Social Security Number Important

In a statement issued today by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Board field office, it was pointed out that as a result of the nation-wide labor recruitment campaign being carried on by State employment security agencies, thousands of men may be called upon to leave their places of residence to take employment in defense plants in various parts of the country. In such cases, these workers should have their social security account numbers in their possession.

"It is also important that when a worker leaves home to take a job in some distant city or town he should leave a copy of his social security account number with his wife or some other member of his family where it may be readily secured in case the worker should lose or misplace the number he had in his possession. By doing this he may be able to save time by writing or telegraphing back home for his number."

It was explained that any field office of the Social Security Board will take a worker's application for a duplicate social security account number when it has been lost, but extreme care should be taken by all workers to preserve and safeguard them by keeping duplicate records of their account numbers.

"The Social Security Board uses account numbers for identifying old-age and survivors insurance accounts and all wages received in covered employment are credited to them. Old-age and survivors insurance benefits, when they become payable, are based on the worker's wages as credited to his social security account number," Reed said.

FSA Families Help In Defense Plans

Farm families who have little money can't afford to buy all the food they need for a good diet, but they can afford to grow it. Mrs. Sally B. Allen, home management supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, said yesterday in discussing the part farm families have to play in the nationwide drive to assure ample food supplies for the United States and other countries resisting aggression.

"Fact is," Mrs. Allen said, "they can't afford not to maintain cows to furnish a year-round supply of milk, cream and butter; to raise enough chickens to provide meat and eggs all year, instead of just a few months in the spring and to produce a variety of animals for other kinds of meat including pork, beef and lamb."

Farm families in Lipscomb and Ochiltree County being assisted in their farm and home operations by this agency are learning that they can have more food and better food for less money by raising bigger gardens, increasing their poultry flocks and feeding a few livestock for home consumption," Mrs. Allen declared.

Mrs. Allen said that although borrowers of the FSA have always followed a live-at-home plan and grown most of their food and feed on the farm, a majority of them are planning to produce more than ever this year. They expect to take full advantage of the money loaned them to reduce their own expenses and at the same time to produce additional quantities to meet national needs for greater food supplies.

The home supervisor of FSA borrowers in this county is in full accord with a statement by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, who announced a national produce every possible present laying flocks this summer.

This effort is a part of the nation's determination to produce food supplies for the agency. It should, however, be a part of the national effort to produce food for the next 15 months or more.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Jones, were week-end visitors from Perryton. Miss Prudence Jones accompanied them to friends.

"I Am An American" Day

For the third successive year, the people of the United States will celebrate "I Am An American" Day on Sunday, May 18. For the first time, Perryton will observe this day with a gigantic Americanism program to be held in the school auditorium at three o'clock Sunday afternoon.

This program is being presented under the joint auspices of the Perryton Post of The American Legion and the Perryton school. Col. E. A. Simpson, who will speak, is probably the foremost authority on Americanism in the Southwest. He is a forceful orator, a retired officer of the United States Army, and at present a member of the national board of military preparedness.

The President, at the request of Congress, has just issued a proclamation on "I Am An American" Day which is published on the front page of this newspaper.

As all can realize, "I Am An American" Day has special significance this year. Probably never in the history of the United States has American citizenship and its implications meant more than it does today. In times like these, when Democracy stands out in strong contrast to governments that have subjugated their people, it is important to observe and commemorate the privileges of American citizenship as widely as possible.

"I Am An American" Day has nationwide interest, for it affects directly two large groups of new citizens in the United States: those who have been born in the United States and have recently attained the full rights of citizenship by reaching their twenty-first birthday; and those who, having been born in foreign countries, have recently proved their fitness for membership in our Democracy and have been inducted into the full rights of citizenship by a naturalization court. These two groups number more than two and a half million people. Actually, "I Am An American" Day affects all of us, for it helps bring home the value and responsibilities of our citizenship and it gives us an opportunity to welcome into our American membership those who have become citizens in the past year.

Panhandle to Move Wheat

George L. Hottelcher, federal grain supervisor, has been transferred from Omaha, Nebraska, to Amarillo to supervise the grading of the heavy movement of government wheat which is now beginning to move over the Panhandle according to W. R. Zener of the Perryton Wheat Growers, Inc. The Wheat Growers has shipped 80,000 bushels already on transfer orders received.

In connection with this wheat movement at the Amarillo headquarters Geo. W. Krummick of Kansas City, Mo., also has been assigned to Amarillo by the Commodity Credit Corporation as their representative to supervise and facilitate the handling of the government wheat. It is estimated that from twelve to fifteen million bushels of wheat will be transferred from the Panhandle to outside storage points during May in order to make room for the 1941 harvest.

The transfer of the two officials to Amarillo was made in order that grain would not have to be graded at a distant point at inspection. Formerly the inspections were not acceptable at Amarillo, which fact is changed by the transfer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Price, Stratford, were guests for the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Will.

Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Kenzie left Saturday for Kansas City, Mo., to be with Mrs. Kenzie's sister during an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blasingame has as their guests for the week-end their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Blasingame, Amarillo, their daughter, Miss Emily Blasingame, Dallas and A. Andrews, Dallas.

Two Varieties of Air Defense

America relies on airplanes for national defense and soil defense. Heavily armed planes such as the giant four-motored "flying fortress" at top help provide national defense. Planes armed only with cameras help provide soil defense. The two farmers in lower picture are inspecting a typical aerial photo map, taken from an elevation of nearly three miles and used in administering the AAA Farm Program's conservation work. Similar aerial pictures are available showing more than two million square miles of U. S. land area.

National Meet
Of Boy Scouts
May 16-17

"Physically Strong, Mentally Awake and Morally Straight" will be the theme of the 31st Annual National Council meeting of the Boy Scouts of America this Friday and Saturday, May 16 and 17, at the Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C., the scene of its first annual meeting in 1911.

Exhibits reflecting this emphasis and portraying the activities, growth and scope of the Movement will be on display in the hotel lobbies and meeting rooms.

Now comprising over 2,000 men who represent the 543 Local Councils administering the program of the Movement, the National Council is the controlling body of the Boy Scouts of America which operates under a Federal Charter granted by the Congress of the United States.

The delegates, most of them leaders in the life of their home communities, are business men, educators, churchmen, doctors, lawyers, public officials. They are coming together at the nation's capital because of their common interest in American boyhood.

At the legislative meeting of the National Council, the delegates will elect officers, approve new policies and hear annual reports. The Washington gathering will also provide inspiration to the delegates. Methods of promoting the program of the Boy Scouts of America locally, keeping in mind the varying conditions throughout America, will be discussed. An exchange of ideas is made possible through speakers and conferences.

At the annual banquet of the National Council Friday evening six Silver Buffalo Awards "for distinguished service to boyhood" on a national and international basis, will be made to recipients to be disclosed at the dinner. A new trophy, the Lorillard Spencer Award, will be presented to the Scout Region making the greatest percentage gain in membership.

The Council will be addressed by many prominent speakers. Paul V. McNutt, Administrator of the Federal Security Agency, former National Commander of the American Legion, Governor of Indiana and High Commissioner of the Philippine Islands, will address the annual banquet Friday evening, May 16. While Dean of the Law School of the University of Indiana, Mr. McNutt served as Scout Commissioner of the White River Council of the Boy Scouts of America at Bloomington, Ind.

Telling how the Boy Scouts of America are sharing in the promotion of public participation in the Treasury Department's defense savings program, will be Gale P. Johnston, Field Director of the Defense Savings Staff. Mr. Johnston is President of the St. Louis, Mo. Boy Scout Council.

Other speakers will include Norman H. Davis, Chairman of the American Red Cross; Senator Arthur Capper; Sir Willmot Lewis, Washington correspondent of "The London Times"; and Frank J. Hogan, prominent Washington lawyer.

R. T. Shindler is visiting this week with two sisters at Nacogdoches. They are Mrs. Eugene Blount and Mrs. Frank Sharpe.

Mrs. Bill Ollenberger and daughters, Misses Charlene and Kathryn McLarty were visitors in Canadian, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Bush and children, Irvaline, Jacklyn and Billy Lane of Borger spent the first of last week in the home of Mrs. Bush's sister, Mrs. Blansit Carter. They returned home Wednesday night.

Texas is Center
Of Shipbuilding

"Texas is destined to become the shipbuilding center of the Nation, if the present trend of this activity continues." This prediction is made in the current issue of "TEXAS RESOURCES," a bulletin of information issued from the Executive Department of the State of Texas.

The bulletin states that shipbuilding contracts already have taken the lead over all other national defense awards in this State and that a number of other projects of large size and importance are in process of negotiation.

Contracts for somewhat more than $135,000,000 have been awarded to Texas shipbuilding concerns since July, 1940, and plant facilities of these establishments have been increased by $11,000,000 during that period, the Governor's Office advises.

Setting out the advantages to be found in the State of Texas for shipbuilding activity, the bulletin says:

"Thirteen ports along the 370-mile coast line of Texas can qualify as meeting the requirements of the shipbuilding industry."

"The Gulf of Mexico is the most easily protected and will doubtless be the most closely guarded body of water along the seaboard of the United States."

"Ship channels to Texas ports run from the Gulf many miles inward, out of any possible combat zone."

"Private harbors are available in or connecting with many of these channels, offering available sites for shipbuilding yards at considerable savings in dredging costs."

"Moderate all-year climate provides maximum advantages to production schedules and reduces the cost of living of workers."

"Fuel costs in the coast area are as low as any available in the United States, and the fuel supply is practically unlimited."

"Ninety-seven per cent of the labor in Texas is native-born. An adequate labor supply is available, and steps are now being taken to give skilled labor the technical training required for shipbuilding activities."

Miss Irene Knight, who is with the Texas Old Age Assistance, has been in Perryton this week. She has been working in Turkey the past month and will go from here to Childress for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shirley, Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Tom Carver, Canadian, spent the week-end with the ladies' mother, Mrs. J. M. "I Am An American" Day

MY COUNTRY 'tis of Thee!

"... America is a wondrous land for children, for youth."

WHO says it's a messy old world? Who says the U. S. A. is going to the dogs? Not the boys and girls of America! Not the nation's youth! These are the Hope of America... their eyes undimmed by doubts, their deals unwavering. And so it will always be as long as there are free communities to grow up in, free schools to attend and free newspapers to read.

WHAT is America? Great rivers? High mountains? Broad prairies? Is America cities? Traditions? Songs? Is it styles or movie fads, business luncheons, week-ends in the country?

America is all of these.

But most of all, America is Opportunity, now and for the future. Opportunity for all. Thus it has always been, is now and must ever remain.

Opportunity for what? To earn a living. To govern ourselves. To worship, travel, read, study, vote, think and act like grown men and women, uncoerced, self-disciplined. Opportunity to pick our own jobs, to decide our own futures. Opportunity to send our children to college. Opportunity to choose our own standards, not have them thrust upon us; to develop our own art. Opportunity to be secure in our households, to have and keep arms. Opportunity for growth... for happiness. This is what America means!

Opportunity for whom? For all humanity. The strength, the toil, the free ideas, ambitions, zeal and criticism of every man and woman is sorely needed in this country whose great resources have scarcely been touched, whose future as a Happy Land lies still ahead, not behind us. America is a Land of Opportunity for all.

BUT America is a land, most of all, of opportunity for boys and girls. It is the only country left today where fathers and mothers may sit in the peace of an evening and plan and dream. America is a wondrous land for children, for youth—free schools where yesterday's standards are never good enough for today; free libraries open to all; beaches; playgrounds; camps; sports.

The pity of so much of the world is that its young people are being destroyed as ruthlessly as though they were sent unarmed to the field of battle. Boys and girls are indoctrinated with hate. Their young minds are blighted, their souls are crippled. Youngsters born to share in and perpetuate free western civilization are warped, crushed and embittered by witch-doctor voodoo preached out of lying textbooks by teachers in fear of their lives. Most terrible of all, an enslaved press distills its poisons constantly. Young minds soak up hatreds as a sponge absorbs ink. What kind of fathers and mothers will these boys and girls, in their turn, make?

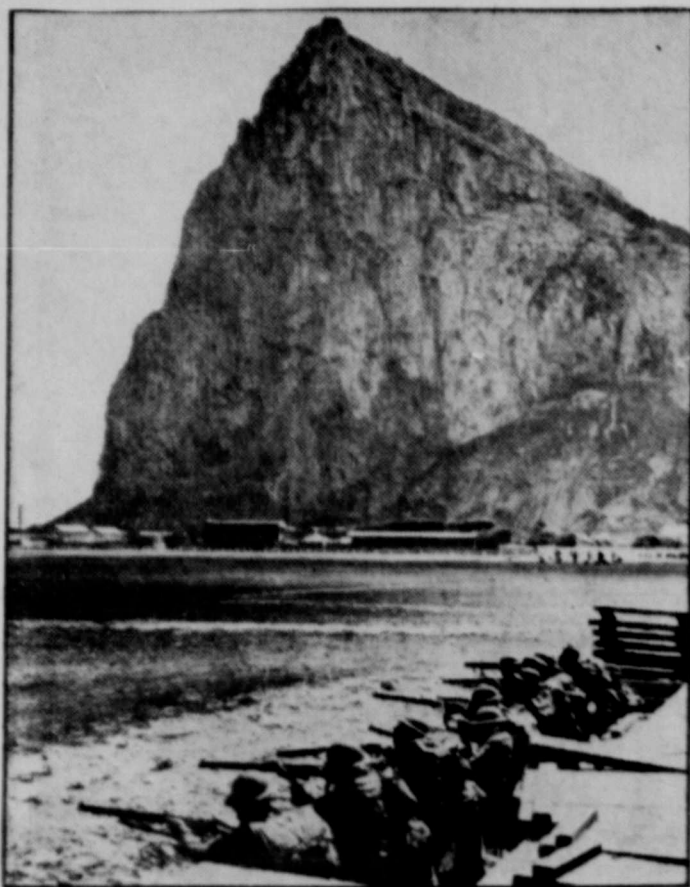

Not all is right with America. We still have insecurity, absurd extremes of plenty and want. We still have greed, selfishness, corruption. We still drift aimlessly to leeward, a mile for every yard we sail ahead. And our silly fads are legion.

BUT the American Republic is still the newest idea on earth! As in Washington's time, it is a Revolution—a Revolution against Want, Misery, Slavery, Degradation, a Revolution that is still going on. American freedom is still the newest thing on earth! It rests on knowledge, on education. It rests on the four great freedoms of the Constitution: The right to speak, the right to worship, the right to print, the right to assemble peacefully without let or hindrance. Now, as never before, these four great freedoms can sustain us and protect us. Now, as never before, they are needed to assure our future existence as a free nation.

No matter how grave the hour, how seemingly great the need, a free people must not let Free Speech, a Free Press, Freedom of Worship, and Freedom of Peaceable Assembly be taken from them. He who attempts it is both tyrant and traitor. He who defends them defends the right of his children to all their future happiness.

Auxiliary Sponsors A Girls' State

A Bluebonnet Girls State comparable to the American Legion's famed Boy's State each summer at Austin will be conducted on the Baylor University campus, Waco, June 8 to 14. Miss Billie Murray, state Americanism chairman of the American Legion auxiliary, said today.

The "laboratory in practical government" will drive to show the young women their responsibilities in government especially during the defense program. Miss Murray, a Waco attorney, said.

The girls state week at Baylor will be the first in the south and the ninth in the nation. It was planned by the Legion auxiliary, headed by Mrs. M. H. Ehlert of Austin, and entire facilities of Baylor University were offered by President Pat M. Neff for the meeting site.

Girls attending the special week will be representative of all sections of the state and are to be selected by the sponsoring organizations, including the Legion Auxiliary units, women's church organizations, federated clubs and other patriotic organizations. Only high school girls are eligible.

Parents of White Deer Doctor Arrive From Germany: Make Home with Son

Refugees from the Nazi oppressions, Dr. and Mrs. Siegfried Falkenstein arrived in White Deer Saturday to make their home with their son, Dr. Richard D. Falkenstein, and family.

After a long, drawn-out effort on the part of the son to get his parents to this country, they were sent to Berlin on March 26 and from there by train to Lisbon, Portugal, where they took a boat for New York, arriving there April 21, and after visiting relatives there a few days, came by train to White Deer.

After the long trip and many hardships, they were glad to get to the land of the free and to enjoy the liberties denied them.

For 34 years the elder Dr. Falkenstein has practiced medicine in Wesel and Cologne, Germany, until 1938 when the Nazis took away his license, and part of his property, after which he was unable to practice his profession. For a time he was thrown into a concentration camp and suffered hardships incident to the Hitler domination. He and his good wife figure themselves fortunate to escape with their lives, as many others in like condition lost their lives.

The son left Germany prior to the outbreak of European hostilities, but at this time foresaw the impending disaster and sought to establish himself in America. Through examination he was able to secure license in New York state where he spent some time serving in hospitals in that state. Before coming to White Deer last September he served as interne in St. Francis hospital and a second year as resident physician in Clockner hospital, Colorado Springs, Colo. By reciprocity with New York he was licensed in Texas. He has established his citizenship in this country and has built a splendid practice of his own chosen profession here.

His father and mother could recite many almost unbelievable happenings that have occurred in their efforts to escape the Hitler oppression. The effects of the destruction in Germany, they say, is much greater than the Germans admit, however not decisive for the outcome of the war.

The rationing of food is severe with an average of two eggs every two weeks, one bar of soap a month and butter is scarce and frequently rancid. An extra supply of butter over the amount rationed, costs about $5 a pound.

Glad to enjoy life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, Dr. and Mrs. Falkenstein join their son and his wife and baby in the good old United States, and we join our readers in hoping for them many happy, carefree years of happiness.

Texas Home Building Week

Texas home building, long in the forefront of the nation's construction effort, took on new impetus this week with the issuance of a proclamation by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, designating the week of June 1, 1941, as TEXAS HOME BUILDING WEEK.

In co-operation with this move initiated by Governor O'Daniel, the Federal Housing Administration with the assistance of the Texas building industry has outlined a suggested plan for a state-wide group of typically Texas homes which will be built immediately and exhibited publicly during the week of June 1.

Each home, to be known as "The Texan - The Home Built for Texans," will represent the best effort of the state's builders and the skill and artistry of the architectural and home designing profession. Although they embody as a group a wide variety of styles, each may be described as a typical Texas home, entirely compatible with its climate and the local conditions which influence building.

According to P. S. Luttrell, of Dallas, Texas Production Manager for the Federal Housing Administration, already more than 130 Texas cities and towns expect to feature "THE TEXAN" and in some cities sites have already been chosen and construction begun.

"Every 'TEXAN' home will be acceptable as security for mortgage insurance," Luttrell said. "They will be built under FHA inspection and each dwelling will be approved in plan and type of construction prior to building. Many of these homes will involve higher construction standards than those required by FHA and this, of course, is highly desirable in a home which is to represent the best efforts of those who design and build our Texas homes."

"In proclaiming the week of June 1 as 'TEXAS HOME BUILDING WEEK' Governor O'Daniel recognizes the extent to which this state's industrial development and rapid growth of population demand more and more homes. Texas, a leader among states which develop a high volume of Federal Housing Administration business, will extend itself in this program and I anticipate a considerable increase in home building as a result."

"The FHA, of course, is interested not so much in elaborate, expensive homes, as it is in attractive, well designed and soundly built small homes. This is our greatest need at the present time and our current program, in the hands of the state's building industry, will develop that type of home which may be paid for by the home buyer under the FHA system for less than a dollar a day."

"The building industry in Texas has accepted Governor O'Daniel's leadership with enthusiasm and the response to our suggested program of home building has been gratifying in extreme. Thus far in Perryton and many other Texas cities, one or more houses designated as 'THE TEXAN' - THE HOME BUILT FOR TEXANS - are expected to be exhibited during the week of June 1."

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Carter left Saturday morning for their home in Long Beach, Calif. They came in Wednesday to attend the funeral of Monroe's brother, Blansit Carter. Another brother, Fred Carter and wife left Wednesday evening to return to their home in San Angelo. They came on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lynch, Bob, Louise and Elizabeth of Amarillo visited Saturday night and Sunday in the home of their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Blank and Dewey Dean, Sunday they were all guests for Mothers Day dinner with Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wilson.

Chevrolet Service Men Take Exams

During the month of May, more than 25,000 Chevrolet service men from the division's 8,500 dealerships will review a year's training program in their regular yearly examination to be held in each zone throughout the country. Each mechanic will answer a 50-part quiz, those passing winning the Approved Mechanic rating.

The quiz summarizes an entire year's work, according to Ed Hedner, national director of service for Chevrolet. Monthly school are held in each dealership to keep mechanics abreast of latest developments in the service field. The annual review session affords the mechanics an opportunity to win an Approved Mechanic's Diploma for a new year.

Materials for the schools held in the individual dealerships are provided by Chevrolet, including the shop manual, a monthly service bulletin, slide films prepared under Chevrolet's supervision, and other items. Service managers conduct the sessions for their own organization, while a representative of Chevrolet's zone service department will stage the review quiz. Two examinations will be given, one for general mechanics, the other for body mechanics.

Inductee Should Arrange Affairs

Texas' Selective Service local boards today were urged by General J. Walt Page, State Director, to warn every registrant ordered to report for induction under the Selective Service system to arrange his affairs so as to prevent undue personal hardship in the event he is rejected later at the Army induction station.

General Page said that there are instances when men sent to induction stations by local boards are rejected on physical or other grounds by Army examiners, and that State Headquarters is extremely anxious that any injustices suffered by registrants in such cases be reduced to a minimum.

"Probably more often than not," the Director said, "when a registrant is ordered to report for induction, he disposes of his automobile at a sacrifice since he has been instructed that he cannot take it with him. He either sells or gives away his civilian clothes and gives up his lodging accommodations."

"But, more serious is the possibility of inequity to rejected registrants centering on the fact that they have severed their employment connections when ordered to report for induction. When a registrant is notified by his local board to report for induction, he should point out to his employer the possibility that he will not be accepted at the Army induction station. The employer can then be prepared to replace the man if he is accepted," General Page said, "or to continue

Here's a Combine that GETS THINGS DONE

Take a look at this new combine that cuts a full 12-foot swath, with capacity to save and clean the grain at 3 1/2 or 4 miles an hour. It's a honey to handle, with Motor-Lift that adjusts the auger-type header from floating on the ground to topping tall grain at 32 inches. Its high-speed conveyor and star-wheel beater comb out the incoming grain and feed the full 32-inch rub-bar cylinder a steady, non-slugging stream of straightened straw.

Let us show you the lattice-type grates that save most of the grain right at the cylinder... Multitum straw racks that spank out contrary kernels... air-lift cleaning in big-capacity steel shoe, with three sieves, that gives you cleaner, better-grading grain.

Enthusiasm Key to Flower Arranging

ST. LOUIS—If you would excel in the art of arranging flowers, you need patience, practice, and unlimited enthusiasm—and the greatest of these is enthusiasm.

This was the recipe for success in arranging flower given here by Mrs. Laura Lee Burroughs in an interview on the subject of using flowers to add brightness and gaiety to the home.

Mrs. Burroughs is the author of a best seller on the subject of what to do with flowers. Her book "Flower Arranging, A Fascinating Hobby" reached a sale of more than one and a half million copies in 1940, and the completely new Volume 2 is apparently going to prove even more popular.

"If you are enthusiastic about arranging flowers," Mrs. Burroughs said, "you will acquire patience. With patience, you will be willing to practice. And in practicing, you will find that not only does your skill increase but the number and variety of your ideas will also increase."

Interest in flowers is due to your desire to use them as a decorator would to add the final touch to a room, you will be interested in line and mass and color in order to keep your arrangements in the spirit and period of their surroundings.

"But," concludes Mrs. Burroughs, "no matter what your point of view, it must be enthusiastic. The rewards of an enthusiastic approach are equalled in no other way that I have ever known."

Like its predecessor, Volume 2 of Mrs. Burroughs' book "Flower Arranging, A Fascinating Hobby" is being distributed by The Coca-Cola Company of Atlanta, Ga., for ten cents, stamps or coin, to cover the cost of mailing and handling.

Registrant Must Have 'Proof' Card

Amendment of Selective Service Regulations to make it mandatory for every registrant to have his registration certificate in his possession at all times and to present it upon request of proper authorities was announced today by General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director.

General Page made his announcement upon receipt of advice from National Headquarters which pointed out that while the old provision of the Regulations said that the registrant "should carry his registration certificate with him at all times as he may be required to show it from time to time," the revised Regulations provide:

"The registrant must have his registration certificate in his personal possession at all times and, upon request, must exhibit it to any law enforcement officer, any Selective Service official of National Headquarters or of a State Headquarters, or any member of the local board or board of appeal."

Failure of a registrant to have his registration certificate in his possession, or to exhibit it upon request of authorized officials, will constitute a violation of the Regulations and, in addition, shall be construed as prima facie evidence of his failure to register, General Page said.

Cement Donations For Tennis Courts

Approximately 90 sacks of cement have been donated to the Perryton schools the past two weeks to help in the construction of the two concrete tennis courts on the campus. These contributions bring the total number of sacks of cement to about 545.

At least 150 more sacks are needed to make the 700, which specifications require for the two courts. If you have failed to give some cement or cash to help this worthwhile community project, leave your contribution with Supt. C. Wedgeworth, E. D. Kelley or Otho Burk.

Two weeks ago, the Herald carried a list of contributors. Mr. Kelley reports this week the following additional contributors and number of sacks given: Perryton Implement Co. 10 sacks; J. O. Young 2; Sibley Jines 5 more; S. R. McClung and Carol McClung 5; Harvey Fletcher 10; Ellis Theatre 25; Willard Miller 1; Drew Ellis 5; M. M. Cudd 2; Men's Wear 3; Charley Kent 5; H. C. Brillhart 5; Plainview Hardware 10; J. W. Bennett gave $1.00 cash.

Results prove that people read Herald want ads.

Whole Wheat For Health

May 17 to 23 is "Whole Wheat Week" in this county. During this time the Land Use Planning Committee's aim is to bring to the people of the county the advantages of using whole wheat and to encourage the use of whole wheat in homes once a day, according to Miss Elizabeth Huffines, Home Demonstration Agent.

Whole grain wheat prepared in different ways can be substituted often for rice, oatmeal, beans, and macaroni. There are two very definite reasons for using whole wheat. Any effort that can be made to increase consumption of wheat above other cereals is a step in the direction of using wheat surplus. Whole grain wheat is the best known source of vitamin B1 which is essential for steady nerves and an optimistic outlook on life. Serious lack of this vitamin causes faulty memory and depressed spirits.

One serving of whole grain wheat a day will supply the body's need for vitamin B1 and phosphorus are also found in large amounts in the outer covering of the wheat grain.

Surveys reveal that American diets are lacking in Vitamin B1 more than in any other food element. Commonly called "whole wheat" flour contains very little of these minerals and vitamins because it is often only 50 per cent whole wheat the rest being white flour and often the wheat germ is removed. Insist on 100 per cent whole wheat bread. Bread and flour today is being "enriched" with B1 and phosphorus and iron but there is no proof that it contains all the nutrients that whole grain wheat contains, so until there is a proof that it is "just as good" there should be no substitute for whole grain wheat in the diet.

Masons Have Degree Meet

A called meeting of the Masonic Lodge was held Friday night, May 9, to confer master degrees on Dr. H. M. Sanford and Lonnie McGarrah and enter apprentice degrees on Harlan Hawk according to Henry Richardson, Master of the Perryton lodge.

Following the business, beautiful Holman's Masonic Bibles were presented to the Lodge and to J. N. Conley by a group of local masons. About eighty were present for the meeting including the following visitors: D. E. Wilcher, Hugh Parks and San Albes, Guyton, Okla.; H. C. Davis, Knowles, Okla.; John R. King, Tyrone, Okla.; Carl Whitehead and Preston Scott, Meade, Kan.; John Carlton and L. W. Sutherland, Plains, Kans.; Roy Jones, C. W. Windom, M. E. Grandon, Otis Patterson, J. E. Gunn, P. F. Wheat Parity Form Is Received Here

Wheat Parity application forms have been received in the County AAA office and are being signed by producers at this time according to E. W. Thomas, county agent.

Applications are being filled only on forms which did not have either volunteer wheat or wheat mixture. All farms which showed volunteer wheat at time of inspection must be inspected to determine if such wheat has been disposed of and all mixtures must be inspected to determine if the crop other than wheat in the mixture has survived.

The inspection of volunteer and mixtures will start next week, it was said.

try and abroad. A quota on wheat may be proclaimed only when the total supply exceeds a normal year's domestic consumption and exports by more than 35 per cent. With exports practically shut off by military blockade there is likely to be almost two bushels of wheat on hand for every one likely to be consumed this year in the United States.

In view of this supply, marketing quotas are necessary to protect the income of all wheat farmers. In the last two years, the wheat program, principally the loan, has held the United States wheat price to 30 or 40 cents above the world price. However, on the face of the large supply in prospect for the coming year, the loan needs the added protection of the marketing quota. It was pointed out by the local committee. Because loans on an uncontrolled surplus would involve too much risk they are prohibited by law when a wheat marketing quota is voted down.

If the quota is approved, farmers will be able to sell without penalty all wheat they raise on their acreage allotments. The farmer who has seeded his wheat within his acreage allotment can sell his wheat just as he always has. He is also eligible for a Government loan on all his wheat.

On the other hand the farmer who overplants his allotment may store the wheat produced in excess of quota. If he sells it a penalty will be collected. If he stores it, he can get a loan on the excess, but at a lower rate than that available to the operator.

Every citizen of Ochiltree county is urged to start saving either thru the purchase of stamps, or by buying bonds regularly W. H. Lance, Perryton mayor, has designated Thursday, May 15 through May 22 as local National Defense Bond Saving Week.

Library Closed on Wednesday, May 15

The Junior and Senior high library closed on Wednesday, May 15. Inventory and complete check will be taken on all books. All library records must be cleared before exams are taken.

Mrs. O. E. Burk, librarian, reports that in all probability there will be many new books for the following school year. Our library has shown much improvement under the leadership of Mrs. Burk.

Rotary Honors Glenn Truax

Glenn A. Truax, head of the music department in the Perryton school, was selected as song leader for the district meeting of Rotary Clubs held in Lubbock Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

This Rotary district includes all of West Texas. Hundreds of Rotarians and Rotary Anns were in attendance at the three day convention. Mr. Truax is a member of the Perryton club, which has been organized about a year and a half.

El Toro

Pete Williams was seen with Twila Mae Manning Friday night. Feature that!

Say, "Slick," how did you manage that date with "Holly"?

Dot Woods, Joan Dillingham, Billy Turner, seem to have some connections in Spearman.

Bonnie Elledge seems to be making a big hit with George Hohmann—anyway they were together Friday night.

Sammie Black kinda likes "Bulldogs"—get it?

Paye Dell Johnson has a cute motto, "The early bird gets the worm." Pardon me, I mean "Wormy."

"Oh, the cutest thing that I ever did see" was Marjorie Bowles juggling with Foo Boston.

Tough luck, Lard, maybe Nadine E. can go next time you go after her.

Slam Sayings

Looking over some "slam" books which were very popular a few months ago, I found out some interesting facts about people.

Sammie Black wants to be a nurse; her best boy friend is Gordon Grimwood; favorite car is a Plymouth and she does not park; she is under the impression that Yuhudie is the man who turns off the sun and turns on the moon; she thinks the boys of P. H. S. are swell kids; and her most embarrassing moment was when the preacher sat on her lap.

Gene Budock does not know what he wants to be; he has too many girl friends to count; his pet peeve is getting mad at the girls; his biggest thrill was going with a certain girl to a certain place (wonder what that word "certain" means); his favorite night is Saturday; his idea of a good time is a little cash and a tank of gas; and his favorite sport is football.

Ruby Thrasher wants to be a stenographer for a doctor. (not bad!); her pet peeve is stuck up people and muddy weather; her biggest thrill was going with a certain Booker boy. (these Certains); her favorite night is Saturday night; and her favorite saying is O. K.

Wilbert Hart isn't certain as to what he will be; his favorite car is Chevy and his favorite parking place is anywhere, anytime—at the table; his pet peeve is hateful guys like himself; he thinks the girls in P. H. S. are the "best in the West" (?); his biggest thrill was his first ride on a merry-go-round; and his favorite saying is "ain't that touchin'."

Ruth Neufeld wants to be a professional on the radio; her pet peeve is mushy couples; boys bore her horribly; she thinks some of the boys are stuck-up but most of them are swell; her most embarrassing moment won't do to tell; her biggest thrill was when he sat by her in the show, and as she doesn't listen to herself she does not know her favorite saying.

Snappy Duds

Thank Heavens, I won't have to write this column but once more. I'm about to run out of clothes, ideas, etc. But I have a few things for you this week.

Dorothy Woods wore an awfully pretty two-piece dress last week. It was grey spun rayon with red and black stripes, a gored skirt with a big pocket. The blouse buttoned all the way down the front and tied at the waist.

Ruth Stephenson looked very cool in a white sheer blouse with eyelid embroidery.

Cleo Payne Turner returned from her seige of measles in a white jersey sailor blouse. Very pretty.

Mrs. Willard McSpadden has a cute sharkskin dress. It has a tiny red and white checks and tiny puffed sleeves. The gored skirt was set off to perfection by pockets set in the gulleys.

Now, I know spring is here. Everybody looks so dainty in their voile dresses.

Mary Frances Calhoun has a very pretty green voile dress trimmed in lace.

Ruth Ann Urban wore a white sheer blouse, pleated skirt and a red jacket with flowered lapels.

Sammie Black looked cute in blue and white checked shorts with a gored skirt. They were cotton print trimmed with white buttons all the way down the front, and white rick-rack.

Home Ec Girls At State Meeting

The four Home Economic girls and Miss Sara Robinson have returned from their trip to San Antonio and report a "swell time." They also said it was a very beneficial meeting. The Gunter Hotel was the main headquarters for all the meetings.

The main convention opened Wednesday night with the R. O. T. C. high school band, San Antonio, presenting a concert. The major part of the evening programs was choral contests in which each area sang their own club song.

Thursday, schools participated in various contests. That night was fun night, with university students leading the various groups in folk dances.

Friday morning, delegates attended the general session in the auditorium. The speaker from Kilgore Junior College, spoke on "Youth at the Crossroads." The four phases he spoke on were politics, religion, education and careers.

Saturday morning, a style show was held and awards were made for various contests. Austin, Granger and Doolie ranking in A, B and C groups respectively, were ranked as high senior.

They started home Saturday noon and returned by Austin. They visited many interesting spots, among which were Kelly Field, the Alamo, the various missions, Breckenridge Park, Japanese Sunken Gardens, the zoo, White Museum and the Aztec and Majestic Theaters. The Perryton delegates drove over the grounds of the State Institutions and the capitol. They also visited camp Bowie, returning to Perryton Sunday night. Although they were tired, all reported a wonderful time.

Nat'l Music Week Chapel Program

General assembly met Friday, May 9. The program was in keeping with National Music Week. The faculty instrumental trio, consisting of Mrs. Kendall Kelly, Mrs. A. P. McCelvey and Glenn Truax, played several classical selections.

The remainder of the program was spent in singing favorite songs. Supt. C. Wedgeworth gave a short talk in keeping with Mother's Day.

Third Graders Give Program This Morning

Grades 3A and 3B will present the chapel program Thursday morning, May 15. The program consists of a play entitled "Hansel and Gretel," based on a story read in language arts, and worked out as a dramatization. The principal characters are Hansel, Verlin Hartman, Gretel, Marianna McGibbon. Music from the operetta "Hansel and Gretel" will be furnished by Mrs. John Kendall Kelly, music instructor of Perryton schools.

Shade of the Hat

Hello! Remember me? I'm the girl who comes around again every week. There isn't but one week left for me to "come around" either. Hurray! Hurray!

Miss Eugenia Mitchell was ill last week-end. We are glad that she was able to attend school on Monday.

The first-period chemistry class is having a "chemical" picnic tomorrow morning. Oh Boy! some "eats."

L. Louise Pugh is unable to attend school because of illness. We hope to see her back again soon.

Carlene Taylor, a Senior class member is out of school because of the measles.

Jack Elledge has been out of school the past two weeks with diphtheria.

The Senior class had a group picture made last Thursday to be used in the special edition paper that the journalism class is putting out.

Coaches Boyd Payne and George Philbrick and the football club went on a picnic down at the dam last Wednesday afternoon.

Football Boys Enjoy Picnic on May 7

The football boys had their annual picnic Wednesday, May 7, at Wolf Creek dam. There were about sixty students on the picnic and from all reports they really had a time. From the looks of the menu they did. It consists of coneys island, potato chips, fruit, cookies and all the lemonade they could drink.

Can you believe it—only a week left. It hardly seems possible. I'm sure all these seniors are happy. In case you don't know these things I had better tell you about them. The Baccalaureate sermon is on the night of Sunday, May 18, Junior High Commencement is on Friday, May 23.

Mrs. W. G. Calkins and her pupils will give a recital in the high school auditorium on May 26.

You know, I have always heard that if you don't have anything worth while to talk about, it is better not to talk. All that just leads up to the fact that I have told you every thing I know that is worth telling. I'll have to close with this, I guess.

Faculty Picnic Lake Fryer

The Perryton High School faculty will have their annual picnic May 18, at Lake Fryer. This is the first time the faculty has had a picnic since 1937.

The foods consisted of: Louise Yoe, Otis E. Burk, Reeve and Miss Englemann.

The cost of expenses of the Texas petroleum industry has forced Texas to pay $400,000,000 more in taxes.

The Texas petroleum industry now pays 44 1/2 per cent on business and property taxes including sales taxes, gasoline tax. It was counted petroleum pays 34 per cent of its income.

Over half of the oil in Texas pays an average of 34 cents per barrel.

THE FUTURE IS YOURS

Seniors of '41

Our hats are off to you 85 seniors of the Perryton High School. We are proud to have you as members of our progressive community and we want you to know that your welfare is nearest to our hearts. The things for which any community stands come forth at such a time as this.

We are glad that you can terminate your high school career in an accredited and recognized institution, and we know that some of you will remain in this community and become capable citizens, and loyal friends, just as your parents have done in the past.

The Indians Display Brilliance In Starting the Pennant Race

BY ART BRONSON

MAY is the month of the year when Cleveland baseball fans start their annual world series sinking fund. Traditionally fast starters, the Indians have forged to the front in the 1941 pennant race.

No idle threat is the Cleveland challenge in 1941. The Indians are a strong outfit—although certainly not so potent as their early record would indicate.

Barring another unforeseen player putsch or a calamitous injury to their pitching ace, Bob Feller, the Indians should ride through. They have the tinge of brilliance, some power, ample pitching, a more than adequate defense.

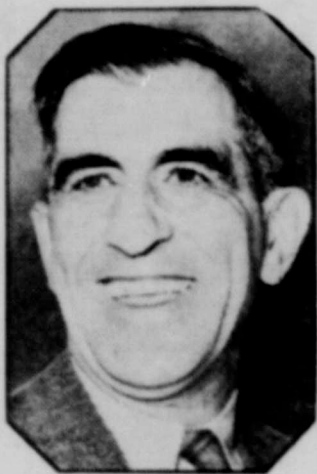

FELLER, of course, is superb. A prodigious worker, ambitious, smart and courageous, he has every attribute of greatness. He is Cleveland's insurance against a prolonged losing streak.

Paired with Feller, Manager Roger Peckinpaugh has Al Milnar, the giant left-hander, an 18-game winner of 1940. Slow to develop, Milnar is one of the game's most underrated players.

Along with his natural portside advantage, he has a world of stuff and a lot of swift.

Cleveland made two fortunate acquisitions in the winter trading season. They picked up veteran Pitchers Joe Nearing and Clint Brown, a couple of capable game savers who can step in the breach when the starting pitchers falter.

THE rest of the pitching staff is average. Mel Harder is a good six-inning pitcher but lacks the stamina to go the route. Al Smith and his dippy-do still fools some of the boys. Jim Bagby has possibilities. Defensively the club pegs around the brilliant Lou Boudreau at shortstop. Ray Mack, his keystone partner, is a steady workman, and Ken Keltner can play a lot of third base. Hollie Hemmley, the ~~ew~~-rellicker, is a top-ranking receiver. At first base, Hal Trosky catches most anything that hits him in the chest.

Brightest feature of the Indian attack has been the sensational comeback of Outfielder Jeff Heath, who is clouting the ball after two bad years. Roy Weatherly, who led the club in hitting in 1940, has dropped off in the early 1941 campaign, but Trosky and Keltner have compensated with some vigorous stick work.

Fishing In Lake Fryer Set for July

Although the exact opening date for fishing on government lakes in the Panhandle has not been set, H. H. Fennell, regional conservator of the SCS stated this week that the Wolf Creek Lake near Perryton, the McClellan Lake near Jerico, the Boggy Creek Lake near Canadian and the Tulla Lake probably will be opened for fishing around July 1.

The Buffalo Lake near Umparger may be opened if spring rains are plentiful and the water again reaches a level where fishing seems advisable.

Many inquiries as to when the lake would be opened for fishing this year prompted Fennell's statement. The Conservator felt that many Panhandle fishermen might be disappointed because the lakes are not opened for fishing sooner, but he stated that the best advice obtainable by the Government from its own biologist and the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission was that most of the lakes should not be opened until about July 1.

He stated further that last year several of the lakes were opened early on a test basis to determine the proper season for opening and to establish creel and size limits. It was learned that creel limits were set too high and fish had not started to spawn at the time of opening.

A recent article in the monthly bulletin of the Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission entitled "Better Fishing Laws are Needed" was cited by Fennell, which stated: "Several of the lakes in northwest Texas and the regulation of fishing in them were compared. One large lake opened for the first time was practically fished out in two weeks. It was opened on June 1 when the fish had not started to spawn. The creel and size limits allowed were the same as those prescribed by state law. Two weeks later it took an exceptionally good fisherman to catch anything in the lake. Practically the same thing occurred at another lake opened to the public."

"A third lake privately owned, but which had been stocked only one year was not made available to fishermen until October 1. The creel limit was set in half, size limit on fish was made bigger and for two and one-half months or until the owner closed the lake, everyone caught fish and plenty of them—fish much longer than those taken from the lakes opened earlier in the summer. Records and surveys show that the total number of fish taken from the small lake was much more than that taken from the larger lakes in proportion to the number of fishermen."

Shamrock School Man To Slaton Schools

M. S. Kavanaugh, principal of Shamrock high school, has tendered his resignation to the school board, effective at the close of the present term, May 14, and announced that he had accepted the position of superintendent of schools at Slaton, Texas. Mrs. Kavanaugh, faculty member of the North Ward school, has also resigned.

The Kavanaughs came to Shamrock in 1930. Besides his school activities, Kavanaugh has been an active member of the American Legion post here serving as commander last year and is also prominent in the district organization. Mrs. Kavanaugh is a member of the Legion Auxiliary.

Soil Bulletins Discuss Practices

AMARILLO—Conservation farming methods recommended by the Soil Conservation Service for western Kansas, eastern Colorado, eastern New Mexico and the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles are summarized in two companion bulletins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture that are just off the press. The publications were prepared by Tom Dale of the Soil Conservation Service at Amarillo in collaboration with technicians of the Service.

The titles of the two bulletins are: "Conservation Farming for the Sandy Lands of the Southern Great Plains," and "Conservation Farming for the Hard Lands of the Southern Great Plains." They discuss conservation practices that are adapted to fit physical conditions of the land and climate of the Southern Great Plains.

"Crop failures and dust storms on the Southern Great Plains will not be eliminated by any cure-all or panacea. The problems of the Plains are complicated and the treatment must be complex," Dale says. "Many kinds of soil and water conservation practices are available to Plains farmers. The exclusive use of a single practice, however, cannot be expected to solve the numerous problems involved in crop failures and soil erosion, any more than a single implement can be expected to serve as a plow, planter, cultivator and harvesting machine," he continues.

"Of equal importance is the coordination of practices used, so that they will blend into a unified program of conservation farming."

Copies of both publications can be obtained from the Regional Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Have you seen the beautiful flower garden in Perryton with a native rock wall approximately seven feet high? The garden is 100 feet long and 25 feet wide. On the north is a stucco building on the west W. B. LaMaster's real estate office. Just outside the office door is a Rose of Sharon shrub, about 8 feet high. Beneath this are violets and dainty lilies of the valley. The limits of a tall peach tree overhang the wall, shading a large climbing rose bush. A rustic wooden door opens in the wall near a red honey suckle vine. Other vines and shrubs grace the south wall. Across the east end of the garden are shrubs, white honey-suckle and spirea. On the north, ivy has grown almost to the top of the two story building. The large variety of purple iris are now in full bloom. The monthly roses bloom until late winter. Larkspurs will soon be in bloom. A bed of zinnias, California poppies and other annuals for late summer blooming are just peeping through the earth. The LaMasters are planning a fountain bird bath for their garden. The wall shrubs and door remind the writer of the old Spanish Mission garden in Santa Barbara, Calif.

American Airplane Factories Prepare To Build 500 Heavy Bombers a Month

Huge Machines Of Destruction Get "Go" Signal

BY DAVID A. STEIN

ABSOLUTE command of the air by the democracies is America's goal. To attain mastery of the skies, President Roosevelt has asked Secretary of War Stimson to increase substantially the production of long-range, heavy bombers.

While details of President Roosevelt's plan have not been revealed, experts say that assembly lines in automobile factories will be used in co-operation with the airplane industry, to produce 500 heavy bombers a month. Production of these huge machines of destruction will make it easier to guard vital sea lanes and will help to win the crucial Battle of the Atlantic.

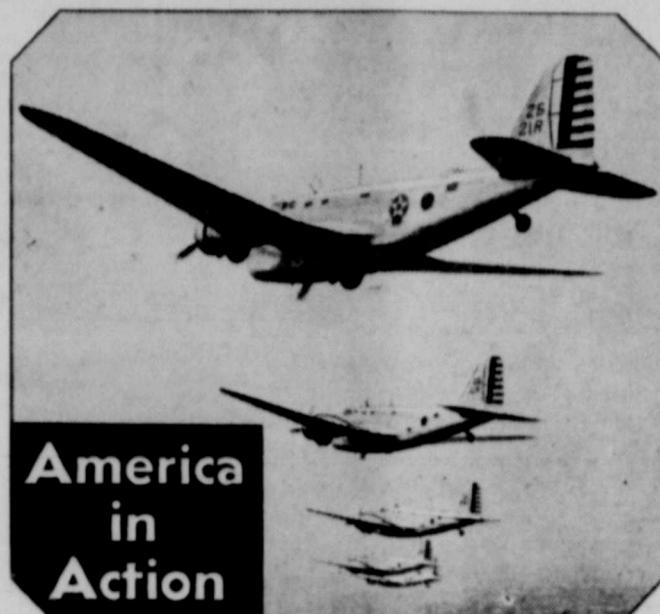

Bombardment planes now being produced for the Army Air Corps and the R. A. F. are of three general kinds: light, medium and heavy. Light bombers are designed to give fire support to ground troops by machine gun fire and bombs. Medium bombers are designed for bombardment and reconnaissance missions that do not require extreme range.

HEAVY bombers are designed for use over land or sea, and are the most powerful and deadliest of war planes. The army wants 400 heavy bombers. In addition to 8000 light bombers (which have been used with telling effect as dive bombers) and 8000 medium bombers.

The Douglas B-19 has set new standards for aeronautical engineering and is recognized as the last word in production of giant bombers. The huge aerial dreadnaught is armed with machine guns, cannon, and huge bomb loads.

It's an all-steel bomber, with a wing spread of 212 feet, and an overall height of 42 feet 9 inches. Four air-cooled engines generate 2000 horsepower. Capable of attaining a speed of 200 miles an hour, the bomber has a range of 7500 miles. It will transport a normal crew of 10 men and 18 tons of bombs. Its fuel tanks equal the capacity of a railway tank car.

As a troop transport, it can carry 125 fully armed soldiers. Built at a cost of $3,000,000, the B-19 took four years to build, and 500 engineers, technicians and mechanics were employed in its construction.

Five army bombers of the 21st Reconnaissance Squadron fly in perfect formation over Miami, Fla., at 165 miles an hour. Bombers are kept in perfect condition, ready for instant action.

OTHER bombers, bigger and faster than most of those in Europe, have been designed by American aeronautical engineers. The Martin B-26 is considered by many experts to be the most powerful military striking force yet designed, because it is faster than most pursuit planes and incorporates the latest features demanded of military aircraft.

Production data is a carefully guarded secret, but tooling up is complete and production lines are already turning out mammoth battleships of the air.

Missouri Ave. Club Meets Friday, May 23

"A windbreak is a valuable addition to the farm home, especially in this section of the country," stated Miss Elizabeth Huffhines, demonstration agent, at the regular meeting of the Missouri Avenue Home Demonstration Club, Friday afternoon, May 9, in the home of Mrs. E. W. Witt.

A good plan for a windbreak is a row of Russian mulberry, a row of Chinese elm, and a row of red or native cedar. The Russian mulberry should be planted on the outside row, the Chinese elm in the center, and the cedars next to the house. The cedars will catch and hold the snow coming through the windbreak in the winter. The native cedars may be varied with other evergreens to add attractiveness.

Each one gave a cherished memory of her mother and told if she were living or not. Mrs. Zenor gave a portion of her mother's favorite reading.

Visitors were Mesdames G. D. Holt, Jim Putman, Cecil Witt, I. L. Edwards, Ross Zenor, C. E. Cline and the demonstrator, Miss Huffhines. Members present were Mesdames Harold Kershaw, Albert Ackley, H. J. Wilson, Sheldon Wilson, Earl McGarraugh and the hostess, Mrs. E. W. Witt—Mrs. Albert Ackley, reporter.

The meeting was turned to Miss Elizabeth Huffhines, county demonstrator, who talked on the making of vegetable salad and told of the plans for next meeting, May 24, which is to be held in the home of Mrs. Viola Burger. "NOT HOW CHEAP, BUT HOW GOOD"

ON GUARD

Against Interruptions to Your Electric Service

YOU probably know him as Tom or Dick or Joe, a friend and neighbor. There's nothing spectacular about him and he doesn't claim to be a hero, but his role is an important one in seeing that you get dependable electric service.

When Nature goes on a rampage and causes breaks in power lines, he's the fellow who braves driving rain, howling wind or stinging sleet to locate the source of the trouble and restore service with a minimum of delay. Unmindful of personal discomfort and the risk of injury, he is ready day or night to go wherever duty calls. At his disposal, if needed, are motorized line crews, skilled engineers and nearby reserve stocks of materials and supplies. All are part of an organization geared for quick action in emergency.

Every effort is made to prevent interruptions to service, but when occasionally they do occur, in spite of all precautions, it is comforting to know that your electric serviceman is on the job with but one thought in mind—to restore the flow of current as quickly as is humanly possible.

Good Electric Service Doesn't Just Happen

It takes a huge investment in costly generating, transmission and distribution equipment; the expenditure of large sums annually for maintenance and taxes; the ceaseless efforts and constant watchfulness of a trained personnel. It takes all this and more to render good electric service, yet electricity is one of the smallest items in the average household budget.

Flying Coed Applies for Army Air Corp

The War Department has its eye on Ester May Stagner of Gray, Oklahoma, flying coed at Northwestern State College, Alva. Whether the government realizes that Miss Stagner is not a member of the male sex or whether plans are being made to start a ladies' army flying corps is problematical. But Ester received flying cadet papers to fill out from the Adjutant General's office at Washington, D. C.

The letter to Miss Stagner congratulated her on her achievement in aviation under the pilot training program of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. "In view of the training received," the letter stated, "the war department considers you especially qualified for the excellent opportunities now available to you under the army's flying cadet training program."

She was sent an affidavit for appointment and application to fill out. The application combined questions concerning citizenship, birth, health and education. Miss Stagner said she would agree to remain unmarried through the period of training as a flying cadet—this is requested in the affidavit. Another question answered in the affirmative was "If I successfully complete the course as a flying cadet I will accept a commission as second lieutenant, air corps reserve, if such a commission is tendered me, and I agree to serve three years on active duty as such."

The government pays $75 per month while the student is in training and provides board, lodging and uniforms. The second lieutenant commission pays $245 per month. Miss Stagner filled out the applications and mailed them to Washington, taking the department at its word, and is awaiting a reply.

She will be remembered as the Panhandle of Oklahoma Miss who learned to fly a plane through the CAA. Yet was unable to drive a car. Miss Stagner also put up a rod and stretched herself one inch in six weeks to qualify as to height when entering the course. She received her license January 3.

Rev. and Mrs. S. R. McClung left Monday for Birmingham, Alabama, where they will attend the Southern Baptist Convention in session from Wednesday until Monday. Rev. J. C. McKinney, Amarillo, district missionary, accompanied them.

The Library Corner

"WORLD-FAMOUS PAINTINGS" By Rockwell Kent is one of the most valuable, fascinating and amazing books of any in the varied and large collection of material in the Perryton Library. You will see in this single volume at least one hundred full-color reproductions of pictures, which in contributing each its quota to our great heritage of Art, and in enriching the lives of successive generations, has earned world-wide fame.

The chronological arrangement by nationalities shows the western drift of great achievement in painting from Italy through Germany over the Netherlands and France, England and America.

Rockwell Kent, internationally known author, and art authority, and himself an artist of distinction explains in his brilliant foreword why you are your own best art critic, and the most important thing about great masterpieces is not to study them—not to worship them—but to enjoy them.

The text presents an analysis of each picture and includes lists of every artist's principal works and the galleries where they may be seen. The artists' lives, romantic, but more often tragic, are concisely summarized in text which runs parallel to the reproductions.

Among the most striking and famous pictures are The Angelus—J. F. Millet; The Ansidei Madonna—Raphael; The Blue Boy—Gainsborough; Pete Champetre—Watteau; Immaculate Conception—Murillo; Last Supper, Mona Lisa, both by Leonardo da Vinci; Madonna, Child, St. John and Angel—Michelangelo; Man in Armor—Rembrandt; Souvenir de Montefontaine—Corot; Portrait of My Mother—Whistler; The Age of Innocence—Reynolds; and Venus and Cupids—Velasquez.

So it is a self-evident fact that it is not necessary to visit the Paris Louvre, the New York Metropolitan Art Museum, or the Washington Mellon Exhibit—just take an afternoon off and spend it in the Perryton Library and feast your soul on the glories of Art as depicted in this magnificent book, which was a gift to us from the Hutchinson County Library.—By an Instinctive Reader.

29 MILLION!

A record never before approached!

★When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm itself. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on lightweight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work. The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

They Parade for Price Parity

Wise County farmers, at Decatur, Texas, paraded in this fashion to protest disparity between farm produce prices and prices of general commodities. They cut off the part of their clothing they would leave at the store if they bought only what their dollar would pay for. About 500 marchers participated.

Rubber Plays Vital Role in Modern War and Defense Plans

Rubber and rubber products play an exceedingly important part in the modern war machine—so much so that the old saying, "an army travels on its stomach" no longer is entirely true. Blitz warfare is one of lightning-like movement, consequently rubber and rubber products are just about as important to a combat force today as are foodstuffs.

And, doing an increasingly important job in helping to equip Uncle Sam's rapidly expanding armed forces with necessary rubber products is Seiberling Rubber Company of Akron, O., which, for many months, has been devoting a substantial part of its production facilities to the manufacture of vital equipment for the mechanized, motorized, and chemical warfare divisions of the American Army.

Perhaps Seiberling's biggest single contribution to national defense has been the Bullet Seal Tube which is being used on thousands of the Army's vehicles, both combat and transport, including scout, reconnaissance, and combat cars, gun carriages, caissons, mobile anti-aircraft gun mounts and heavy and light trucks.

The value of the Bullet Seal Tube in actual combat is practically incalculable. It greatly reduces the vulnerability of vital equipment to gun fire. In numerous tests by the Army at various of its posts, the Seiberling Bullet Seal Tube has successfully withstood the fire of 30 and 50 caliber machine gun bullets. The Seiberling Bullet Seal Tube is of the so-called bulkhead type. It utilizes extremely soft, uncured rubber which is held within bulkheads of cured rubber located between the outer and inner walls of the tube.

When a bullet pierces the tire and tube the material in the tube is so soft it flows into the break the moment the bullet is out, thus sealing the leak both inside and outside.

Like so many other products, the Bullet Seal Tube is an adaptation of a peacetime development—the Seiberling Bulk Head Sealed Air Tube which was designed and developed for greater safety in everyday motoring.

Another product which is finding wide application in the Army's mobile divisions is the company's Mud and Snow Tires. This is used extensively among scout and reconnaissance units where most of the service is over rough terrain—thru muddy fields, over hills, and the like—where maximum traction is an absolute necessity. Many of the Army's new M3A1 scout cars are equipped with these Seiberling Mud and Snow Tires.

The company also has supplied a large number of Duo-Tread and Special Service Heat Vented Truck Tires for use on vehicles which customarily are operated over hard or semi-hard surfaced roads.

Even though neither side in the present war has as yet resorted to the use of poisonous gases (at least insofar as is known) both Great Britain and this country are building up huge reserves of gas masks for the armed forces (and in the case of England, the civilian population too).

A gas mask is made up of a variety of component parts, some of them rubber, some metal. Seiberling's part in gas mask manufacture is the supplying of rubber face blanks, of which it is turning out thousands.

Those who had experiences with the old World War I mask vividly remember how uncomfortable they were. While no one, perhaps, would intimate that the modern mask is a thing of sheer comfort, it nevertheless is a vast improvement in every way over the mask of 23 years ago—in efficiency, comfort, and in appearance.

Much of this improvement is due to the combined efforts of the Army's chemical warfare department and manufacturers of mask parts, not the least important of which are those of the rubber industry.

Under the guidance of such men as J. P. Seiberling President, Col. J. L. Cochran, Vice President and himself an old Army man, H. P. Schrank, Vice President in charge of production, and other specialists in the rubber field, Seiberling Rubber Company not only is contributing a vital share to the American national defense program in the way of finished products, but is consistently striving for improvement.

That Reminds Me

BY RALPH HERBERT

ARE you interested in "Life in America, in the spring of 1941"? Take a walk through any city park on a bright Sunday afternoon, and make your own observations.

You'll know there's a war going on. Not only do the trainees in army or navy uniforms stroll arm in arm with their girl friends, but the youngsters wear brilliantly colored suits, dresses, and capes in the military manner. Girls of high school age have taken to military styles for spring, complete with decorative insignia.

A few years ago, you saw an occasional camera, mostly of the box type, pointed at a particularly beautiful tree or a shy youngster. Now almost everyone has a camera in the park. They range all the way from tiny candid to big affairs mounted on tripods, and to movie cameras picturing scenes in full color. The park is heaven to amateur photographers on Sunday.

THE radio enthusiast doesn't intend to miss his favorite Sunday program just because he's going for a walk through free-shaded lanes. He takes his portable radio with him, and doesn't miss a single news-cast.

A sign in the park says "This is your park. Peanutshells scattered around do not improve its appearance." It's surprising how well the public responds to signs like these, and to the simply worded "please" on plots of grass reserved for beauty.

TO young mothers, parks are a great blessing. They proudly wheel their youngsters around the little lakes and through the gardens. Mothers need no introduction to each other to start a conversation about their babies. Each is interested in the age, crying ability, and behaviorisms of the other's offspring. Long-lasting friendships are easily formed.

You can't find an accurate picture of American life in the snobbish night clubs. You can see American democracy in the parks.

Urge New Workers To Get SS Cards

During the next twelve months thousands of additional workers will be required to carry on the defense projects now under way and in contemplation throughout the nation. There will be a heavy demand for machinists, mechanics, carpenters, and other skilled laborers, as well as common laborers, it was pointed out in a statement by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board.

"Every worker entering a new job should apply immediately for a social security account number provided he does not already have one," Reed said. He emphasized the statement that the age of the worker makes no difference; he should have the social security account number regardless of whether he is under 20 or over 70 years of age.

It was further pointed out that many women workers may replace men who are now employed in stores, offices and factories. They should secure social security account numbers just the same as male workers and, if possible, should get them before entering upon a job. Women workers are classified just like men, receive the same credits, and get the same benefits. The same law applies to women as to all other workers.

Social Security account numbers may be secured over the counter at any field office of the Social Security Board, or by securing Form SS-5 from any post office. After filling in the blank properly, mail it to the Amarillo Social Security Board office at 324 New Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas.
