Giants Win 1921 World's Championship

YANKS HELPLESS BEFORE PITCHING OF NEHF; SCORE 1-0

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—World's champion, 1921—the New York National League baseball club.

The Giants won the title which will be theirs for the next year, by defeating the Yankees in the eighth game of the world's series at the Polo Grounds today. The American League champion died fighting hard in a classic twirling duel between their pitching ace, Waite Hoyt and Art Nehf, the Giants' star lefthander. However, they lacked the necessary punch to win, the National League team taking the game by the score of one to nothing, and the series, five games to three.

The Giants victory gives Manager John J. McGraw his second world's series championship team. The New York Nationals, seven times pennant winners under McGraw's management, captured the world's title against the Athletics of the American League in 1905, but although winning the bunting five times since they have been baffled every time until this year in their quest for world honors, twice bowing to the Athletics, once to the Red Sox and once to the White Sox in titular combats.

Came From Behind.

This year, with a National league entrant that had shown its high class by coming from behind later in the pennant race and beating the Pittsburgh Pirates to the flag, the world's series told a different story. Off to a poor start, through their loss of the first two games of the series, the Giants gamely came back, speedily evened up the series, and then, with a slight let up while getting their second wind, rounded into the stretch with a rush and pushing through with

UNEMPLOYMENT CONFERENCE IS ADJOURNED

Remedial Policies for Emergency and Permanent Relief of Jobless Are Agreed Upon.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Having agreed upon definite remedial policies for the emergency and permanent relief of the unemployment and the return of commrce and business to normal, the national unemployment conference today completed its labors, undertaken at the request of President Harding, and adjourned without date.

To continue the work of the conference until the present emergency is passed, the organization committee was ordered to select a standing committee, to be named later, which will be authorized to recover the confer ence at any time.

The final session of the conference today was devoted to consideration of reports by various sub-committees. In the main, these reports were an amplification of general measures adopted by the conference. From several committees majority and minority reports were received, notably in the case of the manufacturer. But on motion of Secretary Hoover it was decided that conflicting opinions should not be entertained for action by the conference.

All interests in the nation were urged to join in effecting a normal adjustment of wages and prices in a statement on behalf of he employer member of the conference, read by Ernest T. Trigg, of Philadelphia, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, pledging the support of labor to the constructive policies approved by the conference.

In its less than three weeeks of existence the conference adopted proposals for solving many of the major economic difficulties of the nation and suggested machinery for the immediate relief of the unemployed. Existing unemployment was found by the conference to be a matter for the communities to handle with the responsibility for its mitigation resting upon the mayors. To co-ordinate the relief work of the communities, a central agency was established under Colonel Arthur Woods, former police commissioner of New York.

Other emergency measures suggested included the installation of part time jobs, increased and clean up work on manufacturers, private houses, hotels, offices and municipalities expedition of public works by the municipalities, states and federal) government; congressional action at the present session on appropriation for roads and passage of the railway funding legislation now before congress.

Permanent measures adopted by the conference covered a wide range of economic factors including suggestions for readjustment of disproportionate increases in the prices due to increased cost of transportation, enlarged profits, interest, taxes, labor and other charges.

RAIL LEADERS PLAN CUTS IN FREIGHT RATES

Proposed Policy Will Give Public Benefit of Future Reductions in Cost of Operating Roads.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—A proposal to meet all future reductions in the wages of railroad employes with corresponding decreases in railroad employes with corresponding decreases in railroad freight rates is to be presented to the association of railway executives at its meeting here tomorrow, it was announced tonight.

The proposition is to be submitted by a special committee of the railroad officials which last week conferred with government officials at Washington, it was stated.

That announcement was made by a railroad official here for the conference, who stated that the committee had prepared a report embodying the plan.

The proposition to pass all future reductions in operating costs along to the public, it was stated, was in line with the policy of the railroads to make freight rate reductions and at the same time allow the railroads to operate at a profit. Freight rate reductions are impossible so long as operating costs remain unchanged, the official asserted.

The railroads emerged from the war facing a huge deficit, he asserted. The 6 per cent profit provided for by the transportation act failed to bring any material relief because of the decrease in business and had the railroad labor board not authorized a reduction of wages effective July 1, many railroads would have been bankrupt before the end of the year, it was asserted.

Railroad executives, according to the official, have realized the desirability of a reduction in freight rates because of the decrease in the prices of other commodities.

They have, however, been unable to effect such reductions, he said, because of the fixed operating costs. This, he asserted, applied to the arbitrary fixing of wages and to the limitation placed on the number of hours employes can work and the amount of work that can be done.

MAN FALLS TO DEATH FROM FOURTH FLOOR COURTHOUSE IN WACO

By Associated Press.

WACO, Texas, Oct. 13.—E. G. Hammer prominent Hill county farmer, died here late this afternoon, two hours after falling through the rotunda of the courthouse from the fourth floor to the basement. His spine was fractured. A wife and five children live at Brandon, Texas. He had been in bad health for some time.

METHODS USED AT GATESVILLE ARE DEFENDED

Choking of Dell Thames by Drill Master Unintentional Asserts Chaplin of Institution.

Inmates of School Will Be Given Chance to Testify at State Board of Control Hearing.

By Associated Press.

GATESVILLE, Texas, Oct. 13.—That the inmates of the juvenile training school here have already begun to show the effects of the departure from the school of H. G. Twyman, former drill master, who is charged with the murder of Dell Thames, 14 year old inmate, was the testimony of H. E. Luck, school chaplain, before the board of control today.

Despite the fact that Twyman's successor is a man fit for the place, the boys are attempting to "run it over him," Mr. Luck testified. He stated further that he had never seen Twyman or any other employes of the institution, hit, kick or otherwise mistreat the boys. "I would not have stayed here one minute had I though such practices were going on," he said. Questioned as to the death of Thames, Mr. Luck said he had felt all along that there might have been physical weakness in the boy and that no one knew of. "If Twyman did choke the boy to death, he had no intention of doing so at the outset of the punishment," he said.

J. J. Johnson and Tom Coskrey, guards who were nearby when the alleged fatal attack was made on Thames, appeared before the board. Both praised Twyman's methods and said that they had seen him punish boy captains for kicking boys under their command. Their testimony dealt mostly with the death of Thames and little with alleged cruelties and brutalities.

That Twyman's methods had worked wonders in the school was the crux of the testimony of Miss Della McDonald, Miss Carrie Beavers, Miss Pearl Atkinson and Mrs. J. C. Roberts. None of them said she had seen the boys cruelly or brutally treated.

The testimony of Roy Kelley, former inmate who left shortly after Thames' death, was read by Judge Bell. It was to the effect that he had been kicked, whipped and unmercifully treated by Twyman and the boy captains; also that he had seen other inmates receive the same treatment.

Judge Bell, who is representing Governor in the inquiry, called attention to the alleged use of tobacco by guards and employes while on duty. He cited the state law creating the institution in which the use of tobacco is prohibited. Several witnesses testified that most of the male employes sometimes used tobacco before the boys but usually when to themelves.

Testimony tomorrow will be from inmates of the school and the board plans to quiz them thoroughly as to the treatment they have received.

CORN AS FUEL IS MINNESOTA PLAN

One Is Killed, Four Others Badly Injured In Burkburnett Blast

Special to Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Oct. 13.—Bursting out two sides of the frame building in which it was located and with a detonation that broke out all window glasses in neighboring buildings and jarred merchandise on the shelves of business houses here, a gasoline tank exploded Thursday night at 8:45 o'clock at the local plant of the Tidal Western Oil corporation, killing one and seriously injuring four others of whom one is not expected to live.

A. W. DeRona, 25 years of age and married sustained a fractured skull from which he died at 10.45 o'clock.

C. B. Waldon, about 30 years of age and married, suffered a double compound fracture of the skull and at a late hour Thursday night was not expected to survive, according to reports from the local hospital.

C. R. Barton, superintendent of the plant, who recently moved here from Tulsa, Okla., was pronounced by hospital authorities to be in a critical condition from a wound sustained when a flying iron rod ran squarely through his body at the abdomen.

A man named Price, whose first named could not be learned and one other whose name could not be learned were reported to have received lesser injuries.

According to incomplete reports from firemen, officers and physicians who were working with the injured and at the plant it is feared that others may be injured, though no definite information could be obtained.

Adding to the difficulty of working in the debris caused from the natural gas was reported to be flowing in great quantities about the building, making it almost impossible to do efficient rescue or repair work. The electric wires were all broken, leaving the place in darkness, and with the abundance of natural gas, only electric flash lamps could be used by the volunteers, who were attempting to repair the leaks.

A back-fire in a gas engine, which is started by air pressure is reported to have caused the explosion.

$500,000 FIRE SWEEPS TOWN OF ELIASVILLE

Blaze Rages for Two Hours Wipes Out More Than Two-Thirds of Business District.

By Associated Press.

GRAHAM, Texas, Oct. 13.—Fire, which early this morning broke ut at Eliasville, an oil town a few miles south of Graham, caused a loss of approximately $500,000, according to a check made late today, Twenty-six buildings ere consumed.

Prompt work of the Graham fire department, which went to Eliasville on a special train, saved several buildings, among them the First State Bank, the Young County Motor Company and the Hillcrest Hotel.

Fire departments of Breckenridge and other small towns witbin a radius of thirty miles of Eliasville, rushed to the assistance of the citizens there, but the flames, fanned by a high wind quickly spread throughout the business district. The conflagration was curbed before reaching the residential section.

Several charges of dynamite were used by the firemen but the explosive failed to assist much.

Many reports have been given out as to the origin of the fire, but according to those who were first on the scene, the blaze started on the second floor of a hardware store.

Most of the business houses were of frame construction but evan those of brick and stone failed to escape.

According to business men of Eliasville, the majority of the destroyed property was covered by insurance.

Negro Bandit Attacks and Robs Woman

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 13.—A negro bandit entered the home of Mrs. Maggie Pruitt here at 2:30 o'clock this morning and after choking and covering her with a quilt, robbed the room in which she was sleeping, taking seven dollars. He escaped in the darkness after the robbery.

Fines Indian Thousand for Killing Wife

By Associated Press.

PONCA CITY, Oct. 13.—Legal procedure, said by local attorneys to set a precedent, was recorded here last night when a jury in District court had heard the evidence against Napoleon Buffalo-Head, wealthy Indian, charged with killing his wife, returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter and assessed a fine against him of $1,000.

COL. SIMMONS COLLAPSES AT HOUSE PROBE

Imperial Wizard Defends Order and Launches Attack on C. Anderson Wright.

Senator Watson of Georgia Attends Hearing and Lends Support to Fellow Georgian.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, collapsed today at the close of a five hour defense of the order before a house committee and while Chairman Campbell was trying to suppress applause which greeted the conclusion of his statement. The committee ordered a brief recess after friends of th imperial wizard announced that his condition was not serious but later adjourned until tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—Resuming his testimony before the house rules committee, William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, again launched an attack today against C. Anderson Wright, a former klansman, who recently published what purported to be an expose of the order.

The wizard denied that the organization had declined to pay checks or drafts drawn by Wright for services performed during a membership campaign. Simmons charged that Wright prior to his connections with the klan "issued bum checks at Houston, Texas."

"You mean to say that Wright is sued fraudulent checks?" asked Representative Rodenberg, republican, Illinois.

"That's my impression," Simmons replied.

"Didn't you know this before you took him in?" Mr. Rodenberg persisted.

"We did not know of it until afterward."

A certified copy of the Ku Klux charter, obtained in Georgia was presented to the committee. It set forth

Rail Strike Again Looms Says Report

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Reports were in circulation tonight following the virtual close of the conference of brotherhood leaders that October 30 had been set as the tentative date for the calling of strikes of railway employes, unless wage negotiations with the employers were reopened i nthe meantime. It was said sectional strikes, rather than a nationwide strike had been tentatively agreed upon.

"We shall have an announcement to make, I believe before the week is out," said Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers tonight.

CIVIC PRIDE ENTERS AS FACTOR IN AUTO CONTEST; CANDIDATES ENTHUSIASTIC

Enter Civic Pride!

Cities and towns of Texas are competing with each other for the honor of claiming a winner in the Record News big automobile and prize campaign.

The spirit and enthusiasm of candidates has spread to friends and acquaintances in many communities. In many communities the entire townspeople have caught the fever and forthwortb issued the edict that their favorite must win in the great prize distribution which will take place October 29th.

With the latest club offer as a liberal boost toward the winning goal, aspirants for the five automobiles and other prizes are launching the most determined efforts of the race to capture the rewards.

Callers at campaign headquarters yesterday declared they were seizing this opportunity to swing their way to the top and victory. Out-of-town candidates have written in and said they would now make their supreme effort.

Here is the special offer: Fifty thousand extra votes with every club of subscriptions turned in up to Saturday night. There is only one more club offer of the entire campaign, which is just one-half as large the one now in effect.

Candidates are working with the "do or die" slogan yesterday is gone and they have forgotten it, and no worrying over what they "might" have done; today is here and they are using it and making every minute count. They know that tomorrow will take care of itself. That is the spirit which wins.

Second Payments Count.

In order to facilitate the plans of all contestants who are planning on a whirlwind campaign from now until October 29th (and who isn't?) candidates are urged to get in touch with all of their subscribers and have them extend their subscription to one and two years where the full amount was not taken in the first place. It will prove a surprisingly big source of votes. A careful perusal of the "second" payment scale will show a liberal number of votes obtainable on these second payments.

As an instance, we will assume that six months subscription at $3.90 turned in. Two thousand regular votes were issued at the same time. Now, if the subscriber extends the subscription to a year by an additional $3.90 the candidate will receive the regular votes allowed on a yearly subscription less the 2,000 votes received on the first payment of $3.90.

The second payment idea will prove immensely valuable to candidates and will help boost the vote totals to large proportions. Make it a point to get in touch with every subscription you have secured.

Explain the urgency of securing votes, now that the race is narrowing down to a finish. Show the subscriber how you will benefit in votes. They will be glad to help you.

FORMER LEADER VIOLATED UNION RULES IS CHARGED

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Kan., Oct. 13.—Alexander M. Howat, president of the Kansas Mine Workers Union and his administration were suspended from office today on order of John L. Lewis, president of the International Union, and George L. Peck, a members of international executive board was designated acting president of a provisional organization, created to handle district affairs.

It was announced that the action was taken because Howat and other union officials refused to abide by a ruling of the international union convention at Indianapolis recently that certain striking miners should be ordered back to work. Howat, with August Dorchy, union vice president, is serving a six months sentence in the Cherokee county jail at Columbus for violation of the criminal section of the industrial court law, by calling strikes. Virtually all of the 12,000 miners in the district have been on voluntary strike since the commitment of Howat and Dorchy.

A statement issued by Peck during the day said that all striking miners would be expected to return to work immediately. It also was stated that Peck and Thomas Harvey, suspended secretary-treasurer, who under the terms of Lewis' order was designated acting secretary-treasurer, in the provisional organization, would take immediate charge of union affairs.

Since the incarceration of Howat and Dorchy, John Fleming, member of the district board, has been acting as president. Whether Fleming and the other acting officers of the suspended administration would accept the order of Lewis, was still a matter of conjecture tonight. In that connection, announcement was made that a mass meeting of miners had been called for tomorrow afternoon.

Indications that there would be a fight on the question were seen by many persons in a statement by Howat from his jail cell later in the day in which he said:

"To hell with John Lewis and Governor Allen. Our plans are unchanged. We shall continue to fight."

TEXAS C. OF C. HEAD ATTACKS KU KLUX KLAN

Neff Urged to Curb Activities of Klansmen by President of Commercial Organization.

Special to the Record News

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 13.—J. S. Cullinan of Houston, president of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, in an annual address today, flayed leaders of the Ku Klux Klan and scathingly denounced activities of the organization in Texas. He called upon the business men of the state to see to it that the law is enforced and a reign of anarchy put to an end.

At the conclusion of his address President Cullinan introduced a resolution urging Governor Neff to use his influence for law enforcement and urging him, if necessary, to call upon the president of the United States for protection of the lives and liberty of individuals against the activities of the klan. Leaving the chair, Cullinan asked for the adoption of his resolution.

"Texas is strong enough and big enough to enforce its own laws without the aid of the president of the United States," declared Joseph E. Farnsworth of Dallas and urged that the resolution be referred to resolutions committee. Farnsworth in making his motion said that personally he was absolutely against the Ku Klux Klan and disapproved of it from the ground up. Farnsworth's motion prevailed and resolution was referred to the committee.

Receipts of the Texas Chamber of Commerce are now about $75,000 per annum and President Cullinan said constructive work done by the Chamber of Texas is in proportion to this handsome sum. "From now on," he stated, "we may look forward for improved and improving conditions." He was given hearty applause when he said "bootlegging is now about the only steady occupation a man can have at a reasonable profit; our laws are no longer respected. Not only in regard to the 18th amendment but in other ways our peace and safty is flouted. But we must and will control this situation. No man or set of men are going to put forward and carry through what certain elements have undertaken and no man is going to sit in Austin and let these things proceed. The people must assert themselves and correct this anarchy which is spreading over the state and which is not a bit less in seriousness than the anarchy now prevalent in Russia.

There is a large attendance of representative business men. After the chamber's session they attended the fair. Governor Neff is expected here Friday. He will attend the fair and return to Austin Friday night. Oil men are pouring in the city from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana and there promises to be a large attendance at the convention tomorrow and at the banquet.

Bandits Make Big Haul at Bessie Okla.

By Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 13—Three robbers tunneled into the vault of the State Bank of Bessie, at Bessie, Washita County, Oklahoma, last night and escaped with 24 safety deposit boxes believed to contain more than $1,000 worth of liberty bonds, approximately $100 in cash and negotiable notes totaling between $2,000 and $4,000, according to messages received here today by state officers of the Oklahoma bankers association and Sheriff Ben Dancey.

NEGRO MISSES LYNCHING BY SCANT MARGIN

By Associated Press.

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Oct. 13.—Intense feeling against a negro arrested yesterday for an alleged assault on a farmer's wife continued today at Liberty Hill, 18 miles west of Georgetown, according to reports here. Sheriff Lee Allen, who was called to the Liberty Hill community late yesterday, arrested the negro and hurried away to avoid possible violence because of high feeling. The sheriff said today the suspect was in "Jail," but it was not known whether he was held here or in the jail of an adjoining county.

It became known today that 100 men called at the county jail here last night demanding that the negro be turned over to them. County Judge F. D. Love was called upon at 1 o'clock and after making an appeal that the law take its course, promised quick trial of the suspect. The crowd dispersed at 3 o'clock.

This morning a rope with a hangman's noose was found tied to a tree in the jail yard here.

Officers said today there was no direct evidence that the negro is guilty of the crime. The woman upon whom the attack was made said she could not identify her assailant.

FARMER SLAYS NEIGHBOR AND KILLS HIMSELF

By Associated Press.

LOCKHART, Texas, Oct. 13.—Bruce Harris, well known farmer and livestock raiser, was shot and instantly killed yesterday at his ranch 11 miles west of here by a neighbor named Reece, who then took his own life, using the shotgun with which he had killed Harris.

Reece is believed to have suddenly become mentally deranged, due friends say, to grief over a recent death in his family. Harris was feeding cattle when Reece is said to have stepped up behind him and pulled the trigger.

among other things that the klan was "purely a benevolent order, without capital stock or profit or gain to members. Touching on charges that the klan was a mercenary outfit, Mr. Simmons holding his hand aloft, exclaimed: "God will bear me witness that never in the six years of my association with this organization did one mercenary or commercial thought flit through my mind."

The witness declared that a man connected with the klan in its early days had told him he, Simmons, could make $1,000,000. He did not explain the method."

"Who was that man?" asked Representative Rodenburg.

"Jonathan B. Frost, whose name appears here in our original petition," the witness replied.

"When Frost made that statement I told him I would go to my grave before I would prostitute the order for commercial purposes. Frost also told me that if he were appointed an imperial officer he could guarantee me $30,000 in 24 hours, but I refused."

Simmons said it was for the purpose of preventing graft in the sale of robes that he caused to be inserted in the charter a provision giving him sole power over the klan's paraphernalia.

As the testimony proceeded it was evident the imperial wizard who recently has been ill, was speaking under a strain. Often he leaned heavily on a table as he stood during the examination.

Denying charges that he held an iron hand over klansmen, Simmons declared:

"The authority I hold may be compared to that of a general in the army, but a general cannot issue orders in violation of the rules and regulations of war."

Then, with a dramatic gesture, his voice pitched high, the wizard added:

"If President Harding should resign tomorrow and the people should rise up overnight and attempt to proclaim me an absolute monarch and demand that I accept the office, I'd die before I'd do it."

Still discussing newspaper attacks, as he described them, Simmons touched a brilliant stick pin in his blue tie, closely wrapped around a high stiff collar.

"Why, the newspapers said today I was wearing a big diamond. This is no diamond," he exclaimed. "It's an imperial stone."

The audience roared and Chairman Campbell suggested to the witness that he get along and deal with more important matters.

After several attempts to get answers to specific questions with the statement from the witness that "he was coming to that," members of the committee insisted that interruptions were proper.

"We've been very courteous and I think the witness should answer," said Representative Pou, democrat, North Carolina, and the witness agreed.

"The Ku Klux Klan is a patriotic and fraternal order," said the wizard. "There is no invisible force that creeps around in the night seeking to harm people."

Representative Pou asked whether by excluding many Americans the klan did not tend to keep a narrow rather than a broad Americanism.

"No, sir," replied Simmons. "There are many fraternal organizations which restrict their membership. The klan does not exclude others because of their creed."

Simmons said his salary of $1,000 a month was fixed by the executive committee.

"How many members were present when the salary was fixed?" asked Representative Pess, republican, Ohio.

"Fourteen of the sixteen members, I think," he replied.

At this point Senator Watson of Georgia stepped quickly to the front to shake hands with the imperial wizard.

The senator whispered something and then sat down near the witness. Arising a moment later Senator Watson asked if a senator would be permitted a question. "Not an outsider," said Chairman Campbell.

"But I am an insider and you will if you want to be fair," Senator Watson explained. "I am a United States senator and I am going to see that the witness has fair play."

Simmons stepped over and put his hands on the senator's shoulder.

"I think you may ask your question," Chairman Campbell interrupted, the audience meanwhile being much of a hubbub.

"Well, I won't claim my rights here, but I will when this thing gets to the senate," Senator Watson shouted. "If I want to ask this witness to whose order I do not belong, but which I propose to defend, if he does not know that congress is creating dozens of offices and employing officers at $15,000 and $25,000 salary, all of which comes out of the pockets of the tax payers."

Senator Watson thereupon sat down and soon left the room.

Producing the klan ritual, Simmons read many paragraphs which showed, he asserted, that the Ku Klux Klan aim was a pure Americanism.

Asked about the total klan membership he declared it did not exceed ninety thousand. The organization, he declared, was no counter part of the Ku Klux Klan that was organized in the South after the Civil War.

RAISE $105 FOR SCHOOL EQUIPMENT

A total of $105 was realized from the box supper held Thursday night at the Barwise school to raise funds for providing playground and recreation equipment according to the report of W. T. White, principal.

Short addresses on various angles of the schools questions were made by Lee Clark, superintendent of schools, Mayor, W. D. Cline and Judge W. B. Chauncey. About 000 were present.

The boxes were auctioned by A. L. Lane, 72 years old.

Judge J. H. Barwise, although unable to attend, sent the school his check with assurance of his assistance at any time it was needed.

IRRIGATION BOND DEAL IN PROGRESS

The next few days should see the consummation of a sale for the bonds of the Big Wichita Irrigation project, one of the directors of the project said, following receipt of a communication from the firm with whom negotiations were recently opened on the sale. This statement came as a result of an erroneous dispatch from Austin to a Dallas paper which said that the bonds had been sold, which is not yet the case.

Condemns Acts Of Fort Worth City Officials

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 13.—John Baskin, Fort Worth attorney, appeared at the local city hall Thursday with an impeachment threat against city officials in regard to checking of names on the recall petitions recently presented, asking that an election be called to fill the mayoral and police commissioner offices.

Baskin objected to the manner in which city Secretary Snow is determining whether the signers are lawful voters of Fort Worth.

district before it was checked. The fire raged for two hours, whipped by a strong easterly wind.

Heroic actions of volunteer fire fighters saved the First State Bank building, the largest edifice in the city only. In rare instances is the loss covered by insurance the great majority of the losses have absolutely none. The Graham volunteer fire department which came down on a special train over the Wichita Falls & Southwestern railroad was a factor in checking the flames before they spread to the Young County Motor Company, the First State Bank and other buildings. Several dynamite blasts failed to check the fire.

The following buildings and firms were totally destroyed: Young County Hardware and Furniture Company, Eliasville Service Garage, Hoyl Hotel of 40 rooms, H. and J. Coffee House, Old Guaranty State Bank and Trust Company, Eliasville Bakery, Engleman Hotel of 48 rooms, Tric Hotel of 20 rooms, Eliasville Battery Station, Wisdom and Covey Real Estate office, Oil Field Telephone and Telegraph Company and two-story Robinson building, McCalister, Groves Lumber Company, Winsted grocery, Billingsley hotel, Elite hotel and cafe, G. E. Newell Dry Goods Company, I. O. O. F. Lodge building, S. and O. Tailors, Winston Grocery, Kilkerson Barber Shop, United eRalty Company, City Confectionery, Brown and Newsan Grocery, Howards Hotel, R. L. Ice Company, Postoffice and the entire Jordan and Young building containing the new lodge room of the Eliasville Lodge of Masons, Metropolital hotel of 30 rooms, the Boston Store, Shanklins Confectionery, Clayton and Clarke Garage, Coxy Theater, old Crescent Theater, Joy and Mitchell Drug Store.

QUICK WORK HELPS IN ELIASVILLE FIRE

Quick work by the organization of the Wichita Falls and Southern and by the Graham volunteer fire department, proved a big factor in preventing fire at Eliasville today from completely destroying the town, the combined efforts of the two organizations landing the appartus from Graham within an hour and ten minutes from the receipt of notification of the fire.

Throwing themselves immediately into the fight, the Graham department succeeded in saving two business buildings, one of them the First State Bank and the other the Hillcrest hotel, the Wichita Falls & Southern railroad station, and a string of box cars standing in the yards, all of which were burning when the train pulled into the station. The fire was discovered at 7:30 in the morning. Notification was sent to the general offices of the Southern by the Eliasville operator at 7:50. The Graham operator was immediately called from here, and 30 minutes later, or at 8:20, the triple combination pumper owned by the Graham fire department, with its members, was loaded on a flat car and on its way to Eliasville, arriving 40 minutes later, or at 9 o'clock.

PRODUCTION IN NORTH TEXAS POOLS IS OFF ABOUT 2500 BARRELS PER DAY: LOSS EVENLY DISTRIBUTED: RUNS 150,000 DAILY

Production in the North and Central Texas districts averaged around 150,000 barrels daily for the past week, according to production estimates, based on pipe line averages throughout the district. This drop of about 2,500 barrels, is distributed about evenly among the larger fields, with Stephens drop of 1,000 barrels supplying the largest single slump.

Average daily production in the various pools, is estimated as follows:

Burkburnett	43,700
Electra	11,300
Kemp Munger Allen and Iowa Park Shallow	3,000
Archer County	2,000
Petrolia	300
South Bend	7,700
Stephens	60,000
Ranger	14,700
Comanche	5,900
Strawn	700
Bryan	100
Coleman	150

WICHITANS ARE INTERESTED IN CATTLE LOAN

While Wichita Falls interests, represented by Frank Kell, have made a subscription, although only a small one, to the one big agricultural and loan agency organized at Fort Worth Wednesday under the terms of the Kellogg bill, after a close fight, they will make good on Fort Worth's promise to subscribe half of the $1,500,000 stock if that place falls down, Frank Kell laughlingly said with reference to the meeting on his return from Fort Worth Thursday.

"They had you where you couldn't say much, didn't they?" Mr. Kell was asked with reference to his being placed in the chair during the meeting at which this decision was made, after Judge Ramsey left.

"I was where I couldn't do anything, but they didn't have me where I couldn't say anything," he replied with a laugh. Seriously speaking he expressed himself as believing the stock would be a good investment.

One other Wichitan, beside Mr. Kell, was named on the board of directors of the new institution, W. B. Pyron of the Gulf Production Co.

WICHITA CLUB DEFERS DINNER

OPENING PROGRAM TO BE HELD ON MONDAY EVENING

Initiation of the Wichita Club's new year's program, scheduled for a dinner at 7:00 o'clock Firday evening, has been postponed to the same hour on Monday evening, according to an announcement by A. H. Britain, president of the Wichita club, Thursday.

Conflict of the date with a number of other affairs at the same time, is given as the reason.

FIELD PARTY BEGINS WORK

Two or three weeks will be required to finish the survey for the proposed connecting line btween Byers, northeast of Wichita Falls and Waurika, Oklahoma, a point on the Rock Island, according to Frank Kell, who is behind the new line.

The surveying party are establishing their camp at Byers, and expect to finish their work in a minimum of time. As previously announced, the party will be in charge of Capt. H. P. McFarland, the engineer who built the Wichita Falls and Southern extension.

WICHITA SOUTHERN RESTORE RUNNING SHOPPERS SPECIAL

Restoration of service into Wichita Falls from points south with time for shopping in Wichita Falls and return the same day is restored by the Wichita Falls & Southern in schedule 6, announced Thursday and to go into effect on November 16.

In this schedule the train from the south arrives here in the afternoon soon after 1 o'clock, instead of at night, and starts the return trip at 3:00 instead of the next morning—giving shoppers two hours here, with return the same afternoon.

The train makes good connections at Graham and Breckenridge for other points, arriving at Graham on the return trip at 6:40.

ENROLLMENT IN NIGHT SCHOOL STILL GROWS

Maintaining an average of about ten additional pupils with each session on the free night classes being conducted at the Senior high school, have reached a total enrollment of 271 pupils to date, according to the report of the classes on Wednesday night. The total enrollment for the night classes of 1920-21 was only 126.

A course in English for foreign born residents was formed at the last session and teachers ask that any other foreign born residents in the city who wish to become more familiar with their adopted language by taking the courses attend the next session in order that all may have as nearly as possible to an equal start.

Several calls have been reported for English courses, but so far not enough have applied for the formation of a class.

JURY VERDICT FAVORS M'MANN

Damages which will total several thousand dollars were awarded the McMann Oil Company by a jury in the 89th District court Thursday morning. The exact amount of the damages will not be known until judgment is rendered.

In addition to awarding the plaintiff damages, the verdict of the jury returned on several special issues submitted which in effect upholds the contention of the plaintiff company that the contract which it had for the purchase of casinghead gas on two leases in the northwest field is valid.

The suit centered around an alleged breach of contract on the part of the defendant company when it sold the casinghead gas from its wells to another concern other than the McCann company, which alleges that it had the sole right for the purchase of the gas after it had taken over the contracts of the Gilliland Oil company with whom the Superior Oil company had originally contracted for the sale of its casinghead gas.

DAMAGE SUIT IS RESULT OF COLLISION

Trial of the suit of I. Creecy against H. L. Lewis, local oil operator, for damages totaling $7,000 as a result of a collision between a motorcycle owned by the plaintiff and an automobile owned by the defendant in August of this year opened Thursday afternoon with jury before Judge P. A. Martin of 89th District court.

According to the plaintiff's petition his motorcycle was demolished and he received serious injuries when he was forced into a collision with the defendant's automobile when the latter turned his machine on Burnett street from Tenth street without giving warning. The trial of the case will probably be completed today.

WANT SCOTTY AND FIELDS TO BE REMANDED

The state will ask that H. T. Scott, better known as "Scotty" and Newell Fields be remanded to jail without bond when they face preliminary trial on a charge of robbery with firearms Saturday afternoon at Henrietta, according to the announcement Thursday of District Attorney Bert Wilson.

The filing of a charge of robbery with firearms against the two men followed their arrest after the reported robbery of a small grocery store at Dean, eleven miles from here on the Petrolia road. According to J. B. Givens, 67-year-old proprietor of the store, the two men entered his place of business on the pretext of being officers. Mr. Givens also asserted that one of the men slapped him in the face, when he remonstrated with him for peering into a jewelry case.

The case is set for trial at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Police reported that no additional information was obtained through the arrest of a woman Tuesday for investigation. It was also reported that no information was obtained by the police in connection with the detention of another woman shortly after the arrest of Scott and Fields.

Mr. Givens asserted that there was a woman in the automobile in which the two men were riding when they came to his place of business.

John J. Pershing now holds the title of "General of the Armies, Chief of Staff."

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. ANDERSON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Mrs. Stanley Anderson, who died Thursday morning at 2 o'clock at the Wichita General hospital after a short illness with pneumonia, will be held Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence at 411 Fourth street, the Rev. N. F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

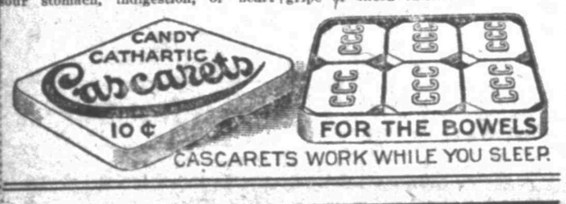

The deceased is survived by her husband, Stanley Anderson, two sons, Stanley jr. and Billy, a ten months old baby, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cowen, 911 Fourth street.

The services will be in charge of the Yeomen, members of which are asked to meet in time to attend the services in a body. Pallbearers are announced as follows: W. F. Wallace, Rex Robinson, R. H. Ramsey, E. D. Trevathan, J. M. Chandler and R. T. Walsh, with Mesdames R. H. Ramsey, W. W. Shuler, R. P. Walsh, W. F. Wallace, Rex Robinson and C. S. Taylor, honorary pallbearers.

BOWEL POISON MAKES YOU SICK

Your bowels may seem regular—move every day—yet your thirty feet of bowels may be lined with poisonous waste which is being sucked into your blood, keeping you half sick, nervous, despondent and upset. Whether you have headache, colds, sour stomach, indigestion, or heart palpitation, it is usually from bowel poison.

Hurry! One or two Cascarets tonight will clean your bowels right. By morning all the constipation poison and sour bile will move out—thoroughly! Cascarets will not sicken you—they physic fully, but never gripe or inconvenience.

EDITORIAL REVIEW OF EVENTS

Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, is the head of the propagation department of the Ku Klux Klan. Atlanta is her home. An assassin fired five shots through her bedroom window. None of the shots took effect. Bloodhounds were placed on the trail of the gunman, or the gunwoman. No result. This demonstrates that Mrs. Tyler is a splendid publicity agent and has the artistic work of the modern propagandist reduced to a science. Never run under fire and if it is possible to become a martyr play the game to the limit.

Chicago has started a campaign to regulate dancing. More than 10,000 years ago the ancients were fond of launching campaigns to regulate dancing and danceurs and dancers have been regulated ever since. There is nothing new under the sun. "Big Bill" Thompason is the mayor of Chicago. Of course he is the promoter of the latest drive let loose against vicious danceurs and dancers. Whenever the reformers are pushing "Big Bill" up against the wall he becomes a saint. After he has thoroughly thrashed the reformers he becomes a political sinner. Politics is a great game, and "Big Bill" is a master politician.

Railroad executives again plan to slash the wages of 2,000,000 rail workers the country over. These officials believe they are going to be successful in trimming wages. Then they promise a reduction in freight rates. This will be gladsome news to the shippers, who are on the war path and insist that the high freight rates have destroyed the commerce of the country. Of course the rail chiefs have an excuse. They say high wage schedules have detsroyed the business of the railways. Americans are accomplished in the art of buck-passing; whenever there is a row one player passes the buck to another player and Jones pays the freight.

Lieutenant-Governor Lynch Davidson paved the way in his magnificent appeal for the supremacy of the written law at whatever cost in Texas. This gave Governor Neff an opportunity to trail along in second place and pledge the aid of the state at all times in support of those who believe in the bill of rights, a trial by a jury and vindication for those who are innocent as well as the punishment of the guilty by a jury of their peers.

In the days of the long ago the Davidsons were members of the Ku Klux Klan when white renegades, northern carpetbaggers and ignorant blacks were clutching at the throat of white civilization in the southland.

These night riders of old restored the supremacy of the written law wherever civilization had been threatened and then they disbanded. In all the years since their passing white men, white democrats, have ruled the south and the written law has been uppermost.

Lynch Davidson knows this and he is for the written law today as his father was for the restoration of the written law when military despotism and alien rule threatened the states and the people who had appealed to the sword and had lost.

Whenever the lines are drawn in America, the men who believe in the written law of the land and its enforcement, will win hands down as General Bedford Forrest and his white guardians of liberty won when they crushed southern renegades, northern carpetbaggers and deluded blacks in the days of political reconstruction and military despotism and barbarism.

President Harding has sounded the death knell to the hope of those who believe that general disarmament of nations is coming. He says there is no hope for universal disarament—and there isn't. All the nations of the earth with the exception of America are as greedy as ever, as intolerant as ever, as miliartistic as ever and as despotic as ever. All the nations of Europe have been land-grabbers from the beginning. Great Britain cannot afford to disarm. France has the Napoleonic spirit as strong as ever. Italy, with the masses grounded to the earth, and the most poverty stricken of nations, maintains a king and nobility, and wherever there are kings and nobles, or privileged classes, there is certain to be standing armies and costly navies.

Japan cannot afford to disarm.

Japan has Shantung.

Japan has Korea.

Japan has a vice-like grip on Siberia.

Japan must have new territory for its surplus population.

After the world war had been fought, after it had been won, by the soldiers of the nations to prevent future wars, the kings and the prime ministers of Europe made universal peace impossible. In the division of the loot they annexed empires and to hold these empires they must maintain armies and navies.

Man is as greedy as ever.

He dearly loves to lord it over the weak.

President Harding is sincere.

He was sincere when he called the disarmament conference of nations.

If this be true then for every dollar paid in taxes by the peoples of all nations, ninety cents will be paid in the future to pay the bills for past wars and to be prepared for wars in the future. It is queer, isn't it, that nations which call themselves Christian nations are willing to cling to the barbarism of the sword.

National Committeeman Thomas B. Love found Germany more prosperous than any of the nations of Europe. He found all the Germans, old and young, working. He found the women harvesting the crops. He found the men busy in all the cities and towns. He found the mark almost worthless, yet very few idle persons.

Germans are gluttons for work.

They are willing to toil long hours.

They are willing to take low wages.

They believe in production. They know that most of the wealth comes from the soil. This is the history of the Teutonic race. They always work their way out and while they are working their way out they manage to pay their way out.

Mrs. Harold F. McCormick is the daughter of John D. Rockefeller. Her father is one of the richest, if not the richest, of all the nabobs of the earth. Her husband inherited vast millions. Mrs. McCormick did not find happiness. She ousted Mrs. Potter Palmer, society queen or social arbiter of Chicago.

All that wealth could buy was at her command.

She held the golden wand.

Now she lives under one roof and her husband under another.

No scandal attaches to either.

There isn't an affinity in sight.

She believes in her art and higher life.

THE AUTO TRIP.

When starting on an auto trip, be sure your tires are good, and see that all your sparkplugs zip, with pep, beneath the hood. Have ample small change in your pouch, a basketfull of lunch; and oh, be doubly sure no grouch is going with the bunch. Be sure the crankcase has its oil, the best that you can buy; it's wrong to make a motor toil with all its bearings dry; your extra tire should be supplied with eighty pounds of air, and if a sore-head wants a ride, say, "No—the walking's fair." You may be fixed for every chance that motoring can spring, be fixed to ride in circumstance, as happy as a king; but if a grouch is in the crowd, your glee will fade away, your weary head will soon be bowed in trouble and dismay. For if a puncture stops your bus, as punctures sometimes do, the grouch will make a mighty fuss, and many rags he'll chew. And if perchance you lose your way, when night is coming on, the grouch will wring his hands and bray, and keep it up till dawn. And if the rain begins to fall from black clouds overhead, the spineless grouch will whine and bawl until you wish him dead. You and your manly friends might smile when divers things go wrong, enjoying every outdoor mile, if Grouch were not along; you take him at a frightful cost when on a trip you go, for he is like the bitter frost that blights all things that grow.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

Who's Who

COUNT YASZLO SZECHENYI

Count Laszlo Szechenyi of Budapest, it is understood, is to be Hungary's minister to the United States after the treaty of peace is ratified. He is familiar with the United States, as he spent much time here with his wife, the former Gladys Vanderbilt.

COUNT SZECHENYI

The count married Miss Vanderbilt in 1908. He visited America frequently before the war and has made a visit here since the armistice. When the United States entered the war, Countess Szechenyi became an alien enemy and the alien property custodian took over nearly $9,000,000 worth of stocks and other property owned in this country by her.

The countess made a visit to her family while the war was in progress being admitted by special permission of the state department.

"BRITISH RULE ONLY HOPE OF INDIA'S UNDERDOGS."

"God permits England to continue to rule India because British government there is the only hope of the underdog," says Commissioner Booth-Tucker, former head of Salvation Army work in India. Commissioner Booth-Tucker and his wife are on a two months' tour of the United States having arrived from England on the Adriatic recently.

"I hold no brief for the government there by reason of any prejudice in its favor, for I was cast in prison by British authorities for holding open-air religious meetings when I first reached India with four companions for forty years ago in Salvation work. I stayed in prison a month. We obtained the right to hold such meetings as a result of the fight my companions and I put up.

"If it were not for fear of the British government and the power it exerts for internal peace, it is my honest opinion that hundreds of thousands of Hindus would be massacred by the fighting Mohammedans in the present state of unrest in India. The Hindus are not fighters."

Before entering the Salvation Army Commissioner Booth-Tucker was assistant government commissioner in the Punjab for five years and is familiar with the work of the government from that experience. Mrs. Booth-Tucker's father was governor of Bombay for forty years.

For nine years after he had begun the work in India Commissioner Booth-Tucker was in charge of Salvation Army work in this country, with headquarters in New York. Mrs. Booth-Tucker is on her first visit to this country.

Gandhi will ultimately fail in his self-appointed mission to drive the British out of India, in the commissioner's opinion, but he may accomplish a certain amount of good in the process.

Gandhi's policy of passive resistance, civil disobedience, or non-co-operation as it has been variously designated, is not as thoroughly successful as is generally believed, according to the commissioner.

"Give me a hand, mister," she cried. "I daren't let him come out!"

"Your husband, I suppose?" he said.

"Yes,' was the breathless reply. "He's got one of his crazy fits on today."

"Well, I should think you would be pleased to let him out."

"Not till this policeman's passed", panted the woman. "You see, Bill's very nasty with policemen when he's like this, and this one's too valuable to lose. I do his washing."

LARGE CROWD ENJOY BILTMORE ORCHESTRA

The auditorium of the First Methodist Church South was well filled with music lovers Thursday evening to hear the Biltmore Society orchestra presented under the auspices of the Epworth League of the church.

The orchestra, which was the opening number of a Lyceum course which the league expect to bring here this fall and winter, was well received and every member proved himself to be a real artist in his particular line.

The program, consisting of instrumental solos, and orchestral work under the leadership of Eugene Schweizer, was well balanced and included a variety of classes of music.

SACRED CONCERT PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Miss Berenice Jackson, violinist, who has been heard in recital and on various musical programs, and whose numbers are always looked forward to with much interest by music lovers of Wichita Falls will give a solo number on the Sacred Concert program which will be rendered at the First Baptist church Sunday evening by the church choir under the direction of R. Vaungh Ray. Miss Trenholm Doyle, soprano soloist will also give a vocal number.

Miss Doyle is said to possess a soprano voice of unusual beauty, and one that displays to splendid advantage, the careful training it has received. Other soloists will include Mrs. T. C. Brownell and Ivan Murchison.

The program to be rendered Sunday evening follows:

Anthem—"The Lord Is Loving Unto Every Man"—George M. Garrett.

Duet—"In the Cross of Christ We Glory"—(Edward Howe.)—C. H. Angle and Vaughn Ray.

Anthem—"Evening and Morning"—music by Herbert S. Oakley.

Solo—"By the Waters of Babylon"—(Howell)—Miss Trenholm Doyle.

Anthem—"Pilgrim Chorus"—(Guiseppe Verdi)—from "I Lombardi."

Offertory—"Sings In the Night,"—(Spinney)—Mrs. F. R. Collard.

Violin Solo—"Romance"—(Weinianski)—Miss Berenice Jackson.

Anthem—"See Ye the Lord"—(J. V. Roberts)—Ivan Murchison.

Solo—"Be of Good Comfort"—(Cowan)—Mrs. T. C. Brownell.

Anthem—"The Lord Is Exalted"—(John E. West.)

DAVID LANGFORD CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Celebrating his fifth birthday, Master David Kemp Langford, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Langford, entertained about thirty small friends with a pretty party at his home, 2812 Tenth street Tuesday afternoon.

After several hours spent in playing games on the lawn, the little folks were invited into the dining room which was attractively decorated where each guest marched by and received a Hallowe'en cap.

The table was prettily decorated, with the birthday cake containing its elaborate trimmings, the gift of Master David's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kemp, forming the center.

The cake was cut and served with ice cream cones, and later each guest was presented with pretty favors, miniature candle holders filled with dainty mints for the girls, and tiny hats full of candies for the boys.

Those present included: Little Misses Katherine Smith, Leonora Walker, Mary Anne Walker, Elizabeth Asbill, Ona Bell Britain, Phoebe Jane Chenault, Olive Daugherty, Ruth Grisham, Helen Clayton, Elizabeth Langford, Nellie May Ross, Margaret Ross, Sibyl Charlotte Maer and Margaret Staniforth, Masters Bruce Greenwood, Jr., Joseph Fenton, Ikard Smith, Billy Kemp, Perry Richardson Bass, A. B. Booth, Jr., Nathan Chenault, Jr., J. G. Dixon, Herbert Davis, Walter Horne Priddy, Robert Priddy, Benton Ross, Kemp Maer and Jack O'Donohue. Mrs. Langford was assisted in entertaining the children by her mother, Mrs. J. A. Kemp and sisters, Mesdames W. N. Maer and A. B. Booth.

The honoree was remembered with many pretty gifts from his friends.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

A MYSTERIOUS AUTO TRIP.

Arrived at his own home, Ned whistled gayly up to their window in the hopes of seeing his wife's head come popping out, but there was a silence. No one was about, not even his mother.

Slightly uneasy, he walked through the rooms, calling Cherry's name and hoping against hope that he would find her, and they would still have time enough to have a chat before dinner.

Aunt Phoebe came to the dining room door and grinned at him as she stood, arms akimbo, watching.

"Loris, Miss Ned, your young lady's gone a-riding long ago. Wasn't here mo'n fifteen minutes after she done come back from de office for Mister Hamlen called fo' her in dat big cyah of his'n Deys done gone off for a ride somewheres."

"Thanks, Aunt Phoebe," said Ned, trying to hide the anger in his voice. "I'll be all right, and I guess Miss Cherry'll be back soon. Tell mother I'm lying down when she comes in and be sure and call me for dinner in case I fall asleep."

"Dey's not comin' back fo' dinner. Dey's done gone off on some visit'n' trip, and Miss Cherry 'ol' me she wouldn't be hyah for some time," went on Phoebe, cheerily.

"All right, but don't forget to call me for dinner, anyhow. I'm sure to sleep now, because I'm dead tired," answered Ned savagely, as he turned on his heel.

Ned did not spend the next hour in sleeping as he had let Phoebe think that he would. On the contrary he was very wide awake, too much so for his own happiness.

He was ragingly angry at Cherry for going off with Arthur without a by your leave or a word to him. He was more than furious with Arthur, himself. Over and over again in his anger he vowed to revenge himself on that young man, and over and over he came to the old conclusion, that Cherry must be in love with Arthur and playing a game with her own husband. Well, thank goodness he had found out in time. There was no need for any great scandal. Wellsburg wouldn't be surprised at a divorce in the family. Wellsburg, in fact, was becoming strangely inured to divorce.

He would fix everything for Cherry and be as nice as possible and then she would soon forget all about him. Served him right for losing his heart to a flirt. He would never trust another woman.

These and other equally gloomy thoughts chased through his mind as he lay thinking. Even the sound of his mother's footstep in the hall did not disturb his reflections. Most of all did he wish to avoid explaining his position and fears to her. And Ned best knew why.

The sound of the dinner gong brought him back to the present with a bang. He got up and washed himself dispiritedly, got into a lounging coat and went down to the evening meal.

Fortunately for him there was no one but his mother at the table. Jack was out "courting," as Cherry put it whenever that youth missed a meal at home, and his mother was in as reflective a mood as Ned himself.

GIRLS! GROW THICK LONG, HEAVY HAIR WITH "DANDERINE"

Buy a 35-cent bottle of "Danderine." One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and, in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant. (Adv.)

Movieland

Antonio Moreno.

Antonio Moreno's new picture takes him to India. The story concerns a young civil service Englishman, who in order that his delicate wife may live in the northern hills, agreed to accept a fever-haunted post after his arrival in India. The preferment offered the young man by the commissioner has malice and intrigue back of it as the commissioner has become infatuated with the youngster's wife and is hoping that the husband will be eliminated by the fever.

It is said that this is a new, repressive type of role for Moreno and that the sequences worked about the lonely man in the fever district make an intensely interesting story. In the latter phases of the picture Moreno has a chance to throw repression to the winds and put the punch in the finale by some dramatic and athletic action.

The screen narrative was written by George Cameron and the script arrangement is the work of Jap Pilcher.

REAL BONNIE LASSIE.

Daisy Sloan, who appears as the solo performer in the Scottish sword dance of the big ball-room scene in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," Donald Crisp's third picture for Famous Players-Lasky British Producers, is a native daughter of the land of the heather, and holds a prodd record as one of her country's champion dancers, it is said.

Miss Sloan started her terpischorean career at the age of as an interpreter of national dances in national costume, and at the age of 10 gave a special demonstration of her are before royalty. She made her debut as a vaudeville artist when she was 14 and has appeared at the London Palace, Palladium and Collseum, also at practically every variety house of note in the United Kingdom, besides making a successful tour of South Africa.

STAR AT 17.

Patsy Ruth Miller—her first two names suggest the heroine of a girl" story—has been selected by Goldwyn to play opposite Cullen Landis in "The City Feller," which has just gone into production at the Culver City studios. Miss Miller is only 17, and a comparative newcomer to the screen. She played with Nazimova in "Camille."

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Walnut Roast—Four eggs, one quart milk, two and a half cups crumbs, one cup chopped walnuts, four teaspoons grated onion. Beat eggs, add milk, walnuts and onion, let stand twenty minutes. Put in buttered bread pan and bake thirty minutes. Serve with white sauce.

French Fruit Salad—Dice two oranges, add an equal amount of diced pineapple and three tablespoons chopped almonds. Serve with fruit juice on lettuce leaves.

Fruit and Cereal Medley—Mince some figs, oranges, bananas and dates, mixing well. Place alternate layers of fruit mixture with grapenuts or wheat or corn flakes in a bowl, having a layer of fruit on top, and serve with top milk or cream.

PEAR RECIPES

Peruvian Soup—Beat the yolks of two eggs into a cup of heavy cream. Pour this into a pint of rich chicken broth, heat in a double boiler, add the pulp of one pear, diced, and boil gently until thickened. Serve with toast squares.

Madagascar Salad — Dice the pulp of one pear and marinate one hour in lime juice, pepper and salt. Drain and add a teaspoon of minced red pepper and one-half cup of grated fresh cocoanut. To one-half cup of the cocoanut milk and two tablespoons of honey, a teaspoon of lime juice, salt and pepper. Mix well and pour over the salad.

Creamed Pears — Make a rich cream sauce, add the juice of an onion and one-half cup of grated cheese. Add a diced pear, and cook five or six minutes after it begins to simmer. Serve on toast.

Cuban Scallop—Dice the pulp of two pears. Add to them a cup of dry crumbs, one-half cup of grated cheese, the juice of an onion, pepper, salt, a little sugar, and a teaspoon of chopped parsley. Beat two eggs into a cup of cream and add to the mixture, then turn it into a buttered baking dish. Bake fifteen minutes or until a delicate brown.

American salads made of the pears are made differently in different localities, but the usual addition of chopped celery, chopped nuts, without mustard—and the pulp of the pear diced small, will be found nice, served in lettuce leaves.

SEASONABLE SALAD

Celery, Cabbage and Nut Salad—Select a solid head of cabbage. Remove sufficient leaves to make three cups of finely shredded cabbage. Chop sufficient celery stalks to make one and one-half cups of the chopped vegetables. Place the shredded cabbage and the chopped celery in a pint of cold water to which one tablespoon of lemon juice and the rind of one lemon have been added. Let stand for one hour. Dry off on a piece of cheesecloth. Add one and one-half cups of chopped peanuts. Toss lightly together. Moisten with boiled dressing; serve on a cabbage leaf.

A Big Fat Man With Face of Tan—Was Talking to a Giant Fan—"The Yanks", He Said "Are Funny, Dan—They're Funnier Than the 'Koo Koo Klan!"

three straight victories to their final triumph. In every victory, except today's they came from behind to win.

Thus, one of the best and most hotly contested series in the history of the sport, was won cleanly, and, in the final analysis, decisively by a club whose gameness and all around ability of the highest grade will be generally conceded.

As for the underlying reason for the success of the McGraw men the experts may differ, but there seems little cause to doubt that the most widely propounded opinion will be that it was because of the preponderance of high class pitching ability. The series showed but two of Manager Miller Huggins' twirlers capable of pitching winning ball—Mays and Hoyt—while the Giants put forward a trio of master workmen in Douglas, Barnes and Nehf.

Yankees Fight Hard

Outhit by the Giants in nearly every game and by many points in the series as a whole, the Yankees none the less made a hard fight of it by their smartness in manufacturing runs out of scant material and the superb work done by Mays and Hoyt in six of the eight battles.

Their championship craft went down with flag flying and tonight their trial supporters were tempering their condolences over the loss of the series with congratulations upon the showing the Yankee players had made in the first world's title series in which a New York American league team has ever earned the right to compete.

Superb Pitching.

As to the final and decisive game of the series, the winning of it was due to the superb pitching of Nehf against a moundsman to whom he had twice lost the decision earlier in the series. Allowing the American league batsmen but four hits, none of them better than singles and three of them coming with two men out, the crafty southpaw again and again turned the Yankees in order and baffled their determined efforts to put across the solitary run for which they were struggling all through the contest.

Hardly a whit less creditable was the performance of Hoyt, the Yankee youngster who twice before in this series had taken Nehf's measure in close battles. Hoyt was in trouble in several innings, but except in the fatal first, when the Giants scored their only tally on two bases on balls and an error, he worked himself out brilliantly, once with a fine running catch by Fewster to help along. Toward the end he was going stronger than ever, getting the Giants in order in the eighth and ninth.

The game, won by the Giants in the first inning, was probably saved for them in the ninth by as brilliant a fielding performance as has been seen on the diamond in many a day.

One Yankee had been retired in the final frame. This one was "Babe" Ruth, again in uniform, but confining his activities heretofore in the game to the coaching lines. The Yankee fans, who had been for eight innings watching that one lonely tally of the Giants loom larger and larger, picked up hope and cheered wildly as the "Bambino" stepped to the plate to bat for Wally Pipp. The home run king made a valiant try, but his injured arm had taken the power from his swing and the best he could do with Nehf's puzzling delivery was a ground weakly to Kelly.

Baker—And Rawlings

Aaron Ward was more fortunate. He waited out Nehf, who had been somewhat wild for several innings, and finally walked.

Frank Baker, again in the line up in place of the injured McNally, came next. With the count 3 and 2 he met one of Nehf's offerings squarely. It shot toward right field, skimming the ground far to the left of John Rawlings. The rap looked like a sure hit and with Ward legging it for third it promised to put the Yanks in a favorable position for scoring if it got by.

But it did not pass.

Throwing himself at the skimming sphere, Rawlings, amid an amazed gasp from the crowd, reached out and clung to it with his left hand. Rolling over and transferring the ball to his right hand, Rawlings made the throw to Kelly at first while still on the ground, getting Baker by several feet. It was then Kelly's turn, and with a lightning-like and accurate throw he shot the ball across the diamond into the hands of Third Baseman Frank Frisch. A cloud of dust flew up over third as Ward slid into the bag. From the midst of it, Umpire Quigley's form emerged, his right arm flung forth, motioning the runner out. The double play had been completed, the third Yankee of the inning having been retired, and the game was over, the Giants had won it and the world's championship.

THE BREAKS IN THE FOURTH GAME WHEN GIANTS EVENED IT UP

Lower photo shows Emil Meusel, Giant outfielder, drawing up at third on his triple in the eighth. Upper photo shows McNally dying at second on his attempted steal in the third inning.

These photos show the main spots in the Giants' second victory in the world's series—when they turned back Carl Mays in the fourth game. In the first two games the Yanks ran wild on the bases. McNally, fleet Yankee infielder, took many liberties. In the third inning of the fourth game McNally essayed to steal second and Snyder's throw to Bancroft cut him down. The Yanks realized the Giants were playing a different game. In the eighth, with the score 1 to 0 against the Giants, Meusel started the winning rally with a triple to left. The Giants won, 4 to 2.

HOYT, BOYISH YANKEE, CRIES AFTER DEFEAT

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A few yards away from the scene of today's last world series battle—across the little back yard of the Polo Grounds where the club houses are located—tears were dropping down the boyish cheeks of Waite Hoyt, the pitcher who twice defeated the Giants and upon whose shoulders was placed the burden of stopping their rush today. He stopped their rush, but a comrade failed him in a critical moment and the glory of having his name upon the honored roll of pitchers who have won three games in a titular series was denied him.

Both managers agreed it was the greatest world's series ever played. And so did the president of the National League, John A. Heydler, who tossed his presidential dignity to the winds when the Giants closed the series with a dazzling double play.

"Hurrah for the Nationals," he shouted, waving his arms.

"We've been waiting 17 years to see the Giants at the top of the ladder," Mr. Heydler said. "I do not know how to express my happiness. The old National League is again ahead after a bitter fight in which they proved game to the core."

Several thousand rooters waited outside the Giants' club house to greet their idols. A few of them were allowed to go inside. One of these was Mrs. Julia Wilson, grayhaired mother of Giants' mascot, an ardent rooter for McGraw's club as long as anybody can remember.

"I've waited twenty years for this day," she cried, gently patting each of the champs on the back. "I just told Judge Landis he was a darling. He brought us luck."

Another of the few who got inside to greet the heroes was "Wee Willie" Keeler, the greatest hitter of them all back in the days when ball players wore mustachs.

"Give all the credit to Jennings and the players," McGraw told the reporters who surrounded him. "I can't say too much for Nehf, Snyder, Barnes, Douglas and all the other boys. I have the greatest club in the world, and unquestionably the gamest. Never was my heart so set on any thing as winning this time. I wanted this world's championship more than I ever wanted anything in my life."

LANDIS TO URGE SERIES OF SEVEN GAMES IN 1922

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, in a statement tonight said that he would recommend that a seven-game world series, instead of nine be played next season. He also declared that owing to the high class of baseball played, there would be small chance of reducing the admission fees next year.

DEVELOPMENTS OF LORENA KLAN PROBE VEILED BY SECRECY

WACO, Texas, Oct. 13.—Effects of the extraordinary precautions taken by the judge and the county attorney to maintain absolute secrecy concerning the investigation of conditions surrounding the fatal klan parade at Lorena October 1, were seen today in the absence of loiterers from the neighborhood of the grand jury chambers here today. With the exception of twenty-five or thirty witnesses yet to be examined the corridors were deserted.

No official report on the number of witnesses examined to date could be obtained, but best estimates placed it around thirty. The hearings will continue tomorrow.

ORIOLES SLAM FOUR HURLERS AND WIN 10-5

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 13.—Baltimore went to the front this afternoon in its post season series with Louisville by winning the fifth game, 10 to 5, the series now standing 3 to 2 in favor of the Orioles. Bunching its hits, the International league champions had rather easy sailing toward the latter part of the game, especially as Ogden showed better from towards the close.

Nick Cullop, the star lefthander of the Louisville squad, who won the opening contest of the series in handy fashion, was rather easy for the Orioles and they drove him from the mound in the fourth. Sanders, who relieved him, pitched only part of an inning and then gave way to a pinch hitter. Ernie Koob, another southpaw, soon went the same as his fellow lefthander. Wright finished.

Score by innings—
Louisville .. 001 030 100— 5 10 2
Baltimore .. 000 405 01*—10 14 0

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

THIS WAY OUT, YANKEES. PICK THE NEAREST EXIT AND WALK SLOWLY!

Oh, well, it's nothing in my young Irish life. The only regret I rave is that I didn't have a job selling cushions at the Polo Grounds.

Now watch the knockers get out their hammers and play another anvil chorus on Miller Huggins.

Wish I had an official scorer to figure out my average as a world series phophet! I picked the Yankees to win the championship, and I was wrong; I picked the batteries in advance and got 'em right in seven games and I called the turn in advance on six games, called it wrong on one and got a draw on the eighth game by being afraid—what average is that, anyway?

Bob Meusel will now set aside a few dollars with which to buy a Thanksgiving dinner for the entire Meusel tribe.

And last night I doubt whether Manhattan Island was large enough to hold Shufflin' Phil Douglas! I hate to sit here in Texas and remark on the personal weakness of a fellow man fur, fur away—but I suspect the Shufflin' one looked last night upon the wine when it was red, as the poet sez!

Good-bye, ol' ball season. Drop in again. You're always welcome.

Football chatter is now on the menu with basketball and boxing a side dishes. Let us eat.

Following last Saturday's humiliating defeat of the Wichita Falls High school eleven by Electra, I succeeded with some misgiving in mustering up sufficient courage to launch a criticism of the coaching system at the local school. In commenting on the weakness of the red and black attack I called particular attention to the football ability of Harry Viner, former backfield star of the University of Missouri, and urged consideration of Viner as a high school coach.

Instead of resenting that criticism, as I must admit I was afraid they would do, the high school authorities have decided upon a general shake-up in matters effecting the school's athletic policy—and Viner has been retained to whip the football eleven into a brilliant attacking unit. I asked Harry last night what was wrong with the boys; what he had first noticed when he looked 'em over.

"I saw as fine a collection of high school football material as I ever expect to see in a city of this size," he answered, "and I saw about a dozen husky boys, potential football stars, trying to play the game without football equipment of any kind. They are out there slipping and falling around in their every-day shoes, minus cleats, and taking falls and hard spills without proper uniform protection. Their morale is badly shaken, and they're discouraged. Many of them feel that the business men of the city do not care about high school athletics, and have no particular desire to support high school teams, regardless of the splendid advertising value of a winning team. The boys need shoes, stockings, trousers, jerseys—and they haven't the courage to ask the business men of the city, even those men who have children in the school, for support. The boys do not want to appear in the light of beggars, and they dread a refusal of any request for help.

"Right now, without any delay, we have got to equip that football squad and give those boys the proper support. In one day enough money can be raised without working a hardship on anyone to start the team off on the right foot. It is a disgrace that Electra, a wee little city, can come down here with a football eleven that looks on the field like a big university team, perfectly equipped with every man from head to foot outfitted like the next—and play football in a city of 40,000 population against a home eleven garbed like tatterdemalions. One player wears a black jersey; the next has on a white sweater; the third has on red and black wool football stockings; the fourth is wearing a pair of feminine cotton stockings bought cheaply with the boy's spending money—and so on all down the line of the team. The boys don't look like football players; they don't FEEL LIKE FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

"As for material for a successful eleven, it's in that squad. A little intensive training, hard work, the development of more speed and a greater variety to the attack, and Wichita Falls will have one of the best high school football teams in the state. I've seen several big husky boys already who haven't had their chance, but who have the natural strength and ability to make splendid players, and I've unearthed a kicker who can average around 40 yards on his punts, who gets them away fast and has a beautiful side kick that puts the old spiral whirl on that pigskin as pretty as you'd want to see. I'm not worrying about the physical material with which to work. Will the business men of Wichita Falls supply the needed equipment to put heart in those boys so that the entire squad can enjoy the spirit of play while the hard work is going on?"

Everything Harry Viner said certainly received my endorsement pronto. If Wichita Falls is to be regarded by its neighbors as the big city of this section, its merchants and business men should be ashamed of the advertising of poverty given to the city by athletic teams so poorly equipped. It is a matter that should merit the attention of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary, University, Kiwanis, Lions and every other club and civic organization in the city—and the Business Women's Club of this city deserves the warmest praise for its splendid action in announcing that from the proceeds of its play, "Springtime," to be produced at the Wichita Theatre October 21-22, the club will gladly donate a sum of money to a fund with which to equip properly the high school football team.

JIM VAUGHN, ONCE STAR OF CHICAGO CUBS, DISAPPEARS

CHICAGO, Oct. 13. — James "Hippo" Vaughn, former star pitcher with the Chicago National League club, has been mysteriously missing since last Sunday, the local police were advised today. His wife telephoned from their home in Kenosha, Wis., asking that search be made for him.

HI ELEVEN TO BE HELPED BY "SPRINGTIME"

At least a few pairs of cleated shoes and some good stout jerseys will be supplied to the Wichita Falls high school football squad as a result of the generous action yesterday of the Business Women's Club of this city.

In connection with the forthcoming production of the club's musical play, "Springtime," to be presented at the Wichita Theatre, October 21-22 announcement has been made that the club will set aside from the proceeds a sum of money to be donated to a fund with which to buy the football equipment so badly needed by the high school boys. The exact size of the donation that the young women will give cannot be stated inasmuch as it will depend to a large extent, of course, on the ticket sale and the reception Wichita Falls give to the production of "Springtime."

Big or little, however, the action of the Business Women's Club is a splendid one, and one that other organizations might with credit to themselves imitate. The high school this year has one of the biggest football squads that has ever turned out in the school's history, with splendid material for a winning eleven—but many of the boys are trying to play without proper equipment of any kind, a large number even playing in their every-day shoes.

If the high school is to have athletic teams of any kind whatsoever, it is the duty of the business men and women of the city to give the school support. The Business Women's Club has set a fine example—what individual or organization will be next?

GIBBONS-O'DOWD GO CALLED VIOLATION OF KANSAS LAW

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 13.—The fifteen-round boxing contest between Mike Gibbons and Mike O'Dowd, middleweights, scheduled to be held here next Tuesday night, must not take place in Wichita, according to a ruling tonight by Attorney General Richard J. Hopkins, who said he thought the bout would be a violation of the state law. Both Gibbons and O'Dowd are in training here for the fight.

Henry Stewart, seventy-four-year old walker, of Los Angeles, has made eleven transcontinental trips afoot.

Columbus Day Program Held At High School

What happened 429 years ago, or a twentieth century viewpoint of what Columbus found in America when he was received here by the ruling savages of 1492, related in both humorous and serious vein featured the regular weekly session of the Senior High School Speakers club Thursday morning.

In a poem on this subject, read by Miss Lucille Ealy, giving the version of a small boy and his penchant for forgetting dates, it was shown that almost everything from crossing the Rubicon to the Yankee-Giants series was though by him to have happened in 1492.

A talk on the value of school debates in preparing students for the battles of life, both by broadening their mental horizon and furnishing practical development in the art of public expression was made by Hubert Clark. LeRoy Zeigler made a short talk on the necessity for school spirit as a building agency both in assistance to the individual student and to the school as a whole.

A ciphering match, which was conducted by Ebon Keith and which included many trick and catch mathematical problems was staged between Bernice Gatlin and Georgia Michaelson, with honors going to Miss Gatlin by a narrow margin.

A talk on the value of school organizations and clubs and an impromptu series of questions and answers which were prepared by the members of the club without referring to prepared answrs to the questions before they were asked was the closing number on the program. After the various questions and the more varied answers had been collected the questions were read by Clyde Robinson and the answers by Wallace Bright.

At a short business session following the program, Cecil Jenkins was elected to succeed Polly Clark as treasurer of the organization. It was also voted to hereafter divide the club into two parts, one meeting on Thursday morning at the first period and the other during the fourth and fifth period.

Aberdeen is now one of the chief centers in Scotland for the woolen knitted glove industry.

Boy Says Taken By Destination; Asks Damages

For the alleged failure of employes of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad to notify an 11-year-old boy passenger, who was ill, of arrival at his destination, while a passenger on one of their trains, suit for $3,500 damages was brought Thursday in the 30th District court. The suit is brought by Henry Newton Fulton and his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Black, of Electra.

According to the plaintiff's petition the boy arrived here in August of this year from Leflore, Okla., and boarded the early morning Fort Worth and Denver train for Electra, his home. The petition alleges that at the time the plaintiff was ill from a spider bite which was causing him a great suffering.

The plaintiff alleges that he was not notified when the train arrived at Electra and that he was carried to Oklaunion 15 miles west when he was let off the train with instructions from the railroad employes to wait until day break and catch an automobile ride back to Electra. According to the petition the plaintiff did this.

The petition alleges that because of the exposure his sickness was greatly aggravated and that medical attention over an extended time was necessary before he recovered.

PUBLIC PAID JUST $900,233 TO VIEW 1921 WORLD SERIES

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The 1921 world series, ended today, set new financial and attendance records. The total receipts for the eight games were $900,233, contributed by 269,976 spectators. That was $177,819 more than the best previous gate receipts collected during the 1919 series between Cincinnati and Chicago, when $722,414 was paid by fans during the eight games of that year. The attendance in the series just closed was almost 18,075 larger than the eight gatherings which witnessed the memorable Giants-Boston American play in 1912 when the total count of that post season classic registered 251,001, which has stood as a record for nine years.

As a result of the enormous gate receipts all those who participate in the sharing of the funds will receive more than any of their predecessors in similar positions. The Giant players as winners, collect sixty per cent of 75 per cent of the players' share of the receipts for the first five games, amounting to $131,635, which divided among some 25 eligible men gives approximately $5,265 to each. Under the plan of distributing 25 per cent among the club players finishing second and third in both major leagues, the Cleveland Americans and the Pittsburgh Nationals will divide $43,873.34, equally, while the two St. Louis teams, as third place clubs, share $29,272.22.

The magnates also come in for a record division of the gate monies. The advisory board, which succeeded the national commission in the reorganization of professional baseball, will take as its 15 per cent share $135,034.95. The clubs owners share will amount to $472,675.82. This latter sum exceeds by $82,853, the best previous club owners share made during the 1919 series, when $389,822 was divided.

The owners of the two local clubs however, are permitted to retain and divide equally the close to a half million dollars which appears at first sight to be theirs. The rulers governing financial affairs of the world series specifically provide tha fifty per cent of each club's share for the first seven games shall be paid into their respectiv league treasuries and that in case an eighth gam is necessary, as was the case today, then seventy-five per cent of the club's share of receipts for that game must go to the league treasuries.

Uncle Sam, in the guise of war tax and income tax collecter, will also share in the close to one million dollars paid by New Yorkers and others to see the Giants and Yanks battle for the championship of the baseball world. The straight ten per cent tax was deducted before the gate receipts were made public but there are still experts of the government accounting department to work out what each player, club owner and umpire shall contribute in the form of income taxes.

Still another group will do some figuring and announce the league's contributions in the shape of excess profits, surtaxes and other little details which business enterprises, whether sport or commercial, are required to eventually pass into the treasury at Washington, D. C.

"Springtime" and "Oh, Joy" Not One And Same Show

Although the members of Maskat band and patrol heartily endorse the Business Women's Club production of "Springtime," which will soon be staged here, the men who are in charge of committees for the production of the band and patrol show, "The Oh Joy Musical Revue," which will take place two days ahead of "Springtime," wish to announce through the columns of this paper that further than having the endorsement of the Shriners, who have promised to lend their assistance to make the girls' show a success, there is absolutely no connection between the two presentations.

There seems to have been a general idea on the part of some of the people of Wichita Falls that the two shows, although of different names, were one and the same. The Shriners show, "The Oh Joy Musical Revue, will be presented at the Wichita Theatre October 18 and 19, which is next Tuesday and Wednesday, with a matinee scheduled for Wednesday. "Springtime will follow two days later at the same theatre, and those who intend to see either show should be sure to fix the proper date in mind.

Both organiations have been hard at work for the past week or so with rehearsals, and both seem sure that they have the show that will please everybody. Since both have the reputation for doing things in the right way, it seems to rest with those who cannot see both presentations, to make a choice between the two.

CAMPAIGN FOR ORPHANAGE FUND WELL RECEIVED

A splendid reception and rapid progress has been reported by M. P. Graham, negro field representative of the St. John's Orphanage for negro orphans near Austin, in his campaign to raise a $3,000 emergency fund in Wichita Falls for the institution.

Graham has been meeting with the negro churches of the city and reports the hearty endorsement of each. He also reported that the campaign had the endorsement of Mrs. C. E. Ousley of the Welfare Council and that Mayor Cline was the first to give a donation for the school.

EVEN CAREFUL CALOMEL USERS ARE SALIVATED

Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Misery for You.

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besidees, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. (Adv.)

TWO BOYS ARRESTED ON THEFT CHARGE

Two youths, one 15 and the other 19 years of age, were arrested Thursday by Patrolmen Hackney and Smart on charges of theft in connection with the disappearance of a quantity of gunny sacks from the Wichita Ice Company.

The apprehension of the youths was reported to have been caused through an attempt to sell the sacks to the Maricle Coal and Feed company.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct 13.—Raw sugar was quiet and unchanged with no sales reported. Cubas were quoted at 2.5-8 cents cost and freight, equal to 4.23 for Cubas, while Philippine and Porto Rico centrifugals were 4.13.

In refined several local refiners reduced list prices 20 points to the basis of 5.30 for fine granulated with all now at that level.

There were no transactions in refined futures and final prices were unchanged to 11 points net lower with December at 5.40; March 5.30; May 5.29 and July 5.30.

Livestock

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 13.—All classes of livestock sold to a relatively good demand today, cattle prices holding generally steady but hogs were 15 to 25 cents lower. Sheep and lambs remained unchanged. Receipts were estimated at 2,000 head of cattle, 2,500 calves, 1,500 hogs and 1,500 sheep.

A feature in connection with the calf trade was the sale of good South Texas vealers at $6.75, the top for the week. Choice heavy calves brought $5.50 to $6.00.

An order buyer paid $8.50 for a few hogs, but the logical top to packers and shippers was $8.40. Most of the run cleared at a range of $.800 ot $8.40. Pig prices were fully steady several sales being made at $8.00.

Not many sheep were here, and the supply sold readily.

Cattle, beeves $3.50@$6.25; stockers $3@$4.50; cows $2@$4.25; canners $1.50@$1.75; heifers $3.50@$6.50; yearlings $4@$7; bulls $1.50@$3.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 13.—Hogs 4,000; opening 10 to 15c lower; bulk sales $7.25@8.10; bulk throwout sows $6.50@6.75; pigs steady.

Cattle 7,000; beef steers steady to 25c higher; best offered $8.75; stockers and feeders steady to strong; stockers $4.50@5.75; feeders $5.00@6.25; other classes steady; best vealers $9.10; cows $3.25@4.50; choice yearling heifers $9.50.

Sheep, 8,000; sheep steady; best western lambs $4.75; fat lambs 25 to 45c lower; western $8.50; feeding lambs steady; top $7.50.

Stocks

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Developments which contributed to the recent irregularity or heaviness of the stock market were in evidence again today. Foreign conditions, as measured by the weakness in German, Italian and several of the less important exchanges and sustained firmness or money were the chief factors.

Several of the commodity markets, notably sugar, also were more unsettled and advices from producing centers indicated a slowing down in the motor, leather and kindred industries, while the steel an iron trade continued to mark time. Domestic stocks were inclined to strengthen their position but Mexican and European shares were offered at every opportunity.

London laid the foundation for lower international remittances and that market, as well as Paris and Amsterdam, were reported to be sellers here. Industrials of the more popular groups evinced reactionary tendencies and the desultory movement of rails was mainly downward, cotton carriers showing marked weakness. Sales amounted to 500,000 shares.

All demand loans were fixed at 6 per cent and no reduction from that rate was reported in private negotiations, except where gilt edged collateral was offered when slight concessions were made.

Sterling eased with the general foreign exchange market in the early dealings but rallied partly later. Francs lost about 10 points and marks held at the low record of 10.00 for seventy cents, lire also weakening. Argentine gold pesos broke two cents.

Seaboard airline issues at declines of one to five points, followed by spirited recoveries, featured the active bond market. Liberties closed mostly at gains and foreign issues were irregular at nominal changes. Total sales par value $19,450,000.

DRY GOODS

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Cotton goods and yarns were quiet today. Raw silk receipts in this country for the first two months of the year ran 50,000 bales ahead of a year ago. Burlaps were easier here.

GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Bears had the advantage in wheat today owing chiefly to price breaks which took place yesterday northwest when the Chicago exchange was closed. The finish today, although steady was 2 to 2 3-4 net higher, with December 1.12 1-2 to 1.12 3-4 and May 1.17 to 1.17 1-4.

Corn lost 1 7-8 to 2 3-4 and oats 1 to 1 1-8.

In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 37 cents down.

Wheat depression due to holiday factors was given additional emphasis by bearish views regarding a talk in which Secretary of Agriculture Wallace declared himself as being for competitive United States market sand said legislation was no cure for low prices. A new low price record for German marks acted as a further handicap to bulls. Subsequently reports of a good demand for flour at Minneapolis helped more or less to check the weakness of wheat here, but was offset a good deal by word of congestion of terminal facilities at Galveston, with a railroad embargo in prospect for that port unless European demand for United States wheat improved.

Corn and oats declined with wheat. Lowest prices yet this season were touched for current deliveries of lard and ribs.

LIABILITIES—
Total deposits	$1,724,865,000
Total liabilities	5,180,332,000

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Coffee futures was generally lower today largely because of selling by brokers with New Orleans connections.

After selling at 7.65 early December rallied t o7.75 but failed to hold, closing at 7.72. The general market opened at a decline of 6 to 13 points and closed at a net loss of 4 points to 12 points. Sales were estimated at about 36,000 bags. October 7.53; December 7.72; January 7.74; March 7.78; May 7.86; July 7.89; September 7.84.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A moderate early advance met scattered hedge selling and a renewal of liquidation by tired in the cotton market today under which December sold off from 19.53 to 19.11, or into new low ground for the movement. That delivery closed at 19.15 with the general market closing steady at a net decline of 10 to 26 points.

The weakness of the German market and nervousness over European affairs more generally, probably accounted for some selling, but local brokers showed less disposition to connect the decline wtih any fresh news feature than to regard it as a continuation of liquidation in progress before the holiday.

The market opened steady at a decline of one point on January but generally 3 to 17 points higher and active months sold 7 to 13 points above Tuesday's closing figures right after the call owing to relatively firm cables, reports of a continued good tone to Manchester and bullish southern spot advices. There was some trade buying and covering on this advance but the south was a seller of near months and the market soon turned easier under scattering liquidation, a factor in which was probably the apprehension of ginning figures heavy enough to cause some modification of crop estimates. There were slight rallies from time to time during the day but lowest prices were reached in late trading when October sold at 19.00 and January at 18.80 and the general list was 23 to 33 points net lower. Last prices were within a few points of the lowest but the tone was steadied by covering.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—Prices were forced to new low levels for the downward movement which set in early last week in the cotton market today. Fo ra short period in early trading the tone was very steady and prices were 14 to 16 points higher than the close of Tuesday. Offerings gradually increased, the demand was filled up and in late trading a distinctly easy tone ruled, with the list 29 to 37 points under final prices of Tuesday. The close showed net losses for the day of 28 to 32 points. December went as high as 19.10c a pound, as low as 18.58 and closed at 18.63.

Better cables than due furnished the stimulus for the early gains while the decline appeared to be caused by selling from interests who figured that heavy ginnings meant a larger yield than has recently been estimated. Some buying was done in the early hours on the report that another condition figure would be given out from Washington, but selling resulted later when officials in Washington practically denied this and also, to all appearances, refused the request from the south that an estimate of the quantity of cotton unginned in the belt should accompany the ginning figures October 18.

The weakness of foreign exchange was a bearish feature, in early trading. Unfavorable weekly crop reports from the government had no great effect.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 13.—Spot cotton quieter; prices easy. Good middling 14.14; fully middling 13.64; middling 13.34; low middling 12.09; good ordinary 10.94; ordinary 10.19. Sales 9,000 bales, including 4,100 American.

COTTON SEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Cottonseed oil weakened today in sympathy with declines in lard, grain and crude oil, but rallied late on covering. The close was steady at five to 25 points net decline. Sales 20,300 barrels. Prime crude 7.00@7.12 1-2; prime summer yellow spot nominal; December 8.75; March 8.96 and May 9.12 all bid.

High Cost of Dying Blamed On Americans

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13.—Americans are extravagant in funerals and it is not the undertaker who should be blamed for the high cost, according to a report adopted by the National Funeral Directors Association, in convention here today.

The convention adopted a report which asserted that the press, pulpit and magazines are continually directing unfair criticism toward undertakers.

QUIT TOBACCO

Cotton, Parade And Barnard Are Rotary Features

Proposed endorsement of the Disarmament parade suggested here for November 11, which resulted in refusal to take action on the matter, and a talk by Arthur E. Murdock, nominally on cotton exporting, but in reality a lecture on the countries throughout the world which are now producing, or have produced cotton, with the varieties peculiar to each and the uses to which each are put, together with a brief reference to the effect of free trade on commercial prosperity in general, and to the Southern cotton producer in particular as a conclusion.

Although practically all of Mr. dock's hearers have been familiar with cotton, its growing and its marketing all of their lives, all of them learned several things about the industry, and followed the speaker with close attention to the end.

The speaker in discussing the tariff established himself as a strong partisan of the free trade doctrine, declaring with especial emphasis that Europe would be able to pay its debts to the United States and to buy the products of the United States only by paying in kind—impossible, he said, under a high tariff.

The Disarmament parade provoked a general discussion on both sides, and brought forth motions to disapprove, by reason of the nearness of the Disarmament conference, and the handicap a general and national demonstration might put upon American delegates in their effort to bring about Disarmament; a substitute to approve the matter, and a second substitute to take no action. The last substitute got the largest vote, the motion to disapprove the next high vote, and the motion for approval only four vote. W. D. Cline brought the question before the club for the discussion. He was followed by W. M. Priddy, who made the original motion, and by T. B. Smock, who spoke in favor of it. Judge P. A. Martin moved and spoke in favor of the substitute for approval, and A. E. Myles, moved the second substitute.

Jack Barnard provided the chief entertainer of the day, making good on a wager that he could call every Rotarian in the room by his first name, give the rest of his name, and tell the business he represented—making good in a manner that brought prolonged applause from his fellow members of the club.

Wire Flashes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The national conference on unemployment, after creating a standing committee with authority to reconvene the full conference at any time, concluded its deliberations today and adjourned sine die.

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—Governor Neff was in Dallas today to attend the semi-annual meeting of the board of trustees of Baylor university, the medical department being located there. The governor is president of the board. He said he will return to Austin tomorrow night.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Suits to recover sums of money alleged to be due the state of Illinois will be filed at Springfield within the coming week. The suits will charge that interest on public funds has been withheld and the defendants will include Governor Len Small, Lieutenant Governor Sterling and Andrew Russell, auditor of public accounts, all former treasurers.

BADAJOS, Spain, Oct. 13.—Many persons have been killed or injured in the wreck of a mail train near Merida. The train was derailed by a washout caused by heavy rains and a mail car and a passenger coach were telescoped. A relief train has been dispatched to the scene of the disaster.

GATESVILLE, Texas, Oct. 13.—J. J. Johnson, a guard at the state juvenile training school, testifying before the board of control's inquiry into affairs of that institution, today testified to the effect that he saw Twyman choke Dell Thames, 14 year old boy, for whose deah September 25, Twyman is charged with murder. The choking, Johnson declared, should not have caused death.

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—A resolution prohibiting public meeting of members of the Ku Klux Klan was adopted last night by the city council. The action was requested by the Ministerial Inter-Denominational union, an organization of negro ministers.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Marshal Foch would be compelled to travel more than 20,000 miles and visit nearly every state in the American union if he should accept all the invitations he has received from the United States since it was announced that he would cross the Atlantic this fall. Friends who call upon the marshal are shown a stack of invitations more than a foot thick which he has received.

England Astir Over Woman's Disappearance

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—All England is astir over the mysterious disappearance of Miss Pamela Beckett, a prominent young society woman.

Miss Beckett, who is the daughter of Rupert Beckett, the uncle of Baron Grimthorpe, was fond of dancing and has often been the partner of the Prince of Wales.

When she left home in Groesvernor Street last Tuesday she said she would return within a half hour.

Masked Men Flog Alleged Negro Peeper

LONGVIEW, Texas, Oct. 13.—Charles Hagler, negro, employe of a local hotel, was seized by masked men last night, taken to the country and so severely flogged he was unable to return to work today. It was understood the masked band charged Hagler with having "peeped" into homes of citizens here.

HARDING HOPES TO ATTEND SHRINE MEET AT SAN FRANCISCO

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—President Harding today told a committee of Shriners that he hoped to accept their invitation to attend the meeting of the Imperial council of the Order in San Francisco next June but was uncertain whether he would be able to do so. It has been indicated that he would visit the Golden Gate city if he finds it possible to make his projected trip to Alaska during the coming summer.

RAIL LEADERS CONFER BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Executives of the railroad conductors, engineers and firemens' brotherhoods were closeted behind closed doors again today in a continuation of conferences which have continued all week, in an effort to determine what action shall be taken on the membership vote favoring a strike.

Today's discussion, it was said, hinged on whether the vote should be formally communicated to the railroad officials at a meeting of the railroad executive association meeting here tomorrow. According to brotherhood heads, it appeared likely that no action calling for a walk out would be taken immediately.

Railroad officials said they had made no plans to confer with the the brotherhood chiefs and that their meeting was called to discuss "the general situation."

GOOD MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN BY ORCHESTRA

A splendid program consisting for the most part of orchestra music was rendered by the Biltmore Society Orchestra which on Thursday opened the series of Chautauqua programs to be held at the First Methodist Church, South, under the auspices of the Epworth League. The program was in the main chosen from the popular classics and was well received by an audience of about 600.

Promoters of the chautauqua series announce that Leon Cope, known during the war to dough boys as "Kill the Blues" Cope, will lecture here on the evening of Saturday, October 22.

Three other programs will be brought here after that. Any profits derived from the entertainments are to be used in local welfare work by the Epworth League, according to the announcement.

PRESIDENT HARDING PAYS TRIBUTE TO SENATOR KNOX IN OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—President Harding in a proclamation addressed to the people of the United States tonight, formally announced the death of Senator Knox of Pennsylvania and directed that the national flag be displayed at half staff as an expression of the national sorrow at his death. The proclamation follows:

"It is my distressing duty to announce to the people of the United States the death of Philader Chase Knox, a senator from the state of Pennsylvania and formerly attorney general and secretary of state of the United States which occurred at his residence in Washington on the 12th instant.

"In his death his state has lost a most valuable and faithful servant, and his country, one of its greatest statesmen. His good judgment, wise discrimination and keen perception eminently fitted him for the legal profession. Amitted to the bar in 1875, he early became recognized as one of the foremost lawyers of his state. Twice honored by the commonwealth of Pennsylvania by election to the senate of the United States, he took by his wise counsel, a prominent part in the framing of our laws and in the direction of our foreign policy. As attorney general of the United States, he rendered opinions noted for their legal ability. As secretary of state, while guided by the principle to deal justly with all nations, his conduct of our foreign relations was ever marked by a devotion to the best interests of his country.

"His private life was characterized by virtues worth of emulation by all American citizens.

"As an expression of the national sorrow at his death and in recognition of his valuable service to his country, his devotion to the public interests and his exalted patriotism, I do hereby direct that the national flag be displayed at half staff on the executive offices of the United States on the day of his funeral and that on all the embassies, legations and consulates of the United States in foreign countries the national flag shall be displayed at half staff for ten days from the receipt of this proclamation."

CAMP WELL SWABBING 300

Swabbing between 300 and 400 barrels daily, the Camp Oil and Gas Company's No. 4 Dodson is one of the most interesting completions this month in the South Burkburnett-Texhoma shallow field. This new well is in the 1050 foot sand. The Old Colony United's No. 4 Beach, on the same sand, is reported a 150 barrel well.

The new Camp well is being offset by Laning and Moninger, the new location being their No. 5 Dodson.

A third new well is reported for the Texhoma shallow field, the Weowna Oil Company's No. 11 M. K. & T., on the right of way in the north part of the pool, being reported good for 100 barrels.

The Stumpf Oil and Gas Company is reported drilling in the sand, on an offset to the Weowna well.

A Diplomatic Husband.
The wife of a western congressman is sensitive on the subject of her deficient orthography and her demands for information as to correct spelling sometimes place her peace loving husband in a delicate position.

One day, as she was writing a letter at her desk, she glanced up to ask:

PARRISH WOULD EXEMPT STOCK IN BUILDING CO.

Congressman Parris is working in favor of final passage of legislation recently passing the house and now up to the senate which would exempt from taxation as income returns from investments of as much as $5,000 in stock of Building and Loan Associations, according to a message to C. W. Reid, president of the local association, who had urged his support in a previous wire.

Mr. Reid's wire said:

"Building and loan associates are greatest factor in relieving housing situation in this country by furnishing millions of actual money to hold builders and home owners. Your influence should aid in retaining in Bill passed by House, the $5,000 exemption from tax income received by individual from money placed in such associations. Additional funds thus secured will help whole country much more than small amount of tax therefrom. If our government wants to help housing situation, this presents excellent opportunity."

Mr. Parris in his reply received Thursday, said:

"Your telegram received and I quite heartily concur in your views on the items suggested and will do all I can."

ALL RECORDS BROKEN IN HIGHWAY PAVING

All records were broken Wednesday when the west mixer of Potts and Prentice, contractors on the Iowa Park-Electra completed 643 feet of 18 foot pavement on the county road. The day's total exceeds previous records by approximately 100 feet. At noon Thursday indications pointed to an even greater total for that day.

The 643 feet of pavement represents over five car loads of stone, 2½ cars of sand and 1½ cars of cement. The mixer is located at the Electra end of the road necessitating a material haul of three miles from the mixing plant.

Due to the fact that three sub-contracts in addition to the main contract of Potts and Prentice are operating, fear is expressed that part of the work will be shut down due to a lack of stone.

SIX-ROOM HOUSE BURNS THURSDAY

Fire of undetermined origin Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock destroyed a six room frame residence and contents owned by T. B. Williams, 1704 Magnolia street. Furniture and furnishings belong to Deputy Sheriff O. M. Tanner, who lived in one side of the house were also destroyed by the blaze.

One of the occupants of the house reported that there were no fires in the house, when the blaze was discovered. The fire was first noticed by one of the women occupants, when she left the house and started into the garden.

The loss was estimated by firemen to total about $5,500 on which Mr. Williams was partially protected by insurance, while Deputy Tanner had none.

LAWYERS CAN'T MAKE BONDS IN POLICE COURT

Declaring it his belief that the custom of handling appearance bonds in the city police court as heretofore practiced was unfair to the ends of justice and in many cases unnecessarily permitted offenders to escape scot free without either paying out forfeited bond penalties or fines, Police Commissioner Titts announced Thursday that hereafter attorneys will not be allowed to make their personal bonds for the appearance of the clients in the city police court on misdemeanor charges.

Our Cigar Counter Is Conducted for Smokers Who Know the Difference

We planned our cigar counter with a view to pleasing the most particular smoker in town.

We stocked up on the brands that cigar connoisseurs are fondest of. We installed an electrically operated humidor that insures just the right amount of moisture insuring an even-burning pleasant smoke.

It's one of our ambitions to make this store the place where men know cigars do their buying.

Convenient? It's right on your way home.
