SIX DIE IN HAMMER SLAYING ORGY

SPEAK AT DEMOCRATIC LOVE FEST

Three defeated presidential nominees are scheduled to speak at the Jackson Day gathering of Democratic leaders in Washington, Jan. 8, marking the formal opening of the 1932 campaign for the nomination for president. The meeting is expected to demonstrate the relative strength of the half dozen conspicuous leaders striving for control of the Democratic national convention. The speakers are James Cox, of Ohio, who ran against Harding, 1929; John W. Davis, of West Virginia, who was defeated by Coolidge in 1924, and Al Smith, of New York, beaten by Hoover, in the last election.

Democrats Will Avoid Pro Plea

Aged Man Claims He's Jesse James

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. Jan. 7 (AP)—When a man named Jesse James was buried near Kearney, Mo., in 1892, it was believed one of the middle-west's most notorious outlaws had been put to rest.

Now comes an aged man who says the historians were mistaken and that he is the real Jesse James.

James "the latest" appeared in the section two years ago and won some local attention as "William Jesse James," cousin of the outlaw. Now he says he is none other than the real Jesse James.

He went to Jefferson City yesterday to seek a pardon for his real or fancied crimes of a half century ago. Governor Henry S. Caulfield, however, preferred to believe the historians and declined to comply with the aged man's request.

LEADERS WILL IGNORE ISSUE RAISED BY CHAIR. RASKOB

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7—Congressional Democrats who regard themselves as the real voice of the party, intend to ignore the prohibition issue raised by Chairman Raskob of the national committee.

It is the firm conviction of the party chieftains on Capitol Hill that Democratic success in this year's presidential campaign rests in successful solution of the economic crisis confronting the nation.

Moreover, Democrats in congress for the most part believe the prohibition issue is one which splits both parties and should be kept beyond the realm of a party tie.

Focus Attention

Under the leadership of Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Speaker Garner, the Democrats intend to focus every attention on the economic issues. If the prohibition issue comes up in the national convention, as Mr. Raskob says it must, then that is the time, they say, to meet it, but no sooner.

There is considerable satisfaction among the congressional group that Raskob decided not to press for a commitment by the national committee at Saturday's meeting on the prohibition subject he has advanced.

Harmony Seen

In view of this decision, which members of congress regard as a victory for their stand in the March meeting of the committee, there is now every prospect of harmony at the forthcoming party pow wow.

There is full expectation that a roll call will be had at this session of congress on prohibition with either repeal or modification the question, but it appears clear neither Republicans nor Democrats will attempt to make a party issue of it.

Cadet Saves Life In His Parachute

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 7 (AP)—By deserting his ship and leaping with his parachute a Kelly field cadet saved his life this morning while his fast pursuit ship crashed.

Flying Cadet Robert Jesse Potter was on a flying training mission about two miles north of the advanced flying school when the accident happened. No details were available.

Cadet Potter was uninjured.

ROSENWALD TO "LIVE ON"

PHILANTHROPIES ARE RECALLED AS RICH MERCHANT DIES

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Julius Rosenwald is dead but the philanthropies which brought him international renown will live on for many years to come.

The 69-year-old merchant-prince, who began a brilliant business career by pumping an organ in a Springfield, Ill., church at five cents an hour, was more concerned by his gifts for the welfare of mankind than the hours left for him to live.

Mentally Alert

"Mr. Rosenwald was mentally alert through his illness," said Dr. Herbert Pollack, who attended him until his death at 2:55 p. m., yesterday. "He apparently had lost all interest in his vast business enterprises and was interested only in his philanthropies to the last."

"Mr. Rosenwald was mentally two years ago. Physicians diagnosed his complaint as hardening of the arteries. He was never confined to his bed, however, for any length of

Bills To Cut Federal Salaries Are Tabled

LEADERS SEEK PASSAGE OF MEASURES

PROSPECT FOR ACTION ON RECONSTRUCTION PLAN VANISHES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The house expenditures committee today tabled all bills referred to it to cut government salaries.

Four bills had been presented. Three sponsors of the legislation—Representatives Shallenberger, Democrat, Nebraska; Rich, Republican, Pennsylvania, and McGugin, Republican, Kansas—testified in support of their proposals.

The committee, however, decided a reduction in purchasing power would have a more harmful effect than a decrease in governmental expenditures.

COMMITTEE DELAYS REPORT ON MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Prospects for congressional action this week on the reconstruction corporation vanished today with news that it would not be reported to the house by committee until Monday.

The senate has the measure now before it and leaders hope to have approval voted today or tomorrow.

Speaker Garner said today the house banking committee is studying it continuously but would not have it ready until next week. Then the Democratic majority will give it right of way.

TECHNICALITIES HALT ACTION IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The leaders of congress sought hard today to brush aside parliamentary technicalities and get pressing legislation enacted.

In the senate Republican and Democratic heads, backed by a dominant majority, worked to put through the reconstruction finance corporation plan, which objections of one member held up yesterday. The Democratic bosses of the house served warning on their political opponents that they meant to pass the party's tariff bill before the week is ended, to clear the way on that side of the capitol for the fe-

WATER BREAKS RIVER LEVEE

WIDE AREA FLOODED TO SEND HUNDREDS TO HIGH GROUND

(By The Associated Press)

GLENDORA, Miss., Jan. 7.—The flood-swollen Tallahatchie river has torn through the levee at Twilight, Miss., and a blanket of water was spread over southeastern Tallahatchie county today toward Tippo, Macel, Sharkey and Paynes.

These villages are across the river from Glendora. The break, a gap of 35 feet, through which a 12-foot wall of water burst last night, was expected to relieve the river pressure here and at points south.

As refugees deserted the newly-swamped areas, residents to the north sought the body of a negro farmer, Amos Smith, who was drowned in Cassidy bayou north of Webb, yesterday as he attempted to save a herd of 20 mules.

Rivermen estimated between 40,000 and 50,000 acres would be swamped by last night's break at Twilight. Planters took warning and early today were moving 300 tenants from Sharkey plantation which was under three feet of water.

H. L. Gray, planter, estimated 3,000 persons would be affected by the latest levee crash.

WOMEN FLIERS ARE DEAD

JUDGES STUDY MARTIAL LAW INJUNCTION

CASE ATTACKING OIL RESTRICTION MADE BY STERLING ENDS

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Jan. 7—An injunction case challenging constitutionality of Governor Ross S. Sterling's restriction of production in the East Texas oil field by martial law was completed here late yesterday and was taken under advisement by a three-judge federal court.

Counsel for both sides were told to submit written briefs within 15 days and a decision shortly after that time was expected. The field, meanwhile, will remain under supervision by the military. It was announced a contempt citation against Brig. Gen. Jacobs F. Wolters, commandant of the field, would not be disposed of until after disposition of the suit, by which the plaintiffs, E. Constantin and J. D. Walther, seek to enjoin the governor from controlling production of their wells in the field.

Citation Issued

The contempt citation was issued by Judge Randolph Bryant of the eastern federal district of Texas after he had granted the plaintiffs a temporary order restraining General Wolters from enforcing state railroad commission production orders in the field. The general, in his answer, said he had enforced orders of the governor and not those of the commission, since Judge Bryant restrained him. Judge Bryant alone will determine whether there was contempt.

As the case was rested with the court, Circuit Judge J. C. Hutcheson, presiding, remarked from the bench he was inclined to find for the plaintiffs under the present facts he had heard, unless something in the briefs to be filed should change his mind.

Both Judge Hutcheson and Judge Bryant had said yesterday, during arguments in the case, they believed Governor Sterling sent the military to East Texas to regulate production, and not to suppress "riot and rebellion" as he claimed.

Hunger Army At Capital To Ask Federal Relief

MORE THAN 10,000 UNEMPLOYED DEMAND FIVE BILLION DOLLARS PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—An army of jobless men from Pennsylvania massed at the capitol today to demand that congress appropriate five billion dollars for public works to relieve unemployment.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 thronged to the capitol's plaza and nearby streets as Rev. James R. Cox, Pittsburgh priest, who led them across the Allegheny mountains, prepared petitions to hand to Senator James J. Davis and Representative Clyde Kelly, both of western Pennsylvania.

Capital Guarded

For the second time during the seventy-second congress, an extra force of police guarded capitol doors.

No disorder was anticipated, however. Missing were the tear gas pistols and shotguns which were displayed on the capitol steps Dec. 7 when a smaller group under a leadership which included communists, appeared.

The trekkers arose today after passing a cheerless night on floors of vacant buildings pressed into service to shelter them from a chill rain. Most of them went to bed supperless last night. Nearly all were soaked to the skin and the only bedding hundreds had were rain-sodden blankets.

The crowd rolled into Washington last night unexpectedly, taxing the housing facilities of police and welfare workers to the limit.

Hoover Receives Leader Of Marchers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—The leader of ten thousand unemployed men was received in friendly fashion by President Hoover today but was given no assurance his request for work and help would be met.

Father James R. Cox of Pittsburgh, after giving congress and the president a petition for aid, said the president had told him everything the government could do was being one an that there was no chance of doing things suddenly outside of the regular channels.

"I told the president," Father Cox said, "that unless immediate relief is given, God help the country."

AVIATOR SEES WRECKAGE OF LOST PLANE

MRS. RUTH STEWART, MRS. STANFORD IN FATAL SHIP FALL

(By The Associated Press)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 7.—Gentry Shelton of St. Louis, today reported Mrs. Ruth Stewart and Mrs. Debbie Stanford had been killed instantly when their plane crashed on Bower's mountain late Monday afternoon.

Shelton, who accompanied the women from Pittsburgh in a second plane carrying Mrs. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Woerner, said Mrs. Stewart, the pilot of the lost ship, had been crushed by the engine when the ship dived, nose downward, into the rain-soaked mountainside. Mrs. Stanford was caught in the wreckage at the same time.

Escape Impossible

Shelton, reporting at the Harrisburg airport after a flight with Woerner as a passenger, said he had recognized Mrs. Stewart's red coat in the plane wreckage and that the condition of the plane made it impossible for either woman to have escaped instant death.

Shelton made two flights yesterday over the section in which he last sighted the missing plane but rain and clouds over the mountain made it impossible to discern the upper half of the peak on which the plane had crashed.

Woerner, who with his wife, had waited anxiously through forty hours for some word from his daughter, collapsed as he left Shelton's plane. He was taken to a hotel where his wife had received from The Associated Press the first verified report of the fliers' death.

Fire Believed Of Incendiary Origin

Fire which caused heavy damage to a six-room vacant house at 1402 Avenue T early this morning evidently was of incendiary origin, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said. The alarm was answered at 2:47 a. m.

The structure was fired at two points, kerosene-saturated rags were found in it, and virtually all the gas jets were open, the fire chief said. Firemen discovered the gas flow and turned off the jets after starting to fight the blaze. An explosion apparently had not occurred, the fire chief said.

At one spot, he continued, gas pipe had been taken out and gas was seeping upward through the walls.

Tax records show that a Lorenzo man owns the house, damaged to an unestimated extent, according to Fire Chief Twitty.

MELLON FACES OUSTER MOVE

IMPEACHMENT DRIVE IS LAUNCHED BY TEXAS LEADER

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—For the first time in the many years since Andrew Mellon has been secretary of the treasury, a formal move for his impeachment lay today before the congressional agency.

Year after year one member or another has suggested that something of the sort be done, or demanded his resignation, questioning the right of so wealthy a man, stockholder in many corporations, to hold the purse strings of the nation. Attempts have been made to force him out.

But it awaited Democratic control of the house and the determination of Representative Wright Patman of Texas to actually start impeachment of the veteran financier. How far the ouster move will get remains to be seen.

Violation Charged

"High crimes and misdemeanors" was the general—and required—designation of the accusations. Violation of a law of 1789, designed to prevent treasury secretaries from engaging in business or commerce was the principal charge, accompanied by the argument that heavy stockholders in industrial concerns, shipping lines, etc., do constitute commercial activity. The point has been much debated.

SEEK RELEASE FOR GANDHI

APPLICATION TO BE MADE FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

(By The Associated Press)

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 7—An application for a writ of habeas corpus for Mahatma Gandhi will be made Jan. 11 by Indian nationalist attorneys, calling for his presence before a high court to test the legality of his imprisonment under a regulation of 1827.

India's nationalist forces, momentarily stunned meanwhile by the severity of the sweeeping restrictive ordinances imposed on them by the government, appeared today to have taken to cover.

The country, thus far during renewal of the civil disobedience campaign, has been free from grave disorders or serious bloodshed and a paralyzing reaction on trade, especially upon British goods, as a result of the nationalists' boycott, has been the chief reaction.

One danger looming in the background was the possibility of a renewal of the strife between Hindu and Moslem millions such as caused the bloody Cawnpore riots last year during which members of the two factions cut each other's throats until 1,000 lay dead.

Fort Worth Woman Tells Of Kidnaping

FORT WORTH, Jan. 7. (AP)—Mrs. William Ferguson, 32, told Grayson county officers she was kidnaped and slugged yesterday on a Fort Worth street by two men who took her to Tioga and left her unconscious beside her automobile. She was given emergency treatment at Tioga, 60 miles away.

On her return here last night Mrs. Ferguson would not discuss the incident. A hitch-hiker was arrested at Sherman but released.

DRIVE FOR MATERIAL FOR ARGUMENT TO BEGIN TONIGHT IN BRIDGE GAME

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A last-minute drive for material for argument will begin tonight in the great contract bridge match.

Recognizing that Ely Culbertson's lead of 14,175 points cannot be overcome without extraordinary and unprecedented luck and cards, Sidney S. Lenz, his chief rival in a month's test of contract bridge bidding systems, will try at least to maintain the plus for those rubbers in which his partner has been Winfield Liggett, jr.

Lenz and Liggett have made 2,665 more points in the last 34 rubbers than have Culbertson and partner. There are 13 rubbers left to play in the 150-rubber match. If, when the last card is laid down tomorrow night, Lenz and Liggett are still plus as a combination followers of the 1-2-3 system naturally will maintain that the Culbertson lead was due largely to Oswald Jacoby, who resigned from the match in a dispute with Lenz over bids and play. Jacoby took part in 103 rubbers and his side acquired a deficit of 16,840 points in them. Culbertson has said his lead would be 10,000 points greater if Jacoby had not been an opponent.

In order to catch up with Culbertson and partner, Lenz and Liggett must average a gain of 1,063 points for the last 13 rubbers. Such an average is far in excess of any average gain or loss by any combination during the match.

TEMPERATURE HOVERS NEAR FREEZING POINT TODAY; COLD BREEZE IS FELT

That silvery line in Lubbock's thermometer was crawling upward slowly at noon, when it crossed the freezing point for the first time today. Temperatures were comparatively moderate but a stiff breeze prevented any casting aside of winter coats and wraps.

Today's minimum temperature to noon was 20 degrees registered at the South Plains Pipe Line company plant here at 5 o'clock. Other temperatures as recorded there were: 1 a. m.—24; 2—23; 3—22; 4—22; and 6—22; 7—28; 8—30; 9—31; 10—30, and 11—31.

The United States weather bureau at Amarillo this morning forecast partly cloudy skies and continued cold tonight and Friday in West Texas.

The Panhandle's heavy snow blanket hung on today under the protection of freezing temperatures but the weather bureau promised slight thawing. The minimum temperature at Amarillo last night was 20 degrees and the mercury had climbed only three degrees by 10 a. m.

All Panhandle highways were open and busses were running for the first time since the snow fell Monday. Overland traveling was still difficult because of deep drifts. Airways traffic was resumed yesterday. Train service had been delayed little, snow plows pushing out the drifts almost as fast as they accumulat-

FARMER KILLS SELF AFTER MURDERS

WIFE, ANOTHER CHILD SERIOUSLY WOUNDED BY INSANE KILLER

(By The Associated Press)

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Jan. 7.—Olive Davenport, 50, killed five of his children with a hammer in their farm home near Patton, Mo., early today, seriously wounded his wife and another child, then killed himself with a shotgun. Davenport apparently went insane. Only one child in the family of eight was unharmed.

The slayings were discovered about daybreak when neighbors hurried to the house after a 12-year-old Davenport boy had run screaming from the Davenport home, seeking assistance.

Sheriff Dorman Elledge of Bollinger county said it was apparent that Davenport had killed the four children by beating them with the hammer and then he had wounded his wife and the fifth child in the same manner.

The hammer, covered with blood and hair, was found in the modest country home where the Davenport family, one of the most prominent in the country, had lived for years.

Nearby was Davenport's body, his head torn off by a charge from the shotgun.

Mrs. Davenport and a daughter, both in an extremely grave condition, were brought to a hospital here where physicians said their recovery was doubtful. They had serious head wounds and their bodies were badly bruised.

The dead:

Olive Davenport, 50; Verda, 10; Clara Fay, 7; Raymond, 5; Naomi, 3; infant girl.

CHARGE GRAFT AT CHICAGO

SHADY BUSINESS AND PADDED PAYROLLS ARE ALLEGED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 7—Padded payrolls, fake expense accounts and shady business deals helped along with many cases of whiskey—those are the methods by which the Chicago sanitary district is alleged to have wasted $5,000,000 in public funds.

Thousands of words of testimony concerning the misspent dollars have been piled up at the trial of Timothy J. Crowe, former president of the district, and seven of his witnesses.

Hundreds Testify

Hundreds of witnesses, including 40 who were then members of the state legislature, have told of being on the payroll and doing little or no work. Some made a trip or two to investigate claims against the district, others glanced at the lake level daily and never made reports, some wrote essays and copied names out of the telephone books, and many merely made a monthly visit to the ofices to get their checks.

Crowe was president of the board of trustees during 1927 and 1928, the period dubbed the "whoopee era" because of the many parties given by persons connected with the district. By virtue of this position he heads the list of defendants in the present hearing. The others were all high officials of the body which has charge of the disposal of Chicago's sewage.

To Survey Famous Goodnight Ranch

AMARILLO, Jan. 7 (AP)—Representatives of the Great Southern Life Insurance company, new owners of the historic Goodnight ranch near the Palo Duro canyon, left here today to make a survey of the property.

They said nothing definite had been decided regarding disposal of the ranch or its herd of 246 buffaloes. A statement might be made later, they said.

The ranch was founded by Col Charles Goodnight in 1876, and the buffalo herd was started two years later when he rounded up four calves to save them from "hide hunters," and to prevent the southwest bison from becoming extinct.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Three youths were picked up in this city for hitch-hiking. They had six cents between them. Ordinarily hitch-hiking is frowned upon and is punished with a jail sentence. DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

DELINQUENCY

IN 1921 THE Commonwealth Fund set up a number of demonstration clinics aimed at prevention of juvenile delinquency. This plan included not only a training of workers, and the promotion of visiting teachers, but also a more general establishment of clinical facilities in the larger cities throughout the United States.

After these demonstration clinics had been run for several years, most were taken over by the local child welfare organization. The National Committee for Mental Hygiene has been back of the program and has for a number of years actively been engaged in stimulating interest in the establishment of such clinics and in helping organize them. In a number of cities the public schools have created child guidance clinics of their own. In other cities there is a central clinic serving all organizations and individuals. Some have been established by the local Mental Hygiene association.

These clinics have highly trained experts consisting of psychiatrists, psychologists and psychiatric-social workers. The whole child is studied physically, mentally, socially, in all his home, school and community relationships. By and by such clinics will be available for all social and educational organizations everywhere, as well as for all parents.

From time to time I have in this column, and still more frequently in my personal replies to parents with hard problems, urged parents to avail themselves of the services of these clinics, most of which are now located in the larger cities. Any one desiring to find the nearest clinic should communicate with the editor of this paper.

Like good hospitals, these clinics study the child and advise in regard to his treatment and care, regardless of whether his parents are rich or poor. A nominal fee usually is charged those able to pay, others are served free.

This column has been conducted, of course, in the interest of parents who wish to prevent behavior problems in their children and who wish to cultivate happier families; but we parents cannot run away from the problems which face us.

When the Commonwealth Fund set out with its demonstration clinics the hope was to make the service more and more a preventive and educational one, and less and less a corrective one. During the demonstration period there were carried on in each community in which the clinic was located effectual programs in parent education. A number of the clinics taken over by local agencies went on with such preventive programs, but as the depression came on and retrenchment had to be effected, the directly educational program had to be curtailed in most places.

Nevertheless, the child guidance clinic is indirectly a powerful educational force, since it has focused the attention of the schools, churches and social agencies on the need of training for a better parenthood.

The constant findings of the child guidance clinic magnify the home as by far the leading factor in shaping the child's behavior. Those engaged in parent education have had considerable light thrown upon their work, and the need for more efforts to enlist parents in systematic study of their own problems in relation to each other and the children. It is no longer mere child study, but study of parent problems involving wide family, home-school and home-community relationships.

Lavender In Race For County Clerk

A resident of Lubbock the last nine years, W. E. Lavender, Wednesday, entered the race for the office of Lubbock county clerk on the Democratic ticket in the July primary.

Mr. Lavender has been sales manager for local automobile agencies practically all of the time of his residence here. He was formerly assistant postmaster at Haskell.

WHEN Duncy crawled upon the duck he came near having real bad luck. In trying to act funny, both his legs flew in the air. He grabbed the poor duck by the neck as Scouty cried, "You'll be a wreck! If you expect to come back safely you had best beware."

From then on Duncy sat real still and rode around the stream until his time was up. Then he returned and Carpy took his turn. Said he, "I'll ride the best of all and never even start to fall. I've never tried this stunt before, but it's not hard to learn."

At last they all had a ride and then the friendly giant cried, "Hey, gather me some stove wood. I am going to cook a meal. If you bring in all that I need I'll let you join me in my feed." "You bet," said Scouty. "When we eat, much better we will feel."

And so they worked a little while and shortly sat down with a smile to food the monstrous giant cooked. It tasted mighty good. "Eat all you can," the giant said. "I mean it lads. Go right ahead." The Tinies did as they were told and ate all that they could.

Once more they roamed around a bit and one said, "There's a place to sit. It looks most like a mountain, but that's just because we're small. It is a toadstool, you can see. Let's climb upon it. Follow me. Be careful when we're getting up, or we will take a fall."

No sooner had they perched on top when something joined them, on the hop. It was a very friendly toad. It croaked "a howdy do." Wee Scouty answered, "Well, hello! Let's get acquainted ere you go. If you will only let me, I would like to ride on you."

ROAD PROJECT IS STARTED

SHORTER CONNECTION WITH NEW MEXICO ASSURED AREA

LEVELLAND, Jan. 7.—(Special)—Assured the cooperation of officials in Roosevelt and Chaves counties in New Mexico, the Levelland Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a road program important to Lubbock and other South Plains municipalities as well as to Levelland, in opening shorter connections to Roswell and other New Mexico towns. Some construction is expected to start in Roosevelt and Chaves counties this month.

The road that is being built is an extension of the highway west of Bledsoe, in Cochran county on the extreme west side, to an intersection with the Roswell-Portales state highway eight miles south of Kenna. The present road from Levelland on the north side of the Bledsoe branch of the Santa Fe stop west of Bledsoe where a road from Tatum to Clovis is intersected.

Roosevelt county already has men at work on the 20 mile sector in that county. The roadbed is being graded and put up to a standard grade.

Word from Chaves county is to the effect that as soon as possible, probably within the next two or three weeks, work will begin on the 25 mile sector in that county.

Roswell is almost 120 miles due west of Levelland, according to surveys it is 12 miles south.

Traffic from Lubbock and other points east of Levelland now have to travel 25 miles or more further than they would if the New Mexico highway as now being constructed was open to traffic.

It is hoped here that summer will see the preliminary work in such condition that traffic can be routed over the road without delay.

SAMPLES CASE UNDER WAY

DEFENDANT CHARGED WITH STEALING A SUITCASE HERE

The trail of J. J. ("Red") Samples, alias "Red" Kelly, on a charge of theft of less than $50, began in county court this morning and was to be resumed this afternoon.

Samples is charged with stealing a suitcase containing a man's suit and other apparel from an automobile parked in downtown Lubbock. He was arrested by police and the sheriff's department recovered the alleged loot.

The accused man this morning served as his own lawyer.

Two Negroes Held

Two negroes charged with robbery with firearms remained in county jail this morning following examining trials Wednesday afternoon.

The negroes, Johnnie Price and Lonnie Anderson, were ordered held by Justice H. K. Porter who set bond of each at $10,000. Charles Williams, 2013 Avenue J, testifying at the hearing, said he was positive of his identification of the pair as the negroes who held him up Monday night and made off with $17.

Bond Is Dropped

William H. Evans, assistant county attorney, opposed bond in the cases on grounds that they were capital offenses. Justice Porter at first announced bond at $1,500 each and later raised it to $10,000. Bonds had not been made last night. A third negro suspect in the holdup, Bud Fields, was fined $14.15 in justice court for vagrancy and went back to jail. Price and Anderson were arrested by county officers Tuesday night.

Second Complaint

E. C. Murray, who waived examining trial yesterday on a charge of forgery and had bond set at $500 by Justice Porter, was charged in a second complaint with the same offense Wednesday afternoon. Both complaints were signed by local merchants who alleged they had received forged checks.

Jess Covington and Wink Jorden, convicted of a charge of vagrancy and fined $25 each in corporation court Wednesday, appealed the conviction to county court. They made appeal bonds of $50. Chief of Police John Lemond said. Corporation Judge J. T. Inmon tried the cases.

John (Iron Jaw) Allen of Slaton was convicted of a charge of operating a pool hall and was fined $40 in county court Wednesday.

Case of J. L. (Shorty) Edwards, convicted in justice court last week of simple assault and fined $1 and costs, was appealed to county court Wednesday and set for trial Saturday, County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson said.

ROSENWALD

time until last April. At that time the original trouble was aggravated by heart disease and a kidney ailment and he was ordered to bed.

Rosenwald, head of Sears Roebuck & Co., gave away approximately $60,000,000 during his life. He was vigorously opposed to "the dead hand in philanthrophy," as expressed in perpetual endowments and foundations.

The largest part of Rosenwald's philanthropies have been expended for the welfare of negroes and jews but his generosities had no racial limitations and his gifts flowed to whites as well as blacks, to gentiles as well as to jews.

As Rosenwald helped the men of many strange streets, so did he also help his "co-workers" as he preferred to call his employes. Perhaps his most spectacular gesture to the employes came Oct. 30, 1929, on the fourth day of the stock market crash. With millions of dollars in paper profits vanishing every hour, he announced he would personally guarantee the accounts of any and all of his employes to avert the danger of their savings being swept away.

Telephone Will Be Used By Librarian

If the question can be answered immediately, the inquirer will be asked to wait at the telephone. Otherwise, he will be asked to leave his number and will be called as soon as the information desired is uncovered, Miss Eubank explained.

Hard Games Faced By Loyola Cagers

CHICAGO, Jan. 7. (AP)—Minor league club owners evidently started something last month when they decided to replace the presidency of their association with an unpaid commission.

Since then several club owners have suggested that their respective leagues do likewise with economy as the chief reason. The latest league that may be affected is the Mississippi Valley league. Dr. Charles Logan, president of the Keokuk team of that circuit, suggests the move to save money.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7 (AP)—The cotton market opened firm with fairly good trading. Liverpool cables were much better than due and foreign news was generally encouraging.

First trades showed gains of 9 to 11 points with March trading up to 6.49 and May to 6.65. After the start the market eased off moderately on realizing and absence of sustained support.

March dropped to 6.43 and May to 6.61, or 4 to 6 points under the opening figures but still 4 to 5 points above yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market showed a slight reactionary trend.

A report that the European reparations negotiations had broken down and selling in advance of tomorrow's holiday here influenced the market to ease off steadily after the morning rise. March dropped to 6.41, May to 6.58 and July to 6.74, down 7 to 8 points from the early highs but still 2 points above yesterday's close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 8 to 10 points on a renewal of yesterday's buying movement and the steadiness of Liverpool cables. March sold at 6.50.

A further advance in the Bremen market at the opening today was another factor in the rise to 6.55 for July contracts. The early demand was supplied by southern and local selling which caused partial reactions during the early trading. March sold off to 6.42 and July to 6.77 but the market was steadied by the better tone of the stock market and active months were about 2 to 5 points net higher at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported general buying in that market with an optimistic feeling as to reparations but said business in Manchester was slow in developing.

Moderate early reactions followed rumors of an easier Bremen market although the close there was 7 to 10 points net higher. Prices locally held very steady late in the morning. At midday March was ruling around 6.45 and July 6.78, or about 3 to 6 points net higher on the general list, with trading quiet.

Births in Lubbock in 1931 totaled nearly 600, birth registrations kept by Dr. J. W. Rollo, city physician, show. An estimated 90 per cent of the parents of babies crying their way into the world here last year were Lubbock residents and all lived in Lubbock county.

Distribution of boys and girls was about equal, a cursory total of records showing more than 295 boys and more than 290 girls. The figures do not include several youngsters who made their premiere in 1930 and were not listed until 1931.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—After absorbing a little profit-taking in early dealings, stocks firmed again today, although the market was quiet on the moderate upturn.

Strength in the rails appeared to have an effect on other groups. Santa Fe, New York Central, Union Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio rallied a point or more. U. S. Steel, American Tobacco "B", Johns-Manville, International Harvester, Proctor & Gamble and Coca Cola improved 1 to 2. American Telephone recovered a one point loss. A number of preferred stocks were strong.

Call money renewed at 3 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 7 (AP)—Fresh upturns in grain values early today accompanied Liverpool reports of good general demand for wheat and was simultaneous also with New York market advances. There were authoritiative predictions, too, that it would be a long time before any empire wheat quota proposals were adopted in Great Britain. Opening 1-8@5-8 higher, wheat afterward held near the initial limits. Corn started unchanged to 1-8 higher and continued firm.

CONVICTED PAIR AWAITING DEATH

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 7 (AP)—Two convicted murderers, a white man and a negro, to be electrocuted at state prison here early tomorrow, sat in their cells today still hoping for clemency that already had been denied.

Ira McKee, 32-year-old Palo Pinto county oil field roustabout, did not know the state board of pardons at Austin had recommended he be granted no clemency, nor did Alfred Jackson, the negro, from Bexar county, know the governor had declined to accept the board's recommendation that a commutation to life sentence be granted.

Prison officials had been worried, for fear McKee, who had been exhibiting unusual terror, would "weaken" to the extent of making a scene but Warden W. W. Waid said today the roustabout appeared "to be "calmer" than he had been.

TEMPERATURE

City streets in Amarillo, under heavy traffic, were covered with a thick pack of snow that was pulverized on top like dry sand.

Officials of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company reported that service would be restored by noon today on more than 50 toll lines that were down yesterday. Only temporary repairs are being made and it will be several weeks before permanent lines are rebuilt.

Livestock men had reported no losses and said cattle were in excellent condition.

Man And Woman Killed At Crossing

LONGVIEW, Jan. 7 (AP)—A grade crossing accident at Kilgore today took the lives of A. Z. Rodgers, Oil City, La., drilling contractor and oil operator, and an unidentified woman.

The automobile in which they were riding was demolished by a passenger train. Heavy fog was believed responsible for their failure to see the approaching train.

Young Brothers To Be Buried In Texas

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 7 (AP)—The bodies of Harry and Jennings Young, killers of six Springfield and Greene county officers, will be buried in Houston, Tex., probably today at a private funeral.

The mother of the men, Mrs. J. D. Young, was informed by a daughter at Houston last night over long distance telephone, that the wives of the men wanted them buried in Houston.

The mother protested she wanted the bodies buried here but the daughter, Mrs. T. T. Mackey, insisted on the Houston burial saying, "It's lots better that you remember them as you last saw them."

SUSPENDED TERM IS GIVEN ROBBER

SHAWNEE, Okla., Jan. 7 (AP)—Orville Burch, Tennessee youth who last Saturday robbed the First National bank of McLoud of $600 and attempted to escape in an airplane, was given a ten-year suspended sentence by Judge Leroy Cooper here yesterday.

Judge Cooper, who was at the Shawnee airport when Burch chartered a plane, unwittingly accompanied the robber to Fort Smith where he was captured.

Burch's plea that he looted the bank to obtain money for treatment of his wife, an expectant mother in Tennessee, resulted in clemency. N. Douglas, banker, and Clarence Tankersley, county attorney urged leniency.

CONGRESS

Awaits Senate Passage

Not only was this measure awaiting senate passage, but the federal land bank increased capitalization bill was ready to be taken up. This has gone through the house but, amended by a senate committee, probably will have to go back.

The house ways and means committee, which has the tariff bill, offered time today to administration officials to get their views on record, but this hearing period was definitely limited. Already the Democratic members have agreed to knock out provision for reciprocal trade agreements with foreign nations, in view of complications foreseen.

Asks Sex Equality

Ardent feminists, meanwhile, rallied at the capitol today around a proposal to complete sex equality in citizenship.

The final section of a bill, by Representative Cable of Ohio, was their pride and joy—it said:

"Hereafter there shall be no distinction based on sex in the law and practice relating to nationality, citizenship and naturalization—any right now enjoyed by one sex shall be equally available to the other under like circumstances."

The feminists have been fighting many years to get the lawmakers to say that. Miss Maud Younger, veteran legislative chairman of the national women's party, led the group called before today's house immigration committee hearing on this bill.

For the seventh time yesterday, Senator George Norris put through the senate his resolution to abolish the "lame duck" sessions of congress and Democratic leaders who run things across the capitol now are for it.

If Norris wins through, the people will have another constitutional amendment to vote on. The proposal is to alter present provisions so that congress will meet each year on Jan. 2, the January succeeding the November elections. The president and vice-president would take office Jan. 15 instead of March 4.

No statutory limit would remain on any session of congress.

Gangster Charged On Kidnaping Count

CHICAGO, Jan. 7 (AP)—Louis Alterie, who has a gangland sobriquet of "two-gun Diamond Jack" dating back to his beer selling days, was one of six men reported named in true bills by a grand jury on charges of kidnaping for ransom.

Alterie was arrested and released on bond yesterday in Colorado where he has been conducting a dude ranch. The other five were arrested last week. They are accused of participating in kidnaping which netted them $500,000 in ransoms.

Charges Hurled In Probe Of Election

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 7 (AP)—Charges of intimidation of employes "who would not vote right" and illegal casting of ballots have been placed in the record in the hearings on former Senator J. Thomas Heflin's contest of the election of Senator John H. Bankhead.

Night sessions were ordered last night. More than 100 witnesses for Heflin remain to be heard while Senator Bankhead's list has not been completed.

TWO SENTENCED

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 7 (AP)—Joe Carl Adams and Jack L. Adams were sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary by Judge Duval West in federal court Wednesday on pleas of guilty to theft of a government mail pouch at Seguin.

BROTHERS CONVICTED

Herbert Graves, 20, and Hoyt Graves, 18, brothers living north of Lubbock, were convicted of theft of an generator in corporation court this morning and fined about $12 each, the police department reported.

YOU BE THE JUDGE OF THIS JUSTICE

By NEA Service

FORT WORTH, Jan. 7—Federal District Judge James C. Wilson won a lot of friends over a decision he made in the case of E. B. Allen, 65-year-old farmer up for violating prohibition laws.

Allen, an old man with gray hair stringing from below his battered hat, deserved the acquital verdict Judge Wilson returned after hearing the old man's hard luck story.

After three years of crop failures, Allen took to selling a little whisky and beer on his farm. To add to that, his home burned down. But the home could have been spared, Allen told the judge, if the fire had not taken to their deaths his two young grandchildren.

Allen also explained that he had been forced to hitch-hike to Fort Worth in order to be at the trial. He was given a six-month sentence and $500 fine, both of which were suspended.

JACKSON TAKES TOO MANY LOOPS

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 7 (AP)—One too many inside loops was blamed for the death of Dale (Red) Jackson, 26, St. Louis flier and co-holder of the unofficial endurance refueling flight record.

He fell 3,000 feet, apparently unable to extricate himself from a plane whose wings failed to stand the strain of aerobatics as he stunted above Miami municipal airport yesterday on the eve of the fourth annual all-American air race.

He looped, rolled and went into an Immelman turn. Then spectators saw him wing into another inside loop.

While the gaze of hundreds was held skyward, a wing of the amphibian tore loose and spun toward the ground. Another wing fell away and the plane hurtled down.

Amarillo Schools, City Given Slash

AMARILLO, Jan. 7 (AP)—City commissioners and the Amarillo school board adopted stricter economy measures yesterday and announced salary cuts that will save the city $18,000 a year and the school district $6,000 a month.

The school board cut salaries 10 per cent, a saving of $30,000 for the rest of the school year. About $50,000 already had been cut from the year's budget.

The city commission placed all employes except firemen and police on a 26-day month, with salaries figured on a day basis. The cut was about 13 per cent. A 10 per cent cut was made July 1. Firemen and police work 30 days a month.

JENNINGS TO PEAK

D. T. Jennings, South Plains Area council executive, has accepted an invitation by the Rotary club at Brownfield to speak on scouting at its luncheon Friday. The club sponsors Boy Scout troop No. 45 at Brownfield. The other troop there, No. 19 is sponsored by the Lions club.

PERMIT ISSUED

The first building permit of the year here was issued to Harold Jones of Lubbock at the city building inspector's office this morning for construction of a concrete and tile laundry building, with corrugated iron roof, at a cost of $500 at 1616 Avenue F.

The Jones laundry was damaged considerably by fire the night of December 27, 1930, flames breaking out there only a few moments after fire apparatur was called to a minor blaze at another local laundry.

Thought For Today

Deliver me from blood guiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation: and my tongue shall sing aloud of they righteousness.—Psalm 51:14.

GUILTS a terrible thing.—Ben Johnson.

Pepping Up Record

Congressman John J. Boylan of New York believes that the Congressional Record is too dull and fails to present a fair and complete picture of the doings of the national legislature. So, in a resolution introduced the other day, he asks Congress to decide if pictures, cartoons and the like couldn't be printed in the government's august magazine.

That the Record is dull is perfectly true. But there is a much quicker and easier way of reducing some of the dullness, and that is to do away with the extension-of-remarks business which now clutters it up. Any congressman can have a long, windy and excessively uninteresting speech inserted in the Record without ever going to the trouble of delivering it. He can even insert such parenthetical comments as (laughter) and (applause) wherever he chooses.

If the Record could be confined to things actually said on the floors of the two houses it would be vastly improved. Let Mr. Boylan give it a thought before a photo-engraving outfit is got ready.

Jailbird Settlers

THE Board of Education at Savannah, Ga., has filed a protest with the publisher of a current school history, protesting against the book's statement that Georgia's original settlers were largely convicts and criminals.

This, very likely, will awaken the pundits and we shall have another learned discussion of what did and did not happen in colonial days. For the innocent bystander, however, the thing is interesting chiefly as a revelation of the universal human desire to present one's ancestors in the best light possible.

As a matter of fact, very few colonial Americans, in any part of the country, came from the upper classes in the old country. The lower classes furnished the bulk of the immigrants. It was the man who had nothing to lose at home who was most ready to try his luck in a new land. If Georgia received a number of jail birds, what of that? They became excellent citizens after they had landed. Isn't that enough?

In Politics

Mrs. Gifford Pinchot's announcement that she will run for Congress next year against Representative Louis T. McFadden insures Pennsylvania of at least one contest that will be packed with interest.

By any standard, the wife of Pennsylvania's governor is one of the most interesting women in the country. Furthermore, she is a good campaigner—she ran against McFadden three years ago and came within 2000 votes of retiring him to private life. The race will be well worth watching.

It is quite possible that the majority of her fellow citizens through-out the country will be pulling for her, too. Representative McFadden's utterly absurd attack on President Hoover in Congress recently was hardly the sort of thing to promote a widespread desire for his—McFadden's—re-election.

A Santa Problem

IT IS easy to see why the Postoffice Department would like to change the name of the town of Santa Claus, Ind. The town has a population of less than a hundred, but its unusual name causes it to get a bulk of Christmas mail greater than some cities many times its size ever see. Handling this extra mail every year is a nuisance and an expense; a methodical postmaster general can hardly be blamed for wanting a change.

But it develops that the people of Santa Claus are almost unanimously opposed to any change; and that, it seems to us, ought to be that. After all, the people of a town have a right to call their town by any name that seems good to them. If the people of Santa Claus like the name they ought to be allowed to keep it.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says she told her boss she needed some new typewriter supplies and he said he wouldn't buy any candy, gum, lipstick or vanity cases until the depression is over.

* * *

"Say, mister", asked a little boy as the new neighbor walked up. "Are you the man who gave my brother a dog last week?"

"Yes, I am", the new neighbor replied.

"Well", returned the kid, "you're in bad with Ma. She says she wishes you'd come over and take all of them back!"

A COUPLE of years ago, when the present Texas marriage law went into effect, The Plainsman commented as follows:

"Basically, the law is good. It will be a boon to the state in the portions of Texas far removed from neighboring states where there are no such laws.

But counties bordering or near to Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana will lose a lot of revenue. Too many seekers after matrimony will run across the line, get the license and the knot tied and save the difference in time and money as prescribed in the Texas laws."

Time has borne that statement out. Texas is losing thousands and thousands of dollars annually because of our neighboring states do not have marriage laws demanding a time limit between issuance of licenses and the performing of the ceremony; a physical examination on the part of the male contracting party and the fee thus made essential for the examining physician.

ANYONE who reads a neighboring New Mexico paper soon notices that three-fourths of the marriage licenses published are issued to West Texans. This is true in Las Cruces, near El Paso; in Carlsbad, Roswell and in other nearby New Mexico cities.

But from the angle of Lubbock and the South Plains, the most popular Gretna Green is Clovis, where they are doing a jolly marriage business at the expense of West Texas counties.

The News-Journal, of Clovis, recently accentuated prevailing conditions with a front page story under an eight column line, reading: "Texas Couples Rate As One Source Of Increase For Clovis".

The article pointed out that during 1931 approximately 1,200 Texas couples treked to Clovis to get 'hitched'. Each bought a license ,they paid a preacher or an official for the ceremony, they bought oil, gas and food—and all in all The News-Journal figured that they spent $10 per couple on an average.

THERE'S $12,000 going up the chimney. There's "twelve grand," to use the prevailing Broadway expression, that's drifting out of West Texas and into Eastern New Mexico—being driven out, to be exact.

The Plainsman isn't claiming that the Texas laws should be weakened or repealed.

As a matter of fact, he thinks they should be strengthened—and that New Mexico and every other state in the union should pass a uniform law so all marriage statutes would be the same.

But facts are facts—en especially in this case they should prove interesting to the reader.

Delving even further into the Clovis nuptial statistics, there were 1,359 marriage licenses issued there during 1931 and 1,200 of them were issued to Texas parties.

Only 159 New Mexico couples walked trembling before the county clerk for the slip of paper which one must have before swearing to "love, humor and dismay".

That shows graphically what the Texas marriage laws are doing for New Mexico—and what they aren't doing—in a financial way—for parts of the state of Texas.

That Man on Avenue Q says the fellow who thought up the word 'alter' must have been an Englishman who dropped his "h's".

Two youngsters were arguing about the respective earning capacities of their fathers. At the conclusion, one of them said:

"You can brag all you want to, but I know my daddy takes in the most money. I heard him tell mother last night that there would soon be a receiver appointed for him!"

TEXAS has seen many warm political races in the past but the way things are looking now it has never seen a campaign year which has sprouted as many candidates, from constable to President, as 1932 threatens to grow.

Just what the reason is, is hard to say but the fact that there will be more candidates means that there will be a wider choice. That's something in this day of crying reform needs.

Yet, Hoover has appointed a woman to the Geneva conference on cutting arms. And that, somehow, is disarming.

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

Proposed Federal Relief Bond Issue Both Assailed As "Magic" And Defended As Outstanding Hope Of Nation

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two timely articles on the proposed unemployment bond issues as seen by Rodney Dutcher, Washington correspondent for NEA and The Journal. Bond issues for the relief of the depression are now holding the spotlight in Congress.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — Although proponents of a "prosperity bond issue" of billions of dollars for public works insist that it would do more toward breaking the depression than anything else that might be tried, its conservative opponents contend that the effects would be sufficiently depressive and dangerous to offset the general gain.

Dutcher

One school of thought stresses the probable benefits and minimizes the possible evils. The other pooh-poohs the rosy claims and emphasizes the likelihood of harm.

Beset by many demands in and out of Congress for a bond issue of from two to five and a half billions, the administration, through the public works section of the President's Organization on Unemployment Relief (Gifford committee), recently made the strong opposition articulate in a summation of the points raised against the plan. It is declared that no "magic" measure can solve the unemployment problem, that ending the depression is a matter of economic readjustment, that the basis of commodity prices is international and changes only through interchange of trade between nations.

Interest on the unemployment bonds would be fixed by the secretary of the treasury which, in the LaFollette $5,500,000,000 measure for instance, would be limited to 4 1-4 per cent. It is asserted that the interest, amortization charges and other expenses might impose a new billion-dollar-a-year burden. The Gifford committee reached that estimate by including new obligations such as repairs on and upkeep of buildings, roads and other new public works proposed.

High interest rates on the bonds would even further depress government securities now outstanding at a lower rate, it is contended, and the new losses might result in additional bank failures. The last long term federal bond issue, at 3 per cent, has been selling lately down around 86 and 4 1-4 Liberty loan bonds have been barely above par.

Opponents of the bond issue also profess to shudder at what five billions in new bonds would do corporation and municipal issues. They are sure that the market for them would be seriously impaired.

Admitting that the building trades, the industries which supply them and the railroads would benefit, the Gifford committee says the bond issue plan would do nothing for agriculture, the automobile industry or most branches of manufacturing and mining. Without meeting specifically the contention that half of five billion dollars, if devoted to wages, would employ 2,000,000 persons for a year at $25 a week—and another million or more indirectly—it condemns the idea that labor can be shifted "from its normal work to emergency construction."

Warnings against "departure from sound, established principles" are used against the bond issue as they are for direct federal relief appropriations. Localities, it is contended, should assume their own public works obligations without loan or other aid from Uncle Sam.

All this LaFollette and others brand as advice to resign ourselves to a "policy of inaction and despair." The best advice from economists, according to LaFollette, is that the markets of the country must find a large volume of new purchasing power to overcome present business inertia and that initiation of a large public works program is the one major constructive force which can be brought into operation within a short time.

Answering the assertion that the nation's financial structure would be weakened, LaFollette says:

"They overlook the desirability of putting to work some $28,000,000,000 now in savings banks deposits and the billion or more withdrawn and being hoarded. The bonds would be sold largely to individual investors. The stimulus given commodity prices would strengthen the prices of all securities, including those held by banks."

The government will incur a deficit of one or two billions a year, as long as the depression lasts, others argue, and federal finances would be injured less by one five-billion-dollar bond issue to help business than by a series of deficits if the depression is permitted to continue. Admitting that the issue would cause a form of inflation, they say some orderly inflation is necessary if producers are again to have profitable commodity prices such as are essential to economic revival.

One predicts that the debate on this bond issue has only begun.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1438 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Normal Diet," "List of Books," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Nervousness and Constipation for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

NECESSITY OF VITAMINS

Vitamin D is necessary for children and particularly so during the winter months. The vitamins are the substances in foods which though small in amount, have a powerful influence on the body's health. Of all the vitamins, the one labelled D is the least likely to be present in familiar food, and will need to be added artificially. The usual way to add it to the diet is to add cod liver oil, which contains large amounts. It prevents the development of rickets.

Dr. Clendening

Cod liver oil also contains another vitamin—the one called A. Vitamin A, according to investigations, is valuable in building resistance to infections and colds. It is necessary for grown-ups as well as children.

Some authorities have ventured to call Vitamin A the anti-infective vitamin. There seems to be general agreement that when it is absent from the diet, increased susceptibility to infection is an early symptom. One of the effects of experimental omission of Vitamin A from the diet is a desquamation of the membrane of the upper respiratory tract. Perhaps it is this condition which favors the development of colds.

Vitamin A is found in milk and eggs. It is not destroyed by the heat of cooking. Under some circumstances the diet may become low in Vitamin A, perhaps due to the food of the animals from which its sources are derived. At any rate, it can always be obtained from cod liver oil. If you want to offer yourself as an experimental animal this winter, see if taking cod liver oil will lower the number of your colds.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. W. E. N. "I have practically all aluminum cooking utensils and we have not felt any bad effects thus far. Some recent reports have caused me to fear the effects of aluminum. Can you give me any facts on the subject?"

Answer: The aluminum cooking utensil scare is one of the most absurd and fanatical ideas that was ever advanced. There is not one bit of evidence that food cooked in aluminum is harmful or causes any diseases. The correspondent asks for facts. The most important fact is that thousands of people have eaten food cooked in aluminum utensils for many years without experiencing any derangement of health. The aluminum fanatics say it is a cause of cancer. Yet the facts are that cancer occurs among people who have never seen or heard of, let alone used, aluminum, and that there is no high percentage of cancer among those who employ aluminum cooking utensils. Aluminum was not used for the manufacture of cooking utensils until 1892. There was plenty of cancer before that. In 1893 the Hygienic-Chemical Laboratories of the Freidrich-Wilhelm Institute of Berlin made some experiments in which they watched the health of two men for a year and a half, the food of these men was prepared exclusively in aluminum utensils; the men remained well and gained weight.

A. R.: "How long after a blow on the breast would a cancer be likely to start to grow? If, after a year, no certain symptoms are noticeable, could one assume there is no growth?"

Answer: Yes.

North Carolina is planning a 10-year plan to draw business. Also which it is safe to predict a new and fiercer wave of Carolina riddles.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The other night, a strange and almost spectral parade threaded its way through the jammed angles of the Broadway district.

Old-timers, headed for theaters, brushed suggestions of mist from their eyes. Some seemed to look about, a bit perplexed as though uncertain of their place and time. A romantic reminder of a lost decade was approaching. At least a dozen old-fashioned horse-drawn hansoms were suddenly reappearing in the white light belt. Not in years had such a display been seen. Could it be that changing times would bring back some of the city's more picturesque touches?

The short parade passed. Thousands of eyes followed it. Then the mystery was solved. The back of each cab bore a banner: "Go to Minsky's Burlesque tonight!"

This, is would seem, was indeed the end. Even stiff-hatted cabbies had joined the ranks of the sandwich men.

However, I did hear of one enterprising jehu, whose stand has been near the entrance to Central Park. For a few old vehicles still manage to haunt the side door of the Plaza Hotel.

It seems that in a certain Broadway scene, an old-fashioned cab was driven on the stage.

Three nights later, just such a cab appeared in the street outside the theater at the close of the play. The driver figured that certain old-sters, sentimentally reminded of the manner in which they once drove to their homes, might want to recall the experience.

And he did very well.

Two paragraphs on the society page of a New York daily suggest ideas for those who would collect ironic short, short-short stories. The first reads: "The drawing for the $150 shoes was won by an elderly lady out in Short Hills who broke her back the day previous."

The second is even shorter. . . . The dance will be held for the benefit of the Prosperity Shop. . . .

Garcon, please fetch the worm-wood!

Many of the elaborate "benefits" now being staged for the needy must leave a slightly acid taste in some mouths.

Just the other evening, one of the largest and swankiest was staged at the new Waldorf. The gems worn by two dowagers alone would possibly have fed an entire breadline for many a week.

Scores of the gowns had been made to outshine any other to be seen this season. A few visiting movie stars, wishing to catch the eyes of the fashionable throng, seemed to carry fortunes on their backs. Thousands had been spent on several of the garbs.

As in the case of all such charity events, the cost of spending an evening could be nominal. A certain percentage, plus some raffles and donations, went to the poor.

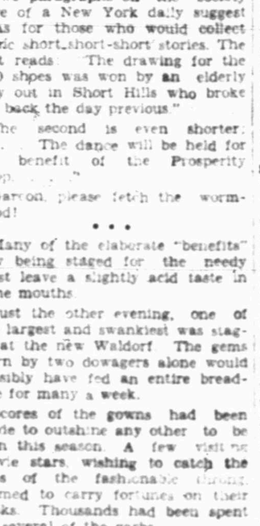

And I could not help but wonder about a handsome fund that might be raise if, on such an occasion, the matrons wore gowns they already had hanging in their ample wardrobes and donated the price of the new creations to a fund.

It's evident the nation has decided to gird against the depression. Knowing, of course, that a good girdle supply support.

And railroad chiefs have suggested a neat pay cut. And if it goes through, it will be plain that the Christmas tree wasn't the only thing that got trimmed.

Wage cuts are the rage. In fact wage cuts are the rage wherever there are wage cuts.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

LUBBOCK MAN SUGGESTS JOBS, NOT CHARITY

Dear Plainsman: If Lubbock is giving charity to any able-bodied man, it is cheating both the man and itself. Why? For the answer, read "A City Where Every Man Has a Job", in the January American. I don't know whether there has been any need for applying the lesson in the cotton-picking times, but later on this winter, if not now, men will probably be clamoring for jobs or help.

For my part, I will pay three dollars in taxes or otherwise to give men work for one dollar that I will part with for charity to the able-bodied. I have no patience, however, with hand-labor methods where machinery is available and more efficient for the type of work required. If the city engineer and others cannot suggest enough tasks to keep unemployed citizens busy on this efficient basis, I suggest that a man be hired solely to scout around for jobs worth doing. This would be far more efficient than having a lot of men putter around uselessly.

City authorities have a certain amount of tax-money available for charity purposes. Any excess over the amount necessary to support the helpless can be used to give work rather than plain beggars' doles to the needy. In any case, it should be an iron-clad rule never to give help to the able-bodied except for services rendered. When people see this rule applied, more money may become available—not necessarily just tax-money. Lubbock will be favorably advertised, and bona fide citizens will have a chance to give value received for their support.

A Well-Wisher For Lubbock.

Experts say we must either adjust or revise our war debts. Probably meaning we've got to fix it up some way so we know we aren't going to get our money.

Building trades heads say the only solution to the depression is adjusting wage scales. Which, after all, may be the right weigh.

Chicago gangsters are offering inducements in the scramble for Al Capone's liquor business. In order to sell their stuff they'd probably agree to take their customers for a ride.

India is going on with its civil disobedience campaign just where Gandhi left off. Just where, and what, did Gandhi leave off?

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

WESTERNERS MEET DICKENS TONIGHT

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Entries are coming in almost daily now for the first annual Lubbock High school basketball tournament. The joust is open to all West Texas schools, big and little, and costs nothing to enter. Just fill one of the entry blanks that appear from time to time in these publications or write Coach Swede McMurry or Superintendent M. H. Duncan at the high school or this department. It promises to be a good tournament, and it may be so large that two groups of teams may be arranged with the teams from smaller schools battling it out in one division and the larger schools in the other, winners to meet for the title. That is mere speculation on our part, but it's a good idea, anyway.

The last of the all-state high school football selections is in, from all indications, and we're glad the season for picking all-honor teams is over. We are nursing a headache as a result of the post-war activities along the grid-iron front. Jinx Henry Tucker, well known scribe for the Waco News-Tribune, selects a combination which beats the official team somewhat but could be improved upon. Jinx says Stanley Smith of Abilene is without doubt the best lineman in the state for 1931. Jinx saw Smith play one game. We saw him play one game, too, but he was far from being the best on the field that day, the chief reason being Bob Crawford. Smith may have looked good everywhere else but he was outdone here, with all apologies to Prexy Anderson.

Tucker's selection follows: Prather of Greenville and Steen of Forest, ends; Helf of Austin and Groseclose of Abilene, tackles; J. Wilcox of Tyler and Viveretie of Beaumont, guards; Smith of Abilene, center; Wilson of Corsicana, quarterback; Burt of Hillsboro and Dennis of Big Spring, halfbacks and Merrill of Lubbock, fullback.

Only four of Jinx' selections made the official all-state team as picked by 39 sports writers. They were Groseclose, Smith, Viverette and Wilson, so we have the satisfaction of being 100 per cent better than Tucker. Eight of our picks landed on the mythical team.

Maximilian Adolf Otto Siegfried Schmeling, the world's heavyweight boxing champion, is in America again to make a stand in defense of his title. There will be the usual rowdy stuff and hullabaloney for several weeks while guarantees, the N. B. A.'s cut, prices of admission, etc., allow for a peaceful season of training and ballyhoo. Maxie probably will meet Mickey Walker sometime next month at Miami, Chicago, New York or Timbuctoo. Then again he may not. Personally, we believe the contract has been signed and tucked away in Madison Square Garden's private vault, judging from the bond which Schmeling's backers posted the other day.

After Walker, Schmeling wants Dempsey, and Dempsey says he wants Schmeling, in a title bout. In our humble and thankless opinion, we believe Dempsey should take on some of the lesser lights of the heavyweight flare and prove his ability to come back before making a stab at the title. We believe there are others who should be given a shot at the title before Dempsey. If old Jack can whip a flock of them, then let him meet Max. The konductor of this kolum doesn't believe Dempsey can whip Schmeling now or later, with all respect to the Manassa Man, whatever that means.

A letter comes from W. L. "Crip" Goltghtly, former scout and basketball coach at Texas Tech who resigned last spring. Crip is in New York, attending Columbia university and working on his master of arts degree, at the same time assisting in the physical education department at the university. He starts off with "you should have been here New Year's Eve to see the new year whir into Times Square. There were a million people down on the streets and everybody so happy I thought the depression was all over. But I got up next morning and found it still with us. However, things do look better and from the papers' view, it will get better all along.

"I am working on my M. A." Crip continues, "at Columbia and also handling some of their physical education work. I am not making a million but if things break right I think I made a good change . . .

"How is Lubbock? Regardless of how it is, it is better than this place. It's nice here so far as seeing things is concerned. It is not so bad when you are working, but you know, you can't work all the time.

"The nicest thing about it is that you get to see the best of everything. I saw more good football games this fall than I ever hope to see again: Notre Dame vs. Army; N. Y. U. vs. Georgia; N. Y. U. vs. Fordham; Harvard vs. Texas; Navy vs. Army and a bunch of less important games. . . ."

TWO DEALS OF IMPORTANCE COMPLETED

ART SHIRES BECOMES FIRST BASEMAN IN WEAK TRIBE CLUB

BY BILL KING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The off-season has been the dullest in years for the Boston Braves and new faces will be few when Manager Bill McKechnie starts 1932 operations in St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Tribe was, and still is, overburdened with trading material but it's chieftains were only able to make two important deals to bolster the weakest outfit in the National league.

Shires Reinstated

The outstanding trade reinstated Art Shires as a big leaguer and "the great one," who had quite a year with Milwaukee, is bent on becoming the best first baseman in the senior circuit. Bill Knothe, who labored in Seattle during 1931, will try to plug the wide gap at third base.

The passing of Freddy Maguire, to Louisville, will force McKechnie to move the colorful Rabbit Maranville over to second base and give Bill Urbanski the aging midget's old shortstop berth.

Most of the Braves' hitting last season was supplied by the outfield, Wally Berger, Wes Schulmerich and Bob Worthington, and this trio has not been tampered with. Randy Moore and Early Clark again will serve as utility fielders.

Nothing much has been done to strengthen the pitching staff which collapsed late last season, and Ed Brandt, Tom Zachary and Harry Seibold, who were credited with 39 of the Tribe's 64 victories, will carry the hurling burdens.

McKechnie has plenty of other pitchers and it is likely he will attempt to trade some of them.

VINES URGED NOT TO QUIT SCHOOL

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines' announcement that Davis Cup tennis and university studies didn't mix and that he was dropping the studies brought quick action from the United States Lawn Tennis association urging him to reconsider.

Vines, national champion, announced his intention in Los Angeles of quitting the University of Southern California in favor of tournament tennis in Hawaii to prepare himself for a berth on America's Davis Cup squad.

Holcombe Ward, chairman of the U. S. L. T. A.'s Davis Cup committee sent Vines a telegram urging him to stay in school.

"The committee considers your educational obligation paramount in that you should not permit tennis play to interfere in any way with continuation of your studies," Ward wired him.

He pointed out that no players would be required for Davis Cup play before May 15, "by which date your scholastic work should be near completion."

The Vines' incident recalls the situation in 1928 when the Davis cup committee took an entirely different view and called several school and university players to a training camp at Augusta, Ga., in March. Their action brought swift denunciation from Dr. Sumner Hardy, then president of the California Tennis association.

Minor League Plan Is Found Popular

CHICAGO, Jan. 7 (AP)—Loyola's undefeated basketball team will have to do some dust hustling around the hoops in the next week to keep in the unbeaten class.

The Ramblers, victorious in nine straight games this season, will leave tomorrow for four games in five days without much help expected from their ailing center and star, Joe "Moose" Wagner. Wagner, who weighs 200 pounds and stands six feet three, is incapacitated with an infected finger.

Loyola's schedule calls for games against the Western State Teachers at Kalamazoo, Mich., Friday night; John Carroll university at Cleveland, Saturday; City College of Detroit at Detroit, Monday and Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti, Mich., Tuesday.

BOWLS A RECORD

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 7 (AP)—Few men can equal Charles Ray's record of bowling two perfect games. Ray rolled his 300 scores on successive nights. Tuesday night he scored 300 in an informal game. Last night he duplicated it in a city league contest.

Coaches Report Football Sound

CLAIM GAME TAKES UP LESS TIME THAN OTHER SPORTS

Because of nationwide interest in the game as an intercollegiate sport, because considerable funds are required to keep the game going and because, at the same time, the game is not popular at certain institutions because of careless supervision, football has been "wronged," in the estimation of coaches attending the national convention at New York last week, in that it has been accused of taking up too much time from other school activities.

According to Coach P. W. Cawthon, head coach at Texas Tech, who attended the American Coaches association convention, "all this business about football 'returning to sanity' after a period of overwhelming over-emphasis, is all the bunk. Never has been insane, and is in sound shape now. Most of that over-emphasis stuff originates in and around schools and towns where the fans won't see football. Jealousy, then, causes a lot of comment.

"For instance," cited Coach Cawthon, "it was brought out that Kobault Kollege on one side of the river was struggling along with a poor, mismanaged, miscoached football team that drew four of the natives to its local games, while on the other side old Sibosh university had a live wire president, coach and managerial system which took its football seriously and proved a mecca for prep school and high school students to continue work. At the same time, it was pointed out, old Kobault failed to show any signs of life in any other department of education, its extra-curricular activities were curtailed by a non-interested faculty and athletics was not the only department to suffer. Even classes were duller and less popular than at Sibosh.

"Then when the season came along there would be a few souls at Kobault who saw they were being left behind; they raised a howl. 'They're playing too much football and taking up too much time with athletics over at Sibosh,' they said. 'We've gotta put a stop to it.' Thus was the argument started.

"Now, Lou Little, coach at Columbia," continued Cawthon, "presented a report, full and complete, on which he and others had been working for a whole year, and what I mean, that report brought down the hall. For one thing, it proved that football ranks sixth in proportion to other extra-curricular activities which are supported by colleges and universities. Here's how they run." And Cawthon displayed a chart of his own observations taken from the Little report, which, in turn, was taken from replies to questionnaires sent out to nearly 500 representative schools.

The following table denotes the number of hours devoted to practice and lectures, the type of activities being listed in order.

Place	Activity	Avg No. Hrs.
1	Student publication	241
2	Crew	186
3	Dramatics	132
4	Lacrosse	123
5	Debating	111
6	Football	109
7	Basketball	104
8	Track	103
9	Water polo	102
10	Gymnastics	102
11	Baseball	101
12	Swimming	100
13	University band	97
14	Glee club	90

Four other activities, golf, wrestling, boxing and hockey, are listed below 90. In rating the activities so far as time devoted to each out of season, the committee found football ranked fourteenth. Football ranks sixth according to average number of hours devoted to each activity if 100 hours are devoted to football, with student publications, dramatics, crew and debating heading football. Football ranks seventeenth in the list according to time spent out of season, with an average of 4.25 weeks. Student publications heads the list with an average of 14.17 weeks, and dramatics and debating hold prominent places.

In the number of weeks devoted to various activities throughout the year, football rates sixteenth with an average of 12.9 weeks. Student publications is first with 33.7 weeks and is followed closely by band, glee club, dramatics and debating. Football ranks fifth in the table showing length of daily practice during season, with an average of 1.78 hours. Golf, dramatics, baseball and lacrosse are the top four, in order.

It was shown that gymnastics, crew, glee club and university band lead, in order, in the table showing the number of men who report at the beginning of the respective seasons. Football is fifth with an average of 56 men.

A table showing the average number of class days missed during respective seasons placed football eighth in line, a good argument for skeptics who claim that football prevents students from appearing at classes with regularity. Student publications, glee club, debating, crew, basketball, baseball and the university band have been found to take students away from classes more than does football, the range in averages being from 8.68 days for student publications to 4.82 days for football. Further investigations probably would have shown that more football players carried books and studied more while on trips than did students in any other department or activity.

LOCAL GYM TO BE SCENE OF CAGE GAME

LUBBOCK WILL ENTER TEAMS IN FLOYDADA, SUDAN TOURNEYS

Coach Swede McMurry's Lubbock High school Westerner cagers will meet the Dickens High school basketers this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Lubbock gymnasium.

Dickens, fairly consistent every season so far as basketball material of merit is concerned, is reported as having a good team this season. At any rate, the Dickens outfit is coming through Lubbock en route to Sudan and the Sudan tournament with the ambitions of winning first prize. Lubbock also will be in the Sudan tournament and it comes to reason that Dickens intends to dispose of the Lubbock entry.

Nominal fees will be charged at the door tonight and patrons are advised to park on 18th street or in the vicinity of the rear doors of the gymnasium. Only these doors will be opened.

The Westerners have been working early and late this week by way of preparation for the game tonight and for the tournament, which they enter tomorrow. The Flodyada tournament, likewise opening a two-day play tomorrow, will be entered by a Lubbock High school team, Coach McMurry choosing to divide his squad and send a team to each place. Last year the Westerners took second place at the Floydada tournament.

A large number of teams have signified their intentions of entering the tournaments at Sudan and Floydada, reports from both places indicate. tLikewise, a large number of teams over West Texas are planning to come to Lubbock January 22 and 23 for the first annual Lubbock High tournament. All teams in schools over West Texas are eligible to compete in the Lubbock tournament, an open affair with no entrance fees attached.

The Westerners will play tonight for the last time in Lubbock in perhaps two weeks. Next Friday they play in Canyon, meeting the high school Eagles of that city, and journey on to Pampa for a game Saturday night with the Harvesters.

Ruth To Demand $80,000 Salary

SLUGGER HAS NO IDEA OF QUITTING WHILE HE CAN HOLD OWN

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Babe Ruth not only thinks he still is worth $80,000 a year to the Yankees but he has no idea of quitting the game so long as he can hold his own with "these young fellas."

"I might like to be a manager of a big club some day although I haven't given that much thought," said Ruth. "I want to round out at least 20 years playing as a regular and as many more as I can go. The only thing I don't want to do is hang around so long they have to show me the bench or the gate and tell me I'm just an old man. But the way I feel now I'm good for at least five more years."

To Show Reasons

In better condition today than he ever has been and with the figures of his trainer, Artie McGovern, to prove it, Ruth is ready to show his employer a number of good reasons why he should be kept on the payroll without a cut.

"I haven't talked it over yet with Colonel Ruppert," Ruth told newspapermen after a brisk workout before the cameras, "and I don't expect any trouble when I do but I still think I'm worth that $80,000. I'd like to sign for that or a one or two-year basis."

Among other items of public interest, Ruth admits he recently shot a round of 73 at golf; that his waistline now is reduced to a mere 38 inches (a foot less than it measured in 1925); that he's a better movie actor than he thought he was; and that the 1932 American league pennant race "should be a breeze" for the Yankees.

TWO HUNDRED TO ENTER TOURNEY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7 (AP)—More than two hundred professional and amateur golfers, eager to participate in the seventh annual Los Angeles $7,500 open golf tournament opening Saturday, will seek to qualify over half a dozen courses today.

The low 15 players and ties after 36 holes will be chosen from each course to participate in the 72-hole championship, along with 30 exempt golfers who finished among the leaders of the national open last summer and this tournament a year ago.

The exempt on hand include Big Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., pro who won last year; MacDonald Smith of New York, twice a winner; Harry Cooper of Chicago, who won once; Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, both of New York, who arrived only yesterday from Honolulu, Walter Hagen of Detroit and Leo Diegel of Agua Caliente, Mex.

Nebraska sugar beet growers realized approximately $4,241,000 on their 1931 crop of 75,000 tons of beets.

AWARDS TO BE GIVEN TWO

CLAPP AND LOVELESS TO BE HONORED FOR SCOUT SERVICES

For outstanding service to boyhood within a Boy Scout council, K. N. Clapp of Lubbock and Dr. J. C. Loveless of Lamesa will be given the Silver Beaver award by the national council at an annual South Plains Area council dinner at the Hilton hotel here, January 25.

The recognition, created in the last year, is to a man serving in an area what the Silver Buffalo award is to one distinguished by national or international work, D. T. Jennings, South Plains area executive, said.

Clapp is a Boy Scout commissioner. Doctor Loveless is a past member of the executive board of the council and a past vice president of the council.

To Award Banner

The district having the greatest attendance at the annual meeting will be awarded an attendance banner, Executive Jennings said, on a basis of percentage. Lubbock will not compete.

The annual meeting originally was slated January 19, but was moved ahead to permit Stanley A. Harris, New York, national field executive of the scouts, to attend. He will speak at the all-council dinner in the evening.

The session will be opened at 3:30 and a short business meeting will be held. Group conferences will begin at 4:30, and the dinner with Dr. J. M. Gordon of Texas Technological college as toastmaster, will begin at 6 o'clock.

Annual election of officers will be held. Troop committees will bring as their guests scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and scouts who won the Eagle rank last year or who are entitled to the rank now.

Big Bill Remains King Of The Pros

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Big Bill Tilden, a champion for more years than he cares to count, remains the king of the professional racquet swingers despite the best efforts of Vincent Richards, a rival since the days when they both were amateur aces, to dislodge him.

Richards, who turned pro in 1926 just when he appeared to have Big Bill on the run, renewed the rivalry with Tilden last night as the climax of a two-day professional exhibition series at Madison Square Garden and, much as usual, went down in a three-set defeat, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1.

FLASHES OF LIFE FROM EVERYWHERE

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Saves His Life

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y.—Asa C. Hull's absent-mindedness saved his life. He closed the garage doors and started his automobile, thinking to end it all with monoxide fumes. But he had forgotton to replenish his gasoline supply and the motor stopped in time.

On Big Scale

HELSINGFORS—Small farmers of Finland, claiming financial distress, want to sign a a mass petition in bankruptcy as soon as their obligations reach the billion mark figure. Obligations of those who have signed it thus far total 300,000,000 Finnish marks—about $4,500,000.

Use Grapefruit

ORLANDO, Fla.—Bowling enthusiasts here found slightly green grapefruit made excellent bowling balls for lawn matches and have arranged to play a tournament with the fruit this week.

Unanimous Vote

SEA CLIFF, L. I.—A 100 per cent vote was recorded here yesterday when the adult population, consisting of 693 souls, approved Sunday movies by a 518 to 175 majority.

Cupboard Is Bare

RIVERHEAD, N. Y.—He and Mother Hubbard have something in common, complains Suffolk county's new sheriff, P. Warta. He says Sheriff Ellis C. Taylor, whom he succeeded, stripped the pantry when he left office and took all the jail stationery as well.

Warm, Anyway

NEW YORK—A few of the unemployed are hunting jobs dressed in expensive fur coats, thanks to the generosity of some wealthy folk who donated the coats to the emergency relief committee.

Nifty Dressers

MADRID—There's a boom in the haberdashery business here because President Alcala Zamora, like Mayor Jimmy Walker, is a nifty dresser. Government functionaries from the top down are on a clothes buying spree, following official example.

Defeat Death

AKLAVIK, Canada — Arctic huskies, heroes of the north, won another race against death when they mushed 80 miles in the teeth of a blizzard and brought Constable A. W. King, shot by a thieving trapper, to a hospital in time to save his life.

Just A Tradition

RODANTHE, N. C.—Old Christmas, or twelfth night, was celebrated here, as in Cuba, last night, with distribution of presents, special Christmas services, and an abundance of good eats. Tradition, say the villagers, when asked why they hold to the January 6th observance rather than that of December 25th.

Go One Better

EDEN, Germany — The people of Eden are going the vegeterian one better in abstemiousness. No alcohol, tobacco or meat for them, and even their dogs must be vegetarians.

Doctors Puzzled

PASADENA, Calif.—The case of Donald Douglas, 17-year-old "living automaton," has physicians puzzled. Struck by an automobile a fortnight ago he went into a period of coma from which his mind has not returned, although physically he is active.

Blow Is Fatal

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Fourteen ounce gloves are big as cushions and generally do little damage. Yet in a grudge fight at New Jersey reformatory James Dunn, using this weight leather, struck Dennis Duff so hard that the latter died within a few hours.

About 200,000 horses are used in this country for recreational purposes and the number of saddle horses is the largest in history.
