City-Wide Sales Event Set Saturday

Saturday, Oct. 16, is going to be an unusual day in Snyder.

Merchandising firms in the city are cooperating on a scope never known heretofore in stag-style show that is expected to bring possibly the biggest sale [illegible] Saturday evening.

Merchants from every part of the city will stage a "sidewalk sale" at 5 p.m. This will come at the end of a full day of conventional type bargain events in the various stores.

Moreover, many firms will be giving away prizes Saturday, with convenient registration facilities provided. Also, the city automobile dealers will give away a $100 U.S. Savings Bond Saturday evening.

The sidewalk sale will be exactly what the name implies — merchants will move quantities of merchandise out on the sidewalk with prices marked far below actual values. Transactions with customers will be made on the spot.

The big automobile show also will get underway on the courthouse square at 5 p.m. All local dealers will have new 1966 models on hand for showing, giving the public an opportunity to see the products of various manufacturers at a single viewing. The fashion show staged in connection with the automobile exposition is set for 7:30 p.m.

Snyder merchants, working through the Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants Committee, have been working on plans for Saturday's big event for several weeks. Officials of the Chamber committee said the participation will be the most widespread ever experienced in such an event here.

Allowable Is Increased To Year's High

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission, responding to oil purchasers' plans to increase November buying, ordered today that next month's production be held to 30 per cent of potential, the year's high.

The order means November production will be 2,976,361 barrels daily.

October production was ordered held to 2,944,109 barrels daily under a 28.8 per cent factor. Last November the commission set the ceiling at 2,884,856 barrels daily under a 28.4 per cent factor.

Ten of the 13 purchasers at today's hearing sought a November factor above the October percentage.

Pre - hearing nominations totaled 2,556,834 barrels daily, an increase of 37,834 over October. The Bureau of Mines forecast a November demand for Texas crude totaling 2,845,000 barrels daily, an increase of 100,000 barrels daily over October.

The November production ceiling is a few barrels per day shy of the year's high of 2,976,754 barrels daily, set for February under a factor of 29.4 per cent.

The November percentage factor, however, is the highest since the commission began using the percentage factor in January of 1948. The difference is the number of calendar days in November and February and the number of wells affected causes a difference in the production in barrels.

Chairman Ben Ramsey said the commission ordered the big increase for a variety of reasons including low oil inventories in Texas and the nation, high auto sales, a firmness in the market, and the almost unanimous request for a higher allowable.

Nominations, in barrels per day, by percentage:

.34 per cent—Texaco 150,000.

30—Shell 176,800, Gulf 217,800.

29.5—Continental 28,000, Humble 419,920, and Cities Service 69,000.

29—Mobil 249,600, Sun 109,297, Standard of Texas 37,800, and Pan American 258,000.

28—Sinclair 100,700.

27—Phillips 117,635 and Atlantic Refining 75,200.

In a statement to the commission, Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association President Malcolm Abel of Midland urged the commission to stop providing high allowables in some oil fields where major companies were the predominant operators.

Abel said the alleged discrimination in favor of such fields allows them to overproduce 100,000 barrels daily which otherwise could be produced in other areas of the state.

Abel's request was challenged by a Marathon Oil Co. official, Terrell Couch of Houston, who said the association had no legal right to seek any commission action.

SHS Set For Homecoming

Ex-students will be in the spotlight Friday at Snyder High School.

A big turnout of former students is expected for a full measure of festivities which will begin at 2:30 p.m. with a pep rally and conclude with an after-game party Friday night in the National Guard Armory.

There is no formal ex-students organization in existence now, but the exes hope to form one here Friday afternoon.

The schedule of planned events includes the following:

2:30 p.m., pep rally in gymnasium.

3:30 p.m., tea in high school cafeteria.

7:30 p.m. Snyder - Lamesa football game.

After game, big ex-student party in armory.

Grant Teaff, 1950 graduate of Snyder High School who has carved a distinguished career in the field of intercollegiate athletics and in education and youth leadership, will be the principal speaker at the pep rally.

Teaff is head football coach and track coach at McMurry College in Abilene. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Teaff of Snyder.

The SHS Student Council has arranged the pep rally and tea for exes Friday afternoon, while a group of exes who live in Snyder have made arrangements for the after-game party at the armory. All exes here for the homecoming event are being urged to attend the party. In addition to planned entertainment, there will be a big section of the armory set aside for "just visitin'".

Half-time activities at the football game Friday night will feature the crowning of the homecoming queen. Students already have cast their votes for the queen, but her identity will not be revealed until the crowning ceremony at half-time. Dr. Robert Clinton, superintendent of schools, will announce the results of the voting and crown the queen.

Candidates for homecoming queen are Kay Pitner, Empress McFarland, Sammie Raines, Donna Davis, Debbie McCants and Becky Jones.

New Battles Erupt At Mekong Delta

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Heavy fighting broke out in the Mekong River delta during the night, and thousands of U.S. combat troops completed giant sweeps north of Saigon and in the central highlands, a U.S. military spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said a large government force suffered "moderate" casualties in the delta battle 5 miles southwest of Saigon, near Can Tho. The 44th Vietnamese ranger battalion met stiff resistance from an estimated 500 Viet Cong.

Associated Press photographer Huynh Thanh My, 29, a Vietnamese, was killed in the action. He had been wounded in the arm and was waiting to be evacuated when Communist guerrillas overran the position. He was shot in the neck.

Vietnamese sources said 60 Viet Cong were killed in the fight, but U.S. authorities confirmed only seven dead.

The U.S. spokesman said the ranger battalion was reinforced by at least four other battalions, and they came under almost continuous fire during the night.

U.S. casualties in the action were described as light.

Remaining elements of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division, Airmobile, encountered sporadic sniper fire Wednesday night as they ended their big operation in the central highlands and began withdrawing to their base camp at An Khe, 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

Between 12,000 and 14,000 U.S. and Vietnamese troops took part in the offensive that began last Sunday. These included 8,000 of the 1st Cavalry Division.

Thirty-four Viet Cong were reported killed and 100 suspects were captured. U.S. losses were described as light.

The spokesman said the number of dead Viet Cong "was not substantial" and it was apparent that the enemy had chosen to flee rather than fight. He said intelligence reports indicated a large Viet Cong force had been in the area.

But the air cavalry's commander, Maj. Gen. Harry Kinnard, said the operation was a success because it was more a measure of pacification than an attempt to kill large numbers of Viet Cong.

Kinnard said the area, the Suai Ca Valley 25 miles northeast of An Khe, had been brought under government influence for the first time since the war began.

CUBAN REFUGEEES WAVE TO FRIENDS—Cuban refugees on stern of U.S. Coast Guard cutter wave to Cuban exiles on shore as the cutter pulled into Key West, Fla. (AP Wirephoto)

Refugee Landings Slowed By Storm

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Squally weather stymied the exodus of Cuban refugees today while Washington and Havana dickered over terms for a systematic movement of thousands.

Only one small boat braved the tossing Gulf Stream to put out from the Cuban port of Camarioca Wednesday. It was the 30-foot Mistral, with 23 refugees.

At least 10 small boats carrying more than 200 Cubans from their homeland have left Camarioca and sailed to Florida since Prime Minister Fidel Castro opened the doors.

A possibility developed that Castro might free tens of thousands of political prisoners who are in jail because they oppose his regime.

The State Department reported Wenesday that Castro had replied to the latest U.S. note on movement of the refugees without flatly turning down a proposal that political prisoners be among the first to leave.

"That's a surprise," said one U.S. official. "I didn't imagine he would give it a second thought."

Castro accepted U.S. proposals that immediate relatives of refugees already in the United States to be the first to leave.

But the proposal that political prisoners be next "requires further talks," said Marshall Wright, State Department press officer.

Aside from the humanitarian consideration that these people have been in jail for years, the United States would like to see them freed because of their value, another official said.

"They are all very able men, and Castro would like to get them in jail," said the official, who would not be quoted by name. "They could do this country a lot of good if Castro ever lets them go."

Ten small boats were in the Camarioca harbor waiting for port officials to decide that weather was clear enough to let them go.

The Weather Bureau said it didn't expect the squalls to begin subsiding until Friday.

Exiles in Miami were cleaning out marinas of boats for the trip to Cuba. The offering price for chartering a 35-footer for the trip is reported to have gone up to $4,000.

Draft Quota Takes Jump

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department requested today a draft quota of 45,224 men in December, the biggest quota since the Korean War.

This compares with 36,600 called for in the November quota.

The Marine Corps, which resumed draft calls in the November quota, requested 5,024 men for December.

The Army's share of the December quota is 40,200.

The Navy, which had requested 4,600 men in the November quota, made no request for December. The Air Force, as has been its custom, also requested no inductees.

The Army procurement objective for enlisted men with no prior military service in December is 47,900, of whom 40,200 will come from the draft. The Marine no-prior-service procurement objective is 8,424 with 5,024 coming from the draft.

The latest announced quota brings the total of draftees since September 1950 to 3,243,324.

Objector To Go To Viet Nam

By RONALD THOMPSON

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Pvt. Winstel R. Belton once declared: "I'd rather starve to death than go to Viet Nam." Thursday, Belton had been ordered to proceed without delay to that war-torn nation.

Belton pleaded guilty Oct. 6 to going on a seven-day hunger strike in protest of his assignment to Viet Nam. The guilty plea was in exchange for a suspended prison sentence and bad conduct discharge.

But, Wednesday, it was revealed by Fourth U.S. Army officials. Belton also had apparently agreed to accept an assignment in Viet Nam with his old unit, the 1st Cavalry Division.

Lt. Gen. R. W. Colglazier, Fourth Army commander, announced he had reduced Belton's sentence as stipulated before his general court martial.

The court martial, which had no knowledge of Colglazier's agreement, sentenced Belton to five years in prison, a dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowances and reduction in rank from private first class to buck private.

US Contraption In Polar Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A strange looking satellite billed as the most versatile unmanned spacecraft yet was fired into polar orbit today.

OGO 2 which looks like a flying coffin with a jumble of fishing poles protruding from it, was designed to conduct 20 delicate experiments analyzing the host of particles, rays and waves that surround the earth. Scientists hope its data will enable them to better understand space events and better evaluate hazards of manned space flight.

The Orbiting Geophysical Observatory etched a brilliant orange trail against a dark overcast sky as it was boosted aloft at 6:13 a.m. atop a thrust-augmented Thor-Agena D rocket combination.

Orbit was confirmed at 7:30 a.m. A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the craft's solar panels and instrument-carrying booms folded out as planned, and its stabilizing sensor had locked on the sun.

However, the spokesman said, a slight malfunction in primary guidance caused a slightly different orbit than planned.

It was not known immediately if this would have any effect on OGO's experiments.

The 1,150 - pound spacecraft was the largest space vehicle launched from this Air Force rocket test center and the first major space agency shot here. The shot was the second in a series of seven in the OGO series. OGO 1, launched Sept. 4, 1964, from Cape Kennedy, Fla., went into the desired eliptical orbit extending 93,000 miles from earth but some of its instruments didn't work properly and it was only a partial success. It is still in orbit, obtaining interplanetary as well as near-earth data.

CRMWD All Set To Push Robert Lee Dam Project

With all legal impediments to the construction of a new dam on the Colorado River apparently being cleared away, the Colorado River Municipal Water District is pulling out all stops to get the $13,000,000 project underway.

A suit contesting the district's permit to impound a lake above Robert Lee in Coke County will be dismissed as the result of an agreement between Mitchell County interests which had filed the suit, and the CRMWD. Colorado City and other Mitchell County bodies politic will be municipalities contracting with the CRMWD on or after the date of this agreement.

"Our board is grateful that we have been able to come to an agreement with our neighbors," said O. H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD. "Certainly we recognize our water stewardship to this entire area, and we acknowledge our long friendship with and gratitude to the people of Mitchell County.

"Now that the way is cleared, the district will push ahead as rapidly as possible on all fronts to make this lake a reality as soon as possible."

Colorado could mean late 1967 before the dam is closed and the lake left to begin catching the first of what ultimately will be 488,000 acre feet at maximum level.

No timetable has been fixed, but the district may be in a position to ask for bids on revenue bonds by March 1966. The engineering firm of Freese, Nichols and Endress of Fort Worth estimated that plans would be ready for construction bids by May 1966. This would mean a June letting.

Here are some of the things already started:

ON NON-CHIRSTIANS

Vatican Council Oks Declaration

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today rebuffed a last-ditch conservative effort to block the assembly's declaration on the Jews.

By overwhelming votes of 10 to 1, the prelates of the Roman Catholic Church adopted the first part of their document on the church's attitude toward non-Christians, including the Jews.

The voting brought approval to the first four sections of the document. These portions deal with Hindus, Buddhists and Moslems and introduce the section on Jews.

Initial voting results made public did not concern the key portion of the schema holding that Jews as a whole cannot be blamed for the crucifixion of Christ in the Passion. But the first results showed [illegible] that only a minority of council fathers had decided to reject the schema as a whole. Three conservative bishops circulated a memorandum in the council Wednesday asking such a rejection.

The three complained that the declaration's treatment of the Jews was unacceptable and that its references to other non-Christians were "insufficient or at least superficial."

The introduction on the section of the Jewish religion, saying there is a spiritual bond between Christians and Jews and urging "fraternal dialogues" between them, was approved 1,937 to 153.

The council also voted on the next portion of the schema which says: "Although the Jewish authorities and those who followed them cad pressed for the death of Christ (John 19, 6), nevertheless what happened" to [illegible] the Jews of today."

Underwater Tests May Go Deeper

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — The Navy's plans for making man amphibian indicate that future man-in-the-sea experiments will be deeper, darker and more dangerous.

"I firmly believe that in four or five years man will be living at a depth of 600 feet and diving to 1,700 feet," Capt. George Bond, principal medical investigator for the recently ended Sealab 2 project, said Tuesday.

In that 45-day experiment in underwater living, 28 men in three teams manned the Sealab cylinder on the Pacific Ocean floor, 205 feet below the surface. They suffered no serious ill effects, Bond said.

"Our work was done in the face of cries that this was 'Buck Rogerish,' and in the face of questions from high places about its value to society or the Navy," he declared.

"But we've confirmed that it is possible to put men into a hostile environment and have them do work. This was highly contested a few years ago. Its value, its potential, is unlimited," he added.

Bond, other officers and the aquanauts attended a news conferenee Tuesday to discuss future plans.

He said the 200-ton cigar-shaped steel Sealab capsule will be usable in the next experiment. It was built at a cost of $1.8 million.

Bond said no date for the next experiment has been set, pending reports from Sealab 2, but added it will probably be conducted at a depth of 400 feet.

Grand Jury In Session

A 12-man Scurry County Grand jury met at 9 a.m. this morning in the Grand Jury room at the Courthouse to study some 20 criminal complaints.

Included among the jurors are Richard L. Brice, Jurden Brunken, Phil Burns, I. S. Cross, R. R. Duck, Rex D. Fields, A. C. Floyd, R. H. Melton, A. C. Newman, Tommy Pate, Perry Echols and L. E. Haynes.

None of the complaints involve crimes for which the penalty is capital punishment. Cases in which indictments are returned will be set for trial in 132nd District Court with Judge Sterling Williams presiding.

At noon today, the grand jury still was closeted in the jury room. Court bailiff is J. O. Sheid Sr.

Two Injured In Two-Car Mishap

A two-car accident at Avenue E and East Highway at 11:35 a.m. today resulted in minor injuries to Mrs. Earl Browning of Fluvanna and Jimmy Sturdivant of Snyder.

Sturdivant was taken to Cogdell Mmorial Hospital by Bolger ambulance and Mrs. Browning was taken to the same hospital by Bell-Seale ambulance. Hospital authorities said that both would be released after treatment for minor injuries.

City Seeks Way To End Discord

By JAMES BONNEY

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — City officials and Negro leaders today discuss ways to put into effect new civil rights agreements aimed at ending racial discord.

Mayor John Nosser signed an agreement Wednesday night granting most civil rights demands, and Negro leaders in turn pledged to end demonstrations pending further settlements.

The city concessions included more Negro policemen, desegregation of the local hospital, upgrading Negro employes in area stores, formation of a biracial committee and appointment of a Negro to the school board.

Nosser and civil rights forces worked out the agreements in a City Hall conference while a handful of Ku Klux Klansmen waited quietly outside.

Charles Evers, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, later told a Negro rally of the provisions and said, "I believe they are sincere."

He called the concessions the "first steps toward freedom."

His audience, packed into a church, expressed both surprise and joy. Some shouted "Freedom, freedom!"

The night before, Evers led 600 Negroes in a march after they rejected city civil rights offers as only "more words."

Negroes have been seeking official action on their demands since spring.

Evers said the new city agreements included the hiring of six Negro policemen in addition to the two already on the force.

He said the hospital had already started desegregating its facilities with two Negro women admitted to an all-white maternity ward. He said complete desegregation of the facility was promised by the end of the year.

The city agreed to appoint a Negro school board member when a vacancy comes in March, 1966.

A biracial committee will be formed in efforts to solve any further grievances.

Evers said 19 Natchez area stores have hired Negro clerks, and others promised to upgrade their Negro employes. However, he said an economic boycott would continue.

He said a federally financed antipoverty program would begin immediately.

Evers called on the Negro community to register as voters, saying responsibility goes with freedom.

Nudists Best Stay In Them Thar Hills

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — There's nudists in them thar hills.

This was brought to the attention of the state attorney general's office recently by prosecutor Samuel D. Littlepage of Mason County. He asked if West Virginia had any laws banning nudist activity.

Littlepage said he had received numerous complaints about a nudist camp in his county on the Ohio border but wasn't certain what action to take.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Cort Doughty couldn't find any violation of state law, but he warned the nudists to stay in the hills.

Guilty Verdict Is Returned In Trial

A Scurry County jury Wednesday returned a verdict of guilty in the DWI trial of Nolan Gaines Russell and handed him a 10-day jail term, a $50 fine and court costs.

The Snyder Negro had pleaded not guilty to the charge, and he asked for a jury trial. Trial began Tuesday and was concluded Wednesday.

Teenage Dancers To Hold Bean Supper In Nov.

The Shirts and Skirts Square Dance Club held their monthly meeting Oct. 10 at the rodeo pavilion. The monthly dance will be a "Tacky Dress Dance" combined with the Country Cousins Square Dance Club, Oct. 16 at the armory. Dancing starts at 8 p.m. and Big Spring has been invited.

Plans for the coming bean supper on Saturday, Nov. 20 at the Towle Park barn from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. was made. There will be a dance following the supper.

If you're planning a buffet dinner this autumn, consider a centerpiece of yellow gladioli and bronze pompons.

Nature's Marvels

THE SENSE OF WONDER. By Rachel Carson.

The late author of "The Sea Around Us," "Silent Spring" and other books wrote this essay about a decade ago. It is a persuasive plea for adults and children to share the marvels of nature together.

Now it has been turned into a picture book. Most of the photographs, in black and white and in color, are by Charles Pratt. Some of them are literal illustrations of subjects mentioned in the text; others are less literal, but still in the spirit of the message. Many were taken along the Maine seacoast where Miss Carson spent her summers.

Text and pictures are combined in a very ficticious manner, and the result is inspiring.

Emotions Direct Market Swings

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Emotion is inspiring the speculative boom party as we enter the fourth week of October.

Remember the last week in September? Monday after traders had their usual fling at it different kind of emotion last week. First they sent prices down slightly when President Johnson's pending operation was announced. Then they sent prices back up a bit after the hospital news was reassuring.

All three of the popular stock averages indexes hit record highs Monday. And the jump in trading volume attests to the role that emotion may be playing this week. The market is notorious for its emotional swings.

Monday's spurt of trading put the price averages back where they were last May—and just a bit higher. They had suffered a steep decline in late May and through June and worried out a long and tedious recovery since then.

Emotion played a role in the May-June break, too. Traders jumped to the conclusion—or boardroom gossip—that a recession was on the way. Then they got word that inventories were getting wide, that a steel strike could upset everything.

Today the recession seems a dim specter indeed, with most officials saying that all of 1966 now looks pretty safe. International affairs have improved in some particulars, with the stability of the British pound being the most recent turn for the better. The steel strike didn't happen. And the steel labor settlement didn't bring as much of a jolt to the economy as some had feared.

With uncertainties over President Johnson's health now pretty much cleared away, with the economy proving too strong in general to be slowed down by its few apparent weaknesses, stock traders were ready to push prices into new high ground. Now many are looking around for still fresher fields to conquer.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks Monday hit a new high of 348.2, topping the previous record set at 91.37.

Mint Busy With Silverless Coins

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mint has produced 100 million new silverless quarters and production is running ahead of schedule, a Treasury official said today.

The new coins will be put into circulation in time for the Christmas shopping season although the date for release has not been set.

By the end of the year, the official said, the mint will begin turning out silverless dimes and half dollars. Original plans called for production of these coins early next year.

The new quarters and dimes consist of a layer of copper sandwiched between two layers of cupronickel, a copper-nickel alloy of which the nickel coin is made.

The change was authorized by Congress because of a potential shortage of silver. The silver content of the half dollar was reduced from 90 to 40 per cent.

Production of the new quarters is being rapidly accelerated. Although almost 2 months were required to manufacture the first 100 million, the mint will turn out an estimated 435 million in the remaining 2 months of the year.

Some 1.9 billion quarters and 1.4 billion dimes are scheduled to be produced in the first six months of 1966.

The coin shortage which has plagued banks and businesses for several years has eased considerably, the Treasury source said. "There is no evidence of further hoarding, except for a few businessmen putting away what they expect to need during the Christmas season — and these will come out at that time."

The government has sizable inventories of nickels and pennies.

The half dollar is the only coin — beside the almost extinct silver dollar — which appears to be in short supply.

All the new coins will bear 1965 dates to discourage collecting and hoarding. The Treasury expects to return to the yearly dating system as soon as there are plentiful supplies of all coins.

(2) Surveying of the damsite and lake basin by Kenneth Esmond and Associates of Odessa.

(3) Awarding of a contract to George Thompson of Sweetwater to handle land appraisals.

(4) Additional core borings on the northwest end of the damsite.

Ivie said that contacts will be made promptly with the Texas Highway Department relative to relocation of about eight miles of the Sterling City-Robert Lee highway, a portion of which will be inundated by the lake.

As soon as appraisals are ready, the district will begin efforts to secure land.

It is anticipated that cabin sites will be handled by land owners, although the district will provide at least half a dozen public areas for recreational purposes.

"Robert Lee people have gone out of their way to be helpful to the district in setting up surveys and laying out the dam site," said Ivie.

The dam will be approximately 21,000 feet long, 136 feet above the river bed at the highest point, will be about two city blocks wide at the base. It will require moving about 9½ million cubic yards of select earthen fill. Running a length of 1,000 feet under the base of the dam will be the massive concrete spillway with a 28-ft. diameter. The lake, when filled, will back water 18 miles up the channel of the Colorado River, or to a point near the Mitchell - Coke County line. It will be 3½ miles across at the widest point, and when full will average 33 feet in depth.

Krush's Successors Have Solved Few Kremlin Woes

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A year without Nikita Khrushchev seems to have solved few problems for the Kremlin.

Government by committee has been the rule since the unpredictable Khrushchev faded as premier from the Soviet scene. Veteran party men are in control, but younger men are pushing steadily toward the top.

For all of them, the Khrushchev legacy has been a maze of domestic, foreign policy and world Communist problems. The collective leadership seems to be groping — and perhaps nervous as if indicating there might be significant changes before long.

Khrushchev's bulky shadow has not been entirely banished. Khrushchevism — much of what he initiated in 10 years — remains without the Khrushchevian dynamism behind it. A confusing struggle seems to persist between two elements of the Communist party, liberal and conservative.

The domestic atmosphere suggests a slowly developing cultural and economic revolution. Abroad, the Kremlin is alert to flashing danger signals warning of the possibility of major war. The collective treads warily through thorny dilemmas provoked by the Moscow-Peking schism.

A year ago this week, the word on most Soviet lips was "Voskhod"—sunrise—the name of a new spaceship. As Voskhod's three-man team of cosmonauts whirled in orbit, Khrushchev excitedly voiced his happiness that "everything was all right up there."

While Khrushchev talked to the orbiting spacemen by radio from a Black Sea resort, the Communist party Central committee quietly gathered in Moscow. The day after Khrushchev's talk with the cosmonauts, they came down ahead of schedule. The following day, Oct. 15, down came Khrushchev.

The Central Committee announced it decided to grant his request for retirement because of his age and his health.

It became clear that the plotters had kicked him out, accusing him of hare-brained schemes, blundering in foreign and Communist policy, damaging the economy and other sins.

How have his successors done? Today the picture looks like this:

POLITICAL—

Two veterans of the Stalin era, Leonid I. Brezhnev, 59, and Alexei N. Kosygin, 61, hold the top jobs of party chief and premier, respectively. Much authority seems vested in Anastas I. Mikoyan, 70, the last of the old Bolsheviks in the hierarchy. He is chairman of the Parliament's—Supreme Soviet Presidium, a sort of president of the U.S.S.R.

Younger men are on the move, men like Alexander N. Shelepin, 47, and Kirill T. Mazurov, 51, from Byelo Russia, both a generation removed from the revolutionary fever of original Bolshevism.

ECONOMIC—

Late in September, the party Central Committee adopted measures intended to end some of the economic confusion and the woes engendered by Khrushchev's experiments in industry and agriculture. It stressed profits and incentives for consumer industries. In this, it had to deal with conflicting views of the military and other conservative elements concerned with Soviet defensive might.

The results of the meeting and indications in the party and government press indicate that reformers in the U.S.S.R. still wield great power.

CULTURAL—

The liberal wing seemed to be holding its own against conservative, Neo-Stalinist elements. The party still seeks to keep a rein on its writers and artists, but it frequently extends the olive branch.

WORLD COMMUNISM—

If the new regime intended to mend the tear in the world Communist fabric, it failed. Khrushchev had begun Red China's main target in the debate on how world revolution should be pursued. Today Peking accuses Moscow of "Khrushchevism without Khrushchev," of a cowardly attitude on questions of war and peace, of retarding revolutions.

In East Europe, the Soviet grip has weakened. The trend has been toward more independence of action, notably in economic policy.

FOREIGN—

The frustrations are as great as, if not greater than during the Khrushchev era. The Russians have been bedeviled by Red Chinese attempts to shut them out of the Asian sphere, and by the danger of Viet Nam.

Relations with the United States, improving for a while, deteriorated after the Russians rejected a plea by President Johnson for easing tensions. On the surface, at least, a new freeze developed.

Despite this, and despite Viet Nam, there was some easing.

In Europe, there were the Russians were withdrawing, at least for a while, from any showdown over questions of divided Germany and Berlin.

Reds, browns, and yellows of croton leaves blend well with chrysanthemums for fall arrangements.

Will Walk 'Round World

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Astronaut David R. Scott will walk around the world at the end of a 100-foot tether line outside the Gemini 8 spacecraft early next year.

Edward White, the first American astronaut to leave an orbiting spacecraft, remained outside 24 minutes with a 21-foot line in the successful mission in June.

Richard S. Johnston of the space agency's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston disclosed details of Scott's stroll at a space flight conference Wednesday in St. Louis.

Johnson said Scott will stay outside for one orbit around the earth—about 90 minutes—to obtain experience in both daylight and darkness. The walk will be made after Scott's partner on the flight, astronaut Neil Armstrong, has docked Gemini 8 with an Agena satellite.

Women Take Over Student Newspaper.

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Women have just about taken over the newsroom of the University Daily Kansan, student newspaper at the University of Kansas.

Ten top news positions — managing editor and four assistants, city editor, features and a society editor, two editorial writers, and sports editor — are held by women. The wire and photo editorships are held by men. Officials said that the women earned the top jobs.

Wounds Are Fatal

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —Joseph Thee, 31, of Midland, Tex., who was found wounded on the porch of a motel unit last month, died Wednesday.

Thee was found Sept. 29 shortly after a man living three blocks from the motel reported firing on a prowler.

Thee worked for the Dallas Western Union office.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The [illegible] house I live in is built so the [illegible] of [illegible] of a fraternity house, which [illegible] house a clear view of [illegible] bedrooms. I heard that the boys over there have more binoculars than a field division in Vietnam. I have one of the back bedrooms. I keep my shades down all the time, but my roommate pulls them up whenever my back is turned. She says the room is "stuffy" and she likes fresh air. I remind her that the boys could get a free show and she says, "Oh, what's the difference?" How do I explain it to her?

MODEST

DEAR MODEST: If your roommate doesn't know the difference, she ought to borrow a pair of binoculars and find out. If you can't change rooms, change roommates, but don't change your ideas.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: How should a son's wife introduce his parents to strangers? We have been introduced as "my-in-laws." Isn't this a bit uncouth?

It seems to me that it would be more appropriate to be introduced as "Mother and Dad So and So."

"THE IN-LAWS"

DEAR IN-LAWS: There is nothing "uncouth" about referring to one's in-laws as in-laws. It is true, "Mother and Dad So and So" does connote more warmth and affection, but unless it's sincere and spontaneous, let it go. She might just drop the "Mother and Dad" and use only the "So and So."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Last August my husband and I were invited to a wedding, and we personally delivered the gift to the bride's home the day before the wedding. It seems the bride was too busy to send thank-you notes, so she combined them with their Christmas greetings. DEAR APPALLED: Unfortunately, no college offers a course in Common Sense and Etiquette, although judging from my mail, it might be a good idea. But even when people KNOW what is proper, no amount of education can move them to do it if they're just plain lazy.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Now that school has started again I have the same problem I have had for years. My friends are beginning to ask to "borrow" my homework. I am an honor student and it bothers me to hand over my homework that I have labored over to someone who "didn't have time," or "forgot" to do the assignment. If I refuse, they become angry. How can I turn them down without losing their friendship?

A STUDENT

DEAR STUDENT: If their friendship depends on your handing over your homework, it's not much of a friendship. You do no one a favor by helping him cheat. Say no, and stick to it.

Newsman Killed In Viet Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Associated Press photographer Huynh Thanh My was killed in action in the Mekong River delta Wednesday night, a military spokesman announced.

My, a Vietnamese, was the second Associated Press photographer to die in the Viet Nam war.

Bernard Kalenberg, working for the AP while on leave from the Albany (N.Y.) Times-Union, was killed Oct. 2 when the American plane in which he was a passenger collided with another during a combat mission.

My had accompanied the 44th Vietnamese ranger battalion on an operation. The unit came under heavy attack from two Viet Cong battalions.

He apparently died of a bullet in the neck that severed his jugular vein, the spokesman said.

A Vietnamese army photographer said My had been wounded earlier and was awaiting evacuation when the Communist guerrillas launched another assault.

The Viet Cong overran the position and took My's cameras and all other possessions except a watch and his wedding ring.

Sen. Tower Denies Charges Of Poor Labor Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., has denied an utterance by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who asserted that Gov. Connally of Texas advocates low labor standards in that state.

Responding to a speech by Morse Monday in Senate debate on the union shop issue, Tower told the Senate Tuesday that Morse had incorrectly described conditions concerning movement of Mexican laborers across the border into Texas.

"The word sordid was used in describing conditions attributed to Gov. Connally," Tower said.

"The word exploitation was used against our employers. It was stated that such exploitation was accomplished with knowledge of the governor. The implication was that the exploitation was, in fact, encouraged by the governor."

Morse also had asserted:

"The governor of Texas is notorious for his advocacy of low labor standards in Texas in order to pirate away from high-labor-standard states industries and plants such as are involved in the Mexican worker textile sweatshops in Texas."

As to this, Tower said:

"No documentation can be provided that shows our governor ever advocated any such thing."

Tower said he was replying to Morse because he felt the latter's speech "mistakenly impugns the integrity and dedication of both the State of Texas and its governor."

Saying he was sure Morse had made some unintentional mistakes, Tower added:

"The statement was made, and I quote: 'Texas maintains some of the most shocking low labor standards in this country. It was stated that empty trucks crossed the Rio Grande to Mexico and that Mexican laborers were loaded into them to be carried across the international border back into Texas to work in alleged 'low labor standard' textile factories.

"Mr. president, this is not correct."

"It is illegal to drive empty trucks into Mexico, there is no hauling of workers back and forth into and out of Mexico."

Tower said there had been no influx of Eastern mills into Texas, and that Texas in no way maintains low labor standards.

Factories Cater To Store Buyers

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The salesman poured a glass of water over the sleeve of a wild, daisy-printed silk raincoat.

"See — waterproof," he said.

John C. Witherspoon, 41, a buyer for a Los Angeles department store — J. W. Robinson Co. — and its suburban branches leaned back.

"Good," he said. "I've got this little woman who thinks I'm responsible if the rain runs down her neck. I want to be sure this is going to be waterproof — not just water repellant."

Hundreds of Witherspoons pour into New York's garment center every week, seeking everything from hats to house slippers for sale at the stores in Scranton, St. Louis and Seattle.

Millions of dollars may rest on their split-second decisions about what a woman will — or won't — wear. The garment center does a $12-billion-a-year business in carrying out the buyers' decisions.

Witherspoon, who studied retailing at Ohio State University, went through a pad of fabric swatches, pulling some and passing others.

It was the second stop on a five-hour round of manufacturers' showrooms — the last day of a week-long buying trip.

Witherspoon left behind $15,000 in orders for the day. An average week he will spend $60,000 to $100,000 during a major market week, when new lines are introduced.

Margie Blanton, a silver-haired dress buyer from a Louisville, Ky., store — Stewart Dry Goods Co. — has been a buyer 25 years, making trips to New York nearly every month — usually for four or five days, and then 10 to 14 days for the big markets in January and June.

"You need to make frequent trips because of the rapid turnover in the market," she said. "You need something new coming in all the time."

Most buyers set up appointments with the manufacturers before they leave for New York, and work with the same salesman each trip.

The buyers store up details.

"We've found a resistance to a line across the bust after the 14th birthday," Witherspoon said, turning down one coat.

He also waved aside a black nylon raincoat.

"We're not buying anything alligator-looking," he sad. "Animal prints are no good in Los Angeles this year."

Witherspoon's company alone has about 80 buyers who make at least two trips a year to New York, and other excursions to Europe and Hong Kong, seeking goods for sales.

For the New York trips, they receive $25 a day expenses. That doesn't cover everything, and the buyers pick up the rest of the tab themselves.

One major outlet — Associated Drygoods Corp. — maintains offices on Fifth Avenue with desk space for buyers from its 50 affiliated stores — about 650 of them.

It also provides a staff of about 40, including 37 market representatives to work with the buyers.

They leave little free time. Those stories of lavish entertainment and high living among the buyers in the big city are just that — stories.

Candy Barr Hospitalized In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Former strip teaser Candy Barr is back in Dallas — but this time she is in a hospital, not a night club.

Now a resident of Edna, Tex., where she lives with her brother and his family, Candy had to receive permission from her parole board to make the trip to Dallas to undergo surgery. The parole board keeps tabs on her since she was paroled from a 15-year sentence assessed in 1959 for possession of marijuana.

Recovering from her operation at the hospital, the former night club attraction said in Edna she writes, reads and fishes and doesn't miss big city life.

A blonde when she was a stripper, Candy, whose real name is Mrs. Juanita Dale Phillips, now has dark hair.

"But just because I'm 30 doesn't mean I'm washed up," she told radio station KRLD in a hospital interview.

Candy said, "living in Edna, I can be me; and before, I couldn't be me. Show business is one of pretense. It gets to be very tiring."

In Edna she has been raising dogs, writing poems and songs and "just thoughts."

Asked what subjects she writes about, Candy said softly from her hospital bed, "every category . . . love, death, happiness, frustrations."

Graham Sets Crusade Date

HOUSTON (AP)—The date of Nov. 19-28 has been set for the Billy Graham Greater Houston Crusade for Christ in the Harris County domed stadium.

The evangelist announced Tuesday night he would have to postpone the 10-day crusade, scheduled to begin Thursday, until the November date because of prolonged recuperation from a prostate operation last month.

The Houston Post quoted a spokesman for the crusade, who declined the use of his name, as saying Dr. Graham was told he would not have lived through next Wednesday had he attempted to fulfill the Oct. 15-23 Houston crusade schedule.

The spokesman said Graham was determined to come to Houston despite his weakened condition, until he was given the severe warning by his personal physician.

He said doctors found infection upon examination of Graham last Tuesday and noted a delay in healing from the Sept. 9 operation.

The evangelist was told he needed no less than four weeks more of confined rest. The spokesman said Graham, now at his home in Montreat, N.C., may be ordered back to the hospital if recuperation fails.

Harvard Investments Reach High Mark

Miss Channing Returns To Town Where It All Started

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Oh, es I remember this town. This s where it all started."

Carol Channing enjoyed the reminiscence. But then, she appears to enjoy everything she does, and her pleasure seems to be a bit larger than life. The eyes grow in wonderment to seemingly impossible widths, and they are further magnified by tinted glasses the size of beer bottle bottoms—quarts.

Miss Channing's triumphs with "Hello, Dolly!" have been boundless. After reigning over Broadway for a year and a half, she left to join the road company here. Each week brings new records at the Music Center, the latest gross being $143,000.

On a warm afternoon in the Hollywood Hills, Carol recalled another time when the town treated her differently.

"I came here to find work and I had a dickens of a time finding any," said San Francisco-born Carol. "Nobody could figure out what to do with me. Oh, they were very sympathetic, mind you, but they didn't give me a job.

"So I had to find the jobs where I could. I played the Shakespeare Club in Pasadena, the Elks in San Pedro, the Rotary in Bakersfield. When I didn't have dates like that, I'd go down to the joints on Manchester Avenue where the winos hang out.

"That's where I developed my Marlene Dietrich impression. They loved me down on Manchester. They said I could come back any time I wanted."

But Carol kept aiming for better things. She thought she might have a chance when Marge Champion took a shine to the Channing style. Her husband Gower was casting an intimate revue called "Lend an Ear" at the Las Palmas Theater in 1946.

"Gower was auditioning a thousand people and he cut down the auditions to a minute apiece," Carol recalled.

"When my turn came, I said he couldn't get the real effect unless I did all 12 of my numbers. He said that was nice, but he could only give me a minute. I said I would cut each number down to one chorus.

"Well, I started anyway, and Marge was there to tell me to change numbers each time she saw Gower's interest fade. And that's how I got the job."

"Lend an Ear" launched Carol on to Broadway, where she later triumphed in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." The Champions went on to success as a dancing team in night clubs and films. After he had returned to directing, he created "Dolly" for his onetime discovery.

When will "Dolly" ever end?

"I don't know," said Carol. "I just signed another contract that will take me into 1967. And Mr. Merrick (David Merrick, the producer) says he'll let me play it after that, too."

Three Men Indicted

BENTON, La. (AP) — Jack Favor, 53, of Arlington, Tex., Donald Yates, 27, and a third man were indicted Wednesday by the Bossier Parish grand jury for murder in the deaths of a Haughton couple.

The third man was not identified because he is still at large.

Favor, who was arrested March 30 in Arlington, is a former rodeo performer. He faces an extradition hearing Oct. 26 in Austin, Tex.

Yates is serving a 20-year sentence in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., for bank robbery.

The three were indicted for the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rickey at their fish bait shop and home. Both had been shot in the head with 45 caliber bullets. Their safe and cash register had been looted.

Madam Chiang To Visit Wesleyan

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Wesleyan College officials say that Madam Chiang Kai-shek will visit next week the school she attended 47 years ago as a 10-year-old.

Dr. W.E. Strickland, Wesleyan president, said Madam Chiang will deliver the principal address at the college's fall convocation, Oct. 20.

Tiger Bonfire Set Tonight; Lamesa Attack Is Explosive

The Snyder Tigers face a tough challenge Friday night when the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes come to town for the second District 3-AAA football contest for both teams. The loser faces virtual elimination from championship considerations.

With plenty of incentive, for both teams, it should make for a fine night of football. Past performances of both teams point to a close game.

Big Spring defeated both teams by about the same margin and Andrews knocked them both off by about the same point cushion. The difference is in the last two outings. Two weeks ago, the Tornadoes suddenly found themselves an offense and whacked highly regarded Monahans, 14-9. Last week, Levelland, pre - season choice to cop the district crown, had to rally in the final quarter to beat the Tornadoes, 28-26.

Lamesa has been tough on defense all year. With new-found strength in the offense, they pose a formidable challenge to the Tigers. Snyder has been unable to move the ball consistently this season, although the defense performed admirably in the 0-0 standoff at Sweetwater.

Coach Horrace Bostick of the Tigers thinks the boys may be ready to move the ball Friday night.

Tuesday, he told members of the Quarterback Club the offense looked good in practice. The boys have met some of the better teams in the area in early-season games and may actually be better than everyone realizes.

One thing seems certain. Snyder will have to play its best to beat Lamesa here Friday night. With former Tiger Grant Teaff on hand to talk at the pep rally Friday and a bon fire slated at 7 p.m. tonight in Towle Park, it may be that the Tiger fans can generate sufficient enthusiasm for a maximum effort.

The Tornadoes have more offensive punch this season. They have good speed in split ends Gary Mayfield and Joe Demerson, both of whom alternate at giving the defense fits. The Lamesa T also features a flanker back. Bob Wiggins, the quarterback, is small, but he's tough and a better than average runner.

Coach Donald Jay has been known to resort to trickery to get the best of his opponents. For instance, the Tornadoes last year had a guard lined up at end against Snyder and they hit him with a touchdown pass. The Tors also have been known to put two quarterbacks into the backfield alignment. This sometimes results in a halfback pass which catches the defense napping.

Chris Boyd, the Tornado safetyman and offensive halfback, is a dangerous all-the-way threat. Russell Dennis, the other halfback, also has good speed and he's hard to bring down. Johnny Harper, the fullback, has size at 200 pounds, and he's as good a 3-yard fullback as there is in the district.

Look for the Tornadoes to display a wide-open style of attack. If Snyder musters a competent offensive punch, the game should be close and exciting.

The Tigers may be able to stop the inside stuff. They certainly demonstrated their strength in the center of the line against Sweetwater. If they can contain the wide stuff and the passes, then they have a good chance to win.

But right now, it looks like anybody's ball game.

Leads Loop

By The Associated Press

Defending champion Lamar Tech dominates the Southland Conference offensive football statistics so far as the Cardinals lead in team rushing, passing and total offense.

Only Abilene Christian keeps Lamar from making a clean sweep of it. The Wildcats lead in scoring with an average of 24.3 points a game.

RECORDS FALL IN LITTLE OLYMPICS

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico's Little Olympics, with about 250 athletes from 15 countries testing the effects of the 1½ mile altitude in preparation for the 1968 Games, goes into high gear today.

Gymnastics and boxing will be added to cycling, now almost completed, and fencing, which began Wednesday night with a Russian victory.

Only other events still pending are the all-important track and field tests and swimming and diving, scheduled to begin Friday.

Only Italy, Cuba, the United States and Mexico are competing in gymnastics. More will be entered in boxing — the United States, Romania, Japan, Italy, Cuba, France and Mexico.

In medals so far won, Italy has won two gold medals and two silver medals for first and second places in cycling events. France is second with one gold, one silver and two bronze medals.

East Germany has won one gold medal and Mexico one all-fencing final Wednesday, silver and two bronze medals for. Twelve competitors have second and third in fencing, and broken Mexican records, although only four are credited third in cycling. with new marks, as theirs were al in the ladies individual foil tops.

Russia has won one gold med-

Lamar 9th, Edison Vie Tonight

What happens when an ex-Snyder coach comes to town with a new team?

That question will be answered at 7:30 p.m. tonight when Ace Amos, coach of the Thomas A. Edison Junior High School team of San Angelo tangles with the Lamar 9th grade team of Coaches Tommy Echols and Bob O'Day. The game will be held in Tiger Stadium since the visitors are bringing a band with them.

Amos coached nine years in the Snyder School System before he took the job at San Angelo this year. So, it will be interesting to see how he fares against his old school.

Coach Echols listed probable starters as follows: LE Doyle Gallman, LT Bruce Kenner, LG Bobby Wright, C Dewey Grinslade, RG Randy Hardy, RT Morris Smith, RE Jerry January, QB Steve Holder, LHB Craig Alexander, FB Larry Lofton and RH Mitch Rambin.

Coming in on defense are Jodi Williamson, Lynn Wilson and Efrain Cervantez.

Elsewhere tonight, the Travis 8th and 9th grade teams are at Goliad in Big Spring for a "doubleheader." The first game begins at 6:30 p.m., followed by the 9th grade clash at 8 p.m.

A "doubleheader" is on tap here Saturday night with Lamar 8th grade hosting Sweetwater in a 6 p.m. duel, followed by a "B" game between Snyder and Midland Lee.

The varsity meets Lamesa here at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the second district outing for both teams. A loss would mean virtual elimination from the title race for either team.

It's Pitching VS. Hitting

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP) — So now it was Walter Alston's turn to worry.

Shaken by Wednesday's unexpected 5-1 loss to Minnesota, the Dodger manager found himself undecided whether to pitch right-hander Don Drysdale or southpaw Sandy Koufax in the seventh and final game of the World Series today.

Normally a situation like that shouldn't be of much concern to a manager. It's like picking between the Hope Diamond and the Star of India.

Only in this case, the two Dodger pitching gems have slight imperfections.

Drysdale is the more rested of the two, but he injured his pitching hand while batting during Sunday's game.

Koufax's arthritic left elbow showed no ill effects after Monday's game, but there was concern whether he'll have his usual effectiveness after only two days of rest.

Sam Mele, who took a big gamble with [illegible] Wednesday and won had no such problems as he considered looked forward to the seventh game, fourth in the Twins' home park where they have yet to be beaten by the Dodgers.

"It's Jim Kaat," he said emphatically. "I told him he'd pitch the seventh game even before we had played the sixth.

"It really makes no difference to us whether Drysdale or Koufax pitches for them. They're both tough. But I got a pretty good horse going for me, too."

Kaat defeated Koufax 5-1 in Minnesota in the second game of the Series but lost 7-0 to the Dodgers southpaw in Los Angeles last Monday.

Whereas Koufax pitched nine innings, Kaat hurled only 2-1-3, giving up four runs and six hits.

"I feel fine," said the Twins' left-hander. "I welcome the opportunity to get another crack at them, especially in our ball park."

Never in Series history has a home park been more beneficial to a club. The Dodgers won all three at their park, and the Twins took all three in theirs.

Grant, working with only two days rest, was in command all the way Wednesday. The broad-shouldered right-hander from Lacochie, Fla., permitted the Dodgers only six hits, none until Ron Fairly opened the fifth with a single.

Michigan State played its first football game in 1896, beating Lansing High School, 12-0.

PPK Event Set Saturday

The annual Punt, Pass, Kick competition for youngsters will be held here at 8:30 a.m. Saturday on the Junior High Football field.

The event, sponsored by Ford Motor Co. through its local dealer, Wilson Motors, will be run off here with the Snyder Public Schools Athletic Dept. and the Scurry County Boys' Club assisting.

Special attention was called to the fact that the event will be staged this year on the junior high field instead of in Tiger Stadium.

Youngsters aged 8 through 13 may compete. Their distances in passing, punting and place kicking will be compared to others over the area to determine those who advance to further competition in Dallas.

Three local youths advanced to the Dallas competition last year. David Thompson, Jackie Murray and Jackie Gorman, along with their parents, were guests at a banquet with the Dallas Cowboys NFL football team and then participated in the PPK activity. A similar program has been arranged for this year.

Lone Star 11's Rated

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Two Texas teams, both members of the Lone Star Conference, have moved into this week's national ratings of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Sul Ross State College is ranked fourth and Southwest Texas State has the No. 11 position.

Showdown Nears

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — No. 1 ranked Texas is just two days away from its crucial test with third-ranked Arkansas and Coach Darrell Royal says six starters — including All-America linebacker Tommy Nobis — may be out of the game because of injuries.

Several Texas newspapers have been poking fun at Royal recently because of his frequent references to Longhorn injuries while the Texas blitzkrieg continues to crush foe after foe.

But Royal replies:

"I don't know what to do except tell the truth."

And the Texas mentor made that comment before it was learned Wednesday that Nobis had a severely bruised knee.

The Steers clash with Arkansas Saturday afternoon before 40,000 fans at Fayetteville, Ark., and a national television audience.

Both teams bring 4-0 records to the occasion and the Southwest Conference championship, and perhaps the national crown, will most likely be riding on the outcome.

The loss of Nobis, a fierce tackler who starts at guard on offense and linebacker on defense, would be a crippling blow to Texas.

Royal said it would be "touch and go from day to day" in regard to his convalescence.

Nobis injured the knee Tuesday in routine practice. He rejoined the action 10 minutes later, apparently not seriously hurt. But sharp pain hit him Wednesday morning, and a doctor withdrew blood from the knee to relieve swelling.

Frogs Flail Lions, 40-0

The Frogs showed overall team strength as they scored five touchdowns to defeat the Lions 40 to 0 in pee wee football.

The defensive unit pounced on four bobbles of the Lions in the second half which set up three of their scores. Sandy Land, Lane Johnston, Louis Loyd and Mike Line covered the fumbles and Travis Bunch intercepted a pass on the eight yard line to stop the only threat of the Lions.

Travis Bunch, though small, runs hard and fast and was outstanding on offense. He scored three touchdowns, one on a 47 yard jaunt, and another on a pass. Louis Loyd caught a 12 yard pass and galloped another 20 yards for a score and showed up well on defense also. Terry Arnold scored 6 points and in the points after touchdowns David Thompson scored 6 points and Mike Line scored four.

The most outstanding defensive player for both teams was Jackie Murray of the Lions who made 14 tackles plus several assists.

The game Thursday matches the Bears and the Mustangs.

Ira Hosts Paint Creek

There are still two undefeated football teams among area 6 and 8-man teams. Hobbs and Ira continue to uphold perfect marks against outside foes. Both teams sport identical 4-0 records. Hermleigh and Gail now are 2-3 for the year and both face stiff tests this week.

Tonight, Ira is host to Paint Creek. Gail hosts Loop and Hobbs ertertains Weinert Friday night while Hermleigh has the week off to prepare for District warfare the following week.

Few Colleges Were Ready For Crush Of Enrolees

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP EDUCATION WRITER

WASHINGTON (AP) — On a schedule as inexorable as the sun's rising, the college crush hit the nation's campuses this fall.

With rare exceptions, the campuses weren't ready.

The final figures aren't yet in, but there are approximately 3.4 million college students enrolled this fall.

This is almost two million more than the 3.6 million who turned out some of them freshmen enrolled just five short years ago, and an 8 per cent increase over last fall.

The biggest burden has fallen on the public colleges and universities, which enroll about 65 per cent of all undergraduates. Educators have seen it coming for years.

For example, the University of Minnesota enrolled a freshman class of 8,814 last month. This is more than the combined freshman enrollment of 8,240 in big Ten, all eight Ivy League schools — in the next year.

Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Princeton, Brown, the University of Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell and other famous institutions of learning are jammed upward. In 1939-40, only 70 per cent went on to college.

To cope with the hordes of 18 per cent went on to college students, the public institutions in 1954-55 it was 29 per cent. To have staffed classes in early 1946-47 it was 43.2 per cent.

Although college enrollment will continue to climb, from this year's 3.4 million to 10 or 11 million by 1975, the crush may never again be as bad as it is now.

First, the birth rate leveled off after that 1947 peak. Second, the public institutions are laboring almost frantically to expand their facilities.

Third, and especially, they have shut the doors on thousands of qualified applicants for lack of space.

In New Jersey, 25,000 were turned away, some of them honor students and valedictorians of their high school classes. The University of Illinois alone had to reject 7,000.

The college crush didn't just happen. Educators have seen it coming for years.

They saw it coming when the war babies started to reach school age. They saw it coming when the birth rate jumped from 2.4 million in the 12 months ending June 30, 1946, to 3.9 million all eight Ivy League schools — in the next year.

They have squeezed three shifts into rooms designed for one, increased the use of class rooms, television and opened Saturday and Sunday classes.

And, typically, they have begged, borrowed and rented space in motels and vacated private homes as dormitories.

But the crush may never again be as bad as it is now.

First, the birth rate leveled off after that 1947 peak. Second, the public institutions are laboring almost frantically to expand their facilities.

Reserves To Up Training

AUSTIN (AP)—Army reserve units in seven Texas cities are slated for intensified training and new equipment under the National Guard-Army Reserve realignment ordered by the U.S. Defense Department.

U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said Thursday 625 reservists in 11 units are involved.

The realignment also includes creation of 8 nonprovisional units from 25 National Guard units.

Tower's office listed these Army Reserve units: Fort Worth, 458th Postal Company, Galveston, 785th Postal Co., 380th Transportation Detachment; Beaumont, 435th and 436th Chemical Detachments, Houston, 309th Chemical Co., 345th Public Information Group Hdq., Waco, 345th Military Intelligence Detachment, 444th Military Intelligence Co.; Amarillo, 924th Quartermaster Co., and Austin, 309th Military Intelligence Detachment.

Hoei-shin Really Found America

By TOM HENSHAW

NEW YORK (AP) — I don't think anyone has noticed it yet but that 15th century map that has Yale University and the Tartar Historical Society [illegible] Christopher Columbus did not discover America but neither did Leif Ericsson and his Vikings as the Yales say their map shows.

On the far right of the map, between what appears to be China and what could be Japan, is the notation: "The Tartars affirm beyond doubt that a new land is situated in the outermost parts of the world."

It doesn't say how the Tartars know about it.

But I know.

Hoei-shin told them.

And Hoei-shin, as any connoisseur of 5th century Chinese yearbooks can tell you or Yale or the Italian Historical Society, was the Buddhist priest who discovered America in the year 499.

I kid you not.

It is so recorded that, in the last year of the 5th century, Hoei-shin visited a country called Fusang, which he pinpointed for future travelers as lying 15,000 li east of Tahan.

Unfortunately, the precise value of the li in 499 was not handed down with the story and Tahan is mythical.

Anyway, Hoei-shin must have had himself a ball.

He fell among peace-loving people who had been converted to Buddhism by five beggar monks 20 years before. They had no weapons but a lot of gold and silver which they treated with contempt.

They were ruled by a king called the Ichi, who, for some apparently religious reason, changed the color of his clothes every two years for a cycle of 10 years. The color, not his clothes.

Their proudest possession was a tree bamboo-like shoots of which provided food, its red fruit kept a whole year without refrigeration, and its bark could be made into linen and paper.

In case you think you have noticed a resemblance between Fusang and the Mexico of the Aztecs or the Peru of the Incas, then you're in a similar boat to Columbus. Somebody beat you to it 90 years ago.

But, now that Yale and its map have proved beyond doubt that Hoei-shin discovered America in 499, we who prefer our speculation undiluted by fact must turn elsewhere for the real discoverer of the New World.

Maybe it was the Romans in the 1st century, else why would [illegible] found in the ruins of Pompeii turn up under 18 inches of topsoil by the Roanoke River in Virginia?

Or perhaps it was the Phoenicians as early as the 5th century B.C., else why would the image of one of their ships be carved on a rock in Middleboro, Mass., and their Semitic alphabet on stones in Mechanicsburg, Pa.?

Okay, Yale, let's see how you handle that one.

To prolong the life of your fall flower arrangements, keep them away from direct sunlight, drafts, and hot radiators.

A Junior Editors Quiz About STARS

QUESTION: Why don't we see the stars during daylight?

ANSWER: Because of the force of gravitation, which draws things near the earth toward its center, our planet is surrounded by a layer which we call air or atmosphere. This is composed of gases such as nitrogen, oxygen and carbon dioxide; but it also contains fine droplets of water vapor and minute suspended particles of different kinds. As the sunlight passes through the air, it is reflected from countless billions of these tiny particles with the general effect that the sky looks light. The molecules in the particles break up and scatter the white light of the sun rays into rays of different colors. As short, blue rays are scattered most widely, the general effect of the sky on a sunny day is usually blue. But if there is a large amount of water vapor in the air, this will change the sky, giving it a dull, gray effect.

Since the moon has no atmosphere surrounding it, there can be no particles or water vapor droplets to pick up the light of the sun. Consequently, even when the sun is shining brightly, scientists say that the sky from the moon will look velvety black, with myriads of stars gleaming brightly, as in the imaginary lunar landscape our artist has drawn.

FOR YOU TO DO: Study the lunar landscape, and you may imagine something is wrong. If that big white ball in the sky is the sun, why is the shadow of the rocket ship leading toward it, instead of away? But the white ball in the sun, which is back of the astronaut, is the brightly illuminated earth. 10-14

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — For a matter of 4½ cents U.S., you can train you will ever find. The ride a historical train over the engineer stops to visit relatives mountains to Cuernavaca. It who live near the tracks. Passtakes about five hours but is sengers get off and pick flowers more fun than the trip by in the fields.
super-highway which is 40 automobile minutes.

Back in the revolutionary days, the train ride was a mighty adventurous proposition. Mr. Emiliano Zapata had his troops all around Cuernavaca firing on the Federals.

The revolutionaries and the Federals took turns chasing each other out of town. These were the hectic times after Mr. Porfirio Diaz abandoned the presidential chair and sailed for Europe with the national treasury in his suitcase.

And Mr. Zapata took care of the southern battlefields while Mr. Pancho Villa galloped in from the north.

Cuernavaca was a sort of off-and-on holdout point for the fast changing governments. The revolutionaries got up in the mountains one day with a load of dynamite and began sticking firecrackers under the railroad tracks. This held up groceries for the Federals and times were hard.

Even after they got the tracks patched up again, the train people had to duck a storm of rebel lead going through the mountains. And the rebs kept blowing up the right of way.

Finally, the Federals joined the revolutionaries and thus avoided becoming targets. And a few years later, the revolutionaries became the Federals and the Cuernavaca train was as peaceful as the Disneyland monorail.

Today, it looks like rolling stock from a six pistol thriller after the Marshall tamed the territory. During the week it is all freight traffic. The passenger runs go on weekends.

Up the side of impossibly beautiful mountains. Across a 10,000 foot high pass with full brakes on the downgrade into Cuernavaca. Through real estate that reminds you of a Western in technicolor.

At any moment, I expected to see John Wayne ride out of the hills, putting a shotgun to the Comanches. Or a deputy sheriff walking through the cars to look over the customers and to slat benches.

The [illegible] is on a hill in a room that serves as a chapel.

Soviets Complain About Public Baths

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government paper Izvestia indignantly said that public baths — which the Russians are very fond of — being built now aren't as good as those dating from czarist times. Izvestia accused architects and builders of putting in big vestibules for show but skimping on the actual facilities. It said that often drainage is faulty, equipment old and cleaning slipshod.

Lone Artist Remains

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP) — Only one man remains of the eight who painted a 30x10-foot reproduction of Da Vinci's masterpiece, the Last Supper, in a Massachusetts jail. The others have been paroled.
