TRIMMING THE TREE—These children of room 1-B, taught by Mrs. O'Dell Ryan, trimmed the Christmas tree in thier room last week and seem quite awed by the task. Christmas Cheer Mighty Shy For Some Perryton Families

Christmas is traditionally a time for cheer, but for a number of Perryton families, there will be little cause for rejoicing this year, except for the help that their more fortunate neighbors give them.

The list of needy families on file at the Red Cross office is a longer one than most people think, and while assistance is being given by local civic clubs, churches and individuals, there may still be some families without much Christmas, Mrs. J. F. Cox says.

For example, there is one family consisting of a deserted wife and three small children. Another baby is expected soon, and the mother is unable to work. This family has absolutely no income, no underclothes, few outside clothes, and exists only on the meager assistance provided by Red Cross and county funds.

Another family consists of a father who is sick and can't work, there is no income and the family of man, wife and child is eating a diet of mush and potatoes.

Another widow with four children is able to work only part time and the income is barely sufficient to buy food, and there are few clothes for the family.

A 74-year-old widower is existing on $48 per month, and while he says he is making out all right, he "would appreciate" some groceries at Christmas time.

An elderly widow is making out on $35 per month but this is hardly enough for the necessities of life, let alone some extra for Christmas.

Then there is a man with three children deserted by his wife. He does day labor, but makes only enough to feed the family, and has to have some outside help to provide clothing for them.

Then there is the family with the drunken father who doesn't work, but takes what the wife makes to buy liquid refreshment for himself, leaving little for food and clothing, and nothing for Christmas toys for the youngsters.

Schools Close Friday For Christmas Holidays

The Perryton schools will dismiss Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the Christmas holidays. Classes will resume again on Monday, January 5, giving the faculty and students a two-week holiday for the Christmas season. There are no school activities scheduled during the vacation except for a basketball game on Dec. 30 between the Ranger A and B teams and the Borger Bulldogs at the school gym.

More Government Hay Is Received

Two more cars of government disaster hay were received this week, including one car of first grade alfalfa, according to Elliott Lee, PMA secretary. It now appears that the county will get all the hay that has been ordered, but it may be March before the last order is filled, Lee said.

Stockmen are advised to secure their hay from other sources if they will need it in the near future, because delivery of the government hay is uncertain.

Most of the stockmen who applied for the government hay have received a portion of their order, Lee said. The hay was distributed in the order that the applications were received, with each applicant receiving one-fourth of his order thus far.

Rangers and Rangerettes Win Trophies at Happy Tourney

Both the Raners and Rangerettes brought home trophies from the Happy basketball tournament last week, the Rangerettes capturing first place and the Rangers winning second.

The Rangers placed two men on the all-tournament team and the Rangerettes had three. Rangers named to the all-star five were Laurell Lovett and Dick Haar, while the Rangerettes were represented by Betty Dear, Joan Johnson, and Elaine Clack.

Betty Dear received a loving cup for the high girl scorer of the tournament, in addition to the gold basketball as all-tournament player. She scored 69 points in three tournament games.

Laurel Lovett received the loving cup for the best offensive player among the boys' teams.

In the finals, the Rangers were defeated by Canyon, 44-32, and they reached the finals with a 38-37 victory over Hereford. Happy won over Hereford for the third place trophy.

The Rangerettes defeated Happy, 45-42 for the title Saturday night, and by coincidence, it was Perryton that defeated Happy for the title of the Perryton tournament a week ago. The Rangerettes held a 20-7 halftime lead, but a spirited rally by Happy brought the game to a tie late in the fourth quarter, when the Rangerettes pushed on to victory.

The Rangerettes trimmed the Happy B team, 31-18 in the tournament opener, and beat Canyon, 50-42 in the semi-finals.

This was the second straight tournament championship for the Rangerettes and they haven't lost a game since the practice game opener with Gruver early in November.

Herald to Close After Christmas

The Herald office will be closed on Friday and Saturday after Christmas, opening again on Dec. 29. The Christmas edition of the Herald will be placed in the mails Tuesday night in order to reach subscribers by Wednesday, Dec. 24, and the Herald will remain closed from Thursday to Monday. Patrons of the office supply and printing departments are asked to keep in mind these closing days and secure their supplies early next week.

Soil Conservation Practice Deadline Set January 1

To be eligible for assistance under the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program approved soil and water conservation practices must be completed not later than January 1, 1953, says Homer Gurley, Chairman of the Ochiltree county PMA committee.

Gurley said that a total of 198 county farmers signed up to cooperate in the 1952 ACP in Ochiltree county. At the time they signed up, they listed the conservation practices they intended to carry out this year. Assistance under the ACP was approved for those practices which were considered to be the ones most needed on the farm to check soil losses and make the land more productive.

As an example of what Ochiltree county farmers are doing, he calls attention to the subsoiling practices done by Miles Edwards, LaRue Norris and Alton Witt; the terraces constructed by Byrl Hardy; a dam built by Mrs. Mary Morrison; and a water well drilled by the Parnell brothers.

Famous Magician Booked by Lions For February 16

Lee Grabel, internationally famous magician and illusionist, has been booked by the Lions Club for a Perryton appearance on Monday, February 16, at the school auditorium, president Sam Hergert has announced.

The Grabel show is one of the best known in America, and the illusionist is now on a transcontinental tour of America after a successful Broadway run that brought him the plaudits of the critics.

Grabel makes a pin-up girl come to life, makes objects appear and disappear at will, and has anunusually wide variety of tricks and stunts in the two hour show that ranks him well in the forefront of the magician society today.

Tickets for the mystery show may be purchased from any member of the Lions Club, Hergert said.

Plan to Organize VART Unit for Five Counties

A drive to organize a Volunteer Air Reserve Training unit in Perryton has been launched by Bob Schuster, who desire every Air Force reservist to contact him if interested in joining the unit.

It is planned to include reservists in Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Beaver and Roberts counties in the local VART unit, Schuster said.

The reservists will meet twice a month and will earn points for reserve promotion and retirement. A reservist is eligible for retirement pay after 20 years of active duty and active reserve service.

A minimum of 10 men are needed to form the unit, and Schuster said that the minimum has been reached, but that every reservist interested is urged to join. Tentative plans call for the formation of the unit sometime after the first of the year.

Fire Call Tuesday

Firemen answered a call Tuesday morning to the Jines Body Shop, where a wrecked automobile caught fire as it was being cut up with a welding torch.

The fire was quickly extinguished and no damage was done.

Whippo Elected President Of Chamber of Commerce

CONGRATULATIONS—Irvin Buchanan, right, congratulates C. E. Whippo as new president of the Chamber of Commerce. The new president was elected by the directors Wednesday and will be installed in office on January 8. Buchanan is the retiring president of the organization.

New Officers To Be Installed On January 8

Charley Whippo, division manager of the Community Public Service Co. was elected Wednesday morning to head the Ochiltree County Chamber of Commerce for the coming year, succeeding Irvin Buchanan. Harold Hudson, Herald editor, was named vice president.

The new officers of the Chamber will be installed at a dinner on January 8 at the Hotel Coffee Shop.

Date for the annual meeting of the organization is still undecided, but it is planned to have it sometime in January, when Robert Stripling of Midland, chief prosecutor in the Alger Hiss case, will be available.

Whippo has served as a director of the Chamber of Commerce in past years, and was president of the organization back in the depression days when one of the main projects of the C. of C. was the issuance of "script money" in the absence of the government kind.

Hudson has served as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce during 1952. This is his first year on the C. of C. board.

Four new directors, in addition to the president and vice president, were named in the recent C. of C. election and will be installed on Jan. 8. They are F. L. Gerard and L. D. Stinson, city directors, and Percy Powers and Harlan Hawk, rural directors.

Holdover directors of the organization are Giltner LaMaster, Virgil Castle, Alton Witt, Lawrence Elzey and Audie Conley.

Santa Claus Will Be In Perryton Saturday

Santa Claus will make his final appearance in Perryton before Christmas on Saturday afternoon in downtown Perryton. He is being brought to Perryton by the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce and will have with him a sack full of treats for the kiddies. Parents are invited to bring the youngsters downtown between 1:30 and 3 p. m. to meet Santa Claus.

Methodist Choir Presents Annual Christmas Cantata

The annual Christmas program of the First Methodist church Wesleyan Choir will be presented Sunday night at the church, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. It is a program of traditional Christmas music, featuring Fred Osborne, Lawrence Ellzey, Maxine Fraser, Donna Swink, Rufus Bolerjack, Mrs. Vance Apple and Mrs. Rufus Bolerjack as soloists.

Pshigoda Damage Case Is Heard In District Court

The only case tried in district court this week before judge Jack Allen was a rather complicated civil suit brought by Crist Pshigoda vs. the Gulf Insurance Co., et al. This was a jury case, and testimony was heard Monday, Tuesday and late Wednesday before going to the judge.

The suit, for damages in the amount of $2,900, was brought by Pshigoda against the insurance company as a result of alleged damage to the Pshigoda farm home east of Perryton. The plaintiff alleges that blasting by the Republic Exploration Co. seismograph crew in the spring of 1951 cracked the walls of his house and required repairs to the extent of $2,900.

Defense testimony sought to prove that the alleged damage was done by natural "settling" of the house and the defense claimed that it had not been proved that the blasting did the damage.

Italian Port Making Comeback

LEGHORN, Italy (AP)—American money is helping this Italian Communist political stronghold recover from its war wounds and resume its role as one of Italy's busiest and most modern harbors.

The biggest shot in the arm for this seaport, the U. S. 5th Army's supply base during World War II, came in the summer of 1951 when it was chosen as a U. S. Army's supply base for troops in Austria. The base now provides jobs for 3,586 Italians.

Leghorn Communist port workers called several 24-hour strikes demanding a share of the work and money going to non-Communist stevedores but the strikes failed to affect unloading.

Membership in U. S. Protestant churches increased about 65 per cent from about 31,500,000 in 1926 to more than 52 million in 1952.

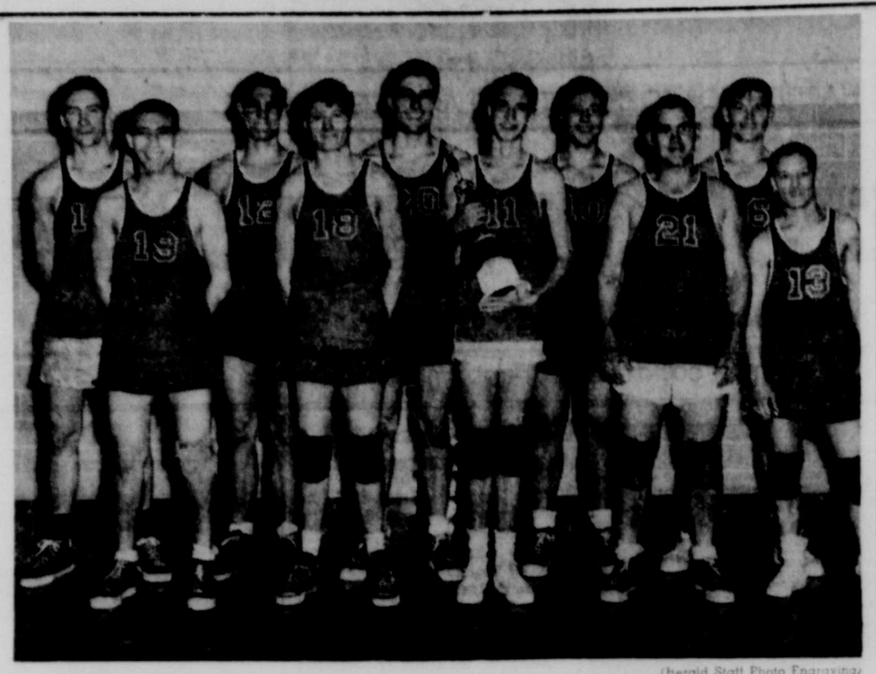

Government Carpets For Sale

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Carpets from the floors of government offices which the Mossadegh government last year ordered sold to produce revenue for the government have been collected and will be put on the market as soon as they are cleaned and mended.

The decree issued by Mossadegh's cabinet provided that no government office in Iran should be carpeted unless it has a dirt floor. Some of the carpets taken from the quarters of government administrators are among the finest examples of Persian artistry. They will be sold on local and foreign markets.

SMU Football Team Has Grid Angle

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

This is the time for the year when you hear two kinds of speeches. They are made at the football banquets being held everywhere.

If the speaker starts out like this: "You can learn many lessons from losing—" you know the team didn't do very well.

If it's like this: "I pay tribute to a great football team; it had the spirit and the fight when the chips were on the line" you know the local team really went to town.

It's amazing how much benefit a football team can get from being defeated. It would appear that since the rewards are so great, every team would try to lose.

But there was a new angle given to this "profit from losing" situation at the banquet for Southern Methodist University's football team which failed by a long shot of having a fine season. It is doubtful if this angle ever was used before.

Gerald Mann, star quarterback and passer of Southern Methodist in the late twenties, was the speaker. Mann attained a high position in law, is a leading attorney of Dallas these days. He attacked his subject from the commercial angle—except that the way he told it, the commercial angle was removed.

Mann reminded the Southern Methodist players that while they hadn't won a championship, they had played in some great games and before many thousands of people and that the profits from the gate receipts had gone into making SMU greater.

The athletic fund at Southern Methodist which was swollen by $650,000 in a single football season, contributed a large amount to the university press, handed over funds to help build a student union building and is contributing to the erection of a big gymnasium.

But Mann was fortunate in being able to talk to a losing team that made money despite its record. Most teams that lost don't come out on the winning side financially.

However, the example Southern Methodist has set with its football teams could, if followed by other colleges, remove the cry of overemphasis of sports and remove the taint that has clouded intercollegiate athletics.

SMU has managed to build a fandom that likes to see football for football's sake and doesn't worry too much about the local team losing.

Hergert reminded members that the meeting on Tuesday, December 23 would be the Christmas meeting for the group. Special entertainment has been scheduled for this meeting.

Teacher Trains Falcons

BOSTON (AP)—Students at Dartmouth College are used to seeing Bill Mattox walking around the campus carrying a falcon on his hand because training falcons has been his hobby since high school days.

Bill graduated from Dartmouth last June and is now a teaching fellow in geography. He carries the falcon, his fifth such bird, around with him because it is necessary to spend as much time as possible with the bird before it is ready to fly alone in search of its quarry.

After Bill had his last bird trained, it suddenly took off and never returned. His present bird, "Blondie," is a gift from a fellow falconer who heard of the loss.

Dickenson Rites Held at Dallas On December 13

Funeral services were held Saturday at Wynne Chapel of the Highland Park Presbyterian church in Dallas for Milledge Oliver Dickenson, 49-year-old Dallas income tax specialist, who died Dec. 12 in a Dallas hospital after a long illness.

Short services were held Sunday in the Booker Heart cemetery.

Pallbearers were R. M. Lemon, Wallace Hamker, Eugene Mahoney, Winn Lehman, Harold Peery and Onnie Griffin.

Dickenson had worked for Cox & Cox, independent oil producers, for more than 20 years, first in Oklahoma City, and for the last 15 years in Dallas. Son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dickenson, he was born in Beaver county on October 27, 1903. The family later moved to Lipscomb county, where his father later became county judge from 1926 to 1932.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mildred Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Mitchell of Booker on Nov. 6, 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickenson maintained farming interests south of Booker for many years, arriving each summer to attend to harvest and plowing operations.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one brother and one sister. Surivors are his wife; two daughters, Mary Ann Dickenson and Patsy Dickenson, all of Dallas; and a sister, Mrs. J. R. Halbroo, Houston, Mo.

Two County Boys Given Lions' Pigs

As part of the Lions club agriculture improvement program, two registered sows have been presented to John Wagner and Bobby Hall by Delbert Timmons, agriculture committee chairman.

Last year Warren McGarraugh and Gale Peterson received the registered sows.

Each year the boys are supposed to give one pig back to the club to be given to another boy, thereby increasing the production of registered swine.

Home Accidents Menace Children

NEW YORK (AP)—About two million American children will lose their lives or be injured next year as the result of home accidents, according to a statistical study by the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co.

Falling out of windows is the commonest accidents for youngsters under 5, with burns and poisons almost tied for second place. In the 5-to-14 age group, broken glass leads the hazards.

The company's Institute of Safer Living has compiled a list of suggestions for parents. Here are some: Screen windows and keep chairs away from them; keep matches, broken glass, household bleaches and other poisons out of the way; turn handles of hot utensils so that children cannot grasp them; secure rugs against slipping, and don't allow children to operate power equipment such as washing machines, wringers or dishwashers.

Almost all countries require a certificate showing a recent vaccination against smallpox before permitting visitors to cross their borders.

More White Men Come to Africa

LUANDA, Angola, Portuguese West Africa — The Portuguese Angola Colony in Africa will soon register its 100,000th white citizen. In 1910 only 3,000 whites lived here.

World War II speeded Angola's development tremendously. The population rose to 83,000 in 1950 with 17,000 white births in the colony and 22,000 new immigrants. Angola has now outgrown the stage of a tropical colony where the white man does no manual work and goes back to Europe after a number of years.

Agriculture has become a white man's business and white labor is also being used increasingly in the cement factories, tobacco manufactures, breweries and other industries.

There is no color bar in Angola. But the Angolan tribes show little disposition to follow the new pace of development. It is frequently cheaper to hire a more efficient white man who is better paid, than a cheaply paid native who is less efficient.

Boneless Turkeys Resemble Football

NEW YORK (AP)—Frozen, boneless turkeys, which look something like a football, have been introduced by a midtown specialty shop.

The turkeys are from 5 to 8½ pounds of solid meat, 70 per cent white and 30 per cent dark. In their preparation, only one incision is made in the skin and the bones are removed without cutting the flesh. The boned meat is stuffed back inside the skin, which then is sewn together. Finally the turkeys are quick-frozen.

The White Holland Farm, Whitman, Mass., which produces as many as 100,000 turkeys a year, has been experimenting with the boning process for several years. Co-operating in the project were several agricultural schools, including those of Massachusetts State College and Cornell University.

Stolen Safe Gets Taxi Ride

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—An apparently lazy bootblack who stole a barber shop safe and called a taxi to haul it away has been given three years in prison.

Sheriff Bill Dalling said the culprit spent a night drinking and then went to a barber shop where he had been employed for two weeks. He pushed the barber's safe to the sidewalk and there called the taxi.

After depositing his doubly "loaded" fare on the outskirts of town, the driver promptly rode back and notified the police.

Lumber Industry Bogs Down

MANILA (AP)—The once-thriving Philippines lumber industry has fallen upon hard times, and it wants government help.

A recent survey shows sales have fallen off to Japan and the U. S., the two major customers. The decline is attributed to the Korean War and the fact that Japan now has repaired much of its war damage.

Renato Arevalo, a Manila lumber company executive, says the lumber industry has been the Philippines most steady dollar producer. He proposed that the government adopt "a commonsense attitude regarding tax and other control measures."

Trucking Law Changes Told By Patrolmen

Out of state truckers coming to this area for wheat harvest after June 1, 1953 will have to pay the balance of the year license instead of this year's 60-day permit unless the state legislature extends the law, Inspector Earl Reynolds of the License and Weights division, Dept. of public safety, told members of the Lions club Tuesday noon.

The present law enacted in 1949 expires June 1, 1953.

In normal harvest years wheat producers have counted heavily on out-of-state truckers to help haul the grain to market and storage. All neighboring states have an agreement with Texas whereby truckers hauling small grain could purchase a 60-day license for an average of $21.50.

Only Idaho and Arizona do not have a working agreement with this state, Reynolds said.

The present law requires all out-of-state truckers hauling small grain to register and obtain the special license if the trucker picks up a load of grain in Texas and delivers it in Texas.

Wheat producers interested in keeping thsi law or passing a less complicated law should let their representatives and senators know their feelings so that they might enact necessary legislation before the June 1 deadline, Reynolds pointed aut.

Reynolds told the group that "since residents of this state pay taxes to maintain and build our highways, it is only logical that out-of-state truckers should help pay this expense."

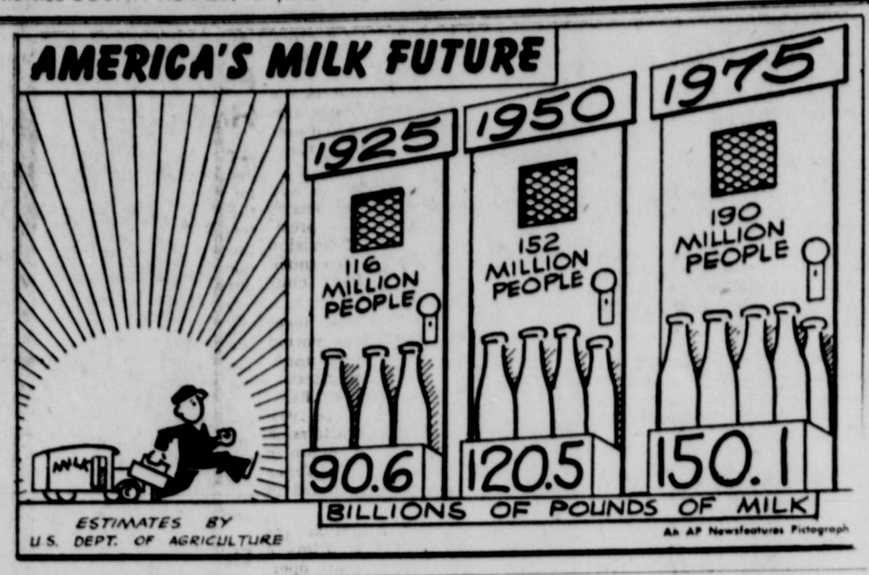

"After all truckers coming here for harvest are seeking a profit and have no particular desire to be of special service to any certain wheat producer," the inspector explained.

When asked why Texas did not collect a gasoline and mileage tax from Kansas trucks, Reynolds said that in the Panhandle of Texas alone there are more than 70 highway entries, and our department does not have enough personnel to check each entry.

Ranchers present argued that the law governing the length of cattle trucks should probably be repealed and that they be allowed trucks with a 40-ft. capacity instead of the present 35-ft. limit.

One member suggested that the Texas legislature should obtain equal and just agreements from all states so that truckers would not have to register or pay an extra license to assist farmers and ranchers, but would be controlled by all other Texas laws governing trucks.

Make It a Safe and Sane Christmas

(AP) Newsfeatures

Christmas is one of the most dangerous times of the year. Plus the usual winter hazards of open fires, heaters and furnaces there are the seasonal fire snarls of Christmas trees, paper wrappings and decorations, extra electric wiring and candles.

Here are some safety rules suggested by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, to fireproof the family fun this Christmas:

1. Flameproof your children's flimsy party costumes by dipping the clothing in a solution or 9 ounces of borax and 4 ounces of boric acid in a gallon of water. This should be reapplied after each washing.

2. Look for the UL label on all electrical toys. This means they have passed Underwriters' Laboratories tests for fire and shock hazards.

3. Supervise play with chemical sets, and don't buy inflammable toys for small children.

4. Choose a small Christmas tree and keep it outdoors until just before Christmas. Then stand it in a pail of water, or use a live tree planted in a tub of earth.

5. Never use cotton or paper tree decorations.

6. Don't put electric trains under the tree.

7. Use only electric lights, and see that the wires are not frayed or the connections worn.

8. Throw away gift wrappings as soon as presents have been opened. Don't let them pile up near the tree.

9. Don't leave tree lights burning when no one is at home.

10-When the tree becomes dry and needles start to fall, throw it out.

Remember—a Christmas tree is full of pitch and resin, and is one of the most combustible objects known.

Make your Christmas safe as well as merry by observing sensible precautions.

iettes were produced in New York. Betsy was then a round-faced little brunette.

By choice of her producers she moved to Texas at an early age, underwent a face lifting and now performs as a fine-featured blonde.

"There's too much crime and violence on TV," believes Betsy's guardian, John W. Richey, president of Children's Television Films, Inc., Houston. "Too much brutality that calls itself children's entertainment."

He promises Betsy will never delve into the violent or morbid that could possibly create undesirable reactions in youngsters.

A former insurance man, Richey has been a Texan since 1934. He was active in civic affairs in Galveston. He helped organize the First State Bank in Texas City and served on its board of directors.

Puppetania's population is turning out about two films a week. The Marionettes are operated by the Sue Hastings marionette organization of Dallas and filmed by a Dallas studio. Jamieson Film Co. a former Warner Brothers writer, Robert Arch Green, provides the adventures. Songs are by Larry Jene Fisher.

Each Betsy episode presents a complete plot, usually an original song and a sugar-coated moral. Each is concluded with mischievous Skipalong D. Bunny wiggling a fuzzy little tail and announcing: "This is the end."

It is believed there is more matter between the stars of the galaxy in which the solar system is located than in the stars themselves.

Another Week For Christmas Home Decoration

There is still time for home owners to decorate their homes for Christmas and participate in the Lions Club contest which offers $50 in three cash prizes for the best decorated home. The homes will be judged some night during Christmas week.

There is no entry blank for the contest, an annual event of the Lions Club, and all a person has to do is to put up the Christmas decorations on his home.

A number of outstanding Christmas decorations have been put up, including the homes of O. A. Schuster, Orlan Bell, Louis Bryan, J. H. Brashears, Jess Russell, Irvin Hergert, Claude Schell, and several others.

Election Bet Payoff

KEOKUK, Ia. (AP)—Here's one belated result of the recent elections. Carl Gupton, president of the Ft. Madison Chamber of Commerce had to ride a bull down the main street of Keokuk. Not because the Republicans won the election but because Ft. Madison got beat by Keokuk in a get-out-the vote contest.

Texas Puppet May Usher In New TV Era

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff

A charming little girl with a magic key to more adventures than Alice ever dreamed of in Wonderland may unlock a bright new future for Texas in television.

She is Betsy, a 26-inch-tall blonde marionette whose key admits her to a make-believe land of Puppetania in a series of quarter-hour television films. She romps with Mama Bear, Papa Bear, Skipalong D. Bunny and a collection of other people-like animal friends who keep life in something not-so-remotely resembling chaos.

For the youngsters at the TV screens, Betsy and the Magic Key is just a lot of laughs and good fun — intentionally devoid of crime and violence.

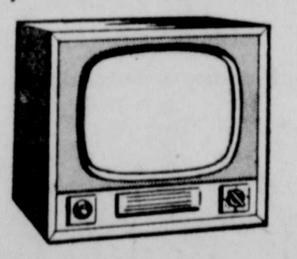

For Texas, the Amusing little TV productions may be more significant. The Betsy shows are produced from start to finish in Texas—scripts, direction, performance, filming and financing. With the coming of television to the Southwest, TV enthusiasts foresee possibilities of Betsy being the first of many TV film enterprises moving to Texas where costs, climate, natural scenery and talent often favor low-cost operations necessary to such productions.

Betsy was not born a Texan. The first few of a contemplated series of 156 quarter-hour stor-

Italians Lament at Site Of 1956 Olympics

By JOY MELVIN

(AP) Newsfeatures

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy—Italy's snow capital of Cortina is giving its selection as site of the 1956 Winter Olympic games a cool reception.

Outsiders are whooping up prospects of the greatest winter season this Dolomite resort ever knew. But townspeople are finding plenty cause to grumble.

First there's the matter of those new Olympic standard ski runs. Workmen are starting to cut trees on the breath-taking slopes of Monte Tofana, 10,000 feet above sea level.

Waste of Firewood

Old-time Cortinesi are all against this as a waste of firewood—an item as important here as a full coalbin would be in northern Germany, or up-state New York.

By ancient tradition, the heads of all Cortina families receive an annual supply of seven and a half square yards of firewood every winter to keep things warm at home. They also get one square yard of wood for every child or dependent. Even widows get it—provided they were not so rash as to marry men from outside this scenic mountain town where your family has to live 300 years before you are considered a native.

Oldtimers feel whatever the darn fool modern ideas of the Olympic committee, the several time-tried ski runs here are good enough for anybody. Cutting the new ones is "simply robbing future generations of wood to keep warm."

Railway Replaced

Then there's the matter of the narrow-gauge scenic railway, which for several generations has puffed up the hills to bring tourists here. For the Olympics, it is to be replaced with a new normal-gauge rail line so visitors won't have to change cars or sway excitingly on the hairpin turns.

Commendatore (an untranslatable Italian title meaning boss) Angelo Bocci admits he's prejudiced. He is General Manager of the narrow-gauge line. But he says this about it:

"If you make it too easy for the masses to get to Cortina, the whole charm of this exclusive and lively resort will be ruined. Besides, most of the new wide-track right off way will cut thru tunnels, and cheat the visitor of the wonderful scenic views."

A lot of Cortinesi agree with him.

Against Modernization

Then take all these new-fangled ideas to build modern tourist hotels for the Olympics. The old line Cortinesi, who contend the town has pretty fine hotels right now, are against that, too.

Italian financial interests were reported coming in to put up some super de luxe hotels. Old rival-family Cortinesi, who hadn't spoken to each other for generaitons got together to buy up the land and keep the outsiders away.

Long-established Cortina bars, restaurants, inns and other establishments already are doing their own enlarging and preparation for the Olympic rush.

Anything that needs doing, they insist firmly, they can do themselves.

Cousy Praises Martin

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Cousy, flashy forward for the Boston Celtics in the NBA, rates Slater Martin of the Minneapolis Lakers as the toughest player he has ever faced in professional basketball.

Says Cousy: "He never lets up on me a minute. Ordinarily some of the other men I face give me a little room, but not Martin. He has an uncanny knack of twisting through blocks that are set up and keeps those hands of his in front of face all night. I can almost tell you how many wrinkles he has on his fingers."

Red Schools Censored

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — The Nationalist Ministry of Education has cancelled the registration of three Chinese schools in Hong Kong for "clinging to Communist ideals and supporting the Reds."

The ministry also announced citations to the principals of 11 other schools in Hong Kong for "loyalty to the cause of free education despite Communist pressure."

The amount of salt in sea water varies more at the surface than in the depths of the ocean.

JAYCEE OFFICERS—New officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were elected Wednesday and Jack M. Allen, center, was named president for 1953. Bob Schuster, left, is the first vice president and Gale Rogers, right, is the secretary-treasurer. In the back row are Jim Dunlavy and Frank Shaffer, directors. Sidney Jines, vice president, Coke Harlow, Elmo Bennett, Bil Herndon and J. B. Whigham are the other Jaycee directors.

CAN SANTA GET IN?—That's what three tiny patients quarantined with chicken pox at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children wondered as they peered out the window at the hospital in Dallas. The five-year-old boys' fears were unnecessary because Santa (represented by generous Texans) later paid several calls at the hospital. But that was after this picture was made of (left to right) Larry Thompson, of O'Donnell; David Herrin, Muleshoe, and Dewey Echols, Dallas.

Pupil's Finance Teacher's Trip

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP)—A retired high school English teacher will visit the English homeland of her literary heroes because of the generosity of her pupils of a half century of teaching.

Miss Jane Macon, 70, received cash gifts totalling $2,400 from her former students following her compulsory retirement last June from Glynn Academy here. The purse resulted from letters sent to about 2,000 former students of "Lady Jane," as she was affectionately known. Replies came in from all sections of the globe.

Old Grads Recall Tide Battle

UNIVERSITY, Ala. (AP) — Old grads of Alabama will always remember the 'Bama-Tennesee grid battle of 1913. It was a hard fought, close game. There were so many times out because of injuries and in clearing the field of spectators that the last few minutes were played in darkness. Officials were forced to use headlights of automobiles to aid visibility. Long and Vande Graaff kicked field goals that day to give Alabama a 6-0 win.

The Nile is the longest river in Africa.

Bleaching Process For Jute

NEW YORK (AP)—British scientists have discovered a bleaching process for jute that makes it white in color, the British Information Service reports here. In the future it will have the feel, crispness and general appearance of linen and is expected to take its place among the more fashionable and hard-wearing fabrics for clothing and furnishings, according to the report.

Although it is usually thought of as a land frontier, the boundary between Canada and the United States is more water than land.

Catastrophe Toll Rises

NEW YORK (AP)—About 900 lives were lost in the nation in the first six months of this year in catastrophes—accidents killing five or more persons. Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. statisticians report.

This was a 25 per cent increase above the toll in the same period of 1951. Tornadoes were the most important item, accounting for 229 deaths in six Mississippi valley states.

However, aviation was safer in the first half of this year in spite of two crashes at Elizabeth, N. J., which took 63 lives and one near Los Angeles which claimed 29 lives. In the 1951 period there were seven crashes with a death toll of 159.

Williamsburg, Va., was once capital of a province which included territory now covered by Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and parts of Pennsylvania.

Love Among The Platypuses

NEW YORK (AP)—Penelope has lost interest in Cecil so their engagement is off—at least temporarily, reports the Bronx Zoo.

Penelope and Cecil are the duckbilled platypuses brought from Australia five years ago. Hale and hearty, they are the only ones in captivity anywhere in the world outside their native Australia.

Only twice before have platypus couples bred in captivity so the romantic attachment of Cecil for Penelope was looked upon with great interest and fondest expectations.

"But Penelope," reports William Bridges, zoo curator of information, "has actively resented Cecil's overtures and shown her displeasure by rolling over and over in the water. "This," he said, "is a characteristic sign of Platypus annoyance and we had to separate them."

The haughty Penelope has been provided with a box about 2 feet square, lined with dirt. If she shows any indication of nesting, the courtship will be renewed. Cecil, it seems, is willing.

Scrapbook Hobby

TRURO, Canada (AP)—They call Syd Parker a master clipper and with good reasons. Parker makes scrapbooks his hobby and most of his spare time is spent collecting and pasting in the clips.

At the moment he has 47 books—some of them tip the scales at 35 pounds—and five more are in preparation. He has special books on the World War II, the Canadian visit of the Queen and newspaper cartoons. Parker is an author and poet.

Raccoon With Bells On

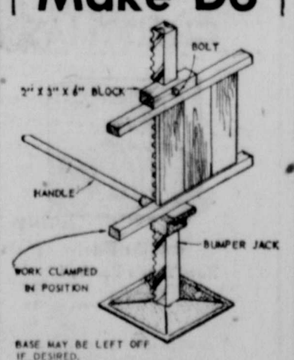

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—A pet raccoon with bells on played hide-and-seek on a downtown street.

A couple of newsboys cornered the timid animal and picked him up by his bell-studded collar. But he hollered and the boys dropped him on his nose. The raccoon was finally caught in a sporting goods store and put on display in the front window.

Airlift for Breeding Cattle

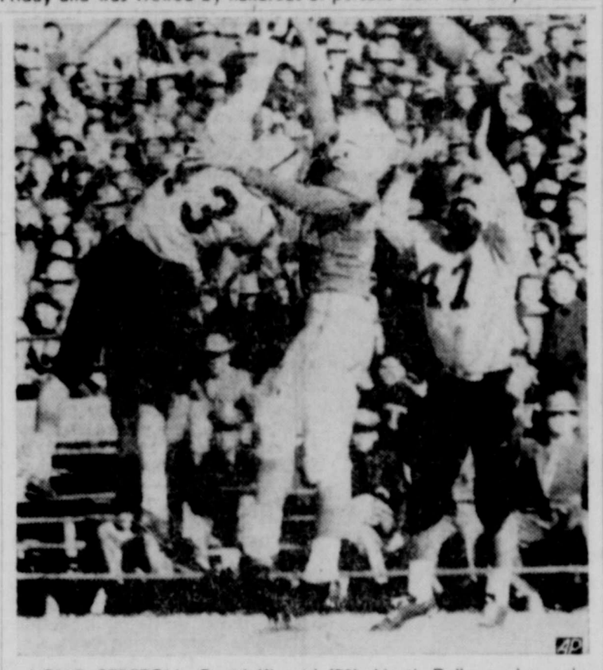

KARACHI (AP)—Brazil has airlifted 17 Pakistani red bulls and cows valued at $36,000 for breeding use in the Amazon Valley.

THE BUMPER JACK of the family car can serve as a clamp to hold freshly glued parts together tightly until dried. A block of hardwood is notched to fit around the smooth side of the jack, to which it is bolted. Pressure applied to the handle forces the glued wood together. The idea is from job tips pooled in the American Builder, trade journal of home builders.

Rhodes Scholar Duane Bell Home For Christmas

Duane Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aldon Bell, is home for the Christmas holidays from Oxford College, Oxford, England where he is studying under a Rhodes Scholarship.

He arrived by plane on Dec. 9, and will leave Perryton January 2 to arrive back in England on Jan. 4.

Duane was recently given another year on his Rhodes scholarship making it for three years instead of two. He will finish his studies at Oxford in the summer of 1954 if present plans materialize.

The first few days at home was spent in catching up on his eating, a change from English food rationing, according to his parents. He was guest speaker at the Sorosis Club Wednesday afternoon.

Duane was graduated from Perryton high school in 1947 and graduated from Oklahoma University in 1951, where he was an honor student at both institutions.

There are about 2,700 earthquakes per day on earth, says the National Geographic Society.

NEW SELL WELL—Donald Sell, center, poses with the new pump of his irrigation well, drilled recently at the Sell farm two miles north and two miles west of Booker. At the left is Don Sell and a driller of the Wilbanks drilling company. The new well was being tested Wednesday. It is the first one in the northeast section of the county.

Full Gospel Play Scheduled Friday

A Christmas play, "A Gift for the Christ Child," will be presented at the Full Gospel church on Friday night, Dec. 19, at 7:30 o'clock, announces Rev. Robert Girouard, pastor.

Local talent of the church will be used in the play and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Long Distance Call Beats Christmas Card

When Airman First Class Donald Graves, stationed on Okinawa, decided to send Christmas greetings to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graves, he went first class this year. He called his parents by long distance, talked five minutes and had a bill of about $25. Officials of the local telephone company believe this is one of the longest calls received at the local office. The call was about 8,000 miles and was tape recorded at Oakland, Calif. Donald is stationed with the 529th Hq., AC&W Group, on Okinawa. He placed the call on December 12 at 8:30 a. m. which made it 5:30 p. m. here.

Porcupines Kill Trees

DENVER (AP)—You can include the U. S. Forest Service among those that don't like porcupines. They are unsociable critters with all those quills and, besides, they're "murder" on trees.

Arthur L. Nelson, assistant regional forester here, says porcupine damage to timber in the Rocky Mountain area is getting serious. A single porky can damage or kill as many as 100 trees in a winter. They like to climb up a tree and eat the bark away in a complete circle, thus shutting off the flow of sap.

A hundred laying hens eat about 80 bushels of corn and 3,000 pounds of protein supplement feed a year.

New Irrigation Well Drilled On Sell Farm

Testing of the Dan Sell irrigation well, newest in the country, was delayed this week while a larger motor is installed. The well, located two miles north and two miles west of Booker, is just inside the Ochiltree county line.

It was drilled to 440 feet, and the pump was set at 360 feet. Testing was to have started several days ago, but the pump motor was unable to deliver the water. All indications point to a good well, however, when another motor is installed.

This is the first irrigation well in the northeast part of the county. Other wells have been drilled west, south and southwest of Perryton.

Nazarenes Plan Special Service

A candlelighting service will be conducted at the Church of the Nazarene on Friday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p. m., pastor J. R. Russell has announced. Highlighting the service will be a program of traditional Christmas carols by the church choir and pantomine scenes of the principal events surrounding the birth of Christ.

On Sunday morning, Dec. 21, at 9:45 o'clock, the children of the Sunday School will present a program of Christmas readings and drills, to be followed by an exchange of gifts and the receiving of treats.

This is the first visit of the Morton sisters to the Panhandle in many years and it is possible that the other two sisters will arrive in Perryton in time for the service.

Old timers will recall the scenes of the "horse and buggy" revivals of nearly 40 years ago. They tell of outstanding events such as a water baptismal service every day for 30 consecutive days at the Range Camp meeting.

"Little Eva's" beautiful red hair has turned to gray, but she still tells the same Gospel story so beloved by the people of a generation ago and still hits hard at hypocricy and bigotry.

The fellowship service will be for all people of all churches. Friends of the Morton Sisters are urged to bring their children and grand children.

The Sunday afternoon program will be a climax to the Chapel's pre-Christmas week, which includes the annual Christmas program on Thursday night, Dec. 18. Everyone is invited to these services.

Isolated Community Still Loyal to U.S.

(AP) Newsfeatures

POINT ROBERTS, Wash.—The Icelandic people of this geographically freak community—6 square miles cut off altogether by land from the United States — are strong supporters of Uncle Sam.

But their pockets are lined with Canadian dollars as the population this summer has been largely Canadian. And merchants and resort owners rejoice, exchangewise, as Dominion greenbacks are worth more than United States dollars for the first time in many years.

Old Treaty Decided Fate

Geography and an old treaty created this unusual Northwestern Washington community. When the United States-British treaty of 1860 settled the boundary dispute between the two countries along the 49th parallel Point Roberts, a little nubbin of land sticking down into the Strait of Georgia below the parallel, was cut off. Canada lies adjacent to the north.

But loyalty to the United States remains. Community leaders say that if you suggest substituting Canada's maple leaf for the bald eagle you'll get told off in a hurry.

Community boosters such as Eggert A. Burns, store and restaurant proprietor, also poohpooh what many call handicaps to Point Roberts.

Her 15 schoolchildren above the fourth grade must travel more than 60 miles a day through Canada to attend classes in Blaine, in Washington State.

Her 16 miles of roads haven't received Washington state funds. They can't be tied in with the rest of the state highway system.

Freight rates and customs restrictions prohibit farm prosperity. Food and other supplies come by bonded truck over the round-about 56.4-mile route from Bellingham, Wash.

Good Fishing Nearby

And finally, although some of the richest fishing grounds in northwest waters lie just offshore in the path of the big sockeye salmon runs to Canada's Fraser River, Point Roberts benefits little. There is no harbor, and seiners are supplied and relieved of their fish by tenders from Bellingham or Anacortes.

It was the fishing which first attracted the Icelanders—many of whom had settled in Canada—to the point almost 60 years ago. Today nine out of 10 of the approximately 260 year-round residents are of Icelandic descent. One of them, Asta Norman, 69-year-old farmwoman, is a painter of note. She has studied in Germany and received medals.

In an old cemetery, whose graves are appropriately covered with Iceland poppies, are stones bearing names of old Icelandic families such as Linbjorg Simundson, Groa Magnusdotter and Gustav J. T. Iwerson.

Convenient for Canadians

A glance at the map shows how available Point Roberts is to Canadians. The Vancouver area is only 18 air miles away and Ladner and New Westminister are closer. On a recent Sunday, Deputy Walter C. Davis at the U. S. port of customs entry, reported 2,596 cars brought 11,196 persons across the boundary line. Of some 250 or more cabins and summer homes, about 70 per cent are Canadian owned.

As an added attraction, a new horse-racing oval built last year now has well-attended thoroughbred racing every Sunday during the summer.

ISOLATED from the United States by land, this is part of a 6-square-mile area that adjoins Canada but is seperated from the rest of the state of Washington by Water.

BUNCH OF FRESHMEN—The ten pups of the official mascot of Texas A & M, Reveille II, pile up in front of mother after their births Dec. 5 at College Station. Among them are five males, five females and the vets say they are mongrel. Dr. Charles Zahn says the majority are black and white, others have more colors—but "none of them are maroon and white." Those are the school's official colors. (AP)

Donita Gunter in TSCW Cast

DENTON, Dec. 15—Students of the Texas State College for Women presented the seventeenth annual performances of the Christmas pageant, "Story of the Nativity," in the college main auditorium Sunday, Dec. 14.

A traditional climax to preholiday activities at TSCW, the pageant is an authentic dramatization of the birth of the Christ child. More than 55,000 people from over Texas have attended the previous 49 performances.

Among members of the cast was one girl from Perryton. She is Donita Gunter, sophomore, who played the part of a villager.

Freshman Football Ace Gets Raves

DALLAS (AP) — The talk of Southwest Conference freshman football is a lad named Don McIlhenny.

Don came to Southern Methodist from Nashville, Tenn., where he had been a high school star. Many colleges sought him but he chose SMU.

In four games McIlhenny carried the ball for 517 yards and he passed for four touchdowns. He averaged 30 carries per game.

SMU expects great things from dashing Don when he hits the varsity next season.

Hunchy Tries for Three

DETROIT (AP)—Bob (Hunchy) Hoernschemeyer, Detroit Lions ace right halfback, led the team in rushing in 1950 and '51, his first two seasons with the Detroit squad. He is well on his way to duplicate these performances and make it three in a row in 1952.

Woman Angler Wins

(AP) Newsfeatures

REGINA — Landing the "big one" isn't really a man's job. Just ask Mrs. H. Ho of Parkston, S. D.

Mrs. Ho pulled in the top prize in Saskatchewan's Anglers' Derby recently. She landed a 37-pound lake trout to head that class and no one else snagged such a big fish anywhere in the province. As a matter of fact, no one else has brought in one that size in two years.

Lac La Ronge continued the pacemaker when it comes to lakes. It was there that Mrs. Ho caught her prize-winner and also there that another American hooked a 35-pound, 14-ounce fish that took second prize.

The Anglers' Derby, an annual competition for several years now, is sponsored by the Provincial Natural Resources Department and the Saskatchewan Fish and Game League.

Tops In Golf Scores

(AP) Newsfeatures

Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa.—Harry Obitz, who has been around golf courses for some 20-odd years, believes he has come up with a score that should take a lot of beating.

During a recent tournament here, Arthur Rosner of Philadelphia turned in his card after finishing in a foursome with Don Ross, James C. Bence and John R. LaPenta.

Obitz, pro at the Shawnee Country Club, couldn't believes his eyes. Rosner shot a 226—for 18 holes over the par 72 layout.

"I thought he was kidding," says Obitz, "and said 'give me your right score please.'"

"Look," said Rosner, "I'm in the tournament and I played my best. What happens?"

Rosner won a small radio as the booby prize. Obitzz thinks the 226 might be the highest golf score on record.

Rosner incidentally won two holes from LaPenta when the former shot a seven on the fifth and a seven on the 16th. LaPenta carded a 147. Ross had 124 and Bence 108. Rosner's "worst hole" was the 11th, a par four of 368 yards. On that hole he took 19 shots.

Bee Learns Fast

BALTIMORE (AP) — It didn't take Clair Bee long to note the difference between coaching college basketball and the pro boys. Bee, new coach of the Baltimore Bullets in the NBA, has spotted many differences.

"In college ball, the idea is fundamental," claims Bee. "You teach your kids your style of play. In pro ball your boys have already learned the fundamentals and have their own styles. The idea here, it seems to me, is to get the best players and keep them happy. It's more as though you're a manager. But it's coaching and it's basketball," explains Bee who was the mentor at LIU for many years.

News From ANTHONY

By Mrs. Carl Carter

There was just so few things that took place in the last two weeks that yours truly didn't take time to scribble last week. Seems every one is busy at something for the Holidays at this time. The Anthony Sunday School will have their Xmas party on Tuesday evening the 23. Everyone is invited.

* * *

The Anthony Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Gertrude Brown for their Christmas meeting. Mrs. Brown is their new President. The program was opened with the reading of the scriptural story of the first Christmas by Mrs. Winnie Morris, she also read a Christmas poem. Miss Reynolds gave the story of Mistletoe and gave recipes of candy making and had some samples of the candy. After the demonstration and program the group had a gift exchange and then the hostess served refreshments to the following ladies. Mrs. R. C. Pyle, Mrs. Nellie Bobbitt, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Ralph Bobbitt, Mrs. Floyd Myers, Mrs. Lois Kirton, Mrs. LaVern Davis, Mrs. Winnie Morris, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Theresa Davis, two guests, Mrs. Barr Brown, and Mrs. Archie Koos of Turpin, and the hostess.

* * *

Carl Carter and Mrs. Carter took Mrs. Husted to Amarillo to visit with her husband on Thursday of last week. They found him improving.

The Anthony Rural Progress group met this last Wednesday. The meeting was called to order and LeRoy Bobbitt led the opening prayer. The men reported as having worked several days on the building repair during the previous week. As there was no other business after Mrs. Morris read the minutes of the last meeting the program was turned over to Mr. Wallace Anshutz, who reported the latest workings of the Rural Telephone Coop., which is a branch of the REA. It seems there is every reason to believe that this will be one of the first bills to come to the attention of our legislature when it meets. Mrs. Anshutz accompanied her husband to the meeting. Mr. Anshutz is the district Farm Bureau Manager. Mrs. Wayne Wilson and Mrs. Billie Wilson were the hostess to the meeting and served refreshments to the 12 families there.

The Beaver County Choral Group have been practicing for their program for the annual Home Demonstration Achievement Banquet which was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church on Saturday night. The group had their last practice on Friday morning. The program consisted of awards being made, installation of new Council Officers, and expressions of appreciation to those retiring Officers, by the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Grace Reynolds, and musical numbers called "Singing Christmas Cards" given by the Choral Group and other members of Clubs. Those from Anthony who took part in the program were: Mrs. Lem VanDeburgh, Mrs. LeRoy Bobbitt, Mrs. Carl Carter, and Mrs. Ralph Bobbitt. Mr. Leon Morris helped with the decorating of the hall. Retiring officers in the Council from Anthony are: Mrs. Glen Myers, reporter and Mrs. Carl Carter, secretary. New officers installed were: Mrs. Mary Bobbitt, secretary.

Miss Kay and Patricia Myers, and Miss Cleta Carter were on the Piano Recital Program held in the home of their teacher Mrs. Ezra Evans, of Beaver. The youngsters and their mothers were treated to a Christmas Tea Party after the Recital. Mrs. Evans had written a story and wove the piano numbers into the plot.

Truman's Last Stand

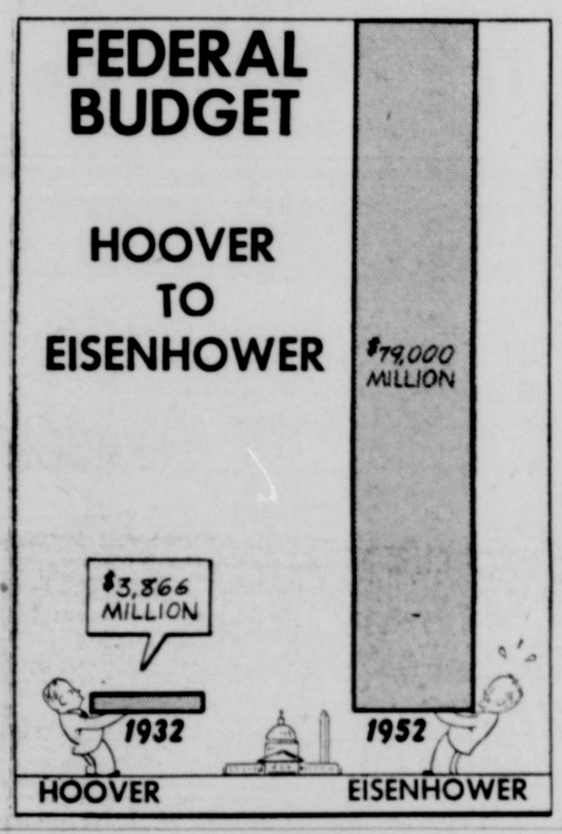

President Truman, who has less than six weeks to serve in that high office, has again shown his colors.

This time it is in belittling President-elect Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, two of the world's top army generals, in that they might come up with a way to end the bloody Korean war, his war so to speak, which on Christmas Day will be exactly two and one-half years old.

Truman charges both Eisenhower and MacArthur with demagoguery, basing Eisenhower's Korean trip solely on a political maneuver. It is typical of Sir Harry that political expediency takes first place in his thoughts and any move by a person in public office must have a political basis behind it.

It appears to most persons that both Eisenhower and MacArthur are well versed in war and have more than moderate success in that field. We see nothing at all political in the visit of our next President to the actual field of battle in an effort to come up with a solution to the number one problem that faces his administration and the American people.

Certainly no one thinks a visit to Korea by Eisenhower will mean the war is over. But is it at least a start. And far better than the endless repetition of high sounding phrases of Dean Acheson and Harry Truman about "containment," "compromise," and "patience" regarding the war in Korea.

It is believed that the ancestors of whales were hoofed mammals.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

We have been reading some rather clever articles lately, about how Christmas has become so commercialized that most of the joy is gone from the Yule season. We'll go along with the idea that there is not enough Christ in Christmas nowadays, but those who think the Christmas spirit, the wonder and excitement of Santa Claus and Baby Jesus is gone, just don't have youngsters around the house.

Maybe Mama and Papa see the Christmas season as one for draining the bank account, worrying if the Christmas card list includes everyone that sends a card, and a state of suspense in seeing if some relative sent a nicer present than he was sent. But to the youngsters, it's still the same age-old story about St. Nick and the reindeer swooping over the housetops on Christmas Eve to drop off presents to the deserving boys and girls who have been real good the past year.

Even a Santa with a false face, like appeared on Main street last Saturday, draws wide-eyed worship from the little toddlers as they breathlessly tell him what they want to find by the Christmas tree.

We do wish the radio people would turn off the deluge of various renditions of "White Christmas" and "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," although we do enjoy these tunes the first dozen or so times we hear them. We also wish we could go back to the days when there was a sort of gentleman's agreement between the Thanksgiving turkey and the Christmas gifts people under which no one raised the subject of gifts until after the drum-stick day had passed. After all, Halloween is a bit early to break out the tinsel and foil of Christmas gift wrap.

But in spite of all this, the children still behave pretty much as they did years ago when the Christmas season rolls around. There are gifts to give and gifts to receive, and the buying of a gift is about as breath-taking as the anticipation of receiving one.

Perhaps we are too commercialized about Christmas. But it takes a lot of doing to destroy a kid's belief in Christmas. And as far as we can tell, that belief is still there.

For the more cynical grownups, we could recommend a visit to any of the first-grade school rooms this week, where the youngsters were carried away with the trimming of their room tree and the decorating of the room itself. Or a visit to the dime store where little boys and girls of the buying age are looking over everything in the place to make sure their Christmas gift allowance isn't wasted. Or a talk with some of the small fry who come with mama or papa to the Nativity scene at the city park these nights. Nope, the grownups may have lost the Christmas spirit, but the youngsters still have it.

There has been some speculation the past few years over whether or not there were fish in the city lake south of town. The recent freeze proved the lake is full of fish, many of them dead now. There were thousands of dead fish along the edge of the lake last week, where the shallow water and hard freeze had caught them. Some rather good sized catfish were noted. We hope this outbreak of dead fish doesn't raise a stink.

There's an article in Time Magazine, Dec. 8 issue, on space travel which arouses our curiosity. There's a former German scientist, Wernher von Braun, who thinks it quite possible, in the rather near future, for man to erect a space station just outside the earth's atmosphere, and from this point take off to explore the planets of this universe.

Space travel has its problems, the experts admit, and the greatest of these is man himself, with a body not designed to go traveling about beyond the atmosphere of the earth. One curious point has been raised—and that is the fact that man must conquer not only space, but time. Even the nearest stars are light-years away, and each light year is six trillion miles. If a space ship traveled at 50,000 m.p.h. it would take many thousands of years to reach a nearby star. Its crew would die of old age before the voyage really got under way.

One answer to this problem is "nature's way," of reproduction. It has been suggested that an interstellar breeding-ship with a male and female crew would need close population control and the careful "recycling of biological material" (i.e., eating the dead). It would also need a university on board to preserve the cultural level of the original crew. But if all went well, the 140,000th generation could colonize the Pleiades.

Space enthusiasts like to compare the present with the time just before Columbus, when Europeans were about ready to launch out over the Atlantic. The analogy is poor. Columbus did not know what he would find on the other side of the ocean, but he had ships that would take him across. The space men can see across their "ocean," but they have no ships. And as far as we're concerned, the prospect of taking off and visiting another planet holds no fascination at all. Although we've been lots of places and seen lots of things, including a county fair, Sally Rand and W. Lee O'Daniel, there are still plenty of places on this earth that we haven't visited and we would rather see this planet first.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Farmers Also Can Sleep Late

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher has another queer idea about the habits of present day farmers, his letter this week reveals.)

Dear editar:

I was out here the other day, diggin around in a wheat field to see if the snow had sprouted my wheat, which it didn't although I did find a few grains of wheat swelled up like they was about to sprout, but to date they ain't made the grade yet, and after puttin in my day's work in about 30 minutes of diggin for wheat in the ffield, I noticed an old newspaper in the ditch where some town bird had thrown out some trash, and I went over and unwrapped the trash and took the paper home out behind the barn and read about President-elect Eisenhower's vacation trip in Georgia after the recent election.

The paper said Eisenhower, while vacationing at that golf course in Georgia, slept late one morning and the reporters said he "stayed in bed late like a city feller."

I don't object to the President-elect stayin in bed as late as he wants to in the mornings, glad to see he's gettin some sense on that topic, handed a marked copy of it to my wife, but I do object to the insinuation that sleepin late is strictly a city practice, that it's somehow out of place in the country.

There ain't nothin in my philosophy which prevents a country man from sleepin late if he wants to, and as far as I'm concerned there has been too much propaganda about farmers gettin up early.

Some people like to promote the idea that if farmers ain't up and stumblin to the barn in the dark six days a week, their whole economic system will fall to pieces and the bank might even call in their loan if it heard about it. And that it ought to be against the law for a farmer to turn the tractor off or unhitch a mule any earlier than an hour after sundown. That if he don't fall asleep toward the end of supper he ain't put in a honest day's work.

I'll admit there is some farmers who seem to follow this philosophy, but it ain't the one that prevails out here. If a farmer is gonna work all year and take a chance on his crop being lost at the last minute to a hail storm or green bugs or a drought or the bottom fallin out of the price, he might as well sleep late in the mornin when he feels like it. Ain't nothin worse than going busted sleepy.

I personally ain't prejudiced against late-sleepin, and I am happy to know that a lot of people, preachers, teachers, business men, even editors, is equally open minded on the subject.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Big Pump-Turbine Authorized

NEW YORK (AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority has authorized contracts for construction of the largest electric motor and reversible pump turbine in the world for installation at the Hiwassee Dam in Southwestern North Carolina. It is scheduled for completion in 1955.

The reversible pump turbine will operate as a turbine in one direction and as a pump in the other.

The electric motor will serve as a generator for the turbine openration and as a motor for the pump. When motor-driven, the unit will be able to pump 3,300,000,000 gallons of water a day. This is three times the quantity used each day by the city of New York.

It takes 13 bushels of corn and 40 pounds of supplement a year to keep a sow.

Big New '53 FORD

THE NEW STANDARD OF THE AMERICAN ROAD!

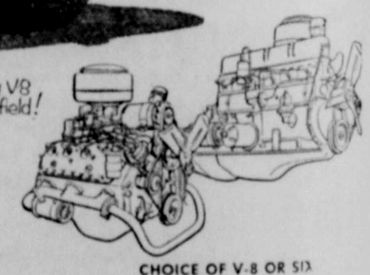

Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive, white sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

With 41 "Worth More" features . . . it's worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

This '53 Ford sets an entirely new standard for the American Road. For in this big new Ford you'll find 41 "Worth More" features that give you more of the things you want . . . more of the things you need . . . than ever before in low-priced car history.

You'll find the "Go" you need to handle today's long-distance driving . . . the economy you want on long trips or short. You'll enjoy Ford's new Miracle Ride that brings you the smooth, quiet riding comfort you need for today's level parkways or rough, rutted byways . . . plus nearly effortless steering, braking, and parking. And you'll see beauty that belongs wherever you may drive.

When you see this new Ford at your Ford Dealer's, when you Test Drive it and Value Check it, you'll understand why it is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it. You'll agree that here, indeed, is the New Standard of the American Road!

CHOICE OF V-8 OR SIX

Ford's famous 110-h.p. high-compression Strato-Star V-8 has a partner for thrifty "Go" in the 101-h.p. low-friction, high-compression Mileage Maker Six. Ford Automatic Power Pilot gives high-compression "Go" with regular gas.

A few of the 41 "Worth More" features in the 1953 Ford

NEW MIRACLE RIDE — Not just more responsive spring and shock absorber action, not just foam rubber cushions, but a balanced ride that gives you an entirely new concept of comfort.

SHIFT TO FORDOMATIC — and you'll never shift again. It's the finest, most versatile automatic drive ever built. And remember, Ford also offers the smooth and thrifty Overdrive.

POWER-PIVOT PEDALS — are suspended from above to eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. They give more unobstructed floor space and provide easier operation of brake and clutch pedals.

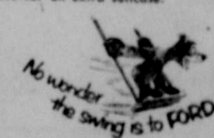

CENTER-FILL FUELING — prevents hose marks, and makes "filling up" easier from either side of the gasoline pump. Shorter gas filler pipe gives you trunk space for an extra suitcase.

FULL-CIRCLE VISIBILITY — with huge, curved, one-piece windshield, a car-wide, one-piece rear window and big picture windows all around — gives you visibility unlimited.

Public Cordially Invited

Stressed in the Lesson-Sermon titled "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday, will be these points: Man and the universe are created and governed by God, Spirit. Establishment of this truth in human thinking enables mankind to turn away from matter and to obey God's law, thus realizing real peace and security in daily living.

The Golden Text is the following Proverb: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens" (3:19). Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "The universe, like man, is to be interpreted by Science from its divine Principle, God, and then it can be understood; but when explained on the basis of physical sense and represented as subject to growth, maturity and decay, the universe, like man, is and must continue to be, an enigma" (p. 124).

The Psalmist declared God as the creator of man in the following verse to be read from the King James version of the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people and the sheep of his pasture" (100:3).

IT'S A CHRISTMAS TRADITION

Just like the familiar toy-filled stocking, it's a traditional holiday event to telephone distant friends and loved ones. There's something extra warm and personal about a Christmas phone call—a thoughtfulness and sincerity which no card or gift can match. Why not make this tradition a part of your Christmas?

To avoid delay in making your Christmas calls, place them before Christmas day. If you can, give the long distance operator the out-of-town number you are calling. Then be sure and have a very merry Christmas!

Handicapped Grid Player Boots Field Goals Now

AP Newsfeatures

HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—It wasn't a case of "let George do it," but "could George do it?"

But his fraternity needed Klipa's help if it was to score 100 per cent participation in intramural sports activity, and George rose to the challenge.

Touch football is one of the sports, and place-kicking was the spot he chose for his return to athletic activity.

It's a trick to balance on an artificial leg and kick with the good leg, and at first Klipa took some spills. But it wasn't long before the ball was end-over-ending between the goal posts with fair regularity.

Klipa is a junior in pre-law school. He will never, as a varsity player, hear the roar of the crowd at a game again.

But he's giving it the old "college try."

Hockey Players Skated Around

AP Newsfeatures

MONTREAL—The old cry of the hawkers—"You can't tell the players without a score-card"—certainly holds true in the National Hockey League this season.

Nine players in the league have played with three different teams. Two skaters have appeared with four of the six NHL clubs.

Gaye Stewart has played with Toronto, Chicago and Detroit before coming to the New York Rangers. Jimmy Peters travelled with Montreal, Boston and Detroit before being traded to the Chicago Black Hawks.

Chicago's George Gee is the only player in the loop who is back playing a second time for one club. He started with the Hawks, was traded to Detroit and was then shunted back to the Chicago team before the start of this season.

Henry Wells of Springfield, Mass., driving a Duryea Motor Wagon, collided with Evelyn Thomas, on bicycle, in New York City on May 30, 1896. It was the first reported automobile accident. Miss Thomas had a fractured leg and Wells spent the night in jail.

KC to Honor Casey

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Casey Stengel will be honored by his home town, Kansas City, next July 30. Mayor William E. Kemp issued a proclamation setting aside the day to commemorate the Yankee manager's birthday. Casey, born Charles Dillon Stengel, received his nickname from this town and the local inhabitants are proud of their famed hometowner. Stengel played baseball, football and basketball at Central High school here. He also managed the Kansas City Blues in the American Association back in 1945.

Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford Together Again In New Film

Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford, who made such a hit in "Gilda," are together again in a picture cast in the same mold, "Affair in Trinidad," which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday, Dec. 23-25.

Set on the tropical isle of Trinidad, the new film is a romantic drama, which also gives Rita a chance to sing and dance a little bit.

Miss Hayworth plays an entertainer in a Trinidad night club who sings that she does what she loves, and loves what she does. Murder and international intrigue enter her life when police link the death of her artist-husband to the conspiracy they suspect Alexander Scourby, man of mystery and trader in international secrets, is hatching on Trinidad. Into Rita's life, also, comes Glenn Ford, brother of the murder victim, who is suspicious of the girl and unaware that she is playing up to the suave Scourby only to learn for the police the secret of his mission on the island. Against this backdrop of brooding violence, the love affair between Rita and Glenn proceeds, as moody and as sultry as Trinidad's Calypso drums.

Starrett, Smiley Halt Outlaws

Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnette put an end to the gold grabbing that threatens to destroy a mining town in "The Rough, Tough West," which comes to the Pertex Theatre on Saturday and Sunday.

In the picture, Starrett and Burnette this time join forces against a saloon owner trying to seize complete control over a small mining town. The embittered miners have exchanged shovels for shotguns when Starrett arrives on the scene, and the range rider is unable to prevent the desperate explosion which follows when gold-hungry saloon owner Jack Mahoney gives his gunmen the go-ahead signal to such violence that even he himself is stunned by events.

Widmark Turns To Comedy In 'My Pal Gus'

Richard Widmark, who usually is the screen villain, turns to comedy in "My Pal Gus," the enchanting story of a little six-year-old boy, which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

"My Pal Gus" tells the story of a millionaire candy manufacturer who is too preoccupied with making money to take much notice of his young son, Gus, whom he loves very much, a young school teacher, who understands children, and a scheming wife, who sells her so-called mother love for a million dollars. The cleverly conceived development of this theme and the human qualities that are woven into its telling are what makes "My Pal Gus" so wonderful. From the opening scene in the picture showing the fire department racing to get little Gus out of a flooded bathroom to the final one in which his father gives away all his money just to have the boy for his very own, the picture pulsates with heart-warming action.

Influenza Highly Infectious and Can Be Serious

AUSTIN, Texas—This is the season of the year when influenza or "flu" is most prevalent, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Colds, grippe, influenza, whatever we may call them, are believed to be spread from person to person through discharges from the nose and throat. To protect yourself and others from such disease, here are some things to be remembered:

Influenza is highly infectious. Practically everybody is susceptible to it. No matter how many times you have had the disease you may contract it again. Therefore, keep away from people who are sneezing, coughing, or sniffling or who are actively ill with colds, influenza, or pneumonia. Keep away from crowded places. Have your own towel and always wash your hands before eating, and sneeze or cough into your handkerchief.

Keep fit by drinking plenty of water, by eating simple nourishing food, by some exercise out of doors every day, by dressing according to the weather, by having plenty of sleep in a well ventilated room, and by keeping the bowels regulated.

Don't neglect your "cold." If you have the slightest suspicion of fever go home, go to bed immediately and call your physician. Stay in bed until he tells you that you can get up, and follow his advice explicitly.

Disastrous results may ensue if influenza cases are allowed to get about too soon. Persons convalescing from influenza are particularly susceptible to other infections. If you are just getting over some illness, return to your normal routine of life gradually.

RIO GRANDE VALLEY FASHION NOTES—These gaily-colored costumes—modeled by Misses Sylvia Quijano, Jeanette Waters and Jane Oehler—were the hit of the evening when they appeared in the National Fruit, Vegetable and Flower style show at Weslaco's 33rd annual birthday party. But these little numbers went out of style quicker than most ladies fashions—they hit the garbage can the next morning. All three outfits were made almost entirely of fruit, vegetables and flowers like tepehuaje leaves, bougainvillea petals, chrysanthemums, poinsettas, bachelor buttons, eggplant, tangerine seeds, grapefruit and berries. At left is the first place winner in the costume division, center is costume division second placer and at right is the third place winner in the evening dress class. (AP Photo)

'Wild Stallion' Is Action Packed

A roundup of wild horses, cavalry fights, Indian attacks and other spectacular climaxes of fast action are seen in "Wild Stallion," the picture that comes to the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

"Wild Stallion" essentially is the story of a man and his great wild horse, played against the colorful background of a frontier cavalry post in the old days of the west. Edgar Buchanan and Martha Hyer are co-starred with Johnson.

Hayden Rorke, Hugh Beaumont and Don Haggerty have the chief supporting roles.

Mrs. Hawn had reason to cheer that particular player. He was her sixth son to play college football. It was Jimmy Hawn and he was playing his last college game.

The first of the college-playing Hawns was Charles, who was at Texas in 1932. Next was Fritz, who played at SMU in 1933. Local Students Win Promotions At Wentworth

LEXINGTON, Mo.—Two Perryton youths were among those promoted at Wentworth Military academy here, Lt. Col. Arthur W. Hodges, head of the academy's military department, announced today.

The youths, who were promoted to the rank of Cadet Sergeant, are: Cadet R. E. Waide, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waide, 707 S. Eton St., and Cadet Fred C. Huston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huston, Box 518.

Waide and Huston were advanced in rank for outstanding accomplishments in positions of leadership, not only from a military angle, but in all departments of the academy.

The promotions were announced publicly in a special order read before the entire Wentworth cadet corps.

This Team Rushed Backwards

DENVER (AP)—The 1952 football season brought a wry "first" for Coach Johnny Baker of Denver University.

Against Utah the Denver Pioneers wound up with a mark of minus 15 yards in the rushing department while absorbing a 35-0 cuffing.

"That was the first time in my coaching career of more than 20 seasons that a team of mine has ended a game in the minus department," said the former Southern California guard, whose place-kick once decided a Trojan-Notre Dame thriller.

AP Writer Advocates Four Platoon System

By Raymond Holbrook
Associated Press Staff

Dear Coach:

Since it will soon be safe for you to bring your family back to the campus and Zubbovich, Kowkowski and the rest of the squad soon will be devoting full time to their ballroom dancing, fingerprinting and auto driving courses, I am flipping you a bullet pass.

And if you don't fumble it, Coach, there will be a new era in football at Q. U.

What I am going to say is not personal in any way. I demonstrated clearly I am without personal rancor when I insisted that the fellows let you get out of your car before we rolled it into Scum Creek after that 76-0 drubbing by Happy Valley Teachers College back in 1937.

But frankly, Coach, you, along with football itself, have stagnated. You have made only two major advancements in the history of modern mayhem. The first was the forward pass and it took you coaches half a century to think up the second great milestone, the two-platoon system. And at the rate the coaching fraternity is thinking it will be another half century before your mental processes make another first down.

Now get set, Coach, for that bullet pass that will put Q. U. decades ahead of the game. Keep your eye on the ball. Here it comes.

It's the four-platoon system.

The two-platoon system has helped Q. U.'s game considerably but since the Mountain View Theological School Parsons edged us, 49-0, this fall, I am sure you will agree with me it leaves something to be desired.

What Q. U. needs is four teams—the "offensive offensive" and "defensive offensive" squads when we have the ball and the "offensive defensive" and "defensive defensive" platoons when we don't have the ball which seems to be most of the time.

You can send in the "offensive offensive" platoon when caution can be thrown out of the stadium and the boys can triple lateral to their hearts' content to run up the biggest score possible. We had the opportunity to employ such a platoon when we smothered the local high school squad 13-0 back in 1939.

Then there is a need for a "defensive offensive" squad, a cautious but aggressive eleven that can make good solid four and five yards gains every time on ground plays, hold onto the ball, and protect a slim lead—which is the kind of a lead we usually have when have a lead.

The "offensive defensive" team would be useful when things get tough but we still have a chance to regain the initiative. It should be made up of good pass interceptors, fumble recoverers, and a few adroit clippers. It should be the type of a team that can get possession of the ball. Then you send in the "defensive offensive" platoon until they build up a safe lead so you can send in the "offfensive offensive" team to wind up the game in a blaze of glory and touchdowns.

The "defensive defensive" platoon would be a face saver, a last-ditch squad you could send in to protect your job as well as to salvage what little honor Q. U. now has in football circles. Its sole purpose would be to keep the opposition from making any touchdowns or as few as possible. For this platoon you need eleven good tacklers, who unencumbered with any hopes of ever carrying a ball, could go about their work as methodically, as efficiently, and as contentedly as the jugular-vein slashers in a slaughter house.

The advantages of the four-platoon system would extend beyond the stadium. Perhaps you are aware, Coach, that because of the current criticism of commercialism in college sports, a few eyebrows have been raised at the 100 scholarships which are yours to dispense. With four platoons to man, you should not only be able to justify that number but perhaps get it raised to 150.

And it should be easier to recruit good men. You would be able to offer shorter working hours and with the increased manpower, the ardous chores that accompany the athletic scholarships could be lessened. Instead of having to feed the goldfish in Memorial Fountain every week, Kowkowski would only have to do it every other week.

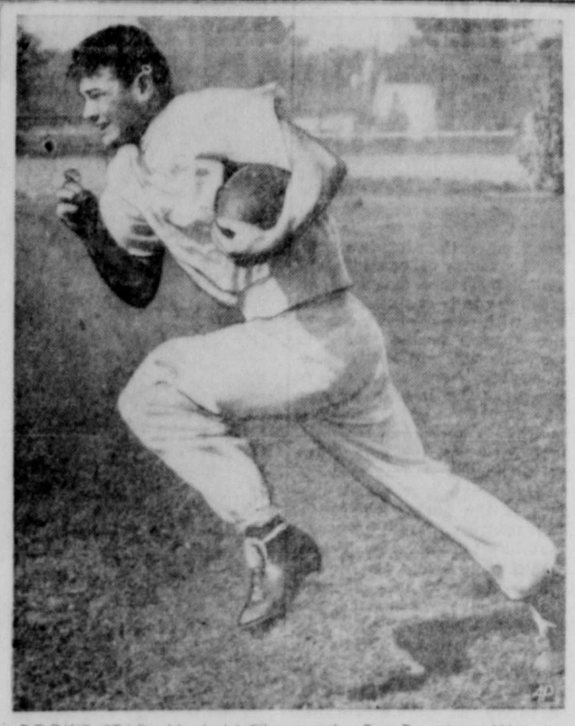

The ball's all yours, Coach. Now let's see you run with it. And if you will send me two season passes on the 50-yard-line—not to high up—I and the missus will be there rooting for you at every game next fall. On second thought, it would be somewhat picayunish for a football coach with four platoons and 150 scholarships to send just two season passes. For such a four-fold revelation, it would be more fitting if you made it eight.

Policemen in Bad Shape

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A physical checkup of policemen here recently disclosed that 14 per cent were physically incapable of performing satisfactory police duty, Safety Director James E. Thornberry reports.

Of the 438 policemen examined, 184 were overweight, 116 had unsatisfactory blood pressure, 87 had below-par vision, 25 were wholly or partially color blind and 79 had defective hearing.

Thornberry blamed low police pensions for the high percentage of unqualified officers. Of the 62 men termed unsatisfactory, 46 had already reached the age of 51, which is in the retirement bracket.

French Expert Tells How To Select Gift Perfumes

By BETTY CLARKE
(AP) Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Frankincense and myrrh were two of the choice gifts brought by the wise men when they greeted the newborn Infant. No doubt these gentle aromatics were chosen carefully by the Magi for their subtle scents.

Fragrances in every form have been popular and proper Christmas gifts ever since. It is the gift even a new acquaintance can present with the assurance that it is in good taste—not so with other expensive items.

But perfume must be chosen wisely if it is going to make a hit with the recipient. The best method for selecting Christmas perfume is to select a scent which will accent the personality of the recipient, says Raymond Barbas, head of Jean Patou and president of the Haute Coutoure. He explains:

"French women select their perfumes with deliberation. They know that men can be repulsed or attracted by the scent they wear. So they make sure they get a good scent's worth."

When choosing perfume, advises Barbas, remember the woman is going to live with, perhaps even wear it 24 hours a day. That is why it must be appropriate to her. Keep these pointers in mind:

1. The chic woman will enjoy a distinctive perfume, especially one that is exclusive and fabulous. She likes a good scent to be identified with her, although she might be fussy about scent preference.

2. Career girls enjoy matching perfume and cologne, so that the lighter scent may be used during the day and the heavier scent used on the after-five date.

3. The young college girl will enjoy a fragrance that is light, sparkling and crisp. A floral scent with the right touch of spice appeals to the young in heart. She will not risk offending anyone if she wears one of these light florals with its nice clean scent.

4. The young matron is proudest, usually wearing a feminine but sophisticated fragrance. A woodsy tang with a piquant touch is the perfect choice for the housewife.

5. When buying perfume take a whiff of it before you decide. If it is for your best girl she should enjoy wearing the perfume which pleases you.

6. If you are consulting the sales girl, and she asks you the girl's type, she doesn't expect you to say "oh, she's a cute little redhead with blue eyes" or "she's tall and dark." She wants to know her type and the best answers would be, perhaps, "she's the matronly type," "she's fragile and sweet," "tall but feminine" "short but sophisticated" or other remarks which can describe her personality to give an idea of what she likes.

7. The best idea is to notice the perfume your girl wears, and ask her the name of it. If you like it buy it for her. But if you decide it isn't the right one for your glamorous beauty, this is a good chance to buy her a more appropriate scent.

YULE GLAMOR . . . A few drops of her new Christmas fragrance goes in a purse atomizer for evening glamor. This "scent ("Moment Supreme,") is a popular gift item.

LETTERS from READERS

Ochiltree County Herald

Dear Sirs:

This letter is nearly a year overdue, for I want to express my appreciation for the issue of your paper last Christmas. It was a wonderful edition, and I enjoyed all the lovely Christmas thoughts and the beautiful advertising.

And I do so enjoy the Wolf Creek Philosopher and save many of them, in particular "Why Not Let Them Find Us" is simply delightful. I belong to a lovely study club, the Melrose Fortnightly, organized years ago, the oldest of its kind here and well known. I read this article before the club and all thought it perfectly splendid, humorous, but so true. Would you have two extra copies I could give to friends who wished they could have a copy?

Mr. Lance sends your paper to me and I do appreciate having it. Thanking you and anticipating your Christmas issue, I am.

Yours truly,
Mrs. John M. Kelley

Veterans Forum

Q. I am a disabled veteran entitled to a VA grant for the purchase of an automobile. Is there any deadline for applying for my car?

A. Yes. Your application must be filed either by October 20, 1954, or three years after your separation from service, whichever date is later.

Q. Must a veteran's blindness be service-connected, in order for him to get the electronic and mechanical equipment that VA issues to the blinded?

A. Not necessarily. The veteran must be entitled to compensation for a service-connected disability, which may either be loss of sight or some other disability.

Q. I am a Korean vet. After I got out of service, I changed my name. Would that bar me from getting a GI loan, since all my military and discharge records are made out in the name I no longer use?

A. No. If you are otherwise eligible, you would be entitled to the loan. However, you must submit competent evidence that establishes your identity.

Q. I'm planning to enroll in a trade school under the Korean GI Bill and study carpentry. Most of my course will be shop practice. What is considered full-time in such a course?

A. Full-time in your course would be at least 30 hours a week for at least five days a week, with no more than 2½ hours of rest periods each week.

Engineering Schoralships Offered

NEW YORK (AP)—To encourage more young men to take up engineering, the American Society of Tool Engineers is offering 10 scholarships of $700 each to engineering students in American and Canadian colleges.

The society, which has some 23,000 production experts among its members, is offering the 1953 scholarships to college students in their fourth or fifth year who are taking subjects in the general category of tool engineering, including such courses as metal processing, tool design, plant layout, inspection and advanced manufacturing processes.

For the last two years, the society has awarded five $300 scholarships. The 1953 awards represent an increase of more than 350 per cent in the program.

A world bread grain crop of 250 million short tons—a new high record—is predicted for the 1952-53 year.

Black Is Honored

WASHHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Joe Black, ace righthander for the Brooklyn Dodgers, received another accolade recently. When Morgan State College met Virginia union University in football at Griffith Stadium here, Joe participated in the half-time ceremonies. Black is a former state athlete and graduate of Morgan State.

REWARD FOR CROWS—As part of a crow-eradication drive, the agriculture committee of the Belton, Tex., Chamber of Commerce, released several bounty crows worth money to the hunter who bagged one. The crow being released here carried a tag worth $25. Nelson Handler, former president of the Texas Pecan Growers' association, release the crow while Joe Chance and Jarrett Coppin of the Bell County Sportsman's club pose with guns ready. (AP Photo)
