Citizen of year nominations sought

Beginning Monday, the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce will begin accepting nominations for the 1985 recipient of the Citizen of the Year award that will be presented at the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce Banquet on Saturday, January 25.

The deadline for nominations has been established as January 6.

The award is presented each year to an individual considered to be most qualified in the judgment of a select anonymous committee after all nominations are received and considered. This year the public at large is being asked to make nominations and recommendations to this committee through the accompanying form.

Jim Baum, involved in many civic projects and programs, was the 22nd recipient of the award at the 1985 Chamber banquet. He joined a select list of citizens in the past as the "Citizen of the Year" winner.

That list includes: 1963, Harry Ratliff; 1964, Gus D. Chesney; 1965, Mrs. Bob Reilly; 1966, Gus D. Chesney; 1967, Don Benson; 1968, James F. Kelley; 1969, Joe E. Bell; 1970, Bobby Lemons; 1971, Colorado City Playhouse Inc.; 1972, J. Ralph Lee; 1973, Charles L. Root; 1974, Eddie Piland; 1975, C. C. Thompson; 1976, B. B. Hardee; 1977, Murrell Blassingame; 1978, J. O. Dockrey; 1979, Loyd Ledbetter; 1980, Olson Sweat; 1981, Tandy Curlee; 1982, Barbara Gray; 1983, The Rev. Monte & Virginia Jones and 1984, Jim Baum.

All nominations must be accompanied by the form printed in the Colorado City RECORD.

Nominations should be mailed to: Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 242, Colorado City, Texas 79512.

Westbrook juniors fare well

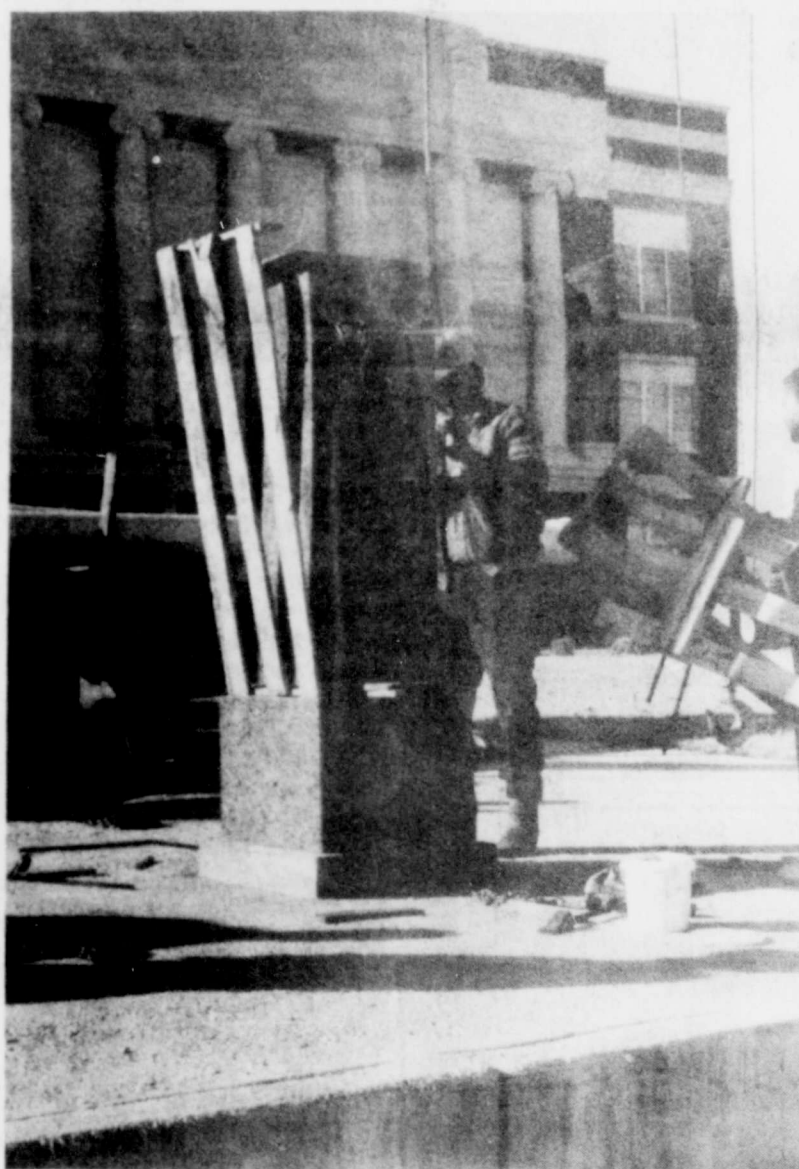

The Westbrook High School junior class participated in the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills Testing Program recently. This program, TEAMS, must be passed for students to graduate.

One hundred percent of the students passed the entire examination; scoring excellently in both English and mathematics, according to school officials.

In the English language arts section, nine of the 18 objectives were mastered at a perfect 100 percent. These students presented a scale score of 804 from a possible 999.

In the mathematics section, the same students had a 100 percent mastery of eight of the 18 objectives. The mathematics scale score was 777 from a possible 999.

The Texas Administrative Code requires that students who fail this exit level skills examination be required to take the exam until mastery is demonstrated. However, there will not be any of the Westbrook Junior Class to retake the exam. These students have demonstrated a mastery of the entire examination.

WORKERS WERE BUSY this past week erecting the marble base for the George Mahon bust which is to be erected on the grounds of the Mitchell County courthouse. The dedication ceremony has been scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday, January 10. It will be preceded by a noon luncheon at the Civic Center. The bust will honor the late congressman who represented this area for many years in the U.S. Congress.

Dedication slated for Mahon bust

Friday, January 10, has been set for the dedication of the George Mahon bust in Colorado City, according to Jim Baum, chairman of the Mitchell County Historical Commission.

A noon luncheon will be served in the Civic Center and at 2 p.m., the dedication ceremonies will be held on the East side of the courthouse.

Congressman Charles Stenholm, State Senator Ray Farabee and Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis are among those who have already confirmed plans to attend the observance.

Baum credited Congressman Stenholm with coordinating activities, including invitations to the Texas congressional delegation and several retired congressmen, including Omar Burleson of Abilene.

The program will be released as soon as all details, including speakers, are completed.

Baum said the noon luncheon will be held so persons who cannot get off from work or school will be able to be a part of the dedications. Prominent speakers will be scheduled at both the luncheon and the dedication.

This past week, the 4,000 pound granite marker arrived in Colorado City and was put into place for the dedication.

Luncheon tickets on sale

Tickets for the George Mahon Dedication Luncheon will go on sale December 26, according to Mrs. C. C. Thompson, chairperson.

The tickets will sell for $7.50 each and may be purchased at any of the Mitchell County financial institutions. Mrs. Thompson said only 150 tickets would be available for the luncheon, which will be held at 12 noon, January 10, 1986, in the Colorado City Civic Center.

Mrs. Thompson said, "We are expecting a large crowd, including many out-of-town guests, for the luncheon and dedication ceremony, so we hope local citizens will purchase tickets."

CHS band students named to all-district

Last Saturday, December 14, at Haskell High School, three Colorado High School students took the first step on the road to state recognition when they competed against approximately 250 other students for a place in the All-District Band.

Lisa Garner, Rhonda Barber, and Jody Webb were selected to the All-District Band by a panel of judges listening to musicians from all area schools in District II, including Wichita Falls, Abilene, and San Angelo. Lisa was selected first chair piccolo, Rhonda, first chair flute, and Jody, fifth chair clarinet.

The competition was extremely demanding, lasting almost seven hours, during which each student performed repeatedly and was judged on his/her musical ability, interpretation, technique, tone quality, phrasing, articulation and overall musicality, according to band director Steve Smith.

Lisa, Rhonda, and Jody will now move on to area tryouts at Permian High School on January 11.

THE COLORADO HIGH SCHOOL band, directed by Steve Smith, spread Christmas cheer and joy this past week by giving mini-concerts at different locations throughout the community. The group played for nursing home residents as well as for downtown shoppers and merchants with a variety of favorite Christmas tunes. Thursday morning, when they played downtown, "White Christmas" might have been appropriate as trees were covered with snow and scattered snow flakes fell during the early morning.

A bronze bust of the late Congressman Mahon will arrive soon and will be placed atop the granite marker just prior to the 2 p.m. ceremonies.

Finance chairman Elmer Martin says donations for the Mahon fund have continued to come in since the statesman's death. The latest contributors include Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., of Austin, Rick Robinson's senior government classes at Colorado High School, Dorothy C. Johnson, Alfreda Rhode, Lucille Hammond, the Hale County Democrats, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Barker, Robert and Janie Henderson, Irene Robertson, Effie Wheeler and Eldie Bryant.

In addition, a previously acknowledged donation from The First National Bank was made by the bank's directors Eddie Piland, R. J. Hoback, Scott Smith, J. C. Britton, Jimmy Harrison, Bobby Nobles, Max Shaw, Woody Anderson and Warren Anderson.

Total monies raised for the endeavor total $13,556.91.

Cook's Corner

Employees share favorite recipes

The holiday season is a time when cooks like to bring out their favorite recipes or favorite recipes of their families.

The RECORD employees would like to share some of their favorite recipes with our readers:

Sheila Plagens, owner, shares her favorite holiday recipe she acquired from a friend when she and husband, Earl, lived in Terrell. "I have made this casserole on special occasions ever since I got it and it's so easy to make."

CORN CASSEROLE

1 can cream style corn
1 can whole kernel corn
1 stack crackers, crushed
6 oz. Swiss cheese, chopped
1 small onion, chopped
1 egg
1 small can evaporated milk
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup butter, melted
Mix all ingredients except butter. Add melted butter and pour into greased casserole dish. Bake one hour and 10 minutes at 425 degrees.

Gay Ritchey, home and family editor, makes peanut patties every Christmas for husband John. "John's favorite candy is peanut patties and when I found this microwave recipe I don't mind at all making because they are so easy. You don't have to stand at the stove and stir when you use the microwave method. You just put the ingredients in and leave everything else to the microwave. I have never failed on a batch yet. This year we had plenty of pecans so I substituted pecans for peanuts in a batch and they turned out really good."

MICROWAVE PEANUT PATTIES

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup white Karo syrup
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 cups raw peanuts or pecans
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 teaspoons butter and red food coloring

Stir together sugar, water and syrup and cook in microwave on high for three minutes. Then take out and add peanuts and cook 8 minutes on high, stirring twice. Take out and add vanilla, butter, coloring and whip until it starts to thicken and then drop on wax paper.

Bonnie Calaway, bookkeeper, shares a recipe she obtained from Paige, Texas. "When my husband, Chuck, goes on trips, he always brings me back a cookbook from the area he is in. This recipe came from a cookbook he brought me back from Paige, Texas. I make this every Christmas and it really is a very good salad recipe that everyone enjoys."

CRANBERRY SALAD

2 cups cranberries (ground)
1 chopped apple
1 orange, use 1/2 the rind and juice

1 cup sugar
1 package cherry Jell-O
1 1/2 cups warm water
1/2 cup pecans
1/2 cup chopped celery
Pour sugar over cranberries, apple and orange rind and juice from orange. Dissolve Jell-O in warm water. Pour over mixture. Add pecans and celery. Chill.

Patricia Denson, classified advertising and typesetter, bakes a pineapple-coconut pie quite often. "Daddy used to like pecan pie, but when he tried this recipe, he really liked it and now it has become his favorite. I bake it or him on his birthday, Christmas and anytime I feel like cooking."

PINEAPPLE-COCONUT PIE

1 cup sugar
1/4 cup melted butter
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup coconut
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 can crushed pineapple
Mix ingredients and bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes.

Nell Ausbie, composition, likes her mother's chocolate meringue pie. "This pie is an all time favorite around our house on holidays and my mother can bake very good pies."

CHOCOLATE MERINGUE PIE

4 tablespoons cocoa
1 cup sugar
6 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups milk
3 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
Combine cocoa, sugar, flour, salt and milk in double boiler. Cook, stirring frequently until thickened. Stir in beaten egg yolks. Cook for two minutes. Add butter and vanilla. Cool. Turn into pie shell.

MERINGUE

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add six tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating until blended. Beat until stiff peaks form. Spread on filling. Bake at 300 degrees for 20 minutes.

Josie Espinoza, sales, enjoys preparing sopapillas for her family, husband Jimmie and daughter Valerie. "They really like sopapillas and it is their favorite."

SOPAPILLAS

4 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1 egg, beaten
1 cup water

Fat for deep fat frying
Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Mix shortening with flour, using hands. Add egg and water to flour mixture to form stiff dough. Knead well. Divide dough in 4 parts. Roll one-eighth inch thick. Cut into pieces 3 inches square. Fry in hot deep fat (360 degrees F.). Drain on absorbent paper. Makes 3 dozen.

Earl Plagens, owner, shares a dip recipe that goes well with chips or vegetable sticks. It's very tasty and serves well at holiday parties or family get together.

CHEESY BEAN DIP

1 can (16 ounces) Pork & Beans in tomato sauce
3/4 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese with jalapeno peppers
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped red pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion

Assorted crackers, chips or vegetables
In food processor bowl, puree beans until smooth. In small bowl, stir together beans, cheese, peppers and onions. Refrigerate 2 hours to blend flavors. Serve with assorted crackers, chips or vegetables for dippers. Makes 2 cups.

RECORD Editor Ray Mayo admits he's not a cook, although eating is one of his favorite pastimes, he adds with a laugh.

Although he feels more at home on the patio barbecuing, Mayo says he does occasionally venture into the kitchen. His only dessert dish is "7-Up Cake" which he says is easy enough for just about anyone to prepare. He recalls that the cake recipe was given to him by his sister-in-law, Sandra Mayo, and is quick and easy to prepare and adds an alternative to the more traditional holiday desserts.

7-Up Cake

3 cups sugar
3 cups flour
1 1/2 cups butter, (3 sticks)
5 eggs
10 ounces 7-Up
1 tablespoon lemon extract
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cream butter and sugar until creamy. Add eggs one at a time, then add lemon extract and vanilla. Then add flour and 7-Up. Bake in a tube pan at 350 degrees for one hour or until done.

GLAZE

2 cups powdered sugar
Juice of one lemon
Mix and pour over warm cake.

GOOD NEWS

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

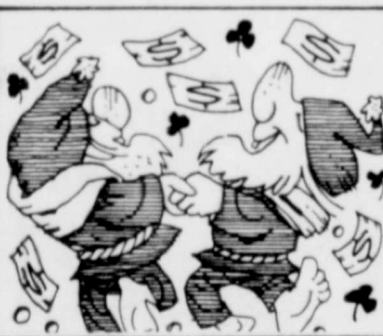

And the angel said unto them, fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be a sign to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

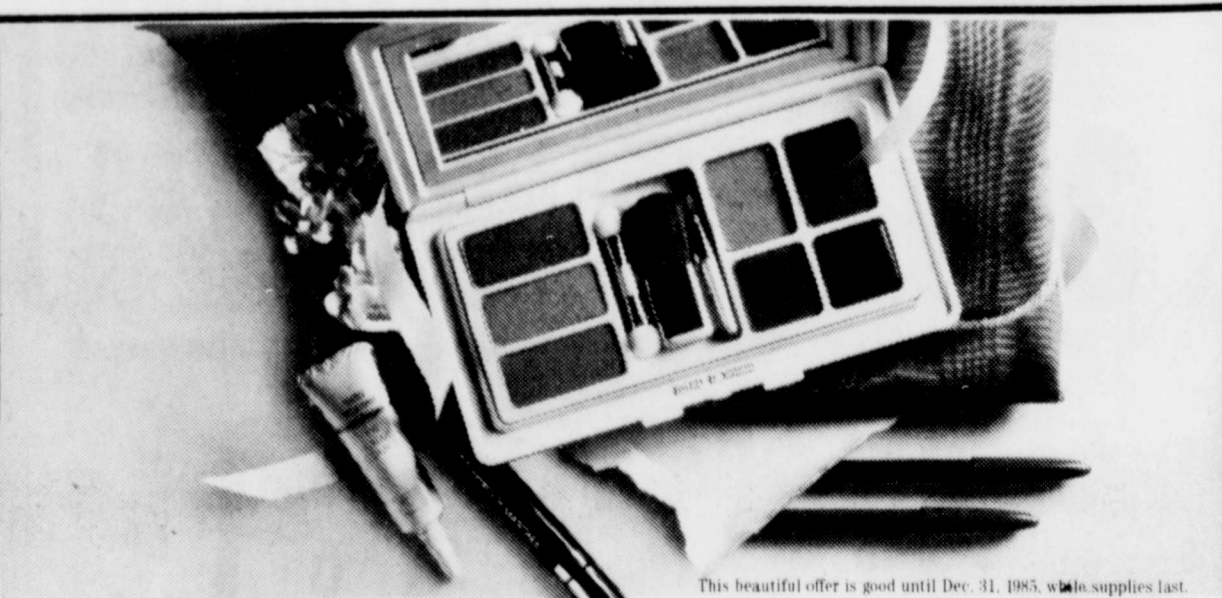

Luke 2:8-11

May the same good tidings fill your heart with great joy this Christmas.

Wolves win first game of season

The Colorado City Wolves scored the first six points and led throughout the contest for a 57-51 victory over the Post Antelopes in varsity boys basketball action here at "The Pit" Tuesday night. The victory was the first in nine games for the Pack.

The Wolves quickly led by 10 in the first quarter and by 14 early in the second period. Colorado City led at least by seven throughout the third period and built a 16 point lead early in the fourth quarter before Post cut the final margin to three baskets with their second of two come backs, ignited by Jay McCook.

Junior Terry Jackson, who finished with a team high 11 rebounds, scored the first goal of the game and then assisted on one of two goals by sophomore Ken Woods for the Wolves 6-0 start. Woods was high point with 12 and added seven rebounds.

With his team leading 8-4, senior Albert Rivera then gave the Wolves a 14-4 first quarter lead by accounting for six straight points. A. Rivera scored on a pass from Jackson and then made two steals that led to scores. Rivera dished off the first steal to Marty Cleckler then made a second consecutive assist by passing to Woods.

Post made a three point play for a final 14-7 score after one period.

Colorado City quickly doubled its lead with a 9-2 run that gave the Wolves a 23-9 lead with six minutes left in the second period. Junior Wylie Dakan opened the run with a free throw and ended it with a goal assisted by Woods.

With Post on the verge of making an early exit, the Antelopes' McCook made his first move. Post outscored Colorado City 11-6 after the Wolves led 23-9 and McCook accounted for seven of the points as the Antelopes cut the Wolves halftime lead to 29-20. Colorado City committed five turnovers late in the second period.

Ruben Rivera scored the first score of the second half on a Woods assist to increase the Wolves lead to nine. McCook again ignited Post for two quick scores that made it a seven point game at 31-24 with 6:15 left in the third period, but Post would get no closer for the remainder of the quarter.

Marty Cleckler had six points in the period and his last two—on an assist by Michael Swann—gave the Wolves a 15 point lead at 42-27, but two Post free throws made for a final third quarter score of 42-29.

The Wolves built on their lead early in the fourth period and Ruben Rivera's free throw gave Colorado City its biggest lead of the game—a 16 point 50-34 lead with 4:02 remaining in the game.

From that point, the Wolves did everything in their power to give the game back to Post. The Wolves committed 10 turnovers in the fourth period. Amazingly, the Wolves still led 53-41 after the turnovers and with 2:04 remaining, that's when Post's McCook made his final move.

McCook, who finished with a game high 19 points, started a six point run that cut the Wolves lead to 53-47.

McCook scored eight of Post last 10 points. Clutch free throw shooting saved the Wolves' first victory though as Woods and Ligon made two of two free throws in the last minute of the game.

The Pack made nine of 14 fourth quarter free throws. The Wolves missed all four first period charity shots, but then got hot and finished with 15 of 26 shooting for 58 percent—much better than their 40.32 average. Post made 11 of 30 free throws for 37 percent. From the floor, the Wolves shot 34 percent—up from a 32.69 average.

Scoring for the Wolves, 1-8, were Woods 12, A. Rivera 10, Cleckler and Swann 8, Dakan 7, R. Rivera 6, Ligon 4 and Jackson 2. Dakan and Rivera added 6 and 5 rebounds. Post fell to 2-2 after reaching the quarterfinals of the football playoffs.

Error patterns could lead to mistakes

(Part of a Series)
Find out what kinds of mistakes your child makes in arithmetic. Use an arithmetic book to find easier problems of the same type, and have the child rework those problems. Make sure your child understands a simpler problem before going to a more difficult one.

HELPING YOUR CHILD

Ask the child to describe how to work a problem step-by-step. Doing this may help the child to identify the error. While the child is doing this, look for patterns in errors because one misunderstanding may cause others like it.
If a child consistently makes a subtraction error (25-16 equals 10) and you are not sure whether this is from carelessness or lack of understanding, use objects to work with the child. Place 25 marbles in a jar and ask the child to remove 16. Make sure that the child checks the subtraction with addition (19 plus 16 equals 35).

If your child has difficulty with word problems, remind your child to concentrate on the information that is essential to solving the problem. Sometimes a problem includes irrelevant information that confuses the child.
Do ask your child's teacher about the kinds of help that you as a parent can provide. Your role is to reinforce and help your child practice the things taught at school.

Do encourage a child to restate what a mathematical word problem is all about—the information it gives and the information it asks for. Putting it in the child's own words will help clarify it.

Do make sure that "home" math has a noticeable problem-solving flavor. It should contain a challenge or question that must be answered. ("How many nickels do you have in your bank? How many do you need to buy an ice cream cone?")

Do use objects that your child can touch, handle, and move. Researchers call these things "manipulatives." They can be any familiar objects such as soft toys, blocks, marbles, drinking straws, fruit, etc.

Do reward your child with praise for the correct answers. This helps build the child's confidence in problem-solving.

Don't tell your child that some people are "no good" in math. Never tell your child you are "no good" in math, no matter how low your opinion is of your own skills!

Don't think that girls aren't as good in math as boys.

Pecans judged in Big Spring

Over 500 pecan entries are expected to be entered in the annual Western Regional Pecan Show to be held in Big Spring, December 17-20 at Highland South Shopping Center in Big Spring. Entries will be from counties hosting pecan shows from throughout the Western Region of Texas, roughly an area from Wichita Falls to El Paso and Amarillo to San Angelo down to Ozona.

All entries qualified for the Regional Show by winning top placings in their respective county shows. Howard County will have over 20 entries in the Regional show which were previous winners in the county show held in early December.

The show is being jointly sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Pecan Growers Association. Judging will take place Wednesday, December 18, all day long. Judges will be B. G. Hancock Extension Horticulturist Emeritus, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas and Dr. Robert Kinsing, Agricultural Economist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, San Angelo.

Superintendents of the show will be Sammy Helmers, Extension Horticulturist, El Paso, Dr. Austin Stockton, Extension Horticulturist, Fort Stockton, and,

Dr. George Ray McEarchen, Extension Horticulturist, College Station. They will be assisted by County Extension Agents from throughout the Western areas of Texas during the week.

The Texas State Pecan Queen Miss Nicole Stone of Granbury will be appearing at the show on Wednesday afternoon along with her chaperone, Mrs. Cathy Harris of Greenwood, chairperson of the Texas Pecan Show Queens' Contest. They will be hosted by Howard College Presidential Classic, Miss Kim Beckham, currently, Miss Howard County.

Demonstrations in uses of pecans will be conducted on Thursday, and Friday by the Extension Home Economists from throughout Extension District 6.

County to see new road signs

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission has approved a contract to refurbish guide signs along 160 miles of Interstate 20 in Callahan, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, and Taylor counties.

The $116,000 contract was awarded to Mica Corporation of Fort Worth.

Ray Green, highway department public affairs officer in Abilene said the work involves replacing weatherworn, bleached-out, and vandalized signs along I-20 from the Martin-Howard county line to the Callahan-Eastland county line. Green said that many of the signs along the Interstate had become difficult to read, particularly at night, and that the installation of new signs will increase safety for the traveling public.

Joe Smoot of Big Spring is the highway department's engineer in charge of the installation work.

This I-20 sign project and many others throughout the state have been made possible by the increased funding provided to the highway department by the Legislature during a special session in the summer of 1984.

Child support law aids payment collecting

By Jim Mattox
Attorney General

One of the biggest problems facing parents who rely upon child support to help provide for their children is the inability to collect their court-ordered payments. I believe it is vital that child support be paid in full and on time.

Texas law now permits child support to be withheld from an employee's income when it has been ordered by the court. This year the Texas Legislature passed laws that help make income withholding nearly "automatic" in most cases.

Income withholding is one way for a parent to obtain the amount that a court has ordered the other parent to pay for child support. It involves having some or all of the amount owed by a parent withheld from that parent's income by his/her employer and paid through a central registry to the parent caring for the children.

If you are owed child support payments under a court order, you may be able to benefit from income withholding if the person owing the support has earnings paid by an employer.

—Withholding can be made from a parent's wages, salary, commissions, bonuses, retirement payments or other compensation.

—The parent's employer may be either a governmental or private employer located anywhere in the United States.

Since September 1, 1985, every court order that establishes a child support obligation must include a provision that child support be withheld from the wages or other income of the parent ordered to pay support.

The courts may now order that child support be withheld from parents' income either as part of the original order or by a separate action at any time after the original order. Even if your child support order is several years old, you may petition the court to order that support be withheld from the obligated parent's income.

After you petition the court, the court may notify you and the parent owing the support of a hearing. When the hearing is held, if the court decides that all requirements of the law have been met, it may order the employer of the obligated parent to withhold an amount for child support. The employer is then served a copy of the order and may contest it by filing a motion that asks for a hearing.

The employer must begin withholding for child support no later than 14 days after receipt of the order. No more than 50 percent of take-home pay may be withheld through income withholding in most cases. This means that if a large unpaid amount has accumulated, it may be necessary to collect the balance of this arrearage by other means, while current payments are being withheld.

The employer may deduct up to $5 per month from the amount withheld as a fee for performing the service. But the employer may NOT fire or refuse to hire a person because of an income withholding order.

A person interested in obtaining income withholding should consult an attorney or call the nearest Attorney General Child Support Office. Remember, even if you tried without success to get help before, the new laws may help you obtain more successful results this time.

For more information about income withholding, contact an attorney or the nearest Attorney General Child Support Office. There are 30 regional offices across the state. If you need help locating the nearest one, call the Austin office at 512-475-0990.

THESE SCOUTS were all wrapped up in their float in the annual Christmas parade held last Saturday. The float was sponsored by Troops 244 and 250 and was one of several in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored parade.

Hazardous waste clean-up secured

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The U.S. House of Representatives recently voted to reauthorize the Superfund program, which provides for the cleanup of the nation's hazardous waste sites.

Congressman Charles Stenholm said, "Despite some onerous tax and regulatory provisions contained in the bill, there are a number of provisions which are important for the long-term cleanup of the nation's hazardous waste problems."

The Superfund bill contains two of Stenholm's legislative proposals. The first proposal deals with new technologies for treating hazardous waste and creates an Office of Technology Demonstration within the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). "This office would review, test, evaluate and implement new and innovative treatment technologies," said Stenholm, Chairman of the Subcommittee on Energy, Environment and Safety Issues Affecting Small Business.

Under current law, there is no mechanism for such demonstration and evaluation. "Based on the testimony I received at a subcommittee hearing earlier this year, there are a number of viable cleanup technologies which could help address long-term cleanup, but they've been unable to get past the federal bureaucracy."

The second Stenholm proposal exempts used oil which has been properly treated, managed or recycled from being considered as a hazardous waste. Stenholm said the purpose of this proposal is to provide an economic incentive for businesses to properly handle waste oil or to convert it into usable energy.

"An improved and expanded Superfund program is important to our public health and safety," said the Stamford Democrat.

Congressman Stenholm voted against the final passage. He said, "I did not support the program's funding section."

77th birthday celebrated

Mrs. Bernice Carey was honored on her 77th birthday December 17 with a reception given by her daughters, Nancy Mayo and Von Dean Muncie, in the Homestead Savings Building.

The Christmas scene was carried out with red table cloths and center pieces. A punch bowl with red punch and a white cake with red poinsettias accented the table.

Those attending were Mildred Free, Judy Winkle, Kathleen Bolin, Oneida Sanderson, Ada Womack, Virgie Goodlett, Louise Logsdon, Christi Mitchell and Billie Muncie.
