MacArthur Would Accept 'Draft' As Candidate; HST To Run If Nominated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 8 — The $5,300,000,000 European recovery program hurdled its first voting test in the Senate today as Secretary of State Marshall pleaded for quick action in the House.

Supporters defeated, 53 to 19, an amendment offered by Senator Ball (R-Minn) and described by Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the foreign relations committee as "very dangerous."

The amendment was technical in nature and related to the currencies of the 16 countries coming under the recovery program.

Conference Held

Ball is a leader in the bloc of GOP senators who are trying to whittle the program down to around $4,000,000,000 for the first year.

Marshall conferred with House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) behind closed doors in an effort to get favorable action on the Senate bill by April 1.

But Martin told reporters later he doubted if the measure could get through until April 10 or shortly after.

State department officials say the bill must become law by that time if it is to help check the Communists' expected next move in Europe—an attempt to reach power in Italy's mid-April elections.

New Loans Asked

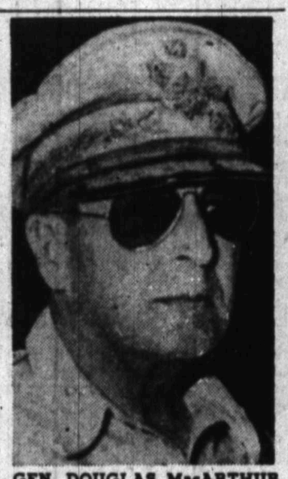

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) announced he has changed his mind and now will vote for the European recovery bill, as a result of the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia and Russian demands on Finland.

The related developments:

1—The State department announced it would ask Congress soon to approve a $500,000,000 loan by the government's Export-Import bank to Latin-American countries.

2—The director-general of UNRRA, Lowell W. Rooks, urged military aid to the Chinese central government. He took the same

Reds Attack Air Transport

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Tuesday, March 9—Two P-39 fighter planes with Russian markings fired on a Chennault commercial transport plane carrying 32 passengers from Mukden yesterday—but obviously were not trying to hit it, the airline said today.

Whiting Willauer of the airline said the attacking planes made five passes at the slow transport, firing each time but missing. He said the transport pilot reported they must have had no intention of hitting it; otherwise they couldn't have missed.

The transport was crossing the Gulf of Chihli, south of Russian-occupied Dairen and Port Arthur, Manchuria, at the time. Willauer said all transport planes have giving the Soviet-garrisoned points "a wide berth," including this one. It was not off course, he explained.

Pictures Taken

Willauer said the transport's pilot, L. B. Buol of Stockton, Calif., an ex-Marine flier, took pictures of the attacking planes. They were marked with red stars, Willauer said.

Scene of the attack was approximately 120 miles north of Tsingtao and 40 miles west of the Kwanktung peninsula, over the Gulf of Chihli.

The private airline was organized by Maj. Gen Claire L. Chennault, retired American air commander in China during the war. It has been aiding in aerial evacuation of hundreds of persons from Mukden since the Manchurian city has been encircled by attacking Chinese Communists.

Willauer's report did not say whether pilots of the fighter planes were Russian or Chinese. The Chinese government frequently has charged Russia with providing arms for Chinese Communist forces.

Truman Ready For Full Term As President

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 8 — President Truman announced today that he will run for a full term in the White House if the Democrats nominate him.

He also made known that his civil rights stand is unchanged in spite of the southern Democratic revolt against it.

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath gave both announcements to newsmen after conferring with Mr. Truman at the White House.

Southern Hopes Blasted

McGrath said:

"The President has authorized me to say that if he is nominated by the national Democratic convention he will accept and run."

This was the announcement reporters and others had tried for months to get from the President.

It blasted the hopes publicly voiced by some southern leaders that he would withdraw from the 1948 presidential race.

Stand Is Unchanged

Mr. Truman has been bitterly assailed by these leaders for asking Congress to pass federal laws against lynching, the poll tax requirement, job discrimination on racial grounds and other matters bearing on negro-white relationships.

Will he withdraw or modify any of his recommendations in view of the Dixie outcry? McGrath gave Mr. Truman's answer:

"The President's position is unchanged since he delivered his message to Congress, and I might say that in my view his position, as expressed in the message, is as old as the constitution itself and as new as the 1944 Democratic platform."

Palestine Issue Talked

McGrath and Gael Sullivan, the Democratic national committee's executive director, also talked with the President about the Palestine situation—reportedly a factor in the Democrats' loss of a Bronx congressional seat recently to a Henry A. Wallace supporter.

General Says He Is Not 'Seeking' Office

Army Commander's Statement Drops New Bombshell Into Political Race

(By The Associated Press)

BOTH President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur let it be known Monday that they would accept the nomination for President if the people want them.

Mr. Truman, said he would run for a full term as chief executive if the Democrats nominate him.

MacArthur said he would accept the presidency "if called by the American people" but would not actively seek it.

The President's decision was made known late in the day. MacArthur's announcement came a few hours later from Tokyo. Whether the timing was coincidental or deliberate was not immediately known.

Reaction Is Varied

President Truman's action found Democratic leaders divided and the Republicans, in most cases, quite pleased.

The reaction to MacArthur's announcement was varied.

Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb), a long time friend of MacArthur's, said the general's announcement "is the green light the American people have been looking for. It removes all doubt about how the general stands."

"He is the one man who can be nominated and certainly elected on the Republican ticket."

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex), who recently said he would be willing to run for vice president on a ticket with MacArthur, said:

"MacArthur's announcement offers hope for a hopeless world and a stop sign for Stalin."

Does Not Seek Office

Senator Aiken (R-Vt) said of MacArthur's announcement:

"I would doubt the advisability of his nomination. I think we could do better."

MasArthur took cognizance of the facts that petitions have been filed in Wisconsin putting his name in the primary there April 6, and added:

"While it seems unnecessary for me to repeat that I do not actively

Record Vote Predicted In GOP Showdown

Stassen, Dewey Face New Hampshire Test

(By The Associated Press)

CONCORD, N. H., March 8—The first official show-down in the 1948 Republican presidential race comes tomorrow in the New Hampshire primary.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Harold E. Stassen are laying heavy stakes on the line—aiming at giving their respective candidacy a psychological boost even though only eight delegates are involved.

Record Vote Is Seen

Just what effect this primary will have on the rest of the nation is debatable, but campaign managers for both Dewey and Stassen have made clear they intend to herald any decisive victory for their man as an indication of a national trend.

On the eve of the voting, Dewey's forces are outwardly jubilant—claiming a victory for seven of their eight-delegate slate.

The Stassen camp publicly predicts the former Minnesota governor will win five of the eight delegates.

Upward of 55,000 ballots—a record here for a presidential primary— are expected to be cast. Clear weather is forecast.

The Dewey - Stassen test of strength has provided the spark for this primary—the first in the nation—as they are the only Republican presidential candidates to enter slates.

Compromise On Suit Approved

In a busy session that required most of the day, Lubbock county commissioners court Monday approved a compromise of a condemnation suit, canvassed election returns consolidating two independent school districts and transacted numerous other pieces of business.

The commissioners voted to place in the registry of the court $2,882.50 to be paid to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown when they have completed their agreement to remove from a condemned strip in 3000-block Ave. A a residence and a repair shop. The sum of $5,617.50 already had been authorized for payment to the Browns.

Two Schools Consolidated

The sum of the two amounts would be the $8,500 in cash that, with the improvements, would constitute the settlement basis. The Browns had obtained a court judgment of $13,500 on Feb. 28, and the State had announced appeal. Under terms of the settlement, the state will withdraw its appeal and give up the improvements to the property.

Consolidated by the election were the Liberty and Idalou Independent school districts. Liberty

Markets Show Sharp Decline

CHICAGO, March 8. (AP)—Wholesale prices of grains, hogs, cattle, cotton and other commodities slipped lower today.

Wheat, corn, soybeans and cottonseed oil were down their daily limits, but the grains made some recoveries before closing of the exchanges.

Heavy hogs were $1 to $2 a hundred pounds cheaper at Chicago and cattle prices moved downward as large receipts crowded the markets.

The stock market edged lower, fractional losses being general among many issues.

Cotton In Sharp Decline

Wheat closed 5½ to 9 1/4 cents a bushel lower on the Chicago Board of Trade, May contracts at $2.36 1/4 to ½. Corn was 6 1/2 to 8 cents down, May $2.16 1/8. Oats were off 2 1/8 to 4 1/4 cents, May $1.10 3/4 to 1/2. Soybeans were off 8 cents to $3.48 for May.

Chicago stockyard prices included $18.75 a hundredweight for most good and choice butcher hogs, with a $23.50 top; good to low-choice steers ranged from $23 to $28.50. Sheep were unchanged.

Lard futures declined in sympathy with grain and hog prices.

Cotton futures made their sharpest decline since Feb. 10, closing $4.30 to $6.75 a bale, with March deliveries closing at 33.09 cents a

Mahon Opposes Civil Rights Bill

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Refusal of the House to add an anti-racial segregation amendment to an appropriation bill was praised today by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex).

He was a leader in the House Appropriations committee move which cut the Civil Rights proposal from the Labor Department-Federal Security agency money bill.

Has Opposed Program

After the House rejected an amendment to put the provision in the measure, and passed the bill, Mahon arose to say:

"I am gratified at the non-partisan action of the House in killing this obnoxious amendment."

In his remarks before the amendment by Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY) came up, Mahon said:

"On previous occasions and in former years I have condemned consistently and voted against this so-called civil rights legislation.

"I again wish to register my emphatic protest against the opposition to federal anti-poll tax legislation, federal anti-lynching legislation and legislation designed to prevent segregation of the races and to set up a fair employment practices commission—F.E.P.C.

Weather To Continue Partly Cloudy, Mild

Partly cloudy skies with little change in temperatures was forecast for the South Plains and the Panhandle today.

Some low-hanging clouds were expected this morning, according to the weather bureau station north of the city, but no precipitation was indicated.

The maximum temperature today was predicted at about fifty degrees, and a low early this morning of 28 degrees.

Moderate southeast winds up to 20 miles per hour was also a part of the forecast at midnight.

Finland Accepts Russia's Bid

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

HELSINKI, Finland, March 8—Finland decided today to begin negotiations for a (pact) and military pact with Russia—a step which may bind this northern nation to the Soviet bloc.

The decision climaxed two weeks of careful study of Soviet Prime Minister Stalin's request for such negotiations. The Finnish cabinet acted in a 90-minute session with President Juho Paasikivi.

A government announcement said:

"The president of the republic has today in the state council elected to reply in the affirmative to the Soviet government's proposal of entering upon negotiations toward the conclusion of a friendship and assistance agreement and to propose that the said negotiations take place in Moscow."

Stalin had suggested that either Moscow or Helsinki be designated as the site for the talks.

The cabinet will meet again tomorrow to name Finland's representatives. Press reports said a seven-man delegation will be appointed, drawn from both parliament and the government.

National Conference Is Planned Here

Cotton Meeting Set In City In October

THE National Cotton council's second annual beltwide cotton mechanization conference will be held at the Texas agricultural Experiment substation at Lubbock next October 14-15 and 16, it was announced Monday afternoon from Memphis, Tenn.

The announcement came after a full day's session of the 18-member steering committee at which a joint invitation to hold the conference in Texas was extended by the Texas agricultural experiment station, Texas extension service, Texas A. & M. college and the Texas statewide cotton committee.

Hundreds To Attend

Theme of the conference, which will be attended by more than 1,000 representatives of the cotton industry, cotton belt land grant colleges, the Department of Agriculture, and the farm equipment industry will be 'The Challenges of the Mechanization of Cotton and Related Farm Grops.'

Announcement of the meeting also was made from College Station by R. D. Lewis, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station.

News that the national conference will be conducted in Lubbock came on the heels of an announcement last week that Lubbock would play host April 10 for a South Plains cotton outlook meeting. Approximately 1,200 farmers, ginners and business men are expected to be present for the April 10 meeting, scheduled to be held in the Palace theater.

Selection of Lubbock for the nationwide meeting of the cotton mechanization conference adds emphasis to the fact that Lubbock and the South Plains has gained the national spotlight for its unprecedented and record-breaking cotton production of the past season. Lubbock county alone ranked first in the state in ginnings for the past year, and was fourth in the entire nation. Four other South Plains counties also ranged in the top 15 counties in the state and nation.

Ransom E. Aldrich, Michigan City, Miss., chairman of the permanent mechanization steering committee, said that plans call for the conference program to stress heavily the tremendous progress in cotton mechanization made in the High Plains area.

A special feature will be a demonstration of each step in mech-

Climate On Mars Believed Too Tough For Higher Animal Life

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 8—The climate of Mars probably is too tough and there isn't enough oxygen to support highly developed animals (such as men), McDonald observatory astronomers believe.

They made this qualified statement about the much-studied planet today. At the same time, they flatly announced discovery of a new satellite of the planet Uranus.

The satellite can not be seen by the eye, even in the observatory's 82-inch telescope, but it shows up in photographs.

It was first found on a plate Feb. 15, confirmed March 1. It is about 75,000 miles from Uranus, and it a little fellow only 300 miles in diameter. It circles the planet once every 30 hours.

The comments from Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, director of the observatory, about Mars were cautiously worded.

They confirmed preliminary conclusions that the green areas visible on the planet may very well be low order plants such as moss or lichens. Lichens are

Brownfield Man To Observe 103 Birthday

BROWNFIELD, March 8 (AP)—Stephen Dupuis, who served as a dispatch carrier for the Confederate armies during the Civil War, will celebrate his 103rd birthday anniversary tomorrow.

Of the 103 birthdays, it will be the first he will observe in bed. He has been ill with bronchial trouble since the first of the year.

Born March 9, 1845, in Avoyelles Parish, La., Dupuis became a dispatch carrier for the Confederates when he was 16 and served throughout the war.

"I wasn't in many battles," he said in an interview.

Mrs. C. B. Worsham, with whom Dupuis has made his home since 1941, says her father shows a keen interest in current events and that she reads him the paper every day. He is able to read, but it tires him.

Dupuis, who wears a white goatee, has survived several attacks of bronchial pneumonia in the past 15 years.

He says he doesn't think much of President Truman's civil rights program.

Dupuis has half a dozen pipes beside his bed. None of the pipes is his favorite, his daughter said, but all six come in for plenty of smoking.

State University For Negroes Claimed Reds' Main Target

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, March 8—A member of the Texas legislature today labeled the new Texas State niversity for Negroes as the number one target of Texas Communists.

Rep. Charles Murphy, Houston, called upon Governor Beauford Jester to come to Houston to make a personal investigation of the negro school and, if necessary, call a special session of the legislature.

Murphy, in a three-page letter to Jester, said general conditions on the 57-acre Houston campus "are not satisfactory."

He said that during consideration of legislation last year to establish the negro university he expressed an opinion to the legislature the school would replace the University of Texas at Austin as the Communists' number one target.

"Although the activities of the Communists at the school have apparently been totally unsuccessful, they have borne out my prediction," the letter to Jester said.

"The very same people who were active in Austin a few years ago and were then, according to

Most Important Qualities In Mate Revealed In Latest Poll

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 8—What is the most important quality needed in a good wife?

Faithfulness? Devotion? Sex appeal?

The average American man—single or married says—its' none of these. He wants his wife to posess above everything else the ability to create pleasant surroundings in his home and to be a neat housekeeper and above average talents in the kitchen.

GALLUP

What do American women think is the most important quality a husband should have? Intelligence? Attractiveness? Kindness?

These are important, no doubt, but the average woman gives number one priority to "being an accomplished breadwinner, providing a good living for the family."

These "Americana" sidelights are revealed in a survey of thousands of married people and single men and women in every section of the country. Field reporters for the Institute asked these representative people:

"What would you say is the most important quality in a good husband (wife)?"

The answers follow:

QUALITIES IN A WIFE	Married Men	Single Men
Good homemaker, good housekeeper, etc.	47%	28%
Agreeable, good company, pleasant disposition	18	21
Faithfulness, loyalty	15	16

*Adds to more than 100 per cent since some gave more than one answer.

Among women the miscellaneous answers include wealth, faith in self and the future, and neatness. Men listed health, respect, not too fat, and "someone who will play second fiddle."

Two years ago an Institute poll revealed the chief faults of husbands and wives. Men placed poor homemaking third in the list of wives' faults, just below nagging and extravagance. Lack of interest in the home was down in seventh place among women's criticisms of husbands, with drinking and thoughtlessness at the top.

Pope Pius Warns Of Nations' Power Race

VATICAN CITY, March 8 (AP)—Pope Pius XII says the nations' mad rivalry for power prevents the world's return to economic order.

Goods, he told a national conference on foreign trade yesterday, "have become the object of political speculation," so has "man himself, lowered in so many cases to the status of an article for exploitation."

"We watch unhappily," he said, "the action of a policy which is only a race for power and hegemony."

His address, as often happens when he speaks on Sunday, was not released for publication until today.

The pope said disorder in "the field of economic exchange" is due partly to differences of opinion, partly to deeper causes.

"Some propose a return to a world economy such as there was in the last century," he said. "Others sustain a regional union x x x of single economies."

The pontiff said economists ought to consider four points:

(1) "Economic life" is "social life" and should give all "the material conditions requisite for their cultural and spiritual life." But "recourse to a magic automatism is a chimera. x x x"

(2) "Social ordering of the economy" should guarantee "genuine and sane liberty"—not "a liberty purely negative," such as that of 100 years ago, nor "the pseudo-liberty of our days, of submission to gigantic organizations."

(3) A national economy is a "natural unity," and international economic relations, despite their "necessary function," only subsidiary; but the advantages of regional unions ought to be considered carefully.

(4) "Fraternal cooperation" among peoples necessitates victory over "the fatal principle of utility as the basis and rule of right," over "germs of conflict" and over "the spirit of cold egoism."

Grandma Dillon, Cleburne's Grand Old Lady, Is Claimed Before Reaching Goal Of 100

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CLEBURNE, March 8 — Cleburne is burying its grand old lady tomorrow—Grandma Dillon, 99, who didn't get the only thing she ever wanted for herself.

She wanted to be 100 and in another two months she would have made it.

Everybody knew Mrs. Elizabeth Dillon as Grandma Dillon. A native of Tennessee, she lived in Cleburne 75 years, 58 years as a widow. Her husband's death left her with four children to support. The little old brown-eyed lady, frail of appearance even then, promptly converted her home into a boarding house—a venture that turned out to be a great success.

Praised For Hard Work

The Dillon home became a hangout for Cleburne children — Mrs. Dillon was never too busy to give them cookies and attention. Many a greying Texan, looking back through the years, still considers himself 'one of Mrs. Dillon's boys."

"I never could figure how she made any money," one of them said today. "She seemed to give away more dinners than she sold. We never did know where all her energy came from. She worked day and night, she never had an idle moment or any time for herself. When we in Cleburne think of spunk, we think of Grandma Dillon."

Time whitened Grandma Dillon's hair, wrinkled her kindly face, but didn't steal the snap from her eyes and the perk from her personality. Until a fall four years ago she always seemed to dart, rather than walk.

After that, she was confined to her home and visits to Grandma Dillon became a Cleburne custom.

Had Planned Observance

Two months ago, we visited Mrs. Dillon. Two of her daughters, Mrs. Mae Murray and Mrs. Albert Bratcher, both of Cleburne, were there. Pictures of another daughter, Mrs. Sadie Bridges, Grand Prairie, and Pete C. Dillon, a son, of Cleburne, were on the walls. There were other pictures—nine grandchildren, ten great grandchildren, one great-great-grandchild.

Mrs. Dillon was nearly blind, almost deaf. But she insisted on getting out of bed to show how she could walk around the room. She felt her way, without help, to a chair, and chuckled: "I'll be 100 on May 13."

"That's the only thing she has ever wanted for herself," Mrs. Murray whispered. "Her doctor is struggling to keep her alive."

But a few days ago, Grandma Dillon began to lose hope.

"I don't think I can stand this pain until May 13," she said. "I may not make it."

Sunday, she died.

So Cleburne, which had planned a big May celebration for its oldest pioneer resident, mourns today.

For, as much as Grandma Dillon wanted to be 100, Cleburne had wanted it more.

VA Hospital Program Swinging Into High Speed Over Nation

By DEAN W. DITTMER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 8—The Veterans administration hospital construction program is swinging into high gear.

The program calls for construction of 90 new hospitals with 54,000 bed-capacity in the next two years.

Veterans administration officials say they would like to get all of them under construction this year, but 14 still are in the planning stage.

New Hospitals Planned

The veterans administration now operates 126 hospitals with bed capacity of 103,800.

During the last two years Congress made $1,261,410,000 available in cash appropriations and contractual authority for VA hospital construction. Almost $1,000,000,000 of this is still available.

About half of this was to provide for the 90 new hospitals, and the remainder for conversion, expansion and improvement of others.

Recently the construction program took a major stride forward with the awards of several more contracts for new hospitals. Twenty-two new hospitals now are under contract. These will add approximately 10,000 beds to the present capacity.

Best Service Sought

The Veterans administration is endeavoring to provide veterans with the best possible medical service and to make the veterans hospitals centers of national medical progress. To do this the veterans administration medical service wants to locate all hospitals near medical centers and other hospitals.

However, this program may hit some snags if the Veterans administration is required to take over some old military hospitals.

Proposals now before Congress would require the veterans medical service to take over Army hospitals Clinton, Ia., and Camp White, Ore.

Both are now closed and Veterans administration officials said that facilities were inadequate in those areas for staffing the hospitals and operating costs would be too high.

It also may become necessary for the Veterans administration to take over a former Navy hospital at Dublin, Ga., an old Army hospital at Thomasville, Ga., and some other old military hospitals.

The 22 new hospitals now under contract are located in 17 states. Included in the list, with bed capacities, are hospitals at Shreveport, La., 450 and Big Spring, Tex., 250.

All but the neuropsychiatric hospital at Peekskill will be general medical and surgical hospitals. Some of the smaller ones will be used as "feeder" hospitals for the larger centers.

Newsmen To Speak At Levelland Tonight

LEVELLAND, March 8 (Special) Boyce House of Fort Worth, newsman, author, lecturer and radio entertainer, will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Legion Hall.

Clyde R. Brown, master of ceremonies, will introduce House and the other guests.

Forrest Weimhold, immediate past president, will recognize the retiring directorate and will introduce the new officers and directors which include John Morton, president; N. T. House, first vice president; J. G. Stacy, second vice president; Roy Simpson, treasurer; Homer Johnson, L. L. Cox, L. G. West, J. Spencer Ellis, Ervin Gerlach, Dr. C. G. Dunn, Artie B. Forehand, John McCrory and George Moore.

House will tour the oil field here with Sam Billingsley, chamber of commerce manager and other members Tuesday afternoon.

Central Examining Station Is To Be Opened For Army Recruits

A central examining station for Army and Air Force recruits will be opened at the Lubbock recruiting station, Room 203, Federal building, on March 15, Major Harold Fulghum, recruiting officer, announced yesterday.

Complete mental and physical examinations will be given and accepted applicants will be enlisted at the station. Enlistees will be forwarded from the station for their initial duty assignment in the Army or Air Forces. Applicants were previously forwarded to Fort Bliss, El Paso, or Roswell Air Force base for enlistment.

In addition to the present 17 man staff, there will be one additional civilian clerk, two medical technicians, and a classification specialist assigned to the station. A contract physician will perform the physical examinations.

Radio Contest Winners Must Share Jackpots With U.S.

LOS ANGELES, March 8 (AP)—These radio contest jackpots aren't all gravy, an internal revenue bureau spokesman said today.

He estimated that Mrs. Florence Hubbard of Chicago, who won $22,500 in merchandise in the "walking man" contest, would be subject to close to $13,000 in taxes, without considering any possible exemptions she may have.

The prizes are classified as earned income, not gifts, he said, and it makes no difference whether the jackpot is cash or merchandise. The winner must declare merchandise in the amount of its market value, he reported.

To protect sleeves of business girl or housewife, a new cuff protector is on the market, made of clear plastic, with a slide fastener.

Labor Leaders Asked To Inspect Prisons

DALLAS, March 8 (AP)—B. A. Stufflebeme, Grand Prairie banker and member of the Texas Prison board, today invited labor leaders to visit the system and see conditions there with a view toward obtaining their support for the board's plan of industrialize the system.

He said both he and general manager O. B. Ellis of the Texas prison system have accepted invitations to address the executive committee of the Texas Federation of Labor (AFL) at its meeting at Austin June 21.

Meanwhile, in Dallas today labor leaders of both the Texas Federation of Labor and CIO issued statements on their stand in the matter.

W. J. (Bill) Harris, president of the Texas Federation of Labor, said representatives of the Texas prison board had been invited to attend the Austin meeting and that the executive committee would outline its views at that time. Harris recently indorsed the Ellis program of industrialization after a tour through the prison system, but the executive board Saturday attacked the plan.

Robert Oliver, regional director of CIO, who also toured the prison system, said that while he saw no objections to a program of industrialization, financial aid for the institution is of paramount importance.

Your Oculist Keeps Pace with the Progress Of Optical Science...

Nowhere in America will you obtain finer professional care for your eyes than right here at home. In this section of Texas there are many eye Physicians (Oculists) with the very highest qualifications—men who have devoted their lives to study and practice— and who keep in constant touch with the most advanced Ophthalmic developments and techniques. You can have implicit confidence in their examination and prescription.

If you Oculist decides you should wear bifocals he knows that the Univis bifocal with the straight-top segment will give you the utmost efficiency and comfort both reading and distance vision. The Univis straight-top segment is practically invisible. It is scientifically made to eliminate the lift or jump found in many bifocals.

Whatever type of lens your eye Physician prescribes, you may be sure that his recommendation is based upon his knowledge of your eyes and what they need. Our responsibility to him and to you is to interpret his prescription accurately and to supply glasses which will please you in every particular.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGE

EVERYBODY likes to think that he is entitled to a little more consideration than the other fellow. We suppose the only effective way of keeping people under control is to charge for each special privilege.

Sure, people like an extra pat of butter, an extra minute on the telephone, a rush delivery of merchandise, a thicker steak, a better seat in the theater and a larger room in a hotel, but they back away from an extra charge as they would from a snake.

"You can have it if you want to pay for it," are cruel words, but they maintain order and eliminate long-winded explanations.

GOOD GUESSERS

WHEN Ed Warren, editor of the Post Dispatch mildly suggested that Jack Benny was the you-know-who he was soundly voted down by staff and family and of course after Saturday night he was qualified to say, "Ya, ya, I told you so!"

Mr. W., who has too much on his mind these days to pay any attention to guessing games, was lost in a book one Saturday night not so long ago when a noise as of someone playing a cross between a breakdown and a scale on a violin was wafted from the radio. The sound penetrated his inner consciousness and when his wife, who hadn't missed a trick of the show, wondered aloud who it was, ole Ed said without looking up, "Why that's Jack Benny."

Warren explained, without getting his blood pressure up, that he had followed Benny's USO show several weeks as a member of a photographic unit of the Navy, and the humorist always started his skit with a run just like the one they had heard.

And when Grace Halsell of Fort Worth, former member of the Avalanche-Journal editorial staff, interviewed Gracie Allen when she stopped there recently en route to New Orleans, the comedienne said she was positive the w.m. was Jack Benny.

Ho hum, we've never guessed anything correctly. We can't even figure out a whodunnit until it is explained on the last page.

GRATIFYING STATISTICS

PEOPLE who reach their 65th birthday this year will make up a far greater proportion of the nation's population than did 65-year-old people in 1900, according to the Women's division of the Institute of Life Insurance. One out of every 14 persons today is 65 years of age or older while in 1910 only one person out of 23 had reached or passed 65.

Of about ten million oldsters in America, the institute points out, 5,250,000 are women. Of these, more than half are widows or divorced, about a third are wives and eight per cent are single. Among the men a little less than a third are widowers or divorced, 64 per cent are married and about seven per cent are still resolute bachelors.

FREAKISH ACCIDENT

MRS. R. V. WILLIAMS of 2302 Main has graduated from a cast in which she spent seven weeks to a brace and even after she gives that up she can't bear weight on her left leg for two or three months. She was victim of a most peculiar accident in December.

During a dinner, Mrs. Williams went to the kitchen to get a glass and to see about the dessert and in her haste she did not notice that the oven door was down; fell over it and came down on her left knee with all of her weight. Never a person to give up easily, Mrs. Williams retired to the divan from where she carried on instructions and insisted that everyone finish his dinner. It wasn't until the next day that an x-ray revealed how serious was the break.

Members, Guests Of Women's Auxiliaries Lead Discussions At Monday Meetings

Among subjects discussed by women's missionary organizations Monday were brotherhood, the alcohol problem, family life, prayer and faith. The groups had assembly and circle meeting with members and guests as speakers.

A Royal Service program was presented for First Baptist Women's Missionary society at the church with Mrs. Mack Mead, Mrs. Joe Mason and Mrs. Fred Stanley participating. Sixty-nine persons were present.

Mrs. Mead spoke on the subject for the day, "The Christian Home," Mrs. Mason brought a devotion, "God and the Family," and Mrs. Stanley sang "Home Sweet Home."

TALK, DEVOTION GIVEN FOR WSCS

Mrs. F. W. Hendrix spoke on the alcohol problem at a meeting of St. John's Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service held at the church and Mrs. L. E. Weathers presented devotional thoughts.

Mrs. Tom Gordon was elected delegate to the Northwest Texas Methodist conference which will be held in Plainview next week. Alternate is Mrs. Jimmie Wilson.

BROTHERHOOD IS DISCUSSED

A program, "Achievement of Christ's Way—Brotherhood," for Asbury Methodist WSCS was led by Mrs. Russell Denison and presented by colored guests.

Rev. T. R. Albert spoke on "Brotherhood," George Wood discussed the subject, "Am I My Brother's Keeper," and Rev. J. E. Blackmore led a prayer. Mildred Holland, accompanied by Edna Walker, sang "Were You There" and Edna Walker and Rev. Albert sang "My God and I Go To the Field Together." A scripture was read by Mrs. Denison.

Thirty-five persons attended. Another guest was Dr. J. A. Chatman.

LESSONS ARE CONTINUED

The second lesson of a series on "Great Prayers of the Bible" was taught by Rev. D. Arval Strong for Memorial Methodist WSCS. His subject was "The Prayers of the Kings and Prophets and The Prayers of the Psalmists." A prayer by Mrs. A. W. Brewer closed the meeting.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CIRCLES MEET

Following a business session conducted by Circle 1 of Central Baptist WMS, Mrs. Boyd Crooks taught a lesson, "The Grace of God." Fifteen persons attended.

Teaching for Madonna circle of Central Baptist WMS was Mrs. J. A. Burns who spoke on "Security of the Believer." Four members were present.

LENTEN STUDY IS FOR AUXILIARY

Approximately 35 members of St. Paul's Episcopal Woman's auxiliary met at Seaman hall for Lenten study. Mrs. M. V. Gray reviewed a portion of the book, "Faith and Practice." Mrs. Claude Canterbury brought a devotion.

Following the study, units held separate meetings.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MEET

First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary met in circles Monday. The Young Women's Training circle met at Fellowship hall with 21 persons attending. Mrs. R. C. Douglas, jr., discussed "The Doctrine of the Presbyterian Church." Hostesses were Mrs. S. R. O'Neal and Mrs. John Robert Moxley.

Fifteen members of Circle 1 met in the home of Mrs. George Young for a luncheon. A devotion, "Do I Mean It," was given by Mrs. H. A. Davidson. A meeting of Circle 2 was held in the home of Mrs. G. C. Cooper with eight persons attending. The Bible lesson was by Mrs. Frank Gaines and a Survey article was reviewed by Mrs. L. M. Jones.

In the home of Mrs. Seth Bertram, Circle 4 met for a covered dish luncheon and for the last circle meeting of the church year. Mrs. A. W. Young brought a devotion and the year's business was completed. Ten members were present. Circles are to reorganize in April. Twelve members of Circle 5 met with Mrs. Alton Hall. Mrs. R. T. Bucy brought the lesson and Survey article on the subject, "Do I Mean It."

CIRCLES STUDY GOSPEL OF JOHN

A study of the Gospel of John was continued by circles of First Christian Women's circle who met in homes Monday.

Circle I had a morning meeting in the home of Mrs. Frank Haden; Mrs. Harry Sharp taught for the 21 members and one guest, Mrs. O. P. Hankins, who attended. Mrs. Harry Holcomb presided for business and Mrs. Haden brought a devotion.

Twenty members and four new members of Circle 2 met with Mrs. Ralph Keeton for a lesson by Mrs. Frank Haden. Mrs. Myron Vann presented a devotion and Mrs. Brady Lowe presided. At a meeting of Circle 3 held in the home of Mrs. J. G. Lancaster, Mrs. Bertha Brown taught. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Grady West and a devotion was given by Mrs. Clyde Elkins. Nineteen members and three guests attended.

Meeting with Mrs. M. C. Kinser were 13 members of Circle 4. Teacher was Mrs. Harry Sharp. A devotion was brought by Mrs. Joe Caffe and presiding for business was Mrs. J. E. Cozby. Teaching for nine members of Circle 5 in the home of Mrs. P. H. Rogers was Mrs. Isabel Garrison. A devotion for the circle was given by Mrs. J. J. Cox and presiding over the meeting was Mrs. J. A. Hodges.

Brownfield Wedding Is Announced Here

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Lindsey of Brownfield are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Trucene Lindsey, to Dale George, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. V. George of Brownfield, which took place Saturday, Feb. 28, in the Lindsey home. Rev. Curtis Jackson of Plains read a double ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white wool suit with black accessories and a strand of pearls, gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white iris centered with an orchid. Miss Jerry Lindsey, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Clyde Green was bridesmatron. Best man was Mr. Green.

Wedding music was offered by Miss Bennie Ruth Wartes, pianist.

Following a reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to New Mexico. For travel the bride wore a brown costume suit with brown accessories.

Mrs. George is a graduate of Wellman High school and Mr. George is a graduate of Brownfield High school and served two years in the Army. The couple will be at home in Brownfield.

Miss Schnell Will Marry In April

Mrs. Joe Schnell entertained at tea Sunday afternoon in her home at 2510 Twenty-seventh to announce the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Jorita Schnell, to Ross Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery of Darrouzett.

The hostess greeted guests and presented them to Miss Schnell and to Mrs. W. A Wilbanks, sister of the bridegroom-elect. Scrolls lettered with "Jorita and Ross, April" were presented to guests.

Miss Virginia Saage and Mrs. Glenn Keyton presided at the tea table which was laid with a white imported linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of daffodils and hyacinth tied with white satin streamers. On the streamers were "Jorita and Ross." Yellow tapers were burning on the buffet. Assisting with hospitalities were Mrs. J. Ernest Jones and Mrs. A. L. Saage.

Background music was played during the afternoon.

Approximately 50 guests called between the hours of 2:30 and 5 o'clock.

Birthday Of Child Celebrated At Party

A party given for Kaye Botik Saturday afternoon by her mother, Mrs. J. F. Botik, 3016 Thirty-first, was in celebration of her fifth birthday. The hostess was assisted by Mesdames Williams Fritz and Paul J. Walsh.

After games, Walt Disney cartoons were shown.

Refreshments were served to Marka Spurlock, Linda Kay Hawkins, Norma Nowell, Dina Gayle Freeman, Nancy Walsh, Carol Fritz, Gwen and Bill Botik, Mike Harter, Bobby Eddings, Teito Roberts, David Abbott and Larry Hodge.

Hatch Says He Will Not Seek Reelection

WASHINGTON, March 8 (U.P.)—Sen. Carl A. Hatch, (D.-N.M.,) a member of the Senate for 15 years, announced today he will not seek reelection in November but will accept a federal judgeship in New Mexico if it is offered to him.

The move cleared the way for Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson to run for Hatch's seat if he desires.

Anderson, reached by telephone at Albuquerque, N. M., declined to discuss the possibility he may run for the Senate. He said he was "up in the air" about his present plans. Anderson was a congressman from New Mexico before he was made Secretary of Agriculture by President Truman.

The White House declined comment at this time on Hatch's announcement. Hatch, 58, is a long-time friend of President Truman. If he is named to the New Mexico judgeship, he would succeed Federal Judge Colin Neblett who plans to retire next Jan. 1 because of poor health.

AS SIMPLE AS THAT

CLEVELAND (U.P.) — A simple operation enabled Erie Railroad engineers to push through a too-high freight shipment. When they discovered that a mobile oil derrick on a train would fail to clear two overhead bridges by an inch, they solved the problem by deflating the derrick's tires and came out with a half-inch to spare.

Sumners Denies Ickes' Report He Backed Federal Land Claim

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 8 — Harold L. Ickes, former Secretary of the Interior, said today a former Texas congressman first suggested the government's tideland suit against California.

Reading from his diary, Ickes told a Senate-House Judiciary subcommittee that Hatton Sumners of Dallas expressed his opinion in 1938 that the federal government had title to off-shore coastal lands. Sumners then was chairman of the House Judiciary committee.

Action Is Explained

The subcommittee is considering a bill to give the states all submerged lands within their boundaries, including the oil-rich tidelands.

The Supreme Court decided last year California is not the owner of lands three miles seaward off its coast.

Ickes said the question of who owns the lands was raised at a luncheon with the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt on April 27, 1937.

After that luncheon, Ickes said, he instructed the general land office to reject no more applications for mineral lease to tidelands and to present any future questions on the subject directly to him.

Previously, he said, the land office had rejected at least one such application on the ground the state owned the lands.

He read a diary note dated March 4, 1938 which said "The Secretary of Navy and I are about to join in a request to the attorney general to go into the courts" to determine ownership of tidelands off California.

The memorandum noted that oil had been discovered there and said: "We would like to turn these lands into a Navy oil reserve."

It was the same memorandum in which Ickes said Sumners suggested the suit, rather than legislation, because he believed the federal government already had title.

SUMNERS DENIES HE BACKED FEDERAL CLAIM TO LANDS

DALLAS, March 8 (AP)—Former Congressman Hatton Sumners denied today he ever contended the federal government held ownership to California tidelands.

"I have never entertained nor expressed any such view," Sumners told The Dallas Times Herald by telephone from Albuquerque, N. M., where he had gone to address a cattleman's meeting.

He was commenting on a statement by Harold L. Ickes in which the former Secretary of the Interior said the Texan first suggested the government's tidelands suit against California.

"I never suggested to Mr. Ickes that the suit be instituted, because I never believed that the federal government had title to the tidelands," he said.

"My position on the tidelands is this:

"When the states, the 13 colonies, declared their independence, they took from Great Britain all titles of every sort which that government—including the king—possessed within the territory of those colonies.

"Under the law and constitution of Great Britain, the King held title to the submerged lands (rivers and seacoast). The titles went to the colonies, and the United States acquired only those titles passed on to the central government."

Sumners said he believed that would apply to states which later came into the union, including Texas and California.

Three Philadelphia Buildings Collapse; 14 Persons Escape

PHILADELPHIA, March 8. (AP)—Two adjoining three-story buildings in North Philadelphia collapsed today. Tons of debris were scattered and overhead wires were ripped off.

Cracking noises and falling plaster warned 14 persons who fled in one of the buildings and hour before the collapse. The other building was unoccupied. It housed the Mother Bethlehem Baptist church.

Measures To Improve Aviation Scheduled

WASHINGTON, March 8 (U.P.)—Bills to abolish the Civil Aeronautics administration (CAA) and generally overhaul federal regulation of aviation will be introduced in Congress soon.

The proposals are being drawn up by the congressional aviation policy board. The object is to strengthen the Civil Aeronautics board (CAB) as an independent semi-judicial agency, effect economies and gear the federal airways for quick transfer to military use in war emergencies.

The CAA and the CAB are separate organizations. The CAA is part of the Commerce department. The CAB is independent.

The bills would carry out recommendations, radically different from those of President Truman's air policy commission, made by the congressional board.

The board subcommittee which prepared the recommendations comprised Sens. Homer E. Capehart, R, Ind., chairman, and Albert W. Hawkes, R., N. J., Reps. Charles A. Wolverton, R., N. J., and Karl Stefan, R., Neb. Capehart and Wolverton may sponsor the bills in the Senate and House.

Charges Are Hurled In Dispute Over Costa Rican Presidency

MEXICO CITY, March 8 (U.P.)—A Costa Rican businessman - politician today claimed that "far from what General (Rene) Picado has said, neither order nor peace reign in Costa Rica."

Federico Berrueta, here on a "business trip" is a prominent member of the "national union," the coalition of political parties that backed Atilio Ulate Blanco in last month's presidential elections.

The Costa Rican Congress since has ruled Ulate's victory at the polls is void.)

"The power is in the hands of lawyer (Teodoro) Picado (President and brother of vice-president and security minister Rene Picado); Congress is partial towards Dr. Calderon Guardia (who lost to Ulate on the basis of the popular vote in the elections last month); and Senior Ulate Blanco is being practically persecuted," Berrueta charged in summing up the Costa Rican situation.

He warned that the national union will not permit any trifling with "its rights, particularly when the Communists are involved."

Berrueta claimed the Communists are responsible for Costa Rica's present diffculties.

Constitutional Rights Of Two Negro Strikers Said Violated

WASHINGTON, March 8 (U.P.)—The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that the constitutional rights of two negro Arkansas strikers were violated when the State Supreme court upheld their convictions for a crime for which they had not been tried.

The two men are Roy Cole and Louis Jones, two of 112 strikers at the Southern Cotton Oil Co., North Little Rock, Ark., in 1945.

They were convicted and sentenced to a year each in jail. The State Supreme court upheld their convictions, but not for promoting an assembly at the scene of a strike. It said they had violated another section of the Arkansas law which prohibits force or violence at the scene of a strike.

The high court today directed Arkansas Supreme court to reconsider the cases of two men under the section of the law they were accused of violating.

Lubbock High may have scored the "steal of the year" in the coaching ranks by hiring Bill Floyd, line mentor at Texarkana, as an assistant on the new Westerner grid staff. Louis Graves of the Texarkana Gazette, in a letter received here Monday afternoon, was extremely high in his praise of Floyd's work at the Texarkana school and his fine spirit. Graves said, "Just a brief note to let you know that Lubbock High has signed as line coach one of the finest guys it has been my pleasure to know in seven years of sports writing. Bill is as big in spirit and friendliness as he is physically. He coached Texarkana's line for two years and he was the prime reason why the Tigers lost only one football game last season, that a 9-0 game to Longview. Bill is headed your way next week and, although he hasn't talked to me about it, I know he'll be looking for a house for himself, his wife and two youngsters—nine and six."

Coach Truett Rattan will send his Levelland track squad through the first workout of the season this afternoon, but he reported last night that he didn't know who would be available. The Lobos did not have a track team last year, Rattan said, and will lack experience in all departments. It is a good bet that the wily mentor will build a strong team before the regional meet, however, since he has some promising youngsters to work with.

Another Levelland High athletic squad, the baseball hopefuls, are starting their second week of practice sessions. Marvin Wheeler, who coached the Levelland Junior cage team that won the annual Lubbock Junior High Invitational basketball tourney here two weeks ago, is the mentor. Wheeler has not had time to find out just how good a nine he will field this spring, but some of the boys—including Bobby Hart, W. A. Wise, Larry Roberts, Ed Byerly, Bob Kennedy and John Morton—are fine prospects.

Leather - slingers from Tahoka High school will journey to Lockney Thursday night, March 11, for return bouts with the Lockney High boxers. The Lockney sluggers defeated the Tahokans, eight bouts to four, at Tahoka several weeks ago, so the Bulldogs will be seeking revenge. Superintendent of Schools Sidney Reeves said that the program will begin at 8 o'clock at the High school gym.

Ralls and Floydada each placed three men on the All-District 3-A cage team recently selected at a meeting of circuit coaches. A 10-man squad was named instead of five, since ties for positions were numerous. The complete team included Carter Page, Ernie Gilbert and Lee Roy Hill of Ralls; Bob Finley, James Finley and Grigsby of Floydada; Simpson and Bingham of Spur; and Bill Blackwood and Leg Hargis of Crosbyton.

The fourth annual Big Spring track and field relays have been set for April 3, officials have announced, but the Lubbock Westerner squad will be at the Texas

Tech Star In 9.9 Century

Charlie Reynolds, Texas Tech's Border Conference sprint champion, served notice yesterday afternoon that he would tougher than ever to beat this year when he raced the century distance in a fast 9.9.

Reynolds, in fine physical condition, appears destined to be an even better runner this season than ever before and, off his performance yesterday, seems slated to head up the Red Raider tracksters.

Mullins In Century

The 9.9 dash in the 100-yard event yesterday, coming this early in the season, particularly was impressive to spectators. It indicated that Reynolds can, with additional practice, lower this mark to 9.8 and possibly 9.7 before the season ends.

And also encouraging was a 10-second 100-yard dash by "Moon" Mullins, who showed that he is nearly ready to replace Ralph Earhart, ruled ineligible for signing a pro football contract. With Reynolds and Mullins running the century in such fast time at this stage of the season, Raider track prospects are bright.

Coach Maxey McKnight, hard at work during bad weather that has been plaguing the squad off and on, isn't overly optimistic about the Raider squad. He admitted yesterday that the track events were only sparsely filled, while the field candidates still were untried.

Steps 220 In .22

Seth Murphy helped to make a little sunshine for Coach McKnight by stepping the 220-yard dash in 22 seconds flat, the best time in that distance this Spring.

Joe Wilson, Costin Bufkin, Ben Wilson and Reynolds are about evenly matched in the 440-yard dash, while Henry Briscoe sparks the 880-yard dash men.

In the field events, Ed Clepper, who runs the high hurdles and also high jumps, and Charles Pinnell, who runs both the high and low hurdles and high jumps, are two outstanding men. Both of these performers are counted on to add points to the Texas Tech total in all meets this year.

Probable Starters

Dingy Davis is a good possibility to take points in the shot put and javelin.

From the squad that is in training at present, Coach McKnight probably will pick Reynolds, Murphy, Mullins, Bufkin, the two Wilsons, Briscoe, Clepper and Pinnell to run at the Stock Show meet in Fort Worth this month.

Plainview Mitt Show Slated March 26-27

PLAINVIEW, March 8 (Special)—Plainview Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor another boxing card here March 26-27, officials announced today, and invitations have already been mailed to high school teams at Tahoka, Post, Slaton, Petersburg, Lockney, Brownfield and Shamrock.

High school and open divisions will be sponsored to provide suitable competition for novice and experienced fighters, with athletic jackets and trophy awards planned in each division. The tournament is sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic union and A.A.U. rules will govern the meet.

Weighing-in for all fighters is scheduled at 2 p. m. March 26 at the Plainview city auditorium, officials said, with only one boxer allowed to fight for school points in each weight class.

Some of the top sluggers of the South Plains, including James Forbes of Brownfield, Randal Hinkle of Tahoka and Gatto Petty and John Adams.

Entries should be mailed to Bud Dean of route 2, Lockney, meet directors announced.

Ray's Grocery Cagers Enter Finals Of Anton Tournament

ANTON, March 8 (Special) — Ray's Grocery of Lubbock entered the final round of the Anton Invitational Basketball tournament by defeating the Spade five, 71-60, in an overtime tussle here tonight.

At the end of the regulation tilt the tally was deadlocked at 59-59, but in the five minute extra session the Grocerymen chalked up 12 points while holding Spade to a single point.

Virgil Johnson copped individual scoring honors for Ray's Grocery with 29 points, while Osborn tallied 22 for the Spade crew.

Anton's Legion quint gained the other spot in the finals by edging Muleshoe, 62-53.

The Muleshoe and Spade fives will meet for third place honors at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the school gymnasium, with Ray's and Anton tangling for the championship at 9.

Roman soldiers took part of their pay in salt.

Relays at Austin at the time and unable to compete. Last year the Lubbock High squad took third place in the event.

Westerners To Enter Abilene Track Meet

NEW RECORD! — Jim Johnson, ace Lubbock Westerner quarter-miler, is shown above as he set a new 440 dash record of 52.8 seconds at the annual South Plains Invitational track meet Saturday afternoon at Chapman field. Johnson will be one of the top favorites in the event in the first annual Abilene Invitational track meet this weekend. (Avalanche Staff Photo).

Lubbock High's strong Westerner track squad, sparked by some of the best sprinters and weight specialists in the school's history, will make its first bid for a major West Texas meet championship Saturday afternoon in the first annual Abilene Invitational meet.

Odessa's mighty Broncos, featuring Byron (Santone) Townsend in the dashes and high jump and Gerald Campbell in the low hurdles, are ranked as the meet favorites, with the Westerners slated for the runner-up position. The host team, Abilene, is strong in dash events but reportedly is not well-balanced.

Locals Leave Saturday

Coach Marlin (Shorty) Hayhurst announced last night that he will take a full 25-man squad to Abilene early Saturday morning for the meet, with the group slated to leave the Chapman field clubhouse at 6:30 o'clock. Preliminaries are scheduled late Saturday morning, then the finals will be run off starting at 1:30 p. m.

The meet spotlight will be on the colorful Townsend, who holds the Southwestern Exposition meet high jump record at 6'3" and runs the 100-yard dash in a near 10-flat, but Campbell, who twice has placed second in the state meet in the low hurdles, is a dependable point-maker. Another stalwart from the Broncos' 1947 grid eleven, Jimmy (The Bull) Patterson, is a favorite in the weight contests.

Alderson Faces Townsend

Coach Hayhurst will pin his hopes for a championship on three stellar Westerner sprinters, Earl Hutcherson, Charley Williams and Don Decker, and on ace quarter-miler Jim Johnson. The crack mile relay quartet will be a top contender for first place honors if all the regular members are able to run and Bob Schmidt is considered the dark-horse of the high hurdle entries. Big Jim Wilson is expected to place in the broad jump, but the feature event may be a battle between Jack Alderson and the famed "Santone" for the high jump crown. Alderson set a new South Plains Invitation record of 6' in the event last weekend.

The Westerner squad took advantage of warm weather Monday afternoon to conduct a lengthy practice session. Hayhurst said, following the drill, that he was fairly well satisfied with the showing of the squad.

Lubbock Team Leads In Bowling Tourney

TULSA, March 8 (Special)—The Mission Orange team of Lubbock, Tex., took over first place in the Class A division of the Southwest Bowling tournament here Saturday and Sunday with a team total of 3,154 pins.

The closest team to the Lubbock entry rolled a 3,022, with two weeks of bowling left in the tourney.

The Lubbock club, composed of George Tate, Leroy Behren, Tubby Reed, Sam Carter and Howard Braun, hit the maples for a 1,056 in the first frame, came back with a 1,052 in the second and ended their string with 1,046, for the outstanding performance to date.

Carter, kingpin on the Lubbock five, rolled the individual high of 682 to top his partners.

Behrens, at the end of Sunday's bowling, was in second place in the singles with a 673 three-game total, while Braun and Reed had placed with 640 and 620 respectively.

Moreover, Behrens was leading in the all-events class with a total of 1,943 for nine games.

Lubbock Boys Club Boxing Bouts Set

Lubbock Boys club boxers will be seen in club boxing shows on Friday and March 19 it was announced Monday.

One of the highlights of the March 19 show will be the awarding of basketball letters for the 1947-48 season. Coaches Thomas George and C. L. Tomlinson will announce the names of lettermen within the near future.

Many of the club's ring candidates already have begun workouts in preparation for the forthcoming bouts. Among the candidates now working out are James Pritchard, Jerry Shipp, Dean Faucett, Jerome Henderson, Dan Williams, Hugh Carlen, Jimmy Godfrey, Jack Godfrey, Cricket Shirley and Claude Weir. Others scheduled to workout soon are Wesley Odoroizze, Pal Henson, Wayne Pendergrass, Don Pendergrass, Leslie Fisher, Cotton Lawson and Bobby Owens.

Coach Tomlinson, who is handling the young fighters, said other boxers in this area who are not members of the local boys' club, including those above the age of club members, are invited to participate in the workouts. Bouts for them may be arranged, Tomlinson said.

The public will be invited to witness both mitt shows. There will be no charge for admittance.

The club will begin its baseball workouts March 17. A schedule of games will be announced later.

Goldman Scores A Hole-In-One Sunday At Country Club

A golfer's dream came true Sunday for Jimmy Goldman.

Goldman, playing in a foursome over the Lubbock Country club's layout, used a No. 9 iron on the 125-yard No. 3 hole, scoring a hole-in-one. This was Goldman's second hole-in-one. The first one came some time ago when he played the Bob-O-Link course in Dallas.

Playing with Goldman were Kyle Ratisseau, John Markham and Johnny Powers.

All-State Cage Players Named

AUSTIN, March 8 (AP)—Sports writers picking the three divisional all-state high school basketball teams from this year's tourney had few close decisions.

They unanimously named three to the Class A team, but the balloting made a sharp choice of the top five in all three divisions with no close decision at any position.

The only repeater from a 1947 all-state team was Charles Haley of Johnson City, a forward. The three unanimously-selected were Maurice Campbell, Carl Jowell and Jimmie Fountain in Class A.

The tournament set an attendance record of 42,500. Last year the total was 37,000, also a record.

These were the all-star selections voted by the 20 sports writers who covered all the games:

Class AA — Forwards, Bryan Miller, Dallas, Crozier Tech; Paul Williams, Lufkin; Center, Joe Ed Falk, Milby; guards, Jerry Champion, Dallas, Crozier Tech, Jim Ochoa, Bowie (El Paso).

Class A—Forwards, Carl Jowell, Dimmitt, Harvey Fromme, Sinton; Center, Mart Halbert, Throckmorton; guards, Maurice Campbell, Mount Vernon, Jimmie Fountain, East Mountain (Gilmer).

Class B — Forwards, Charles Haley, Johnson City; George Burns, Carey; Center, Dean Lloyd, Maydelle; Guards, Tommy Hancock, Prairie Valley (Nocona), N. J. Hassell, Maydelle.

GROVE ON BORDER QUINTET

Tech Point-Maker Gets Berth On All-Star Conference Five

Big Don Grove, the rangy, point - making center of Texas Tech's basketball team, has been selected as pivot man on the official 1948 Border Conference all-star first team, it was announced Saturday in Tucson, Ariz., by Commissioner E. L. Larson.

Grove, who ended the season in the Border loop by scoring 15 points against West Texas, has been the mainstay of the Red Raider varsity. There were few games this season in which he was not the high-point man for the Raiders and he had a big hand in sparking their drive to second place in the final conference standings.

Two Wildcats Named

The towering pivot man was the only Techsan to be named to either the first or the second teams and there were no honorary mentions in the list announced by Dr. Larson. Arizona placed two men on the first team and one on the second. Other first team positions were filled by New Mexico Aggies and Arizona State at Tempe.

The roster of both squads follow:

First, Second Teams

First team, forwards Morris Udall, Arizona, and Verl Heap, Arizona State of Tempe; center, Grove; guards, Fred Enke, Jr., Arizona, and David Sharp, New Mexico Aggies.

Second team, forwards, Miguel Izquierdo, Texas Mines, and Wayne See, Arizona State of Flagstaff; center, Vincent Cisterna, Arizona State of Flagstaff; and guards, Jack T. Martin, Hardin-Simmons, and William Mann, Arizona.

Big Names Drop From Sight In Miami Open

MIAMI, Fla., March 8 (AP)—Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, and Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., today joined Ed Furgol, Pontiac, Mich., and Ellsworth Vines, Los Angeles, in the finals of the $10,000 Miami International Four-Ball Golf tournament.

Ferrier and Middlecoff eliminated the team of Herman Keiser, Akron, O., and Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., 2 and 1, after Furgol and Vines had won over Dick Metz, Arkansas City, Kans., and Skip Alexander, Southern Pines, N. C., 4 and 3.

Ferrier and Middlecoff had to play off their quarter final match with Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, and Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, this morning after they had finished in a deadlock after 36 holes yesterday.

With Locke and Mangrum out of the tournament, nearly all the big names were missing. Jimmy Demaret went down in the second round with young Jack Burke, Jr., after Ben Hogan was forced out because of an old back ailment. Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., another "name" player, was eliminated opening day.

1929 TEXAS?

Opening Day In Oil Belt Ball Loop April 18

LEVELLAND, March 8. (Spl.)—Joe Holmes of Lubbock, co-owner of the Sport Center, was elected president of the Oil Belt Baseball League for the 1948 diamond season at a luncheon meeting here Sunday.

Holmes, long active in sports throughout West Texas, succeeds D. O. McAdoo of Seminole, president last year.

E. W. Wilgus of Brownfield was elected vice president of the league, as league officials created a position never filled previously.

And Lomer Nelson of Littlefield was elected secretary-treasurer replacing Lois Vestal of Levelland.

Charles Didway of Brownfield was appointed league statistician.

The loop officials, representing teams from Seagraves, Sundown, Post, Slaton and Levelland, also voted into membership Denver City, Littlefield and Brownfield. The addition of these three teams makes the Oil Belt loop an eight-team league.

Play in the diamond loop will begin on April 18, with the regular season ending on Aug. 28. Vestal, who served as acting chairman of the Sunday luncheon meeting, said that a Shaughnessy playoff would follow the regular season.

League Meets Sunday

Tex Carleton, the former St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, and Bill Merkel of Abernathy, also a former pro player, were directed to contact Milton E. Price of Dallas in regards to drawing up a playing schedule.

The official 1948 playing schedule probably will be made public at the next meeting of the league, which will be a noon luncheon meeting on Sunday in Brownfield.

All games in the Oil Belt league will be played on Sundays, with a doubleheader on July 4.

A group of 35 men from all eight league teams was present.

Lubbock's Ladies Bowling Team Leading In San Angelo Tourney

SAN ANGELO, Mar. 8 (Special) —The PlaMor Lanes' ladies bowling team from Lubbock was entrenched firmly in first place in the bowling tournament being staged here, after a week end of lane activity.

The PlaMor five of Artie Galloway, Alene Hilton, Silver Behrens, Irene Daniels and Nita Piercy, the latter a San Angelo bowler, had rolled up a total of 2,464 and first place.

Also in the running was the Benton Oil company five of Katherine Tate, Herbie Ranton, Lenora Roberts, Marcelle Curlee and Billie Maslovar, all of Lubbock. They rolled a total of 2,368.

Miss Hilton and Miss Galloway, rolling in the doubles, were in second place with a total of 1,086, while Miss Daniels and Miss Roberts were in third place, one pin behind, with 1,085.

Bad Weather Stalls First Hubber Drill

DALLAS, March 8. (AP)—Cold, threatening weather kept the Dallas Rebels indoors on their first day of Spring training today.

The Rebels and players from farm clubs Austin, Lubbock and Odessa will go through a light drill tomorrow, weather permitting.

Manager Jackie Sullivan, disappointed at the delay in opening training, is prepared to meet his six assigned rookies tomorrow in the opening drills.

Reserved Ducats On Sale

On hand will be three outfielders, two catchers and a pitcher, with one of the outfielders also doubling as a moundsman. Four of the rookies have had experienced in organized ball, while one man has played independent ball in Dallas for two years and the other comes into the diamond sport directly from high school.

Hubber rookies will include outfielders, Sam Haughwout, Frank Cobo and Frank Boothe, catches Isic Secrest and Arthur Altizer and pitcher George "Cotton" Russell. Haughwout also is a hurler.

The Hubber management still has reserved seat tickets for sale by the season, with tickets selling at $50. This is a saving of $20 per seat over the course of the 70-game regular season, or approximately 27 cents a game. General admission tickets sell for 75 cents each.

Reserved seat tickets may be bought at the Hub Clothiers.

Carter Is Pin Tourney Champ

Sam Carter of Lubbock, who rolled a 1,692 on the opening day of the Second Annual Lubbock Bowling Classic, was named the winner Sunday night, when his high total was not topped by any of the other bowlers.

Carter, after posting his three-game score, watched other opponents vie for top honors, but saw his closest competitors fall 59 pins short of equalling his mark. Several scores resulted in violent changes Sunday, the final night of the tourney.

Cooper Finishes Second

Only three Lubbock keglers remained in the top ten, for which $1,500 in prizes were given, with Carter being followed by M. A. Cooper, second in the tourney, and Leroy Behrens, fourth in the tourney with a total of 1,572.

The first ten, in order, were Carter; Cooper, second, 1,633; Buster Gunderson, Carlsbad, N. M., third, 1,580; Behrens, fourth; Jay O'Keefe, Amarillo, fifth, 1,565; Terrell Matthews, Odessa, sixth, 1,550; Peck Wight, Abilene, seventh, 1,542; Jack Kanto, Carlsbad, eighth, 1,542; Howard Braun, Trinidad, Colo., ninth, 1,539; and E. B. Dozier, Big Spring, tenth, 1,535.

The tournament, sponsored by KSEL, ran for three weeks during which time bowlers from New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and Texas fought it out for top honors.

Trophy Given Carter

Carter's total pin score brought him $500 in cash and a handsome trophy, while the other place men received from $25 to $350. All bowling was done on the Lubbock Bowling club lanes.

Although they sometimes prayed to horses, American Indians treated them cruelly as a rule.

Candidates For Tech Golf Team Get Call

Prospective golf team members at Texas Tech received good news yesterday afternoon, when Athletic Director Morley Jennings, who also doubles as golf coach, announced that competitive tryouts would begin this week.

Jennings posted notice on the bulletin board in the Tech gym that golfers could shoot qualifying scores at the Lubbock Country club on Thursday and Friday afternoons. All play will be over an 18-hole distance, with the first tee-off due to begin at 2:30 p. m.

Tech golfers will face an active season, including Southwest Conference and Border Conference competition, with the first official meet of the season set for March 25.

NEW SWIMMING POOL STARTED

Ground-Breaking Ceremony Is Held At Lubbock Boys Club

First ground was broken Monday afternoon for construction of a swimming pool and expansion of the Lubbock Boys' club at 2323 Ave. K, as representatives from practically every civic and service organization of the city looked on.

Approximately 150 persons attended the ground-breaking ceremony, conducted on the Boys' club grounds with Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Avalanche-Journal, presiding as master of ceremonies.

Wielding shovels in the ground-breaking were: Mrs. Retha Martin, who with her husband and Dunlap company contributed $24,000 to the swimming pool; Chris Lightholder, business manager of the Lubbock Building Construction Trades council, which will contribute as much labor as possible toward construction of the pool and building; and Guy Gilstrap and Ray Givens, of he G. & G. Construction company, who are donating services as contractors on the job.

Invocation was given by Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Rex Webster, president of the Rotary club, led the audience in singing of "America."

Dr. J. William Davis, representing the Lions club; Tommy Elliott, 14, charter member of the Boys' club; and Dr. Marshall Harvey, president of the club's board of directors, made brief talks. Dr. Harvey revealed that the board plans similar clubs in other sections of Lubbock in future years.

Young Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Elliott, 1922 Ave. O, who joined the club when he was 10 years old, told briefly of the benefits he derived from being a member of the club.

All three of Lubbock's radio stations transcribed the ceremonies for re-broadcast this afternoon and tonight.

Immediately following the ceremonies, the crowd gathered around a large power shovel as it took first bites into the ground on the swimming pool site. Excavation of the swimming pool will be donated by the R. H. Fulton company.

Prior to the ceremonies, approximately 100 persons were guests of the American Business club at a buffet luncheon in the Boys' club at noon. The American Business club is sponsoring group for the Boys' club and most of its fund-raising projects are carried on in behalf of the club.

New Experiment In Stage Production Offered At Baylor

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WACO, March 8—Baylor theater opened new doors of stage production tonight with the first showing of a play weavin, film sequences in the stage performance.

Stage characters in "The Eleven Lives of Leo" talk and argue with the characters on the screen. Moving pictures have had the advantage of being able to leap beyond the limits of set and time imposed in stage production. This new technique ignores those limits.

Written By New York Man

The play was written by A. B. Shiffrin, New York. Samuel Leve, also of New York, got hold of it, envisioned the movie sequences and contacted Paul Baker, director of the Baylor university theater here.

"If it's experimental, we'll try it," Baker said. Two months ago the work began.

Theater groups took notice of the Baylor group first when the school's swivel-chaired theater was opened. The square room has three stages. Spectators can shift scenes merely by twisting their chairs toward another stage.

Tonight's production utilizes only one stage. Seven film sequences are flashed on flat backdrops. The play is the story of a war hero who came back home and spun tales of glory to keep his 10-year-old daughter impressed. Four of the film sequences are fantasies—the child's dreams of her hero father. Three are flashbacks from the father—what really happened.

A musical score on recordings bridges into and out of the scenes.

The characters are portrayed by drama students at Baylor except for the small daughter. She is Martha Montgomery, 10, daughter of a Waco carpenter.

THIS SPRING?

Russian-U. S. War Claimed Inevitable

ABILENE, March 8 (AP)—Archduke Otto, heir to the Hapsburg throne, said in an interview here today that a war between the United States and Russia is inevitable.

"It may be spring," the 33-year-old Austrian said, "or it may be two years away. But certainly, it is coming."

He said he agreed with Sen. Kenneth McKellar that the U. S. should serve notice on Russia that one more aggression would mean war.

"That would give us a short time of peace," he said.

Sweden or Greece, he said, would be next on the Red timetable, and that the only hope held by Europe's people is a sort of grim faith in American aid.

The archduke was here to address the Knife and Fork club tonight.

Burglaries Here Are Investigated

A reported theft of an automobile last night was broadcast to law enforcement patrols, as investigation was continued by police and the sheriff's department of several burglaries over the week-end.

Mrs. G. R. Saverance, of 2510 Twenty-fifth street, told police about 10:30 o'clock last night that a 1947 maroon Plymouth sedan was stolen from Main street and Ave. O. She said that the car was locked.

A 21-year-old Lubbock man was held for investigation, officers said, in connection with burglary at Behren's Drug company, 602 Broadway, after he allegedly had been observed by Moore's Bonded patrol to break into a truck and take several properties from it.

Cases Are Reported

Burglaries and loot reported:

Behrens Drug company, nothing believed taken, although "force was attempted on a safe and on an automatic drink dispenser.

The golf professional's workshop at Lubbock Country club, $6 in money, a quantity of checks and papers important to Herbert Schroeder, the professional. Entrance was at a north door.

Clark's Drug store, at 1702 Broadway, where an incomplete list of loot was announced. Entrance was through the roof. A ventilator was pulled loose and a hole kicked in the ceiling. Several fountain pens were taken, police announced after a preliminary investigation.

At 1005 Texas Ave., nothing was believed taken, C. L. Morris said.

Hugh Cordell reported to the sheriff's department that a hasp had been pried loose and a lock taken at Thirty-fourth and Ave. Q, but that he believed there had been no entrance. A screwdriver was used, police were informed.

The man held allegedly attempted to break into a place in 1200-block Ave. E before he was arrested, police reports said. He was said to have been carrying a heavy bar.

A case of wall board, two flashlights and a blackjack were in his possession when arrested, police said.

Thefts Are Reported

Thefts reported were: Clothing valued at $55 from Mrs. E. H. Link of 2308 Third; hub caps valued at $8.75 from Don King, at 1602 Ave. K; $10 worth of property from the car of U. S. Beechly of 1807 Fourteenth; a $75 .22-caliber automatic pistol from the car of Tommie Bumpass of 1524 Thirtieth; a $40 bike from J. W. Jackson of 2205 Twenty-fourth.

Le Roy Ostrander, 24, of 116 Ave. T, was released late yesterday by the sheriff's department after posting a $1,000 bond in Lubbock county in connection with a hit-run accident west of the city March 2, and a $500 bond in connection with a misdemeanor theft charge in Lynn county. He also paid a fine of $100 and cost on a charge of appearing in a public place while intoxicated, records at the sheriff's office showed.

According to officials, R. T. Watson, 36, of Hale Center, paid a $50 fine and county court costs on a drunk driving assessment.

Officers were also investigating a reported theft of a billfold containing $25 and personal papers from the residence of Charles E. Bailey, Lubbock route 3. The house had been entered during the early part of Monday, the report indicated.

Life On Mars

growths that require very little water and can put up with extreme heat and cold. You can find them on desert rocks.

Transparency Noted

Comparison of infra-red photographs of such growths on earth, and those of the green spots on Mars, led Dr. Kuiper to believe they might be the same. He announced this first the night of Feb. 17 at the observatory jointly operated by the Universities of Texas and Chicago.

Studies of the Mars atmosphere to determine how transparent it is to the deadly ultra-violet rays of the sun led Dr. Kuiper to say:

"The observations confirmed photographs taken many years ago in California.

Icy Haze Possible

"The explanation proposed is that Mars atmosphere is always filled with an icy haze in which denser clouds form at night or even before sunset."

These are not opaque like earth clouds, "but are transparent to red light."

"This haze will certainly filter out a good part of the dangerous ultraviolet radiations still left, after the known carbon dioxide absorbs the extreme part of the ultraviolet."

Animal Life Improbable

One thing that has bothered scientists about the possible existence of high forms of plant and animal life on Mars is what would strain out lethal ultra-violet rays from the sunlight. Dr. Kuiper's statement underlined the word "proposed" in the talk about the density of the ice haze.

This is what the scientist had to say in summing up:

"The McDonald studies have thus shown the presence of both carbon dioxide and small quantities of water, and green areas consistent with the presence of mosses and lichens. They have also amplified the work at Mount Wilson observatory where oxygen was found to be absent in the Mars atmosphere, because no traces of Martian ozone were found.

"The question of animal life is unsettled but it is extremely improbable that highly developed animals could exist in the rigorous climate of Mars in the absence of a detectable amount of oxygen."

Dr. Kuiper underlined "unsettled."

Truman Would Run

tine conversation:

"It affects the security of the nation and possibly of the world. The President will continue to handle the problem without consideration of its effect on politics."

First southern reaction to Mr. Truman's announcement that he would run came from Senator Johnston (D-SC), who said:

"I'm for General Marshall or General Eisenhower. I believe either can be elected hands down. As it stands, I don't see how Truman possibly get the solid South."

Meanwhile, a top-heavy House vote beat today a proposal to withhold federal funds from states discriminating against negroes.

But the members averted a record vote on the controversial anti-discrimination amendment, which goes well beyond President Truman's civil rights program.

Bill Sent To Senate

The test was on an amendment to the $1,017,851,000 appropriation bill financing the Labor department, the Federal Security agency and several other agencies for the fiscal year 1949.

The amendment was offered by Rep. Marcantonio (Am.Lab.-NY). It was defeated by a standing vote of 119 to 40.

Then the House by voice vote passed the bill without change and sent it to the Senate.

Some Republicans said before the measure came up that they didn't want to get this far into the civil rights fight between President Truman and southern Democratic leaders.

GOP Solon Urges Caution

One GOP member said his party was glad to see the Democrats divided. But if the Republicans got behind today's measure, he said, the South might get madder at them than it is at the President.

It might, he added, "have the effect of bringing the warring Democrats back together in a united fight against the Republicans."

The parliamentary situation made it impossible for Marcantonio to obtain a roll-call vote on his amendment, which was similar to one rejected last week by the appropriations committee.

There were no other speeches, either for or against the amendment. It would have withheld approximately $170,000,000 from states which, in operating projects financed by those funds, fail to offer equal educational and job opportunities to all persons.

Newsmen Startled

Reporters crowding the White House lobby were obviously startled when McGrath announced, after the 90-minute conference, that the President's hat is in the ring for a first term in his own right.

Mr. Truman, who took over the presidency upon the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt nearly three years ago, had been expected to wait until shortly before the national convention in July before making his decision known.

After relaying the President's remarks on Palestine, McGrath said:

"I assume the President is speaking for the policy of our government. The President has assured me that our original position of backing up decisions of the United Nations had not and will not be changed."

McGrath said he asked Mr. Truman about his intention to run "in response to numerous requests of Democratic leaders throughout the country."

One reporter asked if the announcement came as a result of "rumors that some of the big city bosses want to dump the President."

McGrath waived the question aside, saying: "I'm glad as national chairman that this statement puts at rest all these rumors."

"Did you discuss a vice-presidential candidate?" asked newsmen.

McGrath laughed, turned to Sullivan and said, "my gosh, we forgot that."

As to Mr. Truman's chances this year, McGrath was brief but breezy.

"Oh sure," he said. "He'll be elected."

Sullivan added: "The President's stock is going up."

Experiment Started To Combat Diseases Of Heart, Arteries

CHICAGO, March 8 (AP)—You can escape high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries, many heart specialists believe, simply by the right manner of living.

The big sticker is: What is the right manner of living?

Members of the Chicago Heart association were told tonight the answer may come from long-range studies underway on 500 "normal" men at the University of Minnesota.

Human Beings Tested

Dr. Ancel Keys, professor of physiology at the university, said in a paper prepared for the association:

"Some people develop these diseases early in life while others live to a ripe old age with little or no difficulty in this regard. There may be a hereditary factor but this does not seem to be large. It must be agreed that somehow, the manner of living is what makes the difference."

In the university studies, the human guinea pigs range from 18 to 54 years old. They have various occupations, diets, physical characteristics and habits of physical activity and emotions.

Their characteristics of body structure and emotional response are measured in a large number of special tests and examinations. Their personal habits and manners of life was recorded. These examinations are repeated annually.

Methods Not Developed

The tests are expected to disclose what type of living brings the trouble on and what the first signs are trouble is developing.

The Minnesota experiments were started over a year ago and will run for several years. The program is sponsored by the U. S. Public Health service and is endorsed by various medical groups.

"As yet there is not even the beginning of a science of preventive medicine with regard to high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries," Dr. Keys said. "Once the factors in the mode of life and personal characteristics are identified, we can start talking about how to live so as to avoid the biggest danger most of us must face."

MacArthur Willing

seek or covet any office and have no plans for leaving my post in Japan, I can say, with due humility, that I would be recreant to all my concepts of good citizenship were I to shrink because of the hazards and responsibilities involved from accepting any public duty to which I might be called by the American people."

The 68-year-old general said he was "deeply grateful" for the "spontaneous display of friendly confidence" by those who filed his name in the Wisconsin primary next April 6.

In addition to the Wisconsin move in his behalf, Hearst newspapers have begun a "MacArthur for America" boom, seeking his nomination as Republican candidate for the presidency.

Until his public statement today, General MacArthur had not committed himself in any way—refusing to say whether he would accept a nomination.

Statement Is Issued

The full text of his statement:

"I have been informed that petitions have been filed in Madison signed by many of my fellow citizens of Wisconsin, presenting my name to the electorate for consideration at the primary on April 6. I am deeply grateful for this spontaneous display of friendly confidence. No man could fail to be profoundly stirred by such a public movement in this hour of momentous import, national and international, temporal and spiritual.

"While it seems unnecessary for me to repeat that I do not actively seek or covet any office and have no plans for leaving my post in Japan, I can say, and with due humility, that I would be recreant to all my concepts of good citizenship were I to shrink because of the hazards and responsibilities involved from accepting any public duty to which I might be called by the American people."

Mr. Truman's willingness to accept the Democratic nomination was made known by Senator J. Howard McGrath, chairman of the Democratic national committee, after a White House conference with the President.

Senator Holland (D-Fla) said Mr. Truman "will have plenty of trouble in the South—some support but a great deal of opposition."

Senator Eastland (D-Miss), one of the leaders in the Dixie civil rights revolt, told reporters:

"I'm going along with the Democratic party of Mississippi. Our course is clear."

Mississippi Democrats already have made plans to prevent the state's electoral vote from going to Mr. Truman.

In the opinion of Senator Brewster (R-Me), MacArthur's announcement will have considerable effect on the presidential campaign.

MacArthur is direct and forceful, Brewster continued and "the Russians understand that." He added, however, that "I am not saying that is what we need or want."

Sen. George (D-Ga): said "General MacArthur is one of the outstanding military men and administrators developed by this war. Otherwise I have no comment."

With a Dewey-Stassen-MacArthur fight slated for Wisconsin in April, Republicans awaited a Dewey-Stassen test in New Hempshire today.

Also in New Hampshire there are two delegate-candidates still booming Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower; one other is running as a supporter of Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

Dewey advisers are urging that he hurry out to Wisconsin to build up strength for the primary there. If he does, they say, he may make a sweep like the one he made in Wisconsin four years ago, leading to his first ballot nomination at the convention. If he doesn't, they say he might end in a close stand-off with Stassen or Gen. MacArthur.

J. E. Grinstead, Writer, Claimed

KERRVILLE, March 8 (AP)—J. E. Grinstead, 81, former Kerrville publisher, legislator and author of western fiction, died today at Kerrville general hospital following a long illness.

He was one of the most colorful personalities of the hill country.

Grinstead was born in Owensboro, Kentucky, coming to Missouri with his parents, the late William and Marinda Elizabeth Grinstead, when only a year old. The family settled in Pettis, Mo., and moved to the Indian territory in 1884.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be at Whitesboro.

U. S. SOLDIER SHOT BY RUSSIAN SENTRY

VIENNA, March 8. (AP)—U. S. Army authorities said today that Pfc. Jack Grunden, 18, Portland, Ore., was shot in the back last night after refusing to obey a Russian order to get off a sidewalk.

They described the incident as the "boldest act yet perpetrated against a member of the occupation forces in Vienna by a Russian soldier."

The shooting occurred in front of a Russian headquarters hotel in the international district. The American will recover but may lose his left arm, the provost marshall's office said.

The official account said:

Grunden was walking with Pfc. Joseph Harper and Pvt. Sam Adelman (home towns unknown) and three Austrian girls in front of the Grand hotel. A Russian sentry ordered the soldiers into the gutter and the Americans refused. The sentry then pushed one of the soldiers, who pushed him back. Thereupon the sentry called another sentry from inside the hotel.

The second sentry struck Grunden with his gun, knocking him to his knees. While the American still was on the ground, the sentry fired a shot into his back. Another entered Grunden's arm, smashing the elbow.

Harper and Adelman—unarmed according to U. S. Military regulations— and the three girls ran to the American-occupied Bristol hotel two blocks away as the Russians fired over their heads.

Grunden still was on the ground and the Russians had made no effort to give first aid when an ambulance arrived 45 minutes later.

State Is Asked To Recognize Private Ownership Of Water

PLAINVIEW, March 8 (AP)—West Texans today asked the state to recognize underground water as belonging to the owner of the land under which it is found.

The request was made in a resolution by more than 700 farmers and other representatives of the high plains irrigation belt at a one-day meeting here today. It was called by the Texas Farm Bureau federation.

Underground water, the resolution said, should be recognized "the same as oil, gas, sulphur and other underground resources."

It was further urged that districts be created for underground water control and such districts be completely under local control.

The resolution asked that agriculture take precedence over other industries in the use of underground water.

Survivors are two sons, Ira R. Stewart, Little Rock, Ark., and Charles, of Brookshaven, Miss.; one daughter, Mrs. W. R. Dorsey, of 1506 Ave. U; and seven grandchildren.

The body will be sent to Little Rock today for services and burial.

State Chaplain Talks At Legion Meeting

Allen Brothers Post No. 148 of the American Legion held its regular semi-monthly meeting at the Legion hall last night with about 125 persons in attendance. Feature of the evening was the address of Rev. Alan Harvey-Brooks of Borger, state chaplain of the department of Texas.

Chaplain Harvey-Brooks spoke on the history and achievements of the Legion during its 29 years of existence, it's organization in France at the close of World War I by a group of men headed by the late Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, jr., establishment of the first veterans hospital in the United States by the American Legion at Legion, Tex., soon thereafter, and later accomplishments which include the drafting and pushing through Congress of the "G. I. Bill of Rights." The chaplain said that the American Legion has spent more money for child welfare than any other group in the United States, and sponsors more Boy Scout troops than any organization with the sole exception of the Methodist church.

Other business of the meeting included creation of a youth council in which all the Legion's work for boys and girls, including child welfare will be coordinated. Post Commander H. J. McCabe appointed former Rep. James M. Goodman to be chairman of this group.

An intensive membership campaign will get underway by the Legion at a kickoff breakfast next Monday at 8 o'clock at the Hotel Lubbock.

Compromise On Suit

had approved the consolidation, 13 to 0, Idalou 3 to 0, court minutes reflected.

New Auditor Approved

Other business transacted:

Appointment by the two district judges of Mrs. Jessie Lee Boone as chief deputy county auditor to replace Miss Helen Hart, resigned after 19 years in that office to accept employment elsewhere at a higher salary was approved by authorizing her salary.

A contract was made with Orville McDaniel for removal of five houses and seven toilets from right of way in precinct 4 on a new highway project, on a bid of $1,085, which is to be paid when work is completed.

The court agreed to assume expense of constructing a concrete culvert approximately 52 feet long, four feet wide and 18 inches high under U. S. Highway 84 at Thirty-fourth street on the west side of the proposed new North and South Ave. A highway if the land required is dedicated to the public.

Other Work Okayed

A contract was awarded to E. J. Wallace to repair boilers at the courthouse and jail, upon a bid of $338.33. The work is to commence immediately and will be paid for when completed.

Special orders were as follows:

To J. R. Fanning, on estimate 3 on a road contract, $1,094.38, in precinct 1; and $6,451.22 for estimate 3 for road construction in precinct 4; C. A. Tubbs, $49.25 for engineering in precinct 1, and $790.30 in precinct 3; $178.88 to Hub Lee Tire company for tires and tubes for precinct 3, and $295.90 to McWhorter's for tires and tubes for precinct 4.

The court authorized the purchase of an adding machine costing $258 for the courthouse.

County Judge Walter Davies presided. All commissioners, R. O. Short, Ben Mansker, Ottis Isom and Pat Corley, were present. County Clerk Louie F. Lloore acted as clerk of the court.

reliable information, members of the Communist party, are now working within the student body and, possibly, within the faculty. They are attempting to destroy or to create continual unrest," the letter continued.

Whites Claimed Involved

(In releasing copies of the letter, Murphy told reporters the Communists he refers to are white persons and not students or faculty members of the university.)

"It has been only through the grace of the natural conservative of the negro citizens of Texas that the Communists have been prevented success in this program," Murphy wrote. "You and the Texas legislature owe it to all of the people of Texas to render every assistance to this university now struggling for its very existence."

Conditions Scored

"I say the national and international conditions make it imperative we take corrective steps now," Murphy concluded.

The letter also was critical of progress made by the university's board of directors since the school opened last September.

Murphy told the governor the appearance of the campus "is most discouraging," that selection of a permanent president should be made in the very near future, that too much emphasis is being placed on vocational courses, and that the school has no dean of men nor dean of women.

G. N. Paul, Early Day Trail Driver, Dies In San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, March 8 (AP)—G. N. Paul, early day trail driver who Sunday observed his 92nd birthday anniversary, died tonight at 10 o'clock in a San Angelo hospital.

Paul came to San Angelo in 1888 from Kerrville, arriving here a day before the coming of the Santa Fe railroad. He spent many years driving herds up the trails to northern markets. He was born in Dallas county.

Survivors include six children, Gabe and Beatrice Paul and Mrs. Will Durham, all of San Angelo; Pete Paul of Corpus Christi and Jack Paul of Del Rio

Five charges were filed in connection with the weekend accidents: two for negligent collision, two for having no operator's licenses, and one for failure to yield right of way. One negligent collision Monday also involved failure to yield right of way.

Cotton Meeting Set

anized cotton production from planting of the seed through ginning. The demonstration will be conducted by experiment station staff members, under supervision of station superintendent Don L. Jones of Lubbock.

Top Speakers On Program

Conference speakers will include many of the country's foremost authorities on agriculture and crop mechanization, Aldrich said.

Holding the conference at Lubbock will give cotton industry members from other states an opportunity to study the highly mechanized operations on the High Plains of Texas, Lewis said in his announcement from College Station.

Already, he pointed out, some High Plains farmers have reduced the man-hour requirements for cotton production to 6.9 per acre. Aldrich, chairman of the permanent mechanization steering committee, which charted plans for the fall meeting, in Lubbock, advised Lewis that attendance at the 1948 conference is expected to exceed that of the first conference held last year at Stoneville, Miss. Nearly 1,000 representatives of agriculture, farm implement companies and governmental agencies attended the Stoneville meeting, Lewis said.

The complete program will be planned by a committee including T. P. Smith, head agricultural engineering department, Texas experiment station, College Station; Don L. Jones, superintendent, Texas experiment substation, Lubbock; H. H. Williamson, assistant director, federal extension service, Washington, D. C.; Frank P. Hanson, chairman, research committee, Farm Equipment institute, Chicago; Claude L. Welch, production and marketing director., National Cotton council, Memphis, Tenn.; Clifton Kirkpatrick, director, production section, National Cotton council, Memphis, Tenn.; W. O. Fortenberry, leading cotton ginner, Lubbock; Arthur W. Turner, assistant chief, bureau of plant industry, Beltsville, Md.; and a representative to be named by the Texas statewide cotton committee.

(Jones attended the Memphis meeting, it was said at the experiment substation last night).

Local hosts to the cotton council meeting will be Texas A. & M. college; the statewide cotton committee, and the Plains Ginners association.

Before adjourning, the steering committee voted to hold the 1949 mechanization conference in the southeastern states in keeping with the policy of rotating the meeting across the cotton belt.

line as General Douglas MacArthur and Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer: That economic help alone would be useless.

Omnibus Bill Pushed

A source close to the House Foreign Affairs committee said Marshall succeeded in at least one thing—getting GOP learers' promise to try for action on the European recovery bill by itself.

The committee, to the outspoken dismay of leading ERP backers, now is trying to write an omnibus bill including ERP, non-military aid to China and military aid to Greece and Turkey.

Marshall has proposed $570,000,000 for China and $275,000,000 for the other two countries. But his advisers say these projects should be left aside for the time being since debate on them is slowing the progress of ERP legislation.

Substitute Offered

Senator Taylor of Idaho meanwhile introduced a substitute for the ERP bill. As suggested by Henry A. Wallace, it would funnel this country's help to Europe through the United Nations. And it would rule out the use of aid funds for military expenditures.

Taylor has announced his candidacy for vice-president on Wallace's third party ticket.

The Latin-American loan was disclosed to the foreign affairs committee, which had asked the department what aid programs were to be proposed in addition to those already in the hopper.

a news conference that Paasikivi's secret reply to Stalin "might be sent to Moscow tomorrow."

The spokesman declined to say whether the Finns would attach any conditions or counter-proposals in connection with military provisions of the suggested pact.

A majority of the Finnish parliament had favored beginning the talks, but had opposed a military alignment with the Soviet Union on the grounds that a treaty with military clauses would place Finland solidly in Russia's eastern bloc against the west.

Of the six parliamentary groups asked by Paasikivi to express an opinion on the subject, only the Communist - dominated Popular Front had favored concluding a military agreement with Russia. The final decision to open negotiations rested with Paasikivi.

L. W. Wilson Dies Suddenly Monday Night At Abernathy

ABERNATHY, March 8 (Special)—L. W. Wilson, 79, a resident of Abernathy since September, died suddenly of a heart attack about 8 o'clock tonight at his home here.

Mr. Wilson came here from Long Beach, Calif., and also had formerly lived in Santa Fe, N. M., where he was employed by the New Mexico Tax commission.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from relatives, Sanders Funeral home of Lubbock reported. Burial is to be in Abernathy cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, two sons, Frank, who is a student at Mexico City university, Mexico, and Earl of New Orleans, La.; four daughters, Mrs. A. N. Brooks of Abernathy, Mrs. Effie McCracken, Taos, N. M., Mrs. A. C. Stults and Mrs. T. M. Holcomb, both of Long Beach; and a sister, Mrs. Jim Bain of Lubbock.

Sessions Held In Two Courts

A 99th district court jury was selected Monday morning for trial of the debt action of J. T. Rucker against Weldon L. Wines and others before Judge G. V. Pardue. Testimony commenced in the afternoon.

The Rucker-Wines and others jury is composed of Jim Gentry, V. L. McKinney, W. T. Miller, George Birdwell, J. H. Modawell, E. W. Maben, O. A. Brock, Fred Schroeder, E. E. French, A. F. Morton, J. L. Badley, and Marshall Cain.

Four Cases Passed

Sam Allred represents the plaintiff, and the firm of Lindsey, Smith and Brock represents the defendant.

Four other cases called for announcement were passed, and only one of them is expected to be tried this week. It is the divorce action of David D. Dane against Hastey Dane.

Judge Pardue dismissed the remainder of his jury panel.

A 72nd district grand jury was impaneled Monday morning at Levelland by Judge Dan Blair. The grand jury was convened at 10 a. m., and recessed at 6 p. m., until 9 a. m., today. A report of its investigation is expected late today. Boyd Rea of Anton is foreman.

Judge Blair also convened a civil jury. Three cases were disposed of, and others were reset to a criminal docket which is to be called March 22.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr, and John Edmisson, court reporter, also participated in the proceedings.

Rites For Mrs. White Set Today At Slaton

SLATON, March 8 (Special) — Mrs. Etta C. White, 79, of 355 South Ninth street, Slaton, a long-time resident here, died at her home about 6:40 a. m. Monday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p. m. Tuesday in the Presbyterian church here with Rev. George R. Hodges, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Englewood cemetery. Williams Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. White came here in 1916. Her late husband, Charlie White, was one of the early day developers of this city.

She had no immediate relatives. Mrs. Thelma Harrison of Slaton and Mrs. Nell Bufkin of Fort Worth are nieces, and Louis Primm is a nephew.

Stassen, Dewey Test

dent Truman is alone in the field.

A possible dark horse in the Republican race — although he doesn't want to be—is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Two men running as delegates are pledged to the General and his name will appear on the ballot.

The daily newspaper in the New Hampshire capitol — The Concord Monitor—estimated that more than $50,000 has been spent by Dewey and Stassen supporters in an attempt to get the Granite state's handful of only eight delegates. This is six times as much as has ever been spent before.

Gov. Charles M. Dale—a Dewey delegate—told a press conference this afternoon that he expected Dewey to win seven of the eight delegate seats.

Political observers here see in this primary a test too of the personalized campaign tactics of Stassen.

Anderson Claims Gains Made In Fight Against Cattle Disease

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 8 (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson today reported gains in the fight to control and eradicate foot and mouth disease among Mexican livestock.

"The disease," he told New Mexico cattle growers "has not been introduced into the United States, and we're not only holding the northern quarantine line, but we are about to push it farther south."

Anderson described the outbreak which occurred in Mexico in 1946 as "a threat to every U. S. farmer who owns a cloven-hooted animal . . . And to consumers as well as to business and industry."

Article Is Scored

The secretary referred to magazine criticism of the department's handling of the control program. He termed those articles "irresponsible charges by uninformed, self-appointed spokesmen."

Answering a charge of delay, Anderson said the joint U. S.-Mexico Commission headquarters was set up and operating three months after the first reported outbreak of the disease, despite delays in getting money from Congress.

The fact that Mexico isn't a part of the United States caused problems. He cited violent opposition to the slaughter program even as there had been in a 1924 outbreak in California.

Had Own Troubles

"We too had our difficulties in the past," he said, "just as our neighbors to the south are now having. Let's face the fact."

Anderson urged immediate establishing in the United States of facilities to develop a vaccine. He said:

"Slaughtering animals will not alone get rid of the disease since it can be re-introduced in areas where it has been eradicated. An effective vaccine is needed to keep the disease out once it is eradicated by slaughter . . ."

The selection of a site on the coast near a metropolitan center was suggested for ease of administration, enforcement of safeguards to prevent escape of the virus, ease of consultations and living conditions that will attract top research workers.

Two-Year-Old Puts On Climbing Stunt For Horrified Fans

NEW ORLEANS, March 8 (AP) — Two-year-old Charles (Butch) Gabrera likes to climb to high places.

In fact he's such a good climber that a crowd of hundreds blocked traffic here today when he gave his first public performance.

Butch horrified quickly gathering onlookers when he climbed up a fire escape and out onto the roof of a four-story building.

Atop the building, he teetered and giggled at the throng below.

Manuel Johnson, a spectator, and Policeman Sidney Terrebonne, Sr., rushed up the fire escape and retrieved Butch from his perilous perch.

Mrs. J. E. Helmet, Jr., the child's aunt, who lost him while she was buying a dress in the building, fainted when she heard what had happened.

Later, she said Butch always liked to climb. His father wants him to be "tough and no sissy," she said.

Butch's mother, Mrs. Charles T. Cabrera, said at home her son is very strong. "He has been getting a daily workout on his grandfather's ladder next door," she said.

Meanwhile, Butch was back home highly pleased over his adventure.

"Climbed high," he told his baby sister.

Maid Of Cotton Is Involved In Mixup, But Picture Taken

WASHINGTON, March 8 (U.P.)—Matilda Nail of Fort Worth, Tex., 19-year-old "maid of cotton" got an official welcome to the capital today despite a hitch in the ceremony.

Matilda, a University of Texas co-ed, came here on a four-day visit as part of a tour of the country and a visit to Europe. Her tour is under the auspices of the New York, New Orleans, and Memphis cotton exchanges, the Memphis Cotton Carnival and the National Cotton council.

Plans had been made for members of the Texas congressional delegation to greet her on the steps of the capitol. She was to be photographed and welcomed in royal fashion.

Finally Got Picture

But a cold March wind whipped across the capitol steps. The welcoming party decided that was no place to greet the "Maid of Cotton" and her escort, Jack Tunstill, also of Fort Worth, who has been designated "King of Cotton."

Hence, the welcoming took place in the capitol rotunda while photographers and reporters waited on the steps outside. The mixup eventually was straightened out and Matilda was suitably photographed.

She wore a gray cape and blue-checked suit and hat—all made of cotton, of course.

She will be the honor guest at a "cotton ball" to be given Wednesday night by the Texas, Mississippi and Tennessee state societies of Washington. She will leave for New York Thursday and then fly to Paris.

Plans For 'Parade Of Quartets' To Be Discussed By SPEBSQSA

Completed plans for the April 10 "Parade of Quartets" in Lubbock will be presented to the membership of the SPEBSQSA at the regular meeting of the organization tonight at 7 o'clock in the band room on the Texas Tech campus, it has been announced by officials.

All members of the organization are urged to be present for the important session.

DC-6 Planes To Resume Flights

WASHINGTON, March 8 (U.P.)—The 52 passenger, DC-6 luxury liners, which were grounded in November after two fires in flight, will begin returning to service a week from today with the government's safety stamp.

Civil Aeronautics Administrator T. P. Wright said the government had approved the modifications made in the big four-engine planes to eliminate fire hazards.

"I believe the DC-6 today, from an engineering viewpoint, represents one of the safest, finest and most advanced airline transports available for public service," Wright said.

Ninety-seven of the planes were modified at a cost of nearly $4,000,000, most of it borne by the builder, Douglas Aircraft Co. Domestic users of the plane are American, United, National and Braniff airlines.

American airlines will place its ships back in Transcontinental service March 15. United will resume San Francisco-Honolulu flights March 21 and coast-to-coast on April 1.

National airlines plans to place its planes in service between Miami and New York on March 25. Braniff expects to begin using them between Houston and Chicago early in April.

President Truman's personal DC-6, the Independence, will also be ready for operation about April 1. It is undergoing a regular 500-hour checkup in addition to the safety modification.

The big planes were grounded Nov. 12 after two of them caught fire in the air. The source of the fires was overflowing gasoline which was sucked into the cabin heating mechanism while being transferred from alternate to main tanks.

The first fire took place over Bryce Canyon, Utah, Oct. 24, and sent a United Airlines DC-6 down in flames with a loss of 52 lives. On Nov. 11, a flaming American Airlines DC-6 made an emergency landing at Gallup, N. M., without injury to its 25 occupants.

Identity Of Writer Of Check Without Signature Sought

Identity of writer of a check is being sought.

P. F. Brown, who for years has directed the business of Lubbock Cemetery association, received a $24 check on the Lubbock First National bank, dated Dec. 15, endorsed "For care of cemetery lot for 1947."

But the check was not signed, and efforts to determine who had written it have failed.

Brown asked that newsmen attempt to help him publicize the "oversight" so that the person who attempted to pay for the service may do so and be accredited.

Jester Turns Down Clemency Requests

AUSTIN, March 8 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester today rejected three recommendations of the Board of Pardons and Paroles for three clemencies.

In each case they were rejected because of local objections from peace officers or others to the clemency. The clemencies were rejected for:

Jewell Fairchild, Wilbarger county, sentenced to serve nine years for robbery with firearms. The sentence started Nov. 6, 1945.

James Webb, Harris county, sentenced to 25 years for assault to rape. The sentence started July 19, 1936.

Colquit Thomas, Hunt county, sentenced to serve 18 years for burglary of a residence at night. The sentence started Feb. 11, 1942.

Jester also granted the usual 30-day constitutional reprieve for Willie Sims, convicted of rape in Harris county and sentenced to death. Sims had been scheduled to die in the electric chair March 26. The new execution date is April 25.

Morgenthau Urges Immediate Aid To Jews In Palestine, Europe

DALLAS, March 8 (AP)—American Jews can show now how much they want to help their fellows in Palestine and Europe, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., declared.

The former secretary of the treasury spoke yesterday to Jewish leaders from four states. He is now general chairman for United Jewish appeal.

He said help should be given while the United Nations debates the Jewish question.

"A dollar now is worth five dollars next September," he said.

Leading Citizens Of Russia Seem To Be Backsliding In Teachings Of Karl Marx

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 8. —Some leading comrades in Soviet Russia, which wants to make the world safe for Communism steppe by steppe, appear to be getting out of step themselves with Karl Marx, their apostle.

And capitalistic flyspecks keep showing up in the Red paradise of promised plenty.

Here are a few signs of the collisions between human nature and dialectical materialism which recently have annoyed the toiling proletarians of the Kremlin:

(1) Moscow's Bolshio opera ballet theatre went over its budget by 150,000 rubles.

Hoarding Is Charged

(2) One motion picture studio gave Hollywood an example in efficiency by spending three years making a film that is still unfinished.

(3) Finance Minister Arseny G. Zverev complained some Soviet ministries were doing a lousy job of building new factories, were lying about their accomplishments and hoarding materials.

(4) The education ministry bawled out Soviet scientists for studying the birth rate of spiders instead of vital agricultural problems. They also were told to quit looking in their test tubes for extraneous facts and spend more time proving Karl Marx's theories of the class struggle.

(5) The American military government in Berlin charged that while Soviet bigwigs were sneering at "dollar diplomacy" they were active in the German black market trying to cadge all the dollars they could in order to buy more needed goods from other countries.

Pupils Go To Church

(6) The Soviet youth newspaper sadly asserted that Russians young people are now dancing the Khazachek in a "decent manner."

(7) Critics lambasted leading Soviet composers for sticking to a classical style and renewed their campaign to make American jazz music much less popular with the Russian masses.

(8) The Soviet army newspaper griped that too many of its marching songs were "lyrically peaceful, passive and sometimes vulgarly philistine." It suggested that the composers get out and spend some time with the troops.

(9) Eugene Varga, top-ranking Soviet economist, was tossed out of his post for daring to express the non-Marxian belief that the capitalistic countries weren't collapsing.

(10) In Soviet Estonia the Rahva Haal newspaper regretfully noted that "many pupils go to church." It blamed this on teachers who failed "to combat such superstition with appropriate enlightenment" in the Marxist-Leninist spirit.

An odd thing about most of these cases of Communist backsliding is that the guilty wretches come from the most favored classe in the "classless society"—the well-paid intellectuals and managers of the Soviet system.

Finely ground peanuts sprinkled on the batter of a white cake before it is baked saves frosting and gives delicious flavor.

Clifton Haynie Is Honored As Jaycees' 'Man Of The Month'

"Man of the Month" recognized by Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday at its luncheon in Hilton hotel was Clifton Haynie, who served as chairman for the "Fun for You" program which netted the Junior Chamber of commerce about $850 last month.

Haynie is employed by Aetna Life Insurance Co.

Roy Forkner, club president, presided at the luncheon.

New members who were the first to take part in the new orientation period conducted last week for purpose of study of aims, purposes and background of the Jaycees were introduced.

Hugh Rowland, personnel chairman, explained the new procedure for orientation of new members.

A. I. Glassman and John Austin sugested the Jaycees sponsor a nero nursery and a committee was appointed to investigate possibility. Members are Bill Shook, chairman, Marvin Hilburn, jr., Jesse B. Gordon, and P. L. Payne, jr.

New members presented who had completed orientation, were Hoyse McMurtry, Pat Wiman, Bill Cassteveris, Hardy Ballew, Lee Heatley, Charles Dvoracek, Volney Rush, Ed Libby, Willie Streicher, Delton Pemberton, Paul L. Payne, jr., Roy Kinney and Walter Walker.

Rulings Are Given On Spacing On Area Wells By Commission

AUSTIN, March 8 (AP)— A temporary rule requiring wells be spaced 5,280 feet apart and 1,320 feet from any property line in the Madisonville gas field, Madison county, was adopted by the Railroad commission today.

Commissioner Olin Culberson dissented from the order signed by Commission Chairman Ernest Thompson and Commissioner William J. Murray Jr.

Under the statewide oil rule a 20-acre spacing of wells is required, as compared to 640-acre spacing under the temporary rule for the Madisonville field.

The commission also entered an order requiring wells be spaced 933 feet apart and 330 feet from property lines in the Adair field, Gaines and Terry county.

A 40-acre proration unit was adopted temporarily for the field. Allowable is to be based 75 per cent on acreage and 25 per cent on number of wells.

Bids To Be Taken On Road Work

South Plains Projects Included In Program; Lower Costs Are Foreseen

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 8—The cost of all types of road improvement except bridge-building is headed downward in Texas.

That word came today from the State Highway department as it announced it would take bids March 30-31 on 645 miles of projects. It estimated their cost at $6,300,000.

Competition between contractors seeking road jobs is keener than it was several months ago, said D. C. Greer, State Highway engineer.

Steel Costs Still High

He found the February price average on road jobs was 26 per cent above the 1940 price index on all projects but bridges. The postwar peak was 81 per cent above 1940 prices. This was in the summer of 1946.

Greer said he thought the trend is down because of more extensive use of machinery and better-trained crews.

Bridge work is still high because of steel prices and because the nature of the work prohibits extensive replacement of hand labor with machines, the engineer said.

In the March 30-31 bidding, 293 miles of farm-to-market road construction is being submitted contractors. No bids will be asked during April. The next letting is set for May 11 and 12.

Area Projects Included

Projects for bidding March 30 (by counties):

Lubbock and Hale—18.66 miles farm 401 and 594, grading, structures, stabilized foundation course and asphalt surface treatment from junction with farm 54 to Cotton Center.

Castro and Lamb—16.18 miles farm 168 and 302, grading, structures, foundation course, base and asphalt surface from Hart to Olton and from Spring Lake school south to State 70.

Lubbock and Lynn—25.95 miles U. S. 87, extending structures and hot asphaltic concrete pavement from Lubbock to Lynn county line, from Tahoka to the Dawson county line.

(In addition to those in the South Plains area, other road projects throughout various sections of the state were included in the work upon which bids will be accepted. The projects over most of the state are similar to those in the South Plains section.)

INJURY VICTIM DIES

ELECTRA, March 8 (AP) — Raymond Youngblood, 43, one of three men injured in an oil field accident yesterday, died last night in a hospital here. Others injured were C. W. Graves, 41, Electra, back injury, and F. T. Wolfe, Wichita Falls, lacerations.

Salt is the world's most plentiful mineral.

Violinist To Play With Symphony

Playing tonight at 8 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium will be Lubbock Symphony orchestra in its fifth subscription concert. A violinist, Philip Williams of Southern Methodist university, is to be guest artist and will play "Concerto No. 2 in D minor" (Wieniawski) with the orchestra which is directed by William A. Harrod.

In addition to the Concerto, Mr. Williams will play Nigun (Bloch); The Flight of the Bumble Bee (Rimsky - Korsakoff); Beau Soir (Debussy - Heifitz); Jamaician Rhumba (Bennett); Caprice Viennois (Kreisler); Figaro from the opera "The Barber of Seville" (Rossini - Castelnueve - Tedesco). Piano accompaniment for the violinist wil be furnished by Aaron Leifer.

Tickets On Sale

Orchestra numbers are to be as follows: Overture, from "The Marriage of Figaro" (Mozart); Symphony No. 40, andante and menuetto movements (Mozart); Children's Prayer, from the opera "Haensel and Gretel" (Humperdinck); Humoresque (Tschaikowsky); Minuet (Boccherini); March Militaire (Schubert); Come Back to Sorrento (Italian folk song); Jealousy (Gade); Prelude in C sharp Minor (Rachmaninoff); and selections from "Finian's Rainbow" (Harburg-Lane).

Mr. Williams, violin department head at SMU, studied with Albert Spaulding at Julliard. He was concert master of the Dallas Symphony orchestra under Paul van Katwijk.

Concert tickets are being sold at Varsity Book store and at Adair's and South Plains Music stores.

REA LOANS GRANTED

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—The Rural Electrification administration today granted 11 loans totaling $4,127,000 to extend power service to more farms. The loans included Fayette Electric co-operative, LaGrange, Texas, $150,000.

VISITOR HERE TODAY — State Senator Fred (Red) Harris of Dallas is to be a visitor in Lubbock today. Among friends he will visit will be his old coach at Baylor university, Morley Jennings, under whom he played football and was selected as an all-conference end in 1930. He is one of the few four-letter athletes to be produced in the Southwest conference. Senator Harris was first elected to the Legislature in the 44th, 45th and 47th sessions and resigned in 1941 to become county commissioner of Dallas county. After six months in this office, he resigned and joined the United States Navy, where he served 3½ years aboard an aircraft carrier. He was a member of the crew of the U.S.S. Franklin, which wrote Naval history. He holds a Bronze Star, two Purple Hearts for wounds received in action, a Commendation ribbon and the Navy Cross for participations in six landings and sea battles in the Pacific. He was elected Senator from Dallas county after his return to civilian life.

Dean Allen To Attend Meeting At Dallas

James G. Allen, dean of men at Texas Technological college, will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Deans and Advisors of Men to be held in the Adolphus hotel in Dallas March 11-13, he announced Monday.

Southern Methodist university will be host to the associaiton which is meeting in Texas for the second time since its founding.

Current mutual problems will be discussed for the purpose of helping the deans and advisors to keep abreast of events taking place throughout the United States and the various methods being used to overcome individual problems, Dean Allen said.

While in Dallas, Dean Allen will speak on "The Alumni Chapter and Texas Tech," at a meeting of the Dallas chapter of the Alumni and ex-Students association of Texas Tech. D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the association will accompany him to the meeting, Dean Allen stated.

Paul White, graduate of 1938 and president of the senior class at Texas Tech, is president of the chapter.

Study Of Rural Aid School Problem Set

Group To Meet With Governor

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 8 —The $3,000,000 shortage threatening rural aid school teachers' salaries today commanded attention of the State Board of Education.

A three-member board committee was directed to confer with the governor, attorney general and officials of the state teachers association to see what could be done to pull rural-aid schools out of their financial tangle.

The rural aid fund shortage threatens to close needy rural-aid schools a month earlier or cut teacher salaries short of the state-required $2,000 unless supplemental funds can be found.

Situation Called Serious

Board Member C. C. Chessher of Junction, who moved board action, described the situation as "one of the most serious educational problems in Texas today."

"I don't profess to know what can be done," he declared, "but I would like to see the State Board of Education do something. We should let teachers know we are not ignoring that serious question."

Chessher said his motion intended no criticism of Gov. Beauford H. Jester for not calling a special session to relieve the shortage.

Legal Questions Raised

A special session had been suggested to the governor last month by the joint legislative committee and representatives of the state teachers association.

Jester turned aside the special session suggestions with a promise to refer the matter as an emergency to the 51st legislature, suggesting schools borrow the money needed this year. His suggestion raised questions whether schools could legally borrow against the good intentions of a future legislature and if a legislature's retroactive appropriations could be legal.

Chessher was named chairman of the board's committee which also includes Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland and R. B. Cousins of Austin.

Other action at the board's regular monthly meeting today included the purchase of $5,000,000 in bonds, much of which were from scattered independent school districts.

New Particles Claimed Milestone In Atom Research

Progress Made In Atomic Study

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERKELEY, Calif., March 8—Mesons—mighty atomic particles which may lead science into a great new domain of atomic energy—have been produced in the laboratory for the first time by the University of California's giant cyclotron.

This scientifically exciting achievement was announced today by Prof. Ernest O. Lawrence, cyclotron inventor, Nobel prize winner and key figure in the atom bomb development, and James B. Fisk, research director, for the Atomic Energy commission.

Called Great Advance

Although the scientists said no immediate practicable application towards producing atomic energy was in sight they agreed it was "one of the greatest milestones of all times in fundamental atomic research."

Eventually it may point the way to new and vastly more effective ways of converting matter into energy.

The mesons produced by the cyclotron turned out to be somewhat different than those observed in the cosmic rays, their only previous source. Two kinds of these particles, heavy and light, are produced.

Particles Not Detected

Heretofore the particles have been called both mesotrons and mesons, the terms being used interchangeably.

Scientists racing each other to be the first to produce these particles in their laboratories have said that the achievement would be the greatest advance in nuclear research since the discovery of uranium fission. That discovery in 1939 by German scientists led to the development of the atom bomb by Americans in 1945.

Actual realization that the big atom smashing machine has produced mesons came on the night of Saturday, February 21. Still later it was found that the cyclotron probably had been making these potent particles for a year. They had not been detected because of the inadequate means of observation.

The actual work was done by Dr. Eugene Gardner of the radiation laboratory staff and Dr. C. M. G. Lettes, a Brazillian scientist from the University of Sao Paulo.

$54,775 Is Sought In Damages Action Here

Judgment of $54,775 in damages was asked by Thomas A. Ward and others in an action filed Monday in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair, growing out of a March 28, 1946, motorcycle-automobile accident.

Named defendant was Henry B. Johnson.

Ward brought the suit individually and for the use and benefit of Roy Dean Vick, now Roy Dean Ward, a minor.

It alleged that Margie Nell Vick, 22, died after being hurled from the "buddy seat" of a motorcycle driven by Otho Bain, after the motorcycle and a car driven by the defendant's son, James Roy Johnson, had collided at Ruby and Washington Ave.

Roy Dean Vick was the victim's son. He since has been adopted by Ward, his grandfather, the suit alleged.

The suit was filed by Leo S. Hay, a Lubbock attorney.

Between 1890 and 1940, American college enrollments increased almost 10 fold.

Lubbock Man To Head Group

Bill Trenfield, son of Mrs. George Trenfield of 2115 Twenty-sixth street, a sophomore education major at Texas Technological college, was elected president of the Texas State Association of Future Teachers of America at its first annual meeting held at Howard Payne college in Brownwood the past weekend.

The Future Teachers association is a junior chapter of the Texas State Teachers association, which coordinates between teachers of the state and was organized for the purpose of raising the professional qualifications of teachers and standardizing their salaries and working conditions and works in conjunction with the National Education Association.

Other Officers Named

Other officers elected include vice president, John Forsey, Hardin-Simmons; secretary, Viola Allred, McMurry; and treasurer, J. N. Williams, Howard Payne.

Each college in the state has a FTA chapter and the various chapters are divided into regions which have an annual convention to elect delegates to attend the TSTA conventions for the purpose of familiarizing them with its aims and procedures.

The Texas Tech chapter, officially known as the Paul W. Horn chapter, sent nine delegates and the faculty sponsor to the meeting at Brownwood and approximately 200 delegates attended from throughout the state. L. B. Cooper, associate professor of education and psychology, is faculty sponsor to the Texas Tech chapter and Elizabeth Koch of San Antonio, field representative for the Texas Outlook and the TSTA, is state sponsor.

The 1949 convention will be held at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, Trenfield stated.

Ruhr Control Planned To Boost Factory Output For 'Cold War'

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Big Three have produced a scheme to secure intensified industrial production from the Ruhr for prosecution of the cold war without further partitioning or danger of German rearmament.

The program, which remains to be worked out in detail, would bring France into full partnership with the United States and Britain in the operation of western Germany, and the whole great Ruhr-Rhineland - Saar industrial concentration will be geared into the Marshall plan.

Great Progress Noted

Coupled with the progress at Brussels toward military and economic unification of Britain, France and the Benelux countries, the past week of negotiation probably represents the most profitable period since Germany surrendered.

The rough plan for the Ruhr provides that its revival shall be under control of the Big Three with Germans participating, probably through an expansion of the semi - autonomous government which already has been set up under allied supervision. Provision is also being made for the Benelux countries—Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, to have their say.

The size of Europe's total production in the next four years, including everything which can be exchanged abroad for food and raw materials, will determine the success or failure of the Marshall plan. The logical course to follow would seem to be to make the maximum use of every existing plant now, leaving reparations and even industrial disarmament to the time when we are about to return Germany's sovereignty.

Madisonville Opens Contest To Correct Tales About Texas

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's association, a famed Texas organization of bull throwers, today embark on another adventure.

This time the booted boys are trying to convince the world that what some out-of-state soldiers said about Texas ain't true.

"Recognizing that out-of-state men who trained in Army and Navy camps in Texas during the war went away denouncing the state, fluently and bitterly, the association is launching what it calls a national corrective campaign." So says H. B. Fox, who sees all, knows all and tells all about southeast Texas."

Pearl In The Oyster

And there's the pearl in the campaign oyster:

To the offspring of a Texas-trained, out-of-state veteran who writes the best letter on "Why my Daddy is Wrong About Texas," the cattlemen's association will give a free trip to Madisonville, and a week's visit on a nearby ranch, climaxed by the designation of honor guest at the association's annual barbecue, May 27.

"Just sit down and write us a letter, explaining why you know your daddy is wrong about Texas," the association says. "Get the letter to us by May 1. The writer of the best letter will receive a round-trip plane ticket and the cattlemen will do the rest when the winner lands.

"No strings are attached. You don't have to send us any bottle tops, old horseshoes, belt buckles, saddle blankets or your father's service patch—and we certainly wouldn't want any facsimiles."

Warborn Neuroses

Fox said officials of the sidewalk cattlemen feel that "the opinion out-of-state veterans is a warborn neurosis that would have developed equally against Rhode Island, West Virginia or New York, had a soldier trained there. The contention that Texas is a dull, flat, wind-swept, norther-bitten, sand-corroded, sun-blistered, insect-ridden place—designed to train men in so battle areas loom attractive in comparison—is an unforunate aftermath of world conflict."

"Thunder, there ain't nothing wrong with Texas—them veterans is confusin' us with second lieutenants," a member of the association added.

Address your letters, children, to the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's association, Madisonville, Texas.

One Of Oldest Music Dealers In Southwest Dies At Paris

PARIS, Tex., March 8 (AP)—Probably the oldest music merchant in the southwest, Henry P. Mayer, 83, is dead.

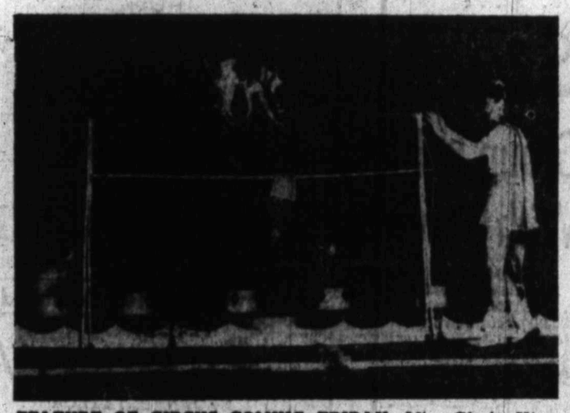

The prominent Paris businessman died last night. He had operated the Mayer music house here for 59 years.

Born in Kentucky, he had lived in Texas since he was 12 years old.

He was the first president of the Texas Dealers association and was formerly vice-president of the National Piano Dealers association.

At the time of his death he was president of the Paris sanitarium, chairman of the board of the First Federal Savings and Loan association, vice-president of the Liberty National bank here and a member of the board of the Paris-Mount Pleasant railroad.

He had served as a member of the Paris school board for more than 40 years.

Tickets for the seven performances of the circus, four nights and three matinees are on sale by members of the Optimist club and starting Friday may be purchased at Wylie's Drug store, Mark Halsey Drug No. 3, Clark's Drug store and the Tech college Book store.

Warning Sounded On Danger Of Accidents From War Trophies And Souvenir Weapons

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 8—The government is trying to get people to use their brains to keep from blowing them out.

Meaning: If you have a war trophy or souvenir — gun, shell, bullet, bomb, grenade, mine — be sure it's unloaded.

You can have it checked for free.

Many people, including children, have been killed in this country since the war by trophies thought to be harmless. For example:

Boys blown to bits by a bazooka shell; children killed with "unloaded" pistols; children mangled by hand grenades.

Suggestions Are Given

This country is loaded with trophies brought back from overseas by servicemen.

The government has a nation-wide campaign for a check of war trophies. It's run by the alcohol tax unit of the Treasury department. That unit has an office in every state.

All the information here comes from the alcohol tax unit.

The Army, Navy, peace officers and civilians all over the country are helping out. Every county has a four-man war trophy committee plugging to get people to have their war souvenirs checked.

Suppose you have a trophy and wonder whether it's loaded. How can you find out? This way:

1. Write the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C.

2. Or call the office of the alcohol tax unit in your state.

3. Or notify the nearest policeman, police station or sheriff.

What happens then? Your trophy will be picked up and taken to the nearest Army or Navy station which has firearms experts.

If they can do so without destroying the trophy, they'll unload it—make it harmless—and it will be returned to you, free of charge.

Don't take a chance even with trophies from World War I or the Civil war. Shells used in both wars still are blowing up.

Certain weapons must be registered with the alcohol tax unit: machine guns; shotguns or rifles with barrels less than 18 inches long; any firearm, except a pistol or revolver, which could be concealed on the person; a muffler or silencer for any firearm.

The government is worried that a lot of foreign-made machine guns and sawed-off shotguns will get into the hands of gangsters. If they're not registered, they'll be hard to trace when used in a crime.

The alcohol tax unit was picked for the job of registering such weapons because it has investigators in every state to see that the federal tax on alcohol is paid.

Red Cross Work In County Is Reviewed

Mrs. J. H. Stiles, executive secretary of Lubbock county Red Cross chapter, outlined assistance granted during 1947 through various services of the chapter Monday at a luncheon meeting of Lubbock County Welfare council in Hilton Yaqui room.

An itemized summary showed that 2,956 veterans and service men and their dependents and civilians received assistance during 1947; that financial aid was given in 501 homes and that a total of $8,689.23 was paid out in grants and loans.

Mrs. Stiles briefly described the work in home service, services to the armed forces, first aid, water safety and accident prevention, nursing and nutrition services, Junior Red Cross work, volunteer services, disaster service and gave a short history of the National Blood program and told of what has been accomplished toward establishing a center here.

Elliott Adams presided in absence of John Wilson, council chairman.

Task Of Bringing Democracy To Germany To Take Many Years

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

It's shocking, but not very surprising, to hear from Frau Gertrud Scholz-Klink Heissmeyer, fuehrer of German women in the Hitlerian era, that she is "still a Nazi—as much as ever."

Frau Heissmeyer and her husband, Maj. Gen. August Heissmeyer, one-time officer in Hitler's hand-picked elite guard, have been arrested in Wuerttemburg where they had been living under the name of Stuckebrock.

Still Lives For Them

The female fuehrer clenched her fist as she proclaimed to members of the press: "Hitler still lives for me and my husband!"

Of course that's what one would expect from a hard-boiled Nazi chieftainess. Still, as remarked, it's shocking thus to be brought face to face with a harsh reminder that while Hitler is as dead as a doornail, his totalitarian creed lives on. And it persists not only in Germany but has close imitators in other countries.

One of the most difficult of the Allied problems—and one of the most vital—is how to democratize Germany and make it a peaceful nation. Frau Heissmeyer's attitude is that of an unnumbered host of her countrymen. Most of them are more discreet—or perhaps one should say secretive—than she with their language in public, but they harbor in their hearts what she is bold enough to say.

Face Terrific Task

Nobody knows how many Germans still carry a picture of Hitler in their hearts. The only figure I have heard was given me by the military authorities in the British zone of occupation. They said that the toughest group to democratize was that between the ages of 14 and 35, which Hitler had thoroughly Nazified. The British held that these folk were about lost to the Allies.

That places a terrific handicap on the Allies, for within this group are the parents of a new generation. Their children are being taught Democracy in the schools, and go home to have it argued out of their young minds by Nazi fathers and mothers whose influence in most cases outweighs that of a stranger.

The ideological de-lousing of Germany is going to take many long years, during which Allied troops will have to be maintained in the country—unless the Allies are prepared to gamble with world peace.

Fort Worth Man Claimed Shot Because He Knew Too Much

FORT WORTH, March 8 (AP)—Lon Holley, 47, River Oaks cafe and liquor store operator, was killed "because he knew too much about certain individuals in the underworld," District Attorney Al Clyde said today.

Several suspects are being hunted, Clyde added.

With two bullet holes in his head, Holley's body was found about 9:30 a. m. Sunday slumped over in the front seat of his automobile. The car was parked in the driveway of a partially built house near a bluff overlooking Lake Worth.

Holley was to face trial here Thursday in connection with a series of Fort Worth robberies last November and December. He had been indicted on six counts charging complicity in robberies and one charge of accomplice and assault to rob.

Holley was free on $30,000 bond posted by his attorneys, Clifford and Clyde Mays of Fort Worth and Dave Tant of Oklahoma City.

Holley had been dead "at least four hours" when the body was found, Justice Frank Hurley said. He returned an inquest verdict of murder.

Coast Guard Rescues Crewmen From Stranded Ship Norfolk

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., March 8 (AP)—Coast guardsmen today pulled 21 crewmen along a breeches buoy to safety from the stranded motorship Norfolk.

The red-eyed seamen had spent a sleepless night aboard the stricken vessel. All rescued men were reported in good condition.

Methodist Men's Club Hears Chinese Student At Luncheon

Joe Ma, student in Texas Technological college from China, discussed missionary work, which has been going on in China 102 years, Monday in a speech at the Methodist Men's club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

He told of accomplishments of the missionaries, including the establishment of christian schools in China, and explained other work, in effort to show Chinese appreciation of work of the missionaries.

Clarence Whiteside, president, presided. J. T. Trigg gave the invocation.

Southwestern Bell 1947 Profits Drop

ST. LOUIS, March 8 (U.P.)—Steadily rising operating costs pushed 1947 earnings of Southwestern Bell Telephone company to the lowest level in the company's history and forced the utility to ask for increased telephone rates, the annual report revealed today.

Operating revenues rose 4 per cent in 1947 to a total of $188,766,000 as compared with $180,891,000 in 1946. However, the company pointed out, the cost of providing telephone service rose 13 per cent, from $134,810,000 in 1946 to $152,748,000 in 1947. As a result, net income dropped almost one-third to $12,789,654 from $19,944,896 in the preceding year.

Wages, the largest item of expense, the report revealed, were $13,000,000 higher than in 1945 and at the end of the year were at the rate of $121,000,000 annually. Earnings on the money invested were at the rate of 4.41 per cent, compared with 7.83 per cent in 1946. More significant, according to the report, the trend of earnings was downward. Return for the last six months of the year was 4.04 per cent less than the for the year as a whole.

The company asked for increased rates for service in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and certain Texas towns in order "to keep the business on a sound basis."

California Town To Vote On Man, Wife For Council Posts

LONG BEACH, Calif., March 8 (AP)—Residents of nearby Signal Hill will be faced with two city council candidates named Matthews in the April election.

One is Bertrand Matthews, 72, Republican. The other is his wife, Mrs. Frances Matthews, 53, Democrat.

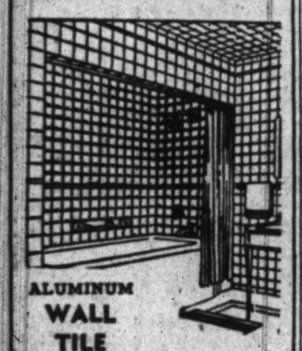

Both may be elected from the 11 candidates seeking three council seats.

They have 13 children.

Civil Service Here

THE City commission is due commendation for its plan to continue with civil service for Lubbock city employes regardless of the outcome of a Fort Worth court attack upon the constitutionality of the legislative measure under which the merit system has been set up.

Nor is there anything inconsistent in the commission's frank hope that the courts will invalidate the bill as an unwarranted attempt by the Legislature to dictate to cities how they must run their own affairs.

If the bill should be knocked out, according to the announced plan, city employes here won't be affected at all. Civil service will be continued on a local basis, under the supervision of the three-man special commission appointed recently with Harry Morris as chairman. The police and fire departments will be used as the "guinea pigs" for the first tests. If the plan operates successfully there, it will be extended to all city employes.

Such a system should serve Lubbock needs fully as well, if not a good deal better, than the plan dictated by the Legislature.

Scuttling Ships

THOSE who recall frantic wartime drives for metals of nearly all kinds may wonder whether extreme waste occurs when great warships are sent to the bottom of the ocean as was done recently in the Pacific with the 33,000-ton battleship Pennsylvania.

From the Navy comes assurances that it does not represent waste. This source explains such ships are stripped of practically everything detachable before being scuttled. Only the shell goes down. While this may represent thousands of tons of steel, it is so deteriorated through use and exposure as to be virtually valueless. The Navy says salvage of such ships would cost many times the value of any metals recovered.

Therefore, says the Navy, neither waste nor sentiment is involved when a great ship is given a watery burial. It simply is the quickest, easiest and cheapest method of disposing of something which no longer has useful value.

To Locker Holders

OF special interest to owners of frozen food lockers should be the solicitations later this week of guarantees, or premiums above market prices, on calves, pigs and lambs to be exhibited and auctioned at the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show at the fairgrounds here March 22-24.

The premium desired won't amount to more than a very few cents a pound above the market price. It will encourage and reward the boy or girl who raised the animal. It will buy the finest kind of veal, pork and/or lamb at a price, in nearly all instances, much lower than retail. Packing companies will handle the butchering for the by-products.

Those who would like to buy one of the animals have been invited to get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce, telephone 4666.

Utopia must be the place where a fellow has to listen to a news broadcast from this earth in order to feel bad.

Revised: There is no place like somewhere else.

Murder At My House

By Rene Ryerson Mart
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

XXVII

I WAS sitting up in bed just finishing the orange juice and toast and coffee Marie had brought me, when Marie came back and said Jeff was there. I told her to send him in.

To my surprise he strode right over to the bed, sat down on the edge of it, put the tray on the floor and masterfully took me in his arms.

"Oh, my darling. My darling!" he said. He kissed me ardently.

I deliberately let him prolong the kiss, lying quiescent in his arms and, being a romantic fool and a woman, hoping even then to feel an answering surge of emotion. I didn't. His kisses might have been cold water running over my lips for all I felt.

I sat up then and pushed him away with a hand on his chest.

"It's too bad, Jeff," I said, "that you didn't do that a couple of days ago. It would have meant something then."

"What do you mean, Holly? What's wrong?"

"A lot of things have happened, Jeff."

"Like what? Honey . . . " He made another grab for me, but I wasn't having any of it. I stiffened back against the pillows, keeping out of his reach. He let his arms fall.

"Like what?" he repeated, a little deflated.

"Like you telling the police I had been in a sanitarium. Making them think I was crazy."

He colored and stammered. He sat up straight on the edge of the bed away from me. "I—I did it for your own protection. I thought if they had anything incriminating on you, it was better for them to know about that. It was your best line of defense."

"THANKS," I said dryly. "It was also your best line of defense, wasn't it? To keep them from prying too much into your affairs?"

"I swear, Holly, it was nothing like that. Of course, at first they thought I might have had a motive for poisoning Avis because she wouldn't give me a divorce. They had dug up all that mess about the contract between us. But they found the remains of the drink I had given her—you remember it was straight Scotch. And had it analyzed. There was nothing in it. And then why would I have poisoned poor old Art? I had nothing against him. I was grateful to him for taking Avis off my neck believe it or not."

"And I suppose I had a motive for poisoning him!"

"Holly, don't you see — after what your agent told me, I thought . . . There was just a possibility that you might have gone a little bit haywire. I didn't really believe . . . "

He drew a long breath. "I want to marry you, Holly," he said.

"That's all over now, Jeff."

He looked at me and the eagerness went out of his eyes. I think he had known it wasn't any good from the moment he had kissed me. A man can't kiss a woman like that and not know what she is feeling about him.

He moved from the side of the bed and sat on the same chair Leiphan had sat on the night before.

After a little bit he began to talk about the picture and about the tests that had been made of Madge. He said everyone was satisfied with Madge in the leading part and that everything was all set to start shooting again in the morning. He thought she was going to be a real hit.

I was glad for Madge.

THE doctor had been right about shock. I felt all right until I tried to stand up and then my legs behaved like rubber and my head felt as if someone had used it for a football in a scrimmage work-out. I was glad enough to crawl back into bed and stay there until noon. I slept some more, and after that I tried it again and felt better. So I stayed up and got dressed and went downstairs and Marie had a nice hot lunch ready for me.

After I'd finished eating she reminded me that she was leaving. Since we'd agreed on that the night before I said, "All right, Marie."

I went out in the patio and lay down in the deck chair where I had stretched taking a sun bath the day this story began; the day I had the glorious feeling that life was beginning to be worth living again.

Well, it seemed I had completed the cycle. I was back where I had started. Nothing but emptiness faced me again.

I lay there until the sun slipped down toward the west garden wall and the patio grew cool with that bone chill that comes with 4 o'clock in sunny California. I shivered and got up and went into the house. I went up to my room and got my purse, thinking I'd pay Marie off—she must have finished her packing. I took my purse and went back downstairs and through the kitchen and across the patio and knocked on the door of the maid's room.

There was no answer. I knocked again, loudly.

It was strange, the silence. Marie wouldn't have gone without her pay. She must be in there.

I opened the door and walked in and pressed my hand hard across my mouth to keep from screaming.

Marie Maloney, dressed for the street in the frivolous high-heeled shoes and the hat with the deep veil and the fur jacket in which she had arrived at my house, lay huddled on the floor halfway between her dressing table and the bed.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

MOST of you probably read that story about Thomas Montanez, ship's carpenter on the S. S. Santa Clara, who fell overboard in the Caribbean Sea and swam for three hours before he was rescued.

He was not missed until the ship had steamed twenty-five miles away, and the captain and the crew then had little hope of finding him in the turbulent sea.

BRANDEIS

But he was discovered — just a pinhead in the great waters —and rescued.

After being pulled back on board he was asked how he managed to keep afloat all that time.

"When the ship was out of sight," he said, "I did not expect ever to see her again, but hoped that perhaps some other ship would pick me up.

"After a while my strength gave way and I was sure that my time had come. Then I looked up and saw a tern circling above me, and I felt that it was a good spirit that had come to help me stay afloat.

"They tell me that the bird was still above me when I was sighted. I had prayed to God to keep me alive, and maybe that bird was the answer to my prayers."

Maybe so, and maybe it was just a coincidence.

But it seems to me that all of us should keep something in sight all the times of our lives, something above us to keep up our courage and our confidence.

Call it a goal, if you will, call it something beyond the mere animal life, call it faith in God, faith in fellow men, call it something spiritual, call it anything you want.

Perhaps this ship's carpenter was not concerned with anything more than just staying alive.

But he did pray. He did know that it needed more than just his own strength.

NONE of us can live by his own will alone.

To live, in the true sense of the word, there must be a purpose to life and there must be the spiritual incentive that makes life worth the living.

Living without a purpose, without spiritual support, would level man to the status of an animal.

Science is trying to prolong life. But what good is a long life without usefulness?

What good is a hundred years of living that is sterile, selfish and introverted?

Life itself can be beautiful. But, according to our faith, it is merely the prelude for better things to come.

Let us live so that we may enjoy all the beauties of this earth and at the same time be entitled to the rewards we hope await us when today has become eternity.

To that carpenter the tern was the symbol that kept him afloat.

Let the wonderful possibilities of today and the faith in tomorrow be the symbol that will keep us afloat.

ON CIVIL RIGHTS

Vote Bid Ill-Timed

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Southern resentment against President Truman's civil rights program is based on sociological as well as political grounds, according to a canvass of Dixie sentiment.

Numerous educators, churchmen and business men free of partisanship insist that the social-economic organization of the South cannot be revolutionized overnight or by federal fiat. This is an aspect of the current clash which has been overshadowed by the more hysterical developments on the political stage.

TUCKER

These spokesmen emphasize that the South is gradually solving th problems which Mr. Truman would attack by federal legislation. The poll tax, for instance, may soon be only a historical relic.

It is enforced now in only seven states—Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas. There has been a movement for a repeal referendum in Virginia and sentiment against it has cropped out in Tennessee.

Mr. Truman's so-called "interference," it is charged, may hinder any advance in this field and thus operate to the disadvantage of the prospective beneficiaries. Indeed, some colored leaders partially responsible for these changes have expressed themselves to this effect.

ILL-TIMED: The South's record on lynchings is also cited as an argument against the White House program. Violence against colored people accused or convicted of crime has been decreasing steadily through the operation of such forces as religion, education and plain common sense.

There were, for instance, more than two hundred lynchings annually fifty or sixty years ago. There was only one resort to "lynch law" in 1945. In 1946 there were six, including the mass murder of four negroes in Georgai. Last year there was only one.

This improvement—even though a single lynching is one too many—occurred at a time when there was an increase in all other kinds of crime. It came in a period of economic and social unrest caused by two wars, the depression and the growth in self-consciousness which the Roosevelt theories of social equality had bequeathed to the colored race.

In view of this background, Southern spokesmen of intelligence and integrity consider Mr. Truman's vote-getting scheme particularly ill-timed. They recall that slavery might have vanished without a Civil War had it not been for Yankee abolitionists.

UNCERTAINTY: Some Southerners' hesitation at embracing the Tuck or any other plan for freeing state electors from voting for President Truman, provided he is nominated at Philadelphia, is grounded on a factor not generally recognized. It might create uncertainty over the identity of the 1948 presidential victor at a critical moment in domestic and world history.

In short, the Supreme Court hight hold that these schemes were inconstitutional. Should desertion by two or three Southern states alone mean the defeat of Mr. Truman, it is extremely probable that Attorney General Tom Clark would immediately appeal to the Supreme Court. His contention would be that the states had no power to vitiate constitutional provisions by such strategy.

RESPONSIBILITY: In the Tilden-Hayes controversy, the electoral commission held that the federal government cannot look behind a state decision on the electoral vote, even if fraud and corruption were suspected. This ruling was later enacted into law. But this legislation does not deal with the question of the responsibility of the electors to vote for the recognized nominee of their party.

Obviously, it might take months before the high tribunal could pass upon such a weighty question. The delay would give Russia and all other enemies of our system of representative government an armory of ammunition in the current clash for world control.

VOTE: The only known instance of this kind occurred in 1912 when Taft and Teddy Roosevelt split the Republican Party as the Northern and Southern wings now threaten to emasculate the Missouri mule.

In that year the Republican electors of South Dakota had been committed to Mr. Taft, who was the regular nominee. But they had been released from that commitment by the Republican state organization, which was violently Progressive, and they cast their vote for T. R.

LEGALITY: This shift was never questioned in the courts and its legality has never been raised in any other form. But it can hardly be considered a precedent.

It is probable that it was not challenged only because South Dakota's electoral vote would have had no effect on the outcome, in view of Woodrow Wilson's one-sided triumph.

But if a Southern defection based on this kind of strategy meant the defeat or election of Mr. Truman, as it could in an otherwise close contest, the Truman-Clark forces are prepared to carry their battle to a Supreme Court whose members owe their appointment to F.D.R. or to the present occupant of the White House.

RADICAL: A bright gleam in the otherwise gloomy politico-economic skies appeared a few days ago, although it received scant attention outside labor circles. The attempt of a radical C.I.O. union to obtain control of employees of a key railroad in the steel and coal area was defeated.

The C.I.O.'s "United Railroad Workers" petitioned the National Mediation board for an election to determine whether they or the existing A. F. of L unit would represent the waymen. In this initial attempt to obtain control of an important transportation system, the invaders are reported to have conducted a long organizing campaign and to have spent large sums of money.

They were repulsed by a sixty per cent majority in favor of the rival organization, although the C.I.O. is supposed to dominate the steel area. Railroad leaders regard the outcome as evidence that radical groups cannot win a foothold in transportation, although this is one of the industries which various elements in the C.I.O. would like to take over for obvious reasons. It would give them a stranglehold on the railroad system in peace or wartime.

AGREEMENT: Senator Henry Cabot Lodge's friends in Massachusetts are hoping for "breaks" that will spotlight him for possible nomination for vice-president on the Republican ticket. They are not waging an aggressive or offensive campaign as yet, but will not pass up any opportunity between now and the convention.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., is supposed to have the Bay State delegation tied up, and he probably has. But if the first prize should fall to Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Mr. Lodge's friends think he might favor the Senator because of their agreement on general foreign policy.

OPPOSED TO GEORGIA PROJECT

Utility Interests Under Attack

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The ever-vigilant private utility interests are at it again. They are engaged in another flank attack on the policy established by Congress twenty-eight years ago for utilizing our river resources for electric power development in the public interest.

This attack, the most brazen so far, is significant and far-reaching. For while it is directed at a salient in Georgia, on the Savannah river, there is behind it one of our great utility combines, Commonwealth and Southern, with headquarters in New York, operating in this case through a subsidiary.

STOKES

It involves the so-called Clark's Hill project along the Savannah river above Augusta, Ga., a little TVA for development of the river for power, navigation and flood control that will provide great benefits for the people of both Georgia and South Carolina. It was authorized by Congress in 1944, is now under construction by the Army engineers, and Congress has appropriated for it, by three separate acts, a total of $10,500,000. The ultimate cost will be around $49,000,000. It is a wholly government project.

Control Is Sought

Now along comes the Savannah River Electric company, a subsidiary of Georgia Power company which is itself a subsidiary of Commonwealth and Southern, seeking to have Congress permit it, instead of the government, to build and own all the power facilities of the project, to distribute and sell the power and thus enjoy a monopoly in perpetuity of electrical energy.

The bill for this purpose is being sponsored, oddly enough, by a congressman whose district is more than 1,000 miles away from the Savannah — Rep. Dondero (R., Mich.).

In three days of hearings before the House Public Works committee, of which he is chairman, the measure has been denounced as nothing more than a subsidy of the government for a private monopoly, in addition to other objections on fundamental policy raised by Federal Power commission officials and members of Congress from Georgia and South Carolina. For the government, at public expense, would do the rest of the job for controlling the river from which the power company would benefit. Nobody has explained either how the necessary coordination in such a multiple purpose project could be achieved under such divided management and authority.

It is the crassest sort of special interest legislation, as the bill bill would instruct the Federal Power commission to give a license to a specified private company. That would literally repeal, in this instance, Section 7 of the 1920 Federal Waterpower act that requires the FPC to give preference in applications to states and municipalities. If this bill were passed, it would be a model for similar special legislation on other public power projects and break down the whole principle of public protection.

People Oppose Project

This proposed handing over of the power project to a private company is bitterly opposed by people in the Savannah valley who are overwhelmingly for public development.

Government development has been pushed by the Augusta Chamber of Commerce, by newspapers, and has been approved by unanimous vote of the legislatures of both Georgia and South Carolina and by every member of Congress from those states, with a single exception in Georgia.

Back of the present sortie of the power interests is an interesting story, the Savannah river electric company got a license from FPC in 1928 to build a power plant at Clark's Hill. It let it lapse four years later, without doing anything, and thereafter exhibited no interest in doing anything itself, but anounced co-operation in government development—until 1946. It sought then to get another license but was turned down by FPC on the ground that government development had been authorized by Congress and was underway. It then fought, unsuccessfully, successive appropriations for the project, through Georga Power Company lobbyists.

Last session another congressman with no southern accent, Rep. Wilson (R., Ind.) introduced an amendment to de-authorize the government project when another appropriation was before the House, but dropped it when he saw the opposition. Then along came Mr. Dondero, no Georgian or South Carolinian either, with his bill. It has support from Republican committee members. He will seek to rush it through his committee shortly.

The utilities certainly work in mysterious ways.

The first monument to the memory of George Washington is believed to have been erected in Boonsboro, Md., in 1827.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY
The Knights of Pythias Lodge is the owner of Lots Five (5) and Six (6) in Block 164, Original Town of Lubbock, 1400 Block on Avenue K on East side of street, dimensions 52 feet by 125 feet. The Lodge is interested in conveying the lots to a suitable party who is willing to erect a two-story building thereon free of all liens, and under an agreement giving the Lodge ownership of the second story to be used for Lodge purposes, and the remainder to be owned by the other party. It will probably cost between $50,000.00 and $60,000.00 to construct such building according to the Lodge's requirements. The estimated value of the lots at the present time is from $20,000.00 to $25,000.00. Anyone interested contact Hub Lee or Victor H. Lindsey.

MARKETS TAKE NOSEDIVE

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP)—Breaking commodities cast their shadow on the stock market today and many leaders dipped fractions to 2 points or so.

From the start selling in the share division never was urgent.

Aigcrafts pushed up in the mornings on further expectations of big government orders, but failed to hold at best levels. Oils wavered in the final hour, along with steels. Transfers of 740,000 shares compared with 630,000 Friday.

Scant comfort was derived from the sale of a stock exchange seat for $50,000, a bottom since last June. It was $9,000 under a preceding sale.

Aside from the weakness of staples, stock offerings still were attributed mainly to the feeling that business was far from healthy, wage questions unsettled, tax relief doubtful and international affairs notably confusing.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .4 of a point at 51.2, a low since Feb. 28 and the sharpest stumble since Feb. 10; of 938 issues registering, 504 fell, and 236 rose.

Touching peaks for 1948 at one time were Douglas Aircraft which finished up 1 at 58, Lockheed ⅝ at 17⅛ and Oruman ⅛ at 38½. A share ahead were Glenn Martin, Goodrich, American Airlines, Chesapeake & Ohio, Deere, Spiegel, Eastman Kodak, U. S. Gypsum, (despite an adverse supreme court ruling), Dow Chemical and Public Service of N. J.

Sears Roebuck yielded 1/8 at 34⅛ notwithstanding record February sales. U. S. Steel was off 1 at 69 in face of a jump in this week's production scheduled.

Cotton

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP) — Cotton futures were weak today under pressure of recurrent flurries of liquidation. The market was nervous over the unsettled foreign situation. Washington reports that the House may not complete action on foreign aid programs before April 15, and the sharp break in grains.

Losses at one time extended to $4.50 a bale, although the market subsequently recovered slightly on mill buying and short covering.

Cotton closed weak.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 8. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was $6.76 a bale lower at 33.09 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 33.16; middling 7/8ths inch average 30.86.

In 1945 the U. S. postoffice handled 14,277,000 "dea'd" letters which could not be delivered because of improper address.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 8 (AP) — Wheat was down as much as 10 cents and corn 8 cents, the daily limits, at times on the board of trade today.

The market opened with a weak undertone. A slight rally developed, but prices did not get back to their previous close. Around midway in the day heavy selling caused a sharp break. May wheat and May and July corn plunged for limit declines.

Weakness in wheat and corn upset oats, which were off several cents. Lard fell in sympathy and because of a drop in live hog prices. In the usual "thin" market all soybeans contracts fell 8 cents, the daily limit.

Wheat closed 3¼-4¼ lower, May 2.36¼-½; corn was 6½ to 8 cents lower, May 2.16⅛, oats were 2¼-4¼ lower, May 1.10¾-⅞.

Cortez regarded the loss of one horse as equal to that of twenty men.

Texas Grocers Back Plan To Drop Taxes On Oleomargarine

FORT WORTH, March 8 (AP)—Delegates to the convention here of the Texas Wholesale Grocers association hailed the Treasury department's recommendation today to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine.

Federal taxes on the product are 10 cents a pound for colored margarine and one-fourth of a cent per pound for uncolored, they pointed out. In addition, the wholesalers said they must pay $480 a year for a license to handle colored and uncolored margarine, while retailers must purchase a license at a cost of $48 annually.

"This is the most discriminating and unfair thing I can think of," declared Albert Fryar of Dallas, executive vice - president and secretary of the association.

Discrimination Charged

"It is discrimination against the southern farmers in favor of northern dairy interests," he continued, "because oleomargine is made from a cottonseed oil and soybean oil blended base. These are southern products."

Fryar stressed that oleomargine is the "only food taxed in favor of another food," and emphasized that "margarine is just as nutritious and pure as butter."

A prediction that the price of canned foods will go up this year was made by C. C. Culp, sales and advertising manager of Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind.

Increased costs of labor, cans, cases, and fuel all add up to the fact that "the canning industry, in order to remain solvent, should receive higher selling prices in 1948," Culp said.

Murray Kyger, vice-president of the First National bank of Fort Worth, told the almost 700 delegates "the time may be close at hand when higher costs must mean lower profits and not higher prices."

Rural Aid Problem

rector, W. E. Lowry, reported that Texas' share of the federal grant for vocational education for the next fiscal year amounts to $1,052,909, with only New York and Pennsylvania receiving larger payments.

New federal grants totals $19,842,759.

The board sustained action of State Superintendent L. A. Woods in his refusal to disturb division of the Altair independent school district in Colorado county. Division of the district, part of which was annexed to the Columbus independent school district, on application of the Altair property owners involved in the transfer, was protested first to Woods and then to the state board.

The board, at its last month's meeting, heard arguments from attorneys for both sides of the controversy.

Services Set Today For Afton Pioneer
