Bake Sale/Flea Market

There will be a bake sale and flea market at the Wallace Center from 8:30 a.m. until noon on Saturday, March 23.

Come early for bargains on stained glass, crocheted items, baked goods, ceramics, dishes, kitchen items, good clothes, a small tv, a manual typewriter, and more!

Parade Committee

Anyone who is interested in helping with the parade to honor Mitchell County servicemen and veterans is encouraged to come to a meeting at noon at Fort Wood Cafe on Thursday, March 21.

Because of the speech given by President Bush, in which he encouraged communities to honor the veterans on the Fourth of July, the parade will probably be rescheduled for that date, rather than on Memorial Day as was originally intended.

We want to pay tribute to those returning from Desert Storm, and to all Mitchell County veterans from every war since, and including, World War I, so please help by letting us know who you, or they, are.

Bring names of veterans to the meeting, or to the Red Cross Office, the Chamber of Commerce or the Colorado City Record.

Meeting date changed

A town hall meeting will be hosted by State Representative Robert Junell in Westbrook on Friday, April 5, at 6:30 p.m., at Westbrook School.

At 8 p.m. on April 5, Representative Junell will host a town hall meeting in Loraine at the school cafeteria.

City Hall Hours

Colorado City's City Hall will remain open for business during the noon hour beginning on Monday, March 25.

Adult Education

The Wallace Center announces that students are needed for the following classes:

Typing, starting March 26;
Computer class, starting March 25;

Auto Mechanics class, starting as soon as possible;
Welding class, starting April 1.

For further information, call the Wallace Center at 728-2392.

Candy Sales

Members of the Ebony Club are selling candy to raise money for the club's scholarship fund.

Turtles are $1 a bar and M&M's, plain and peanut, are 50 cents a box.

Members selling the candy are Gerri Randle, Darlean Rankin, Pearl Jefferson, Bernice Lee, Brenda Russell, Barbara Monroe, Mary Smith, and Anita Biggers.

Help the Ebony Club make this a successful project.

For more information, or to order candy, call 728-5552.

Literacy Council

The Mitchell County Literacy Council will meet on Thursday, March 21, from 5 until 6 p.m. at First National Bank in Colorado City.

Breast Cancer Unit

The Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit of Odessa will be at Mitchell County Hospital on Monday, April 1.

Call 728-3431, ext. 222, for an appointment.

Open meetings follow closed committee session

The police committee of the City Council of Colorado City met on Tuesday evening in closed session, then reconvened in an open session, during which no action was taken.

The committee has conducted several meetings over the past weeks with members of the police department, and after the last such meeting members recommended to Glenn Garrett, then interim city manager, that Bobby Sparks, the chief of police, be relieved of his duties.

According to Mayor Jim Baum, a member of the police committee, that committee has no meetings scheduled in the near future, and members will return now to their original function of reviewing applications for vacancies within the police department, should such vacancies occur.

Baum said that some applications have been received for the position of chief of police.

Later on the same evening, the city council met in called, open session, for the purpose, among others, or conducting a motel tax workshop.

Requests for funds from the motel tax were reviewed and the following allotments were made: Colorado City Bass Club, $500; Mitchell County Bass Club, $500; Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department, $1,500; Colorado City Playhouse, $2,000; LULAC, $1,000; Chamber of Commerce, $12,000; Historical Commission, $2,000; Civic Center, $1,500; and Colorado City Museum, $4,000.

Green's Lil Souper burglarized Friday

Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant reports that Green's Lil Souper in Loraine was burglarized on Friday night, March 15.

Numerous items were taken, but, according to Sheriff Bryant, it appears that the subject or subjects responsible were disturbed in the act, as several of the stolen items were found strewn on the sidewalk in front of the location of the burglary.

On Saturday night, the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department received information from the Sweetwater Police Department relating to the burglary, and at approximately 4 a.m. Sunday morning, March 17, Justice of the Peace Glenda Haltom issued arrest warrants for four individuals.

On Sunday, three of those individuals were apprehended in Sweetwater, Nolan County, Texas and charged with burglary of a building.

Those three suspects were subsequently transferred to Mitchell County Jail, where they are currently lodged, pending posting of $10,000 bond per person.

The fourth suspect has not as yet been apprehended, and law enforcement officers are continuing the search.

Those arrested on suspicion of the burglary are Jose Luis Flores, 20, of Sweetwater; Chon Alex Espinoza Jr., 20, of Sweetwater; and Ivan Christopher Rivera, 20, of Sweetwater.

In other matters, Sheriff Bryant reported that Inspector Terry Julian of the Texas Commission on Jail Standards arrived on Tuesday morning, March 19, at 9 a.m., and remained until 1:45 p.m.

Julian, according to Sheriff

Science program, books adopted by CISD board

At Monday night's meeting of the Colorado Independent School District's Board of Directors, members voted to delay action on the approval of a new science building for Colorado High School.

They approved the purchase of a new science program, "Windows on Science," for grades one through six, beginning with the 1991-92 school year.

This program, which is on videotapes rather than in textbooks, is, according to Don Nimmo, superintendent of schools, a program which will increase interest and success among the students who are exposed to it.

Training will be available for teachers to learn to use the program to its optimum advantage, and, Nimmo said, all the teachers who had previewed the new program were very impressed and excited about the chance of being able to work with it.

Upcoming texts, Nimmo said, will likely use this new format, and the fact that CISD will have the necessary hardware and expertise in its use will be a plus in the future as well.

Members also adopted a new math text book series, published by Saxon, beginning in 1991-92.

Nimmo recommended acceptance of these texts, saying that his information showed that students who were exposed to the Saxon series were more likely later to go into advanced math classes.

He said one of the advantages of these texts was the fact that there were different volumes of the same text, which were geared toward

Jordanian feast enjoyed by class

On Monday, March 18, teachers and members of the Excel class for gifted and talented Colorado High School students, enjoyed an authentic Jordanian feast at Mac-Michael's Restaurant.

One of the restaurant's new owners, Sam Shehadeh, is originally from Jordan. As the gifted and talented class was presently studying cultures of Middle Eastern nations, the presence in the community of someone so knowledgeable about those cultures was a decided benefit.

Add to that the fact that Shehadeh is a great cook, and you have a learning experience greatly to be envied.

Shehadeh has lived in the United States for six years. He came directly from Jordan to Big Spring at that time, where he has a cousin, and enrolled in Howard Community College.

It was there he met his wife, Peggie, a native-born American, who also was a recent arrival at the college, having come from Phoenix, Arizona, to visit her sister.

The couple moved to Colorado City in February, at the time they purchased part-ownership in the restaurant.

The other owners are Mike Abusaab, Shehadeh's cousin from Big Spring, and Mac Humphrey, one of the restaurant's original owners.

Some of the dishes prepared on Monday by the Shehadehs were pickled yogurt, for which Mrs. Shehadeh says one definitely has to acquire a taste, and humus-tahine, a dip made from chick-peas and sesame.

There was pita bread to make sandwiches with the jarro sandwich meat, which is a combination of lamb and beef.

There was upside-down chicken; there was a mixture of rice, nuts, See CLASS, page 2

Board to terminate pharmacy contract

At a called meeting of the Board of Directors of Mitchell County Hospital on Tuesday night, members voted to terminate the hospital's pharmacy contract with the Houston-based firm of Owen's Healthcare, Inc., effective May 1, 1991.

Hospital Administrator Wendell Alford spoke to board members before the vote was taken, and stated his belief that the hospital could save money if it ran the pharmacy itself.

"We have been very satisfied with Owen's services," he said, and added that representatives of the firm had been very understanding about the possible termination of the contract.

Alford said that he felt that having a pharmacist on duty for two hours a day, seven days a week would be sufficient for the hospital.

Such a schedule would satisfy all Medicare and state requirements, and would meet the needs of the patients as well, he explained.

Alford hopes the hospital can save an average of $20 or more per patient day with the new pharmacy schedule.

Tumbleweed Festival becomes "rip-roaring, wild west" time

Visitors to Saturday's Tumbleweed Festival at Fort Wood had a rip-roaring, wild west time, despite some chilly weather.

Crowds enjoyed the booths, the gunfight show, and the feeling of the Old West which pervaded the festivities.

Contests were held to determine the ugliest man, the largest tumbleweed, the best horseshoe tosser, and the best cow-chip tosser, and several drawings were held as well for gate prizes.

Cindy McAnally won a hand-made afghan from the Texans Against Pollution booth; Don Luce won a pair of Laredo Ropers from the TAP booth, and Elk Jones won Laredo Ropers from the Red Cross booth. The boots were donated by Wood's Boots.

Tommy Morris won a bicycle from the TAP booth, donated by Corky's.

There were plenty of tumbleweeds to make all West Texans feel right at home, and the Fort Wood giant boot, made completely of tumbleweeds and painted in Colorado High School colors of red and black, was on display for all to see.

The four largest tumbleweeds won prizes for their owners.

First prize, $300 in pennies, went to Russell and D.C. Long for a tumbleweed measuring 41 feet and nine inches around.

Second prize, $100, went to Jesus Hernandez Jr. for a County to hold open house

Bryan Limmer, county extension agent, addressed the Commissioners' Court of Mitchell County on Tuesday morning, and advised members that the week of April 7 through 13 will be National County Government Week.

Limmer requested that county officials participate in a proposed open house, which will be sponsored by local 4-H clubs, at which the public will be invited to meet those officials.

The proposed open house, in which court members agreed to participate, will be held from 7 until 8 p.m. in the lobby of the courthouse on Thursday, April 11.

Limmer also requested that County Judge Ray Mayo issue a proclamation declaring National County Government Week in Mitchell County. Mayo is expected to sign the proclamation on April 2, during the court's payroll meeting.

Other activities suggested by Limmer included a coloring contest for first and second graders, and a published forum for citizens to state their opinions on the "best part of living in Mitchell County."

The board also approved recommended bids for computer equipment at Kelley Elementary, Colorado High School, and Colorado Middle School, and approved recommended bids on some new audio-visual equipment, furniture, and maintenance and custodial supplies.

Scaled bids were opened during the meeting for the sale of a 1978 International 47-passenger school bus.

The bus, according to Nimmo, cannot be used by CISD because it was built prior to the adaptation of certain required safety regulations.

The sale of the bus, although the price seemed somewhat low, will provide space and otherwise benefit the transportation fund of the school district, Nimmo said.

Third and fourth prizes, $50 each, went respectively to Frank Martinez, for his 35-foot-two-inch tumbleweed; and to Kris and Dan Darling for their 31-foot-10-inch tumbleweed.

Winner of the ugliest man contest was the lovely Wayne Walters. He may be ugly, but he won himself a Tony Lama jacket from the Tony Lama Boot Company, so he probably feels pretty good about himself right now.

There was a cow-chip tossing contest, but the winners, just like some outlaws in the Old West, rode out of town without giving their last names.

Vance threw 89 feet; Jimmy threw 87 feet; Danny threw 83 feet; and Logan, who was three years old, threw 14 feet.

Prizes in that contest consisted of one jacket and 24 caps donated by the Diamond J Boot Company, owned by Justin Boots.

Who were those masked chip-tossers? Hope they washed their hands before supper.

At the Westbrook Volunteer Fire Department's horseshoe pitching contest, Kenny Hammonds won first prize of a fifty dollar gift certificate to shop at Wood's Boots. Second prize, a twenty-five dollar gift certificate, went to Steven Wagner.

otherwise have been put up for bid for failure to pay taxes in the first place. She brought these cases before the board on Monday night for review.

Board members discussed the cases, and voted to make a provision in any contracts which were subsequently drawn up for such a purpose that after three months of no payment, the property would be turned over to the school district's legal representative for repossession.

It was thought by some members that citizens might be misinformed, and believe that a homestead cannot be seized for failure to pay property taxes.

Board members entered into an executive session, and when they returned to open session, the board unanimously approved the issuing of contracts to the professional instructional staff.

Members accepted with regret the resignations of four school employees and one school board member.

Jerry Reynolds and his wife, Kelley Elementary second-grade teacher Wilma Reynolds, resigned due to retirement.

Colorado Middle School teacher Jennifer Jenkins resigned to spend more time with her family, and Transportation Supervisor Bill Denson is moving to take a position, similar to his present one, in another school district.

School Board Member Gary Parker has been transferred by his firm to Eastland. Due to his resignation, the board amended the resolution for the school trustee election, which is scheduled for May 4, to include Parker's vacated Place Two position.

The election will fill the unexpired two years of Parker's three-year term, and will fill the entire three years of Places One and Five.

The addition of Place Two to the upcoming ballot will not extend the election's filing deadline of Wednesday, March 20.

Members of the board appointed election judges for the election at Monday night's meeting.

They are Connie Penland, for Place One; Joy Morris, for Place Two; and Louise Sweat, for Place Five.

The Absentee Ballot Board Presiding Judge will be Mavis Greer.

Members of the professional instructional staff issued contracts at Monday night's meeting were:

Mrs. Gary Marsh

Haggerton, Marsh united March 16

Jana Michelle Haggerton and Gary Marsh were married at 7 p.m. on Saturday, March 16.

The bride is the daughter of Bill and Ruth Haggerton of Sherman, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Mavis Green of Colorado City and Frank Marsh of Rhome, Texas.

The double ring ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Travis Monday of Calvary Baptist Church, took place in the 22nd and Austin Street Church of Christ in Colorado City.

Decorations in the church included Victorian lace, along with English ivy from the home now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bodine, where the bride's parents lived when she was born.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, featuring a chapel length train and trim of seed pearls.

Her fingertip veil cascaded from a wreath of orange blossoms and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of silk rosebuds, orange blossoms, and forget-me-nots.

Shannon Perkins of Lubbock was the maid of honor. She wore a rose satin dress and shoes, and carried a long-stemmed rose.

Bridesmaids were Allyson Haggerton, sister of the bride, of Irving; Kim Jett of San Angelo; and Ashley Weaver of Colorado City.

Lacy Marsh, niece of the groom, of Big Spring, served as flower girl. The best man was Franklin Marsh of Big Spring.

Groomsmen were Chuck Claxton, Jeff Hammond, Mike Griffith and Yardy Powell, all of Colorado City; Jardy Powell of Lubbock, and James Sanders of Coahoma.

Joe Dan Dockrey, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Music was provided by Scott and Toni Haggerton and Brett and Diane Lindsey of Lubbock.

Members of the houseparty included Debbie Dockrey of Granbury, Cyndi Marsh of Big Spring, and Pam Cawthorn of Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests came from Dallas, Alpine, Lubbock, Sweetwater, Snyder, Odessa, and Big Spring.

The reception took place in the church fellowship hall, which was decorated in the bride's colors of blue and rose.

Following the reception, the couple planned a honeymoon to San Antonio, and plan to live in Lubbock.

The bride attends Texas Tech University, and the groom attended Angelo State, and is employed by Southwest Office Systems.

changed by council members, at the request of the museum's board of directors, to "Heart of West Texas Museum."

Council members heard on Tuesday night from Russell Long, representative of the newly-formed Mitchell County Foundation for the Prevention of Alcohol and Drug Abuse.

Long's foundation had requested a lease agreement with the city for a house, city property, located at 1805 Chestnut Street.

Members voted, after lengthy discussion, to grant City Manager Buddy Foster the authority to negotiate a contract with the foundation based on certain stipulations made by City Attorney Tom Rees.

Rees advised requiring the foundation to acquire liability insurance on the property prior to any lease agreement.

He also stated that he would first have to investigate zoning statutes in the neighborhood where the house is located, and that he would have to obtain a legal description of the boundaries of the property for contractual purposes.

Council members voted to extend, through December 31, the existing contract between the city and Southwestern Bell, until such time as a regular, long-term agreement can be negotiated.

Also during Tuesday night's meeting, members voted to accept the water sale contract between Colorado City and Texas Utilities Electric, owner of Lake Colorado City.

Reviewed and approved by Rees, that contract states that the city will pay TU Electric the sum of ten cents per thousand gallons for all raw water withdrawn by the city from the reservoirs during the period of July 26, 1991, to July 26, 1992.

Beginning on July 26, 1992, the amount paid will be increased at a rate of five cents per thousand gallons per year, effective each July 26.

The amount shall never exceed the average of the amounts paid per thousand gallons of raw water by the cities of Big Spring and Snyder during the previous calendar year.

This agreement, effective on July 26, 1991, shall be for a term of twenty years, and shall be automatically extended at the end of that twenty years for another twenty years unless written notice of intent to terminate is given by either party to the other not less than two years prior to the expiration of this agreement.

Termination of the agreement can also be accomplished at any time by a ten year written notice by either party, or in case of a default not remedied within sixty days.

Sunday School recognized for growth

The Sunday School at First Church of God in Ira, Texas, has been recognized for an outstanding 52% growth in attendance this past year. Recently, the Sunday school received the Sunday School Growth Award from the national offices of the Church of God, Anderson, Indiana. The Sunday school is one of over 400 Sunday schools which have been recognized for achieving a growing pattern of 10% or more throughout the past 12 months. The award is part of a national church 10-year campaign that aims to strengthen the impact of the Sunday school upon church and community life.

Pastor C.E. Cox and Superintendent Juanita Hester extend a warm and friendly welcome to all persons to visit their Sunday school which meets from 10 to 11:00 a.m., every Sunday morning.

Obituaries

Daisy B. Dillard

Daisy B. Dillard, 80, of Brentwood, Tennessee, formerly of Colorado City, died Saturday, March 16, 1991, in Franklin, Tennessee.

Graveside services were held at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, March 19 at Roselawn Memorial Park in Denton, with the Reverend George Threlkeld officiating, under the direction of Jack Schmitz and Son Funeral Home.

She was born August 21, 1910 in May, Texas, and was married on December 12, 1933 in Sweetwater, to Milton A. Dillard, who preceded her in death on September 2, 1983.

Survivors include a son, Coy Dillard of Brentwood; a daughter, Sue Bateman of Tampa, Florida; three sisters, Mary Spencer of Bronte, Isadorah Lewis of Nolan County, and Savannah Hanks of Colorado City.

Survivors also include five grandchildren, two great grandchildren, and a brother-in-law, A.C. Dillard of Colorado City.

Grady V. Lloyd

A private family memorial gathering was held in Riverside, California to honor and pay tribute to Grady V. Lloyd, who died on Saturday, March 9, 1991 in Moreno Valley, California.

He was 84 years of age.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie May; four daughters; Rosa Lee Hubbert of Riverside, California; Maxine Lee of Moreno Valley, California; Bernice Shaum of Monrovia, California; and Doris Cannady of Claremont, California; twelve grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren; two brothers, R.J. Lloyd of Colorado City, Horace Lloyd of Topohc, Arizona; one sister, Erma Billie of Temple City, California.

Mr. Lloyd was born April 3, 1906 in Potosi, Texas. He and his wife lived for 36 years in Monrovia, California, then returned in 1977 to live in Colorado City.

In November of 1990 they moved to Moreno Valley, California to be close to their children.

Mr. Lloyd will be warmly remembered as a faithful employee of the well known W.E. McKnight Construction Company of Baldwin Park, California.

He was an employee for eighteen years. Seventeen of those years he spent serving in the capacity of a foreman for the company. As a valuable employee Mr. Lloyd was called upon to travel extensively throughout Southern California supervising construction work in areas such as Beverly Hills, Pacific Palisades and along the coast of Malibu where many motion picture stars have homes.

Mr. Lloyd retired in 1971 at the age of 65. To his children and grandchildren, Mr. Lloyd leaves the legacy that honesty and hard work are the important ingredients needed for a successful and fruitful life.

His family will miss him.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company ("Southwestern Bell") submitted an application on January 4, 1991 to the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("Commission") requesting that the central office-based PBX/type service market be declared subject to significant competition pursuant to the Commission's Substantive Rule §23.27. If this proposal is approved, Southwestern Bell intends to provide service to this market segment via its PLEXAR-Custom service, which provides for contractual rates and charges to be based on an individual customer-specific basis.

PLEXAR-Custom is a central office-based service which provides switched voice and/or data communications similar to a customer-premises PBX. PLEXAR-Custom service is currently being provided on an individual customer-specific basis via Southwestern Bell's Customer Specific Pricing Plan Tariff for central office-based telecommunications systems of 200 stations or more. If Southwestern Bell's application is approved, the PLEXAR-Custom service tariff will be revised to also include central office-based telecommunications systems which require between 75 and 200 stations.

Centrex and Plexar-II services are currently priced according to a standard tariff regardless of the customer's geographic location in the state. If this application is approved, customers needing 75 to 200 stations will be able to obtain this service priced on an individual customer-specific basis rather than under a standard tariffed rate.

Southwestern Bell's application proposes that the service market for PBX/type systems of 75 stations up to 200 stations be declared subject to significant competition statewide in all of the exchange areas served by Southwestern Bell and in which the central office capability to provide the service exists and/or can readily be made available.

Persons who wish to intervene, protest, or comment on this application should notify the Public Utility Commission of Texas by June 21, 1991 at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. You may also call the Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf. Please refer to this matter in all correspondence as Docket No. 9960.

Staats speaks to B&PW Club

The Colorado City Business and Professional Women's Club met for the regular monthly meeting at the Civic House. A delicious dinner was served as the group enjoyed beautiful Irish melodies played by Ann Gregory. Guest speaker for the evening was Ann Staats, who was acting in her official role as President of Region Seven B.P.W.

Mrs. Staats was introduced by Charlene Riley, Chairman of the Personal Development Committee. Ann used the State Theme, "Women: Past, Present...Future" as she spoke to her own club. She reminded members of the club's glorious heritage and asked members to share some reasons they were proud to belong to the club. She spoke of opportunities club members have today to be associated with women from many different areas of business. And as she told of future state and national plans, she also gave challenges to this club for the future.

It is one of Mrs. Staats' duties to serve on the State Executive Board representing each club in District Seven. She told of the Mid-Winter Board Meeting in Houston. At that time she went with the other board members on a tour of the M.D. Anderson Cancer Hospital. She said it would give each one of the club members a real sense of pride to see the wall of the hospital which is dedicated to the Business and Professional Women. It is called the B.P.W. Wall. It honors the activities of B.P.W. in promoting and providing services for cancer victims for many years. Much progress has been made in the ability to cure cancer, but there is still much to be done. One person put it this way, "Cancer is on the run, but with every failure we know we have a job to do."

This year the focus for B.P.W. will be pay equity and the reproductive rights platform. The leadership of the organization is concerned that its members understand the position of the organization on the issue of abortion. It is explained that the stand of B.P.W. is really to take no stand at all. The concern of B.P.W. is that the woman should have the right to choose for herself in the matter and not have to depend upon the legislation, courts or some other entity.

Membership in B.P.W. is open to anyone who wishes to participate. The Colorado City club meets each second Tuesday and would be delighted to welcome new members at any time. There is a drive throughout the state to equalize the membership District Seven lacks only 18 members being equalized.

The B.P.W. organization offers to its members fellowship and networking activities with many experienced experts, training and personal development, member loan programs, credit card program, insurance and travel plan and many other special programs geared to meet the needs of the business woman.

The District Seven Director closed her remarks by reading the poem, "B.P.W. is Heart Friends," which expresses the feelings the women of the B.P.W. have for each other.

After a brief business session conducted by President Molly Bruce, the group adjourned until April ninth at which time the World Affairs Committee will be in charge of the program.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

Today, we conclude our story on one of Colorado City's darkest episodes. It happened in 1926 during a football game here, between the Wolves and Anson.

To recap last week's column, the Wolves were driving for the tying touchdown late in the game when a fumble halted their bid for an upset over the heavily favored Tigers. Colorado coach Jim Cantrell ran out onto the field and protested the officials' decision.

Local fans taunted the officials, then when the game ended, the faithful swarmed onto the field and assaulted two of the three officials. The melee ended with police officers escorting the men with striped shirts out of town.

The Abilene paper ran an account of the game, which claimed the referee was knocked unconscious by an irate fan and Colorado City's coach (Cantrell) was accused of arousing fans by arguing with the referee on that controversial fumble.

With that background, we continue. The Colorado Record quickly supported local fans. "The people of Colorado are high types of law abiding citizens and better sports cannot be found anywhere," the Record stated. Colorado Superintendent R. B. Norman also supported local fans and he placed the blame on the attitude of the officials, Kuhn and Simms. Norman even went a step further by saying the two officials may have "conspired to throw the game."

Throw the game? The Record made this observation; "Much Anson money had been placed on the game giving Colorado City 7 points." And the writer added, "If it is ever proved the officials were bribed, gambling will be at the bottom of it all."

What about Coach Cantrell racing onto the field? Tsk, tsk, the Record said. "Of course the decision of the referee had a tendency to agitate, but it was the back talk of the referee and umpire that caused a slight disturbance at that time."

Besides, the Record pointed out, the officiating was really pretty sorry, or words to that effect. "Practically every citizen of Colorado who saw the game joins the decision that Colorado did not get a fair and square deal," the newspaper piously pointed out.

There was one conciliatory statement. "Colorado deeply regrets this unfortunate incident and disclaims full responsibility for the same and will adopt all available means of preventing a recurrence of such," the newspaper concluded.

So, what's the bottom line on this incident? Eventually the Executive Board of Class "B" in District 3 met at the request of the Colorado School superintendent. The session lasted four and a half hours and when the dust settled, the Record announced proudly that the committee had approved the stand taken by Colorado school officials.

Specifically, the educators disapproved of the exaggerated reports of the game. The same gentlemen also disapproved of gambling on games. And, they recommended that an approved list of officials be submitted to each school so only those officials approved by all schools, could officiate the games.

Sounds like Colorado City, after attacking the officials and almost creating a riot, won the sportsmanship trophy, doesn't it?

Naturally, the hometown newspaper got in the last word.

"It was not necessary for the Anson team and fans to leave town without their suppers," the Record lamented. It's also probably not necessary to say Kuhn and Simms never officiated another game in Colorado City. They probably never wanted to come back.

Kite flying rules could save lives

Kite flying season is here again and TU Electric urges young kite flyers to follow a few simple rules for their own safety.

Ben Lancaster, TU Electric manager, warns them of the danger of flying kites in the vicinity of electric power lines.

"If you kite should get caught in electric wires, call TU Electric," Lancaster said, "and someone will be sent to get it down for you."

Lancaster also recommends the following safety rules for kite flying:

--Always use dry string, not wire, anything metallic or any string with metallic threads.
--Always use kites made of wood and paper, not wire or metal.

--Don't fly your kite on rainy days.

--Always avoid busy streets and highways while flying your kite.

--Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a kite snagged in electric wires.

--Always fly your kite far from electric or power lines.

--Always fly your kite away from TV and radio antennas.

"Young people following these rules will get more fun out of flying kites and at the same time will keep from getting hurt or losing their kites," Lancaster said.

One Friendship at a Time

At one time Mark Twain was an editor of a small Missouri paper. One day he received a letter from a subscriber saying that he'd found a spider in his paper. The reader wanted to know if this was a good or bad luck omen.

Replied Mark Twain: "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever after."

Loraine PTO meets

The Loraine Parents Teachers Organization met in for a regular business meeting on Monday, March 18.

The general PTO group voted to sponsor out "Amateur Night" on April 27th at 7:00 p.m. until. Rules and guidelines were discussed and set. Entry deadline was set for April 15th and entry forms may be obtained from the school or from Debbie Finley. A set of rules will also be provided.

Also voted on and discussed was the purchasing of materials to begin a fitness center set for the playground. The PTO set aside $500 to be used for this project and hopefully some materials can be donated. Scrap wood and iron and possibly some old tractor tires can be used. Mrs. Brenda Martin, Catarino Martinez, Jr. and Coach Bob Loy are in charge of this committee and if you have any donations of these materials you may contact them.

Other discussion was the possibility of providing a scholarship for a graduating boy and girl. Meeting adjourned.

City of Loraine expands cemetery

The City of Loraine has acquired approximately five acres of land, which will constitute the new addition to the Loraine Cemetery.

The land is in the southeast part of section forty-six, block twenty-five, T&P Railway Company Surveys.

Loraine's City Council has decided to establish certain rules and restrictions for the new addition's development, control, use and maintenance.

Council members have adopted certain restrictions, covenants, and conditions, which they intend to make binding on any grantee or owner of a lot in the new addition.

They have declared that all of the real property of the new addition shall be dedicated exclusively for cemetery purposes, and shall be held, sold, and conveyed only subject to the following restrictions:

A monument, marker, or headstone of grantee's/owners choice may be placed on the lot(s) but may not be so designed or constructed to reasonably interfere with maintenance and cleaning;

Other than a monument, marker, or headstone, grantee/owner shall not construct or place on the lot any structure, curb, surface paving or covering, stone or gravel infill, or plant any tree, shrub, or other plant, nor shall the burial plot be mounded, it being the intention to maintain the new addition to the Loraine Cemetery as a continuous grassy, flat area, free of obstruction on individual lots;

The city of Loraine and its agents and representatives are authorized to remove from the lot(s) any surface, structure, plant, or other object not in compliance with these restrictions or other rules and regulations of the Loraine Cemetery.

The foregoing restrictions, conditions, and covenants shall be incorporated into all deeds of conveyance for lots in the new addition and shall be duly recorded in the official public records of Mitchell County, Texas.

Ira L. Beights was presented the Golden Trowel Award on Saturday night by members of Loraine Masonic Lodge #1307. The award is the highest an individual lodge can bestow on one of its brothers, and honors devoted service and devotion to the principles and teachings of Masonry, without thought of recognition or special honors. Beights was initiated into the Loraine Lodge in 1948.

"God is still on his throne and prayer changes things."

I can't tell you what the weather is going to do but this afternoon (Tuesday), it is very warm and nice. There has been a time in my life that I did not enjoy hot weather but that was before my bones decided to creak and my muscles ache. Most all of us old people are wishing for warm day weather, then we are ashamed of ourselves because we need rain so badly, and really we hope we can get plenty before long.

I have been told that Raymond McNeil is not doing so well now. Hope this finds them both better. Mrs. McNeil's sister, Oleta and husband, John from Odessa visited with them over the weekend.

Irene Kidd and I were in Colorado City last Friday goofing off. We first went to the DQ where we saw Faye Smith and Wilma Wells having a late lunch. We had a nice visit with them and then got our lunch. Saw Ruth Haggerton and three of her sisters ordering lunch. Ruth and my sister are sisters-in-law, so we have a common subject to discuss. As we were leaving, we got a chance to wave at our friend Frances Kiker. We always enjoy our little outings as we see lots of folks we seldom ever see otherwise.

Billie Mayes is back in California after his call-up. He did what he was told to and then his unit lost him. He waited out every call but his name was never called. Then a guy he had met in service went in one day just to check, thinking maybe they could spend some time together before either of them shipped out. He asked for Billie Mayes and after checking the list they said, they did not have him on their list. Now he is back in California again waiting for orders.

On Saturday, March 16 Amy McKee hosted a birthday luncheon in the home of Effie Wheeler. The food and table decorations followed a St. Patrick's Day theme. After a delicious meal of quiche, salads and birthday cake the ladies spent a pleasant afternoon playing spinner dominoes.

In addition to the hostess and the honoree, those present for the occasion were Eva Wells, Annabelle Jones, Margaret Brame and Jimmie Jacks.

Some one of us who handles the news before you read it sent the Kitchens family from Snyder to the wrong place to visit. They visited the Sid Comptons on Sunday and Mrs. Kitchen is Maxine Comptons daughter. Sorry about the mixup. They were not Nannie Hallmark's guests, sorry.

Saw Jenny Hallmark going to the downtown beauty shop last week, also Effie Wheeler and Inez Webb were there.

My daughter Peggy Beaty of Abilene, ran into a high school friend last Saturday in Green's grocery. Ann and her youngest son were here visiting her mother, Joy Dickenson.

Bob and Wanza Graham had one of her sisters with them at church Sunday. We always like to have company. Oh I almost forgot to tell you the sister and husband are Levi and Homer Richburg from Clarksville.

James Lee had his children from Wilson with him at church Sunday. My guess is that they are on Spring Break this week.

My brother, Travis Lucas from Clute, Texas was here over the weekend visiting. He visited Top and Modess Jean and part of her family, came by here and visited with Donnie out in the yard for a little bit. We are always real glad to see him but the rest of us know he comes especially to see how the baby sister is doing, we'll allow that too.

Open House will be held on March 24 from 2:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. at 400 Smiley St. Oscar and Rachel Singleton bought the coffee house at this address and have remodeled it. Now it is ready for you to visit. Rachel will be remembered as Rachel Price, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Price. They lived on a farm out close to the Richburg place.

Abe Pratt was the builder of this house and owned it a long time. This brings up another story. Abe Pratt was a brother of Jess Pratt, Jess was Woodrows father. This may be the long way around but old timers probably will remember it as such.

Sara Zetman of Dallas visited her mother Hazel Pratt from Thursday till Sunday of last week.

Kenneth and Adele Smith of Clarksville and their daughter Gilbert and Mary Ann Trivillon also of Clarksville and the Trivillon two grandchildren visited in Loraine with their sister and aunt and uncle Bob and Wanza Graham. Mrs. Smith and Wanza are sisters.

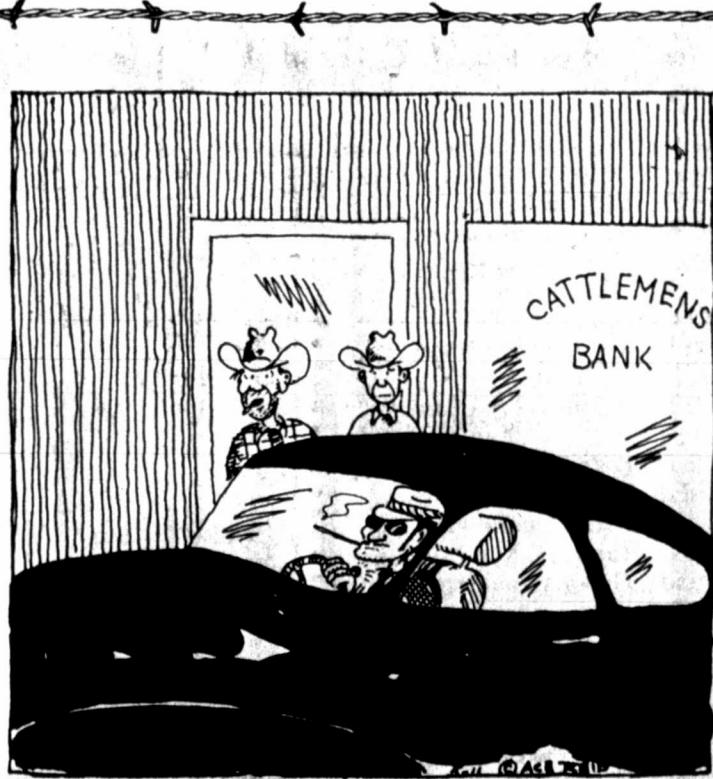

If you own a dog, I hope you have noticed the new leash law that it must be pinned up or on a leash otherwise it will be picked up. I have already warned Snuffy and Itsy that they had better stay in the pen, maybe they will mind.

We are going to have clean-up week beginning April 8 through the 13th. The city will do extra hauling if you will call them.

Our fireman got called out this afternoon, somebody let their controlled fire get away from them. This is so easy to do.

All Loraine Fireman don't forget to come help get ready for the farm sale. We will need every hand working to do the job right. The sale is April 6, 1991, that doesn't give us much time.

Congratulations Steve Rollins of Westbrook on your award. I am sure it was a job well done.

"Yes, he got rich overnight paintin' foreclosure and for sale signs."

An Individual Retirement Plan with Loraine State Bank is a great way to raise your retirement income because it allows you to earn high interest rates, plus not paying any taxes until retirement. It will pay you to talk to us before you decide the perfect plan for you!

Museum work discussed at Noon Lions' meeting

Liz Connell and Don Neumann spoke on Friday to the Colorado City Noon Lions' Club.

Ms. Connell is a member of the Colorado City Museum Board, and has been active in the work involved in the moving of the museum from its present location to its new location in the former Kiker-Seale building.

She has spent long hours, along with other volunteers, locating, cleaning, repairing, cataloging and packing all the artifacts of the museum in preparation for the move.

Neumann is the museum consultant, hired by board members, who has been providing his advice and other services to prepare the museum for its opening.

He spoke first to the club, explaining some of the procedures involved in his work on the museum.

Ms. Connell spoke next, and told members something about the National Ranching Heritage Center in Lubbock.

The center features actual buildings, moved from many Texas ranches, including Rendonbrook Spade. Ms. Connell, who has been active in working with the center since its beginnings, described some of the buildings, and noted that the interiors had been furnished authentically.

Ms. Connell said she would like to see the Colorado City Museum be as important, in its own way, as the Ranching Heritage Center.

She had several wonderful stories about the center, and about a mistress of Napoleon whom, Ms. Connell says, he sent to Corpus Christi along with an entourage to "bring art to the New World."

Actually, Josephine might have had a little something to do with the move, Ms. Connell admits, but nonetheless, that mistress contributed much to the history of Texas.

Museum volunteers have plans to publish a cookbook featuring some of the old recipes of Texas, and Ms. Connell has a watermelon cake recipe, which she says comes directly from that mistress of Napoleon, and which she intends to include in the upcoming collection.

One of the buildings at the Ranching Heritage Center, Ms. Connell says, was used by the cattle workers when that industry began there in Corpus Christi.

Neumann, during his address, cited the need for backing and support for the museum from all area residents. He said he saw no problem with that, as everyone with whom he has spoken thus far has seemed most enthusiastic.

He said the museum has a great deal of potential, and that there is still a great deal of work to do.

Neumann also urged those present to spread the word among area residents of the need for any and all World War I memorabilia which might be available.

One of the museum's first projects, he said, will be a commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the beginning of that war, and a depiction of its effects on local citizens.

Neumann intended to stay in Colorado City through last Saturday in order to take scrupulous measurements for his working model of the museum.

Armed with his measurements, Neumann will map out his plan for the layout of the museum, and will return in approximately two weeks to begin the actual placement of displays.

He intends to utilize a system of panels, Neumann explained after his speech to the club. Correctly-positioned panels can change the structure of a room, increase wall space, control the traffic flow pattern, and ensure that a visitor to the museum will not be able to stand in any one location and see everything on display in a given area.

Panels can be utilized to block harmful sunlight, and can facilitate greatly the alternating of displays, he explained. They even can be so constructed that they will serve as cases to transport certain displays to other museums in an exchange program, should one be developed.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

My letter is in response to thoughts I am having about our local cable television service. I must say that it is really nice to have cable service, since before cable we were limited to only 2 or 3 channels. I live at Lake Colorado City and there was a long delay between the time cable came to the lake and the time that the service was available in town. It was something we all, or at least I, looked forward to. There were, however, some reservations and doubts. Those being, mainly having to pay for something that at that time, was only costing me an added utility bill. However, the cable offered many advantages and as a consumer I was assured of quality and prompt trouble shooting service. Over the years I've tried four different brands of televisions in an attempt to get a better picture. To my disappointment and expense, all the brands are essentially the same. To me this means just one thing, that the cable service is not holding up to their end of the bargain. When complaints are lodged at their office, either by telephone or in person, it is always the same unsatisfactory excuse. For several years the complaints, yes years, have been basically the same. That being, my picture is not much better, and often not as good as when I used my external antenna.

Now, as I check the temperature and time on Channel 6, I notice the message running across the bottom of the screen that we are being offered the ability to receive a discount for the years of lousy service we have been paying too much for. Behold, and have to do to get this advantage is pay in advance for this lack of picture quality. I suppose I should feel fortunate. I think I could write a book on this matter, but the chapters would all too often have to contain community problems also, and as you know, none of us will live long enough to write or read it.

Westbrook Wanderings

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell spent the weekend in Sanger visiting in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor and sons, David, Greg and Matthew.

J.O.Y. Sunday School Class of Westbrook Baptist Church met Thursday, March 14, at 6:30 p.m. for a dutch treat meal and business meeting. The social was held at Fort Wood Cafe in Colorado City.

Irene Edwards, class president, presided during the business meeting. Lucile Stone led in prayer. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and treasurer's report given. Members were asked to donate cookies and Kool-Aid to be used for G.A. and Aetec refreshments.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged and names revealed. Names were then drawn for the next quarterly meeting.

Attending were Marcell Moody, Irene Edwards, Pauline Brown, Lona Dodson, Lucile Stone, Frances Ranne, Mary Lou Henderson, Georgia Lankford, and Bessie Shaw. Also attending were Nell and Gayle Rollins and Winnie and Tami Putman.

Marcy and Dale Newman were in El Paso over the weekend for the wedding of Marcy's daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Zant will be visited this week by Mrs. Max Zant, Channing, and Casey and a friend of Mrs. Zant all from Kilgore.

The 7th grade Spanish class will attend the San Angelo Spanish festival. They will present a skit and puppet show totally in Spanish. These children will be sponsored by Ms. Perales, the Westbrook Spanish teacher. The High School Spanish students will be reading poetry and prose and few will be doing extemporaneous speaking. All of this will take place April 12th.
