WOLF AND CAT CLUB MAKE GOOD SHOWING DURING FIRST YEAR

At the second annual meeting of the Kimble County Wolf and Cat Club, a good report was made of the first year's work, showing that the organization has caught 96 cats, 17 grown wolves, 11 young wolves and one mountain lion. The secretary reports a balance of $604.96 in the treasurer to begin the second year's work.

An appeal is made by the club for all ranchmen in the county to join the organization. Mr. H. W. Bierschwald, secretary of the club, urges everyone interested to join to help exterminate these predatory animals. He insists that now is the time to join in the movement as there are fewer of these animals in the country than ever before. Concerted action now on the part of every ranchman will soon exterminate predatory animals.

An assessment of one cent an acre was passed by the club with the understanding that only one-half cent be collected now. The club voted to employ Mr. Blaylock, a government trapper, from Mr. R. C. Landon. He will trap in Kimble County as long as the club feels that his services are needed. At the meeting Saturday it was decided to raise the bounty on grown wolves to $150 and to lower the bounty on cats to $10 during the trapping season, after which time the bounty on cats will be raised to $20.

The executive board and secretary were re-elected by acclamation, and four new members, A. L. Mudge, W. T. Bishop, W. H. Cavanaugh and George Pepper, were added to the executive board.

Mr. Bierschwald announces that anyone wishing to collect his bounty on animals killed or trapped should present their claims each Saturday.

Roy Skaggs Buys Junction Grocery

Mr. Roy Skaggs bought the Junction Grocery from Lawler Brothers last week and is moving the Skaggs Grocery into the Junction Grocery building. Mr. Skaggs was in business with Mr. Lawler before opening the Skaggs grocery.

Mr. Lawler is one of the old timers in Junction and his friends hope that he will remain here. However, there is some talk that he will move away. Mr. Skaggs is also one of the old timers and he feels that in the enlarged quarters he will be better able to serve his customers.

The Eagle does not want anyone to think that either Mr. Lawler or Mr. Skaggs is old because they are spoken of as old timers. They grew up here and are considered young old timers. They have seen the country develop from a frontier country to a high state of civilization. Both these gentlemen desire to thank the people for the patronage given them in the past. Mr. Skaggs invites his old customers and new ones to come to see him in the Junction Grocery stand.

ATTRACTIVE WINDOW

One of the attractive windows this week is to be found at the Junction Hardware Company's store where Mr. Tinsley has arranged a hunting and camping scene. Mr. S. O. Durst furnished the mounted specimens of deer, etc., and Mr. Tinsley has taken these and arranged a window that attracts hunters and others. The camp fire and cooking utensils with the proper background of mounted deer makes one feel like taking to the woods.

Dr. L. Forsythe Rowe of Dallas is here on a hunting trip. He is making his headquarters at Price's Camp.

P-T. A. Thanksgiving Program November 26

A Thanksgiving program will be rendered at the Schreiner High School building by the Junction P-T Association Monday afternoon, November 26, at 4 o'clock. This will be an interesting program, judging from the good program given below.

The association is going to give a book to the room that has the greatest number of mothers present at the meeting Monday afternoon. Each child in every room should work to win this book for their room. Mothers usually do what their children want them to do, and this will be one time when it will work well from two viewpoints. It will help the mothers, if they attend the meeting, to see what the P-T A. is doing and what the school is doing, and it will help one room to get a good book.

Tomorrow, Friday, November 23, is visiting day at the school, and every parent is invited and urged to visit the school on that day. These visiting days give parents, teachers and pupils a better chance to understand each other.

The following will be rendered Monday afternoon:

Invocation—Rev. M. F. Hill.
Song—First Grade Pupils.
Thanksgiving Proclamation—Jewell Riley.
Piano solo—
Reading—Christine Schraub.
Song—"Count Your Many Blessings"—P-T A.
Business Session.

Automobile and Deer Collide Near Junction

It seems that deer cannot keep out of the way of cars in the "Hill Country." Mr. W. T. Day of Rocksprings had an unusual experience while returning from the football game at Kerrville, when his car and a big buck had a collision. The buck was pinned under the car and in the scramble the car lost part of the bumper and the deer left a part of one of his horns as a souvenir of the encounter.

The season had not opened at the time of the collision and Mr. Day permitted that buck to go on his way. However, he said it was a great temptation. Judging from the number of deer that hunters are taking out of the country, it will not be many days until the few remaining will keep themselves hidden in the recesses of the country.

Spend Your Winter Vacation In Junction

Junction is one of the most delightful places in the Hill Country to spend a winter vacation. The Llanos are lined with well equipped camps for the comfort and convenience of tourists. In Junction are the Kimble Courts, McWright's Camp, and Price's Camp, besides private cottages. Further out on the Llanos are several attractive camps.

Thousands of people come here for summer vacations and tourists are fast learning that it is just as delightful here in the winter as in the summer. The managers of our camps and tourist parks have equipped their cottages so that they are as comfortable as home. Several families are here now spending their hunting vacations, and they say that they will be back next summer.

WEATHER REPORT

Cool, crisp frosty mornings with much beautiful sunshine tells the story of the weather in Kimble County this week. There has been a little ice each morning since Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings outside hydrants were frozen so that water would not run. It has been an ideal week for hunters and many deer and gobblers have been killed.

KIMBLE COUNTY PECAN EXHIBIT WINS 1st PLACE

Samples Submitted by Vocational Agriculture
Class of Junction High School Gets High Prize in Contest.

(By A. J. Bierschwald)

We are indeed glad to report that the Kimble County Pecan Exhibit gotten up by the vocational agriculture class, won the highest prize awarded at Brownwood. This will be a good advertisement for Kimble County pecans as several newspaper reporters were present and will spread the news far and wide. Our exhibit consisted of fifty lots of pecans placed in a sort of folding show-case and held in place by glass covers. It will later be put in a public place in Junction for the purpose of advertising our pecans to the tourists who come here. We wish to thank the growers of the pecans for their co-operation in furnishing the pecans for the exhibit, and we hope that the advertisement will be worth something to them.

The following classes of exhibits were made and prizes awarded:

1. Best county or community exhibit, (1923 crop), to be judged on appearance and clever arrangement—1st, $50; 2nd, $25.
2. Best individual exhibit (1923 crop), to be judged as above—1st, $35; 2nd, $15.
3. Most profitable crop from one seedling tree in West Texas—1923 crop and affidavit to be shown. Judged on number of pounds and money value at market price—1st, $20; 2nd, $10.
4. Most profitable crop from one budded or grafted tree, West Texas variety only—1923 crop and affidavit to be shown. Judged on number of pounds and money value at market price—1st, $20; 2nd, $10.
5. Best five pounds of 1923 crop, budded or grafted variety originating in West Texas. Judged according to official score card for this meeting—1st, $20; 2nd, $10.
6. Best ten pounds native or seedling pecans grown in West Texas during 1923. Judged according to official score card for this meeting—1st, $20; 2nd, $10.

Classes 5 and 6 above were judged according to the following official score card for pecans:

- Named Varieties:
1. Scored on likeness to type, average size for that variety; color and uniformity. Perfect possible 30.
 2. Percentage of meat. Perfect possible 40.
 3. Cracking quality and ease of separation. Perfect possible 15.
 4. Quality—richness, flavor, etc. Perfect possible 15.
- Seedlings—Natives:
1. Shape, size, color and uniformity. Perfect possible 30.
 2. Percentage of meat. Perfect possible 40.
 3. Cracking quality and ease of separation. Perfect possible 15.
 4. Quality—richness, flavor, etc. Perfect possible 15.
- A very interesting and educational program was rendered.

DEER HUNT

Mr. Emil A. Löffler was invited to attend a hunting party on the Martin and Sons ranch in Mason County Wednesday. He returned home Thursday morning. In the party were Gov. Dan Moody, Ross Sterling, Chairman Highway Commission; C. W. Ely, member Highway Commission; Claude Tier, Secretary Highway Commission; G. W. Fry, Abilene; E. V. Sellers, Abilene; Judge Wright, San Angelo; Emil A. Löffler, Junction and the hosts, C. L. Martin and sons. Mr. Löffler reports that the Governor and Mr. Sterling got several shots at the biggest buck they ever saw, but, as usual, the guns were no good and they missed.

In the address given by Mr. F. J. Willmann, Texas Department of Agriculture, he especially stressed the need of thinning out and giving the trees plenty of room in order to get the greatest profit from them. He also stated that this helped to keep down insect damage.

The symposium on "The Loan Value of Pecan Lands" by Homer D. Wade, manager of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Judge M. H. Gossett, president of Federal Land Bank of Houston, was very interesting. Each of these gentlemen presented his side of the question in a very convincing manner. Mr. Wade presented a letter in which the writer had stated that an appraiser for the Federal Land Bank had refused to recommend a loan of $1,800 on the place and yet there were $3,000 worth of pecans sold off the place just a few months later.

He admitted, however, that there must have been something wrong somewhere. It seems that his speech was made for the purpose of trying to get the Federal Land Bank to place higher loan values on pecan lands. Judge Gossett presented some very sound argument on the bank's side of the question. He told of one fine pecan orchard that had been planted and cared for until the trees were about four to six inches in diameter, and were then neglected and weeds and grass as high as a man's head had grown up among them; a fire broke out and killed every tree. He also stated that frosts, droughts, hail storms and insect pests made the pecan crop uncertain. He said that this bank was making loans at a low rate of interest and paid the borrowers a dividend and therefore must deal on a safe basis. In conclusion he showed that making a loan above the real value of a man's property was making the man's business unsafe and therefore doing him an injustice instead of a favor.

At this meeting a West Texas Pecan Growers' Association was organized and the following directors elected:

H. G. Lucas, Brownwood; J. F. Burt, Junction; E. H. Norris, San Saba; L. E. Creswell, Coleman; D. F. Moore, Bend; Olan Simms, Paint Rock; George Greenweige, Castelli; Brown F. Lee, San Angelo.

It was decided that an annual pecan exhibit would be held the 3rd week in November each year and that it should be held at different places in the district.

This association can be made to be a great factor for the pecan industry in West Texas if we all work for it. Every person who is interested in the welfare of West Texas is eligible to join. Send in your $2.00 and help to make it a success.

HUDSPETH BARBECUE

Judge Coke R. Stevenson and Judge J. B. Randolph attended the barbecue on Congressman Claude B. Hudspeth's ranch last Saturday. These gentlemen represent a large crowd present and many speeches. There has been considerable work done in this section of the country looking to the extermination of the destructive blowfly. This has been a vexing problem to livestock men and the purpose of this meeting was to discuss this problem as well as to enjoy the entertaining features of the occasion. Mr. Hudspeth's health is considerably improved. He was present practically all day to greet his friends and make new ones.

Schreiner-Hodges Co. Ships Many Pecans

As the season advances the pecan business becomes more brisk. The disappointing feature is the low price, but the pecans have been grown and must be marketed. The Schreiner-Hodges Company has already shipped 310,000 pounds. We have no figures available as to how many others have shipped from Junction. The crop for Kimble County is estimated to be 2,000,000 pounds or more. Literally truck loads have been hauled to various sections of Texas for sale. There will be no way of determining the exact number of pounds grown in Kimble County.

At the pecan institute in Brownwood last week, Kimble County won first place. Mr. Bierschwald of the local high school took an exhibit to Brownwood which took first money. This county is recognized as the leading pecan county in Texas and the showing made at Brownwood last week will help us come into our own. The Eagle will appreciate any information about large yields of any one tree or the amount received from special trees.

Unlawful to Trap Beaver in Kimble

With the opening of the fur season last week, trappers are now busy, and Mr. Dave Turner, local buyer, is looking for a good season. In last week's issue of the Eagle a list of the fur-bearing animals as given in the game laws was published, but trappers must take notice that there is a closed season on otter and beaver until 1937. Other animals named in the list may be trapped. In some sections of Texas, there is a closed season on the fox, but this county is not in that section that protects the fox.

Trappers and hunters should use every precaution in killing wild animals so as to conform to the law. Unless the wild life of our country is conserved it will not be long until there will be very few wild animals in this section.

Headlines Show Need More Stringent Laws

Much is said about "safety first" and many councils and organizations carry on educational campaigns to lessen the number of automobile accidents, but the careless continue to wreck cars and kill, cripple and maim the innocent. More drastic laws are needed to protect those who have a right to use the highways.

Below are a few headlines taken from our exchanges received this week:

"Man downed by automobile is run over and killed by truck."

"Houston man's neck is broken in automobile crash."

"Railroad crossing accident victim is near death."

"Four well known people killed in automobile tragedy."

"Delivery boy seriously injured in automobile collision."

"Tarleton student killed; thrown from automobile."

"Truck and automobile crash at Electra; two hurt."

"Three severely hurt in automobile accidents."

"Man, wife and adopted son killed by train."

"Car goes over culvert; woman hurt and car wrecked."

"Dallas woman killed when struck by automobile."

"One killed, another wounded when car leaves highway."

LARGE WOOL SHIPMENT

The Junction Cattle Loan Company has shipped 200,000 pounds of fall wool for which a satisfactory price was obtained. Some time ago this same company shipped to Boston about the same quantity of mohair, which makes a good fall shipment for one firm. Other firms in Junction have also shipped large quantities of mohair and wool this fall.

LAW VIOLATORS FIND HARD SLEDDING WHEN IN THE HILL COUNTRY

With the hunting season comes pleasure and satisfaction to those who comply with the law and kill a fine buck and a gobbler or two, but woe unto those who trespass and find only a doe or turkey hen to shoot! Game Warden John S. Munn inspected a car from Hale Center, Texas, Tuesday morning and found a deer with the head and hide missing. Some one of the party claimed that it was a young buck within the law. Mr. Munn and the other officers knew that it was the carcass of a doe, and told the hunters that if they would produce the head they would dismiss the case. Justice A. B. Hodges imposed the lightest fine, fifty dollars and cost.

There is no open territory for hunting in Kimble County and most of the ranches are posted according to law. Hunters must obtain permission to hunt or purchase a privilege. There are so many hunters in the country that it is difficult for all to find a place, and as a result some decide that it is easier to trespass. This has brought severe grief. Three men from Roscoe, Texas, and three others, whose residence the Eagle failed to get, paid fines for trespassing this week.

It is unpleasant for our officers to arrest these men, who let their zeal get the better of their judgment, and violate the game laws. A large majority of them are respected, law abiding citizens in their communities, but rather than return home without any game, kill that protected by law.

Judging from the number of bucks and gobblers that hunters take through here each day, it will not be long until the supply will be exhausted. Some fine ones are being killed.

Hunters desiring to comply with the law will find the game warden's a great help to them as they are well acquainted with the country and are always glad to assist hunters in any legitimate way. It is only those who violate the law that find fault with the warden. Junction has a fine force of game wardens, who are interested in protecting the wild life of our forests and the fish of the streams, but have no desire to restrain hunters and fishermen in the pursuit of pleasure in our beautiful country as long as they are within the bounds of the law. When laws are violated the minimum fine is imposed unless the offender becomes indignant and reveals an ugly streak of temper. In that case he may get what he deserves.

Cupid Works Slowly In Kimble County

Cupid has been working slowly in Kimble County the past few weeks. Since October 1 there has been only four marriage licenses issued, while in Runnels county more than fifty have been issued. One of the young ladies employed in the court house said she believed that she would move to Runnels County.

The following licenses have been issued by County Clerk Hodges since October 1:

Meredith Joy and Miss Haity Sofge.

Ivy B. Stewart and Miss Lillie Ibes Fish.

Richard Carpenter and Miss Jimmie Shearer.

Ernest Carl Zipp and Miss Alexa Browning.

The cool frosty mornings and pleasant days this week are helping to end pecan gathering in this county. It is believed the crop will be 2,000,000 pounds or more in Kimble County.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown King of San Angelo were here Monday, returning home Tuesday.

JUNCTION HIGH WINS HARD FOUGHT GAME FROM OZONA ELEVEN

Piling up a 9 to 0 lead in the first half, the Ozona High School Lions rested on their laurels in the last half of the Ozona-Junction game on the local gridiron last Saturday afternoon and as a result the Eagles played them off their feet in the last half to win 12 to 9.

The locals opened up a vicious attack at the beginning of the game that kept the ball in Junction territory most of the time during the first period. Near the end of the first quarter, after the Lions had backed the visitors to their own 10 yard line, George Bunker, at half, crashed through the line to block a kick. The ball bounded away and rolled across the goal line and Herman Chandler fell on it for a touchdown. A try at goal failed and the quarter ended with the score standing Ozona 6, Junction 0.

Junction opened up with its passes in the second quarter but the locals soon broke up that type of play. Three Junction passes were intercepted by the Ozona lads in that frame. Near the end of the first half, after the Lions had backed the Eagles to within 15 yards of the latter's goal line, Walter Kyle, quarterback, maneuvered for position for a try at goal from placement. From a point almost directly back of the goal posts, Doc Lee, full back, thumped the oval squarely between the uprights, making the score Ozona 9, Junction 0. The half ended with the ball in Ozona's possession on Junction's 32 yard line.

A pass for a gain of 20 yards a few minutes after the resumption of play in the second half was the start of the Eagles' march to victory. The journey to the first marker for the visitors started from their own 45 yard line. A center buck netted another 20 yards and another buck pushed the ball across for a touchdown. The try at goal failed and the score for Ozona 9, Junction 6.

Junction kicked after the touchdown and Ozona fumbled, giving the visitors the ball on the local's 31 yard line. Another series of passes and line bucks again put the ball on Ozona's 5 yard line. But this time, the Lions raised their bristles and the ball went over on downs and Ozona kicked as the quarter ended.

The last quarter was a heart-breaker for local fans. More passing, more bucks and more end runs swept the ball straight down the field for a touchdown before the quarter had progressed far and then the Junction lads locked the play and it was a see-saw battle until the game ended.—Ozona Stockman.

We have a few choice suits left. Let us show them.

CROOKED HOLLOW POLO TEAM DEFEATS MENARD

One of the largest crowds yet to witness a polo game in Menard came out Monday, November 12th, to see Menard, Crooked Hollow and the Free Booters teams compete for honors. Each team played six chukkers and the final score stood Crooked Hollow 8; Menard 5 and the Free Booters 2.

The Crooked Hollow team was composed of Wade and Sod Crowell, Ray Bradford and Irvin Renfro, and the Free Booters were Captain Coulter of San Antonio, Edward Robbins of Camp Wood, Sam Nance and Reed of Brady.

One of the outstanding features of the game was the playing of Captain Coulter of San Antonio. He is the Captain of the Army Polo team, and his infallible strokes which were made with his left hand were wonderful.

Near the close of the games an accident occurred in which "Happy" one of Harold Bevan's best polo mounts, ridden by Edward Robbins, broke his right fore leg. The writer was looking directly at the two horses as they came together or near each other. But it is difficult to say just what happened. Robbins was thrown from his mount when it stumbled and when the final check was made it was found that Mr. Robbins was not seriously hurt, but "Happy," his mount, had a broken leg and was later shot by Sheriff Walston.

W. R. Nisbet reports that he is arranging several games to be played here on or about Thanksgiving day. At this time Reed of Brady promises to be here with a full team of horses and players to participate in the games.—Menard Messenger.

TWO HUNDRED ATTEND SCOTTISH RITE REUNION

San Antonio, Nov. 20.—With a class numbering more than 200, semiannual Scottish Rite reunion for San Antonio district is under way here and will be concluded, following conclusion of degree work, with the Shrine ceremonial on Friday. Sam P. Cochran of Dallas, 33 degree, Scottish Rite inspector general for Texas, was unable to attend the reunion opening. Others from Dallas were present.

GOT WHAT HE NEEDED

A doctor left a thermometer with the wife of a patient, and told her to take her husband's temperature every hour and to call him if he got any worse. When he returned to the house in the morning the patient was missing and the doctor asked what had happened.

"I broke the thermometer," said the woman, "so I used the barometer. It registered 'very dry,' so I gave him about a pint of corn liquor and I swear he got up and went out and went to plowing in the back field."—Toledo Blade.

San Antonio Sends Thousands of Tourists to the Hill Country to say nothing of the thousands of dollars worth of products purchased by San Antonio. San Antonio also co-operates in bringing thousands of summer visitors into the hill country to spend their vacations.

SAN ANTONIO is your logical buying market! San Antonio is also your logical selling market! As you purchase your needs from San Antonio Manufacturers and Wholesalers you naturally enrich the San Antonio Market. In enriching the San Antonio Market, you also increase the demand of San Antonians for products from your territory.

By increasing the demand for merchandise from your territory you are enabling your customers to have a responsive marketplace for their products and at the same time you enable them to purchase more merchandise from you.

Obviously the money that you spend in San Antonio rotates, forming a gigantic circle of prosperity. The more you purchase in San Antonio, the more San Antonio purchases from your customers and the more your customers purchase from you; thus, increasing your circle of prosperity.

When your shelves are completely stocked with San Antonio products... your customers always give this merchandise the preference... for they realize that this money will come back to them in the sales they will make in San Antonio.

Let's keep the circle of prosperity growing; money that you spend in foreign markets is gone forever... whereas the money that is spent in San Antonio is strengthening the mighty circle of prosperity.

TRUE MASONS

What is meant by a "True Mason?" It might be defined in part as one who realizes his own shortcomings, the imperfections of his own character, and strives to overcome them.

One who looks upon his fellow man as a brother, not thinking of the term brother as a mode of address but as a person who is to be trusted and considered before others, as well as aided and cared for in the time of distress.

Further, the "True Mason" adopts toward all a tolerant attitude. This does not mean that he should accept wrong and condone it by silence; rather, that he will not condemn others for their faults but, if possible, will aid them in the correction of these faults.

He does not look upon the lodge or the Fraternity as a means of diversion and entertainment, but as an agency for the betterment of humanity, its work to be carried on through the individual members.

The membership of the Craft includes a large number of active members—"True Masons"—and, also, a too-large number of drones. The former insure the immortality of the Fraternity's teachings and its continued growth among all nations; the latter, however, are a hindrance rather than an aid, a burden instead of an asset.

If the Masonic Fraternity is to have a smaller number of nominal Masons and a larger number of "True Masons," the members of each lodge should be exceedingly careful of the material which they select and of the molding of that material after it has been selected.

How about a good cleaning job? We do it the Gloverized way.

TWO MEN EXCHANGE WIVES AND CHILDREN

New Auburn, Wis., Nov. 17.—An exchange of homes for the wives and children of two families has made both wives, each a party to separate divorce actions, far happier than they were with their husbands.

William Brown, who has sued his wife on a cruelty charge, asked Mrs. Lizzie Heidelberg to keep house for him. With her six children, she came, and Mrs. Brown left.

Heidelberg, whose wife seeks divorce, also for cruelty, met Mrs. Brown as she left her home. At his request, she replaced Mrs. Heidelberg as his housekeeper. The three Brown children went with her.

The Heidelberg furniture has gone to the Brown home, and vice versa.

The "trade" also involved the women's engagement rings. Brown paid his wife to return the ring he gave her 20 years ago. Now it is on Mrs. Heidelberg's hand. Mrs. Heidelberg said she relinquished her original ring to her husband.

Neither defendant will oppose the divorce suits, and both families claim the new arrangement is more affable than the old. Each household stops occasionally, they say, to chat with the other.

"We've never been happier in all our lives, and that goes for the children, too," the wives said.

HOOVER'S GOODWILL TOUR

When it was announced that President-elect Herbert Hoover would make a tour of South and Central American countries, before the date of his inauguration, everybody pronounced it a fine idea. Especially cordial was the response of the Latin-American countries themselves, to this proposed goodwill tour.

Immediately these countries from Central America on down throughout South America let it be known that they would look forward with great pleasure to the visit of the man who would guide the affairs of their great North American neighbor for the next four years.

Just now we seem to be entering upon an era of good feeling between North America and Latin-America and Hoover's goodwill tour will be a great aid to a mutual understanding and appreciation of each other.

This will be Hoover's first visit to South America, and will complete his acquaintance with the whole world, since he has previously visited all the other countries of the earth.

The great human highway to permanent and profitable advancement is along the trail that calls for thoroughness.

THREE RUTHS IN CONGRESS

Three women were elected to congress in the election just passed—all of them named Ruth.

Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan. Ruth Hanna McCormick, daughter of Mark Hanna, and Ruth Pratt. Mark Hanna fought Williams Jennings Bryan as McKinley's campaign manager, so it is quite a coincidence that their daughters are now both elected congresswomen. There are three women already in congress and these three Ruths will be quite a reinforcement to their ranks.

Material such as dry leaves, weeds, sweepings from the house and barn, coffee grounds, banana peelings, soot, and wood ashes is not necessarily waste matter. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, these things all have some fertilizer value and can be utilized by the small farmer. The materials can be applied direct to the soil or composted with manure before using.

KIMBLE COUNTY PECANS

Dr. J. Fred Burt, although not present at Brownwood last week, was elected one of the directors of the West Texas Pecan Growers Association. Dr. Burt is one of the largest pecan growers in this section of Texas, and is interested in the industry. He furnished several varieties for the meeting in Brownwood last week. It is generally known that Kimble County won first prize in the contests last week. Mr. A. J. Bierschwald, principal of the local high school and teacher of vocational agriculture, took five members of his class to Brownwood, where they entered fifty samples of pecans.

Winning first place in this contest only bears out the fact that Kimble County leads in the pecan industry. No county in Texas or elsewhere has more native pecan trees than Kimble County. The climate here is favorable for growing pecans, the soil is rich and deep and the county is well watered with more miles of flowing streams than any other county.

While Kimble County leads in the pecan industry, it is in its infancy. The crop this season will be around two million pounds or more. The greater part of these are grown on native trees. Our people have been too busy with their goats, sheep and cattle to give as much attention to the pecan industry as they should, but they are waking up and will soon be showing the world what Kimble County can do with pecans. Our pecans are already in demand, but the demand is nothing to compare with what it will be five years from now. Mr. Bierschwald has done more for Kimble County than he or anyone else now sees by taking these boys to Brownwood and entering samples of pecans in the contest. It helped to place this county before the pecan world in a better light than ever before.

Dr. Burt has nearly one hundred thousand pounds of very fine pecans on his land this year. He is anxious to see Kimble County come into her own in the pecan business. He plans to attend the meetings of the directors of the West Texas Pecan Growers Association and do his part to let the entire county know that this is the greatest pecan county in the United States.

The purpose of the association is to promote pecan growing and marketing in West Texas; to collect and distribute information on culture methods, insect control and other subjects of interest to pecan growers; to secure publicity in newspapers showing why everybody in West Texas is, or ought to be interested because everybody will benefit from an established pecan industry; to keep before the people of West Texas the fact that in our pecan trees we have a great natural resource that will return millions of dollars annually when pecans are grown commercially; to encourage the improvement of native pecan trees by top-working and thus make dollars grow on those trees where pennies now grow; to develop an association marketing system as rapidly as good pecans are produced—the kind that can be graded, classified and sold as staple commodity.

TAX COLLECTOR NOW
HAS FULL SUPPLIES
FOR AUTO LICENSES

Tax Collector Dee Gibbs has all supplies now for issuing the new automobile numbers. Mr. A. J. Grossenbacher of Copperas was issued the first new license, receiving number 666-051. For several years he has received the first new number.

Mrs. Gibbs will be in the office to assist Mr. Gibbs in issuing the automobile numbers and collecting taxes. It is believed that the registration of cars will begin at once and taxpayers who wish to avoid the rush later in the season will gladly take advantage of the opportunity offered and pay their taxes now. It is, however, as in former years, unlawful to place these new numbers on the car before January 1, 1929.

The state law pertaining to headlights on autos is unchanged and every motor vehicle must positively have the lights tested before a number may be issued. Registration fees are the same as last year. If a used car bought during the year, and which has not been transferred, the present owner must get a bill of sale from the former owner before the necessary transfer can be issued.

The 1929 plates are of the same size as those of last year; they have a black background and orange figures. They are again stamped with the words "Front" and "Rear" and must be placed in those positions on the car or truck.

In the November County Official, a publication by the E. L. Streck Company, Austin, appears the likenesses of Mayor E. Holekamp and county officials J. B. Randolph, Joe Bissett, Dee Gibbs, L. R. Hodges, J. A. Browning. Brief sketches of their official careers are given. A more extended notice is given of Mayor Holekamp than of the others touching on the new water system that the city is now planning to install.

Hunting Season Takes
Heavy Toll of Lives

It is a difficult task to instill into the minds of enthusiastic hunters to be careful with their guns. They will place them in a boat, stand them against a rock or tree, climb through a wire fence, or do many other similar things with the guns loaded. If the proper precautions were used, these things could be done without danger. The hunting season has just opened and the papers are carrying accounts of hunters being the victims of accidental discharges of guns.

The following headlines were taken from our exchanges this week:

"Man's arm torn off in hunting accident."

"Young hunter is killed in field."

"Accidental shooting victim succumbs to wounds."

"Rancher charged after boy is killed while hunting."

"Boy accidentally shot dies of wounds."

"San Antonio boy is killed while hunting."

"Man is accidentally killed hunting near Leuders."

Heavy Snow Visits
Panhandle Country

Reports from Amarillo state that all the North Panhandle country was covered by a blanket of snow which fell last Saturday and Sunday when it was fair in Kimble County with the exception of a little flurry of clouds Sunday morning. This is said to break all records for November in the Panhandle country. Six inches of snow fell in Amarillo Saturday and seven inches Sunday, making a total of thirteen inches.

All traffic except over railroads was tied up Sunday. As there was very little wind there were no drifts to hamper the railroad transportation. Clarendon, Dalhart and many other Panhandle towns reported six and eight inches of snow, but Amarillo is the only place reporting as much as thirteen inches.

Wheat growers in the Panhandle are delighted with the moisture. They say that cattle will not suffer as the snow soon melted.

Mr. J. D. Motley, secretary of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce, with his family spent the week-end here visiting relatives. He was formerly a citizen of Junction.

Elder J. S. Newman left Tuesday for Texarkana where he will conduct a meeting. There will be no services at the Church of Christ next Sunday.

The first car load of material for the new water works system is here and within a few days others are expected. Mayor Holekamp says that he expects active construction to begin within a few days.

The result of volume means that today you can buy a Chrysler "Plymouth" Coupe, delivered completely equipped, for $850.00; a Roadster is $840.00; a Fordor Sedan is $900.

You can buy a "65" for $1250.00 in a Coupe, $1275.00 in a Coach, or $1355.00 in a Fordor Sedan. The "65" not only is greatly reduced in price over its predecessors, the "60" and the "62," but it is now a car that compares in general size to the original Chrysler "70."

Likewise, the "75" has been vastly improved—and yet its price has been graduated to a lower plane. A Coupe or a Fordor Sedan is now $1775.00. It compares today to the original Chrysler "80."

There is a Chrysler for EVERY Income

Before your buy any car, come in and investigate the Chrysler.

And one other thing! After some fifteen years' experience in building automobiles, at the head of many of the largest companies, some did not know Chrysler well enough to believe in him when he built his own car.

But now he has been building his own car for an additional five years! We believe that in this time it has made the most phenomenal success of any Automobile ever built. The reason for this success has simply been VALUE! See for yourself just how far ahead Chrysler Automobiles are—and find out for yourself the VALUE that is built into them!

The new Models—the still lower prices—the greatest demand for them in all Chrysler history—is still making it hard for us to get cars. We urge you to let us demonstrate, and then give us your order for this model that you prefer.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF MOON VISIBLE NOVEMBER 27

Everyone in the United States will have the opportunity of seeing the total eclipse of the moon November 27—but the spectators will have to be pretty early. For the moon will enter the earth's shadow at 2:24 a. m., eastern standard time. Total eclipse begins at 3:33 and lasts until 4:29 o'clock, when the moon begins to emerge. At 5:39 a. m. the eclipse will be over. Central times are one hour earlier, mountain times two hours and Pacific times three hours.

The moon will probably not disappear from view although entirely within the shadow for nearly an hour. Considerable sunlight is refracted into the shadow through the ring of the earth's atmosphere around the base of the shadow. The moon at that time will be dim and noticeably red like the setting sun.

During a lunar eclipse, recent observations have shown, the moon's surface temperature drops from 170 degrees Fahrenheit immediately before the eclipse to 190 degrees below zero during the total eclipse.

A drop of 360 degrees in an hour or two! Some cold wave! Of course, no one lives on the moon, for it is airless and barren. The absence of atmospheric protection permits the sudden change in temperature. During the long lunar night a thermometer at the surface would register not higher than 150 degrees below zero.

The earth's conical shadow stretches nearly a million miles into space. At intervals of 29½ days the moon, then at the full phase, overtakes the shadow; but it passes usually above or below and there is no eclipse. The number of lunar eclipses in a year varies from three to none at all. Some of them are only partial and not visible from the earth. Astronomers now know far in advance the times and circumstances of eclipses. At the times of full moon, near the middle and the end of the year, conditions are most favorable for eclipses.

HUNTERS FORCE GAME WARDEN TO DRINK

Caught with a turkey hen killed in violation of the State game law, a trio of unidentified hunters Sunday used Chicago gangster tactics to escape the law's net.

Stopped by Ray Cannon, a special deputy sheriff and range rider on the Ford Ranch, 27 miles west of Kerrville, the three hunters, riding in a Chevrolet coupe, forced the officer at the point of pistols to drink a quart of moonshine whiskey and after the official had swooned from the effects of the liquor they made their escape, taking the contraband fowl with them.

When Cannon failed to return home, members of his family became alarmed and searching parties were formed. He was found in an unconscious condition about two miles from his home. After being revived by a physician, he recounted his experience and gave a description of the first game hijackers to invade Kerr County.

According to Cannon's story, he halted the hunting party and upon searching their car found the dead turkey hen. He told them they were under arrest and probably would be forced to pay a heavy fine, whereupon two of the men pulled pistols and threatened to kill him. After a discussion between the three they decided not to shoot him but to make him drunk instead, and producing a bottle of liquor they brandished their weapons and forced him to take drink after drink until he became intoxicated and paralyzed.

As soon as he was able, Cannon made a report of the unusual occurrence to J. J. Dent, district deputy game commissioner, giving the license number of the automobile in which the trio were riding. An investigation is now under way and arrests in the case are expected. — Kerrville Mountain Sun.

RELIGION OF PRESIDENTS

The recent presidential campaign has caused some search into the pages of history to ascertain the religious faith of men who have been president of the United States from George Washington's time until now and some remarkable facts have been ascertained. Among the list nine were Episcopalians, seven were Presbyterians, three were Methodists and one was a Baptist.

The complete list is as follows: Washington was an Episcopalian; Adams a Unitarian; Jefferson a Liberal; Madison, Episcopalian; Monroe, Episcopalian; John Quincy Adams, Unitarian; Jackson, Presbyterian; Van Buren, Reformed; Harrison, Episcopalian; Tyler, Episcopalian; Polk, Presbyterian; Taylor, Episcopalian; Fillmore, Episcopalian; Pierce, Episcopalian; Buchanan, Presbyterian; Lincoln, Liberal; Johnson, Liberal; Grant, Methodist; Hayes, Methodist; Garfield, Disciples; Arthur, Episcopalian; Cleveland, Presbyterian; Harrison, Presbyterian; McKinley, Methodist; Roosevelt, Reformed Dutch; Taft, Unitarian; Wilson, Presbyterian; Harding, Baptist, and Coolidge is a Congregationalist.

Hoover, president-elect, is a Quaker, the first of the faith ever nominated, and Smith was the second Catholic that ever made the race. The first Republican nominee was the only other Catholic ever so honored, and the defeat of both has probably impressed the two major parties with the fact that nominees must be Protestants.

MOODY SAYS NEXT LEGISLATURE WILL CHANGE FEE SYSTEM

Austin, Nov. 18.—Extensive changes in the fee system in Texas will be made by the next Legislature, Governor Moody said this morning, in his opinion.

The Governor expressed the belief that the recent court decision that Justices of the Peace can not collect fees in criminal cases will result in the Legislature placing many other officers besides Justices of the Peace on a salary basis.

"People have a mistaken idea that the criminals pay the fees," said Governor Moody. "That occurs only in two instances. In others the State pays the fees. If the State could collect the fees and pay the officers a salary the taxpayers would be far better off."

At forty some women are more attractive than they were at twenty, but the number is limited.

FIT-THROWING GRAFTER ABROAD IN THE LAND

Beware of the professional fit-thrower. One of these victimized a number of our citizens only this week and others of his kind will make periodical visits and work their nefarious graft on the public again unless the people are on guard. The usual method of this gentry is to seek a place on the main street where a considerable crowd is congregated. They then throw a fit, which for realism is mighty hard to beat. Of course the sympathy of the onlookers is aroused. Others rush to the scene, and their sympathy is likewise enlisted. As soon as the victim recovers from his "paroxysm" he has a pathetic story to tell. He is ill and wants to go to such and such a town, usually a distant place, where he has relatives. The need is no sooner made known than it is filled by the hoodwinked spectators and the fit-thrower, profuse in his thanks, limps off in woe-begone style, and goes to the next town to repeat the same trick. A good rule to follow is not to give any of these gentry a penny unless you know of your own knowledge they are worthy of your charity. Why not make the Red Cross, which you support by annual or monthly contribution, the clearing house for your charity. Send the beggars to the regular headquarters and let the one in charge investigate and determine their worthiness. The majority of them will never go there because they are impostors. Those that do and return to you with the assurance that they are worthy of your charity, you will give to freely because you will know that you are not being imposed upon. —Terrell Tribune.

DEMOCRATIC FUND IS $1,600,000.00 SHORT

New York, Nov. 16.—James W. Gerard, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, Friday estimated that the party's deficit in the recent campaign would be approximately $1,600,000.

Contributions to the campaign funds, said Gerard, amounted to date to $3,736,000. Since the election 24,000 contributions had sent in money and he estimated that the total number of persons making contributions to the Democratic war chest would be between 125,000 and 150,000. He placed the campaign expenses at about $5,300,000.

BOY, LEG CRUSHED. LIES UNDER TRAIN AS 20 CARS PASS

Weatherford, Nov. 17.—His leg crushed by the wheels of a freight train from which he had fallen, Tommy Carroll, 15, stepson of W. C. Wilson of Dallas, lay quietly in the middle of the tracks near here Friday as more than twenty cars of the train passed over him.

Young Carroll and a companion, whose name was not learned, were en route from their home in Dallas to California. The boy's right leg was amputated below the knee.

Blessed is he who has found his work; let him ask no other blessedness. —Caryle.

PRINCIPAL POWERS AND DUTIES OF PRESIDENT

The president is Commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States and of the militia of the several states when called into actual service of the United States.

He shall make treaties with foreign governments, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. These treaties become the law of the land when concurred in by two-thirds of the Senate.

He shall nominate and, with the advice and consent of the Senate appoint ambassadors, public ministers and consuls, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not otherwise provided for by the Constitution or statutes of the United States. Commissions of all officers of the United States bear the signature of the President.

He receives foreign ambassadors and other public ministers.

He may grant reprieves, pardons and commute sentences for offenses committed against the United States, except in case of impeachment.

He may call special sessions of Congress or of either house of Congress. He may adjourn Congress if the two houses cannot agree upon a time of adjournment. He shall inform Congress from time to time, of the state of the Union, and recommend measures for the consideration of Congress.

He shall receive, sign, veto or return without signature all bills passed by Congress. (Bills not returned to Congress by the President within ten days, Sundays excepted, unless Congress by adjournment prevents their return, become law without the president's signature). Bills vetoed by the president become law with his signature if again passed by a two-thirds vote in both houses of Congress.

He shall take care that all laws of the United States be faithfully executed. — Menard Messenger.

WINNING CANDIDATE ASKS FOR RECOUNT

Frequently when a political race is so close that there are only a few votes difference between the losing and winning candidate, the loser asks for a recount of the votes, in the hope that errors will be found which will reverse the majority and give him the office.

The first case on record, so far as we know, where the winning candidates asked for a recount happened at Claremore, Oklahoma, the home town of Will Rogers, the celebrated cowboy humorist, following the recent election.

Lee Settle and Jim Reed were friends, also candidates for Treasurer of Rogers' county. Settle won by a margin of nine votes. Settle, the winner, thought the race close enough to warrant a recount. He demanded one, over Reed's protest.

The recount was made. Settle's majority was reduced to eight votes. Reed was still satisfied with the count, but not so with the County Treasurer-elect. He demanded another recount.

County election officials thought it was too much. The second recount was not made. Settle was adjudged the winner — over his protest.

PIONEER CATTLEMAN DIES AT BROWNWOOD

Richard B. Hyde, 79, for 45 years a leading cattleman of San Saba County, died at Brownwood, Sunday, October 11, following an illness of about three weeks. Hyde was one of the few surviving members of Colonel Parson's Cavalry Brigade that was organized in Ellis County in 1860. He came to Ellis County in childhood and lived there until 1883, when he moved to San Saba County and made that County his home until after the death of his wife in 1924. Since then he had lived with a daughter in Brownwood. He is survived by eight children and other relatives.

Beef cattle purchased in the fall for grass-grain fattening should be "roughed" through the winter so as to gain from 50 to 75 pounds. Cattle handled in this way will generally make greater gains the following summer than cattle making larger gains in the winter.

SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO

Joe Bissett and family have moved to town and are living at the old Jake Woods place. Hoy Smith and family moved in his week to their place recently vacated by R. Becker. W. H. Shepperd of Mason is here this week, guest in the home of his daughter, Mrs. O. C. Reid.

H. E. Wilson returned Tuesday from New Orleans where he went to attend a banker's convention.

Miss Dixie Hodges left this week to attend the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. Holden, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. McDonald, near Coleman.

Mr. V. O. Copple sold three sections of land to L. S. Hoggett, consideration about $11,000. Also 800 goats for which Mr. Hoggett pays $2,000. Mr. Copple moved this week to the John Fleming place in southwest Junction.

Frank Wilson returned Tuesday from New Orleans to which point he accompanied his wife who leaves for England to visit relatives and friends.

T. J. Meredith has sold his place on Cedar to O. C. Reid, consideration $2,750. In the deal Mr. Meredith takes the O. C. Reid resident property in Junction.

A delicious Thanksgiving dinner was served at the W. W. Chaison home Thursday. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Newt. Nance, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thomas, Mrs. Sid Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McKee, Eckert family. The table was loaded both dinner and supper with a veritable feast. Music by a player piano and graphophone. The guests say "delightful" is a mild term with which to refer to the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Calbert Reed returned Monday from San Angelo, where they had been visiting Mrs. Reed's parents and attending the fair.

Roosevelt was well represented at the wedding at Cedar Hill last Sunday, when Mr. Jim Slaughter and Miss Ellen Logan were united in marriage. They were well showered with rice. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. McClinden.

While hog hunting on Paint Creek last week Leslie Taylor was slightly injured by a horse falling on him, but now has about recovered.

Thomas Guthrie and Miss Myrtle Bartley of Edwards County were visitors at the J. S. Fleming ranch Sunday.

Miss Kate Bishop says that she is going to reduce the phone box charge to fifty cents.

Mrs. J. V. Brown and Mrs. S. A. Vining of San Antonio, mother and sister of Mrs. W. H. Johnson, are here guests at the Johnson home.

TURKEY TO BE SERVED STATE HOME INMATES

Austin, Nov. 19.—Inmates of the seven state eleemosynary institutions in Austin will have turkey for Thanksgiving.

The Board of Control contracted for 550 turkeys aggregating 6,515 pounds. The birds are to be delivered by Tom Miller of Austin, who agreed to furnish them at 24 cents a pound.

A Barber supply dealer says men's characters may be told by the shade and thickness of their hair. Now only the bald man will be able to escape having his "hair read."

BLASTING CAPS

We are approaching the season of the year when children are fond of playing with explosives. Teachers and school officials are urged to circulate information concerning the danger incurred by children when playing with blasting caps.

There are approximately 500 children crippled each year in the United States by playing with blasting caps which they have picked up. This means that there are approximately 500 children who will have to go through life with mangled hands, faces, arms, and legs. Some of them are killed.

ELECTION BET LOSER. ROLLING PEANUT, IS HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Harlingen, Texas, Nov. 19.—In addition to bruised knees, a stiff back and a rather tender nose, Bill Williams, election bet loser, Monday was nursing a wrenched wrist and a slight scalp wound as he continued rolling a peanut toward Harlingen from Rio Hondo, eleven miles.

Mr. Williams lost a half day on his schedule, by which he must roll the nut with his nose the eleven miles, when a negro woman in an automobile struck him. He had covered five miles, and after his wound had been dressed at the hospital he went home.

He resumed his push Monday morning.

School Notes

Lois Whitely from Voca, Texas, was enrolled in the eighth grade Monday morning.

Elsie Smith, a former third grade pupil, was promoted to the fourth grade Monday.

Pearl and Opal White withdrew from the Junction school Wednesday. They are leaving this community and we shall miss them very much.

Mildred Hodges, who is a member of the Senior Class, is reported ill with diphtheria this week. We hope that she will soon be able to be back in our number again.

Jack King and Ruby Johnson were absent from school Monday.

Mr. Bierschwale accompanied representatives from the vocational agriculture class to Brownwood Thursday. These boys won the highest prizes awarded, which was $50 for a county exhibition. The boys who went were Raymond James, Junior Stevenson, Carleton Wright, Harrel Ramsey and Wilbur Jeter. We are very proud of the boys. The prize winning exhibition will be placed at the State Bank in about a week.

The basketball girls went to Center Point Saturday and won a victory with a score of 27-15. This is the girls' fifth game and the fifth victory. The girls will play Sonora at Sonora Saturday.

The high school football team challenged the Junction football team of 1925 for a game Tuesday at 4:15. The team of 1925 won the game with a score of 6-0. The high school team will play Saturday at Rocksprings.

Bro. Crabb made a very interesting talk to the high school Wednesday morning. His subject was "Service." He brought out three good points on the subject: First, the preparation of our lessons; the preparation of our bodies physically; and the preparation of our minds spiritually. His talk was well received and we hope he will visit us again soon.

CARD OF THANKS

We thank our many friends for what they did for our dear father, who passed away the 17th of November. We feel that father is at rest. Our dear mother and two brothers have gone on and left three sisters of us to mourn over them. We are trusting when we are called we will meet them in that sweet home. May God bless you every one.

BOX SUPPER

A box supper will be given at the Copperas School on Wednesday night, November 28. Everybody is invited to attend and enjoy the evening. The young ladies of the community will see that there are plenty of boxes and the entire community guarantees an evening of merry-making.

CHRISTMAS GIVING

Though the custom of Christmas giving is almost as old as Christmas itself, the gift constantly finds new ways of expression. Those who suffer from avalanches of useless knacks on December 25th will applaud the movement stated by the Chicago Tribune under the slogan, "Give Your House a Christmas Present." A gift that suits the home is likely to be appreciated by every member of the family. While it may violate the tradition that a Christmas present should be personal, it has elements of economy and good sense that more than outweigh sentiment.

SWEET POTATOES IN THE SANDY LAND

Last week the editor had nothing to do so he wandered over to a sweet potato patch near town where he spent a few hours digging the large yellow sweet potatoes, with J. R. Smith, the potato man. When the time had come to stop he gave the editor one of these potatoes. If I would stop here you would think that Mr. Smith was stingy, but not so. The potato he gave fed the editor and family three days, and during that time he had company twice. That's what London's sandy land does.—London Graphic.

HOOVER'S TRIP

During Mr. Hoover's tenure of office as a member of the Cabinet he has persistently endeavored to promote commercial relations between the Americas. He was limited in his efforts as Commerce Secretary to the economic features of the problem. As President he is evidently intent on expanding the policy he outlined in his address of acceptance, to "direct economic progress in support of moral and spiritual progress." While this was intended for the United States, he evidently proposes to include all the Americas. The next President makes it rather clear that he is ambitious to present an all-American front in international affairs in the future. The good-will trip has a deep practical purpose behind it.

GAME CONFERENCE

On December 3rd and 4th, New York City will be host to the greatest gathering of game, fish and forestry conservationists, naturalists, big game hunters and other sportsmen ever held in the United States. Besides, there will be present representatives of the United States Government, the Dominion of Canada, and game commissioners from a large number of the States of the Union. These authorities on game and allied subjects from the far-flung quarters of this country and Canada will assemble to discuss many and diverse phases of outdoor life and the maintaining and increase of wild life worth many millions of dollars as "natural resources" of America.

THE COST OF WAR

In his Armistice Day speech, President Coolidge estimated that when all the bills have been paid the World War will have cost the United States upwards of 100 billion dollars, or half the total wealth of the Nation at the time the war began. The statistics of the League of Nations figure the total cost of the war to all the nations engaged at 400 billion dollars.

These are almost inconceivable sums, but what they represent is understandable when they are translated into figures intimately connected with social welfare. Four hundred billion dollars would provide a $4,000 home for every family in the United States, Great Britain, Canada, France, Germany, Belgium and Russia; there would then be enough left to provide a $5,000,000 library, a $5,000,000 hospital and a $10,000,000 university for every city in these countries with a population of 200,000. There would still enough left to establish a trust fund which, at 5 per cent interest, would provide an annual subsidy of $1,000 toward the salary of each 125,000 teachers and 125,000 nurses. And after all this was done, there would still be a surplus remaining equal to the total value of all public property existing in France and Belgium when the war broke out.

And the money cost is the smallest part of the cost of war. There is something essentially foolish in throwing away in a year or two of brutal conflict the wealth it takes generations of the industry, thrift and intelligence of the human race to accumulate.

Postal Service on Christmas Day

The day is not so far distant as to give some thought in regard to Christmas Day. It is not so much you should determine the Christmas gift, as it is to fix vividly in your mind that you must mail your Christmas packages before Christmas Day, at least in sufficient time that the package will arrive at destination and be handed out before Christmas Day.

Read the following letter from Postmaster General New addressed to postmasters: Office of the Postmaster General, Washington, D. C., Oct. 25, 1928:

As Christmas this year falls on Tuesday, it is my purpose to relieve of work on Christmas Day as many postoffice employees as may be possible, and thus permit them to have the full benefit of the greatest of all holidays and partake of their Christmas dinners in their homes with their families.

Postmasters will, therefore, suspend all work in postoffices from 12 o'clock midnight, December 24, except special delivery service and the regular holiday collections and dispatches of first class mail, and there will be retained on duty on Christmas Day only such number of employees as will be required for this purpose, and to receive and store, but not work, incoming mail. There will be no city delivery, village delivery, or rural delivery on Christmas Day. Special delivery mail will be handled and delivered as usual; such employees as may be necessary shall be on duty for that purpose.

At 12 o'clock midnight, December 25, such activities as ordinarily commence at that hour will again be put in operation, and on the following morning all activities will be resumed with full force and energy.

This was done on Christmas Day in 1925, and there is no reason why the same plan should not be successfully carried out this year, provided the necessary advance preparations are made.

Postmasters should, therefore, immediately commence to organize their offices and take measures to obtain the full cooperation of the public in order that the Christmas mail may be promptly deposited, dispatched, and delivered. The greatest factor in this achievement is early mailing and the handling and disposition of all mail promptly as received.

Postmasters should, therefore, inaugurate their Mail Early Campaign at an early date, and to this end should solicit the cooperation of newspapers, business and civic organizations—such as chambers of commerce, boards of trade, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, and like organizations—public school authorities, picture houses, public utilities, and every other available avenue of useful publicity.

I appeal to every postal employee to give to the service his most hearty co-operation in this great undertaking in the determination to have all Christmas mail deposited, handled, transported and delivered before midnight of December 24. This co-operation, I am fully confident, will be spontaneously and cheerfully forthcoming.

Harry S. New,
Postmaster General.

LAZY MAN'S CALENDAR

If your idea of life is one which is all play and no work, the following ingenious table from the Boston Herald will make you hopeful. On the other hand if you believe life demands work for usefulness and joy you will be glad that this theoretical schedule is not true to fact.

At any rate here is "The Lazy Man's Calendar:"

Each year has.....365 days
If you sleep 8 hours a day it equals.....122 days
Leaving.....243 days
If you rest 8 hours a day, it equals.....122 days
Leaving.....121 days
There are 52 Sundays.....52 days
Leaving.....69 days
If you have Saturday half holidays.....26 days
Leaving.....43 days
Allowance for sickness, lunches and other things.....28 days
Leaving.....15 days
Two weeks vacation.....14 days
This leaves.....1 day
On which since it is Labor Day no one works.

TRAIN GOES IN DITCH AT STRAWN

Strawn, Texas, Nov. 18.—T. & P. westbound train No. 9 went in the ditch three miles east of Strawn Sunday morning at 2:30 a. m. Four passenger coaches and a mail car and a baggage car left the rails but no one was seriously injured.

The wreck was due to a broken rail and was reported to have been unavoidable.

Doctors from Strawn, Mingus and Fort Worth went to the scene of the wreck.

Traffic was tied up over the road for several hours. All available crews were summoned to clear the wreck away.

CURRENT NEWS

Milton Wylie Humphreys, 84, said to be the last surviving member of the original faculties of University of Texas, Vanderbilt University and for twenty-five years professor of Greek at University of Virginia, died Tuesday at the University of Virginia hospital in Charlottesville, Va. Professor Humphreys served on the faculty of Washington and Lee University when Gen. Robert E. Lee became its president after the Civil War.

The body of a one-year-old baby, with head, arms and legs severed, was found floating in a lard can in Buffalo Bayou near Houston late Tuesday afternoon. D. H. Evans made the gruesome discovery, while walking with his son and dog along the bayou bank.

Governor Moody late Tuesday called for a meeting of the "committee of 31" to meet in Austin on Nov. 27 for the purpose of adopting and recommending a set of new highway laws and a financial program.

Income Tax returns show 238 Americans with net incomes of $1,000,000 a year or more. The number has increased in two years by 52. Citizens reporting incomes of $5,000,000 or more number only ten. There were 14 of them in 1926. Once a man with a million was considered rich. To be really "rich" now you need $1,000,000 a year.

With the approach of killing frosts well developed tomatoes that show no color but in which the leaf green is beginning to fade, can be picked and ripened by storing in shallow receptacles in a room where the temperature is about 72 degrees F. If the air is very dry, sprinkle the floor a little from time to time, or set pans of water in the room; otherwise the tomatoes will shrivel during ripening.

THE NEW FORD

Since December 2, 1927, nearly 750,000 new Ford cars have been built. Production has been gradually increased from a few hundred a day to 6000 a day. We expect to make 2,000,000 automobiles in 1929.

From every part of the world come reports of its reliability and endurance. Many of the new Fords have been driven 50,000 miles in the past year. Some more than 100,000 miles. There is no telling how far they will go. The average life of the Model T was seven years. We believe this new car will do even better.

The whole effort has been toward simplicity—to give you outstanding service with as little machinery as possible. That is where experience counts. Built into the new Ford is everything we have learned in the making of fifteen million automobiles.

In a word, the quality of the new Ford goes clear through. Nothing has been done for show. No one part has been given undue prominence at the expense of another.

The new Ford was a good car when it was first introduced. We made sure of that before we asked you to buy it. It is a better car today.

Constantly we are finding new and better ways of doing things. As soon as we are sure of them we put them into the car. There is no such thing as a yearly model. Why should there be? As we make improvements, they are so planned that owners of previously built cars may take immediate advantage of them.

(Excerpt from Ford Motor Company ad.)

For further information come in and see us. We will be glad to give you a demonstration in the new Ford.

Junction Trade Notes

A matter in which all Kimble County is interested is the concerted action to reduce the great annual loss to the livestock industry from the blowfly. At the Hudspeeth ranch on Devil's River last Saturday this subject was the business end of a large gathering of stockmen called together by Congressman Hudspeeth to discuss the problem. A committee, of which Roy Caldwell was made chairman, was named and a meeting scheduled for December. Coke R. Stevenson of Junction and Penrose Metcalf of San Angelo, members of Legislature, pledged their services to the stockmen.

O. W. Watson, mayor of the town of Bowie, is taking his annual outing on the Llano this week. Before leaving he contracted for 400 pounds choice Llano pecans through Gann Grocery Company, to be shipped to his home in Bowie.

The weather in Junction Tuesday morning registered 22 degrees, according to thermometer at the home of R. L. Ruckie. The weather is fine for curing venison hams and side meat.

Edwin Wahl brought down a 26-point buck early in the week, which is probably the most treasured trophy of the hunting season this far.

An old model T Ford, from up-State, carried its quota of three bucks when it left out of Junction the second day of the season, while a Dallas car bore five bucks and six large gobblers.

S. P. Woodward of Gann Grocery Company is out of town this week in search of a coveted buck and the working force of the store are looking for him to bring in a two-point armadillo.

Mr. Meyer, representing the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, visited Junction this week and conferred with C. T. Holkamp, president of the local chamber. Mr. Meyer predicted that Junction would eventually become famous for its Llano River pecans.

Fresh hams and bacon received weekly. Gann Grocery Company.

Walter G. Loeffler, former citizen of Junction, now with J. E. Huffines & Co., auditors of Dallas, was here first of the week on business.

Lipton's Coffee, the equal of Lipton's Tea, is becoming a favorite beverage in Junction. Gann Grocery Company.

Richard Lewis, attorney of Houston, representing Mrs. Autrey of that city, has purchased the J. W. Schubert lands fronting the South Llano and has made plans for converting the place into a summer and winter playground. Already plans have been made for erection of a stone house 40x60, story and a half in height.

D. T. WILLIFORD DIES

Mr. D. T. Williford died at a Brady hospital November 17, and the body was brought here for burial, the Rev. G. W. Crabb conducting the funeral services Sunday afternoon, November 18.

Mr. Williford was born in Little Rock, Arkansas, February 15, 1862. He came to Texas at the age of twelve, and was married in 1881. He was the father of five children, two sons and three daughters. The wife and two sons preceded the husband and father. Three daughters, Mrs. Bertha Evans, Mrs. Gracie Simons and Mrs. Retta McNatt and several grandchildren survive him.

He was converted and united with the Baptist Church when young.

Our game wardens are making it rather hard on hunters who do not seem inclined to confine themselves to the laws protecting our wild game. Several have paid fines for trespassing and Mr. John S. Munn paid a doe in a car headed for Hale Center. The man was fined, his license cancelled and the venison confiscated and given to the sick and needy.

ZIPP-BROWNING

Sunday, November 18, at high noon the marriage of Miss Alexa Browning and Mr. Ernest Zipp, Jr., of San Antonio, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Browning.

The rooms were decorated with pot plants and bouquets of chrysanthemums, marigold and white carnations, intermingled with delicate white ferns.

Rev. J. S. Newman read the marriage lines. Only the immediate families of the bride and groom were present and Mrs. Frank Cowser.

The bride was becomingly gowned in pink georgette, beautifully trimmed in lace. Satin slippers and hose of matching shade completed her costume. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations and fern gracefully tied with tulle.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, following which Mr. and Mrs. Zipp left for their home in San Antonio. The bride's going away costume was a smart brown satin ensemble with hat and accessories to match.

Mrs. Zipp is a Junction girl. She is a graduate of the Schreiner High School and, also, the San Antonio Business College, where she made a splendid record. She is one of Junction's own daughters and her many friends wish her happiness in her new home.

The out-of-town guests who attended the Zipp-Browning wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Zipp, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zipp and daughter, Fritz Zipp and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meadows, all of San Antonio.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY

One of the prettily appointed parties of the season was given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Willie Ragland by Mrs. M. Wilkinson, complimenting her daughter, Miss Tyler Wilkinson.

Beautiful fall flowers adorned the rooms and provided a bright note of color for the happy occasion. Bridge provided the medium of entertainment and the tallies, decorated with cupids bore the announcement, "Tyler—Robert, Nov. 28, 1928." On that date Miss Wilkinson will become the bride of Mr. Robert Gatlin of Del Rio.

Mrs. Coke R. Stevenson made high score and received a dainty hand embroidered boudoir pillow. A hand painted bread board and knife was won by Mrs. Brown King of San Angelo. A duck pin cushion went to Mrs. Clay Secrest for low score. These trophies were presented to the honoree by the winners. Home-made mints were placed on the tables.

At the close of the evening chicken salad on a lettuce leaf, potato chips, olives, bread and butter sand wiches, nut bread sand wiches and tea were served with little cakes surmounted by a gum-drop candle stick with a life saver for handle topped with tiny lighted tapers.

MERRY WIVES CLUB

Friday evening Mrs. U. D. Kindrick and Miss Lena Cowser were joint hostesses honoring the Merry Wives Club and a number of friends, at the home of Mrs. H. D. Taylor.

At six-thirty a delicious repast of chicken a la King in patty shells, wafers, fruit salad on lettuce leaf, olives, salted nuts, coffee and pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, was served.

The living room presented a pretty scene with bouquets of roses and white chrysanthemums, while on the mantle and over the windows, autumn leaves were banked.

Mrs. Guy Wynne made high score in the bridge games and was rewarded with a bridge table. Mrs. Dorothy Westmoreland, also, received a bridge table for making high guest score. Mrs. Rudolph Tatum won the cut prize, a deck of cards and a similar trophy consoled Mrs. Forrest Weldon for her bad luck.

MRS. JOE FRITZ HONORS THREE HOTEL GUESTS

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Joe Fritz complimented three of the ladies who are guests at the Fritz Hotel with a bridge. The honorees were Mesdames J. R. Turnbull of Houston, M. E. Hollern of Breckenridge, Geo. Beard of Fort Worth and, Powell Paxton of San Antonio.

A bottle of bath salts went to Mrs. H. D. Taylor for high score. A similar trophy was presented to Mrs. Roy Spiller for cut prize. Miss Mary Phillips received the consolation, a box of talcum powder.

Boxes of dainty handkerchiefs were presented to each of the honorees.

At the close of the afternoon hot tamales, Spanish rice, bread and butter sandwiches, coffee, and pineapple topped with cherry were served to about thirty-five guests.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY

The gobble, gobble, gobble of the gobblers that are gobbling around these days reminds us that it is near Thanksgiving. It might be said that a turkey that is hatched from an egg is of few days and full of trouble. He cometh forth like a flower and is cut down, he fleeth also as a shadow and continueth not.

As for the turkey hen, her days are as grass, as a flower of the field, so she flourisheth. In the morning she is alive and clucketh, in the evening she is cast into the oven.

Even so it is with the gobbler. Today he plumeth himself; he strutteth abroad and draggeth his wing on the ground as if one should say, "Aha." Tomorrow he falleth a prey to the carver; his flesh is parted asunder and his bones are distributed among the spoilers. In his pride he eateth corn and waxeth fat, saying to himself, "all things are made for my enjoyment." When his fall cometh there is none who remembereth the day of his triumph, and all men mock him.

The turkey hen thinketh in secret she will raise a young brood, and layeth eggs, but too soon she is served on a platter and passeth away. The young turkeys, even the little ones, in the spring hide themselves in the stubble and strive against the wind and storm, for life is sweet to little turkeys. But when they become big and fat, and the voice of Thanksgiving is heard, suddenly their gobbling ceaseth and they become a part of the people.

25'S DEFEAT 28'S

The 1925 class of the Schreiner High School played the 1928 team on the local grounds Tuesday afternoon. The boys of 1925 won 6 to 0, but they look as if they got the worst of the game. Some of them are all "skinned up," and get around with difficulty. The exercise was rather severe for them and they had very little training before the game.

The Eagle reporter regrets that he was not able to see the game so that he might tell how it happened.

DR. TRUETT AND WIFE SUED FOR DAMAGES

Dallas, Nov. 21.—Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist Church here and head of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Mrs. Truett were named co-defendants in a suit for $22,125 damages filed today by Fred Webster, a motorcycle delivery boy.

Webster charged he was injured Oct. 10 when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Truett. He charged that Mrs. Truett was driving at a high rate of speed.

FIREMAN LEAPS FROM TRAIN AND SAVES BABY

Port Jervis, N. Y., Nov. 18.—A regular movie thriller was enacted near here Saturday. A 92-car freight train was plunging into town at high speed. A few hundred yards ahead of it a 2-year-old girl was playing on the tracks, innocent of her danger. Engineer W. G. Gerlach of Port Jervis, jammed down his brakes, but he realized the momentum of his mile long train would carry it on over the child.

At his warning his fireman leaped from the cab and raced the slowing locomotive to the girl, snatching her to safety with but second to spare.

The House Campaign Funds Committee will leave for Texas on Nov. 23 to investigate campaign expenditures in the Southern part of the State.

FOX COMPANY BURNS

San Antonio, Nov. 18.—One man lost his life when fire early Sunday gutted the two-story building of the Fox Company on Alamo Plaza, destroyed stock valued at $150,000.

J. R. Dent, 68, night watchman in the store, was found dead by firemen, his body badly burned and with a deep gash on his head. The origin of the fire is undetermined. It is believed that the watchman injured his head while trying to escape the flames. The possibility that he might have been the victim of an attack is being investigated.

The loss was mostly covered by insurance.
