Homecoming Is Set For Friday

HOMECOMING QUEEN CANDIDATES

Bulldogs Bite Too Much For Loboes

The highly favored Levelland Loboes homecoming was smashed last Friday night by the Tahoka Bulldogs, 21-20. The Bulldogs made very few mistakes what must have been one of the most exciting football games played in high school ranks. J. Viertel's squad looked like a precision college team with tremendous hustle and made fewer mistakes than you could expect of a Pro team. They came a long way baby since their first contest and will win more games before the season ends.

The Bulldogs outstanding running back, Jimmy Bailey began scoring for the contest last Friday night, going 17 yards to the right end on the north end of the field, in the first period for a six pointer. Bailey broke through the ten yard line to get in for the score. Terry Ford kicked the PAT to give the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead.

The Bulldogs didn't keep their lead for long. Levelland's George Jones went 52 yards for a tally. Bill Wright kicked the PAT to tie up the ball game. The time ended in a deadlock at the end of the first period.

The Levelland team went ahead in the third period going 10 yards for a touchdown. The Loboes kicked the extra point giving them a 14-7 lead going into the final period. The Grid Iron contest like a lot of others over at this point. Timmie, Tahoka backfield man went yards on an unbelievable play that looked as if he was being tackled at the line of scrimmage. Timmie breaking at least two tackles before he finally got it for a six-pointer. This was the type of run you would see an instant replay of. The Bulldogs then came back with a man line with only Jimmy Bailey back. The Bulldogs centered the ball and Jimmy Bailey and the ball was bobbled giving the Loboes a 20-13 lead with only 5:26 showing on the scoreboard clock.

The Bulldogs took the Lobe kick and ran it back to their own 43 yard line and then went 57 yards in nine plays with tremendous blocking from the Tahoka line and blocking backs to put them on the scoreboard again with just two minutes left in the contest. The Bulldogs behind at this point with the score at 20-19 in favor of the Loboes. Big Blue came right back with their 10 man unbalanced line and Jimmy Bailey followed the wall of blockers in for the PAT giving the Bulldogs a 21-20 lead and for all practical purposes the contest was over but not the excitement.

The Bulldogs kicked off three times to the Loboes before the scoreboard clock began to tick again with the ball on their own 40 yard line. The Loboes threw a pass and it was intercepted by defensive sophomore David Glenn. But, to no avail. The ball was brought back and the Bulldogs were penalized 15 yards. At this point the Loboes failed to move the pigskin and the contest ended giving the Bulldogs 3 wins for the season in four outings. You knew what kind of team the Bulldogs were when you saw the tremendous team play and heard the leather pop against the Loboes last Friday.

The Bulldogs will open District play this week against Frenship at Kelley Field at 7:30 p. m. The contest will also be a part of Tahoka's homecoming festivities.

If you haven't seen the Bulldogs play, better come out and see one of the scrappiest football teams ever fielded by the Bulldogs.

Carolyn Haley Says...

"Mommy, there's a bear in my room!" Ever hear this or something similar from your young child?

Preschooler "tall tales" don't necessarily mean a child is lying. The four-year-old preschooler sees things from his own point of view, and most are tales of tall tales.

Also with his limited experience, a preschooler -- even five and six years old -- may not know the whole truth. You as a parent can share some of his experiences with him instead of criticizing his lack of insight.

At the same time you accept his tall tales, you can help him distinguish fact from fiction. In this way, he starts growing in his ability to understand the truth of a situation. For most children this ability develops slowly.

Sometimes, of course, a child will tell a lie. When he does, we need to look for a reason. Though we as parents' natural reaction is to uncover the truth, it's more important to uncover the reason for a story. He may be wanting to conceal guilt, or he may be afraid of punishment he "knows" is coming. He might be lying as an act of hostility, or he could be trying to fool himself. And, unlikely as it may seem, he could be looking for praise and affection. This often occurs. Look back at your self and see if you may have been neglecting him a little.

Parents do their best when they talk with the child and reassure him, so he doesn't feel the need to lie.

If lying is a fairly consistent problem, work together to decide if some disciplinary action would remedy the situation-- let your child have a hand in choosing the action.

While no one is a "born liar", no one is born to tell the truth, either.

Preschool children need parents' help in seeing things as they are-- and having the confidence to tell about it.

We as parents', natural reaction is to find out the truth, but it is really more important to find out why he told the lie. There could be any number of reasons.

Just because tenderizers make meat tender, they won't tenderize people's stomach. Although you as a consumer may worry about the question of safety in meat tenderizers, go ahead and tenderize those less tender, less expensive cuts of meats.

The actual tenderizer is a natural plant enzyme called papain.

It's obtained from the papaya fruit and is generally recognized as safe to use on foods that will be cooked. Papain is readily destroyed by the heat needed to cook meat. Even if all the papain weren't destroyed by heat, the stomach's gastric juices would finish the job easily.

Many people are confused about usage and safety of another chemical used in food--monosodium glutamate (MSG.)

It simply improves natural flavors--it's neither a tenderizer nor a preservative. It's also safe.

Made from an amino acid--which is one of the "building blocks" of proteins, MSG usually comes from the vegetable proteins in soybeans, wheat and corn.

Some canned vegetables and canned tuna are processed with MSG, as are mayonnaise, French dressing and salad dressing if the label lists it as an ingredient. Also, consumers can buy it to add to foods at home.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK:

Jalapeno Cheese Dip

2 tablespoons flour
3/4 cup cream
2 tablespoons margarine
1 pint cottage cheese
2 lbs. velveeta cheese, cut up
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 medium green pepper, finely chopped
1 pod garlic, finely chopped
4 jalapeno peppers

Mix flour and cream in saucepan. Add margarine and cheeses; melt on lowest heat setting. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until thick, stirring occasionally. If desired, serve warm as a dip or as a spread on crackers.

Wilson Falls To Meadow, 25-6

The Wilson Mustangs and Meadow Broncos met in a District 2-B battle at Meadow last Friday night with the Broncos coming out on top by a score of 25-6.

The first quarter went scoreless; the Mustangs gaining 45 yards to the Broncos' 65 yards. Meadow got on the scoreboard when QB Larry Mason threw a 20 yard TD pass to Terry Duncan. Mason kicked the extra point. Later in the 2nd quarter Phil Kitten scored for the Mustangs on a 3 yard run, that was set up by a 21-yard pass from Mike Bednarz to Chris Coleman. The try for 2 extra points failed. Just before halftime, Meadow scored again when the Broncos blocked a Mustang punt, and Byron Talley recovered in the endzone for a Meadow TD. The extra point try failed.

Meadow controlled the ball through much of the 3rd quarter; scoring twice. The first TD came on an 18-yard pass from Mason to Duncan. The extra point try failed. Ricky Wright scored Meadow's last TD when he scampered 7 yards to the endzone. The 4th quarter was scoreless.

Wilson lost 1 fumble and threw 4 interceptions, while Meadow lost 3 fumbles. Recovering the Broncos' fumbles for the Mustangs were Clyde Wilke, Lester Walker, and David Savell. Next, the In Town Inn. Same deal, we left in a huff. besides Conga who is over 20 long and weighs over 200 you will see a very good performance with elephant trapeze, jugglers, clowns, magic acts, something to entertain and please everyone.
Get your ticket in advance the sponsor. Do this for very good reasons. One, save money on the adult seats; two, you don't have to stand in line at the ticket office, and last, but not least, you help the sponsor make and keep more money as they get a much larger percentage from the advance sale than they do at the door, so if you buy your ticket from them in advance you put more money into the various projects that they do to help better the community.

Nursing Home News

October 1, 1973

Thirty-seven years ago the D.J. Pennington family landed in Lynn County, moving onto the farm owned by H. W. Pennington. They were my parents, and as I look back, it doesn't seem that long. I'm Corine Izard.

Dean Bartley brought more good watermelons and Roy and Vesta Appling brought more cantaloupes from the Marshall Steward's. We have sure enjoyed them and realize when these are gone, we will have to look forward to next year's crop. We all say a big thank you to all the good people who have brought fresh vegetables and fruit into the home to us this season. Our daily food is extra good, but we always enjoy all the good tidbits.

We are all sadden in the loss of Laura Connell who passed away last week. Also the death of Guy C. Rinker, Sept. 25th from Post, Texas, but his suffering was great. We pray for the families.

Our new patients are Mr. and Mrs. William Knight from Post, Texas. This makes our third married couple living here and they seem to enjoy living here with all of us.

Several inspectors were here and our reports were good. Mary Price is trying her best to give us all the tender love and care she can. The LVN's do a very good job and also our aides are the best as are our cooks. You know what with 39 patients it sure keeps them all on the up and go.

Mrs. Harter was visited by Astena and Gene Lawson, Mrs. Gypsy Lawson of Maryland. It is so nice to see Astena up walking even on a cane.

Mrs. Mina King had visitors, also.

Olga Hernandez, a former aide, was also up visiting with all of us.

Josephine Thompson has been having several visitors, but she continues spending most of her time in bed. The Doctor and the nursing staff is working trying to get her to sit up more and not stay in the bed so much. Bud Inklebarger's sisters from Mesquite, also a niece, and Joel Inklebarger visited Bud.

O. C. Sikes and Clyde Thomas visited Arthur Dial.

The Assembly of God Church with Bro. Wesley Dabney brought Sunday services. Bro. Dabney spoke on this being harvest time of the crops and how all good Christians should be busy harvesting our good deeds and living right each day and showing our friends by our daily living. Mrs. Dabney is Mrs. Dabney's granddaughter. Bro. and Sister Tyler sang some beautiful specials. We enjoyed these and people very much.

Mrs. Ollie Hill is going to the doctor today to see about a swelling on the side of her neck. Corine Izard and Teddie Kelly are going to O'Donnell to visit Helen Reed who has a rare kidney disease. Helen use to work at Corine at the Tahoka Hospital. Also she worked at the art house.

This weather changes so often we never knows how to dress go out.

Our Monday singing was wonderful. We patients always look forward to our Sunday church services and our Monday afternoon singing.

Helen Collins visits us often. It was very nice to see her and we always enjoy her visits to all of us.

October 8th

Please forgive us for not getting our news to the news office last week, but Mrs. Price tries to do her best to get it down there on time, but Monday was unusually busy day for her and she was late getting it down. We will just make up for last week this week.

Thanks to Mrs. M. F. Jones for the sack of okra she brought down. We are having it for lunch today.

Hazel Ford baked Oliver a birthday cake last week for his birthday. We will have our monthly birthday party this Friday for all persons having a birthday during the month of October. Birthdays for the month are J.D. Polk, October 4th, Oliver Ford October 5th, Eduardo Grow, October 19th, Lillian Corbin, and Benjie Shepherd, October 24th and Roy Campbell, October 25th. We will have a big cake and lots of ice cream when we have our party.

So many of our patients seem to feel a little bad, but the weather is so changeable and it seems to be happening to everyone now days.

Mrs. Lillie Parish's daughter came Friday and took Mrs. Parish home. She was only here with us while her daughter was on vacation. We sure miss her and would like to have had her with us permanently.

Sweet Street Baptist Church brought us our church services this Sunday. Bro. Jones used several verses of scripture, but all concerning prayer and how we should pray more. He asked us to pray for him to do the work the Lord has called him to do.

Lois Bishop, our Activity Director, was back Wednesday and we played bingo. We wish more patients would come down to play bingo or dominoes. It would help them to stay awake and get more exercise.

Let's remember Oliver Ford's sister, Hazel Ford who will have thyroid surgery. We hope an early recovery and she will be back on her feet soon.

W. L. "Cap" Rowe visited Corine Wednesday and he isn't feeling too well these days.

Helen Collins thinks she will be back styling hair after this week. We have enjoyed Veta Ford helping Helen and appreciate her filling in so we could continue having our hair fixed each week.

A REQUEST

Will the nice lady who brought Carrie Dillard the quilt patterns, "wedding ring", Boy pattern, Double T and Pansey patterns please send or bring her the directions as she wants to piece some of the quilt tops and doesn't have the directions for the patterns.

Singing was wonderful as usual.

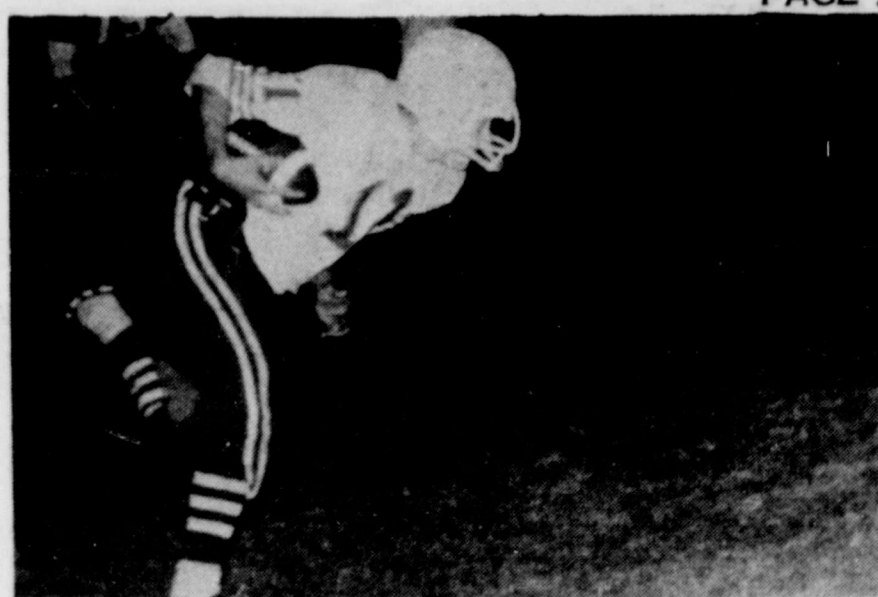

Bye for Now.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS

There is much concern and uncertainty about the supply of most nitrogen and phosphorus fertilizers for use this fall as well as next year.

Limited power sources for processing phosphates plus export contracts have caused suppliers to allocate materials to dealers in amount lower than those of last year. It is anticipated that the shortage will continue into next year at least.

Nitrogen materials are also in short supply due to natural gas limits. If production is again limited this winter, supplies will be especially short next year.

Potash supplies look favorable if transportation is available to move them when needed.

With the anticipation of limited fertilizer supplies, it is more important than ever to base fertilization practices on soil and crop requirements. It may even be necessary to establish priorities as to where to apply the fertilizer than can be obtained.

Since the time of applying phosphorus can be varied without a high risk of reduced yields, producers should consider applying this fertilizer when it is available. Phosphorus can be applied in the fall for both forage and field crops.

However, there is less flexibility in applying nitrogen without a yield reduction or low fertilizer efficiency. If nitrogen must be applied at a time not expected to give optimum results, the rate should be increased to offset the expected reduction in available nitrogen.

A reliable soil test provides valuable information for deciding the rate of fertilizer application as well as establishing the priority of each field if supplies are limited. Early sampling will give enough time to plan a sound fertilization program.

Tahoka High Happenings

By ...
DEBBIE RAINDL

The students at THS are really stirring by now with the roster of Homecoming '73 festivities. The excitement has, in one way or another, saturated just about every person--students, sponsors and faculty. The classes have been busy making their spirit posters, which will be judged Friday by a committee of faculty members. In addition, each class has a designated part of the campus to decorate, dedicated to the Exes.

"Sparks will fly" tonight as the bonfire will begin at 8:00 p. m. which will be highlighted with fire when the twirlers and the band do their number.

Friday afternoon will be packed with gala events beginning at 2:00 p. m. with the traditional Homecoming program, honoring the class of '53. All high school students will attend the program, with the exception of the Juniors who will be delivering corsages. Immediately following the program everyone will go to the gym for the pep rally. The week will climax Friday night with the crowning of the 1973 Football Queen and the game with Friendship. The game, which is the first conference game of the season, will begin at 7:30 p. m. immediately following the coronation.

Well, the Bulldogs didn't walk away with a 63-13 win over the Lobos last week, but the victory they brought home was a lot more glorious and very much earned. The 'Dogs are now 3-1 in "pre-season" play, going into conference tomorrow night.

Most Seniors can breathe a little more easily, since the term paper deadline is tomorrow. Some, I guess had better get in a "tizzy" if they don't have theirs finished by now.

I would like to extend to each of you an invitation to all Homecoming events and urge you all to come out and back the Bulldog's to their fourth straight victory.

T-Bar Bridge Winners

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The danger of government interference with cotton exports, weevil control and crop con-ting were the three major items discussed at a meeting in Dallas October 3 of the Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations (TACPO).

TACPO membership includes regional organizations, representing cotton producers on High Plains, in the El Paso Valley, Blacklands, Rolling Plains, Pecos Valley, Lower Rio Grande Valley and South Texas.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and TACPO Secretary, reported unanimous opposition to export controls with-the State organization. The committee are Johnson, was named chairman; Her-

Propst, President of the Plains Cotton Growers, and Woodrow Hart, Executive Vice President of the South Cotton and Grain Association, and Jerry Young, Victoria, and Jerry Young,

President of the Cotton and Grain Producers Association of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, Harlingen.

Commenting that the threat of export controls on cotton for the immediate future now appears less severe, Johnson cautioned that if current indications of demand materialize, the heavy pressure for restricting cotton sales abroad, coming from radical consumer advocates and textile mills, "maybe yet to come."

With this in mind TACPO passed a resolution urging officials of the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council to "give first priority" to its efforts to prevent restrictions on foreign sales. The resolution also commended Charles Bragg, NCC staff representative to the Producer Steering Committee, for his work on the controls issue to date and asked that he be given full support and encouragement from NCC.

On boll weevil control, each of the TACPO member organizations agreed to discuss with their respective Boards the possibility for establishing insect control districts and holding referendums which could lead to an eventual statewide effort, utilizing the techniques developed largely in the on-going High Plains Reproductive - Diapause Program.

Cotton contracting, a relatively new marketing tool for Texas, "is an important part of the overall marketing picture and can become even more important," Johnson said. Therefore TACPO agreed to continue its work with other groups and organizations toward making forward sales contracts more effective and more acceptable to both parties.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice

President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, represented PCG at a Dallas meeting October 4 where a director from the Plains was named to Cotton Incorporated, two Plains representatives were nominated for membership on CI's Cotton Board, and three High Plains farmers were elected as producer delegates or alternates to the National Cotton Council.

Johnson was authorized to represent the 25-county High Plains cotton producer organization at a meeting of the PCG Executive Committee September 27.

Elected one of eight Texas directors to Cotton Incorporated was W.E. "Doc" Miller of Springlake. He joins three other Plains CI directors whose terms do not expire until 1975, including J.D. Smith of Littlefield, L. C. Unfred of Tahoka and Donnell Echols of Lamesa. Nominated for Cotton Board membership, with the selection of one to be made by Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, were Don Anderson of Crosbyton and Lloyd Cline of Lamesa. Currently on the Board from Texas, which has a total of five members, is Roy Davis of Lubbock, with Johnson serving as his alternate.

Re-elected as producer delegate and alternate, respectively, to the National Cotton Council at the meeting were Don Marble of South Plains and Joe D. Unfred of New Home. J. D. Smith, whose term expired this year, was elected an alternate producer delegate to Bob Skov of El Paso. Anderson, Echols and Bill Reed of Lamesa are also producer delegates to the Council, with terms expiring in 1975.

Methodist Women Continues Study

United Methodist Women met at the church Monday, Oct. 8, at 4 p. m. to continue the study on Faith and Justice. In earlier days one could move on to new frontiers, but now that all land has been settled we must learn to live together. We need to begin doing things for others, not just for credit, but for the good of the people. As a result of the study, the group voted to send money to Cal Farley's Ranch.

A short business meeting preceded the program.

The next meeting will be Nov. 5th, when a study of India will begin.

Local Agent Attends Food Stamp Meeting

Teaching local Food Stamp recipients "how to make the most of their stamps" was the subject of a two-day meeting in Lubbock last week attended by Mrs. Carolyn Haley, Lynn County Extension Agent.

More than 20 county Extension agents from throughout the area heard federal and state government agency representatives discuss food buying and nutrition, according to Mrs. Haley.

"Representatives from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service explained how food stamp recipients can buy the nutritious foods necessary for a balanced diet without having to supplement their food stamp allotments.

"They also discussed the retailer role in the food stamp program," the agent said.

"A Texas Department of Public Welfare representative told agents how the food stamp program is administered in Texas and outlined its operation as well as the requirements for obtaining food stamps," she added.

Foods and nutrition specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, detailed food buying principles and demonstrated preparation of nutritious, low-cost foods.

Commenting on the Food Stamp program, the agent noted that prior to a year ago, some Texas counties did not have the Food Stamp program.

"Efforts to convert all remaining counties from a commodity food distribution program to the Food Stamp program were begun in Texas more than a year ago and will be completed during the last part of this year."

"The educational phase--subject of the two-day meeting--is designed to help limited-income people utilize resources," Mrs. Haley explained.

"Extension and the other agencies are cooperating in this program to avoid duplicating efforts between various government agencies at both state and national levels," the agent added.
