Garner Leaders Map Out State Convention Program

LIKLIHOOD OF REPEAL PLANK IS MINIMIZED

HOUSTON, May 23. — Garner leaders today had announced a complete state convention program to be varied only as the strength of the liberals forces them to compromise.

State Sen. Walter Woodul, of Houston, declared the Garner organization as mapped out at San Antonio last February will control the convention. He predicted that the wet will not master over 300 votes for a repeal plank.

144 DELEGATES TO BE SENT.

HOUSTON, May 23. — Texas democracy will send 144 delegates an equal number of alternates and 46 delegates at large to the Chicago convention instead of the customary 46 delegates and 46 alternates. It was decided today by the state democratic executive committee in a pre-convention meeting.

HARMONY SEEN AT G. O. P. CONVENTION.

MINERAL WELLS, May 23. — Texas republicans caucused here today in preparation for their state convention tomorrow without evidence of discord. R. B. Creager, Brownsville, national committee-man said he expected the convention to ignore the prohibition question and give President Herbert Hoover's administration an "enthusiastic endorsement."

W. E. Goen, of El Paso, was prominently mentioned for the chairmanship of the convention.

URGES SESSION FOR COUNTY BOND RELIEF

AUSTIN, May 23. — A special five-day session of the Texas legislature to relieve counties of high bond indebtedness was proposed today by Rep. T. J. Cunningham, of Eastland county.

Gov. Sterling recently said he favored taking a part of the gasoline tax to relieve counties of road bond burdens.

"I believe this could be put into law within five days and would give the people of Texas the relief of some $80,000,000 indebtedness," wrote Rep. Cunningham to Gov. Sterling.

His bakery is located at 505 D avenue and his bread is being sold at some of the grocery stores of the city. He invites the buying public to inspect his product.

TEXAS TRUCK LAW UPHELD BY U. S. COURT

WASHINGTON, May 23. — The Texas law limiting the size of motor vehicles operating over its highways was today held valid by the supreme court in a decision by Chief Justice Hughes.

The appeal was brought by a group of contract and common carriers who contended that the regulations tended to deprive them of their property without due process of law.

BELT RECOVERED

PORT WORTH, May 23. — A belt, a rodeo championship prize, lost here in 1917, will be returned to its owner, Clyde Lindsey, Elko, Nev. The belt was found in 1922. A friend of Lindsey's saw a newspaper account of the belt being found and wrote to Lindsey. After 10 years, Lindsey has written to the finder and the belt will be sent to him.

CISCO YOUTH BADLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Cearbon Yeager, former Cisco high school football player, was seriously injured early yesterday morning when the gasoline truck on which he and Leonard Sublett, another Cisco boy, were riding overturned near Desdemona. Cearbon was en route to Desdemona with the load of gasoline.

He was taken to an Eastland hospital where his injuries were treated. His right arm was badly lacerated and he is believed to have sustained a skull fracture, although physicians who examined him were not certain.

He was brought to his home here this morning.

Cause of the accident was not determined. A wheel of the truck is believed to have sunk in the soft earth at the side of the pavement when it was turned out to avoid a car that was crowding it. It had just passed over a catguard and was travelling about 20 miles an hour, Cearbon said. The vehicle and trailer overturned, tearing the cab from the truck and bursting both tanks of gasoline.

Young Sublett, who was less badly hurt, dragged Cearbon from the wrecked cab to a place of safety and went for assistance. When he returned Cearbon, stunned, had crawled back under the trailer, where gasoline was dripping over him.

He was reported to be doing very well this morning.

The accident happened between 2:30 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

WEED-CUTTING IS REQUIRED BY ORDINANCE

An ordinance requiring the cutting of rank weeds "growing and decaying" on vacant lots in the City of Cisco, exists on the statute books of the Cisco, Mayor J. T. Berry announced today.

This ordinance prescribes that the "owner, agent or person who controls, or occupies any lot or lot, within the corporate limit of the city of Cisco, shall within three days after being given notice to do so by the city marshal, or any police officer of the city, cut and remove from the lot or lots so owned or occupied or controlled by him, all weeds thereon."

A fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25, is provided for in case of violation of the ordinance, the mayor said. Each day constitutes a separate offense. In the event that the person in charge refuses to remove the weeds after the notice is given, the ordinance provides that the city may do this work and charge the cost against the owners for which it shall have a lien against the property.

Growth of weeds on vacant lots at this time is becoming so rank that the condition creates a distinct menace against the health of the city, the mayor said, and a strict enforcement of the ordinance described above will be made by the city.

He urged that due notice of the requirement be taken by property owners and others having vacant lots in charge and that the weeds be cut from the lots without making it necessary for the city to take action under the ordinance.

The first "Honor and Special Award" night will be observed at the Cisco high school this evening at 8:15 when certificates for perfect attendance and averages of 90 and above will be awarded to between 100 and 150 students of the entire Cisco public school system.

Certificates will be awarded pupils with records of perfect attendance for the nine-month term and to students with averages of 90 and above in their work of the past four and one-half months of the second semester.

"We are simply giving honor where honor is due," said Supt. R. N. Cluck. "Seniors are honored at graduation and nightly, but in this program we will give public recognition to good work throughout the entire system. The schools are stressing the scholastic side more than ever. We hope to have a large attendance for the program this evening."

A delegation from Sweetwater was much in evidence during the practice shooting yesterday. It was composed of Mose Newman, one-time grand American handicap winner; Auti Newman and Harold Newman.

LEGISLATION KEEPS MARKET IN SUSPENSE

In its weekly review of business conditions The Wall Street Journal says:

Due to the lack of constructive developments, the securities markets made little headway during the past week. Trade news was overbalanced with the unfavorable although stock prices were inclined to disregard such factors, preferring to await the attitude of official Washington with respect to legislative program.

The outlook at the nation's capital continues still shrouded with uncertainties, particularly as to tax and relief measures, and their consequent effect upon a balanced budget. Added to this is the expressed doubt as to whether or not Congress will complete its task to adjourn in time to permit republican members to prepare for their convention in Chicago by June 14.

The adjournment of congress and settlement of vital legislation would have a salutary effect upon business generally, aside from removing uncertainties now overhanging securities markets.

A development of the week, which may have a decided important bearing upon business recovery, was the calling together by Governor Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, of a committee of 12 industrial and banking leaders for the purpose of considering methods of making the large funds now being released by Reserve banks useful.

Rallying Effect.

That occurrence, which took place on Thursday afternoon, had a rallying effect upon stock prices at the opening of the following day, but the absence of definite information as to the method of procedure gave little incentive to any continued upward swing in prices. In consequence, prices eased and closing quotations were irregular to lower.

Railroad and utility shares furnished the target for speculation during the week and many new low levels were reached by these groups. The heaviness in rail securities was influenced by a continuance of adverse showings.

The utilities, on the other hand, are beginning to mirror the unfavorable earnings reports making their appearance and the fact that electric output has been progressively declining in recent weeks. In the week ended May 14 output declined 13.1 per cent, the largest yet reported, and compared with 12.7 per cent in the preceding week.

This week's range of the Dow-Jones averages follows:

30 Industrials—High $54.04; low $52.84; close $53.31.
20 Railroads—High $18.25; low $17.40; close $17.67.
20 Utilities—High $22.92; low $21.73; close $21.73.
40 Bonds—High $71.83; low $70.82; close $70.91.

BOY DIES IN ATTEMPT TO SAVE SISTER

DALLAS, May 23. — Thomas James, 14, today lost his life in a brave but futile effort to rescue his 10-year-old sister, Zola, from drowning in a pond near Garland.

Both were drowned. Ambulance attendants summoned by Verne James, 12, a sister of the drowned children, worked over their bodies for two hours with a pulmotor but without result.

She said Thomas plunged into the pool in an effort to save his sister who was struggling in the water, and both went down. The children lived near Garland.

RECORD VOTE OF 228-169 IS COUNTED

WASHINGTON, May 23. — The house today defeated the O'Connor-Hull bill to legalize and tax beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol by weight. The vote was 228 to 169.

It was the first record test on prohibition modification sentiment in the house. It was forced by the wet bloc in an attempt to get all members on record by the national political convention.

KIDNAP CLUES ARE DIVULGED BY N. J. POLICE

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 23.—The determined search for the murderers of the Lindbergh baby again took on a nationwide scope today when Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, in charge, divulged his clues to the kidnapers identity to all prison wardens and police authorities in the country.

At the same time members of the New Jersey legislature were preparing to post a reward of suitable size for the arrest and conviction of the kidnapers. The amount will be no less than $25,000.

Reports that John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk boat builder, who cruelly hoaxed Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh into following non-existent leads, had repudiated his confession were denied by the Hunterdon county prosecutor, who preferred the charges under which Curtis is now held.

Dr. Condon today disappeared mysteriously from his Bronx and headed toward western Massachusetts.

A BANK RUN IN A COAST CITY.

Irresponsible rumors started a run on one of the leading banks of Port Arthur. Now starting the rumor that a bank will fail is an indictable offense and the grand jury of Jefferson county will be asked to investigate the run on the First National bank of the flourishing oil city. Officials of the bank paid out to every claimant that had run amuck. It is announced that the Texas company, the Gulf company, and the federal reserve bank of Dallas sent three-quarters of a million dollars by airplane. Sister banks rushed to assistance in cold cash and the federal reserve bank in the city of Washington wired that it was releasing an additional half million dollars for the institution which had been endangered by the malicious makers of irresponsible rumors. After the run was over the Port Arthur News reviewed it. A ringing editorial returned this verdict: "Mass theory is a terrible thing because it is unreasonable, so determined, so heartless, so relentless. Let us determine not to lend ourselves to the repetition of such a dubious affair."

Yes, malicious rumors which provoke or precipitate causeless runs are despicable in their origin and should receive the condemnation of all right thinking men and women. Mass fear appears to make cowards of many.

A GOLDEN SIGN OF THE TIMES.

Lest we forget, the American Telephone and Telegraph company declared their regular dividend of $2.25 on the regular capital stock; the national employment commission of the American Legion has reported that 764,000 men and women now are back on payrolls as a result of the campaign made by the Legion to find jobs for a million unemployed; the American senate leaders promise a large appropriation for the assistance of the unemployed the country over before congress shall take a recess for the summer. Regardless of all this, the congress may continue to grind away and permit the national conventions of the major parties to do their own grinding. Why not? Senators and representatives are elected by the people and paid by the people to serve all the people by remaining at their posts until all important business has been transacted.

ANOTHER TEXAS WOMAN IN THE FIELD.

Mrs. Alex Adams of San Antonio, leader among the club women of Texas, will make an active campaign for the democratic nomination for congressman-at-large. For years she has been active in the politics of the Alamo City and the congressional district represented by Richard M. Kleberg. Books will close in June and to date there are about 40 entrants seeking the three jobs. It is the open season for running. In July the voters may return a verdict as to the lucky trio.

KANSAS DEMOCRATS INSTRUCT FOR ROOSEVELT.

Kansas democrats in state convention pledged their 20 national convention votes to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York for the presidential nomination and refused to favor repeal of the 18th amendment but made concessions in both instances. Moreover, the resolution for the New York governor made the instruction binding only until the votes "are released by a majority vote of the delegation." As for the prohibition issue, a resolution was adopted which recognized "the right of any citizen, or group of citizens, to advocate changes in our fundamental laws by orderly processes designed to determine and give effect to the will of a majority of our people." Kansas democrats in adopting the resolution gave evidence of a democratic recognition of the right of the minority and against the theory that delegates to a national convention should be instructed for any ambitious personage "first and last and all the time." A majority of the national convention should rule. As for the national leaders of the party, they haven't the courage to declare for the abrogation of the two-thirds monstrosity. Thus they always invite defeat at the polls.

BORAH DEMANDS DIRECT AID.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, who plays a lone hand in American politics, is for direct governmental aid, financial aid to the states, in order to prepare for relief work and care for the army of unemployed and their dependents in America. This is his defiance to the American congress and the president:

"Borah tore the Hoover plan program for relief to shreds. He declared that the country faces a crisis for relief that demands quick and certain action. He said, 'The federal government must now assume its part. We can't expect the local communities to deal with this national problem.'"

And think of it, the Eagle of Idaho saved the day for the republican party in 1928. He invaded Texas as well as other Southern and Southwestern states. He said that prosperity would continue "forever and a day." He appealed to republicans and democrats and independents to vote to continue the republican power in power. Ever since he has been tearing to tatters the Hoover proposals and painting dark pictures of the future that awaits the nation unless the administration changes its tactics all along the line.

Well, if Borah were president what would he do? First, the Eagle says he would stabilize the American dollar and by stabilizing the dollar he would reflate the prices of American products, farm and factory and then wait for a return of the glorious prosperity which four years ago he predicted would endure as long as the republican party held in power by the votes of an independent elector.

Civilization, 1932!

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Who was it said last fall that when the second pair of trousers has been worn out, the depression will end with a bull market in nether garments? (This prophet of prosperity had reference, of course, to the male gender). At any rate his optimism was premature. The quality of the garments produced by American manufacturers has been one of the most amazing features of this period. We are getting a pretty good idea of just what part luxuries or that margin of the standard of living between absolute necessity and our ability to produce has played in American prosperity. Commodities which we once regarded as indispensable have been discarded with no appreciable effect upon our health and happiness. For one thing the depression, as much as it may worry the financial mind, is teaching us quite effectively that we don't need to make a lot of money to enjoy living.

I grant that luxuries and leisure are essential to a harmonious machine age. When one instrument can do the work of 10 men it is necessary, if its benefits are realized, that the leisure and earnings it produces shall be equitably divided between those ten men. The basic trouble with this depression is that there wasn't a social adjustment consistent with mechanical progress taking place during the period when industry was running full speed, grinding out products that we needed a lot of leisure to consume. In other words we were creating an ideal phenomenon but it turned out to be something of a Frankenstein monster because we neglected to put the right sort of a brain in the fabrication.

As for soaking the rich, which seems to be a prevalent idea among a great many people, I do not think such a plan will work very well. For one thing we can collect all the printed and coined money in circulation in the United States and have less than twice enough to pay the federal expenses for one year. It would be less than half enough to pay all the public expenses for one year. Most of the funds held by the rich belong to hundreds of thousands of stockholders and depositors and are held in trust by institutions and administered for the profit of all. There are rascals, of course, who would traffic in trust, and these are due no sympathy and little consideration. But the national wealth is contained in commodities and properties and these have been so frozen by the depression that the rich are even worse off, in many cases, than the average man. For instance, the Southwestern Bell Telephone company is owned by about half a million people scattered from the Pacific to the Atlantic and from Maine to Texas. The majority of them are small investors who have savings tied up in the stock and are entitled to a return on them. This is aside from any discussion of the fairness of the rates charged by the company. I am not qualified to pass on the equity or reasonableness of these rates. I am merely trying to point out that by soaking the "rich" we may be soaking some of ourselves.

Suppose there weren't any "rich," meaning by that the capitalists? Who would give us employment, pay wages and afford the opportunity to earn a living? We can't each employ the other. Collections of capital in legitimate enterprises are essential to a prosperous community. In Russia the state holds the capital and does the employing and the paying. But in America we try to keep the government out of business and emphasize individual initiative. So we collect the wealth of the masses in groups to carry on industrial and commercial enterprises. By their own initiative certain men and women rise to positions of power and prominence in directing the operations of these units, but it is essential that some competent governing power control the operations of the units if the investment is safe. Successfully operated each unit pays on one hand to the employees and on the other to the investors and everybody is happy. The ideal involved is that the capital represented belongs to the community — to the stockholder and the employee and the executive — and is administered for the good of all. Regardless of what attitude any of these classes may take with regard to capital, economic laws work inexorably to failure and disaster if the units are not administered to the common good.

I agree with J. C. Talley. He came into the News office one day last summer while we were thinking that times couldn't get any worse. "If I don't have any money I want you to have your pockets full," he said. "I'd have a better chance to get part of it."

CORRECT TIME

WASHINGTON, May 23. — More than 4,000,000 homes throughout the United States are now supplied with electric clocks, which run within two seconds of official Observatory Time. Despite the depression, synchronous clocks to the value of over $17,000,000 were sold in 1931, as compared with total sales of $8,000,000 in 1929.

SOVIET PLANS CENSUS

MOSCOW, May 23. — A general national census will be undertaken in the Soviet Union in December, 1933, in accordance with a decision of the Council of People's Commissars.

AS Windy started in his plane, he cried, "Some altitude I'll gain and then I'll chase wee Duncy, who's still hanging to his kite. "I'm sure that I can save the lad and, my, oh my, won't he be glad? Don't worry if I have to sail this ship right out of sight."

AND then he turned the wee ship's nose toward the sky and cried, "Here goes!" The Tinies saw him rise real fast. "He's doing fine," said one. "I hope that Duncy's still all right and hanging to his little kite. When Windy finally rescues him, 'twill be a lot of fun."

"What a funny sight," thought he. And then he spotted Duncy near. He shouted, "Hi, there! Have no fear. Just hang on to the kite. You'll soon be safe as safe can be."

"All right," yelled Duncy. "Get below me with your plane and then I'll show you how to drop down on the tail. Now, please don't swerve around."

(Copy gets a scare in the next story.)

tremendously at his first definite thrust. That form of campaign agitation now has been tied down to the hard rock of reality — the inescapable fact that Mr. Ferguson will have the Ferguson following and that this following isn't enough to win an election unless huge number of recruits can be won over. Where are they to come from?

Mr. Ferguson has this inherent handicap of being a strong leader of a strong element of support. The voters are either for him or against him.

If for him, they vote for him in the first primary as well as the second. That was modified somewhat two years ago of course, when such old-line politicians as Jim Young and Earle Mayfield, and when men of exceptional regional strength, such as Sen. Clint Small, were in the race.

Even then, Mr. Sterling picked up nearly three votes in the second primary for every one that the Ferguson gained.

And that is practically the story, whether Mr. Sterling makes a front porch, rocking-chair campaign, or whether he makes seven speeches a day for eight weeks.

Mr. Ferguson's supporters will tell you that one of the unusual gains in poll tax payments in cities this year were from unemployed laborers, who felt they had to arm themselves with poll tax receipts and votes in order to get work.

All those votes, the Ferguson folks arily tell you, will be in "Jim's camp" when the ballots are counted. But there were losses in rural districts.

TAKE DEER TOLL
LOVELAND, Colo., High winds and snow storms which have prevailed through the mountains during the past weeks, have taken a heavy toll of deer. Ranchers in the Big Thompson canyon estimate that large numbers of the deer have frozen to death or died because of failure to reach food sources.

CUTS COST OF SHAVES
FORT WORTH, May 23. — Barber prices have returned to pre-war levels here, to the days of the five-bit haircut and 15 cent shave. More than a dozen shops, some of them union, have posted a 25 and 35 cent top price for haircuts while virtually all have come below the 50 cent figure.

TREES VANISHING
HARRISBURG, Pa., May 23. — "In the shade of the old apple tree" may be just a song in Pennsylvania before long — for the "old apple tree" is vanishing. Apple trees once an important economic factor in practically every farm in the state are now almost curiosities.

Chief's Punch Quiets Village

HICKORY FLAT, Miss., May 23. — Everything is quiet now in Hickory Flat and perhaps it can be accounted to Chief of Police N. E. Colquette's eight-inch punch.

There was a time when Hickory Flat resembled a miniature Chicago as two bootlegging gangs fought their battles on the streets.

Then Colquette was made chief of police and he cleaned it up in a high-handed manner.

"Let's see, now," he recollected. "I've arrested a right smart number down here. I would say more than 200 persons."

The population of Hickory Flat is 337. Figure out what the percentage of arrests amounted to.

"We've got her cleaned up now. I've had some tough times down here and had to do a little convincing with my fists, but she's cleaned up now."

Chief Colquette, in July, will complete two years as the only officer of Hickory Flat.

At first when he started, he had to draw his fists a few times and bring his fists into play.

Last Christmas Eve someone tried to dynamite his home and kill his wife and three children, but they failed.

Last October, Chief Colquette was forced to shoot a man.

"I didn't try to kill him, but I would kill a man if I had to," he said.

But everything is quiet now in Hickory Flat.

NEW METHOD

LEIPZIG, May 23. — An ingenious method of road building now makes it possible to keep a jump ahead of the destruction wrought by heavy automobile traffic. The plan, which has just been demonstrated at the Leipzig Fair, consists in mixing a liquid which is sprayed on the road and, on hardening, forms an extremely durable surface. A portable device is used for heating and mixing.
