

Heated Battles Rage In Korea Ground Warfare

SEOUL, Friday, June 13 (AP)—Allied infantry and tanks Thursday seized a hill on the Western Front in some of the hottest fighting this year.

The hill west of Chorwon was captured after a 14-hour battle during which Allied warplanes splashed flaming jellied gasoline across the Chinese position.

In another fierce action about a mile to the west, Allied troops flushed dug-in Chinese from their bunkers with flame-throwers.

Some tanks rumbling into action in support of the infantry ran into Red mine fields and were disabled. Retriever tanks pulled them back to safety, a front line officer said.

The stepped-up fighting broke out Saturday around Chorwon, 48 miles north of Seoul, when U.N. infantrymen captured two high points. The Reds have tried unsuccessfully every day since to knock the Allies back.

The officer said fighter bombers strafed, bombed and fire-bombed Chinese positions on the hills throughout the morning and carried their attack into the afternoon.

Both sides used tanks or self-propelled guns, artillery and mortars.

No court was given, but Allied authorities said hundreds of Reds had been killed and wounded in the six days of vicious fighting around Chorwon.

There was no indication that the flareup was a curtain-raiser to a head offensive, threatened repeatedly by Communist negotiators at the Panmunjom truce talks.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force says its aerial spotters have found no indication of a Red buildup but cautioned that the Communists are good at camouflage and concealment.

Both sides continued heavier attacks and probes at other spots along the 155-mile battlefield.

The U.S. Eighth Army said Allied defenders repulsed nine probes on the Eastern Front by about 10 Red platoons, some 350 men.

Ex-Lobbyist Called To McCarthy Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating charges by Sen. Benton (D-Conn.) against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) called Russell M. Arundel of Washington, D.C., and Warrenton, Va., for closed-door questioning today.

Previous testimony has brought out that Arundel, formerly registered with the Senate as a lobbyist, endorsed a $20,000 note signed by McCarthy in obtaining a 1947 loan from the Appleton, Wis., State Bank.

A Senate Rules Subcommittee touched on the loan and other financial matters during a public hearing a month ago on one of Benton's charges in support of his resolution looking toward McCarthy's expulsion from the Senate.

The hearing was concerned with Benton's charge that McCarthy "grossly violated" senatorial ethics in accepting $10,000 in 1948 from the Lustron Prefabricated Housing Corp. for an article on housing.

McCarthy has contended his acceptance of the fee was entirely proper. He said he performed a public service in writing the ar-

Reds Still Adamant Over Prisoner Issue

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The chief Communist Korean truce negotiator softened his denunciation of the Allies today, but remained unyielding on the prisoner exchange issue—last obstacle to an armistice.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, head U.N. negotiator, told newsmen he attached no significance to North Korean Gen. Nam Il's omission of any mention of the notorious Allied prisoner camps on Koje Island.

Harrison told the Reds during a 30-minute meeting at Panmunjom that "no further concessions will be forthcoming" on the April 28 Allied prisoner proposal. Another Red-demanded session was set for 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. Thursday EST).

The U.N. is unwilling to force repatriation of some 100,000 internees who have indicated they won't rejoin the Reds voluntarily. The Communists insist on return of all 169,000 Allied-held personnel.

Despite his moderate tone, Nam continued to charge the Allied stand on prisoners violated the Geneva Convention and "widened the breach" of disagreement over prisoner exchange.

He didn't use his usual terms of "slaughter" and "murder" to describe Allied treatment of prisoners.

The April 28 plan dropped Allied insistence on a ban on the reconstruction of airfields and eliminated Russia as a neutral armistice inspector.

Harrison ended his statement, saying: "If you are ready to accept our proposal today let us turn over to the liaison officers the final preparation of the armistice agreement; otherwise, I suggest a recess until you desire to meet again."

The U.N. spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said Harrison's statement was not an effort to turn the "whole unresolved problem" back to liaison officers.

Nam turned down the offer for a recess and asked for tomorrow's meeting. Harrison replied: "At every meeting you beg for a meeting on the following day. When we meet you have nothing to say that you have not said before. You are making no progress toward an armistice. Why you want to meet every day is difficult to understand. But, since it seems to be necessary to you, I agree."

Health Unit To Add Inspector

Possibility of adding a sanitation inspector to the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit staff by July 1 was reported Thursday by Lige Fox, sanitarian for the unit.

Fox said an inspector in Central Texas has applied for the position and is due in Big Spring or Midland this week for an interview with Dr. Charles A. Ford, director for the Ector-Midland-Howard Health Unit.

If the applicant accepts the position, he probably will be available for duty in about two weeks, Fox said. The inspector has some two years experience with a health department in a Central Texas town. If employed here he will become assistant Fox, filling a position made possible this year by an enlarged health unit budget.

Who Sent In That False Report On Enemy Aircraft?

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Maj. Charles Barr of the Albany Air Defense Filter Center would like to know who phoned in that false report on "enemy aircraft."

A woman's voice yesterday told a sub-jury warning center in the area: "This is Albany calling. Enemy aircraft has been sighted over Canada."

Barr said "We have checked all the way through and the Eastern Air Defense Command has informed us that all aircraft in the United States and Canada are accounted for."

W. E. Scripps, Detroit News Publisher, Dies

DETROIT, June 12 (AP)—William E. Scripps, 70, president of the Evening News Association and publisher of the Detroit News, died this morning at his Lake Orion country estate.

He became president and publisher of the News in 1929, succeeding the late George G. Booth.

Scripps was a widely known sportsman and recognized breeder of Aberdeen Angus cattle.

He also founded the Scripps Motor Co. which later became one of the nation's larger marine engine manufacturers.

His interest in aviation led to the establishment of the first newspaper aerial news coverage. Under Scripps' direction, News-owned planes flew over 45,000 miles in the first year of the service's operation.

Scripps began his newspaper career on the news at the age of 14 in 1896 under the guidance of his father, the late James E. Scripps. His wife Nina, said Scripps died of a heart ailment brought on by a prolonged respiratory disease.

Mrs. Scripps, two sons, Robert Warren, and William John, and a daughter, Mrs. Richard Spitzly, all of Detroit, were at his bedside when Scripps died.

Some tribes of Mexican Indians once believed they were descended from trees.

Mexican Consul Refused Service At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, June 12 (AP)—The Mexican consul general of San Antonio and two business men say they were refused service at a Boerne, Tex., cafe yesterday because they were Mexicans.

The owner of the cafe replied they had raised a disturbance.

Consul Gen. Cosme Hinojosa said he would report the incident to his superiors in Washington and Mexico City and to Gov. Allan Shivers.

Those with him were Raul A. Cortez, San Antonio radio executive, and Armando Reed, an insurance man.

Charles O. Grimsley, owner of the cafe, replied: "The man raised a disturbance and set a bottle of whisky on the bar. You can't do that, but they got nasty and smart. We've had trouble here with some tough ones and they managed to close me up."

Reich Archbishop Succumbs Today

MUNICH, Germany, June 12 (AP)—Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber, 83, archbishop of Munich and Freising and dean of the German Roman Catholic clergy, died today.

His death reduced the number in the College of Cardinals to 46. The full strength is 70.

Cardinal Faulhaber, a vigorous defender of the church from the encroachments of both Nazism and Communism, died at his residence while thousands of Munich citizens marched in a big Corpus Christi Day procession.

once. We've also had some mighty nice Mexicans in here and we always serve them. I have witnesses."

Cortez gave this account: "The men seated themselves and started conversing in Spanish. A man who appeared to be the cafe janitor told them the place did not serve Spanish-speaking persons."

"The consul asked why and I asked for the manager. 'A man came in from the kitchen and said he did not serve Mexicans.'"

The group questioned the owner until they were certain they were being denied service on purely racial grounds.

Cortez quoted the owner as saying: "I serve even white trash in my place, but no Mexicans."

Cortez, past national president of the League of United Latin-American Citizens, said he would ask the organization to make a full-scale investigation.

DESIGNING WOMAN

For Modest Beginning Use Smart Casual Furniture

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

The bride who buys her first furniture today is in luck. So much of the smartest furniture is casual and right for modest beginnings, many pieces are designed to serve more than one purpose, many more to fit into the next larger home as well as the first, and one room as well as another.

For wise buying, comfort should come first. Then convenience and adaptability. Here are pieces that fit a good buying plan:

- Two comfortable lounge chairs. Until there are two completely comfortable spots for young marrieds to settle down into for long evenings, home isn't yet the deeply satisfying place it should be. Each chair should be chosen for its perfect fit to the individual regardless of whether or not the chairs match.
- Good quality mattresses and springs. While these are not classed as furniture, they are important in furniture investment. They must insure the restful sleep that occupies one-third of every 24 hours, and headboards and footboards should be omitted if necessary to better the bedding.
- A sofa, that might as well be a bed, too, when it is as smartly styled as the one sketched. Paul McCobb, that far-famed designer for young people, doesn't hide the bed inside the sofa but makes the sofa bed-width and shortens it for seating with wide removable bolsters.
- A dining table. One that grows from a narrow top to a wide one keeps the room uncrowded between meals and rises to an occasion for guests. The drop leaf table, like all the furniture sketched, is by Paul McCobb.
- Small chairs, the kind that go everywhere. They were never more comfortable and are so smartly styled that they pull up in the living room as well as gather round the dining table and stand duty at desks. There needn't be so many of them and home is less crowded because so many purposes are served. Mr. McCobb's are all wood, wood-arm and upholstered, and fully upholstered.
- A big coffee table, to be useful to several people at once so fewer tables clutter the floor space, and because the larger coffee table adds style to the room.
- A large cabinet, at least one or a grouping of sectional cases, to provide put-away space that makes housekeeping easier. One large piece of furniture, or a compact grouping of smaller pieces, crowds a room less than scattered furniture. Mr. McCobb provides storage furniture of all kinds that fit together and this two-piece cabinet that has a drop leaf desk.

MacArthur Choice Apt To Stir Up More Tempests In GOP Ranks

In theory and by custom, the man who delivers the keynote address at a national political convention is neutral as between presidential aspirants, since he is speaking for the whole party and not for any one candidate.

If You Possess A Flag, Fly It Proudly On National Flag Day

Old Glory will be 175 years old next Saturday, June 14. It was on that day in 1777 that the Continental Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the official United States flag.

It should also be the occasion for the public display of an emblem that has come to stand for human liberty to most of the peoples of the earth.

Truman Words On Air Power Do Not Coincide With Ridgway's

It is not easy to reconcile what President Truman said Saturday about our air power in Korea with what General Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo has been reporting about the build-up of the Communist forces.

One of the fundamental facts of international life—which is not well enough understood in Congress and in the country as a whole—is that the NATO alliance and the European Defense Community are not committed to take part in a Far Eastern war.

Since there has been no inhibition on bombing North Korea, how can it be that the enemy has built up such formidable forces though we can bomb them at will almost anywhere in his territory and—despite opposition—can reach our objectives?

The sad truth, which is well known to all, is that American diplomacy in the Far East is frozen tight—so tight that it is by no means certain that it can be thawed out even after the election.

The weight of opinion is, I believe, that while we can bomb in North Korea, we cannot bomb "at will" or count on reaching our objectives—which would be, of course, to prevent the build-up.

The best that can be said for all this is that while the Korean war is nasty and cruel and hopeless, it is a more localized nastiness and cruelty and hopelessness than it might be.

Their calculations are certain to take account not only of the military forces in being and in reserve but of the political condition of our alliances and of theirs.

Truman Letter To Amon Carter About Tideland Ends Up In Waste Basket

WASHINGTON. — President Truman wrote another personal letter the other day, this one to Amon Carter, No. 1 citizen of Fort Worth, Tex. However, he didn't mail it—at least, not the original draft.

He slept on it, finally wrote the original draft up. But the inside fact is that when the President sounded off on Tideland oil at the Americans for Democratic Action dinner two weeks ago, a letter from Amon Carter was the cause of it.

The President asking about various local leaders. His memory for names was remarkable. Kefauver then said he hoped the President would take no part in the prenomination fight, and Truman promised that he would not.

Success Is Evident In The Work Of UN; Continue To Support It

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Saturday is United Nations Day. It would be a fine thing if people, for a few moments anyway, should stop and think about the world organization and its accomplishments.

his needs elsewhere and embarks on a campaign to take over nations. Through its subsidiary health, economic, refugee and other organizations, UN is improving the lot of the people and most nations recognize this.

For one who is an earnest advocate of this body, it's not easy to admit certain shortcomings. But by no means do these shortcomings mark the UN as a failure.

As regards UN efforts to hold the Russians at bay, I think success is noted. In the first place, prior to the Korean War, Russia and her satellites had been over-running nations quite regularly.

We must bear in mind that while the UN is a peace-keeping organization, its activities are far from restricted to this field. Basically, I think its primary purpose is to make the world better economically and socially.

More words can be said as to the relative success of the UN. Suffice to say, however, that we have made progress under the world organization. But it needs continued support from all people desirous of a real and lasting peace.

In reality, you know, wars never occur when a people are happy and contented. Usually, when famine and hard days strike a nation, it looks elsewhere for a solution, never considering that the troubles it has come from within its own lands.

Stop and think, then, about the UN on Saturday, or anytime you have a chance. Speak out for it, support and assist it when you can. It's for your good and it's your voice that makes it work.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

Four Texas brothers made a three million dollar "haul" in a mail train robbery at Roundout, Illinois on this day in 1924.

Madison. A fire early in the present century destroyed this remnant of the past.

The four had been led through their career of crime by the oldest brother, Willie Newton, who in his lifetime achieved the dubious distinction of being accused of more bank robberies than any other criminal in the whole country.

There is special reason for eagles to be tamed in Turkistan. Some of the natives chiefly members of the Kirghiz tribes, use them in hunting!

The Newtons, born and reared in Texas, started their nefarious work in 1921, when they robbed banks in Hondo, Winters, New Braunfels, Boerne and other small Texas towns. By 1924 they had stolen more than half a million dollars.

The swift, powerful birds bring down foxes, antelopes and wolves. They strike with their talons as well as their beaks. Now and then, when they swoop down, they seem to stun a victim with blows of their wings.

Black Eagles Help Hunter

Perhaps someone in North America has a full-grown pet eagle, but in my travels around this continent I never have found such a bird being kept by a family.

Young eagles are trained with care for this work. When one of them is taken for a hunt, a hood is placed over its head.

An interesting pet eagle (of full size) was called Old Abe. He was kept as a mascot by Wisconsin soldiers during the American Civil War.

The black hunting eagles of Turkistan are in high demand. One which is well trained will bring a high price.

Congress Uncertain About Neutral Observers On Koje

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to invite neutral military leaders to observe the treatment of Communist prisoners of war on the island of Koje today, the suggestion by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Mich.), was endorsed by President Truman.

Some Democratic senators said it would help offset Communist propaganda about the "mistreatment" of Red prisoners. But Republicans, if not hostile to the idea, expressed skepticism that it would prove effective.

Two days ago, a visit to Koje Island by high-ranking neutral military observers, Russell suggested, would be a means of refuting "the mass of falsehoods which are being broadcast to the world by the Communist propaganda machine."

Water, Sewer Fund Is Down $1,202 From April Figures

The city's water and sewer fund suffered for revenue like Big Springers suffered for water during the month of May, monthly financial statement for the municipality shows.

Water consumption in May was 3,489,800 gallons less than in April. Water and sewer service charges billed to customers was $32,931.80, a decrease of $1,202.71 from the April total.

That was during a month when revenues (and water consumption) ordinarily would have been increasing. The hitch, this year, has been the shortage of water. The city has been entirely dependent on wells for its water supply since about mid-May and officials have urged residents to keep total consumption below 3,000,000 per day, an amount considered the "safe" use maximum.

The May financial report, released by City Secretary C. R. McClenny, showed general fund receipts amounting to $83,389, including $60,843.85 transferred from other funds. Current tax collections amounted to $354.20 and delinquent tax receipts totalled $197.71.

There were no disbursements from the interest and sinking fund during May, leaving the city's bonded indebtedness at $854,500 in tax bonds and $587,000 in revenue bonds.

Biggest revenue items for the general fund were fines and court costs amounting to $3,358.50 and gas franchise receipts, totalling $3,052.93. Water deposits totalled $1,810.

Transferred to the general fund were $30,000 from the water and sewer system revenue fund and $30,843 from other funds, including cemetery, swimming pool and park system, garage, parking meter, and airport.

General fund expenditures amounted to $75,623.34, leaving a balance of $49,893.98 in the fund May 31.

The airport fund balance shrunk from $7,014.10 to $5,863.13 during the month. The cemetery fund, which started May with $21.37 on hand wound up with $28.87 in the bank.

Swimming pool and park system fund grew from $3,983.10 to $4,137.00 during the month. Garage fund dropped from $9,738.92 to $8,644.99 and the parking meter fund expanded from $10,304.75 to $13,056.95.

Dairy Firms File Claims On Payment

DENTON, June 12 (AP)—Nine suits were filed Tuesday charging Cabells dairy firm of Dallas with failure to pay agreed prices for milk from Denton County producers.

The Denton County dairy producers who filed the suits are all members of the North Texas Milk Producers Association.

They charged that Cabells agreed last year to pay the market milk price then current and that this was $6.91 per 100 pounds. They charged further that Cabells failed to pay that price.

Bridges, GOP floor leader in the Senate and top Republican on Russell's Armed Services Committee, said all kinds of reports already have been received and "each day adds some new phase to the disgraceful conditions on Koje."

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), another member of the Armed Services Committee, said a visit to Koje by neutral observers would do no harm but he added he was not hopeful "that it would stop the lies of Communist propaganda."

Clark told a Star-Telegram reporter and detectives that he doesn't know what started him off as a burglar "except that there was a family quarrel and I started drinking."

He was arrested inside a tavern Saturday. He admitted breaking into apartments in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Ants In Your Pantry? Then Try Johnston's No-Roach

Ants in your pantry? You don't have to put up with this nuisance any longer, not if you really want to do something about it.

You can handle the situation with a small paint brush and a fluid which spreads on as an invisible film over which ants can't pass—and live.

This fluid, of course, is Johnston's NO-ROACH.

While it obtains its name because of its extraordinary effectiveness in fighting the pestiferous yach, Johnston's No-Roach also is effective against those pesky little ants which sometime invade your kitchen.

A number of other insects are victimized by this product, too, so that it's really a pretty effective control to have around the house, office or business.

Besides the lethal punch it packs for insects, "No-Roach" is especially popular because it is so simple and easy to apply. Just brush it on sills, baseboards, cabinets, near the stove and refrigerator. The invisible film that it leaves the blacklands cotton belt June 4, 1881. He was educated in the Mexico public schools and farmed in Limestone County until 1911 when he moved to Ellis County, where he continued farming.

He served in the House of Representatives, 41st Legislature, in 1929-30, and in 1930 was elected commissioner of agriculture. McDonald sold his Ellis County farm and operated a combination farm and ranch in Bosque County. Later he sold it and went into extensive citrus operations in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

McDonald was unique among Texas political figures. He was different from many state officials and others in public life because he admitted he had voted for some Democrats and some Republicans in the same general elections.

McDonald was a fighter in politics, the kind of fighter who liked to win. One of his latest public battles was with the state Democratic Executive Committee that tried to purge his name from the primary ballot on charges of party disloyalty in 1950.

McDonald went to court with a staff of prominent lawyers headed by former Gov. Dan Moody. He pinned the committee's ears back. The court held in essence that if McDonald took the pledge to support nominees of the Democratic primary in which he was running, his past votes for Republicans could not bar him from the ballot.

McDonald fell out with Henry Wallace in 1940 over New Deal farm policies. He publicly opposed Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, supported Jack Porter, the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate in 1948. He did not like farm subsidies and had no patience with any theory of controlled scarcities created by such devices as cotton plough-unders.

In 1948 he was charged by the federal government with failure to register as a lobbyist before congressional committees urging higher farm prices.

McDonald counter-attacked. He said he was entitled to testify as an elected official without registering. The case never went to trial.

McDonald likewise counter-attacked on the party loyalty charges in 1950. Before he took his case to court, he appeared before the committee with these fighting words: "If I can't let the people of Texas know what I believe, then I'll go back to the farm." He was referring to the repeated re-elections in the face of his public campaigning for Republicans. McDonald said the record will show he has received more votes in the aggregate than any other man who ever held office in Texas.

A 37-year-old, including eight government officials, was meeting with John R. Steelman, Truman's assistant, to work out details of the steel-for-Korea plan.

Top Military Tribunal Gets WACs Appeal

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The nation's highest military tribunal has set June 24 as the date to hear the appeals of six court-martialed WAC sergeants who beat up another woman soldier after a beer-drinking spree near Ft. Breckenridge, Ky., last Oct. 4.

The Court of Military Appeals, composed of three civilian judges, will hear the appeals of the sergeants against their court-martialed convictions on charges of joint assault on former Pfc. Carol A. Kierce, 301 Ven. n. N. Y., a few hours after she had appeared as a witness before another military court at the camp.

Miss Kierce has since been discharged from the Army for unauthorized absence. All of the six sergeants were sentenced to dishonorable discharges, forfeit of all pay and allowances and confinement at hard labor for terms that originally ranged from one year to 30 months.

The Army judge advocate general announced June 24 that the un-served portion of the lesser sentences had been remitted and three girls set free. Sentences of the other three were modified.

However, the girls' highest legal authority confirmed the dishonorable discharge and the loss of pay for all six.

The Army said today the three who still had sentences to serve are new at Ft. Breckenridge, where a spokesman said they were under guard in the camp hospital.

These WACs and their modified confinement terms are: Grace L. Morton, San Lorenzo, Calif., 18 months; Edna H. Whitman, Preble, N. Y., 12 months; and Juliette V. Monte, Pecan, N. M., 12 months.

Area Scouts To Attend Camp Later In July

Jimmy Hale, district Scout field executive, has announced that Boy Scout troops of the Lone Star District will probably attend the council camp, Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch, either July 20-26 or July 27-August 2.

He reported that he had received word from P. V. Thorson, council executive, that the other weeks of the camp, located in the Davis Mountains near Balmorhea, are filled.

Hale previously stated that troops in the four-county Lone Star District had planned to attend some time during the July 13-August 2 period but now were limited to the final two weeks. It is also the final two weeks the camp will be open this summer.

Approximately 125 Scouts attend the Camp each week, Hale added.

Stocker Cattle Are Down At Local Sale

Stocker cattle and cows and calves were cheaper while fat cows remained steady at the Big Spring Livestock Auction Company sale here Wednesday.

Bulls brought up to 24.00, fat cows up to 21.00, butcher yearlings from 28.00 to 34.00 and butcher cows from 16.00 to 17.50.

Stocker steer calves sold for 25.00, heifer calves up to 33.00, cows beside calves from 180.00 to 250.00 and hogs up to 20.00.

An estimated 500 cattle and 100 hogs went through the ring.

CONTROLS OK'D

ills could be reconsidered indicated he had in mind that steel production might be resumed, meantime, by use of the T-H law.

The law allows the government to seek a court order, good for 80 days, against a strike which imperils the national welfare.

The President has told Congress "this would be grossly unfair," but he was reported ready to comply if the House also tells him Taft-Hartley is its answer to the strike.

Truman contends that the Taft-Hartley Act's 80-day strike ban would only defer pay raises he says the workers deserve, and there would be no guarantee the workers would obey the T-H law.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, co-author of the law, has called that statement an invitation to the 650,000 striking CIO steelworkers to defy an injunction.

Senate leaders drove to dispose of the whole issue, and get a final vote by midnight on a bill to continue the anti-inflation Defense Production Act, which it has become so tightly intertwined.

This will shift the spotlight to the House, whose banking committee is drafting its own version of the extension bill. The Defense Production Act, which provides the basis for wage, price and rent control, expires at midnight June 30.

When steel industry negotiations collapsed last Monday night, both industry and union agreed to reopen enough plants to produce the steel needed for the Korean fighting. Truman told Congress this might help some, but wouldn't satisfy all defense needs.

Fight Underway Over Military Construction

By RUSSELL BRINES WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration leaders open a fight today to get the House to accept unchanged a $2,800,000,000 military building program for next year.

The measure covers over 278 projects at home and abroad, including strategic but secret airfields throughout the world.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee said the construction program had been cut to the point of serious risk in order to get congressional support.

Atom Will Assist Elevator To Rise

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—That little atom that sets off big explosions can also run an elevator, Well, anyway, help run it.

An automatically controlled elevator will go into operation here next week at the Southern Pacific Hospital. It will depend on old-fashioned electricity for power, but tiny fragments of radioactive iodine will control its starts and stops.

Clay Bernard, 28-year-old co-developer of the atomic control, says "it will stop the elevator even with the load down to 5 thousandths of an inch, compared to 1/4 of an inch for the best oil control—and it's much more dependable."

Auto Mishap Victim Condition Is 'Good'

Condition of Glenda Gale Bedwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie J. Bedwell, 1408 E. 6th, was described as "good" at Big Spring Hospital Thursday.

Miss Bedwell was injured shortly after noon Wednesday when she was struck by an automobile at E. 6th and State shortly after dismounting from a city bus. She was taken to the hospital by her mother.

Driver of the car involved in the mishap has not been identified, police said. Bedwell reported the accident to officers some two hours after it occurred. He was quoted as saying the unidentified motorist was a woman.

Siphoning Of Gas Is Reported To Police

Thieves armed with a siphon hose apparently have been loose in the east part of Big Spring.

Norman Williamson, 1506 Tucson, reported loss of two tanks of gasoline during the past week, both via the siphon route. Williamson alerted police early today after he spotted a possible gas thief, but no arrests were made.

Five Groups Meet At Settles Today

Thursday was set up as a busy day around the Settles Hotel. Five groups scheduled meetings, luncheons and a dinner at the hotel.

Continental Oil Company representatives met for all-day discussions starting at 9 a.m. Humble Oil Company personnel were present for a luncheon program, as was the Kiwanis Club and Altrusa Club.

Walker Manufacturing Company reserved quarters for a business meeting and dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Congress approved about 5 1/2 billion dollars last year. Vinson said original Pentagon estimates called for six billion dollars this year.

He said the bill provided for only three new projects and the rest were bases already being built or expanded to provide fighting forces with facilities to match their increased strength.

The bill is the last regular authorization measure for domestic and foreign military expenditures scheduled for this session of Congress. The House already has cut the defense budget by more than 10 per cent and the foreign aid bill by 12 1/2 per cent.

The construction measure would approve for the Air Force $2,089,277,000, the Army $385,291,000 and the Navy $285,750,000 for the year beginning July 1.

The measure only authorizes the amounts. Appropriations must be voted separately.

Vinson said in a speech prepared for the House that the bill may well be the most important piece of legislation this session.

The reason, he said, is that the 1951-52 bill would provide for expansion of airfields, military and naval bases and training camps.

A committee report underlined the importance of about $1,300,000,000—nearly half the total—earmarked for American airfields abroad. Most of them are classified as military secrets.

These fields, the report said, are "part of the investment which has been made in our atomic weapons program." It said no purpose will be served "if we develop the best and largest quantity of atomic weapons but fail to provide the Air Force adequate facilities" for basing and servicing bombers and fighters abroad.

The committee eliminated 250 million dollars earmarked as the American share of European airfields for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It said these projects were necessary but the appropriations should be included in foreign aid funds, not in a military bill.

The measure sets aside $844,240,000 for airfield projects in continental United States.

KOJE

Transfer of 6,400 more prisoners from compound 78 followed, with no violence. Seven leaders were seized, as U.S. paratroopers met light resistance in emptying compound 77 of its 6,288 POWs Wednesday. Some 70 took from line to seek protection from their disbanding comrades.

Thousands of knives, spears and other weapons were found inside barracks and tents, and an incomplete tunnel led toward compound 76.

Guards say some of the 2,700 North Korean officers and 650 enlisted men of compound No. 66 have been beating out knives and spears. Another possible trouble spot is No. 62, containing 6,000 civilian internees.

Boatmen informed leaders of compound 66 they could tour the island to see treatment of prisoners already transferred. One leader was shown the smoldering ruins of No. 76.

Allied identification teams are examining the dispersed prisoners of 76. The transferred prisoners are given new clothes after being fingerprinted. There were reports that they may be screened to determine how many now want to rejoin the Reds in event of an armistice.

Koje is the camp for Allied-held prisoners willing to be repatriated.
