Charles Gates Dawes Next Ambassador To Court of St. James, Recalls Old Saying Stressing Importance of 'Applause on Exit'

Charles Dawes

NEW YORK, April 29. (INS)—Former Vice President Gen. Charles G. Dawes, recently appointed ambassador to the court of St. James, arrived in New York today aboard the S. S. Lorenzo of the Porto Rican line, from San Domingo.

Gen Dawes headed a commission to San Domingo which formed a plan to stabilize the currency of the country. This, he said, was completed in three weeks of intensive work.

General Dawes said that the reaction of the country to his appointment as ambassador to England was gratifying, but added, quoting an old English saying:

"'It is not the applause on entrance, but on exit, which is important.' I am keeping humble in mind."

He said that he was going on to Chicago and then to Washington to confer with President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson. He hoped to sail for England the latter part of May.

Roy E. Carter, Former Police Head, Undaunted by Fisticaffs After Trial

Ex-Alderman Says After Workout in Gymnasium He Will Again Appear Against Foe Before City Judge

A voluntary bond of $10 on charges of affray was posted by T. D. Bartlett in corporation court Monday after Mr. Bartlett had told officers he had just engaged in some fisticuffing with Roy E. Carter, former city alderman and former police and fire commissioner.

Mr. Bartlett posted the bond and made his statement shortly after he had been fined $5 in corporation court by Judge W. L. Bass on a minor charge. In this case, Mr. Carter was the chief witness for the prosecution. Mr. Bartlett gave notice of appeal to the county court in the case, and a short time later came in and posted cash bond of $10 covering charges resulting from the scrap with Mr. Carter. Several blows were exchanged, it was said. According to the story as it developed in and around the corporation court, Mr. Carter, who holds a special police commission, accosted Mr. Bartlett Sunday to remonstrate with him about the alleged violation of a city ordinance. Best information seems that Mr. Bartlett felt that Mr. Carter's words were uncalled for. Mr. Carter felt otherwise, and reported the matter to the police station, with the result that Mr. Bartlett was required to make bond at police headquarters.

When he appeared Monday morning in corporation court to plead his case, Mr. Bartlett found Mr. Carter on hand as principal witness in the case. Judge Bass assessed a fine of $5 in the case, and apparently the two went their ways. A few minutes later, however, Mr. Bartlett returned to post his cash bond on charges of affray, with instructions to appear again in court Tuesday morning.

Mr. Carter told The Record News Monday night he would be in corporation court Tuesday morning to appear against Mr. Bartlett in this second case. He was reached by The Record News shortly after his return from the gymnasium Junior college, but this was merely incidental, it was understood.

Mr. Bartlett could not be reached for a statement, and police officials said they did not know if he would appear Tuesday morning to plead the second case.

TORCH VICTIM'S HUSBAND HELD

Youth Questioned In Girl's Brutal Slaying

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 29. (US)—Earl Francis Peacox, husband of the Westchester "torch" victim, was arrested tonight in White Plains as a material witness, authorities said, after questioning him, that he had given them much "valuable" information.

Peacox, 21, who is described as a radio repair man, was reported seen driving a car through the Scarsdale neighborhood this afternoon, a short time before the body was identified.

At the same time it was learned that Mrs. Peacox had been living alone for several weeks in an apartment house in New York City.

Mrs. Alphonse A. Heinzelman of New York City, today identified the Westchester "torch" murder victim as her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Heinzelman Peacox, o young bride.

The identification was effected principally through a photograph of the girl's dress and dental work. District Attorney Frank H. Coyne and Medical Examiner Amos T. Squier announced they were satisfied the identification was a correct one.

Mrs. Heinzelman and her sister, Ida, who accompanied her, were questioned at some length. They stated they had not seen Dorothy since last February when she separated from her young husband over temperamental difficulties.

The young bride had then been married for about one year. She came to New York and got work, but failed to communicate with her family except at intervals of several weeks.

Mrs. Heinzelman and her sister described Dorothy as extremely attractive. The girl had just turned 20 when she came to her death at the hands of someone who slew her and then set her body afire in an effort to conceal her identity and baffle investigators of the crime.

WALL STREET CHARGED WITH CHOKING TRADE

U. S. C. C. Speaker in Plea For Checking of Stock Speculation

DANGER IS TWO-FOLD

High Interest Rates Tend To Stifle Business, Dulles Says

By FULTON LEWIS
Universal Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 29. (US)—Charging that Wall Street is threatening to wreck international financial relations in general and American business and industry in particular by its high interest rates, John Foster Dulles, New York financier, tonight made an impassioned appeal to 1,600 United States chamber of commerce delegates in convention here to check America's "speculative mania" and turn credit back into the industrial field.

"There is danger," Dulles said, "that our credit base cannot, under present conditions, meet potential speculative demands as well as the economic needs of our nation." He told the convention that America's far famed prosperity is, in reality, defeating itself by drawing all available capital into stock speculation and thus cutting out industrial backing.

Praises Federal Reserve

Dulles had much to say in praise of the federal reserve system, and declared that, in spite of the current criticism, it has accomplished almost phenomenal results since the close of the war.

In reviewing the situation, he pointed out that when the war closed America had virtually all of the world's gold supply, was owed $10,000,000,000 by Europe and was faced with the problem of exporting heavy shipments to these countries for reconstruction work.

With Europe already in danger of discarding the gold basis for money, the heavy debts and the prospect of a tremendous trade balance in favor of this country for some years to come, created an apparently hopeless situation, with no factor tending to flow gold back to the other side of the ocean.

Purpose Defeated

This situation was met by the reserve system, he explained, by keeping interest rates in New York far enough below those of Europe so that European industries would finance their businesses through New York, drawing American capital. The extent of this American investment has been $12,000,000,000, he said, which has been enough to flow sufficient gold back to Europe to reestablish those nations on a gold basis in spite of a positive trade balance of more than a billion dollars each year in favor of the United States.

With the increase of prosperity, however, the American public, Dulles declared, has become so confident that American securities will continue to increase in value that money, formerly used for industry and business, is now going into stock speculation and drawing with it every available bit of European capital, defeating the work that the federal reserve has spent 10 years in building.

DEATH RACE IN FINAL STAGES

Sisters Leave Plane For Train at Chicago

NEWTON, Iowa, April 29. (AP)—Mrs. Fred Jasper and Miss Stella McCord, who flew from New York to Chicago today on learning of the critical illness of their father, M. A. McCord, here, left their plane at Chicago and took a train for Newton, they notified relatives tonight.

The women are expected to reach here at 7 a. m. tomorrow. Physicians said McCord, 85, probably would live through the night and would be able to see his daughters on their arrival.

They were on the final laps of a race started Sunday after they were informed by radio while on a cruise in the Mediterranean sea that their father was perilously ill. This morning they arrived aboard the liner Baltic at New York.

The daughters were taken aboard a ting. At 6:50 they started their aerial dash to Newton in a plane piloted by Randy Estow.

Headwinds held the plane back most of the day. At 10:30 it passed Leroy, N. Y. Shortly afterward it stopped at Erie, Pa., for refueling and at 5:20 (eastern daylight time) it headed for Chicago after a brief halt in Cleveland. It was hoped to reach Des Moines tonight and the daughters were to be rushed to Newton by automobile.

Meanwhile, in Newton, physicians watched at the bedside of the father. The former mayor was growing weaker gradually, they said.

UTILITIES AND TAXES PUT UP TO LAWMAKERS

Sudden Influx of Bills Follows Governor's Bid For Action

M'FARLANE HAS BILL

Graham Senator Submits Third Penitentiary Removal Plan

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—The special session of the legislature got on the job in earnest today and although nothing was considered on the floor, committees pitched into the bills which poured in when Governor Moody sent up two additional subjects, taxation and control and regulation of public utilities through establishment of a state utility commission.

There was a number of revenue producing bills, including one by Representative Maurits of Ganado which would levy an income tax, and three others by the same author. In the batch was a four-cent excise tax on gasoline. Maurits has others coming up levying a tax on natural gas, sulphur and insurance company premiums. His plan, if adopted, would revise the existing system of taxation from top to bottom, doing away with the ad valorem tax entirely.

Civil Service Set

The governor's civil service bill was set for special order tomorrow, after Representative Woodruff of Decatur had attempted to postpone its consideration indefinitely. The vote against postponement was 76 to 46 which Representative Kemble of Fort Worth, its author, said plainly was an indication that the bill would pass the house. A civil service measure was defeated in the regular session.

Senator Woodward introduced a public utility retulatory bill in the Senate and McFarlane of Graham, uncompromising opponent of the governor's ideas for reorganizing the penitentiary system, submitted a concentration and relocation plan there.

McFarlane's Bill

McFarlane's bill would preclude the relocation of the penitentiary system without legislative sanction. It would permit concentration on the present properties and land contiguous thereto and provide for the sale of the five north farms.

If the prison board should find it undesirable to concentrate on some of the land now owned, it would recommend a site and the cost of relocation to the legislature at the earliest practicable date, under the terms of the bill. The measure carries an appropriation of $500,000.

McFarlane, chairman of the committee on penitentiaries, said there was no hurry for the committee

HUBBY DRINKS FIVE CUPS OF POISON, THEN DECLARES 'WAR'

'VICTIM' AIDS IN PUNISHING WIFE

'This Has Gotta Stop!—It's Dirty Trick,' He Says

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 29. (INS)—This business of wives poisoning their husbands has "gotta stop," Amos van Volkenburgh announced at police headquarters today where his wife, Helen, is being held for investigation following an attempt to kill him.

Mrs. Van Volkenburgh confessed to police yesterday she had attempted to kill her husband. The husband, a laborer, called at police headquarters today to "get action against his wife."

"Shucks, I'm all right," he said when asked how he felt after drinking five cups of coffee with poison in them. "It made me sick the next day, but I'm all right now."

Tells Sleuth His Trouble

Van Volkenburgh, after he became ill, called on Edward P. Boyle chief of detectives, and told the chief he believed his wife was trying to poison him. That was last Thursday. The chief referred him to the city chemist for an analysis of a lunch his wife had prepared for him.

On the same day Mrs. Van Volkenburgh left the home, believing she had given her husband a fatal dose. Yesterday, conscience stricken, she walked up to Patrolman J. C. McCray informing him she wanted to make a confession that she had poisoned her husband. McCray took her to police headquarters.

The wife said she married Van Volkenburgh last August and left him in November. Six weeks ago she returned to live with him, she said. She asserted that she made up her mind to poison her husband because he abused her and accused her brother of stealing an article from their home.

Dirty Trick, He Says

Van Volkenburgh was shown her statement at police headquarters. After it had been read he said:

"Gosh, that's a dirty trick. She didn't have any business doing that. I'm going to get a prosecutor right now.

"I don't believe in wives trying to kill their husbands—they shouldn't be permitted to get away with it and here is one husband who is going to the limit to send his wife to the penitentiary. I'm not going to live with her any more.

"I'm going over to the prosecutor's right now and get a warrant charging her with attempted murder."

Mrs. Van Volkenburgh, informed of her husband's statement that he would not forgive her or live with her again and that he would attempt to send her to the penitentiary, showed little concern.

"I lived with him only because I didn't want to be a burden to my folks," she said.

Mrs. Van Volkenburgh is 20 years old. Her husband is 34.

'Five and Ten' Author to Demand Action

WASHINGTON, April 29. (INS)—It will cost more than the now customary $5 a bottle for tourists who attempt to smuggle liquor into the United States if Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, co-author of the new Jones law, has his way.

Today the dry senator whose bill raised the maximum penalty for dry law violations to five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine, will arrange to confer with treasury department officials this week to see why the law should not apply to the wealthy and socially-elite who hide contraband liquors among their baggage with hopes customs oficials will not find them.

M. Alfred Michaelson, dry Republican representative from Illinois, was the latest national figure to fall under the liquor smuggling law. Before the drastic Jones-Stalker act was passed Michaelson was indicted in Jacksonville, Fla., on a charge of smuggling whisky into the country. The indictment was not revealed until charges were heralded from New York that Representative William M. Morgan, a dry of Ohio, had brought in four bottles of liquor from the recent congressional junket to Panama. The charges were denied by Morgan and were dropped.

The indictment still remains against Michaelson and he is due to appear for trial in Key West, Fla., next Monday. It is believed he will ask his case be postponed until the special session of congress adjourns.

Trained Reserve Proposal Riles German Nation

BERLIN, April 29. (AP)—Great Britain's support of the American attitude on trained reserves undeniably has increased German bitterness on the trend of the Geneva disarmament parley and official circles appear deeply despondent over the outlook or European pacification.

As far as the European continent is concerned, it is felt in German circles, land forces are the deciding factor and the French "hegemony" will be perpetuated if trained reserves are not counted in computations for limitation of armed forces.

It was said today that France had not only a large standing army but reserves enabling her at any time to mobilize 2,500,000 men. In addition Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania are cited by the Germans as France's military atellites. In contrast to this, the Germans say, the German police are always cited by the other powers as possible trained reserves.

DISORDER MARKS REBEL RETREAT

WASHINGTON, April 29.(US)—Complete evacuation of Ciudad Obregon by the Mexican rebel troops was announced to the state department today. This is believed to be but a phase of the general withdrawal of all the rebel forces from the positions they have been occupying.

Vice Consul Earl Wilbert Eaton, who was almost killed by a bomb from a federal plane last week, reported to Secretary Stimson that the last train of rebel forces had left the city April 26. Only one hour later the first contingent of federal troops arrived in the city led by General Talmantes.

The retreat of the rebels was characterized by much disorder and frequent desertions. Further activities in that vicinity is the march of a division of federal cavalry on Oajeme, a city still in rebel hands near Ciudad Obregon.

The consul at Mazatlans, William P. Blocker, informed the department he will soon make a trip as far north as he possibly can go, in order to get first hand information of the conditions and ascertain the welfare of Americans.

Lazy Moderns Blamed For Decreased Use Of Loaves

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—The lazy lives led by average business men have been partially responsible for a decreased consumption of bread in recent years, F. Cullen Thomas, Minneapolis, told the Texas Bakers association here today.

AGREEMENT ON MILITIA MADE

State Guards Excluded in Disarming Plans

GENEVA, April 29. (UP)—A reservation excepting the national guard of the United States from any disarmament project clauses limiting military effectives was accepted by the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations today.

The United States pointed out that the federal government has no control over state militia.

A new attempt of Russia to force the commission to agree that its disarmament convention should provide for actual reduction of forces rather than mere limitation failed today. After strong opposition was expressed by England, France, Belgium and Chile, Dr. J. Loudon, president of the commission, ruled that the question of reduction only can be established by a disarmament conference when it fixes the figures for each country.

Opposing the Soviet proposal, Lord Cushendum of England, said: "If we insist that the convention provide for reduction, we may excel the provisions of article VIII of the league covenant, which requires only reductions compatible with national security. It is possible that many countries already have reduced their forces to that level. This is a question that only the disarmament conference itself can decide.

"England already has reduced our 'contemptible little army' by nine cavalry regiments, 21 infantry battalions and 61 artillery batteries. Our military budget has been reduced in five years from 36,000,000 pounds to 32,333,000, hence it is possible that we have already reduced to the limit of national security imposed by the pact."

Tso-Ping, Chinese delegate, warned the commission that China favors abolition of universal military service as a first step towards disarmament, but nevertheless, if the other nations do not accept it, China reserves the right to adopt that system if necessary.

RHEUMATISM? Sloan's Liniment KILLS PAIN

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 83

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practic, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, billiousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs? All drug stores have the generous bottles.

Many is the family today that makes it a rule always to have a bottle of this perfect preparation in the house. Keep it handy and observe these three simple rules of health; keep the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open.

'BLACK MONK'S' FRIENDS BREW POISON PLOTS TO AVENGE DEATH

FRENCH POLICE GUARD NOBLES

Rasputin's Followers Are Blamed for Sickness

PARIS, April 29. (AP)—French police have been brought face to face with what may be revealed as a poison plot instigated by friends of the late Rasputin, Russia's "black monk," to obtain revenge for his death.

The police now are inclined to scout the theory and insist they are "working along another line," but certain facts remain:

First, Prince Felix Yousoupoff, who brought about Rasputin's death, suffered from what appeared to be poisoning of some sort, but recovered.

Then, Count de Larentys, Countess de Larentys—who is a relative of the prince—and guests at their home suffered from time to time with a mysterious illness which they believed was poisoning.

And now, the Count de Larentys' valet, Baptiste Carbonnel, has confessed placing poison in the count's food. He says he did so because of a strange hypnotic influence which Illia Pedan, the prince's valet, had over him.

Pedan, he says, offered him 80,000 francs (more than $3,000) if the plot were successful and because of this occult power he acquiesced. The poison was discovered and he was placed under arrest.

The prince and his valet are at present traveling in Austria and have not been reached by the police. Even official reticence, however, has not succeded in hiding the fear of the Countess Larentys—who was Princess Deminoff of Russia—that friends of the mad monk have picked out their entire family on which to take their revenge.

Aid for Storm Hit Farmers Voted Again

WASHINGTON, April 29. (INS)—The house today adopted a resolution reappropriating a $2,000,000 unexpended balance of $6,000,000 appropriated by congress last session for seed and feed loans in storm stricken sections of southeastern states. The action was taken so that the measure would apply to those suffering losses in recent storms.

Representative Rankin, Democrat, of Mississippi, made an unsuccessful effort to include that state in the scope of the resolution.

Eulogistic Service in State Senate Replete With Praise for Joe Bailey

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—Friends, both within and without the Texas legislature, today eulogized the late Joseph Weldon Bailey, champion of state rights and orator of the old school.

For more than an hour the senate chamber echoed with praises of the distinguished statesman. The house recessed so its members might take part in the ceremony. Quite a few visitors listened to the tributes.

"The country is due to swing back to the principles of constitutional guarantees and state rights championed by Senator Bailey," Senator Eugene Miller of Weatherford, said. "The fact that he represented a minority in Texas during the last decade should not detract from his glory. Texas politics was controlled by creeds, isms and prejudices during that time, and Bailey thought in terms of the nation rather than in those of the state."

Elam Faces Dean Law Charge After Continuance of Griner Murder Case

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—Granted a continuance in his trial for murder in the slaying of Albert Gringer, Lawrence Elam today faced an additional charge of violation of the Dean liquor law.

The continuance in the Griner murder trial was until June 17. Absence of witnesses was the basis for the delay. The witnesses, Clifford Thrift, and J. E. Perkins, were ordered arrested, held under $2,500 bond and fined $500 each.

When officers visited Elam's home last night, the liquor complaint charged, they found a quantity of whisky.

DUAL SHOOTING STILL MYSTERY

Society Women Shot at Widow's Home

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 29. (UP)—Evansville's society shooting remained a mystery today with Mrs. Josephine Green Conrad, 27, a divorcee, given a slight chance to recover from a bullet wound in the abdomen and Miss Margaret Maley, 25, suffering from a shot in the thigh.

"I did it! I did it!" was the explanation of Mrs. Conrad. "I don't know why and I am sorry."

Acquaintances of the women, both heiresses, say they had been friends since childhood.

Police were told the women quarreled after a party.

Miss Maley said the shooting occurred when she attempted to prevent Mrs. Conrad from self destruction. Further than that police were unable to obtain clues.

Both of the injured women denied that they were drinking at the time. But admitted "they had a few drinks earlier," police said.

The affair occurred in Mrs. Maley's bedroom.

FRED BRANSON ACCUSED ANEW

Testimony in Clark's Trial Mentions Ex-Judge

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 29. (UP)—Fred P. Branson, former Oklahoma supreme court chief justice, today was charged with misstating the record and distorting the facts in his decision on a Creek Indian oil allotment case. The charge was made during the impeachment trial of J. W. Clark, suspended supreme court justice.

Rush Greenland, attorney for the Gypsy Oil company, involved in the Gypsy Oil-Bristow case, said the opinion was rendered adverse to his company. He said a new attorney was employed in the company's effort to get a rehearing because Branson was prejudiced against the regular attorney.

The case was settled against the Alliottee in another suit prior to the discovery of oil, it was testified. Greenland testified that after discovery of oil a new suit with no new issues was filed, and that Branson's opinion in this case was adverse to his company.

The morning session was taken up with the reading of these two opinions by the impeachment court's reading clerk.

Uncle Sam Scored for Furnishing Ammunition

MEXICO CITY, April 29. (INS)—Jose Vasconcelos, former minister of education, and now a presidential candidate, has opened fire upon the support given to the federal government by the United States in the 1929 revolution. He charged that the "decorum of the Mexican republic has been violated."

Addressing an immense crowd of sympathizers, Vasconcelos said:

"Our decorum has been dragged in the dust in the arrangements with the United States to obtain ammunition for the killing of Mexicans. All worthy Mexicans prefer to run infinite risks before permitting Mexico to become what it is today—a country whose destinies are no longer settled within Mexico but in Washington and the United States embassy."

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Joseph Hergesheimer, author of "Swords and Roses," has appeared in Manhattan to help publicize his new book. He says he hasn't much use for women writers and also says, if he could live his life over, he'd like to be "the fat, spoiled son of a mid-western manufacturer with lots of money to spend on a drug store full of girls." It doesn't sound at all like a definition of the sort of women of whom he has written and we rather think he was "just talking."

◇ ◇ ◇

We didn't know until just now that the ten million dollar trust fund Senator Couzens established recently for the promotion of child health, etc., (all to be spent in 25 years), was the ten million dollar the United States had sued him for as unpaid taxes on his Ford stock sale profits and that at the time of the suit, he said the money involved meant nothing and if he won he would donate it to his favorite, philanthropy—child welfare. He is a sport and a truth teller.

◇ ◇ ◇

It isn't so much how much they do but the spirit in which they do. We think that last Friday J. L. Jackson Jr., showed a heart worth having when he took time to go to the Day Nursery and show three motion pictures to the children there. Lindbergh's flight to Paris and reception there interested the lads and lassies, and "Felix the Cat" and the cartoons illustrating Mother Goose rhymes overjoyed them.

◇ ◇ ◇

We sympathize with Vice President Charles Curtis. It would be nice for everyone to attend strictly to his own business. First they worried the vice president about his sister and now about his home. What difference does it make what he pays for his hotel apartment? Nobody asks what rent we pay.

◇ ◇ ◇

And Douglas and Mary are to appear in an all-talking color picture version of "The Taming of the Shrew." It doesn't seem as if husband and wife should act together under that title.

Silk stockings and hams, floor lamps and automobile tires, ice tea glasses and mineral water, permanent waves and pink unmentionables, beauty treatments and silk pajamas, potted plants and Wilton rugs, rose bowls and cigaret lighters—and a year's subscription to the Times and Record News! All these are just samples of the variety of prizes waiting for fortunates at the Bluebonnet game tournament at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Friday.

Princess Elizabeth of England would be queen if death should come suddenly to three Englishmen. She is just past three and only a few days ago, when she knocked on a door and her mother asked "Who's there?" she answered in an important little voice, "Lilybet, the Princess."

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, April 28. (US)—Germany's "societies for the preservation of the rights of men" are meeting in Vienna this summer. The idea is to guard against the encroachments of women.

The Germans do that, being experts at maintaining their positions at the head of the house. The last men to give up and the first to organize.

If they realized how nice it is to be encroached upon (and couldn't the American men tell 'em) they wouldn't go to all that bother. Women can always think of ways to get what they want, so its a lot of wasted organizing.

A woman in a beauty parlor chair, head wrapped in a henna mask, a girl sitting beside her giving her a manicure, a woman on the other side massaging her arms, and a second masseuse plucking her eye brows.

And for this, somebody is bending over a desk in the heart of a great city!

Wealthy woman in New York owns a $100,000 pearl necklace. Had it since 1885 and every time she wore it someone close to her died or was otherwise involved in tragedy. Easter she wore it and her husband died. Now she wants it taken from her safety box and in some way disposed of.

Just what would you do with it?

Nice letter from Mrs. R. in Villa Park, Ill. A truly kind woman. She thinks by what I write I don't believe in being kind to animals. A great injustice. I've reported many cruelty to the humane society in Chicago, and taken excellent care of my animal I owned. What I do mean is that a woman could do better with $10,000 than give it to one who would much prefer to live as a dog. Find get a lot of nice dog out of his life.

Did you, Mrs. R. ever read the story of the society dog who went on a beat one night, kicking over garbage pillow, and darting out of [illegible] without being noticed? [illegible] alleys, fought with common cats, ate out of ash cans, got [illegible] on broken bottles, and came [illegible] next day tired, dirty and [illegible] happy. He was [illegible] he would stay and be [illegible] and live like a rose [illegible] Lord how he hated [illegible] no pard, no pals, no [illegible] a stuffy little apartment [illegible] many dogs get, and [illegible] after being [illegible] from women, [illegible] dogs.

We Women

By BETTY BRAINERD

Men Who Talk About Their Wives

The man who talks about his wife is, of course, an exception to the general run of husbands but he is not as scarce, numerically, as is commonly supposed.

I have just returned from a trip around the country. I visited many cities and between what I could not help but hear in hotel lobbies and on trains I have modified my opinion that men are discreet and restrained.

Or perhaps it is because of a paucity of subjects for conversation that, in their desperation and hunger for companionship while on the road, so many husbands seemed to hit upon the mutually interesting topic of their wives.

There is a limit to the propriety with which even friends may talk to about their wives but when strangers, meeting in a hotel lobby or on a train, talk frankly about their wives' shortcomings it seems entirely proper that this innocent bystander and eavesdropper should post her findings and observations upon this bulletin board.

I dare say that a great many women as well as men will object to what I have said. I shall not quarrel with them. Indeed, I am perfectly willing to admit that their objections may be justified as far as they themselves are concerned. But they cannot deny what my own ears heard.

But before going any further let me, in all fairness, say that women are not without guilt in the same premises. As a matter of fact, I think more women talk about their husbands than men do about their wives. The difference, however, lies in the fact that when women get together their talk about their husbands usually is trifling and innocent. It has very little more depth or importance than a chat, by the same woman, about hats and dresses and such as that.

Men on the other hand, lift the veil. Their manners as well as their thinking, transgresses good taste. They become too confiding and unnecessarily so.

There is an intimacy which smacks of a lack of restraint and becomes utterly offensive.

In brief, it does not become men who know each other only casually to talk frankly about their wives. Husbands who do this are fourth-rate men.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

Fingerling Bass Go in Big Lake

Fish from the Izaak Walton league rearing ponds will be used only for stocking Lake Kemp instead of for stocking other lakes in the Wichita area as was stated in Monday morning's Record News, Ben G. Oneal, president of the Wichita Falls chapter of the league said.

No fish will be transferred from the rearing ponds at Lake Kemp to other lakes in this vicinity, although it is hoped that the league will be able to obtain fingerlings from the state fish hatchery at Diversion lake to stock Lake Wichita and Diversion lake, Mr. Oneal stated.

Twenty thousand small fry have been given to the league by the fish hatchery to stock its two rearing ponds at Lake Kemp.

The Izaak Walton league intends to increase the number of rearing ponds at Lake Kemp during the future until it is able to rear 75,000 or more young bass there every year.

Fish from the rearing ponds will be placed in Lake Kemp late next fall or early in the winter, Mr. Oneal said Monday.

Fingerlings, if they are obtained from the fish hatchery for stocking other lakes in this area, will be used next fall for stocking Lake Wichita and Diversion lake.

WHAT CARS DO TO MANNERS

Free Lunch Autoists Are Latest Sponges

Unhappy Victims of Free-Lunch Automobilists. Woman Who Took a Sorry Revenge Upon Her Husband. Sons Who Want to Make Their Old Mother Happy.

Dear Miss Dix—Won't you please publish something about those people who own motorcars and who start out early on Sunday morning on a holiday with their whole family and with a friend or two thrown in for good measure and ride out to the country to sponge on any one whom they can stand up for a free feed? From the beginning of summer until the end of it I spend every Sunday and holiday in the kitchen cooking for uninvited guests, who never seem to think that I might like a rest or to go out riding myself. Don't you think people should wait until they are asked and not come unannounced, and what would you do about it?

DISGUSTED READER.

Answer—You have a very good idea about who these acquaintances are who sponge on you during the motoring season. Drop them a little note right away, telling them that you don't feel financially able to run a free hotel and so you have decided to charge for your meals and that you will be glad if they will let you know when they are coming so that you can be prepared for them. That will hold them, for they are deadbeats who have no idea of paying for their food if they can graft it off somebody else.

We shed tears of pity over those unfortunates who are maimed and killed by automobiles, but if we have any weeps left in our system we might well bestow them upon those other victims of the automobile, the people who live on motor roads, who have their pocketbooks flattened out and their privacy slain and who are visited to death by automobilists who descend upon them without warning and eat them out of house and home.

Every one who lives in the country shares the same unhappy fate and learns to shudder at the sound of an automobile horn as at the trump of a doom, for well they know that in a few seconds a car will pull up at the door and from it will descend a jovial crowd consisting of jolly Nick and Susie and the five little Nicks and Susies and a couple of friends that will have brought along with their brat, and the whole crowd will proceed to make itself at home with loud cries of "Oh, how thirsty we are," and "My, what a grand appetite motoring gives you!"

And poor Mr. Householder and Mrs. Householder, who had finished their own luncheon and were planning a ride themselves or were going to have a nice snooze or read a book they had been longing to get at, have to rush and put fresh towels in the bathroom and then hie out to the kitchen and scramble together all the food on the place. Then, after the motorists have left, the householders spend the rest of the evening washing the dishes and cleaning up after them and figuring up that they have spent all of the next week's market money on feeding a lot of people whom they don't care for and who don't care for them and who have simply made goats out of them.

It's a queer thing what the automobile does to people's manners and morals anyway. In town people don't invite themselves to your house for a meal. They wait until they are asked. Still less would they think of foisting their children, and perfect strangers, upon you. Nor would any stranger who had any decency whatever wish himself unasked on you as a guest. But once let people get in an automobile and they throw all such social convention to the wind and it is any free eating place where they can crash the gate.

Perhaps it is because it costs so much to run an automobile that it makes people feel they have a sort of right to get it back any way they can and rob anybody who will stand for it. But why everybody who has a country place is supposed to run a free roadhouse nobody knows. Apparently, however, automobilists are under that impression. Also, that meals are at all hours and that the woman of the house asks nothing better than to spend a happy summer making sandwiches for people she hasn't seen for years, but who suddenly remembered how much they loved her as they were passing by. This is the reason that most country places are for sale.

How the victims of the automobile grafters are to protect themselves I don't know unless they cultivate a nerve equal to that of their persecutors and shut their doors in the face of their self-invited guest.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—My wife and I are both well over 40 and will soon celebrate our silver wedding. We love each other dearly and have had a most happy married life. We have a family of four children of whom any parents might be proud and my wife has been a model wife and mother. But four years ago my wife had an affair with a doctor. She tells me she was not in love with him, but did this to pay me back because I had admitted to her that I had not been a paragon before marriage. She coolly says that she is not sorry for what she has done, that she has had her little fling just as I had mine and is satisfied to stay by me from now on.

I don't know what to do. I am passionately fond of my wife and feel like letting the thing go, for there is no doubt in my mind that she is just as fond of me as ever and that she is sincere in her statement that she will never repeat her offense. It is four years since this happened and I have noticed no change in her attitude toward me.

PERPLEXED.

Answer—Let him that is without sin amongst you cast the first stone." You have the words of the Great Teacher to direct you in dealing with your wife.

If she forgave you, why should you not forgive her? Her offense against you is no worse than your offense against her. Her sin no blacker than yours. So wipe off the slate and kiss and forget it.

Feeling as you do toward your wife, you would be utterly miserable apart from her. Furthermore, it would wreck your life to break up your home and be parted from your children and to blacken their good name by bringing shame upon their mother. Nor is your wife a constitutionally immoral woman, a woman without inherent principle whom you cannot trust and whose influence would be bad upon your daughters, so you don't have to consider that side of the subject.

She has done a very foolish thing in paying you back in your own coin because two wrongs have never yet made a right, and I think that she will find that revenge is always a boomerang that turns and rends the hand that throws it. She has had her fling, but I wonder if she really enjoyed it as much as she thought she would and if, when she looks at her little girls, she doesn't wish that there was nothing in her life that she would be ashamed for them to know.

She stabbed back at you and hurt you as much as you hurt her, but I wonder if she doesn't realize that her act killed something fine and sweet between you that can never come to life again.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Our mother is old and feeble. She has worked hard all of her life and we boys want her to quit housekeeping and board with one of the neighbors. Don't you think this would be the best for her? She does not care to be visiting around and by boarding she would be coming in contact with other people more. We want her to enjoy the next few years as much as possible.

A YOUNG MAN.

Answer—Your mother is a lucky woman to have such good sons who are so solicitous for her happiness. Without doubt your plan is the rational one for her, but you have to make old people happy in their own way, and you must remember that industry becomes a habit and that a woman who has worked as long as your mother has would find it absolute torture to have nothing to do.

She would be bored to death and wouldn't live but a little while if you took away her daily task. Furthermore, an old woman's home is not just a house to her. It is part of her very being, and her furniture is not beds and chairs and tables. It is memories of her husband, her young life, her babies—life and death and all that has ever happened to her.

So, unless your old mother wants to go to board with the neighbor herself, don't move her out of her home. Hire some one to stay with her and let her keep pottering around at her daily tasks as long as she can. That is the only way you can make her happy.

DUCKETT TRIAL SET MAY 20

Newcastle Man to Face Jury In Slaying Case

Trial of George Duckett, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of C. H. McDaniel, deputy sheriff of Archer county, last July has been reset at Seymour for May 20, C. E. Goodwin, sheriff of Archer county, announced Monday afternoon.

Mr. McDaniel was shot as he attempted to stop a robbery of the Dundee National bank. His assailant escaped in an automobile.

Duckett was arrested two days later at his father's home at Newcastle by Sheriff W. G. Bralley and other members of the sheriff's department. He denied any knowledge of the affair and claimed an alibi.

At the time of the first trial last fall, former Judge E. G. Thornton granted a motion for a change of venue. When the case was called again in January, illness of a material witness resulted in a second continuance. Both sides will probably be ready for the trial when it is called on Monday, May 20, Mr. Goodwin said. Duckett is being held in the county jail at Seymour, he declared.

The sheriff declared that efforts to implicate a second man, now a prisoner in the Wichita county jail, had brought no significant results, so far as he had been informed.

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—The Dallas Chamber of Commerce is considering a proposal looking to the removal of St. Edwards university from Austin to Dallas, the Times-Herald said today.

The proposition was submitted to the chamber by school officials last Friday, it was said, and a sub-committee, headed by Arthur Kramer, has begun studying the plan. Father Burke, president of St. Edwards, and Frank C. O'Brien, an official, were said to have made the proposal to the chamber.

'I BLESS THE DAY I FOUND SARGON' SAYS MRS. CLOUD

"Three years ago I had an operation and I have been in a dreadfully weak and run down condition ever since. No treatments or medicines gave me permanent relief.

MRS. EVELYN CLOUD

Then I started Sargon, gained 10 pounds and now am well and strong.

"I lost weight, my circulation was poor and I was nearly always very bilious. My appetite failed me, and what little I ate gave me such gases and pains that I was afraid to eat anything but the lightest kind of diet. There were times when even the sight of food would sicken me, and I would have to get up and leave the table. My color was sallow and I was greatly undernourished. I tried as many medicines and treatments without results that I had little faith left in any of them, but to please my brother who had gotten splendid results from the Sargon treatment, I decided to try it, and I bless the day I did. I commenced to improve with the first few doses. My appetite has returned and I relish what I eat. I eat anything I want and everything agrees with me. Before I had finished the second bottle I felt like a new woman. My strength and energy came back, my color is splendid. I have gained weight, and can just fairly feel myself tingle with new circulation.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills ended my biliousness, without nausea or sickness of any kind. Now, I feel strong, well and good, and I can never say too much for this wonderful treatment."

Sargon may be obtained in Wichita Falls from the Rentro Drug Co., Eighth and Scott streets, No. 1 main store, and Seventh and Indiana, No. 2; in Electra from Lough's Drug store; and in Burkburnett from Burkburnett Pharmacy.—Adv.

OFFICER SLAIN QUELLING RIOT

Fort Bend Sheriff Probes Deputy's Death

RICHMOND, Texas, April 29. (AP)—Burford Wade, Fort Bend county deputy sheriff, was released on bond of $1,000 today in connection with the slaying last night of Bidel Carrabajal, another deputy. He waived examining trial on a charge of murder.

HOUSTON, April 29. (AP)—Sheriff H. W. Collins of Fort Bend county today was investigating the slaying of Bidel Carrabajal, a deputy on his force, in a Mexican resort at Richmond last night.

At the inquest for Carrabajal, a verdict was returned that death was caused by "gunshot wounds at the hands of parties unknown."

Carrabajal was killed during an altercation at the resort that followed a call to the sheriff's office for officers to quell the disturbance.

Reyna is a tenant farmer on the Winston plantation near Richmond. Carrabajal also was a tenant on the farm.

Daily Editorial

YOUR FATHER'S grandfather heard his father pine for the "good old days." So did Methuselah.

A hundred years ago, several New England editors shrewdly discovered that America could not accommodate any more enterprises.

The Nineteenth Century died convinced that the choice corners on Success street were all bought and occupied.

And now you're at it.

There aren't any permanent monopolies—capital and cunning can't corner the brain market.

Wit always finds the weak heel of power. The history of men and nations is written in three chapters: Triumph, Complacency and Demotion.

The next idea regularly thrashes the last one.

Dynasties pass and empires fall; Babylons vanish and Romes rise; Spains and Portugals straddle the world and promptly topple, not because they're out-fought, but out-thought.

So don't worry about the permanence of any local Colossus—bright young men eventually upset and replace 'em all.

Fortune is muchly a mental attitude. Look at a problem from a fresh angle and you'll see new sources of wealth, as well.

MEN THINK themselves rich—and, obversely, poor.

There's always a quicker and thriftier method.

Whatever has been done is worth less than the things still unaccomplished.

Thus each generation revises skylines and play-limits on a bigger scale. The game's open—sit in.

Please remember that the best cards, not the largest stacks, take the pots.

Bet your vision against their chips. Harriman did.

Croakers will jeer, "you were born too late for a whopping winning."

Frederick Brown and Benjamin Winter, ex-immigrants with title deeds to the prime porterhouse cuts of Fifth avenue in their safes, were so informed when they landed here, with nothing but aspiration and credulity in their pockets.

Like remarks were made to the young recent peddler, now in control of Manhattan's most important coal and ice companies.

The chanciest day on the calendar is tomorrow.

Alexander didn't believe it and the conviction broke his heart.

He sought everywhere for additional worlds to conquer—except in his brain.

Had he peered there, he could have found domains to give, even his omnivorous ambition, indigestion.

Happiness and Success

ASK ANY father what his chief ambitions are, and he will inevitably close his list by remarking, "and, of course, I want to make sure that my kids have a happy childhood."

This is the most natural emotion imaginable. A child, because of its dependence and helplessness, can be lonelier and unhappier than most people dream. Every parent wants to make the period of childhood as joyous and carefree as possible.

But a disturbing thought is raised by a recent interview in which Joseph Hergesheimer, one of the country's most gifted novelists, suggested that a happy childhood may not lead to a successful manhood.

Remarking that he himself has taken to literature because he had been unhappy and discontented, Mr. Hergesheimer said:

"Nobody amounts to anything if they've had a happy childhood and youth. Happy people are so adjusted to life, they just live. We have to seek something to convince ourselves that we amount to something. We have to surmount obstacles—otherwise we don't believe in ourselves."

Mr. Hergesheimer has put his finger on one of the oldest conflicts in the world—the conflict between man's desire to find happiness and his desire to amount to something. The two do not often go together. Accomplishment ordinarily springs from discontent, whether we like to admit as much or not.

It is not without significance that most of our great leaders in politics, industry and commerce began life as poor boys.

Run over a list of the names of our great men—Ford, Hoover, Edison, Rockefeller, for instance. Would any of them have reached his present high position if sharp, bitter circumstances had not compelled him to go without his playtime, as a boy, and dig in to amount to something?

To be sure, there are exceptions to the rule—but they aren't very common. For the old proverb, after all, is right; genius is one per cent inspiration and 99 per cent perspiration. And the man who is willing to work his head off to get what he wants is usually the man who was compelled to do that from his early youth.

Unfortunately for our dreams of universal happiness, it is discontent that makes the world move forward. This has been true since the cave man, miserable and hungry because he was too slow-footed to catch game, invented a bow and arrow so that he could kill it from a distance; and it always will be true, down to the day when we shall have wiped out poverty, ended disease and learned how to travel to Mars.

Most of us, of course, will continue to try to give our children happiness and let them take their chances on accomplishment. But while we're doing it, we might as well admit that some poor youngsters from an orphan asylum may outdistance them in the race for success.

A Common Sense View

AMERICANS who are interested in the maintenance of world peace and the continuance of cordial relations between the United States and Great Britain can be considerably encouraged by Hugh Gibson's remarks at Geneva concerning naval reduction.

Expressing, as he did, President Hoover's views, Ambassador Gibson revived the hope that the knotty problem of naval reduction may be settled in a friendly manner. And it was not so much the substance of his remarks as the spirit of them that makes for optimism.

In effect, what he said was this: since we all want naval reduction, since we all intend to remain on good terms, and since a moderate amount of common sense will inevitably avert war, let's forget the technicalities and get together in a way that will end this distrust and competition.

A highly sensible way of approaching the subject, that. It paves the way for a resumption of an extremely important job.

Folly in the Air

EARLY reports of the airplane accident at San Diego, Calif., where six people lost their lives when an army airplane collided with a big passenger plane, indicate that aviation occasionally has a character not unlike the gentleman who rocks the boat on the water.

If the early reports are correct, the accident occurred after an army flyer, diving close to the passenger plane in an effort to show his skill and give the passengers a thrill, misjudged his distance and crashed into it.

Army flyers, of course, are trained to go through risky maneuvers. It is all part of the day's work to them. But there is precious little excuse for an affair like this at San Diego. If a flyer wants to show off his stunts, let him do it by himself.

Making Chess Harder

DEVOTEES of the game of chess will be highly interested in Jose Capablanca's recently presented suggestion for widening the scope of the game.

Capablanca, who has claimed for years that chess needs revision because the experts have solved all its possible combinations, has suggested and demonstrated some changes. He has enlarged the size of the board, so that it contains 100 squares instead of 64. Each side gets four new pieces; two new pawns, and two composite pieces, one of which combines the powers of the rook and the knight, while the other combines the powers of the bishop and the knight.

Chess lovers will doubtless be eager to see how this new game works out. For the ordinary man chess still contains unnumbered riddles. It may be, however, that the masters' tournaments will contain fewer monotonous draws if Capablanca's suggestions are adopted.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, April 29.—One thing for which Police Commissioner Whalen must be given credit in his fertility of mind. Ever since he came into office he has thought up plenty of interesting things—interesting to read, if nothing else.

For instance, he now suggests hotels for automobiles. These hotel garages he would have erected in the most populous sections of the city.

All of which, to my opinion, is not news for the reason that plenty of hotel garages already exist, and not far from midtown Broadway. There are skyscrapers upwards of 15 stories devoted exclusively to the housing of automobiles seeking a little rest during the day or night. Since the passing of private homes in New York these great garages have increased tremendously. Park avenue residents depend upon them. If you haven't a garage handy a car is of little use in New York.

Only recently a new law went into effect which provides that all cars parked over the 30-minute period will be towed to the nearest police station and there held until a fine is paid by the owner. This works a great hardship for the tourist or casual shopper from out of town. Even for New Yorkers it is a difficult handicap, unless they have chauffeurs.

If you haven't a chauffeur you might just as well park your car over in Long Island or in the Bronx—or, better still junk it and buy a new one with the money you saved by escaping parking fines.

The latest rumor in New York's Mayfair is that Anthony Joseph Drexel Biddle Jr., the millionaire society man who decided to go in for boxing in a large way, has decided to retire.

Biddle made boxing popular with the younger set, so they say, because he himself took such an active interest in the game. He achieved popularity by taking over the management of Rene De Vos, a Belgian pugilist, who besides having a good punch had a good accent worthy of the best drawing rooms. But somehow or other, a low brow puncher would come along—one who knew nothing of the finer things in life—and would succeed in punching Mr. De Vos badly.

I mention these distressing facts because it appear that now Mr. Biddle has decided to abandon the management of Mr. De Vos and devote himself merely to watching from the ringside.

Mr. Biddle, it would seem, made as much a botch of boxing just as a good many young blue bloods do in other lines of work when they mistake their desire to indulge in a fad as an indication of genius in their selected vocations.

St. John Ervine, they say, in spite of all the criticisms that was heaped upon him by the local critics, because of his critical reviews is coming back again next fall to act in the same capacity for the same New York newspaper. Beau Broadway discovers that the line, "be yourself," generally thought to be modern slang, is in Shakespeare's "Merry Wives of Windsor." I remember the time, not many years ago, when the "phrase, "believe me," was considered slang. And Shakespeare used that, too. . . . The Encyclopedia Brittanica engaged Roxy, the movie house magnate, to write an article on stage technique . . . A copyreader I know, who was told he'd never get anywhere or anything by gambling, got a nice sum from the same publication for writing an article for the Encyclopedia on gambling and gaming . . . When Helen Wills isn't practicing tennis or attending a party she spends her time in the art department, drawing pictures, in a local newspaper office.

Arthur Hammerstein's idea of synchronization of the stage with canned music, something after the pattern of synchronising the movies with sound, sounds very interesting but unconvincing. Florenz Ziegfeld was one of the first to ridicule it. It's Mr. Ziegfeld's idea, of course, that pretty ladies are all right but there must be pretty music. And how, he asks, can you rely upon canned music for a safe and sane presentation of a musical comedy?

Hammerstein thinks that the music can so be arranged that it fits in with all songs, solos and such in any musical production.

His first efforts will be an experiment of the utmost importance to producers. If it is successful it will mean throwing out of jobs hundreds of musicians in New York, not to mention the rest of the country. With movie houses on the verge of dispensing with orchestras, because of the "sound" pictures, we can look forward—perhaps with alarm—to a mighty serious situation among American musicians. They'll all have to take up music in a serious way, perhaps, and that will mean more excellent symphony orchestras. Which, perhaps, would not be such a bad break, either.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 29. (UP)—Reciprocal action to force amendment of Oklahoma's auto registration law was announced here Monday by Secretary of State Cornell.

Day of Sea Supremacy Passed, Says Coolidge

PHILADELPHIA, April 29. 'FREED' WOMEN MEET CHANGES

Business World Conditions Mar Bodies

By SAM LOVE

NEW YORK, April 29. (UP)—This old joke in the comic magazines—the one depicting Mrs. Suffragette with a moustache, masculine figure and a bass voice, complaining to her bridegroom that his biscuits were not as good as the kind father used to make—this joke is something less than 100 per cent funny in the light of modern medical beliefs.

Nature is imposing a startling misery of phychial and physical disturbances of the "modern woman," Dr. Richard Horace Hoffman, a leading New York phychiatrist, has told the United Press.

Dr. Hoffman, who outlined man's battles against his phyisical enemies throughout the centuries in the recently published book, "The Struggle for Health," carried his discussion beyond the pages of his work.

Women Getting Manly

He pointed out that the laws of consanation had already begun to exact an observable toll in bodily disturbances brought about by chemical changes in "freed" women of the business and workaday world.

Already, some of the more adaptable women are beginning to display "secondary sex indications," the phychiatrist has observed. These symptoms include hair on the upper lip; masculine deportment and changes in voice; alteration of the figure and adoption of the male point of view.

Following these are a long train of other changes—many of them ills which the masculine breadwinner takes as a matter of course. The premature development of wrinkles and appearance of face blemishes send thousands to the beauty specialists. Scrawny frames and physical disturbances such as heartburn, loss of appetite, tendancy to hysteria and exhaustion, nervous debility, digestional difficulties—these and a dozen more exactions of nature have been traced to the same source.

Dr. Hoffman was unwilling to ascribe more than a certain number of such feminine mal-functioning to the usual diagnosis of congenitally faulty gland functioning.

Adaptation Takes Time

"In this hurried age," he said, "most people are prone to forget that adaption to circumstances is not a matter of years or months. It took man millions of years to adapt himself to the particular strains of his existence. He is not entirely insured at this moment, as many individuals have learned.

"Within our own memories if was socially embarrassing for a woman to be working at all. She could be a school teacher or an elecutionist or an actress or a nurse or governess—or something of similar nature. Then suddenly the barriers dropped. The machine entered the list of progress, and women began to race into a competitive field that has been held almost exclusively by men.

"One day the so-called modern woman awakened to find that she could make as much money, if not more, than the man of her acquaintance. The dollar chase was on as it was in the man's world. Immediately her psychological attitude toward men underwent a change. It had a new financial basis.

Meets New Conditions

"Furthermore, in this new game she actually got out of the habit of marriage to some extent. Or she put off marriage. Particularly she put off child-birth, as many statistics show. And all this time nature has been attempting to keep up with these changes. Nature seldom fails to answer. And, to equip the competitive woman for her battle, nature had to make some chemical changes. These are becoming more and more noticeable.

"Scores of the physical symptoms revealed to the psychiatrist are but reflections of the psychical disturbances—faulty digestion, heartburn, underweight, nervous ailments, hysteria and the like. So too are what we call the secondary sex indications, which mar the feminine beauty and produce a new masculinized point of view."

Scene From Last Supper

One of the scenes in which perhaps more interest will be taken than in any other production of the Passion Play at the Memorial auditorium on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week is that of the last supper of Christ with His disciples. The feast of the passover, taken with His followers in a small upper room on the night preceding Christ's crucifixion, has become familiar to almost every person in the civilized countries of the world through the painting of the scene by the master Leonardo de Vinci. The scene above shows its enactment by the Cramer production of the Passion Play.

BLUE CURTAIN PLAY TONIGHT

College Club to Present "The New Poor"

"The New Poor," by Cosmo Hamilton, a three-act standard comedy, is to be presented by the Blue Curtain players of Wichita Falls Junior college Tuesday night at the college auditorium at 8 o'clock. An all-star cast in which every student has experience in some preceding play has been assembled, according to Miss Juanita Kinsey, director.

The story is built around the dramatic conflict between two groups who apparently are in harmony only to find that things are not what they seem. A group of Russian nobles out of jobs are employed by an American family out of servants. Some members of the respective groups are smitten by cupid and many interesting comic and dramatic situations result. The plot holds enough story and mystery interest to hold an audience every minute of the performance, according to impressions received from rehearsals.

The cast includes Lloyd Wyatt, one of the outstanding finds in college dramatics here, Jim Tom Baston, Ameel Kouri, Lela Belle Jenkins, Gaylord Giles, Morris McAfee, Marjorie Hines, Brunhilde Holmgren, Mary Louise Staley, Katherine Keller, Elva Remington and Arvil Davis. Proceeds of the play are to go toward a fund for purchase of additional stage equipment.

Master Lough, famous boy soprano of London Temple church, gains diversion by going to music shops for his own phonograph records, then listening to gossip about his singing.

Praise for Junior C-C

Numerous speakers delivered short addresses at the meeting Monday noon, expressing complete faith in the present and future opportunities offered by this city, and pleading for the same energy and confidence with which the development of the community was supported during the period of rapid oil development.

Carter McGregor declared that the junior chamber of commerce "is filling a long felt want in the city of Wichita Falls." J. C. Mytinger also commented the possibilities of the junior organization in further development of the city. "We must adopt again the dreams we had a few years ago," said Luther Hoffman. "We were spoiled by prosperity. Our recent experiences should put us back on solid ground, and help us to get our business on a conservative basis." J. Wilkie Talbert, Harry Hines, W. B. Hamilton, J. W. Akin, mayor, and Dr. Floyd A. Bash were other speakers at the luncheon.

Members of the Ad club met with the junior chamber of commerce Monday noon in place of their weekly luncheon on Tuesday.

TALKIES FOR HERB

White House Equipped For Presentation of Sound Films

WASHINGTON, April 29. (INS)—Preparations are being made to show "the talkies" in the White House.

The executive mansion is being wired for production of sound pictures, and shortly President Hoover expects to have his private sound-operator functioning for presidential entertainments.

E. L. Johnson, chief petty officer of the navy, who formerly was attached to the yacht Mayflower, has been detailed to New York to study operation of the sound movies, with a view to future White House duty.

CONTRACT LET FOR BRIDGES

Work on Clara Road To Cost $5,342

Contract for the construction of two small bridges and for eight concrete culverts along the Clara-Wilbarger road in precinct 3 was let to the C. P. Gibbs construction company for $5,342 at the regular meeting of the county commissioners court Monday. The negotiations were completed with the understanding that the builders were to employ local labor. Work is to begin at once. The only competing bid was from the Burgess and Gilstrap company for $6,421.43.

The court approved the $5,000 bond of Paul Barnett, newly appointed county auditor to succeed E. P. Walsh. They accepted proposals made by Mr. Walsh to the effect that no successor be appointed to James Jones, former assistant auditor, released from the staff last week. Mr. Walsh said that for the remaining two months of his term he would handle the work with the assistance of J. G. Gowdy and Edwin Weldon, already a part of the staff. Mr. Barnett will take office on July 1.

to consider the bills before it. Senator Holbrook of Galveston put in his bill, sponsored during the regular session by Governor Moody, on the first day of the session.

Three Pen Measures

The house has three penitentiary bills before it and a sub-committee of seven has been appointed to frame a committee substitute as a proposed compromise between all factions. The committee was unable to hold a meeting today, however.

Governor Moody said he intended writing a bill more clearly setting out his views on concentration, but Holbrook, who heretofore has represented the governor's ideas of prison concentration said he did not believe the governor had a bill in mind and that he felt he would support his (Holbrook's) measure.

AGITATION RESUMED FOR SUNDAY MOVIES

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—A resolution asking Governor Moody to submit to the legislature the matter of legalizing Sunday moving picture shows was passed out of the committee on criminal jurisprudence today.

Representative Woodall of Marshall had introduced in the house floor a resolution calling on the governor to enforce the law prohibiting Sunday shows, and it was referred to the committee, of which Woodall is chairman.

Keller of Dallas amended the resolution in committee to eliminate the request for enforcement and substitute an appeal for submission of the subject matter so a law permitting Sunday shows could be passed.

A law giving cities the right to legalize Sunday shows, passed by the regular session, had been vetoed by the governor on the ground that it was unconstitutional in that a city could not be given authority to pass an ordinance in conflict with state laws.

A Chinese laundryman of Boston became angry at two fellow workers and threw oil on them, setting them afire. He was indicted for arson.

GALERIA HURLS SPUDDERS TO THREE STRAIGHT FROM STEERS

WICHITA COPS BY 6-4 SCORE

Galloways Open Three-Day Stand Today at Houston

Special to The Record News.

DALLAS, April 29.—Chick Galeria, the slender, bespectacled left-hander from Abilene, today won his second ball game in four days from the Dallas Steers. While the Spudders batted Grimm off the hill in seven innings, Galeria hurled effectively and kept the nine Bovine hits well scattered. Galeria was credited with beating Dallas Friday when he hurled great ball several innings as relief chucker.

Today's 6 to 4 victory in the one-game series gave Wichita Falls four out of five and three straight wins in contests with the Steers.

Grandpa Lapan led the Spudder attack today with three hits, which more than compensated for two errors. Turgeon and Swenson each maced a pair of knocks, one of which went for two bases. Bennett, Sullivan and Benton each clouted a double.

Hap Morse was the leader of the Dallas offensive with three hits, one a double. Flaskamper had two safe hits.

The defensive play of both clubs was loose, the Spudders making four errors and the Steers three.

Steers Score in First

Dallas scored the first run in the first inning. Flaskamper singled to center after one was out. Swenson threw out Rosenthal. Flaskamper going to second. Jeffries singled to center, scoring Flaskamper.

The Spudders tallied two in the second. Bennett led off with a double to left and advanced to third while Morse was throwing out Stapleton. Swenson hoisted to Moore, scoring Bennett. Sullivan hit to left for two bases and scored on Lapan's one-base blow to the same territory.

The Steers tied the score in their half. Boggess doubled to left with one out and scored on Mealey's single to left.

Benton opened the third with a two-base smack to deep left and sped home on Turgeon's whack to Boggess' garden, to give the Spudders a 3-2 lead.

Galloway's gallopers tallied again in the fourth. Lapan beat out a hit to third after one was out. Galeria bunted and both runners were safe on Grimm's late throw to second to catch Lapan. Benton flied to Moore. Turgeon doubled to left, scoring Lapan.

Dallas threatened in the fifth with a tally. Mealey, first up, was hit by a pitched ball. Grimm singled to left, Mealey stopping at second. Grimm was run down after a throw to first by Lapan. Mealey going to third. Morse singled to right, scoring Mealey.

Spudders Win in Seventh

The Spudders put the game on ice in the seventh with a brace of runs. Fitzgerald started it with a single to right. Bennett bunted down the first base line and both runners were safe on Flaskamper's error. Stapleton bunted and Davis threw wildly to first, Fitzgerald scoring, Bennett going to third and Bud perching safely on first. Swenson singled to left, scoring Bennett.

Milt Stock's home nine scored one in its seventh, when Morse doubled to center after two were out and tallied on Flaskamper's single to left.

Today's victory sent the Spudders into fourth place and shoved the Steers into the second division.

The Spudders left tonight for Houston, to open a three-day stand tomorrow. The Buffs went into second place by winning today, with Shreveport dropping to third.

Brave Chief

Not the least interesting member of the marvelous Boston Braves, who have upset predictions by occupying a high place in the flag race, is their president-manager, Emil Fuchs. Although he has been chief owner of the Braves for several years, he is without previous practical baseball experience and his decision last winter to lead his club on the field caused lots of comment and some ridicule in baseball circles.

4th Cub Catcher On Hospital List

Schulte Injured, Angley Is Only Able Receiver

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 29. (US)—John Schulte, spiked yesterday in a play at the plate, will not be able to resume his catching duties with the Chicago Cubs for several days, it was announced tonight. The Cubs now have four catchers on the crippled list—Hartnett, Gonzales, Grace and Schulte.

This leaves the Cubs with only the inexperienced Tom Angley as their solitary catcher. McCarthy may make another emergency deal for a backstop if Schulte is not improved by tomorrow night, it was understood.

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, April 29.—The administration farm bill passed through Washington with flying colors and marginal corrections.

The farmers now inherit five hundred million dollars of the best kind.

Five hundred million dollars ain't hay. Leastwise, you never see it in stacks like that.

The darby will go into a stabilized fund which is called a camouflaged subsidy. Call it anything you want, but pass the pitchforks.

The opponents of the measure call it a sugar-coated pill.

It's more than that. It's a whole drugstore smothered in cream.

The farm is now a government reservation and no clover-kicker can milk a cow without first putting it to a vote.

The boys are entitled to uniforms and will drill around the mangled terrace in close order formation.

A farm is now a stabilized corporation and the suburban executives of the cabbage patches will no longer have to pray for rain when they can afford champagne.

The first thing we advise the boys to do is to paint their barns red, white and blue and hire the chorus of the Metropolitan opera house to call their hogs.

The scarecrows are wearing high hats this spring. There's an easy chair in the cyclone cellar.

Now that they have decided to scrap the navy they can also scrap the plows.

What's the use of getting the cricks in your shoulder blades from jerking weeds when there is already a bumper crop in the treasury?

When the farmer calls up his congressman and asks for free seeds, the representative will throw open the storm doors on his pocketbook and ask:

"How do you want your free seeds? Tens, twenties or fifties?"

There is only one way to keep the boys on the farm now. Steal their spark plugs.

The farmer has not only come into his own but he has grabbed some of ours.

The debentures were pressed and ironed and the five hundred million is spick and span without a wrinkle.

There is only one thing we want to state about that five hundred million.

We hope that the boys spend some of it on their farms.

Loughran's Pilot Rates Tom Highly

PHILADELPHIA, April 29. (UP)—Joe Smith, manager of Tommy Loughran, lightheavyweight champion, in a talk tonight over the radio, listed the eight leading heavyweights and lightheavyweights as follows:

One, Tommy Loughran; two, Jack Sharkey; three, James J. Braddock; four, Paolino Uzcudun; five, Young Stribling; six, Max Schmeling; seven, Johnny Risko; eight, Jim Maloney.

Smith said Loughran was the only boxer in the group who had not lost a bout during the past five years. He explained his high rating of Braddock, lightheavyweight contender, by saying that he believed the hard-hitting Jersey City boy had enough strength and skill to defeat all of the men rated below him.

The Main Job

It doesn't call for any great amount of genius to churn up interest in a boxing match or a fight, and get the populace steamed up over the matter. But when this is accomplished, getting the fighters to fight, is something else again.

With all seats taken and the tills overflowing with gold, the main actors then turn and hand you a "Sharkey-Stribling" or a "McLarnin-Miller" anti-climax that carries about as much melodrama as a half-stifled yawn.

Most of the boys are thinking of the next fight. The money for the one at hand is already in. You can lead 'em into the ring, but you can't make 'em swing. This may be good business on the part of the fighter and again it may not. The more the fight is ballyhooed the duller it turns out. No one expects every fight to be a thriller, but fighters collecting from $25,000 to $100,000 have got to put on something more than a dancing act, no matter how fancy the "light fantastic toe" might operate.

Just how any one can force a fighter to fight, to spill his stuff, with all the competition now at hand in five or six big cities, isn't the easiest problem in the world. There are only a few headliners or crowd pullers and there are six or eight promoters after them.

Many of the fighters or boxers or whatnots who have been guaranteed so much for a March show, have no idea of spoiling a good May or June date by taking any unnecessary chances. They figure the crowd will forget in a few days—and apparently the crowd does.

The more money that is crowded into the situation, the less chance taking there will be. The general idea is to clean up while the cleaning up is good.

The Crowd's Angle

No one expects to see another Ketchell or another Dempsey, tearing in to win or lose by a punch. Ketchells and Dempseys are extremely scarce. But neither should one be expected to see a boxer go entirely defensive in order to save himself for a later date.

It may be good business for a few months, but it can't last much longer. The promoters tell you they would like to be shown some way of making the boys get out and scramble.

In this respect they are still baffled. The fighters are not bothering much about it as long as the crowd continues to pack the scene and roll out the coin.

One trouble is that too many modern boxers think that $25,000 is only pocket change for taking a bow.

Measuring the Difference

Figure the difference that exists in a big money golf tournament. Here each player gets just what he earns from competition. To finish first he must beat a strong field. If he happens to have an off day he doesn't collect. He has to earn every dime he gets. What a different brand of entertainment there would be in the ring if the main entries had to earn their pay.

As it is now, a knockout means a big financial setback for the party knocked out. He has to make a new start and take a big cut in his next fight. The more money involved the more careful many of them figure they have to be. The big kick is that they are overfiguring.

It is going to take something more than the other seven American league clubs to cure Babe Ruth of the habit of collecting his share of the annual world series. The babe has had the habit so long that it has infested his entire system.

L. G. Hegen made his first bid for fame in the United States open of 1913, when he was about 20 years old. He gathered little glory in that championship and yet as an unknown he had a chance to win with only six holes left, when a wild brassie in a drizzling rain broke up his attack. A year later he was open champion.

The Next Champion

Jack Dempsey bounded to the front in a trifle over a year's time. Gene Tunney came along slowly. He was talked about as one of the A. E. F. champions around 1919. He was closely watched in action around 1921. It was not until 1926 that he won the title. Dempsey won his crown at the age of 24—Tunney at the age of 29.

What about the next champion? Will he come from a group made up of Sharkey, Schmeling and Paulino—or will he be some young hard-hitting, aggressive fighter who can box, hit and take it?

If the survivor of the present crop now in the spotlight doesn't show a 100 per cent improvement, he can hardly be rated as a champion, no matter how many he might eliminate. There should be no award made to some fighter who can out-stall the field, or outwrestle it.

It is about time some new entry was emerging from the mass with more stuff than the others have shown. With a million waited to be picked up and stuck away in the bank, one might think the crop would be well above the average. Only it isn't. The more money there is in sight the more cautious the boys become. Apparently a modern fighter's first duty is to his own chin.

It seems to be about time that something was happening beyond the dull routine of the last year.

BRITAIN HOPES TO WIN GOLF

Lion Experts Turn Attention to Open Play

LONDON, April 29. (AP)—The Ryder cup matches completed and a surprising English victory the result, Britain's golfers turned today toward the open championship, starting at Muirfield May 6.

Encouraged by their success against Walter Hagen and his American Ryder cup team, British devotees of the game have hopes of checking the foreign invasion at Muirfield this year.

England's greatest golfing prize has gone to America for the last five years and seven times since 1921. The only break in the string of American successes came in 1923 when Arthur Havers nosed out Hagen by a single stroke.

However buoyed up English hopes have been, there is no disposition to discount the strength of the American contingent of 22 in the open.

Diavolo Captures The Dixie Handicap

PIMLICO, Md., April 29. (UP)—The Wheatley stable's Diavolo finished with a rush today to win the $25,000 added Dixie handicap by a nose from Victorian before a crowd of 15,000.

Diavolo, with Jockey Johnny Maiben up, covered the mile and three sixteenths in 2 minutes flat.

Victorian, the heavily played favorite, got away well and stayed in front until Diavolo began a drive for the barrier entering the stretch. Victorian finished five lengths ahead of W. J. Salmon's Disply which nosed out Sortie for the show.

West Texas Loop Under Way Today

Bill Bean Sent to Ballinger As Manager

(By the Associated Press)

Six teams strained at their bonds yesterday as fans in West Texas league cities bought cardboards for the opening games of the season in an effort to win the opening day attendance cup. The season opens today with Ballinger, Coleman and Big Spring hosts to San Angelo Abilene and Midland respectively.

Each city claims a leg on the cup by virtue of advance preparations, and last year's figures seem in danger unless the weather man interferes.

Less than half the athletes who frolicked last year are among those on the rosters for the season's opening. Experts of the league say the fans will see better defensive work, and probably better hurling, with less fencebusting than last season.

A last minute change sent Manager Jack Holloway of Ballinger to an outfield job at Coleman, and Bill Bean, Abilene first baseman last year, to the management of Ballinger. Lee Stebbins is boss of the Coleman Bobcats.

Carl Williams has a well balanced team of Abilene Aces to face the Bobcats, and has a stronger pitching staff than last year. E. J. Payne and his Big Spring Cowboys have said little about what kind of a reception they will give Kal Segrist's invading Ponies from Midland, but the punch of the Cowboys has drawn favorable comment of the sport writers.

Mexicans Elude Border Patrols; But Are Nabbed

FORT WORTH, April 29. (UP)—Twenty-three Mexicans who slipped across the border from Mexico during the revolution were rounded up here Sunday by United States immigration officers. They will be deported to Mexico this week.

According to officers, the Mexicans made their way across the border some time during the last two weeks and managed to reach San Antonio. They came into Fort Worth Saturday night.

Floating Kidneys

Floating kidneys were more often found during the period when corsets were fashionable, but they are by no means rare even today. Approximately seven times as many women as men are affected by floating kidneys, probably because a floating kidney is usually associated with other abdominal prolapses, a condition most frequently found in women because their muscles are usually less developed than those of the sterner sex.

Many people have floating kidneys without noticing any symptoms of distress, and the floating kidney is often discovered during the doctor's examination for other troubles. A patient who has been told that he has a floating kidney may worry a great deal about the condition, but there usually is little harm produced by the misplacement of either one of the kidneys.

In most textbooks of anatomy, the kidneys are described as being about even with the space between the twelfth thoracic and the third lumbar vertebrae, with the right kidney on a little lower level than the left, just in front of the lowest ribs. Having examined many thousands of cases, my experience has convinced me that the right kidney is naturally located two or three inches below the place assigned to it by anatomists. Out of thousands of cases examined, I have found this to be the rule except with those who are abnormally fat, in which case both kidneys may be out of their normal positions.

Sometimes a kidney may descend as low as the hip bone, so that there is danger of a serious blocking or urine because of the twisting of the ureter which carries the urine to the bladder. This does not usually happen, but, should it occur, a surgical operation is usually advised and the kidney is anchored into what is considered its proper position. The danger of having this kink of the ureter occur as a result of a prolapsed kidney is entirely unnecessary if the patient is willing to devote a moderate amount of time and energy in systematically developing the muscles of the abdomen.

If either kidney is found to be very low, the proper treatment is to go to bed for two or three weeks, keeping the hips slightly elevated and, while in this position, doing all of the different exercises which will develop the abdominal muscles. It is a good plan to use a milk diet during this time, using as much as six quarts daily. This will keep the intestines filled and will assist in the formation of fat around the kidneys which assists in holding them in their proper position. I would not advise a milk diet for this purpose unless the patient is also willing to take the abdominal muscle-developing exercises. If the floating kidney patient is unable to take this rest in bed, some good results may be obtained by living on a well balanced diet and endeavoring to strengthen the abdominal muscles from exercising.

Although a wandering kidney can be benefited by any kind of "stuffing diet" taken while lying in bed, this condition will not be permanently remedied unless the patient keeps his abdominal muscles strong by using exercises while lying on the back. When the fattening treatment, alone, has been used, the patient will be in a weakened condition when he finally gets up, and the kidney will finally slip back into its prolapsed condition.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Blushing and Pep)

Question—A Young Fellow asks: "Would you please tell me if there is any cure for blushing? I have mixed in with plenty of company all of my life but still that doesn't improve my self-consciousness any. And can you tell me what is the cause of not having any pep or energy? I have always been like this as long as I can remember.

Answer—There is no special connection between your blushing and your lack of pep. I have plenty of pep and I am a good blusher too. For increasing your energy, take more physical exercise and develop a strong body. The aggressive extrovert who knows it all hasn't a blush in his system. Many of the greatest intellectual leaders in the world have been good blushers, so don't worry about that. Some truly great men blush every time they are publicly praised. If that is what makes you blush, you ought to be proud of it.

(Bread and Milk)

Question—L. C. writes: "Please give your opinion of a lunch of bread and milk (hot or cold). Are puddings, as corn-starch, tapicoa or rice well balanced lunch foods?"

Answer—Try using melba toast with milk in place of plain bread. You will find it more palatable and wholesome. Puddings must be made with sugar and as sugar and starch are never a good combinationn. It is far better when starches are used to use them in some other way without the addition of sugar.

(Whisky for the Lungs)

Question—Mrs. C. L. writes: "Will you please tell me if a combination of good whisky and salt is healing to the lungs if taken as a medicine? And if anyone taking this will show it in the blood test?"

Answer—There are no kind of medicinal preparations which have any definite effect upon healing the lungs. If large amounts of either whisky or salt are used it might be determined by a blood test, but such tests would have to be made of the patient's blood both on the days when he is taking the whisky and salt and on other days when he was not; then some difference can be seen by comparison.

TEXAS INCOME TAXES SLUMP

Federal Reserve Shows Big Decline in Period

Special to The Record News

WASHINGTON, April 29.—A reduction of $7,500,000 or nearly 20 per cent of the federal reserve from Texas, during the first nine months of the current fiscal year compared with the same period in 1928 is shown in a report issued Monday night by the treasury department. The report shows that while collections for the nine months last year were $37,613,270 this year, for the same period, they dropped to $30,053,836.

The big loss was from income taxes from corporations which yielded $25,006,310 in 1928 and but $15,496,374 this year. While loss from this source was shown for both districts the heavy reduction was in the second Texas district which in 1928 yielded $13,213,769 compared with but $6,509,346 during the first nine months of this year.

During this same period there was an increase of more than a million and a half dollars in taxes paid on individual incomes. For the state at large taxes from this source during the nine months of 1928 were $11,311,707 while during the corresponding period this year they produced $13,070,894. This gain was fairly evenly divided between two collection districts during 1928 the first district with headquarters at Austin produced $5,693,113 in taxes from individual incomes and in 1928 it reported $6,736,008. For the second district with headquarters at Dallas, corresponding figures were $5,618,594 for the first nine months of 1928, and $6,334,975 for 1929.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Continued optimism over the probable start of the new crop, combined with relatively easy cables and further complaints of a slow demand for cotton goods in the domestic markets, seemed chiefly responsible for another sharp decline in cotton today. July contracts sold off to 18.25 and December to 18.53, marking new low ground for the movement and a decline of 45 to 56 points from Saturday's closing quotations. Covering checked the break around these figures and the market steadied in the late trading, with July closing at 18.38, or 13 points up from the lowest. The general market closed steady at net declines of 35 to 43 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 7 to 21 points in response to the lower Liverpool cables and the favorable view of weather reports from the south. After showing net declines of about 25 to 33 points, prices rallied 6 or 7 points from the lowest.

The bulge ran into a renewal of liquidation or short selling and the market weakened again during the early afternoon. Stop orders were uncovered on the decline which extended to 19.00 for May and 18.36 for October, making net losses of about 44 to 56 points on the active positions. The volume of selling then tapered off somewhat and closing prices showed rallies of 8 to 15 points from the lowest. There was some criticism of the rains reported in the eastern belt, but generally speaking the weather news attracted favorable comment.

Private cables said that continental buying had been supplied by renewed liquidation in Liverpool but reported a slight improvement in the inquiry for cotton cloths. Exports today 21,980 making 7,294,893 so far this season. Port receipts 10,365. U. S. port stocks 1,415,710.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 29. (AP)—Cotton prices tobogganed today under general liquidation and selling and before the flood of offerings subsided active positions showed declines of $2.50 a bale from the previous close. Covering by satisfied shorts in final trading caused a moderate rally and July contracts, which had sold down to 18.25 rallied and closed at 18.35, net 39 points down. The general market closed steady at net declines of 35 to 43 points.

Liverpool cables were 7 to 11 points lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 18 to 24 points in sympathy. A slight rally after the start met renewed selling and liquidation based on the favorable weather in the belt over the week-end. By the end of the first hour July had sold to 18.48, October 18.50 and December 18.57, or 27 to 30 points below Saturday's close.

Larger acreage reports and favorable crop news started accumulated offerings and prices were on the downgrade for the remainder of the morning and well into the afternoon session, reaching the low points of the day in late trading when July sold at 18.25, October 18.27 and December 18.38, or 49 to 50 points net down.

At the end there was a rally of 8 to 11 points on covering by shorts and the close was steady with October 18.50 and December 18.49, or 38 to 43 points down.

Call Rate Advances to 15 Per Cent And Calm Irregularity Is Result

By BRODAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 29. (US)—Advance in the call rate to 15 per cent influenced quiet irregularity in the stock market today.

Standard industrials led the list as a whole in small declines while United Aircraft, Rumely preferred and a few other specialties moved higher under individual influence. Nervousness developed when a renewal rate of 12 per cent was announced. It influenced a small amount of liquidation and some short selling but its main effect was to drive out public participation in dealings so that the turnover for the day dropped close to the 3,000,000-share level.

Steel gained 1¾ for the session but General Motors lost fractionally while Can, Radio and others lost from 1 to 2 points. United Aircraft skyrocketed over 12 points and gave the appearance of a technical corner until profit taking halted the move and closed the stock 8 points higher.

Rumely preferred also gained 8 points as the report spread that back dividends will be taken care of. Allis Chalmers moved 9 points higher on a comparatively light turnover.

Anaconda held firm in a generally steady copper group while the oils and rails remained dull and somewhat irregular.

Money went to 15 per cent and there were some who predicted it would move as high as 25 per cent before the "month-end crisis" ended. Of course, talk of a "crisis' is rather foolish. There is plenty of money and the reserve can ease rates as soon as it pleases to function in accordance with the policy for which it was created; viz, stabilizing the flow of money.

So long as the reserve maintains the present artificial tightness in the money market the banks can put the call rate to any figure they see fit. The street expects that rates will drop later in the week, "after the May 1 payments are out of the way."

The May 1 disbursements are not large enough to embarrass the banks. However, they do give a good excuse for charging all the brokers and their customers will stand to carry securities. In fact, under current money conditions the most attractive purchases, from an earnings standpoint, are the bank stocks.

International Combustion earnings for the first quarter were as satisfactory as expected. A steady increase is looked for during the year and expectation thereof is influencing continued absorption of the shares. International Telephone stockholders it is learned, will receive more rights in the near future as the company is expected to acquire another foreign subsidiary. The group interested in Borg Warner is declared to be waiting for the first sign of ease in the money market to resume aggressive operations. They have corralled a good short interest and furthermore expect directors to declare a stock dividend at the coming meeting. Sale of additional stock by Mexican Seaboard will provide for note retirement and leave earnings for common stockholders.

There was better buying evidenced in the copper shares at times. Anaconda issues its report of earnings tomorrow and it gives reason for the better absorption of the shares, for with the price of copper metal stabilized the company will be in a position to pay an even higher dividend. Kennecott's expected dividend increase appears discounted in good part.

Murray issued its quarterly report to stockholders and, as forecast here, it showed net of just under $1.50 a share. This is a big increase over last year but does not reflect full earning power as a substantial write-off was made because of the new plant which has been entirely paid for out of earnings. Net this quarter will more than double that of the first three months.

Buying of Warner was credited to Du Pont interests. It represents investment accumulation. Warner insiders declare. Du Pont interests were mentioned recently as having taken on a block of Paramount.

"Aircraft week in the stock market" was forecast by one of the largest stock exchange firms in special advice dealing with United Aircraft, Irving Air Chute and others. An aggressive phase of speculation in the group was looked for because of the opening of new air mail routes, the $15,000,000 investment of General Motors in Bendix, greater activity of the government in aviation and record breaking flights. Rapid expansion in the industry was illustrated by reference to the fact that Irving had more than eight months business on its books. However, there has been increasing speculation on aviation stocks for some time and those interested will do well to remember past booms in Radio, Refrigeration and other "infant industries." In all such speculative phases, stocks fo a few good companies prove of ultimate profit but the majority have turned out to be expensive risks.

MID-WESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 29. (AP)—Cattle trade around the 11-market circuit was marked by a fairly broad demand for choice quality fed steers and yearlings at steady prices. The number of choice cattle continues to show an increase as the feeding season progresses. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 75,000, an increase of 12,000 over last Monday but 58,000 short of a year ago.

Liberal supplies of hogs around the loop resulted in unevenly lower prices. Opening trade was slow at 10 to 25c lower rates, while on the close packers shaded prices at most centers 25@40c. The day's extreme top of $11.70 was paid at Chicago. Total offerings were around 158,700 against 92,845 a week ago, and 122,774 the corresponding date last year.

Fat lamb trade was slow at week to unevenly lower prices. Most points on the river reporting losses of 25@50c. Aged stock shared the decline on fat lambs. Approximated 62,300 a decrease of 11,500 from a week ago but 4,700 heavier than a year ago.

CHICAGO, April 29. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 60,000; 10@20c lower; top $11.65; packing, sows $10.00@10.50; pigs, medium to choice 90-130 pounds, $9.50@11.25.

Cattle—Receipts 17,000; calves 5,000; steady; slaughter steers, good and choice 950-1,900 pounds, $13.50@14.75; fed yearlings, good and choice 790-900 pounds, $13.50@15.00; cows, good and choice $9.75@12.00; bulls, good and choice, beef, $10.35@11.50; vealers, milk-fed, good and choice, $14.00@16.50.

Sheep—Receipts 15,000; weak to 25c lower; shorn lambs $15.40@18.65; no woolskins sold; fat wooled ewes $11.00 down.

PASSION PLAY RATES GIVEN

Heavy Increases Shown In Reservations Here

A marked increase in reservations for the three performances of Clarence E. Cramer's production of the Passion Play, to be given here on May 1, 2, and 3, was attributed partially by those in charge of the ticket sale to correction of an impression which many had carried that the presentation here would be in motion pictures.

Further stimulus to the sale of tickets has been given through the reduction of rates on all railroads and bus lines entering this city for the three days on which the Passion Play is to be shown here, it was stated. Many out-of-town patrons are expected to enjoy their first visit to the new municipal auditorium in Wichita Falls, which was only completed last year.

Pending the arrival of Mr. Cramer, Tuesday from Springfield, Mo., preparations Monday were in charge of Charles Nicholas Lum, general director, and Harold Loring, who will have the direction of music in the production. Considerable interest will be taken in Mr. Loring as a result of the prominence he has gained through the reproduction of Indian melodies, and his authoriative interpretation of the many northwestern tribes. Speaking of Harold Loring, Theodore Roosevelt said: "He knows as much of the lives of the various Indian tribes and their music as any other man in the United States."

Final preparations for the opening performance on Wednesday will be completed Tuesday under the supervision of Mr. Cramer.

Academy Pupils Present Play

By MRS. L. N. CASON
The Record News Staff

A crowded house greeted the play "A Southern Cinderella" given at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Monday night by the senior students of the Academy of Mary Immaculate.

The cast showed the splendid coaching of the expression teacher, Mrs. E. L. Fulton. Charlotte Kennedy and Leah Daily acting the parts of the English nurse and her adventuress mistress, held the attention, (with the aid of the French maid and Mammy Judy Johnson, played by Dorothy Everts and Erie Ward), until Nell Duffy entered as the sophisticated little coquette.

Maxine Duffy, as Miss Rosie Winterberry, a celebrated settlement worker, introduced to the audience, Madame Charteris . . . calling on her to make a plea for her orphaned grand daughter, Enid Bellamy, a part well taken by Mary E. O'Connell.

But in Madame Charteris, was introduced the real star of the evening, according to this writer. Other parts were well taken and every actress was at ease on the stage, and they were a bevy of lovely girls. Anne Pastusek exhibited a voice that was lovely in tone and perfect in enunciation. We believe she has the possibility of a real actress.

POLICE AID CITY OFFICER

Burns Praises Men For Recent Hard Work

The expenses and salary of Dan McIver, day police patrolman who has been suffering for more than a month from rheumatism and is unable to work, will be paid out of the police relief fund, city officers voted Monday night.

Mr. McIver's expenses for treatment and his salary will be paid from the police relief fund which is subscribed to by all officers on the force.

Each officer pays dues of $1 each month into the fund while all rewards gained by the force also are turned into the common relief deposit.

Expenses for illness or for burial of city officers are borne by the fund.

The department voted unanimously at a meeting Monday evening to pay the salary and doctor bills of Mr. McIver.

Chief Burns told the men Monday night at the meeting that they had been working well for the past two weeks and that he wanted them all to keep "knocking hard at it."

Many Start Prayer Too Late—Moreland

"A skunk cannot help having an undesirable odor but a man can help being a skunk," Rev. Patrick Dascus Moreland, Irish pastor of the Grant Street Methodist church, told his congregation at the revival meeting Monday night.

"Many a man starts praying when he is on the brink of death, looking down into the sulphur fires of hell, but too often it is because he is afraid and not because he wants to follow Jesus Christ.

"There are 10,000 people working and living in Wichita Falls whose church letters are elsewhere. When you lift up your voice to God he does not miss a single weak intonation.

"My friends, do you want salvation or do you have some sins you want more; it is as simple a proposition as that.

"Jesus prayed more than any other man who ever lived. He was a fanatic about prayer. He said, 'Pray without ceasing'. I think that Jesus meant to listen to God constantly for that also is prayer."

There were 11 conversions Monday night and a baptismal service was held at the close of the sermon. This brings the number of conversions during the revival to more than 25.

Another large crowd attended the meeting Monday night. A day service will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The evening meeting Tuesday night at 7:45 o'clock will be preceded by a 30-minute prayer service.

400 Attend Naturalist's Lecture on Rockies Of Colorado

Approximately 400 persons attended an illustrated travelogue, "Rambles Through the Rockies," given Monday night in the Junior college auditorium by Eben G. Fine, naturalist, lecturer and photographer, under the auspices of the Wichita Falls Teachers' association.

A large number of stereoptican views of natural life in the mountainous west, made from photographs taken by Mr. Fine, were shown while the lecturer provided a descriptive study of the various scenes and specimens exhibited.

Miss Erma Nala Voss, supervisor of public school music, and Mrs. F. R. Collard, organist at the First Baptist church, presented a double number with two pianos before the lecture began.

Nazarene Revival Draws Big Crowd

Large crowds at the morning and evening services Monday featured the second day of the revival now being held at the First Church of the Nazarene, at Fifth and Burnett, by Rev. W. B. Walker, pastor.

In the evening meeting Rev. Mr. Walker spoke on the text, "For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost." "There are many losses which make us suffer grievously, but the loss of our spiritual souls is ten thousand times more tragic than a material one," said the speaker.

"Christ seeks us through His sufferings on the cross, which remind us that we were lost, and that His blood, shed for our sins, reclaimed us. To be saved means to be forgiven, and freely justified. It means a new creation wrought in the heart of the sinner, and the blessed witness of the Spirit."

Services will be held at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. daily except Saturday for the coming two weeks, it was stated. Music for the meetings is in charge of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Simpson, of Oklahoma City.

WALTERS, Okla., April 29. (UP)—Harry Adair, 35, held in Cotton county jail here today in connection with the fatal shooting of J. D. The charge, prepared Sunday, was delayed for further investigation, he added.

Fishing Warden Recites Rules

issued Monday by John Crewford, state game warden at Lake Kemp, in a brief statement to the opening of the new fishing season.

Officials of the state department were unfavorably impressed with many camps at Lake Kemp last year, he said, and quite likely will visit the lake again shortly to see if conditions have been improved. Mr. Crawford also urged that all camp sites on or near any of the water courses in this section be kept clean, and that refuse be burned before camp is abandoned. Pollution of the waters of the area is one of the more serious results of poorly kept camp sites, Mr. Crawford said.

The warden also called attention to the state law requiring license for anglers using artificial bait for bass and crappie, and urged that sportsmen carefully observe this statute and others relating to the size and weight of the catch.

The new season for anglers opens after midnight Tuesday night, or May 1. License may be secured from the county clerk or from any of the leading sporting goods stores at a cost of $1.10. Bass, crappie and bream are the three varieties of game fish protected by size and bag limits in this section.

Bass must be 11 inches or longer, crappie seven inches and bream five. The bag limit for bass is 10 in number and 20 pounds in weight, and for crappie 20 in number and 20 pounds in weight, or 30 pounds of both species. Sportsmen have urged that care be used in returning an undersized catch to the water in order that the fish may live. The hands should be wet when removing the catch from the hook, and care should be used to prevent tearing of the mouth or gills.

A wide variety of prizes have been posted this year for the largest fish taken on opening day. The Record News is posting major awards of $10 in cash each for the largest bass and the largest crappie. Other awards, given by sporting goods dealers, include $5 in fishing merchandise for the bass and $5 for the crappie by Thurman's, $5 in tackle for the largest bass and $3 for the crappie by the Wichita Hardware company, a $10 reel by the Noble-Little Hardware company for the bass, a minnow bucket for the bass by the Bailey-Moline Hardware company, a $7.98 tackle box for the bass by Sears-Roebuck and company, and $5 on any fishing tackle for the bass by Montgomery Ward and company.

Scales will be maintained in the lobby of the Times Publishing company for the weighing of the fish up until noon on May 2. In order to be eligible for the prizes offered Hardware, fish should also be weighed there. At these two stores fish may be weighed until 6 p. m. May 2.

Reconstruction of Educational System Urged by Pastor Here

Rev. John Brown Deplores Number of Girls Trained in School For Business Life

A crowd which filled the auditorium of the old First Methodist church building at Tenth and Lamar heard John E. Brown of Siloam Springs, Ark., Monday night in an eloquent plea for reconstruction of the educational system in the United States.

The speaker based his lecture, "The Great American Crisis," upon the Biblical text: "This we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat," taken from the apostle Paul's second epistle to the church at Thessalonica. During the entire history of the United States as a nation, he declared, political, church and school leaders have labored ceaselessly for the system of universal education which prevails in this country today. The prevalence of almost universal crime, and the fact that the public schools, instead of the churches, are being charged with the building of character in the youth of the country, were declared by the speaker to constitute the greatest and most serious crisis which has ever faced the United States.

Cites Failures

"It is a matter of common knowledge to any one who has read history that a nation which forgets its ideals inevitably shall fall," Mr. Brown continued. "What has made America great? Three things: God and the church; motherhood and home; and the aristocracy of the workshop. Christianity is the only religion the world has known which sanctifies honest toil.

"What is wrong with our American educational system? First, the Bible is rapidly being crowded out of the class room. There is a determined effort being made to forbid the presence of or reference to the Bible in any public school. Secondly, 90 per cent of our girls are being trained to go out into the business world, instead of preparing to perpetuate the vitally essential element of the home. In the third place, practically all of our boys are being urged into education as a means of avoiding work.

"We are training our boys and girls away from life instead of educating them to life. Roger Babson recently said: 'Something must be done in this nation to build character in spiritual things in our youth, else this nation cannot survive.'"

Mr. Brown stated that in a great many public schools the departments of home economics are being discontinued because girls will not register for the couses offered. The "white collar" professions of law, medicine, and teaching; the field of clerical activity, and salesmanship, already are crowded far past the point of saturation, Mr. Brown declared.

Too Much Education

"Leaders in our school system see the problem more plainly than any other group. They tell us that 400,000 girls will go from high schools and colleges in this country next month avowedly seeking positions in the business world. The competition offered by women rushing in wholesale numbers "into the world" has forced salaries so low that a man can not support a family. And for the 28,000,000 homes which constitute the backbone of our boasted civilization, not one girl in 50 is preparing to carry on.

"Skilled workmen can command almost any price they ask, and yet in almost any section of the country, it is practically impossible to obtain that type of service. Why? Because we have urged our boys to become educated so they won't have to work. Educated to do what? Nothing. We have overdeveloped the mind, and have sadly neglected the heart and hand. That is why the John Brown schools of Arkansas, with 557 boys and girls enrolled during the past year, are dedicated to the three-fold plan of educating equally "the head, the heart, and the hand."

The speaker was introduced by Roy J. Daniel, a native of Arkansas. R. E. Shepherd sang a solo, with Mrs. Shepherd at the piano, and E. F. Bohmfalk conducted a brief song service. Prayer was offered by Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the church.

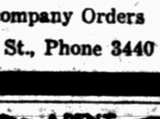

Funeral Services For E. R. Loofbourrow Held

Funeral services for E. R. Loofbourrow, 42, 800 Harrison street, who died in an Oklahoma City hospital Friday night, were conducted at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon from the First Methodist church by Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.
