

5,746 Pledged Here

The Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) went off the air with a $5746.00 in pledges.

After the show, Lewis said, "In this Presidential campaign year, one group has already won by a landslide -- the children and adults afflicted by muscular dystrophy and related disorders. The people of America once again showed that they have love and compassion for those less fortunate unmatched in the world. Every dollar they pledged was a vote of support for MDA's efforts to win the fight against muscular dystrophy and related diseases."

Dozens of entertainers from stage, screen and television performed on the Telethon. Frank Sinatra appeared live during his performance at Resorts International Hotel in Atlantic City via special hook-up and Barry Manilow appeared direct from his concert at the Greek Theatre in Los Angeles. A one-hour network feed originating at the studios of WNEW-TV, New York, featured Liza Minnelli. The star-studded lineup also included Blondie, Tony Bennett, Erik Estrada, Chad Everett, Marvin Hamlisch, David Hartman, Paul McCartney & Wings, Shirley MacLaine, Neil Sedaka, Donny and Marie Osmond, Mel Torme, Ben Vereen and Andy Williams. Telethon anchorman Ed McMahon backed up Lewis for the eighth consecutive year.

Telethon '80 was broadcast by a specially assembled "Love Network" of more than 200 television stations in the continental U.S., Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico. In Canada, the Global Television Network in Toronto and local cable outlets brought the show to viewers throughout the country.

The funds raised by the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon support MDA's intensive research effort and patient care program. The Association sponsors more than 750 individual research projects and 10 university-based research/clinical centers. In addition, MDA maintains more than 220 clinics in the U.S., including Puerto Rico and Guam, that provide services free of charge to patients afflicted by the 40 neuromuscular diseases covered by the Association.

Lynx meet Elks there

The native habitat of the Lynx and the Elk is wild while the native habitat of the Spearman Lynx and Stratford Elks is the gridiron -- and the Spit 'n' Whistle Club strategists say that is going to be wild come 8 p.m. kickoff at Stratford, Friday night.

Students in both cities agree with them, alums in both places agree with them -- and the coaches all chuckle.

There is a certain logic to it. The Elks are a district championship team; it's the first game of the season and those hulks will be working off the summer and -- as one fan put it -- "neither team will be highly polished this early in the season but every boy out there will be working himself ankle-deep in his position and whatever does happen will be full bore!"

A close-to-the-chest strategist, Lynx Coach Jimmy Duncan had not released his starters at press time. In another era, this would bother fans. They wanted to know ahead of time so they could decide whether a coach knew what he was doing or not. Now, fans have come to appreciate the subtleties of last minute strategy and are having fun seeing if they can second guess starting lineup choices.

Stratford Elks Coach Jack Needham will be starting a line that averages almost 200 pounds per man with a backfield about 10 pounds per man lighter.

Lee Riffe (172) will be quarterbacking the Elks with Roger Allen (214) snapping the ball from center. Allen will also hold the noseguard spot on the defense. With Riffe in the backfield will be Flanker Darrell White (167), Right Halfback Jim Everson (172) and Left Halfback Buddy Schertler (142).

On defense, White and Everson will be linebackers with Schertler as roving back.

On defense, Duran and Blake will still hold the tackle positions and Springfield will move to left end. Rodney Roberson will be the defensive right end while Ronnie Pulliam will be at the right corner and Matt Coble at the left corner.

Coach Needham said five of the offensive players were back from last season while only two men on defense were veterans.

Al Mullins, Buddy Corner and Bruce Dollar round out Needham's coaching staff at Stratford.

At this point, the boys in the back booth (closest to the coffee pot) put away the Quia Board.

and got their heads over the Elks' starting lineup and the Lynx roster -- and this is what they came up with:

Coach Duncan COULD (conceivably) field a starting line that outweighed the Elks almost five pounds. Also, these good ol' boys have spotted the fact that this POSSIBLE line would have 165 pounds for the lightest man, an end. This against the fact that Elks Mentor Jack Needham is fielding 126 pound split end Blair Frizzell.

It should be emphasized here -- again! -- that these hypothetical strategies are not from your bone fide, tried, true and trained coaching staff but from some truly "psyched up" fans who are already squeezing some excitement from the coming grid season before the first game is played.

--Which is one of your better signs of a good season.

Of course, all this coffee cup quarterbacking covering a lot of ground. At this particular session one of the rags chewed was whether weight counted so very much. (The Elks have a 142 pound starting back in Buddy Schertler.)

Then someone recalled little Border Conference Hardin-Simmons U. in the immediate postwar return to nitty-gritty gridiron grappling. The lightest man in the offensive line was 245 pounds. The heaviest was 292. The H-SU Cowboys also had a running back called "Little Doc" Mobley. Never "Doc" -- always "Little Doc." Weight: 145 pounds.

When Mobley ended his last season at Hardin-Simmons, successfully as always, he also had an official no-close-contest win on the title of the nation's number one ground-gainer.

Mobley's coach at H-SU was Warren Woodson who was released because he could not seem to put a team through a winning season.

Two decades later, Woodson retired while coaching at a small college in southern New Mexico. At his retirement banquet were the greats and near-greats of the gridiron fraternity. Warren Woodson went into the record books -- and is still there -- as the winningest college coach in American football history, including Knute Rockne.

Which was the good ol' boys' way of getting back to the current season by observing they sure didn't envy any coach in the area the tough competition ahead....

---And agreed to a man they would assist no further than the coffee cup and maybe, that Ouja Board.

New and Unique

Spearman is fixing to have a new and unique business called "K & S Professional Cleaning Service." Two well known local ladies are opening their own cleaning service. Mrs. Ed Williamson or "Kim" and Mrs. Terry Moore or "Sherry" are in partnership in this new venture.

Both, before they had their families have had extensive training in this area. This is more than just a housecleaning job as you do everyday. They are offering professional type cleaning services, both in private homes as well as office buildings. Both believe this type of work is an art and should be well done. They know the best as well as the quickest ways to clean your home.

They will take weekly - monthly or daily jobs as well as parties and office buildings. They are leaving one day a week open for special jobs as shampooing carpets-furniture and cleaning windows - etc.

The carpet part will not be available until sometime after the new year when they have built up their business. However, if you need your carpet cleaned, they will do it if you will rent a local shampooer. All rates for all types of jobs will be based on the size of the home, not by the hour. They will work together which means they can finish in half the time.

For information call 9-3843 or come by 112 Wanda Drive, which is Sherry's residence.

We think you will find their rates reasonable and their work is guaranteed to your satisfaction.

Equity meeting set

Congressman Jack Hightower will deliver the keynote address at the 61st annual meeting of the Perryton Equity exchange, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at PHS. More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend the meeting, which includes a barbeque dinner and general business meeting.

Dinner will be served from 6:30 to 7:45 in the cafeteria of Perryton high school. The business meeting will begin at 8 in the air-conditioned school auditorium. William Gray, president of the Equity board, will preside.

Important business to be conducted includes proposed by-law changes, election of board of directors, and recommendation for distribution of earnings. Kenneth Allen will give a manager's report and financial statement.

Eight of the Equity's 25 director spots are to be filled. Six of the eight are past directors who will be running for re-election. These include L. M. Womble, secretary of the board, Nolan Holt, first vice president, both from Spearman, Jerry Barnett of Balco, George Kamas of Knowles, Dale McLain of Perryton, and Charles Reid of Morse.

John Armes, who was appointed this year to fill an unexpired term, is seeking a place on the board as is Ivan Headrick of Liberal, who seeks the position vacated by Charles Leicht. All of these terms are for three-years.

The annual meeting is being held in fall in contrast to spring this year for the first time. The meeting date was moved because company officials were rushed in providing an audit, as the Equity's fiscal year ends on March 31, barely in time for the spring meeting. Then, too, it is thought that area farmers could more conveniently attend a meeting in the fall when there is little or no harvesting or planting activity.

A Boy Scout Honor Guard will lead the group in the Pledge of Allegiance and John Ellzey is expected to deliver a song of patriotism and close the meeting with The Lord's Prayer.

The 1979-80 board of directors have included Gray, Womble, Allen, Holt, Don Williams, Armes, Barnett, Art Belts, Jimmie Brown, Ron Engelbrecht, Dean Gregg, Fred Groves, George Kamas, Jim Latham, Dean Leighnor, Cleton Lynch, Thane McCloy, L. L. McGarrugh, McLain, Carl Morris, Ralph Pattison, Wendel Peckenpaugh, Reid, and John Trindle.

Serving as an advisory board were Ray Osborne, Steve Kinsey, Larry Holt, Wesley Jarvis, Stan Pribble, Harry Wilkinson, Bruce Gum, Glenn White, Bobby Githens, Gerald Radcliff, Carl Kunselman, Gary Dixon, Brad Schultz, Kerry Lyle Wheeler, Bill Curry, Benny Conley, Leon Caldwell, Terry Pattison, David Peckenpaugh, Delbert McCloy, Joe Vandenburg, Sam Littau, Bryan Jones, and Jerry Hart.

Change The World

Because prayer is so important to the cause of World Evangelism, as well as to a Christian's personal growth in Jesus Christ, a CHANGE THE WORLD SCHOOL OF PRAYER has been scheduled for Spearman. The Change the World School of Prayer is an interdenominational effort presented by World Literature Crusade for the purpose of training Christians to pray for their world. More than 415 denominations and missionary groups around the world have cooperated with World Literature Crusade.

This will be the second time that there has been a Change the World School of Prayer in Spearman and it will be conducted from 7:00 to 10 p.m. each evening, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 8-9-10.

The School includes an intense look at how to develop a personal prayer life and will be held at the First Christian Church. The Rev. Edward D. Freeman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, is the local coordinator. Bob Boxwell is the assistant coordinator.

The Change the World School of Prayer is financed by the tuition of those who attend. All who register and attend will receive a comprehensive manual on prayer, featuring insights from over seventy-five authors on this vital subject.

The standard tuition is $30 per person. But if five or more people from a church enroll, they can attend for a special group rate of $20 a person. Additional members of an immediate family, living at the same address, may attend for $15 each. Alumni may register for $5.

The Change the World School of Prayer is only the beginning in helping the local church establish effective, on-going prayer ministries. Special follow-up material for your church will be available for pastors and lay leaders at the Change the World School of Prayer.

Irrigation System Copes

HALFWAY--Results of two years of testing of a new irrigation system which minimizes adverse effects of soil and climatic conditions of West Texas will be explained at the 71st annual Field Day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock and Halfway.

This year's program will be from 12:30 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, September 9, at the Halfway research site, 14 miles west of Plainview on U.S. Hwy. 70. The demonstration of the low energy precision application (LEPA) irrigation system, developed and tested with furrow diking to increase rainfall retention, will be one of four featured stops on the field tour of the research station.

The LEPA system minimizes soil and climatic variables which adversely influence irrigation efficiencies on the Texas High Plains, said Dr. William M. Lyle, research agricultural engineer.

News In Genetic Research

PLAINVIEW--The latest news in genetic research will be discussed and breeding nurseries will be toured during a field day Thursday, Sept. 4th, at the Southwestern Division headquarters of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc.

Farmers and dealers from throughout the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles and New Mexico are invited to attend the field day, which has become an annual event sponsored by Pioneer. Guided tours will be held from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

A noon luncheon will be provided for those who attend the field day. There will be no charge for the tour or meal. Corn, cotton and sorghum breeders will discuss the new varieties Pioneer has to offer for the coming planting season. The Pioneer agronomy service team will be on hand to answer questions.

A highlight of the field day will be a discussion of the results Pioneer has had with its new herbicide-safened sorghum seed. The safened seed will be available for 1981 planting for farmers who wish to use Bicep and Milocep herbicides to control grass.

The progress that has been made in developing cotton hybrids will also be presented at the field day.

The headquarters of the Southwestern Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. is located one mile north of Plainview city limits on Pioneer Road, off the business route of U.S. 87, one-half mile east of the Producers Grain Corporation elevator. Pioneer personnel will direct visitors once they reach the complex.

Garcia Testifies

Texas representative Matt Garcia of San Antonio faced tough questioning from the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee holding confirmation hearings on his appointment as head of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Republican members of the committee appeared ready to stall the confirmation of Garcia, a Democrat and longtime supporter of President Carter, until after the Nov. 4 election.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN -- The Brilab trial of House Speaker Billy Clayton will open this week in a Houston federal court, after a week of pretrial hearings on about 50 defense motions.

Clayton is charged with taking a $5,000 bribe in exchange for his influence in awarding a lucrative state employee insurance contract.

Clayton, himself, is optimistic he will be found innocent, and, in fact, he pushed hard for this early trial date to clear his name before the general election on Nov. 4. He is seeking an unprecedented fourth term as Texas House Speaker.

The millionaire farmer-businessman from the Panhandle does not lack for supporters in the Legislature. If he is cleared early, he can probably count on that support and nail down his fourth term.

Should the trial linger on, Clayton may become a political liability to those supporters. Clayton's opposition may well try to make him an issue in the last few weeks of the campaign season.

The Texas House seems to have recovered from the initial shock of the indictment announcements, and business goes on as usual. Speculation on the trial's outcome is not a wide or loud topic. Clayton's faction fully expects him to be acquitted, his opposition expects him to fall.

Medicaid Dispute

The dispute over who will receive the state's lucrative Medicaid contract will cost the taxpayers an additional $100 million. The Texas Department of Human Resources board will spend that much on an independent consulting firm to evaluate controversial bids.

The Medicaid saga, short but not sweet, began this summer when the board voted to give the contract to low-bidder Bradford National Co. of New York instead of Texas millionaire H. Ross Perot's Austin-based company (which held the 1980 contract).

Perot then met privately with each board member and asked the bid be reconsidered. The board did reconsider it, but Bradford threatened to sue and took full page ads in several major newspapers in a public plea. Perot's company threatened a lawsuit and the board found itself between a rock and a hard place. The independent consulting firm it hopes to hire should supply data the board will need to avoid a lawsuit from either direction.

Something For Everyone

4-H projects have something for everyone.

4-H, the youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, offers exciting projects and activities for every young person who has a curious desire to learn, says Peggy Winegarner, County 4-H program coordinator with the Extension Service.

It encourages learning by doing, and it provides youth with citizenship and leadership skills.

4-H wants to involve all youth -- rural, urban, suburban, teens, pre-teens, from all races, ethnic and economic backgrounds, says Mrs. Winegarner.

4-H youth learn, work and play together.

In 4-H, young people can learn how to make things, grow things, take care of things, and repair things in a wide variety of projects.

Projects are personal-choice decisions.

4-H youth can select what they want to do.

Projects include nature study, wildlife, entomology, animal science, beef cattle, horse and pony and dog care.

Also, plant science, gardening, field crops, home economics, foods and nutrition, clothing, automotive, bicycle, small engines, mechanics and electricity.

Still others are personal development, citizenship, leadership, and public speaking, just to mention a few.

Exciting things are happening in 4-H, emphasizes Mrs. Winegarner. To be a part of the action, contact the County Extension office. 4-H -- it is shaping tomorrow's world.

If human beings knew half what they think they know, the world would be much better off today.

YMCA News

BOXING CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

Ray Thomas, coordinator and coach of the YMCA Boxing Club, asks parents and boys (ages 6 & up) to come to an organizational meeting tonight (Thursday), at the YMCA. Time 7:30 p.m. The AAU boxing program will be getting under way this month, as meets already have been scheduled in Stinnett on October 4 and Spearman on October 11.

Also, the YMCA and Boxing Club would like to thank Jr. Lusby Cats for being a corporate sponsor for this year's boxing club. His initial sponsorship will help with entry fees and other necessities for getting the club going this fall.

BOYS FLAG FOOTBALL & GIRLS CHEERLEADING BEGIN SATURDAY

Boys and girls will meet on Saturday, September 6 for two programs of the YMCA. Girls will have a cheerleading clinic from 9:00 - 3:30 p.m. at the YMCA, preparing for a program of cheerleading teams in the boys' flag football program. Cindy Schneider is coordinating, with the school cheerleaders, to have the Saturday Clinic. At 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, the boys will be meeting at Old Lynx Stadium, behind the YMCA, for a Flag Football Clinic.

The Drinking Age

This fall the legal drinking age rises from 18 to 19 in Georgia and Florida, two more states which joined the trend to raise the age limit from eighteen. Another study, now underway in Massachusetts, is likely to add impetus to the trend.

Dr. Richard Douglas, of the University of Michigan, who produced two convincing studies of the increase in death from accidents when the drinking age was lowered, was recently quoted as saying that a new study at Boston University, weighing the effect of the hiked legal age in Massachusetts, would add significant factual data in this field.

In September, data from a study conducted in Michigan on the effect of the age hike there to 21-in effect now over a year now-will be released. All indications are that it will be conclusive evidence many lives have been saved.

Although Wisconsin, home of many breweries, rejected a move to hike its drinking age this year, the trend throughout the country is toward raising the legal drinking age. Such changes have already saved the lives of many young people-and innocent victims-and reduced the number of traffic accidents.

Alcoholic consumption, should, of course, be subject to strict laws. Other drug use is tightly controlled; yet we have been allowing glamorous advertisements about alcoholic beverages to go into every home to every age via television, and hard liquor has been sold freely to teen agers, many of whom are unprepared to cope with its effects, and die or kill or ruin their lives as a result-and those of others.

People who go to diet doctors often have a wait problem.

The Bentons

THE BENTONS - Communicators - using sacred music and the spoken word will be appearing at First Christian Church on Sept. 14th and Sept. 15th, 7:30 P.M. and Monday morning 9:30 a.m., Monday afternoon 2:00 p.m.

In their nineteenth year of full time ministry, THE BENTONS have recorded seven albums, appearing in over forty denominations in most of the states east of the Rockies.

D. Dean Benton was ordained in 1960, pastoring United Methodist Churches in Iowa and Illinois, a Community Church and an Open Bible Standard Church. A graduate of Open Bible College, Upper Iowa College and Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary, Dean is also an author with four books, and articles in leading religious publications such as Christian Life, Christian Reader, The Message, Advance and others.

Carole Benton, piano player, wife, mother and singer joins her husband in each concert. She is currently writing a book for pre-teens. Her songs are used in concert, and on recordings.

Two teens, daughter Debi and son Doug fill out the quartet. Debi has been published by Scripture Press and POWER. Doug is featured as soloist, and bass singer.

Tuition Hike Sought

A legislative panel last week recommended higher faculty pay and double minimum tuition rates for college and university students.

If approved by the 1981 Legislature, the recommendations would raise faculty salaries by 40 percent and raise tuition at medical schools by 900 percent — from $400 to $3,600 a year.

The Special Committee on Higher Education Financing in Texas, which formed the recommendations, is headed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Clayton. Texas ranks 46th in the nation in tuition rates.

State and Religion

A Texas House committee upheld the state's Child Care Licensing Act, the main bone of contention in the running battle between the state and evangelist Lestor Roloff over regulation of his children's schools.

The committee found no constitutional problems with the act which requires all such school facilities to be licensed by the state. Roloff had refused to seek the license, calling it a state invasion into the domain of his church. He was forced to temporarily close his facilities.

The committee did recommend the Legislature clarify its intent with respect to religious liberty and religious education.

The Benton's seminar ministry is conducted in about fifty communities a year. These workshops on Marriage and Family Enrichment, Life-planning, Dealing with depression, Goal setting and evangelism motivation are called EPICS. They are Expanding Possibilities Intentionally Conferences.

During the concert, this family presents a program of familiar hymns, new sacred songs and original material in a uniquely smooth style.

The Bentons and Pastor Don Wirsdorfer of the First Christian Church invite you to this concert and comment.

A nursery will be provided.

Texas Heritage Project

AUSTIN—The Texas Heritage Project, a statewide educational and patriotic program designed to strengthen a spirit of pride in and renewed patriotism for all Texans was launched during official ceremonies this week at the State Capitol.

This dynamic program is a cooperative endeavor of the Texas Historical Foundation, a nonprofit group formed to preserve, promote and protect the heritage of Texas, and the Texas Historical Commission, the state preservation agency. Funds were made possible by a grant from the Moody Foundation of Galveston.

Governor William P. Clements, Jr. endorsed the Texas Heritage Project. "It is one of the finest programs to be started in Texas in many years. An emphasis on the reeducation and celebration of Texas patriotism is what the people of Texas need to rekindle the unique spirit of Texas. I particularly commend the increased emphasis that is being placed on future observances of Texas patriotic days."

To kick off this patriotic reeducation, Governor Clements issued a proclamation designating September 1-7 Texas Navy Week and called upon all Texans to celebrate the important role that the Navies of Texas played in achieving our freedom.

The comprehensive and promotional Texas pride project has as one of its goals the revival of interest in such other Texas patriotic days as Confederate Heroes Day, Cinco de Mayo, Emancipation Day, Texas Pioneer's Day, Stephen F. Austin Day, Texas Independence and Flag Day and Battle of San Jacinto Day.

The Texas Heritage Project hopes by reviving an interest in such days a wider appreciation and observance of Texas patriotic days will be encouraged within the local communities.

Another significant contribution of the Texas Heritage Project will be the compiling of business histories and biographical sketches of early Texans to be housed in the State Archives enabling all Texans access to research material.

This goal of the Texas Heritage Project will bring neglected periods of time back into focus and will serve to illustrate the vital role that our free enterprise system, Texas Style, has served in the growth and development of the Southwest.

To accomplish these facets of the Texas Heritage Project will be the achievement of the volunteers in all of the counties of Texas.

In Hansford County, the Texas Heritage Project County Historical Commission Chairman is Fred Groves.

"Explaining Our Universe"

LUBBOCK—The first in a series of locally-produced shows on "Exploring Our Universe" begins at the Texas Tech University Moody Planetarium Sept. 2.

"Exploring Our Universe: Light" will follow the evolution of man's understanding of light, "the primary clue given to man for revealing the mysteries of the universe," according to the introduction to the presentation.

The show will trace man's quest for knowledge from primitive observations of the heavens through invention of the telescope, spectroscopy and development of today's modern science of astronomy.

This is the first Moody Planetarium show to be produced in its entirety by the Planetarium committee and staff. Recording was directed by Stephen J. Wade, audio-visual technician at The Museum of Texas Tech University. Narrator is Dr. John R. Nevis, associate professor in the College of Education.

The show is tentatively scheduled to run through November, said Judith T. Hunter, supervisor for education at The Museum. The second of the locally-produced series, "Exploring Our Universe: Space Travel," will follow in early 1981.

"Exploring Our Universe: Light" can be seen at 2:30 p.m. weekdays and at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Cost is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. West Texas Museum Association members, Ranching Heritage Association members and Docent-Volunteer Guild members will be admitted free.

Texas Tourist Brochures

AUSTIN—Citing his commitment to enhance trade, tourism, and friendly relations between Texas and Mexico, Gov. Bill Clements in a State Capitol ceremony today presented Mexico Consul Victor Romero Lopez first copies of a colorful new Texas tourist brochure designed especially for Mexican visitors.

Echoing the governor's hopes for closer international ties, Consul Romero said that tourist literature in Spanish is a courteous and effective way to serve visitors from Mexico.

"This promotes people-to-people contact," the consul added, "which is the best way to strengthen bonds between nations."

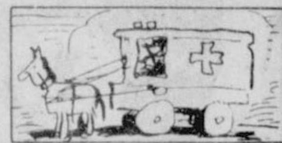

The Spanish-language brochure portrays Texas vacation opportunities in every season of the year. Color photos depict rides at Six Flags and Astro-world, sunny beach and golf scenes, plus major-league sports, nightclubbing and elegant dining.

Commenting on a roller coaster scene, Consul Romero said, "I'll leave that to my children, while I concentrate on this," pointing out a luscious-looking Texas rib-eye steak.

Participating in the ceremony was Mark Goode, engineer-director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. Goode's department operates the state's tourist bureaus and prints a variety of Texas travel literature including the new Mexican brochure.

Published at the governor's request, the brochure is the latest in a series of international initiatives launched by Gov. Clements. Since his inaugural year and a half ago, Gov. Clements has paid protocol visits to all Mexican border states, and has hosted each of those state governors in Austin.

Is it overpowering your electric bill?

Chances are, you've been seeing higher electric bills lately as a result of summer heat. The hotter it gets outside, the higher your electric bill gets, right? Well, with wise energy management, you could probably be paying less. Here's what to do:

1) Make your home as air-tight as possible and 2) insulate properly. The battle against heat can be fierce, so do your air conditioner a favor. Take every step you can to keep cooled air in and hot air out. Seal up cracks by caulking and installing weatherstripping around windows and doors. Fend off penetrating heat from outside by insulating your attic, ceiling and walls correctly. Plus, one more tip—raise your thermostat from 72° to 78°. This action alone can save you up to 50% on your cooling costs!

So when heat threatens to inflate your electric bill, fight back with this energy saving plan. You'll use less energy and pay lower electric bills!
