B-C MUSIC SHOP ADDS 2 NEW DEPARTMENTS TO GROWING BUSINESS

It is a source of satisfaction when a home boy enters a business in his hometown and makes good. Howard Blackburn is making a phenomenal success with the B-C Music Shop. For several months he confined his business to radios, phonographs, records and musical instruments, but about two months ago he added electrical wiring, plumbing and everything pertaining to these lines of work. Mr. Blackburn can supply you with anything from a small electric switch to a complete Westinghouse home lighting plant on a total line, and anything from a small connection to a complete plumbing job in the plumbing line.

Messrs. Don Ollinger and Chas. Williams have been employed by Mr. Blackburn to take care of his growing business. These men make a specialty of electrical work. The B-C Music Shop is prepared to handle large or small jobs in the lines mentioned above.

Mr. Blackburn has installed Westinghouse light plants in the homes of Messrs. Don Ollinger and Earl Hoffman recently. These plants will give a total of 100 electrical connections in the city. They will light the home, pump the water, stop the floor, run the chure, and the iron, in fact it puts the country home in the class with the city home.

Mr. Blackburn has installed a new electrical refrigerator in the home of Mr. Ollinger. This is one of the best and best electrical refrigerators on the market. Mr. Blackburn is anxious to serve the people and he desires to thank the people for the business and co-operation shown him since opening here several months ago. Mr. Cecil Craven, who meets the musician with his pleasant smile, has been associated with Mr. Blackburn nearly all the time since the business was opened.

ORPHAN HOME SHOWER

The Annual Egg Shower for the Orphan Home will begin Tuesday, April 4. Everyone who will contribute eggs to this worthy home will please leave them with Mrs. J. A. Harman, who will see that the eggs get to the home as soon as crates are filled. This shower is open to everyone regardless of religious affiliations.

More than seven hundred children in this home are fed by voluntary contributions from the people of all faiths. The home has no endowment and depends upon the liberality of those who love orphan children. If you cannot give eggs, money will be acceptable and will buy eggs. Help feed the orphan children by giving eggs or money now.

JIM RIDDLE DIES

The friends of Jim Riddle will be grieved to learn of his death at Big Spring on March 14th. He was a citizen of Kimble County from 1917 to 1928 and during that time formed many strong ties of friendship here. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Riddle, formerly of Junction.

He was born June 5, 1902, and died March 14, 1929, being 26 years, 9 months and 6 days old at the time of his death. He was converted and united with the Baptist Church in 1923.

On May 10, 1928, he was united in marriage to Miss Maude Durbin, who survives. In addition to his wife he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Riddle, two sisters, Latha and Minnie, one brother, Leo, all of Big Spring, and a sister, Mrs. Ruth Wood, of Junction.

Little Theater Will Give Fairy Play Soon

The Junction Little Theater is arranging for an elaborate production of Jessie Brahm White's charming fairy play, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," to be given at an early date. This is the version of the famous fairy story that was used two years ago by Winthrop Ames in his beautiful New York Little Theater production, featuring Marguerite Clark. One of the metropolitan critics wrote of the play: "Snow White" is excellent as literature and the very best sort of entertainment for grownups and children.

The Junction cast will include forty people, children and adults, and will be presented in six weeks. Careful attention is being given the costuming and setting as well as the acting and it is hoped by the producers and the actors that the results will be a production of sterling worth and excellent entertainment.

The incidental music is one of the pleasing features of the play and several group dances will be given. The Junction Little Theater has pledged itself to a large undertaking in attempting the production of "Snow White." The play carries a heavy weight and the staging and costuming approximate the elaborate. The participants, all members of Mrs. Conde Hardeman's class in Expression, with Mrs. Harjeman directing, are putting very possible effort into the undertaking, resolved that the Junction Little Theater shall be able to give something really worth while in dramatic entertainment.

Attend Handy-Andy's Big Party Saturday

April 7 marks the first anniversary of the Handy-Andy store in Junction, and to celebrate this important event the management is planning a big day Saturday. Mr. R. C. Sechrist states that in the afternoon cakes and coffee will be served free. He states further that there will be flowers for the ladies, cigars for the men and candy for the children.

When the Handy-Andy store was opened in Junction one year ago there were only 18 stores in the system and today there are 65. The Handy-Andy stores with headquarters in San Antonio are reaching out to all parts of Texas.

The local management is well pleased with the patronage received during the first year in Junction, and is planning to make Saturday a red letter day. Bargains galore will be offered during the day. Mr. Sechrist says that Handy-Andy will have so many bargains Saturday that he will not attempt to give them in his ad this week, but invites all his customers to join the crowd at Handy-Andy's Saturday.

JUNCTION TAILOR SHOP ADDS NEW EQUIPMENT

Mr. Cleve Stephen, proprietor of the Junction Tailor Shop, in order to keep abreast of the times in the cleaning and pressing business, is always looking out for the latest and best machinery. He made a trip to San Antonio recently and bought a new Hoffman which has been installed.

His shop is now equipped with the newest machinery to be found, and his long experience in this line of work together with his equipment makes it easy for him to please the most particular customers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Holekamp returned Monday from a week's trip to Chicago, where they attended the Conference of American Bankers and visited relatives and friends. They enjoyed the trip but were glad to get back to Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Browning visited their daughter, Mrs. Alva Fisher, last week.

COUNTY MEET SELECTS DISTRICT DELEGATION

Interscholastic League Meeting In Junction Friday and Saturday Attended By Kimble School People

While the number of schools entering the county contests in the Interscholastic League meet which met in Junction last Friday and Saturday was not as large as it ought to have been, Mr. A. J. Bierschwald, director general, states that a fine spirit prevailed and the meet was a decided success. Representatives to the district meet were selected and they are now preparing for the contests which will be held some time in April.

Junction is the only class B school in the county, but the contests to select representatives to represent the county in the district meet were interesting. There were several entries in each of the literary events and the competition was strong.

The Eagle will attempt to give the results of the various contests, but more than likely errors will creep in. The editor has not been in the county many months and it is difficult to get all the results accurately. He is indebted to Mr. Bierschwald, Mrs. Gaby Kindrick and Mr. Earl Bowdy for information about the contests. There were many judges in the various contests and if errors are made in giving results, the Eagle will be glad to make corrections if brought to the attention of the management.

Junction made a total of 227 points in the various contests, both literary and athletic, which is the largest made by any school in the county. Teacup led in the rural schools, making 180 points. Murr came second with 104 points. Ivy made a total of 36 points and Roosevelt made 2 points.

In the girls' athletic contests the Junction girls had no opposition and won by default.

The all-around high point contestant of the rural schools was Frank Wooten of the Teacup school who made 31 1/2 points. Russell Lavelle was high point man for the Junction school, making a total of 36 1/2 points.

The district meet will be held in Kerrville April 19 and 20 and Kimble County will be well represented. A large delegation of people from Kimble County should accompany the representatives to this district meet. The winners in the Kerrville meet will represent this district in the state meet in Austin in May. The Interscholastic League is one of the greatest departments of the public school system of Texas. The good influence of the work reaches to the remotest sections of every county. Every school in each county should have local contests in order for the greatest number of boys and girls to be reached.

It is hoped that next year more Kimble County schools will have representatives in the various contests.

Big Golf Tournament Sunday and Tuesday

The golf tournament that was scheduled to be played several weeks ago will take place on Sunday and the following Tuesday of next week. The reason for the two days is that there are some who object to the playing of Sunday golf, and they will be given a chance to play in the tournament on the following Tuesday.

The game is to be played in foursomes with a referee to each foursome. The man that makes the low score in this set will be privileged to play in another foursome of men that have each made low score in a set. This will continue until the match has been run down to one man. Then on the following Tuesday the same process will be gone through with until one man is left. These two men will then play off the final game at their earliest convenience. Each of the flights is to be eighteen holes. The tournament was postponed for several weeks and the men should all be in good condition. There will more than likely be some good matches played during the tournament.

The prizes are on display at Hankins' drug store and anyone wishing to see them may do so by calling there. These are valuable prizes and are well worth coming out and playing for. It is the wish of the managers of the tournament to have every person in Kimble County who wishes to play to enroll in the tournament. Those wishing to sign up may do so at Hankins' drug.

There is to be a woman's tournament in the near future and the ladies are requested to bring out the old clubs and get into form.

Junction Post Office Is Growing Rapidly

One of the fastest growing institutions in Junction is the local post office. From Postmaster Earl Tracy we learn that the postal receipts for the six months ending March 31, 1929, is around twenty-five per cent greater than for the six months ending March 31, 1928. For the six-months period ending March 31, 1928, the receipts were $3,732.12, while for the receipts for the six months ending March 31, 1929, totaled $4,664.58. This does not include the money order receipts which were in proportion to the postal receipts. The number of boxes in use March 31, 1928, were 266, while there are 373 now in use.

The post office and the schools are two good thermometers of the growth of a town. Both these institutions in Junction are making rapid strides. Postmaster Tracy and his efficient assistants are rendering good service. They desire to thank the people for the patience each afternoon when the greater part of the mail for the day arrives. They cannot control the time of the arrival of mails and put forth every effort to give good service at all times and especially during the afternoon rush.

MERRY MADCAPS COMING

The Merry Madcaps will be in Junction all next week, beginning Monday, April 8, with a stock company of thirty people. Mr. E. Stewart, a member of the company, was in Junction this week making arrangements with the American Legion for the show.

The Merry Madcaps have played in Texas fourteen years and have made many return engagements. The company has visited several of our neighboring towns, but this is the first time that the Madcaps have placed Junction on their schedule.

Mr. Stewart says that a 14-piece band and 10-piece orchestra accompanies the show. New vaudeville acts and other entertainment features characterize their stay here next week.

P. T. A. OFFERS PRIZE FOR BEAUTIFUL YARDS IN CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN

The committee of the Parent-Teachers' Association, looking toward beautifying Junction, is busily engaged on plans for a more beautiful city. The members of the committee are well pleased with the co-operation shown by the people in cleaning up the city.

To stimulate interest in beautifying the homes and business section the association is offering several prizes for beautiful yards and improvements about the homes, business houses and public buildings. The Chamber of Commerce and City Council are co-operating with the Parent-Teachers' Association in this worthy movement.

The following prizes have been offered.

For the most beautiful yard, first, $10; second, $5; third, $2.50.

For the yard showing the most improvement this year, first, $10; second, $5.

For the most beautiful public building yard (this includes hotels, churches, schools, utilities, bank, court-yard, etc.), $5.

For the premises showing the greatest permanent improvement (this includes the building and painting of garages, out-houses, fences, etc., also the laying of sidewalks, or repairing of houses and general outside appearance), $5.

The committee states that in the yard beautiful contest no yard or public building will be considered unless the sidewalk is well kept.

With the new water system there will be an abundance of water. There is a minimum charge of $2.00 for the first 2,000 gallons of water used. Each thousand gallons will cost only 25 cents after the first 2,000 gallons. Any one using 4,000 gallons of water will pay only $2.50. The water is very cheap after the first 2,000 gallons.

This low rate is made to encourage people to beautify their places. The mayor states that there is an abundance of water and is very anxious to encourage the people to beautify the premises.

The Parent-Teachers' Association is anxious that everyone get all rubbish off their yards and vacant lots before the weeds get much growth. It is much easier to keep lots free of weeds if the rubbish is removed.

Much good work has been accomplished during the last few weeks. The mayor has a card of thanks to the Parent-Teachers' Association in this issue for their untiring efforts to clean up the city.

Everyone is urged to continue the good work until the entire town is free of all rubbish.

Work Will Begin Soon New Church Building

Elder J. S. Newman states that the contract has been let for the construction of the new building for the Church of Christ. Contractor L. H. Hill of Rocksprings is in charge of the work. The building will be constructed of concrete, tile and stone. The basement will have six class rooms for the Bible school and ground floor will have the auditorium, two class rooms and pastor's study.

The residence will be moved from the corner of the lot just west of the present building to make room for the new structure. The building committee has been at work some time on plans and with the letting of the contract it is expected that work will begin soon.

PRESBYTERIAN SERVICES

Ways of Extinguishing Fires

(The following article was written by Carleton Wright, a student of the Junction High School, as a part of his regular work in the English department.—Editor.)

The first fire extinguisher was a pail of water, and for most fires, if taken at the beginning, there is nothing better today. It is the custom in many buildings to have pails of water placed at advantageous points and marked "For Fire Only."

Among the many modern devices for extinguishing fires the automatic sprinkler is one of the most effective. It is now used in all mills and practically all large department stores and manufacturing establishments. The sprinkler itself is really a water faucet kept shut by a lever held by a fusible metal melting at about 155 degrees Fahrenheit. When it melts the lever drops and the water is automatically turned on. The outlet is so arranged that when the sprinkler is set in a ceiling it will cover a floor space about ten feet in diameter. These are placed at eight-foot intervals over the ceiling of the room so all the room may be covered with water when the sprinkler is set off. In the latest systems not only does the sprinkler pour water on the fire, but an alarm is instantly sent to the central station showing the exact location of the fire.

One object of pouring water on fire is to smother the flames or to prevent oxygen from being supplied. The same object may be accomplished with less damage to surrounding objects, if the fire is small, by covering the flames with carbonic acid gas. This, for larger fires, is supplied by the chemical fire engine. The chemical hand fire extinguisher furnishes the same gas on a smaller scale. This consists of a copper tank containing a solution of bicarbonate of soda and water up to the "filling line." In the bottle holder is a glass bottle half full of sulphuric acid. This bottle has a lead stopper fitting closely in the top. The bottle holder is fastened to the cap, which screwed on makes a water tight joint. In its upright position no action takes place, as the soda solution and acid are each in their own receptacles. When the tank is inverted, however, the stopper opens the bottle very slightly, allowing the acid and the soda slowly to mix. This combination forms carbonic acid gas, which passes off through the hose with sufficient pressure to be discharged with great force.

Another appliance for fire fighting found in all large manufacturing establishments is the fire standpipe with its connections. This usually consists of a large tank, generally situated of the roof of the building and holding a number of thousand gallons of water. From this tank a pipe descends through the building, with one or more hose connections on each floor. The tank must be kept full of water, and in case of fire must be supplied by a pump instantly available for that purpose.

In the modern fire department we find the hook and ladder truck with its extension ladders, which is a very long ladder when put together, axes, fire hooks, etc.; the aerial ladder that may be mechanically raised from the truck; the water tower, from which a pipe may be elevated one hundred or more feet in the air and a stream of water discharged from it at any angle, this being controlled from below; the chemical truck for extinguishing small fires; and the wagon for carrying the hose, coal for the engine, etc.

In the latest types of engine the plunging horses have been replaced by steam for the motive power. The advent of gasoline portable engine has caused the construction of so-called "automobile fire engine" in which, besides supplying the motive power, the international combustion engine also drives the pumps.

For small towns not able to afford a complete set of apparatus the "combination" driven by an automobile engine proves a welcome addition.

The problem of extinguishing fires particularly in large cities has of necessity become a science, and the modern fireman is a trained part of a carefully worked out system.

POISONS PECAN PESTS

One of the dreads of the pecan men of this section has always been the pests which deplete on the pecan foliage as well as the fruit from year to year. The experts have found no satisfactory way of combating many of these pests. B. R. Russell of San Saba has given the matter a great deal of study and has tried out many of the plans suggested.

Mr. Russell has found one simple method of attack which he has found to be very helpful. This is to place a number of cans swinging to the limbs of the tree. Fill these cans with sweetened water with a small amount of arsenic in it. The millers and bugs will seek the sweetened water and he has caught thousands of millers in this way. It is not a perfect protection, but he says that every miller caught is that much protection.—San Saba News.

THE BEST METHOD

President Hoover, in accordance with the provisions of the National Origins Clause of the Immigration Act of 1924, recently proclaimed that the quota system based on the apportionment provided for in this clause should become effective July 1, 1929. Among the countries most affected by the new quota system are Germany, which will have its quota of immigrants to this country reduced from 51,227 to 25,957; the Irish Free State will be allowed 17,853 instead of 28,567; Norway is reduced from 6,453 to 2,377, and Sweden from 9,561 to 3,314. Other countries suffering losses include France, Czechoslovakia, Portugal and Roumania.

On the other hand, Great Britain and Northern Ireland's quota is increased from 34,007 to 65,721. Italy is allowed 5,802, a gain of not quite 2,000. Other countries gaining include Belgium, the Netherlands, Poland, Russia, Hungary, Greece, Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Turkey, Spain and Jugoslavia. The total number of immigrants will be reduced about 11,000. The main distinction between the present quotas and those to become effective July 1, is that while the former represent 2 per cent of the number of foreign born persons in the United States under the census of 1890, the latter take into account native and foreign born and are based on the whole population as given in the latest available census, that of 1920.

Good lambs can not be raised from ewes that are not milking freely and it is economy to feed ewes heavily after lambing. They should be fed lightly the first day or so and put on full feed by the third or fourth day. Heavy-milking ewes can make good use of from 1 to 2 pounds of grain a day.

TRADES DEAD NEGRO FOR 5 GALLONS GAS

Left as a pledge with C. O. Patterson, filling station man at Odds, east of Marlin, Texas, a box found to contain the corpse of a negro man was placed in exchange for gasoline and oil.

The driver of an automobile in need of fuel, stopped at the filling station and proposed to leave the box and contents as security for five gallons of gasoline and a gallon of oil, stating that he had no money at the time. The proprietor of the filling station consented to accommodate him and the box was placed on the walk of a store next to the filling station. The driver of the car then departed, with the promise to return that afternoon.

Bystanders who witnessed the transaction, curious to know what the box contained, secured the consent of the stakeholder to open it, the startling discovery resulting.

A few hours later the owner of the box returned and reclaimed the corpse and box, explaining that he was an undertaker and that he was enroute to Mexia to attend a meeting of his profession and would use the corpse for a demonstration.

SPECIAL ELECTION NOTICE

Pursuant to an order issued by J. B. Randolph, County Judge, notice is hereby given that a Special Election will be held on the 19th day of April, A. D. 1929, at Court House in Junction Common School District No. One in Kimble County, Texas, for the following purposes, viz.: For the purpose of submitting to a vote of the qualified voters therein the question of whether the said Junction Common School District No. One, of said County, shall be incorporated for free school purposes as an Independent School District; and for the Election of seven school trustees.

51-3c J. B. Randolph, Co. Judge Kimble County, Texas.

AMONG OUR SUBSCRIBERS

The management of the Junction Eagle appreciates the liberal response on the part of the subscribers to the statements mailed out recently. In addition to the renewals several new subscriptions have been received. However, there are several whose subscriptions are long past due and unless their renewals are received soon, it will be necessary for their names to be taken from the list.

Your paper or the wrapper in which it is enclosed shows the date of your subscription. If it reads 4-29 your subscription expires this month. All papers with '28 on them are past due and the postal regulations require that they be discontinued. While some are past due the large majority of our readers pay promptly all of which we appreciate.

Among those who have renewed recently are the following:

Mrs. S. L. Upshaw, Mrs. Frank Baker, F. M. Bierschwale, W. R. Eckert, J. T. Jackson, Walter Cavaness, W. H. Cavaness, J. W. Graham, John Taylor, W. A. Quisenberry, Perry Taylor, F. E. Knetsch, R. N. Cowser, George Rose, J. R. Hamilton, Lucy Knox, Buzz Motley, J. A. Wallace, Ellis M. Brown, C. B. Bierschwale, George Cavaness, L. E. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Minnie Walton, G. W. Miller, M. C. Hull, Joe Watson.

President Hoover took action Saturday to avert the threatened strike by employees of the Texas and Pacific Railway by issuing a proclamation creating an emergency board of inquiry to investigate the dispute and report on its finding. This report will be made to the President. Under the rail labor act, both the railway management and the workers are restrained from taking any further action until the expiration of the 30-day period.

Isn't it pleasant to hear of something nice that somebody has said about you behind your back?

MAYOR HOLEKAMP THANKS P. T. A.

I take pleasure in announcing that the Clean-Up Campaign for the last few weeks has been a fairly good success. Many places were cleaned up which never heretofore had notice of a clean-up demand, and I want to thank the ladies' Clean-Up Committee for this result. The city can make any owner of property within the city put their premises in sanitary condition, by placing on record ordinances to that effect, but up to this date the city has not done so, however, it will not be long when this will be done.

The city spent in this last Clean-Up, counting the work done on the Dump Ground, $152.50, but I believe this money was spent to good advantage, as the result can be seen everywhere.

I would like to call on the good ladies again, especially those on the Committee who did such good work, to please not quit. Let the good work go on; get together and form some plan for a campaign and contest, offering prizes for the most beautiful front yard. This will still encourage for more cleaner premises, and the visitors of our little city will no doubt take notice and see how premises are kept up in our city.

Thanking the good ladies again for their good co-operation, I am

Respectfully yours,
E. Holekamp,
Mayor.

The poultry flock needs a yard of its own and should not be allowed to roam over the premises with cattle and hogs. Fresh, sweet land is invaluable for poultry, and the yard should be large enough so that the soil can be cultivated and sown to a green crop. A good grass sward can be maintained on fertile soil by having from 220 to 260 square feet of land per bird. More space is necessary on poor grassland.

Valdes says that when a man ceases to be a god to his wife, he may be sure that he has become less than a man.

The least thing you can do for anyone is to give him your respect. Don't talk down to anyone, if you wish to retain their friendship.

The people of the Noxville community and the people of Junction will soon be brought closer together as a result of the new road which will soon be built.

An election of the greatest importance was held in Junction March 19, and the election carried by five votes. This election for the issuance of bonds for the installation of a sewer system was carried by the barest of a majority; but it was carried. It is probable that some do not realize the importance of this step. Everything points towards a healthier, cleaner and safer city.

Census enumeration should be one of the easiest tasks in the world instead of one of the most difficult. If someone should offer a person fifteen dollars in cash for merely a moment of time, who would turn it down?
Many would walk a mile or so for the privilege. But this is actually what the State offers for each child enrolled. And still some parents just can't quite gather up enough interest to see to it that their children have been enrolled.

Once a great Spanish philosopher made the following tribute to his religion:

"There is a little church on the outskirts of Madrid whither I am wont to guide my steps as the sun is setting. It is small, secluded, lonely. At the back, a star of candles illuminates the Sacred Host. Kneeling, I worship it in silence. Near me, in the half-light, I can distinguish other kneeling figures; a lady richly attired, a workman,
a young gentleman, an old man, a poor woman of the people with her basket before her.
They are always the same. The clock strikes the hour. From the choir are heard the soft notes of a small organ, and a voice, sweet and clear, intones a prayer to the Lord. The old priest, besides the altar, responds faintly. A choir begins the hymn of the Sacrament.
The priest exhibits it with trembling hands. The bell rings.
All is silent again. We rise;
we leave the church when night has fallen, and go our several ways. The great metropolis swallows us up. We do not know each other; we hardly see each other. Nevertheless, O unknown beings, at the hour of my death I would wish to have you at my bedside."
The companionship of the soul is the noblest companionship in the world, and this noted philosopher saw this and recognized it.

ANOTHER BEACON
Another beacon of light helps to illuminate Junction now. It is not a dazzling light, nothing ostentatious or affected; but a dependable and safe light. Last March 17th this new beacon was fit amid formal ceremonies and individual rejoicing. The New Baptist Church building was thrown open to all who wished to enter it to worship.

To a few, the church stands as the fruition of dreams more than forty years in the embro. Today it stands as a silent monument to those who have worked and given in order that it might become a reality.
The building is not merely a denominational victory, but it is a community victory and a civic prize. It is worthy of Junction.

In the wake of this achievement, other churches are not standing still and merely looking on. They are doing also.
At this moment in San Antonio an architect is working on the plans for a thirty thousand dollar church building for the Methodist congregation. The Church of Christ members are working out details for the erection of a beautiful place of worship.

It may have been a poet who said, "Shew me a land where a church spire rises in every valley, and I will show you a people who are honest and Godly." Poet or no, he was a competent judge of men.

ELECTRICITY

Electricity is something that starts the Lord knows where and ends in the same place.
It is one-thirty-sixth of a second faster on its feet than its nearest competitor, backyard gossip, and when turned loose in Europe will get to the United States five hours before it starts.

Nobody knows exactly what it is because it has never stood still long enough.

Electricity is sometimes known as science gone crazy with the heat, and if you can understand its maneuvers, you can do anything with it except open a can of peanut butter at a picnic.

Electricity was locked up in ignorance for centuries until Ben Franklin let it out with a pass key, and since then it has been pulling off more new stunts than a pet monkey.

With it you can start a conversation or stop one permanently, cook dinner, curl your hair, press your trousers, blow up a battle ship, run an automobile or signal Mars, and many more things are being invented.—From Power.

A HE-MAN'S PRAYER

Grant me a man's amount of common sense and the ability to use it. Teach me the value of the Golden Rule. Keep my eyes open for a chance to give the other fellow a life and my ears dead to the tempting ring of evil gains. Make me to realize mine own faults and blind me to the sins and human errors of my fellowmen. Din to the bright lights, keep my menu card of life free from wine and bubbling women.
Guide me to three square meals a day, modesty earned, and help me live so that I may lie down at night with the door unlocked and a conscience that will let me sleep.

Bless me with a sense of humor to see the other fellow's joke and make me a good listener. Give me an understanding heart, free from prejudice, sensitive and sympathetic to the troubles of others. Help me to keep my feet anchored on the narrow path, with my eyes ahead, away from the other fellow's job—and his wife. Give me a healthy body and the grey matter to appreciate it. Help me to live so that in the end when the music plays soft, the flowers many, and the horses tread lightly out in front, I may look back over the past with no regrets of having grafted the innocent, and, lastly, give me the marble carver a short job. Let the inscription read,
"A Man."—Exchange.

FOR ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

Ten Reasons why 300,000 careful buyers have chosen the New Chevrolet Six since January 1st

Ever since the date of its introduction, the new Chevrolet Six has swept triumphantly on to greater and greater heights of popularity. Value for value and price for price—buyers have compared it with other cars in the low-price field. And the result has been an overwhelming public preference—over 300,000 buyers since January 1st. And everywhere the enthusiasm is constantly increasing—for the new Chevrolet Six combines, as does no other car in the world, those ten great fundamental factors which careful buyers are now demanding in the cars they buy.

6-Cylinder Smoothness

Due to the finer inherent balance of its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, the new Chevrolet provides that smooth, quiet, flexible performance which is the distinguishing characteristic of the truly fine automobile. At every speed, the power is delivered easily, freely and without annoying vibration. You can ride and drive for hours without annoying rumble or noise fatigue—every mile a delight for both driver and passengers.

6-Cylinder Getaway

And in sheer brilliance of performance, as well as in smoothness and quietness of operation, the new Chevrolet Six is a revelation. An automatic acceleration pump results in remarkably fast acceleration whenever the accelerator is suddenly depressed. And a new high-compression, non-detonating cylinder head eliminates every trace of "lugging"—even when you have occasion to accelerate swiftly in high gear.

6-Cylinder Speed

Naturally, Chevrolet's powerful six-cylinder valve-in-head motor might be expected to provide speed in abundance. But even more important than the speed of the new Chevrolet Six is the smooth, quiet, restful comfort you experience at every point on the speedometer. You can open the throttle wide with a feeling of complete security—and you come to the end of a full day's drive entirely free from the weariness caused by engine noise and body rumble.

6-Cylinder Power

The great reserve power of the new Chevrolet Six is a constant delight. The steepest hills are taken with ease. Heavy roads are negotiated without the necessity for frequent gear-shifting. And even at the higher speeds, there is always that feeling of confidence which comes from the knowledge that additional power is at hand . . . instantly available for whatever need may arise.

Modern Safety Features

The new Chevrolet Six is equipped with every modern safety and convenience feature—typified by a full ball bearing steering mechanism, non-locking 4-wheel brakes with separate emergency brake, foot controlled adjustable two-beam headlights, automatic fuel pump, theft-proof Electrolock, electric motor temperature indicator, and Fisher VV windshield and adjustable driver's seat in all closed models. As a result, it is one of the easiest and safest cars in the world to handle.

Better Than 20 Miles Per Gallon

The marvelous performance of the Chevrolet Six would be considered exceptional in any automobile. But in the new Chevrolet it is nothing short of sensational—for here it is combined with operating economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline. As a result, those who can afford to own any automobile can afford to own and operate a Chevrolet Six!

Exceptional Riding Comfort

Another vital factor that has influenced hundreds of thousands in their selection of the new Chevrolet Six is its exceptional riding comfort. Built on a wheelbase of 107 inches . . . offering the deep-cushioned luxury of bodies by Fisher . . . and with the entire upper structure cradled on four long semi-elliptic shock absorber springs—it travels the roughest highways with amazing comfort. And its balance on turns and curves is equally exceptional—for the rigid frame and the long springs reduce sidesway to the minimum.

Beautiful Fisher Bodies

The marvelous bodies on the Chevrolet Six reveal, as never before, the matchless artistry that has made the Fisher name renowned throughout the world for excellence in coachcraft. Longer, lower and roomier . . . finished in attractive, long-lasting colors . . . and upholstered in rich deep-tufted fabrics that give to the interiors an air of custom elegance—they introduce into the low-price field an entirely new measure of style and distinction.

Proved Dependability

Before the new Chevrolet Six was presented to the public, it had been tested for more than a million miles on the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground. Never did a new motor car go into the hands of its owners more thoroughly proved in every detail. And now, reports of its performance on the highways of the nation pay glowing tribute to its endurance and dependability.

Amazingly Low Prices

Many people do not realize that this marvelous new six-cylinder Chevrolet is actually offered in the price range of the four. Compare total delivered prices as well as factory prices when determining automobile values. You will find Chevrolet delivered prices include the lowest handling and financing charges available.

CAL DECIDES TO BUY SECOND-HAND AUTO

Northampton, Mass.—Calvin Coolidge has decided to purchase an automobile, the limousine he used during the last year of his Presidency. This was learned when the former President met newspaper men in his law office here.

FREEMASONRY!

Freemasonry is like a gallant ship that has braved a thousand gales. She has weathered the wild waves and the whelming waters of many a stormy voyage. Launched in a remote and unrecorred antiquity, she has kept her course; she has delivered her cargoes of Benevolence and Brotherhood in every port in every land. She has sailed on and on through the ages because she has been manned by men of stout hearts and steadfast minds—men who, on all the stormy seas of life, have been true and trusty to the Mystic Tie.

Behold that staunch ship, my Brethren! She is freighted with the lore of ancient days—precious metals mined by hands that long ago were dust. The cherished trophies of all the ages have gone into her lading. On her bows I see the symbol of Deity, suspended above an holy altar; and upon that altar, open for all the craft to read, is the Book of Life. The deathless splendor of the Great Light illuminates her chart and compass. And at her masthead floats a lovely banner—the ensign of Free Government.

"Aye, tear not that floating Ensign down. Long has it waved on high; And many an eye has danced to see That banner in the sky."

Your post of duty, my Brother, is somewhere on board that old ship. Every true Mason is a member of that crew. When storms arise, and mounting billows threaten to drive that ship from her course; when the fires of internal Discord break out within her bunkers, or the seeping waters of Fraternal Dissension flood her bilge—then stand at your post, you stokers in the hold! Keep the fires of Brotherhood burning, though black bilge waters be rising at your feet. Stand at your post, you men at the wheel! Keep the needle of Masonic Progress pointing true, though creeping flames be eating away the deck beneath your feet. And oh, you Captain on the bridge! Though storm and darkness, and tumult and shouting be all around you, stand thou steadfast at the post of Masonic Duty—stand thou, and all thy crew, united, unyielding and undishonored! For if that old ship goes down, my brethren it will requiem of Brotherhood, the cherished hope of all these sobbing ages. A Light that has guided the feet of groping humanity will be extinguished, and the bright beacon of Progress will sink hissing into a starless sea.

OLD CONFEDERATE FLAG IS GIVEN TO MUSEUM

Richmond, Va.—The famous Confederate battle flag of the First Virginia Regiment, made by the women of Richmond from their silk dresses, and which led the noted command from Bull Run to Gettysburg, came to the Confederate Museum to rest with other Southern trophies. The museum is in the old White House of the Confederacy.

The bloodstained and battle-torn banner saw its last service in Pickett's charge at Gettysburg, when the Southern troops swept up the slopes of Cemetery Hill to virtual annihilation. Preserved by the late Col. Charles T. Loehr, historian and custodian of the First Virginia, the flag was presented to the museum by his children, William A. Loehr, Charles, E. Loehr, Mrs. Oscar L. Kent and Mrs. Bernard L. Dickinson.

Col. Loehr, as historian, described the fate of the flag on the day of Pickett's charge in these words: "The color guard is dead and the color sergeant has lost his arm; our colonel lies dying on the field—the regiment lost 120 men out of about 160 who went into that charge."

FUTURE LEADERSHIP

Thirty years from now our present-day leaders will be retiring. Their places will be taken by men who now are in their twenties. But those places of leadership will go, as they have gone in the past, to men who are worthy, to men who, in early life, have established their objectives, and then managed their affairs and ordered their lives and formed their habits so as to qualify themselves for leadership.—Arthur H. Time—Noon.
Characters—Horse and Cow.
Horse: Good morning, Miss Jersey. How are you this fine day?
Cow: Don't bother me; I am as cross as I can be, for I am hungry.

Horse: I have had nothing to eat myself, but I am not as grouchy as you.
Cow: Well, be on your way and don't bother me.
Horse: It isn't very nice of you to order me like that, and what's more, I won't be ordered about by an old cow.

Cow: I am not an old cow. I am a young Jersey, and if you stand there and insult me again I shall take a poke at you with my sharp horns.

Horse: And I'll kick you with all my might. Listen, what was that?
Cow: That is my calf over there and you will oblige me by keeping away.
Horse: Haw! Haw! That would make any horse laugh.

Cow: Now, I am so angry, I am going to make fun of my calf. (She rakes at him with her sharp horns).

Horse: Well, your calf is real pretty, I must admit.
Cow: Now you are talking "horse sense." Come and visit us often.

Horse: Let us visit the big hay stack, and have our breakfast.

(Then they walk away together).

Visitors have passed through the plants of the Ford Motor Company at Detroit in such large numbers during the last year that on some months more than 50,000 persons witnessed production of the Model A Ford.

Plan Now For Polo During the Summer

Roosevelt hunted all over the world, William Jennings Bryan shot quail all afternoon of the day that I heard him deliver a famous lecture at Southwestern University. Hoover's secretary has bought a place for the President to fish. The railroad company had only one rule for the new lawyer just employed at $50,000 a year. "We don't want the results of your brain any afternoon after four o'clock." If the big fellows all need so much recreation, perhaps, we smaller fry would have amounted to more had we played harder. Of course, it always depends on what we play. Clean outdoor sports have the unqualified approval of a big majority of thinking people.

To come to the point—if you polo players do not play polo this summer, or some other outdoor game, the chances are that you will kick over the traces before the summer is over and do something worse. If you are sure that you can get an all absorbing crush on work and the increase of your bank deposit, I say go to it. But if you are not sure, my advice is that you meet the bunch in Junction at Weaver Baker's office at 2 p. m. Friday, April 12, and all get together to plan a summer full of fun and sport. April 12, 2 p. m., Weaver Baker's office, Junction.

Two big days of polo at Sonora the last week of June at Sonora's Annual Summer Rodeo. San Angelo and Menard thought they would come. Two other teams are wanted. All the players near Junction should form one big club, each man send in his membership fee of $5.00 to the West-Texas Polo Association before April 15. Then by popular democratic vote a team could be elected to go to Sonora to represent Junction. Anyway, Junction could have two or three teams and have lots of fun at home. More boys than any of us know about have been loading a good mount of ponies and are hoping for a chance to ride them.

Menard is dreaming of a championship. Murr will be a better team than ever. Crooked Hollow will have its same team and ponies. San Angelo will not be as strong as at Menard Christmas, but may be strong enough. Watson Divide has always played polo hard to beat, and Edwards Plateau hopes to have its usual summer of fun, not forgetting its famous watermelons and hoped for peaches.

Junction could easily find a worse bunch of fellows to run with than this array of polo playing enthusiastic western cowboys and will probably start her summer activities with a whoop on April 12.

Mr. Avery Stewart, accompanied by Mrs. Alfred Wood, went to San Antonio, Mrs. Stewart, who was in San Antonio, returned with Mr. Stewart, but Mrs. Wood remained for a visit in the Alamo City.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown and son, Norman, Jr., and daughter, Hazel, of Matlis, Texas, visited Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Luehrs the past week-end. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Luehrs are sisters.

Mr. C. W. McCarroll went to San Angelo Sunday after Mrs. McCarroll and their little son, Arthur Lee, who has been ill in a San Angelo hospital. They are now at home and the boy is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Weldon Williams is again at the head of the Graves Cafe. He has been on a ranch for several weeks, but returns to the cafe as manager, succeeding Mr. Barney Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Denman and son, Jack, motored to San Antonio Saturday where they met Mrs. Denman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Van Cleaf, of Bergenfield, New Jersey, who will visit here for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Borden and children returned Tuesday from Fort Worth, Dallas and other places in that section of Texas. Mr. Borden attended the Southwestern Ice Manufacturers Association in Fort Worth last week.

Home Demonstration Work Brings Lasting Results

College Station.—Home demonstration work conducted by the A. & M. College Extension Service was worth $5,284,812 to farm families last year as announced by Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent. A total of 15,433 girls were members of home demonstration clubs and 19,063 women, making a grand total of almost 35,000 persons with whom the 99 county home demonstration agents contacted during the year. "Indirectly a much larger number were influenced, however," Miss Horton declares, "for each of these junior and adult home makers were demonstrators and the improved methods they have put into practice are copied freely by neighbors."

The most valuable portion of the work as far as dollars and cents goes was the food preservation, with canned and preserved stuff put up to the extent of a little over $2,000,000. Next in financial importance was poultry raising with products valued at nearly one and three-quarters million dollars. The value placed on members' gardens was nearly a half million dollars and dairy foods produced under home demonstration methods came to $113,224. "The significance of these productive demonstrations is not only in the fact that the farm income has been increased," Miss Horton states, but possibly more important is the increased measure of health that better food has brought to a large per cent of these families. The use of foods and their selection and preparation to form a balanced and healthful diet is an essential part of home demonstration work, for few people on farms or in towns understand the importance of correct diet and how to balance it.

"Clothing is recognized as an important adjunct of living, but how to dress appropriately yet cheaply is an ever present problem. Home demonstration agents are showing farm women and girls how to meet the situation and their success in the job is inadequately measured by the $929,038 valuation placed on clothing work last year, for the increased pride and joy of living brought by better clothes cannot be estimated in this way. Similarly the $151,351 worth of home improvements cannot fairly represent how much the work of beautifying yards and living rooms, modernizing kitchens, adding running water, installing labor saving devices, and improving bedrooms has meant to thousands of farm women and girls. Yet it should not stop there, for the men and boys in these families are beneficiaries, too."

Texas leads every state in the Union in the number of county home demonstration agents, with 105 employed at present and 8 counties are on the waiting list to get agents as soon as state and federal funds are available for matching the appropriated county funds.

POULTRY COLUMN

(By F. W. Kautzman)

Discard Mongrel Hens
Mongrel or scrub chickens are hopeless as far as profits are concerned. It is a mistake to keep mixed chickens and hope to make any money from them; the first step is to get rid of the mongrel hen. All mongrels are poor layers and it stands to reason that they should be; they have never been bred for egg production. Even if one should accidentally be a good layer, she will not reproduce this characteristic. On a very conservative average, standard bred hens lay more than three times as much as mongrels.

It does not pay to breed from mixed chickens. It does not pay to breed from cross-bred chickens.

The standard bred hen, sometimes called the pure bred hen, is the most profitable. She is the only kind it pays to keep.

High-Grade Poultry

The farm is realizing more and more all the time, the importance of keeping only pure-bred chickens, bred for egg production. A more correct term is bred-to-lay standard bred chickens. Only as many as fifteen years ago pure-bred chickens on the farm were the exception. Texas is still far behind the general progress in this respect, but fast coming to the front. It is a mistake to keep mongrel or mixed chickens. It indicates poor farm management to have a flock of mongrel hens on the farm. Scrub chickens are greatly inferior to bred-to-lay, pure, standard bred chickens. It is a mistake to waste good time and feed on mongrel fowls. They are poor producers and consume just as much feed as good pure-bred hens that lay well. "Just chickens" are rapidly being replaced by real hens that keep the scrubbers out of the nest boxes. Bred-to-lay hens, so to speak, cannot keep from doing their duty. Too many mongrel flocks consider themselves a necessary evil on the farm and act accordingly.

One-Man Plants

The one-man poultry plants appear to be the most successful for the average family. Such plants, as a rule, have from 500 to 1,500 head of mature stock. Many buy each year ten to twelve weeks old pullets from farms that specialize in the growing of pullets. Others buy hundreds or thousands of baby chicks from reliable hatcheries, thus eliminating an investment in incubator houses, incubators and the expense of operation. The tendency today is unmistakably towards a greater specialization in this industry which is already so highly specialized. Investigation of many of these one-man plants indicates that the profits vary from $3.00 to $5.00 per hen. In many cases a profit of $7.50 to $10.00 per hen has been recorded but, as we do not wish to mislead anyone, we have given preference to the former and more conservative figures.

Get a small place of your own, if only an acre of ground, stock it with any of the popular and profitable breeds and know what it feels like to be independent. You will live longer and enjoy a happier and more prosperous life.

There are now 18,151,000 telephone stations compared with approximately 9,000,000 in 1922.

WHO CAN BEAT THIS MAN'S S. S. RECORD?

Smithville, Texas.—Fifteen years without missing a Sunday is the record of A. P. Lowery of this city in attending Sunday School here and in the country at Lowery's Chapel, where he organized and was superintendent of a Sunday School for 20 years. His unique record goes back further than that, for in the past 31 years the few times he has missed was due to sickness and for a number of years he attended Sunday School in town in the morning and in the country in the afternoon. Mr. Lowery is a member of the Methodist Church, joining more than 30 years ago.

16-YEAR-OLD BOY GETS TERM IN BANK HOLDUP

Brady, Texas, March 30.—Coy Nigh, 16, was adjudged delinquent in juvenile court here today and sentenced to an indeterminate term in the State Reformatory at Gatesville in connection with the robbery of the Farmers and Merchants Bank March 21. He was the first of five charged with the affair to be tried. The other cases were in district court.

A confession, written after arrest, was admitted in evidence. It said R. C. Turner, who faces robbery charges, contemplated the holdup five days before it was committed. Turner promised to take him to Mess, Ariz., if he made a getaway, and after the robbery said he would give him $150, Nigh said.

SYCAMORE SAYINGS

Since our last communication we have had more rain which was very much needed on the range. Everything is budding and blooming which shows that spring has come. After a severe winter stock is improving. Shortly the stock will be ready for market.

Mr. Johnnie Freeman and Miss Evelyn Calhoun returned from Junction Sunday afternoon where Miss Evelyn had spent the weekend and attended the skating rink Saturday night.

Mrs. F. M. Hodges was shopping in Junction Saturday. While there she visited the sick Miss Lorena Hull, who is improving fast. Also Miss Edith Allsup, who is under the treatment of Dr. Wright.

Very sorry to learn Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rathbone's little daughter is quite ill with pneumonia in the Standifer Sanitarium.

Messrs. Lane and Jim R. Hodges families spent Saturday in Junction and attended the skating rink afternoon and night.

Mr. Melvin Hull returned home with Mr. Hull Saturday and Mrs. Taylor Hull is spending this week with her niece Miss Lorena, at Mrs. Joy's where they have rooms.

Mrs. Freeman had as her guests last week Mr. and Mrs. Wes Freeman of San Antonio and Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and family of Sheffield. Mrs. Phillips is a daughter of Mrs. Freeman.

Mr. Sam Freeman and Mr. Bryan Cobb passed down Sunday with goats sold to Mr. Deasley.

The shearers left Hodges-ranch Tuesday for Messars. Hull where they are now shearing.

The school at Hull school house closed last Friday and a very successful term was taught by Miss Evelyn Calhoun of Fisher's Store. She is spending the week in Junction with friends.

The community enjoyed an Easter egg hunt at the school house last Sunday. Sandwiches, cake and lemonade and popcorn were served which made it enjoyable for old and young.

Jim Hodges is sporting a new Ford. He and Mr. Tinsley went to Mason Monday afternoon for it.

Mrs. O. Keese and daughter are visiting her parents at Snyder, Texas. Her father is quite ill and she will be absent for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller were shopping in Junction Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Sam Jeter and family are guests at the A. Miller ranch Sunday.

Mr. Lee Corder and family and Miss Freeman of Sonora were week-end guests of Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Corder's mother.

Sam and his nieces, Misses Corder and Freeman, were circulating in Junction Saturday and attended the skating rink also.

Mr. M. Hull went to Junction for Mrs. Hull and Miss Lorena who has been under treatment of Dr. Wright. Glad to report her much improved.

LONDON LOCALS

The McLeon oil well is drilling at around 100 feet, eating its way down to the liquid wealth. I am not giving advice to anyone to gamble, yet when oil begins to flow around this little town you will wish you had bought in on some acreage. Should we who have thinned our soup in order that we might buy a few acres be successful? I don't say it was foresight, because there is no foresight about it. We know we will win or lose and if we win it will be pure old nigger luck. If we lose we lose because we took an honest chance to win. There you are. Do you want a like chance? If so, now is the time to get it. I believe we will develop oil here. Maybe not in this well but other wells will be drilled in the near future. Keep your watch on the McLeon well. He says he is going after the oil.

Mr. L. M. Walton was meeting friends in town Saturday.

R. T. Amberson went to Menard with Leander Walton Friday. Uncle Tol gets around much better than many men younger than he.

Mr. J. S. Goodman was a pleasant caller at our place of business Saturday. Also Mr. J. L. Davis spent an interesting hour with us Saturday, relating his recent trip to California.

Mrs. Ruth Thurmond was on the puny list last week. We hate to see old people ailing. The young can be ailing one day and feeling fine the next, but the aged don't experience a reaction so soon.

Some of our people visited the skating rink at Junction last week. Some of them informed the writer that they had an enjoyable time and that we should have been there. Well, maybe next time I will be there. I enjoy clean amusement. I never attended but one skating rink and I saw feats performed that looked impossible and at the same time very easy.

J. P. Rush and the writer spent Sunday on the Llano river, whose waters are blue and beautiful. We chose for our camp the open, and did not seek the shade but the sunshine.

We did not catch any fish but spent one pleasant day away out in the open pasture south of the Simon store on Mrs. Lillie McCaleb's land, away from the public and separated from each other as soon as camp ground was selected. It is worth while for one to get away from his fellows once in a while and think, think and think soberly. You will not become lonesome nor sleepy if you will direct your mind to the right thoughts. It is when you are undisturbed that you can weigh things, including self and appraise them at their real value. It is at such times that we find self weighing very little indeed, except in avoidipods. It does one good to actually take stock of self and see how small the result.

We have just been informed that Mr. A. S. Adams has decided definitely to extend his concrete building on to the two-story height and equip the upper story for an up to date rooming house. This is a much needed improvement and we are glad Mr. Adams has thus decided. As stated some time since, when necessity arises our people in some way meet that need.

R. L. McKinney and A. S. Adams are to be congratulated on their progressiveness. They haven't said much in public about building London up, but they are actually delivering the goods while we others are delivering the hot air. See? It looks like it might rain.

SEGOVIA SIFTINGS

(See later for last week) Misses Louise and Teeny King were Junction visitors Monday evening.

Mrs. Don T. Jobs is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Goodwin in Rocksprings.

Misses Louise King, Louise Keithley, Audrey Kirkpatrick, Gordon King, Bryan Keithley and Vernon Kirkpatrick attended the skating rink at Junction Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Jobs were Kerrville visitors this week-end.

Mr. Granville Barker was a Sunday guest at the Jobs home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bishop and son, Mutt, were Junction visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Crate Phillips and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Net Estes and family of Mountain Home were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hatch Sunday.

Miss Edith Davis is in the Secor hospital in Kerrville. She has undergone an operation for appendicitis. It is reported that she is getting along nicely.

TEACUP TIPS

Teacup entered the Interscholastic League Meet held at Junction and won several first places over the rural schools of Kimble County.

The young people of Teacup enjoyed a picnic at the Yates crossing Sunday afternoon. Those present were Misses Alberta Wootan, Lillie Robbins, Bessie, Lola and Stella Grobe, Faye and Dorothy Jarvis, Bessie, Vivian and Eileen Reese and Messrs. Clarence Grobe, Elgin Dechert, and Frank and J. D. Wootan.

A large crowd attended the Tate Jarvis last Sunday evening. The senior class of Teacup have ordered their invitations and diplomas.

Mr. E. Rohner took a truck singing at the home of Mr. to Schulenburg to get a load of furniture the first of the week. The basket ball team has closed the season. They won five games without a defeat. The students are now playing baseball.

IVY ECHOES

H. C. Pearl and family spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Gouldbusk in Coleman County.

Johnnie Stephens was absent from school Monday.

Hollan Walker went to Deyll's River Sunday to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coffey.

Several from the school attended the Interscholastic League meet at Junction last Friday and Saturday. Those who attended say they enjoyed the exercises very much, and several of our pupils won on ribbons. We are proud of this fact because we believe, to be given a distinction of honor in this manner, encourages our boys and girls to further effort. Ivy School will have a graduation exercise at the close of this term of school. Two of our girls will graduate, Stella Grobe and Ola Walker. The girls have been busy lately selecting their commencement invitations, choosing class colors and motto. This exercise will be held the last week in May.

Paul Kane visited at school Monday and enjoyed a croquet game at the noon hour.

A trustee election will be held at the Ivy School house Saturday, April 6.

April came in Monday with a cool little Norther.

Our school boys and girls all acted wisely on April the first and, instead of running away as is sometimes the custom in places, they stayed at their posts of duty and used their time in a more valuable manner. Things look prosperous just now over this way. The grass, weeds and wild flowers are growing fast, and cattle, goats and sheep are grazing in green pastures and are contented.

SEGOVIA SIFTINGS

The high school pupils met at the school house Sunday and had an Easter egg hunt. Every one had a nice time and found lots of eggs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Barker are sporting a new Chevrolet coupe.

Mr. R. R. King was on the sick list last week but is reported better at present.

Those who were Junction visitors Saturday were, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fairchild, Mr. B. F. Neal, and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bishop and son, Mutt, Messrs. Wm. Fairchild, Frank Rembold, Damon Maddox, Gordon and Max King and Johnnie Sellers.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keithley were Junction visitors Friday.

Miss Louise King spent the week-end in Junction.

Louise Keithley and Johnnie Sellers were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keithley Sunday.

Mr. John Keithley blew in home Tuesday afternoon for a few minutes. He returned with a bundle of clean clothes under his arm.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Keithley and Louise were Junction visitors Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Perry and sons were Junction visitors Saturday.

Mr. Allan Phelps gave a dance Friday night. A large crowd enjoyed his hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Fleming returned to their home at Dripping Springs after a visit with Mrs. Fleming's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bishop.

Arlton Hatch visited Lloyd and Alton Kirkpatrick Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. John Phillips spent the week-end in Kerrville.

Miss Edith Davis who is in the Secor hospital at Kerrville, is improving rapidly and will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

The Menard Baptist Encampment is indeed fortunate this year to be able to announce that Dr. Len G. Broughton of Nashville, Tennessee, has accepted the invitation to be the principal speaker for the Encampment.

Hudspeth Will Present Bill For Tariff On Pecans

Washington, D. C., March 18
Gann Grocery Company,
Junction, Texas.

Dear Sirs: I am in receipt of your letter and have read it with a great deal of interest and sympathetic understanding of the condition you mention in regard to pecan growing in our section. Last session I introduced a bill providing increased duty on several commodities, including pecans, and you may be assured of my best effort to secure this result in the tariff bill which will come up at the called session April 15th. It is a pleasure to have your views and I trust you will write me freely at all times when I may render any service.

Sincerely yours,

C. B. Hudspeth.

Men from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, headed by E. C. Cushing of Dallas, recently began work in the Menard section by ranchmen in a fly-trapping campaign for the purpose of testing out methods of caring for traps, type of traps and other things related to the extermination of blowflies.

V. G. Jordan, farming up the South Llano, marketed choice home-grown spinach in Junction Saturday through Gann Grocery Company, and will be on the local market again this Saturday. Mr. Jordan planted the spinach in October. The winters here, he said, are too cold for early production of spinach.

Mrs. Leonard Gibbs, in town Wednesday shopping supplies for the Gibbs ranch in Sutton County, reported ranch conditions good, with 450 young kids gamboling on the green.

George Pepper marked up one trap of ewes and lambs early in the week, the 330 ewes yielding 332 lambs. Other traps were not expected to make as good showing, he said.

W. E. Friend of Crockett County states that many lambs are being contracted in his section at 11 1/2 cents and some matton lambs at 11c. Friend contracted his lambs (5000) to the Alpine Sheep Co.

"Flitlik" liquid insecticide destroys flies, ants, mosquitoes, redbugs and other insects, Gann Grocery Company.

"Texas Wonder" watermelon seed, Rocky Ford cantaloupe seed, in bulk. Gann Grocery Company.

Born, April 2, to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tatum, a fine boy.

The old order is fast giving way to the new in Junction. The old house belonging to Frank Baker, on Junction's main avenue, is being moved to make way for modern business structures. Oldtimers remember that this old building was erected more than fifty years ago, an imposing residence, built in the woods by Mr. Faltine, a local merchant. It has since been occupied as a residence by many of Junction's citizens, including Mayor E. Holekamp, Druggist John Hankins, Merchant Prince A. J. Hamer, and many others.

T. B. Phillips Elected Mayor of Junction

The city election Tuesday was quiet. Mr. T. B. Phillips had no opposition for mayor and received 205 of the 250 votes cast for that office. Mr. E. Holekamp, who has been mayor since the town was incorporated more than a year ago, was not a candidate, but received 35 votes.

In the alderman's race Frank Bissett, Jim Massie and J. A. Heyman were re-elected and L. R. Hodges and George Cavanness were elected to succeed N. C. Patterson and A. O. Lawler. Mr. Patterson was not a candidate and Mr. Lawler has moved out of the city.

Mr. R. E. McKay was elected city marshal, receiving 139 votes.

L. R. Hodges led the ticket with 224 votes, George Cavanness was second with 219.

School Notes

The Vocational Agriculture boys with the help of some of the other boys have completed the side walks on the west side of the school building.

Mrs. Guy Wynne will present her pupils in a recital at the High School auditorium Friday evening.

We now have four hundred two pupils enrolled in school. Five pupils entered last week. We are certainly beginning to wonder where we will put the next ones.

The commencement exercises will be held May 24. Lawrence Allison will deliver the address. Mr. Allison is our superintendent for the coming year.

Fred Beasley is back in school after several days' absence. His ailment was unknown. Some accuse him of having had chicken pox but he denies the charge.

Seventy new books arrived Friday for the library. We wish to thank the Parent-Teachers' Association for these books. A number of the books had already been checked out of the library by noon Friday. We are more anxious than ever to make no grade lower than "B," so that we may be permitted to read for pleasure during study periods.

We have been "snowed under" with snakes the last few days. Yes, they look like the real thing, even though they are not. Some one has suggested that the teachers may be contemplating the establishment of a toy store since they are collecting so many of these snakes. Those who visited school last week were: Mrs. S. P. Bennett, Miss Willie Baker, Miss Ruby Johnson and Gay Mann.

MRS. S. O. RIDENHOWER ENTERTAINS CARD CLUB

Mrs. S. O. Ridenhower complimented the members of the Ladies' Afternoon Card Club and a number of friends with a bridge at the home of Mrs. S. P. Woodward Friday afternoon. Branches of red-bud and baskets and bowls of lilac provided a festive note for the occasion. The tallies carried out the color scheme of yellow and lavender.

Mrs. V. Taylor won the club prize, a box of handsome Maderia napkins. A similar trophy went to Mrs. U. D. Kindrick who made high guest score. A huge Easter rabbit was given to Mrs. S. S. Bundy to console her for her ill luck.

Yellow crepe paper table covers with matching napkins were used. Coffee, ice cream and white cake iced in lavender were served. Miniature lavender Easter bonnets tied with yellow ribbon were used for plate favors.

Those present were Mesdames Joe Watson, James Prentice, S. S. Bundy, W. W. Buck, P. J. Joseph, H. D. Taylor, Charles Henderson, Pierce Hoggett, J. L. Ragland, Felix Watson, C. T. Orth, R. H. Spiller, S. P. Woodward, H. E. Luehrs, Aubrey Hill, Frank Patterson, W. E. Ribley, Harry Hubert, A. E. Rieck, C. E. Stevenson, Gordon Stewart, Ed Barfield, U. D. Kindrick, Guy Wynne, Browning of Tahoka, R. E. Osburn and Misses Guina, Flo May and Mary Spiller.

SUMNER PARTY

One of the most delightful parties enjoyed by the younger set was given Saturday by Mrs. B. E. Ragland, at her charming home, honoring the members of the Sunday School class. "The Cleaners" were the subject of the lights were shaded in green and yellow and pink and lavender were also used to decorate the pretty rooms. Baskets of lilacs completed the decorations.

A series of delightful games and radio music caused the evening to pass all too soon for the young folk. Also Easter eggs, in all shades, were served in nests of whipped cream and angel food cake iced in pink and green.

A slumber party followed and Sunday morning party referred to Cedar Grove for a delicious breakfast of bacon, eggs, waffles, potato chips, bread, pork and beans, olives and coffee. (Darning little hats filled with tiny candy eggs were used as plate favors. The party then repaired to the Methodist Church where they attended Sunday School.

Those present were, Misses Paulette Linn, Nevada Blackburn, Bonita Barnes, Lucille Mabley, Ruth Sandherr, Elsie Beasant, Vivian Livingston, Katherine Johnson, Marie Decker and Louise King. Mrs. Willie Ragland assisted in entertaining.

Even the other fellow may be very nice when you know him well.

WIVES CLUB

Thursday evening Mrs. Guy Wynne entertained the members of the Merry Wives Club and their husbands with a bridge at the home of Mrs. S. P. Woodward Friday afternoon.

Branches of plum blossoms and the decorative red-bud were used to brighten the rooms. The tallies further carried out the springtime motif with their tulle decorations.

Mrs. C. T. Orth won the club prize, a pair of ship boots. The men's prizes, a pretty tie, went to Mr. Guy Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carpenter, both made low scores. She received a dainty linen handkerchief, while Mr. Carpenter was presented with a pair of silk socks.

The tables were covered with crepe paper which was decorated with Easter rabbits and chickens, and the napkins matched the table covers. Chicken ala King in patty shells, vegetable salad, hot rolls, cake and coffee were served with plate favors of yellow baskets filled with tiny candy eggs.

REBEKAH LODGE

Monday evening the members of the Rebekah Lodge met in regular session at the hall. Mrs. H. H. Lawler gave a most interesting and instructive report on the proceedings of the Grand Assembly, which she attended in Beaumont in March.

At the close of the meeting delicious sandwiches, cookies and grape juice were served by Mesdames Joe Ramsey, J. A. Browning and H. H. Lawler.
