NOT AS IT SEEMS - The silver Ford Raptor (bottom) was spun 360 degrees after being hit by the SUV (top) last week. The driver of the pickup said he thought the intersection by Gas 'n' Grub was a four-way stop. No major injuries resulted.

No major injuries reported in accident at busy intersection

A two-vehicle accident at the intersection of South Hwy. 208 and Bus. I-20 left those involved shaken up but with no major injuries last Wednesday.

Ronnie Hudson of Miles, the driver of a silver Ford Raptor pickup, was traveling south on Hwy. 208 with three female juvenile passengers on Wednesday, November 13th shortly after noon. He approached the intersection and saw a blue Ford SUV traveling west toward the intersection, but Hudson said he thought it was a four-way stop. He proceeded to drive through the intersection and was hit by the SUV.

Lela Jones, the driver of the SUV, slammed into the pickup with such force that is caused the pickup to spin around 360 degrees. It ended up facing north on the other side of the intersec-

CMN drawing held at local credit union

Employees of the Mitchell County branch of the Big Spring Education Employees Federal Credit Union collected donations to be given as prizes to winners of drawings in order to raise money for the Children's Miracle Network. The drawings were held Friday, November 15th, and names of over 50 winners were drawn from the hopper by Lindsey Towery, a child that once benefitted from the equipment and services provided by the organization.

Towery was born prematurely on September 19, 2006, not quite weighing two pounds and measuring only 13 inches in length. The shortened gestation left her lungs not fully developed, and she could not breathe on her own.

The tiny infant was flown by helicopter to Lakeside Covenant Hospital in Lubbock where she remained in NICU. While there, she underwent heart surgery, three laser eye surgeries, five other surgeries and a bilateral inguinal hernia reparation.

Children's Miracle Network raises funds to purchase equipment for neonatal units, including the one at the hospital where Towery lived the first months of her life. After a three and a half month hospital stay, Towery was released to go home, as long as she stayed on oxygen and a heart monitor.

"We had a very difficult first two years of her life," her mother Ladonna said. "Praise God she is doing really good now."

Towery seemed like the perfect person to perform the drawing at the credit union last week. The credit union employees have raised over $1900 for CMN so far, and they will continue to sell CMN balloons until they reach the goal of $2550.

DRAWING FOR A GOOD CAUSE – Credit union employee Margo Connell looks on as Lindsey Towery draws one of several winners of prizes donated in a fundraiser for Children's Miracle Network. Approximately $1900 has been raised so far, and credit union employees will continue selling CMN balloons until their goal of $2550 is reached. Photo courtesy of Connell.

Curbside pickup program changing

The curbside pickup program, offered by the City of Colorado City, is changing in order to preserve the life of the landfill. Citizens will still be able to utilize the program, but fees must be charged in order to keep the service available to those who need it.

City Manager David Hoover said that the program, which was started a couple of years ago, gave citizens a chance to clean up their property at no cost. However, the city's landfill is filling up with debris but not bringing in revenue.

City officials have implemented a plan to keep the service going, yet easing the strain on the landfill while still fulfilling terms set out by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ).

Anyone desiring curbside pickup will be required to go to city hall and pay in advance a minimum of $25 for the first cubic yard of refuse to be picked up. An additional $20 will be charged for each cubic yard after that. A photo of the material to be picked up will be required at the time of payment. If a photo is not available, a city employee will go take a photo as time allows, and the applicant can then make payment at city hall.

Curbside pickup will take place on the first working day of each month and only when payment has been made at least one working day in advance. All material to be picked up should be placed at the curbside no sooner than three days before the scheduled pickup.

Any materials placed near the curb before the three-day period will be considered a violation of the city's rubbish and debris ordinances. A citation will be issued to the home owner or renter who violates the rule.

The first Saturday of each month will be a free day at the landfill for household garbage for all Mitchell County residents. Anyone planning to take advantage of the free day should bring identification with proof of residency when dumping. All construction or demolition debris will incur the normal landfill charges.

There is a recycling bin located at the gate of the landfill, and all metal should be placed in the bin. There is no charge for dumping the recyclable metal.

Dumping of tree trimmings, leaves and grass clippings will remain free, except for limbs or trunks too large for the chipper.

Hospital volunteers planning open house

The Mitchell County Hospital Volunteers have some great, unique gifts ideas, and they are planning an open house to showcase them.

The gift shop open house will be held Tuesday, December 3rd from 3 to 7 p.m. There will be door prizes, refreshments and new merchandise. The First Baptist Church Children's Choir will perform at 4 p.m.

Hospital volunteer Jan Miller said that the open house will give those attending a chance to shop, and there are lots of new items just in time for Christmas. Purses, jewelry, hats, knick knacks, crosses, and Christmas items are just a few of the things in the gift shop.

If you're looking for a unique gift, stopping by the gift shop on December 3rd to get you in the holiday mood.

Officers installed at TDCJ graduation ceremony

FROM CADETS TO OFFICERS – The first group of cadets graduated on Friday from correctional officer pre-service training held by the Wallace and Ware Unit staff. Those graduating were: Tim Arrendale, Jacobe Braxton, Jamie Espinoza, Tammy Gordon, Carlos Lopez, Gilberto Martinez, Jacob Ramsel, Jamie Redwine Jr., Donald Siemens, Colton Stanford, and Chessity Turner.

Texas Department of Criminal Justice officials installed 11 officers in a graduation ceremony held Friday at the Webb Center in the prison complex in Colorado City. Eight of the new correctional officers will be working at the Wallace and Ware Units.

Field Training Officer Gwen Hillis led the graduation ceremony, officially installing the officers. Assistant Warden Perez and Major House issued diplomas to mark the occasion.

A slideshow was shown with photos of the cadets' training experiences including their first-hand introduction to chemical agents, restraints and defensive tactics.

Hillis reminded the graduates of the TDCJ mission statement, "... to provide public safety, promote positive change in offender behavior, reintegrate offenders into society, and assist victims of crime."

Awards were presented to a few of the officers. Gilbert Martinez received the Most Improved award, and Jacob Ramsel was named Most Encouraging Officer. Tammy Gordon was presented with a certificate for the George Beto Award.

Officers graduating were: Martinez, Gordon, Ramsel, Tim Arrendale, Jacobe Braxton, Jamie Espinoza, Carlos Lopez, Jamie Redwine Jr., Donald Siemens, Colton Stanford and Chessity Turner.

Following the ceremony, officers, officials and guests were served refreshments.

A TOTAL LOSS – Colorado City firemen fought a fire at a trailer house located out on Lucas Road last Wednesday but were unable to save it, as it was fully engulfed when the firefighters arrived. Courtney Davidson lived in the home but was not home when it caught fire. The state fire marshal is investigating the cause at this time.

NEW PORCHES FOR THE HERITAGE HOUSE – Caleb Free, Dennis Evans, and Sean Casey, employees of Ellis Companies, are performing a major overhaul of all the porches at the Heritage House. Funds the pay for the project were raised with the Rockin' on the Back Porch event held in the spring, along with help from the city.

Toy drive car show planned for Dec. 7

Cost to enter the show is $20 per entry or a toy of equivalent value. The show is open to all vehicles, no matter the type.

Spectators will be able to participate in the show by voting for their favorite entry. Each vote costs $1, and hot dogs and soft drinks will be given with each vote, as long as supplies last. Votes can also be cast by donating a toy.

Winners of the car show will be announced at 5 p.m., just in time for all the cars to line up for the Light the Night Christmas Parade. Winners will be determined by spectator votes.

Hot dogs will be provided by City National Bank, and Bobby Lemons will be cooking for the event.

"Everyone is invited to come on downtown and enjoy the car show and help raise money for Toys4MCKids toy drive," Kiwanianne Jan Lemons said.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH

From prison to publishing

Troy Buck was raised in Andrews.

"My daddy was a horse trader and so it was obvious where I was gonna go. I joined the Texas Rodeo Association when I was 19, then moved into the professional ranks when I was 22. I was a bull rider and calf roper for 14 years."

He made it to the National Finals Rodeo in 1976, 77 and 78. When he retired from rodeo in 1978 he started driving a truck. In 1999, when he was 55 years old, he was sentenced to 12 in prison for DWI. There was no accident involved, he was not a heavy drinker and the charges were 13 years apart. He served the whole twelve years and was released on June 1, 2011. While in prison he wrote 10 books.

"When I would finish one, I would mail it out to some friends and they took care of them until I got out. They were all hand-written with a pencil and paper while I was in a nine by six cellblock. I'm working on three more books now, but while I was incarcerated I wrote westerns, rodeo stories, murder mysteries and adventure novels. I had to do something to keep my sanity. I did six years before I started writing. While I was out on the recreation yard one day I was telling a few guys about some of my rodeo stuff and one of them suggested that I write down some of those stories. My first novel was a rodeo story based out of Andrews."

Troy had always admired Elmer Kelton's writing and sent some of his rodeo stories to the famous author. Mr. Kelton got two of them published in western magazines. The two became friends by mail and Mr. Kelton, who was born in Andrews County, encouraged Troy to write novels. Troy learned about the drug business in prison.

"There were 4,000 men on the unit I was on in Huntsville. I would say 80 percent of those are drug related cases. Some of those guys would tell me they had never had a job. They just sold drugs."

Tiger Tale Publishing Company of Odessa is getting some of Troy's books on the market. The first title is Vigilante Grannies.

"It's about grandmothers who form a vigilante group. The drug dealers moved into their once peaceful community and started drug deals, so these grannies went and bought pistols to combat the drug dealers."

The book is available at Amazon, Barnes and Noble and tigertale.com. Troy says this writing experience has put him in another world and he is enjoying it.

"I make speeches to schools and talk to the kids about some of my experiences. I get interviewed by news media and get on talk shows. Even though I graduated from high school in another city, my class at Andrews High School invited me back for a reunion."

"Bless this food, O, Lord"

By Monte Wike

"Thank you for this food, O Lord, bless it to the use and nourishment of our bodies, Amen." We pray this prayer maybe often, maybe at every meal, and probably fail to think of the words.

This week a fellow wrote and asked "What does 'bless' mean? I think it means 'happy'. Do we mean 'be happy' when we bless someone?"

I use the word "blessing" or "bless" often with the word itself being its meaning. I close all my correspondence with a blessing, and often say "bless you" to a helper or friendly person. But then, I began to think, what do we really mean when we pass on a blessing, or ask for one? Why do we say "bless you" when someone sneezes? (I know it is an ancient tradition.)

To bless means to anoint, make hallowed, sanctify or cause a benefit or warmth to descend on the person or situation. When we ask God to bless our food, we are really asking Him to receive our food as an offering to Him, and we are also inviting Him to be in attendance at the meal.

The opposite of "bless" is "curse" and many people are very good at this. They ask God to damn things that are vital and essential. If God did curse all that He is asked to, then nothing would work, no one would be happy, and hell would be full and running over. There is such a thing as to cast a curse upon a person, to remove any sense of blessing from them, to wish them to have only bad things happen in their lives.

This Thanksgiving, we need to recognize what a blessed (alternate word, blest) people we are. God is faithful to keep the world turning, the sun in the sky, the night on schedule, and His love abundant everywhere. We can recognize when someone gives us a blessing, whether or not they intended to, for we feel the radiant effects. We can both give or grant a blessing and receive one. We can generate good will with very little effort, maybe just a smile or friendly attitude.

We can also pass on and receive gratitude. We should be so grateful for those things we have, the blessings that have been showered on us, the benefits we receive daily. We should also be thankful for things when they do not go right, for all things come from God for some benefit. There are many "small" things and people for whom we should give special thanks this year. People doing their job, no matter how insignificant it seems, should receive our recognition and appreciation.

This year, when you ask God to "bless this food" include the fact that there is food to bless, for many do not have even this simple joy.

CCFDA asking for help with lap blanket needs

Children are on the minds of many as the holiday season approaches, but the Colorado City Fire Department Auxiliary (CCFDA) is collecting Christmas presents for a different group this year. The organization is collecting lap blankets for the elderly, and they are counting on the community for help.

SPREADING WARMTH – Colorado City Fire Department Auxiliary members Pat Parker and Shan Roberson, along with the rest of the group, are collecting lap blankets to be given as Christmas gifts to the elderly this holiday season. Donations can be dropped off at the fire department at 620 E. 11th St.

There will be a drop-off box located at the fire department at 620 E. 11th St., where those donating can take the blankets. Shan Roberson, public relations director for the group, will also pick up donations, and citizens can contact her by calling 325-242-0631.

Roberson said the initial goal is to collect at least 110 blankets, enough to give one to each resident of the local nursing homes. The secondary goal is to collect even more blankets to be given as Christmas gifts to some of the elderly in the community.

The auxiliary is now accepting blanket and monetary donations and will continue to do so until December 10th.

There are 17 members in the group, and new members are always welcome. Officers are Pat Parker, president; Melody Goodney, vice president; Breanna Midwell, secretary/treasurer; and Roberson, public relations. They meet the second Tuesday of each month at the fire department, and visitors and potential members are welcome to attend.

When you're out and about Christmas shopping, pick up a lap blanket and donate it to the auxiliary. Help the group spread a little Christmas cheer this year.

C-City Opry open this Thursday

The next C-City Opry is set for November 21st, and it promises to be a good show with out-of-town talent coming in to entertain the folks at the Colorado City Opera House.

Shady Mitchell and the Kickin' Kountry Band will join Curtis Potter and Justin Treviño on stage for a night of good, old, down-home country music on Thursday, November 21st. The show will also welcome the return of fiddler Brian Fowler from Snyder.

Doors open at 6 p.m., and the show starts at 7 p.m. Make plans now to attend, and enjoy the talent on stage.

chance to make time for Christmas shopping.

At 5:30 p.m., those wishing to participate in the Christmas parade will begin lining up on the east hill, near Austin Street. Downtown Christmas lighting will take place around 6 p.m., and the Light the Night parade will begin at that time also. Santa will light the Christmas tree downtown, as the parade comes to an end.

By 6:30 p.m. stomachs may start to growl, so the Lions Club has the answer to supper. Club members will be serving chili with "all the trimmings in the Railhead Building, located at 1st and Elm, and the Festival of Trees will provide a holiday atmosphere to warm the heart of even the Grinch. Santa will be available for photos with the little ones at the Railhead Building as well.

A Christmas Ball is planned to begin at 7 p.m. in the Civic Center, hosted by the senior citizens. There will be live music by Shady Mitchell and the Kickin' Kountry Band, and everyone is welcome to join in and scoot a boot.

Anyone interested in entering the parade, decorating a tree for the Festival of Trees or volunteering in any way should call 728-3403 or 728-2072. The organizers of these events welcome volunteers; the more the merrier!

The position will be up for grabs, as longtime District Clerk Sharon Hammond has announced plans to retire.

Incumbent Rick Grissam will be challenged by Normalinda Perez for the office of Justice of the Peace, Precincts 1 and 4.

Ray Mayo has filed to run for re-election as County Judge, and Debby Carlock has filed for the position of County Clerk. Precinct 4 County Commissioner Bill Preston has filed for re-election to the post, as has Precinct 2 Commissioner Jeremy Strain. Incumbent Jennifer Rivera has filed for re-election to the position of County Treasurer.

All candidates mentioned have filed an intent to run for election with the Mitchell County Clerk's Office. Anyone interested in filing for any of these offices should contact either Republican County Chair John Beckmeyer or Democrat County Chair Geory Martin. Primary elections will be held March 14th.

ACCIDENT

tion.

The SUV had noticeably more damage than the pickup, which was built for off-road travel. Hudson was cited for failure to yield right-of-way.

Jones complained of chest pains, so she and one of the passengers in the pickup, who had neck pain, were transported to Mitchell County Hospital. Neither suffered major injury.

Though many accidents have occurred at the intersection near Gas 'n' Grub, according to Colorado City Police Department Lt. Traven Berrie, the intersection is controlled appropriately. TxDOT guidelines say that state highways, such as Hwy. 208, must yield to bigger roadways like Business 20. There are stop signs, a flashing light, as well as advance warning for the intersection.

Spencer said that he felt the future of CISD is bright, and that the day and the new campus are all about the students. He said that CISD is home to a great staff and great students.

"I'm extremely proud to call Colorado City my home," he said.

Delivery is available for those not able to attend. Those needing a meal delivered can call 325-728-3430 or 728-3041, Monday through Friday between 7:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Call 325-933-0229 on Sunday, November 24th for delivery.

Bobby Matlock, event organizer, wants to make sure everyone understands that the meal is available to everyone at no charge. "God has blessed us with so much," he said. "We just want to be able to give back. That's what Thanksgiving is about."

will begin serving at 11 a.m. and continue until 1 p.m. on November 28th, and everyone is invited to take advantage of this opportunity.

The meal is free and available to everyone. The parish hall is located at 2005 Walnut Street in Colorado City.

According to church representative Janie Davila, the meal is not just for those dining alone on the holiday. She encouraged those working, as well as those who just want a good meal, to take part.

Everyone is invited to come dine-in, but delivery is also available for those who cannot get out. Those wanting to place an order for delivery should call 728-3252, 232-4768 or 242-0300. Davila said those calling need only to supply the number of plates and an address for delivery.

Dawson is coming off a 101-50 victory over Balmorhea last week.

Dawson is the district champion from district 5 (DII) and features pre-season MVP's quarterback Nick Garcia and running back James Valero. They return five starters on offense and five starters on defense from a 8-3 2012 season. The Dragons are coached by Edward Robinson.

Dawson very well could be the Bulldogs' biggest challenge thus far. The 101-50 thumping of a very good Balmorhea team is a good indication the Dragons are clicking on all cylinders.

If the Bulldogs can have another exceptional defensive effort, this could be the game of the year. Kickoff is set for 7:00 p.m. in Ackerly.

CELEBRATING 102 – Maebell McCullough celebrated her 102nd birthday with a surprise party hosted by her children at Valley Fair Lodge.

McCullough celebrates 102nd birthday

Maebell McCullough celebrated her 102nd birthday on Thursday, November 14th with a party thrown by her children. Family and friends of the Valley Fair Lodge resident came for cake, fruit and other goodies, as well as plenty of visiting.

Born in Red River County on November 14, 1911, Maebell married Wesley W. McCullough and had a farm in the China Grove area. She and her family moved into Colorado City around 1939, and W.W. ran a service station which was located across what was then Hwy. 80 from the Col-Tex Refinery.

In later years, the McCulloughs took on the daunting task of building homes in Colorado City. Maebell said that the family would move into an unfinished house, and when the construction work was finished, the house would sell and the family would move into the next one.

"It was a hard way, but it was fun," she said. She estimates that her husband built at least 20 homes in Colorado City. Her daughter, Lela Stephenson, said that there is only one home in the 1900 block of Chestnut that was not built by her dad.

After living in Mitchell County for many years, the family moved to Sand Springs where the McCulloughs put in and operated a lumberyard. Maebell ended up moving to Midland but returned to Colorado City's Valley Fair Lodge after sustaining injuries from a fall.

"I wouldn't be here without the good Lord," she said.

She was delighted when she heard that her children and grandchildren were in town to throw the birthday bash in her honor. "Everything has been wonderful," she said.

Maebell is the mother of three children who attended Colorado City schools, Stephenson, Dorothy Freeman and the late James Wilford McCullough. She has 11 grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren. There were five generations of her family

A WORK OF ART – West Texas Art Guild member Judy Hill of Sweetwater sold tickets at Railhead Trade Days for a drawing which will be held December 7th. The club is raffling off a painting by Linda Rupard of Big Spring, and tickets cost $1 each or six for $5.

Aycock receives plaque from CMS

Mark Merrell, Colorado Middle School Principal, presented the program at the Lions Club last week, bringing along some students as guests. The group presented a Real History, Real Heroes plaque to Buster Aycock for his dedicated support of school projects.

Before the presentation, Merrell informed Lions Club members of some of the activities happening at the middle school campus, as well as plans for the future. He spoke of competing in UIL contest, Service Learning projects performed by students, and the Run for the Wall program held each spring to honor veterans. Students have recently competed in One Act Play contest, and a few of the cast members were recognized for their outstanding performances.

He said that the faculty is currently searching for an artifact to represent the high school football career of Don Maynard. The Bob Bullock Museum of Texas would like to have something from CISD to use for the exhibit honoring the Colorado City native.

Merrell expressed his reverence for the fact that at one time, Colorado High School was home to Don Maynard and Hollis Gainey, who went on to become an all-time leading receiver in the NFL and a triple world record holder in track.

CMS students Calvin Spencer, Reid Harris, Jacob Muñoz, Clancy White, Sara Roach, and Emily Ballard made the presentation to Aycock, recognizing him for organizing military care packages, sending CDs and CD players to soldiers, and developing a scholarship program, among other things.

Aycock was also recognized for his tireless work with his church and community through the Lions Club. "Buster has been our friend, and we would like to say thank you for all you've done for the students of Colorado ISD," Roach said.

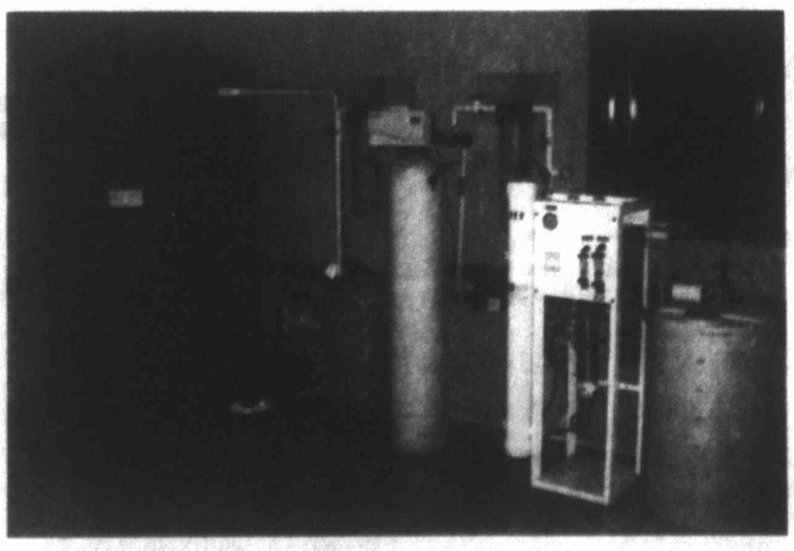

Always humble, Aycock said he didn't feel as though he deserved all the recognition. However, he is a shining example of the Lions Club objective: serving others.

Students sought for GT program at CISD

Colorado ISD offers a special program for students with above average potential in academic and creative-productive thinking skills areas in grades K-12. The gifted education program is designed to challenge students to accelerate above and beyond the regular school curriculum.

Anyone wishing to nominate a student believed to be an intellectually or creatively gifted learner is encouraged to come by the appropriate campus counselor's office and complete the necessary forms. Those students nominated will go through a screening procedure which requires special testing.

At the time of nomination, parents will be requested to grant permission for this testing. Nominations for the G/T Program are open until December 2nd.

Officers elected at meeting of retired school personnel

The Mitchell County Retired School Personnel met November 12th at noon at La Fe's Restaurant for the regular monthly meeting. Janet Mayo, president presided.

Leslie Geiger, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and they were approved as read. There was no treasurer's report given.

The 2014-2016 nominated officers were presented and elected. They are Susan Farr, president; Patty Pharis, 1st vice president; Leslie Geiger, 2nd vice president; Martha Anderson, secretary,; Joan Lemons, treasurer, and outgoing president Janet Mayo, parliamentarian.

Other business continued as members were reminded to please contribute to the Christmas Book Fund so that all the children who receive Christmas gifts from the Kiwaniannes or Blue Santa get a new book from this organization.

Susan Anderson introduced physical therapist Cliff Shiller who encouraged all members to stay active and healthy. One way he suggested to do this was join the Wellness Center at Mitchell County Hospital and use all the equipment available to members. He mentioned such things as the New Step, exercise bicycles, and many other machines.

He told the group that the center is open on Tuesday and Thursday from 1-7 in the afternoon for only a $20 monthly fee. He said they are currently trying to find a way to open the center five days a week so people don't have to wait for machines. Hopefully this might happen by January 1, 2014.

Shiller said there are currently 30 members of the Wellness Center, but to join the center you have to be 18 years or older. Anderson closed the program by giving and demonstrating a set of chair exercises to work all parts of the body.

It was noted that November honors those who worked at school as support staff, this included such people as teacher's aides, secretaries, cafeteria workers as well as those who are domestic workers. These people are very valuable to keep a school running smoothly.

Loraine shuts out Steers, 52-0

Loraine used a grind-it-out running game to overtake the Robert Lee Steers in a bi-district clash last Thursday night in Blackwell.

Getting the lead midway through the first quarter on a 12-yard fumble recovery returned for a touchdown by Este Benivamondez, the Bulldogs coasted to a 52-0 blowout of the Steers. Within a 4 minute span in the first quarter, Loraine scored 3 touchdowns and led 20-0 after the first quarter. "The game went as well as could be expected," head coach Kyle Hauk said. "If we continue to play that good, it's no telling what we can achieve this year."

The game ended at the half with Loraine rushing for 164 yards on 18 carries. "We thought we could rush the ball offensively. They couldn't stop the rush so there was no need to change," Hauk said.

It was the second week in a row the defense pitched a shutout. "I'm real pleased with how our defense is playing," Hauk commented.

Following Benivamondez's touchdown with 8:35 to go in the first quarter, Timothy Garza put six on the board with an 11-yard run which was followed by a Ricky Cantu's 13-yard run for a touchdown. Oscar Gonzales was good on one kick for a successful PAT, and the Bulldogs had a 20-0 first quarter lead.

Cantu added two second quarter touchdowns and Patrick Tillis ran for another and passed for one. Cantu scored on a 70-yard fumble recovery and followed that with a 4-yard touchdown run. Tillis hit Garza with a 9-yard pass and scored the game's final touchdown on a 56-yard run with 9 seconds to go in the half. Rafael Pantoja added the four PATs in the second quarter with successful kicks, making it a 52-0 lead.

Defensively, the Bulldogs were led by Cantu where he recorded 12 tackles. Three tackles were for a loss of 27 yards, and he also had 1 hurry, 1 pass broken up, 3 fumble causes and 1 fumble recovery for a touchdown. Benivamondez and Dakota Delgado each recorded 7 tackles while Tristan Mosher had 4 and Pantoja had 2. Tillis rushed for 100 yards on 7 carries to lead the Bulldog rushing attack.

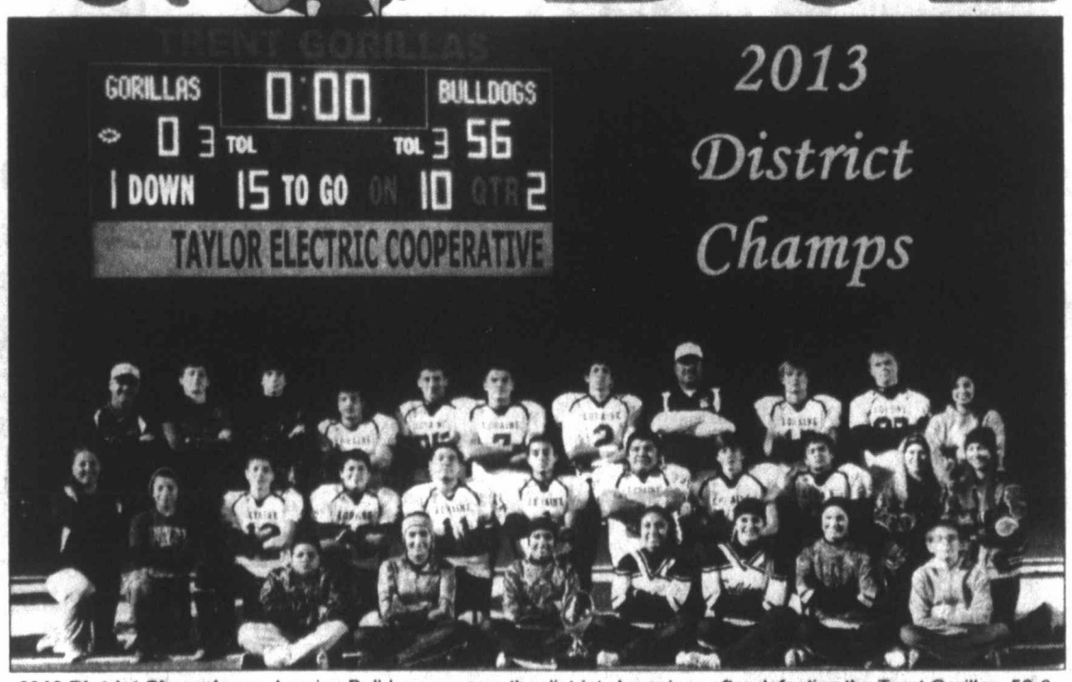

The victory claims a bi-district championship for the second year in a row.
