Special To The NEWS. APRIL 26—Circles comprising the W. M. S. of the Baptist church held a combined meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Welch recently with Mrs. R. B. Haynes and Mrs. W. M. Byers, assistant hostesses. The president, Mrs. R. B. Haynes, was in charge of a special business meeting which included plans for the Canadian Association Workers conference to be held at the Baptist church in Miami, Tuesday, May 11. Mrs. E. C. Meador, benevolent chairman of the society, reported a box valued at $43 sent recently to Buckner's Orphan's home.

College President And Singers Coming

On Tuesday evening at 8:15 the Church of the Brethren, 600 North Frost, will open its doors to the people of the city who like good singing. This program will be conducted by Dr. W. W. Peters, president of McPherson college of Kansas, and the college male quartette. Besides the varied program of singing by the quartette Dr. Peters will speak. There will also be a challenging message by Mr. Wayne Giesert, a member of the junior class. Mr. Giesert is a championship debater and a public speaker, and champion of the Rocky Mountain region of the Phi Delta Kappa society. The quartette is composed of Rav-mond Suter and Conard Burton of Iowa, Wayne Crist of Kansas, and Glenn Swinger of Missouri. Dr. Peters is a native of Virginia. He received his B. A. degree from North Manchester college in Indiana, M. A. from Columbia university and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois. In the field of education he has served as Supt. of schools in Miami county, Ohio; dean of North Manchester college; president of Mount Morris college; professor of education in Drury college; teacher of College of Education in the University of Illinois, and was chosen as president of McPherson college in 1941. Admission to this program is free.

REVOLUTIONIST DIES. MEXICO CITY, April 26 (AP)—Gen. Francisco Mariel, 56, who participated in the Madero revolution in 1910 and subsequently helped put down the De La Huerta and Zapata revolutions, died yesterday. In 1915 he was commander of Mexico's rural guards. He was an exile in Europe from 1920 to 1924.

GRAY HAIR TURNING DEEP BLACK says Mrs. J. B., Chicago. After using Grayvita only a short time, I noticed my hair was turning gray and deep black, exactly as it used to be. What a difference this makes in my appearance. Miss' experience may or may not be different from yours. Why not GRAYVITA? Money back if not satisfactory. This anti-gray hair vitamin discovery when used for a few days showed 85% of patients tested had positive evidence of some hair color.

Candle Lighted Church Is Beautiful Setting For Bourland-Leverich Vows

Miss Sarah Bourland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Bourland, 1114 Christine, became the bride of James Edward Leverich, of Stamford, Texas, son of Mrs. J. E. Leverich of Sparta, Wis., in a simple ring ceremony, in the First Methodist church April 21.

The candlelight ceremony was read by the Rev. E. B. Bowen. "Because," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Indian Love Call," Miss Bourland's sorority song, was played before the marriage ceremony. Schubert's "Serenade" was played while the vows were spoken, following Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The altar was impressively decorated with tall white baskets of Easter lilies. Other floral arrangements were palm and ferns, with tapering candelabrum interspersed. The bride and bridegroom knelt on a white satin pillow during the ceremony.

Miss Jackie Hust and Miss Heidi Schneider were bridesmaids, wearing ice-blue taffeta dresses, with sweetheart necklines and full skirts. They each carried colonial bouquets of white and pink carnations, and wore bits of pink carnation in their hair.

Mrs. J. J. Corrikan, aunt of the bride, served as matron of honor. Mrs. Corrikan's gown was of pale pink taffeta. Her bouquet was of white carnations and blue iris.

J. D. Jones of Spawwater, Texas, served the bridegroom as best man. Mr. Jones is an uncle of the bride. Ushers were Tom Leverich of Sparta, Wis., brother of the bridegroom and Charles Cooper of Abilene.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin wedding gown, trimmed in imported Belgian lace. Her gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, full gathered skirt and long-fitted sleeves. Her full length veil was of illusion and lace; her halo of seed pearls. She carried a colonial bride's bouquet of calla lilies.

The bride's mother was dressed in a black and white suit, with a shoulder corsage of gardenias. A reception in the Bourland home followed immediately after the ceremony. Each table was set in white linen, on which a three tiered wedding cake was placed, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Crystal candle holders with white tapers were placed at each end of the table.

After a short week-end wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Leverich will return to Stamford. Mrs. Leverich is a graduate of Pampa High school. She attended Stephens college in Columbia, Mo., and was a member of Delta Chi sorority there. Mrs. Leverich later attended Texas Tech in Lubbock, and there she was a member of the Kappa Sigma club. For the last two years she has been employed in Pampa.

Mr. Leverich graduated from the Sparta High school in Sparta, Wis. He attended the University of Wisconsin and was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. For the past year he has been in Stamford, as an instructor in the Stamford Flying school.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Jack Jones of Stamford, Mrs. Chra Mae Cooper, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Corrikan and children of Jackson, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Keefe, of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Adams, of Amarillo.

FACE POWDER. Some types of talc have been cut out of non-essentials, yet face powders seem to be bearing up well. So far no shortage is anticipated.

COLOGNES. You'll notice a different consistency in the new wartime colognes. They don't contain as much alcohol. They're resemble lotions more and more and some will seem like a thin, liquid cream. In some, aromatic chemicals are used for scent.

DEODORANTS. These are musts for American women—according to surveys—and seem to be in good shape. They use no materials required for war—and no production curtailment is expected.

Emily Post Gives Pointers On Taxi-Sharing Etiquette

BY EMILY POST. The latest questions that the office of war information, as well as several of my editors, have been sending me are concerned with the propriety of sharing a taxi. Frankly, this whole subject is, from every propriety angle, just so much T. N. T. But since sharing a taxi is a wartime "must," let us consider propriety from its principal angle of safety.

Let us say that you are one of several who have long been waiting at a crowded hour at a bus stop when none have stopped because they are packed full. Finally along comes one taxi. There is no guessing when another will come. That you would rush at it, jump into it, and slam the door in the faces of those less pushing (or agile) is unthinkable.

However, let us say it stops with its door at your hand. Ordinarily the rule that "getting in first is keeping" would make it yours. Now however, taxi-sharing—necessity pricked by force, you say, "are any of you going my way—to East Seventeenth street?"

One person replies, "I'm going to East Eighty-Sixth street." And gets in. Two others together are going still further uptown. They also get in.

One detail to remember is that no woman should ever permit a man who is a stranger—or even an encountered neighbor—to pay her fare. This is one share-a-taxi threat that should be nipped before it buds.

Let us say that you, a thoughtfully courteous woman, are in a taxi alone and stopped by a light. You happen to notice a woman standing near a bus that has closed its doors because there is no room. You notice the woman has a small child by the hand or that she is carrying a heavy bundle or just that she looks tired—very likely all three.

It is plain human decency to open the door and tell her how far you are going, and ask her if she would care to go that far with you. A man could not invite a strange woman.

Whether your offer might be of use would of course depend upon whether she could be left at her destination on your way, or whether she would want to take the taxi on farther after you leave it.

Conversations under these circumstances should be limited to a few friendly remarks. In fact, one point to remember it is inadvisable to introduce yourself or to discuss any personal matters with strangers.

MIAMI SENIORS ARE ENTERTAINED WITH INFORMAL DINNER. Special To The NEWS. MIAMI, April 26 (P)—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Russell and daughter, Pauline, entertained the graduating class of the Miami High school informally Wednesday evening with a fish dinner.

Small tables were arranged for the dinner and the evening was spent informally with music and games. Besides the seniors, sponsors of the class, Miss Irvine Scribner and Mr. W. J. L. Spencer, were present.

Planning A Budget For Canning

A canning budget prepared at the beginning of the season will indicate what quantities of different canned foods are needed by the family. In making such a budget consider the number of persons in the family, the length of time that fresh foods are out of season, and what foods are available for canning, as well as the cost of equipment and containers and the value of the time of the persons doing the work.

Information useful in planning a canning budget suitable to the locality and adapted to the nutritional requirements of the family may be obtained from your state college of agriculture or from the U. S. department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

In planning a budget, remember that a pint of canned food will make three to five servings. So, for small families a better distribution of canned foods for variety in meals can be obtained if pint jars or No. 2 cans are used for most foods. However, if it is difficult to obtain the smaller jars or cans it is necessary that the homemaker plan use of food canned in larger containers so there will be no food waste.

After the canning for the day is done, wipe the containers clear and label with the name, the date and the lot number if more than one lot was canned on that day. Glass jars may be labeled with a grease crayon that writes on glass, or with gummed labels.

KEEP "UNDER OBSERVATION". Hold the canned products at room temperature for a week or 10 days where they can be examined from time to time to be sure that they are keeping. If any show signs of spoilage, examine all of that lot carefully.

Store canned foods in a cool, dry place and avoid exposure to the light so that the food will not fade in color. The quality is generally better if they are used within the first year after canning.

16,500 Men Move To New Camp Site

TEMPLE, April 26 (P)—The largest single moving job this part of Texas has ever seen got under way today when the replacement training center at Camp Hood started its shift to North Camp Hood, near Gatesville.

For five days and five nights, this movement will be in progress with 16,500 officers and men being transferred to their new home.

The replacement training center, training battle replacements, is one of the major divisions of the giant tank destroyer center.

ARMY HOPES TO SAVE POUND OF FOOD PER MAN. FORT WORTH, April 26 (AP)—The new objective of the quartermaster department's food conservation program for the army is to save a pound of food per day per soldier. Brig. Gen. James L. Frink, deputy quartermaster general for supply announced here.

In Fort Worth on an inspection tour, General Frink and Col. Max R. Walner, president of the quartermaster board at Camp Lee, Va., said they had completed one survey of army units to check on reports that food was being wasted in certain camps.

"We have checked 265 mess halls throughout the United States, covering 160,000 man meals and there were few examples of food being wasted," Colonel Walner said.

services will be outstanding musical talent numbers by the large chorus choir under the direction of H. Paul Briggs.

Boy Wants U. S. To Return Yo-Yo

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 26 (AP)—Daniel Fairchild Calhoun, 13, wants Vice President Henry A. Wallace to get back the yo-yo a guard in the United States senate took from him a month ago.

The boy, who says the guard made him take the toy from his pocket, took down Calhoun's name and address and promised to return the yo-yo, has written to Wallace about his troubles.

In Washington today the senate sergeant-at-arms said the toy would be returned if it could be found. Otherwise the government would make reimbursement.

In his letter to the vice president, Daniel said: "Last month I came to Washington after getting a pass from Mr. Maloney (Senator Maloney of Connecticut). I went to the senate. Before they let me go in they took a yo-yo I had brought with me. I don't know why they took it. They must have thought it was a dangerous weapon. But I want my yo-yo back."

"After all, you say this is a democracy. Well if it is, people are certainly entitled to the things they pay for. Yours truly, Dan Calhoun, 3301 Park avenue, Bridgeport, Conn. (Age 13)."

The sergeant-at-arms staff said the case had been investigated very thoroughly and that the chief information lacking was the present location of the yo-yo.

In describing the incident, young Calhoun said the guard noticed a bulge in one of his pockets and demanded the yo-yo. Dan's explanation that it was only a Japanese toy didn't help, he said.

"There's no Japanese toy goes in this gallery," Calhoun said the guard told him.

The boy had accompanied his father, Philo Calhoun, to Washington to see Thurman Arnold, a friend of the family, sworn in as judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Bums Suffer First Defeat By Phillies

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The major leagues are as confused about the Balata ball as a bunch of freshmen at the junior prom and perhaps it is a good thing today is an open date so that everybody can take stock—of themselves and of the balls that are being used.
In games played at Brooklyn against the Phillies this weekend a leftover supply of last year's balls was used, the changeover being made in the third inning of Saturday's struggle. But other clubs in both leagues still are using the new 1943 model even though all parties concerned say it is dead.
The Herald-Tribune in New York raised the question today of whether or not it was legal for the Dodgers to use a different ball from other major league clubs and pointed out that the National and American leagues were bound by agreement to use exactly the same ball—dead, alive or maimed.
Dead ball or not, the Washington Senators made 19 hits and scored 12 runs in the first game of a doubleheader yesterday. They also scored five runs on six hits in the nightcap to sweep the bargain bill from the Philadelphia Athletics 12-2 and 5-0. Alex Carrasquel pitched two-hit ball in the nightcap.
The New York Yankees also succeeded in making 12 hits while defeating the Boston Red Sox 7-1 to continue unbeaten in first place in the American league. There was one game in the National league in which 20 hits were made, 10 by each team, as the Pittsburgh Pirates conquered the Chicago Cubs 6-2.
All of these games were played with the "dead" ball and inasmuch as the batters managed to stir up quite a commotion, there was room for suspicion that maybe the reason the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds played another 1-0 game could be attributed to good pitching or weak hitting—or both.
Lefty Johanne Vander Meer lost the decision to Lefty Howard Pollet of the Cardinals yesterday at Crosley field.
The Reds received two other setbacks. Catcher Ray Mueller suffered a split finger and outfielder Mike McCormick went home to visit before being indexed.
The Dodgers were handed their first licking, and the Phillies gained their first victory, 3-2, as Rookie Jack Kratz, former Brooklyn farmhand, held Leo Durocher's dandies to six scattered hits. Philadelphia's scoring included Danny Littwiler's second homer of the year.
The Athletics held the New York Giants to seven hits as the Boston Braves copped an 8-3 verdict with five runs in the seventh and eighth innings.
Detroit and Cleveland divided a doubleheader, both scores being 4-1. In the first game Jim Bagby hit a two-run triple to help win his own game although the Tribe was held to three hits. Little Frank Overmire's five-hit thumping captured the second game for the Tigers.
With George McQuinn hitting a homer, the St. Louis Browns stopped the Chicago White Sox 5-1 in a game that had to be called after seven innings. The second game of a scheduled double bill was postponed.

Black Sox Expunged from Records, But How They Could Play the Game

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
You won't find the records of Edward Victor Cicotte, Claude P. Williams, Chick Gandil, Swede Risberg, Buck Weaver, Fred McMullin, Happy Felsch and Joseph Jackson in the books, but they were among the more remarkable players of the game.
They were the notorious Chicago Black Sox who threw the World Series of 1919, with Eddie Collins and Ray Schalk, they were the backbone of what many baseball men consider the most formidable ball club that ever took the field.
The White Sox who changed the color of their hose were dangerously good.
They bounced down in front in 1917, repeated in '19 and were about to win again in '20 when stoney Eddie Cicotte's confession cracked the scandal wide open.
They stood out when baseball playing was at its peak, and, for at least two years, mind you, while performing according to the price and watching the scoreboard for the next move.
They could pick up a cluster of runs whenever they wanted to, and there was the peerless righthander, Cicotte, and Lefty Williams to stop the other side. No pitchers were more adept at slamming the door in a batter's face.
Gandil had everything required of a first baseman except the physical advantages enjoyed by a lefthander at the position. He was rough and tough.
Weaver was one of the more accomplished shortstops, but could not play shortstop for this outfit. The slambang Risberg, brought in from the outfield, chased Weaver to third base where he was top man in his profession. McMullin, who could have made any other infield, rode the boards.
Felsch could do everything just a little better and three strikes from center field.
Jackson Natural Hitter
Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Babe Ruth call Joe Jackson the most natural hitter they ever saw.
Shoeless Joe Jackson, so called because as a kid he once played barefoot, was the Carolina Association in his stocking feet to spare a sore heel, matched his 10-year American league batting average of .356 as a strong-armed outfielder.
A left-handed batter standing an even six feet and weighing 175 pounds, Jackson hit .408 in '11, profession full campaign in the big show. He batted .395 in '12, .373 in '13, .341 in '16, .354 in '18, .351 in '19 and .382 in '20, the year he was given the boot, yet never led the league. He never was below .300 in his life.
Jackson was the one swatsmith Cobb had to talk out of the championship, and the Georgia Peach did just that on more than one occasion.
Jackson batted .375 and fielded faultlessly in the series for which he was barred for finding $1,000 under his pillow.
Shoeless Joe smacked the ball savagely and on a line. One hundred and sixty-eight triples give you a rough idea.
Shoeless Joe could get around with his brogans on. He swiped 41 bases in '11.
Never Revealed Secret
Cicotte, the spitballer, could make a baseball sing, at the end was pitching with the cunning that came with 15 years of experience.
Cicotte required a long time to get going, and never divulged the pitching secret, that suddenly brought him to life in '16, after which there wasn't much the opposition could do to or about him.
"I'd watch Eddie's hand closely to see how he held his spitter," says Frank Shellenback, current coach of the Red Sox. "I'd grip the ball the same way, but my pitch would be as straight as a string."

400 Athletes Qualify For State Meet

(By The Associated Press)
Some 400 schoolboy athletes have qualified for participation in the state meet two weeks hence and indications are that at least two records will be smashed and two others will be in great danger.
Regional meets were finished up last week and two of them produced record bettering performances. Keith Vineyard of Edgewood whipped the discus 160 feet 3 inches to surpass the state mark by more than 10 feet. Dewitt Coulter of Masonic home ground, threw the shot 58 feet 8 inches to better his own state record by two feet and eight inches.
There were many other fine marks one of the best being at 21.1 220-yard dash by Donu Deere of Breckenridge, who also ran the 100 yards in 9.8. These were three-tenths and two-tenths of a second respectively off the state records.
Lloyd Parker, the Raymondfield flier, ran the 200-yard low hurdle in 22.6. Sam Easley of Anson raced the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.8. Charley Parker of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) ran the 100 yards in 9.8 and the 220 in 21.4. Norman Spray of Adamson (Dallas) made the half-mile in 2:04.6. Crozier Tech of Dallas negotiated the mile relay in 3:34.9. Thomas Jefferson ran the 440-yard relay in 44.1. Billy Barfield of Conroy vaulted 11 feet 10 inches and Billy Joe Corbell of Tomball ran the mile in 4:39 in other good marks hung up in regional meets.
The first four places in each of 14 events for eight regional meets are eligible to compete at Austin May 6, 7 and 8 for state championships. Duplications and failure of many boys to go to Austin because of the transportation situation will mean there will be a field of about 300.

Ring Ratings Are Announced

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Wanted: one lightweight champion.
That's all the National Boxing association needs to make its list of world title holders complete. In the association's quarterly ratings, the lightweight throne is left vacant with Sammy Angott and Beau Jack listed as the logical contenders. The winner of a bout between those two, it was stated would be recognized.
Prexy Abe Greene said that inasmuch as the N. B. A. is adhering to its policy of recognizing champions whose title claims are undisputed, the Angott-act winner would be crowned, as Angott is unbeaten as a lightweight in spite of his brief retirement, and Jack continues to be recognized as the leading challenger.
The ratings:
Heavyweight: Champion—George Ahrens. Logical contenders—Kul Kong Young, Rush Dalma, Bennie Goldberg.
Lightweight: Champion—Little Dado. Logical contenders—Jackie Patterson, Peter Kane.

Steer Baseball Outlook Glum

COLLEGE STATION, April 26 (AP)
—It's the final week of the southwest conference baseball campaign and Texas and Texas A. and M. either will decide the title or finish in a tie.
Texas, shorn of its ace pitcher, Tom Collins and its brilliant captain Grady Hutton, will play A and M at College Station Friday and Saturday and never was the Longhorn outlook more glum.
The Aggies, after a slow start, have been playing great ball the last month and appears ready to repeat with the championship with both regular pitchers—Smookey Carden and Lefty Shuford—in in fine fettle.
Rice closed out last week by losing twice to Texas. There were only three teams in the race.

SERIAL STORY DARK JUNGLES BY JOHN C. FLEMING & LOIS EBY

LILA CHAPTER XIX THE moon was full—a brilliant, luminous disk moving through the warm blue of the tropic sky. The breeze was warm. Even the towering depths of the jungle seemed pulsing with some dark, vibrant elixir of life. Barry, strolling beside Allison across the clearing from the Indian huts, gave a sigh of impatience. In all this vital, urgent rushing of nature he felt himself the one fixed, helpless point. "It's been nine days since I got back from the Quiche country," he muttered. "I can't sit around forever."

He explained bitterly that it was the work he'd done. He wanted to get it out and— She broke in eagerly. "I'll do the typing. I'm marvelous at hunt and peck. You dictate." He refused at first, but eventually tried it. He found the method worked, and warmed to his task. Hope lifted him. He'd get the reports out all right this way. Allison typed obediently at first. But gradually her rising interest broke into questions. The picture of his mission began to take form for her. He answered her questions readily. Told her of the estimated amount of quicksilver to be found in the volcanic Quiche highlands. Of the huge mining and transportation system ready to be hurled into the country the moment Quiche permission was given. "You'll get it, I know you will!" she said. Excitement was like a trace on her. "Renaldo will help you."

4500 Wildcat Wells For Texas Wanted

HOUSTON, April 26 (AP)—Drilling of at least 4500 wildcat wells in 1943 is the hope of the petroleum administration for war. D. R. Knowlton, national director of production for the P. A. W. said today. This would represent a 50 per cent increase in wildcatting over last year. Knowlton observed, and the increase is considered vital because of the unsatisfactory results in finding oil reserves during the past few years. The Texas Gulf Coast and West Texas are considered the principal reserve sources for oil supply in the nation. Knowlton said. The P. A. W. fully realizes, he noted, that the hoped for increase in wildcat tests will be considerably handicapped by the scarcity of manpower and materials. However, he said, the P. A. W. intends to assist in overcoming these problems to the utmost of its ability. CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS. TO: B. Prater, known also as B. F. Prater, and wife, Minnie Prater, if living, and, if not living, the heirs, their heirs, and legal representatives of each of such persons. GREETING: You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock a. m. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 7th day of June, A. D. 1943, at or before 10 o'clock a. m., before the Honorable 31st District Court of Gray County, Texas, as the Court House in Pampa, Texas, said petition being filed in said Court on the 22nd day of April, A. D. 1943, and the file number of said suit being No. 7297.

Subs Are Active In Mediterranean

BY WES GALLAGHER ABOARD A SUBMARINE SHIP SOMEWHERE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, April 21 (Delayed)—A senior submarine officer who has just completed a tour of submarine bases declared today that "we have the maximum number of underwater boats possible concentrating on the Axis supply line to Tunisia," and revealed that one Royal navy submarine flotilla alone has sunk or disabled 50 large enemy ships since November 8. He said the submarines had been making great inroads on Axis shipping, forcing the Axis to depend on supplies by air, and asserted that "the combined efforts of the American and RAF air forces with submarines are playing a decisive part in the defeat of the Axis in Africa."
