Ross Fry selected as Chief Appraiser

by Elaine Schad
Chief Appraiser Ross Fry of the Wise County Tax Appraisal District will be moving a little further up the road to a new job as chief of the Cooke County Appraisal District beginning Feb. 1.

The CCAD Board of Directors this week selected Fry to fill the chief appraiser's spot from a list of 12 applicants for the position. The board voted to pay Fry a salary of $46,000.

Fry will be Cooke County's eighth chief appraiser since the appraisal district was established in 1981. He will replace Pat Pickett, who was fired in September by the CCAD Board. Senior Appraiser Brenda Urrutia has served as interim chief since October.

"We do know where most of our problems are now, and if he's half as good as he looks, he'll solve them in short order," said CCAD President Roger Martin of Fry.

Martin praised the work of Mrs. Urrutia during the interim, saying she helped hold the line on spending so the district could meet all its financial obligations within the constraints of the 1990 budget. Officials this week estimated the district will end the year in the black, with about $1,000 left to reimburse to the county taxing entities.

The CCAD has felt the brunt of criticisms and controversy that has come to a head over the past two years. The CCAD is facing, for the second consecutive year, some $25,000 in legal fees resulting from suits filed by disgruntled taxpayers over alleged unfair appraisals. The latest came in August when a group lawsuit was filed by 47 taxpayers. Criticism has also come from taxing entities, especially the City of Muenster which has claimed the tax rolls prepared for the city by the CCAD has been riddled with errors. The CCAD's first proposed budget was rejected, with some entity officials citing a need for more efficiency.

Fry looks at the job in Cooke County as a challenge. "I'd just like this thing to settle down and operate like an appraisal district would like to operate," said Fry. "I have always had an open door policy. To me it's a challenge to see if I can make it work."

Fry said his first efforts will lie in reviewing the State Property Tax Board state appraised value study, due out soon. Appraisal districts face a February deadline in appealing any state assigned property values with which they disagree. State values are used in determining funding for school districts. He also wants to upgrade training and review all areas of operation of the district.

Fry has been WCTAD Chief Appraiser for more than five years. Before that, he became Clay County's first chief appraiser and set up that office after state legislation was passed establishing county tax appraisal districts. Fry spent two years in Austin, where he worked for the School Tax Assessment Practices Board, which determined state property appraisals for the purpose of distributing state funding to school districts. Fry continued to work for that board when it was converted into the State Property Tax Board following the passage of the Peveto Bill in 1983.

Fry spent three years as a justice of the peace in Clay County, worked in the oil fields and was a hairdresser. While Fry was in Wise County, the WCTAD established a system of reappraising all county property annually. The district has purchased a computerized mapping system, expanded the Appraisal Review Board from three to seven members and developed operating manuals for both the ARB and the board of directors.

Council studies system upgrade in Lindsay

by Elaine Schad
The Lindsay City Council is studying the present rate structure for water and sewer in anticipation of a possible price increase by mid-year, officials said.

The City Council, at its last meeting, received results of a rate study of 13 communities in Cooke and Grayson counties. The city's sewer plant is operating close to capacity, and the council is looking at long-range plans to pay for upgrading the system as the need arises, officials said.

The water and sewer system is currently generating a profit of about $8,500 when no repairs are needed to the system during a given year. The council authorized $4,200 for replacement of parts on the system at its January meeting, said Mayor Pro Tem Don Metzler.

When compared to the area cities studied, Lindsay's rates are among the lowest. With an average water usage calculated at 8,600 gallons per month for Lindsay customers, the average monthly bill is $10.50 for water and $4.50 for sewer for a total of about $15 per month.

Comparatively, using the same 8,600-gallon marker, Tom Bean residents pay $33 a month, Honey Grove pays $18.50, Collinsville pays $30 and Gainesville pays $25.

The council is expected to study the data further and will discuss the rate structure again at its February meeting, said Metzler. The city has discussed with Gainesville city officials the possibility of tying onto that city's system if Lindsay is ever faced with building a new sewer plant, but the discussions were very preliminary and no decision has been made, said Metzler.

In other business during its January meeting, the council:

- Discussed doing some gravel work to Sycamore Street that goes by the old dump. The council also talked about paving an area of street in the Parkview Acres Addition where the street has collapsed. The city's engineer is looking at the project and will make recommendations, officials said. The council is expected to finalize cost estimates by its February meeting on a proposed paving project on Pecan Street that runs along the Lindsay Park.

- Approved the purchase of a new master meter and two new water pumps for the water system at a cost of $4,200.

- Received an update on the progress of the city's revision of subdivision ordinances. The city is working with the Texoma Council of Governments in developing a preliminary plan. Ordinances could be drafted for the updating and revision by the May meeting, officials said.

- The council was informed that a second pre-hearing conference is set for March in the city's lawsuit against WGA Cable. A trial date is expected to be set at that time, officials said. The city is suing the cable company on charges of breach of contract and is seeking a release of its contract with WGA.

Muenster ISD students shine in recent TAAS test results

Muenster I.S.D. students performed excellently on the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills exams that were administered last October. Students in grades 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11 were tested in the areas of reading, mathematics, and writing. Muenster I.S.D. students mastered the objectives in each area at rates much higher than those of the rest of the state. The table below shows the percentages of Muenster students mastering each of the three areas of the tests at each grade level.

Students who mastered every objective in a particular subject area received the special designation of Academic Recognition. Again, Muenster I.S.D. students earned such recognition at a much higher percentage than other Texas students. Particular areas of strength include third grade math, fifth grade reading and math, seventh grade reading and math, ninth grade reading and writing, and eleventh grade reading, math and writing. Many different students earned Academic Recognition and several students missed only one or two items on the entire TAAS test.

"We're very proud of our kids for the job they did taking the test and our teachers on the job they did in preparing them for the test," remarked Superintendent Steve Cooper. "We were particularly excited that for a first year test we scored very high in statewide averages. There was a lot of concern that because it was a first year test the scores would be low statewide, but our students performed at a level that was heads and shoulders above the state. We are very pleased and elated that from a statewide standpoint we will be very high in the ranking."

Such excellent results do not come easily, Muenster teachers at all grade levels work hard to provide students with the foundation skills for such statewide tests. Also, the parent and community support of M.I.S.D. students plays a vital role in such success. Our entire community should be proud of the excellent performance by M.I.S.D. students. There will be an assembly on Friday, Jan. 25 at 3 p.m. in the high school auditorium to recognize teachers and students for the TAAS results. The public is welcome to attend.

Complete test results are available at both M.I.S.D. campuses and the Superintendent's office.

Good News!

Fight, O Lord, against those who fight me; war against those who make war upon me. Take up the shield and buckler, and rise up in my defense. Brandish the lance, and block the way in the face of my pursuers; say to my soul, "I am your salvation."

Commissioners pick grievance committee

by Elaine Schad
Cooke County Commissioners this week voted to realign a county grievance committee to include a majority of citizen members.

The commissioners were following the recommendation of last year's committee, which was criticized for having elected officials decide the fate of their own salary appeals.

Last year was the first time the county salary grievance committee met in Cooke County, officials said. Texas law has permitted the county grievance process for elected officials since 1971. The law provides that members be selected among elected officials and a random drawing of members from the preceding year's grand jury. The county judge chairs the committee, according to the law.

"Some of the elected officials were concerned about the awkward position of sometimes being the person grieving and also sitting on the committee," said Commissioner Kenneth Alexander.

Commissioner Virgil Hess, who attended his first meeting as the new county commissioner representing Precinct 4, said citizen members would provide a better look and better comparisons in approaching the issue than would elected officials.

Commissioners drew the names of nine county residents to serve on the committee until January 1992, along with three alternates. They include Dixi Hawkins, Joe D. Dillard, Jim Ailey, Rufus H. Henscheid, Sue Nall, Thomas Clower, Mike Otts, Dolphy Joe Hellman and Pat Erlandson. Alternates are Roy G. Bryan, Carol Albro and Joe Ward.

County Judge Jim Robert said that a study of the county's salary structure, another recommendation of the committee, should be ready by April.

War declared on Iraq, leaving emotions mixed

"The liberation of Kuwait has begun," announced Marlin Fitzwater, White House press secretary. With this statement Americans learned that the United Nations hadn't issued false threats and was indeed defending Kuwait from Saddam Hussein's takeover.

It was 6 p.m. in Muenster on Wednesday, Jan. 16 when the news was first heard. It had been an especially gentle January day of bright sunshine and warm temperatures. Local adults and children went about their business as usual, keeping an ear open for word of war or a peaceful end.

This is the first time in the memory of most people under 50 that so many nations had entered into a war of such potential destruction. Painful memories were resurrected by those who lived through World War II, Korea, and more recently, Vietnam.

Almost everyone agreed that such an action was the only solution left. Emotions ran from shock ... sadness ... fear ... resignation ... pride ... and faith.

During the last days of world peace the people of Muenster gathered in prayer, hoping that the world leaders could avoid war and mend their differences. We continue to carry prayers in our hearts for a swift and amiable resolution. Prayers are offered daily for all of the troops serving in the Mid East, especially James and Thomas Bright, John Herr, Stanley Knabe, John Edwards, Clifford and David Zimmerer, Billy Youngblood, Mike Armstrong and Danny Knabe.

Commissioners Court approves insurance bids

by Elaine Schad
Cooke County Commissioners this week approved bids totaling $57,066 in premiums for county property and automobile insurance coverage, which will give the county additional coverage at a savings of almost $13,000 over last year's rates, officials said.

The low bidder of only two submitted was the Texas Association of Counties from Austin. This is the first time the county has carried insurance through the TAC, said Auditor Gloria Parrish.

The county spent about $70,000 for insurance coverage last year and had budgeted $90,000 for coverage for fiscal 1991, said Mrs. Parrish.

The new policy will lower the deductibles in some classifications, and will increase the county's uninsured motorist coverage from $100,000 to $300,000, officials said.

In another matter, commissioners approved the installation of an additional telephone line in the county probation department for a facsimile (FAX) machine. Probation Director Sandy Russell said the line was needed so the department can have better access to a FAX since the department is now located across the street from the courthouse. The department is seeking grant money to purchase the FAX machine, and total cost of the line will be $60 for installation plus $26.20 per month for the line.

In other business, commissioners:

- Accepted the bid of Douglass Distributing of Sherman to provide fuel to county vehicles. The quoted prices were 88 cents a gallon for regular, 85 cents for unleaded and 91 cents for diesel, with any price changes determined the Monday before each delivery date.

- Approved bonds for various elected officials and for sheriff's department personnel.

- Approved the final plat for Prairie Estates Subdivision in Precinct 3 as submitted by David

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

I am Bob Garner, membership director of the Texas Chapter LST Association, Landing Ship Tanks, mostly known as large slow targets, amphibious ships of the U.S. Navy World War II to present date.

We are trying to find shipmates in your area for coming reunions. The shipmates I've located have had a wonderful time renewing old friendships. There is quite a few from Texas to be located. Our hopes are that by your printing of this article we may be able to reach some of them.

Any help that your paper can give us would be greatly appreciated by me and also anyone whom this article may reach.

Sincerely,
Bob Garner

Dear Editor,

We wish to thank all the people in Muenster and the other towns in Cooke County for the tremendous support given to Cooke County Home Hospice during the 1990 Light Up A Life Fund Drive.

Because of the dedication of volunteers in many places and at the Tree of Lights at Beall's Department Store, we were able to raise a total of $15,396.46.

Your response has been overwhelming. Due to your generosity we will be able to continue our work with the terminally ill and their families through this coming year.

We express our deep appreciation to each and every one who donated to Hospice care and to volunteers from all parts of the county who helped man the Tree of Lights.

Sincerely,

Cooperative announces youth tour contest

Cooke County Electric Cooperative is planning to send a deserving high-school-age student to Washington D.C. next summer as part of the Rural Electric Youth Tour.

The all-expense-paid trip will be awarded to the winner of an essay and speech contest to be held in early 1991. Eligible contestants must be a CCEC member, children of a CCEC member, or live in a home served by CCEC. CCEC Directors' children are not eligible. Contestants must be age 14-19 as of February 20, 1991 and not yet have graduated from high school.

"We decided to participate in this program because it should prove to be an educational opportunity for all participants and it will be a tremendous growth opportunity for the young person chosen," said Philip Slater, General Manager of Cooke County Electric Cooperative. "Youth who have made the tour describe it as a life-changing experience. The tour is set up to make history and national government come to life. That, coupled with interactions with other young leaders, can motivate outstanding achievement and public service."

Contest entrants will be required to submit an essay, not more than five double-spaced pages, on one of the following topics: How to conserve energy and preserve our environment; How availability of electricity improves our quality of life; How electric cooperatives helped build rural America.

Applications and resource materials are available from the cooperative office on Highway 82 East in Muenster. Youth interested in more information should contact Eric Williams, Member Relations Specialist, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

D.C. During the trip, youth will spend a week touring historic sites, involving themselves in planned activities and visiting with members of Congress.

A highlight of the Washington trip is Rural Electric Youth Day, during which a special program coordinated by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association will feature speeches by high government and rural electric officials. Selected youth will also participate in an "Energy Battle" competition comparable to a television quiz show.

Approximately 1,000 youth tour participants from 37 states will meet in Washington D.C. in June, 1991. The Texas Electric Cooperatives delegation will depart from Lewisville on June 7, and return on June 16.

Cooke County Electric Cooperative has 2,437 miles of electrical distribution line serving approximately 10,000 meters in Cooke and Montague counties. CCEC is a member of the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc., which supplies wholesale power.

"We are looking forward to good participation from the youth who come from homes served by the Cooperative since electric service has played such an important part in rural living," said Slater.

Essays will be judged on content, organization, writing style, spelling and punctuation. Deadline for submitting the essays is 5 p.m. February 20, 1991. Five finalists will be notified as quickly as possible in order to prepare for a speech contest on the afternoon of March 3, 1991. The contest will be held in the CCEC auditorium in Muenster. Students will be asked to give a speech, not over 10 minutes long, adapted from their essays.

As a participant in the 1991 rural electric youth tour, the local contest winner will travel with others from Texas to Washington

V.L. Sparkman dies in Oklahoma on Jan. 15

V.L. Sparkman of Mangrum, Oklahoma died there on Tuesday, Jan. 15, of a massive heart attack. He had earlier undergone successful hip surgery, was recovering and anticipating his return home. The injury occurred while he was feeding his cattle.

V.L. Sparkman was a former manager of AMPI in Muenster for a number of years and was a longtime Muenster resident.

He was transferred from Mangrum to Muenster in 1971 after many years of managership in the Oklahoma plant until it merged with AMPI in Muenster. He retired here in 1983, and was called back to help for six months during the next year. After that, the family returned to their Mangrum home.

During his years in the local plant, the new cheese plant was built and the remodeling of the old plant was completed, including major improvements such as the evaporator and the filter matt spray dryer.

Funeral services were held Thursday, Jan. 17, at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Mangrum. Interment was under direction of Greer Funeral Home.

V. L. SPARKMAN

Survivors are his wife, Maxine Sparkman of Mangrum; one son, Lee Sparkman; and one grandson, Worth Sparkman.

Sales tax revenues signal improving economy

"This month's local sales tax rebates are positive proof that our Texas economy is steadily improving," Comptroller John Sharp said Monday.

Sharp announced that his office this month sent checks totaling $91 million to the cities and counties across Texas that collect local sales taxes.

"A good portion of that increase is due to Texas' stronger economy, but some of the rise is because more cities collect sales tax this year than did last year. A few other cities have also increased their local tax rates which makes for higher rebate checks from the state," Sharp said.

Sharp recently reported in his Biennial Revenue Estimate to the state Legislature an increase of $1.9 billion in available revenue for fiscal years 1992-93 because of Texas' growing and increasingly diversified economy. However, Sharp also warned that the state could face a potential shortfall due to increased spending requirements.

This month's payments to Cooke County cities totaled $86,737.27 with Muenster receiving $6,248.34, a decrease of 9.73 percent over January 1990. Other area city payments were Gainesville $74,497.39, a 2.34 percent decrease; Lindsay $3,310.83, 20.01 percent increase; Oak Ridge $1,216.49, a 30.29 percent increase; and Valley View $1,464.22, an increase of 42.94 percent.

Cooke County received a rebate check for $43,692.00.

The January rebate checks reflect taxes collected on November sales and reported in late December by businesses filing monthly returns.

Jan. 23 is deadline for page, intern applications

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Individuals interested in serving as a page or intern in Washington, D.C. have less than a week to get their applications into Congressman Charles Stenholm's office.

Completed applications must be submitted in person or postmarked by January 23, 1991, to be considered for either position.

Pages are housed in supervised dormitories and study junior level curriculum at the U.S. Capitol Page School.

Page positions are open to students in the 17th Congressional District who will be juniors in September 1991. Pages must have a "B" average in four major courses, excluding electives.

Four interns are selected to work in the Congressman's office for one month intervals in June or July.

College students from the 17th Congressional District or those attending college inside the district, teachers and administrators and residents ages 19-25 who have demonstrated an interest in government, are eligible for the internship program. The interns are paid a one-month stipend to cover basic living expenses.

Page and intern applications and information can be obtained by contacting Elaine Talley in the Abilene district office at 915-673-7221.

Applications are due by January 23, 1991. They will be forwarded to a Selection Committee who will notify finalists by February 28, 1991. Interviews for all positions will be held in Abilene on March 10, 1991, and selections will be made at that time.

Alfred Neu dies at 68

Mass of Christian Burial was held in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay on Friday, Jan. 18, at 10:30 a.m. for Alfred Neu, age 68. He died on Jan. 15 at 6:25 p.m. in Denton Community Hospital after a short illness. A Wake Service was held in St. Peter's Church Thursday evening.

Father Bart Landwermeyer, OSB, was celebrant of the funeral Mass and Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home directed interment in St. Peter's Cemetery of Lindsay.

Alfred Neu was born on Oct. 11, 1922 in Gainesville to Matt and Rosa (Schmitt) Neu. He was a veteran of WWII, having served in the Army of the United States in the Asiatic-Pacific Theater Campaign. He was a farmer and a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church.

He was preceded in death by his father and a sister, Mrs. Isabell Wimmer.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Rosa Neu of Lindsay; two sisters, Math Lee (Pat) Henscheid and Elitha Endres of Muenster; one brother, Paul Neu of Gainesville; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Nephews were pallbearers. Additional information was unavailable at press time and will be printed next week.

Valley View mayor not to run again

by Elaine Schad

Valley View Mayor John Kubicek announced this week that he will not seek reelection due to increasing personal obligations.

Kubicek was elected mayor in May 1989, and his term will end in May. He had served one year of a two-year term as an alderman and mayor pro-tem before vacating his seat to run for the mayor's position.

"I sometimes meet myself coming and going, and I just feel I need to step aside for a while," Kubicek said about his decision. "I have always thought of Valley View first, but I think I've done my share for a while."

Kubicek said job and family obligations were the main reasons for his decision not to seek a second term. Even though the city still faces many challenges concerning its wastewater treatment needs, Kubicek said he was most satisfied with the work of the council the past three years on bringing the present plant into compliance with Texas Water Commission standards under its 30-90 permit.

The city still faces a permit renewal process in March which officials have said will probably result in an order that the city build a new wastewater treatment facility in order to treat effluent under a more stringent permit.

Walt Klements observe golden wedding anniversary

MR. and MRS. WALT KLEMENT

Walt and Eleonore Klement's fiftieth wedding anniversary and Mass of Thanksgiving were celebrated on Saturday, Jan. 5, 1991 in Sacred Heart Church. Their actual wedding date was Jan. 7.

In the entrance procession were the Klements' children, spouses and grandchildren: Jeanette, Susan, Brenda and Darren Jones, and friend Ashley Lipscomb of Fort Worth; Sharon and Billy Don Wolf and Kevin Wolf of Muenster, Amber Wolf of Lindsay, Donna Wolf and friend Deareld Holloy of Powderly, Tx.; Wayne and Tudor Klement, Misty, Jeff and Kami of Muenster, Chris Klement of Arlington and friend Mindy Graham of Muenster; Claude and Deb Klement, Aaron and Ashley of Muenster; Doyle and Carla Klement and Stevie Rae of Gainesville; and Mark and Carol Klement of Muenster.

Accompanying the honor couple were wedding attendants, Clara (Henscheid) Endres, bridesmaid, escorted by her husband, Ed Endres, and Ryan Klement, best man, who stood in for his father, the late Rody Klement, escorting his mother Marcie Klement. Both Clara and Marcie were presented with corsages of white roses, accented with gold leaves and ribbons.

Following the honor couple was the con-celebrant of the Mass, Father Victor Gillespie OSB, pastor, and Mass servers: Aaron Klement, Darren Jones and Jeff Klement.

During the Mass, Father Victor directed a special blessing for the golden anniversary couple.

Liturgical Readings were given by Chris Klement, Donna Wolf, and Susan Jones, grandchildren of the couple.

Mass offerings were brought to the altar by grandchildren Stevie Rae Klement and Amber Wolf carrying red roses and Ashley and Kami Klement, Kevin and Donna Wolf carrying the Offertory gifts.

Liturgical music was presented by guitarists and singers, Christi Klement, Jim Endres, Diane Grewing, Denise Bayer and Melissa Bayer. Selections were "Seek Ye First," "The Greatest Gift," "Only a Shadow," and "How Great Thou Art."

Eucharistic Ministers were Mark and Carol Klement, Viola Rohmer, Ray and Kaye Wimmer, Janet Voth and Regina Pels.

A special addition to the Mass, surprising the honor couple, was presented by the St. Andrew Church Handbell Choir of Fort Worth, with the Klements' daughter, Jeanette Jones in attendance with the Bell Choir. Their music selections were Christmas carols, "Adest Fidelis," "Little Drummer," "We Three Kings," "Infant Holy Infant Lowly," and "Aria."

After the conclusion of the Mass and closing liturgy, and following the Recessional song, Father Victor invited the congregation to be seated and remain for a presentation of the Handbell Choir of the German folk music of Deutsche Volkslieder. Selections were "Du, du, liegst mir in Herzen," "Muss Ich den zum Stadtele-Naus," and "Heidenroslein."

The presentation was outstanding and the congregation became an appreciative audience.

For the special anniversary occasion the golden-wed bride wore her gold ruby cross that she wore on her wedding day, and also carried a silver rosary and lace handkerchief used on her original wedding day, Jan. 7, 1941

RECEPTION
A reception, catered dinner, program and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center, planned and hosted by the couple's children and spouses for 300 guests.

The registration book was attended by granddaughters Brenda Jones and Misty Klement at a table holding the couple's anniversary candle and the bride's original wedding picture.

Guests enjoyed viewing tables of pictures featuring photos and keepsakes of the couple's past 50 years, their children, their home, and their brothers and sisters.

Decorations by Aileen Knabe highlighted the original wedding color of turquoise and white. Guest tables were decorated with hurricane lamps, candles, and white doves, and accented with miniature gold "50's". The center of the reception area featured a gold hanging basket with a profusion of flowers.

On the main table and registration table, flower arrangements were made by Carol Klement.

A buffet of assorted hors d'oeuvres was served from the center of the reception area. Dinner was catered by Ed and Ginny Schneider.

The three-tiered white anniversary cake was adorned with gold roses, white doves and gold bells. The top layer held the treasured miniature bride and groom figurine from the original wedding cake. The groom's cake was traditionally chocolate and two-tiered. Both cakes were baked and decorated by Betty Rose Walterscheid who also cut the white wedding cake. Susan Jones cut the chocolate cake, and cake servers were Darren and Brenda Jones, Ashley, Aaron, Misty, Jeff, Kami and Stevie Rae Klement, all grandchildren, and Amber Wolf, the couple's great-grandchild.

A special program was given by Wayne Klement, relating family history and recalling treasured memories. A toast was offered in honor of the anniversary couple. Another surprise for them was a video presented by Doyle Klement depicting past history and including their children and grandchildren.

Dancing followed, to music by Andy Serna and the "Captive Hearts." The honor couple led the first dance to "Amanda." Their children and spouses joined in and invited all guests to follow.

Guests attending the wedding from out-of-town included Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Klement of Mission; Jerry Klement of Temple; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schleicher of Fort Worth; Maura Wilkinson, Annette Henscheid, Tom Tipton, and Karen Essick all of Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Klement of Decatur; Sister Ann Theodore Wiesman of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Olson of Alex, Okla.; Mary Jane Fleitman of Denison; Monte Reiter of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Darwin of Valley View; Gerri Dye, Millie Schneider, Eniko Walter, Julie Hamer, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Skrehart and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ostrowski and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shepard and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mallick, all of Fort Worth. Other guests included relatives and friends from Lindsay, Gainesville and Muenster.

Eleonore is the daughter of the late Bill and Anna Henscheid. Walt is the son of the late John and Margaret Klement. Their wedding was held in Sacred Heart Church on Tuesday, January 7, 1941 at 8:30 a.m. with Father Frowin Koerdt officiating at the Nuptial High Mass. Anthony Luke, organist, and the Sacred Heart Men's Choir, of which the bride's father was a member, sang the Mass in Latin.

The bride wore a white satin, floor length dress with heart-shaped neckline, moulded bodice and very full skirt. Her illusion veil was attached to a wreath of lilies of the valley, and extended over her gown into a short train. She carried an arm bouquet of white lilies. She wore the gold cross and chain her late mother wore at her wedding 26 years before, and also carried her mother's white lace wedding handkerchief.

The bride's cousin, Clara Henscheid, was bridesmaid, wearing a turquoise blue chiffon long dress, a tiny halo hat with shoulder veil, and a pink corsage.

Roman (Rody) Klement was best man. The bride's father hosted the wedding breakfast, an informal all-day reception and a dinner in the evening for 75 guests.

The bride's table was centered with a heart-shaped wedding cake, placed on a crystal cake stand that was a wedding gift for the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Theodore Wiesman, 49 years before.

After a wedding trip, the couple made their home on a farm ten miles northeast of town.

Eleonore was the Duchess representing Muenster at the festive Gainesville Community Circus at Gainesville in 1940.

A week prior to her wedding she was honored at a shower hosted by two aunts, Mrs. J.J. Haverkamp and Mrs. Al Fleitman, and by the groom's sister Mrs. Buddy Reiter and by the groom's mother.

Vaccination urged!

The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and the Texas Department of Health have issued warnings urging physicians to vaccinate at-risk children against measles, according to an article in the January issue of Texas Medicine. A CDC letter sent to thousands of U.S. physicians in August warned that measles would claim more lives in 1990 than at any time since 1971.

"It is the responsibility of all physicians and health-care workers to ensure our patients are fully immunized against diseases that can be prevented," added Dr. Laurance Nickey of El Paso, chairman of TMA's Council on Public Health.

The CDC letter said most measles cases and death were occurring among unvaccinated preschool children in inner city areas. "Studies of several outbreaks have shown that many of these children could have been vaccinated during contacts with health-care providers but were not," the letter said.

Texas Department of Health statistics show Texas had 3,665 measles cases through July 1990, second only to California.

A new state law requires that all students who reach their 12th birthday after Sept. 1, 1990 receive a second measles immunization. The second immunization is obligatory and is a pre-enrollment requisite. When the students reach their 12th birthday, they must get, or have received, a second measles shot.

Children who are 13 years and up are also encouraged to receive a second immunization for safety and protection, stated spokesmen for both the TDH and the Texas Education Agency.

Parents can help revise child care standards

by Sandra Avant

Many Texas families spend at least 20 percent their annual income on child care. But parents now can contribute another valuable asset - advice - to revising the state's minimum standards for child care facilities.

The Texas Department of Human Services, which currently is revising the minimum standards for licensed child care facilities, is soliciting comments and suggestions. The licensing department regulates the establishments to help protect the health, safety and well-being of children.

Minimum standards relate to staff/child ratios, training requirements for staff, space allocations for care programs, requirements for safety, nutrition and child care supervision. Facilities are classified under nursery, private kindergarten, day care, group home and drop-in care, depending on the number and age of children and the amount of care time involved.

Minimum standards are the same for children from birth to 12 years old. However, the rule that calls for visual supervision of children at all times is appropriate for a 3-year-old but not for a 10-year-old who can do things like walking down the hall to the rest room alone, for example.

Suggestions for enhancing quality child care for children can be mailed to the Texas Department of Human Services W-403, P.O. Box 149030, Austin, Texas 78714-9030.

Muenster Ext. Homemakers meet Jan. 9

Louise Bayer was hostess to members of the Muenster Extension Homemakers Club on Jan. 9, 1991. Sixteen members and two guests Christel Vogel and Lana Fisher attended.

Irene Klement gave an interesting story about her sister-in-law, Georgie Sicking of Fallon, Nevada, who has written many poems of western and ranch life, cowboy-ing and round-ups etc. Mrs. Sicking, the wife of the late Frank Sicking, was installed in the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame in Hereford, Texas, several years ago. The magazine article was entitled "Yi-Pi-Yi-Odes" - "Georgie Pens Are Rootin-ootin Poetry" and was carried in Country Woman Magazine, Jan.-Feb. 1991.

Dorothy Fisher read a poem written by Bill Bayer, first vice president of Cooke County Farm Bureau, entitled "To our Citizens," about taxpayers' gripes.

After Year Books were brought up to date, members enjoyed refreshments and much chatter.

How to build your money up without tying it down.

Our Money Market Freedom Account gives you access to your money and higher market rates.

What good is high interest on money you can't touch? We couldn't tell you. Because an AmWest Money Market Freedom Account doesn't work that way. We don't tie your hands or your money. With our Money Market Freedom Account you get a high rate of interest plus liquidity of assets. You can write three checks a month and three pre-authorized transfers can be established. You can even get a Freedom Checking Account that requires no minimum balance, no service charges, and is non-interest bearing. Opening a Money Market Freedom Account is easy. All you need is a minimum deposit of $2,500. The more you deposit, the higher the rate of interest. And with $25,000 and above you'll receive a bonus rate on a new CD for one year terms or more. So if you have high cash flow, don't settle for a high interest rate account you can't get your hands on. Put your money in an AmWest Money Market Freedom Account.

Balance	Yield	Rate
$2,500 - $24,999	6.45%	6.25%
$25,000 - $49,999	7.25%	7.00%
$50,000 and above	7.52%	7.25%

MRS. THOMAS DAVID SOUTHER

Vows solemnized in Forestburg Dec. 29

Susan Page Sirman and Thomas David Souther were united in marriage on Dec. 29, 1990 at the Forestburg Church of Christ. Hollis Adams Jr. performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of L. D. and Sue Sirman of Forestburg. Grandparents of the bride are Mrs. K.P. Snider of Denton and Mrs.

Minnie Arnold of Forestburg.

The groom is the son of David and Judy Souther of Forestburg. Grandparents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Souther of Decatur and Mrs. Dillard North of Decatur.

Given in marriage by her father, L.D. Sirman, the bride was wearing a white satin wedding gown with re-embroidered imported Galloon lace. The V-neck bodice, long sleeves and chapel-length train were accented with beadings of white pearls and iridescent sequins. The low back of the gown held a large satin bow that drifted down the train of the gown. The gown was designed and created by the bride's mother as her wedding gift.

A chapel-length veil of white illusion was held to the headpiece of white silk flowers, pearls and sequins. Both were made by the bride and her mother. The bride's white satin shoes were decorated with appliques covered with pearls and sequins to match her gown.

Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses, plum and white pom-pom mums, white baby's breath and greenery.

ATTENDANTS

Melissa Cartwright of Texas City was maid of honor. She wore a teal-length dress of iridescent forest green taffeta accented with back ruffles and a back bow. She carried a nosegay matching the bride's flowers.

Laura Morgan of Waxahachie and Krista Shults of Forestburg were bridesmaids. Their dresses and flowers were identical to the honor maid's.

Bart Sirman of Forestburg, brother of the bride and longtime friend of the groom, was best man.

Brent Holland of Denton and Chad Hudspeth of Wichita Falls were groomsmen, who also served as ushers.

Bailey Snider, bride's cousin of Denton, was flower girl. Her sister, Jamie Snider, carried the bride's train. They wore dresses of forest green iridescent taffeta with a silver glitter dot. The dresses were accented with back ruffles and a back bow. Each girl wore a wreath of plum and white flowers with baby's breath and ribbons.

Wedding music was given by Kerry Laing of Austin and Melissa Cartwright of Texas City. Both are classmates of the bride.

RECEPTION

A wedding reception in the Forestburg Community Center followed the church ceremony, hosted by the bride's parents, Paula Edwards of Denton, bride's cousin, registered guests.

Attending the bride's table were Heather Tyree of Odessa and Becca Tolbert of Odessa, both classmates of the bride. The groom's table was attended by Lisa Gage, groom's cousin of Denton, and Shelley Souther, groom's sister-in-law of Decatur.

After a short wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will make their home in Abilene where they will attend Abilene Christian University. The bride is a senior Nutrition major and will graduate from ACU in May 1991. The groom is a senior Accounting major and has been attending the University of North Texas at Denton.

VFW Roundup slated

A full schedule of events is on the agenda for the V.F.W. posts and auxiliaries of Texas when the annual State Mid-Year Round Up convenes in Austin, Jan. 24 through Jan. 27. State Commander Charles Pearson of San Antonio will conduct V.F.W. meetings and State President Betty Royston of Lewisville will conduct the ladies' meetings. Registration begins Thursday from 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. Friday's registration is from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. and on Saturday it is from 8 a.m. until 12 noon.

Mid-Winter Round Up consists of continual sessions of Schools of Instructions of the programs in which the members are involved as part of their national organizational requirements. Some of the program workshops on the agenda for Friday are Safety, Community Service, Cancer Aid and Research, Buddy Poppy, Legislative, National Home, and Voice of Democracy.

Saturday workshop schedules include Rehabilitation, VAVS, Hospital, Publicity, Americanism, POW-MIA, Youth activities, Membership, and President's Special Project, Camp Sweeney. Also there is a special workshop for treasurers, secretaries and trustees. On Saturday evening at 6:30 p.m. in the Voice of Democracy banquet and dance. This is when the state winner is chosen and presents the winning speech to the V.F.W. and Auxiliary.

Extension Homemakers study world understanding

More than 50 Cooke County Extension Homemakers held a Leadership Workshop and installation of officers on Jan. 8 at 10:30 a.m. in the Cooke County Electric Co-op meeting room.

A program on "World Understanding and The Global Village" was presented by officers, and is in connection with the State objective of International Understanding.

Imogene Zimmerer led a discussion on understanding the world around us and the different attitudes and economic conditions that exist today. It was agreed that our country is a part of the world community, and with understanding, the global problems facing us today, can be solved if people of different countries work together. We can learn practical and important ideas from developing nations even though there are cultural, economic and political differences. It was shown that much of the world has a lower standard of living than we do. Many people in the Third World countries are hungry most of the time, and we also have the homeless and hungry in America.

As a way of showing the typical meals of different parts of the world, guests were given colored name tags, either white, yellow, or pink as they registered.

When Council officers served lunch, those with white tags were given only a roll and a glass of water, as is the usual diet of the Third World countries. Those with yellow tags were served a small portion of rice, a roll and a cup of tea, as typical Second World fare. And those with pink tags were served a full meal of a roll, rice, chicken chow mein, fruit, cookies and tea as in a typical First World country. It was interesting to note that most of the full meals were shared with the people who had less. Finally, all attending were invited to partake of the full meal.

Beta Kappa to purchase new bench for City Park

As a part of the President's project members of Beta Kappa unanimously voted to purchase a park bench to be placed in the east part of the Muenster Park near the playground equipment being installed by the Muenster Jaycees.

It was decided that scholarship applications should be mailed to all local seniors around Feb. 1 and that deadline for their return would be March 15.

In other business Jean Walterscheid, service chairman, announced that the next Red Cross blood drive is scheduled for March 3; President Sharon

After lunch, as a fun game, the ladies were given a blank map of the world and asked to find and write in a number of different locations in different parts of the world.

Then Evelyn Yeatts CEA presided for the installation of officers, as follows: Dorothy Fisher, Council Chairman; Gladys Pearson, Vice Chairman; Mary Wambough, Secretary; Sharon Simmons, Treasurer; Lucille Lutkenhaus, Reporter; Betty Flynn, TEHA Chairman; Martha Stanley, Parliamentarian.

Dorothy Fisher presided for a short business session when it was decided to name members to the various council committees at the February meeting. After adjournment the new yearbooks were given to club vice presidents to be distributed to the individual clubs at their January meetings.

Lucille Lutkenhaus is county reporter.

Felderhoff reminded members that the Humane Society's recycling project is conducted on the Wal Mart parking lot in Gainesville on the third Saturday of every month and that they will take paper and glass.

Laurie Rohmer presented the education, on Sand To Sea, Marine Life of Hawaii, by Feeny and Fielding. The book has been donated to the Muenster Public Library in memory of Lynn Dangelmayr.

The meeting was held on Monday, Jan. 14 in the home of Laurie Rohmer.

Vestiges of Frontier

by Ray Ashley,
Illinois Bend reporter

Frontier Texas ended at Illinois Bend at the close of the second world war, but it was not until the community meeting on Jan. 10 that the next to the last frontier vestige was voted into retirement. The antique cast-iron woodburning stove provided heat to the building for most of a century. From about 1895 until 1944, when the school closed, it served to keep school children warm. Then, when various groups used the building for meetings, it continued in service.

It was not aversion to change that kept it burning, exactly, for when REA electricity came in 1948, the building was quickly wired and kerosene lamps and lanterns disappeared. Modern sources of heat were apparently not considered, perhaps because of expense.

Now, thanks to Sterling Trice for donating a propane tank, we'll be getting space heaters. But, we still don't have indoor plumbing. So, the final functional vestige of pioneer times remains - an outhouse. A good number of people will be glad when it is gone, and I don't think anyone will be nostalgic about it, as we are about the wood stove. We'll keep the stove to remind us of former times, perhaps even build an occasional fire in it, but probably not very often after space heaters are installed.

In other business, the Community Center voted for the following board of directors: Kate Harris, Dub Dowd, Jo Castle, Jim Ivins and Tom Trice. Membership dues of $3 per year per member were collected. Get-well cards were sent to Rod Hoover and Bill Holt. We were delighted to welcome as new members Bob and Carol Haralson, Jim and Bonnie Ivins and John White.

Come the next warm spell after the puddles dry, there will be a trash pickup on FM 677 right-of-way between Capps Corner and Illinois Bend.

Meetings are second Thursdays at 6 p.m. winter months, 7 p.m. warm months. Members bring a covered dish for the pot-luck supper following the meeting. Readers who wish to belong to the Community Center are invited to join.

Ray Ashley, Illinois Bend Reporter, Box 37, Saint Jo, TX 76265-0037.

REGIONAL QUALIFIERS, Allison Klement, Werner Becker III and Scott Hennigan, will represent Sacred Heart in Citizen Bee competition. Janie Hartman Photo

Sacred Heart School selects Bee competitors

The regional qualifiers in the Citizen Bee from Sacred Heart School were selected in a competition on January 11. Finishing first was Allison Klement, sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Klement of Muenster. In second place was Scot Hennigan, junior, son of Jerry Hennigan and Evelyn Hennigan of Muenster. In third place was Werner Becker III, sophomore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Becker Jr. of Gainesville. The students will travel to Fort Worth on March 9 to compete against students from more than 18 high schools in North Texas. Twenty-students competed at the local level.

The Citizen Bee is a national competition covering topics in American History, culture, government, economics, and geography. Winners from regional contests go on to state and national competitions where they can compete for prizes up to $10,000.

Baptism

Hellman

Jordanne Elizabeth Hellman was baptized on Sunday, Jan. 6, 1991, in Sacred Heart Church during the 10:30 a.m. Mass, with Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, conferring the Sacrament. Jordanne is the daughter of Damian and Deanna Hellman.

Her baptismal sponsors are an aunt, Kristi Bierschen, and an uncle, Jeff Hellman. The infant wore a baptismal gown made by her maternal great-grandmother, Clara Walterscheid. She also wore a cross necklace, a gift from her godmother, and a cross pendant, a gift from the godfather.

A dinner followed in the home of the paternal grandparents, Della and Dolphy Joe Hellman. A special, decorated christening cake was served.

Guests included the infant and her parents, Damian and Deanna; Joe and Della Hellman; Jeff Hellman; JoEll Hellman; Kenneth and Marilyn Bierschen and family Michael, Kristi and Stephanie Bierschen; Angel Hanna; Jenny, Bruce and Jillian Bezner; the great-grandparents, Mrs. Clara Walterscheid and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wimmer. Unable to attend were great-grandmothers, Mmes. Alice Hellman and Mary Bierschen. Father Sebastian Beshoner was a special guest.

Prayer for Peace

Lord Jesus Christ, who did say to your apostles: "Peace I leave unto you, my peace I give unto you, not as the world gives do I give unto you," consider not my sins but your merits, and grant to all your servants, that those whom the Father almighty has created and of whom he takes care, and whom you have redeemed with your precious blood and destined to eternal life may all love one another most cordially for your sake, may be of one heart, and may rejoice in your abiding peace.

Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the prophet sang: "All the kings of the earth shall do him homage, all the nations shall be submissive to his will," extend your rule to every human soul. Send forth the light of your faith upon all men, deliver them from the seductions and the bondage of passion, and turn their hearts to heavenly things. Grant likewise, of your goodness, that all nations and all races may be made one by holy Mother Church, your spouse, and that through the intercession of the blessed Virgin Mary, queen of peace, they may subject themselves to you in all humility. And from every tongue and people, may one same voice arise to sing your praise by day and by night, to bless you and extol you, O king of nations and sovereign Lord of all, O prince of peace, O deathless king of ages. Amen.

Sacred Heart High School Art Students' trip to Fort Worth by Jason Beyer

Wednesday, Nov. 28, 1990, the art students of Sacred Heart High School loaded up in the church vans and headed toward Fort Worth to enjoy the day at the art museum. The vans rolled into Fort Worth at approximately 9:30 a.m. and made a "pit stop" at McDonalds. The students, Patti Bayer, Jeanne Greathouse and Bob Greathouse proceeded to the Amon Carter Museum and viewed the art exhibits. After spending two hours in the Amon Carter Museum, the students and teachers proceeded to the Fort Worth Museum of Modern Art. After leaving this museum, it was time for lunch. The students were given 30 minutes to eat their sack lunch. At 1:00, all the students made their way to the Omni Theater and enjoyed the presentation called "Seasons."

The High School Art students and teachers who participated in the field trip were: Jason Endres, Jason Beyer, Kim Cler, Angie Endres, Melanie Bayer, Robin

Pretty in Pink

My what a pretty sight you make strolling down the street. In your lovely pink PJ's and your sexy bare feet.

With your dog in your arms you were pretty as you please. Your hair was a sight to behold and what was brushing your knees?

You thought no one had seen you on that cold, wintry day. Many eyes were opened for all the town to say ...

Yes, Lynda Yosten, you were seen!

MHS defeats 'Horns

Muenster's varsity basketball teams used a balanced scoring attack and a solid defense to beat Forestburg Tuesday night in a non-district match.

The Lady Hornets, after a slow 16-9 first quarter, pulled ahead 28-26 going into the locker room. "The girls had a hard time getting up for a non-district game," said Muenster Coach Brian Strother. "After the first quarter, we knew we better get it together and play." Muenster had a better defensive second half, holding Forestburg to only 9 points, while scoring 25 to earn a 53-35 victory.

All 13 team members got to play, even the five freshmen, together as a team, nine girls added points to the board.

DaLana Walterscheid was high scorer with 16 points, Amy Otto added 11. Coach Strother credits both girls for outstanding performances, also with Leslie Klement, who shot 100 percent from the free throw line. Others scoring included Melissa Bayer, Danell Reiter, Marcia Vogel, Dianne Pagel, Kim Anderle and Brandy Debnam.

Melanie Griffin led the Lady Longhorns with 16 points. Vanessa Covington, Prudy and Misty Matlock also scored.

In a close boys game, Troy Pagel paced the Hornets with 20 points in his best scoring night this season.

Muenster took a 23-20 first quarter lead, stretching that lead 45-36 at halftime. The Longhorns attempted a comeback in the second half, outscoring Muenster 36-32, closing the score to 47-45 at one point. Brad McDaniel scored 10 points in the third quarter to keep Muenster in the game. Muenster finished on top 78-72 in the non-district contest.

Forestburg completed 25 free throws. "We fouled too much," said Strother. "But our free throws won us the game." With less than 2 minutes remaining in the game, Steven Fisher sank 4 of 4 and Kody Truebenbach 3-4 at the free throw line to win the game.

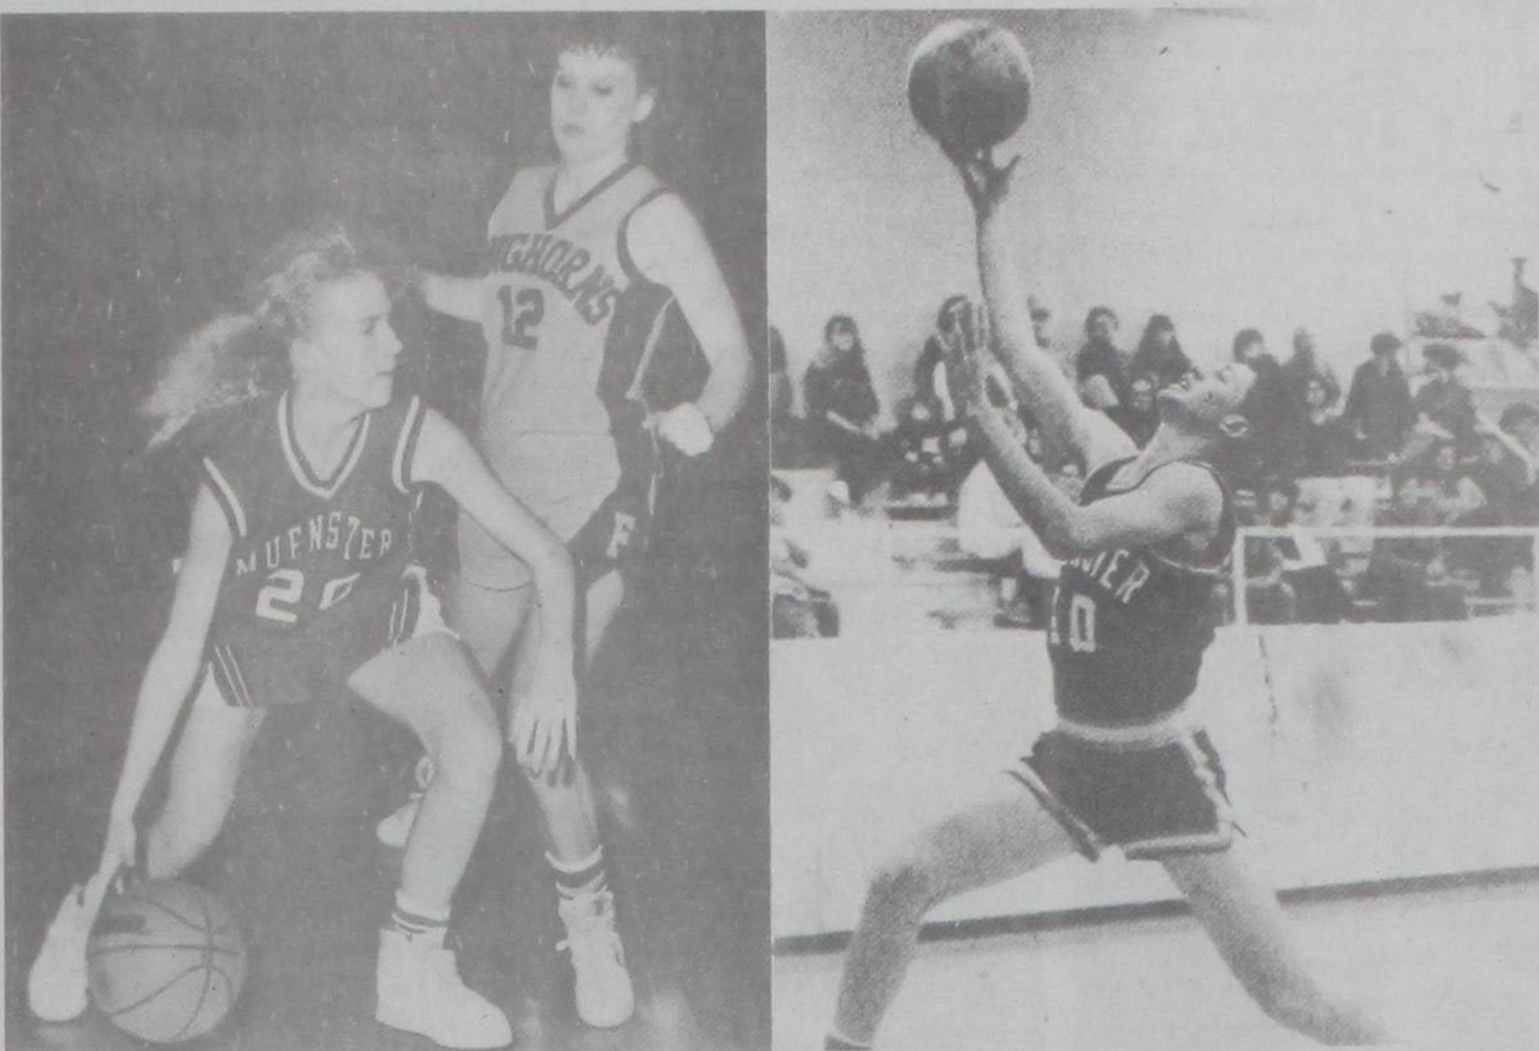

Fisher hit 17 points and McDaniel 13 to assist in the Hornets' scoring. Others adding points were Brian Reiter, Kody Truebenbach, Terry Felderhoff, Justin Ramsey, Mike Gobble and Doug Hennigan.

Coach Strother added that even though Hennigan doesn't score a lot of points, he handles the ball very well and is essential on defense.

"We're playing better, we needed this winning stretch to get on a roll for the second round."

Leading scorer for the Longhorns was David Morris with 18 points. Louis Capuchina added 16 and Stephen Hardy 13. Also scoring were Trent Swank, Clint Carlton, Buck Mosely, Jason Morris, and Keith Dill.

Muenster will conclude the first round Friday night with Saint Jo.

THE MUENSTER varsity basketball teams brought home two victories from Forestburg Tuesday night. At left, Theresa Kubis moves the ball around Lady Longhorn Melanie Griffin. At right, Steven Fisher has a clear leap to the basket.

Tigers set for 'Knock the Knights Night'

Sacred Heart's Tiger Den will be set for Friday's all-important showdown with district rival Notre Dame. The night has been designated as 'KNOCK THE KNIGHT NIGHT' and all former Tigers and Tigerettes and their supporters are asked to be in attendance, clad in red and white.

Because of the travel distance in the Tigers' new district, the two games with Notre Dame will be used to seed for the district tournament. The team with the best record in the two-game series will play the second place team in the West-Alamo Catholic or Lubbock Christian. The four schools will hook up for the district tournament on Feb. 8-9 at Notre Dame.

The Lady Knights will come to Muenster with a team led by Amy Miller and Annette Flippo. Miller leads the Wichita Falls area in scoring and Flippo is also in the top five. A young freshman, Cluley is the new catalyst to replace the graduated Kajs.

The Knights feature one of the top boys' teams in North Texas, led by 6'5" Findley. The Knights have knocked off the number 10 team in AAA, according to the UIL polls, Graham.

Tip-off is set for 5:30 with a JV boys and followed by the Tigerettes and Tigers. The Sacred Heart 4th grade will play during the halves. Come out and support the Tigers and Tigerettes, dressed in red and white, and come early as Notre Dame is expected to pack the house. Tiger and Tigerette fans are always up to the challenge as the greatest supporters in Texas!

Tigerettes get the bounce back!

A three game sweep by the Sacred Heart Tigerettes over the past weekend has the town buzzing about the possibility of another Tigerette State Title. With wins over Liberty Christian 57-25, Prosper 54-52 and Lexington Academy 42-11 the Tigerettes are riding a four game winning streak and have climbed two games over .500 (12-10).

Tigerettes 57, Liberty Christian 25. A tight game in the first half turned into a Tigerette romp in Denton Friday evening. "We were a little flat after our big win over Alvord," said Coach LeBrasseur. "Our defense has been good all season and again it proved its effectiveness as we shut out Liberty in the second period."

Sharon Fuhrmann led all scorers with 15, Mandy Barnhill, Vickie Bayer and J.J. Dowd each chipped in with 6. Christy Yosten added 7 points and snared a season high nine boards. Guards Shirley Henscheid and Deann Bayer each hit for 4, along with post Robin Greathouse. April Truebenbach and Julie Felderhoff each hit for 3 and 2 respectively.

Tigerettes 54, Prosper 52. Returning to the Tiger Den for an unusual Saturday afternoon contest the Tigerettes played host to the Lady Eagles of Prosper and avenged an earlier nine point loss with an impressive 54-52 win. "J.J. took over in the fourth period," said LeBrasseur. "She scored 6 points and dominated the boards on both ends." The Tigerettes as a team turned in a fine performance as they hit on 50 percent of their field goal attempts and upped their free throw percentage over 60 percent.

Dowd led all scorers with 20 points and LeBrasseur called it, "Her best half of the year." Speedy Deann Bayer swished 9, Sharon Fuhrmann hit 7, and Vickie Bayer continued her great play with 6. Senior Robin Greathouse turned in her best game of the season with 6 points and a great floor game. Shirley Henscheid scored 3, Jennifer Walter hit two important free shots and April Truebenbach scored one.

Tigerettes 42, Lexington 11

The Tigerettes' offense sputtered in the early going but again the defense was fantastic. "I feel we have 12 girls that can play on any given night, but because of our youth the consistency game in and game out varies. Tonight it just took a little time to find the right offensive combination." The combination LeBrasseur was talking about at Lexington turned out to be Deann Bayer, Vickie Bayer, Shirley Henscheid, Christy Yosten and April Truebenbach. The combination accounted for 15 points and limited their opponents to 0 in a four minute span that closed out the game for the Tigerettes.

J.J. Dowd led all scorers with 12, Deann Bayer and Shirley Henscheid each hit for 6, Sharon Fuhrmann scored 5, Vickie Bayer swished 4, Mandy Barnhill scored 3 and Jennifer Walter, April Truebenbach and Robin Greathouse got 2 a piece.

Muenster wins 2 games against Collinsville

In two close District 33A games at Collinsville, the Hornets came away with a 67-56 victory over the Pirates with the Lady Hornets defeating Collinsville's girls 40-35 in the rescheduled games Saturday night.

Nine Hornets scored with Steven Fisher pacing the team with 17 points, followed by Rajko Jelen with 10.

"We played great team defense and our free throws put Collinsville away," said Muenster Coach Brian Strother. "We started the game ahead instead of in the hole."

After jumping out to a 20-15 lead in the first quarter, the Hornets kept their distance 17-14, to maintain their lead at halftime 37-29.

The two teams stayed even in the third period, with Muenster keeping their 8-point lead. The final quarter the Pirates were outscored 15-12. "The boys really played well together, we took the lead and never looked back," said the Muenster coach.

Strother credits Fisher and Jelen for a good offensive game. "We are now playing some good basketball and we will be a factor in the second round of district play," concluded Strother.

Other Hornets scoring were Doug Hennigan, Brad McDaniel, Troy Pagel, Terry Felderhoff, Mike Gobble, Brian Reiter and Ryan Sicking.

Lady Hornets win

In the girls' match, the Lady Hornets took first half scores of 16-11 and 12-7 for a 10-point halftime lead. In a cold third period, Muenster remained scoreless, with the Lady Pirates scoring 11 and taking a narrow 29-28 lead.

"The third quarter was a nightmare. We couldn't get anything to fall," said Strother. "The girls never quit, and finally our free throw shooting returned."

Muenster came alive in the fourth and outscored Collinsville 12-6 to take the victory. Strother credits the girls to playing great defense to keep in the game. "The fourth was like we played all year, making clutch baskets and free throws. I was real proud of the girls for showing great character in their comeback," concluded the coach.

Danell Reiter was leading scorer with 10 points, Brandy Debnam added 9. Others scoring were DaLana Walterscheid, Melissa Bayer, Kim Anderle, Leslie Klement, and Amy Otto. Strother commented that this was Reiter's best game of the year and bragged on Klement's defense, blocking shots and hitting 100 percent from the free throw line.

Tigers suffer losses

The past week the Tigers were hit hard on the basketball court, and handed three straight losses.

The first loss was to Denton Liberty, 87-42. "They were tall, fast and explosive," said Coach John Nasche. "We played well through the first quarter, but after that they steam-rolled us. Their fast break broke us."

Stevan Nasche was leading scorer with 13. Shawn Dangelmayr and Mark Flusche added 8 and 7. "Mark was a bright spot. He played his best game of the year," stated Nasche. "We have the potential to be a good team, but we haven't had a good performance out of everyone for the entire game."

The Tigers played Prosper Saturday afternoon, losing 71-45 in an inconsistent game. Nasche led the scoring with 12 points, with Flusche adding 9 and Jason Beyer and Dangelmayr 8 points each. Jason Endres, Chris Hess and Jason Frost also scored.

Tuesday night the Tigers traveled to Lexington, losing 98-38.

"These guys are the best team we have played all year, they could beat any team in this area, including Lindsay and Era," commented Nasche. "Everything they put up went in, they're just loaded with talent."

The Tigers slowed the game up just to keep them from scoring 100 points. Earlier in the season Lexington scored 144 in a game.

Nasche was again high scorer with 18 points. "he also played great defense," said Nasche. Other standouts included Endres and Kelly Bayer, both doing a good job of running four corners and breaking the press.

Next action for the Tigers will be Friday with Notre Dame in the Tiger Den. "Notre Dame will be tough," said the Tiger coach. "They have beaten a lot of strong teams. We are going to have to hit on all cylinders to come away with a win."

Muenster splits with Era

For two quarters Friday night, Era kept pace with Muenster's Lady Hornets, taking a 14-13 halftime lead. But when Muenster's defense stiffened the third period, leaving Era scoreless, the Red Hornets took the lead and never looked back.

"The gym was hot and we started cold," said Brian Strother, Muenster coach. But so did Era, who, with a shot at the half buzzer, took the 1-point lead.

To start the third quarter, Muenster scored seven consecutive points, then Strother decided to delay the game with a 20-14 lead. "We wanted them to play us man-to-man, but they wouldn't, so we played keep-away." This was effective, because Muenster rested and Era didn't score.

Muenster scored 11 points to the Gold Hornets' 8 the final quarter. Muenster had a 3-point lead at one point; Era changed their defense and the Red Ladies scored two layups to take the game.

Melissa Bayer was leading scorer with 13 points, including 3 3-point shots. DaLana Walterscheid led the defense in rebounds.

Red Hornets fall to Era
In an exciting, gym-packed district match, the Era Hornets protected their unblemished district basketball record by defeating Muenster 78-63.

Era's quick, hot-shooter gave them an early 22-14 first quarter lead. "Muenster tried to control the tempo and played a better second quarter after adjusting to Era's speed. Muenster closed the gap to 4 points with a 4-point play by Brian Reiter. The scoreboard read 33-28 at halftime.

Everything clicked the third quarter for the Red Hornets, giving Muenster the lead a few times. Era hit a basket at the buzzer to make it a 53-53 ball game going into the final period. In the fourth quarter, Muenster went cold, scoring only 10 points to Era's 25. Era was 14-13 at the free throw line that period. "Our guys played hard and played good defense. Era is real quick, if we didn't go cold, we would have played with them," concluded Strother.

Rajko Jelen's leading total of 16 points was assisted by Brad McDaniel's 12 and Steve Fisher with 11. Terry Felderhoff was leading rebounding with 13.

Brian Reiter, Terry Felderhoff, Doug Hennigan, Ryan Sicking and Troy Pagel also scored.

Lindsay ends first round of district play

The Lindsay varsity Knightettes extended their unblemished district basketball record with a 60-38 win over Collinsville Tuesday night. The win gives the Lady Knights a first place in the first round of district competition and an 18-4 season record.

"We're looking fairly steady, not the same girl does the scoring, they play well together," said Lindsay Coach George Thomason. "The players are concerned about winning the game. They understand they're a team and it doesn't matter who makes the points."

After a 27-12 first half lead, Lindsay scored 33 points the second half to clinch the victory. Gretchen Hoenig hit 20 points with Debbie Fangman adding 18. Cassandra Fuhrmann sank 9 and Laura Lutkenhaus 7 to assist in the scoring.

The Knights, with five team members scoring in the double digits, defeated the Pirates 87-74 to improve their season record 18-3. At present, Lindsay's boys are in second place after losing to Era in first round action. Era and Collinsville play Friday night to finish the round.

The Knights took a 3-point lead the first quarter 24-21. After tying 22-22 and 12-12 the next two periods, the Knights were leading 58-55 going into the final quarter. They outscored the Pirates 29-19 to take a district win.

Kenny Fleitman scored 22 points to lead the Knights. Ronnie Dieter, the Knights' 6th man, hit 20 points, 16 in the fourth quarter. Chris Hanks added 18, Scott Hermes 11 and John Krebs 10, all from the free throw line. Corey Sandmann added 6 with Patrick Corcoran and Travis Huchton also seeing action.

Lindsay shot well from the free throw line, hitting 21 of 24 the first half, but slacking off the second with 6 of 13. "Collinsville relies on two players, Lawson and Tyler," said Thomason. "We held Lawson, but didn't do a good job covering Tyler. It wasn't our best defensive game."

The varsity boys are scheduled to play Detroit Friday evening at Austin College in Sherman. The game begins at 7:00 p.m. Thomason was unsuccessful in scheduling a girls' game.

Age is key ingredient to deer quality

GRAHAM - Genetic traits, nutritional intake and age are the most important factors influencing a white-tailed deer's antler size each year. However, many deer with genetic potential and on a good diet are harvested before reaching maturity.

Young age-class deer do not exhibit their full potential antler growth during the formative years, said Raymond Sims, wildlife technician with Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in Graham. Harvest management is an important component in overall deer management.

"Every year I have a few hunters complain about the decline of antler quality in the bucks they harvest on their leases," he said. "Most often, a majority of the bucks are young. A lot of hunters are amazed to find out that a small-antlered eight-point buck is only 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 years of age. If these deer are allowed to mature to 4 1/2 years of age, they develop better antlers."

Hunters should determine the age of deer they harvest and learn more about deer harvest management, Sims said. Harvesting too many bucks in a deer herd will result in few deer reaching the 4 1/2 year age-class. Until a deer reaches this age, most of the food he consumes goes toward body growth and maintenance with little being available for antler growth.

He said heavy hunting pressure on bucks will result in deer herds composed of young bucks. If quality deer management and production is the objective, restraint may be called for by not harvesting young bucks.

Junior Varsity Action

Muenster vs. Era

Muenster traveled to Era Friday with the junior varsity boys starting the excitement in an overtime contest.

"We took the ball right at them, having big leads three or four times throughout the game," commented Coach Brian Strother. "It was a fast-paced game and there were a lot of fouls." Muenster had five players foul out.

The Young Red Hornets took a 22-12 first quarter score, with Era closing the gap 34-33 at halftime. "Our defense was not real good the second quarter and we let them back in the game," said Strother. Muenster took a 62-53 lead going into the final quarter. "Then our guys started fouling out." Muenster had a chance to take the lead with one second on the clock, but missed a 1-and-1 to go into overtime.

Era beat Muenster 9-3 in the extended period for a 93-87 game.

Kody Trueman and Mike Hacker had a good game with 21 and 19 points, respectively. Darren Bindel chipped in 13 and Harvey Hubbard scored 12 off the bench. The two point guards, Jay Hennigan and A.J. Knabe, scored 9 points each.

The two teams will meet again in an upcoming JV tournament.

Lindsay vs. Saint Jo

Suzanne Hellinger scored 26 points to lead Lindsay to a 48-11 victory over Saint Jo in first round action in the Lindsay J.V. tournament last Saturday.

After a 24-0 first quarter, the boards turned in a cold total five points the second period for a 26-3 halftime score. The young lady Knights again took charge the third, outscoring Saint Jo 18-2. The Pantherettes put in 6 points to Lindsay's 4 the final period.

Lindsay's J.V. boys looked sharp against Saint Jo Saturday.

Jeff Pearson's 18 points, and 8 a piece from Joe Coke and Wylie Harris, helped propel the young Knights to a 51-21 win.

After taking a 31-13 halftime lead, Lindsay powered for a 20-8 run in the second half.

Lindsay vs. Valley View

Lindsay's J.V. dropped a heart-breaker to Valley View in the championship round of the J.V. tournament. The young lady Eagles earlier defeated Callisburg 50-25 to earn a championship boot.

"We started good, scoring consistently," said Coach George Thomason, "but turnovers in the 4th and giving them easy shots killed us."

The Knightettes took a 11-3 opening quarter score with a 18-9 halftime lead. Valley View closed in the third, hitting two more points than Lindsay. Valley View's 11-19 fourth quarter advantage was enough to overcome the Lady Knights 36-37 for the tournament championship.

Courtney Miller scored 14 points the final quarter for the Lady Eagles.

Suzanne Hellinger led Lindsay with 12 while Tisha Krebs and Janel Fuhrmann added 8 each.

Callisburg girls defeated Saint Jo 39-7 for third place in the tournament.

Lindsay vs. Callisburg

Lindsay's J.V. Knights took championship honors at their J.V. tournament last Saturday, defeating Callisburg 71-57.

Wylie Harris paced the Knights with 28 points. Jeremy Owen added 15, while Jason Benton scored 10.

"It was a close game until the last quarter," said Coach George Thomason. "It was a good game from all the players against a tough Callisburg team - they worked good together as a team."

The Knights led 16-14 the first period of play and after an even second, went to the locker room with a 32-30 lead. The Cats closed the game to one point going into the final round, where Lindsay poured in the shots, outscoring their opponents 25-12.

Saint Jo boys finished third place in the tournament with a win over Valley View.

Lindsay vs. Collinsville

The Lindsay Knights, led by the scoring of Jeff Pearson, took a 38-27 win over the Pirates Tuesday night.

Pearson hit 12 points, with Wylie Harris and Jeff Hermes adding 8 each. Jason Benton hit 6.

"We did good the first half," said Coach George Thomason, "but I changed the defense the second for practice, and it didn't work." Lindsay took a 24-10 halftime lead, with the Pirates attempting to catch up the third quarter, scoring 10 points to the Knights' 4. Lindsay stayed ahead the final period for the win.

Lindsay takes two from Saint Jo

Lindsay's varsity teams posted crucial home court victories over Saint Jo in District 33A games Friday evening.

The Knights improved their district record to 2-1 with a 87-35 victory over the Panthers, while the Lady Knights beat Saint Jo's girls, 70-34 to move to 3-0.

"The boys played real aggressive," said Lindsay's coach George Thomason. "The big second quarter got them completely out of it."

After a 19-6 first period, Lindsay scored 32 second quarter points for a 51-19 halftime score. The Knights outscored Saint Jo 36-16 the second half to take the district win. Lindsay hit their free throws, missing only five shots.

Five Lindsay players scored in the double figures. John Krebs completed the night with 19 points, with Scott Hermes ending up with 15. Also scoring in the double digits were Ronnie Dieter 14, Kenny Fleitman 12, and Chris Hanks with 10 points.

The Knightettes blasted Saint Jo 35-19 in the first and fourth quarters. They won the middle quarters, too, 35-15. "More subs got in good playing time," said Thomason. "Christy Secrest shot well off the bench." Secrest added 12 points to Lindsay's score. Kristy Krebs was high scorer with 18 and Cassandra Fuhrmann added 11.

S.H. vs. Gold-burg

To advance to the title game in the 40th annual Montague tournament, the Lady Cubs netted an 11-6 win over Gold-burg. Stephanie Grewing led the team with 8 points and Kerri Endres and Sarina Fuhrmann chipped in with 2 and 1 respectively.

Sacred Heart vs. Terral

Sacred Heart Cubs participated in the Montague Tournament last weekend, defeating Terral 33-15. A strong outing from Neil Berres gave the Cubs 9 points. Trent Trueman added 8, Jason Hess 7, with John Klement, Paul Swirczynski and Scott Poole rounding out the scoring.

S.H. vs. Montague

The Lady Cubs were unable to stop the host, Montague Lady Eagles, in the tournament championship game. The Lady Cubs stayed close for 1 1/2 quarters before the Montague squad took a 35-19 halftime edge. The Lady Eagles' defensive pressure and Lady Cubs' foul trouble resulted in a 61-26 Montague win.

Kerri Endres led the Lady Cubs with 8 points and received support from Tiffany Fisher with 7, Sarina Fuhrmann 6, and Leslie and Stephanie Grewing with 2 points each.

SH vs. Bellevue

In the championship round, Sacred Heart was matched against a very talented Bellevue team, dropping the game 46-26. Jason Hess and Trent Trueman led all scoring with 13 and 8 points, respectively. "I was real pleased with the Cubs' progress. I think our performance was hurt by Montague's small gym," said Coach John Nasche. "Maybe we'll find a way to finish first next year. The Cubs finished second in this tournament 5 of the last 8 years."

Muenster vs. Era

Muenster's Junior High basketball teams traveled to Era Monday night on a winless venture.

The "B" boys started the evening, losing 29-20 to the young Era squad. After an even first period, Era outscored Muenster 11-2 to take a 15-8 halftime lead. After a 14-14 second half, the Gold team took the 9-point win.

Jason Sicking led his team with 6 points with James Klement and Darrell Charles adding 4 points each. Maurus Hacker, Jeff Flusche, and Tom Dankesreiter hit 2 each to even the score.

All 13 girls got in playing time, in a low-shooting game for Muenster. Era took 6-0, 14-2 first half leads, then outscored the Little Reds 22-8 the second half for a 36-10 game.

Scoring for Muenster were Sabrina Trueman, Andrea Schoppa and Jill Reiter.

The "A" boys team finished the night with Era taking a 56-34 win.

Jeff Walterscheid scored 10 points for Muenster, followed by Jason Huchton with 8, Jamie Hellman adding 6 and Scott Debnam, Cory Cain and Cody Klement also scoring.

Era took a commanding 19-7 first quarter lead, keeping ahead throughout the game. After a 28-18 halftime, Era scored 28 second half points to Muenster's 16 for the victory.

Muenster travels to Slidell Monday, Jan. 21, for their next game.

S.H. vs. Montague

Returning to Montague Monday evening for conference action, the Lady Cubs dropped a 48-24 contest. "We are improving," said Coach LeBrasseur. "Each time we play we stay with them a little longer."

The Lady Cubs took an early lead before falling behind 24-12 at the half. Tiffany Fisher led the Lady Cubs (8-3) with 7 points. Sarina Fuhrmann and Stephanie Grewing scored 5 each, Karri Endres hit for 4 and Nicole Endres added 1. Next action will be Monday evening at Forestburg.

The Cubs' 45-26 loss to the Eagles evened their season record 5-5 Monday night.

Sacred Heart had a 3-point lead going into the second quarter, but fouls and turnovers hurt the Cubs the rest of the game.

Nasche said a bright spot of the game was Scott Poole's fourth quarter scoring sprint.

Lindsay vs. Saint Jo

The Lindsay "B" junior high girls started the winning sweep Monday night when Lindsay hosted Saint Jo in basketball competition.

The young Lady Squires kept their visitors scoreless the first half, while putting 14 points on the board. The second half, the young Lady Cubs attempted a comeback, outscoring Lindsay 9-2 for the 16-9 final score. Julie Arendt, Elizabeth Cler and Amber Griffin scored 4 points each, with Jessica Zimmerman and Jennifer Bezner adding 2 apiece.

The "A" girls had a big first quarter, scoring 15 points to the Lady Cubs' 1. Saint Jo came on strong the second quarter, scoring 12 points to Lindsay's 4 for a 19-13 halftime score.

Saint Jo went ahead 24-23 going into the final quarter, where Lindsay regrouped to outscore their opponents for a 31-29 victory. With less than one minute remaining, Andrea Gieb put in a shot to give Lindsay the winning score.

"Over 60 fouls were called in this aggressive game," said Coach George Thomason, "but we didn't hit our free shots." Saint Jo had six players foul out while Lindsay had 3. "The subs came back and did a real good job," concluded the coach.

Allison Walterscheid was high scorer for Lindsay with 8 points. Keleigh O'Dell put in 6 with Stephanie Sandmann adding 5. Michelle Secrest and Andrea Gieb scored 4 apiece with Lori Hoberer sinking 2.

In a "blowout" game, the boys scored 51 points on the Cubs to add another win. "It was one of those games that everyone got to play," said Thomason. "The kids took a lot of shots that went in, Saint Jo couldn't hit anything."

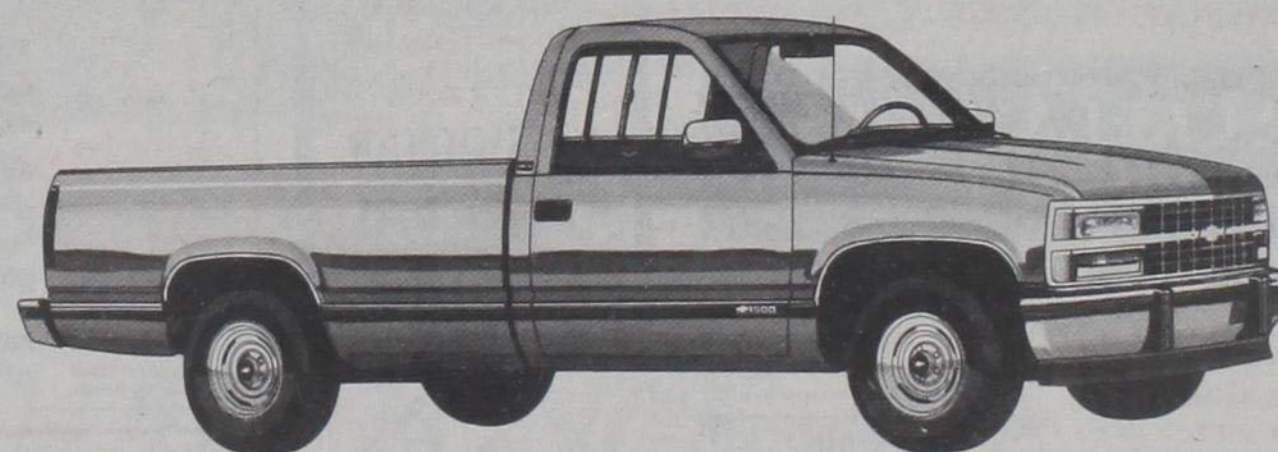

Lindsay went ahead 16-2 and 31-7 the first half, taking a 27-11 lead going into the final period. Saint Jo scored 8 points in the fourth to make the ending score 51-19.

Three Squires scored double digit shots, Will Thomason hit 12 points, Chris Brown 11 and George Lutkenhaus 10.

The babies are the first great-grandchildren of Forest Ensey, who also lives in Forestburg.

TWU researchers market special foods using cottonseed products

DENTON - The kernel has it all - lots of crunch, low fat and no cholesterol. Shoppers won't find this kernel in fast food restaurants or on grocery store shelves yet ... it's only in the careful hands of faculty and graduate students in the Texas Woman's University food sciences laboratory.

But wait. This lean, mean kernel - a burnished gold instead of green, because the substance gossypol has been eliminated by TWU researchers - is destined to help food manufacturers provide healthier snacks to consumers through product development efforts involving glandless cottonseed research at TWU.

With encouragement from the Texas Food and Fiber Commission, plus special item funding from the state legislature, TWU has developed a glandless cottonseed kernel now used to produce a special food energy bar, as well as low-fat oatmeal cookies.

In the 1970s and '80s, grabbing a snack might have meant munching a candy bar or crunching some potato chips - loaded with salt, fat, oils, sugar and cholesterol. Today, however, consumer interest in health and better foods has signaled a need in industry for healthier ingredients ... like TWU's glandless cottonseed products.

After the gossypol has been eliminated (or becomes glandless), TWU's cottonseed kernel is light gold. "It looks like a nut without the hull," says Dr. Clay King, director of the TWU food sciences laboratory. The kernels can be used whole, as they are in the energy bar, or they can be ground for flour, as the substance is used in the low-fat, no-cholesterol oatmeal cookies.

The cookies developed in TWU's food science laboratories also use glandless cottonseed kernels.

"Companies see that nutritional awareness among consumers is growing and that they can meet the public's needs," he adds. "New food products will be generated because of this interest, and they will also see more profit in specialty products."

These combined factors make the outlook for TWU bright in the area of food product development, but the bottom line is not money, according to King; it's growth.

"Like the sensory testing we have done for Coca Cola Products for several years, the glandless cottonseed products venture is a commercial contract. These agreements provide academic opportunities for our students," says King. "That's the bottom line."

Carelessness taking toll on farm youth

by Mary Mahoney

COLLEGE STATION - Every year in Texas, avoidable accidents on farms and ranches usually claim the lives of more than a dozen youngsters and injure hundreds more.

"The tragedy is that in nearly every case, these accidents could have been prevented," said Thomas D. Valco, an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "In most farm accidents involving young children ages 14 and under, carelessness and distractions are the leading causes. Usually the child involved had no business being there in the first place."

Valco, who has recently completed an analysis of rural deaths in Texas, said farm children are placed in needless jeopardy when they hitch rides on tractors, wander down to the stock tank by themselves, or work or help around farm equipment that they don't know how to control.

In a 1987 national study of farm youth deaths - the most recent of the few studies done on the subject - Texas led the 35 states surveyed with 16 deaths of farm children ages 14 years or younger, Valco said.

Nine children in the same age group died in 1988 in Texas, followed by 17 in 1989. Five had died through July of 1990.

"The number of deaths, compared to traffic fatalities for this age group, are relatively few," Valco said, "but deaths are just the tip of the iceberg here." Studies show that for every farm fatality there are 100 disabling injuries - where children have lost a finger or an eye or use of a limb.

September marks farm safety observances nationally, but Valco said it's frustrating to see young people continue to be injured "despite intensified farm safety educational programs taught to youths and adults across Texas."

"The leading cause of farm youth deaths in 1990 and 1989 has been drowning," he said. "Four of the five 1990 deaths occurred when toddlers or older children fell or stepped into deep water."

Drownings accounted for eight of the 17 farm youth deaths in Texas in 1989, Valco said. Six others died in farm equipment mishaps: three fell off tractors while riding with relatives, two were operating tractors that overturned, and one was killed in a cotton harvester.

"The 1988 casualties included two children who fell off tractors and were run over, one who fell off a shredder, one run over by a motor grader, one killed by a large round bale of hay, two who drowned, one thrown from a horse and stepped on, and one gored by a family pet - a buffalo," Valco said.

In 1987, the 16 Texas youth fatalities included seven farm equipment accidents, three in hunting accidents, two drownings and two run over by pickup trucks towing trailers.

Valco said farm families are exposed to work place hazards around the clock, "and safety has to be part of that every day schedule."

"On farms and ranches, children often begin helping with chores at an early age, even operating machinery and vehicles, including tractors, which are meant for adults," Valco said.

"Children must be trained about the hazards of farm machinery, and a good example set by adults is invaluable," he said. "We do not need an extra rider on a tractor. Even if equipment manufacturers added a small second seat, this would not solve the dangers for children."

He recommended that children be assigned jobs suited to their age and capability, with proper supervision from an adult.

"Farms are usually a long way from a doctor or hospital, especially if the accident happens in a remote field," he said.

Wasps mobilized to battle Hessian fly

by Mary M. Porter

DALLAS - Parasitic wasps have been moved from North to South Central Texas as allies for wheat growers in the biological fight against Hessian flies.

"These parasites are expected to help reduce the estimated $9 million loss to the 1988-89 wheat crop in Central Texas caused by Hessian fly infestations," said Dr. Allen Knutson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service entomologist in Dallas. "These farmers' friends deposit their eggs on the Hessian fly larvae and when the parasite egg hatches, it devours the Hessian fly."

The mosquito-sized fly, which entered the state from the north in 1978, has spread into almost 50 Texas counties. After a major outbreak in 1984, Hessian fly infestations in North Texas began to decline, primarily because of the switch by wheat growers to resistant varieties.

However, the pest has continued its southward invasion into Central Texas. There the mild winter weather and susceptible wheat varieties, combined with early wheat planting and grazing, led to serious losses in the 1988-89 crop. Entire fields were lost to Fall infestations of Hessian fly.

The Hessian fly was abundant in these newly infested areas, surveys showed, because the parasites had not yet followed their natural enemy to Central Texas. The solution seemed obvious - transport parasites to speed up their natural movement.

In the fall of 1989, a team of Texas A&M entomologists and county Extension Service agents organized a parasite transport program. The Texas Wheat Producers Association and the Texas Farm Bureau provided financial support, and the Texas Pest Management Association assisted with the project.

The presence of the Hessian fly parasites, together with planting resistant wheat varieties, should reduce the threat of Hessian fly for Central Texas wheat producers.

Research is now under way to introduce a parasitic wasp from Indiana. That species, which is not found in Texas, attacks the egg stage and is more active in the fall, while native Texas parasitic wasps attack the larval stage and are most active in the spring.

Initial releases of the Indiana wasps were made in November in Hill and Milam counties, Knutson said.

"Together, the two should provide even better biological control of the Hessian fly," said Knutson.

Firewood: Getting a cord's worth

It's that time of year again, when ads for firewood begin to appear in the newspapers. People with fireplaces and woodburning stoves begin to notice firewood loads for sale in pickups alongside the road.

When buying firewood by the pickup load, consumers really have no way of accurately knowing how much wood they are paying for because truck bed sizes vary depending on the make of the vehicle. Consumers should also be wary of firewood dealers who offer a quick discount for delivery of unstacked wood. When wood isn't stacked, there is no way to measure it accurately.

There is a standard. Most consumers don't realize that there is a standard measure of firewood called a "cord." A cord is not "a pickup full" or a "load" or a "rick." A legal cord is a well-stacked pile of logs that measures four feet high by four feet wide by eight feet long. But no matter how you stack it, a cord should equal 128 cubic feet.

Don't get burned. Firewood is usually sold in 16- to 24-inch lengths. If you are buying only a portion of a cord, neatly stack the wood and multiply the height of the stack by its width and length. Divide the result by 128. The final figure tells you how much of a cord you are buying. If, for example, you end up with one-fourth of a cord, multiply the cost of the wood by four. Then you'll know how much you are paying "by the cord."

If you buy a full cord of firewood, there is an easy way to find out if you are getting what you pay for. Before you have the wood delivered, measure off a 4x4x8-foot area. Then, before you pay for the load, have the delivery person stack the wood in that area. If you pay for the wood and then stack it yourself, chances are that the delivery truck will be long gone by the time you realize that you got shorted on the deal.

The costs for a cord of wood will vary according to what type of tree the wood came from and how well seasoned it is. Green, or unseasoned, wood will be cheaper, but it won't be suitable for burning for another six to 10 months. The best time to purchase unseasoned wood is in late spring and early summer. The demand for wood is low then, and so is the cost. You'll also have plenty of time to let the wood dry out for better burning during the winter.

Oak and mesquite are preferred for firewood because they are slow-burning hardwoods. Softwoods, like pine and spruce, are less desirable firewood choices (and usually cheaper) because they burn faster.

A word of caution about Red Oak.

The fungus that causes oak wilt can grow under the bark of red oak. Even dead red-oak bark can host this fast-spreading fungus. If you purchase red-oak firewood, it is best not to store it for later use, because of the danger that insects might spread the fungus to healthy trees. Live oak does not support fungal growth. If you buy firewood of an unknown origin, it is best to cover it with a tarp or burn it all this winter before insect activity picks up.

When stacking firewood, avoid placing it against an outside wall. If firewood is stacked against a wall, the insects and other small animals that may move into the stack for shelter will have an easier time moving into your house or garage. Stack your firewood along a fence or make it a free-standing stack in a corner of the yard.

As a consumer, you have the right to accurate size and packaging labeling. For more information, contact TDA's Weights and Measures Program, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Roserbaum

Base fertilizer decisions on a soil test

It's not too late to test soil samples to determine fertilizer needs for spring crops. When farmers look for ways to reduce production costs, they often consider reducing fertilizer usage. But such a practice may result in yields too low to cover production costs.

A soil test may indicate that fertilizer is needed to attain a desired yield goal. Fertilizing at recommended rates will increase the probability of boosting yields enough to more than pay for the fertilizer and provide some margin of profit.

On the other hand, savings can also result when a soil test shows adequate levels of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or other necessary nutrients.

In either case, following soil test recommendations would effectively reduce the per-unit production costs and increase the chances of making a profit.

The Texas A&M Soil Testing Laboratory at College Station routinely analyzes soils to determine the amount of available nitrogen present in the soil. This analysis is especially important to determine carryover nitrogen following a dry, or low-yield year. A reduced nitrogen recommendation results in savings without sacrificing yield.

There is no substitute for knowing a soil's nutrient balance when planning for spring crops. Testing can provide an economical means of determining a soil's nutrient status and can help a farmer make those major economic decisions with greater confidence.

Soil tests can be only as accurate as the samples on which they are made. Proper collection of soil samples is extremely important. Chemical tests of poorly taken samples may actually be misleading because they do not represent the area to be cropped.

Take one composite soil sample from each uniform area of 10 to 40 acres in a field. In areas where soils are more uniform, one sample can represent up to 40 acres.

The composite sample should be taken from each area. This can be done by taking small cores or slices from 10 to 15 different places. Place these in a clean container (plastic bucket, paper sack, etc.), mix thoroughly and take out approximately 1 pint for the composite sample.

When taking soil samples, use a spade, soil auger or soil sampling tube. Scrape the litter from the surface. Make the core or boring 6 inches deep in the soil. (For permanent sod, sample to a depth of 3 to 4 inches.) To use a spade, dig a V-shaped hole and take a 1 inch slice of soil from the smooth side of the hole. Then take a 1x1 inch core from the center of the shovel slice. Repeat in 10 to 15 different places, put in a clean plastic bucket, thoroughly mix and remove a pint as a composite sample representing the field or area.

PRECAUTIONS

1. Avoid sampling spots in the field such as small gullies, slight field depressions, terrace waterways, and unusual spots.

2. When sampling fertilized fields, avoid sampling directly in fertilized band.

3. Do not use old vegetable cans, tobacco cans, match boxes, etc., to submit samples.

4. Do not use heat to dry samples.

5. Be sure to keep a record for yourself as to the area represented by each sample.

6. Be sure sample numbers on the boxes correspond with sample numbers on the information sheet.

Friends of Jones Farm to hold meeting Jan. 19

by Elaine Schad

The Friends of the Jones Farm will hold a meeting at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Valley View Senior Center to discuss recent efforts and determine the group's next action in preserving the Jones Farm as a living history farm within the Ray Roberts Lake area.

Members and all those interested in the project are encouraged to attend.

The purpose of the meeting is to determine how to best proceed in the efforts to preserve and establish a living history farm at the site, which is located within the Johnson Branch State Park on Ray Roberts Lake that lies within both northern Denton and southern Cooke counties.

In a newsletter to members, FJF President Margaret Hays said the Texas Historical Commission is taking the position that a preservation plan should be prepared for the 200-acre early 1900's farm for use whenever funding may be available. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has outlined a mitigation plan to assess and document the farm. FJF and other historical groups are in favor of using those mitigation funds toward preservation, said Miss Hays.

CHAIN SAW QUIZ #2! Factor or Fiction?
The proper way to adjust the carburetor on a chain saw is to adjust until you reach maximum speed, then slow it down just a little.
True or False?
False: This may have been true for saws made 25 years ago, but not with the saws we are using now. Many saws are capable of being adjusted to speeds of up to 18,000 RPMs, but they are not made to stand up to speeds over 13,000 RPMs. A saw running faster than it is supposed to will lose power, run hotter, and, if continued for as little as 2 minutes at that speed, will completely lock down. We have spec sheets on every saw model and always set the top speed with an electronic meter. If ever in doubt, bring your saw in for a free RPM check.
