. From the 19, Braden flipped a wobbly pass intended for Back Tommy Moore in the end zone. Young raced in to try for a interception, but the ball squirted from his hands into Moore's arms.

Center Jimmy Williams, a defensive standout for Phillips throughout the game, place-kicked the extra point, and the score was 7-7

After two exchanges, Monahans rolled 61 yards to the deciding touchdown, with Young and big Ray Cathey alternating line was a truly fine schoolboy ballast five yards on a fourth-down try over left tackle. Cathey's attempt to power across the extra point failed.

After the ensuing kickoff, Phillips pushed 26 yards to the Monahans 49, but there Eldridge fumbled and Cathey recovered for the Lobos, who retained possession until the game ended.

A mid-day sandstorm dropped attendance slightly below expectations, but R. D. Lee, superintendent of schools at Monahans, said he was "very well satisfied, and especially appreciative of the treatment shown us" by Lubbock Jaycees and others.

Officials of the game itself said it was one of the most cleanly-played contests they had worked this year, and agreed that Young smashes. Young scampered the carrier. To which the Phillips squad and some 8,500 spectators undoubtedly would readily testify.

Port Arthur Downs Austin

AUSTIN, Dec. 11. (AP)—The Port Arthur Yellowjackets exploded for two quick touchdowns and later ground out three more to defeat the Austin Maroons, 35-0, in their Class AA quarter-final clash here today.

The victory moves the undefeated Yellowjackets into the semifinal round of the southern bracket where they meet an unbeaten Waco eleven.

Port Arthur's Fred Haas burst through the line on the fourth play of the game and went 41 yards for a touchdown. He traveled 89 yards on an identical play a few minutes later.

Winkback Pat Day capped a 59-yard drive with a 17-yard sprint around left end early in the third quarter and Haas added the fourth score on a two-yard dive over the center of the line near the end of the third period.

Day Travels 59 Yards

Second-stringer Gail Mills went 73 yards through the middle of the Austin line for the final tally. Cowboy Earl Hall added all five of the extra points.

Austin's deepest surge came after the first Port Arthur score and carried to the Jacket five-yard line. The Jacket line held Austin in check the rest of the way and allowed it four yards on the ground in the second half.

Waco Tigers Defeat Texarkana, 20 To 7

TEXARKANA, Dec. 11 (AP) — Texarkana just didn't have the stuff to derail the Waco express as Coach Carl Price's Tigers from Central Texas scored in the first quarters today and rode to a 20-7 victory.

Big Richard Parma broke the Texarkana forward wall time and again for large gains as he led his teammates into the state schoolboy class AA semi-finals. Parma carried the ball 30 times for 156 yards through wide holes opened in the Texarkana line by

Stratford Wins Borger Tourney

Westerners Take Second In Meet

BORGER, Dec. 11 — Lubbock High's Westerners were defeated by the sharp-shooting Stratford quintet, 59-39, in the championship tilt of the first annual Borger Invitational basketball tournament here tonight, after gaining a semi-final victory over Amarillo this afternoon.

The veteran Stratford five, boasting three regulars of their 1947 team which went all the way to the state tournament, moved into a narrow 22-17 lead at halftime, then burned up the net with a torrid second half offensive that tallied 37 points.

Lubbock Below Form

The Westerners, who were obviously below the form that they had shown in earlier games, were kept in the tilt by Center Jim Wilson's 13 points and Guard Galey's floor work. Jim Spurlock tallied 17 points for Stratford, while Bill Malone notched 10 for the winners.

In the consolation bracket finals, Perryton took top honors by nosing out the Childress Bobcats of District 2-AA, 32-30.

Earlier this afternoon the Westerners threw up a tight zone defense that kept Amarillo from scoring the first 12 minutes, then went on to down the Sandie "practice squad" by an impressive 42-30 count. Guard Morris Turner led the Westerner attack with seven field goals and five free throws for 19 points.

Lubbock moved into a 17-10 halftime margin over their rivals from the Panhandle and were never in danger.

Wilson, Galey Get Berths

The Amarillo squad included most of the players who will represent the Sandies in District 1-AA competition, although two top candidates—James Gardner and Jack Newby—are still busy with grid drills.

Two Westerners, Jim Wilson and Charles Galey, were selected on the all-tournament team. Players voted posts included: Forwards—Jack Little, Amarillo; Gil-

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

DALLAS, Dec. 11.—Texas Tech was given the works again here today. The Lubbock institution is getting the treatment so often it even has the look of a soldier getting penicillin shots every three hours. This is the sixth time in 21 years that they have been told, in effect, to go fly your kite, it's not as big and as good looking as ours; we like you fine, but you stay on your side of the line and we'll stay on ours. And apparently they're going to stay on theirs.

We heard once that when Texas joined the Union, the state reserved the right to divide into five states at any time that it wished. Now is a good time for West Texas to secede from Texas and become the long talked of 49th state. Certainly after the treatment received from the "soft underbelly," as Winston Churchill said, West Texas would have nothing to lose and everything to gain. The parallel with the Revolutionary War statement might be drawn: taxation without representation.

We didn't come down here with too great hopes of Tech's being admitted to the SWC, but talks Friday and Friday night with influential persons here, to say nothing of the conference's executive secretary, made us feel that perhaps there was a real chance. But Tech is like the little used sub with a batting average of .043, who suddenly is called on to bat in the World Series with the bases loaded, two out and his team behind by three runs in the last half of the ninth. It takes a home run to win. Right now, Tech's batting average is .000 with two strikes against them. We think they struck out.

Tech's chances of getting into the conference appear worse than that of a snowball's in the hot place. Officials here from Tech believe that they should go on beating their heads against a brick wall, possibly because it feels so good when they quit. They are willing to go on in the same old rut they've been in since 1927, playing doormat against the SWC schools and remaining in the impotent Border Conference. They'd rather hold on to their glittering dream, like the gray-bearded old man of 89 who died believing in Santa Claus, than to try and build a conference from scratch that might include at least three powerful schools equal to Tech.

Having been so close to the SWC for so many years, Tech officials haven't the perspective clearly, we don't believe. They'd rather try and push a camel through the eye of a needle, than form a conference with their school as the basis. We haven't been so close to the SWC and can't see eye to eye with them, especially when there is something else available.

We lived in a little town of 15,000 frost-bitten folks on the Canadian border for 18 months, or so. For 50 years they have been sitting around holding each other's hand, hoping and praying that a certain multi-billion dollar project would be approved. If it was approved, they'd have everything they wanted. Each year they'd get all lathered and frothed up and say "this is the year." Each year they turned, like a whipped dog with its tail between its legs, and said "well, next year we'll get it." They always did get it, just the way Tech is so far as the SWC is concerned.

How many times do you have to be told that you're not wanted before you wake up to the fact that you're not? Good Heavens, if the SWC really had any belief in itself, if they really wanted Tech in, they'd vote that way in a minute. Since they are so powerful and omnipotent, why should they fear if they stepped on anyone's toes, especially if they were weaker? It would't matter if it was Hardin-Simmons, Oklahoma or Whitewash Normal. Several persons made no secret of the fact that they weren't happy with Arkansas, but the Hogs are members and that's what counts. The feeling here is that should Arkansas join the Big Seven or Missouri Valley, with whom they schedule a lot of games and with whom they are friendly, that the SWC would invite Tech to take Arkansas' place.

Is that what Tech wants? Is it what Lubbock wants? Is it what West Texas wants? Do we want continual dreams, or do we want reality? We know what will happen. The conference said to sit around and wait three years, then apply again. So that's what will happen. Then what? Then we go

Arlington Drops Lamar, 20 To 0

FORT WORTH, Dec. 11. (AP)—Arlington Heights of Fort Worth battered Lamar of Houston 20-0 here today to win the City Conference schoolboy football race championship.

Quick scoring thrusts in the first and second quarters and another in the final period gave the unbeaten, once-tied, Yellowjackets the first title to be awarded in the Big City circuit.

Lamar, unbeaten but tied until today, never seriously threatened and the bruising Yellow Jacket line, led by Tackle Bill Georges, kept the Redskins completely shackled.

Arlington Heights moved 21 yards for a touchdown the third time it got the ball in the first quarter, Robert Carson scoring on an eight-yard run. Bob Thomas kicked the extra point, one of two he booted during the game.

A three-play 41-yard drive netted the Yellow Jackets another touchdown. Gene Doss scored on the first play of the second quarter from the one-yard line.

In the fourth period, Pat Egan climaxed a 22-yard march by plunging over from the one-inch line.

Lamar, its running game hobbled to a net of 47 yards against rushing, tried to penetrate Jacket territory with passes, but completed only two of 15 for 40 yards.

The deepest into Yellow Jacket territory Sandy Sanderson and Tommy Jax could lead the Redskins was the 32-yard line in the third quarter.

Until the third period Arlington Heights had kept Lamar completely out of its end of the field.

Fine kicking by Bill Sitton, including a 76-yard quick-kick, also helped keep Lamar deep in its end of the field most of the game.

A scant crowd of 9,958 turned out for the game, played in sunny, windy weather.

OIL BELT COMMITTEE MEETS

An executive committee meeting of the Oil Belt Baseball league will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Hilton hotel, Pres. Joe Holmes has announced.

Ropes Sweeps Cage Tourney

ROPESVILLE, Dec. 11. (Special)—Ropesville High school boys team won the Invitational Basketball tournament here with a 33-26 victory over Smyer, while the Meadow girl cagers were winning first place in the girls bracket with a 47-9 licking of Cooper.

The Levelland B squad easily won third place in the boys bracket with a 36-8 victory over Pettit, but the Pettit girls retrieved some of the glory with a 12-9 victory over Ropesville for third place in the girls bracket.

In the consolation round, Meadow defeated Cooper for first place, winning 29-20, and Ropesville B beat the Meadow B squad 16-14 for first place in the girls consolation bracket.

Star Teams Selected

Two all-tournament teams were selected immediately after the last game, with Ropes dominating the boys and Meadow dominating the girls.

Members of the boys team included Kemp of Levelland, Pair of Smyer, and Reynolds, Dalton and Means of Ropes.

On the girls team were Alma Jean Belew, Joyce Hinson and Kathryn Williams of Meadow, Juanlie Baldwin of Cooper, La-Vepa Bradshaw of Ropes and Sarah Woods of Smyer.

SPUR HIGH WINS MATADOR BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

MATADOR, Dec. 11. (Special)—Spur High school won the boys basketball championship in the Matador High school tournament here with a 29-27 victory over Floydada and Quitaque won the girls championship with an 18-16 victory over Matador.

Consolation victories were turned in by Memphis over Quitaque, 45-22, in the boys bracket, and by Spur over Ralls 27-14 in the girls bracket.

On the basis of victories, Quitaque ranked first, Matador second and Spur third in the meet.

In semi-final round games, Memphis beat Flomot 23-16, Quitaque beat Matador 35-30, Floydada beat Vernon 32-26 and Spur beat Ralls 31-25.

Tech Places Three Players On All-Conference Squad For 1948

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 11 (AP) — Texas Tech walked away with the Border Conference football title but barely topped fifth-place Hardin-Simmons in placing men on the All-Conference squad for 1948, it was announced today.

Both schools have three men on the first eleven. Three Tech Red Raiders made the second team while only two Hardin-Simmons Cowboys are awarded this honor.

Including honorable mentions, the University of Arizona follows next in line by placing four players on the 25-man honor roll.

Texas Mines finished second in Conference standings. It and New Mexico university are represented by a trio of stars. West Texas State has two men on the list. Arizona State colleges at Tempe and Flagstaff both have one. Only New Mexico A & M isn't represented.

The players were selected by the nine Conference coaches. The list was announced by Dr. Emil Larsen, Border Conference commissioner.

Fred Wendt of the Mines set a new all-time national record in rushing. Yet he was beaten out for a spot on the first Conference team by Wilton (Hook) Davis of Hardin-Simmons and Wilford (Whizzer) White of Tempe.

Wendt is the league's top rusher, point-maker, punter and led in total offense. But in a separate

SEVEN NEW PLAYERS ACQUIRED

Schepps Announces Signing Of Sullivan As Hub Field Manager

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 — George Schepps, new general manager of the Lubbock Baseball club of the West Texas-New Mexico league, announced at the major league meeting here today the signing of Carl "Jackie" Sullivan as the Hubbers' 1949 field manager and the acquisition of seven players.

Arriving here last night from the minor leagues meeting in Minneapolis, Schepps, former owner of the Dallas club in the Texas league, classified his seven new players as "a mixture of proven performers and promising rookies."

They are:

Purchased from the Boston Braves, Lefthand Pitcher Ben J. Lorino, who won 14 and lost 9 in 1948 with the Marysville, Calif., club of the Class D Far West league. Lorino is 21, stands 6 feet tall and weighs 190 pounds.

Purchased outright from the Class B Greenville club of the Big State league in Texas, Limited Service Outfielder Lloyd Pearson; Veteran Outfielder Robert Cowser and Limited Service Fighthand Pitcher Nick Pappas. No records are available here on any of the three, although Schepps classified both outfielders as "righthanded all the way" and recalled that Cowser played last season with the Class D Ballinger club of the Longhorn Star league.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (INS)—The up-and-coming Baltimore Colts are a slight favorite to defeat the Buffalo Bills tomorrow for the eastern division championship of the All-American Football Conference.

Williams Is Top Slugger In AL

Red Sox Player Averages .369

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (INS) — American League 1948 batting averages released today made it official that Ted Williams has accomplished a feat surpassed by only one player in the circuit's history.

When the Boston Red Sox slugger won this season's title—his average was .369—he equalled the feat of Harry Heilmann in capturing the crown four times.

However, as yet there is no reason for Ty Cobb to view the wallops of Williams with alarm. The incomparable Tyrus won the league batting laurels in an even dozen seasons.

Boudreau Was Second

Right behind Williams came two potent reasons why Cleveland won the team batting title, and the pennant. Manager Lou Boudreau was second with .355, and his teammate Dale Mitchell was third with a .336 mark.

Next came Al Zarilla of the St. Louis Browns, with .329, and Barney McCoskey, of the Philadelphia Athletics, with .326.

Williams hit the most doubles, 44, but he failed to capture the home run, runs scored and total base laurels which he took down in 1947.

These honors were grabbed by two sluggers of the New York Yankees. Joe DiMaggio was home run king of the league with 39 circuit wallops and also took total base honors with 355. His colleague, Tom Henrich, scored the most runs, 138, and also led in triples, with 14.

Dillinger Repeats

Bob Dillinger, the speed demon of the St. Louis Browns, repeated as stolen base champion. He bagged 28 sacks, which was six under his 1947 total. And he collected the most total hits, with 207, which gave him sixth place in the batting averages.

The 1948 season saw 17 players who participated in 90 or more games, equal or better the .300 mark. In the previous year, only 12 regulars gained the charmed circle.

In winning the team batting title, Cleveland hit the .282 mark. This was four points better than the Yankees. The Boston Red Sox were third with a .274 average.

The Indians also hit the most home runs, 155. This was 16 more than the total of the Yankees, who were second in the club round trip department.

Wayland Pioneers Win Fourth Cage Victory In Six Starts

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 11 (Special) —Wayland Pioneers tonight won its fourth basketball victory in six starts, turning back New Mexico Military Institute here 59-33.

D. W. Harkins led the Pioneers scores with 19 points and got good support from "Shorty" Burch, who poured 14 points through the hoops. Oifle led the visitors with 11.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

One of the top professional grid contests of the year is scheduled this afternoon at Chicago, where the defending champion Chicago Cardinals invade the crosstown lair of the Chicago Bears to settle the western division argument in the National Football league. The twin terrors of the Windy city finished their successful campaign against the rest of the pro circuit last weekend and set the stage for the classic today.

The Cardinals are slated as slender favorites, but there isn't an "expert" in the country who can predict the result with any accuracy. As one pro coach recently said, "I don't feel safe unless I'm four touchdowns ahead with less than four minutes to play." It's that kind of game. The Cardinals have a better record this season—they did battle 10 times with out-of-town rivals and whipped them all. The Bears stumbled before Philadelphia's eastern division champs, but licked nine other foes.

The Cardinals will also be out to avenge their only loss, a 28-17 drubbing inflicted by the Bears in October. The Cards' ace passer, Paul Christman, was injured in that tilt and missed most of the regular season. The former Missouri star is reportedly in top shape now, however, and should play an important offensive role today.

On the Texas schoolboy front, Lubbock fans will be interested in a recent release from the den of the San Angelo Bobcats. Head Coach Red Ramsey has lettered 18 players for their service in the 1948 season, and 14 of the gridders will return for competition in 1949. Lettermen include Ends Bernard Petty, Ray Morris, Mike Roberts, Joe Stewart and Joe Van Eblin; Tackles Sam McKnight and Terrell McMillan; Guards Jimmy Watts, Lewis Woodward and Del Roy Jezek; Centers Walter Schleyer and Ed Hartman; Backs Clifford Rowland, Bobby Clatterbuck, Dwight Trice, Pat Hall, Gerald Baker and Bill Gilley. All but McKnight, Jezek, Van Eblin and Morris are eligible next season.

San Angelo, as most fans re-member, defeated the Lubbock Westerners this year by a one-touchdown margin in the second game of the season. The teams fought to 13-13 ties in 1945 and 1947, with Lubbock taking 7-6 wins in 1944 and 1946. San Angelo officials recently reported that Lubbock will play San Angelo at San Angelo in 1949, but a check with local officials showed that the announcement may be incorrect. The Lubbock-San Angelo game contract was completed this season and, at this time, there has been no effort made by officials of either school to renew the pact. If the contract is renewed for another two years, Lubbock will probably have to go to San Angelo in 1949. And that may—or may not—fit into the home-game plans of the Westerner officials.

Just now all Westerner coach-es and athletic team members are interested in the prospect of moving into their new quarters in the field house-gymnasium at Chapman field. Work on the building is nearly completed, with only a few light fixtures, door locks and floor sanding remaining on the construction schedule. The basketball boys will probably get to test their new floor by Thursday or Friday, and will probably move into the locker rooms on the west side of the building within a week or 10 days. Lubbock fans may get to see the Westerners play on their new floor before Christmas.

TJCAC Committee To Consider Protest

CORSICANA, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Texas Junior College Athletic Conference eligibility committee will meet in Waco tomorrow morning to consider eligibility charges filed against Gene Green, halfback with the Wharton County junior college Pioneers by Navarro junior colege.

Ray L. Waller, president of Navarro college, is president of the Conference and reported here today that he had lodged the protest last week.

Much-Honored Former Texas U. Student Reported Seriously Ill

DALLAS, Dec. 11, (AP) — Miss Marjorie Darilek, a much-honored student at the University of Texas from 1942 to 1946, is seriously ill at a hospital here.

Her physician said today that Miss Darilek, a secretary in a Dallas insurance office, is in critical condition from septicemia, a blood stream infection.

Commends Sullivan

On option from Greenville, Rookie Righthand Pitcher Tommy Taylor, jr., of McKinney, Tex., and Infielder William DePetris, address unknown. Neither Taylor nor DePetris have played any professional ball.

Schepps said he expected to return to Texas later this week and would be in Lubbock after the holidays.

"In signing Jackie Sullivan to run the Hubbers for the third straight season, I know I have 'done right' by both the fans of Lubbock and Manager Sullivan himself," Schepps said. "Jackie has done a good job and, of course, is one of the better players in the league."

Sullivan won the WT-NM pennant with his Hubbers during his first managerial season in 1947 and finished in third place in 1948.

City Quintets Tied For Lead

Four teams are deadlocked for the lead in the Industrial Basketball league.

Texas Lumbin Bin, Thomas Tinkers, Levelland Refiners and Blue Flame Gas all have won two without defeat to pace the City league. The losers have been Littrell Gulf, Plains Gassers, Hoyt's Furniture and Spade.

Crawford Electric and Sanders Motors each have won two to top the Industrial loop, while Furr Foodmen and Trammell-Magnolia each have lost two. In between are the Cowhands, Rigney Auto Parts, Brown-Layco and Hilton Hotel with a victory and a loss apiece.

This week's play, which will conclude the season until January 3, is as follows: Monday, O. L. Slaton gym, Furr vs. Rigney and Trammell vs. Sanders; Thursday, Crawford vs. Cowhands and Hilton vs. Brown-Layco. City league, Monday, high school gym, Spade vs. Hoyt, and Plains vs. Levelland; Thursday, Tinkers vs. Blue Flame and Littrell vs. Lumber Bin.

Navy basketball teams have won 26 games and lost eight since Ben Carnevale took over the coaching job before the 1946-47 campaign.

LeBaron Sparks Tiger Attack

H-SU Ties College Of Pacific, 35-35

LODI, Calif., Dec. 11, (AP)—In a display of razzle-dazzle football, the College of Pacific and Hardin-Simmons university fought to a 35-35 standoff before 12,000 spectators in the second annual Grape Bowl football game here today.

The Tigers, behind 21-0 at the half, surged back for five second half scores and were on the one-foot line when the game ended.

Eddie LeBaron's passing and ball handling sparked the COP attack, with Halfback Don Hardy in a brilliant running display. Hardy went for three scores on handoffs from LeBaron.

For the Cowboys, "Hooks" Davis romped for two scores and John Ford tossed to End Bob McChesney for three touchdowns.

Hardin-Simmons scored with but a minute to play in the first quarter with Davis going over from the six yard line to conclude a 70 yard march. Paul Bailey converted, his first of five successful attempts.

In the third period, Hardy scored for COP on a double spinner from LeBaron which started 18 yards out. It was followed by the first of five conversions by Bill McFarland.

BOWLING

The VFW held its lead in the Civic Bowling league this week by winning games on forfeit from the last-place Optimists, while the second-place Exchange club won two of three games from the ABC.

The Jaycees dropped two of three games to the Lions and the Lubbock Bowling club made a clean sweep of three games in its match with the Kiwanis club.

The Standings

| Teams | W | L |
|---|---|---|
| VFW | 26 | 14 |
| Exchange | 24 | 15 |
| ABC | 23 | 16 |
| Jaycees | 21 | 18 |

TRIBE REPLACES MANAGER

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. (INS)—The Cleveland Indians today replaced Pat Ankenman with Joe Vosmik, former ace Indian outfielder, as manager of their Oklahoma City, Okla., farm term in the Texas league. Vosmik piloted Dayton to second place in the central league last season.

NBC Names Tourney Dates

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 11 (AP)—The National Baseball Congress in session here today announced the definite dates of the fourteenth annual Texas Championship non-Professional Baseball Tournament to be July 29 to August 12.

Jerry Feille of San Antonio, Texas state commissioner, announced that the event would be staged in San Antonio for the first time in history, having been transferred from Waco where it had been staged for the past 13 years.

Feille said Texas had been zoned to stage 16 district tournaments to qualify champions into the state tournament. A maximum of eight affiliated NBC leagues will qualify leaders of July 1 standing into the 32-team state tournament bracket under the double defeat system.

Feille announced that the Texarkana district tournament, which was in operation the past season, would be staged at Burnett Park, home of the Texarkana Big State club.

The new Texas commissioner announced to NBC delegates here that he was devoting complete time in development of the sandlot program.

Champions Come From All Walks Of Life In Golden Gloves Fights

Fort Worth Has Had 14 Champions

FORT WORTH, Dec. 11 (Special) — A champion may come from anywhere. In the twelve years that the Golden Gloves amateur boxing program has been run in Texas, boys from all parts of the State and all walks of life have won crowns.

High school boys, college men, soldiers, sailors and workers of many kinds, including bakers, butchers and candlepower makers have come from the Panhandle to the Spindletop neighborhood, from El Paso to Tyler in deep East Texas.

Fort Worth, capitol city of the Golden Gloves in Texas, leads with 14 champs. Dallas is second with 12. Houston and Beaumont have taken home nine championships each.

A pair of National champions—Morris Corona and Dick Menchaca of Port Arthur—collected five of Beaumont's championships. Corona, a refinery worker, won once as a lightweight, three times as a welter. Menchaca won a bantamweight crown while a high school junior.

Abilene ranks next with six championships and El Paso, Wichita Falls, Austin, Lubbock and Amarillo all have collected five Temple and San Antonio both have racked up four titles, Galveston and Corpus Christi have won three and Tyler has produced two State champs. San Angelo, Brownwood, Camp Hood, Camp Fannin and Bryan Army Air Field all have backed one champion.

EIGHT TEAMS IN EACH BRACKET

Annual New Deal Invitational Cage Tourney Starts Thursday

NEW DEAL, Dec. 11. (Special)—The annual New Deal Invitational Basketball tournament will be held this week on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with teams entered in both a boys and girls bracket.

Eight teams will battle it out in each division, with both a championship and consolation bracket for boys and girls. Finals in each division will be played Saturday afternoon and night.

The eight teams in the boys bracket, which is divided into halves, include Shallowater, Southland, Abernathy and Anton in the top half and New Deal, Kress, Lorenzo and Post in the lower.

Four Games Thursday

The eight teams in the girls bracket, also divided into halves, include Abernathy, Shallowater, Southland and New Deal in the top half, and Post, Kress, Anton and Lorenzo in the lower.

The tournament opens with four games on Thursday night. Abernathy plays Shallowater in a girls game at 6:15 p. m., followed by Shallowater against Southland in a boys game at 7:20 p. m. The following girls game is Southland against New Deal at 8:25 p. m. and the concluding game is Abernathy vs. Anton in a boys game at 9:30 p. m.

Eight games are scheduled for Friday, two first round games in both the boys and girls brackets, two consolation round games in the boys bracket and two championship games in the girls bracket.

Events Friday open at 1 p. m., when Post and Kress girls play, followed at 2:05 p. m. by Anton vs. Lorenzo in a girls game. New Deal plays Kress at 3:10 p. m. and Lorenzo plays at 4:20 p. m. in two boys games.

Night schedules Friday begin with two consolation round games in the girls bracket at 8:10 and 9:15 p. m.

Saturday's play winds up the tournament, with two girls consolation round games starting at 11 a. m. The final game in the tourney will be the boys championship at 9:30 p. m.

Idalou Seniors To Sponsor Independent Cage Tourney

IDALOU, Dec. 11 (Special) — An independent basketball tourney, sponsored by the Idalou High school senior class, will open here Monday night with three top games.

In the first night pairings Crawford Electric will battle the Lumber Bin five, Blue Flame Gas will test Littrell Service and Lorenzo will meet Layco-Brown.

Big Six To Employ Full-Time 'Czar'

DENVER, Dec. 11. (INS)—Representatives of the Mountain States (Big Six) Conference today elected to hire a full-time "czar" to supervise all athletic activities of the member schools.

The decision to adopt the commissioner plan—at an expected cost of $18,000 a year—was approved unanimously at the semi-annual meeting of the Big Six in Denver.

Present in addition to athletic directors of the Conference, were the presidents of Denver, Wyoming and Utah universities and Colorado A&M Conference faculty representatives were empowered to act from Utah State and Brigham Young university on the issue—considered the most important to confront the Conference in several years.

Dr. King Hendricks of Utah State, Conference secretary, said the new commissioner "will have broad discretionary powers to administer and enforce policies of the conference."

His duties, Hendricks said, will include policing of eligibility, compiling conference records, supervise officiating, plan athletic meets, and act as public relations officer.

Getz To Meet Trout For Wrestling Title

A battle for the southwestern junior heavyweight wrestling crown will feature the regular Wednesday night mat card at Sled Allen's arena, with Champion Dick Trout of Carbondale, Ill., defending his title against tough Al Getz of Pittsburgh.

Trout lifted the championship from Wayne Martin in a bout last week at Amarillo, and Getz immediately challenged Trout to a championship bout here. Trout accepted, and promoter Sled Allen announced that the match will be limited to one hour, with a two of three falls decision.

Milt Olsen of Racine, Wisconsin, is scheduled to tangle with Eddie Gideon of Montgomery, Ala., in the two of three falls first main event. Olsen reportedly has held the Texas junior heavyweight crown for several years and has an impressive record in this area.

Dory Funk, the veteran grappler from Indiana, tangles with Olan Boynton of Amarillo in the 45-minute limit first event. Boynton, one of the most improved wrestlers in the West Texas circuit, is seeking an impressive win in order to boost his chances for a spot on a feature bout.

AREA FLEET TEAM WINS

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 11 (AP) — Trailing until the last quarter, the U. S. Pacific area fleet champs defeated an All-Star Mexican team 33-26 to win the second annual Silver Bowl football game. The Mexican All-Stars licked Randolph Field 24-19 in the Silver Bowl game last year.

Dallas Bowlers Lead In Match

A pair of Dallas bowlers, Bill Lilliard and Don McClure, were well ahead of E. A. Christensen and Ben Brown of Lubbock in a special 10-game bowling match being conducted here at the Lubbock Bowling club.

Lilliard, one of the foremost bowlers in Texas, rolled a 237-1,018, but yielded high game and high series to McClure, who had a 243-1,060. The Lubbock bowlers were topped by Brown, who had a 216-987, while Christensen had a 215-917.

Lilliard-McClure broke into a lead in the first game and never were headed thereafter, although Christensen won two frames over Lilliard.

The match continues today at 2 p. m. at the club, with the public invited to watch. It is the first of a home and home series that will be rolled between the two teams.

John Waller, sponsor of the Dallas bowlers, said that he and a group of bowling enthusiasts from Dallas, who drove here for the matches, were tremendously impressed with Lubbock sportsmanship. He declared that everything had been done to make them feel at home here and they received the best treatment ever accorded them.

A special singles match between Don Alexander of Big Spring and George Tate of Lubbock will be rolled this afternoon at 1. The bowlers will roll 10 games at the same time the doubles match is in progress.

Scores yesterday were as follows:

|---|---|
| McClure, | 182-226-203-206-243-1,060 |
| Lilliard, | 206-191-210-237-174-1,018 |

Keeps Job As Athletic Director

Stuhldreher Resigns Coaching Position

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 11. (AP)—Harry Stuhldreher gave up his post as head fotball coach at the University of Wisconsin today. But the surrender didn't cost him much.

The little general, under heavy fire all season, resigned in a dramatic move but kept his position as athletic director and his $12,000 yearly salary.

"The double job was getting too tough," he said.

The board of regents agreed and sent university president E. B. Fred out into the marketplace to find a successor.

Stuhldreher's 1948 team wound up in the Big Nine cellar with a single conference victory. It won one other game in nine starts. The "good-bye Harry" boys, who unfurled their banner in the mid-season Yale game—which favored Wisconsin lost, 17-7—spearheaded a statewide assault on his position.

Come Before Referendum

His resignation came four days before a student referendum on his status. But, Stuhldreher said, that had nothing to do with his decision, which actually was made last Tuesday. Anyway, the vote was called off. It ended the longest current tenure in the conference. His teams won 45 games, lost 62 and tied six. His top team was the 1942 squad, which won eight, tied one and lost one, finishing second to Ohio State in Western Conference standings.

Names of possible successors mentioned in alumni circles include Paul Brown, coach of the All-America Conference Cleveland Browns; Lisle Blackbourn Sr., present Wisconsin backfield coach; Vince Gavre, former Badger star and freshman coach who now is football coach at Western (Colorado State) college; Win O. Brockmeyer, Wausau (Wis.) prep coach who has compiled a phenomenal record.

CITATION WINS TANFORAN

SAN BRUNO, Cal., Dec. 11. (INS)—Citation romped home the winner in the $50,000 added Tanforan handicap this afternoon, surprising nobody in the crowd of 25,000 fans who had made the undisputed 3-year-old champion an odds-on favorite. Stepfather was second and See-Tee-See third.

LSC To Hold Sports Meet At Nacogdoches

DALLAS, Dec. 11 (AP) — The Lone Star Conference decided today to hold its 1949 track, golf and tennis meet at Stephen F. Austin college, Nacogdoches, May 13 and 14.

The Conference, holding its winter meeting here, decided that its spring baseball schedule would be a double round robin among the members, as nearly as could be arranged.

The admission of Hardin College, Wichita Falls, into the Conference yesterday came too late for Hardin to participate in the full basketball schedule, although it will meet some Conference members. Hardin will take full part beginning with spring athletic events.

The conference adopted a new constitution and shelved a proposal to boost the guarantees on football games to $5,000. The guarantees now vary with lesser amounts.

Fisherman's Paradise May Be Found Off Mexico's West Coast

Trout Abound In Coastal Waters

By HART STILWELL
Special Staff Writer

Today I'd like to tell you Texas fishermen about a place where you can perform miracles with your bass casting tackle if you have the time and money to take a little journey to the west coast of Mexico.

Actually, the trip isn't as involved as it might seem. All you need do is fly to Arizona, or San Diego, then fly a few hundred miles down the west coast of Mexico and get the pilot to let you off at the little town of Los Mochis, in the state of Sinaloa.

Then you go hunt up Neil Ward and tell him I said to put you in the fish.

From there on out all you need is plenty of plugs, a rod that will stand the gaff, and a little extra line.

You will do your fishing out from a tiny seacoast town of Topolobampo. And if you want to inhale a little dramatic history of stirring events of years gone by, why Neil Ward is your man. His mother and father, who were then little children, were among the first people to reach the desolate coast of Topolobampo bay back in 1887 when a small band of visionaries in search of a site for a brand new utopia sailed into the beautiful bay.

For more than ten years these American "pilgrims" battled almost unbelievable hardship in an effort to make their dream come alive. They failed, as have all people who set out to establish utopias in man's relationship to man. The colony disbanded, and most left. Neil's parents stuck it out, so he has spent all of his fifty-odd years, except for a little time out for school in this country, at Topolobampo. And if it were not for the fact that there are perhaps millions of fish in the waters around Topolobampo, Neil would know all them by their first names. For he has fished since he was a boy, back in the days when he joined the Indians in their dugouts and speared fish by the light of a pitahaya fire suspended in a wire basket at the bow of the dugout.

You find two remarkable small game fish—shore feeders—at Topolobampo. And since the country is virtually unfished, why you can get into fishing such as a man dreams about but seldom encounters.

The two shore feeders that really give you a thrill are the corbina and pargo. There is a third—and even better fish in some ways. This is the snook, or pike, as Texans call him. But I was there in the rainy season and the pike weren't around the places I fished.

The corbina is the same fish as the Atlantic weakfish, which we in Texas call speckled trout, except for the absence of spots. Also the corbina is a little larger on the average. I sat in a skiff and hooked five corbina in five casts, and landed four of them. They ran from seven to ten pounds. I left because the xexenes, a fierly little stinging gnat, drove me away.

The corbina is truly a fine fighting fish, and it is an amazing fact that few people fish for him except at the northern tip of the Gulf of California.

Before encountering the corbina,

FISHERMAN'S PARADISE—In the accompanying article, Texas fishermen are told about a place off the west coast of Mexico where they may perform miracles with bass casting tackle. The spot is out from the tiny seacoast town of Topolobampo in the state of Sinaloa. And there you can find two remarkable game fish called corbina and pargo. The unidentified citizen of Mexico shown above holds up some everyday specimens of pargo.

Stranahan Keeps Lead In Tourney

MIAMI, Dec. 11 (INS)—Amateur Frank Stranahan maintained a two-stroke advantage over his nearest professional competitor in the Miami Open today despite a mighty challenge from Melvin (Chick) Harbert who cracked the course record with an 18-hole third-round score of 62.

Stranahan, the wealthy Toledo, O links artist—who has been on top from the start of the $10,000 tournament—finished the 54-hole mark with a 10-under-par 200.

He carded 68 to add to his previous two 66's.

But the real spectacle of the third session of play was Harbert. The chunky Detroit pro chose a rainy day to outshine every great professional who ever toured the Miami Springs country club course.

In Line For Prize

He had matched par for the first two rounds and his record-shattering, eight-under-par 62 on the third jaunt notched him solidly in the runner-up slot and placed him first in line for a shot at the big prize money—since amateur Stranahan can only get a trophy for his efforts.

Harbert's total for three rounds was 202.

Herman Barron, of White Plains, N. Y., was in third place with a 206, four strokes behind Harbert.

Two Ohioans—Herman Keiser, of Akron, and Toney Penna, of Cincinnati—were tied for fourth in the Open tournament. They fell behind Harbert and wound up with 207's.

Durocher To Face Possible Charges Of Illegal Practice

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (INS)—Leo Durocher goes on the slightly-worn carpet for the second time in less than two years Tuesday, faced with possible charges of illegal baseball tampering. The carpet-call comes as a florid sidelight to the annual major league meetings.

The meetings open officially in Chicago Monday morning and will end with a joint session of the American and National leagues on Wednesday.

By the time the meetings begin, however, much news may have been made, since trade-minded major leaguers began assembling in Chicago as early as Friday night, after attending the minor league meetings in Minneapolis.

By the same token, by the time the meetings end Wednesday, nobody may care much what has taken place—if the Happy Chandler-Leo Durocher bombshell explodes with anything like the violence that 19 months ago saw Durocher suspended for a year for conduct detrimental to the game.

Durocher, as manager of the New York Giants, will be called before Commissioner Chandler to help supply evidence in the case of Freddy Fritzsimmons, ex-pitcher and now a coach, whose recent transfer from the Boston Braves to the Giants set a new outdoor record for the distance.

Banquet Honors Petersburg Team

PETERSBURG, Dec. 11 (Special)—Approximately 125 persons attended the annual football banquet at the American Legion hall here Friday honoring team members of the Petersburg High school buffaloes.

Principal speaker for the event was Coach Frank Kimbrough, of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon. Following his talk, he showed a motion picture of the WTSTC-Houston university Homecoming game which was played at Canyon this fall.

Toastmaster at the banquet was M. G. Moreland, superintendent of Petersburg schools, who also introduced guests. Invocation was asked by Leland Aiton.

The football team and their dates were introduced by Coach Hood. Songs were presented by Robert Fullingim and Jimmy Fullingim.

Rice To Play Clemson, New Mexico For First Time In '49

HOUSTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Rice Institute next year will play Clemson and New Mexico university for the first time in football history, athletic director Jess Neely announced today.

The Houston Southwest Conference school opens its 1949 schedule here September 24 against Clemson, where Neely formerly was head football coach. New Mexico comes here two weeks later, replacing Southern California on the Rice schedule.

Neely left Clemson for Rice shortly after he brought the Southern Conference team to Dallas on January 1, 1940, to play in the Cotton Bowl.

The 1949 Rice schedule: Clemson at Houston, September 24; Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, October 1; New Mexico at Houston, October 8; Southern Methodist at Dallas, October 15; Texas at Austin, October 22; Texas Tech at Houston, October 29; Arkansas at Houston, November 5; Texas A. & M. at Houston, November 12; Texas Christian at Fort Worth, November 19; Baylor at Houston, November 26.

QUANTICO WINS TITLE

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 11 (AP)—The Quantico Marines, east coast champions, won the All-Navy football championship today by defeating the San Diego, Calif., marines 21-0.

SWC Group Bans Expansion For At Least Three Years

ret ballot on whether they should place a limit on when the question should be considered again. The members this time voted approval to a resolution that stated that no applications should be considered for a period of three years. This means that the earliest Tech could again apply for admission would be the December meeting in 1951.

And representatives of Texas Tech felt that they definitely should continue their fight for admission, with the hope that some day there would be an affirmative vote in their favor.

Stewart, in announcing conference action, said:

"A motion was made to hold a secret ballot on the question, 'shall the Southwest Conference expand at this time?'. The result of the secret ballot showed that there was not the required majority."

"Another motion immediately was made that another secret ballot should be held on the question, 'shall the conference express its desire that it should not receive any applications for membership for a period of three years?' This ballot was passed."

Applications for membership in the Southwest Conference had been received from Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons and the University of Houston, the later coming at the last minute Friday night.

Members of the Southwest Conference, each a faculty representative, voting on the motions included D. W. Williams of Texas A. & M., Dean Robert A. Deflar of Arkansas, Dr. J. W. Bragg of Baylor, Dr. H. E. Bray of Rice, Dr. E. D. Mouzon of Southern Methodist university, Dr. Henry Hardt of Texas Christian university, and Dr. Vernon Shuhardt of Texas university.

It was believed that each faculty representative had been instructed how to vote long before arrival in Dallas for the annual fall meeting. And while there was no way of knowing how each member voted, since ballots were secret and unmarked other than yes and no, it was felt that three schools had voted against expansion.

Thus the Southwest Conference remains in its present size of seven members. Had Tech, or any other institution been admitted, it would have been the first time since 1922 that a change had taken place. Texas Christian university was admitted at that time, 26 years ago, to bring the conference up to its present size.

Stewart said at the press conference this noon that while the conference had requested that no applications be submitted for three years, it did not mean that institutions could not submit applications during this period. But, he also warned that he felt certain they would receive no consideration and would be thrown out.

Asked whether he thought the conference might look more favorably on expansion three years from now, Stewart said that it was too remote and indefinite to answer. He pointed out that the conference members allegedly had spent six months examining closely the question of expansion and apparently were not satisfied that it was the best move. He also pointed out that they did not wish to spend that much time again, believing that not enough new information would come to light to make it worthwhile.

Stewart also declared that three years from now, every present member of the board might be off it and an entirely new slate serving. Of the seven faculty members on the board today, only one of them was present in 1941 when Tech's fifth application was turned down. That was Dr. Bray of Rice.

Stewart said Friday night that this was not considered a new application by Texas Tech, despite the fact that a formal letter of application, signed by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president, had been submitted. And despite the fact that since 1941, Tech and Lubbock both have grown in size and prestige.

Actually, West Texas again received double rejection by the members of the Southwest Conference. In voting not to expand, they also voted, in effect, that they were well satisfied with their present situation.

Despite the fact that an uneven schedule might be caused by Tech's admission, with three games at home and four away, or vica versa, each year, a minimum of four SWC teams will continue to play Tech. Next year's schedule already has Texas, Texas A.&M., Rice and probably Baylor. In addition, two other conference schools have approached Tech, voluntarily, for games. It is highly possible that Tech will, in 1951, be playing six of the seven teams.

But the repulsion of Texas Tech also brought out, unofficially, a sentiment that Tech was making greater strides towards admission. George White, sports editor of The Dallas Morning News, said that Tech had made wonderful gains since 1941 and that, in his opinion, it was merely a question of time before they were admitted.

There also was the feeling that Tech never would be admitted until they were the only institution requesting admission, since the conference probably never will expand by more than one member. How Texas Tech will go about freezing out other probable applicants is a problem that does not appear easy to solve.

Best solution to the problem appears to be the receipt of an invitation from the conference directed to Tech, which, after the meetings yesterday and today, seems remote. To be blunt, the conference does not seem to want to expand.

Optimism that prevailed Friday night, following "cloakroom discussions" with individual members of the conference, turned to disappointment today. It was written plainly on the faces of Morgan, Jennings and McMillan. Stewart himself had given the impression that there was considerable feeling within the conference that they should expand.

Support within the conference had apepared to be centered with SMU, Texas A&M and Baylor, with Rice and Arkansas neutral. Texas would not lift a finger on Tech's behalf and TCU sentiment could not be learned.

What Texas Tech's official course of action will be now, is a matter for conjecture, Jennings declared flatly that the board of directors' decision, in 1941, never again to make application to the conference, was a mistake. He was of the opinion that Tech should continue to meet SWC opponents in as many sports as possible and to keep on with efforts to gain membership. He stated that, so far as he was concerned, it would be the greatest mistake possible to make any resolution which said that Tech never would make formal application again.

Would Continue Campaign

McMillan felt that considerable progress had been made and that Tech never should let up its efforts to gain membership. He said that there were definite indications that the conference slowly was coming to the realization that Tech would be a valuable member.

Jennings also declared that Tech should remain a member of the Border Conference, continuing its efforts to win in every sport while still keeping the Southwest Conference as its goal. He was entirely opposed to leaving the Border loop, or trying to form a conference of another nature.

Coaches and athletic directors from the Lone Star Conference and junior college circuits, who also were here for meetings, expressed regret at the action of the Southwest Conference. They were outspoken in their sentiment that the SWC had done an injustice to West Texas. They also thought that West Texas would not take kindly the blunt refusal of that great section of the state. They believed, including sport officials such as Whitey Baccus of SMU, Earl Dayvault of Texas, Ab Curtis of Texas and others, that Tech deserved membership in the SWC and should have been voted in.

The Lubbock delegation returned home tonight, disappointed and, to a certain degree, crushed. They had come here with high hopes and expectations of becoming legitimate members of the Southwest's leading conference. They returned home disillusioned, but still determined to continue their efforts. The year 1948 will not be forgotten on the South Plains.

Fisherman's

I had battled pargo for two hours.

The pargo is a member of the snapper family, and he attains a huge size. However, those you find in bays range from a pound to four or five pounds, and they can be handled all right on bass casting tackle except for the difficulty at times in keeping them out of the mangroves which line the shores of most bays in that area.

I managed to get into a school of pargo that continued feeding at the surface and striking my lure greedily for more than an hour. After catching twenty-five or thirty of them on a spoon, I tied on a small bass plunker and found they would bang into it with all the abandon of a big old bass.

When I left the fish were still striking.

I tell you about the Topolobampo-Los Mochis country because I happened to fish it. But the same situation exists at scores of other spots along that vast stretch of relatively unfished shoreline. It is only at such places as Guaymas and Acapulco and Mazatlan that there is heavy fishing, hence the fishing for shore feeders, including pike, is better at other spots.

The pike swarm into the mouths of the rivers during the dry season, which extends from November through May, and a friend at Los Mochis told me they had no trouble loading a boat with big pike trolling in the mouth of the Fuerte river near Los Mochis, during the dry season.

Then if you want bigger game, why all you have to do is climb aboard a bigger boat and head for the majestic rock, called Farallon, which stands about fourteen miles offshore. There you get your fill of hanging and landing tuna, dolphin, roosterfish, mackerel and other such game, and if you want to let a bait down to the bottom, you bring up the strangest looking creatures I ever saw—huge members of the grouper and snapper families.

Roosevelt High Cage Teams Win First Place In Tournev

Roosevelt High school cage teams swept first place honors in the Roosevelt basketball tournev Saturday, as the boys' five edged Shallowater, 27-24, and the girls dropped Whiteface, 33-27. Both tilts were for the division championships in the meet.

Lorenzo's girls took third place in their bracket by nosing out Shallowater, 26-23, while the Lorenzo boys topped the Lubbock Cowhands, 36-26, for the other third spot of the meet.

Three Red Raiders Make Second Team

poll conducted by the Associated Press the coaches expressed the opinion that both Davis and White are better ball carriers and open field runners.

Wendt was second team quarterback in 1946, missed last year's list, and is again on the second team.

Davis led the nation in rushing in 1946. White is the Conference's second highest scorer but does not appear among the other statistical leaders. Both are sophomores and will be eligible for the next two years.

Texas Tech's End Billy Kelley and Guard Dan Pursel are the only players in the league to receive AP All-America honorable mention. Both are on the first All-Conference team.

Five men are named to the No. 1 squad for the second year in a row: End Bob McChesney and Halfback Davis of Hardin-Simmons; Tackle Ray Evans and Guard Ernest Keily of Texas Mines; and Fullback Rudy Krall of New Mexico university.

McChesney is the loop's top pass receiver. Evans has been described as the best lineman in the league.

Tackle Marshall Gettys of Tech, Center Art Converse of Arizona and Quarterback John Ford of Hardin-Simmons appear on the honor roll for the first time. Coaches consider Ford the best field leader and forward passer in the league.

Voting Was Close

Vince Cisterna of Flagstaff dropped back from last year's first team to the second squad for 1948. Tackle Leon Cooper of Hardin-Simmons and Fullback Charlie Hall of Arizona repeat on the second group for the second year in a row.

Tackle Harry Varner of Arizona was on the first team in 1946, the second in 1947 and this year is given honorable mention.

Dr. Larsen said the voting for every position was very close. Few points separated first team members from the second squad and honorable mention list.

First team:

Ends, Robert McChesney, Hardin-Simmons; Billy Kelley, Texas Tech.

Tackles, Raymond Evans, Texas Mines; Marshall Gettys, Texas Tech.

Guards, Ernest Keily, Texas Mines; Dan Pursel, Texas Tech.

Center, Arthur Converse, Arizona.

Quarterback, John Ford, Hardin Simmons.

Halfback, Wilton Davis, Hardin Simmons.

Halfback, Wilford White, Tempe.

Fullback, Rudy Krall, New Mexico.

Ends, Vincent Cisterna, Flagstaff; Robert Larsen, Arizona.

Tackles, Leon Cooper, Hardin-Simmons; John Andrews, Texas Tech.

Guards, Roma Moffa, New Mexico; Dorrell McCurry, Texas Tech.

Center, Homer Garrett, West Texas.

Halfback, Fred Wendt, Texas Mines.

Halfback, Pat Bailey, Hardin-Simmons.

Fullback, Charles Hall, Arizona.

Honorable mention— Harry Varner, Arizona (tackle); Joseph Lyden, New Mexico (guard); Cloyce Box, West Texas (quarterback).

through the same thing again, waiting another three, five, ten years, or what have you. Meanwhile Tech grows, loses to second rate powers, has no personality or prestige and hangs onto a dream.

You may live on dreams, but you can't eat 'em. And you can't get first-rate athletes by telling them that you're about to become a member of something of which you aren't. Any two-bit high school boy knows by now that he'll never make All-American by going to Tech. He also knows that the only headlines he'll make will be in Lubbock. He won't be in line for the Heisman trophy, or the lineman-of-the-week, or anything. No less an authority than Harold V. Ratliff of the AP told us Friday that no matter how hard he tried, he never was able to make the great Walter Schlinkman All-American. Texas Tech? Never heard of it.

We aren't speaking for Texas Tech and we're equally sure that what we'd do isn't what Tech would, or will. But if we were, we'd tell the SWC that we'd had enough, that they'd disappointed us for the last time and too long. We'd start out to build a team by the best means available that would compete on a scale equal to or above the SWC teams. We'd cut out teams that don't build—or pay for—stadiums, getting the best non-conference competition we could. We would play other topnotch schools and we would be receptive to bids, such as the recent "feeler" from Santa Clara. And we'd go about building the finest athletic plant in Texas. But, as we said, we're not Tech and we're not speaking for 'em.

Waco's Bobo Patton started the first Waco touchdown drive by taking a Texarkana punt on the 20 and running it back to the 30.

The drive ended with Parma going over from the two foot line. Patton kicked the extra point.

Texarkana came back strong. Jerry Norton, J. W. Arndall, and Wayne Wall drove from the Texarkana 22 to the Waco 25, where a penalty and a tightening Waco defense ended the threat.

Waco's Parma scored again in the second quarter, and took Claude Kincannon's pass from the 26 yard line to count again at the end of a 78-yard drive in the third period. Patton kicked one extra point, missed another.

Texarkana started a rally in the third period when Rupert Cooper, Texarkana back, intercepted Kincannon's pass and ran it to the Texarkana 36. J. W. Arndall ripped round right end to the Waco 40 and was roughed when he fell out of bounds. Waco was assessed a 15-yard penalty. Norton passed to End Bobby Blair for the touchdown. Norton's kick was good.

Production Cut Back In Some Areas; Employment Curtailed

(By The United Press)

Scattered industrial layoffs and production curtailments were disclosed in a nationwide survey today.

The census bureau reported that the nation's total employment dropped below 60,000,000 persons last month for the first time since last May.

Total employment in November was reported at 59,893,000, compared with 60,13,000 the month before.

A survey by United Press disclosed a sprinkling of layoffs in some areas, but most of them were ascribed to localized conditions By contrast, many areas reported no curtailment, and some reported increased employment.

Clothing Industry Tight

The Pennsylvania unemployment compensation bureau reported that the men's clothing industry in Philadelphia was "shut down tight" because of over-production for the Christmas season. About 2,000 workers were laid off.

Industry sources said there is a normal slump at this time of year, but ordinarily only a couple of hundred of workers would be idled.

At Stamford, Conn., the Manufacturers' council reported increasing unemployment in the Stamford - Greenwich industrial area. Extensive curtailment was reported in the watch-making industry at Waterbury, Conn.

Business leaders attributed the curtailment to competition from the Swiss watch industry. The U S. Time Corp., laid off 2,000 of its 3,000 workers. Substantial curtailments also were reported by Seth Thomas, Benrus and Lux watch.

The Shick Co., at Stamford, announced it would dismiss temporarily 210 workers on Dec. 17 and cut its work week from 40 to 32 hours. Company spokesmen said anticipated sales had fallen off.

There were some indications of a slackening in the manufacture of home appliances. At Cleveland, O., the Apex Electric Co., which makes washers, ironers and vacuum cleaners, had laid off 300 workers .

The company said it will lay off 400 more at its Cleveland and Sandusky, O., plants Jan. 1. Company officials blame renewed government restrictions on installment buying.

At Clyde, O., the Clyde Porcelain Steel Corp., gave temporary dismissal notices to 400 of its 1,500 workers because of curtailed output. The firm makes porcelain for the Bendix Home Appliance Co., and said the layoffs were due to a lack of orders.

In the Pittsburgh industrial area, some slackening of coal production was reported. Deep pit commercial mines had cut the work week to five days instead of six or seven.

Bank Gains Dollar / Bill When Bandits Bungle Stickup Job

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, Ga., Dec. 11 — Three bandits really gummed the works in a stickup attempt at the First State bank here. In fact, they did so badly the bank netted $1.

Three well-dressed men entered the bank yesterday while a fourth accomplice called for the teller by telephone. While she talked, two of the men raised their overcoats to shield the activities of the third. He fished a stick from his coat sleeve and attached a piece of chewing gum.

A curious woman customer, however raised on tiptoe and saw the man picking at the bank's cash till. She whispered to a vice-president. The men heard her and fled. One man who had pulled out a dollar bill as if to ask for change left the dollar behind.

Two Pennsylvania Oil Firms Slash Prices For Crude

BRADFORD, Pa., Dec. 11 (AP)—Two Pennsylvania oil companies slashed crude prices today. An oversupply was listed as the cause.

The Joseph Seep purchasing agency of the South Penn Oil Co. cut prices of Pennsylvania crude 50 cents a barrel.

The Valvoline Pipelines of Freedom, Pa., reduced the price of its Zanesville crude 30 cents a barrel. It will sell for $3.65 a barrel.

South Penn's price of Pennsylvania grade crude in the Bradford-Allegany districts was cut from $5 to $4.50 a barrel.

Christmas Holidays For Schools Slated

After a week of lessons interspersed with Christmas programs, students of Lubbock public schools will be dismissed at the close of the school day Friday, Dec. 17, for a two-week holiday vacation, Supt. R. W. Matthews announced Saturday.

Classes will be resumed Monday, Jan. 3, 1949.

Numerous Yuletide activities are planned in local schools for this week.

Christmas Dinner Set

Special decorations and menus are to be featured in all school cafeterias, Mrs. Dora Nell Carroll, director of cafeterias, has announced. The Christmas theme will be featured daily, mainly in salads and desserts. Thursday all cafeterias will provide, at regular price, a Christmas dinner. Its menu will include chicken-a-la-king on toast, mashed potatoes, buttered English peas, a green-tinted pear with cranberry sauce, hot rolls, butter, milk, and cherry revel cake with green icing. Miniature "Santas" made of apples are to be featured during the week in various cafeterias.

Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, at 3:30 o'clock, the Parent-Teacher council will present "Why the Chimes Rang," with a cast of Senior High dramatics students directed by D. M. Howell. The play will be in the Senior High auditorium, and Mrs. Seth Bertram, P-TA council general chairman, has invited pre-school children and their parents, as well as parents of elementary school children, to attend.

Caroling Planned

Special musical assembly programs will be staged in all junior high schools. Most school rooms plan special parties Friday, and caroling, both in their own buildings and in other buildings, will be done by music classes that day.

At 11 a. m. Friday, Santa Claus, by courtesy of the City Recreation department, will make an appearance at the Special School for Exceptional Children.

All classrooms in elementary schools this week will study ways of safely observing Christmas, using a Christmas safety unit planned by the faculty of George R. Bean school.

Christmas programs on the Lubbock School of the Air will continue this week.

Texas Organized Barbers Seek Support For Price Fixing Bill

FORT WORTH, Dec. 11. (AP) — The organized barbers of Texas are drumming up support for passage of a minimum and maximum price bill by the next session of the legislature.

The proposed legislation would leave the setting of minimum prices to barbers in their own counties. A vote of 75 per cent of the barbers in a county would set prices under control of the state board of barbers' examiners.

Officials Of Area Cities To Meet

Officials of towns and cities in the 30th and 31st state senatorial districts will meet in Plainview at noon Monday to discuss the legislative program advocated by the League of Texas Municipalities, Lubbock officials were advised Saturday.

City Attorney Vaughn Wilson, who has been invited to serve as chairman of a committee from the two districts, will represent Lubbock at Plainview. Other local officials also may attend.

The districts embrace 50 Panhandle and South Plains counties, and representation from most incorporated places is expected at the meeting, according to a communication from Mayor C. A. Huff, of Pampa, who called it and will preside.

Program To Be Discussed

Scheduled for discussion is the 18-point legislative program adopted at the recent El Paso convention of the state league for submission to the regular session of the legislature in January.

The program is far-reaching and contains many controversial features, several pertaining to laws urged by the league which would empower cities to levy new or heavier taxes of many kinds.

One proposal seeks authorization for cities to levy "business taxes on every character of business." This measure, if approved, would allow cities to take a cut of every dollar of business done by every establishment of every kind within its confines.

Another would authorize cities to levy theater admission and amusement taxes, if and when present federal levies are repealed.

A third would empower the state to levy special taxes for the benefit of cities. These taxes would be collected by the state and then split up among cities on a population or similar basis.

The Lubbock city commission has taken no action on the proposed program. Individual members, however, have expressed unqualified opposition to several of the proposals, but approval of some of the others.

GETS QUOTA QUICKLY

MADISON, Wis. (U.P.)—As far as Loren Wilson is concerned, Wisconsin's nine-day deer season ended 10 minutes after it began. The Madison garageman started to hunt at 7 on the morning of opening day. At 7:10 he shot a 160-pound buck. Wisconsin laws permit one deer to a hunter during a season.

Reminder Given To War Dead Families

A reminder to families of men who died while in service during the war concerning refund or cancellation of federal income taxes was issued yesterday by Earl Creel, commander of the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Creel said a law passed at the last session of Congress contains two important provisions for deceased service men who paid or were assessed income taxes.

One of these provides for cancellation of income taxes for the year in which military personnel died while on active duty between Oct. 7, 1941 and Dec. 31, 1947. The other provides for cancellation of unpaid taxes for other years during which men were on active duty in the same period.

Creel's statement, confirmed by Louis B. Barkley, in charge of the internal revenue collector's office here, said claims must be filed before Jan. 1, 1949. The taxes are refundable to next of kin of the deceased, but eligibles were reminded that less than 20 days now remain for filing of claims.

Dat Boy Scoots As "Corpse" Acts Up

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 11. (AP)—A negro hearse driver abandoned his funeral car in the middle of a downtown street last night.

Police said the driver told them this story:

He had just driven off from the funeral home when he heard something in back.

"I got out and went around back to shut the door. I saw something white inside. I closed the door. I opened it again and saw something move. Then I sort of eased off.

"I thought I saw a ghost or something."

Officers found a man asleep inside the hearse. They took him to city jail.

Entrepreneur With Millions Of Tent Stakes Looking For People Who Want Camp Stools

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—I know a man who's got 7,700,000—and he's complaining.

But R. W. ("Rocky") Johnson doesn't have 7,700,000 dollars. He has 7,700,000 tent stakes.

And that's why he's complaining. He's a one-man monopolist with a monopoly nobody seems to want—tent stakes. And Rocky, a Kansas City businessman, owns a mountain of 'em.

Bought At Bargain

Rocky's troubles began last May while he was traveling about the country buying war surplus materials. At New Orleans an official of the War Assets administration told him:

"At Shreveport we've got 8,500,000 surplus tent stakes. It's a real bargain. Think of all the things they could be used for."

They had cost the government $898,000—better than a dime apiece. Rocky got them for a fraction of a cent each.

"But you have to move them out in 90 days," he was warned.

"Eighty-nine days later I got the last of 'em moved to the other side of town by a planing mill," Rocky sighed. "But I was twenty pounds lighter and had 400 new gray hairs.

Industry Not Interested

"Meanwhile, I had been thinking what to do with them. Everybody thought good seasoned oak tent stakes would be fine for a lot of things. So did I. But for what?"

"First I talked to the tent manufacturers," Rocky recalled. "It turned out that 8,500,000 tent stakes were enough to last them 50 years — and they don't buy that far ahead."

How about making them into surveyor's sticks? Too costly. Croquet posts? No market there either. How about turning them into small picket fences? The tent stakes were too heavy and thick.

The only way Rocky has found so far to get out from under his investment is to manufacture his tent stakes into camp stools. Each takes eight pegs and some canvas.

"That left me the job of finding 1,062,500 people who wanted to sit on a camp stool," he said. "So far I've only found 100,000."

Workers At Houston Goodyear Plant Return As Pickets Quit

HOUSTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Approximately 300 workers at the Goodyear synthetic rubber corporation plant near here returned to work today as 20 striking electricians withdrew pickets from the plant.

An official of the Electrical Workers Local 716, AFL, said the withdrawal was made following an agreement for resumption of negotiations over a union demand of a flat 13-cent hourly wage increase.

Other employes at the plant had declined to cross the picket lines the past four days.

KEEP CHRISTMAS MERRY

IF we seem to dwell on the subject of Christmas tragedies, its because each year fire turns the most joyful time of the year into tragedy in hundreds of American homes and we don't want it to happen.

Few people realize that the ordinary Christmas tree is one of the most flammable objects known. It is filled with pitch and resin and once ignited it is very difficult to extinguish. One of the cautions is to turn off the tree lights when no one is in the house. From time to time inspect the tree and see whether any of the needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the location of the lights.

IF decorations are used about the house, do not permit them to be around or near to chairs and other places where people smoke. Keep plenty of ash trays about the house.

Use non-flammable decorations of glass or metal, and "fireproof" snow in decorating your tree for Christmas.

After you have opened your Christmas presents, remove all the gift wrappings and packing materials from your living room and dispose of them.

Let's take care and prevent fire, which is now the leading accidental killer of children in the home, taking the lives of 2000 children under five years of age annually.

SCATTERINGS

THERE is a popular song now, delighting the jukebox trade, which avers that "My darling . . . fluttered and fled like a starling." This is very painful to us. We opine that a starling is one of the ugliest and noisiest of all birds and ones darling should not be compared to it. . . . The couple graduated from New Deal high school. The bride is employed at Zale Jewelry Co. The bridegroom is a farmer.

Through the Coral Doors

Howdy Folks—

As I passed by corner of N & Broadway I spied Santa on the roof of my favorite hangout, surrounded with bright colored packages—and no wonder for when I opened that Coral Door Xmas packages were piled high under that red Xmas tree until I felt there was no more room. This time Santa didn't come down the chimney but had to go up for a place to leave his packages. It'll be no trouble for you to guess where Santa does his shopping once he has deposited one of his beautifully wrapped packages underneath your tree.

I'm still doing some bargain buying behind those Coral Doors but I've got my eye on some of those new 1949 lamps and tables, once my bonus check comes in. Don't tell anyone but I think if I look and wish hard enough my boss will come across before Xmas, and believe me I know a great big surprise I'm buying for the little lady. I tried to talk Bee into putting it under the table, but she says it's too tall and besides a lovely lamp belongs on top of a table, not under it.

Josie and James declare that every night they go home leaving empty places everywhere and that next morning Fredda has them all filled up again with surprising new things — they don't know where they come from. Think I'll be on hand each day so that I won't miss anything.

Beulah has been polishing silver all week and I never saw such an array of elegance—all sizes of trays and bowls from finger bowl size up to huge punch bowls (eggnog may be the better word), tea services and a lot of beautiful old pieces including elaborate kettles with their own burners, English muffin stands and traditional candlesticks.

Incidently, don't let your wife read Decorator Studio's ad—there's a big saving on International sterling silver. She wouldn't let you pass that up—bonus check or not.

See you next week—same place—where Santa does his shopping, corner Broadway & N. Adv.

SMALL EXAGGERATION

CHARLES W. FERGUSON, senior editor of the Reader's Digest, has written a book titled, "A Little Democracy Is A Dangerous Thing," which is receiving excellent reviews from the critics. It is said to be a forceful study of deep political procedure.

We have no doubt that the book is well written and shows thought, because Mr. Ferguson spent many years in a quest for information on what the average individual can do in the matter of public affairs and he is an expressive writer.

Mr. Ferguson was a Lubbock resident at intervals during the years his father, the late Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson was pastor of First Methodist church, and the son was a student at Southern Methodist university. Prior to that he had lived in Amarillo and several towns in the Panhandle, and Amarillo claims him as its own and each time he receives an honor the news is blasted over four or five columns.

BECAUSE we knew him and remember his short stay in the ministry, it amuses us to read that "Ferguson entered the ministry and became a circuit rider in the Northwest Texas conference. When a young minister in small towns he found the financial going fairly rough. One of his possessions was a gasoline lamp, and he often used it for both light and heat."

Before anyone gets out a handkerchief or begins to think of Charlie as a young Lincoln, we'd like to explain that the first appointment he received was to Booker, a small town almost to the Oklahoma line. If there was any "circuit riding" connected with his work, it was done by way of a new coupe he received as a graduation gift a few months before. Less than a year later, Charlie managed to get an appointment to Polytechnic Methodist church as financial secretary.

Perhaps it makes nice reading to say one got ones start as a country preacher, but his former classmates will bear us out that Mr. Ferguson did not enjoy his brief fling as such during his ministry.

WED FIFTY YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Foster of 1909 Thirty-second observed their golden wedding anniversary Dec. 7. Their wedding took place fifty years ago on that date in Sherman. She is the former Lou Maud Payne. After a residence in Howe, the couple moved to Indian Territory before Oklahoma became a state and in 1928 moved to Lubbock. For 18 years Mr. Foster managed a service station and grocery store bearing his name at 3202 Ave. H. He is retired. They are parents of six children, all Lubbock residents, and there are 16 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Children are: Mrs. Lois Adams, Clyde Foster, Mrs. Irene Roberts, Cliff Foster, Mrs. Margaret Atkins and Mrs. Altha Haynie.

WED FIFTY YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Sandlin, above, who were married Dec. 11, 1898, will be complimented today at a reception in the home of Mrs. Joe Baldridge.

Mr. And Mrs. Sandlin Will Be Honored With Reception

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Sandlin on their Golden Wedding anniversary, their daughter and her husband and three sons and their wives are giving a reception this afternoon in the home of Mrs. Joe Baldridge, 2105 Seventeenth. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Sandlin and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sandlin, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dewey, Denver, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sandlin of California.

Receiving hours will be from 2 until 4 o'clock.

Assist In Hospitalities

The house party will be made up of Mrs. G. A. Sandlin's four sisters, Mesdames R. I. Tubbs, C. A. Burrus, L. G. Haynes and J. T. Trigg, and Mesdames Ted Waldrip, Bill Henry, Bill Reynolds, Joe E. Baldridge, T. E. Patterson, Odell Hughett and Lawrence Haynes; Miss Carol Jean Sandlin, Ruth and Mary Carolyn Haynes, Kay Sandlin and Shirley Dewey.

The refreshment table will be centered with an arrangement of gold mums and ribbon, flanked with gold tapers. The traditional cake will be served with coffee.

Mr. Sandlin and Miss Alta C. Jones were married Dec. 11, 1898 at her home near Bee House, Coryell. He began farming there but moved to Lubbock in 1902. Later they moved farther west, but returned here in 1927 and now reside in the Carlisle community.

Dinner Party Will Be Given Thursday For Adult Department

A new Sunday school department organized at First Baptist church and to be known as Adult 4 will attend a Christmas dinner party Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the annex in the 1300-block on Main.

A program and games will be diversions. Each member is to bring food, clothing or toys to be given to needy families as this month's departmental benevolence.

Membership in the classes is made up of young married couples who will resign when the women reach thirty. The department will meet in the West annex, Mrs. W. L. Patillo's home at 1505 Main which has been rented by the church.

The classes consist of three women's classes: Fidelis, with Mrs. Earl Hobbs as teacher; Evangel, which is selecting a teacher; Falisha, with Mrs. J. J. Willingham as teacher; two men's classes with Bill Mead and Rev. Paul Mason as teachers.

Gradie Bownds is acting secretary and Mrs. Bownds is acting department pianist.

A nursery will be available, it was announced.

Last Dance Prior To Holidays Scheduled

Square dances sponsored by the Lubbock Square Dance Federation are attracting large numbers of out-of-town dancers, who are always welcome. Last of these dances before the holidays will be Thursday night at the Playmor, with dancing from 8 to 11. Lee Searsy and the "Plains Riders" furnish music for square and old-time couple dances.

Out-of-town callers attending are asked to make themselves known so that they may be put on the program.

Price of admission is 75c for guests and 50c for members.

No further dances will be held by the Federation until after the first of the year. Classes held at the American Legion hall will also be resumed shortly after Jan. 1.

Today's Town Talk

ONE OF the social events of this week was a tea given Saturday afternoon between 3 and 6 o'clock in the home of Mrs. R. C. Bennett, 2622 Twenty-second. Hostesses with her were Mesdames Clyde Tatum, J. C. Rigney and Gilmer Aycock.

Christmas decorations added a note of gaiety to the holiday festivity.

Red satin streamers leading out from central arrangements of pine sprays and red tapers were lettered with the names of guests at a bridge dinner given Friday night at 7:15 o'clock at the Lubbock Country club by Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Brodie and Frank Baker.

Tables were laid with cheerful red and green cloths and places were laid for Messrs. and Mesdames Orville Stewart, Charles Cathey, Owen Gilbreath, Eldon Rawlings, French Pruitt and Jim Walker and the hosts.

Mesdames J. B. Edwards, 2806 Twenty-first, and D. M. Henderson, 2420 Twentieth, will return by train next Sunday from Washington, D. C.

They drove there last week with Capt. Margaret Henderson, who is returning to Marine service. Capt. Henderson is Mrs. Henderson's daughter.

Holiday spirit and Christmas atmosphere are putting in their appearance everywhere. Saturday's weekly family night party at the Country club was even more fun than usual.

Vernon Thompson entertained officials of the State Association of Home Builders and their wives Saturday in the Nineteenth Hole room of the Country club.

Among the 35 persons attending were W. P. (Bill) Atkinson of Oklahoma City, Okla., national regional vice-president of the National Association of Home Builders; Miles Strickland, president of the state association; and E. T. Lambreth, Dallas; R. G. Hughes, Pampa; Dow J. Jabolio, Houston; Fred Buchels and E. J. Berk, jr., both of San Antonio; who are all state directors.

Gala decorations are highlighting the series of pre-Christmas entertainments being given by Mrs. R. A. Mills, 2627 Twenty-second. Over 100 persons were invited to attend either her Tuesday afternoon tea, Thursday morning brunch, or today's tea to be given between 4 and 5 p. m.

A red plastic cloth covers the dining table which is centered by a large cornucopia pouring forth Christmas balls, pine cones and colored gourds. Red plastic also covers her coffee table in the living room.

Racing across the dining room buffet are white reindeer with red harnesses pulling a white sleigh driven by a Santa Claus.

Wedding Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weldon Mooney of 2003 Twenty-seventh announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Monney, and Richard Herchenroeder, which took place recently in the home of the officiating minister, Dr. C. A. Bickley of Asbury Methodist church. A double ring service was read.

The couple was attended by Miss Joan Pickle and James Powell.

The bride wore a traveling suit of battleship gray with black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. She carried a white Bible and wore a locket belonging to Miss Pickle's grandmother.

Mr. Herchenroeder has been employed by the International Shoe company of St. Louis since being graduated from Senior High school last spring. The bride also was a spring high school graduate here.

The couple has gone to St. Louis to live.

Mary Louise Runnels To Be Wed Dec. 29

Mrs. Edna Runnels of New Boston announces the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary Louise Runnels, to Bob Holmes of Wolfforth, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holmes of Josephine. The wedding will take place Dec. 29 at the Wolfforth Baptist church.

Homemaking Students Are To Entertain

To complete a unit of study on child care, first year homemaking pupils of Senior High school will give a party for children Thursday morning from 9 until 10 o'clock in the living room of the homemaking department. Purpose of party will be to gain experience in becoming friends with children.

Diversions will include singing, playing games and the telling of Christmas stories. Simple refreshments are to be served.

Children to attend are Rama Anderson, one and a half; Jimmie Lovell, 5; Glenys Ann Burk, 3; Mike Walker, one and a half; Milton Woodson, 3; Carolyn Dean, 5; Gary Clement, one and a half; and Betty Heald, 3. Mothers are to be Mesdames F. E. Durham, S. L. Burk, C. G. Walker, George Anderson and O. W. Woodson.

You won't have to worry about getting a wound infected if you wear a new plastic film dressing made of a nylon-derivative film. It is bacteria-proof, but at the same time it keeps the wound dry in spite of body perspiration. Your druggist may have it by now.

Traditional Play To Be Staged By Dramatic Group

"Why the Chimes Rang," directed by D. M. Howell, dramatics director of Lubbock Senior high school, will be presented Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at 3:45 in the High school auditorium as the second of the Children's Theatre plays this season, sponsored by Parent-Teachers City council. Elizabeth McFaden is the author of the play.

Davis Hopper, Eddie Simons, Jimmy Gott and Nancy Davis will lead the cast. The supporting cast will include Alma Smitherman, Beverly Wheeler, Don Reed, W. J. Blake, Deany McGuire, Pauline Bowles, R. C. Gunn, Nancy Herrington, L. B. Johnson, Kenneth Owen, Bobby Anne Pool, Frances Roth and Joyce Rendall.

Mr. Howell states that the costumes for the medieval setting of the play, which are being rented from a firm in New York, are authentic and expensive.

The A Cappella choir will provide music for the play. The final Alleluia was composed especially for the play by Percy Lee Atherton. Joyce Worrell, book holder and assistant director of the play, and Anita Pope are working on the special scenery.

Ruby Gene Estes Has Pre-Bridal Courtesy

A miscellaneous shower given Friday afternoon by Miss Peggy Hicks in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Stiles, 2902 Francis, honored Miss Ruby Gene Estes, bride elect of W. R. Branum.

Mrs. Stiles and Mrs. Charles Hicks were co-hostesses. Presiding at the bride's book was Mrs. Marky Allen.

Saving To Employers Of Texas Promised

AUSTIN, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—J. P. Gibbs, state casualty insurance commissioner, announced today that new workmen's compensation rates will become effective next Feb. 1 estimated to save Texas employers more than $3,100,000 in 1949.

Gibbs said that an average reduction of seven per cent was indicated in the manual premium level.

He added that of the total expected saving, some $2,850,000 would result from continued use of "wage trend factors," which measure the amount of wage increases which are above the average daily wage necessary for an injured employe to receive top benefits under the workmen's compensation law.

Oil Drilling Company Leads New Incorporators In State

Let The Children Help

Baking Will Create A Holiday Heaven

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Staff

You can give your youngsters no greater Christmas enjoyment than to let them help with the holiday preparations. And top on the list comes cooky-making. I have never yet known a child who didn't feel it was a special kind of holiday heaven to help mix the cooky dough, roll and cut out the shapes.

I happen to have a miniature-size electric range that really bakes, tiny cooky cutters, and even small aluminum cooky trays. All the boys and girls who come to visit me adore these—but they also enjoy using my regular kitchen equipment—and they are most careful of it. Your youngsters will enjoy this kind of kitchen work, too, if you give them a chance. You'll need to be around to lend a helping hand—as unobtrusively as possible. And you'll want to be there to join in the fun.

Here's a recipe for the molasses cooky dolls shown in the photograph. They're good to serve and good for holiday giving.

MOLASSES COOKY DOLLS

Ingredients: 2¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves, 1 egg, 2/3 cup molasses 1/3 cup brown sugar, ½ cup melted shortening, seedless raisins.

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, ginger, cinnamon and cloves. Beat egg; add molasses, sugar and shortening. Add flour mixture; mix well. Wrap in waxed paper; chill. Form dough into balls for heads and bodies and rolls for arms and legs. Put together on greased baking sheet and flatten with rolling pin, pressing edges of balls and rolls together. Mark eyes, nose, mouth and buttons with seedless raisins. Bake in moderately hot oven of 375 F. for about 12 minutes. Makes 18 four-inch dolls.

When it comes to other holiday preparations — making wreaths and decorations, table centerpieces, favors and tree trimmings —no book is likely to mean more to you and the members of your family (whatever their age) than "Make Your Own Christmas" by Anne Wertsner (M. Barrows & Co., $2.00). Written by the distinguished field secretary of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, it is practical, creative, and in impeccable taste. There are clear drawings to help you along, and many suggestions.

Thrown in for good measure is a chapter of the author's favorite holiday recipes. I was delighted to see one for Chinese Chews, a sweet bar cooky we always had at holiday time when I was a little girl in Canada, as well as one for Lebkuchen. Although my mother didn't make the latter, friends of hers did, and occasionally we'd get some of these delicious German sweets as a special treat.

CHINESE CHEWS

Ingredients: ¾ cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup chopped dates, 1 cup walnuts, ½ cup shredded coconut, 2 eggs (well beaten).

Method: Mix all the dry ingredients, then add the nuts, dates, coconut and well-beaten eggs. Add vanilla. Spread the mixture about one-half inch thick in a buttered pan. Bake in a moderate (350 F.) oven 10 to 15 minutes. Remove pan from oven, cut cake in strips while still warm and roll pieces in granulated sugar; or roll into balls, then into sugar. This makes 4 dozen or more.

LEBKUCHEN

Ingredients: 3 eggs (unbeaten), 3 eggs (beaten separately), 1 pound brown sugar, 4 cups flour (sifted four times), 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ pound shaved citron, ½ pound grated almonds, confectioner's sugar.

Method: Combine the whole eggs, egg yolks, brown sugar, flour, baking powder, citron and almonds. Mix, then roll one-half inch thick on a lightly floured board. Cut into shapes. Bake on a greased and floured cooky sheet, 10 to 12 minutes, in a hot oven (400 F.). After baking, ice with white icing made with 3 egg whites and confectioner's sugar. This makes 4 to 6 dozen cookies.

CHRISTMAS COOKIES . . . Let the children make them . . .

EVERY BOY AND GIRL LOVES

Pretty GLOVES!

Pretty gloves are not only essential for smart appearance, but also to keep their little hands warm and protected from chafing. So give the boy and girl a gift that is not only practical . . . but appreciative. Fine leathers or smart knits. And with this pair of gloves we suggest a cute all wool muffler for the boy, and a beautiful printed silk scarf for the girl . . . or wool if you like.

Deck The Halls At Christmas

Decorations Will Spread Cheer All Over House

BY VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Newsfeatures

The spirit of Christmas should penetrate to the rafters of your house. A home without appropriate decoratons on that day certainly looks dreary. Humble and important residences will take candles down from the attic or spread a healthy glow with electric lights during the holiday season.

You don't have to spend your Christmas Club funds; you should be able to decorate without straining the budget. Pine and fir tree branches, holly, Christmas cards and ornaments all can be used to brighten up corners.

On the mantel, string some Christmas cards on bright green or red yarn. Hang them over the yarn or tack them with small red or green lacquered clothespins. Large red or green satin bows tied to a few Christmas tree ornaments can be placed on either end of the mantel for a charming effect.

To Dress Up Mantel

Carolers and Santa Clauses can dress up your mantel. A jolly snowman of white plastic which can be used on the mantel, at the window or under the Christmas tree, is a gay touch. Six inches high, he sports a black top hat and red scarf. The plastic body contains an incandescent tree bulb inside. Stand him on asbestos snow, make a picket fence of paper fastened to the base with gummed tape; place Christmas trees around him. Make them out of cone-shaped drinking cups fringed with strips of green crepe paper to form little trees.

A beautiful table centerpiece can be made by putting a long mirror in the center of the table and placing on it Santas, carolers, reindeer and other Christmas props. Small candles can be placed in walnut shells which have been gilded and filled with sand. Or fill a cornucopia with Christmas ornaments and place it on the table. A miniature tree that revolves and plays a Yule tune also is a good bet.

Every home should contain some spiritual symbol at Yuletide. The most popular, of course, is the miniature stable depicting the Birth of Christ. If that isn't possible there should be some other holy message evident in the household at Christmas.

1947 Needle Club Has Luncheon, Exchange

A Christmas luncheon and gift exchange given for 1947 Needle club Friday at the home of Mrs. A. B. Bryant was attended by the following members:

Mesdames Joe Gaylor, co-hostess, Tom E. Davis, Gene Wages, M. D. Hearne, W. W. Townsend, Jerry Holleman, U. L. Huckabay, Allen Loter, Jack Shisler, Dick V. Lindley, jr., H. D. Reid, J. H. Pruitt, Jack Melton, and a guest, Mrs. F. D. Spradley.

Carols To Be Sung By Pupils Before P-TA

Carols by the George M. Hunt school chorus will be presented at a meeting of the school's Parent-Teacher association Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at Central Baptist church.

Mrs. Loyd Jenkins directs the chorus.

TEMPLE TO INITIATE

Pythian Sister Temple will initiate candidates at a regular meeting to be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at K-P hall. At the meeting, plans will be completed for a Christmas party to be given for children of Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters Thursday, Dec. 23, at 8 p. m. at the hall.

Church Classes Will Attend Yule Parties Throughout Week

Westminster Presbyterian Women of the church have made the following plans for Monday: Nettie Greer circle will meet at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Clara Boston, 2707 Twenty-sixth, for a Christmas program and gift exchange; and Ethel Wharton circle will have a covered dish supper and Christmas party in the home of Mrs. H. S. Weiss, 3412 Twenty-first, at 7 o'clock.

Two groups of the Daughters of the King Missionary society of Shepherd King Lutheran church will attend a Christmas program and gift exchange at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the parsonage, 2014 Sixteenth. All women of the church are invited. Mrs. H. L. Spitzer and Mrs. Lenro Keeton are to be hostesses.

First Baptist classes have planned the following events: Mary Martha class will meet Thursday at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. James W. Spears, Bobalet Heights for a Christmas party and to bring food for a needy family; Euzelian class is to have a Christmas party at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. C. W. Trippe in Cain Terrace; Phebean class is to have a party in the Russell Ray home at 3402 Twenty-first at 7:30 p. m. Thursday; and TEL class will meet at the Activities center Friday at 3 p. m. for a Christmas party.

SANTA CLAUS SAUCE

1 No. 2 can red cherries, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teasp. salt, 2 tbsps. cornstarch.

Drain cherries; measure liquid and add water to make 1½ cups. Mix together in saucepan sugar, salt and cornstarch; blend in liquid gradually. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture comes to a boil. Add cherries. Cool. Store in covered jar in refrigerator.

YIELD: 2½ cups.

Helen Fuller Is Honored

Initiating a series of parties for Miss Helen Fuller, bride-elect of Richard Martin Sheeham, Miss Dorothy Van Pelt entertained with a tea and linen shower Saturday afternoon at her home, 2823 Twenty-third. Fifty guests called between 4 and 5:30 o'clock.

Miss Van Pelt greeted callers and introduced them to the honoree and to her mother, Mrs. Eldon F. Fuller.

The mantel was decorated in a red and white motif; centered with a white tree covered with red Christmas ornaments. At each side of the tree were tall white candles tied with red ribbon. The serving table resembled a large white package tied with red ribbon and the refreshments carried out a package theme.

Mrs. Ardell Scales presided and Mrs. Cleddie Lanier, Miss Jean Medley, Miss Maxine McMillin and Mrs. J. J. Van Pelt assisted in hospitalities.

To Give Breakfast

Continuing the courtesies, a breakfast will be given this morning at 9:15 o'clock in the Colonial room of the Hilton hotel with Mesdames George Heath, Clyde James, Ross Ayers and Miss Grace Padley as hostesses.

The table will be decorated in a seasonal version; carrying out the bride-elect's chosen colors of pink and green in a miniature lighted tree and tapers.

Places will be laid for the bride-elect, her mother, Misses Dorothy Van Pelt, Mary Jane Kinard, Mesdames Sam Speers, James L. Quicksall, Dorothy Ashby and Wayne Kelly.

The hostess gift will be silver. Miss Fuller and Mr. Sheehan will be married next Sunday.

Friendship Class Has Yule Entertainment

A string band directed by Joe Meador played at the party given by First Methodist Friendship class Friday night at Hilton hotel. After the musical numbers, a Christmas skit written by Mrs. O. L. Byrd was presented and a song fest was held. The invocation was by Waggoner Carr.

The Christmas entertainment was attended by 91 persons.

CHRISTMAS WREATH SALAD

Soften 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine in one cup cold water. Add 1½ cups hot water, stir until gelatine is dissolved. Mash one pound can jellied cranberry sauce with a fork, add to dissolved gelatine with 3 tablespoons lemon juice and ½ teaspoon salt; beat with rotary egg beater until smooth. Turn into individual ring molds and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens, serve with mayonnaise.

KIDS' "CARRY AWAY" GIFT FROM CHRISTMAS TREE

When "small fry" come to visit your youngsters' Christmas tree, you may want to give them a little token. Here are thrifty, nutritious cereal candy balls to wrap in a twist of waxed paper for tiny gifts.

Cereal Candy Balls

¾ cup light corn syrup, ¼ cup light molasses, ½ teasp. salt, 1 teasp. vinegar, 2 tbsps. butter or margarine, 1 teasp. vanilla, 4 cups crisp oat cereal or puffed cereal, ¼ cup salted peanuts.

Combine syrup, molasses, salt and vinegar. Cook until a hard ball is formed when dropped into cold water (258 degrees F.). Remove from heat, add butter and vanilla. Mix cereal and peanuts in lightly greased bowl. Slowly pour syrup over cereal and nuts. Mix. When cool, form into balls. YIELD: About 3 dozen.

Because bruises on vegetables will cause a rapid deterioration of certain vitamins, no vegetable should be handled roughly or any more than is necessary.

NEW THEATERS MANAGER J. B. Rhea, above, who started in the theater business with the Lindsey theatres, has been named manager of the theaters here, succeeding Clark Abbott, who was forced to take an extended leave of absence because of recurrent ill health. Rhea, at present manager of Griffith theaters in Norman, Okla., was educated in the Lubbock public schools and attended Texas Tech, working as a theater employe in the meantime. He has served as assistant manager or manager at Wellington, Pampa, Enid, Elk City, Cuero, and Chickasha in addition to his Norman post. He spent two years in the Army and saw service in the Philippines. Rhea is 35, married and has two children, J. Hudman, 10 and Ryn, 7. He has been active in the Rotary club, Methodist church and Chamber of commerce at Norman.

New Equipment Installed By Lubbock Engineering Company

Remodeling and completely re-equipping of the Lubbock Engineering company, 1721 Broadway, with the most modern types of reproduction machinery was announced Saturday by Noble James and H. C. Girod, partners in the firm.

The old established firm, which the two men purchased from A. L. Harris, Feb. 1, 1944, now is equipped to do any type of reproduction, blueprinting, photocopying and field work such as oil field, farm irrigation, and boundary and sub-division surveying.

Included in the new machinery installed was a 54-inch Paragon Revolute printer. It is the seventh of its kind in the nation and the first to be placed outside of the Paragon family commercial printing shop. It is a dry process printer which will make blueline, blackline or transparences from either pencil or ink drawings.

Other equipment includes a fast continuous blue printer and the latest type of photocopying machine, eliminating the darkroom.

TO HURT RELATIONS

HONG KONG, Dec. 11 (AP) — Marshal Li Chi-Shen, head of the Kuomintang revolutionary committee, predicted today the landing of U. S. marines in Shanghai would cause "antagonistic sentiments and acts" against Americans in China. Li contended the sending of marines to Shanghai "on the pretext of protecting American nationals" infringed China's sovereignty and would hurt Chinese-American relations.

An electric room warmer has been developed which can store heat during daytime periods, when electric lines are not so loaded, and release it when needed during times of peak load.

30-Hour Week Is Foreseen In American Industry Of Future

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (U.P.)—A 30-hour week and factories that look like country clubs are not too far in the future, delegates to the Industrial Hygiene Foundation's 13th annual meeting here predicted.

The 500 representatives of industry who met at Mellon Institute also forecast custom-built machines to fit the capabilities of the next generation of workers and a knifeless surgery technique using supersonic waves.

Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp, president of Winthrop-Stearns, Inc., New York, used census figures to back up his argument that the 30-hour week is definitely on the way.

Because medicine has solved many formerly fatal diseases, two-fifths of the United States population in the next generation will be more than 45 years old and one-seventh over 65, Klumpp said.

Worker Surplus Seen

He warned that by 1960, industry will have more workers than it can handle. "By that time," Klumpp said, "there will be 60,000,000 persons 45 years of age or over." That figure equals the record number of workers now employed.

Klumpp said the logical solution is to cut the work week to make room for the many workers over 60 who can still put in a good day's work. He pointed out that a study showed that nearly one-third of 500 top business executives are over 65, and one-half of United States senators and one-third of the representatives are over 60.

"Clearing out the older workers to make room for younger ones by arbitrary retirements is only another way of saying there are more workers than jobs," he said.

Changes Advocated

Labor-saving devices probably will swell the worker surplus even more, Klumpp said. And if present-day working standards and conditions are maintained, there will be a potential labor surplus of at least 30,000,000 by 1980, he predicted.

The "make the job and machine fit the man" idea was backed by Mrs. Lillian M. Gilbreath, president of a Monclair, N. J., consulting engineering company. She urged a war against outdated "machine age" ideas.

"It is not the machine that we have to fear but our slowness to realize that it can release, not enslave—can be a partner and not a tyrant," she said.

She's 70 Herself

Mrs. Gilbreth, incidentally, is a strong argument for Klumpp's theory that present work-age limits need revision. She's a 70-year-old grandmother.

John F. McMahon, managing director of the Industrial Hygiene Foundation, outlined the effects of the latest developments in science and social changes. He observed:

"Supersound waves reportedly will shake apart the structure of living matter . . . it may lead to a new kind of knifeless surgery.

People Who See "Bodies" In Hudson River Keep New York Harbor Police On The Run

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (U.P.)—Patrolman Gerard Devine is glad to see cold weather set in. People on upper Riverside Drive keep their windows shut and don't see bodies floating in the North River.

"It's awful in the summer," he said. "They keep their windows wide open and sit there all day long looking at the river. Some of them use binoculars all day long. Drives us nuts.

"They see bodies floating in the water and we rush up there and find a tree trunk or a barrel or something. They see people getting in trouble in small boats and we rush up there and find a new Navy buoy or something."

Devine is a member of the harbor precinct a unit of the New York City police's emergency service division. He works out of Pier A at the lower tip of Manhattan Island up the Hudson as far as Yonkers, maintaining a regular patrol and answering emergency calls.

Busy On Sundays

"Let somebody really fall in the drink," Gerard said, "and chances are some patrolman will telephone us before the people with the binoculars see what's actually happened. But if it's a false alarm they telephone all day long, especially on Sundays."

The harbor precinct maintains a regular patrol, at irregular hours, throughout the dock area on New York's 578 miles of waterfront. Police launches cruise slowly up and down the river on both the New York and New Jersey side looking for trouble.

They can glide into a slip and spot any irregular activity before culprits are aware of their existence, and consequently have cut thefts from the waterside to a minimum.

"Anything that happens on the pier itself is the business of the land police," they explain.

Devine was in a patrol boat, the Captain Abbey. The boat was under command of Sgt. Robert L. Alperin and carried a crew of six patrolmen, all of them veterans of the tug business or of the Navy.

Active In War

Devine was typical of most of them. Before the war he had been a tug pilot on the North River for years. During the war he was in the Navy and piloted Navy vessels in and out of New York. Now he is on the police force and at 32 knows as much about the North, or Hudson, River as almost any tug pilot working there.

Harbor police work was slowed during the longshoremen's strike—no shipping, no trouble. They were set for emergencies, though, able to take over and operate essential food and fuel tugs should tug workers walk out with the longshoremen.

"But just wait until warm weather," Devine said. "Up go the windows. People stick their heads out and right away they begin seeing things. You always get a call at a quarter o' four when you're supposed to be off at four."

Houston U. Students Build Own 30-Tube Television Set

HOUSTON, Dec. 11 (U.P.)—Enterprise, know-how and a maze of delicate electrical parts were combined to turn out a privately-built television set, completion of which was announced today.

The master craftsmen were Warren Anderson of Houston and John Wilson of Mexia, both senior engineering students at the University of Houston.

The 30-tube set will be ready for operation next Wednesday when radio station KLEE makes a telecast test, according to engineering instructor George T. Bird, who helped direct Anderson and Wilson in some of the highly-technical work. The job took two weeks.

Anderson, 27-year-old Navy veteran and a radar technician, estimated the set had cost $200, a saving of between $150 and $300 from the regular market price.

Wilson, 21, who has attended Rutgers and Oklahoma university, said the set was sound, at least "in theory." The only thing that could prove its merit, he added, will be the test Wednesday when television goes on the air.

Greater Sugar Imports Urged

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (U.P.) — Carlos Prio Socarras, president of Cuba, today urged expansion of quota restrictions to permit greater quantities of Cuban sugar in the United States.

Prio, in a speech prepared for delivery before a luncheon meeting of the Cuban-American sugar council, asked the council members to assist in development of Cuba's sugar industry.

"In defending the rights acquired by Cuba to a larger share of the United States sugar market," he said, "you will not merely be defending a sincere ally but you will also protect American interests that are closely bound to the economic development of Cuba."

Helped During War

He said that Cuba was the main source of supply for sugar in the United States during the last two wars.

Prio said Cuba would welcome additional investments for the building up of industries other than the production of sugar. The sugar mills operate but four months a year, he said, and the country puts too much dependency on a single industry.

Prio arrived at La Guardia airport and was welcomed by Mayor William O'Dwyer at city hall.

He will be guest of honor at the Pan-American Society of the United States tonight and will return to Havana at noon tomorrow.

Doris Duke Is Reported To Be Taking Singing In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 11. (INS)—Doris Duke, "the richest girl in the world" was reported today to be taking singing lessons in Cincinnati.

Although Miss Duke, who recently divorced Dominican Diplomat Profirio Rubirosa, could not be reached for comment, Music Teacher Mademoiselle Leone Kruse could.

She said Miss Duke "came to Cincinnati to work and did not want to be annoyed by newsmen."

For home butter-making, the cream should be of such richness that one gallon will yield about three pounds of butter. That means cream of a butterfat content about 30 per cent.

Auto Industry Makes 119,000 Vehicles In Production Push

DETROIT, Dec. 11. (AP)—Pushing toward the end of its second best production year, the auto industry built around 119,000 vehicles this week.

Several factories worked overtime and although Chevrolet is in the midst of a model changeover it turned out about 15,000 current models.

The trade paper Automotive News estimated this week's output at 92,368 cars and 25,989 trucks. Ward's automotive reports said assemblies in the United States numbered 93,090 cars and 26,112 trucks.

Make Those Christmas Packages Gay!

Colorful Wrappings Aid In Extending Yule Greetings

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

YOU can wrap Christmas packages so attractively that recipients will almost hesitate to open them. A little time and a few props are all you need. Pretty and ingenious packages can be made with the aid of cellophane, pipe cleaners, ribbon, aluminum gift wraps, seals, sippers or small figurettes (set to apply without moistening).

Of course you won't try to combine all of these adornments on one package. But by using correct combinations of them, you can make lovely wrappings.

Try to use colors skillfully. A striking package can be made merely of plain white paper and some flaming red or green ribbon, or a red or green and white striped paper with contrasting ribbon.

However, when the shiny aluminum wraps, gay as Christmas tree balls, are used, other colors can be included and you can veer away a bit from the red and greens. Also with metallic papers you can cut designs, by pasting together two contrasting colors of the gift wrap, allowing it to dry for a minute or two, then cutting in the form of stars, bells or other Christmas symbols. Use a needle and thread of colored knitting yarn and join these together to form a chain. Let this

If you'd rather use gummed tape you can make pretty patterns and borders or spell out a Christmas message by cutting the tape in squarish letters. Add a gummed figurette of a Santa Claus or Christmas tree.

Fancy Scotch tapes with Yule motifs in Christmas colors make excellent and pretty bindings for your package.

Multicolored bow tie ribbons can be used with much success to dress up plain green, red or white tissue. Silver edged colored ribbons also are pretty on colored tissue. A few small Christmas balls tied to ribbon lend a gay note.

Some people like to make all the ribbon bows at add moments the week preceding Christmas. They keep them in a box until their package-wrapping day.

Important, too, is a neat package. Paper should be the right size for your box—wide enough to go around the length and to overlap 1½ inches, extending at each end just half the depth. If the paper has a design, be sure to center it before cutting.

GUMMED TAPE . . . Can be used to spell out a Christmas message on a package. Tree, wreath and Santa Claus figurettes can be added for gay note.

Church Classes

Rev. and Mrs. William F. Rogan were hosts and Emil Beck was toastmaster at a Christmas dinner given for First Presbyterian Married Students class at the Student center Friday night. Three long tables featured festive Christmas decorations and the mantel was arranged with pine cones, greenery, candles and miniature Santa Clauses. Christmas candy was given as plate favors.

Dr. Lewis offered the invocation and Mrs. Bob Click directed carol singing with Mrs. H. D. Woods, jr., at the piano.

Attending were Messrs and Mesdames Emil Beck, Dan Pursel, Bob Click, Tom Spruance, A. J. Smith, jr., Jack McDurmett, H. D. Woods, jr., Carl Spivey, Don Conklin, Bob Means, James W. Huffaker, James O. Cade, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Cross, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lewis, Lowell and Evelyn Cross, Billy and Dicky Rogan and Nina Ruth Huffaker.

Dr. Cross teaches the class which meets each Sunday morning at the Student center, 2414 Thirteenth. Doughnuts and coffee are served at 9 o'clock, preceding the lesson.

The annual Christmas banquet of the Homebuilder's class of First Church of the Nazarene was held Friday night, with Roy Stephenson as toastmaster, and short after dinner speeches by Ernest Holly and Murry Knox.

The program centered around stunts and music that includes special numbers by Mrs. O. F. Lawson and Stephenson, Rev. A. F. Laing, pastor, also sang, and preceding the Christmas story by Mrs. Martha Quinn, the group sang "Joy to the World," and Mrs. Earl Meadow read the scripture.

Stunts included the "Ah" family, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Knox, Mrs. Murry Knox, Stephenson, and Earl . Meadow. The "Peanut stunt" was given by Mrs. Martha Quinn, O. F. Lawson, Irene Knight, Stephenson, Ed Taylor, and Rev. Mr. Laing. A skit, "There's One Born Every Minute" was presented by Mrs. Carl Stephenson and Mrs. Roy Stephenson.

A quartet sang "Silent Night", and Mrs. Laing, the teacher, spoke briefly.

Attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Carl Stephenson, Roy Stephenson Jim Davis, Murry Knox, Leighton Knox, Raymond Knox, W. D. Lewis, Earl Meadow, O. F. Lawson, Olis Culpepper, J. C. # Capital Of India, Jammed With Thousands Of Refugees, Is Boomed By Sidewalk Merchants

NEW DELHI, Dec. 11. (AP)—India's capital, jammed with 500,000 refugees, has become a city of sidewalk shopkeepers.

You'll find them in front of buildings, tucked away in corners and in the shade of trees. Some boast stalls and others keep their wares in large wooden cabinets. But most go into business simply by spreading a piece of cloth on the ground and displaying a few articles.

STREET BARBER shaves his customer in New Delhi. India's millions of refugees mean many more such open air shops.

They'll sell you almost anything—if you're not careful. Toys, trinkets, cigarettes, food, cloth, toilet articles, shoes, clocks and countless other items are for sale. But prices are no cheaper than those of established shops. The "street wallah" will tell you he has to pay higher wholesale prices than do legitimate shops.

The street wallah is an institution in India, but New Delhi and old Delhi have more than their share of such entrepeneurs. They are quick to tell you stories of past suffering, and many of the stories are true. The presence of their would-be shops is an indication of the resourcefulness and courage of people who lost everything in the partition of India and the rioting which accompanied it.

Flies In Paradise

Sreet wallah activity in New Delhi centers in Connaught Circle, where hundreds sit side by side along the verandahs in front of the shops of established merchants. Here women in flowing sarees bargain heatedly with bearded hawkers who fled the Punjab rioting. Vendors hold up bananas or beads or betelnuts. Darting urchins offer "shoeshine—controlled price."

Dust mingles with the smoke of incense and flies find their paradise.

Street wallah business extends down the side roads. A bicycle tire hanging limply from a tree heralds the open-air establishment of a cycle repairman who may have started with only a pump to inflate flat tires. A dispenser of ominous-looking soft drinks operates from a wooden box on small wheels. He also sells hot Indian tid-bits wrapped up in green leaves. The flies love them.

Some simply sell services. A tailor sits outside an airline office, sewing unhurriedly at three rupees ($1) a day, pretty good pay. A barber squats down on a sidewalk, Oriental fashion, to shave a customer, who must also squat.

You may have your head massaged in the park by a youngster whose charge is four annas (eight cents). The ear-cleaner's fee depends on the results he can show.

Doctors Not Licensed

You may have a tooth pulled at a moderate charge. Just sit on a misplaced kitchen chair and open your mouth. The "dentist" has no license, but neither has the "doctor" who offers powders and ointments for headaches and indigestion. The chiropodist whose office is a little leather bag also is a self-made professional man.

The Sikh fortune tellers get by without crystal balls and shrouded booths. They walk up behind you, murmuring softly that you are about to inherit a lot of money or that "you will be going home to England soon." An American who has never been near England is inclined to suspect the fortune teller's ability.

The sidewalk wallahs have been removed from chandni chowk (moon market), old Delhi's famous bazaar. Things got so bad that the trams which run on both sides of the street could scarcely move between the push-carts and benches of refugees.

The government has plans for settling most of the refugees in new townships where they may follow their original vocation of farming. Cities are to absorb professional men.

But with an overall total of five million refugees to cope with, rehabilitation has been slow. The little man who unfolds a cloth and goes into business will be around for awhile.

Holiday Mistletoe Supply Reported To Be Plentiful

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. (AP)—Pucker up, girls. There'll be plenty of mistletoe for the Christmas holidays.

Supplies are the largest in years, the Allied Florists association said. But prospective purchasers were urged not to wait for the last minute to do their Chrismas mistletoe shopping. Mistletoe goes fast, the association said.

The association said the mistletoe arriving at retail shops is being cut into sprigs for lapels and for hanging over doorways.

Teeth Defects Affect Hearing, Doctor In New Orleans Claims

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11. (U.P.) Dr. William J. Manion of the Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital believes that missing teeth or poorly fitted dentures affect the hearing of 3,000,000 people in the United States.

Dr. Manion, a dentist, said he had been able to help the hearing of three out of four patients by making dental corrections. He said one 64-year-old woman came to the hospital with extreme facial pain and loss of hearing.

Her false teeth were fitted poorly, he said. She was given a new set of teeth. Her pain soon stopped and her hearing improved.

Dr. Manion emphasized that there are various causes of deafness besides poor teeth and correction of dental troubles is not a cure. But he said experiments have shown that hearing does improve if it is caused by bad teeth and the teeth are worked on.

Mental State Is Factor In Allergies, Medic Claims

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 11. (U.P.)—A Northwestern University medical school instructor believes closer co-operation between psychiatrists and allergists is necessary.

Dr. Leonard H. Harris, Peoria, Ill., said that although asthma rarely is caused by emotional upsets alone, many allergy cases involve a combination of emotional and physical factors.

"Many allergists feel that psychiatrists over-emphasize, and most psychiatrists believe that allergists minimize, the importance of the emotions," Harris said. "The truth, lying somewhere between the points of view, can best be determined by collaborative studies."

Sapphires and rubies are basically the same stone, the difference being only in the color.

Scoggin-Dickey Buick Company Is In New Building; New Cars Shown

Scoggin-Dickey Buick company staged a double premiere of the company's new home at 1917-27 Texas avenue and the new 1949 Buick models Saturday.

Showings will be continued this afternoon from 1 to 6 p. m.

In connection with the showing of the new cars and the building, the company announced two promotions. Cecil Kelsey, a long-time employe, has been named sales manager and John Harvey Scoggin is secretary-treasurer and office manager.

SCOGGIN

The company's new building, recently completed after nearly a year of construction, represents the latest in automobile sales and service buildings and covers 17,250 square feet. The company's building, body shop and parking area front 240 feet on Texas avenue and cover a total of 33,250 square feet.

KELSEY

Constructed of brick, tile, cement, steel and glass, the building features an extensive treatment of glass and glass brick. The sales display room has slanted plate-glass windows reaching from the floor to the ceiling.

Ample Natural Light

The entire east wall of the service department has large diffused shatter-proof glass windows so that during most of the day it is not necessary to use artificial light in the department.

The showroom, containing 2,500 square feet of floor space, has a tile floor and space for display of four cars. To the rear of the showroom are offices of executives and the staff, all glass enclosed.

The parts department is easily accessible to the service department and in addition to display bins on the main floor, more storage space is provided in a balcony.

Radiant Heating In Floor

The service department has space for repair of 14 automobiles at the same time. Overhead heating is provided and floor radiant heating in the mechanics' stalls. Five car stalls are provided in the body shop.

In the service department, showers and locker room are provided for employes and rest rooms are available for all departments of the building.

Moved Here In 1928

Organized in 1927 at Floydada by J. Ray Dickey and A. L. Scoggin, the firm moved to Lubbock in 1929 and had the Pontiac agency, first in the 1300-block on Main, later at Broadway and Ave. J.

The company took over the dealership of the Buick in 1933.

The company has 36 employes. George Newman is manager of the parts department; C. W. McFarland, service manager; and Belton Pendley, manager of the body department.

Illinois Wife To Understand Perfectly Why Mate Cannot Get Home For Dinner On Time

BY MARTHA KEARNEY
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—Emily Taft Douglas is one wife who will understand perfectly for the next six years why her husband can't get home for dinner on time every night.

And her husband is sure to pay close attention to what the little woman has to say about his job.

Known In Our Right

Mrs. Douglas, who is pretty well known in her own right, kept the home fires burning during the war by serving two years as the congresswoman-at-large from the same state.

The former congresswoman and the senator-elect are the parents of one daughter, 15-year-old Jean Douglas, who quite naturally began to take an interest in politics at a very early age.

Emily Douglas, a deceptively fragile-looking woman with brown hair and bright blue eyes, is a daughter of the famous sculptor Lorado Taft and a distant cousin of President William Howard Taft.

She will undoubtedly be delighted to retire to the sidelines for the next six years and let her husband hang up the family laurels.

Laughed Off Election

In 1944 she laughed off her election to Congress by explaining that she did it all by coasting on the coattails of her husband's state-wide—and unsuccessful-campaign for the Senate two years earlier.

She said then:

"I just reaped what he had sowed."

Mrs. Douglas will probably keep the folks at home fully informed of her husband's doings in Congress. While she was in Congress herself, she wrote a column about her activities which eventually appeared in 70 Illinois newspapers.

She will probably write a similar column for her husband during his tenure as a senator.

Taught In Chicago

The senator-elect, who was born in Salem, Mass., began to teach economics at the University of Chicago in 1920. He was made a full professor only five years later.

He enlisted in the Marines in 1942, when he was 50 years old, and was wounded twice on duty in the south Pacific before he was discharged as a lieutenant colonel.

His left arm is still partially paralyzed as the result of his wounds.

He has never before served in the national legislature, although he resigned as a Chicago alderman in order to enlist in the Marines.

This leaves Emily Taft Douglas in a very enviable spot.

She can be sure that her husband will listen to every single word she has to say—when she's talking about Congress, anyway.

FAMOUS FOR EXCLUSIVE FASHIONS

EARLY CHRISTMAS MAILING URGED

Postoffice Offers Suggestions To Aid Handling During Holiday Rush

Suggestions to facilitate handling of Christmas mail have been given by Lubbock postoffice, which is gearing its activities for the usual rush in mailing of packages and cards.

"Each year at this season the postoffice department is faced with the tremendous task of handling Christmas mail," Postmaster Amos H. Howard said.

"With all the modern inventions at our command, no machines have yet been invented that can take the place of brains, eyes, hands and feet in the multiplicity of operations necessary in the acceptance, preparation, transportation and delivery of mail from sender to receiver in quantities to stagger the imagination.

"Mail service has long been taken for granted. Postal workers, although inordinately proud, are not seeking undue praise for making this service in the United States far and away the best in the world.

Have Suggestions

"But," he added, "they would at this time like to make a few suggestions, the observation of which will enable them to facilitate the handling of YOUR mail, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen of Lubbock."

Suggestions given were:

"It cannot be too strongly emphasized that you do your Christmas mailing early. Parcels may be marked 'Do not open until Christmas'."

Written greetings, such as "Merry Christmas" or similar phrases, and names, numbers or symbols for the purpose of description, may be enclosed with third or fourth class (parcel post) mail. Other written additions subject parcels to letter postage rates.

May Affix Letter

If it is desired that letters accompany parcels, this may be done by affixing letter postage to envelopes and securely attaching the envelopes containing the letters or written matter to the outside of parcels.

Air parcel post service, a recent innovation, will speed parcels to their destination in the quickest possible time. The prepayment of the following additional fees on second, third or fourth class matter entitles them to further expeditious handling and special delivery at the office of address: Up to two pounds, 17 cents; over two pounds, up to 10 pounds, 25 cents; over 10 pounds, 35 cents. Air parcel post parcels may not exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined and 70 pounds in weight. The same limit applies to first class matter and air parcel post.

Use Strong Containers

Pack all articles carefully in strong, durable containers; wrap securely, but do not seal them except when bearing printed endorsement that contents are merchandise and may be opened for postal inspection. Sealed parcels not so labeled are subject to postage at the letter rate.

If parcels contain perishable or fragile articles, please so indicate to accepting postal employes so they may imprint such information prominently on the wrapper.

Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation should not be mailed.

Address Plainly

Address all matter plainly and completely in ink, giving street address, box or rural route, and delivery zone when applicable. In the upper left corner of address side, place sender's complete return address. Tags should not be used unless necessary, in which case a copy of the address and return card should be placed inside the parcel for identification if tag is lost.

Unsealed Christmas cards may be sent for one and one-half cents for each two ounces or fraction thereof, provided that cards are printed, and there is only a write in of the name or names of senders together with brief greeting. Any other written matter subjects cards to first class postage rate.

It will be advantageous to prepay first class postage on Christmas cards, particularly if there is any doubt of the accuracy of address of individual for whom mail is intended. When such postage is paid, directory service is given and, in the event addressee cannot be located, cards are returned to the sender. Such mail also is forwarded if forwarding instructions are on file.

Special Rates Given

Special delivery rates on first class mail are: Up to two pounds, 13 cents; over two pounds, up to 10 pounds, 20 cents; over 10 pounds, 25 cents.

Christmas seals and stickers should not be placed on the address side of the mail, but on the back side.

Suggestion also was given that calendars and other advertising matter be mailed not later than Dec. 15, if delivery is to be assured by Dec. 24. "Please purchase pre-canceled stamps for this purpose unless metering machine is used. It will aid immeasurably in handling bulk matter which otherwise has to be hand canceled."

Mail Heavy Matter

Although carriers normally pick up mail during course of delivery, their schedules are so arranged that mail can be collected only where a stop has to be made for delivery. During this period of heavy mailing, said the postmaster, carriers will usually have mail bags loaded with deliveries, and it will be appreciated if heavy quantities are taken to the postoffice, sub-stations, or deposited in the large mail boxes located on the main thoroughfares of Broadway, Main, Nineteenth, Texas Avenue, Ave. Q and College Ave.

Sub-stations are located at Texas Technological college, Hemphill-Wells Co., Mark Halsey Drug store No. 2, Mark Halsey Drug store No. 5, Plaza Drug store and Henly's Drug Goods No. 1. Trucks will collect mail periodically from boxes and sub-stations.

Incoming parcel post mail will be delivered daily upon arrival to patrons living in zones where mail service now is established. Notices will be left in every instance where parcels are returned to the postoffice and in such cases patrons may present notices at the office from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. to receive parcels, it was stated. Otherwise parcels will be re-delivered later.

"Please do not call at office for search of expected parcels, as all parcels are delivered direct from a separate warehouse," it was asked. "If an emergency exists where it is necessary, a search will gladly be made."

Parcels too large for boxes of patrons will be handled as usual. Notices will be written as expeditiously as possible and placed in boxes, so patrons may call at windows for them, it was announced.

CROPS TO GET BREAK

CLEVELAND. (U.P.)—Wild animals are likely soon to steer clear of farmers' crops. The Goodrich Chemical Co., reports that prolonged tests of a new animal repellent at the Swan Island, Me., wild life refuge have proved it repels grazing wild life after they chew a few treated leaves.

School Closed By Dissension

AKRON, Ohio, Dec. 11. (AP)—The public school at Twinsburg headed into an early Christmas vacation today. There was no immediate prospect either teachers or pupils would show up for classes on Monday.

The village's board of education held a hastily summoned special meeting last night and turned down the resignations of the entire school faculty—Principal Glen Powell, seven high school teachers and nine grade school teachers.

Then the board issued a statement declaring the school would not re-open until the community "attitude" was right and until the board's authority was recognized. It said "the activity of a relatively small group has undermined our school system."

Interference Charged

The resignations were submitted late yesterday, accompanied by a statement that it was impossible "to conduct a school program with any reasonable degree of efficiency, due to outside interference for the major part of this semester."

Last month Twinsburg high school was the scene of a student strike aimed at the ouster of Powell. Leaders of the strike claimed he was unsympathetic to athletics and other extra-curricular activities.

Powell was given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Paul M. Booher yesterday on an assault and battery charge, and after pleading innocent he was released under $100 bond. His case will be heard in common pleas court.

The charge was brought by John Hegedish, a mechanic for the state highway department, who claimed his 16-year-old son Ronald was pushed by the principal.

British Parliament Member Beats Tight Gasoline Ration

LONDON, Dec. 11. (AP)—Charles Taylor, Conservative member of Parliament, has found one way to stay within Britain's tight gasoline ration—drive with electric power.

Taylor had his standard gas-powered car converted. It goes about 40 miles on a single battery charge. The top speed is 30 miles per hour.

British motorists are limited to enough gas for 90 miles of pleasure driving a month.

Work Program To Be Discussed At Called Session Of Soil Group

LEVELLAND, Dec. 11. (Special)—Cognizant of the threat of severe wind erosion in the next four to five months, due to sustained drouth conditions, the board of supervisors of the Hockley County soil conservation district has set a called meeting for Dec. 14, when they will discuss a three-phase program of work for 1949 and review accomplishments of this year.

The meeting is to be held in the county courtroom here, on call of B. Forman of Anton, board chairman, and indicating a full day's schedule of work, the session is to start at 9 a. m.

The 1949 three-phase program —educational, technical and demonstration—is to be outlined in detail, and will include, according to Forman, two demonstrations on Hockley county farms.

Showing proper construction of terraces, and installation of underground irrigation pipe system, the demonstrations would have the full cooperation of U. S. Soil Conservation service technicians, and representatives of the extension service office of Artie B. Forehand, county agent.

Call Is Announced

Call for the meeting was announced at close of the board's regular December session that was attended also by Lewis B. Dawkins of Plainview, assistant planning engineer with the state soil conservation board; Marshall W. Howard of Lubbock, district conservationist with SCS; and John P. Davis of Crosbyton, SCS engineer.

Forman and Dawkins, who attended the recent annual state meeting of SCD supervisors at the session were in agreement Brownwood, said concerning deep breaking of land that supervisors at the session were in agreement that "there should be a well planned cropping system to follow deep plowing or it will be useless."

The Hockley board voted to adopt terracing specifications as outlined by Davis, the SCS engineer, as to minimum width and height. Davis outlined a comparison of SCD specifications for terraces and those of the Production Marketing administration (PMA).

Agreements Approved

The board approved 13 farmer-district agreements and conservation plans as worked out by farmers and SCD technicians, bringing to 62 the total approved since the office opened last March 1.

These agreements were on the farms of: Mrs. B. L. Lawson (Leon Lawson, operator), at Petit; Mrs. L. P. Howell (Don Turner, operator), Roy Cunningham and J. S. S. Hart (R. C. Glass, operator), northwest of Levelland; R. Graf and Robert Bolf, north of Levelland; W. H. Cunningham and Jones Palmer (Wayne Palmer, operator), southwest of Levelland; L. E. Jeffcoat, Ropesville project; A. Frenzel (R. B. Gray, operator), and J. E. Owen (Loyd Conatser, operator), on Spade ranch sod land; A. A. Givens and R. C. Hagan, near Anton.

Board approval of 31 applications for soil conservation assistance brought the total during the year to 173.

Involving 8,991 acres of Hockley county farm land, the 31 applications were from:

Theft Shatters Hopes Of Polio Victims For Christmas At Home

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Dec. 11. (AP)—A thief who stole a briefcase here shattered the hopes of 12 young polio patients for Christmas at home.

The children had been promised braces that would have permitted them to leave their hospital beds by Christmas, Charles a Rhyne, president of the Carolina Brace Manufacturing company, said.

He reported the theft of the brief case yesterday. He said it contained the records of the children's measurements and scarce tools for brace fittings. He said the measurements cannot be replaced before Christmas.

Paper Asks More Research Training In Soviet Schools

MOSCOW, Dec. 11. (AP)—The Communist party newspaper Pravda called on Soviet schools and universities today to devote more time to scientific research training.

Pravda declared that, among other things, the "ideological—political" education of Soviet scientists must be improved.

The paper also announced the award of thousands of citations to Soviet school teachers for long and faithful service. It said that in Moscow alone more than 4,000 teachers were cited—more than 900 of them receiving the coveted order of Lenin.

Merry Christmas Is Unhappy Pfc.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 11. (AP)—Merry Christmas is already here—and late at that.

Christmas is a private first class from Dermott, Ark. He was way behind schedule when he arrived yesterday on a transfer from the Panama Canal zone to Fort Benning. There were dark looks among the Army brass and hints of court martial before he got in.

"They thought," he explained, "that I was absent without leave, but my air transportation orders were cancelled and I had to come up by ship."

The sarge didn't waste any words or motion upon the private's arrival. He handed him a broom and started Christmas sweeping the barracks.

Two Fiery Crosses Blaze In Georgia After Initiation Of Members Into Ku Klux Klan

MACON, Ga., Dec. 11. (AP)—Ku Klux Klansmen, says their Grand Dragon, "believe in giving the negro an equal chance."

Dr. Samuel Green of Atlanta, who heads the hooded order, made this statement at the initiation of 300 new members at the city auditorium last night.

Fiery Crosses Blaze

About the time the meeting broke up, two fiery crosses blazed up in the metropolitan area. One was in front of a negro store in the city's outskirts.

The other was in front of a garage in the business district owned by Alderman W. J. Cassidy. Investigators found only smouldering kerosene - soaked rags when they arrived.

Would Be Proof

Grand Dragon Green had said beforehand that the initiation rites would prove that the Klan is "the greatest Christian organization in the world."

He invited the public to come and see. An estimated 3,500 persons did. About 2,500 masked and robed klansmen were present.

The Grand Dragon said the Klan stands for "white supremacy" but "does not hate the colored man, the Catholic or the Jew."

"Men who hate," he commented, "destroy their souls."

SHOE THIEF FOILED

ST. LOUIS. (U.P.)—The thief who stole five sample cases from the auto of Edwin J. Freimuth, shoe salesman, didn't get much, as is usual in such thefts. There were 117 shoes, all for the right foot.

Texan Acquitted Of Murder Charge By Colorado Court

CRAIG, Colo., Dec. 11. (AP) — Glen Jackson, 34-year-old oil field worker from Midland, Texas, was acquitted last night of a charge he murdered Jim Malloy, Artesia, Colo., grocer.

Jackson had testified that he went to the Malloy residence to see his 12 year old son who had been injured by a horse. Jackson's divorced wife, Mrs. Thelma Jackson, and her three children were living in the Malloy home.

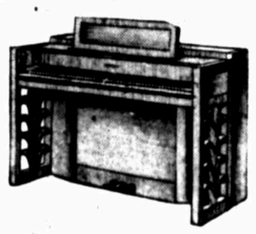

The oil field worker told the court that he fired at Malloy Sept. 30 in the Malloy home when Malloy "came at me." He said he feared Malloy was going to attack him.

The jury deliberated six and a half hours.

About 90 per cent of gonorrhea cases can be cured with one injection of penicillin.

Entire World Is Preparing For Yuletide Celebrations Which Will Last For Month

By JAMES POWERS
INS Staff Writer

The sun rarely sets on Yuletide celebrations throughout the world, beginning on Monday, Dec. 13, and lasting somewhere on the earth until a month later.

In the United States there are eleven shopping days left until Christmas. In Sweden shopping days are over for the first important holiday of the season; in the Philippines there are three days left before festivities begin; in Scotland the big day is not Dec. 25, but Jan. 1.

All over the world, even those parts of it that are not populated by followers of Christ, the last days of December and early January are a time of holiday and rejoicing.

Philippines Custom Typical

In America, it is turkey and mince pie that are traditional for Christmas feasting; in Spain, leg of lamb in the south and codfish in the north; in Latin-America, cool drinks instead of punches; in Scandinavia, lutfisk and ham.

But whether it is Santa Claus, Father Christmas or Saint Nicholas the small fry hopefully expect, the season is anticipated by peoples all over the world in much the same spirit, according to a world-wide survey of International News service correspondents.

Philippine Correspondent Pedro Isorena describes an island's Christmas that probably typifies the day for almost any place in the world.

He tells of Filipino children visiting their relatives on Christmas day and getting symbolical gifts of money as well as toys, clothes and the usual Christmas presents.

He adds:

"Later in the day, they return home with their arms, their stomaches, and their pockets full—very happy, very tired, and very sleepy.

"Sometimes they are also very sick."

Hoards To Come Out

From world-wide reports on Christmas feasting habits it is unlikely that Filipino children are the only ones who might become ill from over-eating.

Even in a world largely short of ordinary foods, let alone delicacies, Christmas will be the occasion to let loose with carefully hoarded eatables.

Occupied Japan, though not a Christian nation by tradition, has its own celebration on New Year's day and for a week after. Since the allied occupation, Christmas has come to have a festive if not religious meaning.

On New Year's day, the Japanese eat beans for health, seaweed for luck and herring roe for fruitfulness.

In Buddhist, Moslem and other Oriental countries, New Year's day is noted if Christmas is not. In Africa, even if the natives are not Christians, they welcome another holiday and delight in the Christmas tradition of gift exchanging.

Sweden First On Holiday

In the Christian world, the earliest official celebrations are held in Sweden where St. Lucia's day is marked on Dec. 13 with parades and special ceremonies.

Festivities in the Philippines begin on the 16th with the first of a series of "Misas De Gallo," or masses of the rooster. The church services are held before dawn, as the name implies, and in churches adorned with representations of the manager at Bethlehem expectantly awaiting the infant Jesus.

Elsewhere, celebration of the nativity begins up to a week before Dec. 25, but in most of the Christian world Christmas Eve is the highlight of the season.

In the United States, Britain and most of Anglo-Saxon countries, it is Christmas Eve when families gather and exchange gifts and greetings.

For the kids, nervously sleeping the expectant night away, the early hours of Christmas will find them stealing in to see what Santa has left beneath the glittering tree.

Colors Universal

The Spanish world does not use the Christmas tree as a nativity symbol except in some larger Philippine and Latin-American cities where the American influence has penetrated. But the traditional colors of red and green are almost universal.

In the British Isles and most of the empire, Christmas is a two-day celebration, the day itself is a holiday and the day after is "boxing day." The Dec. 26 holiday got its designation from the custom of exchanging gifts the day after Christmas; Christmas boxes, hence the name.

In England, Wales and Scotland plum pudding generally is substituted for the American mince pie or fruit cake. In Scotland, New Year's day is more important than Christmas. Scotland, of course, is the homeland of Auld Lang Syne.

A London correspondent, Frank Betts, notes wistfully that even for Scotland there will be very little of the British empire's most famous liquor—scotch whisky—to celebrate with. Most scotch is imported to the United States to give Britain needed dollar credits.

In Spain and most Spanish-speaking countries, gift exchanging is held off until Jan. 6, the feast of the Epiphany, commemorating the visit of the magi to the infant Jesus with their offerings of gold, frankinscense and myrrh.

There is a general absence in Spain and Argentina of the carols so traditional in Teutonic, Scandinavian and Celtic countries of the north. The English carols and German hyms have never been widely circulated in Spanish.

In countries in the Southern Hemisphere, from Australia to South Africa to Chile, the seasons are reversed and the weather is usually that of the height of summer. In Argentina, though, mistletoe is imported to insure that one good custom of Christmas is not slighted.

Double Pay Given

Another Argentinian custom that probably would be welcomed enthusiastically throughout the world—except by harried employers—is the double pay received during December. Employes are paid twice during the month, once on Christmas Eve and again on New Year's Eve.

The Scandinavian equivalent of American tom and jerrys and eggnog is "glogg." While Latin-Americans below the equator slake their summer thirst with cold drinks, the Swedes and others in the northern climates prepare hot beverages.

Glogg is a punch cooked with almonds, raisins and other spices, served hot.

The Scandinavian season is the longest of any throughout the world. It opens on Dec. 13 with St. Lucia's day and does not close until Jan. 13. On the last day of the season, children are allowed to raid the Christmas tree for any small gifts, fruits and candies hung as decorations.

Correspondents throughout the world reported different dates and different customs, but all agreed on one thing in connection with Christmas festivities—the spirit is universal.

Carlo Buonapart, an untitled smalltown Corsican lawyer, was the father of an emperor (Napoleon I), three kings, a queen and two duchesses.

Most South Plains Farmers Profit From Good Prices, Irrigation

County In Favorable Economic Position, Annual Report Shows

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

An increasingly large number of heavily-used irrigation wells, coupled with good prices for cotton and grain sorghum, brought a profit to most farmers this year, and "Lubbock county is in a good position as a whole, economically," it is set out in the annual report of County Agent D. W. Sherrill, released here this week.

The annual report, one section of which is in narrative form, and another statistical, is compiled, both for the benefit of the people as a whole who as taxpayers support the extension service program, and for any value it might be to other agents throughout the state in similar work.

The report sets out that "the county rates high in social and cultural advantages for its populace, both rural and urban."

He attributes much of the agricultural profit to 1,600 irrigation wells on 1,300 farms, which assured a fairly good crop in spite of an extremely dry year.

And also due largely to increasing irrigation "new possibilities in vegetable production" have been opened, and given added impetus by establishment of a canning plant.

Price supports and government loans helped to assure good incomes to farmers, and while costs of producing the crop were high, new and improved methods of mechanized farming added to farm income.

Evidencing a feeling of general well being, and confidence in the future "many new farm homes have been built in Lubbock county, and merchants have enjoyed the benefits of this good farm income."

Rural Conditions Improved

Social and entertainment activities in rural areas center in eight communities of consolidated school districts, which have stores, churches and in most cases, adequate school plants, and "rural folks take a great interest in school and sports contests."

There has been "very little change in rural population," which is predominantly white, and increased attention to health is noted.

The report notes that farm people are progressively better educated, take to new worthwhile ideas, have raised standards of living, are progressive and wide awake to new opportunities, and look forward to years of progress, both socially and culturally, and to new techniques of farming.

In the matter of conservation, the extension service, while cooperating fully with the U. S. Soil Conservation service and other similar agencies, goes beyond the saving of soil and water, seeking to apply the broader aspects of conservation, including better methods, machinery, materials, and conservation of general health that leads to a happier, more prosperous agriculture.

On the subject of irrigation and general crop production, the report sets out that "although we maintain dry land farming has been and can still be a successful endeavor in this section, irrigation has no doubt stabilized farm income and assured profit to farmer and town business men alike."

One example of the well-rounded farm program which irrigation has helped to create is the rapid expansion in the use of mixed grass pastures. Much stress has been placed on modern advantages of irrigated semi-permanent pastures, and "this year 100 such pastures from two to 25 acres were planted."

This, the report sets out, is due in part to recognition of the need for more roughage, and "where once great open ranges rolled in endless expanse, now is to be found land devoted to row crops, mostly cotton and combine grain sorghums."

The report said that in this county there are now some 500 irrigated pastures. A typical mixture for these is seven pounds each of perennial rye, orchard grass and southern brome grass, one to two pounds of alfalfa and one pound of ladine clover per acre. One preparation of this planting will last from four to six years, and furnish grazing for two to three head of stock per acre for seven to nine months of the year.

Underground System Needed

From the 1,600 wells on 1,300 farms in the county, the total number of acres under irrigation now is placed at 192,000. Most of this is done by open ditches, causing heavy water loss from seepage and evaporation, but efforts are being pushed toward installation of underground water conduit systems, and by other water conservation methods.

The report shows ten sprinkler or overhead irrigation systems in the county, by which 1,000 acres are irrigated.

On cotton production, the report shows 350,000 acres planted, but due to hail damage, only 295,000 acres were harvested, with estimated total production of about 100,000 bales.

All farmers of all communities were members of a cotton improvement group, and availed themselves of the Smith-Doxey cotton classing service. Mechanization showed rapid gains, and was sparked by the second annual belt-wide mechanization conference held here at mid-October. A total of 600 stripper type harvesting machines were operated in the county.

The report shows that 700 farms in the county were assisted in fitting cotton into a balanced farming program. A total of 30 miles of terraces were completed during the year, involving 1,200 acres of crop land.

Number Gardens Declines

There was a total of 1,700 gardens in the county. Of them 1,000 were at farm homes, 500 in city, and 200 4-H club projects. The report is accompanied by the remark that "ironically, the increase in farm income made an actual decrease in number of gardens."

Planting of fruit trees and vines helped to offset the decline in gardens, however. A total of 790 fruit trees were planted, and 12,185 vines. These were, of course, those that came to the attention of the county agent. Others were undoubtedly planted without his assistance.

In a summary of general activities the report shows a total of 2,121 farms in the county, and that of these, 2,000 families have been influenced by some phase of the extension service program. On 1,600 of the 2,121 farms, changes in practices have definitely resulted from the agricultural program, and of the 1,600, one-fourth were reached during 1948.

Program Is Aid

The report shows also that 300 non-farm families made changes in practices as result of the agricultural program. There are 290 farm homes in the county with 4-H club members, and 72 other homes with 4-H enrollees.

Sherrill listed statistical information, for himself and assistants, but not including the home demonstration agent and her staff, as follows:

Devoted 463 days to work with adults, and 302 days to 4-H clubs and other youth; spent 226 days in the office, and 539 days in the field; made 1,317 farm or rural home visits in line of duty, visiting 1,145 different farms or homes; had 4,503 office calls, and 5,287 telephone calls relating to extension work; caused to be published 120 news articles distributed 5,798 bulletins, and made 425 radio broadcasts.

Mrs. Kowalski's Splashing Ducks Irritate Mrs. Kobus

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—Ducks, says Mrs. Stella Kobus, are a nuisance.

Her neighbor, Mrs. Weronika Kowalski, keeps ducks in her back yard. When the ducks swim in their little pool, they splash water and the water splashes against Mrs. Kobus' garage.

The planks, says Mrs. Kobus, are rotting. She filed suit for an injunction to keep Mrs. Kowalski from keeping ducks that splash water on Mrs. Kobus' garage.

4-H Club Activities Important Part Of Agricultural Service

One of the more important phases of extension service work, and one holding increasing interest with youth as well as with the service, is 4-H club activity, it is pointed out in the optimistic annual report by County Agent D. W. Sherrill.

Work with youth is, given special attention in the report, which covers only boys' activities. Girls' club activities are under supervision of Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent, who files a separate report.

Boys' club work during most of the year was under direction of Lee Roy Colgan, assistant to Sherrill, who resigned effective Dec. 1 to become county agent in Dawson county.

Sherrill's report shows a total of 411 boys enrolled in 4-H activities. Of these, 348 were from farms homes, and 63 from non farm homes. There are 15 clubs in the county.

An interesting part of the report is that the number of active enrollees in the program decreases with age. For instance, there are 90 4-H members who are 10 years of age and under, 76 who are 11 years old, 89 who are 12, 67 who are 13, 52 who are 14, 23 who are 15, 10 who are 16, two who are 17, and two 18.

Length of participation also declines with age. First year boys, those in the program for the first time, number 123, second year 129, third year 81, fourth year 42, fifth year 23, sixth year 7, seventh year 4, and eighth year 2.

They participate in projects including beef cattle, swine, dairy cattle, poultry, livestock judging, cotton, gardens, etc., and participate also in a recreation and entertainment program. They shared in cash or equivalent awards totaling more than $1,000 as prizes, contributed by organizations or individuals in the county.

In addition, they received from sales of various products a total of more than $77,983.39, which was, of course, all on individual-project basis.

Cotton was the best money project. There were 77 demonstration projects representing 386 acres that yielded 161,035 pounds of lint cotton. This was 322 500-lb. bales worth $45,080, plus 96 tons of seed worth $7,360, a total income to the 77 boys of $52,440.

Beef Also Profitable

Average income from cotton projects would be nearly $728 for each boy, from an average acreage of five acres, a per-acre income of $145.50. These are average figures, and would vary for each individual because each project varied in size, crop conditions, and other things that would affect yields.

Beef calves were next in order of income, and hogs were third. A total of 48 boys started beef projects, and 41 finished. They had a total of 84 head, of which 65 were sold. Those sold weighed 44,657 pounds and brought a gross income of $11,661.04.

In the group, 13 boys showed 18 calves at Fort Worth, Amarillo, and Lubbock calf shows, and 13 of them are now feeding 26 calves for the 1949 spring shows.

In swine demonstrations, 148 boys started projects, with 121 completions and 229 animals. Of the 229 head, 175 were sold at a total weight of 40,097 pounds for a gross income of $9,841.15. Out of the total, 51 were shown at county and district shows, and there are 20 to 25 boys who are now feeding between 50 and 60 fat barrows for 1949 spring shows.

In poultry projects, a total of 1,152 fowls were sold for $1,036.80, and egg sales from projects totaled 6,681 dozen, bringing $2,672.40.

Sheep accounted for the $332 balance of the total receipts. Of these, 14 were sold, a total weight of 1,187 pounds.

But that is not a full picture of 4-H club activities or income. There were other projects from which the boys received cash rewards not listed in the agent's report, not to mention livestock remaining on hand and other valuable assets.

Independent Oil Operators Are Alarmed Over Import Increases

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, Dec. 11—Independent oil operators are alarmed over increases in imports of crude oil.

They say the mounting imports are being emphasized at the expense of curtailed domestic production.

Russell Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, recently said the I. P. A. A. was founded in 1929 on a fight to limit imports.

"It looks like the same situation is with us today," he added.

W. S. S. Rodgers, chairman of the board of the Texas company, feels there is no cause for alarm.

He says his company is importing considerable oil but adds:

Imports To Decline

"These imports will decline as soon as refining facilities in western Europe become adequate to meet the demand."

Gulf Oil corporation last week announced plans for expenditure of $40,000,000 for improvement of its facilities at Philadelphia, designated as the company's chief port of entry for foreign oil.

Latest Bureau of Mines statistics show crude oil imports for the first nine months of the year totaled 89,051,000 barrels, compared with 73,271,000 for the same period last year.

This represents an increase of 12.6 percent, with exports declining 18.9 percent.

Production Declines

Crude production for the week ending December 4 declined 1,900 barrels to a daily average of 5,615,150, but still was 350,000 barrels above the same period in 1947.

Gasoline production for the week totaled 18,216,000 barrels, only 28,000 barrels short of the all-time record and more than 2,000,000 ahead of the same week last year.

Residual fuel oil stocks climbed another 200,000 barrels to 86,381,000, as compared with 55,556,000 a year earlier.

Profits "Not Excessive"

A New York banker on Thursday said profits of 30 oil companies for the first nine months of the year totaled $1,410,000,000 but were not excessive.

Joseph E. Pogue, a vice-president of Chase National bank, told the Senate-House Economic committee only 24 percent of the net income will go to stockholders, compared with 35 percent last year and 43 percent in 1946.

Commissioners In Court

The Texas Railroad commissioners are spending much time in courtrooms these days.

A state district court in Austin has issued permanent injunctions against commission orders shutting down two fields alleged to be wasting oil well gas.

The state supreme court set a hearing on appeal of one of the injunctions for January 12.

In Houston this week, a three-judge federal court dissolved a temporary restraining order granted earlier to Canadian River Gas company which is protesting the commission's proration order for the Panhandle field, world's largest natural gas producing area.

Canadian Gas also had asked the judges to hold the three commissioners in contempt of court, alleging violation of a permanent injunction granted in 1937.

Attorneys for the company indicated they will file a mandamus suit with the Supreme court in Washington in seeking to force the three judges to hear the case.

Plant Will Open

Phillips Chemical company officials say their new ammonium sulfate plant at Port Adams, will be in operation before January 1 . . . Paul Kayser, president of El Paso Natural Gas, testified before the Federal Power commission Tuesday that natural gas supplies in west Texas and New Mexico are ample to meet all demands for at least 15 years . . . High bids totaling $2,141,687 have been received by the Texas State School Land board for mineral leases on 79,135 acres of public land . . . Richfield Oil corporation realized $1,088,573 from sealed bids sales of holdings in west Texas and New Mexico, the company withdrawing January 1 from Permian basin operations.

Test Flows Recorded

Two sets of perforations at Carter Oil's new well in Garvin county, Okla., recorded test flows of 441 barrels in seven hours and 780 barrels in 15 hours . . . W. M. (Mike) Griffith, Plymouth Oil vice president, says he considers a Tom Greene county well, which tested at the rate of 10 barrels hourly, good for 500 barrels daily production . . . Potential of 1140 barrels daily has been filed for Sinclair Prairie Oil's Andrews county, discovery well . . . Continental Oil's wildcat discovery, 10 miles south of Hobbs, N. M., had a drill stem test flow of 98 barrels hourly.

CENSORSHIP UNDECIDED

NANKING, Dec. 11. (AP)—A government spokesman said today it was uncertain when censorship of mails and cables would be instituted, as authorized yesterday by China's legislative Yuan. The lawmaking body approved the step as a national security measure.

Dog Speechless At Judge's Decision

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11. (AP)—Kelley, cocker spaniel whose mistress says it can say "mama" but not "papa," will stay with mama pending her divorce suit against papa.

Mrs. Gladys Bales, 43, said yesterday in superior court that her estranged husband, Le Roy, had taken Kelley from her.

"I can't get along without him (the dog). He can say 'mama' plain as can be, and 'I love mama'. He can't say 'papa'."

That was good enough for Judge Elmer D. Doyle. He awarded the dog to Mrs. Bales. Kelley was speechless.

Conservation Methods Studied In Fight On Dust Blowing Threat

Plains Area Affected By Recent Storms; Suggestions Are Offered

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Dust is a nuisance and botheration to the housewife and to people in general, and it involves some cost in ridding houses of it.

But to the landowner, and the farmer on the soil, conditions during the last few weeks have created a situation that puts dust into a category far more important and expensive than a nuisance.

There are continuing and increasing indications that the dust may cost West Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle farmers millions of dollars, and unless and until healing moisture is received, there is little promise of relief.

Wind Causes Damages

Dust storms of the last few days have been labeled by the U. S. Soil Conservation service as among the most damaging in recent years. High winds, ranging in velocity up to 55 miles an hour, killed with cutting sand, or "blow out" young wheat and other soil protecting cover crops in ever-expanding portions of the Texas and Oklahoma plains.

Reports compiled by the regional soil conservation office at Fort Worth from information on wind erosion conditions gathered by soil conservation personnel in conservation districts of the two states, show that 933,000 acres in West Texas and western Oklahoma are giving up dust to boistrous winds.

But that is not all. There are 3,869,000 acres without enough plant cover to prevent blowing, setting up an onimous picture of the situation. Of the total acreage without sufficient cover, all but 50,000 are in Texas.

This leaves more than 3,000,000 acres, centering on the South Plains, that are either now under heavy wind erosion, or without natural means to prevent it.

More Moisture Needed

Lack of moisture prevents farmers from establishing winter cover crops to protect the land. Soil moisture in the area has been gradually declining for three years. Last year (1947), rainfall in the area was well below normal, but good subsoil moisture served crop production purposes, and with scattered rains permitted soil protection measures.

This year, with subsoil moisture practically nil, rainfall in this area was 10 to 11 inches, slightly more than half the normal faill. Consequently, crops were short of spring expectations, and with no moisture of consequence since early summer, crop residues that would serve to help prevent wind erosion are at a minimum.

And, because of lack of fall rains, farmers whose land was without cover, could not list or do much otherwise in preparation of land against blowing.

Stubble Protects Land

Soil conservation officials point out that wherever farmers have kept crop residues (stalks and stubble) intact until sufficient moisture was in the ground to produce another crop, those lands are now protected.

They add, however, that in many instances lands on which good conservation measures have been practiced are being damaged by deposits from neighboring lands.

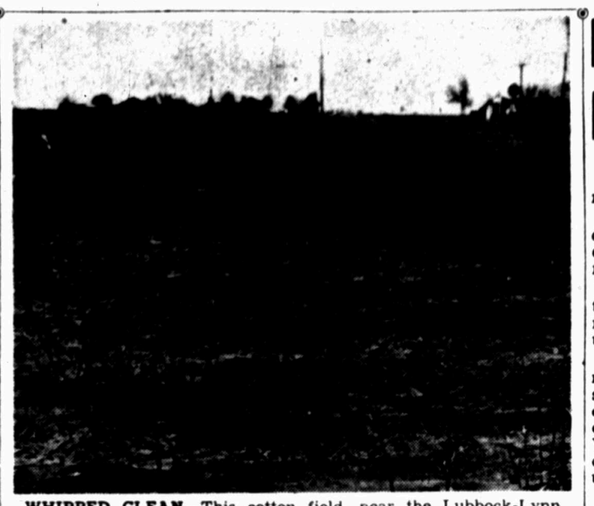

The large wind erosion area, as outlined by the soil conservation service, is a wide belt extending southwest to northeast, starting along the Texas-New Mexico border east of El Paso, centering through Lubbock, Lynn and Hockley counties, then northeast to the southeast and east portion of the Texas Panhandle, and on into western Oklahoma.

The belt extends as far east as Taylor and Callahan counties (Abilene and Baird), and in a northeasterly sweep from there through Wichita and Clay counties.

The conservation reports show Lubbock, Lynn, and Hockley counties as solid "blow" areas, with what is accepted as generally heavier sand areas of Yoakum, Cochran, Bailey, and parts of Terry counties not currently in such bad condition.

Louis P. Merrill, regional conservator at the Fort Worth office of the conservation service, indicated that the north portion of the Texas Panhandle has not far-

ANOTHER HELP—An 18-foot chisel plow, drawn by a crawler type tractor, is shown here in use in Lynn county in a fight on wind erosion. The tractor, owned by the county commissioners court, is available to farmers at $1.25 an acre, and can cover 40 acres in a day. The big hooks claw into the soil eight to ten inches or more, turning up clods which serve to catch drifting soil. This unit was on the D. A. Morrow farm, 12 miles northwest of Tahoka. The driver is Lester Short. Watching, left to right, are County Judge Tom Garrard, County Agent W. B. Griffin, and an unidentified farmer. (Staff Photos by Bill Hams.)

Much Of State Facing Drouth

(By The Associated Press)

It's the worst Texas drouth on record.

Burned crops, parched ranges, dwindling herds, and blowing dust bear out the weather bureau's dry statistics.

Barren pastures, stunted grains, the hopeless skyward glance of a rancher—things like these tell the undramatic, bitter story of drouth.

An over-the-state survey by member newspapers of The Associated Press shows virtually every section—except the northern Panhandle—is suffering. The Weather bureau could recall no drouth to equal the current situation.

Range Lands Are Hit

Hardest hit is West Texas. Around San Angelo, ranges are feeding the smallest number of livestock in two decades. In the Abilene area, cattle, sheep and goats wintering on the range are being fed grain, hay and cottonseed hulls. At Big Spring, the West Texas cotton harvest is drawing to a close—farmers are weary of carting dust-spoiled cotton to the gins. Ranching conditions at Midland are critical.

In seven North Texas counties around Wichita Falls, stock tanks are dusty-dry and wheat farmers are heavy with gloom. Fires race often through the crackling wood lands of East Texas. At Tyler, the prized rose-bush industry has taken a whipping—rainfall is less than half of normal. And in northeast Texas—at Denton—wheat, oats, barley and vetch are a 75 per cent loss. Rainfall there was .45 of an inch in November. But El Paso, far to the west, got no measurable rain at all.

Pasture crops have been dead since mid-summer in Grayson county, North Texas, and grain crops are losing out. Even South Texas ranges are suffering, a report from Jim Wells county said.

Gulf Area Also Dry

Soil Conservation service officials at Fort Worth said West Texas now has 3,099,000 acres without enough plant cover to prevent blowing dust.

The North Plains counties of the Panhandle have had more than normal rainfall—wheat pros-

Tinseled Toy Town Springs From Once Rundown Hamlet

SAVAGE, Md., Dec. 11. (AP)—As though a fairy waved a wand, this southern Maryland village became a Christmas wonderland today.

Thousands of youngsters arriving in special trains and autos found a tinseled toy town where there was once a rundown hamlet threatened with a ghostly existence.

Before the day was over the strikingly unsuitable name of Savage was changed to Santa Heim. Heim is the man who waved the wand and by coincidence it also means "home" in German. Hence a fitting name of "Santa Home."

Bought Entire Town

Harry Heim has been planning this Santa home since he bought the hamlet of Savage lock, stock and barrel a year ago. Primarily he bought a 200-year-old textile mill going out of business to make his own Christmas tree decorations. With it went 600 acres and 175 company-owned houses and the village utilities.

The quaint old brick houses have been repainted and all wear outdoor Christmas decorations. A community house holds long shelves of toys. The streets are festooned with 28,000 varicolored lights and on intersections are silver trees framing cutouts of nursery rhyme characters.

A huge lighted star tops the factory and at the lane leading into Savage off the busy Washington boulevard is a miniature castle.

Naturally, Santa Claus and his eight live reindeer pulling a sled were there, too. There's also a circus tent with life-size animals operated by motors.

Two special Baltimore & Ohio railroad trains hired by Heim brought youngsters from Baltimore and Washington, equidistant from here, to Santa Heim. Many others came in cars and buses.

The belt extends as far east as Taylor and Callahan counties (Abilene and Baird), and in a northeasterly sweep from there through Wichita and Clay counties.

The conservation reports show Lubbock, Lynn, and Hockley counties as solid "blow" areas, with what is accepted as generally heavier sand areas of Yoakum, Cochran, Bailey, and parts of Terry counties not currently in such bad condition.

Louis P. Merrill, regional conservator at the Fort Worth office of the conservation service, indicated that the north portion of the Texas Panhandle has not far-

Much Of State Facing Drouth

(By The Associated Press)

It's the worst Texas drouth on record.

Burned crops, parched ranges, dwindling herds, and blowing dust bear out the weather bureau's dry statistics.

Barren pastures, stunted grains, the hopeless skyward glance of a rancher—things like these tell the undramatic, bitter story of drouth.

An over-the-state survey by member newspapers of The Associated Press shows virtually every section—except the northern Panhandle—is suffering. The Weather bureau could recall no drouth to equal the current situation.

Range Lands Are Hit

Hardest hit is West Texas. Around San Angelo, ranges are feeding the smallest number of livestock in two decades. In the Abilene area, cattle, sheep and goats wintering on the range are being fed grain, hay and cottonseed hulls. At Big Spring, the West Texas cotton harvest is drawing to a close—farmers are weary of carting dust-spoiled cotton to the gins. Ranching conditions at Midland are critical.

In seven North Texas counties around Wichita Falls, stock tanks are dusty-dry and wheat farmers are heavy with gloom. Fires race often through the crackling wood lands of East Texas. At Tyler, the prized rose-bush industry has taken a whipping—rainfall is less than half of normal. And in northeast Texas—at Denton—wheat, oats, barley and vetch are a 75 per cent loss. Rainfall there was .45 of an inch in November. But El Paso, far to the west, got no measurable rain at all.

Pasture crops have been dead since mid-summer in Grayson county, North Texas, and grain crops are losing out. Even South Texas ranges are suffering, a report from Jim Wells county said.

Gulf Area Also Dry

Soil Conservation service officials at Fort Worth said West Texas now has 3,099,000 acres without enough plant cover to prevent blowing dust.

The North Plains counties of the Panhandle have had more than normal rainfall—wheat pros-

Tinseled Toy Town Springs From Once Rundown Hamlet

SAVAGE, Md., Dec. 11. (AP)—As though a fairy waved a wand, this southern Maryland village became a Christmas wonderland today.

Thousands of youngsters arriving in special trains and autos found a tinseled toy town where there was once a rundown hamlet threatened with a ghostly existence.

Before the day was over the strikingly unsuitable name of Savage was changed to Santa Heim. Heim is the man who waved the wand and by coincidence it also means "home" in German. Hence a fitting name of "Santa Home."

Bought Entire Town

Harry Heim has been planning this Santa home since he bought the hamlet of Savage lock, stock and barrel a year ago. Primarily he bought a 200-year-old textile mill going out of business to make his own Christmas tree decorations. With it went 600 acres and 175 company-owned houses and the village utilities.

The quaint old brick houses have been repainted and all wear outdoor Christmas decorations. A community house holds long shelves of toys. The streets are festooned with 28,000 varicolored lights and on intersections are silver trees framing cutouts of nursery rhyme characters.

A huge lighted star tops the factory and at the lane leading into Savage off the busy Washington boulevard is a miniature castle.

Naturally, Santa Claus and his eight live reindeer pulling a sled were there, too. There's also a circus tent with life-size animals operated by motors.

Two special Baltimore & Ohio railroad trains hired by Heim brought youngsters from Baltimore and Washington, equidistant from here, to Santa Heim. Many others came in cars and buses.

REBUILDING OF ARMY OPPOSED

French Reds Claimed Mapping Attack On Atlantic Pact Plans

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

PARIS, Dec. 11.—The French Communist party was reported today preparing to shift its propaganda attacks to the army as part of a powerful new offensive against the proposed North Atlantic security pact.

Information reaching official circles in Paris indicate that the new offensive will be touched off with attaeks on plans to rebuild the French army with help of American military equipment.

The Communist plan reportedly provides also for intensified efforts to convince French workers to sign petitions pledging themselves not to fight against Russia.

Propaganda Drive Mapped

The basis of the plan is for heavy use of Communist press and spokesmen in an attempt to convince the workers that the proposed pact is an aggressive alliance in preparation for western war against Russia.

Western European union defense planners are hoping to get sufficient American military aid to equip 15 French divisions within the next 12 months. These troops, along with five British divisions and a few Dutch and Belgian divisions, would be used as the nucleus of a western European land army to hold the Rhine river line in the event of war with Russia—until American troops could be transported across the Atlantic in force.

There are indications that the Communists intend to assail this plan on the grounds that it means the U. S. and Britain want Frenchmen to do the fighting for them and take the brunt of the attack if war comes.

French Bases Vulnerable

Aware that the strategic Western European union's defense plan calls for the American and British air forces to have predominance in that field, the French Communists already are asserting that Washington and London wish to deprive France of a strong air force.

Actually, one of the reasons why the American and British strategists are said to be hesitant about seeing major air bases developed in metropolitan France is the danger that they might be quickly overrun by Soviet armies.

Under the Western European defense scheme, there is every intention to use French fields as advanced fighter bases but the British Isles, Spain and Italy would, it is believed, make safer main bases for the big bombers.

The Communist effort to solicit the signature of French workers to peace petitions is expected to be followed by a more forceful method of resistance to the rearmament of France. There are reports that the Communists plan to try to persuade dockers and railway workers not to handle military equipment shipped to France from the United States.

Having succeeded in seriously impeding the progress of the Marshall plan aid program in France through strikes, the Communists are known to be hopeful that they can disrupt the plans to have that nation play a key role in the North Atlantic security system.

Spokesmen for Gen. Charles De Gaulle claim the Communists already have secretly organized international brigade groups at strategic points throughout France.

These groups are alleged Communists from many other European countries, including Poles, Yugoslavs, Czechs, Spaniards and former German war prisoners who were freed to work in France.

Jean Nocher, Gaullist publicist, writing in his monthly publication Le Pamphlet Atomique, charges that major operating bases for these international brigades are in the following areas: Paris, Rouen, Arras, Lille, Metz, Nantes, Limoges, between Bordeaux and Bayonne, Marseille, Nice and north of Perpignan.

Nocher claims that these international brigades, reinforced by Communist militia, would be used to sabotage the country's transportation system if France went to war against Russia.

FFA, 4-H Club Push Efforts For Capacity Crowd At Show

Members of the Lubbock County 4-H club and Future Farmers of America organizations are to redouble their efforts in a ticket-selling drive this week hoping to have a capacity house for the appearance Friday night at Lubbock Senior High school auditorium of Dr. Gaffney, master magician.

Proceeds from the program will be used by the two groups in purchase of scales and other equipment needed in preparing for livestock shows. Joe Leech, FFA president; and Roy Middleton, 4-H culb leader; announced joint sponsorship of the magician's appearance here.

Gaffney is said to be one of the few magicians appearing throughout the U.S. today. Included in the two-hour show will be presentation of the "floating lady" trick with rare skill and ability and numerous other feature acts.

Don Paige, interpretative dancer from Hollywood, and Viola and her white doves, are also featured in the show. Gaffney uses two tons of equipment in the show.

Washington Fails To Practice Preaching On Civil Rights Plan

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 — In this capital of the nation more is said about all men being equal—and ending discrimination because of race, color or religious belief—than anywhere else in America.

For that reason the things that are preached—and those actually practiced—are shown in strange contrast in a 91-page report called "segregation in Washington."

This is the result of a study, begun in 1946, of the treatment given negroes in Washington.

It is sponsored by a committee, called "the national committee on segregation in the nation's capital," made up of 87 prominent men and women, white and negro, from all over the country.

Segregation Prevails

What follows is taken from the committee's report, either in direct quotes or briefed form:

"In spite of all its principles and all its professions, its executive orders and directives, the government is systematically denying the colored citizens of the capital equal opportunity in employment and is setting an example of racial discrimination to the city and the nation . . .

"Discrimination prevails in all (government) departments in varying forms, usually as a matter of accepted practice."

"In some departments negroes are hired only for menial jobs.

"In Washington the schools for whites and negroes are separate. White and negro athletic or debating teams never meet. The schools for colored children are inferior to those for whites. Negro schools are too few and too small. Negro schools are short of teachers."

Many Slum Dwellers

In the school-year 1946-47, the white schools received $160.21 per pupil for current operations, and the negro schools $126.52.

Only one of the four universities in the city—not counting all-negro Howard university—admits negroes as undergraduates.

Only 30 per cent of the people living in the District of Columbia are negroes. But 70 per cent of the people living in slums are negroes.

And 69 per cent of the people who die from tuberculosis are negroes. And 69 per cent of the people arrested for crimes are negroes.

In 1946 negro babies born in the district were almost twice as likely to die as white babies. Negro mothers were six times as likely to die as white mothers.

One fourth of the 12 private hospitals exclude negroes altogether. The remainder allot them a number of beds in segregated wards.

"Negro doctors are segregated by white doctors. They are barred from the district medical society and from the American Medical association."

They also are barred from all the 12 private hospitals of the city. There is only one hospital in the city to which a negro doctor can take a private patient.

Negroes who work for a living in Washington work longer hours and the percentage of negro teenagers working is twice that of whites.

Negroes are excluded from most skilled trades by the craft unions, and from white industries by management policy. In stores, on busses and street cars they have little chance for a job. The big department stores deny a negro woman a chance to become a clerk.

Negroes can ride beside white people on street cars and busses but they are segregated in theaters, restaurants, churches, parks and playgrounds.

LEAVES FOR HOME

TOKYO, Dec. 11. (AP)—Justice B. V. A. Roling, Netherlands member of the 11-nation war crimes tribunal, left Japan for home today. The tribunal convicted former Premier Hideki Tojo and 24 other Japanese leaders of responsibility for the Pacific war.

THIEF HAS A CAPITAL IDEA—Lou Farkas, above, owner of a Toledo, O.( bar, took it in his stride when a thief escaped with $185 from his cash register. But, three days later, Farkas got a letter which knocked the equilibrium clean out of him. It was an unsigned note, which simply said, "Sorry for the trouble." Enclosed was $185.

GALL BLADDER TROUBLE HEADACHES

CASE HISTORY NO. 1792: Lady; Age 64; Symptoms: Had severe pain in the right side up and under the ribs in the abdominal region. Was diagnosed by her physician as having gall bladder trouble. She came to the STEPHENS CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC in January to find out if Chiropractic could do her any good and save her from more trouble in the future. X-Ray pictures were made of her spine and Neurocalometer (nerve test) examination revealed the true cause of her trouble. The X-Ray pictures were shown to her which revealed a severe displacement of the vertebrae. The nerve test determined the amount of pressure on nerves leading to her affected organs. She began a course of scientific chiropractic service.

RESULTS UNDER CHIROPRACTIC

This case began feeling better from the first chiropractic adjustment. Then she thought there was no use to return for further service and she would be well from then on. But in about two months later she began having the same symptoms as before. She was advised to keep coming for service until Nature had time to rebuild her body. After a few more weeks her old symptoms disappeared but some new symptoms developed which she never had before. She kept coming and a few weeks later all symptoms disappeared. She still comes for occasional check-ups and she is now well and happy. She said, "I wouldn't take anything for what chiropractic in its latest development has done for me." She also said, "Just think I suffered this long and didn't know the cause of my trouble." FOR FURTHER INFORMATION concerning the modern Chiropractor and what he can do for you.

Plans Moving Ahead For Benefit Concert

Plans were moving ahead Saturday for the annual Christmas benefit concert to be given Monday night, Dec. 20, at the high school auditorium by the 130-piece Texas Tech college band, and the college glee club.

All funds from the concert, sponsored by Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, will go into the Goodfellows fund, it was announced by Thomas Shook, chairman of the sponsoring group's arrangements committee.

The band will be under the direction of D. O. Wiley, and Richard Richards will direct glee club numbers. The program had not been announced, but will include at least one number by the combined band and chorus, and three numbers by the chorus, along with ensemble numbers, the announcement said.

Tickets for the concert will be 50 cents each. They will be on sale during the week at the B. E. Adair Music company downtown.

Texas City Disaster Suit Is Slated For Next Spring

HOUSTON, Dec. 11 (AP) — A mass trial to determine the government's liability for damages in the Texas City disaster last year will not begin before next spring it was indicated here today.

Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly today issued instructions to attorneys for the government to finish taking the depositions for the trial by March 25, and for attorneys for the plaintiffs by April 10.

He said he will have to study his court calendar before setting a date for start of the trial, originally scheduled to begin last Monday.

The government had asked that the trial be postponed until June, while representatives of the claimants had demanded it begin on schedule this month.

Several thousand people, through some 260 suits, seek over $200,000,000 in damages alleged to have resulted from the Texas City waterfront disaster of April last year.

Movie theatre crowds in Panama are reported off 50 per cent, because of bad times.

Actions Of Tito Create Grave Economic Crisis, Ex-King Says

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—Marshal Tito's split with the Cominform has deprived Yugoslavia of Poland's coal and brought the worst economic crisis in the nation's history, former King Peter said today.

But there are no indications that Tito will lose his seat as head of Yugoslavia's Communist government in the near future, or that the country will throw off the Communist yoke, Peter said.

"Tito is stronger than a year ago. The effect of the split internally has been to place the people under a dual threat. Not only do the non-Communists fear the Communists, but Tito's supporters now are arranged against supporters of the Cominform," he said.

Hard Question Posed

How serious is the split between Tito and Moscow?

"That is a hard question to answer because it is difficult for a western mind to understand the Communist thinking. Poland, which usually does what Moscow says, has cut off coal shipments to Yugoslavia. Tito was getting most of Poland's coal. Now he is getting none. On the other hand, he is exporting copper and other minerals in large quantities to other Communist countries."

Are there any signs of other Balkan countries splitting with Moscow?

"There is nothing definite. We have received reports of differences from Bulgaria and Poland, but they do not appear to be anything serious."

Would Gain Nothing

What would the United States stand to gain by doing business with Yugoslavia?

"Nothing. There seem to be two lines of thought on the matter in this country, but I think the belief that the United States might win favor with Tito is a very ignorant approach. Of course he would accept anything he could get from the United States. But he would not change his policy toward this country."

Is there any large scale flight from Yugoslavia by non-Communists through an organized underground?

"There is no organized underground. It could be criminal to try to organize one."

Some Are Hungry

What are present economic conditions in Yugoslavia?

"Because of the heavy export of food, people in some sectors are hungry. The rift between the Cominform and Tito has further disorganized rehabilitation."

Is there any organized effort to overthrow the Communists?

"No. No one would dare join. If a Democratic government was established, how could it stand without support from the outside?"

Drouth Over State

pects are satisfactory.

Beaumont, on the Gulf coast, has had 32 inches of rain but says its a dry year. Dallas has had only 2.50 inches of rain since July 11.

Here is a section-by-section report:

San Angelo: It's the driest four years on record. Ranchmen to the west who ordinarily run 5,000 to 7,000 breeding ewes now are running from 600 to 1,500—and all are being fed. Very little range land has any appreciable grass. Only irrigated small grains are doing well. What few cattle are still on the range are carrying comparatively good flesh. Only 49.47 inches of rain in four years.

Denton: Farmers suffering heaviest loss in years. Four-month drouth holds firm grasp. W. A. McKamy, big-scale rancher, says: "My grass land's in the worst condition I've seen in 40 years of ranching." Pastures are burned up. Cover crops couldn't be planted and blowing is very bad. Wheat, oats, barley, vetch, 75 per cent loss. No rain above an inch since July.

Midland Section Suffers

Midland: Drouth condition critical; range and farm lands driest in years. High winds have kicked up sand several weeks. Ranchers have started feeding. Foy Proctor, one of West Texas' biggest cattlemen says situation bad but country is light enough stocked so that, with reasonable feeding, stock can weather the cold months. Cotton production 60 per cent of normal.

Sherman: Fall sown grains taking a beating. Small plants above surface but still some life left in many grains. Pasture crops dead since mid-summer. Large percentage hairy vetch and legume crops lost.

Athens: Henderson county is comparatively as dry as some West Texas areas. Rainfall nine inches below normal since September. Stock tanks almost dry but rains were spaced to give good stand to new clover crops. Pastures, cover crops, need rain badly.

Abilene: With drouth in fourth year, range in this area has ebbed to all-time low. Conditions in Callahan and Coleman counties especially bad. Cattle, sheep, goats, being fed grain, hay, cottonseed hulls. Wheat grazing failed to materialize. There is concern for large acreage of wheat planted. No rain since October.

Fires In East Texas

Tyler: Fires are burning over woodlands and pastures in every sector. In the rose bush industry, budding ran as much as two months late. Much nursery stock suffered damage. Fall truck acreage far below normal. Most dairymen have had their cattle on feed since June. Cotton has benefitted from the dry weather.

San Antonio: Crops and feed generally in better shape than at same time last year. Oats, other small grain badly need rain. Stock in good shape due to curtailment of herds. Very little grass left.

Beaumont: Thirty-two inches of rain through November, about 20 inches short of full year's average. Winter pastures about 60 days late but responding well to recent rain. Condition of cattle fair.

Big Spring: Dust and sandstorms have loaded late seed cotton. Producers losing money hauling topsoil to gins and cotton harvest of 1948 drawing to halt. One producer got only 660 pounds of lint out of 6,370 pounds of hand-pulled cotton.

Amarillo: Year's precipitation 3.88 inches above normal. Over most of North Plains there is considerable grazing of wheat, indicating satisfactory condition for this area's principal farm product. Amarillo rainfall best since 1941.

Pampa: Plenty of moisture for crops and no shortage of stock water. Only problem is winds. Some wheat being badly blown.

Conservation Methods Urged To Help Halt Dust Blowing; More Moisture Is Needed

ed so badly to date, cautioned, however, that conditions are definitely becoming worse there.

He added that where, two weeks ago most of the land was considered fairly well protected "it now appears that 130,000 acres are ready to blow."

He said the big problem is confined to sandy type soils on which recommended land use was not being practiced, and that soils in that area which have had their organic matter content improved since the 30s, and on which crop residues have been left to combat wind erosion, have not been seriously affected.

Recent Storm Cause

Merrill said the newest wind erosion developments center in the vicinities of Dalhart, part of the old "dust bowl," and at Lubbock. The latter, directly in the path of recent heavy winds, was part of an area where wind erosion land increased from 363,000 to 833,000 acres.

Marshall W. Howard, district soil conservationist here, said that "this storm did more damage to the land in the South Plains than any other storm in recent history," adding that the cover of wheat which he called only fair, just didn't hold.

Howard said emergency tillage has not been used extensively, but there are indications now that farmers will begin to make use of it.

Dr. Arthur W. Young, head of the plant industry department at Texas Tech college, said that the area as a whole is not hurt extensively yet, although there are areas of great damage. He believes that irrigation will help to offset actual damage in much of the area, but joined conservation service officials in urging use of chisel implements on unprotected land, to bring clods to the surface in an effort to hold the soil.

Winter Irrigation Urged

Bob Thurmond, extension service irrigation specialist, believes that winter irrigation of crop land not only will help crop prospects for next year, but will help to check wind erosion. Deep chiseling of dry soils will not only provide a partial cover and soil holder, but will help to hold moisture in event of rain, he said.

Illustrating the difference in land cover, R. C. Middleton, who lives two miles south of Lubbock, reported that combine stubble was doing an efficient job of protecting part of his land, but that land on which he had cotton was blowing.

R. L. Littlepage, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Lynn County soil conservation district, who farms eight miles south of Tahoka, said more damage had been done to farm land in his district by recent storms than by any previous blowing.

He added that "our land is in the most serious condition we have ever known," and cautioned that "deep chiseling is the only thing left for us to do."

Other Areas Hit

At Plainview, the conservation service said that acreage insufficiently protected against blowing has increased 50,000 to 100,000 acres in the last two weeks.

In Crosby county, T. H. Holmes, member of the soil conservation district board, described present moisture conditions as almost identical to those in the fall of 1923 and 1934 when the "dust bowl" originated.

Littlefield reported extensive blowing on cotton land, and so severe was the wind there that "most cover crops, wheat and sorghum land on which stubble was left, also blew. It was estimated that almost 500,000 acres in that area is insufficiently covered. J. A. Perrin, SCS conservationist there, said the recent storm damaged good land that heretofore had not blown, and "things look tough."

At Lamesa, Jesse D. Jenkins, district conservationist, said the value of sorghum stubble in holding down blowing was obvious. Cotton and peanut land, unprotected by residues, is blowing badly, he said.

In the vicinity of Spur, only 10,000 acres were considered insufficiently covered two weeks ago, but now 175,000 acres are pronounced in such condition. Cover crop growth is behind schedule, due to drouth, and newly planted wheat, peanut, and cotton land is blowing, with conditions expected to grow worse unless it rains.

Stork Beats California Woman To Hospital For Second Time

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 11. (AP)—This business of Mrs. Rosemarie Edgerton having a baby in an automobile on Pasadena's Fair Oaks avenue is getting almost habitual.

Today her husband, Paul, was driving her from their Los Angeles home to Alta Vista hospital when the stork overtook them. He tossed a coat over his wife and newly born Eleanor Pearl and sped on to the hospital.

Last Jan. 13 Mrs. Edgerton was enroute to the same hospital when Marilyn Mae was born—same car, same street, almost same block.

In each instance mother and child did nicely, thank you.

The Edgertons have another child, Darlene, three. She was born in, not near, a hospital.

American Foreign Correspondent Leaves Hungary Before Deadline

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (AP)—Foreign correspondent Homer Bigart, ordered to leave Hungary for reasons undisclosed by the Hungarian government, has reached Vienna.

Bigart, a 1946 Pultizer prize winner, cabled his paper, the New York Herald Tribune, that he had crossed the border into Austria "four hours ahead of the deadline."

Before he left Budapest he said he had been unable to learn the reason for his expulsion. In his cable from Vienna he told his paper:

"This correspondent doesn't know whether he had been labelled a neo-fascist, or an imperalist war-monger, or a Trotskyist Titoist, or a mindszentyist, or a Marshall plan enslaver, or a tendentious liar, or a bandit of the pen, or a simple negative element. It's very frustrating."

Bigart said he had made several vain attempts to obtain an explanation for his expulsion from Iva Boldiszar, undersecretary of state in the Hungarian foreign office, "whose job is to watch foreign correspondents."

Rites Slated Today For Mrs. L. C. Kelley

Mrs. L. C. Kelley, 65, a resident of Cotton Center for the past six years and of the area for the past 25 years, died about 8 a.m. Saturday in a Littlefield hospital after a short illness, Rix Funeral home of Lubbock reported.

Services for Mrs. Kelly will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Cotton Center Baptist church, Rev. F. E. Woolery officiating. Burial will be in Olton cemetery under direction of Rix.

Survivors include the husband; three daughters, Mrs. C. E. Henderson of Lima, Ohio, Mrs. X. A. Austin of Dalhart, and Mrs. Homer Beach, Dumas; two sons, A. A. Morgan of Toledo, Ohio, and Corporal R. H. Morgan with the U. S. Army in England; five stepdaughters, Mrs. Juanita Bell of Amarillo, Mrs. Ima White of Clovis, N. M., Mrs. Bart Stokes of Olton, Mrs. Earl Dunn of Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Verdene Kelley, Amarillo; two step-sons, Fred Kelley, Lamesa, and Victor Kelley of Valejo, Calif.; 13 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC SAFETY URGED

Texans Offered Slogan Of 'Your Greatest Gift May Be A Life'

AUSTIN, Dec. 11, (AP)—"Your greatest gift may be a life."

That is the slogan which safety-minded organizations and individuals will use to emphasize Gov. Beauford H. Jester's call against holiday traffic deaths in Texas.

The governor, in a proclamation issued today, said:

"It is my solemn duty to acquaint the people of Texas with a grim prediction of traffic deaths and injuries during the coming Christmas holiday season.

85 Slated For Death

"The Texas Department of Public Safety predicts that 85 persons will be killed and 2,500 injured in accidents on our streets and highways in the ten days from Dec. 23 through Jan. 1.

"Thirty deaths and nearly 900 injuries are expected in the two days immediately before Christmas—Dec. 23 and 24.

"These tragedies are not inevitable. They can be prevented by a genuine exercise of christian fellowship; of courtesy and consideration for the other fellow. Texans, practicing good will to men, can give to these potential traffic victims the greatest gift of all—the gift of life itself."

The governor urged each citizen to discipline himself and assume a sense of personal responsibility so that neither his driving or walking will lead to the death or injury of himself or a fellow man.

Fatilities Can Be Cut

"I call upon the Texas Safety association to coordinate public support effort with the official safety work of the Texas Department of Public Safety, the State Highway department, the State Department of Education, and other official agencies having traffic responsibilities," the governor said.

The Texas Safety association asked 41 statewide organizations supporting its traffic safety program to spread the word that the expected number of fatalities and injuries can be reduced if Texans will cooperate in the effort.

A safety message also placed before thousands of industrial workers in 1,600 member firms.

Texas churches were asked to emphasize the holiday danger, and service clubs were requested to devote three minutes of their programs next week to outlining the dangers of holiday traffic. Business and trade groups were asked to stress the need for extra caution in driving and walking.

College and university presidents and school superintendents were called on to alert students to the hazards of Christmas travel.

Jester wrote a letter to chiefs of police expressing confidence their diligent enforcement efforts will help to reduce the traffic toll.

Grim Warning Given By Texas Highway Patrol For Holidays

AUSTIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—State police today promised to give Texans a play-by-play on the bloody details of how they kill each other in traffic during the Christmas holidays.

Director Homer Garrison, of the Department of Public Safety said daily counts will be compiled and furnished the press and radio to help remind Texans to ease off on the accelerator.

Many To Be Killed

"People can't believe it when we tell them that 85 Texans will be killed in the ten days from Dec. 23 through Jan. 1. And it's even harder for them to believe that 30 will be killed and 900 injured in the two days immediately before Christmas," Garrison said.

"So we are asking Texas Highway patrolmen to rush reports on every traffic death to Austin. We'll give the reports to the press and radio twice a day.

"And we hope the bloody details—the names and places will hit the people in the face like a wet towel and cause at least some of them to ease up on the accelerator, stay out from behind the wheel when they're drinking, and be extra careful in every way."

A study of holiday traffic is being made by N. K. Woerner, chief of the statistical division. Highway Patrol Chief W. J. Elliott will use Woerner's findings as a basis for "the most comprehensive selective enforcement program we have ever undertaken for a special occasion," Garrison said.

Chemist Outlines Vast New Market For Gas Reserves

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 11 (AP) An important new market for the Southwest's vast reserves of natural gas was promised Saturday to the southwestern chemists.

Dr. Eugene P. Schoch, director of the bureau of industrial chemistry of the University of Texas, in a luncheon address at the fourth annual southwest regional meeting of the American Chemical society, told of an outlet to be provided through the manufacture of synthetic acetylene gas by a new process.

Scientist Describes Discovery

He described the process for which he received the first southwest regional award last night in his award address at a luncheon today.

His speech, entitled "some developments in the use of electric discharges for chemical changes in gases," closed the three-day conclave, which was attended by 1,000 chemists and chemical engineers of ten states.

In his new process, based on the principal of the neon light, Dr. Schoch utilizes methane, the chief constituent of natural gas, converting it to acetylene by an electric current, which produces a glow like that of a neon tube.

The efficiency of the technique is remarkably great, Dr. Schoch said.

He explained that the low per cent of the energy loss is one of the most important theoretical results attained because it gives a basis for expecting liquid hydrocarbons (gasoline and oil) to be produced from methane by electric discharge at a comparable cost with that of the Fischer-Tropsch process.

Product Widely Used

Acetylene itself is a vital industrial commodity, it was pointed out.

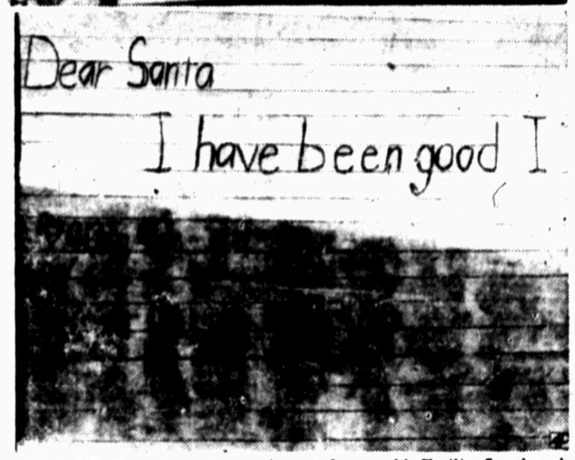

The oxy-acetylene torch is widely used for welding and for cutting steel plates, and the gas is employed as a raw material in the manufacture of dyes, explosives, synthetic rubber, plastics and agents for tanning leather. It is also used to enrich fuel gas.

Oklahoma City Okla., was chosen Friday night as the site for the 1949 regional meeting. San Antonio, Texas, which had also bid for next year's meeting, was awarded the 1950 convention.

ADVERTISING PAYS TOO WELL

DENVER (U.P.)—A filling station didn't know there was supposed to be an anti-freeze shortage in Denver. It had trouble disposing of its stock and advertised in a newspaper. The next morning the station spent four hectic hours taking care of potential customers who lined up their cars for three block.

END OF NOTE—Santa won't get 6-year-old Emilio Landeros' letter. "Dear Santa: I have been good. I . . . " he wrote on bus enroute home from school in San Antonio. The lad was fatally injured when he was struck by a truck as he darted from the bus, the unfinished letter clutched in his hand. Below is the letter Emilio had started before he stepped from a bus and was killed by the truck. Shaded portion is tire tread of truck that killed him and passed over the letter. (AP Wirephoto).

Plastic Surgery Changed Life Of Crime

"Monkey Face" Juvenile Wants To Serve In Army

CHICAGO, Dec. 11, (INS) — A Chicago youth who turned to crime because his misshapen features earned him nicknames like "Monkey Face" now wants to become a U. S. soldier.

Eighteen-year-old David Ruge wrote an extortion note to his employer two years ago, demanding $5,000, which he later said he wanted to use to correct his features through plastic surgery.

Hearing of his case, an Ohio manufacturer sent $1,000 to the Juvenile Protection association to pay for the operation.

However, a Grand Rapids, Mich., surgeon did the job for nothing.

Today David's mother, Mrs. Helen Ruge, reported that her son is a "new boy since the operation."

An official of the juvenile association, Miss Jessie Binford, declared:

"David has made an excellent social adjustment.

"His outlook on life has changed."

David was placed on four years probation after the attempted extortion incident and reports regularly to Miss Binford.

Miss Binford said David now wants to join the Army and only defective vision which is being remedied, so far has prevented his enlisting.

David doesn't intend to return to the high school where he was taunted with cries of "Monkey Face."

He says he will finish his education in the Army.

Control of food prices has been revived in India.

Exams For Police Department Set

Examinations seeking to build up an eligibility list of 15 to 20 men for police department jobs were announced by the city civil service commission Saturday for Dec. 29 at 2 p. m.

Applications must be filed before 5 p. m. Dec. 27 with Argo V. Peek, civil service director, on the second floor of the city hall. Blanks may be obtained from him.

While only two vacancies now exist in the department, Police Chief Lewis Kittrell said the turnover of personnel continues at a rate which probably would mean the early employment of men who qualify.

Improved Setup Sought

He is hopeful, however, that the rate of turnover can be reduced substantially by the more careful selection of personnel and by employment conditions which will hold competent men. He and members of the commission said definite progress toward these objectives has been made since civil service was put into operation in February.

Applicants must be between 21 and 35 years of age, in sound physical condition, have the equivalent of a high school education, and be of good moral character and reputation.

Starting pay for apprentice patrolmen is $125 a month plus a cost-of-living bonus which now approximates $90. Increases are of $5 a month given at four-month intervals until a base of $140 is reached. Members of the city commission have expressed a sympathetic attitude toward further increases in the base when the budget for the city's new fiscal year, beginning April 1, is adopted.

Members of the civil service commission are Harry Morris, chairman, Marion Sanford and George W. McCleskey.

Pre-Christmas Celebration Draws 1,500 At Abernathy

ABERNATHY, Dec. 11. (Special) — Santa Claus arrived here tonight via firetruck to highlight a pre-Christmas celebration in downtown Abernathy which was attended by more than 1,500 persons.

The downtown square has been decorated by the Abernathy Jaycees, assisted by the Lions club and a number of women's clubs here.

At tonight's program on the square, several choral numbers were presented by the high school chorus and band, followed by Santa's arrival. Candy and nuts were distributed among the children.

Tonight's program was a project of the Christmas activities committee of the Abernathy Junior Chamber of Commerce. Ray Veteto is chairman of the committee.

Newfoundland Admitted As Tenth Province Of Canada

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 (AP)—Canada and Newfoundland today signed an agreement admitting Newfoundland as the tenth province of the dominion of Canada.

Under the agreement, Canada assumes Newfoundland's $63,000,000 national debt and becomes responsible for paying $42,750,000 cash grants and millions of dollars annually for services.

VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Dec. 11 (AP) — The Air Force today identified the flier killed in a jet plane crash Wednesday as Lt. Edmund J. Maidof of the Bronx, New York.

'Stratovision' Boomed As Means Of Getting Television Spread

DALLAS, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—A network system of "stratovision" broadcasting from planes 25,000 feet in the air today was described as the only effective method of bringing television programs to the millions of rural people normally beyond the range of ground stations.

C. E. Nobles, originator of the stratovision system, addressed members attending the southwestern conference of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

500 Mile Range Possible

The speaker, who is now in charge of developing the stratovision project for Westinghouse, said the new system promises a television network capable of bringing televiewers programs originating from almost any point in the United States. Also, it would expand individual television service areas, he said.

Nobles, a native of Paris, Texas, explained that one airbourne station can "provide television and frequency modulation programs over an area 500 miles in diameter," while the normal range of a ground TV broadcast tower is only 35 to 50 miles.

Standard radio waves follow the curvature of the earth, he said, while the waves which carry TV and FM programs travel only in a straight line. This "line of sight" transmission means that a plane circling lazily high in the air has a greater range than one on the ground level, just as a person standing on a tall building can see further than the man on the street.

Practical Tests Cited

Nobles told his audience that eight planes flying 400 miles apart could form a network from New York to Hollywood, each "station" covering an area about 500 miles in diameter. He said 14 planes could bring the network service to 78 per cent of the nation's population.

"Anything taking place in this area could be fed into the network by a small 'pickup' plane equipped with television cameras and relaying equipment and stationed at each 'stratovision' base," he said.

Results of practical demonstrations were cited by Nobles.

He reported a broadcast from a converted B-29 high over the Pittsburgh area showed reception in 270 towns in 10 surrounding states over an area exceeding 500 miles in diameter. In another demonstration at Zanesville, O., the plane picked up television broadcasts of the Republican national convention from a Baltimore station 200 miles away, and rebroadcast it to Zanesville, more than 100 miles further west.

Although all stratovision flights have been on an experimental basis, Nobles said the Federal Communications commission has been asked to consider allocation of television channels in the high frequency bands for airborne TV broadcasting.

The speaker, who helped develop radar equipment for the armed forces during the war, said each plane in the proposed network would provide service over an area which would normally require 35 ground television stations.

The proposed coast-to-coast network, Nobles said, would find planes over Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Leadville, Colo., Western Nebraska, Kansas City, Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York, Portland, Ore., Sacramento, Calif., Dallas, Memphis, Atlanta and Durham, N. C.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (AP)—The stock market reached the highest average level of the past three weeks today.

Gains of fractions to a point and more lifted some stocks to the year's top prices. In the two-hour session the market took the best strides of the week.

Demand was in carry-over from a rally that started during the final hour on Friday. After a hesitant start, buying power stepped up. Closing prices were around the highs of the day.

Brokerage quarters saw two factors at work. Year-end selling to establish tax losses let up, while year-end investment and speculative purchases increased.

Barnsdall Oil provided some minor fireworks. Atlas Corp., an investment company, announced it had purchased the minimum 200,000 shares for which the company had bid 45. The stock declined immediately after the announcement and on Saturday closed at 44.

Among a few fast-stepping stocks were Atlantic Gulf & West Indies, both the common and preferred, established new highs for the year (the common jumped 4¼ points on Saturday alone) following a report that a bank was in the market for around 70,000 shares.

Carolina Power & Light, on the other hand, nosedived following word that the syndicate which had marketed 350,000 shares several weeks ago had abandoned price restrictions.

XMAS TREES MADE SAFER

MINNEAPOLIS. (U.P.) — Two Minneapolis ex-service men have marketed a mixture called "Fyr-pruf." You spray the liquid on your Christmas tree both to fireproof the tree and to help it retain its needles. The Minneapolis fire department has tested and approved the mixture.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP) — Cotton futures were easy today. Liquidation of nearby December contract, along with hedging and commission house selling over the week-end disclosed a lack of buying power. There was considerable tapering off in buying against potential export sales. Some of this selling was touched off by weakness in grains.

Futures closed $1.05 to $1.40 a bale lower than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11 (AP) — Cotton futures advanced in the early trading here today but reacted downward in the late dealings under heavy week-end long liquidation. Closing prices were barely steady, 80 cents to $1.35 a bale lower.

Some of the selling resulted from an announcement by the Department of Agriculture that it had adopted a new selling policy for some agricultural commodities. Easiness in other markets also had an influence on cotton.

Middling 15-16-inch spot cotton declined $1.25 a bale to 31.90 cents a pound. Local sales totaled 1,992 bales.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11 (AP) — The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was $1.25 a bale lower at 32.11 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 31.79, middling 7/8ths-inch average 30.13.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP) — A heavy selling wave swept soybeans sharply lower and weakened grain prices on the board of trade today. At one time soybeans were down as much as ten cents, the limit permitted in a single session. Losses in grains were much smaller.

The market had several bearish items to work on, but the most important seemed to be announcement of a new domestic sales policy by the Commodity Credit Corp. For any commodities it owns or controls. The new policy is scheduled to go into effect on Jan. 1.

At present the CCC cannot sell its products domestically at less than parity. Under the new program, sales may be made at 90 percent of parity, at a price halfway between the support level and full parity, or at a price which will reimburse the CCC for the cost of the products.

Soybeans were hardest hit because these futures are selling at the highest level above parity. In contrast, corn futures are selling below parity.

Wheat closed 2¾-3½ lower, December $2.63¼-2.36, corn was 1½-2¼ lower, December $1.41-1.40¾, oats were ⅝ to 1 cent lower, December 81⅛-81, rye was 2¼ to 4 cents lower, December $1.71½, soybeans were ten cents lower, December $2.59¼, and lard was 37 to 65 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $17.40.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 11 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.43-2.48.

Oats No. 2 white 97¼-98⅛.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 pounds 2.68-1.73.

Scotland has greatly expanded its production of industrial alcohol.

More Contributions Reported Needed To Buy Furnishings For Masonic Building

Contributions that will be employed to purchase required items of furnishings for the Masonic temple, which is nearing completion across the alley northward from Lubbock hotel, continue to be made, it was announced Saturday.

However, it was said, the fund is far short of the total needed.

The two-story building, which with its furniture will represent a cost of approximately $225,000, will be completed the latter part of February, it was indicated by Tom McAbee, general contractor. Counting the lot on which the building was placed, the investment will run from approximately $300,000 to $350,000.

Donations Needed

But cash realized from sale of debentures and that on hand will not allow complete furnishing of the new temple, the membership of Lubbock Masonic bodies has been informed. Donations of any size will be accepted. Nothing additional will be bought except what can be paid for, it was learned. Chairs, floor covering and lighting fixtures are included in what is needed. The sooner the money is donated, the sooner the furnishing will be bought, and the more money received the better the furnishings can be, it was said.

Several liberal business firms have contributed large amounts to purchase much of the furnishings.

McAbee said construction had proceeded to where he soon will be able to turn on sufficient heat to do interior finishing work. He has had to battle shortage and other deterrents to present-day construction, but now apparently is on the "last lap" toward completion of all except possible "touching up" work before March 1.

Film Star Robert Walker Fails To Appear In Court

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 11 (AP) — Film star Robert Walker's latest escapade is closed today.

Walker, a patient at the Menninger clinic, failed to appear in police court yesterday and his $35 cash bond was forfeited.

He had been charged with drunkenness and destroying city property after smashing three windows and injuring an officer's shoulder in the Topeka police station last Sunday.

Texans Shovel Up Mountains Of Potential Work For Legislature

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 11 — Texans shovelled up new mountains of work this week for the 51st legislature which meets just one month hence.

Requests for legislation ranged from a price-fixing bill for haircuts to suggestions that the election laws be revised and the constitution be re-written.

Some of them were not specific, but they all represented a lot of potential work for the lawmakers who can usually think up enough legislation on their own to keep fairly busy for four months.

Wide Open Question

Whether or not the legislature will choose to consider many of the suggestions which are accumulating is a wide open question. Frequently it ignores such semi-official calls for action as Democratic platforms. Occasionally a suggestion made by the party in its pre-session convention slips in

The 51st session already has some ready-made major jobs cut out for it. Perhaps topping all these is action to be recommended by Gov. Beauford H. Jester on the Gilmer-Aiken report for revamping the public school system.

To Urge Quick Action

Gov. Jester has announced he will urge quick action as emergencies on these subjects:

A $4,200,000 appropriation for prisons.

$9,000,000 appropriation for rural schools to make up last year's deficit and this year's anticipated shortage.

A $2,000,000 appropriation for rural road construction.

In addition to this Jester announced he will recommend day raises for state employes caught in the squeeze of inflation. Their pay has remained at the level set two years ago, while prices have continued climbing.

Other Developments

There were other major legislative developments last week.

One of the two women senators, Mrs. Maribelle Stewart of Houston resigned and a special election was set for Jan. 8 to fill the vacancy. A rush of candidates has already started.

A close finish fight for speakership of the house neared a climax. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen and Rep. Durwood Manford of Smiley were the contenders. While Manford is generally believed to have the biggest bloc of votes lined up, Kilgore announced he isn't through.

The legislative committee of the Texas Sheriff's association said it would ask for a law permitting sheriffs and deputies to get pay raises.

Sub-Committee Meets

Members of a sub-committee of the league of Texas municipalities met at Houston to plan action on nine bills designed to raise money for financing city services.

Organized barbers met at Fort Worth to drum up support for a bill setting up minimum and maximum prices for shaves, shampoos, haircuts and other barber shop services. Watch for a fight on this one.

The governor's juvenile training code commission was reported about ready to submit sweeping recommendations developed after two years of investigating conditions relating to youth correction.

Committee Is Busy

A committee was busy on possible recommendations for a complete overhaul of the state constitution.

The governor's committee on revision of the election laws held its first meeting and voted to get together again later to work out suggestions for changing the election laws. This is a big and touchy job, with political complications certain to develop.

Even the youngsters had the legislative bug.

Representatives from 50 high schools went through the motion of law-making in a model legislative meeting here.

Filing Period Is Opened For Two Legislative Posts

HOUSTON, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—The filing period was officially open today for all candidates entering Harris county's newest political wars, caused by the resignation of two state lawmakers.

Senator Maribelle Stewart announced Thursday she would give up her job for "personal reasons," and later in the day Rep. Searcy Bracewell said he would resign to run for the Senate vacancy.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester, and later acting Gov. Allan Shivers, both set Jan. 8 as the date for special elections to choose successors for the Senate and Representative jobs.

Three Senate candidates filed late yesterday after County Judge Glenn Perry announced the one-week filing period was officially open. They were Bracewell, commercial photographer J. A. Glass, and Al Jones, owner of a stationery shop. Others expected to enter the race were former state representative William C. Montgomery, city councilman Clyde Fitzgerald, and attorneys Lewis Dickson, Chris Dixie and Troy Stokes.

Although the filing roster for Bracewell's house post remained blank today, expected to file were former state representative Charles Murphy, contractor Thomas A. Lambright, accountant Raymond M. Holliday, and A. M. Davis, a dairy farmer.

ENGAGEMENTS CANCELLED

LONDON, Dec. 11. (AP)—Queen Mother Mary, 81, has cancelled all her evening engagements, it was announced today, because of a continuing cough.

HERE FOR BRANCH OPENING—E. L. Chrisman Company, Inc., with headquarters in Los Angeles, Calif., has opened its first factory branch at 505 Ave. O and the company president and national sales director flew here for the opening Friday, Saturday and today. The company is manufacturers and national distributors of laundry and dry cleaning equipment. In the picture above, left to right: Bernie Engel, manager of the Lubbock office, E. L. Chrisman, president; Rex Williams, salesman, and Hoot Gibson, national sales director, are standing in front of one of the company's new ELCCO presses. Gibson is the old-time western movie star whose pictures have been popular over the years. Williams is a former star Texas Tech Red Raider and later played professional football in the National league. The local branch office of the company will serve Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma. The present quarters of the company are now housed in a combination 80 by 32-foot office-warehouse but construction of a shop for servicing and rebuilding of equipment is planned. (Staff Photo).

Tree-Grower Elliott Roosevelt Opens Shop In New York To Market His Christmas Firs

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 — Tree-Grower Elliott Roosevelt set up shop in the heart of New York Friday to market Christmas firs at bargain prices which he hopes will gross him $95,000.

His first move in a trek down the Hudson from the Roosevelt manor at Hyde Park was into a corner lot in Harlem where he unloaded the first of his Christmas tree crop.

Roosevelt set up 800 trees brought by trailer from his Val-Kill farm—then moved on to two other Manhattan lots, in midtown and Greenwich Village, to set up 1,600 more.

Will Attempt To Sell

Beginning at 8 a. m. today, he will attempt to sell 60,000 firs on the three lots at 200 to 300 per cent below average New York city prices, breaking the retail market in the big city as he broke it in Poughkeepsie last year.

Only two people stopped to watch the "invasion" of Manhattan by the son of the late President.

One was a five-year-old Harlem autograph seeker. The other was an old man with nostalgic praise for the late F.D.R.

Elliott said he was unconcerned about possible angry Christmas tree dealers calling on him at his Harlem open-air showroom with the clothesline backdrop. Grinning, he said:

Can Only Make Noises

"If they do come around, what can they do but make loud noises?"

He said that his wife, Blonde Actress Faye Emerson, will not sell trees on street corners as she did in Poughkeepsie last year, because "I won't let her." After almost a year of work in a Broadway play she is "too tired," he said.

If all the Val-Kill trees are sold (60,000 in New York City, 5,000 in Poughkeepsie), Roosevelt will gross $95,000—but the net income is just 18 per cent of that figure, or $16,700, he said.

By tonight, he expects to have each of the New York lots supplied with 10,000 trees.

Family To Have Tree

The Roosevelt family will have an 18-foot tree at Hyde Park this Christmas, Elliott revealed. This is the only matured tree on the farm they won't be prepared to sell.

Elliott hopes to have an improved variety to sell next year.

He is experimenting to work out a system that will permit Val-Kill trees to be run on a conveyor belt through a fool-proof, and fire-proof, spray.

Shaw Claims Secret Of Success Is To Offend Most People

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP) — "The secret of success," tips George Bernard Shaw, "is to offend the greatest number of people."

That gem comes straight from the old master in a new book, "Days With Bernard Shaw," by Stephen Winsten, long-time friend and neighbor of Shaw and now his literary helper and anthologist.

The book's wittiest sparkle is in the vintage Shaw cracks which Winsten has stored up from his conversations with the playwright-philosopher in the last ten years at the Shaw home, in the picturesque Hertfordshire village of Ayot St. Lawrence, forty miles from London.

Choice Cracks Given

Here are some of the choice cracks by Shaw, who is now 92:

"Marriage should be prohibited to people in love. Marriage is a partnership of equals, if you like, but let love come between them and all is lost."

"Women are younger at 50 than they used to be at 30. I put this down to the fact that they consume less and less meat and eat more sensibly on the whole."

"Women are altogether a superior species. Now that they have acquired the genuine good manners of their freedom instead of the tricks they practiced in slavery, they are irresistible."

"I am the first philosopher to make truth pay, and I went among the sinners by getting my articles printed in the Tory and Hearst press. I found more freedom of expression in those papers than in the Labor press."

"There is no class of person I have not shaken to the foundations. But nonetheless I am tired. It is time I went. Show me the man who is fit to take up my sword and I go."

Airline Stowaway Safe In Arms Of His Love After Hasty Trip From $45-A-Day Taxi Job

DETROIT, Dec. 11 (AP)—Luther Harold McCoy, 18, was secure with his love today.

But it had taken a 3,000-mile flight from Anchorage, Alaska, part of it as a stowaway, to return him to the arms of his bride of three months, Lida Ruth, who is 15

Further, young McCoy renounced what he said was a chance to make $45 a day driving a taxicab in Anchorage.

"I'll never leave her again," McCoy vowed.

After Lida wrote him that "love had faded away" in the month of his absence, McCoy sneaked aboard a plane (Northwest airlines) in Anchorage.

Last night he came safely back to Lida Ruth. Immigration men in Minneapolis didn't want to make an issue of the matter and airline employes helped out by passing the hat for $36.

With a parka under his arm, McCoy walked into an embrace as he found Lida Ruth at her mother's home.

Automobile Assembly Line Methods Work With Poultry

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—Automobile assembly line methods made it possible for Charles Jones, Jennings county, Ind., and his son, Glen to produce 18,000 broiler chickens last year.

Jones starts 1,200 chicks in a battery brooder house, then moves them to a heated section of a broiler house 233 feet long. At the same time he starts 1,200 more chicks in the brooder.

The system gives them a shipment for market every week.

Daytime Watch For "Shooting Stars" Might Show Atmosphere Bulge Directly Under Sun

BY MARTHA G. MORROW
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 — A daytime watch for meteors is under way here.

"Shooting Stars," far too faint to be seen after the sun rises, are being tracked by radar in their flight across the heavens.

These studies may show that there is a bulge in our atmosphere, directly under the sun, which projects upward and "captures" a large amount of this cosmic debris.

Will Cover Shower

Observations, begun last Sunday morning will be continued until Dec. 20. They are scheduled to cover the entire geminid meteor shower, which reaches its height today through Monday. You can probably see a meteor every minute or so scanning the night sky, particularly after midnight.

The "pips" on the radar screen are being studied by Charles A. Little, jr., of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, department of terrestrial magnetism. The Federal Communications commission has granted special temporary authority for a new class 1 experimental station to be used for this work, operation to be confined to six a. m. until noon each day.

The radar band which Mr. Little is using is also shared by industrial scientific and medical apparatus. A special license is necessary to use it. Unable to obtain a license to do this work as an amateur, Mr. Little—a radio engineer by profession—had to call on the Carnegie Institution of Washington for which he works to let him continue these astronomical studies on a professional basis.

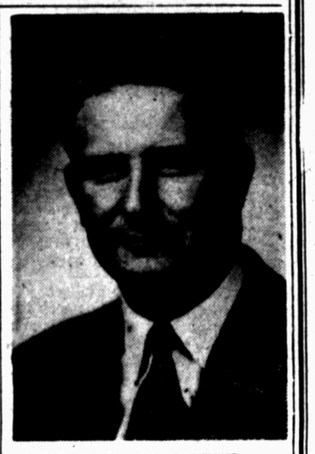

Last spring Mr. Little found with his home-built equipment that meteors are much farther away and higher in the sky early in the morning than in the evening. In the morning from nine to ten o'clock, the distances of observed meteors averaged about 130 miles from the observer in the evening from nine to ten o'clock, the distance averaged about 75 miles. He is anxious to check this during the geminid shower, when many meteors are sure to flash across the sky.

Nazi Luxury Limousine Puts Marine Officer In The Red

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 11 (U.P.)—A Marine captain has offered his big ex-German embassy limousine for sale.

Capt. Luis W. Benjamin, jr., listed outstanding features of the long, black car, for which he paid $3,140. Among them are jacks attached to each wheel, a bar that holds 12 whisky bottles, reclining seats, eight-cylinder engine with two drive shafts, two clocks and two cigaret lighters.

The captain's reason for selling was that the car "eats him out of house and home," getting a little better than 10 miles per gallon of gas.

Airborne Co-ed Eyes Sky For Career After Training Course

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 11. (NEA)—Gloria Ann Smith, 20, is a co-ed with man-sized ambitions. She wants to start at the top when she gets out of school.

Graduated last June from Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., where her aviation course resulted in a private pilot's license, Gloria is now attending Goldey college, a junior college in Wilmington, with her heart set on owning and operating her own airport.

At the end of her business training she hopes to have enough know-how of the ledger side of aviation to become one of the youngest female airport operators in the country.

Has Good Record

Already Gloria has set something of a record for her age in aviation. She has more than 200 hours to her credit and holds membership cards in the National Aeronautic Association, AOPA (Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association), and the "99ers," an international private women's pilot association.

To date her longest flight was a 500-mile jaunt from Columbia, Mo., to Detroit, Mich. Gloria's weekend "dates" consist of solos in her father's plane.

"Guess we're all flying-happy in our family except mother," she says. "We still can't get her in a plane."

Last summer she gave her first flight instructions and successfully soloed her first pupil.

When she completes her course at Goldey she hopes to buy an airport in the Delmarva peninsula and settle down to teaching and express servicing.

Gloria Ann Smith: Everybody's flying - happy but mother.

Long-Term Cost For Mental Care Found To Be Soaring

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—Hospital care for the long-term psychiatric patient cost an average $731 in 1947, an increase of 55 per cent over 1945, the public health service reports.

Total cost of all long-term mental patient's care increased in 1947 to $395,000,000, a jump of $154,000,000, or 65 per cent from 1945, the report said.

The PHS said the sharp rise in costs was due to two factors: 1, the general price level increase, and 2, the improvement in the quality of mental hospital care.

Dividing the costs into three sections, the report showed that 1947 costs for the private psychiatric patient totalled $2,500; for the neuropsychiatric veteran, $2,133, and for the patient in a state, county or city hospital, $549.

Of the total $395,000,000 spent in 1947 for maintenance in mental hospitals, $264,000,000 was for public patients, $96,000,000 for veterans, and $35,000,000 for private patients, the report said.

Welcome Mat Out At Many Hotels For Dog Clients

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (U.P.)—Fido can stop barking about the canine housing shortage. The welcome mat is out for dogs at more than 1,000 hotels and tourist courts in this country.

The Gaines Dog Research Center lists at least two hotels or motels in every state and the District of Columbia where dogs are accepted.

At about 100 hostelries, the dog will have his own private kennel; in another 100, hotel officials provide quarters for him at nearby kennels; in the remaining 875, the owner may take the dog to his room.

Tourist Courts Fussy

Surprisingly, hotels accepting dogs outnumber tourist courts more than three to one. A single state, Louisiana, forbids keeping dogs in hotels but allows them in wayside inns.

The majority of hostelries restrict patrons accompanied by dogs in some way. Special rooms for the dog and his owner is one answer. A limit on the length of the stay is another. Some accept only blind owners and seeing-eye dogs.

Few places restrict the dog because of its size. Few say anything about charging the owner extra charges or higher rates. Many ask owners to sign statements agreeing to pay for any damage to hotel property, however.

Controls Requested

Dog-lovers are warned that their pets may be barred from hotels unless they are kept under full control at all times.

It's a good idea to carry a blanket or pillow for the animal. Hotel managers resent having hotel blankets used for dog beds. The next patron probably would not like the idea either if he found out about it.

Of course, if the animal is a St. Bernard or a Great Dane, it's an excellent thought to check with hotel authorities in advance.

Also, keep Fido on a leash in the lobby and have a muzzle handy. Tough room clerks have no faith in the "big bark, no bite" theory.

ENOUGH TO SCARE A MAN

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—John W. Thompson plopped a loaded 15-pound bomb into his truck and nonchalantly drove to the naval airport station. He told officers he found the bomb in the house he had leased. He was informed that the bomb was the anti-personnel type and would have exploded if the truck had gone over a severe bump.

Semi-Dictatorship Of Turkish Republicans Threatened By Fast-Rising Democrat Party

ISTANBUL, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—The Democrats are catching up with the Republicans in Turkey so rapidly that they may end the Republicans' 25-year-old semi-dictatorship. It looks like a political revolution.

Yet the Democratic party is only three years old. It was founded after the Republican president, Ismet Inonu, bid for western support in July, 1945, with an announcement that opposition parties would be permitted in Turkey for the first time since the Ataturk revolution in 1923.

The Democrats gained strength so rapidly that the Republican People's party government hastily called elections in July, 1946, lest the Democrats have more time to increase their membership.

The Democrats captured 50-odd seats in the 350-seat parliament and said they should have had more. They accused the government of fraud in counting the ballots and demanded drastic election reforms.

The government yielded to the extent of announcing a new election law permitting observation of the counting of ballots on the provincial level and higher. The Democrats retorted that the fraud simply would continue at the village and county level.

When a by-election was announced to fill 13 parliamentary vacancies, the Democratic chief, Celal Bayar, said his party would refuse to put up any candidate as a protest against the election law.

He sent speakers through the country to excoriate the Republicans and urge voters to stay away from the polls in protest against election abuses.

The Democrats contended that only seven per cent of qualified voters went to the polls. Even that figure was reached only by herding in street sweepers and practicing other irregularities, the Democrats said.

The Republicans ultimately retorted that 44 per cent of the electorate voted, but even that was a considerable reduction from the 65 per cent turnout in 1946.

The opposition newspapers again raised the cry of fraud.

And significantly, one day after the elections, a prominent Republican member of parliament announced that he was turning Democrat. Bayar told newsmen he knew of at least 40 other Republican deputies who are on the verge of following suit.

Reports Of Red "X-Day" For Power Play In Vienna Probed

By IRVING R. LEVINE
INS Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, Dec. 11.—American intelligence officers are investigating persistent reports that the Communists have set "X-day" for a power play this month to gain control of Vienna.

There are several versions of the form the reported Communist action will assume.

A mild version calls for widespread labor demonstrations and strikes as a starter.

A more extreme report warns that a coup will be attempted against the anti-Communist government of Chancellor Leopold Figl while the Russians simultaneously clamp a Berlin-style blockade on Vienna aimed at forcing out the Western allies.

May Spring Coup

This latter version, declares that Soviet trained and equipped factory guards will spring a weekend coup and occupy key government offices.

Under this alleged plot, the Russian garrison in Vienna would have strict orders to give the impression that the affair is entirely "an internal Austrian matter with popular support" and refrain from interfering unless the other occupying powers do so first.

The American command in Austria has taken these reports seriously enough to order the counter-intelligence corps to make a complete investigation.

Put Little Credence

Intelligence chiefs put little credence in the coup-and-blockade version since they feel such action would be premature at this time from the Soviet point of view. Nevertheless the investigators are not ignoring these disturbing bits of evidence in their over-all probe:

1. A number of Austrian Communists were sent to Berlin in groups of threes and fours within the past two months with Russian-issued passes. Conservative estimates count the total sent as 20. Other estimates run as high as 150.

Although the exact purpose of the trips is unknown, reliable reports claim the men—some of them Austrian policemen—studied the methods of the Russian-controlled police in the eastern sector of split-Berlin.

Returns From Visit

2. Austrian Communist Leader Ernst Fischer has just returned from a visit of undetermined purpose to Berlin where he is said to have conferred at length with the chief of staff of Soviet Military Governor Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky.

3. The Russians are said to be steadily increasing the number of Communist factory guards in the Soviet areas of Austria. This force with its small arms and sub-machine guns is undoubtedly the best equipped civilian corps in a land which is not permitted an army and which has only an ineffectively armed police organization.

Conservative American intelligence estimates place the numbers in this so-called Werkschutz at 2,000 while others claim that 7,500 is a more accurate figure. All agree that this expanding group would spearhead any Communist uprising.

4. December would be opportune for any Communist action. On the first of the month the Russians took over the rotating chairmanship of the Allied Control council and the prerogatives which it entails. For instance, during December Russian military police are the only ones which can augment or interfere with Austrian police functions in the vital international sector of Vienna which contains all important government buildings.

5. Communist-influenced strike agitation is at a high point in Austria where the Communists represent only five per cent of the electorate.

Gains Momentum

6. In recent weeks a Russian campaign obviously aimed at discrediting members of the Austrian government has gained momentum with charges that Dr. Margarete Ottillinger, Austrian Marshall plan expert, carried on espionage activities for the United States against Russia.

There are a number of reasons why intelligence officers doubt the validity of the Communist uprising reports. For one thing they believe the Russians do not want to create a second front in Vienna while the warm "cold war" rages in Berlin. For another, they doubt whether matters have reached a stage in Vienna, where four-power military control still functions, to prompt severe Russian action now.

Band Shell And Barn Made Into Home By Wisconsinite

MARATHON, Wis., Dec. 11. (U.P.) Mr. and Mrs. John Coates should be prepared to raise a musical family.

The Coates home was built out of a band shell which they bought from a nearby town park for $15. To close the open side, they used parts from barns in which many a barn dance had been held.

Unable to find a house or the money to finance a regular one, Coates bought the shell and the barn parts and built his own. A plumber and a furnace man, called in for part of one day, were the only helpers Coates had.

Cool Colors Are Favored In Modern Homes, Analyst Says

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—American women have changed from warm to cool colors for decorating their homes, a Chicago paint manufacturer says.

"Tans and beiges are on the way out, and the popularity of wine tones is decreasing," according to the company's color analyst.

Votes cast by 115,000 American homemakers indicate a preference for ten colors. Only two colors are apart from the shift towards coolness—sprout green and flame.

The company said current decoration trends are upholstery and increased use of colored appliances. Kitchens and bathrooms will remain traditional white.

January brings coldest temperatures to the United States, but snowfalls average deeper in February.

Self-Sacrifice Of Sister Pays Scholarship Dividend

DENVER, Dec. 11. (U.P.)—A Horatio Alger story has been written for 19-year-old Ailean Ruby of McCook, Neb.

Dr. James F. Price, former chancellor of the University of Denver, awarded Miss Ruby a full scholarship in the school's college of business administration.

The girl and her brother, Dean, 21, were graduated from the same class at Danbury, Neb., high school. Dean, crippled with infantile paralysis, is unable to work his way through school and the scholarship he won wasn't enough to put him through four years of college. So Ailean said she would wait on tables while Dean used the scholarship.

Now both the Rubys are going to college.

Two Oil Discovery Possibilities Developed On South Plains During Week; New Pay Indicated In Floyd County Wildcat

A wildcat test is slated for the San Andres, lower Permian, of northeast Gaines county, by Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation.

It is to be that concern's No. 1 B. D. Boldin, located 660 feet from north and west lines of the south half of section 41, block H, D&WRR survey.

The drillsite will be about 13½ miles east of the town of Seagraves. Elevation is 3,170 feet.

The projected formation is expected to come in above 5,300 feet. Drilling with rotary tools is to start at once.

The South Plains developed two discovery possibilities over the past week. One was in Hockley county, the other in Terry.

New Pay Indicated

In northwest Hockley county, 18 miles northwest of the town of Levelland, an oil fill up at Edward C. Lawson No. 1 George L. White indicated that it might open a new pay in the San Andres-Permian for the region.

With total depth on 4,637 feet and 5 ½-inch casing at 4,617 feet, the venture drilled out cement to bottom and made new hole.

On 4,648 feet, eleven feet deeper, the hole showed a good increase of oil. The fill up was not estimated.

The section at 4,637-48 feet is to be acidized with 1,000 gallons and tested. The prospect is not scheduled to test the remaining open hole at 4,617-37 feet.

The wildcat is a few miles northwest of the nearest production in the Yellowhouse field and 440 feet from south and east lines of labor 16, league 704, state Capital lands survey, abstract 236, A. Taylor original grantee.

Terry Progress Reported

About fifteen miles southeast of this possible discovery, Amerada Petroleum corporation was drilling ahead with its No. 1 Griffiths-Lawhon, central Hockley county wildcat, 550 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of labor 5, league 730, SCL survey.

It was below 7,336 feet, continuing through lime for a test into the Clear Fork, lower Permian.

A new pay was indicated in northeast Terry county by Seaboard Oil company of Delaware from the Pennsylvanian lime.

That concern plugged back its No. 1 Hinson, wildcat failure in the Ellenburger at 11,485 feet, to 9,455 feet in the Pennsylvanian to examine signs by-passed. Swabbing tests were started.

During an 18-hour swabbing period, the venture made 160 barrels of new oil and 210 barrels of basic sediment and water. Another more recent gauged showed 176 barrels of oil swabbed to tanks and 20 barrels to pits in 24 hours. Shakeout on the last fluid developed was one per cent water and two per cent basic sediment.

Well Abandoned

Fluid level was estmiated at 4,700 feet. The prospect, picked to make a producer and discovery from some observers, was continuing to swab.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, psl survey, 10 miles northeast of the town of Brownfield.

York & Harper, Inc., plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Sleeper, southeast Terry wildcat projected to 5,500 feet, on a total depth of 5,003 feet in dry San Andres lime.

A core above the bottom had signs of bubbling sulphur water and a rate trace of dead oil stain. No definite prospects of production were encountered.

The dry hole is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 7, block C-38, psl survey. That puts it about 5½ miles northwest of the town of Welch.

Southwest Terry county's scheduled 5,800-foot wildcat Coline Oil company No. 1-A-56 oil development, was drilling, under 5,182 feet in lime. Location of this venture is 450 feet from east and 330 feet from south lines of section 56, J. H. Gibson survey.

Floyd Driller Proven

A discovery from the lower Permian on the east side of the Arick field in southwest Floyd county was proven as General American Oil company completed its No. 2-B Carmickle, showing a new and apparently more prolific pay for that pool.

The project flowed eight hours through two-inch tubing to make a 24-hour potential of 732.96 barrels of oil per day, natural, with no water.

Gas-oil ration was 105-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 34.5 degrees.

The new producer is 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 18, block K, TTRR survey.

Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Kary, one mile northeast of Monroe in north-central Lubbock county, and 608 feet from west and 645 feet from south lines of northwest quarter of section 25, block D-7, EL & RR survey, was drilling ahead under 9,175 feet in lime.

Lubbock Test Made

In northeast Lubbock county, Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Stribling attempted two drillstem tests on the zone between 10,316-435 feet, but the packer failed in both instances. Operator then took a drillstem test on the zone between 10,318-435 feet. Tool was open one hour and seven minutes and the recovery was 30 feet of mud.

This wildcat is now shutin at 10,546 feet for a fishing job in a lime and chart formation believed not to be the Ellenburger by unofficial observers.

A small portable drilling unit was being moved into Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 2 Lee, Southeast Dawson county wildcat failure in the Ellenburger at 11,010 feet, for further testing.

Plugged-back depth is 7,000 feet in the Spraberry zone of the lower Permian. This section is to be shot and tested when the unit is installed. Observers think it has a possibility of making a well.

New Hole In Gaines

Location is 15 miles southeast of the town of Lamesa and 440 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 34, T-5-N, TP survey.

In northeast Gaines county, Amerada Petroleum corporation was making new hole at its No. 1 McCrummen, wildcat projected to the San Andres-Permian a mile and a half west of the Adair field, 990 feet from north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 15, block C-31, psl survey.

Last report had it drilling ahead from 4,935 feet in lime. It is about 15 miles east of the town of Seagraves.

Argo Oil corporation, northwest Gaines county Devonian attempt, was running an intermediate string of 9⅝-inch casing to 4,500 feet at last report. Total depth of this development is 7,255 feet.

It is a mile west and a half mile south of Argo's 1-N Jones, Devonian pay opener in this section. Location is 465 feet from south and west lines of the north half of the south half of section 31, block AX, psl survey.

Second Test Set

Also scheduled for a test into the Devonian pay in the same area, Argo No. 1-C Jones was making hole below 7,235 feet in lime. This development is located 660 feet from south and west lines of north three-quarters of section 33, block AX, psl survey.

In southwest Gaines county, 14 miles southwest of Lamesa, Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Hicks, 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 273, Loving CSL survey, was under 10,379 feet and boring ahead in shale. This wildcat is projected to the Ellenburger.

New Oil Possibilities Shown On South Plains During Week

Haines county wildcat, was deepening under 8,968 feet in lime. It is 22 miles east and north of Seminole and 4,820 feet from east and 7,430 feet from south lines of league 292, Lynn CSL survey.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Adams, extension try to the Idalou-Strawn field of south-central Cochran county, was shutdown at 9,200 feet for repairs. It is 1,063 feet from west and 457 feet from north lines of the south half of the south half of section 13, block L, psl survey.

Water Show Developed

Also flanking the Landon pool, Stanolind No. 2 J. F. Edwards, 560 feet from north and 528 feet from west lines of section 13, block L, psl survey, was under 8,580 feet and making new hole in lime. This semi-wildcat is 25 miles southwest of the towp of Lehman and is contracted to 10,700 feet.

After developing a show of water on a drillstem test, Denver Producing and Refining company No. 17-C Elliott, deep wildcat in the Wasson-San Andres area of southwest Yoakum county, drilled ahead to 8,764 feet in lime. It is now shutdown on that depth for a fishing job.

The examination was at 8,497-8,638 feet, with the tool open three hours. Recovery was 300 feet of drilling mud and 1,530 feet of gas cut water with a sulphur odor.

This venture, located 1,070 feet from east and 1,312 feet from south lines of section 832, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, was until recently operated by Fikes and Murchison.

McAlester Fuel company was making new hole with its No. 1 C. C. Edwards, west Lynn county prospector, following a cement job on 9⅝-inch casing set at 4,089 feet with 1,000 sacks.

Last report had it below 7,441 feet, penetrating lime. Projected depth is 9,750 feet for a test into the Pennsylvanian.

It is 440 feet from south and west lines of section 58, GRR survey, approximately 18 miles east of the town of Brownfield.

Drilling was continuing at Humble Oil &Refining company No. 1-H Matador, lone wildcat in east Motley county, 18 miles east of the town of Matador and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 128, block M, Matador Cattle company survey.

It had reached 6,519 feet and was boring on through lime.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 2 T. E. Lutrick, in south-central Hale county, was bailing and testing at a plug-back depth of 7,480 feet. Total depth is 8,000 feet in lime and dolomite.

This prospector is located 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from north lines of section 17, block D-8, EL&RR survey, and is a one location stepout to Humble's No. 1 Lutrick, small pumping producer.

Activity stepped up a bit in the Anton-Irish field of southeast Hale county over the past seven days as three new drillsites were staked and one project completed for commercial production.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company made location for its No. 4 C. A. Rice as 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of the east half of section 19, block DT, HE&WT survey.

It is starting at once with rotary tools toward 6,400 feet, contract depth.

Stanolind also spotted its No. 8 B Lee Irish, to be a 6,300-foot rotary test in the pool. Operations were to begin December 12.

The drillsite is 660 feet from west and north lines of section 14, block DT, HE&WT survey.

The other new exploration in the field is Gulf Oil corporation No. 7-T E. K. Hufstedler, 4,320 feet from east and 2,109 feet from north lines of section 16, block DT, HE&WT survey.

Projected depth is 6,070 feet. Starting immediately, a rotary outfit is to be moved in and spudding procedure is to commence.

Magnolia Petroleum company has completed its No. 1 Elton Blackman in the Anton-Irish field in Hale county. The location is 660 feet from south and east lines of southwest quarter of section 7, block D-T, HE&WT survey.

The well pumped 24 hours to make a daily initial production of 55.36 barrels of 27.9 gravity oil. The gas-oil ratio was 128-1 and 70 per cent water was present.

The pay section was between 6,108 feet and 6,186 feet and was treated with 28,000 gallons of acid.

Active operations in the Anton-Irish field:

Stanolind No. 7-B Lee Lrish was on a total depth of 5,560 feet and was preparing to drill plug.

Stanolind No. 8-A Lee Irish, bottomed on 6,100 feet and was rigging up reverse circulation rig.

Stanolind No. 6-A Lee Irish, bottomed on 6,100 feet, shut in, taking bottom hole pressure test.

Stanolind No. 8-B Lee Irish was drilling ahead from 1,671 feet in anhydrite and gyp.

Stanolind No. 4 Rice, was on a total depth of 1,571 feet and was drilling plug.

Pure No. 8 Preston was swabbing at a total depth of 6,171 feet.

Pure No. 12 Preston bottomed on 5,695 feet, tearing down and moving out rotary tools.

Motorist Advises On Driving After 50 Years Experience

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 11. (U.P.) After driving an automobile for at least a half-century, William H. Kite, 94, has reached the conclusion that you don't save any time when you try to hurry while you're driving.

Kite, still driving with as deft a hand as a youngster of 40, has evolved a bit of philosophy, too.

"Give the other fellow a break," he said. "There's plenty of room on the road for everybody.

Ins And Fancies About Cinemaland

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11.—Dorothy Hour will have to find a new title for her movie, "Manhandled." It was okay in the early silents (Gloria Swanson starred in a film with the same tag) but it's strictly taboo with the Johnston office now . . . Those stories and rumors about Bill Holden and Brenda Marshall separating are off the beam. They're as happy as any married couple . . . Jack Benny finally played that unbilled bit in Bob Hope's "Easy Does It." He's a shipboard passenger and Hope asks him to change a $100 bill. The routine winds up with Benny looking at the bill through a jeweler's glass . . . People are still being fired at Warner Brothers, where the only film in production on the lot is titled, "Happy Times." Happy times?

Johnson

Rita Hayworth nixed the script of her latest, "Lona Hansen," which was the reason for her extended vacation with Ali Khan. But her studio still hasn't figured out whether she disliked the story or merely liked Ali better.

Competition for Bing Crosby. Barry Fitzgerald sings a full chorus of "The Wind That Shakes the Barley" in their new picture, "Top of the Morning."

OH, WELL . . .

DON AMECHE admits he expects his pro football team, the Los Angeles Dons, to lose $200,000 this season. Well, there are some more expensive hobbies, like collecting uranium, for instance . . . John Garfield's new movie, "Force of Evil," is back on the sound stage for a new ending—a big fight sequence.

Sight of the week from Paris: Maria Montez driving to the studio for "The Last Port" through the thickest fog Paris can remember—and wearing those inevitable dark glasses.

Johnny Johnston and Kathryn Grayson have reconciled but not professionally. Both are seeking new partners for personal appearance tours. Their separation resulted from an argument when they went on the road together. Professional jealousy surpassed domestic bliss . . . Richard Dix's recent illness cost him 30 pounds—the reason his medicos have told him to retire from the screen for awhile, maybe permanently.

TOP STAR

THIS MAY surprise a lot of people but it's true. The outstanding box-office star on the Warner lot is Dennis Morgan. His fan mail, exhibitor reactions and film grosses far outstrip those of Flynn, Davis, etc.

It isn't enough that Howard Hughes, who owns RKO, has his office at Sam Goldwyn's studio, but he also runs personal previews of his RKO pictures on the Goldwyn lot.

Hughes would be really smart if he went a step further and let Foldwyn make his movies for him.

Jose Ferrer (he'll be hot movie copy after the release of "Joan of Arc"), is up for a big radio dramatic show . . . Shuddery thought: In Paramount's "The Big Clock," Rita Johnson was the victim of a blow on the head . . . Barbara Bedoya, wife of Mexico's famous character actor, Carlos Bedoya, is prepping for a film career at Ben Bard's dramatic school. Her husband clicked in "Treasure of the Sierra Madre."

Roy Rogers Is Aiding Parents

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11.—Roy Rogers was on an eastbound train with his rodeo three months ago when he read a frightening magazine article. It said more children are killed in accidents—traffic, drownings, fire, etc.—than by the major diseases.

Now, Roy has three kids of his own. Moreover, he gets 4,000 fan letters a day. Most are from kids: Dear Roy: Please send me your photo. But many are from parents. Please write and tell Dickie to eat his spinach (or study, or take his medicine, or go to bed early). He'll do what you tell him.

Rogers

All sick children get letters from Roy. But the well and obstreperous ones, who won't mind their parents, are just too numerous. So he's organizing the "Roy Rogers Riding Club." Each youngster receives a membership card bearing a picture of the cowboy star and his horse, Trigger. On the back are nine rules including: Be neat and clean. Always obey your parents. Be brave but never take chances.

Safety Rules Given

Roy told me: "When I read this magazine article, I said to myself, 'Why couldn't we incorporate traffic and other safety rules into our club?'" He thought the matter would be covered by that rule No. 5: Be brave but never take chances. Thus a bicyclist who hooks a ride on a passing truck will be liable to summary suspension from the club—by his mother. Roy will plug the safety rules in his comic books and on his Sunday show over the Mutual network.

Being the father of two young Roy Rogers fans, I was troubled by one question. Who brings Roy's kids into line when they don't mind him and his wife, Dale Evans? Does he threaten to tell Gene Autry?

Disciplines Own Children

No, Roy said, he is his own disciplinarian. Take Cheryl and Linda, eight and five years old, respectively. "They got to lying," Roy said. One would say that it was the other who left the bike in the driveway. One would accuse the nurse falsely of giving her medicine.

"The last time that sort of thing happened," Roy went on, "I took them upstairs after dinner, took off my belt, lectured them for 45 minutes, and gave them whippings—five pretty good licks apiece. Then I kissed them. That was five months ago, and they haven't told a lie since then."

POLICE TEAM WORKS FAST

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (U.P.)—E. G. Matheny has nothing but praise for the police department after Patrolmen Earl E. Thompson and Joe Davis recovered his automobile here 25 minutes after it had been stolen. But for Thompson and Davis the time was slow. Last April the two recovered a stolen automobile and arrested the suspected thief in less than three minutes.

National Health Insurance Pet Truman Idea All His Own

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—President Truman is after a social reform that he can call his own.

National health insurance is his own pet measure.

So far the President's liberal deeds have been in trying to polish up, improve, broaden and defend the reforms of his predecessor, Franklin D. Roosevelt. A national health insurance law passed within the next four years would go down in history credited exclusively to the Truman Administration.

Ewing Top Man

The President is almost emotional on the need for such a measure. His feeling goes back to the days when he was a county judge in Missouri and part of his job was to help charity patients get into state hospitals.

One of the President's top men, Oscar Ewing, Federal Security Administrator, is directing the project. Ewing is working closely with Sen. James E. Murray of Montana whose pet bill for many years has been one that would provide national health insurance.

What they've tentatively agreed upon is a plan which would increase everybody's social security deduction to two and one-half per cent. The present one per cent is deducted from the first $3000 a person earns. The extra deduction would be on the first $4800 a year earned. If you don't make that much, you pay it on what you do earn. But it won't change the kind of medical care you get under the plan.

Employers would have to match the increase just like they match this present one per cent contribution.

Doctors In On Plan

What the employe would get for that is all the medical attention he needs—and no bills for it. It isn't quite as simple as that, but that's the general idea.

The best estimate of the experts is that the increased deduction would bring about $5 billion into the Treasury. Most of this kitty would be divided among the states, according to population. Each state would divide its share among its local communities, also according to population. But if this money wasn't enough to do the job, the Federal Government would supply what is lacking.

Then it would be up to the doctors in each city, town or rural community to decide how to divide this money among themselves, the hospitals, how much should go for medicine and how much should go for special treatment.

Doctors who didn't want anything to do with the idea could go about their business as usual. Any time one wanted to he could get in on it, however.

There would be several ways for the doctors to get their share of the fund. They could take straight salaries. Then they would give every patient who came to their office and who came under the plan all the attention that was needed. This is considered the most unlikely method that they would choose.

Or they could establish a fee of so much per head for each patient they had who was eligible for the plan.

The third, and considered the most workable method, would be to agree on standard fees for such things as taking out tonsils, setting a broken arm, a home call, an office call or just telephone advice. Instead of sending the bill to the patient, it would be sent to the kitty. The same for hospital bills, the cost of medicine and fees for specialists who might be needed.

Just like you buy accessories on a new car, so are there accessories in medicine. Anyone who wanted them could pay the doctor extra.

This whole scheme, of course affects only those persons who contribute to the social security fund. This now leaves out farmers, maids, persons working for themselves and many other classes of workers. Part of the overall plan, however, is to bring some of these groups under social security. Any person not under the plan could still go to any doctor, whether the doctor was in on the plan or not, and pay in the usual way.

Research Included

There are plenty of problems and objections. With so many persons getting all the medical attention they really needed there wouldn't be enough doctors or hospitals to go around. Part of the $5 billion would go toward building more hospitals and expanding medical schools. Some would go for research.

The American Medical Association violently opposes the plan. It claims that the proposal would give the people inferior, bureaucratic medicine. Ewing, however, claims that the AMA does not speak for all the doctors, especially the younger ones. He believes that most of the younger doctors are for the idea.

The idea of health insurance first got national attention in 1932 when a special commission appointed by President Hoover reported the need for voluntary hospitalization insurance plans. After that many of them came into being. The administration's plan actually is an outgrowth of that idea. A national health bill with the President's same goals was jointly introduced in the last Congress by Sen. Murray, Sen. Wagner of N. Y. and Rep. Dingell of Michigan.

Ewing is now drafting a bill which would state the plan in simpler terms. He and Sen. Murray plan to have it introduced in the next Congress as soon as possible. They are confident that it will be passed. But there will be an aggressive fight against it.

Blaze Destroys Two Breckenridge Firms

BRECKENRIDGE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Fire last night demolished two downtown businesses. Loss was estimated at $50,000. A volunteer firefighter suffered a badly injured arm.

Fire fighting equipment from Albany and Ranger helped battle the blaze.

Actress Escapes With Bruises In New York Traffic Accident

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (INS)—Actress Faye Emerson, wife of Elliott Roosevelt, escaped with bruises last night when she was knocked down by a car on a New York street corner.

Miss Emerson, accompanied by Roosevelt, was rushing to make the opening curtain of "The Play's The Thing," in which she is starred. She arose unaided after the accident and continued on to the theater.

Owner Of Shoe Store Picks Convenient Time To Faint

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. (AP)—Irvin Kapper, 49, was calm as three gunmen took $773 from his cash register in his shoe store yesterday.

Then they ordered Kapper to open the store safe. Right then, Kapper later told Marquette police, he thought would be a convenient time to "faint." He promptly fell to the floor and a customer screamed "call a doctor!" The holdup men fled. Kapper said $1,500 was in the safe.

Plains Deep Water Test Now Assured; Truman Clamps Down On Military

PLANS ARE SET

It's Our No. 1 Need

REGARDLESS of whether the final news may be good or bad, prospects are that people of the South Plains will have the satisfaction of a reasonably definite indication, before long, as to the existence of good water in large quantities at depths down to 2,000 feet.

As anticipated, oil operators have proved more than willing to co-operate with the City of Lubbock in this exploration. Consequently, the City plans to go ahead with its 2,000-foot water test on its own land northwest of town.

At the same time, detailed logs in oil tests will be made about four miles northeast of Lubbock; in the Smyer field about 20 miles west, and in the Anton area about 25 miles northwest, to determine whether good water exists.

The only cost to the City will be $200 each for the oil test logs. The co-operation of such oil operators as Tobe Foster, the Anton Oil Corp. and one not yet announced by name in the Smyer area will make possible a good sampling of water prospects at modest cost.

If reports in all the tests are unfavorable, then Lubbock and the South Plains can virtually eliminate from consideration the possibility that the solution of their water problems may lie far beneath them.

Such development would, of course, be disappointing, even though expert opinion regards disappointment as strongly probable. But the reasonably definite knowledge that the solution of water problems does not lie in this direction should spur the search elsewhere, with the Canadian river seemingly the No. 1 hope.

Onward, Upward

FOR almost 60 years, the Broadway Church of Christ and its predecessors have made up one of the most potent of the spiritual and religious forces of Lubbock and this territory.

It therefore will be an occasion for pride and felicitation in which the entire community shares when ground is broken at 3 o'clock this afternoon for the magnificent edifice on Broadway at Avenue T where the future religious life of the congregation will be centered.

It will be cause for civic pride that this splendid structure will enhance the beauties of our city. It is interesting and profoundly significant of humble courage and sublime confidence that the congregation has committed itself to an undertaking which will cost, including the site, close to $1,000,000.

But the consideration which overshadows all others is the fact that the challenging venture will provide the physical equipment the church must have in order to fulfill its mission. Many Lubbock residents probably do not realize that the congregation, numbering about 1,500 exclusive of children, is believed to be the largest of any Church of Christ in the world. In addition, the Broadway church has sponsored, fostered, or encouraged the organization of eight other congregations, with approximately 1,500 adult members, in the Lubbock area. The needs for a large plant are evident from these figures.

Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister, and the congregation join in an invitation to "everyone interested" to attend the ground-breaking ceremonies this afternoon. Acceptances of that invitation should be, and doubtless will be, many by those who will desire to be witnesses to a memorable occasion—one which bears testimony to past achievements and giving prayerful promise of a greater destiny.

COMMISSION RECOMMENDATIONS TO FACE OPPOSITION

Hoover Group Studies Improvements In Government

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Ex-President Herbert Hoover says he is going fishing for the rest of his life, just as soon as he finishes the report from his 12-man bipartisan Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government.

This report is due next Jan. 13. Mr. Hoover wants another 30 days. The job couldn't be done in the original 18 months allotted. When Hoover's report comes out it will be about 2,000,000 words long. As such it will be worth about a dollar a word, as appropriations for the total survey total nearly $2,000,000.

EDSON

In addition to the reports and annexes, the Hoover Commission will have bills drafted to change all the organic laws necessary for carrying out its recommendations on reorganizing the Federal government. It will take quite a flock of new laws to make these changes, for everything the Federal government now does is authorized by Act of Congress.

Various Problems Studied

To do its job, Hoover organized the commission staff into 23 task forces. Each is making an investigation of one phase of government — the presidency, foreign affairs, public works, veterans' affairs, public welfare, supply, agriculture, natural resources, government lending, fiscal affairs, personnel, and so on. The last two reports on State department and National Defense reorganization have just been completed.

Information put out so far on what the Hoover commission would recommend has been speculation based on task force reports. Actually, the commission itself has not decided finally on a single recommendation it will make to the Congress.

A principal approach to the commission's problem is that the government is now too big. A man from the moon could recognize that government employment has jumped from 500,000 in the 1920's to 2,000,000 today. In the same period, the budget has grown from $4,000,000,000 to $40,000,000,000.

About half of this cost increase may be due to inflation. The rest is simply an indication that the Federal government is now doing things it never did before. It may be a sign that the country is drifting towards socialism, statism or whatever you want to call it.

Mr. Hoover feels that better organization could save as much as $3,000,000,000 a year. One billion might be cut from the present $6,000,000,000 Federal payroll, even though bigger salaries were paid to top executives to get better men. Since 1940, Congress has increased by 60 per cent the wages of government employes earning less than $5000 a year. Those getting over $5000 have been increased only six per cent. New top salaries of $15,000 to $25,000 are being considered, in place of the present $10,000 maximum.

Getting better people in the lower-paid jobs is also part of the program. One study of the Veterans' Administration shows that it takes four government employes to do the work done by one clerk on similar jobs in private insurance company offices.

Another billion saving is in sight in big items, including cuts of $500,000,000 by eliminating duplication between government agencies working on land and water conservation, $250,000,000 by reorganization of the Post Office department, $250,000,000 by changing government purchasing and procurement methods. The third billion in savings would come through lesser economies all down the line.

President Truman has thrown his full support behind the Hoover commission work, in spite of early post-election rumors to the contrary. Truman feels that making the government efficient is one of the best ways to insure a Democratic victory in 1952.

Hoover commission reforms will, however, be fought over bitterly. Opposition will come from the heads of departments or bureaus who don't want present responsibilities taken away from them and transferred some place else. Congressmen whose districts are benefitted by Federal field offices won't want them discontinued. Local politicians will yell. Government employes reorganized out of their jobs will yell. Selfish private interests who now reap special benefits from certain government activities won't want them discontinued.

If 50 per cent of the Hoover commission recommendations are adopted by the next Congress, it will be a miracle.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

SOME time ago a new family moved into our section of town.

They were a family of grown-ups who had chosen our community for two reasons.

They had spent the summer here and fallen in love with our scenery, the nearness of the water, the coolness of our summer climate.

That was the second reason.

The first reason was that their son and his family were living within five miles of here and they wanted to be nearer to them than the fifty miles that separated them when they lived in New York.

BRANDEIS

The head of the family came to me with a complaint yesterday. I am repeating it to you, because it is typical of so many communities, and it may be typical of yours.

When those people moved here a few of the neighbors called on them and welcomed them in courteous frigidity.

That was all.

Since then they have been wandering around without making any friends or getting any taste of community life.

But they own their home and so they are on the taxpayers' list.

And that tax list in our community—and probably in yours, too—is the greatest sucker list in America.

PUTS HIS FOOT DOWN

Budget Order Given

BY DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman has put his foot down hard on the military's outstretched palm.

He made this clear the other day to gruff Jim Patton, National Farmers Union chief, who called at the White House to warn that military and foreign spending was eating up too much of America's income.

PEARSON

"I have cut back the military budget," Truman snapped, "and it is going to stay cut back."

The President also promised that he would not forget where his votes came from last November, and agreed with Patton that his victory was the result of a farmer-labor coalition.

"The election justified my belief that if I took the case to the people," he reflected, "they would do the right thing."

The President touched only lightly on the farm program, but he brought up one farm question that seemed uppermost in his mind—the international wheat agreement. This he praised because it would stabilize farm prices for the future. He also took an indirect slap at the 80th Congress for failing to ratify.

"That is a very good agreement," Truman declared. "I can't understand anybody not wanting to ratify it."

Letter To Forrestal

Added evidence that the President is viewing the military budget with a cold eye was a recent unpublished letter to Secretary of Defense Forrestal, ordering the services to stop sounding off in public about their needs. Previously the three services had been fighting over the budget like three dogs over a bone.

While Truman's letter to Forrestal is not going to be leaked by the man who received it, here is what the President wrote him:

"It seems very clear that fiscal considerations will make it impossible to move ahead rapidly on all fronts at once. A decision as to both program and budget priorities can be made only after we take a look at the whole legislative picture.

"I count on you to prevent any premature announcements until we are in a position to know which things must be done first and how rapidly they can be done.

"In connection with the above, may I again call your attention to my decision that legislative proposals be coordinated clearly within the executive branch in accordance with the established procedures."

EX-CONGRESSMAN MAURY MAVERICK of Texas makes a hobby of collecting books and recently gave President Truman two of his choicest volumes—a first edition "Alice in Wonderland" and "Humbugs of the World," by P. T. Barnum of circus fame.

Impishly Maverick observed that the book on humbugs might apply to poll-takers and columnists who guessed wrong on Nov. 2. It was written during the Civil war and bore a longhand notation on the inside cover: "From the private library of Dr. W. H. Trueman, 1867."

"The good doctor may have been one of your departed kinfolk, Mr. President," remarked Maverick. "But how do you account for that 'E' in the name?"

"Could be," chuckled Truman. "I guess some of my folks forgot how to spell about that time."

The President got another laugh when his chunky, gregarious caller observed that the "Alice in Wonderland" story had a real-life parallel in the last campaign.

"You may remember that when Alice was sinking," said Maverick, "her neck began to stretch. This saved her. Well, some folks figured that you stuck your neck out when you took on the Republicans at a time it appeared they were riding high.

"However, you kept your head above the water and, like Alice, came out okay."

Dewey Vs. Stassen

Dewey and Stassen are now lining up their forces for a showdown fight for control of the Republican party. The showdown will come at the January meeting of the Republican national committee.

No love is lost between the two men. In fact, Dewey says privately that Stassen did him irreparable harm in his pre-convention farm speeches, and that even after the convention, his speeches were designed to put Dewey on the spot with farmers. Some of Dewey's henchmen even go so far as to make the absurd charge that the Stassen crowd deliberately sabotaged the Dewey campaign.

Meanwhile, anti-Dewey Republicans of Pennsylvania have "adopted" Stassen and are grooming him to be top spokesman for the "loyal opposition" against Truman. Stassen has the powerful backing of the Pews and Mellons while Hugh Scott is reported ready to go over to Stassen—which would clinch his retention as national chairman.

Dewey has taken his defeat pretty hard. Friends say he awakes nights—can't sleep. They fear he may lose out in the political tug-of-war with the vigorous statuesque Mr. Stassen.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S loyalty board issues careful confidential instructions to all FBI men who have the difficult job of checking government employees for loyalty. Here is the confidential instruction given the FBI about the Ku Klux Klan:

"The Ku Klux Klan has at all times been avowedly anti-negro, anti-Catholic and anti-Jewish. It seems to deny to members of these groups the right to vote, to pursue the trade or profession of their choice, or to be free from molestation and interference in their personal lives.

"Thus, it advocates and promotes the denial to these persons and groups of their rights and freedoms guaranteed or recognized by the constitution of the United States.

"It is actively engaged in physical violence, including killing and flogging. It has acted as a private police force in attempting to force its own code in personal matters and it has operated continuously by means of threats and intimidation.

"Between the years 1937 and 1940, according to some evidence, the Klan joined forces with the German-American bund."

Note to Walter Winchell—President Truman and Attorney General Tom Clark have had the Klan on the subversive list for months. Yet the un-American activities committee, despite repeated requests, has never investigated the Klan.

GIVE A BOOK FOR CHRISTMAS

It's Easiest Kind Of Shopping

GIVE a book for Christmas.

It's the easiest kind of shopping you can do. Just figure out the type book each person on your list would enjoy and proceed from there.

And you have a price range from as low as 25 cents to almost as high as you want to go.

Gift Editions Popular

Gift editions of books are popular and you can find them on the shelves of almost any of the book marts.

Among them are "Great Paintings in America: 101 Masterpieces," edited by Kimball and Venturi; Wallace Nutting's two-volume "Furniture Treasury;" "The Decorative Arts of Sweden," by Iona Plath; the two-volume "Letters of Edgar Allan Poe," edited by John Ostrom; the three-volume "Literary History of the United States," edited by Spiller, Thorp, Johnson and Canby; the first two volumes of Douglas Southall Freeman's "George Washington."

Fiction Is Big News

The big news of 1948 is of course fiction. The finest novels in a long time have been coming from the publishers ever since January. At the very start of the year appeared the very best of them all, Alan Paton's "Cry, the Beloved Country." This was followed in winter and spring by Thornton Wilder's "The Ides of March," Truman Capote's "Other Voices, Other Rooms," Feike Feikema's "The Chokecherry Tree," Ian Niall's "No Resting Place," Ramon J. Sender's "The King and the Queen." Norman Mailer's "The Naked and the Dead" started out in late spring and has kept at the top of best-seller lists since then.

But more recently other good war novels have been published. Foreign writers have told the story more movingly, in particular Giuseppe Berto in "The Sky Is Red" and Theodor Plievier in "Stalingrad." The best of the Americans seems to me to be Irwin Shaw's "The Young Lions," but Stefan Heym's "Crusaders," Edita Morris' "Charade" and Jerre Mangione's "The Ship and the Flame" are variously excellent.

Books On Any Subject

No peacetime fiction list can omit Joan Colebrook's "The Northerner," or Zora Neale Hurston's "Seraph on the Suwanee," and people who want their money's worth at least in bulk can stand in line for Mann's "Doctor Faustus" and Sandburg's "Remembrance Rock."

If you have a friend going to New Orleans, Boston, New York, San Francisco, Guatemala, China, France, Hawaii, Tahiti, the Solomon islands, Iceland or Palestine, there's a book for him. . . and he'll enjoy the journey all the more if he first reads Madge Jenison's "Roads." If your friend is interested in how to live within his income, in cooking, music, drugs, etiquette, the atom bomb, the Civil War, mental hospitals or forest fires, there's still a book for him.

And there are always the handsomely illustrated Heritage Press issues, among the newer ones "The Beggar's Opera," "Westward Ho!" and "Mutiny on the Bounty."

Reprints Are Available

For the really serious-minded reader, there are $1.75 editions of fiction by Maupassant, Gorki, Tolstoy, Balzac; $2 biographies of the Brontes, Butler, Fielding, Stevenson; reprints at various prices of Henry James, Melville, Pater, Proust, Veblen, Francis Thompson, Goethe, Parkman; books about Paul Rosenfeld, Thoureau, Meredith, Lenin, Trotsky, Stalin, and of course no end of how-we-won or how-we-lost-the-war volumes, and numerous attempts to explain what's on the other side of the Iron Curtain, and what's on this side.

NEWSPAPERMAN-AUTHOR—John Gould, above, who writes a daily column for the Wichita Falls Record-Times, has written a book, "Words To That Effect," published by the Naylor company, San Antonio. It is more exact to say that a number of John Gould's columns have been colected and published between covers. Gould's humor has touched many subjects and themes—such as husbands and wives, bridge players, rock gardens, bird dogs and their owners, spinach, fish-snakes, politicians, cooking, pollsters, household economics, oil men, West Texans, Texans, Outlanders, visiting firemen, Mollie Bailey, Joe Bailey, and hundreds of others.

Story Of Struggle

"HIGH JOHN THE CONQUEROR," by John W. Wilson; (Macmillan).

OWN his little corn and cotton patch, keep a pair of mules, stuff Ruby Lee's pantry with good things to eat, raise him some strong and healthy boys and girls . . . that's the ambition of the Texas boy named Cleveland in this short, simple and powerful novel.

But there's too much rain, or too much sun; corn can make drink as well as food for a tired and discouraged man; John Chaney, greedy for more acres, can push him too hard, and on top of that connive to get Ruby Lee into his big house to cook for him, or wait on him, or serve him in other ways Cleveland is scared to think about.

This hero is as out of luck as any in current fiction. The cards are stacked against him, not by the blind Greek deities or Olympus, but as Wilson sees it by the gods of free economy, ignorance, poverty.

"Wayfaring Stranger"

"WAYFARING STRANGER," by Burl Ives; (Whittlesey).

FROM a run-down little farm in the Midwest to the fame of radio network and Broadway, Ives the folk song singer tells here the story of a hard but gay and on the whole enviable life.

It's enviable because he has achieved the only kind of a success that he apparently ever wanted. At every turning he seems to have chosen the right direction, and on all the paths he has followed, to church, to school, into college and out, along the highways with a guitar slung over his shoulder, to New York, to the wrong schools yet the right teacher, he has continued to pick up more of the old ballads which he and his audiences love.

As you read his book, you realize, as you might suspect when you hear him sing, that he isn't just another professional singer; he has been called with a holy calling.

Louisiana Pastor To Open Advent Preaching Mission At St. Paul's Episcopal Church

An Advent preaching mission begins at St. Paul's on the Plains Episcopal church this morning at the 11 o'clock service, with Rev. J. Hodge Alves, pastor of St. James Protestant Episcopal church, Alexandria, La., as minister. Evening services will be conducted Monday through Thursday nights, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The subjects of Mr. Alves' sermons at the services are as follows: Today, "Jesus Christ Is Our Judgment"; Monday, "Jesus Christ Is Our Life"; Tuesday, "Am I Really a Christian?"; Wednesday, "The Earthly Colony of Heaven"; Thursday, "Wanted, a Verdict."

Trustee Of University

The general subject of the mission will be "Jesus Christ Is The Answer."

Mr. Alves was rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church from August, 1936, to June, 1938. He was born in Henderson, Ky., in 1905, attended public schools of Alabama, received a B. A. degree from Sewanee in 1926 and the B. D. degree from the Episcopal Seminary in Virginia in 1929. Immediately after graduation from the seminary, he worked in North Texas three months at Coleman-Sweetwater and Pampa-Borger. For seven years he was rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Mobile, Ala.

Mr. Alves is a trustee of the University of the South, Sewanee, and of All Saints Episcopal College for Girls, Vicksburg, Miss. He is chairman of the commission on evangelism in his diocese.

REV. J. HODGE ALVES

Minister Will Report On Work In Britain

C. E. McGaughey, nationally known evangelist and minister of the Fourteenth Street Church of Christ in Washington, D. C., will speak at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the Broadway Church of Christ, the pastor, Dr. M. Norvel Young, announced Saturday.

Mr. McGaughey has recently returned from a six months trip to England, Ireland and Scotland. He will give a detailed report on his work with the Churches of Christ in the British Isles. Mr. McGaughey was sponsored by the Broadway congregation and the Fourteenth Street church.

A recording made by one of the congregations in England and sent to the church here will be played after the lecture. The public is invited.

Since the war, the Broadway church has sent two well-known evangelists to England to strengthen the fellowship with the churches there.

Pat Sherrod, one of the church elders, and Otis Gatewood, now a missionary in Germany, also spent some time in the British Isles visiting the churches there.

In some past geologic times, it is believed, there was little difference between the types of plants which grew in widely separated parts of the world.

St. John's Methodist Choir Will Present Christmas Cantata

The choir of St. John's Methodist church will present a Christmas cantata, "The Coming of The King," at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the church.

The cantata, composed by Dudley Buck, is directed by Mrs. Carl Scoggin, with Mrs. Robert V. Law as organist.

Soloists are Miss Charlene Jordan, soprano; Mrs. Stuart F. Shafter, soprano; Miss Norma Lee White, alto; Bert McGinnis, tenor; Jim Spain, tenor, and Bill Slagle, bass.

Program Is Given

The program is as follows:
Prelude for organ, "Noel."
Invocation.
Violin offertory, "Lamb of God," (Bizet) William A. Harrod.
Prophecy, "O Jerusalem, Look About Thee," Miss Jordan.
Advent, "Awake! Put on Thy Strength, O Zion," chorus.
Duet, "He Shall Feed His Flock," Mrs. Shafter, Miss White.
The Annunciation: "And the Angel Gabriel," Miss White; "Hail, Thou," Mr. McGinnis.
Across the Desert: "The Caravan of the Magi," Men's chorus; "The Three Wise Men," Mr. Spain, Mr. McGinnis, Mr. Slagle.
The Plains of Bethlehem: "And There Were in That Same Country," Women's chorus; "Fear Not," Mr. Spain; "Glory to God," chorus.
The Departure of the Shepherds, Mrs. Shafter, Mr. Slagle.
"Christians, Awake!", chorus.
The Virgin's Lullaby, Miss White.
The Questioning of the Magi: Herod, Mr. Slagle; The Magi, Men's chorus.
The Adoration: "And When They Had Come," Mrs. Shafter; "And Being Warned of God," Men's chorus.
Adeste Fideles, choir, with congregation joining in.
Benediction and postlude.

Dudley Buck, the composer, is widely known as composer, organist, and teacher. His was the first music published in America with an independent organ accomplishment for the vocal score, and his compositions have had vast influence upon later composers.

Brussels sprouts, for holiday meals, may be cooked whole or quartered. Be sure to remove wilted and discolored top leaves before washing; the tough core-like center end should be snipped off, too.

Looking At Life

They know that their name has been obtained from the tax list, because there is a slight misspelling on that list and that same error appears in every panhandle that comes to them.

THESE new neighbors of ours don't mind contributing to charities. They have money and give freely.

But the thing that gripes them is that so many of the appeals say: "We know your interest in your community," or "we all want to see our community be happy"—or something like that.

But what, my new neighbor asked me, does our community do to arouse our interest in it, or to make us happy in it?

He is right.

A community's duty lies not only in paving, street-cleaning, policing and fire-fighting.

Communities are made up not of bricks and stones and cash registers.

Communities are made up of human beings with souls and hearts and emotions and longings for companionship.

If there is a tax assessor, why not have a Commissioner of Welcome? If the police department can tell us not to do certain things why not have a Friendship Committee to guide us in doing things together?

I wonder whether I haven't got something there.
