3 Magazines Put Kennedy In The Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three magazines—Time, Newsweek and U.S. News and World Report—have concluded on the basis of surveys that Sen. John F. Kennedy is in the lead in the presidential race.

After a state-by-state survey of political experts, U.S. News and World Report said the Democratic nominee is leading in states with more than enough electoral votes to make him president.

Newsweek said 50 top Washington correspondents and political writers predicted a win for Kennedy, while 10 saw Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, as the winner.

Time said its own correspondents estimated Kennedy was leading in states with 306 electoral votes and Nixon in states with 149. Needed to win: 289.

The average estimate of the 50 correspondents and political writers in the Newsweek survey was to what the electoral vote would be: Kennedy 326.4; Nixon 210.5.

In a separate finding, Newsweek said reports from political experts in each of the 50 states estimated the electoral vote would break down this way: Kennedy 278, Nixon 159, with 100 as toss-ups.

Time correspondents listed states with 82 electoral votes as unpredictable. They are California, Hawaii, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Nevada and North Carolina.

Kidnaper May Have Swum Into Mexico

DEL RIO (AP)—Border Patrol officers spotted a man swimming the Rio Grande about 10 p.m. today, raising speculation he may be convicted killer Curtis Lee Jones.

The Border Patrol said its officers spotted the man in the river at about 10 a.m. The man reached the Mexican side and Mexican authorities were notified.

The man was dressed in western attire, the same kind of clothes Jones was last reported wearing.

Jones, 38, object of an intensive manhunt along the U.S.-Mexican border eluded officers again Monday.

Planes and a helicopter resumed the search along the border for the former convict who has spent most of his life in the Arkansas State Prison for murder.

Because Jones has been described as extremely dangerous, Sheriff Porfirio Flores requested parents to keep their children at home Monday night and not to go out for Halloween tricks-or-treats.

Jones early Monday walked into Rosie's Place, a tavern in the suburbs of San Antonio. At gunpoint he forced Mrs. Rosalinda Sosa, 30, owner of the place, to drive him to Laredo in her car. He took along Carlos Guardarinas, who worked for her.

Just outside Laredo on the highway to San Antonio, he bound and gagged Guardarinas and started to bind Mrs. Sosa.

She saw a pickup truck and ran, screaming, toward it. Guardarinas also ran. Jones jumped into Mrs. Sosa's car and sped away.

Jones has been sought in the San Antonio area since last Thursday when he freed Mrs. Walter Sears, 24, an expectant mother whose husband is a school teacher at Aledo, near Fort Worth. He also freed Mrs. Sears' daughter, Cynthia, 2.

Jones went on an all-night spree starting the previous night in Fort Worth. He raped a second cousin and used a rope to strangle her companion and leave the companion for dead.

Jones is wanted in Texarkana for questioning in a gangland-type slaying of Doyle Jackson, 45, an ex-convict, Oct. 22, shortly after he was paroled from the Arkansas penitentiary.

Poppy Day To Be Observed In Big Spring Saturday

Poppy Day will be observed in Big Spring Saturday.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary have 5,000 of the veteran-made blossoms on hand and propose to sell these from seven downtown locations.

Mrs. Helen Segrist is general chairman for the sale.

She and her associates sounded an appeal to the public to support the poppy sale and insure that the auxiliary sells its quota of flowers. The poppies are manufactured by disabled veterans in hospitals over the nation. Receipts from sale of the flowers are used to help needy veterans' families and to provide additional comforts for men left disabled by the effects of war.

Mrs. Segrist said that one special feature of the poppy day would be a poppy window to be arranged in the Hemphill-Wells Department store. She suggested that citizens inspect the window when it is installed.

Buyers pay the auxiliary members whatever they desire for the poppies.

HCJC Off To A Good Start

Howard County Junior College is off to a good start on its fiscal year, the September financial statement indicates.

Receipts for the month, including a $30,000 short term note until current taxes begin to come, amounted to $106,251. Expenditures for the month stood at $76,575, leaving a difference of $29,676.

Chief sources of revenue were tuition, $17,415; student fees, $2,878; general fees, $3,309; state subsidy, $49,901; and the short-term loan.

Disbursements included $3,272 administrative; $3,405, general; $15,035 instructional; $2,302, library; $49, athletics; $2,667, plant expense; $448, student activities; $135, capital outlay; $422, contingencies; $578, fixed charges.

Interest and sinking fund receipts amounted to $209, and during the month, $1,782 in interest was paid. The fund has a balance of $24,458. The general fund (and county and state fund) balance was pegged at $81,481.

Nixon Supported

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Bulletin today endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president.

Halloween Damage Is Relatively Light

Mail boxes in the street, flying eggs and the usual amount of window soaping occurred Monday night, but most residents escaped Halloween unscathed.

There were only two reports of serious vandalism, and burglars struck at only one establishment. There was also one set of hub caps stolen, according to police reports.

Financially, the greatest damage reported was at the Big Spring Printing Co., 119 W. 1st, and the Big Spring Hardware, 105 W. 1st. Vandalism threw rocks through the front windows of both business firms.

Burglars hit the Ransom Cafe, 209½ N. Gregg, breaking into the juke box and carting off about $45 in change. They entered through the front door, police reported.

The hub caps were reported stolen from a car owned by Bob Ramsey, 1202 Nolan.

Police Chief Jay Banks said that the Halloween activity was no more than that of most any other night here. Reports of pranks and vandalism never reached great proportions, he said.

Rocks and furniture were piled in the street in the 700 and 800 blocks of N. Ayford, and there was trash heaped in the 1000 block of NW 4th.

Two mail boxes were ripped from their houses in the 300 block of NW 1st and later found lying in the street. Youngsters tossed a few eggs in the vicinity of a cafe on NW 7th and there was an incident of burning sacks thrown on the front porch of a house.

Police arrested one person early today for carrying a prohibited weapon when they hauled a 20-year-old Webb AFB airman to jail from the Webb-Six Cafe shortly after midnight. Officers reported the airman was creating a disturbance and brandishing a switch-blade knife.

Lake Thomas Still Losing Water

For the 14th day, excess water continued to drain Tuesday through the service spillway of Lake J. B. Thomas.

Elevation of the lake was 2,258.24 this morning, a decline of .06 of a foot, or little less than three-quarters of an inch, for the day. The lake reached a peak of 2,259.49 on Oct. 19. At the current rate, the surplus water may be drained off by the end of this week. Colorado River Municipal Water District officials said.

Lake Colorado City stood at elevation 2,059.80 today. During the time that heavy rains fell on the upper sheds of Lake J. B. Thomas, the drainage area of Lake Colorado City was only moderately touched. The net increase was 3.0 of a foot for a peak elevation of 2,059.95, roughly 10 feet below spillway level. A few years ago, however, this lake went over its spillway similar to the current situation for Lake Thomas.

Magees' Cats Didn't Last Long

The Dewey Magees, who live in Webb Village, and who had five inky black kittens they offered as a sort of special trick-or-treat for Halloween, were out of the cat business Monday morning. They hardly had time to get it.

No sooner had the Herald reached its readers with a story that the Magees would give their five black kittens to the first five callers than the phone began to ring. Magee made good on his delivery offer as long as the cat supply lasted — which wasn't very long.

A lot of disappointed callers telephoned later in the evening. The Magees had to report they were fresh out of cats and for the applicants to wait until Mr. and Mrs. Rick O'Shay, the Magees' adult cats, could sort of catch up on production.

Lower Discount Begins Wednesday

Effective Wednesday, discount allowed to county taxpayers drops from three per cent, which has been the rate in October, to two per cent.

No estimate on total taxes paid since the tax rolls were opened on Oct. 15 was available this morning. It was more than $335,000 several days ago.

The Howard County tax assessor's office has issued 609 poll tax receipts and 538 certificates of exemption so far in this tax interval.

Kennedy On W. Coast As Nixon Covers East

Demo Rival Claims GOP 'Reversal'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy spanned the continent today, opening an intensified drive that will carry him to 17 states in the final week of the presidential campaign.

Opening two days of campaigning here and in San Francisco, Kennedy charged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon two days ago reversed the Republican policy of 25 years by advocating improvements in the Social Security system.

In remarks prepared for a clothing workers' rally here, the Democratic presidential candidate said, "Mr. Nixon has taken every program which he and his party have voted and fought against, and placed them in his position paper. But election week promises and November nostrums will not meet the urgent problems of our older citizens. They need leadership from the White House."

Kennedy made a point by point criticism of Nixon's recently issued "position paper" on Social Security.

He said "most amazing of all" in the Nixon paper was the statement, "We must make it possible for our senior citizens to receive adequate medical services."

Kennedy said, "This is the same Mr. Nixon who, only last spring, led the fight to defeat Democratic efforts to pass a sound program of medical aid financed through the Social Security system."

"I disagree with Mr. Nixon," Kennedy added. "For the problems of our older citizens will not be solved through position papers — through promises which the record shows are unmatched by the desire to act."

At a vociferous student rally at Temple University in Philadelphia Monday, Kennedy issued a scorching, taunting challenge to Nixon to bring President Eisenhower along to help him on a fifth television debate.

Finch Murder Jury Resumes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury in the retrial of the Finch murder case has resumed deliberations after a three-day interruption to hear Carole Tregoff's testimony.

Prosecution and defense lawyers, taking turns, completed the reading of 600 pages of testimony Monday afternoon. The jury, which asked last Friday to hear the testimony again, then deliberated about an hour before being returned to its hotel quarters for the night.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, a surgeon, and Miss Tregoff, 23, his shapely mistress and onetime receptionist, are accused of killing his wife, Barbara Jean, so they could marry without sharing his wealth with her. Finch says the shooting in July 1959 was accidental.

The jury has deliberated 40 hours. At the couple's first trial, the jury deadlocked after deliberating 37½ hours.

British Bases

LONDON (AP) — Britain has agreed to provide a base for roving U.S. nuclear submarines armed with Polaris missiles. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan informed the House of Commons today.

His campaign strategists said this would be more states than any presidential candidate ever covered in a final week. Nixon Monday announced he would touch at Anchorage, Alaska, to become the first candidate to campaign in all 50 states.

Kennedy's challenge to Nixon to bring Eisenhower along for a final debate was in a mocking vein and obviously was not expected to be taken seriously. In it he mentioned Eisenhower by name, something he rarely does. He usually refers only to "this administration," or "Republican leadership."

Negotiations for a fifth debate broke down last week in an exchange of charges and counter-charges.

With Temple students hanging from every window of a four-story dormitory, Kennedy said, "I am going to make an offer to Mr. Nixon. I have been trying to get him to debate me for two weeks. He has given me every reason and finally his last excuse was that I should apologize for saying that I was unwilling to debate. I may now find the reason why. Mr. Nixon is unwilling to take a ride through the city of New York to meet the voters. But he is going to take President with him."

"I now offer him to let President Eisenhower come with him on the fifth debate. Then we can see."

Big Chunk Of The Goal

A big chunk of the employees division goal was turned over to Arnold Marshall, chairman, this morning. Marshall (left) accepted the cards and $6,900 from (from left) Don Freeman, Johnny Hill, and Floyd Young. Hill is handling the drive among Cosden Petroleum Corp. employees, with the assistance of union men Freeman and Young.

Cosden Report Gives United Fund A Big Shot In The Arm

The United Fund campaign received a big shot in the arm today when employees of Cosden Petroleum Corp. reported in with 75 per cent of their goal, $6,900.

Campaign leaders this morning were hoping for at least 70 per cent of the total goal at the report meeting slated at 5 p.m. today. Floyd Parsons, campaign chairman, said the report meeting today is crucial, as it would indicate whether or not the campaign is keeping the pace set in the early days of the drive.

Goal of Cosden employees is more than a third of the total for the entire employees division. Office personnel at the refinery have reported in with 100 per cent of their goal and are still striving for more. Pledges to date total $2,105.

Johnny Hill, who is working contact cards in the employees section at Cosden, was optimistic with the firm's first showing. "We'll meet the goal," he said.

Another report meeting is due Thursday. Goal for that meeting will be set after today's totals are tabulated.

Meanwhile, workers were urged to work their contact cards and make reports as soon as possible.

Twelve local welfare and guidance organizations in Big Spring and Howard County receive all or portions of their financial assistance from the United Fund Drive. The goal this year is $98,210.

Sewell Avery, Legendary Big Businessman, Is Dead

CHICAGO (AP) — Sewell Lee Avery, 86, a strong-willed big businessman who ultimately took on the U.S. Army, died Monday.

Avery, who was Montgomery Ward & Co. chairman from 1931 to 1955, died in his apartment on fashionable Lake Shore Drive of a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been ill for a year.

In financial circles, Avery was a legend.

Brilliant and tough, he was almost phenomenally successful from the day in 1894 when he graduated from the University of Michigan Law School.

As Montgomery Ward's chief executive, he fought spectacular battles against the federal government in 1944 and financier Louis E. Wolfson in 1955.

In 1944, Avery defied the War Labor Board's intervention in a Montgomery Ward dispute with a CIO union.

When on April 26, 1944, government officials, backed by troops, occupied Ward property in Chicago, Avery sat defiantly in his office.

The next day two soldiers entered his office, picked him up and deposited him in the street outside.

Pictures of Avery, immaculately groomed and apparently untroubled, being carried by two GIs were among the most widely circulated news photos of the decade.

He later said he deliberately maneuvered the government into a show of force to dramatize what he called the "march of dictatorship" in the United States.

Two weeks later, the labor controversy was settled, the government relinquished Ward control and Avery was back on the job.

His last big battle was a successful defense in 1955 against financier Wolfson's campaign to wrest control of Montgomery Ward.

Presumably Nixon's challenge would include the Democratic nominee's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, wealthy former ambassador who has tried to keep out of the campaign, as well as Kennedy's brothers who are active in it.

Richard Says He'll Win 7 Leading States

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon predicted today he would win in a majority of seven of the nation's largest states — California, Texas, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York — in next week's presidential election.

"The tide has turned and my opponent is practically running out of gas," said Nixon as he took off from Philadelphia for campaign appearances at Lancaster and Erie, Pa.

In reply to a question as to how he felt the election was shaping up, Nixon said: "To win, my opponent has to take six of the seven big states and he can't do it. The tide has turned. I will carry a majority of the seven big states."

Nixon's prediction of victory in at least four of the seven carried him a step further than his position last Sunday, when he rated New York, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois about 50-50 and saw himself leading in Texas and California.

WEAKNESS

Nixon contended that the greatest weakness of his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, "is that people are afraid he will shoot from the hip and make mistakes as president. We can't afford to take such a chance."

The vice president also asserted he expected President Eisenhower to be a "great help" in the closing days of the campaign.

Nixon charged Kennedy with trying to make "a political football" out of the problem of chronic unemployment. The Republican presidential nominee blasted Kennedy's proposal for dealing with depressed areas.

"The sorry lack of concern for the American people too often revealed by my opponent and his followers can be no better documented than by the record on distressed areas legislation," Nixon said in a statement before leaving on today's campaign swing which also will carry him to Syracuse and Rochester, N.Y.

Nixon said, "Five times they have ignored the President's recommendations and, instead, they passed two pork-barrel bills of their own, each in an election year, 1958 and 1960, and each so full of politics they were obviously nothing but veto bait."

WHOLE FAMILY

Before his stop overnight in Philadelphia, Nixon said he was willing to take on the whole Kennedy family in a national television debate.

In a foray into New Jersey on a rain-soaked Halloween night Nixon told an open air crowd of 15,000 persons at Ridgewood Monday night his rival was making a "juvenile schoolboy comment" in saying he would be glad to have Nixon bring President Eisenhower along with him if a fifth television debate could be arranged.

"I'll be glad to debate him and his whole family anytime," Nixon said, "but what I think the country really needs is a debate between Jack and Lyndon — let's see where they stand."

This allusion to the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, was made as Nixon's own running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, sat beside him on the platform.

FATHER, TOO

Presumably Nixon's challenge would include the Democratic nominee's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, wealthy former ambassador who has tried to keep out of the campaign, as well as Kennedy's brothers who are active in it.

C-City Chamber Man Quits For Transport Firm Post

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Max N. Caddell has resigned as president of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and will direct the operations of a new division of Caddell Transport Co. in Oklahoma.

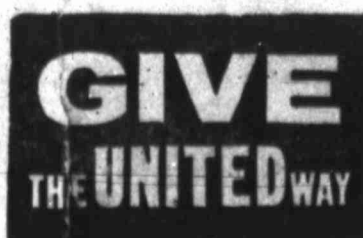

Previously it had been announced that the Interstate Commerce Commission had granted a temporary permit to Max N. Caddell Sr., of Colorado City, to operate the Pickett Bros. Transport Co. of Wagon, Okla. This is ordinarily the first step toward a permanent permit. Caddell has been in Oklahoma since the weekend, and Max Caddell, after resigning his chamber post at a called meeting of the directors Monday noon at Colorado City, went to Walters to join his father in taking over the Pickett Bros. division. He will be in charge. No other personnel changes are anticipated.

M. N. Caddell, who founded the transport operations here nearly a score of years ago, said that he had every intention and hope of continuing his operation and headquarters in Colorado City. He will be in charge of these activities. The transport firm specializes in hauling asphalt.

The Pickett Brothers organization embraces a large fleet serving four terminals in Oklahoma. It has been operated by Ernest Pickett, who died this year, and by Henry Pickett, who has been advised by his physician to retire from active participation. The Picketts had been long-time friends of M. N. Caddell, and they wanted him to have the option of acquiring the business. This provided an opportunity to expand and to strengthen the operations of his company, said Caddell.

Max Caddell, who was in his second term as president of the Colorado City chamber, expressed regrets to the board not only in having to leave his post but also in moving from Colorado City. Dr. Seth Cowan, vice president, was named to succeed Max Caddell and expressed for the board its appreciation for the president's long record of civic leadership. Dr. Cowan will act as president until Feb. 1, 1961.

Like his father, who has been a leader in community affairs, Max Caddell has been in numerous organizations and campaigns on behalf of Colorado City. Upon his separation from service and the earning of his degree at Texas Tech, he has been associated with his father in the transport business. He headed the Jaycees and was a leader in Boy Scout and other youth movements. He also had been a key figure in the chamber's industrial committee.

Elections Will Be Regular Events

With the decision Monday of the Howard County Commissioners Court to call a road bond election on Dec. 3, the voters of Howard County face a rather busy month at the polls starting with next Tuesday's general election.

On that date, they will vote their choice for president of the U.S. and for other officials. On Nov. 12, the residents of Forsan will go to the polls to say whether they will incorporate their town. And then, on Dec. 3, the entire county will decide if the county is to issue $150,000 in road bonds to purchase right of way for four state highway projects.

Ohio Is Weathervane And Candidates Know It

Editor's Note: This story, second in a series, analyzes the presidential contest in Ohio, one of the Big Six states which swing enormous weight in the electoral college.

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — History indicates the presidential candidate who sells himself to Ohio probably will be the next occupant of the White House.

Only once in this century — in 1944 — has Ohio missed the boat on the presidency.

With that one exception in the last 15 presidential elections, Ohio voters have cut through the welter of state and local candidates and issues and cast the Buckeye State's substantial electoral vote for the national winner.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican standard-bearer, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, have campaigned often and hard in Ohio.

Both have been received enthusiastically by record crowds. Both Republicans and Democratic leaders show calm confidence, at least on the surface, that Ohio's 25 electoral votes will wind up on their side. Those 25 votes represent nearly 10 per cent of the 269 total needed to win.

DIFFERENT

This year's presidential race in Ohio is different from any in the memory of anyone now living. It will provide a classic test of national candidates and issues alone because it is uncluttered by state contests.

Because of a recent constitutional change, there is only one statewide political contest this year. Other state officials are in the middle of four-year terms.

The crosscurrents of the 1960 national campaign in Ohio cut so wide and so deep that even old-time prognosticators admit they are baffled.

It does appear, however, one week before election, that Republicans will continue to dominate the Ohio delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives. The score now stands 14 Republicans, 8 Democrats and 1 vacancy caused by the death of a Democratic incumbent. Barring an unlikely landslide for either Kennedy or Nixon, it would appear neither party stands to gain or lose more than two seats.

CLAIMS STATE

Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman is claiming the state for Kennedy by about 250,000 votes "if the election were being held today, and barring a national emergency."

Coleman's victory forecast indicates a belief Ohio Democrats will be able to overcome two mountainous obstacles:

1. The fact that President Eisenhower carried Ohio for the Republican party by a record of 823,000 votes in 1956, receiving slightly more than 61 per cent of the vote.

2. The companion fact that Democrat Alfred E. Smith, the only previous Roman Catholic nominated for the presidency, was snowed under in Ohio in 1928 by nearly 2-1.

Some Democratic leaders admit privately that they are being hurt in the southern Ohio areas they term the "Bible Belt." But the same leaders say they are confident that normally Democratic, heavily populated industrial areas in northeastern Ohio will more than offset the southern Ohio vote.

PASSED PEAK

GOP State Chairman Ray C. Bliss says he believes Kennedy has passed his peak and that Nixon's campaign is moving fast on the upgrade "since he came out slugging."

Bliss and other Ohio Republican leaders reacted with unabashed glee as Nixon hurled barbs at his Democratic rival during a huge two-day whistle-stop swing through Ohio last week. The GOP believes Nixon's new rough-and-ready tactics coupled with the late-campaign timing of the Buckeye State tour will swing Ohio firmly into the Republican column.

Chairman Bliss says: "I believe Nixon will carry Ohio by a comfortable margin. I try to be honest in my predictions, but it's hard to appraise this campaign in depth. I don't want to be pinned down to an exact figure. We will lose some of the industrial counties, but if we lose some of them by a narrow margin, it really will be a victory."

PRIVATE POLLS

Democratic and Republican organizations alike have conducted their own private polls in areas they regard as "swing" spots—precincts, wards, and counties which have a reputation of regularly reflecting statewide political sentiment. But, as usual, these polls have been followed by complicated arithmetic and weighting to the point that some organization people on both sides are wondering: "Are we kidding ourselves?"

Newsman polls have been relatively few and generally have covered local areas only. Those which have made at least a stab at statewide coverage have been too fragmentary to indicate a firm trend.

They do indicate, however, that Nixon has no hope of holding for the Republican party anything like the huge total of 2,262,610 votes piled up by Eisenhower in 1956. This is so even though the official forecast is for a total Ohio vote of about four million—about 300,000 more than in the presidential election four years ago.

Actor Loses Leg In TV Sequence

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Supporting actor Bert Spencer lost a leg in a stagecoach upset Monday during a filming of a "Laramie" television episode.

Studio spokesmen said Spencer, 50, was "riding shotgun" atop the four-horse stage as it plunged downhill and overturned, trapping him beneath. His leg was amputated at St. Joseph Hospital, Burbank.

Innocent Verdict

JUNCTION (AP) — An instructed verdict of innocent was returned Monday night in the murder trial of Frank Davis, 51, San Antonio rancher.

The state had accused Davis of beating and stomping James Drought, San Antonio lawyer, after an auto accident last February. Drought died two days later.

Ike To Speak

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower probably will speak in Cleveland and Pittsburgh Friday or Saturday as part of his final drive to help Vice President Richard M. Nixon win the election.

WRONG MAN

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a college student. Last year I met a student who attends another college. We were strongly attracted to each other. I sent him my picture, signed "Love, forever." He came to see me many times. We got very serious and then I heard that he had been married all along. He denied it. When I got proof he admitted he was married and the father of a little boy. I told him it was hopeless for us but he insisted he loved me and things could be worked out. Now his wife knows about us because he confessed everything. If she blames me in her divorce suit my reputation will be ruined. What should I do?

DEAR RUINED: All you can do is wait. If you are involved in the divorce, you will need a lawyer to represent you. In the meantime, talk to the chaplain at your college. He will give you the moral support you need.

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours invited us to their daughter's wedding in 1957. We sent the bride a very lovely wedding gift. In 1958 she had a baby, which they announced with those little printed "hints" (this also burns me up) and I had to send a gift. In 1959 they got a divorce. Now get this—last week this girl's parents sent out announcements of their daughter's marriage to another man. Do we have to send another wedding gift?

DEAR BURNED: No one HAS to send a gift for any occasion. Rich gifts was cold when giver is burned up.

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a man who wants to marry me. I think I love him but he does something which I neither love nor understand. He likes to hunt birds and shoot wild birds. I know lots of men hunt and no one thinks it is cruel, but I cannot marry a man who will take a gun and kill defenseless birds and animals just for the sport of it. Maybe if I were starving to death I would kill

DEMOS SCORE HCJC POLL

The Democrats carried the day in an informal straw poll at the Howard County Junior College SUB on Monday.

Balloting followed a rally sponsored by the Young Republicans and the Young Democrats Clubs.

Split tickets were possible, and at the end of the day Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic standard-bearer, had received 101 votes, and his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, polled 102 votes.

Vice President Richard Nixon, the GOP nominee, topped his side of the ticket with 72 votes, while his running mate — Henry Cabot Lodge, got 71.

At the rally, Ralph Hughes spoke for the Young Republicans and Wayne Basden for the Young Democrats. Each spoke for about five minutes and then answered questions raised by the student rally audience.

Program To Attract Texas Tourist Travel Under Way

AUSTIN—The release of a full color, 32-page travel brochure on the State of Texas was announced today by the Texas Highway Department.

D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, said the new brochure is specifically designed for free distribution to attract out-of-state tourists. First of its kind ever published in Texas, it is intended to serve as a showcase of Texas' scenic, historic, recreational, and cultural attractions.

Greer described the colorful brochure, which covers the entire state geographically as "another milestone in the travel promotion program conducted by the highway department."

ADVERTISING BUDGET

He said the next step in this program is the submission of a media advertising budget to the Texas Legislature, which meets in January. The highway department has asked, with the concurrence of the Texas Development Board, for an appropriation of $300,000 a year for the next two years to advertise the tourist attractions of Texas.

"The media advertising program," Greer said, "is a necessity to halt the appalling downward trend of the Texas tourist industry. The amount we will ask for media advertising ($300,000 a year) is the minimum required to shore up the rapid decline in tourist revenue which Texas now faces."

Greer reviewed the progress made in establishing a tourist promotion program in Texas. He noted that in the past Texas had been unable to compete for tourists by advertising because it was prohibited by the State Constitution. A constitutional amendment was approved by popular vote in 1958 allowing the advertisement of the state's tourist resources.

The Texas Legislature in 1959 set up the legal machinery authorizing state media advertising and delegating the responsibility for this program to the Texas Highway Department. Senate Bill 152 stated that funds for media advertising must come from the general fund, but no money was made available in 1959 for this purpose.

Greer expressed confidence that funds for state advertising would be made available by the coming session of the Legislature. "I feel that since the people of Texas made their wishes known by voting favorably on the constitutional amendment authorizing state advertising, the Legislature will follow this mandate from the people by providing adequate funds for an effective media advertising program," Greer said.

BEHIND THE TIMES

Texas has fallen "twenty years behind the times" in advertising its tourist attractions, said Tom H. Taylor, Director of the Travel and Information Division of the Highway Department. He pointed out that revenue from the tourist trade had fallen to a low of $431 million in 1959, a drop of $100 million in only two years. This rapid drop, he said, is attributable to the states competing for tourists.

Noting that tourists currently pay some $17 million annually in direct state taxes, Taylor said an effective media advertising program could increase tourist revenue brought to Texas and lighten to some extent the state's heavy tax load.

"The tourist in Texas is good for everybody," Taylor declared. "The money he brings into our state is new income, earned elsewhere but left here in our communities to be passed around among all regardless of trade or profession."

A Devotional For Today

To us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge, and their consciences have been defiled with idols. (1 Corinthians 8:6, 7)

PRAYER: Our gracious Father, grant us the help of the Holy Spirit so that our consciences may be kept clear and fully enlightened. In the name of Jesus Christ our Lord we pray. Amen.

More Reason For Action

News that the state highway department has given the green light for a new overpass on U.S. 87 in Big Spring is fresh evidence of the highway development that awaits our county.

John Roberts, district highway engineer, said that this three-quarter million dollar project had been set up under the 1961-62 consolidated "high priority" program.

He indicated that preliminary work would begin soon on this project, but that its materialization would depend a lot upon how well we have come along in our work allotted to Howard County. He emphasized, however, that a lot of highway projects are stacking up in Howard County.

Good Job, Could Be Made Easier

On an average about a thousand dollars worth of worthless checks find their way to the county attorney's office for action.

Last week County Attorney Wayne Burtis pegged the total to $9,000. This rather astounding figure is exceeded only by the rate of collection on the bad checks. A total of $4,950. Even with this exceptional recovery rate, the merchants of Big Spring and Howard County will still be paying out between $6,000 and $7,000 per year on rubber checks.

Add to this the heavy expense of trying to run down the check signers to send them formal notice that a check has bounced, and then to see the case through in court, and the cost is even more formidable.

Decline In Our Public Health Program

WASHINGTON—What are the measures of national well-being and vitality that add up to prestige and leadership in the world? This is one of the most hotly debated questions in the campaign.

Military strength, missiles, the nuclear striking power may be ways of measuring. But a report just compiled by the Children's Bureau in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare points to a far less spectacular but nonetheless significant yardstick by which the advanced nations of the West have measured progress.

THE REPORT shows that in recent years the United States has dropped from sixth place to tenth place in infant mortality—the number of deaths per thousand of children under one year of age. While the rate of deaths had declined from 1950 into 1966 it has risen sharply since then. In 1966 it was 27.1 per thousand and the increase is believed to be continuing.

Lack of sufficient medical care and overcrowding and slum conditions in the large cities are among the reasons suggested by bureau specialists for the increase. For 1950-58 the overall decline in the United States was 7.2 per cent. This is less than half the rate of decrease of the nine countries that today rank higher than the U.S.

"WITH A DECREASING ability to tax and an increasing need for public services and with the ratio of physicians to population declining, cities face a serious problem in attacking the weak spots behind the mortality figures," Drs. Alice D. Chenoweth and Eleanor P. Hunt of the Children's Bureau report. "This calls for more efficient use of medical and nursing manpower."

Of the nine countries that outrank the U.S. each has a lower per capita income than the U.S. and a lower productivity per man hour. They are, however, mostly smaller countries with far greater population uniformity and without the problems of overcrowding in America's big cities. The nine countries in the order in which they rank are: Sweden, Netherlands, Australia, Norway, Switzerland, Great Britain, Denmark, New Zealand and Finland.

MANY COUNTRIES, particularly in the underdeveloped areas, are not recorded by the United Nations or any other international organization because their statistics are not valid. The Soviet Union is not listed in the first 15 nations. Japan, with a rate of 34.6, is the only Oriental country on the list.

One thing each country in the top nine have in common is a health service supported in whole or in part by the state. The British, for example, have an extensive maternal and child health program. Sweden, heading the list with a

Lodge, LBJ Don't Pound Each Other

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those busy people—the vice presidential candidates—could be using this time to beat up on each other. Instead, they keep beating up on the big boys.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge, practically ignore each other while they hit a fast pace on the outskirts of the presidential campaign. But there's one thing they have in common: Both are sensitive to the needs of the people.

For that matter, so is Vice President Richard M. Nixon. So far the only one who seems to have kept his temper with the hecklers all the way through is Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Johnson, acting as a pacifier in trouble spots for Kennedy, spends a good deal of his efforts denying Republican performance.

Singing Takes Lot Of Power

NEW YORK (AP)—"Opera takes a lot out of you," said Dorothy Kirsten.

"Singing a high C is equivalent to lifting a 500-pound weight." Because of the emotional drain, too, the glamorous blonde Metropolitan Opera stars don't like to sing a heavy role more than once every fourth day.

Top opera stars—like champion boxing boxers—make a ritual of keeping in the best of physical condition. Her training secret is golf.

"It's the perfect sport for a singer," she said. "It helps develop rhythm and proper breathing."

Miss Kirsten came from a show business family. Her great aunt was a gifted soprano, and her grandfather was band leader for Buffalo Bill's Wild West show.

As a young girl in Montclair, N.J., she studied singing, dancing and acting. She sang swing music with Kate Smith for two years, later became a protégé of Grace Moore, who helped develop her interest in opera.

Miss Kirsten now travels between 75,000 and 100,000 miles a year. Besides her operatic appearances, she does some 20 concerts a year, and appears as guest star on numerous TV programs.

It has been said that behind every successful man is a good woman. She says that behind her success is a good man—her husband, Dr. John D. French, a neurosurgeon.

"The most important thing to me is the happiness I know in my private life," she says.

"When I am happy, I sing my best. This is not true of all artists, but it is true of me. My husband keeps me happy. He is a wonderful man."

"I am never—absolutely never—away from my husband more than three weeks at a time."

"These means I have to do much more traveling, but it's worth while to me."

Because of her refusal to be away from her Pales Verdes, Calif., home for extended periods, she quit the Metropolitan Opera a couple of seasons back.

She won her point. The Met called her back during an emergency last April, but she rejoined on her own terms.

She is now a jet plane commuter between Manhattan and the West Coast.

One does not become a diva by accident, but by long and grueling work—and the work gets harder when the fame begins. Miss Kirsten has 30 roles in her repertoire, but each summer spends a month to six weeks perfecting herself in new roles.

She is one of the world's best-known dramatic sopranos in Puccini and Verdi operas but says her big goal is "to find a really good new American opera—and sing it in English."

"What is the greatest penalty of operatic stardom?"

"Being unable to get out of the public eye," she said. "You want you to be what they own idea of you. You can't always—sometimes you disillusion them."

"The biggest sacrifice a prima donna has to make is this: She has to look, dress and act like a prima donna—even when she doesn't feel like one. But it gets to be a habit, and you learn to do it."

"This doesn't, in her view, mean that a prima donna is necessarily temperamental or hard to get along with."

"I have had the same secretary for 14 years," she said dryly. "I don't know many tenors who can make that claim."

Around The Rim

Those Not-So-Good Old Days

When I hear some old graybeard talk about "the good old days" I get irritated.

The other night, during the sudden rainstorm, electric service to our part of town failed. It stayed failed for two long weary hours. We scrambled around in the dark, and came up with four short candles—left over from some forgotten Christmas gadget. We put these on makeshift candlesticks and lit them.

I suppose they were better than no light at all but they didn't keep the electric refrigerator running. They were lacking in the capacity to activate the television. The clocks, lifeless when the electricity stopped, ceased to run. Fortunately it was not cold or the floor furnace, which operates on impulse from an electric thermostat, would have been inactive.

I TRIED TO CONSOLE myself with up-lifting thoughts as I sat there in the gloom. I told myself that George Washington, the richest man of his day, had only candles to illuminate his palatial home. That good old Abe Lincoln had educated himself sprawled in front of the open fireplace studying by the reflected light of flickering pine knots. That some of the greatest literature of all time was scribbled in the dim and flaring light of forlorn candles.

The effort was not much help. George Washington, with his millions would have had electric lights in Mount Vernon if there had been electric lights in that day.

He would have replaced the candles with whale oil lamps quick as a flash if they had been available. He would have thrown the whale oil lamps into the ash can and bought kerosene models, if such devices had been invented. The cost would have been of no issue to George, even though he was a man pretty careful with his dollars.

LINCOLN DIDN'T study by the dim glow of a fireplace from choice. He just didn't have any other kind of artificial illumination. When he finally got out of that three-sided log shanty and into a more comfortable house, he did the best he could for his time—he had a mess of candles.

In my own youth we had "coal oil" lamps. They were immeasurably better than candles. They were for a little while a source of light around them, they failed to do more than sort of turn the darkness from black to a dingy gray. I didn't enjoy poring over my textbooks by this light and I saw no reason to nail that period as best of times.

THERE WASN'T anything funny to me when I had to chop wood for the stove in order to keep from freezing. It wasn't anything to cheer about to go several miles into town two or three times a week to buy ice for the homemade icebox we finally acquired. And someone had to lug out the big sloppy pan full of water from under the box or the whole kitchen floor was likely to be flooded.

Things are supposed to be very, very bad these days from what I hear and what I read. They are far, extremely far, from the happy condition called normal all the smart guys say. Times were normal, I suppose, in the days that the oldies so sadly describe as the good old days.

Well, maybe things aren't normal. I wouldn't know. I never have been fortunate enough to live in a time when the wise-creeds said things were normal. They were always harking back to some other remote year when it was just simply great.

I'll bet my last nickel if I could have lived in that golden age of which I hear so much I would find the philosophers prattling about how bad things were and how wonderful they had been way back when.

I didn't want to hear about the good old days nor certainly to go back to em the other night. All I wanted was the use of a workable coal oil lamp—or better still, for the power to come on again.

Taft Followers Have Forgiven

WITH NIXON IN OHIO—They weren't hanging from the rafters in the auditorium when Cincinnati called "The Garden." But they were just about everywhere else. Out of this roaring audience, Old Guard in politics but often Bobby Sox in its frenzy, we may have an answer to one of the Sphinx's riddles to 1960: to wit:

Are right-wing Republicans going to turn out for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, or stay home?

WELL, THEY DIDN'T stay home from this prodigious rally, which featured both ends of the ticket. Ambassador Lodge, holding his wife's hand, swung on stage like the leader of a song-and-dance team. Lodge, as much as any living person, dashed the clip of hope from the lips of the late Senator Taft, who was making his last bid for the Presidency in 1952. Lodge, as much as any living person, dashed the clip of hope from the lips of the late Senator Taft, who was making his last bid for the Presidency in 1952.

HOW DID LODGE go over in Cincinnati, Taft's home town? He was terrific! Al Johnson couldn't have sung one of his famous "Mammy" songs to more appreciation than Lodge read off his introductory laudation to Richard Nixon, Frank Sinatra, if he weren't a Democrat, would be a better analogy. The usherettes behind the press table began shrieking their mating calls as soon as the handsome, debonair former UN Ambassador appeared.

And candidate Nixon? In 1952 he also left Robert Taft and did yeoman service in bringing California delegates to the Eisenhower camp. In his opening remarks at the Cincinnati rally, Nixon tested the atmosphere with a reference to "one of the great American families—William Howard and Robert A. Taft."

THE EFFECT was thunderous. Thereafter, interrupted with once-a-minute applause, Nixon rolled through his denunciation of John Kennedy in the now-familiar baseball striking out three times—on Quenoy-Matsu, on the suggestion of ex-

What makes America such a wonderfully democratic place is that every citizen firmly believes that what's good enough for the Rockefellers, Fordes, Kennedys, and Astors is just ducky for him. Therefore, I believe that the Grand Trust (Gm Exchange Bank of Philadelphia has hit the jackpot. It has a plan to make every man or woman—with as little as $1,000—just like a millionaire with a "personal retirement trust."

EVER SINCE the end of the war, persons of modest means had wanted to do what the well-to-do do—buy stocks. But they lacked knowhow. The bull market whetted appetites. They want to participate in America's growth and have some protection against inflation. Mutual funds and the New York Stock Exchange's Monthly Investment Plan have catered to this need.

Now, the Girard is rushing in—with what seems to me to be a lost-cause, financial break-through. There is no sales commission. On most mutual funds, the going-in charge is usually 8 per cent. On a $1,000 purchase only $920 initially works for the investor.

IN ADDITION, a mutual fund incurs the ordinary expenses of doing business. It pays commissions in buying and selling stocks. It pays a management fee to its sponsors, the management company. It has transfer taxes, for keeping track of stocks, and there are miscellaneous charges.

Among some of the larger funds, such expenses as a per cent of assets are as follows: Wellington Fund 0.4 per cent; Fundamental Investors 0.63 per cent; Affiliated Fund 0.43 per cent; Massachusetts Investors Trust 0.18 per cent; One William Street 0.68 per cent; Dividend Shares 0.5 per cent; Fidelity Fund 0.59 per cent.

pressing "regrets" for the U2 incident, on the proposal to intervene in Cuba.

The reception in Cincinnati of these two former Taft-thwarters seems to say that all is forgiven. Ohio's industrial precincts in Cleveland, Columbus, Toledo and Youngstown are giving Kennedy 54.5-6 per cent in the polls. Straw votes in the rural areas, as conducted by local newspapers, show that Midwest conservatism and "big-dry" run even higher for Nixon. If Ohio has any chance whatever of going Republican, it was illustrated in the Cincinnati rally where the Grand Old Army of Mr. Republican turned out in force and frenzy behind its new leaders.

THERE ARE many to the right of Richard Nixon who find him, although a "modern" Republican, just about the last chance in sight for responsible government. One of these, Congressman Sam Devine of Columbus is fighting for office against Richard Liming the sort of Democrat becoming alarmingly typical. He is an ex-professor, never in public life, but backed by the organized farmer-Labor groups with one increasing purpose: a planned, subsidized society.

Nixon is the only national candidate in the field against what is essentially a step-by-step communization of the USA, and it may sound ungrateful to wish he were any different than he is. But one reporter in the Nixon caravan, who traveled with Taft (as I did not), was recalling how Mr. Republican would leave his huge form to the front of a platform, blink and beam to the applause, then say in his nasal, shame-the-devils voice:

"THE ISSUE is Liberty vs. Socialism, and I'm going to tell you why."

Unlike Taft, Nixon does not pay his audience the compliment of assuming they have the intelligence to understand. By reducing the grand issues of life and freedom to the lingo of sport, by compromising in some places, going underground in others, plunging into the protective shadow of Dwight Eisenhower, Nixon blurs the high seriousness of his mission. It is, as Taft used to say, the battle of Liberty vs. Socialism.

New Plan For Small Investors

What makes America such a wonderfully democratic place is that every citizen firmly believes that what's good enough for the Rockefellers, Fordes, Kennedys, and Astors is just ducky for him. Therefore, I believe that the Grand Trust (Gm Exchange Bank of Philadelphia has hit the jackpot. It has a plan to make every man or woman—with as little as $1,000—just like a millionaire with a "personal retirement trust."

entrance or withdrawal fee. Further, you can add to it at the rate of $100 per month which gives it the characteristics of MIP.

The Girard offers two plans. In one, funds are invested exclusively in common stocks. The other is a balanced fund—part stocks, part bonds. A participant may split his initial minimum investment of $1,000, half and half between the funds.

If a participant needs cash, he must, under the present plan, terminate the trust—draw everything out. But he can, of course, turn around and reinvest the part he doesn't need. Alternately, he can use his resources in the fund as collateral for a loan at the bank.

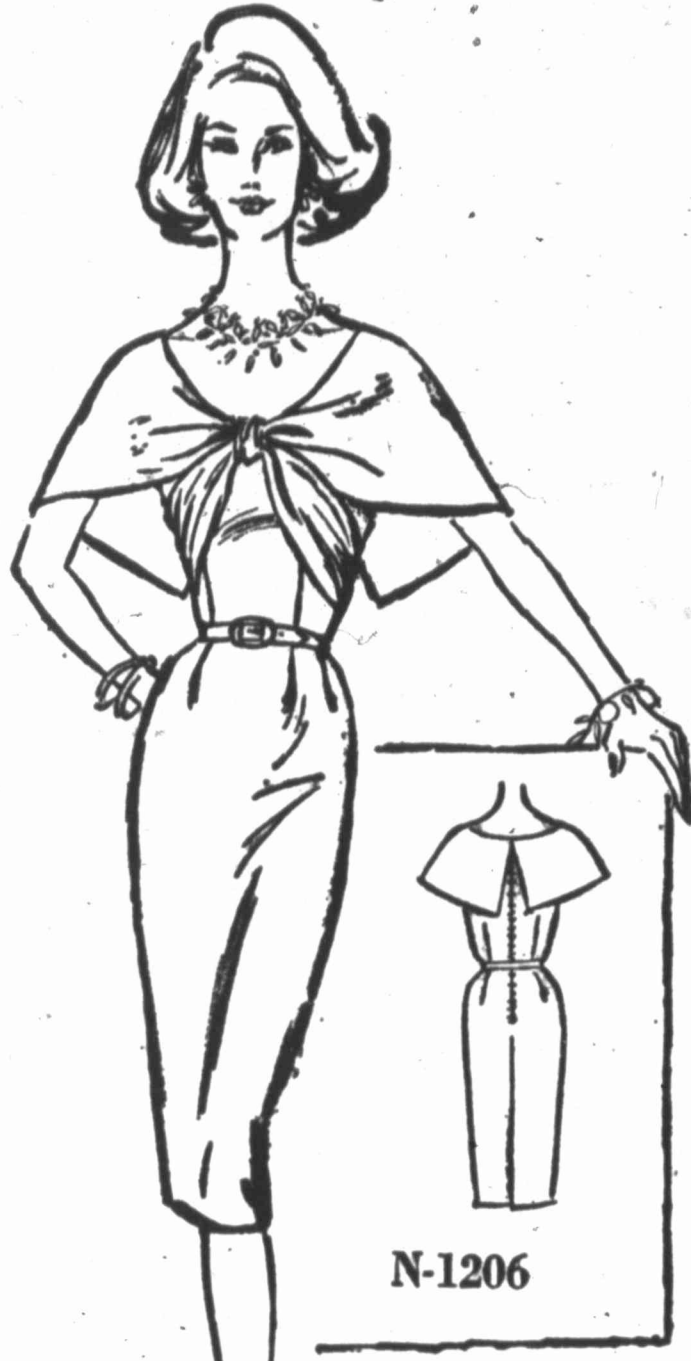

The maximum investment under the plan is $100,000. The minimum charge on a standard personal trust is $50. Therefore, a person with $100,000 can have his own personally-tailored trust instead of being a number in a pooled fund.

THE GIRARD plan will be studied and perhaps copied by banks throughout the country. And it will also be examined critically by mutual funds. If the plan spreads to cities other than Philadelphia, mutual funds may be forced to re-survey their sales fee. If investors can get skilled management at a bank without paying 8 per cent for the privilege, mutual funds may lose sales.

To be sure, the large mutual funds have met so-called "free" competition before. Several large funds, such as the Scudder, Stevens & Clark funds and the Loomis-Sayles Fund, and others, charge no "load" or commission. But these funds seldom advertise. And brokerage-firm salesmen have no incentive to push them.

BUT GIRARD, and assuming other banks which may take up the plan, will doubtless advertise. They'll have to—to get the volume to make the everyman personal trust plan profitable.

WSCS Has Study Of Missions

Fourth in a series of studies in missions, "Heritage and Horizons in Home Missions", was presented for the Martha Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist Church Monday evening at the church.

A devotion was brought by Twila Lomax, and a panel discussed the topic, "What is the Mission of the Church in Suburbia?" The group included Mrs. Gladys Burnham, Roberta Gay and Mrs. B. M. Keese.

Edith Gay discussed the narcotic problem based on the book, "While Our Backs Are Turned." A film, "The Hook," pictured addicts and showed the methods used to combat the trouble.

Purple velvet was a background for a portrait of Christ and an arrangement of flowers used as a worship center.

Twenty-seven were present for the program. The next meeting will conclude the study.

Podiatrist Advises Better Care Of Feet

The hectic pace of the American homemaker takes its greatest toll below the ankles, according to one of the nation's leading foot specialists.

Small wonder then that 80 per cent of the patients in any podiatrist's office in any city in the U.S. are women, reports Dr. Benjamin Kauth, prominent podiatrist and author of a new book "Walk and Be Happy" (John Day Co.).

Not only is woman's footwork never done, declares Dr. Kauth, but most of her foot troubles are self-induced. The aches and agonies of bunions, blisters and corns are largely due to the shoes she wears. Dr. Kauth officers this advice to keep your feet from kicking up:

Avoid self-treatment. Corns, calluses and blisters should respond to a change of shoe or stocking size—or style. If they don't, see a podiatrist. Bathroom surgery is dangerous and expensive.

Never wear flimsy slippers or broken-down pumps for housework—they offer neither support nor safety. Plastic, canvas and rubber playshoes are no better—they give no support and trap unhealthy perspiration inside the shoe.

For comfort and ease, indoors and out, wear shoes with soft, supple leather tops and sturdy, flexible leather soles. They give firm, non-binding support on tiled, hardwood or concrete surfaces. A leather shoe "breathes" right through its sides and sole, keeping the foot dry, comfortable and healthy.

Go ahead and wear high fashion, high heel shoes if you want to. But climb down off them in a few hours. Alternate heel heights during the day to keep your calf and leg muscles limber.

Exercise regularly. Walking is the simplest and most healthful exercise.

LUNCHEON RESERVATIONS DUE THURSDAY AT C-CLUB

The first meeting of the Big Spring Country Club Ladies' Golf Association to be held in the new club will be on Friday at 1 p.m. Reservations for the luncheon must be made at the club, AM 4-7701, by Thursday noon.

Duplicate bridge players are invited to attend the luncheon. Mrs. E. L. Powell has announced; she is co-chairman of the sessions, which are played at the club each Friday. Time for the bridge games has been moved to 2 p.m. on first Fridays of each month, when the golf association meets.

Following the luncheon, there will be four games at bridge as well as the regular duplicate games, Mrs. Powell stated.

Soft Drinks Are Useful With Fruit

Autumn menus should include an abundance and variety of fruits — tempting fruit cocktails, fruit salads, colorful and prettily arranged fruit plates, to which a dressing may be added, if desired.

Whatever way you serve it, here is a secret to help keep cut-up fruit cold and crisp and fresh in color: Put it in a container, cover it with a carbonated soft drink, and put it in the refrigerator. The beverage not only adds a bit of zing to the flavor, but it helps to keep the fruit crisp and retards unattractive discoloration.

Any carbonated soft drink may be used. Some, such as ginger ale or cola, will add an interesting spicy flavor — others, the fruit types, such as lemon-lime, orange, cherry, etc., will reinforce the natural fruit flavors.

There's a further alliance between fresh fruit and soft drinks, too. They make an ideal quick extender for mayonnaise to be served with fruit salads or fruit plates. Just stir a little beverage (again, your choice of flavors) into prepared mayonnaise.

Add a little at a time until the consistency is just what you wish. Use it just this way if you're in a hurry; or, if you want to go a step further, fold in some whipped cream.

A very good dressing for fruit can also be made with cream cheese!

CREAM CHEESE DRESSING

1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese
1/4 cup carbonated beverage
1/4 tsp. salt
2 tbsps. lemon juice
3 tbsps. mayonnaise
1/4 cup heavy cream, chilled

Put cream cheese in smallest bowl of electric mixer. Beat in beverage, salt, lemon juice and mayonnaise until blended.

In separate bowl, beat chilled heavy cream. Fold whipped cream into first mixture. Makes 1 pint.

Raccoon Collar Assists Coed In Sewing Contest

Did you ever hear of turning a raccoon collar into a trip to Europe for two, plus $1,000?

Pretty Mary Jane Diehl, 18, of Canfield, Ohio, did it. With the help of a little old sewing machine. Blonde, blue-eyed Mary Jane is the first prize winner in the Misses' and Mrs. Division of the Young Stylist Contest. Her entry was a chic brown and white herringbone tweed suit with a raccoon collar she removed from her little boy coat. The outfit cost $35 to make.

"I always wanted a suit just like that to wear to college," says Mary Jane, a freshman at Ohio State, "so when the contest came along, I thought why not sew that costume and submit it?"

This isn't her first award in sewing. She won three Grade A-4-H awards in tailoring and one in costume, which includes the complete tailoring of hat, dress, coat, bag.

"I was sewing even before that on doll clothes, like lots of other girls," she explains. "My mother loves to sew and we often sew together. I have made curtains for my church and vests for my dad."

Mary Jane sometimes feels that she'd like to have a ready-made outfit from a store. Her clothes are usually made at home.

"I guess I'm no different from other girls, though," she says. "I've heard many of them say that just for a change, they'd like to wear something different," she says, "but I usually prefer home tailored clothes."

She plans to teach Home Economics, although there is one hitch — she can't cook.

"My mother is such a wonderful cook that I've never really had a chance to learn. My father would rather eat her cooking than my experiments."

The thousand dollars will go towards college tuition, she says. A staturesque 5 foot 7, Mary Jane pays part of her tuition by modeling Junior sportswear in fashion shows at a Youngstown department store.

She'd love it if her mother and father would make the trip to Europe with her.

"But dad likes it here too much to uproot himself. Mother will adore it, so I know we'll have a good time."

The first thing Mary Jane plans to do when she returns to Ohio, from the award festivities in New York is to make her beau a vest.

"He ordered it," she says, "the instant he knew I was a finalist in the contest. I guess he figured then, that maybe I could sew."

There are vaccinations for the prevention of smallpox in humans, and I have heard of cowpox plaguing a youngster and he recovered. Now I wish there would be something that would remove the large pox from our street. It is comforting to know that road crews are working about the city. Those with new cars are beginning to wonder how long they can stand the strain of the bumpy bounce each trip over the obstacle course . . . those of us with the old numbers can't last much longer.

MRS. PAULINE ANDERSON had a letter recently from her son, A.I.C. John C. Anderson, who is serving at Clark AFB in the Philippines in which he enclosed a nice bit of governmental gratitude. He was sent a letter of appreciation from the government thanking him for taking part in rescue work when the island was hit by the floods late last spring. He has been at Clark since late May.

MRS. J. B. HELLMUMS of Rotan is the guest of her daughter and grandson, MRS. MARGARET COOPER, and DAVID.

MRS. C. E. SHIVE and MRS. JANE BISHOP had a real "kissin" cousin here over the weekend. She is MRS. DORA BRADSHAW whose home is in Bakersfield, Calif. She was visiting a brother in Roswell, N. M., and called Mrs. Shive to see how about a visit since they had not seen each other in 30 years. The women are double cousins; their mothers were sisters and their fathers were brothers. Although there is no kinship between them and MRS. JEFF WALKER, they have the same cousins. Mrs. Bradshaw left Monday morning.

MRS. ELMER ATWOOD of Belton, N. M., who is visiting her parent, the W. F. Taylors, and her brother and his family, the John Taylors, plans to go to O'Donnell Wednesday to visit another brother, Wayland Taylor, and his family. She's making this trip count in visits with family and friends. She spent the weekend in Roby with her sister, Mrs. O. B. Cave, and they attended the homecoming at Rotan High School from which they both graduated. Friday she will go back to Roby and join her sister to attend a tea in Rotan. The Caves will bring her back here Sunday and she will board a plane that night for her home from the Midland terminal.

MR. and MRS. M. C. STULTING visited her mother, MRS. MARY ELLIS Sunday at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Angelo.

MR. and MRS. JONATHAN LANCASTER, together with MEREDITH and DAVID, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pickle during the weekend.

The strongest thing about Halliwell, it seems to me, is a toss-up between mama's constitution and the children's tummies. By the time mother takes the children for a round of trick or treats and then corals them through the orgy of the school carnival, the toll on her spirit is great. Just when she finally gets set for rest, the little goblin starts tasting his loot of the evening and invariably goes too far. It's nice to have over, isn't it?

March Of Dimes Chairman Cites Expansion Of Efforts

The New March of Dimes research has saved thousands of Americans from paralytic polio and is rapidly expanding its efforts to prevent other major crippling diseases, Rad Ware, Howard-Glasscock counties chairman, said today.

His statement came following a meeting of 400 March of Dimes volunteer leaders from Texas and Oklahoma in Dallas during the weekend. Principal speaker at the gathering was Dr. Vincent Askey, president of the American Medical Association. Dr. Bowen and Mr. and Mrs. Rad Ware attended from Big Spring.

Urging county residents to "please say yes" to the New March of Dimes campaign, Ware pointed out that twice within the last five years National Foundation research has scored major medical victories.

"In 1955, the announcement that the Salk vaccine was safe, potent and effective electrified the world and offered promise that the scourge of paralytic polio could be eradicated. Just two months ago came the announcement from the surgeon general of the United States that the Sabin Oral Vaccine—also financed solely through March of Dimes contributions—would soon be licensed for use in this country as a working partner to Salk vaccine."

State Tax Collections Up

AUSTIN (AP)—State Treasurer Jesse James said today Texas revenues from taxes on cigarettes, liquor and wine were $1,389,729 higher in October than in 1959.

October's $8,478,194 take was less than the $8,716,481 collected in September. The taxes brought in $6,882,465 in October 1959.

Berry Team Sets Guard Parleys

AUSTIN (AP)—Adjutant Gen. K. L. Berry said today his briefing team of eight will be in Paris Nov. 15, and Wichita Falls Nov. 16 to talk about the National Guard.

The series of orientation conferences will be held in 16 Texas cities in San Angelo, and sessions are scheduled Wednesday in Brownwood and Thursday in Abilene.

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Baptists, who heard a spokesman charge Roman Catholics with bigotry Monday, were told today their Christianity may have become "too respectable."

Convention President M. B. Carroll of Dallas did not mention Roman Catholic presidential candidate John Kennedy by name in his sermon seeking to state the Baptist position on church-state relationships.

"The present political campaign has merely given us an opportunity to point out again the price of our religious freedom and the danger we face in losing it," said Carroll, pastor of the East Grand Baptist Church of Dallas.

"The position of many Baptists will be taken in full awareness of the ambitions of the Roman hierarchy to dominate the world with its authority and its continued record of bigoted opposition to all non-Catholic religions," Carroll said.

Many Texas Baptist ministers have been openly active in opposing Kennedy on grounds that his

Thus, he said, the American people voluntarily contributing their time and dollars to a cause they believe in, have provided the medical profession with two great weapons against crippling and disabling diseases. Such a record of success gives even greater hopes for early medical victories over the other great crippling—birth defects and arthritis—which have been targets of the new March of Dimes since July, 1958.

The volunteer leader explained that in little more than two years, the New March of Dimes organization has moved swiftly in the new fields. Grants totalling $2,300,000 have gone to scientists and doctors seeking both the causes of birth defects and arthritis and the methods of alleviating the suffering of those now afflicted. Four arthritis and two birth defect clinical study centers are already in operation and others will open in the near future. In addition to scientific research, said Ware, funds are urgently needed for the patient care and health scholarship programs of the New March of Dimes.

Equally important, according to the chapter chairman, is the New March of Dimes health scholarship program now in its third year of operation. Under this program, 500 students each year from 50 states are furnished scholarships valued at $2,000 enabling them to pursue careers in medicine, nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy and medical social work.

"This scholarship program, aimed at alleviating drastic shortages of personnel in the health professions, is just another example of New March of Dimes pioneering for better health for all Americans," Ware declared.

Baptists Told Their Views May Be 'Too Respectable'

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Baptists, who heard a spokesman charge Roman Catholics with bigotry Monday, were told today their Christianity may have become "too respectable."

Convention President M. B. Carroll of Dallas did not mention Roman Catholic presidential candidate John Kennedy by name in his sermon seeking to state the Baptist position on church-state relationships.

"The present political campaign has merely given us an opportunity to point out again the price of our religious freedom and the danger we face in losing it," said Carroll, pastor of the East Grand Baptist Church of Dallas.

"The position of many Baptists will be taken in full awareness of the ambitions of the Roman hierarchy to dominate the world with its authority and its continued record of bigoted opposition to all non-Catholic religions," Carroll said.

Many Texas Baptist ministers have been openly active in opposing Kennedy on grounds that his religion might disqualify him for the presidency.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, has repeatedly said it would not, that his first loyalty as president would be to follow his constitutional oath.

The religious issue may crop out again at this annual meeting of messengers for 1,387 churches with a membership of 1,579,129.

The idea that "Christians can become too respectable" to cope with the blasé modern era was voiced today by Dr. Gordon Cline, professor of preaching at the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.

He recalled that when the early Christians "began to turn the world upside down they were hunted like wild animals, beaten and crucified."

"The history of Christianity has often been written in the red blood of men who have scandalized respectable religion in their allegiance to the Gospel," Dr. Cline said.

Early American Baptists, he said, were persecuted for their faith. They were neither numerous nor prominent.

Now, he said, "We are rich and correct and most respectable, but we at best are only tolerated and no longer turn the world upside down." The answer, he suggested, is a positive Christianity that moves out into the world as a way of life.

The president of the convention in explaining opposition to a Roman Catholic as president of the United States, said Monday night, "We Baptists are being grossly misunderstood in our convictions and our defense of the Gospel."

"We remember the bloody history of the evils of a state religion... and the intimidation against our people where Roman Catholics control governments. We would be foolish to sell our cherished freedom in Christ and in a free state for political expediency," Dr. Carroll said.

"The Vatican does not concur with what some of the outstanding members of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States believe," he said.

McAlister Quits HCJC, Takes Up Math Instruction-Aids Work

George A. McAlister, head of the math department at Howard County Junior College, has resigned his post effective at mid-term to devote full time to his Gannco, a supply firm in mathematics instructional aids. He will continue to make his home, here.

Trustees accepted his resignation with regrets, and complied with his wish to be relieved at mid-term. He had offered to continue through the spring semester if a replacement could not be secured. Verdel Turner, who is currently on the Texas Tech math faculty will succeed him in January. Turner holds his M.A. from Tech.

McAlister came here in 1948 from East Texas State College where he had a teaching fellowship while completing requirements for his masters degree. Besides serving as an instructor and later as head of the department at HCJC he also was track coach for several years and designed and supervised the construction of the college track. He was dean of men and later director of student affairs.

A few years ago, he designed a chalk board with basic math items and a polar coordinates system. From this he developed specialized graph paper and other supplies. He imported materials and instruments from Germany and Sweden for certain precision aids, and more recently he has invented a table which is in reality a mathematics lab in addition. McAlister has secured franchises for other unique items in order to put together "in one catalogue everything needed for a complete math lab."

His experience in instruction, he said, had convinced him that the math room needed to be just as much a lab as those of chemistry and physics, since both depend upon math.

Besides his connection with the college, McAlister has been active in community affairs, serving as president of the ABC club and once director of its celebrated relay races. He also has been a division leader several times for the YMCA membership campaign.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCJC president, told the board that he regretted to lose McAlister's service because of "the fine job he has done."

In other matters, the board accepted the monthly financial statement and other miscellaneous reports.

Dr. Hunt said that the recent stabilization of the stadium parking area had proven satisfactory, but that some additional work was needed to protect the north slopes where the water flows off.

The Southern Association of Colleges has accepted the HCJC report without question again, which means continued accreditation and membership.

HCJC's Jayhawk basketball team has been invited to the elite Blue Water Classic tournament at Markato, Minn., he said, but conflicting dates make it impossible to accept.

Final reports show the tax roll will be $54,942.341 for the county-wide district, he said, a figure slightly better than estimates on which the budget is based.

Trustees made a brief inspection of new storage facilities installed to take care of the science films which are used in a cooperative arrangement with Big Spring, Forsan, Ackety, Stanton and Coahoma high schools. HCJC library is the servicing agency.

NEW YORK (AP)—An electronic computer was shown today that will tell the age of a person who answers 10 questions.

The queries are like this: "Were you born during or before 1928?" and "Is your age an even number?" Put answers are provided for "yes" or "no."

The device, displayed to previewers of the General Motors "Motorama" show, has been rigged to give a chivalrous answer to feminine questions beyond their teens.

When one such comes along, the mechanical brain—after all questions have been answered—flashes an automatic "21."

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Fall work on the farms is finished in this Pennsylvania Dutch country—and that means it's marriage time among the Amish people.

Many more will come forward this week to get their licenses, precede to weddings which for the Amish folk are strictly November milestones.

And not just any time in the month, either. By long-standing custom among the people of this Protestant sect—plain, but picturesque—a couple may marry only on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

An Amish wedding day starts about 8:30 a.m. and lasts until well after sundown. It is by no means a common affair as many as 40 to 50 guests to assemble from miles around to entertain and play for the dancing.

Married friends of the groom try to keep the bride from leaving the house by a fence.

Friends of the bride perform a traditional rite too. They hide a brownie in the bride's house—a way to the scene of an Amish wedding—with the intent of tricking her into stepping over it. Once she has done that she is recognized by all as a married woman.

Not the least of the attractions is a big meal at midday, showing off a variety of superbly cooked dishes, with ample leftovers for supper.

Gaiety is by no means the whole story. To the Amish a wedding is one of the most spiritual of human activities. The laws are sung, prayers spoken. The actual service is performed, without a hymn or a prayer book.

Before an Amishman marries he is clean-shaven. Afterward, he grows a beard.

Another custom, just as binding, obligates the newlyweds to buy a fancy carriage—Amish folk do not fancy automobiles—to replace the open buggy used for courting.

Electric Dryers Make Bad Weather Laundering Easy

Housewives who have had to wash during a rainy spell know what a chore it is to get the clothes dried.

There is no such problem in homes that have electric dryers. In good weather or bad, they just toss the clothes in the dryers and the machine does the rest. Then there isn't any time consuming and back breaking work of hanging the clothes on the line or having to go out and get them when they are dry or if a sudden rain squall comes up.

Clothes come out of the electric dryer just as fresh and sparkling clean as if they had been dried in the sun. The electric dryer adds nothing but moisture removing warmth to the air inside the dryer and the heat is so gentle and precisely controlled that even the most delicate fabrics can be dried without fear of harming them.

Live better electrically with your Texas Electric Service Company and see your favorite appliance dealer real soon for an electric clothes dryer. It will save you time, work and money and your clothes will look nicer too.

The clean flameless electric heat dries the clothes so fluffy soft and sweet smelling that many of the articles will not have to be ironed.

You can dry clothes any time of the day or night in any kind of weather with little more effort than setting the controls, and the dryer is built to fit in your kitchen or laundry room and leave you lots and lots of space for other appliances.

Even without the large sign on the gleaming white building Cecil Thixton's cycle shop at 908 W. 3rd is easy to identify, as this scene testifies. Harley-Davidson motorcycles and scooters, displayed in front, mark the spot for the finest in sales and service in the Harley line. Besides the extensive stock of motorcycles and scooters, Thixton carries a complete line of the famous Schwinn bicycles. The bikes come in all sizes, models and colors, and in prices to suit every budget. Thixton points out to parents that every Schwinn is completely guaranteed against all defects with no time limit. The Harley-Davidson cycles are also available in various sizes. There is the Topper, Thixton's pride and joy, which is a scooter model easy to operate and averaging about 100 miles per gallon of gas. Smaller motorcycles with five and seven and one-half horsepower engines make excellent school transportation. These models average about 80 miles per gallon. Thixton also carries a complete line of accessories, and maintains a shop for taking care of repairs. Your needs in the bicycle, motorcycle and scooter line can be taken care of best at Cecil Thixton's Motorcycle and Bicycle Shop, 908 W. 3rd.

No Immediate Ruling Looms In School Case

Although the State Court of Civil Appeals will hear oral argument in the Gay Hill-Center Point annexation case on Nov. 4, no decision from the court can be expected for at least 30 days.

Gil Jones, who will represent the county school board at the court in Eastland on Nov. 4, said that the court seldom hands down a decision in a case until 30 days after the hearing.

Jones said that he will be present at the hearing and that Bill

Kerr, Midland, will be on hand to represent the two school districts. The appeal is from a ruling of the 118th District Court here that it had no jurisdiction to hear the common schools' protest against the annexation of their districts to the Big Spring Independent School District.

Weather Is Clear, Cool

By The Associated Press
 Clear and cool weather prevailed over Texas Tuesday. The only vestige of last week's turbulent weather that plagued the state was some continued flooding of South Texas streams.

Lowlands along the Colorado, Guadalupe and other rivers near the coast were covered with water as the crests from torrential weekend downpours rolled toward the Gulf.

Some roads still remained closed as the flood waters that claimed 11 lives Saturday slowly receded.

Monday's blustery winds accompanying a cool front that swept the state clear of clouds had died to gentle breezes Tuesday.

Predawn readings ranged from 36 degrees at Dalhart to 58 at Galveston. The Dalhart low was 8 degrees above the Monday morning sub freezing temperature of 28.

No rainfall was reported in the state Monday.

The forecast called for continued clear and mild weather through Wednesday with slightly higher temperatures in some sections.

Attack By Spear Gun Is Charged

SECAUCUS, N.J. (AP)—A man was arrested Monday night after allegedly trying to destroy a love rival with a spear gun.

Henry C. Von Hassel, 26, was charged with attempted murder. Police said he fired a spear gun commonly used for underwater fishing at Robert Muller, also 26, but that it hit the fender of Muller's car.

Von Hassel allegedly accused Muller of dating Von Hassel's wife. Muller is also married. Von Hassel was held without bail pending a hearing.

GARDEN TALK

Time To Think About A Compost Pile For Garden

Now is the time to think about compost for your garden and flower beds. The cotton gins are running and they are producing cotton bolls and gin trash. These two items may sometimes be used to add organic matter to your garden plots. This is the time when we clean out all the dead and old plants and this material also can be reduced to compost most easily now with our warm days and cool nights.

It is possible that some readers don't know exactly what compost means in gardening terms. This is the rotting of organic matter to form a material useful in enriching the soil. Sometimes it's called leaf mold; other times it is called well rotted barnyard manure, or any number of things, but all in all it just means that the leaves and bolls or what ever organic material at hand has been reduced to humus.

There is much value in this humus. We have a rose garden plot that began as a bed of hard packed clay and gravel. It was so very rocky that digging was difficult and trying at times. After several years of adding cotton bolls, gin trash, wheat straw, livestock bedding material and cane litter plus liberal amounts of chemical and animal fertilizer, we have an entirely different sort of soil.

The earth is no longer yellow and red but is a deep brown and even the rocks are fewer. Partly this is because of the organic material, but also partly because of the acids produced in the decaying material and their erosive action on the stones themselves.

The soil is much easier to dig in and the plants do well. I have known of several local ladies who changed the nature of the soil in a single flower bed by burying kitchen scraps in this area for a year or two. The potato peelings and vegetable scraps decay and shortly become beautiful flowers through a systematic plan of composting small areas of flower beds. Many gardeners have compost beds where the organic materials are carefully rotted the year round. They always have a supply of humus on hand, and more making.

To assure quick humus action, place weeds, stems and leaf material in a heap, add water from time to time and allow to decay. Thirty to 60 days of ideal temperature and moisture conditions can reduce plant materials to humus, though usually much longer.

Shivers Sees 'Intervention'

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Sen. John Kennedy is pictured as a "determined advocate of intervention in the American economy" by Allan Shivers, former Democratic governor of Texas.

Shivers scoffed at the Democratic candidate's experience in foreign affairs Monday night in a Southwide televised speech at a Republican fund raising dinner.

Former South Carolina Gov. James Byrnes, a top advisor to Democratic Presidents Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman, introduced Shivers.

Murder Charged In Woman's Death

HOUSTON (AP)—James Wells, 24, has been charged with murder in the Saturday night death here of a Grand Prairie woman.

Bill Fulbright, 27, also of Houston, was charged as an accessory. Wells is accused of the shooting death of Flora Bennett Eckman, 26, in an apartment.

Mrs. Margie Long, 21, of Fort Worth, told police two men told the Eckman woman to pack and an argument started. The woman was shot during the wrangle.

is required. Some gardeners add top soil and chemical fertilizers to further enrich the compost. You can always tell who has a compost plan in their garden; you can tell by the flowers they produce.

If you have a garden problem, write to Bruce Frazier in care of the Herald.

Multiple Ailments Are Repairable

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

Quite often patients who come to chiropractors for one major ailment usually receive many side corrections in relief of various minor ailments.

Generally these grateful patients are amazed and invariably ask how it is that they come in with a kidney problem, for instance, and wind up free of minor digestive disturbances, or perhaps headaches, sinusitis, muscular aches and pains, dizziness, etc. Actually, this is simple to explain from the chiropractic point of view.

Injuries to the spine usually involve several different nerve groups. A pelvic distortion, for example, could cause an adaptive spinal curvature affecting many nerve trunks. In our daily routine, minor nerve disturbances often pile up and accumulate—and each adds to the previous nerve pressures until a person might suffer from a dozen ailments at the same time. This explains how all of a patient's pains could have similar or related causes, though each could be resulting from a different nerve branch.

Proper realignment of the spinal column, correcting the causes of the injured or disturbed nerves, would naturally benefit all the complaints, though each ailment may have been previously "diagnosed" under a different name.

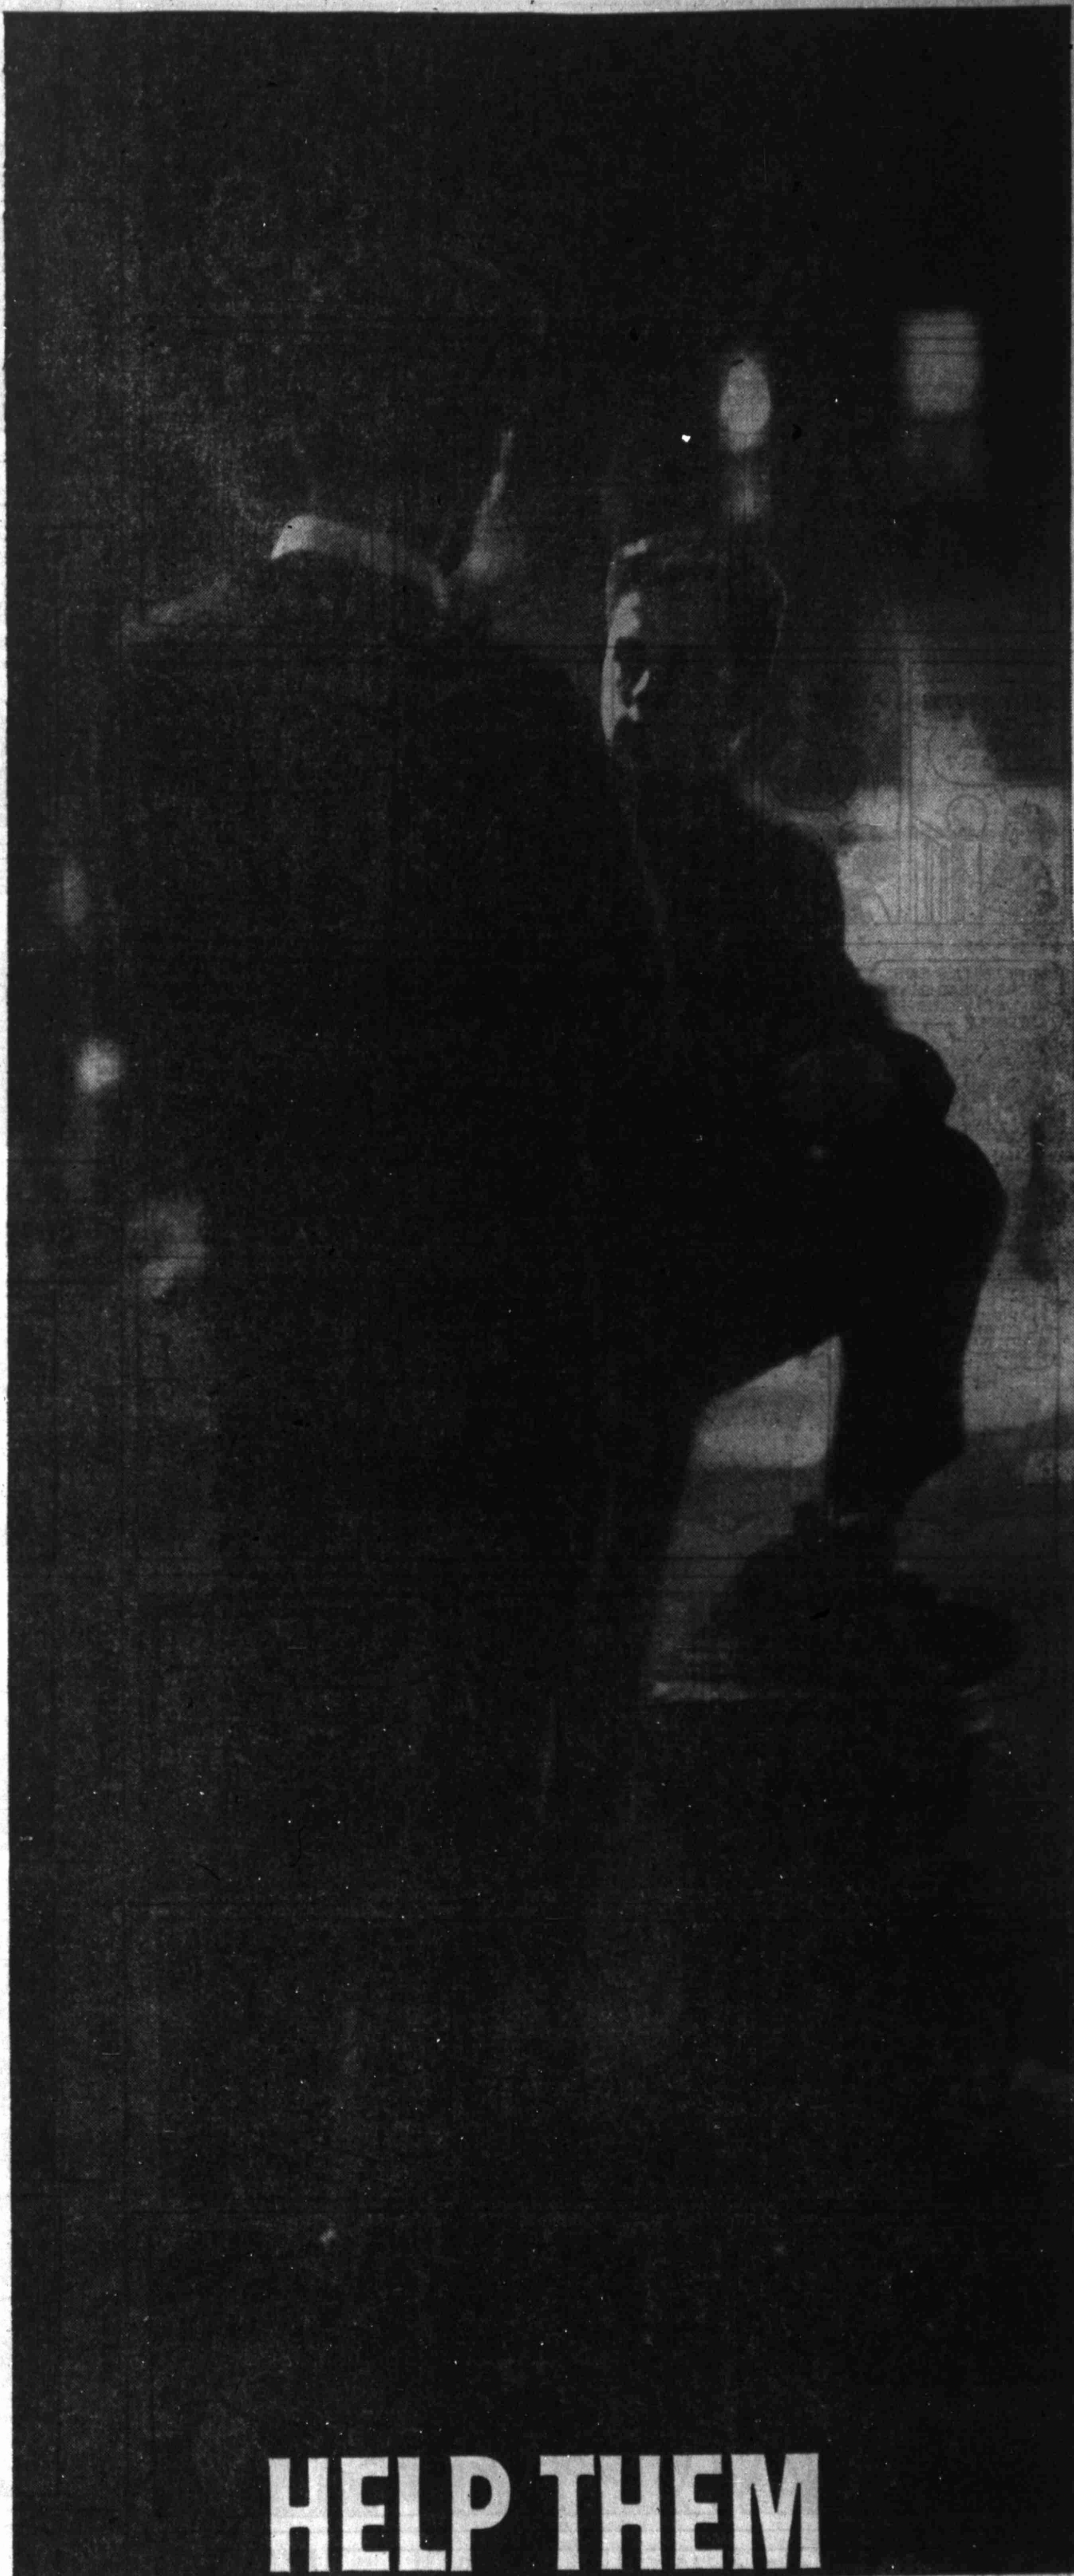

Take this case from our files as an example:

This mother of two teenagers had a serious chest condition that has resisted all efforts of "specialists" for several years. Discouraged, she related her sad, fruitless experiences. Her condition had been "diagnosed" as "chronic bronchiectasis." We found she was suffering from a long string of secondary ailments such as hot and cold flashes with profuse sweating especially at night, interfering with her sleep. She got up tired, and difficult breathing kept her physically exhausted. "Every little effort just wears me out sometimes I'm just too tired to eat." Constant deep coughing didn't help matters and sometimes caused heart palpitations along with dizziness and fainting spells. Indigestion related with gas, bloating, constipation and hemorrhoids was enough to make anyone nervous, unhappy and bring on depressed crying spells. "I can live with everything else, Dr. Hansen, but please do what you can for my chest."

Our spinal examination located defective energization throughout her spine and X-rays showed us points of nerve interference.

Corrective adjustments removed the interference and this case like most all cases we accept was discharged with spine corrected. Our last checkup showed all her miserable symptoms had disappeared, including her chest syndrome. No. 2732.

You've been reading these articles for some weeks now. Investigate the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic for yourself! You have nothing to lose except your ill health. 1004 Eleventh Place AM 3-3324 Next Article Next Tuesday. —Adv.

Coors Slaying Suspect Back

DENVER (AP)—Joseph Corbett Jr., meek and silent behind armed guards, returned today to await trial for the kidnap-murder of Adolph Coors III, wealthy brewer.

The fugitive, 32, trapped Saturday in Vancouver, B.C., was flown from Seattle with four heavily-armed federal officers.

Coors, 44, head of a beer and ceramics business bearing his name, disappeared Feb. 9 on the way from his ranch-style mountain home to the brewery at near Golden. His station wagon was found abandoned. A bridge railing alongside the car was splintered with blood.

The body was found Sept. 11 in dense woods near Sedalia about 30 miles south of Golden. Witnesses told the FBI they saw Corbett target shooting in the area shortly before Coors was kidnapped.

The FBI said Corbett intended to collect a $500,000 ransom but the plan went awry. No ransom was paid.

Lodge Urges Increased Aid

SUFFERN, N.Y. (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge said today the United States should immediately increase its financial aid to United Nations technical assistance programs "as a means of lending the nations of the world to a more effective partnership."

The Republican candidate for vice president said in a foreign policy statement that such multilateral programs of assistance to underdeveloped nations were "a means of getting greater value from our mutual security dollars."

Lodge, a former ambassador to the United Nations, said that every two dollars contributed by the United States to multilateral funds induced other donor nations to contribute three dollars for use in underdeveloped lands.

"Two-thirds of the world has an inadequate standard of life," Lodge said. "The needs of education, for medical progress and for capital development are enormous."

Lyndon Explains 'Dangerous Man' Charge On Nixon

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson spelled out today the basis for his charge that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is a "dangerous man."

"He (Nixon) ignores our troubles by claiming they don't exist," Johnson said.

"He covers up the sore spots with a talcum powder make-up of tranquility."

"He closes the blinds of the windows that look out upon a turbulent world. While the storm rages outside, he sits in a soundproof room listening to the status quo, songs of Republican complacency."

"It is time to remind the vice president that American independence wasn't won by a philosophy of 'all's well with the world' and it cannot be better."

Lodge said Nixon offered "cut down, stripped down versions of Democratic programs."

"It is dangerous to elect a man like this to be president of the United States," the Texan said.

Discussion Group Meets At HCJC

Great Books enthusiasts who haven't read the book will be at no disadvantage in tonight's discussion of Boethius' famous Consolation of Philosophy. No complete copy of the work is at hand but several copies of three chapters will be passed out at the meeting. These chapters are brief enough to be read in full but, with some supplementary material on the author and his place in European thought, will provide ample subject matter for a full session.

Boethius, last of the Romans and first of the Scholastics, was tortured and put to death in 524 (or 525) and wrote the Consolation while in prison. Neoplatonism and Stoicism appear in his writings but the authorship of Christian works attributed to him has been disputed. His treatise on music was used as a textbook at Oxford for generations. He was regarded as the most learned man of his time and exerted a great influence upon European thought.

The Consolation was translated into Old English by King Alfred, into Middle English by Chaucer, and into modern English by Queen Elizabeth I.

Tonight's meeting will open at 8 p.m. in the music room of Howard County Junior College. Everyone is welcome.

Film Singer Not Italian Or Hillbilly

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Another pop singer has been enlisted for movies, but this one is different: He's neither Italian nor hillbilly. Jimmie Rodgers can belt out a folk tune and play a guitar, but he's no rock 'n' roller and he hails from no farther south than Canas, Wash. His good looks and sincere approach have won him a starring role in his first movie, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come."

County Road Paving Speeded

Pete Thomas, assistant county engineer, said that surfacing of four county roads is moving rapidly and that the paving should be complete on all of the jobs, within the next few days.

Shooting has been done on the Culp Street road in Coahoma; on the county highway, southeast of Coahoma and on the work road being built to the site of the new carbon black plant near Cosden. Work is also being pushed on a portion of the Country Club road.

Bond Set In Forgery Case

Bond in the case of A. N. King, charged with forgery, who was returned to Big Spring early this week from Pensacola, Fla., has been set at $2,000. King had not posted bond Monday afternoon.

Dee Skaggs, charged with aggravated assault, has been released from custody on posting $500 bail.

herd boy who lives in the Southern valley of Kingdom Come and returns to his native north to fight his onetime friends in the Civil War. Lots of heart, and that's just what Jimmie was looking for.

"I could have done pictures before now," said the serious young singer (he's 27). "But I didn't want to do the kind of scripts I have been offered. Most of them were the rock 'n' roll things with switchblades and all that."

"I've been under contract to MGM for two years now—to do a picture a year. But they've never come up with anything I wanted to do, so we keep extending the option."

He told of turning down one racy film with the explanation to the producer: "If I appeared in it, I'd have to tell my mother not to see it." The producer accused him of having a warped mind.

Jimmie is unconcerned about such barbs. He is acutely aware of the short span of popularity for most pop singers.

"I've never aimed at a strictly teen-age audience," he declared. "None of the songs I've recorded has been directed at the young group. Well, just one. I had a line in a song about the girl wearing my graduation ring. But it could have been a college graduation ring."

"I've been trying to ease into the field of folk music. I've done some albums and in my personal appearances I'm doing more and more folk tunes. It's a field where a singer can last longer. Look at Harry Belafonte."

Jimmie is also hoping for "The Little Shepherd" to broaden and strengthen his career. He hasn't taken any dramatic lessons, but figures his year with a TV show and his long tenure in night clubs will provide the know-how in dealing with audiences.

"I've been doing night clubs for the past four years, and I did them for three and a half years before I had my first hit record," he said. "I've seen every kind of audience."

Daily Average Oil Production Rises

Let's Hope Fidel Can't Do The Same

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—David Ramsey, 8, dressed as the Cuban prime minister on Halloween, was stopped by older boys who yelled, "There's that dirty Fidel Castro."

They made off with David's sack of trick-or-treat goodies. David got another sack and made his rounds again, explaining what had happened.

He wound up with more goodies than before.

A Barrymore Gets Married

John Barrymore Jr. and his bride, Italian movie starlet Gabriella (Gaby) Palazzoli, 23, leave a church in Rome after their marriage. The 28-year-old actor wore a red-trimmed tuxedo shirt with black buttons and a black, waist-length jacket with a stand-up, ear-high collar, for the ceremony.

Spanish Tale Has Deep Insight Into Human Nature

THE SECOND LIFE OF CAPTAIN CONTRERAS. By Torcuato Luca de Tena. Translated from Spanish and edited by Barnaby Conrad. Houghton Mifflin. $3.50.

Alonso de Roay Contreras, thoughtful and melancholy, sitting in the ravine of the Tagus outside Toledo in the year 1633, and Alonso sitting there again more than three centuries later, today, the washwomen at their unchanged tasks below him—in the gap between these dates lies the story told here for your mystification.

With the law hot on his trail, a mob outside the house and death breathing down his neck, Alonso the bravo gets three potent taps from 17th Century medicine men who put him to sleep till his coffin sags open in 1950. Witnesses to the resurrection are a doctor and a narrator, a newsman. Was it catalepsy, a miracle, a hoax? They scheme to benefit by it anyway, train their blunt brass knight in 20th Century manners and launch him on a career intended to make the doctor famous and the newsman rich. Alonso is recalcitrant. The women flirt but stand him off. He has his Dulcinea, who nourishes his illusions as her predecessor did Don Quixote's.

In the 17th Century it was a villain, and now a heel; man is betrayed in any age; yet maybe the earlier time was better. These reflections are embodied in a story in which believable and unbelievable, fact and fancy, natural and supernatural are sometimes properly opposites and sometimes most intriguingly coincide.

The one '61 car
built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself . . . and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend—were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built. Drive a '61 Ford soon.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $4.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and laminated—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.
