Clothes Drive Set Saturday

A community-wide clothing drive will be launched Saturday morning at 9 a. m. for the Salvation Army and Church World Service.

Boy Scouts, Troop 220, will help with the collection of used clothing and blankets.

Anyone having good used blankets or warm clothing are asked to bundle it together and place on your front porch in order to speed up the collection. There is a great need for blankets.

Clothing and blanket collection will be divided with half going to the Salvation Army for use in our area and half to be given to Church World Service, an interdenominational organization, for use in needy areas overseas.

Anyone living in the country that would like to help with the clothing drive is asked to bring their offering to the youth building of the Methodist Church which is located just north of the church. It may be left at any time Friday or Saturday.

Dist. Judge Rules Election To Stand

Results of the May 27 vote which created the Earth-Springs-Lake District are valid, and the election will stand.

That was the ruling handed down last Thursday morning by Dist. Judge Pat Boone Jr. as the second and final day of testimony in the election suit came to an end in his 154 District Court in Littlefield.

Boone categorically struck down contentions contained in a suit filed June 30 by 22 voters in the election against County Judge O. J. Mangum and County Attorney C. R. Wilkinson.

Most of those filing the original petition, in the name of Robert Akin et al, are residents of the Olton area.

Testimony ended about 11:30 a. m. in the second day of proceedings which were continued from a day-long court session Aug. 26.

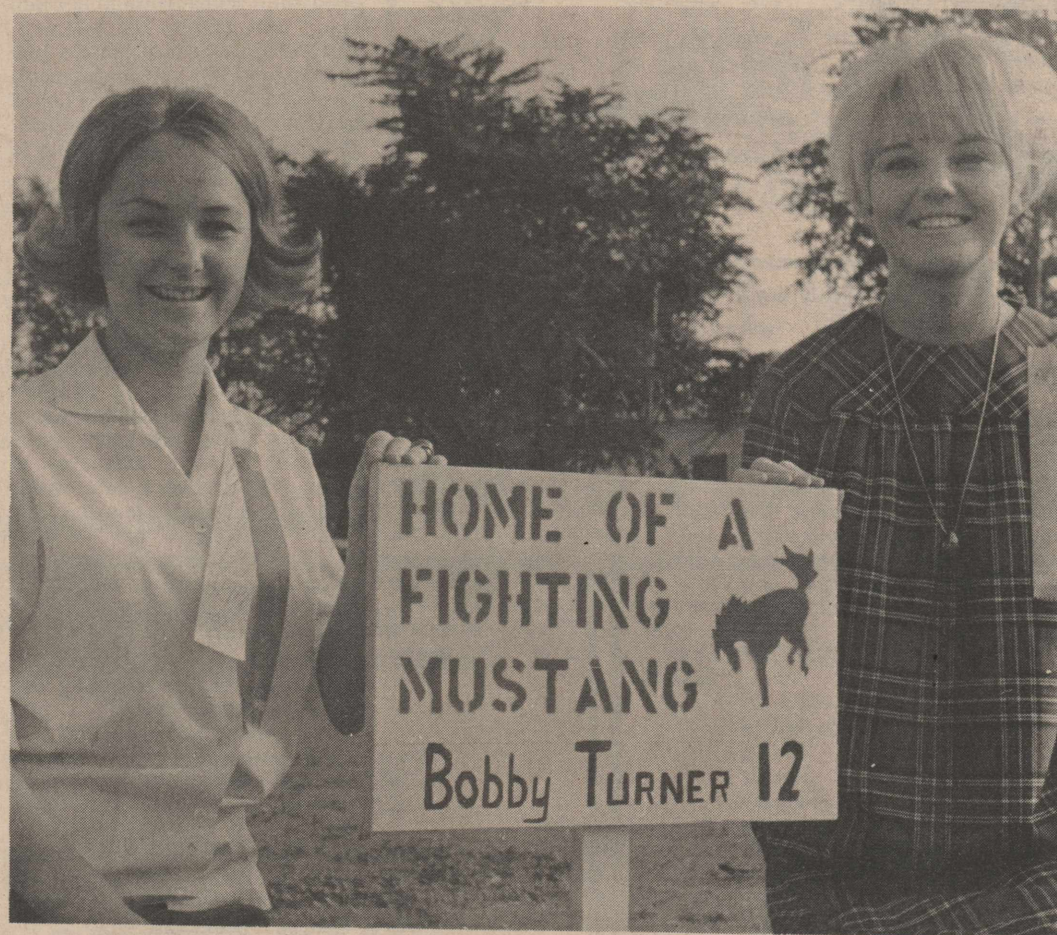

Boone overruled one of the main points of the petitioners' case Aug. 26 when he upheld the constitutionality of non-registered qualified voters over age 60 in the May balloting.

Lubbock attorney Reed Quilliam Jr., counsel for petitioners, opened the second day of questioning by contending that 16 persons had voted illegally while at least 17 other qualified voters had been "disenfranchised."

He told the court the 33 total "illegal" or "disenfranchised" votes constituted sufficient margin to decide the outcome of the election. (Prop-

GAME TIME CHANGED

Kickoff of the Olton-Hereford football game, originally set for 8 p. m. Friday has been moved back half an hour to 8:30 p. m., according to School Supt. Ray Schultz.

Agreement to delay the start of play was made this week by superintendents of the two schools involved to help reduce sunlight on the field, thereby eliminating glare on motion picture camera lens and allowing for better filming of the action.

PERFECT GUESSES WIN FOOTBALL CASH PRIZES

The annual weekly football contest got underway this week in the Enterprise with approximately 100 entering the first week's running.

Top winners for the money this week were Truitt Sides, C. H. McClure and James Cross.

All three had a perfect score but Sides won on the tie-breaker score, guessing Olton to win over Morton 19 to 7, which was 29 points off the final score of 41 to 0.

McClure came in behind

Sides with a close second, guessing the tie-breaker at 13-21, Olton, 33 points off and James Cross was off only 35 points with a guess of 13-7 Olton.

Thirteen entries had 12 games picked correctly, while 18 guessed 11 of the 13 correctly. Names of those guessing 10 games or more appears on the sports page.

There's still time for more contestants to get in on the race for the first prize Cotton Bowl.

Ponies Ready For Stampede Of Whiteface

Olton Mustangs will be out to brand the Hereford Whitefaces with defeat here Friday night in a contest area coaches say could be one of the Pony's toughest rides of the season.

Game time is 8:30 p. m.—one half hour later than originally scheduled.

Class 1-AAA Hereford was shattering Floydada, the team coaches picked to top this district, by a convincing 41-6 last Friday while the Mustangs were thundering over the Indians 41-0.

Hereford's herd reduced the Whirlwind challenge to a whisper as the passing of quarterback Jim Childers kept connecting with fleet-footed half-back Jerry Goodin.

Whitefaces battled class AAAA Palo Duro of Amarillo to a nothing-nothing draw in scrimmage play, as did Dumas which has been picked one up on Hereford for district honors.

Hereford trampled Olton 47-8 in the second game of last season after the Mustangs held Morton scoreless to win the season opener.

Head Coach Don Beck predicted the Whitefaces would be at least as tough a contender this season, both offensively and defensively.

Beck called Hereford full-back Tony Malouf "one of the best football players in the state of Texas."

Malouf, now entering his third season, has already been named to All-District twice. Mustangs will also have to

Troops Invade Olton On 'Secret' Mission

A small military force "invaded" Olton for about an hour Tuesday morning on what was first cautiously termed a "classified operation."

Military spokesman at Cannon Air Force Base, N. M., later said the men were conducting a phase of an experimental weather balloon test begun at the base earlier in the day.

Maneuvers began here when six blue government pickup trucks, driven by men in civilian clothes, rolled up and down U. S. Hwy. 70 in North Olton about 10 a. m.

Inside the vehicles were green-uniformed U. S. Air Force personnel who busily scanned the skies where a white, balloon-shaped object bobbed high overhead.

The force then turned north on FM 168 and teams in the back of the trucks began laying out cardboard markers at about 1,000-yard intervals along the east side of the road.

Each card, measuring approximately five feet long and two feet wide, bore three large black "X" marks on a plain white background.

After distributing the cards for about a mile down the highway, the teams returned to hurriedly replace them in the back of the trucks.

"We can't tell you a thing," one driver solemnly replied when asked by the Enterprise about his activities. "This is a classified operation."

An Airman IC seated beside him merely stared back in response to questions concerning the troop's station and commanding officer. A team of airmen in the back of the truck shrugged and shook their heads as their truck, and the others, sped away westward out of town.

The balloon-shaped object of their attention, meanwhile, also drifted slowly westward and upward.

A check with the Federal Aviation Agency Flight Service Station in Amarillo revealed the drifting object had been sighted 40 miles southwest of Amarillo about 11:30 a. m. at an altitude of 51,000 feet.

Authorities there reported the shiny object had risen to about 60,000 feet an hour and a half later and had moved to a point about four miles west of Earth.

The curious craft remained clearly visible over Olton most of the day.

FAA officials said they had no information—and no connection—with the object.

Personnel at the U. S. Weather Bureau in Lubbock also disowned the object, and city and county law officers were equally at a loss as to its origin.

A call to Reese AFB outside Lubbock finally unearthed the unusual explanation for the surprise visitors—both on the ground and in the air—when a request for information was forwarded to Cannon AFB in N. M.

Second Lt. William J. McLaughlin, Asst. information officer at Cannon, told the Enterprise Tuesday afternoon the strangers were tracking an experimental weather balloon

IF YOU'VE BEEN WONDERING whether or not you actually saw a big balloon overhead Tuesday—relax! You probably were looking at the one pictured here as it was being launched from Cannon AFB.

After Second Week Of School

Trustees View Progress

Olton school trustees reviewed the first two weeks of the new school year—and some of the business and expenses that have come with it—during a regular meeting here Monday night.

Supt. Ray Schultz reported total enrollment at 1,171 at the end of the second week of school. The figure was down 82 from the total in classes after the same period last year.

Elementary classes one through five claimed the largest portion of students with 584, compared to 636 last term. Junior high (grades six through eight) recorded 309—off three from the 312 listed there last year. High school housed the remaining 278 in classes where 305 sat by this time in 1966.

Largest classes in each of the three divisions so far are first grade (156), sixth grade (119), and 10th grade (76) according to the report.

Most populated classes in the three levels a year ago were first (141), seventh (121), and ninth (106).

Schultz broke the figures down further to reveal a total enrollment during the first 14 days of 53 Negroes, 442 Latin Americans, and 676 white children.

He told the board this ratio represented an approximate 10 percent proportionate increase in the number of white students in the system—making the white enrollment about 59 percent of the total.

In other business, trustees accepted a $1,156 total bid from Clarence Carpenter of El Paso as the lowest of three offers considered on two obsolete 48-passenger Chevrolet school buses.

Of the total, $628 was for a 1961 model bus while the remaining $528 for on a 1961 model.

In other action concerning school buses, trustees elected drivers for school buses running this year.

Drivers include Curtis Campbell, Mrs. Lenora Cunningham, Florence Frazier, Jack Williamson, Paul Walden, Wandie Hutson, Gerald Davis, Grady Sharp, Roscoe Thomas, Edisy Hackler, Alice Sherry, Gretta Keating, Norma Lively, J. D. Lively, Jack Burkhalter, and Lloyd Blackwell.

School expenses have already taken a $50,142.79 bite out of the 1967-68 operating

Chamber Delegation Maps Federal, State Finance Plan

City Council members Tuesday night voiced support of a new airport facility for Olton and appointed a six-man governing board to administer the proposed field.

Charles McClain, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce airport committee which began work on the project in June, came before the council during their regular meeting to urge appointment of the board.

Chamber Manager Charles Polk, appearing with McClain, said construction of the airport would not begin until August of next year, but stressed the board should be named now so that vital state and federal grant applications could be made in its name.

Councilmen accepted the CC-A's suggested nominations of Bill Kelley, Earl Spruiell, Kenneth Ray, and McClain for the posts and named alderman Robert Dennis as their representative for the city-owned project. They also included Major James on the list.

McClain said the governing board was a Federal Aviation Agency requirement pointed out to members of his airport committee during a visit last month with FAA Regional representative Ray Biscamp in Albuquerque, N. M.

Biscamp told the Olton delegation the facility would have to be city-owned and controlled in order to use FAA matching funds for its construction and suggested one of the members be a councilman. (He reported forwarding Olton's grant application to his head office in Washington D. C. for consideration last week.)

Polk said the federal agency was willing to match on an equal basis all funds obtained by the new board from any other source for the project.

He said application for a grant would be made to the Texas Aeronautics & Assn. in Austin which may supply up to $27,500 as the remaining half of financing.

Polk expressed confidence that recent support for the plan on the part of state representatives in the area would assure approval of the TAA grant. Money from state sources is derived from unclaimed aviation fuel taxes.

He pointed out that airports in Post and Floydada, Dimmitt and Littlefield were being built or improved under a similar scheme.

Councilmen balked at a suggestion that $5,000 be budgeted from the city for emergency funds for the program, explaining that expense changes could not be made in the budget at this time.

McClain, who made the request, contended no local funds—or loans—should be needed for the airport and that the $5,000 would serve merely as an emergency fund.

He went on to outline specifications of the proposed field (drawn to meet necessary FAA requirements) and to explain

Police Arrest Three In Thefts At School

Police Chief Jerry Smith Monday afternoon arrested three Plainview teenagers after school Supt. Ray Schultz signed a complaint against the youths in connection with the removal of two fire extinguishers and two first aid kits from Olton school buses Saturday night.

The trio, one 18 and the other two 17, appeared before Peace Justice Jerk Finney with an attorney and pleaded guilty to "creating a disturbance."

The boys were each fined $25 and ordered to reimburse the school for the articles taken, valued at about $30.

Two girls and five other boys also involved in the incident, all from Olton, were not charged.

Smith said an investigation began after a resident living near the bus parking area noticed what he thought were persons inside the school yard about 10:30 p. m. Saturday.

The homeowner reported seeing several persons bound the fence bordering Ninth St. get into a car, and drive away when he went outside with a flashlight to investigate.

The resident informed school officials who then notified authorities.

Police found a first aid kit lying on the ground near the spot where the witness said persons fled. Smith also discovered the back door of one of the buses open and four items missing.

Schultz questioned two girls Monday, aged 14 and 16, who said they had entered a narrow opening in the fence along the west side of the school with three boys who were eventually charged in the case.

OHS REUNION SLATED SOON

A reunion of all ex-students of Olton High School is now in the planning stages, tentatively set Oct. 6 before the Floydada-Olton game, which is our Homecoming game.

A PT-A Chili Supper will be served at 5 p. m. before the game and all ex-students are invited to attend. An after-the-game coffee and ex-students meeting will be held in the cafeteria immediately following the game.

Several persons from different classes are now at work trying to reach members of their particular class but others are needed to notify other members of other classes.

Anyone who would be interested in notifying members of his or her class is asked to contact Leah Cross, Drawer E, Olton, at the earliest date.

FIRST GRAIN—Shown above is the first load of milo in the Olton area to make it from the ground to the grain scales. Lonnie Smith, right, is the producer who rolled the 15,160-pound harvest on the scale about 2 p. m. Friday. The Amazing American

The following article was in one of the many papers which crosses our desk here at the Enterprise each week, and the text of it was so like the everyday citizen of our nation that we felt it would be appropriate to share it this week with our readers.

THE AMAZING AMERICAN

"The amazing American whips enemy nations, then gives them the shirt off his back.

He yells for speed laws that will stop fast driving, but won't buy a car if it won't do a hundred.

The amazing American gets scared half to death if we vote a billion dollars for education, but he's cool as the center seed of a cucumber about spending three billion dollars a year for smoking death - dealing tobacco.

He will complain about his wife's cooking, yet, on a camping trip, he will eat half-fried potatoes, burnt fish, and coffee made with gritty creek water in a rusty bucket and thin it's wonderful.

He knows every major baseball and football team in the leagues, but doesn't know half the words in the Star Spangled Banner.

The amazing American will work hard on a farm so he can move to town to make more money so he can move back to the farm.

In his office he likes to talk about baseball, football or fishing, but on the creek bank or at the game he talks business.

He is the only guy in the world who will pay $1 to park his car while he eats a 50 cent sandwich.

An American likes to cuss his government, but he'll fight any foreigner who does.

He will spend half a day looking for vitamin pills to make him live longer, then drive 90 miles an hour on slick pavement to make up for the time he lost.

He irrigates desert to make farmland, then puts the extra acres in a soil bank.

He spent 280 million dollars this year on tranquilizers and an equal sum on pep pills.

He tosses cans out the car window, drops gum wrappers in the gutter, plants auto graveyards along the highways, hides a meadow or a mountain with a billboard, then stands up at his civic meeting, and, with a lump in this throat, sings "America the Beautiful."

Yet, for all that, the amazing American is still a pretty nice guy. Despite all that he is not- and because of all that he is - calling anybody "a real American" is still the highest compliment you can pay."

Dear Editor

Remember Me?

Dear Editor:

First of all I would like to thank you for printing the names and addresses.

As a service man, I know the meaning of finding someone overseas from your home town. The Olton Enterprise is usually one of my first clues, in locating a man stationed in the same area. For this I am thankful. A list of names and addresses like those printed in the Olton Enterprise July 27th.

During my two year tour in Germany I was able to meet five other guys from Olton. One while I was stationed at Ft. Sam Houston. Now that I am on Okinawa I have been able to meet Mike Riley who is from Olton.

Keep printing the list, the reward is enough when you see the smile on these boys faces who are away from home for the first time, when you are able to say "Remember me?"

Sincerely,
Billy Bryant

Boys Ranch Rodeo A Success

Dear Editor:

Thanks to the fine help you and our other friends in the news media gave our boys this year with their 23rd rodeo. It was the most successful they have ever put on. How pleased they were to see the nearly 10,000 people who came just to watch them, and we feel much of the credit for this large turnout must go to you folks and your fine organization.

So many wonderful things happened during the rodeo, and we were deeply moved by the large number of Ex-Ranchers and their families who turned out for the biggest reunion ever held at the Ranch. Although Cal and Mimi Farley could not be with us this time, their spirit was most evident, especially in the lives of those 200 former boys, all fine young men raising children of their own.

These are men who have lived up to the trust that Cal Farley and a lot of other fine people had in them, and we are confident the 343 boys we now have will turn out the same way. I hope you got to see one of the performances, and will plan on being with us next year. In behalf of all our boys and staff, thank you again for the excellent job you did in publicizing their rodeo. With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
CAL FARLEY'S BOYS RANCH

"TEXAS"

By C. T. Mason

Texas, fair Texas, what a wonderful state
You're big and beautiful and I know you're great.

I often think of the historical Alamo
And I know you'll ever shine with your name aglow.

Travis, Austin and Bowie - all great heroes
They loved life too, but they went as history goes.

They fought and died for the Lone Star State.
These were the other heroes who made Texas so great.

These great heroes who have gone on before
And left behind great legends of yore

Fought on and on and suffered their fate
To make of Texas such a wonderful state.

They all fought and died along side by side
Till the Alamo ran with the crimson tide.

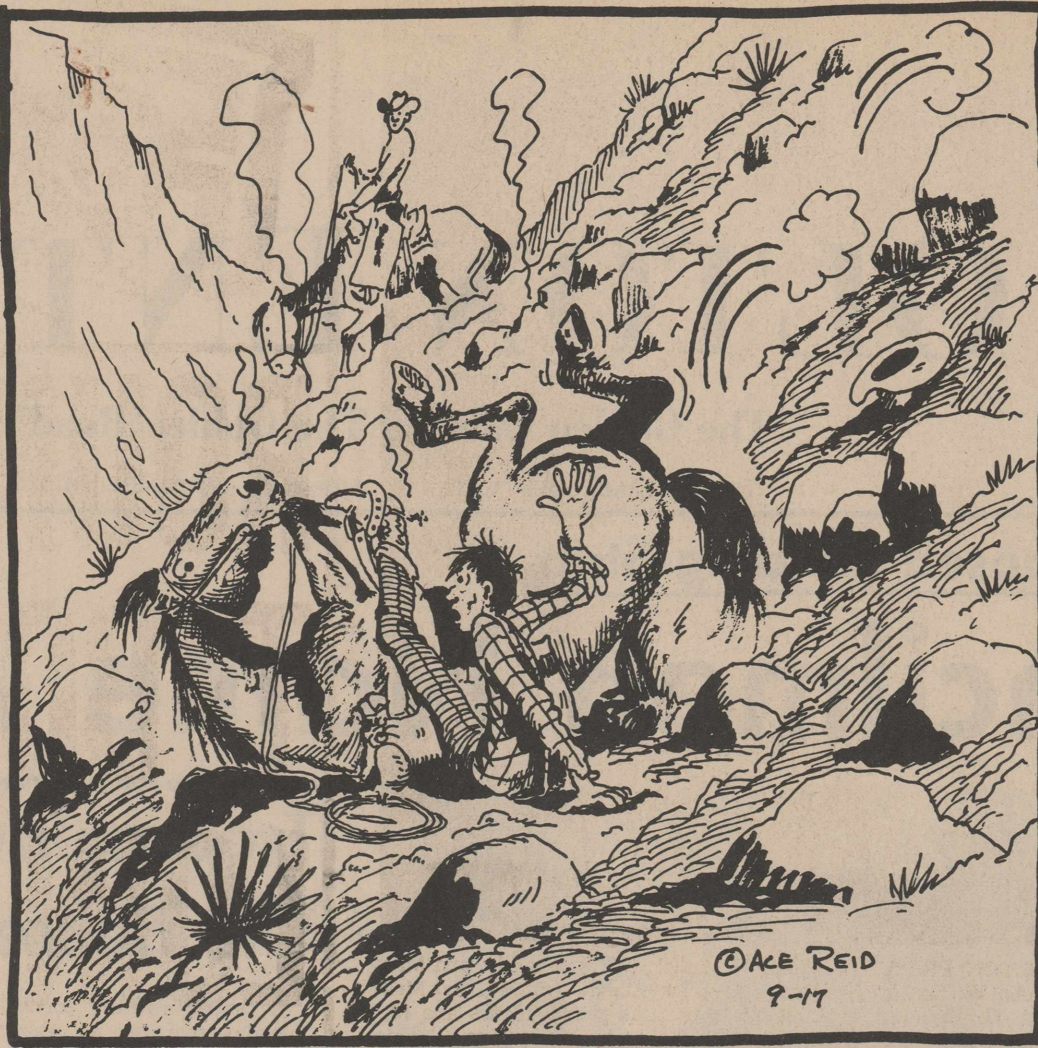

Yes, every man died who crossed over that line,
But their deaths were avenged in just a matter of time.

They gave till they had nothing else to give
Their lives that the great state of Texas might live.

Then General Sam Houston took up the fight
Now Texas has her freedom and her future's bright.

his plan to help finance the venture.

According to the proposed plans, the airport will include a paved landing strip 3,800 feet long and 50 feet wide with an additional 200 feet of clearance at each end. Location of the field, according to the FAA, will have to be within three miles of the city, accessible to a paved roadway, and on a site covering approximately 50 acres. A 10,000 ft. landing approach clearance would also be maintained.

McClain said negotiations were now underway to purchase a piece of land fitting the requirements.

CC-A delegates said they planned to lease land back to the original property owner who could farm some 41 acres of the lot not needed for the strip.

They said additional construction would only include hangers and fuel pumps to the start.

McClain said additional revenue could be obtained for the city by charging a local fuel tax and hanger rental.

"We don't think this will cost us a thing," McClain said.

A recent survey conducted by Polk revealed 10 airplane owners with Olton addresses and 18 others in the area who expressed a willingness to house their crafts at the proposed field.

"To us, we feel like an airport is as essential to Olton as a railroad was 20 years ago--a railroad we didn't get," Polk said, and members of the council agreed.

First order of business for the new board will be to hire an engineer to map out plans for the project.

In other action, councilmen named officials for the city-wide alderman election set for Sept. 26.

They include Eldon Franks, election judge; Ray Schultz, alternate; and clerks Era Mae Walthall and Louise Leggett. Durward Price, owner of one of the two licensed junk yards in town, came before the council to ask clarification of a city ordinance which requires a "solid fence" local junk business.

Councilmen said the intent of the ordinance was to insure an attractive and effective boundary for the junk and suggested that Price draw up an economical fence of his own using that guideline and submit the recommendation for council approval before building it.

Extend Grazing Into April '68

Information has been received in the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Littlefield to permit grazing of diverted acres starting Oct. 1, 1967 and continuing through April 30 of next year.

Announcement of the new grazing program was received this week from ASCS office manager Aten.

He pointed out, however, that caution must be exercised to see that only moderate grazing is performed during the period on land where growers have received ACP cost shares for planting the cover.

Aten suggested a "good residue" should be left on the land until the end of the year.

Jumping Jehosophat

BY SUE CANNON

Well, I found a new past time this past weekend! No, not golf again. One time at that was enough to last for quite a while.

A trampoline!

My kiddos went over to Tim Givens' home Saturday night and I began to think I was going to have to go after them after the Miss America pageant was over, but sure enough about 10 o'clock they came -- just full of enthusiasm for a trampoline.

I decided nothing could be that much fun!

But Sunday afternoon they just HAD to go again so I took them over to play for a while and then returned to pick them up.

Well, of course, that's like getting out of a swimming pool, ---just one more time, I heard that till I was blue in the face and then they challenged me to get on it.

"Why, anyone could jump on that thing." Famous last words. Boy, did you ever try to stand up on something that just would not be still?

About the time I'd feel like I was doing pretty good -- ker-plop, down I'd go again! I was alright as long as I was jumping, but I couldn't keep jumping from now on -- especially when it made me so dizzy! I felt like I was swinging -- and swinging is something that really gets me -- now.

The kids were bouncing real high and jumping up on the well house which the trampoline was placed near. So I thought, if they can do it -- I can do it.

Well, let me tell they can do it but I CAN'T!

I jumped and thought I was high enough to reach the top of that well house and bounded for it! But I didn't quite make it.

I was hanging by my hands and both legs were among all the springs on the outside of that crazy contraption.

I decided right then it was time for me to get off! That game was strictly for kids and I just gotta face it -- I'm no kid!

I guess I'd better stick with golf or better yet maybe bowling. Our league began Monday night and after that day on the trampoline, I felt like bowling was more my style.

Of course, that bowling ball still doesn't know where it's suppose to go after I let go of it. It heads for the gutter most of the time.

I decided that if I could use my bowling score in golf and my golf score in bowling, I might have a better chance to win at one of them.

Safety Measures Proposed For Motorcyclists

Motorcyclists, like little children, should be seen and not heard--but there's the rub.

According to a study being conducted, "The major reason why so many motorcycles are involved in crashes with automobiles is simple: the automobile driver doesn't see the on-coming cycle in time."

So says Dwight M. McCracken, vice president in charge of Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies' Automotive Division. He said he began the study because he "wasn't convinced that the causes of motorcycle-automobile crashes had been pinned down.

"Motorcycles move along the road at the same speed as automobiles, yet they are much smaller and easily overlooked, especially at intersections," he said.

As a first step to correct this, Mr. McCracken has proposed that motorcycle drivers wear an outer garment "shell" and helmet of alternating stripes of fluorescent "Traffic orange," which "glows" in daylight, and reflective white for night visibility.

Laws in 25 states demanding that riders wear helmets are "a constructive step in the right direction to lessen injury resulting from the accident," he said.

"On the other hand, my proposal to make luminous material mandatory is aimed at preventing the accident in the first place."

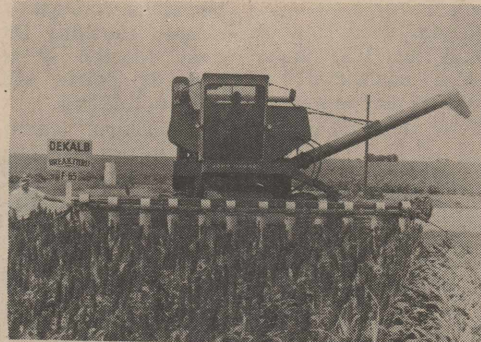

Motorcycle registration last year totaled 1,915,000, an increase of 38 percent over 1965. Motorcycle deaths reached 2,160, an increase of 43 percent.

AAUW To Host Reception Monday

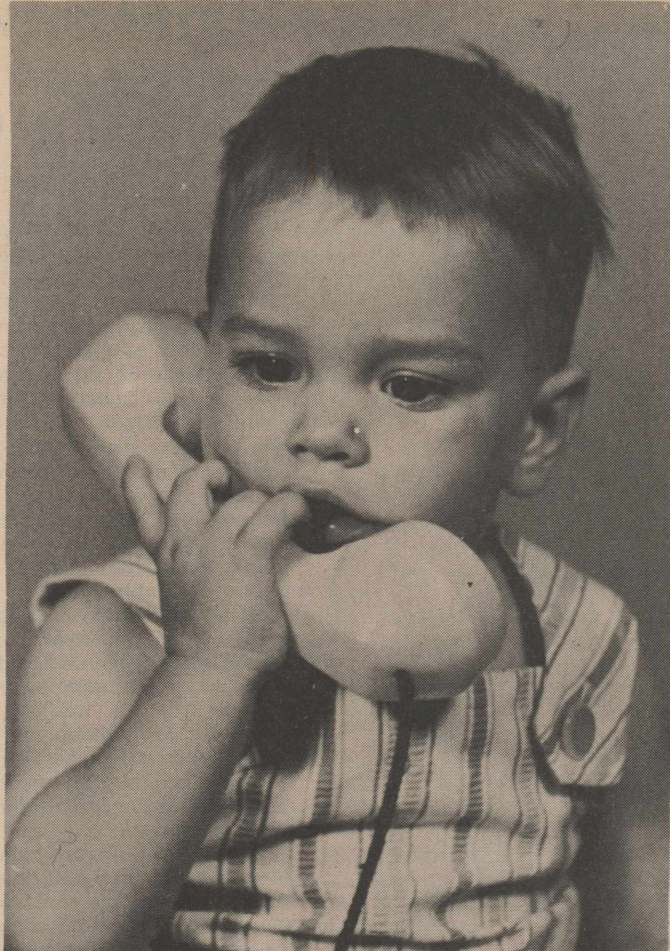

The Plainview Branch of the American Association of University Women will host a seated reception Monday evening, Sept. 18, at 7:30, in the Heritage Room of the VanHoweling Library at Wayland Baptist College. Members of the Branch extend a cordial invitation to the many women in the area who are eligible for membership to attend. Those who wish to check on eligibility of their college or university are most welcome to call the Branch Membership Chairman, Miss Lucile Flowers, CA4-4801, or the Branch president, Mrs. McDonald W. Held, CA3-3429.

The membership policy of the American Association of University Women is aimed at lifting up and unifying standards of education in the country at large. As more women register in colleges and universities, the Association maintains in their interest standards which insure adequate provision for intellectual, physical and social development with a qualitative approach in regard to basic philosophy in curricula, on principals and procedures underlying the development of its educational philosophy, on cultural resources available on the campus and on a counseling program which emphasizes the importance of a broad liberal base for an educational objective.

The AAUW study-in-depth program centers on four topics selected each two years. For the 1967-69 biennium, members are exploring "The Politics of Public Education," "The Growing Gap Between the Rich and the Poor Nations," "Society's Reflection in the Arts," and "Testing Values in a Changing Society."

Four areas of interest encompass the Association's program and define AAUW traditional commitments. They are Community Problems (local, state, and national), Cultural Interests (values and forms centered in the individual, as the arts and philosophy), Education, and World Problems (world conditions and our relationship to them).

KITCHEN KORNER

By Lela Gallion

TANGY LEMON-ORANGE MERINGUE PIE

SHELL:
1 1/2 c. sifted flour
1/2 c. shortening
1/2 tsp. salt
2 T. mild cheese, grated
4 T. chilled orange juice

Sift flour and salt into bowl and cut in shortening. Blend until consistency of coarse meal, then blend in grated cheese. Gradually sprinkle in the orange juice, mixing lightly with a fork. Press into a ball and roll out into a 12-inch circle of dough. Fit dough into a 9-inch pie plate, fluting the edge with thumb and two fingers. Prick with a fork and bake in moderate oven at 350 degree F. until lightly browned. Set aside to cool while making the filling.

FILLING:

1 c. orange juice
1 c. water
Juice of 1 lemon
1/4 tsp. salt
3/4 c. sugar
5 T. cornstarch
1 T. butter
6 large-sized marshmallows
3 egg yolks, beaten
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
3 drops lemon flavor

Place orange juice and water in saucepan. Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt and stir into the liquid. Place over a moderate flame, stirring constantly. When hot, drop in marshmallows and continue stirring until thick. Remove from flame and add well-beaten yolks, butter and lemon juice. Cook 2 minutes longer, stirring well. When slightly cooled, add lemon flavoring and when cool, pour into pie shell and top with meringue.

MERINGUE:

3 egg whites
5 T. sugar
Dash of salt
2 drops each of lemon and orange flavoring

Beat egg whites and salt until foamy. Add sugar gradually, beating until meringue forms soft peaks. Add flavoring. Pile lightly on filling which has been poured into baked pie shell, being careful to have meringue cover filling completely to the edge of pie shell. Sprinkle top with 1 tablespoon sugar and bake to a delicate brown.

PEACH PARFAIT PIE CRUST:

1/2 c. soft shortening
1 1/2 c. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
3 T. ice water

Combine shortening, flour and salt and work in with pastry blender or beat with electric mixer. Blend well. Add ice water and mix lightly. Bake in 400 degree F. oven until golden brown, then place in refrigerator to chill.

FILLING:

1 pkg. lemon jello
1 c. hot water
1 can sliced peaches, finely chopped, reserving several slices for garnish
1 pt. vanilla ice cream

Dissolve Jello in hot water. Add finely chopped peaches and place in refrigerator to cool. After cooling, mix in thoroughly the softened ice cream. At this point, pour mixture into cooled pie shell, and return to refrigerator. Chill. For best results, it is sometimes wise to return mixture to refrigerator after adding ice cream and let chill for 30 minutes before placing in pie shell.

BERRY PUDDING

1 qt. berries (raspberries or blackberries)
3/4 c. powdered sugar
3/4 c. butter
1 lb. sponge cake, dry
6 eggs
Vanilla or lemon extract

Cook berries, Cream butter, sugar, add to berries, then crumbled sponge cake. Mix thoroughly. Beat egg whites stiffly, beat yolks separately. Add beaten yolks to mixture, then beaten whites of eggs. Pour into well-buttered baking dish, bake in moderately hot oven about thirty minutes. Cool slightly, cover with meringue, return to oven to brown.

PUT FRILLS ON CUCUMBER SLICES BY FLUTING EDGES

Run tines of fork down an unpared cucumber, all around. Then slice thin.

For extra-easy eating, cut scored cucumber in thirds, lengthwise, almost to center. Slice thin.

To trim molded salad, cut fluted slices in half; fan out; top with olive half.

MRS. ANDY ANDREW

Recipe Of The Week

Mrs. W. E. (Andy) Andrew offers us something different this week with her recipes for Sourdough Biscuits and Sourdough Pancakes.

Francine has lived in Olton ever since her marriage to Andy nineteen years ago this week. They have three children, Steve, 14, Allen, 12, and Alexia, 11/2.

Francine loves to read and has been librarian for the First Baptist Church for six years. She loves to crochet and do other needlework and makes most of her and Alexia's clothes. A talented artist, Francine is partial to working in oils. One hobby - oil tinting photographs - has turned into a business enterprise for her as she now does the tinting for a Plainview studio.

SOURDOUGH BISCUITS

1 c. whole wheat flour
1 c. all-purpose flour
1 T. sugar

2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 c. (1 stick) oleo or butter

Cut in oleo or butter until it looks like bread crumbs. Stir in 2 cups sourdough starter. Turn dough onto floured board and knead lightly. Work in more flour if very sticky. Roll or pat out 1/2 inch thick. Cut in circles 2 1/2 inches in diameter. Place on lightly oiled cookie sheet. Set to rise in warm place 1/2 hour. Bake 20-25 minutes at 425 degrees or until lightly browned. Can be made with all white flour but reduce starter to 1 2/3 cup. Makes 20.

SOURDOUGH PANCAKES

1 c. starter
2 c. water
2 1/2 c. all-purpose flour

Cover bowl, let stand overnight. Beat in:
2 eggs
2 T. sugar
2 T. oil or bacon drippings
1/3 c. milk
1 tsp. baking soda

Let batter stand 10 minutes. Cook on HOT griddle.

SOURDOUGH STARTER

In a quart and a half glass or earthen wear container, mix together:
1 envelope dry yeast
2 c. warm water
2 c. all-purpose flour

Cover with cheesecloth. This keeps out bugs but lets airborne wild yeasts make contact. Leave in warm room 48 hours. Stir 2 or 3 times. It will ferment, bubble and acquire a slightly sour smell. Makes 3 cups. To use, stir, then pour off as much of starter as recipe requires. Then add equal parts flour and water (say 2 cups each) to remaining starter in the pot. Stir and let stand a few hours until it bubbles again before covering and refrigerating. By replenishing the starter with flour and water each time it is used, you can keep it going indefinitely. Never add anything other than water and flour to starter pot. A liquid forms on top of starter if not used every day but this does not harm it, just stir it up before using.

HALE CENTER GUEST

Hall-Crowell Wedding Vows Read In Canadian Church

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walker Hall are at home in Goodwell, Okla. where they will be attending Panhandle State College. The couple recited wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist Church of Canadian, Saturday, Aug. 26, at 8 p. m.

The Rev. Lee Crouch, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Crosbyton, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with candelabra and baskets of white gladioli.

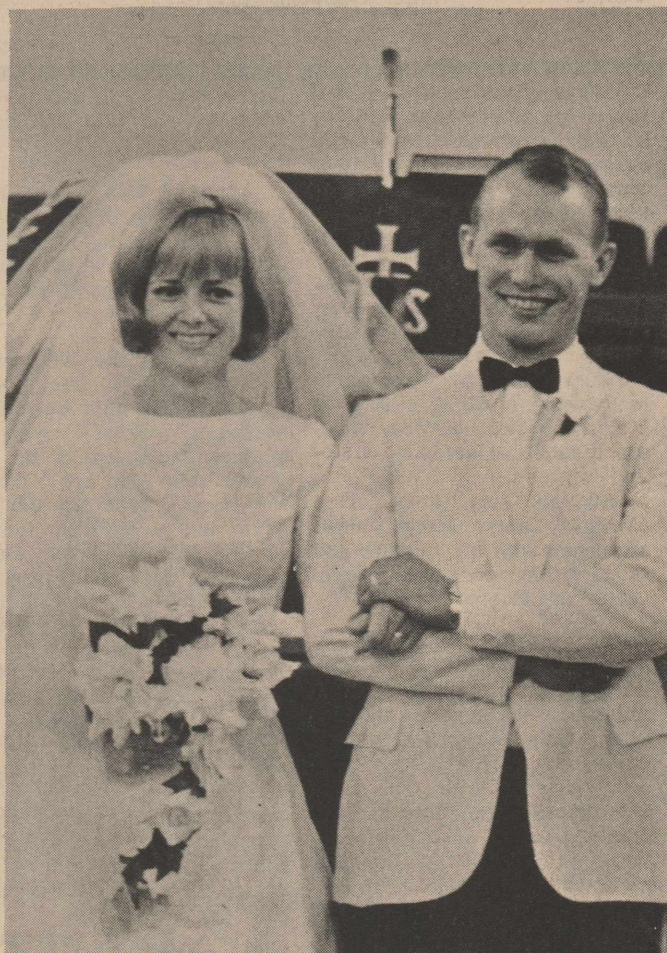

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erbin Crowell. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hall, Jr. are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride, who was presented in marriage by her father, wore the dress designed and made by her sister for her own wedding. The gown was fashioned on a semi-princess line with bateau neckline and short sleeves. The neckline and front panel were enhanced by re-embroidered lace encrusted with seed pearls. Her controlled skirt swept into a chapel train. A ballerina veil was attached to a crown of Alencon lace with seed pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and ivy.

Mrs. Frank Muir of Mobeetie was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Dora Mae Hext, Miss Janie Jackson and Miss Mary Rutledge of Canadian. They wore formal length gowns of deep pink crystalline styled with empire waists. Panels of crystalline fell from self bows which accented the low cut back necklines. Their headpieces were pink organza flowers. They carried nosegays of pink daisies.

Candlelighters were Rod and Royce Straw of Gruver, cousins of the groom. Cindy Waterfield of Canadian was flower girl. Kraig Peel of Post, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Larry Fancher of Lubbock served as best man. Groomsmen were Joe Hall, uncle of the bridegroom, Frank Muir, of Mobeetie, brother-in-law of the bride, and Lonnie Peel, of Post, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Max Crowell of Lubbock, brother of the bride, Bill Scribner of Ralls, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Greg Blackburn of Thousand Oaks, Calif., cousin of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

Mrs. Bob Allford, organist, presented nuptial selections and accompanied her husband as he sang "Yours Is My Heart Alone", "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer". Mrs.

Allford also played the traditional processional and recessional.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. The bridal table was centered with an arrangement of the bridesmaids' bouquets flanked by white tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Pink punch, pink and white mints and nuts were also served. Members of the house-party were Mrs. W. H. Rivers, Mrs. Charles Ellis, Mrs. Marvin Longhofer and Mrs. Elmo Wheeler.

For a wedding trip to Red River, N. M. the bride wore a pink silk linen dress with a white lace cage coat and white accessories. She wore a corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Canadian High School. The groom is a graduate of Olton High School.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hall, Jr. were hosts to a rehearsal luncheon Aug. 25 in the Vic Mon Red Room.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Just so the name will fit, this week I do have an "assorted" column.

A reader has shared one kitchen hint - Mrs. Art Nafziger tells me that she discovered that green peppers were much better if you'd peel that thin layer of tough skin. Sounds very wise to me - I don't even like tomato skins.

I tried a suggestion made by Heloise and I think it's terrific. She says to add 2 cups of tea (instant or regular or left over-but of course, not sweetened) to roast or any less tender cut of beef. It won't taste and it acts as a tenderizer. It really works! I've tried it three times and it worked each time.

Do you have a paper dress? Well, the latest thing in paper is rugs. We received a release from A&M that paper rugs are now on the list of "use it and toss it away".

Miss Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas A&M calls the designs striking. One, she says, is a collage of newspaper with stories, advertisements and crossword puzzle. Most of the rugs are from three by five feet to three by seven feet and range in cost from $20 to $35. Some are fireproof and some can be sponged with a mild detergent.

Finally, after looking thru sports sections of newspapers for days and fusing plenty because I didn't find a mention of Babe Ruth baseball, we got a "Line Drives" - a newsletter sent out from BR headquarters. The BR World Series was scheduled to begin Aug. 19 in Fairbanks and you know what tragedy befell them. Well, now we know that the Series was moved to Anchorage, Alaska and won by New Orleans (their third consecutive year to get that coveted win). We saw them play in the regional tournament at Marshall when we were on vacation. "Line Drives" gave a BRIEF review of the eighteen games played in the World Series and I really wished I'd been there! If you'd like to read about the games just let me know.

I'd better get off the subject of baseball before someone asks me about my team's standings!

MR. AND MRS. A. C. BRIGRANCE

Oldsters Advise Acting Young For Staying Young

"I don't intend to grow old," says one determined Olton resident who admits to being the most obstinate octogenarian in town. "I don't mind getting old, but I don't want to act old."

So says Mrs. A. C. Brigrance who, as one of the most active 82-year-olds in town, seems to practice what she preaches. A. C. Brigrance, her husband for 37 years, tends to agree with the aggressive approach to aging. He is 85.

"Heck," he said with a laugh, "I could have given up and been in bed several years ago."

Now, chances are, his neighbors may find him on the top of a step ladder pruning his evergreen trees or behind the wheel of a car on a trip to South Texas with his wife.

"We do more nothing than anybody else in town," Mrs. Brigrance confided at first. . . and then spent the next hour telling about all the "somethings" their so-called "nothings" have involved since the couple moved to a farm three miles north of town in 1927.

Mrs. Brigrance recalled she was active in the local school system for many years—serving both as a substitute teacher and president of the Parent-Teachers' Assn. for three terms. (She was a full-time teacher for six years before her marriage on Feb. 28, 1909 in her hometown of Bowie.)

"When you have six kids in school," she said, "you don't get out."

Her six "kids," as she calls them, include Merrill, who lives in the house five miles south of town they built and called home before moving to town 11 years ago; Mrs. Frank Cornelius and Mrs. Elmer Moore, both of Olton; Mrs. Clarence Todd of Big Spring; Mrs. Dennis Ford of Kingsville; and Mrs. A. F. Russel of Tuscon, Ariz.

A. C. was also connected with the early Olton school system as a trustee in the late 1920s and later served as a director of the Olton State Bank when it was founded in 1929.

"There's no use in people growing old before their time," said Mrs. Brigrance whose bright eyes and animated speech and manner make it seem that time has stood still for her.

She admitted with a willing grin that she has left teaching and other school work in recent years in the hands of "a lot more younger women around with more energy than me."

Yet, she still teaches a Sunday School class at the First Baptist Church here. Her never-ending teaching career in that particular kind of classroom began at the age of 14.

"I sat in a class she taught," broke in her husband who recalled going to school, church—and practically everywhere else with the younger Mrs. Brigrance when they were children near Bowie.

Poor health forced A. C. away from the country into life in the city, but even there, he quickly managed to stay busy.

"I've worked all my life," he remarked casually. "I'd go wild if I didn't have something to do." And, to judge from the things he does do, there seems little chance of his going wild.

Work in his spacious flower garden has blossomed from a hobby into the talk of the town with a score or more varieties of bloom each year.

"I find there are so many interesting things in life," Mrs. Brigrance concluded. "Life is not dull—just if you make it dull."

Mr. and Mrs. Brigrance are living proof of the truth of that statement.

Balloon.....

launched from Cannon's flightline about 6 a. m. that morning. Military personnel that arrived here were assigned to the base, he said, and the civilians were scientists from the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories in Massachusetts.

Their airborne assignment, nicknamed "Pathfinder," -- along with two more like it--were designed to test radar tracking equipment based at Cannon and measure wind velocities in the area, 2nd, Lt. McLaughlin said.

When it reached its predetermined altitude of nearly 70,000 feet, the balloon measured 128 feet in diameter and had a volume of nearly one million cubic feet, he added.

He said the marked cards layed along the highway were apparently in connection with radar tracking tests. The balloon's course was controlled by instruments at the home base.

He added that the balloon was recovered at 3:45 p. m. Tuesday, local time, about 17 miles east of its point of origin.

Final balloon in the series, to be launched sometime next month, is scheduled to be more than twice as large as "Pathfinder."

It will stand as tall as a 40-story building, including its clear plastic canopy and sensitive measuring and telemetering equipment suspended beneath it, and expand to a volume of 2,400,000 cubic feet.

Data gathered in these tests, Air Force reports say, will be used to design future balloons for Air Force and Defense Dept. atmospheric and aerospace research.

Second balloon in the series will be launched at Cannon Friday. The Information officer predicted its path may again cross Olton.

Local residents may get another brief—but this time, not so baffling—"invasion" by the military before the week is out.

BY SANDEE GREGORY
AND JANE ANN DUNCAN

The victory against Morton was a great way to open the '67 football season for OHS! Everything was just right for an Olton victory. The Mighty Mustangs were out to get 'em an Indian and the spirit was high.

Outstanding offensive players were Benny Akin with four TDs, Joe Luera and Johnny Lewis one TD apiece. Steve Spain raked up five extra points out of five tries. Steve Burleson, Eddie Hooper, Kenneth Johnson, David Neilson, Mike Crowder, R. L. Copeland, and Bobby Turner were other outstanding offensive players according to Coach Beck. "We had an outstanding offensive game Friday," commented Beck, Steve Burleson, Eddie Hooper, Butch Hudgens, Steve Spain, Joe Luera, Otis Patterson, Tony George, Charles A. McClain, and Jason Latimer were defensive standouts. They along with other defensive players kept the Morton Indians scoreless.

The defensive players that qualified for a Head Hunter award for their performance in the Morton game were Benny Akin and Steve Burleson. The Stallions for the first season game were Benny Akin and Steve Spain. Benny Akin was named Outstanding Offensive player and Steve Burleson was chosen Outstanding Defensive player for the Morton game. These two boys contributed a great deal to help defeat those Morton Indians last Friday night, and we are predicting they will contribute a great deal more during this football season!

GO FIGHT WIN III

The student and adult support Friday night was GREAT! Naturally the pep squad and band members cheered the boys to victory, but the adult section cheered just as loud! The cheerleaders as well as the Mustangs certainly appreciated the cheering participation that the adults displayed. The cheerleaders realized the Morton stands were shaky and that was why some people didn't stand up, but this Friday night when the cheerleaders do "Two Bits" they want EVERYONE to stand up and cheer our fighting Mustangs to victory against the Hereford Whitefaces! We hope to see everyone in our stands tomorrow night.

GO MIGHTY MUSTANGS DE-HORN THOSE HEREFORD WHITEFACES

The first pep rally proved to be a successful one. The spirited OHS and junior high students aided the cheerleaders in their yells and boosted the school moral. Stacy Pendergrass, one of the '67-'68 tri-captains, gave a short speech thanking the school and cheerleaders for their support the past few weeks. The coaches were honored by a special yell and the FTA was awarded the OHS SPIRIT JUG. The FTA organization showed tremendous spirit to boost the Mustangs by signs and yells. To get the jug a person or organization has to show the most spirit to boost our Mustangs and this spirit has to continue throughout the season.

Buy your annuals now from any member of the annual staff and you'll be ahead this year. The Mustang annuals are now on sale for $5.00 and you may contact any of these students for your subscription. Rickey Smith, Stacy Pendergrass, Lynn McGill, Lannie McClain, Robbie Langford, Janet Chester, Barbara Cowart, Jackie Harrod, Lucy Gunter, Glenn Loveless, Ronnie Yandell, Angie Vera, Nora Costillo, or Sandee Gregory.

NOTICE: The Football game here with Hereford has been set for 8:30 p. m. instead of 8:00 Friday.

All through our column today, we have referred to the word, "spirit". But do we really know what "spirit" is? To help us derive at a good explanation, we have asked a few students to give us their opinion.

Stacy Pendergrass: "Spirit is more than a person would think. It's something that can make a team or break a team. Spirit is something that makes a football player work harder, hit harder, run faster, and want to win that much more. The more the spirit the more the team will win. Speaking as an Olton Mustang, "Keep showing the good spirit!"

Jeanie Gardner: "First of all, is there really a definition for spirit? Spirit is a feeling in your heart. Spirit is the tears that fill your eyes when the school song is sung. Watching anyone from OHS doing something for the school and feeling a warm glow of pride is spirit. Spirit is like a magnet; it spreads out like radar; it seems to be contagious. Spirit is the feeling of unity between each person and the things we stand for."

Jackie Harrod: "You can't define 'spirit,' but only describe things that reflect it. To me spirit is a sincere pride and respect for your school; it's the thrill that swells inside you when you've given yourself to a purpose whether it's a team or goal; in short, it's putting your whole heart into something."

Steve Burleson: "Spirit is when the whole student body is always talking about the game or when we, the Mustangs, have a good workout where everybody is always hustling."

Connie Hall: "Spirit isn't something that can be seen in a person's appearance, but in their attitude and actions toward the school and its activities. If you are proud of OHS, you want the best for it, and to achieve this goal, we must each support every function that represents 'our school'. We want to make each participant of that organization take pride in their goals and show them they are wanted and needed by OHS. True OHS spirit makes a student swell with pride each time he hears the school song, that our football team brings home another victory, or that some scholastic achievement has been accomplished."

Gary Dickenson: "Spirit is enthusiastic loyalty; a pride in something. Spirit is something that is needed in everything we do. It is essential for something to be good. Spirit is being packed full of enthusiasm and loyalty for OHS."

Russell Tanner: "Spirit is to be behind the members of some organization, team, or just yourself. Spirit is the backing of all!"

Leslie Holladay: "It is impossible to know what true school spirit is unless you really feel it. It's more than just attending classes, it's more than belonging to clubs, and yes, it's more than yelling your lungs out at a football game. It's a deep, deep feeling that begins the first time you ever hear of the Olton Mustangs and grows until you love your school so much that you want everyone to share that love. Genuine school spirit calls for some sacrifice--whether it be working on a varsity athletic squad or doing your homework to the best of your ability. You do this because you know that OHS needs you and whatever you may have to offer. Anyone who doesn't have this school spirit is to be pitied. The richest and most satisfying feeling in the world is that of being a part of Olton High School, and there's room enough for all."

GO MUSTANGS!!!

Mr. Walden, teacher of chemistry, was giving a demonstration of the properties of various acids.

"Now," he said, "I am going to drop this twenty-five cent piece into this glass of acid. Will it dissolve?"

"No, sir," replied Carl Roberts.

"No?" said Mr. Walden. "Then perhaps you will explain to the class why it won't dissolve."

"Because," came the answer, "if it would, you wouldn't drop it in."

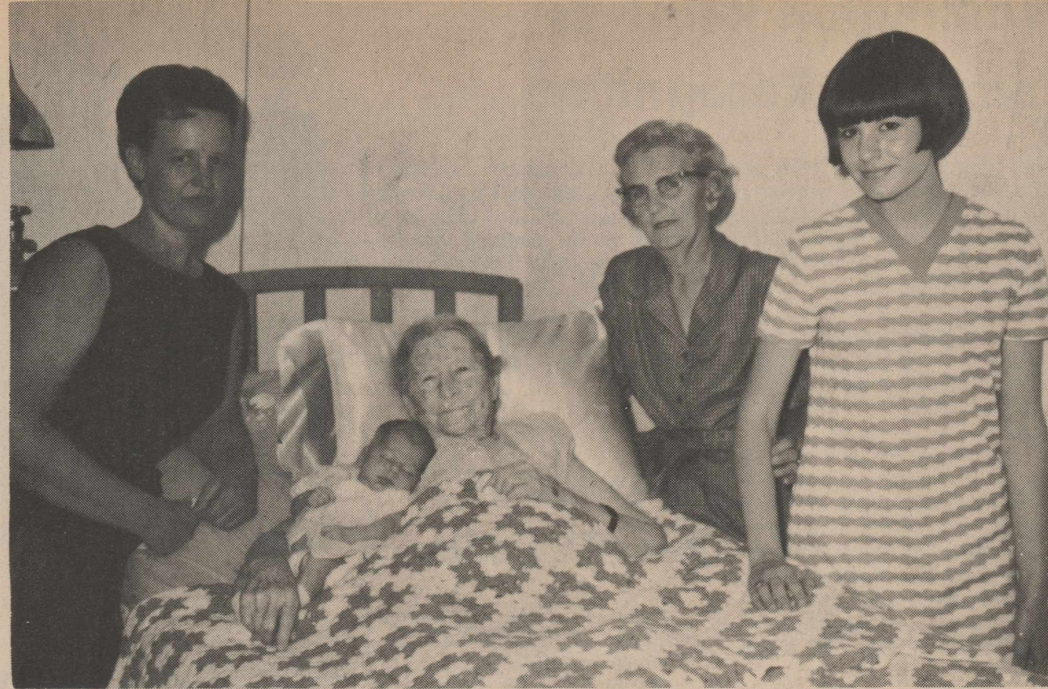

Mr. Murphy, asked why he has never married, explained, "I'd rather go through life wanting something I didn't have than having something I didn't want."

During a history lesson Mrs. Scott asked the class, "What happened in the year 1809?" "Lincoln was born," answered Karen Mills promptly. "Quite right. And what happened in the year 1912?" After a pause, Karen ventured, "Lincoln was three years old."

events this way, according to Smith:

After hiding the car, the male threesome hitched a ride around town with two Olton youngsters until they felt it was safe to return to their own car. They drove out of town via back roads which they said the local boys pointed out, and returned to Plainview.

Questioned about the Plainview boys' report, the Olton boys implicated admitted picking the three strangers, directing them out of town, and then picking up three more local friends before "discovering" the fire extinguisher and first aid kit along Ninth St. where the Plainview boys said they threw them while leaving the school.

Smith said he later found extinguishers in a lot behind a local lumber company.

He said all the missing property has now either been found or paid for by the boys charged.

The Board of Managers of Amarillo Hospital District met recently and pledged their unqualified support to the future of NORTHWEST TEXAS HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING. Of the six members voting this decision was unanimous in that the school is vital now and in the foreseeable future in meeting the nursing needs of the Tri-State area.

The future of the school was threatened by the possibility of establishing a proposed baccalaureate program of Texas Women's University in Amarillo. T. W. U. officials had asked for a phase-out of the diploma schools in Amarillo so that adequate clinical facilities would be available to them. The Medical Staff at Northwest Texas Hospital had previously gone on record in strong support of the Northwest Texas School as being vital in supplying nurses for hospitals in this area.

Petition

tended that some voters had not been informed of the election day or were "deceived" by the name Earth-Springlake into believing the election did not apply to them.
Littlefield lawyer Jerry Kirby, council for the county, combated Quilliam's charge of voter "disenfranchisement" by bringing to the stand Mrs. J. W. (Nancy) Moree who was named by petitioners as one of the so-called "illegal" voters.
She was seated in the courtroom to hear Quilliam term her a "non-existent" voter, since there was no legal record of a Mrs. Moree.
On the stand, Mrs. Moree, a qualified property-owning resident voter of Earth, said her name had merely been entered incorrectly on the records by the election judge.
She explained she was unable to pronounce "r's" and theorized the judge had mistakenly entered her name "Mowee," exactly as she had pronounced it.
Kirby had previously questioned M. E. Kelly, Pleasant Valley postmaster for 34 years, who had testified to knowing Mrs. Moree.
Kelly also said voters in his area had been notified by mail of the contested election.
Petitioners had singled out the Pleasant Valley community in allegations that voters had either not been informed of the balloting or not aware that the election applied to them.
Boone also upheld the legality of the commissioners' appointment of County Clerk Charles Jones as absentee vote judge.
Petitioners particularly attacked his appointment as an example of what the petition termed "violations of the Texas Election Code." The judge said the choice was justified since the commissioners court would bear the expense of the election.
Jones was the first witness called by Quilliam when the contest went to trial last month. A total of 58 persons were subpoenaed to appear before the ruling was handed down last Thursday.
Contestants may now appeal the district court decision in the court of civil appeals and the state supreme court, but no plans have yet been announced to do so.

these effects upon your household:

The next time your husband complains about having a tough beard, his shaving discomfort may be more attributable to hard water than soft skin.

You will literally be cleaner emerging from a soft water bath. Ditto the tub.

Hair washed in soft water will be shinier and more manageable than when washed in hard water.

Minor skin irritations and itches may actually be caused by chemicals in hard water.

Help may be in sight, though. Improved water conditioners are now available and special formula hard water detergents and other products are now being developed. The war on hard water may finally be bringing its big guns into action.

OLTON DRUG

Hackler Gets Work Citation

An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Orian E. Hackler, supervisor of the city of Olton water supply and distribution system. The citation reflects the regard in which Hackler is held by state water officials.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewerage Works Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers. State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

The engineers said the attainment is evidence of Hackler's efforts to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

By ART BEEMAN

In Season Opener

Mustangs Win Over Indians, 41-0

Olton Mustangs went on a winning war path of their own as they scalped the 4-AA Morton Indians in a runaway ballgame there Friday night.

Ponies galloped for a total of 257 yards while a determined defense held the Indians to 166 yards in a fierce ground battle that had red flags flying nine times before the night was through.

It was Olton's game all the way, spurred on by four TD trips by junior halfback Bennie Akin. He managed the distance in runs of 17, 6, 22, and 33 yards, respectively.

His performance was equally impressive between goals where he averaged almost seven yards in 14 carries.

Quarterback John Lewis aided the effort literally hand and foot—once with a 48-yard TD dash and again with a 23-yard scoring connection to end Joe Luera.

The talented toe of halfback Steve Spain capped the scores with five of five conversions.

Mustangs went to the dressing room at the half only one point shy of having their entire scoring job done. No quarter went by without a change on the Olton side of the board.

Morton ended the half as they ended the game—with no score.

In the opening moments, Morton started a 12-yard drive that finally ended on the visitors' 44 stripe. Indian halfback Charles Joyce set the temporary pace by taking the kickoff on his own 10 yard line and darting away on a 22-yard return.

A 28-yard rush around left end by Akin from his own 40-yard line put the Mustangs in striking distance for the first time.

He was also around four plays later to pass left end and close the 17-yard gap to the goal. Spain booted the extra point to put the score at seven with 6:13 remaining in the first quarter.

Morton went for a net gain of three yards in the period and Olton managed only a dozen yards before time ran out.

A 21-yard run by halfback Kenneth Johnson from the Olton 35 early in the second quarter was countered by a 15-yard penalty three plays later.

The drive died when a couple of missed blocks left quarterback Charles McClain buried under 350 pounds of Morton Indian in the form of end Tommy Waters and guard Billy Smart. Olton wound up eating the ball, for a rare change, for a 12-yard loss.

Scoring fever that finally resulted in seven more points after Olton's end Stacy Pendergrass recovered a Morton fumble on their 15-yard line.

Akin again found the goal line with 8:24 to spare in the second quarter and Spain joined in to split the uprights to make the tally 14-0.

A third Olton drive, boosted by three first downs, ended again at the goal line with only 44 seconds to go in the period. Akin charged a third the distance of the field to make the score 20-0.

A conversion attempt by Mc Clain went wide.

Second half began to look like a re-run of the first when familiar number 44 drove 35 yards for a TD. The conversion kick by Spain brought the score to 27-0 with 8:54 left to play in the quarter.

Lewis made a personal appearance across the goal with 1:44 left by keeping the ball for 52 yards. Spain found the mark for the conversion and boosted the score to 34-0.

Morton tried to rally in the fading seconds of the quarter with a couple of runs (21 and 39 yards) by Charles Joyce, but he stopped outrunning the clock on the Olton 41.

Lewis made up for his recovered fumble in the middle of the third quarter by covering a Morton bobble on the Olton 28-yard line early in the last quarter.

The play set up a winning 23-yard strike from Lewis to Luera who shot across the goal for half a dozen more for the board.

Spain zeroed in on the up-rights for the last time of the night to make the score 41-0 with 9:27 left to play.

Both teams went to the air—for three a piece—in the last quarter.

Morton was credited with an 11-yard delivery after an interference call on Olton at the Pony 38-yard line.

Luera joined the passing act by interception of an Indian toss on the Olton 42 and running it back to the Morton 22 where a field goal attempt by Akin was partially blocked.

First field goal try by Akin, earlier in the closing quarter, fell short on its ambitious 37-yard journey over the bar.

Results Told Golf Tourney

Half a dozen of the 23 teams competing in the annual Partnership Golf Tournament here Saturday and Sunday pooled their combined driving and putting into prizes worth $360.

Local linksters Andy Andrew and Roger Thompson posted the top championship score of 134 for the 36 holes after rounds of 66 and 68. The winning team split $72 in merchandise.

Selective shot was scored for each round in the three competing flights. Handicaps were also used, and similarly-valued prizes were given in each flight.

Bob Copeland of Olton and Smiley Monroe of Anton teamed for a 136-stroke total, falling only two strokes off the lead in the second round after going to the clubhouse Saturday neck and neck with the eventual champs.

They shared $48 in merchandise for the joint effort. Top slot in the first flight went to the local team of Gilbert Roberson and Archie Sorley who toured the greens with consistent 70s both days for a 140 game total and $72 in prizes.

One stroke back was the team of Roy Roberts and Joe Turner which finished with a second day 69 that lacked one swing offsetting the 72 turned in the day before.

Second flight winners were Don Martz of Amarillo and Skip Martz of Plainview who took first prize with rounds of 74 and 68 for a 142 total.

Second place competition dragged into an eight-hole sudden-death match before B. A. Darby and Bud Boyd, both of Lorenzo, topped Rusty Durham and Bob Gates, two Tech students from Lubbock.

Final score in the thriller was 145 after rounds of 73 and 72.

Top Mustangs Are Chosen

Olton's "Mustangs of the Week" after the first game of the season were announced Monday by head coach Don Beck.

Offensive honors went to halfback Benny Akin who went for more yardage than any man on the field in Morton last Friday night.

Defensive choice was tackle Steve Burleson who stopped many an Indian in the game.

The boys are pictured on page 9 of this issue of the Enterprise. They were picked on the basis of film grades on the previous week's game.

work to keep pace with halfback Gerry Goodin who breaks the tape in the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat.

"They have the power to go up the middle, the speed to run wide, and the ability to pass," said the Mustang mentor who will try to block all three possibilities Friday night.

He noted that no particular changes would be made in play patterns from those used against Morton, adding only that they would take the game to the air if Hereford's 195-pound line could not be punctured.

"But our kids think they're going to beat Hereford," Beck commented.

Only the home scoreboard late Friday night will tell if what the Mustangs "think" is anything like what they "do."

Local starting lineup will include:

OFFENSE—ends Joe Luera and R. L. Copeland, tackles Steve Burleson and Mike Crowder, guards Tony George and Eddie Hooper, halfbacks Kenneth Johnson and Benny Akin, fullback Bobby Turner and center Jason Latimer.

DEFENSE—ends Lannie McClain and Benny Akin, safety, Charles McClain, tackles Danny Dial and Steve Burleson, linebackers Ricky Smith and Joe Luera, corner halfback Butch Hudgens, Steve Spain, and Johnson, and guard Eddie Hooper.

trip and second prize Sun Bowl trip.

The winners of the trips will be the contestants who pick the most games right over the entire season.

There's a chance the winner hasn't begun competition yet. He may be a late starter and win over a period of weeks that would put him right up on top.

However, the more weeks missed, the less chance a person has of being the season winner.

There are weekly prizes that may be won by someone, even though that person may not be in the season running. Cash prizes are $5 for first place, $3 for second and $2 for third. There's still time to enter. And it's simple.

Pick up a copy of the Sept. 7 issue of the Enterprise and fill out the entry form and turn it in to one of the sponsoring merchants before 4 p. m. Friday.

That's all there is to it. And some lucky person is going to win a trip to the Cotton Bowl or the Sun Bowl.
