Storms Hit Texas

By The Associated Press

Flash flood and thunderstorm warnings abounded over Central and East Texas early today as gusty winds approaching 40 miles per hour pushed the turbulence through the state.

The heaviest storms were in North Central and Southeastern Texas. Tyler reported 1.32 inches overnight and Wichita Falls received nearly one inch in a one-hour period.

Red Cross volunteers in Wichita Falls were sent to a low-income, older area of the city at midmorning to stand by in case residents had to be evacuated from the Halliday Creek area. The creek, which was bankful, runs through the city.

Police reported flash flooding earlier at one intersection near the creek.

Prisoner Swap Ended

SAN DIEGO (AP) - The final mass exchange of convicts under the U.S.-Mexico prisoner exchange treaty has become history after 48 Americans and 36 Mexicans convicted of crimes on foreign soil were sent back home to serve out their sentences.

A Texas International Airlines jetliner delivered five Americans from Juarez penitentiary and 12 Mexicans jailed in Texas State prisons to San Diego on Monday morning.

The Americans disembarked and 24 more Mexicans from U.S. federal prisons boarded for the flight to Mexico City.

City Votes Recounted

GUATEMALA CITY (AP) - The votes cast in Sunday's national election in the capital district are being recounted, but the third man in the presidential race charges large-scale vote fraud and demands a recount for the rest of the country.

Well, the Westerners did it again!

The WTC quintet has fared plenty well in the regional junior college basketball tournament since it was moved from Amarillo to Abilene. Apparently, the tournament has found a permanent home in the Hunt P.E. Center at McMurry College, and it is a handy situation for WTC Fans.

The crowd on hand for the final game Saturday night between WTC and New Mexico Military Institute was composed mostly of Snyderites. In fact, it seemed to us that two-thirds of the people in the stands were WTC backers.

Of course, the best place for the regional tournament would be the Scurry County Coliseum, but we could not expect the other teams in the region to go for that with WTC in the tournament each year. So, the situation at Abilene is about the best that local fans could hope for.

A lot of people were disappointed when the Southwest Conference elected not to televise any of its tournament at Houston. The SWC, which finally appears to be making considerable headway in its struggle for recognition in the basketball world, may have missed a golden opportunity to indoctrinate some new fans. There is an adage that success may be achieved by profiting from the mistakes of others. On the other hand, success may come by observing the successful operations of others and the SWC should take a look at professional football. It was concentrated in a relatively small area of the nation until television lured many more fans.

In fact, few people around this area were even aware that such a thing as professional football was going on regularly until they put it on the tube. Now, it is not uncommon for several Snyderites to be in the stands when the Dallas Cowboys are playing at home.

Basketball needs a following in the SWC if it is going to advance to the same position it holds in other areas, but they are not going to make much headway without exposure. And basketball is one sport that definitely offers the fan in the stands an advantage over those watching by television, but television can kindle a flame among potential new fans and it is great for seasoned fans who are unable to travel to the site of the game.

As Coal Supplies Dwindle

Miners' Decision Is Awaited

WASHINGTON (AP) - The White House, anticipating initial defiance by coal miners to any back-to-work order, is hoping that available supplies and at least some resumed mining will tide coal-dependent states over until warm weather arrives.

"We now think we could postpone indefinitely the day of economic catastrophe," said one official, referring to warnings that dwindling coal supplies were pushing the nation to the brink of serious economic setbacks.

This morning the president told congressional leaders that he hopes the miners will obey the injunction. Carter announced Monday that he is seeking a back-to-work order under the Taft-Hartley Act, and that there is no plan to consider alternatives.

Rep. John Brademas of Indiana, the House Democratic whip, reported on Carter's breakfast meeting with the congressional leadership. The congressman said there was no discussion of a temporary federal seizure of the mines.

The White House plan was described by high level officials, who asked not to be named, after President Carter announced Monday he will seek a back-to-work order under the Taft-Hartley Act.

It hinges on several factors convincing miners to return to work, among them court orders, increased wages and loss of food stamps if they refuse.

But it also includes the hope that individual coal companies and union districts can reach their own agreements sending some of the nation's miners back to work under new contracts.

For several weeks, White House officials have been holding out the possibility that individual contracts could be reached outside the national bargaining effort so that some mines, if not all of them, could be reopened.

Now they are saying that the Taft-Hartley injunction might be conducive to such a solution. Once a few such contracts are agreed upon, it is hoped that other union districts and companies would be encouraged to take similar action.

"Several companies and districts have indicated a desire to negotiate independently," said one administration source.

"For those that don't we will be in a position to stretch out available resources until warm weather comes."

One official, who asked not to be named, conceded that the "game plan" was more what the administration sees as a plausible scenario than a well-charted course.

Call Revealed

Flynt More 'Stable' Today

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (AP) - Shortly after Larry Flynt was shot near the courthouse where his obscenity trial was under way, a telephone caller told the prosecutor he would not have to worry about the trial because "Jesus had taken a hand in it," authorities said today.

Ralph McGee, an investigator for Solicitor Gary Davis, revealed that the county prosecutor had received the anonymous telephone call about 20 minutes after the owner of Hustler magazine was critically wounded in the stomach.

Meanwhile, as Flynt rested in a hospital's intensive care unit after his second round of surgery today, sources at the Georgia state crime laboratory said bullet fragments taken from the shooting scene came from a .44-caliber rifle.

A newsman said he saw bullet casings being taken from an abandoned building across the street from where Flynt and his attorney were shot Monday as they returned to the courthouse from lunch.

McGee confirmed that "at least one bullet casing" was found in the abandoned building.

This morning, Flynt received a brief visit from his wife and President Carter's sister. Aide Andrew M. Jaffe quoted him as saying: "If I could get rid of the pain, the rest would be duck soup."

Flynt's condition was "more stable" today, hospital administrators said, but he would remain in critical condition for at least 48 hours.

TP&L Is Seeking Rate Hike

AUSTIN (AP)-Texas Power & Light Co., currently seeking a $118 million rate increase, will request even higher rates in 1980, the company's president says.

Robert K. Campbell made the statement under cross-examination Monday, the first day of Texas Public Utility Commission hearings into TP&L's latest rate request.

"Is TP&L going to make a rate increase request every year?" asked John Bell, general counsel for the commission.

"Based on what we've applied for, if we get that, we won't be back until some time in 1980," said Campbell.

TP&L has asked for a 37.9 percent increase in the basic rate for residences and 30.6 percent for all classes of customers.

Market Posts Small Gains

NEW YORK (AP) - Stock prices posted some small gains today in buying attributed largely to internal market forces.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up .52 at 743.24.

Advances outnumbered declines by a 4-3 margain among New York Stock Exchange - listed issues.

Analysts said the market seemed to attract some buying by chart-watching traders who regarded the Dow-740 area as a level of support.

Seek To Halt Food Deliveries

Truck Stoppage Plan Launched By Farmers

Area farmers, including a group from Scurry County, were reported manning a picket line on Interstate 20 between Coahoma and Big Spring today.

The objective was to stop truckers hauling food items and ask their cooperation in efforts to get 100 percent parity for farm products.

The road blocks in the Big Spring area were among several in operation today. Others were reported near Lubbock, near Amarillo, near Clovis, N.M., and near Tulia.

There were reports that farmers flagged down a Santa Fe train near Tulia at 2 a.m. today, but after being informed by state troopers that it was unlawful to stop a train, they permitted the train to move on.

Flares lighted the shoulders of interstate roads outside Amarillo and Lubbock. However, farmers appeared to be having limited success in getting truckers to turn around and head home.

Several of the big rigs were seen stopped on the roadsides and many truckers indicated that they sympathized with the farmers' plight. However, most climbed back in their cabs and continued on their way.

In Amarillo, the farmers peacefully set up checkpoints at all major arteries feeding the city and at the Rock Island and Santa Fe Railroad switching yards.

Farmers manning the picket points near Big Spring said they planned to offer coffee and doughnuts to the truckers and that they (the farmers) planned to abide by the law at all times.

The picket points were being manned in relays, and several Scurry County farmers were preparing to participate last night following a meeting of the Scurry County Producers Association in the Scurry County Coliseum.

At Amarillo, farmers were given permission to park tractors in designated areas in the railroad yards. The farmers wanted the yard workers to stop unloading boxcars of fresh fruits, but there was no work stoppage.

About 35 trucks stopped near Lorenzo, 20 miles east of Lubbock. Farmers there on U.S. 62-82 gave truckers doughnuts and coffee and explained their plight. Afterwards the truckers went on their way.

At Portales, N.M., Dennis Baker, coordinator for Eastern New Mexico farmers, told the farmers at a meeting Monday night to ask truck drivers not to carry any food for four days after they reach their destination.

"Our objective is to stop the food delivery to eastern cities," said Baker.

Waylon Burney, a farmer from Causey, N.M., said some farmers are "worried that we're getting in bed with labor. We don't care who we get in bed with if they help us."

Jimmy Ray Ward, a farmer from Eastland, Georgia, said, "This is serious business. Georgia farmers need to see something happening here. If you stop a truck and they throw you in jail, you call Georgia and we'll get you out." He told the farmers the truck stoppage at Clovis would be part of a nationally coordinated attempt to shut down food deliveries.

Council Changes Zone, Names 3 To Tax Board

The Snyder City Council last night approved a zone change, appointed a board of tax equalization and approved a proposal for the city to self-insure itself for automobile and comprehensive liability.

Also approved was the bid of M.L. Duke and Ted Crenwelge for the alfafla lease on city-owned farmland near the waste water treatment plant. Accepted was a two-year bid which would pay the city $28.50 per ton for alfalfa harvested on the land. This was the highest bid received.

City zoning on the west half of Lot 4, Block 1 of the Lammert Addition was changed from single-family dwelling to mobile home zoning at the request of L.D. Womble. The change had been recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

John Pickering Jr., Bob Womack and Dick Norris were reappointed to serve as the city's board of taxes equalization. The final meeting of the equalization board was set for 2:30 p.m. July 25.

After considerable discussion, the council voted 5-1 to provide self-insurance against automobile and comprehensive general liability. The city already provides its own workmen's compensation insurance. Vernon Rannefeld cast the lone vote against the proposal, noting that he preferred to study it further, since the city's present policy continues until July.

A plat of Section 3 in the Highland Addition was approved as presented by St. John's Episcopal Church. Gene Dulaney, who represented the church at the council meeting, said the replat would enable the church to sell three lots which the church does not need.

Mike Graves was granted a waiver on curb and gutter requirements adjacent to three lots he proposes to develop in Westridge Addition. Other development there does not have curb and gutter and Graves will be permitted to develop the lots in question in the same manner that other dwellings were developed there.

A request by Mike Dennis for improved water service at 3102 Avenue V resulted in approval of a proposal to install a larger line in that area. At present, several houses are served by a three-quarter-inch line that has been in service for several decades. The city plans to replace the old line with a four-inch line.

A lot at 14th Street and Avenue K will be put up for sale following a request by Guadalupe Catholic Church. The city holds the lot for itself, the county and schools, all of whom have taxes due on the property. It can be sold only on a bid basis, and the council stipulated that no bid under $475 would be considered, since it would require that amount to satisfy the tax obligations.

A request by Highland Industries for a 60-day extension on its construction contract at the city water treatment plant was tabled. The council indicated it would consider extension requests when the project is completed.

A request by Bill E. Grimmet for city water service at 105 23rd Street, which is outside the city limits, was approved, sub-changing campaigns

With the party primaries only two months away most observers of the Texas political scene see little but voter apathy. With no governorship, a seat in the United States Senate, and an unusually large number of vacancies in the state's delegation in the national House of Representatives on the line a super-heated campaign would appear to be logical.

It is still a possibility, but the prospect remains dim. Various explanations are being offered. Lack of color among leading candidates seems to be high on the evaluation sheets of all observers. Old-timers, of course, recall the good old days when Pappy O'Daniel, Tom Connally, Lyndon Johnson, Jimmy Allred and a few less celebrated rabble-rousers, were included in the cast of characters.

Compared with these ancient worthies this year's crop of aspirants for high office are classified as second rate or worse. That could hardly be the whole story, even though it may be major. Some of the trouble is with the times. Methods of campaigning have changed.

There are no open-air rallies, with brass bands and banners bearing names of favored candidates and campaign slogans. The most highly-touted candidate in this year's list couldn't attract enough people to fill a prep school gymnasium, much less a compress shed or a roped-off section of a courthouse square. The best any of them can do is attract 50 to 100 close supporters and curiosity seekers, with free coffee and doughnuts as bait.

Radio and television have made the traditional political rally as obsolete as a brush arbor camp meeting. But the date of the primaries is bound to affect popular interest. It is hard to arouse interest in early Spring over a general election that won't be held until the Tuesday following the first Monday in November.

Some traditionalists insist that political campaigns and revival meetings are hot weather affairs. They may be nearer right than might appear to be the case.

With or without wide popular participation the show will have to continue and results will have to be accepted. But somebody should be smart enough among all our political hopefuls to see the wisdom of shorter campaigns and a primary date not more than 50 days in advance of the general election.

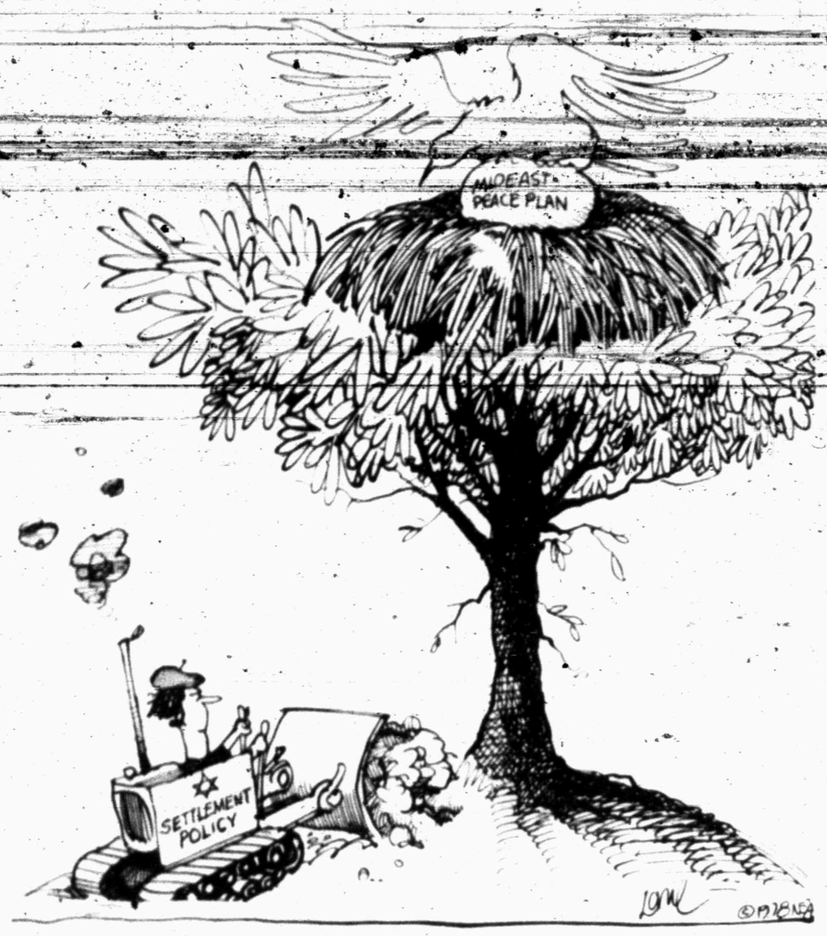

carter reminded again

Last week a governors' conference on energy was held in Washington. Apparently nothing of special importance took place. A message reiterating the President's desire for early Congressional action on legislation was delivered at the meeting.

President Carter met with a smaller group of governors the next day after the larger meeting. Among participants in the smaller meeting with the President were Dolph Briscoe of Texas and David Boren of Oklahoma.

At the conclusion of the meeting the two governors answered questions from reporters. They were agreed that President Carter isn't as adamant concerning some phases of his energy program as he was in the beginning.

Apparently the President isn't going to have a chance to forget the contents of a letter he wrote to Briscoe and Boren during the campaign in which he promised to recommend an energy program substantially like the one favored by governors of oil-producing states. Some say he shouldn't have made the commitment. It is reasonable to assume that if he hadn't made the promise in writing he wouldn't have carried Texas. And if he hadn't carried Texas he wouldn't be President now.

paul harvey

ford could return

It would appear that Gerry Ford really has it made.

He enjoys the prestige, perquisites and deference due a former President of the United States.

His pension leaves him comfortably free to travel; he can lecture for extra money when he wants to and spend the rest of the time improving his technique on the ski slopes or lowering his handicap on the golf course.

But when a professional politician has tasted the power of the Presidency anything less is less.

Former President Ford honestly does not know whether he will seek that office again; too many imponderables between now and 1980.

But if there is little substantive change in the political climate between now and then -- and assuming his and his family's good health continues -- there are compelling reasons for a "Ford in your future."

The 1976 election was even closer than the 2.2 percent difference in total votes. It was only the former Confederate states which elected Carter. And Carter was the first Democrat to carry all those states in 30 years.

Humphrey couldn't have done it. Jackson couldn't have done it.

Vermont Royster has said that Carter could not have been elected to any office in his home state -- but his home state voted for him for President just to see a Southerner in the White House.

Now the South has seen a Southerner in the White House.

Next time around, Mr. Carter will be on his own.

But the Republicans, aware that you can't whip anybody with nobody, are going to have to come up with an appealing somebody.

Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kan.) and Sen. Howard Baker (R-Tenn.) have not caught on nationally. Illinois' Gov. James Thompson seeks national prominence but has not won much.

Spellbinder John Connally appears too vulnerable.

Ron Reagan is keeping himself in public view -- is presently writing another book and his wife is writing a book -- and he is winning an increasing following during the Panama Canal dispute.

And Reagan came close enough to the nomination in '76 to be a front-runner for the next one.

That alone -- and this is as much as I shall say of it, the availability of Reagan -- could prod Ford to run again.

Television adds an important factor to any political consideration. If good looks were enough, Reagan and Connally would have the edge.

But television's x-ray eye also tends to favor the naturally, "nice guy." Ford has that image and is enhancing it with his becoming conduct and temperate utterances.

So while our nation grapples with basic problems -- erosion of our currency, lack of self-discipline among our people -- it should be reassuring to realize that, if there are no giants these days, there are good men -- in office and waiting in the wings.

my turn

by wanda rushing

Friday night was certainly a cold night to be going out but for the 700 or more persons attending the Chamber of Commerce Banquet, it was worthy of the effort. The 'coolness' of the coliseum was overshadowed by the warmth and hospitality of Scurry Countains.

Those who had a part in staging the banquet are to be complimented. It was a most enjoyable evening.

The exhibits in the lobby were real interesting and quite informative. Can you imagine a flame resistant cotton?

The food on the menu was all produced in Scurry County and was delicious. I will have to admit though that the barbecued-lamb would have tasted better to me if I had not known what I was eating.

The entertainers did a superb job. And it appeared to fit those attending to a 't'. After all, you can take the people out of the country, but you can't take the country out of the people. The 'over the hill' groups enjoyed hearing the Bob Wills type of music. That certainly wasn't the first time that Miss Kiner had ever picked up a fiddle.

Several worthy Snyderites received awards for services to their community and these were presented in very short order.

Mrs. Beneli gave an informative talk on shopping and ways to save time and money, as well as other tips to homemakers.

Reagan Brown, Texas Agriculture Commissioner, is certainly a very good speaker and he kept the audience well entertained while getting his views across to the banquet attenders. Even the title of his speech, "Who's Watering the Elephants" was fitted into the speech. I kept wondering just how he was going to work those elephants in.

It was easy to see why he is in such demand for banquets. He revealed that he had spoke at over 5,000 banquets.

Several remained after the program to hear more of the music by Miss Kiner and her band.

So if you missed the banquet begin now to make your plans to attend the one next year. It will be hard to top this outstanding banquet featuring Scurry County, but I'm sure the next one will be good too.

So here's hats off to all that had a part in the banquet for another successful Scurry County project. I for one thoroughly enjoyed it.

Berry's World

"He's been behaving like Hamilton Jordan!"

in washington

martha angle and robert walters

WASHINGTON (NEA) - The egg bombardment which greeted Bob Bergland in Texas recently may have been a blessing in disguise. It is the only event in months to create any sympathy for the beleaguered Secretary of Agriculture.

While President Carter and his top aides have been preoccupied with the coal strike and Panama Canal treaties, Bergland has been fighting a bruising uphill battle to sell the administration's farm policy on Capitol Hill and in the countryside.

His campaign, to put it politely, has been less than a roaring success thus far. And time is running out.

With the spring planting season rapidly approaching, farmers everywhere are still showing a marked lack of enthusiasm for the government's complex package of carrot-and-stick programs aimed at reducing production and bolstering prices for key crops, especially wheat and feed grains.

It is not just the militants of the fledgling American Agriculture Movement who are unhappy, either, although their unprecedented mass protest has immensely sharpened the focus on problems of the nation's farmers.

Throughout the Farm Belt, thousands of producers who have taken no active role in the AAM "strike" are grumbling that the Carter farm program offers too little too late. They are not rushing to sign up. There are essentially three major elements to the Carter farm program developed after enactment of the 1977 Farm Act last fall. Two are "carrots," protection against falling prices - loan and target price supports, plus a major new grain reserve to take excess production off the market until prices rise to a level where farmers can make a buck by selling.

The third is the "stick," a set-aside requirement that would force farmers who wish to qualify for the "carrots" in the program to remove a certain percent of their land from production.

The old law of supply and demand still reigns supreme in agriculture. The huge grain harvests of the past two years have left farm prices severely depressed. Unless the supply can be cut through reduced planting, good weather this year could bring unmitigated price disaster.

Bergland and other department officials are pleading with congress to give the 1977 law a fair trial before making any major changes in it. But his is an election year, and the pressure is on for a quick fix.

Farmers are making considerable headway on Capitol Hill with demands for sweeteners of the administration program - higher loan or target prices, payments for the required set-asides, emergency credit help and the like.

Congress isn't about to buy the AAM's demand for guaranteed 100 percent parity - in effect, a guaranteed profit. But it is growing impatient with the administration's resistence to less drastic changes in the program.

Senate Agriculture Chairman Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., has bluntly threatened that Congress will force Bergland's hand if the administration doesn't act on its own to shore up protections against another bumper crop year - with concommitent plunging prices.

Obviously, something's got to give. The farmers' "strike" has generated unprecedented public sympathy for their plight and given their demands unusual political steam.

But at the same time, Congress cannot afford to ignore warnings from Bergland and others in the administration about the long-range damage that hasty legislation could do to the farmers' cause.

Jacking up price supports still higher could save some farmers from bankruptcy this year only to deprive others of their future livelihood by pricing American agriculture out of the world market. And public support for the farmers could turn sour very fast if food prices at the supermarket suddenly start soaring again.

The administration will probably have to sweeten the pot a bit more to insure enough participation by producers to give its new farm program a real chance of working. But Congress, if it is wise, should not ask for more.

rail hazards eyed

NEW YORK (AP)-Close to 1,600 commodities classified as hazardous materials move by railroad today, compared to about 30 or 40 products so termed at the beginning of the century.

According to the railroads, this evolution of society, rather than negligence, is the primary reason for spectacular and tragic wrecks, such as those recently at Waverly, Tenn., and Youngstown, Fla.

Sensitive to periodic waves of criticism, the Association of American Railroads is about to release a background paper citing what it feels is a steady improvement in safety.

In 1976, the paper relates, 1,684 people were killed in rail accidents, a reduction of 1,000 since 1966. And of that total, 458 fatalities were classified as trespassers on railroad property.

But other statistics are making examiners, including the railroads', pause to reflect.

The great majority of deaths, 1,168, occurred at grade crossings, some in the middle of towns. Forty-two percent of accidents were caused by track or structural defects.

Add to these figures the rise in hazardous commodities, such as liquefied petroleum gas, chlorine, anhydrous ammonia and vinyl chloride, and the mixture becomes volatile, as does the criticism.

Seeking to defuse the issue, the Association of American Railroads acknowledges its seriousness but maintains that statistics always must be put in perspective.

It claims that 91 percent of hazardous cargo accidents involve trucks rather than railroads. Seventy-five percent of the accidents and 80 percent of the fatalities occur on the highways, it adds.

In many cases, it says, there is no satisfactory alternative to railroad movement of dangerous commodities. They must be shipped, and they must be shipped by rail.

"Imagine the outcry if 80 million tons of volatile, corrosive or otherwise dangerous materials were suddenly transferred to the nation's highways," said Richard Briggs, association vice president.

But the concern of millions is not alone, or even mainly, with which is safer, highway or railway traffic. Of greater concern is what is being done to reduce or even eliminate safety hazards.

What, besides spending money, are railroads doing about defects in tracks and structures, the most common cause of accidents?

For one thing, trying to convince the public that there is little relationship between accidents and the inability of some railroads to maintain their roadbeds.

Do not be fooled by appearances, the association seems to say in conclusion. Railroads accidents are spectacular, but they also are relatively rare.

letter to the editor

To The Daily News:

To the farmers who farmed before 1933, we apologize. To the farmers who farmed from 1933 to this date, the consumers or taxpayers wish to list their complaints or grievances to the farmers.

1. You are aggravating. You think you are something special. The truth is that technology of the manufacturer of farm machinery and chemicals made it possible for you to produce at a ratio 40-1 over your former sires.

2. In all wars, you have had draft deferment.

3. You are exempt on fuel tax.

4. You are exempt on state tax.

5. Your land is exempt from commercial taxes.

6. Since 1933, the taxpayers have paid for terracing your land.

7. The taxpayers have paid for digging tanks or dams, for cross fences, land clearing and other conservation practices.

8. The taxpayers have payed you to plant, to plow up crops and not to plant crops.

In fact, since 1933, every gimmick Congress could conjure was used to put money in the farmer's pockets. The farmers have been pawn of the taxpayers so long they have forgotten how to stand on their own feet.

Farmers, you bellyache about the middleman getting all of the profit. Farmers, only you can eliminate the middleman by selling your products through a farmers co-op.

Children's Checks Make Work for Mom

By Abigail Van Buren

1978 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: You were way off base to defend the lazy Grandma who gave her grandchildren checks for Christmas.

It's obvious that you haven't lived with small children for some time. A check means absolutely nothing to a small child. But I'll tell you what it means to a small child's mother. It means she has to make a trip to the bank, and then a trip to the store to buy something with the money.

That usually means dragging the kids along with her. That may not sound like much of a hardship, but working around the children's naps, it would take my whole day to do it.

I can think of a lot of ways I would rather spend my time than doing my mother-in-law's shopping!

NO CHECKS, PLEASE

DEAR NO: If the gifts happen to be the right size, the right color and exactly what the children need or want—wonderful! But what if they aren't? Wouldn't you rather have a check than the chore of exchanging the gifts? (Most mothers are more familiar than grandmothers with their children's needs and desires.)

My mail has been running 20 to one in favor of checks. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: FURIOUS must be kidding! She's the ninny who complained because her mother-in-law gave her a check and told her to buy something for her kids for Christmas from "Grandma."

I should be so lucky! My mother-in-law walks in empty-handed on Christmas Day to pick up HER gifts!

Tell FURIOUS I'll be glad to give her my mother-in-law if she'll give me hers.

FURIOUS WITH FURIOUS

DEAR ABBY: My mother is always on my back about something. It's "sit up straight, talk slower, turn down the TV, quit picking your face, go do your homework!"

What's a poor defenseless teenager supposed to do anyway?

HASSLED

DEAR HASSLED: Sit up straight, talk slower, turn down the TV, quit picking your face, or go do your homework.

DEAR ABBY: This for the person who was looking for an alternate to the traditional cigars handed out on the arrival of a new baby.

We had a baby last October, and being a non-smoker, I had no intentions of handing out cigars. Instead, my wife boiled three dozen eggs and wrote "IT'S A GIRL" on each one with a pink felt-tipped pen.

It made a great hit in the office.

RON G., GRANADA HILLS, CALIF.

DEAR RON: Considering that an "egg" started the whole thing, you hatched a great idea!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "J" and "F": What parents leave IN their children is far more important than what they leave TO them.

3 NT proves best call

North and South did all the bidding in this hand from the fall continent-wide charity game. When North played in diamonds he made four odd if East cashed his top spades and five odd if East cashed one spade and shifted to another suit. Since most defenders did cash their spades those who bid the diamond game were down one for bad scores.

The bidding in the box was the most popular around the country. South's heart bid usually stopped the heart lead which would beat a notrump game. With spades played by the defense South would get in and go after diamonds.

He would play ace and another. West would take his king, cash the last spade and lead a heart.

At this point South would take the rest of the tricks, provided he had remembered to play the nine or 10 of diamonds from dummy on one of the first two rounds of the suit. If he had forgotten to make this play he would not be able to get back to his hand to cash the king of hearts.

"GIRLS WHISPERIN' AND GIGGLIN' IS LIKE GUYS RUNNIN' AND HOLLERIN'."

TIGER HURLER — Tony Degrate, freshman, racked up his second win of the season here yesterday as Snyder High School thumped Odessa 7-4. The Tigers, 4-0, were to host Midland at 4:15 p.m. this afternoon.

Snyder Wins 4th; Hosts Rebs Today

Coach Albert Lewis' Tiger baseball team fired in three fifth-inning runs to break a 4-4 tie here yesterday and defeat Odessa High School, 7-4.

The victory, Snyder's fourth in as many tries, was highlighted by three home runs and a pair of doubles. Richard Crayton, Tiger third baseman, was the most affluent swatter, banging a home run, a double and a single for an afternoon's effort.

Starting pitcher Mitch Mackey, who was replaced in the fourth by Tony Degrate, saw his try at the mound go sour early as Odessa hurler-shortstop Cantrell socked a home run in the top inning.

Snyder came back with four runs in the bottom of the set however, to go ahead 4-1 early. Lead-off pitcher Cardoup also had a frustrating time at the hill as Dray Sikes got on a fielder's error, Crayton knocked a double, Alvin Ollison banged a double and Tracy Witherspoon slammed a home run to get Snyder started in style.

Odessa scored another run in the second and tied the score 4-4 in the third inning with two more runs.

Crayton's home run ignited the Tigers again in the fifth inning. Ollison singled and Witherspoon walked - both reaching home on a fielder's error.

Degrate came in at the top of the fourth inning, ending Odessa's hitting spree. The freshman hurler allowed two hits and no runs, posting his second win of the season against no losses. Degrate walked one batter and fanned three others.

Mackey, who pitched the initial three innings, gave up four runs on five hits, walked one batter and struck out two.

Cardoup, who is credited with the loss, gave up six runs on seven hits, walked two and struck out two.

Rockets File Damage Suit

HOUSTON (AP)-The Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association filed a $1.4 million damage suit against the Los Angeles Lakers for the loss of Rudy Tomjanovich, Houston's captain and leading scorer.

Tomjanovich has been out of action since Dec. 9, when a punch by Kermit Washington, then of the Lakers, hospitalized the Rockets star.

Tomjanovich, scheduled to undergo additional surgery next month, filed a suit last month against the Lakers and Washington but did not specify the amount of damages sought.

The Rockets filed the suit with U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals after NBA Commissioner Lawrence O'Brien advised the Houston team on Feb. 8 he would not take part in disposition of the dispute between the two teams.

Arkansas Falls In College Cage Poll

Kentucky Holds Top Spot

By GARY MYERS
AP Sports Writer

For the first time in a month, a No. 1 team has managed to hold onto its ranking for two consecutive weeks in The Associated Press college basketball poll. The South[illegible] Conference champ[illegible] Kentucky Wildcats remained at the top of the latest and next-to-last balloting of sportswriters and broadcasters.

In the voting, which reflects games through Sunday, Kentucky, 24-2, received 37 of the 52 first-place votes cast, and a total of 954 points. The Wildcats beat Georgia and had an easy time with Nevada-Las Vegas in action last week.

UCLA held onto its runner-up spot, collecting 11 first-place votes and 926 points. The Bruins defeated cross-town rival Southern Cal and cross-country rival Michigan to improve their record to 24-2.

Marquette remained in the No. 3 position. The defending NCAA champion Warriors netted a pair of first-place votes and collected 826 points. Marquette defeated Butler and squeezed past Detroit and enters the tournament with a 24-3 record.

The remainder of the Top Ten bears little resemblance to last week.

DePaul jumped from sixth to fourth. The Blue Demons collected one first-place vote and 605 points. DePaul, 25-2, defeated Valparaiso and Illinois State in action last week.

New Mexico also moved up two spots, improving to the No. 5 position. The Lobos received 566 points and upped their record to 24-3 with two wins.

Michigan State moved from ninth to sixth with two Big Ten wins. The Spartans, 23-4, received 456 points. Arkansas, which was No. 1 three weeks ago, plummeted from fourth to seventh after its 70-69 loss to Houston in the Southwest Conference post-season playoffs. The Razorbacks enter NCAA play with a 28-3 slate.

Duke made the most significant improvement of the week. The Blue Devils leaped from 15th to eighth after capturing the tough Atlantic Coast Conference tournament. Duke, 23-6, received 382 points.

Kansas dropped from fifth to ninth after losing to Kansas State in the semi-finals of the Big Eight tournament. The Jayhawks, 24-4, received 379 points.

Notre Dame rounds out the Top Ten, dropping from seventh. The irish lost to Dayton in its only action of the week and finished the regular season at 19-6.

Top SWC Teams Note Tourney-men

DALLAS (AP)-Arkansas, Texas Tech, Texas and Houston have players on the 1978 Southwest Conference Postseason Classic all-tournament basketball team announced today.

Texas Tech's Mike Russell, who had 34 points and 18 rebounds in a 93-82 loss to Houston, was named on the most ballots, 56.

Tournament champion Houston had two players on the five-man squad - outstanding player award winner Mike Schultz, with 50 votes, and Kenneth Williams with 39.

Texas Ron Baxter was the second-leading vote-getter with 51 points, and Arkansas' Sidney Moncrief had 35.

The team was selected by writers and broadcasters covering the tournament.

Houston won four games in the tournament for the right to represent the SWC in the NCAA playoffs. They finished third behind Texas and Arkansas in conference play.

The second five in the all tournament team were Houston's Cecile Rose and Charles Thompson, Arkansas' Ron Brewer and Marvin Delph and Texas' Jim Krivacs.

Courtney Unanimous All-District Choice

Six players, including Snyder's Randy Courtney, were selected as unanimous choices to this season's 3-3A all-district basketball squad announced Monday afternoon.

Eleven picks make up the 1978 squad, with an honorable mention field of seven.

Lubbock Dunbar, district representative in the playoffs, led the way, as 6'7" Billy Don Hardaway copped most valuable player awards. Hardaway averaged 27 points per game.

Teammate Greg Whitfield, 6'3", was the other unanimous selction from Dunbar. Whitfield averaged 20 points per game.

Other unanimous choices were Arnold Martinez, 5'8" of Lamesa, averaging 18 points per game; Doug Martin of Lake View, 6'0" Martin of Lake View, 6'0", averaging 13 points per game; and Kerry Cranfill of Brownfield, 6'2", averaging 21.

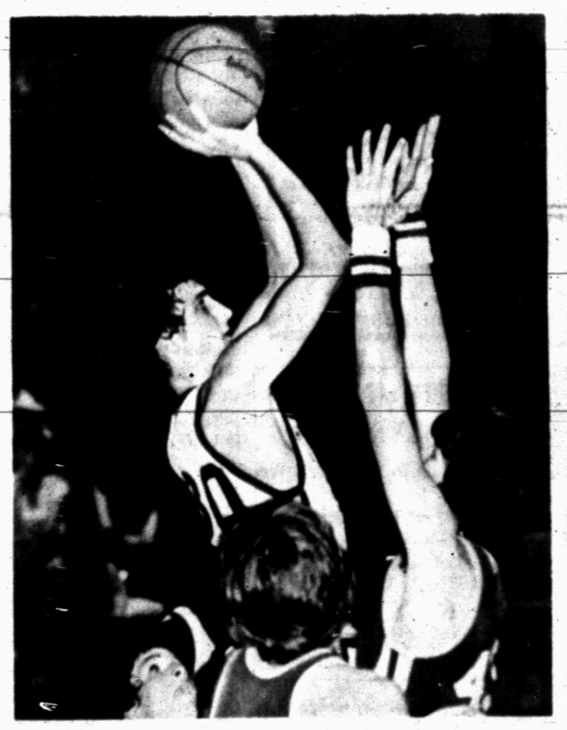

Courtney, a 6'5" forward averaging 20 points per game, was Snyder's only player above the honorable mention ranks.

Other players making the all-district squad were Paul Layfield of Sweetwater; Alvin Harris, Willie Powell and Freddie Ivory of Lubbock Estacado; and - the only two juniors to make the senior domianted squad - Wayne Williams of Dunbar and Mark Duncan of Sweetwater.

Snyder placed two members on the honorable mention squad. Richard Crayton and Lucious Jeffery were the Tiger duo.

Also receiving the vote necessary for honorable mention were Mike Chatham of Estacado, Everett Todd of Sweetwater and Lamesa's Ruben Steinbron, Eddie Kerr and Josh Robinson.

Joe McWilliams of Dunbar was named coach of the year.

WITH YOUR TUNTURI YOU CAN DO YOUR EXERCISES WHENEVER YOU FEEL LIKE IT.

Note. These Tunturi exercise machines are for sale for home or office use.

Tunturi Rowing Machine
Rowing is one of the most complete forms of exercise. The Tunturi Rowing Machine is a durable and smart piece of equipment which fits into a small space. A sliding gauge sets the braking force and there's a scale for programmed exercising. Large hydraulic shock-absorbers simulate actual rowing action and are longer-lasting and safer than dumbbells or elastic springs. There is a sliding seat so your legs also get exercise. You can make up an individual rowing and exercise programmed too, with the help of the enclosed instruction booklet. Dimensions: 54.5 x 15.7 x 32.3 in. Weight: 39.6 lb. Colour: white.

Tunturi Executive Exerciser
The Tunturi Executive Exerciser is fully equipped and precision built and therefore it is particularly suitable for hard use in fitness schools and clinics. The Tunturi Executive Exerciser fits in to an area of one square yard. It is noiseless in operation and can be easily transferred from one place to another. A booklet giving detailed instructions for exercises is included.

Couple Weds On Skates

DAYTON, Ky. (AP) — It was a marriage made in Roller Haven.

The entire wedding party, including the minister, wheeled into the roller rink on skates for the marriage ceremony of Sharon and John Norris.

John, 26, and Sharon, 23 first met at Dave and Deb's Roller Haven, where the marriage ceremony took place Saturday. John was 16 and Sharon was 12 at the time they met.

When they decided to marry, they wanted something out of the ordinary to mark the ceremony, so they came up with the roller skates idea.

"This started out as a big joke," the groom said. "Then we found out the minister had his own set of skates. So we said, 'Okay, why not.'"

Hinshaw's Has Flowers, Candy And Stuffed Animals For Easter

Hinshaw's Florist and Greenhouse is ready to fill your Easter basket with cut flowers, flower arrangements, pot plants, candy, stuffed animals, and much, much more.

They have a large selection of Easter baskets filled with candy eggs and toy trinkets in all the brightest Easter colors.

You can find chocolate candy eggs with a design and a taste by Russell Stover to please everyone. At Hinshaw's there are stuffed rabbits by Kamar that are large or small and come in many different colors. Not only do they have rabbits but they also have many other animals. And don't forget the hollow chocolate rabbits or eggs, or the large stuffed eggs.

And last but not least there are many Easter lilies and hydrangeas and all types of potted plants.

Or you can get fresh cut flower arrangements or corsages with carnations, roses, daisies, and many more all with baby's breath, greenery and colorful ribbon to delight everyone on your Easter list. Or how about one of these beautiful arrangements in one of the many different straw baskets.

Whatever your Easter bunny has in mind for Easter stop by Hinshaw's Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. They are located at 2804 College Ave. or call 573-8561 for your FTD Florist.

EASTER GIFTS GALORE — Getting ready for Easter at Hinshaw's are Pat Hinshaw, left, and Susan McAnally. Stop by Hinshaw's and see their rabbits, Easter baskets, eggs and flowers.

VISITING SCHOOL — Visiting the Humble-Smith School during "open house" Monday night were, from left, Albert Wood and Mr. and Mrs. James Tucker. At right are Carolyn Hamby, teacher, and Varona Mitchell, aide. Open house was observed in all elementary schools and at Humble-Smith as part of the observance of Texas Public School Week. (SDN Staff Photos)

CLASSROOM VISITORS — Mr. and Mrs. Leon Medina visited classrooms at Central Elementary School last night during Texas Public School Week "open house." They are shown with their children, Elizabeth, Henry and Stephen.

NORTH ELEMENTARY — A number of parents were on hand at North Elementary School for the Texas Public School Week "open house" observance Monday night.

WELCOMING VISITORS — Mrs. Mona Bryan, president of the parents organization at West Elementary School welcomes visitors Monday night. Special events were held at all elementary schools as part of Texas Public Schools Week observance.

NORTHEAST VISITORS — A good turnout of visitors came to Northeast Elementary School for the "open house" observance of Texas Public Schools Week last night.

School Has 2 Speech, Language Pathologists

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles on educational programs provided by Snyder Public Schools being presented this week in connection with the observance of Texas Public Schools Week.

Currently, two speech and language pathologists, Barbara Bigham and Alta Nation, provide diagnostic and remedial services for those students who have either speech, hearing, or language problems. The pathologists also serve as consultants to teachers, other staff members, and parents. Each pathologist serves three elementary schools, and one secondary school; both pathologists work with students enrolled in the Early Childhood Program.

Speech and language services are provided for those students who have defects of articulation, defects in voice production, stuttering, delayed speech development, and speech defects associated with clept palate, or cerebral palsy, or impaired hearing.

Students who have a delay in language development also receive remedial services. Remedial language classes focus on phonology - the sounds of language; morphology - the grammar of language; syntax - the word order of language; and semantics - the understanding of language.

Screening for possible speech-language problems is a part of the Early Prevention of School Failure Program which is conducted each year in the kindergartens. Students identified in the screening are then given a complete speech-language evaluation to determine if the need for remedial speech-language services does exist. Students in grades one through twelve receive a speech evaluation when referred by their principal, classroom teacher, parent, doctor, dentist, or other staff member. Following a conference with the principal, classroom teacher and the parent, enrollment in the speech-language program is established and continues until the student modifies his problem satisfactorily.

Parents concerned about a speech problem may request a speech evaluation for their child by contacting the child's principal.

There were remedial speech services in local schools before there was a special education department. In fact, remedial speech service is the second oldest special service in the system, since speech therapy began in 1954.

Aging effects on skin

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 59, weigh 115 pounds and am 5 feet 4 and very proud of it. I have gained about three pounds since my menopause, have been very active and have not had any great weight gain or loss.

For a year now I have noticed a drying condition of my skin. It looks like crepe paper. It seems to be more internal than external and tears very easily at the slightest contact with an object.

I have been taking high blood pressure medicine including a diuretic for about a year.

Could this be cause from a vitamin deficiency? I have asked my doctor about this but he only laughed and dismissed me hastily. I would appreciate an answer from you.

DEAR READER — There may be several factors involved. Many women, as they pass the menopause, start having such changes in the skin and it is more marked in some women than in others. It is classified as aging of the skin just as a person's hair gets gray and thins out.

Nutrition is important to good skin and deficiencies can cause skin problems. If you are eating a well-balanced diet that should not be the case.

You can dry out the skin; because you are taking high blood pressure medicines that promote the elimination of water that may contribute to the appearance you describe.

Your skin may be getting drier. I would suggest that when you shower or take a bath that you put a little baby oil on your body and towel it over all your skin to replace oils. The oil film will help the skin retain its natural moisture and help prevent the appearance you describe. Of course sun and wind will dry and damage the skin.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 7-10, Your Skin: Sun, Aging, Spots and Cancer to give you more complete information about your skin and taking care of it. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I had open heart surgery about four months ago because I was stabbed in the heart. I am real lucky to be alive today.

A doctor said I was in good shape but that I couldn't do heavy lifting any more or jogging because the stitches break from heavy exercise of the heart. Another doctor said I could do heavy work and exercise like before the operation. Please let me know your opinion. I'm 33 years old now.

DEAR READER — If you had no residual strucural damage of consequence to the heart it should function normally. Of course if a valve was damaged or some other serious defect accompanied the injury that would be a different matter. A simple stab wound that has been repaired will leave only a simple scar through the wall of the heart where the stab occurred.

If you have recovered well and have gradually improved your exercise tolerance and have had no complications or residual damage you should expect to go back to leading a normal active life in all respects, including whatever exertion you want to do.

Bush What?

Bush May Run

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP)-It's all or nothing for fomer CIA Director George Bush.

Bush said Monday he's thinking about running for president and won't settle for any lower elected office. But he said he might consider being secretary of state under a Republican president.

"If we decided today we needed another power plant, these kids would be in college before it could be ready."

"Most people are surprised to learn how long it takes to build an electric generating plant.

It takes about eight years to locate and purchase the right site, order equipment, plan and build a lignite-fueled power plant, obtain approvals from all regulatory agencies, and then test the plant's operation carefully. It takes even longer for a nuclear-fueled plant — 10 to 12 years.

Mike Greene
TESCO Power Department

Right now, because of the shortage and high cost of natural gas, Texas Electric is building new plants that run on lignite coal and one which will use nuclear fuel.

These plants are very expensive. But we must build them so that when the need is there tomorrow, the electricity will be there too."

Texas Electric Service Company

Electricity. You count on it today. We're working to keep it that way.

The electricity these youngsters will need when they grow up – for homemaking, jobs, education, health care and cleaning up the environment – must be planned for today.

DA Remembers Helpful Snyder High Teachers

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of interviews with graduates of Snyder High School who are now involved in the community's business and professional life. The series has been developed in connection with the observance of Texas Public Schools Week.

By JOHN LONG

A native of Hermleigh, Lealand "Pete" Greene began his schooling in Snyder in the sixth grade. He went on to letter in football and was eventually named Mr. Snyder High School before his graduation in 1963.

Now 32 years old and the district attorney for Scurry and Borden Counties, Greene believes his Snyder education helped prepare him for college. He was partly helped, he said, by the "wider curriculum" offered in Snyder than in some of the smaller area schools.

One of the teachers he remembers best from his days at Snyder High School is Franklin Pruitt, who taught world and Texas history. "He seemed interested in his students," Greene said.

"But there are a lot of teachers still here who taught me," Greene pointed out. Other teachers Greene remembers from his high school days are James Littlepage, Ollie Peek, Virginia Grove, Speedy Moffett, Mrs. M. M. O'Rear, and Hazel Hanback.

Each contributed something to his overall education, Greene said.

While a student at Snyder High School, Greene lettered in football. He played guard and linebacker.

There are also differences between a Snyder education of the early 1960s and the late 1970s.

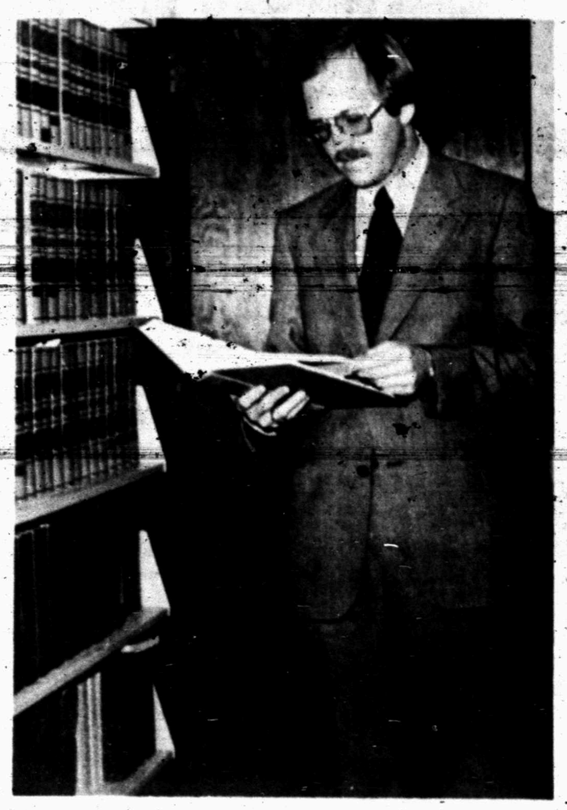

"There were no dress codes involved back then, that I can recall. Kids drank beer instead of smoking marijuana. I never even heard of marijuana in 1963," he said.

There are also differences in hair styles. Greene said he used to sport a flattop haircut, the style of that day.

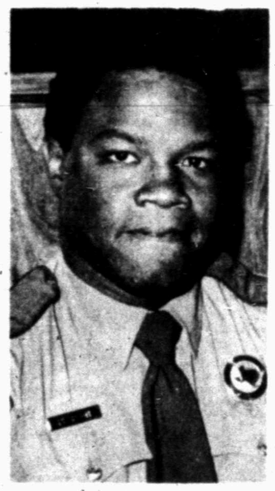

Following his graduation from high school, Greene went to Texas Tech where he studied government and history. He attended law school at Baylor.

He served a two-year stint in the Army after leaving law school and came back to Snyder to establish his practice.

He came back, he said, because "this city is a nice community."

EARL PEARSON

County Gets New Highway Patrolman

Earl Pearson, 23, is Scurry County's newest highway patrolman. He began his duties last week and replaces Keith Pherigo who resigned in October.

A highway patrolman for slightly over two years, Pearson's first job assignment placed him in El Paso.

Pearson attended McMurry College in Abilene and for two years played on the football team as a tight end. He then went on to graduate from the Department of Public Safety Academy in Austin.

He and his wife Catherine have two children, Anthony and Valancia. The family resides at the Park Village Apartments.

Lance Discusses Syndicate Plans

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Bert Lance, a syndicated television personality?

The former federal budget said Monday he had discussed plans for a television show while in Southern California.

The remark came during a luncheon speech to the California Club.

Susan Denies 'Affair' Yet

NEW YORK (AP) - Betty Ford once said in a television interview she wouldn't be shocked if her daughter, Susan, had an affair.

But Susan, in an interview with People magazine, says she hasn't had an affair yet. She defines an affair as "fooling around with a married man."

The magazine says the 20-year-old Miss Ford just broke up with a 36-year-old divorced Secret Service agent and that it was her second serious romance.

About the men in her life, Susan said, "It's funny, because I've gone from ski patrolmen to stock brokers to college kids. I date guys who are 5, 10, 15 years older than I am. Here in Palm Springs, Calif., I think everyone I've dated in the last year has been divorced."

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Lester

Mrs. Blanche Hazel Lester, 80, of Big Spring died at 4:45 p.m. Monday in Cogdell Hospital following a long illness.

Funeral service has been set for 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Nalley-Pickle Funeral home at Big Spring, with burial to follow in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Lester, a native of Putnam, moved to Big Spring in 1923. She was married to Harry Lester in 1921. He preceded her in death in 1958.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Joyce Gorman of Snyder, and a brother, Mark Cleaners of Dallas. She was a member of First United Methodist Church in Big Spring.

Mrs. Miller

Graveside rites have been set for 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Snyder Cemetery for Mrs. Rubinell J. Miller, 69, a former Snyder resident.

Mrs. Miller died Monday in Fort Worth where she had lived since 1973.

A service will be held at 9 a.m. Wednesday in Fort Worth, after which the body will be brought here for burial. Bell-Seale Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements here.

Mrs. Miller is survived by her husband, L.W. Miller of Fort Worth; a daughter, Mrs. Joe Giddens III of Fort Worth; a brother, W.A. Johnson of Odessa, and one grandchild.

Youth Is Charged Following Chase

The arrest of a 20-year-old man late last night ended a brief chase involving a motorcycle and a police patrol car.

The pursuit began at the intersection of 17th St. and Ave. M when police attempted to stop the youth, allegedly for speeding, reports show. The pursuit began about 11:35 p.m. and ended a few minutes later approximately four miles north of Snyder on Ave. E. Speeds in the chase reportedly ranged up to 75 miles an hour.

The youth was taken to the police station and charged with fleeing to elude a peace officer.

Otherwise, the usual round of minor traffic accidents was investigated by officers.

The latest mishap occurred about 7:23 a.m. today in the 1900 block of 15th St.

While pulling out of the driveway, a 1975 Buick operated by Geraldine Greene spun out of control and careened across the street where it struck a neighbor's tree and carport pole and wedged itself between another tree and metal pole.

No injuries were sustained in the mishap and moderate damages were reported to the car.

At 8 a.m. Monday a 1977 Chevrolet driven by Sandra Jones West and a 1973 Dodge driven by Walter Erwin Littlefield collided in the 3100 block of 45th St.

At 7 p.m. Monday a 1972 Chevrolet pickup driven by Fidencio Contreras was in collision with a 1977 Chevrolet driven by Lori Haddox. The mishap took place at the intersection of 25th St. and Ave. Q and resulted in minor damage.

Police were also belatedly told of a wreck that occurred the afternoon of March 4. Reports show that a street sign at 2500 El Paso was struck by an unknown vehicle which then apparently left the scene.

ject to annexation.

A resolution in support of the Colorado River Municipal Water District's application for a new reservoir near the confluence of the Colorado and Concho Rivers was approved.

Low bids were accepted for some computer supplies. These included paper, from the Moore Co. of Midland, $325.96; cards, from Van Horn of Lubbock for $502.80, and a form burster from Van Horn for $3,375.

Speck Admits Killing Seven

CHICAGO (AP) - "Yeah, I killed them. I stabbed and choked them," said Richard Speck, admitting for the first time in a news interview that, while high on whiskey and heroin, he murdered seven of eight young nurses in a South Side townhouse almost 12 years ago.

Speck, whose account of the July 1966 mass murder was published in today's editions of the Chicago Sun-Times, said the eighth nurse was slain by an accomplice who Speck claimed to have killed later and tossed into a railroad boxcar.

But a spokesman for the Chicago Police Department was quick to discount the existence of an accomplice.

Speck, 36, said in a copyright interview with columnist Bob Greene that he killed his unnamed accomplice, "an effeminate homosexual," because he feared he would testify against Speck.

VISION WEEK PROCLAIMED — Mayor John Fagin holds a proclamation he signed designating March 5-11 as "Save Your Vision Week" here, as Mrs. John Blum looks on. Theme of the week, proclaimed nationally by President Jimmy Carter and supported by the American Optometric Association, is "Life Is Worth Seeing." The week is observed to remind Americans of the importance of preserving their gift of sight with proper preventive health care. (SDN Staff Photo)

Debate No Place For Princess

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)-A harem is no place for a proper British princess.

And in the view of some 70 demonstrators, neither was a debate on the topic "A Woman's Place is in the Harem."

Princess Anne, the 27-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth, appeared pale and shaken Monday night as four police officers had to force a path for her through cursing demonstrators when she attended the debate at the Cambridge Union, the university's student debating society.

"The motion of the debate was an insult to all women and we don't mind if we insulted the princess to make our point," said one of the demonstrators, who refused to be identified.

About 750 students had paid $1.90 each to attend the debate, a benefit for the Save the Children Fund. The princess is president of the charity.

March 8, 1978

The realization that you don't have to take a back seat to an, ne in your sphere of influence will be brought home to you in the year ahead. This could be your coming of age, literally or figuratively.

PISCES (Feb.20-March 20) The people you're working with expect you to follow through if you say you'll do something. Don't be afraid bo try new methods if you're sure they'll work. Find out more about yourself by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y.10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You may receive information from an unusual source today. It will be given with the expectation that you won't pass it on. Respect that condition.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A pal could make overtures to you regarding an innovative idea. It has possibilities, but don't get involved if you have strong negative vibes.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There's a good chance you can turn a profit if you don't jeopardize your image in the process. Your opportunities possess a different quality today.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't fear doing things in a manner you haven't tried before. Just a slight modification can make a world of difference.

LEO (July 23-Aug.22) It's a seller's game today, so stay away from the marketplace if you can. You're what the sharpies call "an easy mark."

VIRGO (Aug.23-Sept.22) In the press of on rushing events today, you can fare well so long as you're not vaccillating. You won't be overcome if you persevere.

LIBRA (Sept.23-Oct.23) Today you must keep your mind on what you're doing business-wise or professionally. New and different approaches pay off only if you can concentrate.

SCORPIO (Oct.24-Nov.22) The people you hobnob with socially can help you attain an important goal today. You should not, however, let down your hair too soon or too far.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov.23-Dec.21) Something you've wanted completed is well on its way today, if you'll remain patient. You've waited this long, so don't spoil it.

CAPRICORN (Dec.22-Jan.19) An imaginative friend today will help you resolve a matter you've been stewing over. However, don't accept everything he says without first checking.

AQUARIUS (Jan.20-Feb.19) Though you feel like you can't lose today, take only calculated risks. You can realize a small gain if you don't go too far out on the financial limb.
