Keeping tab on our neighbors:

The Big Spring Herald reported the other day the death of the first patient admitted to the Veterans Administration Hospital there.

The Big Spring VA Hospital was opened on July 17, 1950, and its first patient was James A. Waters. Mr. Waters, who lived at Clyde, had been a frequent patient in the VA Hospital, and he died there on Sept. 3. A veteran of World War II, he went through the Marshall, Einewetok and Kwajelan Islands campaigns without a scratch, but was wounded in a freak accident in Hawaii during a rest and rehabilitation period. A bullet from a .45 caliber pistol, accidentally fired by a tent-mate, hit Mr. Waters in the back, paralyzing both legs.

Farmland News says farm wives can heave a giant sigh of relief if some 120 young farm couples interviewed are representative of their group. They voted three to one against a wife getting up early one day a week to milk or do other farm chores while the husband sleeps in. On other issues, they voted like this:

A husband should rise first each morning on the farm—50 per cent yes, 50 per cent no.

The wife's place is with her husband at milking time—35 per cent yes, 65 per cent no.

The husband and wife should vote for the same candidate for president—45 per cent yes, 55 per cent no.

Husbands should make all the big decisions—35 per cent yes, 65 per cent no.

The wives voted 95 per cent in opposition to separate vacations. Who said husbands were good for nothing?—WACIL McNAIR.

CONFEREES—Meeting this morning to discuss the self-study now underway at WTC were (left to right) Harry Krenek, Dr. Robert Clinton, Dr. John Wynn and Leslie Albin. Dr. Wynn, from Atlanta, Ga., is a representative of the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges.

Southern Assn. Official Here

Dr. John Wynn, assistant executive secretary of the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges, has been at Western Texas College today for a series of conferences on the self-study now underway at the college.

WTC is required to do the self-study in preparation for the reaffirmation of its accreditation by the Southern Association next year. The self-study is similar to the one now being done by Snyder public schools.

Dr. Wynn will be working with staff members throughout the day and was scheduled to meet with the faculty at 2 p.m.

WTC is now ending its fifth year of accreditation by the Southern Association. Its next self-study in preparation for renewal of accreditation will come at the end of 10 years.

The current self-study is expected to be completed by the end of the school year. Data compiled through the study will be studied by the Southern Association, and a team of visiting evaluators will be sent to the campus for an on-site report before recommendations for reaffirmation of the accreditation are made.

As work continues on the study, all college personnel will be involved and local residents will also be consulted. Harry Krenek, Professor of History and Geography, is serving as chairman of the self-study.

President Sways Catholic Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roman Catholic leaders met for more than an hour today with President Ford and announced afterward they were "encouraged" by his views on abortion but added: "This does not mean we are totally satisfied."

The President met with one Catholic cardinal, three archbishops, and two bishops.

A spokesman for the clergymen told reporters they were encouraged because "the President agrees on the need for a constitutional amendment" affecting abortion.

The same group met 10 days ago with Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter and declared afterward they were "disappointed" by Carter's stand on abortion.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Thursday that Ford does not favor a proposed constitutional amendment banning abortion but does favor a constitutional amendment letting each state set its own policy on abortions.

Those meeting with Ford today were Archbishop Joseph Bernardin of Cincinnati, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops; Archbishop John Carberry of St. Louis, vice president of the group; Terence Cardinal Cooke of New York City, Archibshop John J. McGuire of New York City, Bishop James W. Malone of Youngstown, Ohio, and Bishop James S. Rausch.

They declined to be photographed with Ford.

Catholic leaders also had declined to be photographed with Carter during a similar meeting here Aug. 31 after which a spokesman for the bishops expressed disappointment in the Democratic nominee's position on abortion.

'Barnyard' Is Planned At Fair Again

Plans are being made for another "Kiddie Barnyard" at the Scurry County Fair this year.

The Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee hopes to arrange for a display similar to that of last year. In the Kiddie Barnyard, animals and fowls generally found on farms are featured and they are displayed so that youngsters may see them at close hand and even touch some of them. It was one of the more popular educational exhibits at the fair last year.

The committee is now seeking to line up animals for the barnyard. Anyone who has gentle farm animals, such as Shetland ponies, lambs, goats, chickens, ducks, geese, guineas, etc., that could be used for this purpose during the fair is asked to call the Chamber of Commerce at 573-3558.

The 1976 Scurry County Fair will open next Thursday at the Scurry County Coliseum for a three-day run.

Tito Is Ill; Cancels All Engagements

PARIS (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito, 84, has cancelled his immediate engagements because of illness and a planned visit by French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing Sept. 15 is expected to be postponed, informed sources said here Friday.

An official communique announcing the postponement was expected to be issued in the two capitals later in the day.

The sources did not specify the nature or seriousness of the condition of the veteran Communist leader but said he was canceling engagements "as he has in the past." Yugoslav foreign minister Milos Minic came to Paris today to meet briefly with Giscard d'Estaing and it was announced that he delivered a personal message from Tito.

Minic later met with Foreign Minister Louis de Guirangaud.

Hijacked Plane Lands At Lahore

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — An Indian Airlines Boeing 737 was hijacked on a domestic flight over India early today and forced to land at Lahore, Pakistan, authorities said.

Sources in Pakistan and the Indian capital of New Delhi said six of the 77 passengers aboard were released because they became ill. They were a West German woman, her husband and child and three Indians, the sources said.

Officials denied earlier reports that all the passengers had been released. The plane carried seven crew members, officials said.

An airline spokesman said no Americans were known to be aboard the plane. He said the German family was part of a 15-person German tour group.

The hijackers demanded to go to Saudi Arabia, sources said. However, there was no indication of their nationality. Officials made no immediate response to the demands.

The plane was hijacked shortly after taking off from Palam International Airport here at 7 a.m. — 9:30 p.m. Thursday EDT — en route to Bombay, with stops scheduled in the Indian cities of Jaipur and Aurangabad.

New Delhi flight control said it lost radio contact with the plane and no further word was received until it landed in Lahore about an hour later.

The last hijacking to Pakistan of an Indian Airlines flight occurred in 1971 when two Kashmiris forced a Fokker Friendship plane on a domestic flight to fly to Lahore. All the passengers were released but the plane was later blown up.

Yugoslavia Air Crash Kills 176

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — A British airliner and a Yugoslav charter jet carrying West German tourists collided at 35,000 feet near Zagreb today, officials said. All 176 persons aboard the planes were killed, according to doctors at the scene.

A witness among the first to arrive at the crash site said the body of one plane was burned out. He said bodies and luggage were scattered around the rubble. More than 30 ambulances and fire trucks went to the scene but found no one alive, he said.

The British plane carried a reported 54 passengers and nine crew members. A British Airways spokesman in New York said there was one American and one Canadian aboard the plane. However, British Airways officials in London said there were at least two Americans and some Turkish nationals aboard.

The New York spokesman said it would be 12 to 24 hours before a passenger list was available.

The Yugoslav plane had 108 passengers and five crew members aboard, company officials said. Sources said most or all of them were West German tourists returning from vacations on the Adriatic coast.

The planes collided at 6:15 a.m. EDT about 15 miles northeast of Zagreb, Yugoslavia's second largest city and 230 northwest of Belgrade.

The planes were in an established air corridor over Yugoslavia utilized by all civilian planes, officials said. The corridor is under the control of the Zagreb traffic center.

The cause of the collision was not immediately known. Officials said an investigation was begun.

British Airways officials in London said Flight 476 was on a direct flight from London to Istanbul. The officials said the plane was a Trident 3 jetliner.

Reports here said the Yugoslavian plane was a DC9 beloning to the Yugoslav charter company Inex-Adria. The DC9 was flying between Split, Yugoslavia, and Cologne, West Germany.

In Cologne, officials said the Yugoslavian plane had been chartered by Kaufhof, a Cologne-based tourist agency.

The crash was the worst collision since July 1971, when an All-Nippon Airways Boeing 727 collided with a Japanese air force F86 over Morioka, Japan, killing 84 persons aboard the planes and 71 on the ground.

The most recent American air collision occurred in September 1969. Eighty-three persons died when an Allegheny Airlines DC9 hit a student pilot's plane at Shelbyville, Ind.

A spate of near-misses last year prompted the U.S. Federal Aviation Administration to order the installation of more modern air traffic control equipment and revise procedures for controllers.

The incidents also led the FAA to hasten plans for installing a computerized conflict alert system, which would issue warnings when aircraft within a four-to five-miles sphere came too close.

China Mourning Death Of Leader

TOKYO (AP) — In deep mourning over the death of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, China began today to pay somber tribute to the man whose loss leaves the world's most populous country without a leader worthy of his mantle.

A struggle for power appeared inevitable among the radicals and moderates who have been jockeying for leadership since Mao's health began an obvious decline earlier this year. He died Wednesday at age 82. The Peking government has not disclosed the cause of death.

The central committee of the Chinese Communist party issued an appeal for unity, and reports from China indicated the people were calm as they mourned their revolutionary leader.

"All papers devote the entire front page to a huge portrait of Chairman Mao Tse-tung bordered in black," the official Hsinhua news agency said today in a broadcast monitored here. It said newspapers used the banner headline: "Eternal glory to our great leader and teacher Chairman Mao Tse-tung."

Peking residents contacted by telephone said flags were at half-staff through the capital, nearly everyone was wearing a black armband, some people wept and large crowds gathered in the huge Tien An Men Square to put white flowers at a monument.

Written on the monument are Mao's words: "The heroes of the people are immortal."

"Peking is somber," one resident said by telephone, "but things are very much normal aside from what you would expect for the mourning of the chairman."

"People have severe expressions on their faces," a second resident said, "but there is no high emotion. We're all impressed by the calm atmosphere."

Chinese broadcasts were devoted to Mao's passing. A resident said the broadcasts told listeners to turn their grief into strength, to follow Mao's will to build a socialist system in China and to continue efforts for unity.

The Japanese newspaper Asahi quoted an aged Chinese as saying, "The most sorrowful moment has come. We have lost Chairman Mao, Premier Chou En-Lai and Marshal Chu Teh in one year. This year is the saddest for our country since its foundation."

Mao's body will lie in state in Peking's Great Hall of the People beginning Saturday. The mourning period will last until a memorial rally Sept. 18. The Hsinhua news agency said no foreign dignitaries would be invited. Press coverage thus will come from the official Chinese media and the few foreign reporters permitted to work in China.

For the time being, Premier Hua Kuo-feng, 57, retains the role assigned to him after the death of Chou En-lai last January, that of a compromise leader between the radicals and moderates.

The Mao funeral committee, announced Thursday night, was headed by four men — Hua; Wang Hung-wen, the Shanghai "boy wonder" raised by Mao from the factory assembly line to a party vice chairmanship; Chang Chun-chiao, first vice premier and member of the Politburo standing committee, and Yeh Chien-ying, defense minister, party vice chairman and an old Chou crony.

AFTER MAO'S DEATH

US-China Ties Are Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deaths within the last eight months of China's two strongest proponents of detente with the United States have left analysts here wondering about the durability of Washington's role in China's balance-of-power strategy.

Within hours after the announcement of the death of Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger issued an optimistic statement about the future of U.S. relations with Peking, but he also indicated he has some apprehensions.

At one point, he told reporters on Thursday that it is "extremely difficult" to predict what China will do now, but moments later he said he is "sure that from the Chinese side, the basic lines of policy will continue to be pursued."

Kissinger was one of the chief architects of the move that, in 1971, ended more than two decades of hostility between the two countries. That policy was shaped in cooperation with Mao and Prime Minister Chou En-lai, who died in January.

Kissinger, whose comments appeared to be directed primarily at Peking, emphasized on several occasions that mutual interests are more important than personalities in formulating policy.

Therefore, he said, "the main lines of policy are likely to be continued." He pledged a continued American effort to normalize relations with Peking.

Since that effort began, the two countries have exchanged liaison officers and there has been a substantial increase in trade and frequent cultural and educational exchanges.

Lately, however, there has been little movement toward normalization and there have been reports — disputed by Kissinger — that Peking is growing impatient with the slow process.

Significantly, Kissinger said that although there could be a modification of tactics, China's long-standing rift with the Soviet Union likely will continue.

Other analysts, however, believe that Mao's death raises the best opportunity in many years for an easing of tensions between Moscow and Peking.

Aside from policy issues, Kissinger, who had met with Mao five times, called Mao an "eminent forceful personality" and said that "nothing he said was ever without purpose."

Mexico Cuts Red Tape

DALLAS (AP) — Businessman Richard Stokley spent three years trying to cut through the Mexican red tape which had held his private aircraft, confiscated after being used by a drug smugglers.

Then, all of a sudden, the tape broke.

"I got a call from a Mexican official who told me to come get it. I couldn't believe it," Stokley said Thursday.

Stokley attributes the fast work to a change of attitude among some Mexican government officials. He said he was told American tourism had fallen off drastically and that the Mexican government wanted to rebuild it.

One way is to be nice to Americans.

Stokley said his advice for someone with a plane confiscated by the Mexican government is for them to press hard for its return.

"If anybody has an airplane confiscated they ought to make an effort now to get it. They need to have the paperwork on this side of the border and know how to handle it on that side also," he said.

Stokley's plane was flown into Mexico without his knowledge in April 1973. He learned a few weeks afterwards from federal border and narcotics officials that the plane had been confiscated.

NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED—Seven new members were welcomed as Musical Coterie members last evening at a dinner meeting held at Martha Ann Woman's Club. New members are (from left) Billie Robbins, Janelle Hammock, Viva Cockerell, Bonita Moore, Betty Shelburne, and Helen Clark.

Musical Coterie Starts Year With Dinner Meeting

The Musical Coterie, affiliated with State and National Federation Music Clubs, began their club year last evening with a dinner meeting at Martha Ann Woman's Club. Thirty-six members and their spouses and four guests, Melvin Branch, Mr. and Mrs. George Killam and Francene Allen attended.

Mary Lou Scott, club president, opened the meeting by greeting members and guests. She announced that the woman's club will be sponsoring a style show Oct. 2 and asked members to participate in the show by selling tickets and attending the annual affair.

The theme for the meeting was "77 or Bust." The program, table settings, and menus were carried out in a Southern style.

Lynn Bethel, vice-president, gave an introduction of the year's study. Programs will include sacred music, a traditional American Christmas, 20th century music, a parade of American music, a founder's day luncheon and a Hawaiian music program.

June Brock welcomed new members Billie Robbins, Janette Hammock, Viva Corkerell, Bonita Moore, Betty Shelburne and Helen Clark. She presented a "Federation Quiz," telling the new members what the Music Federation is. "Music is one of God's riches gifts to man. But we live in a material world, controlled by material things, a situation to be changed only by those whose efforts are directed towards things of the spirit" Mrs. Brock concluded.

"America's Music" by Gilbert Chase, chapter 14, was discussed at length by Jerry Worsham. He gave a detailed talk on the life of Stephen Foster, a great American minstrel and folk song writer.

Mary Lou Scott conducted a sing-a-long of the best loved songs by Foster and accompanied the goup at the piano as they sang such songs as "Oh Susanna," "Home on The Range," "Old Folks At Home," "Nelly Bly," "Swannee River," "Camptown Races," "Skip To My Lou," and "Clementine."

A barbershop quartet, composed of Monette O'Day, Mary Lou Scott, Dorothy Kayser, and Sue Coffman, delighted the audience with a medley of songs including "Waiting for Robert E. Lee," "In Eve By Moonlight," and "Sweet Adelaide."

To conclude the program Jerry Worsham introduced Jane Womack who accompanied herself at the guitar as she sang a medley of folk songs. Mrs. Womack told the group that "folk music is that which speaks to the heart of people."

PRESENTS PROGRAM—A delightful and entertaining program of American music was presented to Musical Coterie members and their guests last evening at Martha Ann Woman's Club. Altrurian Daughters Club Meets

The Altrurian Daughters Club met at the Martha Ann Woman's Club on Sept. 8 for the first meeting of the 1976-77 season. The occasion was marked by a luncheon hosted by Mrs. R.L. Sleeper, Mrs. Billy Null, Mrs. Hugh Boren, Mrs. Lee Smyth, and Mrs. Bert Dennis.

In the business meeting following the luncheon, the resignation of Mrs. Ross Carroll and Mrs. George Killam were regretfully accepted and a leave of absence was granted Mrs. Roger Mize.

The major part of the meeting was devoted to discussion of what the club could do toward raising funds for a new roof for the club building. Further consideration will be given to the matter at the next club meeting.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There are many functional reasons for building fences other than the oldest of them all — to keep cattle, horses and other animals within certain boundaries.

No matter how utilitarian your reason, you can add to the appearance of your home and, consequently, its market value, if you choose a design from among the many exciting styles now available. Even the picket fence is becoming more stylized.

Whatever your choice, even before you decide on whether you want a traditional or contemporary design, make sure what the zoning requirements and survey limits are. The most common limitation is the height to which the fence can be built along a property line. Sometimes, a potential problem can be averted by reaching an agreement with a neighbor on sharing the costs and work of building a so-called "good neighbor" design, one that looks the same from either side.

Since it is the fence posts that support the entire structure, their installation is of vital importance. Get them solidly in place and the chances are the fence will last indefinitely without the necessity of a repair. Generally, it is best to use one of the weather-resistant woods, such as redwood, cypress or cedar, although other types of wood will be satisfactory if they are treated with a preservative. "Treated" does not mean brushing the posts with a single coat of preservative. They should be soaked overnight in a container of the liquid. In fact, it's a good idea to do this with ANY kind of wood.

The posts should be 4 by 4s, each set one-third of its length underground. In digging the hole, make it about 8 inches in diameter at the top, slightly larger at the bottom. Make it from 4 to 6 inches deeper than the part of the wood that will go below ground. Fill that extra space with gravel to facilitate drainage. While many persons backfill the posts with well-tamped earth, a better job can be obtained by setting them into a concrete mix. It can be one of the pre-mixes or a mixture of your own made of one part portland cement, two parts of sand and four parts of gravel or other coarse aggregate.

When a post has been placed into several inches of concrete mix, brace it into position with two or three pieces of wood, set at an angle to hold it firmly. Then pour in more concrete mix until it fills the hole and comes to a point slightly higher than the surface of the ground. Trowel the mixture so that it slopes away from the post, permitting rain to flow away rather than settle next to the wood.

Keep the braces in place until the concrete has hardened. Wet down the mixture a couple of times a day for several days, skipping this step on a rainy day and increasing the treatments if the concrete is exposed to the sun for several hours a day.

Gate posts should be even stronger than the fence posts because they are subjected to constant strain. The gate itself should be at least 3 feet wide, with about a half-an-inch clearance between it and the latch-post.

In the installation of the posts, don't rely on your eyes to tell you when they are vertical. Use a level while you are setting the braces into position. Check constantly while pouring the concrete to be sure there hasn't been some movement.

East's two-diamond overcall on a four-card suit is rather unusual, but he just hated to pass with his fine hand.

South rebid to two spades and played the hand there. East cashed three diamonds and then played ace and deuce of hearts.

The hand looked like a cinch for the rest of the tricks, but South got a rude shock when West showed out on the lead of the ace of spades. Now South had to try to find a way to collect eight tricks. He entered dummy with a club and led a spade. East's nine forced South's king.

Back to dummy with another club. Lo and behold East, who had dropped the jack on the first club, played the queen this time and South was in business.

He led the good 10 of clubs. East made his best play by ruffing with the 10 of trumps and South carefully underruffed. This left East on lead with the last diamond and the jack-six of spades. South held the queen of hearts and queen-eight of spades while North held a spade, heart and club.

If East led a trump, South would just take the last three tricks. If he led the last diamond, South would discard his high heart, ruff in dummy and claim.

We recommend a pass since there is too much danger of running into real trouble. Still, if you like to live dangerously a two-heart overcall is not the worst bid ever made.

MUM ON BUGGING

Wallaces Greet Rosalynn Carter

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace's wife ordered his bedroom telephone conversations taped after she learned he was keeping her under "surveillance," published reports said today.

And when she heard on the tapes the governor making "disparaging remarks" about her to several of his longtime female friends, Mrs. Wallace consulted a divorce lawyer, The Montgomery Advertiser said.

Quoting "highly reliable sources," the newspaper said Wallace too talked to a lawyer about divorce after he learned his wife was taping his calls.

The Advertiser did not elaborate on what form of surveillance it said Wallace had used on his wife.

The Wallaces appeared in public together Thursday in the governor's mansion at a brief reception for Rosalynn Carter, wife of Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter. But neither answered questions about the buggings, and neither was available later for comment about the Advertiser report.

Mrs. Wallace, 37, stood throughout the welcoming ceremonies, her hand resting on the back of her husband's wheelchair. Wallace has been paralyzed below the waist since he was shot while campaigning for president in 1972.

Billie Joe Camp, Wallace's press secretary, said the couple hadn't appeared in public together since the governor celebrated his 57th birthday on Aug. 25.

Wallace had confirmed on Wednesday the discovery of the bedroom taping device, whose existence had long been rumored. He labeled the incident a "domestic matter between my wife and myself," although he did not specifically say that his wife knew about the device.

He refused to discuss specifics of the taping device, but he said the tapes had been destroyed.

U.S. Atty. Ira DeMent acknowledged Thursday that the FBI had conducted a preliminary investigation of the bugging incident.

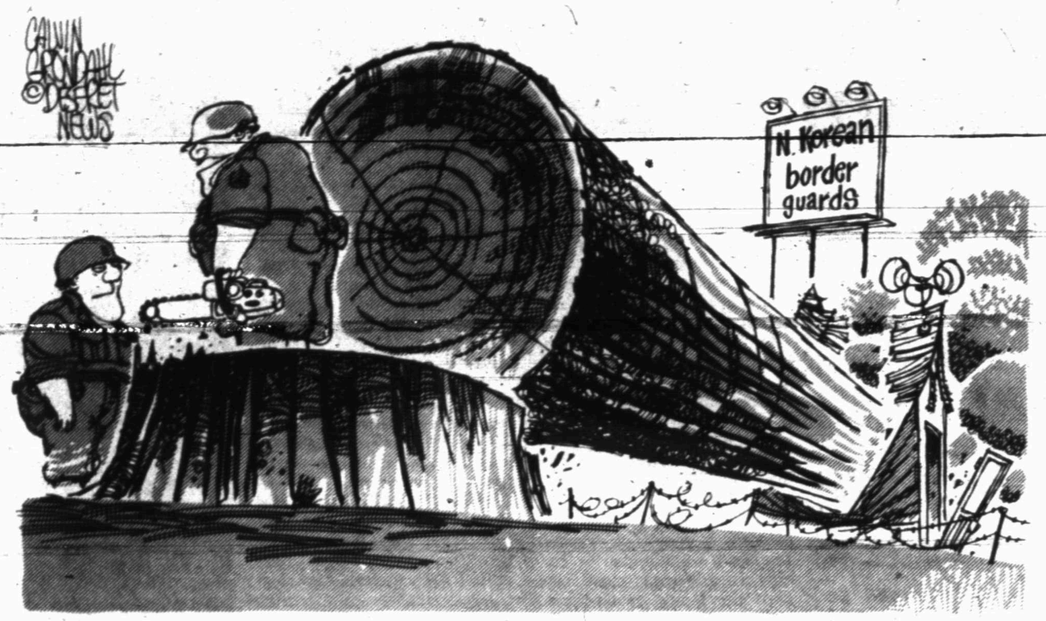
DeMent said the bugging may have been a "technical violation of the law," but he said that since it "appears to be purely domestic" no prosecution would be undertaken. He said he concurred with Wallace's assertion that no further investigation need be conducted.

At a news conference for Mrs. Carter, a reporter tried to ask Mrs. Wallace about her husband's revelations, but she refused to answer, turned her back and walked away.

Camp, who told the Advertiser on Thursday that he is seeking a job with the Alabama Medical Association, said Mrs. Wallace would not answer questions regarding the matter. Camp himself was unavailable later for comment on the Advertiser story.

The Wallaces were married in 1971, three years after the death from cancer of his first wife, Lurleen. At the time of her death, the first Mrs. Wallace was governor, serving as stand-in for Wallace, who was barred by the state constitution from succeeding himself.

The constitution now permits a governor to serve two consecutive terms, but Wallace will have done so by 1978, and there has been speculation that Cornelia Wallace would run then. On Wednesday, Wallace said that if she ran, he "would be as strong for her as I was for my first wife."



"I'm sorry, sir, I'm afraid I've accidentally crushed those poor murderers."

LBJ Symposium Draws Fed Officials, Carter

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Scholars and elected officials will make a painstaking review of America's social programs of the 1960s at a symposium that apparently has attracted presidential candidate Jimmy Carter's attention.

Assistant deputy chancellor Bob Hardesty of the University of Texas said he hopes the symposium, starting Sunday night, can "heightened debates" in the Ford-Carter presidential race.

Three governors, two mayors and two congressmen are among 75 participants expected at what Hardesty says will be an "honest evaluation of the social domestic programs of the Kennedy-Johnson years."

Dr. Jurgen Schmandt, acting dean of the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs, said a member of Jimmy Carter's staff already had asked for copies of the papers to be presented.

With the exception of President Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal, Schmandt told a news conference, America has never had "programs that were so ambitious for improving social condtions" as during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

He said he thinks the symposium "may play an important role in shaping future policies."

One of the first speakers in the five-day program will be by Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a Pulitzer Prize-winning historian and writer who was special assistant to President John F. Kennedy.

Schlesinger speaks Sunday night, following an address by executive director Vernon Jordan of the National Urban League.

The symposium, Hardesty said, "is particularly important in this election year with debates going on in the body politic about social programs."

In response to a question at a news conference, LBJ Library director Harry Middleton said UT administrators had considered trying to hold Ford-Carter debates here but "abandoned the idea."

Elspeth Rostow, a UT dean, said "in a super-heated presidential campaign, some benefits might be lost. We wanted people here who can take a reasoned approached" to the programs of the 1960s.

The symposium is sponsored by UT, the LBJ Library and the JFK Library, which helped identify who should be invited and lined up speakers, such as Schlesinger.

Financing is coming from the private LBJ Foundation, grants and other contributors.

No tax money will be spent, and the symposium is free and open to the public.

Nurses Oppose UT Decision

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A University of Texas official says the recently abolished central nursing office had become an outdated "burden."

Nurses told a House subcommittee Thursday that the regents' decision to wipe out the system nursing school here could destroy their chances to work outside hospitals.

Nursing students said they feared the move could jeopardize the value of their diplomas. One said the system school had a reputation as being the "Harvard of the South."

Deputy chancellor E.D. Walker told a House subcommittee that the a system school to oversee nursing education was created in 1967 to solve a shortage in clinical nurses, but despite $26.5 million in state funds since then, "the plight of many hospitals is as bad or worse in 1976 as it was in 1967."

"Part of this shortage, of course, is due to the growth in the number of hospitals and the phenomenal increase in demand for health care," Walker said. "But part of it is also due to the fact that the system school of nursing has been more interested in training administrators than bedside nurses."

Complaints have come from "those responsible for patient care at Galveston and M.D. Anderson," he said.

He insisted that the reorganization of the system school of nursing has not disrupted academic programs, and there is "nothing sinister" in it. "We have not jeopardized accreditation," he added, nor 'put nursing education back under the doctors.'"

Barbara Frank of Houston said the dissolution of the nursing system office, effective Sept. 1, was part of a "last-ditch effort" by "some doctors in organized medicine" against expanded roles for nurses.

"We should be educated to function as a thinking practitioner, not just carry out manual skills," she told the subcommittee on medical education.

Regents voted March 26 to dissolve the central office here, which had 27 employes, and to have each of the six schools of nursing in the system administer their own affairs. The schools are at El Paso, San Antonio, Galveston, Houston, Austin and Fort Worth.

UT administrators claimed the move saved $300,000.

Nurses argued the move was designed to put nursing education under direct supervision of doctors.

Because Soviet Russia has eliminated first or second class railroad cars, Soviet citizens and American visitors to the Soviet Union now ride in "soft class" or "hard class" cars.

Mrs. Derese Posts Bond

HOUSTON (AP) — Paula Cantrell Derese, charged in the July 24 slaying of her parents, was free today after her attorney posted $50,000 in bonds.

Mrs. Derese, 25, was released from Harris County jail Thursday night after attorney Richard Mayhan posted two $25,000 bonds on her two capital murder indictments.

Mrs. Derese and Vernon Eugene McManus, 33, are charged in the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harvey Cantrell. The couple was found strangled, beaten and slashed in their nearby Baytown home.

McManus was released on $50,000 bond last month.

Wheat Prices Stabilize

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wheat prices appear to have stabilized, according to the National Association of Wheat Growers.

The large crop in the United States and worldwide has caused prices to fall to about $1 a bushel below last year, the association noted in a news release this week.

"Prices will continue to be under pressure, and if winter wheat producers increase planting this fall over last year it will be bearish on the market," said Jerry Rees, executive vice president of the association.

LIFESTYLE SIMPLER, CHEAPER

One Day In A Commune

By DOLORES BARCLAY
Associated Press Writer

WEST DANBY, N.Y. (AP) — The deep, hollow sound of a goat horn sent a almost pagan sennet through the tall trees. It was morning at Yea God.

From domed, circular huts called yurts and crude teepees and tents emerge the faithful, ready to sing their way into another day of praising the Lord.

Barefoot and bleary-eyed, they assemble in a huge domed meeting place in the middle of the commune for their morning song. They sit on musty Persian rugs, the women in their long cotton dresses; the men in dungaree overalls. They assume the yoga lotus position and sing of love for Jesus.

Yea God is a four-year-old spiritual commune of about 40 members, who practice a hand-clapping, fill-me-with-the-Spirit brand of Christianity. Neither Yea God nor any other commune can serve as an archetype for all others. Some communes have rather traditional middle-class values and living patterns. Others have a back-to-the-earth flavor. Still others are politically motivated. And some are based on religion.

But all communes have one thing in common: the people, living so closely together, must cooperate if the community is to survive.

Yea God is trying to survive on religion. Their 39-year-old leader is a tall, lanky former insurance executive who calls himself Gil.

Gil, in turn, has given everyone else on the commune names. They are Ocean, Vast and Rock; Radiant, Bumblee and Love; Twinkle, Baby and Glory; Glow, Health and Virtue; Christian, Angel and Exquisite. They don't use their real names.

"The chipmunks eat from our hands and the chickadees land on our fingers," said Gil, rocking in an outdoor swing whose seat was once a pew in a church. "It's more important to be in a spiritual sense than to have prosperity."

It was late morning. The singing session was over and commune dwellers were off to work in the vegetable garden or to mediate in the woods. Glory, Gil's assistant, arrived with a platter of overripe melons. The Yea God members often eat overripe fruit because they can get it free from the highway produce truckers.

"Our lifestyle is a lot cheaper than you think," said Gil, who punctuates his statements every now and then with a soft "Praise the Lord."

He said it cost less than $1,000 a year for one person to live on the commune. The vegetables and fruit they grow they consume. Donations of money, clothing, food and other goods from visitors and relatives also help.

"We have no restrictions here, except our guests and members must be receptive to love," Gil said in a voice barely above a whisper.

No one at Yea God shouts or speaks louder than necessary to be heard. Even the children speak in hushes.

The commune dwellers are vegetarians and, along with meat, shun sugar and chemicals in food. Gil likes to pass out his favorite snack to the children: a concoction of raisins, sunflower seeds and cocoanut all wrapped together.

Commune members purchased the 70 acres of farmland and woods for $150 an acre, Gil said. They pooled their resources - savings, insurance claims, and gifts from parents and inheritances. All structures on the land were built by them with available material — wood, stone, tar, fabric, newspaper.

In addition to the central dome, which also has sleeping space for about 15 people on its second floor, there are about 25 tar-covered yurts and teepees and about five tents and leantos. There also is a bathhouse and a kitchen, a church and one outhouse. There is no electricity and little heat.

And when the arctic winds blow from Canada down across the Finger Lakes, the people at Yea God get very cold.

The yurts do have small wood-burning stoves for heat, so do the large Dome, the bathhouse and kitchen. But they are not enough.

"I'm leaving for California in the fall," said Radiant, a 36-year-old native of Berkeley. "No way, I'm not going to spend another winter in that cold Dome squeezed in between dirty bodies."

She regrets the move, she said, because Yea God "is the only spiriual commune I've known where the people live in such incredible love.

"The minute I put my foot on th land I knew I was home."

The people at Yea God call each other "sweet heart" and "honey" when not using commune names. "Sweet" is a word they use to describe anything beautiful, nice or good.

It is midday. The sun is hot and the insects abound. The long skirts the women wear help protect them from bites. But the naked babies and everyone else with exposed flesh suffer. The commune dwellers practice herb medicine; they do not use insect repellants.

Twinkle is the herb expert and midwife. She has not yet had an opportunity to deliver a baby. At the moment she has a had summer cold. Herbs will not help, so she takes prescription antiboitics. She spends a quiet day in her yurt with her 2½-year-old son, Baby Love, reading him "Bambi," one of the few books on the commune.

Many of the commune folk pass the day milling about the great Dome, where they receive their mail and other messages from the outside world. Mothers stop by with infants, some being breast-fed. They swap childbearing experiences.

Tiny tots such as Baby Love romp about naked in the nearby sandpile. Some sneak into the kitchen to pilfer a peach or apple. There, Ocean stands in cutoff blue jeans and T-shirt before a huge vat of green beans. He will make them into a casserole for the evening meal.

Larger children explore the hidden mysteries of the quiet forest, ignoring the dangers of poison ivy and snakes. Six-year-old Sunshine slips out of her long cotton dress and jumps into the large fresh water pond.

Health and Christian and a dozen or so other adults hover over the vegetable garden, pulling weeds, picking greens and tomatoes that are ready and tending to the plants so they will produce well.

Rebe and two others eye the base construction for the commune's new two-story laundry, bathhouse and child care center. They are laying pipes for plumbing.

The horn sounds again. It is time for the women to bathe. Water is heated, scrub brushes, water buckets and ladles are lined up in front of the stalls. Sunshine and other small children are put in large tubs, filled with bubbles. The children are unmindful of the nakedness of the adult women.

An hour later the horn sounds again. This time the men bathe.

Clothes are changed, and the Yea God people buzz about waiting for the trucks that will carry them to church that night. Neighboring farmers finally drive up with their pick-ups. The commune people hop on the back, and the trucks chug off down the dirt roads.

The church is the St. John Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church in West Van Etten. It is to be a special evening service, featuring the singing of a Christian rock group from North Carolina called The Bridge.

On the bumpy, dusty journey down the hill to the church the commune people turn their faces to the wind and start to sing hymns. Soon they are clapping and stomping in true revival fashion. They are happy.

"Jesus is live," sings 19-year-old Vast from Brazil.

"Jesus is glory," sings 20-year-old Glow from Syracuse, N.Y.

The church meeting is a community affair. Women from other parishes have brought home baked cookies and breads. The Yea God people donate popcorn and wheat bread cookies.

"People really touch you a lot and become part of your life," Glow says as she sips fruit punch. "That's what I've learned and that's what I like most about being here."

Glow said she was working in a hospital in Syracuse and finally could no longer function. "Life in the city was very harrowing," she said. "I needed the country for peace, trees, flowers and for time to gather my thoughts."

There was much singing and shouting and testifying at the church meeting. And when it was over commune folk as well as community folk smiled at each other and prayed together.

But some Yea God people are disillusioned.

"I'm leaving tomorrow for home" said 20-year-old Exquisite from Connecticut. "I want to be able to serve by doing something and not just by praying."

Others plan to leave the commune because they say they are bored.

"The ideal would be to have a part-time job in town in social work and spend two days on the commune," said 27-year-old Good, whose real name is Jim. "I find I want to have the peacefulness of Yea God and the excitement of town."

Basie Recovering From Heart Attack

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Band leader Count Basie is recovering from a heart attack at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center.

A hospital spokesman said Basie, 72, was resting comfortably Thursday. His condition was termed fair, and no date has been set for his release.

Basie, 72, suffered the heart attack Monday. For nearly 40 years he has been a headliner with his big band and its jazz arrangements.

34 Counties Are Declared Disaster Area

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced Thursday he has declared 34 East Texas counties a disaster area because of an epidemic of the Southern Pine Beetle.

Infestation "spots" total more than 7,000, nearly twice as many as last year, Briscoe said.

The estimated tree mortality rate is equivalent to a wood product value loss of $8.5 million a month.

Briscoe's proclamation orders "all necessary measures, both public and private, be implemented to meet this threat to our forestry resources."

The counties are: Anderson, Angelina, Bowie, Cass, Chambers, Cherokee, Gregg, Grimes, Hardin, Harris, Harrison, Houston, Jasper, Jefferson, Liberty, Marion, Montgomery, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Polk, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Smith, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Walker and Waller.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're a competent person, but if something comes up that you can't handle, don't feel disgraced by letting someone more skilled take over.

Raiders, Giants Are Picked In Upsets

NEW YORK (AP) — Here it is September, a time to think baseball playoffs and World Series. The division races we have been waiting for all summer are here at last and instead of paying attention to the Pirates and Phillies and the A's and Royals you want to know who's going to win the football games.

Some nerve.

This is a time for pennant pressure and you're into pigskin prognostications.

You should be ashamed.

Okay, you simply have to know who will win the games this weekend when the National Football League begins its 57th season. Well, for starters, Seattle and Tampa Bay, newest members of the pro football lodge, won't.

What's that? You knew that already?

You figured out that the two expansion teams wouldn't win their openers? Very good. But here's something you didn't know. The New York Giants and Oakland Raiders will win their first games for the week's upset specials.

The Giants, facing one of the NFL's more gruelling schedules, will have plenty of upset opportunities, starting with this week's Washington game. Oakland, on the other hand, is an AFC powerhouse and will be favored just about every week except this one when the Raiders must face defending champion Pittsburgh.

But the Pro Picker has this hunch that the Giants and Raiders will start this season off on the right foot.

The Pick:

Giants 21, Washington 17

The Giants are a vastly improved team with a redesigned ground game centered on bulldozing Larry Csonka. The Redskins are hurting just enough to lose to New York for the first time since 1970.

Oakland 17, Pittsburgh 14

The Raiders think this is their year ... again ... and there's no better time to start proving it than against the defending champion Steelers. Pittsburgh had an in-and-out exhibition season.

Los Angeles 27, Atlanta 10

Even without O.J. Simpson, the Rams are very, very good. The Falcons, unfortunately, are not.

Miami 30, Buffalo 16

Without O.J. Simpson, the Bills are not very good. The Dolphins will exploit the gaps. Wouldn't it be funny if O.J. showed up in the ABC analyst's seat for this Monday night TV game?

Dallas 24, Philadelphia 7

In the tough NFC East, the Cowboys get an easy one for openers. The rebuilding Eagles need help almost everywhere and they won't get it from Dallas.

Cincinnati 20, Denver 14

The Bengals are loaded and are shooting for a sixth straight home-opener victory. The Broncos are improved but not quite in Cincinnat's class.

St. Louis 33, Seattle 10

The Cardinals are off and running with speedsters like Terry Metcalf and Mel Gray and the newly-minted Seahawks have the misfortune to be their first opponents.

Minnesota 17, New Orleans 7

Old and dependable—that's the Vikings. Young and ambitious—that's the Saints. We'll take old and dependable, thank you.

San Diego 14, Kansas City 7

The Chargers have some interesting personnel and the Chiefs don't. That makes San Diego a one-touchdown pick here.

Chicago 17, Detroit 14

Another mild upset. The Bears are getting better. Not much, you understand, but enough to surprise the Lions.

Cleveland 24, N.Y. Jets 6

Baltimore 21, New England 10

Forget the sorry preseason and the front-office feuding. The Colts have some outstanding talent, more than enough to handle the constantly rebuilding Patriots.

San Francisco 16, Green Bay 13

Both teams have a new look at quarterback. We like the 49ers' new look—Jim Plunkett—better than the Packers'—Lynn Dickey.

Houston 24, Tampa Bay 7

Winless in the preseason, look for the Oilers to bounce back. The bouncing starts against the baby Buccaneers.

The Winter PGA tour opens with the Phoenix, Ariz., Open Jan. 6-9. It will be followed the next week by the Tucson, Ariz., Open.

Houston Awaits SWC Baptism

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Houston has been waiting for 3:20 p.m. Saturday in Waco for five years but Cougar fans hope their baptism into Southwest Conference football doesn't match what happened at the dedication of Baylor Stadium 16 years ago.

Baylor invited then independent Houston down for the historic first game in the stadium and the Cougars limped home with a 34-7 welt on their hide.

This time there are even bigger stakes. The game is on regional television, it's Houston's long-awaited SWC debut, and Coach Grant Teaff of Baylor says it could be one of the pivotal games of the year.

"Houston could well be the determining factor in the conference race," said Teaff. "I felt the same way about us in 1974 when we won the championship and I have a similar feeling about Houston.

"Houston will be as tough an opponent as we will lineup against. There is bound to be an impact because of all the years they have spent waiting to play in the conference. They will come out breathing fire."

Baylor is a four-point choice over the Cougars with some 30,000 fans expected to be on hand for the occasion.

Houston is coming off a disappointing 2-9 campaign but Coach Bill Yeoman vows: "We may not be all that much fun to play this year."

In another conference clash, Texas Christian is at Southern Methodist Saturday night and the oddsmakers surprisingly have made the Horned Frogs a touchdown underdog although SMU is picked to finish last in the SWC race. New SMU Coach Ron Meyer, formerly at Las Vegas-Nevada will trot the Mustangs out in new uniforms and helmets.

Intersectional clashes find Texas Tech hosting Colorado of the Big Eight, seventh ranked Texas at Boston College; 14th ranked Texas A&M hosting Virginia Tech; and 13th rated Arkansas entertaining Utah State in Little Rock.

Texas will get a severe test from Boston College's defense which returns nine starters. Boston College Coach Joe Yukica's team is a 14-point underdog but Texas Coach Darrell Royal has injury worries.

Texas linebacker Rick Fenlaw has torn ligaments in his ankle and fullback Earl Campbell has a toe injury.

The 7:30 p.m. game features the debut of redshirt quarterback Mike Cordaro, a big question mark in Texas' offensive plans.

The Texas Aggies are 19-point favorites over VPI which was 8-3 last year and returns 14 of 22 starters. It will be the first meeting between the schools. A near-capacity crowd of 48,000 was expected for the 4 p.m. kickoff.

"We'll have the same type team we had last year—emotional, aggressive and tough," says A&M Coach Emory Bellard.

Colorado is a one-point underdog to Texas Tech at Lubbock in a game expected to draw over 40,000. Arkansas is a prohibitive favorite over Utah State at War Memorial Stadium.

Talent-Short Eagles To Oppose Cowboys Sunday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles open what appears to be a long season Sunday in Dallas against the Cowboys, one of the National Football League teams favored to reach the Super Bowl in January.

Coach Dick Vermeil signified the Eagles' thinking when he said this week that his job this season was to keep the squad together through 14 games and strive to improve.

Vermeil professes that his talent-short team will win three or four games, but that seems to be a hope rather than a prediction. The Eagles were 0-6 in pre-season games, and it's not too wild to speculate a one-or two-victory season.

"We'd like to form a foundation that is extremely solid in terms of discipline, hard work and concentration," said Vermeil when asked to assess his goals for his first Eagles' team. "Regardless of material, if you don't have those things — discipline, hard work and concentration — you won't win."

So, Vermeil begins the long waiting game. His light at the end of the tunnel may not be reached for five years. He has to wait until 1979 for the first crack at the draft — the Eagles get three draft choices. The top three picks for 1977 and 1978 already are mortgaged in trades by the previous regime.

Vermeil said he realized he was not blessed with talent. "We've got to hang together (this season) and come out with a mutual respect," the coach observed.

The Eagles will start Mike Boryla at quarterback in the opener. Boryla, the young man from Stanford, has had a lackluster pre-season, operating behind an offensive line and blocking that allowed him to be sacked 15 times for 144 yards.

He managed 63 completions of 121 passes for 735 yards and three TDs. The big stat, however, is nine interceptions.

Vermeil probably will start running backs Tom Sullivan and Art Malone with rookie Mike Hogan, a ninth draft pick, and James McAlister seeing a lot of action behind the top two. Hogan led the team in pre-season ground gaining with 248 yards on 52 runs.

The Eagles will have veteran Charley Young at tight end and either Harold Carmichael or Vince Papale as the wide receiver.

Carmichael has been hobbled most of pre-season with an injured leg. Papale, a free agent who never played college football before making it in the World Football League, caught 10 passes for 150 yards.

Horst Muhlmann, who kicked two of four field goals and six of seven extra points during the exhibition season, is slated to handle the place kicking. Spike Jones, a 38.3 average punter on 39 kicks, will boot when the Eagles are in trouble.

Vermeil picked up cornerback Al Clark, waived this week by Los Angeles, to give the secondary more stability. Bill Bergey, an excellent linebacker; rookie Carl Hairston, a 245-pound defensive end, and Will Wynn, a veteran defensive end, key a so-so defense.

The Cowboys will be led by quarterback Roger Staubach, who completed 60 of 105 passes for 779 yards and four TDs, with only three interceptions, during the exhibition season.

Charles Young led the Cowboys' runners with 159 yards on 44 carries. Scott Laidlaw, 31-146 and Doug Dennison, the Kutztown, Pa., product, 30-132, should see a lot of action.

Staubach's key receivers are tight end Billy DuPree, who caught 18 for 240 yards and one TD, and wide receiver Drew Pearson, 11 for 214 and three touchdowns.

HOME OPENER FOR LOCALS

Tigers, Bulldogs Clash Tonight

Snyder's Tigers will have a weight advantage when they take on the Borger Bulldogs in the home opener here tonight. Kickoff is on tap for 8 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

The Tiger offensive line averages 194.5 pounds compared with 182.8 pounds per man for Borger. Borger has a slightly bigger backfield, averaging 168.7 pounds compared to 165.5 for Snyder. The Snyder defensive team averages 188.9 pounds per man compared to 168.6 pounds for Borger.

"I don't really think we're all that much bigger than Borger," said Coach Mike Jenkins of the Tigers.

"Up until last week, they had been starting a boy that weighs 260 and another one that weighs 240. I don't know whether they'll start this week or not.

"Anyway, a weight advantage is more psychological than anything else unless you have a 20 or 30 pound per man advantage. Borger has some tall, rangy kids, and it makes them look bigger than they are."

The game will feature a duel between two opposing fullbacks--Ricky Beard, 202-pound senior, for Snyder, and Kurt Smith, 215-pound senior, for Borger. In the opener at Monahans last week, Beard collected 86 yards on 16 carries. He's the bread and butter man in the Tiger Veer attack. Smith also is the Bulldogs' main ball carrier. Monahans operates from the Power I.

Snyder opened the season with a 14-7 triumph over Monahans while Borger was losing, 14-6, to Lubbock High.

Defensively, the Tigers employ a "52" alignment while the Bulldogs will be in a "27" alignment. They have four down linemen with three linebackers.

Tim Falls, 165-pound senior quarterback, is improving every week running the Veer options for the Tigers. He averaged 5.8 yards per carry himself against Monahans, getting 58 yards on 10 rushes. Tailback Clay Peterson has the best average per carry, 7 yards per thrust. He carried seven times for 50 yards. When Peterson lugs the leather, the defense is usually keyed on Beard. Alvin Ollison, 145-pound junior, will be at flanker back.

"One good thing about the Veer," said Coach Mike Jenkins, "Is that it ties the defense down. You've got to guard against every option, and when you don't it hurts you."

Guiding the Bulldog Power I attack will be Robin McCarty, 160-pound senior. He likes to throw to his big tight ends. His favorite target is Bobby Scott, a 200-pound senior, who probably is the best man in the offensive line. At tailback for Borger will be Miles Parker, 150-pound senior. Danny Hinds, 150-pound senior, will be the split back.

Borger's attack is similar to Monahans's.

"They like to run the ball right at you," said Coach Jenkins.

Leading the Borger defense will be Johnny Plumley, 190-pound junior, who is the middle linebacker; and, Randy Chavez, 160-pound junior monster.

Like last week, tonight's game rates as a tossup.

Although they haven't met since 1961, tonight's game is the 7th between Snyder and Borger. Here's their record::

Year	Snyder	Borger
1956	21	0
1957	7	12
1958	14	6
1959	0	12
1960	6	26
1961	0	22

Taylor Back To Detroit

HOUSTON (AP) — Running back Altie Taylor failed his Houston Oiler physical examination and has been returned to the Detroit Lions.

The Lions promptly put him on waivers.

"If he clears waivers, we've told him we're still very much interested in him," Oilers assistant general manager Tom Williams said Thursday. "He's welcome to work out on his own here and get himself back in shape.

Runnels Defeats 8th Black, 12-6

BIG SPRING—Big Spring Runnels defeated the Snyder 8th Grade Black team, 12-6, here last night.

Runnels scored both of its touchdowns in the first half on end runs.

Snyder scored on an 8 yard dive play by Tony Degrate, capping a 40 yard march.

Snyder hosts Sweetwater at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 16.

Frosh Fight To Deadlock

The Snyder Freshmen and Big Spring battled to a 0-0 tie in a tight defensive battle here last night.

The Snyder offense generated 225 yards on the ground but six untimely fumbles were costly. Snyder fumbled three times inside the Big Spring 15 and once inside the 10 yard line.

Coach Albert Lewis praised the entire defensive team for a good effort. The unit includes John Igo and Rollen Nunley at end, Billy McDonald and Sam Willis at tackle, Morris Anderson at nose guard, Paul Gafford and Kyle Herrley at linebacker, Alan Pollard at monster, Corby Barrett at strong corner, John Hanson at quick corner and Bobby Degreate at safety.

The punting of Rollen Nunley and the snapping of Tommy Peek kept the Snyder team in the game. Corby Barrett, dive back, looked good carrying the ball.

8th Gold Falls 28-8

Big Spring Goliad bested the 8th Grade Gold team, 28-8, in a football match here last night.

Snyder scored first with Kris Seale going over from the two to cap a 65 yard drive in the first quarter. Robert Rodriguez collected the two bonus points.

Goliad set up a one yard TD plunge later in the period with a 55 yard pass and run play. They missed the extra point, leaving the score 8-6 in favor of the Gold team.

However, Goliad unleashed a passing attack, getting one more touchdown in the first quarter, one in the second, and one in the third to win the contest.

Awesome Bruins Trample Devils

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — The 1976 football season has been dubbed as Arizona State's "year to make history" — the first real chance for the Sun Devils to win the mythical national title. However, somebody forgot to tell the UCLA Bruins and their quarterback, senior Jeff Dankworth.

Dankworth, overshadowed the past two years by All-American John Sciarra, guided the awesome Bruins' ground attack as it chewed up 486 yards en route to a 28-10 rout of the third-ranked Sun Devils in a nationally televised game Thursday night.

The victory not only left the Devils aghast, but also nearly all of the 50,876 fans who packed Sun Devil Stadium and witnessed the nation's longest major college winning streak snapped at 13.

"We're fortunate to have had three weeks to prepare for this game," said Dankworth. "That's longer, of course, than for most games.

"Our whole game plan really was the counter-option and counter-dive, because they do so much stacking, overshifting, stunting and blitzing."

Dankworth attained near perfection in executing the game plan, and himself rushed for 155 yards on 19 carries, scoring twice.

Sophomore halfback Theotis Brown added another 127 yards and two TDs, while running back Wendell Tyler contributed an additional 93 yards on 21 attempts.

While the offense came up with 509 total yards, the Bruins' defense kept Arizona State from mounting any serious threat, allowing the Devils only 137 yards on the ground and 150 through the air.

Arizona State fullback Freddie Williams, who has rushed for over 1,000 yards in each of the past two seasons, was held to 70 yards on 13 carries. The Devils' top rusher for the night was freshman halfback Arthur Lane, who carried the ball 11 times for 74 yards.

"We were embarrassing, both offensively and defensively," observed a very dejected Frank Kush, who is now in his 19th year as head coach at Arizona State. "I thought our offense would be more productive, but they weren't. Our line just did not do a good job. They didn't play the way they are capable of."

The Sun Devils capitalized on a recovered fumble late in the opening period to score a 29-yard field goal, which was booted by Kush's son, Danny. But they were shut out between then and the last 2½ minutes of the game, when they got their first touchdown on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Dennis Sproul to split end John Jefferson in the end zone.

San Angelo Downs SHS Volleyballers

San Angelo's girls defeated the Snyder varsity girls volleyball team 15-9, 11-15, 9-15 here last night, but the Tiger junior varsity won 15-9, 15-10.

Scoring for the varsity: Andra Crenshaw 10 points, Donna West 7, Kim Nicholson 5, Susan Walker 4, Dana Elrod 3, Charlotte Pierce 3, Della Braziel 2, and Kathy Harrell 1.

San Angelo was a much improved team.

"Our offense was improved over the last game," said Coach Joyce Elrod, "But the San Angelo defense was enough to offset it."

Susan Walker had an outstanding offensive game for Snyder, hitting 18 of 21 spikes. Donna West averaged 90 per cent of her sets.

Scoring for the junior varsity: Cindy Koonsman 6 points, Danna Meyers 6, Debbie Meyers 5, Connie Pollard 4, Sherry Neves 3, Rachael Coronado 3, Shana Smith 2, Sylvia Garcia 1.

The varsity will enter the Sweetwater tournament tomorrow, meeting Graham at 9:30 a.m. If the Snyder girls win, then they will play the winner of the Dunbar-Colorado City match at 11:30 a.m. Saturday. Monday, the varsity will be at Lubbock Coronado at a 7:30 p.m. match following the JV match at 6:30 p.m.

Big Spring Nips Snyder JV, 18-8

BIG SPRING—Host Big Spring thumped the Snyder junior varsity, 18-8, here last night.

The hosts scored on a 10 yard pass play in the first quarter after recovering a fumble on the Snyder 30 yard line. The try for extra points failed.

Snyder went ahead in the second period. The Snyder boys drove 60 yards, fumbled, but intercepted a pass to regain possession. Then, they scored on a 25 yard pass, Richard Crayton to Mitch Mackey. Crayton collected the two bonus points on a dive play.

Big Spring regained the lead in the third period, intercepting a pass on the Snyder 30 and driving in. Again, the try for extra points failed.

Big Spring recovered a fumble inside the 30 in the fourth quarter and scored their last touchdown on a 4-yard pass.

Coach Winfred Shipp said defensive ends Ernest Duncan and David English, nose guard Mark Schaufele and secondary men David Zajicek and Sid Sullenger looked good on defense. The entire offensive line did a good job of blocking. Richard Crayton, the tailback, moved the ball with ability.

The Snyder JV will be at Abilene Cooper at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 18.

Raiders, Giants Are Picked In Upsets

NEW YORK (AP) — Here it is September, a time to think baseball playoffs and World Series. The division races we have been waiting for all summer are here at last and instead of paying attention to the Pirates and Phillies and the A's and Royals you want to know who's going to win the football games.

Some nerve.

This is a time for pennant pressure and you're into pigskin prognostications.

You should be ashamed.

Okay, you simply have to know who will win the games this weekend when the National Football League begins its 57th season. Well, for starters, Seattle and Tampa Bay, newest members of the pro football lodge, won't.

What's that? You knew that already?

You figured out that the two expansion teams would win their openers? Very good. But here's something you didn't know. The New York Giants and Oakland Raiders will win their first games for the week's upset specials.

The Giants, facing one of the NFL's more gruelling schedules, will have plenty of upset opportunities, starting with this week's Washington game. Oakland, on the other hand, is an AFC powerhouse and will be favored just about every week except this one when the Raiders must face defending champion Pittsburgh.

But the Pro Picker has this hunch that the Giants and Raiders will start this season off on the right foot.

The Pick:

Giants 21, Washington 17

The Giants are a vastly improved team with a redesigned ground game centered on bulldozing Larry Csonka. The Redskins are hurting just enough to lose to New York for the first time since 1970.

Oakland 17, Pittsburgh 14

The Raiders think this is their year ... again ... and there's no better time to start proving it than against the defending champion Steelers. Pittsburgh had an in-and-out exhibition season.

Los Angeles 27, Atlanta 10

Even without O.J. Simpson, the Rams are very, very good. The Falcons, unfortunately, are not.

Miami 30, Buffalo 16

Without O.J. Simpson, the Bills are not very good. The Dolphins will exploit the gaps. Wouldn't it be funny if O.J. showed up in the ABC analyst's seat for this Monday night TV game?

Dallas 24, Philadelphia 7

In the tough NFC East, the Cowboys get an easy one for openers. The rebuilding Eagles need help almost everywhere and they won't get it from Dallas.

Cincinnati 20, Denver 14

The Bengals are loaded and are shooting for a sixth straight home-opener victory. The Broncos are improved but not quite in Cincinnati's class.

St. Louis 33, Seattle 10

The Cardinals are off and running with speedsters like Terry Metcalf and Mel Gray and the newly-minted Seahawks have the misfortune to be their first opponents.

Minnesota 17, New Orleans 7

Old and dependable—that's the Vikings. Young and ambitious—that's the Saints. We'll take old and dependable, thank you.

San Diego 14, Kansas City 7

The Chargers have some interesting personnel and the Chiefs don't. That makes San Diego a one-touchdown pick here.

Chicago 17, Detroit 14

Another mild upset. The Bears are getting better. Not much, you understand, but enough to surprise the Lions.

Cleveland 24, N.Y. Jets 6

Return of wide receiver Paul Warfield should juice up the Browns. The Jets are in a jumble, shuffling bodies left and right.

Baltimore 21, New England 10

Forget the sorry preseason and the front-office feuding. The Colts have some outstanding talent, more than enough to handle the constantly rebuilding Patriots.

San Francisco 16, Green Bay 13

Both teams have a new look at quarterback. We like the 49ers' new look—Jim Plunkett—better than the Packers'—Lynn Dickey.

Houston 24, Tampa Bay 7

Winless in the preseason, look for the Oilers to bounce back. The bouncing starts against the baby Buccaneers.

The Winter PGA tour opens with the Phoenix, Ariz., Open Jan. 6-9. It will be followed the next week by the Tucson, Ariz., Open.

Houston Awaits SWC Baptism

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Houston has been waiting for 3:20 p.m. Saturday in Waco for five years but Cougar fans hope their baptism into Southwest Conference football doesn't match what happened at the dedication of Baylor Stadium 16 years ago.

Baylor invited then independent Houston down for the historic first game in the stadium and the Cougars limped home with a 34-7 welt on their hide.

This time there are even bigger stakes. The game is on regional television, it's Houston's long-awaited SWC debut, and Coach Grant Teaff of Baylor says it could be one of the pivotal games of the year.

"Houston could well be the determining factor in the conference race," said Teaff. "I felt the same way about us in 1974 when we won the championship and I have a similar feeling about Houston.

"Houston will be as tough an opponent as we will lineup against. There is bound to be an impact because of all the years they have spent waiting to play in the conference. They will come out breathing fire."

Baylor is a four-point choice over the Cougars with some 30,000 fans expected to be on hand for the occasion.

Houston is coming off a disappointing 2-9 campaign but Coach Bill Yeoman vows: "We may not be all that much fun to play this year."

In another conference clash, Texas Christian is at Southern Methodist Saturday night and the oddsmakers surprisingly have made the Horned Frogs a touchdown underdog although SMU is picked to finish last in the SWC race. New SMU Coach Ron Meyer, formerly at Las Vegas-Nevada will trot the Mustangs out in new uniforms and helmets.

Intersectional clashes find Texas Tech hosting Colorado of the Big Eight, seventh ranked Texas at Boston College; 14th ranked Texas A&M hosting Virginia Tech; and 13th rated Arkansas entertaining Utah State in Little Rock.

Texas will get a severe test from Boston College's defense which returns nine starters. Boston College Coach Joe Yukica's team is a 14-point underdog but Texas Coach Darrell Royal has injury worries.

Texas linebacker Rick Fenlaw has torn ligaments in his ankle and fullback Earl Campbell has a toe injury.

The 7:30 p.m. game features the debut of redshirt quarterback Mike Cordaro, a big question mark in Texas' offensive plans.

The Texas Aggies are 19-point favorites over VPI which was 8-3 last year and returns 14 of 22 starters. It will be the first meeting between the schools. A near-capacity crowd of 48,000 was expected for the 4 p.m. kickoff.

"We'll have the same type team we had last year—emotional, aggressive and tough," says A&M Coach Emory Bellard.

Colorado is a one-point underdog to Texas Tech at Lubbock in a game expected to draw over 40,000. Arkansas is a prohibitive favorite over Utah State at War Memorial Stadium.

Tigers, Bulldogs Clash Tonight

Snyder's Tigers will have a weight advantage when they take on the Borger Bulldogs in the home opener here tonight. Kickoff is on tap for 8 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

The Tiger offensive line averages 194.5 pounds compared with 182.8 pounds per man for Borger. Borger has a slightly bigger backfield, averaging 168.7 pounds compared to 165.5 for Snyder. The Snyder defensive team averages 188.9 pounds per man compared to 168.6 pounds for Borger.

"I don't really think we're all that much bigger than Borger," said Coach Mike Jenkins of the Tigers.

"Up until last week, they had been starting a boy that weighs 260 and another one that weighs 240. I don't know whether they'll start this week or not.

"Anyway, a weight advantage is more psychological than anything else unless you have a 20 or 30 pound per man advantage. Borger has some tall, rangy kids, and it makes them look bigger than they are."

The game will feature a duel between two opposing fullbacks--Ricky Beard, 202-pound senior, for Snyder, and Kurt Smith, 215-pound senior, for Borger. In the opener at Monahans last week, Beard collected 86 yards on 16 carries. He's the bread and butter man in the Tiger Veer attack. Smith also is the Bulldogs' main ball carrier. Monahans operates from the Power I.

Snyder opened the season with a 14-7 triumph over Monahans while Borger was losing, 14-6, to Lubbock High.

Defensively, the Tigers employ a "52" alignment while the Bulldogs will be in a "27" alignment. They have four down linemen with three linebackers.

Tim Falls, 165-pound senior quarterback, is improving every week running the Veer options for the Tigers. He averaged 5.8 yards per carry himself against Monahans, getting 58 yards on 10 rushes. Tailback Clay Peterson has the best average per carry, 7 yards per thrust. He carried seven times for 50 yards. When Peterson lugs the leather, the defense is usually keyed on Beard. Alvin Ollison, 145-pound junior, will be at flanker back.

"One good thing about the Veer," said Coach Mike Jenkins, "Is that it ties the defense down. You've got to guard against every option, and when you don't it hurts you."

Guiding the Bulldog Power I attack will be Robin McCarty, 160-pound senior. He likes to throw to his big tight ends. His favorite target is Bobby Scott, a 200-pound senior, who probably is the best man in the offensive line. At tailback for Borger will be Miles Parker, 150-pound senior. Danny Hinds, 150-pound senior, will be the split back.

Borger's attack is similar to Monahans's.

"They like to run the ball right at you," said Coach Jenkins.

Leading the Borger defense will be Johnny Plumley, 190-pound junior, who is the middle linebacker; and, Randy Chavez, 160-pound junior monster.

Like last week, tonight's game rates as a tossup.

Although they haven't met since 1961, tonight's game is the 7th between Snyder and Borger. Here's their record::

Year	Snyder	Borger
1956	21	0
1957	7	12
1958	14	6
1959	0	12
1960	6	26
1961	0	22

Taylor Back To Detroit

HOUSTON (AP) — Running back Altie Taylor failed his Houston Oiler physical examination and has been returned to the Detroit Lions.

The Lions promptly put him on waivers.

"If he clears waivers, we've told him we're still very much interested in him," Oilers assistant general manager Tom Williams said Thursday. "He's welcome to work out on his own here and get himself back in shape.

Runnels Defeats 8th Black, 12-6

BIG SPRING—Big Spring Runnels defeated the Snyder 8th Grade Black team, 12-6, here last night.

Runnels scored both of its touchdowns in the first half on end runs.

Snyder scored on an 8 yard dive play by Tony Degrate, capping a 40 yard march.

Snyder hosts Sweetwater at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 16.

Frosh Fight To Deadlock

The Snyder Freshmen and Big Spring battled to a 0-0 tie in a tight defensive battle here last night.

The Snyder offense generated 225 yards on the ground but six untimely fumbles were costly. Snyder fumbled three times inside the Big Spring 15 and once inside the 10 yard line.

Coach Albert Lewis praised the entire defensive team for a good effort. The unit includes John Igo and Rollen Nunley at end, Billy McDonald and Sam Willis at tackle, Morris Anderson at nose guard, Paul Gafford and Kyle Herrley at linebacker, Alan Pollard at monster, Corby Barrett at strong corner, John Hanson at quick corner and Bobby Degreate at safety.

The punting of Rollen Nunley and the snapping of Tommy Peek kept the Snyder team in the game. Corby Barrett, dive back, looked good carrying the ball.

Talent-Short Eagles To Oppose Cowboys Sunday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles open what appears to be a long season Sunday in Dallas against the Cowboys, one of the National Football League teams favored to reach the Super Bowl in January.

Coach Dick Vermeil signified the Eagles' thinking when he said this week that his job this season was to keep the squad together through 14 games and strive to improve.

Vermeil professes that his talent-short team will win three or four games, but that seems to be a hope rather than a prediction. The Eagles were 0-6 in pre-season games, and it's not too wild to speculate a one-or two-victory season.

"We'd like to form a foundation that is extremely solid in terms of discipline, hard work and concentration," said Vermeil when asked to assess his goals for his first Eagles' team. "Regardless of material, if you don't have those things — discipline, hard work and concentration — you won't win."

So, Vermeil begins the long waiting game. His light at the end of the tunnel may not be reached for five years. He has to wait until 1979 for the first crack at the draft — the Eagles get three draft choices. The top three picks for 1977 and 1978 already are mortgaged in trades by the previous regime.

Vermeil said he realized he was not blessed with talent. "We've got to hang together (this season) and come out with a mutual respect," the coach observed.

The Eagles will start Mike Boryla at quarterback in the opener. Boryla, the young man from Stanford, has had a lackluster pre-season, operating behind an offensive line and blocking that allowed him to be sacked 15 times for 144 yards.

He managed 63 completions of 121 passes for 735 yards and three TDs. The big stat, however, is nine interceptions.

Vermeil probably will start running backs Tom Sullivan and Art Malone with rookie Mike Hogan, a ninth draft pick, and James McAlister seeing a lot of action behind the top two. Hogan led the team in pre-season ground gaining with 348 yards on 52 runs.

The Eagles will have veteran Charley Young at tight end and either Harold Carmichael or Vince Papale as the wide receiver.

Carmichael has been hobbled most of pre-season with an injured leg. Papale, a free agent who never played college football before making it in the World Football League, caught 10 passes for 150 yards.

Horst Muhlmann, who kicked two of four field goals and six of seven extra points during the exhibition season, is slated to handle the place kicking. Spike Jones, a 38.3 average punter on 39 kicks, will boot when the Eagles are in trouble.

Vermeil picked up cornerback Al Clark, waived this week by Los Angeles, to give the secondary more stability. Bill Bergey, an excellent linebacker, rookie Carl Hairston, a 245-pound defensive end, and Will Wynn, a veteran defensive end, key a so-so defense.

The Cowboys will be led by quarterback Roger Staubach, who completed 60 of 105 passes for 779 yards and four TDs, with only three interceptions, during the exhibition season.

Charles Young led the Cowboys' runners with 159 yards on 44 carries. Scott Laidlaw, 31-146 and Doug Dennison, the Kutztown, Pa., product, 30-132, should see a lot of action.

Staubach's key receivers are tight end Billy DuPree, who caught 18 for 240 yards and one TD, and wide receiver Drew Pearson, 11 for 214 and three touchdowns.

8th Gold Falls 28-8

Big Spring Goliad bested the 8th Grade Gold team, 28-8, in a football match here last night.

Snyder scored first with Kris Seale going over from the two to cap a 65 yard drive in the first quarter. Robert Rodriguez collected the two bonus points.

Goliad set up a one yard TD plunge later in the period with a 55 yard pass and run play. They missed the extra point, leaving the score 8-6 in favor of the Gold team.

However, Goliad unleashed a passing attack, getting one more touchdown in the first quarter, one in the second, and one in the third to win the contest.

Awesome Bruins Trample Devils

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — The 1976 football season has been dubbed as Arizona State's "year to make history" — the first real chance for the Sun Devils to win the mythical national title. However, somebody forgot to tell the UCLA Bruins and their quarterback, senior Jeff Dankworth.

Dankworth, overshadowed the past two years by All-American John Sciarra, guided the awesome Bruins' ground attack as it chewed up 486 yards en route to a 28-10 rout of the third-ranked Sun Devils in a nationally televised game Thursday night.

The victory not only left the Devils aghast, but also nearly all of the 50,876 fans who packed Sun Devil Stadium and witnessed the nation's longest major college winning streak snapped at 13.

"We're fortunate to have had three weeks to prepare for this game," said Dankworth. "That's longer, of course, than for most games.

"Our whole game plan really was the counter-option and counter-dive, because they do so much stacking, overshifting, stunting and blitzing."

Dankworth attained near perfection in executing the game plan, and himself rushed for 155 yards on 19 carries, scoring twice.

Sophomore halfback Theotis Brown added another 127 yards and two TDs, while running back Wendell Tyler contributed an additional 93 yards on 21 attempts.

While the offense came up with 509 total yards, the Bruins' defense kept Arizona State from mounting any serious threat, allowing the Devils only 137 yards on the ground and 150 through the air.

Arizona State fullback Freddie Williams, who has rushed for over 1,000 yards in each of the past two seasons, was held to 70 yards on 13 carries. The Devils' top rusher for the night was freshman halfback Arthur Lane, who carried the ball 11 times for 74 yards.

"We were embarrassing, both offensively and defensively," observed a very dejected Frank Kush, who is now in his 19th year as head coach at Arizona State. "I thought our offense would be more productive, but they weren't. Our line just did not do a good job. They didn't play the way they are capable of."

The Sun Devils capitalized on a recovered fumble late in the opening period to score a 29-yard field goal, which was booted by Kush's son, Danny. But they were shut out between then and the last 2½ minutes of the game, when they got their first touchdown on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Dennis Sproul to split end John Jefferson in the end zone.

San Angelo Downs SHS Volleyballers

San Angelo's girls defeated the Snyder varsity girls volleyball team 15-9, 11-15, 9-15 here last night, but the Tiger junior varsity won 15-9, 15-10.

Scoring for the varsity: Andra Crenshaw 10 points, Donna West 7, Kim Nicholson 5, Susan Walker 4, Dana Elrod 3, Charlotte Pierce 3, Della Braziel 2, and Kathy Harrell 1.

San Angelo was a much improved team.

"Our offense was improved over the last game," said Coach Joyce Elrod, "But the San Angelo defense was enough to offset it."

Susan Walker had an outstanding offensive game for Snyder, hitting 18 of 21 spikes. Donna West averaged 90 per cent of her sets.

Scoring for the junior varsity: Cindy Koonsman 6 points, Danna Meyers 6, Debbie Meyers 5, Connie Pollard 4, Sherry Neves 3, Rachael Coronado 3, Shana Smith 2, Sylvia Garcia 1.

The varsity will enter the Sweetwater tournament tomorrow, meeting Graham at 9:30 a.m. If the Snyder girls win, then they will play the winner of the Dunbar-Colorado City match at 11:30 a.m. Saturday. Monday, the varsity will be at Lubbock Coronado at a 7:30 p.m. match following the JV match at 6:30 p.m.

Big Spring Nips Snyder JV, 18-8

BIG SPRING—Host Big Spring thumped the Snyder junior varsity, 18-8, here last night.

The hosts scored on a 10 yard pass play in the first quarter after recovering a fumble on the Snyder 30 yard line. The try for extra points failed.

Snyder went ahead in the second period. The Snyder boys drove 60 yards, fumbled, but intercepted a pass to regain possession. Then, they scored on a 25 yard pass, Richard Crayton to Mitch Mackey. Crayton collected the two bonus points on a dive play.

Big Spring regained the lead in the third period, intercepting a pass on the Snyder 30 and driving in. Again, the try for extra points failed.

Big Spring recovered a fumble inside the 30 in the fourth quarter and scored their last touchdown on a 4-yard pass.

Coach Winfred Shipp said defensive ends Ernest Duncan and David English, nose guard Mark Schaufele and secondary men David Zajicek and Sid Sullenger looked good on defense. The entire offensive line did a good job of blocking. Richard Crayton, the tailback, moved the ball with ability.

The Snyder JV will be at Abilene Cooper at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 18.

Forget the Noose and Cut Him Down

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I recently met a man I thought was together. He's 29, handsome, a smooth talker and single. The relationship went fine until I caught him in a few lies, then I did a little detective work.

I became suspicious when he told me he had a "weekend" job. I discovered that he is engaged to another woman. He told her if anyone contacted her and asked her any questions about him, not to give out any information because some "nymphomaniac" was chasing him!

Meanwhile, he checked up on me to find out what my assets are. (I'm a widow and well enough off, so I don't have to work, but I'm not rich enough to support him, which I'm sure he had in mind.)

Should I let him know I am on to him? Or give him enough rope to let him hang himself?

DISGUSTED IN DIXIE

DEAR DISGUSTED: Never mind the rope. He's already hung himself where you are concerned. Cut him down.

DEAR ABBY: My 13-month-old child, Pam, is teething, and she chews and bites everything in sight. Pam was crawling around on the floor with my sister's little boy who's 8 months old, and she bit him. Naturally the boy was frightened, so he screamed.

My mother-in-law who was there at the time became furious and ordered her 9-year-old to bite Pam. The girl bit Pam on the arm, leaving teeth marks, and Pam screamed so hard, she nearly went into hysterics. (Pam didn't leave any teeth marks on her cousin).

When I told my husband about this, he sided with his mother, saying it was an old-fashioned remedy for breaking children from the habit of biting.

My mother is old-fashioned in many ways, and she said she's never heard of this remedy. Have you? Thanks for your opinion.

PAM'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: No. But I have heard that a human bite can be more dangerous than an animal bite if the skin is broken. Teething children should be provided with teething rings—not cousins.

DEAR ABBY: My youngest daughter is going to be married soon. Her father is completely paralyzed and can't give her away. I was teasing her and said that I would give her away, and she said she would love it because she has two brothers and she would rather not choose between them.

The lady who directs weddings said it would be all right. I need your opinion. Should I give my daughter away? Or would it look silly?

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: It's your daughter's day. Let her do as she wishes. I think it's a wonderful idea.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Archaeologists Discover 'Gold Mine' In Texas Cave

By RICK SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A primitive rockshelter in Southwest Texas is giving scientists a detailed look at how some of the state's inhabitants lived 9,000 years ago.

Dr. Thomas Hester, director of the Center for Archaeological Research at the University of Texas at San Antonio, led a team of researchers to the rockshelter this summer.

Their findings at Baker Cave in Val Verde County have produced an archaeological gold mine," Hester said this week.

Two of the most important findings, Hester said in an interview, are charcoal, which has been carbon-dated to verify occupation of the cave in 7,000 B.C., and a Golondrina dartpoint.

Hester said the dartpoint was used by Indians during the late Pleistocene geological period about 7,000 B.C.

These discoverys set the scene and time frame, Hester said.

The archaeologists also uncovered parts of a basket woven between 4,500 and 3,00 B.C., as well as sandals, knots, cords and other basketry made from local desert plants. Flint artifacts and waste chips, animal and fish bones, nuts and seeds also were found.

Baker Cave, said Hester, is one of the best preserved rockshelters in the United States.

"The artifacts have been protested by the dry Southwest Texas weather and by layers of fine limestone dust which fell from the shelter roof over thousands of years," he said.

The relics taken from the shelter are currently being analyzed in laboratories at UT-San Antonio, and specialists at the University of Pittsburgh eventually will study the basket samples to provide more detailed information about the fibers and weaving techniques used by the ancient Indians.

The baskets, seeds and nuts will be sent to Texas A&M University where they will be studied to learn more about prehistoric botany.

Hester said the emphasis in archaeology today has shifted away from "a preoccupation with stone" to an interest in the lifestyle of the ancient people.

While the charcoal and Golondrina dartpoint allow scientists to put the people in their correct historic period, Hester said it is items like the baskets, seeds and animal bones that allow researchers to study lifestyles.

From these artifacts, Hester and others hope to learn the diet of the ancient Indians, their technology, the animals they hunted and about their family life.

In some areas of Baker Cave, there are as many as 20 levels of occupation. The top levels indicate the most recent inhabitation was around 1,400 A.D., about the time the bow and arrow were introduced in Southwest Texas, Hester said.

Located about one-third of the way down a 400-foot cliff, Baker Cave overlooks the parched, cactus-covered bed where a stream once flowed. The land is now mainly used for ranching.

The rockshelter is about 140 feet wide and extends about 80 feet into the side of the cliff. It is about 30 feet from the roof to the floor of the shelter. The inhabitation and limestone layers go down 11 feet to the bedrock, Hester said.

Hester said the Indians who lived in the cave were "similar to the Coahuiltecans who lived in South Texas. We doubt that they had any sophisticated tribal organization. They probably traveled in family groups."

Hester believes that one or two family groups—probably never more than 15 people—lived in the rockshelter at one time.

Through the excavation, the archaeologists have learned that the Indians used different areas of the rockshelter for different activities such as cooking, sleeping and flint-working and for a latrine and garbage disposal.

"It is very unusual to be able to pinpoint prehistoric behavior in this fashion," Hester said. "We've found that the shelter holds a wealth of information."

Earthwatch, an organization established six years ago to help scientsts raise money and volunteers to support expeditions, aided in the Baker Cave project, Hester said.

He said he hopes to receive grant money for a major excavation at Baker Cave to begin in 1977 or 1978.

A look at flu 50 years ago

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—There's so much talk about the flu. I am over 70 and had it real bad when it was here before. I got it being in the big parade, November 11, when World War I ended. I was living with my grandparents. They said it was a punishment for all of us. We should have been on our knees, not out enjoying ourselves when other people had such heartache.

Well I sure did have a bad time of it. No doctor came to houses. Hospitals wouldn't take any more patients. Relatives and friends didn't go near each other. We didn't have pain pills in those days. It was castor oil, baking soda, electric oil, camphorated oil, even coal oil.

I am told I was out of my head. One of my uncles left a bottle of dark rum, heavy kind, on the step. My grandfather had to look after me and grandma, who had caught the flu from me. Pa was afraid because grandfather couldn't even make a cup of tea. Being from the old country he sure cured both of us, Grandma in three days and weeks later for me.

Here's the cure. Laugh if you like but it did the trick. He put camphorated oil in goose grease, heated it and rubbed our chest. Then he mixed up mustard and put the oil and goose grease in it between two sheets of red flannel. My chest was red for awhile; it sure was hot. Here's what he gave us for medicine. He took heavy old-fashioned molasses and put the rum in it. He put some in a cup of hot water and it really made me sweat. Today all these old-fashioned remedies are laughed at, but it worked. I'm still around. My grandparents died when they were over 70. The old boy knew his onions, even though he couldn't boil water. What I'd like to know is what was in the dark molasses and dark heavy rum? Was it a case of get better or die? It sure was hard to take after you got on the mend.

DEAR READER—Thanks for giving us a colorful picture of the flu more than 50 years ago. From the volume of letters I have received from people who lived through the first world-wide flu epidemic it seems the treatment you described was pretty standard, with emphasis on rum and whiskey.

Alcohol is still used in the treatment of colds and flu by many people as a home remedy. It may be a sedative and help people to feel better in that sense but it does nothing to combat the virus infection causing the illness.

The only way to treat the flu properly is to prevent it and we can do this today even though that was impossible with the epidemic you survived. That is why vaccinations are so important.

Some of the other medicines may help shrink the nasal lining and make breathing easier. Supportive care in terms of adequate fluids and nourishment is the best that can be offered. The rest of the treatment is for complications. Bacterial complications, such as some pneumonias, can be treated and that will help a lot if there is a worldwide epidemic.

For more information about flu and related cold-like illness readers can send 50 cents for The Health Letter number 3-2, Colds and Flu Group, Prevention and Treatment. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to Dr. Lamb in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Soviet Rocket Body Down In Montana

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A large rocket section from a Soviet satellite came down in Montana earlier this week, Pentagon sources report.

The rocket body from the Soviet Cosmos 854 has not yet been recovered by U.S. officials, who say it was tracked by radar.

Sources said the descending rocket body probably looked to spectators like a flaming comet as it passed over Washington state, Idaho, and finally fell in Montana, south of the Canadian border.

According to military sources, debris from Soviet space vehicles drops on the United States from time to time, but usually in small pieces. The rocket section from Cosmos 854 apparently was larger than most that have fallen onto U.S. soil.

There is some question as to how much could be learned from studying the rocket section because it burned as it came down through the atmosphere.

It was tracked by North American Air Defense Command radar which maintains a constant watch on objects approaching the United States.

The Soviet Union generally describes Cosmos satellites as scientific vehicles. But U.S. intelligence officials say many of the Cosmos satellites are reconnaissance vehicles equipped with sensitive cameras, infrared sensors and other electronic devices.

Cosmos spy satellites normally remain aloft for about 12 days before the Russians bring them back down to earth.

The United States also maintains secret spy satellites in orbit over Russia, mainland China and other areas of interest.

But the United States uses a different method of recovering photo-capsules. They are plucked out of the air by specially equipped planes, permitting the satellites to remain in orbit longer.

The chief purpose of the American Colonization Society (1817-1912) was to purchase the freedom of slaves and to colonize them in Liberia. Even after the abolition of slavery in 1865, the society continued to aid the free Negroes of Liberia.

Jackson Seeks Africa Visas

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson says he has met with the consul general of South Africa to talk about a possible visit to the strife-torn country.

Jackson, a long-time civil rights activist and now head of Chicago-based Operation PUSH, said he discussed getting visas for himself and Operation PUSH aides when he met Thursday with Consul General Vero Stock.

Stock indicated he would set up a meeting to pursue the matter with the South African ambassador, Jackson said.

"This represents a kind of policy shift," Jackson said. "Historically they would not allow blacks to South Africa except athletes or entertainers."

Stock confirmed that he and Jackson discussed visas, and he said, "We welcome black intellectuals, particularly if they come with an open mind. Many have been there and have been pleasantly surprised."

2 Blondes Win Second Prelims

By JAMES SIMON
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A pair of beautiful blue-eyed blondes from Minnesota and South Carolina have moved a step closer to the title of Miss America 1977.

Dorothy Kathlean Benham of Edina, Minn., won the talent event and Lavinia Merle Cox of Latta, S.C., won the swimsuit competition Thursday in the second preliminary round at the annual beauty contest here.

Miss Benham, 20, said she chose to perform "Adele's Laughing Song" from Strauss' "Ole Flodermaus" opera "because of its style and technique, and because the aria is light enough for everyone to enjoy it."

The Macalester College junior, who has had eight years of voice training, said she enjoys rock and pop music as well as opera.

Her interest in music can be traced in part to her stepfather, Oscar Dahle, a former president of the Minnesota Music Education Association.

In her performance, she wore a stunning white lace sequin gown with a sweetheart scallop neckline, which she said she bought from a former Miss Minnesota contestant.

Miss Cox wore a one-piece lavender swim suit in her prize-winning performance.

The 1975 graduate of Winthrop College said a friend who helped design her evening gown also helped pick out her swimwear in a Greenville, S.C., store.

In her soft Southern accent. "It was awkard to walk out there, so bare, with all the people staring at you. But you have to smile, keep your composure, and prove you can cope with any situation. I guess that's why the swimsuit event is in the Miss America," she said, adding that she wouldn't have worn a bikini swin suit if the pageant's rules allowed it.

Miss Cox said she maintains her 35-24-35 figure by playing tennis and "endless swimming—I really love swimming."

She comes from a family of beauty queens. Her mother is a former Miss Orangebury, S.C., and her sister is the reigning South Carolina Maid of Cotton.

In Wednesday's opening preliminary round, Miss Virginia Pamela Polk, 22, of Richmond, won the talent contest. Miss Texas, Carmeu McCollum, 19, of Odessa, won the swimsuit event.

The judges also evaluated contestants in evening gowns, but didn't announce their decisions.

This year the judges are including personal interviews with each of the 50 beauties to help pick the 10 finalists. The contestants previously were judged solely on talent and appearances in swim suits and evening gowns.

In Saturday night's nationally televised final round, the judges also will use the interviews to help decide a successor to Miss America 1967, Tawny Godin of New York.

Richardson To Receive Award

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Commerce Secretary Elliot L. Richardson will receive the 1976 Thomas Hart Benton Award of the Kansas City Art Institute.

Richardson was named Tuesday as winner of the 1976 award.

Coastal States Can Not Accept Latest Proposal

HOUSTON (AP) — Coastal States Gas Corp. said Friday it could not accept a proposal by major customers for a settlement of lawsuits against its subsidiary, Lo-Vaca Gathering Co.

The proposal for an out-of-court settlement of suits totaling more than $2 billion was announced Thursday in Dallas by Lone Star Gas Co. president Louis B. Hulcy and other Lo-Vaca customers.

Harry Bloomquist, president of Coastal States, said in Houston he could not recommend the new proposal to the board of directors because it made new demands that were "unreasonable" and contrary to the best interest of both the consuming public and the security holders of Coastal States.

Bloomqist said the proposal also "would make unworkable a July 14, 1976 plan that I was willing to recommend to the board."

The latest proposal Bloomquist said, "would inhibit Coastal's ability... to provide long term supplies of gas for Lo-Vaca customers at the lowest possible costs."

Most of the lawsuits filed against Lo-Vaca, including one for more than $400 million by the city of San Antonio, allege non-performance of long-term contracts for gas supplies.

Under terms of the proposal released by Hulcy, Coastal States would:

—Organize and spin off to its shareholders a new company which would own and operate all gas pipeline facilities now owned by LoVaca.

—Commit up to $230 million over a maximum 18-year period to a gas search program in LoVaca's current supply area. All gas developed during the period would be sold to the new company at prices not more than 85 per cent of intrastate gas market prices, with an obligation to dedicate a minimum of 300 million Mcf (million cubic feet) of gas to the new company at such prices or incur refund obligations.

—Transfer all its Texas lignite properties to a subsidiary of the new company, with an option to purchase such by certain electric utilities currently depending on LoVaca for gas supply.

—Guarantee preferred stock of the new company issued to a settlement trustee for the benefit of its customers at a value of $115 million.

Catches Robber

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Credit the capture of a robbery suspect to a bathroom window.

Sheriff's officers said that when they tried to serve a warrant to the suspect, a 19-year-old youth, he tried to elude them by slipping through the bathroom window. The window wasn't quite big enough, however, and the suspect got stuck.

It took several men to free the youth, officers said.

Texans Welcome Touch Of All

By The Associated Press

Many Texans welcomed a touch of fall in their weather today.

A cool snap pushed deeper into the state, and there were scattered showers and thunderstorms again in some areas.

Temperatures slipped down into the 50s and it was cloudy across the northwest half of the state. Skies were mostly clear and early morning marks stood in the 60s to 70s in other sections.

El Paso saw the mercury dip to a record low for the date of 55, eclipsing a 56-degree mark set in 1880.

Heavy showers and thunderstorms, loosing rain at rates up to two inches per hour, pummelled areas near the Mexican border between Laredo, Cotulla and Eagle Pass, and from those localities toward Palacios on the coast.

Light rain fell from around Lubbock and Plainview in the Panhandle-Plains sector into New Mexico, and also around Sanderson and McCamey in West Texas.

Little change is forecast.

Susan Ford Moves Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Susan Ford has moved out of the White House and is sharing a rented suburban townhouse with three female college friends — and a retinue of Secret Service agents in the basement.

President and Mrs. Ford reportedly had no objection to their 19-year-old daughter's making the move, which is costing her $118 monthly rent.

"If that's what she wanted, then it was fine with them," was the parental reaction, according to First Lady Betty Ford's press secretary.
