New Principals At Two Schools

Two Hereford schools, Northwest and Shirley, will have new principals when school opens Aug. 30, according to an announcement today by Supt. Paul Stevens following a call meeting of trustees Monday night.

Roy Hartman will move from Northwest to Shirley, Stevens said, and will drop his coaching duties. Charley Duvall, who has been assistant at Alken, will fill the vacancy at Northwest, created by removal of Hartman. L. B. Russell will move from Shirley to become high school principal, as previously announced.

Other principals who will go back to their same posts are: Wiley Quattflebaum, junior high; L. C. Thomas, Central, and D. C. Martin, Aikman.

Maybe He Tied Knot Too Hard

A mild-mannered Latin American couple drifted into the office of County Judge Don Zimmerman this week, complete with marriage license and the stated object of "matrimony."

A few minutes later they emerged, but the bride was crying as if her heart would break. Courtroom spectators observed the incident and were naturally a bit curious.

"What did you say, Judge, to make that girl cry?" asked a fellow worker.

"That isn't what worries me!" snapped Zimmerman. "I'm still trying to figure out what I said to make her faint in the middle of the ceremony."

Citizens Ask Where New Tax Dollars Go

INTEREST RAN HIGH as citizens expressed opinions and asked questions at the tax meeting Tuesday night. Tempers flared occasionally, but the meeting was generally classified as 'one of friendly discussion.' An estimated crowd of 300 attended the gathering. (Staff Photo)

Resolution Would Combine City, School And County Tax Offices

Taxes, tax collections, valuations, rates and tax ratios were a few of the topics discussed in a called meeting at the Bull Barn in Hereford Tuesday night. Around 400 people attended the meeting which got underway at 8:30 p.m., and continued on past 11 o'clock. Approximately 80 percent of the group was composed of farmers and rural land owners.

Tempers flared occasionally but, in general, the meeting was orderly, and seldom were personalities directly involved in the sometimes heated discussions. Mrs. O. G. Hill of Hereford acted as moderator.

The one possible accomplishment of the gathering, other than "letting off steam" and "going on record" with opinions, was the passing of a resolution to combine all three tax assessing and collecting agencies (County, School and City) into one office with one set of personnel. The resolution came as the result of a motion made by Clinton Jackson in behalf of economy and efficient operation, and was seconded by Hank Williams. W. D. Nafziger opposed the resolution on grounds that it was out of order and not in keeping with the purpose of the meeting. A standing vote showed 147 for the resolution, and nine against it.

H. H. Miller opened the session, pointing out that it was to be a friendly gathering to discuss the tax situation. He expressed appreciation that town people and country people could come together on a friendly basis, then took a backhanded swipe at The Brand and Publisher Jimmie Gilleintine.

"I don't own a newspaper, or write a 'Bull Column,'" declared Miller, "but if I did, I would do my best to use them for the benefit of both the town and country. Instead of creating strife, I would try to preserve the heritage of our children."

Early in the meeting W. D. Nafziger presented a question which was several times repeated. It centered around "What can be done?" In a nutshell, the answer was always pretty well the same: "Go before the equalization boards and, as a last resort, use the courts."

Answering most of the questions were Earnest Langley, who spoke as attorney for the City and for the Hereford Rural High School district, County Judge Don Zimmerman, Mayor Ray Cowser, Superintendent Paul Stevens, Trustee President Tom Robinson.

Numerous questions were centered around the fact that taxes had been doubled on much farm property, and that in some instances they had been raised by even greater margins.

Judge Zimmerman countered this charge by pointing out that many people are confused by true evaluations and assessed valuations. He said that the county will take the present valuations, and instead of the 25 percent used last year they will drop to a lower percentage figure required to meet their budget; both 17 and 15 percent were mentioned during the meeting.

Both Langley and Stevens, during the evening pointed to approximately 20 percent greater cost on the local school tax level, due to a 5 percent jump in the operating budget, a drop of $30,000 in state revenue, based on a prosperous economic index in this area, and the influx of some 300 additional students in the local school system.

Mayor Cowser told the group that the City of Hereford will have a possible 7 percent increase in tax revenue for the coming year, above normal growth, and City Manager Dud-

Draft Quota Calls For 20 Men In August -- 500 Percent Jump

Local Selective Service Board No. 18 this week received orders to increase registrants for armed forces pre-induction physicals by 500 per cent.

The board had previously been instructed to deliver four men monthly for pre-induction physicals, and now has been ordered to send 20 men on August 7.

The increase is state-wide following an announcement of increased military manpower by President Kennedy. Texas draft boards have been advised that their quota for pre-induction physicals has been raised from 730 to 3,655. The local draft board which headquarters in Hereford, takes in Deaf Smith, Palmer, Randall and Castro counties.

The board was also ordered to deliver all volunteers, pending induction, prior to August 1 in order to increase July's inductees. Local board officials had no official statement to make regarding the stepped up call. The local board has increased personnel to help handle the increased number of men.

The increased August quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on August 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

The amended August call is the largest received for Texas since October 1958.

Around Town

With the third annual Harvest Festival gift wrapped and put away for another 12 months, the pace Around Town slowed down sharply this week. Festival leaders and average citizens were inclined to brand the festival as "the best yet," and Chairman Clint Formby merits a huge ovation for a job well done.

General conversation is still centered on the weather, and tax evaluations; both are at least similar in that is difficult to do anything about them.

The Westway Community has announced a formal dedication of their new church for Sunday afternoon, 2:30 p.m. Sponsors say that several charter members will be recognized.

The Lions Club reported a gross of more than $12,553.29 on their annual carnival, which Buddy Hutson, secretary, says should net between $5,000 and $6,000 for the club. Over half of the gross came in through rides, which sold 26,000 tickets and will net the club around $1,300. The carnival gross in 1960 was slightly in excess of $10,000.

Castro County old settlers will hold a reunion at the courthouse in Dimmitt on Aug. 12, according to Mrs. Wes Anthony, who said that a basket lunch will be featured and that all former residents in this area are urged to attend.

Most Hereford merchants were busy, but were finding time to prepare for August Dollar Days, scheduled for Monday, Aug. 7. Bargains galore were predicted as the sorted stocks for the final summer merchandise close outs.

The 1961 football season got into its initial stages this week as backfield candidates were running in Dameron Park, and the linemen were doing likewise on Aikman school grounds. No coaches allowed, but the boys were doing voluntary work in order to get in shape for the coming season. Season tickets will go on sale Aug. 10 at $7.50 for five games. Details to be announced Sunday.

No "economic value" was attached to the shower Monday night, but most people did appreciate it.

Farm Trailer License Fee Set At $5 Under New Law

Farm trailers with a gross weight of from 4,000 to 10,000 pounds must be registered with the county tax assessor-collector, according to a law which was passed May 29. The registration fee is $5 per trailer exceeding 4,000 pounds, but under 10,000 pounds.

Notice of the new law which was House Bill 1082, has been received in the Deaf Smith Tax Assessor-collector's office, Mrs. LaNell Miller, tax assessor-collector, said.

House and Senate agricultural leaders and Texas Farm Bureau spokesmen said the farm trailer law will save farmers and ranchers of Texas millions of dollars annually by reducing the license fee.

Previously there was no "farm trailer" classification under Texas Motor Vehicle laws. There were farm trucks and farm trailers but no farm trailer classification; therefore, the trailers were charged by commercial rates.

Under commercial semi-trailer and truck rates trailers up to 6,000 pounds paid 33c per pound if pneumatic tires were used. If solid tires were used, the rates were higher. Under the old system a 10,000 pound trailer was charged 55c per pound. Now the $5 license fee will eliminate the 55c per pound charge.

Farmers and ranchers wishing to register their trailers as "farm trailers" must sign an affidavit that the trailer will be used only to haul their own products. No manufactured goods may be hauled in the trailers.

Farm trailers up to 4,000 pounds gross are not required to have license tags, and all farm trailers up to 10,000 pounds gross are exempt from brake requirements.

Senator A. J. Rogers and Representative Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler sponsored the trailer bill. They said that many legislators have encountered mass resentment on the part of farmers over the $5 fee.

The lawmakers said they wanted farmers to understand that without passage of the trailer law this year, the cost of operating farm trailers would have been prohibitive.

The exemption of farm trailers of brake requirements will save farm money Bob A. Lilly, Texas Farm Bureau director, pointed out. Brakes for trailers of more than 3,000 pounds gross weight would cost about $200 per trailer, he said.

Under the provision of the new law, to become effective on Sept. 1, 1961, the only vehicles that may operate on the public streets and highways of Texas without license plates are (1) farm trailers, (2) implements of husbandry, (3) farm trailers and farm semi-trailers with a gross weight not exceeding 4,000 pounds. This exemption is extended to cotton gins provided the trailers are supplied to the farmers without charge. (Limited to seasonally harvested agricultural products and livestock owned by the farmer or rancher.)

Certain limitations are placed on the operation of vehicles under this, token fee plate with a provision that if not operated in accordance with these conditions the fee exemption shall terminate and the vehicle shall be subject to the regular registration.

Mystery Car Baffles Patrolmen; No Trace Of Owner Or Occupants

The Texas Highway Patrol is searching for the owner of a mystery car.

The car, a 1954 Plymouth, was found upside-down on U. S. Highway 60 just outside of Summerfield this Tuesday night. Officers were called to the scene about 1:30 a.m. when a passing motorist spotted the wreck.

No trace was found of the driver, although it seemed impossible for anyone to have walked from the accident, officers said.

Investigating officers Caral Parker and Charles Skinner said that even though the car was badly damaged, no sign of blood was found.

Late Wednesday afternoon, the Highway Patrol was still making an attempt to find the owner through vehicle registration.

The Credit Bureau was formerly located at 407 North Main. Cliff Galley has moved to Amarillo and W. R. Hair is the new owner-manager of the Credit Bureau.

Paving Program Over In August

Workmen were busy this week installing curb and gutter work on Irving Street as part of the $180,000 paving program voted in a bond issue here this spring. City Manager Dudley Bayne said that paving work, in addition to the three blocks on Irving, will include four blocks on Blevins, two on Bowie, two on Vogele, one-half block on 13th, and the Community Center parking lot. In addition, approximately 17 miles of existing pavement was re-surfaced as part of the program.

"The contractors, Gilvan and Terrell, report 'good progress,'" Bayne said, "and indicate that the new surface work will be completed in August, which is according to schedule."

The present improvements program, recommended to the voters by the City Commission, will leave Hereford streets in good condition with the possible exception of Grand Avenue, which failed to secure sufficient ownership participation to be included in the current program.

The two men were arrested in the Labor Camp by Highway Patrol officers Neal Carter and Fred Lenz. Presiding in court was C. B. Miles, Justice Of The Peace.

Buck Wins Post At Workshop

John Buck, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Buck of Hereford, was chosen to the outstanding student council at the Texas Association of Student Councils Workshop at Hardin-Simmons University last week.

Buck, who will be president of the Hereford High School student council next fall, was a nominee for outstanding student council at the workshop. He served as president of his group of 25 students while at Abilene.

Approximately 125 students from 20 Central and West Texas high schools attended the six-day workshop. They were divided into groups and each group was given a specific problem to solve during the week.

Each group chose a name for its high school and wrote a preamble and constitution for it. Each group was in competition for top honors in the workshop.

Buck said the workshop was good experience for the Hereford group and he felt that they had all brought back new ideas for a better council.

Speakers from various Texas schools spoke about specific problems and solutions in their council and films were used to illustrate some student council work.

Others attending from Hereford were Jay Carter, Janie McBroom, Dan McDowell, Joy Story and Mrs. Joe Story, sponsor.

ley Bayne later pin-pointed the figure at $10,000 in a response from the floor.

Carl Luke, at this point, reviewed the proposed slight increases, and asked:

"If nobody gets or needs the money, why have you doubled our taxes?"

Mrs. Baker Womble brought up the question of school athletics, and protested high costs. She centered her complaint around the fact that athletic coaches draw salaries in excess of classroom teachers, and said that R. G. Feeler (absent from the meeting) told her that he attended a budget hearing, but the budget was later ignored as discussed at the meeting.

Stevens replied that Hereford has four high school coaches and three junior high coaches, and that they draw from $500 to $2,300 in excess of classroom teacher salaries. He said that each of the coaches does carry a full classroom schedule, however, in addition to their coaching duties. School and city spokesmen promptly denied ever having operated other than by their budgets, which they said is mandatory by law. Judge Zimmerman pointed out that the county budget has not yet been adopted.

Clarence Betzen kicked off a long discussion centering around employment of an outside auditing firm, which he did not consider a justified expense, and Mrs. H. E. Miller questioned the character of the group employed.

Guy Newson returned the discussion to athletics, which he classified as unnecessary on the present level. He asked for a showing of hands as to how

Local Auto Insurance Rates Hiked 15 Percent This Week

The cost of auto insurance to Deaf Smith County's private passenger car owners went up approximately 15 per cent Tuesday.

Physical damage, collision, and comprehension insurance rates will increase about 20 per cent and liability rates will increase about 10 per cent — a combined hike to county and state citizens of about 15 per cent.

The increase was made statewide by the Texas Board of Insurance. It is the first increase since August of 1958.

The rates were lowered in 1959 by an approximate 10 per cent, and the safe driving plan inaugurated January 1, 1960 further reduced premium volume of the insurance companies when about 60 per cent of the car owners qualified for the lower classification. Under the plan insurance companies had expected only about 20 per cent to qualify.

The safe driving plan resulted in a reduction in premium volume of about $20,000,000 throughout the state. Thus the insurance companies were forced to pay out more in claims than was taken in premiums.

Mrs. Clinton Jackson expressed an opinion against an across - the - board teacher raise, pointed out that some teachers are underpaid, while others are overpaid.

J. F. Matthews declared that he was not going to beg and plead with an equalization board. He said there should never be a surplus of county, school or city tax money — and pointed to salary raises in the county when such a situation arose.

J. E. Stengel expressed an opinion that equalization was a good thing, but said if all of the agencies needed "just a little," he didn't see why they were raising values so much.

The meeting closed on this note, following which most of the crowd gathered in small groups, and continued discussing the pros and cons of the situation. Generally speaking, most people felt that very little had been accomplished through the gathering.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Revenue Is Questioned As School Time Nears

BY VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — Store windows already are featuring school clothes, and mothers across Texas are budgeting money for new blue jeans and calico dresses. But money with which to open the schools is not yet in sight. No one seriously doubts that new taxes will be voted and new appropriations made before current appropriations run out August 31.

Gov. Price Daniel has asked the Legislature to provide $359,000,000 in new revenue to get the state out of the hole and cover future needs. Even in "good times," raising this much money is a staggering problem. It will mean passing taxes to which a good portion of the Legislature — and possibly the governor — are bitterly opposed.

It could not be done — except that in a few weeks those blue jeans and calico-clad youngsters must go to school.

SENATE WORKS ON TAX
Senators' unenthusiastic attitude toward the House — passed tax bill may foreshadow another end-of-the-session deadlock between the two houses.

Even if all senators heartily approved the House bill, they would still have to expand it. State Comptroller Robert Caldwell, whose word is final on revenue forecasts, estimates the House bill will raise only $254,000,000. This is over $100,000,000 short of anticipated need. At the time it was passed, House sponsors thought it would bring in about $328,000,000.

House measure would raise money from these sources:
1. A 2 per cent sales tax on all power-driven objects, construction materials, utility services and on other items costing more than $5. (Bulk of expected revenue would be from this provision.)

2. A minimum levy of one per cent per thousand cubic feet on natural gas. Holders of dedicated reserve contracts would be liable for paying the difference between present gas production taxes and this minimum requirement.

3. A one-third increase in drivers' license fees.
4. A revision in the corporation franchise tax formula to get more taxes from out-of-state corporations operating in Texas.

5. A one per cent transfer ($2,000,000) from the Permanent School Fund to the Available School fund.

6. A bookkeeping change to transfer to the schools in August the portion of gasoline tax money that is slated for school purposes.

BUDGET IN CONFERENCE
House and Senate general appropriations bills, each calling for spending in the neighborhood of $2,500,000,000, are in the hands of a joint conference committee.

House bill calls for $16,000,000 more than the Senate version. In addition to what it already had passed, the House instructed its conference committee to hold fast on provisions for a 40-hour week for state employees. Money already was in the House bill to put state hospital employees on a 40-hour week. To this, the House added in its committee instructions, a 40-hour week for prison system and Department of Public Safety employees.

House conferees are Reps. James Cotten of Weatherford, B. H. Dewey of Bryan, J. W. Buchanan of Dumas, Malcolm McGregor of El Paso and Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline.

Senate committee members are Senators Ray Roberts of McKinney, A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, Wardlaw Lane of Center and Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo.

GOVERNOR OPENS GATES
Just when legislators thought they were going into the stretch on the drive to solve fiscal problems, the governor opened up the session to bills on 21 additional subjects.

Only subjects listed by the governor may be considered in a special session.

Daniel opened the door to legislation on unemployment compensation, law enforcement and traffic safety, the election code, Sunday closing laws, municipal annexation and some 15 other subjects.

Not included in the list were three bone-in-the-throat issues left over from the regular session: small loan regulation, changes in the auto insurance plan and ceding part of Padre Island to the federal government for a park.

Some legislators protested that the avalanche of bills resulting from the governor's broadened call would make it harder than ever to pass a tax program.

COST-CUTTING PLAN
In view of the House's money-finding problems, Rep. Charles Ballman introduced a measure designed to lop $97,000,000 off the state's revenue needs for the next two years.

Ballman is chairman of the House revenue and taxation committee. He termed his bill an "economy" measure. But many of its provisions, which are likely to arouse opposition, call for getting more money rather than spending less.

Among the bill's various provisions were to combine the Game and Fish Commission and the State Parks Board; raise tuition for state-supported colleges; pay county superintendents from county, rather than state, funds; finance the Department of Public Safety from state highway funds and put DPS-collected funds into the general fund.

INSURANCE HIKE STUDIED
Lawmakers, though they cannot legislate on insurance in this session, are giving the new, higher auto insurance rates a thorough going over.

Conflict began when the State Board of Insurance instituted insurance premiums based on driving records in January, 1960. Many legislators protested effects of the plan during the regular session. Then during the summer the Board ordered an across-the-board increase in auto insurance rates, averaging about 15 per cent.

Both House and Senate set up special committees to investigate need for the increase. A rate expert representing the Insurance Board told the House committee that drivers, not the Board, actually determine rates. As proof, he said rates dropped 30 per cent during World War II when drivers knew that if they wrecked a car, they'd be walking for the duration.

SPEAKERSHIP CHANGE REJECTED
House voted down a proposal by Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney to elect a speaker "by gentlemen's agreement" in November, 1962.

Dungan urged that newly-elected representatives meet two months before the session's opening and elect a speaker. This would give the winner time to select committees and be ready for business at the start of the session.

Objectors said that since this is not provided in the constitution, the results would not be binding. More likely, they said, that the two months interval would be spent in trying to change votes and get a different speaker elected when the House actually convened.

Long-range goal of the reform advocates is a constitutional amendment to allow advance election of the speaker.

Senate doesn't have this problem since the people elect the Lieutenant Governor to preside over the Upper House.

STATE OF BILLS
Governor Daniel's broadening of the legislative call brought a hopper full of new proposals. Among them are measures that would:

1. Require public school children to take a standard state test in the basic subjects once every three years. (By Rep. Maco Stewart of Galveston and Rep. Dick Slack of Pecos.) Purpose is to focus more attention on academic quality.

2. Raise the present $28 a week maximum on unemployment compensation to $37 a week. (By Rep. John A. Huebner Sr. of Bay City.)

3. Allow school districts, on petition of 5 per cent of the voters, to hold a referendum on whether to establish free public school kindergartens. (By Rep. Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi.)

4. Require a run-off in special elections to fill seats in Congress and the State Legislature. (By Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth.) Such an election is due this year to fill the post vacated by the death of State Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio.

5. Levy fines from $100 to $500 for selling certain types of merchandise on Sunday. (By Reps. Tommy Shannon and George Richardson of Fort Worth.)

SHORT SNORTS
Texas Highway Commission has authorized expenditure of $8,000,000 for purchase of right-of-way needed for construction of three interstate highways. Affected are Interstate 10 and Interstate 37 in San Antonio and Interstate 20 in Midland and Ector Counties.

State Selective Service Headquarters, feeling the first shock wave from the Berlin crisis, announced that 3,655 men would be called up for pre-induction exams in August. Last March the number called for exams was only 1,520. Aim is to increase the pool of potential draftees.

State Supreme Court announced that its docket was current and began its customary August-September recess.

'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: The Spirit of Genera l
Sam Houston
FROM: The Spirit of Erastus
"Deaf" Smith

SUBJECT: Scouting Report on the Third Annual Hereford
Harvest Festival

Well, Sam, the big week is all over and everyone is now looking back, and looking ahead, at the things that could have been done better. It sure was nice to visit with you here in my county. There were a powerful lot of folks came in from all over for this event. Reckon that while it may be hard to count in the cash registers on Main street that the publicity and good will earned by everyone during an event like this adds up to a lot over the year.

Let me report on each activity separately as I scouted them for you. First on Monday night came the Jaycees Queen contest. Miss Judy Bradley was selected as the queen of the Harvest Festival before the large crowd to ever view the competition. Judy's princesses were lovely Joyce West and Sammie Tisdale. Judy made such a beautiful and sparkling queen that the Harvest Festival will enter her in the Miss Wheat-heart contest in Perryton on August 19th.

On Tuesday night the grain producers appreciation dinner was held for a rather disappointingly small crowd. Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the sponsor of this event, will consider carefully the advisability of continuing this activity at this time. It may be that farmers, the group being salaried by the dinner, are too busy during Harvest Festival week to attend. Over one thousand invitations were sent out and only two hundred attended.
Bill Nelson gave one of the better speeches of his career and was well received by those present. R. G. Peeler was the moving force behind this event.

Wednesday night the Farm and Home show got off to a fine start with Judy presiding at the opening ceremonies. It was estimated that there were more people present the first night than saw the show during the three nights last year. The door prizes plus a much improved show in every respect accounts for that. All exhibitors expressed enthusiasm for the show and expect it to be a complete sell out next year. Hope of the committee is that there will be more live displays to replace the static exhibits. Mrs.
Lefty Thomas did a tremendous job, as she does each year, in handling the details for the Farm and Home show.

Meredith Ireland and all of the Hereford Riders Club group report this to be one of the most successful rodeos in their history. Performers and stock were top notch and the audience showed their appreciation with full belchers each night.
This is a tremendous job for a comparatively small group to undertake. It is a real credit to the club that the Hereford Rodeo has gained the top rating that it has.

Chairman Irving Alexander staged the best parade seen in Hereford in a good many years.
The parade started exactly on time, had many beautiful and interesting floats and lots of band music. Particular tribute was paid to Billie's Flower Shop for their winning entry in the commercial division and to The Business and Profession al Women for their float built on the theme of Business and Professional Women around the World. In looking forward to next year some means of providing a better budget for this event must be found.

The Air Show was an outstanding success in every respect—in the display of voluntary manpower well organized. Morris Easley, chairman, and Jerry Cady, airport manager, did one of the most complete jobs of planning with all of the members of their committee that was possible. Every flyer in the Hereford area had a specific job to do and he was on hand to do that job all day long. Looking ahead the group are a dy plans to recommend that this event be held on Sunday next year and that it be held late in the afternoon. Many people expressed regret that they were unable to attend because of work and because of the early hour.

The Rotary-Kiwanis barbecue was somewhat of a disappointment financially I hear. These hard working men prepared for twenty five hundred and served less than fifteen hundred. Various explanations have been offered — the time of day, the crowded schedule, the price — but no one had any complaints about the food. Everyone who did attend again proclaimed Flip Breedlove the king of barbecue and were more than pleased with the meal in every respect. I know that some serious thought is going to be given to this event before next year.

Finally the Lions Club Carnival — and what can be said about it. This gang of workers spent six nights of voluntary effort which could not have paid off better. The games and rides were packed with people every night and everyone enjoyed themselves every minute. They just can't do anything to improve the carnival.

Well, Sam, that's my report but I can't conclude it without paying an extra special tribute to Clint Formby, the guiding force behind the whole effort this year. Clint and his Harvest Festival board have spent many long hours in planning, planning that in all respects made this by far the biggest and best Harvest Festival to date — and they are not through meeting yet. They are going to have a review meeting this Friday and try to put together all of the suggestions that they have received to make next year's festival even bigger and better.
They are going to put to use all of their hind sight to make next year's committee look good in the foresight department. I don't know where they

Junior Riders Club Queen Stays Busy During Reign

BY DOT BOWLES
BRAND STAFF REPORTER
It's been a busy summer for Karen Blackwell since her election as Hereford Junior Riders Club queen early in June. In addition to her own riding and rodeo competing, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blackwell of Hereford has special duties when a visiting riding group comes to Hereford. Although it is only her first year as a member of the junior riders, the 35 members of the club selected the pert, brown-haired eighth grader as their official representative. Among her duties as queen, Karen lists escorting visitors of the Hereford Junior Riders Club, getting tickets for the visitors to events sponsored by the local club, leading the junior riders in parades and representing the riders during various meetings and play days. Karen says she has been riding a horse "since she was real little," but she only recently acquired a horse of her own. In February her family bought "Sue" a grey, five-year-old, registered quarter horse mare. Since getting Sue, Karen has stepped up her riding activities and has been participating in rodeos in the barrel racing event. At playdays Karen has ridden Sue in the pole bending, key hole race, flag race and other junior games.

The junior riders have been participating in playdays once a month at Will Rogers Range Riders Arena in Amarillo. The riders compete individually and as a team. The Hereford group has won the trophy the last two years and a win this year would give them permanent possession of it.

In September the Amarillo play day will determine which riders from this region will be eligible for national competition. The first and second place winners in the games will go to Lawton, Okla., for the national finals in October.

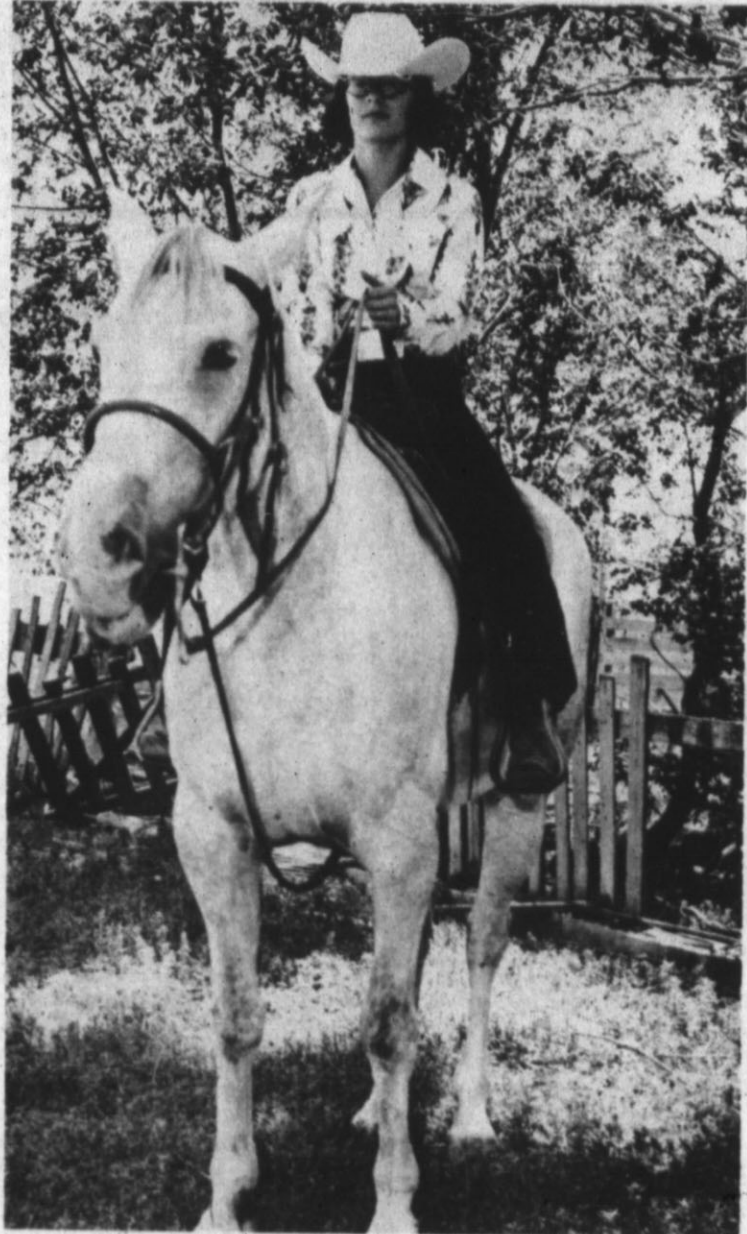

The playdays are divided into three groups according to ages with a pee-wee division, a junior grouping, and senior competition. Riders 15 years old must compete in the senior division.

During her first year of playday competition Karen has already won numerous ribbons and a plaque. She has also won prizes for barrel racing at rodeos.

Karen will attend Stanton Junior High this fall where she will sing in the chorus and work in the library, she says. Asked if she likes school, Karen replies, "not especially." After some consideration she names physical education, arithmetic and English as her best subjects.

The junior queen has a younger brother, Kim, who is nine years old. She says he is learning how to ride but he only rides "when she will let him use her horse." Kim plans to get a horse next year.

Karen first learned to ride well when her family worked on a dude ranch in Colorado. She remembers that "all she did was ride horses all day long" while living at the ranch. The next competition for Karen will be the Canyon rodeo this weekend. She plans to enter the barrel race and the junior riders will compete for honors in the parade at 4 p.m. Friday, Aug. 4.

1961 Footballers Are Raring To Go

The room was a sea of anxious faces as the 1961 edition of the Hereford Whiteface football team waited for the new coaches to appear.

The first squad meeting of the season was about to begin, and the 50 boys attending were filled with expectation. Already acquainted with head coach Jack Meredith, they were sure that the fall held new surprises for Hereford gridiron fans.

Talking among themselves, the squad discussed the prospects for the season which was only 30 days away.

"We'll do okay!" The speaker was Joe Mack Hale, senior quarterback hopeful. "The attitude of the squad is really good, everyone wants to play."

Arnold Powell, promising junior fullback, joined the conversation. "I want to beat Leveillard, and with these coaches I think we can do a good job." Several team-mates nodded their heads in agreement.

"Dumas is the team we have to beat," Charlie Kelley, junior backfield spoke up. "The Demons are ranked fourth in the state."

Dennis Hodges, veteran halfback chimed in. "I'd kind of like to beat Phillips again." Smiles flicked across the 50 faces at the thought of last year's 25-14 victory over the Blackhaws.

Moving to the other side of the room, senior halfback Mack Cansler was talking about the new head coach. "I like Meredith. I like the type of football he coaches and I think that we will do real good."

Senior guard Troy Don Moore, agreed with Cansler. "You can't help but respect him, he works you too hard."

Others began voicing their opinions. Dumas was picked as the team to beat, with Phillips and Leveillard drawing several minutes of discussion.

Names of rival players fell into the conversation. The newcomers listened while the veterans talked of Blackhawk quarterback Jackie Gray and Mike Boxwell of Dumas.

Listening as the talk raged from one football subject to another, you became suddenly aware that the 1961 football season is upon us.

'Best Parade Yet' Complete With Top Notch Floats And Horse Flesh

BY DOT BOWLES
BRAND STAFF REPORTER

The Queen's Float, sponsored by Billie's Flower Shop, won first prize in the commercial division of the Harvest Festival Parade Saturday. The Business and Professional Women's "Around the World" float took first prize in the organizational division.

Irving Alexander, chairman of the parade, described it as "the best parade ever seen in Hereford." There was a greater variety of floats than ever before and a crowd-pleaser was the fact that the parade started on time. Alexander said he expected to see the parade become "even bigger and better" next year.

Judges for the floats were Miss Lucy Jones from the Friona Chamber of Commerce, Ed Coltharp, Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce, and Roland Black, Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

The Queen's Float was designed and built by the owners of Billie's Flower Shop, Bill and Lynn Lankford. It featured a butterfly eight feet long, wide and tall. The butterfly wings were made of cheesecloth trimmed with aqua-colored yarn.

The butterfly and Harvest Festival Queen and her princesses sat on a base made of 150 large yellow mums. The skirt of the trailer was made of yellow tissue. Lankford said he got the idea from a float in a parade he had seen in California. The flowers were cut and put in place at the last moment before the parade Saturday to insure freshness.

Harvest Festival Queen Judy Bradley, wore a pink, floor-length formal with a ruffled neck skirt. Princess Sammie Tisdale wore a light orchid-colored formal with a net skirt and Princess Joyce West's formal was pink with a ruffled skirt.

The prize-winning Business and Professional Women float was designed by Mrs. J. K. Baker. Assisting with the decorations were Mrs. Sam Bell, Mrs. Marie Sears and Mrs. Ruby Lee Hickman. Mrs. Mary Helen Askew did the make-up for the women on the float.

The float called "Around the World" had a standard of flags from nations all over the world. To carry out the theme women representing seven nations stood on the float dressed in authentic costumes. The float was skirted with two tiers of gathered crepe paper of sapphire blue with gold lettering. The MIKA emblem was at the rear of the float.

Representing various countries on the float were Suzanne Yarbro, America; Rosa Marie Ramirez, Mexico; Toni Parker, China; Pamela Bell, Holland; Jenny Higgins, Spain; Joyce Johnson, Hawaii; Mary Ann Russell, England.

The sponsors of the winning floats are scheduled to receive plaques with a replica of their float imbedded on them in color.

The parade started promptly at 4 p.m. on Main Street and traveled south on Main from Sixth to First Streets, then east to Sampson and north to Sixth.

Leading the parade was the VFW Color Guard and Drill Team, followed by the Amarillo Air Force Base band. The parade marshals, Don Zimmerman and Ray Cowser, appeared in the Parade Marshals' car.

The Shriners' Motor Patrol preceded the Queen's Float. The Oasis Shrine Club entered a red fire engine in the parade. The Hereford Brand float was titled the "Hereford Brand, 1901 to 1961." It included a survey with the fringe on top with four youngsters sitting on it wearing "turn of the century" costumes. At the back of the float a rocket stood with a young astronaut reading a Brand of 1961.

The American Legion - VFW float was called "Youth Activity Americanism Community Service." It had teen-agers sitting on the bed of the float. The Shrine Drum and Bugle Corps followed the Legion - VFW float.

The IOOF and Rebekahs Lodge float featured members as if they were conducting a meeting. The Santa Fe Railroad entered a miniature train. The Tierra Blanca Indian Dance team marched in the parade, followed by several of Jack Wright's pony carts.

The Southwestern Public Service Company float featured Reddy Kilowatt. The Marine Corps entered a float with a combat tank, followed by members of the Hereford Schools band.

Borden entered a delivery truck and the Kiwanis Club float had a wrecked car with the caption "Don't Let This Happen To You." Dudley Green drove a 1917 Model T truck.

The Campfire Girls and Bluebirds featured camping activities on their float. Piggly Wiggly displayed an old model car with the title "Old Fashion Value Sale."

The floats and marching units were followed by the riding clubs from the surrounding area. Included were the first place riding club, Randall County Sheriff's Posse, Canyon; second place, Will Rogers Range Riders, Amarillo; third place, Roosevelt County Mounted Patrol, Fort Waller, N. M.

Randall County Junior Deputies, Canyon; Petersburg Riding Club, Petersburg; Hockley County Sheriff's Posse, Levelland; XIT Rangers, Dalhart; Abernathy Riding Club, Abernathy; Swisher County Sheriff's Posse, Tulia; Cochran County Sheriff's Posse, Morton; Moore County Sheriff's Posse, Dumas; Terry County Sheriff's Posse, Brownfield and the Hereford Riders and Junior Riders.

Hereford City Police Force Compared On Manpower

With the number of major crimes in the United States at an all-time high, according to the FBI, a closer look at the amount of police protection in Hereford, compared with that in other cities, is in order.

Data on police department strength has just been released by the FBI and by the International City Managers Association. It lists the number of full-time police in 3,779 cities across the country.

Hereford, it is shown, has a smaller police force, in proportion to population, than is found in most of the cities in the United States.

As of the beginning of this year, there were 14 full-time employees on the local police department payroll.

This was equivalent to 1.8 employees for every 1,000 residents, which was fewer than was found in most of the cities, the average being 1.9 per 1,000 people.

It was more, however, than was reported for cities in the West South Central States. They averaged 1.3 per 1,000.

Big differences in police strength exist among the various cities. Usually, it is pointed out, this is due to particular local factors. The range throughout the country is from 0.2 police per 1,000 residents to 6.0 per 1,000.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reveals that "lawlessness continued its upward surge" last year with a 14 percent rise in the number of crimes.

Over the past ten years, the increase amounted to .98 percent, although the population growth in the period was only 18 percent.

While the exact cost of crime is incalculable, he states, there are figures to show what the property losses were, due to robbery, auto theft and the like.

In 1960, they amounted to over $570,000,000. Effective police work resulted in the recovery of half of this loot.

Comparison is also made as to the cost of police protection in the nation's cities.

For communities with populations of under 10,000, Hereford's size category, the police cost for the year came to approximately $6.90 per resident. Nationally, it averaged $11.00 per person.

MEET THE COACHES

"Willie" Plans Rugged Line; Draws Respect Of Whitefaces

BY RICHARD LEGGITT
James "Willie" Williams, former marine and new line coach for the Hereford Whitefaces, is rugged. The tall 38-year-old mentor has plans for the 19-61 whiteface line that include plenty of hard work.

A believer in "jaw to jaw" football, Williams will undoubtedly have the Whiteface line in shape for the Sept. 1 opener against Brownfield. The quiet mentor with the weathered face already has won the respect of the entire Whiteface squad after only one visit here.

Williams has yet to move to Hereford; he will arrive here, August 14 to help kick off the fall football drills. A long time friend of head coach Jack Meredith, he has high hopes for the coming season.

A graduate of Texas Christian University, Williams played his college football at Paris Junior College. He has a BS degree from TCU and his MS from North Texas State College. Besides coaching football, he will teach social studies in Hereford High School.

The oldest member of the five-man coaching staff, Williams is impressed with the weights of the Whiteface linemen. "Of course, I haven't seen any of the boys play," he says, "But from what I have heard and from looking at their size it looks like we have good potential."

When asked what makes a good lineman, Williams said that hustle, desire, self-discipline and a willingness to learn were the most important things.

Williams, who is coming to Hereford from Petersburg, where he served as line coach and baseball coach, is the father of three children, Phillip, 14, Rita, 11 and Ted, 5. His wife Francis, plans to attend West Texas State during the school year.

Before going to Petersburg, "Willie" was head coach at Lorenzo, where he was responsible for starting football. He remained at Lorenzo, a class B school for eight years, winning one district title.

PRESIDENTS TAKE BACK SEAT

NEWARK, Ohio AP — Perhaps the only monument in the nation where two presidents take back seats to an obscure citizen marks the grave of Robert W. Smith.

Smith died in 1957 in a rest home. His will directed that about $15,000 of his estate be used to erect a monument to his memory in the style of some presidential markers.

Those who knew him say he lived frugally for years with the idea of the monument in mind. On one side of it is a bust of President McKinley; on the other, President Garfield. Smith graces the front.

Parade, Rodeo, Air Stunts And Barbecue Wrap Up Third Annual Harvest Festival

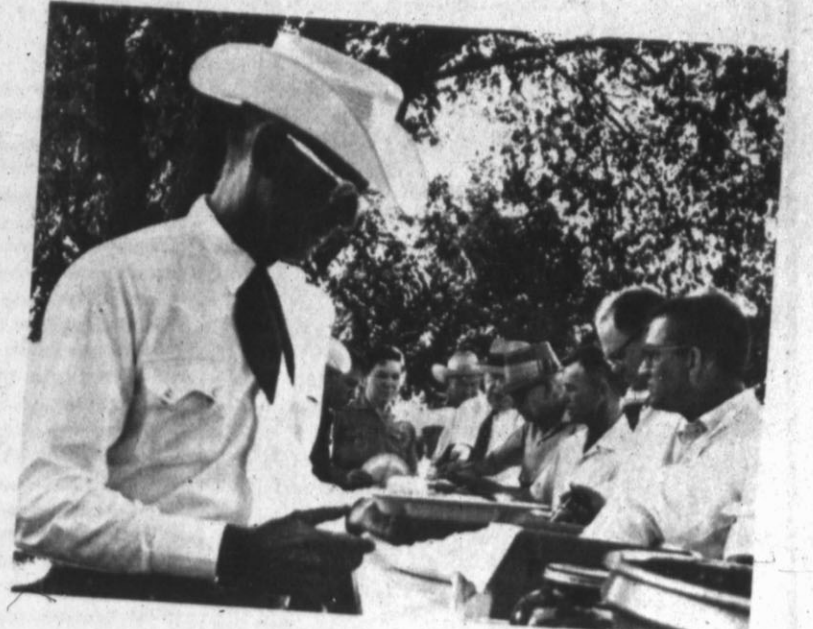

Ready With The Barbecue

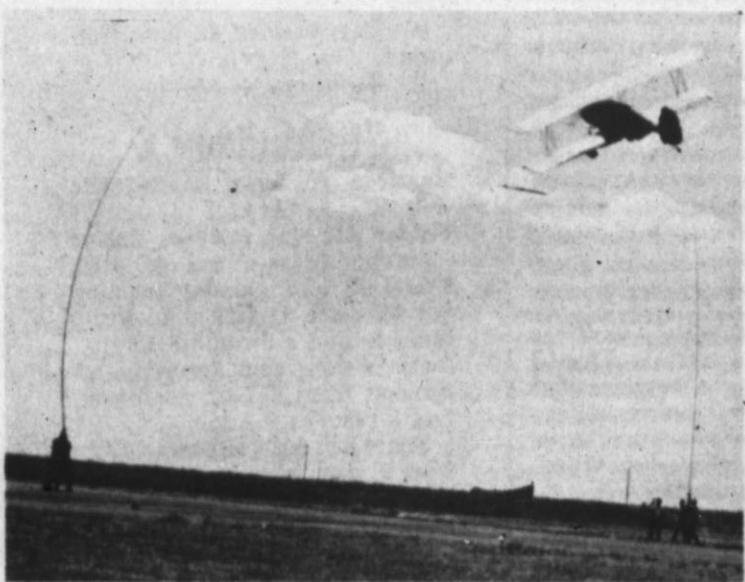

Record crowds thronged every section of Hereford's Third Annual Harvest Festival to break all previous records, and to establish the 1961 edition unquestionably as, "The Best Festival Yet." This was just as true at the rodeo grounds as during the parade and on the popular carnival midway. Pictures on this page feature scenes from Saturday, the closing day, which wrapped up the gala occasion, and put it way for another 12 months. The festival, as usual, was a home produced event with the exception of the air show stunt pilot and the carnival rides, which are operated on a percentage basis.

Sometimes I almost forget about my church—my pastor—my family and my friends. Oh God! cleanse me just now. Use ME to help Thy children make a new discovery in the realm of the spirit. Dear Master, raise me up and show me how to release the tremendous power of prayer... how to show Thy children the way to the New Life in God. Give us this secret, gracious Father, ere we die! Teach ME to pray. A-men."

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES

Loyalty Oath Is Needed To Weed Out Communists

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

The head-on collision of two political ideologies - namely, Democracy versus Communism has brought into focus on the democratic side of this contest the question of loyalty. The primary reason for this is the fact that Communism operates on devious, sinister, hidden and false approaches. One of its most effective weapons is infiltration; effective because of the freedoms guaranteed the individual under the democratic system. In short, it is relatively simple to install a Communist in almost any category of any segment of the economy in a democratic form of government, because of the freedoms guaranteed the individual. On the other hand, because of the lack of freedoms enjoyed by the individual under the Communist system, it is practically impossible to install a loyal American in any phase of that system. Since it is essential to our own welfare that we have faith and have concluded that the loyalty oath might be used as a very effective weapon against Communism.

At the present time only limited groups in limited phases of the economy are required to declare their loyalty under oath. For instance, the employees of the Civil Defense Administration are required to subscribe to the following oath:

"I, do solemnly swear (or affirm), that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties upon which I am about to enter.

"And I do further swear (or affirm) that I do not advocate, nor am I a member or an affiliate of any organization, group, or combination of persons that advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence; and that during such time as I am a member of the (name of civil defense organization), I will not advocate nor become a member or an affiliate of any organization, group, or combination of persons that advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence."

This is required under Section 2255 of Title 50 of the United States Code. It is further provided that "Any person who shall be found guilty of having falsely taken such oath shall be punished as provided in section 1621 of Title 18." This means that such person would be tried under the perjury statute and be subject to a fine of not more than $2,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both.

This is required as a security regulation, as are oaths in other departments of the government. It occurs to me that under our free enterprise system, security should not be confined to government departments alone. Much of our economy base rests upon contracts between the Federal government and free enterprise activities. In fact, the defense establishment alone, before the addition of the recent requests by President Kennedy, totaled more than $43 billion of taxpayers' money. These expenditures are justified as being for the preservation of our nation and our way of life. Now it seems rather odd to me that only the persons working for the Federal government as officers or employees are required to be bound by a loyalty oath. The officers and employees of private corporations contracting with the Federal government for the development of many phases of our defense program as well as other activities should, in my opinion, also be bound by such an oath. In fact, if the employees of a private corporation doing business with the government are required to be members of a union or collective bargaining organization, all members of that organization should be also bound by the loyalty oath. I see no reason why anyone would hesitate to reaffirm his allegiance to this country and to do so under oath, the falsification of which would subject the oath taker to serious penalties. If there are those among us who would not be willing to do so, I think it is time that we know who they are and their reasons.

Hence, I am presently engaged in the task of preparing legislation that will require a loyalty oath of every person employed by or associated with any group, organization, corporation or individual contracting with the Federal government, and providing for adequate penalties for false statements or oaths. This proposed legislation will also include every member of any collective bargaining association, union or organization representing the employees or any part thereof of a legal entity contracting with the Federal government.

WITH THE FRUIT MARKETS AND GROCERY STORES packed with fresh cucumbers this time of year, the smart housewife will be taking advantage of the situation to stock the pantry shelf for those long winter days ahead. There's practically no end to the variety of things you can do with a cucumber. (Staff Photo)

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

It's Pickle Time, And Here Are Some Of Hereford's Best Recipes

Breathes their a man with a soul so dead, who never to his family said, "Please pass the pickles."

With the cucumber harvest in full swing, we've been rounding up pickle recipes with the idea of not leaving even a single cucumber dying on the vine.

Pic (Mrs. Bill) Thompson gave us an old, old recipe for Kosher Dill Pickles and is sending out an s. o. s. for zinc caps. Seems this particular recipe needs the zinc to bring out the best in the pickles.

KOSHER DILL PICKLES
(12 quarts)
1 peck cucumbers
2 bundles dill
1 qt. hot peppers
garlic

Clean cucumbers; pack into jars. Split garlic cloves. For each jar use 2 cloves garlic, 1/2 long hot pepper, 1 tablespoon salt (not iodized) and 1 large sprig dill. Fill jars with cold water and seal with ZINC caps and rubbers. Tighten caps daily for three or four days.

Mrs. Thompson also has a liking for sweet pickles. She said one year she and Bill started a batch of these and then decided to go visit her folks, so they went, carrying along their crock of pickles. Her family never has let them live it down but the pickles were so good, they didn't get home with all of them. Here's the way they make them:

SWEET CUCUMBER PICKLES
2 gallons small cucumbers, cut in half
1 gallon boiling water
1 pint salt

Pour salt and boiling water over washed cucumbers and let stand one week.

Drain and cover with boiling water; let stand 24 hours.

Drain and cover with boiling water with alum the size of a walnut. Let stand another 24 hours.

Drain and bring syrup to a boil for 4 consecutive days.

Can in jars or leave in crock.

Mrs. Henry A. Tuck of Dumas, mother of our editor, let us have a recipe for Ginger Crisp Pickles which she has used for many years. It takes a bit of time but is certainly well worth the effort.

GINGER CRISP PICKLES

1. Cut cucumbers in chunks or slices and soak in brine for 24 hours. (1 cup salt to 1 gallon water.)

2. Drain, pour boiling water over cucumbers; let stand 24 hours.

3. Soak cucumbers in alum water for 24 hours (2 heaping tablespoons alum to 1 gallon water.)

4. Drain; cover with boiling water; let stand another 24 hours.

5. Soak in ginger water for 24 hours. (3 tablespoons ginger to 1 gallon of water.)

6. Pour hot pickling solution on pickles daily for 5 days.

On the 5th day, add pickling spices and pour hot solution on pickles for 4 more days. (2 cups sugar to 1 cup vinegar and 1 tablespoon pickling spices.)

Pack cucumbers in jars and add the hot pickling solution; seal while hot.

It's always fun to visit with Mrs. Ben Chuders but especially so when she opens a jar of her famous

HOT KOSHER DILLS

Select small or medium cucumbers, according to choice; slice length-wise and pack tightly in quart jars. To each quart jar, add 1 head dill and 2 medium size buttons of garlic. If you like the pickles REAL hot, add 1 teaspoon cayenne pepper to each quart jar; if you like them medium hot, add 1 teaspoon cayenne pepper to a pickling solution made of 2 quarts water, 1 quart pure apple cider vinegar and 3/4 cup salt (not iodized.) Bring solution to a boil and boil until salt is completely dissolved, stirring occasionally.

Pour solution over cucumbers and seal while hot. Pickles should set 3 to 4 weeks before using. If placed in refrigerator a day or two before using, pickles will be unusually crisp.

If you like a really easy recipe, try this one for

ICE WATER PICKLES

Cucumbers

Celery

Sliced Onion

1 cup sugar

White mustard seed

1 quart vinegar

1 tbs. salt

Cut large cucumbers into quarters and soak in ice water for 2 hours. Drain and pack tightly into jars together with pieces of celery and slices of onion which have been soaked in ice water in separate containers. To each quart jar, add 1 teaspoon white mustard seed and fill jars with solution made by boiling together 1 quart vinegar, 1 tablespoon salt, and 1 cup sugar for 3 minutes. Seal while hot.

Here are some other good ones:

SOUR PICKLES

1 gallon vinegar

1 tbs. pulverized alum

1 tbs. white mustard seed

1 cup sugar

1 cup salt

Allspice to taste

Put on to boil, take off and cool. Pack jars tightly with cucumbers. Pour cold liquid over cucumbers and seal.

14 DAY SWEET PICKLES

5 pints strong vinegar

6 cups sugar

3/4 cups sugar

1/2 ounce celery seed

1 tbs. alum

1 ounce stick cinnamon

2 cups salt

Slice cucumbers 3/4 inch thick (round) and place in stone jar; add 2 cups of salt to 1 gallon boiling water and pour over cucumbers. Let stand one week. Skim every day if necessary. On the 8th day, drain salt water off and pour over 1 gallon of boiling water. Let stand 24 hours. On the 9th day, drain and pour over another gallon of boiling water to which 1 tablespoon of alum has been added. Let stand 24 hours. On the 10th day, drain again and add another gallon of boiling water and let stand 24 hours. On the 11th day, drain and add the following syrup mixture: vinegar, sugar, celery seed, and cinnamon heated to boiling. Add 1 cup sugar every day for three days and on the 4th day pack in jars

1 gallon cucumbers
2 cups salt
1 gallon water
2 tbs. alum
2 qts. vinegar
11 cups sugar
1/2 cup stick cinnamon
2 tbs. celery seed

Place cucumbers in crock or stone jar; add brine made of salt and water; let soak for 1 week. Drain off brine; cover with boiling water; let stand 24 hours. Drain and cut up pickles. Cover again with boiling water to which alum has been added. Let stand another 24 hours. Drain. Boil vinegar and 6 cups sugar until latter is dissolved; pour over pickles; let stand 24 hours. Pour off liquid; add to it 3 cups sugar, cinnamon and celery seed; boil; pour over pickles; let stand 24 hours. Add remaining 2 cups sugar; boil; pour over pickles which have been placed in sterilized jars.

SWEET CUCUMBER PICKLES
Cut 6 firm sour pickles very thin and put into crock. Sprinkle over them 2 tablespoons of whole mixed spices. Add 2 buds of garlic cut fine. Sprinkle over this 3 cups sugar and 4 tablespoons salad oil. Cover and leave 4 days. Put in jars and seal.

9 DAY CUCUMBER PICKLES
Wash 7 pounds of cucumbers, soak 3 days in salt water, changing water each morning. Wipe dry. Cut in large pieces. Boil 1 1/2 hours in weak vinegar with small piece of alum, then drain. Make syrup of 3 pounds sugar, 3 pints vinegar, 1 ounce each of whole allspice, celery seed and cinnamon bark. Boil 3 minutes and pour over cucumbers. Drain and boil liquid for 5 minutes for 3 mornings. If more liquid is needed, add sugar. Seal the third day. This makes about 1 gallon.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

DID WE HAVE FUN!
Out at Wilburn Axe's Sunday, July 30th, we had a birthday dinner honoring Louise Axe and Anna Wiggins. The unique thing about this dinner was the husbands - with two other men-cooked the dinner, served it and cleaned the kitchen as nicely as any one could have and were still smiling at the end of it all.

In my 70 years I have never seen that before - which goes to prove we're never too old for new experiences. This was the procedure: Wilburn broiled the steaks and baked the potatoes; Edwin made and baked the rolls (and there wasn't one left) and set the table and the men agreed it was a beautiful table.

Chester made the vegetable salad and cooked corn on the cob and Dale baked and decorated the birthday cake with roses, "Happy Birthday" and a candle at each end.

"Believe it or not," those ladies blew the candles out with one puff. What were we ladies doing while the men cooked? Sitting with our hands folded, with contentment in our hearts, a grin on our faces as we watched the proceedings in the kitchen, and making a few comments occasionally. Dale said, "I wish you ladies would talk a little louder or not talk at all." Since the men had cooked the dinner the ladies offered to do the dishes, but NO SIR, we were told to go back to our easy chairs and "STAY OUT."

Have you ever heard a woman say, "My it's hot" when she was cooking Sunday dinner, and the man say, "Why I don't see why you are so hot, I'm very comfortable." Well, it was the other way around in this case. The men kept examining the cooling system to see if it had gone "HAY WIRE." Those present besides the Axe family including Carolyn, Ed, and baby Max were the Chester Wiggins

Here and There

with Mrs. Merlin Kaul

We are glad to hear KPAW back on the air!

The Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. Claude McDougal, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perrin are attending the Ashram of E. Stanley Jones at Pine Crest, a Methodist Camp near Colorado Springs, Colo., this week. Rev. Jones is an internationally known minister, author, and missionary. He is affiliated with the Methodist Church.

Ashram is a Hindu word meaning a religious retreat built around one man. It is thought of as "a vacation with God." Ashrams are held all over the United States and are open to ministers and lay people alike.

Mrs. Phillip Miller and her granddaughter Joellen Hamilton have returned home after visiting relatives in Portageville, Missouri. They were guests of Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. L. C. Fisher, and her brother, Bill Fisher, who recently suffered a heart attack. Joellen became very ill while they were there and was taken to the Methodist Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., where she spent four days. Memphis is 125 miles from Portageville. Joellen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Hamilton.

Driving down the highways—Harrison and down toward Plainview—we noticed rubber bands driven into the paint ed stripes down the center of the road. Our curiosity kept rising. We finally stopped and asked Bobby Ramey's crew what they were for. He explained that new topping was being put on these stretches of highway and after the new top was put on, the little bands would show the painters where to repaint the stripes down the center. Is your curiosity satisfied, too?

Little Donna Heddins, three-year-old granddaughter of J. C. (Clarence) Morrison has been receiving lessons on naming the different parts of her anatomy and the other day she ran up to her grandmother and pointing to her elbow said, "See, Grandma, my knee! A fly bit it me."

Mrs. C. A. Sauley accompanied by Mrs. Ed Blakney and Mrs. Merlin Kaul was in Plainview Friday. They were callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Combs.

Erin Wertenberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wertenberger, has been invited to accompany Mr. and Mrs. W. Moore and son Wam of WTSC at Canyon to New York to attend the National Drama Convention. Mr. Moore is head of the Drama Department at West Texas. After attending the convention, the group will visit amphitheaters in Kentucky, North Carolina, Connecticut, and New Hampshire in the interest of the amphitheater to be constructed in Palo Duro Canyon. They will be gone from August 1 through August 27.

David Wertenberger, an employee at the Safeway Store, will be returning to Texas Tech this fall for his junior year of college. David attended Tech one year, then attended a year at Manchester College at North Manchester, Ind. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Wertenberger.

Sheriff Lowell Sharp attended the Annual Peace Officers Seminar at McAllen this week. The seminar lasts for three days. Susie and Stevie Alston stayed with their grandmother while their grandfather was gone.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Wertenberger have returned from a trip to Indiana, Ohio and other eastern points. They visited her sister Mrs. C. B. Wieand at South Bend, Ind., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kurtz at Hartsville, Ohio. Mr. Wertenberger and Mr. Wieand went to Canada on a fishing trip. They returned home with some fine fish. Mrs. Wertenberger will leave next week with the Camp Fire girls for Ceta Glen in the Palo Duro Canyon where she will be in charge of the teaching Crafts to the girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Cawmon Bryant spent the weekend in Ralls and Lubbock. They were visitors in the home of her mother Mrs. Mattie Smith at Ralls. Several other members of her family were also visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Wilson and son Nathan are new residents at 125 Star Street. They are former residents of Westway. Their daughter, Mrs. Ray Halton of Lubbock, was here last week and helped her mother get ready to move.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore, Mandy and Cy of South Main Street were hosts at a family reunion for the family of Mrs. Moore at their home from Sunday until Wednesday of this week.

The group enjoyed suppers in the back yard, a day spent in Amarillo and lots of visiting and relaxing in the lovely new spacious home of the Moores.

Those present included her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Pickens of Stamford, her brothers, Rev. Jim T. Pickens and Mrs. Pickens of Abilene and Roden Pickens of Truth or Consequences, N. M., and Christopher of Abilene. Her father is a retired Methodist minister and her brother Jim is now coordinator of religious activities at McMurry College.

Mickey Bishop, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bishop, is spending the summer in Fountain, Colo., with his aunt Mrs. Mac Jackson and Mr. Jackson. He will accompany them on a trip to the Rodeo at Cheyenne, Wyo., and on a trip to Yellowstone National Park before returning home.

Mrs. Harley Tim and son Tracy of Altus, Okla., have returned to their home after spending six weeks here in the home of her brother, Jim Loving. Mrs. Tim is the former Patricia Loving and stayed here while their new home was being built in Altus. Her husband, who has been stationed with the Air Force in Altus, is retiring after 20 years of service.

Larry Kaul was a luncheon guest of the Dimmitt Jaycees Thursday. He will attend the Regional Forum of the Jaycees at Dimmitt on Sunday where he will set up the Agriculture Workshop. Larry is State Chairman of Agriculture of the Jaycees of Texas.

Mrs. E. L. Naugle is in Dallas where she was called by the death of her brother-in-law, S. T. Gant. Mr. Gant passed away Tuesday morning at Baylor Hospital in Dallas. He was ill about a week before his death. Rev. Naugle took his wife to Amarillo and she went by bus to Dallas.

The Rev. R. L. Shannon and daughter Lavada of Rankin were in town the first of the week on business. They also visited friends here. Miss Shannon was a guest of Mrs. Mattie Pierce on Tuesday. Reverend Shannon is pastor of the Baptist Church at Rankin.

Miss Janice Craven of Seminole and Mr. and Mrs. Ulys Pierce, Nelson and Laura went to Portales, N. M., last Sunday where they were visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Sykes. The Sykes family are former residents of this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roach and children Lavada and Martha of El Paso have been guests the past week in the home of her mother Mrs. Bess Werner, and also visited her brother George Turrentine and family and other relatives and friends in this area. They were on vacation and spent the first week of it camping out in the Taos-Tres Ritas-Las Vegas area in New Mexico.

On Friday night they were guests at a steak fry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tannahill and on Sunday they went to Lubbock where they visited his brother Lowell Roach and family. Mr. Roach left Lubbock to return to his work at El Paso. His family left here Tuesday to meet him on an assignment in Hobbs, N. M., and all returned to El Paso on Friday.

Roach, who is Safety Engineer for America Employers Group Insurance Company, was honored at an Award Banquet of the company at Hobbs Thursday night. His past two years' work with the company has resulted in such an improvement in their safety record that they received $26,000 in rebate from the insurance company on their past year's premium. This company is an oil drilling company with headquarters at Hobbs.

Roach travels extensively to promote safety and accident prevention through safety conferences. He speaks to many Boy Scout groups and visited Philmont Boy Scout Ranch in New Mexico last week. The dinner Thursday night was held in the Drake Cafe in Hobbs.

Mrs. Roach is one of the Senior English teachers in Bel Air High School which is part of the Yaleta Independent School District and has an enrollment of 1500 students. She is also the sponsor of the School Annual. Last year the students dedicated the Annual to her in appreciation of her work with them. She is a graduate of Mary-Hardin Baylor College and is working on her Master's degree at Texas Western University at El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks, Sylvia and Rodney of Harrison Highway have returned home with their combine crew after completing the season of wheat harvest. Their last move was to Imperial, Neb. Sylvia and Rodney, both members of the Riders Club, couldn't miss the Harvest Festival Rodeo, so they came home earlier this year than usual.

Dave Hopper, well-known rodeo performer of this area, is participating in the Cheyenne Rodeo in Wyoming this week. His itinerary also included Salt Lake City, Utah, and Nampa, Idaho. Dave's events include bull riding and bareback bronc riding.

Mrs. Zuma P. Davis has returned to her home at Fort Worth after spending two weeks here in the home of her son, the Rev. Gilbert Davis. Mrs. Davis is entering her fifth year as housemother at Shirley Hall, a dormitory at Texas Christian University at Fort Worth.

The Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Davis and family left this week for a vacation from their duties at the First Christian Church. They will visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Lake at Crockett, and include several other points in Texas before returning. At Crockett, a Hereford man, the Rev. Bill Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, is pastor of the Christian Church.

Mrs. Minnie Roberson and Milly Jo Schofield, accompanied by Mike Clark, and sons Michael and Bobby of Borger left last Saturday for a trip to the west coast. En route they will visit the Grand Canyon and other points of interest in Utah and Nevada. At Englewood, Cal., they will be guests of Mrs. Ethel Roberson, widow of the late Clyde Roberson. They will go to San Francisco to visit before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Thomas were guests last weekend in the home of her brother, Douglas Reeves at McCamey. Their trip was timed so as to visit with their niece, Barbara Reeves, who is leaving soon to attend the University of Berlin in West Berlin. She has been a student at the University of Texas where she completed her sophomore year. Because of her actvity at the university and at her home in McCamey with the Presbyterian Youth, she was selected by the Presbyterian Church as one of 43 students from the United States to study Europe this next school year. She and a boy from Illinois will be sent to Germany. They will attend a language school at Degerdorf, Germany, for two months to prepare for their university studies. They will start to school on Nov. 1 and continue into July of 1962. This phase of the work of the church is known as the Junior Year A-broad Program. Miss Reeves hopes to be involved with the Student Christian Movement in Germany, where some of the most stimulating theological discussions are occurring in the world today.

The annual Lance reunion was held last Sunday at Thompson Park in Amarillo. A basket dinner was held at 1 p.m. with relatives present from Amarillo, Hereford, Plainview, Lubbock, Sudan, Muleshoe, Quanah, Chillicothe, and Amherst.

REMEMBER HOW GREAT CIGARETTES USED TO TASTE? LUCKIES STILL DO

LUCKIES DON'T SKIMP

They're so round, so firm, so fully packed—so free and easy on the draw. They're fully packed with fine tobacco. They're firmer than any other regular cigarette. And Luckies smoke longer.

THAT'S WHY THEY TASTE SO GREAT.
