German Raiders Beaten Back; Few Bombs Reach London

Lightest Attack In Week Felt By Britishers

RAF Strikes More Severe Blows At Invasion Points

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 15 —(Sunday)— Four German air raids on London by the dark of night were beaten back last night and early today, three of them by British fighter planes alone and the fourth by a thundering anti-aircraft barrage.

Some bombs fell, whistling, but the clear signal came at 3:27 a.m., when the noise of plane motors died away after a two-hour and 11-minute alarm.

"Insomnia Flight"

The attack, by a few German planes shuttling over the capital, was the lightest in more than a week. Only odd bombs were dropped, and the raid appeared similar to the "insomnia" flights over London preceding the past week of all-night onslaughts.

The guns blazed away for 20 minutes before an alarm—the seventh since Saturday morning — was sounded.

Gunfire Moves North

Heavy barrages from the Thames estuary direction and from North London indicated the Germans attempted to break into the heart of London from two directions.

The gunfire along the Thames crept toward the north, apparently tracing the course of the raiders.

The successive night alarms, with "clear" intervals up to three hours, constituted a departure from the week-long German tactics of all-night raids and came as Britain's own bombers pounded heavily at German "invasion ports" on the coast of France.

Heavier Blows

The British Press association said these latest blows for Britain were heavier even than the fierce British attacks which ceased at dawn Saturday.

The British defense by fighter planes alone against the first three German raids was without precedent since the start Sept. 7 of the almost continuous German air offensive.

Child Is Critically Injured By Vehicle

Six-year-old Kenneth Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Baker of 714 Avenue N, was dangerously injured late Saturday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile in the 1500-block Eighth street.

He was taken to Lubbock Sanitarium, where a physician said he "was almost scalped." Two gaping lacerations, one above the left eye and another on the forehead, were sutured.

An authority at midnight said his condition remained critical.

George Turrentine, 15, of Hereford was driver of the light pickup police said. With him was his mother, who had accompanied him here to bring another of her sons to enroll in Texas Technological college.

The Turrentine machine was being driven west on Eighth street when the child ran into the street, witnesses told investigating officers.

At the sanitarium the young mother was almost hysterical while the father stoically watched three physicians close the head wounds. The child's face was badly bruised and an elbow was scratched. He had been knocked to the pavement.

The Bakers has a daughter, Colene, 8 years old.

Investigation was conducted by O. E. Rush and S. O. Boyd of the police department.

Britain Given Choice Of Surrendering London Or Having It Ruined In Raids

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Britain must hand over London to the armed forces of Germany or see it bombed like Warsaw, a well-informed spokesman told the foreign press today.

Hand over London and all will be well, he intimated.

This commentary from the German viewpoint was delivered just a week after Germany began the heavy raids on ondon which the spokesman called "a measure of retaliation for months of planless bombing of German civilians and non-military objects by the British."

"Flying Arrows Used

Again today, German accounts said, the air force pursued its destructive mission in London, dropping incendiary bombs on railway shops and tracks, among them the station and rails at the world time center of Greenwich, on the south bank of the Thames. Both the West and East India docks also were reported bombed.

The Germans said they used a so-called "flying arrow" bomber, similar to the Dornier "flying pencil" which smashed Warsaw and Rotterdam. They said 21 British planes were shot down.

Throughout the week, German sources claimed, four million tons of bombs have been dropped on London and two dozen docks razed by fire.

The essence of the commentary was this: "whatever may now befall London and its population, it isn't Germany's fault, but the fault of the British government."

Too Late Now

The spokesman's main contention was that London still may choose between the fate of Warsaw or Paris, but that it has no other choice; that unless it capitulates it will be bombed ceaselessly and relentlessly.

He charged that London is a military objective of the first magni-

Crash Fatal For Levelland Man

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LEVELLAND, Sept. 14 — R. P. Boehning, about 40, of Levelland was fatally injured in collision of his automobile and another early this morning on a country road near Levelland.

Boehning, operator of a water well in the Sundown oil field, died about 8:30 tonight in Phillips-Dupre hospital of a skull fracture, said an attending physician.

He also suffered three broken ribs and fractures of several bones in the face. Convulsions prompted his death after his condition continued to weaken throughout hte day, the physician said.

Visibility Bad

Sheriff Ed Hofacket said Boehning was driving his light 1936 model coupe west on one lateral road when it was in collision with another driven by Ben Thomas Phillips, also of Levelland. Phillips was going north.

The sheriff said heavy growth bordering the roads at the intersection cut off visibility for both drivers. F. E. Maulding, also of Levelland riding with the victim, was treated for minor injuries in the hospital.

The coupe turned over twice before stopping on its side 120 feet

Nomination Of Jesse Jones Is Confirmed

Previously Congress had approved legislation permitting Jones to take the cabinet post and retain his job as federal loan administrator.

Registration At Tech To Start

That impending conscription would have no serious effect on enrollment appeared certain when Registrar W. P. Clement's office closed at Texas Technological college Saturday after issuing 2,522 permits to register during the four-day pre-registration period.

A total of 1,756 students had paid fees, 2,272 had posed for identification photographs and approximately 1,800 had reported for physical examinations.

Number of permits issued is approximately 800 more than the total given during the four-day pre-registration period last year, but officials considered that merely an indication that students are taking advantage of opportunity to save time by reporting early rather than a sign of an increased enrollment. Last fall's total was 3,890.

Dormitories Open

Monday and Tuesday will be official registration days. Students who have completed pre-registration procedure will report to the library building to schedule classes during the hours indicated by numbers on their permits. Others will report to the registrar's office to begin the preliminary procedure, which includes approval of housing, payment of fees, having photographs made and obtaining permits to register and physical examinations.

The college dormitories opened Saturday and numerous students from other towns arrived. Many others are expected today.

Italian Legions Advance Into Egyptian Areas

British Officials Claim Situation Is Well In Hand

(By The Associated Press)

CAIRO, Sept. 14. — Italy's sand-whipped legions swept across the Egyptian frontier tonight, tanks and armored cars rolling into the ruined villages of Sollum and Musaid under heavy attacks by the British airforce.

British armored cars also harassed Italian Marshal Rudolfo Graziani's troops in what may be the initial thrust of a drive.

Ten-Mile Wedge

Although the Italians forced a wedge 10 miles deep, a British communique declared the "situation is well in hand."

How many troops the Italians were putting into their advance was not known but they were believed to be considerable numbers.

This apparent prelude to a desert blitzkrieg came with all Egypt momentarily expecting a big Fascist offensive.

British headquarters described the Italian move as an "advance" rather than an "attack," emphasizing that the British never had made any pretense of trying to hold Sollum, a port, or Musaid which, they said, were only much-bombed villages used chiefly as centers for British patrols harassing the Italians.

Of Little Import

The British, on the alert for the start of a real mechanized offensive against Egypt, the Sudan, or both, said the Italians were using airplanes, armored cars and trucks to transport their troops and were continuing their thrust beyond the two

Rumania Now Is Dictatorship

(By The Associated Press)

BUCHAREST, Sept. 15. (Sunday) Creation of a totalitarian Iron Guard state was announced today in a decree by General Ion Antonescu, Rumania's military dictator.

The decree, setting up a state patterned on Nazi lines, established the Iron Guard as the sole Rumanian political party.

Antonescu, at the same time, announced a new cabinet with himself as chief of state, premier and minister of national defense.

Horia Sima, "Fuerer" of the Iron Guard, became vice premier.

Other Officers Named

The leader of the Bucharest Iron Guard, Vasile Iasinsci, was named minister of labor, and Antonescu's nephew, Mihail Antonescu, was made minister of justice.

Antonescu's post as minister of national defense also includes portfolios for munitions, navy and war.

Princess Sturza, wife of the new foreign minister, was, with Codreanu's widow, one of the most active Iron Guardist women in Rumania. The prince himself passed through Budapest last night en route from exile in Germany. He once had been dismissed as Rumanian minister to Denmark.

The transformation occurred as Princess Helen sped home by train from a decade of exile past stations lined with Iron Guardist and peasants in costume.

With the Grecian princess, divorced wife of banished King Carol II, was her tall somber, 18-year-old son King Mihai, but the premier, at the last minute, had abandoned plans to welcome her and had remained here for a series of secret conferences.

Taxing Future Issues Of Securities Fought

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. (AP)—A lengthy dispute over the question of taxing future issues of governmental securities prevented Senate action today on the excess profits tax bill.

Senator Harrison (D-Miss), floor leader for the complicated revenue measure, tried in vain to curb Senate arguments. But finally agreed to let a vote on the bill go over until next week.

Senator Brown (D-Mich) offered the amendment to make all future issues of federal, state and local securities subject to taxes.

Harrison, in an effort to hasten a final vote, agreed to take this controversial proposal to conference with house members.

Measure Is Sent To White House For FDR's Signature

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—For the first time in United States history, a peace-time draft bill won final approval of Congress today and the president's signature, expected early next week, was the last remaining step necessary to start the machinery for raising a conscript army of 900,000 men.

The revised bill, requiring 16,500,000 men aged 21 to 35, inclusive, to register for possible service went through both houses by margins of almost two to one today, thus demonstrating how sharply Hitler's onslaughts abroad have reversed the traditional congressional aversion to peace-time conscription.

To Register Millions

The millions of America's young manhood will be registered by some local 700,000 election officials on a day to be set by the president, perhaps early in October. In mid-November the first batch of 75,000 draftees are due to be called to the colors. Under the war department's plans, subsequent calls would build up the army to 400,000 early in 1941 and to 900,000 by the spring of 1941.

The president, anticipating Congress' action, dispatched a request to Speaker Bankhead for an additional $1,733,886,976 for money to finance conscription, members of the House appropriations committee said. It includes money for pay, subsistence, housing, clothing, etc.

To Sped Drafting

Obviously prepared before Congress finished its job, this proposed appropriation would speed the conscription processes. Although registration may take place when the president has signed and fixed the registration date, the legislation requires that appropriations must precede the actual calling of men.

The final congressional actions, approval first by the Senate and then by the House of a compromise version of the legislation, came quickly at midday after brief debate. The Senate approved 47 to 25 and the House 232 to 124.

This compromise version included authority for the president to take over and operate on a rental basis plants from which the government could not obtain defense orders as expeditiously as desired. At his insistance of the Senate, the bill had been shorn of restrictions which, several senators complained, weakened this industrial section and made it unenforceable in the court.

The controversy in the Senate over the provision prevented Con-

FUNDS ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for $1,733,886,976 to help finance the conscription program and other defense measures.

Coupled with this request, on which congressional leaders promised to act quickly, was a recommendation that the government be permitted to enter contracts for $207,000,000 additional defense facilities.

Congressional approval of this request would bring the session's total appropriations and contract authorizations for the nation's armed services to a peacetime record of $12,566,889,788.

An Open Letter To Men 21 Through 35—

Cheer Up, Conscripts, New Rifles Don't Kick---Much

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Sept. 14.—An open letter to fellows between 21 and 35:

Say, if your big draft worry is fear of being kicked about by the army's new Garand (M-1) semi-automatic 30-caliber rifle, stop fretting.

With all this talk about the M-1 (some say it's the best combat gun ever made, and some say it's the worst) we decided today to fire a few rounds, and perhaps get a sore shoulder.

It was our first experience with any kind of a rifle, so Capt. Rothwell Brown, the army's M-1 expert instructor, lay down beside us on the 200-yard range.

Two hundred yards away was a silhouette target 25 inches wide and 14 inches high, encompassing the head and shoulders of a man prone.

"Hold the rifle tight against your shoulder, get the sights dead on the center of the target, and squeeze the trigger," Captain Brown ordered.

Never having fired one of the dog-gone things, we suspected the recoil to knock off our hat, slap our watch and untie our shoes, but when we squeezed the trigger the "kick"

FDR's Speeches Will Be Probed By Committee

Hearing Slated Next Friday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (U.P.) — Members of the Senate campaign committee today decided to study two speeches by President Roosevelt in the Tennessee Valley area before acting upon a Republican request to investigate the matter for possible violations of the Hatch "pure politics" act.

The request for an investigation, made by Joseph W. Martin, Jr., chairman of the Republican National committee, asserted that one speech at Chattanooga was obviously made to "influence the results in November."

"Therefore," Martin declared in a letter to the committee, "in my judgment it must be considered in part political, and the train costs and the radio time would of necessity be a campaign expenditure under the Hatch act."

Hearing Scheduled

Campaign Committee Chairman Guy M. Gillette, D., Iowa, said that the committee could not determine action upon the request until its members had had an opportunity to review the president's speeches made on this trip," furthermore, he declared:

"The president of the United States will and does make many trips. During a campaign, it is almost impossible to make a speech that does not have some political application and flavor, although the same trip and speech under other circumstances might not be open to the charge. It is manifestly difficult to draw the line between political purposes and official discussion of public matters."

The committee set aside a special meeting next Friday to hear Oren Root and James Orr Young, organizers of the Willkie clubs, explain the purposes and affiliations of their organization. Charges have been made that the clubs were formed to avoid limitations upon campaign expenditures established by the Hatch act.

Children Are Warned Not To Play In Ditch

Parents of children residing in the vicinity of Avenue X and Twenty-third street should take all precautions to keep them out of the ditch being dug near the high school practice field for the city's new storm sewer, R. D. Whittle, member of the contracting firm of Williams and Whittle, said Saturday.

"We have already had some difficulty with children playing around the ditch and equipment and some one is sure to be hurt if they are not kept away," Whittle warned. "Trucks driving into the evacuation site, working of drag line and other heavy equipment are a menace to small children and we urge parents to warn them to stay away."

The work will be going on in that area for several weeks.

Buckingham Palace Again Is Damaged; Time Bomb Fired

By W. T. YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 14—A time bomb exploded in front of Buckingham palace today and demolished a huge gatepost and a section of iron fencing.

The missile presumably was dropped yesterday when five other bombs fell on the palace and grounds.

The explosion occurred several hours before more than 60 reporters began an officially conducted inspection tour of the damage caused in yesterday's raid.

Scurry for Shelter

During the tour, London's second air raid alarm of the day sent the reporters scurrying for shelter in the palace basement.

There, while awaiting the all-clear signal, they heard Thomas Williams, palace superintendent, declare that the single dive-bomber plane which attacked the area "seemed to make a direct route for the palace."

Williams said four men were injured in the plumbing shop directly beneath the royal chapel in yesterday's bombing, instead of three as announced heretofore. One, he said, was "rather badly hurt."

Damage Being Repaired

A corps of 100 workmen was busy today repairing the damage wrought by yesterday's attack on the palace.

There was one direct hit on the royal chapel.

Two other bombs which fell in the inner quadrangle shattered about 200 windows, tore two craters in the courtyard and left a great crack.

Still another landed against the south wall of the four forming the quadrangle—an open courtyard in the center of the palace—and wrecked gas and water mains and destroyed some rich furnishings.

A crater 15 feet deep was left in the quadrangle and debris ripped through windows in all four of the grey stone walls.

Two bombs buried themselves in the spacious garden which borders the palace on three sides, tearing up the grass turf.

Two other bombs—one of them the time explosive which went off today—landed just outside the palace gates in a roadway.

A third bomb crashing down outside the grounds sent a shower of cement fragments and mud over the majestic statue of Queen Victoria which stands in St. James park.

A broken main sent up a fountain of water in the lower corridor of the palace used by ambassadors and debutantes when they are presented to the king.

A sodden carpet lay folded beside crimson, silk covered chairs there today.

The bomb that struck the royal chapel made a hole eight inches in diameter in the roof and exploded as it struck the red-carpeted chapel floor, which sagged crazily into the plumbing shop underneath.

"Twenty to thirty thousand pounds (between $80,000 and $120,000) should put everything shipshape," Williams said.

The altar and its emblems were buried in debris.

There were large cracks in the thick brick walls of the plumbing shop several feet below the ground level and it appeared they might topple.

The famed Gobelin tapestry on the chapel wall behind the altar, depicting the baptism of Christ by John the Baptist, escaped damage.

COMPANY REMODELS

BROWNFIELD—The J. B. Knight Hardware company is remodeling its store throughout. When finished it will be one of the most modern hardware business houses on the South Plains. Display counters and racks will make the showing of merchandise easier and more complete. The store is located on the west side of the square. Complete lines of hardware and farming implements are carried by this progressive concern.

Children Will Get Lunches

The hot lunch program for needy children in Lubbock schools will be operated again this year, starting about Oct. 1, according to announcement Saturday by Capt. H. G. Lambrecht, local commandant of the Salvation Army.

The announcement served to quiet rumors that the program might not be operated this year with the result that the daily enrollment in city schools would include several hundred under-fed children.

Capt Lambrecht said the project, as in previous years, will be sponsored jointly by the Salvation Army and the school system, with the cooperation of the National Youth Administration and the Federal Surplus Food Commodities corporation. The NYA will supply several girls to help in necessary work. Surplus commodities will play an important part in making possible the provision of a filling, nourishing meal each day for the children, officials said.

Thousands Were Served

The lunches will be prepared and served at the Salvation Army, 1112 Seventeenth street, under the direction of Capt. and Mrs. Lambrecht.

During the 1939-40 school term, Capt. Lambrecht related, more than 50,000 such lunches were served. In practically every instance, he said, the children who ate them otherwise would have had very little lunch and, in a great many cases, might have had none at all. In several hundred cases, he added, the lunch was the only genuinely satisfying meal that the child received during the entire day.

Dr. W. B. Irvin, city school superintendent, also credited the lunches with marked results in the classwork of the benefitting children. He said teachers advised him that children who had been given the meals immediately became more alert both mentally and physically.

They were, in many instances, a class of children who had appeared dull in their classwork because they were half-starved.

Alteration In Texas Speed Limit Sought

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (U.P.)—Texas 45 miles an hour legal speed limit has been outmoded by modern traffic conditions and its revision will be sponsored by 21 statewide organizations which met here yesterday on call of Texas Safety association, inc.

Other legislative objectives determined upon at the conference were: a standard drivers' license law; increase in the strength of the state highway patrol, a stricter law for punishing drunken drivers and compulsory reporting of accidents.

A legislative committee was announced with Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, chairman.

Administration Economists Urge Action To Prevent Industrial Bottlenecks

Business Gains Are Predicted

By IRVING PERLMETER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. — Administration economists, anticipating vast industrial and employment gains in the next year, urged immediate action today to prevent industrial bottlenecks which might touch off a spiral of rocketing prices.

The recommendations were made in a memorandum prepared for circulation among high officials, particularly those concerned with defense.

While the report has not been made public, it was learned that the economists set out these general conclusions and recommendations:

Expansion Necessary

Immediate expansion is necessary particularly in the number of railroad freight cars and production facilities for steel and machinery. Unless more are built, freight cars are expected to be 100,000 short of requirements by next fall. Steel production is slated to hit "practical capacity" by January, with shortages appearing already in some types of steel such as armor-plate. The machine tool industry needs 25 per cent more facilities.

Business is expected to produce employment such as the country has not seen since 1929. Depending on how fast the defense program gathers speed, industry is slated to take on between 2,500,000 and 3,700,000 more workers by next July. The conscription and national guard mobilization programs are due to take more than 1,000,000 additional men out of the labor market in this period.

Income Should Go Up

If prices remain unchanged, the national income, which totaled $71,-700,000,000 in the last fiscal year, should reach $78,000,000,000 in this fiscal year which ends next June 30. If prices go up, and some rise is believed inevitable, the figure may shoot considerably past $80,000,000,-000.

As for industrial bottlenecks and prices, the economists said that there was this possible prospect:

Once business men see such bottlenecks delaying or making difficult the delivery of ordered goods they will start laying in huge supplies of things they expect to need in the future and at the same time bid up the prices not only of these specific items but nearly all others as well.

Climb In Cost

If this happens, the cost of goods may be 15 per cent higher next June than it is now. A rise of 5 per cent is believed probable, in any case. Some slight price increases have occurred in the last month.

All these estimates were based on calculations of the effect of defense expenditures, foreign trade, and tax changes. Some alternate guesses also were made on what would happen if England surrendered.

A British capitulation, however, was not expected to alter the figures greatly. The experts calculated that to the extent that the United States lost business by surrender of Britain, our own defense program probably would be stepped up. Thus if Britain surrendered and failed to take several thousand airplanes she has ordered, the United States army and navy probably would buy the planes.

Expenses Boosted

The dominant factor in the business situation as these economists see it is the size of this government's defense expenditures.

The budget bureau has calculated that actual defense expenditures, in addition to normal costs of the armed services, will total $5.-000,000,000 in this fiscal year. The economists said that $4,000,000,000 was more probable because of the potential bottlenecks in industry which would retard the program.

If defense costs amount to $5,000.-000,000, total federal expenditures this year are expected to hit $12.-100,000,000. The statisticians figured that defense costs might soar to $10,000,000,000 and total government spending to $16,000,000,000 in the next fiscal year beginning July 1, 1941.

One of the few restraining influences they cited was the rise in taxes. To the extent that people pay taxes, the economists said, they can't spend money for other things. In this fiscal year alone, more than $700,000,000 was added to the federal tax bill. Another addition of at least $200,000,000 is slated in the proposed excess profits tax.

TO GREET WILLKIE—A real western welcome will be given Wendell L. Willkie Tuesday morning in Amarillo. Among the greeters will be, from the lef., Betty Bivins Childress, Peggy Pinkney Dee and Mary Kritser, who will present bouquets instead of banners to members of the Willkie party.

Air Expert Says Bombing Of London Has Not Reached Maximum; Defense Lacking

EDITOR'S NOTE: Alexander P. De Seversky is the famous plane designer, record-breaking pilot and manufacturer.

—By—
MAJ. ALEXANDER P. SEVERSKY
(Copyright 1940 By United Press)

The aerial bombing of London has by no means reached its maximum fury.

Marshal Hermann Goering and his general staff will undoubtedly apply the tactical lessons of these initial days of all-out aerial offensive to make the further phases more intensive and more devastating.

Belief Confirmed

Already they have confirmed the belief of aviation experts that defense against night bombings of a huge sprawling target is relatively ineffective; and their cost in machines—even at the 3 to 1 ratio claimed by Winston Churchill—is by no means prohibitive in view of Germany's wide numerical margin.

Under these circumstances it seems unreasonable to expect the withdrawal of the British government, at an early date, to a more defensible if not impregnable spot in the interior of England. Because such a transfer is in itself a complicated undertaking, calling for extensive technical equipment of the new state center, it is inconceivable that preparations are not already underway.

Made Imperative

The possibility of an invasion, in fact, makes the move imperative, as a glance at the map will show. The very geographical factors which made London a world metropolis make it an easier mark for an invading force.

Obviously it would be less demoralizing for a government to withdraw at leisure as a tactical procedure, rather than to risk panicky flight under enemy pressure. Ordinarily the price of such a move, in terms of prestige and popular morale, would be high. But the English masses are by this time sensing the strategic realities. They are themselves combatants, rather than civilian onlookers as in the past wars, and therefore more likely to appreciate tactical moves promoting their own safety. They will recognize that after the evacuation of the government London would become just another large city, in a class with Liverpool or Manchester.

Hits Negligible

The hits scored on Buckingham palace are of negligible importance compared with the damage admittedly done to water supply, gas, light and other public utilities. Disruption of electric power and telephone lines can cripple a government more surely than direct hits on its office buildings.

Because the world still thinks in the military language of the past, the transfer of the government would be erroneously headlined as "the fall" of London. It would not necessarily be anything of the kind. We need only recall the prolonged and tragic aerial bombardments of Barcelona and certain Chinese cities to realize how long London might hold out even under disastrous strafing.

Must Be Offense

A moral for America in the terrifying story of the rain of death on London is the old one—that the best defense is offense. The only satisfactory defense against night bombings such as are now in progress, for instance, is to strike at the enemy's weapon, its bombers, on its home grounds—to strike at its bases, fuel depots, aviation factories. The great battle of London should be fought—and in considerable measure is being fought—over Leipzig, Hamburg, Berlin.

The present air conflict, it seems to me, thus emphasizes the absurdity of clinging to a "purely defensive" preparedness. That might be a desirable ideal, but in the context of present day methods of war it is merely a type of wishful thinking carried over intact from a time when war was two dimensional and relatively primitive. How naive, in retrospect, are the statements of certain American public men, not so long ago, in which they argued for building and selling only "defensive weapons."

Federal Stamps In Circulation

Approximately $4,000 worth of federal food stamps have been put into circulation during the first 10 days of operation of the plan in Lubbock county, according to information given Saturday by Jack Bramlett, stamp plan organizer for the Federal Surplus Marketing association.

Of the stamps issued, he said, about half have been those of orange color, which are sold, and the remainder have been free blues. The blues, for which the merchant receives face value in money from the government just as he does the orange stamps, represent retail food business which did not exist before the plan was put into operation, Bramlett said. Previously, those who now use blue stamps obtained surplus commodities from the Federal Surplus Food Commodities corporation which operates a district warehouse in Lubbock.

Hundreds Are Aided

Bramlett said that approximately 300 families have availed themselves of the opportunity to use the stamps. There are approximately 1,500 to 1,800 such families in the county.

Experiences thus far have found city and county officials on the whole more than pleased with operation of the plan, of which the city and county are joint sponsors through the City-County Welfare association.

One incident recounted by Mayor Carl E. Slaton concerned an elderly man who has been trying to support a family of seven by peddling bananas. The man bought $4 worth of orange stamps and received $14 worth of blue stamps—$2 worth for each member of the family. With the orange stamps he was enabled to buy any kind of food in the stock of the stores he patronized. Included among surplus foods which could be bought Saturday with the blue stamps were butter, dried raisins, dried beans of all kinds, fresh beans and peas, fresh tomatoes, cabbage, eggs, corn meal, flour of any kind, lard pork meat and several others. The man had used very few of his orange stamps because, as he explained, there was very little the family wanted to buy that could not be obtained with the blues.

Variety Is Larger

Information to officials was Saturday that the variety of foods obtainable with blue stamps is larger than could be handled by the Surplus Food Commodities corporation for the reason that the district surplus foods warehouse is not as well equipped for refrigeration and preservation of foods—especially fresh and perishable foods, as are most of the retail establishments.

Bramlett announced Saturday that Wortham Seale had been transferred here from Eastland to become receiving clerk for the stamps. His headquarters will be on the third floor of the Myrick building.

W. H. McKelvey will continue as the issuing officer, with headquarters at 1209-a Avenue G.

Bramlett, with the organization work complete in Lubbock and Hale counties, was momentarily expecting notification of transfer to some one among the more than 100 other cities which are applicants for establishment of the plan.

NEW WELL NEEDED

BROWNFIELD, — A new water well is badly needed here, E. D. Jones, city superintendent, reports. Present city wells are taxed to capacity to meet the needs.

British Air Force Now Staging Raids On Points To Be Used In Event Of Invasion

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

For the past 48 hours British bombers have been concentrating their attacks against possible German preparations for an invasion. There have been no retaliatory raids over Berlin, despite the provocation of German air assaults on Buckingham palace, because the British high command is now giving major attention to the primary military objective of disrupting invasion plans.

Railways junctions, concentration points and channel ports along the German occupied coast have been heavily attacked. To what extent serious dislocation and damage have resulted is difficult to determine. Nevertheless, it may be significant that simultaneously with these assaults, dispatches from Berlin are beginning to say that any invasion must await further preparation by Germany.

Air Power Decisive

A Berlin informant told the United Press today that the Germans now are seeing how air power can be decisive in warfare. Once British air defenses and factory production of planes have been demolished, this informant added, then invasion becomes only a secondary technical affair. Judged by its face value, this statement seems to mean that invasion should await annihilation of the British air arm, which as yet is far from having taken place.

Still further delay of an invasion is suggested by General Paul Hasse, a German military critic. Writing yesterday in the Berlin Boersen Zeitung, a newspaper of high financial authority, he asserted that the German strategy consisted first of destroying the British air force, then cutting off British foreign trade—making total blockade effective—and after that, an invasion.

Cautious On Speculations

Hitherto, Berlin has been very cautious about invasion speculations. The present discussions are the first to find their way abroad. The German high command, of course, would not announce in advance that an invasion was immediately to occur, while it might inspire stories of delay to try to catch the British off guard. Yet, the caution of Berlin commentators cannot be dismissed lightly.

The British, however, are taking no chances, as their bombing concentrations against channel military objectives, railways leading to channel ports and troop assemblages indicate.

All preparations to defeat an invasion, including advance air activities, have been taken, and are now operative. It would seem that militarily the Germans must take serious notice of British advance action against an invasion, especially while the British air force still has high strking power.

The Berlin invasion comments may point to this fact. If so, to fix a date for an invasion to start would be foolhardy; and there is justification for Prime Minister Churchill's assertion that though an invasion may come, it may not come at all.

Defeat of the British air force is the primary consideration upon which an invasion should be based, strategically, not the bombing of limited London areas. Every speculation about German methods of trying to defeat the British, however, must allow for the unique temperatment of Herr Hitler. What chances he may take cannot be foreseen because there are times when he discards all military realism and trusts to his star, instead.

The Milky Way is formed by the combined light of many stars which are too far away to be seen individually.

Past Master Of Texas Grange Raps Demo Leader

Smith Called "Hooverite"

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (U.P.)— Ralph Moore of Granger, Tex., past master of the Texas Grange and supporter of J. E. McDonald, today made public a letter to John Lee Smith, chairman of the state Democratic convention, asserting that Smith had no right to criticize McDonald's attitude on the presidential race because Smith bolted the Democratic party and worked for the election of President Herbert Hoover.

Moore wrote:

"With reference to your 'demand' that J. E. McDonald, who had the nerve to stick his neck out for the farmers, regardless of politics, state his choice for president in the forthcoming election, a 'demand' which you voice as permanent chairman of the state Democratic convention, please permit me to express the frank opinion that in this you are inconsistent.

Among Bolters

"I am reliably informed that you were among the leading bolters from the Democratic party in 1928, and that you not only bolted the Democratic ticket and voted for Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee, but that you worked actively and publicly to bring about the defeat of Al Smith, the Democratic candidate, and the election of Herbert Hoover, the Republican candidate."

As substantiation of his statement Moore cited a publication of 1928 which he says carried a cartoon with Smith's name on it. This cartoon pictured the Democratic donkey as "night unto death" and reported to be ill from an overdose of "Raskob-Smith - General Motors donkey powder." Articles which he attributes to Smith also appeared in the publication.

"If I am in error in any respect regarding the authorship of the cartoons and articles I invite you to make affidavit denying the authorship," Moore said.

Odessa Schools Show Increase

ODESSA, Sept. 14.—(Special)—Odessa public schools through the first four days of this school year had enrolled a total of 3412 students, an increase of 442 over the enrollment at the end of the first five days of the last school year, announced Murry H. Fly, superintendent of schools, today.

Enrollment by schools this year is Senior High 675, Junior High 1215, North Elementary 706, South Elementary 533, Goldsmith 200, Negro 83.

Crowded conditions in the north and the south elemetary schools has necessitated running double schedules in those buildings until completion of the new east elementary building and the annex to the south elementary. The new quarters are expected to be available following the Thanksgiving holidays.

The Senior High school is offering for the first time this year a course in diversified occupations taught by Roscoe Morgan of Amarillo. Morgan reports splendid cooperation by the Odessa business and industrial firms in working the students as part of the course training.

Newly-Enlisted Army Privates Are Killed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. Sept. 14 (U.P.)—Two newly-enlisted army privates were killed today in a leap from a train near the Sacramento air repair depot where they were stationed.

The victims were identified as Irving C. Bair, 18, Alpine, Utah, and Ted H. Strong, 18, of American Fort, Utah.

Coroner Jack Garibaldi said it appeared the youths attempted to jump from the train when they saw the depot. Both died of fractured skulls.

Despite Air Raids, There Is Activity

BY MILO THOMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 14.—There is plenty of activity in London's shops, despite the air raids.

The rush of business goes to shops which sell these things:

Camp stoves to make hot tea and heat shelters. They are becoming hard to find.

Shelter pads for protection in damp underground bombproofs. They run from fancy air mattresses to stout cloth affairs with pockets to hold pillows.

Camp cots and camp chairs. The demand has been so brisk some stores are only taking orders for future delivery.

Window glass substitutes of translucent treated cotton which can be tacked-in to replace panes broken or removed as a precaution.

Wool shops, too, are very active despite rationed supplies. Women everywhere are knitting for shelter wear and for soldiers.

Shoe shops are experiencing an early demand for fur lined winter boots.

Tin hats, gas mask cases and blackout materials are war-time staples. The only helmets available are reconditioned ones, and they are snapped up at $2.50 each.

Besides, dress and fur shops had a slight boom the last few weeks in anticipation of sales taxes. But the seriousness of night bombings crimped night life, shut up many theaters and ended the boom in luxury clothes.

Second hand furniture stores are doing a rushing business. An influx of refugees more than offsets the outgo of Londoners seeking a quieter environment.

Restaurants have been doing well because of the large number of people caught away from home at meal times. But they are hampered by interrupted movements of supplies and have had to simplify their menus.

Suspect Is Held In Slaying Of Women

DEL RIO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Sheriff A. E. Steinmetz said today a Latin-American, found near a highway semi-conscious and begging for water, was held under guard in a hospital for questioning in the slaying of Antonia and Margarita Gomez.

He said the suspect, throat and abdomen slashed, was discovered today near where the bodies of the women, riddled with bullets, were found yesterday in tall grass along a highway near here.

Antonia, 34, was a school teacher; her sister, 23, a registered nurse.

No charge had been filed in the Gomez slayings. The sheriff said the suspect had twice been on trial here on charges of criminal assault but won new trials because of jury misconduct. His third trial in the assault case was set in Eagle Pass next month.

PILOT USES SWASTIKA AS JOKE

PRINCETON, Cal. (U.P.)—Local residents were given a momentary scare when a rice-sowing plane, painted orange and black and with Swastikas on the wings zoomed down on them. The laugh came when the pilot called out: "I'm Hitler. Chase me."

Lubbock Members Of VFW To Go To Borger

Tom Carter of Lubbock, state commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars, will address a district 9 VFW meeting today in Borger, members here said Saturday night.

He will discuss preparedness and defense and report on the national encampment he and several other Lubbock members attended last month in Los Angeles.

Harry Hill, Lubbock VFW commander, and R. L. Hooten, commander of district 7, will accompany Carter to Borger.

Oil Activity In Scurry Reported

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

SNYDER, Sept. 14—Gaining the spotlight in the Sharon Ridge oil field this week was Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 2 Rufe Sterling test, located in the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of the northeast one-fourth, Section 130-97-H & TC, which was drilling at 665 feet following cementing of surface pipe.

Marking a drilling trend to the southwest in the Sharon pool, Magnolia's No. 2 Sterling follows closely completion of the firm's No. 1 Rufe Sterling in the southwest corner of the northeast one-fourth, section 130, gauged as one of Magnolia's best field completions to date.

O. & R. Oil company's No. 2 W. F. Burney test, southwest corner of the north one-half of the southeast one-fourth, Section 130, was drilling at 2,162 feet, with formations running high and looking good. Upper pay saturation will probably be picked up Sunday.

Members of the oil fraternity are anxiously awaiting Coffield & Guthrie's decision to deepen their No. 1 J. Wright Moore test, located seven miles northwest of Snyder and in the center of the northwest quarter, Section 334-97-H & TC from contracted depth of 4,500 feet at least 150 feet more, or until sulphur water is struck.

Humble Oil company's No. 1 E. B. Van Winkle core test, located four miles due east of Coffield & Guthrie's No. 1 Moore, and in the east one-half of Section 338-97-H & TC, was drilling at 1,912 feet.

Seven Texas Liquor Distillers, 23 Wholesalers Named In Anti-Trust Suits

Cases Are Filed By Mann After Year Of Intensive Investigation

AUSTIN, Sept. 14— Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann today filed civil suits in 98th district court here charging seven liquor distillers and 23 wholesalers with violation of Texas anti-trust laws.

Seven separate suits were filed. Each one named one distiller and a group of Texas wholesalers.

The petitions, similar in allegations, asserted that the distillers agreed with their wholesalers upon fixed territory and retail prices on brands of liquor manufactured by the distillers and that the price fixing agreements were made effective because the wholesalers would refuse to sell the products to retailers or package store operators that were underselling the agreed retail price.

Companies Listed

The suits each asked for statutory penalties of $50 to $1,500 a day since Jan. 1, 1936 and permanent injunctions against continuing the practices.

Defendants named in the suits were:

(1) Schenley's Distillers Corporation, distiller; and wholesalers, Guggenheim - Goldsmith company, San Antonio and Austin; Texas Wine & Liquor company, Fort Worth; Badger-Herring Sales & Drug company, Amarillo; Empire Products corporation, El Paso; Guiftex Drug company, Houston.

(2) Calvert Distilling Company, Inc., and the following wholesalers: Ajax Liquor company, Houston; T. E. Mercer Distributing company, Fort Worth; Dave Simpson Wholesale Liquor company, San Antonio; Glazer Wholesale Drug company, Dallas and Longview; Lesage company, Dallas; Badger-Herring Sales & Drug company, Amarillo; Alcoholic Beverage company, Austin and Waco; Behrens Drug company, Waco.

(3) Hiram Walker, Inc., distiller and wholesalers, The Stedman company, Beaumont; Alcoholic Beverage company, Austin and Waco; Lesage company, Dallas.

(4) National Distillers Products corporation, distiller, and wholesalers Alcoholic Beverage company, Waco and Austin; Galser Wholesale Drug company, Dallas and Longview; Retail Druggist Selling System, Fort Worth; Julius Schepps Wholesale Liquor company, Dallas and Longview; the Stedman Company, Beaumont; the Lesage company, Dallas; Ajax Liquor company, Houston; Berman-Zadex company, San Antonio and Corpus Christi; Spence & Matson, Dallas; L. Demary of Beaumont; General Liquor company, San Antonio; Pridgen-Kline company, Corpus Christi; Southwestern Drug corporation, Waco; Tarrant Wholesale Drug company, Houston; Retail Druggist Selling System, Fort Worth; Progress Wholesale Drug, Dallas; Joe Varnell Wholesale company, Galveston.

(6) Glenmore Distilleries company, distiller; and wholesalers, F. J. Demary, Beaumont; Joe Varnell Wholesale company, Galveston; Lesage company, Dallas; Retail Druggist Selling System, Fort Worth; Southwestern Drug corporation, Waco; Dave Simpson Wholesale Liquor company, San Antonio.

(7) Frankfort Distilleries, Inc., distiller; and wholesalers: Southwestern Drug corporation, Waco; Pridgen-Kline company, Corpus Christi; Glazer Wholesale Drug company, Dallas and Longview; Badger-Herring Sales and Drug company, Amarillo; Lesage company, Dallas; and Behrens Drug company, Waco.

After Year of Probe

The filing of the suits follows a year of investigation by the attorney general's department.

The suit is the fifth major anti-trust suit tried by Mann. First was against cement concerns which resulted in permanent injunctions and and agreed judgment of $500,000 in penalties.

Small penalties and injunctions were entered in the automobile and rice suits. A commissioner was appointed this week to take evidence in the suit against seven Houston labor unions.

Montague Wildcat Blows In Saturday

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14 (U.P.)—A Montague county wildcat oil well, 25 miles from nearest known production, blew in today to open potential development of a large North Texas area.

The well five miles northwest of Bowie is owned by Larry E. Hults and Tom B. Owens of Fort Worth. It is about 25 miles both from the new deep pools at Ringgold, Montague county, and Norwood, Clay county.

The wildcat blew in from 6,010-80 feet, before being shut down for construction of storage facilities. It is on the 318-acre Lee Tucker farm. Hults and Owens reportedly own about 5,300 acres in the block.

A group of Fort Worth operators announced that they were taking leases in the vicinity and will choose a site for another test next Tuesday.

Government 'Speed Up' Plans, Boost In Automobile Assemblies Prod Industry

Naval Contracts Are Awarded

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Government "speed up" plans for defense production and a big boost in automobile assemblies prodded industry this week on its march toward new records.

The great backlog of orders previously accumulated in war industries was augmented by naval contracts for 200 ships costing $3,861,053,312. The war department authorized numerous companies to proceed with plant expansion for defense needs.

Steel, construction, machine-making and other heavy industries quickly regained momentum lost in the labor day curtailments. General activity in these fields was at the highest September levels since 1929.

Industry Near Peak

Rising with the quickened post-Labor day uptrend in heavy industry, the Associated Press index of industrial activity came close to duplicating the peak on the initial war upswing of business last autumn. The index climbed to 111 per cent of the 1929-30 level compared with 109.8 the previous week and 97 a year ago.

Industrial barometers have been climbing since May, pausing in July and early August, then showing renewed vigor as arms spending increased and factory expansion plans moved out of the blue print stage.

At the rate war industry enlargement was going ahead, steel men and builders counted on further gains before the autumn stimulus to activity waned.

The largest run of corporate financing since the Nazi invasion of the low countries last spring encouraged business circles to look to the capital markets for needed funds.

Markets Paralyzed

Listed security markets, however, remained in an atmosphere of suspense over the battle of Finland.

Commodities likewise felt the suspense over the fate of England but certain industrial materials, notably steel scrap, were quoted higher in reflection of the drive behind arms manufacture.

The Associated Press index of residential building climbed to 114.7 per cent of the 1929-30 level, a new high for the year, from 107.1 the previous week. A year ago it was 98.3.

Retail trade, after sharp August gains, continued to feed on larger payrolls at industrial centers and cash rolling into farm regions from the marketing of crops.

Duggan Pool Testing Marks Week's Oil Developments; Two Other Pools Extended

By JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

A northwest outpost to the Duggan pool in southeastern Cochran county was testing after acidizing at the week's close. Two tests in the same field that struck oil during the week also were on test after acidizing.

Other developments in the north part of the West Texas Permian Basin during the week included completion of a quarter mile south extension to the original Seminole pool in Gaines county and increased production after acidizing by a northeast outpost to the Waples Platter area and by a one-mile south extension to the Roberts sector of the Wasson field, both in Yoakum county.

Wildcats Are Staked

Wildcats staked in the entire district included two in Ector county by Forest Development Corp., and one in Pecos county by Landreth Production Corp. In the south part of the basin a second producer for western Crane county's second Ordovician producing area was indicated.

Magnolia No. 1 F. L. Woodley in Cochran county, 1 1-2 miles north and slightly west of Magnolia No. 1-B Mallett, a producer contributing to the linking of the north end of the Duggan pool and the Slaughter field in Hockley county, topped pay at 4,930, drilled to 4,985 feet and was testing after treating with 1,500 gallons of acid. It is 580 feet cut of the southeast corner of subdivision 6, league 57, Oldham county school land.

Other Wells Testing

Other Duggan pool wells testing after acidizing were Osage No. 1 Mallett, north offset to Osage No. 1 Blake, an east side producer, with total depth 5,038 feet, and Magnolia No. 1-C Mallett, west offset to Texaco No. 1-F Mallett, most southeasterly producer in Cochran county, with total depth 5,059. Osage staked No. 1-D F. Moore and others in the southeast part of labor 23-56- Oldham, one mile west and one location north of Osage No. 1 Blake.

North Basin locations included Texaco No. 11 Slaughter in Hockley county, 440 from the north, 374 feet from the east line of labor 66, league 39, Maverick county school land, and Western States Gasoline Corp. No. 5 W. G. Frazier in Terry county, 440 feet out of the southwest corner of section 9-x-psl, both in the Slaughter field.

Sloan & Zook Co. and Tom N. Sloan No. 1 Waples Platter, Yoakum county semi-wildcat, swabbed and flowed 167 barrels of oil showing 7.6 per cent basic sediment and four-tenths of one per cent water in 24 hours and was shut in. Bottomed at 5,297 feet in lime, it had been treated with 5,000 gallons of acid in two stages. Location is 660 from the south, 1,980 feet from the east line of section 565-D-John H. Gibson.

Shell No. 1-B Hudson, one-mile south extension to the Roberts area, 440 feet out of the northwest corner of section 858-D-John H. Gibson, headed 55 barrels of oil in 24 hours, bottomed at 5,115 feet, after treating with 5,500 gallons of acid.

The extension to the Seminole pool in Gaines county was effected by Magnolia and Atlantic No. 5-221 Havemeyer & Jenny, flowing at the rate of 345.76 barrals daily at 5,238 feet after treating with 6,000 gallons of acid in two stages. It is 1,980 from the south, 660 feet from the east line of section 221-G-WTRR.

Two Dawson county wildcats apparently continued to run low. Magnolia No. 1 Sandidge 14 miles northwest of Lamesa, in the southwest quarter of section 110-M-EL&RR, had drilled to 4,983 feet. Top of the solid lime was picked at 4,758 feet, 1,569 feet below sea level, by some lower. Sloan & Zook Co. No. 1 J. P. Sypert in southeastern Dawson, in the southeast corner of section 22-34-4n-T&P, had reached 3,745 feet. Its first lime stringer was logged at 3,430 feet, 575 feet below sea level.

No. 10 Tubb, indicated second producer in western Crane county's second Ordovician pool, flowed oil while drill pipe was being broken down following a 15-minute drill stem test from 5,739 to 5,790 feet, the total depth, and cemented 5 1-2 inch casing at 5,737 feet preparatory to testing. It is 710 from the south, 2,650 feet from the east line of section 11-B27-psl, quarter mile northwest of Gulf No. 1-A Tubb, the discovery. The area is separated from the Sand Hills Ordovician pool four miles to the northwest by a deep failure that was abandoned at 6,167 feet in granite.

Gulf registered large natural producer on the Crane county side of the Jordan pool in No. 23 Henderson, which flowed at a rate of 13,016 barrels daily, with gas-oil ratio of 481-1, bottomed at 3,509 feet. Location is 330 from the north, 991 feet from the west line of section 4-B23-psl.

In this report Taylor places the estimated ultimate recovery of oil from the field under the present method of production at 5,000,000,000 barrels.

Cumulative production including the first eight months of 1940 from the field has totaled 1,407,091,644 barrels.

The report shows a total of 25,904 oil wells in the field. There are 18,681 flowing wells, 7,223 pumping wells and 598 marginal wells. The total number of air and gas lift wells in the field is 785 and the total daily water withdrawals 179,681 barrels.

The field has 996 operators and 3,633 leases.

During 1940 there have been 190 well completions and 237 wells plugged and abandoned. Production for the first eight months this year has been 95,586,870 barrels compared with 90,425,452 for the corresponding period of 1939.

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (AP)— Virgil Neely, 17-year-old Magnolia, Texas, high school football star, was injured fatally last night when he fell to the pavement from his bicycle while "hitching" a ride at the rear of a truck.

Lunch Projects Are Planned

Preparations are being made to operate hot school lunch projects in more than 20 schools of Lubbock district of the Work Projects administration, according to information given Saturday by Miss Evelyn Riehter, district director of professional and service projects.

During the past summer, she added, gardening and canning projects have been operated in numbers of the towns and communities, including Crosbyton, Floydada, Lamesa, Muleshoe and Morton. Much of the food thus placed in reserve will be served in the operation of school lunch projects.

Vegetables Are Canned

In the Crosbyton project, Miss Richter related, work during the summer has resulted in the canning of 1,000 cans of beans, 800 cans of peas, 800 cans of squash, 300 cans of corn, 150 quarts of pickles, 300 cans of greens, 100 cans of okra and 50 cans of corn. The summer gardens still are producing and fall gardens have been planted. Some of the vegetables will be served fresh and the remainder will be canned to increase further the available supply for use later in the school term.

School lunch projects were operated last year, Miss Richter said, in Crosbyton, Floydada, Muleshoe, Morton, Lamesa, Post, Brownfield, Littlefield and Hamlin.

Others which have made application for them, she announced, include Tahoka, Slaton, Idalou, Plainview, Olton, Lockney, Jayton, Snyder, Matador, Valley View and Dickens.

Sponsors of various of the projects include boards of trustees, county commissioners' courts and parent-teacher associations in cooperation with the WPA.

She added that matron service is available to schools operating the lunch projects. Matrons are placed in girls' rest rooms for the purpose of supervising children, keeping the rooms in orderly and sanitary condition, for emergency mending of torn clothing and to assist the nurse in rendering first aid.

Under the operating plan, the WPA furnishes surplus commodities, labor and supervision of lunch and matron projects. Sponsors are required to furnish equipment, space and the foods needed to supplement a balance meal. Charges for lunches can be made of children able to pay. A substantial, well-balanced meal can be prepared, Miss Richter said, at a cost of about 5 cents per child.

Borger Blanks Hubbers, 5-0, For WT-NM League Pennant

Bob Crues Lets Champions Down With Four Hits To Cop Final Game

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

THE West Texas-New Mexico baseball league champions of 1940 are the deserving Gassers of Borger, Texas.

The Gassers, managed by the heavy hitting, fast outfielding Gordon Nell, won the pennant away from the Lubbock Hubbers, who had claimed the crown twice in a row, with a championship exhibition and a 5 to nothing victory last night before about 4,000 paid customers, largest crowd of the season, including about five hundred Borger fans.

Bob Crues, 21-year-old slender righthander, who hasn't had a fore finger on his hurling hand since he was three years old, and who has been sold to the Boston Red Sox of the American League, pitched four-hit baseball.

We say the "deserving" Borger Gassers won the pennant, because if a team ever deserved a pennant, the Gassers, underdogs from the first, comprise that team.

Pampa First Victim

They finished the regular season in fourth place, after battling hard all the way against odds and better equipped ball players and ball teams. Looking back a year, they were the "orphans" of the league, being forced to move bag and baggage and their three broken bats from the unsupported Abilene town to a hustling, sports-minded Borger town. They did well to finish in the league, let alone in eighth place.

Under the management of Gordon Nell, and for the past several weeks under the heady coaching of the veteran Wiley Moore, hero of many major league games and a few World Series, the Gassers moved along slowly but surely, with deadly punch at the platter, effective hurling from the hill.

Having finished the "straight through" campaign in fourth place, the Gassers earned the right to compete in the Shaughnessy play-off series, and the first bunch they bumped into were the "gas house gang" of Pampa, the Oilers, who finished the season in first place. So the fourth place Borgers knocked off the first place Pampas in three games hand running, while Lubbock, the defending champions, who finished in third place, were doing the same thing to the second place Amarillo Gold Sox.

Crues Starts Hub Downhill

The Gassers came to Lubbock last Sunday and lost a heart-breaker—for Borger, 6 to 7. They were squelched the following night by Gene Stack, Lubbock's ace, 14-0. The teams moved to Borger, and that's where Lubbock lost the series, and the championship for the first time.

The same Bob Crues who plastered them last night let the Hubs down with three hits and beat them, 2 to 1 in what was probably the best game of the series, with Gib Williams, Lubbock giant who opposed him in the final innings last night, also doing a workmanlike job. On Wednesday night, Lubbock frittered a game away, 2 to 9, making as many errors as the Gassers got hits, and that was followed by the fantastic finish of the series in Borger, the Gassers coming from behind in the last of the ninth to score eight runs and win, 14 to 13.

Night before last, Gene Stack pitched again for Lubbock and Lubbock won handily enough, evening the series at three-all. But there isn't but one Stack, and it wouldn't have made any difference last night anyway, because the Hubs couldn't score against the Crues boy, who, when he isn't playing baseball, assists his brother in operating a service station in Plainview.

Kramer And Williams

Mel Kramer started for Lubbock last night, and the erratic Missourian did himself a nice bit of pitching. He had had a good rest, and he wanted to pitch. Manager Charlie Engle gave him the assignment, a do-or-die job of work. Mel got the first five men out, then walked Cage Keaton, the Borger first sacker. He pitched a high curve to Stuart Williams, third baseman, who jumped on it for a home run, scoring Keaton ahead of him.

The game was over and won, for all practical purposes, then and there, because the Hubbers never got a man to third base off the pitching of the Plainview citizen, but in the sixth Borger added two more, on doubles by Manager Nell and Keaton, mixed with a purposeful walk to Soapy Scopetone, hard hitting center fielder.

Kramer left the game then, and Gib Williams came in to hold the Borgers in control, with exceptions of consecutive hits by Larry Gilchrist and Bobby Decker in the seventh, the latter scoring the former, the rest of the way.

Adding to Lubbock's final game worries was Steve Niedziela, peppery second baseman and one of the club's best hitters, who turned up with a sore arm. Manager Engle went to bat and to second base for Steve, and got a hit and did a fine job of fielding, but to no avail.

Crues got out the first twelve men he pitched to. The thirteenth, who was Chester Hajduk, lofted a Texas leaguer to right. Watkins and Schlereth hit the ball hard, but outfielders caught them. Vince Castino got a single over second, but Mahan popped to short, ending the rally.

And So, Congratulations

In the sixth, Gib Williams led with a double to left, but was left when the next three men went down in a row. Engle got his hit in the eighth, after two were out, and Drake followed with a pop-up to second.

The Hubbers are champions no longer. They'd won the pennant twice in a row, and now it is some-

Detroit Nominates Greenberg For Honors

DETROIT, Sept. 14. (AP)—Without the formality of nominating or seconding speeches, the good baseball minded people of Detroit offer as their candidate for "most valuable player" honors a man who is holding down a new position this season.

He is Henry Greenberg, left fielder and ex-first baseman of the league leading Tigers, and his constituents tell you he is honest, fearless, experienced, etc.——in fact just the guy to get the award he won in 1935.

Up to ten days ago candidate Greenberg did a fair job of campaigning with his mighty bat; since he has been terrific.

At this writing he leads the American League in runs batted in with 127 and doubles with 48, is second in runs scored and home runs with 110 and 33, respectively, and is near the top with 176 hits and a .335 batting average.

Greenberg's best work has been done in the last ten days, in which he carried the load as the Tigers climbed from four games back in the top of the standings.

During this nine game span he has batted .429, driven in 15 scores and belted seven homers.

SMU Gridders Lope Through Scrimmage

DALLAS, Sept. 14 (AP) — Southern Methodist's gridders cut loose for 40 minutes of hard scrimmage under game conditions today.

When Coach Matty Bell called a halt the No. 1 team was on the long end of a 14-7 score in a rough and tough battle with the No. 2 squad and the No. 3 eleven had a 7-0 decision over No. 4.

Ray Mallouf, the 180-pound back from Sayre, Okla., led the No. 1 team to victory, passing to Roland Goss for 30 yards and the first touchdown and smashing over on an off tackle play for the second. Johnnie Clement proved his tossing arm by completing aerials that led to the No. 2 team's counter. J. T. Moore plunged over.

Conn-Knox Battle In Forbes Field Is Off

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14. (AP) — The fight scheduled for Sept. 30 at Forbes field here with Billy Conn in the main role was cancelled today after Buddy Knox of Dayton, O., was eliminated as an opponent for the light heavyweight champion.

Raiders Tangle In Rough Drill

They blasted off the practice lid Saturday afternoon at Tech Stadium and instructed the 41 prospective Red Raiders to wade in and make the first string football.

Folks, there was a powerful lot of wading in, there was a heap of head bumping and, down to the last man, more than 500 men and women enjoyed the two-hour scrimmage, which had all the thrills of a real game.

Coaches Cawthon and "Dutchy" Smith told their huskies they didn't want any fooling around. They wanted to see what the Red Raiders had in the way of running, passing, punting and kicking.

In the first scrimmage, Cawthon sent his alleged third stringers against Coach Berl Huffman's eager freshmen. This scrap lasted an hour with six touchdowns being scored, three for each side. J. R. Callahan from Wink stole the thunder for the freshmen with his defensive and offensive work. Ed Harris, Bob Walker and Peter Blanda looked exceptionally strong in the varsity backfield.

Jumbo Webster Hot

After the first scrimmage, Cawthon mixed up his first and second string players and told them to have at it. Boy, they dug in and played sock for sock for one hour with four touchdowns being scored. Walter "Jumbo" Webster, the kid who flashed to fame as a fullback for the Lubbock Westerners, proved he can still tote the mail. Webster carried the ball about 20 times on power plays and scored two touchdowns. Make no mistake about it, the mighty "Jumbo" can still go places and score touchdowns.

One of the real surprises was the fancy playing of Backfield Captain Tyrus Bain. Bain, faster than last season, intercepted four passes and raced for one touchdown beside turning in a whale of a kicking job.

Thayne "Red" Amonett, the Plomot flash, played only a short time but the three times he lugged the leather he picked up 60-yards—and that's good ball carrying in any league. Milton Hill, the veteran halfback who nursed a

A Hint In Time— Pampa Grid Menace Seen

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

PAMPA, Sept. 13 — On the surface it appears that Pampa High's Harvester's are in for a sad season—but with the customary north Panhandle strategy the critics believe Coach Odus Mitchell's Green and Gold clad youngsters are sharpening a few sickles behind somebody's back.

That conclusion was drawn here after a look-see at the squad which will carry the Pampa hopes into the District 1 grid campaign this season—with all guns pointing toward Lubbock and Amarillo.

Line Rather Heavy

The Harvester mentors played the typical role of "we ain't got nobody" for observers but left the impression they hadn't decided to call the whole thing off by any means.

Glancing over the more or less husky crew of youngsters seeking berths on the "varsity" squad — there's 29 prospects out — one is quite impressed by the size of the boys "who don't have a chance." As submitted by Coach Mitchell, the Pampa line will average about 175 pounds, plowing the way for a speedy 150-pound backfield combination.

Three Veteran Seniors

There are three veterans on the roster: Wayne Fade, 170-pound guard; Roland Phillips, 202-pound tackle, and Grover Lee Heiskell, 136-pound quarterback and bundle of dynamite. They are all seniors on the squad, some of whom probably will be beaten out for starting positions by some newcomers.

Coach Mitchell lists his probable starting lineup, with weights, as follows:

Ends, Wayne Ott, 155, up from the Gorilla squad (corresponding to Lubbock High's Cowhands), and Gerald Nichols, 173, squadsman last year; tackles, John Cheser, 208, who never played any football at all until now but who looked promising in spring training and so far this fall, and Roland Phillips, 202, letterman; guards, Wayne Fade, 170, letterman and senior, and Ralph Burnett, 163, squadsman last year; center, Leslie Burge, 146 pounds, up from the Gorillas, or Ed Terrell, somewhat larger boy who was supposed to play regular center last year but who suffered a leg injury early in the season.

Schedule Impressive

In the backfield, Mitchell has settled on three boys but the fullback position is still in doubt. Heiskell will call signals from block back (Pamps uses the double wingback system, with single wingback variations); Will Arthur, 148 pounds, up from the Junior High squad without having to serve on the Gorillas, will play at one halfback position, and W. C. Pendleton, a senior, 150 pounds will be at the other. Mitchell is dickering with the idea of

Big Jamboree Is Set For Monday

A parade of gridiron talent unparalleled in Lubbock's football history will pass in review at Tech Stadium Monday night at 8 o'clock with the city's seven pigskin machines taking their 1940 bows.

Billed as a "gridiron jamboree" the colorful show should attract a crowd of several thousand, townfolk augmented by the huge influx of fall semester enrollees at the college.

Two Bands Play

Two bands—Lubbock's Westerner organization under direction of Charles S. Eskridge and the Texas Tech organization under direction of Professor D. O. Wiley—will perform. Arrangements for the two crack musical groups to further enliven the occasion were announced yesterday.

Sponsor for the affair is the local Matador Club—and every member, football fan and student in the city and surrounding area are invited to witness the unusual show.

"Mule" Dowell, Tech graduate manager who has long nursed a desire to become a sports announcer, will have charge of the introductions and E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey will have charge of the players in the dressing rooms.

Climax to the entire show, which will find all seven clubs and players introduced over the loud speaker system, will be 30-minute workouts by Coaches "Goober" Keyes' and Walker Nichols' Westerners, and Coaches Pete Cawthon's and "Dutchy" Smith's 1940 charges. It will mark local fans' first glimpse of the Westerners other than in daily drills at Chapman Field.

Westerners Share Spotlight

Inaugurating the night's entertainment will be the appearance of Coach Gordon Thompson's Lubbock Junior High Calf Ropers, understudies for the Junior High Cowboys of Coaches Mule Davis and Lovic Liston who parade next. The spotlight shines on the Lubbock High Cowhands as the third performers. Coach Cy LaMaster mentors the Cowhands.

Lubbock High's heralded Westerners—still oozing the same publicity that attracted attention over the entire Southwest last fall—will take their bow as the fourth eleven on the turf.

Adding color to the program will be Dunbar High's Panthers, a crew of colored gridders.

The college machines start their motors after that, Coahes Berl Huffman and Dixie White's "Fish" cavorting a sonly "Frosh" can, followed by the appearance of the Red Raiders, sharing main event honors with the Westerners. The Crimson's workout will climax the evening's card.

C. L. Storrs, Red Raider halfback, will be presented with the Standefer-Canon award for having attained the highest scholastic standing of any Tech varsity athlete in 1939 as a feature of the jamboree. The award will be made following the introduction of the seven teams.

Few Kinks Show Up As Defense Of Title Opens

By JAY HARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer

FLY FIELD, Odessa, Sept. 14 — The "Cinderella Kid's" successors broke a bronc here tonight.

And the wild ride brought them their opening gridiron conquest of the new fall campaign—a 13 to 6 triumph over Odessa's stubborn Hosses.

Flashing only very frief dashes of the state championship machine which rolled to Texas Interscholastic league fame last year, the charges of Coaches Goober Keyes and Walker Nichols looked rather ragged at times, like iron men at others.

It was a 56-yard downfield drive for which the Westerners became famous in the '39 season that paid off in full with the winning touchdown here tonight. Robert McKinnon plunged from the one-foot line for the deciding tallk after about eight minutes of the final quarter.

A first period touchdown, accomplished on a 31-yard gallop by Lightning Leete Jackson, brought cheer to Lubbock partisans' hearts for only one stanza—Odessa striking back with a fury that knotted the count near the fading minutes of the second quarter.

More than 5,000 football fans and Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel thrilled to the contest which was exceptionally played considering it was the first test of the season.

A heavy shower about 6 o'clock in the afternoon didn't dampen the spectators' spirits nor the contenders' ambitions as Texas spotlighted the game to see what it could see about the chances of the defending champions.

They left as puzzled and unsatisfied as they came—Lubbock just grabbed for leather, sometimes caught it, rode for dear life, blew hot and cold and won on superior defensive play and the right offensive punch.

The winners netted 11 first downs to eight for Odessa, amassed 196 yards from scrimmage to 56 to place matters in that direction — which happened ot be the goal line.

Odessa was paced by a great little quarterback weighing 150 pounds, Billy Hogan, who continually kept the Bronc Busters in the hole with sensational kicks, averaging slightly less than 40 yards a try.

Here's how the action came.

After an exchange of punts in the opening minutes, Lubbock managed to gain possession on the Odessa 31. Robert McKinnon and Billy Wright picked up 16 yards before a 15-yard penalty nullified their efforts.

Jackson, who amazed press box observers — who, incidentally, included several mentors of elevens Lubbock must face this fall—with his "get outa my way or I'll knock it outa you" steamrolling, then did just that by plowing 31 yards for the first score.

McKinnon's attempted conversion was blocked by Raymond Evans.

Then came the second quarter and the hoss not only jumped the corral fence but left the Westerners looking sheepish as well.

It was near the last moments of the second quarter that Lubbock had marched to midfield—as far as the team reached in that stanza—with Wright, McKinnon and Jackson sharing ball toting duties. But there Lubbock's offensive bogged down, not so much from the resistance the Broncs offered but from the champs' inability to continue riding along.

The beginning of the Odessa offensive came when the Westerners forced the Broncs to punt — and didn't know it. Hogan dropped back, put his little foot right there and when Jackson decided it was time to do something about it, the ball, Broncs and Westerners were on the Lubbock one-yard line.

Jackson kicked to the 22, right into the seemingly unstoppable Hogan's arms, and the Odessan's legs did the rest for a 12-yard return. The Broncs were haltered again and again. Jackson punted and again it landed in Hogan's arms on the 33. Two missed passes were followed by a completion to Halfback Lewis Bewley, Odessa's other star, for 12 yards. Another incom-

Date's Overdue Teddy Lyons Day Decreed

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.——Theodore Aamar Lyons, pitching his 18th year for the Chicago White Sox, really is going to have a day for himself tomorrow when admiring fans will honor him.

No usual suitcase presentation at home plate—it will be a heart-tugging, $5,000 day for this amazing hurler, now 39 years old and finishing one of the best seasons of his career.

The fans, by popular donation of dimes, will present him with a luxurious automobile. The ball club will come up with a check of $1,000 or more. His teammates will give him an autographed bat wrapped in folding money, the radio announcers a radio, the baseball writers a fishing and hunting outfit, the ushers a golf outfit, and various firms gifts, including a washing machine and a mangler—and Ted a bachelor.

Father To Watch

While the day is to honor Ted—who will pitch the first game of a doubleheader against Boston—two Lyonses will be spotlighted. Ted's father, A. F. Lyons, is coming up from Texas to see, for the first time, his famous son pitch a major league game.

No more popular player was ever in the major leagues. He is respected by his teammates, by opposing players and even by umpires, for Lyons has the reputation of never making a beef.

Ted lost his fast ball speed six years ago because of an ailing right arm, but courageously continued without complaint and regained some semblance of his oldtime zip only last year. He is regarded as one of the headiest pitchers in the majors.

Born To Pitch

Lyons never played with any other team, major or minor, since leaving Baylor university and joining the White Sox back in 1923. He has won 231 games, including a no hitter against Boston in 1926. He has always been agood hitter, and a remarkable fielder.

Lyons has always been willing to help other hurlers overcome pitching mistakes. Only this year when Young Sid Hudson of the Washington club had won two of 11 starts, Manager Bucky Harris of the Senators asked Lyons if he would give Hudson a few pointers. Lyons obliged — and immediately Hudson started a winning streak.

Here's how the action came.

Aggies Pack Punch Just As Expected

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 14. (AP) The Texas Aggies' A. and B. teams, labelled the Whites, ran over the Grays, 33-0 here today in a regulation game entrasquad scrimmage.

Big John Kimbrough scored twice on smashes; Marion Pugh once on a 30-yard pass interception dash; Bama Smith on a 32-yard end sweep and Marshall Spivey on a 26-yard gallop. Bill Dawson and Marshall Robnett converted.

The blocking of Jim Thomason and defense work by Tommie Vaughn, Ernie Pannell, Odell Herman, Roy Bucek, and Bill Sibley, stood out. Offensively Bill Buchanan, Marland Jeffry, Charlie Henke, and Derace Moser looked good.

Moser's got away for a 72-yard dash but Bud Force caught and downed him on the seven-yard line.

Arkansas Intrasquad Scrimmages Staged

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 14. (AP)—The Blues, made up mostly of second stringers, whipped the Reds 7-0 here today as the University of Arkansas Razorbacks struggled through an intra-squad scrimmage.

Both teams showed better defensive than offensive play. The Blue came to life in the third period to score on an eight-yard line pass from Halfback Aubrey Neal to Quarterback Harold Schmidt. Halfback Ogden Bolin added the point by placement.

A 35-yard aerial, Neal to End R. C. Pitts, set up the marker.

Most linemen turned in good play. Fullback Hubert Barker of the Blues and Halfback Estes McDoniel of the Reds made many tackles.

Annual Open At Meadowbrook Is Opening Today

A large field of golfers is expected to tee off early this morning in the annual Meadowbrook open.

Joe Bihl, club professional, and Bob Lee, Meadowbrook manager, said qualifying would begin "anytime after dawn and last through Wednesday. Match play will begin Thursday with first rounds; second round play will be Friday, the semi-finals Saturday, and the finals Sunday."

All matches up to Sunday will be over the 18-hole route, as will the qualifying. The finals will be 36 holes.

Trophies On Display

Bihl said: "For a fee of $2, non-members may play as long as their matches last and then continue playing through Saturday, whether they are left in the tourney or not. Fees for members will be $1."

Trophies will be on display this morning, Lee said. They range for a trophy cup in the championship flight to golf bags, clubs, balls, golf jackets and other prizes.

"Prizes will be given for winners and runners-up in all flights, and for winners of consolations," Bihl said.

The pro said he hoped professionals and amateurs from throughout the South Plains would enter the tourney, and predicted commuting from other towns to Lubbock and back for daily matches would become the rule this week, rather than the exception.

Meadowbrook's roughs have been cropped, weeds burned and fairways mowed. Thee new grass greens have been pressed under feet of several niblic-swingers in recent days to excellent condition.

The layout is unusually sporty—what with uphill, downhill going and irregular shaped greens with tantalizing slopes.

Hunt To Meet Lynn Thursday

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

SEAGRAVES, Sept. 14. — Seagraves, down here in the middle of the oil boom will put on its first professional boxing show at 8 o'clock Thursday night in the high school stadium.

This little town of 3,500 has signed Babe Hunt of Lubbock, Texas heavyweight title-holder, to face Woody Lynn, youthful Fort Worth heavy who would like to lift Hunt's title.

Coupled wth fight publicity is an element of speculation. Hunt may be making his last appearance in Texas, for he is dickering with promoter Jack Kearns to go to New Jersey to fight on the Max Baer-Pat Comiskey card Sept. 26.

The limelight battle only one of five lined up for the Seagraves Lions club by Pup Thomas of Lubbock.

Thomas will send Floydada's Abe Martin down to meet Jelly Harry of Seagraves over the six rounds distance. Fiscro Linda, former flyweight champ of the Philippines and of the west coast, will meet San Angelo's Noah Valdez in another six rounder. Two other four-round fights will fill out the preliminary, card and will be announced Sunday.

A battle royal also is planned, likely between negroes from the oil fields "They will be the biggest we can find," it was announced.

The Lions will divert proceeds to a fund that supplies glasses for "kids across the tracks," or for surgery to deserving persons who could not pay for it themselves.

Promoters said Seagraves is more excited over the battle than o[ver] first rumors that oil had been [dis]covered hereabouts.

Lubbock fans can get their ringside tickets at 1011 Main street, for $1. General admission tickets will be sold at the high school Thursday night, or may be procured by wire from the Lions club.

Jim Gleeson Marches To National Lead

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. (AP)—With a rush that brought him from eleventh place a week ago, Jimmy Gleeson, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, took over the National League batting lead this week with an average of .321, according to the official averages released today and including games of Thursday.

Dixie Walker, Brooklyn, who held a six-point lead last week, slumped from .328 to .314 and dropped all the way to sixth place. Johnny Mize, Cardinals, added two points to his average and took over second place with a mark of .318.

Rip Radcliff, St. Louis Browns' outfielder, clung tenaciously to the American league lead with an average of .345 despite a five-point decline. Joe DiMaggio, Yankees, added four points to bring his average to .344 and trails Radcliff by a lone percentage point.

Freddy Fitzsimmons, Brooklyn, maintained his national league pitching lead with 14 victories against two defeats while Buck Newsom, Detroit, continued to pace Amer[ican] league moundsmen with 18 [vic]tories against three losses.

Houston And Beaumont Face Off In Texas Loop Playoff

HOUSTON, Sept. 4—(AP)—Howard Krist or Hank Novak will be on the hill tomorrow, as the Houston Buffs face the Beaumont Exporters in the first game of a best four out of seven series for the Texas League championship tomorrow.

Krist, who was named for the opening assignment Friday before the start of the final battle with Oklahoma City, was nursing a heavy cold as the herd returned home Saturday noon and unless the loop's best right hander is much improved the nod will go to Novak.

The young right hander has been effective against Beaumont this season.

Manager Eddie Dyer also announced that Nick Cullop, veteran outfielder, would not be used as a starter in the Beaumont series. Cullop re-injured his knee at Oklahoma City Thursday night and there is little chance of his being ready in the all important series opening Sunday. However, he will be able for pinch hitting.

With Cullop on the sidelines, Lou Vezilich will go into left field and

Wolcott's Dazzling Speed Encourages Rice's Coach

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Sept. 14—On Coach Jess Neely's own words and on performance in this afternoon's first scrimmage, Fred Wolcott is doing OK with his football.

The erstwhile world's outstanding hurdler is going to play plenty of football for the Owls this season, according to a pre-practice statement by Neely.

And Wolcott snagged a lateral from Whitlock Zander and sped about 50 yards for a touchdown in the feature play of Rice Institute's opening scrimmage. The world's record holder in the 220-yard low hurdles made several other short dashes to prove himself surprisingly adept with a football under his arm despite absence from the gridiron since high school days.

Neely had this to say about Wolcott before the scrimmage:

"That boy is going to play a lot of football for us this season, and not because he was a great hurdler or anything that might imply. He's getting along fine and I believe he'll help us. He's a good pass receiver, and I don't think I need to say anything about his speed. And he learns fast."

Yankees Bruise Three Detroit Pitchers For 16-7 Victory To Gain Full Game

Gordon, Dickey Hit Homers In Blasting Attack

By DALE STAFFORD
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT, Sept. 14.—Yankee power, dormant for three games, exploded with old fashioned violence today as the world champions slaughtered the Detroit Tigers, 16 to 7, before a crowd of 53,697 fans.

The victory lifted the world champions to within two games of first place in their belated quest for a fifth straight American league pennant. Despite the defeat, the Tigers stayed on top of the standings by a half-game inasmuch as the Boston Red Sox mowed down the second place Cleveland Indians, 6 to 1.

Tigers Take Lead

Almost every hit meant a run today as the Yankees combed six Detroit pitchers for 16 safeties that included two homers by Joe Gordon and one by Bill Dickey. All of the Yankee scoring was confined to the space of four innings, the victors getting five runs in the fourth and seventh innings, four in the sixth and two in the fifth.

The Tigers took a 4 to 0 lead in the opening inning when they chased Spurgeon Chandler and looked to be on the road to another victory before the first Yankee outbreak in the fourth.

THE PARTING OF FRIENDS—It's Farmer Jones, one of the most entertaining grapplers of the season, bidding goodbye to his pet shoat as the Farmer took off for Texas a few weeks ago. Jones ordinarily is accompanied everywhere by the pig but the pig got sick in Arkansas the other day and was left in an animal hospital. The Farmer takes on Chuck Powell Wednesday night at the Sportarena in the main event of the wrestling show.

Farmer Jones Tackles Talkative Chuck Powell In Main Rassle Tilt

Farmer Jones, the long-haired mountaineer who clicked with wrestling fans in his previous appearance, will return to Promoter Sled Allen's ring for a main event tussle with talkative Chuck Powell Wednesday night.

Jones, whose brand of wrestling is just as colorful as his physical appearance, will be the big favorite in the two falls out of three, or two-hour time limit match.

Promoter Allen is changing the routine in the semi-final show, and also bringing back an "old timer," the handsome Prince Omar. The Prince will meet Ed Gideon, the "flying Scot," in a 30-minute bout, two out of three falls.

Don Carver Returns

"We're going to try a new thing here, in an effort to speed up the bout. To win the match, one wrestler must take two falls in half an hour. That ought to make 'em hustle."

Another grappler who got along nicely here in the "old days," is coming back. He's Don Carver, of New Mexico, who has been wrestling in foreign countries until things got too hot for him. He takes on Ace Abbott of Abilene in the preliminary.

What's This? TCU Has Ground Power?

FORT WORTH, Sept. 13. (AP) — For the first time in many years, the ground attack of the TCU team is far ahead of the passing department after the first 10 days. This was obvious here Saturday afternoon as the Whites beat the Reds 25-0 in the second intrasquad game.

Led by Dean Bagley, Frank Krung, Logan Ware, Gus Bierman and Bill Ramsey, the Whites rolled for long yardage around the ends, over the tackles and through the middle. Not more than a dozen passes were thrown and only about half of them caught. But the speed and power on ground plays was pleasing to the coaches.

FOOT ITCH
ATHLETE'S FOOT
Relief Guaranteed Or Your Money Back

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. F-28 at least 30% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form and the skin cracks and peels. After a while the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of It Spreading

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get relief from this disease as quickly as possible because it is very contagious, and may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Here's How to Relieve It

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophiton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows that in 15 minutes of rubbing to destroy the germ wherever upon contact H. F. kills the germ within 15 seconds.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of relieving Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

Itching Often Relieved Quickly

As soon as you apply H. F. you may find that the itching is quickly relieved. You should paint the affected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are getting better. Usually this takes from three to ten days.

H. F. should save the skin soft and smooth. You may marvel at the quick way it brings you relief.

Don't wait for Athlete's Foot to become serious. Get H. F. today.

Score Of 11 And 9 Sets Record

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Staff Writer

MAMARONECK, N. Y., Sept. 14—They threw a tournament golfer in against a week-end golfer in the final of the national amateur championship today, and the result was a foregone conclusion after the first nine holes.

What was supposed to be a 36-hole final ended on the 27th green, with Duff McCullough, the week-end player, racing across the turf to shake the hand of Dick Chapman, the seasoned campaigner and now title-holder.

Chapman—Richard Dorval Chapman is the full name—thus supplanted Bobby Jones as the second most decisive winner in the history of the tournament. For Chapman whipped McCullough by 11 and 9, while Bobby's biggest score was 10 and 9 against Phil Perkins at Brae Burn in 928.

McCullough, 32-year-old Philadelphian who reached the finals with conquests of two ex-champions and a two-time finalist, looked as if he were going to make a match of it when he won two of the first three holes with birdies this morning.

But two holes later the match was squared. From there on McCullough could win only two holes with Chapman running off eight of the last nine and getting a half on the other.

Chapman probably has tinkered with his golf game more than any amateur in the country. But this week the 29-year-old socialite's unorthodox style stood up well enough to give him the medal with two sub-par rounds, bring him through preliminary triumphs against five tough customers, and finally carry him right to the championship Havemeyer trophy with a four-under-par performance for 27 holes.

He played his home Winged Foot course like a master, and was entitled to full credit for his feat of succeeding Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., as titl'd older.

Yet McCullough earned his share of the credits. Through the final two-thirds of the match, and especially through the last nine holes, not a putt that he hit would drop. But the Philadelphian made no audible complaint. He didn't throw his clubs in disgust.

When it was all over, and his fourth shot on the final hole landed in a public parking lot, his only comment was:

"I've got no kick. I just came for the ride, and I rode twice as far as I expected."

"Peanut" Keyes Team Opens Up Tuesday

BROWNFIELD, Sept. 14—(Special)—The Brownfield Junior High school football team will make its 1940 debut Tuesday afternoon, tackling the Levelland Junior High eleven on the latter's gridiron. Coach Virgil Keyes, with a record squad of fifty-two Cubiets, has molded together a formidable combine and looks forward to a successful season.

Keyes is in his first year as mentor of the Junior High forces, coming to Brownfield following his graduation from Abilene Christian College last Spring. "Peanut," as coach Keyes was known during his college days, is a brother of J. G. (Goober) Keyes, head coach of the Lubbock Westerners.

The Cowboy Rides Again

Jack Crain Shows Up In Fine Shape To Fool Critics

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.—Cowboy Jack Crain will ride again, and at the old weight of 170 pounds.

It probably will come as a terrific disappointment to the summer gossipers who hiked the Cowboy's waistline to proportions of a cider barrel and listed his waddling weight at 200 pounds, but Cowboy Jack is very trim.

So trim, in fact, that members of the coaching staff solemnly swear that the Nocona Nugget reported for fall training in the best condition of any back on the University of Texas squad.

Furthermore, the Cowboy has made no demands for a first mortgage on the administration building or a shot at Dana X. Bible's coaching job.

Nothing to Rumors

He is just quietly worrying along in his old capacity as perhaps the nation's outstanding ball carrier. The Cowboy is a very normal lad, be assured, and is a favorite with his mates.

The rumors concerning the stumpy little genius gathered more momentum than a chain letter the past few months. The simple fact is that he quietly worked as a counsellor in a summer camp for 'teen age youngsters for three months.

To quote a man exteremely close to the Cowboy:

"Rumors had the more impressionable citizens believing that Crain would report for practice weighing more than 190 pounds and dragging the ground fore and aft; that he would insist on a valet to help with his uniform and a couple of stooges to do his blocking and tackling; that he would come to practice only on photographer's day, and perhaps order up beer and sandwiches between each quarter.

"The stark truth is that Crain has been a model of industry and attentiveness since reporting, hasn't given the coaches a minute's worry, takes his share of the drudgery without hesitation, and, in general has exhibited a perfect attitude."

The Cowboy is brown as a nut, is the first man on the practice field at each workout and could probably play 60 minutes of football tomorrow.

To get down to the meat of the matter—Jack Crain may be better than ever this season.

The old elusiveness, quicker-than-the-eye change of pace, and hard, straightaway running is there again. To give the natives a slight line on what to expect this fall, he jumped into scrimmage, took a pass and proceeded to hurry the remaining 35 yards to the goal line with a run that must have totaled 100 yards before he finished reversing his field a couple of times and dodging tacklers all the way.

Just a few minutes later he gathered in a punt and went 45 yards for a touchdown straight through the middle of a dazed second team.

Cowboy Jack Crain, the lad who scored eight touchdowns last season on average jaunts of 51 yards and finally wound up with 701 yards gained, will ride again—definitely.

sprained ankle all last season, proved himself sound by turning in several beautiful end runs, one for a touchdown.

There simply was too much to choose between the linemen. The big bruisers were feeling gay and seemed to enoy the good even fight. But a few flowers should be tossed to "Red" Ledbetter, junior tackle; Edwin Irons, sophomore center; Will Allbright, sophomore guard; Prince Scott, senior right end who snatched several difficult passes, and Captain Lonnie McCurry who never was sure which side he was playing for but who contributed some fine blocking.

The Red Raiders will work out at 9 o'clock Monday morning and then go back on the field at 8 o'clock that night for the big football jamboree.

Tom Winsett will switch to right.

Manager Al Vincent is expected to shoot Les Mueller, cross fire right hander, at the Buffs. Mueller, who dished up a no-hitter just before the close of the regular campaign and checked in with a two hitter in the San Antonio series for a shutout, won 18 and lost 11 during the regular season. Krist had 32 wins during the year against eight setbacks and Nowak scored 13 while losing six.

Should Vincent decide to hold Mueller for the second tilt, Luther (Bud) Thomas, a veteran moundsman, is due out.

Betty Jameson Cops Western

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Sept. 14—Shooting a sensational four-under-par afternoon round, Betty Jameson, the solemn-faced national champion from San Antonio, added the women's western amateur championship to her collection with a 6 and 5 victory over Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., in the finals at the Seattle Golf club today.

They were even-up at the end of the first 18 holes, but Betty took command on the very first hole of the afternoon round to square accounts with the girl who gave her a 7 and 6 lacing in the finals of the western three years ago.

Betty went out in the afternoon in 36, one under par, then birdied three of the next four holes to wind up four under par for the final 18 holes. Miss Miley's uncertain putter, plus hooks and slices at vital points, made her game no match for that of the national titlist.

Secretary Knox Says American Sea Forces Are Most Powerful In The World

Inspection Of Fleet Closed

HONOLULU, Sept. 14 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, after five days at sea with the United States battle fleet, was firmly convinced today that American sea forces "are the most powerful, the most effective" in the world.

His observations, he said, fulfilled his hopes of what could be expected from the nation's men of war.

Most Powerful In World

"I found the fighting forces, as I expected, the most powerful, most effective high seas fleet anywhere in the world," Knox declared.

"I saw something of every arm of the service," he said. "I lived aboard light and heavy cruisers, destroyers and battleships. An aircraft carrier took me to sea and a scout bomber flew me back here.

"I found the personnel, from the commanding officer on down, to merit a sense of pride in every citizen who loves his country. Both officers and men are bravely concerned in the future of their country and anxious to do their part in providing it with safety and security."

Should Know Fleet

The trip convinced him, he said, that to carry out properly his functions, the secretary of navy should know the fleet and the men who man it.

He revealed no plans regarding the future of the Pacific fleet but said that upon his return to Washington he will do all that he can "to make Pearl Harbor the most impregnable bulwark of American defenses in the Pacific area."

He did say, however, that he believed the army air strength of the islands urgently needed expansion and he understood that new bombing planes were to be sent to the army base there.

Impressive Drills Staged By Baylor

WACO, Sept. 14. (AP) — Robert Nelson, all conference center, and Milton Merka, steady blocking back, both of Bryan, today were elected co-captains of the Baylor football team.

The Bears romped through their second straight day of vigorous scrimmage. Dwight Parks of Elkhart, squadman in 1939, flashed the form of his freshman year as he picked up long gains throughout the morning workout, putting on a one-man show.

Jack Wilson led in the aerial fireworks, connecting time and again with the Bruin ends. Nelson was sending placement kicks through the uprights regularly as far back as the 30-yard line.

Much of the afternoon session was given over to the photographers. With school opening next week, this was the end of twice a day drills.

Westerner Victory

plete almost ended the threat.

Hogan received the next snapback, faded back to his 21, took his time and lofted the oval over the Lubbock secondary. It plunked into the waiting arms of Right End Keith Evans and the score was deadlocked. It remained that way through a listless third quarter to midway of the fourth.

The winning drive started when little Max Walthall, who turned in a nice game as field general, intercepted Hogan's heave on the Lubbock 45, racing back to the Odessa 48.

After a six-yard loss, Jackson found Wright open for an aerial gain of 24 yards. Jackson squirmed off left tackle two plays later and churned to the five before being hauled down. A yard plunge and an offside penalty put the Westerners on the one-foot line.

Wright was stopped, then McKinnon lumbered across, adding the extra point from placement.

There were no individual stars for Lubbock, the mentors being content to use few substitutions. However, the all around early season backfield performances and the excellently conditioned line drew praise.

Lubbock's line stopped the Broncs just before that second quarter on the one-yard line. Ends Francis Bearden, co-captain, and J. A. Blackwell, Guards Le Roy Holly and Carl Smith went down in opposing coaches' notes as double trouble.

Official Ballot This Year To Be Smaller Than In 1936

BY HOWARD C. MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 14. — The official ballot for the general election in Texas November 5 may be smaller than that presented the voters four years ago.

It will be unless the union or some other little fellow among the parties quickly and unexpectedly pops up and demands representation on it.

In 1936 the ballot was eight columns wide, listing Democratic, Republican, Socialist, Communist, Union and Prohibition parties, in that order, and also having columns for independents and "write ins."

The tentative draft this year calls for the same lineup except for the unionists, who so far have filed no nominees with Secretary of State M. O. Flowers.

Flowers will certify the names of presidential electors and candidates for statewide offices to county clerks during the first week of October. The clerks prepare the ballot finally.

Also shortening the ballot is the fact that four constitutional amendments will be submitted, compared with six in the last general election.

All parties named on the tentative ballot put presidential electors in the field, but only the Democrats offered a full state ticket. The Republicans made nominations for all state offices except commissioner of agriculture.

Only 8 Electors

For some reason the Communist party certified eight electors although the law provides for 23 from this state (one for each congressman and U. S. Senator) and the other parties chose that number.

One woman is a candidate for statewide office. She is Mrs. M. Brents Witty of Hamilton, Republican nominee for state superintendent of public instruction.

The proposed constitutional amendments would:

Authorize direct appeals to the supreme court from trial court injunctions involving the constitutionality of laws or administrative orders.

Candidates Listed

Exempt from the constitutional limitation of two years on offices not fixed by the constitution, appointive offices of municipalities having civil service.

Vest the power of appointing notaries public in the secretary of state in lieu of state senators, the present system.

Authorize Red River county, after an election, to levy an ad valorem tax of 25 cents on the $100 to refund outstanding county warrants.

The nominees of all parties for state offices, as certified to the secretary of state, follow:

occupied villages.

A British statement said "There is no anchorage at Sollum or other facilities and it has not been visited by any war vessel for many years."

Its occupation was regarded as unlikely to facilitate an Italian advance along the coast since the route suitable for military transport has been destroyed.

Musaid, a customs post a few miles from the sea, was described as of even less importance than Sollum.

Dempsey And Miles Lead In Mexico

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 14. — Rep. J. J. Dempsey, fighting congressional champion of the Hatch "clean-politics" bill, held a consistent lead tonight on the basis of early returns from his battle to wrest the Democratic senatorial nomination from incumbent Dennis Chavez.

With returns in from only 98 of the state's 914 voting divisions in today's first New Mexico direct primary, the count was: Dempsey 8,069, Chaves 5,734.

In the Democratic gubernatorial race, incumbent John E. Miles pulled away to an early and substantial lead over his opponent, Clyde Tingley, former governor and present mayor of Albuquerque.

The count, from 98 divisions, gave: Miles 9,681, Tingley 4,614.

said that despite help of the clouds "only a few bombers managed to penetrate to central London" in Saturday's raids.

Gunfire Heavier

The gunfire meeting this morning's raid grew heavier as the drone of plane engines increased by the minute.

Guns in the southwest burst into action, and shell fragments fell on roofs and streets.

When the clouds rolled back the main London network of guns opened up. Buildings shook with the intensity of the barrage as the planes passed over.

The Nazis came in great numbers—the high drone of many motors was heard over central London.

Bombers Thrown Back

The authoritative British Press association estimated that 300 bombers had been thrown back by early evening in a "huge battle" over the southeast coast which watchers described as "the biggest ever."

The raiders' first evening appearance here—after three forays made by late afternoon—was at 6:17 p.m. Their second was at 7:47 p.m.; their third at 9:36 p.m.

This third alarm was the shortest of all three, lasting only 17 minutes.

Bomb Hits Church

In the fourth raid — the first evening alarm—one bomb ploughed into the crypt of a Roman Catholic church in a London district and injured an unannounced number sheltered there. The bomb fell just outside the church and went straight through the ground into the crypt. The church was not damaged—even the windows were not broken.

Also, some persons were killed by a high explosive bomb dropped by a lone raider on a midlands town.

By the habit of a week that had seemed endless, London's people had gone to their accustomed air raid shelters, and the unexpected freedom—if only for the time being—astonished them.

All this time, the Royal Air force had been defending the metropolis alone, and only an occasional searchlight crept about in the sky.

Archies Quiet

The anti-aircraft gunners, who night after night had been throwing steel all about the horizon, idled through it all.

Up to 8:30 p.m. the air ministry announced, eleven German planes had been shot down during the day to four British craft lost.

The three earlier daylight attacks seemed to be intended principally to feel out the state of the English coastal defenses—a significant detail in the light of the declaration of neutral military observers that this week-end would be one of "intense danger of invasion."

Hope For Attempt

Britain was ready and some Englishmen said simply that they hoped the Germans would try invasion "so we can wipe their eye."

The government took steps to free telephonic and telegraphic communications—vital in any military emergency—from as much of the civilian load as was possible. It asked the public to confine their use to urgent messages.

Methodically, the bombers of the Royal Air force, the country's first line of defense against any German attempt to cross the channel with troops, carried on their mission of destruction against Nazi bases.

Dead Are Listed

They wrecked barge concentrations along the French and Belgian coasts last night and early today, the air ministry announced, and left Nazi dock facilities aflame at Boulogne, Calais, Dunkerque, Ostend and Antwerp.

Tonight, at the end of an eight-day period of almost unbroken terror from the skies, the old face of London was pocked and battered by a score of heavy raids.

The casualty lists are posted each day in town and borough halls but the press is not permitted to publish them for what a home security ministry official called "obvious reasons."

Through Wednesday night, the dead were officially listed at 1,245 and the injured at 4,810.

Animals sometimes change sex. A buck rabbit owned by Mrs. T. M. Hartman was the father of nine rabbits and the mother of 16.

Britain Is Warned

tude, containing 46 per cent of Britain's imports and a third of her war potentials, and he added that it was too late to evacuate civilians from the city.

"It should have been done long before," he said. "Chasing civilians out of the metropolis now doesn't mean they'll be safe."

Communique Issued

Prior to the press conference, the high command issued its usual communique, this time rather brief, detailing what it described as "effective bombing" of factories and docks in the London area and airports, war industries and railways elsewhere.

Germany, it was reported, was bombless last night, although British fliers raided objectives in Holland, Belgium and northern France.

"If the British haven't been over here the past two nights it's not because they didn't want to, but because they couldn't," the spokesman said.

It's Not "Quits"

"The British apparently think now that because they haven't bombed Germany the last two nights that we are therefore quits. But you can't figure human values that way; one German life may be worth ten British lives and more. The fact is that the German people were challenged by the continuing British attacks and now the German peoples' air force is giving the reply."

He predicted that no more British planes would reach Germany in large formations this winter.

As for London, he went on:

"We decline to accept the guilt for what's happening to London.

To Continue Raids

"England declared war because we brought Danzig back into the reich.

"The British government has the possibility of saving London, even now after 5,000 lives are lost, from the fate of Warsaw.

"The German airforce will continue its relentless attacks unless the British government acts.

"If there's misery in London today, it isn't our fault. It's England's for not preparing the city properly against attack."

Again he said:

"If Churchill finds it possible to sacrifice further tens of thousands in cold blood, that will merely prove unheard-of unscrupulousness."

open Wednesday.

President Clifford B. Jones said the annual reception for all students and faculty by the president and administrative council had been postponed from Sept. 21 to Oct. 4.

The president had announced Friday that any students who might be called to any form of compulsory military service would receive a refund of fees any time up to Jan. 1. Announcement had been made previously that national guardsmen would receive refunds if called to duty, but the same will apply to others who might be called to service.

Students will report to registration quarters in the library building Monday according to numbers on their permits as follows:

Photos Available

8-9 a. m., those with permits numbered 1 to 450; 9-10, 451 to 700; 10-11, 701 to 1,000; 11-12, 1,001 to 1,100; 1-2 p. m., 1,101 to 1,400; 2-3, 1,401 to 1,600; 3-4, 1,601 to 1,800; 4-5, 1,801 to 1,900.

Rollin T. Herald, student from Fort Worth, said the photographic booth in the west lobby of the administration building would open at 7:45 o'clock Monday morning. All students are required to have photographs made. Four prints will be developed, three for filing with college officials and one for the student to carry. A total of 696 students were photographed Saturday.

Dr. Elmo Alexander and Dr. Mina D. Watkins, college physicians, are examining students in the medical offices in the basement of the library building.

Levelland's 5th Gin Under Construction

(By Staff Correspondent)

LEVELLAND, Sept. 14. — Levelland's fifth gin is under construction here and it will be ready by opening of the season.

L. R. Bacon is building the plant. It is a four-stand, 80 saw gin. Location is in the industrial section. The building has just been completed.

Youngster Wants Bald Spot "Like Daddy's"

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 14. (AP)—A six year old boy, being spruced up for school here by his barber, was docile enough at first.

But, he wailed angrily when his mother refused to have the barber shave out a bare spot on top of his head "like Daddy's."

Army Camp At Fair

with Lieut. Torrey and fair association officials in making the advance preparations.

To Bring Guns

With them members of the unit will bring some of the latest model guns in the army. The weapons will include a 155-millimeter howitzer, a 75-millimeter field piece, an 81-millimeter mortar, a 37-millemeter anti-tank gun, .30 .50 caliber machine guns, and several of the famous Garand automatic infantry rifles. There also will be two or three radio signal sets, including at least one each for voice and code transmission and reception.

The equipment will include 20 or more motorized vehicles of various kinds, among which will be a model army field kitchen of the type said to be the best of its kind in the world.

Camp will be established in the shaded area directly west of the Boy Scout building where it can be reached quickly and conveniently by all persons who enter the grounds. There the soldiers will erect their "tented city" to remain for a week. However, there will be no promiscuous visiting in the camp. It will be an army post during the time it is here, and subject to all the regulations of such a post.

A Busy Program

The program for the visiting army men will be a busy one, but it is one, Maedgen said, they have agreed to undertake with fullest cooperation. No fixed program has yet been arranged, however. It will be sufficiently flexible that it can be adjusted to day-to-day convenience and crowds.

However, in general outline, the schedule will be about like this:

The equipment, and especially the guns, will be on display each afternoon and night at the camp. Someone will be on duty to explain them.

The band will play at various times and places each afternoon and night, with perhaps morning concerts on one or two days.

Officers To Arrive Here

It will be heard several times over KFYO and, if arrangements can be made, may broadcast a concert over that station Sunday afternoon or night, Sept. 29.

Each afternoon, the army unit will be given a 15-minute "spot" on the grandstand program. At that time, all the various weapons will be demonstrated and explained over the public address system. However, according to plans of Lieut. Torrey, each program will stress particularly some one of the weapons. Blank ammunition will be available for most of the guns.

Other numbers of the afternoon grandstand program—which, incidentally, will be free—will include several top-flight vaudeville and circus acts.

Lieut. Torrey is expected to return here within a few days, officials of the fair association said, so that detailed preparation can be completed for the part that the army unit is to play.

Rifles Don't Kick

was like a friendly clap on the shoulder.

The scoring pits flashed that the shot was about two inches off the "block." The captain clicked on a bit of "windage" and dropped the "elevation" just a mite.

Then we fired a string of eight in a minute and a half, slow shooting for the semi-automatic, but we were having trouble since each shot kicked the muzzle skyward.

The pits signaled the score—seven "5's" and a single "4," which was just one point away from perfect.

It was the first time we had ever fired a rifle, so we were a perfect "tyro" for an unbiased M-1 test.

We figure that if we can get a 39 of 40 score with the gun at 600 feet, anyone in the world can do it. And if the function of a combat gun is to shoot where you aim it—then this M-1 gun has what it takes, minus the "kick" that most military rifles possess. In our book, if it isn't the best gun that can be built for our doughboys, it will do until the best one comes along.

from the point of collision, Sheriff Hofacket said. Boehning's body was hurled another 45 feet, he added.

The body was taken to Davis-Mason Funeral home, where it was announced that funeral services would be conducted Monday or Tuesday at Canyon.

His wife survives.

Conscription Bill

gress from voting approval of the legislation last night. The bill was returned to a conference committee, composed of senators and representatives, for revision to include the industry provision previously passed by the House. It was this revised form that was approved.

Although the bill permits only 900,000 men to be under training at any one time, that does not mean that only 900,000 will be drafted. As conscripts are mustered out, new men are to be called. Under the army's plans, the drafting process is to go on for five years, the time limit set in the bill, and about 4,500,000 men are to be trained.

The recruits will be drawn from men without dependents, will receive $21 a month during the first four months of training and at least $30 monthly, new pay of buck privates, for the remaining eight months.

belief the broken bones were received when the body floated over falls in the river north of Baton Rouge. He said the body apparently had been floating several weeks when found.

Identification, other than that of the Crowder boy's picture, were lacking.

Surviving sons and daughters at Brownfield are Bill and Mike Gorman, and Mrs. Luther Moore and Mrs. Crowder.

Noted Diver Dies In California Hospital

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14. (AP) — Georgia Coleman, once acclaimed as the world's greatest diving champion, died in a hospital tonight of a liver ailment. She had been unconscious since Tuesday.

Miss Coleman, who was 28, was striken with infantile paralysis on Thanksgiving day, 1937, and had never completely recovered although she fought with a cheerful spirit to regain her health.

She first competed in the Olympic games at Amsterdam in 1928 and won honors for the United States in both the springboard and tower diving. In the 1932 Olympics she took the three-meter event and placed second in the high diving.

In 1939 United States farmers harvested 88,803,000 acres of corn.

Independent Group For FDR Is Formed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. (AP) — Selection of Senator George W. Norris to head an Independent committee for reelection of President Roosevelt brought a Republican comment today that the Nebraska Independent once declared that a presidential third term would mean eventual establishment of a monarchy.

In a statement issued through the Republican national committee, Rep. Ditter (R-Pa) recalled that Norris voted for a 1928 anti-third term resolution which was adopted by the Senate. He quoted Norris as saying at that time:

"If a president of the United States were allowed to renominate himself as he could, it would mean—not perhaps in my lifetime, or it may not be in the lifetime of anyone here—but it would mean ultimately the establishment in this country of a monarchy upon the ruins of our present Republican form of government."

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York announced Thursday that Norris would be honorary chairman of an Independent committee for Roosevelt.

Four Children Buried When Pit Caves In

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 14. (AP)—Tons of falling earth trapped and suffocated four children in an abandoned gravel pit 10 miles west of here today. A fifth barely escaped with his life.

The dead:

Joe Winford Armstrong, 11; Dorothy May Armstrong, 9; Lurline Armstrong, 8, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong; Joe Hubert Rowell, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Isaac Rowell.

William Thomas Morrison, 10, a playmate aiding in the digging of a cave into the gravel pit's high bank, escaped with his life by running "when I heard the ground crack."

Tech Absences To Be Checked

"Be in school OR out——not in and out."

That will be a motto in the offices of the dean and assistant dean of arts and sciences at Texas Technological college this year.

Plans for a program of close checking on absences of freshmen students, so that the students may be "saved in time" from failures, was announced Saturday.

Absences will be reported to Dean James M. Gordon or Assistant Dean Albert Barnett. That will apply to male freshmen students in the arts and sciences division.

Exceptional Cases

One student amassed a total of 111 absences in one semester. Infrequently, a student loses more semester hours, under the rule providing for loss of one semester hour toward graduation for each 18 absences, than he has semester hours.

Those are exceptional cases, but often a student does not realize the importance of regular attendance of classes, said Dr. Barnett.

The assistant dean pointed out that many students are only 16 or 17 years of age when they enter college and that, tasting their first freedom away from home, they "cut" classes and do not realize their mistake until too late to prevent them from failing a course.

He said he considered it a responsibility to the parents and to the students that college officials check such absences and halt negligence in attendance.

Not To Be Harsh

"We do not intend to be harsh," he said. Students absent excessively will be called for conferences. If it becomes necessary, their parents will be notified. As a final measure, they might be asked to leave college, but such a measure would be used only as a last resort.

A clerk will be assigned to the duty of checking weekly on absences.

No close comparison has been made in number of absences of freshmen students and those of higher classifications, but the entering students who have not had time to become adjusted to college life particularly should be impressed with need for attending classes, it was stated.

"There's always a group, in the minority, of 'chronic absentees'," said the assistant dean.

Bankruptcy Petition Is Filed By County

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 14 (AP)—Perry county, in the eastern Kentucky mountains, filed a petition in bankruptcy today—Friday the thirteenth—and Federal Court Clerk A. B. Rouse expressed belief it was the first county in the nation to take such action.

It was the first in Kentucky, at least, to file under an amendment to the federal bankruptcy act which became effective June 28.

The petition, signed by County Judge Billie Baxter, said the county owed a total of $543,559 in bonds, warrants and interest and was unable to collect or levy sufficient taxes to meet the obligations.

Two More Places Are Locked By Officers

Court orders led to closing Saturday of two other places by members of the sheriff's department.

Permanent injunctions restraining the sale of alcoholic beverages had been signed Thursday by Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court, in the Garden club and in a place operated by Mrs. Clara Ryan, at 1417 Avenue C. Padlocks were placed on doors of the places, J. P. Posey, deputy sheriff, said.

Hollywood club and Yellowhouse cafe, on East Broadway, were padlocked Friday. Residences named in court orders will not be locked until officials are certain the defendants occupying them will not post $1,000.

Judge Pitts will open criminal hearings when a jury reports to him at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and his assistant, Victor H. Lindsey, will represent the state in criminal cases.

Judge Daniel A. Blair, who Thursday completed criminal work in 72nd district court at Levelland, will hear civil action this week in Hockley county.

Teacher Must Attend To Draw Her Salary

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 14 (AP) For three months a young woman kept a rural school open and received pay under the contract though no students appeared.

Then she decided to attend college and inquired of Arkansas' legal department if her pay would continue provided she held herself in readiness to return if any students showed up.

1. It is bad policy to conduct a student-less school.

2. The teacher could not be paid unless she continued to present herself at the school daily to teach if pupils appear.

Tall, Witty Lawyer Is To Succeed Jones

SHAMROCK, Sept. 14. (U.P.)—A tall, witty young lawyer named Eugene Worley next year will succeed Marvin Jones of Amarillo, as congressman from the 31st Texas district.

Jones, a Democratic leader, has for 24 years represented citizens of the upper Texas Panhandle area in Washington. He became an outstanding legislator on farm affairs, and has remained in Congress this session at the request of President Roosevelt, who has appointed him a judge on the U. S. court of claims.

Worley, aged 31, won his spurs during six years' service as a state representative. He began his political career in a $25 model-T Ford, which carried him around his district in a house-to-house campaign.

In the congressional race, Worley finished in the first primary behind Deskins Wells, popular young Wellington editor. But when the run-off came a month later, Worley had more than 30,000 votes to 23,000 for Wells.

Worley must, of course, go through the formality of the general election, but no Republican congressman ever has bee nelected in this district and no candidate is likely to be offered except by the Democrats in the November election.

Mann Rules On Use Of Funds For Expenses

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann said in an opinion today Banking Commissioner Lee Brady could not attend at state expense a convention of the National Association of Superintendents of state banks.

In an opinion sought by Brady, Mann said the law prohibits an official, including department heads, from travelling out of the state on expense accounts unless his business was directly concerned with the duties of office. Mann said the convention was only remotely related to the commissioner's duties.

Texas Ready For Conscription

AUSTIN, Sept. 14. (U.P.) — Texas plans for carrying out the national defense conscription already have been formulated and wait only on the president's signature to the conscription act and federal allotment of funds.

The plan, subject to such changes as may be required by late differences in the conscription bill from its earlier form, have been drawn up by the state staff under direction of Adj. Gen. J. Watt Page.

System Praised

On basis of available census figures the program has been mapped with expectation that 1,281,000 registration cards will be required. The plans call for the quick printing of these cards and other forms and reports. Some will be printed for printed locally by districts. It is planned to set up 351 registration boards. There will be one at least for each of the state's 254 counties and additional boards in the larger cities.

In general the plan is similar to that used in World war one, with such changes as the experience of that time made seem advisable. Immediately in charge of the registration as director will be General Page. Working with him will be the staff of 19 officers and about 65 non-commissioner officers and enlisted men. Forms have been prepared for immeidate communication with county officials and election officers who will be called upon to participate in administration.

While unwilling to claim that the plan set up for the state is "best," officials here say that it must be good for it has been recommended by the war department as a sample for other places that have made inquiry about how to proceed.

Police Censor Board Will Be Overruled

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (U.P.) — Police Commissioner James P. Allman said today he would overrule the police censor board and issue a permit for the showing of "Pastor Hall," a motion picture based on the life of the famed German minister Martin Neimoller, who was imprisoned by the Nazis.

Pair Indicted For Shooting

MERCED, Calif., Sept. 14. (U.P.)—Pretty Mrs. Carolyn Sullivan, 28, and William A. Cain, 30, wealthy farmer, were charged today with the murder of her young physician husband.

A grand jury indicted them after hearing a dozen witnesses tell of events leading to the death on Sept. 3 of Dr. William A. Sullivan, 30.

Mrs. Sullican said his death was a suicide but District Attorney A. A. Henderson said that under lengthy questioning Cain admitted he saw a pistol in Mrs. Sullivan's hand immediately after the shooting.

Together On Divan

Henderson said Mrs. Sullivan and Cain were together on a divan in the Sullivan home the night of Sept. 3 when Dr. Sullivan tiptoed in stocking feet into the darkened living room. He accused his wife of infidelity, Henderson said, and dropped a moment later with a bullet in his head.

Mrs. Sullivan said her husband had previously threatened to take his life. He was fatigued by day and night work, was in financial difficulties, and was of a jealous nature, she said.

She said he left the house the night of the shooting while she visited with Cain and when he returned he started quarreling. As he stood in front ofthem, she said, he whipped a pistol from his pocket and shot himself.

Dairy Prices Reach Higher

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (AP)—A combination of factors stemming from the European war has brought America's dairy farmer higher prices this year than last in spite of greater production, trade statistics indicated today.

Market experts said that the importance of this situation in rural areas can be judged from the fact that dairy products last year led all other commodities in producing cash income for the farmer.

Uncle Sam's defense program leading to rising employment and production ,and thereby increased purchasing power has aided in better consumed demand thereby strengthening prices.

Exports Stimulated

Elimination of Scandinavian and low countries as sources of dairy supplies for Great Britain, has stimulated exports of American dairy foods.

Exports of butter during July, the latest month for which official figures are available, totaled 239,897 pounds, compared with 159,960 a year ago. Exports of cheese amounted to 47,822 pounds, compared with 32,767 a year ago; condensed milk 4,588,800 pounds compared with 215,246 a year ago; evaporated milk 15,068,245 pounds, compared with 2,338,065; and dry skimmed milk 303,550 pounds, compared with 138,843. Bureau of agricultural economics estimates indicate that exports should continue to increase.

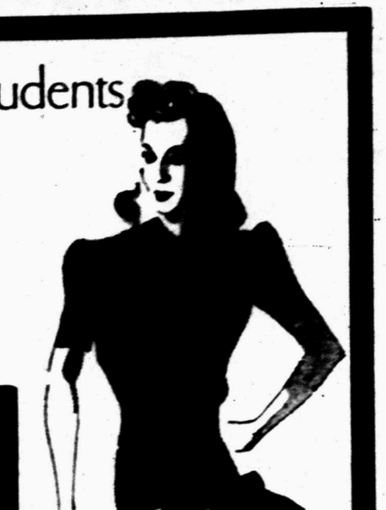

The average per pound price of 92 score butter for July showed a gain of more than 3 cents over a year ago and of cheese a better than 2 cent gain. The average price per hundredweight paid by dealers for milk was 8 cents higher than

THAT GRAND SPIRIT OF THE DOUBLE "T" PREVAILS AGAIN

TEXAS TECH

As Texas Tech Opens Her Doors to Hundreds of Happy Students

The popular symbol of the double "T" means much to the people of Lubbock and the South Plains . . . it is "Texas Tech" and all that it stands for . . . it means that when September rolls around that all of West Texas is gay and alive with the stimulating atmosphere of youth . . . it means that instead of talking of wars and the like, we talk of touchdowns, forward passes . . . it's needless to say that we're glad. . . . and that we'll be happy to see all our old student friends and meet all the new freshmen . . . and that we're delighted, as ever, to be in the same atmosphere with the folks of Texas Tech as the school year begins.

The Woman's Angle
by Margaret Turner Angle

IT finally dawned on the man who sat up all night trying to figure out what became of the sun after it went down.

HOME TOWN BOY

HANDSOME James Howard Reed, son of Mrs. S. M. Reed, 2311 Thirteenth street, has been receiving encouraging criticism from West Coast critics where he is appearing in the stage play, "Maid in the Ozarks," a farce by Claire Parrish.

The burlesque tells the story of a mountain youth who brings a town girl to his family cabin to be his bride and the troubles that ensue when she poses for a visiting artist. It is said to contain a strong flavor of "Tobacco Road," a touch of "The Lonesome Pine" and a pinch of "The Old Homestead" in its rip-roaring lines.

Howard is described as giving his character nearest thing to conviction, "besides being a likeable stage personality." One critic writes: "Reed is a fine hero"; another, "Acting honors go to James Reed as the moonshiner" and still another, "well known to followers of summer stock companies, James Reed has been selected for the key role of Temple Calhoun in Claire Parrish's 'Maid in the Ozarks,' which opened at the Grand Playhouse, Tuesday, Sept. 3."

Good work, Howard and we are all for you!

SCATTERINGS

POSTERS have arrived, the work of Grant Wood, one of America's greatest artists, which graphically portray the plight of British women and children as Hitler's invasion nears its climax. It is his contribution to the American organization's cause to help the British people . . . Nomination for a nice-sounding name: Durwood Cordell . . . Wonder if Errol Flynn, dashing film hero who is adept at sword fighting, can carve a turkey . . . "Quietly My Captain Waits" by Evelyn Eaton is said to be in the running for the most talked of book of the fall season . . . Lucile, the feather-light plastic that gleams like crystal, is science's newest contribution to the bracelet and necklace world . . . Most of the 100,000 women who wrote to Josephine Lowman, author of a beauty column, during 1939 were worried over bulging thighs, fat tummies and spreading hips, which Mrs. Lowman calls "office broadside" or "stenographer's spread."

PANHANDLE Civic Music association is to present Fritz Kreisler this season. Hope they offer reciprocity to the South Plains association . . . Marion Roberts, musical genius who appeared here in concert Friday night, often practices eight hours daily, never under six hours. Which reminds us that the late Thomas Edison said his inventions were due to 10 per cent inspiration and ninety per cent perspiration . . . Most people leave out a few "l's" when they spell the name of the Republican nominee for the presidency.

NOTHING more beautiful than these gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums that have arrived at the florists and soon will be blooming in many yards . . . At long last, apple ice cream is soon to be on the market . . . We have in mind writing a column on the gift shower problem in Lubbock but hesitate because we don't want to offend anyone . . . Coronado red is dedicated to New Mexico's celebration of 400 years' history . . . "Career" books are being featured as gifts for the school child with the idea of helping him choose a career . . . Fate's irony: A short time ago the Texas-New Mexico Utilities company made a motion picture film on safety, scenes being taken in Lubbock. The role of the victim was taken by Russell Bledsoe. And on Sept. 5, having returned to work, Russell Bledsoe met his death when he came in contact with a heavily charged electric wire and fellow workers spent several hours acting in real life those scenes in the reel.

UNDAUNTED WRITER

MANY of us propose to write when we "get time," or "retire from work" or "feel the inspiration" and to such the story of Mrs. Antonina Riasanovsky of Eugene, Ore., should be a challenge as well as making us ashamed of ourselves. Privileged to read a letter she wrote to Mrs. T. R. Prideaux, we begged it for our readers. In part:

"You asek about me and my past life. I am 45 now. America is my third continent. I have spent 23 years in Europe, 20 in Asia; this is my second year in the U. S. A. In these two years I have crossed the U. S. A. twice. All my life, in spite of constant wanderings, I have been a great reader. Although I tried to learn six languages I mastered only four. I have never had the opportunity to write much, and before coming here I published only several articles in Russian, English and French, but they were more science than art.

"'The Family' is my first work in fiction. This novel, although founded on my first hand experience, is not an autobiography at all; still it is an exact replica of myself. I wrote it at nights, between 10 and 2 o'clock and finished my work in the hospital at the bedside of my husband, who is very ill. He has a kind of infantile paralysis and we are facing months and months of that misery, before he will be completely recovered.

"All my life I had experiences like that and if one would balance my book against my experiences I am sure many would refuse both. Still there is no bitterness, neither in my heart nor in my book."

Mrs. Riasanovsky won the Atlantic Monthly $10,000 prize for her book which was reviewed in last Sunday's Avalanche-Journal

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: As always at the beginning of school news revolves around who is coming back for another year and who isn't. Some of the Techsters might be interested to know that Elwood Scott, former student, and Edith Frances Stamper have announced their engagement and the wedding is to take place in Odessa today.

Gertrude Vance, a former Techite and Edwin Phillips were married in Midland last week. They are to live in Pampa.

You can add to your list of brides-elect, Molly Davis. She and James Halsey will be married October 5. I wouldn't be surprised if the names of Dorothy Daniels and Inez Stewart aren't added to that list soon. Gene Bragg is to be considered because she has a new diamond ring.

I have something interesting to tell you about a young woman who is teaching in New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bowles and Mrs. T. A. McIlroy left Friday for Ruidoso, N. M., to spend a week vacationing.

CAN anyone tell me why Lieut. George Coleman makes such frequent visits to a place of business just up the street from Hotel Lubbock and why he is so privileged that he can sit in that office with his feet on a desk?

Jeanette Jones of Clarksville and graduate of Tech is to be a secretary in the women's dormitory at the college this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard "Bear" Curfman visited in Lubbock last week.

John L. Burkholder, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burkholder, left Friday for California where he will attend an aeronautical school in Los Angeles.

Tommy Starnes is celebrating his birthday today. Mrs. Starnes and Betty Jo returned from a vacation in San Antonio in time to help him with the celebration.

MARY LOUISE McDONALD is to attend the University of Texas this year.

Marian Lee Mason will not return to Tech this fall. I have heard that she is to be in charge of a dress shop in Levelland this year.

James Wood of the Panama Canal Zone will enter Tech this fall. He is a cousin to Doris and Graham Brotherson who urged him to come to Lubbock. He will be a sophomore student.

Another Eligible Man

You may add to your selection for eligible bachelors, Odell Blackwell. He is back in Lubbock now.

Mrs. D. D. Cross and daughter, Betty, have gone to Waco where Betty will enter Baylor university. Mrs. Cross will return to Lubbock in a few days. A charming sight last week was Mrs. Cross and Betty and Mrs. J. H. Stiles and Wanda Ruth, dining together.

Charles Senning, young musician who finished at Spur High school last year, is to be assistant band director and teacher of clarinet at Lubbock Junior High school this year. He will enter Tech this month and major in band. He has been a member of the Spur band for the past five years and this summer conducted rehearsals twice a week so the band would be in top form for football season. He certainly must be a hard working young man.

Love,
Lou.

News Notes Taken From Files Of The Avalanche-Journal

SEPT. 19, 1912 — The Avalanche reporter has been asked to "write-up" that dreadful water hole on Cedar street leading south from the square and by a lady too. She has just crossed the street and was only tolerably successful, as in crossing the street and keeping quite dry it is necessary for one to hold the skirts quite—— 'er and sorter pick the high spots as they go along.

SEPT. 15, 1921 — Little Neil Wright, jr., celebrated his third birthday anniversary on Saturday. A number of childish games were played on the lawn and as the hour was growing late delicious ice cream cones were enjoyed.

SEPT. 20, 1927 — Miss Ethel Lawson is to be hostess to members of her Sunday school class of the First Methodist church, Thursday.

SEPT. 19, 1937 — The marriage of Miss Wildring B. Sherrod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Sherrod, 2105 Sixteenth street, and J. Bryan Edwards, son of Mrs. Corra Edwards of Paris, took place Saturday night at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Anderson And Howard Hall Wed

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14 (Special)—The wedding of Miss Willa Christine Anderson and Howard Miller Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hall of Grand Prairie, will take place at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the chapel of the First Methodist church with Rev. B. F. Jackson, pastor of the church, officiating.

Mrs. Mozelle Brown of Dallas will play "Liebestraum," "Traumerei," "To A Wild Rose," during the ceremony and both the wedding marches.

Palms will decorate the entire chapel and altar decorations will be arrangements of candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and palms.

To Wear Velvet Dress

The bride will wear a rust velvet dress with matching hat and shoulder length veil. Her accessories will be brown and she will wear white gloves. She will carry a prayer book which belonged to the great-grandmother of the bridegroom and a streamer of white gardenias. She will be given in marriage by C. M. Anderson of Lubbock.

Miss Christine Berrier will be the only attendant. She will wear a dress of royal blue velvet with navy felt hat, matching veil and navy shoes and handbag. Her gloves will be beige. She will wear a corsage of yellow roses.

Frank Miller of Joplin, Mo., will be best man and ushers are to be Clendon Hall and Eugene Anderson of Lubbock.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple will take a short trip after which they will be at home in Grand Prairie where they have built a new home.

For traveling the bride will wear a dressmaker suit of tricotine wool with brown and khaki green accessories.

The bride attended school in Florence, Ala., and formerly lived in Lubbock. Mr. Hall attended North Texas Agricultural college at Arlington and later received his degree from the University of Texas.

Avila Camacho Gains Support

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14 (AP) — Prominent members of the government-endorsed chamber of deputies declared today that General Manuel Avila Camacho, president-elect of Mexico, could be assured of the full support of Congress should General Juan Andreu Almazan, independent claimant to the presidency, launch a rebellion.

Confidence was expressed, however, that no such armed attempt to seize power would be made.

Calm Is Reported

All was reported calm throughout the republic and interest in political matters seemed to be shifting from the conflicting claims of Almazan and Avila Camacho to the gay fiestas that will mark the celebration of Mexico's 130th anniversary of independence Sunday and Monday.

The deputies asserted that as far as the chamber is concerned the presidential campaign has ended, the administration's candidate has won, and the only remaining question is where Avila Camacho will take his oath of office November 30.

President Cardenas planned to depart tonight for Dolores Hidalgo, village in Guanajuato state, where he will give the "shout" commemorating Mexico's independence anniversary tomorrow night.

Officials To Be Present

Numerous government officials were scheduled to accompany him to the "cradle" of the nation's liberty.

It was there on the night of September 15, 1810, that the priest Miguel Hidalgo rallied the Mexican people for the war of independence against Spain.

After observing the national holidays tomorrow and Monday in Dolores Hidalgo the president reportedly will make a tour of inspection of various public works in the north, including a visit to Matamoros just across the frontier from Brownsville, Texas.

Dickens Court To Set Tax Rate On Monday

By Staff Correspondent

DICKENS, Sept. 14 — When the commissioner's court of Dickens county meets here Monday it will set the 1940 tax rate, Marshall C. Formby, county judge, announces.

Members of the commission, he said, are not inclined to change the present rate, which is $1.10 per $100 valuation. Of the rate 67 cents is expected to be used for the various operating funds of the county and 43 cents for the sinking fund, to retire bonds.

"Operating expenses for Dickens county have been reduced during the past few years a little, but our bond retirement needs are greater," Formby explained. "We do not feel able to make any reduction in the tax rate at this time."

Valuation is $5,088,975 for 1940 compared to $5,136,563 for 1939. The loss, $51,588, is attributed to removal from the county of a number of farmers during 1939, who went to other counties.

After One Year . . . .

Canadians Are Just Beginning To Fight; War Machine Is Now Rolling After Full Year Of Extensive Preparations

EDITOR'S NOTE: The writer has just completed a Canadian trip, with a look at the Dominion after one year of war.

BY PAUL FRIGGENS
NEA Service Correspondent

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 14—Up here in Canada they have just begun to fight.

That is the inescapable impression you get of Dominion feeling after one year of war. You get it in the mushroom army camps with their dusty, rutty streets, flanked by row after row of unpainted new barracks, others going up; from the smooth-faced young flyers marching out to new airfields and climbing into new planes; from talk of two, three, even five years of war.

Canada joined Britain in war against Germany on Sept. 10, 1939. Only today is she finding her own strength. It has taken that long for 11,000,000 people in the third largest country in area on earth to start their war machine rolling. Now they are spending $3,000,000 every 24 hours in a gigantic dual effort to make Canada safe and to pull Britain through.

A year ago Canada had an army of barely 100,000. Today every able-bodied man between 21 and 45 has been registered for military service. Thirty thousand will be trained every 30 days. Last September the Canadian navy had 15 ships and 1800 men. Today it has 115 ships and 10,000 men. The air force a year ago totaled 150 to 200 ships and 3,000 men, including ground crews. Today Canada is fast becoming the great air training center for the entire empire.

Center Of Empire Air Training

It is this air training program, called the Commonwealth plan, that will be Canada's major contribution to the war. Formulated last winter, this plan was designed to train young pilots in Canada—recruits from Australia, New Zealand, the British Isles and the Dominion. The first of these some 3,500 are now commencing courses as pilots, gunners, observers, the beginning of an inexhaustible supply for the R. A. F.

To train these men the British Empire is spending $600,000,000 at the outset, of which Canada is supplying half. By the close of this year at least 40 flying schools will be in operation. By June 1941, another 30 probably will be open. Nearly 50 entirely new airdromes are now under construction and 30 existing airports are being extended.

It takes from 24 to 28 weeks to train a flying man under this plan. Canada is satisfied with only meticulous instruction. By Sept. 1, 1941, she expects to turn out 1,000 to 1,200 pilots a month. The peak of production, 1,500 per month, is scheduled for early in 1942. At that point the air training program will require 40,000 personnel alone.

Fall of France and the Low Countries temporarily crippled the plan, Britain, under the blow, was forced to suspend shipment of 1,500 trainer planes. To meet this serious deficiency 5,000 airplane motors and a few training ships were purchased from United States. Nine Canadian firms went to work. 75 to 100 planes a month are now coming from these Canadian plants, but belatedly. Early in 1941, however, says C. D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply, Canada will produce 350 planes per month.

Little Navy On Big Job

At the outset of war the tiny Canadian navy faced a staggering task—conducting convoys to Britain and defending two coasts. The navy then had 15 vessels and 1,800 men. Today it has 115 vessels, 10,000 men. By early 1941 it will have 215 vessels, 25,000 men.

At least 14,000 more men are at work today in Canadian shipyards on the St. Lawrence, Great Lakes and both coasts, engaged in a $100,000,000 naval program. The navy is building 54 "corvettes," small ships designed to serve several functions, 28 mine sweepers, as well as converting passenger ships into armed cruisers.

Six days after declaration of war Canada convoyed its first group of ships. It has convoyed 2,000 ships since then, lost only six.

Canada has about 100,000 troops when war was declared. An estimated 40,000 to 50,000 are serving overseas and 100,000 are in service at home. More will be recruited but not for service abroad.

Canada is stressing home defense. To build this Canada has in addition to the regular army a Non-Permanent Active Militia (National Guard) of 88,000 men, over half of whom are now enrolled. This is the real backbone of the army. But to make it more so Canada has just completed registration of every male over 16 and any man between 21 and 45 may be called for 30 days training in every year as part of the militia. Beginning this month the army will turn out 30,000 men every 30 days at 30 training centers throughout the Dominion.

Nearly 1,000,000 unmarried men between 21 and 45 will be available for military training under the nationwide militia plan.

Industry In Step

At the same time industry is doing its part, has reached its highest peak of production. At least 600 mechanized units a day are now being produced—trucks, gun towing vehicles, motor cars, ambulances. Canadian orders placed for mechanical transport alone now exceed $55,000,000. Tank production this year is slated to reach 30 a day.

But for all this the Canadian is paying a staggering bill. A married man with no dependents making $1500 a year pays $30 national defense tax alone. He would pay $75 on $2,000, $195 on $3,000, $355 on $4,000, $555 on $5,000 and $2,170 on $10,000.

In addition there are heavy provincial income taxes. A man making $500,000 a year in Saskatchewan this year will pay $538,000 provincial and federal income taxes. He must borrow $38,000 to meet the bill. And in Canada the war has just begun!

IN THE MIDDLE OF WAR, and apparently liking it, are these Canadian tars, pictured aboard their royal navy vessel in an English port.

BRINGING THE WAR HOME to Canada with visual proof, these German prisoners are shown at an internment camp. The captives were brought from the British Isles.

Thirty-One NYA Jobs Will Be Available

Jobs for 31 students of Senior High school are to be available through the National Youth administration, according to Deans Dan W. Powers and Ethel Terrell. Appointments will be made during this week, they said.

In order to hold these jobs students must be carrying three or more courses, be at least 16 years old and need the work to continue their high schooling.

Students who hold NYA jobs may work a maximum of 30 hours per month at 20 cents an hour, so $6 is full pay for a month's work. Any student who fails two or more courses or who does not work at least 15 hours a month will be dropped from the rolls.

Prediction Of Blast Made In Newspaper

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. (AP)—PM, New York afternoon newspaper, predicted 12 days ago that the Hercules Powder company plant at Kenvil, N. J., would be dynamited by German saboteurs.

Henry Paynter, assistant managing editor of the newspaper, said on Sept. 2 in a story on fifth column activities that the dynamiting and other acts of sabotage in this country were plotted at a meeting of "Hitler spies" to coincide with the start of an invasion attempt against Great Britain.

Cuba has an area of 41,164 square miles.

Faculty Meet Is Announced

Because of the staggered schedule in Senior High school, the first faculty meetings for both Junior and Senior High school will be held the morning of Sept. 28. The schedule for teachers in Senior High school begins at 8 a. m. and is complete at 5 p. m., so it would be impossible to have meetings during the day when all teachers could attend, Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of the secondary curriculum explained.

Coordinators of the various fields in the two schools are scheduled to meet at 9 o'clock, with a meeting of the Senior High faculty at 9:30. There is to be a guidance meeting at 10 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock coordinators will meet with the members of their department in the various rooms of the Senior High school building.

Departments with coordinators for the school year are: art, Mrs. Bruce Bryan; commercial, Floyd Honey; homemaking, Miss Gertrude Watson; industrial arts, G. E. Dawson; language arts, Miss Grace Padley; mathematics, Mrs. Vida Baisden; music, Mrs. E. E. Key; natural science, W. C. Watts; physical education, Ross Ayers; social science, Miss Kathleen Ingram.

Orchestra Students To Meet Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Beulah Dunn, director of orchestra in Junior and Senior High schools, will meet with students from the elementary schools who are interested in taking orchestra work, according to Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent. The meeting is to be held in the orchestra room at Junior High school.

Miss Dunn is asking that all students who apply to belong to the elementary orchestral group have at least one year's experience in playing their instruments. Students must own their own instruments in order to play in this group.

Parents who are interested in getting their students in this new class should meet with Miss Dunn on Wednesday at 4 o'clock in the Junior High orchestra room, Dr. Irvin said.

Dickens Library Will Be Aided With Funds

SPUR, Sept. 14 — Members of the Dickens County Library committee in a meeting here were advised that the commissioner's court would probably be aided by from $100 to $150 for purchase of books, Oscar Kelley, county school superintendent, said after the meeting. Mrs. M. H. Brannen is committee chairman.

The library has 1,500 volumes and has 600 registered borrowers. The library is operated in a room in the rear of the Fair store building. Members of the committee are engaged in a drive for additional funds to purchase more books.

SPUR FIRST BALE

SPUR — Elmer Bilberry of Soldier Mound brought the first 1940 cotton here. He had 1,510 pounds of snapped cotton that made 401 pounds of lint. Williamson Bros. ginned the bale. Bilberry received $41 in premium.

New Unit Serves College Section

Members of the newly-organized St. John's Methodist church will pass another milestone in the history of their organization today when services will be conducted in their new building at the corner of Fourteenth and Avenue X for the first time. The church was recently completed after being started on June 20

First milestone in the church's history was approval of the Northwest Texas conference here last November for organization of the new church. The second came with the call for a congregation and organization of the church in the Tech theater, January 14, 1940 with Rev. Luther Kirk as pastor. Date for charter members was held open until Feb. 25 at which time the church membership totaled 100.

To Serve Campus Area

The church was established to serve the needs of Methodist residents in the neighborhood of the Texas Technological college campus, and members of the Tech faculty. Its membership will be made up largely of Tech people and students.

The new church, of mission type architecture, land and furnishings represent an investment of approximately $15,000.

The station superintendent and a veteran staff member, Frank Gaines, inspect a new type of cotton being grown at the station.

Jones and Gaines standing in some of the drouth-resistant milo which the station has been a leader in developing.

Don Jones And Staff Strive Constantly To Keep Ahead Of Agricultural Problems

THREE miles east of Lubbock, amidst a group of tree-surrounded buildings you may find a sun-tanned man with a friendly smile sitting at a desk poring over a book of records and charts. If he is not there go out into the well-tended fields nearby and you'll probably find him supervising some work there or making a close observation of some particular variety of a South Plains farm crop.

The smile widens and an even friendlier grin as you approach. An extended hand welcomes you to the State Experiment station and its genial superintendent Don L. Jones, inquires how he can be of any service.

Many Visit Station Yearly

That same greeting is extended to banker or tenant farmer alike and more than 5,000 persons are recipients of that welcome every year. Practically every visitor has a problem to be solved and usually before he leaves he has some definite information on that problem and its potential solution.

The experiment station and its superintendent have the confidence of the farmers of this section because of several factors the main one being that the station was established here in 1911 before the start of major emigration into this territory and it has had the opportunity to analyze not a lot of the problems of agriculture before the people moved in.

Constantly On The Alert

The station, through its superintendent and staff is constantly on the alert for new problems of South Plains agriculture as they arise and working to bring about some sort of solution for them.

"This country is adapted to rather large-scale farming due to the fact that rainfall is uncertain and in the better years there is enough income to take care of the poorer years," Jones said. "And because of the great initial and maintenance lack of hand power coupled with the tractor the man can farm a large unit of land and economically. I believe I'm sticking my neck out when I say this but this is what modern machinery will do for the present agriculture of this area."

Provides Year-Round Program

"We [illegible] well suited to cotton because [illegible] is a dry weather plant and grain sorghum are more drouth resistant than corn. [illegible] livestock should or plan to [illegible] and where the [illegible] lands. You take the two things and you have the elements for a good feeder [illegible] because we have so much roughage from the sorghums and the cottonseed products. Cotton gives the country a cash crop and the sorghums provide for the feeding of livestock which gives the farmers a year-round program.

An example of the station's attempt to meet the growing needs of the section's agricultural problems is the station that been for more than [illegible] conducting experiments to find out the most suitable for [illegible] harvesting and [illegible] grain sorghums [illegible] be combined.

Got To Anticipate Needs

"We [illegible] anticipate the needs of the future," Jones said. "The farmer is [illegible] back [illegible] for the tractor and combining of grain sorghums [illegible] to come in the immediate future."

The station has been conducting experiments on most [illegible] of milo for several years and now has a hybrid which produces 24 bushels compared to eight bushels per acre of the non-resistant type. More diseases in the future are sure to come for sorghums and the farmer is going to have to work harder to keep his crops free as the land becomes more diseased," Jones points out.

Station Keeps Records

The station has records from its inception on the plantings, varieties, yields, spacing of plantings, dates of plantings, [illegible], weather conditions and other data which are available to farmers. This information is kept in yearly reports of the station and prove invaluable to the farmers of the section. Results of all experiments are recorded as bulletins form and made up in the annual report and any farmer having a distinct problem is given aid in the same way and from there on.

Such subjects as Cotton Variation, Soil [illegible] Varieties, Dates of Planting, Mechanical Harvesting of Cotton, "Treating Shocks for Northwest Texas," "Seed Treatment for Cotton," and many others have been published in bulletin form by Jones and other members of the experiment station staff.

Introduced Chinese Elm, Sudan

The station, through its former director, R. E. Karper, introduced the Chinese Elm into the South Plains and has [illegible] of it. The station is also responsible for the introduction of Sudan as a pasture crop in this area.

The station, through a [illegible] Frank Gaines, has been conducting experiments [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] Plains agriculture and is certain to become more so in the future. Gaines has been at the station since 1928.

The station is the father of grain sorghums work and its "Premium Red Resistant Milo" is being planted extensively throughout Northwest Texas. Its development was brought about through selection of hardy plants in diseased land which were found to be naturally immune from that blight.

To Donald LaHaye Jones agriculture has been the vocation since [illegible] of Wisconsin where he studied a year of a liberal course.

Born In Wisconsin

Born in Burlington, Wisconsin, April 13, 1892, the son of Charles A. Jones, a real estate man, young Jones received his early education in the public schools of Burlington.

After completing his work at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, he worked in a bank at Burlington for a year and on a ranch in Wyoming.

On a vacation in 1915 he came to the South Plains with a friend who owned some land in this area and was so impressed by this country that he returned a year later for a longer visit and paid a call on R. E. Karper, then director of the experiment station.

Started With R. E. Karper

Explaining the valuables of the agricultural possibilities of this section, Jones was offered a job at the station by Karper and the next year, April 1917, he returned to Lubbock to make his home. He worked at the station until 1923 when he was appointed superintendent of the station at Chillicothe, a position he held two years.

In 1925 Karper was moved to College Station where he later became vice director of the Texas stations and Jones was named superintendent, a post he has held ever since.

In the late twenties Jones met another agricultural worker in this area, Miss Lottie Dreeman, county home demonstration agent of Castro county, and on Aug. 11, 1931, they were married here. They have three children, Don, Jr., 6, a first-grader student in Central Ward; Nancy Ann, 3, and Charles Robert, 11 months.

Outstanding Agricultural Leader

Jones's mother, Mrs. Charles A. Jones, is still living and resides with a daughter, Miss Irene Jones, in Los Angeles. Capt. A. brother, C. A. Jones, Jr., is an electrical engineer in Milwaukee, Wis.

Don Jones is one of the outstanding leaders of Texas agriculture and is constantly being called on to appear at various agricultural conferences. He is a member of the American Society of Agronomy, and the Texas Agricultural Workers association. He judged nearly everything to be judged at the Panhandle-South Plains fair in its early days and served as president of the association in 1937. He was also a director of the association for a number of years and has served as superintendents of various departments.

A deacon in the First Presbyterian church, Jones is active in its affairs. He is a director in the Lubbock Rotary club and served as the club's president in 1937. He is a member of the Masonic lodge.

Golf His Main Hobby

Jones is a director in Lubbock Country club and a good golf game is one of his most favorite pastimes. He declares he is "next to the worst golfer in the club" and in the next breath boasts that the only man he can beat consistently is W. L. Stangel, Tech animal husbandry department head with whom he plays most of the time.

At the station, besides Gaines he has two student assistants, W. L. Jones and Harold Lynn, both of Lubbock and a staff of three laborers who carry on the work of the institution.

"We only want to help solve the problems of agriculture in the area in which we are located," Jones will tell you. "When we fail to do that we have no excuse for continuation of the work."

New Vitamin, Biotin, Is Most Powerful And Potent Physiological Substance Discovered

DETROIT, Sept. 14 (AP)—A new vitamin, biotin, the most potent and powerful physiological substance ever discovered, was described to the American Chemical society here today.

Biotin, a colorless crystal, has been a chemical mystery for two years since the Netherlands scientists F. Kogel and B. Toenes extracted a barely visible quantity from 2550,000 Chinese duck egg yolks.

The mystery was cleared by a symposium here of some of America's foremost chemists who have been experimenting.

Biotin proves to be part of the vitamin B complex, which makes it vital for man even before human tests have been tried. It is so powerful it is measured in thousands of a millionth of a gram.

Without it, yeast germs the autobacter which fix nitrogen for plant growth are unable to work. This fixation is the base of all plant life and therefore biotin is probably a primary source of all the food on earth.

Grizzled Veteran Wanting To Move; It's Too Crowded

POINT BARROW, Alaska, Sept. 14 (AP)—Charlie Brower, grizzled veteran of the Arctic who recalls that once he was the only white man north of Nome, would like to move.

The census shows 25 white residents. That is the largest in the history of Barrow, the farthest North American community.

Brower declares "it's getting too crowded."

CANDY MONEY BUYS BONDS

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—Winnipeg children are showing the way to turn candy and picture shows into War Savings bonds. There are about 36,000 students in 54 schools and they already have bought $2,800 worth of War Savings stamps.

'Lucky Seven' To Get Together Again Soon

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (AP) — The "Lucky Seven" will get together once again.

They started out to fight for Finland. They signed up and were ready to embark when peace came. Now they're going to do their bit for the British.

The "Lucky Seven" are seven school chums of Minnesota. They made a pact together to do something big and worthwhile—but as a unit.

Six of them are in Windsor, Ontario, already enlisted in the Finnish-Swedish American volunteer squadron.

Number seven is Blond Wendell Nelson, who quit a good job in Houston to complete the "lucky seven." He joined his pals Aug. 15. The seven will add to Britain's pilot corps.

"We know it's not going to be fun," Nelson said. "We know what we're getting into. But it's one of those things you feel like you ought to do."

The United States has no native supply of nickel. Most of that metal consumed here comes from Canada, which country produces 88 per cent of the total world output.

BACK TO SCHOOL WITH 35,000,000 CHILDREN

35,000,000 children are returning to school during September. 2,000,000 of them will be seriously handicapped in their studies because of poor eyesight. Some of the 2,000,000 are in our town. Can we afford to have our children a poor start on the school year? Make sure your child's eyes are in perfect working order.

More Than 100 Questions Must Be Answered By Prospective Army Draftees

Eligibility To Be Established

BY E. C. DANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 — The prospective draftee's first weapon will be a well-sharpened pencil or a well-filled pen.

And his first order under the compulsory military service program due to become law in a few days will be to attack a questionnaire more lengthy than an income tax blank and as searching as a census-taker's list of inquiries.

By this means, assuming Congress finally approves a 21 through 35 age range, the government expects hundreds of local draft boards to find out how many of the 1,500,000 male citizens in that age group will be eligible and qualified for military service.

More Than 100 Questions

The questions number more than 100. They ask everything from the state of health of a man's wife to whether he himself is in jail. Not all of them will have to be answered by any one registrant, but only those which apply in his case.

The questionnaire will be distributed soon after registration and will have to be returned in five days. On the basis of the replies the local selective service boards will arrange the classifications of potential conscripts. For example, if a man's wife was an invalid and he was her sole support, he obviously would be qualified for deferment.

The eight pages of questions are divided into 13 series covering these general subjects:

Subjects To Be Covered

1—Physical condition (men with certain physical handicaps will be deferred).

2—Dependency (those with dependents who rely solely on them for support will be deferred).

3—Information for military and naval authorities (to become a part of each drafted soldier's army record).

4—Religious conviction against war, if any (those with a well-founded record as conscientious objectors wil be exempted from combatant service).

5—Legislative, executive and judicial officials (various high government officials will be automatically deferred).

6—Federal, state, territorial, county, and municipal employes (those with important jobs vital to defense will be excluded).

7—Marine pilots (persons so employed may be deferred).

8—Minister of religion (may be deferred).

9—Agricultural occupation (farmers may be deferred as important to national defense).

10—Other occupation (those with important defense jobs will be deferred).

11—Citizenship (aliens will not be taken except when they are in process of bocoming citizens).

12—Claim record (convicts will be excluded from service).

13—Claim or waiver of claim for deferred classification (each man will be entitled to state his claim for deferment, if any, to be passed on by the local board. He can appeal the local board's decision to an appeal board and from there to the president).

Affidavits Required

No man's answers will be taken for granted. Supporting affidavits will be required of those claims as dependents and of the man's employer or business associates.

The questions were prepared by the joint army and navy selective service committee.

The registrant's vital statistics—birth date, race and the like—and his description will be entered upon a card when he registers, and he will be given a smaller, similar registration certificate which says, "carry this card with you at all times."

The questionnaire will come next; then, classification; and, finally, the draft itself.

Personal information and that on dependents, court records, and such will be kept confidential.

Among the questions are these:

Have you any physical defects?

What is your usual occupation? Weekly wage or income?

State your relation to agriculture . . . .

How many persons are doing the same kind of work that you are, in the plant where you work?

To what country do you owe allegiance?

Silk Army Parachute Now Evening Gown

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14 (U.P.) — A parachute has become an evening gown for Miss Frances Taylor of Fort Worth.

The 'chute was one released during recent aerial exercises near Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex. A soldier friend of Miss Taylor obtained one from a small boy who had found it, and sent it to her. The parachute had been used to release flares.

Miss Taylor said that the 21 yards of excellent quality Chinese silk were more than ample to make her evening gown, complete with a voluminous skirt.

Texas game wardens have found eagles' nests that measured six feet in diameter.

Oldest Business Firm In Amarillo Comes To End; Smithy Closes Up

AMARILLO, Sept. 14. (U.P.) — The romantic era on the Panhandle-Plains came closer to its end today with the passing of the city's oldest business institution — the blacksmith's shop.

John Ridings, pioneer Amarillo resident, recently closed his smithy shop and sold his building and equipment at public auction.

The saga of ridings and his 50 years of smithing parallels the story of the development of the cattle and wheat country of the Panhandle. His is a story forged as indeliably into the history of the state as the marks of the branding irons he hammered burnt into the flesh of "whitefaces" of the cattle country.

Ridings came as a small lad to Amarillo with his father, A. L. Ridings. In 1890 his father opened a blacksmith shop and it has continued in operation by the family through the years that saw the horse, the boots, the branding irons dominant in the life of the range.

The smith's shop moved several times. The first building, Ridings said, was an extremely fragile structure.

"When the wind blew right hard, I never knew which side of the street that building was going to end up on. The roof would whip up and down and the side boards would push in and out."

John Ridings entered the blacksmithing business against the wishes of his father.

"Father never did want me to get started in smithing," he said, "and as a young fellow I tried my hand at being a cow-boy. Worked for the old XIT in 1891 and the next year moved out to New Mexico and worked on the old Circle S ranch."

He soon "got his fill" of that and returned to Amarillo to enter partnership with his father. The father and son worked together until about 15 years ago when the elderly man dropped out of business affairs.

Now Ridings will retire. He will keep his hand in iron work, however, by setting up a portable forge at his home and making fancy iron grill work.

Spur Public Schools Enrollment Is Active

SPUR, Sept. 14 — School enrollment in the Spur schools was 772 the first day, including 264 in the high school; 279 in East ward and 229 in the grade department, said O. C. Thomas, superintendent.

New courses in chemistry, farm shop and physical education are being offered in the high school. High school classes are: first year, 74; second year, 64; third year, 76 and fourth year, 50.

George Scalise Facing Prison

BY EARL B. STEELE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 — George Scalise, former $1,666 a month president of the Building Service Employes International union, was found guilty today of stealing from the union's treasury, built up by the 35 cents a month dues of charwomen, chamber maids and janitors.

He was convicted of one count of grand larceny and four counts of third degree forgery. The jury failed to agree on five counts of larceny and embezzlement.

Bond Is Revoked

Judge Jacob Gould Schurman, jr. revoked Scalise's bond of $25,000 and committed him to Tombs prison. He will be sentenced Sept. 27.

The maximum penalty on the counts on which Scalise was convicted is 50 years imprisonment.

In 1913, Scalise was sentenced to four and a half years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for white slavery and was making his third attempt to regain his civil rights through a presidential pardon at the time of his arrest on the theft charge.

The larceny count of which Scalise was convicted charged that he appropriated $2,857 in union funds on deposit in the Sterling National bank in New York on March 29, 1940. The four forgery counts accused him of submitting false expense accounts to the union for the months of June and October, 1937; February, 1938, and August, 1939.

The five larceny counts on which the jury disagreed charged him with the theft of $9,662.

He said he was 44, that he was born in Italy, that he was a citizen of the United States by virtue of his father's naturalization. He said his occupation was labor leader, and that he was "moderate as to alcoholic drinks."

Scalise's criminal past was brought to light in April by Westbrook Pegler, syndicated newspaper columnist, along with the disclosure that he was applying a third time for a presidential pardon and that William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, with which the BSEIU is affiliated, had recommended it.

Some Withdrawn

Originally Scalise was charged in 60 counts with the theft of $60,087 from the union but 35 counts were withdrawn by the prosecutor before the case went to the jury and 15 were stricken out by Judge Schurman, as having been insufficiently proved.

Evidence was that Scalise drew more than $190,000 in salary and expenses during his 35 months as president of the union. He resigned the office last April after he had been indicted in another case on charges of having conspired with others to extort $100,000 from hotels and other firms with threats of causing them labor trouble.

America Gains Wine Freedom

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—The American wine industry has just freed itself from all dependence on Europe by the perfection and development of its own cultured yeast strains necessary for the best qualities of wine, authorities announced here.

The successful perfection of these strains follows years of laboratory work carried on under the direction of Dr. Leonora Hohl, University of California Fruit Products Laboratory.

A first "yeast farm" has just been opened at Fresno, Cal., center of California's wine industry.

There one small test tube of wine yeast culture grows into 7,000 gallons of the product in less than a week. Heretofore, California as well as eastern wine growers in New York, Ohio and elsewhere have been dependent on European growers for this product.

These cultured yeasts are used in the fermentation of the grapes to assure well-balanced wines of uniform quality, it was explained. Such uniformity and quality are not always attained if only the unculturred yeasts found in all grapes are used in the fermentation process.

Man Is Proud Of His Receipt For Speeding

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 14 (AP) —Bernie R. Meidinger of Louisville is one of those fellows who's proud of a receipt for speeding.

In Indiana the other day, Meidinger was arrested by a state policeman and haled before a judge who fined him $1 and costs of $5.

The receipt was signed:

"Jesse James, magistrate."

HEAVENLY MESSENGER

To encourage Alaskan students to attend the University of Alaska at Fairbanks, the territory pays half the fare to and from Fairbanks.

It Was Fun Until He Stuck His Foot Into His Own Straw Hat

DALLAS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Police statistician Paul Jester had more fun today trampling straw hats.

First he walked on Sergeant Ben Wicker's hat.

Then he trampled Lieutenant Flay Nelson's.

Quickly he seized Captain B. B. Smith's and shoved his foot through it.

The lieutenant placed the hat on Policeman Bud King's head and just let nature take its course.

King sauntered past Jester, who seized the hat and jumped on it with both feet, gleefully.

It was more fun, until he realized it was his own hat.

An air-conditioned bed which cools the sleeper in summer and warms him in winter has been devised by the University of Washington.

District Camporee Is Held At Crosbyton

CROSBYTON, Sept. 14. (Special) —Approximately 35 Boy Scouts from Floydada, Ralls and Crosbyton participated in the annual northeastern district camporee which started Friday afternoon and closed at noon today.

Featured were a chicken barbecue given by Crosbyton Lions and a campfire program Friday night and contests this morning. F. G. Green was camp marshal, Wiley Curry was chief judge and C. H. Lodal, scoutmaster of troop 35 sponsored by the Lions, was director of activities.

Pampa Couple Learns To Fly At Same Time

CLINTON, Okla., Sept. 14 (U.P.)— The flying Browns of Pampa, Tex., soon are going to have their private pilot licenses and an airplane and will be flying to Clinton instead of driving here twice a week for flight instruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Brown, the Texans who have been making the 180-mile automobile trip here for several weeks, made their solo flights the other day. When they get pilot's licenses, Brown's father, also of Pampa, plans to buy a four-passenger cabin plane so the family can "go sashaying around" over the country.

The Texans are taking instruction from Major H. R. Gilchrist, Clinton aviation instructor. Mrs. Brown was the second woman student to make a solo flight since Gilchrist established his school here last fall.

Community Included In Marketing Program

CROSBYTON, Sept. 14 — Sixty-eight farmers in the Farmer community in northeastern Crosby county, just across the line from the Lockney and Aiken communities in Floyd county, have had their one-variety cotton project included with Floyd county's cotton marketing program to sell direct to the spinner, Ralph Howe, county farm agent, announced.

Howe received a letter from D. F. Bredthauer, Floyd agent, saying the project had been approved. The farmers have paymaster cotton growing on 3,850 acres. The community is west of Cone.

The state extension service expects to be able to sell at least 30,000 bales direct to spinners, instead of through brokers. Cotton must have a staple length of 15-16 inch to 31-32 inch. The U. S. surplus marketing administration is working on the program.

In the Hale-Floyd area is now included Crosby county. Other areas are at Greenville, Dallas, Paris and Munday.

Blond Glamorist Is Success; Each Of Husbands Better

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14—Behind the screen: Lots of weddings lately, including the third for an aspiring blond glamorist who remarked to her friends: "Well, I'm improving—I'm marrying a better man each year."

Lots of divorces, too, but with no definite word yet from that hot-headed pair who have quarreled and made up so often.

Among the new songs is a little number by Johnny Shaw titled: "If Every Man Is as True to His Country as He Is to His Wife, God Help the U. S. A."

Gone With The Fan

ANYTHING goes in the way of advertising among the theaters and tawdry five joints along South Main street, which is Los Angeles' Bowery. Movie houses think up suggestive new titles for perfectly innocuous pictures, sometimes displaying shocking lobby posters which have nothing to do with the film, and even restricting patronage to "Adults Only." . . . One spot now seems to be offering "Gone With the Wind" for 25 cents, only it turns out to be a veil dance performed in front of some electric fans by a gal called Torchia . . . . And among the photographs of hostesses displayed in front of a taxi dance palace is an alluring portrait of Miss Rita Hayworth.

Short On Romance

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON is about to close that long and prosperous tour of "Springtime for Henry" and comes back for a leading role in "You're the One." . . . Bob Taylor has almost no romance in "Flight Command," but plenty of action.

THERE'S a new deal for decorum among the adolescent playboys and gals of the colony. A curfew law says people under 18 can't be out, without adults, after 9 p. m. on county property. And that includes the Sunset Strip, on which most of the night spots are located.

JIMMY CAGNEY has a new party trick: sings "Alice Blue Gown" in Yiddish. . . . You'd never guess that a job in Central Casting would be dangerous, yet two officials who portion out jobs to extras were attacked the other day by a couple of atmosphere actors with knives. . . . Ho-hum department: Linda Darnell's kisses in technicolor cost $500 each, declare studio publicists. The modest actress blushes so deeply that each scene has to be halted while the color subsides.

Favorites Are Teamed Again

WILLIAM POWELL and Myrna Loy, co-starring today at the Palace in "I Love You Again," hit an all-time high for the number of laughs per second.

Taking a ne wturn, inasmuch as no "Thin Man" mystery or tactics are involved, the story deals with the plight of a man who suddenly recovers from an eight-year attack of amnesia only to discover that he has acquired a new personality, a wife, a bank account, a spotless reputation in the town and the manager's berth in a large pottery works.

Returns To Old Love

The fact that he decides to use all of these facts in returning to his former business of being a high-class crook, makes for fast, comical and laugh-packed entertainment.

Powell in his role before he shakes his amnesia gives a new characterization as a stuffy, egotistical, complete teetotaler and downright bore.

Miss Loy is not the perfect wife in this one and, instead of chasing after her husband, he is forced to chase after her. Not only is she getting a divorce but her next husband is already chosen.

A strong supporting cast includes Frank McHugh, Edmund Lowe, Donald Douglas and Nella Walker.

Strong Drama At Tower

"My Son, My Son," Howard Spring's best seller, featuring Brian Aherne, Madeleine Carroll, Louis Hayward, Henry Hull, Josephine Hutchinson, Sophie Stewart and Laraine Day returns today for showing at the Tower.

The story of the picture revolves around the dreams of two men who are life-long friends. Aherne and Hull get married while both are comparatively unknown. When each has a son they make their plans for the children. Aherne plans a glorious future for his son.

How these plans are carried through amid changing times and unexpected drama make the production intensely interesting.

The film picks up where "Young Tom Edison" left off and opens at the Golden Jubilee of Light in 1929 where Edison is being honored.

Via flashback the story actually begins in 1879 in the gas light era of New York and totals Edison's achievements as the world knows them.

Rita Johnson has an exceptional role as Edison's wife and others of the cast are Lynne Overman, Charles Coburn, Gene Lockhart and Henry Travers.

Action At Cactus

Action and excitement in a documentary historical story will be seen at the Cactus today with showing of "The Real Glory."

There's love interest but this is a secondary quality. The comedy is limited and the one who supplies it meets a tragic end.

"The Real Glory" details how the peaceful majority of the Philippine island natives, terrorized by superstition and the marrow-melting fear of savage Moros, attained a national unity.

Gary Cooper and Andrea Leeds are the stars of the piece and are well supported by such actors as David Niven, Reginald Owen, Broderick Crawford and Kay Johnson.

JOIN HOSPITAL STAFF

LITTLEFIELD — Miss Marie Raley, R. N. of Temple, is the new office nurse for Dr. C. E. Payne in the Payne-Shotwell hospital. She succeeds Miss Velma Kimmell, who resigned to marry. Bennet B. Pesis, a registered technician, has taken the place of Miss Sue Payne, who accepted a similar post in Lubbock. Miss Madell Johnson of Lubbock is the new head surgical nurse.

Friday and Saturday: "Wings Of The Navy" with George Brent, Olivia de Havilland.

NEW CASTRO GROUP

DIMMITT — A new Castro county Agricultural Adjustment administration committee, headed by Milt Ott as chairman, has been formed here. Press H. Dyer was named vice chairman, he was formerly chairman; Eugene L. Ivey was also renamed.

Myrna Loy and William Powell are the stars of the laugh riot, "I Love You Again," now showing at the Palace.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Josephine Hutchinson, as they appear in "Tom Brown's School Days," coming to the Palace Thursday.

Louis Hayward and Brian Aherne will be seen today at the Tower in "My Son, My Son."

"Captain Caution" To Offer Fast Action At Broadway

Dr. Kildare Is Back At Lyric

ACTION, speed, dash and more action, with men battling in boatloads, in groups and en solo, with cannon, pistol, knife and fist—that is "Captain Caution," which opens today at the Broadway.

The role which gives the film its name is played by Victor Mature, who comes to grips with Bruce Cabot, cast as a slayer, pirate and internationalist for profit, in the melee which follows upon the last of several ship-to-ship battles which make up the picture.

No Punches Pulled

Although the story is concerned with American and British ships in 1812 and the war of that year enters into it, the war is not refought for occasion and neither is the dialogue tempered to fit 1940 circumstances. On the contrary, the American girl whose father is killed by a British shell and who sets out to sail her vessel as a privateer against the British for vengeance, speaks the words her counterpart of 1812 might have spoken. There are no hands-across-the-sea concessions.

The film contains a number of characterizations which are worthy of mention. Leo Carrillo as a French-Canadian furnishes a blend of humor and bombast; Vivienne Osborne, an etching of Parisian vivacity; El Brendel a demonstration in dialect set to music, and Pat O'Malley a bit that stands out above many.

Louise Platt has the leading feminine role of the picture.

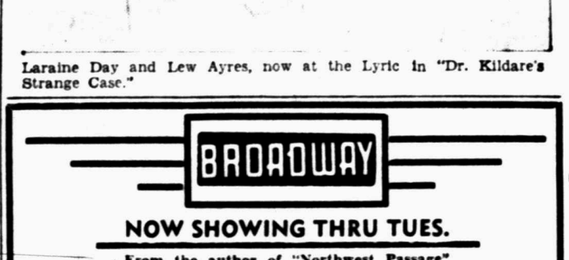

Dr. Kildare At Lyric

Another in the series of Dr. Kildare pictures will be seen today at the Lyric when the semi-professional, semi-platonic bickering between the senior Dr. Gillespie and the young medico, Dr. Kildare, is continued in "Dr. Kildare's Strange Case."

Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore again are the two professional principals and Laraine Day again is the romantic and pulchritudinous asset.

Others of the Kildare cast include Samuel S. Hinds, Emma Dunn, Alma Kruger and the comedy team of Nat Pendleton and Marie Blake.

The case concerns a brain operation patient who loses his mind. It is the business of Dr. Kildare to bring the sufferer back to normalcy.

Laraine Day and Lew Ayres, now at the Lyric in "Dr. Kildare's Strange Case."

Spencer Tracy is the star of "Edison, The Man," opening today at the Texan.

"Swiss Family Robinson" Is Adventure Thriller At Tech

"Coast Guard" On At Arcadia

SOMETHING new in film entertainment is promised at the Tech theater today with the screening of "Swiss Family Robinson," a story which deals intimately and vividly with the adventures of a family wrecked on a South Sea island, and with their regeneration after a struggle with nature in the raw.

A Swiss merchant in London feels that the shames and pleasure-seeking of London society, coupled with the warlike atmosphere and uncertainty of the Napoleonic period, are rapidly spoiling his four children.

Hopes For New Life

In a desperate effort to make men of them, he sells his home and business and with his family takes passage for Australia, where he hopes to create a new life for those he loves. But the vessel is wrecked on a reef during a storm, and the Robinsons are the only survivors.

When the storm subsides, the Robinsons build a crude raft by which they reach a luxuriant tropical island. There they establish their home. After a series of adventures that tax their resources to the utmost and that provide a wealth of thrills for the audience, the father brings his family to a real understanding, reconciles his wife to his ideas, and sees the boys become the self-reliant young men that he hoped they would be. And when finally an English ship visits their island paradise, the Robinson family has found itself.

Mitchell Heads Cast

Thomas Mitchell plays the idealistic father. Edna Best, famous English actress, is seen as the wife who blames her husband for their plight. And the four boys are portrayed by Freddie Bartholomew, Terry Kilburn, Tim Holt and Baby Bobby Quillan.

Arcadia theater today again offers a double feature program for its patrons. The first will be "Coast Guard," featuring Randolph Scott, Frances Dee and Ralph Bellamy, with Walter Connally and Warren Hymer heading the supporting cast.

The second picture on the menu will be "The Champ."

The plot of "Coast Guard" finds Scott and Bellamy, the former a reckless aviator, the latter a steady, dependable lieutenant in the coast guard, as rivals for the hand of Miss Dee.

Scott wins but Miss Dee leaves him when she finds he likes to stay out with the boys too much. However, when Scott flies into the north on a rescue mission she realizes his bravery and waits for his return.

Randolph Scott, Frances Dee and Ralph Bellamy have the top roles of "Coast Guard," now at the Arcadia.

Officers Chosen By Homemaking Class

Class officers and committee members were named last week for the second year homemaking class in Frenship Rural High school.

Officers are: Dorothy Carr, chairman; Betty Joe Mitchell, vice chairman; Billie Nichols, secretary; Loleta Goss, treasurer; Marie Payne, reporter, and Mearl Wingfield, parliamentarian.

Chosen on committees were Elva Brooks, Thelma Sterling and Iantha Dumas, motto, and Wanda Bee Braley, Lena Bee Waldroup and Vona Mae Wheeler, program.

The class will conduct its next meeting Tuesday. Class colors are red, white and blue and the flower is the red rose. Booklets will be made for programs.

Tie dyeing and stencil work will be studied this year. The third year homemaking class will do craft work at club meetings.

Life Of Parson To Be Put On Screen

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14 (U.P.) — Warner brothers announced today the purchase of "One Foot in Heaven—The Life of a Practical Parson," biography of his father by Hartzell Spence, of the New York staff o fthe United Press.

Jack L. Warner, vice president in charge of production, said the biography would be filmed with an allstar cast to support the real-life Methodist minister the studio seeks to play the role of William H. Spence, the writer's clergyman father.

Bad Luck Follows This Woman On Trip

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14 (U.P.)—A group of Fort Worth friends hope that Mrs. J. E. Pope reached her destination in Los Angeles, because she was foiled in her first five attempts to visit her husband, a U. S. navy chief machinist.

Mrs. Pope's fifth interruption was an automobile accident, that sent her to a hospital here for five weeks. She was en route from South Carolina to Los Angeles.

When she left Fort Worth, Mrs. Pope had a nice collection of rabbits' feet, four leave clovers and assorted good luck charms that had been donated by well-wishers.

Ned Bradley's Band To Be Featured In "Howdy" Dance

When Ned Bradley's orchestra dishes up music for the eighth annual "Howdy" dance of Texas Technological college Monday night it may be one of a series of farewell engagements for several members of the aggregation.

The dance will start at 9 o'clock in Hilton hotel ballroom.

Bradley took over direction of the orchestra in 1932 and has played dances continuously since. During the summer the unit was in El Paso and nearby towns.

National Guard Members

But five or six members are members of the National Guard and are awaiting the downbeat on a bit of regular service, when and if, guardsmen are called.

There are 12 members of the band. The Howdy dance has been conducted for the college students since 1933 to help new students and old to become acquainted.

Personal Effects Of Stars Would Be Sold For Charity

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14—Newest notion in charity schemes is Anne Lehr's Hollywood Memento Mart, which will sell all sorts of personal items used and donated by celebrities. Thus tourists and local fans, visiting the Guild Thrift Shop, may buy a pair of Gable's shorts, Grable's hose, or a bathing suit outgrown by Madeleine Carroll.

Mrs. Lehr has wangled a lot of money from the screen colony for benevolent enterprises, but this is the first time she has asked the stars for their shirts. If they'll cooperate, the idea has sensational possibilities.

College fraternities and navy crews often write to the studios begging for a pair of Ann Sheridan's whatchamaycallums or a Dorothy Lamour sarong or one of Lana Turner's sweaters. I don't doubt they'd be willing to pay for such trophies.

Might Give A Corset

Greta Garbo's old shoes ought to find a ready market; and if toupees are offered, imagine how many undistinguished-looking males would like to own a collection of the scalplocks of screen idols. Mary Astor's old diary would be a novel item, and so would Mickey Rooney's address book. Mae West could donate a few corsets, though I'd prize more highly one of her slightly used diamond bracelets.

There's no doubting the appeal to fan-atics of any star-touched article. Let John Crawford toss away a cigaret before entering a theater and from the ensuing scramble you'd think she had discarded one of her star sapphires. I once saw a couple of girls grab and run with the straws from a soda Myrna Loy had been sipping.

Sometimes Lose Hair

Actresses caught in poorly-policed preview mobs have lost hats, purses, handkerchiefs, and even have had hunks scissored from their dresses or locks of hair cut off.

Local laundry managers are driven daffy by shortages on movie players' lists. Somewhere between collection and delivery, monogrammed shirts, underwear and handkerchiefs disappear. This isn't larceny; it's souvenir collecting.

Anyway it's far more understandable than the young man who was caught bailing water from Marlene Dietrich's swimming pool. He said he was going to sell it, like the Aga Khan's bathwater, which is peddled to the faithful.

Lana Turner's sweater, Betty Grable's hose and Dorothy Lamour's sarong . . . Anne Lehr would sell them for charity.

PLAINVIEW ENROLLMENT

PLAINVIEW — First day's school enrollment here was 1,982 pupils, O J Laas, superintendent, announced. There were 571 in the senior high school; 520 in the junior high school; 47 in the negro school and the remainder in three grade buildings.

Frozen crawfish tails are one of South Africa's exports to the United States.

"When Tomorrow Comes" Is Featured Today At Midway

Charles Boyer and Irene Dunne, who appear at the Midway today in "When Tomorrow Comes."

Here is Gary Cooper as he appears in "The Real Glory," current at the Cactus.

Robert Sterling and Ted North will be seen in "Yesterday's Heroes," with Jean Rogers, at the Broadway Friday.

Dunne, Boyer In Top Roles

THERE'S an unusual story which tops the week's program at the Midway theater, starting today. It's "When Tomorrow Comes," starring Charles Boyer and Irene Dunne.

The picture offers Boyer and Miss Dunne ample opportunity to display their artistry.

Accepts Stranger's Invitation

Miss Dunne is seen as Helen, a waitress who, because her restaurant is closed by a strike, accepts the invitation of a stranger, Philip, played by Boyer, to spend a day in the country with him. He tells her he is leaving for France in three days.

When the two are trapped by a hurricane and believe they are facing death, they confess their love for each other. Then Helen discovers that her companion is a married man.

Has Powerful Climax

The story has a powerful climax. Beginning as a tale of a light summer flirtation, it ends in startling emotional force.

In supporting roles to the two stars are Barbara O'Neil as Boyer's wife; Nella Walker as his mother-in-law; Nydia Westman as Miss Dunne's roommate, and Onslow Stevens as a radical labor leader.

Little Amarillo Girl Invites 'Pen Pal' To Be Visitor With Her

AMARILLO, Sept. 14 (U.P.) — Refuge on the peaceful Texas plains to replace bomb-weary Britain was offered by 14-year-old Betty Lucille Moore to her little English "pen pal" she has never seen.

Edna May Woodhouse, of Stapelford near Cambridge, Eng., was asked to come here as a respite from the European war.

Friendship between the two girls began several years ago when they started to correspond as part of class projects. Usually such arrangements die when the school term closes. But these two kept writing and before the war received letters weekly.

The two girls have similar interest. Both collect pictures, stamps and postcards.

"During the past year," Betty Lucille's mother said, "Edna May's letters have given us a very interesting insight into living conditions in England."

"The girl reports she has now been moved to a school that meets underground. Air is pumped into the chambers by means of heavy force pumps and children remain underground all day long."

If arrangements can be completed with evacuation authorities the English girl will live with this Amarillo family until the close of the war.

Writer Says Fields Plagiarized Story

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14 (U.P.)— A Hollywood writer charged today that W. C. Fields plagiarized the story and gags for the film "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man."

Harry Yadkoe sued Fields for $20,000 allegedly owed him on the script of a picture submitted to Fields. He said the scenario was entitled "Snake Story" and that it was filmed as "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man." He said Fields agreed to pay him for gags in the script, but didn't.

LOANS ARE MADE

DICKENS, Sept. 14 — Ninety Dickens county wheat producers have made loans on their 1940 wheat crop amounting to $32,250 on 38,870 bushels of wheat, it was announced by the Agricultural Adjustment administration office.

Only One Alien Asks For Registration

(By Staff Correspondent)

MULESHOE, Sept. 14 — Only one alien, a Mexican, has asked to be registered, says A. J. Gardner, postmaster.

The Mexican is an employe of the Santa Fe railroad and lives at Slaton. He has been living in the United States for 26 years, he told the postmaster, and at Slaton for over 15 years. Never has he taken out his first citizenship papers.

Powder Blast An Accident?; FDR Must Decide Soon On Status Of France In U. S.

Finger Points To Nazis

Products Intended For British

POSSIBLY the New Jersey powder plant explosion was an accident. But not likely. Until there is positive proof to the contrary, it must be assumed that it was the work of agents of the German government.

One reason for that assumption is that most of the plant's products were intended for British use against Germany. The Germans can't be blamed if they try to destroy factories of that kind. In their shoes, that is what we would try to do.

Another reason is that New Jersey is a hot-bed of fifth columnism. Its alien population is large. Its industrial areas have been fertile fields for radicalism of all kinds. It has some of the most active of the German-American bund units. Some of the model camps of the bund are located in that state. There is material in plenty in New Jersey for German use against the United States.

Therefore, it is not surprising that New Jersey was the scene of the first disaster which, until proved otherwise, can be attributed only to sabotage. It isn't likely to be the last disaster of that kind. Foreign agents, and especially those of Germany, will be certain to be scheming everlastingly to blow up every factory of every kind in this country which may be engaged in the production of any sort of arms. This nation's job is to try to block them.

Obviously, our first defenses against such perils are the men in various branches of government service, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the secret service, the intelligence and others. But they, at most, are a small group of men. They can't possibly be everywhere all the time.

Therefore, it is part of the duty of every patriotic American to be on the alert eternally for fift hcolumn activities. Collectively, patriotic Americans are everywhere all the time in their country. If they keep their eyes open and are as conscious of their Americanism as they should be, fifth columnists aren't likely to get very far with their plotting. It is entirely probable that if the patriotic Americans among the workers in the powder plant had been as alert as they should have been, this recent disaster would not have occurred.

However, it isn't enough for the patriotic American to be alert. If he sees anything to arouse his suspicion, he should report it as speedily as possible. Perhaps he may sound a false alarm. But would a million false alarms be considered waste if the result should be just one bit of information to prevent a catastrophe such as that in New Jersey?

Nor should the alertness be confined to any state or locality. It is needed everywhere by every patriot. That includes Lubbock and the South Plains. It is the tiny but vital bit of prevention against the disasters which will threaten on every hand all of the time so long as the nation's present period of peril continues.

A 'Washed Up' Politician

J. E. McDONALD, state commissioner of agriculture who is the Democratic nominee for a sixth term in that office, won a certain degree of admiration as a "rugged individualist" recently when he declared he intended to support the candidate for President who espoused the agricultural program that he—McDonald—considered best.

McDonald's statements, then and since, permitted only one supposition. That was that he intends to support Wendell Willkie, the Republican candidate.

But the commissioner has refused flatly and consistently to say definitely what he intends to do. He has lost much sympathy and admiration as result. It has tended in some degree to give the impression that he is a fence-straddler attempting to play both ends against the middle. Those are not qualities to be admired.

Reasons for his attitude are hard to understand. Very few people give a continental how he votes. He will swing very little strength. Furthermore, he has done just about as much damage to his political future in Texas as he possibly can do. If he declares for Mr. Willkie and the Republicans win, he may get a federal job.

But so far as Texas Democracy is concerned, he can be considered "washed up," even if he should now declare for the Democratic ticket.

OUR PLEDGE

You Can Take To The Woods Or Sea And Let Rest Of World Go By

Americans Turn To Solitary Ways

BY SAM JACKSON
AP Feature Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14—In a world disrupted by war and depression, an increasing number of Americans turn to strange and solitary ways of living.

Taking to the sea, to the mountains, or to the open road, they try to get away from it all.

California has attracted a large number of these self-elected hermits.

A good many of them get their names in official records.

If they are too eccentric in dress or behavior, the police pick them up. If they go to sea and get lost, the coast guard handles their cases. Some of them are on county relief rolls.

House On Stilts

Here is how some escape the turmoil of the modern world:

At Indio, William Prester lives high above the desert in a shack on stilts. He wears only shorts, sports a long beard and scans the horizon with telescopes of his own contrivance.

His neighbor, John Silva, spent 40 years in Ceylon, became a Buddhist monk and now styles himself Bhikkhu Silawansa.

At Woodland a bearded character known as "The Gopher" lives in a burrow in an open field. He is reputed to have considerable money—in a bank.

Henry Shaw occupies a shack of driftwood on the rocky coast at Fort Bragg. He is an Oxford graduate and a former Church of England clergyman.

High in the Santa Cruz mountains lives Mrs. Ernst Benninghoven. For years she was a religious writer and lecturer. Now she lives a solitary life and talks to her rare visitors in the language of the Bible.

An aged negro lives under a bridge near San Francisco.

Bearded, half-naked Willis R. Willey calls a crude house-car his home and travels from place to place with a coyote, two turtles and 14 opossums. He took to the road in 1921 after losing his Washington farm in litigation and is convinced that the married people of the country have it in for him and other bachelors.

Two Brother Johns, white-bearded and patriarchal, roam California. One wears a white robe and blows a trumpet.

Insists On Money

Most picturesque of the wandering brotherhood is Peter Voiss. A former prospector, he sticks to his covered wagon and burros and supports himself largely by charging camera enthusiasts for the privilege of taking his picture. A San Jose dentist refused the fee and snapped his camera anyway. Voiss shot him dead and was acquitted by a jury.

More sociable but nevertheless catering to the "get-away-from-it" spirit are the flourishing art colonies and religious centers.

The Theosophist colony at San Diego and Rosicrucian centers at San José and Oceanside are impressive. Their large buildings are set in beautiful grounds. In them many persons of wealth have sought EDWARD BORDEN in the small boat in which he and his wife made a safe crossing from California to Honolulu. This method of "escape" is quite common.

WILLIS R. WILLEY, at the door of his rolling home, holds two of his companions, a coyote and an opossum. He says he hasn't worn conventional clothes since 1918.

Another Blow At Hitler?

(The National Whirligig)

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT will soon be called upon to make a decision vitally affecting the status of conquered France and its relationship to the two principal belligerents—Germany and Great Britain. Present evidence indicates that he will deliver another blow at the head of Herr Hitler.

The new French ambassador—Gaston Henri-Haye—has come to the United States on two missions. He seeks to persuade the administration that France, as he hastened to say upon his arrival at the Washington airport, is "free," and not wholly subservient to Berlin. Then he will formally ask that the Treasury turn over to the Petain government the $2,000,000,000 worth of gold and securities which were shipped to this country before the fall of Paris. At the present moment, like the seized assets of other nations overrun by Hitler and Stalin, these have been sequestered by Henry Morgenthau for safekeeping.

It is exceedingly doubtful if M'sieu Henri-Haye can make good on his argument, despite Washington's wistful sympathy and friendship for the French. So far all signs suggest that Petain's is only a puppet government carrying out orders given by Hitler's Gauleiters. Treasury and State department lawyers working on the case have tentatively reached that conclusion. And the President, in line with his policy of reinforcing Britain, will take no chance that these funds fall into Hitler's hands.

EVIDENCE: Henry Wallace quickly backed away from his charge that Wendell Willkie is an "appeaser" when he learned that the G.O.P. planned to compare his non-war record with the Republican nominee's service in France. Now it develops that he will hurl the indictment at "other Republicans."

While he has not yet named the guilty persons or interests, Henry is aiming at important American industries with plants in Germany—Ford, International Harvester, General Motors, International Business Machines, etc. Most of the heads of these companies are supporting the Willkie-McNary ticket and, therefore, Henry classifies them as "Republican appeasers". He will base the indictment on the ground that, even before the war, these plants were utilized by Der Fuehrer in his rearming program. Since the war, of course, they have been virtually taken over for manufacture of weapons.

It is true that in the early days of the conflict certain industrialists caught in the Hitler net labored feverishly for peace. They commuted across the ocean in an attempt to prevent a world conflagration. Therein lies the substance of the Wallace accusation. But if the vice-presidential candidate will consult the secret files of the National Defense commission, he will discover that these corporations have a perfect record for cooperation with the government.

BELIEF: Chairman Fiorello LaGuardia has reported to President Roosevelt that it will require no great expenditure of money or time to prepare Canadian bases for use by American forces.

"All we have to do in most places," says the mayor with exaggerated picturesqueness, "is to spend $25 to erect a new pole with an American flag at the top." What he means is that, with respect to our aerial forces, it will take little time to construct runways, repair shops, storage centers, administrative buildings. Harbors are already available for naval planes needing only additional runways and hangars to make them ready for operation. Thus it appears—and Mr. LaGuardia admits it—that the chief importance of the bases obtained from Canada and Britain will be their value as aviation outposts—when we get the planes.

LaGuardia also notes a preparedness factor hitherto unmentioned in formal or informal discussion of the move to acquire this series of bases. He points out that if aerial warfare makes the same progress in the next two decades that it has since the World War, these advanced airports will prove invaluable. They may make it possible to meet invaders from the sky far off the coast, and thus save crowded cities and strategic production centers from direct assault. Hitler's ability to strike at the heart of England during the present blitzkrieg demonstrates the need for offshore defenses, in World War Flier LaGuardia's opinion.

WARNED: Our naval and military experts do not share the general opinion that fog and stormy weather will force any diminution in the aerial bombardment of Great Britain. On the contrary, they believe that they may tend to aid the invaders.

German fliers, according to this view, have mapped every inch of British ground, with special attention to the location of factories, docks, arsenals, airports, utilities and cities. It should not be difficult for them to spot these targets, and to unload their bombs from above even in fog or clouds. Recent reports from abroad bring word that Hitler's airmen have frequently taken advantage of murky skies to hide from ground anti-aircraft or opposing planes. It is also recognized by military psychologists that civilian moral suffers more seriously from an unseen attack than from planes caught in lanes of searchlight, sunlight or moonlight.

It is also believed that the dangers of an actual invasion will increase with the arrival of fall and winter. It will be more difficult to identify parachutists or enemy vessels daring the choppy waters of the channel. All of which explains why Churchill has cautioned his people not to expect too much reinforcement from "Generals" Fog and Winter.

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

NAVAL men in high places are cocksure that the U. S. and British Navies can "beat hell" out of the Japanese. They are rarin' to go, and plans to the furtherance of their hearts' desire have gone far under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The destroyers turned over by us to the British are likely to be used chiefly in the Mediterranean—and the Italians may give them a more competent greeting than British self-assurance admits is possible. There is a minority of able officers in our Navy who think that traps are waiting to be sprung at the European and Asiatic ends of the Axis.

The basic idea of the cooperation from Singapore is to wipe the Japanese fleet off the face of the waters as fully as the Japs under Admiral Togo did the same job for the Russians in 1905. Thereafter the combined fleets would clean up the Italians, thus isolating Germany and securing full command of the world's seas. Expansion and reconstruction of the British bases in this hemisphere, as described by Ray Tucker in his September 7th release, are key moves. They are the sine qua non of the four to ten years' war against Nazi-controlled Europe which has long been envisaged by the British government.

SECRET: Informed Wall Streeters say that from a business viewpoint Mr. Roosevelt's trade of fifty destroyers for British naval and air bases in this hemisphere will go down as one of the most unprofitable ventures in American history. We will be obligated to spend millions of dollars and the British will get most of the benefits.

Our financiers are convinced that the President's proudly proclaimed "Yankee horse deal" contains definite assurances on our part that certain sites of the Empire's possessions here will be materially improved. Most of the bases which have been leased to us are poorly equipped. Of the nearer ones, only Bermuda has a first class drydock for big ships. Hardly any of them has airports capable of servicing a large fleet of planes and repairing them. In due course the United States doubtless will be required to buy tracts of land for airdromes. In addition, hangars will have to be erected, barracks must be built for the personnel, with warehouses and depots. As our investments increase we shall be compelled to protect them with coast artillery of all calibers. This, in turn, will necessitate a steady stream of supplies and the maintenance of large garrisons—all at the expense of the United States.

Mann Uses Goethe To Preach New Tomorrow

"The Beloved Returns" Is German Refugee's Latest Works

"THE BELOVED RETURNS," by Thomas Mann; (Alfred A. Knopf, New York).

WHEN the romance of a man's youth returns to him in old age, he must face a situation at once both comic and tragic, dramatic, yet stale. And when the world knows of his romance, when the man has achieved greatness, the possibilities of such a second meeting become limitless.

THOS. MANN

This is the story the noted German refugee Thomas Mann tells in his latest novel, "The Beloved Returns." His hero is the poet Goethe; his heroine, Lotte.

They met first at Wetzlar. She was engaged to marry his friend. He loved her discretely, remained resigned to losing her. A year after her marriage, his novel, "The Sorrows of Werther," told the world of his lost love. Upon Lotte the poet conferred eternal youth.

Meet 44 Years Later

They met again, 44 years later. Goethe was 68 and famous. Lotte a widow with 11 children. With her half-contemptuous daughter she goes to see the genius.

To those who knew the Lotte of Wertner's broken romance, she is a demi-god. To Goethe, she is an old woman who should have sense enough to leave him alone. But Lotte is not wholly deluded. She realizes that the poet had counted on her engagement to keep himself out of marriage; she knows his heartbreak was not as great as Werther's.

With Delicate Finesse

Mann excels in his characterization of Lotte the woman, as contrasted with Lotte, the immortal. His picture of Goethe includes more than just the old man's grumblings. His independence, his meditations, his egotism are all reproduced with delicate finesse.

High point of the story is their final meeting, their first alone since Wetzlar.

Behind all of this lies Mann's searching insight into today's social structure, with overtones of ironic laughter at a romantic era. Goethe was a dynamic force, and Mann employes him to preach the doctrine of a greater tomorrow.

Professor Is Hero

CLEVERLY combined comedy and satire make Lawrence Edward Watkin's "Geese in the Forum" (Knopf) as refreshing as a julep on a hot summer day. It's light as a cloud, filled with good fun, and interesting enough to keep you awake.

Most readers like novels with a college background. This should be no exception. But the hero is not a football player who gives all for dear old Beauregard. Rather, he is a professor, the son-in-law of a trustee, and the No. 1 candidate for the presidency of Beauregard.

Hero John Burgess wanted to teach history. He rejected the schemes of his father-in-law and uncle to make him president. He doesn't want to be a dean, or head a school. He wants to teach.

Wave Of Feeling Sweeping England Bodes Ill For Britain's Ruling Castes

'Lower Classes' Cause Unrest

BY FREDERIC SONDERN, JR.
McClure Newspaper Syndicate Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 — As Goering's bombers continue to unload their cargoes of destruction at will on London, a vast wave of feeling —the more powerful for its tardiness — is beginning to sweep England from Land's End to John o'Groat's. It bodes ill for England's ruling castes.

Criticism of the Old School Ties, whose incredible stupidity and bungling have destroyed the British Empire, began almost immediately after the war started. But it was good-humored criticism. It was not until after the Battle of Flanders, when regiment after regiment of ill-equipped, untrained men was sent to certain death by utterly incompetent commanders, that the enormity of their rulers' crime began to filter into England's "lower classes." The Tommies who came home told their families and friends the real story of the "glorious retreat and evacuation of Dunkirk." They are now learning, with object lessons which the Ministry of Information cannot refute, that even the vaunted strength of the R. A. F. and the other air defenses of the country are hopelessly inadequate.

Expressions of the people's sentiment — withering curses of stricken Cockneys against their own government as well as against "the bloody Hun" — do not make the cables. But they are noticed with increasing frequency by neutral diplomatic observers. Even the Members of Parliament, notoriously slow in their reactions, are very uneasy about the nasty temper of their constituents. England's morale, contrary to most press handouts, is not being increased by adversity.

Long Warfare In Prospect

This menacing threat of mob violence from the terribly disillusioned English masses, who have so blindly followed their sacrosanct leaders, is giving the Churchill government furiously to think. H. G. Wells has just written very pertinently—

"If they manage to lose this war for Britain, or if they try, in the interests of class advantage — the City and so forth—to sneak out of the struggle in some half-hearted way before it is fairly and squarely won, then God help them. For the country is rising to this war like an awakening giant, and not all the piety of Halifax and Gort, and all their ruling-class assurance, charm, and prestige can save them if, following in the footsteps of the Vichy suicides, they fumble this war and challenge our people to a day of reckoning."

Which makes Churchill's choice an extremely difficult one. One very powerful group of British industrialists and aristocratic landholders are pushing him hard to make peace with Hitler before their holdings are completely wiped out. Another equally forceful oligarchy in the City of London, with huge international interests, are urging him to retreat to Britain's second line of defense—the Western Hemisphere. Here, according to their plan, the British Empire is to be reconstituted from Toronto, and the Americas—all of them—worked into the final long-time warfare against the Nazi Empire.

In either case, the results in England itself will not be very pretty to watch.

Peace Terms Said Liberal

Berlin, however, is willing to do everything possible to make surrender easy for the Churchill government. For, above all, the planners in the Wilhelmstrasse do not wish the war transferred to this hemisphere. That is reported unanimously now by the best informed diplomatic observers in Berlin.

The Nazi satraps fear that the transplantation of the British Royal Family and the trappings of Empire to Toronto would light a fire of pro-British hysteria in the United States which would flame for a long time. It would be easy for the British, they think, to convince the sentimental Americans—with the increasingly vocal and active interventionists in Washington—that it is their job to clean house in the world and free it from its oppressors. That is a primary preoccupation in Berlin at the moment. United States belligerence, and the really Napoleonic struggle which it would involve for Hitler, does not at all fit into Dr. Hjalmar Schacht's plans of the moment.

This is an important reason for the remarkably liberal peace terms which are being held out to London and which were first revealed by Constantine Brown of the McClure Syndicate last week—Britain to keep her Crown Colonies in East Africa and the Far East and a fleet very little below the strength of her present naval forces.

Bridge Building Being Done

Next on the Wilhelmstrasse list of "adjustments" after Rumania seems to be the small but extremely important strategically Kingdom of Greece. It is the next link in the chain of gleichgeschaltete Hilfsmachte—loosely translated: Subsidiary nations under German control—which are to reach along the Berlin-to-Bagdad route originally planned by William Hohenzollern. Berlin insiders have it doped that a piece of the realm of the Hellenes will be given to Italy as a sop to the irate Mussolini who feels that he has had the short end of the Balkan deal. But it appears to be clear the lion's share will remain in German hands as a bridge to the Turkish Straits which Hitler intends to keep from Comrade Stalin, who has definite desires for this vital gateway to the Black Sea.

Athens, as Bucharest was, is a pushover for the Nazi intriguers. Prime Minister Metaxas, blocked until now by the anglophile Royal Family, would be more than pleased to be a Greek Calinescu, and run the country under the Nazi aegis. By order of the King, the Greek public was forbidden to see the Nazi terror film—so effective in Denmark, Norway, and in the Balkans—showing the destruction of Poland. But Metaxas had it run off privately for his friends which included the principal army officers and officials in the Greek capital. They were impressed.

Greece may seem far away It is, however, the bridge from the Balkans to the Near East and its vast resources.

Balkan Satrap

There was a very definite purpose, according to Berlin insiders, in leaving young Michael on the Rumanian throne.

The youthful king is not only a very tough cookie but is completely sold on the glory of the Nazi Empire, in which Hitler's special emissaries have promised him a very profitable and influential role—as satrap of the Balkans, no less.

Field Marshal Goering, on one of his visits to the Rumanian capital, was much impressed by young Michael, his grasp of Balkan affairs, and his enthusiasm for Hitler. Economics Minister Funk and others of the Fuehrer's staff reported the same.

Rumania, in the opinion of the Berlin planners, is the logical center of German Near-Eastern expansion. Michael is now being groomed for the job, and is definitely a young man to watch.

The emu and cassowary of Australia, ostrich of Africa and rhea of South America are the world's only large running birds.

Enrollment In Schools Climbs

An increase of 273 students over the total attending the Lubbock public schools at the close of the first day was seen from a check of enrollment at the close of the first week, with a total of 6,057 students registered. At the close of the first day 5,800 students were enrolled.

The growth of the school population in the Lubbock public schools in the past five years may be noted by the fact that at the end of the first week of school in 1935 there were 4,599 scholastics. No correct comparison can be made with 1939, since figures are only available at the close of the first month, which was 4,723.

Figures Compared

At the close of the first week last year the enrollment was 5,843, showing that the schools have 216 more students enrolled this year than at the same period last year.

By schools the enrollment which principals turned in Friday afternoon is as follows: Senior High, 1320; Junior High, 1260; Dupre, 606; George M. Hunt, 484; K. Carter, 583; Central Ward, 420; Sanders, 307; Roscoe Wilson, 296; George R. Bean, 306; Southwest Ward, 11; Guadalupe, 120; Dunbar, 369.

Local History Teacher Makes Good And Coffeyville Is Ready To Do The Honors

BY R. W. CRONE
NEA Special Correspondent

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Sept. 14—One hot fall day 26 years ago Principal R. Y. Kennedy of the Coffeyville High School was introducing the new members of the faculty at assembly. From them came forth the usual pretty responses, except from one.

This tousle-haired young man, the history teacher he was, and fresh out of college, simply pointed to Principal Kennedy and to a picture of Abraham Lincoln and said:

"With those two fine gentlemen present, I think anything I say might be unnecessary."

That wowed them. By the time Wendell Willkie left Coffeyville, a year and a half later, he had a lot of friends.

These people—and the whole town—are now making great to-do over the return of this fellow—to open his presidential campaign the afternoon of Sept. 16.

"Girls Were Crazy About Him"

Coffeyville has had plenty of publicity in the past. In 1892 the Dalton boys rode into town to hold up one of the two banks; four of the desperadoes were killed, the other was captured.

About 40 years ago the town was visited by Theodore Roosevelt, vice presidential candidate. William Jennings Bryan appeared here in behalf of his candidacy, as did Charles Evans Hughes. In 1911 William Howard Taft, then President, spoke on the tariff.

But not one of those distinguished visitors had the following of folk who "knew him when" that Willkie commands.

Coached Athletic Teams

Residents will remind Willkie of how he coached one of the best track teams in the history of the school, how his basketball team made an outstanding showing, how his leadership increased the roster of the Y. M. C. A. from a struggling few to half the boys in the school.

Willkie's loss was felt when he left Coffeyville to take a job with a sugar company in Puerto Rico. Extra-curricular activities lapsed; his class in the Presbyterian Sunday School promptly folded up.

Two of the Willkie epoch faculty members still living in Coffeyville remember him. They are Miss Anna Hancock, the Latin teacher, and D. E. Britton, commercial teacher, now a groceryman.

The students remember him, too. Dean Johnson, now custodian of the city hall, says: "I don't believe Willkie had any enemies when he was here. And his teaching methods were so unorthodox—he introduced the 'honor system'."

Never Got More Than Nod

Maude Coverdale Bradbury, vice president of the Coffeyville-for-Willkie Club, organized May 26, says:

"Willkie is remembered universally for an admirable personality in the classroom and on the street. The girls were crazy about him, but they never got more than a nod even though he often stopped in at my house to make candy with a bunch of us girls."

And Willkie liked Coffeyville. In a letter to Mrs. Bradbury, he said: "I went to Coffeyville when I was just out of college and before life had taught me much sophistication and guile. I think, therefore, it was the happiest year I have spent since I was a boy."

"Southern Zephyrs Will Whisper...."

When Willkie left dramatically for a foreign land, right in the middle of the term, the 1915 school annual, The Memoir, was dedicated to him. A farewell write-up brimmed over with youthful regret:

". . . He was four-square before all men. Boys soon discovered these fine qualities and admired; so Mr. Willkie became their trusted leader and confidential adviser . . . The respect and good-will of every true man and woman, boy and girl who knew him, followed him to his new tropical home, where they will grow and expand with the passing years, and the southern zephyrs will whisper through the magnolia blossoms and lofty pines and stately palms the simple story of perfect love for a soul that is 'pure and undefiled before God and man' . . ."

Johnson To Introduce Him

Walter Johnson, of baseball fame, who got his start in Coffeyville, has been asked to introduce Willkie. Miss Louise Florea, a Coffeyville girl who taught school here before starting on her career as a radio and opera soprano, will sing.

The stand from which Taft spoke will be moved to the softball diamond for the Willkie address.

To make the candidate feel at home, he has been invited to be a guest of Miss Florea's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Florea, with whom he roomed while teaching in Coffeyville.

MEN AND WOMEN who went to school to Wendell Willkie when he taught in Coffeyville express their sentiments as of today.

No Labor Troubles Seen By Director

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14 (U.P.) — Smooth sailing on the industrial labor front during the national rearmament campaign is forecast by Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, regional director of the National Labor Relations board.

"Democratic processes in industrial relations will contribute their part to a continuity of the defense program from the United States," said Dr. Elliott. "American industry and labor have too much at stake for it to be otherwise."

Dr. Elliott said that the chief reasons for the cheery outlook are (1) improved employe-employer relations and (2) the strike-setting machinery of the National Labor Relations board.

The railway industry, he pointed out, has operated without a single major strike since the establishment of the railway mediation board.

"The (Wagner) labor act," said Dr. Elliott, "has encouraged collective bargaining and . . . led to establishment of contractural relationships which, in the overwhelming majority of cases, are respected by both parties.

"These contracts, with very few exceptions, carry provisions establishing machinery for settlement of disputes, which heretofore would likely have proven disruptive."

Panhandle Crops Are Given Big Lift By Scattered Rains

(By The United Press)

DALHART, Sept. 14—Row crops, pastures and wheat in the Oklahoma and northwest Texas Panhandles, and northeastern New Mexico have all been given a big lift by the scattered rains of the past week, a survey among farmers and county agents reveals.

Farmers in Sherman county, Tex., of which Stratford is the seat, and of adjacent areas in Oklahoma and Texas, report total moisture of from a quarter to one and a half inches.

They say row crops that looked bad will make excellent feed, and some will make fair grain. Wheat in many areas is sure to make early fall pasture.

Row Crops Aided

Texas county, Okla., reports row crops greatly aided. Extensive wheat planting followed the rains, while the hundreds of acres of wheat already planted apparently are off to a remarkably fine start. Cimarron county, Okla., reports over 10,000 acres of wheat seeded and doing splendidly, while many row crops appear to be the best at this time of year in the history of the county.

The Clayton area in northeastern New Mexico had around three-quarters of an inch with most of the moisture falling north and east of Clayton. Row crops and grass have been greatly helped. Rain fell slowly and virtually none was lost through runoff.

Sharp electrical storms accompanied the rain in some areas. Lightning struck the house of City Employe Manson Edmondson in Clayton, but he and his family were away. Some stock was killed near Texhoma, Okla.

Rain Still Needed

Moore county, Tex., still needs a general rain to speed wheat seeding and aid ranges, the survey showed. An inch and a half to two inch rain fell over south Moore county covering range land mostly.

Hartley county, Tex., dry all summer, still has had no appreciable moisture. The Conlen, Kerrick and Coldwater sections, north and east of Dalhart, were the Dallam county areas benefiting mostly from the past week's rains. They also have had good moisture all summer, with the result that they have good row crops and ranges.

These three areas, however, still need more moisture for most advantageous wheat seeding, said County Agent Ed Crabtree. Five to six thousand acres have been seeded and that will be expanded to 40,000 acres if rains permit. Prior to the drouth which necessitated shifting some wheat land either to row crops or pasture in order to prevent wind erosion, Dallam had a normal wheat acreage of 100,000 acres. Some range land west of Dalhart reportedly needs rain badly.

Since no humans existed to name them, dinosaurs were not "dinosaurs" until millions of years after they had vanished from the earth.

Defense Aided By Chicago U.

CHICAGO, (U.P.)—Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, has announced the university will inaugurate an institute of meteorology to train army, navy and air corps students in techniques vital to the national defense.

Hutchins previously had declared that the university would co-operate with the Federal government in training pilots and flying instructors and in teaching ballistics to the nation's artillery men, machine gunners and bombers.

"The war in Europe, with major movements timed to weather developments, put meteorology in sharp focus in relation to defense," he said.

Knowledge of meteorology will enable authorities to gauge both offensive and defensive military and training movements in relation to long-range weather conditions. In addition, it will enable the military machine to take advantage of the weather in moving supplies and in predicting agricultural crops.

Hutchins said that more than 30 fellowships would be assigned to the institute by the army and navy and the weather bureau. Preferred positions for the government-sponsored fellowships will be given to Civilian Aeronautics Authority students.

The institute was created by an anonymous donor. It will be headed by Dr. C. G. Rissby, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, meteorologist in charge of air mass research for the weather bureau.

Stolen Branded Cattle Are Traced To Iowa

HEREFORD, Sept. 14 (U.P.)—Branded cattle traced from Deaf Smith county, Tex., to Cedar Rapids, Ia., today had brought conviction to a rustler on the Panhandle-Plains.

J. M. Bussell was convicted of stealing nine head of cattle from Mrs. C. M. Brown who lives near Friona in Deaf Smith county. He was sentenced to two years in prison.

The cattle had been sold to an Iowa stockman at Lubbock, and were traced to the stockyards in Cedar Rapids through brands. Sheriff's officers and inspectors for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, inc., led the search through a dozen states.
