Snyder one-act again to state

Snyder High School earned its eleventh consecutive trip to the UIL One-Act Play Finals in Austin by winning regional competition in Brownwood Saturday with their production of "Romeo and Juliet."

In addition, Brad Vincent in the lead role of Romeo led the list of locals capturing individual honors as he won regional's best actor award. Vincent has won best actor three times out of the four contests to date.

Also earning a trip to the state meet Saturday was Austin Westlake High School's production of Euripides' Greek classic "Medea."

Four other Snyder players were cited for outstanding work in Saturday's performance including one understudy.

Dana Parham and Patrick Malone were named to the regional all-star cast for their work Saturday while John Hamlett and Bryan Norris, an understudy for his role, were awarded honorable mention for the all-star cast.

Norris won praise in the dual role of Paris and Lord Montague.

According to Director Jerry Worsham, illness forced Tony Pineda — who earned individual honors in that role at area competition — to miss several rehearsals in the week prior to the regional contest.

Norris was substituted in the role due to staging changes installed during Pineda's absence.

Snyder is now one of eight Class AAAA schools across Texas qualifying for the state meet. It is scheduled April 26 in the Grand Concert Hall of the University of Texas Performing Arts Center.

Times of performance are as yet undetermined but the competition will be divided into two groups. Four plays will be presented beginning at 4:30 p.m., followed by four more at 7 p.m.

The competition will mark the local program's 15th appearance at the state finals. Snyder's one-act "The Crucible" won the AAAA classification last spring.

Another state championship this year would mark the 10th for the SHS theatre department.

Congress faces Nicaraguan aid fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fight over U.S. aid to Nicaraguan rebels will move toward the congressional center stage this week as opponents try to derail a White House proposal of renewed aid for the Contras.

Both the House and Senate are returning from a week-long Easter-Passover recess to light agendas, with most of the action expected to be behind the scenes on whether to resume aiding rebel attempts to overthrow the leftist Nicaraguan government.

The decisive floor votes are expected to start next week.

The Senate will vote April 23, and it appears that President Reagan will likely win a narrow victory in that Republican-controlled chamber.

But the president faces strong opposition in the Democrat-controlled House, in a vote to be taken the following week.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said Sunday the president is "still behind" and faces a "tough fight" on the $14 million request.

Reagan has modified his Nicaraguan aid plan, promising to provide only short-term humanitarian assistance to the guerrillas. But, Reagan says, if there are no signs of serious negotiations between the Sandinista government and the Contras after 60 days, military aid would be resumed.

The rebels have not received any U.S. aid for almost a year. But a five-month congressional ban on Contra aid expired Feb. 28 and the administration has lobbied strongly since then to renew the help.

Congress last fall approved $14 million in new aid, but said the money couldn't be spent without a second approval after the Feb. 28 deadline expired.

In the House, Rep. Michael D. Barnes, D-Md., chairman of a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, starts three days of hearings Tuesday on the Contra program.

Witnesses will include former CIA Director Stansfield Turner, former U.N. Ambassador Jeane J. Kirkpatrick and Assistant Secretary of State Langhorne A. Motley. The panel also plans to hear about Nicaraguan human rights violations.

Backroom maneuvering is also expected this week on the fight over the fiscal 1986 budget.

Concert tonight

The Snyder Junior High School Choirs will be presenting their annual spring concert at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Worsham Auditorium at the high school.

Four vocal groups including the 7th grade girls choir, 8th grade girls choir, boys choir and mixed ensemble will be featured on the free program.

The four groups — all under the direction of Barbara Perkins — will be performing the selections they will present in UIL concert and sightreading competition in Abilene Tuesday.

Mr.-Miss WTC due

Mr. and Miss Western Texas College for 1984-85 will be introduced at the spring formal Tuesday in the WTC Student Center.

The pair of honorees will be selected by secret ballot from a field of 12. These 12 are already designated campus favorites by their fellow students.

Nominees for Miss WTC are Cathy Caddell of Sundown; Clara Campbell of Dallas; Tina Gordon of Lubbock; Vera Lopez and Vickie Lopez of Snyder; and

FIRST TO APPLY — Stella Jones of Fluvanna (left) and Eleanor Canty of Snyder were the first Monday morning to file their applications for residency in the Golden Terrace Village housing area here. The process began at 10 a.m. and will continue through the week. Project sponsors note applications will be considered on a first-come, first serve basis. There are 24 housing units available. # Bicyclist hospitalized after pickup collision

Misdemeanor charges of failure to stop and render aid and driving while intoxicated were filed against a Snyder man following a pickup-bicycle collision here Sunday afternoon.

Charged was Guadalupe Rogers of 809 27th St. Police say he was driving a 1976 Chevrolet pickup on the Furr's Supermarket parking lot around 3:50 p.m. Sunday when his vehicle struck a bicycle being ridden by 23-year-old Gilbert Martinez of 805 27th St.

Rogers left the scene of the mishap and was arrested when stopped by police a short time later. Martinez was taken from the scene to Cogdell Memorial. He was hospitalized for a broken leg and lacerations to the head.

Pre-schooler signup begins

The campuses of Central and Northeast Elementaries will be the sites Tuesday for the signup of children living in those attendance zones who will be entering kindergarten next fall.

Similar pre-school registrations will continue at other Snyder campuses Wednesday and Thurday.

The hours for registration will be from 8 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Other registration days scheduled for the week are North and East, Wednesday, and West and Stanfield, Thursday. Parents should bring their child to the signup.

City sales tax up 1.9 percent

In terms of dollars received, Snyder appears to be holding its own regarding local sales as reflected by the state's 1 percent sales tax.

For the year, Snyder's estimate remains at a plus 1.9 percent. In actual dollars, the city is running ahead of both the year's total and the amount received for the recent monthly pay period.

The year's amount is some $267,000, compared to some $262,000 last year. Exact amounts are $267,066 and $262,042 respectively.

For the monthly return — which reflects sales made in February and reported to the state by March 20 — the recent amount is $48,653 compared to $48,119.

The comparisons are not exactly "apples to apples," however, since last year's report did not include some items now considered taxable under the state sales tax plan.

For area cities of larger and smaller size to Snyder, the report in almost every case reflected improved sales.

A sampling of these, in descending order, includes:

—Lubbock: plus 7.6 percent with $4.2 million returned to date compared to $3.9 million last year.

—Abilene: plus 3.7 percent with $2.6 million returned to date compared to $2.5 million last year.

—Odessa: plus 8.5 percent with $2.6 million returned to date compared to $2.3 million last year.

—San Angelo: plus 6.5 percent with $1.6 million returned to date compared to $1.5 million last year.

—Big Spring: plus 8.9 percent with $468,785 returned to date compared to $430,158 last year.

—Snyder: plus 1.9 percent with $267,066 returned to date compared to $262,042 last year.

—Sweetwater: plus 16.6 percent with $238,972 returned to date compared to $205,699 last year.

—Colorado City: plus 3.8 percent with $79,380 returned to date compared to $76,466 last year.

A. — There are 45 counties singled out and the only ones within a 60-mile radius of Scurry are Stonewall County and Jones County. Others just beyond this range include Andrews, Callahan, Eastland, Stephens, Irion and Knox Counties.

In Brief

No problems

HOUSTON (AP) — Six years ago, Vietnamese refugees who fled to the Gulf Coast were terrorized by the Ku Klux Klan, and local fishermen feared the competition from foreign-born shrimpers.

Today, however, the relations have improved between the two cultures.

"The Vietnamese and local fishermen are working together smoothly and closely," said Nan Van Nguyen of Houston, board chairman of the Vietnamese Community Organization of Houston and Vicinity.

"When there's a problem, we resolve it very smoothly by talks between the leader of the American fishermen and myself," he said.

Relations between the local fishermen and the 10,000 Vietnamese refugees were rockiest around 1979, when a 35-year-old Seadrift, Texas, shrimper was shot in a dispute over fishing rights.

Swartout out

HOUSTON (AP) — City officials over the weekend were trying to find Houston Fire Chief Robert L. Swartout, who resigned from his job and quickly disappeared.

"It is hard to believe that anyone in a high supervisory position would just walk off the job with no notice and then be unavailable to discuss his concerns," said Mayor Kathy Whitmire, who called the chief's resignation "bizarre."

Swartout, after only 3½ months in office, gave Mrs. Whitmire a resignation letter — effective immediately — about 4:30 p.m. Friday, the mayor said.

One dead

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — One person is dead following a puzzling series of bombings in Tarrant County that has left authorities with few clues, no suspect and no apparent motive.

Local

Ira to meet

Ira School trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Action items include present career ladder material for approval, present transfer applications for approval, change May's board meeting to May 16.

Low cotton prices offset conditions

ANDREWS, Texas (AP) — Agricultural experts are predicting that 1985 could be the best cotton growing season in years, but Andrews County farmers still have the pre-planting jitters.

Dan Newbrough, who plans to plant about 5,000 acres seven miles west of here, was typical in his pre-season worrying.

"Worms could hit, it could hail, it could come up dry or we could have an early freeze. But there are so many things that could happen," said Newbrough.

Low prices and crippling debts left from a disastrous 1984 crop are contributing to the gloomy outlook.

"Usually this time of year, I'm ready. I'm gung ho to make a crop," said Les Enfinger, who will plant about 2,400 acres. "But the incentive is not as good this year as it has been."

The planting season for farmers in Andrews County will begin with the first warm stretch this month or next.

"The soil moisture is the best it's been in 10 years," said farmer Calvin Shortes, who plans to sow 500 acres of irrigated cotton and 700 acres of the dry land variety on his farm about 20 miles northwest of here.

Smoking Saps Strength From Lungs and Lives

DEAR READERS: I recently received a letter signed "Bitter and Heartbroken in Arizona," who stated that she and her husband went to a family reunion in the Midwest last Thanksgiving—against their better judgment: (a) They didn't have adequate clothing for a cold climate; (b) Her husband was a heavy smoker—which their relatives considered "an unpardonable sin."

After they arrived, her husband was told that he could not smoke in the house, so he was forced to go outdoors to smoke. Subsequently he developed pneumonia and died.

"Bitter" wrote: "I agree, nonsmokers have rights, but if the relatives didn't permit smoking in the house, they could have provided a reasonably warm sheltered area for smokers. I personally feel that these self-righteous, anti-smoking crusaders killed my husband just as surely as if they had put a bullet through his heart!"

Well, "Bitter's" letter lit the fuses of several thousand readers. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: That wife has my deepest sympathy. My husband was also a heavy smoker who developed pneumonia. He survived, but promptly went from a productive professional to a helpless invalid. He is now on oxygen 24 hours a day. I, too, "lost" my husband although he's still alive.

EVELYN IN SACRAMENTO

DEAR ABBY: As a physician may I point out that exposure to cold air is not a known cause of pneumonia, whereas chronic cigarette smoking is. It is a fact that cigarette smoking is associated with chronic bronchitis, emphysema, cancer, heart disease, strokes, fetal abnormalities and ulcers.

Furthermore, smokers are more susceptible to infections and respiratory ailments than non-smokers, and their ability to fight infections is greatly reduced.

WALTER PINSKER, M.D.,
BAY SHORE, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: "Bitter" blames her relatives for "killing" her husband. In truth, he killed himself! Anyone who craves a smoke so desperately that he would stand in the cold without adequate protective clothing gives a new meaning to the phrase "I'm dying for a cigarette."

ED S. IN BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

DEAR ABBY: When our son was 18 months old he was hospitalized with a respiratory infection. At that time we learned he had a life-threatening allergy to cigarette smoke. My husband was a chain smoker. I begged him to quit. He said he "enjoyed" it too much to give it up—but he promised not to smoke around the baby. Well, soon he was smoking around the baby (even in a closed car!), so I gave him an ultimatum—us or cigarettes. He chose us.

I know he still smokes because I can smell it on him—but at least he doesn't smoke when he's near our child.

ANOTHER ANTI-SMOKING CRUSADER

DEAR ABBY: I'm sorry that lady's husband died, but she is wrong to blame her relatives. They were only trying to protect themselves. She was lucky he died of pneumonia. He probably would have died of lung cancer anyway. It's a terrible way to die. I know because my daddy died that way.

JOSHUA (AGE 10)

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse working in an intensive care unit, and I have nursed many terminal patients on ventilators—unable to breathe on their own because their lungs are filled with secretions that healthy lungs could have easily handled. Nine out of 10 patients were smokers. My hat is off to people who refuse to allow smoking in their homes.

ROCHESTER, MINN.

DEAR ABBY: I smoked for over 40 years. I was up to three packs a day, and I am now paying for it—tenfold. I quit five years ago, but only because I was in such bad shape I nearly died. I have emphysema so bad I can't walk a block without stopping to rest. I think God spared me so I could write this letter. It's too late for me; my lungs are shot. But I want to take this opportunity to apologize to anyone who has ever had to suffer through my smoke.

Church members smash television sets

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — It was a message from God that caused a group of non-denominational Christians to use sledgehammers on about 40 television sets during the past weekend, a church leader says.

The message, they say, was simple: There is too much sex, violence, immorality and sin on the airwaves and the devil is using the opportunity to fill otherwise Christian homes with the glow of evil.

Armed with sledgehammers, baseball bats and at least one car jack, about 250 non-denominational Christians from across Texas converged on a vacant lot in the city's West Side Saturday.

Their mission: to take action, to seek a life closer to the words of Jesus and to destroy their television sets.

And they did it. About 40 sets, most of them large, expensive console models in wooden cabinets, fell victim to the war against Satan.

Many of the televisions were new. One, according to a receipt, was worth $3,161.73. But ended up as no more than a shattered, smoking carcass, sacrificed for Jesus.

Juan Rivera, a co-pastor at a San Antonio church who led the crowd in spontaneous renditions of songs and a moment of prayer, said, "I don't plan to ever have a television in my house."

"Even the cartoons," he said, "all of it is nothing but witchcraft and wizardry. If that's happening with the children, it's happening with the adults with all that violence and sexual permissiveness."

"About the only thing that you can look at now is the 'Wild Kingdom,'" he told the San Antonio Light.

Freddy Garcia, 46, executive director for Victory Outreach, a system of non-denominational churches in Texas and Mexico, said the crowd was participating in one of two yearly Bible conferences in San Antonio last week when the people, heeding the word of God, decided to extend the conference one day to break television sets.

He said few programs on television were worth watching.

"You're sitting there watching television with your kids and all of a sudden nudity comes on," he said. "It's embarrassing."

Rivera acknowledged that some would see the destruction of television sets as extreme.

"That's exactly what we want," he said. "Nothing ever gets changed with a lukewarm attitude."

Omar Sanchez, another minister in San Antonio, said he brought three television sets from his congregation to the meeting yesterday and added some of his own muscle to the event.

"I even brought my own," he said. "It was an RCA, brand new. We hadn't even finished paying for it. It had remote control. It had that light thing where it adjusts to room light."

But he said he had no regrets about the destruction of the set.

"We believe that God is calling us to go all the way for him," he said.

Wedge increases ease of riding

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The jet ski won't support a rider unless it is moving through the water.

To increase the ease of riding and reduce the time a rider spends in the water, Fun Tech has invented a wedge to slip around the hull of the ski so it will support a man weighing more than 260 pounds.

The wedge also adds maneuverability and it can be removed quickly to return the ski to its racing form.

AP Food Editor

AFTER SCHOOL FARE
Half and Half Bread & Jam
Milk or Cocoa

HALF AND HALF BREAD
3 cups all-purpose white flour
2 packages dry yeast
¼ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1½ cups milk
½ cup water
2 tablespoons butter
1 large egg
1 cup wheat germ
2 to 3 cups whole wheat flour

Into a large bowl turn 2 cups of the white flour; add yeast, sugar and salt; stir well. In a 1-quart saucepan heat milk, water and butter until very warm (120 degrees); add to yeast mixture. With an electric mixer at medium speed, beat for 2 minutes, scraping bowl a few times. Add egg and remaining 1 cup white flour; at high speed, beat for 1 minute. With a wooden spoon, stir in wheat germ. Gradually work in enough of the whole wheat flour to make a soft dough that leaves sides of bowl. Turn out onto a lightly floured surface. Knead until smooth and elastic — 5 to 10 minutes. Place in a buttered bowl; cover; let rise in a warm place (about 80 degrees) until double — about 1 hour. Punch down dough; divide in half. Shape into 2 loaves. Place each in a buttered 8½ by 4½ by 2½-inch loaf pan. Cover; let rise until doubled — about 1 hour. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven on rack below center until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — 30 to 40 minutes.

BEAUTY BRIEFS

Cosmetic surgery

There's no doubt that facial and other cosmetic surgery isn't available everywhere.

If you live in a small town, check with the county medical society for names of cosmetic surgeons in the area.

You probably will want to consult more than one surgeon before deciding on any such surgery. Check with the nearest large medical center or approved city hospital that has accredited cosmetic specialists.

Hairstyling

Facial feature balance can be improved by your hairstyle. For instance, a fluffed-up crown makes the nose look smaller. Side hair at chin length and curved toward the face will soften overly thin features.

Fluff waves or wisp curls to cover cheek sides to slenderize a round face. Bangs can cover an unduly high forehead or give it a more regular shape.

The rule of 11 in action

By James Jacoby

The rule of 11 applies when fourth-best leads are made. The rule states that the number of spots on the card led subtracted from 11 will tell you how many cards higher than the one led are in the other three hands. Easley Blackwood, inventor of the most famous bridge convention, used the rule to make a dramatic defensive play in today's deal.

Blackwood, East, played the club queen on his partner's opening lead of the six. This was a necessary play to maintain communication for the defense, since playing the ace and then queen would enable declarer to duck the queen and later knock out the spade ace safely. Now declarer began running the diamonds.

It was important for East to let West know that the club suit was going to run so that West would not discard even one club on the diamond parade. By using the rule of 11, Blackwood knew that declarer's club king was the only card held by South higher than the six. Accordingly, on the third round of diamonds, he discarded the ace of clubs.

Declarer could still have made the contract if he had been able to look through the backs of the cards and see the doubleton heart queen in West's hand. Lacking that X-ray vision, he took the heart finesse and went down two tricks.

CWC women hear Haney

"God is not as interested in our ability as He is in our availability," said Doris Haney speaking to the Christian Women's Club.

Those attending the group's luncheon Wednesday in the Snyder Country Club heard her share her many experiences while living in various places including the Philippines, California, Nebraska, Washington and Lubbock, where she currently resides.

Haney explained that she began her journey through life without consulting her God-given map (the Bible) or her guide (Jesus). She encouraged the women to become involved in a Friendship Bible Coffee sponsored by CWC so that they can know their "map" and "guide" more closely.

She shared how a lonely, fatherless childhood had left her shy and withdrawn. Haney told the women that after becoming a Christian, Christ replace her negative feelings with love and peace. At that time she realized the importance of sharing her experience with others.

Sharon Applin sang "I am a Promise, I am a Possibility" accompanied by Barbara Mott.

Prior to the speaker, the group enjoyed a preschooler fashion show by Debbie Richardson of Kids' Duds. Fifteen children participated including Ashley Baremore, John Tabbot, Alesha Millr, Brantly Pearce, Ashley Grimmett, Lacey Sullenger, Jason Dennis, Crystal Wells, James Allen Shields, Tara Lyons, Matthew Jones, Starling Shields, Reid Johnson and Jodi Dennis.

After the show and a complimentary lunch, the children were entertained with a puppet show by Jeff Mason.

CWC's next luncheon is set for May 8 in the Snyder Country Club.

Western 3rd at NIRA rodeo

Maybe Western Texas College Coach Bob Doty ought to make his cowboys ride fence for a few hours before each rodeo performance. Anything to tire them out a little.

When a weary Van Hale climbed aboard bull number K3 in the finals of Western Texas College NIRA Rodeo here Sunday he needed a 76 to win. He had a good draw, and he knew it.

"That bull is an eliminator. I knew if I could just stay on, I'd get a pretty good score," said the Snyder native.

He did more than that. And he scored a 78.

"I was kind of tired before I got on and I guess that helped. I wasn't as nervous," he grinned.

Hale's effort won him all-around honors in the event. He had placed third in the long go with a 72 and his total 150 beat Sul Ross State's Todd Watkins by three points.

Hale's efforts and those of his teammates couldn't keep the powerful Sul Ross team from winning the four-day rodeo, however. SRSU tallied 270 points, with Watkins taking all-around honors, to lead the pack. Tarleton State University was second with 253.3, followed by Western with 150 points.

WTC's Bliss Mayhan tied for fourth in the bull riding with a 141 score. Mayhand had been sixth going into Sunday's short go and he scored a 70 which placed third for the afternoon. He also placed fourth in the saddle bronc all-around with a 126. His finals ride, a 68, gave him third in the short go.

Southwest Region points were awarded to those who placed first through fourth in the long go, short go and all-around.

Third place in the teamroping all-around went to Cody Foster of Western and Raymond Garcia of Howard for their combined 27.5. They had been sixth going into the finals and clocked a 15.5 there.

Don Eddleman placed fourth in all-around in the calf roping. He had led with an 8.2 after the long go but a 13.5 in the long go - fourth place - cost him a higher finish overall.

Western met with some tough results in the finals. Mark Mauldin and David Jones went into the finals of the team roping tied for second place with a 7.8 but took a 20.4 Sunday and slipped to sixth in the all-around. Also, Niki Moist took a no-time in the finals of the barrels when her horse broke the pattern.

Tina Morris had flashed a 13.99 to take third in the long go of the barrel race, but her 14.15 Saturday left her in sixth place in the all-around.

In another just-miss, Mike Carrillo finished fifth in the all-around bareback with a 132.

Sul Ross also won the women's division with 220 points. Howard College grabbed second with 145. Sul Ross' Tami Noble was the women's all-around cowgirl with 175 points.

Freeman, Loboes cop West O' Pecos honors

PECOS -- For dramatics in area boys track and field, sports fans have looked to two things this season - the Monahans Lobos and Snyder's Kyle Freeman.

Freeman did his usual 1-2-3 sweep in the discus, shot and 100 meters here Saturday but it was Monahans which ran away with the West of the Pecos Relays crown.

The Loboes, which have not lost a meet this season, grabbed a whopping 212 points to easily outdistance second place Fort Stockton, which had 79. Pecos was third with 76½, followed by the Freeman-led Tigers which had 61.

Freeman heaved the shot 55-9½, threw the discus 158-1 and dashed to an 11.01 clocking in the 100 meters.

His efforts garnered the only first-place finishes for Snyder, but Robert Patters did collect a second place for his 12-6 effort in the pole vault, and Chris Garrett cleared 5-8 to cop third in the high jump.

Lady Tigers take runnerup; advance to regionals in golf

PECOS -- Snyder's Lady Tigers will be attending the Region I Golf Tournament for the fourth straight year - to no one's surprise.

The Tigers had a 100-stroke lead over third place Fort Stockton going into Saturday's final 2-4A tournament here and increased it by another 29 shots to easily win the runnerup spot.

Andrews, runnerup a year ago, won the tournament and the district championship. The Lady Mustangs shot a 376 here to finish with a 1,143 total.

Snyder, which carded a 377, finished at 1,159.

Other team scores, including final totals, were Fort Stockton, 406-1,288; Sweetwater, 428-1347; Andrews B, 433-1,391; Monahans, 456-1,411; and Snyder B, 573-1,721.

Tiger junior Leslie Light shot a district low of 80 for medalist honors at the tournament. Her total of 252 also earns her district medalist for the season.

Three other Snyder girls placed in the top 10 - automatically earning them all-district honors.

Xalyn Harris and Michelle Holder tied for sixth with totals of 302 and Camille Reed had a 303.

Angie Lay, the other member of the Snyder A squad, shot a 327 for 15th place overall.

Ironically, despite finishing second to Andrews, the 1,159 was Snyder's best score.

"We scored better this year than we ever have," said Coach Jan Kruse. "The girls have done a real good job. We're looking forward to regionals."

The young team - Light and Harris are juniors and Holder, Reed and Lay are sophomores - will play regionals at Brownwood on May 1-2.

Tennis reps decided; Snyder duo takes 4th

ODESSA -- Snyder's doubles team of Shana Hart and Michelle Killian took fourth place at the District 2-4A Tennis Tournament, which concluded here Saturday.

Hart and Killian had reached the semifinals but lost there to Mandy Kniffen and Martha Barrera of Andrews, 6-1, 6-1. They then fell to Janda and Manda Lopez of Lake View, 6-3, 6-1.

"It was real competitive," said Coach Charlie Chrane of the tournament. "Four different schools won the divisions."

Pecos won boys singles, Lake View girls singles, Fort Stockton boys doubles and Andrews girls doubles.

Another top freshman is Kniffen from Andrews."

SHS girls place fifth at Concho Belle event

SAN ANGELO -- Coach Patty Grimmett's Lady Tigers showed strength in the sprints to take fifth place at the Concho Belle Relays here Saturday.

Hereford won the highly-competitive meet with 100 points. San Angelo Central took second with 82, followed by Sweetwater with 74, Lubbock Dunbar with 57 and Snyder with 54. Sixteen teams participated in the single-day meet.

Snyder's best overall showing came in the 200 meters where Karlene Thompson placed second, Katrina Reed fifth and Yolanda Rivers sixth. Thompson's time was a 26.09 to lead the Tiger trio.

The junior all-around athlete was running the event for only the second time this season. In an event she's more familar with, the triple jump, she notched first place with a leap of 36-2½.

Snyder was unable to get any other points in the field events - a key factor in their fifth place finish.

One of the best showings by a Tiger athlete was Tonya Holladay's 16.77 in the 100 meter hurdles. Holladay, fast becoming one of the top hurdlers in the district, is only a sophomore.

Snyder also got points in the 100 meters where Donna Anderson placed third with a 12.85 and Rivers was sixth with a 13.19.

The Lady Tigers' next outing will be the District 2-4A Track and Field meet, scheduled Saturday in Snyder.

Motorcyclist injured in one-vehicle wreck

A motorcyclist received minor injuries here Saturday in a one-vehicle accident at 30th St. and Ave. K.

The mishap was part of six traffic accidents reported in Snyder Saturday and Sunday.

Jerry Loper of 3101 Ave. U reportedly sustained minor injuries in the motorcycle wreck. It was reported at 7:27 p.m. Saturday.

According to reports, Loper apparently lost control of the 1980 Honda motorcycle he was riding.

Loper was released from Cogdell Memorial Hospital later Saturday night after receiving treatment for his injuries.

The weekend's first minor accident was reported at 10:24 a.m. Saturday.

At that time, Gloria Robinson of Rt. 1, Snyder told police that her 1979 Volkswagen had apparently been struck by an unidentified vehicle while it was parked at the Scurry County Coliseum Friday night.

The 3700 Block of College Ave. was the scene of Saturday's first accident at 11:51 a.m.

Involved in it were a 1985 Ford tractor-trailer rig driven by Michael Phillips of Odessa and a 1977 Ford driven by Betty Harper of 1501 Ave. R.

Saturday's third mishap report was filed at the Sonic Drive-In on College Ave. at 5:05 p.m.

Involved in that incident were a 1980 GMC driven by Fredrick John Miller II of Snyder and a 1980 Ford driven by Tammy Renee Doty of 2106 42nd St.

Sunday's first mishap was logged in the 3400 Block of College Ave. at 1:27 p.m.

According to reports, a parked 1980 GMC owned by Dan E. Callaway of 2311 42nd St. was struck by a 1969 Dodge driven by Reynaldo Vasquez of 801 23rd St.

The 2600 Block of Ave. V was the scene of the weekend's last accident at 7:50 p.m. Sunday.

Involved in it were a 1980 Ford wrecker driven by Robert Thurman Allen of E 311 East Highway which was pulling a 1978 Jeep and a boat trailer. The rig in tow struck a parked 1974 Chevrolet pickup owned by Kenneth Dollar of 2111 27th St.

Minnie Pearl likes cable show results

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Comedian Minnie Pearl says the Grand Ole Opry founding fathers would be proud of the way the famous country music radio show is being presented on cable television.

"When those fine old folks started the Grand Ole Opry 60 years ago, they never would have believed that it would be going coast to coast and would be seen in the normal, informal way," said Miss Pearl, an Opry mainstay for 45 years, after Saturday night's first weekly telecast.

Rendezvous go-ahead is given

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Mission Control gave the crew of the space shuttle Discovery the go-ahead today to rendezvous with a dead $80 million satellite and try to revive it with a few cents' worth of plastic and tubing.

The exercise will extend their time in space by two days.

The plastic and tubing, shaped into an improvised tool that looks like a flyswatter, will be wielded by the shuttle's mechanical arm Wednesday to try to raise a four-inch lever which apparently is hung up on the side of the Syncom satellite, preventing the startup of electrical power. It will be attached to the arm during a spacewalk Tuesday.

"You're go for EVA (extra-vehicular activity) tomorrow and a rendezvous the day after tomorrow," capsule communicator David Hilmers radioed Discovery today.

"Oh boy, we'll look forward to it," responded shuttle commander Karol Bobko.

Rejected were proposals to have a space-walking astronaut stand on a work platform on the end of the arm and either try to grab the latch with his hand or snare it with the makeshift tool.

The hand-grab was rejected as too dangerous because the astronaut could possibly be crushed against the side of the 8-ton payload, officials said. The other option was dropped because it was felt using the arm would be safer.

Dr. Lamb

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Interests can chase fatigue

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 73. I worked at manual labor all my life until I retired at 62. Since then, I have remained active with various hobbies and gardening, and I walk two miles nearly every day. My problem is that I am tired and don't have enough energy to do the things I want.

I had a physical examination with tests, which found that I am in very good condition. My doctor cannot find any physical reason for my lack of energy. I sleep well and have no depression that I am aware of. Why is my energy level so low?

DEAR READER — It is important that one have a complete medical checkup when one has unexplained fatigue, since many diseases can cause fatigue. These include diabetes, tuberculosis, cancer, heart disease and liver disease, among others. Since you have no indication of disease, you do have to think of psychological reasons for your loss of energy.

Depression isn't the only psychological reason for lack of energy. Many people are not energetic because they have no reason to be. One needs to have meaningful goals and things to do that seem really important. Too many people do not plan ahead and develop goals for their retirement years, and thus have nothing that they really need or want to strive for.

This may be an indictment of our retirement system. People are happier and more energetic if they are still needed and fill an important role in life. I don't think that hobbies and walking will fill these personality needs.

One must also get some enjoyment out of life. Try to do one thing each day that you really enjoy. If you can't think of anything you really enjoy, you must develop something that you can become part of and enjoy.

Read The Health Letter, Special Report 31, What Fatigue Means, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care fo this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

In addition, review your nutrition. Poor nutrition can lead to fatigue and may not be so evident on a medical examination.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A close friend of mine seems to be unduly alarmed about a diagnosis that her doctor made. He told her that she has vaginal warts and that they are highly contagious.

She is not sexually active and feels demeaned and ashamed. For the past six months she has worn panty shields. Could this have caused the warts? How serious is this problem and how is it treated?

DEAR READER — I prefer the term "moist warts," rather than vaginal warts, since a moist environment encourages them. They can be transmitted sexually, but that is not always the case.

When moist warts occur in the cervical area, they definitely should be removed. There is some correlation between them and the later occurrence of cervical cancer. The correlation is stronger than with herpes. Otherwise, they are not dangerous.

They can be treated by being coated with podophyllin, if they are external. Intravaginal ones can be excised, removed by electro-destruction or frozen. Care must be taken to remove all of the area for an effective cure.

Water usage goes up

A belated spring continued to dull municipal water demands on the Colorado Rver Municipal Water District, but that may be changing drastically.

During March the four principal customers among municipalities averaged 30.5 million gallons a day. For the first four days of April the average jumped to 36.9 million, or up about 20 percent.

The average for all municipal users was slightly higher than the big four in March because San Angelo jumped its rate of draw on Lake Spence. Total municipal deliveries for March stood at 1,044,374,500 gallons, down 8.5 per cent from March 1984. On the other hand, oilfield and industrial deliveries of 164,737,030 gallons were up 55,412,000 gallons over last year, or 50.68 percent. Total deliveries of 1,209,111,530 were off 45,578,000 gallons or 3.61 percent.

In March Big Spring took 193,725,700 gallons, down 8.22 percent; Midland, 325,345,000 gallons, down 1.28 percent; Odessa, 411,522,000 gallons, down 17.10 percent; Snyder, 67, 310,000 gallons, down 23.72 percent; Stanton, 7,962,000 gallons, down 7.69 percent.

In March 1984 San Angelo took only 2,807,000 gallons but this year 38,509,300 gallons. Last March Robert Lee required 8,807,000 gallons but this March none.

1st quarter financial picture holds steady

Financial picture for the Colorado River Municipal Water District through the first quarter of 1985 held steady despite weather abnormalities that reduced deliveries.

Total income for the three months was $2,832,266, or 8.23 percent under budget estimates. Of this, $2,782,436 was in water sales, down 6.63 percent from estimates.

On the other hand, expenses of $1,525,834 were 9.10 percent under budget, leaving a net budget deficit for the period of 2.4 percent.

Of total operating and maintenance expense of $1,448,025, electric power for pumping accounted for $1,071,634, or 14.10 percent less than estimated for the period.

Net income for the quarter was $1,057,770, most of which goes to debt service.

Water deliveries for the first quarter totaled 3,374,870,750 gallons, of which 2,848,239,760 gallons or 84.40 percent came from Lake E. V. Spence and J. B. Thomas. Another 139,863,000 gallons cam from wells, making a potable total of 2,988,100,760. The remaining 12 percent was in diverted non-potable water used for oilfield secondary recovery. Lake Spence contained 207,400 ac. ft. or 42.43 percent of capacity, Lake Thomas 19,072 ac. ft. or 9.35 percent of capacity.

Athens native wins division

ATHENS, Texas (AP) — A native of this town that claims to be the birthplace of the burger has won her division in the second-ever Uncle Fletch Davis Memorial World Hamburger Cook-Off.

Doris Scott grilled her way to victory over 25 other backyard chefs using a recipe she said contained ground carrots. She would not elaborate.

The winner in the celebrity division was David Knause, a co-owner of Tolbert's Texas Chile Parlor in Dallas. Knause said he used hand-ground top sirloin.

According to local legend, Fletch Davis began experimenting with sandwiches in the late 1890s at his cafe in downtown Athens.

Finally, he produced the magic mix: put ground beef between two slices of bread, spread with mayonnaise and mustard, then garnish with a big slice of Bermuda onion and sliced cucumber pickle.

Sandinistas insist American died during rebel fighting

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The leftist government insists an American was killed last month while fighting alongside rebels in Nicaragua and says he carried dog tags belonging to Roger Patterson.

But Roger Patterson of Selma, Ala., who has the same U.S. Army identification number as the one on the dog tags, says he has never been to Nicaragua and still has his dog tags.

Nicaraguan officials refused Sunday to clarify the mystery after Patterson, 22, who served in the U.S. Army in Honduras in secret operations near the Nicaraguan border in 1983, was located in Selma.

"We already stated in our communique yesterday our position that Patterson died in combat and was buried in the jungle," Foreign Ministry spokeswoman Angela Saballos said in a telephone interview.

Ms. Seballos said: "If the Patterson family had been interested in seeing it (the body), we would have made all efforts to look for it in the jungle, since we do not know exactly where he was buried."

Asked to explain the discrepancy, she replied, "There has to be an explanation of why there are two (sets of) identification of Patterson," but refused to say who could provide the explanation or give details.

Other officials at the Defense Ministry and other government offices, and the U.S. Embassy spokeswoman in Managua could not be reached Sunday.

The Defense Ministry first announced in a communique Saturday that a Roger Patterson, with U.S. Army dog tag identification number 419-96-7523, was killed March 25 fighting with rebels against government troops in the village of Bocana de Tawa.

Bocana de Tawa, in North Zelaya province, is located 175 miles northeast of Managua and 75 miles from the Honduran border. The communique said 10 rebels were also killed in the battle.

But the communique did not give a physical description, age or hometown of the man alleged to be Patterson. It said he was buried in the area, but gave no details.

On Sunday, the Sandinista newspaper published a photograph purporting to show the man's dog tag. The name of Roger Patterson, the identification number, Baptist religion and O positive blood-type appeared clearly printed on it.

The dog tag was not shown to the rest of the press and its authenticity could not otherwise be independently verified.

Patterson said his dog tag and social security number both were 419-96-7523 but that he still had his identification tags. "I've lost none of them. The only thing I left behind was a set of jungle fatigues," he said.

Tax Freedom Day is two weeks away

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is Tax Day 1985 — the deadline for most Americans to file their federal income tax returns. But for the average person, Tax Freedom Day is still two weeks away.

While as many as 10 million couples and individuals were putting the finishing touches on their returns, the private Tax Foundation was disclosing that most people will have to work until April 30 to pay their federal, state and local taxes. That is one day longer than last year.

If all the taxes paid by businesses and individuals were divided equally among the work force, the foundation said, each person would have to work 2 hours and 38 minutes every 8-hour day to pay a share. That's one minute longer than in 1984 but five minutes less than in 1980, before the biggest tax cut in history was approved by the federal government.

The Internal Revenue Service was working overtime today to process some of the millions of returns that have piled up because of bugs in a $103 million computer. Commissioner Roscoe L. Egger Jr. insists most of the problems have been solved and that people who file their returns on time will get their refunds by June 1. A delay beyond that date means the IRS has to pay interest at an annual rate of 13 percent.

About 101 million couples and individuals are expected to file returns this year and 80 percent of them will get refunds averaging more than $800.

Through April 5, about 60 million returns had been received. Another 35 million are expected by April 19. More than 3.5 million people will ask for and receive automatic four-month filing delays, although they'll have to estimate and pay their tax by tonight. Some will win a delay until June 17 by being out of the country today. And other returns will straggle in later in the year.

Abortion hearing on tap in Austin

AUSTIN (AP) — An anti-abortion group promises to "blow the lid off the abortion industry" at a House committee meeting today.

"After this shocking testimony of kickbacks, abuse and other irregularities in the abortion industry, we believe that the need to regulate this business will be clearly established," said Bill Price, president of the Greater Dallas Right to Life Committee.

The House State Affairs Committee today looks at 11 abortion-related bills, highlighted by Rockdale Rep. L.B. Kubiak's measure that would restrict abortions in the final three months of pregnancy.

Also this week, work continues on a 1986-87 state budget, the Senate will look at setting up a "super Tuesday" presidential primary, the House will decide on a $120 million fee hike bill and a House committee will hear about a proposed "sick tax."

The abortion hearing could be among the most emotional of the session. Price's group has given all lawmakers a copy of the film "Silent Scream" which he said shows how a fetus suffers during an abortion.

Pro-choice groups have countered. Last week, all legislators were sent a coat hanger aimed at reminding them of the dangers of illegal abortions.

Price said the anti-abortion testimony will be keynoted by someone "who was a high-profile personality in the pro-choice movement" and owned one of the largest abortion clinics in the state.

"We are bringing in several witnesses who will give sworn testimony that will blow the lid off the abortion industry," said Price.

Also today, the House Appropriations Committee reconvenes for a final vote on its proposed $36 billion, two-year state budget.
