Payroll-sex scandal

Ethics panel orders Hays probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House ethics committee voted quickly and overwhelmingly today to "proceed immediately with a full investigation" of the Wayne Hays payroll-sex scandal. The chairman said Hays will be invited to appear.

Hays, a Democratic congressman from Ohio, has asked to testify, said Chairman John J. Flynt Jr., D-Ga., adding that he presumes Hays will be put under oath.

Asked whether Elizabeth Ray also will be called as a witness, Flynt said:

"I don't know that Miss Ray will be the first witness." Pressed by reporters to explain, Flynt said: "We have not subpoenaed her, if that's what you mean."

He said she would be subpoenaed "if necessary."

Flynt was asked whether Miss Ray would be granted immunity if she testified before the panel. "Let's roll up our britches when we get to that creek," he replied.

"So far as I know, no members of the committee or the committee staff have been in direct or indirect contact with Miss Ray," Flynt said. "She has not written or telephoned or talked to any of them."

Miss Ray, 33, claims Hays put her on the staff of his House Administration Committee to be his mistress. Hays, 65, has admitted having a "personal relationship" with her but denies she was hired to provide him with sex.

With one member absent, the committee voted 11-0 to approve a request for the investigation from 28 House members. There was no debate before the vote. Flynt said he hopes to start the probe "possibly as early as tomorrow."

He said he assumes the committee will go ahead without preliminary studies that have been called for in other cases it has handled in the past. Flynt said he expects to call another meeting of the panel Thursday morning.

The motion to "proceed immediately" was made by Rep. James H. Quillen, R-Tenn. Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex. was absent.

Before the committee met, some members had questioned whether its investigation should begin right away or whether it should await further action by a federal grand jury, which is investigating as well.

"We will, of course, request the cooperation of the Justice Department, and I have an idea we will ask the Justice Department if our procedure might compromise their investigation," Flynt said.

In Boston, House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. said Hays should step down as chairman of his two powerful committees, the Herald American reported.

With election-year politics in the background, seven other House Democrats, including a Hays defender, asked that he step aside as chairman, at least until "the issues raised by his conduct" are resolved.

The seven sent a letter to each of the other 283 Democrats in the House declaring that "the best interests of the American people, the House of Representatives and the Democratic party" would be served if Hays stepped down.

"The integrity of Congress has been shaken and prompt action is needed to begin restoring that confidence," the letter said. It said the seven signers would offer a resolution to the Democratic Caucus later this month calling for Hays to step aside and for his two committees to elect acting chairmen.

Local Demos to be voting at four places

Absentee voting indicates light turnout in runoff

If absentee voting is indicative, the turnout in the Saturday Democratic runoff will be light.

When absentee voting in the county clerk's office ended Tuesday afternoon, 31 had cast ballots.

There were 50 mailed ballots which are not due until 1 p.m. election day.

But most of these were sent in response to the same military absentee voting application used for the first Democratic primary.

"It was considerably light for a second primary," County Clerk Margaret Ray said. "More like a constitutional amendment election," she added, laughing.

Democrats will be choosing from candidates for two statewide offices only in Howard County from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

State Rep. Jon Newton, 35, Beeville, is opposing Jerry Sadler, 68, a former land commissioner from Austin, in the race for the Texas Railroad Commission.

Carl Dally, 52, now a commissioner for the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, is one of two seeking election as a justice with the court. The other is W. T. Phillips, 63, a Waco attorney.

Democrats will be voting at four places with four voting devices in each, County Clerk Margaret Ray said. The party is utilizing the county's punch-card voting equipment.

Wesley Yater will be election judge for county commissioners precinct one at the North Side Fire Station.

In commissioners precinct two, the voting place is the Washington elementary school. Jeanette Mansfield is the judge.

Democrats in commissioners precinct three should go to the 18th and Main Street Fire Station where John Roemer is judge.

James Baird is the election judge for the consolidated box in commissioners precinct four at the Fourth and Nolan Street Fire Station.

Persons who voted in the Republican primary are warned against voting in the Democratic runoff. This is a misdemeanor punishable by fines up to $2,000 or a year in jail or both.

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Wilmer Jean Ballard, 50, granted a new trial on the charge of killing a Garden City rancher, remained in Tom Green County jail today after a district judge denied Tuesday a pretrial defense motion to reduce bail.

Ballard is scheduled to stand trial in San Angelo June 21. He is in the county jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

The motion was one of seven that 51st Dist. Judge Earl W. Smith overruled in a pretrial hearing.

The others were change of venue, two motions to set aside the indictment, a motion to disqualify the special prosecutor hired by the rancher's family, a motion for discovery to allow Tuesday's court-appointed defense attorney to acquaint himself with the case and a motion to suppress evidence.

Ballard, serving a life sentence in connection with the 1970 shotgun slaying of rancher Steve Currie, was granted a new trial on the murder charge when the Court of Criminal Appeals overturned the conviction.

The new trial was moved to San Angelo on a change of venue from Fort Stockton on April 24.

Ballard was accused in the December 1970 shooting death of the Glascock County man, who was killed by a point-blank blast from a shotgun when he struggled with men who apparently broke into his house.

Ballard's 1972 conviction was returned by an Alpine jury.

Ballard's 1972 conviction was returned by an Alpine jury with death set as punishment. Former Gov. Preston Smith later commuted it to life imprisonment.

Guilford L. Jones, who was the special prosecutor assisting then District Attorney Wayne Burns, will continue in this capacity.

Present District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III helped investigate for the earlier trial. Gerald Fohn, 51st district attorney, also will assist the prosecution.

Defending Ballard will be Bobby Bearden, Midland, who represented Ballard in Alpine, and Jerry Johnson, San Angelo.

For 'noncompliance'

County may lose Webb AFB for possible airport use

By JOHN EDWARDS

A letter being prepared to notify county officials of noncompliance with Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) grant agreements could prevent the possible future county takeover of Webb AFB as an airport, an FAA spokesman said today.

But the county's noncompliance would not prevent the city government from gaining use of the base as an airport if Webb is closed.

And the county still may satisfy FAA requirements and become a possible recipient of the airport at Webb AFB in the future, Bill Howard, chief of the FAA's airports district office in Albuquerque, N.M., said.

Commissioners court denied Louis Rosenbaum, the El Paso president of the local airlines, a fixed-base operator's lease in December.

Rosenbaum protested to the FAA. The FAA determined County Commissioners court had granted Big Spring Aircraft Inc., the only present FBO at Howard County Airport, "exclusive rights."

Tuesday was the deadline for commissioners court to start complying with the FAA ruling.

Howard, in a telephone conversation, said county officials have not contacted Rosenbaum, the local Trans Regional Airline manager or the local airline attorney.

So a letter stating the noncompliance is being prepared, Howard said. Starting with the date of the letter, the county will be "in noncompliance."

"It is not retroactive" the FAA representative said. The violation of regulations will not affect previous FAA grants for the local airport.

Until and unless the commissioners court satisfies the FAA, the county then will be ineligible for FAA airport improvement grants and surplus property provided through the FAA, Howard said.

Surplus property available through the FAA includes real property, like the base, and personal property, like equipment and vehicles which could be used at the airport, Howard said.

FAA representatives have not acted on a written suggestion that he meet with commissioners court June 14 or 18, Howard said.

On May 26, County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. was authorized to continue investigating the possibility of granting Rosenbaum an FBO lease.

Commissioners then also instructed Eysen to contact Big Spring Aircraft officials about terminating this firm's FBO lease. Some county officials suggested the county could assume management of the airport and not grant Rosenbaum a lease without violating FAA regulations.

House extends FEA mandate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Administration apparently is getting a new lease on life, but it won't be as long as the agency wanted.

The House voted 194-172 Tuesday night on an amendment extending the FEA's mandate for 18 months through Dec. 31, 1977. It then voted 270-94 to authorize the agency to spend $216 million through fiscal 1977.

The next step is up to the Senate, which is expected to agree to a limited extension of the FEA's lifespan.

The agency, which would be forced out of business at the end of the month without a new mandate from Congress, wanted a 39-month extension. The House Commerce Committee had endorsed the 39-month extension and recommended a $256.4 million FEA budget.

But the full House trimmed both committee proposals. The House also rejected efforts to kill the FEA outright and to transfer some of its functions to other government agencies.

RUINED THE TRIP — Dr. Selim H. Elzayat, a doctor from India, was en route from Baltimore to Phoenix when he lost control of his station wagon when it had a flat. He was in Mitchell County just across the Howard County line and the vehicle spun completely around and fell upside down in the ditch. State Trooper Marvin Kennan said the driver was still fastened in with his seat belt. A lot of medical records were scattered and were gathered up while the doctor was taken to Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City for minor injuries. The wreck occurred at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Courage?

Q. In the Herald's Tuesday, May 25, paper, an article by Jack Anderson entitled: "Ford's Courage," said, "Even more astounding, he (Ford) ordered the shutdown of four Air Force bases in states he (Ford) was counting on for votes." As we know, Webb was one. My question is didn't Ford, by local and other interviews, say that Congress was responsible for the Base Closures?

A. Ford said that very thing in a statement made before a representative of The Herald and other newsmen in the White House. Elaborating, the president said he could not be held responsible for the austerity defense budget Congress had embraced.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Want a dinner guest? Someone to take to the beach or to a sporting event? Help with a foreign language? The Navy may have the answer, and in Norfolk it's as close as the telephone.

There's no set number for Dial-a-Sailor, the Navy said. It will change each time foreign warships come to town.

The idea, the Navy said, is to make it easy for the area's residents to meet visiting seamen.

Dial-a-Sailor will ring into action Saturday, when five Dutch warships dock at the Norfolk Naval Station for a two-week stay.

Best bet on TV: Ranger game

Tonight's best bet has to be the Texas Ranger baseball game. The Rangers, only one game out of first place in the American League West, take on the Chicago White Sox in the windy city. Jim Umberger (5-3) will start for the Rangers while Jefferson (1-1) will start for the Sox. Game time is 8 p.m. on the Texas Ranger Network, which includes Big Spring's Channel 4.

Tuesday primaries

Everybody wins, except Udall

Rhode Island Democrats have thrown additional question marks into the Democratic race for president by giving Jerry Brown what he says is a victory that makes him the preeminent challenger to front-runner Jimmy Carter.

On a primary day in which the voters continued to send out mixed signals and five of the six major candidates involved claimed some sort of victory, the most noted result was in Rhode Island.

There a small turnout of voters gave an uncommitted slate 32 per cent of the vote to 30 per cent for Carter, the former Georgia governor, and 28 per cent for Idaho Sen. Frank Church.

Brown, the California governor, had urged voters to vote uncommitted, and when they did, he said they were really voting for him.

In other results from Tuesday's primaries, Ronald Reagan defeated

President Ford in Republican voting in Montana and South Dakota but Ford gained a 2-1 victory in Rhode Island and swept all 19 delegates there. That gave the President a 28-11 edge in delegates for the day, although Montana has still to select its slate of 20 at a convention.

Carter, meanwhile, was winning in South Dakota with a 41-34 per cent edge over Arizona Rep. Morris K. Udall, who had hoped to win his first primary and instead finished second for the eighth time. And Church captured Montana easily with over 60 per cent of the vote to 24 per cent for Carter.

So going into next Tuesday's primaries in California, New Jersey and Ohio, which will select 540 Democratic delegates and 331 on the Republican side, this is the way they stand:

Republicans, with 1,130 delegate votes needed for nomination: Ford 805, Reagan 654, uncommitted 144. Democrats, with 1,505 needed: Carter 903, Udall 308.5, with an uncommitted bloc of 415.5. Brown, who got no official delegates on Tuesday, is far down the list with 22.5, although he should improve that standing next week in his home state of California where there are 280 at stake. On the whole, Carter said, it wasn't a bad day. On the Republican side, both Ford and Reagan claimed the day as a victory.

Exchange student bares fact no polar bears live in Finland

No polar bears live in Finland, and the Finnish people are not related to the Eskimos.

Those are two misconceptions about Finland which 18-year-old Tarza Papaninen has found in the U.S. and which she sought to correct in a Tuesday noon talk on her country to the Big Spring Rotary Club.

Miss Papaninen, who has been an exchange student to Stanton High during the past school year, revealed that some Americans appear to confuse what little they know about Finland with Alaska.

She gave Rotarians a summary of her native land, the second northernmost nation in the world after Iceland.

Miss Papaninen, who is living with Exxon station owner Jack Cook and family in Stanton, said Finland is about the size of California and has 4.8 million people.

A land of 60,000 lakes, it is dark all of the day during the winter and light all day in the summer, she said.

Finland, a nation which follows a policy of neutrality, has a 200-member parliamentary government with a president who serves six-year terms, she said. The country has 15 political parties.

For American students who think they have to study too much, Miss Papaninen commented that she felt high school in Finland was much harder. The country has only nine universities, and there is much competition to get in them, she said.

The forestry industry accounts for 60 per cent of Finland's exports, and three-fourths of the land is covered with trees, she said.

"The farms in Finland are small — here in Texas I can say tiny," she said.

Miss Papaninen added that she had found Texas to be a place of contrasts and very friendly people. She said she had been told that West Texas would be flat, but she wasn't prepared for just how flat it really is.

She is in the U.S. as a part of the "Youth for Understanding" program. She will return to Finland where she has two more years of high school to complete.

She was introduced by Rotarian Charles Weeg.

'A Delicate Balance' includes Stantonite

A Stantonite, two Odessans and three Midlanders comprise the cast of "A Delicate Balance," the Midland Community Theatre production opening Friday night.

Bickley Powell from Stanton and Shirley Ireland from Midland appear as Harry and Edna, who flee their home in the production, because of some unnamed terror.

Midlander Pat Griffith and Odessan Richard Phillips portray Agnes and Tobias, a sedate well-to-do couple whose home is suddenly invaded by friendly but uninvited guests.

The part of Julia is played by Flo Hughes, a Permian Playhouse veteran from Odessa. Mary Lou Cassidy, another Midlander, completes the cast, playing the role of an alcoholic.

"A Delicate Balance" won the 1967 Pulitzer Prize. Art Cole is directing the production, assisted by Jerry Watson of Midland College. Pat Voss is stage manager.

Seven performances are scheduled, including a matinee June 13. Reservations may be made by calling the Midland Community Theatre Box Office 682-2544.

THE OLD WEST — Encircled by 100-year-old barbed wire, saddles, branding irons and ropes give vivid testimony to scenes of the early days in Big Spring. The items are just some of the many in the new exhibit at the Heritage Museum.

'Name Your Pizen' displayed

'Pot Pourri Exhibit' proves fascinating

By DANNY REAGAN

The Heritage Museum is the scene of a new and very interesting exhibition entitled, appropriately enough, "The Pot Pourri Exhibit."

Mrs. Gerri Atwell, curator of the local museum, said that even though the gallery changes exhibits throughout the year, she plans to maintain this unique collection of items from the early west all summer.

A popular item that is up once again in the museum is a series of about a dozen blowups of pages from Shine Phillips book, "Big Spring." The first pages of such chapters as "Water Hole," "She's taken bad, Doc!," "Law and Disorder," and "Name Your Pizen" decorate one of the walls.

Against the long north wall of the room hangs a number of enlargements of photographs from early Big Spring, circa the turn of the century.

The most outstanding photograph, and the one that has seen more reproduction in magazines and books is the one depicting a Saturday night dance at a bunkhouse.

A number of cowhands all with handlebar mustaches stand around a group of seated musicians, a guitar player, fiddle and mandolin, while one cowboy dances with another who has an apron on.

That picture, as well as many others, are very fascinating, not only for their historical significance, but for the human quality that is portrayed in each of them.

The photos are interspersed with many old branding irons, "the rocking horse," "the quarter moon," and "the lazy S."

The most impressive section of the exhibit in total scope is the collection of paintings by Big Spring artist, H. W. Caylor, (1890-1932).

Some of the better paintings include "Drift Fence," an eerie and chilling scene of longhorns braving the snow of West Texas, driven by the slicing northern winds.

"The Castaway," a painting of the late Kate Morrison's horse, being thrown out in the cold, as the new Model T Ford gets the barn instead. (Kate Morrison elementary school was named after Mrs. Morrison.)

"Cowboy's Prayer," an inspiring portrait of a cowboy, kneeling by his horse, bowing his head in prayer in the middle of the desert at sunset.

...and perhaps his most famous picture, "The Comanche Bride," a painting of a Comanche warrior's bride of silver and black leather and feathers. A reproduction of the painting hangs in the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma.

The bride was taken from an Indian who shot the early Big Spring pioneer George T. Reynolds (1844-1925). Reynolds recovered from the wound and Caylor painted the captured bride for him as a remembrance.

Another remarkable item in the exhibit is the late Earl Read's famous chair of horns. The chair was the first prize, (5,000), winner in the Chicago World's Fair.

Other record length horns from the late hotel owner's collection, donated by concerned citizens, adorn the walls.

There are many Indian artifacts in the new display. Indian cooking, storage and water baskets, woven from cedar bark and reeds are in near perfect condition, and enhance the Indian section that includes arrowheads, ropes, pottery shards and other engrossing items.

For the uninitiated, the Comanche War Trail once went through Big Spring. The original spring was a source of water for the braves and the museum has a number of photos and maps which give a rather vivid impression of what the scene of warriors and families must once have looked.

On the right, as one enters the door to the museum, stands the mechanism which has to be considered the memorial to Will Knox Edwards, early Big Spring resident and inventor.

The exhibit contains many other interesting features and is well worth the time it takes to see it. Part of Big Spring, (the past), that most of us have not seen is housed in the building at the corner of Scurry and 7th streets. Go see it and catch up on history.

86 Parcels of Martin County land sold at sheriff's auction

"What am I bid on lot 10?" Sheriff Dan Saunders asked during a sheriff's sale on the front steps of the Martin County courthouse Tuesday morning.

A total of 86 parcels of land that had back taxes due all the way back to 1939 were sold in the sheriff's auction.

The cheapest parcel was sold for $10 and a parcel of land was wanted both by the adjoining landowner and a developer went as high as $600.

The entire assortment was purchased by eight different persons. Two buyers probably bid because the lots were adjacent to their land. The other six wanted the land for various reasons.

The approximate total of all purchases was $4,320 and the city and school tax departments will benefit.

Filings were made by the combined departments who turned the parcels over to the sheriff for the sale.

A lot of the lots in question were in the northeast corner of Stanton in the area near the former convent, although not on the old convent property.

For many years, there has been little development in that part of the city since the lots were tied up in tax disputes, according to Mrs. Corene Manning, school tax assessor.

One of the purchasers was from out of town but had business interests in Stanton and all others were from Stanton.

A large crowd gathered on the square for the proceedings, with part of the group simply onlookers there for a good show.

Purchases were tallied in the sheriff's office where cash and checks were used to buy the property.

And a lot of deadwood came off the tax rolls, back into the hands of active taxpayers.

Police beat

Pistol-packing girl fires six times, clips man's head

A westside man was winged behind the ear by a .22 cal. bullet in a scuffle with an enraged woman Tuesday.

Following a report, around 8 p.m. Tuesday, from a neighbor, police found the wounded man at his home where the incident occurred. It was learned that during an argument the man's girl friend had grabbed a .22 cal. pistol and fired six times at him.

The man was reluctant to go to a hospital, and adamantly refused to file assault charges against the woman, according to Big Spring Detective J. D. Carter. The victim was, however, later taken to the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital with minor injuries.

The pistol-packing girl friend was arrested for discharging a firearm in the city limits and public intoxication. A witness to the incident was also arrested for public intoxication.

Still more burglaries were reported in the city Tuesday.

Robbers pried open the front door of a warehouse belonging to Wilson Construction, 408 N. Benton, sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning. Most of the stolen merchandise, totaling $735, was from a fishing boat inside the warehouse.

Missing were three batteries, a tent, two rods and reels, a tackle box and a welding torch and hose. Burglars left an empty beer bottle at the scene.

Burglars broke into the home of Eleanor Matheny, 407 Pennsylvania, through a window Monday night. A loosened screen had been bent outward from the window to gain entry.

It is unknown whether anything was taken from the home, but damage to the window is estimated at $10.

Clyde Wilson, 4036 Vicky, reported Tuesday that thieves had taken a lawn mower from his front yard. The mower was valued at $118.

Farm markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No. 2 were higher by as much as $5.10 a bale in midday dealings today.

Continued wet weather in the central cotton belt, which could hamper development of the crop, prompted buying of futures contracts, brokers said. Some buying was also attributed to speculators who follow price chart signals, the sources said.

The average price for strict low middling 1 1/16-inch spot cotton advanced 45 points to 44.48 cents a pound Monday for the 10 leading markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.

Midday prices were $4.50 to $5.10 a bale higher than the previous close, July 69.10, October 70.10 and December 68.99.

Carrillo argument null

AUSTIN (AP) — Deposed District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo's argument that the "prior term doctrine" prohibits his removal doesn't hold water, Asst. Atty. Gen. Max Flusche told the Texas Supreme Court today.

Flusche argued the Texas Judicial Qualification Commission's case to remove the South Texas judge, who already has been removed by impeachment proceedings in the Senate.

Carrillo's lawyers also are appealing his impeachment and conviction.

Group claims bombing

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — A group calling itself "Revolutionary Cell-Brigade Ulrike Meinhof" claimed responsibility today for bombings that injured 16 persons at a U.S. Army headquarters.

And the destruction of two trucks by arsonists at a U.S. Air Force base near here this morning prompted the Air Force to join the Army in tightening security at all West German bases.

In a letter addressed to The Associated Press and mailed in Frankfurt, the group said "the Revolutionary Cell laid bombs in the headquarters of the U.S.-imperialist occupation army, the European nerve center of NATO and all U.S. secret services, and in their officers club."

Syria seizes refinery

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syrian troops and tanks seized control of the approaches to Sidon, 25 miles south of Beirut, today and occupied the adjacent American oil refinery, leftist Lebanese sources reported.

The sources first said that Syrian troops had taken over Sidon harbor. Later reports said the Syrians were in control of all the approaches to Sidon and were closing in on the town.

King Carlos arrives

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a 21-gun salute, King Juan Carlos I of Spain was welcomed to the White House today as the first Spanish head of state ever to visit the United States.

President Ford, who received the 38-year-old monarch at a red carpet ceremony on the White House lawn, expressed confidence in the king's ability to meet the challenges Spain faces in the post-Franco era. Juan Carlos has been trying to fashion a more progressive regime in Spain after more than 40 years of hard-line rule under Francisco Franco.

Pot bust just election ploy?

MISSION, Tex. (AP) — Hidalgo County Sheriff Claudio Castaneda said he would attempt today to find out some details concerning the arrest of his married daughter on federal marijuana possession charges.

"What a coincidence, coming just four days before the election. It seems a little funny," the sheriff said.

Sheriff Castaneda is involved in a hotly contested campaign for reelection with former deputy Brig. Mar-molejo in a runoff election to be held Saturday. Mar-molejo was the leading candidate in the Democratic primary election, leading Castaneda by a wide margin, but he failed to get a clear majority.

Federal officers said they arrested Mrs. Celia Castaneda Martin, 19, and her husband, Charles Martin, 22, both of Houston, at a U.S. Border Patrol checkpoint near Sarita Sunday after finding about 110 pounds of marijuana.

The Martins and another couple, Thomas Martin, 21, and Paula Martin, 19, were ordered held in the Nueces County Jail at Corpus Christi in lieu of $5,000 bond each following an initial hearing before U.S. Magistrate Phillip Schraub.

Dr. Warren is elected

Dr. Charles O. Warren, chairman of the board of trustees for Howard College, has recently been elected legislative chairperson for the State of Texas by members of the Association of Community College Trustees.

In this capacity, Dr. Warren will be representing all Texas Community College Boards as the views of policy-making bodies are presented to Congress.

Dr. Warren has been on the board at Howard College since 1963, and has served as chairman of the board since April 9, 1974.

Mormon will said genuine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A purported will that leaves millions to a Utah service station owner contains many of the same quirks that appear in documents Howard Hughes wrote years ago and probably is genuine, a handwriting expert says.

Michael Kradz, a Maryland security executive and the latest expert to examine the will, said Tuesday he compared it with a technical business document Hughes wrote in 1954 and with a 1970 letter to two top aides, which appeared in a national magazine in 1971.

"My opinion is that all three documents were written by the same person," Kradz said.

Mrs. Subia, Marks given promotions

Mrs. Belsora Subia, formerly of Fort Stockton and now of Midland, and Jim Marks of Big Spring have been given increases in territorial responsibilities as area supervisors for Dairy Queen of West Texas Inc., owner and operator of 23 of the fast-food restaurants.

Mrs. Subia is now area supervisor for seven of the West Texas Dairy Queens, and Marks for five.

Announcement of their expanded responsibilities were made by James Utley of Midland, executive vice-president of the Company.

Mrs. Subia has been given responsibility for four Dairy Queens in Midland, in addition to the three restaurants in Alpine, Fort Stockton and Van Horn which she has previously supervised.

Mrs. Subia first joined the company as manager of the Fort Stockton Dairy Queen in 1970, when that restaurant was in its first year of operation. She was then promoted to area supervisor in 1974.

Marks, who joined the DQ organization only recently as supervisor of its three restaurants in Big Spring, has had his territory expanded to include the Dairy Queens in Andrews and Stanton.

Dairy Queen of West Texas Inc., which owns and operates DQ restaurants in 18 cities and towns, is one of four DQ corporations of which I. B. (Barney) Chapman II of Fort Worth is the president and majority owner. Combined, the Chapman companies encompass more than 50 of the fast-food restaurants in three states, making him the nation's largest private Dairy Queen operator.

Besides the seven cities and towns for which Mrs. Subia and Marks are the area supervisors, the other 11 places where there are Dairy Queen of West Texas restaurants are: Borger, Canadian, Clarendon, Dalhart, Floydada, Haskell, Hobbs, N.M., Muleshoe, Perryton, Stamford and Sweetwater.

Kradz said in a telephone interview from Elk Ridge, Md.

Kradz, who wouldn't say who he is working for, is the second handwriting expert to conclude that the so-called Mormon will is genuine. Three other experts said the document was forged.

The document was discovered at the Church of

Couple beaten found dead

HOUSTON (AP) — Police said today a young Houston couple whose bodies were found off a muddy farm road in West Harris County had been beaten and shot.

The victims were identified as Lawrence J. Watson Jr. and his wife, Judith Ann Watson, 19. The bodies were found Tuesday.

Police said their apartment had been ransacked earlier in the day.

They were lying next to each other. The woman's body was nude from the waist down, authorities said.

Police said both had been beaten about the head and both had been shot.

Latter-Day Saints headquarters in Salt Lake City.

Kradz said frequent misspellings in the purported will and inconsistencies between the way words were formed did not alter his opinion that the same person wrote all three documents.

"The same peculiarities were found in all three documents," Kradz said. He added that the frequent misspellings in the purported will might have stemmed from the use of nonbusiness language with which the writer was unfamiliar in written form.

"If you're familiar with words you use in your work, you learn how to spell them, but sometimes common words you tend to misspell," Kradz said.

Kradz, who serves as a training director for Dektor Counterintelligence and Security Inc., said he noticed similarities between words in the purported will and the 1954 business document which did not appear in the published letter.

Los Angeles handwriting expert Charles Sachs indicated last month that the purported will could have been copied from the published letter because words appearing in the letter bore "remarkable similarities" to words in the will.

Sachs said other words which appeared in the will but not the letter bore "remarkable dissimilarities" to the less readily accessible 1954 business document.

Kradz, however, said he noticed similarities between words in the purported will and the 1954 document, implying that the will was not copied.

In another development Tuesday, a Los Angeles Superior Court judge continued until July 8 a motion to remove Richard Gano as administrator of the will. Attorneys for Noah Deltrich, Hughes' top aide who quit in a dispute with the billionaire in 1957, have asked for the removal of Gano, a first cousin of Hughes.

Hughes died April 5. The hand-written, three-page document names Melvin Dummur, of Willard, Utah, as an heir to one-sixteenth of the Hughes' fortune, estimated at up to $2.5 billion.

Dummur has said he gave a hitchhiker claiming to be Hughes a ride in the Nevada desert in 1968.

Stand could cost us dearly

I have spent the most of two afternoons trying to understand the squabble between Howard County Commissioners Court and Trans Regional Airlines owner Louis Rosenbaum.

The result: I still don't understand.

THE ARGUMENT over whether to grant Rosenbaum a fixed operator's lease at Howard County Airport was going on when I arrived in Big Spring, and I feel like I sat down in the middle of a Mission Impossible plot.

Not only do I have to worry about what is going to happen, I must try to determine what has happened, and why. I must have missed the self-destruct tape that set the stage for this plot.

Rosenbaum, whose small airline is providing Big Spring with twice-a-day service to Dallas-Fort Worth, also wants a fixed base operator's license. This means the airlines could operate charter flights, sell gas and other such functions at the county airport.

Howard County commissioners, except one, do not want to give him this lease.

The question has gotten so tangled up in personalities that it will be difficult to get the ruffled feathers smoothed out.

I became concerned recently because of the developing probability that the county could get very crossways with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

The FAA has a rule which requires that airports receiving federal aid be open ones. The county has agreed to this rule through the years as about $125,000 of federal aid has been accepted.

The FAA began looking into the Howard County situation when Rosenbaum appealed a December decision by the commissioners against his request.

The Albuquerque, N.M., office of the FAA took written statements from both Rosenbaum and the commissioners and ruled in favor of Rosenbaum, giving Howard County until June 1 to comply.

THE COMMISSIONERS still would not sign a lease with Rosenbaum, and during the debate the FAA was referred to in some unfriendly and perhaps unfair terms.

This concerned me because a court battle, or even name calling, between the county and the FAA could create an unintended and most unfortunate byproduct of animosity which in the next two years could prove devastating to our community. Should this town lose its fight to save Webb Air Force Base, and I hope that it will not, its leaders are likely to wind up dealing directly with and depending greatly upon the FAA for a program under which to operate this facility.

Don't misunderstand what I am saying. I think this town must fight for Webb as long as there is a reasonable chance of saving it.

But the possibility exists that the fight could be lost. If so, the support and assistance of the FAA could become vital to this community's recovery efforts.

I hope that our commissioners and county judge will keep this in mind as they deal with the FAA. The FAA has the reputation of being among the more reasonable of government agencies, and I hope the commissioners court will leave Howard County with that kind of reputation too.

This community faces enough problems without deliberately self-destructing like the Mission Impossible tape.

Sunday pressures

Around the rim

Carol Hart

At first I wasn't going to do another rim, but when you go around holding your rim and picture and asking everyone if they have read the paper today, it's hard to give it up.

NO, I REALLY didn't do that. I did manage to live through a week of putting out women's news by myself, something I wondered if I could do. Along about the middle of last week, I started to lose my temper. I had several arguments. There are several people you can ask about this. They know who they are. I guess I worried about printing a story that said somebody married somebody that didn't. I hope that no one is reading this that has that complaint. If so, please contact me. I'll correct the mistake.

Around here, we call women's news "soc", which is a good violent name for it. Pressure really starts to set in when one does the Sunday layouts. As in every part of the paper, it is sometimes hard to get things worded right. Thus, one starts to get impatient while typing another draft of a story.

Fortunately, I wasn't screaming into the phone, ripping up reports, or having one of my arguments when Candy Smith (the new women's news editor) came to town. Candy looked over the Herald Saturday, and came to work Monday. She has lots of ideas to put to work here at the Herald. She is also really nice. She hasn't said a word about the way I left the desk Friday night. I had notes all over the top of her desk.

CANDY PLANS to write a rim in this space next week. Right now, we are in the process of trying to get ahead of the deadlines. On Monday, we had to do the layout I should have begun on Saturday. Monday was also Memorial Day, which made it a slow day for "soc" news. Tuesday, we had to catch up on layouts that were delayed because we had to catch up the day before. Understand.

Anyway, anyone out there with news for us please feel free to drop by and leave it with us. You might want to meet Candy between now and next Wednesday when her "rim" is printed. We sit in the little glass cage in the middle of the Herald newsroom. Go to the desk that doesn't have all the Dr. Pepper bottles on it. That'll be Candy. I'm the one at the desk with all the shredded paper lying around it.

Money as educator

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Geoffrey Wagner, a professor of literature, has taught at City College in New York City for a generation. He has maintained a remarkable record. A year does not go by without a book by Wagner, usually a scholarly enterprise, but sometimes a novel, or a travel book. You would not guess from the exuberance and serenity of his work that his teaching duties are conducted in circumstances that would have aroused protest from a conscript schoolteacher in Dickensian London.

FOR YEARS AND years, Professor Wagner has written about the self-defeating features of "open enrollment." This last became a shibboleth in the golden age of Mayor John Lindsay. Simply stated, it is the doctrine that anyone who graduates from a high school in New York City must be admitted, if he applies, to the City system of the University of New York (CUNY) — where, by long tradition, his school tuition will be: Nothing — a gift from the people of New York City.

Now, there are parts of the United States where a degree from high school is putative indication of a serviceable academic background, even if you placed low in your class. But these are high schools that require that you maintain certain standards in order to receive that diploma. It was a very long time ago that New York City simply gave up on the matter. If a student who, whether because he simply couldn't master the material or because he refused to do the work, reached a certain age, the school administration faced the alternative either of forcing him to repeat and repeat and repeat, which is an act of cruelty both to the student and to his fellow students, teachers and administrators; or, simply scratching his name on a diploma, shoving it into his hand, and getting rid of him.

But with that diploma, he now went to college. Some of them, it is alleged, arrived without the ability confidently to write and to spell their own names.

For ten years, Geoffrey Wagner has written about the demoralizing impact of this inundation of young men and women on CUNY. Millions of dollars have been spent every year attempting to teach these students to read, to write, to perform elementary arithmetic. He estimates, using UNESCO's standards of literacy (the reading and writing ability of the average 13-year-old), that the majority of the students of CUNY are illiterate.

PROFESSOR WAGNER most recently remarked the appalling ignorance of many educational experts in New York City of conditions in the college system constructed by ideologues. "City College shoehorn herds of students into fire-hazard dens where they snooze and fitfully smoke beneath obscene graffiti, largely oblivious to the professor bravely addressing the ether, since, a lot of the time, nothing much can be heard anyway. . . . They are regularly mugged. Assaults on teachers have increased nearly 80 per cent and robberies of teachers and students 36 per cent in the last five years. The city spends over $5 million a year repairing smashed schoolroom windows."

"Oversight power? Fuss and bother! I've got more power of oversight than I can use already."

Lupus problem of body's 'cement'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me about lupus. How does it act? What can it do to your body? What can you take for it? All you can tell me. —B.B.

That's a tall order, which I can fill partially.

There are two kinds of lupus (LOOP-us). One affects the skin only and that's called discoid lupus. It causes a rash on the face and chest and is treated with steroid creams and avoidance of sunlight.

The second type is more serious because the whole body is involved. This is "S.L.E." It's not terribly important to know what those letters stand for, but it's "systemic lupus erythematosus."

It is a mysterious ailment that has been studied for many years.

Chiefly, there is an effect on the body's connective tissue. That is the fibrous "cement" material which supports and connects cells of internal organs. It is also what bones and blood vessels are made of.

Thus it can affect any organ — the skin, joints, heart, nervous system and kidneys, for examples. You can see why a disease with such broad effects draws the interest of researchers.

It occurs mainly in women in their 20s and 30s and the attacks are sporadic.

While the cause is not quite clear, it is thought to be what is called an "auto-immune" disease. That is one where the body develops antibodies against (or attacks) its own tissue.

Arthritis-like symptoms appear, with several joints involved. This is followed by fever, nausea, weight loss and general weakness.

This group of symptoms will cause a doctor to suspect S.L.E., especially among women. About 85 per cent of its victims are women. A certain type of white blood cell is usually found. A test for the special antibodies verifies S.L.E. in about 99 per cent of the cases.

Present treatment for it includes aspirin. Some of the drugs used for malaria (such as quinine) are also tried, but long use can have side effects. The corticosteroid drugs have been effective in some.

S.L.E. used to be thought a rare disorder, mainly because its symptoms mimicked those of other ailments (as arthritis). It is now being reported more often because of increased knowledge about it. My mail on the subject has grown in the past several years.

It is a serious disease, but can be effectively controlled.

The S.L.E. Foundation distributes information about it. You can contact a local or regional chapter in your area for more details. Your local medical society can help you locate a chapter.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I enjoyed your New Year's Eve telecast, except when you asked us to get involved politically. May that never happen! Don't you agree that those in politics haven't the slightest interest in God's government? They want glory for themselves. —L.G.

DEAR L.G.: It seems to me your question provides its own answer. Surely, if those in government don't have the "slightest interest" in God, then those who do, better get involved actively. And I would not want to single out the politician as the only selfish glory-seeker. Self-seeking is a disease that has infected the whole human race (2 Timothy 3:2). And only faith in Christ provides the antidote.

Jesus made it plain that His followers certainly had civil duties that they must honor. Matthew 22:21 says He remarked, "Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's" (RSV).

Actually, there was never a time in the 200 years of our nation's history when the influence of the Christian was needed more. The Bible has the cure for the apathy and disillusionment that has seized the electorate.

Mother's Day massacre

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The refusal of state party leaders to take campaign direction from President Ford's politically untutored White House staff reached a peak at a secret three-hour session nine days before the vital Michigan primary election.

The May 9 meeting, dubbed by Michigan Republicans as the "Mother's Day Massacre," lasted more than three hours in Detroit's Metro airport and ended in their complete triumph over White House-connected aides playing various roles in Mr. Ford's error-filled campaign.

PARTY PROFESSIONALS now are praying that the Michigan lesson, with White House aides sharply downgraded, will be followed in the June 8 Ohio test.

The Michigan triumph was not immediate. When Sen. Robert Griffin and Gov. William Milliken, top party leaders in Michigan, strongly proposed that President Ford dip back into history and take a whistle-stop train ride across the state, they met a barrage of protests from the White House aides.

Byron M. (Red) Cavaney, chief White House advance man and a Nixon holdover, fought the whistle-stop as too expensive, too demanding on staff and too risky for the President's security. Cavaney was overruled by the President himself when Griffin telephoned an appeal to Mr. Ford following the airport session.

The Milliken-Griffin plan to pre-empt planning and coordinating the all-important Michigan primary — following five out of six primary wins by Ronald Reagan — was set in concrete before Rogers Morton, the Ford campaign chairman, William Seidman, a top presidential aide and long-time Michigan crony of the President, Cavaney and other White House staffers arrived at the Metro airport.

The powerful elected officials were doing a slow burn at what they regarded as inexplicable and costly campaigning errors by Mr. Ford's White House aides.

One particularly galling incident: a statement advertising Michigan as the nation's worst unemployment area which was issued by the Labor Department just before Secretary of Labor William J. Usery came to the state as one of Mr. Ford's "advocates."

BUT THE BIGGEST change ordered by the Griffin-Milliken team was to reverse Mr. Ford's negative policy on Reagan's courtship of crossover Democratic voters. Up to the Michigan primary, the President, on advice of political primitives in the White House, had harangued against Reagan's earlier success in winning crossover votes from Wallace and other Democrats. Instead, in Michigan he went after independent and Democratic crossover voters himself. One post-primary poll showed that nearly half his total vote — in a primary turnout that shattered all records — came from non-Republicans. Ohio offers less but somewhat similar rewards.

A footnote: Inept presidential campaign aides, as identified by party leaders, include hard-working but untutored presidential staff chief Richard Cheney, several of the Ford advance team (largely inherited from Richard Nixon) and chief scheduler Jerry Jones, also a Nixon holdover.

No security breaches yet

Nuclear preparedness alert issued

WASHINGTON (AP) — There has been no attempt to breach the security at any of the nation's 58 nuclear power plants since a preparedness alert was issued last week, says the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

An NRC spokesman said Tuesday there have been no incidents at plants since the commission last Thursday sent out a "low level" warning for added vigilance by security forces guarding nuclear plants.

The agency refused to disclose what prompted the alert, but an inquiring congressman said he was promised a written explanation "soon." An aide to Rep. George Miller, D-Calif., said the congressman met with NRC safety and security officials Tuesday and got assurances of a later reply.

Miller said the alert raised serious questions because there was no full explanation for it.

NRC officials said they were prompted to issue the warning by some "highly tentative and inconclusive information." They declined to say how long the alert would be in force.

Frank Ingram, an NRC spokesman, said the term "low level" was used for the warning because of requests that it be explained.

"On a hypothetical scale of one to 10, with 10 being the highest state of alert, this would be about a one-half," he said. "This is not the first of these low-level alerts. We do not expect it to be the last."

NRC officials said similar alerts had taken place in the past, but were not publicized because the news media did not learn of them.

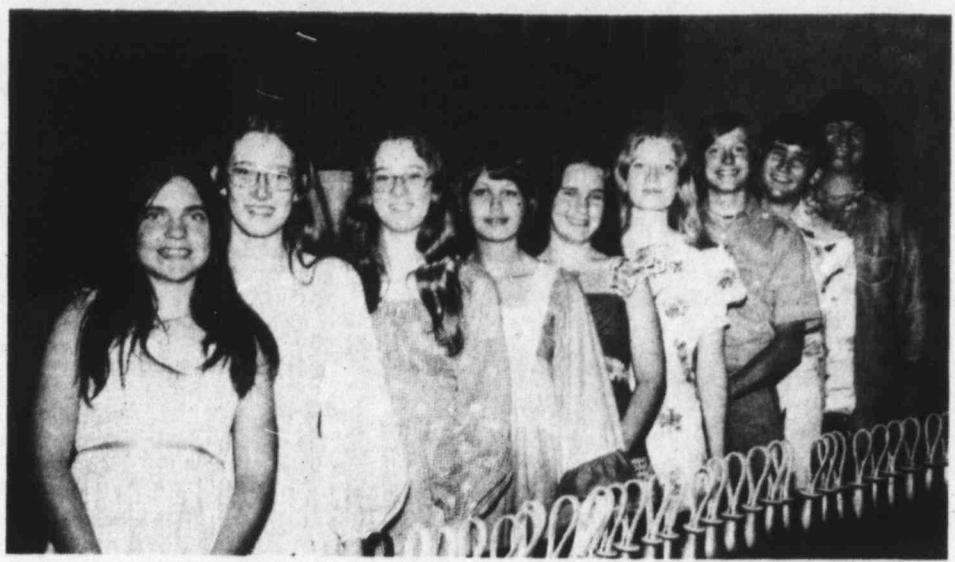

There was speculation by some nuclear critics that the NRC may have taken the action to head off any possible trouble before the June 8 vote in California. On the ballot there is a state constitutional initiative that would severely limit nuclear development.

Ingram said earlier he knew nothing of reports that the alert was prompted by fears that anti-nuclear extremists might try to occupy a power plant. And he said concern about the California vote "might be reflected in the decision, but there is no direct involvement."

The alert, which was telephoned to power plants, advised plant guards to tighten security checks and to stay in touch with local law enforcement agencies in case of a potential security problem.

There has been concern about the possibility of sabotage at nuclear plants and critics have warned that terrorists could seize enriched uranium or plutonium that could be fashioned into a nuclear bomb.

Lawrence Memorial Scholarship established at Howard College

The Wendell Lawrence Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established at Howard College by his parents, the late C. B. Lawrence and Mrs. Lawrence.

Wendell was one of the first students to attend Howard College in 1946, but was unable to complete his education as the result of an illness which eventually claimed his life in August of 1947.

The scholarship is available to those students who apply or are recommended based on scholastic ability and need. Interested individuals should contact the financial aids office at Howard College.

Fuel cost 'pass through' hearing set

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A statewide hearing on the controversial "pass-through" of fuel costs on utility bills will be heard by the Texas Railroad Commission on Aug. 2.

The commission acted after Gas Utilities Division Director Frank P. Youngblood recommended the action in a special report.

"The fuel adjustment charge on both gas and electric bills continues to be grossly misunderstood by Texas ratepayers," said Frank Youngblood, directors of the commission's Gas Utilities Division, said in recommending the hearing. He added that many consumers consider the separate charge for fuel cost above the base rate as "pure profit" for the utility company.

"The fact that this higher cost is a pure expense to the utility, and that only the actual cost-with no profit or return-is flowed through to the ratepayer, does not persuade the average consumer that the adjustment is not a unilaterally imposed, profitable surcharge for the utility."

Oil patch

A re-entry project has been completed in Sterling County and the Glasscock County portion of the Calvin Dean field was extended this week.

In Sterling, a re-entry has been completed as a Leonard discovery 12 miles southwest of Sterling City in Sterling County.

It is Texaco Inc. No. 1-E Sterling Fee, spotting 1,280 feet from the south and 1,516 feet from the east lines of Section 13, Block 31, T-5-S, T&P Survey.

Daily pumping potential was 170 barrels of 31.2 gravity oil from perforations at 5,232-56 feet, treated with 500 gallons of acid. Total depth was 8,150 feet, and plugged back to 7,710 feet.

THE GLASSCOCK COUNTY portion of the Calvin Dean field was extended four miles south and west with recompletion of Sohio Petroleum Co., Midland No. 8-A R.S. Davenport, former Spraberry producer, 22 miles southwest of Garden City, for 213 barrels of 40 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 583-1.

Production was through a 12-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,326-544 feet, which had been fractured with 76,000 gallons and 141,300 pounds of sand.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west lines of 14-37-5S-T&P.

DAWSON COUNTY drew two locations for two wildcats and Glasscock one. There is also an outpost scheduled in Sterling.

The No. 1 William O. Jones Jr., five miles southwest of Lamesa, 1 1/2 miles south of the walls (Wolfcamp) field, two miles north of the Block 35 (Dean) field and 2 1/2 miles west of the Key (upper Spraberry field, is 1,320 feet from the north and east lines of 23-35-5N-T&P.

The Walls field produces from approximately 8,624 feet; the Block 35, from 8,429 feet; and the Key field, from 6,798 feet. Pennsylvanian production in the Key field, which was at 8,656 feet, is depleted.

The No. 1 David Hughes, five miles northeast of Lamesa, 3 1/2 miles north and slightly east of the depleted McCasland (Spraberry field and six miles southwest of the Adcock (Spraberry) field, is 1,320 feet from the north and west lines of 16-35-6N-T&P.

The McCasland field produced from approximately 7,272 feet. The Adcock field produces at 7,556 and formerly produced from the Mississippian and the Siluro-Devonian.

ALSO IN GLASSCOCK, J. C. Williamson and D. W. Underwood, Midland, will drill the No. 1 Cities Service-Clark, a 10,200-foot wildcat in Glasscock County, 1/2 miles north-northeast of the three-well Fusselman oil area and one mile north and slightly east of the Fusselman gas opener and lone producer from that pay in the proposed Apple Creek field, 3/4 mile west-southwest of Fusselman oil production and 3/4 mile south and slightly west of Strawn oil production in the Garden City field and seven miles northeast of Garden City.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the east lines of 5-32-4S-T&P.

The Apple Creek field produces from approximately 9,650 feet. Strawn production in the Garden City field is at 9,349 feet and Fusselman production at 9,740 feet.

IN STERLING, Stoltz, Wagner and Brown of Midland will drill the No. 1-32-H Glass as a 1/2 mile southeast outpost to the Big Salute (Canyon oil) field of Sterling County, 14 miles west and slightly south of Sterling City.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of 32-22-H&T.C. Contact depth is 8,400 feet.

OVER IN SCURRY, the fuller, Southeast multipay field gained its seventh Canyon reef producer and a one mile south-southwest extension to that pay with completion of Texas Land & Mortgage, Inc., Midland, No. 1 West, on location east of the depleted 7065 opener of the Cogdell, Southeast (6800) field and 12 miles north of Snyder, to pump 62.1 barrels of 42 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 530-1.

Production was natural from open hole at 7,012 feet, where 5 1/2 inch casing was set, and 7,025 feet.

The project originally was scheduled as a 7,500 foot wildcat. Location is 2,800 feet from the north and 480 feet from the east lines of 44S-97-H&T.C.

Eldorado Transmission Line completed by PGP

Perry Gas Companies, Inc. announced today that its subsidiary, PGP Gas Products, Inc., Midland, has completed its Eldorado Transmission Line. This line connects to the Eldorado Gasoline Plant near Eldorado, Tex., to transport gas to PGP's existing Sonora Gathering System, located in Sutton County, Tex. This line will have an ultimate capacity of 25 MMcf/d according to Perry.

Simultaneously, PGP Gas Products, Inc., announced the execution of a processing agreement, whereby Atlantic Richfield as operator of the Eldorado Plant, will gather and process gas for PGP in Schleicher and Tom Green Counties, Texas. Under the terms of this processing agreement, PGP may deliver gas into any of the existing gathering systems, for re-delivery to PGP from the plant tailgate.

According to Perry, this arrangement will allow development of small gas wells and small reserves located in these counties, which were uneconomical to produce at old gas sales prices in that area. This will result in the addition of reserves to the intrastate market which otherwise would not be economically feasible to produce.

Annapolis '76 class ends era

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The U.S. Naval Academy's 1976 graduating class, with the traditional blizzard of white hats tossed skyward, marked the end of an era today — the academy's 181 years as an all-male institution.

Local airmen provide good time for children

Local airmen and merchants provided a good time, and good times to come for some local kids recently.

As a twofold project, Class 76-J of the Webb AFB NCO Leadership School solicited food, prizes and cash donations from local merchants for a picnic for underprivileged children in the area. Funds which were not used for the picnic will be donated to the Big Spring Boys' Club to buy sporting equipment.

Over 46 underprivileged children, named by the Howard County Welfare Office, attended the picnic from noon to 7:30 p.m., Saturday. Class members collected approximately $600 worth of merchandise and money for the affair from 40 area merchants.

Of this, $250 will be donated to the Boys' Club at class graduation ceremonies 7 p.m. Friday. C. B. Andries, club director, will receive the donation.

Members of the graduating class wish to thank local merchants who participated in the project, and to praise excellent base-community relations.

Transportation 'best' target of Webb units

Webb's Transportation Division and Vehicle Operations Branch are "best" in Air Training Command (ATC). Each received the ATC "Outstanding Transportation" awards for fiscal year '76.

A rating system is used to evaluate each section and division in the command, according to John Norris of ATC Transportation headquarters. When contacted, Norris stated the rating system covers areas such as management, Inspector General and staff assistance visits, administrative control and the overall supervision of the whole transportation picture.

The awards put Webb AFB in the running for the "best Air Force Transportation Division" and "best Air Force Vehicle Operations Branch" according to Mr. Norris.

"Having been selected for just one of these awards is a real honor," said 2nd Lt.

Michael Prowse, Vehicle Operations officer, "but both unit and division is something that doesn't happen often."

"Please express my congratulations and appreciation for a job well done," said Brig. Gen. Harold E. Confer, deputy chief of staff for Logistics, ATC.

Other ATC units receiving like awards were: Vehicle Maintenance Branch, Laughlin; Reports and Analysis Office, Lackland; and Traffic Management Office, Randolph AFBs all in Texas.

ATC plaques will be presented to the winners at a later date. The winners will be asked to develop brochures that will tell each unit's story. The brochures will be sent to the Air Force headquarters transportation staff. Then a selection board will convene to review all submissions and winners announced at the World Transportation Convention later this year.

freshman due here in July will be, for the first time, 70 females.

Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld was scheduled to address the graduating class.

While today's commencement exercises ended one chapter in academy history, the institution celebrated a first Tuesday when a black girl reviewed the final dress parade of the year as Color Girl.

Stephanie Belinda McManus, 20, of Annapolis wore the flowing white gown and floppy picture frame hat that have marked color girls since the tradition was begun in 1867. She helped transfer the national ensign, the Navy flag and the brigade flag from this year's Color Company to the 17th Company, which will carry them at all brigade parades next year.

Midshipman Jordan B. Smith, commander of the new Color Company, chose Miss McManus as this year's Color Girl, an honor reserved each year for the commander of the company chosen in June for over-all excellence in competition among the 36 companies throughout the year.

As thousands of parents, relatives and friends lined Worden Field for the parade, several academy yawls, their colorful spinnakers straining in the breeze, cruised back and forth on the sparkling Severn River which serves as a backdrop for the event. Overhead, the Blue Angels, the Navy's precision flying team, made sweeping passes.

Christy grad

RANTOUL, Ill. — Airman Richard A. Christy, son of Mrs. Martha J. Christy of 304 E. Fifth, Big Spring, has graduated at Chanute AFB, Ill., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for jet engine mechanics.

Airman Christy, now trained to inspect and repair turbojet and gas turbine engines, is being assigned to Columbus AFB, Miss., for duty with a unit of the Air Training Command. Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Christy is a 1972 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Navy Machinist's Mate First Class Ronnie D. Wood, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Odie Wood of 1210 College Ave., Colorado City, has reported for duty aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, homeported in Alameda, Calif.

A graduate of Colorado High School, he joined the Navy in October 1967.

Joins Navy

Jerry Ray Kinman, son of Jerry Don Kinman of 710 Douglas Street, left Big Spring on May 10 for a three-year tour with the United States Navy.

Jerry was sworn in in Amarillo on May 11 and was transferred to Orlando, Florida for nine weeks of basic training. Upon completion on basic training, he will attend Radioman Class "A" School either in San Diego, California or Great Lakes, Illinois.

New recordings featured at Howard County Library

Country Western, pop rock, and Americana are featured in this month's new recordings at the Howard County Library.

Roy Clark's latest album is "Heart to Heart," and he has never sounded better. Roy brings to life old favorites such as "Before the Next Teardrop Falls" and "Another Somebody Done Somebody Wrong Song." New songs by writer Bill Anderson are sure to become favorites with Roy Clark fans.

Carly Simon has established herself as one of the talented female composer-singers of the seventies. Her new album "The Best of Carly Simon" features many of her most popular hits. Included are "You're So Vain," "Anticipation," and "Mockingbird" in which she collaborates with her husband, James Taylor.

Lucy Simon is the newest talent to emerge from the Simon family. Her album is simply titled "Lucy Simon." Her vocal range is more varied than the Carly's and while she can belt out a song, she can also sing sweetly and softly. The tunes and lyrics are delicate and the instrumentation is very original. This album will provide enjoyable listening and promises to promote a fresh talent.

The Library will be receiving a hundred-record collection of American music over the next two years. Ten records are now available. The music was written and performed by American artists and represents all varieties from folk and jazz to gospel and avant-garde. The collection is made available to libraries through a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation.

Other new records include James Taylor, "Gorilla,"

Carole King, "Wrap Around Joy," Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsodies," and Keith Jarrett, "Backhand."

By The Associated Press
Supermarket shoppers got hit during May with the sharpest and most widespread price increases in well over a year, an Associated Press market-basket survey shows.

The price boosts spread across the aisles, but hit hardest at the meat counter. Pork chops and frankfurters in particular rose sharply.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

The latest survey, with the checks made just before the start of the holiday weekend, showed the marketbasket total increased at the checklist store in every city. The average boost was 4.2 per cent.

The last time the marketbasket bill went up in every city was in July 1974, when the average increase was 4 per cent. The latest boost was the steepest percentage rise since November 1974 when the marketbasket bill was up at the checklist store in 12 cities and the over-all average increase was 5.6 per cent.

The 1974 increases were caused mainly by soaring sugar prices; the May 1976 increases in many areas covered more basic items, including orange juice, butter, eggs and coffee as well as some meats.

Comparing current prices with those at the start of June 1975, the AP survey showed that the marketbasket total at the checklist stores was an average of 7.6 per cent higher than it was 12 months earlier.

Government officials have been warning that food prices, which remained stable during the first quarter of 1976, would start rising again. But they also have said that the rate of increase will be less than in 1975 when food prices went up 8.5 per cent.

The AP survey showed that pork prices, which rose to record highs last fall and then declined slightly as supplies increased temporarily, are on the increase again.

GAO warns of illegal Medicaid payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office, flexing a rarely used muscle, says the federal government cannot pay states for certain Medicaid programs unless it makes sure the Medicaid patients are receiving proper care.

The GAO, the auditing arm of Congress, warned Health, Education and Welfare Secretary David Mathews and Treasury Secretary William E. Simon on Tuesday that they could be held personally responsible for any illegal payments made after July 1.

At stake are millions of dollars in Medicaid payments to the states for long-term hospitalization of poor patients.

Robert F. Keller, the GAO's deputy controller, general, delivered the warning in letters to Mathews and Simon, with copies sent to the governors of all 50 states and other officials.

Mathews previously has acknowledged that HEW was not complying with a law that requires it to monitor closely the hospitals' treatment of Medicare patients.

FBI probes Dallas mayoral election

DALLAS (AP) — FBI agents are expected to have their investigation of possible federal violations in the controversial Dallas mayoral race completed "in the next week or so," according to an FBI official.

The race, in which Robert Folsom defeated Garry Weber, is under investigation for possible violations of the Federal Election Code, according to Ted Gunderson, special agent-in-charge of the Dallas FBI office.

Gunderson said Tuesday agents are reviewing certain allegations but declined to discuss the nature or source of them. He also declined to say how long the FBI had been investigating the April 4 election.

Folsom, Weber and key city and county officials said they had not been interviewed by the FBI.

The election was the most expensive and bitter mayoral race in the city's history. Folsom won a runoff election by 1,122 votes over Weber and the final results remained in doubt while Weber sought a recount and later an inspection of voting machines.

Weber contended after the April 24 runoff that 20 voting machines malfunctioned and failed to register all of the votes cast. A court-ordered investigation of his allegations showed 15 machines did not register test votes cast for Weber and Folsom, seven machines failed to count for Weber, seven for Folsom and one for both.

County Dist. Court Judge Dee Brown Walker, who ordered the initial inspection, later denied a request for examination of 14 more machines.

Portland fires Wilkens, hires ex-Brave Ramsay

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — "It's going to take a healthy Bill Walton" to turn Portland Trail Blazers Coach Frank Ramsay.

"Like I had a healthy one, right?" responded Lenny Wilkens, who was fired by the National Basketball Association club after completing two years of a four-year contract.

Ramsay's hiring was announced at a news conference Tuesday, making him the fourth coach in the six-year history of the Blazers.

"I had heard some rumors the past couple of weeks, but I still didn't think anything would happen," Wilkens said in a telephone interview. "I mean why should I? We had a lot of injuries, other problems I don't think any coach could control."

Ramsay was dismissed by Buffalo on May 3 after the Braves lost to Boston in the Eastern Conference semifinals.

"He's not fired, he's just not rehired,"

Buffalo publicist Mike Shaw said at the time.

Ramsay coached at Buffalo for four years, the Braves reaching the NBA playoffs the last three.

Wilkens had completed the second year of a four-year contract. The Blazers were 38-44 the first year, their best record ever, and 37-45 the past season despite numerous injuries, notably to Walton.

Third time charm works for Astro

HOUSTON (AP) — For Houston Astros pitcher Joaquin Andujar the third time turned out to be a charm.

Facing Cincinnati for the third time, Andujar silenced the Reds on just two hits Tuesday night in pitching Houston to a 2-1 victory.

It was Andujar's first major league victory. The flame-throwing rookie right-hander, once a member of the Reds' farm system, walked five but received support of two Houston double plays to halt possible Cincinnati scoring threats.

"I was lucky tonight," said Andujar. "I know I can play in the big leagues."

"You have to have confidence. I was going to show Cincinnati what I am."

Andujar showed the Reds a lot of poise by regaining his composure after surviving a shaky first inning.

Three walks, coupled with George Foster's sacrifice fly in the first inning, provided the Reds their lone run as Andujar came back strong and retired 25 of the next 36 batters.

A one-out fifth inning single by Doug Flynn and Tony Perez' single with two out in the ninth accounted for the only Cincinnati hits as Andujar raised his record to 1-2.

Houston tied the score in the third against Cincinnati starter and loser Pat Zachary, 4-1. Roger Metzger led off with a triple and scored on a two-out wild pitch to knot the game at 1-1.

As part of 6-man trade Blyleven now a Ranger

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Bert Blyleven, a young man with an ambitious future, is a man on the spot. Blyleven was the key player in a six-man trade Tuesday night that sent the talented pitcher and infielder Danny Thompson to the Texas Rangers.

"I know everyone will be expecting a lot of me," said Blyleven, who was playing out his option at Minnesota. "My goal is to be consistent like I think I have been with the Twins the last six years."

Minnesota received infielders Roy Smalley and Mike Cuddahy, veteran pitcher Bill Singer and minor league pitching prospect Jim Gideon in the trade.

"I think without any question, Blyleven will pitch the way he's capable of at Texas," said Twins Manager Gene Mauch. "His record is impressive and now his mind is clear having all his monetary problems behind him."

Going to Texas.

The 25-year-old Blyleven will become the Rangers highest paid player, having agreed to a three-year contract calling for $550,000 in salary and deferred payments.

"The last two years or so have really been tough," said Blyleven, who had a 99-90 record since joining Minnesota in June 1970 at the age of 19. He was 4-5 at the time of the trade.

"I expect to be in Texas a long time and hope to win more than 100 games there," continued Blyleven. "I feel good and think I can help them win. They've got a good club."

Thompson, who also joined the Twins in 1970, was elated with the trade. The veteran infielder, who was also unsigned, agreed to contract terms with the Rangers and will receive a salary of $38,000 from Texas — about $11,000 more than he was offered by the Twins.

Thompson has a lifetime average of .252 and was hitting .234 this season and enjoying the best year of his career at shortstop.

While Minnesota players accepted news of the trade skeptically, Mauch and Twins owner Calvin Griffith liked the deal.

"I don't think Twins fans will really know just how good a deal we really made until some time has elapsed," said Mauch.

Miss Softball America Supers star(ve) Kiwanas

The ABC Supers of the Mini-Minor League of Miss Softball America remained on top of their division last night by whopping the Kiwanas 16-7.

Steer grad's son in Coaches fray

LUBBOCK — Jeb Blount of Tulsa, chosen Tuesday to play for the West in the annual Coaches All-America football game in Lubbock June 19, is the son of a former Big Spring resident, R. E. (Peppy) Blount.

Peppy was a star in two sports at Big Spring High School and later played with Bobby Layne on the University of Texas football team. He later represented Big Spring in the state legislature. The family now resides in Longview, where Peppy practices law.

Jeb Blount was a star quarterback for Tulsa University. He led the Hurricane to three consecutive Missouri Valley Conference championships while passing for more than 4,300 yards in gains.

Last season, Jeb threw for 1,663 yards and 13 touchdowns. He was drafted in the second round by the Oakland Raiders.

With Blount at the helm, Tulsa ranked second nationally last year in both scoring and total offense.

Blount stands 6-3 and weighs 200 pounds.

Bobcat star, McDowell set to go with TCU

SAN ANGELO — Arnold McDowell of San Angelo Central, twice an all-district pivot man in District 5-AAAA, has signed a commitment for enrollment at Texas Christian University.

McDowell set a career scoring record for Central, running up 1,649 points over a period of three seasons. That averages out to more than 18 points a game. He scored 759 of that number his senior year for a 25.3 game average. He led the Bobcats to a 20-10 record, their best finish in eight years.

McDowell was one of three players in 5-AAAA to win back-to-back scoring championships. The other two were Dobby Malaise, Odessa High School, and Jan Loudermilk, Big Spring. Malaise later starred at Texas Tech and Loudermilk for SMU.

McDowell is only the second San Angelo Central player named to appear in the Texas High School Coaches Association all-star game. The first was Minton White.

Teen-Age League

Kiwanas stain Hardware

The Kiwanas of the senior league of teenage baseball exploded in the fifth and sixth innings to beat the Big Spring Hardware team 14-9, in a game that saw 11 errors committed by both teams.

Getting two hits for the Kiwanas was Mike Warren and Gary Roberts. Clarence Palmer hit for a double and played outstanding defense.

sive ball. Dick Battle (2-0) was the winning pitcher, and Mike Harris (0-1) was charged with the loss.

Kent Newsom, Albert Alvarez and Del Posa each had two hits for the Hardware.

The Kiwanas remained undefeated at 2-0, and the Hardware fell to 1-2.

Little League

Tigers maul Dodgers

In Texas Little League action, Tommy Olague and Eddie Flores of the Tigers blasted triples to power their team to a 20-4 win over the Dodgers.

David Renteria made up for an early case of wildness by leading the Tiger attack with three hits. He was relieved by Tony Ontiveros who went on to get the victory. Ontiveros raised his record to 5-0 and the Tigers' to 9-2. The Tigers play the Red Sox Friday night.

Brent Raney got the only Ranger hit. The Cards are now 8-1 and the Rangers dropped to second place, 7-2.

Cards clip Rangers

In an all important league contest last night, the Pollard Chevrolet Cardinals of the National Little League squeezed by the Big Spring Herald Rangers 1-0. Prior to the game, both teams were tied for the lead in their division.

Randy Johnson of the Cards pitched a nifty one-hitter to put the birds in undisputed first place over the Rangers. Kip McLaughlin supplied the hitting with a home run and a triple for the Cardinals. Cavin McMahon, catching for the Cards, shot out the Ranger runner attempting to steal third base to end the game.

Brent Raney got the only Ranger hit. The Cards are now 8-1 and the Rangers dropped to second place, 7-2.

SLIDING TO SAFETY — Mike Franco, of the Dodgers in the Texas Little League, slides under a late tag by Tiger pitcher David Renteria for a first inning run. The Tigers won 20-4.

Dear Abby

She's nobody's mule for asking

DEAR ABBY: I am a grown woman (in fact I'm married and have children), and I have a couple of questions I am ashamed to ask anyone else but you because they might think I'm a moron.

What is the difference between a mule, a jackass and a donkey? Also, does a rooster have a male organ?

EVIE IN DES MOINES

DEAR EVIE: An ass is simply a donkey. A jackass is a male donkey. A mule is the offspring of a male ass and a female mare.

In cases where the SHE-ass mates with a stallion horse, the offspring is known as a "hinny" (which is a "horse" on me). The mule is always sterile, but the hinny is capable of reproducing.

Concerning roosters: Yes, a rooster does have a male organ, but it is so small it is practically invisible. I suppose a hen would probably tell you it's adequate for her needs, but by human standards, it is certainly nothing to crow about!

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for your very sound advice to FRIENDLY PARTING, who insisted, in obtaining a divorce, that she and her husband agreed on absolutely everything, and they didn't see why they needed a lawyer just to fill out a few forms. (You said, "Some of those do-it-yourself divorces are more expensive in the long run than the regular kind. See a lawyer!")

My wife and I decided we didn't need a lawyer because we agreed on everything. It was true; we agreed on everything we could think of. The problem was that there were four or five very important things we DIDN'T think of. What a mess!

We made no absolute provisions for community property. And nothing was done about spousal support or alimony. Visitation rights were not clearcut, and we ended up with an expensive, but very unfair divorce.

I wish I had written to you before I decided to save a few dollars on a do-it-yourself divorce. I hope FRIENDLY PARTING takes your advice.

FOOLISH IN MARYLAND

DEAR FOOLISH: It's strange that when a person has a physical problem he goes to a physician and is glad to pay him for what he knows, but when he has a legal problem, he resents paying a legal fee.

A competent lawyer is worth every dime he charges.

DEAR ABBY: OPEN BOOK IN MICHIGAN said her sex-life was fantastic, but she found out that her husband had been blabbing about it to all the men at work.

You said: "Tell him you know he's been talking, and if he doesn't keep his big mouth shut, he's not going to have anything to talk about."

Abby, withholding sex as a form of punishment is the worst thing a wife can do!

I hope that you will reconsider and come up with a better answer.

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

DEAR VOICE: You (and many others) misunderstood my reply. I did not recommend that the wife withhold sex from her husband to punish him. I meant that if she knows that her husband is talking about their mattress acrobatics, she's apt to become inhibited and turned off. And soon there will be nothing to talk about.

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary to a very fine family man. About once a week, my boss invites me to have lunch with him downtown. I find it very enjoyable, but I understand there has been some talk about it around the office. In fact, I hear that his wife has been asking questions about me.

I wish you'd tell me just what two people could do between 12 and 1 in a crowded restaurant.

MS UNDERSTOOD

DEAR MS.: They could make plans to meet after 5, where it's not so crowded.

New generation of flavors

MARIETTA, Ga. — Rising costs of meat and vegetables in the supermarket have resulted in a new generation of artificial flavors being developed to allow the average person to continue to enjoy these tastes without paying such high prices, said Dr. J. C. Leffingwell, a flavor expert for Aromatics International Manufacturing Co., Inc.

"Americans like the taste of meat and vegetables in their diet. But today the average person must pay more for these natural tastes which means these tastes might not be enjoyed as often as before."

"The development of textured soybean products for meat extenders has opened a new area for flavor technology which will be of increasing importance in the future. Right now you can walk into any supermarket and see the popularity of convenience and snack foods which use onion and tomato flavors," said Leffingwell.

"It's probably too early to tell how great the impact of the new artificial meat and vegetable flavors will be in other consumer products since the basic flavors popular 20 years ago are still most popular today and continue to grow in demand. Among the most popular natural and artificial flavors for consumer products are vanilla, chocolate, lemon, orange, strawberry, raspberry, cherry, grape, butter, maple and peppermint," he said.

In addition, he explained, we now find these popular flavors in a larger variety of products than ever before. As an example, he cited yogurt products where almost 95 per cent of all manufacturers produce flavored yogurts, with blueberry and strawberry being the most popular.

But despite the fact that flavor popularity hasn't changed much, Leffingwell said there has been improvements in flavors.

"More knowledge on flavor materials has been developed through research in the last 10 years than in all of recorded history. Investigations into chocolate, coffee, grapefruit, orange and many other familiar products have identified the key elements responsible for their characteristic flavor."

Baker and Miss Andrews served at the gift registry.

The hostesses gave Miss Rogers an electric can opener and knife sharpener and a set of Melamine dinnerware.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace table cloth with a yellow underlining. Crystal appointments were used. A centerpiece of yellow flowers and lime green satin ribbon flanked with figures of cupids and doves with matching wedding bands enhanced the table.

Special guests during the event were Mrs. LaVerne Rogers and Mrs. Don Yates, grandmothers of the honoree; Mrs. Clint Forrest, grandmother of Crow; and Mrs. Carl Elliott, great-aunt of the honoree.

The couple will be married June 25 by the Rev. Bob Lee in the Berea Baptist Church.

Lawn weeds! Who needs 'em?

It happens every year about this time in southern lawns. The weeds start coming on strong. Weeds like chickweed and bur clover. Matchweed and henbit. They can make a lawn look bad in just a matter of weeks.

But now, thanks to Scotts new Turf Builder® Plus 2 you can clear out 47 kinds of lawn weeds easily and surely. Just spread it on your lawn, and it goes right to work on weeds. Makes them curl up and gradually disappear — roots and all. At the same time Plus 2 gives your grass a full Scotts feeding. It's a prolonged feeding too, the kind that lasts for weeks and weeks. Result? Weeds fade away as your grass grows greener and sturdier. And you suddenly become proud of your lawn once again — without those weeds that no one really needs.

CLASSIFIED ADS THE PLACE TO LOOK

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Look into all statements, contracts, or reports to eliminate possible errors in figures or facts. Matters requiring charm are favored.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't argue about monetary matters today, but get on the policy level. Join congenial friends for recreation and enjoy yourself. Be jovial.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Improve conditions at home with cooperation of kin. Don't be so demanding. Avoid one who rubs you the wrong way.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get busy at whatever will help you gain fond desires; forget anxieties for now. Cooperate with others to become more productive.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study your monetary status carefully. Don't follow advice of those who are greedy or you could lose assets. Avoid trouble.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make your appearance more attractive and change your style somewhat. Avoid bigwig whose ideas you don't approve of. A charming social p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sep. 22) Keep agreements to the letter and don't go on any tangents that could prove costly. You can keep one promise you like easily.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Enjoy company of good friends and get excellent results. Not a good day for business matters. Study them carefully first.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Handle civic matter so you need not be pressured any longer about it, but don't expect a busy partner to help you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your ideas are good for making your life more worthwhile and business affairs more successful, so put them in operation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Handle business and civic matters. Not a good day to run off to any amusements when you have so much to do that is important.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't involve kin in outside affairs, but handle them yourself. Keep a promise you have made and it pays off handsomely. Guard reputation.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make your environment more attractive and operable and don't run away on some tangent and waste time. Cooperate more with co-workers.

Father Moeller Celebrates his priesthood anniversary

Father Louis Moeller, pastor of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, today celebrates his 25th anniversary in the priesthood.

Members of the parish have planned a jubilee celebration beginning with a Mass at 7 p.m., and a dinner at 8 p.m.

Following the dinner, there will be a celebration and festivities, with entertainment offered by the children of the parish and words from the presidents and representatives from all parish groups. Over 400 persons have been invited.

Special guest for the event will be the Very Rev. Bishop Steven Leven, the Diocesan bishop.

Father Moeller attended high school at St. Joseph's at Roena and graduated in 1943. He attended St. John Seminary in San Antonio and received his four-year degree. He attended St. John's Seminary in Boston and received a two-year degree in Theology. He attended St. Thomas Seminary in Denver and received his advance theological degree and was ordained June 2, 1951, at the Immaculate Conception Cathedral in Denver, by Archbishop Vehr.

Moeller says he experienced many gratifying assignments during his 25 years as a Priest. The first one was at Register School of Journalism in Denver. His next assignment was in Amarillo where he was assistant at St. Mary's Church and the business manager for the West Texas Register. His next assignment was administrator of Holy Family Church at Happy.

His first pastorate was at St. Joseph's Church in Stanton where he served from 1952 to 1958. While at Stanton, he established a Mission Church, St. Isador's in Tarzan. He was then assigned to St. Margaret Mary's Church in Lamesa and while serving in Lamesa he established a mission church, St. John. Next, he went to Childress to the Holy Family Church from 1960 to 1961. His next assignment was St. Phillips at Pep, where he built the rectory at Morton. Father Moeller served at Elizabeth's in Snyder during 1962. From there, he went to San Angelo from 1962-1964 and was head of the Spanish Apostolate and Cursillo movement in San Angelo during that time period.

His next assignment was at St. Joseph's Church in Odessa, from 1964 to 1967 where he built a new church. He also built mission churches — St. Anthony's and St. Martin DePores. From 1967-1971, he served at Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Ozona. He built the Mission Good Shepherd at Sheffield. He also built a Parish C.C.D. Center at Oaona and at Sheffield.

In 1971, Father Moeller arrived at Immaculate Heart of Mary. Moeller has been very active in the local community, both in the development of the parish growth and in community activities. He is active in mission work and in the Ministerial Alliance in Big Spring. He is presently a member of the Rotary Club and chaplain of the American Business Club in Big Spring.

Father Moeller has built an impressive career and history on service to both God and his fellow man. His entire career has been laden with development work and mission work as well as working with the Spanish speaking people, and the poor people in all the parishes with which he has been associated.

To celebrate the new name for the town, John Knox, a druggist and carpenter, built a small coffin and placed the name of Marienfeld inside. They held a ceremony and buried Marienfeld in a plot in downtown Stanton on the northwest corner of St. Peter Street and Highway 80.

In 1907, the J. F. Willingham family settled in what is now Lenora. He built a small school and hired Miss Mittie Walker, later Mrs. Tink Houston, as the teacher. She made $12 a month and board. She had six pupils, all of whom were Willingham and Webbs.

In the summer of 1907, a group of men started the Courtney School. A Mr. Courtney donated the land. Some of the early families who had children attending that school were the Caldwells, Osborns, Banks, Nunn, Courtneys, Bradleys, Greens, Crabtrees, Blockers and Sam Jones.
