COLORADO CITY LORAIN WESTBROOK

Thursday, May 27, 1993

Vol. 88 No. 42 Pub. No. 122800

Early Saturday morning

Seven-inch rain recorded here

A resident of Colorado City was overheard last Friday saying "a little rain this weekend sure would be nice."

He got his wish as about four months of rain fell in about ninety-minutes early Saturday as parts of Colorado City and Mitchell County received over seven inches of rain early Saturday morning flooding several downtown businesses and homes throughout the community.

Police Chief David Montgomery reported four inches of water in the Police Station during the height of the storm.

Perry's and Fleta Lewis Real Estate were among those reporting water in their businesses.

Low-water crossings on Highway 208 S. were impassable at times due to the heavy downpour according to D.P.S. officials.

Several homes along Hickory St. were flooded in the vicinity from Fourth Street to Sixth St. with some residents reporting up to six inches of water in their homes. Some families have had to find shelter elsewhere until their homes could be dried out.

City manager Buddy Foster said the official weather reporting station at the water treatment plant recorded over seven inches in an hour-and-a-half.

According to the National Weather Bureau the county rainfall totals were spotty with some areas receiving only a sprinkle.

The heavy downpour caused some anxious moments for city officials as both city water towers were drained in some twenty-minutes early Saturday and it was first thought the new waterline had ruptured.

However, the break was in the area serving the residents and businesses close to the old Col-Text Refinery where an 8" line burst.

Chief Montgomery said no injuries were reported due to the flooding but several vehicles had received water damage in trying to cross low-water crossings.

One killed in motorcycle accident on Highway 1229 Sunday morning

Memorial services for Priscilla Martin, 33, of Colorado City were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

Ms. Martin was killed in a motorcycle wreck Sunday morning on Farm-to-Market Road 1229 - some 16.4 miles northwest of Colorado City.

She was a life-long resident of Colorado City and had worked for Joe Morren, C.P.A. for some twelve years.

Injured in the accident was a passenger on the motorcycle, Rick Bullard, 31, also of Colorado City.

Bullard was air-lifted to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital following emergency treatment at Mitchell County Hospital. He was listed in serious but stable condition Tuesday afternoon with severe leg injuries and also bruises and abrasions.

According to investigating D.P.S. Trooper Robert Maldonado, the 1990 Harley-Davidson was travelling north on FM 1229 between 10:45 and 11 a.m. Sunday morning when the accident occurred.

District representatives Reagan County and Kermit, were eliminated from the playoffs in the first round.

Fabens defeated Kermit and the Owls lost to Alpine.

Murder trial in fourth day

The jury in the murder trial of Robert Garza was seated Monday afternoon around 5 p.m. and the state began presenting its case at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Garza is accused of the August 9, 1992 shooting death of Kelvin Bailey.

Colorado City Police Chief David Montgomery was the first witness called followed by patrolman Jeff Dever.

Dever, along with Mitchell Co. deputy Augustine Alvarado, were among the first on the shooting scene last August.

At 11 a.m. Tuesday, the wife of the accused, Diana Garza, told the court that she had heard witnesses in the case talking among themselves about the case.

This prompted Judge Weldon Kirk to have the witnesses confined to the County Courtroom or the Law Library on the second floor of the courthouse.

Deputy Alvarez was told by the Judge not to allow any of the witnesses to talk about the case. During this time the jurors were not present.

Entrance to the Mitchell Co.

Courthouse was only through the south door as all other entries were locked.

Everyone entering the courthouse was scanned with a metal detector.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(Editors note: J.O. Dockrey, Jr. received this letter and asked us to share it with the public.)

Dear Mr. Dockrey:

Congratulations on 31 years of annual Fourth of July Fly In's that include a free breakfast. In checking reliable Austin Fly In enthusiasts, we could find no other such event that has been held 31 years in a row without interruption. Some events such as the one held in Fredericksburg have a long tradition but have had interruptions in their yearly events.

So, to the best of our knowledge, your event is the oldest free fly in breakfast in the state. If your investigations find an older such event, please let us know.

Sincerely,

Letter to the Editor:

The Loraine Band under the direction of Mr. Hubert Seale gave a concert in the downtown mini park at the gazebo site at 2:30 p.m. on May 21. The weather was perfect, the attendance good and the performance was great.

The North Loraine Extension Club conceived the idea several months ago of a mini park and gazebo as their project in helping to beautify Loraine.

All materials for the construction were purchased by the Loraine Club from the money they had earned through the public dinner, and the sale of greeting cards. There were also donations from interested people in the community as well as from former residents.

The club has helped close up several store front buildings that were unsightly and hazardous. Scenes were painted on some of the windows to add color to our town.

Mr. Mike Gage generously offered his crew to construct the gazebo without pay which has been appreciated by the entire community.

Several have donated trees and flowers, plus their labor to add beauty to the park.

The Park belongs to the Community, but since the Extension Clubs are service organizations the Loraine Club plans to continue the beautification as funds become available.

Hospital tables bid

In a five-hour meeting Tuesday night - two hours of it in executive session hearing the Quality Improvement Report from Linda Mize, R. N. - the Mitchell County Hospital Board considered a number of items including the purchase of a new ambulance.

Hospital administrator Wendell Alford and Ambulance Service Director Bill Everett had met earlier in the year with the Mitchell Co. Commissioners and the City Council to ask each for a third of the money to buy an ambulance to replace one that was no longer running.

The city, county and the Hospital District presently pay one-third of the cost of the ambulance service with the Hospital adding additional money each month for salaries for ambulance personnel.

The Ambulance Service sent out bid requests and they were reviewed last week by the Ambulance Advisory Board and they made a recommendation to buy a Road Rescue Ambulance for $76,066 and the proposal was brought to the full Hospital Board Tuesday night.

The county commissioners are expected to furnish one-third of the cost of a new ambulance along with the Hospital but the city - operating under a deficit budget and faced with interest payments to the county and no income from the water line to the prison until at least the third quarter of 1994 - has told the Hospital Board that they could not pay one-third this fiscal year.

Board chairman Marion Bassham told the other members that she thought the Hospital should go ahead and accept the bid on the new ambulance and she asked for a motion to do so at Tuesday night's meeting.

Virgil Stone said "if we go ahead and do that then the city might not ever pay their third."

Board member Fred Thompson

suggested once again that all three parties have a meeting "because having only one member of their council there is not working out."

Mrs. Bassham then suggested that "we could loan them the money."

Stone said that he felt the city should be committed in some way before an ambulance was ordered and emphasized that a way could be found to "work things out."

Alford said that "we're at the point where we might be compromising patient care without one more ambulance and we will not do that."

The Hospital Board will ask to be placed on the agenda for the next city council meeting.

Bill Everett gave the Ambulance Service activity report for April and they had 45 total runs in the month with 25 of them local. They averaged 1.5 runs per day and their total accounts receivables currently stand at $10,037.

The board also heard several other reports including the final one from Sue Dossey, Home Health Director, who will leaving her post Friday for a position in a Lubbock hospital. She will be replaced by Sue Galleon of Snyder.

Dossey reported that they are currently serving 96 patients with revenues from the month of April in the amount of $136,497 and expenses for the month at $58,621.

The report also indicated accounts receivable dating from October of 1992 in the amount of $400,810. Alford told the board that "this figure is unacceptable and it is past time to address this issue."

Marsha Rickard, administrator of the Valley Fair Lodge, reported that her facility was at its maximum capacity again this month. The board voted to spend $4894 to replace privacy curtains and window coverings at the facility.

Property Tax Protest And Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these procedures if you have a concern about:

- the value placed on your property;
- exemptions that may apply to you;
- cancellation of agricultural appraisal;
- whether your property is taxable;
- which local governments should be taxing your property, or
- you think the appraisal district has done something else that adversely affected you.

Informal Review: Contact the Appraisal District at 728-5028 to make an appointment to meet with an appraiser.

Review by the Appraisal Review Board: If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board.

The appraisal review board (ARB) is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals and other concerns listed above. They have the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notification of the time, date, and place of the hearing. The hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at 1132 Hickory St.

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires you to sign an affidavit saying that you haven't done so before the ARB hears your case.

Review by the District Court: After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised your property at $1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More information: You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at 1132 Hickory St., Colorado City, Texas. You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Property Tax Board, 4301 Westbank Drive, Building B, Suite 100, Austin, Texas 78746.

Deadline for filing protests with the ARB

June 5, 1993

Usual deadline: On or before June 9 (or 30 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests (if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.) Before the day the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact the appraisal district for more information.

Special deadlines:

Change of use (if the appraisal district has informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land) Before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

ARB changes (if the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed.) Before the 10th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

OUTDOORS

BY RANDY BULLARD
GAME WARDEN

Some people call them "calico," "speckled or strawberry bass," "paper-mouths" and "white perch," but are most commonly called "crappie." Found only in North American fresh waters, there are two distinct crappie species. The black crappie (abundant in east Texas) have irregular black marks which give it the dark color and will usually have 7 dorsal spines. The white crappie has fewer more regularly spaced vertical bars which make it appear lighter and will usually have only 6 dorsal spines.

Both are carnivorous and are especially fond of minnows and worms. Most crappie fishermen agree that it takes five things to catch crappie. You've got to be in the right place, at the right depth, the right bait, the right tackle and the right retrieve.

Late February to mid March is usually the spawning period. Adult males will move into shallower water and fan away debris for a nest. Females then move in, each releasing between 5,000 to 20,000 eggs. These eggs will cling to rocks, weeds or brush where they are fertilized and guarded by the male. Surprisingly, fewer than one percent of the tiny fry will reach adulthood, some of them falling prey to their own kind, as well as to larger predators such as the largemouth bass.

Lake Champion is a good place to fish for crappie. There is considerable brush, trees and rock structures that produce a compatible habitat and it does not receive heavy fishing pressure. Lake Colorado City, on the other hand, does. The lack of crappie being caught is proof of it.

Crappie may be the most notorious for throwing anglers a curve. The pan-fish can be abundant one year and virtually absent the next, giving rise to all sorts of debates as to the cause.

Department biologist Richard Ott Despels the "stunting" theory. (During times when fishermen caught large numbers of undersized crappie, they hatched the theory that an overpopulated group of stunted fish were failing to grow because of too much competition for food.) "A lot of crappie population that were thought to be stunted were simply a strong year-class of young fish, caused by environmental conditions that allowed a good spawn and survival. Then, two or three years later, fishermen remove most of the catchable-sized crappie, and fishing drops off the next year. This reduced fishing success often lasts several years."

Another rumor is "the redfish are eating all the crappie." To put it bluntly, that theory is hogwash. I've investigated the rumor of many-a-caught redfish and have interviewed hundreds of fishermen and we've yet to see a swallowed crappie. We've seen just about everything else including tilapia (rawfish), shad, perch and once a small bass. I'm not saying a redfish won't eat a crappie if it happens to swim in front of him, but if we're going to start blaming one fish for eating another fish we need to first start with the #1 and #2 predators in the lake. The largemouth bass and the flathead catfish. These two fish are built to attack and eat other live fish. Just look at the size of their mouths.

But it's safe to say, nobody will pick on the "revered" black bass or the "troglodytes" favorite catfish. The "scapegoated" redfish is primarily a bottom feeder and the vast majority are caught while bottom fishing with dead shrimp or cut bait. Lastly, there are five other freshwater lakes in Texas with reds and there are no crappie problems there.

Let's look at Lake Colorado City. It's about 1600 acres in size and in years past has been fished extremely hard without any size or bag limit restrictions on the crappie. The 10 inch length limit and 25 per day bag limit has only been in effect the last few years. It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out that 100,000 annual fishermen taking all the crappie they want without regard to size will severely deplete the resource. Also the improvement of high tech "fish finding" equipment can be a double whammy. Heck, a crappie won't even spawn until they reach about 2 years of age which is about 8-10 inches in length.

The problem has been identified, and it is us. While the notion of over-harvest may be hard to swallow, it has been backed up with scientific evidence by fisheries biologists.

Intensive surveys on a couple of lakes from 1986 through 1988 provided persuasive evidence that the more restrictive limit (10 inch length and 25 per day bag limits) increased angling success both in numbers and size of crappie caught. For instance, in 1986 only 13% of crappie at Lake Palestine were 10 inches or longer. Just two years later, in 1988, that percentage had climbed to 62%. Lake Meredith's crappie population improved from 10% to 38%.

This scientific evidence, along with responses from anglers reporting improved fishing encouraged the department to establish that 10 inch 25 day restriction as state law.

There are at least two more viable theories that may reduce a crappie population that most fishermen fail to realize. The feeding habits of Lake Colorado City's tilapia population may also put some pressure or stress on a successful crappie spawn. And how about catch-and-release? It is practiced often on bass but is virtually non-existent on crappie. When a legal crappie is landed it will usually end up in the frying pan.

Simply put, crappie populations are susceptible to "roller coaster" and all it takes is a little catch-and-release, some rule observing and a whole lot of patience to bring them back.

COOK'S CORNER

This week you will have the privilege of meeting Carrmon Whitesides. She is truly one of the prettiest women I have ever met and she is just as nice as she is pretty. She was born in Andrews, Texas. She lived there until her 8th grade year, when her family moved to Colorado City. Carrmon attended Colorado City Schools, which is where she met Todd Whitesides. They dated for three years before getting married during the summer of Carrmon's junior year. She attended Westbrook High School as a senior and graduated in 1986. Todd was working for his grandpa, W.D. Whitesides, at the horse barn outside of Westbrook at the time. He is still working with his grandpa and his dad, T.A. Whitesides doing environmental clean-up.

She has been attending Western Texas College off and on for several years, taking various courses for an accounting degree. She is also looking into the possibility of getting a degree in Massage Therapy.

Carrmon and Todd have three beautiful children: Zach, 7, Zane, 4 and Bailey, 2.

She is a busy lady. She enjoys cooking, taking care of her kids, exercise and gardening. She and her family attend the Westbrook First Baptist Church.

She has been cooking for many years. When she was young, her mother and step-father had to work a lot. Being one of the oldest girls in a family of 6 kids, the cooking and cleaning chores fell on her. She thought marriage was wonderful, only cooking for two!

I hope you get the opportunity sometime to meet this unique and sweet lady!

"Hello, Operator."

That's how thousands of Texans greet us every day.

We're the Southwestern Bell Telephone Operators... and we're ready to help you with your local and long-distance calling needs. Every day. Around-the-clock.

Like Directory Assistance that provides you with phone numbers, addresses and ZIP codes. And our Call Completion Service that connects you with your requested number so you don't have to hang up and dial it yourself.

Southwestern Bell Operators also think it's important to teach children about telephone safety. As a reminder, please take time to review with your child how to reach help in an emergency.

Then, practice these emergency calling procedures until your child can dial "0" for Operator -- or call a specific emergency number if used in your area. Children should also memorize their home phone number, including the area code, as well as your neighbor's number and your work number.

We hope you never have to call with an emergency. If you do, however, we're here when you need us to handle the call.

Southwestern Bell Operators help make Southwestern Bell the one to call on in Texas.

LORAINE PERSONALS

By: Lois Phillips

Since the last time we visited we have had a few showers and a big rain in parts of our county. It was welcomed in some places and not so nice in other places. Several people got water in their houses and others had sewer lines backed up. I hate it for all of you who this happened to. Hope you have it all cleaned up by now. I hope everyone will get enough rain soon to start your crops.

School is almost over for you this year and I hope everyone got finished in everything they had planned this time around. If not you might keep working on them and by the time school starts you will have learned how you can really do things for yourself and do them well.

We will probably see some drastic changes in our schools the next few years because of financing and consolidation, but I guess we can all do our part to make it work. We need to keep our schools.

We will still have Heather and Ryan and their parents Rick and Gloria to keep us informed about what is going on, so we can still help in a small way.

Some of us who have worked this year to try to help you know what's going on, and who is doing what, have decided we need to dedicate this weeks news to the ladies of our school for all their hard work. This includes all girls from K through Seniors, teachers, every secretary and the ladies who work hard to keep you fed and everything clean. We salute every lady in our school youngest to the oldest. You are doing a good job and we are proud of you.

A large part of your achievements have already been recognized such as U.I.L. and a great many other things, but here are a few that we have not had. We know that Sheryl Webb did very well with her steers, also Lauren Hackfeld did a good job with hers. Amber Blair did well with her pigs, so girls you have done well for our female population at L.H.S.

Here is a list of girls sports awards - Heart Award and Regional Golf Qualifiers: Krisha Lamb-Regional tennis qualifier; Kahla

Lamb, Most Athletic, 1st team district basketball, Regional golf qualifier, Regional tennis qualifier; Natasha Atkins, 1st team district basketball; Krystal Butler, Regional golf qualifier; Kamie Lamb, Regional tennis qualifier and Amber Blair, Regional golf qualifier. We hope we have not overlooked anyone in any way, such as U.I.L., sports and other things like student council, etc. I know that is a lot of work.

Kevin Compton and family have been visiting in Loraine recently with his parents, Sly and Sally Compton and other relatives.

Dr. J.D. Sheffield spent last weekend with parents, Atwood and Billie Sheffield. Dr. J.D. lives in Gatesville and is associated with the Scott & White branch in Gatesville. We were glad to see J.D. and very proud of him, along with his family.

Leroy Thompson and his wife from Florida have been visiting their relatives in Mitchell County. Jay Thompson is a brother and two sisters, Inez Webb of Loraine and Ollie Gale of Colorado City. The Thompsons have lots of nieces and nephews in our county, also, Leroy, Jay, Inez and Ollie are all children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of the Looney community. I believe a grandson, Richard Gale, lives on the old home place. Inez reports very enjoyable visits during all of last week. We are happy for the Thompsons getting together.

Don't forget we are still in the running for a state championship in baseball. We defeated Bovina 10-0 last Thursday in Lubbock. If you happened to read th Lubbock paper you would have noticed every guy who played got into the game in a big way. I know you guys are proud of the game. Let's go back to Lubbock this Thursday to Lubbock C.C. baseball field and give Shamrock a whipping in that game. Sure hope a big crowd can go and we want each one of you guys to give 100% to the game. Then you can think of your other goings on. BASEBALL FIRST. The game is at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

The high school cheerleaders for next year are Amber Chavez, Amber Blair, Angie Martinez, Nikita Atkins and Natasha Atkins, with Karen Hackfeld as sponsor.

Junior high cheerleaders are Leslia Garcia, Lauren Hackfeld, Amy Garcia, Andi Chavez and Melissa Cole, with Vickie Atkins as sponsor.

The FFA, FHA banquet was held Monday, May 17 in the high school cafeteria. High point members in FHA were Sheryl Webb, Olivia Rico, Krisha Lamb, Jason Shy, Amber Chavez, Kahla Lamb, Angie Martinez, Dawn Butler, James Lopez, Amber Blair, Kamie Lamb, Krystal Butler, Craig Finley, Michael Moore, Kathy Martinez, Angie Gonzales, Likita Atkins and Cory Wooddell.

The FFA awards went to Kamie Lamb, high point cotton judge; Brian Butler, high point horse judge, and Geory Martin, chapter farmer degree. The meal of barbeque was prepared by Green's, the school cafeteria staff and the Home Economics department. We wish to thank everyone who attended and support our programs.

The State FHA convention was held April 16-17 in Houston. Those attending were Mrs. Hackfeld, Sheryl Webb, Krisha Lamb and Amber Chavez.

The Area FFA convention was held in San Angelo on May 14th. Those attending were Mr. McFarland, Brian Butler and Geory Martin.

Olivia Rico received the 1993 Ann Lan Scholarship Homemaking Scholarship for 1,000 to the college of her choice. We are very proud of her.

We wish to say "Thanks" in a big way for all who helped with this report: Karen Hackfeld, Vickie Atkins, Sarah Barrera, Dawn Butler, Coach Loy and many others who have helped us sorta give you a report on what is going on up on the Hill. We are proud of our school and we don't want to lose it.

I will try to give you a report on our last game: The sports guy mentioned Michael Moore, Corey Wooddell, James Lopez, David Mitchell, Craig Finley, with Chris Phillips pitching and also Joe Sanchez, Jessie Ricco, Steve Gutierrez. The game ended on the 10 run rule. We are proud of you guys and we know you can do that again this Thursday. It looks like we must have had an all-star team.

Iris Preston and Chrystene Hill returned from Brownwood Wednesday, where they attended the farewell party honoring Susan Preston. Linda Harris' home provided the setting for the affair. In the dining area, the coordinating colors provided an attractive table laden with appetizing foods.

A large crowd from the entire community included Susan's staff, friends from both the civic and church community. She received many lovely gifts.

Liz Peoples from Sweetwater attended.

Hostesses were Linda Harris, Karen Bufo, Betty Morris, Penny Gammill and Robie Todd.

Kelley Elementary awarded certificate

Kelley Elementary has been awarded a Certificate of Exceptional Effort from the Texas School Safety Honor Roll Program recognizing its support of safety education and accident prevention.

The honor roll program, sponsored by Texas Safety Association in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency, is the only state recognition program that covers all aspects of school safety education and accident prevention. The Honor Roll Program assists schools in meeting the intent of Texas accreditation standards (Principles 3 and 10) relative to safety, promotes coordinated efforts for safety throughout the school system, encourages programs for reducing or eliminating accidents involving students, and enables each school to objectively analyze its own safety activities.

During the 1992-93 school year 1,556 schools from districts across the state participated in the programs.

Texas Safety Association is a non-profit, non-governmental, educational organization whose members work in government, private industry, and as individuals to prevent accidents and needless loss of life and property.

Enhancement program to be held

Do you know what bikes, water runoff, abandoned railways and scenic preservation have in common? If you want to find out, be sure to attend the public hearing in Lubbock on Texas' Statewide Transportation Enhancement Program.

Citizens will have the opportunity to comment on the program's proposed rules May 26 at the Lubbock Plaza Hotel, 3201 Loop 289 South, Lubbock 79423. The hearing will take place in the Dallas Room. Registration begins at 5 p.m., and the hearing begins at 6 p.m.

The hearing is one of eight being conducted statewide by the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT).

Written comments on the rules will be accepted until 5 p.m. June 11, 1993. Please address written comments to the Texas Department of Transportation, Thomas A. Griebel, Director, Division of Planning and Policy, 125 E. 11th Street, Austin 78701-2483 (fax 512/475-2951).

Federal legislation in 1991 required states to spend 10 percent of Surface Transportation Program funds on transportation enhancements. In its April meeting, the Texas Transportation Commission adopted proposed rules for the Statewide Transportation Enhancement Program and gave the go-ahead to statewide hearings.

The rules appeared in the Texas Register in early May, and copies of the rules are also available at local TxDOT district offices. A synopsis of the rules is available in Spanish.

"Public input is an important part of the transportation planning process, and these enhancements will become part of Texas' transportation plan," said TxDOT Executive Director Arnold Oliver. "Transportation enhancements catch the attention of a lot of people, and we want to make sure we hear what everyone has to say before making any decisions."

Federal legislation lists 10 categories for transportation enhancements, ranging from water runoff mitigation to scenic preservation to converting abandoned railway corridors into hike-and-bike trails.

COUNTY AG NOTES

The pecan nut casebearer is considered to be the most destructive nut feeding insect in Texas. Damage from the casebearer can range from very mild to over 90 percent destruction of a crop on rare occasions.

The pecan nut casebearer prediction model is used as a pest management tool to predict when first significant nut entry occurs. By knowing this approximate date a pecan grower can intensify his scouting for this potentially damaging pest. First significant entry in the Mitchell County area is expected around June 1, with predicted spray dates being June 1 through June 7.

Producers should start scouting nut clusters about a week prior to the predicted date of first nut entry. Homeowners should inspect at least 10 nut clusters per tree when scouting. The economic threshold for casebearers based on eggs is 1-2 percent of the clusters infested with eggs. Eggs hatch in 4-5 days. When eggs are found, they should be tagged and inspected daily until they hatch. When 1-2 percent of the nut clusters are entered by casebearer larvae, it is time to spray on that day. For predictive purposes, spray dates should be set 5 to 8 days after eggs are found.

If pecan nut casebearer larvae are going to be controlled, they should be killed before they enter the nutlets. Once inside, the larvae are protected until they emerge from the nutlet. After destroying that nutlet, the larvae progressively destroy most of the remaining nutlets in the cluster.

You can use several insecticides for controlling this pest. The following table list some of the compounds and their rates that homeowners should be concerned with.

Material Amount in 3 gallons of water

Chemical Insecticides

Malathion 50% EC	4 teaspoons of 50% liquid
Sevin 80 S	.1 lbs. of 80% powder
Dursban 12.6% *	1 & 1/3 oz. per gallon

Biological Insecticides

Dipel **
Javelin **

* Only certain brand names labelled
 Check labels for dosage

Adding zinc mixtures to the spray solution will decrease rosette problems in pecan trees and allow them to produce higher quality nuts. Zinc products include Zinc sulfate and NZN.

Casebearer eggs are just visible to the naked eye and are greenish white when first deposited. They then become reddish brown before hatching. The eggs hatch in about 4 or 5 days and the larvae migrate to buds below the nutlets where they feed for 1 to 2 days before entering the nutlets.

Producers, especially homeowners, should remember that if casebearers are not controlled they will usually reduce the number of pecans on the tree by 10-50%. In years when pecan trees have a heavy nut set, reduction of 10-50% may not affect final yield or may only slightly affect total pounds produced. If water and/or fertilizer are not adequate for a full nut load, a reduction in the total number of nuts produced may actually improve the quality of the nuts harvested. Therefore leaving trees untreated is a viable option. But sampling for casebearers and an evaluation of the nut set should be made before any treatment option is exercised.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

BY JIM BAUM

"C.C. Blandford, Saddlemaker, Colorado, Texas, 1887." Our quest to learn more about Blandford began when we received a letter from Milo Sandberg of Harrisburg, Nebraska, who said he had a Blandford saddle.

Sandberg asked for information about Blandford, and he got it. Here's how:

Nita Broadbuss of Colorado City read the article, clipped it out of the Record and then mailed it to Anna B. Wallace of Ft. Worth. Mrs. Wallace is the oldest granddaughter of Blandford.

"I was just flabbergasted," she told us recently. So flabbergasted she decided to telephone Sandberg rather than write.

"Yes, it's easier to talk on the 'phone than to write," the perky former Colorado City resident pointed out. "I was only five year old when granddad died, so I don't remember a great deal about him, but I know he loved children."

Mrs. Wallace said her grandfather had curly reddish hair and he always worn a big grin. Other than that, she really couldn't tell Sandberg much about grandpa Blandford.

"And there's no one living now who would know about him," she adds.

Anna Byrd Harness Wallace was born in Colorado, Texas, to Conrad T. Harness and Lillian Blandford Harness.

"I was born there (Colorado City) and my mother was born there," she says. "My father migrated there from Boonefield, Missouri."

Mr. Harness was a cotton buyer. "He had an office and we used to go up some steps that I thought were awfully steep on the side of a building," Mrs. Wallace remembers. However, she can't recall where the building was.

She also remembers a number of friends she had here during her Colorado City days. "I knew all the Broadbusses," she said, "but Mary was one of my best friends."

Young Anna left here at the tender age of ten when her older brother entered T.C.U.

"My dad had offices in Ft. Worth and Colorado City, so it didn't make a great deal of difference where we did live."

There really wasn't a diplomatic way to ask Mrs. Wallace what year she left Colorado City, without it sounding as if we were trying to learn her age, but she isn't shy about that subject.

"I'll be happy to tell you that I'm pushing 80. I just had a birthday and I'm 79." (Her voice sounds much younger).

Mrs. Wallace on her husband, Jewell, met at T.C.U. and "We've been married 58 years." Both were employed at the university, she as Dean of Admissions. (He once coached football at San Angelo and in 1943 was at the helm when the Bobcats won their only state championship in football).

But, getting back to her granddad the saddle maker....Mrs. Wallace says C.C. Blandford loved to play the fiddle, as well as working with his hands in his craft.

He and his first wife had four children and when Mrs. Blandford died, he eventually remarried. His second wife was Buelah McMurry and the marriage produced three more children. (Grandpa obviously did more than make saddles and fiddle for entertainment).

Be that as it may, C.C. Blandford did live and die a saddlemaker. He passed away in November of 1919 and is buried in the Colorado City Cemetery.

When Mrs. Wallace was told that the local museum might have a Blandford saddle in its store room, she said, "Oh no! Don't let Mr. Sandberg know. I bet he would try to buy it!"

We may know much about C.C. Blandford, but we do have it on good authority (Milo Sandberg) that he made good saddles. And, after talking with his granddaughter, we know he left behind sturdy stock.

Grandpa Blandford would have been proud. Probably prouder of her than he was of any of his famous saddles.

Annual sale of Buddy Poppies to begin

The Ladies Auxiliary to the V.F.W. Post #9178 had a proclamation signed by major Jim Baum proclaiming the annual sale of Buddy Poppies. The proclamation is as follows:

Mayor's Proclamation
WHEREAS, The annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States has been officially recognized and endorsed by governmental leaders since 1922, and

WHEREAS, VFW Buddy Poppies are assembled by disabled veterans, and the proceeds of this worthy fund-raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans, and

WHEREAS, The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living"; therefore

I, Jim Baum, Mayor of the city of Colorado City do hereby urge the citizens of this community to recognize the merits of this cause by contributing generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies on the day set aside for the distribution of these symbols of appreciation for the sacrifices of our honored dead.

I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men and women of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

Signed,
Jim Baum
Mayor

There will be a meeting of the V.F.W. Post #9178 and its Ladies Auxiliary May 27 at 8:00 p.m. at the post home. The Ladies Auxiliary will be selling Buddy Poppies on May 28 & 29. A memorial wreath will be placed at the Courthouse on Memorial Day.

COLORADO CONVERSATIONS

BY BARBIE LELEK

Well school is finally winding down. (Yeah, says the teachers!) Boo, says the parents!) Many classes have been "partying" already. Tim and I drove through the park the other afternoon and spotted the third grade having a picnic. The fourth grade got to go to Pizza Hut and pig out on the yummies there. Second grade had a fun time at the Abilene Zoo. The kindergarten classes enjoyed going to the park.

The first grade has just completed a unit on the Ocean. They put their new found knowledge in with a lot of recreation and fun this week. During the morning, in their classrooms, the children wrote a story about a sand dollar. They had a picnic at the "beach" as they ate their lunch on beach towels on the floor of the cafeteria. In the afternoon the beach party continued on outside. First, the children participated in several relays. Next the classes competed against each other in a chalk picture contest. Lastly, they divided up and traveled to different stations, doing fun stuff as: sponge painting, measuring the big, blue whale, sand dollar (frisbee) throw and more. They also had fun having water gun fights.

The kids that had not been absent all year also have been collecting a special reward for their efforts. From Hutchinson, 53 kids descended upon the Dairy Queen to enjoy a hamburger, French fries and Coke. They were accompanied by their principal, Mr. Lemons! 53 out of 280 kids sure does seem like a good percentage for perfect attendance!

I just laughed and laughed the other morning while I was listening to Jim Baum give the rain reports. Did ya'll hear the man from Westbrook say that all he had in his rain gauge was two dry bugs!!!! It wasn't long before he had an inch and a half of rain! And Floyd Rice who said he got more rain than Johnny Shackelford because he was uglier!

On the other hand, I also cried and cried the evening it hailed so much because our new Saturn got several dents! Boo hoo, what a shame, I hope yours survived better!

The Mother's Day Out program held its graduation last Sunday evening. Everyone was recognized starting with the wee ones! The '92-'93 teachers were Edna McMillian - Babies, Patti Savage - Bigger Babies, Me (Barbie Lelek) - Toddlers; my class sang "The Lord's Army;" Linda Chambers - 3 years (or so); they sang "Jesus Loves Me," Tina Piland - 3 years to early 4's (or so), Jeanna Blassingame - 4 years old (or so). Both classes sang together "In Right - Out Right" and "Lord's Army." Denise Bradbury's 5 year old class sang several songs including "Serve One Another" and "10 Little Indians."

The preschool class taught by Mary Ann Wright and Loretta Johnson sang "ABCD," "Count-down" and said 5 Bible verses. A reception followed so the parents and grandparents could view some of the works their children have done in MDO. Connie Chambers served as a wonderful director all year.
