WICKERSHAM COMMISSION CRITICIZES ALLEGED "THIRD DEGREE" METHODS OF ILLEGAL LAW ENFORCEMENT; TEXAS EXAMPLES GIVEN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—A tale of systematized police brutality spreading over half the nation—a 10-year record of illegal law enforcement by barbarous "third degree" methods—was unfolded today by the Wickersham commission.

Asserting its duty was to lay the "naked, ugly facts" before the public, the commission crammed into a single weighty volume on "lawlessness in law enforcement" more than five score proved instances of extorted confessions.

It urged upon President Hoover new legislation, or a constitutional amendment if necessary, to abolish "conduct so violative of the fundamental principles of constitutional liberty."

It cited the Leopold-Loeb case, in which an innocent school teacher was beaten into confession, as having focused attention upon the "third degree."

It turned to the Snook case of Ohio as showing the unfavorable reactions to a prosecutor who struck the university professor on the jaw to obtain a confession.

One case, however, the commission refused to discuss, asserting flatly a review of the Mooney-Billings case had been decided against because of inability to examine witnesses and because a pardon for one of the men accused of the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness day bombing now is under consideration.

In addition to its assault upon the "third degree" the report condemned as too prevalent cases of conscious "unfairness in prosecutions" by district attorneys and judges.

It dealt with nearly 150 instances of trials following so closely upon arrests as to leave the accused no time for defense; denial of counsel to defendants and actual misconduct by court and prosecutor.

The report asserted that despite the secrecy and denials of police brutality instances of the "third degree" had been found in "considerably over half the states."

Also in the past 10 years, it said, cases were proved in the following cities:

Albany, Birmingham, Buffalo, Camden, Chicago, Cincinnati

Six Persons Die In Plane Plunge

STRUGGLE OF PILOT TO AVERT CRASH IS FUTILE

(By The Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 10.—A pilot's desperate struggle to halt the head-long plunge of a tri-motored airplane failed to prevent its crash here yesterday, in which six persons were carried to instant death.

The plane, bound from Cincinnati to Atlanta, had just taken off from Lunken airport when the propellor of its right-side engine came off and a moment later the engine itself tore loose and hurtled to the ground.

Thrown out of control, the big passenger plane at once started its death dive while Pilot M. T. Odell, 33, of Cincinnati, frantically strove to right it.

Witnesses said Odell apparently attempted to land the plane in a corn field at the edge of the little Miami river, and failing in that, tried to head for a sand bar on the opposite side of the stream. Instead, however, it smashed into a clay bank, turned over nose first, tore out the entire front end, and killed all aboard.

The victims were Miss Wrenna B. Hughes, 22, Fort Thomas, Ky., stenographer; William E. Keith, Ga., radio distributor; W. H. Brimberry, Atlanta, Ga., electrical dealer; V. O. Baum, 39, Memphis, Tenn., contractor; Willam J. De Walk, 32, Fort Thomas, Ky., co-pilot; and Odell.

Airport officials said the accident was caused by a broken hub on the propellor. When the blade came off, the motor revolved at such a terrific speed its fastening bolts were unable to hold it.

WEST TEXAS CROPS IN BEST CONDITION IN STATE, CLAIM

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 10—Statisticians for the United States department of agriculture said here today that West Texas cotton was in better condition than that in any other section of the state.

The condition by sections was given as follows: northwest 80 per cent of normal; north 78; northeast 76; west 88; west central 80; central 75; east 74; south 62; southeast 60.

South Texas was the only district with a figure lower than that of last year.

The condition of the Texas crop was 75 per cent, giving an indicated yield of 155 pounds an acre. "This yield applied to the area in cultivation July 1, less the 10 year average abandonment, places the indicated production at 5,018,000 bales. However, the ultimate outcome of this crop will depend upon conditions the remainder of the season. Cotton is at a critical stage and much depends on the weather."

The crop last year was 4,038,000 bales. The 10 year average condition and yield is 65 per cent and 152 pounds. The state conditions figure of 75 per cent will reported the highest since 1920 when it was approximately 77.

Two Charged With Possession Of Beer

Charges of possession of beer for sale were filed against C. E. Odom of Wolfforth and Letha West, Slaton negro woman, in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court following arrests by the sheriff's department Saturday night and Sunday.

Three dozen bottles of beer packed in ice in a box were found in Odom's automobile near a baseball park at Wolfforth, Sunday afternoon, a deputy sheriff said. Odom's brother, who was repairing a tire when officers approached, was released by the county attorney's office. The brother said he did not know beer was in the car. Odom substantiated the story and assumed responsibility for the iced beverage, officers said.

The West woman was arrested at Slaton, where county officers conducted three raids in the negro quarter Saturday night, destroying about 150 bottles of beer.

Alleged Gin Trusts Are To Be Probed

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 (AP)—H. D. Bishop, assistant attorney general, revealed today he was investigating complaints that the anti-trust laws were being violated in arriving at charges for ginning cotton.

Bishop said protests from all over the state alleged charges for ginning cotton and prices for bagging and ties were due to agreements. Those not parties to such agreements are afraid to make a different charge because of the power of the larger interests, Bishop said he was informed.

Similar complaints have been made concerning the cotton seed situation, Bishop disclosed. He asked all persons having evidence of an anti-trust violation to submit that information to him.

Water Carnival Is Postponed In City

As a result of skidding temperatures, a water carnival scheduled for tonight at Tumble-N pool at City park has been postponed to next Monday.

A fancy diving exhibition by Walter Howie, University of Texas football player and Texas collegiate swimming champion, was scheduled as the major event. Freak contests completed the program.

Fatal Shooting Of Kilgore Man Probed

KILGORE, Aug. 10 (AP)—Officers today were investigating the fatal shooting of Frank Stewart, 37, Kilgore, tailor, who was fatally wounded in front of a cafe here last night. A charge from a shot gun struck him in the head and he died 15 minutes later.

An oil company employe who surrendered after the shooting was being questioned.

Defeat Of Oil Legislation Being Protested

OIL INDUSTRY RAPS SOLONS FOR ACTION

FAILURE OF STERLING RELIEF PROGRAM TO PASS STARTS HOWL

(By The Associated Press)

A sick Texas oil industry, blaming its plight and that of oil market prices in the nation upon rampant operations in the new East Texas field, raised a despairing protest Monday at the failure of the Texas legislature in its special session to enact relief legislation.

Members of a committee canvassing operators in the East Texas field with a plea to shut down all wells until market conditions improve were called to meet in Tyler to discuss results of the poll. Upon support of such a plan they based their hope for the only immediate relief in sight from overproduction. An operators' mass meeting was called for Friday.

The North Texas Oil and Gas association, at a meeting Sunday at Wichita Falls, adopted resolutions condemning the Texas senate for its action in rejecting oil legislation recommended by the administration of Governor Ross S. Sterling. A committee of 11 leading producers of the Wichita Falls area was appointed to attend the remaining three days of the special legislative session with the object of bringing about a free conference of house and

Ultimatum Given

TOPEKA, Aug. 10 (AP).—The public service commission extended an ultimatum to Kansas refriners today that unless the price paid for Kansas crude were raised this week to a suggested price of at least 60 cents a barrel, it would order a hearing to determine the nature and extent of a shutdown order for the state.

MARTIAL RULE IN HAVANA

THREE LIVES LOST IN UPRISING AGAINST THE PRESIDENT

HAVANA, Aug. 10—Martial law reigned in Havana and Pinar Del Rio provinces today in the wake of a revolutionary uprising against the regime of President Gerardo Machado which cost three lives and threw the island into confusion.

The president issued a proclamation saying that military authority was supreme until countermanded and that all legal action was vested in the military courts. He also promised that rebels, other than leaders, who laid down their arms within 24 hours would be pardoned.

"It is intimated that rebels or seditious disturbers who cease in their hostile attitud, delivering their arms or other implements of war and lending obedience to legitimate authority within 24 hours, of the publication of this proclamation," he said, "will remain exempted from penalty, except the authors or chiefs of the rebellion and sedition and disorder and persons repeating the crime."

The armed forces of the government sought by land and sea the slender precise figure of General Mario G. Menocal, Cuban president from 1913 to 1921 and alleged leader of the movement.

DO-X DELAYED

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 10 (AP)—The German seaplane DO-X will be held up indefinitely at Para, awaiting shipment of another engine by boat to replace the one in which the crankcase was broken yesterday. If too long a delay develops, the agents here said, the plane may continue on her eleven good motors, making shorter daily flights than originally scheduled.

BEFORE BEING DESTROYED AFTER

Lindbergh Classed As Amateur Pilot By New Group; Weather Delays Hop

AIR ASSOCIATION IS FORMED TO HELP U. S. AVIATORS

By W. W. CHAPLIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh, the world's most famous flier, is rated as an amateur by the newly formed United States Amateur Air Pilots association.

The organization was formed to organize amateur aviators for promotion of individual flying and to secure members more advantageous insurance coverage.

It describes a professional as one who is paid, directly or indirectly, for piloting or giving instruction or who engages in the sale of planes or accessories. Exception is made for executives of aviation companies who own private planes entirely for personal use, and this lets Lindbergh in.

John S. Reaves, who heads the U. S. A. A. P. A., said that Lindbergh's status was not altered by the fact that he occasionally piloted the first plane over new routes of companies by which he is employed in an advisory capacity.

"He receives his salary regardless of such flights," Reaves said, "and therefore it cannot be said that he is being paid for them, even indirectly. While he was flying the mail, before his Paris flight, he was a professional of course, but there is nothing now to interfere with his ranking as an amateur."

Mrs. Lindbergh is of course listed as an amateur, as she has never received any money in conection with her flying.

Hay Fever Is Now Worth Meal Ticket

CHICAGO, Aug. 10. (AP)—And now even a good attack of hay fever can be turned into a meal ticket.

Free board and lodging has been offered to such sufferers by the Illinois research hospital to test the theory that if pollen is taken out of one's sleeping quarters, the patient can carry on through the next day with a reasonable degree of comfort. From August 15 until October 1 volunteer patients are to sleep in shifts in a ward where all pollen has been eradicated from the air.

The patients will remain from four days to a week in the ward. The hospital staff will keep a record of the speed with which the symptoms disappear, and how long it is after the patients are free from pollen before the symptoms recur.

FLYING COUPLE STILL AT POINT BARROW ON ORIENT HOP

(By The Associated Press)

POINT BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 10.—Rain-swept skies and barriers of fog today delayed Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh from resuming their vacation flight to the orient.

For two days a storm had lashed Nome, their next scheduled stop 532 miles away, and late yesterday the bad weather reached here. Nearly a fifth of an inch of rain fell in 12 hours and continued today.

Lindy Is Anxious

Col. Lindbergh repeated his determination to await better weather before again taking off, although anxious to be on his way.

In addition to the flight to Nome, the next hop from there, to Karangisnk, Siberia, covering 1,067 miles, alos will be over an area where storms and fog arise, suddenly.

A strong northeast wind accompanied the rain and a large lead began to open in the ice pack half a mile off shore here last night and two trading ships, the Patterson and Baychimo, messaged they were 60 miles away and proceeding slowly toward port.

FOUR MEN KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH IN TEXAS TODAY

PECOS, Aug. 10. (AP)—Four men were killed and another critically injured today when the east bound sunshine special, a Texas and Pacific train, struck a handcar on which a section crew was riding at Wickett, 35-miles east of here.

A section foreman named Dowdy and three unidentified Mexican section employes were the victims. Another unidentified Mexican was rushed to a hospital at Pyote with serious injuries.

The Sunshine special was traveling fast to make up time lost by washout delays. It was running seven hours behind schedule due to delays between Pecos and El Paso.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10 (AP)—Murder charges were filed today against C. J. Jones, 34, and Plenty Taylor, 35, whose motor cars collided here Saturday, resulting in the death of Mrs. Ed Taylor.

BITTER FIGHT SEEN IN HOUSE OVER AMENDMENT OF TEXAS CIGARET TAX

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—The predicate for a bitter fight in the house on amendment of the cigaret tax law was laid today when Representative Bob Long of Wichita Falls moved that the 72-hour rule be suspended on all legislation except the bill to levy a tax of three cents per package on cigarets.

The rule prohibits consideration of a bill in the house of its origin after 72 hours before the date set for adjournment.

The Long motion was tabled and the rule suspended until tomorrow night on all bills.

Long claimed the statements of advocates of the cigaret tax amendment that it was merely a corrective measure was false and that it was not intended to make it more enforceable but to extend its scope. The amendment provid..s that the tax shall be paid on the first sale or "use" of cigarets in Texas. The "use" clause would prohibit cigaret smokers from buying cigarets by mail from out of state manufacturers without paying the three

PRICES BREAK AT OPENING OF MARKET

GOVERNMENT ESTIMATE BLAMED FOR SEVERE DROP IN EXCHANGE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—Cotton broke more than $6 a bale at the opening of trading on the New York cotton exchange today, as the result of the government crop report which Saturday placed the indicated yield more than 1,500,000 bales in excess of expectations.

The October contract opened at 6.80 cents a pound, a drop of $6.80 a bale from Saturday's close, which was before the crop report was published. After the opening October sold a tenth of a cent lower at 6.70 cents a pound. But on subsequent sales rallied to 6.82 cents.

A wide accumulation of selling orders came into the market at the first call. At the time of the call Liverpool was $7.50 a bale lower than due.

The break had been foreshadowed by a sharp break in the Chicago market after publication of the crop report on Saturday.

Opening quotations for futures positions, other than October, here today were:

December, 7 cents, off $6.55 a bale; January 7.14 cents, off $6.30; March 7.35 cents, off $6.35; May 7.60 cents, off $6.10; July 7.75, off $6.15.

LOWEST IN YEARS

MANCHESTER, Eng., Aug. 10 (AP)—Cotton prices on the Manchester exchange today dropped to the lowest point in a generation on the report of the American crop estimates. Quotations at 3 1-2d were down a penny a pound from Saturday's close.

More members were at the market today to watch the opening prices than have been for years.

TROOPS CONTINUE TO PATROL FIELDS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10 (AP)—An army of 130 national guardsmen—little more than half the "expeditionary force," patrolled Oklahoma's hushed oil fields today while oil men wondered if their wells were to be ignored by purchasers who could obtain crude from other states and countries.

Those who were inclined to view possible results of Governor Murray's martial demand for $1 a barrel crude oil pessimistically suggested refineries might be kept going for a year without of state supplies.

Lieut. Col. Cicero I. Murray, in charge of the shutdown enforcement, said no disturbances had been reported.

Lockhart Mayor Is Injured In Mishap

LOCKHART, Aug. 10 (AP)—Mayor William M. Schofield was thrown through the windshield of an automobile which he was driving yesterday and seriously cut about the head. WITH FEW MORE WRINKLES, GRAYER TEMPLES, HOOVER ENTERS 58TH YEAR

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 — A little grayer at the temples and with a few more wrinkles around his face, President Hoover entered his 58th year today burdened by international and domestic problems.

But he was still smiling and apparently physically well fit to meet any vexing problem. As he observed his 57th birthday anniversary with Mrs. Hoover, he reviewed a year of accomplishments co-mingled with disappointments, and turned to another period fraught with trouble clouds and holding but few rays of hope.

Before he celebrates another birthdate, the 1932 election campaigns will be well underway. Republican leaders see Mr. Hoover as their candidate, it being the history of the party that it always nominates for a second term the presidential incumbent. The contentions and campaigns, the unemployment problem and business depression, along with needed national legislation are of paramount importance to him in his new year.

LUBBOCK GETS OVER INCH AND HALF

DRY PERIOD IS ENDED BY HEAVY SHOWERS; CROPS AIDED

Old Man Thunder loosened his cloak late Sunday to soak parched crops and force the mercury downward throughout virtually the entire Texas Panhandle-Plains region.

The state experiment station east of Lubbock reported 1.56 inches of precipitation between midnight and dawn. An inch was reported at Slaton, 2.5 inches at Idalou, and rain also occurred at Acuff community and in most of the rest of eastern Lubbock county.

Ends Dry Period

D. F. Eaton, county farm agent, and Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment farm, said that sector had been the driest in Lubbock county. Rain also fell south and southwest of here in Lubbock county.

The heat had been intense the last three days, and the change of temperature will help along with the rain," County Agent Eaton commented.

Maximum and minimum temperatures here this morning were 78 and 63 degrees, respectively, as compared to 93 Sunday afternoon and 67 early Sunday morning.

Hale Center received about an inch of rain, soaking that area thoroughly, and Plainview's gauge showed .94 of an inch, in the northern sector of the South Plains.

Crops Assured

Floydada, northeast of here, received 1.63 inches Sunday afternoon and this morning. Rain inside territory had more than two inches of precipitation Sunday night, practically assuring row crops. Crosbyton received 1.13 inches.

Dickens, on the eastern edge of the South Plains, experienced an all-night rain, the best there this

FOUR SLAIN IN DEATH PACT

WOMEN, HER MOTHER, AND TWO CHILDREN ARE VICTIMS

(By Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Victims of what police said was a murder and suicide pact Mrs. Florine Williams, widow of Earle Williams, stage and screen star, her two small children and her mother died by poison in their apartment here yesterday.

Officers concluded that Mrs. Williams and her mother, Mrs. Clarissa Walz, 80, discouraged over the loss of their small fortune and the prospect of comparative poverty, agreed to die along with Mrs. Williams' children, Joan, 7, and Billy, 4.

Mrs. Williams was unconscious when neighbors broke into the apartment and found the other three dead, but she died soon afterward. Police said the actor's widow evidently had played the role of executioner.

BANK MESSENGER IS ROBBED TODAY

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10 (AP)—A Stockyards National bank messenger was robbed of $2,000 cash and $4,000 in checks by four men near the postoffice at 10 a. m. today.

The messenger, Jerry Green, 21, had just left the Texas and Pacific freight depot in his automobile on his way to the postoffice when a car, which had been parked at the curb, turned directly into his path.

Three of the men he saw were armed, two jumped out of the car and a third, holding a pistol set in the rear seat. A fourth man was at the wheel of the automobile.

One of the robbers reached into Green's roadster, grabbed a bag containing the money and snatched the keys from the switch. Then the men ran back to their own car and sped away.

Automobile Mishap Claims Two Lives

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Two were dead today as a result of an automobile accident near Natalia yesterday.

Truman Beard, 25, of Austin, who was driver of a car in which five others were passengers, was instantly killed when the car crashed into a southbound car occupied by two men.

Miss Mildred Wade, 22, who was in the car with Beard and the others, died at a hospital here at 6 a. m. today.

Miss Ruth Rix And Carl Svensen Marry This Morning In Early Ceremony

Dr. Granbery Officiates Today When Local Couple Is United In Marriage

In a quiet ceremony, read in the presence of a few relatives, Miss Ruth Rix and Carl Lars Svensen were married this morning at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, B. C. Rix, 2102 Broadway. Dr. John C. Granbery, a member of the Texas Technological college faculty, officiated.

Informal floral decorations were used in the house for the nuptials and the bride was gowned in a blue dress, trimmed in gray lace.

After the wedding, the couple left for a short honeymoon trip and upon their return will be at home in Lubbock at 2102 Broadway.

Mrs. Svensen has been associated with her brothers, J. A. and W. W. Rix, in business here for several years. Prior to that time, she resided in Big Spring.

Mr. Svensen is at the head of the engineering drawing department at Texas Technological college, having come to the local institution several years ago.

Mrs. Seyler is Mrs. Ratliff's sister. They were en route to their home after spending three weeks in Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska and New Mexico.

Directors Blamed For Bank Failure

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. (AP)—A suit for $60,000,000 has been filed by the state superintendent of banks today against directors of the closed Bank of the United States, charging them with responsibility for the bank's difficulties.

The amount asked was deemed sufficient to cover the deficit in the funds of the bank, which had deposits of approximately $160,000,000, state banking officials said.

In the bill of complaint presented by Superintendent of Banks Joseph A. Broderick, it is alleged that the directors of the bank "wrongfully, negligently and illegally made and permitted to be made and suffered and allowed the carrying, detention and continuance of loans, credits and discounts aggregating many millions of dollars to and for the benefit of various individuals, corporations and others, including officers, directors and employes of said bank."

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

PARENTS AND CHILDREN

IT IS a good thing for us to reflect upon our relations to our children, particularly to our older children.

Do I try to treat them in a way which their self-respect deserves? Do I make them feel I have regard for them as sacred personalities? Do I, as far as reasonably possible, act toward them as if they were grown up? Except for the very few decisions I must make for their moral and physical protection, I give them opportunities, and encourage them, to make decisions and to think and plan for themselves?

Do I manifest an interest in them as personalities and in those things of most concern to them? Do I from habit pay courteous attention when they speak to me or as one joining in the family conversation? Do I always face them squarely while addressing them or being spoken to by them? Have I cultivated with my "looks" a happy smile? At such times am I able to give my whole self in attention?

Do I from habit betray relaxation and patience, or do my breath, gestures and whole demeanor bespeak impatience and suggest that I wish that they would make an end of speaking and that my time for speaking to them is limited?

Do I try to grow acquainted with the standards and folk ways of their gang? Do I realize how sensitive my adolescent children are to the approvals and disapprovals of their own comrades? Do I merely ridicule and ignore those standards, or do I try to see how I should feel in my children's place? Do I take such factors into account in my efforts to hold up my own children to some standards higher than those of their group? Do I know that if I am going to succeed with such efforts, I must have possessed a very powerful hold upon my children built up over a number of years? Have I carefully considered ways and means of cultivating this high regard by my children of me personally?

Have I the kind of understanding, sympathy and love that seems to be wrapped up in the word "charity" in the old version of the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians? Read the chapter, my fellow parents, no matter what your earlier religious training may have been, and constantly ask yourself if you have "charity" for your adolescent children.

Here is some of it (As you read it, insert "for my children" after "Charity.")

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

"And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge; and though I have all faith so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

"And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing . . . When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things."

Now ask yourself, if in your conduct toward your adolescent children, you really have put away childish things. You may have succeeded in doing so; but a good many of us have not. Many of us parents have not nearly grown up. In my book, "The Modern Parent," I have a chapter entitled "Parents Who Are Childish Toward Their Children." It is a description of practically any parent.

Fall Trends In Clothing Are Shown In Paris Openings

BY LUCY CLAIRE
Fashion Writer For Central Press

If summer comes, can fall be far behind? Already Paris is showing new things for fall and winter, and all fashionists are eagerly watching trends. There will be little change in line, but considerable in the silhouette, nevertheless.

The hips will still be kept very slim, and the waistline definitely marked, belted or "cinched in"; skirt lengths will vary according to occasion, but the bulk of the silhouette will be above the waistline. The principal changes will be between the shoulders and the waist to achieve, as far as possible, the devine waistline and slim hips. There is even a hint of padded shoulders, and certainly sleeves will be larger, with elbow and lower arm fullness.

There will be much more color than was worn last year, but the greatest change will be in that where last year the black coat was chosen for wear over a bright colored frock, this year the frock will be the dark note, and the coat strike the brighter color contrast. Black will, of course, be worn, but not to anything like the extent it was worn last year. Coats now being shown at the openings are of dark cool brown, sage green, raspberry red, dull orange and beige, and though the woman may still select a black coat, it will be hard for her to resist the new colors. Coat skirts hang straight, and are neither too long nor too short—just a sensible length. A great deal of fur will be worn.

Popular Models

The sketch shows an outstanding popular suit by Paquin. It is of green woolen trimmed with natural lynx, and is predicted as a forerunner of the type of suit favored for next winter. Another popular Paris type now being shown for early fall is a suit with the "cinched in" waistline, not tight fitting, but snug. It is of a tweed mixture and worn with a black patent leather belt and black antelope gloves. The front is open and the jacket fastened with two buttons at the waistline.

Frocks for street wear are becoming more and more tailored. The cowl collar is disappearing, and the tailored neckline taking its place, with collar and cuff sets still in the limelight. The sketch shows one of the Dolly sisters wearing a popular type street frock of lightweight woolen. It is a one-piece model, simple of line, belted, the skirt showing diagonal seamings and low placed fullness let in by godets, and the frock worn with lingerie collar and cuffs. The fur scarf is a luxurious affair of two entire fox skins.

Periodical Pains Relieved In 3 Minutes
Month after month some women still suffer needless pain, but those who know simply go to a drug store or soda fount, get a package or dose of "B-C" and get perfect relief in 3 minutes, continuing their duties in pain-free, easy comfort.
"B-C" is the formula of two North Carolina druggists, contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of headache, neuralgia, and periodical pains, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 1 to 3 hours.
"B-C" stops the pain, quiets the nerves, is perfectly harmless. No other preparation like it. Nothing else gives such profound relief. Ask your druggist, he knows. (Adv)

Young People Plan Week-End Outing

A fall retreat at Two Draw lake near Post has been planned for a group from the young peoples' department in First Methodist church on the week-end of September 18 to 20, according to an announcement made this morning by Fiske Miles, educational director at the church.

At this three-day encampment, plans will be made for the young peoples' winter program in the church, in addition to the recreational features, he said. The executive committee in the department and representatives from other committees, the whole totaling about 30 or 35, will attend, he said.

An arrangements committee is composed of Robert Martin, Lizzie Belle Clements and Willie Mae Hawthorne.

The young peoples' department of the church comprises Epworth leagues and Sunday school classes for that group in the church termed "young people", including Tech students and others.

Hurlwood Women Will Visit Society

Women from the Hurlwood Methodist Women's Missionary society are expected to be in Lubbock this afternoon as guests of Asbury Women's Missionary society in a program at that church.

Mrs. Paul Williams is to have charge of the devotional and special piano music is to be given by Miss Hallie Wall. Mrs. Samuel J. Rider is to sing, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. O. H. Cline. Mrs. C. A. Bickley is to talk on consecration and leadership.

After the program light refreshments will be served.

Mills Is Fined In "Girl Bazaar" Case

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—John P. Mills, Los Angeles real estate broker and a defendant in the so-called Hollywood "girl bazaar" case, was fined $1,000 in superior court here on a plea of guilty to contributing to delinquency of two minor girls.

Alexander Pantages, theatrical magnate; Jesse H. Shreve, wealthy San Diego real estate man, and William Jobelmann and Olive Day, alleged operators of the bazaar, were the other defendants. The jury disagreed in their trial and charges against the four were dismissed.

Progressive Fete Is Planned By Girls

The Tech girls class of First Baptist church, which is taught by Miss Ruby Atwood, is to have a progressive party Thursday evening of this week. This group is known as the Philacurian class.

Meeting at the home of Miss Frances Wynn, 2408 16th street, the group is to have the first part of the party, going from there to the homes of Misses Emma Chapman, Rose Davis and Atwood, successively, for the remainder of the evening.

T. Smith, Truett Hatton, Emmett Burford and Cox.

ROASTING CAN MAKE OR SPOIL THE FLAVOR OF COFFEE
Hills Bros.' Patented Process Removes Risk of Ruining Roast — Assures Matchless Flavor, Always
Roasting determines the flavor of coffee. Too much or too little can cause dissatisfaction. But there is a perfect degree of roast! Hills Bros. invented and patented a process that insures that degree for every pound. It is called Controlled Roasting.
As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so a perfect, unvarying degree of roast is secured for Hills Bros. Coffee by Controlled Roasting — the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. The rare blend passes through the roasters in a steady, unvarying stream. And instead of guessing — as is necessary with ordinary bulk methods — Hills Bros. control the temperature of the roast automatically. Every berry is perfectly roasted. As a result, every pound has a matchless, unvarying flavor.
To keep this delicious coffee fresh, Hills Bros. pack it in vacuum cans. Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of the cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

THE MAN SHE MIGHT HAVE HAD

Going—with just a brief word of farewell! Another romance ended—and still she didn't suspect why

"What have I done to offend you?" she asked with a brave, forced smile . . . But how could he mention a fault like "B.O."?

She pocketed her pride. She begged him to tell her what had come between them. The reason for his sudden coolness that night of the dance . . . his abrupt departure now.

So distressed, so unsuspecting! His heart ached with pity, yet he was powerless to console. For how could he tell her that what had cooled his ardor was . . . her unforgivable carelessness about "B. O." (body odor)!

A girl may be "pretty as a picture"—a man handsome as a young god. Yet one hint of "B.O."—and all charm vanishes. If we want to be popular, happy in love, successful in business—we must guard against the slightest possibility of offending.

It's "B. O." weather now!

Blistering noons. Breathless nights. Every day a "scorcher"—so hot we perspire even sitting still. "B.O." flourishes in such weather unless we're constantly on the watch.

A cooling tub—and Lifebuoy. There's your safeguard! Wash and bathe often with this delightful toilet soap. Its copious, cleansing, purifying lather, deodorizes pores—removes every trace of "B.O." Its pleasant, extra-clean scent,—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy gives extra protection.

A simple beauty aid

Skin specialists are all agreed. The first rule for a good complexion is—proper cleansing. Every night massage Lifebuoy's bland, creamy, penetrating lather well into the skin. Then rinse. COACHING SCHOOL TAKEN OVER BY PHELAN

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

WITH JIMMY PHELAN at at the helm the Texas Tech coaching school steams into its second week of clear sailing today over the football sea. Anchor will be dropped Saturday, according to present plans, and the three hundred and more passengers will return to their own ships with a greater knowledge of navigation.

Sad Sam Barton of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, will be the first mate this week and his right hand man will be Jimmie Kitts of Athens. Chuck Taylor, the jester, will be aboard to assist in instructing the gobs in the rituals of basketball on the upper deck. Wallace Wade, who captained the boat last week, returned to his own quarters on the Duke, out of the North Carolina harbor.

Along with the various courses in football cruising and basketball sailing, there will be plenty of entertainment on the fun decks. Tomorrow night, provided the sea is calm, a watermelon feast will be provided for the sailors on board, and the chamber of commerce division will treat the youngsters to a banquet Wednesday evening. No passengers will be invited to the festive board, though Captain Phelan may order a passengers' day later this week as the cruise nears its destination. A farewell dance on Thursday evening may be the signal for the passengers.

Another ship bearing Lubbock colors sails at intervals this week when Skipper Dirty Waller sets his Hubbers into a scrimmage against a crew of Littlefield sailors Wednesday night. Floodlights will pour upon the small navies while they point guns in a nine-inning battle on the prepared space at Memorial Park. Citizens of Lubbock nation are invited to attend the affair, which is all free. No casulties are permitted.

LOCAL RALLY IN 7TH TO WIN GAME

SLUGGING GAME TURNS OUT TO BE THRILLER AT CLIMAX

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Sports Editor

A ninth inning rally, the like of which are as the triple play and the no-run shutout was the actual climax to what had been a ragged game yesterday and Hubbers defeated the Bulldogs, 10 to 9, to sweep the series with the North Bivins champions.

It was a game in which nearly every known in ordinary baseball was encountered at times between players and umpires, a brick-batting of the umpire as a game in which considerable time and trouble was required in order to remove a contender from the mound after he apparently lost a ball game. There was a play, three home runs, triples and a brace of doubles, as singles and too many errors to find their way into their respective columns of the box score.

Hubbers Grab Game

Hubbers had hammered Wright hander, rather hard on Monday night to win the first game of the series, 8 to 1, but the Bulldogs came down to seek revenge for the beating suffered at the hands of the Hubbers in the Amarillo tournament, and they were ready for him yesterday. They had the game sacked, iced and put away for keeps permanents safe keeping, apparently, then the Hubbers, growing weary of so much palaver and at last getting busy, blasted Pitcher Dobbs off the mound and then finished on Parr again for two runs that saved Dobbs a defeat.

Manager M. Young started the game for the Bulldogs but he went out in the first inning after letting Red Waller single and Dirty Waller triple and Gaither hit a long fly to center that brought in Dirty. Wind after walking two men after another had hit before them. The inning netted only two runs, and Dobbs, who has been with the Amarillo Aviators until recently, went in to retire the side.

Dobbs held the Hubbers scoreless until the seventh when Spec Roberts backed himself into an error to let Hambright get safely on first. Ham went around to third on Ballard's single and came in on a passed ball. Hubber sacks had been filled twice previously but attempts to score had failed. Bivins had scored once in the third and five times in their seventh apparently to win the game. The Bulldogs added three more in their ninth when the Hubber defense collapsed after heated arguments on the field and it looked like the Hubbers had taken a well-deserved spanking.

Knight Weakens

Willis Knight went well until that seventh when, after the first man was out, he let the next four hit in succession, Thomas, second hitter, lefting one over the right field wall to score Roberts ahead of him. Rawlins and L. Young singled and Manager Waller nodded to Knight to betake himself away from the hillock and ordered Blue-Eyes Graham to the mound. Graham had been playing at shortstop.

But the burly Knight refused to budge and it was only after much coaxing, some hard words and a near riot that the big pitcher was moved to first, Hambright coming to short and Gaither, who had been playing first, was sent to center. The result was terrible, so far as the Hubber defense was concerned. Knight himself was responsible for four glaring errors to top off a bad day.

Graham struck out the first man to face him but Beardon tripled to bring in Rawlins and Young. Beardon scored on an error by Knight and Dobbs walked. They went out almost in order in the eighth and Hambright scored for Lubbock in that inning, but in the ninth four Hubber errors and one single brought in three Bulldog runs.

Locals Go Wild

Bivins was finally retired and Lubbock came to bat, fierce and furious. Hambright led off with a single and Ballard tripled to score Ham. Ray Waller got his first hit of the game just when it was needed most and Catcher Galey, who had threatened to quit a few minutes before, gave vent to his disturbed feelings by popping one over the wall, trotting in behind Ray. Knight bounded out, second to first, for the first out. The rally had not stopped, for little Red Waller tapped a schrilling single through short and Skipper Dirty came up with another single, scoring Red who had stolen second.

Two runs were needed after Red had scored and Pitcher Dobbs had left the hill while the leaving was good. Dirty's single was off Parr. Gaither was called out on strikes but little Graham stepped up to play the hero role, hitting for the first time of the game, a long high one that fell over the fence. The game was over.

TIES TRIPLE RECORD

DALLAS, Aug. 10 (AP)—Hitting two triples yesterday in a doubleheader against Galveston, Joyner White, Beaumont outfielder, tied the 1930 Texas league record for triples with 18. Joe Moore, formerly of San Antonio, holds the 1930 record. White also leads the league in stolen bases with 43 which is 12 shy of the 1930 record of 55 held by Joel Hunt.

HAPP MORSE PLANS BASEBALL SCHOOL

DALLAS, Aug. 10 (AP)—Manager Happ Morse of the Dallas Steers announced today he will conduct a baseball school here September 15 to 16. Morse, who Saturday was appointed manager of the Steers for 1932, will select from the two weeks baseball school, a number of sandlotters for spring tryouts next season. The school will be for amateurs only. Morse pointed out that such a school, following immediately after the Texas league season, is superior to the usual spring school because it will give him a chance to see youngsters at the peak of their playing form because all will be in good condition after a season playing amateur baseball. Morse said the Dallas club will furnish all equipment, but those attending the fall school will have to bear their own expenses. If enough players enroll, Morse plans to organize a four club league, playing a doubleheader daily with a reward for the winning team.

Tennis Players To Meet At Amarillo

AMARILLO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Tennis players of three states will gather here for the tri-state open tennis tourney Aug. 28, 29 and 30, announcement of the dates having been made yesterday.

The tournament will be with approval of the Texas and National Lawn Tennis associations.

Joe Bill Bralley of Austin was expected to return to defend his three titles won last year.

CORBETT, SCHAAF ON FIGHT PROGRAM

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—The names of Young Corbett of Fresno, Calif., and Ernie Schaaf of Boston lead all the rest in this week's fistic roll of honor.

Corbett, by some experts considered the uncrowned king of the welterweights, sallies forth to do battle with Gaston Lecarde of France in a ten-round bout at San Francisco Friday night.

Schsaf, one of the most rugged of the younger heavyweights, tops the eastern program in a ten-round battle with Angus Snyder, clouting Dodge City, Kas., youngster, at the Boston garden tomorrow night. Schaaf, somewhere in his travels has found the punch he lacked before as his two quick knockouts of Jimmy Maloney can attest.

The far west boasts two other better-than-average cards this week. Tod Morgan, erstwhile junior lightweight champion, meets Bobby Pancho of Yuma, Ariz., at Los Angeles tomorrow night and on Friday, at Hollywood, King Tut, clouting Minneapolis lightweight, takes on Bobby LaSalle of Los Angeles.

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Easily one of the best baseball games of the current Texas league season was unreeled yesterday in Dallas when the Steers trimmed Shreveport 1 to 0 in 13 innings. It was the first setto of a doubleheader. After winning the extra-inning affair, the Steers dropped the nightcap 8 to 3.

The long session was a stubborn game all the way through with George Murray, right hander for Dallas and Lee, Shreveport southpaw, bearing down throughout. Several times the bases were crowded with runners, but each time, lightning infield plays smothered the threatening rallies. Mueller's sensational dive and catch of Todd's hard grounder in the twelfth, saving a run, was one of the finest plays seen at Steer stadium this season.

Threat Turned Back

After twelve scoreless innings, Shreveport opened the 13th with a threat. Leslie singled to center. Radcliff beat out a slow bounder to second. With two on and none out, the Sports saw their chance fade when Solters, league's leading home run hitter, bounced into a double play and Winegarner popped to Kelly at shortstop.

The Steers came back in their half of the 13th to win. James, first up, walked, and moved to second on Atwood's sacrifice. Loepp walked. Langford, up for his sixth time without a hit to his credit, slashed a single through the right side of the diamond, and James made a great race from second to slide across the plate with the ball game, a fraction ahead of Radcliff's perfect peg to catcher Rowland.

The second game saw the Sports overhaul Dallas' three-run lead with a hitting barrage off Minogue, garland and Mallet that netted a decision.

Buffaloes Win

Having defeated the league's best fast and curve ball pitchers on their recent road trip, the Houston Buffaloes returned home to beat Tom Estell, spitballer for San Antonio, 7 to 3. Houston drove Estell from the mound in the fourth with a bombardment that netted four runs. Flinn finished, but could not repair the damage the Buffaloes had created in the first four innings.

"Tex" Carelton hurled seven innings for Houston, and had the situation well in hand. He gave way to Jerome "Dizzy" Dean the last two innings so Dean could warm up the arm that has won 22 victories this season for Wednesday night's title play-off contest against Beaumont.

At Fort Worth, the Cats and Wichita Falls Spudders split. Dick Whitworth turned in some excellent pitching to beat the Spudders in the initial contest 4 to 2. The Spudders got to "Jinx" Harris, rookie pitcher, for three runs in the first inning to win the second game, 7 to 3. Lester White was on the mound for Wichita Falls in the second game and held his foes to eleven hits, all scattered.

The Beaumont Exporters had to be satisfied with a 50-50 break with Galveston. The Buccaneers grabbed the opener 11 to 6, but lost the second 6 to 5. Both games were filled with good and indifferent baseball.

AMERICAN WOMEN WIN CUP AGAIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—American women tennis stars have captured the Wightman cup for the fifth time since the international series with Great Britain was inaugurated in 1923.

Showing decided superiority in singles where Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs won two matches apiece, the American team regained the trophy by a margin of five to two, the most decisive victory of the series since 1927.

All five American points were scored in singles with Mrs. Moody first overturning Phyllis Mudford and then Betty Nuthall while Miss Jacobs reversed this procedure, beating Miss Nuthall on Friday and Miss Mudford on Saturday. Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper of Oakland, Calif., No. 1 ranking star, added the fifth American point by defeating Dorothy Round in the third-string singles match Friday.

In doubles Great Britain once more showed an overwhelming advantage, sweeping both matches in this style of play for the fourth consecutive year.

Resignation Fails To Bother Murray

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10 (AP)—The resignation of Dr. Leroy Long, dean of the University of Oklahoma school of medicine because of Governor Murray's order to open the university hospital here to chiropractors, failed to shake Murray's stand.

"I don't know but what it is a darn good thing," the governor said. Murray has contended that as the hospital is a state institution no group of licensed practitioners should be denied its privileges.

Possibility that the staffs of the school and hospital and the medical students might walk out was seen by Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the University of Oklahoma.

CLASSES HERE ENTER INTO LAST WEEK

ENROLLMENT BOOSTED AS MORE MENTORS ARRIVE IN CITY

Texas Tech's coaching school went into its second week this morning with Jimmy Phelan, head coach at the University of Washington, follower of the original Notre Dame system he learned while serving under Knute Rockne, taking carge of te classes.

Phelan will lecture each morning at the gymnasium and conduct field classes each afternoon, following the program initiated by Wallace Wade of Duke University last week. Wade left Saturday for his home at Duram, North Carolina, having completed his service here.

More Coaches Here

Some ten or fifteen coaches arrived last night swelling the total enrollment to around 325. Ray Morrison, head coach at Southern Methodist University, was one of the late arrivals. Morrison is scheduled to lecture on the forward pass, the play which has made the S. M. U. Mustangs famous in the Southwest Conference and in intersectional games, one day this week.

Buck Bailey, coach at Washington State university, arrived yesterday and Clyde Littlefield, head coach at the University of Texas, and Ed Olle, basketball coach at Texas, came in yesterday. Fred Walker, former basketball mentor at the Steer institution, is here. The Southwest Conference is represented by Matty Bell, head coach at A. M. college and two of his assistants, Kelpto Holmes, line coach, and Roswell Higginbotham, assistant coach and basketball mentor; Jack Meagher of Rice Institute, and Bochey Koch, assistant coach at Baylor, besides by several outstanding athletes from nearly every school in the conference.

Jess Harper, administrator of athletics at Notre Dame, was due to arrive yesterday but had not put in an appearance this morning. The delay in his arrival is thought to be not more than a day.

About one hundred of the visiting coaches returned last night from Carlsbad Caverns yesterday.

S. D. Burton of West Texas State Teachers college and Chuck Taylor of Chicago will have charge of most of the basketball work this week, with Jimmie Kitts of Athens alternating with Burton. The first class of the week was scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon, and will be followed by another tonight at 8 o'clock.

New Champion In West Texas Tennis

BIG SPRING, Aug. 10 (AP)—A new champion possessed the West Texas tennis tournament's singles honor today.

Although pressed to the limit Tom McCarty of Wichita Falls triumphed over Ferguson of Midland, 6-3, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, to take the singles title.

Ballard and Lowe, Abilene's scintillating doubles team, defeated Cook and McPhail of Wichita Falls, 6-1, 1-6, 7-5, 6-3, to win the doubles championship. The Wichita Falls team entered the finals strong favorites to win.

POLICE FORCE FIRED

GLADEWATER, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Gladewater city council has discharged the entire police force and cleared the jail of all its prisoners. Reason for the action was not announced.

Christopher, Ill., has created an ordinance against causing radio interference, providing fines of from $1 to $10 for offenders.

MAJOR LEAGUE PITCHING IMPROVES AS CURRENT SEASON REACHES HOME STRETCH; 3 GREAT GAMES HURLED

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The last third of the baseball season is a time when major league pitchers are expected to do their best, but it has been a good many seasons since they have been so effective as in the current campaign.

Three major league moundsmen stepped out over the week-end to pitch really great games.

Hurls No Hit Game

Bob Burke, lanky Washington southpaw, outshone them all on Saturday when he shut out Boston without a hit. It was the second no-hit no-run game of the season. Yesterday two more pitchers came along with one-hit games.

Guy Bush of the Chicago Cubs held the league leading St. Louis Cardinals to a single blow, a scratch single by George Watkins, while Vincent Barton, Chicago's rookie outfielder, won the game for him by clouting a home run, his fifth in a week. Paul Derringer, succumbing to the jinx of a pre-game gift, lost a real hard luck game. He gave the Cubs only three hits in eight innings and fanned nine only to lose the 1 to 0 decision on Barton's clout.

Dick Coffman of the St. Louis Browns pitched the other one-hit game yesterday, beating the Chicago White Sox by a 1 to 0 count in the second game of a double header. The only hit off Coffman, who gave one walk and hit one batsman, was a roller over second by Kerr. Bob Weiland, recently recalled from Louisville, opposed him in the close duel. Pat Caraway, lean left hander, held the Browns to five hits to beat Walter Stewart 4 to 2 in the opener.

Standings Unchanged

The various low-hit games had little effect on the league standings. The triumphant Cubs finished eight games behind the Cardinals and still a point behind the New York Giants, who pounded out a 9 to 4 victory over Brooklyn. Fred Fitzsimmons pitched five hitless innings before he eased up and gave ten blows.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati split a double header, the Reds winning the first game by attacking Larry French in the seventh for all their runs in a 6 to 2 triumph and the Pirates hammering Frey and Rixey in the early innings to win the second 8 to 4. Boston's Braves picked up some ground by taking two games from the Phillies, 5 to 4, and 6 to 3.

Mahafey, Grove and Simmons shared the honors in the final game of the American league's "crucial" series as the Philadelphia Athletics came back from two defeats to down the New York Yankees 5 to 3.

Simmons accounted for three of Philadelphia's runs with two homers.

Washington had some trouble holding the place ten games behind the Athletics which they had gained while the champions were losing the first two battles of the series to the Yanks. The Senators had to go ten innings to down the Boston Red Sox 4 to 3.

Detroit and Cleveland played loosely in a nip-and-tuck game, the Tigers winning 9 to 8.

Total value of principal crops produced in Virginia in 1930 is estimated at $92,698,000.

Thought For Today

There is no iniquity with the Lord our God, nor respect of persons, nor taking of gifts.—Chronicles 19:7.

* * *

Gifts, they weigh like mountains on a sensitive heart. To me they are oftener punishments than pleasures.—Mme. Fee.

Insect Troubles

The occasional warning of pessimistic scientists that insects may yet inherit the earth is forcibly called to mind by the present plague of grasshoppers in the western farming states.

Reading of the devastation these pests have caused is almost like reading of the wreckage left by a marauding army.

In one whole county in South Dakota not a vestige of the summer farm crop remained when the grasshoppers had passed—not even a few grains of corn or a bit of alfalfa. Everything that is green and growing has been consumed—everything, down to bushes, flowers, weeds, sunflowers, even thistles, has been stripped bare.

The worst of it is that there seems to be no way of checking the invading horde.

One western county spent $25,000 on poison mixtures—and lost its entire crop anyway. Seventy-five thousand dollars worth of poisoned bran preparations were scattered in another state without appreciably affecting the persistent creatures.

In one locality poison was spread by airplanes and the grasshoppers died by the million; but the next day a new cloud of the insects arrived to take the place of the fallen, and things were as bad as before. In another locality the entire corn crop has been so heavily dusted with asenic that the farmers have given up all hope of being able to use it for fodder this fall.

All in all, the grasshopper plague has become a national problem. It has struck a region already made financially weak by a long-continued agricultural depression, and local authorities are admittedly unable to handle it. It seems to be a case for speedy and thorough federal action.

Men who have studied the devastated region say that relief could be had if the federal government would order to the scene the airplane equipment used in the boll weevil dusting campaign in the south. Uncle Sam, beyond a doubt, will soon be getting busy. The harassed farmer had troubles enough before the grasshoppers arrived.

Capone's Plea

There are a few things about court procedure that will always puzzle the layman. Among them is this matter of changing a plea of "guilty" to one of "not guilty."

Mr. Capone was not the first criminal to decide, at the last minute that he would prefer to take his chances on a trial rather than to stand helpless while an unfeeling judge decided how long he should stay in jail. But even if the practice is a familiar one, just what is the sense of it?

It seems rather safe to say that no innocent man ever pleaded guilty; or, if he did, it must have been in circumstances so unusual that the ordinary processes of law need pay little attention to it. What then, is the use of permitting a crook who has admitted his guilt to change his mind and protest his innocence?

The law is full of things that are hard for the ordinary man to understand. This particular vagary is assuredly one of them.

Thirty-eight speakeasies were raided in a western city the other day and the proprietors were finger-printed and released. You might say that was putting some more black marks on the prohibition enforcement record.

As evidence that a good thing can be overdone, possibly Germany has been making her mark too many times.

Today's fable: Once upon a time there was a business manager who had something to do.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the trouble about having an ideal husband is that he gives his wife no opportunity to find fault with him.

"DEAR PLAINSMAN", writes one of the hundreds of Lubbock's exasperated housewives, "is there no way we can put a stop to this house-to-house peddling? If they don't stop bothering me soon you'll have another nice axe murder to put in your paper, and I don't mean maybe!"

* * *

Yes, lady, there is a way to shield the housewives from being pestered by persistent house-to-house peddlers — the way which has been invented by Highland Park near Dallas. Before a peddler can bother housewives in Highland Park he must first secure a permit from the Chief of Police. If the peddling is of the type that required "cash with order" he must post a bond of $500 with the Chief of Police before he is permitted to hammer on doors and ring doorbells. Highland Park has thus eliminated a great deal of its peddlers' nuisance and has eliminated a great deal of unfair competition from the responsible, tax-paying merchants.

Lubbock, in The Plainsman's opinion, would do well to have a similar ordinance—with each permit costing the solicitor $10 as well as requiring the $500 bond in "cash with order" soliciting.

Most girls are fired with ambition to meet their match.

ONE of the "beauty, culture and charm" experts who writes articles for The Journal is out with a piece of advice that should make every sensible, practical person who reads it turn a mental flip-flop.

This particular line of reasoning gave The Plainsman such an attack of the heebie-jeebies that he is reproducing it here, just to make everybody else who has any brains entirely uncomfortable. Here it is:

"If you are going in for fads, tint your toenails the color of your bathing suit. You can get a new toenail enamel in the principal bathing suit colors this summer, skipper blue, red, jungle green and so on. It may give your boy friends a shock to see your little tinted toes peeking out of your sandals, but it is likely to give you a little bit of a zestful feeling. And mercy knows, anything that can make you feel zestful in hot weather should not be shunned."

Ye Gods—and little fishes!

The world has stood placidly by, very much like an old cow chewing her cud, while womenfolks scampered about the streets in pajamas.

The world has little cared, apparently, at more than one assinine fad—reason for which was never explained.

But to believe there are women silly enough—and with little enough else to do—to enamel their toenails is asking too much.

LUBBOCK people should be thankful that there are no bathing beaches anywhere in this country. If there were, and women insisted on permitting their little toes to peek from their sandals" glorified in all the colors of the rainbow, a very appreciable percentage of the population would suffer rabies, brainstorms and heart failure. It just wouldn't do.

* * *

When world economics are topsy turvy, with strikes, falling prices and wages, skipped dividends and debt moratorias everywhere, it is inconceivable that there are women in the country shallow enough to spend their time and money on toenail enamels. And a woman writer who is unthinking enough to advise any such fol-de-rol should have her stuff barred from the mails.

IF WOMEN of the eastern and northern beaches need to find new thrills, let them go to Pennsylvania where the families of striking miners, undernourished and hardly clothed, are being booted unceremoniously from their pitiful hovels. Maybe working among those unfortunates will furnish as big a thrill as enameling toenails.

And if they're not satisfied in Pennsylvania, let them go to New Jersey where thousands of textile workers are unemployed and don't know where their next meal is coming from. Mebbe they can find conditions there interesting enough to take their minds off their toenails for a little while at least.

One of the things that is wrong with this country is the fact that too many of us have permitted synthetic prosperity to take our thoughts off of the things that really count. Too many of us, men and women, alike, are finding it hard to realize that the world still puts a premium on horse sense and honest service.

We can wail about hard times, depressions and what-not, but we'll never snap out of it with the help of people who have so lulled their minds as to believe toenail enameling, and similar fads, really are smart in the eyes of sensible folks.

That Man on Avenue Q says all that stands between most men and the top of the ladder is the ladder itself.

* * *

The dumbest girl on our block thinks ink is made in an incubator.

It's all right to follow advice given Caeser and "beware of the Ides of March" but five of America's six great wars were begun in April.

Due to the depression, travelling men are courting farmers' daughters now in only every other locality.

THE 'Oil Tax Bill', which bears the approval of Governor Sterling, is reported favorably to the House as a whole. Oldest oldtimers in Texas can't remember when any tax bill failed to be reported favorably to a Texas legislature.

This is one tax bill, however, which may do some good toward the needed conservation of oil and folks who would like to see business better will do well to watch it.

Something has to be done for the failing oil industry and if a tax can turn the trick, so much the better. We might get at least 2 percent of the tax in West Texas.

Organized Drys Plunging Into 1932 Presidential Race Apparently Resigned To Roosevelt As Demo Candidate

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—When Rev. F. Scott McBride, Rev. Ernest H. Cherrington and Rev. A. J. Barton burst out—all of a sudden and almost simultaneously—in attacks on Governor Roosevelt of New York and defenses of President Hoover—it means that the organized drys are plunging into the 1932 presidential campaign.

DUTCHER

One infers with considerable assurance that the drys have given up any hope that the Democrats will nominate any one but a wet for the presidency and that they are about resigned to the nomination of Roosevelt.

Dr. McBride is general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. Dr. Barton is chairman of the executive board of the Anti-Saloon League. Dr. Cherrington holds various important positions in the league and other dry organizations. McBride and Barton have recently struck at the Roosevelt candidacy. Cherrington has rushed to the defense of President Hoover in an instance where defense was so unnecessary as to indicate a concerted attempt on the part of the drys to get moving.

Two Statements

Two statements just issued by Cherrington use both the words and music employed by the Republicans in their past efforts to fight off attacks from the Democratic publicity bureau.

First, says Dr. Cherrington, the "wet press" has attempted to "smear" President Hoover by pointing to the existence of saloons and brothels on government-leased property in Colon, Panama. The word "smear" has been a favorite with Republican spokesmen in their descriptions of what Democrats were trying to do to Hoover.

Next comes Dr. Cherrington with the assertion that if this country had no prohibition it would be as badly off today as Germany, an argument which parallels the persistent Republican strategy of pointing out that other countries are in worse shape than the United States.

Thus the drys seem to outline their conception of the 1932 fight. They will make all the noise they can for a dry Democratic candidate, knowing well that nomination of a wet is in the cards, and then go whooping for Hoover after the conventions. They would be happy if they could expect the renomination of Al Smith and it is said that for a time many of them did expect that, but they now accept the general theory that Smith can't be renominated even if he wants to be.

The religious and prosperity issues were the most potent in the 1928 election, although there is some argument as to which swung the most votes to Hoover. Next year the Democratic ticket will be be faced neither by widespread religious prejudice nor by any presumption that the Republican party can guarantee prosperity.

Have Alibis Ready

This fact is primarily a worry for Hoover and the Republicans, but it is just as sad a state of affairs for the drys. It almost leaves them, one might suggest, carrying the bod. They claimed the Hoover election was a distinctly dry victory and now it appears that they must prove their forces are strong enough to block the election of any wet presidential candidate.

Without suggesting that they can't prove it, or asserting that election trends have appeared wet rather than dry, one has to point out that the drys may now be socked in the eye by the prosperity issue just as they were greatly aided by it in their supreme desire to defeat Al Smith. A lot of people voted for Hoover because we had been having good times and now a lot of them will vote against him because we have been having bad times.

The drys can't help that, but they may suffer for it just the same. The election of 1932 probably will be more nearly a wet-dry contest than in 1928, but it will still be far from exactly that. If Hoover wins the drys will promptly take credit, with much more justification than they had when they took it in 1928, and if he loses they will say they lost because the voters were sore about the depression.

If a wet or moist Democratic candidate wins, the wets will holler that they did it and if he loses they will not be caught lacking alibis for their failure to elect him.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1455 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene", "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

THIN PEOPLE

Most people diet because they want to get thin, but a few want to diet in order to get fat.

Their problem is a truly difficult one, especially if they are past 50 years of age. It is not, however, a very grave problem. Dangers do not threaten the thin person as they do the obese. He is more comfortable, more active and more energetic than his overweight brother. He is longer lived, provided he reaches the age of 40. After 40 the overweights begin to drop off, but the underweight on the average has a long stretch ahead of him.

Dr. Clendening

Most interesting studies of the effect of forced under-nutrition during the great war are just coming to us. In Germany, especially, the civil population were reduced to a diet bordering on starvation. In many large cities they existed over great periods of time on an average intake of 1,300 calories daily (the average normal for an adult being 3,500). Besides, they had to be content with a daily protein allowance of 33 grams (the average normal being from 100 to 250, and the lowest estimate ever made of the minimum requirement being 60).

Hardly a poor person died in Germany during those years whose body weighed more than 110 pounds.

But surprisingly enough, this restriction in diet had a beneficial effect on the occurrence of certain diseases. The director of a large American Life Insurance company which operated extensively in Germany prior to the war told me that the death rate in the civil population during the war period was lower than it had been for years. The insured civil population was by the nature of the case mostly men over 50 years. Nothing illustrates better the desirability for people of that age and over to practice more or less strenuous dieting.

The diseases which were reduced in number were diabetes, gout, dyspepsia of all kinds and, surprisingly, the toxemias of pregnancy.

Certain other diseases, on the contrary, increased in number—notably tuberculosis and anemia.

To put on weight is highly desirable for many otherwise healthy but very thin persons. Besides that there are many conditions of undernutrition due to disease where the same thing is indicated. These latter are following a fever, or convalescence from other sorts of illness, such as surgical operations. Debilitating diseases, such as exophthalmic goiter, also require an extra food allowance for the body consumes food more rapidly in that condition. The principles of such diets will be discussed tomorrow.

Three Charges Echo Fatal Car Accident

McKINNEY, Aug. 10. (AP)—Three charges have been filed by County Attorney C. Dowdy against Martin Vance, 22, of Sherman, in connection with the death of Douglas McCarley, 3, of Blueridge, who was fatally injured by a car Wednesday night in front of his home.

Charges of transporting intoxicating liquor, driving while intoxicated and negligent homicide were filed against Vance.

Bond for the three cases was set at $2,750.

Vance was arrested near Hugo, Okla.

In the German financial situation France, it seems, will give in till it hurts.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—There's millions in moonlight! . . .

Say, that might be the opening line of a new "moonlight" song . . .

At any rate, everytime the moonlight beams on a song title, Tin Pan Alley loses its worried look and gets the cash register ready. For reasons that no one has ever been able to analyze exactly, the moon effects the sales value of popular songs.

Statistics show that few, indeed, have been the song failures when dear old moon was on the job. Millions remember Paul Dresser largely because of "Moonlight's Bright Tonight Along the Wabash."

In their efforts to get out a new "moon" song, the lyric writers have followed the planet from pole to pole. They have had the moon over Georgia and pouring gold on Honolulu's waters; they have had it in Russia and over the Rockies; they've hung it over the Swanee and they've planted it "On Moonlight Bay."—Just think back a few years—let's see, there was "If the Man in the Moon Was a Coon." And what barber shop gathering has passed up "In the Evening By the Moonlight."

Just within the past few months the "alley," where all of the songs come from, had been joggling along through the depression. There had been a lot of so-so hits, and the radio had given certain tunes a heavy "build;" but the dear old half-million sales were missing. Then along came Harry Richman, the music showknight club gent, with "There Ought to Be a Moonlight Saving Time . . ." And there you are! It has headed best seller lists for weeks on end. Don't ask me why! It's one of those things that the moonlight does to songs.

The other day, one of the Tin Pan Alleyites furnished me with a few examples of the moonlight numbers that have brought fortunes to the publishing houses over a period of years.

Way back in grandpa's time things were just the same. Then they were singing, "My Sweetheart's the Man in the Moon . . . And how they loved it!

"Moonlight and Roses" has been a pet with most of the population that goes in for romance. And this association of moonlight nights with romance is, of course, the possible answer to the eternal popularity of moon times.

Lately there's been "Wabash Moon," which Morton Downey adopted for a time as his theme song. "Shine on, Shine on Harvest Moon," "When the Silvery Moon is Shining," "Ukulele Moon," "Take in the Sun, Hang Out the Moon," "Blue Pacific Moonlight," "Moonbeams," "Moon Dear," "Moonlight Memory," and so on.

In fact moonlight streams over almost every phase of Tin Pan Alley history.

At least half a dozen vogues a year have marked the changes in tempo, dance styles and such, but whether done to the moonlight waltz time or lyricists find the moon a good old reliable—a standard product that seldom disappoints them.

DUMMY SAVES MASTER

BALTIMORE — Bradford Matthews was taken in front of Magistrate O'Donnell for blocking traffic. He was asked to defend himself. Matthews, a ventriloquist, placed a wooden dummy on the bench and manipulated the dummy's mouth. He spoke to the judge through the dummy and it so intrigued that official that he dismissed the case.

Who remembers the old-fashioned era when the saloons used to close on election day?

Anyway, Al Capone leaves ambitious Chicago gangsters something to shoot at.

If this globe-flying business keeps up pretty soon it's going to be on a pretty common plane.

THE TINYMITES

STORY COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY AND THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Said Scouty, "This will be a sport. I'll bet this is a sport. Just look at all the ships. What are they doing? Let's ask some man and we'll find out just what this spot is all about. They all look like a friendly lot, so there is naught to fear."

The Travel Man said, "Well, my son, before the asking can be done I'll answer all your questions. We have dropped in here before. The ships are commerce ships and they sail in and out of here each day. Each one may have vanilla, that is shipped from here, in store.

"Would you all like to come aboard and look around?" the Tinies roared, "You bet we would!" So on they went, all thrilled as they could be. "Do anything you want to do," exxclaimed one of the friendly crew. "Just take your time. Explore around. There's plenty you can see."

For 'bout an hour they loafed around. A sailor then said, "We are bound for distant ports real shortly. You must all return to land." Soon, from the shore the Tinies gazed upon the ship as sails were raised. Then, as the boat took out to sea, wee Scouty said, "Its grand!"

Just then they heard some singing near, Said Clowny, "I know what we hear. It is some natives singing and they must be right nearby. "They are," replied the Travel Man. "We'll find them as quickly as we can. I'm sure they're sitting on the beach beneath the clear, blue sky."

They left the dock and ran along the shore. The singers of the song soon came in view. All natives, and they smiled up at the boys. The Travel Man said, "Quiet now! Don't sing out or start to raise a row. We'll keep on with their singing and you Tinies make no noise."

The Tinymites pick some bananas in the next story.

NAVY'S NEW DIRIGIBLE AKRON SAID TO BE APT WEAPON OF WARFARE IN SKIES; CARRIES FIVE SWIFT PLANES

(By The Associated Press)

AKRON, O., Aug. 10 — Unusual utility as a weapon of warfare, to evade pursuit and escape serious damage from enemy bombardment, is claimed for the navy's dirigible Akron which was christened by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the president, here Saturday.

The ship is built to be flown into the region of conflict with the protection of five fighting planes hung on monorails in its giant hull. The planes can be launched on short notice, by dropping them through a hatchway and out into the air. They may scout attack, or ward off pursuit from the air.

The ship is designed to give a swift pair of heels to any plane that might try to follow it. With its eight large Maybach engines, generating 4,680 horsepower to propellers that may be turned at any angle, the Akron can rise 2,000 feet a minute while making a forward speed of 80 miles an hour.

According to its builders, this is faster than any pursuit plane can climb. A plane loses a great amount of forward speed as it mounts into the sky.

RETURN OF TEXAS FLAG IS SOUGHT

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 10 (AP)—Texas was negotiating today with Mexico through Dale Miller, Corpus Christi newspaperman, for the return of the battle flag of the first company of Texas volunteers.

Governor Ross S. Sterling commissioned Miller yesterday to confer with President Ortiz Rubio in an effort to have the flag taken from the national museum in Mexico City and returned to Texas.

Miller is attending the World Press conference in Mexico City.

The flag was captured by Mexican soldiers during the Mexican war.

Street accidents caused the death of 1,396 persons and injury to 55,961 in Greater London last year.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—The stock market slipped substantially lower in quiet trading during the morning today, but stiffened toward midday, and recovered slightly.

The severe slump in the cotton market, amounting to more than $6 a bale, was depressing influence, obscuring for the moment Wall Street's bullish interpretation of the failure of prussian reactionaries to upset the government in that leading German state.

Extreme losses in stocks ranged from 1 to 4 points in several issues, but the list generally was fractionally above the lowest by midday. New York Central regained all of a 1 point loss, and Allied Chemical, after dropping 3 points, regained about half its loss. Alaska Juneau and Corn Products pushed up about a point each. U. S. Steel recovered fractionally, after declining a point. General railway signal was a weak spot, losing 4.

Call money renewed at 1½ per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—Cotton opened easy today, 126 to 132 points lower under heavy general selling inspired by the unexpected large crop estimate issued by the department of agriculture on Saturday.

This report was reflected by a very severe break in Liverpool, but the decline in the local market was checked to some extent by active covering by shorts who had carried their commitments over the week-end. Initial offerings were well enough taken to cause moderate rallies but the selling continued forcing the active months about 135 to 142 points net lower before the end of the first half hour. October deliveries sold off to 6.70 and March to 7.25, making declines of about $6.75 to $7.10 per bale from the closing quotations of Saturday. The market was still active and unsettled, but was a few points up from the lowest at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool reported world liquidation in that market on the government report absorbed by trade calling and covering at the decline and said that Manchester was demoralized with buyers of cotton cloths and yarns holding aloof.

The volume of business tapered off after the first heavy rush of selling orders had subsided and the market was quieter late in the morning. Further liquidation maed its appearance on the bulges and bearish sentiment based upon the big supply figures remained much in evidence, but the market at midday showed rallies of about 5 to 8 points from the lowest on the more active positions, with October selling at 6.78 and March at 7.30. At the low point of this morning, prices were at the lowest levels reached in the cotton futures market here since the late nineties.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 10. (AP)—The cotton market opened excited and active today with first trades showing losses of 110 to 129 points owing to the unexpectedly large government crop estimate issued Saturday and a decline in Liverpool. Initial losses here were not a full response to the weakness of the English market which at the time of the opening here showed a loss corresponding to 140 American points or $7 a bale.

New York also opened lower than the market here and prices eared off after the start until October traded at 6.76, December at 6.95 and January at 7.10, or 129 to 134 points below Saturday's close.

Active profit-taking by shorts at early trading supported the local market in some measure and even at the lowest prices here were relatively higher than other markets.

At the end of the first hour the market was a shade steadier and 1 to 2 points above the lows.

Following the early spurs of activity and heavy declines, the market quieted down and prices fluctuated narrowly during the rest of the morning within the early range.

Near mid-session, there was a moderate rally of seven to ten points at 7.05, this brought the price level to 12 points under Saturday's close but 7 to 10 points above the morning's lows.

The July textile statistics issued during the morning showed sales of cotton goods during July to have been 82.9 per cent of production and unfilled orders at the end of the month showed a decline of 16 per cent. Although bearish very little attention was given the figures.

ONE-ARMED RANGER'S PISTOL TERROR OF RUSTLERS IN BIG BEND COUNTRY

Arch Miller, one-armed Texas Ranger, is the nemesis of border rustlers, but between adventures he finds time to care for two pet deer.

ALPINE, Tex., Aug. 10 (AP)—Down in the Big Bend country of western Texas, where towns, telephones, fences and roads are few, a new war is brewing against bandits and smugglers.

When it breaks a leading figure in it is sure to be Arch Miller, one of seven Texas Rangers detailed to maintain law along this 1,000-mile section of the international boundary.

Miller, known throughout the southwest as the one-armed Ranger, is credited with having broken up two gangs of rustlers, recovering much livestock for ranchmen.

The border outlaws have a healthy respect for his personal courage.

Of all the present members of a force whose romantic history dates back nearly 100 years, Miller, the rustlers' nemesis, is probably as picturesque as any.

With one arm he handles a rifle, machine gun or pistol as expertly as anyone. He can saddle a horse or get a pack ready as quickly as the best of them.

His acquaintance among ranchmen is remarkable. He is reputed to know every person living within 200 miles of the river.

Once, shortly after he had brought back a herd of stolen sheep, he was ambushed but escaped unharmed in his bullet-pierced car.

His fame as a marksman makes outlaws chary of a face-to-face encounter.

Rustlers and robbers no longer operate in such large bands as before, preferring the advantages of concealment in a small party to the strength of numbers which terrorized the border country of other days.

Yet at least two outlaw chieftains still operate along the Rio Grande, preying on Big Bend ranchers and using the boundary to foil pursuers.

Three More Bills Submitted Today

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 (AP)—Governor Sterling today submitted three more bills to the special session of the legislature.

One would provide that licenses for life insurance agents would not have to be renewed each year. A like provision for all other insurance agents was made during the regular session.

Another would provide that all warrants drawn upon the state treasury and not paid for lack of funds would draw interest until called for payment by the treasurer.

The third would force candidates for congressman at large to run for specified places.

Case Of Pangborn, Herndon Unsettled

TOKYO, Aug. 10 (AP)—The case of Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, jr., American fliers whose plane was held by government officials because the aviators took photographs while crossing Japanese territory, went to the public procurator here today.

Reports from Soya strait, a fortified zone, indicated the plane flew over fortifications but the nature of the film exposed by the fliers has not been made public by the authorities. It was exhibited Saturday to investigators.

Dengo News agency said there were indications that after the procurator has considered the case it appeared probable the fliers would be haled into court and fined. Japan has a rigid law prohibiting the photographing of its fortified areas.

Postpone Probe Of Misconduct Charge

AUSTIN, Aug. 10. (AP)—The house today postponed investigation of charges of official misconduct against J. B. Price of Bastrop, judge of the 21st district court until Wednesday. A motion to postpone the investigation indefinitely was tabled, 90 to 22.

A resolution to postpone the inquiry until Wednesday and invite the senate to listen to the proceedings was adopted. The resolution proposed that Judge Price be removed by means of an address by the legislature to the governor. The address of removal would require a two thirds vote in each house.

OIL PROTEST

senate members to frame a bill acceptable to both houses.

Oil operators of Fort Worth also planned a meeting to protest the legislature's failure to take action.

Program Defeated

The senate Saturday night completed the annihilation of Governor Sterling's oil relief program by turning down the Woodward-Wagstaff conservation bill and substituting for it a bill Senator Walter Woodward termed little or no better than present statutes. Previously, both houses had defeated a bill to set up a new conservation commission.

Governor Sterling indicated he would not call another special session, saying he believed nothing more could be accomplished in 60 days than in 30 days.

ONE CONSERVATION BILL IS SALVAGED

AUSTIN, Aug. 10. (AP)—The Texas legislature today salvaged one oil conservation bill from the wreckage of administration proposals when the house concurred in senate amendments to the Davis pipe line bill, which would prohibit railroads or pipe lines from transporting oil produced in violation of the railroad commission's orders.

The vote on concurrence carried more than the 100 votes necessary to make the bill law immediately upon the governor's signature. It had passed the senate by the necessary two-thirds mapority to make it effective at once.

Under terms of the bill, should the railroad commission set an allowable production no oil produced in excess of that fixed by the order could be transported.

The Pollard bill was substituted by the senate for the house Davis bill. Both contained similar provisions. The bill would require ratable taking and ratable purchase of both gas and oil; provide for receiverships of companies violating the laws; inflict heavy penalties, and provide for forfeiture of charters on conviction for violation.

The bill also would give the railroad commission authority to set the rates to be charged by pipeline companies; to require reasonable extensions of facilities and well connections and would prohibit abandonment of lines without permission of the commission.

WEST TEXAS JOINS IN OIL PROTEST

ABILENE, Aug. 10. b—Protests were going up in this section today over the action of the Texas senate in killing the Wagstaff-Woodward administration bill calculated to strengthen conservation and proration legislation as applying to oil. Independent oil men and business interests generally were expressing resentment against the senate in voting to substitute the bill of Senator Frank Rawlings, Fort Worth.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced its stand today in telegrams to its 113 directors of 101 affiliated towns. The Colorado Chamber of Commerce, at a called meeting this morning, denounced the Rawlings substitute. The executive board of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce was to meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon to consider a similar protest.

RAINFALL

summer. Matador, Akron, and other towns north reported good falls, which also occurred east of Dickens.

A rain which began at Post at 10 o'clock this morning had not stopped shortly before noon, dwindling from a hard shower to a drizzle and then returning to first proportions.

A shower also was reported extending to 10 miles north of Post, southeast of Lubbock.

Tahoka, south of here, reported a total of two inches last night and this morning. The blanket of moisture evidently was general in the area except at New Home. It was described as heavy at O'Donnell.

Lamesa Gets Rain

In the deep south of the South Plains, Lamesa welcomed 1.44 inches. General rains covered Dawson county Sunday night, aiding crops and pasture lands which had begun to parch. The weather still was inclement there late this morning.

Crops were assured in the Brownfield territory by a two-inch rain. Levelland, west of here, gained about an inch between midnight and daybreak. Quarter of an inch was reported at Smyer. Bolstered by a heavy mist, similar to that which hung over Lubbock during the downpour here early this morning, rain continued slowly at Levelland shortly before noon today.

Although the downpour which swept much of the South Plains did not reach Littlefield until about 4 o'clock this morning, three-quarters of an inch fell there in the next four hours. It still was raining shortly before noon. The rain extended north and east to Olton.

Muleshoe, farther to the northwest in the South Plains block, received 1.22 inches.

Highways Heavy

Mired roads were reported between Canyon and Plainview, Sunday afternoon. Quanah reported Sunday's rain as .56 of an inch. Childress 7.10 inches, and Miami .10 of an inch.

In the Big Bend country, Fort Stockton received a tenth of an inch. El Paso reported .26 of an inch. Midland, between the South Plains and the Big Bend, gauged .48 of an inch.

Although skies were fairly light here at 12:30 p. m. the sun had not shown itself fully since Sunday afternoon, and low-hanging cumulus clouds were conspicuous in the south.

Prussia Coalition Government Upheld

BERLIN, Aug. 10. (AP)—Prussia's moderate coalition government, its fate of late closely identified with Chancellor Bruening's regime, today stood firm against the legal and illegal onslaughts of its enemies of the right and left.

The combined efforts of the communists, national socialists and nationalists to dissolve the Prussian diet and to compel new elections failed by three and a half million votes at a plebiscite yesterday.

Though revolutionist dynamiters derailed the Basel-Berlin express and the whole of the east central district of Berlin was in a frenzy of fatal rioting, the police obtained full control of the situation. Three were killed and scores injured.

Unofficial Record Set At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 10. (AP)—Setting what was thought to be an unofficial altitude record for women in a low horsepower plane, Marye Lowe, local aviatrix, yesterday soared to 18,500 feet at the municipal airport. The official record is 18,000 feet.

Soon the girl aviator, who received her private pilot's license only a few weeks ago, will try again for an official record. A barograph ordered from Washington failed to arrive yesterday.

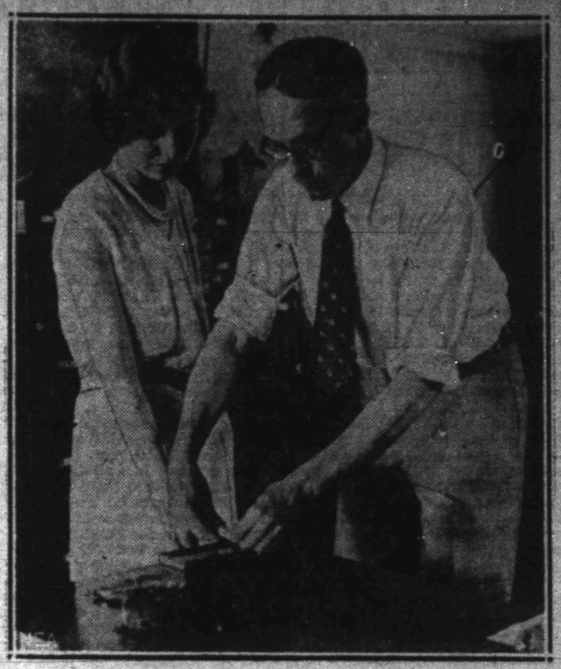

Prisoner Hurt In Jail Altercation

LUFKIN, Aug. 10 (AP).—Buck Mott was gravely injured in a fight with other prisoners in the Angelina county jail yesterday.

Earl Clark, another participant in the fight, was cut about the head. He and Mott had been lodged in the jail on charges of intoxication.

One hundred men are employed on the highway paving project at Memphis, Texas, with a monthly pay roll of $8,000.

U. S. Workers Make Their Marks

The government is compiling a different kind of Who's Who in the Civil Service by taking the fingerprints of all the thousands of employes. These are to be recorded for purposes of identification. Here you see Miss Opal Boyce, of the Civil Service Department, making the first prints under the guidance of John H. Clark, assistant chief of the department's identification bureau.

Design For Unknown Soldier's Tomb

This is a design for the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery at Washington. In the center stands Victory, presenting the palm to the figure at the right, symbolizing Valor. At the left, with the dove, stands Peace. The allegorical group will occupy the unmarked stone top of the tomb.

Movement Started To Buy Buffaloes

AMARILLO, Aug. 10 (AP)—A movement to purchase the 11,500 acre Goodnight ranch and its herd of 236 buffaloes was gaining momentum today.

The idea was given impetus yesterday when members of the state game commission and prominent citizens visited the ranch and conferred about plans to make a state park out of it as sanctuary for the herd of buffaloes. Money for its purchase would either be raised by state appropriation or public subscription.

It was understood the state game commission would spend $20,000 of its funds to purchase the buffaloes provided a sanctuary was obtained.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

A quarterly conference is to be conducted at First Methodist church Wednesday evening following the regular mid-week prayer services. Dr. C. A. Bickley, presiding elder for the Lubbock Methodist district, will have charge of the prayer meeting at 8:15 o'clock and will have the conference immediately following.

Enrollment Of 3,064 In Sunday Schools

Sunday school attendance at Lubbock churches yesterday totaled 3,064. The First Baptist church reported an enrollment of 1,008; the First Methodist, 819; Broadway Church of Christ, 489; First Christian church, 306; Sanders Union, 204; Cumberland Presbyterian, 149; Church of the Nazarene, 89.

PERMIT ISSUED

Young men calling at the West Texas hospital nurses home soon will be greeted by the newness of repairs. First building permit of the week was issued this morning by the city building inspector's office to Standefer & Stewart, owners, for repair of the place at 902 Avenue L at a cost of $200. Building authorizations this month represent an expenditure of $17,050 and this year $294,467, in addition to a $335,000 federal building here.

The Chamber of Commerce of Spur, Texas, contributed to placing Dickens county cotton on a tenerable basis by shipping in and distributing 6,500 bushels of pure bred cotton seed.

CIGARET TAX

cent tax before the cigarets were smoked.

Treasurer Charley Lockhart reported to the legislature that plans were being made by leading cigaret manufacturers to carry on extensive mail order campaigns to evade the tax. It will begin operation August 22.

Representative T. H. McGregor said the tax on the "use" would be a violation of federal statutes in that it would levy a tax on interstate commerce. McGregor also contended that unless the amendment obtained 100 votes the entire tax bill would not be effective until 90 days after the session ended and that collection of taxes could not be started August 22.

Littlefield Shows Building Activity

By Staff Correspondent

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 10—Business buildings under construction at Littlefield are valued at slightly under $90,000.

The largest is the new Santa Fe station. It is expected to cost in excess of $60,000. According to railroad men, it will be one of the finest on the Slaton division. It is the only one being erected on the division this year. D. N. Leaverton, Lubbock contractor, has the contract. Brick work is almost to the top of the first floor.

W. E. Jeffrey, owner of the Jeffrey Mercantile company, is building a new structure for his business.

John Arnott, of the Arnett Motor company, is remodeling his garage and warehouse and is adding a filling station.

New Golf Ball Is Proven Superior

FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 10 (AP)—While professionals and duffers argue over the "balloon ball," a couple of clubs got together on the Fort Washington links here and convinced quite a few that the bigger sphere was superior to the old pellet.

One team used the old regulation ball while the other played with the newer and bigger one. The "big ball" team of ten turned in an aggregate net score of 753 as against 763 of ten par chasers using the discarded ball.

Gigging Alligators Proves Great Sport

DOTHAN, Ala., Aug. 10 (AP)—Gigging frogs is an ancient and common art of the outdoors, but gigging alligators is another story.

Prodding at the dark recesses along the banks of Cooper Bay, Rufus Mann and Jack Brooking encountered a colony of alligators.

With the assistance of their gigs the two pulled the saurians ashore. When the battle was over—for the parent alligators gave battle—Mann and Brookins counted 26 of the hellbenders.

The alligators ranged from two to seven feet in length and weighed from 10 to 85 pounds.

MCDONALD FOR COTTON BILL

AGRICULTURAL CHIEF MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 (AP)—The issue of cotton acreage reduction will be taken to the people at the next election, J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture has said. McDonald said he would be a candidate for governor on a cotton acreage reduction platform in the event neither Governor R. S. Sterling or Clint Small of Wellington, both ardent supporters of the acreage reduction bill killed in the senate today, were candidates.

McDonald said the acreage reduction bill was the most important piece of legislation ever presented to the Texas legislature and its defeat "makes it inevitable that the issues involved be appealed to the people."

She's Rewarded

STOCKHOLM, Sweden.—Judith Anderson, who is 12, has a gold watch and 500 krone toward her education. She saved the life of a man who was drowning and received a Carnegie reward.

Move To Land

SOUTHEND, England—After living 18 years in a little steel house a mile and a quarter from shore, Mrs. Edward Cotgrover is moving back to land. Her husband who is the berthing master at the pier head has reached the age of retirement. A dog, a parrot and a canary, that have lived on land are moving too.

Regular Fellow

NEW YORK—Federal Judge R. H. Hopkins who comes from Kansas, finds summer weather in the metropolis a bit too much for court formality. He doffed his official robe and permitted the jury in the Legs Diamond liquor case to listen to testimony in their shirtsleeves.

Pork Comes Down!

KANSAS CITY—Happy landings! Pork has come down. At least one did after an airplane ride from New York. He made the flight to be exhibited at state fairs in Missouri and Kansas. His name is "Transcontinental."

Must Stand

WREXHAM, Wales — For years the folks of Wrexham have wanted to wreck the old town hall and abolish the town's most dangerous corner. But now it seems they can't for the building which was erected in the reign of Henry VIII has been designated as an ancient monument and must not be destroyed.

NO LOAN MADE TO GRAPE INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Financial assistance for California raisin growers was announced by the farm board, but no action was taken on the application of Fruit Industries, Inc., grape concentrate manufacturers, for a loan.

The board's explanation was that the fruit industries loan was still under consideration. Both the government and the board have been sharply criticized by prohibition supporters for extending loans to that organization.

In a current magazine article, former Senator Reed of Missouri, an anti-prohibitionist, charges the government with an "indefensible subsidy" through its loans to the concentrate distributors.

The raisin growers were given approximately $4,000,000 with which to market their 1931 crop. The amount sought by fruit industries was approximately $1,000,000.

VILLAGE MANAGER HAS HIS HANDS FULL IN DIRECTING ONE-MAN TOWN, SMALLEST TO HAVE COMMISSION RULE

BY A. K. CHENOWETH
Central Press Correspondent

SOUTH CHARLESTON, O.—The job of being city manager of the village of South Charleston in Clark county, the smallest town in the world with the commission form of government, is a real one, Village Manager Charles G. Sprague will tell anyone.

Robinson Crusoe had his "Friday"—but South Charleston has its Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday and they are all—Charles G. Sprague.

Besides being the manager of this town of 1,200 souls Sprague is town marshal—or chief of police—tax collector, meter reader, legal advisor of the village, claim adjustor, street commissioner, and head of the cemetery association!

Fills 'Em All With Credit

And Sprague fills all of these offices with credit to himself and the town as evidenced by the fact that the village commission recently reappointed him for another year.

Sprague first assumed his position as village manager in 1923, serving until Jan. 1, 1925, when he decided that he would learn just where he stood in the community. He turned in his resignation. The village commission refused to accept the resignation, but it was not until June 1, 1926, that he was persuaded to again take over the management of the town.

For a time during his absence from his post, the town had no mayor because the charter form of government provides that the mayor must either be elected or appointed by elected members of the commission and none of the commissioners had been elected, all having been named by the board to fill vacancies.

During Sprague's term of office, South Charleston has gained the reputation of possessing some of the finest paved streets of any small town in Ohio. Many other improvements in various lines have been carried out under his direction, including erection of modern stop signs at street intersections which have resulted in fewer traffic accidents. He also has inaugurated a program of extensive street cleaning which leaves South Charleston's thoroughfares spic and span.

The charter of the village of South Charleston was granted in 1917 and has been in operation since that time without interruption, although the city commission has had its ups and downs.

Board Has Its Difficulties

There have been times when every member of the board was an appointee, the regularly elected members having resigned or removed or been removed by death.

Because of the difficulties of operation at times the board and manager have been subjected to some criticism. Some have remarked that the $1,500 salary paid the village manager is more than it once cost to operate the whole town.

Supporters of the city manager plan reply with the remark that in the old days, "nothing was done." And so it goes—which indicates that even the city manager form of government on a small scale has its tribulations.

URGE U. S. WHEAT TO SAVE CHINESE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 10 (AP)—An appeal for surplus wheat of the United States to save 10,000,000 Chinese flood sufferers, who he said may die of starvation before spring unless aided, was made by John Earl Baker, American authority on disasters in China.

Baker said the flood which still continued in 16 provinces was the most terrible disaster in China in 30 years.

At least $300,000,000 damage had been done, he estimated, but he would not even guess at the number of deaths, which the "corpse recovery society" asserted were not less than 8,000 in the flooded Yangse valley alone. Hundreds of bodies were being taken from the waters by the society.

Baker believed a minimum of 5,000,000 bushels of American wheat would be needed for at least six months. This wheat, he said, could be supplied under credit arrangements between the American and Chinese governments.

EXTRA FEED COSTS PAY

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—For every 1,000 pounds of increase in milk production made by cows in nine North Dakota dairy herd improvement associations last year, the average increase in feed costs was about $2.50, while the average gain in income over cost of feed per cow was about $9.

The report cited a case in 1920 at Marlin and Waco, Texas, in hwcih the sheriff left unconflicted testimony that he had whipped a negro named Williams so severely as to cause permanent injuries before obtaining a confession to a murder. One witness in the case was reported held under water until near drowning, while a negro woman was stripped of her clothes and whipped.

Negro Switched

In 1928, a negro at Harrison, Texas, confessed to arson, the report said, after being switched while stretched naked across a log and after threats of being put in the "shocking machine."

At Wichita Falls, Tex., a farm hand named Hoobler, suspected of murdering his employer, was reported threatened with lynching during prolonged questioning, was not permitted to sleep, and later appeared, badly bruised. He confessed.

In still another Texas case, in Cass county in 1923, a 15-year-old negress, charged with murdering her baby, was quoted as saying "white folks, that's the biggest lie," after repeated threats of mob violence had caused her to confess.

In still another Texas murder case in Reeves county in 1928, where the victim was burned to death in a store, a Mexican named Hernandez was reported questioned for hours in view of the charred body. The report said there was indication of a threat to burn him to death unless he confessed.

ICE CREAM OUTLET FOR MILK

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—The ice cream business was credited with supplying an outlet for about 167,000,000 pounds of Iowa milk last year. It is estimated twice that amount was shipped out of the state for the same purpose in the form of cream and unsalted butter for storage.

LUBBOCK WOMAN HURT IN MISHAP

Fractures of two ribs and a shoulder blade, possibly a fractured wrist, and bruises were suffered by Mrs. J. D. Lindsey of 1518 Avenue M, and Mrs. Ed R. Vaughn of 1901 Twenty-eighth street escaped with minor injuries when an automobile overturned Sunday noon near Tatum, N. M.

The condition of Mrs Lindsey, mother of C C Lindsey, manager of Lidsey Theaters, Inc. was not considered serious by attendants at Lubbock sanitarium.

The accident occurred when a tire blew out on the light sedan driven by Mrs. Vaughn. She received minor bruises and abrasions. The two were brought here in a Lubbock ambulance and they were received at Lubbock sanitarium at 11:50 p. m.

En route to Lubbock from Ruidoso, N. M., the machine turned over about three miles east of Tatum.

The cotton mills at Post, Texas, are running on full time schedule for the first time in two years, employing 200 people with an annual pay roll of $250,000.

Goodrich Tires
Best in the Long Run

Are Your Tires Planning A Big Blowout?

Bad tires are bad at all seasons . . . but at their worst in hot weather. A hidden weak spot in the carcass is likely to collapse under the increased strain of high speeds and blistering roads.

New tires are much cheaper than hospital bills, and even repair bills. If your tires have that guilty look, smooth treads . . . you'd better replace them before they make you a guest at a road-side blowout party. "The quality tire—"Goodrich Silvertown."
