The SDN Column

You notice right away that Snyder looks better than most other towns its size when you return after being away for a few days.

Also, you notice in other towns that they are battling the same problems that Snyder has faced and that most of them are continuous. Abandoned autobomiles may be the most universal problem in the area of landscape pollution in cities and towns today. Snyder has fought this battle consistently for several years and continues to do so. Other towns have it — some of them worse than others — and to the casual passerby this is one of the things that makes an instant impression.

The progress made and maintained here in image improvement hopefully will set the stage for another major undertaking in the near future, one of the few remaining big problems that would appear to require some early attention. I refer to our courthouse and county jail. These facilities now appear out of step with the remainder of the community, both urban and rural.

Otherwise, we are far ahead of most places our size, although we have to keep running to stay on top.

The current issue of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce magazine, "This Is West Texas," is dominated by an article about the first oil well in the Permain Basin.

It was in 1823 that the Santa Rita No. 1 was "brought in" on University of Texas lands in Reagan County near the present town of Big Lake.

Up to that time, the article notes, all of West Texas had virtually been written off as possible oil producing territory, except by a few tenacious geologists and some stubborn wildcatters. In fact, the name of the discovery well indicates that little hope for success existed. Some women investors in New York, on suggestion of their priest, named the well for Santa Rite, "saint of impossible ventures."

Now, the Santa Rita No. 1 is legendary. Its pumping unit has been reconstructed and placed near the University of Texas as an item of historical significance.

SNYDER AN ALL-AMERICA CITY

OF POSSIBLE INTEGRATION SUITS
School Districts Warned

AUSTIN (AP)—First negotiations over Texas school desegregation ended today with federal authorities threatening court action in the next few days.

Some Texas school officials protested that spokesmen for the Justice Department and Department of Health, Education and Welfare surprised them with federal demands that had not been mentioned before.

"It just about bowled us over," said Roy Butler, president of the Austin School Board, "when they said we would have to take all Mexican-American students into any mixing solution in addition to Negro students. That means instead of a 14 per cent problem we have the 20 per cent Mexican-American students added and that means 34 per cent.

"I'm afraid the situation they outlined is almost impossible, certainly in the few days they offered."

"Almost immediately," said Frank Denius, lawyer for the Austin School Board, when asked when the federal authorities planned to file suit.

Austin, Wichita Falls, and Hearne officials were the first of 18 schools cited to appear today for alleged non-compliance with the 1964 Civil Rgights Act.

Twenty other schools will be heard from Wednesday.

Wichita Falls Supt. G. H. Kirby said their negotiation session was a "stalemate." He said the Justice Department estimated it would file suit within 10 days. Wichita Falls trustees voted last week to seek a court decision on integration of three schools.

Dr. Ken Kennamar, president of the Hearne board, said their session made no progress, with the apparent result: "I guess we'll see them in court." He said Hearne schools now have a freedom of choice system.

M. K. Hage, a member of the Austin School Poard, said the HEW's demand that Mexican-American students be considered in any mixing or busing arrangement means that 22 Austin schools will be affected instead of about six.

Butler said suits involving desegregation of Mexican-American students have been filed against the Corpus Christi and the Sonora schools "but I don't think Austin is in the same category. Only about 20 per cent of our student body is Mexican-American."

The federal government spokesman made no bones in warning that failure to find an agreement over school desegregation plans in the next few days would result in a federal court suit.

"We want to assure you we are sensitive to your needs and will do our best to help you resolve them," said Stanley Pottinger, director of the HEW's Civil Rights Section.

"At the same time many communities have had difficulty coming to grips with the problems ... This meeting is probably the largest we have had in this the seventh state where we have tried this procedure."

"We will probably file separate suits in the four judical districts of Texas," said Hugh Fleischer, deputy chief of the Civil Rights Section of the Justice Department.

Pottinger was asked about Texas schools which have appeals pending with HEW now over desegregation plans that were unacceptable to lower level federal officials.

"If they received a letter to attend this session they are considered in non-compliance," he said. "Any district will have only one proceeding against it. If there is an administrative appeal now, that would be suspended, not dismissed, but for practical purposes the school would deal with the justice department only."

Pottinger said any school named in a justice department suit would continue to receive federal school funds until the courts decide the case.

First schools to begin the hour-long negotiation sessions with members of the civil rights team from Washington and Dallas were Austin, Wichita Falls and Hearne.

US Continues Bombing Raids

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U,S. B52s streaked along both sides of the Laotian border with South Vietnam again today, dropping more than 1,800 tons of bombs in some of the heaviest raids of the Vietnam war.

With about 60 of the giant Stratofortresses flying, two-thirds of the strikes hit along a 200-mile stretch of the Ho Chi Minh trail down through the Laotian panhandle to the Cambodian border.

Other flights of the big bombers hit enemy positions on the Vietnamese side of the border, from within two miles of the demilitarized zone to southwest of Da Nang.

The raids were part of a month-long aerial campaign on both sides of the border to slow enemy arms and ammunition moving into South Vietnam's northern provinces and into Cambodia. The targets included enemy activity, bunkers, base camps, weapons positions, and storage and staging areas.

The U.S. Command noted a "slight increase" in ground activity in the northern provinces of South Vietnam, including one attack southwest of Da Nang Sunday in which four men of an American reconnaissance patrol were killed and eight wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that North Vietnamese troops attacked the Gio Linh military headquarters and a refugee camp five miles south of the demilitarized zone killing one militiaman and nine civilians at the refugee camp. Five enemy were known dead, a spokesman said.

In Cambodia, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops smashed through government positions on the Kiri Rom plateau Monday and drove half the defenders off, military officials said. Officers said no new fighting was reported today.

The sources said only two battalions of Cambodian troops—perhaps 700 soldiers—still held positions on Kiri Rom, a 2,000-foot mountain resort 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, while the other two battalions were trying to regroup half way down. Three other government battalions suffered heavy casualties earlier in the 18-day battle for Kiri Rom, Cambodia's bloodiest battlefield.

Elsewhere in Cambodia, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces opened up with machine guns and rocket grenades on a South Vietnamese transport ship carrying about 600 Vietnamese civilians from Phnom Penh to Vietnam. A spokesman in Saigon said four South Vietnamese sailors and 20 of the refugees were wounded in the attack on the Mekong River 25 miles southeast of the Cambodian capital.

A military spokesman in Phnom Penh reported that a force of about 1,000 Viet Cong overran a Cambodian battalion guarding the country's largest cement factory, near the port of Kampot. It was the second enemy capture of the plant.

The spokesman also reported harassing mortar attacks at a number of points in the country.

House Agrees To Record Votes

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has agreed to lift the veil of secrecy surrounding some of its most important votes, ending a tradition that has endured since 1789.

By voice vote, with only a few scattered no's, the House wrote into a legislative reorganization bill Monday a provision for recorded votes on amendments.

Votes on amendments now are taken under a teller system —borrowed from the British Parliament when Congress first convened in 1789. This system results in a vote total—but no indication of how individual members voted.

There is a procedure by which one-fifth of the members can force a later roll call on adopted amendments, but not on amendments which were defeated.

The action, coming in the third week of debate on the bill, is the farthest-reaching of several antisecrecy moves. Earlier, the House opened committee meetings to television and radio coverage, required that votes taken in closed committee meetings be made public and banned the use of proxies in committee votes.

Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., a sponsor of the voting change, noted that votes on such key issues as Cambodia and Vietnam policies, the supersonic transport, the multi-warhead MIRV and the antiballistic missile defense system had gone unrecorded.

"We bind the people of America," he said. "We say whether they will go to war. We levy taxes—and yet we are not willing to tell the people at home how we vote."

Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., the Democratic whip, said he is concerned that "young people say this House has ceased to be relevant."

"We are saying: 'Let a man stand up and be counted ...,'" he continued. "If you didn't want to be counted, why did you come here in the first place?"

The amendment allows as few as 20 members to demand that names of congressmen and how they vote be recorded by clerks —or possibly by electronic devices.

After the vote on the amendment, members pushed for a commitment to extend electronic voting to regular roll calls in the House.

By voice vote the House agreed to permit—but not to require—electronic voting.

Conference Set For Contractors

A pre-bid conference for all general contractors, subcontractors, and suppliers interested in construction projects planned by Western Texas College has been set for Aug 3.

The conference will begin at 1 p.m. in the conference room in the Snyder Savings and Loan Association building.

Morris Parker and Merv Croston, architects for the project, will be available to explain the types of materials and methods of construction of the college.

The college sold $3¼ million bonds two weeks ago to finance construction of facilities on the campus south of Cogdell Center.

Negro Group To Request Investigation

HOUSTON (AP)—Leaders of Houston Negro organizations said today they will ask the FBI to investigate the Sunday night shooting here that left one man dead and four wounded.

Killed was Carl Hampton, chairman of a black militant group known as People's Party II.

The Negro leaders charged at a news conference that "the action of the Houston Police Department was premeditated and calculated to draw fire, thereby creating the atmosphere that resulted in the murder of Carl Hampton by Houston police officers."

The group also asked for the removal at once of Houston Police Chief Herman Short and establishment of a civilian police review board. They said they would back their demands by staging a two-day selective buying campaign in the city.

Houston, which was quiet Monday night, remained calm today but police were on the alert for any further violence.

Assault to murder charges were filed against two of the wounded late Monday. Police claimed they tried to shoot and kill a police officer during the Sunday night conflict.

The assault to murder complaints named Roy Bartee Haile, 24, and Johnny Coward, 19. Hospital attendants said both were in fair condition.

Doctors treated and dismissed the other wounded—Fred Sparkman, 23, and Gregory M. Clark, 22.

The Rev. Bill Lawson, pastor of a black Baptist church here, said various black organizations and individuals met Monday afternoon after the outbreak of violence.

He said the organizations ranged from the Afro-American Liberation League to the Urban League and the NAACP.

SOUVENIRS AND MEMORIES — Barbara and Roy Lee Carter hold souvenirs they brought back from their one month stay in Sao Paulo, where they visited Edna Francao. Edna stayed with the Roy Carter family during the school year of 1968-69 as Snyder's exchange student, as a part of the American Field Service Program. Barbara is holding a Figua, a Brazilian good luck piece, while Roy Lee displays the Brazilian guitar he purchased during the visit.

Sears Plans 109-Story Building

CHICAGO (AP) — Sears, Roebuck and Co. unveiled plans Monday for the world's tallest building, a 109-story structure.

To be erected on the near West Side by 1974, the 1,450-foot structure will contain 4.4 million gross square feet, making it the largest private office building in the world.

The building will serve as Sears' main office with the firm occupying more than half the structure.

Gordon M. Metcalf, Sears chairman, said the building will be called Sears Tower and will cost more than $100 million.

The exterior will be made of black aluminum and amber glass. Architects are Skidmore, Owings & Merrill of Chicago.

Sears Tower will be 100 feet higher than the World Trade Center under construction in New York City.

Metcalf said Sears will finance the construction.

Sears is the world's largest retailer. In 1969 it recorded net sales of nearly $8.9 billion.

2 Snyderites Back From Brazil Visit

By KATHY BOREN

Barbara and Roy Lee Carter, children of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter, have just returned from a one month visit in Brazil, where they stayed with Edna Francao, the AFS foreign exchange student who lived with them during the 1968-69 school year.

"The most wonderful part of the trip was simply seeing Edna again. Her whole family and many of her friends met us at the airport with two dozen roses, signs saying 'Welcome' and a very enthusiastic reception," said Barbara. Roy Lee instantly agreed that being with Edna was undoubtedly the best part of the trip, adding that they were in Sao Paulo at a very exciting time, because Brazil had just won the World Championship in soccer.

"All of the houses and cars were decorated with the national colors of the country and the Brazilian flag. The people of Brazil were very proud of this achievement," said Roy Lee. He brought back two posters, one of the whole soccer team and one of an individual player whom the Brazilians consider a national hero.

Sao Paulo is a mountain city with a population of about 7 million. Barbara explained that at this tiime of year it is winter there, and although the native Brazilians did not seem too inconvenienced by the 30 to 40 degree weather, "We nearly froze to death."

"Sao Paulo is a very modern and beautiful city. They arre now in the process of remodeling the cobblestone streets throughout the state," explained Barbara.

Roy Lee and Barbara also visited Santos, a coast resort, for four days, which reminded Barbara of Corpus Christi. They spent four more days on a combination coffee plantation, dairy farm and ranch which was owned by some friends of Edna's parents. Rio de Janerio was also included in the itinerary.

Sao Paulo is very American oriented as far as entertainment goes. "I heard more rock music over there than I hear over here," explained Barbara. "The songs are the same we hear in the United States, and many of the kids I talked to were amazed that I could actually understand the lyrics. Their bands play American music and sing the English words, even though they often do not know what they mean. Sometimes they get the words a little mixed up or add some that weren't in the original version, but they do all right on the whole."

The two saw quite a few movies during their visit, including "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" and "Midnight Cowboy." They viewed "Airport" before they left; a movie

Julie Hospitalized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower remained in George Washington University Hospital today after tests to determine the cause of a chronic urinary infection.

The President's 22-year-old daughter will spend a second night in the hospital. She was admitted Monday afternoon.

The White House said the decision to extend her stay in the hospital came from presidential physician Dr. Walter Tkach and was a precautionary measure to guard against infection or irritation as the result of tests.

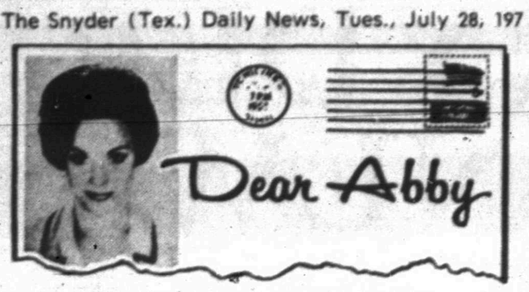
No report was given on the tests. Mrs. Eisenhower was reported "resting quite comfortably" afterwards.

Nixon Schedules News Conference

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon will hold a news conference in Los Angeles Thursday night—his first live, televised session with newsmen outside Washington since taking office.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, in announcing the news conference Monday, said its exact site had not been determined.

The 11 p.m. EDT question-and-answer meeting with newsmen will enable citizens in the West to see and hear a conference in prime evening broadcast time.



Don't invite those you don't want!

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who gets loaded and invites everyone at the party to come to his house for Bloody Marys the next morning? When I hear him do this, I very feebly add, "Oh, yes, do come, we'd love to have you"—when I would love to have conked him over the head.

Most people have sense enough not to come, but some do. What's the solution? WOODSIDE

DEAR WOODSIDE: You can't stop your husband from issuing invitations (drunk or sober) but you can refrain from assuring unwelcome guests that you'd "love" to have them.

Should you hear your husband making such an invitation, quietly let it be known that hubby is "loaded" and there IS no party. And if guests show up when you don't expect them, let him entertain them.

DEAR ABBY: I am nearly 18, and I don't like to brag but I guess you could call me a "popular" girl. I have a good reputation and don't want to spoil it, but here is my problem: After a fellow has taken me to a movie or a dance, and somewhere afterwards to eat, I hate to turn him down when he suggests a little light necking. I never go too far, but I feel sort of cheap afterwards. I guess it's because in a way I am really trying to "repay" him for what he's spent on me. I'm not serious with any of these guys, Abby, they're just dates. But after a guy has spent his hard-earned money on me, how can I turn him down? ALLENTOWN

DEAR ALLENTOWN: It's easy. All a "guy" is entitled to when he asks you for a date, is the pleasure of your company. And unless you want to lose your hard-earned reputation, don't feel obligated to give him his "hard-earned" money's worth. The only kiss that's worth anything is the one that says, "I really dig you." And that's FREE.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from that woman who submitted that her high school days were far from her happiest, certainly rang a bell with me.

I experienced the anguish of hoping someone would ask me to the prom, and knowing nobody would. [I was right.] I knew the daily disappointment of going into the cafeteria and having to eat alone. Like your correspondent, I was lucky enough to go away to college. There I learned that I really did have a personality and I could make friends. Most important, I learned how painfully difficult it was to smile at a stranger and say "hi" first. But I did it, and it opened up a whole new wonderful world for me.

Today I am an officer in the WACS, and I am happy to say that the best way to overcome an inferiority complex is to get involved with other people and to take the initiative. I'm only sorry I didn't do it sooner. "MADE IT"

DEAR ABBY: If you ever need an assistant to help you write your column, I could do it. You gave a lot of reasons AGAINST premarital sex, but here is one you didn't mention: "No man will run after a bus he has already caught." Sincerely yours,

HUMORIST

DEAR HUMORIST: Don't bank on it. Lots of men don't mind catching the same bus over again.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Letter writing can be a breeze. For Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Referendum Set On Vietnam War

BOSTON (AP) — Massachusetts has cleared the way for the nation's first statewide referendum on the Vietnam war.

Gov. Francis W. Sargent signed Monday a bill providing for such a referendum at the November general election.

Voters will be asked to say which of three courses they favor Vietnam: carry on the war to a military victory, withdraw American forces immediately, or withdraw according to plan.

Action Asked On Dumping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Garbage dumped into ocean waters off New York City threatens to create an "environmental Pearl Harbor," Rep. Richard L. Ottinger told Congress today.

New scientific data show that a 21-mile-square patch of polluted water—dubbed the "Dead Sea" because of damage to marine life—is spreading toward New York and New Jersey shores at the rate of a mile a year, Ottinger said in remarks for the House fisheries and wildlife subcommittee.

Ottinger, New York's Democratic candidate for the Senate, said the northern edge of the polluted area now extends to within 10 miles of New York City beaches.

Witnesses for the Interior Department urged the subcommittee Monday to defer action on a bill to restrict ocean dumping until a study on the problem reaches President Nixon's desk.

Subcommittee Chairman John D. Dingell, D-Mich., accused the administration of foot-dragging and promised quick approval of the bill.

Ottinger urged that Congress act to halt dumping in all coastal waters of the United States. "The immediate crisis is local but the problem is national, and even perhaps international in scope," he said.

Ottinger said the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers now allows dumping of sewage, sludge, dredge soil and industrial waste in 210 coastal areas—61 off the East Coast, 26 in the Gulf of Mexico, 17 off the West Coast and 95 in the Great Lakes.

Meanwhile, an Agriculture Department study released Monday showed traces of DDT and related pesticides around manufacturing plants and in drainage systems in one of the nation's most heavily populated areas.

Raza Unida Party Files Suit

SAN ANGELO (AP) — The Raza Unida party filed a mandamus action Monday with the Texas Supreme Court which, if granted, would force officials in three South Texas counties to place its candidates on the November ballot.

The suit was filed by the La Raza Unida party lawyers, Warren Burnett and Richard J. Clarkson of Odessa, and names as respondents County Judges Harold Dess of Dimmitt County (Carrizo Springs), Bob Coquat of Lasalle County (Cotulla) and Irl Taylor of Zavala County (Crystal City).

It was brought through the La Raza Unida country chairmen in the three counties who were listed as David Ojeda Jr. of Carrizo Springs, Alfredo Zamora Jr. of Cotulla and Luz Gutierrez of Crystal City.

Mrs. Gutierrez is the wife of Mexican-American activist Jose Angel Gutierrez, one of the moving forces behind the La Raza Unida party, organized early this year following an intensive voter registration campaign among Mexican-American residents in several south Texas counties.

The mandamus action filed Monday came 15 days after Clarkson disclosed he had sent registered letters to the three judges asking that county officials enter an official order directing county clerks of the various county to place the names of La Raza Unide candidates on the ballot.

The petition alleges that all three judges are "now in possession of petitions signed by three per cent of the residents of each respective county asking the county judge to put the candidates of the La Raza Unida party on the official balot.

Peace Crusade Costly

By ROBERT LIU
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Four years ago Morihiro Matsuda had a thriving business, a small apartment house, a wife and two young sons.

Today he's broke and alone because of a peace crusade.

Matsuda spent $66,000 for full-page ads in the New York Times, the London Times, the Chicago Daily News and the Chicago Sun-Times to publicize proposals which he said would end the Vietnam war and bring world peace.

To finance his crusade, Matsuda sold his apartment building and his business, a mail order firm which sold muscle-building equipment.

"She got tired of my plans," Matsuda told an interviewer. "She said I was crazy."

But the 49-year-old man hasn't given up.

"I may never be rich again," he told an interviewer, "but I'll continue to try and do something for the good of mankind."

Matsuda now drives a truck for a living. He usually leaves his rented room at dawn and returns at night. He earns about 100,000 yen—$278—a month and saves part of it, hopeful that some day he can finance another peace crusade.

Matsuda's peace plan for Vietnam called for division of South Vietnam into two parts, the northern sector ruled by the Viet Cong and the southern part by the Saigon government.

Lufkin Disorders Costly

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — Damage has been estimated at $65,000 in Lufkin after a weekend of disorders in which seven persons were arrested and several grocery stores set on fire.

Lufkin Fire Chief Nogall Terry said Monday that arson was suspected in the outbreaks that occurred early Saturday morning and continued to nearly dawn Sunday.

The disturbances began shortly after midnight Friday when police arrested two men on drink and gambling charges at a popular local hangout. One officer was hit with a rock in the scuffle which followed and seven arrests were made.

Three juveniles arrested were released in their parent's custody. Three others were released on $25 bond. The last, accused of aggravated assault and interference with a police officer on duty, was released on $500 bond.

Hal Lacey estimated damage to his grocery store at $15,000 for the building and its contents. Flames broke out there around one o'clock Saturday morning.

An hour later flames destroyed the cab of a gas truck parked at the Mobil Oil warehouse. The tank trailer was undamaged.

Fires Saturday night caused slight damage to two more grocery stores, one of which was only three blocks from Gray's store.

Then at 3 a.m. Sunday, flames erupted at another grocery, causing $15,000 worth of damage according to owner Otis Shelton.

"There's 17 years hard work out there," Shelton said afterward. "I'll probably collect insurance, salvage what I can, and call it quits."

Terry said combustible liquid had been spilled on the floor and ignited at Gray's store. Blankets and evidence of flammable liquid were found at two other stores.

Law enforcement officials from Huntington, Nacogdoches, Diboll and the Texas Department of Public Safety remained in town Monday to assist Lufkin police.

which has not even come to Snyder yet. The movies were in their original English version, but were equipped with subtitles in Portuguese. "The television, however was very underdeveloped," said Roy Lee. "I would compare it to our television in the 1950's."

"We watched Rin Tin-Tin in Portuguese," laughed Barbara. "The people there were wonderful to us," said Barbara. "They treated us like celebrities. All of the kids wanted to come to the United States; it was one of their main goals in life." She went on to say that her senior ring captured quite a bit of attention, adding that Edna's ring is one of her most prized possessions.

Barbara and Roy Lee flew into Houston "with enough baggage for another person" but claimed the extra charge was worth it.

As Barbara said, "I still can't believe we were actually in Brazil for a month. It was a wonderful experience and it was so good to see Edna again."

Plane Crash Survivor "Just Great"

ROSWELL, N. M. (AP)—"The doctor said she's just great," an official said Monday after Betty Geyer, 28, of San Antonio, Tex., was rescued from the wreckage of a private plane in which six companions died.

"She had a pelvic fracture and was bruised all over, but otherwise she's all right," said Lt. Col. John Scoggins, coordinator of a search which led to discovery of the shattered craft on Capitan Mountain in Southern New Mexico.

The twin-engine Cessna 310 cracked up Friday while carrying the party of seven from Del Rio, Tex., to attend weekend horse races at Ruidoso, N. M.

A search plane spotted the wrecked craft from the air late Sunday, but a ground party, working through heavily wooded country, was unable to reach the spot until Monday.

Guided by a hovering helicopter, rescuers struggled down a steep cliff and found Mrs. Geyer with the bodies of her companions in the battered fuselage. Wings and tail section were torn off as the descending plane hit a big tree.

Mrs. Geyer was flown to Eastern New Mexico Medical Center in Roswell, which is 70 miles east of Ruidoso. Her husband joined her here.

Scoggins listed the crash victims as William Sumbling, about 27, a brother of Mrs. Geyer from New Braunfels, Tex.; his wife Caroline, 24; the couple's daughter Sandy, 2; Alma Sumbling, 47, mother of Sumbling and Mrs. Geyer; Gordon Lytton, 26, a cousin of Mrs. Geyer; and Jerry Gates, 24, of Del Rio, the pilot.

"From the way the plane hit," Scoggins said, "the pilot was banking the plane slowly to the left in a climbing attitude, trying to climb over the peak."

County Court Pleas Heard

Several pleas of guilty were heard in County Court on Monday.

Three cases alleging driving while intoxicated were filed by highway patrolmen. Frankie Lee Walker received a $50 fine and a 90-day jail term, which was probated one year; Peggy Phillips Moffett received a $50 fine and a 30-day jail term, which was probated one year; and Terry Joe Voss received a $50 fine and three-day jail term which was probated 90 days, in DWI cases.

Florencia Valadez was fined $10 after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while her license was suspended, and Fred Lewis received a 15-day jail term in a check case.

Little Known Arabian Dish: Exotic Minshee Warak Inab

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

Most people have at some point sampled shish kebab, that Middle East delicacy that can be traced back to the mountain warriors of the Caucasus who impaled meat on their swords and roasted it to a nice turn over a roaring fire.

But how many have sampled the delights of mihshee warak inab while they toasted their dinner companion with mint tea? It's just one of many succulent specialties of the Arab world that is finally finding favor on Western tables.

It is common knowledge that many of the spices we use today were introduced to the West by Arab traders centuries ago. Not so well known is the fact that many of the staples we consider indispensable were brought back from the Holy Land by the Crusaders in the 11th, 12th and 13th centuries. Knights of the Cross returned from the wars with their saddle packs laden with sesame, rice, millet and most important of all, sugar, which was virtually unknown by Western cooks who had done their sweetening with honey and fruits.

And don't forget the exotic eggplant which fired the imagination of Middle Eastern gourmets many centuries ago when they came from the kitchen dripping with olive oil and seasoned with a variety of spices.

Unfortunately, eggplant had a slow start in the West because some early botanist discovered that it was a distant cousin of the deadly nightshade plant. Dubbed the "mad apple," eggplant was avoided like the plague by all but an enlightened few in Western lands.

In recent years, Middle East fare has come into its own, however, and many students of international cookery rank it as the world's third finest cuisine, after France and China.

A table of appetizers, for instance, often includes up to 30 dishes such as white goat cheese, black olives, iced white onions, pistachio nuts, labani, a yogurt-like cultured milk product, pickled turnips, volcanic peppers and a variety of meat and rice specialties wrapped in grape leaves.

These delicacies are usually accompanied by thin, pliable loaves of Arabic bread. Pieces of it are torn from the loaf, folded to form a scoop and used to convey the various appetizers to the mouth.

One of the tastiest specialties of this ancient land in our opinion is Mihshee Warak Inab or ground lamb, rice and peppercorns wrapped in grape leaves.

MIHSHEE WARAK INAB

1 cup raw rice
1½ pounds ground lamb shoulder
half a dozen lamb bones
1 pound grape leaves
juice of three lemons
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon whole peppercorns
½ teaspoon all spice

Mix uncooked rice and raw ground lamb in a bowl adding about 6 ounces water, salt, crushed peppercorns and all spice.

Soak grape leaves in warm water about 45 minutes to make them more pliable. Place leaves, greener side down on a board and top it with a heaping teaspoon of the rice and lamb mixture.

Space must be left on both sides of the leaf so they can be tucked in and the whole thing rolled as a package. The roll should be firm but loose enough to allow the rice to swell inside. The wet leaf should hold together during cooking.

Distribute lamb bones on bottom of kettle and cover with several grape leaves. This bed serves to keep the rolls from sticking at the bottom of the kettle. Arrange the rolled leaves in rows on top of each other. Place a medium sized dish atop the rolls to keep them in place and add enough salted water to reach this inverted dish. Cook the preparation over a medium fire for about half an hour. Add the lemon juice to bring out the grape leaf flavor and let dish simmer another 10 minutes.

Serve warm or cold as desired with yogurt or a green salad. Good with a dry white wine.

Serves Four.

Church Destroyed

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The 125-member congregation of the Paul's United Church of Christ had pledged $7,500 to renovate the old and tiny, white frame structure.

Then lightning struck and destroyed the building.

Though the rubble still hasn't been cleared away, church services are being held as usual. Plans to rebuild are being formulated.

Pastor Glenn Davis conducts services outdoors, weather permitting, under hard maple trees that surrounded the small church and survived the blaze.

In bad weather, services are held in a school building on the property.

Davis said the new church will not be ultramodern in design.

"We're a country congregation and we feel the church should reflect this," he said.

Does systemic rose food give insect protection for more than one season? This question came up in a discussion with Bob Stiff[illegible] garden produ[illegible] Borden's.

Bob told us that although gardeners have discovered that systemic plant foods really work, the possibility of long-range benefits was being investigated.

Last year at the Lawn Institute in Marysville, Ohio, eight rose bushes of the same kind were put into a test program. Nutro Systemic Rose Food was used on four. Regular rose food was applied to the others.

Stiffler said the roses appeared stronger and less vulnerable to insect attack.

"This year," he related, "the same four roses all had undamaged leaves on May 28, although no systemic rose food has been applied this season, At the same time, the other four had a number of leaves in which the foliage was seriously chewed and full of 'shot holes.'"

"Since all of these roses are in one group," said Dr. Robert Schery, Lawn Institute director, "it seems unlikely that this is mere coincidence, but more likely that there is a carryover effect from the application of last year's systemic rose food."

Dr. Schery believes the primary reason for the better showing was "a direct effect of the systemic chemical (there has not been any great difference in height or vigor of the two sets of plants, other than the damage and unsightliness that comes from foliage consumed by chewing insects."

"Curiously," he related, "the ubiquitous black spot disease was fairly abundant on the untreated plants, but not on those which had received the systemic. This, in spite of the fact that no claim is made for Meta-systox, Di-syston and similar products as fungicides."

Observations are continuing to determine how long there may be evidence of systemic insect protection in the year following application.

Borden's systemic insect control enters the plant through its roots and checks insects, as a vaccination does, thus eliminating need for spraying, Stiffler explained.

60's Accomplishments Are In Terrible Shape

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Matched with the Soaring Sixties, this decade has certainly began as the Sober Seventies. Second thoughts abound. Some of the "accomplishments" of the sixties are in terrible shape. Some are being undone.

Diversification was the motto of hundreds of corporations on the go. Buy, merge, acquire, take over! Growth, action, glamor, excitement! The bigger company is more efficient, the more diversified is better protected from the vagaries of the marketplace.

If these weren't truths they served as such in the 1960s because the number of mergers and acquisitions rose from 1,361 in 1963 to more than 4,500 in 1969.

Some of these companies are now divesting—in the name of efficiency. Doubts have arisen about the conglomerate concept; some of those hurt most in the present recession were those who had diversified the hardest.

For a good part of the 1960s a propaganda barrage convinced much of America that the future of railroads was in mergers, and so many of them were permitted by regulatory agencies to join efforts.

Now the biggest merger of all, the Penn Central, has run into financial problems more serious than ever before. And railroads in general are in a precarious financial position.

Making possible many of the takeovers and mergers was the growth in institutional assets. They had the money and they were eager to invest it. The mutual funds, to cite one instance, rose from assets of less than $16 billion in 1960 to more than $50 billion in 1968. Money almost poured in over the transom and they had to get it into the market.

They took a liking to performance, or stock action, and mergers provided plenty of action. They bid up prices of the merger makers. Conglomerates were considered glamorous, and price-earnings ratios rose astonishingly.

Now some of those mutual funds have suffered losses in the first months of the 1970s that are far worse than the market as a whole.

To talk now of performance is embarassing. To seek action is considered foolish, and many of the funds are keeping big amounts of their assets in cash rather than in securities.

Of course, the most obvious change from the soaring sixties is the abrupt halt to the economic expansion. Everyone knows it, if not from a decline in fortunes then from a sense of distinct change in atmosphere.

There is a more reflective mood now. Maybe lessons are being learned as America soberly reflects on the Soaring Sixties.

Haack Gives His Views On Securities Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — Institutions-pension funds, mutual funds, insurance companies, schools, churches and hospitals-play an ever-increasing role in stock market transactions. Robert Haack, president of the New York Stock Exchange, was questioned on the growing importance of institutions by Associated Press business writers. This shows Haack's views of the securities industry.

Q. Institutions account for over 50 per cent of public volume as compared to only a quarter of it in the early part of the 1960s. Do you regard the increased importance of the institutions in the market as unfavorable?

A. I am not prepared to say that it's a fact that we must swing with and adjust to. You may be aware that approximately 15 per cent of our volume is derived from transactions of 10,000 shares or more. This is a fact of life, and it's a manifestation of the collective process of capital, if you will, through insurance companies, pension funds, profit-sharing plans, mutual funds...

Q. Is this a problem?

A. The problem that it poses for the stock exchange is the continuation of a liquid, deep, orderly market, mechanically capitalwise and whatnot, that can accommodate the king-sized transactions that these institutions are throwing at us.

Q. How has the growth of institutions affected small investors?

A. In effect it has worked against the small investor to a certain extent. Because the profitability of institutional transactions makes firms tend to concentrate on large tickets rather than on small transactions.

Q. What is the maximum percentage of public share volume that you would like to see the institutions accounting for?

A. We have no preconceived idea along that line.

Q. You're satisfied with 50 per cent or so?

A. I don't think it's a matter of our being satisfied. I think it's a fact of life over which we have no control. These funds are getting more money reposed with them and due to the desire for performance, these funds are turning over more frequently. The combination of the two factors is what is making for the institutionalization of the market.

Q. How does the exchange view the increasing importance of off-the-board trading by institutions in shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange?

A. Well, this is a significant trend which has developed on the part of people who may be interested in reducing their commission charge, and those who may not be members of any exchange.

Q. Is this bypassing of the exchange a cause for concern?

A. It's not making us push any panic buttons, but we are aware of it.

Q. Do you foresee continued growth in such transaction?

A. I have no way of knowing.

Q. Are the paper work problems of the securities industry over?

A. I would say to a large degree the operational crisis has been passed. This is probably due to two factors. The industry has done a number of things which increased its capacity to handle volume and volume has gone down. This combination has made most of the firms catch up on their back-office problems. There still are a few who are not completely out of the woods, and we're working with them very diligently.

Q. What is volume on the exchange now?

A. It's down from approximately 11.4 million shares per day last yer to about 10.9 million this year.

Q. If suddenly a big increase in volume came on a steady day-to-day basis, would that present the same kind of problems again?

A. Unfortunately, it is possible that some of the excess capacity the industry has built up over the past years now has been voiced as a result of some of the economy measures that the members are taking. One problem is that the industry needs much greater volume to be profitable, and yet, if substantially higher volume came on a sustained basis, we would then have to review the ability then of the firms to process it.

Q. Are any studies going on now?

A. We here at the exchange have been working on our Central Stock Depository-securities are credited to brokers through automated bookkeeping entries at a central location thus eliminating the movement of stock certificates from one brokerage firm to another.

This is very significant. We're working on a number of other automated procedures. We're talking to the American Stock Exchange about consolidating some of out duplicatory services. The National Association of Securities Dealers is working on an over-the-counter clearing corporation. The transfer agents are speeding up their procedures. A number of these things haven't come on stream yet, but they're all in the wind.

Q. What are the chances of your exchange and the American Stock Exchange merging?

A. There has been no discussion what soever about that. Our conversations to date have been confined purely to the joint implementation of projects which we are presently each doing individually.

Junior Editors Quiz on PETRELS

QUESTION: What are Mother Cary's chickens?

ANSWER: There is a group of sea birds called tube-nosed swimmers because they breathe air through a tube on top of the bill. The huge albatross is one of these birds, so is the medium-sized shearwater, so is the attractive robin-sized petrel. All these birds spend almost all their time far out at sea, picking up small sea creatures and various bits of floating food. They often follow ships, snatching discarded scraps. Seamen are thinking of petrels when they speak of "Mother Cary's chickens". The name may have been coined by some lonesome sailor thinking of a real Mother Cary back home. As the cute little petrels flutter and skim just above the water, they patter along the surface with their webbed feet. It looks as if they were walking on the water, although this is not really so, for they are using their wings at the same time. The name petrel comes from St. Peter who walked on the sea; see the Bible, Matthew 14, verse 29. The only time petrels come to land is to dig a little tunnel in the bank of some remote island, where the female lays her single white egg. They must enjoy having a little change from the sea.

Time To Clean Out Worry Closet

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Now is a good time to clean out your worry closet.

The summer doldrums are hard enough to get through without cluttering up your life with nagging vexations and old anxieties that profit neither your mind nor your pet.

Just as you periodically throw away outworn or out-of-date clothing, so you should systematically rid yourself of problems that choke the free expression of your spirit. Some of these leftover worries probably weren't really worth fretting about in the first place.

Here, for example, are some hackneyed worries we've decided to throw out with the rest of the garbage:

Will the penny post card make a comeback?

After women are finally liberated from men, what will they want to be liberated from next?

What will be the dominant color in men's nickties this Christmas?

What good will it do to give the vote to 18-year-olds, if they can't find anything in society worth voting for anyway?

When will someone invent a good new clean fun for people over 40 which won't put weight on them, leave them with a hangover, or keep them up after midnight?

Will alimony never cease?

What did the governor of North Carolina really say to the governor of South Carolina—or did the governor of South Carolina say it to the governor of North Carolina?

How long could two teen-agers actually tie up a telephone line if their parents made no objections and they were permitted to gab on until neither could find a single thing more to say?

If sex novels are to be free of all censorship, how soon will someone find a way to get rich by selling dirty messages on billboards?

It has been days and days since Richard Burton bought Elizabeth Taylor a new yacht or a fresh diamond. Is he going to go all summer without giving her another decent present?

Isn't there some firm you can send a box top to and get back a good $10,000 college education for only 99 cents?

Does the United States have an international policy that anyone can understand, and if so, why is it so difficult to find anyone who admits he can understand it?

When pople speak of the population explosion and the litter problem, aren't they actually talking about one and the same thing?

When will it all end?

AD Studies Coded Dates On Foods

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has agreed to study whether perishable foods should be dated for consumer as well as grocer.

Manufacturers already put coded dates on their products so the storekeeper will know if the food is too old.

Manufacturers generally are opposed to uncoded dates on ground that consumers would choose the freshest products, leaving the older ones to rot. And that would boost costs, they say.

But Rep. Leonard Farbstein, D-N.Y., says the grocers sometimes ignore the coded dates and leave unsafe food on the shelf.

Some states and localities already require that perishable foods carry uncoded dates. Advocates say the consumer has the right to know, and that such items as drugs and camera film have been dated for years with no complaints.

LL Stars Nip Rotan

The Snyder National League downed Rotan 6 to 2 in Little League play-offs last night in Towle Park and advanced to the district five Little League finals. Snyder and Abilene's Eastern All-Stars will tangle tonight in Towle Park in that game. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

In last night's game, Snyder collected a total of six hits off Rotan hurlers Jerry Carr and David Wylie. Kelly Ragland got on in the first with a double and advanced to home on an error by James Goodwin. Tim Flynn cracked a single in the second but was tagged out advancing to third, stopping Snyder's second-inning effort.

The third and fourth innings were fruitless for Snyder with none getting on base, but the fifth inning proved to be more successful with powerful hitting by Ragland, Phil Robinson, Clifford Kay, and Barry Blalock.

Robinson brought in three runs, clubbing a home run over right field after Todd Line got on with a balk and Ragland had singled.

Clifford Kay cracked a single to get on base and was driven in by Blalock's fifth-inning homer.

Gary Greenlee was hit six times by Rotan, but fanned 10 men to hold down the Rotan attack.

Jerry Hartman was two for three at the plate with singles in the second and third innings. Other Rotan hits came when James Stanberry clubbed a home run in the third, and Jerry Carr singled in the third, and when James Goodwin and Glenn Wilfong both cracked singles in the fifth.

Both Rotan runs came in the third inning. Stanberry's home run came with nobody on. Jerry Carr then stroked a single and advanced on an error by Joel McCommon and scored on Hartman's single.

HEAT WILTS MERRITT

Seaver Gets 15th

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Seaver beat the New York beat by turning it on San Francisco, but Jim Merritt wilted in Cincinnati's new hothouse when St. Louis finally turned on the steam.

Seaver, flayed for three early runs in muggy Shea Stadium, held the Giants to one hit over the final seven innings and beat them 3-1 Monday night for his 15th victory of the season.

Merritt, the only other 15-game winner in the majors, surrendered six runs and eight hits in the 3 1-3 innings he lasted at equally-muggy Riverfront Stadium in Cincinnati, as the Cardinals broke an eight-game losing streak by roasting the Reds 16-8.

Philadelphia bombed Los Angeles 10-3 in the only other National League game while, in American League play, Minnesota trimmed Baltimore 5-2 and the New York Yankees downed California 3-2 in 10 innings.

Seaver fell behind 3-0 before Joe Foy's two-run homer in the second inning and a solo blast by Cleon Jones in the fourth pulled the Mets even. Then, he scoyed the go-ahead run on Ken Singletown's fifth inning single off 14-game winner Gaylord Perry and throttled San Francisco the rest of the way.

"I pitched well with what I had," said the Met ace, who finished with a six-hitter and struck out six. "It was a tough night, muggy and hot, and I really had to struggle."

"I was just plain lousy," muttered Merritt after his fourth-inning knockout at the hot hands of the previously ice-cold Cards.

Richie Allen blasted his 28th and 29th homers, driving in three runs; Mike Shannon delivered four more with a bases-loaded double and a single, and Vic Davalillo lashed three doubles, good for two RBI, as the Cardinals erupted for 19 hits—their high for the season.

St. Louis shrugged off a five-run Cincinnati burst—capped by Johnny Bench's 34th homer—in the second inning on the way to only its third victory in 20 games. Reliver Chuck Taylor blanked the Reds from the third inning until the ninth, when Bernie Carbo hit a three-run homer, to earn the victory.

Tony Taylor, Deron Johnson and Larry Hisle clubbed homers and Byron Browne knocked in three runs with a double and single, leading the resurgent Phillies past Los Angeles for their 10th victory in 12 starts.

The Twins earned a split of their AL West division lead over California to six lengths as rookie Bert Blyleven picked up his fifth victory with help from bullpen standby Ron Perranoski.

Jim Holt and George Mitterwald homered for the Twins and Perranoski, making his 42nd appearance of year, picked up his 25th save by tossing three scoreless innings.

Mel Stottlemyre hurled a five-hitter for the Yankees, who ended a four-game losing string by scoring three 10th inning runs on Thurman Munson's single, four consecutive walks and a ground out.

All-Stars Rich In Leaders

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars will not be lacking in leadership when they take on the Kansas City Chiefs Friday night in the midsummer football classic in Soldier Field.

Massive Mike McCoy of Notre Dame will captain the defensive unit and running back Bob Anderson will lead the offense.

The two were selected by their teammates whose decision was applauded by Coach Otto Graham by saying "I can't think of two men more deserving of the honor."

McCoy, who will toil for Green Bay if and when the players and owners in the National Football League settle their contract differences, has already knocked two of his teammates from the big game.

McCoy fell on running back Larry Stegent of Texas A&M in a tackling drill and bumped defensive lineman Phil Olson of Utah State in a monkey roll drill. Both duffered knee injuries and will miss the All-Star show.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian has called McCoy the greatest defensive tackle I've coached and the hardest working big man I've ever coached." The 6-foot-5, 285-pounder from Erie, Pa., is surprisingly quick despite his ponderous proportions.

Anderson was a quarterback at Colorado in 1968 and played that position for the first two games of the 1969 season before switching to running back.

He totaled 22 touchdowns last season and became the first Big Eight back in history to pass the 5,000-yard mark in career total offense with 5,017 yards.

Barbosa Has Troubles As Professional

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Tony Barbosa, a terror in collegiate baseball, is finding life can be a bit troublesome at times as a pitcher in professional ball.

He joined the El Paso Sun Kings in mid-season after striking 125 batters and allowing only 1.19 earned runs per game at Pan American College in Edinburg.

Barbosa, who has been rated a sure-fire major leaguer, has already learned one lesson: "You must keep every pitch low or you regret it."

He said "Hitters become smarter. They'll let the pitcher make the high pitch. They won't go after a bad pitch unless they're in the hole with two strikes."

Barbosa has been used mainly in relief.

"I only get to throw about once a week and I've got to work hard on the sidelines to keep everything low," he said.

The All-Stars went through an afternoon workout Monday and will make their only public appearance prior to the game at the annual All-Star luncheon today.

Lombardi Rests After Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington Redskins football Coach Vince Lombardi was said to be resting comfortably at Georgetown University hospital today after undergoing surgery for the second time in a month.

Hospital and team officials would not disclose the nature of the operation Monday, performed only hours after Lombardi was admitted for what was termed a routine checkup.

Lombardi, 57, had been recuperating from a June 27 operation in which a tumor and two-foot section of his colon were removed. The tumor was reported as non-malignant.

The World Cup Soccer championships recently held in Mexico. received attention in the stamp world, too. Mexico honored its position as host country by issuing two new airmail stamps showing various dance masks and pre-Columbian statuary heads as if they were spectators at the sports event.

Togo issued eight colorful commemoratives. The designs feature the flags and uniforms of the teams participating in the Mexico games, in the order which they played against each other.

Snyder, C-City Meet For Title

Colorado City topped Kermit 3 to 1 in the first round of the Junior Teenage League District Tournament in Towle Park last night.

C- City totaled four hits off Jacky Mills and Gary Shaver. Tim Stansel was two for four at the plate with singles in the second and sixth. David Farnham cracked a single in the fifth and Melvin Jackson clubbed a double in the seventh.

Kermit hit Tim Stansel three times. Billy Mercer singled in the third, Gary Shaver rapped a triple in the sixth and Sam Haygood singled in the seventh.

Colorado City runs came in the fifth when John Ridge got on with a base on balls advanced on a walk by Jack Hill, and scored on Farnham's single.

Colorado City scored twice more in the seventh.

Colorado City and the Snyder Scurry Butane Dodgers meet tonight in Towle Park for the district championship at 6:30.

Katz Heads Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Retired Navy Capt. Joseph T. Katz, 48, has been named executive director of the Sugar Bowl.

The hiring of Katz, announced Monday, was a break from the volunteer status of the job. The Sugar Bowl has been operated by volunteers since its first general manager, Fred J. Digby, died in 1958.

Katz from 1969-70 handled public relations and special projects for the deputy chief of Naval operations.

A.B. Nicholas Jr., president of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association, said the growth of the Sugar Bowl "has put increasing burdens on its officers and members who have carried on the work entirely on a volunteer basis."

Center Orderia Mitchell of Elkhart, Ind., and defensive end Eugene Ogilvie of San Jose, Calif., who will be sophomores on the Air Force Academy football squad next season, both carry the nickname, "Big O."

Pro Grid Talks Into Fifth Day

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League exhibition season is only 11 days away and there is no sign that either the club owners or the Players Association is ready to give in the stalemated pension dispute.

The owners' negotiating committee and the association representatives met under the watchful eye of federal mediators four hours Monday. If there was any progress it wasn't evident on the grim faces of the participants.

They'll start their fifth day of talks in the offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service today at 2 p.m. The morning will be spent with subcommittees trying to unravel the technical problems involved.

While the negotiators work behind closed doors, the exhibition season is approaching doom. The Cleveland Browns are scheduled to meet the Los Angeles Rams in Los Angeles Aug. 7. Nine games are slated for Aug. 8.

The owners have a few choices in the matter. They can cancel the games if the dispute over pensions and other fringe benefits isn't resolved. Or they can play the games with rookies and free agents. They have a third choice—open the doors of their training camps and see how many veterans will defy the association and report.

As matters now stand the association has directed its players to stay away from camp until an agreement is reached. The owners say the camps are closed to veterans until the contract is settled.

The best bet, if the negotiators don't step up their pace or come to some agreement — or final disagreement—is that the owners will challenge the association's strength by opening up their camps to veterans, and see how many defy the NFLPA.

The association and the owners are $8 million apart on a four year pension package. The owners have offered $18 million and the players are holding out for $26 million. Breaking it down to simple terms, the argument is over how much retirement pay Joe Namath, Johnny Unitas, Joe Kapp, John Mackey and the rest of the 1,300 players will get in the year 2,000.

Lou Boudreau Has Not Forgotten Famous Shift

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — The Lou Boudreau Shift is over 33 years old now but Boudreau hasn't forgotten. Neither has Ted Williams, the man it was designed to hobble.

"I had thought about it for weeks," said Boudreau, one of the four new members inducted Monday into baseball's Hall of Fame. "Ted killed us when we played at League Park with its short right field line."

"In the first game of a doubleheader with Boston July 14 1947," said the former player-manager of the Cleveland Indians, "I got five extra base hits but Williams beat us with three home runs — he scored three and knocked in six. Right then and there, between games of the doubleheader, I decided to use the shift."

In the Boudreau shift, all of the infielders stacked up on the right side and the center fielders moved into right center. They dared the left handed hitting slugger to go to the opposite field. The only man on the left side of second base was Dale Mitchell the left fielder, who shortened up a bit.

"In all the years since then," said Boudreau, "Ted mentioned it to me only once. That was when he came into Cleveland for a celebration a year or two ago."

"Ted was such a great hitter that there was no way of stopping him at bat. You just tried to cut down on the damage. But I know he did admit to somebody up in Boston that, from 1947 until he quit in 1960, that the shift took a total of 200 points off his average."

Boudreau, who won a pennant in 1948 by hitting two home runs and two singles in the tie playoff game at Boston, was the last of the successful player-managers.

"The reason you don't see player-managers any more," said Boudreau, "is that they give present day managers more responsibilities, the individuals play more than one or two positions now. In my day nobody played more than two positions. Now a fellow may play three or four.

"A manager has to be in a position where he can study his bench and make shifts when necessary. A lot of games are won that way by studying the lineups and making the switch at the right time."

Did Boudreau think the day of the player-manager was over for all time?

"No" he said. "Eventually somebody will come along who can handle the new faster game and still play at the same time."

Boudreau, 53, was inducted into the Hall of Fame Monday with Ford Frick, Earl E. Combs and Jesse Haines. The four new inductees whose plaques were unveiled by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, boosted the total membership at 118.

Boudreau was voted in by the veteran baseball writers. Frick, 75, Haines, 76, and Combs, 70, were elected by the special veterans committee which considers only players out of action at least 20 years and retired executives and umpires.

Frick, actually the founder of the Hall of Fame in his days first as National League president and later as commissioner, said, "without the memories of the past there can be no dreams of greatness for the future."

Haines recalled the old days when he was purchased by the St. Louis Cardinals, for whom he pitched 18 years, at the price of $10,000 and asked "what do you suppose they would pay for a pitcher like that (he won 210 games) in this day and age?"

Combs, the Kentucky gentleman who used to be the leadoff man and center fielder for the New York Yankees from 1924 to 1935, paid a tribute to his old teammates, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

Friends and relatives of the new inductees watched the colorful ceremonies in bright sunshine on the porch of the Hall of Fame library. Among those in Boudreau's party were his son-in-law, Denny McLain, the controversial Detroit pitcher, and his wife, Sharyn.

In the annual Hall of Fame exhibition game at Doubleday Field, a few steps down Main Street from the museum, a crowd of 9,791 saw the Montreal Expos down the Chicago White Sox 0-6 in a free-hitting contest. Ron Brand and Bobby Wine hit homers for Montreal.

Play War

SYDNEY (AP) — The boy and girl, about 6 and a little bored, were sting on the steps of their house.

"What will we play now"? asked the girl.

"Let's play war," said the boy.

"OK, let's play war, said the girl. "You go off and be a soldier and I'll stay home and worry."

Bluegrass Crop

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Clark County originally was one of the 10 Bluegrass counties in Kentucky which produced more than 20 per cent of America's hemp in the late 1880s.

Hemp, the same plant which produces marijuana, prized for it's hallucionogenic effects by many of today's younger generation, was the state's largest cash crop until 1915, when the market was lost to imported, tariff-free jute.

Large amounts of the plant still grow wild in the Bluegrass.

THE ARMY WAY? — Someone must have taken an old Army saying to heart when a Highway Division crew repainted the exit stripe at the Aurora-Donald interchange of Interstate 5 between Portland and Salem. Aquanauts Give Hope For Women In Space

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Five women who lived two weeks on the bottom of the sea have increased the odds that lipstick and powderpuffs one day will be standard equipment aboard American spaceships.

But space agency officials caution women's "lib" groups not to get their hopes too high, because it will be eight or nine years before a female flies in a U.S. spacecraft.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans late in this decade to have space stations orbiting the earth with as many as 50 persons aboard.

That's when women will play a role. But they must be qualified in a medical or scientific field.

The question of women in space came up in Washington Monday when five female scientists and technicians received awards as the first woman team to live and work underwater.

Their undersea stay from July 6 to July 20 was part of a program called Tektite II in which 17 teams, 16 of them men, are taking turns at long submersion in warm water of Great Lamashure Bay in the Virgin Islands.

They lived in a dwelling submerged 50 feet and made frequent trips outside in diving gear to explore marine life.

Project manager for the female team was Richard Sprince of NASAK.

Sprince said "we've got to start looking in that direction" when asked whether NASA would consider bringing women into the astronaut program.

He said the women worked as efficiently as men on Tektite II.

A small group of American women have argued for distaff astronauts since the Russians sent the world's only spacewoman, Valentina Tereshkova, into orbit for three days in 1963.

Many U.S. space observers note, however, that the spaceship used then was totally automatic and say the Soviet Union probably sent Valentina up more for propaganda than technical gain.

Up to now, NASA's position has been that it's not that women can't learn to fly in space, but that space is still a pioneering venture for which man is more suited.

A woman, officials say, can always use her perogative to change her mind and get married after NASA has invested several hundred thousand dollars and a lot of time in her training.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief astronaut physician, says it would be nice to have women along on extended flights such as two-year missions to Mars.

But, he cautions, "They've got to be able to do useful work and contribute to the mission, and you certainly can't have just one woman among a lot of men."

Marcello Files Notice Of Appeal

HOUSTON (AP) — Attorneys for Carlos Marcello, reputed head of the New Orleans syndicate, filed a notice of appeal Monday in connection with his conviction of striking an FBI agent.

Marcello, 60, was convicted in 1968 of striking a New Orleans FBI agent in 1966 at the international airport there. He was assessed a two-year sentence.

Federal Judge John V. Singleton Jr. last Tuesday rejected a motion for a new trial and gave Marcello until Sept. 4 to get his affairs in order before starting the prison term.

An appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court has been rejected and the high court has ordered the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans to carry out the sentence.

Defense attorneys claimed in their motion for a new trial that the FBI staged the airport incident and that the alleged entrapment has been concealed by the government.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I read that if you add a front porch to your house the cost is deductible? Is that right?

A — No, the cost is not deductible. The cost, however, can be added to the basis of your house and taken into account in determining your gain or loss on any future sale.

Ordinary and routine maintenance costs around the house, such as painting and repairs are not deductible. Only when the expense adds to the value of the house or increases its life do tax considerations arise.

Q — I filed my return 3 months ago and my refund still hasn't come. What should I do?

A — Write your regional IRS service center or call your local IRS office. Be sure to give your Social Security number, name, address, and when your return was filed. This information is needed to trace your return.

Most refund claims have already been processed and the checks mailed out.

Q — I was married last month and plan to continue working for another year or so. Should I make any change in my tax withholding?

A — You may want to file a new withholding certificate with your employer claiming married status. This will reduce your withholding.

However, many married couples who both are employed elect to have tax withheld from each of them as a "single" person to avoid owing large additional amounts of tax at the end of the year. If you plan to file a joint return for the year, as most couples do, your final tax liability will not be affected regardless of whether you or your husband claims your personal exemption.

Q — My daughter started to work last month, but she still lives at home. Will we still be able to claim her as a dependent?

A — It depends on whether she still meets the dependency tests. For instance, you must provide over half of her total support for the year. Regarding her earnings, if they amount to $625 or more you cannot claim her unless she is under 19 at year end or a fulltime student for any five months of the year.

ABA To Get Supreme Court Nominees Names

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has reversed its policy and agreed to submit the names of potential Supreme Court nominees to the American Bar Association for an investigation of their qualifications.

The new system, proposed by top ABA officials and approved by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, gives the organized bar a chance to advise the administration against naming a man found unfit professionally for the high bench.

However, Lawrence E. Walsh, chairman of the ABA's standing committee on the federal judiciary and a vigorous proponent of the change, said this would not give the association "a veto power."

Outlining the plan at a news conference Monday at the Justice Department, Walsh said Mitchell would not be bound by the ABA investigation in making a final recommendation to President Nixon.

Still, the ABA's role in picking people for the high court obviously will be larger. Said Walsh of Mitchell: "He doesn't want to be told someone is good if he is, in fact, not."

The administration has not consulted the ABA before making its nominations for the high court, though it has sought ABA assistance on other federal judgeships.

Two of its four Supreme Court nominations, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Associate Justice Harry A. Blackmun, won easy Senate confirmation. But the two others, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. and G. Harrold Carswell, were rejected.

All four men were endorsed by the ABA, which learned of the nominations at the same time the public did.

The new system, Walsh said, will permit a restricted preliminary investigation with "maximized candor." He said lawyers and judges would be more likely to speak frankly to ABA investigators about a potential nominee's weaknesses.

Once a man had been named publicly, Walsh said, people who had professional reservations "had no choice but a confrontation with the Attorney General or an acquiescence in his selection."

Should the preliminary investigation result in an unfavorable rating, the attorney general could drop the potential candidate or he could ask the ABA to deepen its investigation.

A formal, expanded report to Mitchell from the ABA would result. In the process, Walsh said, the candidate—or candidates—would be interviewed by ABA evaluators and the public would inevitably become aware of the people under consideration.

"I don't think you can preserve confidentiality," Walsh said. The public should be aware of who is being considered for the high court, the former deputy attorney general said, and "public speculation" about a potential candidate's qualifications is welcomed.

Walsh was asked if the Haynsworth and Carswell defeats prompted the administration to agree to an advance screening system. "Defeat of the nominations was less persuasive than the merits of the argument," he replied.

GM Sales, Profits Are Up

By A.F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. registered both a sales and profits gain over 1969 in this year's second quarter—the only one of the Big Three automakers to do so.

GM said in a statement Monday, "It appears that the low point in automobile sales has been passed .... Conditions appear favorable for further gain."

Second-quarter profits, however, were insufficient to offset a poor first-quarter and GM's first-half earnings were below those for last year's first six months.

GM's second-quarter sales hit $6.6 billion, against $6.2 billion in the second quarter of 1969 while profits were $473 million against $448 million. The per share earnings were $.64 and $1.56, respectively.

First-half per share earnings of $2.85 this year were down from $3.38 in the same year-ago span.

Ford Motor Co. reported last week a second-quarter net of $166 million, off from $180 million last year.

Chrysler Corp. reported earlier a $8.1 million profit for the same period, far below 1969's profit of $44.4 million.

Atkins Given 60 Years Sentence

WHARTON, Tex. (AP) — Kenneth Atkins Jr., 18, of Texas City was sentenced to 60 years in prison Monday after pleading guilty to murder with malice in the slaying of Fort Worth meat packing executive James H. Harper.

Dist. Judge T.M. Gumpton of West Columbia pronounced the sentence. He gave an identical prison term to Harry Lee Gaines, 24, a Houston man also charged in the slaying. Gaines' wife, Barbara, 23, received a 45-year sentence.

Harper was found beaten and stabbed to death in a creekbed beside a road in Wharton county last March 31. He had been missing since March 25 when his car was found abandoned in Houston.

Police said that Harper was in Houston on a business trip when he apparently was robbed on a Houston street corner and forced into the trunk of a car.

Bikini Sales Up In Spain

MADRID (AP) — This may be the year Spanish women finally win their bikini war. Well, almost.

It's not that there is any law against the scanty swimsuits, but a segment of Spanish society looks down on the idea. There also are swimming areas where bathers are segregated by sex and bikinis or any two-piece suits are flatly prohibited.

"I would say bikini sales are up at least 70 per cent this year," says Juan Andujar, manager of a small store off the Puerta del Sol. His customers hardly are the type to haunt Madrid's chic shops looking for European fashions. He has tennis shoes in his display window.

He also has swimsuits, although not bikinis, in the window. He displays a daringly cut, single-piece suit. This obviously is to satisfy the rules of establishments that prohibit two-piece suits. It also alerts potential customers that there is something a bit more swinging inside.

Why the bikini upsurge?

"Because the censorship is over," says Andujar. He is referring to a widely publicized court ruling earlier this year that said bikinis and two-piecers are not immoral at swimming areas where they are the custom.

Not everyone is scurrying into a bikini, but two-piecers are flourishing as never before.

"I watch the foreigners in bikins and I don't see why I can't have one," says a 17-year-old blonde.

Fishermen Fire On Trawlers

MADELEINE CENTRE, Que. (AP) — Fishermen on this stretch of the Gaspe Peninsula opened fire Monday night on 18 trawlers they claim are taking their cod in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and fouling the tourist beaches.

Around 30 rounds were fired in the dark at the boats anchored 500 to 1,000 feet off Grande Vallee, about 300 miles northwest of Quebec City. "At that range there was little damage that we could see," said one bystander.

Mayor Omer Boucher said the boats are from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, British Columbia and Alberta. He said the trawlers presumably have licenses to fish for herring, but they also are dragging for cod and the local catch is below normal.

The mayor said he has complained to the federal and provincial governments but has received no response. He wants outsiders prohibited from fishing within three miles of the coast.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (HJR30)
General Election Nov. 3, 1970

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Subsections (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (11), (12), and (13), Section 1-a, Article V, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"(5). The Commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet at Austin at least once each year. It shall annually select one of its members as Chairman. A quorum shall consist of five (5) members. Proceedings shall be by majority vote of those present, except that recommendations for retirement, censure, or removal of any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall be by affirmative vote of at least five (5) members.

"(6) A. Any Justice or Judge of the Appellate Courts and District and Criminal District Courts, any County Judge, and any Judge of a County Court at Law, a Court of Domestic Relations, a Juvenile Court, a Probate Court, or a Corporation or Municipal Court, and any Justice of the Peace, and any Judge or presiding officer of any special court created by the Legislature as provided in Section 1, Article V, of this Constitution, may, subject to the other provisions hereof, be removed from office for willful or persistent conduct, which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of his said duties or casts public discredit upon the judiciary or administration of justice; or any person holding such office may be censured, in lieu of removal from office, under procedures provided for by the Legislature.

"B. Any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of this subsection who is eligible for retirement benefits under the laws of this state providing for judicial retirement may be involuntarily retired, and any person holding an office named in that paragraph who is not eligible for retirement benefits under such laws may be removed from office, for disability seriously interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent in nature.

"(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to the misconduct or disability of particular persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.

"(8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.

"(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary."

"(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement or removal, due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.

"(12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal.

"(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of, the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment relating to the removal, retirement, or censure of Justices, Judges, and Justices of Peace under prescribed circumstances."

Bond Reduced For Men Charged In Bus Bombing

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge Wayne Justice Monday reduced bond for two men charged in the July 4 Longview bus bombing from $125,000 to $25,000 each after a defense attorney argued the bail was excessive.

U. S. Atty. David Vanderhoof opposed the plea to have bond reduced, saying the pair were either members of the right-wing Minutemen or associated with the militant group.

The defendants, Fred Loyd Hayes, 42, and Kenneth Ray McMaster, 42, both of Longview, are under two indictments allegeding conspiracy and obstructing the federal court order to integrate the schools.

Vanderhoof questioned the men's state of mind at the time of the bombing, saying it was not just a case of disrespect for the law, but rather of "racial prejudice and racial hatred."

He argued that release through reduction of their bonds could result in an attempt to destroy evidence, intimidation of witnesses or an attempt to flee the country.

The defense attorney, Merrill Gibson, a former legislator and county judge, argued that his clients are not yet on trial, saying "these men will be gald to meet their accusers face to face."

Gibson said the original bond exceeded the maximum penalty on the two counts. If the men were not allowed reduced bond, they would be unable to arrange a proper defense, he said.

In reducing the bonds of each to $20,000 on the first count and $5,000 on the second, Judge Justice set the following conditions:

— The defendants must not keep in their possession any firearms or weapons.

—They must not have in their possession any type of explosives.

—They are prohibited from leaving Harrison or Gregg Counties without permission of the U. S. Commissioner in Marshall or the police chief in Longview.

—They are prohibited from any attempt to contact members of the federal grand jury which indicted them.

—They may have no contact, association or communication, direct or indirect, with any individuals, groups or associations named in a sealed document provided by the government attorney and known only to the government attorney, the defense attorney, the secretary and the presiding judge.

Four other persons were named in the federal indictment as co-conspirators although not as defendants. They are Mrs. Clarita Marie Hayes, wife of Fred Hayes, Robert L. Sparks, Howard H. Smith and Glenn D. Parker.

Hayes and McMaster are accused of conspiracy to "injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate" Negro students living in the Longview school district.

The FBI was sent in by the Justice Department to aid Longview police after 26 charges were exploded in the bus parking lot the night of July 4. School officials expect to have 90 per cent of the buses in operation by the time school starts.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Nathan Holt of Longview said there was "a good chance" of the state filing charges, but added, "We won't really know where we stand until the FBI gives us some information."

Spain To Get US Aid

MADRID (AP) — The United States will provide Spain with about $20 million in military and nonmilitary aid and a $125 million Export-Import Bank loan in exchange for using three big bases in Spain for another five years, informed sources said Monday night.

The informants said Foreign Minister Gregorio Lopez Bravo outlined the agreement to a parliamentary commission Monday and that no opposition was raised. They said the U.S. aid will include some F4 Phantom jets and that the loan will be used for education and scientific expansion.

Under the current agreement, the U.S. government is paying about $35 million a year to use the bases jointly with Spain. Spain now controls security at the bases but will have complete control under the new agreement, sources said.

The bases, used by U.S. forces since 1953, are Air Force installations at Torrejon, near Madrid, and Zaragoza in northeastern Spain, and the naval base at Rota, on Cadiz Bay.

The new agreement is expected to be signed in Washington next month.

5 Wardens Transferred

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The director of the Texas Department of Corrections, Dr. George J. Beto, announced Monday that five assistant wardens have been transferred to other units in routine personnel changes.

The board of corrections initiated two years ago the policy which authorizes periodic transfers of wardens and assistant wardens.

Beto said the policy was developed to fully utilize the "strengths and creativity of the individual administrators in the department."

Assistant wardens transferred were Loyd Hunt, from the Huntsville unit to the Ellis unit; A. L. Lockhart, from the Ramsey unit to the Huntsville unit; Norman Priest, from the Wynne unit to the Clemens unit; Joe Shannon, from the Clemens unit to the Wynne unit, and Bobby Taylor, from the Ellis unit to the Ramsey unit.

Sisters Reunited After 62 Years

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Sister Berchmans Scanlan, 80, was en route to her native Ireland today after the first reunion with her twin sisters — also nuns — in 62 years.

Sister Berchmans had not seen her sisters since leaving Ireland for a convent in Australia in 1908.

They were reunited for the first time last week.

The twins, Sisters Ethna and Mary Scanlan, 74, and other relatives met Sister Berchmans in Los Angeles and returned with her here.

The three had exchanged letters and photographs over the years, but the twins still said they expected their sister to be "a bit taller."

Sister Berchmans left San Antonio Monday for a visit to New York and a trip to her native Ballyporeen in Tipperary County, Ireland.

She had spent her entire 62 years since leaving home in Australia. She is an elementary school teacher at the Convent of Mercy in Cairns, Australia, and will return there when she completes a tour of Ireland and parts of Europe.

When Sister Berchmans left for a Sisters of Mercy Convent in Australia in 1908, her twin sisters were only 12 years old.

Some time later one of the twins, Sister Mary, wanted to join her sister in Australia but it would be several years before the Sisters of Mercy would return to Ireland to find another group.

Sister Mary came here instead to join the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word. Her twin, Sister Ethna, joined her here two years later.

Sister Mary now is an elementary school teacher at St. Sebastian's School in St. Louis, Mo. Sister Ethna, a social worker, is assigned here.

This will be Sister Berchman's first return to Ireland. The twins visited their homeland in 1932.

Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, clinical professor of dermatology, New York Medical College, explains that accumulations of spot and dust affect resident bacterial growth on the skin and interfere with its normal activity. Other pollutants he names as detrimental to skin are fly ash and animal droppings.

Happiness is what I sell.

Perhaps you've never thought of life insurance as "happiness." But it is in many ways. It helps you get rid of financial worries so you can live a little! Each dollar you put into cash-value life insurance works like four. It works as a protection dollar. As an emergency dollar. As an opportunity dollar. And as a retirement dollar. Four ways. Ready money whenever you need it. That's a lot of happiness!

"FLY BEFORE YOU BUY"

Pentagon Makes Change

By JIM LUTHER
Assoiad Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The acid test of the Pentagon's "fly before you buy" purchasing policy will be whether it is applied to aircraft contracts made during the past year, charges Sen. William D. Proxmire.

The Wisconsin Democrat, a frequent critic of defense spending, endorsed the new policy as a means to keep weapons costs reasonably close to estimates.

But, Proxmire added, "The proof of the pudding is in the eating. The question is whether the Pentagon will now comply with its own policy."

The new policy was announced by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird as the Senate opened debate on President Nixon's $20.6 billion military procurement budget. The Armed Services Committee has cut the request to $19.3 billion—a figure Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., says is the minimum the nation can afford in the interest of security.

"Several major new weapons programs have been started within the past year," Proxmire said. "Contracts have been awarded for four new aircraft programs: the F14 and F15 fighter aircraft, S3 antisubmarine aircraft and the B1A bomber.

"Will the Pentagon enforce its 'fly before you buy' aircraft procurements?" Proxmire asked. "Or have long-term contracts for both development and production already been entered into on the program's push-forward during the past several months?"

Laird told a news conference at San Clemente, Calif., the policy of contracting for expensive weapons whose worth has not been proven brought huge cost overruns on the C-5A cargo plane and a lack of success in building the F111 fighter-bomber.

Future contracts, he said, will be awarded gradually, allowing full testing before new hardware is purchased.

Proxmire said the Pentagon deliberately understates the costs of new systems to keep Congress from knowing what the ultimate price will be,

Stennis agreed Proxmire had a point. But he added: "If you're going to insist on absolutely reliable cost estimates in advance, then we are never going to have any more modern weapons. It is impossible to make the estimates that accurate."

Silber Urges Professors To Stay

AUSTIN (AP) — The sudden firing of Dr. John R. Silber as dean at the University of Texas has caused some professors to consider quitting their jobs, but Silber urged them to stay on to "enrich the campus."

Twenty-five members of the zoology department wrote acting president Dr. Bryce Jordan Monday that Silber's abrupt dismissal Friday "creates an atmosphere of intimidation and distrust that will be severely detrimental to the university."

One of the signers, Dr. Robert K. Selander, said in a separate letter to Jordan that "the timing and manner in which the dismissal was handled mark it as an act of cowardice."

Silber said he was called into Jordan's office Friday evening and, without explanation, was given a letter of dismissal from Chancellor-elect Charles LeMaistre.

"When a man of Dr. Silber's professional stature, position, and integrity is subject to administrative assassination, faith in the future of this university is destroyed. It will be increasingly difficult for this university to hold or to attract faculty members and students dedicated to the concept of freedom of thought and expression and to the goal of academic excellence," Selander said.

Dr. William Arrowsmith, a widely published classics scholar, wired LeMaistre that the firing of Silber "has earned you the just contempt of all intelligent members of the Texas faculty." He said the LeMaistre administration "is interested only in mediocrities and nonentities who can be counted on to carry out the megalomanic wishes" of regents chairman Frank C. Erwin Jr. of Austin.

"You have lost the confidence of the faculty before you ever won it," Arrowsmith told LeMaistre.

Clean Air Predicted For Texas

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Texans who don't care for "air you can see" got some encouragement Monday from the man who administers programs to clean up the state's atmosphere.

Charles Barden, executive director of the Texas Air Control Board, predicted visible air pollution in Texas would be conquered in "less than 10 years."

Barden made the assertion at a hearing before examiners for the legislative budget board and Gov. Preston Smith's budget office.

"Is 1975 soon to attempt to prohibit all emissions of harmful pollutants from the air?" Barden was asked.

"We don't expect ever to eliminate all the SO2 (Sulphur Dioxide) or all pariculates by 1975, but we do hope to show a reduction in particulates and in those things that might damage health or might damage property," Barden replied.

He said he thinks industry "has gotten the message" that the public wants clean air.

Barden said he could not say precisely when the state might look forward to an end to visible pollution.

But, he added, "we are talking about less than 10 years."

The air control board, he said, is now working on a regulation to control pollution from vehicles, such as the smoke and fumes from diesel trucks and businesses.

"We are going to have one (a regulation) before the year is out," Barden said.

Already, he said, one "can visually observe a relative improvement in the air quality" in the Corpus Christi, Fort Worth and San Antonio areas.
