Handel's 'Messiah' is presented December 1

The performance of the Christmas section of Handel's "Messiah" will be heard in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday, Dec. 1, at 3 p.m., as the Cooke County Chorale ushers in the Christmas season musically, offering a special treat for area residents. Admission to the program is free.

This will be the first of two performances, the second will be on Dec. 5 at First Methodist Church of Gainesville at 7:30 p.m.

First performed in 1741 in Ireland, Handel's "Messiah" is one of the most enduring of all sacred music.

Blessed with the ability to sing, members of the Cooke County Chorale are all local volunteers who dedicate substantial time and effort to practicing. In the sizable group are nine members from Muenster.

Dr. Martin Kralicke is president of the Cooke County Chorale. Other Muenster members are James Walterscheid, Anthony Luke, Gene Gieb, Patti Bayer, Marie Endres, Ruth Felderhoff, Christy Hesse and Anne Poole.

Dr. Michael Linder is the director. He is also Director of Music at Cooke County College.

Olde World custom rekindled...

Christkindlmarkt this weekend

In an effort to rekindle some of the holiday customs practiced in Olde World Germany, the Muenster Chamber of Commerce and local merchants are sponsoring a three day celebration this weekend, Friday, Nov. 29 through Sunday, Dec. 1.

Christkindlmarkt is an outdoor street market that will feature the booths of local handcrafters who are preparing gifts in anticipation of the arrival of the "Christkind" or Christ Child.

The sponsors invite the public to "Christmas shop as they stroll down Main Street through the local vendors, crafters, and quaint gift shoppes; to listen to the lively accordion music on the street and the resounding church bells of Sacred Heart Catholic Church as they ring in the Christmas season setting the mood for the coming of the Christ Child; and to smell the aromas of Christmas as German wassail simmers and spices from local cooking permeates the air."

In the event that inclement weather threatens, the open air market will be moved indoors. Booths will be set up in The Gymnastic Sports Center and Muenster School of Dance.

Friday's hours are from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. There will be a strolling accordionist, candy maker, food and gift booths, handicrafts, and more.

Saturday's hours are also from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. At 11 a.m. Sacred Heart School's Youth Choir will sing carols. The annual Christmas Parade begins at 1 p.m. Bob Davis will present a wood carving demonstration. A children's storyteller is scheduled as well as homebaked goods, food, gift and craft booths and an accordionist.

Sunday's hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. with the same type of booths and special production of Handel's Messiah at 3 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church.

The Christkindlmarkt is a first for Muenster, but sponsors hope to make it an annual event. It is hoped that all attending will leave Muenster with special Christmas gift treasures, happy memories, and a warm Christmas spirit.

Parish event is highly successful

The pre-Thanksgiving benefit event - community dinner, picnic and bazaar in the Sacred Heart Community Center on Sunday, Nov. 24, was eminently successful, and offered something for everyone.

The invitation to make the dinner a family gathering, including out-of-town relatives, resulted in an increase this year to serving of more than 1,250 meals, about 250 over the 1,000 served in 1990.

The bountiful menu featured traditional turkey and dressing, German sausage, mashed potatoes, corn, cranberries, fruit salad, fresh garden salad, suerkraut, hot rolls, butter, a choice of pies, coffee or tea.

The afternoon filled with activities was highlighted by the "Christmas Magic" booth where an enormous array of beautiful items, handmade by talented, artistic fingers, offered a wider choice than in any previous years. An always popular "Sweet Shop" was stocked with more baked goods than ever before, including, cakes, pies, breads, sweet rolls, Christmas candies, etc. It opened at 9 a.m. and, by 5 p.m., was completely sold out.

The Silent Auction offered a wider selection than ever before - some items displayed indoors, others too large, were displayed outside on the parking lot.

Games, raffles, kid games, a cake walk, etc., all helped to keep activities lively all afternoon. Food, sandwiches and a light supper menu were available.

Lucky winners in raffles are as follows: Monica Haverkamp, grandfather's clock; Rose Rohmer, VHS camcorder; Jack Brittain, 500-lb. calf, also processing; Alfred Bayer, hog, also processing; Carol Frost, $500 savings bond; Dale Hofbauer, lawn edger; Margaret Schmitt, $105 gift certificate; Laura Harrison, $100 cash; Hugh Tarleton, $100 in trade; Mark Fuhrmann, solid state engine tune-up; Bart Henscheid, $50 gift certificate; Roger Taylor, $50 gift certificate; Paul Hoedebeck, $50 cash; Charlie Wimmer, family Bible.

Lucky winner of the rifle and scope was Rudy Hess of Lindsay.

Aston seeks re-election

by Elaine Schad

Cooke County Sheriff John Aston will seek a third term in office, the sheriff confirmed this week. He already has two contenders, although filing does not open until Dec. 2. Gainesville Police Officer Jim Bleything and former long-time sheriff, Bill

Pratt, have both announced that they will seek the sheriff's position.

Aston, 52, was appointed sheriff in 1984. He was elected in November 1984 and won re-election in 1988. He has been with the Sheriff's Department for 22 years.

Schmidtkofer family has flair for pecans

by Janet Felderhoff

George Schmidtkofer and Polly Brinkley make a great father-daughter team as they work together to harvest this year's crop of pecans. The Schmidtkofer orchards consist of 1,300 to 1,400 pecan trees.

Mr. Schmidtkofer purchased his first acreage with pecan trees in 1958. There were several hundred trees and he decided to try and make them pay off. He worked for several years, clearing brush from the land to make harvesting the crop possible.

By 1962, the place was in good shape and the first pecan crop was harvested. The trees then were mostly natives. George and Louise and their seven children worked together over the years to gather as many pecans for sale as they possibly could.

"It took a lot longer back then," remembered Polly. "Harvesting lasted from November to March and we picked by hand." She recalled working long after dark on many nights. "We probably harvested one-third as many then."

"Now we're finished with the harvesting in about four weeks and there are just two of us working at it," added George. Over the years, they purchased equipment that improved the amount of time it takes to harvest and also salvages more of the pecans.

Falling poles have been replaced with a tree shaker. The shaker is hooked up to the back of a tractor. Schmidtkofer backs up to a tree, hugs it with the shaker, and lets it vibrate for a few seconds. This sends a heavy shower of pecans, leaves and dead branches to the ground. He then rakes a path for the tractor tires so that the pecans aren't crushed. "To flail a tree, it used to take 20 minutes at least and now it takes only seconds," said Schmidtkofer. "The trees do the shimmy."

Another labor-saving piece of equipment is the pecan picker. It is attached to a tractor and driven around the trees that have been shaken until the area containing the tree's fruit has been swept clean. The picker has about 400 rubber fingers that draw the pecans inside where a blast of air blows out the leaves and some of the debris. When full, it holds about 200 pounds of fruit.

"This is the first year ever that we don't have black hands from handling the pecans," remarked Polly. She attributed this to the early freeze this year. "The freeze dries them out." Usually the nuts are still in their hulls and something in the hull stains pecan pickers' hands a dark color.

The next step is to empty the picker's load into gunny sacks. These can then be emptied into another machine that cleans and does a more thorough job of sorting out hulls and other debris. Polly operates this machine and watches the conveyor belt carrying pecans so that she can manually

'Littlest Angel' trees herald the holidays

The "Littlest Angel" trees were put on display during the weekend in Muenster State Bank, First State Bank, Wal-Mart, Weber Aircraft lobby and Sloan's Grocery in Valley View.

The trees are decorated with paper "angels" carrying information about needy children or certain adults in dire need. Interested residents are urged to come in soon to select paper angels. Suggested gifts are clothing and a toy. Committee stresses, "Do not wrap the toy." They will also accept donations of separate toys, or money. Such monies are used to buy food baskets for families, or toys for "littlest angels" who have been overlooked.

Checks should be made payable to "Littlest Angel" and may be sent or given to Debbie Hess, Rt. 2 Box 608, Muenster, TX 76252 or taken to the Youth Center at 315 Hird Street, Gainesville, TX 76240.

The deadline for delivering packages to Muenster State Bank or the Cooke County Youth Center is Dec. 13.

TEAM WORK was a key ingredient in the Muenster Hornet playoff victory over the Blue Ridge Tigers last Friday. The Hornet line and backfield combination tipped the scales for a 16-12 win, as in this developing sweep play by Ryan Sicking (8). Read the story in Sports.

Letters to the Editor

My very dear friends,

This is the third year that I hoped to shower my Christmas greetings upon you from heaven, but to no avail. And thus, here goes my very first Christmas message.

It is a precious letter because it takes care of a lot of my very dear friends at the same time. Another reason for making this message the first one is to give the Muenster Enterprise a choice in printing it. Just because my hope to send my Christmas greetings from heaven has been unfulfilled I would not want you to get the impression that I would rather be dead than alive. Not at all!

My existence here below is quite pleasant. There is not a dull moment in my life. Time passes too fast. The days, the weeks, the months and the years pass by like a fast train. At last there will be however, a sudden stop of the train. It is such a blessing that the moment is unknown to us.

My life is not spectacular. It consists of Divine Service in the first place. That spreads of course throughout the entire day, on and off. Correspondence is also an unending, pleasant, absorbing time-consuming item. Faithfully I take a walk indoors twice per day, but during it I visit with the sick and old Sisters and observe and I admire nature all along my route. Once in a while I see one of our two cats and dogs and have a chat with them. Recreation, which consists in reading books, gets usually a very small bit of my time. My life is far from a retired life. About 2½ decades ago I used to say that I would spend my retirement in reading and crossword puzzling. The latter I stopped years ago.

The other members of my Community are near and dear to me. They too are aging. The aged Sisters are in the majority. This phenomenon is true also of the citizens of our beloved nation and has been so for decades. Our generation gap is 19 years through 96 years. Quite a gap!

I will not take more of your time, my dear friends, nor spaces of the Muenster Enterprise.

I wish each and every individual who reads my message a most Joyful Christmas and a blessed New Year.

Thanks a million for all the messages that have been sent to me throughout the year, especially for Christmas.

Particular, heartfelt thanks are due to the Muenster Enterprise the Sacred Heart Church Bulletin and the most beautiful Sacred Heart News Letters, penned by its Principal Jack Murdock. May the sweet Infant bless each one of you most abundantly!

Lots and lots of love and prayers,
Your friend forever,
Sister M. Theresina Grob, O.S.B.

New city hall considered by Valley View Council

by Elaine Schad

A representative of the Valley View Senior Citizens group has proposed to the Valley View City Council that they consider using property adjacent to the senior citizen building to build a new city hall.

J.S. Jones told the council that the senior citizens group would consider a long-term lease arrangement if the city decided to construct a city hall on the northwest side of the senior citizen building, located at the intersection of Hill Street and FM 922.

Council members said they needed time to study the proposal before they could make a final decision.

The plan could be mutually beneficial to both the city and the senior citizens, Jones told the council. The city would no longer be required to pay rent for a city hall, and placing the city hall building adjacent to the community center would possibly help the senior citizens lower the center's utility bills, he said.

City officials have been discussing the possibility of moving city hall for about two years. The city pays $250 per month rent for a suite in an office plaza now located just north of the local bank along Interstate 35. Some councilmen would like to see city hall in a more centralized location near the town square, while also having a permanent location, officials said.

Valley View will retain 1-man police department

by Elaine Schad

The Valley View City Council has accepted the recommendations of the town's public safety committee for procedures in operating Valley View's one-man police department, officials said.

The committee submitted a second set of recommendations to the council after some questions about possible open meetings violations were raised following a Sept. 18 closed meeting of the committee.

Among procedures adopted for the department were limiting city patrolling to two hours along Interstate 35, which runs through the city limits. Police Chief Tom Tatom will give a written monthly report to all council members and will plan a monthly schedule with approval from the mayor or mayor pro-tem. Schools and businesses will be checked at night and the sheriff's department will be informed of off-duty hours. The procedures include a defined high-speed chase definition and guidelines. The committee also recommended that the town patrol car be replaced in the near future.

Good News!

Do not lay up for yourselves an earthly treasure. Moths and rust corrode; thieves break in and steal. Make it your practice instead to store up heavenly treasure, which neither moths nor rust corrode nor thieves break in and steal.

MATTHEW 6: 19-20

Classes will be dismissed early

All Muenster ISD students will be dismissed at 1 p.m. on Dec. 4 and Dec. 18, 1991. These two days will be used for staff in-service programs from 1:15 to 4:15 p.m. each of these afternoons.

The buses will run at the normal times in the morning and will leave school at 1 p.m. in the afternoon. Parents can expect students to be home approximately 2½ hours early on these two days.

Correction!

The information in last week's Enterprise regarding the hours of operation at the Precinct 4 landfill were reported incorrectly. The correct hours are as follows:

The Precinct 4 landfill, which is located on the Starke Wilson Ranch east of Muenster, will be open on Wednesday from 12:00 noon to 5:00 p.m. and Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Just my opinion ...

by Elfreda Fette

Don't let anyone or anything mislead you! Don't let a thoughtless or belittling remark: "Oh, that longhaired stuff - that hoity-toity stuff, that fancy music, I don't like it!" (Which really means "I won't make the effort to admit that there is great beauty in many fields of music.")

It's too bad that sometimes the performing arts have been labeled with a reputation for being "high-society" activity. But, because they have, lots of people, fearful, have avoided such performances.

Too bad! They don't know what they've been missing. The good news is that those of us who have missed out until now need not miss out anymore! Especially for one event at this coming Christmas season.

When the Cooke County Chorale presents selections from Handel's "Messiah!" on Sunday, Dec. 1, at 3 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church, the opportunity to enjoy some very beautiful music is free for the listening. There is no admission charge.

The Chorale will be accompanied by a symphony orchestra whose appearance has been underwritten by contributions from a number of people endeavoring to enhance the program. All the singers are volunteers. In the large group are nine from Muenster.

Era begins construction on new campus facility

by Elaine Schad

The construction of a $1 million high school campus facility at Era is on schedule, with the slab scheduled to be poured last week, school board members were told during their regular November meeting.

There has been some weather delays, but dirt work has proceeded according to schedule, said Superintendent Dale Smiley. The 25,000-square-foot facility will include eight classrooms, two science laboratories, a computer classroom and a gymnasium. It is expected to be completed by the end of this school year.

School trustees approved six early release days that will be used for teacher in-service. Students will be dismissed at 1 p.m. on Nov. 27, Dec. 13, Jan. 24, Feb. 7, March 26 and April 23. During those afternoons, teachers will attend a one-hour mandatory workshop, then will have the option to attend two-hour workshops to complete their 20 hours of staff development, officials said. Included in the workshops will be a comprehensive AIDS prevention training session, revision of gifted and talented program areas, curriculum guide revision and computer usage updates.

In other business, the board:

- Approved four students' transfers into the district.
- Approved the appointment of two elementary and two secondary teachers to the District Educational Improvement Council.
- Cast all the district's votes for Arthur Felderhoff to serve on the board of the Cooke County Appraisal District.
- Approved an inter-local agreement with the Cooke County Special Education Cooperative.
- Held a first reading on the records management policy.

MUESTER VOLUNTEER FIREFIGHTERS responded to a call on Wednesday, Nov. 20 at 10:15 p.m. of a vehicle on fire about nine miles south of Muenster on FM 1630. The 1981 Ford 4-wheel drive vehicle, driven by Mindy Vagher, was pulling a trailer loaded with a horse. When Vagher noticed that her truck was on fire, she pulled out a saddle and her horse and rode to a nearby home to call for help. "The truck was a loss by the time we got there," said MVFD Chief Herbie Knabe. "It was just too far out." The department answered another call on Sunday. A bonfire from Saturday night, on land owned by Martin Trubenbach, wasn't completely extinguished and sparked a grass fire that burned a couple of acres. "Watch your burning," warns Knabe. "Dry conditions and low humidity create extreme fire hazard conditions."

New law encourages patients to know rights

Patient-Physician Communication Vital

Effective Dec. 1, 1991, every adult admitted to a U.S. hospital will receive information on patient treatment rights and advance directives to make their wishes known concerning the providing or withholding of medical care.

The increased focus on helping patients understand their rights is the result of a new federal law, the "Patient Self-Determination Act." The law is aimed at improving patient knowledge about freedom of choice and at fostering better communication among the patient, family and attending physician.

In the U.S., every adult of sound mind has a right to accept or refuse medical treatment, even if refusal might prolong an illness or lead to death. This freedom is enjoyed by every adult, provided the consequences of refusal are understood and will not injure another person.

This right of self-determination allows a patient to make all medical decisions, whether they be relatively simple (an epidural during childbirth?) or extremely difficult (withholding hydration and nutrition?). But there are times when a patient may be unable to communicate treatment desires. An accident might result in a coma, or an advanced medical problem may lead to incapacitation. In times like these, an advance directive helps physicians prescribe treatment based on patient desire. By using a directive, a person can indicate what kinds of life-sustaining procedures he wants withdrawn or withheld in the event of terminal illness.

In Texas, methods for preparing advance directives are established through the Natural Death Act and the Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care Act.

The new federal law will help disseminate information about patient rights and encourage individuals to exercise options for preparing advance directives.

Outlining Patient Rights, Hospital Policy

The federal Patient Self-Determination Act requires that hospitals and other Medicare providers give all adult patients written information on patient rights and hospital policy.

Patient Rights - This written information outlines freedom of individual choice under state law, including a person's right to accept or refuse medical treatment.

In Texas, hospitals will provide information on the Natural Death Act, which allows a person to request the withdrawal or withholding of medical care in the event of terminal illness, and the Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care Act, which allows the naming of a person to make even routine medical decisions, should the patient become incapacitated.

Hospital Policy - Written information must detail the hospital's policies with regard to implementing patient rights under state law. This policy will outline methods for providing information to patients; a method of documenting in the patient's medical record whether or not advance directives were issued; a statement assuring that execution or non-execution of an advance directive will have no effect on patient care; assurances that each of the provider's facilities are complying with state law regarding advance directives; and provisions to educate hospital staff and the community on advance directive issues.

The Patient Self-Determination Act does not prohibit a caregiver from refusing to implement an advance directive on the basis of conscience, if this refusal is allowed under state law. In Texas, the Natural Death Act allows a physician to refuse compliance with directives, and it protects the physician from civil or criminal liability if reasonable efforts are made to transfer the patient to another physician.

According to the new federal law, all adults, whether competent or incompetent, must receive the information when admitted as an inpatient to the hospital.

Texas' Natural Death Act

The Natural Death Act allows the withdrawal or withholding of medical care to be requested by a competent adult who is suffering from a terminal illness. This directive, often referred to as a "living will," may include instructions for a physician not to use mechanical or other artificial means of support when the only purpose of those measures is to postpone the natural dying process.

A directive outlining a patient's desires may be prepared at any time, but does not become operative until the patient is terminally ill.

There are specific guidelines for drafting a directive under this state law. The directive must be signed by the patient and witness.

MRS. MICHAEL JOHN HERMES
...nee Carla Raelene Rogers...

Couple exchanges vows Nov. 2 in St. Peter's Church

The wedding of Carla Raelene Rogers and Michael John Hermes was held in St. Peter's Catholic Church of Lindsay on Nov. 2, 1991, with Father Stephen Eckart, OSB, officiating for the double ring ceremony and celebrating the Nuptial Mass at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Rogers of Pampa and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hermes of Lindsay.

A graduate of Pampa High School in 1983, and of Texas Tech University in 1990, the bride holds a Bachelor's degree in International Trade, and is employed as Accountant/Cash Management by Dalcro. A graduate of Lindsay High School in 1983 and a 1990 graduate of Texas Tech with a Bachelor's degree in Marketing, the groom is employed by Leslie's.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing an antique ivory satin wedding gown with a sheath overlay of heavy lace encrusted with pearls and iridescents. Strands of pearls highlighted the deep cut back neckline. Long fitted sleeves were of matching lace. She carried a bridal bouquet of cream roses, and baby's breath entwined with lace and satin.

ATTENDANTS

Kelli Kesler of Kansas City, Missouri, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Becci Crain of Pampa, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Bromlow of Pampa, a friend, and Danita Neu of Denton, sister of the groom. They wore navy blue taffeta and lace tea-length dresses.

Flower girl was Maegan Crain of Pampa, bride's niece; and ring bearer was Casey Crain of Pampa, bride's nephew.

Standing with the groom as his best men were friends, Kevin Macready of Birmingham, Alabama and Ronnie Fleitman of Dallas. Groomsmen were Scott Hermes and Jeff Hermes, brothers of the groom of Lindsay.

Head usher was the bride's brother, Brent Rogers of Lubbock. Also ushering guests were Billy Crain of Pampa, bride's brother-in-law; Duane Neu of Denton, groom's brother-in-law; and Chris Hundt of Lindsay, groom's cousin.

Mass servers were Casey and Kyle Sandmann.

Wedding music was presented by Ruth Felderhoff, organist, and Christy Hesse and Roger Dieter, vocalists. Before Mass, Christy sang "Evergreen," and "At Last." As duets, both sang "You Are The Wind Beneath My Wings," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Take My Hand," "Wedding Song," "I Am The Bread Of Life," "In This Very Room" and "Ave Maria."

Organ solos were Clarke's "Trumpet Voluntary," "Pachelbel" and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Ivory, burgundy and blue carnations and roses were arranged on the altar and lace and satin fans and bows marked center aisle pews.

RECEPTION

A reception and seated dinner followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall of Gainesville.

Home-School Society plans Bake Sale for Dec. 6

The annual Christmas Bake Sale, sponsored by members of the Sacred Heart Home-School Society, will be held on Friday, Dec. 6, in the lobby of the Community Center building from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This announcement is made in advance of the date, to help everyone to plan for purchase of Christmas baked goods, either for immediate use, or to store in freezers for holiday use. It is also suggested as a reminder for parents of school children to bring in their baked goods on Dec. 6.

One more thought, say the sponsors, is to give the children enough coins to let them buy their snacks at the bake sale.

Presiding at the guest book was Diane Bopp of Dallas, a friend of the bride.

The bride's table was covered with white cloths and accented with burgundy satin bows.

The three-tiered white wedding cake, placed over a lighted fountain, was made by Betty Rose Walterscheid. It was made more elegant with stairways leading to smaller cakes, and figurines dressed as bridesmaids and groomsmen. A bride and groom ornament graced the top keepsake layer.

Reception assistants included Betty Rose Walterscheid of Muenster, who cut the wedding cake, Connie Stump, bride's cousin who cut the groom's cake, and cake servers were Julie and Emily Zimmerer, Anna Bayer, Emily Schadt and Diane Schadt.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom's parents, was held at the Holiday Inn of Gainesville.

Since returning from a wedding trip to Ocho Rios, Jamaica, the couple is residing in Dallas.

MPS second graders visit the Muenster Post Office

The Muenster Public School second grade classes of Melinda Fuhrmann and Sharon Hermes enjoyed a visit to the Post Office in Muenster on Thursday, Nov. 7, 1991. Dan Luke drove the students by bus, and the classes were joined by room mothers Susie Fleitman and Kathy Bauer. Linda Fuhrmann gave students a tour of the post office.

The students recently studied how a letter travels in Social Studies and were excited to see this process in real life. Students brought their own letters to mail to themselves and enjoyed receiving them in the mail.

Linda Fuhrmann began by showing students the carts that mail is transported in. Next, she allowed students to find where their own mail is placed, either in the post office or another place to be taken to routes. This was a favorite part of the trip for many. Last, students were shown various types of stamps and how stamps are cancelled. The day was a learning experience for all.

It was considered a special treat to have the baby's great-aunt, Betty Ann Hoenig Blockus, attend while visiting from Shickshinny, Pennsylvania.

The mother-to-be is the former Dianne Youngblood and is the wife of Bryan Hoenig. They reside in Gainesville.

SACRED HEART SCHOOL KINDERGARTENERS and their teachers presented a play at St. Richard's Villa Thursday, Nov. 21, as part of their studies on customs of Thanksgiving Day. They constructed their costumes out of paper sacks. Part of their project, back at school, was churning butter, roasting pumpkin seeds and making bread. They also earned $24.75 for a gift certificate for a needy family, by doing chores and odd jobs for grandmothers and moms.

Lindsay's Franciscan Fraternity plans for December events

During the Nov. 21 meeting of the St. Peter's Parish Franciscan Fraternity, held in the home of Mrs. Mary Stoffels, the membership made plans for election of officers during the January, 1992 meeting, but to defer the business meeting during December. Instead, the fraternity's traditional Crib Service will be held on Dec.

29, following the 10 a.m. Sunday Mass.

In response to a letter the fraternity received from Bishop Peter in India, members voted to send a contribution of $2,000 to him for support of a Seminarian. Members also agreed to sponsor a "Littlest Angel" for Christmas this year.

The fraternity received a request from Anna Kramer SFO for a spiritual bouquet to be presented to Minister Richard Morton upon his retirement after long years of service to the Lay Franciscans. It was combined with many other spiritual bouquets which have been presented at the Provincial Council Meeting.

A report was made on the shipment of two packages of Catholic literature and rosaries to two prisons. The chaplains of both prisons responded with thanks.

After the close of the meeting, a "housewarming" party surprised the hostess, Mrs. Mary Stoffels. The fraternity gifted her with a statue of St. Francis of Assisi and members brought a shower of gifts which were opened and displayed.

Refreshments of angel food cake and coffee, mints and nuts were served by Elvira Flusche.

KIRK HAVERKAMP

Kirk celebrates sixth birthday with two parties

Kirk Haverkamp celebrated his sixth birthday on Sunday, Nov. 3, at the home of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schilling of Muenster. Kirk Haverkamp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Haverkamp of Watauga. His actual birthday is Nov. 6.

Guests included grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schilling and Mr. and Mrs. Benny Haverkamp; and Jim and Cindy Gehrig and family; Yvonne and Bob Ambrose and family; Joe and Amber Bedolla; Kerry Dangelmayr; Jeanie and Shawn Hess; Steve and Marla Fette and family.

On his birthday, Kirk's football team, "The Bantam Cardinals," celebrated his birthday and a win over "The Bantam Raiders," with the R.Y.A. (Richland Youth Association) football league.

Football was the theme of his birthday party. Hamburgers and the trimmings were served to his guests. Presents were then opened while pictures and movies were made. Homemade ice cream and cake were served later. The cake was in the shape of a football field with football cards in the middle of the field. Guests enjoyed playing football, baseball and other games.

Also, Kirk's football team, "The Bantam Cardinals," advanced to the Super Bowl Nov. 23 and was defeated 8-7 over "The Bantam Cowboys" in the last two minutes of the game.

NOTICE!

St. Joseph's and St. Anne's Societies of Sacred Heart Parish will have their regular meeting on Sunday, Dec. 1, at 6 p.m. in the Community Center meeting room. They will be followed with a Christmas party. Each member is to bring chips, dip or cookies.

"Light Up A Life" fundraiser begins

A number of Muenster volunteers are included among the 135 members of Home Hospice of Cooke County, an organization that offers nursing care, as well as physical support to terminally ill patients in their own home. More than 40 families have been served during the past year. The goal of the auxiliary is to provide service to all who request help for a family member.

The 1991 fundraising campaign will begin Dec. 1 at 2 p.m. with formal opening ceremonies at Beall's Department Store in Gainesville. Dr. Harry Roark and Jerry Meece will preside and the Gainesville Community Chorus will perform, followed by the lighting of the "Light Up A Life" Christmas tree.

With each $10 donation, an angel will be placed on the tree in memory of, or in tribute to, a friend or family member, making the Christmas tree a Celebration of Life tree for all of Cooke County.

Gainesville Muenster, Lindsay, Lake Kiowa, Valley View, Rosston, Callisburg, Mountain Springs and all points in between are represented in the countywide membership. All donations, large or small, are accepted gratefully. Members of the Hospice Auxiliary will attend the trees throughout the campaign.

After the dedication ceremonies at Beall's Dept. Store, a second decorated tree will be placed in Tom Thumb Grocery Store on Grand Avenue. Angels to represent a loved one, living or deceased, may also be placed on the Tom Thumb Celebration of Life tree.

Muenster volunteers will be working on Dec. 6, Dec. 14, and Dec. 19, in shifts from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Fourth graders hear talks from local officials

To compliment a unit of study on national, state and local government, the fourth grade class at Muenster Public School invited a county commissioner, Muenster's mayor and a school board member to speak to their class on Wednesday, Nov. 20.

Heather Hess invited her dad, County Commissioner Virgil Hess; Craig Hartman's guest was his dad, Tom Hartman, a Muenster school board member; and Jackie Henschel invited the mayor of Muenster, Ted Henschel, who is her great uncle.

Each of these elected officials told the class of the duties and responsibilities of their jobs. The class members then asked them questions. Mr. Hess gave the class maps of Cooke County so that each student can locate his/her home. Mr. Henschel gave each student a Muenster logo sticker.

The class enjoyed the informative visit and wishes to thank Mr. Hartman, Mr. Hess and Mr. Henschel for taking the time to come and talk to the class.

Holiday fireworks planned for Six Flags

The holiday season gets off to a spectacular start Friday night as Six Flags Over Texas and KSCS Radio present the third annual performance of "Holiday Fireworks In Stereo."

The 20-minute aerial display uses only fireworks in the traditional Christmas colors red, green and gold with occasional showers of silver to simulate snowflakes.

The entire show is choreographed to stereo holiday music broadcast over radio station KSCS-FM.

The 8 p.m. performance is a highlight of the opening night of Six Flags' traditional Holiday In The Park event. The musical accompaniment will be through the park's public address system, or motorists parked in the vicinity of the park can hear the stereo broadcast by tuning their radios to 96.3 on the FM dial.

The display is fired from a location near Six Flags' entry lake and is visible over a wide area. The show is fired electronically by technicians listening to cues synchronized with the taped music.

VFW and Auxiliary hold District meet in Bonham

Bonham's VFW and Auxiliary No. 4852 hosted the District 1 meeting on Nov. 8 and 9, 1991 in their post home.

Sunday, at 10:30 a.m., the District Cancer Chairman Jolene Elliot from Sherman conducted an awareness program about cancer and showed an informative film on the choices one has for treatment of the disease.

Immediately following this program, the Buddy Poppy Fashion Show took place. Sherman Auxiliary No. 2772 won first place, Plano No. 4380 won second and Muenster Auxiliary No. 6205 placed third. Frances Bayer, local president, made and modeled the poppy dress, hat and earrings, on which she used 625 Buddy Poppies and spent some 12 hours designing and making the outfit. Mary L. Voirin of Farmersville is the chairman.

Third grade makes automobiles by Mark Flusche

Recently, the third grade has been working on a very unique project. Some of the third graders brought boxes to school, then they got a good idea from their teacher,

Mr. Kohler, to make the boxes into cars. This turned out to be a very elaborate project, and the students got very involved. One group created a car, and the other group put together a Peterbilt truck. The truck had almost everything a real truck would have. It had a CB, lights, a steering wheel, windshield, wires, and many other details. The car had a speedometer, a trunk, a hood and all the gauges. If you lift the hood on the car, there is the engine made out of cardboard and other simple things. Both of these projects were a work of great creativity on the part of the students, it takes a lot of imagination to turn cardboard and other simple things such as butter dishes and shampoo bottles into detailed models of cars and trucks.

The creators of the Peterbilt truck are Travis Bayer, Charlie Moster, Jeff Hartman and Keith Felderhoff. The creators of the car are Diane Becker, Kenneth Grewing, Grace Hacker and Nicholas Taylor.

VFW Auxiliary plans for Christmas

The Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW Post 6205 held regular meeting Nov. 18 in the Post Home; President Frances Bayer presided. Roll call and minutes were read by Ida Bindel, secretary. Lucille Hesse gave the treasurer's report.

It was voted to contribute to the cancer aid and research fund,

Christmas Cheer Fund and Hospital Pledge.

Plans were made for the Christmas Party for pre-school children and grandchildren of members on Thursday, Dec. 12, at 9:30 at the Post Home.

"In Lieu of Christmas Cards" Chairmen Juanita Knabe and Julie Cunningham are asking everyone to turn in their names and contributions early, so they can be printed in The Enterprise. These monies are used locally for those in need or distress.

Members brought gifts to be taken to the Denton State School. Anyone wanting to contribute may leave items at Ben Franklin Store or give to Agnes Hesse.

Frances Bayer reported on District I meeting on Bonham, where she won third place in the Buddy Poppy Fashion Show.

Juanita Knabe served lunch to 15 members. Julie Cunningham won the door prize.

Next meeting will be a covered dish lunch with the VFW on Dec. 9 in the Post Home.

ed by two persons, with severe restrictions placed on who may serve as witnesses. The directive may be verbal or drafted via another non-written means of communication, but must be done in the presence of the attending physician and two eligible witnesses.

The patient issuing a directive must be a competent adult. An advance directive may be prepared on behalf of someone under age 18 by that minor person's adult spouse, parents or legal guardian.

Before a directive may be carried out, the terminal illness must be confirmed and certified by two physicians. The directive may be revoked at any time, even in the final stages of a terminal illness. The expressed desire to receive life-sustaining treatment at all times supersedes the directive.

In times where a directive has not been executed and a terminally ill patient is unable to communicate, family members or the patient's guardian and the attending physician work together to make decisions about life-sustaining treatment.

Texas' Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care Act

The Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care Act offers more flexibility than the Natural Death Act. It allows a patient to name another person to direct medical decisions, even routine procedures, in the event of incapacitation. Unlike the Natural Death Act, use of the durable power of attorney is not restricted to life-death treatment questions involving a terminally ill patient.

In preparing a power of attorney under the Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care Act, specific procedures must be followed. The document must be signed by the patient and two qualified witnesses, and it must be affirmed that the patient appeared to be of sound mind, was aware of the nature of the document, and signed voluntarily and while free of duress. The person given power of attorney for health care may exercise authority only if the patient's attending physician, following specific guidelines, judges that the patient lacks the capacity to make health care decisions. The transfer of power is revoked if the patient regains decision-making capabilities.

The person making medical decisions on behalf of the patient is responsible for following the patient's wishes, based on either guidelines in the power of attorney or using the best assessment of the patient's desires. There are, however, five areas where authority cannot be transferred from the patient: voluntary inpatient mental health services, convulsive treatment, psychosurgery, abortion and discontinuing care intended to provide for the patient's comfort.

Deadline for 'In Lieu of Christmas Cards' Dec. 13

The VFW Ladies Auxiliary to Post 6205 invites everyone to participate in their fundraiser, "In Lieu of Christmas Cards." The project, which has been sponsored by the Auxiliary for a number of years, allows participants to send greetings to friends, neighbors and relatives via an ad which is published in The Muenster Enterprise. The monetary donation is put into a special relief fund and is eventually used locally in helping those in the community who are in need, through illness or misfortune.

Sponsors are suggesting a minimum of $5.00 per family and/or household but hope that participants will let the donation reflect the amount usually spent on Christmas cards and postage, considering also the time saved during this busy time of the year.

Anyone wishing to participate in this 'caring' and 'sharing' program is urged to send the donations along with the name as it should appear in the ad.

It is very important to please write clearly. Deadline for "In Lieu of Christmas Cards" is Dec. 13, since the publishing date of The Muenster Enterprise for Christmas is Dec. 20. Please remember the deadline and send your information and donation to the chairmen: Juanita Knabe, 520 N. Walnut, Muenster, TX 76252, or Julia Cunningham, 221 N. Hickory, Muenster, TX 76252, or give to Frances Bayer.

Hornets to play Oakwood in Regional

Muenster defeats 8th ranked Blue Ridge Tigers in Area Playoffs

For a while Friday night it looked as though Muenster may have ended their football season, but outstanding defense by the Hornets ended the game with a 16-12 Area Championship over the Blue Ridge Tigers in Plano. Muenster's first quarter mistakes slowed their scoring attempts, but Blue Ridge was equal in turnovers. "We took advantage of their mistakes, they didn't on ours," said Horner Coach Grady Roller. "The wind controlled the entire game. We wanted to score first go for 2, because their 2-point PAT has not been successful. Then they would have to play catch up and it worked," continued Roller.

Muenster started the first quarter with the wind to their back, but three turnovers that period prevented the Hornets from hitting pay dirt until late in the quarter. Blue Ridge mustered only two yards their first drive. A 5-yard penalty forced a punt on 4th and 13.

DOUG HENNIGAN is the Horner defender on this incomplete pass. Neither Kenneth Hargrove (15) nor Steve Richardson (33) could snag it.

Two runs by Mike Vogel and Ryan Sicking gained nine yards, but on third down a fumbled ball was covered by Blue Ridge on their 34-yard line. The Tigers moved the ball into the Hornets' end of the field, but Muenster's defense held, again, making Blue Ridge punt.

From their 25-yard line on 1st down, quarterback Mike Gobble found Doug Hennigan for a 32-yard gain. An attempted second pass was picked off and the Tigers gained control on their 31. "The interception should have had a flag thrown," said Roller. "They knocked Steven down long before the ball arrived. That was a break for Blue Ridge. It should have been a touchdown for us."

The next play Blue Ridge lost the ball when Doug Hennigan covered a fumbled ball on the Tigers' 31-yard line. The Hornets' next run coughed the ball right back to their opponents, putting the Tigers deep in their own territory on the 17.

The Hornets' defense again prevented Blue Ridge from picking up the needed yardage. Muenster's first break occurred when the Tiger punter kneeled down, giving the Hornets the ball just 11 yards from the end zone. Ryan Sicking carried the ball to the 7, Mike Vogel to the 2, then Vogel took it in for six points.

Vogel also added the extra points, giving the Hornets an 8-0 score with 1:36 on the first quarter clock.

The Hornets once more stopped the Tiger offense, forcing a punt on 4th and 9. Starting at midfield Muenster moved into the second quarter, but was forced to punt when they came up four yards short that drive.

The Tigers fumbled on the second play of their next drive, with Tony Perryman covering the ball on the Tiger's 42-yard line. Mike Vogel ran two plays, but again on 3rd and 1 the Hornets fumbled the ball back to Blue Ridge in their fourth turnover of the night.

Blue Ridge slowly moved the ball downfield for six plays before punting back to the Hornets. Starting on their 10-yard line, runs by Mike Vogel, Ryan Sicking and Mike Gobble were included in the twelve plays that took the Hornets to the Tigers' 36-yard line before time ran out and the teams went into the locker rooms to warmup point," said Roller. "But the players made the call and Vogel stretched it out."

Blue Ridge controlled the ball their next possession, moving the ball 79 yards in 9 plays, the last a 43-yard touchdown run. The Tigers' extra point attempt failed once more when the Hornets stopped the runner by closing any holes in the line. Muenster had a four point lead, 16-12.

The Hornets had trouble moving the ball into the wind. An attempt to angle the kick to the short side of the field was unsuccessful and the wind brought the ball back for no gain.

This gave Blue Ridge the ball on their 24-yard line. A holding call assisted Muenster, leaving the Tigers with a 4th and 11 on the 26-yard line. An attempted field goal had a good snap, but the ball was short and the Hornets regained possession with little time remaining in the game. Muenster attempted to run out the clock as they moved the ball downfield. Vogel and Sicking took the ball into Tiger territory. A good 14-yard gain by Vogel was called back on a late clipping flag. So on 4th and 7 the Hornets ran a reverse to run out the time, but they didn't pick up the needed yardage.

From midfield, a Tiger pass took the ball to the 9-yard line. A quarterback sack by Mike Hacker set Blue Ridge back four yards. With only 17 seconds to play and no timeouts, the Tigers went to the air. Their first attempt was knocked down by a trio of Hornets, Ryan Sicking covered the next and the final was missed by the receiver. The defense applied pressure on the quarterback, assisting in the missed attempts. Muenster took over as time ran out.

"The boys played their hearts out, you can't say enough about the team," said the Horner coach. "I'm proud as can be."

Muenster offense was led by Ryan Sicking, Mike Vogel, Doug Hennigan and Mike Gobble, with the offensive line credited for some great blocking.

Steven Fisher, Ryan Sicking and Doug Hennigan were noted for their defense along with the defensive ends, linebackers and Chris Kubis, Jason Biffle and Mike Hacker for fumble recoveries.

The Hornets will take on the Oakwood Panthers in Regional competition Friday, Nov. 29. "They're as big as trees and fast," stated Roller. "They run good, have a good quarterback that throws and a good receiver. They have a tremendously good ball club." The Panthers lost seven players from their 1990 Semi-Finalist team and hold a 9-2 record this season.

The contest will be played at Royse City Bulldog stadium. Muenster played their Bi-District game with Wortham last year on this field. Some Horner fans will be glad to hear that Oakwood has to travel 25 miles further to this playoff game than Muenster.

The Hornets will be without the talents of senior Chris Kubis, who received a dislocated shoulder when he collided with a Blue Ridge player last week. Mike Vogel bruised his knee but will see plenty of action against Oakwood.

Game time is 8:00 p.m., with admission set at $4 for adults and $2 for students. Muenster is the home team.

Muenster roundballers win against all odds

Muenster varsity Lady Hornets took an upsetting 35-30 victory last week in a hard-fought battle in Paradise. Both teams were playing tough defense with no lead larger than 2 points for 3½ quarters. "The girls played great team defense," said Muenster Coach Brian Strother. "We had no breaks." Muenster had 13 fouls, while Paradise was charged with only 2.

When the game was tied 26-26, the Lady Hornets were looking for a good shot and found one when Danell Reiter passed to Theresa Kubis for a 3-pointer to take a

Tigerettes open season with win

A tenacious defense balanced with a high octane offense have pushed the Tigerettes off to a 2-0 start. Opening in Fort Worth last Saturday against Calvary Baptist, the Tigerettes scored a 53-19 win and Tuesday evening in the Tiger Den, the Tigerettes clawed the Lady Dragons of Chico by a 61-21 count. "Anytime you open on the road with a win, it's a big way to start the season and, of course, you always want to get that home opener," said Coach LeBrasseur.

In Fort Worth, the Tigerettes started slow as the first game jitters were apparent. Late in the first period, the Texas team exploded to give the Tigerettes a 14-4 first-period edge. Shirley Henscheid hit for 5 in the period to ignite the attack. Four steals in the second period by senior point guard Jennifer Walter led to a 17-point period and a 31-13 Tigerette edge at the intermission.

The final half the Tigerette defense improved and held Calvary to 6 points while the Tigerettes hit for 22 and the 53-19 win. Six points by Jo Vagher and 5 by April Truebenbach topped the Tigerette scores in the second half.

Scoring for the Tigerettes were: Jo Vagher with 12 points as she connected on all 6 of her field goal attempts. Deann Bayer score 9 and led all Tigerette rebounders with 11. Shirley Henscheid 8, April Truebenbach 7, Deanna Hess and Jennifer Walter 5 each, Kelly Dangelmayr swished 4, Mandy Barnhill 2 and Christy Yosten 1.

Tigerettes 61, Chico 21

Eight first-half points by Vickie Bayer and 6 by forward teammate Christy Yosten pushed the Tigerettes to a 33-10 halftime edge over the Lady Dragons of Chico. "The girls are really beginning to understand the correct rotations of our defense," said Coach LeBrasseur. "Their effort is always great, but now they are meshing together as a unit. I was very impressed with our defensive play!"

Vickie Bayer scored 14 points, grabbed 9 rebounds and handed out 8 assists in what Coach LeBrasseur called, "the best game of her career!" Deann Bayer played another solid game with 12 points and collected 11 steals. Christy Yosten scored 8, Mandy Barnhill found the touch for 7 and Jennifer Walter displayed some slick ball-handling along with netting 6. Jo Vagher continued to shoot 100 percent from the field as she scored 6. Shirley Henscheid hit for 4 and Julie Felderhoff and Erica Schilling rounded out the scoring with 4 each. The Tigerettes hit on 26 of 76 from the field and 9 of 11 from the charity line.

29-26 lead and keep the lead. With less than a minute to go, with a 1-point lead, DaLana Walterscheid iced 2 free throws and Dianne Pagel finished with a lay-up to win. "The girls earned this win with great defense and a lot of heart," said Coach Strother. DaLana Walterscheid was the leading scorer for Muenster with 10 points with Theresa Kubis clipping in 9. Amy Otto was the team's leading rebounder.

Junior High/Junior Varsity Action

S.H. vs. Gold-Burg

Playing great man-to-man defense and an up-tempo offense boosted the Sacred Heart Lady Cubs to an impressive 53-29 season opening win over the visitors from Gold-Burg.

Eighth graders Karri Endres and Nicole Endres lit the scoreboard for 20 and 13 points respectively. Great defense by Dobe Fleitman led to double figure scoring with 10. A solid floor game from Tanya Knauf, along with 4 points, and 4 points from classmate Brandi Gilpin were cited. Corey Hess rounded out the scoring with 2. Leslie Grewing was unable to break into the scoring column but was commended for an outstanding defensive game as was Anna Fette.

Muenster vs. Paradise

Muenster junior varsity girls earned their first season victory Saturday defeating Paradise 31-27. "We started off hot, with a 16-4 lead, but in the second half our defense saved the game," said Coach Brian Strother.

Kim Stewart was high Hornette scorer with 11 points, with Sabrina Truebenbach adding 10. "Amy Fisher had a good game at point guard," continued Strother, "the girls played hard and their defense resulted in them winning. Jill Reiter, Fisher and Joy Tisdale also scored.

Muenster "B" vs. Alvord

The Muenster junior high "B" teams hosted Alvord last Thursday night and came out on the short end of the stick. "For the first game of their young careers, the girls really hustled all over the floor," commented Coach Brian Strother. "Our shooting was a little hard." The game remained close until the fourth quarter when Alvord took a 14-6 win. Scoring for Muenster were Becky Fette, Holly Mullins and Jennifer Sicking with 2 points apiece.

The boys came close to beating the Puppies. "They played hard and wore down Alvord to pull to 16-13 at the end of the game, but that's where the scoring ended," said the coach. The young Stingers were led by Greg Fisher with 8 points. John Tuggle added 3 and Michael Drachenburg hit 2.

Contest goes into overtime!

As the football contest continues into the playoffs with the Muenster Hornets, Bonnie and Nick Stoffels continue the lead for the grand season cash prizes.

Week twelve was won by Peachie Huchton, who correctly guessed 21 games. Henry Kessler and Wayne Klement picked 20 games, but Kessler finished in second place with a 3-point spread on the tiebreaker game. Klement's guessed score was off 10 points. Mickey Haverkamp settled for fourth place with 19 games while Neil Huchton, Mark Klement, Bonnie Stoffels, Mike Stoffels and Terry Walterscheid correctly picked 18 games. The low score was nine. Weekly winners picked up their cash prizes at the tiebreaker sponsor, Wimmer Diesel.

Of the 37 entries, everyone correctly guessed Italy and A&M as winners. Eleven picked Muenster to lose while only nine believed Oakwood would win. Four went with the Cowboys to win, while only one picked TCU over Houston.

In the season contest Stoffels and Stoffels lead with percentages of .742 and .734. J.B. Grey follows in third at .728, with Mike Stoffels close at .727. Chris Stoffels in is fifth place with a percentage of .716 and Henry Kessler follows at .712.

In close competition are Edna Hermes, Neil and Peachie Huchton, all with a .708; Bubba Swirczynski with .706, and Terry Walterscheid with .705.

The contest will continue as the Hornets advance in the state playoffs.

S.H. vs. Terral

Nicole Endres lit the scoreboard for 16 points in leading the Lady Cubs to their second win in as many starts. Endres hit for 14 of her team-high 16 in the first half and eighth grade teammate Karri Endres scored all of her 4 as the Lady Cubs jumped to a 27-5 halftime lead.

Dobe Fleitman ripped the nets for 8, Leslie Grewing and Brandy Fleitman each hit 4, Tanya Knauf controlled the boards and chipped in with 3. Two each from Anna Fette and Corey Hess rounded out the Lady Cub scoring.

Next action will be Monday, Dec. 2, at 5:30 p.m. at Montague, followed by junior boys and 9th girls vs. Nocona 9th girls.

Muenster vs. Alvord

"Our girls have high expectations for their team," said Coach Brian Strother as the Muenster junior high Lady Hornets earned a 33-28 victory in their season opener against Alvord last week.

The girls played hard and started off with two 3-pointers by Audrey Knabe, then the offense went cold. The halftime score was 12-12. "We started to relax in the third quarter," continued Strother. "Our offense started going and we turned the defense up another level."

Carrie Hess led the quarter with 6 of her team-high 15 points. "Carrie and Andrea Klement started grabbing rebounds," said the coach. "Melissa Biffle, Julia Fleitman and Misty Klement came off the bench and shut down the Alvord girls the final quarter." Audrey Knabe added 8 points and ran well on both sides of the court. Melissa Biffle, Julia Fleitman and Andrea Klement also added points to the scoreboard. "It was close down to the wire; these girls expected to win and they found the way. It was a great team effort," concluded Strother.

Muenster stretched the lead to 21-11 at halftime, then ran away with the third quarter, building a 40-14 lead, which Alvord never overcame.

Muenster was led by Steven Reiter with 9 points, Darrell Charles 8, Cody Sicking and Eric Miller with 7 each. Also James Klement added 5 and Jason Sicking scored 4, with Jeff Felderhoff and Jeff Flusche rounding out the scoring.

ference in tiller numbers between early- and late-planted wheat. Also, higher seeding rates in later planted wheat can help reduce the loss that might occur due to fewer tiller numbers. You should up seeding rates to 100 plus pounds on late plantings.

Late planted wheat will also mature late. The best wheat yields come from early maturing wheats because disease pressure as well as heat and drought stress are greatest later in the growing season. Producers planting late should select a leaf rust resistant variety and carefully evaluate the need for a fungicide application when the flag leaf exerts in the spring. Dry spring weather can inflict substantial yield losses on later maturing wheat. Producers planning to sew into existing stands will experience approximately 4 to 5 days difference in maturity. Consideration should be given to sewing into existing stand areas that are weak. I would be somewhat hesitant to take out stands that are 75 to 80 percent emerged and totally replant.

Mike Gobble is the quarterback. The pass went to Doug Hennigan for a third quarter touchdown.

Two more important points are scored by Hornet fullback Mike Vogel (33) as he breaks through the pile-up and over a defending Tiger.

Part of the Hornet defense, Steven Fisher (30), Doug Hennigan (34), Chris Kubis (60) and Rodney Vogel.

sort out any hulls and sticks that may have remained. The nuts are again dropped into gunny sacks and then transported to the pecan warehouse.

At the pecan warehouse, the harvested fruit is put through one more blower which is designed to blow out lightweight pecans, most of which have no fruit inside because of insects. "If you sell people pecans with a lot of bad ones, they won't come back again," said Schmidtkofer.

Finally, most of the pecans are cracked and put in sacks of 10 pounds each for sale. The Schmidtkofers have three automatic crackers in their warehouse. A cracker can crack about a pound of pecans a minute. "The Sioux variety cracks good, some varieties don't," remarked Mr. Schmidtkofer. "About 95 percent of the papershells that we make this year will be Sioux and we sell almost all of them cracked. Because of their smaller size, they sell better already cracked."

Louise Schmidtkofer takes care of the customers that call on Schmidtkofers' Pecan Warehouse to purchase pecans. The warehouse is located near the Schmidtkofer home just off of the Old Callisburg Road east of Gainesville.

Displayed on the warehouse walls are a number of ribbons that George won in pecan shows over the years, and two newspaper articles (one from the Denton Record Chronicle in 1985, the other from The Dallas Morning News in 1971) that featured Schmidtkofers' pecan orchard. There are first place ribbons from North Texas and Southern Oklahoma pecan shows and Cooke County shows.

The last show that Schmidtkofer entered was in Montague County in 1974. He brought home a beautiful Reserve Champion ribbon and a billfold. "I haven't entered a show since then because they are always held during our busy season," said George.

November and December are the busiest months for pecan growers, but harvesting isn't the only thing involved in keeping a productive orchard. Mr. Schmidtkofer cites a good spraying program as most important in maintaining pecan groves. The trees are sprayed at least five times a year.

In the spring, a nutritional spraying of zinc sulfate is done to fulfill the trees' need for zinc. At least four more sprayings are made to control destructive insects. According to Schmidtkofer, the three most destructive insects are the casebearer, shuckworm and, in September, the weevil.

Propane scareaway guns are used to keep crows away. Squirrels are another problem in pecan orchards, but Schmidtkofers' orchards haven't been bothered with the furry pests this year. The grass around the trees is well-manicured, requiring frequent mowings.

"We didn't make a pecan last year," George commented. "It was the only time since 1962 that we didn't gather some pecans. I didn't get the picker out last year. There was a hard freeze in the fall of 1989 while the sap was still up in the trees. It killed some of them. We can overcome most everything, but the weather we can't. We don't have much control of it."

Schmidtkofer purchased more land in 1973. It had many young native pecan trees growing on it. To these, he grafted Sioux so that from four feet up, the trees are now Sioux. "Most of my papershell production comes from Sioux that has been grafted to native trees," he said. He only planted about 200 trees and these were mainly Sioux with a few Choctaw and Apache.

Mr. Schmidtkofer anticipates that the demand for pecans might be higher this year since there were very few pecans produced in this area last year. He expects to harvest around 30,000 to 40,000 pounds of pecans, half of which are native. He has leased some of his trees out, because it was too much for him and his daughter to keep up with.

Besides growing pecans, George raises a few cattle. Polly and her husband, Earl Brinkley, own Trees and Things Nursery in Gainesville. Polly can be found working there when she isn't busy in the pecan harvest. Earl is employed at Valenite. They have three children, Ryan 13, Georgie 12, and Jacob 10. During pecan harvest, the boys are sometimes recruited on Saturdays to help with the pecans.

Problems with late planted wheat

Wheat growers still waiting to plant their crop due to rain delays need to be aware of the consequences of late planting.

Problems associated with planting wheat later than the optimum date include the potential for reduced yields due to inadequate vernalization, possible winter kill and reduced vegetative development. Vernalization refers to the number of chilling hours below a threshold temperature of about 40 degrees F. that are required by a particular variety for normal head development and grain yield.

In the case of inadequate vernalization, the more northern areas of the state will experience less problems than southern regions with their milder climate. Every winter wheat variety has some vernalization requirements below which yield will suffer due to an inadequate period of cold weather during vegetative growth.

Wheats well adapted to South Texas will not normally require a great number of chilling hours while those common to the High Plains and North Texas generally require considerably more.

If winter wheats can be planted and a stand achieved in December in North Texas, yields usually will not be limited by lack of vernalization. Studies have shown that in abnormally cold years, planting as late as December 20 had little effect on wheat yields. For Cooke County, it is a hard decision as to cut off date. However, December 10 to a late date of December 15 would be a good planting cut off to shoot for.

Although winter wheat is well adapted to cold temperatures and can stand extremely hard freezes without significant damages, wheat does not grow at temperatures below 40 degrees F. So, wheat planted in December will have little opportunity to make any significant growth before warmer spring weather.

The greatest injury to wheat planted late will be in fields where plants do not emerge until early December. Stands that have not developed secondary root systems or produced tillers suffer somewhat erratic stand losses. Loss of young wheat is due, in part, to shallow root systems. Shallow roots are more vulnerable in dry soil conditions than wet.

Another potential for yield loss in late-planted wheat is due to lack of vegetative development in the fall, particularly the lack of tiller development. Tillers are seconddary shoots that develop from the main stem and produce at least half the wheat heads in most fields. Yield is equal to head numbers times the number of seed per head times average seed weight. The reduced opportunity for late-planted wheat to tiller in the fall can reduce the potential number of wheat heads, thus leading to lower yields. However, favorable spring weather or a mild winter could result in little difference.
