City Would Reserve LAAF For Tech Use

Commisison Acts On Suggestion By Business, Alumni Representatives

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

CITY commissioners voted Tuesday afternoon to assert priority of the City of Lubbock to land and facilities at Lubbock Army Air field, as soon as it is declared surplus, and, in turn to offer the field, buildings and equipment to directors of Texas Technological college "for housing and other incidental purposes related to educational provisions of the G.I. Bill of Rights."

Immediate Need Cited

Decision to take such action came after Homer D. Grant and Earl Collins, representing a group of Lubbock business men and Tech alumni, appeared before the commission suggesting such action. Grant revealed that feasibility of possible use of the field by the college to meet immediate veterans housing needs and later as a possible aeronautical engineering facility had been discussed by Tech officials and Lubbock business leaders more than two months ago, when deactivation of the field was first reported.

Cancellation of deactivation orders and uncertainty of the status of the field cut short the discussions but with the announcement Sunday that the field would be deactivated Dec. 31, idea of possible use of the field by Tech was again considered.

Grant explained that ample housing facilities would be provided in barracks on the field for both married and single veterans and that classes could be taught, either at the field or students transported to the college. The field is only seven miles from Tech campus.

Helpless Troopship Wallows In Atlantic

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—Aid for the Liberty ship Henry Ward Beecher, wallowing propellorless and helpless in the Atlantic with 541 American homeward - bound troops aboard, will not arrive before some time Thursday afternoon because rescue craft were given the wrong position, the Third Naval district said tonight.

The Beecher first was reported in distress about 340 miles northeast of Bermuda, but corrected information tonight put her position 510 miles north, northeast of Bermuda, or about 170 miles further away than originally given.

The Navy, however, in its announcement tonight said there was no immediate cause for concern about the safety of those aboard —the 302nd Military Police Escort Guard company and the 542nd and 544th Ordnance Heavy Maintenance companies — because there were no heavy seas nor any storms reported heading that way.

The Beecher was en route from Marseilles, France, to Norfolk, Va., when she lost her propellor. Without a controllable rudder the ship would be unmanageable and unable to keep headed into great waves, ship experts said.

Would Rig Her Anchor

It was added, however, that even in that event the ship's personnel normally would rig a sea anchor to keep her righted and avoid the impact of the sea.

The seagoing tug, Restorer, started toward the Beecher from Bermuda after her position was given as 340 miles northeast of Bermuda. It was said possibly other ships would turn their courses her way.

The Navy said the tug carried extra provisions as the Beecher's stores probably would be depleted by the delay in reaching port.

CARGO SHIP AGROUND IN CHESAPEAKE BAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—The Associated Press listening post reported tonight it had intercepted a distress message from a vessel using the call letters "KWAY" saying she was "aground at Lynn Haven Roads" and in immediate need of assistance.

Lynn Haven Roads is in Chesapeake bay.

The distress message said the location of the vessel was 250 degrees from Cape Henry lighthouse.

The U. S. Coast Guard station in New York identified the vessel as the John Gibbons and said the ship was visible from the Cape Henry lighthouse. The coast guard said a rescue vssesel had been dispatched to the Gibbons' assistance.

The Navy at Washington identified the ship as a merchant cargo vessel.

Child Born With Bladder Outside Of Abdomen Improves

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 4 (AP)—Two operations to assure a normal life for six-year-old Patrick Carden, who was born with his bladder outside the abdomen, were described as highly successful by his mother today.

The operations were performed within the last six weeks at the Cleveland Clinic. Another is scheduled next March, said the mother, Mrs. Margaret Carden.

Pat's health appeared to be good until about six months ago, when he began to grow weak.

Pioneer Plains Minister Dies

MATADOR, Dec. 4 (Special)—Rev. Andrew Ellis Butterfield, 84, who as a Methodist missionary preached the first sermon heard by Geronimo, famous Indian renegade, died about noon today at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Tom Tilson, of White Flat community, near here.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday in the First Methodist church with Rev. C. F. Carmack of Tahoka conducting, assisted by the pastor, Rev. G. E. Turrentine, and Rev. E. N. Goode of White Flat. Burial will be in Matador Mound cemetery under direction of Plains funeral home Lubbock.

Portrayed In Book

Mr. Butterfield's experiences in living and working among Oklahoma and Texas Indians when the country was wild and unsettled by white men are portrayed in a recently-released book by Ben Moore of O'Donnell, historian and naturalist.

More than 500 wild Indians were converted by the missionary, according to church records. His courage, kindliness and understanding of the red man enabled him to succeed where other missionaries had failed.

Mr. Butterfield suffered a stroke of paralysis in July, 1942, and had made his home with Mrs. Tilson since September, 1942. Prior to that, he had lived in Childress since 1905. He had been bedfast since February of this year.

He was born at Honey Grove in Fannin county, Oct. 1, 1861, and was a nephew of John Butterfield, who pioneered the old Butterfield Trail.

Survivors include six daughters, Mrs. Tilson, Mrs. J. H. Quattlebaum of Earth, Mrs. H. E. Kiker of San Antonio, Mrs. W. R. Hamrick and Miss Ruth Butterfield, both of Dallas, and Miss Pauline Butterfield of Denver, Colo.

Senate Gives Approval To UNO Proposal

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — The Senate tonight passed and sent to the House legislation providing for full United States participation in the United Nations organization. The vote was 65 to 7.

Passage followed seven days of debate during which numerous attempts to amend the measure were beaten back. As it went to the House, the bill was in substantially the same form as when it left the administration-dominated Senate Foreign Relations committee.

The House approved a bill to more than double the previous peace-time manpower of the Navy and Marine corps—540,000 officers and men for the Navy, 108,000 for the Marines. Now it's the Senate's turn to act on this.

Truman's Strike Plan

A congressional "rush" tag was tied on President Truman's request for legislation barring strikes while special commission look into the facts of major labor disputes.

Acting Chairman Ramspeck (D-Ga) said he thought the House Labor committee could "have a bill ready by the end of next week." Military committee members said they would grab the ball if the labor committee doesn't show speed.

Other High Spots

This happened, too, on a busy day in Congress:

Jobs—after a long study and a lot of changing, a House committee approved a measure intended to help cut down unemployment. It isn't the "full employment" bill the President backed. Instead it aims at a "high level of employment.' It goes to the House for a vote.

China — Secretary of State Byrnes said in a letter to a congressman that it is America's policy to help China obtain "internal unity and stability," become united and democratic and able to support the United Nations organization.

Draft Procedure

Draft—A Senate committee refused to approve a resolution calling for an end to the drafting of fathers and prompt discharge of those already drafted into the armed forces.

Politics—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) predicted to reporters that Senate and House Republicans, maybe tomorrow, would adopt a six-point 1,500-word "statement of principles." It's intended to bring the 1944 party platform up to date.

Merger — Admiral William D. Leahy — chief of staff to both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman — opposed putting the Army and Navy into a single defense department. He said it would "seriously' reduce Navy efficiency.

Russia — Senator Eastland (D-Miss) said in a Senate speech:

Russian is a "predatory aggressor nation."

U. S. Provides Loan To France

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP) — The United States has signed an agreement to provide France $550,000,000 in credit, it was announced officially today.

The announcement was made jointly by French Ambassador Henri Bonnet and by the Washington Export-Import bank, which will provide the loan.

The credits will finance purchase in this country of materials which had been approved for transfer to the French government under lend-lease but had not yet been contracted for on V-J day when lend-lease was ended, the announcement said.

Have Thirty Years To Repay

Carrying an interest rate of two and three eighths per cent the loan is repayable over a period of 30 years.

The interest rate and maturity were identical with that provided under the French lend-lease agreement signed last February 28. To become valid, the loan agreement must be ratified by the French assembly, the announcement said.

Under the agreement, the French supply consul will make the purchases through American private trade channels.

When the French government so requests, the Export-Import bank can make advances under the credit directly to American suppliers in payment for products,

Man Swallows False Teeth, Then Dies

BARSTOW, Calif., Dec. 4 (AP)—Death of Robert Cunningham, 64, veteran Temepa, Calif., miner, was the result of swallowing his false teeth, Coroner R. E. Williams said last night.

Cunningham died today in jail, where he was booked for investigation of intoxication after an automobile accident.

ON JAP WAR LIST—Striking into the royal family, Gen. MacArthur's latest war crimes list of Japs lists Prince Morimasa Nashimoto, above 71-year-old lesser prince, former field marshal and supreme war councillor, among 59 more prominent Japs ordered arrested. The list includes 26 members of the Diet, legislative body.

Kimes' Buddy Surrenders

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 4 (AP)—Olaf Alvin (Chick) Rogers, pal of the Oklahoma outlaw Matt Kimes, walked into the Federal Bureau of Investigation office with his attorney today and calmly surrendered.

Rogers, wanted on a charge of robbing a bank at Morton, Tex., last Sept. 5, was quickly arraigned before District Commissioner Paul Showalter and his bond was set at $40,000 after he pleaded innocent.

Read Of Charges

His peaceful submission to the law came two days after Kimes was identified as the pedestrian hit and seriously injured by a truck in north Little Rock, Ark.

Rogers, 37, gave his home as Lindsay, Okla. He probably will be taken to Texas at once. He refused to tell a reporter his whereabouts before surrendering. Officers believe he has been with Kimes.

Rogers told Showalter he found out he was charged with the $17,692.46 robbery 10 days ago when he read it in a newspaper.

Compromise On Bond

U. S. District Attorney Charles Dierker asked that bond be set at $50,000 while Hyde pleaded it be set at $25,000.

Rogers' Attorney Herbert K. Hyde, argued his client had voluntarily given himself up and that fact should be taken into consideration. Showalter said he would compromise, setting the bond at $40,000. Hyde said he would waive the hearing on Rogers' removal to Texas.

Besides Kimes, Ollie Melton and Fred Pair who already are in custody, are charged in connection with the holdup.

Tech Directors Will Meet In City Today

Directors of Texas Technological college are scheduled to meet here today to discuss a number of college problems.

Included in the agenda will be a report from Chansior Weymouth of Amarillo, board member, on his recent trip to Washington where he presented Tech's request to the RFC for transfer of the Pantex Ordnance plant near Amarillo to the college as an adjunct facility for veterans training.

Discussion of the proposed new stadium is also scheduled for the session. The meeting will be in Dr. W. M. Whyburn's office.

Besides Weymouth, other directors expected to attend are: Chairman Chas. Thompson of Colorado City, Karl Hoblitzelle of Dallas, Kyle Spiller of Jacksboro and O. B. Ratliff of Lubbock, formerly of Spur.

Byron Price Accepts Motion Picture Post

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—Appointment of Byron Price as vice president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America was announced tonight by President Eric Johnston.

Price, who served during the war as director of censorship, will be in charge of the association's Hollywood office.

"All with whom I have talked in the motion picture industry have great respect and admiration for Mr. Price," said Johnston in a statement. "All of us feel we are extremely fortunate in securing his services in behalf of motion pictures. Everyone knows his brilliant record in carrying out a difficult and delicate task during the war."

Briton Brands Nazi Leaders As Murderers

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Dec. 4.—The 20 Nazi leaders on trial must bear full responsibility for Germany's greatest wrong, the crime against peace, Britain's Attorney General Sir Hartley Shawcross told the international military tribunal today.

In a masterly five-hour presentation of the British case, Shawcross accused the defendants of piloting Germany into "naked and unashamed" aggression, and declared he was determined to prove that persons who do this "do so with a halter around their necks."

Squirm Under Charges

The one-time masters of Europe, described by Shawcross as "murderers, robbers and frauds,' squirmed under the weight of evidence as the British prosecutor traced step by step the German course of broken treaties, violated frontiers and ultimate carnage, which he said resulted from their cynical disregard for established international law.

"These men were no mere tools," Shawcross declared. "They are the men whose support had built Hitler up into the position of power he occupied. They are the men whose initiation and planning, perhaps, conceived and certainly made possible the acts of aggression made in Hitler's name."

Criminal Venture

He said he intended to prove "that the waging of an aggressive was is not only a dangerous venture but a criminal one" and that he would do so by applying the "law of nations" which branded aggression as "an international crime before this tribunal was established.'

He emphasized particularly the Kellogg-Briand pact, signed in Paris in 1928, pointing out that this agreement outlawing war as an instrument of national policy was never denounced by the Nazis and hence still stands as accepted international law.

"The pact of Paris is the law of nations," he declared. "This tribunal will enforce it."

Retroactive Justice

By this line of approach, Shawcross evidently sought to destroy one of the principal defense arguments—that the tribunal must apply retroactive justice to find the defendants guilty.

Shawcross' address, which was concluded only a few minutes before adjournment of today's session, dealt with count two of the indictment — crimes against the peace.

The United States has already presented most of the evidence on count one, that the Nazi engaged in a conspiracy to wage aggressive war. The two remaining counts, charging war crimes and crimes against humanity, are to be prosecuted jointly by Russia and France.

Hirohito Knew Of War Plans

TOKYO, Wednesday, Dec. 5 (AP)—Late in 1941 at the Imperial palace, Emperor Hirohito personally attended at least two highly secret conferences on war with the United States and Great Britain—a war on which Japan virtually decided three months before Pearl Harbor—Japanese participants disclosed.

The first conference was the momentous imperial conference of Sept. 6 at which it was decided that Japan would begin preparing for war in the middle of October unless there was marked improvement in negotiations at Washington. It has been authoritatively revealed that Prince Konoye described this meeting recently during his interrogation by American officers.

Retired Gen. Toshizo Nishio told the Associated Press about a second meeting, held late in November or early December when the Emperor informed the supreme war council through the chiefs of staff that "Japan might have to fight if things didn't improve."

On each occasion, there was no opposition from the Emperor or any other participant to militarist-sponsored plans for breaking the diplomatic deadlock with gunfire. Furthermore, there was no proposal to attempt solving the major stumbling block—removal of Japanese troops from China.

Government Bases May Be Used In Housing Emergency

Buildings Would Be Turned Over To States Without Cost For Primary Use By Vets; Authorization May Come Today

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—The government may turn over surplus buildings to the states without cost to meet the housing emergency.

W. Stuart Symington, surplus property administrator, was reported tonight by an official of his agency to be considering issuing such an authorization tomorrow. It would be effective at once.

The official, who asked that he not be named, said the terms as contemplated call for:

Vets Get First Choice

1. The states to maintain the property.
2. Houses to be rented first to veterans and after that to the general public.
3. Demountable (knocked down) houses in storage areas of various disposal agencies to be erected by the states on favorable federal sites.
4. Leases to be for a maximum of five years with permission to terminate on six months notice at the end of the housing emergency.
5. Rents in excess of maintenance costs to revert to the government.

Includes Barracks

The official said the order could be expected to authorize the Army and Navy specifically, together with other owning and disposal agencies, to make surplus housing available to the states.

The order would include barracks, cantonments, demountable houses and the like.

The worsening plight of veterans and others seeking homes prompted the government also to call for help in getting full-scale housing construction underway.

John B. Blandford, jr., national housing administrator, invited representatives of contractors, labor, finance agencies and materials producers to a Washington conference Dec. 17 for advice on clearing away obstacles delaying quantity home production.

Along with this move Senator Mead (D-NY) renewed appeals for funds to transfer temporary war housing and abandoned army barracks to cities.

Plan for "Panelizing"

Mead testified before the Senate Education committee in behalf of his resolution to provide $195,000,000 for "panelizing" war housing. This is a process of cutting up the temporary dwellings into panels for transportation and erection in localities which need them.

Government housing experts believe Mead's proposal would help but they oppose any widespread new building of temporary living quarters in the belief it would simply postpone the need for permanent housing.

Mead estimated his proposal would provide 100,000 temporary dwelling units for veterans,

Hunger, Starvation Not U. S. Objective . . .

Imports Of Food To Raise German Ration

By JAMES F. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

STUTTGART, Germany, Dec. 4—The United States will import food into Germany to raise the German food ration effective Jan. 1, Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today in declaring that "hunger and starvation have never been the United States' objective."

The foodstuffs, to be paid for when "Germany is able to pay," would be sufficient to increase the daily average ration of Germans in the U. S. occupation zone to 1,550 calories, Clay, deputy American military governor for Germany, told a meeting of the German council of state minister presidents.

Last Oct. 15, the U. S. Military government set the average German civilian ration for the coming weeks at 1,345 calories.

Other developments during the day were:

Publication by the Allied Control council in Berlin of new laws outlawing military education and giving the council legal title to the 300 plants and other assets of the I. G. Farben trust, Germany's greatest war production combine.

Agreement was reported among the four occupying powers on a unified denazification policy, designed to blunt growing German attempts to play one of the powers against another by spreading rumors of lax treatment in other zones.

Brig. Gen. William Draper, chief of the American Military government's economic division, told a meeting of German finance officials that the "economic future of Germany must be solved by the Germans themselves."

Transportation still stands out as the main problem, he said in disclosing that from five to six million tons of coal were above ground in the Ruhr that could not be moved because of rolling stock shortages.

Clay announced that the control of railroads in the American zone, which had been under direct supervision of the Army, would be turned over to the military government Jan. 1.

Solon Asks MacArthur Be Called In Pearl Harbor Quiz

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 — Disclosure that President Roosevelt took a personal hand in getting war warnings to the Philippines in 1941 brought a Republican demand tonight that Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur be called as a witness in the Pearl Harbor inquiry.

The demand came from Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) who declared it was evident that MacArthur, then commander of Army forces in the Philippines, received a great deal more information on the threat of hostilities than did Army and Navy commanders in Hawaii.

Plans Formal Request

Ferguson, a member of the joint Pearl Harbor investigating committee, told reporters he would ask formally that MacArthur be called as a witness "if he isn't called otherwise."

Mr. Roosevelt's role in the war warnings was developed during questioning of Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, pre-Pearl Harbor head of Army intelligence. A message which the late President sent on Nov. 26, 1941, to the United States commissioner in the Philippines was read into the record. It said in part:

"I consider it possible that this next Japanese aggression might cause an outbreak of hostilities between the U. S. and Japan."

Japan, the President said, apparently was preparing her forces for an aggressive move somewhere.

Gerow Memorandum

There was also a memorandum from Brig. Gen. L. T. Gerow, then assistant chief of staff, relating that on Nov. 27, 1941, Secretary of War Stimson told him "the President wants a warning message sent to the Philippines."

Another, from Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, to Admiral Thomas Hart, commander of the Asiatic fleet (based in the Philippines), said the President wanted three small vessels chartered for "a defensive information patrol" in Asiatic waters. The President also asked a report

O'Daniel Seeks Use Of 40-Room House In Eviction Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel's attorney said today during an eviction suit that the senator needed all 40 rooms, 4 kitchens and 14 baths of his apartment house "for his family."

Defendant heard in the action yesterday was W. W. Brauer, 80, one of three tenants remaining in the building.

O'Daniel told a reporter today that he was not a "cold-hearted individual trying to put an old man out in the streets."

He said Brauer had agreed to move if O'Daniel found him another place, but had refused to move when "a better place" was found.

The Texas senator is attempting to clear all tenants from a 14-unit apartment house he has purchased and proposes to remodel into a home.

"The house I moved out of in Texas had 21 rooms in it," he said. "That was the governor's mansion."

No settlement was reached in the hearing, so the case will go before a jury for decision.

CIO Head Flays Truman Regime

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 4 (AP) — President Philip Murray of the CIO tonight rejected President Truman's proposals for ending strikes and charged that the federal administration has "completely ignored human rights" in the current industrial problems.

In an outright break with the administration, Murray asserted in an address prepared for radio delivery, that "the design of the specific legislative proposal" of the President "is to weaken and ultimately destroy labor union organizations." He added:

"It can be but the firrt step for ever more savage repression. For this reason the CIO shall mobilize its entire membership and the American people to defeat this specific measure and all similar attempts directed against labor."

Appeasement Policy

The CIO leader declared the administration is embarked "upon a policy of continued appeasement of American industry in the face of its contemptuous attitude toward the American people and the government itself."

This was Murray's reply to the President's message to Congress calling for legislation which would create fact-finding commissions to inquire into major disputes. President Truman had at the same time called on the CIO United Auto Workers to go back to work and appealed to the CIO United Steel Workers, of which Murray is also president, not to strike.

"Industry has refused to engage in collective bargaining," said Murray. "Industry has refused to accept voluntary arbitration in the

Governor Unperturbed Over Reports On Recess Appointments

Senate Session May Lack Quorum

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 4 — Gov. Coke Stevenson remained apparently unperturbed today in the face of growing reports that the extraordinary meeting of the Senate called for Jan. 8 to consider his recess appointments would not have a quorum present.

Stevenson said in reply to questions at his press conference that he would not ask the attorney general for an opinion on the constitutionality of the unusual session. He would not express his own opinion on this subject.

He said that several senators had conferred recently with him about the session, but that he had not given it much thought.

Most of the questions about the session—promoted during the 49th legislature by a bloc regarded as unfriendly to Stevenson — remain officially unanswered. Topping them all was whether or not such meeting, which is without precedent in Texas, would be constitutional.

Another tough one was how the Senate could force submission of the appointments if the governor refused to send them in.

Another was the question of whether or not the 21 members necessary to a quorum would be on hand. The resolution calling the session was adopted by a 12-to-10 vote.

Recently several senators who voted against the resolution have said they would be here in self protection—that if the meeting was going to be held, they would be at their desks to represent their districts regardless of how they felt about the idea in general.

One senator who asked his name not be used at this stage, said he would advise the governor to submit his nominations and thus shut the session off as quickly as possible and avoid possible court action. He reasoned the governor might thus run the risk of having several appointees turned down but most accepted.

Stevenson said today he had not yet received this advice.

Meanwhile, it was indicated that the names of two more appointees would be added soon to the list which the hopeful senators seek to scrutinize. The terms of Harry Knox as a member of the board of control and George W. Pendergast of Marshall as a member of the public safety commission expire Dec. 31.

Groggy, Uneasy Japs Ponder Mounting Postwar Problems

TOKYO, Dec. 4 (AP)—Still groggy from the shock of General MacArthur's latest list of wanted war criminal suspects, Japan's politicians and high military leaders pondered today the nation's urgent postwar problems with the uneasy realization that their own necks might soon be at stake.

The Diet, half-heartedly discussing the gloomy financial situation and the prospect of drastically increased taxes, was described in the Japanese press as stunned by the inclusion of 26 of its members on MacArthur's list, and apprehensive lest the dragnet be widened to take in more of them.

Field Marshal Shunroku Hata, member of the supreme military council and former commander-in-chief in China, found the occasion appropriate for a few remarks about hara-kiri, which the Japenese call "seppuku.' Hata, who was named on MacArthurs list, solemnly gave it as his opinion that a war-criminal suspect could choose hara-kiri or leave it alone —and still "save face" with the Japanese Army.

"A man can commit seppuku and take full responsibility for his acts," Hata declared, "or he can remain alive and tell his story and attempt to make clear the facts about the war which now should be known."

Although he reflects the ancient samurai tradition, the stern-faced field marshal left no doubt that he intended to follow the second method.

Navy Plans To Name Air Chiefs To Hold Major Fleet Commands

By COURTENAY MOORE
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—The Navy took another great step forward today toward becoming an "Air Navy." It announced that naval aviators soon will hold major fleet commands for the first time and also more of the top posts in Washington.

Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal announced that Adm. John H. Towers, an air officer now head of the Fifth fleet, is slated "eventually" to relieve Adm. Raymond A. Spruance as commander in chief of the entire Pacific fleet.

Other Changes Made

Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, now Deputy Chief of Naval operations for air, will in "due course" become commander of the Eighth fleet.

Forrestal also revealed that officers trained as aviators henceforth will hold three of the six key positions under the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington. They are:

Vice chief of Naval operations—Vice Adm. D. C. Ramsey, now deputy commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, will in "due course" take over this assignment.

To Get Top Posts

Deputy chief for operations—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, newly appointed chief of Naval operations, will name a Naval aviator to this post within a few months. Meantime, it will be held by Rear Adm. Richard L. Conolly, outstanding amphibious commander.

Deputy chief of naval operations for air—This post is now held by Mitscher. When he takes over the fleet command, he will be succeeded by an aviator.

The other three key positions under the Chief of Naval Operations are filled by Vice Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, deputy chief for personnel; Rear Adm. Bernhard H. Bieri, deputy chief for administration; and Vice Adm. William S. Farber, deputy chief for logistics.

The aviators to be named fleet commanders will be Mitscher and Admiral John H. Towers, now commander, Fifth fleet, who will "eventually" relieve Spruance as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet.

A reunion arranged in honor of Pfc. Harold D. Boston, who arrived in Lubbock Sunday after service in the European, African and Middle-Eastern theaters was concluded Tuesday at the 2012 Ave. M residence of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben A. Boston.

Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. J. Ben Boston of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Smith of Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin M. Donley, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrison Donley, all of 2012 Ave. M, and Mr. and Mrs. Craig C. Wofford of 1509 Ave. J.

Pfc. Boston, recently released from a European hospital where he had been treated for battle wounds suffered in the Aachen-Cologna front, was a heavy machinegunner. He returned only a day before his daughter, 3-year-old Nnacy Sue, was taken to St. Mary's hospital for treatment of pneumonia.

The first written reference to the use of petroleum on this continent in its familiar liquid form was made in 1627 by a French missionary, Joseph de la Roche D'Allion.

"The Body" Says She Inherited Assets

HOUSTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—Marie (The Body) MacDonald said today her assets weren't anything at all, but "just something I inherited from my mother."

In Houston to receive the title of "America's most beautiful girl" and to plug war bonds the movie starlet told reporters "I'm a poor imitation of my mother."

At a fashion show and war bond rally tonight she was to be formally presented with her new title from Texas beauty culturists and a Houston girl, whose curves most nearly the same as Marie's, was named "Miss Body of Houston" and received $250 in war bonds for same.

Does The Atom Bomb Explain Bible Miracles?

According to Edwin J. Dingle, world-renowned geographer, honored by leading geographical societies, the power of the atom as disclosed in the atom bomb, is small compared with little known and seldom used powers of the human brain. He maintains that man, instead of being limited by an average man power mind, has within him the mind power of a thousand men or more, as well as the energy power of the universe, which can be used in his daily affairs.

According to him, this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments. It is as amazing as the atom bomb is compared with former sources of energy. Many thousands of people throughout the world have already tried his methods. Many report improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success. Others report improvement in health, increased strength, courage, poise or energy, or a more magnetic personality.

He tells how he found these strange methods in far off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. Here, he discloses, he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. These immense powers, he maintains, are latent in all of us, and methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

As part of a great movement to make his methods available to more people, a 9000-word treatise is offered absolutely free for the time being. It reveals many startling results. Readers of this announcement can get their free copy by sending a post card or letter to the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 S. Hobart Blvd. Dept U-461, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, because this offer may be withdrawn at any time. Adv.

Legion Claiming Hitler Divine Said Gaining Hold In England

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

LONDON, Dec. 4—It is a staggering commentary on the gullibility of man that, while the British at Nuernberg are opening their war-crimes case against the 20 Nazi leaders, the English press should be blazoning reports of the discovery of a "Legion of Christian Reforms" who hold that Adolf Hitler was "a divine instrument sent by God to judge the world."

Such a development in Germany would be more easily understandable. It is almost incredible, however, that a thing of this sort should happen in an England.

Watched Hitler's Power

This sensation had its beginning in the purchase of a granite bust of Hitler at an auction of former German embassy furnishings in London for about $2,000.

The purchaser was Capt. R. R. Gordon-Canning, one-time member of the British Union of Fascists and of the Anglo-German society. "The link." He was imprisoned for two years during the war.

It was German belief in Hitler's Messiahship that was partly responsible for his hypnotic hold on his people. During a visit to Germany in 1938, I followed him through the fateful conferences with Chamberlain at Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and Munich, saw his amazing leadership in Berlin and went into little Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland when he made his triumphal entry to annex this territory.

Held Up As "God"

Some newspapers which formerly had couched their death-notices in language something like "here died in the faith of his Lord Jesus Christ," etc., had adopted the shocking phrase, "here died in the faith of Adolf Hitler." There were actual cases of country people prostrating themselves as the fuehrer passed.

There is some question whether Hitler at the outset regarded himself as a Messiah, although he did believe that he was divinely ordained to carry out his program. However, he encouraged the belief in his own divinity, and his captains spread this revolting creed. Ultimately, he probably came to believe that he was indeed the Messiah, so colossal had become his ego.

Marine Enlistments Under New Program

The period of enlistment and reenlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps is modified, effective Dec. 1, to permit men enlisting or reenlisting for a period of two, three or four years, according to S/Sgt. D. N. Pope, recruiter in charge of the local sub-station, second floor of the post office building.

Pope said that commanding officers within the continental limits of the U. S. are authorized to grant discharged Marines, regular, reserve or inductee reenlistment furloughs in accordance with the following:

Discharged Marines who enlist in the regular Marine corps for a period of two years within a period of 60 days from date of discharge will be granted the remaining portio of such a period as reenlistment furlough.

Discharged Marines who enlist or reenlist in the regular corps for a period of three or four years with a period of 90 days from date of discharge will be granted the remaining portion of such period as reenlistment furlough.

Reenlistment furloughs will not be granted on extensions of enlistment.

Furloughs are in addition to other authorized furloughs, however the total amount of addition to such furloughs that may be granted at any time will not exceed 60 days for discharged Marines who enlist for a period of two years, nor exceed 90 days for those who enlist or reenlist for a period of three or four years.

Pope also stressed Marine corps statistics that reveal the chances of obtaining service in the Marines through draft induction is 200 to one. He said the corps is open to all men between 17 and 25 who have no dependents.

Addition of one more recruiter to the local office was announced by Pope. Sgt. Joe C. Shaw has been transferred here from the El Paso Marine headquarters. He will remain in this office as an assistant recruiter until Dec. 14.

Awards Made To Four At LAAF

Col. Harold N. Holt, acting commanding officer of Lubbock Army Air field, presented awards won in aerial battle to four Army flying officers stationed at Lubbock Army Air field yesterday.

Capt. Walter J. Simon of Ramsey, Indiana, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for an unusually large number of photographic reconnaissance missions over continental Europe, and particularly for a mission on May 29, 1944. On this occasion he remained over one of the most heavily defended targets in Germany for 45 minutes and made seven target runs. All of these sorties were accomplished in an unarmed and unescorted aircraft with speed, vigilance, and flying skill as his only protection against the enemy.

Another Gets DFC

First Lt. John J. Reynolds of Spring Valley, Ill., was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. Flying with the 391st Bombardment group as pilot of a B-26, and with heavy antiaircraft fire bursting all around him, he effected a highly successful bombing attack on enemy coastal defenses which materially aided in the success of operations in Normandy.

Capt. Philip D. Maboll of Flushing, Mich., was awarded the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters for his participation in sustained operational flight missions in the Southwest Pacific area, attacking enemy airdromes, installations, naval vessels and shipping.

Unified Control For Carriers Is Urged

FORT WORTH, Dec. 4 (AP) — Karl W. Fischer, Chicago, assistant to the president of the Burlington lines, told members of the traffic club here that "a more efficient national system of transportation would result if all carriers were regulated by one body."

He recommended regulation of all common carriers, including airlines.

"A single commission or board," Fischer said, "would avoid wasteful duplication of organization and effort and possible conflict in policy."

WHY NOT?

GAYNOR Maddox, food editor for the NEA service, writes of attending (in New York) the 30th annual luncheon of the National Hotel exposition, where he spanned the big five UNO in one hour flat eating time. Listen to the menu:

Russian appetizer (smoked salmon with eaviar), American sherry, Chinese watercress and chicken soup, spring chicken in the American way, hot French bread, steamed English pudding and French coffee.

He asks, "if the food of different countries can harmonize, why can't their peoples?"

BOOK TITLES—When you buy yarns entitled "Murder in the College Library" or "The Corpse in the Store Window," you have a good idea what you are getting. If you select "Young Love on a Texas Ranch" or "Adventures Along the Labrador Coast," you are seldom fooled or disappointed.

But when you choose queer titles such as "All This and Utopia Too" or "Until the Dawn Breaks" or "Paradise is High on a Windy Hill," you gain almost nothing from the fancy handle. In fact you are buying in the dark, and your taste may not be the author's taste. It's a gamble or a speculation for your money and your time for reading.

When we bought "Seven Pillars of Wisdom," we thought we would learn something mysterious and enlightening, and instead found it to be a detailed record of the first World war as fought in Palestine and Arabia. We wonder if there are other readers who, like us, did not finish it?

TODAY'S GAG

A MOTHER wished to enter her five-year-old daughter in a kindergarten, the age requirement of which was six. To the disapproving teacher the mother explained, "She can easily pass the six-year-old test."

"Say some words," the teacher said rather skeptically to the child.

The little girl surveyed the teacher with dignity, and turning to her mother, asked, "Purely irrelevant words?"

PAGE 1 of the Tuesday Evening Journal indicated a return to normalcy in the news, carrying stories of Peggy Hopkins Joyce taking a fifth husband and a picture of Georgia Campbell, enroute to New York where she will become the eighth wife of Tommy Manville, the heir to the asbestos fortune. The war news for four years has crowded those famous "marrying" personages inside.

Equally interesting was that Miss Joyce's groom, Anthony Easton, and Miss Campbell are both British born. Fee, Fi, Fo Fum; can it mean that the platinum-haired playboy and the diamond-laden Peggy will at last find permanent happiness by choosing mates from abroad?

Food Buying Is Discussion Topic

Suggestions for "Putting Stretch into the Food Dollar" given by Mrs. Mary Ann Duke, Tech instructor in home and family life, at the weekly meeting of veterans' wives Tuesday in the college home economics building were as follows:

The secret of intelligent buying is to know the composition of food, know food needs of the body and to buy food to meet these needs. From one-fourth to one-half of the salary of low income families must be spent for food; the smaller the income the larger the percentage required for food, and the more important it is to select food wisely. Avaid food waste by: using left overs, avoiding spoilage of food, using all eatable portions of foods, and buying food in quantity and using it for more than one day. The final suggestion to the women was to pay no more than ceiling prices for foods.

Nine were present.

Next Tuesday at 3 p. m. the group will meet at Tech for a lesson on inexpensive Christmas gifts that can be made by the homemaker and inexpensive gift wrappings taught by Mrs. Duke. St. John's Methodist church nursery will be open for children of the wives.

Byrnes Says Nation Hopes To Aid China

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP) — Secretary of State Byrnes has informed Congress that this country seeks "by all appropriate means to pursue such policies and action as will best facilitate China's achievement of internal unity and stability."

In a letter to Rep. Z. Anderson (D-Calif), the secretary gave this statement of American policy toward China:

"We favor the creation of a strong, united and Democratic China which will contribute to peace and stability in the Far East and which will enable China effectively to support the United Nations organization."

Byrnes in his letter told Anderson that in line with the policy toward China, "we deem it desirable and essential that China solve her internal problems. While we recognize that this is a task which China must carry out largely through her own efforts, we seek by all appropriate and practicable means to pursue such policies and action as will best facilitate China's achievement of internal unity and stability.

"Among the means toward this end, we propose, with due regard for the realities of the internal situation in China, to assist China to rehabilitate her devastated economy and to develop a higher standard of living for her masses."

Vets Not Required To Pay Fee To Clerks

AUSTIN, Dec. 4. (U.P.)—An ex-service man is not required to pay a county clerk for a certified copy of his Army discharge in order to prove his claim for priority in purchase of surplus war material, the Attorney General's department ruled here today.

Other rulings were:

That the state board of pharmacy examiners has discretion to determine if the examinations held by another state are of a standard as high as the Texas requirements. Grades made in an examination are not the only factor to be considered, the opinion said.

That Henderson county can purchase an automobile for use by the county commissioner of each precinct in construction and maintenance of roads but that the cars are limited to that particular use.

AUSTIN, Dec. 4 (AP)—Despite a decline in total income, the upward trend in retail sales in Texas is expected to continue, says The Business Review published by the Bureau of Business research.

Wage earners and farmers both will have less income for 1945 than for 1944, the bureau's current review of economic conditions in the state indicates.

Cotton and wheat production were down, poultry and livestock shipments were down, butter and cheese production declined. Wages and s ries were below the peak of 1944.

Higher prices prevailing in 1945 for cotton and livestock could not overcome teh decline in farm income, the review stated.

As for wages and salaries, it is "practically certain" that they will be less than in the peak year of 1944, the review predicted, and that "total income payments in Texas during 1945 will be less than they were in 1944, and that this downward trend tendency will continue into 1946."

In spite of the decline in total income indicated by current figures, the Bureau of Business Research stated there is no reason to believe that retail trade will suffer, and the upward trend in retail sales is expected to continue for some months.

Houston Minister To Score Baylor Sunday

HOUSTON, Dec. 4 (U.P.)—Rev. W. L. Shuttlesworth announced today he would "take the lid off" in a sermon Sunday attacking Baylor university for offering an honorary degree to President Truman.

The Baptist minister was one of the authors of a resolution which the Baptist General convention at Fort Worth two weeks ago passed opposing an honorary degree for the President because of his reported attitude toward gambling and drinking.

"Because of my stand for truth and right at the Fort Worth convention," Rev. Shuttlesworth said, "I have been attacked by newspapers and individuals, and I am going to answer them next Sunday morning.

"I have additional information and am going to take the lid off."

The blonde actress and Anthony Eason, tall, slim and blue-eyed British aircraft engineer, were married by Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora in his chambers in a brief ceremony.

Request For Mexican Labor To Be Refused

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4. (U.P.) — The Labor ministry said today that requests from the United States for Mexican farm workers will be turned down.

The announcement was made after California Farmers' organization asked the Mexican government for 30,000 farm laborers. Unofficial reports said the labor ministry's decision was made because U. S. individuals and organizations failed to carry out contracts, discriminated against Mexicans and resorted to bad treatment.

Approximately 45,000 Mexican farm and industrial workers went to work in the United States during the war and are now returning at the rate of 3,500 a week.

Ever Try Making Cough Syrup in Your Kitchen?

Gives Quick Relief. And It's So Easy! No Cooking.

If you've never tried mixing your own cough medicine, you've missed a lot. It's no trouble—needs no cooking—and gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money. You'll say it beats anything you ever tried for coughs due to colds. And here's how it's done:—

Make a plain syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until it is dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from your druggist. Put this into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a pint—a family supply. Tastes fine and never spoils. Children love it.

And as for results, you've never seen anything better. It goes right to work on the cough, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritation, and helping clear the air passages. You will like it for its results, and not merely for the money it saves.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Plants Making Synthetic Rubber From Grain Alcohol Being Closed

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP) — The country can get from oil all the synthetic rubber it needs, officials announced today, so $117,000,000 wartime plants to make it from grain alcohol are being closed.

Oil versus grain as a source of butadiene, from which rubber is made, was a prime controversy early in the war. Farm state congressmen and agriculture groups urged the alcohol project to promote the use of grain.

G. B. Hadlock, associate director of the Office of Rubber Reserve, told reporters that the reason for abandoning alcohol in favor of petroleum as a butadiene source "is purely dollars and cents."

Petroleum Much Cheaper

"Our cost of cutadiene this year," he said, "was about 40 cents a pound from alcohol, compared with 8 to 10 cents a pound from petroleum. That made the most of alcohol synthetic rubber around 24½ cents a pound, compared with 12 or 13-cent rubber from the petroleum butadiene plants on the gulf coast.

"We have a directive from the Office of Reconversion telling us to run synthetic rubber production on an efficient and economical basis in the best interests of the government.'

"We construe that to mean that we run it on a business-like basis."

Agricultural groups and farm-state members of Congress have fought cultailment of alcohol usage, since it provides a large outlet for grain which, under present plans to continue synthetic rubber output in peacetime might last indefinitely.

Subsidies Said Necessary

Short of government subsidies, however, there appears no way to make the alcohol plants economically feasible, Hadlock said, and Rubber Reserve, an RFC subsidiary which supervises the synthetic operations, has no authority to subsidize.

The government-owned plants to make butadiene from alcohol which are being closed are at Institute, W. Va., Kobuta, Pa., and Louisville, Ky., the latter already closed. They will be kept in "standby condition," however, in case of emergency. The plants at Institute and Louisville which actually make rubber from butadiene will continue in operation indefinitely.

Styrene Plant Closed

The government also is closing styrene plants at Kobuta and Institute which cost about $29,400,000. Styrene is the other main ingredient of synthetic rubber.

Three oil refineries which were re-equipped to make butadinene from petroleum at the height of the rubber crisis at a cost $8,300,00 also are being closed because of high cost of operation.

They are the Humble Oil and Refinig Co. plant at Ingleside, Tex., already closed; and the Taylor Refining Co plant at Corpus Chirtsi, Tex., and the Lion Oil Co. plant at El Dorado, Ark., both in process of closing.

600,000 Tons Annually

Hadlock said the petroleum plants could produce enough butadiene to make 600,000 tons of general-purpose (GRS) synthetic rubber annually.

The estimated need for the next twelve months is put at 550,000 tons, since the government now estimates that 300,000 tons of natural rubber will come in from liberated and other areas. In additon, butadiene stockpiles are ample.

Drive Against Vice, Delinquency Getting Results In Berlin

BERLIN, Dec. 4 (AP)—The four powers occupying Germany, aided by German civilian police, are pushing a concerted drive against vice and delinquency which is bringing in about 2,500 Berlin women and girls weekly.

Up to last week 50 per cent of those examined had venereal diseases. Compulsory treatment is now reducing this to approximately 25 per cent.

Figures Shock Germans

One senior American medical officer estimated there are 250,000 women of "easy virtue" in Berlin.

"These figures shock even the Germans," the medical officer said. "They reflect more than a moral breakdown—more nearly a chaos to which many factors contribute.

"To explain it, one must first of all remember that the Nazis encouraged illegitimacy to promote the birth rate. And now here's a beaten up city of 3,000,000 people occupied by armies of four nations. It's a city through which stream many thousands of refugees with many lost children, a city in which food and shelter are short, a city in which many thousands of women lost their men through death or imprisonment.

"Above all, it's a cheerless city in which, for most German girls, life has stopped, and the only way to get a cigaret or candy bar or get into a dance hall or night club is through an Allied soldier."

At the end of World War II, American refineries were making more than 500,000 barrels of aviation gasoline a day, or about 85 per cent of the world's production.

Due to increased air traffic, the United States Department of Agriculture has a fierce fight on its hands with regard to rangerous plant pests, which arrive in ships and planes from abroad.

Let's Look at the Wage Record

Leaders of the UAW-CIO have never accused General Motors of paying low wages.

They have not because they could not. GM hourly wage rates are substantially higher than the average for industry in general.

Under these circumstances the wage demands of UAW leaders appear fantastic.

Without offering anything in return, they demand a wage jump that would add 30% to the pay of workers already among the highest paid in the country.

In 1941, the last peacetime year, the average GM factory worker received a wage that put his income among the top one-third of all incomes in the United States —not just labor incomes but all incomes.

The average GM factory worker can buy much more food, clothing and other necessities—as well as more of the comforts of life —than the average industrial worker can.

General Motors has always paid high wages to its employes. It always expects to.

City's Bond Program To Provide Many Needed Projects, Is Claim

Progressively higher property valuations which will come as the city grows will keep the tax rate down and will offset to some degree the costs that would accrue to the city if the $5,894,000 bond proposal is approved by the voters next Tuesday, Robert H. Bean, attorney, declared in a talk Tuesday noon before the Optimist club in Lubbock hotel.

Bean said it was commonly estimated that the proposed issue would increase tax rate to 40 cents on the $100 aluation. "Personally, I don't believe it will ever be that much because of the city's constantly increasing valuations."

Lions club members heard two speakers refer to Lubbock's bond issue election in talks Tuesday at their luncheon at the Hilton hotel.

"Dallas ought to come out here and get some real spirit," Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, declared at the outset of his talk. "Why, it's predicted that Lubbock will have a population of 100,000 in the matter of two weeks . . . I had no more than arrived here when I soon learned how this and that piece of real estate was selling . . . I have also learned that you are soon to vote on a bond issue for vast public improvements . . . Let me add that money is not anything compared to the destiny of your city."

Wood Also Speaker

W. C. Wood, president of the Lubbock Kiwanis club, was the other speaker, detailing his remarks on various propositions of the proposed bond program.

"Economically, we're still a big country town and there are certain responsibilities we must assume if we are to furnish the people of this vast territory a great city," Wood said.

Dr. Criswell, who is here for the Tech Religious Emphasis week, declared "It does us good to remember the debt America owes Almighty God . . . How indebted to Almighty God we are for this great and vast land of ours with all its resources . . How indebted we are to Almighty God for the government under which we live . . . For on the personality of God our forefathers launched our great ship of state . . . We are indebted to God not only for our spacious land, our kind of government, but the character of our people . . . The strength of our nation lies in the religious convictions of its people."

Spirit Is Praised

Wood declared that "the Lubbock spirit" had been responsible for the growth and progress of our city thus far but next week we will be standing at the crossroads and we must decide whether we will go forward or stand still.

He listed the water improvement program as the No. 1 item of importance in the bond election and declared that "Lubbock has gone as far as it can without an ample water supply."

Wood listed the auditorium-coliseum project as next in importance on the bond program, declaring that Lubbock should furnish facilities for cultural and recreational activities of a vast territory.

Airport improvements, fire stations and equipment, street improvements, street lighting, parks and recreation, city hall improvements, police station enlargement, city storage and garage and the water softener plant items were also discussed briefly by Wood in his talk.

Dr. Criswell was introduced by Lattimore Ewing; Wood by Elmer East. Out-of-town guests at the luncheon included: H. C. Munn, Amarillo; Capt. Chas. D. Brodie, Little Rock, Ark., Bill Carpenter, Dallas. Returning service men introduced were: Don Davis, Dale Vannoy and Pete Cheney.

U. S. Diplomat Back After Imprisonment

HOBOKEN, N. J., Dec. 4 (AP)—Tyler Kent, 34, American career diplomat jailed by the British nearly five years on charges of larceny of an embassy document, arrived home aboard the British steamer Silver Oak today and declared "I did take certain documents from the embassy to my apartment, but it was for the purpose of turning them over to the United States Senate."

"I considered," said Kent, "that those documents contained information which the Senate and the people of the United States should know about."

Kent declined to describe the documents or give their number, but said they "related to the foreign relations of the United States, and I don't want to be more specific at this time."

Joe Webb To Head Optometric Society

Dr. Joe Webb of Plainview was elected president of South Plains Optometric society at a called meeting held in Dr. W. A. Pettey's office, Sunday. Other officers chosen were Dr. William Cauley of Lubbock, vice-president and Dr. William Armistead of Littlefield, secretary-treasurer.

Other members attending were Drs. Fred Goss of Plainview; Joe Harrington, Lamesa; Ira A. Woods, Littlefield; H. K. Leathers, Pettey; J. C. Anderson and C. M. Neel of Lubbock.

Services Conducted For Slaton Brakeman

SLATON, Dec. 4. (Special) — Last rites were held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church for Quincy L. (Percy) Olive, 40, Santa Fe railroad brakeman for many years who died Monday afternoon in St. Mary's hospital, Lubbock. The pastor, Rev. W. F. Ferguson, officiated at the service and burial was in Englewood cemetery under direction of Williams Funeral home.

Olive, who had lived in Slaton most of his life except the last few years when he moved to Colorado, had been in ill health for six months. He was admitted to the hospital early Monday morning.

Survivors are his wife; his father, L. B. Olive of Slaton; two brothers, W. E. Olive o. San Angelo, C. W. Olive of Dallas; three sisters, Mrs. B. F. Jones of Abilene, Mrs. J. I. Drewery and Mrs. Frank Lawrence, both of Slaton.

Food claims over half of the U. S. Army's half billion dollar a month expenditure.

For the first time in recent history, Australia is importing feed grains.

Europe's 1945 crops are expected to be 20 to 25 per cent below those of 1944.

Arabs And Jews Set Stage For Crucial Middle East Struggle

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

The Arabs and Jews are setting the stage for a struggle in the Middle East which will involve all of the larger powers if a solution is not found quickly.

The Arab states have just declared an economic boycott against goods produced in Palestine. Militant Jews in Palestine are building up their underground armed movement at a rate which is causing grave concern to British authorities responsible for order in the country.

Quick Solution Sought

These developments have occurred just as a joint British-American committee of inquiry is about to move into the situation and attempt to find a way out. Russia, France and Turkey, among other powers, are watching developments with keenest interest. The international balance on the cross-roads between the east and west is involved.

Britain is primarily responsible, since she has charge of Palestine under the old league of nations mandate and has made definite committments to the Arabs to protect their interests as well as those of the Jews. The United States moved in by agreeing to take part in the joint inquiry, thereby accepting an obligation which henceforth cannot be dodged.

Russia, France Involved

The two powers cannot hope to achieve between them an amicable solution which will satisfy both the Jews and Arabs and at the same time convince Russia, France and Turkey that their interests in the Middle East have been adequately safeguarded.

The best they can expect is an armed truce which will avert further bloodshed until the problem can be placed in its entirety before the United Nations organization.

Meanwhile, the urgent matter of Jewish immigration into Palestine appears destined to be shelved, which will leave hundreds of thousands of homeless Jews in Europe without hope at the start of a bitter winter. Britain and the United States have been unable to agree in that respect. President Truman's plea for the immediate issuance of 100,000 immigration permits for Jews into Palestine has been definitely rejected by Britain.

Differences Explained

The commission of inquiry presumably will explore possibilities of settling some of the Jews in adjacent lands of the Middle East or North Africa, but it has been allowed at least three months to reach some conclusion, and by that time it may be too late to benefit a great many of the refugees.

The stand taken by Britain, the Arabs and the Zionists is on the surface irreconcilable. Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin of Great Britain has proposed that Palestine shall become a trustee of the United Nations, with eventual independence as a Jewish-Arab state.

This is entirely unacceptable to the Zionists, who insist on a homeland and a Jewish state. The Arabs appear willing to agree to a joint state, but not to a government dominated by the Jews, who are and will remain a minority of the Palestine population unless immigration bars are lifted.

Others May Join Boycott

The Arabs have shown a disposition to avoid violence in Palestine as far as possible, but they have picked what may be a potent weapon in their declared boycott of Jewish industry there. The seven states belonging to the Arab league—Syria, Lebanon, Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Yemen and Egypt—have been instructed to join the boycott, and Arab states not belonging to the league have been invited to join.

Since the market of Palestine Jewish industry and agriculture is predominantly with the Arab states under post-war conditions, it is obvious that a serious hardship would be imposed on the Holy Land if the boycott is made fully effective.

U. S. Farmer Claimed Facing Tough Fight

DALLAS, Dec. 4 (AP)—The American farmer is facing a bitter fight in the years ahead with surpluses looming in the major food crops throughout the world, N. O. Berry of Harlingen told the American Association of Economic Entomologists here today.

Berry, president of the Texas Entomological society and connected with the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Department of Agriculture(addressed the second day session of the association.

"The American farmer must produce as cheaply as any other farmer in the world to stay in business," he said. Berry urged a press and radio campaign to inform farmers of simple insect control methods.

Dr. F. C. Bishop of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and plant control at Washington, said farmers' annual loss from insects approximates $3,000,000,000.

Boy Scouts' Finance Drive Plans Mapped

Work began Tuesday by 20 members of the big gifts committee of the Boy Scout finance campaign organization in advance of a general solicitations group which will commence its campaign for a one-day effort Dec. 11.

C. H. Hamilton, big gifts chairman, said his group would complete its work this week. Members are John Broome, O. L. Byrd, J. T. Carter, Frank Ford, Jerry Fulton, R. P. Fuller, Roy Furr, Homer Grant, N. B. Hilburn, Charles Hogan, R. D. Erwin, G. P. Kuykendall, O. C. Kyzer, Dr. F. B. Malone, E. A. Manning, Retha Martin, Alex McDonald, Joe Nisler, K. L. Riggs, and Elliott Taylor.

Teams Being Completed

Earl B. Collins, general chairman for the campaign, said captains were completing their teams and that each civic club here would be represented with 32 men for the general drive. The plan is so arranged that no campaigner will see more than seven prospects, he said, "and we believe that on that basis we can close our drive in a few hours."

Dr. Malone, president of the South Plains Council Boy Scouts of America, which is composed of 20 West Texas counties, indicated that almost one-fourth of the Cub and Scout membership of the council is in Lubbock county and that the executive board was formulating plans for addition of a field executive to give his full time in Lubbock county. If the Lubbock drive is successful, as indicated, "we are sure that other Lubbock county communities will assist in the increased budget of $3,000 that this will require," said Dr. Malone and G. M. Unger, scout executive of Lubbock. The present budget, they said, is approximately $25,000.

Alarm bells were devised as health precautions to ring at the exits of some atomic research laboratories whenever a person passed whose clothing or body had been affected by radioactive radiations.

LAAF Wanted For Tech's Use

Property administration provides that in the case of airports declared surplus, government agencies shall be accorded first priority, and state and local governments, including any municipality in which the property is located and all municipalities in the vicinity thereof, second priority to acquire surplus airport properties "for considerations other than cash." The regulation further states that when a government agency "no longer needs the property for airport purposes, such real property and any interest therein shall be returned to the agency having primary jurisdiction in accordance with the arrangement made between such agencies."

City Owns Land

The City of Lubbock owns the land on which LAAF is situated and it was leased to the government during the war for operation of the field.

Grant pointed out to commissioners that acquisition of LAAF "to meet the critical housing shortage alone" would be well-worth seeking but that additional facilities on the field would create the possibility of expansion of the college's curriculum to include a full course in all phases of aeronautics. He said many colleges and universities over the nation had already instituted some of these courses, citing the cases of Texas A. & M. college and the University of Texas where full courses leading to aeronautical degrees are now offered.

Texas A. & M. is seeking acquisition of Bryan Army Air field as an adjunct facilit, to the teaching of its course, Grant said.

Well Equipped Shops

With some of the finest equipped shops in the Army Air Forces set-up, the field would also offer enlargement of Tech's mechanical engineering work, Grant said.

The commission's resolution read as follows: "Be it resolved by the City commission of the City of Lubbock: that the City of Lubbock assert its priority to Lubbock Army Air field under the acts of Congress and that within the immediate future a conference between the Texas Technological college board of directors, the Army, and the City Commission be held with a view of making housing and other facilities located at Lubbock Army Air field available to Texas Technological college for housing and other incidental purposes related to the educational provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights."

With dormitories already filled to the brim on the campus and with Tech officials interviewing returning veterans at the rate of approximately 15 a day, indications are that the college will have to turn away students next session unless housing facilities are made available.

Adequate Barracks

Lubbock Army Air field's barracks offer a solution to the problem, should the proposal be carried through to completion.

Tech's board of directors are scheduled to meet at the college this morning to hear a report from Chanslor Weymouth of Amarillo on a similar proposal, the acquisition of the huge Pantex Ordnance plant near Amarillo. Weymouth recently returned from Washington to carry a formal brief asking for the ordnance plant for the college "with no strings attached" and reported in Amarillo Sunday that the RFC was "lending a sympathetic ear" to the plan.

Whether the City of Lubbock's proposal would be considered by the board also today was not known last night. Mayor O. W. Ribble planned to confer with Dr. W. M. Whyburn, Tech president, regarding the city's action early this morning.

Consideration of the LAAF proposal highlighted a four-hour session of the commission at City hall Tuesday afternoon.

Other Matters Handled

Other matters disposed of included:

Authorizing the drafting of an ordinance taking the new Tech Terrace addition into the city limits after J. E. Maisen, owner of the tract, had explained the development plan to commissioners which includes proposed acquisition of a lage site in the addition as a part of the storm sewer drainage system or parks program;

Approval of lease agreements between the Texas State Parks board and the City of Lubbock for a lease on Mackenzie State park for another ten years and between the city and Bates Witt for operation of an amusement area in the park, in which the city would be paid $300 yearly for food and drink concessions and 15 per cent of the gross receipts after taxes on rides and other concessions;

Railroad Easement

Approval of an easement from the Ft. Worth and Denver City Railway company granting an easement across their property for utility purposes to serve blocks 1 and 2, Morningside addition;

Approval of a petition and authorizing draft of an ordinance taking portions of blocks 55, 67, 68 and 69, Wheelock second addition, into the city limits;

Granting of a loading zone for the Household Supply company at 1220 Ave. Q;

Approval of general contractors' bonds for C. B. Ridgway, W. B. Abbott, jr., L. P. Owens and sons, and Theodore R. Nicholas, a sign board bond for Haden Neon Sign company, sub-contractor's bond for W. M. Osborn, and bond for moving a building for A. M. Dunagin;

Lot Sale Approved

Approval of sale of lot 34, block 4, Perkins addition to Stella Anthony for $500 net to the city; and passing at first reading ordinance No. 734 closing a portion of Ave. J, south of Nineteenth street; and No. 735, closing a portion of the alley between lots 1 and 35, block 2, Dupre addition.

The commissioners also heard a request from T. A. Rogers, Lubbock machine shop operator, for pressure tank inspection service recently discontinued by insurance companies in this area. Action on the request was taken under advisement.

The inspection service would be for construction of butane gas tanks to serve this area, which Rogers is manufacturing at the rate of 10 to 20 a day in his local shop, but which work must be discontinued unless inspection service is provided.

Mayor Ribble presided at the meeting and attending were: Commissioners J. Ray Dickey, Fred H. Childress and Hug Jones, City Attorney Vaughn Wilson, City Manager Marlin Smith and City Secretary Lavenia Williams.

Texas' 36th Division Is On Way Home

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP) — The 36th (Texas) division has finally started home from Europe.

$300,000 Fire Hits East Texas Town

ATLANTA, Tex., Dec. 4. (AP) — Fire, fanned by high winds, swept the business section of this Cass county town tonight and city Marshal Homer Carter estimated the loss at $300,000.

Roaring flames destroyed buildings containing two cafes, two barbershops, an electrical shop, a jewelry store, recreation hall, plumbing shop and a beauty parlor. Carter said the fire started in the electrical shop at 5:40 p. m. and was brought under control about 8:30 p. m.

The Atlanta fire department, employing 25 men, got help from departments at Linden and Texarkana.

Atlanta was without lights tonight because of the fire damage, Carter stated.

Hundreds of persons from the surrounding area came to Atlanta to witness the spectacle.

The T. R. Ricchey and G. H. Chamblee buildings were destroyed.

Ferguson, bringing in a MacArthur affidavit of May, 1945, disclosed the Philippine Army chief was getting copies of some Japanese secret messages decoded by a Navy cryptography station on Corregidor. Miles had testified that the War department here did not send any such secret intercepts to Hawaiian commanders.

Ample Information

The MacArthur affidavit contained, too, a statement that "dispatches from the War department gave me ample and complete information and advice for the purpose of alerting" the defending forces in the islands.

It was a Republican day to question Miles, who has been in the witness chair since last week. (The committee members take turns according to seniority).

Under Ferguson's interrogation, Miles conceded that although he was head of Army intelligence "there was a great deal of information in the higher level which I did not get."

" never knew," Miles said, "what the secretary of state or the President was saying to the secretary of war or the chief of staff."

The committee also heard from Miles that the United States gave to Great Britain in Januarw, 1941, the means of decoding Japan's diplomatic and military messages.

Incalculable Value

Miles previously had told the committee that the secret of the code was of such "incalculable value" that the War department dared not send to Hawaiian commanders information gleaned from intercepted Japanese messages.

In response to questions, Miles said he recalled an arrangement between the U. S. and Britain under which "we could mutually assure ourselves we got the same messages."

"If we failed to get them the British would supply," he explained, "and vice versa."

At first, he had said he could not say off hand whether the British furnished the U. S. with any information they obtained from decoding intercepted Japanese messages.

Jap Note Intercepted

Between bickerings, the committee listened to Miles' story of the interception Dec. 6-7 of the Japanese note which was to be given the United States at 1 p. m., Dec. 7, almost simultaneously with the attack on the Hawaiian naval base, and of the warning note which Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, sent to Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, Army commander in Hawaii.

Miles testified it was his recollection, as previously reported, that the Army learned between 7 and 8 a. m. on Dec. 7 of the hour the Japanese had set for delivery of the note, but that it was 11:50 a. m. before Marshall's message to Short was dispatched to the Signal corps. As it developed, the Army radio was out of order, the message went by commercial services, and was not delivered until after the attack.

Pilot, Wac Bail Out In Seagraves Area

HOBBS, N. M., Dec. 4 (AP)—Encountering engine trouble, a pilot helped a frightened WAC passenger to parachute and then jumped himself last night near Seagraves, Tex., Lt. Col. William H. Clark, commanding officer at Hobbs Army Air base, reported today.

Neither the pilot, Lt. John W. Vesowate, 24, Chelsea, Mass., nor the WAC passenger, Pfc. Ruth E. Groth, 23, Los Angeles, was seriously injured, Clark announced.

Vesowate was knocked unconscious when he landed 10 miles west of Seagraves. A motorist took him to Denver City. Miss Groth was found with a light ankle injury and taken to Seagraves, Clark reported. She had been discharged recently from an Army hospital in San Antonio.

The plane, an AT-6 trainer, was enroute from San Antonio to Hobbs field.

Housing Proposal

Against this, William Green, president of the AFL, said in a statement to the Senate Banking committee that at least 6,000,000 veterans' families will need housing within a year.

Suggested By Snyder

The conference called by Blandford had been suggested by Reconversian Director John M. Snyder as a step to find and eliminate "bottlenecks" in the way of home building. Those arranging the meeting said such subjects as price controls on homes and new government priorities on materials are sure to come up.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex) and Blandford agreed today, at a hearing of the House Banking committee, that release soon after V-J day of government allocation controls on scarce building materials has resulted in most of it going to commercial and industrial construction. Patman wants materials allocation controls and price ceilings.

Frank W. Cortright, spokesman for the National Association of Home Builders, told a reporter he doubted whether the pressure for building materials is severe enough to return to wartime priority controls but added "it's a matter of individual judgment."

Navy Plans Release Of Over-38 Reserves

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP) — The Navy today announced it will release all reserve enlisted men or women 38 years of age or older who had one or more dependents prior to Aug. 15.

The Navy estimated that there are about 35,000 enlisted personnel in this classification. However, most of these already have become eligible for discharge under the point system.

The new regulations does not apply to enlisted men in the regular Navy or to those undergoing medical treatment or disciplinary action.

Under the new regulation, the wife of an enlisted man is counted as a dependent.

automobile dispute. Industry has refused to meet with the union in the steel industry though specifically requested by the federal government.

Yields In Cowardice

"To all this arrogance, the federal administration yields in abject cowardice.

"Its rancor is confined to labor."

Murray declared American industry had extracted "extortionate profits" during the war period and added:

"The Office of War Mobilization through its staff experts, has in a recent report stated that American industry can raise wages and salaries 24 per cent and still earn more than twice as much take home profits as it did before the war.

"Faced with these economic conditions—what has the federal administration done?

"It has completely ignored human rights. But American industry has been appeased with ever greater opportunities for increased profits at the expense of the American people."

or to American commercial banks which have made payment for products on instructions of the French government.

The credit will be available until Dec. 31, 1945, except in certain instances where it may be provided later than that date.

Advances under the credit are re-payable in 60 approximately equal semi-annual installments, the first of which will be due on July 1, 1946.

Ambassador Bonnet expressed "the deep gratification" of the French people for the loan and said it would be used primarily to purchase transportation equipment, machinery and raw materials which France needs urgently in its rehabilitation program.

Washington Asked To Get Houses For Vets

FORT WORTH, Dec. 4. (AP) — Washington officials have been asked to take immediate steps to provide housing for American veterans by the executive council of the Oil Workers International Union, CIO.

In session here yesterday, the council asked the "Truman administration, Congress and the Veterans administration," to alleviate the nationwide housing shortage. They termed the shortage "a national scandal."

British Again Assure Self-Rule For India

LONDON, Dec. 4 (AP)—The British government reaffirmed today its promise of self-rule for India, but warned simultaneously that it would resist any attempt to resolve the issue by force.

In a statement of policy read in both Houses of Parliament, the Labor government promised to turn the reins over to the Indians when a suitable constitution is adopted. But establishment of a constituent assembly can scarcely be contemplated before the Indian elections next spring, the statement said.

Meanwhile, a non-partisan parliamentary committee will be sent to India immediately to make independent observations and draft unofficial recommendations to the British government.

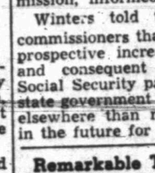

Post-War Problems Talked By Judges

FORT WORHT, Dec. 4 (AP)—Post-war problems of vital concern to Texas, from improved highways to the increasing tax burdens, along with suggested laws and constitutional amendments were placed before the annual convention of the County Judges and Commissioners association of Texas here this afternoon as the three day meeting got underway.

The social security problem has agitated Texas in and out of the legislature for several years, and the solution is far from in sight, John H. Winters, Austin, director of the state's public welfare commission, informed the delegates.

Winters told the judges and commissioners that because of the prospective increase in the rolls and consequent heavy gain in Social Security payments that the state government will have to look elsewhere than natural resources in the future for tax levies.

International Language Favored By U. S. Public As Aid To UNO

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—A substantial majority of American voters are in favor of adopting an international language that would be understood in all countries.

This language would be taught to school children, in addition to their own native tongue. Americans who are in favor of the idea think the United Nations should appoint a committee to study various languages and select one to use as an international medium of expression—in order to promote better understanding among nations and further the success of a world organization for peace.

GALLUP

An institute poll on a world language was prompted partly by views expressed recently by President Truman. In an interview reported in early October, the President declared that one of the chief obstacles in the way of international agreement is a difference in language, that conversations through interpreters are unsatisfactory, and that if the Americans and Russians spoke the same language things would run smoother.

The general views of the country were sounded on the question:

"Should the school children in all countries be required to learn, in addition to their own language, some one language which would be understood in all countries so that people of every nation could understand each other better?"

Yes	71%
No	17
No opinion	12

Those in favor of the idea were asked whether the United Nations should take some concrete step toward this goal, as follows:

"Do you think the United Nations should appoint a group to study various languages and select one to use?"

Yes	57%
No	6
No opinion	6

French and Spanish are the two languages which the voters seem to think best suited as international tongues if England is not used.

This was shown when all voters who favor the idea of a common language were asked:

"If some language other than ours were selected, which one would you choose?"

The vote:

French	19%
Spanish	12
German	5
Russian	3
Latin	2
Esperanto	2
Miscellaneous	6
No choice or no opinion	19

Voters expressed general agreement that a common world language would enhance the likelihood of permanent peace.

"If the people of all nations could speak the same language do you think this would increase the chances of maintaining world peace?"

The vote:

Yes	80%
No	23
No opinion	17

Solon Says Germany Must Not Go Soviet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP) — Senator Eastland (D-Miss) said today the western powers "cannot permit" Germany to become a satellite of Russia, which he termed a "predatory aggressor nation."

Speaking in the Senate, Eastland said: the Communists know a hungry chaotic Germany will and must embrace Communism and that a Soviet Germany would lead to the Sovietizing of the smaller nations of Western Europe and the collapse of Democracy outside Britain and the United States."

Eastland said the de-industrialization of Germany would deprive the United States of one of its greatest foreign markets.

Mexicans Hoard Huge Sum Of Silver Coins

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4 (AP) — More than $100,000,000 worth of silver coins is being hoarded by the Mexican public in spite of the Bank of Mexico's order calling in silver, bank officials said today.

The Bank of Mexico — official government bank—called in silver coins and offered a two per cent premium above face value when the price of Mexican silver recently increased from 45 cents per fine ounce to 71 cents as a result of U. S. abolition of its ceiling price for imported silver.

There was approximately $105,000,000 worth of silver in circulation at the time the calling-in order was issued.

Bowles Says Ceiling Prices To Be Kept

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)— Price Administrator Chester Bowles said definitely today that price controls will be kept throughout reconversion to avoid the dangerous cycle of post-war inflation, collapse and depression.

Addressing the opening hearing of the Senate Small Business committee's investigation of post-war business problems, Bowles said that prices can be held "with public, business, administration and congressional support."

No Permanent OPA

"I can think of no greater disservice anyone could render the nation, now that the war is over," he told the committee, "than to spread the idea that the price line cannot or will not be held."

Bowles said he hoped the country, "shall not now, in the name of free enterprise, decide in favor of a post-war inflation, collapse and depression that will put our cherished free institutions in jeopardy."

Bowles promised that OPA policies will be "cut to fit the needs during reconversion. He assured the committee that he was not advocating a "permanent OPA" but that price controls would be dropped "product by product" as pressure on each is relaxed.

Working Agreement Signed Between Detroit, Hubbers

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 4 (Special)—The Lubbock Hubbers of the newly reorganized West Texas-New Mexico League today signed a working agreement with the World Champion Detroit Tigers, it was announced here tonight by Sam Rosenthal, owner of the Hubbers.

Through the agreement with the Worlds Champions, ample player help has been assured to make the Hubbers a contender for the flag in any Class C loop.

The local club will work through the Dallas Rebels of the Texas League, who through their working agreement with Detroit, handles the Detroit working agreements in the Southern area.

Rosenthal and Business Manager Harry Faulkner are here to attend the minor league meeting, which opens Wednesday in this city.

Jack Zeller of the parent Detroit club sends his regards to Lubbock fans, and has promised to pay the Lubbock farm a visit in the spring to help with the straightening out of the team for the West Texas-New Mexico League season.

Rosenthal also said that he hoped to have other important announcements to make as soon as he returns from the meeting.

Longhorns Lose Star Center Off Cage Club

AUSTIN, Dec. 4 (AP)—The University of Texas basketball team has apparently lost for the season one of the few tall men counted on as the backbone of the squad.

Robert (Rosebud) Summers, a six foot three inch letterman center, has undergone an operation that may keep him off the squad for the balance of the season. This loss leaves Coach Jack Gray with no first string candidate taller than six one, definitely a handicap in basketball.

Andrews Cagers Take Two Over Seminole

SEMINOLE, Dec. 4 (Special)—The Andrews Mustangs opened the basketball season here tonight by romping to a 33-to-14 victory over the Seminole Indians. The Mustangs made a clean sweep of the double header by winning the B game, 31 to 15.

Charles Pinnell paced the winners with ten points, while James Smyer pressed him for honors with eight. Charles Baker and Val Joe Walker paced the Seminole club, each with five points.

Six-Man Title Tilt Plays At Levelland

LEVELLAND, Dec. 4 (Special)—Whiteface and Union (Dawson county) will pair off here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the six-man football bi-district clash.

Whiteface beat Whitharral for the District 6-B title, and boasts of a record of ten wins and one loss. Union has a like record, and defeated Sparenberg for the District 7-B six-man title.

Ponies Decline Oil Bowl Offer

DALLAS, Dec. 4 (AP)—Southern Methodist university today declined an invitation to appear in the Oil Bowl football game at Houston Jan. 1 with the statement that it "does not feel proper to support a game competing with that of the conference's championship team."

The Southwest Conference champion is host team in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. This year it is the University of Texas. Southern Methodist finished second in the conference race.

Coach Matty Bell indicated he favored SMU accepting the bid but Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of SMU, released a statement following a meeting of the school's executive committee. The statement said:

"The executive committee of Southern Methodist university has declined an invitation to the Oil Bowl in Houston. The university appreciates the invitation and declined it only because SMU as a member of the Southwest Conference, feels under obligation to support the game in the Cotton Bowl and does not feel it proper to support a game competing with that of the conference's championship team."

Bell said he had understood the plan had been to match SMU with Louisiana State in the Oil Bowl. At Baton Rouge, Athletic Director T. P. Heard of LSU said that school did not plan to play in any postseason football games "as our season is closed."

Cooper Cagers Drop Wilson Squads Twice

Cooper's boys and girls cage teams chalked up two hardwood decisions over corresponding teams from Wilson at Cooper last night as the season picked up speed over the area.

Cooper's boys team edged past the Wilson boys with a 21-to-18 decision with Kenneth Pierce with 13 points and Neil Johnson with six points taking high point honors for the winners.

In the girls contest, Cooper won a 34-to-19 triumph with Mary Frances Wilke taking high point honors with 18 points, Baker leading the losers with 11 points.

DUTCH MAY PLAY

Class AA Hopes Pass In Review

By TOM W. MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

Teams as varied as Joseph's coat tangle this week in the bi-district playoffs of Texas' schoolboy football race.

There are teams that almost have a collective cry unless they've scored half a dozen touchdowns for their 48 minutes' effort. There are others of the stingy type who sell points as dearly as a black market butcher.

There's the one-man offense team, and the let's everybody-run-with-it type. There are unbeaten teams and one which has been whipped three times.

Look 'Em Over

Introducing them all—

Amarillo—Not in the class of the great Sandie elevens of the mid-1930s, the 1945 Sandstorm still is a tough unit, alert, opportunity-grabbing, always dangerous.

Wichita Falls—The Coyotes have a light, fast backfield operating behind a powerful, hard-charging line. In 249-pound Wee Willie Bigham and 219-pound Bob Hames, Wichita Falls has the biggest tackles in Texas. Coach Tugboat Jones says his boys have "the greatest team spirit I ever saw."

Odessa—In J. W. Thompson, the Broncs have one of the greatest running backs to grace a West Texas gridiron since Jarrin' Jawn Kimbrough. He's the state's highest scorer in Class AA. The team started slowly, finished strong.

El Paso—The Tigers are amazingly similar to their opponents at Odessa. Big gun is Bill Chesak, state's second high scorer in Double "A." He weighs just one pound less than Thompson. El Paso started slowly, improved with every game. The Tigers lost to Odessa by one touchdown early in the season.

Paris—The Wildcats, who haven't been beaten yet, are looking for revenge against Highland Park, which licked them in 1941. Their offense, unstopped so far, is built around big Jim Hickey, and speedy Billy Riddell.

Scotties Are Favored

Highland Park—Three years now one of Texas' best teams, the Highlanders have a balanced backfield instead of a one-man attack such as Bobby Layne headed in '43 and Doak Walker in '44.

Fort Worth North Side—The Steers are the crew who have jerked the welcome mat from the goal line and erected a barricade instead. Only three times have they reluctantly permitted entrance to scoring territory. This is another darkhorse team which surprised by winning its district.

Dallas Crozier Tech — The Wolves feature a powerful ground game. Favored to win the Dallas district, they lived up to expectations. Tech can pass if necessary; completed 14 of the last 16 heaves.

Breckenridge—Coach Cooper Robbins planned his offense around Frank Payne. Then Payne broke his leg and six other regulars went out with injuries. The Bucks still managed to win all but one game, against Wichita Falls, and will have everyone ready for Waco but Payne.

Waco—The Tigers are fast and smart, somewhat reminiscent of Paul Tyson's championship teams of the 20s. Waco also was fairly slow to get up full steam, has overcome one big weakness—pass defense.

Marshall—Early in the season Line Coach Jess Munday told the linemen: "You've got to learn what blocking and tackling means." They learned. The Mavericks, a very light team, out fought opponents consistently. Marshall will be outweighed 10 pounds per man by Lufkin.

Highest Scoring Team

Lufkin—Like Highland Park, once a one-man offense, the Panthers have a backfield in which all four men have averaged six yards per carry. The state's top scoring machine, Lufkin has whipped Marshall three times in two years, twice in 1943.

Milby—The first year under Bert Kivell, Milby won its first district crown. Four first stringers are on the school's scholastic honor roll.

Goose Creek—Fumbles cost the Ganders the two games they lost. The miscues lost the ball on the one yard line against Lufkin (6-7), and Port Arthur (2-6). The team has a big line, 185 pounds per man.

San Antonio Thos. Jefferson—This is the thrice-beaten team. And seven regulars were hit this week by influenza.

Brownsville—The Eagles have their first unbeaten team in 16 years. They are the state's second highest scoring team. And only 13 points were counted against the regulars. Six men were stricken by the 'flu earlier, but all are ready now.

Lobo Cagers Defeat Westerners, 33-26

Joe Garrison of the Levelland Lobos went berserk for three minutes Tuesday night at the Lubbock Western gym, and the Lobos came from behind to win their second straight over the Westerners, 33 to 26.

Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst's youngsters had held the lead most of the way since early in the second quarter, and went into the hectic last quarter with a 19-13 advantage over the Lobos.

Big Fourth Quarter

The Lobos went to work in the final period, and in a business like manner. Jess Clardy started the fireworks, dropping in a field goal and one free pitch on one combined play to cut the lead to three points.

Turner looped in one for the Westerners, then Garrison started finding the range, getting his first and second goals of the night to cut the lead to one point. Pearcy dropped in a free throw to tie the game for the first time since it stood 6-6 early in the second period.

Clardy dropped in a two-pointer, then Clark added a free point for the Westerners. Levelland was leading 23-22 when Garrison went into action and iced away the ball game.

Garrison's Big Moment

Garrison shot one field goal, then rested, while Crawford dropped in a free pitch. Then Garrison hit two more quick field goals, and topped it off with a free throw. Pearcy then took over, hung up three points, and the Lobos rested with a 33-23 lead and less than a minute to go.

Crawford looped in a two-pointer and Thrush dropped in a free throw, the latter point with three seconds left, and that was the ball game.

Garrison was the high point man for the night, getting 12 points, 11 of them in the fourth quarter. Prior to that, it was Clardy who carried the load for Levelland, and finished with ten points, and the second high of the night.

Turner, Crawford Shine

Verdell Turner and Bob Crawford led the Westerners, each getting seven points for the night. Jerry Thrush, Jack Alderson and Jimmy Clark each chipped in with four points for the Westerners, to account for all the scoring.

The game started off slow, Crawford breaking the ice for the first field goal, but Pearcy tied the score a moment later. Turner put Lubbock back in the lead with a free pitch, then Clardy looped a field goal, and a 4-3 lead for Levelland at the end of the first quarter.

Early in the second quarter, Alderson tied the game at 5-5, and it was tied again at 6-6. Clark then dropped in a free throw, Alderson hit a field goal, and Crawford connected with a field goal to give Lubbock a 13-7 lead at the half.

The third quarter was played on even terms, with the Westerners retaining their six point lead.

Again the Westerners had to depend on the B team to gain an even break for the night, with the Lubbock B winning over the Levelland B, 20 to 14.

Virgil Johnson led the Westerners from behind with a great second half rally to gain the victory, after Levelland had led 9 to 4 at the halftime. Mason and Norman, with three points each, paced the Lobos.

Former Tech Cager Seeks Jos As Coach

Marshall Brown, who during the 1938-39 and 1939-40 cage seasons was perhaps one of the greatest basketball stars in the history of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, was visiting in Lubbock Tuesday, and admitted he was seeking a berth as a basketball coach.

Brown, a native of East Texas, played at Lon Morris Junior college at Jacksonville before coming to Texas Tech to become a great cage star.

Brown said he would like to "Hook up" with some school as a cage coach, and spoke also of seeking a berth with the Phillips 66 Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., or with the Denver Nuggets, two top semi-pro cage teams.

Brown has just been released from the service, and has been visiting friends and relatives in West Texas, but plans to return soon to his present home in Dallas. He can be reached by mail at 802 South Waverly street, Dallas.

Pacific Coast Loop Seeks Major Status

COLUMBUS, Dec. 4 (AP) — The Pacific Coast League voted today to become a major league beginning with the 1946 season, subject to approval of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, presidents of the two current major leagues and the minors' organization.

President Clarence Rowland of the Coast League, who issued a formal statement following an afternoon-long meeting, pointed out that the loop previously had expressed a determination to become a major league.

Rowland said a committee of three, consisting of himself, Charles Graham, president of the San Francisco club, and Victor Ford Collins, president of the Hollywood club, was named to start negotiations to obtain the necessary approval and agreement.

Kimes Alcatraz-Bound

Southwest To Rest Easier

MATT KIMES, the Oklahoma bad boy, is probably cursing his luck. An outlaw who in earlier days liked to swap pistol slugs with officers, Kimes has doubtless reached the end of his rope, not in a blazing gun battle but under the wheels of a truck at an Arkansas street corner.

The people of this section, where Kimes is charged with the robbery of the Morton bank, and of Oklahoma, which was the victim of most of his robbing and killing in the 1920's and whose officials made the inexcusable mistake of giving him a "leave" from prison last summer, will feet great satisfaction now that he has come under the arm of the law again. And the personnel of many a bank and store in the Southwest will rest a little easier.

It is well that Kimes was taken in this manner. For it elimated the strong possibility that some officer—or officers—might have had to give his life in a capture otherwise effected. The one-time "boy bandit" is a confirmed cop hater; after his latest escapades, which placed on him the tag of "public enemy No. 1," he would not have hesitated to go down fighting.

Kimes would not have been a free man much longer, anyway. From shortly after the Morton holdup, he has been but a hop and skip ahead of the officers. All the brains and the sharpshooters of the great FBI's offices in the Southwest have been devoted almost entirely in recent weeks to "roping Kimes in," one way or the other. The G-men and local officers everywhere made a team that Kimes couldn't hope to beat.

At this writing, it appears that Kimes will be brought to Lubbock federal court for trial. If convicted as charged, he likely will wind up in Alcatraz. We should not worry about his getting a "leave of absence" from there.

May Be The Answer

AN eitorial in the current issue of Life magazine may have hit upon the greatest single ailment of our foreign policy.

The editorial compares our foreign service to that of Great Britain. It says that while Britain has lost wars it has seldom fluffed an important diplomatic negotiation.

Once a man is accepted as trained and trustworthy to engage in British foreign service, his country relies upon him to make his own decisions, the editorial points out. He is given leeway to decide even important matters on the spot, with the assurance that the empire will back him on whatever step he takes.

Our system is compared to that of Russia. U. S. diplomats are given precise instructions with little elasticity. The State department constantly keeps checking up on him. Every matter that comes to his attention, whether it involves a pending shakeup in Sylvania's cabinet or a tear in his striped trousers, must be reported on in detail, and immediately, to Washington. Before he can move a finger, he has to wait for signals from Washington.

With the years, our diplomats acquire, instead of wisdom, knowledge of precedents and habit of "playing it safe," the editorial concludes.

The comparison is pertinent in the light of recent instances of our fumbling in international affairs. Perhaps the criticism that for so long has been directed on our foreign policy more accurately should have been placed on the men we commission to put it into effect. For, after all, the finest of governmental concepts may go sour while in the process of application, if means are not taken to make the human element as infallible as possible.

Contrasting Cases?

ONE cannot help but note unfairness in the case of Henry Weber, conscientous objector, as related to that of another objector, Pfc. Desmond T. Doss.

Pvt. Doss, as you know, was recently awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. A front-line man with non-combatant duties, he was cited for "selfish devotion to luty and intrepidity under fire." He was and still is a conscentious objector.

Henry Weber asserted his willingness to perform the duties of a medic or other service so long as he did not have to kill other people. He, if given a chance, might have showed the same self-denial and courage as did Pvt. Doss.

But Weber was sentenced to death for his refusal to bear arms. Outraged public opinion caused the sentence to be reduced in stages to five years.

While honors are heaped on the man he might have emulated; if military authorities had given him an opportunity, Weber now serves time in U. S. disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

One-Minute Sermon

The ungodly are not so: But are like the chaff which the wind driveth away. Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous. For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: But the way of the ungodly shall perish. Psalm 1: 4, 5, 6.

Marshall's Report On The War

By Gen. George C. Marshall
Wartime Chief Of Staff

(This is the 17th of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II).

CONTINENTAL ENVELOPMENT

MEANWHILE, on 15 August, operation ANVIL was executed by the U. S. Seventh Army under Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch in landings of the southern coast of France, which further weakened the fast-deteriorating position of the German Army in France. Preparations for his operation under the general supervision of the Supreme Allied Commander, Mediterranean Theater of Operations, had been under way, while the campaigns in Italy and Northern France were in progress. The very threat of such a landing had held substantial Nineteenth armies immobilized in the south of France, preventing their deployment against our forces in Normandy. A naval force, comparable in size to the one which participated in the American landings in Normandy, had been assembled. An air offensive, conducted chiefly by the Allied Strategic Air Forces, prepared the way for the invasion by sustained attacks on vital enemy communications and installations in Southern France.

MARSHALL

The Seventh Army landed southwest of Cannes in ideal weather. The area had been selected as the most favorable approach to the Rhone Valley. The landing force consisted of elements of General Truscott's VI Corps, our 1st Special Service Force, and French commandos. A British-American Airborne Task Force jumped astride the Argens River west of St. Raphael the night preciding the seaborne assault and seized the pass through which our forces would debouch. By 28 August the beachheads were firmly established and the advance up the Rhone Valley was well under way.

The operations had been substantially aided by the efforts of the French underground. The landing of our VI Corps had been followed up immediately by the landing of divisions of the French I and II Corps of General de Tassingny's First French Army, which quickly captured Marseille and Toulon; by 1 September Nice had fallen. While the main force swept west to the Rhone, before moving northward, a task force swept west to the Rhone, before moving northward, a task force from the American 36th Division under Brig. Gen. Frederic B. Butler headed directly north from the landing toward the Rhone to cut off the German columns retreating up the Rhone Valley. This drive into the rear of the German Nineteenth Army greatly facilitated the rapid advance of the main body of the VI Corps up the Rhone Valley. Lyon fell on 3 September and the advance northward continued unabated.

On 15 September other United States and French forces were combined into the 6th Army Group (later designated the Southern Group of Armies) commanded by Lt. Gen. Jacob L. Devers.

On 25 August the 2d French Aromerd Division of the First U. S. Army entered Paris, as the Normandy coast fell back north of the Seine. The Germans had suffered at least 400,000 casualties, of which more than 200,000 were prisoners of war. The units which had escaped destruction were forced to abandon the major portion of their equipment.

As the enemy withdrew he had left behind substantial garrisons to defend the critical seaports: Brest, St. Nazaire, Lorient, Dieppe, and LeHavre. In order to prevent the Allies from developing harbor facilities to sustain the advance of the gathering millions, the Germans freely expended thousands of men to make the supply problem difficult if not impossible of accomplishment.

Despite these obstructions, by 5 September (D+90) 2,086,000 Allied troops and 3,446,000 tons of stores had been put ashore in France. This was an outstanding logistical achievement, but nevertheless we were still in urgent need of additional ports if we were to support adequately the fast-moving offensive across France that was operating on a dangerously thin supply basis. Many divisions had a very limited supply on hand.

On 5 September the Ninth U. S. Army under the command of Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson began operations under the 12th Army Group for the reduction of Brest and other French ports, where four German divisions were bottled up. Dieppe fell on 31 August; LeHavre on 11 September; Brest on 19 September. The most strenuous efforts were made to put these ports into operating condition. Tonnage began moving through Dieppe on 7 September and through LeHavre on 9 October. Brest was too heavily damaged and too distant from future fields of operations to justify immediate reconstruction.

Germans Retreat

The defeated German armies now now were streaming across France, heading for the shelter of the Siegfried Line. They were under constant air attack. On the ground General Bradley's First and Third Armies, driving north east from Melun and Troyes, reached the Aisne and the Marne, sweeping aside the German rear guards. Field Marshal Montgomery's forces crossed the lower Seine, invested LeHavre, and pushed on to the Somme. On crossing the Aisne, the 7th Crops of the First Army turned northward and raced on to Mons in a brilliant stroke that cut off five of the retreating German divisions. The pocket thus formed yielded over 22,000 prisoners with heavy additional losses of killed and wounded.

Overrunning Reims and Chalons, our Third Army pushed eastward, nourished often by air supply, and by 7 September had reached the line of the Moselle from Nancy to the vicinity of Metz. On 11 September elements of the Third Army contacted Seventh Army columns northwest of Dijon. Four days later the 6th Army Group passed to operational control of Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Forces, severing its fighting connection with the Mediterranean theater, though its supply was continued for some time from Italy On 16 September approximately 20,000 occupational troops of the German Army from the Biscayne Bay area, moving northeastward toward Germany, surrendered to the commander of the U. S. 83d Division southwest of Orleans.

To the north, our First Army had crossed the Belgian frontier on 2 September, captured Liege on the 8th, crossed Luvembourg, and entered Germany on the 11th. The enemy had been kept completely off balance. As the Allies approached the German border, supply lines were stretched to the limit and the marching columns of the armies were maintained only by the full use of air transportation, fast double-lane, one-way track routes, such as the famous Red Ball Express from the Normandy beaches to Paris, and other emergency measures. Logistical difficulties now began to slow down the advance. Time was needed for the opening of additional ports and for the relaying and repair of hundreds of miles of French railroads.

Rites Set Today For Jessie P. Gibbens

Funeral services for Jessie P. Gibbens, 94, who died early Tuesday at the home or his son, C. H. Gibbens, route 4, Lubbock, will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Midland First Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Midland cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

He had lived in Lubbock county for a year.

Other survivors are two sons, J. P. Gibbens of Midland and Bryant Gibbens of Denver City.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

I WOULD like to recommend to every community in the country a feature which has just been inaugurated in Danbury, Conn. It is a Public Recognition party to be given in honor of all residents who have become 21 years of age during the year.

The program will be primarily of a patriotic nature and several of the city's most prominent citizens will address the young people and explain the duties and the responsibilities of citizenship.

BRANDEIS

More than 500 boys and girls 21 years old have been invited and the largest auditorium in the city will be used to take care of them and their families.

• • •

I don't maintain that such a celebration will make Danbury or any other city or town a model community or that it will eliminate all vice and crime and juvenile delinquency. But something should surely be done to give American citizenship more glamour and dignity than it now has.

There isn't a country in the world that does not envy Americans their liberty and their prerogatives.

Every serviceman with whom I have talked tells me how hungrily the peoples of Europe listen to every story of of American life. They can't believe that here in this country every man and woman can freely elect the government, can worship according to conscience and faith, can criticise and ridicule whomever he or she pleases, can live without fear and force and want.

Yet how much thought do we ever give to those priceless privileges? What gratitude do we show to God and country for the free possession of treasures which, to obtain, millions would gladly give their lives?

We blithely go through life completely oblivious of our blessings. We waste enough each day to feed a starving nation.

And when we get to be twenty-one and acquire the right to vote thousands of us are too lazy to go to the polls.

• • •

ISN'T it about time that acquisition of full citizenship be made a solemn occasion — as solemn as christening, confirmation or marriage?

Isn't your twenty-first birthday the day on which you are christened a citizen, confirmed into the exercise of your constitutional rights and duties, and married to your country — to honor and cherish till death do you part?

Perhaps all this may sound a bit maudlin. It may sound maudlin to you in your good, old American "so what?" way of skipping through life.

But ask any Pole or Austrian or Belgian or Franchman or Czech who has been under the heel of a Hitler.

To him what I say would not be maudlin.

It would be the answer to a prayer.

Blame Is Not Truman's

Chinese Row Hangover From FDR

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ANY POLITIAL embarrassment to the Truman administration from Pat Hurley's resignation and his denunciation of our foreign policy can be chalked up as a hangover from the Roosevelt regime, in the opinion of diplomatic insiders. No blame appears to attach to the late President, for our original attitude to the struggling Chinese factions was forced on us by the necessities of war.

Here is the situation as the spokesmen for both camps represent it:

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill had to accept Chiang Kai-shek as the responsible ruler of China. They built him up, and made him the symbol of Chinese prestige and power.

TUCKER

His people had been fighting Japan for more than a decade. Had he fallen during our conflict with Tokyo, it would have been a major psychological calamity for the Allied powers in both the European and Oriental theaters.

Mr. Hurley was only one of a succession of special emissaries sent to Chungking to compose the differences between Chiang and the rival Communists.

Others were Henry Wallace, Donald Nelson and Wendell Willkie. None succeeded, not even the recently resigned ambassador. But they kept Chiang on top of the pile in so far as the outside world knew.

President Truman apparently feels that he cannot afford to switch horses now, even if he wants to. It is also probable that Russia's aggressive tactics in Eastern Europe, the Middle East and the Balkans prevent him from assuming a more friendly attitude to the Chinese Communists.

• • •

SUPPLIES: Our military leaders in that area, as well as more experienced diplomats, notified Washington periodically that the Chinese Communists were almost the only units putting up real resistance to the Japanese invaders. Despite insufficiency of arms, they were harassing the enemy in the northern theater, where opposition was most costly to Tokyo.

These same leaders charged that Chiang was hoarding our lend-lease supplies for use in the factional warfare he looked for after the final defeat of Japan. They say that these withheld weapons — and current dispatches appear to support their assertions — equip the Nationalist troops now trying to expel the Reds from Manchuria.

• • •

DISUNITY: Gen. "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell also insisted that a portion of these supplies be shipped to the Communists. He was relieved on a protest from Chiang that was backed by Ambassador Hurley.

A long string of diplomatic aides, among them former Ambassador Clarence E. Gauss, was sent back to Washington because, so Mr. Hurley charged they were fomenting disunity by demanding that American military aid be given to the Communists.

Secretary James F. Byrnes, perhaps unwittingly, admitted that Mr. Truman were merely pursuing the old Roosevelt program. The South Carolinian, who was obviously "sweating it out" when he tried to explain the Hurley walkout to the press, said: "Our policy toward China has not changed." Unfortunately for Washington, the pattern of events in the Orient and elsewhere has assumed an entirely different color—Red.

• • •

TRADERS: President Truman's human loyalty to his predecessor's foreign and domestic policies may prove to be a costly political undertaking. He is trying to execute a program and promises which, however necessary and justifiable for the sake of wartime unity among the Allies in their hour of crisis, are almost certain to make enemies for the postwar executor.

In his dealings with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin, FDR had to make pledges not in general accord with the Atlantic Charter, the Teheran statement of our historic foreign philosophy. Similarly, he had to play with the somewhat undemocratic and reactionary Chiang Kai-shek faction in China.

Despite America's great contributions of men and material to Allied victory, Messrs. Stalin, Churchill and Chiang were hard traders. None had become the head of his state, to paraphrase Mr. Churchill, "in order to liquidate his empire.'

Thus, to use a poker expression, Mr. Truman much cash chips which he never bought or heard of before he entered the White House.

• • •

DIFFERENCES: In an almost premonitory address, President Roosevelt seemed to recognize that he was giving hostages and committing any successor to difficult decisions. In his last major message to Congress, January 6, 1945, he forecast future troubles.

In the foreign field he promised a policy of self-determination for liberated peoples, although, he added ruefully, "it is difficult to guess what kind of self-government people will want."

He expressed deep concern over events in Poland and Greece, where Russia and Britain were apparently seeking to dominate the new regimes, but he warned against "exaggeration and exploitation of differences among our Allies."

TEXAS
By Gordon Shearer

AUSTIN.—Whether the Texas Senate can meet independently of the House of Representatives, or not, is due for a test here on next January 8.

Before the last session of the legislature ended on June 5, here, 12 senators voted for a resolution to reconvene the Senate on Jan. 8, 1946 "for the purposes of acting on and confirming or rejecting such appointments and nominations of the governor as the Constitution and laws of the state require the Senate to act upon and confirm or reject."

The plan, authored by Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston, was designed to give the Senate a vote on "interim appointments."

Heretofore appointments made by the governor after end of one session of the legislature were not submitted to the Senate for confirmation until the next regular session, or a special session of the whole legislature.

But now it has become apparent that there is going to be no special session of the whole legislature called before Jan. 6, 1946, so a test of the Moore plan seems inevitable.

• • •

EFFECTS: Rulings and possible court contests may have a far reaching effect on appointments for years to come.

First stumbling block in the Moore plan is the matter of securing a quorum of the Senate at the specified time. But 2 of 31 Senators voted for the holding of the January session. A quorum requires attendance of 21 senators. Beside the 12 who voted for the session, two more are definitely in favor of it as they "paired" with opponents when the vote was taken.

That would make a total of 14 senators for the unusual session.

If the 14 attend they can force attendance of enough to get a quorum — if they can find them and have them brought to Austin.

A legal test of the plan may come at that point. By writ of habeas corpus a senator could contest his summons and it would then be up to the court where the writ was filed to rule if the Jan. 8 meeting was a lawful one.

If this sort of session is held constitutional the next problem will be to get the appointments submitted. Gov. Coke R. Stevenson may choose to ignore the Senate meeting — and the governor cannot be mandamused. Whether the senators could act on the appointments as filed with the Secretary of State is aonther question.

Contract Settlement Office Big Success

War Contracts Terminated

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—Frequently something is news, paradoxically, because it isn't news.

Sometimes a government agency runs along so smoothly, without fuss friction or feuds, that it attracts no notice nor makes no headlines. It is encouraging to find one in these days when the papers are so full of troubles.

STOKES

Such a quiet, efficient operation — and it is in one of the biggest reconversion jobs of all—is that of the Office of Contract Settlement of which Robert H. Hinckley is director. It goes about its business unobstrusively in the Federal Reserve building here.

There was a time, before it was organized, when the settlement of the great flood of cancelled contracts and the necessary clearing of plants of war machinery and equipment were accepted as likely to be one of the worst headaches. It was so after the last war. Some of those contracts still haven't been settled.

But a big part of the job for this war already has been done and so efficiently that nobody ever bothers about it.

• • •

Part Of Story Told

Part of the story was touched on briefly by President Truman in his reconversion report. Settlements have been reached in $27 billion worth of cancelled contracts, some cancelled before VJ-Day and in a big rush since. The surrender of Japan brought termination of 113,000 prime contracts involving $24 billion.

The total of cancelled contracts altogether was around $62 billion leaving $35 billion still to be settled. In number, the total was 287,500, of which 203,000 have been adjusted and settled, leaving 84,500. A remarkable job has been done in clearing plants. In almost all cases, terminations, inventories and government-owned plant equipment have been achieved in the 60 days prescribed by the Contract Settlement act—many in far less time.

• • •

MR. HINCKLEY, who is experienced both in business and government, deserves great credit. Contractors are highly pleased. Thus far, out of this mass of business, appeals have been filed by contractors in only 21 cases.

The director, who had served the Roosevelt administration in numerous capacities, was drafted from private business in July, 1944, to set up the Contract Settlement office, a co-ordinating agency for the War and Navy department contract divisions and those of the Maritime commission, Reconstruction Finance Corp., and Treasury.

• • •

Still Big Job Ahead

The nature of the gigantic Contract Settlement operation may be seen from the fact that on Sept. 30, this year, the War department still had 22,000 people engaged full-time in contract settlement; the Navy, 4,800, and the others only 242 full-time employes on contract work and about 2,000 available for part time work.

Mr. Hinckley's own staff is about 60 now. It has done a splendid job of co-ordination and the huge task was speeded up by giving basic four-hour training courses to some 36,000 persons representing 23,000 firms in 340 towns and cities.

• • •

MR. HINCKLEY, amiable and easy-going, has a deep conviction that government and business men can get along together, and he has proved it in this as well as previous service. He doesn't believe in writing nasty letters, but is a great advocate of meetings around the table. His office has faced some difficult problems, but no tempers were spoiled in their solution.

He has acquired government "know-how" in his long and varied experience here, including director of WPA for 11 western states in the early new deal, in the Civil Aeronautics authority, where he was responsible for developing the Civil Aviation Training program that proved so valuable in wartime, and as assistant secretary of commerce.

It is worthwhile, in the midst of our confusions, to point out a job well done.

Farmers Will Name AAA Committeemen

Saturday election of community committeemen has been announced by Walter Y. Wells, administrative officer of the Agriculture Adjustment Agency here, and polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. with any farmer participating in a AAA program eligible to vote or hold office.

Voting boxes in the various communities will be placed as follows: Hardy, Monroe, Becton, Roosevelt, Wolfforth, Woodrow will vote at their respective schools; Shallowater at the Club house; Idalou and Slaton at the respective City Halls; Hurlwood at the Hurlwood gin; and two boxes for Lubbock in the county court house.

FDR, Hoover Honored By City In Poland

POZNAN, Poland, Dec. 4 (AP) — The city council has issued a decree renaming the two principal squares in Poznan in honor of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover.

Most Polish cities have streets named after Generalissimo Stalin and the Red Army, but this is the firs reported to have accorded a similar honor to any American since the war.

American nations own about 57.7 per cent of the world's present proved crude - oil reserves, estimated at almost 64 billion barrels.

BUYING STEMS DECLINE

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—Stocks suffered an early profit cashing relapse in today's market but late buying of selected rails, utilities, aircraft manufacturing issues and assorted industrials stemmed the decline and enabled scattered favorites to emerge with comfortable gains.

Transfers of 2,310,000 shares compared with 2,610,000 Monday, largest since last June 28.

Hopes that the Truman labor recommendations would quickly be put into effect by Congress and widespread strikes settled served to encourage bullish forces notwithstanding union opposition. Business optimism and inflation ideas persisted as purchasing arguments. Sale of a stock exchange membership for $86,000, off $4,000 from a previous transaction Monday, was viewed as a bit bearish.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off .1 of a point at 76.1, first dip since last Thursday. The rail composite, though, was up .2 of a point at 48.6, a new top since March 17, 1937. The market was broad, 1,010 issues appearing. Of these 415 were lower, 395 higher and 200 unchanged.

Grumman Aircraft advanced 3⅝ points. Lesser improvement was retained by Southern Pacific, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry and American Telephone.

Casualties, of as much as 2 points for Eastern Air Lines, included Pan-American Airways, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Warner Bros., Johns-Manville, Anaconda, Santa Fe and Texas Co.

Bonds were spotty.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP) — Cotton futures market advanced into new seasonal high ground today on aggressive commission house and mill buying. Some trade buying in the March position was associated with the French purchase of cotton. After reaching gains of 85 cents a bale, the market reacted partially on profit taking and hedging with buying less aggressive.

Futures closed 35 to 55 cents a bale higher.

Deer, Christmas Tree Hunters Open Seasons

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 4 (U.P.)—Christmas tree hunters, armed with axes, and deer hunters, armed with guns, are expected to present no hazard to one another in the Sandia mountains, forestry officials said here today.

Hunting season in the Sandia refuge is set for Dec. 7-10, with Christmas trees available to those who want to cut their own from Dec. 8-16.

However, pinon trees offered to cutters will be taken from the Cedro canyon area, south of Highway 66, whereas the game refuge is located across the highway, Cibola forest, officials said, adding that the difference between a dear and innocent tree-chopper should be easily distinguished by a hunter.

Man Admits Robbing New Mexico Bank

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 4 (U.P.)— Guadalupe Martinez, 23, a farm laborer, has confessed to robbing the Espanola, N. M., State bank on two occasions, FBI officers said in Santa Fe today.

The first robbery occured last Nov. 11, and the second was last Sunday morning.

Martinez, according to the FBI, related that he was unable to enter the vault either time, and that he took only a few dollars from a cash box in the first holdup, and got only a few pennies for his second day's work.

The second robbery attempt was discovered when fire broke out in the rear of the bank. Martinez said he had dropped a cigarette, causing $300 damage.

Martinez was arrested at a dance by Rio Arriba county sheriff Ernest Lopez, and Marshal Archuleta of Espanola.

The Rio Arriba officers delivered Martinez to the FBI office at Santa Fe, saying he had already confessed. The Federal Bureau of Investigation said he was being held in Santa Fe city jail, and would be charged with bank robbery.

U. S. Navy Not To Stop Transporting Chinese

CHINSIEN, Manchuria, Dec. 4 (U.P.)—Admiral Daniel E. Barbey, commander of the U. S. 7th fleet, was understood today to have informed Gen. Tu Li-Ming that the U. S. Navy would not transport any new contingents of Chinese Nationalist troops to the Civil war zone.

It was implied that with inauguration of the Chinese air supply line, the U. S. Navy would withdraw from transporting Nationalist units from rear bases to North China and Manchuria.

Student Agitation In China May Pose New Problem For Nation

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4—Censorship in Chungking appears to have hidden the full facts and meaning of what went on in the city of Kunming last Saturday.

One report said several thousand students held an anti-civil war rally there, and that there was trouble.

WHITE

Another which got past the Chungking censor said that a "retired soldier" threw a hand grenade which killed four students and injured nine during disorders touched off by the rally.

The political importance of students in China can be overestimated, but it is a fact that since the first Nationalistic murmurings against the Manchus late in the last century they have led the field in agitating for political reform. Many of China's present leaders, both radical and conservative, were passionate advocates of reform during their student days.

Students Enter Politics

It's one of the first principles of politics in China that when students begin tearing their hair you can look for trouble.

This is because students can read, which sets them apart from the vast majority of their countrymen. Reading, they absorb ideas. They also are young, impetuous, unburdened by material responsibilities, and sometimes foolish. They also enjoy some of the universal Chinese respect for anyone who can read. And in the old days you didn't become a scholar unless you had your eye on an official position.

Students Oppose War

Against this background the anti-civil war rally in Kunming assumes an importance scarcely suggested by the meager news we have on it. The apparent student emphasis on avoiding civil war could only mean adverse criticism both of the central government and the Communists, both of which have held out on what the other side considers essential concessions if a peaceful settlement is to be reached.

The student agitation looks also as though it were in line with the platform of China's new Democratic league, which is a fusion of six minor political parties advocating a coalition government.

Agitation Often Leftish

Student agitation in China is almost always leftish and often is sparked by boys and girls who have read Karl Marx and such stuff, but it always contains idealistic youngsters who think they know what to do about what ails the nation.

One report about the Kunming affair says that an official of the Chungking ministry of education has gone to Kunming. He doubtless wil be armed with authority to cut off the subsidy which the government gives many students because they are too poor to pay their own way through school.

Kunming is where many of the eastern Chinese universities and colleges wound up in 1937 when they fled the coast before the Japanese advance. Although the city was dominated by the old-style war-lord Lung Yun, a degree of academic freedom flourished there, and Kunming newspapers were allowed to criticize the Chiang Kai-Shek government in Chungking more than Chungking papers could.

Recently Chiang Kai-Shek cracked down, deposed Lung Yun and put his own official in command at Kunming.

The reports don't say how that "retired soldier" happened to be at the student rally, nor how he happened to have a hand-grenade along, nor why he threw it.

Senators Promised Names Of Appointees

AUSTIN, Dec. 4 (U.P.)—Secretary of State Claude Isbell today said the name of appointees named by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson since the last session of the state legislature will be available to senators if they hold their threatened confirmation session here Jan. 8.

Such a session of the Senate alone was ordered before adjournment of the regular session of the House and Senate.

Stevenson has ignored the proposed meeting of senators. He is not expected to submit the appointments if the senators gather.

Isbell said he would give the names to any senator who asked for them or to any individual—that they are public record. But he said he did not attempt to pass on the legal question of whether a furnished list of the names from his office would amount to submission of the appointments by the governor for approval or rejection.

With slightly more than 50 appointments already made since last session of the legislature, the governor will have two more important places to fill before the scheduled meeting of senators.

There are places on the state board of control and the public safety commission, which have a member each with a term to end Jan. 1.

Harris County Demos Approve Plan To Put Smith On Program

HOUSTON, Dec. 4 (AP) — The Harris county club of Young Democrats today had gone on record as being opposed to the plan of the program committee to bar Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith from speaking at the state convention in Fort Worth.

Lewis Dickson, floor leader of the Harris county group, at a meeting last night, said the Harris county young Democrats feel that it is contrary to the state constitution of the organization to refuse any person who is seeking a Democratic nomination in Texas a chance to address the convention.

Pfc. Heinrich was given a recuperation leave upon the 97th Division's return from Europe in July. The units of the 97th Division are occupying 10,000 square miles in the heart of Honshu Island and has over five million Japanese under its jurisdiction.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. 609
