HICKMAN DENIED TOMS TRIAL DELAY

TEXAS COTTON FIRM CHARGED IN PRICE FUSS

SENATE PROBE SLATED FOR CLAYTON AND OTHERS, IS CLAIM

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Retracting his charge that the cotton market is manipulated by large trading concerns, Representative Rankin, Democrat, Mississippi, declared in the house today that the firm of Anderson, Clayton and company of Houston, Texas, and others are "slated for an investigation" by the senate and house and the department of justice.

Rankin said that W. L. Clayton could not deny that his firm and others had shipped from the New Orleans territory and concentrated in New York between 140,000 and 200,000 bales—largely transfer cotton—at a loss of from $4 to $5 a bale, practically all of which still remains in New York and was shipped there within the last 16 months to be used as a club in manipulating the market and depressing prices.

He continued with the prediction that an investigation is imminent "that is likely to prove the most interesting investigation they have ever faced."

Probe Into Charge Ordered By Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—An inquiry into the operation of cotton exchanges, millers and the department of agriculture to ascertain whether there has been any effort at price manipulation of cotton was ordered by the senate today.

HOUSE PASSES PRO LAW FUND

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL IN APPROPRIATION IS APPROVED

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The house today approved a bill for the prohibition of enforcement of the law over prohibition enforcement and has approved unchanged an appropriation committee's recommendation of $12,790,000 for enforcement activities during the next fiscal year.

That section of the measure, always the inspiration for an airing of views on prohibition, was approved after large majorities had voted off numerous attempts to amend it and restrict expenditure of the funds. One item that remained intact in the treasury bill, which includes the prohibition appropriation, was $28,640,000 for the guard, part of which is spent in the guard's campaign against rum runners.

Callaway Case Is Called Here Today

With seventy-five special veniremen present, selection of the jury for the trial of P. T. Calloway, charged with criminal assault, got under way this afternoon at 2 o'clock before Judge Homer L. Phear in the 72nd district court.

Court officials intimated that the afternoon would be spent in the selection of the jury while regular procedure of the trial will be started in the morning.

Blood and Greenhaw represent the defendant.

MARTIN RUBY CASE REVERSED

POSSIBILITY OF THIRD PERSON IN MURDER IS SEEN

(By the Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—The possibility that a person other than Dr. Charles G. McMillan had a motive for the slaying of the wealthy Mrs. Amelia Appleby has been injected by the defense attorneys into the trial of the physician accused of the murder of the woman.

This was indicated as a probable defense of the doctor yesterday when one of his attorneys asked the prospective jurors "if it appeared that another man who had a strong motive for the killing of Mrs. Appleby would you consider the evidence just as seriously as the state's testimony against Dr. McMillan?"

The attorneys later refused to explain the line of questioning. Eight women and four men occupied seats in the jury box at the close of court last night.

BEGINNING OF WORK ON HUGE PROJECT SEEN

COMPROMISE REACHED IN WATER ROW MAY BRING EARLY WORK

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—The worth agreement on the Syndicate Power company-West Texas issue over water rights, is expected to clear the way for beginning of work on one or more of the huge power dams for which Jay Alexander and the Syndicate Power company holds permits in Travis and Burnet counties.

Development of these power projects was delayed after the Brown-wood protest was made against the use of the necessary water. Options costing over $200,000, which expired January 1 of this year, have been renewed, covering land which may be inundated when the dams are built.

The five proposed dams are estimated to cost $25,000,000 and it has been understood throughout the proceedings that the utility interests were behind Alexander in the proposed development.

Agreement Sent In For Approval

FORT WORTH, Feb. 15.—The compromise agreement yesterday by the special committee of five representing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and representatives of the Power Syndicate and Texas Rice growers in the water rights controversy today was forwarded to legislators of the chamber for approval.

Under terms of the agreement the Syndicate Power company agrees to surrender all but 800,000 acre feet of water annually of its legal rights to 1,225,000 acre feet of the Colorado river together with water from South Texas rice growers to water above the proposed Hamilton dam in Burnet and Llano counties.

The agreement was approved last night by R. W. Hayne, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The conference here continued for two days in executive session at which time witnesses were heard and the question was thoroughly discussed.

DIES IN FIRE

(By Associated Press) INDEPENDENCE, Kan., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Barnabas Boos, 59, was burned to death here today when fire destroyed a stork pavilion owned by C. Burns. Boos was sleeping in the building.

STATE FAILED TO FIX FUNDS CUSTODY, HELD

EX-CITY MANAGER IS GIVEN NEW TRIAL IN APPEALS DECISION

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—Believing the state failed to show that M. S. Ruby, as former Lubbock, Texas, city manager, had misappropriated public funds, the Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed and remanded Ruby's two year conviction on a charge of misappropriation of such money.

Ruby was claimed to have about $147 appropriated to himself.

Another is reversed. A reversal also will send back for another trial the case of O. H. Tiley, fined $50 in Hardeman county for allegedly practicing medicine without license. The court held the indictment faulty in that it charged Tiley treated one man while testimony indicated another was the patient.

The 20-year sentence assessed Joe Minor for the killing of C. W. Wyatt, Hunt county, was the largest affirmed. It was the state's claim that Wyatt was slain through the administration of chloroform.

Ruby, former city manager of Lubbock, was convicted in 25th district court here at the last April term. Just one week following the conviction of J. R. Germany, former city secretary, in whose case a reversal also was ruled last week on a similar charge.

Arguments on behalf of the defendant, Ruby, were made before the Court of Criminal Appeals last November by Chas. C. Triplett, local attorney, who said today that about fifty questions of alleged error in trial court were cited, but that the appeals court took into consideration only the one set out above.

Mr. Ruby, who is at liberty on appeal bond, is now a resident of San Antonio, where he is employed by a utilities company.

Ruling Given On Commitment Fee

AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—A peace officer is not permitted under the law to charge a $1 "commitment" fee.

TRIBUTE PAID WAR VETERANS

SERVICE IS CENTERED AROUND THE MAST OF BATTLESHIP MAINE

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Thirty years ago today the battleship Maine, the gallant Sigbee in command, was blown up in Havana harbor.

Today the mast of the historic vessel in Arlington Cemetery was a mecca for a little group of veterans of the war that followed to pay tribute to the memory of the two officers and 264 men who were killed so suddenly in the disaster 22 days after the Maine arrived in Cuban waters on a peaceful mission.

Sponsors of the services were the ladies auxiliary of the Spanish war veterans and the lineal society of the Spanish war. Margaret E. Burns president of the auxiliary, and Ethel A. Jones, of the lineal society, had wreaths from President Coolidge to place at the base of the well preserved shaft.

Near by, in the riding hall at Fort Meyer, Va., another group of the United Spanish war veterans congregated for similar exercises and to listen to addresses by Assistant Secretary of War Robbins, Dr. Rafael R. Altamira, counselor of the Cuban embassy and representative of President Machado of Cuba, and General John J. Garrity, commander in chief of the veterans.

The marine band was on hand to furnish appropriate music.

SEEKS FREEDOM

One of the richest young women in the southwest, Mrs. Anne Burnett Waggoner of Fort Worth, has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Guy L. Waggoner, who is wealthy in his own right. She is the granddaughter of the late Burk Burnett, pioneer who became a millionaire cattleman and oil magnate.

Downing Case

ABILENE, Feb. 15.—The case of Jim Downing, charged with murder in the death of Joe Mars, inmate of the Abilene state hospital for epileptics on Jan. 12 when Downing was an attendant, was to go to the jury shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon.

But 40 minutes of argument remained after District Judge Milburn S. Long recessed court at noon.

Eastern Bondage

AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—Texas can escape its "financial bondage" to the north and east by manufacturing its own products from raw materials produced in the state, instead of sending them north and east for manufacturing and buying them back at prices now sustained by Republican tariff policies.

Gov. Dan Moody told the joint conference of the Texas State Manufacturers' association and the Texas Industrial committee here Wednesday.

The governor said the south's lack of factories and Republican tariff policies keep this section in financial subservience to the north and east. He advocated a campaign to induce removal of factories to Texas by "showing what we have to offer."

Plunkett Retires

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Rear Admiral Charles Fehall Plunkett, whose vigorous pleas for preparedness at a larger navy recently caused a stir in official Washington and European capitals, on his 64th birthday anniversary today retired after 48 years service in the navy.

While the flag on the receiving ship Seattle was lowered and a 13-gun salute was fired the veteran officer quit command of the third naval district and the navy yard at Brooklyn to enter private business.

Killed In Wreck

LAKE CHARLES, La., Feb. 15.—Charles Capps of Winnsboro, Texas, was fatally injured when an automobile in which he was riding turned over near Sulphur last night.

Albert Martbert and Darrel Maes of Dallas, other occupants of the car, were slightly injured. Capps was enroute to Shreveport. His widow and brother survive.

What is the proposal? asked Lindbergh. "He says he is going to ask you to stop stunt flying."

"Of course I can't answer that offhand and say what my course will be," he replied. "I don't consider what I have been doing as hazardous flying in the sense that I have taken unnecessary risks. At the outset when new methods of transportation are coming into use there must be pioneers to show the way and some of them are killed. But the ones who do the pioneering are the last ones to think of the hazards."

TWO CONVICTS SENTENCED TO DEATH, INSANE

SIX MORE CONDEMNED MEN HELD SANE BY OKLAHOMA BOARD

(By Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 15.—Two of the eight men under death sentence in Oklahoma were found insane in a report of a committee of state alienists, made public today by Governor Henry S. Johnston. Five other convicts were held to be sane and one still is under observation.

Dave Brown, youthful bank bandit whose escape from the electric chair already was assured by a stipulation of attorneys, and George Call, who has killed two men within the walls of the state penitentiary, are the men held insane.

One Under Observation Joseph Hubka, convicted of killing his brother-in-law, Joe Novoty, after a family quarrel over a valuable oil estate, is still under observation.

Brown was sentenced to death by Judge Charles Swindall under a statute providing the death penalty for robbery with fire arms, although no shot was fired in the robbery of the bank at Jet, Okla., to which he pleaded guilty. State and defense attorneys agreed that Brown's sentence should be modified when his appeal was heard recently by the criminal court of appeals.

Kills Prison Guard Call, sent to the state penitentiary on a robbery conviction, killed his cell mate. Later he killed a wall guard in an attempt to escape.

These held sane were Walter Wigger, who recently exhausted his last legal remedy in an attempt to escape the death penalty for the slaying of his sweetheart, Mrs. Ruth Harris; Willie O'Neal, negro, convicted of killing M. M. Hipsner, Oklahoma City, who was shot by a police officer; Bruster, negro, convicted of murdering Willie Heenan, white, in Muskogee county; Tom Gustaf, convicted of a murder in Pottawatomie county.

LINDY TO KEEP UP TEST HOPS

FLIER COUNTERS TO THE OFFICIAL PLEA FOR CESSATION

(By Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will continue his work of experimental flying despite the hazards connected with it. He said, however, that he had no definite plans at the present except to try to rest in private life.

"There are so many things to be done," he said, "improvements in aviation are certain. They must come and they cannot be made unless experiments are made."

Stopped Yesterday As Col. Lindbergh was leaving yesterday following an exhibition flight before 60,000 school children along the river front, he was stopped by a reporter who asked him his opinion of Secretary of War Davis' proposal.

"What is the proposal?" asked Lindbergh. "He says he is going to ask you to stop stunt flying."

"Of course I can't answer that offhand and say what my course will be," he replied. "I don't consider what I have been doing as hazardous flying in the sense that I have taken unnecessary risks. At the outset when new methods of transportation are coming into use there must be pioneers to show the way and some of them are killed. But the ones who do the pioneering are the last ones to think of the hazards."

$8,000 JUDGMENT AWARDED CITY IN SUIT ON GERMANY

Judgment for $8,000 in favor of the city of Lubbock resulted from a compromise today in the 29th district court between the attorneys in the suit of the city of Lubbock versus J. R. Germany and the Fidelity and Deposit company, of Maryland, for $20,000. The suit is an outgrowth of alleged misappropriation of the city's funds during Germany's administration as a city official in 1925.

The settlement marks the close of the suit which has been up before the court for the past two years.

Lockhart and Garrard, and Bean and Klett were attorneys for the city. Judge E. L. Klett acted in the capacity of city attorney. The defendant, Germany was represented by Vickers, Campbell and Schenck while Albert B. Hall, of Dallas, represented the bonding company.

PAN-AM UNION CONVENTION IS TO BE RATIFIED

ARGENTINE MEMBERS ABSENT FROM MEET; BELIEVE RESIGNED

(By Associated Press) HAVANA, Feb. 15.—The Pan-American union committee today unanimously approved the proposal that the Pan-American union convention shall be signed by all conforming delegates here, ratifications to be communicated to the Cuban government, which will send authenticated copies of the convention to all the American governments.

The Argentine delegates to the sixth Pan-American conference, to appear at the morning session of the committee on Pan-American union affairs, caused rapidly spreading rumors that Dr. Pueyrredon had already sent in his resignation as chairman of the Argentine delegation.

It was also rumored that Dr. Pueyrredon had resigned from his ambassadorship at Washington.

The resignation of the president of the Argentine delegation would, according to rumor, have followed categorical orders last night from the government at Buenos Aires to sign the Pan-American union convention.

Tech Minstrel To Be Given Tonight

"Sam, the Accordion Man" will feature the production of the first Tech Minstrel show at the high school auditorium tonight. It was learned today from members of the cast. A local musician will present various other musical selections as well as vocal skills, dance numbers and novelties will be included in the program which is being given in benefit of the Tech Girls Pep Squad.

Twenty-six students of the college comprise the minstrel cast which is under the direction of Mrs. Henry Mobley, local dancing and expression teacher.

COMMISSION FAILS TO SELECT GEOGRAPHY FOR SCHOOLS

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—Governor Moody is expected to call another meeting soon of the state textbook commission, which adjourned Tuesday without making a geography textbook adoption, the most coveted of the 12 books bid on by about 40 book companies.

The commission rejected all bids on agriculture and physical geography because the number and price of texts offered were considered unsatisfactory. With the regular geographies, it was a case of failure to agree between five texts offered.

Another meeting of the commission can not be held until sixty days after the governor calls it. Whether he will call for new geography bids, or let stand those that provoked the deadlock, was not decided Wednesday.

Courses in which books were adopted were Algebra, Chemistry, Physics, Primer, First Reader, Shill, Reader, Writing, Civics and Latin. In the high school courses in this list, all but the last were adopted for the latter high schools, but the basic text adopted representing the contract most sought must be used by all unclassified high schools.

The basic civics text adopted is by C. P. Patterson, University of Texas and J. B. Hubbard, Belton lawyer, and former school superintendent there. Three other Texas authors were recognized in basic textbooks, Prof. D. A. Penick, Texas University and L. C. Proctor, superintendent of Temple school, wrote the Latin text accepted, and Miss Minnie Graves, supervisor of penmanship in the Waco schools, is author of the Graves muscular system of writing contracted for.

DEFENSE CONTINUANCE MOTION REFUSED WITH TRIAL ORDERED TO PROCEED; JUDGE IS NAMED

(By The Associated Press) HALL OF JUSTICE, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—A move by attorneys for William Edward Hickman to delay the joint trial of Hickman and Welby Hunt for the murder of C. Ivy Toms was blocked by presiding Judge Carlos S. Hardy today and the case assigned to Superior Judge Elliott Craig for trial.

Jerome Walsh, Hickman's young chief counsel, presented his plea for a continuance when the trial was called in Judge Hardy's courtroom. The prosecution had announced itself ready for trial. Hunt's attorney, A. Gray Gilmer, asked by Judge Hardy if he was ready, said he would not oppose the motion for a continuance if it were only until Monday, as he had been informed.

"Are you ready?" insisted Judge Hardy. The attorney answered that he was.

Continuance Denied Judge Hardy thereupon declared that an insufficient showing for a continuance had been made and that under the new law demanding absolute proof before a continuance were granted he would be forced to deny the plea.

The two co-defendants had made their appearance almost simultaneously before Judge Hardy. They stood erectly before the judge as he read the lengthy affidavit accompanying the request for continuance.

Claim Insufficient Time This affidavit reviewed the work Hickman's attorneys had done in the previous trial, and declared they had had insufficient time to prepare for the trial of the youth's second confessed murder.

Forrest Murray, deputy district attorney, was the leader of the prosecution and was assisted by another deputy, Clifford Thoms. Hickman and Hunt sat side by side immediately behind their attorneys.

The move for a delay of the trial was approved by Judge Craig, who upheld the previous judge in denying the request for a continuance.

Walsh asked that the defendants' protest against going to trial at this time be entered into the records.

Sleever Not In Case Walsh announced that Frank Sleever, an associate counsel for Hickman in the previous trial, would not act in the present case.

The jury box was filled with eight women and four men as prospective jurors and Judge Craig read the (Turn to Page 6, Column 3, Please)

Lincoln and His Lessons in Living

A long while ago—when copper toed boots and petticoats and crinolines were in style—a gawky country boy grew to manhood in a log cabin in Indiana. All around him were other boys who grumbled over the "lack of opportunity now-a-days" and while they were talking about it Lincoln obtained an education, managed a nation during war days and still found time to be wonderfully human withal.

Probably when Our Founder started his first store in Wyoming, there were plenty of men to show him how impossible it was to succeed. Human nature hasn't changed very much since the '60's, nor since the beginning of time for that matter. The world still keeps its greatest rewards for those who travel the dusty road of individual effort, whether their work be managing a nation or a retail store.

This week let us honor not Lincoln alone, but the great lessons in living he has left behind.

SHREVEPORT BUILTS STRONGER TEAM; SLED ALLEN IS SATISFIED

SPORTS TO BE DANGEROUS IN PENNANT HUNT

ACQUISITION OF SOME HARD HITTERS WILL AID CHANCES

(By Associated Press) SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 15.—From the remnants of a team that finished in the second division last fall, owners of the Shreveport baseball club have sought by purchases and trades to build up a formidable organization for the 1928 race.

Exclusive of deals made for a small army of recruits who will report in March, the most important transactions center around the outfield and at first base. As a result of the sale of Spender Harris to Minneapolis and a trade with San Antonio that took Chief Nason from the Sports, it will be necessary to virtually rebuild the outfield whether Harris is returned, as the Sports owners expect he will be, or not, as Chink Taylor probably is due for a change of scenery and is known to be on the "block."

Two Fielders Purchased To plug one of the outfield gaps the Sports bought Andy Anderson from Buffalo of the International League and Dick Fox from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League. A competitor for Roy Moore at first base will be Gus Whalen, drafted from the South Atlantic League. Both Anderson and Fox are recommended as hard hitters and the latter was leading batter of his team in 1927.

Pete Kilduff will be back at second base; Danny Blossom, who had a short trial here last season, is the Sports' potential shortstop, while either Ernie Holman, a Lone Star League product, or Andy Woehrs will play third. Woehrs was in poor health toward the close of last season and whether he has recovered sufficiently to start the 1928 race is problematical.

Three Catchers Signed Gilthorpe Campbell, a graduate of the Shreveport high school and a star in the Cotton States League last season, where he was voted the league's most valuable player, Frank Tobin, bought from Wichita Falls and Raymond Hayworth, who was bought outright from Detroit after a trial with the Sports last season, will be the backstops.

Pitchers Grady Adkins, Homer Blankenship, Francis Karp, Chief Wilkins, Harry Thompson, Joe Brown, and possibly Albert Williamson will all be back.

Williamson and Adkins were sold to the Chicago White Sox, but may be returned to the Sports.

The Sports have parted with Outfielder Nason and Infielder Distell and Madera since the season closed. Nason and Madera were traded to San Antonio for Outfielder Phipps and Distell was sold outright to Montgomery of the Southeastern League.

To Play White Sox The Sports will open their exhibition schedule March 9 against the White Sox and are scheduled to play seventeen spring games. A two game series with Cleveland of the American League may be added.

The exhibition dates are as follows: White Sox at Shreveport March 9, 10, 11, 14, 28, 30, 31, and April 1. Syracuse at Shreveport March 16, 17, and 18. New Orleans at Shreveport April 3, 4 and 5. Shreveport at New Orleans April 7 and 8.

The first exhibition game is eight days after the Shreveport players are ordered to report March 1 being the "reporting" date, according to Manager Art Phelan. The management by Phelan began a year and a half ago, he having been obtained by Shreveport from Fort Worth.

Hudkins Demands Chance At Dundee NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Ace Hudkins serves notice today that he would quit the ring unless given an opportunity to meet Champion Joe Dundee for the middleweight title.

The Nebraska wildcat said he had raved a little fortune through boxing and that the only lure the game now offered to him was the championship.

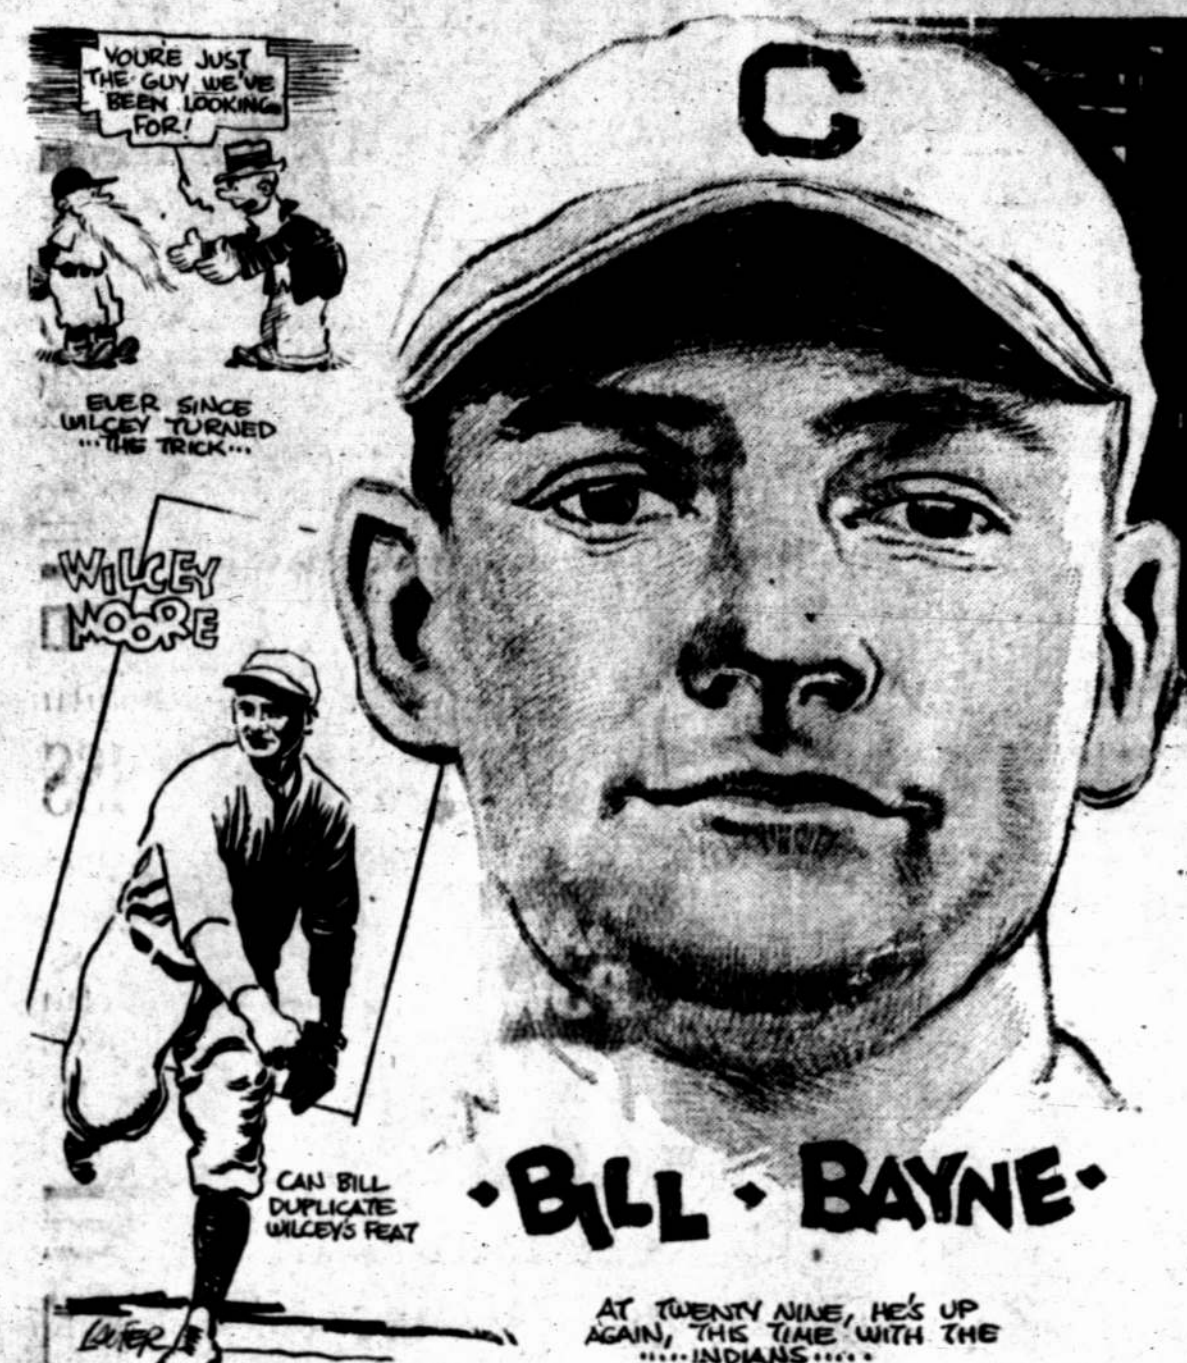

Hudkins is an 8 to 5 favorite to defeat Baker.

BAYNE OWES HIS NEW CHANCE TO SALLY GRADUATES

•BILL• BAYNE. AT TWENTY NINE, HE'S UP AGAIN, THIS TIME WITH THE INDIANS.

By BILLY EVANS Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of the Cleveland Indians is hopeful that a precedent established in 1927 will continue to hold good for 1928.

Baseball managers are just as superstitious as ball players. As a matter of fact, most pilots became inculcated with the germ of superstition in their days as ball players.

The superstition of Peckinpaugh deals with the South Atlantic league and the acquisition of southpaw Bill Bayne by the Cleveland Indians.

It dates back to Pitcher Wilcey Moore of the Yankees and Outfielder Lloyd Warner of the Pirates, the former in particular.

It seems that in 1926 a pitcher by the name of Wilcey Moore won 30 games and lost only four in the South Atlantic. Not one of the scores of scouts who saw him in action believed he had a chance to make the major grade. All turned in a negative report.

New York, however, purchased Wilcey Moore because Business Manager Ed Barrow of the Yankees was convinced that any pitcher who could win 30 games in any old league, while losing four, must have something.

Moore, labeled "bloomer" by the scouts, won 18 in seven and saved perhaps 100 more games for the Yankees. He was good for about 30 victories for the world champions in the 1927 race.

It is needless to comment on the part that Lloyd Warner played in the success of the Pittsburgh Pirates in winning the pennant. How he stepped in and filled the bill when Manager Bush and his star outfielder, "Kiki" Cuyler, disagreed and came to the parting of ways, is a matter of baseball history.

Now for the Cleveland angle and the superstition of Manager Peckinpaugh, as it relates to Pitcher Wilcey Moore and Outfielder Lloyd Warner.

Last season a pitcher, by name Bill Bayne, stepped into the picture at Greenville, S. C., and filled the shoes of the town idol, Wilcey Moore.

While Bayne's record wasn't quite as impressive as that of Moore, he returned in 26 victories as against 19 defeats, which one must admit is some pitching.

None of the big league scouts touring that section gave Bayne as much as a tumble. He received no more consideration from the diamond sleuths than did Wilcey Moore.

President Barnard of the Cleveland club, now head of the American league in looking over the minor league averages, was impressed by the figures back of Bayne's name, showing 26 wins, and landed him in the draft.

Why was Bayne overlooked by the scouts? Why was Wilcey Moore passed up? You ask. The fact that Moore was 30 years of age caused the scouts to get off him. That's considered far too old to be making a major league debut. Bayne was passed up partly for the same reason, too old, also because the St. Louis Browns held title to him for about five years before passing him on to the minors. He was considered as having had the big chance and failed.

NEW DEAL FOR AMARILLO ALL THE WAY SEEN

TWO FORMER STARS OF LUBBOCK TEAMS TO BE IN LINEUP

(By Associated Press) AMARILLO, Feb. 15.—Starting the second year in Class A baseball with a new club president, Bob Ames, and a new manager, Sled Allen, who succeeded Ed Tracey, and Joe Kelly, the Amarillo club has a healthy supply of veterans and a large recruit force with which to build the 1928 team.

Lacking only a pitcher as the time for spring training approaches, Allen believes his club will break into the first division this year to better the sixth place ranking of last fall.

Although Allen is shy recent managerial experience in organized baseball, he has a firm playing foundation which dates back to major league connections, and his success in handling semi-pro teams has installed confidence in the local fans.

Ex Lubbock Manager Recently Allen was with the Lubbock team. For years before that he worked behind the plate with the Houston, Texas, Buffs, and at one time he belonged to the St. Louis Browns.

Allen is a firm believer in young blood to keep his team going, and has brought to Amarillo the innovation of keeping a pack of youngsters at hand that can be trained and gradually brought into shape to hold down player berths.

Stormy Davis, fiery heavy hitter of a number of leagues, was sold last year to Knoxville, and Don Anderson, a semi-pro with Lubbock, will replace him in the outfield.

Swansboro Back At First In the outfield, Fred Newcomb, who was traded with Gunther and Connelly, veterans, unless Seeds, released last year by the Oklahoma City Indians, gets into shape. Seeds tried out for the infield with the Indians, and showed some promise.

Swansboro again will cover the initial sack for Amarillo, with Nuffer, the mainstay at second base. Fiedler, veteran, will be back on third base.

Carroll, who came here in a trade with Omaha for Fred Newcomb, pitcher, is expected to take charge of the short stop position, unless Jack Wright, formerly of Reading and Lubbock crowds him out of the regular lineup.

Wright, 28, in the International league, his last season, though he was idle last year.

The Texans' pitching staff will be led by Sanders, who won ten games and lost three in 23 starts last season. His hurling mates will be Mackey, veteran, Joe Newton, all veterans, with Finken and Stockton, semi-pro youngsters, trying out for positions.

Catching Staff Complete The catching staff again will be headed by Jack Adams, supported by Mackey, Newton, and Price and Wiley youngsters.

Storti, pitcher, who plugged the third base gap at the end of last season, and Harding, outfield try-out, will complete the roster as utility men.

Storti will train at home this spring, passing up El Paso as a developing ground. Three sets of exhibition games, with St. Paul, Omaha, and Wichita Falls, have been booked for the conditioning series. Texas Park is being painted for a grass field is promised before the curtain is rung up on the season in April.

SA NANTONIO, Feb. 15.—Fourteen of the fifteen teams entered in the southwestern mid-winter polo tournament will swing into action starting today if rain which caused postponement of the opening of the tournament Sunday does not interfere.

Port Clark, winner of the open and handicap events in the recent Rio Grande valley meet is scheduled to open the tournament against Fredricksburg and Fort Bliss, winner of last year's tournament, will meet the Alamo Freebooters of San Antonio later in the day.

Austin meets Stonewall, Camp Martia tackles the Fifteenth Field Artillery and the Air Corps Training Center plays the Twelfth Field Artillery tomorrow and two games are scheduled for Saturday, the Ninth Infantry meeting the Freebooters and the Eighth Corps area headquarters team opposing Camp Wood, Texas.

Abilene, Texas, drew a bye, but probably will be matched Saturday or Sunday.

Crosby Basketball In Three-Way Tie CROSBYTON, Feb. 15.—Basketball supremacy in Crosby county is again in dispute today after last night's game here when Coach Finis Vaughn's Chiefs downed the Lorenzo team, 15 to 12 in an exciting game. The contest threw the county title race into a three-cornered tie with Ralls, Lorenzo and Crosbyton.

COUNTY'S COURT TEAMS TO MEET IN TOURNEY HERE

Four schools, Lubbock, Idalou, Canyon and Slaton high schools, will battle each other Friday night and Saturday in the Tech gym for the county championship. Coach Henry Frnka, director of athletics for Lubbock county, announced here yesterday.

On Friday evening, Idalou meets Slaton at 7:30 while Lubbock faces the Canyon school at 8:30. Saturday morning, Slaton and Canyon will play at 9 o'clock while Slaton meets Lubbock at 10 o'clock. In the evening, Slaton plays Canyon at 7:30 and Idalou and Lubbock, 8:30.

The games, as seen in the scheduled line, is that each team playing each of the others. The team with the highest percentage at the close will be awarded a county trophy. The best player will also receive a trophy.

The play-off of the girls' division will also take place Saturday in the high school gym.

THREE SEEK TO LOWER RECORD OF SPEED KING

TWO AMERICANS WITH ONE BRITON READY FOR CONTEST

(By Associated Press) DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15.—Three motor cars today were prepared for an attempt to lower the world's speed record for automobiles, 203.7 miles per hour.

The effort to smash the record set last year by Major H. O. D. Segrave in his British "Sunbeam Special" is part of the twenty-fifth annual speed carnival which opened today.

Others In Various Events While the trio of more powerful cars, two American and one British, prepared for their sallies against time, other cars were entered in various events including a mile straightaway race for automobiles in the $1,000 class, the same event for cars in the $1,000 and $2,000 class and a third event called a "hobo" race for stock cars not under three years of age.

Frank Lockhart, Indianapolis, yesterday unloaded his small Stutz "Black Hawk Special," one of the high speed trios. Bullet shaped, 15 feet and six inches in length, with a width of but two feet, the speedy appearance of the car is enhanced by its total height of only three feet, with ground clearance of five inches. Two banks of eight cylinders each comprise its motor, which has no radiator and is cooled by both water and ice. It is said to develop 400 horsepower. The entire automobile is designed to minimize wind resistance.

Entry Of Britisher The entry of Malcolm Campbell, of London, is likewise designed to combat the wind, one striking feature being a large fin-shaped rigid rudder in the rear to prevent the car from dithering from its course or developing tail wag. This car boasts a 900 horsepower British air service motor.

J. M. White, Philadelphia, with the third entry, will rely on titanic power alone in his effort, expecting his thirty six cylinder motor to make up for an almost total lack of stream line design. His car was three drive shafts direct to the rear axle, no clutch, transmission or reverse gear and has only one speed forward.

The three cars have until next Wednesday to make their official attempt at beating the record of Major Segrave.

MANDELL SIGNS TO MEET WALKER IN SUMMER BOUT

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Boxing champions Sammy Mandell and Mickey Walker have at last acceded to the demands of the national boxing association, agreeing to risk their titles to outstanding challengers at the White Sox baseball park this summer.

Mandell's manager, Eddie Kane, yesterday signed a contract with Promoter Jim Mullen of Chicago for a lightweight championship watch with Jimmy McLarin of Los Angeles, June 21. Jack Kearns, manager for Walker, also promised Mullen that Walker would risk his middleweight crown against Ace Hudkins, the "Nebraska Wildcat," Joe Anderson of Cincinnati or any other outstanding challenger on July 26.

The Mandell-McLarin match, which would be fought on a percentage basis and at 135 pounds, has one "it." That is that McLarin must make a satisfactory showing against Sid Terris in their match at New York on February 24.

MAJOR LEAGUE ATHLETES PLAN BIG CAMPAIGN

HOLDOUTS FALLING IN AND INTEREST IN CLUBS IS GREAT

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The baseball birds are flitting southward intimate details of their progress already are being dispatched by energetic correspondents. The holdouts who were so adamant a few weeks ago are falling into line. The magnates talk of booming the amateur game for boys throughout the country.

Through it all is the delightful air of anticipation and preparation always associated with the coming of another baseball campaign and, the magnates hope, bigger and better games.

Concern Over News There will be no little concern in the news that comes back from the training camps scattered from Florida to California about the perspiring or aspiring athletes, depending on their age, ability or previous condition of servitude.

Gotham fans will want to know whether the Jewish hope of the giants, Andy Cohen, will fit into the somewhat ample niche vacated by Rogers Hornsby or whether Frank O'Doul, the rejuvenated veteran from San Francisco, swings a mean enough club to break into the regular outfield corps.

Hornsby And Braves Likewise it will be of interest to Boston whether Hornsby puts his expected new dash and punch into the Braves or whether his conversation is as disconcerting to the new club manager, Jack Slattery, as it seems to have been to John McGraw.

How the St. Louis Browns will assert their new talent in the rebuilding process, what the Senators will do with two such first basemen as Sleser and Judge around, how the "Specker" will fit into Connie Mack's machine, whether Sparky Adams fills the long-felt Pirate need for a second baseman and how Kiki Cuyler fares under Chicago Cub leadership are only a few of the salient features of the spring training program.

Family Quarrels Since the Pittsburgh Pirates obtained Lloyd Waner at bargain rates, chiefly on brother Paul's recommendation, the major league teams have been scanning the family connections of other stars.

This research seems to have led to the Yankees signing Nick Moore, on the advice of his older brother Wilcey, whose good right arm had as much to do with the Huggins' victory last year as any other factor.

Nick is also a right-handed pitcher. He has been working in semi-pro circles of Texas and Oklahoma, where the Waners got their start along the road to fame.

DISPUTED RACE AT OLYMPICS TO BE RERUN, RULED

(By Associated Press) ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 15.—The executive committee of the International Olympic committee today decided to throw out the 10,000 metre race, held yesterday, from the Olympic records, cancelling the results thus far obtained and to return the race if the weather grows colder.

Despite the decision of the committee to cancel the race, the Norwegian skaters called upon the American contingent today and congratulated Irving Jaffee of New York as the 10,000 metre speed skating champion, saying that they considered him the winner of the event.

The executive committee also announced its readiness to alter the Olympic winter sports program in accordance with atmospheric conditions, but the sports will continue weather permitting. The weather is very poor for skating, the temperature being 8 degrees above freezing point and the skating rink is like lake.

The American team will leave for Paris tomorrow morning and the Norwegian skaters already have left for Oslo.

CITY AIDS IN STAMPING OUT COTTON PESTS

DELEGATION TO BE AT SWEETWATER MEET FEBRUARY 25

To learn of the seriousness of the situation as well as the most necessary precautionary measures in preventing its spread, approximately 40 business men and farmers of Lubbock will attend the Pink Boll Worm conference at Sweetwater, Saturday, February 25, which has been called by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to discuss methods of stamping out the worm in some four or five counties reported to be infested.

Lubbock Sends Delegation

Although Lubbock is in no way affected by the menace and will probably never be harmed by the worm, if immediate precautions are taken, members of the Board of City Development, feeling that they ought to have a part in aiding other counties, voted in their meeting last night to support a local delegation of "from 25 to 35" men to the conference.

Governor Dan Moody, George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, R. E. McDonald, chief entomologist for the state, and a representative of the Federal Pink Boll Worm commission will attend the meeting along with numerous West Texas.

I. C. Enoch, local man, who has been appointed on the state commission to inspect the infested area will head the local delegation.

Four inspectors of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are in Lubbock now, making investigations in the lower section of Dawson county, where the pests were reported. The men are W. E. Gassett, C. H. Housh, J. N. Todd and F. I. Irwin, taken members of the Board of their vote for a delegation last night, pointed out that a spread of the cotton menace to this section would be of much adverse publicity and retard greatly the development of the section.

Various other matters of routine importance were disposed of by the board in their meeting last night.

France Threatened By Flood Waters

PARIS, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Seine was washing over the wharves of Paris today and rising to a threatening height.

Persistent rain melting the snow and warm weather was bringing serious damage to all regions of France as the sodden earth was unable to absorb more water and rivers everywhere were rising.

Thousands of acres of land in Brittany were under water and a large area of Savoie was submerged in the vicinity of Lake Bourget. The lake threatened to burst its banks inundating the whole district.

In the south the Rhone, Lot and Garonne rivers were mounting hourly and the rivers of central France also were rising.

Texas Regulation Of Buses Lauded

AUSTIN, Feb. 15 (AP)—State regulation of motor bus traffic in Texas pointed out as an example of efficiency and "workableness" of such regulations at a national motor bus hearing in Washington.

Clearence E. Gilmore, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, said on his return from the hearing.

The hearing was on a report of motor bus conditions throughout the nation by an interstate commerce commission examiner who was detailed to assemble information on which the national commission can base recommendations by congress to guide preparation of an interstate bus regulation law.

Income Tax Bugaboo DATES ARE ANNOUNCED Worries Prosperous

—And it won't be long now! John Toensmeier, Deputy United States Collector of Internal Revenue—or, in plain English, "The Income Tax Man"—will begin his South Plains operations on February 23, and will continue them for about a month. And when he gets through there'll be a lot of folks somewhat poorer than they are now.

The following dates were announced today, when Mr. Toensmeier advised to look over the list of the land:

Feb. 23—Lamesa.
Feb. 24—O'Donnell.
Feb. 25—Tahoka.
Feb. 26—(Sunday).
Feb. 27—Stanton.
Feb. 28—Brownfield.
Feb. 29—Tulia.
March 1—Tulia.
March 2—Happy.
March 3—Plainview.

ROTARY HEARS STRANGE TALK

HUMORIST DRAWS MANY LAUGHS IN ADDRESS ON 'SUCKERS'

W. T. Tauler, "Strange Lubbock" architect, Silliman Evans, Fort Worth newspaperman; A. B. Davis, chamber of commerce executive, and George Daniels, of Marietta, Georgia, were the speakers on the program of the Lubbock Rotary club at noon today, when members of that organization gathered to hear in their regular weekly luncheon session at Hotel Lubbock, T. A. White, telephone company district manager, was in charge of the program.

Mr. Strange's talk, "Suckers," was the principal feature of the program. His humorous address was roundly applauded. Mr. Evans, political writer of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, was introduced by Dr. P. W. Horn, Tech president, and made a few remarks in which he pointed out that 1928 should be the best business year in Texas history. Mr. Evans spoke regarding the coming banquet of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, scheduled for Friday night.

Mr. Daniels, who is a member of Marietta, Ga. Rotary club, Rev. E. E. White, pastor of the First Methodist church and George P. Kendall, motor car dealer, were all present to the club Walter Allen, of Amarillo, and Bill Street, of Littlefield, were visiting Rotarians.

MANY VISITORS ARE EXPECTED FOR C. C. MEET

LOCAL TICKET SALES SLOW BUT NO WORRY IS OCCASIONED

Out-of-town acceptances continue to come in for the annual banquet of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce which will be held in the Lubbock hotel, Friday night, officials of the organization reported this morning. The guests list will include the president and secretary of the chamber of commerce and a press representative from practically every town on the Plains. About 150 are expected.

The local sale of tickets, limited to 150, is not as active as expected, officials stated. So many of the citizens, continually speaking of general meetings, have not yet bought tickets or shown interest in the meeting Friday, the officials reported. No worry is occasioned over the sale of the local tickets, however, they said as there still is plenty of men who will want to attend.

Featuring the program will be the address of V. M. Wallace, director of the Texas Chamber of Commerce. His Sabite; Napoleon Taylor, Nacogoches.

How Many Will You Save And Turn Into Profits?

Can You Count Your Chickens AFTER They're Hatched?

COUNTING your chickens BEFORE they're hatched would be about as reliable as a weather prediction here in the Southwest! But can you count your chickens AFTER they're hatched—or after they are bought from the chick hatchery? How many will you save—that's the big question in chick raising!

Many thousands of poultry raisers have found that they CAN make a pretty close "count"—in advance—of the chicks they will save and turn into profits when they feed Superior Orange Vitamine Chick Starter. Many report losses as low as 3 to 5 percent—some report NO losses—except from hawks, snakes, etc. Feeding this perfectly balanced chick feed, which supplies necessary vitamins in the form of dehydrated orange peel and pulp, is the surest way to start little chicks to robust health.

Health-Giving Vitamines in Dehydrated Orange Peel and Pulp Save Little Chicks

Physicians recommend oranges to both grown-ups and children who are just recovering from a serious illness; and to keep them well. Orange vitamins are just as valuable for little chicks. Our experiments on about 10,000 little chicks have proven that dehydrated, finely ground orange peel and pulp will revolutionize chick feeding. Oranges are rich in vitamins; they hang in the sunshine for many months; during this time they gather the life-giving, health-promoting energy from the sunshine.

Finely ground dehydrated orange peel and pulp, as found only in Superior Poultry Feeds in the Red Chain Bags, contains these orange vitamins in the most highly concentrated form and is also rich in digestible minerals, acids and other valuable food elements.

Dehydration (which merely removes the water) does not injure the orange vitamins or destroy any of the elements or ingredients. Therefore dehydrated orange peel and pulp is the greatest green

TOKYO COPS IN WAR ON DANCE HALLS

TOKYO—The modern dance is a great source of anxiety to Japanese police. Dancing—that is dancing according to the western fashion—has become nearly as troublesome as radicalism. The most recent attempt to curb this "barbaric pastime" has been instituted in Kobe, one of Japan's commercial centers.

A Rare Banquet for Campus Smoke-Eaters

Undergraduate volunteer firemen at Villanova College, Philadelphia, worked overtime while flames they were powerless to stem destroyed the main building, pictured above, and damaged a nearby monastery and church.

The loss, placed at $2,000,000, would have been a half million more but for the students' swift saving of valuable altar pieces, oil paintings and laboratory apparatus. They also carried two of their fellow classmates to safety from the inferno.

Six Counties Form Egg Association

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 15 (AP)—Six plain counties have formed the Plains Producers association, with J. T. Hatch of Plainview as manager, to market eggs produced by members. Sixteen thousand hens have been signed by their owners for the association, which will work toward an immediate goal of 40,000 with an ultimate aim of 200,000 producing hens.

COTTON PROBE

Directed by Committee. The inquiry would be conducted by the senate agriculture committee which is directed to report to the senate what legislation, if any, is desirable. The resolution was offered by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, and was favorably reported today by the audit committee. Specifically the committee would make a full and complete investigation of the activities of the cotton exchanges, cotton mills, and the department of agriculture with a view to determining whether there has been any manipulation of the market or any undue influence thereupon in connection with the issuance or publication of cotton reports or the decline in the price of cotton; and to report thereon to the senate as soon as practicable, with such recommendations for necessary legislation as it deems advisable.

"LOVES OF CARMEN"

Besides driving your automobiles, trucks, tractors and trains, electricity toasts your bread, runs your washing machine, boils your coffee, freezes your ice, fans you, lights your home, sweeps your floors, runs your sewing machine, makes for beautiful windows in stores, brightens the streets and highways of commerce. Its rays pierce through the darkness of nights to guide ships of the air and of the sea.

It is one of the most powerful forces known to man and so gentle that even a child may, safely, apply its use in dozens of ways in your home.

Is it any wonder, then, that we, who furnish this power to so many people, should not feel that we are enjoying a great privilege and have a great responsibility?

HICKMAN CASE

murder indictment against the two youths.
The prosecution in the Hunt-Hickman trial pointed out to newspaper men that they had been misspelling the name of the druggist, William Edward Hickman today continued to fight for his life as he was called upon to answer another charge of murder.
Hickman and Weibys Hunt partners in crime were ordered into court today for trial on charges of slaying C. Ivy Toms in an attempted drug store hold up in Rosehill, a suburb, on Christmas Eve, 1926. The initial court session was expected to be little more than a formality, as Jerome Walsh, Hickman's attorney, signified his intention of asking a continuance until Monday and Superior Judge Carlos Hardy indicated it would be granted.
Fals in the holdup game, Hickman and Hunt will be enemies in the impending trial. Hickman, who was little upset when he was condemned to death yesterday by the J. J. Trabasso, has voiced his eagerness for a chance to testify against Hunt in retaliation for the testimony which Hunt gave the prosecution in the Parker case.
But Hickman may be denied the opportunity of giving state's evidence against Hunt. Hunt, who originally pleaded not guilty to killing Toms, has intimated through counsel that he might plead guilty in exchange for a fighting chance to get leniency. He is under the age limit for execution. Whether the plea is changed or not, A. Grey Gilmer, Hunt's attorney announced that he would place before the court all the circumstances through which he hoped to gain leniency.
Toms was killed in a gun battle in his drug store while Hickman and Hunt were attempting a hold-up. Whether it was Hickman or Hunt who fired the fatal shot has not yet been clearly established.
Technically both may be held guilty, regardless of who fired the shot.

Hickman Is Called In Second Murder

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15 (AP)—Condemned to die on the gallows April 27 for killing of Marian Parker, William Edward Hickman today continued to fight for his life as he was called upon to answer another charge of murder.

Flashes Of Life (By The Associated Press)

Allowed No Rest

NEW YORK—George Harvey back from abroad with a story: A young farmer came into my father's store when I was a boy and when asked how he stood with his girl, replied: 'She did not choose to marry me.' And the girl didn't. That's the way Vermont interprets President Coolidge's statement.

Hardened Wrists

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—There should be some shattering records on championship golf courses in a few months. Roland Mackenzie of Washington, has a vacation, has been taking a vacation in lumbering in the northwest in order to strengthen his wrists. Now he is back at study at Brown University.

Women's Justice

LOS ANGELES—There are twelve women who are wanted no longer as jurors in Judge Murray's court. They acquitted a burglar after he had offered to plead guilty if granted probation. For with the jury was excused from further service.

Wrong Identity

HOBOKEN, N. J.—The liner Frederick VII on its way from Copenhagen, deviated from its course of Halifax in order to rescue what looked like two men in a boat, but found some fellows in fur coats having a good time. They were two seals sporting in the water with a shovel-nosed grampus.

Age Of Discretion

LONDON—The age of discretion apparently is somewhere beyond 41. Viscount Wollmer, assistant postmaster general, during parliamentary debate suggested that the postoffice might fare better if not run by the state. Whereupon Prime Minister Baldwin remarked that when the Viscount had attained years of discretion he would talk with that caution which characterized his colleague's utterances. The Viscount is now going abroad for two months—by medical advice, it is announced.

Club Dissension

NEW YORK—There's dissension in the Collier Club of America. It came to a head when Mrs. Florence B. Beh, or Red Bank, N. J., about to exhibit her dogs at a show in Madison Square Garden, received a telegram from New Haven saying her dog was dead. She prepared to leave for New Haven when club officials, who had investigated, told her the telegram was a fake.

Acting Sensible

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—It will probably be like trying to keep a fish out of water, but Secretary of War Davis has announced he will ask Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to refrain from all stunt flying as his life is too valuable to aviation and the country. He will not ask Lindbergh to give up flying altogether.

$80,000 For His Discovery

Formula for Stomach Medicine Brings Large Sum

This is G. M. Gordon, widely known Dallas, Texas, pharmacist, who spent twenty years developing "Gordon's," an Internal Antiseptic for the stomach and bowels, for which he received $80,000 for the rights to the secret process of compounding.
"The greatest obstacle to the successful treatment of stomach troubles," said Mr. Gordon, "was fermentation (souring of food matter in the stomach and bowels), which inflames and irritates these organs and produces gas that causes much distress. Fermentation can be stopped only with an antiseptic."
"Gordon's" goes right to the seat of the trouble, as it exercises a distinctly antiseptic as well as a digestive effect. It stops and prevents fermentation, soothes and heals any irritated or inflamed condition and will bring quick relief in cases of gas, dyspepsia, heartburn, bloating after meals, excess acid, bad breath, constipation, sick headache, nervousness, when caused by faulty digestion, tone-up the digestive organs and stimulate the stomach and bowels to their normal functions. A few doses will convince you. Sold by good druggists, $1.50 per bottle of sixty-four doses—less than three cents a dose.

Mrs. Drought Seen As Women's Leader

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15 (AP)—Indications that Mrs. Henry Drought of San Antonio is regarded as official head of Texas activities in preparing for the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs here were seen today in a telegram from Mrs. John D. Sherman, national president, consulting Mrs. Drought on the progress to date.
A controversy over the question of administration of the states contribution to the convention arose when Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell was appointed state chairman and Mrs. Drought local chairman. In order to eliminate overlapping functions of the two officers the general board asked that Mrs. Fields resign.

Sweetwater Plans Pest Board Session

SWEETWATER, Feb. 15 (AP)—Farmers and business men from the counties infested by the Pink Boll Worm will meet here on February 25, it was announced by leaders here in the extermination movement.
Through a misunderstanding in the date of the meeting set by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce many farmers were here today, believing the date was February 15, instead of the 25th.

Endurance Flight Again Postponed

PORT WORTH, Feb. 15 (AP)—Start of the endurance flight by Al Henley and Joe Hart, Oklahoma aviators, scheduled for today was again postponed because of rain and a muddy runway at the municipal airport.
Decision to again delay the flight was made while the big monoplane "Port Worth" was being filled with gasoline for the take-off. Several hundred persons were gathered at the airport to witness the flight. It was not said when the attempt would be made.

Horse Racing Plan Loses In Decision

AUSTIN, Feb. 15 (AP)—Attempts of Jack Jarvis and others to establish legality of the "contributor's" plan horse-racing in Texas failed Wednesday, at least for the present, when the Court of Criminal Appeals denied Jarvis habeas corpus release from McCallough county officers who held him on the claim that the plan constituted gambling.
The plan allows a man for instance, to put $5 in a horse's "purse" with prospects of participation in the winnings if the animal finishes in the money.

McKINNEY FIRE

McKinney, Feb. 15 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Waddell building here today with a loss of $75,000 or more.

The Premier Dresses Up

Premier Tanaka of Japan is pictured here getting all dressed up. He has somewhere to go, too, having a visit to the emperor and empress in mind. The boots seem a snug fit, and not so small, either.

Decision Given In Carbon Black Fuss

AUSTIN, Feb. 15 (AP)—The state railroad commission cannot prevent the transportation of natural gas from Texas to another state, even if it is to be manufactured into carbon black, Assistant Attorney General Allen Clark held Wednesday in an opinion to the commission.
Such movement would be interstate in character, and the state can only regulate the amount of pressure on pipe lines, he said.
"We regret that such is the law," Clark added, "but the relief necessary must come from the federal government and is something over which this state has no control."

Billiard Hall Is Looted By Bandits

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15 (AP)—Two masked men entered the Crescent billiard hall, at 28 Charles Avenue and Canal Street, early today, knocked the cashier in the head and escaped with approximately $1,000.
The hall is located in the heart of the city and the streets outside were thronged with pedestrians and automobiles.

Physician Dies

PORT WORTH, Feb. 15 (AP)—Doctor W. C. Dobkins, 86, pioneer physician and the first to register his medical license with the State of Texas when the registration law was passed, died at his home here today.

Houston Gets Meet

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15 (AP)—Houston was awarded the 1928 convention of the Chiefs of Police and City Marshal's association at a meeting of the executive committee of the organization here today. The convention will be held June 5, 6 and 7.

Rain At Houston

HOUSTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Showers through the night had brought precipitation in Houston to 28 of an inch, according to an early reading at the weather bureau. The temperature stood at 48 degrees. The prospect was that rainfall would continue.

Belton Voted Last Night To Contribute

BELTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Belton Business and Professional Women's club voted last night to contribute a publicity campaign against rats, following conclusion of a rat killing war in Bell county which will end on February 17. More than 220,000 rats have been killed.

Mexican Sou Wreck Near

ROSWELL, N. M., Feb. 15 (AP)—Authorities today are conducting search for a Mexican who is believed responsible for the late yesterday of Santa No. 82, which ran into switch near Acme, 18 miles of here, killing J. T. Knight, and causing the fatal injury of engineer C. Thers.
Both trainmen are from N. M.

Nervous Folks Praise Capudin

Those who have used Capudin for overwrought nerves, headache, periodic pains and other ills are high in their praise because it gives quick and relief by soothing the nerves—by deadening or doping them. Being liquid, Capudin acts much quicker than tablets and powders. Contains no opiates. At all stores. 30c and 60c.

The Telephone Pole Ad Is A Thing of the Past

In the old days when every farmer drove the plough-horse to town, he had time to amble along and read the sale bills on the way.

Now, the average farmer has his eyes glued to the road while driving his six-cylinder car, and the telephone poles fly by like pickets on a fence.

Avalanche and Journal advertising is just as far ahead of telephone pole bills as the auto is ahead of the horse. Both are necessary and do good work. But the Avalanche and Journal, like the auto, gets more done quicker.

For the Avalanche and Journal are taken into the home and read at leisure. They are originally purchased because of their particular editorial policy—their individual newness appeals, and the reader has confidence in their judgment. This confidence is reflected on the ads that these Newspapers carry and the advertisers get the benefit of this feeling of dependability.

SYNOPSIS

On the eve of the day of his...
Jack, a dancer whom Jack has long admired, hears his voice and decides to try to do something for him.

"You know, I caught your act in the Orpheum at Salt Lake." Jack leaned forward, boisterously enthusiastic and eager to talk, now that the conversation had turned from himself. "Gee, I think you're great."

"Oh, did you really?" Mary smiled. "Where were you playing?" Jack hesitated. He had been singing in a motion picture house of the cheap variety, and he didn't exactly know what effect the revelation of his status in show business might have on this girl whom he had so long admired from a distance.

"I sang in a picture house there," he began. "You know one of those places where you have about eight appearances a day. It wasn't far from the Orpheum, and I used to go down the alley and watch you in between my numbers."

"The girl gave him a quick look—but it was a look of sympathy and understanding, for she knew instinctively that he was telling the truth. She felt that this boy had something that was worth seeing, and she was anxious to help him if she could."

"You know Buster told me that the 'Little Rascal' act was playing here," Jack rambled on, "but I never expected to really meet you. I wanted to see you again."

"I'll tell you what," Mary had reached a decision quickly. "I've got to get back to the theater in about ten minutes to rehearse a new number. But why don't you drop around back stage tomorrow afternoon about two. I'd like to introduce you to our manager. I don't know whether he'd be able to do anything for you or not, but it won't hurt to try."

Jack looked at the girl wonderingly. For the first time in his life he had found someone who really took enough interest in him to want to do something for him. "But do you—do you think I can make the grade?" His voice was timorous, not because he lacked belief in himself, but because he had been so buffeted about and so long unable to find work that his courage was a little the worse for wear.

"I'm sure you can," Mary returned confidently. "I think your voice should get you a long way on the big time. You sing just fine. But it's entirely different. It's a new idea, and that's what everybody wants—a new idea. Yours had tears in it."

Impulsively, with an almost childlike gesture, Jack stretched out his hand to the girl. And the confidence that she had given him made him more the Jack Robin he had been before his run of bad luck. But he drew his hand away quickly, fearful lest she might misunderstand him. Somehow, something in the girl's impersonal manner, her disarming smile, made him realize that she was not encouraging any overtures, and he wanted to hold her friendship high and close.

"I must run, now," Mary was saying. "But don't forget. I'll see you at the theater at 2 tomorrow."

"I'll never forget," Jack rose to his feet. "At 2 tomorrow." They shook hands and Mary waved to her friends and started out the door towards the theater.

CHAPTER VI
With the unquestioning generosity so common to theatrical people who must share the rigors of the road one with another, Frank took Buster and Jack under his wing that night and his small, shabby, sheltered abode, and if they did not have either the comforts of home or the conveniences of a hotel their troubles were by no means augmented. For after days of weary travel, and nights spent in the open field, with no covering save the stars, or if fortunate, the rafters of a barn, four walls and a ceiling seemed heaven. Moreover, Buster and Jack was so elated by the events of the evening that a stable would have seemed a palace to him. Even yet, he could scarcely believe that he was the same Jack Robin who had so disconsolately walked into the Star Vaudeville circuit offices only that afternoon. To himself he seemed to be an entirely different person, and in truth he had changed. Gone was his depression of the past months; gone his morbid avowal of the futility of all things. In their place came a long lost sensation of real happiness, a re-established sense of security and comfort. And the very fact that Mary Dale had wrought this transformation made it doubly important.

time" and would, before long, be a star in her own right. Added to that, she had an unusual share of beauty, as well as an inner loveliness and fineness, and a cultural background. Jack had met many girls in the theater in his ten years of work. He had exchanged pleasantries with them; discussed the gossip of the hour with them; traveled along with them; but always his heart had remained untouched. Strange, indeed, it was, what with such promise as that to which he was subjected, and the fact that he was often lonely and alone, that he had never fallen in love or, which is just as serious, thought he had fallen in love, with any of them. That is, up until the time he had first seen Mary Dale. After that he watched from afar and worshipped blindly.

And now he had met her. And more—she had even been interested in his voice. Jack did not flatter himself that Mary was interested in him for himself, even though other girls had shown that kind of concern. For he had developed from the little, tacit Rabinowitz of the ghetto into a good looking, clean cut young man, and even amid the stress and trials of the road, he always maintained a kindness and a courtesy that had its own appeal in contrast to the blarney and hard-boiled managers and seagoneered vaudevillians.

Jack slept fitfully, sometimes waking all at once with the thought that everything that had transpired was but a part of a dream. Then he would glance uneasily about him and see the strange walls and realize that he was actually where he believed he was. Sometimes he dreamed that he was trying to keep his 2 o'clock appointment, but hurry as he might he never quite arrived there. Then he would reach hastily for the alarm clock and discover that it was but 5 or 6 in the morning.

But at last it came 11 o'clock and Jack was awakened with the pleasant odor of frying bacon and steaming coffee filling his nostrils. He stayed with the aid of Frank's razor and he, with Buster and Frank, sat down to breakfast.

"All set for the big scene?" inquired Buster. "Well, I'm going to do my best," Jack said seriously. "Atta boy!" encouraged Frank. "And I'll lay you ten to one you land." "I've got to try, anyhow, after all Miss Dale is doing for me," Jack said earnestly. "You bet," Buster agreed. "An if I can get any kind of a bookin' here I'll catch up with you. It would seem like old times, sharin' the same dressin' room again."

"I certainly would," Jack assented, warmly. "And you'd better try to do that—providing, of course, I land."

"I sure will," Buster nodded. "Go to a clean shirt."

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway has decided that too many domestic misunderstandings are taken to court instead of to heart.

The Plainsman recently had occasion to visit several of the Lubbock county rural schools and to view, first hand, the buildings, equipment, facilities, students and teachers. The good that he got from those brief visits was thousands-fold. It is an experience that every citizen of Lubbock should have for such an experience would furnish as principal with a clear insight into what is being done in the way of educating our country children.

Although the average city dweller has no idea of it, Lubbock county has at this time a rural school enrollment of more than 2,000 boys and girls in 22 school buildings, 21 of which are constructed of brick. Approximately $250,000 in school plots, buildings and equipment stands as a record for the county. This is in addition to the rural children of modern day life and this business of educating our farm youngsters has already become of prime importance as it should be.

And in case you overlooked it, the Lubbock county school plant includes quarters for teachers—buildings erected and equipped a residences for members of rural school faculties—which fact gives Lubbock county the highest percentage above that of the rest of Texas, and probably in the entire United States.

In expression of pride in its town and communities, its churches, its urban schools, its paved streets, business buildings and residence blocks, Lubbock county would not be far from the lead of its rural school investment and operation—which has been quite commended by State School Inspector William Elders, as one of the best in the entire state.

The Plainsman is just as zealous for the education of the farm boy and girl as he is for their city cousins. May the county school boards of the future follow the lead of the county boards of the present and past in giving freely of their time, labor and thought toward the education of the even bigger and better rural school system than we already have.

San Antonio leads in traffic accidents, says a recent news report. Just another case of crashing through to victory.

Little birds who can sing and won't sing ought to be made to sing and property owners who can save and waste have should be subjected to a similar process.

After battling adverse weather conditions for fifteen hours, Colonel Lundberg in his "Spirit of Saint Louis" dropped from the clouds to the Missouri city living field, completing a non-stop flight from Havana, Cuba, in less than five hours. Some of the pilots who were formerly in the rear may now have some of the observation that "The Lone Eagle" is lucky.

No man who flies an airplane like Colonel Lundberg evidently has a "lucky" merely because he happens to complete a flight which an ordinary flyer would be fortunate to complete. A blind man who shoots at and hits a clay pigeon to win a prize would be lucky if he were not a "lucky" man. It is the ability of an extraordinary good shot. No expert is ever "lucky" in his accomplishments, with accuracy and dispatch, some feat in which he has become an acknowledged expert. The fact pertains to flying an airplane just as much as to any other thing.

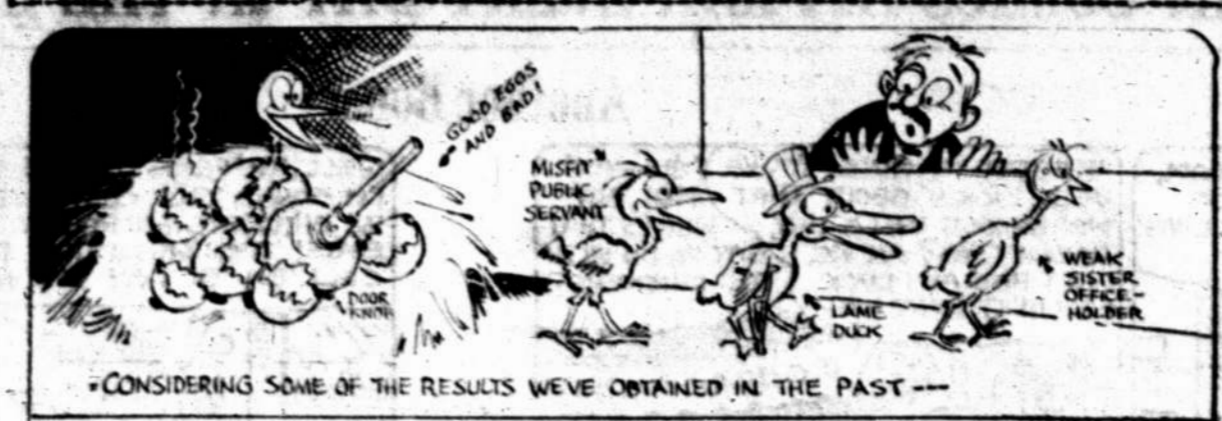

All the world loves a lover. The very best story-books say all the world hates a hater. In the very self-same way, we let all try to be lovers. A reputation and country and life. We find that it pays. Through the dark, dreary days, and will lessen the sting of strife.

Most any pig-headed boob can disagree with a suggestion. It takes a brainwashed fellow to admit that someone else may have a good idea in his head.

The fashion of 1928 demands that the well-dressed male have no less than five overcoats. It looks now like there's a lot of us who won't choose to be fashionable in 1928.

A witness in the Teapot Dome inquiry couldn't remember details of a $1,000,000 transaction. That's not a very large sum for a man who certainly need no lubricant for his memory.

 WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—It now appears certain that the two presidential candidates will be nominated at the national conventions and not before.

The instruction season will soon be at hand. There will be primaries here, history shows, have yet to decide a nomination, and there will be state conventions, which will be considerably more important.

When the notion first dawned to turn a good old-fashioned dog-business parlor into a beauty shop for "poms" and such, I have no doubt that the proprietor put his tongue in his cheek and chuckled loudly. He does not laugh any more. He waxes wealthy off the fees charged for dog washes that go about leading some tiny toy of an animal.

GREATER BUILDING ACTIVITY
 Children is building faster, according to population, than any city in the Panhandle or northwest Texas. There is a reason for this growth and also reasons why it will continue for the next four or five years. Children is a substantial city with a real future. The real reason why Children will continue to grow is because this city will be the hub of the improved, highways of the lower Panhandle country. If a person wants to go to most any town in this section of the state from Texas into Oklahoma they will pass through Children. The extension of the Burlington onto the South Plains is also of immense value. It means that the major portion of the rail traffic for the South Plains will pass through Children, the main line between the new railroad. Children needs more business houses, more homes and more industries. We are getting the homes and business houses but industries are piling in rather slow. The industries in Children are doing fine and making money. We need more of them. Our thought should be industries and we should build them ourselves. There are a dozen opportunities here for concerns that will pay handsome dividends. Invest our money there and keep the profits at home—Children Inc.

West Texas is experiencing one of the greatest development periods in its history. Nearly every West Texas town is enjoying a nice healthy growth. Some of them are outgrowing the demands and others are not able to keep up. West Texas as a whole has kept up a very conservative stride in this way. A few towns have been overbuilt and are suffering as a result of it, but these cases are very few. Most of the towns of West Texas are today in need of more rent houses both for business and dwellings. We believe however that it is not as bad for a town to be short of rent houses as it is to have more than are needed. In at least one place the same effect on people who visit town.

The building of the Denver road is building several very nice little cities along the line. Children is on one end of this line and Lubbock is on the other, and both places are humming with building activities. Lubbock is going right ahead building more substantial buildings and bigger ones, and the Denver has not even gotten here yet, although the grade is completed and ready for the rails. When the actual building begins here there will be a greater demand for more houses and there will be more work for the carpenter and other craftsmen. This condition is very fortunate and encouraging, and we are glad West Texas is coming into her own after many years of hard fighting by the pioneers in building activities and developing the great agricultural possibilities of the South Plains.

Elephants have been known to live 100 years.

ENGLISH EARL DIES TODAY OF LONG ILLNESS

LORD OXFORD LOSES IN BATTLE FOR LIFE AT 6:50 THIS MORNING

(By the Associated Press)

SUTTON COURTENAY, Eng., Feb. 15.—The Earl of Oxford and Asquith, who as Herbert H. Asquith, prime minister was an outstanding figure of the world war, died here at 6:50 a. m. today.

Pulmonary complications brought death to the 75-year-old statesman at his country home, the Wharf in this little old village on the banks of the upper Thames. He had lived there since his retirement from public life after his resignation from leadership of the Liberal party in October, 1926.

Lord Oxford had been unconscious since Monday afternoon and his physicians said then that death was only a matter of how long his enfeebled heart could hold out. A week ago the former premier was confined to his room with a severe cold, an acute attack of pharyngitis followed and bronchitis set in.

Family At Beside

The Earl died in a mullion-windowed room overlooking his beloved Thames. At his bedside were the members of his family: Lady Oxford (Margot Asquith), his two daughters, Princess Bibesco, and Lady Bonham-Carter, and his son, Anthony Asquith.

Throughout the night a few close friends and a number of villagers who knew Lord Oxford well, awaited the end which physicians had said was inevitable because of his advanced age and weak heart.

As the former premier fought his losing battle with death another outstanding statesman of the war, the Earl of Balfour, was confined to his home near Prestonkirk, Scotland, on the orders of his doctors. Earl Balfour, who is nearing his eightieth birthday, had an acute attack of laryngitis which left him so weak that his physicians have prescribed complete rest for many weeks.

Deep Mourning

There was deep mourning in this little village of Sutton Courtenay by the country folk, not so much for the British statesman and famous figure in the world war as for the kindly white-headed old man who until a few weeks ago took long daily strolls through the fields and lanes of Berkshire and along the banks of the Thames.

Then an affection of his leg kept him from moving about much. Advancing age had made inroads on his once robust health and he became an invalid, but was still bright and vigorous in mind and keenly interested in affairs.

His political career ended in party dissension with the man who in

FLIER NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH IN PLANE WRECK

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Major Louis M. Bourne, marine corps aviator, had a sprained back and stiff neck today to remind him of his newly acquired membership in the Caterpillar club, that clique of aviators who have survived parachute jumps.

Flying from Langley Field, Virginia, to Quantico late yesterday, Major Bourne, who recently flew a transport plane to Nicaragua, found himself in a dense fog and tossed about in an electrical storm. His compass and other instruments were disabled and the elements wrested control of the plane from him. He said he flew upside down a number of times and once in that position found himself a few feet above the Potomac river.

After several near crashes he righted the machine and climbed 1,000 feet. There he abandoned it and went overboard with his parachute. The plane crashed, a total wreck in a woods near where Bourne landed in some trees.

OHIO DISPUTE SETS PACE FOR G. O. P. LEADERS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Ohio situation, with its rapidly developing clash between Secretary Hoover and Senator Willis for control of the state's convention delegation, is setting the pace in early republican politics, followed closely by increasing discussion of the "draft Coolidge" movement.

Ohio's republican national committee, Maurice Maschke, has joined those who are advocating the nomination of Herbert Hoover, and has challenged Senator Willis to make public any correspondence that would show he has acted in bad faith in favoring the cabinet member over the senator.

Committee Rapped

Willis issued a statement declaring Maschke had given him "no cordial assurance of support," and added that if the committee "assumes that his very surprising course in this matter will change my attitude, he is mistaken." The senator said he was "surprised" at Maschke's joining Walter F. Brown, assistant secretary of commerce and a leader in the Hoover movement, "in the endeavor to split the Ohio delegation and cause factional differences in Ohio which will bring about serious trouble in the future."

The contest between the two candidates will be carried to every polling place in Ohio, managers on both sides declaring full states of

Argentine Rider Near San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Aimee Felix Tschiffely, Argentine rider who has spent two years on a horseback ride that will eventually take him from the Argentine republic to New York, is expected to reach San Antonio Thursday.

He was at Devine yesterday and is expected to reach Gillum's farm, 24 miles from here, tonight. He is taking the trip from Laredo very slowly in order to keep the two horses that are making the trip with him in condition. Arrangements have been made to quarter the rider at Fort Sam Houston, where he will be greeted on his arrival by the Twelfth Field Artillery band.

1916 had succeeded him as premier, David Lloyd-George.

Steps From Premiership

For the last two years of his premiership, Earl Oxford faced the crises of the great war solidly, but it was felt that he lacked the magnetism necessary to guide Great Britain through the conflict and he stepped down, being succeeded by Lloyd-George.

Then in another great crisis in England the general strike of 1926, Earl Oxford censured Lloyd-George for his attitude in favor of the miners. Efforts to bring about a reconciliation of the two liberal leaders failed and in October, 1926, Lord Oxford announced his retirement as Liberal leader.

The Earl's heir is 11-year-old Julian Viscount Asquith, son of the Earl's eldest son, Raymond Asquith, who was killed in action as a member of the Grenadier guard during the world war.

From Albany, N. Y., where Governor Al Smith watches efforts of his friends to bring him the democratic nomination, has come a new demand for the renomination of President Coolidge. It was voiced by Charles D. Hillis, national republican committeeman for New York, who spoke at a Lincoln Day dinner and devoted much time to comparing Lincoln and Coolidge.

Coolidge Admired

Former Asst. Sec. George Harvey, who arrived in New York yesterday from Europe, also expressed belief that President Coolidge could easily be re-elected if he would run but added his thought that Mr. Coolidge was expressing a determination rather than a preference when he said he did not choose to run.

Mr. Hillis said many men were striving to succeed Coolidge and they were "surrounded by men of ambition and zeal who concur in the view expressed by certain democrats that the president and his friends must now retire from the state in order to avoid the appearance of double-dealing."

"No one doubts the president's sincerity of purpose," he said. "His proposal to abdicate was entirely voluntary and he has asked us to respect his wish. But there can be no doubt that the demand for his re-election is country-wide and insistent. The country has need of men like Lincoln and Coolidge."

KANSAS OIL MAN DIES IN KANSAS CITY LAST NIGHT

(By Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15.—Walter S. Hoyt, 48, president of the Hoyt Oil company, died at his home here last night after an illness of more than a year.

Mr. Hoyt, at one time an extensive operator in the natural gas field, acquired large holdings in the southwest since he established his headquarters here in 1915. He first came to this territory in 1908 when he went to Wichita, Kans.

as representative of the Barnardall interests.

Having had experience in the natural gas business in Pennsylvania, his native state, he became active in independent development projects in the Augusta, Kan., field. He soon rose to vice president and treasurer of the Wichita Natural Gas company which later was sold to the Doherty interests.

He then acquired interests in Texas in addition to expanding his Kansas holdings. His most recent operations were in the Leon field in Butler county, Kansas. He also had large royalty rights on tracts in the Ranger, Texas, area.

Mr. Hoyt married Miss Illey Jobs, daughter of A. C. Jobs, vice president of the First National bank here. The widow, three children, the oldest 14, and a sister, residing in Pittsburgh, Pa., survive.

Rain Saves Wheat In Ralls Section

RALLS, Feb. 15.—During the past week more than one and one-half inches of rain has fallen in the Ralls territory. Wheat that was thought lost is coming out and looking good. The dairy farmer will greatly benefit from the extra pasture on wheat. The rain was also a great benefit to those who were ready to put their land in condition for spring planting.
