WARM GREETING ON A COLD DAY

Frigid weather failed to keep Santa's young friends at home, and here are some who turned out to greet him when he visited Wellington Friday, December 9. His trip here was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Also sponsored by the chamber are the Trades Days during December. Remaining are those on Saturday, Dec. 17, and Friday and Saturday, December 23 and 24.

M. I. Wilks, 80, Pioneer Rancher, Dies December 7

Merit Irving Wilks, whose life carried within it the history of Collingsworth County, died at his home at 8:50 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 7, at his ranch home in the Arlie community.

He was 80 years of age, and for more than 78 of those years he had made his home in that community. His home was on the land on which his father filed in 1886, one of the first white men to settle in that area.

Mr. Wilks had been seriously ill about two months.

Born July 17, 1886 in Denton County, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wilks. His mother remained in Denton County with her young family, as was customary among families who were then settling the West Texas frontier. In 1888, the entire family came to their new home.

He attended the school which was established at Arlie, for which his father gave the land. As a young man, he attended a business college in Denton.

Mr. Wilks was married to Miss Gertrude Arnn on March 18, 1909, at the home of her parents at Arlie.

Through the years that followed, he was active in the community and its many affairs. He raised blooded horses which he trained for roping and racing. He took part in the brandings, then community events of importance, just as they were along the frontier and in the years that followed.

With his wife, Mr. Wilks served as Red Cross chairman for his community for several years.

He was a member of the Elks Lodge.

Just as his life was a part of the growth of the southeast Panhandle, his mind carried much of the area, and with these, he enriched the knowledge and pleasure of his children and grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mr. Wilks were conducted at First Methodist Church in Wellington Friday at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Ellis Todd officiating. Burial was in the North Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelson Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Clair Lawrence, Jake Lawrence, Leo Wyrick, Pat Bouchelle, R. T. Jameson and C. W. Johnson.

Surviving Mr. Wilks are his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Wilks of Arlie; three daughters and two sons, Mrs. Cecil Masten of Wellington, Mrs. E. B. Armstrong and Don Wilks of Arlie, Mrs. David Moore of Carthage and W. B. Wilks of Santa Fe Springs, Calif.

Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Creed Hill of Wellington and Mrs. J. K. Carroll of Amarillo. There are 11 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

County Begins Religious Christmas Observance

Churches of Wellington and Collingsworth County will begin the observance of Christmas with services and special programs Sunday, Dec. 18.

The major event among these is the annual cantata of First Methodist Church.

"King Forever" which is being given here for the first time, although it incorporates several carols and hymns that are long familiar.

Mrs. Jack Davis again is the director.

Preceding the cantata, Mrs. L. E. Ward will present a 15-minute organ concert of Christmas music.

The traditional Candlelight Processional will open the cantata, and the first number, "King Forever!" will be sung by the entire choir.

Alternating with narration by Mrs. Bernice Welch will be these numbers:

"The King of Love," a soprano solo by Mrs. John Holton, with the choir.

"The Song of the Angels," with Mrs. E. F. Bartlett as soprano soloist, and the choir.

"They Would Believe It," the women's chorus and choir.

"Let Us Go and See Him," a baritone solo by L. B. Bratten, with the choir.

"O Holy Night," a trio composed of Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. W. O. Vaughan and Mrs. Don Van Pelt.

"Neath the Eastern Skies," by the men's chorus.

"Wonderful Child" by the complete choir.

"My Christmas Prayer" by the girls chorus.

"King of Kings," a duet by Mrs. Richard Nall and Mrs. W. O. Vaughan, with choir accompaniment.

Miss Cherry Lewis will be the organist and Mrs. Sam Thompson the pianist.

Users will be Henry Wells, Jimmy Campbell and Dwayne Ford.

Members of the choir are Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Mrs. Cliff Campbell, Mrs. Hiram Cudd, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, Mrs. Raymond Ford, Mrs. John Holton, Mrs. Glen Lacy, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. Tom Lewis,

Mrs. A. V. Lowrie, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Mrs. Richard Nall, Mrs. Larry Oswald, Mrs. Gorman Owens, Mrs. S. B. Owen, Mrs. James Sullivan, Mrs. Ellis Todd, Mrs. Don Van Pelt, Mrs. W. O. Vaughan,

Miss Debbie Lewis, Miss Cindy Saied, Miss Vikki Saunders, Miss Patricia Thomas, Miss Jane Thompson,

L. B. Bratten, R. T. Crawley, Paul Guthrie, Tom Lewis, Fred Saied and W. O. Vaughan.

First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church members will go caroling and give baskets to shut-ins Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, the Rev. A. B. Earnest, pastor, announced.

They will then reassemble on the square and sing carols.

The carolling will begin at 7 p.m., Rev. Earnest said.

On Sunday, Dec. 18, the Rev. Norman Wood, missionary to Africa, will be the guest speaker at both services.

"We will be observing our annual foreign mission month of prayer and giving," said Rev. Earnest.

Lutie Baptist Church

Members of Lutie Baptist Church will present their Christmas program, "Peace on Earth," Sunday, Dec. 18 at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Paul Schaub is in charge.

Children of the church will portray the birth of Jesus, with Dennis Leeper as the narrator.

Christmas music will be presented by the choir, and Mrs. Schaub will give as a solo, "O Holy Night."

Christmas socks will be presented at the close of the service.

The Rev. Verrell Leeper, pastor, has invited all friends in.

Bands and Choruses Give Concert Sunday

The Wellington school bands and choruses will present their fourth annual Christmas concert Sunday, Dec. 18, under the direction of James Larson. The program will be in the high school auditorium and will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Five groups will be presented, the elementary, junior high and high school bands, and the junior high and high school choruses. Altogether, approximately 200 students will be included.

The elementary school band, 32 boys and girls in the fifth grade, will make their first appearance. They have been playing only about two months and their number will be McDowell's "To a Wild Rose," said Mr. Larson.

Following this, the 45-piece junior high band will play "Rip Van Winkle Overture," arranged by Johnson.

The 22-voice junior high school chorus will appear next, singing "Jacob's Ladder," a traditional spiritual, "Jingle Bells" by Pierpont, and "Silent Night" by Gruber.

The high school choir, with 24 members, will present "Christmas Bells," Norlin, "The Twelve Days of Christmas," in its old English traditional rendition, "Winter Wonderland" by Bernard, "Sleep Little Lord Jesus," by Pallma, and "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," by Willson.

The high school band will conclude the concert. Their numbers will be "Torchlight Carols" arranged by Gordon; "Three Christmas Carols" by Grundman, "Rudolph's Christmas Concert" by Osterling,

Speech Class Presents "Egg and I" Thursday

"The Egg and I," a comedy of many chuckles, will be presented by junior students in Speech I class of Wellington high school Thursday, Dec. 15 in the high school auditorium.

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. The play, directed by Mrs. Bob McAlister, is based on and follows closely, the best-selling autobiography by Betty McDonald of a few years ago.

The book, which sold 1,300,000 copies and was translated into six languages, tells of a city family that bought a chicken farm and of all the troubles they stumbled into through their innocence about the habits of chickens.

Props for the play posed something of a problem for the Wellington juniors, for they included such items, almost nonexistent in this area, as a wood burning stove and an old fashioned wash stand. The cast scoured cellars and attics and visited farmhouses of family and friends. Some of the items had to be renovated.

"They're in better condition than we got them and the owners may want them back," said Mrs. McAlister.

Polly Browning is effective in the leading role of Betty McDonald. Her husband, Don, is played by George Kopp, and their daughters, Ann and Joan, are Tanya Horton and Cherry Lewis.

With the candor that appears in the bosom of a family, the McDonalds bestow exotic nicknames on some of their neighbors, and it is by these that the characters come and go in the junior play.

Ann's boy friend, Thad (he doesn't qualify for a nickname) is played by Alfred Allred, but two neighbors, Delicate Daisy and her husband, Mr. Manic-Depressive, are played by Jan Bowen and David Groves.

Corinne, a local lady, is depicted by Jan Blain; Fish Face, an Indian boy, by Sammy Hicks; and Joan's boy friends

"The Nutcracker Suite" by Tschikowsky, "The Christmas Cong" by Cavacas, and "Christmas Tide" by De Lamater.

With 75 members, the Wellington high school band is the largest in many years.

Rockets Place on Two-AA All District Teams

Two Wellington Skyrockets won places on the 2-AA All-District football team announced this week, and seven others received honorable mention.

On the defensive team, Mike Smith, a senior, was named all-district linebacker, and on the offense, Marvin Roland, a junior, was picked as a running back. Both were unanimous choices of the 2-A coaches, according to Wellington head coach Bill Beene.

Honorable mention went twice to Larry Pipins, as an offensive tackle and defensive end. Also receiving honorable mention on the offense was Steve Trapp, guard.

Defensive honorable mention went also to Mike Gilmore, Chuck Wilbur, Gary Killian, Jim Lindsey and Joe Brock.

The selections were made by coaches of the district in a meeting at Iowa Park recently, shortly after the season ended, but announcement of the teams was not made until Iowa Park had concluded post-season play. Coach Beene and Supt. J. L. Harper represented Wellington.

The complete teams included:

Offensive Team

Ends: Rocky Frenco, 185, junior, Iowa Park, and Harry Price, 190, junior, Iowa Park; tackles: Kevin Holderman, 191, senior, Iowa Park and Joe Milligan, 178, senior, Quanah; guards: Wendall House, 179, junior, Iowa Park, and Gilbert Beall, 195, senior, Seymour; center: Johnny Podrovitz, 178, senior, Quanah; quarterback, (two selections): Gene Jordan, 150, senior, Seymour, and Robert Watson, 140, senior, Iowa

Norwood Lions Hold Community Program

The Samnorwood Lions Club will hold its community Christmas tree and program Wednesday evening, Dec. 21 at the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The pageant, "Peace on Earth," will be directed by Mrs. Jack Lowry. This is a Christmas story told by a narrator, joined by a chorus and pantomimists.

Connie Knoll will be the narrator.

The cast will include Mary, the mother of Jesus, portrayed by Janice Snead; Joseph, Mike Oldham; the Inn Keeper, Douglas Coleman; the shepherds, who are Joe Garza, Randy Garner and Kyle Janes; the an-Barjenbruch Is Cited by State Health Dept.

AUSTIN.—An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to William Barjenbruch, Wellington city manager. The citation is reflective of the high regard in which Barjenbruch is considered by state water officials.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewerage Works Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department.

Junior High Has Early Win Streak

The Wellington eighth grade boys basketball team remains undefeated through four games thus far, averaging 51 points per game while allowing their opponents 17.

The eighth grade girls have played three games and won two.

Boys Games

The boys took a 52-20 victory over Clarendon at their first game, Nov. 21 at Clarendon. High point player for Wellington was Victor Bobo with 11 points. Thomas and Carter of Clarendon had 4 points each.

Wellington played Shamrock at home Dec. 1 and won by a score of 42-24. An improvement was seen from the previous week, although the scoring was not so high. Shamrock had a stronger ball club than did Clarendon.

High pointer for Wellington was Bobo with 15 points and other outstanding players were Bobby Saied and David Moore with 2 points each, Ted Harris with 4, Lester Robinson 8, and Larry Robinson 11. Laycock was high point for Shamrock with 10.

In a return game played here Wellington defeated Clarendon 35 to 8. Clarendon played a different strategy, trying to stall the ball for the entire game, but the Wellington boys handled the situation capably.

High pointer for Wellington was Larry Robinson with 15; Bobo had 12, Lester Robinson 6, Mark Killian 2 and Bobby Saied 1. High point for Clarendon was Thomas with 4.

Wellington defeated Memphis at Wellington 74 to 16 Thursday, Dec. 8. This was a fast game for Wellington from start to finish, as the team jumped to a 25-2 first quarter lead. They advanced the lead to 46-2 at half time, when the second team went in. This group played until the fourth, doing a good job of scoring and defensive work.

Larry Robinson led the scoring with 31 points, while Bobo made 14. Saied, David Moore and Killian 4 each, Lester Robinson 7, Ted Harris 6, Teddy McLain and James Culpepper 2 each.

Weather Slows Cotton Harvest Lowers Quality

The USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service in Memphis reported that cotton classed under the Smith-Doxey Act for growers during the week ending Thursday, Dec. 8, was lower in grade, staple length, and micronaire. Late scraping and the method of harvesting coupled with the damage done to late planted cotton and top crop by the hard freeze in early November accounted for the lower quality.

K. E. Voelkel, in charge of the Memphis cotton classing office, stated that although cold temperatures, fog and high winds restricted harvesting, 22,000 samples were classed during the week. This brought the seasonal total to 73,000. With the 5,000 unclassified samples on hand and the samples classed this week, it was estimated about 25 percent of the crop remained to be processed. Last season as of Dec. 7, 56,000 samples had been classed.

Based on samples classed last week, White grades represented only 2% of the classing. Light Spotted grades to 32%, Spotted grades showed 52%, and Tinged grades made up 14%. There were a number of samples classified as Yellow Stained. The predominant grade for this week was Middling Spotted with 25%. The amount of cotton reduced in grade because of Bark increased to 10% this week. This indicated that the method of harvesting played a large part in the lower quality of cotton classed this week.

The most significant change in the staple length was the increase percentage-wise of the 29/32 inch and shorter lengths, and the almost absence of staple length one inch and longer. The staple distribution was as follows: 7/8 inch and shorter, 1%; 9/32 inch, 18%; 15/16 inch, 74%; and 31/32 inch, 7%.

Mike readings in the premium range of 3.5 - 4.9 decreased from 36% the previous week to 25%. 75% read 3.4 and below, and a negligible amount read 5.0 and above. The harvesting of cotton with an immature fiber was reflected in the large amount of Wasty cotton, which showed 23%. This meant a 300 point or 3¢ a pound discount based on the CCC loan.

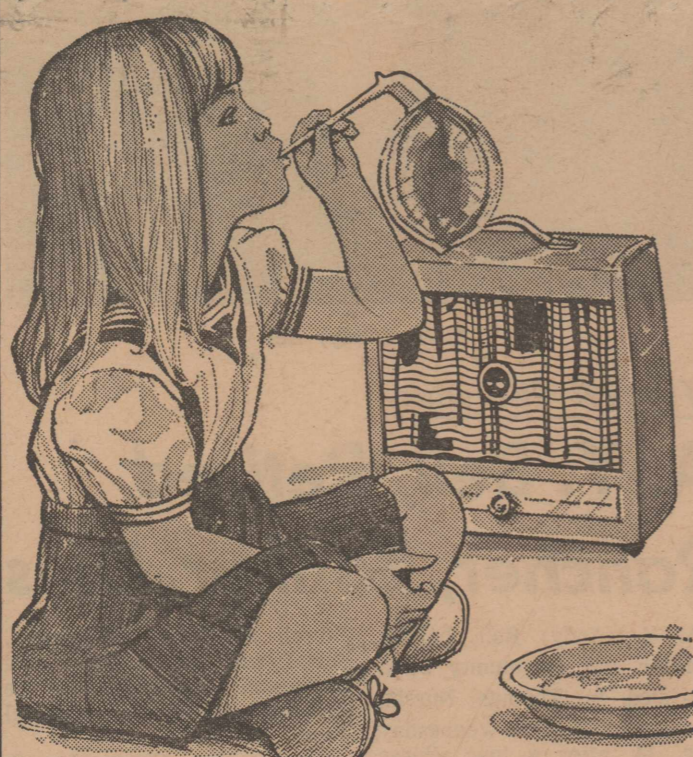

Pressley strength tests conducted in cooperation with the Cotton Research Committee of Texas showed slightly weaker fiber than the week earlier. 23% tested 80,000 pounds per square inch and above compared with 24% the previous week. Other groupings were: 75,000 - 79,000, 26%; 70,000 - 74,000, 28%; and 69,000 and below, 23%.

Cotton sold this week was mainly low grades and the lower mike readings. The average prices for qualities moving into trade channels, with mike readings 3.4 and below, brought from even with CCC loan to as much as 70 points above.

Cottonseed prices ranged from $63 to $70 per ton. During the week the price advanced at some gin points from $67 to $70.

Three County Teams Win in Tournament

Samnorwood girls and Wellington boys were champions of the annual Samnorwood tournament which ended Saturday evening, Dec. 10. Runners up were Shamrock girls and Memphis boys, while third place trophies went to Wellington girls and Quail boys.

Winners of the consolation bracket were Lakeview girls and Shamrock boys, while the sportsmanship trophies went to Lakeview and Wheeler boys.

These selections were made by tournament officials, as having exhibited the best sportsmanship in the tournament.

Coach Lloyd Stephens termed this a "very successful tournament, with real spirited games, keen competition and good sportsmanship by all teams."

After defeating McLean and Wellington, the Samnorwood girls defeated Shamrock 28 to 24 to take the tournament championship.

Wellington boys advanced through the championship bracket by defeating McLean and Quail, before taking the finals from Memphis 43-41 in one of the closest games of the tournament.

The third place Wellington girls defeated Quail in the first round, 76 to 39, but lost to the Samnorwood team 41-29 in the semi-finals. This put them in the running for third place, which they took by defeating Wheeler 60 to 42 on Saturday afternoon.

Quail took third in the boys division with a 61-24 win over Wheeler, after defeating Samnorwood boys in the opening round and losing to Wellington in the semi-finals.

Sixteen teams were entered in the tournament, including some of the stronger AA, A and B teams of the southeast Panhandle.

B Teams Win Three, Lose One in Week

The Wellington Skyrocket B team won a victory over the Dodson Mustangs by a close 50-48 in a game played at Dodson Dec. 8.

High pointer for Wellington was Tony Hurst with 17. Joe Brock was second with 11. James Riley with 25 points, topped the game's scoring and also was high for Dodson.

The Rockette B team was winner by a score of 32 to 25. Betsy Trapp was high pointer for the Wellington girls with 16 points and Nancy Gully made 19 for Dodson.

On the following day, Friday, Dec. 9, the B team boys were defeated by Arnett 71 to 58. Bob Bigfoot and Bruce Rumbaugh, each with 21 points, were high scorers for Arnett and also for the game. Herman Moore led Wellington with 18 points and Chuck Wilbur had 11.

The B team girls won a close game against Arnett with a final score of 16 to 15. Sharon Cummings led the scoring for Wellington with 9 points. D. Clay was high scorer for Arnett with 10 points.

"I feel like we gained a lot of experience by playing these boys, as they have a fine team," said Coach Denzil Lacy of the boys game. He also commended the work of the Rockette B guards, who held

Arnett to 4 points in the first half.

The starters for the B team boys were Joe Brock, Chuck Wilbur, Gary Brewer, Herman Moore and Tony Hurst.

Others playing were Glen Barber, Barry Johnson and Jimmy Bohannon.

Starting for the girls were Betsy Trapp, Sharon Cummings and Pam Guthrie, forwards; Jan Philley, Linda Williams and Cathy Tyler, guards.

Others playing were Rosa Garcia, Rosie Sterling, Cindy Saied and Joye Hudspeth.

Wellington Takes Double Header From Memphis

Wellington Rockets and Rockettes won a double header over Memphis on the Memphis court Tuesday, Dec. 6.

The girls, in a return match, came away with a 61 to 23 victory. The boys, meeting Memphis for the first time, won 60 to 43.

The Wellington girls were a little cold when the game started but soon found the range of the basket and began to show their scoring ability.

High point for Wellington was Nancy Holton with 26 points, while Carolyn Kilgore had 13 and Mary Lou Holton 12.

High pointer for Memphis was Cynthia Evans with 14, and Janie Watson had 9.

It looked during the first quarter as if it would be an even game. Memphis jumped out in the lead and held that lead until near the end of the quarter, and the score was 8 to 6 in favor of Wellington. At the half it was 25 to 15 favoring Wellington, and at the end of the third quarter it was 48 to 21.

Wellington reserves played most of the last half of the game.

This was the first meeting of the Wellington and Memphis boys this year, as an earlier game was cancelled because Memphis was in a football playoff.

Memphis has a bunch of good athletes and they really made the Rockets play ball for most of the game, Coach James Stavenhagen said.

"Both teams showed a great deal of offensive moves during the game and I feel that both teams will be strong contenders in their districts before this season is over," the coach continued.

High point man for Wellington was James Smith with 17.

Arnett to 4 points in the first half.

The starters for the B team boys were Joe Brock, Chuck Wilbur, Gary Brewer, Herman Moore and Tony Hurst.

Others playing were Glen Barber, Barry Johnson and Jimmy Bohannon.

Starting for the girls were Betsy Trapp, Sharon Cummings and Pam Guthrie, forwards; Jan Philley, Linda Williams and Cathy Tyler, guards.

Others playing were Rosa Garcia, Rosie Sterling, Cindy Saied and Joye Hudspeth.

Andy Henard hit 14 and Kent Clark 13.
Scoring by quarters:
Wellington 12 31 41 60
Memphis 8 21 31 43
Starters for the girls game were:
Wellington: Mary Lou Holton, Nancy Holton and Carolyn Kilgore, forwards; Becky Brewer, Regina Ferguson and Mary Ingram, guards.

Memphis: Cynthia Evans, Janie Watson, and Bonnie Vick, forwards; Tommie Wilson, Sandy Saye and Sharon Gaston, guards.

Starting in the boys game:
Wellington: Steve Trapp, Andy Henard, Mike Smith, James Smith and Jimmy Barber.
Memphis: Bobby Carroll, Tony Pounds, Jones, Clyde Wilson and Graves.

Investment Tax Credit Suspended

COLLEGE STATION.—There are several income tax changes this year that will affect farmers, ranchers and other self-employed people. According to James I. Mallett, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University, there are two noteworthy suspensions.

First, the 7 percent investment tax credit on machinery and certain real property has been suspended on investments of over $20,000 for the period Oct. 10, 1966 through Dec. 31, 1967.

Mallett says investments that otherwise qualify for investment tax credit and were purchased during the current tax year and before the Oct. 10 suspension, are still eligible for the tax credit. The tax credit can mean quite a reduction in income taxes since it's deducted directly from the amount of taxes to be paid.

However, taxpayers may still select up to $20,000 of investments made during the suspension period (Oct. 10, 1966 to Dec. 31, 1967) to be eligible for the investment credit. Mallett says taxpayers need to decide which tax year, the remainder of 1966, or all of 1967, to make investments up to $20,000 for the investment tax credit.

The carryover period for unused investment credit has been extended from 5 to 7 years and the 3-year carry-back period is unchanged, he says.

Another suspension—the right to use rapid depreciation rates on buildings costing $50,000 or more is suspended except for "buildings whose construction was begun before Oct. 10, 1966 or where the taxpayer was under contracts in effect on Oct. 9, 1966, calling for later construction."

The suspension applies only to property that would be used in a trade or a business—not property used for investment or rental purposes. The legislation does not affect the right to claim the 20 percent first year additional depreciation on tangible personal property with an expected useful life of six years or more for use in a trade or business.

In another change, the maximum amount of combined wages and self-employment earnings subject to social security has been increased from $4800 to $6600. This legislation did not affect the self-employment tax rate which is still 6.15 percent for the 1966 tax year, says Mallett.

The maximum amount of gross income which may be used by farmers reporting their self-employment tax by the option method has been increased from $1800 to $2400, says Mallett.

The gas tax refund of 6 cents per gallon on gasoline used on a farm for farming purposes must now be claimed as a tax credit on the annual income tax report and must be filed before the end of the tax reporting period, usually April 15.

Cattle Outlook Continues Good

COLLEGE STATION, Texas cattle prices will remain favorable for the remainder of 1966 and into 1967, especially for the efficient producer, a Texas A & M University agricultural economist predicted today.

John G. McHaney, Extension economist, said continued strength in the general economy would insure an increasing price trend for beef cattle, beginning very late in 1966. All of 1967, he added, should be favorable if our economy continues to grow and range conditions remain good.

McHaney said feed lot operators at the present were more reluctant than usual to bid up feeder cattle prices. Their feed costs are rising and will be higher in the months ahead than in the first half of 1966 and fed cattle prices have declined to narrow their margins, he said. But, taking all factors into consideration, feeder prices are expected to remain near current levels which are much better than for the same period a year ago.

As for fed cattle prices, he said they should hold during

Cattle Outlook Continues Good

The October-November period to average near the year-ago levels. Marketings of fed cattle are expected to continue large but the increase over a year ago probably will be less than that which took place in the summer of 1966.

Downward price pressure can develop if range conditions over the nation deteriorate; thus, forcing large movements of grass cattle to slaughter at a time when fed cattle marketings are already heavy. Too, feeding to heavier weights could put continued pressure on fed cattle prices during the rest of the year.

Another factor influencing fed beef prices will be the increase in pork supply for the remainder of the year. Pork production later in the year will be well above a year ago and poultry supplies are expected to continue above year-earlier levels, the economist said. Increased supplies of these two meat sources will tend to keep pressure on fed beef prices, concluded McHaney.

Christmas trees, for safety's sake, should not be located near exits in the home.

Committee Set Up to Preserve Historic Sites

County Judge-elect Zook Thomas has announced plans for the appointment of the Collingsworth County Historical Survey Committee on Jan. 1. This committee is in charge of the Historical Marking and Preservation Program in the county. The new committee will also cooperate with the State Program of Recordation, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation and Surveys (RAMPS) of Texas History. This is a two year term which ends Dec. 31, 1968.

The county chairman will be Mrs. John S. Coleman of Wellington. Other members of the committee for the 1967-68 term will be Mrs. Chester Fires, John Forbis, Mrs. Roy Horn, Mrs. J. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Clyde Drake and Mrs. L. E. Ward.

The RAMPS program of work is spearheaded by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, a state agency, with the cooperation and implementation of all the county committees.

"These plans are announced at this time so that we can maintain the desired continuity in this vital program of work," said Mr. Thomas.

He pointed out that the overall objective of the committee's work is the development of the county's history as a tourist attraction by working with the Commissioners' Court and local, tourist-related organizations, and for the preservation of this history for future generations.

In accordance with a proclamation issued by Gov. John Connally naming Jan. 14-21 as "See and Save Texas History Week," Mr. Thomas will call a meeting of the committee in January to finalize the program of work and announce plans for the coming term.

"The RAMPS program for Texas affords the possibility of increased tourist business and travel to assist the economy in every county which works to carry out these objectives," Mr. Thomas went on to say. "This committee is qualified to handle this important work for us with the help and support of our county."

Dodson Civic Club Holds Annual Christmas Meeting on Thursday

The Dodson Civic Club met in the home of Mrs. B. T. Webb for the Christmas meeting Thursday, December 8. Mrs. B. B. Martin shared hostess duties.

Mrs. Clyde Alexander presided, urging members to collect the newspapers and bring their gifts for the box to the state hospital. Mrs. Alexander read the scripture from St. Luke.

Mrs. Maurice Moore had charge of the program. She presented Barry Farris who gave a vocal solo, "Little Drummer Boy," accompanying himself on his snare drum.

Mildred Lewis gave Christmas selections on the piano, also accompanying Cloetta and Jeffrey Camp who sang "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and "Go Tell It on the Mountain." Barry Farris recorded as they sang.

A salad plate using the red and green motif was served to members and guests. Gifts from a silver and red tree were exchanged, with Barry Farris as Santa and Cloetta and Jeffrey Camp as his helpers. The Webb home was decorated with holly, cedar boughs, hanging bells and red satin bows.

Three new members were introduced, Mrs. Raymond Cearley, Mrs. Herbert Redeker, and Mrs. Lloyd S. Patterson.

Attending were Mrs. J. T. Bogle, Mrs. Murray Dodson, Mrs. G. M. Lewis, Mrs. H. A. Painter, Mrs. Ross Swift, Mrs. J. Duard Luck, Mrs. Walter Camp, Mrs. Louis Patterson, Mrs. Lloyd S. Patterson, Mrs. Peyton Smith, Mrs. Thurman Crownover, Mrs. Billy J. Huds-peth, Mrs. E. H. Ready, Mrs. S. L. Beanland, Mrs. J. C. Howell, Mrs. Purl Tippie, Mrs. Grover Graham, Mrs. T. E. Lennon, Mrs. Herbert Redeker, Mrs. Raymond Cearley, Mrs. Maurice Moore, Mrs. Clyde Alexander, Mrs. Barry Farris, Mildred Lewis, Cloetta and Jeffrey Camp and the hostesses.

Midway HDC Has Christmas Party

The Midway Home Demonstration Club members held their Christmas party Wednesday, December 7 in the fellowship hall of First Christian Church.

Christmas decorations were used throughout the party and the theme was used in the refreshments. Mrs. M. C. Cleveland gave the opening prayer.

Those attending were Mrs. Ben Brewer, Mrs. Russell Hill, Mrs. W. B. Cleveland, Mrs. Ruth Wyrick, Mrs. Barney Cook, Mrs. W. F. Vaughn, Mrs. Emmett Cook, Mrs. Millard Brown, Mrs. Jess Motesbocker, Mrs. R. T. Savage, Mrs. J. B. Clark, Mrs. Joe Terry, Mrs. Harold Caldwell and Gene, Mrs. M. C. Cleveland and Miss Leta Kees.

1954 Club Has Delinquency Study

The 1954 Study Club met on Thursday, December 8 in the club room of the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative building, with Mrs. Leon Hartman as hostess.

Mrs. R. L. Templeton led the club collect.

A short business session was held by Mrs. Bill Hatch, president.

Mrs. L. B. Bratten, program chairman, showed a film on juvenile delinquency, "A Thief of Tomorrow."

The film pointed out that theft can start in the very young and get worse as time goes by. Without proper care in a juvenile court the child may be sent to the local jail and on to the state training school. Cooperative efforts can bring about improved conditions for dealing with juvenile delinquents in the state, the group was told.

This cooperation is needed between volunteers and agency professionals, between public and private organizations, between all of the law enforcement officers of the state, Mrs. Bratten urged. Most important, the interest and cooperation of the informed citizen can help institute reforms.

Those attending were Mrs. Hatch, Mrs. Paul Spillman, Mrs. A. J. Fires, Mrs. Templeton, Mrs. Eddie Slay, Mrs. Cal Hurst, Mrs. Sam McGill, Mrs. Bratten, Mrs. Glen Taylor, Mrs. Roy Jeffreys, Mrs. Fred Cox, Mrs. Denzil Lacy, Mrs. E. W. Clement and Mrs. Hartman, the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Peebles and children of Masterson were here for the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peebles and other relatives.

Here to attend the silver wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Emmert were her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cass of Tulia and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Jones of Brownfield.

Visiting with relatives this week are Mrs. Sadie Holland, who is in Decatur, and Mrs. A. T. Lentz, in Fort Worth.

Mary-Martha Class Holds Luncheon

The Mary Martha Sunday School class of First Baptist Church met December 8 in the home of Mrs. Charles Slay for the monthly business meeting and a noon luncheon.

The invocation was given by Mrs. J. C. Baldwin, the devotion by Mrs. E. C. Clement. After a short business meeting Christmas gifts were exchanged from a beautifully decorated tree.

Fourteen members and one guest were present. Prayers were by Mrs. P. E. Lowrie and Mrs. J. C. Scott.

Susan Sullivan and Susan McKeever, both students at Texas Tech, visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sullivan over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cheatham of Garland spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Uselton.

Wellington State Bank Holds Annual Dinner for Employees, Stock Holders

The annual Wellington State Bank Christmas dinner was held Saturday evening, December 10, to honor officers, employees, directors and stockholders.

The event was held in the club room of Bura Handley community center.

As the bank frequently does, a Christmas musical program followed which was open to the public. This year's performers were the Nine Teens, nine girls and their accompanist, who are students in Haskell high school.

The organization is 8 years old, and the personnel changes as the girls graduate. The group is directed jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bell. He is principal of Haskell high school and she is a teacher.

The Nine Teens include Diane Hester, Peggy Thigpen, Patricia Toliver, Pamela Druess-endow, Sheila Gilliland, Patti

Jewell, Barbara Kimbrough, Martha Henderson, and Debbie Darnell, and Rita Woodard.

Their program was made up of Christmas songs, including carols, folk songs and Christmas music on a gayer note.

The Nine Teens has appeared before audiences throughout West Texas and at the conventions of statewide organizations.

Jack Neeley was master of ceremonies. Table decorations carried out the Christmas theme, with a blue and silver color scheme used.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bailey and Ted Bailey of Nocona, Mrs. Waddell Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Estes, Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, George Shadid, Mrs. Jimmie Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. Dee McDowell of

Memorial Established

Quail Book Donations to Honor J. D. Wilson

A section of memorial books for the late J. D. Wilson has been established in the library of the Quail school, E. P. Haynie, superintendent, announced this week.

Mr. Wilson, a school administrator for more than 40 years, was superintendent at Quail when he was stricken with a fatal illness.

Anyone wishing to donate a book or books in Mr. Wilson's memory may bring them to the library and contact Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, school librarian.

They may be for either elementary or high school children, and may be fiction, biography, history, or other types of literature.

Proper recognition will be given and the name of the donor will be placed in the book.

"Any time anyone wants to make a donation, we hope he will feel free to do so," said Mr. Haynie.

Mrs. J. D. Gibson has been in Lubbock for the past two weeks visiting her sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson.

Baked Potatoes Still a Favorite

A recent survey on vegetables served in restaurants concluded that baked potato remains the all-time favorite of vegetables in the United States. Mashed potatoes, green beans, french fried potatoes and asparagus were rated in the order listed.

The summary of this survey indicated that restaurant patrons would like a wider selection of vegetables. Homemakers might take a cue from this survey. The family vegetable pattern may be in a rut and could stand more variety. With the vegetable bins overflowing in choices at the stores, now would be the time to change the pace.

Party Tables Easy to Make

Easy-to-store party tables can be made from circles of plywood, cotton fabric and luggage racks. For table tops, use plywood circles from 26 to 30 inches in diameter. You can have them cut at a lumber yard. Cover the circles with rounds of bright cotton fabric using a waterproof glue to apply. Luggage racks will serve as table bases.

Permanent Press Available in Decorator Fabrics

COLLEGE STATION.—Fabrics with unending memories offer a new dimension in styling for the decorative fabrics field, says Mrs. Jane Berry, housing and home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University.

Because of the application of permanent or durable press to the decorative fabric area, fabric furnishings are on the threshold of a revolution in design. Several decorative fabric firms currently experimenting with durable press in the home furnishings area anticipate that the process will open new and unexplored vistas for styling.

The durable press process positively lives up to claims of absolutely no ironing after machine washing and ironing.

Durable press makes its debut on the markets in the curtain and drapery field. Ruffled curtains and bedspreads will be the primary targets in the durable press collection. A 50-50 blend of polyester and rayon will be featured in a broad-cloth.

Consumer acceptance of durable press in the home furnishings field is expected to be positive and immediate. Before the innovation of durable press, homemakers have not reacted favorably in accepting ruffled

Plan Guardian for Minor Children

Couples with minor children should make wills to provide for guardianship of their children. They should provide for someone to serve as guardian in the event both parents die in an accident or other cause.

When parents don't plan for custody of their children, family discord and separation of children sometimes occurs.

Parents can reduce this possibility by taking steps to insure that their wishes concerning guardianship of their children are carried out.

bedspreads and curtains because of the care factor involved.

New ideas for the use of durable press are popping up everywhere. A few of the possibilities include ruffles or pleated ruffles on curtains; draperies with cartridge or knife pleats; folding doors using fabrics that hold their shape; bedspreads and dust ruffles; sheets with accordion pleated accents; and Roman shades, shower curtains, lamp shades, table cloths, slip covers and upholstery.

Permanent press fabric furnishings may cost slightly more, but they are anticipated to be worth the difference in easier maintenance and continued good looks.

Sweetheart Named

FFA Chapter Hosts the District Banquet

Wellington Future Farmers were hosts for the annual Future Farmers of America Greenbelt District banquet on Monday evening, Dec. 12, a highlight of the year for FFA chapters of the Southwest Panhandle.

Gayle Lane, 17-year-old Turkey high school senior, was chosen District FFA Sweetheart, and the talent entry from Turkey, three guitars and a drum, was the winner in that category. Team members were Rod Adamson, Rickey Moseley, Rod Setliff and Russell Barnhill. Their advisor is Jay Eudy.

Wellington's chapter sweetheart, Mitzie Hartman, was runner up in the sweetheart contest. The two were tied in the runoff vote and a second vote was held to determine the winner. If Gayle is unable to compete in the area sweetheart contest, Mitzie will replace her.

Second place in the talent contest went to the entry from Kirkland, a pianist, while a singing-guitar duo from Hedley, Johnny Woodard and Ronnie Bolin, was third.

The new sweetheart is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lane of Turkey and is this year's football sweetheart, FFA sweetheart, and cheerleader. She has played basketball four years, served as an FFA officer and last year was chosen best all round girl in the high school.

Greenbelt District president Jimmy Jones of Paducah, was master of ceremonies and presided at the opening ceremonies by district officers.

Billy Neeley, Wellington FFA president, welcomed the visitors and Don Lacy, Wellington FFA advisor, introduced special guests. Among these was Walter Labay of Plainview, the area FFA supervisor since 1949.

Leadership teams which won in the district leadership contests held in November received their banners from the district president.

John R. Henard was chairman of the Sweetheart contest and Freddy Mayhugh directed the talent contest.

Chapter members, sweethearts, and advisors attended from Quail, Samnorwood, Childress, Estelline, Memphis, Turkey, Lakeview, Clarendon and Hedley.

Poverty Declines With Education

COLLEGE STATION.—Poverty is more widespread among Spanish-Americans in Texas than in other Southwestern States.

The 139,663 families of Spanish surname in Texas whose incomes were less than $3,000 constituted nearly 52 percent of all Mexican-American families in the state and 57 percent of all poor Latin-Americans in the five states of Arizona, California, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

These are among the findings of a study recently completed by W. K. Upham and D. E. Wright of Texas A&M University's Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.

Since the average Spanish-American family had 4.6 members compared with 3.2 for Anglo-white and 3.4 for Negroes, the relative economic and social deprivation would appear even greater for the Latins, say the researchers.

Analyzing the 67 counties with the largest Latin populations, containing 93 percent of the Spanish families, Upham and Wright found the incidence of poverty ranged from a low of 18 percent in Jefferson county to a high of 83 percent in Dimmitt county. In every case the Spanish-American poverty rate was higher than that of Anglo families, and in 13 cases the Spanish family poverty rate was at least three times as high as that for the remainder of the population.

The researchers urge that attention be directed to the educational approach to poverty, among others, since their study shows a clear relationship between poverty and the lack of education.

No real progress is likely to be made unless a way can be found to raise educational levels among the state's least educated major group, conclude Upham and Wright. They believe the problem may best be approached at the local level.

Club Views Christmas Slides

The Belle Lettres Club met Tuesday evening, December 6 with Mrs. S. B. Owen as hostess.

Mrs. Owen conducted the business meeting, Mrs. L. M. Bartlett read the minutes and Mrs. Dick Richards gave the treasurer's report.

The club voted to make a donation to Boys Ranch, also to pay on the risers to be used at the Bure Handley community center.

Mrs. Bob McAlister led the club in reading the collect.

The program, "Christmas Around the World," was under the direction of Mrs. Owen, who presented Mrs. Ellis Todd, who narrated and showed slides made during Rev. and Mrs. Todd's recent trip to Europe and the Near East.

Included in these slides were the beauty of France, the Vatican in Rome, and scenes in England. Of interest from the Holy Land were pictures of the Church of the Nativity, Golgotha, Lazarus' tomb, and many others.

A salad course was served to Mrs. Bob Hightower, Mrs. Bryan Denley, Mrs. Joe Stowell, Mrs. Dick Richards, Mrs. L. M. Bartlett, Mrs. A. B. Clark, Mrs. Jim Wood, Mrs. Bob McAlister, Mrs. Bernice Welch, Mrs. Coy Vaughan, Mrs. Frank Hatch, Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. Howard Riggs, Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Anita White and the hostess, Mrs. Owen.

'Amal' Reviewed for Excelsior

The Excelsior Club held its Christmas party at the Greenbelt Rural Electric Cooperative Inc. directors room Monday evening, December 12. Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch was hostess and program chairman.

The room was decorated for the Christmas season. Mrs. Barjenbruch reviewed the contemporary Christmas opera, "Amal and the Night Visitors", the music for which was composed by Gian Carlo Minotti.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Miss Sara Jones, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Mrs. D. C. Powell, Mrs. Henry Vaughan, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Miss Marie Shadid, Miss Rose Shadid, Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. Lowell Wells and the hostess, Mrs. Barjenbruch.

Later, gifts were exchanged from the decorated tree.

Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson were in Lubbock Tuesday night of last week to attend "The Carol of Lights" at Texas Technological College. Their two daughters, Karen and Linda were among the singers. Week end visitors in the Richardson home were the two girls and Miss Connie Burkett, a Tech student from Grand Prairie.

Who's New in the Wellington Area

Airman First Class and Mrs. James M. Ingram are the parents of a son, Lonnie Heath, born Tuesday, December 13 in Hall County Hospital at Memphis. He weighed ten pounds, seven and one-half ounces. Mr. Ingram is serving with the Air Force in Viet Nam. Mrs. Ingram, the former Lonette Neeley, is living at Quail while her husband is overseas.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

A NEGRO LEADER SPEAKS

George S. Schuyler, who for 35 years has been America's best known Negro journalist, has written an autobiography which performs a great service to the nation at a time of crisis. From the viewpoint of a uniquely-informed citizen leader who has worked effectively for the advancement of Negro opportunity in America through 50 years of a distinguished career, he spotlights two elements in the 1966 racial rioting which many Negro and White "Civil Rights" leaders deny or seek to cover up. These two elements are: (1) Negro agitation for agitation's sake; and (2) the Communist power behind the agitation and the disturbances.

The autobiography is entitled Black and Conservative (Arlington House, New Rochelle, N. Y.). Like some others on the rather short list of conservative journalists of today, George Schuyler became a conservative in his political and economic philosophy after intimately examining Socialism for a short time as a Socialist Party member. As a Socialist he associated with national and international leaders in the Communist as well as the Socialist movement. As he saw the Communist and their dupes among the Socialists plotting to "use" the Negro community of America to advance Communist objectives, he fell out with most American radicals. And from 1930 until today a part of his dedication has been to alert the Negroes of America to the evil and destructive nature of Communism.

Recognized for Talents

For nearly 35 years, George Schuyler has written a column in the Pittsburg Courier, largest circulation Negro newspaper in America. He has written a number of books and has contributed to Reader's Digest, American Mercury (he was a personal friend of the late H. L. Mencken), and to other internationally known publications. In his Socialist days and until his outspoken anti-Communist lost him the fraternity of leftwingers, he contributed to Socialist, Communist and other "liberal"-oriented publications.

He has worked constantly in causes to advance the American Negro, with the NAACP, the Urban League, and the leadership capacities with such men as Walter White, former national NAACP director, and Roy Wilkins, present director. Since the first of the Negro "riots" (in Watts, Los Angeles), columnist Schuyler has contended that their outbreak could not be attributed to congestion and racial deprivation.

"Civil Rights Mobs"

In his book, he says: "People who should have known better, including supposedly responsible leaders of civil rights movements, repeated the made-to-order alibis that the Hunnish outrages (in Watts and elsewhere) were caused by 'ghetto' congestion, job discrimination, de facto school segregation, cultural deprivation and 'police brutality.'" The latter charge, which has the least validity of all, is a part of the technique used by the international Communist conspiracy against the police in capitalist countries, as detailed in U. S. government documents published a decade earlier. It is designed to undermine public faith and confidence in the police as preservers of the public peace and property.

"With shameless and irresponsible abandon, those designated as Negro leaders and the various news media exaggerated every incident that could be constructed as an exercise of excessive police force, without any regard to the provocation.

FORKED TONGUE
Joey Bishop explains to Dean Martin that "Indian speak with forked tongue" is an old Indian expression because "old Indian say it," in Universal's spoof of the early West, "Texas Across the River," in Technicolor. Showing at the Ritz Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The use of fire-hoses, tear gas, and dogs was cited with horror, as if these were not true and tried methods of mob control the world over. There was only the mildest criticism of men like Dr. Martin Luther King and James Farmer who had organized these mobs to march to the city centers for confrontation with the "white power structure" in order to compel the authorities, through sheer physical force, to accede to their demands. This is non-violence?"

Defends Police

"My own observation has been that there is a minimum use of excessive force by the police, whose official duty it is to use force whenever necessary. That is what the police are paid to do everywhere and in some situations they are the only barrier against chaos. The objective of the civil rights activities is clearly to inhibit the police so severely that they will be over-tolerant toward nuisance demonstrations that can lead to open rebellion. In short, they want to handcuff the police."

"A real unity of purpose and accomplishment on the racial front," Mr. Schuyler believes, "can only be brought about by a realistic appraisal of public events and personalities, and not by accepting what is said and done on face value. The issue is much too serious to permit a handful of dreamers and self-serving schemers to divide the country further, increase irritation, resentment and hatred, and thus hasten the likelihood of civil strife, which has been the goal of the international Communist conspiracy for more than 40 years."

Wallace Shiflett Dies at Dimmitt

Wallace Shiflett died with a heart attack at 7:45 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 4 at Dimmitt. He and his wife, Hazel, moved to Wellington from California and lived here between 1950 and 1956. He farmed the D. E. Nord farm east of town and also managed F. O. Masten's farm. Mr. Shiflett and his wife moved to Dimmitt after leaving Wellington, where he managed a large irrigated acreage for Mr. Masten. They remained on the high plains since.

Mr. Shiflett was born June 6, 1921 in Illinois Bend and moved with his family at the age of three years to Fletcher, Okla., where he graduated from high school before volunteering for the Navy during World War II. He served three and a half years of active duty, mostly at sea.

His body was taken to Fletcher, Okla., for burial services in the family plot. Services were conducted from the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Lovejoy officiating.

Going with Mrs. Shiflett from Wellington were Mrs. Dick Sweat, Mrs. Muri Lacy and Mr. Masten.

Cards of Thanks

May we extend our heartfelt thanks to those who expressed sympathy in so many thoughtful ways during our recent bereavement. We especially appreciate the women of First Baptist Church who served food to the family. Your kindnesses have meant much to us.
The family of Mrs. E. M. Trew.

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for the many calls, visits, food and flowers received during the illness and death of my brother, Merit Wilks.

Mrs. Creed Hill.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the people of Wellington, Texas, of whom I consider the Salt of the Earth, for the beautiful flowers and cards and for your many prayers. I want to thank each dear one for their warm words of comfort given to me, in the loss of Wallace Shiflett, the one I loved so dearly, as I know you all did.

To thank Mrs. Dick Sweat, Mrs. Muri Lacy and Mr. F. O. Masten, for making the trip with me.

Words are inadequate to tell you all how very much your warmth meant to me, in my time of great sorrow. May God bless you all in my prayer.

Hazel Shiflett
1645 8th St.
Lubbock, Texas 79408.

With grateful hearts we thank all those who did so much to help us in our time of grief. The kindness and thoughtfulness shown us was indeed appreciated.

Friends, you will never know how much your thoughtfulness has meant to us. How comforting it was to have such wonderful friends in our time of sorrow.

For your prayers, the food, the beautiful floral offerings, contributions to the Baptist church building fund and cemetery association, to the people who sat in the hospital, the hospital staff and doctors, and Bro. Earnest, we say thank you.

May God's richest blessings be yours in our prayer. You will always have a special place in our hearts.
Thank you sincerely,
The family of J. I. Thomas.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives and friends for their cards, letters and prayers during the illness of our dear husband and father, and for the expressions of sympathy after his death on Nov. 15. Your loving concern has made our grief easier to bear.

Panhandle Economic Program A Workable Action Plan

Those who attended the Panhandle Economic Program kick-off meeting in Memphis Thursday, Dec. 8, heard one of the most down-to-earth proposals made in recent years to better the economic position of this part of the state.

PEP, as it is known, is a plan for action. It proposes nothing we do not already know and nothing out of our reach. It does show how we can put our knowledge to work and what it will mean in dollars and cents. Much of it can be done by the farmer individually.

James Murphy, area farm management specialist for Texas A&M University worked up the information on which the program is based, and he has estimated what can be added to the Panhandle income if the various phases are carried out to their fullest. Ultimately, these could mean more than $725,000,000 added to the income of the Panhandle EACH YEAR. And the southeast Panhandle, he added, is in a position to secure more than its share of this new income.

PEP explores, among other things, conservation of water and land, reduced production costs, new crops and livestock activities, market development, labor saving devices, sound financial management and a number of others.

To get the information he needed for the Panhandle Economic Report, Mr. Murphrey visited all of the 26 counties included and talked to farmers, ranchers, business men, bankers and others who could give him facts first hand. It is probably the most comprehensive survey ever made of the Panhandle economy.

We will hear much of PEP in coming months and it will be based on these facts.

The Panhandle Economic Program will be carried into each county, there to be handled through Program Building Committees. These will further explore its possibilities as they apply locally. The Program Building Committee will be organized in Collingsworth within a few weeks.

All other agricultural agencies join with the Extension Service in the Panhandle Economic Program, but most important of all in carrying it out will be the people.

How Many Miles to Canyon?

Progress is progress, and we wouldn't have it any other way, but sometimes it is a big confusing.

Take the Texas Highway Department, for instance: these stalwart individuals have completely dispelled our faith in the little black and white road markers.

Lo, these many years it was considered in round figures: "30 miles to Canyon;" then they built the fancy, new four-lane highway and all of a sudden, out pop signs heralding the distance as 32 miles. Being consistent, the signs from Canyon back this way also declares the distance to be 32 miles.

The thing that really gets us, though, are the intermediate signs: Dawn to Hereford, 13 miles; Dawn to Umbarger, 7 miles; Umbarger to Canyon 10 miles. Total 30 miles. The only logical answer is that the highway department is using some of that new-fangled, modern arithmetic. Anyway, we can only cross our fingers and hope that the engineering department is not using the same type of calculus in running their grades.

To further complicate matters, the sign this side of Canyon says it is 17 miles to Amarillo, and another sign on the E-way, some mile or two further along the route, still insists that it is 17 miles to Amarillo. But, when one starts back, the sign at the Amarillo city limits blatantly declares that it is only 13 miles to Canyon.

We decided that the department, after all of these years, of estimating signs on "city limits to city limits," must be running their signs into the heart of town, or maybe to the city limits on the other side of town.

In desperation for want of the real distance from Hereford to Canyon, we carefully wrote down our speedometer reading, drove to Canyon and recorded a total mileage of 27.9 miles.

Our final conclusion was to adapt another of these popular black and white road markers to say: "If you Figure Highway Signs, Don't Drink."

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW:

By Roger W. Babson FREE-WORLD CRISIS IN EDUCATION

The poverty and hunger that grip so many of the free nations of the world cannot be permanently allayed without sufficient education. It is important not only for children to be taught their letters and their sums, but youngsters must also be kept in school long enough to learn discipline and valuable skills.

School Problems Here at Home

Many authorities on education are disturbed by the lack of progress made in the United States toward bringing equal and adequate education to all of our boys and girls. Earlier this year, Congress was sufficiently impressed to pass legislation providing news aids to education. The drop-out problem has been carefully studied, and the fact emphasized that drop-outs make far less when they go to work than do graduates . . . and that their learning power, motivation and adaptability are likely to be sadly lacking.

But we in the U.S. are at least sharply aware of the value of basic education, and we are determined to do all that we can to better our schools and universities. This country spent some $39 billion on education last year, recognizing that only through training our young can we assure cultural, social, and economic advancement for all our citizens. And we are not likely to permit outlays for defense or space projects or foreign aid to slow our expansion of educational plant and teaching manpower.

Tragic Comparisons Abroad

The statistics on developing free nations make our worries appear trivial, until we realize that peace and liberty will be ensured for all of us only if our brothers in those countries learn to provide for themselves and keep themselves free. Education is the essential lever for this. Yet it is estimated that more than a quarter of a billion children from 5 to 14 years of age in the developing nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America will not have gone to school at all in 1966. Add to this the bitter fact that about half of the adult population in these non-Communist countries of the earth — amounting to nearly 750 million — cannot read or write.

Reports from the United Nations indicate that there has been an increase of approximately 200 million in the total of the world's illiterates in the past six years, probably due mostly to population growth.

Even this figure is considered by demographic experts to be optimistic. They point out that struggling countries want to make their educational picture look as bright as possible — so many of the estimates may well be below the actual totals.

Long, Hard Road Ahead

Some idea as to the desperation of the school situation, even in some of the more ambitious free nations, may be gathered from the fact that India expended only the equivalent of $17.6 million on education during the latest year of record. Compare this with our own $39 billion in 1965. For the Indian child, this means a per-pupil outlay of perhaps 32¢ annually — barely enough to pay for books and teachers for the few children who actually do get to school.

Statistics show that about 132 million young Indians are not getting any formal education at all. And, all the time, India's population is soaring upward by at least 12 million annually. Some idea of the enormity of the problem may be gained from the knowledge that India's gross national income in 1963 was only $32 billion, less than the United States lays out

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Our New Morality requires the courts to deal tenderly with killers and robbers and other people-pillagers, on account of their having got Constitutional Rights.

The pitch is that these ruffians are due loving care because society has underprivileged them so much they are mentally upset.

But my third-degree taxpayer neighbor notes that folks being checked for tax delinquency are not entitled to these special Constitutional Rights for the unbalanced, on the theory that anybody wishing to keep his taxes down is not crazy.

I see where national brother-in-law Sargent Shriver says it's our tightwad, billion-pinch Congress which is to blame for his War on Poverty being bogged down.

Seems this frugal body only gave him money enough to pay his under-warriors $15,000 or $20,000 a year each, and you can't really expect much from cheap help like that.

Back when we paid Congressmen a measly $10,000, it sometimes took them weeks to spend a billion. But now at $30,000 plus fringes, they can spend $4 or $5 billion between coffee breaks.

Voters in Nebraska went to the polls a while back and abolished their state income tax and property taxes.

Seems obvious the Nebraska statesmen let their grip slip there for a minute, or they wouldn't have given their people a chance to vote "yes" or "no" on taxes.

If we ever got to vote nationally for or against taxes, we would have to start using the Selective Service draft system to populate Congress for education alone.

Knowledge Key to World
Future

Now that swift transportation and instant communication have made us One World, whether we like it or not, education for the Free World becomes practically as important to the United States as education for our own people. For what is now "crisis in the developing nations" can become "catastrophe for the Free World" if more fortunately situated countries do not work to raise the knowledge, skills, and hope of peoples caught in ignorance, want and despair.

and the bureaus, and a lot of now deeply dedicated public servants would be burning their draft cards.

VA Ready for Income Forms

The Veterans Administration is setting up eight regional centers, relocating key personnel and streamlining addressed answer forms to make it easier for more than 2,000,000 veterans and their dependents to return annual income questionnaires.

The VA mails these income questionnaires to all pensioners and to parents who receive dependency and indemnity compensation because payments are based on incomes.

The questionnaire form will be mailed out with the November checks, normally received early in December.

The forms must be returned before Jan. 31, 1967, or those on pension rolls face the possibility of having payments stopped.

The form, which bears the return address, must not be mutilated, folded or cut because it will be processed several times through electronic equipment.

The processing centers will be in Philadelphia, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, St. Paul, Seattle and Washington.

Home-Baked Delicacies Make Welcome Gifts for Christmastide

By Leta Kees
Home Demonstration Agent

An expression of your love and friendship at this season of the year can best be made with something from your kitchen. Everyone welcomes sweets—meats gaily wrapped and tied with Christmas ribbon.

One pound fruit cakes and larger decorated with candied fruits and nuts and wrapped in cellophane are beautiful and most acceptable. Quick breads baked in pound coffee cans are very easy. Then decorate the can as gaily as you want. A box of homemade jams, preserves or jellies put in uniform jars and wrapped in holiday attire would be hard to resist. Fill a cookie jar (such as an old glass topped fruit jar) with luscious homemade cookies—decorated or plain.

If you are good at cooking yeast breads, make some Christmas stollen or loaves of bread. Wrap attractively and presto—your next door neighbor and other friends welcome your thoughtfulness. Aluminum foil is always attractive for wrapping and protecting gifts of food.

Pack cookies in decorative tins, decorated coffee cans, gaily wrapped boxes or baskets. They will truly be enjoyed throughout the holiday season.

Homemade candies are always popular. You can make them several days ahead of time and pack in boxes.

Bottles of homemade salad dressings are another good idea for Christmas giving.

Gala popcorn balls and peanuts wrapped in colored cellophane and tied with bright ribbon are good gifts for children.

Other ideas for Christmas gifts are wooden bowls filled with Texas pecans and a nut cracker; a Mexican basket filled with colorful fruits and homemade sandwich spreads in pottery jars. Canned meats, vegetables or fruits from your pantry shelf would make lovely gifts.

No matter what you decide to give from your kitchen, it will be appreciated and you will be remembered for a gift with a personal touch.

Would you like to try some new or different recipes this Christmas season? Here is a few you might enjoy giving:

LOUISIANA CARAMEL PRALINES

2 cups white granulated sugar
1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup granulated sugar
1 or 2 teaspoons vanilla
2½ cups chopped pecans (these may be toasted)
2 tablespoons butter

Place 2 cups of sugar and milk in a large saucepan. Cook slowly, stirring often. At same time put other cup of sugar in another saucepan on low heat; stir until melted. Pour slowly into the milk and sugar that should be ready to boil; stir while adding. Cook slowly until a firm ball will form when dropped into cold water (233 degrees.) Set off the heat. Add vanilla, pecans, and butter. Beat or stir until this begins to thicken. Drop by spoonfuls as small as desired on wax paper. Should set up immediately.

CHEESE STICKS

¾ cup grated cheese
½ cup shortening
1¼ cup flour
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cayenne pepper
¼ cup cold water

Mix flour, shortening. Stir in salt, pepper, cheese, cold water. Roll on floured board and cut into sticks 4 inches long. Bake in hot oven until dry.

then wrapped individually in clean or colored cellophane. Many other suggestions for delicious Christmas gifts are given below.

Quail Club Honors Husbands With Christmas Dinner Saturday

One festive event of the holiday season was the annual Christmas dinner of the Quail Friendship Club, held Saturday evening, December 10, in the homemaking cottage at Quail school. All members and their husbands were honored.

The dinner table was illuminated with soft candlelight. The traditional dinner was served buffet style. Tom Crabtree gave the invocation.

The social committee was composed of Mrs. Pat O'Hair, Mrs. Ray Godbey, Mrs. John Bishop, Mrs. E. F. Branmer. They directed the games and helped pass out the gifts from under the Christmas tree.

Members and their husbands attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Hair, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fielding, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Godbey, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crabtree, Mary Clay, Ira Morgan and guests, Mrs. Oatman and Jimmy Peggram.

Auxiliary Plans Christmas Baskets

Members of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary will provide baskets for needy families at Christmas, according to Mrs. Edd Henard, who is helping with arrangements.

All members and anyone else who is interested are urged to bring gifts of food, toys or clothing for small children to the staff room of St. Joseph's Hospital by Friday, Dec. 23.

Lillie Club Has Christmas Party

Members of the Lillie Home Demonstration Club held their annual Christmas party Thursday, December 8, in the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., directors room. Mrs. John Alf Thomas and Mrs. Ralph Tennison were co-hostesses.

The program, "The Teaching of Jesus and Why We Celebrate Christmas," was given by Mrs. Tennison. Group singing and games completed the program, then refreshments in keeping with the holiday season were served.

The table was decorated with a red linen cloth and red net Christmas tree. Gifts were exchanged from a large decorated tree.

Members present were Mrs. Mack Horton, Mrs. L. M. Bartlett, Mrs. Ozro Bartlett, Mrs. Bill Langford, Mrs. Zook Thomas, Mrs. Henry Langford, Mrs. Dudley Phipps, Mrs. Elmer Haralson, Mrs. Haskell Manuel, Mrs. A. M. Saunders, Mrs. L. W. Wells, Miss Loleta Kees, LaVondia Thomas, and the hostesses, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Tennison.

Carryover of Short Staple Cotton Down

The amount of cotton stapling one inch and shorter in the U.S. carryover on Aug. 1, 1966, was over 1.3 million bales less than was originally reported by USDA in its September issue of "Cotton Quality—Supply, Disappearance and Carryover."

Revised figures were published by USDA in November, showing 7,022,367 bales one inch and shorter as opposed to 8,347,739 bales in the first report. This brings cotton one inch and shorter in the carryover down from 50.4 percent of the total to 42.6 percent.

There was an offsetting error in cotton with staples of 1 1/32 and 1 1/16 inches. The total for these two length categories was actually 8,411,574 bales, 50.7 percent, instead of the 7,110,097 bales and 42.9 percent of the total shown in the first report.

Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., said PCG was aware of the error before the revised report was published. PCG learned of the mistake through investigations connected with a short staple market and supply survey it had requested. The survey is being made for PCG by economists with the National Cotton Council.

Johnson went on to say that this certainly does not solve the problem of too much short staple cotton, but "it does make a significant change in the overall picture." As soon as the error was discovered, USDA assured PCG that a revised report would be issued.

Stanley Rademaker, director of the Agricultural Marketing Service's Cotton Division, said the error was the result of a slight change in the warehouse sampling procedure used to compute quality distribution of the carryover.

About 30 widespread warehouses were used as a sample, and by accident three of those chosen were warehouses where West Texas cotton had been reconcentrated, according to Rademaker.

SALT SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

TERRACING SEASON IN FULL SWING

By Stephen Qualls

Parallel terracing installation has begun about one month prior to last year's date due to the early crop harvest in the district this year.

There are several people who plan to install their parallel terracing system this winter.

The majority of the terraces to be installed will be cost-shared under the Great Plains Conservation Program, which provides 70% cost share. However there have been several ACP applications for parallel terraces received.

The first system of terraces to be installed this winter are on the Porter Lambert farm. This project is about one half completed at this time.

This should be a record year

FW&D Cuts Dallas-Denver Train Service

Following approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission this week, the Fort Worth and Denver Railway has announced discontinuance of passenger trains Nos. 1 and 8 between Dallas-Fort Worth and Denver, effective with the trains leaving these terminals on Dec. 15. The trains are operated jointly by the FW&D and its Denver-based affiliate, the Colorado and Southern.

This change will leave one passenger train in each direction daily between Dallas-Fort Worth and Denver, designated as the Texas Zephyr. The northbound train will leave Dallas at 1:35 p.m., Fort Worth at 2:50 p.m., and arrive Denver at 7 a.m. Southbound, the train will leave Denver at 8 p.m. and arrive Fort Worth 3:55 p.m. and Dallas 5 p.m.

In announcing the cut in service, FW&D officials emphasized that the remaining trains will be operated with modern stainless steel equipment, providing chair car, dining car and Pullman service.

In recent hearings held by the Interstate Commerce Commission, railroad witnesses testified that trains 1 and 8 lost $266,758 during the first six

In its decision released on Tuesday, the Commission said "We find that operation by the Colorado and Southern Railway Company and Fort Worth and Denver Railway Company of passenger trains Nos. 1 and 8 between Dallas, Texas, and Denver, Colo., is not required by the public convenience and necessity and that continued operation thereof would unduly burden interstate or foreign commerce."

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN.— A bond-financing program for $82,000,000 to acquire and develop state parks is talked by Gov. John Connally.

This would increase the present 60,000 acres in parks to 150,960 by 1979. It would emphasize water-oriented outdoor recreation facilities, along with executive budget proposals for the Parks and Wildlife Department, 1968-96.

Plans call for:

—Twenty-six water-based recreation areas of 61,000 acres in seven regions.

—Twenty scenic and unique areas covering 84,395 acres for "passive and educational use."

—Forty-four significant, historic sites (5,565 acres) "to complete a tourist network of sightseeing stops."

Connally proposes a Constitutional Amendment to authorize a $75,000,000 bond issue over a 10-year period.

Bonds would be repaid from park entry fees of not less than $1 a car per trip. Another $7,000,000 in federal aid is foreseen.

While Texas population has increased 62% during the last 20 years and park use is expected to more than double by 1990, the number and size of state parks has remained unchanged.

Executive plan, proposing parks of 1,000 to 5,000 acres, advocates coordination of land buying with construction of major reservoirs under the Texas water plan.

Although the exact location of 26 outdoor recreation areas, backbone of the new system, has not been pinpointed, the governor's plan recommends the following distribution:

Region 1: (Lubbock and Amarillo areas) two parks, 3,500 acres.

Region 2: (East Texas, Dallas, Fort Worth, Texarkana and Waco) seven parks, 13,000 acres.

Region 3: (Upper Gulf Coast, Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur and Victoria areas) nine parks, 24,500 acres.

Region 4: (San Antonio, Austin, Hill Country areas) five parks, 11,000 acres.

Region 5: (West Texas, Abilene, San Angelo, Midland and Odessa areas) one park, 1,000 acres.

Region 6: (El Paso area) one park, 5,000 acres.

Region 7: (Rio Grande Valley, Corpus Christi, Brownsville and Harlingen areas) one park, 3,000 acres.

Governor's proposed budget for the Parks-Wildlife Department for 1968-69 totaled $26,000,000. This is an increase of $6,700,000 over the present $19,300,000.

Tax or Not to Tax?

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith disagrees with Gov. Connally's forecast that new state taxes are inevitable.

Legislative Budget Board's spending recommendations for 1968-69 are based on an anticipated $850,000,000 in general revenue from present taxes, plus the balance on hand at the start of the next fiscal period. That would permit a spending increase of $220,000,000.

Connally's spending recommendations are some $120,000,000 above the board's.

Appointments Announced

Burton G. Hackney, 59, attorney of Brownfield and chairman of the State Board of Public Welfare for eight years, was chosen by the board to succeed the late John H. Winters as welfare commissioner.

Herbert C. Wilson, assistant commissioner, will head the department pending Hackney's move to Austin.

Joe D. Carter, Texas Water Rights Commission chairman and former Sherman legislator, was named chairman of the Interstate Conference on Water Problems at a meeting in Phoenix.

E. G. Morrison, Austin, was appointed to the University of Texas Development Board.

Gov. Connally's top aide, Larry Temple, announced at the freshman legislators' orientation school that the governor will name a new press secretary. Post has been vacant since George Christian joined President Johnson's staff.

Hood Bid Rejected

After a stormy hearing Texas Aeronautics Commission rejected Hood Airlines' request for authority to use DC-3 type planes on its Killeen-to-Dallas run.

Trans-Texas and Braniff Airways opposed Hood's request. TAC said no new facts were developed to warrant changing its policy limiting commuter airlines to planes under 12,500 pounds.

Hood serves Fort Hood, and also has flights to McGregor, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge, Houston, Dallas and Ft. Worth.

Oysters Undamaged

Live oyster reefs in Galveston Bay have suffered practically no damage since shell

1967 KIWANIS OFFICERS

New officers of the Wellington Kiwanis Club were installed at the annual banquet Tuesday evening, Dec. 6. Denver Powell, at left, is the new president, and other officers, reading toward the right, are Lonnie Dement, secretary; Dee Burba, first vice president; and the Rev. Ronald Crosley, second vice president. Unable to attend the installation was Dick Pendleton, treasurer.

dredgers were allowed to operate closer to them three years ago, according to J. R. Singleton, director of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Singleton said dredging has remained stable during the last decade, while live oyster harvests have increased.

No changes in the controversial dredging regulations are contemplated, although P&W field procedures on oysters may be altered.

Screwworm Problem

Screwworm flies which are infiltrating into Texas may force the Texas Animal Health Commission to pass a regulation to keep the insects south of the border.

Currently, infected cattle are not allowed to be imported into Texas. But they are kept at the border where the insects hatch and fly across the Rio Grande anyway.

Commission is considering a rule prohibiting the import into Texas of any cattle from a herd in which diseased cattle are found.

This rule, it is reasoned, will force the importer to return his entire herd to the ranch, thus keeping the screwworm larvae away from the border. No action has been taken, and none will be necessary if ranchers take steps on their own.

Pit Ban Argued

Oil associations clashed at the Railroad Commission hearing over a proposed statewide ban on salt water disposal pits. Some expressed fear that the federal government might enact such an order if the state doesn't. Others called the proposal arbitrary and of questionable legality.

Commission has banned salt water pits in oil fields in 43 counties on grounds they endanger underground fresh water supplies.

47 Will Die

Predicted by the Department of Public Safety are 47 deaths in traffic accidents for the Christmas holiday week end.

Says Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS director, "We are going to undertake one of the most intensive safety efforts ever, in hopes of reducing this figure." Several state agencies and organizations interested in safety are working hand-in-hand with the department to help hold down the toll as much as possible.

"Operation Deathwatch" will be conducted from 6 p.m. Dec. 23 until midnight, Dec. 26, to focus attention on the dangers involved in holiday travel.

"Deathwatch" will be resumed at 6 p.m. Dec. 30 and continue until midnight, Jan. 2. It is predicted that 36 persons will die in traffic accidents during that period.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, December 15, 1966

Some 150 additional patrolmen will be on duty in an effort to reduce the toll.

In terms of lives lost and property damage 1966 to date has been the most terrible in Texas history.

Texas Business Down

Texas business activity dropped in October for the second month in a row. Decrease was 5%. Activity still was 10% above the October 1965 figure, according to Dr. Francis B. May of UT's Bureau of Business Research.

An increase in business activity for the first 10 months of this year was noted. Non-residential building permits led the field, running 20% over the first 10 months of last year.

Fighters Get Flags

About 105 Texans now fighting in Vietnam are going to have at least one present from home for Christmas — a Texas flag.

Servicemen wrote in asking for Texas flags, so John Hill, Secretary of State, answered each request with... "on behalf of Gov. Connally and the citizens of the State of Texas, I present you with the flag of the State of Texas."

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The Christmas lights of Wellington are vivid and varied enough to make a drive over town after dark interesting and exhilarating. As usual the lights and decorations of the rich people south of 15th Street are more ostentatious than those north of that street; but there are many commendable scenes and effects in the older part of town. Once again the decorations around the square with the giant star in the center make a worthwhile attraction. It gives you a sense of pride and a feeling of pleasure.

The stores are loaded this year. I can't recall when they have been so crowded with beautiful and attractive merchandise and the shoppers have been most active during the past few days. There is still a tremendous amount of last-minute shopping—too much in fact—but more and more people are striving to get most of their shopping done well in advance of Christmas.

When I was growing up I thought we celebrated Christmas on December 25 because that was the exact date of the birth of Jesus. You find nothing in the Bible setting the precise date. It is believed that the early Christians, assisted by historians and astronomers, decided that the date of Jesus' birth must have been about the time of the winter solstice. They selected December 25 hoping the Christian celebration would supplant the orgies of the Roman Saturnalia.

Many of the things we do at Christmas are heritages from pagan ancestors and have little connection with either the life or teachings of Christ. Therefore you find such things as the Yule log, the pig with an apple in his mouth, the wassail bowl, the Yule tree—all part of pagan celebrations and festivals that originated long before the time of Christ. Actually, Easter is the real religious time of the year in Christian countries and not Christmas.

To those of us who were children fifty and sixty years ago when farming was just beginning and most of the land was prairie, Christmas was quite different from the glittering affair it is today. Houses were few and far between even here on the town section. People visited at other times of the year; but Christmas was mainly a family affair. Stockings, real stockings not hosiery or socks, were hung carefully and hopefully by the bright-eyed youngsters and most of them felt rewarded and satisfied if they had a toy or three and their stockings were filled with apples, oranges, nuts and candy.

Gift giving was reserved mainly for Santa Claus and the storm of greeting cards and presents from nearly everyone close to you were customs that grew with the years as the manufacturers and merchants brought on more purely Christmas merchandise and used increased promotions and advertising.

If the gifts were skimpy in those early days, the food at holiday times was not. If anything it was more abundant. Today the mother of the house considers Christmas dinner satisfactory with one dessert; but half a century ago the family that did not have both cake and pie as well as several kinds of fruit, even though part of it might come from jars, simply was not having a very "big" holiday dinner. The same thing went for Thanksgiving. It was nothing to have more than two kinds of meat, baked ham with apple sauce or raisin sauce and of course dressing and turkey even though the turkey might be a big fat hen.

In those days there was no such thing as going to a grocery store and buying everything you would need for the feast a day or so ahead. Many of the fruits and vegetables on the Christmas table had been prepared with loving care months ahead and some of the special foods had been put up with Thanksgiving or Christmas dinners in mind. Often times the eggs that went into the cakes and pies, the egg custard and the egg nog had been put away weeks or months before in stone crocks and covered with salt and stored in a cool place for future use. The festive meal furnished an enormous amount of food; but it

Panhandle Economy Can Make Giant Strides

Twenty Collingsworth County residents, attending the kick-off meeting of the Panhandle Economic Program in Memphis Thursday, Dec. 8, heard Jim Murphrey, area farm management specialist for Texas A&M University tell how the southeast Panhandle can get more than its share of a potential more than $700,000,000 of new income per year which is possible for the Panhandle.

His program is the outgrowth of more than a year of study, and it is the forerunner of more meetings to be held in Panhandle counties beginning within the next few weeks.

Funeral Services Held Here for Mrs. E.M. Trew

Mrs. E. M. Trew, who came to the Rolla community as a young woman and lived in the county until about 18 years ago, died in Fort Worth Wednesday, Dec. 7. She had been in failing health in recent months.

Mr. Murphrey offered nothing that was out of the reach of any county and it covers the more efficient use of what is already here.

The areas of program interest outlined by him were: —Conservation and efficient use of both surface water and ground water, which can increase Panhandle income by $45,000,000 annually.

—Exploration of outside water sources and development of new programs, $100,000,000 annually.

—Selection of new crops and livestock activities and the development of markets, which could increase income by $350,000,000 per year in the 26-county area.

—More interrelation between agriculture and the petroleum industry.

—Application of sound financial management practices.

—Application of sound home management and consumer economic practices.

—Intensified research and educational efforts.

—Participation in government programs.

—Protection of human and animal health.

—Organized effort to identify, analyze, plan and implement programs to attack individual and community problems.

—Conservation and development of wildlife and recreational areas.

Attending from this county were Jim Moss, Jeff Wilson, Ben Meadors, Gary Reed, Jim Chappell, Millard Brown, Dan Henard, N. M. Higdon, Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, Dudley Phipps, Tom Cunningham, W. R. Breeding, Mrs. H. L. Jenkins, Dwayne Scott, Miss Leta Kees, Mrs. Monty Mitchell, L. A. Davis and Miss Virginia Robey.

Surviving Mrs. Trew are three sons, Dr. E. M. Trew of College Station, Thad B. Trew of Pulaski, Va., and Philip H. Trew of Fort Worth.

There are eight grandchildren.

Four brothers and five sisters also survive: Brent Tarter of Commerce, Jake Tarter and Bill Tarter of Wellington, J. D. Tarter of Akron, Ohio, Mrs. Dora Ryan of Grand Prairie, Mrs. John Trew of Wellington, Mrs. C. C. Hiett of Midland, Mrs. Dan Martin of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Harry Leonard of Fort Worth.

Mr. Trew preceded her in death Feb. 9, 1951.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Wellington Friday at 3:30 p.m. The Rev. Russell Pogue of Petersburg officiated. Burial was in the family plot in West Wellington Cemetery. The Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Palbearers were Bill Kelly of Littlefield, George Scott, O. B. Raburn, Cotter Hiett of Midland, Harry Leonard of Fort Worth, and William O'Rear.
