Manager Requests Resignations

Rick Crowley, City Manager of Colorado City, during a special called press conference Tuesday morning, announced he had received resignations from both Chief of Police Jimmy Roundtree and Lieutenant Jesse Dominguez following a request made by him.

Crowley stated, "I asked for and received their resignations this morning and they are effective immediately."

Crowley was somewhat vague as to the reasons for the request of their resignations and commented, "I have thoroughly gone over my reasons for these requests and I feel the persons involved are well aware of my reasons for making these requests."

When asked, "if there was any connection with an investigation presently underway in the County Attorney's office involving the CCPD, Crowley gave no comment other than his previous statement.

He stated that the CCPD was somewhat shorthanded and stated that he would like to candidly and sincerely ask for the cooperation of the citizens while they are shorthanded. Crowley stated that he has asked for some assistance from the Sheriff's Department and the Department of Public Safety and they have been very cooperative.

He said that he would be beginning his search immediately for a new Chief of Police and certified police officer to fill the vacancies in the department, as there was already a vacancy there.

Local Women Have Chance To Unite

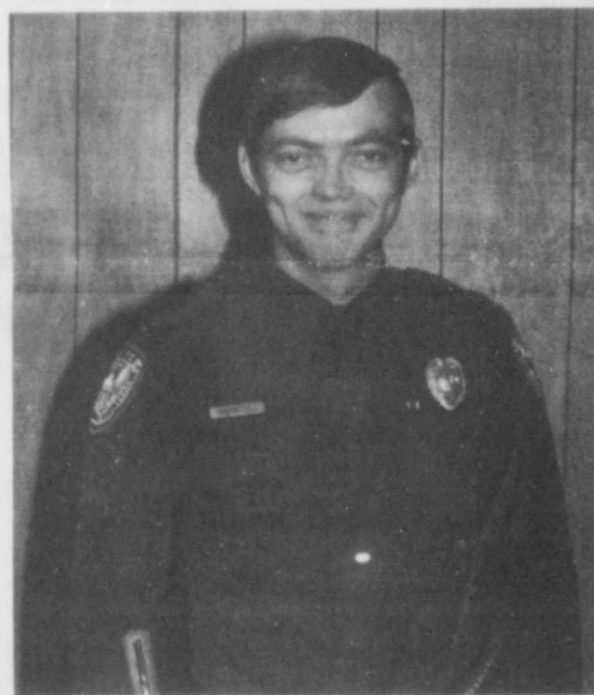

Ladies in Colorado City and Mitchell County now have the opportunity to join the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the oldest historical organization in the United States and next to the largest in membership.

It grew out of several organizations organized to care for the many needy confederate veterans, soon after the war between the states had ended. It is indeed a prestigious patriotic organization with its objects being historical, educational, benevolent, memorial and patriotic.

UDC cares for the remaining living widows of the confederacy; gives scholarships and prizes for historical work in high schools, colleges and universities; promotes patriotism in our United States of America; confer crosses of military service on soldiers of the Spanish American War, World War I, World War II, Philippine Insurrection, Korean War and Vietnam War who are descendants of confederate veterans.

In 1965 they took part in the unveiling and dedication of Gettysburg Monument; erected many other monuments; including the Jeff Davis Highway extended from coast to coast and they also paid

Mitchell County SWCD Recognizes Coming Annual Soil Stewardship Week

The theme of this year's celebration is "A Time for Tenacity."

"This is 'A Time for Tenacity' in our faith, in concept, in communication, in cooperation, in the political arena, in experiments and research, in leadership, in priorities, and in total commitment," cites the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) in the 16-page Soil Stewardship Week booklet. Forward for the publication was written by President Ronald Reagan. NACD has sponsored Soil Steward Week since 1955, in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts.

Informative material on the Soil Stewardship Week theme each year is distributed through local conservation districts to clergymen, lay leaders, churches, civic and educational organizations and to individuals participating in the observance.

DO YOU KNOW?

You don't have to be ill to need more fiber in your diet. Nutritional Scientists say the sooner most people eat more of it, the better. Here are some good reasons:

• Dietary fiber is the part of plant food, such as vegetable or grain, that is not broken down by digestive juices in the intestine. It's important for normal functioning of the digestive tract.

North Loraine Club Have April Meeting

The North Loraine Texas Extension Home-maker's met in the home of Mrs. J. M. Templeton at 2:30 p.m., April 21 for a regular meeting.

Mrs. Hubert Meadows, club president, presided. The group recited the club prayer in unison. Mrs. Roy Wells read a list of helpful hints for the recreation.

The roll call was answered with "A Secret Ambition I Once Had." The inspirational scripture was Romans 12:18. "If it be possible as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men."

During the business session the club voted a monetary contribution to the Cystic-Fibrosis Drive that is underway.

The Club was reminded of the upcoming book review May 4, at the C. C. Thompson Room. Mrs. Bobbie Steakley will be reviewing "Up From The Cellar."

Mrs. C. A. Matejowsky brought a most realistic program on "Coping With Age." Maintaining a healthful routine to preserve health is a must, she stated. Remaining active, and serving, not only at the family level, but be available for volunteer services outside the home is one step forward in coping with age. The lonely, do-nothing person is more apt to develop health problems. The value of positive thinking cannot be ignored. Relate to younger people when the opportunity arises and if finances permit, travel is very beneficial.

With people living to be older there now exists "Power with age." Many reforms have come about because the older persons have used this power. Coping with poverty is a problem that four million women in America face. Many of the present programs that have come about in the past decade offer better housing, improved health conditions, and more social activities for older people.

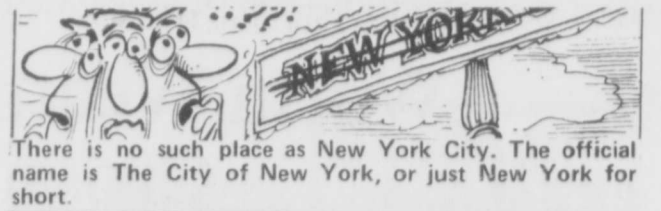

Mrs. Templeton served refreshments to the following members: Mmes. C. A. Matejowsky, Roy Wells, Jack Linam, Hubert Meadows and Raymond Wheeler and two visitors, Mrs. J. D. Norman and Mrs. Frank Crownover.

The only president to undergo impeachment proceedings (he was acquitted by one vote), Andrew Johnson was also the first ex-president to serve later in the Senate.

Crownovers Have Visitors

Felix Jarratt of Austin spent Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crownover. Visiting Mrs. Marion Mahon and with the Jarratt's and Mrs. J. D. Norman Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jarratt of Midland. They were returning home after attending the funeral of a cousin, James Wilks in Trent.

Warm Weather Complicates Safe Crossing of Railroads

Although railroad grade crossing caution is a year round safety concern, the warm weather months bring with them additional factors that complicate safe crossing procedures.

In any weather conditions, motorists should Stop, Look, Listen and Wait until the tracks are clear in both directions before proceeding. In spring and summer the situation is aggravated: Texas hot spells make most drivers roll up the windows tight, crank up the air conditioner and tune the radio to some cruisin' music.

This can mean big trouble if the driver can't hear clearly when approaching railroad tracks, according to Jim Bearden, Vice President for Railroad Safety, Texas Safety Association. "Even if hearing is only partially blocked, attending may be distracted or fragmented by the auditory interference the driver has set up," says Bearden.

Where a crossing is equipped with electronic gates, the situation is a bit less hazardous. But only a little bit, since drivers have been known to race around gates trying to beat the train—and often getting killed. When the crossing is not physically barred, it becomes even more important that the driver keep ears open and mind alert for the rumble of the train and the sound of the whistle.

Windmills Used To Generate Electric Power

Using windmills to generate electricity is a rather recent application of wind power, when you consider that windmills have been used to do man's work for more than 5,000 years, reports Dr. Bill Cooper of Oklahoma State University.

A number of people in the southwest can remember when windmills dotted the western skies generating electricity for farms. Dr. Cooper reports that Oklahoma State University's Engineering Extension continues to receive requests for reports dealing with windmill generation of electric power.

Some of these reports date back to the early 1930's Cooper noted. He also noted that the homes and farms using wind power to generate electricity in the 1930 time period did not have the large power demands that our modern homes of today require.

As a help to persons interested in the subject of wind electric power, Dr. P. M. Moretti of the Oklahoma State University Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering has written an article answering some of the most frequently asked questions. His article also gives the names and addresses of a number of manufacturers of wind electric systems.

The article concludes with a list of references for further study, reports Dr. Cooper. For a free copy of this informative article send a self-addressed and stamped envelope to Wind Energy, OSU Office of Engineering Extension, 512 EN, Stillwater, Oklahoma 74078.

Dr. Rundell is the author of the new book, "Oil in West Texas and New Mexico: A Pictorial History of the Permian Basin."

The subject of Dr. Rundell's talks will be "Oil History through the Camera Lens: Research Adventures and Misadventures." He will relate some anecdotes, hilarious and fascinating, that grew out of his research for the new book.

Dr. Rundell will speak to members of the Santa Rita Club, the museum's volunteer corps, and their guests at the museum at 10 a.m., Saturday morning. Members of the museum will be invited to a second session with Dr. Rundell at 4 p.m., that afternoon. Public Hearings Are Planned

Public Hearings to assess needs of older persons in the 19-county West Central Texas Council of Governments region and on the proposed Aging Services Plan, developed by the West Central Texas Council of Governments for the period October 1, 1980 through September 30, 1983, will be conducted in Abilene at 10 a.m., and 11 a.m., respectively on Thursday, May 6.

These hearings are for the purpose of updating the three year plan for the period effective October 1, 1982 through September 30, 1983.

Meetings Are Slated

The meetings will be conducted in Duffy Auditorium of Richardson Library at Hardin-Simmons University campus at Ambler and Hickory Streets, Abilene.

The Plan reflects the Department's intent to support and expand a comprehensive coordinated service delivery system for older persons in the region, as mandated by the Comprehensive Older Americans Act Amendments of 1978.

The public is invited to attend. Summary copies of the Aging Services Plan will be available at the Aging Services Plan hearing. Opportunities for questions will be provided, and input from the public is welcomed.

Program Helps Youth

Helping youth with career decisions - that's what the 4-H career exploration program sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, is all about. Career exploration involves a three-step process in which parents can participate along with the child, notes an Extension 4-H and youth specialist. The first step is an awareness of jobs and work. In step two, youth finds out more about salary, working hours, lifestyles and training required of jobs their community offers and jobs of interest to them. The final phase involves developing career interests, in which youth are encouraged to participate in hobbies that will help build skills, to look for part-time jobs and to observe people on the job and possibly work alongside them.

Alcoholism Program Is Offered

The Alcoholism Treatment Program (ATP) conducted by the Department of Psychiatry of Texas Tech University School of Medicine deals with the spectrum of problems associated with alcoholism and substance abuse.

"There is no one solution to the problem of alcoholism," said Rudy Arredondo, Ed.D., associate professor of psychiatry and inpatient program director for the ATP. "Individuals who have the disease are complex. Their conditions have many varied aspects with broad ramifications."

"The family shares in the disruption caused by the disease and they need to be involved in the healing process, too," Arredondo said. "They receive counseling as individuals and as a family and begin to learn to deal non-judgmentally with their ill family member and with themselves."

Patients in the program are admitted to the Chemical Dependence Unit at St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock for an inpatient phase of four to six weeks. In the hospital, they receive a physical examination, diagnostic workups and assessments of the physical and psychological effects of their dependence. They begin both individual and group counseling activities and education sessions to learn both about their disease and about themselves.

While the patients are in their inpatient phase, help also begins for family members.

Family members join support groups such as Al-Anon and Alateen. Values clarification groups, communication groups and spiritual concerns groups help the family and the patient learn to share feelings and problems.

"We strive toward education and reeducation for the patient and family members," Arredondo said. "Each person learns about the disease and about themselves. They learn to evaluate their lifestyles and their values and to form new attitudes upon which they can build."

Upon completion of the inpatient phase of the program, patients continue with counseling sessions as needed. They and their families maintain their participation in Alcoholics Anonymous, Al-Anon or Alateen. Additional family counseling is also available throughout the psychiatry department's outpatient treatment program.

The treatment aspects of the program complement teaching opportunities for future health professionals, according to Arredondo. Medical students, resident physicians (doctors studying one of the medical specialties) and other health professionals are involved in the ATP as part of their professional training.

The psychiatry department's program offers an on-going six session seminar on alcoholism which is open to the public. These seminars deal with alcoholism, with treatment approaches and with resources for assistance.

The seminar series completes the educational thrust of the ATP program. It includes elements pertinent to alcoholics and their families, to medical students and other health professionals and to the public. Its hope is that through information can come the rehabilitation and prevention of alcoholism which are among the greatest societal needs.

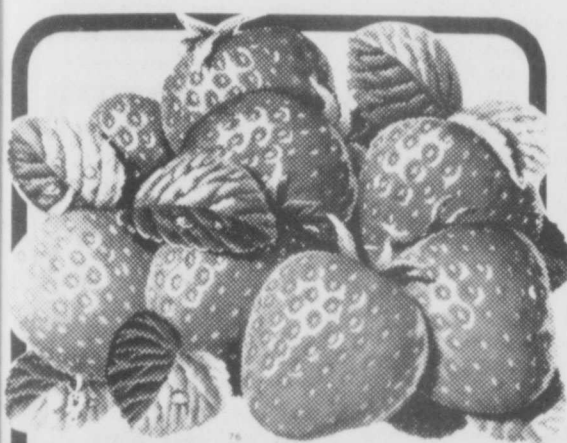

Energy Tip

Energy-conscious homeowners can take steps to reduce the energy demands of lawn care without lowering lawn standards, says a turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Among these are reducing fertilizer applications to maintenance levels (2 to 3 pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn per year), returning or composting grass clippings, adopting proper watering practices, reducing pesticide use to only essential applications and selecting and planting adapted, low-maintenance turfgrasses.

One tablespoon is equal to 3 teaspoons.

Wolf Band Earns Highest Honors

The Colorado City Wolf Band has made its presence felt again as it won two major competitions the past weekend. The band has accomplished spreading its fame over Texas and even out of state.

The band had previously earned three superior ratings in marching contest and then went to State Marching Contest and got seventh in Texas. This put the Wolf Band in the race for Sweepstakes; obtainable only if a band makes "ones" all year in marching and in concert-sight reading.

The band made three ones in concert and three ones in sightreading. This gave the band the long-sought-after Sweepstakes. This is one of the highest honors a band can achieve. Sweepstakes winning truly proves a band worthy and talented with that extra will power to reach for the top.

The Wolf Band was the only 3A band in Region II to achieve the level of Sweepstakes. This makes the third sweepstakes for the band in the last five years. The band hopes to keep the new tradition alive with another perfect record next year.

Next, the Wolf Band will go on to the next level and send a tape of their concert music to a competition for honor bands. The tape will be judged with other 3A band tapes from twenty-one regions in Texas. The winner of the contest will be dubbed "3A Honor Band of Texas."

The same week of winning sweepstakes, the band won a competition which made sweepstakes seem somehow minor. The band performed at the nationwide Six Flags Music Festival with bands from all over the U.S., Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico, South Dakota, Louisiana, South Carolina and Wisconsin.

In their class, the band got an excellent rating. One other band from Wisconsin, also got an excellent rating; so, the competition for "Best of Class" was between Colorado City and the Wisconsin band.

Colorado City was picked the outstanding band in 3A over ten other bands in 3A.

Bill Shipp, band director, commented, "I'm real proud of the kids & the fact that hard work really pays off. Everyone did a good job. We'll be back next year."

Bill Gilstrap, president of the band, said simply, "It's beautiful!"

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor,

The first of May is Loyalty Day and as such it is a day filled with activities designed to involve the community in an overt display of loyalty to flag and country. Therefore, every loyal citizen should eagerly participate in the festivities in an effort to make this Loyalty Day the best observance ever held.

Loyalty Day has become a tradition with the Veterans of Foreign Wars. With the passage of Public Law 85-529 on July 18, 1958, the VFW won a long hard battle to have Loyalty Day approved by Congress. However, this day does not belong to the VFW alone, it belongs to all Americans.

Most Americans have heard the quote "Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country." This is a sound principle to live by in a country such as ours, where the government is elected by the people and where the public is expected to participate in the governing process.

In these times of global political turbulence, Americans should pause and ask themselves, "What have we done and what are we doing now to demonstrate to the world just how we feel about our country?" After all, ours is a country that was held high the beacon of liberty and asked nothing of the other nations except that they send to her, in the words of Emma Lazarus emblazoned on the Statue of Liberty, thier "huddled masses yearning to breathe free." Ours is a country that has taken the abstract ideal of "Freedom and Justice for All" and made it into a way of life.

We must pledge ourselves to maintain a free society in which loyalty is always encouraged and respected. For, without loyalty the United States, the world's best hope for a future blist with freedom, cannot long survive. And, if we fail, the flame of freedom will diminish and fade forever.

So, join in and become a part of the Loyalty Day Celebrations, let the world know that Americans are behind their country and that America because of this is still a strong vibrant nation.

Thank You,
The Wilson Wyatt
