RODEO DADS CHANGE DATE TO JUNE 26-27

Directors Plan for Street Dance, Sponsors' Events; Call for Stockholders' Meeting

Scurry County's 1942 rodeo season is just around the corner!

So announced directors of the Scurry County Rodeo Association Wednesday, after decision was reached to move the rodeo time clock up from August 7 and 8 and stage the county's sixth annual rodeo for 1942 Friday and Saturday, June 26-27.

J. C. Dorward, president of the association, issued a call this week for a mass meeting of all rodeo association stockholders, to be held Tuesday evening, June 9, 8:00 o'clock, at the American Legion hut.

Announcement was made this week that prelude to the county's sixth annual boots and saddle roundup will be staged Thursday night, June 25, in the form of the annual street dance on the square.

All Scurry County communities which plan to enter cowgirl sponsors in the sponsors' events are urged to contact O. D. McGlaun, rodeo asberg, who will have charge of the sociation secretary, Henry Rosencowgirl sponsor events, or J. O. Stimson, arena director for this year's rodeo.

Mrs. Whit Thompson has been named chaperon for cowgirl sponsors, and will preside at the sponsor dance and other entertainments for the girls.

Approximately $1,300 in cash prizes, U. S. war bonds and defense stamps will be awarded winners in the sixth annual rodeo. Association officials believe in going "all out" to aid America's war effort.

"Now, why plan on spending your vacation away from home?" rodeo officials ask, "when you can find plenty of entertainment at the rodeo and save on tires, expenses and still have a doggone good time."

Dorward announces that the rodeo grounds, changed to Northeast Snyder, are being rapidly put in shape. A grand stand, bleachers and other seats will be in place by the time the rodeo gets underway, and ample parking space for hundreds of automobiles is being arranged. Officials plan to find every car a parking spot this years.

Further announcement concerning the sixth annual rodeo June 26 and 27 will be carried in next week's Times.

Mate of Big Spring, Buffalo Trail Council field executive who has been serving the Snyder Boy Scout District the past three months, has accepted appointment as area executive in charge of the Shenandoah Council in Virginia, an announcement Wednesday by Buffalo Trail Council officials reveals.

Mate moved to the Buffalo Trail Council area in May of 1939 to obtain his first professional scouting experience. After a year at Odessa, he was shifted to Big Spring—from which point he served four districts of the Buffalo Trail Council area.

Mate has become popular with Boy Scouts and Scoutmasters throughout the Snyder District. His promotion places him in charge of a nine-county council area with 43 active troops. He will headquarter at Winchester, Virginia.

Record Payment on Ira Fire Announced

Bishop Jr. of the school states announcement on when construction work gets underway will be made to the public within the next few days.

Dunn Graduates Hear Bullock in Friday Program

Speaking on "Your Responsibilities as Leaders of Tomorrow," Pat Bullock, 118th District representative, told members of the 1942 Dunn School senior class Friday evening that they should "train for some specialized type of leadership in order that America may win the peace—as well as the war."

"As graduates of Dunn School," Bullock pointed out, "you can have a part in the tremendous job of rebuilding the world of tomorrow. Your degree of success in our post-war world will be governed by how well you take advantage of every opportunity—no matter how small such opportunity may appear."

Presentation of diplomas to the nine graduates was made by Superintendent O. K. Davis to the following: T. E. Grimes Jr., valedictorian; Merrian Crowder, salutatorian; Bonnie Durham, Yvonne Harrison, Sue Denson, Billy Joe Denson, Ather Ellis, Charles Merritt and Wayne Cotton.

Promotion exercises for the Dunn eighth graders was held last Thursday evening, 9:00 o'clock, in the school gymnasium.

BMA Meeting at Canyon Attended By Large Crowds

Unusually good representation from Baptist Churches in the area marked the fifth Sunday gathering at Canyon Baptist Church of the BMA North Colorado Association.

Initial session was held Friday evening, with sermon by Rev. Earl Creswell, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Snyder.

Basket lunches were spread Saturday and Sunday at noontime. Those who appeared on the program included: Rev. C. E. Leslie, J. W. Cundiff, A. B. Thornton, J. W. Griffin, R. H. Montgomery, Jesse Gray, Bob Creswell, W. E. Lee of Lamesa and George Beavers.

Hobbs Graduate Is Cited for Service in Submarine Activity

Lawson Junior Hyatt, 19, seaman second class in the U. S. Navy, and graduate of Hobbs High School in Western Fisher County, has been awarded the army decoration of the Silver Cross for "heroic action as a submarine crew member," the War Department announced this week.

Young Hyatt, son of Mrs. Carrie Abercrombie of Clairemont, was one of three Texas members of the crew of the submarine, commanded by Lieutenant Commander Frank W. Fenno Jr., which carried a load of ammunition to the defenders of Fort Mills on Corregidor last February, and took out the Philippine government's treasure of gold, silver and securities.

The husky submarine crew member will be remembered by Scurry and Fisher County sports fans as a former member of the Hobbs football squad. He entered the U. S. Navy in October of 1941.

USO Quota Passed By Scurry County

Scurry County's United Service Organization fund raising campaign was successfully concluded over the week-end, with slightly more than $1,086—the county's quota—raised, according to W. J. Ely, county USO campaign chairman.

Lee T. Stinson, county USO vice chairman, joins Ely in praising communities of the county for the splendid cooperation shown in exceeding community quotas.

"We have always known," Ely and Stinson state, "that the real backbone of America lay in merchants and business men like Snyder possesses, and in our rural communities. This has been proved with the USO drive just concluded."

Attack to Win!

Wars are won by attacking, and not by sitting in a fort!"

So declared Pat Bullock, Scurry County war bond and stamp sales chairman, following the two-county war bond and stamp rally staged here Monday afternoon.

Following the enthusiastic bond rally, Bullock urges Scurry County people to decide on buying a set amount of war bonds and stamps each week—weapons that will keep the Scurry County boys in the armed forces on the battlefronts of the world.

Rodeo Events in Snyder Planned Sunday at 2:00

Inaugurating Scurry County's 1942 rodeo season will be jack pot roping events, announced Wednesday, which will be staged Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:00 o'clock, at the new rodeo grounds in Northeast Snyder.

Weldon Johnson, Homer Robinson and Richard Parks will be in general charge of the afternoon program, and report entries are being received from points in Borden and Scurry Counties—with several cowhands from Colorado City scheduled to compete with county contestants for honors.

People of this trade area are asked to pull together, and help the boys named above get the county's 1942 rodeo season underway. No admission charges will be made, and attendants will find plenty of parking room available on the grounds.

Pledge Cards for War Bonds Signed By Good Number

Staged in conjunction Monday afternoon with the Scurry-Borden County war bond rally, pledge cards for purchasing war bonds and stamps proved popular with dozens of people in this trade area.

Tables were placed at convenient places around the court house lawn, and members of the war bond committee report pledge subscriptions were made in a satisfactory manner.

People who did not sign pledge cards Monday afternoon, but who still desire to pledge a definite amount of stamp and bond purchases are asked to call at the chamber of commerce office, where ample supply of pledge cards is on file.

Poppy Sale in County Gets $108.85 for Vets

Officials of the American Legion Auxiliary reported Monday that the county-wide Poppy Day sale conducted in Snyder proved outstanding from several angles. Total of $108.85—all en route to disabled World War 1 veterans—was realized in the sale of the symbolic flowers.

Legion Auxiliary officials state special thanks are due Sandra Jean Josephson, Frances Sentell, Mayme Lou Stokes and Faydean Norred for the sales they rang up with poppies. Poppy Day, officials say, had added significance because so many Scurry County boys are "over there" in World War No. II.

28 State Candidates Have Entered Races

Scurry County voters will be interested in the fact 28 candidates for state offices now have their money "on the line" with the Texas Democratic Committee.

E. B. Germany of Dallas, state Democratic committee chairman, reports the lieutenant governor's race is attracting more attention than any other contest, with eight candidates in the field.

Among candidates who have filed with Germany for a place on the primary ticket is John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, senator of the 24th District, which includes Snyder.

NYA Shop Ships More Equipment To Medical Unit

Evidence that Snyder's National Youth Administration war work center, located just south of the city waterworks on 26th Street, is contributing its part to the nation's war effort is reflected in another shipment of equipment last week-end to the Medical Replacement Center, Camp Barkeley, Abilene.

John E. Spelce, foreman of the town's NYA center, states the last shipment of equipment and furniture to Camp Barkeley, Abilene, included: Six large tables, six blackboards and blackboard stands, eight speaker stands, eight book cases, 100 chart binders, two utility cabinets and eight mimeograph filing cabinets.

Two army trucks of the 45th Division were required to haul the latest shipment of furniture to the Medical Replacement Center, Spelce states.

Employees of the Snyder shop erected early this week two attractive wooden signs, three and a half by six feet, calling attention of the public to the work center.

Spelce reports a new shipment of oak and other kinds of lumber was received this week. Employees are engaged in constructing 124 oak desks and 31 typewriter tables for the Camp Barkeley center.

"We're certainly head over heels with defense work for the U. S. army," Spelce declared Tuesday afternoon, "and are making no furniture for other agencies at present.

"We're not even accepting orders from any agency outside the army, and feel that we are contributing our part to the nation's all-out war program," Spelce concluded.

Surprise Raid Nets 57-Quart Haul at Pat Boyer Place

J. G. (Pop) Galyean, constable of Scurry County, assisted by Morgan and Garner, Texas Liquor Control Board men out of Big Spring, staged a surprise raid Friday afternoon at the Pat Boyer place, three and a half miles northeast of Hermleigh, which netted a 57-quart "haul" of wine in one stash.

Following the raid, Boyer plead guilty to possession of intoxicants in a dry area for the purpose of sale, and was meted out a 30-day sentence in the county jail.

Boyer, who has been hauled into court previously on liquor violation charges, plead guilty Monday, May 17, in county court to liquor possession charges, and was given 30 days in jail—a sentence from which he gave notice of appeal.

RATIONING OF GAS SEEN AS TEXAS LOSS

Speaker Homer Leonard Foresees Economic Collapse for State If Plan Adopted

Excerpts from the talk Homer Leonard of McAllen, speaker, Texas House of Representatives, made Monday afternoon as a contribution to the two-county war bond rally will prove of interest to Times readers for future reference, and are given in the following paragraphs:

"I am certainly glad to be in a small town like Snyder," Leonard said, "for my own home town of McAllen is a small town. I always feel at home in small towns, because people in such places evidence the greatest degree of patriotism; the greatest loyalty in times of national peril.

"I join other state officials in speaking out against a possible nation-wide system of gasoline rationing. Rationing of the precious fuel would bring about economic collapse in Texas unless we either shortened school terms, or raised taxes on real estate.

"Let me give this illustration: One cent of our present gasoline tax in Texas goes to the available public school fund. Total of $13,000,000 collected annually makes possible the $22.50 per capita apportionments to Texas school children, and if rationing goes into effect our legislators will be faced with exceptionally grave problems.

"Another penny per gallon gasoline tax," Leonard continued, "goes to retiring county road bonds. Last year Scurry County realized $9,788 from this one fund to retire road and bridge indebtedness.

"Last year Scurry County alone received $36,005 for its road and bridge funds from the sale of passenger car, truck and commercial license plates. Now," he asked, "do you think gasoline rationing would bring war-time restrictions right to your doorstep?"

Leonard was cheered roundly when he predicted that Scurry and Borden County people would oversubscribe war bond and stamp quotas from month to month, much in the same manner the county's navy relief society and USO goals were reached.

Phipps Gets News of Son From Red Cross

Heart-warming news for L. M. Phipps, long-time East Snyder resident, was received this week in the form of a message through the International Red Cross that his son, Marine Corps Private Ralph Edward Phipps, is still alive—although a war prisoner of the Japanese.

The International Red Cross obtained word that Privaate Phipps is being held in the vicinity of Shanghai, China. Although brief and without full details, the Red Cross communique constituted the first word Phipps had received from his son in many weeks.

Ralph Edward received his education in Snyder Schools, and joined the marine corps in June of 1940. He was one of the Americans attached to the First Defense Battalion at Wake Island, and was cited by President Roosevelt for heroism at his post of duty from December 8 through December 22.

Grass Fires Keep 'Em Busy.

Snyder's volunteer fire department answered two grass fire calls, one Friday afternoon, 1:30 o'clock, and one Wednesday noon, 12:10 p. m., that resulted in only slight damage. Friday afternoon's call was to a vacant lot south of Snyder School gymnasium, and Wednesday's call was to a point southwest of the school stadium.

An Editorial

Grass fires have become so frequent in Snyder during the past few weeks, city officials issued an appeal this week to city residents to help in combatting the menace.

Occasionally, a grass fire on a vacant lot, for instance, gets out of control and it is necessary to call the fire department to extinguish the blaze, but property owners and tenants alike are asked to refrain from burning grass or weeds when they cannot properly oversee the job.

Monday evening city councilmen approved payment of $60 for fighting grass fires in Snyder during May. This money was taxpayers' money, and could have gone for good causes had it not been for fire calls during the past month.

So, while we're on the subject, how about pledging yourself to aid in stopping unwarranted grass fires? And how about using greater care in permitting children to be on the loose with matches and fire-creating cigarette stubs? Your cooperation will be doubly appreciated, and greatly lessen the load being carried by your city government.

Eight Teachers Sign Contracts With Ira School

Meeting of the Ira School Board last Wednesday evening was marked by eight teachers signing contracts for the 1942-43 school year, board members report.

These teachers, who signed contracts, already are outlining plans for a successful school year:

Baldwin of Ira, vocational agriculture teacher; Ruth Wiman of Roscoe, homemaking; Ann Golson of Burkett, business administration and mathematics; Silas Devenport of Ira, grade principal, seventh and eighth grade instructor; Jane Falls of Ira, third and fourth grades; and Mrs. Ben Thorpe of Snyder, first and second grades.

Superintendent Sweatt announces, on behalf of the school board, that a fifth and sixth grade faculty member will be hired after transfers are complete in the district.

Hermleigh Seniors Receive Diplomas Despite Fire Loss

Despite the fire disaster that wiped out Hermleigh School April 27, the 1941-1942 school term at Hermleigh was successfully concluded Friday evening, with graduation exercises for 1942 seniors held in the school gymnasium.

Ivy song and future forecast for the Hermleigh seniors was given by Kenneth Bowlin and Winona Leech. Miss Leech gave the salutatory address and Dessalee Ruminer gave an introduction to Pandora.

Following rendering of "Anchors Aweigh" by a quartet, James M. Bralley, class president, made presentation of the key. C. A. Dacus Jr. gave the valedictory speech and presentation of diplomas to the 18 high school graduates was made by Superintendent A. C. Bishop Jr.

Bobbie Mitchell Is "Missing in Action"

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mitchell, residents of the Crowder community southwest of Snyder, were informed this week by the War Department that their son, Bobbie Mitchell, has been listed as "missing in action."

Bobbie has been stationed on Corregidor, but no details were furnished by the War Department. No direct word from the Philippine sector has been received by the U. S. Government—for press releases—in several weeks.

Canyon School Set For Friday Closing

One of the last Scurry County schools to close for the 1941-1942 school term will be Canyon School, southwest of Snyder, which has set Friday as the final day of the current term.

Canyon School faculty members are Conrad Bullock and Mrs. J. W. Leftwich, who report a successful term. Bullock replaced Mr. Leftwich early this year as principal—due to a siege of illness the long-time county school instructor suffered.

Sergeant Grant Improves.

Sergeant Elton O. Grant, Goodfellow Field flier, is resting well and mending from his recent automobile accident, his father, Lee Grant of Snyder, reported early this week. Sergeant Grant suffered broken ribs and shoulder on the left side and punctured lung from the accident 10 days ago in San Angelo. He probably will have six more weeks in the base hospital as a result of the injuries.

STEVENSON SAYS TEXANS IN LEAD AGAINST DICTATORSHIP

Scurry and Borden Commended for Bond and Stamp Purchases By State Leaders

Governor Coke R. Stevenson of Texas urged several thousand hearers assembled here Monday afternoon in a gigantic two-county war bond rally to invest in war bonds as the finest security available in order to preserve the American way of life against the Axis powers.

"People of the United States have more to fight for than any other country on the globe," Stevenson told the cheering throngs, "and are going to win this war forced upon them by autocrats who seek to destroy our churches, schools and government.

"I am proud to say that Texas is leading the way in the nation's war effort in manpower, money and essential production. With one-twelfth of all counties in the Union, Texas is backing the program with a determination to preserve our liberties," the Texas chief of state declared.

Speaking prior to Governor Stevenson, Homer Leonard of McAllen, speaker, Texas House of Representatives, praised Snyder as a typical West Texas town, and reminded listeners that "eight out of 10 great men in America today come from small towns."

Leonard declared that the editors of such great magazines as The Saturday Evening Post, Look, Life and others originally came from towns no larger than Snyder—and in cases towns not as widely known as the Scurry County seat.

Opening prelude Monday afternoon to the Scurry-Borden County war bond rally was provided by a parade of bands, directed by Hilton Lambert.

Sweetwater's 50-piece Mustang Band, led by Pat Patterson, paraded around the square, and furnished special music at intervals throughout the rally.

Feature attraction of the bond rally was the opening musical program given from 1:45 to 2::15 by Hop Halsey's Drug Store Cowboys of Lubbock.

At a patriotic assembly, during which Governor Stevenson and Homer Leonard spoke, American Legion members, directed by A. B. (Boss) Baze, commander, paid military tribute to the fallen heroes of this area. A four-gun salute was sounded by Legionnaires wearing World War 1 uniforms, and Dick Miller sang "My Buddy."

Pat Bullock, 118th District representative, introduced bond rally speakers and guests, including senators and representatives of this region.

Honor guests on the speakers' platform included: Governor Stevenson; Speaker of the House Homer Leonard; Mayor H. G. Towle of Snyder; Sterling Williams, county judge; Price Maddox, former president, Texas Goat & Sheep Raisers' Association; Howard Davidson of Rotan, former 117th District representative; Cecil Lotief of Rotan, former 107th District representative; Ernest Boyett, executive secretary to the governor; Joe A. Merritt and Dr. W. R. Johnson, former representatives of the 118th District; Sheriff Sid Reeder of Borden County and other Borden officials; Hop Halsey of Lubbock, 119th District representative; and other notables from this territory.

Directed by E. O. Wedgeworth, Laverne Hardin and a girls' chorus were featured in the number, "Somebody Else Is Taking My Place," and others. Dick Miller was featured in vocal numbers.

Visiting officials commended Scurry and Borden County people for the splendid showing made in war bond and stamp sales, and urged them on to greater purchases that will help insure American victory.

Captured Men Get Messages by Red Cross Chair

Announcement that Scurry County people can send messages to their soldier boy sons who may be prisoners of the Japanese was made this week by Mrs. Carrie Line, Scurry County Red Cross chairman.

The announcement was greeted with considerable enthusiasm on the part of county people whose boys are war prisoners in the hands of the Nipponese, and has, of course, certain restrictions which must be observed.

"We have been informed," Mrs. Line states, "that the International Red Cross will arrange to get word through to American boys captured by the Nipponese, provided the government of War Department reports such captures by the enemy.

"No attempt will be made, however, to get word through to soldiers who are merely listed as 'missing in action'," Mrs. Line declares. "The arrangement for communication applies only to soldiers, sailors or marines who are said by the U. S. Government to be war prisoners of the Japanese."

That this remarkable life line communication system works is evidenced by the fact L. M. Phipps of East Snyder was informed this week, through the International Red Cross, that his son, Private Ralph Edward Phipps, was being held by the Japanese near Shanghai, China.

Snyder or Scurry County people who have boys that have been announced by the U. S. Government as captured by the Japanese, and who wish to get messages through to their boys, are asked to contact Red Cross officials as soon as possible.

In order that the human chain communication system will function smoothly, the International Red Cross relays messages from Americans to their loved ones, or the boys to their parents, through Geneva, Switzerland.

Lower Standards To Get Men From 1-B, Says Official

In an announcement released Monday for the benefit of Times readers, Brigadier General Lewis Hershey, national Selective Service director, predicted that lowering of the army's physical standards would result in reclassification of many 1-B men—although many men with physical defects will be taken for limited military service.

"While many 1-B men will be taken as 1-B's for limited duty," Hershey said, "the army's physical standards for 1-A men will be lowered as the need for more men arises."

The national Selective Service director pointed out that the U. S. Army, so far, has asked for only 1,600 men in its experiment to train men with physical defects and predicted that approximately 2,000,000 men would be put in the 1-B classification.

Centerpiece for the dining table was an arrangement of ferns and red, white and blue carnations that circled a miniature bride, in traditional white satin wedding gown, and a bridegroom in white army dress uniform. White candles striped with the patriotic colors were at each side, with the cellophane strips forming streamers to the chandelier.

Milton Joyce, Mrs. Alfred McGlaun and Wynonia Keller poured punch at the three calling hours. Jonisue Cogdell, Marian Martin of Hamlin and Colleen Collett of Lubbock, alternately, presided at the register.

Next Monday and the following week, the women's Monday afternoon circles will meet at 2:00 o'clock, according to Mrs. A. M. Curry, president. The change is necessary, since the Vacation Bible School will begin the two weeks at 2:00, the president says, adding, "Please, all you women, be on time at the early hour."

Wynona Keller—at the tea-shower given for Miss Winston Monday afternoon. Rainbow colors in pastel tones made an attractive decorative note, and spring flowers were arranged in entertaining rooms of the Keller home for the affair.

Readings by Marguerite Nobles of Hamlin and piano numbers by Patti Hicks, furnished the afternoon's program. Miss Nobles read, among others, "In the Usual Way" and the letter from "White Cliffs."

In the dining room a long flounce of shadow organdy tied with wide pink satin ribbon fell from the white linen table cover, and a garden wedding scene lighted with candles was the centerpiece. A cornucopia hanging from the ceiling lights showered rainbow colored cellophane, flowers and handpainted cupids over the table. An arch of calla lilies, ferns and ribbon bows was the background for a "V" formed of pastel candles on the buffet.

Preelin Shoemaker of Abilene, Milton Joyce and Mrs. Vernon Young of Lawton, Oklahoma, poured punch, that bubbled from pastel sherbet balls in the fostoria bowl at one end of the table. Guest favors were nosegays of orange blossoms surrounding cupids holding scrolls that read "Dot-Scott."

Also in the houseparty were the following: Mmes. R. M. Stokes, Warren Dodson, Maurice Brownfield, Roy W. McCurdy of Hamlin and Aubrey Stokes; Jo Anne McGlaun, Ramona Keller, Mary Ellen Williams, Bette Joyce, Margaret Gray, Jeanne Taylor, Melba Ann Odom and Nettie Doscher of Sweetwater.

Included in the 80 guests who registered were the following out-of-town people: Jeanne Marie Polk of Fort Worth, Mrs. Fred A. Grayum of Austin, Mrs. Julian M. Conley Jr. of Seattle, Washington, and Mrs. Herman Aweas of Oklahoma City.

Breakfast for the younger social group of the town was complimentary to Miss Winston Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock, when Patti Hicks and Milton Joyce were hostesses at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Hicks.

Kitchenware was attached to the place cards and later presented to the honoree. Tables were decorated with sweet peas, and the menu included fried chicken, hot biscuits, butter, jelly and coffee.

Places were laid for: The honoree, Mrs. Winston, Mrs. Joyce, Jeanne Marie Polk, Wynona Keller, Nettie Doscher, Preelin Shoemaker, Horrence Leath, Juanita Sentell, Melba Ann Odom, Mrs. D. J. Hall, Mrs. E. J. Richardson Jr., Jonisue Cogdell, Jeanne Taylor, Margaret Gray and Mrs. Johnnie Boren.

Snyder Girls Write Home About Florida

Letter from Mrs. John R. Cowe Jr. and Mrs. Cecil Moore, the former Irene Barron, to The Times is interesting. The two followed their soldier-husbands recently to Florida and are living in Gainesville, not far from Camp Blanding, where the local men are stationed.

"Gainesville is a clean and lovely town," the two write, "with all the palm trees and huge oaks with Spanish moss hanging from them. The state university is here. We can't understand why a native of Florida can take one look at us and know we are from Texas, since we don't wear 10-gallon hats and boots. Florida people are just as friendly as West Texans, we've found."

Humorous portions of the letter tell of one soldier's wife there who is trying to save enough gasoline to drive her car back to Texas, since the three-gallons-a-week ration has already begun there. The silk shortage doesn't bother the women in Gainesville, the girls say, because none of them wear hose. "In conclusion, the native Texans tell the folks back home that the Floridans are butchering our song, "Deep in the Heart of Texas," by substituting Florida for Texas, and the Texans don't like that.

The couple will live with the Bentleys, temporarily, and the bridegroom will continue farming with his father.

Policing Own Sugar Use Asked by Board

Giles Bowers, Jim Cloud and J. H. Byrd, members of the Scurry County Ration Board, advised households this week which had excess amounts of sugar and were not issued war ration books to police their own use of sugar in accordance with designated consumer sugar allotments.

At the present time, ration board personnel states, no family or individual should consume sugar at a greater rate than a pound per person each two weeks. This amount is the regular consumer allotment.

No war ration books, it was pointed out, will be issued to persons who registered excess amounts of sugar until a sufficient number of ration periods have expired during which the consumer—if he had ration stamps—might have purchased the amount of sugar equal to his excess.

Governor Stevenson Sees Fight With Axis Powers as Struggle for Freedom

Several outstanding statements made here Monday afternoon by Governor Coke R. Stevenson of Texas in the two-county war bond rally are worthy of clipping for scrapbooks, and here are some noteworthy remarks Times readers will treasure.

"We are fighting against enslavement in this war of three things, namely, brutality, slavery of the people, and international gangsterism.

"American people are opposed to brutality, because they do not believe in making whole groups of 'hostages' suffer for the crime of one or two persons; they are against slavery because they fought to abolish this reminder of the dark ages during 1861-1865; and they are against gangsterism because a person, like Hitler, who last year wiped out 8,500 churches, would mean death to all we hold dear.

"We are buying war bonds and stamps to help prosecute this war because we know our property, in Axis hands, would be worthless to us. Under dictatorial rule our farmers, ranchers and others would have to make individual contributions to the war machine and be subjects of an overlord.

"We established spiritual freedom in America by building churches, abolished mental slavery by establishing schools and we will not tolerate a direct threat to the American institutions we know to be right," the governor declared.

"This war is a common fight in which every citizen can have a part. We all cannot join the armed forces, or be battlefield heroes, but we can lend our funds to the government to keep our boys on the firing line.

"During the French and Indian war, per capita cost per soldier was only $200. This amount was raised to $3,000 during World War 1, and now costs about $15,000 per soldier.

Hampton Burns Is Called Into Service

Hampton Burns, chief of the survey department in the Soil Conservation Service here since July 22, 1941, will be inducted into the United States Army June 9. Induction of the local man will make the fourth son in a single family serving in the armed forces.

Burns is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Y. Burns of Emerson, Arkansas. His other brothers—Chester, Earl and Ray—all are serving in Company B, 153rd Infantry, at Yakutat, Alaska. The four are the only children of the Arkansas couple.

Navy Relief Quota Reached by County

"Right on the beam" was the description given Scurry County's U.S. Navy Relief Society drive Tuesday by H. L. Wren, county chairman, after the county's relief society quota of $240 had been reached.

"On behalf of navy relief society officials," Wren said, "I want to extend thanks to all who contributed, in any way, to the success of, the campaign. County people can always get a given job over once the necessity arises."

Those who may still wish to contribute to the navy relief campaign are urged to contact Wren as early as possible.

In addition to serving as announcer for the show, McLaughlin will have four animals entered in the exposition events. The McLaughlin horses that will be shown include: Astralmarillo, a five-year-old five-gaited mare, which he has in training at Roger's West View Farm, Fort Worth; Mr. FDR, a three-gaited gelding; and Gray Esquire, a five-gaited gelding.

Ira Is Next Host to Singers, August 30

Excellent representation of county singing classes and a great delegation from the Loraine class marked staging Sunday afternoon of the Scurry County Fifth Sunday Singing Convention at the Canyon Baptist Church.

Ira emerged Sunday afternoon as successful bidder for the next Fifth Sunday Singing Convention, which will be held in the southern county community fifth Sunday in August.

War Board Repeats Need of Scrap Metal

Had you paused to think, Mr. or Mrs. Scurry County Citizen, that five pounds of scrap iron and steel will make four hand grenades?

If you haven't, then you will be interested in some facts made available Tuesday by the county's U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board.

amount	production
420 pounds	210 rifles (.30 Cal.)

As Governor Spoke to Bond Rally Throng Monday

Mattress Program Of AAA Praised By State Auditor

"A clean bill of health for Scurry County, plus commendation for the splendid set of records kept," was the verdict W. F. Gibson of College Station, auditor for the department of agriculture's mattress program, gave attaches of the county AAA office.

Gibson, in his final audit, declared that 788 cotton mattresses had been made in Scurry County during 1940 and 1941 in the cotton mattress program.

Of the 42,027 pounds of cotton received by Scurry County in the mattress program, 39,400 pounds were reported utilized in mattress construction.

Carrying the 1940-41 cotton program to a successful conclusion in the county witnessed utilization of 7,910 yards of ticking, 7,880 yards of which went directly into cotton mattresses, Gibson concluded.

Memorial Service at Cemetery Sunday

Excellent degree of participation by ex-service men in Snyder and the county marked Memorial Day services staged Sunday afternoon at Snyder Cemetery in honor of fallen heroes in World War I. A. B. (Boss) Baze, commander of the Will Layne American Legion Post No. 181, was in general charge of the memorial ceremonies.

Principal speaker for the occasion was Rev. Hubert C. Travis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Legion officials extend thanks to women of Snyder and adjacent communities for furnishing flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Patton and Mrs. Vernon Shaw and son, Kenneth, spent last week-end in Amarillo, the Pattons visiting friends, and the Shaws guests of her sister, Mrs. Ed Stewart, there. The local people returned by way of Lockney, where they spent a few hours with Mrs. Shaw's parents.

Spot Market Takes Spotlight in Cotton

In its cotton market review for the week ending May 30, the agricultural marketing administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture points out that activity in spot markets increased sharply—due to sales by the Commodity Credit Corporation. This government agency has several bales, in which Scurry County Farmers hold equity, for sale.

"Sales reported by the 10 designated markets," the review continues, "totaled 73,400 bales, compared with 61,000 last week. For the corresponding week in 1941, sales amounted to 202,000 bales.

"Weather conditions in Central West Texas and portions of Oklahoma continue favorable to the new crop," the market bulletin concludes, "with planting virtually complete in the Black Land area of Texas."

Mrs. Jim Bridgeman left Friday morning, returning to her home in Dallas, after a several-day visit here with Mrs. Edna B. Tinker. Mrs. Bridgeman, former local resident, also visited with Snyder friends.

Firemen Get Flags Down Double-Quick

That Snyder's volunteer fire department gets the job done in a hurry was evidenced Monday evening when N. W. Autry, chief, summoned the boys to the fire station, preparatory to taking down the flags and bunting hung around the square over the week-end as a welcome gesture to Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

The fire boys jumped right into the business at hand, and within three minutes after the siren sounded were busy taking down the flags and bunting from rope-anchored places around the square.

Farm Workers Meet Tuesday in FSA Auditorium

Considerable enthusiasm, marked the regular meeting of the Scurry County Agricultural Workers' Association, held Tuesday evening, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Farm Security Administration, northeast corner of the square.

J. C. Ezell, Snyder manager of the Sweetwater Production Credit Association, led the program for the evening and brought out points on how the credit production program works in Scurry County.

Ezell discussed points of interest to other agencies, and outlined ways other agricultural agencies in the county could cooperate with his office in helping farmers and ranchers.

Announcement was made that Dale McWhirter, Pyron vocational agriculture instructor, and E. W. Baldwin, Ira vocational agriculture teacher, will be in charge of the SCAWA program Tuesday evening, June 16.

McWhirter and Baldwin will explain at the next gathering vocational agriculture work in the county, and how attaches of agricultural agencies can bring about better understanding between parents and children on vocational activities.

Those present Tuesday evening included: Gerald G. Gordon, county FSA supervisor and association president; Haskell Beard, Soil Conservation Service; Ezell; Vernon Bullard, Cornelia Wilson, Ruth Davis, Rube Lee and Earlene Bowers, all of the county AAA office; Rev. Hubert C. Travis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; McWhirter and Baldwin; Mrs. Bruce Murphy, Farm Security Administration; Edware S. Hyman, county agricultural agent; and Estella Rabel, county home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Ida J. Crosby, county FSA home management supervisor, Rube Lee, Estella Rabel and Gerald G. Gordon have been named members of the association's picnic committee to arrange a picnic supper in conjunction with the June 16 gathering.

Rex Beard Trial at Roby Draws Interest

Good-sized delegation of Snyder and Scurry County people was attracted to Roby Wednesday, when a special venire of 90 men was drawn for the trial of Rex Beard, the "paper sack" bandit who killed Deputy Sheriff Wade Willis, former Scurry County resident, in Abilene jail several weeks ago.

Trial of Beard is scheduled to get underway today (Thursday), after selection of a jury is completed. Sheriff John Lynch and others will be in Roby part of today for the Beard trial.

Nettie Doscher of Sweetwater, Hockaday friend of Wynona Keller, was her houseguest here the past week-end at the home of her parents, the John Kellers.

Rufus Mize Cites Qualifications for County School Job

"To Scurry County Voters:

"As a candidate for county superintendent of Scurry County schools, I would like to list some of the qualifications I believe would make me a good superintendent:

"I have been teaching school 24 years in the county, and have held positions from those in one-teacher schools to that of principal in the county's second largest school.

"Have had three summers of administrative education courses in Texas Tech College, Lubbock, since last election; and have had typing, bookkeeping and public accounting in Draughon's Business College.

"I am a member of the American Society of Applied Psychology, and hold membership in the Texas State Teachers Association and the National Education Association.

"Various civic duties have included assessing school taxes in the Hermleigh Independent School District, served on chamber of commerce and other committees, on the AAA committee and have served as mayor of Hermleigh.

"Other qualificatinos I believe would make me a good county superintendent include serving on the Hermleigh Boy Scout council, Sunday School superintendent in the Baptist Church and director of the Hermleigh Cooperative Gin.

"Had it not been for being in the army, I would have, by now, rounded out a quarter century in the teaching profession. I believe almost 25 years of teaching in Scurry County makes one deserving of a promotion. Don't you?

"Earnestly soliciting your vote in the July primary, and assuring you a good word for me with your neighbors will be warmly appreciated, I am,

"Respectfully yours,
Rufus E. Mize."

Bethel School and USO Drive Ended In Thursday Rites

Community-wide program that witnessed reaching of the community's United Service Organization quota and presentation of promotion certificates to four eighth grade graduates, marked commencement exercises held last Thursday evening at Bethel School.

Rev. J. B. Taylor of Fluvanna used "Honor Thy Father and Mother" as a theme for the evening's principal address.

Held in conjunction with commencement exercises, a community USO drive was marked by Bethel raising its quota in short order.

Mrs. J. D. Mitchell and Mrs. B. H. Rogers, Bethel teaching staff, report the term concluded at Bethel "outstanding in several respects, although forced to coordinate the year's activities with the country's all-out war effort in mind."

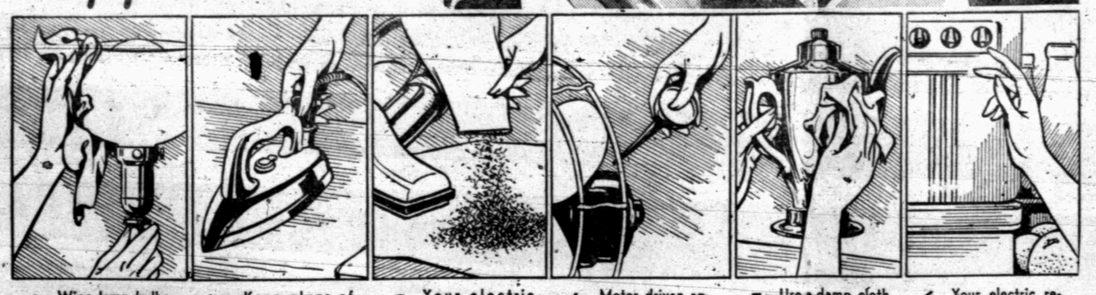
Here are 6 Timely Tips On How to Get the Most Out of Your Electric Appliances!



1. Wipe lamp bulbs and glass diffusing bowls with a damp cloth, and dust shades to get full amount of light from lamps.
2. Keep plugs of irons, roasters, percolators and other appliances tightly connected. Loose plugs make points corrode.
3. Your electric cleaner will clean faster and better if you'll empty the dust bag after each use, as dust hinders air flow.
4. Motor driven appliances, such as fans, cleaners, mixers and others will operate better and last longer if oiled regularly.
5. Use a damp cloth to wipe electric appliances such as percolators, waffle irons, toasters. Water may cause them to burn out.
6. Your electric refrigerator will operate more efficiently if defrosted every week, or when ¼ inch frost collects.

These tips may be an old story to many homemakers who know how to use electric appliances properly and keep them in good condition, but pass along these ideas to others who may not be so experienced.

Members of the Ira School Board reported Tuesday afternoon that an insurance settlement payment, in full, has been received on the Ira School plant—wiped out by a fire disaster the morning of May 14. Amount of insurance received was not made public.

Members of the Ira School Board and Superintendent Paul Sweatt report that plans are shaping rapidly for the new plant that will arise on the old foundation of the previous structure.

Workmen are expected to begin, within the next few days, cleaning the old brick and making preparations for the new plant.

The Governor Speaks

The Scurry-Borden County war bond rally staged here Monday afternoon reached a climax when Governor Coke R. Stevenson of Texas urged attendants to "invest in the finest securities available to preserve the American way of life—safe from the exploits of Axis powers. . . . People of this land have more to fight for than any other country on the globe," he pointed out to hundreds of cheering voters and taxpayers.

Evidence that Monday afternoon's war bond and stamp rally constitutes an integral part of our successful war effort against the Axis powers was provided by the large number of representatives and state officials attracted here to plug for greater war bond sales in Scurry and Borden Counties. Governor Stevenson keynoted the rally when he asked people of this trade area to "lend our government the money needed to carry the war through to victory by purchasing all war bonds possible."

The governor and other visiting state officials commended people of both Scurry and Borden Counties for the splendid showing made in the navy relief society and USO drives, and declared people in this zone could be depended on to put war bond and stamp sales "over the top." Many people pledged Monday afternoon to carry across the promise of "ringing the bell" with war bonds and stamps.

Word From Captured Men?

The International Red Cross created a considerable amount of interest this week among Snyder and Scurry County people with the announcement that direct word could be sent via the Red Cross to American soldiers who are prisoners of the Japanese—even American soldiers captured with the fall of Corregidor and Bataan.

The average person is prone to be skeptical of the announcement that direct word can be sent to our soldier boys who are now in the hands of the Nipponese. While the inference is ascernable that only word approved by the Japs could be sent back to the United States, definite messages that Scurry County boys in prisoner-of-war camps are alive would mean a lot to county people who have boys "over there." Should the International Red Cross succeed in serving as a liason agent for our boys, the organization will perform another of the famous missions for which it has become world famous—with still new chapters to write.

When Each Day Counts

County agricultural officials and producers themselves term the next 10 days the crucial period with 1942 farming operations in Scurry County. Replanting farmers are able to do within the next few days and success in obtaining good stands of cotton and feed will determine, to a large extent, what kind of crop the county will ring up in 1942. Each day counts heavily now with farm work, and with more than an even break farmers will make this year a banner one in county agricultural annals.

Editorial of the Week

RETAILING CARRIES ON

Organized retailing, in all its branches, is one of the most effective economic allies farmers and other producers have.

A fine example of this was provided by National Cotton Week. Months ago, merchants laid plans for aggressively promoting cotton. Posters, newspaper advertisements, displays, radio announcements—all possible avenues of publicity and promotion were used. The result is to foster increased interest in a commodity on which 14,000,000 Americans depend for all their livelihood—and millions of others depend for part of their livelihood. The idea wasn't simply to stir up interest in cotton during a single week. It was to keep that interest going in the future—and so encourage the consumer to buy cotton in many forms.

As the war goes on, and the list of shortages grows longer, retail merchandising's job grows bigger. More and more suitable substitutes must be developed and sold. Such questions as nutrition take on an ever-increasing significance. Price stabilization in itself has created many difficult problems. The retailer is the connecting link between producer and consumer, and he must serve both to the limit of his powers.

It has been to the everlasting credit of retailing that it has fought profiteering and speculation, and has worked with immense effectiveness in the public interest. Whatever the future brings, it will continue to do its best. Its goal will be to hold the general standard of living to the highest level.—The Munday Times.

Due to the fact that American railroads are contributing a major part to the nation's all-out war effort, the following statement by J. M. Symes, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, will prove of interest to Times readers. Symes says: "Many suggestions for pooling the facilities of manufacturers and transportation agencies are being made in the belief that it would increase the nation's output of products and transportation.

"The fact is that all the freight car equipment of American railroads already operates in one great interchangeable pool, and any suggestions to pool it only approve what already exists, or propose changes in method that already exists, which automatically and continuously distributes equipment to the point where it is most needed. . . . The operations of the great American car pool are so smooth and efficient that the nation takes the results for granted without most persons realizing how they are attained."

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

Editor's Note—Expressions or opinions contained in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of The Times. Current Comment is merely carried as a feature column.

For very good reasons, little will be said about the matter, but relations between Spain and the United States are steadily improving. . . . The U. S. may be sticking a proverbial neck out, but plans are underway to resume shipment of oil and certain other supplies. . . . There is no chance of Franco pulling Spain over to the side of the United Nations, but he is expected to stand out for strict neutrality if the Axis powers increase pressure on a war-weary country like Spain.

During war-time stress and much hectic planning, the Murray-Patman Bill has been introduced in Congress to make loans available for small retailers and other small business men who are "frozen out" by war-time restrictions. . . . Service station men, for example, would be provided for by a type of relief for the war's duration. . . . The question arises, naturally, why worry so much about relief for small businesses, when the major thing is to keep such concerns in circulation.

☆

Despite his popularity with congressmen of both houses and a number of top-flight industrialists, Jesse Jones, RFC head, is still having considerable trouble from friend and foe alike. . . . The Reconstruction Finance Corporation undertook an ambitious program prior to Pearl Harbor, and trampled on the wrong foot of business when demands for loan repayments began to follow granting of loans by 90 to 120 days. . . . Privately, President Roosevelt is irked at RFC for not taking opportunities that presented themselves two and three years ago, and is taking steps to see this doesn't happen in the future.

You can rest assured that shipping space on craft going between the United States and United Nations will be utilized to the utmost this summer, with concentrated and dehydrated foods occupying as much priority as possible. . . . We hate to admit it, but U-boat warfare still is taking a terrific toll of Allied vessels, and administration leaders are already advocating more shipments of concentrated foods to save vitally needed shipping space. . . . Indications now point to late 1943, or early 1944 before America has enough new craft to alleviate some of the pressure placed on shipping.

☆

Talk of probable gasoline rationing to conserve our rapidly diminishing stocks of rubber is complicated by the fact any such action would greatly decrease state and federal revenue from gasoline taxes, and force the federal government to carry most of the public road building program. . . . Due to their strategic importance, roads must not only be maintained throughout the war, but new bridges must be erected and road beds repaired from month to month. . . . Secondary roads now are coming in for consideration, because the army, in dodging public places, has rutted many country roads that counties of the nation must repair without federal aid.

Those who make it their business to look down the road ahead predict a dull Christmas shopping season, if the so-called inventory control bill now sponsored by the War Production Board becomes law. . . . Inventory control would tend to add heavily to the worries of merchants and cut down the amount of goods made available to the public. . . . The plan now calls for limitation of money any store could tie up in merchandise, would forbid merchants to buy unless stock, plus purchases during a designated period, amounted to less than his merchandise limit.

One can rest assured that price policing will bring about the next big fight in Congress. . . . Leon Henderson, as most people know, has requested $210,000,000 to hire some 95,000 people for the Office of Price Administration. . . . Most of these employees would be ration board clerks, but the matter has already proved irritating to Congressmen who do not wish to be caught in a political log jam. . . . Congressmen understood Henderson to say last fall that price ceilings would be self policing, but are finding out quite different. . . . Angry letters from consumers and retailers isn't helping the situation, either.

☆

Straws in the summer air indicate the sales tax bill advocated in Congress stands more chance of passing than at any time in the past month. . . . Sales taxers are planning a carefully laid siege to get their message over with the nation's lawmakers, but so far have not scored the home run they intended to mark up with floor leaders. . . . The United States, in mentioning the sales tax, seems to be following right in the steps of foreign countries who have had trouble with taxes and appropriations for the future outstripping current revenue. . . . Even if enacted as now contemplated, the sales tax measure would fall far short of the goal set sometime back.

One can only view last week's worker freezing order with enthusiasm, especially in industrial areas where rival concerns have been outbidding each other to secure enough workers to carry production on schedule. . . . Ascending wages for defense and war production workers will have repercussions during the post-war period, and will act, in the long run, as a balance wheel against present wage levels. . . . Leaders of the Roosevelt administration are using every lever possible to keep inflationary moves pegged, since the higher the inflation balloon goes now the greater height it will have to fall from when the world lays down the sword.
