Six Most Loveliest Selected

LONDON ARTIST TAKES BOLD STEP NAMING FILM BEAUTIFULS

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Cecil Beaton, London painter, has become known to his friends as the bravest man in Hollywood.

Beaton chose six film girls who, he said, were the most beautiful in motion pictures. He then went into seclusion in his hotel room. Beaton said he selected the girls to feature a book on beauty which he is writing.

His choices? Well, here they are, with his reasons:

MARLENE DIETRICH: Because Michael Angelo alone could duplicate her.

NORMA SHEARER: Because she is lovely, simple, country woman whom sophistication has not spoiled.

Marlene Dietrich Norma Shearer

GRETA GARBO: Because she is absolutely mad; and being absolutely mad, is therefore ethereal.

LILYAN TASHMAN: Because she is a Grecian goddess, deserving full marks for her nose and hips; she has one of the most divine forms in the world.

Greta Garbo Lilyan Tashman

MARION DAVIES: Because she is the vitally alive type of young American girl.

INA CLAIRE: Because she is in reality a Marie Laurencin painting. She is a gorgeous almond, typifying the acme of gayety, laughter and youth.

REDS TO MEET TOMORROW

POLICE PREPARING TO QUIET RIOTS OVER EUROPE TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, Feb. 24.—Authorities of central and southwestern European countries today viewed with considerable apprehension prospective celebration of tomorrow as "International Communist Day."

In view of the great numbers of unemployed and the general unrest, measures of the most severe nature have been adopted everywhere to hold the manifestants in check. Austria, probably, was less hit than some of the other countries, the influence of the communists on the socialists unemployed being very light.

But in the Balkan countries and other states of eastern Europe the police were more nervous and their precautions more elaborate. In Sofia, Bulgarian capital, all demonstrations were forbidden. Numerous political secretariats and other premises of workmen have been searched and thousands of manifestos prepared for the day have been seized.

The Rumanian police likewise

GREEN AND LAVENDER FACE POWDER LATEST TO BE PRESENTED; COLOR CAPTIVATES MAKEUP

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—Whoever coined the expression, "there's nothing new under the sun," apparently had not heard from Louis Clement, noted Parisian authority on women's styles.

Green face powder is the latest and newest, Clement said in addressing the annual convention of the Philadelphia Hairdressers' association. Women of ruddy complexion should never use rouge, says M. Clement, hence a pale green powder has been compounded for them.

"And for evening use," he added, "under the shaded lights of the dinner table or ballroom, there is a shade of lavender calculated to improve the most charming woman.

"The style in makeup is changing. It is no longer fashionable to appear either very pale or with extreme vivid smears of rouge and lipstick. The violet nail polish is also disappearing, and some well

The senate finance committee's amendment to the house bill struck out all below the enactment clause and substituted throughout its figures.

JURY OF MARRIED MEN IS SOUGHT BY ATTORNEYS IN BRIDGE GAME SLAYING CASE; NO QUESTIONS ON GAME ASKED

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 24.—A jury of married men was sought by attorneys today in the murder trial of Mrs. Myrtle A. Bennett, 35, accused of shooting her husband, John G. Bennett, after a bridge game quarrel.

Questioning by James R. Page, prosecuting attorney, and ex-Senator James A. Reed and J. Francis O'Sullivan of defense counsel had led to the qualification of twenty-six men, including one widower, for a venire of forty-seven. Each staff expressed preference for married men. Neither asked questions about bridge.

Mrs. Bennett, pale and attractively garbed, smiled yesterday when Page announced the state would not seek the death penalty.

Witnesses to tell of the circumstances surrounding the slaying of Bennett, well-to-do district manager for a perfume company, the night of September 29, 1929, include Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hofman, the Bennetts' opponents in the bridge game.

Police said an investigation revealed Bennett slapped his wife when she chided him for failure to make a bid in spades, a bid she had raised two points.

CLARK RULING IS REJECTED IN DECISION

VOLSTEAD LAW STILL SUPREME PRO RULE FOR NATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The Eighteenth Amendment was sustained as valid today by the supreme court.

Under the decision the government will continue its efforts to enforce the Volstead law.

The ruling was handed down in the government's appeal from the decision of Federal Judge William Clark of New Jersey, who held the amendment invalid because improperly ratified.

Found Untenable

Judge Clark contended that to be valid the amendment should have been submitted to state conventions for ratification rather than to state legislatures. This view the court found untenable.

When William H. Sprague and William J. Howey were brought to trial before Judge Clark on a charge of possessing and transporting 50 half barrels of beer, he quashed the indictment, holding the prohibition amendment invalid.

In an exhaustive opinion he took the position that as the Eighteenth Amendment attempted to transfer to the federal government jurisdiction over rights reserved to the people it should have been submitted to them in state conventions for

May Cut Attendance

Only a few regrets have been received so far, it was explained. Members of the committee in charge, headed by Leo Walkow, chairman, are hopeful that the roads will be in much better shape by tonight. It is possible to get through, although the roads are somewhat rough in spots.

CHARMING PERSONALITY WILL OVERCOME MARKED PHYSICAL HANDICAPS

Recently we had the honor to entertain for several days in our home a gentlman whom we had never met before, but of whom different members of the family still saying, "Wasn't he a most attractive person?"

He had one arm and hand badly paralyzed; but none of us observed this fact for several hours after his arrival, and then everybody seemed entirely to forget about it. His cultivated manner, speech and smiles, and his sense of humor captivated all of us.

"How wonderful it was that he could make one forget about his hand completely even while he used it with great difficulty in eating his grapefruit," observed Mrs. Myers. He was, indeed, a great inspiration to all of us.

I remember that I once dropped into the men's section of a large department store. When the clerk approached me I was for the moment repelled by his unprepossessing face, but as soon as he smiled and spoke he attracted me. I made my purchase with great pleasure, lingered to enjoy his presence, and finally left the store marveling at that man's self-development of charm.

I recall a certain elderly lady in a rather important business position. In a conference with her my eyes fell at once upon certain marks upon her face, which ordinarily would have repelled me; but her grace, her voice, her speech and movements made me say all the while to myself, "How remarkable her personality."

There are many children who have certain physical handicaps which will go with them a life time. We can help the older children of this sort by calling their attention to such characters as I have just described. We can do more. We can help them forget their handicap.

But by nature we are inclined to make such children more self-conscious. Many adults, even parents, are inclined constantly to remind the child of the things he desires to have entirely forgotten. They talk of such traits directly to the child or about him in his presence. If they exercised good sense they would not do so. We all should be more cultivated than to offend by such boorishness.

You and I know that we unconsciously shield any physical defect we know we have or think we have. I discovered, for example, that for years I had never pointed in my teaching with my crooked right index finger, although I am decidedly right-handed. School children dim of sight or dull of hearing nearly always choose a seat in the rear of the classroom.

Even when we learn not to make verbal reference to a physical irregularity of a child we may still remind him constantly of it by the way our eyes fall upon it, or by our gestures, even by the way we breathe. How difficult to keep your eyes off the birthmark on Bolivar's forehead, off the protruding front teeth of Theresa, or off the mouth of Stephen when he stammers.

Here is an opportunity for us to develop stronger character in ourselves and to build up personality in the child. Think of the good we may do, the heartaches we may ease, the happiness we are able to afford the growing child, by taking thought and by proper management of ourselves.

New Gowns For Formal Wear This Spring Show Grace

BY MME LISBETH

Feminity is what is said to capture men's fancy in women. If so, the new gowns for more formal wear, with their long, graceful lines, should make quite an impression on the masculine hearts who meet the wearers.

This craze for "womanly" fashions shows no hint of subsiding with the spring showings. Lace is popular, both for whole dresses and for trimming. Dainty short sleeves, often finished with a band of fur, are frequent; velvet belts and ribbon sashes, softly drapped effects, all are shown in the new frocks for every kind of wear except active sports.

Even the pajamas that have been borrowed from the men's wardrobes are so feminized that the originals would never recognize them as at all the same garments, or having any relation to the one-time sleeping garment.

The hostess gown, which is the modern interpretation of the old-fashionable tea gown, is pictured at the left here in an elaborate model posed over a one-piece pajama. This unique ensemble is made of pale yellow triple georgette of bemberg. It has a cowl neckline, softly draped revers that tie in a bow in front, long circularly-cut drapery on the skirt section and finishing the sleeves.

The stunning all-black evening dress, center, is of transparent velvet with crystal buckles on the shoulder straps as the only lightening touch. The earrings, the jeweled straps of the black slippers and the bracelets form a jeweled ensemble with these buckles. The skirt is two-tiered and the bodice form fitting. Thelma McNeal, screen player, who is wearing it, is said to be the screen's most perfect Spanish type actress.

The gown at the right is illustrative of several high style features It is a sophisticated frock of sheer flower print in orange and gray. It has a deep hip yoke, the very low back decolletage and the flower garniture at the back, all of which are spoken of by stylists as special high-lights in the present mode.

Kotex protects longer

. . . because it absorbs away from the surface

THE secret of Kotex superiority is really very simple. It absorbs five times more than cotton and it absorbs laterally, away from the surface, leaving the protective edges dry and comfortable. That's very important.

Because both sides are equally absorbent, there's no danger of possible embarrassment by wrong adjustment. Wear it on either side with equal protection, equal comfort.

Kotex is adjustable. You can remove layers of filler as your needs change. It deodorizes thoroughly by a special process perfected in the Kotex laboratories.

And, as you know, it is so easily disposable that millions of women would not think of returning to old-fashioned methods of sanitary protection.

BOMBINGS ARE ON INCREASE

LARGER STRUCTURES IN CHICAGO OBJECT OF ATTACKS NOW

BY CECIL G. DOUGLAS

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP)—A new swing of the bomber's missile in the direction of large merchandise houses and manufacturing plants centered police activity on this form of outlawry. It even brought a threat of summary execution from Police Commissioner John Alcock.

Police headquarters today admitted the bombing squad had been reinforced with a number of specially detailed officers to ascertain the motive and the prepetrators of the outrages which have struck at the largest two structures in the world, the merchandise mart of Marshall Field & company and the furniture mart.

Bombings Increased

Bombings have increased, with few exceptions, annually, the employers' association said today in making public a total of 851 that had found their mark in the last decade. The damage has reached hundreds of thousands of dollars.

But until last December, "joints," or racketeer shops of various types, were the usual objectives. December set a high mark for the newer warfare with explosions tearing away at the merchandise mart, $35,000,000 building, the huge furniture mart, the warehouse of Sears Roebuck & company, and the plants of Carson Pirie, Scott & company and the General Outdoors Advertising company.

January brought a blast at the large plant of the Canada Dry company, beverage manufacturers, in suburban Maywood, while February's heaviest explosion, directed at the Lakeside press of R. R. Donnelley & Co., shook homes and hospitals in the neighborhood but only shattered windows in the structure.

Labor troubles were connected with some of the blasts by police through interlacing contracts of the printing firm, Sears Roebuck and others.

SEVEN STATES IN UNITED STATES ARE NEGLIGENT ON CHILD MARRIAGES; AGE LIMIT LEGALLY AT ELEVEN YEARS

BY FESS FURMAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Dame Rachel Crowdy, British sociologist, recently said seven states in this country permit girls to marry at the age of twelve. The children's bureau is sorry but she's wrong. She should have said eleven.

This was admitted regretfully by bureau officials to be the actual state of affairs if the most recent information in their files is accurate.

Contrasts Laws

Dame Crowdy, former chief of the social questions section of the League of Nations, in a speech at Philadelphia contrasted the child marriage laws of this country with those of India, Turkey, and Japan, which she said, set a 16-year limit.

She said Europeans were somewhat amused at "the moral indignation Americans exhibit against child arriages sanctioned in the Orient."

Not Common

"Marriage at young ages is not common with us, and it is to be regretted that it is legal," was the comment on this today of Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau, and, as is always true of the United States in our 48 different juristictions. We have examples of some of the best as well as some of the poorest."

From Russell Sage foundation studies and other sources, the roster of states and Virginia, fixed by statute; Florida, Maine, Rhode Island, Tennessee, fixed by judicial decision under common law; Colorado, Idaho, Maryland, Mississippi and New Jersey, in which it is presumed the common law applies.

Kentucky, Pennsylvania and New York, which were in that same list six years ago, raised the minimum age to 14, 16, and 14, respectively.

The Russell Sage foundation study of 1925 on child marriages estimated 343,000 women and girls then living in the United States began their married life as child brides.

"WAS NERVOUS, HAD THE BLUES"

Lady Says Cardui "Helped a Lot," And Her Strength Came Back.

Greenville, Tex.—When she was fifteen years old, Mrs. Bessie Lee Pennington, of 2708 South Johnson Street, this city, "was a thin, weak girl," she writes in her interesting account of how her health improved after she had taken Cardui. "I grew too fast and my strength gave out. I lost my appetite, and did not feel like keeping up with the other girls because I did not have the physical strength.

"I was nervous and had the blues when nothing suited me.

"My aunt had taken Cardui and had been greatly benefited by it, so she started giving it to me. It helped me a lot and brought me right out. I picked up in weight and my strength came back, so I could do all the things I wanted to do.

"Not long ago, I was run-down and got to feeling bad. I began taking Cardui as soon as I realized my condition. I took three bottles and soon was feeling fine."

Thousands of other women have taken Cardui and reported benefit from its use. N-854

Thought For Today

Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.—Job 18:5.

End Of Legend

One trouble with the world these days is that there are so many people who like to go about destroying all of our harmless and pleasant little illusions.

There is, for instance, Miss Beatrice Grimshaw, who declares—in here recent book, "Isles of Adventure"—that there are no more cannibals in New Guinea.

She qualifies it a little, of course. There are a few, 'way back in the hills; but they are rather ashamed of it, and they are dying out anyhow, and nobody in New Guinea is in the slightest danger of being plopped into some cannibal chieftain's dinner pot.

Here, we submit, is a fine sample of subversive literature. If there are no cannibals in New Guinea, there should be some. At the very worst, nobody ought to come right out and reveal the uninspiring truth. The world is getting prosaic enough as it is. We have a right to keep a few of the old traditions.

The trouble really began several hundred years ago. When Columbus headed across the Atlantic and, instead of reaching China, bumped into a wild and sparsely settled continent he killed a whole set of exciting traditions. To be sure, he led to the creation of many new ones; for years thereafter people could dream of the golden city of Manoa, and the seven cities of Cibola, and that weird land in the northwest where men's faces grew out of their chests, and tribes of fair-skinned, wondrously-beautiful Amazons ruled the country. But those legends, in their turn, faded and were no more and by the time the twentieth century arrived the really stirring tales of distant lands were few indeed.

As a matter of fact, the explorer is a less useful creature than he is supposed to be. He is supposed to be visionary, but in reality he is all too practical. The true visionary would be content to dream about fabled lands and perilous seas; the explorer goes and looks at them, in the flesh, and never any more are they places of fable and alluring peril. Instead they become mere markets for the exporters of New York and Hamburg, or coaling stations for the oddly-named cruisers and gunboats of the British fleet.

How many places are there left on all the globe, about which one can let one's imagination run wild, unchecked by any prosaic facts? You could count them on the fingers of one hand. The polar regions, the Gobi desert, the African interior, the islands of the Pacific—their mysteries are vanishing like snow under an April sun. We know altogether too much as it is. If we must have more books describing these places, let them be written by talented and imaginative liars.

Protracted

The delays of the law are proverbial; but occasionally a case illustrates the snail-like progress of our judicial machinery so excellently that it is worth citing in detail.

In October of 1929 a New York jury indicted the directors of a certain bank that had failed. That, as such things go, is relatively a long time ago. But it was just the other day that the New York court of appeals ruled that the indictment was valid, and that the indicted men may be brought to trial on it.

Here, then, we have a delay of approximately 18 months before even so much as the validity of the indictment had been established. At that rate a final verdict as to the guilt or innocence of the accused men ought to be ready, say, by 1936.

If that were an isolated instance, of course, it would not be important. But it is not isolated, nor is it peculiar to New York. It is typical of the sort of delay that is always cropping out in American criminal procedure; and it is one of the chief reasons for the prevalence of crime in the nation today.

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says she can judge a woman's character by her clothes—providing the evidence isn't insufficient.

* * *

THE other day the Associated Press carried the following article:

"NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Here say the tailors of America, is the perfect man:

"Height 5 feet 8 inches; weight 135 to 140 pounds; waist 30 to 31 inches; hips 37 inches; arms (sleeve), 18 inches; legs 32 inches. He has poise, is well mannered, observes the niceties of public conduct; speaks intelligently, acts like a gentleman.

"Reward for fitting these standards:

"He, or they, will be allowed to model the advance summer and fall fashions for the clothing designers executives association, February 27 and 28."

Mr. A. J. Richardson, of 313 Avenue W, reports to The Plainsman that his measurements coincide exactly with those in the New York story.

This is a small world, after all.

Eight years ago The Plainsman met Thompson Reid, of North Carolina, in Oklahoma City.

The next time he heard of Mr. Reid, the latter was assistant United States Consul in Bombay, India.

Mr. Reid dropped into the office the other day. For the past year and a half he has been operating a filling station in Levelland.

MANY readers of this column will remember the old story that was so popular during the war.

A doting mother had gone to the parade of embarking soldiers, among whom her son was numbered.

Down the flag-draped avenue swung the boys in olive drab, Old Glory unfurled to the breeze and with thunderous applause almost drowning out the band's martial air.

Suddenly she spotted her son.

"Look! Look!" she jabbed her neighbor, "they're all out of step but Jim."

That was a funny story when it was new and popular and when any kind of fun was needed to give us all respite from the grim tragedies which were being enacted everywhere.

But it's not so funny now—under different circumstances. It's more pitiful when adapted to its new setting.

There are men in Lubbock, women, too—and everywhere else—who have the mother's philosophy although they don't apply it to a hero son. They apply it to themselves, and seldom realise the spectacle they make.

"They're all out of step but me," is the way they feel and talk.

"Everybody's wrong but me. I'm the only person in the world, or in this town, who has any honest motives or any nitelligence", is their theory.

Their chamber of commerce, although it may be made up of unimpeachable men, is always wrong.

Their mayor and their governing officers from President down are saps, boobs or, at their best, very suspicious characters.

The churches are composed of hypocrits, or dumbells, they declare, and no one attends services for other than ulterior motives.

The schools are rotten, high falootin', or too backward, is the cry of the egotist, and nothing under the shining sun is right—but himself.

On his slender shoulders rests the grave responsibility of setting the example and of leading his poor, blind fellow man. They're all out of step but him and he must set them all aright.

MEBBE it's not natural with that species of genus homo, but he never stops to think that perhaps he is out of step with his happier, more generous neighbor. He is so embued with his own righteousness and powers of conception that he can't see anything else.

It takes all kind of folks to make up the world.

Doubtless the extermination of that type of person would detract from every-day life were he not on hand to guide the majority into other channels—to permit the majority to profit from his own ridiculous example.

But it may be noted that super-egotists have made little contribution to the advance of civilization as a whole or to the building of any city.

It is the individual who believes in his fellow man, who is willing to give his neighbor a chance, who is generous enough to co-operate [illegible] niche in the plan of things, who really makes the mare go.

That Man on Avenue Q says the [illegible] of us have forgotten the Constitution is because it only [illegible] and the pursuit of happiness.

A Dallas man has sued his wife for divorce.

He says she makes so much noise with the furnace in the mornings that he simply can't sleep.

"Oh, yes," he said, "I'm a natural born actor. I played Romeo so naturally that when I died a man in the audience fainted!"

"Tell us about it—tell us," his friends demanded.

"Well, you see he was an insurance agent and he had just written me a policy!"

It's A Great Life If You Don't Weaken!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—The theory that the Democratic party is sure to make enough fool moves before the election of 1932 to wipe out the unusually bright hopes that it has for victory will have an initial test when the party's national committee meets here March 5. That theory is often advanced and is one which many Republicans fondly treasure.

There are some Democrats who think that the decision of the Raskob - Shouse management to call the meeting at this time was not so wise. Anyway, it was a bold one and there is also plenty of opinion that the best strategy at this time is to get the Democrats together and eliminate as many party troubles as possible instead of stumbling with the whole lot through the next session of Congress and on into the national convention.

Hope for United Front

If the meting goes ahead and tackles the real issues facing Democracy, as expected, there is bound to be some hot internal fighting of the sort that sometimes in the past has made Democrats famous for dissension. The best the rank and file of Democrats can hope for is that their leaders will come out of it with a reasonably united front on most of the points now regarded as controversial, regardless of the anticipated bitterness of arguments.

Prohibition is the most obvious source of trouble. The stumbling block there has always been that the Democratic solid south has remained dry while in most other states the party has been wet—and lately has become increasingly so.

National Chairman Raskob and Chairman Shouse of the executive committe are personally wet and they hope that the party will adopt a wet stand, although both have been careful to refrain from attempting to commit it to anything. There are bone-dry Democrats, especially from the south, who believe that the two chairmen will undertake to force the party into a wet position at the coming meeting. Such complaints come mostly from members of Congress who are really talking to the dry constituents upon whom they depend for re-election.

Look to Patronage

Members of the national committee, no matter how dry their states may be, are more willing to go along with the majority or with the party management because their greatest hope of reward for their work is found in the possibilities of a national victory with its resultant patronage opportunities, whereas the average member of Congress is always worried most of all about election.

Anxiety about a bad row over prohibition may prove to be exaggerated because of two obvious and correlated facts. First, nearly every every unprejudiced political expert believes that the Democrats cannot hope to win in 1932 unless they nominate a wet upon an at least moist platform. Second, many of the drys in the party are privately convinced that prohibition will not work, and that it will be modified in some way sooner or later. This group may remain technically dry, talking dry, but it is likely to restrain itself from doing anything likely to work serious impairment on the party's chances.

The matter of financing the party is also causing plenty of worry. The fact that Mr. Raskob had been doing virtually all the financing was impressed on the country recently in an exchange of compliments between Raskob and a Washington correspondent. Raskob will put up to the committee a proposal to meet the $600,000 Democratic debt with the help of a commercial funds-gathering agency.

Confusion on Finance

Shouse's organization and publicity machine at national headquarters here has been doing a splendid, effective job for the party, nearly all Democrats admit, and should be increasingly helpful as time goes on. No one wants it to close down. But this is a bad time to depend on individual Democrats for contributions and there seems to be confusion among various groups in the party as to what is the best financial policy to adopt.

A majority of the committee presumably will play ball with the national management at the conclave in planning the framework of a legislative program which will undertake to express the party attitude on such matters as farm relief and economic measures to combat depression. Some members of Congress, however, are already promising that they will not feel bound by any general expression the committee may make.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Four pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Hygiene of Women," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Boy Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

DIATHERMY PRODUCED IN TWO FORMS

DIATHERMY can be modified so that two forms are produced—medical and surgical diathermy. Its action is due, as we saw yesterday, to the production of heat caused by the passage of a high frequency electric current between two electrodes. The electrodes may be placed at varying distances apart on the surface of the body. As the current passes from one to the other heat is produced in the tissues which the current traverses.

Dr. Clendening

If the temperature produced is insufficient to damage the tissues, but simply heats them up, it is called medical diathermy. If, however, it is high enough to destroy the tissue, it is called surgical diathermy or electrocoagulation.

Medical diathermy, the production of heat deep in tissues, has been tried for curative purposes in a number of conditions, in two with conspicuous success. Certain forms of infectious arthritis and pelvic infections in women yield wonderful results to this treatment.

There is no form of heat comparable to diathermy in joint infections which are fairly acute to fairly chronic in character, provided there is no encapsulated pus present in the joint. The old forms of external heat do not have the penetrating quality of diathermy and cannot "place" the heat exactly in the diseased tissues as it can. Besides, it has considerable effect in destroying the germs which cause the arthritis and thus preventing future flare-ups.

Even the most conservative specialists in disease of women are enthusiastic in their praise of the use of diathermy in the pelvic infections of women. Many such cases cannot be operated in the acute stage. Diathermy used at this time relieves pain, for one thing, and often clears the inflamation up so thoroughly that, as one gynaecologist says, operation is unnecessary.

Diathermy has been tried in pneumonia and good reports made about it. It seems to do no harm. Whether the results are better than in other methods of treatment I cannot convince myself. The reports available are lacking in comparative statistics.

It has also ben used in tuberculosis of the lungs, but here also the results are not sufficiently definite to allow of unreserved recommendation.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

M. L. D. asks a number of questions, among them: "What diet would you suggest for a nursing mother to increase the amount of milk?"

Answer: There is no single article of diet or drug which will increase the amount of milk. A full diet, eating plenty of all kinds of foods, is the only thing known. Milk is the most valuable single article of diet for a nursing mother; egg yolk, oranges, green vegetables, cream cheese, butter (at least an ounce a day) and tomatoes are all essential articles of the mother's diet.

Tech Chemistry Unit Is To Meet Tonight

An interesting program has been outlined for the meeting of the Chemistry society of Texas Technological college, to be held tonight, according to announcement this morning.

Dr. W. L. Ray, professor of Organic Chemistry, will be the principal speaker, taking as his subject "A Brief Discussion of the Ammonia System of Acids, Bases and Salts."

Students to speak are Mina Marie Wall, who will report on scientific current events and Hugh Gilliam, who will give an original poem, "The Scientific Kiss."

"Prohibition," says Al Capone, "has made nothing but trouble." Probably that is merely some of his dry humor.

Charlie Chaplin recently refused an offer of $650,000 to broadcast over the radio. One case where silence is not golden.

King Alfonso's Rule in Balance," says a headline. A rule which is doubtless measured by martial feet.

SWAN

In Barbary With Gilbert Swan

CASABLANCA, Morocco, Feb. 24—If it's "Cheyenne Charlie" you'll be pleased to meet in North Africa.

In the midst of the bizarre, exotic and strange, Charlie is just about the last person you'd expect in meet. In fact, since he is a chip of the old west, you'd find it difficult to meet his counterpart back in the states. For Charlie is a product of the gold days; he's an old-time rodeo showman and he still sighs for the days of sawdust floors in barrooms, faro dealers and clicking roulette wheels, poker games and dance halls.

Charlie hasn't gone completely native, but he's on his way. He's been out in this country many, many years.

And finding him fenced in by souks in the "old town" of Casablanca is as startling as finding a waiter who will serve you good bottled water in this section of the world.

The souks here are but a gateway to souks that get soukier and soukier as they go on, until they seemed fairly drenched in antiquity and odd odors. Burros, laoded for market, straggle past his door. . . the cry of "Bal-lec—Ballec—" echoes down the adjoining lane as the merchants and the burnoosed figures go by in an endless parade of varied types. . . for a souk is a street of small shops and manufacturing plants, where all the handicrafts and arts are practiced by dark-skinned men who have not let machinery so much as touch the hem of thier flowing gowns.

And the bar of Charley Styles stands at a V-shaped crossroad—with a slight American flavor to it, a French menu at the tables, a bit of the Moor and the Arab about it, an assortment of English-speaking drifters floating in and out.

And Charley himself, in his Americano sweater, backed by racks of bottles labeled with names that reflect the vintages of Spain, Araby and way points.

Just outside the limits of the old town, the new French sections have their Parisian looking sidewalk cafes, shops and marts. But Charlie, with plenty of the frontier in his past, is hidden behind the last stand of native color.

How did he get out here, you ask? Wal, he begins, it isn't such a long story. You see he went out as a rider with the old Miller Brothers Wild West aggregation. The show went to Paris and he left it there. He tried one thing and another and finally opened a cafe. To his cafe came a cattleman, with his eye on the Morocco range. The newcomer had money to invest, and Charley knew horses and cattle. Would Charlie come along? Sure he would.

And so the man who had dealt cards, spun wheels and mixed drinks in gold rush days found himself in this boom town—and boom town it is, in the old sense, what with the French turning it into a seaport that already challenges the popularity of Gibraltar; what with concrete piers going up on the waterfront and shiny new French edifices, all in Moroccan designs, springing up everywhere; what with store building and offices and a touch of boulevard life; what with a certain conglomerate chaos.

At any rate, Charlie and his partner split, and again Styles turned to a cafe and bar. But his bar is also something of a clearing house between the old and new. White-turbaned gents come to dicker over autos and farm implements and Charley acts as an agent, broker, go-between and court of disputes.

Thus you'll find a touch of old Cheyenne days tucked away in the midst of passing camels and donkeys and Spahis and Moors and Arabs and souks.

And there he's been for quite a few years—and is likely to be for a few more. Unless, he hints, he decides to move south to Marrakesh, and still newer frontiers.

United States farmers are charged with smuggling green vegetables into Canada. With the intent, perhaps, of making some fair exchanges.

Strangely enough, the wet bloc in Congress has nothing to do with the drought relief fund.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The street car covered lots of ground. In fact it traveled all around Pretoria. The Tinies thought the city very nice. And when the car came to a stop, wee Clowny said, "I hate to hop off to the ground. I'd like to make this same street car ride twice."

"Not now," replied the Travel Man. "Some other day, perhaps, you can, but now we want to find a place to eat a bite of lunch. An open-air cafe is near. Let's try it while we're staying here." The Tinymites were hungry, so they favored this fine hunch.

About a half hour later they decided they would like to play around out in the open air. Said one, "Where can we go?" The Travel Man then scratched his head and, in a moment more, he said, "Just follow me. We'll visit at a good spot that I know."

They hiked along a narrow street and smiled at natives they would meet. Son Coppy cried, "Oh, look ahead! We're coming to a park. I hope they have some swings, 'cause I would like to swing up to the sky." And then the Travel Man stopped short and to the bunch he said, "Hark!"

A real loud snorting filled the air and Scouty cried, "Look over there. An elephant is calling us. I'll bet he's hungry, too." They ran to where the elephant was and he seemed mighty pleased, because the Tinies started feeding him, a kindly thing to do.

They'd purchased peanuts at a store and now they got a mighty roar just watching Mister Elephant reach out and grab them quick. His limber trunk swung to and fro. How he could make the peanuts go. "The way he grabs them," Clowny cried, "is quite a clever trick."

MAN IS TO FACE MIDLAND CHARGES

Following his arrest at Ralls on October 24 after a gun battle with officers, a man was held in the city jail Sunday night en route from Crosbyton to Midland, in custody today of Sheriff A. C. Francis, of the latter city.

The man gave his name as Jimmy Carter, of Tucson, Ariz. Two charges of assault with intent to murder and one each of carrying concealed weapons have been filed against the man who was shot through the neck by Constable J. B. Kimbrough, of Ralls.

A woman companion of Carter also was arrested and charged with carrying a concealed weapon. Deputy Sheriff Warren Hames, who had disarmed the woman, was forced to serve as a shield for Carter who began a two gun fire at the constable. Carter was using his gun and one taken from Hames. Kimbrough ducked behind an automobile and fired as soon as Hames had wrestled out of the gunman's grip.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

THREE CITIZENS WRITE ON COLLEGE AVENUE PAVING, PARKS AND TRUCK LICENSES

A PARK SUGGESTION

Dear Plainsman: I am not writing this in order to get it published in the Journal, but hoping that it reaches the right place at the right time and if well taken by authorities may serve as a help to both Lubbock and some of the unemployed.

Just now, it seems to me, is an opportune time to start working on a plan to beautify our courthouse park which lies right at the door of practically every business firm in Lubbock. We have a very large space, which of course has some trees and grass and one nice courthouse and soon to have two other nice structures, but to me so far as the beauty of this square is concerned, it is far from being very attractive. The landscaping is the same as it was when this good town was first started, and we do not wish to reflect upon the talent of any one who helped landscape it, but surely during these many long years of progress we can have this space landscaped to where it will not only be a credit to our progressive city, but will be an advertisement for Lubbock by the lingering impression it will make upon the minds of our tourists from time to time.

Since we have so many parks about the city started we see no reason why all the trees that would have to be removed from the square could not be transplanted in the other parks, thereby giving employment in this work. Then, the working over and redoing of the grounds and the erecting of such ornaments as might be found proper for this park would also give employment to a number of men and at the same time have our very conspicuous courthouse grounds beautified and landscaped in a way we all would be justly proud of as well as our frequent visitors. I might just add, that it looks as if it would be more profitable to have all this charity money used to employ men in work of such nature than to dish it out everywhere requiring no effort whatever upon the part of the ones being helped. Believe these men had rather earn what they get any time as to have their names on the benevolent list.

You may pigeon hole this or make waste paper of it as you like, but it is intended to be constructive suggestions.

Yours truly,
Albert Darby.

COLLEGE AVENUE PAVING

Dear Plainsman: I see a news item in the Avalanche relative to the paving of College avenue. There has been some discussion at different times about the city and property owners paying part of the paving of this street, which I believe is a part of two designated highways. It appears to me, that if the city and property owners or the county join the state in paying for this pavement, that it should be paved just as most of Broadway is paved; that is, leave a parking or unpaved portion in the middle of the street and pave each side,—In this way, making it a one way drive for each side of the street. Due to the fact that College avenue is not in the city limits, speed limits will be disregarded, and for safety, I think it should be paved as suggested above.

I endorse, heartily, your recent statements concerning the violation of traffic regulations; that is, the failure to observe the "Slow" and "Stop" signs. There is another traffic regulation which is violated daily—the failure of careless drivers to keep to the "Right", especially when making left turns at street intersections. This probably is the most frequent violation of the traffic regulations.

Yours very truly,
E. L. Dohoney.

TAXES ON TRUCKS

Dear Plainsman: I read your column daily and noting what you had to say about "Class Legislation" would like to call your attention to the following two bills recently introduced in the State Legislature:

House Bill No. 337—raises the taxes on motor trucks in some instances over 100 per cent. For example: the present rate on trucks between eight and ten thousand pounds is 60c per hundred weight. Under the provision of the bill referred to the rate will be $1. From twelve to fourteen thousand pounds [illegible] present law the rate is 80c, under the new proposed law it will be $3.

Senate Bill No. 121, provides among other things, that the total gross load including the weight of the vehicle shall not exceed 5,000 pounds. This, of course, would prohibit practically any truck from using the road as the average 1 1-2 ton truck will weight in the neighborhood of 3,000 pounds and a ton load on it would raise the gross weight to 5,000 pounds. This bill referred to, provides that where it is desired to haul a load of over 5,000 pounds, the person desiring to move the load shall make application to the Commissioners court of each separate county over which the load is to move for permission to move it. It further provides that the Commissioners court shall not authorize anyone to haul a load of 5,000 pounds or more without a separate application for each load.

When we study the substance of these bills referred we see that this will handicap the great number of wholesale houses and oil agencies we have in our city and work a great hardship on a great percentage of our farmers who bring their farm produce and crops to our city to market.

I think that these bills should be called to the attention of our citizenship that they may take them up with our representatives in the Legislature with the least possible delay.

Yours very truly,
C. J. Herbstreit.

BUY H. C. MARKET

HALE CENTER, Feb. 24—(Staff Special)—Gene Hammett and Claude Key have purchased the meat market at the "M" System store here from the owner, Mr. Kuykendall, of Lubbock. They are now in charge and announce that they intend to use local meats as much as possible.

TECH "T" CLUB'S MINSTREL SHOW WEDNESDAY NIGHT

"There'll be a hot time in the old town—" so officials of the "T" club at Texas Technological college promise when members of the club take the stage for the first minstrel sponsored by that organization.

The show will be held in the auditorium of Lubbock high school Wednesday night and a cast of more than 75 students will take part.

Rehearsals have been completed and officials state that the affair will offer citizens of Lubbock an evening of amusing entertainment.

Tap dancers, a girls' chorus and black face comedians will feature with Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the Texas Tech department of government, serving as interlocutor. Dr. Jackson will be the only performer not in black face makeup. Proceeds from the minstrel will be used by the "T" club to furnish and redecorate their club room located in the school gymnasium.

CONOCO

Yes, Sir, I can back up what I say about Germ-Processed Oil with actual proof, O.K'd by A·A·A·

THREE stock cars from three price classes went through six weeks of testing on Pike's Peak. Three nationally known oils were used in comparison with Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil. All of the testing was directly supervised by the American Automobile Association.

At the end of six weeks the AAA took the more than ten thousand observations, then issued a report of the outcome. The report stated that in the Pike's Peak Tests Conoco Motor Oil had shown a reduction of 76.4% in the rate of motor wear . . . that it had shown greater stability . . . had lowered frictional temperatures . . . increased compression pressures . . . reduced oil consumption . . . added to gasoline mileage . . . reduced crankcase dilution . . . lengthened motor life.

No higher authority could have been called upon to prove the merits of Germ-Processed oil. No more sweeping commendation could have been asked for. The complete story of the Pike's Peak tests is told in an attractive booklet. We'll gladly send you a copy upon your request mailed to "Conoco, Ponca City, Oklahoma" . . . or you can obtain it at stations showing the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle when you go there to change to Germ-Processed oil, as thousands of other motorists are doing every day.

Good Gas Service A Community Asset

A city with public utilities that can be depended upon to give good service year in and year out is a city that is up and coming.

A city with poor service from its utilities is badly advertised and does not attract new citizens or new industries.

Consider the advertising value to a community when its citizens can say.

"Yes, we can depend on our gas company to give us plenty of fuel, even if it has to go hundreds of miles to get it."

The company doing its part to give the cities which it serves a plentiful supply of gas. In fairness to themselves and the company the consumers should see that their gas-burning appliances are in shape to give them the most efficient and economical service possible.

The gas company maintains a Service Department, the services of which are absolutely free to its customers.

Water, gas, electric and telephone service all must be good if a city expects to be regarded as a good place in which to live.

In order to give the kind, of service that favorably advertises a community, the public utilities must be permitted to earn a fair return on their properties. For, unless they are allowed a reasonable return, the utility companies become crippled and the service suffers.

We believe the conscientious effort our organization has successfully put forth to give Lubbock plenty of gas reflects favorably upon the city as a good place in which to live.

HOLDOUT LIST DWINDLING TO MERE HANDFUL; MANAGERS OPTIMISTIC AS WORK BEGINS; CUBS PLAY TWO GAMES

HORNSBY ORDERS ANOTHER GAME

AVALON, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP)—The Chicago Cub squad was completely assembled on Catalina Island today, but members of the second delegation were not scheduled to work. Manager Rogers Hornsby planned another six inning contest between the Pat Malones and the Gabby Hartnetts, but will call all hands out tomorrow.

REDS' BATTERYMEN LOOK GOOD

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—"Red" Lucas, Bennie Frey and Si Johnson, looked especially well here today as the Cincinnati Reds' batterymen went through their second day of practice. "Biff" Wysong and Al Eckert, two left handed recruits, also appeared ready to carry on. Mickey Doolan and Bobby Walsh were in direct charge of the workouts, in the absence of Manager Dan Howley, confined to his home with an infected toe.

LEW FONSECA APPEARS TO BE LOCATED

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24 (AP) — Lew Fonseca, it appears, will be at first base, where he led the league in batting in 1929, when the Cleveland Indians start their 1931 drive. Even though Eddie Morgan, who has announced his retirement in favor of making boxes, succumbs to the lure of cracking out home runs, the Tribe doesn't expect him to be in shape.

BROWNS START THEIR LIMBERING UP TODAY

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—The first contingent of the Browns was due for a brief limbering up here this afternoon, several hours after arrival from St. Louis. Approximately half of the squad of 28 will be on hand for the initial workout.

FLINT RHEM TALKS WITH BREADON TODAY

BRADENTON, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Flint Rhem, the only unsigned player in the Cardinals' training camp here, was to confer with President Sam Breadon today regarding a 1931 contract. Breadon and Rhem were reported several thousand dollars apart on salary. Pitchers Jim Lindsey and Syl Johnson were expected to reach camp today.

"WHAT'S IN A NAME", SAYS UNCLE WILBERT

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP) —When Shakespeare wrote that line about "what's in a name" he must have had Wilbert Robinson, portly manager of the Brooklyn Robins in mind.

Names never have been Robby's strong suit.

"They're not all here," he complained yesterday. "That Lumbago must still be holding out somewhere. Suate is here and so is Monday."

The boys finally discovered he meant Lombardi, Shaute and Van Mungo.

YANKEES' MEALS TO BE MORNING AND NIGHT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—The New York Yankees, who in the past have boasted of some of the heartiest eaters in major league baseball, are bearing up as well as might be expected under the shock of hearing that they are to be limited to two meals a day during spring training.

"Marse Joe" McCarthy, New Yankee manager, has ordered his charges to forego the customary noon meal and do all their eating in the morning and evening.

BUSH HOPING FOR BETTER WEATHER

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 24 (AP) — Manager Donie Bush and his squad of Chicago White Sox batterymen today hoped for better weather than greeted them for their opening practice yesterday. In spite of rain and cold, Bush had his athletes out, and promised them work for today, weather notwithstanding. Catcher Moe Berg and Pitcher Garland Braxton failed to appear, but were not classed as holdouts.

TOM CLARKE THINKS NEW BALL BETTER

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 24 (AP)—Having given the new ball a preliminary test, Tom Clarke, veteran coach of the New York Giants, comes up with the opinion that it's as lively as ever.

"There may be better pitching this year and more accurate throwing by the fielders," says Clarke, "but the ball travels as far as ever. There won't be so much wildness on the mound but the line drives will be just as wild as ever."

PIRATES TO CUT OFF GOLF AS GAMES BEGIN

PASO ROBLES, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP) —Any Pittsburgh Pirate with some golf in his system must get it out before the National league pennant chase starts.

The advance squad today had it straight from Manager Jewel Ens that:

"The minute the regular big league season begins I believe the niblick and mashie should be laid on the shelf."

"The fellow who goes over nine or more holes of golf in the morning cannot do justice to himself on the diamond the same afternoon," Ens said.

'PA' OPENS UP FIGHT SEASON TONIGHT

MICKEY WALKER MEETS JOHNNY RISKO IN FEATURE BOUT

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24.—Promoter "Pa" Stribling will try to pry the lid off the 1931 heavyweight outdoor season tonight with a card featuring Mickey Walker and Johnny Risko in the ten-round final, besides exhibition performances by the forthcoming championship rivals, Young Stribling and Max Schmeling.

He expects 25,000 customers to contribute $50,000 to $60,000 at the bargain scale of $2 to $5. If it rains tonight, the show will be Wednesday night. The weather has been threatening.

There was no hitch in the arrangements otherwise, Stribling said, despite mysterious reports, emanating from New York, that a cancellation was likely. These reports appeared more concerned with the fate of the return Carnera-Maloney bout, scheduled as the second of the winter's fistic festivals in the Madison Square Garden arena here on March 5.

Ever since a crack developed in Carnera's tenth rib, the boys have been skeptical, despite the flat statements of Promoter Frank J. Bruen that under no circumstances would he consider calling his show off. The wires have been shuttling messages back and forth between those pulling the strings for this year's heavyweight program. With Carnera signed to meet the winner of the Stribling-Schmeling bout in a second title contest in September, it is no secret that Italian's board of managers, led by Bill Duffy, have no desire to run unnecessary risks.

Valley League Is To Start, April 22

HARLINGEN, Feb. 24 (AP) — George Bievins, president of the recently organized lower Rio Grande valley baseball league, a Class D rookie loop, said here today McAllen, Harlingen, Corpus Christi, and San Benito were ready to start the season April 22.

A meeting will be held in McAllen Sunday, March 1, to adopt a schedule. The League will be patterned after the Nebraska state league, all gate receipts being pooled and the president handling practically all business affairs of the league, paying the players, umpires, and other expenses.

Paul Trammell, minor league player and manager, will play and manage the Harlingen team, it was announced.

Roster Of Dallas Club Raised To 37

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (AP)—The roster of the Dallas baseball club, which will begin spring training March 2 at Corsicana, was raised to 37 men today, with the signing of half a dozen more youngsters, Bob Tarleton, business manager, announced.

Few of any more additions are expected to be made before the first rehearsal. The list now includes six catchers, 17 pitchers, eight infielders and a half a dozen flychasers.

All of the regulars have signed excepting Bernie Teamer, veteran catcher from last year; Wilbur Wehde, rookies hurler from Dubuque, Iowa, in the Mississippi Valley league, and Cecil Stewart, second-sacker bought from Shreveport. No word has been received from Stewart. Teamer and Wehde are hold-outs and the former has been placed on the market.

MATADOR FIVE IN NEW MEXICO

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

The athletic department of Texas Tech announces that track and tennis on the basis of intercollegiate competition, will be discontinued this year. Baseball, the fourth major sport, has also been abandoned. Which means that Texas Tech is through with competitive sports after this week until the 1931 football season. Which is news.

* * *

Overemphasis? Retrenchment? No. Anything but. Were athletics here overemphasized the college treasury would contain funds necessary in the staging of track and baseball seasons. Lack of funds and the desire to keep out of debt was given as the reason for the sacrificing of the two minor-major sports this year. Not even football paid for itself at Tech last year, and in this part of the country the other sports are dependent upon football as the motive power in the staging of basketball, baseball, track and tennis.

The council hated to pass the ruling curtailing the athletic program, and it wants it definitely understood that lack of finances is the only reason for the action. Anything but overemphasis. Next spring the council will undertake to put track and tennis back as a collegiate sport, and announces that as soon as possible bigger and better emphasis is to be put on other minor sports. It is very anxious to let it be known that the action in curtailing the sports is not being taken on order to emphasize football or basketball.

It is planned to stage an extensive intramural track season this spring, and the school is on the lookout for track stars. It will welcome the enrollment of any man who professes speedy action on the cinderpath, sand pit or turf. It will be working during the next year for the maintenance of a full fledged competitive season of track next spring and each spring thereafter. The intramural track season will begin shortly after an intramural basketball season ends. The latter will be started about next week.

The abandonment of baseball came about rather naturally. The season is short and has never been highly successful because of adverse weather conditions at that particular time of year. Baseball in West Texas cannot flourish until the passing of the spring months and the sandstorm period, and it is while sandstorms are at the worst that the college baseball season comes.

* * *

When talk of the coming track season started out at Tech, coaches conferred with council and discovered that the purses could not stand much. It was first suggested that a track season featured by lots of practice and little competition, probably three meets during the year with West Texas schools, be perpetrated upon ambitious speedsters, but Head Coach Pete Cawthon knocked the idea in the head, and very wisely so, saying that if Tech could not go into a thing whole-hearted and with both barrels it should stay out of it. The program could not include participation in the Texas and Rice nor the S. M. U. relays nor even meets with bigger schools, so it was wise to cut it out altogether.

Texas Tech and the University of New Mexico begin their athletic relationships tonight when their basketball teams meet in the first of a series of two games at Albuquerque. Previous efforts on the part of officials of both schools to schedule games with each other have met with failure because dates could not be arranged, but "Crip" Golightly lost no time in making his schedule for his first season include a series with the Lobos.

* * *

Both schools, both states, should profit in more ways than one because of the relations established between the two state schools. Tech has played other New Mexico teams, the School of Mines and the New Mexico Aggies, and the bonds thus made have resulted in a better knowledge and understanding of the states each for the other. It is good to see the teams play. They always furnish plenty of football and the rivalry is enough to make things interesting. It is especially noteworthy that the state university and Tech are entering seasons of competition. A football game has already been carded between the Lobos and the Matadors here next fall. The Matadors will return the contest in 1932.

Thomas Yates, our correspondent at Albuquerque, is of the opinion that the Matadors will sweep the series with the Lobos. "It took the Lobos until Saturday night to decide to throw away their chances for a far-southwestern title by dropping another game to Arizona U," Thomas writes. "Personally, I believe Tech will trim the Lobos both nights here unless the local gang shows some improvement. They will be tired from their trip, but one can never tell."

LOCALS DEFEAT MINERS; PLAY U. TONIGHT

CREWS TOPS SCORING AFTER LONG DAY OF DRIVING

SOCORRO, N. M., Feb. 24.—The Matadors of Texas Technological college at Lubbock, after defeating the New Mexico School of Mines quintet, 59 to 29, here last night, departed early this morning for Albuquerque where tonight they open a two-game series with the University of New Mexico Lobos.

The Matadors were mighty in their appearance here last night. They outclassed the Miners in every department, took a good lead at the tip-off and held it throughout. Coach Golightly used all of the eight men or hand in the fray, and all of them performed in great style. They immediately made a hit with the student and town fans who came in great numbers to see the contest.

Crews, long Matador forward, led in the scoring with a total of 14 points. Captain Clarance Hodges, a sensational player, passer and goal shooter, was second with a dozen, and Fisher, center, followed with 11. Da.r forward, marked up 10 points. The playing of Tadlock and Dunn at guard was worthy of note.

The team arrived here an hour before game time after driving all day from Roswell in a heavy snow, but they were hot for action when they took the court.

Betty Robinson Is Even With Stella

CHICAGO, Feb. 24. (AP)—Betty Robinson, who won the 1928 Olympic 100-yard dash for the United States, and Stella Walsh, the sensational Polish Miss from Cleveland, today were all square in their rivalry.

Miss Robinson, now a co-ed at Northwestern university, last night evened up for a defeat by Miss Walsh last summer, by winning a feature century in the Illinois National guard and Naval militia games, by a scant foot over the Cleveland runner.

The time, 11.4, was only four-tenths of a second lower than Miss Walsh's world record which was made on an outdoor track, and was remarkably good for the slow bumpy track.

BOBBY JONES GOES ON DIET TO GET IN TRIM FOR HIS MOTION PICTURES

BY DILLON GRAHAM

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 24 (AP) —If you gave Bobby Jones his choice of all masculine attainments, he'd like to be able to sing baritone.

Not that he aspires greatly to fill the vital spot in resonant nineteenth-hole quartets, but because one of his passions is grand opera. He even likes German opera. And he sometimes laments that he had to be born merely to play golf while the really lucky people can sing.

Bobby thinks that if he has any genius at all it is for play. He hates work in any form. He likes to hunt and fish. The first time he ever handled a .45 calibre service revolver he planted seven of his first ten shots within the bulls eye.

He's Crosswise

But of all strange physical complications, Bobby is right handed and left eyed. He holds a pistol in his right hand but he aims with his left eye. It has worked out marvelously in golf, where you fix the portside optic on the ball and don't dare let your glance stray. It hasn't hurt the pistol shooting. But it is a sore trial indeed when it comes to handling a rifle or shot gun. Bob has to keep the swell left eye closed when he's after birds with a scatter gun. He's a good trapshot, though, and swings an eager stick in pool and billiards.

He's On Diet

Bobby isn't particularly vain, but the ballooning waistline that sometimes afflicts the young man will be one of those things that will not be present when he displays his shots before the movie cameras of Hollywood. He won't diet, doesn't believe in it, but he works out daily with a physical director. In less than a month his weight of 185 pounds has shrunk to 175 and two inches have disappeared from his waistline. He is training harder for his motion picture debut than he ever did for a championship golf tournament.

PLAINVIEW MEETS DALHART TONIGHT IN FIRST OF BI-DISTRICT CAGE CONTESTS

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 24. (Special)—The Plainview High school Bulldogs, winners of the District 2 basketball tournament at Lubbock last Saturday night, will meet the District L champions, the Dalhart Wolves, here tonight at 8 o'clock in the first of a series of bi-district championship games.

The game tonight will be played at the Wayland College gymnasium. The second game will be played at the same time tomorrow night, and if a third game is necessary it will be played Thursday.

The winner of the series will represent this section at the state tournament. Thirteen bi-district tournaments over the state will be played this week.

Landis To Dedicate Two Texas Stadia

GALVESTON, Feb. 24. (AP)—Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, Czar of organized baseball, will dedicate Moody stadium, Galveston's new baseball plant April 29 when the Buccaneers meet the Beaumont Exporters.

Judge Landis will dedicate the Beaumont stadium April 28, according to information received here by Shearn Moody, president of the Galveston Baseball association.

WHAT A WORLD OF GRIEF IT SAVES YOU!

WE KNOW a seed house that proves each season's crop of seeds in their own trial gardens before they offer them to the public. Flowers and vegetables grown from these seeds must measure up to definite standards, or else the entire crops from which the samples were taken are burned.

We know a manufacturer of dry batteries who tested a new product two years before he sold a single battery to a single dealer.

We know a manufacturer of an anti-freeze solution for automobile radiators who spent two years testing his product under all conditions before he said a word in advertising about the merits of his goods.

We know a manufacturer of household pharmaceutical products whose self-imposed standard of purity and efficacy is even higher than that laid down by the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

If we mentioned their names you would recognize them immediately. You probably would say, "I plant those seeds," "I use that battery," "I use that anti-freeze," "My medicine cabinet contains those products."

The four instances cited are typical of every reliable manufacturer in America. Millions of dollars are spent annually to develop, to improve, to standarize, and to take the guesswork out of merchandise. Other millions of dollars are spent in advertising to tell you about them.

All of which is to say that in putting your trust in advertised merchandise you save yourself the bother, the expense, the disappointment—yes, the danger—of experimenting and discovering for yourself which make of soap, breakfast food, radio tubes, lingerie, gasoline, tea, electrical device, stationery—or what-not—gives you the most service for your money.

The news columns of the Avalanche-Journal keep you informed of the latest international, national and local happenings. The advertisements keep you informed of the newest, most advantageous, most reliable merchandise that America's most progressive makers are producing.

Hornsby Is 'Lone Wolf' Of Baseball But He Can Still Set New Records

BY PAUL MICKELSON

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP)—A hero worshipper on a visit to Catalina Island, training ground for the Chicago Cubs, sided up to a rookie one day.

"Say," he said, "who is that guy over there by the fireplace? I've been in this hotel for days now and every time I come down into the lounge I see him sitting and staring at everybody, he isn't a ball player is he?"

Thats Roger Hornsby

"A ball player!" gasped the amazed rookie, "Why Mister, that's Rogers Hornsby, probably the greatest right hand hitter the game has ever known."

The hero worshiper retired in confusion, but he had seen a real picture of the rajah, perhaps the strangest personality in baseball. He has been booed and cheered alike by millions of fans and has broken record after record with his big stick, and yet he acts just as he did sixteen years ago when he came up to the major leagues, a raw-boned, inquisitive kid from Texas.

He's A Lone Wolf

He is a lone wolf because of habits, rather than preference. He doesn't chew, smoke or drink. He doesn't dance, play cards or golf. His business is baseball and so is his hobby. He will talk of it for hours with anyone who will listen. If the conversation is switched to some other subject he is apt to walk right out of the discussion. He sits for hours staring out of a chair in hotel lobby like a farmer boy on his first trip to a big city. He rarely reads even baseball stories in the papers, saving his eyes to watch for pellets curving across the corners of a plate. Rarely does he go to the theater.

Doesn't Play Golf

He doesn't know a brassie from a niblic, but he raises sod for putting greens on 87 acres of his Missouri farm. He has never seen a putt made on his own grass. Twice, out of curiosity, he has hit golf balls. He dubbed the first drive in the park at Catalina and hit the next one 250 yards and out of the lot. He never hit another. He wasn't interested.

His sense of humor is keen and sly. By organized cheering he piloted Andy Lotshaw, Cub trainer, and Hank Grampp, ball pen pitcher, a couple of left footers, into a dead heat for the annual camp dancing championship at Catalina.

Likes To Farm

He likes to watch airplanes flying around. Some day he'd like to own and fly one. He likes to farm.

He is one of the most difficult men in sport to interview. He will answer questions fully and clearly but volunteers little information.

Once while hitting over .400 he fell into a slump for two days. A rookie who never could hope to club .250 seriously pointed out certain mistakes in his stance and grip. Hornsby had the novice go over the instructions again and again. The ribbing went on for over an hour.

Asks Rookie About It

When the Rajah started tearing the cover off the ball again he gravely asked the rookie from time to time if he was following instructions properly and suggested that a constant eye be kept on his batting style to prevent future slumps.

He believes in lots of food for ball players. Warren Brown once asked him the secret of his punch at the plate.

"Them steaks," he answered.

The next day he took Brown and several players with him to a dilapidated lunchroom and fed them steaks the size of dish pans.

Just Eat 'Em

"Just eat them steaks awhile and you'll hit," he insisted. "They give you something to work with. They give you beef and power."

Behind his seriousness is a bare drop of melancholy. He doesn't care what is said about him. Whether he's liked or disliked, cheered or booed, he gets tired of being in the limelight. One day last summer I asked him to go to the horse races — an interest he has given up because of difficulties that once beset him.

"I'd like to go," he sighed. "There's lots of things I like to do. But I can't. People would say 'there he is back at the horse races.' Sometimes I wish I was just a boy. Then I could do a lot of things I want to do."

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—The stock market began the new week with a fast moving rally today, although it met profit taking after gains of 1 to 4 points had been recorded in a wide list of issues.

Turnover in the first half hour reached the large total of 900,000 shares and as the upward movement gained momentum the ticker got as much as 8 minutes behind the market. Allied Chemical, Auburn auto and Case rose 4 to 4 1-2, but Auburn lost all its gain. Shares up 3 to 3 1-2 included American & Foreign Power, Standard Gas & Electric, American Telephone, Eastman Kodak and Westinghouse, while American Power & Light, American Tobacco "B", Bethlehem Steel, Radio and Coca Cola rallied 2 to 2 3-4. U. S. Steel made a new high at 150 3-8, where it was 5-8 above last Saturday's close.

Trading turned dull after realizing had chipped nominal amounts from the highs, and the coppers were brought forwards as new leaders. Anaconda advanced 2 points.

Rails were soft. New York Central, Atchison, and Frisco lost about 1 1-2.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 13 to 21 points in response to the firmness in Liverpool and a renewal of foreign and domestic trade buying.

There was considerable March liquidation owing to the circulation of notices which were estimated at about 111,000 bales, but it was chiefly in the way of switching from near to late deliveries. Large spot interests were credited with buying March at the prevaling discounts as compared with late months and fluctuations after the opening advance to 11.42 for May and 11.94 for October were comparatively narrow and irregular. The advance brought in considerable realizing and a little southern selling was reported during the early trading.

March liquidation continued later in the morning, but it was very readily absorbed by the trade partly against sales of later deliveries, while offerings in the later months were taken by a continued demand from commission houses and buying believed to be partly for foreign trade account. This imparted a very steady tone to the market with May selling up to 11.48 and October to 11.98 late in the morning, or about 23 to 25 points net higher. Prices were within a point or two of these figures at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24 (AP) — Cotton had a very active opening. Liverpool came in much better than due and first trades here showed gains of 11 to 16 points. Today being first notice day for March delivery, notices for 19,200 bales were issued here and for 97,000 bales in New York.

As it promptly became evident that the notices were being stopped at the prevailing differences between the near months, the market continued to advance and May soon traded as high as 11.44 and October at 11.97, or 21 to 23 points above Saturday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market was very steady and at the highs.

The market continued to rule firm all morning, in quite active trading. Owing to the prompt stoppage of the March notices and a further advance in the stock market, prices continued to improve steadily, May trading up to 11.47, July to 11.74 and October to 11.89, or 24 to 26 points above the previous close.

The advance led to some profit-taking near noon, but the offering were well absorbed at declines from the top of 2 to 6 points.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady: Mar. 11.04; May 11.36; July 11.63; Oct. 11.89; Dec. 12.08-bid; Jan. 12.17.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP)—Grain prices underwent transient setbacks early today with corn dropping to a fresh low record for the season. Largely increased supplies of wheat afloat and Argentine shipments being diverted to Great Britain had a temporary bearish influence. Beneficial moisture received by domestic winter wheat was a like factor.

Opening unchanged to 1-4 cent lower, wheat sagged further, but soon rallied. Corn started 3-8 to 1-4 down and then advanced.

Seven Lubbock bankers attended the annual conference of the Seventh district of the Texas Bankers association, held Monday at Fort Worth. All three of the banks were represented and several officials took advantage of the opportunity to go to other towns while in Fort Worth.

In the party were: President France Baker and S. G. Wilson of the Citizens National bank; Roy Riddel of the First National bank and President C. E. Maedgen and John D. Mitchell, Clayton Gammill and D. L. Ellis of the Lubbock National.

Mr. Maedgen went on to Austin on a business trip and Mr. Baker remained in Fort Worth and Dallas and is expected to return Wednesday.

Lubbock Breeders To Exhibit At Amarillo

A number of Lubbock county cattle breeders will show their herds at either the Panhandle Fat Stock show in Amarillo March 2 to 5 or the Fort Worth stock show which follows immediately, according to D. F. Eaton, county agent.

The agricultural department of Texas Tech will probably have a herd at Plainview in April. Mr. Eaton said. He added that he was not certain whether there would be a full county herd or not, for the expositions.

More attention is being given to the Plainview show than to either of the others, because it is more of a regional affair than the Amarillo or Fort Worth events.

Besides the animals to be shown, it is probable that there will be a good attendance of dairymen and ureeders from over the South Plains and the county, at both expositions.

INCOME IS $3,124,185

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Freeport Texas company reports 1930 net income of $3,124,185, equal to $4.38 a share.

SCHOOLS WILL BE CONTINUED

STATE AID TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR OPERATION DURING SESSION

State aid for Lubbock county rural schools, recently received by the county, will enable nearly every school to complete its scheduled term, according to Miss Mae Murfee, county superintendent of schools, today.

"We have received a warrant within the past two weeks for $10,000" Miss Murfee said. "We may not have to cut any of the terms of schools in the county. I am hopeful that we will be able to get through with the full term for all of the schools."

All To Finish Year

Lubbock county has 25 rural schools, Miss Murfee said. So far all of them have been able to operate and unless there is a decided falling down on collections, it is believed that the entire number will finish the year.

"We have had a splendid type of instruction and work in Lubbock county this year," Miss Murfee added. "It seems that these times have made both teachers and pupils and parents try to get more out of their work than before.

"There has been more interest shown in the literary contests at the county meet than for a number of years. Mr. E. F. Reeves, the director of debate, tells me that he has had a large number of students of rural schools ask about the work," she said. "Our county meet will be held March 27 and 28 at Texas Technological college. All of the schools will be represented."

PRO LAW RULING

ratification.

Ratification Insufficient

He held that its ratification by state legislatures was insufficient to make it effective.

The government appealed at once. The supreme court expedited the proceedings, hearing oral arguments in about a month, although counsel for the defendants sought approximately three months more time.

Contending the question raised by Judge Clark had already been before the supreme court in the national prohibition cases, Solicitor General Thacker in a brief argument declared the court had disposed of the controversy.

Julius Henry Cohen and Selden Bacon, counsel for the defendants, contended amendments granting new powers to the federal government over the people must be submitted to the people for approval.

As the Eighteenth Amendment proposed to grant such powers, it was invalid, they insisted, because it had been submitted to state legislatures for ratification instead of conventions.

Hughes Withdraws

Chief Justice Hughes withdrew from the case, stating he would take no part in its decision because he had filed a brief in a previous prohibition case, which, in his judgment, disqualified him from participating.

The controversy turned on the interpretation to be placed by the courts on Article V of the Constitution which provides that amendments shall be valied when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states or by conventions in three-fourths of the states "as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by congress."

Ratified By Conventions

Judge Clark held the language should be construed as modified by "principles of political science" and that such amendments could be constitutionally ratified only by conventions in the states.

The government contended the language of the article was clear and entirely free from ambiguity, and that there was no room for the construction adopted by Judge Clark.

It insisted that no limitation had been placed on the discretion of congress in deciding which mode of ratification should be adopted.

The decision was delivered by Justice Roberts before a crowded court room. He stated that congress was granted complete jurisdiction to decide the mode of ratification and that it had the right to refer the amendment to legislatures for ratification.

Roberts said that the contention had been made by attorneys upholding the Clark decision that the 18th amendment took power from the people which no other amendment did. He said that in the opinion of the court there were a number of amendments similar in connection with which the same point could be raised. Among them he named the 13th, 14th, and the 19th.

In conclusion he said that in the national prohibition cases in 1920 the court had proclaimed the validity of the amendment and that it now reiterated the position it had taken then.

Assessing Of Local Property Is Begun

Assessing of property for taxation purposes has been started by A. B. Ellis, tax assessor, and his force of deputies, it was said today.

Already approximately 1,000 renditions have been made, the greater part of them being from the Slaton precinct.

"J. T. Clinton in precinct 1 and T. W. Covington in precinct 2, have had splendid results so far," Mr. Ellis said. "They have both turned in a number of renditions.

"J. T. Lee has just begun his work in precinct 3 and J. C. Shaw is to start this week in precinct 4."

Mr. Ellis is also doing some assessing work himself. E. B. Holland is the office deputy and a number of people have reported to the office and have made their renditions to Mr. Holland.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL READY BY APRIL 1

Lubbock's new $650,000 high school is expected to be completed by April 1 and ready to be turned over to the school board, D. N. Leaverton, contractor, says.

"The building is about all completed except the setting of the tile and marble inside," Mr. Leaverton said. "We are now pouring the sidewalks.

"I expect to be able to turn over the building to the board for them to install the equipment, about the first of April."

Lockers have been received and are in place. None of the rest of the fixtures for the structure, or the furniture, has been received, it was said.

Officials of the board have not made their plans for the formal opening. It is thought that the graduation exercises may be held in the auditorium, although school officials are not certain as to what they will do about the commencement program.

WORK STARTED ON MERCHANTS MEET

First meeting of the steering committee of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association, recently appointed to plan for the state convention of the association to be held here, was held this morning at the city hall. The state meeting has been scheduled for May 25, 26 and 27.

A discussion of preliminary plans for the approaching convention featured today's conference of the committee and chairmen were appointed for six sub-committees to handle separate phases of the entertainment. These chairmen were appointed from the committee personnel.

The committees, with their chairmen, are: reception and transportation—J. D. Hassell, jr.; local and state attendance—R. C. Smith; Arrangements—W. O. Daniels; entertainment for visiting ladies—W. W. Rix; registration and information—J. D. Hassell, jr.; stunts, music and entertainment—R. C. Smith and W. W. Rix.

CLUB COUNCIL TO BE ON SATURDAY

Next meeting of the Lubbock county 4-H council will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the district court room, with Milton Davis, of Acuff, council chairman, presiding.

Wayland Potts of the Canyon club is vice president; Aleen Cooksey, of the New Hope club, secretary and Irene Brown of the Shallowater club, reporter.

At the last meeting it was decided to hold sessions of the council on the fourth Saturday in each month. There were 85 boys and girls present at the last meeting.

Both D. F. Eaton, county agent, and Miss Ruth Stockton, home demonstration agent, will attend.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (AP)—The Trade Union Unity League and the communist party have applied for a permit to hold a meeting in Union Square tomorrow in celebration of "International Unemployment Day". Hale Makes Trip To Columbus By Air

An airplane trip from Amarillo to Columbus, Ohio during which the plane rose to a height of between 8,000 and 10,000 feet to avoid storms, was made by D. G. Hale, local Firestone Tire company representative on his trip to Akron, Ohio, where he expects to spend a month or six weeks at the factory.

Mr. Hale arrived in Columbus, Ohio, Saturday night two hours late. The plane left Amarillo at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and was held for two hours at Oklahoma City because of rain. The trip was made in a little over 12 hours, including the stop.

Death of Vintalia Bratianu, former premier of Rumania, has removed one of the bitterest political enemies of King Carol. CITY OFFICIALS OF NORTHWEST TEXAS URGE PASSAGE OF UTILITIES MEASURE ceedure were to be taken up immediately after the rest of the business pertaining to the legislation was concluded.

As expected, the controversy regarding rates on natural gas in this section is the outstanding topic of the meeting. This was the main theme of the organization session which was held here on February 13 and before the meeting adjourns today a definite procedure probably will have been outlined.

Recommendations Made

A number of recommendations are before the body at its conference. These recommendations seek to alleviate uncertainty in the procedure of member cities on the gas controversy.

With J. B. Cardwell, mayor of Plainview, as chairman, a committee appointed at the last meeting to consider the gas situation has made a report on its findings and these are under discussion this afternoon.

Recommendations which have been brought up for attention include the following:

File Annual Report

"1. That all cities in this section require the gas company serving them to file immediately annual report, if they have not already done so, as required by law. If reports are not on file for the years since the company constructed the system, these also should be secured. Copies of these reports should be mailed to a committee composed of from three to five members, said members to be appointed by the Chair.

"2. Copies of annual reports by years for the last five years, including 1930, should be secured from the pipe line company serving the cities in this district. These will probably have to be secured from the Railroad Commission at Austin. It would be better if they could be secured from the office of the pipe line company. This information should be placed in the hands of the committee as appointed under the first item.

Should Send Franchises

"3. All cities should send copies of their franchise to the above mentioned committee at the earliest possible date.

"4. It has been found that pipe line companies are paying an average of one to six cents per thousand cubic feet for gas at the wells and are receiving as high as forty cents for the same at the City gate. Consequently it is suggested that negotiations be entered into through this organization with gas pipe line company officials, that a wholesale rate at the City gate be made not to exceed 20 cents per thousand cubic feet as the cost of transporting gas to the various cities in this district has been found should not exceed six cents to 15 cents.

"5. All cities endeavor to secure competition in the distribution and sale of natural gas. The cities should band together in this and grant franchises to individuals, or a group of individuals assuring them of support and cooperation. Also through this means to encourage construction of a competitive pipe line to bring gas to the respective cities.

"6. In the event cities are not successful in securing competition, they should band together in the construction of a pipe line to transport the gas to the respective cities. In the event private interests will not construct such lines then each City immediately take steps toward municipal ownership of the distribution system in their respective cities, either by exercising franchise or charter rights in the purchase of existing system or by the construction of another system.

"7. In view of the fact that the legislature is now in session and legislation is being considered to the problems now being considered by this organization and since such legislation will probably be disposed of within the next sixty days, it is suggested that no court action be taken by the cities until final disposition of said legislation.

Bill Support Asked

"8. It is further suggested that all cities support the City Attorneys' and League of Texas Municipalities' Public Utility Bill No. 306, and all cities send wires and letters to their senators and state representatives requesting their supportport of said bill without any change thereto.

"9. It is also suggested that this body support the bill amending corporation laws so that gas pipe line companies cannot own gas producing properties."

Goodman To Report

Mayor Leon Goodman, of Midland, following a meeting of a committee at Midland Monday for the purpose of drawing up a constitution and by-laws, will make a report to the entire body this afternoon and adoption of the proposed regulations is expected.

Lubbock's city attorney, E. L. Klett, together with those from a number of other West Texas cities is in Austin today where a hearing is being held before the state affairs committee of the house of representatives on the proposed utility bill. Practically every city in this section is solidly behind the proposed legislation, according to Mayor Clements, and special delegations in addition to city attorneys are also attending the Austin hearing.

RICHARD WALLACE IS FACING CHARGE

Bond of $750 was set in the case of Richard Wallace, charged with attempted burglary, by Justice of the Peace R. K. Porter Monday.

Wallace was arrested by Sheriff Wade Hardy. Investigation at a grocery store at 1924 Nineteenth street indicated that an attempt had been made to remove a pane of glass to gain entrance to the store Sunday. A trail of blood led from the glass, showing that the person attempting to effect the break had been cut.

APPLICATIONS ARE STUDIED

LUBBOCK LOANS ARE BEING CONSIDERED BY COMMITTEE

Consideration of the application of Lubbock county farmers for federal production and crop loans, was begun by the drouth relief office in St. Louis on February 18, J. B. Shannon, in charge of the making of applications, said today.

"We are expecting that some replies will be had this week, with checks in the letters," Mr. Shannon said. "The St. Louis office was swamped with applications and each had to take its turn."

Sent 200 Applications

Lubbock county sent around 200 applications to St. Louis. Most of these were made out in the Lubbock office. At Slaton, F. C. Rector, in charge of the work, handled about as many applications but the major part of his papers were sent to other counties than Lubbock.

"I think we had a total of around $40,000 for our applications," Mr. Shannon said. "The average amount of the 200 was probably $200 or a little more.

"The last time I figured up the total, we had between $35,000 and $40,000 but I think that now we have passed that figure."

One reason why Garza county has been able to secure earlier action on some of its applications was the fact that there were a number that reached St. Louis shortly after the office opened," Mr. Shannon added.

dent disciple of Mahatma Gandhi, who took her to the sacred city of Benares and after immersing her in the holy Ganges river, initiated her into the mysteries of the Hindu religion. Her father disinherited her.

Shaves Her Head

She has shaved her head in monastic fashion, given all her money to the poor, goes barefooted, burned all her European clothes and wears only the cheapest homespun Hindu garments. She has taken the Hindu name of "Mira Bai." When asked by her British friends if she is "Miss Slade" she replies: "No. Miss Slade has been dead and buried for five years."

Miss Slade prays, fasts and indulges in various forms of expiation, and enters into regular periods of silence and meditation. She has charge of Gandhi's household, prepares all his meals, sees that he is properly clothed and looks after him with a mother's solicitude for a child.

Wife In Background

Gandhi's own wife, who is of advanced age, could not show more devotion to the aged leader than Miss Slade who worships him with the ardor of the most intense religious zealot. Mrs. Gandhi, who has not seen her husband since he entered prison nine months ago, keeps quietly in the background, never appearing among those who share Gandhi's counsels.

Miss Slade, a woman of marked culture, ability and executive capacity, is much more than a mere servitor or disciple of Gandhi. She takes an active part in the independence movement and in addition to giving Gandhi advice, she attends to his large correspondence.

Efforts will be made at today's meeting to reach a decision to wire protests to C. V. Terrell, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, and ask that a hearing be set at which each town will have an opportunity to present facts showing the effect change of proposed schedules will have.

It's A Terror

LONDON—John Bull has developed a terror of the skies. A single seated biplane carries six machine guns. Two shoot through the propeller. Four are on the wings. Fired at once by the pilot, the guns make a cone of bullets that meet a few hundred yards ahead. The plane carries four bombs and makes 194 miles an hour.

Yacht Is Honored

WASHINGTON — A Gorge in Georges bank in the trans-Atlantic shipping lane off the Massachusetts coast is to be named Corsair after J. P. Morgan's yacht, which was being used by the geodetic survey when the Gorge was discovered. It is ten miles long with a depth of 420 fathoms.

Models Hobby

NEWARK, N. J. — Sixteen models of the cathedrals and religious shrines made by the late Mayor Thomas L. Raymond are on view in the Newark museum, to which they have been presented. Making them was a hobby for 40 years. Architectural details are reproduced in the miniatures, the largest of which is eight inches high. Tiny Mica windows are in different colors.

From America!

LONDON — In the words of the bishop of London the "most insidious doctrine of companionate marriage is creeping in here from America." He denounced it in a sermon at the Chapel Royal of St. James' Palace and said it was becoming a custom for unmarried couples to spend weekends together.

Not Fired?

KINGSTON, N. Y.—William H. Pratt, who thinks he was steam-rollered out of a job as city steam roller operator, has failed to obtain satisfaction in the courts. He set forth that the job was abolished and somebody else was given it later.

They Were Frisked

NEW YORK — Some taxi drivers who have been losing high wide and handsome at galloping dominoes have learned why from the police. They showed a table seized in a raid on a gaming room above a taxi garage. A camouflaged iron table top was connected to wires in a table leg. By stepping on a button under a rug the operator could magnetize the plate and make metal-plugged dice turn in desired fashion.

"TILLER GIRLS" FIND HUSBANDS IN U. S.; ONLY 21 OF 30 RETURN HOME

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Thirty "Tiller girls" came to New York from London to dance in Fred Stone's show, "Ripples."

Today twenty one were on the high seas bound for home. The other nine had found American husbands.

The thirty were members of the most recent brigade to come to America since the "precision dancing," taught and popularized by the late John Tiller, was introduced to musical comedy audiences in the United States more than a dozen years ago, starting a vogue in unison dancing which still flourishes. There were Tiller girls in several follies and they've danced in all of Fred Stone's shows since "Jack O'Lantern."

The thirty imported for "Ripples" ended their terpischorean labors when the show closed last week in Chicago. But Saturday when Mary Read, their custodian, rounded them up to take them home she found nine of her charges married and missing.

Eight had promised swains they met while trouping that they'd give up fancy kicking for housewifery as soon as they were "at liberty." The ninth, Cora Neary, deserted the ranks just before the ship sailed, to become Mrs. Joseph O'Connell.

So Anita Loos's Lorelei Lee was wrong when she said, in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," that a Tiller girl never marries.

Big Bill Continues His Pro Victories

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 24. (AP)—William T. (Big Bill) Tilden continued last night to demonstrate his tennis wizardry by handily one stroking Karel Koseluh, Czecho-Slovakian champion of the professional tennis world, 6-3, 6-4.

Tilden and his former Davis cup doubles partner, Frank Hunter, slammed out a 7-5, 6-4 decision over Kozeluh and Emmet Pare of Dayton, fourth member of the new professional troupers. Hunter defeated Pare, 10-8, in a one-set singles exhibition.

Monmouth college, Monmouth, Ill., now 75 years old, has had only four presidents.
