World Bank In Session

By JOHN GALE
Associated Press Writer

GOPENHAGEN (AP) — The managing director of the International Monetary Fund told the World Bank's annual meeting today he hopes the United States will strengthen its balance of payments position by working to eliminate inflation and restore price stability.

At the same time, Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, chief official of the 116-nation body, proposed that inflation-hit industrial countries consider instituting wage and price controls.

The French IMF chief did not specifically single out the United States in exploring this idea, but declared that wage and price controls may be particularly useful in tackling continued cost-push forces "at a time when fiscal and monetary policies have stamped out excess demand and the economy is operating below capacity."

This summarized the current situation in the United States and left the implication that Schweitzer was directing his remarks to Washington, among others.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the opening session of the IMF-World Bank annual meeting, Schweitzer underlined the importance to the international monetary system of obtaining a sustained improvement in the U. S. balance of payments position.

While noting some "encouraging" recent signs in U. S. and Canadian price developments, Schweitzer said over-all stabilization efforts against stubborn inflationary momentum had met with some disappointment.

"In both countries wage settlements are still running substantially in excess of normal productivity growth and the task of economic management is clearly difficult," he declared.

He added: "The United States and Canada will need to persevere in their protracted stabilization efforts - with particular care in the current situation of economic slack to avoid excessively expansionary policies that might nullify the progress already made against inflation."

Schweitzer noted that during the first half of 1970, price increases in industrial countries were the largest since the Korean War two decades ago. He cautioned national authorities to "attach a very high priority" to programs aimed at arresting the trend.

Hundreds Attend Ranchers' Event

Hundreds of ranching families and others interested in Southwestern history, were on hand Saturday for the second annual Ranchers' Gathering, sponsored by the local Ranch Headquarters Association.

Displays of early-day home furnishings, a country store, along with continuous music and a western art show were in competition for attention during the four-hour event from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The local Ranch Headquarters Association, headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Connell, held its first Ranchers' Day event a year ago at the coliseum here. It was at that gathering that plans were announced for organiazation of the Ranch Headquarters Association to spearhead work toward establishing an out-door ranch museum at Texas Tech.

The Scurry County Ranch Heasquarters is the largest and most active local unit.

The art show was an added attraction this year. The top award made by the Diamond M Foundation, went to Mondel Rogers Jr. of Sweetwater, whose painting titled 'The Black Widow," was named over-all best in the show.

Cool Front Moving Into Panhandle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cool front was expected to bluster into the Texas Panhandle today, igniting scattered thunderstorms as it moved south.

Turbulence prowled the state Sunday, spawning a small tornado in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and dumping heavy rains there and in East Texas.

The Valley twister spun through a garage and house trailer at Lyford before it moved to Raymondville where it damaged a house. No injuries were reported.

Another tornado was spotted near Longview where it ripped down a barn and then dashed back into black thunderheads.

Temperatures Sunday ranged from 95 at Wichita Falls and Wink to 83 at Marfa in the Big Bend country.

Weathermen said scattered thundershowers would fall today in southern areas of the state and along the coast as the weak cool front influenced the environment.

Skies were to be renerally partly cloudy elsewhere with only minor temperature adjustments.

Bentsen Coming Here Wednesday

Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., the Democratic party nominee for the U.S. Senate, will bring his campaign to Snyder on Wednesday afternoon.

Frank Wilson and Joe Carroll local campaign managers for Bentsen, said that the Democratic Senate nominee would be on hand for a coffee session between the hours of 3:15 p.m. and 4:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Snyder Savings and Loan community room. All voters are invited to meet him and visit with him at that time, said Wilson and Carroll.

Bentsen dedeated Sen. Ralph Yarborough in the primary election last May to become the Democratic Party nominee for the office.

South Viet Navy Launches Drive

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese naval task force has launched a major operation in Cambodia along the Bassac River about 35 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, a military spokesmen reported today.

The operation, involving scores of gunboats and more than 1,000 Vietnamese marines, started Saturday but was not disclosed until today for security reasons, he said.

Informed sources said there had been little significant action to date.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported one minor skirmish Sunday when a Marine battalion clashed with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops along Route 30 near Phum Taey, about 10 miles from the Vietnamese border.

It was not inmediately disclosed how many Vietnamese troops were committed in the new drive aimed at destroying North Vietnamese and Viet Cong sanctuaries between the Bassac and Mekong rivers, which lead into South Vietnam's fertile Mekong Delta.

At last report, 13,500 South Vietnamese troops were operating inside Cambodia.

Meanwhile, American warplanes slammed hundreds of tons of bombs into North Vietnamese positions around two artillery bases in the northern quarter of South Vietnam and kept up raids on enemy supply routes in Laos and Cambodia.

American bombers began their third week of concentrated raids around embattled Fire Base O'Reilly, near the Laotian border, where fresh firhting flared during the past 24 hours.

They also attacked North Vietnamese positions threatening Fire Base Fuller, four miles south of the demilitarized zone.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that more than 200 government troops clashed with North Vietnamese soldiers about 2½ miles southeast of Fire Base O'Reilly, which has been besieged for the past two months.

Fifteen North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed. Field reports said one South Vietnamese soldier was killed and one wounded.

The U.S. 7th Air Force said its tactical fighter-bombers flew 16 sorties in support of the South Vietnamese troops at O'Reilly during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today. A sortie is one flight by one plane.

Informed sources said U.S. bombers flew up to 300 sorties against North Vietnamese supply routes in Laos and Cambodia during the past 24 hours.

Enemy troops, blocking a Cambodian ground operation aimed at opening the road from Skoun to Kompong Thom, may be withdrawing, reports to Cambodian military intelligence said today. The drive up Route 6 was halted at Taing Kauk village, north of Skoun Sept. 3 by a North Vietnamese and Viet Cong force that inflicted heavy losses on the Cambodians.

Reports from villagers living in the Communist-controlled part of the battle zone said that for the first time in more than a week the flow of enemy troops into the village of Taing Kauk had halted and that some Communist troops were pulling out. Reports also said the enemy had blown up at least one bridge behind heavily fortified positions in the village, leading government officers to interpret the move as a way to block a government advance past the town if it is retaken by government troops.

Cambodian Premier Lon Nol flew to the front lines today and said he was pleased with the actions of the government troops so far.

US Condemns Syrian Invasion

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reported Syrian intervention in the Jordanian civil war appears to increase the possibility of direct U.S. involvement in the conflict. But U.S, officials hope urgent appeals to Russia, Syria and other nations will avert broadened fighting.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers condemned the alleged invasion Sunday as "irresponsible and imprudent" and warned: "This action carries with it the danger of a broadened conflict."

"We call upon the Syrian government to end immediately this intervention in Jordan," he said, "and we urge all other concerned governments to impress upon the government of Syria the necessity of withdrawing the forces which have invaded Jordan."

The Nixon administration's initial reaction took the form of the Rogers denunciation and warning and a direct request to the Soviet government, plus diplomatic appeals to other governments to put pressure on Syria to end its intervention.

The appeal to Moscow was made through the ranking Soviet diplomat here, Minister-Counselor Yuly M. Vorontsob.

Russia is Syria's major arms supplier and U.S. officials assume Moscow can exert considerable influence in Damascus. In a sense, the publicized U.S, appeal was a challenge to the Russian government to demonstrate what it is willing to do to curb the peril of spreading conflict in the Middle East.

Fifth Largest Bank Cuts Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., the nation's fifth largest bank, said today it was cutting its prime interest rate to 7½ per cent from 8 per cent.

The bank said the rate cut was effective immediately.

The prime rate is the rate banks charge their largest and most creditworthy customers such as large corporations.

While First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co. of Philadelphia and several smaller banks have cut their prime rates in recent weeks, Morgan Guaranty is the first major New York bank to do so. The nation's banks usually follow the prime rate set by the major New York banks.

A Morgan Guaranty spokesman said the cut was "in response to market conditions and monetary policy as the bank sees them."

Battle Rages In Jordan

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Royal Jordanian army forces were outnumbered and taking heavy casualties today in battles with tanks from Syria in Irbid, Jordan's second largest city, Radio Amman reported.

Israeli military informants in Tel Aviv said they had received information that Irbid, about 50 miles north of Amman, had fallen to a force of Soviet-built tanks that entered Jordan on Sunday in the second of two thrusts from Syria.

The Jordanian broadcast said two brigades of tanks converged on Irbid in support of Palestinian guerrillas holding the city's center in the fifth day of their war against King Hussein's government in Amman.

The Amman broadcast exhorted troops of the 40th Royal Tank Brigade in Irbid to "hold fast and teach the heretic rulers of Syria a lesson in heroism." The Syrians denied their forces had entered Jordan.

King Hussein hinself went on the radio later, accusing the Syrians of hatching a plot that would allow Israel to occupy all of Jordan.

He praised the 12,000 Iraqi troops stationed in Jordan since the 1967 Middle East war and this was taken to mean he was appealing indirectly to them to intervene on Jordan's behalf. They had been encamped near Irbid before the fighting began.

The Iraqis are reported to have moved away from the battle zone but allowed Jordanian tanks to pass through their lines.

The 34-year-old monarch claimed Syria's leaders withdrew tanks from the cease-fire line with Israel in the Golan Heights in order to strike against Jordan.

Hussein contended his forces had just about ended the uprising by Palestinian guerrillas—who opposed his agreement to enter peace talks with Israel—when "the real imperialist agents, the rulers of Syria, staged their treacherous aggression against us.

Syrian President Nureddin Atassi denied that his country's troops had crossed the border after the first of two invasion claims by Amman, and Damascus Radio reiterated the denial today.

The official Syrian government statement also demanded that the United States withdraw its 6th Fleet units from the eastern Mediterranean Sea.

The guerrilla command, in broadcasts from Damascus and Baghdad, claimed to have fought off continual Jordanian tank and artillery assaults on Irbid prior to the reported Syrian intervention.

A message from Jordanian army leader Field Marshal Habis Majali praised the Jordanian 40th Brigade for successfully resisting superior enemy forces and "holding fast in the face of the aggressors, as fast as the steel of your tanks."

Rites Set Today For Willard Jones

Graveside rites were set for 5 p.. today at the Snyder Cemetery for Willard Jones, former newspaper publisher here and a former president of the Snyder Chamber of Connerce.

Mr. Jones died Saturday night at his ranch home near Bandera, where he had lived since his retirement in 1960 after 43 years in the newspaper busuness.

Hw bought the Snyder News in 1929 and the News later was consolidated with the Scurry County Times. Mr. Jones continued as publisher of the Scurry County Times, a weekly newspaper here, until 1949 when he sold his interests here to the Harte-Hanks Newspapers, publishers of a group of newspapers in the state. The Scurry County Times became a daily publication on May 1, 1950 and its name became The Snyder Daily News.

Mr. Jones pruchased the Hamlin Herald after selling his newspaper interests in Snyder and he also was part owner of the Haskell Free Press and the Texas Spur, along with a brother-in-law, H.G. Lackey.

He served as a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on two occasions, once while living in Snyder and again while he lived at Hamlin. He also was actively interested in other community and civic work, serving as president of the Hamlin Lions Club and was a Baptist Deacon and Sunday Sunday School teacher for many years.

Rites were held at 10 a.m. today at Bandera, with the Rev. James Rogers officiating. The body was to be brought to Snyder following the Bandera rites for the graveside rites and burial. Bell-Seale Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Mr. Jones is survived by his wife; a son, June Jones of Abilene, and a daughter, Mrs. Dick Rollins of Abilene.

Second Rail Strike Averted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, having moved to bar a threatened rail strike by four unions Sept. 24, has acted to avert another one called for the same day.

Secretary of Labor James Hodgson said a meeting was set for Tuesday with the United Transportation Union to solve a long-standing dispute over firemen. The Transportation Union was among four unions barred from striking over pay issues Sept. 24, but said over the weekend a strike would start at 12:01 a.m. on that date, if the firemen question isn't solved.

Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery will head the government mediation team on the firemen issue.

A 1963 law allowed carriers to eliminate about 90 per cent of the firemen riding trains, but the law has now expired and the union wants to get them back aboard.

Pot penalties still too high

By Abigail Van Buren

1970 by Chicago Tribune N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Recently you printed a long list of penalties for being caught with marijuana, and since you made no comment, I assume that you believe these penalties are fair and just. DISAPPOINTED READER

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: You are assuming a lot, my friend. I frequently publish letters without adding my comment. And many letters express views contrary to mine. I simply let others have their say. Why not? I don't assume that because someone disagrees with me, he is wrong and I am right.

I published the legal penalties for being caught with marijuana because many are still unaware of what they have to lose. I also happen to feel that the punishment does not fit the "crime."

DEAR ABBY: Why do so many people say that "pot" is harmless? Our daughter began using it in January. She went on to mescaline in March, started seeing a psychiatrist in May, and was in a mental hospital in July. She really had no intentions of getting involved with drugs, but her nearest and dearest friend, a girl I liked and trusted, got her started. Now the mother of this girl says, "You know, I've been reading up on marijuana, and it's really not so bad. It's no worse than tobacco or alcohol."

What can I possibly say to her? And to all the people who are spreading this plague with their permissiveness?

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: While the most reliable authorities tell us that marijuana is no more addictive [habit-forming] than tobacco or alcohol, excessive use of pot can be as destructive to some individuals as excessive drinking and smoking is to others. There is no way of knowing who can "handle" such things and who can not. Some people who drink like fishes and smoke like chimneys live to be 90. Others become alcoholics in their twenties and die of lung cancer in their thirties. It's a gamble. And of course the only winners are those who stay out of the game.

DEAR ABBY: Just who says "pot" is harmless? From personal experience I know it can cause ulcers, insomnia, heartache, financial problems, and the desire to commit suicide. Not to all, but to a significant percentage of those who are caught.

I am 22 years old. I threw newspapers all thru junior high. I bagged groceries thru high school, and left for college with a pat on the back from my proud father. After graduation I taught school for one year and was considered to be an outstanding teacher.

While home on vacation, a friend invited me to a "groovy party." He said there would be pot there, and even tho I disapprove of pot, I was too weak in character to say no.

The next thing I knew, a policeman's flashlight was shining in my eyes. I was sitting on the same blanket with a bag of pot beside me. Now, 10 days later, I have lost everything; my fiancee, my opportunity for Coast Guard O. C. S. [I was to leave in two weeks!]

After a decade of pulling myself up by my bootstraps, career opportunities are now limited. It saps my desire to live.

My "friend" consoles me by saying that the law is outdated and will be changed "soon," and any society that punishes for such a thing is "sick." This all may be true, but I am the felon and I have to pay the price. Society, be it sick or well, has certain laws which should be obeyed until they are changed.

Now, I ask myself, "What was I doing there?" I am supposed to be a mature and intelligent person. I was absolutely stupid!

If you publish this, Abby, maybe just one person who is tempted to do what I did will read it and remember it. Between the lines can also be read the sorrow I have caused myself and my family. SUPPOSEDLY MATURE

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Decision Due On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate farm leaders are expected this week to decide the fate of a Nixon administration plan for a freer hand in setting crop subsidies that proponents say is necessary to stimulate U.S. trade.

The plan involves a House-passed omnibus farm bill authorizing $3.5 billion crop programs annually over the next three years. The Senate also passed a similar measure but included much tighter restrictions.

House and Senate conferees will meet now to worj out differences.

The overshadowing controvery for months was a limitation on direct government payments to big farmers. This is not expected to be an issue in the conference since both the House and Senate bills include a $55,000 per crop lid on the payments a farmer can collect annually for cotton, wheat and feed grains.

But the House version would allow government price support loans on the crops to ride up and down according to the world market crisis. The Senate, however, insisted on minimum loan guarantees for farmers.

Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin and other administration leaders say if the loan program is pegged too high it can make U.S. commodities too expensive for competition in world trade.

Another key provision of the House plan favored by the administration is a "set-aside" system under which farmers can retire a share of their land from production and grow whatever they wish on the rest.

In this way, the administration argues, farmers would have more flexibility and decision-making in their operations.

But the Senate bill, though including modifications of the set-aside plan, applies some differences to the acreage formula.

In the case of wheat, the Senate bill would allow farmers to continue with the existing program — under the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 — in 1971 and then vote on whether to accept the set-aside plan for later crops.

Another item in the Senate bill — reported by Administration sources to be serious enough for a presidential veto is a requirement that the Agriculture Department make advance subsidy payments to farmers who sign up in the wheat and feed grain programs.

Since farm program sign-ups usually are in the winter and early spring, Hardin has said this would mean an additional budget load for the current fiscal year of almost $1.7 billion.

If this provision is scrapped by the House-Senate conferees as some administration sources are confident, the costs would be delayed until the 1971-72 fiscal year.

The farm bills were written to replace the current programs which expire at the end of this calendar year.

Two Hit-Run Cases Cleared

City Police cleared two hit-and-run offenses with the arrest of two 18-year-old Snyder youths yesterday.

One of the youths allegedly fled the scene after his vehicle was in collision with a 1970 Model International pickup owned by Snyder Well Service at 11:25 p.m. Saturday. Damage to the pickup was placed at $350.

The other youth allegedly struck a 1960 Model Chevrolet pickup owned by Benny Costillo, 1404 Avenue K, while it was parked at his residence at 3:15 a.m. Sunday. Damage was set at $10.

Officers also are looking for a motorist who fled the scene after his car struck the parked 1968 Model Ford of Ray Wolf, 3102 Avenue V, while it was parked at the residence at 12:30 a.m. last Friday. Damage was placed at $25.

LT. FREDERICK R. FINLEY

SHS Grads Commissioned By Air Force

Two 1965 graduates of Snyder High School have been commissioned second lieutenants in the U.S. Air Force, upon their graduation from officer training school at Lackland AFB.

They are Lt. Richard G. Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bradley, 3711 Avenue U, and Lt. Frederick R. Finley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Finley of Weatherford, formerly of Snyder.

Lt. Bradley received his bachelor of arts degree in accounting last spring at Texas Tech University.

Lt. Finley attended Lubbock Christian College and East Texas State University before receiving the bachelor of business administration degree from Texas Tech. His wife, Carolyn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.C. T. Hardegree, 3728 Avenue U.

Child Hurt In Sunday Mishap

Douglas Talmade Garrett of Sweetwater and Russell Wayne Childress 4, of 507 Twenty-eighth Street, Snyder, sustained minor injuries in a two-vehicle collision on the East Highway near the Scurry County Coliseum at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Both were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service. The child was released after receiving treatment. He was a passenger in a 1960 Model Buick operated by Garrett. Damage to the car was estimated at $500.

Driver of the other vehicle was Joseph Archa Martin, 2811 Avenue O. He was not injured, but damage to his 1951 Model Chevrolet pickup was placed at $150.

Woman Victim Of Stabbing

Linda Shifflett Smith, 21, 1801 Fifteenth Street was stabbed in the back with a knife about 9:10 p.m. Sunday, according to Sheriff's Authorities, who said they took a 13-year-old youth into custody in connection with the offense. Charges are pending in juvenile court.

Mrs. Smith was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service. Her condition was described as fair.

Teachers Reviewing Ethic Code

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas teachers and administrators are reviewing a proposed code of ethics that includes a flat prohibition on strikes.

The tentative draft of the code was prepared by the Texas Professional Practices Commission, created by the legislature last year.

After teachers submit their comments, the code will be revised and submitted back to the educators for a referendum in February.

The commission then will have the right to make further changes, based on the referendum, then will finally adopt a code June 1, effective next Sept. 1.

The proposed code states "the educator shall not engage in strikes or organized work stoppages."

Texas already has an anti-strike law for public employes on the books, but similar laws have not deterred teacher strikes in other states.

The 24-item code also says each teacher "shall endeavor to understand community cultures and relate the home environment of all students to the school"—an apparent attempt to make Texas' largely middle class teachers more sympathetic with minority groups' subcultures.

It also would prohibit teachers from exposing pupils to ridicule and require them to keep confidential information about pupils secret "unless disclosure serves professional purposes or is required by law."

"The educator shall endeavor to present facts without distortion," another principle says in an apparent effort to keep teachers' opinions about controversial matters out of their teaching.

Thefts Are Probed Here

City Police are investigating a number of thefts and other violations.

Someone stole a trunk containing clothing, a .32 caliber automatic pistol and a wrist watch. It was taken from the residence of Cora Lee Baker, 3612 Avenue M, last Saturday night. Whoever stole the trunk forced entry into the house by shattering a back door window.

Someone stole a stereo tape deck and three tapes from the 1965 Model Oldsmobile of William A. Taylor, Clairemont Route, while the car was parked at the swimming pool in Pasle Park between 10 p.m. and midnight Sunday. The loss was set at $80.

Two motorcycle helmets were stolen from the motorcycle of David McCarter, Route 2, while it was parked at Northside Baptist Church Sunday morning. The loss was set at $35.

Officers also are investigating a case of violence.. Someone struck George Garcia Barrientez in the head with a blunt instrument as he walked from a restroom in Northeast Park at 3:30 p.m. Saturday. He was not hurt seriously.

Two Are Charged In DWI Cases

Robert Clifford Blevins and Leland Buckner Rae of Hermleigh were charged in county court this morning with driving while intoxicated.

Rae posted $500 bond and was released. Blevins had not made bond at noon today. The offense by Blevins allegedly occured Sept. 18, and the offense by Rae allegedly occurred Sept. 12. Both suspects were arrested by Highway Patrolmen.

Fire Put Out

City Firemen extinguished a fire in a waste basket at a residence located at 600 Thirty-third Street at 9:35 p.m. Sunday.

Two Colleges Get Big Gifts

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — East Texas Baptist College received the largest single gift in its 58 year history when $450,000 in cash and negotiable securities and mineral rights valued at $50,000 were conveyed to the college during the weekend by representatives of Mrs. May Cobb Grogan of Houston and the late Henry N. Grogan.

Howard Payne College of Brownwood, a sister institution to East Texas, received a similar gift from the Grogans.

Names of the Grogans has been closely related to the lumber business in East Texas for many years.

Doctor Killed At Glen Rose

GLEN ROSE, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Robert B. English was shot to death early today at Glen Rose, some 30 miles west of Cleburne.

Officers said the physician had been shot four times in the head with a .22 caliber pistol.

Officers said they arrested a man in connection with the slaying.

COUNTRY STORE — Jan (left) and Sonny Harrell are making a sale to Mrs. Josephine Randals at the country store during the Ranch Day celebration. They had such items as homemade jams, jellies, cookies, bread, pillow cases, crochet and other hand made items.

BEDROOM SETTING — The Atheneum Study Club presented this frontier type bedroom at the Ranch Day Celebration. The cradle, belonging to Mrs. John Sentell dates back to the Civil War times. The rocking chair, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cross was used about 1890 by Freds' great grandmother, Mrs. Reynolds. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Key brought the bed, which came from their ranch house at Gail that was built in the mid 1800's. The counterpane bedspread, belonging to Mrs. R. L. Drum was made from twine in 1880 by Mrs. Trevey, mother of Emmitt, Andy and Scott Trevey. There were several other items in the bedroom that are not shown.

SURREY — Mr. James C. Dowdy recalls the frontier days when he used to ride in this type of buggy. This surrey was on display at the Ranch Day celebration Saturday. It is owned by Mrs. Edith McKanna of Fluvanna.

Meeting To Establish Day Nursery Is Set

An organization meeting to establish a Day Nursery and Child Care Center will be held Tuesday evening, Sept 22 at 7:30 in the fellowship hall of First United Methdist Church.

The meeting is open to all churches of the Snyder area and to persons from all ethnic groups who are interested in establishing a nursery center for pre-school children of low-income families with working

The project began several weeks ago when the City Board of Missions, a unit of the Methodist Churches of this area, undertook to study the needs of our community in regard to working mothers and-or those who desire to work provided there is reputable care for their small children. It was soon discoverd that the need is so great that the operation, governing, and financing of a day nursery would need to be the cooperative effort of the entire community.

Each church denomination interested in this project is asked to send a voting delegate to the meeting Tuesday evening.

When you are testing a candy mixture, about ½ teaspoon of it should be poured into a cup of very cold water.

A governing board must be elected before application for a state license can be made. The drawing up of a charter and selection of a director will be other items on the agenda.

Train-Truck Collision Near Dallas Tops Texas Weekend Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The weekend violent death count in Texas was heightened by a spectacular train-truck collision near Dallas which killed four men, three of them trainmen.

The Associated Press began tabulating violent deaths at 6 p.m. Friday and counted until midnight Sunday.

By midnight Sunday, 28 had died. Car wrecks had killed 21 people, and seven others were killed in miscellaneous incidents including five shootings.

The four men killed in the collision of the Cotton Belt freight train at the tractor-trailer rig at Coppell, just outside of Dallas, were not identified officially until almost midafternoon.

The dead included three members of the Cotton Belt train crew, Robert A. Hood, 63, engineer, from Commerce; and two brakemen, H. L. Sims, 57, of Commerce and G. H. Thomas, 65, of Texarkana.

The fourth man killed was L. B. Broglin, 56, of Springfield, Mo., driver of the big truck.

The ensuing explosion and fire blocked traffic for over three hours. Several of the train cars were derailed by the accident.

James W. Mathewson, 65, of Beaumont, was killed at Fannett in Jefferson County late Saturday when struck down by a car on Texas 124, police said.

Three members of a Savoy, Tex. family died in a two car accident at Sherman around midnight Saturday. An Oklahoma man was critically injured.

Police identified the dead as Larry J. Pinkston, 26, his wife, Frances, 21, and their daughter, Donna Sue, 4.

Victor Garcia, 16, was killed Saturday night when his pickup truck overturned near Rio Grande City in the Rio Grande Valley.

Aurelio Hernandez, 18, of Rocksprings was killed Sunday when his automobile swerved off U.S. 277 and overturned three times. The accident occurred 22 miles north of Del Rio.

A Houston man, Bobby Sam Pennox, 49, was killed Friday night in the Bayou City when his car collided with a train.

Austin police said Ylario G. Corona, 29, of Bastrop, was struck and killed by a hit and run driver Friday on Austin's north side.

A car driven by Bobbie L. Denard of Waco overturned 15 miles south of Waco Friday night, killing him and injuring his wife.

Police at Waco said Jacqueline Finney of Waco was struck and killed by a car there Friday night.

Rose L. Coleman, 58, of West, was killed in a car-truck accident three miles north of Waco Friday night, police said.

Police arrested an 18-year-old man in connection with the Saturday beating death of Mrs. Don Davidson, 78, of Texas City. The woman's body was discovered at her home by a daughter and son-in-law.

Beverly Shorten, 28, a Houston nurse, was shot and killed Saturday by a man who then turned the gun on himself. Police said the 50-year-old insurance investigator was in critical condition at a Houston hospital.

A Dallas youth was shot to death Saturday while playing with a pistol with a friend.

The dead boy was Donald R. Thornton, 12, who was killed while playing at his grandmother's home, police said.

Dallas police said Jules Basek, 64, a pedestrian, died when struck by a car as it backed out of a driveway early Saturday.

Mrs. Guadalupe Garza, 40, was shot to death at Houston early Saturday and her husband was charged with murder, police said.

Police said the couple's four children told them their mother was shot four times following an argument over her having not locked the front door of their home.

Police at Kingsville said Pedro G. Suarez, 27, of Rivera was struck down and killed early Sunday while walking along U.S. 77. Police said the driver of the car did not stop.

Carol Pullin Jr., 22, of San Antonio was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car on IH 35 about seven miles north of Encinal. Officers said Pullin and a companion had a flat tire and Pullin was attempting to flag down an approaching car when he was struck.

Burl J. Gipson, 35, of Fort Worth was fatally wounded Sunday in a shooting that broke out back of a grocery store. Police arrested a man in connection with the shooting.

Fulton Eugene Rivers, 48, of Houston and his wife, Sara Mimms Rivers, 47, were killed Sunday in a headon auto collision about a mile south of Navasota on Texas 6. Two other persons were injured, both critically.

Mrs. Mary Rodriguez, 24, of Corpus Christi, died Sunday night in a hospital after being wounded in an afternoon target shooting accident.

Police said Mrs. Rodriguez was target shooting with friends when she was struck by a .22 caliber bullet.

A Bakersfield, Calif., man, Bob Posney, died Sunday when his motorcycle ran off an embankment on U.S. 181 near Corpus Christi and crashed 80 feet to the bottom.

The body of Howard Yoder, 61, of Olney was found on FM 1954 early Sunday about five miles from Archer City. Officers said the former Middlebury, Ind., man had been beaten to death. His burned automobile was found about 5 miles from his battered body.

Gas Field Worth $9 Million

GREENVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A 13-square mile natural gas field near here is estimated to contain 60 to 130 billion cubic feet of untapped gas.

The different estimates come from the Texas Gas Transmission Corp., now trying to purchase mineral rights to the field, and local land owners who are fighting acquisition of the field by the company.

The company says the gas is worth $9 million, but the landowners put the figure at $20 million.

Whisky Given Stroke Patients

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — Doctors here have prescribed whisky in the treatment of strokes.

"The idea is to dilate the cerebral blood vessels which affect the use of the limbs," said a spokesman for the Western General Hospital, one of the world's leading hospitals for brain surgery and the treatment of strokes.

A number of patients on the whisky cure have regained the use of paralysed limbs—but are sick of the sight of whisky, he reported.

Big Thicket Bill Is Shelved

AP Regional Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, the Texas Democrat who was defeated in this year's primary, would like as his final effort to push througt Congress a bill creating the Big Thicket national park in his home territory in East Texas.

But it appears that Big Thicket bills introduced by Yarborough, father of legislation creating two other national parks in Texas, and other state congressmen have little chance of succeeding this session.

Yarborough is anxious to save the Big Thicket, with its trees, birds and flowers not found anywhere else. For years, he has taken to meetings a stuffed ivory- billed woodpecker rarely seen outside the thicket.

With adjournment of Congress targeted for Oct. 15, there appears to be little likelihood that even the appropriate subcommittees will get to the Big Thicket bills.

For 13 years, Yarborough has introduced bills to create a Big Thicket and public support for it has grown to thousands of citizens and many conservation groups.

"But my term of office is soon coming to a close," Yarborough said, "and the reality of a national park in this forest wonderland still seems to be dreadfully far away."

A Senate Interior Committee source said it has no plans to hold hearings on the bill before adjournment unless the House committee takes action.

At the beginning of the century, the Big Thicket was a three- million-acre wilderness and swamp.

Now, Yarborough says, the thicket is down to about 300,000 acres and lumbermen are chopping away at that every day.

Yarborough has proposed a 100,000-acre park, as has Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex.

Democratic Reps. John Dowdy, whose district is in the middle of the lumber-wilderness area, and Earle Cabell of Dallas have proposed a park of about 35,000 acres to be arranged in "string of pearls," or a group of the most interesting and ecologically rare sections.

This session, Rep. George Bush, the Houston Republican challenging Yarborough's primary victor. Democrat Lloyd Bentsen, visited the Big Thicket and asked the Interior Department to help him prepare an outline of a park acceptable to the administration.

He introduced a bill early this summer to encompass the "string of pearls" concept, set aside thousands of acres along the river basin and allow for potential development of a scenic highway through the park.

The total acreage would vary, depending on whether the highway were provided, but could range upwards of 100,000 acres.

Rep. Bob Eckhardt, a Houston Democrat, introduced a bill providing for a 185,000 acre park.

Heart Attack Prevention

NEW YORK (AP) — Proper treatment of thyroid deficiency, or hypothyroidism, can prevent premature heart attacks in people suffering from a lack of thyroid hormones. It can also increase the life span of past victims of coronary disease, a report to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology has revealed.

The scientific study of 725 men and 844 women with hypothyroidism showed that only four new cases of heart disease developed instead of the expected 72. This 94 per cent reduction was achieved without changes in diet, exercise, or smoking habits.

Bengals, Lions, Pokes Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Brown would like more time to relive the first weekend of pro football's second half-century. Phil Bengtson would prefer to forget it.

Brown's Cincinnati Bengals struck down the Oakland Raiders 31-21 while the Detroit Lions mauled Bengtson's Green Bay Packers 40-0 Sunday as the National Football League's 51st season exploded in startling fashion.

Jess Phillips bolted 76 yards on a third-period draw play for the deciding touchdown as the Bengals duplicated a 1969 upset that handed the Raiders their only regular-season setback.

Brown's elation, however, was tempered when he looked ahead to the Bengals' next obstacle. "Next week we play Detroit," he remembered. "I'm sorry I said that. I wanted to enjoy this one longer."

The Lions pinned Green Bay with its first shutout in 12 years. Mel Farr scoring twice and Errol Mann booting four field goals to lead the attack while a ferocious defensive unit shackled Bart Starr.

In Sunday's other openers, Minnesota whipped Kansas City 27-10 to gain some measure of revenge for its Super Bowl loss to the Chiefs; Baltimore nipped San Diego 16-14; Houston downed Pittsburgh 19-7; Dallas overcame Philadelphia, 17-7; San Francisco upended Washington 26-17; Boston toppled Miami 27-14; Atlanta trimmed New Orleans 14-3 and Denver thumped Buffalo 25-10.

Los Angeles riddled St. Louis 34-13 in Friday night's curtain-raiser and Chicago beat the New York Giants 24-16 in a Saturday night game.

The New York Jets visit Cleveland in a nationally-televised tussle tonight to complete the first-week card.

Cincinnati and Oakland were locked in a 21-21 standoff when Brown ordered the draw play in a third down-and 28 bind with 2½ minutes remaining in the third period.

"We all sorta flinched when the play came in," Phillips conceded.

But the powerful speedster broke the draw for the go-ahead score and Horst Muhlmann's 38-yard field goal capped the shocker. Sam Wyche, directing the Bengals' offense with Greg Cook sidelined for the year, hit Essex Johnson with a 51-yard touchdown pass and scored himself on a five-yard keeper.

The Lions capitalized on every Green Bay error, limited the Packers to five first downs and never let them closer than the 30-yard line in what Coach Joe Schmidt termed "the best game we have played in the four years since I've had the ball club."

The Vikings also took advantage of mistakes, in a reversal of their 23-7 Super Bowl collapse last January, to build a 17-7 halftime lead and then pulled away from the Chiefs in the closing minutes of the game.

Jim Marshall scooped up a Kansas City fumble, lumbered downfield and then lateraled to Roy Winston to complete a 38-yard scoring play and Paul Krausse returned an interception 40 yards to set up another score.

Rookie Jim O'Brien lifted the Colts past San Diego in their American Conference debut with his third field goal—a 28-yarder in the final minute. The Chargers had seized a 14-13 lead on John Hadl scoring strikes to Gary Garrison covering 65 and 43 yards.

Houston's formidable defensive crew ruined Terry Bradshaw's first start as a pro and Pittsburgh's first in the American Conference.

The heavily-favored Cowboys broke a third-period tie on Roger Staubach's 31-yard touchdown pass to Lance Rentzel and held on to subdue the Eagles at Philadelphia.

John Brodie hit on 17 of 20 passes, outshining Washington ace Sonny Jurgensen and leading the 49ers to their first opening game victory in three years.

Carl Garrett and Jim Nance rambled for touchdowns 74 seconds apart after an interception and fumble recovery in the second period, sending the Patriots on their way to an upset triumph over Miami.

Bob Berry drove the Falcons 98 yards for their first score early in the final period, then tossed a 17-yard touchdown pass to Harmon Wages that broke open a defensive struggle at New Orleans.

The Bears overcame a 13-10 halftime deficit at New York Saturday night as Jack Concannon passed for one score and plunged for another.

Test Blue Flame

WENDOVER, Utah (AP) — The Blue Flame made several more low speed test runs Friday as preparations continued for an attempt at the world land speed record.

One observer estimated the runs at about 200 miles per hour and said they went smoothly.

No attempt at the 600.601 m.p.h. land speed record set by Craig Breedlove in 1965 was expected before Sunday.

Bob Nieman of the St. Louis Browns hit home runs in his first two major league at bats in 1951.

Lone Star Loop Begins Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defending national NAIA champion Texas A&I, successful in its season opener last Saturday, wades into its Lone Star Conference schedule this weekend against McMurry while unbeaten Southwest Texas State meets Trinity in intersectional play.

The Javelinas showed some of their 1969 championship form in dunking Trinity 23-0 Saturday. It was the seventh straight victory for A&I over two seasons.

Southwest Texas got the LSC title race off to a successful start with a 20-13 victory over Angelo State.

In other games this week, Tarleton State is at Sul Ross; S. F. Austin is at Howard Payne; East Texas State is at Sam Houston; and Abilene Christian is at Angelo State.

Other games last Saturday included: ACC 41, East Texas 21; Northwest (La.) 9, S. F. Austin 7; Sul Ross 35, Eastern New Mexico 13; Sam Houston 24, McNeese (La.) 19.

The stiff Texas A&I defense checkmated Trinity at every turn. The Javelina defenders intercepted six Tiger passes and four times stopped Trinity drives inside the 10-yard line.

But the A&I offense did its share. Quarterback Karl Douglas threw for a 68-yard touchdown, ran for another and kicked a 31-yard field goal.

ACC's pass-flinging quarterback Jin Lindsey completed 282 yards in passes to bury LSC co-champion East Texas. The ACC defense intercepted ETS quarterback Jim Dietz three times and all were returned for touchdowns.

Jim Duncan highlighted SWTS's second victory with two touchdown passes. S. F. Austin lost in the final 68 seconds on a field goal by Northwestern La.'s Dennis Wilkinson. Sul Ross belted Eastern on Ronnie Bell's two touchdown passes. Sam Houston held McNeese at the SHS's one-yard line in the closing seconds.

Richey Puts Down Evert

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Nancy Richey easily defeated 15-year-old Chris Evert, 6-4, 6-1, Sunday to win the women's singles in the Carolinas International Tennis Classic.

The 5-3, 98-pounder, who had beaten France's top ranked women's player, Francoise Durr, on Friday, and No. 1 world ranked Margaret Court Saturday, was unable to place her shots during the match and was off her winning form of the first two days.

Stan Smith and Bob Lutz teamed up to take the men's doubles 10-4. They defaated Richey and Van Dillen.

Devlin Is Winner

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland (AP) — Bruce Devlin, 32-year-old Australian golf star, picked up a check for $55,000 today and said: "Well, that's how lucky you can get if you conquer the winds and the rain of Ireland."

Devlin won the prize money over Portmarnock's 7,117-yard, par-72 course by conquering the winds from the Irish Sea and the rain that plagued the Alcan "Golfer of the year" Championship.

Bob Rosburg of Winthrop, Maine, finished second with a score of 285—seven strokes behind Devlin. He collected $15,000 for that effort.

Devlin's seven-stroke advantage was the same as Britain's Tony Jacklin held in winning the U.S. Open earlier this year.

"Tony's seven-stroke margin was something unbelieveable," said Devlin. "But my advantage today was just as incredible."

Devlin was involved in a field of 25 top players for the championship and later Rosburg said: "I thought I had it going great for me but it was impossible to catch up with the Aussie."

Devlin picked up his check with a 72 hole score of 69-71-70-68—278. Lee Trevino, El Paso, Tex., Neil Coles, England, and Peter Oosterhuis, England, all had 287s to win $5,933.

Miller Barber of Sherman, Tex., and Billy Casper, the defending champion from Bonita, Calif., each collected $4,100 by finishing at 288.

An official of the Alcan tournament said the organizers were undecided whether to continue the tournament next year.

Rated Prep Powers Fall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seagraves' No. 1 ranking in Class A of The Associated Press Schoolboy football poll appeared in danger this week after a shocking 34-8 loss to Abernathy last Friday.

Seagraves' defeat was the big shocker in a weekend of upsets in the schoolboy ranks.

In Class AAAA, No. 2 rated Austin Reagan tumbled to Spring Branch 13-12 and No. 10 Killeen was beaten by No. 5 Odessa Permian, 7-0.

In Class AAA, No. 8 Wichita Falls Hirschi lost its second straight, this time 24-7 to Lawton, Okla.

Upsets in Class AA included San Antonio Clemen's 29-0 victory over San Antonio Randolph, tied for fifth and Ballinger's 7-6 victory over No. 10 Reagan County.

Kaufman nipped No. 10 Forney 13-12 in another Class A upset.

Eagles Jolted By San Diego

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Texas State and Louisville, both of whom have dropped four games in non-conference play, begin their Missouri Valley Conference league schedule this week while Tulsa tangles with Arkansas in an intersectional highlight.

North Texas, plauged with preseason injuries, is 0-2 after last Saturday's 23-0 jolt by San Diego State. Louisville felt its second loss when beaten by Southern Illinois, 31-28.

Tulsa's encounter with the Razorbacks will seriously jeopardize the league's only unblemished record. The Hurricane zapped Idaho State 38-13 Saturday for its second straight victory.

In other games this week Memphis State is at Virginia Tech; Wichita State is at West Texas State; Omaha is at Drake; and Bradley is at Western Illinois.

In other games in a dismall weekend for MVC teams, Drake defeated Weber State 26-19, Lamar Tech nipped West Texas State 33-28; Arkansas State mashed Wichita State 53-14; Evansville dunked Bradley 14-0.

One of the biggest blows to the conference pride was the Memphis State loss. The tigers were shooting the works on Ole Miss and its sensational quarterback Archie Manning.

But Manning picked Memphis State to pieces before 50,160 fans at Memphis. He ran for two touchdowns and passed for another in leading the Rebs to the lopsided victory.

It certainly left an impression on Memphis State coach Billy Murphy.

The 1970 ABC saw 44 Regular division teams shoot 3000 totals, two short of the record 46 rolled in 1967.

Kittens Rip C. City

COLORADO CITY— The Snyder Kittens kicked the Colorado City junior varsity 28-8 Saturday night.

The hosts took an 8-0 lead in the first quarter on a 25-yard end run and a successful two-point run after the touchdown.

Snyder tied it up in the second quarter when Tim Holder sliced over from the five to cap a 60 yard drive. Jimmy Don Dyess ran across for the two bonus points.

In the third period, Jackie Hartsfield scored on a 20-yard pass from Holder. Later in the same period, David Tyrone plunged over from the three to climax a 70-yard drive.

Dyess scored the last touchdown in the fourth quarter on an 8-yard run, capping a 50-yard drive, and he took a pass from Holder for two more points.

The junior varsity Kittens will be at San Angelo for a 5 p.m. contest.

Golf Is Safer

DENVER (AP) — Rich Ritter of Air Academy High School won the Colorado junior medal play golf tournament at the Denver Country Club. Rich is only 15, but what made his victory more exceptional was that he played with his left wrist in a cast. He broke it playing handball several weeks earlier.

Raiders Stand In 'Horns Path

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

The University of Texas returns to the scene of its latest defeat this weekend—that's two years ago you understand.

It'll be Texas vs. Texas Tech in football-mad Lubbock, but there'll be a different flavoring from the 1968 meeting when the Raiders startled the Longhorns 31-22.

Since that defeat, the Longhorns have won 21 straight games, sacked up two Southwest Conference championships and a national title to boot.

But Texas Coach Darrell Royal isn't concerned with such recent history. He's plenty concerned about the present.

"I'm much more concerned with the Texas Tech team of this year than of two years ago when we went up here," Royal said after the Longhorns opened their season Saturday with a crunching 56-15 victory over California.

"We're playing a team that has won two games and they'll be as high as any team we've seen in a long time."

There have been some changes at Texas Tech in the past two years too. There is a new coach, a new offense and a new enthusiasm.

The Raiders got off to a surprisingly quick start with victories over Tulane (21-14) and Kansas (23-0 last Saturday) in Coach Jim Carlen's first two games at the Raider helm.

"These kids are courageous and they will get after you from start to finish," Carlen said following Saturday's victory.

"We did what it takes to win," Carlen said. "We had plenty of mistakes but we'll get that worked out after I see the films."

Royal said he was pleased with the opening victory over the Golden Bears, reportedly fielding their best team in six years.

"No question about it," Royal said, "this was our sharpest opening game ever."

Royal also praised his new quarterback Eddie Phillips, who rushed 129 yards on 9 carries. "I think you'll agree that Phillips is a better than average runner—not many quarterbacks can run as well as he," Royal said.

While Tech and Texas kick off SWC play this week, the rest of the league continues intersectional play.

Tulsa is at Arkansas, Pittsburgh is at Baylor, Rice is at Louisiana State, New Mexico State is at Southern Methodist, Texas A&M is at Ohio State and Texas Christian is at Wisconsin.

It was a banner day for the SWC Saturday with league teams winning six of eight contests.

In addition to the victories by Tech and Texas, Texas A&M shocked LSU 20-18 with a last ditch touchdown pass; Rice blanked Virginia Military Institute, 42-0; Arkansas downed Oklahoma State 23-7; and in possibly the most meaningful victory over all, Baylor ended an 11-game losing streak with a 10-7 victory over Army; and, Tennessee decisioned SMU 28-3.

There couldn't have been a happier head coach in America than Bill Beall of Baylor after the Bears nipped the Cadets. It was Beall's first victory as a head coach, the Bear's first victory since the final game of 1968 and the first road victory since the 1966 season.

In spite of all that was against them, Beall said he knew this was it.

"The players and coaches all felt in their minds we were going to win it," Beall said. "And it was just a matter of carrying it out.

"There was a lot of pressure in the game. But I told the kids before we took the field it had to be one of the most important games in Baylor history."

Mathew Williams galloped 30 yards for Baylor's touchdown and Mike Conradt's 36-year field goal made the difference before 36,539 Cadet fans at West Point.

The Texas Aggies' "Kiddie Kadets" of Coach Gene Stallings also pulled off quite a shocker in nipping LSU. The sophomore-laden Aggies ignored the pressure and with 13 seconds left in the game, quarterback Lef James flipped a 79-yard bomb to Hugh McElroy for the winning score.

James completed 20 of 42 passes for 314 yards and rallied the Aggies from a 9-0 halftime deficit. James also had an 11-yard touchdown pass that put the Aggies ahead 13-12.

Texas Tech quarterback Charles Napper again directed the Raiders to victory. He completed 11 of 14 passes for 136 yards and one touchdown. At one point, Napper hit 10 in a row.

Tech running backs Doug McCutchen and Miles Langehennig each had 100-yard plus games. McCutcheon scrapped for 113 and Langehennig had 111. It was the first shutout Kansas Coach Pepper Rodgers ever suffered.

SMU quarterback Chuck Hixson completed 20 of 38 passes for 224 yards but Tennessee got the victory. Hixson's totals surpassed Texas A&M's Edd Hargett in most SWC offensive plays and total yards.

Chipper Johnson's 27-yard field goal was SMU's only score of the game.

Arkansas got on the winning keel with tailback Bill Burnett smashing Doak Walker's touchdown record with scores of 11 and one yards. It gave Burnett a career total of 40 touchdowns. Walker set the record of 38 during his career at SMU.

Mike Spruill gained 122 yards in 24 carries as Rice crushed the Keydets for the second straight year.

TCU quarterback Steve Judy completed 21 of 35 passes against Purdue but was intercepted three times.

Bigness Not Bad But Unresponsiveness Is

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "The responsiveness of a firm to the consumer is directly proportionate to the distance on the organizational chart from the consumer to the chairman of the board."

Whether that statement is true can be argued. But that millions of Americans believe it to be true can hardly be disputed, and among their number is Virginia Knauer. She made the statement in a speech.

Mrs. Knauer is the President's assistant for consumer affairs, and so it is rather surprising to hear her speak out so unequivocably on the issue of corporate bigness, an issue that touches every single American.

Bigness, after all, has never been officially regarded as either bad or good. No legislation has been passed limiting a company to a certain size; its profits, yes, as in the case of utilities, but not its size.

Perhaps the nearest we as a nation have come to declaring bigness is badness is in a relative sense; if a company monopolistically dominates its industry, for example, then we might declare it to be too big.

But, as a lot of consumers have learned in recent years, a company need not be a monopoly to abuse its customers, to ignore their complaints, to refuse them service, to threaten their credit ratings.

Much of this treatment, it is argued, is really not intended. It is the system, it is said, the impersonalness of the seller-buyer relationship. It is the mechanisms that have failed, companies say, not the intentions.

This may be so, but regardless, it is the substance out of which much of the consumer movement has emerged. In many instances, the mechanism does not recognize that it is dealing with real, flesh and blood, thinking, feeling, suffering human beings.

And so a customer is misbilled. He writes to the store asking that the error be rectified. He receives no response until the next month's bill, and there again is the error. And now he is charged a month's interest also.

Again he writes and receives no answer. He telephones, but gets a busy signal. Finally, he gets a clear line and he waits and waits in frustration, counting 25 rings before hanging up. Comes another month and another bill, and with it a reminder that payment is now overdue.

The reminder is signed—fortunately, the customer thinks, because now he can at least communicate with an individual. And so he writes "R. Peterson," for example, not knowing that the name is as fictitious as Betty Crocker.

The escalation continues until the customer receives a threat to his credit rating, which is a threat to his good name. In turn, he threatens suit, and perhaps if he is lucky he finally gets the matter settled.

But, at what cost to him? To the store? To business in general? To the country? And who pays for all the waste involved?

Many companies recognize the problem as critical and have taken corrective steps, demonstrating that the situation need not be a permanent one. Others, unfortunately, remain utterly unresponsive both to customers and to the changing business environment.

Mrs. Knauer knows this to be true, of course, because her mail is filled with the evidence every day.

Is bigness bad? Maybe not, but unresponsiveness is.

Junior Editors Quiz on MAMMOTHS

QUESTION: Why don't we have mammoths today?

ANSWER: Let's go back to the ice age, to the Northern parts of Europe, Asia and North America. Ice sheets came and withdrew, warmer and colder periods alternated. Scientists say that man's first great period of development occured in the Pleistocene Epoch, beginning about one million years ago. This was a time, too, for the development of huge grazing animals such as the camel, the bison, the elephant. The wondrous hairy mammoth, 12 feet high at the shoulders with fantastic curling tusks, was one of them. It was especially adapted to grazing on the peat moss and lichen of far northern regions, called tundra. It was during this period that man developed such extremely effective weapons as the spear point we picture. Could early man have destroyed the mammoth herds? Possibly. Possibly too, as the ice sheets came and retreated, the climate changed too fast for the slow-witted mammoth to combat. Poor old King Woolly, he had to take off his crown! Yet he has left remarkable records of himself, whole bodies, wool, hair, skin, all intact after 25,000 years, more complete than those of any other prehistoric animal.

You Are Middle Age If . . .

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Yep, your middle age is showing if—

Your enemies start telling you how well you're looking.

When you bend over quickly, everything goes blurry for a moment—and when you straighten back your face looks like a pared beet.

Justice is what you think the other fellow should have. As for yourself, you prefer mercy.

It vaguely annoys you when you read about how much money pro basketball and football stars get. What, all that dough just for playing games?

It hurts your conscience to sit on the front porch and watch your wife cut the grass—but it doesn't hurt so much you can't stand it.

Whenever you hear the price of anything, you sigh, point your nose toward the sky, and begin to bellow about how nothing anymore is worth what you have to pay for it.

Nostalgia rules your mind. If you see anything that doesn't remind you of something you saw before in your life, it doesn't interest you very much. They sure don't build cars now like they did in the old days, do they?

You get thrifty in small ways. You save broken shoelaces and leave food leftovers in the refrigerator until they spoil—just because you hate to throw anything away you might need later.

It used to seem like a wasted week if you didn't play poker at least one night with the guys, and come sneaking home at 3:30 in the morning. Now you rarely play more than once a month, and well before midnight you find yourself yawning and looking at your watch.

Your arguments with your wife become fewer and less strident. After all, you concede, there may be a few things she is right about, and anyway it takes less energy to listen to her than to fight back.

It makes your hackles rise to hear anybody under the age of 30 express an opinion in public. What could anybody that young know about the real facts of life?

The sofa needs to be reupholstered because you've been taking more naps on it lately than the family cat.

The pretty secretary in your office who used to bring you a single red rose on your birthday now just silently hands you two aspirin tablets and a paper cup full of water.

You know now who your true friends are, and in moments of utter honesty you wonder if you seem as dull to them as they do to you.

The more credit cards you stuff into your wallet, the more you wish it contained real money.

You haven't learned the words to a new love song in a decade, and you have forgotten the words to most of the ones you learned when younger.

Now and then you subconsciously ask yourself, "Where has the time gone? When does the fun begin?"

Yep, you may not think of yourself as middle aged—but your years are showing.

Harlow May Quit Counselor Post

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Bryce N. Harlow says there is "a real possibility" he may quit as a counselor to President Nixon soon to join the Proctor and Gamble Manufacturing Co.

Harlow, who was born here, made the disclosure Wednesday at a reception honoring Jenkin Lloyd Jones, past president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and oilman W. W. Keeler, board chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Harlow served as an aide to the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1961. He is now a presidential counsel with Cabinet rank.

Ireland Has Dog Problem

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The Irish Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which deals annually with 18,000 stray dogs claims Ireland has the worst stray dog problem in the world. The society says Irish law is not helping the problem, either, for its requires that stray dogs be kept for seven days after they're rounded up, but provides no facilities for housing them.

FRIENDLY SIGN IN LAND OF CONFLICT — "Welcome to Jordan" says a sign at Ramtha being read by Palestinian guerrillas. Guerrillas Sunday claimed Israeli jets attacked them near Ramtha, five miles from the Syrian border. Jordan's military government Sunday said it had repelled an invasion by Syrian armored units near a line that included Ramtha, despite Syrian denials its forces had crossed the border. US Analyzes Allende Impact

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials view the Chilean election of Marxist Salvador Allende as marking a visible start of a large American Communist bloc of nations.

In addition to Chile, officials mentioned Peru, Argentina and Bolivia as candidates for Communist domination.

An assessment of Allende's impact on Latin affairs came from a high American official who briefed Midwestern publishers, editors and broadcasters in Chicago. The White House-organized backgrounder was presented Wednesday, but ground rules prevented release of what was said until the weekend.

Although President Nixon was involved in some briefings, he was not on hand for the Allende analysis.

Allende failed to get a clear popular vote majority in the Chilean election, but his election by the Chilean Congress, with whom the decision rests, was expected by the American official.

Over a period of years, Allende will probably establish a Communist government of some sort thereby bringing Communism across the hemisphere from isolated Cuba to a major inland nation.

The Inter-American Press Association said over the weekend that Communist pressures are already being felt in Chile.

The IAPA said in a report that newspapers and radio stations are being sold in the wake of threats of violence. Newsmen have resigned and anti-Marxist reporters have been dismissed, IAPA said.

The American view of South America in years to come is that Chile might be joined by already deeply divided Argentina; by Peru, described as heading in directions difficult to deal with; and by Bolivia, which the official said is moving left, in an anti-United States direction.

The future of the Organization of American States and the Western Hemisphere Defense Board would become extremely problematical, he added. The United States is keeping a close watch on the situation, but the official said at this point its influence is not too great in Chile.

Harry James On European Tour

The star trumpeter of the late 1930s and his American band started a European tour Thursday that includes Britain, France, Denmark, Switzerland and Germany.

About 2,000 came to hear him in Berlin and another 1,500 gave him an ovation in Frankfurt.

James offered his fans such big band era classics as "Don't Be That Way," "Opus One," "Tuxedo Junction" and "Take the A Train."

8 Picked For Black Academy

NEW YORK (AP) — Author-playwright Lerol Jones and seven other persons have been elected to membership in the Black Academy of Arts and Letters.

Their selection to the academy, formed in New York in 1969, was announced Sunday at a banquet that ended the group's first annual meeting.

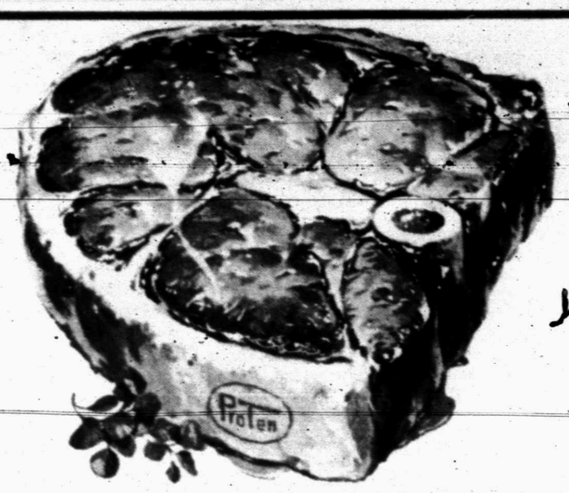

Elected with Jones were authors J. Saunders Redding and Paule Marshall, painters Ernest Crichlow and Lucille D. Roberts, journalist Ernest Dunbar, actress Elma Lewis and librarian Dorothy Louise Porter.

Diamonds were named by the Greeks, who called the rare stone adamas, or "unconquerable," because it cut any rock or metal.

Oceanographers See '70s As Decade Of The Deep

EDITOR'S NOTE—For ages the sea has intrigued mariner and poet; today it is the scientist who heeds its challenge. One of America's leading oceanographers sees the 1970s as an age of developing discovery in the deep, where scientific and economic benefits could surpass those of space. A report by the Director of the Scrips Institution of Oceanography.

By DR. WILLIAM A. NIERENBERG
Written for The Associated Press

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — The richness of the American way of life for centuries to come may depend on how wisely we explore and use the oceans in the coming decade.

The 1970s, which history may mark as the Decade of the Deep, could open a new age of scientific discovery and economic benefit surpassing the returns from the just-ended decade of space exploration.

Or the next 10 years could see the United States take the initial steps toward a secondary role in world affairs by allowing its traditional mastery of the oceans go to Russia by default.

I can foresee the development of huge floating platforms, man-made islands serving as airports, weather stations, resort hotels, industrial centers, military bases; of large and small vessels speeding over the surface of the sea on captured air bubbles; of submarines operating at all depths; of work colonies on the sea floor, drilling for oil and recovering rare minerals from the seven-tenths of the earth's crust covered with water.

I can also visualize long stretches of beautiful coastline laid waste by pollution and the ocean bottom turned into a nuclear battlefield unless we and other nations come to wise agreement on how to exploit this vast resource.

Strong pressures are forcing men farther and deeper into the oceans.

The most fundamental is the world's population explosion, consuming the earth's resources at an ever-increasing rate and at the same time polluting those resources almost beyond reclamation.

Military pressures, too, are mounting. The sinking of the Israeli destroyer Elath by an Egyptian-fired, Russian-made Styx missile signaled a revolution in naval warfare.

In the antiballistic missile debate both sides agreed on the necessity of maintaining the invulnerability of our Polaris fleet. To do this will require a maximal development of ocean technology.

Maximal development will cost a great deal of money. Considerably more than the $530 million annual U.S. expenditure on military and civilian ocean science programs. This is a not inconsiderable effort but it is only 3 per cent of the nation's total research and development budget.

Of course, there are other areas of high national priority, but few which could promise as high a rate of return.

Take the large floating platform as an example. Stabilized and firmly positioned, it could be placed anywhere in the world's oceans. It could become, say, a submarine base or a missile site.

A major hurdle in the path of development of a stable platform is the large amounts of energy needed to propel it and keep it on station. The best source of power, however, is the ocean itself. A typical sea carries 10 times more power in the width of a typical vessel than the vessel requires for its own propulsion. Therefore, any scheme that can extract just one-tenth the wave energy can theoretically supply the motive power for a vessel.

There is also an enormous reservoir of thermal power, representing the difference of about 20 degrees Fahrenheit between the surface waters and the colder bottom waters.

This power is particularly suited for desalination plants. It also can be a part of a process for upwelling parts of the ocean —mixing the nutrient-rich, oxygen-poor bottom waters with surface waters that are rich in oxygen but poor in nutrients. This would create vast new fishing areas, and increase the oceans' potential for feeding an undernourished world.

It has been estimated that conventional fishing methods alone could, if necessary, support the world's population of three billion people. An even richer source of food, if we could harvest it, would be the hundreds of billions of tons of plankton produced in the oceans each year. Unfortunately, recent discoveries not yet generally published indicate this is a dream that may never be realized.

The plankton is the layer of small to microscopic plants and animals that live in the upper levels of the ocean. They are the base of the food supply for all the animals in the sea. The plankton converts sunlight, carbon dioxide and other nutrients into living matter which is consumed by the animal plankton. The animal plankton is eaten by small fish, which in turn are food for larger fish.

Of more immediate concern is the growing need to reach beneath the oceans and unlock the wealth of resources hidden there for ages. A giant step in this direction was the successful debut in 1968 of the Deep Sea Drilling Project.

The purpose of this effort was to collect samples of the ocean sediments, drilling more than 2,500 feet into the ocean floor at water depths up to 20,000 feet.

Until this effort, the contact of the marine geologist with the rocks of the ocean basin was exceedingly remote and indirect.

The new information proved that the mid-ocean ridges or mountain chains rpresent the formation of new ocean-bottom rock that moves toward the continents on both sides at rates of one to three inches a year. The mid-ocean sediments represent the "rain" that falls continuously on this moving belt and that therefore must be thinnest near the ridges and thickest near the continents.

Knowledge of the mechanism of the formation of the ocean basins are an important first step in assessing their mineral resources. Moreover, the technology developed in the core-drilling operation indicates that we are capable of developing extraction techniques when necessary.

The Man-in-the-Sea program is widely viewed as the best approach toward making it possible for large numbers of men of widely different skills to work effectively on and in the oceans.

So far we have had Sea Lab 1 and 2 in the Pacific and Tektite 1 and 2 in the Atlantic but even in their relatively shallow depths these have not achieved their objectives. It will be a long time before really deep working habitats become a reality.

Manned research in the ocean is still very expensive judged against its economic returns. We can operate a surface vessel large enough to accommodate 25 scientists using remote instruments for about $3,000 a day. A tiny submersible with only one or two men aboard costs about $5,000 a day when all costs are in.

Militarily, however, some see the objective of having men on the bottom of the sea as extremely valuable despite the cost.

Beyond all these reasons why the oceans must be explored with increasing fervor in the coming years is another factor. It is simply the human drive to expand into unknown areas.

People love the sea. They are fascinated by the world's great oceans and their curious populations.

WILL SEEK COMMUNIST HELP

Swedish Socialist Party Setback

By DICK SODERLUND
Associated Press Writer

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme, whose Social Democratic party lost its majority in Sunday's general election, made it clear his party will accept Communist help to stay in power.

"This is a clear setback," Palme said of his party's unofficial capture of 166 of the 350 seats in the newly reorganized one-house legislature. Three major nonsocialist parties, which had hoped for enough votes to form a coalition government, won 167 seats, and the Communist party 17.

"We have lost votes both to the Communists and the nonsocialist camp," Palme said, "and the blame rests wholly with the party leadership and me. We did not put across important campaign issues the right way, and international trends that forced price hikes and a tough economic policy may have contributed."

Palme, 43, made it clear that the Social Democrats were ready to continue ruling with Communist aid.

"The nonsocialists failed to get the majority they wanted to form a government," he said. "We will pursue our policy for a more equal society and the Communists can take it or leave it. It is up to them whether they will topple a workers' government."

Communist party leader C. H. Hermansson replied, "We will carry on an independent policy fighting for our program, but we will never topple a socialist government to help the nonsocialist bloc gain power."

Hermansson said one of his party's primary aims is to keep Sweden out of the European Common Market.

The Swedish Communist party got about 100,000 more votes than it did in 1968, the year of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

An estimated 85 per cent of Sweden's 5.6 million registered voters cast ballots, including some 350,000 20-year-old newcomers. Final results will not be known for 10 days, after officials count about 675,000 mailed votes. Also at stake were 25,000 county and municipal offices in 6,500 districts.

Agnew Will Run Bulldozer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Vice President Spiro Agnew will become an honorary member of the International Union of Operating Engineers here Tuesday.

The vice president will be given credentials and a hard hat so he can operate a bulldozer at the groundbreaking for a new multimillion-dollar Internal Revenue computer center.

The new federal project at Memphis International Airport will be the first stop on an itinerary which will include a motorcade to the heart of the city and a benefit dinner rally at Mid-South Coliseum to be attended by about 10,000.

Hamlets Evaluation Revised

SAIGON (AP) — The revised hamlet evaluation system used by U.S. officials to measure pacification in South Vietnam claimed today that as of Aug. 31, 92.8 per cent of the country's population was under government control.

The figure, representing 16,722,100 Vietnamese, is the highest number ever claimed by the controversial Hamlet Evaluation System, the revised version which was unveiled last March.

The revision was seen by some observers then as an attempt to narrow a long-standing credibility gap concerning the reliability of the computerized three-year-old evaluation system by demanding more specific indications of pacification in South Vietnam.

The latest figures showed a 0.4 per cent increase in the number of persons under government control compared to July. The report said 184,700 persons still are controlled by the Viet Cong and another 996,600 live in areas where neither the Viet Cong nor the government has decisive control.

Bernadette Is Crocheting

LONDON (AP) — Bernadette Devlin, 22-year-old youngest member of Parliament, is learning to crochet while serving six months in Northern Ireland's Armagh Prison for inciting riots. Her teacher is a murderess in for life.

This news was disclosed by Ivan Cooper, an Ulster member of Parliament, Sunday after visiting the young civil rights leader.

"She doesn't have any grumbles about prison life at all," Cooper told a reporter for the Sunday Express.

No Bill Collectors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department, while admitting that its collections of debts owed the federal government declined last year, says it won't resort to private bill collectors.

"It's not just a matter of going out and getting the bucks," said Leo Pellerzi, assistant attorney general for administration.

"You have to have justice," he said. "We're not going to throw old people out of their homes or cause families to disintegrate or put people on welfare."

The department will strengthen its collection procedures, however, through assignment of four field supervisors and an attorney in each U.S. Attorney's office to supervise collections and regularly review uncollected debts. Pellerzi said FBI reports will be made on debtors who haven't paid within three months.

A House Government Operations subcommittee had suggested use of private collection agencies to get money owed because of fines, judgments and penalties.

Morrison Convicted

MIAMI (AP) — Shaggy-haired James Morrison, lead singer of The Doors, has been convicted of indecent exposure and profanity during a 1969 performance before a large audience of teen-agers.

A jury of three men and three women returned the verdict against the self-proclaimed "king of orgasmic rock" after a 16-day trial. Maximum sentence is eight months in jail and a $525 fine.

The bearded singer declared, "This trial and its outcome won't change my style because I maintain that I did not do anything wrong."

Witnesses said Morrison dropped his trousers during the performance.

The singer's performance sparked several campaigns against indecency, including an Orange Bowl rally by 30,000 persons.

Morrison was freed on $50,000 bail until sentencing Oct. 23.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

WIDE VARIETY — Pat Hinshaw at Hinshaw's House of Flowers, 2804 Avenue S, stands among the complete selection of candles and candle rings that are available at the firm. For prompt attention to your floral needs just dial 573-9600. The House of Flowers now has a wide selection of gift items.

Hinshaw's Is Affiliated With Florafax Delivery

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Hinshaw, owners of Hinshaw's Flowers, 2804 Avenue S, were formally accepted today as a subscriber of Florafax Delivery, Inc., one of the world's largest flowers-by-wire organizations.

Affiliation with Florafax provides subscriber florists with a link to more than 8,000 fellow subscribers in all fifty states of the United States. In addition, Florafax provides coverage in South America and has signed a reciprocal agreement with a service in Canada which makes the facilities of 1,500 Canadian florists available to Florafax subscribers.

Not confined to the American continent, Florafax has reciprocal affiliations with overseas organizations providing outlets for more than thirty countries in Europe, Africa, Asia, Australia and the Scandinavian countries.

The local shop's affiliation with Florafax offers residents improved service and a means for sending flowers anywhere in the free world.

Hinshaw's has a large variety and number of decorative pieces as well as a large variety of gift items. Included among the gift items are music boxes, coffee grinders, cup trees, salt and pepper shakers, brass compotes, bookends, candelabras, scales bellows and other rare items. Other ideal gifts include chafing dishes, piggy bank figurines, soup and chili cups, animal night lights and creative decorative items.

"We've got three times as many gift items now than we had a year ago," said Herschel Hinshaw.

He pointed out the firm also has a complete selection of candles and candle rings. Many of the candles are decorated with special flower arrangements. Mirrors and statuary of many types also are to be discovered at Hinshaw's as well as the world-famous Mira Flor chocolates.

Body Is Identified

ARCHER CITY, Tex. (AP)— The body of an executive found beaten to death a few miles from his burned out 1970 Lincoln Continental near here was identified Sunday as Howard Yoder, 61, of Olney.

Yoder, recently of Middlebury, Ind., was identified by employes of Coachmen Industries in Olney as the manager. The firm makes mobile homes. The body was found early Sunday by a passing motorist.

Sheriff Floyd Hoggins said Yoder had been tentatively identified through the Indiana license plates on his car which was found five miles from the body. Yoder was discovered lying by a roadside and his car was found about five miles away. Hoggins said the car had been burned and it appeared Yoder had been beaten over the head.

"We suspect he was probably killed somewhere else and taken out there and dumped," Hoggins said.

The sheriff said there were no immediate clues in the death and that any fingerprints which may have been on the damaged car were destroyed in the fire.

Wood Promoted To Captain

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Ranger Sgt. John M. Wood of Corpus Christi has been promoted to captain, replacing retiring Capt. Alfred Y. Allee of Carrizo Springs, effective Oct. 1.

Wood will be in command of Ranger Co. D. Its headquarters will be moved from Carrizo Springs to San Antonio when the personnel changes become effective.

Also effective Oct. 1 will be the promotion of Ranger Walter A. "Bob" Werner to sergeant, replacing Wood. Texas Highway Patrolman William F. Quinn of Rusk will be named a Ranger to replace Wood.

Wood, 56, was employed by the DPS in 1942 and became a Texas Ranger in 1949.

Werner, 40, started with the DPS in 1951, and was promoted to Texas Ranger in 1966. Quinn, 45, started his career with the DPS in 1948 with continuous service except for a three year period beginning in 1952.

Students May Be Exempt

CHICAGO (AP) — Students and part-time and retired workers may be eligible for an exemption from tax withholding provided by the Tax Reform Act of 1969.

Commerce Clearing House said the eligibility relieves the student or others working part-time during the year or the employe with large itemized deductions from filing a return solely to obtain a refund of withheld taxes.

A new withholding exemption certificate—Form W-4E—is available for wages paid after April 30, 1970.

A single person making less than $1,725 this year owes no tax. The IRS bases this on the $1,100 low income allowance and a personal exemption of $625. A taxpayer over 65 can earn wages up to $2,350 without incurring a tax liability.

However, final regulations on these provisions of the 1969 Act have not been issued and revisions may be made.

Lach Trial Begins In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (AP)—Benjamin Lach, 26, was called to trial today in the killing three years ago of a Texas Tech cleaning woman.

The trial was moved to Fort Worth after the defense asserted that widespread publicity which would have prevented a fair trial at Lubbock.

Lach, a former student at the school, is accused of killing Sarah Morgan, 54, with a scalpel in the university's science building.

Lawyers had asked that testimony about Lach's arrest three months after the slaying be suppressed. Judge Byron Matthews ruled on Sept. 11 that such testimony could not be kept out of the trial.

The motion alleges Lach was apprehended after an attempt to steal questions on an examination which were kept in a room in the building where the woman was killed. The motion charged Lach stole a car to escape police. Lach was ruled insane in 1968 but another jury subsequently ruled him competent to stand trial.

The state seeks the death penalty.

Car Bodies Used On Target Range

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — Ft. Sill's range division tows wrecked car bodies to its artillery target range and blows them to bits.

"We purchase between 1,000 and 1,100 wrecked auto bodies from wrecking dealers each year," says Capt. Gay R. Wright Jr., operations officer for the range division.

Wright said the wrecks make fine targets because they explode into a large fireball when a direct hit is made.

Golda Meir Flies Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Israeli Premier Golda Meir flew home today after a parting appeal to American Jews to support programs of financial aid for her country.

"The only thing that matches your outpouring of love and devotion for Israel is the love and devotion of the Israeli for you," she told a dinner crowd of 3,000 at the New York Hilton Hotel Sunday night.

"If we do not fight for our freedom and for our safety, nobody else will," she said. "We have seen too many little people in other countries discover this bitter truth too late."

The $20-a-plate dinner was sponsored by the United Jewish Appeal and the Israel Bond Organization. Another 40,000 persons in 19 other cities heard Mrs. Meir's appeal via closed circuit television.

The 72-year-old Israeli leader, who arrived in the United States Wednesday for talks with President Nixon and other administration officials, extended the sympathy of her nation to the people of neighboring Jordan.

"The situation is Jordan is a terrible tragedy," she said. "The people of Israel feel for the people of Jordan, with their thousands of casualties.

"They don't fear us; Now they fear a 'friendly' Arab country," she said, alluding to reports that Syria had entered the Jordanian civil war on the side of Palestinian guerrillas.

Earlier in the day, she told a meeting of American Jewish leaders that she was "flying home feeling better" after her talks with President Nixon and Secretary of State William Rogers.

The first telephone directory carried only names—not one telephone number. Among the pioneer subscribers were a clergyman, three doctors, two dentists, two stables, the "Yale News" and the New Haven Flour Company, which had no less than four phones, one at each of its plants.

New TV Programs Launched

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS and ABC launched a sextet of new entertainment programs over the weekend. They included some nice surprises and some disappointments.

CBS, with five new shows, seems to have something good in at least three: "The Tim Conway Comedy Hour" on Sunday night and two situation comedies, "Arnie" and "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" on Saturday.

Conway's feeling for way-out humor carried the program beyond the half-way point. He opened with a man who hummed instead of a band, and he had a single chorus girl doing ornate dance routines. His best sketch had him playing a Japanese war lord trying to enlist pilots for Kamikaze service. The program fell apart at the end with a long, messy sketch about a drunken private eye.

Herschel Bernardi plays a balding, sentimental working man in "Arnie." In the first episode, he was suddenly moved into top management of his company. Bernardi is attractive and so are members of his show's family. The humor is quiet, for the most part.

Mary Tyler Moore plays a frankly 30 career girl in her program. The first episode had her moving into a kooky job and a crazy apartment house. As the characters get sorted out, it promises to be a bright, amusing 30 minutes.

The two series that premiered Friday night may give CBS some headaches.

"The Interns" is a series of stories draped around an assortment of young doctors, each with his own hangups. Broderick Crawford plays the gruff senior physician. The first program had a number of sub plots and seemed to be straining for significance and relevance. It was not particularly relevant, and, worse, it was not very entertaining.

"Headmaster," bringing Andy Griffith back to weekly television, is a curious mixture of lecture, morality tale and incidental comedy. Griffith plays the head of a school and in the initial show is confronted with a group of students experimenting with pills. Griffith did not appear to have much to say about drug use except that it is bad. The attempt to inject a problem of serious dimensions into a situation comedy - with the comedy very peripheral-resulted in an awkward half hour.

ABC's first premiere of the season, on Sunday night, was "The Young Rebels," which during the next 13 weeks will be showing how three smart young people in Chester, Pa., won the Revolutionary War without much help. The program takes liberties with history and it may very well annoy our British cousins—the Red Coats are not only arrogant but quite stupid.

Jake Yoder, Fort Wayne, Ind., bowled the 22nd perfect game in ABC tournament history in 1970.

Facts About Veterinarians

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce: I am interested in information on veterinarians. How long is the training? — D.A.G., San Jose, Calif.

The average student graduating as a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine has spent a little more than seven years in college. Minimum requirements are at least two years of pre-veterinary college study and four years of professional study. Must you be STRONG AS A BULL? No, but you do need some degree of strength; plus good health, stamina and courage because hours can be long . . . calls are made in bad weather . . . there is a risk of exposure to disease . . . and sick animals can be dangerous. The few women vets (about 5 per cent) generally specialize in small animal practice of research.

Veterinarians are important members of the nation's health team because they control animal diseases transmittable to man (like rabies), and in this function, have made beneficial discoveries. For instance, it was a veterinarian's research on the cause of sweet clover poisoning in cattle that led to the discovery of dicumarol, a substance now used to treat human heart disease.

VET-CETERA. Veterinarians treat sick and injured animals medically and surgically. Most are in private practice; in urban areas their patients are usually pets; in rural communities, livestock. Many perform research, are consultants, or engaged in administration, teaching, technical writing, sales or production of commercial products. A large number work for Federal and State public health programs inspecting food supplies. Some are staff doctors on cattle ranches, horse or dairy farms, and others are officers in the Veterinary Corps of the Army and Air Force.

SILK PURSE. In 1968, full professors averaged about $20,000; experienced veterinarians working for the Federal government generally earned between $12-23,000; the income of veterinarians in private practice usually is higher.

INCUBATION PERIOD. High school subjects should include math, general science, physics, chemistry, and English. Seek summer farm employment, paid or volunteer work at such agencies as humane societies, obedience schools, veterinarians' offices, pet shops, zoos.

Dissatisfied Mothers Open School

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A group of mothers dissatisfied with pupil transfers under a desegregation plan has opened a neighborhood school in an old bus.

About two dozen children in grades four to six showed up Thursday for the first day of classes in their one-room facility, parked on a private lot across the street from Lake Elementary School.

The children previously attended Lake, but court desegregation orders limited the school to the first three grades. Those in higher grades were assigned to Johnson Elementary, five miles away.

Joy Bynum, mother of one of the pupils, said the makeshift school would operate "indefinitely, or until our neighborhood schools are returned to us.

"We have a licensed teacher and a substitute."

No Negroes attended opening classes on the bus, although Mrs. Bynum said nonwhite pupils would be admitted as long as there were vacancies. The bus will accommodate 30.

Lawmen Move Into Thibodaux

THIBODAUX, La. (AP) — Scores of deputy sheriffs moved into this city early today to reinforce state troopers and local police after a weekend of racial tension.

Gunfire and disabling gas were used to disperse a crowd of Negroes Saturday and a curfew was placed in effect Sunday night.

No one was injured but 36 were arrested after about 150 blacks got up around fire trucks answering an alarm, Police Chief Earl Meloncon said.

The fire alarm, false, was at the College Inn, scene of a fight between whites and blacks Friday night.

The bar is in a black neighborhood.

Meloncon said that when his officers attempted to disperse the crowd several Negroes grabbed one of his men.

"When they grabbed him I shot in the air three times and I encouraged some of my men to do the same," the chief said.

The blacks released the officers, moved back but then regrouped and headed for police, the chief added.

"When they came towards us, we used the pepper fog (akin to tear gas). Before they reached the smoke screen they moved back," Meloncon said.

At that time several dozen state police from a headquarters at nearby Raceland moved into the area and the blacks scattered, Meloncon said. Several were arrested on charges ranging from disturbing the peace to resisting arrest.

Officials said disorder started after the Friday fight when groups of blacks roamed the streets throughout the night smashing windows and tossing rocks and bottles at police.

Port Royal is a sleepy Jamaican fishing village about a 15-mile drive from the capital of Kingston. Of the six forts that guarded a harbor big enough for 500 sailing ships, only Fort Charles remains, restored as a tourist site.
