City Rejects Police Combined Agency

The city of Wellington has rejected the proposed Consolidated Police Agency for Collingsworth County, which would have brought into one body all law enforcement agencies of the county and which already had received the approval by the Texas Criminal Justice Council and Governor Preston Smith.

County Judge Zook Thomas revealed the decision after receiving the official notice from Mayor John Coleman.

The mayor's letter read: "This is to give you official notice that the City Council of Wellington, Texas, has passed an order instructing me to inform you that the City of Wellington, Texas, does not desire to participate with Collingsworth County in a consolidated Police Agency-Collingsworth County, Texas, Agency in cooperation with the Criminal Justice Council of the Executive Department of the State of Texas.

"Thank you very much for your consideration in this matter."

If the project had been accepted, the law enforcement agency would have received funding of $45,302 from the Criminal Justice Council for the first year, and total CJC funding of $72,705 for the two-year period.

Sheriff John Rainey, who worked to put together the combined program, said he was disappointed at the city's rejection.

"I think it would have been a benefit to the whole community, both the county and city, and in the long run, I think it's rejection is going to cost us more," said the sheriff.

He cited as an example $10,899 in equipment that would have been available under the program at very little cost.

"We would have to pay only 25 per cent of the cost of radio equipment, which after two years would have belonged to the city and county. It would have given us three more personnel at very little cost and two more dispatchers.

"The whole thing was to upgrade law enforcement officers and equipment."

The consolidated law enforcement program was patterned after the one already in operation in Hardeman County (Quanah) which has been acclaimed widely.

Under the agreement which was signed, the city was to pay 40 per cent of the grantee contribution (local sponsor's cost) and the county 60 per cent. Of this total of $37,673 grantee contribution for the first year, the sponsors would have been credited with $10,970 "in kind" contribution, leaving a cash outlay of $26,703, or a total of $82,975 to go into the project the first year.

This would have covered salary increases for the present personnel, the use of professional advisory services, the addition of $14,036 worth of new equipment to upgrade the law enforcement facilities, including new radio equipment, and operating expenses. (The combined enforcement

Satellite School Opening Near, Teachers Chosen

Instructors for the Satellite School for Human Development have been selected, as has the location for the school, County Judge Zook Thomas said Tuesday, October 4.

The tentative opening date is Friday, October 5.

Mrs. Dan Hiett was selected as teacher in the unit and Mrs. Bill Lindsey as teacher's aid.

They were in Amarillo from Monday through Wednesday for orientation and to learn their duties with the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurshel Tyler have made available the building at the corner of Dallas and 15th streets, in which he formerly operated Weather Scan and a retail TV store. Work is under way installing rest rooms.

Thirteen students will be accepted initially in the school.

Assisting in setting up the Wellington unit were Bobby C. White, director of the Amarillo State Center of Human Development of the Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation; and Phillip Wright, also from the Amarillo center, who will service the Wellington center.

This program is funded to aid those persons who have problems and who are not in school. It can include persons from three years to 50 years, Judge Thomas said.

The salary for the teacher, the teacher's aid, and supplies are furnished by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

With the building already provided for, the local sponsors still have to cover such things as equipment and utilities.

After the school is in operation, there will be calls for volunteers to work with the program.

Students who will attend the center were tested prior to being accepted.

Organization of the advisory committee was held recently in which Mrs. B.M. Sims was elected chairman, the Rev. R. T. Dyess, vice-chairman; Mrs. K.C. Poteet, secretary; and Mrs. Jimmy Langford, treasurer.

Other members are Mrs. B.K. Hall, Mrs. B.L. Langford, Mrs. R.L. Templeton, Mrs. Steve Owens, Mrs. Glenn Warwick, James Stavenhagen of Quail, the Rev. Roy Collins, the Rev. Philip Daniels, Minister Marvin Garrison, Minister Gaylord Cook, and Mrs. Bob Sessions.

Counties and Schools Enter Juvenile Program

Three counties and four Schools agreed Monday night, October 4, to enter the Multi-County Juvenile Probation Program, and an application for funding will be submitted within two weeks.

The meeting, presided over by County Judge Zook Thomas, had representatives in person or by letter from Collingsworth, Donley and Wheeler Counties, and Quail, Samnorwood, Shamrock and Hedley Schools.

Wellington School did not enter the program. "The board voted they will not go into the program for various reasons. I can't narrow it down to specifics," said Supt. Thayne Amonett.

Judge C.L. Abernathy, Criminal Justice Co-ordinator for the Panhandle Regional Planning Committee, and Judge Thomas explained the operation of the program and the reasons which have brought about these.

The program will call for two or more qualified probation officers and an office secretary, who may also be one of the officers. These will serve the counties as probation officers and the schools as truant officers.

The representatives of the seven participating units will meet in Wellington Monday evening, October 18, at 7:00 p.m. to set up the program policies.

"How the program will operate is up to you," Judge Abernathy told the group. It will be funded by federal grant through The Texas Criminal Justice Council, but there are no restrictions except that you must use the money as you say you will use it."

Direct administration will be through a board, usually made up of school superintendents and county judges.

The probation officer will make investigations in cases concerning juveniles, he will appear in court with them or he may even take charge of the child in certain cases, if this is necessary. He will serve the child in other ways as needed and also serve as a resource person to the schools.

The application will go to PRPC, and upon approval, it will then go to the Texas Criminal Justice Council, which must approve it for funding. Seventy-five per cent of the funds will come from the Criminal Justice Council and the remaining 25 per cent will be provided locally. This can be "in kind" payment, such as office space, equipment, the volunteer services of certain qualified persons such as doctors, and other sources such as credit for time which the county officials and school administrators spend with the program. Little cash outlay is expected.

Far reaching actions by the U.S. Supreme Court and the Texas Supreme Court have changed the handling of juveniles within the past 5 years, both Judge Abernathy and Judge Thomas said. In the future, all juveniles coming into court, including those in Collingsworth County, must have:

- A guardian ad litem (a friend or interested person appointed by the court to act in behalf of the juvenile. In the past there has been little need for a guardian ad litem in cases here, Judge Thomas pointed out, but cases in other areas

Farm Bureau Sets Barbecue Saturday

Between 500 and 600 Farm Bureau members and their families will attend the annual meeting and barbecue slated for Saturday, October 9, Dee Coleman, president, announced this week. It will be held in Bura Handley Community Center.

Serving the barbecue will begin at 6:30 p.m. and the business meeting will start at 7:30. Again, the meat will be pit-barbecued by a group of members headed by Willie Knoll, who has done this for almost as long as there have been Farm Bureau barbecues.

The program will be presented by a trio of teen-agers who attended the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar in Waco this summer. They are Jerry Bowen of Wellington, Joel Ross of Quail and Anna Oldham of Samnorwood.

The members will then go into their business meeting, first to elect officers and directors for the coming year.

Adoption of resolutions will fill the remainder of the session. A slate of resolutions was prepared in a meeting of the policy building committee and directors Monday evening, October 4, Dee Burba, Farm Bureau manager, said.

However, resolutions may be presented from the floor by any person who has one he wants to introduce.

A new committee this year is made up of Ray Null, Buddy Yarbrough, Travis McGuire, Doug Coleman, John Coleman, and Earl Patterson.

Assisting Mr. Knoll in preparing the barbecue will be Richard Bentley, Tommy Lewis, Johnny Carson, Ike Paschall, Doug Coleman, John Brim, Dennis Lacy, Travis McGuire, Buddy Yarbrough, Alvin Horton and Ray Null.

Preparing the pit will be Monty Mitchell, Lonnie Neeley, John Coffee, Albert Fulcher and J.B. Wade. Wood will be provided by Ronnie Hartman, Earl Patterson, Carthel Lewis,

S.A. Motsenbocker, Mr. Fulcher, Mr. Null and L.A. Davis.

The barbecue will be served by Jerry Scott, J.M. Morgan, Selba Rainey, Frank Campbell, and N.E. Childers.

Services Held Saturday for Neal Russell

Funeral services for a young Houston lawyer who was reared here, Neal Baker Russell, were conducted at 10:00 a.m. Saturday in Kelso Chapel.

Mr. Russell, 29, died in Rosewood General Hospital at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 29. He had been ill about three weeks and hospitalized 8 days.

He was the son of Mrs. Prebble Russell of Lubbock, and a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. A.V. Green.

Born in Lubbock November 10, 1941, Mr. Russell spent his childhood here, but returned to Lubbock as a youth. After he graduated from Texas Tech University, he joined an insurance firm in Houston and at the same time attended law school. After being admitted to the bar, he practiced law with a firm in that city.

He is survived by a daughter and son, Natalie Beth Russell and Gregory Neal Russell of Philadelphia, Penna.; his mother; and two brothers, Dale F. Russell of Dallas and Gary M. Russell of Lubbock.

Announcement of this was made by W.E. Marchant, gin manager.

Mr. Killian has extensive farming interests in the Fresno area and to the south of there. He has been active in affairs of the Farmers Co-op Society for a number of years and was nominated for a place on the board at the last annual meeting.

Rockets Travel to Chillicothe Friday

The Wellington Skyrockets will travel to Chillicothe Friday night, October 8, hunting their second victory of the school year. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

Coach Jim Forrester watched the Chillicothe team in its game with Grandfield Saturday night, when the Oklahomaans won 33-0. It was played in a rainstorm which shortened the game.

However, Coach Forrester was impressed with the Chillicothe boys.

"They have a real scrappy little ball club," he declared. "I would compare Chillicothe with Wellington in size and number. Some of their better players were running back Larry Bell, 170 pounder, and two tackles, Lee Tucker and Randy Perkins, who weigh 200 and 260 pounds.

They also have a good guard, Mark Nevels, a 175 pounder, who is only a freshman. I might sum it up by saying that Chillicothe looked real good to be beaten as bad as they were.

"I was impressed with Grandfield. They had an exceptional team and I would compare Grandfield with Hollis. They are about the same calibre," Coach Forrester concluded.

Injuries hit the Skyrockets during the week.

Jay Thomas stretched a ligament in one knee during the first quarter of the Memphis game. He will definitely be out of the Chillicothe game and it is not known when he can play again.

Randy Vaughan, who received a knee injury earlier still is not playing.

Denny Carter received a jaw injury in the Memphis game, but the seriousness of the injury had not been determined early this week. There are several smaller injuries, the coach said, but it is believed they will not keep any of the players out of the Friday night game.

Church Resets Revival Dates

Revival services at the Assembly of God have been postponed one week and will begin Tuesday October 12, the pastor, the Rev. John Hutson, has announced.

The revival will continue through Sunday, October 24, with the Rev. and Mrs. M. Lefkowitz of Racine, Wisconsin, in charge. Rev. Lefkowitz held a revival here a number of years ago.

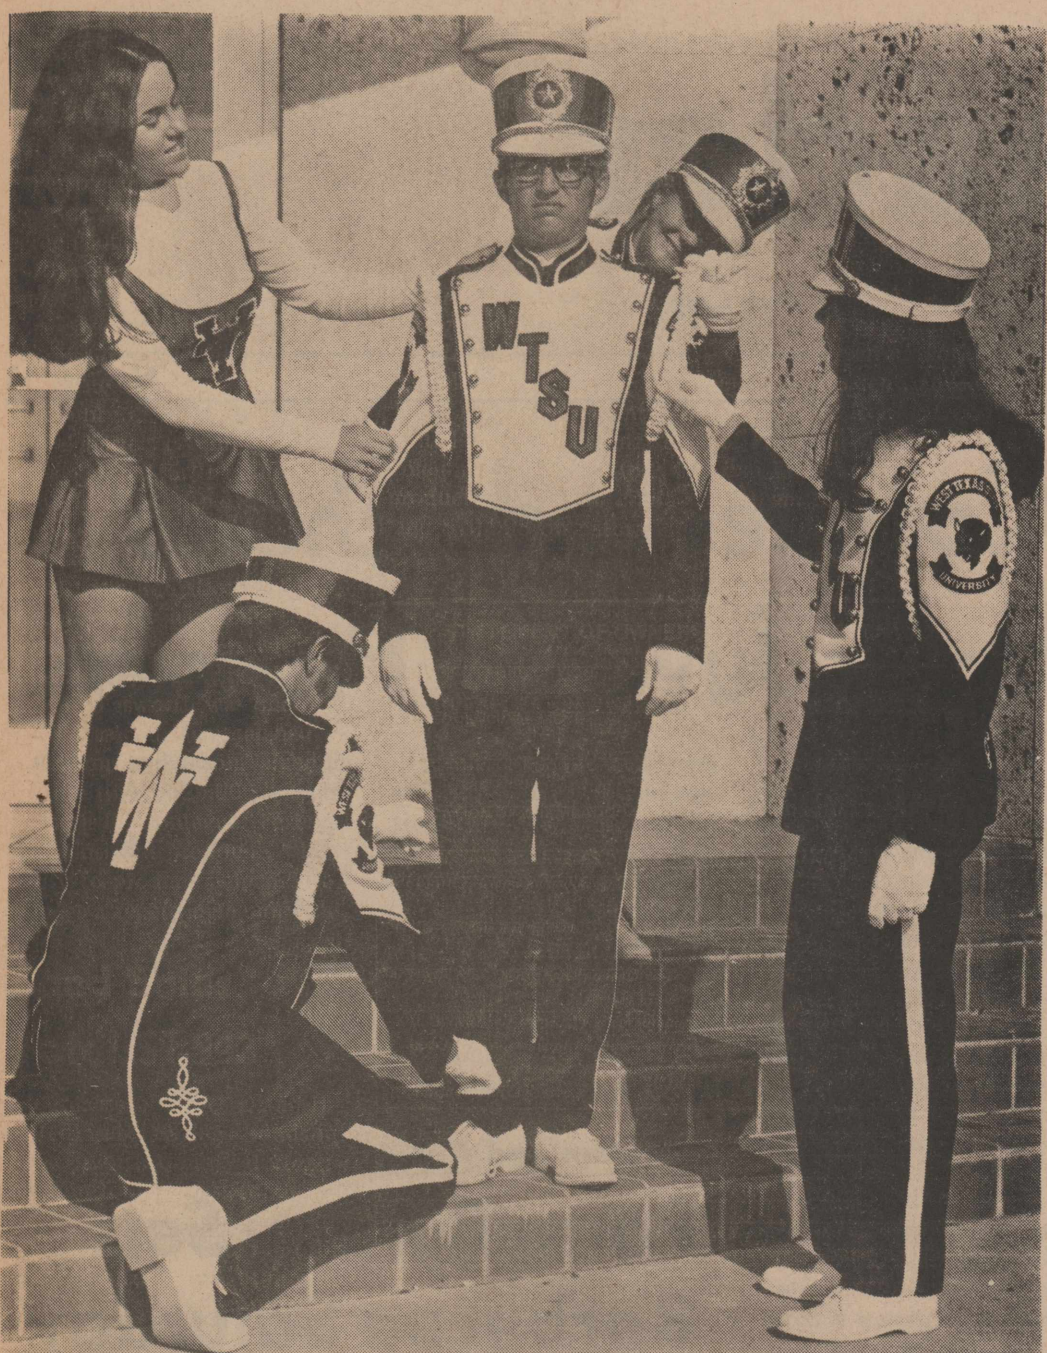

Children's services will begin at 6:45 p.m. and the evangelistic service at 7:30 p.m.

FARM TOUR BARBECUE

son Park, with the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District as host.

Oil Production Has Significant Role

Petroleum production continues to play a significant role in the economy of Collingsworth county with a direct input of $1,144,295 last year.

According to the latest compilation of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., the county in 1970 produced 59,894 barrels of crude oil valued at $946,645. It ranked 168th in value of petroleum produced.

In addition, the county received the stimulation of $143,037 in royalty payments to landowners and others with mineral interests.

"Collingsworth was one of 187 Texas counties that had petroleum production valued at more than $125,000," says Kenneth E. Montague, Texas Mid-Continent president. "Its ability to produce helped Texas meet a record demand with record production of both oil and gas in 1970. This demand has again diminished Texas petroleum reserves as additions failed to offset withdrawals. In Texas, we only drilled 8,114 wells -- the smallest number since 1946."

Texas state government benefited from the country's petroleum, receiving $9,092 in production taxes on crude oil and $70,998 on natural gas.

School Poster Contest

Fire Prevention Week Slated October 3 to 9

This week, October 3 through 9, Wellington and Collingsworth County join with the remainder of the nation in observing National Fire Prevention Week.

To emphasize the importance of observing fire prevention every week of the year, several activities were announced by Jim Sikes, chief of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department.

With Donald Settle as chairman, a fire prevention poster contest will be held in the elementary grades of Wellington School. The winners will be announced later this week and cash prizes will be awarded.

The winners will be entered in the Panhandle Fireman's contest, and the winners of that event will be judged in the contest sponsored next spring by the State Fire Marshall's Association.

The Wellington Volunteer Fire Department traditionally holds its election of officers on the second Monday of October, and this comes immediately after Fire Prevention Week, October 11.

There are 23 members. Besides Mr. Sikes current officers are David Peters, first assistant chief; Buster Hughs, second assistant chief; Mr. Settle, president; and Bill Anders, secretary.

Members of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department are J.D. Baker, Mr. Sikes, Glen Norman, Mr. Settle, Joe Christoph, Jerry Lee, Loyd Vines, Hershel Pruitt, Carroll Reynolds, Dr. Carter Holcomb, of Quitaque, sentinel.

The district advisor is Jay Eudy of Turkey.

The date for the annual leadership was set at 9:00 a.m. Saturday, November 6, at Clarendon Junior College. This event will include a large number of the contests in which the FFA teams will compete during the year.

The annual banquet will be in Memphis with the date to be announced later.

Chapters represented were those at Wellington, Quail, Samnorwood, Childress, Paducah, Memphis, Turkey, Quitaque, Lakeview, Clarendon and Estelline.

Billy Wilkerson, Alton Wilkins, Buster Hughs, John M. Brown, Leon Martin, David Peters, Billy Williams, Mr. Anders, Lynn Derryberry, Rodney Porter, Bill Isbell, Arthur Jones, and Kenneth Patterson.

These men who give of their time without pay in order that Wellington may have fire protection. During Fire Prevention Week, they remind local residents of the many fire dangers in everyday living. There is the danger of burning trash on their premises, which becomes costly to both the city and to the property owner if a fire gets out of hand.

They also point out that although fire costs more than $2.8 billion in losses last year, the most terrible cost is counted, not in dollars, but in human misery.

Fire claimed 12,200 lives in the United States last year. More than one-third of these were children. Many hundreds of fire victims are still recovering from serious and often disfiguring injuries.

Pheasant Season Looking Good in Panhandle

AUSTIN - Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists in the Texas Panhandle are predicting a good crop of pheasants by the time the hunting season rolls around Dec. 11.

July and August roadside counts conducted by department biologists showed that 54 percent of the hen pheasants had broods tagging along behind.

Biologists said each brood averaged 5.25 chicks.

In spite of scarce food last winter, birds survived in sufficient numbers to sustain a huntable reproductive crop. Biologists say the past winter was severe, with birds having to survive two blizzards, one of which sent the mercury plunging to 10 degrees below zero.

Helping Children Is Meaningful Work

WACO -- Methodist Home at Waco, Texas is indebted to the Northwest Texas town of Wellington for producing a pair of highly dedicated Homeparents -- the B.C. (Badge) Duncans.

Homeparents are a vital working part of the staff of this big home. It extends over 125 acres, has more than 30 brick buildings and is supported by Methodists across Texas and New Mexico.

But it HAS to have good Homeparents for its 350 children, and that's where the Duncans came in.

"Actually, I answered a newspaper ad. We had never been on the campus before," smiled Mrs. Duncan. Now, I simply love it here. Truly, it is the most meaningful task I have ever undertaken."

Mrs. Duncan will be well remembered by most everyone around Wellington as the hard-working, pleasant lady who taught school, grades 4, 5, 7 and 8 in Wellington for many years.

The Duncans' sons are Doug, now coaching at Seymour, and John, employed in the city tax office in Amarillo. Doug was a hard-hitting fullback for the Texas Tech Red Raiders. Both Doug and John played football in Wellington.

Father Burke Returns Home

Father Pat Bruke, Priest of Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church, recently returned from his annual vacation in Europe.

While he was away, the parish was taken care of by Fr. Ludo VanLeeuwen from Holland. The church was also visited by Father Tony Gonzalez from Plainview and Bishop DeFalco of Amarillo.

In Europe, Father Pat visited with many of his relatives and friends, finding time for a short chat with Senator Ted Kennedy during the latter's London visit.

The English priest also toured some of the war-torn areas of Northern Ireland. He was in Belfast during the tragic accidental shootings of a baby and a schoolgirl, and attended their funerals.

Tragedy also struck the Burke family early in September. A nineteen-year-old cousin of Father's dropped dead while skiing in Switzerland, where the family has a summer chalet. Father Pat flew to Switzerland to claim the body and bring it home to Blackpool, England for burial. The boy had been thinking seriously of studying for the priesthood for some time.

Father was pleasantly surprised to find it raining in Wellington, as there had been no rain in England or Ireland for three weeks prior to his return.

Wellington's only score came on a 50 yard run by Bobby Joe Shrubs in the third period. The first quarter was scoreless. Then in the second, Memphis scored on a 40 yard pass. The Skyrockets had worked the ball down to Memphis 5 yard line as the final whistle blew.

"I think we made more first downs and gained more yardage, but we were on the short end of the score, Coach Don Lacy said.

He praised play, both offensive and defensive, from Robin Maddox, Leslie Bailey, Shrubs, John Reynolds and Hubert Baker.

This is the second loss for the Rocket B team. Clarendon took the opener 50 to 28, a game that was better than the score would indicate.

The September 23 game was rained out.

Naomi Class Has Installation

The Naomi Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church met in the dining hall Thursday evening, September 23, for a pot luck supper and installation of officers for the 1971-72 church year, beginning October 1.

Mrs. W.F. Harbin, outgoing president, opened the meeting. A prayer was given by Mrs. Silas Crawford and the devotion by Mrs. Ben Wilhelm.

Mrs. Roy Collins was the installing officer. She used as her theme the class flower, the Red Rose, and the scripture, "The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose."

As each officer came forward to receive her charge for the new year, she was presented a red rose and reminded that the rose has many meanings and has been cherished through the ages.

The rose symbolizes, virtue, loveliness, victory, triumph, pride, divine love, peace, silence, and today, love and beauty, Mrs. Collins told the group.

"As you have been elected to serve in this lovely rose garden this year, may you be sensitive to the lost and seek them out for our saviour. May your attitudes always be of love and be Christ-like," she said.

Following this, Mrs. C.M. Rogers, Jr., sang "In the Garden," with Mrs. Rodney Myrick as accompanist.

Those installed were Mrs. Silas Crawford, teacher; Mrs. A.A. McQuary, assistant teacher; Mrs. Coy Vaughan, president; Mrs. Ben Wilhelm, vice president; Mrs. John Nash, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Maxwell, assistant secretary; Mrs. Ray Clubb, treasurer; and Mrs. Homer Ingram, reporter.

Group leaders are Mrs. Spurgeon Morgan, Mrs. John Brim, Mrs. Cicero Gulley and Mrs. Oran Starkey.

A discussion of the new year's work followed.

Fix-It Tip

Life will be easier if you can arrange to keep as much surplus storage items off your garage floor as possible. If the garage has a gable roof, there's usable space overhead. A floor, or even a partial floor, will hold more than you expect. Use 2x6s or 2x8s set 16 inches apart for joists.

Make as many shelves as you can on both side walls. On the back wall, you can put up shelves above the height of the car's hood.

The couple has one son, Jerry Frank Ivy of Corpus Christi. Another son, Donald Ivy, died a few years ago. There are two grandchildren, Glenda, who is Mrs. Lary Deal and teaches in Gregory-Portland High School, and Donald Ray Ivy, a student in Del Mar Tech at Corpus Christi.

Notes from Your County Home Demonstration Agent

by Mrs. Leta Hill

A CHANGING FOOD WORLD

Something totally new and different in foods is expected for the future. In fact food industries estimate that in only 10 years nearly half of the foods we'll be eating haven't been invented yet.

Most of tomorrow's foods, however, will be modifications and improvements on today's staples. Natural farm products for example, will be used as building blocks for these foods.

One innovation planned for the future is production of airtight packaged meals. Each course is sealed in disposable dishes, lithographed to look like fine china.

Foods for special age groups are particularly being studied. Orange juice without acid and cholesterol-free eggs, for example, are two food items being developed for the elderly. Other food projects underway include potato chips with crunchiness but with less fats and carbohydrates, and chewing gum with nutritional and dental value.

Increasing attention is also being paid to food packaging. Boil-in-the-bag vegetables of the 1960's are just forerunners to the "roast in the pouch" meats, casseroles and convenience foods developed in the 70's. Also on the market will be edible packages that flavor their contents. More packages will be used as serving dishes, and better package disposability will be highlights of the years to come.

SEWING FASHIONS FOR MEN

New designs with fantastic colors and great fabrics are appearing across the country on almost every man's back.

For several years, Men's fashions have been undergoing a fashion revolution. No longer do they blend into a crowd with a grey flannel suit, white shirt and black tie.

Men's fall fashions can best be described by one word—casual. The unstructured look, along with hot pants and knickers, are some of the latest items for men as well as women.

And, men's fashions have become an important phase in the home sewing explosion. Men are choosing fabrics and colors for their own unique look while women are making the men in their lives "something special."

Care-free, comfortable knit slacks are one of the more popular sewing items to make for men. You can choose a double-knit fabric of wool, cotton or polyester from the men's selections now available in piece good departments and shops.

Pattern companies are now including more selections for men. Choose slack patterns according to waist measurements. When using double-knits always select styles designed especially for knits as they have less ease, allowing for stretchable qualities of the fabric.

Miss Seale, Lonnie Needham, Jr., Marry in Home Ceremony October 1

Miss Patricia Seale and Lonnie Needham, Jr., were married in a quiet ceremony Friday, October 1, in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Needham, near Quail.

The Reverend Tommy Needham of Plainview, brother of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Seale, 1310 Haskell Street, and she was given in marriage by her father.

For the ceremony, she chose an orange street-length dress with white accessories. Her attendant was her sister, Miss Cindy Seale, who wore a light blue dress.

Johnny Needham, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

A reception followed the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and crystal appointments were used. Vickie Seale and Wanda Gosnell served the guests. Later the couple left on a short wedding trip.

The bride attended the Wellington Schools, while the bridegroom is a senior in Quail High School.

Cadettes at Area Camporee

Girl Scout Cadettes of Troop 49, Samnorwood, attended the Cadette Camporee held at the new Camp Cibola at Clarendon Friday through Sunday, October 1, 2 and 3.

There was work on ecology projects, but along with this a fun time. The camporee ended after church services Sunday.

Attending from Samnorwood were Teresa Ray, Aletha Ray, Jayne Morgan, Ida Beth Stice, Cindy Coleman, Debbie Roberts, Eugene Weldon, Ethyl Bryant and Debbie Clark. Troop leaders attending were Mrs. Douglas Coleman and Mrs. J.M. Morgan.

The girls of this Cadette troop are in the seventh grade through ninth grade in Samnorwood School.

Girls of the community have an opportunity to belong to Girls Scouts of the USA, the largest girls' organization of its kind in the free world, Mrs. Coleman pointed out.

"Girl Scouting has played a vital role in conservation and natural beauty for more than 50 years," she pointed out. "And for as long as there have been Girl Scouts, we have been listening to youth and what they have to say."

"Membership in the national organization means more than fun in troop meetings, camps and trips, the friendships formed and the skills acquired. These are obvious benefits. For their membership dues, girls are offered the chance to grow and develop into active citizens of their every-widening world as they share in all that Girl Scouting affords."

Quilt Award to 95-Year-Old

A 95-year-old former Quail woman, Mrs. H.I. Cagle of Amarillo, recently received word that a quilt she pieced after she passed her nintieth birthday won honorable mention in National Quilting Association competition at Greenbelt, Maryland. She received a gold ribbon denoting the honor.

A granddaughter, Mrs. Esdell Bittick of McLean, Va., entered the quilt, which her grandmother had given her. Mrs. Bittick is the former Linda Simmons, who also lived at Quail. Her husband is with the Department of Education.

Elaborate quilts as well as plain ones were entered in the competition and Mrs. Cagle has told her family she felt honored that her quilt was a winner.

Needle work has been a favorite occupation of Mrs. Cagle in her later years. Besides quilts, she has made dolls, stuffed toys, boys caps, pin-cushions, embroidered articles, throw pillows and other items which she has distributed among relatives and friends. These are scattered through Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico, New Jersey, and in Anchorage, Alaska and Peru, South America.

Mrs. Cagle was most active and alert for a person of her age until June, shortly after her 95th birthday when all her children were with her. She was seriously ill during July but is now convalescing at her home, 4400 Travis, Amarillo, with her daughter, Miss Daisy Cagle.

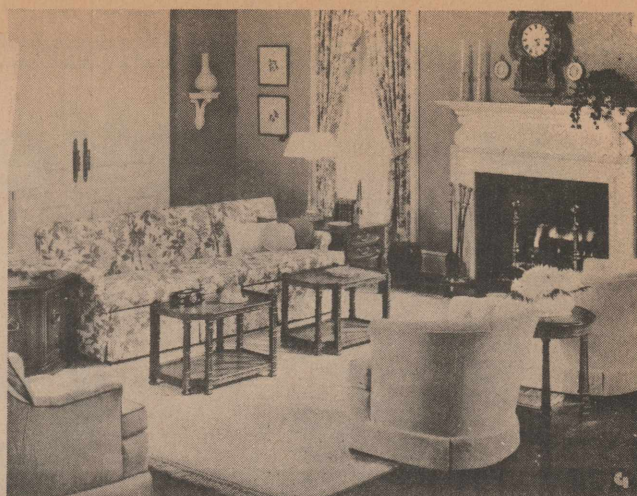

Despite this illness, Mrs. Cagle continues to have a keen interest in her family and friends, and a desire to carry on her work.

Volunteer Firemen Keep Fire Losses from Going Higher

Over the years, Wellington's spectacular fires have been few in comparison with those in some other towns, and this is due in a large measure to the efficiency and the dedication with which the men of the Volunteer Fire Department carry out their work.

These 23 men, some young, others veteran firemen, deserve a special word of commendation in National Fire Prevention Week, which we are now observing, although this recognition should go year around.

Firemen of all the towns of this area are volunteers, and every time they fight a fire they are taking time from their businesses and their jobs.

We have only to remember our last large fire, in the spring, when it was the work of these volunteers from Wellington and other area towns that contained the blaze. It is not difficult to imagine how much of our business section could have been wiped out on that windy afternoon had it not been for these men.

In the final analysis, the big responsibility for fire prevention rests with each of us, around our homes, where most fires in this area occur, and our businesses. We know the rules of fire prevention. It is in practicing them that we sometimes fail.

Other Editors Say . . .

Better Than an Industry

A full-page ad appeared in the Borger News-Herald on August 29 promoting Frank Phillips College.

"We talk of more industry for Borger," read the caption. "Look at these facts."

The college has an enrollment of 700 of which 500 are local students and 200 are out of town.

It is estimated that each student living in Borger, even those who live at home, will contribute $1,800 to the buying power of the community. Borger figures that these 700 students contribute $1,260,000 yearly to her buying power.

The State of Texas pays Borger $625 for each full time student. This adds another $437,500.

Frank Phillips College payroll is another $425,000 a year.

Frank Phillips College employs about 65 people who own homes, pay taxes.

Frank Phillips spends about $100,000 per year for goods and services in Borger.

Then it points out that Borger Junior College District invests about $300,000 per year in the college . . . and it invites industrial-minded Borgans to compare the returns on this investment with other investments.—H. M. Baggary in The Tulia Herald.

Canines Come Home

The 1,400 dogs trained and sent to Vietnam are also coming home. Only, they will not be discharged. They will be retrained. They will be trained to detect all kinds of drugs. For them the new enemy will be the drug runner and distributor who prey on addicts.

--The Lexington (Mo.) Advertiser-News.

Sweetie Pie

"Is company coming, or did you dent the fender again?"

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Gov. Preston Smith and the State Comptroller's office hold different views on timing of a special session of the Legislature to pass the second half of the 1972-73 budget.

Smith apparently wants to wait until next June -- when primary elections are over and a longer-range look at possible tax revenue is available.

Comptroller's aides voiced concern that a session delayed that long could not produce needed new revenue by September 1, start of the state's fiscal year. A sales tax increase for example, in April would not produce money to the state from merchants until the end of July or early August.

Smith was unimpressed: "He (Comptroller Robert S. Calvert) is not the governor," Smith noted.

Smith's veto of the second year of the biennial spending bill necessitates a complete rewrite in special session sometime within the next year. A special session would have been required, anyway, since the 1971 Legislature did not pass a 1973 welfare appropriation.

"The people are not too anxious to have the legislature in special session," Smith said.

"The longer we can delay, the better position we will be in for the Comptroller to give an accurate revenue estimate (for the next year) and to determine revenue needs of the state."

The Governor indicated strongly, however, that if a special session is necessary to redistrict the House of Representatives, budgeting and reappropriation probably will be considered at the same time. He controls the timing and subject matter of special sessions.

"If we can get by with one special session, we sure don't want to have two," Smith said.

COURT REVIEWS DISTRICTS TANGLE -- The State Supreme Court heard a barrage of conflicting arguments as to what should be done about House of Representatives redistricting.

All of these views went before the High Court:

* That it should order a five-member Legislative Redistricting Board to perform "its constitutional duty" and reapportion the House in line with the 1970 census.

* That it should prohibit the Board from reapportioning either House or Senate on grounds that the new census has not been completely published and that redistricting thus should be delayed until 1973.

* That 150 single-member districts are not required as long as they do not cause discrimination against any group.

LAND BIDS TAKEN -- Bonus bids totaling nearly $4.8 million were paid for oil and gas leases on 68,867 acres of University of Texas land at public auction last week.

Bids brought the Permanent University Fund to a record of $579.8 million. Average $69.26 per acre price was the highest the University has received at lease auctions since 1965. Highest bidders for a single tract were Allied Chemical Corporation and Champlin Petroleum Company in a joint offer of $260,000 for a 320-acre tract in Ward County. If oil or gas production is realized, the permanent University Fund will receive a one-sixth royalty payment in addition to the bonus bid.

The School Land Board will meet October 5 to consider a rule regulating the use of water on State-owned land under oil and gas leases.

VERNON SITE SELECTED-- Vernon Center South was selected by the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation as the site for the state's first comprehensive treatment and rehabilitation center for hard core, juvenile drug addicts.

The drug center will contain facilities for housing, educating, treating and training about 350 juveniles 14-21 years of age.

A Lot of Ground to Cover

CARS IMPORTANT TO TEXAS TOWNS -- About 2,600 Texas communities have no other mode of transportation available other than highways, Texas Highway Commission Chairman DeWitt C. Greer noted in a recent speech.

While the population of the state has increased an average of 162,000 a year for the last decade, Greer pointed out that motor vehicle registrations jumped by 284,000 last year. Unless the highway system is continually expanded and modernized, warned Greer, Texas will face a "crisis in mobility."

SHORT SNORTS

Texas motor vehicle registrations topped $7.5 million mark for first time during registration year which ended March 31. Figure was 7,515, 053, plus 120,295 exempt registrations.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert announced he will not be a candidate for re-election next year, and Associate Justice Joe Greenhill said he will seek the chief justice's post.

Texas Research League will make a new study of major alternatives in state-local financing of public school education.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has available for distribution a new 40-page magazine-size bulletin on "Freshwater Fishes of Texas."

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert is requiring certification on every state voucher that the purchase is in compliance with the wage-price freeze -- in spite of some protests.

Hunter participation in the white-winged dove hunts in the Lower Rio Grande Valley was said to be the lowest in years due to Hurricane Fern.

AG OPINIONS -- A state agency which prior to the presidential wage-price freeze order paid insurance premiums for individual employees in excess of $12.50 a month can continue to do so, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held in a recent opinion.

Newly-employed persons are entitled to the same coverage provided prior to August 15 freeze for other employees similarly situated, Martin said.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where Big Labor is demanding that if wages are going to be restrained from skyrocketing, there must be laws also to hold down business profits.

Which shows that labor bosses think employer types are more public-spirited than workers and would not go on strike and quit creating jobs if their pay is cut.

And they may be right. Us employee class demanded and got Minimum Wage Law for ourselves, but the enterpriser class like General Motors and the corner drug store have not yet politicked for a Minimum Profit Law.

Admiral Rickover says the Russians are building a super navy which soon will be, if it isn't already, able to cut the U.S. off from the rest of the world.

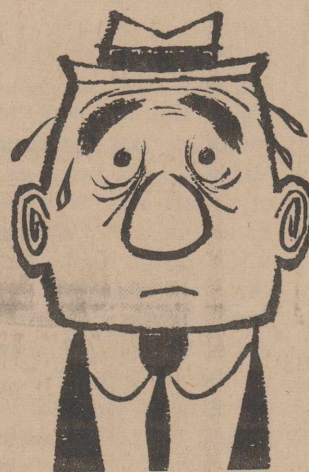

Which my world expert neighbor says would put us on our knees in a hurry because we have bought cheap electronic gear and clocks and watches from foreigners so long that we have very few factories and craftsmen left to produce same at home.

And we sure couldn't survive for long, not being able to tell if it's time for Flip Wilson and Gunsmoke, nor having TV sets to watch them on.

Memphis Wins Over Skyrockets Oct. 1

Wellington's fighting Skyrockets played brilliant football during the first half of the game against the Memphis Cyclones last Friday only to see their lead whittled away by injuries and the battering of the heavier Memphis team. The Final score was Memphis 47 and Wellington 14.

Wellington played smooth football to take an early lead and still led 14 to 12 at the half.

Memphis kick off to the 15 yard line and Louis Gonzales brought the ball back to the Wellington 29. Oney made a short gain through the line and Jay Thomas picked up three more. On third down Denny Carter passed to Bruce Oney who carried to the Cyclone 35 yard line only to have the play called back for illegal motion. Carter called the identical play a second time and this time Oney took it on the Memphis 45. Gonzales made 9 yards on a burst through the line and on the next play the Rockets fumbled but managed to recover the ball about midfield.

On the next play Jay Thomas went to the left on what appeared to be an off tackle slant and then finding a little open room due to some excellent Rocket Blocking did some brilliant blocking field running to go 60 yards and the first Wellington touchdown. The try for 2 points failed and the score was 6 to 0 early in the first quarter.

Hodges kicked deep to the Cyclone 20 where Jim Dixon took the ball and brought it back to his own 38 before being brought down by Denny Carter. Memphis made two good gains of 3 yards and 4 yards. With 3 to go on third down the Cyclone fumbled the ball which was recovered by Randall Hodges back on the Memphis 38 where the Rockets took over.

Oney made 2 yards and Gonzales picked up 5. On the third down Carter passed to Ronnie Pennon who made a beautiful catch on the Cyclone 45 and was stopped as he came down. Gonzales picked up 4 yards and Carter made 3 on a keeper. A pass from Carter to Thomas was good for about 20 yards and he threaded his way through the Memphis secondary for Wellington's second touchdown with the try for two points

Eighth Grade Has 36-0 Win Over Memphis

Wellington Eighth Grade Firecrackers shut out the Memphis Eighth grade 36-0 in a game played at Powell Field Thursday night, September 30. The entire team saw lots of action, with the second team playing most of the game.

Wellington's scoring was distributed evenly among the offensive backs and ends, Coach Carroll Nunnelle reported, with Wellington leading 28-0 at half time. The final 8 points were scored in the third quarter, and the last period was a stand-off.

End Neal Cochran opened the scoring with a 25 yard pass from George Brewer and the extra point was good on a pass from Brewer to End Edward Thomas.

Halfback Richard Sims then scored on an off-tackle run of 7 yards, but the try for the point after touchdown failed.

Next, Brewer scored from two yards out on a quarterback run, but the try for extra points failed again.

Fullback Paul Hanna scored on an end run from 30 yards out, and the extra point was good on a pass from Brewer to Halfback Randall Sims.

The last score came when Randall Sims took a pass from Brewer and Fullback Bobby Cantu ran off-tackle for the extra point.

"Once again our defense was led by out-standing play from Ends Neal Cochran and Victor Aguirre, Tackles David Null and Cameron Moore, Center Jackie Black, Linebackers Paul Hanna, Mickey Vassey, Edward Thomas and Sammy Gonzales, and Halfbacks George Brewer and Randall Sims.

being good making the score 14 to 0.

On the next series of plays the Cyclone was held on downs and was forced to punt. Still playing smooth ball, Wellington made three first downs in a row; but it was at this point they received the most crippling blow of the evening. Jay Thomas was smacked down as he drove through the line and four or five Memphis players piled on. Thomas suffered torn ligaments in his knee and was helped from the field.

With Thomas out of the game Memphis was able to concentrate more on the Rocket passing attack and Wellington was forced to punt. With hard running by Louis Davis and Tommy Johnson the Cyclone picked up their first 1st down of the game; but they made three more in a row to go over for a touchdown. Randall Hodges blocked their try for extra points.

Immediately after the first Memphis score, Wellington had a good drive going and picked up a first down only to lose the ball on a fumble and turn over and Memphis made two first downs and scored on a pass just before the half ended.

A rested Wellington team came back at the start of the second half and drove down the field near scoring distance only to have their drive halted first by a 5 yard penalty and then a 15 yard penalty for holding.

Memphis took the punt on their own 28. Johnson made 7 yards and then came the first heartbreaker as Louis Davis broke loose and went all the way to make the score 18 to 14.

Memphis next touchdown was another 65 yard scamper by Johnson and this continued to be the pattern as the Cyclones continued to batter the injured boys from Wellington.

The Rockets continued to fight gamely and made four 1st downs in the third period; but they were no match for the heavier boys from Memphis.

All the Wellington line did some terrific playing. Pennon, Long, Hunter, Henard, Wilbur, and Taylor all played well. Trinidad Cantu was perhaps the outstanding linesman of the game making 7 individual stops in the second half.

With so many injuries, players who had not seen much action in other games played much more than usual. Mike Williams performed well in returning punts and on defense Gary Wright, 150 lbs., saved a touchdown as he went across the field to bring down the long striding Johnson who had broken loose; but it did not affect the final score for Memphis scored three plays later.

Memphis had 5 players who were well over 200 pounds, with weights of 211, 215, 227, 235, and 240 and their backs had weight and speed.

Dove Season Remains Poor

This has been one of the poorer dove seasons of recent years, and quail prospects are no better, Werner Farr, officer of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, has indicated.

Mr. Farr, stationed at Wheeler, said the summer drouth and heat cut deeply into the game bird numbers in this area, and rains that followed have scattered them.

Turkey prospects also are poor, he said.

Mr. Farr reminded that Dove season ends October 29.

ON WASHINGTON FLY-IN

These Southeast Panhandle Farmers Union members were on a Fly-in to Washington in behalf of farm bargaining legislation. From left, they are Carroll Langley of Wheeler County, W. R. Breeding, National FU vice-president Christianson, Doug Seal and Dudley Phipps.

FU Members with Washington Fly-in Three members of the Collingsworth County Farmers Union were among the 125 farmers who returned Thursday from Washington on a "fly-in." They were W.R. Breeding, District 1 director; Doug Seal and Dudley Phipps.

They were there to attend a hearing on the Sisk Bargaining Bill (HR 7597) and to back FU president Tony Dechant as he testified before the House Subcommittee on Domestic Marketing and Consumer Relations.

The Farmers Union holds that the Sisk Bargaining Bill is too weak. Instead, it is backing strong bargaining legislation along the lines of bills introduced by Congressman Bob Bergland (Minn.) and Senator Walter Mondale (Minn.). They claim this is a necessity if the farmers are to bargain effectively for better prices and other conditions of the sale of their products.

One bill (HR 8886) is the National Agricultural Bargaining Act and would establish a National Agricultural Relations Board to facilitate bargaining between farmers and handlers. The other (HR 8887) is the National Agricultural Marketing Act and would

Junior High to Play Childress There Thursday

Wellington Junior High teams will travel to Childress Thursday, October 7, to meet the strong 8th and 7th grade teams from that school.

The seventh grade will play at 6:00 p.m. and the eighth grade at 7:00 p.m.

"I look for a good hard game with Childress this week," declared Coach Carroll Nunnelle. "We hope our defense will again be strong and let our offense put some points on the scoreboard."

"I was impressed with the improvement shown both offensively and defensively from the first ball game," he continued. "I feel the team is getting stronger each week. There are probably more strong 8th grade teams this year than there have been in several years from the towns we will be playing."

Quanah was defeated by Childress 20-6, Coach Nunnelle explained, then Quanah beat Shamrock 28-14. Shamrock defeated Clarendon 12-6, but Clarendon edged Wellington 6-0 in the first game.

"Childress has one of the strongest 8th grade teams I've seen in several years. They are undefeated thus far this season, having won over both Quanah and Vernon.

establish a bargaining procedure under the federal market order system along lines already established for milk.

The Collingsworth Group also met with Texas Congressmen, including Bob Price, W.R. Poage, Graham Purcell and George Mahon. On Wednesday they attended a breakfast with other congressmen at which Senator Hubert Humphrey was the speaker.

FOLK TALES

and Bits of Collingsworth County History
by Nora Cocke Drake

* "Explain how the sun runs your watch."

Now that is a nice terse problem! It is the ONE and ONLY question given on a final written examination in physics once upon a time -- on the college level. There is an equally 'to the point' answer which the professor had in mind: "The sun is the source of all energy." We rambled all around in a long sequence of thoughts to show that man himself could not exist without plant food and that plants could not exist without the sun; hence no plants no man, no man no watch! This ramble did get the required grade points in the course but still, after forty years, the question recurs to our mind. Today, when cleaning the earth worms and snails off the door sill, was one of those times!

* Now here we go rambling again, not for a passing grade, just thinking --, wondering if the sun really is the source of all energy or whether nuclear fission has changed that concept!!!! One never really gets through learning!

* Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood of Sudan have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wood this week --; making merry, making good chile, making fun talk. All six of these folk are honor graduates of the "Wood's Weaning Pen" and a fine technical school it was!

* The boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Wood, owned and taught this fine school. It was located on the "Old Dysart Place" in the Fresno community just across the road from the Wood's home. It was a two year course. Each son and his bride became eligible for two years of resident "on the job" schooling as a wedding gift. They really worked their way through that school!

* There were seven boys in this family. Jack, the youngest, and Polly (Isaacs) Wood is the only couple who did not school in this "Weaning Pen". Jack did not particularly like farming; besides, Uncle Sam was rather insistant upon schooling him immediately so he and Polly went into army training. The other six couples who did school there in agriculture and went on to become fine farmers include:

Ernest (deceased) and Effie (Culwell) Wood of Littlefield, Odie and O.D. (Richardson) Wood of Earh, Jim and Ruby (Crawley) Wood of Wellington, Ray and Mabel (Williams) Wood of Sudan, Tom and Maureen (Williams) Wood and Woodrow and Ellen Mae (Williams) Wood of Wellington. (None of these Williams girls were any kin.) Each of these six couples had their first child while living in the "Weaning Pen".

* There was a big mulberry tree near the house on this old R.A. Dysart place. The Wood boys used to drive their farm equipment under it and the story is told that it was under this tree that the pioneer families gathered to organize Fresno's Methodist Church. Some of these pioneers had belonged to other denominations before coming to Collingsworth County. Some were Episcopalian, some were Presbyterian, some Methodist. They voted to see what denomination they should unite and organize; together they stood.

Protect Your Farm From

During Fire Prevention Week, we recognize and commend the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department on its splendid rural coverage. We believe no county in the Panhandle has better rural fire protection than Collingsworth . . . But because of distances the truck must travel, losses can be heavy.

Electricity is for your convenience. It is your hired hand. In many ways, it is a source of fire prevention, and fire protection on the farms of Collingsworth.

Dr. Green Studies Underground "Rain"

EDMOND-To Dr. Donald Green, assistant professor of history at Central State University, the word "ecology" is nothing new. He has been studying the effect of water - or more specifically the lack of it - on the Texas High Plains for some time.

You might say it began as a research project for his doctoral dissertation at the University of Oklahoma but more than likely it started when he was a boy - born and raised on a ranch in West Texas.

"As a child I helped my dad install an irrigation system," Green explains. "I understand the farmer because I, too, come from that background. But because of my academic training I can look at the problems in a more objective manner. I can approach the subject from the academic viewpoint."

Green received a $400 grant from Central State to research the history of irrigation in the Texas High Plains during the 1960's.

"I was interested in bringing the story up to the present," Green explained. His doctoral research had centered on the Texas irrigation problem prior to the '60's.

Rocket-Bobcat B Teams Meet Here Thursday

The Skyrocket B team will take the home spotlight Thursday, October 7, when they host the strong Clarendon Bobcat B team. The game will be at Powell field beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Wellington boys are still looking for their first victory. "We expect them to have a real strong team, as they had a strong junior high team last year," said Coach Don Lacy. The Bobcat B record is not available here, but they are known to have put together one of the better teams in that category in District 2-AA.

Wellington opened with a 50-28 loss to Clarendon, had the second game rained out, and then were about to tie Memphis when the 12-6 game ended.

Hughs Completes Study in Dallas

Mike Hughs received his diploma from Bell and Howell Electronics School in Dallas, upon completion of an 18-month course.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Hughs and was graduated from Wellington High School. He also attended West Texas State University.

His wife, Marsha, a WT graduate, is teaching in the Dallas Schools this year, teaching seventh grade math in the new Hulsey Junior High. Mrs. Hughs is the daughter of Harold Elbert and Mrs. C.W. Roussier of Kress.

Men in Service

Stanford Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny V. Brown of Amarillo, has been visiting relatives while home on leave. He spent two months basic training at Fort Polk, La. and two months at Fort Gordon, Georgia. He is on his way to Korea. While here he visited his grandfather, G.H. Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. John Barton, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bearden, Mary and Connie.

CT-3 J.D. Gibbons, U.S. Navy, has completed an advanced school at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Florida, and has reached his new assignment on Guam. He will be there a year and a half. Immediately prior to going to Florida, he was stationed on Okinawa.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Turner and Mrs. Nannie Gibbons.

DR. DONALD GREEN

"I wanted to see what adjustment farmers began making and continued making during the '60's," he commented. "I studied the total economic impact irrigation had on the region."

Available ground water in the area is declining due to "very little interest in ecology," according to Green.

"They think in terms of 'this year' not the future," he explained.

In 1969 there were 60,000 irrigation wells in a five and one-half million acre area. This is one of the largest irrigated areas in the world today, Green stressed.

Although many solutions have been suggested, finances and public disinterest have stymied most attempts to rectify the water shortage.

Green estimates that, at the present rate of water usage, by 1980 only one-half of the land will be under irrigation and by 2000 irrigation just won't exist in the Texas High Plains.

Collectively, the people in this area could do something, Green said, but there is no individual effort except in areas where people are actually hurting.

"It could have been a different story, but the people just don't believe that the water supply could be exhausted," he explained.

The answer lies in the trend toward more livestock production, Green believes. There will be more emphasis on livestock than ever before, he predicts. "Livestock doesn't depend on irrigation."

This is just one example of what will happen if we exploit our natural resources with no look to the future, Green emphasized.

Green plans to have his research published in book form by the University of Texas Press sometime next year. Titled Land of the Underground Rain: A History of the Irrigation Frontier on the Texas High Plains, the book will contain a revision of his dissertation as well as the more recent research materials.

The research was funded by a grant from CSU. Review of the projects and disbursements of the fund are handled by the Office of Research and Basic Research Committee.

The research program was created to encourage and support faculty and students in research activities designed to provide solutions to identified problems.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

THE MOST important item facing the people of Collingsworth County is the matter of continuing the hospital in Wellington. Many thoughtful people believe that the first step of a practical solution is to present a petition to the Commissioner's Court asking that a hospital district be created for the county. The other steps could follow in a logical manner.

GROUNDWORK for a hospital district was laid several years ago when N.M. Higdon and others went to Austin and secured the passage of enabling legislation which would enable this county to form a hospital district. The people will have to vote on the measure if the district is to become a reality.

* * *
NIXON'S 10% increase of the tax on imports should help the drain on the American dollar and a faltering manufacturing industry; but it distinctly will not help the export of agricultural products. It comes just at the time when there was hope for increased sales of farm goods to other nations. Due to the poor grain crops in Europe the U.S. export of wheat and livestock grains was expected to make further gains in 1971.

* * *
COTTON SHIPMENTS nearly doubled just to mention one cash crop that is most important to our economy. On the other hand poultry exports kept on dropping not because of the efficiency of the U.S. producers but because of the tariff fences erected in Europe to protect their own poultry growers. Thus far there has been no retaliation that would effect cotton or grain sorghum and agricultural leaders are hoping that there will be none.

* * *
SINCE MUCH of the harvest of our cotton crop and part of the maize will depend upon the date of the first frost. If it comes earlier than usual it will be costly and if it is a few weeks later it will be a blessing.

* * *
MRS. ROB ISBELL asked me if we had been charging the Library for a subscription in other years and I told her we were charging for both the county and school libraries. The reason is the action of the Postal Department. They have been checking the subscription records of weekly newspapers and making them pay back postage on free subscriptions. This even includes free papers to men in Vietnam. One weekly newspaper was forced to pay $1,700 in back postage. There has been a difference in the postage for paid subscriptions and free subscriptions for years, but they are cracking down on it now. As a result weekly papers have adopted a policy of no free circulation.

* * *
POSTAL RULES and regulations are not the only Federal actions a weekly paper has to watch these days. Now they have a bill that would affect advertising for candidates for federal offices. It is called a bill to limit campaign spending. It does nothing of the sort. It will allow candidates for federal office 10¢ per eligible voter. TV and radio can receive 5¢ of this and newspapers and billboards can receive the other 5¢. None of the other campaign expenditures are controlled.

TRUETT HOLLAND wants to know if Oklahoma will not be too much for Texas when they meet next Saturday in the Cotton Bowl. Even if Texas could be at its peak it still could be Oklahoma's day for their record to date is as awesome as that of Nebraska. As it is Phillips, Mauldin, Moore, and other key men are definitely on the injured list. This is not Darrel Royal propaganda. Considering their potential the Longhorns are in the worst shape for the Sooners

A court appointed attorney to represent the child. (In the past the juvenile's family could waive the services of an attorney. This is no longer true, although the family may also retain an attorney to represent the child.)

A court reporter to record the proceedings of the juvenile case. (At present tape recorders which record clearly enough that all proceedings can be understood when the tape is played back are being accepted.)

agency would have been reimbursed at the rate of 10 cents per mile for 3,800 miles on each of the vehicles the city and county owns which is used in law enforcement work.)

The outlay the second year would have been smaller, yet the total funding of the program was set in the application at $143,816, with $82,975 of this to be provided by the Criminal Justice Council and $60,841 by the sponsor in money and "in kind".

At the end of the two-year program, the equipment installed, including all radio equipment would have become the property of the city and county.

With the rejection of the combined program by the city, the county's law enforcement body now consists of Sheriff John Rainey, Deputy Alvin Minatrea, and Assistant police chief Junior Owens.

The city's agreement to pay the salary of a second deputy, N.E. Childers, has been terminated. This went into effect after Police Chief Donald Nunneley resigned to move to Amarillo.

Mr. Owens status in a combined program has been one on which the city expressed concern from the time it was proposed. In order to maintain the city's fire insurance rate, he must patrol the fire zone and punch a time clock every hour. This is a legal requirement. It does, however, limit his work to within the city.

Minutes of the order passed by the City Council had not been written Tuesday, October 5, and Mayor John Coleman could not be reached, as he is attending the annual convention of the Texas League of Municipalities in Houston.

U.S. National Debt
Although the U.S. national debt has never been actually liquidated, the Treasury had sufficient funds in 1835-36, during President Andrew Jackson's second term, to meet all outstanding indebtedness.
